Newest building on the campus of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, is the Memorial Union Building, completed a little more than one year ago. Dedicated to the Ohio Wesleyan men and women who served in two world wars and in Korea, the three-floor, modern building will serve as "the heart of student-faculty-alumni activities." A Delt, Rollin L. Rosser, Ohio Wesleyan, '26, was the architect.

Ohio Wesleyan is the home of Mu Chapter, founded in 1866.

American Bankers President

W. HAROLD BRENTON, Iowa State, '20, immediate past President of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, has become president of the American Bankers Association.

He was elected to the office at the 78th annual convention of the organization in Atlantic City, New Jersey, on October 1. He will serve until the next annual meeting of the A.B.A., to be held in Washington, D. C., during September, 1953.

For the past year Mr. Brenton served as vice-president of the A.B.A., a demanding assignment which took him to all parts of the country to counsel with and speak to business groups. Prior to his election as vice-president, he had served the A.B.A. as a member of its commerce and marine commission, vice-president for Iowa, and member of the executive council. He is also a past president of the Iowa Bankers Association.

A resident of Des Moines, Iowa, the new president started his banking career in 1920 in his home town of Dallas Center, Iowa. In 1929 he came to Des Moines, to become vice-president of the Iowa National Bank, now the largest bank in Iowa. It was merged with the Des Moines National and is now known as the Iowa-Des Moines National Bank. After serving as president of this bank from 1931 to 1934, he moved to Minneapolis, where he was vice-president, treasurer, and a director of the Northwest Bancorporation for seven years.

His native soil beckoned, however, and in 1941 Mr. Brenton returned to Des Moines, where he has been actively managing his family's banking interests ever since. He is currently president and director of ten different banks in various Iowa cities. He also finds time to be head of a bank holding and management corporation.

Besides being a banker, Mr. Brenton qualifies as a farmer. He is president of Brenton Bros., Inc., a corporation engaged in the ownership and management of more than 6,500 acres of top Iowa farm land.

Mr. Brenton was President of Delta Tau Delta from September, 1948, to September, 1950. During his tenure, he personally visited every undergraduate chapter of the Fraternity (83 at that time), an accomplishment which has been duplicated by no other officer in the history of Delta Tau Delta and most likely by no officer of any other national fraternity of any size.

That was how President Brenton visualized that he could best serve the office—meeting personally thousands of undergraduate Delts in their own homes, helping them to realize the opportunities their Fraternity affords, and inspiring them to build strong and useful chapters.

Always he put the emphasis on that word useful. "To justify its continued existence," he said, "a fraternity must be useful."

"How may a fraternity be useful? The stated objective of Delta Tau Delta is to build better men—men strengthened by their fraternity-family ties, men learning and growing together in an atmosphere of congeniality and common purpose, men motivated by the high ideals of older members and better equipping themselves to meet staggering problems of citizenship."

He drove home to the younger Delts with whom he worked the need for training leaders and for preparing their members for good citizenship.

"What is our principal task in Delta Tau Delta?" he would ask. "It is to build men—men who can better cope with the problems before us in this nation and the world."

Mr. Brenton's own busy career has been chock full of useful community service. He is a trustee of the Committee for Economic Development, a trustee of Grinnell College, Iowa, a trustee of the Iowa Methodist Hospital in Des Moines, and a member of the Newcomen Society of England. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church, and he's also a Mason.

He has participated actively in representative government. He was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1944, and he has served as chairman of the Republican Finance Committee of Iowa. In May, 1947, President Harry S. Truman appointed him chairman of one of six committees at a national conference on fire prevention.

Part and parcel of the Brenton doctrine is also directness in dealing with issues, lopping off the frills to get to the meat, and at the same time arriving at a decision only after careful, unhurried deliberation.

In his address to the 1950 Karnea, he advised, "Speed is not as important as wisdom . . ." but, "Let's not fill this meeting with a lot of high-sounding phrases and fancy resolutions. Rather, accomplishment should rest through placing one actually performed good deed on another."

It is a tribute both to Mr. Brenton and to Delta Tau Delta that a man of his achievement and pre-eminence should acknowledge again and again the important role that the Fraternity had played in his life. In 1946, when he was Vice-President of the Fraternity, he confessed:

TO CALIFORNIA, where, at Santa Barbara, Mr. BRENTON extends a warm welcome to the new chapter, Delta Psi, in 1949.

FROM MAINE to California and back again, Mr. BRENTON visited every chapter of the Fraternity during his two-year term as Delt President. Here at Maine, in 1950, he was on the last lap of making good his promise to see every chapter. Left to right: Executive Vice-President HUGH SHIELDS; Dr. ARTHUR A. HAUCK, University president; Mr. BRENTON; Chapter President JOSEPH HICKSON; Dean of Men ELTON WIEMAN; and Chapter Adviser WILLIAM E. SCHRUMPE.

"I have a debt to my Fraternity which I wished to repay and which could never be fully repaid. Yet in some small measure I have attempted to repay it. In attempting to do this, though, I found I had gained still more than I had been able to give...."

When he became President in 1948, he again revealed his high estimate of the worth of Delta Tau Delta: "To find time for these new duties, something else must be laid aside. There is no organization other than Delta Tau Delta for which I would now give this added time."

And the training he insisted that the Fraternity should impart to its neophytes was exemplified by his own experience:

"I do know that the basic principles I learned in my Fraternity helped me as I went out into business. I had learned something about close association with people and how to deal with their problems as well as many other things necessary to succeed in business and life. The training in my Fraternity is responsible for much of the start I made in business, and I am grateful to the Delt who trained me."

Thousands of Delt are equally grateful to Harold Brenton for the unselfish devotion which he has given in their behalf, and they join in wishing him every success in his new responsibility of constructive service to this nation.

A familiar figure in Delta Shelters was HAROLD BRENTON, with pipe in hand, as he engaged in informal discussions with undergraduate Delt.

From the historic past . . .

The Story of Will McLaughlin

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1903, was a cold, blustering day in Chicago. The wind which came bounding in from Lake Michigan had an unpleasant bite in it, and lowering, leaden skies held an ominous threat of snow.

Even so, the holiday atmosphere persisted, and the remembered pleasures of Christmas were reflected in the gay spirits of the crowds which surged along State Street.

Among them was William L. McLaughlin, a short, handsome youth, who threaded his way leisurely, pausing now and then to gaze into the shop windows. He was nearly 19, and a third-year student at Ohio Wesleyan. Well-liked by his classmates, he had served as president of his sophomore class and had won the oratorical prize the previous spring. An athlete as well, he was a member of the track team.

Unlike most of his fellow Delts, he had not gone "home for Christmas." His father, the Reverend William P. McLaughlin, who had preceded him at Ohio Wesleyan and Mu Chapter, was a missionary assigned to Buenos Aires, South America. Will was spending the holidays at the home of his uncle, Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, then president of Armour Institute of Technology (now Illinois Institute), and he was to take part in the wedding of his cousin, Miss Martha Gunsaulus, on New Year's Eve.

During the morning of that, the last, Wednesday of 1903, he had been busily engaged assisting with the wedding preparations at his uncle's home. By early afternoon, however, his help was no longer required, and he had decided upon a walk downtown for fresh air and exercise.

As he came to the intersection of State and Randolph Streets, he caught sight of the magnificent new Iroquois Theatre halfway down the block toward Dearborn. Because he had a special interest in it, Will made for the theatre.

His uncle, Dr. Gunsaulus, was scheduled to preach there on Sunday. It was widely advertised, moreover, that the Iroquois, completed only two months previous at a cost of half a million dollars, was Chicago's finest. Styled in the architecture of the French renaissance, it stood out impressively among its fellow structures. Its marquee proclaimed in giant letters that a matinee performance of "Mr. Bluebeard," starring Eddie Foy, was in progress. The show, which had opened November 23, was enjoying a popular run.

THIS IS THE STORY of another Christmas holiday, 49 years ago. Although it was once the stock in trade of great Delt orators, it is heard much less frequently in modern times. Perhaps, for this atomic age, it lends itself too readily to sermonizing.

Nonetheless, we believe that it is a story which deserves to be retold. Those who possess a deep faith in the fraternity system look upon men such as Will McLaughlin as inspiring examples of the worth-while influence of fraternity. Former President Frank Wieland put it like this: "We knew that Delta Tau Delta had reached its highest interpretation in him."

Anyway, here is the story. The reader may judge for himself.

On an impulse, Will entered the Iroquois. It was then 3:20 p.m.

When his eyes became accustomed to the darkness of the interior, he perceived that the building, which had a seating capacity of 1,724, was completely filled. It was a holiday audience, composed mainly of women and children.

Standing room only, one of the ushers told him. He climbed to the top balcony and took a place behind the last row of seats.

On stage was the chorus, singing "In the Pale Moonlight," one of the catchy tunes which had brought the production a successful run.

Will had been standing there no longer than five or six minutes when he suddenly glimpsed a brilliant flash of light coming from the wings, as if one of the arc lights had fallen. A small flame leaped up among the hanging scenery. It danced along the top edge of the stage opening, little tongues of fire licking at the expensive drapery.

The chorus faltered slightly but continued singing. A stage hand appeared, briefly asked the spectators to remain in their seats, assured them that the fire would be extinguished momentarily.

But the darting flames continued their hungry conquest. Fascinated, the audience followed their progress.

Comedian Eddie Foy moved swiftly from his place on the stage. "Let down the asbestos curtain!" he shouted to the wings. Then, in the best tradition of the theatre, he reassured the audience, and his quips brought an appreciative and relieved ripple of laughter.

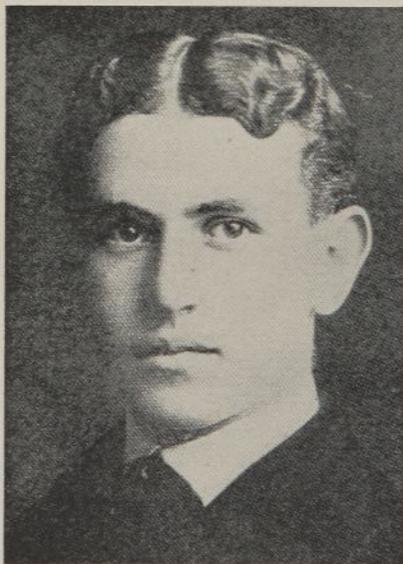

The asbestos curtain, of course! It was widely known that the best of everything had gone into the construction of the Iroquois. Particular attention, it was said, had been given to fire protection.

Slowly the asbestos curtain began its descent. It came down halfway—and stuck.

For one brief moment there was silence. Then, from the back of the theatre, a woman's voice cut through with an agonized, electrifying cry:

"Fire!"

As if that note of terror had been a pre-arranged signal, the huge crowd rose as one person and in blind, animal panic stampeded for the exits. The front doors were thrown open, giving the fire fresh impetus. With a roar and a bound, flames shot through the curtain opening, like a giant blow torch, over the heads of people on the ground floor and into the first balcony, where scores of spectators were fatally burned before they could leave their seats.

In a matter of seconds every exit of the theatre was choked with frantic, terror-stricken women and children. A mass of struggling human bodies was jammed into the balcony stairways.

The rest is a story of horror and tragedy almost without parallel in American history, the more pathetic because its helpless victims were principally women and children. In the space of somewhat less than an hour, the blazing death trap which had been the beautiful Iroquois Theatre took a toll of 602 human lives.

