Fraternity History and Depth of Meaning Revealed

MR. TOASTMASTER, and President Hoffman, and all my many dear brothers in Delta Tau Delta: I am here tonight to speak by special request. I shall probably never speak again, for the same reason!

This event suggests several things of which I, at least, am made very conscious. One of them inevitably mingles the geographical with the individual fortunes of your speaker. I shall not be deemed wretchedly personal if I proudly make this double emphasis.

For the first time in her history Delta Tau Delta is holding her Karnea within her native State. So far as I know, I am the only Editor of THE RAINBOW and the only President of the Fraternity who had prenatal judgment enough to select his Fraternity's birthplace as his own. Bethany and Moundsville in West Virginia are near neighbors. They are both the seat of well-known institutions, the one of a college, the other of a penitentiary. But I must say that when my infant eyes first looked out from the tiny Parsonage, the frowning walls had not yet been lifted! I escaped before the prison arrived. My next move brought me nearer to our Fraternity's cradle, so near that my infant ears must have heard the rollicking cries of the Bethany students, as in the night time they throbbed along the streets in front of my second home.

I must comment also on the significance of Delta Tau Delta's nativity. We have had eastern fraternities, southern fraternities, and western fraternities. Our very cradle declined a sectional label. West Virginia is too far South to be North; too far North to be South; too far East to be West; too far West to be East. She dwells in the glorious midway of our nation and utterly refuses to be named for any one direction of the compass.

Thus the providence of our nativity was against the theory of a pent-up Utica, or a Side-Upsilon.

There is also a meaning for us in our calendar. The Fraternity was only seven years old when I was born in December, 1866. "Dad" Pumphrey is still with us, the hardy and handsome perennial of our Karneas! When the City of Cincinnati celebrated his eightieth birthday one of his Negro friends congratulated him on becoming an Octopus; and expressed the hope that he would live to be a nonentity, or even a centipede! But how significant it is that Clarence Pumphrey is older than Delta Tau. Indeed he was a three-year-old toddler ere his Fraternity toddled at all. I myself met personally three of our Founders. Thus the almanac reveals that our Fraternity's great accomplishments have been wrought out within one man's lifetime. What may she not become in several generations more?

Let me continue the history in some personal aspects. When I was initiated on October 28, 1884, at 10:42 p. m., Delta Tau Delta was only twenty-four years old. She then had twenty-three chapters in colleges recorded in our present list of seventy-six. Of those only five were in the Southern Division; only three in the Western; only five in the Eastern, while the Northern had ten of its current chapters. We have now seventy-six chapters splendidly located in firmly established institutions. In 1884 we had no chapter house in all our borders. Now we have as many as we have chapters, and their value mounts into millions of dollars. We will not mention the mortgages! In good society it is not polite to remind a man publicly of his debts, especially if he is paying them off on the installment plan! In 1884 we had approximately two thousand and eight hundred members; now we have approximately thirty-two thousand. At that time our list of distinguished alumni was scanty. When we knew that a new edition of Baird's Manual was soon to appear, we padded our rolls of notables in pathetic ways. Little Kappa, at Hillsdale, gave us our first literary man of fame; our first United States Senator; one of our earliest Congressmen; and in company with Mu at Ohio Wesleyan gave us Edward D. Curtis, the primary author of our Ritual. Our problem today is reversed because, while in 1884 we had to search, now we have to eliminate. We can scarcely get in all our Governors and Congressmen for the reason that so much space is occupied by the names of Bishops, from Kenyon, Sewanee, Allegheny and Ohio Wesleyan! At one time one-fifth of all the Methodist Bishops in the world were Deltas. Even now when people hear of an Episcopal leader who is doing finely, they naturally ask—"From what Delta Tau Delta Chapter does he come?" At least once we trembled on the edge of the Presidency. We have had two members of the present President's Cabinet, and we now have the Vice-President of the Republic. We have in our ranks several statesmen who are available candidates for our national leadership, and who some day will add Purple and Gold to a house that is already White.

All this is in reality a mild statement of our amazing progress. The record calls for vast pride. We yield to no Greek-letter society in offering this exhibit of solid prosperity. When our revised Ritual came into use in the late eighties some of our squeamish brothers objected to the boastful terms of our prophecy. This was because they mistook their nerves for their refinement! As a loyal and earnest Delta contemplates his Fraternity from all the angles of its achievements, he wonders only whether we shall not be compelled to change our prophecy, not by removing its beacon from its present loftiness, but rather by making it a flying goal swinging up to the highest terraces of splendor far beyond the Greek Olympus.

St. Paul once said, "Let me 'come to boasting.'" It is good to have had a little part in all this consummation. On the personnel side, I have given to Delta Tau three sons, a brother-in-law, two nephews, and one grandson, with four more to follow. I did not "rush" them when they went to college. I merely said, "Look over the field carefully and join the best." They did, with the inevitable result.

We are all happy to have present with us Mrs. Schofield, President of Kappa Kappa Gamma, a lady wise enough to marry a Delta. Concerning the Kappas, I may add to my boasting. I have given to her membership three daughters, two nieces, and a cousin, while three granddaughters tarry modestly in the offing. Indeed I feel that I practically paid for the Kappa House at DePauw. When I laid its cornerstone, I commented on the fact that the large ground purchased had formerly been a chicken lot, and that in its future use it would not wholly surrender its function. The assembled sisters received the remark with unruffled feathers!

But to return to Deltaism let me say that in our inner life I helped to revise our third form of Ritual, getting rid of some "cerulean tints." On the extension side, I investigated and installed the Brown Chapter, the Dartmouth Chapter; the Wesleyan Chapter; and I helped to initiate the West Virginia Chapter, and the Toronto Chapter. I served four years as Editor, and two years as President, and am here tonight wearing emblems, so many, and so bright, that I feel like an itinerant Christmas Tree! For nearly fifty-seven years I have gone up and down the ways of my Fraternity's life, loving her rapturously. Tonight I feel only regret that a busy career since 1903 has prevented my doing more. As I shall soon be seventy-five years of age, this may be my swan song. I trust you will not think of it as a goose song, or as a rooster song, or as a mockingbird song, or as a peacock's song. Here I would take Charles Kingsley's lines away from their feminine setting and modify them for our Fraternity's musical and masculine thought:

"Be good, dear Delts, and also be quite clever;
Do noble things, not dream them all day long;
And so make life, death, and that vast forever
One grand sweet song."

I must add here a column that will put down the Fraternity's credit on the ledger of my life. She took me into her halls an awkward youth, neglected for a year by all Ohio Wesleyan Greeks, until some of them discovered their blunder! She pinned on my young and eager breast the Square Badge of her glory and bade me wear it as a proud jewel beyond price. She set before me in her ritual ideals that protested against coarseness and lewdness and drunkenness and blackguardism, and made me feel that, though her radiance shone on what seemed an inaccessible height, it was still so attractive that one could not give up its pursuit. She gave me four years' association with as fine a group of actives as I have ever known, joyful puritans who exalted clean habits into a gospel and never deemed a swine field a worthy resort. At my first Karnea at Cleveland in 1888 where only forty-two sat down to the banquet she brought me into contact with Roy O. West, Kendrick C. Babcock and Ira B. Blackstock, and made the four of us an unbreakable quadrangle of love for all the years. She has given me hundreds of friends, and in that growing circle of affection I have traversed the continent in gladness. At last, here near the end of a happy life, she grants me the chance to make my heart young again as I greet many of the men who helped to amass her glory into a great fund; and as

WILLFRED O. MAUCK
Kappa (Hillsdale), '21. President of Hillsdale College. Returns to Arch Chapter as Supervisor of Scholarship.

I greet many others still youthful and under the gracious dominion of her altar, these others to whom we hand her glowing torch that they may hold it higher and make it shine the more as fed by their own exhaustless love. Thus if we have given, she has given back again, proving that the law of action and reaction operates in her homes in proportion, if not in equality; and pouring back upon our hearts and minds her gifts shaken down, pressed together and running over.

The final impression of this Karnea upon some of us comes from the Distinguished Service Chapter. Here there have met the greatest number ever assembled of the men who have been cited for their special services. Not all of those who have made themselves worthy of this recognition are present. Some of them passed beyond the reach of our praise ere our original court was established. We cannot summon them from the Chapter Eternal. But we older men see their faces and recall their deeds: Day,

KARNEA PICTURE

Colvin, Plummer, McClurg, Brück, Hines, McLane, Arter, Bolard; all of whom with many faithful companions moved away from our postal citations and took up residence in the land of everlasting awards. Yet from the shadowy battlements of those other heights they call us to the service of our Fraternity. These men, together with those who have been summoned to the throne room of recognitions, challenge us to regard the badge of the chapter not as an added symbol of honor, but as an added call to the character and service that have put Delta Tau Delta in the front rank over all her sister societies. I think that they would bid me say that if the achievements of her past are so many and so great, what are the limits to be set for the future of her expanding life! Our standard of purple and gold has been carried upward. It has refused the mire and has sought the stars. It has declined any approach to an inferiority complex and has made many of us hesitate to proclaim ourselves Deltas solely because we feared a claim of our membership might be regarded as highly boastful! To many of you who listen to this elder brother God will give thirty, forty, fifty or sixty years of opportunity to enhance her already enhanced glory. The Consecration of the men who now surround these tables of festivity may make our badge still more a jewel of revelation, our altar still more the creator of reverent manhood, our colors the gleaming insignia of the higher life, our flower the companion of the rose of Sharon, our crescent the light that banishes darkness and knows high heaven as its home, our Ritual not as a vain document of pretense, but rather as the hallowed law of clean and glad manhood.

And I do close by giving you the advance citation and saying, not that the distance forward to that lofty eminence is no greater than that already passed, but more—that the distance has already been traversed and that our Fraternity whispers to her devotees to move on, on, on and up, up, up to the vistas of endless dreams and hopes.

Here and There at Karnea

In the first morning session the Karnea Executive Committee chairman, Anthony F. McCue, was called upon to introduce the members of his committee. He explained the extent to which the committee members had investigated the facilities at White Sulphur by announcing that two members of the committee were not there to answer introductions because of the morning review of the golf courses. In the afternoon James R. Caskie, reporting for the absentees, told that all the rough of course 3 had been found—and left in good order.

Garth Slater was not only the biggest but the busiest Delta at the Karnea. Our hats are off to that guy! He did one swell job.

We're timid souls, as you can see,
One can't speak, it takes all three.
We want to tell you that we've had fun
And what a wonderful job you've done.
A toast to the Deltas, including McCue,
The ladies are glad they married you.

The President's Report to the Karnea

By Paul G. Hoffman, Gamma Alpha (Chicago), '11

REPORTS of other members of the Arch Chapter have so completely covered the state of affairs in our Fraternity that I am sure that if the question were put to this convention: "Shall we dispense with the report of the president?"—a chorus of "ayes" would ensue. I shall not permit that question to go to a vote. Whether you like it or not, the president's report stays on the agenda. Lest you be unduly alarmed, I promise to restrict myself to a discussion of our basic objectives, the progress we have made toward their attainment, and of certain plans we have which will, we believe, further strengthen our position. In business and even in fraternal organizations it is important to pause and take stock now and then to determine where we are going and decide how we propose to get there.

Where to go and how to get there is a challenge I have continually put to myself and also to my own boys. When my son Peter, who is now a Delt at Kenyon College, was seven years old, he came to one day and said: "Dad, I want to have a club. I wish you would help me." I said: "Peter, before I can help you, you will have to tell me the purpose of the club and how you hope to achieve that purpose. Go over in the corner and think about it for an hour and then write me a letter answering those questions." He was much puzzled but came back in the specified time with a document which I consider a classic in its simplicity and directness. It stated: "The purpose of this club is to make little boys happy. It will be called the Miami Road Indians. I will be president. We will have lots of fun." The club was duly organized and judging by the amount of noise that came out of their meetings, it was a howling success.

From contacts I have had with certain actives in our Fraternity, I have gathered the impression that in their minds they feel the purpose of Delta Tau Delta is to make big boys happy. That is true but if that were our only aim, our Fraternity could not have endured these eighty years. We have publicly proclaimed that our Fraternity is a "constructive adjunct to the system of higher education, that its objectives are the encouragement of scholarship, and the maintaining and strengthening of an atmosphere in our chapters conducive to the moral, spiritual and social development of actives and pledges." Stated otherwise and more specifically, your Fraternity accepts the responsibility of so organizing and directing its activities that membership in the Fraternity during the college years will in itself and of itself be a preparation for life and leadership in a free society.

In this particular hour in the history of our country and of the world, it is fitting that we should accept that responsibility in all its implications. If free society, or the democratic way, if you prefer that phrase, is to prevail, every agency which can contribute toward better citizenship and leadership is important. Throughout the world free society has been losing ground. When I was in college some thirty years ago, we all believed that it was only a matter of time before our form of government would sweep the world. Today, the burning question is whether it may not be swept out of the world. There are manifold reasons for the ascendancy of dictatorship and the temporary eclipse of a government of the people, by the people and for the people, but I would put in first rank the fact that a free society can prevail only in a country where there is a combination of fine citizenship and an enlightened and unselfish leadership. Furthermore, regardless of how fine a citizenship may be, unless leaders in government, business, agriculture and labor are extraordinarily intelligent, broad-gauged and cooperative, and keep constantly in mind the greatest good for the greatest number, a country will be weakened by internal strife. Tens of millions of good people throughout the world who once knew freedom are now slaves to dictators because their leaders failed them.

To you delegates who are now in college and who are troubled with such problems as rushing and collecting house bills, the connection between maintaining a free society and the administration of fraternity affairs may seem somewhat vague. However, if you analyze the roster of present leadership in government, business, labor and agriculture, you will find that about one-third of those listed are members of college fraternities. Speaking for Delta Tau Delta alone, you will find that the Vice President of the United States, six senators, numerous members of the House, and many leaders in other fields are members of your Fraternity. In light of these facts, can there be any doubt in your mind that each of our seventy-six active chapters has the very grave responsibility of so conducting its affairs that our actives and pledges will receive sound training for both citizenship and leadership. Perhaps one of the delegates present or some man you pledge this fall may be a future President of the United States—who knows?

A fraternity chapter is by its very nature almost an ideal training ground for life and leadership in a free society. To make good, a man must learn to live with, work with, and work for his brothers. Out of that give-and-take, that close association, comes the great opportunity to develop those traits and attitudes which make for fine citizenship and effective democratic leadership. But bear this in mind—the opportunity is there but in some fraternities, and perhaps even in some chapters of our Fraternity, it is being neglected. Men are being untrained for citizenship, let alone leadership. That is true wherever there is an atmosphere of snobbishness or where there is undue emphasis on social rather than cultural objectives. It is dangerously true in those chapters where the idea prevails that the best method for promoting discipline is through physical torture.

No one has a better appreciation than I of the importance of maintaining discipline. No organization of any kind, whether it be a billion-dollar corporation, an army, or a fraternity chapter, can function unless thorough discipline prevails. But it is of utmost importance that discipline be achieved in fraternity chapters by those methods which will have to be used in later life. No department head in a corporation or an officer in the army has a paddle handy to use on a recalcitrant junior. I am opposed to the use of physical force in chapters to maintain discipline not only because it is childish but also because it is vicious training for those so-called leaders who make use of it. It might fit them for the German gestapo but not for any position of responsibility in a free society.

Before discussing methods by which discipline can be maintained without physical force, I want to touch for a moment on the underlying philosophy of the national Fraternity. Our Central Office has been organized for the sole purpose of helping you to help yourself. It has available plans and specifications covering every phase of chapter operation. We can supply the "know how," but each chapter must carry on its own program. We have field secretaries who are competent to advise you but it is not their job to operate your chapter. Why? Because it is our goal to have seventy-six self-sufficient, self-reliant, autonomous chapters.

The national Fraternity has almost a half million dollars of assets. Part of those funds are available for loans on chapter houses, provided they are good loans. Some funds are available for scholarship loans to seniors who have proven their worth and who can secure proper endorsements. However, not one thin dime is available to help a chapter meet an operating deficit. You won't have deficits if you act on the advice which is freely given you. Here and now I should like to say that the Central Office of Delta Tau Delta, under the direction of Hugh Shields and his staff, is one of the best-run organizations of which I have any knowledge.

Now I should like to discuss further this vital question of making our Fraternity chapters real training grounds for leadership. Assuming for the moment that pledges are well selected, the strength of the chapter will in no small way be determined by the character of the pledge training program. At our last Karnea at Estes Park, Brother Kurt Pantzer delivered an eloquent address in which he stressed the need of repositioning our Fraternity so that it would become in fact as well as in word a real adjunct to our system of higher education. Since that Karnea we have been conducting active experimentation looking toward the development of a new type of pledge training program. During the past year, seven chapters have been carrying on an experimental program which, while far from perfect, holds much promise. The basic concept of this program is the self-development of the pledges largely through discussion of topics which have a direct bearing on their attitude toward their college life and the Fraternity. Those topics include a discussion of the purpose of a college education, methods of study, social customs, Fraternity organization and parliamentary procedure. As one part of the meeting, a qualified alumnus is selected to deliver a short lecture on a subject by means of a phonograph record. The lecture itself is not too significant—it is the discussion of the subject between pledges plus the lecture that provides the real training. The Delt Development Program will be discussed in detail at the roundtable meetings which are on the schedule and will be available to every chapter which agrees to comply with the requirements and is genuinely enthusiastic about participating in this experiment.

In closing, may I say one word about the days ahead of us. I have read in the public press statements of certain fraternity officials expressing grave concern over the future. I was reminded of a conversation that I had with an old Scotch friend of mine in Canada in 1931. The depression had been under way for two years. I asked him when, in his opinion, there would be an end to the bad times that we were having. He said, "What do you mean, bad times? These are hard times but if you will review your history you will find that all progress takes place in those periods which are characterized as 'hard times.' He was right, of course. Soft times make for complacency. Hard times provide opportunity. For those fraternities which are in essence clubs for the sons of rich men, I see no future. For Delta Tau Delta, which is determined to make chapter life a real preparation for life and leadership, I see nothing ahead but progress to a point of complete preeminence among college fraternities.

Five of the six living past Presidents of $\Delta T \Delta$ attended the White Sulphur Karnea. Alvan E. Duerr was absent because of Mrs. Duerr's illness. All of $\Delta T \Delta$ wishes the wife of this beloved Delt a speedy recovery.

If you wonder, as you review the pictorial pages, who failed to use ticket number 75, we have an explanation. In college slang the word may be "drag" or "pull." In politics it is "influence." In $\Delta T \Delta$ at a Karnea it is "Hugh Shields." We know he attended because he was seen everywhere—but not once did he have to turn in a ticket. Needing a copy of the Karnea registration book for publication purposes we asked Hugh for an extra one as we were leaving early Sunday morning. His answer: "Here, take mine, I didn't use it."

W. Richard Patton, Gamma Delta (West Virginia), '38, grandson of the last living Founder, Johnson, was among the members attending from the host chapter.

One of the lady guests at the Greenbrier asked, "What convention is this?" To which we answered with the name $\Delta T \Delta$. As we walked away we overheard her say to her husband, "I have never seen such an orderly group of men." We wanted to rush back and tell this lady that $\Delta T \Delta$ Karneas had such a reputation from coast to coast.

When the Karnea was over some of the regular Karnea attenders were exchanging farewell greetings and they mentioned missing only one high light of previous Karneas—"Dad" Pumphrey didn't lose his hat.

15. Delegates from the Pacific Coast chapters.
16. Seven past presidents of Gamma Delta (West Virginia).
17. EDGAR P. CULLUM, Alpha (Allegheny), '82, editor of The Crescent in the days when the Fraternity was governed by the Alpha chapter.

Good Delt Darrell Moore, former Eastern Division President and Supervisor of Scholarship, attended with his son and daughter. Little Miss Moore was the only member of the fairer sex we heard of going off the high dive at the pool.

Dabney S. Lancaster, President of the Southern Division, made the opening address of welcome to the Karnea. The "Dean" was called to Richmond, Virginia, Friday night of the Karnea. Monday morning papers gave an explanation. Governor Price of Virginia had appointed him Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of Virginia. All Delts extend congratulations and best wishes to Dabney in his new position.

For those who arrived Wednesday, The Barter Theater Players presented The Male Animal the night before the Karnea opened.

President Paul G. Hoffman was called to Washington, D. C., for a meeting Thursday morning so Vice-President Charles T. Boyd presided at the two opening day sessions. He did a grand job—who says a vice-president doesn't have to work!

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS: Thanks to A. Blaine Ballah, Jr., Gamma Rho (Oregon) '37, Denver Alumni Chapter delegate. Blaine was chief adviser to the Editor who attempted to be the photographer for all informal pictures. Thanks to Blaine's charming wife for letting us steal him from the Karnea Ball floor so that we might have a picture of the dance.

Thanks also go to Ben Lindsay, Gamma Mu (Washington) '43. He assisted with the photographic record of the Karnea—particularly in getting the "shot" of the dance. We sure hope that Blaine and Ben are present in 1943.

Thanks to Anthony F. McCue and his committee and all the host members. You gentlemen and the Ladies' Committee did a grand job.

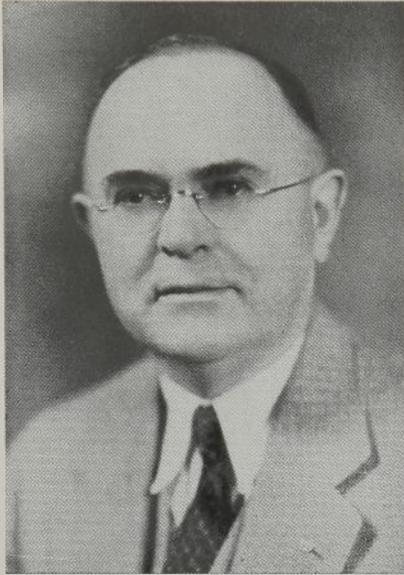

Kenneth Penfold, Field Secretary, did a fine job as secretary for the convention.

JOEL WARREN REYNOLDS

Joseph A. Brandt—President of the University of Oklahoma

By Savoie L. Lottinville, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '31

A TALL, red-headed, athletic-appearing young man became the fifth president of the University of Oklahoma, August 1, 1941. Not so many years before, he had been an undergraduate, a campus leader, and the founder of a fraternity chapter at this same university.

The man is Joseph A. Brandt, who, in 1917, started the local fraternity, Delta Sigma Delta, which in 1921, became Delta Alpha of Delta Tau Delta. In the years since his graduation (1921) he has added greatly to the stature which was already his before he left Oklahoma, so that he is now recognized nationally as something of a phenomenon.

He has progressed from a Rhodes Scholarship, which he assumed at Lincoln College, Oxford, in the fall of 1921, to a newspaper reporter's job in Ponca City, Oklahoma, following his graduation from Oxford in 1924, to the city editorship of the Tulsa Tribune, to the directorship of the University of Oklahoma Press (which he also founded, in 1928), to the directorship of the Princeton University Press, which he has filled with distinction for the past three years.

He is something of an anomaly as a college president—no one has ever thought of calling him anything but Joe, least of all students and printers and authors and men of distinction who have known him throughout his professional and academic life.

He has never had any fondness for the appellation "Doctor," nor yet of "Mister," but one gathers from even a brief conference with him that there is a friendly dignity behind it all.

It is impossible to think of him except in terms of his organizing genius, which, during his undergraduate days at the University of Oklahoma covered practically every field open to an undergraduate at that time. Aside from organizing a local fraternity, he edited the Oklahoma Daily, the student newspaper; was a member of the student council; marched endless hours with the Officers Training Corps; gained membership in Phi Beta Kappa; and acquired the most highly prized of all appointments, a Rhodes scholarship.

When his contemporaries recall the early days of the new fraternity chapter, they speak of weekly meetings which were held, not immediately after dinner, as is now customary, but at twelve o'clock at night, when Joe had put the Oklahoma Daily to bed. There were strong men in that early group—Brandt, Tully Nettleton, now Washington correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor; Charles B. Duffy, '22, now an Oklahoma State Senator; Herman E. Lautaret, '21, successful attorney in Norman, Oklahoma; Jerome C. Sullivan, '23, also an Oklahoma attorney; Donald R. Rodkey, '23, milling executive of Edmond, Oklahoma; Ralph Johnson, '24, now a successful physician; David R. Crockett, '25, business man in Arkansas; Olson L. Anderson, '23, teacher; Floyd Melott, '22, geologist; Frank Deming, '24, New York lawyer; Lowell J. Ridings, '20, a geologist and mining engineer in North and South America, and Sherwood Lahman, '24.

Editor's Note: President Brandt's name is now added to the list of active Delt college presidents which includes: Henry M. Wriston, Gamma Zeta (Wesleyan), '11, President of Brown University; F. D. Farrell, Gamma Chi (Kansas State), '22, President of Kansas State College; Willfred O. Mauck, Kappa (Hillsdale), '21, President of Hillsdale College; Charles A. Lory, Beta Kappa (Colorado), '01, President of Colorado State College; and Asa M. Royce, Beta Gamma (Wisconsin), '01, President of State Teachers College, Plattsville, Wisconsin.

They set such a record under Brandt's leadership that Delta Tau Delta had no hesitancy in granting the charter in 1921, though Brandt, who had meantime assumed the scholarship at Oxford, could not be initiated formally until his return in 1924.

After a year as city editor of the Ponca City News, Brandt spent three years as city editor of the Tulsa Tribune, where he established what must be an all-time high among the newspapers of Oklahoma for sheer brilliance of newspaper content. The University of Oklahoma became increasingly aware of his abilities, and in 1928 President W. B. Bizzell invited Brandt to become the first director of the University of Oklahoma Press, which was then little more than a printing plant.

With characteristic energy, Brandt immediately plunged into the business of book publishing, and in three years had landed a Book-of-the-Month Club selection for one of his publications, Wah-Kon'Tah, written by an old Oxford friend, John Joseph Mathews, who was also an Oklahoman.

In the ten years during which he presided over the Press, it acquired national prominence, partly because of the strong regional plan of publishing which Brandt inaugurated, and partly because of a unique series, The Civilization of the American Indian, which he began shortly after he assumed his duties at Norman.

Always a great rose-grower and flower gardener, Brandt was in the act of buying a new home in 1938 when Princeton invited him to become director of its press, a position which he accepted during that summer. The outstanding work he did at that post is of too recent record to require any extended comment. The Princeton University Press has become one of the great institutional forces in America, not solely because of the strength of its list, but also because of the distinguished format of the books which it has been publishing.

As the fifth president of the University of Oklahoma, Brandt is the first alumnus of the institution to succeed to that high position. He has already done a highly significant thing for his institution by recommending to the state legislature, and receiving the approval of that body for the erection of a great research institute, which will be constructed shortly, and which will become the center for industrial research activities in Oklahoma and the Southwest.

This achievement reflects at its best his qualities of mind. Throughout his career he has shown a rather enormous capacity for ideas, coupled with the ability to put them into practical action. He has the curious facility for translating obstacles into actual advantages. His attitude is, not "What are the obstacles?" but "How soon can we get it done?"

University of Oklahoma Memorial Union Building

With all of this, he has a great fondness for students and their problems. In the years he spent in the University of Oklahoma Press, his office and his home were meeting places for undergraduates, who admired him for his stimulating insight into the things which interested them most. At Princeton the press office has, by virtue of his occupancy of it, become a much better known spot to the undergraduate body.

His interest in the chapter which he founded has always been high. He served, for example, from the time he returned to the campus in 1928 until shortly before his departure for Princeton, on the Building Corporation of Delta Alpha. He served also for a number of years as chapter adviser.

Students like Joe Brandt because he has himself lived their experiences so fully. He is as interested in sports as they are, for example, because, among other things, he was no indifferent crew man while at Oxford. And in that connection, the athletic training which the youth enjoyed shows in the man today. Six feet and one and one-half inches tall, Brandt is perhaps as lean and powerful as that Lincoln College No. 4 who pulled up and down the Thames twenty years ago.

If he were depicted by a cartoonist, he would be shown with a briar pipe in his teeth and a healthy grin on his face. He looks as if he enjoyed life keenly—which he does. He disturbs the most serious conversations with puns, and his laugh, which may be brought out by a pleasant anecdote, is deep and full.

Altogether, one gets the impression of a man who is going somewhere. The suspicion of Oklahoma, which has been borne out by the experience of other communities and other institutions, is that he will be a whale of a success.

Chicago Alumni Find Men for Jobs

By Donald W. Snell, Gamma Phi (Amherst), '25

DELTS who are looking for jobs in the Chicago area or who would like to work for firms which have their personnel department located here will be interested in the employment program launched this spring by the Chicago Alumni Chapter. Loyal Delts have always helped the younger Fraternity men who are looking for employment but the task has never been carried out in an organized, systematic manner. The Chicago plan is started in such an efficient way that it has already aroused enthusiastic approval from both personnel managers and job-seekers.

When the new officers took over the administration of the Chicago Alumni Chapter in the spring, the first step was to map out a program for the coming year. They decided that in addition to the usual round of informal social functions, efforts would be concentrated on two major projects: rushing assistance for mid-western undergraduate chapters and an employment program. They visualized an employment program far bigger in scope than anything Delta Tau Delta had ever attempted in Chicago or so far as is known in the entire country. While it is realized that this year jobs are seeking men, in such direct contrast to the past decade, nevertheless it is believed that this is an excellent year in which to begin. They believe that progressing slowly, building up an experienced basis of operation, would prove to be tremendously helpful in the trying years that may be ahead in the employment field. Picking the right man as chairman of the committee was the first hurdle. By persuading Carl Kuehnle to accept the job, that hurdle was passed and success was assured. All Delts who know Carl will agree that his intense loyalty to the Fraternity and his dynamic personality eminently qualify him for the job.

Under his able guidance, the program is off to a flying start. Two separate committees were set up, an

CARL F. KUEHNLE
Founder of the Loyalty Fund*

Executive Committee and an Operating Committee. The Executive Committee consists of prominent Delts in the Chicago area, most of whom are employers and all of whom are greatly interested in helping younger members of the Fraternity. At the present time, the Operating Committee consists of five active members of the alumni chapter, with Karl J. Digel, Psi (Wooster), '13, as chairman. Others will be added to this committee if the press of work makes such action necessary. These men are doing the spade and shovel work of the program, introducing the program to personnel managers, and to Delts who are seeking positions.

Carl Kuehnle's letter announcing the program to Delts who were asked to serve on the Executive Committee so well explains the purpose of the program that it is worth quoting in full:

"A constructive program lately has been launched by the Chicago Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

"They have asked me to serve as chairman of a committee, the purpose of which committee is to function as a clearing house for our graduating class of Delts just coming out of school. At the start this will cover Delt graduates from the Middle West, though results may justify a country-wide program.

"I am, therefore, asking you to lend your name to our Executive Committee. The attached will give you an idea of the calibre of men whose cooperation has been sought to give weight to this program—which already is under way. A few additional representative names will be added.

"An Operating Committee has been set up for the purpose of handling all active work, which automatically eliminates any burden or specific responsibility on your part. They are now contacting the heads of the various active chapters in the Middle West.

"They or I, myself, will ask just one thing of you—that, when advised, you acquaint your personnel manager of this program and give us his name. A member of the Operating Committee will call on him personally to give him the full particulars.

"While it is believed that our Delt graduating classes will present a fine field from which to select men for various openings, we might essentially stress these points:

"1) We do not wish the employer to feel obligated in any manner to employ a Delt unless that man measures up favorably with any applicant for the same job.

"2) It is the intention of the Operating Committee to impress upon these young men that the fact that they are Delts is no assurance of employment.

"3) Discrimination and effort toward sound judgment will be exercised by the Operating Committee before directing any man to an employment manager unless he appears to be a desirable applicant for the position sought. "It is believed that this is a healthy, intelligent approach, both from the standpoint of the employer and of the employee.

"I would appreciate a word from you, indicating your willingness to cooperate in the manner suggested; and, of course, any additional ideas that might come to you which might make this program more effective would be extremely welcome.

Sincerely yours,

"P. S. During the short time since the conception of this plan (thirty days) application from several Deltas for special men have been received. Obviously, we all recognize that today it is more difficult to find a good man than it is to find a job.

"Just now a member of the Operating Committee called me, stating that one of our Deltas had canvassed for several weeks the entire field in his line of business, looking for a high-grade man (sales manager)—salary to range from $6,500 to $9,000 per year. This specific request, of course, gets beyond the field of the recent graduate into the more mature Delt field—yet, we think we have located just such a man."

Replies to that letter were prompt and enthusiastic. It was clearly evident that our program appealed to Delt employers. It was also clear that employers are seriously concerned about the employment situation this year.

The Executive Committee now now includes Arthur C. Allyn, president, A. C. Allyn & Company;

C. F. Axelson, special agent, Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company; Francis N. Bard, president, Barco Manufacturing Company; A. R. Brunner, chairman, Brunner, Jones & Page, Inc.; M. C. Burkhart, assistant cashier, The Harris Trust & Savings Bank; Arthur D. Chilgren, Gardner, Carton & Douglas (lawyers); Michael Clearey, president, Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; H. M. Dancer, president, Blackett-Sample-Hummert, Inc.; George T. Donoghue, general superintendent, Chicago Park District; Andrew Duncan, Leo Burnett & Co., Inc.; Charles B. Dunn, general consul, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago; S. J. Gilfillan, president, F. E. Compton & Company; Gerald Gorman, Crowe, Quinn, Gorman, Mulder and Wesselink (lawyers); John V. Haas, assistant cashier, The Northern Trust Company; W. H. Hallsteen, treasurer, Illinois Ventilating Company; Paul G. Hoffman, president, Studebaker Corporation, South Bend, Indiana; Raymond J. Koch, president, Felt & Tarrant Mfg. Co.; W. N. McNamee, advertising manager, Chicago Herald American; A. H. Mellinger, president, Illinois Bell Telephone Company; Hon. George A. Paddock, Congress of the United States, House of Representatives; Francis F. Patton, vice-president, A. G. Becker & Company; E. H. Powell, president, Encyclopaedia Britannica Inc.; Samuel A. Rothermel, vice-president, Moore, Case, Lyman & Hubbard (insurance); P. L. Smithers, Jr., vice-president, Produce Terminal Cold Storage Co.; Charles M. Thomson, trustee, Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co.; Harry Van Petten, vice-president, Bradner, Smith & Co.; Roy O. West, West & Eckhart (lawyers).

At the same time of the organization of the Executive Committee, Karl Digel wrote to the advisers and secretaries of various undergraduate chapters, acquainting them with the program and soliciting their help in recommending names of recent graduates who might wish to list their names with the committee. Replies to this letter indicated keen interest in the program but confirmed our suspicion that men graduating this year were either well supplied with job openings or were in the draft.

As set up at present, the Operating Committee consists of Karl Digel, Don Cranston, Orville Dewey, Walter Begland, and Don Snell. Walter Begland is secretary of the committee, and communications relative to the program should be addressed to him, in care of L. J. Sheridan & Company, One North La Salle Street, Chicago, Illinois. Members of the committee have been interviewing personnel managers and members of the Executive Committee. Enthusiastic approval of the program has been given by each person interviewed. So far as possible, the committee hopes to interview all Deltas who register with it for assistance. Communications are welcomed from Deltas in any part of the country who feel that the Chicago committee can be of assistance to them.

THE NEXT ALL-DELTA TAU DELTA EVENT

FOUNDERS DAY

MARCH 6, 1942

PLAN TO ATTEND A CELEBRATION

Gamma Theta's William Colfax Markham

By Homer K. Ebright, Gamma Theta (Baker), '00

SATURDAY evening, May 31, at the annual Delta Tau Delta reunion at Baker University, Brother William C. Markham was cited to membership in the Distinguished Service Chapter of the Fraternity. The honor was conferred in his inimitable manner by Brother Henry J. Allen, Gamma Theta '91, long-time Fraternity brother, and distinguished Kansan and United States Senator.

This was the one hundred tenth such citation presented in the history of Delta Tau Delta, and the rare honor was deeply appreciated by the recipient and his many friends.

"Dad" Markham has been a prominent figure in the history of Gamma Theta and Baker University. More than any other man he deserves the credit for the existence of this chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

He was one of the thirteen charter members of the local fraternity, Alpha Omega, which was organized in 1889. For many years he was the alumni adviser for this local, which had one hundred six members. During this time he was active in the attempt to get a strong national chapter. As a part of the campaign to secure a chapter of Delta Tau Delta, he, with a few helpers, built a splendid fraternity house, so that when, in 1903, President Frank Wieland came to Baldwin to install the new chapter, he found an adequate home ready for the Fraternity. Thirteen actives and twenty-two alumni were initiated that night.

At the reunion banquet this spring, "Dad" Markham told us the full story of the effort to secure a chapter of Delta Tau Delta. Other fraternities could be secured for the Baker campus, but the members of Alpha Omega had their hearts set on Delta Tau Delta. They had many friends in several chapters and letters were sent to these men, and a petition was addressed to the Arch Chapter, and taken to the Karnea by Brothers Markham and Clair

First initiate of Gamma Theta and "Dad" to many generations of Baker Deltas. Founder and leader of the local fraternity which, after many years of undiscouraged petitioning, became Gamma Theta Chapter. Efficient Chapter Adviser for twenty-five years; a loyal friend, resourceful helper, tireless worker, enthusiastic Delt. He is always ready to serve his Fraternity conscientiously and modestly.

Harpster. In a very unusual way, approval was given for the installation of the first chapter in Kansas, and the two men from Baker were initiated at the Karnea.

For nearly twenty-five years, Markham was the alumni adviser for Gamma Theta. He was far-seeing and unceasing in his efforts to keep the standards high in the chapter. During this time he was editor of the Baldwin Ledger, and for most of this period he was also the postmaster at Baldwin City.

He was active in the Kansas Republican State Central Committee, the National Association of Postmasters; and in the work of the Kansas State Highways. Since 1923 he has been the Executive Secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials with offices in Washington, D.C.

His friends have been glad to know that he has kept up his habits as a student, and has written a number of apt and interesting poems, as well as some historical plays.

The Commencement at Baker this spring was one to which Markham looked forward with unusual interest. It was the fiftieth anniversary of his class of '91. From the Atlantic and from the Pacific Coast they came. Markham made it the occasion to emphasize the points of historical interest on the Baker campus and set up four bronze tablets on the college buildings and in the Methodist church to mark the dramatic events of the early days: the first college building in Kansas; the early stone church; the visit of President Taft in 1911 to deliver the first address on world peace by a president of the United States; and the memory of a teacher of music who is remembered after forty years.

And he presented to the community an imposing stone gateway for the Oakwood Cemetery, dedicated to the pioneers whose courage and faith had made possible the growth of Baker and of Baldwin.

Two sons of "Dad" Markham, Maurice and Ralph, both alumni of Baker and of Gamma Theta, were present at the Fraternity banquet to see their father honored. They came from Van Nuys, California, where they edit an enterprising daily.

Friends were glad to welcome also Mrs. Markham and daughter, Mrs. Miriam Fetherolf, from Mt. Holly, New Jersey. Both Mrs. Markham and Mrs. Fetherolf were members of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and alumnae of Baker.

The Association News Bulletin of the Savings Banks Association of the State of New York presents an interesting item: "The Citizens Savings Bank recently came into possession of the first passbook issued on its opening day, June 10, 1860. This account had been opened in the name of Mrs. Adeline Orvis, and though the account has been closed, the book was given as a keepsake to WARNER D. ORVIS, Beta Omicron (Cornell), '06, chairman of the board of the bank, grand-nephew of the first depositor. The passbook, still in good condition, has been placed in a suitable frame in the banking room.

Under date of May 31, 1941, Charles B. Driscoll, author of the column, "New York," appearing in many papers throughout the country, suggests a word of thanks be given the teachers and educators for their selfless devotion to their hard tasks. "In years to come, I'll probably feel that same way about the neglected duty of personally thanking Dr. HENRY M. WRISTON, Gamma Zeta (Wesleyan), '11, president of Brown University.

"He is one of the sanest and most practical of college presidents. We have come to look upon college presidents as impractical idealists, in this country. That may be, in large measure, due to the fact that a former president of Princeton University led us into a disastrous and needless war to end all wars. Woodrow Wilson, learned idealist, told us in ringing periods that if we would do as he told us we would have a world fit for heroes to live in. Well, he was mistaken, to put it most charitably.

"But it is a great injustice to college presidents in general to assume that their thinking is always so divorced from reality as was that of Dr. Wilson.

"Dr. Wriston's brilliant, down-to-earth analyses of world affairs have done much to cause sober thinking among the faculty and students under his direction.

"Certainly, the students we sent to study under his leadership have taken his utterances seriously, and is the better for them.

"So, if Dr. Wriston weren't such a busy man, I would hunt him out and shake his hand and say to him, 'Thank you for the unselfish labors you and your great staff have expended in efforts to prepare our children for life in this troubled world.'

"I suspect most of us parents feel that way, as commencement approaches. We hesitate to seek out the busy teachers, principals, instructors, professors and presidents, to tell them of our appreciation. But in our hearts is a deep sense of gratitude."

The early part of June Dr. GEORGE W. CRILE, Psi (Wooster), '92, formally unveiled in his Cleveland Clinic a stupendous museumful of stuffed animals and a new physiological theory. The museum was completed last March when Dr. Crile went to Miami, hired a Goodyear blimp, wandered cloud-like over the blue Gulf Stream in search of a manatee. When he at last sighted one in an estuary, he blimped back to shore, boarded a speedboat, bagged it (935 lbs.). In Cleveland the manatee, like some twelvescore other animals Crile has collected from Lake Tanganyika to Hudson Bay in the past fifteen years, has its excised brain, heart, thyroid and adrenal glands on display. . . .

The animals and their organs illustrate the physiological theory on which Dr. Crile has been working not too secretly, for a long time. The theory: in all animals except man and the higher apes, the rate of metabolism is almost directly proportional to brain weight: 12.15 calories per gram of brain each 24 hours. Compared with his body, man's brain is larger than any other animal's, thus puts a greater strain on his organic activities. So such ills as high blood pressure, exophthalmic goiter, and diabetes are almost unique in civilized man, rare in aborigines and beasts. They are the price man pays for his superiority over other forms of life.

Many scientists respectfully follow Dr. Crile this far. But they stop and watch critically as he plunges onward into his electrodynamic theory of animal energy: Chemical energy in the brain, he announced last week, charges it with positive electricity; and the heart-pumped friction of red blood corpuscles rushing through their arterial courses generates negative static electricity.

"This new conception," Crile said, "brings the heart and the blood into dynamic partnership with the brain, the sympathetic system and the sense organs. The positive charge . . . is distributed (from the brain) to every part of the body by nerve fibers. The negative charge . . . is distributed to every minute part of the body by the red blood cells in the capillaries."

This electrical interchange, always in delicate balance, is, he believes, the energy system called life. Over this mystery, energetic Crile has brooded since he was an intern in 1887. "It bothered me so much it kept me awake at night," he said. "And on a sleepless night last week it all came to me. It was all very simple."—Time.

AROUND THE FIREPLACE

WITH GOOD DELTS

Our Hats Are Off to You—Men!

Hundreds of Delts, yes, possibly thousands of Delts, have entered into active service in the army, marine, naval, air, and secret service arms of the United States defense program since initial mobilization and expansion began last winter.

Many of these Delts are in officers' positions due to training received in R. O. T. C. programs while in college. Many Delts will not be officers because their college did not offer military or naval R. O. T. C. training.

Whatever your capacity, men, all of $\Delta T \Delta$ is proud of your answer to our country's call. God be with you.

Return to the Ritual

Reports from war-torn Europe tell of capacity congregations in all churches which remain standing or open for worship. Hands are reaching out grasping; hearts are bleeding in search—of what? There is a pioneering once again for eternal values, now that material values have so swiftly been lost in the blitzkriegs. Eternal values are lasting—material values are so shaky. Yet, through the years, eternal values are periodically forgotten, because of the lust for power and wealth. Greed, selfishness, hatred—create dissipation of eternal values. Sudden change—that which makes for greed, material values, are swept away by economic change or war. What happens? A grasping for eternal values.

It has often been said that the foundation of $\Delta T \Delta$ is its Ritual. The ceremony through which all of us have entered $\Delta T \Delta$ teaches eternal values. If we are to give to our Fraternity real service it will be through the teaching of eternal values—lessons that make us think, that make us practice.

Delta Tau Delta can contribute a "greatest service" by sending into this great country of ours one thousand men each year who enter their chosen fields thoroughly recognizing, first, eternal values. Four years of thoughtful practice of $\Delta T \Delta$'s Ritual makes real men. For full realization of Ritual value it must not be "just followed" or bring the comment "the Ritual was presented"—IT MUST BE DONE WELL!

The greatest challenge to those unsung heroes of $\Delta T \Delta$, the chapter advisers, is that they make sure that the Ritual is DONE WELL. Failure on our part will prove the weakest link in the lifeline of $\Delta T \Delta$. The greatest strength in the future of $\Delta T \Delta$ is being built each year in the minds and hearts of the men we are forming. The chapter that demands respect of its members, its alumni, and its institution is the chapter whose MEN LEAVE WITH ETERNAL VALUES.

No Business? Are You Going After It?

The remarks of these next few sentences, or paragraphs—depending upon when we decide to stop—do not bring a new thought. The thought is old, yes, very old. An alumnus, who in a short period of time has reached unusual heights in the personnel department of one of America's largest business organizations, wrote: "Why don't the chapters answer letters written by the alumni—especially those presenting prospective members?" Some do. But if only one chapter in $\Delta T \Delta$ failed to answer such letters it would be one too many.

By habit, maybe it's something else, but anyway we like to think of the good so our reply—which was prompt—told this alumnus of an excellent letter just received from a chapter. A letter which in a courteous way told us that the young man we had recommended did not meet the chapter's requirements. Was that letter difficult for the chapter to write? Sure it was! The important point was that the responsible officer WROTE. The result? Two more recommendations have been sent during this past summer.

To get the business you must go after it. The chapter's contributors are business men—let's stop with the statement: The chapters that are in business ARE GETTING THE MEN.

This May Happen to You

Three years ago this summer a chapter rushing officer wrote an alumnus asking that he investigate a young man who had registered at the college. No alumni were located in this boy's town some twenty-two miles away. At first this alumnus thought of all the excuses for not being able to make the investigation, but, having a conscience, about every other day the request would come to mind.

Away he went with no other reason to take the evening off—or for going to that town. His only ammunition was a recent copy of THE RAINBOW. The interview was a most pleasant experience. Here was a young man who was going to a strange city and a strange college. He seemed to welcome the interest shown in him by this alumnus. He did not mention fraternity affiliation but did tell of having invitations from two or three other Greek-letter organizations—by correspondence.

He pledged that fall and has made that chapter and $\Delta T \Delta$ a good man. How do we know? Because in reading the August 1941 number of THE RAINBOW this alumnus will see the boy's picture telling that he is president of his chapter for 1941-42. The alumnus has not seen this young man since the day he answered the request of the chapter. He was delighted when the chapter officer wrote that the boy had pledged. There will be greater delight in reading of how the boy developed.

Yes, this may happen to you. Do not turn down the opportunity.

How Shall We Measure?

Over one thousand young men will enter $\Delta T \Delta$ this fall. $\Delta T \Delta$ is their preference. They are our choice. What they offer to their institutions, to themselves, and to their chapters will determine what $\Delta T \Delta$ has to offer to them.

You will receive only in proportion to what you give. The man who spends his time measuring returns will need only a short rule. The man who spends his time bettering himself by satisfactorily answering his responsibilities will never find a rule equal to the measurement of his returns.

What are those responsibilities? Get what you came after—an education. Scholarship is the first measurement. If you question its value make a collection of application forms from one hundred leading firms in the United States and be surprised at the large percentage which inquire, directly or indirectly, into the scholastic record of the applicant.

Develop the ability to sell your product. There are plenty of opportunities in a wide variety of fields on every campus. Extracurricular activities is the answer. In entering athletic, intramural, publication, dramatic, music, class, and management competitions you will gain invaluable experience toward the ability to sell your product.

Your chapter offers many valuable possibilities for gaining experience in leadership and management. In just three short years the responsibility of running the chapter will belong to the group that enters this fall. The excellence of your chapter's reputation in the past will not lessen the responsibility. The men who did the job well before, have gone. Their record will not be forgotten but their record will not measure the reputation of the chapter this year. It will be your record.

Let your record measure your success. Individually you are insignificant—just one in thirty thousand living Deltas. If you are doing a job for yourself; for your parents who are probably sacrificing so that you may seek the advantages of higher education; for your college or university; you are then needed and sought by $\Delta T \Delta$, and how you will cherish $\Delta T \Delta$. But, if you spend your time measuring what doesn't exist, $\Delta T \Delta$ doesn't want you and has nothing to offer.

Thousands of Delt alumni answer every call $\Delta T \Delta$ gives. Why? Because they recognize what the Fraternity has given them—and they have never stopped to measure their contributions. For example, our president, Paul G. Hoffman, one of America's busiest executives, has said when questioned by business associates as to his ability to take so active a part in $\Delta T \Delta$, "Delta Tau Delta is my Fraternity." There is much between the lines.

Gentlemen, it has a meaning that has no measurement. Do your job and you will find the meaning. Let the progress of $\Delta T \Delta$ be the measurement. Never worry about $\Delta T \Delta$ stealing your record. It is your record.

You are $\Delta T \Delta$. Your membership reflects your record on the Fraternity—make it good.

Which Office Is Important?

We are talking to the officers of the undergraduate chapters of $\Delta T \Delta$, but the remarks are quite applicable to any organization which invests in a group of men the responsibility of leadership.

The head man cannot do it all. Even if he has exceptional ability and unlimited energy, and, seemingly, can do everything, he cannot do the job after he has graduated. A strong subordinating group of men will give continuity to the organization and will give confidence to the new officer when that exceptional man graduates. Lack of responsibility in the subordinating group will leave the organization in a panic condition.

If your chapter has elected you an officer do something with the responsibility. The president's chair is not the only important office in the chapter. Every elective and appointive responsibility in the chapter is important. A real value to be found in the offices below the presidency is experience. By all means, you should get some experience. It is not to be found simply by attending chapter meetings and responding with the words, "No report."

An organization that is building future security and real continuity is getting reports from every officer and every committeeman regularly. To have a report you must be doing something. To be working you are gaining experience; your chapter is improving and going ahead now; you are increasing your ability which will insure your chapter of progressive leadership next year. The value of this experience is not thrown out the window at Commencement exercises. It is after you have left the undergraduate chapter that you will begin to realize the real value to you as an individual. No matter what your career you will find organization in it; you will find men working with men for the betterment of their profession, or for the betterment of their business.

Too many men fail to recognize the happiness to be found in working in a subordinating position. They seek to jump from the ground to the top rung of the ladder. The few who do make the jump usually ride the back of "politics," and then fail, because of the lack of experience. Of course their ego is satisfied because their greed for position has been satisfied. The terrible letdown comes when our glory seeker discovers that his name is soon forgotten because there were no contributions to hold it up.

Go to $\Delta T \Delta$'s Manual of Organization and Administration for the undergraduate chapter. Discover the things that your office can do and then add to it according to your ability and the particular needs of your chapter. An important suggestion for all officers is that you keep a written record of the workings of your office. Efficient business has a motto, "Don't Say It, Write It!" You should make your chapter an efficient business.

Which office is important? A responsibility does not have to carry the word "office" as a part of its title, to be important. Everything in the chapter is important. Each detail is a part of the whole and your performance of the detail either strengthens or weakens the whole. Is your performance making your office important?

Athens

THE Athens Alumni Chapter was the guest of Beta at their initiation and banquet, June 7. We had a fine time with the boys. Many of the old boys came back for Commencement, which provided an opportunity for renewing many old acquaintances.