There were few heroics in the catastrophe. Strong and mature men, it was said, were so completely dominated by the instinct for survival that they trampled and pushed aside the women and children in an insane struggle for safety. It is indeed curious that it remained for a 19-year-old youth—Will McLaughlin—to show them how to die.

When the panic struck, Will had been swept up in the surge to the exits, and he found himself at length on a fire escape which was an iron balcony about 30 feet above the street. Here was fresh despair, for it was discovered that the steel stairways which would lead these people to safety below had never been erected. Several persons were quickly plunged to their death in the frenzied crowding and jostling.

The adjoining building housed the Northwestern University School of Law, where workmen were making repairs. They were able, with Will's help, to stretch a long plank between the two structures as an avenue of safety to those on the fire escape.

Then began the treacherous business of sending women and children across to safety. While he might have saved himself a dozen times, the plucky little Delt assisted an estimated 20 persons onto the plank and on their way to asylum. On one occasion he even found it necessary to subdue a larger man who attempted to thrust the women aside to save himself.

Suddenly the iron doors of the theatre exit burst open and the searing flames from inside whipped across the small, precarious enclosure.

At the same moment, several bodies came tumbling down from the stairway above, pinning Will beneath them so that he could no longer escape the fire.

Minutes later his charred body, which still held a spark of life, was removed from the fire escape and placed among the rows of the dying in a lecture hall of the Law School.

When an interne came to attend his burns, he raised a smoking hand and said, "I am going to die. Give your attention to the women and children."

At the hospital, the physician who was dressing his wounds noticed the Delt badge on his vest.

"I'd better take off your fraternity pin," he said. "Someone might take it if you go, you know."

"No, I guess not," Will McLaughlin managed, "it's been a pal of mine for quite a while. I wouldn't want to part with it now. Just let it stay to the finish."

And it stayed.

Robert Gilley Heads Western Division

THE NEW PRESIDENT of the Western Division of the Fraternity is Robert W. Gilley, Washington, '30, of Portland, Oregon. He was appointed to the office by President Dickinson to serve the unexpired term of John W. Nichols, Oklahoma, '36, former Division President, who was elected Secretary of the Fraternity by the 61st Karnea.

Mr. Gilley, who became the first Delt of the Pacific Northwest ever to head the Division, has already compiled an impressive record of service to the Fraternity. He is a former president of the Portland Alumni Chapter and has also served the organization in various other capacities, including that of secretary, legal adviser, and member of the board of governors. He achieved the Fraternity's highest honor last winter when he was cited to the Distinguished Service Chapter.

A practicing attorney in Portland since 1930, Mr. Gilley has taken an active part in both church and civic work of the community.

The new President will preside at the Western Division Conference to be held at Oregon State College in Corvallis, Oregon, next February. He knows that he will be doubly welcome there, for his son, Steven, an Oregon State freshman, was pledged to Delta Lambda Chapter this fall, and Mr. Gilley himself had the pleasure of affixing the four-cornered pin to Steven's lapel.

ROBERT W. GILLEY

Conference Dates Set

The last week end in February—the 27th and 28th—has been announced as the time for the biennial Conference of the Western Division of the Fraternity.

Delegates of the 23 undergraduate chapters in the Division will convene at Corvallis, Oregon, where Delta Lambda Chapter will be host to the Conference. Alumni chapters of the Division are also entitled to be represented by elected delegates.

The Western get-together is the first of a series of three Division Conferences. The Northern Division will hold its meeting in March and the Southern will hold its in April. The Eastern Division is scheduled for three Regional Conferences in February and March.

Georgian Concludes Term as Jaycee Prexy

WHEN LEE PRICE, JR., Georgia, '38, stepped down last summer from his office as national president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, he left behind him a record of service which will give succeeding presidents something to shoot at.

During his one year in office, he traveled more than 230,000 miles in 48 states, Alaska, and Hawaii. The 33-year-old, blond, six-foot Georgian talked to more than 600 Jaycee chapters in addition to numerous other civic organizations, creating good will and carrying the word of the constructive program of the national Junior Chamber.

In the course of his journeys, he has been given the honorary titles of Kentucky colonel, admiral in the Nebraska navy, and Oklahoma Indian chief. Among his various and sundry duties, he even got to serve as one of the judges for the Miss America beauty pageant in Atlantic City. His most unusual experience, he says, was riding on a dog sleigh in Alaska last April.

Price's personal history reads like a chapter from a small boy's daydreams. At the University of Georgia he walked off with nearly every honor in the book. Besides serving as president of Beta Delta Chapter, he headed the school's interfraternity council. He was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, Blue Key, and Sphinx, the University's highest honor. He also joined Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity.

LEE PRICE, JR.

After he had been graduated from Georgia's School of Law, he joined the F.B.I. as a government agent, an assignment which took him to South America to engage in undercover work tracking down German submarines. After the United States entered the war, Price joined the O.S.S., secret service branch of the armed forces, and was in charge of O.S.S. operations in Norway when the war ended.

In 1946 he came back to his home town of Swainsboro, Georgia, to practice law and to take an active interest in Jaycee work. He was shortly elected president of the local group and in successive years was elected Georgia state vice-president, state president, and national vice-president. As state president, he headed a crusade that succeeded in unmasking the Ku Klux Klan.

After the national convention in Dallas last June, Lee Price turned over the Jaycee reins to the new president. Today he is back in Swainsboro carrying on his law practice. His outside interests continue, however, for he serves also as a member of the executive committee of the national Coca-Cola company.

Oldest Living Delt Celebrates 105th Birthday Anniversary

DELTA TAU DELTA's oldest living member—Washington D. Brandon, W. & J., '68—is still going strong. He celebrated his 105th birthday on November 1.

At his home in Butler, Pennsylvania, he quietly observed another milestone in his long and distinguished life by sitting down to dinner with his younger brother and sister—Emery Brandon, 95, and Mrs. S. O. Wright, 97. He told newsmen that he would, three days later, cast his ballot, as he has done in every presidential race since 1868. His first vote was for a general—Ulysses S.

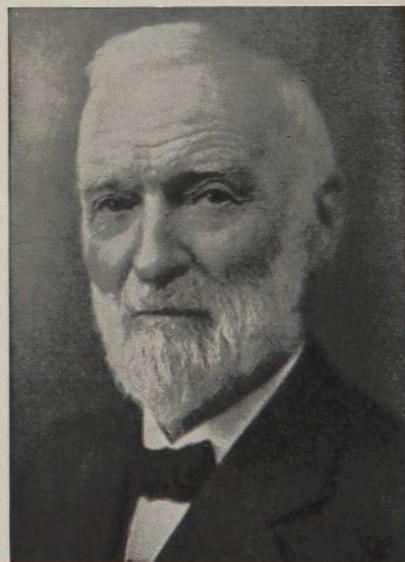

Grant—as was his latest, for Dwight Eisenhower.

Mr. Brandon's life span exceeds that of Delta Tau Delta by 12 years, and his 87 years as a Delt lacks just six years of covering the Fraternity's complete career. When he was initiated into the Fraternity, in 1865, there were only five undergraduate chapters. He attended Jefferson College, located at Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, which was later consolidated with Washington College. His chapter was then the Alpha, or governing chapter.

The oldest living graduate of W. & J., he has been the recipient of an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from his Alma Mater. He was a practicing lawyer for almost three-quarters of a century. From 1889 to 1951, he was a member of the board of directors of the Butler Savings and Trust Company. In a gesture of magnificent whimsicality, he resigned to make way for a younger man.

Although he is somewhat deaf, Mr. Brandon is spry enough to take daily walks, and until the last year or two he has been seen occasionally raking the leaves in his yard. He declined an invitation to the annual golf tournament of the Pittsburgh and Butler Alumni Chapters recently with his customary good humor, remarking that he no longer played the game.

The Fraternity extends its best wishes to this remarkable brother, whose life has been as worthy as it has been long.

WASHINGTON D. BRANDON

Dean of Georgia's Medical College

By DR. CHARLES A. MOYE, JR., Emory, '39

DR. G. LOMBARD KELLY, Georgia, '11, president of the Medical College of Georgia, is a man with a vision—a vision of a co-ordinated system of medical education and medical care extending throughout the State of Georgia. He is also a practical man and has brought his vision to the verge of realization.

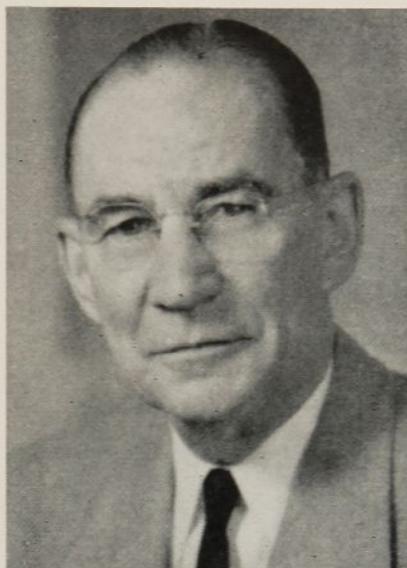

But before explaining in more detail Dr. Kelly's vision, to which he has devoted, and is devoting, a large part of his efforts, a short biographical sketch will permit a better appreciation of Dr. Kelly's many accomplishments.

Dr. Kelly was born in Augusta, Georgia, on October 8, 1890, the son of Jefferson Davis Kelly and Carrie Winslow Kelly. He received his A.B. at the University of Georgia, where he was a member of a local Greek-letter society which became the reactivated Beta Delta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, of which Dr. Kelly is a charter member.

Following graduation from the University of Georgia in 1911, Dr. Kelly matriculated at Johns Hopkins in the hope of pursuing his ambition to become a doctor—but sickness intervened three weeks after he had registered and he was forced temporarily to give up his medical studies. For a period of nine years Dr. Kelly held various teaching positions, including three years teaching science at Richmond Academy in Augusta, a position which he resigned in order to teach in Asheville, N. C.

In 1918 Dr. Kelly took a job assisting Dr. Hugh Nelson Page, head of the Anatomy Department of the then University of Georgia Medical School, and he has remained at the school ever since, serving successively as instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, and professor of anatomy, which latter position he assumed in 1929. It is interesting to note that Dr. Kelly did not secure his M.D. until 1924, yet upon the death of Dr. Page, became acting head of the Anatomy Department of the Medical School without such degree.

Dr. Kelly became acting Dean of the Medical School, and Dean in 1935 following the dropping of the school from the accredited list of the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association, a situation which, as acting Dean, he helped rectify. In 1950 Dr. Kelly was named President of the School, then renamed the Medical College of Georgia, the name assumed by the institution early after its incorporation in 1829. The new titles were attributable to recognition of the fact that the Medical College was not functioning under the administrative direction of the University of Georgia, but was in fact an independent and separately administered institution. Dr. Kelly, however, still teaches his share of courses in gross anatomy as well as a course in medical history, despite the ever-enlarging administrative burdens which fall his lot.

Many innovations and advancements in the art of teaching medicine have occurred under Dr. Kelly's administration. One of the most important is the high development of the course in Domiciliary Medicine—a course in which medical students take a family or families under their individual care and treat them in the home as well as at clinics and hospitals. Under this system students are able to study patients not sick enough to go to the hospital but too sick to go to the clinic—a type of patient with which medical students previously had had little experience. The University of Georgia Medical School was the first to institute a course in Domiciliary Medicine, and an article commenting on the need which was filled by that course has caused other prominent medical schools, such as Tufts College and Boston University, to inaugurate courses in Domiciliary Medicine.