Jack Meister, '38, a recent graduate and honor student of Princeton Theological Seminary, was ordained a minister in the Presbyterian Church in Athens, in May.

Jack Fishlock, '40, Alliquippa, Pennsylvania, was recently married to Jane Pope, Athens, a Chi Omega.

Dr. Norris Beasley, '29, graduated in May from Jefferson Medical School in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and will serve his internship in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Several of the boys are planning on attending the Karnea, so we'll be seeing you there.

TOM HOOVER, JR.

Boston

THIS LETTER finds us without much news to report. The Founders Day Dinner was our last big social event, and during the summer months, all we'll be doing is getting together for our informal weekly luncheons at Patten's restaurant. Incidentally, we're glad to report that there has been more interest in these weekly get-togethers, but we're hoping that more of the brethren will drop in on us.

Rumor has it, however, that the officers of the chapter are already putting their heads together in regard to the program for the coming year. They hope to present their ideas at the first meeting in the fall in the form of a report and recommendation to be turned over to officers elected at that meeting. During the past year, the first since our "reawakening," the emphasis has been placed on getting on our roster all of the interested Delts in the area. There are about 150 on the list at present with constant additions anticipated. Now that we have this strong nucleus, we plan to get going next year and to start to carry out some of the functions of an alumni unit of the Fraternity. The inside dope says that this will be based on more concrete organization and a more definite program for the year. This program will attempt not only to organize successful social gatherings for better acquaintance among Delts, but also to plan for such functions as the Founders Day Dinner and a summer rushing party to aid nearby undergraduate chapters. In other words, now that we do have a good group of interested Delts, the idea is to do something about it. And by the next letter, we hope the "do something" will be really functioning.

DICK PARKS

Buffalo

THE SUMMER program of the Buffalo Alumni Chapter is coming along in good shape. We are planning to have a joint outing with the Rochester alumni at Stafford some time in the near future.

Several of our members are reporting from training camps in different parts of the country, doing their part for the cause.

President Wilson is again talking about having the annual President's Party at his home and we are looking forward to this event with a great deal of pleasure.

DENNIS C. LILES

Chicago

UNDER THE able direction of Clarence Miles and George Traver, the Founders Day Banquet at the Union League Club was a great success. For the first time it was held as an afternoon function and was also for the delegates of the Northern Division Conference, who were meeting at Northwestern that week end. Informal talks were given by Roy O. West, "Dad" Pumphreys and Al Bruncker. "Lefty" Miles and some of the boys outdid themselves in the entertainment that they personally underwrote. It was of the best and the entire group is indebted to them.

This spring Bunker Bean and "Stu" Fox were selected as a committee to give an evening party. This they really did and it will go down in the books as one of the best Delt functions ever thrown in Chicago. The Lake Shore Athletic Club was the scene, and entertainment from swimming to assorted tricks by Orville Dewey was on the program.

This year "Bud" McNamee was chairman of the golf outing which was held at Sportsman's Club. "Bud" Whyte of Waukegan won permanent possession of the trophy by virtue of his third triumph and Wally Johnson came through with a score that caused charges of "ringer" being thrown. Port Arthur and the Central National Bank boys came through as usual with fine prizes. A fall outing is now being planned so that "Shorty" Egan and the other boys may have a chance of recouping.

Don Snell, our new alumni president, has just finished a long session at the hospital and is again "sitting" at his desk. He will be glad to forward full particulars to any interested brothers.

Bob Fabry, Bill Yeager, and Morrie Cowing are now in the army and several other of the boys are expecting their notices any day.

John I. Sample is a sergeant of the 140th Infantry at Little Rock, Arkansas. Johnny is now in double harness.

The new officers of the Chicago Alumni Association for the coming year are: president, Donald Snell, 1314 W. Wolfram Street; treasurer, Orville Dewey, 160 N. LaSalle Street; secretary, Walter Begland, 1 N. LaSalle Street; vice presidents, "Scotty" Brubaker, George Snyder, Jerry Flanigan, and Ross Tullgren.

WALT BEGLAND

Clarksburg

WEST VIRGINIA Delts were inexpressibly saddened last April at the death of one of West Virginia's outstanding Delts, Roswell Reed. Brother Reed was a true Delt in every sense of the word and very active in the affairs of West Virginia Delts, being host for the past two years in his summer home for the mid-summer Delt picnic. Brother Reed was a Gamma Delta, '16 and was Number 101 in that chapter, being initiated in 1913.

The Clarksburg Alumni Chapter has been as active as summer vacations have permitted, holding luncheon meetings the second Thursday of every month. Brother Anthony McCue, whom those attending the last Karnea will well remember, has been presiding in his usual inimitable style and has been regaling the chapter with his experiences on a recent trip to Florida, during which he visited all the active Delt chapters between West Virginia and Florida, along with several other chapters not directly between the two points. He reports great enthusiasm among the undergraduates as to the coming Karnea at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, and predicts a record attendance. Incidentally, Brother McCue is one of the members of the Distinguished Service Chapter of $\Delta T \Delta$, and we are advised that for the first time in the history of the Fraternity there is to be a meeting of this chapter at the coming Karnea.

The Clarksburg Alumni Chapter of $\Delta T \Delta$ was extremely fortunate and highly honored by a recent visit at its monthly meeting with Hugh Shields, Comptroller of $\Delta T \Delta$. Two wheel-horse Delts, Bill Layman and Ernie Bell from Fairmont, attended this meeting, which was well represented by Clarksburg alumni. Brother Shields mentioned briefly the splendid financial status of the Fraternity and dwelled at some length upon the coming Karnea. He advised at the meeting that he had traveled from Maine to California since January of this year and that "he had found every chapter greatly interested in the Pilgrimage to Bethany, the place of the founding of $\Delta T \Delta$, which is now located in West Virginia." Brother Shields forecasts a large attendance at the Karnea and said there would be at least a dozen from California. It certainly looks like it is up to the alumni of the other states to band together and really make a showing at White Sulphur August 21, 22 & 23, or "Sunny California" will have us all "snowed under."

Our secretary-treasurer, G. Burke Lynch, a First Lieutenant in the Officers Reserve Corps, has been called to active duty, so yours truly has been "drafted" to fill his unexpired term.

GEORGE W. POST

Cleveland

THE Cleveland Alumni Chapter is going right along as usual—sending out delegates to contact other groups, planning future events, and keeping the group well knit by regular meetings and bulletins.

H. C. "Hop" Hopkins, a vice-president of our Northern Division, visited two chapters in his territory the week end of June 7 and 8. He acted in the capacity of Cleveland's representative to Chi chapter's 60th anniversary and Mu chapter's 75th anniversary. Brother "Jim" Crow of Cleveland was in attendance also at the latter and was one of the speakers.

Our summer picnic is scheduled for the latter part of July and an evening affair is planned for a little later in the summer.

We were unfortunate in losing our recently elected vice-president Dave Thomas. He was recalled to his home in Keokuk, Iowa, to take over the duties of sales manager for the Thomas Truck & Castor Co. Our best wishes and felicitations go with him. Two other members we regret losing are Lee Roesch, who is now located in Detroit, and John Speers, now in Sandusky, Ohio.

Our Bulletin still goes out regularly and our meetings are held in conjunction with lunch every Friday. Any Delt in or passing through Cleveland is cordially invited to attend.

H. JACK BARTELS

Columbus

ACTIVITIES of the Columbus Alumni Chapter have suffered by the loss of two of its officers. Vice-President Carl Y. Coley has forsaken his local haunts in favor of Chattanooga, Tenn., where he has become associated with the Southern Life Insurance Co., and Secretary Richard J. Heer has been selected for a year's service in the Army. He may be reached at Headquarters Company, 59th Signal Battalion, A. R. M. D., Fort Knox, Ky.

Milestones since our last letter include the marriage of Lowell A. Christman and the arrival of a baby daughter at Walter Heer's home. The sudden death of A. A. Noble in Texas was a sorrow to the many Delts who knew "Vet" through his many years of interest and activity in the Fraternity.

Vacationwise, George Schoedinger has just returned from a visit to Mexico. Bob Fimmer is looking forward to leaving for Sun Valley and Yellowstone; and George Collins has that look so common to him at this time of the year, when he is ready to start out for Lake of the Woods and another season of fishing for "muskies." Meanwhile, the rest of us are studying road maps and timetables with an eye to the latter part of the summer, and it's a good bet that we'll have a sizeable delegation at White Sulphur about Karnea time.

Beta Phi chapter has kindly included the alumni at their two recent dances, the Spring Formal at Columbus Country Club and the Pledges' Dance at Brookside Country Club. Those of us who have attended can certainly verify their ability as hosts.

Meanwhile, "luncheons as usual" throughout the summer months on Wednesdays at the University Club. We can vouch for this as one of the coolest spots in Columbus, and extend an invitation to all Delts to join us.

R. H. CAMPE

Denver

THE Rotary International Convention has kept all of us Coloradoans on our toes this month. It has been a grand success, we hope, and proves again that Colorado is one of the greatest spots for real entertainment and summer relaxation—(I don't belong to the Chamber of Commerce, either).

Many Delts from various parts of the United States met with Ward Bannister, Claire Evans, Walter Morris, and many other Colorado Delts who are active Rotarians. A concert given in the new amphitheater in the Park of the Red Rocks, fifteen miles west of Denver, was one of the highlights of the week. This outdoor theater is built between two giant rocks approximately 300 feet high. These rocks are vertical on one side and slope at about a forty-five degree angle on the other, thus forming perfect sounding boards. The bowl-shaped theater seats about 12,000 people, and it was packed for the Rotarian concert. Helen Jepson, guest soloist; Indian dancers; and a symphony orchestra completed a great program, which, incidentally, was carried over the Columbia network from Coast to Coast, Canada, and via short wave to South America.

The new annex to the Denver Auditorium was completed in time for the convention and was converted into a beautifully furnished "House of Friendship" where the delegates gathered.

A chat with Beta Kappa's rush captain disclosed the fact that things look good for a well-organized rushing season. We alumni haven't done anything so far this summer collectively, but a number of us are helping out individually, and we are making plans for several parties before September.

Here's to the White Sulphur Karnea of 1941!

ED SPROUL

Fort Lauderdale

THE LOCAL alumni chapter is making plans for some of the members to attend the Fifty-sixth Karnea.

We are planning to get together within the next few weeks to go over the list of the graduating classes to make recommendations for pledges for the coming year.

The local alumni chapter would like to take this opportunity to express their appreciation for the co-operation of Brother Green, Editor of THE RAINBOW, and to the Central Office in Indianapolis. It is the wish of every member of our chapter that the Fifty-sixth Karnea will mark the beginning of an even greater year in the history of Δ T Δ.

F. L. RICKARD

Fox River Valley

THE FOX River Valley alumni are preparing for a summer rushing program in conjunction with the active chapter. Two or three picnics, golf jamborees, and bull sessions are already in order. Alumni president "Blondy" Moesch has urged that each alumnus make a definite effort to attend all summer rushing events. Yes, and the Delt alumni are continuing with this informal gathering to discuss their plans for the next school term.

With the new Delta Shelter as the home for all future Delts, the rushing program should be a much cozier task; it's quite an inspiration to all alumni.

There were many new and old Delt alumni at the annual school picnic held during commencement. As has been the custom for the past five years, the alumni gathering was held inside, but many Delts from far and wide met again to shake hands, talk over old times, and to depart feeling quite young again.

CLIFF BURTON

Indianapolis

THE OUTSTANDING event on the Indianapolis Delts' summer calendar is the annual Golf Tournament, held Friday, June 13, at the Meridian Hills Country Club. Considering the weather, several showers during the afternoon, there was a good turnout of brothers and everyone had a fine time. Joe Carpenter won the low gross prize, with Dale Hodges winning the low net prize and Jess Pritchett coming in second for low net.

Following the tournament, dinner was served to the alumni and their ladies, golf and door prizes were distributed, and the evening was spent in cards and informal entertainment.

The committee in charge included Dale Hodges, Fred Hill, Ernie Miller, and Jess Pritchett. They did a good job and deserve a round of thanks, in fact they did such a good job that it was the opinion of the guests that we should have another get-together some time during the summer.

Our new alumni members include John Klein, Rho '32, who has recently moved here to take a position with Marmon Herrington; and George Warren, Beta Omicron '34, who, although he has lived in Indianapolis for more than a year, has just recently been attending Delt functions. We're glad to welcome these Delts and hope they can attend regularly.

Tom Riddick, Beta Zeta, was recently married to Marian Dreiss, a Kappa Alpha Theta from Butler University. Congratulations, Tom!

Kenny Penfold, a field secretary for Δ T Δ, and his wife are vacationing in Dakota.

Indianapolis has, as yet, been fortunate in losing only one active alumni member to Uncle Sam. We were very sorry, however, to loan Frank Weiland, Beta Zeta and Beta Psi, temporarily to the U. S. A.—its gain is our loss. Frank is now located at Key Field, Meridian, Mississippi, with the 113th Observation Squadron. Good luck, Frank, we hope you're back with us soon.

The alumni association has made tentative plans for a rush party some time in August, before the opening of school. We realize the problem with which our active chapters are faced this fall and we're going to try to do our part to make the going somewhat easier for the active chapters in our vicinity.

BOWMAN DOWNEY

Kansas City

DELTS FROM Kansas City journeyed to the nearby chapters this spring for special affairs—among which were the dinner early in May at K. U. attended by Cal Morrow, Howard Patterson, Ken Bates, and Chas. Carr; various week-ends at Missouri attended by Roscoe Groves, Bill Hornbuckle, and Walter Hausman; and the Annual Stag at Baker, which turned out to be a notable occasion.

We had been notified that "Dad" Markham was to be given the Distinguished Service Citation, so K. C.'s two members of the order, together with "ye Ed" and Arnold Aufdemberge, drove over to "Beautiful Baldwin" May 31. (Note: If we remember correctly, "Dad" Markham had the town officially named "Beautiful" so he could stay on as postmaster during the Wilson administration.)

Anyway—the Stag was well attended, with a fine program, the high point of which was the Citation of Brother Markham. Henry Allen was the genial master of ceremonies who called for the assistance of Groves and Hornbuckle in pinning on the medal and presenting the plaque.

Baker does really get the old boys out, making the trip there very worth while. For instance, we saw Jim Allen of Chanute, Bert Mitchner of Topeka, Tink Conger of Yates Center, and Frank A. Boys of Independence, Kansas, who used to be here in Kansas City before the other war.

We enjoy these sojourns with the active chapters, and we will have to cultivate some alumni from the chapter at Westminster, to make our circuit complete.

FRANK B. SIEGRIST

Lexington

THE Lexington Alumni Chapter of $\Delta T \Delta$ has shown more interest in Delta Epsilon this year than in the past few years. Last September the alumni chapter decided that one of its chief aims should be the giving of all possible aid to the active chapter. During the year several alumni have been very active in this work. Among those most active were William Greathouse, Coleman Smith, William Hopewell, Russ Lutes, Dan Fowler, John Good, James Shropshire, Charles Parrish, and John Thorn.

A number of members of the Lexington Alumni Chapter have been called to active duty in the U. S. Army. James Shropshire, "Shorty" Shropshire, Charles Parrish, Ben Crosby, Ben Fowler, George Skinner, Ike Moore, Coleman Smith, William Greathouse, Emory Horn, and Jack Mylor have been called. Several other members have Reserve Commissions and will probably be called soon.

John Stevenson is home from Florida and looking fine. He is considering entering the practice of law in Orlando, Florida.

Coleman Smith has just married Dorothy Clements. Ned Turnbull was best man.

At the present the Lexington Alumni Chapter is making plans to assist the active chapter in every possible way to make their rushing season a success.

JOHN M. THORN, JR.

Los Angeles

THE Los Angeles Alumni Chapter is planning the greatest All-California Delt picnic in history. The alumni will gather along with the active members of the four California undergraduate chapters at the famed Lucky Badwin Estate, "Santa Anita Rancho," August 9. The affair is being planned as a great rush party for all four of our chapters. They will invite their rushees from all Southern California to attend. During the afternoon, games will be played in the sunny meadows with chapter vying against chapter. Then, in the cool of the evening, a picnic supper will be spread under the oaks.

The results of this picnic should be manifold. In the first place, a more cohesive bond should be formed between the Deltas in California since they will have an opportunity to become acquainted. Secondly, a more comprehensive and concerted rushing program should result from our unified efforts. And lastly, we will have a mighty good time.

Jerry Stewart, of Beta Rho, who is in charge of the picnic, will be assisted by three men from each of the four chapters. They are Beau Adams, Bill Wilson, and Blondie Paul from Beta Rho; Dick Peterson, Dale Connison, and Dick Best from Beta Omega; Irv Jordan, King Cable, and Murray Howard from Delta Iota; and Dave Wilkinson, Bill Woodworth, and Bob Merson from Delta Pi.

NEWS ITEMS

Harvey S. Mudd was given an honorary degree by U. C. L. A. This is no mean honor as that institution gives very few, and they have to be richly deserved.

Brothers Gordon Carey, Bill Bollinger, Sid Nyhus, Darrel Johnson, Flay Baugh, and Dave Paulin are in the Army now.

Brother George Rochester has returned to his Los Angeles law practice after a year on the faculty of the University of Oregon Law School.

FRANK A. ZIMMERMAN

Miami

IN YOUR account of the Miami Alumni Chapter which appeared in the last issue you stated that if you could read between the lines of Brother Jack Thompson's letter the Miami Alumni Chapter would soon become active. We did and the results are most encouraging to report. The rejuvenation began with a luncheon, June 12, at Childs restaurant with thirteen members attending. This was considered by all as a good turnout after so long a period of inactivity. Brother Norman McKay reported just as the luncheon broke up and if we may be superstitious broke up the "thirteen" jinx. It was decided at this affair that we should have an election of officers and reorganize ourselves. For this purpose a meeting was called for June 18 at the home of Brother Jack Horning. The brothers gathered early for this affair to enjoy swimming in the pool, shuffleboard, and refreshments before retiring for a business session. Roll call revealed the following to be present: Carl Banker, Elroy Decker, George Bolles, Bob Cushman, Dick Howes, D. Wendt, Marion McCune, Bill Jackson, Jack Thompson, host Jack Horning, Jimmy Nix, Martin Vegue, Ed Mitchell, Bob Baer, and Bill Mitchell. Election of officers was first on the slate and the following were elected: Elroy Decker, president; Jack Horning, vice-president; Bob Cushman, secretary-treasurer; and Bill Mitchell, corresponding secretary. A committee composed of Bill Jackson, George Bolles, and Marion McCune was appointed and designated as Committee on Arrangements with duty being to plan Delt Functions. Brother Decker has long been a hard worker for $\Delta T \Delta$ and with all-out aid pledged to him you can expect to read of new accomplishments for $\Delta T \Delta$ in this section. It was suggested that we should do some personal contact work on the brothers and strive to get them to attend future Delt affairs. Each member was assigned three or four brothers whom they would call upon. Our next meeting, a luncheon, at the Seven Seas, is scheduled for July 1. Our aim now is to plan some rush functions for August.

Of news to his many Delt brothers is the announcement of Brother Bolle's wedding July 16. He is already receiving pointers from newlyweds McCune and Jackson.

BILL MITCHELL

Nashville

THE Nashville Alumni Chapter welcomes Al Trice back to the city. Brother Trice has been located, for the past several months, with the United States engineers in Kentucky.

Charles Pearson has a camp at Woodale and we are planning some rushing parties in July and August.

We are a little late, but at this time we wish to extend congratulations to Charlie Rutherford who was recently married. Also, Charlie is a candidate for judge in the coming election, and despite his youth he appears to have an excellent chance to win.

GARLAND SWEENEY

New York

THE DELTS had a dinner, May 15, in lieu of their monthly luncheon at Stouffers' restaurant. It was announced that we would have as our speaker an aviator flying planes to Britain. However, shortly before the dinner, the British authorities announced that no aviators would be permitted to speak on any public occasions.

The formal election of officers was also held at the May dinner. The committee on nominations re-nominated the slate which was in office for the preceding year and they were elected. These officers are: John W. Tynan, Upsilon '27, president; Al Galbraith, Beta Omicron '37, treasurer; and John M. Montstream, Delta Beta '21, secretary.

Eugene H. Dawson, Colorado, spoke of his experiences in East Africa shortly before the outbreak of hostilities, where he was commissioned by Duke Aosta, the Italian administrator, to make a study of the mineral resources of the Italian East African territories. Brother Dawson's first-hand knowledge of the situation in this part of Africa was tremendously interesting.

Brother "Boss" Burrows, Beta Lambda, had several new stories which he told with enthusiasm and skill. Others joined in the story telling. After the dinner, we smoked, talked and some of us played cards.

The annual outing of the Delts of the Metropolitan area will again be held at the Pelham Country Club, Pelhamdale Avenue, Pelham Manor, June 25. Golf, tennis and swimming will be available. The golf course at the Club is sporty and well kept. It will afford a real test for one's golfing ability. There are ample tennis courts in first-class shape for those who prefer tennis. A beautiful outdoor swimming pool is available for a refreshing plunge. Dinner will be served out on the terrace overlooking the swimming pool, and there is no spot more lovely, cool and delightful for such a dinner. We generally have about thirty present at the outing and dinner, and we anticipate an equal number this year.

Col. Frederick Palmer, Librarian of Delta Tau Delta, has sent in his card notifying us that he will attend the dinner. We hope to get some observations from him on the outlook of the present foreign situation. That undoubtedly will be interesting and informative.

We have just received notice that Lt. Col. H. S. Otto is now with the Corps Area Headquarters at Governors Island, New York. Quite frequently now our notices of meetings will be returned with a statement, "The Army's got me now." Needless to say, we miss at our meetings those who have been inducted into service.

JOHN M. MONTSTREAM

Omaha

MEETINGS of the Omaha Alumni Association will be discontinued during the summer months except for the annual rush party or picnic which will be staged in coöperation with the rushing committee of Beta Tau in August. In line with the custom of former years this event will be staged under the sponsorship of the Omaha Delts and various rushees from Omaha and vicinity will be the guests. The success of last year's rush party at the Ortman farm will inspire both actives and alumni to make every possible preparation to equal the 1940 record. Already the names of Omaha boys who expect to attend Nebraska are being assembled.

ROBERT MANLEY

Philadelphia

THE PHILADELPHIA alumni are all on "vacation," since no meetings are held during the summer months. The secretary has not been out on the golf course and has not been swimming, so he has missed seeing some of our members who frequent those places. At the last luncheon, however (he was there), a stranger was welcomed into our organization. Byron V. Stephen, Missouri '20, is now working in Philadelphia as district sales manager for Troy Laundry Machinery Company. We hope to see more of him in the fall.

Another Delt who is seen frequently is Fred MacMillian, Pennsylvania '07. Fred is with the Cramp Shipbuilding Co., helping to give the defense program a boost.

Nothing has been heard from Bob Ferguson, Penn State '32, for some time. Rumor has it that Bob met a very fair lady and the rest of the time he is traveling for the Deveraux Schools in Devon, Pa. Look for him at the Karnea.

CHARLES C. GRAY

Pittsburgh

RIGHT NOW the main activity of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter seems to be that of promoting Karnea attendance at White Sulphur Springs. From all indications, there will be a very substantial representation from the Pittsburgh area. Mr. Harry Birmingham and Mr. M. M. Grubbs have been appointed a committee to handle this detail.

The annual Delt Golf Tournament will probably take place in August as this is usually combined with the rushing program as outlined by the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter. A great many prospective Delts from the Pittsburgh area who are going to college this fall will be invited to attend. A date for this affair has not been definitely established.

If any Delts know of young men who are coming to any of the Pennsylvania colleges this fall, we should like to have their names so that we might contact them immediately.

Portland

A COUPLE of months ago Mr. Bartling sent a bulletin to all alumni chapters to get organized on rushing. I am glad to say that we are organized and have a skeleton rushing program set up for the summer. The only disadvantage is that through the defense work it seems that since school let out all of the active brothers have disappeared into good paying jobs, where it is impossible to contact them to help us rush the younger men.

The last Bridge Party of the year was given last month at Jim Brattain's house, and, by accident or otherwise, we came out with a fair-sized profit for the year on the Bridge Parties.

Unknown to us, we were supposed to pay an amusement tax to the U. S. Government for our winter dance. Having failed to pay, the government sent a man around to see our president the other day, and I am chagrined to say that after paying six per cent interest on the debt and fines, etc., the bill amounted to quite a bit. I don't know what experience the other chapters have had with this problem. I know it is new to us, but it might save them some money to clarify themselves on their tax position at this time.

We don't expect twenty men at the Karnea, but we do expect some representation, so will be seeing you there.

JIM ZILKA

Rochester

WE PLANNED OUR Annual Picnic for June 19, but I guess the Delts were not picnic-minded. So after sending cards and making several telephone calls we had to call it off as we had no picnickers. We felt bad about that as our June affair is usually well attended. However, plans are being made for a Golf Match and Dinner with the Buffalo Delts at Stafford Country Club near Batavia for June 26. Brother Arthur Blanchard is taking care of this and he has hopes of getting the golfers out. In the past our match with Buffalo has been very successful and even though the turnout is small they have a grand time.

RICHARD A. WILBUR

St. Louis

DON HOLT, North Carolina, was in Knoxville the latter part of May but business engagements prevented his visiting the brothers of Tennessee.

Charles E. Allcroft, Pittsburgh, was transferred in April, and his new home address is 855 E. Hermosa Drive, San Gabriel, California.

We welcome back to our group, Forrest Boecker, Cornell, who was with us prior to moving to Texas. His home address is 6003 Enright, St. Louis.

Charlie Drake, Westminster, formerly with the Missouri State Employment Bureau, is now with the personnel department of U. S. Cart-ridge, subsidiary of Western Cart-ridge Company.

Bud Rollins, Missouri, is in line for congratulations on his recent advancement to the vice-presidency of Columbia Brewing Company of this city.

D. M. Smith, Purdue, has just returned from a fishing expedition in Canada. The photographs show lots of fish and even the big ones didn't get away.

Welcome visitors to recent luncheons were Jack Turley, Missouri, and Ed Baker, also Missouri. We call them visitors as we hadn't seen them for so long.

We have no parties planned at the present time but will no doubt line up our usual rush party for August. There has been some talk of a golf tournament in the near future, but no definite plans as yet.

All Delts are requested to send in the names and addresses of any prospective Delts heading for a university this year.

G. H. BUCHANAN, JR.

San Francisco

OUR RECENT luncheons have been most interesting as well as enjoyable due to the interest all our members are taking in preliminary plans for the San Francisco Alumni Banquet next fall. While no definite release can be given yet, as our plans are still in the formulating stage, we can assure all skeptics that this will prove to be the biggest and best reunion we have planned in many a year. We are blessed weekly with the presence of Hans Jepsen who is giving us the benefits of his many years of experience. Incidentally, we are all a little jealous of "Jep" as he will be leaving for the Karnea the end of July. We all sincerely wish that we could all stow away with him because we fully realize that this is going to be a perfect spot for a meeting of the Fraternity—especially in such days when such a spirit means so much.

Our most recent newlywed, Tom Boothe, Beta Rho '36, joined us last week when he was in the city. Tom married Shirlee Barth, a local beauty, and they are living in Palo Alto where Tom is busily engaged in the construction of an ice rink which he will manage. It is rumored that Al Horn, Beta Omega '35, now Ensign Horn, U. S. N., will take the step in August to an, as yet still unknown to us, Santa Rosa lassie. Al is stationed at the Navy Net Depot at Tiburon, California. Fred Glover, Beta Rho '33, is now Lt. Glover, U. S. N., as a German translator. Fred spent several years in Europe studying at the University of Hamburg. Fred has just completed a new home which he built around an electric dishwasher. Richard Barr Jones recently married Jane Brophy. Our "pride and joy," Freddie Boole, recently graduated with flying colors from the Marine American Red Cross First Aid School. Bob Dearborn, Beta Rho '33, is going back to Stanford this fall to postgraduate in illuminating engineering. We were pleased to have as a guest last week LeRoy Owens, Gamma Alpha '21, who dropped in on us while on a short visit from Los Angeles. Don't forget, all of you who will visit San Francisco this year, that we meet each and every Wednesday in the basement of the Commercial Bldg., 465 California St., in the Merchants Exchange Club.

EDWIN H. CLARK

Toronto

OUR LAST meeting of the year has been swallowed up in the maze of existing minutes, leaving the treasurer on the spot for having collected reduced fees for the year on the strength of a motion that wasn't passed. Poor Guy! His good work on this project may land him up in White Sulphur Springs as a Karnea delegate—at his own expense and by courtesy of the Foreign Exchange Control people.

Local gossip around the Alumni Chapter is hard to get hold of since everyone is too busy with his nose in his own business. However, we must report the loss of Brother Hardy, for several years one of the most efficient chapter advisers that was ever bamboozled into the job. Brother Hardy is now in Winnipeg in charge of a munition plant for the Allied War Supply Board. The loss was twofold, since he took his wife with him and she was the live wire president of the Mothers and Wives Club.

Brother Ted Sharpe has been appointed the new adviser—if the chapter listens to his advice it can't help but come out on top.

One of Delta Theta's best supporters, Brother Alec Walker from the Pacific Coast, is now stationed in Ottawa with the National Defense Department. He has visited several times in Toronto and is renewing friendships all along the line.

Brother H. Sprott and Brother D. Agnew have moved to Ottawa with the Foreign Exchange Control Board—they will be glad to help all Canadian Delts get as much U. S. currency as they need for fun in the States—yea!

Brother C. Britnell is doing excellent work for the Naval Services in Halifax as a Civil Engineer.

It is with profound regret that we report the death of Sergeant Jack Smith, Delta Theta '41, of the R. C. A. F., by enemy action last April. An incalculable loss to everyone who knew him.

His sacrifice will not have been in vain.

OUR ANNUAL Easter Dance, always among Tulsa's outstanding social events, was better than ever this year. In addition to the Tulsa chapter, we had a number of the members of the Oklahoma City Alumni Chapter over, and many from the active chapter at Oklahoma University (Delta Alpha). The music was excellent and the University Club ballroom was well decorated by George McMullin (Chi) and Norbert Proctor (Delta Alpha) and several others, and we all had a "bang-up" good time. A great deal of credit for the success of the dance is due the chairman of the dance committee, Carl Pinkerton (Lambda). Incidentally, we had more in our treasury after the dance.

Hirst Suffield, former Tulsa alumni president and lately of Houston, was in Tulsa June 23, on his way to Fort Bliss; he's a first lieutenant. His brother, Vance (Delta Alpha), was driving him down; Vance will return to Oklahoma University this fall to work on his Master's and get an ROTC commission.

Ronnie Johnston (Delta Alpha) has been flying to Washington quite a bit lately for sessions with the Wages and Hours Division of Labor Department.

Gordon Watts, Tulsa alumni, is now on duty at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Lawrence Wilson has been appointed by Brother A. F. McCue, chairman of the White Sulphur Karnea Committee, to secure the attendance of twenty Delta Alpha or Oklahoma Delts at the Karnea in August at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

Bill Avery, treasurer of Delta Alpha, was in Tulsa recently; he is rush captain this summer and is doing a grand job on rush. Shelby Green, Jr., is in charge of rush in Tulsa for Delta Alpha. A big party is being planned in July by the Tulsa Alumni Chapter for boys entering schools throughout the country next fall. There will also be another party given by the Tulsa alumni just before the opening of school.

BURDETTE C. SMITH

Wilmington

BUSINESS HAS taken our treasurer, Jack Mallard, Mu, to Erie, Pa., where he is now located permanently. Jack has hopes of organizing a Delt alumni chapter in Erie soon, if there are enough Delts in that territory interested in such a group.

Everett Rowe, Beta Mu, was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy left by Mallard.

Bridgeport, Conn., has recently taken from us Gene Wilfert, Upsilon. Gene was recently transferred there by his company.

Cortlandt Schoonover, Gamma Zeta, is the proud father of a baby girl, born April 19. Brother Schoonover is a member of the faculty of St. Andrew's School, Middletown, Delaware.

At the present time, plans are being formulated for a Delt golf match at the duPont Country Club. Most of our group are golf enthusiasts, but all "claim" to be duffers. Whether these claims are made so that large handicaps will be given, we do not know. It will be a lot of fun, anyway, to gather on the golf course in a group, dig turf, and see how accurately Delts can count strokes.

A "rushing" party is being given careful consideration, with the hope that we can get together all local recommended high school graduates planning to enter college next fall.

JAMES O. OTIS

Wichita

THE Wichita Alumni Chapter have continued their monthly luncheon meetings on the last Wednesday of each month at the Wichita Club on the tenth floor of the Hotel Lassen building.

The turnouts have continued to run from ten to fifteen members and when political discussions are avoided it seems as though college days were still at hand as the majority of the local alumni come from the University of Kansas, Kansas State College and Baker chapters.

Max Hamilton surrendered his robes as president of the Wichita alumni the first of July and the following officers were elected to carry on for the coming year: Robert Dice, president; Elmer Garrison, vice-president; Kenneth Eastman, vice-president; Richard Hickey, secretary, and Monteith McCormick, treasurer.

The local alumni still seem to be

Alpha—Allegheny

ALPHA MAY well look back over a year of increased activity with pride and satisfaction. Well accounted for in a wide range of campus endeavors, we have reached the peak in each.

ATHLETICS

In the field of athletics Marasco's achievements are outstanding. Captain of the football team, spark-plug of the basketball team, and president of the "Block A" Club are a few of his accomplishments. Larry May leaves behind him the impressive record of forty points in two minutes of actual competition during the season's four track meets. Larry limited himself entirely to first places for a perfect record in the dashes. Fred Zimmer, as track manager, maintained a long standing Delt tradition. Other Alpha men sporting letters for athletic achievements this year are Dick Dunlop, George Evert, and Bob Hoover.

HONORS

It seems unfair to skip over the numerous fellows who have won recognition along various lines—but sticking strictly to the outstanding, we find Hank Leitzel, head waiter of the college dining hall; Ralph Marasco, student manager of the new College Grill; and Bob Hoover, the founder and first director of the Allegheny Co-op. A recent report also tells us that Bob carried off top honors in the Homer Essay Contest.

HONORARIES

Representing the Deltas in the honorary medical fraternity, Phi Beta Phi, is Fred Neckers, also a member of the well-known Allegheny Singers. Larry May and Bob Hoover have successfully fulfilled the offices of president and secretary, respectively, in Kappa Phi Kappa.

DRAMA—JOURNALISM

The Playshop claimed Zimmerman, Leitzel, and Graham for technical work this year while Zimmer, Donahey, and Riegger held down important roles. John Donahey has also proven his artistic talents in the journalistic field repeatedly and has been recently appointed editor-in-chief of the Literary Magazine.

ACTIVITIES

Along the line of general House activities, this year saw the completion of the Choctaw game room, and the dedication of the Thompson Ravine. Alpha instituted this year in the way of social functions a series of sorority tea dances, incidentally an excellently received innovation, and the Spring Week End. The latter affair consisted of three days of mad whirl centered about the formal dance at Conneaut Lake's Beach Club.

SCHOLARSHIP

Despite the intense interest in extracurricular events, the scholarship of the house has shown definite improvement. This is due mainly to an active program toward that end, including the institution of a Freshman Scholarship Award.

The newly installed officers are headed by Harry Shepard and Ted Sampson. Under this excellent leadership the new combine has already given much evidence of efficiency. On this basis and the basis of the past year, Alpha looks forward to a still bigger and better season this fall.

DON KING

Beta—Ohio

SCHOLARSHIP

THE YEAR OF 1940-41 was a very successful one for Beta in scholarship. Our outstanding achievement of the year was the winning of both active and pledge chapter scholarship awards on Ohio University's campus. In addition to this, we were awarded the All-Ohio Scholarship cup at the Ohio Conclave of Δ T Δ.

ATHLETICS

After winning first in intramural football, basketball, and volleyball, Beta's athletes were unlucky in winning only second place, losing the intramural trophy by one point.

In school athletics, Beta was well represented by varsity footballers John Zahndt, Bill Heinz, and Jack Clark; wrestlers Lud Ohl, Bob Unger, and Howie Cordes; trackman Glenn Moeschberger; and tennis players Loren Swedenborg and Ted Evans. Our athletic managers included Ross Alkire, Jr., who succeeded Hank Davis as senior football manager; Bob Drake, sophomore basketball manager; and Cappy Howard, senior basketball manager.

PUBLICATIONS

Dick Foster, sports editor of the University Post, Joe Foster, associate editor of the Post, John Dengel, business manager of the Athena, school yearbook, and Gene Sample and Phil Mahan, active in the sports office and photography department of the publications, all have helped to keep Δ T Δ in an important spot in Ohio University's publications.

MUSIC

Beta's outstanding award of the year in music was the Annual Torch Sing Trophy. As winner of that award, our glee club represented Ohio University in the State Interfraternity Sing, and won second place in that event.

The University Glee Club, limited to forty members, included nine Deltas. Tommy Morgan, popular baritone on the campus, was soloist with that group. He was also a member of the Varsity Quartet. Six Deltas were in the marching band.

MISCELLANEOUS

At the annual Panhellenic formal, senior Bill Kursel was elected Greek God, and at the Junior Prom, a very successful affair under the direction of Prom Chairman

Len Farmer, John Zahrdt was elected King.

Zahrdt was also elected a member of the University House of Delegates.

In the Homecoming Decorations Contest, Beta won first place in the float division and second place in the house decorations division.

An undefeated interfraternity debate team brought home the debate cup, while the Varsity Debate team was composed of four Deltas, Frank Gerchow, Steve Fuller, Dwight Riley, and Don Davis.

Dwight Riley and Don Davis were elected to Torch, outstanding senior men's honorary. Don Irons and Don Day were elected to Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholastic honorary. President Don Davis was also elected Senior Class president.

Socially, Beta's Winter Formal, featuring John Kirby, with Maxine Sullivan, was Ohio University's biggest fraternity affair, while open houses each week end, and the pledge dance were very successful.

WAYNE KETNER

Gamma—W. and J.

SCHOLARSHIP

AS THE curtain falls on another year Gamma looks back on one of the most successful years in her history. She has been well represented in every phase of campus life. We were tops in scholarship on the campus and also the Eastern Division, which enabled us to secure permanent possession of the hotly contested scholarship plaque.

ATHLETICS

In the way of athletics we have done equally well. We had three men on the varsity football team who we think will do even better for W. and J. and Gamma next year. In Wally Kettlewell we had one of the stars of Jay's fine basketball team who, together with two Deltas holding managerial positions, rounded out Gamma's participation in basketball. We also count two lettermen on the track team as well as the manager and assistant manager. In addition to the manager of the golf team, we had in Charlie Wilson the medalist of the Allegheny Invitation Match.

Gamma's freshmen have also done well in athletics with four men on the freshman football team; two of whom, by the way, are expected to hold down varsity berths next year. She also had representatives on the basketball and swimming teams as well as several managerships.

PUBLICATIONS

We again had control of campus publications with the office of business manager of the Pandora ably conducted by Bill Frost with the support of two members of the freshman business staff and two more on the editorial staff. The business end of the Red and Black was capably handled by Dan Finkbeiner with the aid of Bill Dickie, next year's manager, and two each from the sophomore and freshman classes. The Gambolier was edited by our own Sam Robinson and the business end managed by Bill Dickie. Helping them were two of Gamma's juniors and three of her freshmen.

MUSIC

Gamma has been very prominent in many other activities. Along with a number of members we had the student leadership of the Glee Club. We have many members of the Band and also a very active representation in the Buskin Club. Gamma is very proud that within her membership there are three Elders in the College Church. Together with our other honors there came still another when, helped by the fine leadership of George Redding, we took third place in the interfraternity sing.

HONORARIES

This year has seen many Deltas called by the honorary societies: Bill Dickie by Crest, foremost activities honorary; Tom Urbansky and George Redding by Kera, interfraternity activities honorary; Walt Church by Phi Chi Mu, science honorary; George Redding, Bill Dickie, Bill Headley and Jack Rynd by Pi Delta Epsilon, journalistic honorary; Jack Rynd, Alex Fricke and Bill Dickie by Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary; Jack Rynd by Eta Sigma Phi, Greek and Latin honorary; Andy Margileth by Chi Epsilon Mu, chemistry honorary; Alex Fricke, Jack Rynd and Watson Sherrard by the Economic Society; and last, but far from least, Dan Finkbeiner and Sam Robinson by Phi Beta Kappa. We also had the presidency of Phi Chi Mu and Phi Sigma, biological honorary.

SOCIAL

Socially the year has been a success. Numerous house dances throughout the year were climaxed by the week end of the Prom. Our post-Prom dance was in the form of an old-fashioned barn dance in which everyone took part and had a good time.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

We were highly honored this year by the visits of two distinguished Delta alumni. The first was Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, who delivered a very fine sermon in the College Church. Next was Senator Bennett Champ Clark, who gave the reasons for his stand on America's entry into the war, a very fine talk. On the same program and following Senator Clark, Walt Church, speaking for the Junior Class, gave the Farewell Address to the departing Seniors, a masterpiece of undergraduate oratory.

CAMPUS LEADERS

Jack Rynd is President of the Interfraternity Council and Walt Church is President of the Junior Class.

GRADUATION

This year Gamma loses seven Seniors: George Hinkens, past president, who did a fine job this past year; Dan Finkbeiner, past treasurer, who did such an admirable job with the finances; Sam Robinson, a natural leader who is going to be an assistant professor of English at "Jay" next year; Ralph Vernon, past vice-president, who is also going into teaching; Bob Andrews, an excellent student for whom Uncle Sam is looking; Charlie Wilson, sportsman and good fellow, who has a good job awaiting him; Joe Hufschmitt, an all "A" student who is going to continue his study of medicine at Loyola. We are also losing Sophomores Charlie Knight and Ed O'Donnell and Junior Alex Fricke to Uncle Sam. To all of you, may you have great and continued success.

We who are left have promised ourselves to do our work to the best of our abilities and to carry on the principles and traditions of Deltism and to make $\Delta T \Delta$ the finest fraternity on the campus.

ROBERT C. MCFADDEN

Delta—Michigan

THIS YEAR Delta completed one of its most successful years in all phases of campus activity. Our social calendar included four formal dances, a J-Hop house party in February and innumerable radio and record dances. Also this year, for the first time, Delta held a Mother's week-end house party, over Mother's Day week end.

ACTIVITIES

This year Delta was outstanding in campus activities. We have the newly elected president of the Michigan Union, the business manager of Michigan's outstanding engineering magazine, a Tau Beta Pi and a Phi Kappa Phi man, two juniors on the Union staff, two juniors on publications, and two junior athletic managers. Delta's new president, Bud Chamberlain, is the star third baseman on Michigan's championship baseball team, and our retiring president, Ward Quaal, was president of the Men's Judiciary Council. Also several of our present freshmen are forging their way to the top in various campus activities.

Delta had the largest pledge class on campus this year, and we finished in the upper fourth on campus in both scholarship and fraternity athletic standings. We are looking forward to even greater successes next year when we will have the largest chapter in our history.

Epsilon—Albion

SCHOLARSHIP

THE DELTS remain prominent on campus and we are endeavoring to gain even more prestige through scholastic achievement. The anticipations are a 1.3 for the chapter's average this term. Our award for the highest point average among the initiates is worn by Russel Davis who earned a 2.2.

ATHLETICS

Intramurally we suffered this year. Many of our athletes were varsity men and ineligible for interfraternity competition. Bruce Stevens and Bill Newcomb, who consistently placed first and second in the 100-yard dash, the 220, and broad jump, are fine examples.

IMPROVEMENTS

Changes on the Shelter include a new water softener, decoration of our card room, and repairs on the lawn. The lavatory will be tiled during the summer.

SOCIAL

We began our social events of the year with the Black and White formal in Battle Creek's Post Tavern hotel. Other social activities were Meet-the-College day, our Mother's Day dinner, and a dinner for our "Delta Queens." Field Secretary Kenneth Penfold was among the guests who visited or "came back" during the spring.

NEIL ROSENBERG

Zeta—Western Reserve

REPEATING A tradition established four years ago, Zeta has again finished a school year rating "tops" on the Reserve campus. To its ancient and honored list of laurels, many newcomers have been added. One of these was the first-place award in the annual "sing-out," an achievement which has for years rested in the hands of a single rival. Our thanks go to Fred Whitehead, Dave Root, and Jack Francis, whose coordinated direction and vocalizing put it over.

SCHOLARSHIP—PHI BETA KAPPA

Zeta stands highest at Reserve. In spite of having the largest chapter on the campus, Zeta Delts were tied for first in semester point average, second in cumulative standings. Of great value were George Noland's straight-"A" semester and the election of Brothers Dick Tomer and Dale Saunders to Phi Beta Kappa, two of the nine seniors at Reserve who made that honorary.

INTRAMURALS—VARSITY

Having earned two firsts and a second in University intramural sports finals in the last three years, Zeta men fought hard to again seize the coveted Runner-up Trophy last spring. Orchids to Fred Oldenburg and Chuck Manthey, Delt intramural managers. Also outstanding in the athletic field were Willie Waggle, Ernie Eros, and George Noland, varsity football lettermen; Fritz Graf, star freshman fullback; and Joe Burns, first-string freshman cager.

CAMPUS POLITICS

Campus politics held the spotlight in the final month of school. Among those elected to campus offices were Zeta's new president, Bud Latimer, president of the Interfraternity Council; and Fritz Graf, secretary-treasurer of the Sophomore class. Latimer, Jack Centini, and Joe Manak are Zeta's contribution to the Warion Society, campus honorary, in addition to last year's members, Bill Poe, Don Voss, and Walt Leonard.

SOCIAL

Zeta's annual Spring Formal was held at Hawthorne Valley Country Club just after final exams. It climaxed the biggest social season that Reserve Delts have ever experienced and seemed to forecast that, in 1941-1942, $\Delta T \Delta$ at Reserve will place at least a dozen more units of prestige and respect between the golden square and the next best.

RICHARD C. WHERLEY

Kappa—Hillsdale

"THIS YEAR the Delts will reign supreme" is an appropriate quotation viewing Kappa's accomplishments for the 1940-41 college term.

ATHLETICS

Kappa placed Bob Manby and Dave Fry on the football varsity and "Shifty" Manby was chosen all-conference center. Burr Manby was elected captain of the Freshman football team and what a game we had!

Dick Emmons competed as a relay man for the indoor track squad. Jim Trayhern was a varsity basketballer and when baseball practice started in March, Jim donned the togs and became the team's winning pitcher. Milt Stout covered every inch of the ground around third base and Dave Fry was the starting southpaw hurler.

ALL-AROUND

Kappa was awarded the interfraternity cup which is based on compilation of points in athletics, forensis, dramatics, organizations, and scholarship.

DRAMATICS

Kappa's Eric McKittrick and Bob Clark took principal parts in the winter play and Jim Trayhern took part in the chorus.

PUBLICATIONS

Bob Manby was elected business manager of the Winona, the year-book, and did a swell job. Jim Trayhern will take over those same duties next year.

Dick Emmons had a special column in the weekly Collegian and Dave Rucklos was an excellent feature writer. Dick is pointing toward the editorship of the Collegian for next year.

And as a rival weekly publication two Kappa men took it upon themselves to publish the Satyr, which everyone said, was very, very good. We set aside Thursday nights to deliver the aforesaid weekly to every house and organization on campus. Those were the good old days in the spring of '41!

Kappa will be host to the 1942 Northern Division Convention!

DAVE FRY

Omicron—Iowa

EVEN THOUGH the world is in a condition of turmoil and strife, Omicron of $\Delta T \Delta$ has once again emerged from its active year on the University of Iowa campus, completely victorious in every field.

SCHOLARSHIP

In scholarship we have two potential possibilities for the greatly coveted Phi Beta Kappa membership. Edward Ahmann, our newly elected president and prominent junior on the campus, and Keith Myers, also a popular junior, have averages well above the required average for membership. Due to an intensified scholarship campaign Omicron placed itself sixth in scholarship rating of all the other fraternities.

ATHLETICS

Even though Joe Moore, one of Coach Eddie Anderson's famed "Iron-men," graduated this spring, we have another marvelous football player, Gene Curran, who is now regular left guard and is fast becoming one of the most valuable players on the team. Omicron established itself firmly in interfraternity athletic circles this year by winning the championships in football and wrestling. The latter championship was won singly by Ed Ahmann, who was also sports manager.

DRAMATICS

In the field of dramatics, Jack Reams stands out alone. Of the eight large plays presented by the University, Jack held four of the leads, an honor never before given to one student.

We have worked hard this past year to make Omicron a greater chapter and we have succeeded in our efforts to do so. We are looking forward to a successful year next year and will again work toward that goal!

ROBERT B. ASPREY

Rho—Stevens

SOCIAL

THE ANNUAL open dance given by Rho at Jacobus Hall on the campus started Stevens' Spring Term off to a fine start. It was quite a success—including the "coming-out" party of Tommy Trent's impatient appendix which was staged just after he arrived at the dance. Later in the season, the Delts played host to their fathers at a dinner which was attended by Dean Furman, who spoke of Stevens' colorful historical background and its present role in National Defense. A Mothers' Day luncheon was also held which was quite a social event.

ATHLETICS

The Delts were well represented in Stevens' successful season of spring sports. Bill Spernow, one of the Stone Mill Indians, helped in the annexation of many scalps to the belt of the lacrosse team. On the field of baseball, Jimmie McDonald, second baseman, climaxed a brilliant season by being elected captain of next year's team. Three more Delts, Fred Tyler, Jimmie Llanso and Art Arguedas, added at least half an inch of sun tan (or burn) while making names for themselves on the tennis courts.

This year Spring Sports Day was even more successful than in previous years. This may be due to the fact that the sun was well represented for a change, but some credit must be given to the Delt graduates who returned for Alumni Day which happened to be held at the same time. They began to arrive early in the afternoon and were eagerly discussing old times by the time they were to march in the great Torchlight Parade. Next year the Delts hope to see an even larger number of alumni back for this special day—but why wait until then? Come on over now and get acquainted with your younger brothers!

ELECTIONS

Elections this spring found Glenn Williamson, an active member of the Interfraternity Council, elected Secretary-Treasurer of this organization. He received a key at its annual ball which brought Stevens' social season to a fitting close.

GRADUATION

Graduation day arrived at last and Rho celebrated the success and mourned the loss of seven seniors. One of these, Les Mills, President of the Senior class, had the honor of being the first ever to receive a new award at Stevens—a medal to the graduate voted by his classmates and the faculty as being outstanding in Character and Achievement. Four Delts also received Naval Commissions of Ensign. They were Fred Tyler, who joined the Air Corps, Tommy Trent, now waiting to be called, and Jimmie Llanso and Glenn Williamson, whose commissions become effective upon graduation next year. This term Harvey Hennig and Jimmie Llanso also answered the call by volunteering their services to Uncle Sam as teachers in the Defense School at Stevens.

Rho has thus chalked up another profitable year in the annals of the chapter and looks forward to an even better one, both scholastically and socially, next year.

J. L. WILLIAMS

Upsilon—Rensselaer

UPSILON closed its door this summer with a touch of regret in losing a class of seniors whom we all respected and admired.

ATHLETICS

George Nye completed his third year as a member of the RPI varsity baseball squad. This year he was a mainstay of one of the strongest squads in the school's history. His batting average for the season was above .400.

The class of 1943 showed it would rank with the best Delt standards. Three members of the class, Jack Cooper, Tex Halton, and Fred Hildebrand are managers of sports. Dick Knoeckel, Ross Frichette, Ray Kraylis, and Jack Harvey all held regular berths on the frosh baseball squad which was the best in many years.