Under Dr. Kelly's guidance the College has established a Department of Medical Illustration, the purpose of which is to provide illustrations for research papers of faculty members and exhibits for class room and other use. An increasing use also has been made of audio-visual studies so as to dovetail premedical and medical work. A very important course at the Medical School is the course in Dog Surgery, a course now offered by only about 25 per cent of medical colleges. It provides far more practical surgical experience than medical students otherwise are able to obtain. The course as taught at the Medical College of Georgia is probably more advanced in technique than any similar course taught at any other medical school.

Dr. Kelly has contributed largely to what is probably among the best faculty-student relationships at any medical school. One is struck immediately by the fine spirit of camaraderie which exists between individual members of the faculty and individual students. Part of this is due to the Faculty-Student Council, an organization encouraged by Dr. Kelly, which consists of two student members from each class, the president of the student body, and five faculty members elected by the students. The Faculty-Student Council meets once a quarter to discuss and act on problems arising out of relationships between student and faculty, and other problems where such mutual consideration is desirable. The steak dinners customary at meetings of the Faculty-Student Council are paid for out of student-activity fees.

Dr. Kelly also was a prime mover in the organization of the American Medical Students' Association, an organization for medical students similar to, but independent of, the American Medical Association. The American Medical Students' Association now has chapters in well over one-half of all United States medical schools. Its purpose is to inculcate in young doctors the principles of organized medicine versus socialized medicine or communism.

The Medical College of Georgia is located at Augusta, Ga. Adjacent to the College is the University Hospital owned by the city of Augusta. Fifteen years ago, however, Dr. Kelly recognized the vital need for a state-owned hospital operated in conjunction with the Medical College. In the first place, the construction and operation of such a hospital would permit an increase in the number of students accepted at the Medical College from the present 80-82 per class to a substantially higher number. Secondly, such a hospital, if operated as an adjunct to the College as distinguished from a hospital operated primarily to service a specified area, could serve principally as a teaching hospital. Since it is a state hospital, rare cases from all over the State could be brought in for care and observation with a resultant increase in over-all medical knowledge which would accrue benefit to the entire state. The patients would also benefit from having available a more specialized care than would otherwise be available.

Contracts will be let in late 1952 for the construction of such a hospital which will be known as the Eugene Talmadge Memorial Hospital. That hospital will have 100 beds devoted to cancer research, 50 beds for tubercular patients, 50 beds in a psychiatric screening center, a 50-bed annex for the treatment of and research in alcoholism, and 600 general medical and surgical beds. It is anticipated that construction will be completed during 1954. When completed it will be the largest general hospital in the Southeast except Charity Hospital in New Orleans.

Dr. Kelly's plans for co-ordinating medical education and care in Georgia calls for the following beyond the erection of the state hospital discussed above:

1. Creation of a constitutional hospital board, to which shall be given complete control of the business administration of all state hospitals and infirmaries;
2. Delegation of control and supervision of medical care in such hospitals and infirmaries to the Medical College of Georgia;
3. Provision for a system of rotating internships in state-operated and affiliated hospitals and infirmaries, making it obligatory on all graduates of the Medical College to serve one year of internship in such institutions, the degree of Doctor of Medicine to be with-

Chapter Adviser Gullum Honored by Beta Chapter

BETA CHAPTER, at Ohio University, honored on October 5 its chapter adviser, Frank B. "Coach" Gullum, Ohio, '07, member of the Distinguished Service Chapter, on the attainment of his 50th year as a Delt.

Ceremonies included a banquet at which Carl V. Weygandt, Wooster, '12, Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, was principal speaker. In the morning, Coach Gullum was conducted through the regular initiatory service as a "neophyte of 50 years," in appreciation for his long service to the Fraternity. A professor of chemistry at Ohio University, Coach has been chapter adviser to Beta Chapter for 33 years.

Also honored at the banquet was F. Darrell Moore, Ohio, '16, former President of the Eastern Division and former Supervisor of Scholarship. He was presented a Citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter, with Mr.

Gullum making the presentation. Mr. Moore's son, Charles, who is treasurer of Beta Chapter, was present to see his father accorded the Fraternity's highest accolade.

Kenneth R. Query, Ohio, '30, of Pittsburgh, served as toastmaster of the banquet. Executive Vice-President Hugh Shields represented the Fraternity on the occasion.

The chapter also initiated seven new members following the "initiation" of Coach Gullum.

Outstanding Layman

FRANCIS M. HUGHES, Ohio Wesleyan, '31, Supervisor of Scholarship of Delta Tau Delta, was recently honored on two separate occasions as an outstanding layman of the Methodist Church.

In connection with ceremonies at DePauw University inaugurating the school's new president, Mr. Hughes was presented a citation by the University recognizing him as one of the outstanding laymen in the Methodist Church in the state of Indiana.

Again in mid-November, Mr. Hughes was named as one of two men cited annually for outstanding lay service to the Methodist Church by the Indianapolis District of the Church.

Secretary Appointed

JAMES S. MORISON, Florida, '50, has accepted appointment as a field secretary of Delta Tau Delta. He began his work November 3 and has already visited several chapters of the Fraternity.

A Tennessean by birth, Jim has called Riviera Beach, Florida, his home in recent years. His military service was completed prior to his enrollment at the University of Florida in February, 1947. He served for three years in the Air Force, most of that duty being with the 9th Air Force in England and France. He attained the rank of sergeant.

JAMES S. MORISON

At Florida, Jim majored in personnel management in the College of Business Administration and got his practical experience by being president of Delta Zeta Chapter his senior year. In addition, he represented his chapter as a delegate to the 59th Karnea. He also held numerous other jobs in the chapter organization.

After graduation, Jim became an assistant field director for the American Red Cross. His principal assignment was to provide counseling service to the armed forces. He was located at Cherry Point, North Carolina, and Charleston, South Carolina.

Versatility Trademark of Delt TV Announcer

The hardest-working, most talented, and most experienced television operative in the Nation's Capital is a Delt from the Gamma Delta Chapter at West Virginia. "Ray Michael," as he is known to millions of viewers, appears regularly on the American Forum of the Air program to handle the commercials. This is a coast-to-coast program which features discussions of timely topics by persons prominent in politics, business, and industry.

After graduating from West Virginia, Ray joined the staff of WMMN at Fairmont and remained there until 1938, when he moved over to WLW, Cincinnati's powerful Crosley station. On January 1, 1939, he received an appointment by the National Broadcasting Company as an announcer on its Washington staff.

Ray Michael was the first radio announcer in Washington to make what was then considered a very risky switch to television. He was a top "voice" for the NBC and had been for over ten years, but the new media had an appeal which fitted into his flair for gambling with future progress.

Since the big step in August, 1947, Ray has done virtually every type television broadcast possible. You will find his name on the Washington "first" list as the TV announcer who covered the first professional hockey and basketball games televised in the RAY MICHAEL, top TV announcer in Nation's Capital.

Nation's Capital. In other sports, he has covered college and high school football games, professional baseball, college basketball, tennis, bowling, ice skating, horse shows, roller skating, wrestling, boxing, and anything else you can name.

His range in other entertainment fields on TV has been equally versatile, including drama, variety shows, news, and special events, the latter including Presidential inaugurations, White House speeches by the Chief Executive, and numerous political and civic functions.

Ray is a good-natured guy with worlds of personality. He is proud of his membership in Delta Tau Delta, and in spite of his busy program of assignments, he finds the time to attend weekly luncheons of the National Capital Alumni Association. At Founders Day dinners, rather than sit at the head table, he prefers to sit with the actives to learn something of their present-day problems and how he can be of assistance to them.

During World War II, Ray was an extremely busy individual. In all, he spent four years in the services, first for 18 months as a public relations officer with the Coast Guard and the remainder with the Air Force and the Air Transport Command. He was master of ceremonies of the ATC's "Contact Caravan," official entertainment unit of the command, and he served in other capacities as the occasion warranted.

ROBERT NEWBY

BOB BEARD, Number Two center of the Bowling Green eleven.

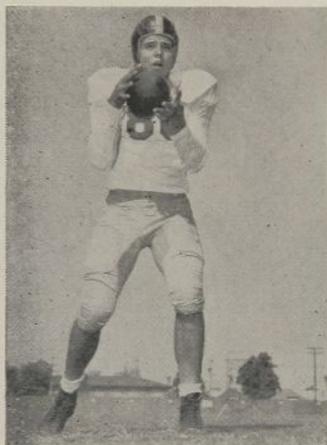

HUGH SCHICK, Number Two fullback in the Bowling Green line-up.

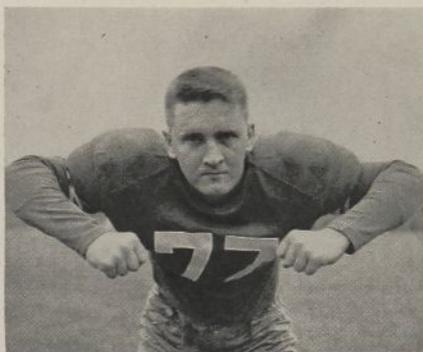

DICK KNOWLES, University of Kansas lineman.

JOE FINK, Kansas guard, whose defensive play this season has been outstanding.

TOM NICKOLOFF, pass-snatching end of the powerful U.S.C. Trojans.

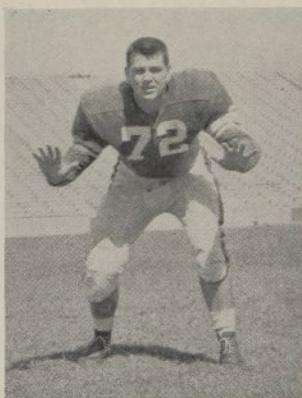

Captain JACK DELAHUNTY, W. & L., is "Jack of all Trades"—chapter president, campus leader, and outstanding tackle.

GENE DANSER, first-string offensive tackle for Penn State team.

MIKE GILLIS, senior and co-captain, has led Wabash to good season as halfback.

Former End JERRY PAULSON holds down first-string guard position at Nebraska.

Fall Gridiron Roundup

A SURE-FIRE WAY to start a lively argument these days is to crawl well out on the proverbial limb by picking an all-Delt football team. That ticklish option is being reserved for the hundreds of avid Delt sports followers, and to aid them in their pursuit, THE RAINBOW again publishes the complete rundown on the Delt stalwarts who have added another page to gridiron history this fall.

In the lists that follow, you will find material enough to make the gloomiest coach turn handsprings. For within the Delt ranks are such talents as: four team captains, six veterans of the 1952 Rose Bowl, a guard who can punt 96 yards, an A.P. Lineman of the Week, two passers who have established new records, and a halfback who was named most valuable athlete of his school. Three of these Delts are also presidents of their chapters.

Our source of information is principally the undergraduate chapter RAINBOW correspondents. Any player who receives a starting assignment on either the offensive or defensive units of his school is listed as first-string.

CENTERS

Among the dynamos in this season's crop of pivotmen are Jones, of Georgia, whose work as a defensive linebacker has enabled the Bulldogs to hold strong opponents in check, and O'Shaughnessy, of Michigan, who plays with the Wolverines' offensive unit, rated high in the Big Ten field.