ACTIVITIES

Jim Nutt, vice-president of the chapter, was a member of the Sophomore Soiree Dance Committee, while three other sophomores, John Schumacher, Swede Hartley, and Jack Arnold, were elected to the Junior board of the Polytechnic, the school paper.

The Delt's are well represented on the school radio program, Campus Review. They hold two Senior and five Junior board positions.

Brother Norb Kirchgessner, '43, was named as one of the most dynamic personalities at Rensselaer by the Neuman Technologist. He is a member and officer of a large number of organizations on the campus, a sports manager, and is class member on the Rensselaer Book Committee. With all this he maintains a high scholastic average and holds a scholarship.

FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

One of the greatest honors of the school was bestowed on Upsilon's president, Don Hoopes. He was elected to Phalanx, an honorary society for the most outstanding seniors. Don is also captain of the football team next fall.

Phi—Washington and Lee

PHI WILL surely feel the loss of its nine members who graduated last spring. They served the Fraternity both wisely and well, and their able leadership will not be forgotten soon. But Phi is fortunate, too, this year, in having a strong group of initiates and a very capable set of officers to take over their work. Sixteen new men were initiated last year and contributed greatly to the chapter's campus record.

CHAPTER ACTIVITIES

The chapter started out the year by winning the W. & L. Alumni Award for the finest Homecoming decorations, then proceeded to pile up more points than any other House in the intramural competition in handball, swimming, wrestling and tennis. Thus, with our teams managing to place second in the volleyball tourney and first in the consolation football, the House was able to take second place on the entire campus in the total number of points won during the year.

SCHOLARSHIP

Scholarship was not neglected. Following the example set by Gordon von Kalinowski, an initiate to Phi Beta Kappa and chairman of our scholarship committee, our pledge class came within .06 of a point of winning the coveted gold cup given to the highest ranking pledge class on the campus. The other classes, not to be outdone, placed seven men on the Dean's List of high-ranking students and five on the Honor Roll.

ATHLETICS

Participation on the school athletic teams cannot be omitted from Phi's record. Versatile Ed Cuttino, almost indispensable to all our intramural teams, found time to star on the W. & L. basketball team and on the school crew. Ed was honored with election to the basketball captaincy for this coming year. Mermen Bill Webster and Don Garretson were members of the record-breaking, three-man, medley relay team as well as consistent point winners in their individual events. The W. & L. tennis team, coached last year by the famed professional and ex-world's champion, Fred Perry, was built around Dick Spindle, Bill Harrelson and Jack Mallory. Jack, our present house manager, was elected by his teammates to captain the team next spring. Bill Murchison, a freshman, organized, coached and captained W. & L.'s first fencing team which enjoyed great success against its Southern Conference opponents last year. All of these men, as well as our freshmen who won a total of ten awards for participation on freshman teams, will return to school this fall.

FUTURE EXECUTIVES

Among the holders of major campus offices, Phi is happy to claim its president, Dick Spindle, as Senior basketball manager, Executive Committee member, member of O Δ K and president of Washington and Lee's famed Fancy Dress Ball for the coming year. Calhoun Bond, swimming team manager and Christian Council committee chairman, won for himself the very rare honor of being editor-in-chief of the Calyx, campus yearbook, for 1941-42, his junior year.

HONORARIES

Honorary fraternities found the Delt's well represented last year. Gordon von Kalinowski and Dick Spindle led the list with their Phi Beta Kappa and O Δ K keys, respectively. Chi Gamma Theta found superior ability along chemistry lines in Bob Boatwright, Walt Brady and Sid Kirkpatrick, while biology students Bill Webster and Bob Boatright were honored with initiation into Tau Kappa Iota. Phi Eta Sigma, a freshman scholastic honorary, claimed Don Garretson, Larry Sullivan and Al Cobb among its members. Of the three fraternity men making the required grades for this society last year, two were members of Phi. Journalist Sonny Heartwell was president of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary for journalism students. Sonny, with the aid of brothers Frank Hynson and Al Wysong as business managers, put on the second annual varsity show, One for the Money, the proceeds of which were given to the Red Cross. Our law students, Emil Rassmann and Charles Bowles, were both active members of the honorary legal fraternity, Phi Delta Phi.

MORE ACTIVITIES

In the Forensic Union we had Bill Murchison, Larry Sullivan and Jim O'Connor as officers and members, while varsity debater Hugh Ashcraft was honored by participating in the highly successful 2500-mile debate tour of both Northern and Southern universities.

Showing a decided musical talent were Al Cobb, Don Garretson, Bill McKelway, Gordon Sibley, Bill Murchison and Jim O'Connor, all members of the University Glee Club which gave concerts all over Virginia as well as in Washington and New York. These same men formed the nucleus of our House glee club which, under the excellent direction of Frank Hynson, won the coveted gold cup in the intramural competition. Our glee club was invited to sing at the Final's Dance Set last year.

SOCIAL

But the year wasn't all work and no play. We had a very successful Fall House Party as well as a wonderful spring picnic. All of the school dances were well attended especially Fancy Dress, the vice-president of which was brother Emil Rassmann. One especially pleasant Saturday afternoon was spent in an informal party for Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra when they were in Lexington last spring.

Yes, Phi is going to miss those nine men who graduated last spring, but the remaining men in the House are more than capable of taking up where they left off. We're working hard on rushing this summer and hope to have a very successful rush week in September. Then, with the new men of the Class of '45, we'll set out once more to equal or better the record our graduates left behind them.

DONALD E. GARRETSON

GOOD BALANCE HERE

CHI GOT off to a flying start last fall with triple-threat Paul Herrick starring in the backfield and "Cube" Chamberlain, Bob Weaver, and John Goldsmith ripping the opposing line for him on the Kenyon football squad. Herb Long, Don Ross, and Bill Lane were getting their revenge on our sophomore footballers in the frosh-varsity scrimmages. While these men were out getting their daily exercise Newt Bakley was elected president of Philomethesian Literary Society; Hal Hoffman headed the Flying Club; John Timmermeister and Don McCleary were at the helms of the Photography Club and the International Relations Club, respectively.

The approach of winter found Jim Logan and Don Bateman the spark plugs of the basketball team, while Sam Cook and Ken Knopf were instrumental in producing an undefeated season for Kenyon's Ohio Conference Swimming Champions. Cook, after spending an undefeated season setting records in almost every pool, continued his good work by splashing to three Conference championships, becoming record holder in two. On the stage Chi was represented by Tom Huff, the little man with the big voice, and "Count" Nevin Kuhl, each receiving leading roles in several plays. Actor Hallock Hoffman continued his stage success by winning the Kenyon Oratorical Contest and by being chosen as commencement speaker for the senior class.

As usual, the Delts came through in the field of scholarship when Newton Bakley, Hallock Hoffman, and James MacPherson were three of the seven men initiated into Phi Beta Kappa. Spring at Kenyon became a repetition of the two former seasons as the Delts again took the lead in athletics. Pitchers "Rick" Herrick and Bud Southard, first baseman Bud Listug and outfielder Ralph King were the mainstays of the baseball team. Due to the efforts of coach and player Bob Weaver, lacrosse has been introduced to the Midwest. Oberlin and the University of Michigan were induced to organize teams. Delts formed the basis of the team with Captain "Cube" Chamberlain, Jim Logan, John Goldsmith, Dick Manning, and freshmen Ben Roselle, Herb Long, Murray Smith, Bob Davis, and Bill Lane on the roster of regular players. Athletics wound up with Ken Dalby beating Kenyon's top-seeded No. 1 player for the Ohio Conference singles championship, 6-0, 2-6, 6-3. This was the first time in fifteen years an unseeded player won the championship. The year closed with Chi's Sixtieth Anniversary celebration, which proved to be one of the most outstanding affairs in the chapter's history. At the banquet following our yearly initiation, President Paul G. Hoffman and Alvan E. Duerr were the evening's speakers. Other outstanding Delts present were "Pop" Pumphrey, Clem Frank, and Harold Hopkins.

We are looking forward to a very successful year under the guidance of Jim Logan who took the gavel from Hal Hoffman. Jim was past business manager of the Reveille, Kenyon yearbook, and recently was elected president of the Student Assembly. Bill Cuthbert has just been elected president of the National Intercollegiate Flying Club, and John Goldsmith, Bob Weaver, and Bud Southard are the editors of the three Kenyon publications. Bob Weaver and Paul Herrick will continue their work heading the business staff of Hika, literary magazine.

KENYON KNOPF

Beta Alpha—Indiana

THIS YEAR, as in previous years, Beta Alpha has in its membership many outstanding campus personalities who are deserving of special recognition for their activities and achievements.

Robert Lucas, '43, member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary, has remained during the past three consecutive semesters in the upper ten per cent of his class. This year he was sophomore baseball manager, has been credited for Union Board service, and is a member of the University Theater staff.

PUBLICATIONS

The two highest positions for campus publications were filled by Delt men this year. John Vanatta, '41, was the editor-in-chief of the 1940-41 Arbutus, the I. U. yearbook. Alexander "Sandy" Muir, '42, president of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, has been elected editor of the Indiana Daily Student for the coming year.

ACTIVITIES

Don Batton, '42, was recently elected to serve his second term on the Indiana University Union Board as Vice-President of the Board. Don is also a member of the Sphinx Club and Blue Key.

Ben Shera, '43, this spring was selected as a junior football manager. Ben is also a member of Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity, and Skull and Crescent.

BASEBALL CAPTAIN

We have among our membership several outstanding athletes, including two varsity captains. Don Dunker, '42, who was a leading Big Ten pitcher this season, has been elected captain of the baseball team for next season.

GOLF CAPTAIN

Frank Penning, '41, was number one man and captain of the varsity golf team this year. Bob Boden, '43, and Wendell Aldrich, '42, have earned their letters for varsity golf. Bob Barter, '41, four-letter man, has been an outstanding track and cross-country runner during his four years in school. Jack Morris earned his numerals for freshman basketball, and Ed Johnston and Bernard Tetek earned football numerals this year.

INTRAMURALS

Harry Huff, president and intramural manager of our fraternity, was elected president of the intramural association this spring. We are proud to announce that $\Delta T \Delta$ won the intramural championship. Having been almost continuously in the lead throughout the year, we believe that we have earned the handsome trophy which was awarded us.

Thus ended another successful year for Beta Alpha.

JOHN THOMAS SMITH

Beta Beta—DePauw

DEPAUW University's band of Deltas can look back to the last school year with a pride justified by many accomplishments.

SCHOLARSHIP

The chapter laid down a sound study foundation that resulted in better scholarship. Two freshmen, Crad Jackson and Warren Perry, attained membership in Phi Eta Sigma for their high academic achievements, while Dick Yocom and John Wolaver sported Gold Keys indicative of outstanding scholarship as well as leadership.

ATHLETICS

Beta Beta has maintained her athletic prominence on campus in all sports. King Collison starred on the record-breaking medley swimming team, while in varsity track Dean Dooley and Lynn Ebert set enviable examples for the four Delt mainstays of the freshman cinder squad. One of the frosh, Art Zwierlein, promises to be the nucleus of the school's future track teams with his record throws of the javelin, discus, and shotput. Managerships are plentiful for the Deltas with George Bates holding the senior football position and Dave Maxwell the junior post. Dale Lambert is manager of tennis, swimming, and golf while Ed Hughes is junior manager and Lincoln Landis and LeRoy Lacey hold down the sophomore posts. Dick Filbrandt was prominent on both the tennis and basketball squads. On the gridiron, John Long quarterbacked the Tigers through a successful year. The football roster included Jim Briggs, Bill Adams, senior lettermen, and three promising freshman Deltas.

PUBLICATIONS

The DePauw, campus newspaper, created the new post of campus editor for our new prexy, Charles Landis, who next year will be city editor the first semester. Lynn Ebert is new assistant business manager of the yearbook, The Mirage. A half dozen other Deltas are active on publications.

Student government will feel the influence of the Deltas in the person of Bud Warner, new student affairs committeeman, who has also gained for himself a histrionic reputation. Bob Glass played the lead in several campus plays and in a campus movie depicting typical student life.

HONORS AND SOCIAL

The rolls of honoraries are flush with names of Deltas too numerous to mention here. The social season, full of dances, steakfries, banquets, serenades, and exchange dinners, was fittingly climaxed with our traditional spring informal held in the sunken garden under the stars.

All of this spells a banner year for Beta Beta and indicates that much of promise lies ahead.

BUFORT A. SPENCER

Beta Gamma—Wisconsin

BETA GAMMA majored in scholarship, politics, athletics, and in social activity this season and did an above-average job in all of them.

SCHOLARSHIP

Two Phi Beta Kappas graced our chapter roster in the persons of Bob Erickson and Dick Usher.

ACTIVITIES

Politically, we lead the fraternity field by having the newly elected Interfraternity Board president, Bill Deerhake, in our chapter. Brooks Conrad, our president, held the position of promotion chairman for the Pre-Prom dance, and Dick Usher, a cadet major in ROTC, was ticket chairman for Military Ball, the main school event of the year.

ATHLETICS

Under the captaincy of Lyle Knudson the golf team had little difficulty in coming home with a beautiful new trophy for winning the fraternity championship. The baseball team, in the capable hands of Phil Dressler, won five straight games for their division trophy and went on to win third in the final fraternity standings although losing only one game all season.

SOCIAL

A lively social season under the direction of Russ Bach, with some able help by Ned Canright, was greatly enjoyed by the Deltas. Formal dinners in conjunction with university functions, a Bowery party May 3, radio parties, picnics, and a pledge formal were a few of the activities included. May 24, the date of the successful spring formal, was the closing of our social season. The dinner was held at the Heidelberg Hofbrau with the dance at the gayly decorated chapter house. The Deltas' partners received beautiful bracelets as favors.

Fred Reynolds helped the social season in another light by organizing and putting across the most successful alumni banquet and smoker Beta Gamma has had in a long time.

A record of initiating fourteen men into the chapter this year was another good sign of our progress that will be continued next year with just as much, if not more, vigor for maintaining an outstanding chapter of $\Delta T \Delta$.

RUSSELL BACH

Beta Delta—Georgia

EIGHT OF the fifteen members and one of the four pledges of Beta Delta distinguished themselves in one way or another during the past year, with seniors and freshmen leading the way with three men each:

SOCIAL

Don Hamilton, retiring president, was initiated into the Grid-iron Club—second highest non-scholastic organization. Don also copped one of the second place honors in jumping during the recent horse show here.

AVIATION

Chapter president Bill Blackburn and Jimmy Carter are taking an advanced course in aviation.

SPORTS

Pledge Doma Watson, member of the University bowling team, bowled the second highest individual score during the recent bowling season, which saw Beta Delta finish second with only one defeat.

SCHOLARSHIP

Jimmy Carter accepted a bid to Alpha Kappa Psi, professional commerce fraternity. Bill Clark is here from Illinois on a forestry scholarship, and Bill Keith is also here on a journalism scholarship.

Beta Delta placed third in the second quarter scholastic standings of the sixteen fraternities.

MUSIC

Douglas Thornton is bass violist in the University Little Symphony orchestra, and Eugene Gledhill plays the trumpet in the military band. Both are freshmen. Merlin Goss is a member of the glee club. Merlin, incidentally, will spend the summer in training with the marine corps.

BILL KEITH

Beta Epsilon—Emory

BETA EPSILON can look back with pride over the year just completed. It proved to be one of the most successful in the history of our chapter. Although our pledging got off to a slow start last fall, before the year was over we had passed our quota. The membership in our active chapter has also grown. Six men have been initiated in the past five months.

A new group of able and efficient officers has been elected for the coming year.

ALUMNI OUTING

The high spot of our social season was a Sport Dance held May 2, to which invitations were extended to other fraternities. Our Alumni Outing was held May 17, for the three Georgia chapters of our Fraternity. Beta Epsilon was winner of the softball tournament between the three groups.

ACTIVITIES

We are very proud of our former president, Wallace Stewart. He has just been elected president of the Emory Players and vice-president of the Interfraternity Council. Other Delts in the Players are: Phil Cordes, Eddie Gazelle, Justus Gower, Hugh Rickenbaker, Lloyd Joyner, Will Cordes, Lee Dickens, Herbert Stewart, Angus Domingos, Lucian Harris, and Gray Fountain. Members of the Student Lecture Association are Justus Gower, Bill Roberts, Lloyd Joyner, Lee Dickens, Phil Cordes, Eddie Gazelle, and Wallace Stewart. These two activities have been of primary interest to the Delts in the last year, but we also have members working on publications, debate, athletic manager-ships, etc.

Billy Pollitzer, one of our promising freshmen, was elected to Eta Sigma Psi, a freshman honorary society. He is on the staff of the Emory Wheel and is a freshman debater.

ATHLETICS

During the year 1940-41 Beta Epsilon came up from seventh to third place in athletics on the Emory campus. The outlook for the coming year is very promising, and it is hoped that by next year we will be on top.

GLOVER JORDAN, JR.

Beta Zeta—ButlerSCHOLARSHIP

WE DELTS of Beta Zeta are doing our part to keep $\Delta T \Delta$ at the top in scholarship, having made another addition to the string of years in which we have ranked first in scholarship on the campus.

ACTIVITIES—ATHLETICS

We are represented in nearly every extracurricular activity. Quentin Covert was elected to Blue Key, senior men's honorary, and was business manager of the Bulldog, campus humor publication. Bill Cole, Bob Smith and Ed Taylor became members of Sphinx, junior men's honorary. Cole, as chairman of the annual interfraternity rush dance, was largely responsible for its splendid success. Utes, sophomore men's honorary, whose president was Ross Stevens, elected Joe Berry, Les Dold, Winstan "Boogie" Sellick and Bob Wildman. Berry, who was one of the three members of the chapter who made straight-"A's," was elected to Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholarship honorary, of which Dick Hudelson was president, and received the Outstanding Freshman Award. This is the second year this award has been given, and it has gone to a Delt each year, Brother Stevens having received it last year. Berry and Sellick were members of the university band, which has won wide recognition for its ability. Dold received numerals in freshman football; Gerry Schmitt, in track. Bob Dreesen won a letter for his performance on the track and cross-country squads, and Jim Adams was a member of the freshman team.

Howard Whitecotton was elected president of the freshman class, served as business manager of the Butler Collegian, the school daily, and was elected to Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising honorary. Jack Lewis was president of Philokurean, literary society, and John Carr, Beta Zeta's retiring president, was chairman of the Senior Ball.

SOCIAL

Among our many successful social events, which are the best on the campus, perhaps the most enjoyable were the annual House Party, held over Thanksgiving week end at Turkey Run State Park, and the annual June Dinner-Dance, which is held at the Ulen Country Club in Lebanon, Indiana.

We feel that our accomplishments for the year will help us to have another successful summer rush—at the close of school we had already pledged six men.

RICHARD W. HUDELSON

Beta Eta—Minnesota

ATHLETICS

AT THE end of the year, we find that Beta Eta has continued its very active sport interest which was started a year ago when we won the academic fraternity softball championship. We wasted no time in starting off this fall, taking victory after victory in bowling. At the end of the quarter we had won the academic championship, and went on to receive the title of all-fraternity bowling champs. Not only did we start the year with a bang, but we finished in the top bracket. This spring we won six consecutive games to once again win the title of academic fraternity champs in softball. We scored 115 runs to our opponent's 16! Besides these major sports there were many participating in tennis, ping-pong, badminton, etc.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

The election of Robert Van Nest as president of the Sophomore class was the most important event in campus participation by the chapter. Wiley Souba and Richard Fjellman also were very active here.

RUSHING

This last quarter has seen great improvement in rushing. In one week alone, four men were pledged. Another man has been pledged the day of this report, bringing the pledge class up to sixteen men. One of the biggest reasons for this last quarter's work has been the organization of four rush teams, which have helped the rushing interest considerably.

SOCIAL

This has been one of the biggest social years in Beta Eta history. The social committee was headed by Bill Collins, who turned in a very fine piece of work. There were three big formals, barn dances, hay rides, picnics—in short, something every week end to keep the interest high and to give everyone a good time.

CHARLES B. MARTZ

GRADUATION

BETA THETA lost seven men at graduation in June. Brothers Hale, DeWolfe, Cotter, Jacobs, Asger, Dyer and Melene received degrees. Of these, however, Brothers Asger and Jacobs will return to the Mountain to enter the Seminary.

ACTIVITIES

Brother Ashby Sutherland, who has been on the Purple staff for several years, will be editor next year. Ashby has maintained the highest average of all students in the University for the past three years. He received this year the O'Connor scholarship and the Richmond prize for outstanding work in Economics. Ashby is president of $\Delta T \Delta$ and was also treasurer until he resigned that duty to his assistant, Brother Beasley. Sutherland is president of the Order of Gownsmen, Blue Key, Phi Beta Kappa, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Brother Beasley has published regularly a column entitled "Sewanee" which has acquainted the students with many of the traditions and natural beauties of our college.

Brother Lawson, business manager of the Purple, was recently sent to a convention of college publishers at Atlanta.

Beta Theta placed second on the campus in scholarship, and second in the Southern Division. Four Deltas are members of Phi Beta Kappa.

AVIATORS

Eight of thirty who received private pilot's licenses in Sewanee's C.A.A. Corps were Deltas. They were Brothers Melene, Dyer, Hale, Lawson, Ziegler, Wallace, Massey and Belford.

Beta Theta looks to a successful rushing season under the leadership of rush captain Massey.

C. G. BOSWELL

Beta Iota—Virginia

BETA IOTA looks back on the past year as one of great increase in its social and scholastic prestige. To start, we pledged twelve of the most sought-after men on the campus and they are every day proving their worth as invaluable members. For instance, George McNeal showed great ability on the Freshman boxing team and promises great things in the future. So also did Archibald Ogden when he broke not a few of the former swimming records. The remaining men, although not to so noticeable an extent, are taking an active part in extracurricular activities. These twelve men by no means ended our pledging for the year, as we took in several others in post-season rushing. The chapter, however, has been unfortunate in losing two fine men, but our loss is Uncle Sam's gain. Brother Stallings left school in March to enter the U. S. Army Air Corps; at the same time former chapter adviser, John M. Maury, was called for active duty with the Marine Corps. Brothers Jones and Lake have been accepted in the Marine Corps but will finish out the school year.

INTRAMURALS

In regard to intramural sports Beta Iota has done her best and showed real fighting spirit. Although we did not bring home any cups this year, we feel sure that next year will see them sitting on our mantel.

HONORARIES

Several members have been elected to various honorary organizations and fraternities. Horace McCowan, Harry Hill, and George Peek have been initiated into Alpha Kappa Psi, honorary economics fraternity. A large percentage of our members are on the Dean's List of Distinguished Students. Among these are Jim Olney, Jim Camp, Horace McCowan, Albert Allen, Walter McClelland, George Peek, Jerry Irish, and Larry Loftin.

In regard to social events, Beta Iota has not been behind the other fraternities here at Virginia, and the Goat Party this year was one of the most successful ever given. At least seven hundred people came and it took us several days to get the Shelter back into livable shape again. It was worth it, however, because all who came thought it was super, even the Richmond Times-Dispatch reporter!

All members who can possibly make it are anticipating a swell time at the Karnea this summer, and Beta Iota will be represented there in full strength!

In conclusion, Beta Iota is looking forward to an even better year next year. Many of the "studs," to say nothing of the several reliable "links," will be back next year and all are set for another successful rushing season.

WALTER McCLELLAND

Beta Kappa—Colorado

GREETINGS from the Rocky Mountains, where the women are women and the men are Delts. A few words about the chapter achievements during the year.

ATHLETICS

The football season saw the crowning of two Colorado Delts as All-Big Seven material. They were Leo Stasica, and our newly elected chapter president, Lloyd Oliver, who is proving to be the nucleus of the Colorado team for next year. Vern Lockard also received high praise for his work and is certain to be an outstanding man next year. Our intramural volleyball team won the school championship for the third successive year under the able leadership of the Rich brothers, Frank Hockensmith, and Bob Martin. Larry Reilly and Frank Bachellor proved themselves to be the school's ping-pong champions. Frank Hockensmith and Bud Coburn advanced to the finals in intramural golf. Larry Reilly and Leo Stasica were top men on Colorado's Big Seven championship golf team. Ben Bennion and Bob Nagoda won letters in track. Bill Kisler was named All-Big Seven at his first base position on the championship Colorado baseball team.

HONORS

The victory by the Delt chorus in the annual Song-Fest was highly cherished by the chapter. Perhaps the crowning victory of the year was the election of Vern Lockard, chapter vice-president, as the President of the Student Body. Joe Hawley was also named on the student commission as the representative from the school of law.

Ben Bennion was in charge of the afternoon events on Colorado U. Day and is to be highly praised for his work.

Chapter delegates brought back some valuable information from the most successful Western Division Conference and we were able to institute several of the ideas in our own organization.

RICHARD CHRISTOPHER

Beta Lambda—Lehigh

HONORS

WILKES McCCLAVE, chapter president, has just received the outstanding honor of being elected president of Arcadia, student governing body. Wilkes is also president of Mustard and Cheese, and a member of the Student Concert Lecture Committee. Serving also on Arcadia is Bob Whipple, president of the class of 1943 for the second consecutive year. Bob played on the basketball and baseball teams and is a member of Cyanide, honorary Junior activities society.

Two other members of the junior class have also been elected to Cyanide. Bill Binder was Lehigh's stellar basketball player, a member of the Pennsylvania All-State basketball team, and a consistent point winner in track. Phil Powers, our third member of Cyanide, is Financial Manager of the Lehigh Bachelor, chief electrician of the Mustard and Cheese Club, and a member of the Newtonian Society. Beta Lambda has ten members in Mustard and Cheese.

PUBLICATIONS

In publications, Bob Ulmer is business manager and coorganizer of the Bachelor, while Baldy Croot and Jim Gordon hold down two board positions on the Brown and White. Bill Taylor and Jim Morris are members of the business board of the Freshman Handbook.