First-string: William McHenry, W. & L.; Van Fucilla, DePauw; Hurley Jones, Georgia; Michael Marmion, Butler; Donald Haffner, Northwestern; Richard O'Shaughnessy, Michigan.

Reserve: Richard O'Conner, DePauw; Robert Beard, Bowling Green.

GUARDS

As in years past, there is again great strength at the guard position. George O'Brien, Wisconsin, captains an aggressive Badger eleven this year. Against Iowa, he surprised everyone by proving that he can kick as well as block and tackle. His punt, the first in his collegiate career, traveled 96 yards and was the longest in what the Big Ten calls its "modern era" since 1939.

Another standout guard of the Big Ten is Illinois' Bob Lenzini, one of the stars of the 1952 Rose Bowl. Bob, who is actually a guard switched to tackle, won the Associated Press Lineman of the Week award in November. He took top honors in the poll for his sterling defensive work on November 1 as the Illini upset Michigan 22-13.

Joe Fink, Kansas, is still another fine defensive guard, leading the Jayhawks to an outstanding season.

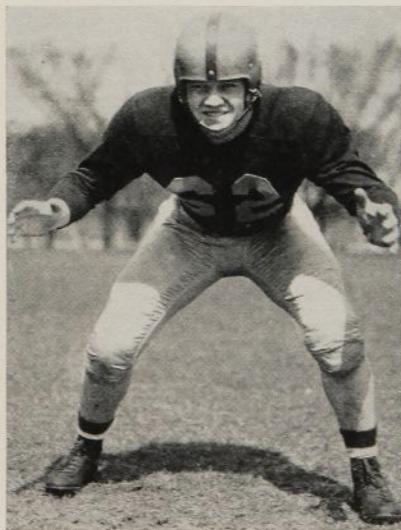

Two offensive stars, to round out the representation at this position, are: Tom McCormick, Northwestern, and Allen Paulson, Nebraska.

First-string: Thomas McCormick, Northwestern; George O'Brien, Wisconsin (captain); Allen Paulson, Nebraska; Joe Fink, Kansas; Bob Lenzini, Illinois; Robert Morey, Hillsdale; William Kindig, Lafayette; Jerry Murphy, W. & L.; Gary Rutledge, DePauw; Charles Boltin, Butler; James Trumbower, Wesleyan.

TACKLES

There are two chapter presidents holding down first-string tackle assignments, and one of them is also captain of his team. They are Dick Polhemus, of Lafayette, and Jack Delahunty, of W. & L. Delahunty captains the W. & L. gridders.

Rated as two of the best tackles in the nation, both towers of strength on the defense, are Klamann, Colorado, and Ellena, U.C.L.A. Klamann, who stands 6'4" and weighs 210 pounds, has helped the Buffalos maintain a top position in the Big Seven. Ellena, an eager ballhawk and an alert defender on pass interceptions, is one of the reasons that U.C.L.A. at this writing is regarded as the most likely to succeed in representing the Pacific Coast in the Rose Bowl.

Reserve: Dave Forgan, Colorado; Wes Ritchey, Cincinnati; Cal Bender, Kansas; Ross Ausborn, Oklahoma; Don Glantz, Nebraska.

ENDS

Reserve: Bill Postula, Michigan State; Dick Mikkelson, Colorado; William Scheidecker, Stanford; Troy Hand, Texas; Jim Lines, Kansas State; Jerry Yeager, Nebraska.

QUARTERBACKS

Delts have three excellent field generals in Venzke, Colorado; Root, Miami; and Borton, Ohio State.

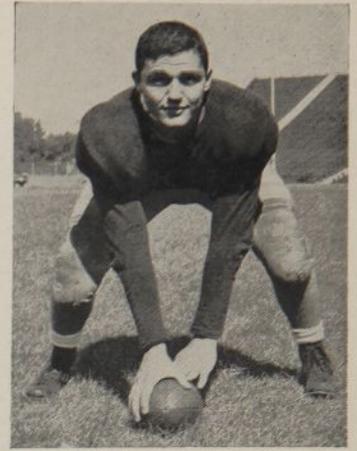

Venzke, playing in his senior year,

EDWARD DEMYAN, starting end for the Northwestern Wildcats.

DONALD HAFFNER, center, one of the bulwarks in Northwestern's forward wall.

JOHN DAMORE, Northwestern linebacker and center, key man in Wildcat defense.

TOM MCCORMICK, who draws the starting guard assignment in Northwestern's offensive line-up.

LLOYD ISRAELS, breakaway halfback of the Northwestern University Wildcats.

JACK ELLENA, U.C.L.A. defensive tackle, whose alert tackling and ballhawking have made his team a West Coast power.

RON JOHNSON, Colorado halfback, major factor in Buffs' offensive drive.

CARROLL HARDY, Colorado halfback, fast, shifty ball carrier.

Tackle BOB KLAMANN, Colorado, standout defensive star.

LEE VENZKE, Colorado quarterback, adept play-caller for Big Seven contenders.

has shown unusual ability to call the right play at the right time. This talent, combined with his all-around play, has enabled him to lead Colorado to impressive victories.

The Redskins of Miami ride the football crest on the deadly pitching arm of Jim Root. Last year he broke the Mid-American Conference record for pass completions.

The Buckeyes of Ohio State have shown a powerful offensive thrust in the Big Ten race mainly as a result of the quarterbacking and passing of Sophomore John Borton. Against Washington State, for example, he passed for five touchdowns.

First-string: Lee Venzke, Colorado; John Borton, Ohio State; James Root, Miami; Lowell Benson, Ohio Wesleyan; Bill Eddy, Baker.

Reserve: Don Stroup, Ohio; Skip Diederich, Western Reserve; Lyle Van Horne, Colorado; Jim Parker, Colorado; Doug Stowell, California; Don Zalick, Cincinnati.

LINEBACKERS

The three linebackers on our Delt roster are: John Damore, Northwestern; Charles Essegian, Stanford; and Ted Tanner, Stanford.

Tanner and Essegian, rated as two of the top defenders on the Pacific Coast, are also veterans of the 1952 Rose Bowl game. In the second half of that contest, Essegian accounted for about one-third of all Indian tackles. This season he also fills in occasionally on the offense as understudy to Fullback Bob Mathias.

FULLBACKS

The standout at this position, of course, is Bill Tate, Illinois, winner of the Most Valuable Player Award in the 1952 Rose Bowl classic. In that game, he gained 150 yards by rushing, which is just one yard short of the Rose Bowl record.

Tate has been hampered by injuries this season, which has kept him from really getting up a full head of steam. Even so, he is rated among the best running backs of the Big Ten.

In the small-college loop, Ron Fraley spearheads the Kenyon offense and is captain of his team.

First-string: Ronald Fraley, Kenyon (captain); Lloyd Israels, Northwestern; Bill Tate, Illinois; Doug Thompson, Miami; Mark Eixenberger, South Dakota; Preston Bradley, Florida State (also plays guard).

Reserve: Wally Degree, W. & L.; Marshall Hoffman, Colorado; Steve Dimeff, California; Bob Bauman, Missouri; Ted Frostenson, Idaho; Hugh Shick, Bowling Green.

HALFBACKS

As has been customary in recent years, the halfback position is the most heavily staffed with Delts. At Colorado, for instance, Delts have two fine ball carriers in Johnson, a junior, and Hardy, a sophomore. Both are fast, shifty runners and have been a responsible factor in Colorado's offensive punch.

Cook, of Stanford, is remembered for his consistent ground-gaining in the Rose Bowl. He is having another good season with the Indians.

Gillis, Wabash, plays with both the offensive and defensive units. He is cocaptain of the Little Giants.

Russ Eggers, Wesleyan, who is also a regular on both offense and defense, extends his achievements to other fields as well. President of Gamma Zeta Chapter, he is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and was recently named winner of the William Day Leonard Prize which is awarded the outstanding member of Wesleyan's senior class.

Shawver, DePauw, continues as a backfield ace for the Old Gold after being named the University's most valuable athlete last year.

Reserve: Bruce Richardson, Kenyon; Ed McFarland, DePauw; Lawrence "Max" Schmitt, Minnesota; Red Scarff, Colorado; John Gilmore, Stanford; Bob Santee, Oklahoma; Jack Santee, Oklahoma; Max Kennedy, Nebraska (out at midseason with broken arm); Robert Dilatush, Cornell.

F. Darrell Moore Cited to D.S.C.

DARRELL MOORE, caught in an informal moment in his office at Purdue University.

Chapter, which was presented to him on October 5:

FREDERICK DARRELL MOORE
Ohio, '16

For more than thirty-five years constant in his devotion and loyalty to Delta Tau Delta on the undergraduate chapter, Division, and National Fraternity levels, as Chapter Adviser, House Corporation Officer, Vice-President and President of the Eastern Division, Supervisor of Scholarship, and as the special representative of the Fraternity in many difficult and vital assignments which have contributed immeasurably to its growth and progress; firm in his convictions, without regard to personal consequences when the welfare and future security of the Fraternity are concerned; ever willing to serve as ardently in the ranks as in official capacity; his distinguished record of achievements and lifelong allegiance to the Delt ideal mark him as the good fraternity man and the Good Delt.

Following is the text of Mr. Moore's Citation to the Distinguished Service

Journal of Max Ehrmann, D.S.C., Hailed by Critics as Inspiring Book

MAX EHREMAN, DePauw, '94, former Editor of THE RAINBOW whose writings during his lifetime earned him the tribute "student of the human heart," is further revealed as a thoughtful philosopher and scholar in The Journal of Max Ehrmann, edited by Bertha K. Ehrmann and published recently by Bruce Humphries, Inc., of Boston.

The book consists of the informal and often sketchy reflections of Mr. Ehrmann from 1917 to 1936. His faith in the possible goodness and worth of life is reflected. "It is the common fate of thinkers to travel these same paths . . ." he writes, "I wish to write the things that help me to live, a testimonial to the worth of life."

Max Ehrmann was born in Terre Haute, Indiana, and lived much of his life there as a lawyer, deputy prosecuting attorney, and in the business world. After being graduated from DePauw, he spent two years at Harvard doing graduate work in law and philosophy.

There are frequent mentions of Kendrick Babcock, Minnesota, '89, who was Ehrmann's roommate at Harvard. "Often when listening to music," he writes, "I recall friends now dead. Then the tragedy of life stuns me. Where are they—Herndon Moore, George Summer Kittridge, Kendrick Babcock . . .?"

Babcock, who was President of Delta Tau Delta from 1893 to 1899, remained Ehrmann's fast friend throughout life. Ehrmann records some of his visits to the University of Illinois, where Babcock was Dean of Arts and Sciences for 18 years.

One is struck by the humility of Mr. Ehrmann's philosophy and the sincerity of his insistence that money is not the goal of living. Through the book, also, runs a thread of good humor, as for instance this passage:

"What as satisfying as the approval of one's kin! But that is often difficult to achieve. I went to Harvard. My five nephews, as they grew up, from time to time looked me over critically—and went to Yale."

For the person who delights in serious inquiry into the perplexing puzzles of life, The Journal is a satisfying study.