TRACK CAPTAIN

Spring sports find Bill Taylor and Al Wolff on the varsity tennis team which has lost only once in over twenty matches. Dukes Wooters finished up his track career as captain of the 1941 team, and possessing the impressive record of being undefeated in the 440 throughout four years of college competition. Dukes has twice been Middle Atlantic champion and holds the College record. As a member of Arcadia, O Δ K, and past president of Mustard and Cheese, Dukes has been one of Lehigh's most active men.

BASKETBALL CAPTAIN

Walter Voglesberg is a member of O Δ K and Tau Beta Pi. Berny Briody was captain of the basketball team and a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-medical fraternity. Among the class of 1942, Shamrock Loughran will be manager of lacrosse, Bob Marshall of cross-country, and Jim Gordon, manager of track.

JIM GORDON

Beta Mu—Tufts

THIS YEAR will be a memorable one in the annals of Beta Mu history. Here we have enumerated some of our activities.

RUSHING

One of the most successful rushing seasons in recent years was conducted under the leadership of Bob Chatfield. It resulted in the pledging of twenty-one men. Dick Velte, new chairman, has plans for another bang-up year next year.

SCHOLARSHIP

After a slight decline the past few years, the composite marks of the chapter took an abrupt turn for the better, and five Delts received scholastic recognition on the Dean's list.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Our social grace was well taken care of in our varied array of social events which included house parties, formals, banquets, and teas. The major attraction of the social season was the annual Spring Formal dinner-dance held at a near-by country club. It can best be described by saying "a good time was had by all."

ATHLETICS

Keeping to the tradition of "a Delt in every sport" we find that letters were awarded to eight outstanding Delts, two in football, three in soccer, two in cross-country, and one in basketball. Δ T Δ was also active in interfraternity sports in her endeavor to retain the Trophy of Trophies, symbol of interfraternity champions. Competition is not over as yet, and we have gained points in baseball, track, squash, wrestling, and a first place in tennis. You can rest assured that Beta Mu will be among the leaders when the final tally is made.

HONORS

To show that our activities are not confined to the House, we find that thirteen Deltas have been elected to honorary societies at Tufts. In addition to these men, the freshman class boasts two Deltas as class officers, and the sophomore class has one Delt in administration.

In closing, we would like to announce the completion of our new recreation room, brought about by the untiring work of Joel Reynolds, chapter adviser, and the faithful support of our alumni.

M. C. HUTCHINS

Beta Nu—M.I.T.

SOON AFTER the opening of the second semester at M.I.T., Beta Nu was humming with preparations for a successful initiation. When the eleven pledges had been initiated, everyone, including many alumni, enjoyed a wonderful banquet and some Delt movies which followed. We owe our appreciation to the former Southern Division President, I. B. McDaniel, Beta Nu '17, for his fine films.

SPRING IN BOSTON

Spring in Boston found social activities at their peak with the chapter celebrating the Interfraternity Conference week-end house party. The majority of the House left the I.F.C. Ball thoroughly satisfied with Larry Clinton's music. The following day, rain postponed Tech's crew races, but everyone had a good time toasting marshmallows in the chapter's large fireplace. The next day, an indoor "picnic" was very successful despite the persistent rain. In spite of the poor weather, no one could say he didn't have a wonderful time throughout.

The annual Spring Formal, held at a local country club, was an enjoyable one for all, with the credit for its success going to Ed Czar, our social chairman. Toward the end of the term several of the fellows decided to "get away from it all" by spending a week end at Lake Massapoag in the wilds of New Hampshire. The gang liked it so much, they've decided to go again several times next year.

ATHLETICS

Varsity sports are well represented in the House with Lawson Bowers, our new chapter president, on the rifle team; Phil Phaneuf, new vice-president, and Claude McCord winning varsity crew letters; Ed Czar on the track team; Gene Morrison playing golf with the varsity; and Bob Gunther on the tennis team.

HONORARIES

The end of the school year found Charlie Kelley a member of Chi Epsilon, an honorary civil engineering society; Bob Gunther elected into Alpha Chi Sigma and the Beaver Key Society, an honorary activities organization; Ed Czar a member of the Track Club; Jack McDonough elected into the Beaver Club; and Jerry Dennehy a member of the Q Club, an honorary sophomore society.

Extensive plans have been laid for a good rushing program for September. We plan to pledge about ten men, with the emphasis on scholarship.

ALFRED B. BABCOCK, JR.

Beta Omicron—Amherst

SCHOLARSHIP

THE FOLLOWING men were named on the Dean's Honor List for the first term of the year: Jack Westberg, '44; Wells Shoemaker, '45; and Carroll Pennock, '44.

John Hansen, '42, has received many honors including election to the presidency of Chi Epsilon, honorary civil engineering society; election to the vice-presidency of Pyramid, honorary civil engineering society, and the Crandall Essay Prize.

Jack Westberg, '45, was recently elected to membership in Retort and Beaker, national honorary chemists' society.

George Marchev, '43, has been outstanding by his election to membership in Kappa Tau Chi, honorary A. E. M. E. society, and by being chosen a member of the Judiciary Committee of the Interfraternity Council.

ATHLETICS

In the field of varsity sports, Rodger Parker, '43, was chosen manager of the 1941-42 fencing team; Warner Lansing, '41, served as manager of freshman track; John Hansen played on the varsity tennis team; and several members and pledges of the House show promise of being regular or substitute players on the Big Red football team in 1941-42, including Dan Nehrer, Jarl Swanson, Ted Lansing, and Frank Ekas.

The chapter has been extremely active during 1940-41 in interfraternity athletics, having won cups for first place in four sports, namely: swimming, 4-man shell, 8-man crew, and track. The team representing the chapter in softball has made a creditable showing by winning every game played to date, thus entering the finals with teams from two other fraternities, the only three out of fifty-four teams entered, remaining in the running for the championship.

As a result of these victories, the chapter holds a tie for first place in the race for the Intramural Trophy, given to the House, which at the end of the year has garnered the most points by placing in intramural sports.

PHILIP MCGINNIS

Beta Pi—Northwestern

FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

AS THE year draws to a close, Beta Pi can look back on another successful year. From start to finish Beta Pi once again found itself among the leaders of campus activities. Last fall Dick Richards, '41, led the varsity football squad here at Northwestern through its successful season as captain of the team and the outstanding quarterback for the year. Dick led the Wildcats in their defeat of Notre Dame, the second in Northwestern's history. Paul Kiefer, '42, played a great game at tackle and will be back on the squad next fall. At the Homecoming celebration, Beta Pi placed among the winners of the house decorations with its glimpse of world affairs, in particular the game with Minnesota, through a television-radio broadcast.

WRESTLING CAPTAIN

As the year went on Dick Trubey, '42, captain of the wrestling team, found himself winner of the trophy for being the high-point man when the end of the season rolled around. Dick, regular 175-pounder this year, was the first junior to head the wrestling team and won six out of the eight matches he took part in.

RIFLE CAPTAIN

Another captain on Beta Pi's roster was Price Brown, '42, who led the rifle team for the second consecutive year. Price was second highest man on the team this year, and was reelected as captain for next year, making it three years in a row.

MANAGERS A PLENTY

The Delts also have had their share of varsity managers, what with Bob Warnock, '41, retiring as football manager for this year, and Jim Badger, '41, retiring senior wrestling manager. Bill Armstrong, '42, will be next year's wrestling manager, assisted by Bob Habicht, '43, as junior manager and Bill Gollan, '44, as sophomore manager. In swimming the Delts had Russ Cobb, '42, and Emmett MacInnis, '43, who both won honors for their work and who will both be carrying on as leaders of the team next year.

BASEBALL CAPTAIN

As spring came around, George McKinnon, '41, took the limelight in campus affairs as captain of the baseball team. Mac played the star at shortstop, with a batting average around .325. He's now debating several offers to join professional teams and is playing around Cincinnati.

In other campus activities during the year the Delts were also well represented. Thad Snell, '41, was a member of the Senior commission and active in all campus politics. Thad conducted the charity campaigns during the year. Bob Postell, '43, was active in work connected with the activities of Scott Hall, the new student union, in addition to being on the Syllabus staff. Bob, along with Emmett MacInnis, are newly elected members of the sophomore honorary fraternity, Purple Key. John Perkins, '43, was a member of the scholastic honorary, Phi Eta Sigma, and Russ Cobb, in addition to his membership in Purple Key, was the leading man on the junior commission. He's a newly elected member of Deru, senior honorary.

Freshmen, too, have been doing their bit. Don Gridley and Will Micklish are active on the Daily Northwestern along with Jim Vynalek, who also won his letter for freshman wrestling. Bill Stevens is a member of the a cappella choir, quite an honor for a freshman. Bill helped to put the Delts in the winning for the Interfraternity sing. Bob Warnock led the boys to a third place in the finals.

SOCIAL

Of course, Beta Pi had its usual successful social season, this year under the guidance of George Ebenhack, '42. The winter formal was held at the Union League Club in Chicago and the summer formal was in the form of an all-day outing at Lake Delevan, Wisconsin. This year, Delt Prom climaxed the successful convention week end when Beta Pi was host to the Northern Division for its annual Conference.

Throughout the year several house parties were given, the most memorable being the ghost party at which illuminated ghosts provided the only light in the basement recreation room. The figures were painted on the wall in luminous paint.

With this as its record Beta Pi has a lot to live up to next year. But it will, in spite of the fact that many good men are leaving with graduation.

WILLIAM M. OTTO

IMPROVEMENTS

THE NEW enthusiasm of the brothers in their house has resulted in the last year in the construction of a combination basketball-volley ball-badminton court, barbecue and horseshoe pits and driveway and parking lot improvements. These improvements were made possible by two work days in which all of the men of Beta Rho participated, and the action of the mothers' club in re-decorating the interior with new rugs and drapes was most encouraging to the laboring brothers. Also adding a bit of collegiate color to the interior are the two sheepskins won during the past football season from the University of Nebraska and U.C.L.A.

CAMPUS LEADERS

In addition to physical improvements the men of Beta Rho have contributed a share to the honor and distinction of the Delt name. Jim Haugh was elected president of Interfraternity Council for the next year after having completed a successful term as president of the Junior class. Bill Turner traveled to Washington, D. C., as the representative of Western students to consult on the role of the college student in the national emergency. Joe Messina was elected head yell king and Tommy Howard was chosen one of his assistants. This spring Tommy Howard sponsored the first Stanford All-U-Sing in which Beta Rho placed second with "My Delta Queen." Bob Anderson, as president of the Axe Society, honorary activity organization, enjoyed a successful year. Ken Sayr was elected vice-president of the house manager's commissary; Ed Wearin is the retiring president.

ATHLETICS

Beta Rho's men were also active in athletics, publications, and scholarship. Bill Lane is the new business manager of the Stanford Chaparral, humor mazine. Jim Thurmond won the Gene Tunney Award in boxing. Blair Hyde, Thor Peterson, Vern Hart, and Walter McKenzie won their letters in track, while Carl Kellenberger and Alec Cerigeno won their letters in baseball. Sid Terry and Ted Chester were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Sid was the outgoing president of Tau Beta Pi. Ted was the outgoing vice-president of Beta Rho.

JAMES P. THURMOND

Beta Tau—Nebraska

SCHOLARSHIP

BETA TAU's greatest achievement during the school year of 1940-41 was its rise in scholarship on the Nebraska campus. From twenty-second place in the fraternity ranking last year, the boys have come up to tenth.

pledged. This places Nebraska's Delt chapter third on the campus in percentage of pledges initiated.

ATHLETICS

The chapter is proud of its athletes. We boast three members of the great Cornhusker football team that played in the Rose Bowl classic last New Year's Day. End Ray Prochaska, tackle Vic Schleich, and guard Ed Schwartzkopf gave a great account of themselves on the 1940 gridiron. We have a tackle on the football scout squad and a discus thrower on Nebraska's track team.

Delt pledges gave a good account of themselves in other sports. With a man on the varsity baseball team, one on the frosh wrestling team, and a promising tennis star, Beta Tau intends to be well represented in sports during the coming school year.

INTRAMURALS

Placing tenth among thirty-five organized groups in the intramural athletic program of the University, Beta Tau won second places in their football, basketball, softball, and water polo leagues.

ACTIVITIES

Max Whittaker was elected to Kosmet Klub, dramatics fraternity, for his outstanding dramatic work here at Nebraska. Bob Ross received the hard-earned honor of election to Corncobs, pep organization of the University, whose membership is open to a limited number of sophomores. One of the freshmen was cited at Nebraska's Annual Honors Convocation for being in the upper ten per cent of his class in the Engineering College.

Climaxing a big year for Beta Tau, the chapter gave a picnic for Delts and dates.

LLOYD MELICK

Beta Upsilon—Illinois

THE SCHOOL year of 1940-41 saw Beta Upsilon devoting its attention chiefly to scholarship, athletics, and activities.

SCHOLARSHIP

Under Proctor Kenny Brooks the House pulled from 33rd to 27th place among fraternities on the University of Illinois campus. On March 8 ten men were initiated and on June 4, eleven more, the highest percentage in several years.

ATHLETICS

It was in the field of athletics that the Delts really distinguished themselves. Division championships were won in soccer and in both active and pledge volleyball. We reached the semi-finals in fall softball and in the spring captured our second consecutive All-University championship. The basketball team added more laurels by winning the All-Fraternity championship. In individual athletics Bill Giachetto, '42, and Roger Downs, '44, won the University doubles crown in ping-pong, while Roger went on to annex the singles trophy. Nick Hanna, '44, won the horse-shoes championship, while his brother, Larry, '43, ran off with the 100-yard dash honors. Pacing Beta Upsilon's athletic triumphs were Bill Giachetto, '42, Chet Sikking, '41, and Bill Moody, '41, who placed 4th, 7th, and 8th, respectively, in the individual award race. Moody was placed on the University All-Star team in both basketball and softball while Cliff Peterson, '41, won a berth on the basketball team. Roger Downs, '44, in addition to his ping-pong honors, was also elected captain of the Illinois freshman tennis team, while Andy Philip, Beta Upsilon's freshman activity award winner, was chosen co-captain of the Freshman basketball team. Through the coöperation of the entire chapter a sizable array of trophies was added to our mantel.

ACTIVITIES

Helping to make us a well-rounded house were such men as Perry Smithers, '43, publications; Dean Wessel, '42, Men's League, and Ted DuBois, '41, Cadet Colonel.

During the course of the year the chapter was strengthened and a fine spirit developed, promising great things for next year!

JIM STALKER

Beta Phi—Ohio State

LOOKING AT things in any way we desire, we can come to just one conclusion—Delta Tau has had a grand and successful year at Ohio State.

The year started with a highly competitive, yet very successful rush week. Twenty-two boys were pledged during the week. Under the chairmanship of John Oliver and Martin Van Buren, the rushing committee continued the pledging of men throughout the year, and, as a result, Beta Phi closes the year with twenty-eight pledges despite the fact that twenty-two men were initiated into the chapter during the year.

ACTIVITIES

Beta Phi was well represented in activities. John Dietrich was sports editor of the Lantern, the campus daily. Dick Johnson and Bill Strong were active in the Student Activities Office, as were Bob Hamman and Don Mossbarger in the Fraternity Affairs Office. Delts in Strollers, dramatics organization, include "prexy" Bob Kegerreis, Jim Kelso, Tom Dickey, and Sandy Hallock. Chuck Chandler, who lays claim to a 3.85 accumulative, is active in Pershing Rifles. Ed Moeller is perhaps one of the busiest men on the campus, being director of Graphic Arts, on the Greek Week Committee, on the staff of the Sundial, campus humor magazine, besides playing varsity basketball. Phi Eta Sigma members include Chuck Chandler, Bob Kegerreis, Bud Drew, and Tom Dickey. Kegerreis is also a Sophomore cabinet officer, and officer in O. S. P. A., campus political organization, on the Arts council, and chairman of the annual banquet of the Interfraternity presidents' council. Sandy Hallock is active in Strollers, in WOSU Radio Players, and director and announcer of "Campus Review," weekly radio program over station WOSU. Also active in Strollers and WOSU is past president Jim Kelso.

ATHLETICS

The Delts are well represented in athletics also. Heading any list are our varsity football players, Fritz Howard, Les Horvath, Andy Rosen, Bill Vickroy, and Don McCafferty. Howard, Horvath, and Rosen were regulars; Vickroy and McCafferty, second stringers this year, are slated for starting berths next year. Les Horvath was proclaimed the outstanding sophomore of the year in football by downtown newspapers.

Playing on the varsity basketball team next fall will be super-versatile Eddie Moeller, and sophomore-hope Johnny Schenk.

Two-hundred-pound Emil Moldea, shotputter, was chosen on the All-Big Ten track team and as a result competed on the West Coast against the All-Pacific Coast team. Also on the track team are Ken Cochram, Chuck Kleinhans, Don Renz, and the tennis star of the Shelter is Ernie Eynon, vice-president, from Portsmouth.

INTRAMURALS

As for intramurals, the Delts captured trophies in touch football, basketball, bowling, and volleyball. Harry Calavan and Ernie Eynon were runners-up for the University doubles tennis championship.

SOCIAL

On the social side, the Delts were also in the thick of things. Starting off the year with two super-colossal band dances at the Shelter after the Minnesota and Michigan games, the pace was continued with numerous house dances, and the Annual Pledge Barn Dance, which gained us a great deal of publicity on the campus. The autumn quarter was concluded with a Christmas Party at which a group of children from an orphans' home was entertained.

During the winter quarter we had our usual quota of dances with the climax being the Winter Formal. Another high spot of the quarter was the Founders Day Banquet at which about one hundred fifty Delts were present from all over the state.

Spring quarter was marked by a series of picnics, parties, and dances, the outstanding of which were the Pledge Formal and the Annual Spring Formal. The latter, held at Brookside Country Club with the Campus Owls from Miami furnishing the music, was without doubt one of the outstanding fraternity dances on the campus.

Oh, yes, send all potential rushees' names to us if they are coming to Ohio State. The competition is going to be plenty tough next year.

JOHN OLIVER

Beta Chi—Brown

IN COLLEGE athletics, publications, and intramurals, honorary societies, social affairs, and other activities the Brown campus looked to Beta Chi for leadership during 1940-41.

SOCIAL

Widespread comment established the March house dance as without doubt the best of the year at Brown. In February, the opening of the pine-panelled room in the basement, in part built by members, gave Beta Chi campus superiority in recreation facilities. The very successful Halloween Informal dance at the house, and other informals during the year, completed the other planned social affairs.

ATHLETICS

The Brown varsity football team had the services of Arnold Eggert, Earle Dane, and Philip Down. Jay Pattee, true to Delt tradition, captained this year's freshman team at quarterback, while Nicholas Coppola played end on the '44 squad.

SCHOLARSHIP—PHI BETA KAPPA

Four upperclassmen were on the Dean's List, and one junior was enrolled as a member of Phi Beta Kappa. The scholarship committee conducted a campaign on the campus to contact the professors of all members with postcard reports on their work. Beta Chi is the first fraternity chapter here to have such a program; it received the whole-hearted approval of the Dean and faculty.

HONORARIES

The Delts continued their leadership in Brown Key, junior honorary. Don Mikolas, hurdle star, and Bill Roberts, managing editor of the Brown Daily Herald, were elected to the '42 Key. Don Marshall, track manager, and Phil Down were elected to the '43 Key, of which Down was elected secretary. In addition, House president Falcon John, co-captain and manager of the fencing team and member of various clubs, was elected to the Cammarian Club, senior honorary governing society.

Four members of the chapter took part in Christian association activities, one in Sock and Buskin dramatic society, one in the honorary Sphinx Club, three in the Glee Club, four in the Brown band, and four members in the engineering societies. Bill Allen was president of his division of engineers. Ted Rickard held up the Delts in music, in the band, glee club, chapel choir, and Brownbrokers show.

Steve Dolley is associate sports editor of the Daily Herald; three men in the house worked on the staff of Sir Brown, campus humor magazine.

MORE ATHLETES

Other Delt athletes, in addition to those already named, were Harry Feehan, Jim McNally, Don Marshall—track; Fred Goodman—soccer; Horace Harding, '44—swimming; and Jay Pattee, '44—basketball. The House had Marshall, Harding, Klie, Roberts and Goodman out for athletic managerships. Bud Patterson was a consistent winner in golf, turning in a record that made him the outstanding Brown player and one of the best in the East.

INTRAMURALS

In intramurals, Beta Chi was assured of a final standing for the year among the first five fraternities, after especially good records in track, basketball, and baseball. Doug Mikolas, '44, pitching ace, was given a $\Delta T \Delta$ key for outstanding work in intramural baseball. The University's Clark Cup for freshman competition in intramurals was won by Bob Klie. The Delts set up a record which may never again be equalled when three of our other freshmen, Harding, Olstad, and McNally, stood in that order behind Klie in the competition.

The year was concluded with a testimonial dinner to the seniors.

BILL ROBERTS

Beta Omega—California

TO END the year in fine style we received numerous appointments that the members of the junior and senior classes of next year will carry out.

ELECTIONS AND HONORS

Dick Vieille, '42, was elected president of Interfraternity Council, while Lev. Sacre, '42, was elected president of Skull and Keys, men's social honorary. Lev and Dick were both elected to Beta Beta, senior men's honorary.

Marty Griffen, '42, was elected treasurer of the Senior class; he, as well as Jack Cain, '42, was elected to Scabbard and Blade.

Some of the prominent next year's juniors are Bubs Norris, Russel Pierce, Ward Madera, and George Parish, who were elected to Winged Helmet, junior men's activities honorary.

The way things look at present, all of the seniors, at least those who recovered from senior week, are rapidly becoming members of Uncle Sam's armed forces.

JACK CAIN

HONOR SENIORS

AN UNUSUALLY successful year was closed with the traditional and popular "Senior Farewell" party. Practically the whole chapter turned out for a final gathering, and celebrated the end of the school year and of exams. Incidentally, the chapter is in a very good position for the next school year, having lost only two seniors in the graduating class of 1941. However, the loss of even two men of such caliber as Donald Knief and Howard Meyer is regretted by the house. We expect and hope to see them back at the Shelter frequently, continuing the support which they have so faithfully given during their four years together at school.

ACTIVITIES

A summary of the year's activities and accomplishments is indeed a pleasant prelude to the summer vacation. Bob Creagan, new president of the chapter, stole the show by being voted into Tau Beta Pi, all-engineering honorary. Bob was also made president of the interfraternity council at Illinois Tech, as well as being awarded a Salamander membership, coveted award to outstanding students of Fire Protection Engineering. Dick Dunworth, colorful aspirant to a Chemical Engineering degree, was a key man on the school tennis team this year, and did a beautiful job of proving himself worthy of the position. Carl Sparemborg was made Junior Marshal from the Fire Protection Engineering Department, an enviable honor, and a rare one. Bill Taylor, Charles Shank, Blake Hooper, Dick Ekstrum, and Jack Rice, all active members of the chapter, contributed largely to one of the most successful seasons that the school musical clubs have enjoyed in years. Claire Udell, a new initiate, was one of the fortunate few chosen for the school yachting team, and made a good showing of himself at the big meet in Boston.

This honor roll could be extended to include practically every member of the chapter, space permitting, but, with due respects to the many outstanding actives, it will be concluded here in favor of a request that all alumni inform the chapter of prospective Illinois Tech students whom they deem worthy of rushing. We trust that these alumni will enjoy their vacations as well as the active chapter of Gamma Beta is enjoying theirs at present.

JACK RICE

Gamma Gamma—Dartmouth

ANOTHER YEAR of Delt activities has passed for Gamma Gamma, and, looking back, we see that the House has had a very busy season.

TRACK CAPTAIN

Taking somewhat of an inventory of Delt doings around campus we find a long list of extracurricular honors. $\Delta T \Delta$ has five lettermen on the varsity track team, one of whom, Dick Howard, is captain. We also have at least one letterman in each of the following sports: football, soccer, swimming, tennis, squash, cross country, basketball, and fencing. Proving this chapter to be well rounded, one finds that the Delts have been successful in non-athletic positions as well. The Dartmouth branch of the Fraternity has always had a good share of the managing positions of the major sports. "Snuffy" Smith is the present football manager; Ed Self is next year's executive manager of the Athletic Council, the highest managership awarded; Gus Newell is next year's manager of basketball, with Dick Rudolph to fill his shoes the following year; Dave Mulliken is manager of gymnastics, and Jim Jacobs of intramurals. Church Leonard will be manager of track in 1943 as will Neal Tyler of swimming, and Dave Hoffman of Freshman basketball.

PUBLICATIONS

The college publications have also attracted the Delts. Lance Ballou is the advertising manager of Jacko, the college humor magazine, and next year the position of business manager will be held by "Stam" Stambough. Frank Sherwood is also on the business staff, and Tom Schroth is on the business board of the Dartmouth, the college newspaper. There are five Delts in the College Glee Club and four in the band.

HONORARIES

"Snuffy" Smith, besides being manager of football is a member of Paleopitus, the student governing board, and is a member of a senior society. Gus Newell and Ed Self are members of Green Key, an honorary junior society. This year the Delts have touched about every branch of the campus activities of Dartmouth, and next year we are hoping for a season even better than this.

BERT ENGLERT

Gamma Delta—West Virginia

SCHOLARSHIP

GAMMA DELTA enjoyed a most successful school year during 1940-41. Among our outstanding successes was our capturing of the scholarship cup. Gamma Delta topped fifteen other campus fraternities to win this coveted honor. Much credit is due our scholarship chairman, Joe Fraker, for the improvement along this line.

ATHLETICS

We were well represented in varsity sports, having lettermen from almost every sport. Jim McCartney, basketball, and Gene Tudor, boxing, were our outstanding athletes. In intramurals we were well in the upper quarter of the fraternity league standings.

SOCIAL

Socially, Gamma Delta retained its place at the top. We again gave the outstanding formal of the social season, featuring Tommy Whitley and the Musical Steelmakers. We also entertained from time to time with informal house parties.