During his lifetime, Mr. Ehrmann was well known to a great many Deltas. Besides having been an Editor of THE RAINBOW, he served a term as President of the Northern Division, and in 1937 was accorded the Fraternity's highest honor—a Citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter.

The Rainbow Reaches Diamond Anniversary

THE RAINBOW, official journal of Delta Tau Delta, completed its 75th year of continuous publication this fall. It is the third oldest college fraternity magazine which has had uninterrupted publication.

New Delt Home

Located at 416 Beacon Street, in Boston, this is Beta Nu Chapter's new Shelter at M.I.T. Moving from their old location in Brookline, members made the transition just in time for rush week this fall.

First page of the first issue of The Crescent (renamed THE RAINBOW), published 75 years ago this fall.

The first issue of The Crescent (renamed THE RAINBOW in 1885) was printed in Cincinnati, Ohio, on September 15, 1877. William C. Buchanan, '73, was its editor, and J. P. L. Weems, Hanover, '76, was his assistant. Buchanan relinquished his duties to Weems after two issues.

Saves President Hoover

CREDITED WITH saving the life of the only living ex-President of the United States, Herbert Hoover, is William W. Jenney, Jr., Santa Barbara, '52.

Bill, as he was known around the Shelter, spotted a fire last summer in the mountain lodge at Silver Lake, California, where Hoover was a guest. Jenny rushed over, broke in the door, and aroused the occupants before the fire burned the residence to the ground. His quick thinking saved not only the life of Mr. Hoover but also the lives of Nate Milnor, San Francisco importer and owner of the house, Bert Matter, president of the Honolulu Oil Company, and several servants.

Bill, a geology major, was graduated from Santa Barbara College in June, 1952. During the two years he was an active member of Delta Psi Chapter he organized fraternity talent for college shows, appeared in many campus productions, and served on the pledge education committee for three semesters.

Correction on Olympics

THE STORY of the 1952 Olympiad, which appeared in the September issue of THE RAINBOW, made a serious, though inadvertent, mistake in omitting the name of a Delt individual event winner of years past.

Robert W. King, Stanford, '28, won the Olympic gold medal in the high jump at Amsterdam in 1928 with a leap of 6' 4 $\frac{3}{8}$ ". He was also the National A.A.U. high jump champion in that year and set a new intercollegiate record of 6' 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ ".

The 1928 Olympiad also saw three other Delts win gold medals in team events. Emerson L. Spencer, Stanford, '27, was a member of the U. S. 1600-meters relay team which swept to victory in that race. Marvin F. Stalder, California, '27, and Carroll W. Dressler, California, '28, were members of the University of California eight-oared shell crew which won its event for the United States.

Hermon E. Phillips, Butler, '27, of the Illinois Athletic Club, placed third in the 400-meter run that year.

THE RAINBOW is grateful to Gerald G. Stewart, Stanford, '27, for bringing the omission to its attention.

6. Broader provision for meeting the need for psychiatric screening centers;

7. Provision for detention and adequate care of criminal psychopathic patients for whom there is now no special program of medical care; and

8. Medical and surgical units in all state-operated hospitals to be brought up to standards required of teaching hospitals in order that they may be utilized by the medical schools in training more and better doctors for the state of Georgia and in order that such institutions may benefit from the increased personnel that would be made available through the creation of a system of rotating internships and residencies for graduate medical students.

The establishment of a co-ordinated program such as that outlined above will do much to place the state of Georgia in the forefront of medical progress, and, in such event, a large share of the credit must be given to Dr. Kelly.

No biographical sketch of Dr. Kelly would be complete without at least an itemization of some of his other achievements and honors which entitled him to prominent recognition in Who's Who. Dr. Kelly is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Alpha Omega Alpha, honorary fraternities. He was in 1926-1927 a research associate of Cornell University Medical School, Department of Anatomy (on leave), and Secretary of the Council on Medical Science and Public Relations of the American Medical Association, January 1 to June 30, 1944 (on leave). In 1932 Dr. Kelly was awarded a gold medal by the Georgia Medical Association in recognition of a paper read by him at its annual meeting. Dr. Kelly is a Fellow of the American Medical Association and a member of the American Association of Anatomists and the Georgia Academy of Science.

Dr. Kelly receives his greatest satisfaction, however, from his work in the field of marital relations. He is author of the widely-distributed, authoritative Sex Manual, for Those Married or About to Be (1945), distributed on doctors' prescription only. His wide practical knowledge and friendly counsel have contributed to the rehabilitation of many marriages, and he still toys with the idea of entering the private practice of medicine in this, his chosen field. Georgia, however, needs very much a man with the clear vision and practical application of Dr. Kelly, who is concerned with the broad public aspects of medicine, and we venture the prediction that Dr. Kelly will continue to heed his clear-cut call to public duty at his present post.

SERVICE

Two Life Members of Delta Tau Delta serving in the same combat unit in Korea discovered after several months that they are brother Delts.

They are: Capt. STEWART C. MOODY, U.C.L.A., '47, commanding H. Company, 224 Infantry, 40th Division, and Major EDMUND R. HODSON, Ohio State, '34, commanding 2nd Battalion, 224 Infantry, 40th Division.

The photograph (p. 83) shows them at Koje-do, Prisoner of War Camp, where the unit was charged with security of prisoners of war after their outfit was relieved from the battle line (February to June, 1952).

Capt. Moody was recently rotated to the States following 15 months in the far East and Korea.

It was revealed recently that 2nd Lt. DAVID J. JONES, Ohio, '51, is stationed at Thule Air Base, Greenland. His assignment as base training officer has until now been cloaked in the secrecy which has protected the building of this vital outpost in the air defense of the United States.

Lt. Jones (see cut) "enjoys" a unique assignment. Here's how the Greenland PRO handout describes it:

"Multi-million dollar Thule Air Base is the farthest north of all Air Force installations, a scant 930 icy miles from the North Pole. In two short summers it has mushroomed from a rough, rocky airstrip with a dozen shacks to a giant all-year airhead, with weather-tight barracks, hot and cold running water, electric lights, and other 'normal' comforts of life which are totally unexpected in this ice-locked land of numbing cold.

"Commanded by Colonel Robert W. Humphreys of Wayne, Pennsylvania, the men of the Air Force here maintain their unending vigil, standing guard through the long winter night when temperatures drop to a mind-numbing 40 below zero and gales spring up without warning, hurtling ferociously across the base with speeds as high as 150 miles an hour.

"Under these conditions, just staying alive becomes a major problem. If caught outside, men strive to find the ropes which are strung along all roads to serve as life lines to the nearest building, so they may fight their way to safety against the deadly whip of the arctic wind which can freeze exposed skin in 30 seconds.

"These are the conditions at a site which was selected because of the comparative 'mildness' of the weather! On the bleak Ice Cap itself, temperatures drop to 80 and go below zero, and winds go up to 200 miles an hour or more.

"This Northeast Air Command defense bastion is located on the West Coast of Greenland, a Danish colony, and is the product of a joint military agreement between Denmark and the United States under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Strategically situated on the polar air lanes, the control of which will be a major prize in any future war, it serves as a primary support for the defense of the free nations of the Western Hemisphere."

Midshipman First Class FRANK W. GUNN, Idaho, '53, was among 78 naval trainees aboard the USS Moale during the annual summer training cruises for Naval Reserve midshipmen.

Gunn and fellow students served as part of the crew to gain practical experience in engineering, communications, navigation, and gunnery to supplement their academic studies. The seven-week cruise took them to Antwerp, Belgium; Lisbon, Portugal; and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Second Lt. ARTHUR G. DIVER, Delaware, '51, former president of Delta Upsilon Chapter, recently was graduated from the XVI Corps Leader's School at Camp Matushima, Japan. The school gives intensive training in Army tactics, organization, and administration.

Diver, a member of the Organized Reserve Corps, entered the Army in September, 1951, and is serving as a forward observer in Battery A of the 77th Field Artillery Battalion.

Pfc. JOHN T. LEACH, Illinois, '51, writing from Korea early in August, reports that . . . Well, here, let him tell it in his own words:

"I'm with an engineer outfit located on the Central Front near Kumhwa in the Manning one of the 40-MM anti-aircraft guns aboard the USS Valley Forge are: L. NATHANIEL FITTS, Colorado, vice-president, Lincoln Savings & Loan, Los Angeles, (seated in foreground); THOMAS J. CUNNINGHAM, U.C.L.A., Judge, Superior Court of Los Angeles, (standing in rear); and EARLE C. ADAMS, Stanford, attorney, (extreme right). They were aboard the giant aircraft carrier as cruise guests of the Under Secretary of the Navy while the ship was on a five-day training cruise off the coast of California.

'Iron Triangle' area. The present battle line is about four miles north of us, but because of our control of the air, we are never bothered by enemy attacks of any kind. Our job is building and maintaining the supply roads to the front lines in this sector. That is a tremendous job, especially when it rains for six days in a row, as it did last week. . . .

"I surely wish I could be at the Karnea this summer. . . . I'll be thinking of all the Delts."

Many Delts will remember John as a former president of Beta Upsilon Chapter.

D. C. "CHRIS" WHITTLE, Ohio Wesleyan, '49, is serving as assistant public relations officer of the Heidelberg Military Post, U. S. Army, Heidelberg, Germany. Mr. Whittle reports that he was married July 19 to the former Miss Pat Healy, of Passaic, N. J., who is a secretary in the Heidelberg office of Post Intelligence.

JOHN C. RUSSELL, Ohio State, '53, arrived in Korea last June for overseas military service.

HAROLD V. GEDNEY, JR., W. & J., '51; CHARLES E. DEWITT, Kenyon, '51, Wisconsin, '51; and JACK WALLACE, former pledge of Gamma Iota Chapter (Texas), received their commissions as second lieutenants of infantry in the same class after having completed officer candidates' school at Fort Benning, Georgia, last summer.

Basic Airman NEVILLE R. ARMITAGE, Bowling Green, was presented the American Spirit Honor Medal by Lt. Col. WILLIAM HOY.

Midshipmen CHARLES STONER, GEORGE HANSEN, and RICHARD STUMBO get in a little conversation about the "good ole days" while aboard the light cruiser USS Roanoke. Stoner and Hansen are from the Wisconsin chapter and Stumbo is a former pledge of that chapter.

Midshipman First Class FRANK GUNN, Idaho, takes a closer look at a sign while touring Fatima in Lisbon, Portugal.

Congressman DEWEY SHORT and Lt. DONALD L. PIERCE, Maryland, '50, meet in Korea. Their last meeting was at the 1948 Founders Day banquet in Washington.

The Deltas pictured above are part of the 1,150 midshipmen embarked in ten ships of Cruise Baker. These men are aboard the USS New Jersey and are as follows: First row, RONALD LENGVEL, Tufts, FRED KING, Tufts, and CHARLES HUSTED, Colorado. Second row, ROBERT McWHORTER, Illinois Tech, WILLIAM GORENFLO, Miami, ROBERT MEEKS, Iowa State, JAMES BOONE, Colorado, and DAVID JORDAN, Illinois Tech. Third row, ALEXANDER ROSS, Colorado, JAMES HART, Cornell, WILLIAM VICKROY, Cornell, ANDREW VAN SICKLE, Northwestern, JAMES MCGINN, Northwestern, and ALAN PRICE, Michigan. Fourth row, JACK NELSON, Miami, JO FRENCH, Colorado, RICHARD KEYSER, Illinois Tech, WILBUR LAYMAN, Tufts, and KENNETH COFFEY, Northwestern.

DeWitt has been transferred to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, and Wallace to Camp Polk, Louisiana. Gedney completed airborne training at Fort Benning and was assigned to Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Cpl. WILLIAM G. OHLENROTH, Michigan, '51, former president of Delta Chapter, is a radio repairman with the counterfire platoon of the 2d Infantry Division's 9th Regiment in Korea. He entered the Army shortly after graduation in 1951, received basic training and radio-school instruction at Fort Jackson, S. C., and joined the 2d Division in Korea last April.

Ohlenroth was a member of the Michigan football team which scored the Rose Bowl upset of California at the close of the 1950 season. He started at offensive tackle for the Wolverines.

Second Lt. CHARLES L. SAXE, JR., Albion, '51, George Washington, '51, received his commission in the Air Force in September and has reported recently to Lowry Field, Colorado.

Pvt. PAUL E. McNULTY, George Washington, '52, entered the Army in September and is currently receiving basic training at Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

Second Lt. JOHN F. FOLTZ, George Washington, '51, a veteran of World War II, was called to active duty in October for a four-month training tour at Ft. Lee, Va. Lt. Foltz served his chapter as RAINBOW correspondent until recently.

First Lt. HAROLD W. MOORE, Cincinnati, '50, was pilot of one of two helicopters which attempted last summer the first trans-Atlantic crossing by such aircraft. The flight began at Westover Field, Mass., and terminated at Weisbaden, Germany.

After the flight had been successfully completed, one of the two 'copters took part in a rescue mission a few days later.

Lt. (j.g.) COURTLEY M. NIMAN, Butler, '48, is stationed at the U. S. Naval Station in Coco Solo, Canal Zone. He has been there nearly two years.

Capt. TOM C. ALLEN, Tennessee, '43, is assigned to the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, in the office of the District Engineer, Alaska District.

CHARLES T. GOODMAN, Indiana, '50, and JOHN P. WADE, Miami, '53, are stationed at Erding Air Depot, Erding, Germany, with the U. S. Air Force. They have found many opportunities to swap tales of college and Fraternity life.

Ensign RUELL B. PARCHMAN, Butler, '50, who was graduated from the Naval Supply Corps School at Bayonne, N. J., in September, is stationed at an amphibious base in Coronado, California, where he serves as assistant to the supply and fiscal officer. He reports that several Deltas were graduated with him from the Supply Corps School, some of them with exceptionally high marks.

Among those Deltas are DAVID W. SALTER, Georgia, '50, who is now exchange officer of the naval station at Alameda, Cal., and HUBERT G. STOKELY, Stanford, '51, who is stationed at Yokosuka, Japan, as disbursing officer.

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Alpha—Allegheny

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Because of the resignation of several chapter office holders, new officers were elected to the vacated offices at the second meeting of the Alpha Chapter. To the vice-presidency was elected Dane Hannum, a junior who has been the activities chairman. Elected as the Alpha Chapter's representative on the Allegheny I.F.C. was Ned Curtis, a junior. Gerry Cotton was elected to the office of assistant treasurer and Bob Ozmun and Dan Bratton were selected to positions in the ritual of the Fraternity.

CONTRIBUTE TO SOCCER TEAM

Delta Tau Delta is making a sizable contribution to the 1952 Allegheny College soccer team. Besides Manager Dan Bratton, there are seven Alpha Deltas on the squad. Those on the starting team are Halfback John Gow, Halfback Bob Ozmun, Right Inside Al Monstrom, and Right Wing Dane Hannum. The other Deltas who are on the team are second-string Goalie Don Sayer, reserve Halfback John Biekarc, and reserve Halfback Bob Heile. Altogether the Deltas comprise one-fourth of the total squad and over one-third of the starting team.

TEA OPENS SOCIAL SEASON

The social calendar of the Alpha Chapter got off to its customary fine start with a tea and reception at the chapter house on Sunday afternoon, October 5. Close to 400 students, teachers, and administration members visited the house. The success of this tea was due greatly to the efforts of Steward Jack Olofson, Social Chairman Chris Conway, House Manager Ronny Damm, and Grounds Chairman Arvid Klien.

Beta—Ohio

RUSH BRINGS FORTH 20 PLEDGES

Thanks to the many alumni recommendations and the efforts of Rush Chairman Don Pease, Beta Chapter pledged "the top 20 men." They are: John Crawford, Jim Delaney, Dick DeLong, Bob DiCicco, Dennis Grady, Dick McClain, Dick Watson, Ron Tompkins, Rodger Swardson, Don Kramer, Tad Potter, Jim Kineth, Bill Williamson, Art Williams, Hank Schnabel, Jim Monroe, John Dowler, Tom McMillan, Jim Jackson, and Bob Yocum, a combination of scholarship, athletics, and activities.

BID FOR SPORTS TROPHIES

Once again football season and homecoming head our way. The Deltas are bidding strongly for both trophies. For the past two years we have taken homecoming house decorations and are looking for the third. This year's football and tennis teams are undefeated so far. The tennis team is looking for a repeat of last year's championship and the football team is determined to avenge last year's defeat in the finals.

The annual Circus Party was again the top social event of the year. Deltas picked up their dates in two animal cages led by the enlarged "Delt Marching Band." Sawdust covered the inside of the Shelter and life-sized cartoons decorated the walls.

Gamma—W. & J.

CHAPTER BAGS LIMIT IN RUSHING

Because of a renewed enthusiasm and a strong determination to come out on top, 15 Gamma Delt actives and five pledges completed this fall one of Gamma Chapter's most successful rushing programs in many years. When the final whistle had blown, Gamma found herself with her limit of 12 freshman and two sophomore pledges. Much of the credit for our success in rushing this year must be given to Al McGhee and his hard-working rushing committee.

Each member and pledge in the chapter has been put on the Fraternity committee through which he can give the most service to the chapter. Two men with heavy responsibilities are Norman Sirianni and Jerry Harshman. Sirianni, as pledgemaster, is involved in making our "good pledges" "good Deltas." Harsh-man is scholarship chairman and is working toward raising the chapter's scholastic average.

STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT

In school affairs Deltas are to be found in positions of leadership in practically every organization. Bill Inglis is serving his second year as president of Student Council. He is also president of Kera and Phi Sigma. Bob Lynch is leading the pre-med society and Mike Liles is president of the Student Service Union. Charles McMillan is secretary of the SSU.

Gamma Chapter's president, John Inglis, is also president of the Interfraternity Council, the Friday Fellowship, and secretary-treasurer of Phi Delta Epsilon. Deltas are active in every school organization without exception.

SHERRARD PRESENTS GIFT TO CHAPTER

The chapter would like to make known its sincere appreciation of the gift given by Robert M. Sherrard: a jeweled Delt badge and an early history of Delta Tau Delta. The badge was presented in memory of all the members of Mr. Sherrard's family who are Gamma Deltas.

The Sherrard family has been outstanding in Gamma Chapter since 1886, and it is with genuine honor and appreciation that we of the undergraduate chapter accept this valuable gift.

Delta—Michigan

GLEE CLUB SINGS FOR FROSH

Delta Chapter opened the 1952-53 school year by formally initiating five new members: Andrew Kaul, Samuel R. DiFrancesco, Robert Max Danials, John Peirce, and Robert Dombrowski.

The chapter had the pleasure of singing before an introductory rushing meeting of some 700 rushees. We sang "The Love Story" and "De Animals A' Comin'," the two songs which have garnered the I. F. C. Sing trophy for us the past two years.

At the close of the two-week rushing period, in which a record number of 506 rushees pledged Michigan fraternities, Delta Chapter proudly acknowledged 30 fine pledges. Tom Schmidt has been appointed pledgemaster for the class. Jack Pinney, Bill Williams, and Jack Porrit will aid him as pledge trainers.

The Shelter has a new look this year. Two suites have been completely remodeled and new living room furniture has been purchased. The complete interior of the Shelter received a new paint job and all the brothers have used great ingenuity in decorating their rooms.

VARSIETY CENTER FOR WOLVERINES

In the line of sports, Dick O'Shaughnessy is once again holding down the varsity offensive center slot on the Michigan varsity, Dick, who hails from Seaford, N. Y., is also the Big Ten defending 177-pound wrestling champion.

Andy Kaul, 137-pound wrestling letter-winner, has already started working out for the coming season.

HEDNER IS GLEE CLUB PREXY

The Delts are once again well represented in the Michigan Men's Glee Club. Carl Hedner, Dick Gess, George Hardwick, Bruce Treweek, and Gene Fisher, one of the new pledges, are this year's Delt contributions. Carl, incidentally, is president of the Glee Club this year.

Zeta—Western Reserve

PLEDGE 15 MEN

Zeta Chapter began another successful year with the pledging of 15 men. Rush Chairman Art Akers and his committee are to be commended for their fine work. Among the pledges are Freshman Football Players Ted Bates and Jerry Murari. Bob Fleck and Pat Leighton are coplegged-masters and are educating the pledges in the ways of Delta Tau Delta.

ZETAMEN SEE ACTION ON VARSITY TEAM

Two Zetamen are seeing action in varsity football this fall; Skip Diederich as a reserve quarterback, and Letterman Pat Leighton as a first-string halfback. The chapter is also well represented on the soccer squad, as Bill Moley, a goalie, Norm McCreary, a fullback, and Tim Anzellotti, a wing, are all first-string men.

BID FOR ALL-SPORTS TROPHY

After winning the Intramural All-Sports Trophy for the second time last year, Zeta Chapter is out to win it again and thus gain permanent possession of it. Under the intramural managership of Norm McCreary, Zeta hopped off to an early lead, and hopes to hold it through the fall months of football, badminton, volleyball, and basketball.

DELTS IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Many men of the chapter are active on campus. Bob Fleck, Chuck Wiedman, and Ralph Engle serve on the University Senate, Ralph as president and Bob as treasurer. Bob is also president of the Phi Society. Jim Hathaway, Ned Brown, and Eugene Schwartz are members of the University marching band, which is in the process of rebuilding this fall. Gordon Bower serves on the staff of the Tribune-Record, the campus newspaper.

GET READY FOR HOMECOMING

The conversion of our annex to a meeting hall is first on the list of Zeta's plans for this fall. Then comes the construction of the annual homecoming float and house decorations, this year under the chairmanship of Tim Anzellotti.

Iota—Michigan State

WIN THIRD IN WATER CARNIVAL

Iota Chapter teamed with the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority to win third place and a coveted trophy in the third annual Michigan State College Water Carnival held last spring term. Grant Dalcour was the chairman for the winning float.

SPONSORS MANY ACTIVITIES

The Delts will team with the Pi Beta Phi Sorority and, again for the third straight year, will cosponsor the annual all-College Christmas tree lighting ceremony, held just before Christmas vacation.

Iota Chapter sponsored the first annual MSC Homecoming Queen Contestant Banquet this term at the Shelter. It is used as a briefer before the actual judging gets under way. Duane Vernon was College Homecoming Cochairman.

Jack Winklejohn has been elected treasurer of the MSC Student Congress for the 1952-53 year.

BOWLING TEAM TIES FOR TOP HONORS

The Iota bowling team, led by Earl Jarmoul and Paul Rabout, are tied for top honors in the IFC Bowling League, and thus far our IFC football team is unbeaten.