ACTIVITIES

Along other lines, during the past year Gamma Delta always ranked high. We placed second in the Homecoming decorations contest; third in the Christmas Serenade, and third in the Interfraternity Sing. We were well represented in campus activities, having eight men in Scabbard and Blade, six men in Eight-Ball, three men in Fi Batar Cappar, and representatives in all other campus honoraries. Jim McCartney was president of the Student Body for the past school year.

KARNEA

As host for the coming Karnea at White Sulphur Springs we have been very busy with preparations for our Fraternity convention. We believe it will be the most successful in the Fraternity's history and are anxiously looking forward to greeting and entertaining you at the Springs.

At the close of this school year Gamma Delta lost eleven seniors, all of whom had been active in the Fraternity and on the campus and will be sure to be missed. Those graduating were Sparkey Butler, Corny Davis, John Fear, Bob Gibson, Jim McCartney, Dallas McCune, Elbert Matthews, James Townsend, Jim Welsconce, Scott Wysong, and Dewitt Young.

HAROLD H. CUTLER

Gamma Zeta—Wesleyan

SENIORS

AS GAMMA ZETA closes another year we can well be proud of the past year's record in athletics, administration, and scholastics. There are numerous outstanding men among the sixteen seniors that the House loses by graduation. Brother Tom Meeker, who was president of the House, vice-president of the college body, and assistant manager of the football team, will graduate a Phi Beta Kappa with high distinction. Along with him are Henry Derbyshire and Bill Clarke, who obtained distinction for their scholastic achievements. Bill Schroeder graduates as vice-president of his class. In athletics Henry Derbyshire was a consistent scorer in the high jump, pole vault, and broad jump for the varsity track team, and Bill Sinnamon headed the basketball team as co-captain. Bill Ellis, also of the class of '41, represented the House in publications by being editor of the campus magazine.

1944 DELEGATION

The present freshman delegation has already proved its ability and should add greatly to the House. Charles Roberts, in addition to winning numerals in basketball and baseball, has been elected president of the class. Others to receive numerals were Arne Rosengren for swimming, Dale Cunningham in cross country, Dick Neuffer in track, Bill Dodd in baseball, Ralph Osborne in football, Carl Goodman in tennis and Fred Weissmiller in wrestling.

CLASSES OF '42 AND '43

The Gamma Zeta delegations of '42 and '43 participated in many college activities. Chuck Crowell, a cheer leader this year, will take over the head position next year. In publications, Stan Lewis was made business manager of the campus magazine, Tom Gibb circulation manager, while Chuck Crowell and Len Pfeiffer were appointed to the junior business board. Those men to receive "W's" were Peter Fritz in soccer, Bill Zaiser in soccer and baseball, Bill Campbell in wrestling, Erne Goodrich in baseball, Len Pfeiffer in tennis, and Hal Moore in track. Others who participated in sports were Chuck Crowell in soccer, Ted Brand in basketball, Phil Norton in basketball and baseball, and Dick Wade in track.

With the election of Bob Boynton as president of the House and Ralf Wilson as vice-president, Gamma Zeta looks forward to a very successful coming year.

H. A. MOORE, JR.

Gamma Eta—

George Washington

TOPPING OFF a most successful year, Gamma Eta with dates and friends celebrated, Sunday, June 22, with their annual all-day outing at Shenandoah National Park, Virginia. Enjoyed by all were the picnicking, hiking, swimming, and scenic views from famous Skyline Drive.

ACTIVITIES

Reflecting over a busy year, it seems that it has been one of our most successful in all lines. John O'Donnell turned in a splendid performance as activities director of the Interfraternity Council. Three of our members were elected to Gate and Key, honorary activities fraternity. In intramurals a complete program of all sports was highlighted by winning the basketball championship of our league and the naming of Bob Garlick and Dean Nichols to the University Hatchet's all-star team. Not the least of our spring activities was the annual Founders Day Banquet held this year at the National Press Club and attended by some 150 undergraduates and alumni.

SOCIAL

Our social season was contributed to by our Halloween, Christmas, New Year's Eve, and Spring parties, and informal house dances. To climax this we held our annual "Tacky Party." Long a school institution, it was carried out in traditional style this year at the Cameron Club, on the banks of the Potomac in Alexandria, Virginia.

AVIATION

The "Flying Delts" of Gamma Eta have graduated from the CAA program to higher things. Gene Banning, now flight instructor for the CAA, will soon assume a position as co-pilot with Eastern Airlines. After "long and faithful service," both to Beta Kappa and to Gamma Eta, Bob Garlick is on his way to Pensacola Naval Air School. Jim Alford is in the Army Air Corps. Jim Chesson and Guy Ballou are anticipating entrance to the air schools of the armed forces.

Looking forward, prospects seem bright. Our ranks will be depleted by the call of Uncle Sam, but the rest of us plan by our redoubled efforts, to bring the chapter through to the best year in its history.

HAROLD HOWLAND, JR.

Gamma Kappa—Missouri

ATHLETICS

THE ATHLETIC record of Gamma Kappa this year is above that of last year. Track is the only remaining competition left and at the conclusion of the track meet it is estimated that Gamma Kappa will finish the year in 9th place out of a field of 24 competing fraternities. During the year Gamma Kappa rated as fifth in football, second in tennis, and high on the lists of other sports.

SCHOLARSHIP

At the end of twelve weeks, the grades of the actives were above average. According to the report from the Dean's office, one pledge was turned in as deficient in his classwork.

Concentration is being made on the classes where grades are low. Study hall is being enforced from 7:30 to 11:30 on week nights and quiet hour continues on until 7:30 in the morning. Now that the end of the year is approaching, quiet hour has been extended to afternoon and study hall will be held then during finals.

Already improvement has been made in most of the grades that were low at mid-semester. Judging from the reports turned in by our scholarship chairman, Ken Wolz, the scholarship of the House will be above average.

PUBLICATIONS

Gamma Kappa published the Tiger Delt in November. The purpose of the Tiger Delt was to contact alumni, informing them of chapter activities, and to interest them in visiting the chapter during Homecoming. The Tiger Delt was edited by Kenneth Crabb and Jim McVay.

RUSHING

We have started a very well-organized system for rushing this summer. With the aid of Don Pritchard, our resident adviser, we have mapped out a complete set of plans that we intend to follow in our rushing this summer. The boys are all very much enthused about rushing and everyone is behind our president with that good old Delt push.

SOCIAL

Gamma Kappa held its annual Tulip Ball May 10. It is believed to be the best dance that has ever been given here on the campus. The decorations and the orchestra were the best that were seen and heard on the campus this year.

J. S. LOWRY

Gamma Lambda—Purdue

ELECTIONS

THE RESULTS of spring elections indicate that the Purdue Delts will be among the top fraternities on the campus again this fall. Of the twenty-one men initiated into the Gimlet Club, the senior activities honorary which is the ultimate ambition of all activities men, four were Delts. The men were Frosty Sprowl, who was voted the most valuable player on the '41 basketball team; our president, Bill Hepburn, who has been elected senior activities manager of the Student Union; Burt Anthony, star quartermiler, who is captain-elect of the track team and president of the Spiked Shoe Club; and Jim Mercer, baseball manager.

ACTIVITIES

Dick Thornton, one of our graduating seniors, was named as the man who had contributed the most to the work of the campus musical organizations during his four years here.

We have a virtual monopoly on the Student Senate, with Hugh Lawrence and Bill Long on the Senior Board; Wade Neal and Al Donnellan on the Junior Board; and Ken Grant and Paul Miller acting as representatives from the engineering schools. To add to all this, Jim Reeves and Charlie Lewis are new Student Union vice-presidents, and Dick Carr has been elected Junior sports editor of the yearbook.

INTRAMURALS

Gamma Lambda also enjoyed a very successful season in intramural competition. We chirped our way into fourth place in the interfraternity sing under the direction of Ralph "Butch" Wunderlich. We won the golf championship, and for the second consecutive year we won the baseball championship under the able pitching of Keith Correll.

WILLIAM M. EDDY

Gamma Mu—Washington

GAMMA MU of Delta Tau Delta is a name that has come to stand for activity on the University of Washington campus. This is equally apparent in the social columns of the campus publications, representations in collegiate activities, and notoriety and rank among the fraternities established here.

ATHLETICS

On the athletic front the scars of battle have been somewhat mitigated by the sporting of Robert Whiteley's sophomore managership sweater, Curtiss Meeker's track numerals, and Jack Ford's letter for his third successive year as the light heavyweight boxing champion of the University. Even after deciding to resign from intramural activities for Spring Quarter, we finished in eighth place out of forty organizations.

SOCIAL

Gamma Mu upheld her social prestige with very successful dessert exchanges with Pi Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The attendance of Paul G. Hoffman at the Northwest Honorary Initiation, to which Gamma Mu was host, was partially accountable for the largest turnout of alumni members this region has ever seen. Almost two hundred were present, and all enjoyed meeting our National President. At our recent annual Golf Picnic, held at Inglewood Golf and Country Club, these former members returned, bringing several hitherto unseen alums, and contributed to the finest such occasion yet held in Seattle. In reciprocation for Oregon's attendance at the Honorary Initiation, eight men—James Woods, Edwin Brown, James McGuinness, Robert Yancey, John Nelson, Robert Whiteley, Burton Waldo, and Ben Lindsay attended the Regional Conference at Eugene.

A triple honor has been extended to Benjamin Lindsay with initiation into Alpha Kappa Psi, business honorary; recognition on the Beta Gamma Sigma Scholarship Plaque; and appointment as Chairman of the Athletic Review for Freshman Week next year.

MUSIC

The Gamma Mu Chorus has proved to be a popular group this year. Under the direction of Robert Vinson they have appeared at the Northwest Honorary Initiation, the preliminaries of the University Song Fest, the Alumni Golf Picnic, and on serenades. The final serenade of the year was acclaimed by many sororities to be the finest yet heard—the supreme heights were reached when a challenged street serenade between our chorus and the Alpha Phi chorus, our sorority neighbors, was sufficient to halt traffic for several blocks while the drivers listened to our singing. A prominent feature was the Swedish "Hut-Sut" song.

LEAVING

Deep regret is felt by all associates of James Woods, our resident adviser for the past year and a half, because of his leaving us at the end of the current year. His invaluable aid has done much to assist us in the organization of our chapter matters, and we'll miss him greatly.

Preparations are under way for Gamma Mu's participation in the Karnea to the extent that we have the largest delegation west of the Mississippi. It is possible that we will have a carload coming across the continent to see all Gamma Mu alumni, and all the delegates from other chapters.

ROBERT C. VINSON

Gamma Nu—Maine

NEW HOME

OUR NEW Shelter, which will replace the one destroyed by fire last year, is rapidly nearing completion. This house is now, and will be for years to come, the envy of every other fraternity on campus. The main rooms on the first floor, consisting of living room, dining room, and music room are very large, and they will furnish plenty of room for house parties. The study rooms are large, well lighted, and airy. The game and chapter rooms will be in the basement. It will be great to move into this new house where we can all live together instead of being scattered around in different boarding houses as we were this year.

SCHOLARSHIP

On Recognition Day, it was found that Ray Valliere and Carlton Herrick had been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and Ed Geary had received a scholarship. These men have been outstanding in holding Gamma Nu's average up.

RUSH WITHOUT HOUSE

Rushing this year without a house was carried on under great difficulty, but this didn't faze "Mac" Day and his hard-working committee. Delta Tau Delta surprised the campus when it was found that we had pledged twenty-one new men. This was a greater number than many fraternities with houses obtained.

The University was very co-operative this year. We had no trouble obtaining places to meet.

Gamma Nu looks forward to next year with great hopes, as her many members and pledges return to a brand new house.

F. EMERSON PENDLETON

Gamma Xi—Cincinnati

THIS PASSING year has, in many ways, been generous to Gamma Xi. Fourteen more men now wear the golden square; several new cups adorn the shelves of the trophy room; we are well represented in the honorary and social organizations on the campus; we have played an active part in intramural athletics; and we have made excellent progress along scholastic lines.

SCHOLARSHIP

Undoubtedly, our most worthwhile achievements during the past year have been in scholarship. Several pledges, including Bob Calvert, George Bruesth, George Ingersoll, and Sheldon Boyce, have, by their high scholastic standings, helped place the Delts in third place among the campus fraternities. This scholastic standing may be favorably compared with the position of sixth place which we occupied last year. To add to our scholastic achievements, George Dawson was elected president of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity; and Ed Dinkolokn became a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, business administration honorary.

HONORARIES

Of the several honorary and social organizations represented on the campus, George Dawson, Bill Wolf, and Walter Ismael were initiated into Ulex. John Klum, Ed

Dinkolokn, and George Dawson became member of O Δ K. Several men also received the distinction of being chosen as leaders on the campus. Karl Keck was elected president of the Student Council. Walter Ismael was elected president of the Social Board; and George Dawson was elected to both the Student Council and the Social Board.

ACTIVITIES

Three new cups have been placed in our trophy room since last September. For the second consecutive year, the Delts won the trophy for the best float in the Homecoming parade. Bob Hetzel and Morris Frost procured the Interfraternity debate cup. Bob also won a gold key for his forensic ability and Morris received a certificate. Our third cup was won in intramural athletics—volleyball. The intramural battle is still being waged and with the able leadership of Bob Reimon, it looks as though the Delts will take second place this year.

SOCIAL

Our social season opened in due style with the Pledge Formal on October 26. This dance was followed by several old clothes parties. The Christmas holidays featured a party given by the mothers, and on the 21st of December our annual Christmas Formal was held at the House.

For 1941 our social calendar was well planned. We held several parties with a number of other fraternities. We had several old clothes parties and a novelty party. May 17, we all enjoyed ourselves at a stag picnic at Shoron Woods. Since January we have held an afternoon tea dance at the house on the first Sunday of every month. Our social program reached its climax Saturday, May 31, with the Delt Spring Formal.

BOB ANDERSON

Gamma Pi—Iowa State

SCHOLARSHIP

GAMMA PI Delts look back on a very successful school year. We point with pride to the latest scholarship report published by the college which gives us a good strong plus rating. Actives and pledges alike have worked hard all year to attain this goal.

PUBLICATIONS

Upon revealing the contents of the college annual, everyone was well pleased with the work of Fred Siegrist, photo editor. Jim Graham and Larry Scott worked on the make-up of the same publication.

ATHLETICS

Rol Meyer proved a consistent point winner in both the low and high hurdles for the varsity track team. Bill Cutts, freshman numeral winner in football, had an end position cinched on next fall's varsity until an injury forced him to leave school. He is sure of the position when he becomes eligible.

ACTIVITIES

John Carpenter was initiated into Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity, and was awarded a gold "I" key for his outstanding work in band and orchestra.

The Delts have been active in every branch of the far-reaching intramural system here at Iowa State. Another plaque is to rest in the trophy room for the achievements of the past year.

The activities of many of us will be limited to "Forward, March!" for the next year.

NORMAN C. GIVENS

Gamma Rho—Oregon

TOP PLACES in singing, journalism, scholarship, politics, and athletics, made a live Oregon campus increasingly Delt-conscious for the year 1940-41.

OF THIS WE SING

Practice of many months showed perfect results in the all-campus sing contest as the House finished on top of twenty-nine other competing groups. Phi Delts and Betas, aged rivals, were submerged, as the able tutoring of Don Hicks and Bill Chilcote plus President Tom Atkinson's determination guided a finished chorus that was best in the University.

WRITE MAKES MIGHT

Journalistically speaking, the Delts turned concentrated effort on the campus daily, the Oregon Emerald. Ray Schrick, sophomore, and for the past year assistant managing editor, was moved into the post of managing editor for the coming year. This is second in command of editorial policies for the paper. Dick Shelton, part-time politician and athlete, also turned his attention to journalistic directions as assistant night editor and proof reader.

Roy Vernstrom, now a senior, former student body vice-president, and today editor of the alumni magazine, Old Oregon, continued his help and well-appreciated work for the House and also the University.

ALL WORK AND SOME PAY

Scholastically, the House showed a grade point increase surpassing that of any of the past five years and placing the Delts in second position. Bill Moore and Schrick both gained places on the campus honor roll with averages of better than 3.5 out of a possible 4.0.

PLAY AS YOU GO

Not to make the year all work and no play, the fellows "relaxed" as they turned attention to the field of intramurals and sport activity. We didn't quite make the championships but did enter the finals of swimming and showed plenty of prospective material which in one more year should develop into rounded top-spot play. Intramural manager was Bob "Skipper" Skelley, and his work coaxed the best from such House athletes as Tom Watts, Lee Kilburg, Jerry Battles, Pete Barnett, Ed Baxter, Dick Hewitt, Lynn Bockes, Jay Ambrose, Paul Eckelman, Ed Boydell, Jack Daniels (our new president), Atkinson, and Norm Foster (the vice-prexy).

NOT TO MISS MISCELLANEOUS

More than a one-track man, Battles also became Gamma Rho's new member of Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's honorary; Eckelman, too, turned to other fields to sing with Hicks, George Drach, and Cy Nims in the Delt quartet. The quartet sang many times for all-campus assemblies and radio programs. Dick Wesson, freshman in the Speech Department, has obtained a position as announcer at the local radio station, KORE, and has promising abilities for advancement. Leonard Ruecker, voted the outstanding senior of the House, was manager for the University of Oregon's basketball team this winter, traveling to New York and the Hawaiian Islands with them.

As the entire House "girds" now for the final examinations and a summer at home, thoughts turn already to the coming fall. The House will be in a "rush" at that time. We're losing nine good seniors: Ambrose, Bockes, Baxter, Drach, Bruce Giesy, Earl Maize, Ruecker, Skelley, and Bert Strong. We're out to get at least that many more new members to partially fill their vacated places.

That's all at Gamma Rho for 1940-41.

Gamma Sigma—Pittsburgh

GAMMA SIGMA will be able to look back on 1940-41 as one of the most successful years in history.

RUSHING

We started out in the fall rushing by pledging thirty-two men—the largest class on campus, and incidentally the second largest in the history of the University. During rush week we put on two unusual events which were very successful, a father and son smoker for the rushees and their dads and a tea for the rushees' mothers which was handled by the chapter's Mothers Club.

ATHLETICS—INTRAMURAL

In the race for supremacy in intramural athletics we finished well up in the standings. We added several more cups to the largest collection on the campus. We have amassed a first in table tennis, a second in mush ball, first in golf, and a second in tennis to give us a flying start for next year's championship.

ACTIVITIES

As usual we are leading the field in activities men. Dave Buente: president of Scabbard and Blade, treasurer of S.F.A., member of O Δ K, freshman camp counsellor, glee club, R.O.T.C. Major, business manager of military ball committee. Bob Shaw: president of Y.M.C.A., vice-president of O Δ K, program director of freshman camp, upperclass advisor, demonstrations block leader. Bill Sheris: editor of 1941 Owl, Y.M.C.A. committee of management, upperclass advisor, demonstrations block leader, and Cap and Gown production staff. Jack Stauff: editor of Pitt Panther, member of S.F.A., interfraternity council, assistant manager of freshman camp, upperclass advisor, chairman of Freshman Fraternity Program, Cap and Gown club. Bob Soles: vice-president of Druids, Pitt Players, varsity swimming team, glee club, Soph Hop committee. These are just a few of the men from the Delt House who are outstanding, to list them would take too much space, as almost every man in the house is in at least two activities.

VARSITY ATHLETICS

SOCIAL

Our social events have kept pace with the rest of our activities. We held the first faculty reception ever held on campus at the house in conjunction with the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. This event was praised so highly by members of faculty and administration that we have decided to make it an annual affair. Just before the Christmas vacation we held our annual candlelight dinner which was followed by a formal house dance. Next was the winter formal which was held at a local country club. During Spring Carnival week the Delt House was declared to be the best decorated. Currently we are looking forward to a swell week end after final exams which will include two dances, a banquet for the graduating class, and an all-day picnic.

The chapter thanks the old officers for a successful year and we of the new group of officers hope we will do as well as they did.

BILL NEWBURY

Gamma Tau—Kansas

SCHOLARSHIP

KEEPING ITS good record, Gamma Tau placed fourth among 17 other fraternities in scholarship last year.

Last year Donald Cluster received an award for being the honor man in the School of Pharmacy at the University. This year Dick Goheen is carrying on for Cluster. At the Honors Convocation this spring Dick was cited as honor man of the Junior class in the School of Pharmacy. Arnold Gilbert was cited as an honor man in the School of Law.

ACTIVITIES

With a more active interest in activities, we have gone out to capture high positions in some of the most prominent university organizations.

Finishing fifth in intramurals last year, records show we will probably place third or fourth this year.

Gamma Tau's glee club won the cup, given by Fred Waring, for the best rendition of "Banner of Old K.U." at the Interfraternity Sing this spring.

In the two more important organizations at the University Gamma Tau stands at the top. Charles Soller, president of the chapter, is a member of the executive committee of the Interfraternity Council. John Weatherwax is one of the biggest "back-of-the-scenes" men in the hill's leading political party.

RUSHING

Gamma Tau takes pride in its selection of the chapter's new rush captain, Kenneth Nicolay. From the looks of the rushees Nicolay has contacted we will have the best pledge class on the hill next year. "Nick" would appreciate anyone sending him names of prospective Deltas. His address is 219 East 9th, Abilene, Kansas.

ED A. PALMER

Gamma Upsilon—Miami

IN A REMINISCENT frame of mind, Gamma Upsilon looks over its accomplishments of the year 1940-41, and finds that it has indeed been a most successful one.

SCHOLARSHIP

In spite of our success, however, there's still one obstacle which we have yet to overcome—scholarship. Gamma Upsilonians are admittedly just as happy to leave this subject out of the publicity columns, but we are doing our best to raise our ranking to the mark where we can point to it with a finger of pride. First on the list of "things to be done next year" is raising the average. Although our group showing has not been outstanding, we are well represented in Delta Sigma Pi, men's national professional business fraternity, having some twelve Miami Deltas on the roster; Sigma Delta Pi, Spanish honorary, claims several of the brothers; and four of our potential business men have been instrumental in forming a new accounting honorary.

PUBLICATIONS

In publications, once more we have captured one of the "big" positions on the campus. Brother Hal Feldmaier has recently been appointed associate business manager of the Recensio, Miami University yearbook, and bids fair to show that he "has what it takes." Pledge Brother Tommy Walcutt has also been working on this book, and is slated to receive a good editorial appointment next fall. In addition, Jim Davies and Bob Husted, Jr., are chosen to handle the sports pages of the campus newspaper next year, and are good choices, too. Bob, who will be only a sophomore next year, is already "setting the place wild" with his sports chatter.

ATHLETICS

When the topic turns to athletics, Gamma Upsilon ceases to speak softly, but rather begins a long and loud roar. Jim Van Orsdel, who graduates this summer with three letters in baseball and an equal number in basketball, and sophomore Teddy Migdal with awards in football, basketball, and baseball head the list, closely followed by gridgers Jack Meier, Gene Woodworth, Jim Bussard, Buss Stahmann, Bob Gehlker, Chuck Voll, and Bob Webster; hoopsters Wayne Clapp, Andy Vonovich, and Bill Carr; track men Ollie Hunter and George Edgar; and diamond men Bob Huston, Dick Holtzmuller, Hank Olson, Bud Weckel, and George Kermode comprise the contingent of Gamma Upsilon athletes. With the exception of Van Orsdel, all these men will be back next year, barring the possibility of military service with Uncle Sam for a few. Brother Bob Sutton, head baseball manager, has done his best to keep us represented on the managerial staff, for he has drafted Bob Van Fossan and Charlie Linch as his assistants.

ACTIVITIES

Glenn Ellstrom, aptly named "Barrymore" by the agitating brothers, has represented us well before the footlights this year, and shows promise of an even greater career in the future. Elmer Fasciano will do Gamma Upsilon a great deal of good as director of the Y.M.C.A. Freshman Camp next fall, and Bob Littleton represents us as a member of the executive board of this organization.

BOB SHAPE

Gamma Phi—Amherst

GAMMA PHI took its customary place in the traditional "whirl" of campus activities which engulfs Amherst yearly in keen competition for offices, managerships, prestige, etc.

CLASS PRESIDENT

The senior class awarded its top honor to Ace Stewart, house president, soccer and intramural manager and Sphinx Club president, by electing him president of their class.

PUBLICATIONS

Outstanding was the participation of the house in all branches of College publications. The business managerships of the Olio and Touchstone were capably handled by Harry Cramer and Jack Wysor, respectively, while Tom Wilcox was treasurer of the Student and Harry Keefe was Touchstone advertising manager. Jack Wysor was associate editor of the Student and Bob Farwell won a hard-earned position on the Amherst Press.

SCHOLARSHIP—PHI BETA KAPPA

Gamma Phi kept its usual high standing among the scholarship leaders this year as our ranks contributed one fifth of the membership of Amherst's Phi Beta Kappa chapter in the persons of Harry Cramer, Bill Machmer, Charlie McEvoy, Hank Stryker and Don Thomsen. Don Thomsen was elected president of the Speakers Club for the coming year and Merriam Davis, House president for the new year, has been chosen manager for the debating team in its coming season.

ATHLETICS

Bud Pfau, Ad Clark and Otis Cary won their letters in golf, fencing and soccer, respectively. "Red" Valens, slalom and down-hill ace, captained the ski team through a successful season. Dick Donaldson achieved his numerals in football, as did Pete Macomber in cross country. Bill McNamee helped revive college spirit and enthusiasm in the capacity of cheerleader. Walt Strickland won an assistant baseball managership at the end of the spring term. The Outing Club saw a rejuvenation this year under the presidency of Jim Wells. In the intramural field, we also ran.

MORE ACTIVITIES

The Amherst Masquers concluded an excellent season with the help of Masquers Stu Kinney, stage manager; Bill McNamee, assistant business manager, and Charlie McCallum, a member of the technical crew. Bill Machmer, Hank Stryker, Otis Cary, Jim Wells, Dave Carson and Warren Rossell were members of the Glee Club, while Charlie Pierson sang with the Choir. Dick Farwell and Merriam Davis served as assistant auditors this year for the College Fraternity Business Management office, the former winning the senior auditorship for next year. Presiding over the Pre-Med Club was Hank Stryker; Art Brogna was treasurer of the Pre-Law Club. Charlie McEvoy served as the treasurer of the 1940-41 Student Council.