ELECTED PRESIDENT OF QUARTERMASTER FRATERNITY

Duane Vernon was elected national president of Phi Chi Eta, National Quartermaster Fraternity, at Fort Lee, Virginia, this summer.

Kappa—Hillsdale

AN ENGINEERING MASTERPIECE CREATED

As a result of the efforts of Kappa's active homecoming committee, our alumni will long remember that festive day in 1952. They were greeted by our massive football player applying Old Dutch Cleanser to a facsimile of the Dutchmen from Hope College and, we might add, quite vigorously! Under the able leadership of E. Daniel Barrett and Dick Armstrong and their mechanical ability, an engineering masterpiece was accomplished. It moved. Nay, even more, it shuddered, trembled, had convulsions, quaked, quivered, shook, and vibrated. Although our work of art did not take first place, nor second, nor third, it will be the display that will be remembered in the centuries to come.

LOWELL BENSON and AL BRANT, rush chairmen and Ohio Wesleyan student government wheels. Al is chairman of elections committee and Lowell is chairman of the facilities committee.

CHAPTER ENTERTAINS MANY ALUMNI

Kappa Chapter had the privilege of entertaining almost 70 alumni at the pregame banquet. Although many of our alumni were not able to attend, those present represented many states and many classes, with Chauncey Newcomer, '96, and William Willenar, '99, being the oldest.

GETTINGS CAPTAINS TWO SPORTS

This year as always we are well represented in sports. Bob Morey is holding down the first-string defensive guard position and John Lusk is playing defensive halfback. Our president, Dick Gettings, is captain of the basketball team, and when spring rolls around again will also be captain of the baseball team.

BUSY IN SCHOLASTIC AND SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Socially and scholastically, these past few months have been busy ones for the chapter. Striving to retain the scholarship trophy which was won last semester, the emphasis has been on study; however, the social life has not been neglected either. Our fall informal, The Bowery Ball, was held late in November. Having the theme of the Gay Nineties, it became necessary that all good brothers let their beards grow and our illustrious president set a fine example by letting his grow to the astounding length of four inches. His girl was simply tickled pink.

On October 19, Kappa Chapter celebrated its 85th birthday with a small informal party. We can only hope that the next 85 years bring about as much fellowship and brotherhood as the last 85 have.

Mu—Ohio Wesleyan

FIFTY RETURN

Fifty men returned to Mu Chapter this fall and immediately entered into what was to become a very successful rush week. Under the capable direction of Al Brant and Lowell Benson, the chapter netted 25 fine pledges. Three of these men have already earned varsity berths on Wesleyan's football team and should be a great asset to the team in the next three years.

TWO ACTIVE IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT

With rush week over, Al and Lowell turned their attention to student government activities. Al serves as chairman of the elections committee, and Lowell as chairman of the facilities committee.

SOCIAL SEASON IN FULL SWING

The chapter opened the social season with a serenade for the freshman women on September 27. On October 11, 70 Deltas and their dates crowded onto three wagons for a very enjoyable hay ride and wiener roast. Plans have also been made for an Ozark party and a winter formal.

VOLLEYBALL TEAM DEFENDS TITLE

Our volleyball team has thus far successfully defended its title as University champs by downing all comers. The freshman team is also undefeated.

With Bob Drake wielding the president's gavel, Mu Chapter is off to a fine start and is looking forward to another successful year.

Nu—Lafayette

IN HIGH GEAR ATHLETICALLY

Beginning the year with a successful rushing season, Nu Chapter has quickly shifted into high gear and is, as usual, one of the leading fraternities on the Lafayette campus. Bill Kindig and Dick Polhemus are playing varsity defensive guard and tackle on the Lafayette eleven, Howard Hendrickson again leads the Lafayette Band as head drum major, and Ed Hazard's intramural football team, although losing its first game, promises to be a tough team to beat.

TWO TAKE LEADING CAMPUS ROLES

Other Deltas in activities are Jack Madden, who was elected junior class treasurer, and Jim Casper, who, aside from being house manager, is coaching the Lafayette freshman football team. Five men from Nu Chapter are members of the College choir.

Scholastically, Nu's average was 6.29 points above the all-campus average. Socially, three parties have been held and plans are already being made for a roaring interfraternity week end.

Omicron—Iowa

ENTIRE CHAPTER RETURNS TO REDECORATE SHELTER

Omicron Deltas can look back upon a happy and profitable fall season. The season began September 9, with the entire chapter returning to put the Shelter in shape for the coming year. The redecoration begun in the summer was completed and the grounds were thoroughly reconditioned.

Tops on the list of improvements in most of the brothers' minds was the arrival of our new cook, whose ability, we believe, makes us the best-fed house on campus.

WELCOME NINE NEW PLEDGES

Rush week opened September 13, with all candidates reporting to the campus for temporary housing. Utilizing entertainment during evening dates and local sports facilities in the afternoons, Omicron built an effective rush-week program. Thursday, September 19, Omicron welcomed nine new pledges with a banquet at the Shelter.

GREEK WEEK OPENS

Greek Week on the Iowa campus opened

October 9 with interfraternity athletic competition in the field house. Saturday, October 11, saw all the sororities and fraternities joined in several public projects. They included work at a nearby tuberculosis sanatorium, cleaning of local park area, and work on a foreign student center. Sunday, the sororities were hostesses in an open house at each chapter house. Monday marked the end of Greek Week with exchange dinners among all the Greek organizations on campus.

HOLD OPEN HOUSE

October 18 marked the opening of Iowa's home football season. The Shelter entertained alumni and their families after the game at an open house. The open-house program continued at homecoming, against Ohio State, Dad's Day against Illinois, and the final home game against Notre Dame.

STAGES ANNUAL COSTUME BALL

On the social side of the ledger, in addition to informal week end parties, Omicron staged its annual costume ball, with a Walter Mitty theme, and laid plans for a gala winter formal early in January. November 1 marked a mass movement to Minneapolis for the Iowa-Minnesota game. We were guests of Beta Eta Chapter while there.

REPEATS INVITATION

Omicron repeats its invitation to neighboring chapters to visit us during the Iowa basketball season which opened December 1 against Butler. We here at Iowa are optimistic about talent to replace Chuck Darling and Company and again make a good season.

Rho—Stevens

TOTAL OF 46 OPENS COLLEGE YEAR

Spring rushing, both closed and open, finds Rho Chapter's list with a total of 46 brothers and pledges. Seven sophomores were initiated in November after a concentrated work week end, which helps the house show a new face to its visitors.

WILLIAM T. STANLEY,
Stevens

"TIN CAN" RATTLES THREE TO KARNEA

The Karnea was attended by Brothers Dick McCormack, Al Dierksen, and Steve Cuff, all seniors. The trip was made in the same tin can of a car that rattled to California and back in the summer of 1951, and Rho is glad to report its three brothers still in fair shape.

MARTIN AND ROGERS REPRESENT CHAPTER IN SPORTS

Ex-President Dave Martin is the only member of Rho returning to the varsity soccer team this year, and he is joined by Pledge Dick Rogers, also playing first string. Martin was at his best last spring during the lacrosse season. Playing attack, Dave led the team in scoring. He scored seven goals in a game against Lafayette and was given honorable mention as an all-American.

CHAPTER MOURNS DEATH OF WITT STANLEY

Rho Chapter was stunned this summer by the sudden and tragic death of Brother William T. Stanley, class of 1953, on July 31. We will never fully recover from this shock, for "Witt," as he was known to us all, was well liked for his keen sense of humor and friendliness of manner. Much could be said about "Witt." Rho Chapter and Delta Tau Delta Fraternity have lost a good man. He will never be gone from us and his guiding spirit will always be there.

Tau—Penn State

REDECORATED SHELTER GREETES ALUMNI

Seventy-five Deltas returned to the Shelter for Homecoming Week End on October 17-18. They were greeted by a newly refurbished house. The walls had been painted and the downstairs floors sanded, waxed, and varnished, in addition to miscellaneous painting of fixtures. Our lawn display was in keeping with the theme of Nittany Lion Harvest Time.

PLEDGING FILLS HOUSE

With the pledging of 13 new men, we once again have a full house of 44. Gene Danser is first-string offensive tackle on Penn State's as yet undefeated football team. Burt Houseworth, the first man ever to be given a full lacrosse scholarship to the college, is playing on the first squad in fall drills. Jim Rugh returns as head manager of the cross-country team, on which Fred Sprenkle is again a stand-out. Tom Anderson has been elected assistant wrestling manager and has been selected for membership in Blue Key, junior activities honorary.

NATIONAL PRESIDENT OF STUDENT GROUP

Deltas have also been active in non-athletic pursuits. President Tom Judge is the new president of the Penn State chapter of the Junior Hotel Men of America. Bob Dahle was elected national president of the Students' Farm Economic Association at that group's convention in Urbana, Illinois, last summer. He is also managing editor of the Ag Hill Breeze, the publication of the Penn State agricultural school.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Without Phi Chapter's contribution to Washington and Lee football, it is doubtful that the team's forward wall would be of much merit. Dan Popovich, Jerry Murphy, William P. McHenry, and Captain Jack Delahunty played important parts both on offense and defense. Wally "Shadow" Degree also saw considerable action in the backfield.

A CAMPUS GREAT

In the intramural football department Phi Chapter again lived up to its tradition of being a campus great, as it came through to win many games in fine style. Guiding the destructive Deltas to victory after victory was Quarterback Pogo Bobbit and his favorite receiver, Friday Erwin. Outstanding in the line were Richard Denny and other capable freshmen. Much credit for the team's success must be given to Coach Bob Ingram, who has retired from actual participation.

The chapter also excelled in tennis and bowling during the fall intramural season. Thanks to this fine start, Delta Tau Delta may again win the highly valued intramural cup.

TWO RETURN FROM ARMED FORCES

Phi Chapter was pleased this fall at the return from the services of two of its former brothers—Thomas Tongue, an All-American lacrosse player while in his prime, and Jack Beck, a law student. Another wholesome supplement to the Shelter is Tom Lohrey, a transfer from Western Reserve, who is quite a versatile fellow, intramurally and socially.

TWENTY PLEDGED

Rushing also was a great success this fall as 20 of the most outstanding men in the freshman class pledged Delta Tau Delta. They are: Charles Beall, Carl Bailey, Keith Belch, Clay Carr, Spencer Clark, James Farinholt, Charles Flanagan, Bill Frue, Bill Henley, Thomas Johnson, James Lewis, Bob McHenry, Gilbert McSpadden, Bill Person, Dud Ross, Bill Roush, Noel Spence, Don Stine, Harrison Stone, and Lee White.

Chi—Kenyon

NINE NEW PLEDGES

Once back on the "Hill" again and settled down to the business of preparation for the coming year, Chi found itself missing several brothers, two to the armed forces and four transfers. Spurred by these losses, the rushing committee went to work with the result that nine freshmen are now wearing pledge pins. The quality of these nine men can be seen by the fact that seven are on scholarships including two Baker scholars. Four are on the Kenyon football squad; three of those are on the first string.

WELL REPRESENTED ON FOOTBALL TEAM

The active chapter is represented on the football team by six men, led by Co-captain Ron Fraley. Five ChiDeltas are on the Lords' starting line-up. In intramural sports, Chi is once again taking the lead. The "Big Red" has won three and lost one in touch football and remains undefeated in badminton.