SOCIAL

Our social season, including two tea dances and a number of informal "vic" dances and other parties of various sorts, was climaxed by the best-received house dance on the Amherst campus for the spring season, pictures of which were featured on the cover and inside of Touchstone, the College monthly.

DAVE CARSON

Gamma Chi—Kansas State

ATHLETICS

GAMMA CHI of $\Delta T \Delta$ took a new lease on life on the Kansas State campus last year. Athletics took the most prominent place in the intramural competition as well as in varsity athletics. Norris Holstrom, Jack Horacek, and Warren Hornsby were basketball stars, while Hornsby also made good on the baseball diamond. Harold Kalousek and Ridge Scott made numerals on the swimming team and set new records in the intramural meets. Bob Washburn and Harold Kalousek were two of the six cheerleaders for the college. The Delts won football, swimming, and softball plaques in addition to the big all-school champion plaque; a total of four out of the possible seven plaques for which nineteen fraternities competed.

SCHOLARSHIP

Scholarship started on a steady upgrade last year due to the efforts of John Weary. Strict study halls boosted the average and started the chapter on its way to scholastic merits. Honorary fraternities and organizations including the engineering and social groups claimed many Delts. These were: Eta Kappa Nu, K Fraternity, Pax, Phi Kappa Phi, Pi Tau Sigma, Scabbard and Blade, Sigma Tau, and Radio Club. Vincent Ellis and Warren Adcock were outstanding in advanced military work.

SOCIAL

The spring party turned out to be one of the best on the campus due, principally, to the decorative efforts of Wayne Wittenberger with the help of the chapter. The annual barbeque headed by John Newman was another high light in the social calendar.

Bob Strong, nationally famous orchestra leader and alumnus of Gamma Chi, played for the annual St. Pat's prom, and he and the band spent the night at the Shelter. As a thank-you card, the members of the band each sent their favorite, autographed record, which made a varied addition to the record library.

The year saw the pledging of a promising pledge class. Gamma Chi has made many steps toward a better Fraternity this year and the chapter is looking forward to another good pledge class and still greater progress this year.

EUGENE COPELAND

Gamma Psi—Georgia Tech

GAMMA PSI is proud of its record for 1941.

ATHLETICS

These men represented the chapter in athletics: Jimmy Andrews, track team; Herb Glass and Harry Morrow, football team; Jimmy Griffeth, senior baseball and basketball manager for next year; Shirley Nichols, junior baseball and basketball manager for next year; Johnnie Fornara, senior swimming manager for next year; Archie Johnston and Alex Fant, junior managers for the baseball and basketball teams for next year; Joe High and John McNeish, junior track managers for next year.

SCHOLARSHIP

Gamma Psi men received the following honors for their good work in their school courses.

Joe Trammell was elected to Pi Tau Sigma; and Ed Overstreet was elected secretary of E.K.N. Jimmy Griffeth and Jimmy Andrews were elected to the Industrial Management Society; and Jimmy Griffeth, Ferris Cann, Ed Overstreet and Joe Trammell made the honor roll.

PUBLICATIONS

John Fullenlove was elected editor of the Georgia Tech Yellow Jacket for next year. This year he was managing editor of the Blue Print, the school annual. Bruce Parmenter is exchange editor of the Yellow Jacket for next year.

ELECTIONS

Gamma Psi was also represented in politics. Bill Woodard was the president of the sophomore class for 1941. He and Jimmy Griffeth were elected to the student council for next year.

Jimmy Griffeth, Gamma Psi president, is also vice-president of O Δ K.

LOUIE P. LATHEM, JR.

Delta Alpha—Oklahoma

DURING THE time that has elapsed between publication of this and the previous edition of THE RAINBOW, Delta Alpha has been very busy with installation of new officers and initiation.

Terminating their pledgeship forever, initiation of ten men was held March 9, with several alumni from Tulsa and Oklahoma City attending. At the initiation breakfast as each new initiate rose to make his toast and to drink from the cup, the effect of the beautiful ceremony through which he had just gone could be noticed easily in his eyes and voice. These ten are already showing interest in committee work, and much is expected of them in the future.

ACTIVITIES

In the field of activities, Delta Alpha is maintaining her outstanding record of placing many of her men in important positions on the campus. In the latter part of March, Lewis Fisher was elected president of the Y.M.C.A., and three days afterward was elected president of Pi Omega, scouting fraternity. With the beginning of the second semester, the College of Engineering started publication of a student magazine, the Sooner Shamrock; again the chapter added to its honor list by having Claude Gordon selected as editor. On this same publication, five of the responsible staff positions are held by Deltas. Jim Davis, editor of the Sooner yearbook, set an outstanding record this year by being the first yearbook editor in the country to take his book to press. This book was made ready for publication and distribution one month earlier than ever before in the history of the school. The chapter showed its interest in activities with two new pledges, Joe Boucher, past vice-president of Phi Eta Sigma, and Bill Price, recently elected president of the national scholastic fraternity for freshmen.

Another Delt, Ewing Gafford, is kept busy with his position of advertising manager of the Oklahoma Daily, student newspaper; Ewing is also president of both the Congress Club and the Advertising Club. At present the chapter boasts ten actives and four pledges of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity; Claude Gordon was recently elected vice-president of this organization. Jack Richards was just initiated into Pi Tau Sigma and Tau Omega, aeronautical fraternity.

ATHLETICS

The baseball and volley ball teams have made fine progress under the direction of Bob Dow this spring. At present, the intramurals in which the chapter is participating are horseshoes and tennis.

SING

The much publicized Interfraternity Sing was held the first of May and Delta Alpha was one of the four fraternities on the campus selected to participate in the final contests. Jack Harlow was our able song leader and led the chapter in three songs for the event. Delta Alpha has won the Interfraternity Sing cup for five out of six years in which it has been offered.

SOCIAL

Delta Alpha entertained, March 23, with a picnic dance at the Norman Country Club. All Deltas and their dates met at the Shelter in the afternoon and rode to the club on trucks. Box lunches furnished the dinner, after which there was dancing to one of our fine campus orchestras. Everyone returned to the house tired but happy and compliments are still being received on the party. We had our annual spring formal, the "Streets of Paris" dance in the University Club May 9, and its success was obvious.

Thanks go to John Nichols of the Oklahoma City Alumni Chapter from whom the Shelter received funds for refinishing the chapter room. In the eyes of the chapter, this is the greatest single improvement that the house has had.

With such an evidence of chapter activity and interest, Delta Alpha should go far during the coming year.

GEORGE ANTHONY

Delta Beta—Carnegie Tech

DELTA BETA has, in the past year, bettered her high standards on the Tech campus. Given below are a few of her more outstanding achievements.

PUBLICATIONS

The offices of the editor and the business manager of the Tri-Pub have, for the last few years, been held by outstanding members of Delta Beta. Tri-Pub is the name given the staff which controls three prominent Tech publications. For the coming year, John Tross has been elected to the editorship, and Bill Heer has been elected to the office of business manager. Gary Lawrence, Junior arts student, has been selected to fill the office of art editor for the Carnegie yearbook, Thistle. The Carnegie Technical, a monthly magazine concerned with the aspects of technical processes related to Tech's engineering education, is rapidly coming under the control of Delta Beta. More than half of the major Technical staff offices have been filled, for the coming year, by members of our chapter. Jack Mangan, Bill McAleer, and Fred Kindle are foremost among this group.

CHAPTER HONORS

Delta Beta has retained full control of the cheerleader squad for eleven years. Next year, for the twelfth consecutive time, this squad will be comprised solely of Delts. In the intramural sports program for the past year, Delta Beta outclassed all other fraternities by receiving nearly twice as many points as her nearest fraternity rival. Our teams took the touch football trophy and the bowling league championship, as well as placing near the top in basketball, mushball, and badminton.

INDIVIDUAL HONORS

Chuck Lounsbury, who received his master's degree this year, was selected for membership in the engineering scholastic honorary, and George Van Nort became a member of the Scarab, which is a national architectural honorary. John Wolf has recently received a Westinghouse Scholarship Award for outstanding scholastic achievements.

REX E. STEVENSON

Delta Delta—Tennessee

PHI KAPPA PHI—Charles King. Circle and Torch (local honor society accepted by O Δ K): Ed Pickett, Joe Washington, Charles King, Bedford Berry, Al Hutchison, and Ben Rogers.

President Beaver Club—Hugh Shackelford; Vice-President Junior Class—Ben Rogers; Representative Student Council—Ben Rogers; Vice-President American Collegiate Engineers—Al Hutchison, and Phi Delta Phi—Joe Washington.

Pledges were first in scholarship both quarters. Chapter was second in University Sing—fifth straight year to finish in first two.

Second in Carnicus Parade. First in Carnicus for eighth time in its twelve-year history.

Phi Delta Phi—Joe Washington.

Winner of U. T. Pig-Catching contest—Charles Ellis.

Second in home decorations for Homecoming.

BEN ROGERS

Delta Eta—Alabama

SCHOLARSHIP

DELTA ETA had a successful year in its scholastic activities again. We placed fourth on the campus out of 27 fraternities. Several of the members have been honored by admission into the following professional and honorary fraternities with particular attention being given to scholastic abilities: Theta Tau (engineering), C. W. Adams, Ed Snipes, and Bill Walker; Tau Beta Pi (engineering), C. W. Adams and Ed Snipes; Phi Eta Sigma (freshman), Ed Snipes and Keith Yoder, and Delta Sigma Pi (Commerce), Paul Vining and Ed Eudy.

PUBLICATIONS

Ed Ginn was editor of the Rammer-Jammer, humor magazine, and associate editor of the Crimson White and Corolla. Charles Adair was exchange editor of the Rammer-Jammer. Other members of the Fraternity served on the staff of one or more of the student publications.

DRAMATICS

Marion Coley served as vice-president of Blackfriars, the campus dramatic organization. Ed Eudy was an outstanding actor of the year. Several others in the chapter served on the directing staff or participated in the organization.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Among the other varied and numerous activities on the campus the Delts were well represented. Charles Adair was president of Greeks and is now president of the Interfraternity Council. John Dehn is president of the Newman Club, Catholic organization. Ed Ginn was vice-president of the Excelsior Literary Society. Paul Vining was captain of the Band but resigned because of schedule difficulties.

Other members of the chapter took active parts in all the above activities and the following: Rho Alpha Tau, Symphony Orchestra, Glee Clubs, Spanish and French Club, Spirit Committee, Quadrangle, Scabbard and Blade, Officers Club, Tau Delta Tau, Press Club, Pershing Rifles, Band, Alchemist Club, A. I. Ch. E., A. I. M. E., and other organizations too numerous to mention.

SPORTS

Although Delta Eta was not as active as in the past we made a good showing in the intramural league. Bill Walker was on the golf team.

SOCIAL LIFE

The Rainbow Ball continued to be the favorite of the campus. For many years the Delts have given the best formal of the season. Our other social activities consisted of monthly house dances and a picnic.

PAUL C. VINING

Delta Theta—Toronto

THE SHELTER is uncomfortably quiet these days following the hustle and bustle of another memorable winter season. Gone for the present are our bridge experts "Sunny" Chantler and George Crase; "Ho-Ho" Disher's bray is greatly missed, as is the dinnertime cry of "Three Minutes," for the benefit of Professor Wilks.

With their minds relieved of exam worries the Delts are trying to earn a little money during the summer. Latest reports seem to indicate that "Prexy" Murray Kilpatrick has become president of some big telephone company for the summer, while Bill Bessant appears to be learning the chemical industry the hard way, or is he just rulling barrels to become varsity's

"muscle man" by the time September rolls around?

NEW ADVISER

When the Delts return to college in the fall they will find an old friend in Ted Sharpe to greet them as their new chapter adviser. We are sorry to see Ivan Hardy, our present adviser leave us; for in spite of his pressing business engagements he could always find time to participate in Delt affairs and lend a willing hand when needed.

So it's good-bye and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Hardy and a most friendly welcome to Ted Sharpe.

JIM DIACK

Delta Iota—U.C.L.A.

HONORS—INDIVIDUAL

AS THE year draws to a close the two honorary awards to be presented to the outstanding senior athlete and the best all-around man were both awarded to Kingston Cable, past chapter president and retiring president of the Interfraternity Council. As for the new initiates, it was unanimously voted that Frank Cookson be given the ring for the most outstanding new man.

R.O.T.C.

The importance of National Defense has had its repercussion here in this chapter. Bill Kugler has just finished a successful year as highest student officer over all campus forces, with a ranking as Colonel. Dick Zacker and Stuart MacKenzie have been admitted to the advanced corps, while Frank Hintz and Matthew Mahana are flashing First Lieutenant stripes.

ATHLETICS

We have enjoyed a most successful year in athletics. As runners-up for the intramural crown, such men as Frank Cookson and Allan Haycox in track, and Len Brown in swimming, did much to gain this top position. Brown broke the intramural record for the 50- and the 100-yard free style in the annual swim meet. From the water to the snow fields, the Delts came through with flying colors to win the interfraternity ski meet, with Ray Johnson, Bill Bybee, Kingston Cable, Jack Millikan and Dick Horton. John Fryer, for varsity basketball;

Ainsely Bell and Jack Baddley, for frosh basketball; Stuart MacKenzie for football; and Kingston Cable and Jack Millikan for crew, each won his letter.

SOCIAL

Again for the fifth consecutive year, the Delts played hosts to the biggest fraternity function of the year, the famous Delt-Delta Gamma formal ball. During the sensational new Junior Prom week end, with the first appearance of Glenn Miller on the Coast and the original Junior Jubilee show, the Delts played an important part. The entire week end was under the guidance of Arnie Ballantyne, production manager, assisted by Bud Griesedieck and official photographer Bill Bybee.

SCHOLARSHIP

We are proud that, in spite of the large number of men making names for themselves and the House in outside activities, we were able to receive the award in the all-fraternity competition for the best improvement in scholarship during the past year. And particularly we are proud of Jerry Seick for his winning of that much-coveted award, the Phi Beta Kappa key.

Next year we look forward to an even more successful year than the one now coming to a close. We are losing few men and expect to carry through a most extensive and successful rush season.

HARRIMAN T. THATCHER

Delta Kappa—Duke

THE 1940-41 school year is now a memory. So let's see what the Delts at Duke were doing.

SCHOLARSHIP

Scholastically, Delta Kappa had a very good year. Several of the members made the Dean's List, and although the official fraternity averages haven't been announced, we are confident that Delta Kappa will be among the leaders. President Charley Sanborn was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and also earned his letter as a member of the cheerleading squad.

HONORS

We were represented in Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity, this year by Prexy Sanborn, Bob Moore, and Bill Thomas. Bob was elected president of the Senior Class and was planning to continue his studies in the law school when he was called by Uncle Sam. Bill was active in Tau Psi Omega and in the Duke Players. He has been appointed editor of the Archive, student literary magazine, for the coming year.

Besides Bill, we were represented in Duke Players by Gerry Smith and two pledges, Dacky Johnson and Dick Klisiewski. Bill and Dacky portrayed major roles in several of the productions.

ATHLETICS

Davie Jamieson was captain and mainstay of the varsity wrestling team. Steve Berte also saw service on the squad as well as on the cross country team. Treasurer Tress Pittenger found that the experience he gained as manager of the track and cross country teams aided him in "tracking" down the members for back dues. In intramural sports, our golf team, composed of Jim Dolson, Tress Pittenger, Bob Hancock, and Dacky Johnson, won the school championship.

MUSIC

Larry Higgins did very creditable work in writing the original music for the Hoof and Horn Club's production, "Say When." John Barnicoat assisted in preparing the book for the musical. Barney was also active as president of the Duke Flying Club.

Gerry Smith was elected president of the chapter for the coming year and thus the 1940-41 year at Delta Kappa is brought to a close.

TOM MOORE

Delta Lambda—Oregon State

WITH THE close of this school year the chapter can look back at many achievements made by its members and pledges.

ATHLETICS

Marvin Markman, who will be in the backfield on the football squad next fall, has been sporting a letter about the campus for his good work as guard last fall. Our former House president, John Kling, also earned a major letter for churning water on the swimming team.

Art Weiland held his spot on the varsity crew and acquired a letter.

Two promising men for the varsity crew next year are Emmett Besson and Jack Brownell, who were awarded freshman numerals this spring.

CAMPUS

Turning from athletics to campus activities, we have Joel Kahn recently appointed as business manager of the college paper. He has been working two years for this job.

We were again well represented in the band with eight members, including the manager, the president of the band honorary and the drum major.

With the war situation coming up the upperclassmen are on their toes, with ten men taking advanced military including Scabbard and Blade members Paul Duruz, Bill Henderson, John Kling and Milton Fox.

House mothers seem to be the coming thing so we acquired the services of Mrs. Reed for week ends, who went over big with everyone.

This next week end we are all looking forward to giving Gamma Rho of Oregon a shellacking in baseball at our annual gathering. There is a large bill of fare at stake—the expense of the picnic in conjunction with the game.

The next year is a hopeful one with a group of promising "Rooks" coming down the first of next school year as a result of successful rushing on Junior Week End.

ART WEILAND

Delta Mu—Idaho

IDAHO DELTS have completed a very successful year. Opening the year with a most successful rushing season, Delta Mu drove ahead in all activities (including a considerable scholastic improvement).

SOCIAL

Turning out for the Junior Prom and the Senior Ball in greater numbers than any other campus living group, the Tau Delts were known as campus socialites. The Russian Ball, the Spring Formal, two other dances, and numerous firesides completed the year's social program.

ATHLETICS

secutive year, the chapter again demonstrated its athletic prowess. Frosh footballer Jack Jones and frosh baseballmen Bill Mangum and Jim Rossman earned their athletic letters. Bill Campbell won his "I" sweater in golf. Sammy Zingale, captain of last year's national champion boxing team, was this year's assistant coach.

ACTIVITIES

Going out for extracurricular activities in a big way, the Idaho chapter has kept $\Delta T \Delta$ on the front page of the Idaho Argonaut. Idaho Delts retain their hold on the yearbook with Dick Still as associate editor 1941, Bob Korman as associate editor 1942, Chick Donaldson, assistant business manager 1941, and Nick Lauer and Pinky Daniels, assistant business managers for 1942. The Idaho Forester was edited by Bill Read. Frosh Bob Walkly edited The Lookout. Dick Still, Interfraternity Council vice-president, edited The Interfraternity Handbook. Sammy Zingale was elected to the Idaho Executive Board. Bill Read was elected president of Xi Sigma Pi, forestry honorary, and Dick Still is the incoming president for Alpha Theta Delta, thought honorary.

All in all, the 1940-41 school year has been a banner year for the Idaho chapter; however, we look forward to a still better year in 1941-42.

BOB KORMAN

Delta Xi—North Dakota

HOCKEY

DELTA XI's intramural fortunes took a decided upswing when the hockey championship trophy and sweaters were added to past laurels. After going through the season with but one tie to mar its record, the Delt sextet won the play-offs with two successive triumphs. The championship game was decided only in a second overtime when Cliff Anzjon slipped a counter past the Phi Delta Theta goalie. All-campus selections included Anzjon, for the second straight year, and pledge Bill Hazelton. Watch for a repeat next year.

HONORS

New honors fall to the chapter as Larry Gill, our energetic retiring corresponding secretary, was elected to Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity, and also to Phi Delta Kappa, education honorary. Kent Horton, already a Phi Eta Sigma and Sigma Tau demon of the engineering school, was in charge of the civil engineering exhibit for the Campus-wide Engineers' Day. Our last year's pledge, Fritz Timlin, has graduated from Kelly Field, and is now in the air corps at Savannah, Georgia. Soon to enter the air corps is Delt "Rocky" Rockstad, who left school at semester-time to take his place among Uncle Sam's Eagles. Our last year's "prexy," Lynn Byrne, is stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and incidentally capitalized on the soldier-boy glamour to pick off a charming wife. Senior Vince Reuter is entering the army by another route, namely conscription.

CONFERENCE

Delta Xi was well-represented at the Regional Conference of the Western Division held in February at Gamma Tau, Lawrence, Kansas. Instead of sending a lone delegate, we sent six men with Ted Keller's Buick to serve the delegation. The idea proved very successful when the delegates returned with many new and successful ideas from the Conference. In keeping with this idea the chapter is planning on sending at least two men to Karnea.

SCHOLARSHIP

The scholarship picture took a considerably brighter outlook when Delta Xi's active average placed third among the Fraternity averages. With continued measures being taken, it is expected that $\Delta T \Delta$ will reach her rightful place as the scholastic leader at North Dakota.

SING

Delts are working hard to whip up a winning group for the annual Interfraternity Sing which is traditionally held on the banks of beautiful English Coulee, campus beauty-spot. With a foundation of five men from the University Madrigal Singers it is expected that the chapter may come out on top, even though competition is always keen. The Madrigal Singers recently returned from Chicago and other eastern points included in a two-thousand-mile tour. Representing the Deltas on this trip were Russ Kruger, Vince Reuter, George Hoherz and pledge Wilson Black.

With a well-balanced chapter containing a wealth of good material, Delta Xi can face the coming school year with confidence that she will show better progress than ever.

ROBERT LUNDBERG

Delta Omicron—Westminster

DELTA OMICRON has had a most successful year. During the 1940-41 academic year we initiated twelve new men.

SCHOLARSHIP

Two of our men were rewarded for their scholastic efforts by being placed on the "all-school" honor roll and three were placed on the honor list.

INTRAMURALS

Delta Omicron added another plaque to its trophy case by winning first place in intramural bowling. Our chance in intramural track looks very promising. Both actives and pledges have been working out daily. The effort and spirit which they are showing should bring Delta Omicron another plaque.

HONORS

Dick Booth, our newly elected chapter president, is also vice-president of the student body and has been "tapped" for Skulls of Seven, honorary college disciplinary board. Other men of our chapter who have received college distinction are Ted Zickos, who was elected secretary-treasurer of the senior class, and Pete Somerville, who was elected secretary-treasurer of the Junior class. Gilbert Jordan was elected president of the Freshman Literary Society. John Bondurant holds down the office of Secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

SOCIAL

According to the consensus of campus opinion, Delta Omicron staged one of the most successful Spring Formals of many a year, barring none of the other campus fraternities. The success of this social event, in the main, was due to our new social chairman, Bob Fisher. A garden, complete with rock garden, fountain and trellis took the place of the front lawn. The inside of the house was decorated with iris and orange blossoms. The music of Charlie Fisk was played from a bandstand made of white columns and covered with green boughs.

Delta Omicron is looking forward to its fall pledging with great optimism. Our efforts will be rewarded if we can pledge men to "fill the shoes" of Dan Hale, Jean Booth, and Roy Jackson, our departing seniors.

PETE SOMERVILLE

Delta Pi—U.S.C.

DELTA PI, having successfully completed the post-organization maze of detailed work, is now well on its way toward establishing itself as a contender for the leading House on the campus.

SCHOLARSHIP

Under the heading of scholarship, the Delta Pi pledge class obtained the highest scholarship average of any pledge class on the campus. Bennett Priest, who has since been initiated, was the only straight-"A" pledge in the University, and one of three straight-"A" fraternity men. Both he and Bob Oliver were elected to Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary.

ELECTIONS

In the spring student body elections, Zack Farmer was elected to the presidency of the sophomore class, and Don Ralke came out victor in the race for president of the School of Music. John Van Deusen, president of the chapter, has been honored with membership in both Blue Key and Sigma Sigma, one of the very few men this year to receive both honors. Bennett Priest was elected to Squires, sophomore service organization, with Zach Farmer as alternate.

ATHLETICS

Athletically speaking, the chapter has likewise been active, with letters being awarded to Tom Wylie for golf, Bobb Dobbs for baseball, and Don McMullen for swimming. Johnny Biewener, our track man, recently defeated the former A.A.U. 120 high hurdles champion in the Long Beach relays, setting a new record of 14.4 seconds. John Masters has had his hands full this spring as junior manager of track.

CHAPTER AWARDS

In the way of awards in other school activities, the chapter took second place in the Interfraternity Sing, singing "Delta Tau Girl," and Delta Shelter, and was awarded the cup for college attendance at the spring banquet sponsored by the Interfraternity Councils of U.S.C., U.C.L.A., and Occidental College. This, however, would not have been possible without the splendid cooperation of Barry Hillard and the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter and Delta Iota at U.C.L.A.

The chapter at present is composed of twenty-nine actives and twelve pledges, with a goal of twenty Delt-standard pledges set for next fall.

drawing their share of notoriety. Among the recent arrivals in the news columns were Marvin Wallace, appointed by Governor Ratter to the State Abstractor's Board, and Nick Conner, who had conferred upon him the De Molay Legion of Honor at Parsons last month as a result of long and meritorious service first as an active member and then as an advisory officer to Kansas De Molays.

Seattle

IN MAY the alumni association held the annual golf tournament and dinner with about a hundred of the brothers attending. Ed Stuchell, from Gamma Mu, gave a beautiful silver water pitcher as the first prize. This was won by Jim Bradford.

The alumni association recently awarded their scholarship to the most outstanding high school student who entered the University of Washington. The boys in the House say that this has been a definite help in rushing.

The Delt luncheons at the Arctic Club each Monday have been discontinued until fall.

The UNITED STATES

is engaged in the great work of strengthening our defenses for the protection of all those things which we hold dear.

Fraternity men and women everywhere are pledged to do their bit. We here in the L. G. Balfour Company are dedicated to the service of the American college fraternity system. Part of our service is the vigilance and protection of fraternity names and insignia. We believe in the fraternity spirit and the unity and accomplishments for which the insignia stands.

You, too, can do your part in the protection of your own system of insignia by discouraging display and purchases from unauthorized sources. Support the contracts of your National organization.