ACTIVE IN JOURNALISM AND DRAMATICS

ChiDeltas are also well represented in the fields of journalism and dramatics. Brothers Ed Ames and Bill Wendt are cast members of the forthcoming production of Bernard Shaw's Saint Joan. Brother Ted Lynch has been appointed editor of the school yearbook, the Reveille, and he is assisted by Brothers Dick Miller and Norman Nichol, business manager and advertising manager, respectively. Brother Jack Gammon has been made chairman of the College social committee.

READY FOR HOMECOMING

Highlighting the fall activities will be the College homecoming on October 18, and the Fall Dance Week End in November. The fraternities' project for the year will be the complete rejuvenation of the lodge. All in all it promises to be a successful year for Chi Chapter.

Omega—Pennsylvania

CHAPTER HOPES TO WIN SCHOLARSHIP AWARD AGAIN

Looking forward to a successful fall semester, the Omega Deltas returned to campus hoping to be able to uphold the past honor of winning the Sphinx Society Leadership Award for two years in a row.

ATHLETES ADDED TO RANKS

Added to the ranks was Steve Smith, a transfer Delt from Indiana University. Steve will try to continue his track ability on the Penn squad. Paul Jaeger, a member of last year's freshman crew, has also been pledged this fall.

Left, M. E. TROUT, president of Pennsylvania's I.F.C., and GEORGE REIDER, Omega Chapter's president.

TRYOUTS HELD FOR MASK AND WIG SHOW

Activities entered the picture with the tryouts for the famous Pennsylvania Mask and Wig Show. Nine Deltas were selected to participate in the show which includes a road trip through the eastern states. George Reider, house president, was given a lead role in this fall's show. Reider is also Abbott of the Friars Honor Society for the present year. Norm Stevens became the sixth Delt to accept a membership in a Senior Honor Society when he became a member of the Friars Honor Society.

SET OUT FOR FALL PRACTICE

Crew was once again the cry as the Penn crew set out for fall practice. Battling for varsity berths are Jack McDonnell and Charley Shaffer who has recently returned from duty with the Marines. Brothers Bart Leach and Bob Paulus are preparing for action with the Penn basketballers as practice began for an intensive campaign.

SHELTER HAS "NEW LOOK"

The Shelter has taken on a new look, as it was repainted and a new dining room floor put in. Rooms of all the brothers were painted and a general clean-up program took place in preparation for fall rushing, which began on October 27. A successful rushing period was looked forward to as Omega plans to continue as one of the outstanding Delt chapters.

Beta Alpha—Indiana

SPONSORS STREET DANCE

Beta Alpha started this school year by sponsoring a street dance, which we hope will become an annual affair.

DELTS ACTIVE ON CAMPUS

John Davis, graduating senior of 1952, who played outstanding ball as defensive halfback last year, has been appointed assistant freshman football coach at Indiana. John is also acting as counselor for Beta Alpha this year. Bob Leonard, forward on the Hoosiers' basketball team, has been nominated for Bachelor of the Year. In politics, Guy Mathew was successfully nominated for president of the sophomore class.

SHELTER REDECORATED

New furniture, a new rug, and fresh paint greeted us as we came back from summer vacation, putting the Shelter in fine shape for the coming year. Also, greeting us this year, was a new mascot, a boxer puppy named Doog.

BID FOR ATHLETIC CROWN

In the field of athletics, Beta Alpha is very hopeful of winning intramurals this year. Being undefeated in football and having strong support in other sports, we should capture the crown this year.

Beta Beta—DePauw

CHAPTER GROWS TO SEVENTY

Early in September Beta Beta welcomed a very promising 20-man pledge class to the Shelter, and on October 5, four men, Lee Inman, Jim Totman, Vic Voras, and Al Whittaker, were initiated into the chapter, giving us a total of almost 70 actives and pledges—the strongest house Beta Beta has had for many years.

SIX RETURN TO GRIDIRON

Six Deltas, Ward Shawver, Van Fucilla, Gary Rutledge, Travis Kendall, Ed McFarland, and Dick O'Conner, returned to the gridiron this fall, and two pledges, Bob Fink and Dick Brant, also saw varsity action. Shawver, who was voted DePauw's most valuable athlete last year, was again the outstanding figure in the Tiger backfield. In other fall sports, Jim Totman, sophomore veteran, and Gerry Herrmann, only a freshman, both earned varsity letters in cross-country.

CONVOCATION WEEK HELD

October 14-18 was Convocation Week at DePauw and featured many colorful ceremonies and events and throngs of visitors, parents and alumni. The week was climaxed on Saturday by the inauguration of Dr. Humbert, the new president of the University. The ceremonies were attended by Francis Hughes, representing the Arch Chapter, and by many Beta Beta alumni. After the inauguration an open house was held at the Shelter in honor of Mr. Hughes.

STRONG IN INTRAMURAL SPORTS

In intramural sports, the Delts finished fourth in golf and were also strong in speed ball and tennis. We are now well on the way to a successful intramural basketball season.

Beta Delta—Georgia

PLEDGE SEVENTEEN MEN

Beta Delta started the new year with a bang. President "Jug" Campbell returned to the Shelter early in order to start work on the redecoration of the Shelter for fall rush. Under his supervision, the lawn was replanted and the interior of the Shelter was repainted with all the brothers participating.

Led by Rush Chairman B. J. Clemence, Beta Delta pledged 17 outstanding men.

Rush booklets were sent to prospective pledges all over the state and several Delts established contact with boys living in their vicinity.

TULANE DELTS DONATE SKIN

Beta Delta was challenged by Beta Xi of Tulane to bet a skin on the Georgia-Tulane game played in New Orleans. Through the commendable efforts of Delt Hurley Jones, defensive linebacker, Georgia was able to edge out a victory. All Georgia Delts agree that the skin will look good in the Shelter.

SPONSORS BEAUTY REVIEW

Beta Delta will sponsor its beauty review in the near future, hoping to acquire a queen to represent the chapter in the yearbook of the University, The Pandora.

Beta Epsilon—Emory

FALL PLEDGING HAS GOOD RESULTS

Beta Epsilon came out with flying colors in the fall pledging this year. With a pledge class of eleven good men, the chapter looks forward to maintaining its outstanding scholastic record. Last year we were above the All Men's Average for the second straight time.

ADDITION TO SHELTER NEAR COMPLETION

For several years Delts at Beta Epsilon have gazed fondly at a drawing that hangs on their living-room wall—an architect's sketch of the proposed annex to the Shelter. They have looked forward to the day when that "proposed annex" would be a reality.

By last October that dream was close to realization, and as THE RAINBOW goes to press, the addition will be completed and the older section of the Shelter entirely redecorated. Already plans are being made for a spectacular open house to celebrate the event.

The annex, which is attached to the rear of the present Shelter, features a large new dining hall, game room, kitchen, bathroom, and six bedrooms. Ground windows in the dining room look out over an embankment onto the University gym and athletic field. French doors will lead onto a spacious terrace.

Game room and dining hall will be separated by folding doors which may be swung back to provide a large, L-shaped room for parties and open houses. The extra large kitchen will gleam with tile and white enamel.

Upstairs in the addition, six large bedrooms will provide sleeping quarters for 12. These, as well as the bedrooms in the present house, will contain built-in bunks, bookshelves, desks, and wardrobe space. A large bath with separate shower room will complete the second story of the annex.

Beta Zeta—Butler

OPENS YEAR WITH 23 PLEDGES

After a successful rushing season, Beta Zeta Chapter began the school year with 23 new pledges. Pledge class officers are: Leon Haffner, president; Dick Berndt, vice-president; Bill Miner, secretary-treasurer; and Bill Norkus, sergeant at arms.

CHAPTER REPRESENTED ON GRIDIRON

The chapter is well represented on the gridiron. Mike Marmion and Chuck Boltin are sparking the Butler team again this year, playing center and guard, respectively. Five pledges are also playing for the Bulldogs: Bill Norkus, tackle; Tom Wheeler, center; Dick Berndt, center; Charles Hickman, halfback; and Jerry Garret, halfback.

At the present time, attention is being directed toward homecoming preparations. Under the capable direction of Brothers John Ainsworth and Jim Smith, Beta Zeta is going all out in an effort to capture the float and house decoration prizes.

ACTIVE IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Again this year the Delts are very active in campus organizations. Brothers Ross Copeland, Marlin Husted, and Jim Shrock have been elected to Blue Key, and Jim Smith and Bob Reed are members of Sphinx. The Society for the Advancement of Management has elected Dave Northam president and Marlin Husted treasurer; while Alpha Epsilon Rho, national radio honorary, has claimed John McCardle, and has made Vic Tanguy its vice-president. John McCardle and Dave Northam are members of Kappa Kappa Psi, band honorary; Jim Shrock and George Goodnight have joined the Alfred Marshall Society, business; and Marlin Husted, Larry Davis, and Jack Whaley are among the members of the Arnold Air Society.

Several Delts have obtained key positions in the Air Force ROTC. Among the "high brass" are Jim Shrock, cadet colonel; Jack Whaley and Marlin Husted, cadet lieutenant colonels; Vic Tanguy, cadet major; and Larry Davis and John McCardle, cadet captains.

Beta Epsilon's annex as of September, 1952. Bedrooms are upstairs, kitchen, dining room, and recreation are downstairs.

Beta Eta—Minnesota

RUSH TURNS UP 16 PLEDGES

When school officially opened here at Minnesota September 29, Beta Eta Chapter welcomed back to the Shelter 27 actives and one holdover pledge. With the realization that we lost so many members through graduation and the armed services, we immediately turned to fall rushing. Through Russ Johnson's efforts as rush chairman this summer and this fall, we feel that we have more than compensated for our losses last year by pledging 16 men during fall rushing. With more good men being rushed at the present, we expect our chapter to be at full strength again by the end of the quarter.

SHELTER REPAIRED

Of course, along with rushing we had the task of repairing the Shelter the week prior to the opening of school. Roger Anderson, in his capacity as house manager, did a fine job of organizing his work teams and getting the house in shape. With the purchase of a new piano, stair runners, and rubber tile for our hallways, we have good reason to be proud of the appearance of the Shelter. We have the Mothers' Club to thank for the purchase of our new piano, a contribution which was badly needed and greatly appreciated.

FOOTBALL GAINS ATTENTION

Naturally, during fall quarter our attention turns to football here at Minnesota. Beta Eta is represented by Max Schmitt on Minnesota's Golden Gophers, and although Max has seen limited action so far this season as the No. 2 quarterback, we expect to see more of him throughout the remainder of the season and next year.

Turning our attention from football, we find Roger Anderson holding down the first-sack position on the Minnesota baseball team, and when winter practice begins Max Schmitt will join Roger on the squad. In basketball's fall practice, Beta Eta's Rod Snyder will be fighting it out for a starting berth as guard on the Minnesota five. In any event, Rod should see plenty of action this year and we're expecting a lot from him.

BIDS FOR HOUSE DECORATIONS TROPHY

Back to football again, the homecoming decorations committee is already busy working on Beta Eta's decorations for the coming homecoming game with Iowa, November 1. Using the theme, Halloween, and the slogan, "Haunt The Hawks," we feel that we have the house decorations first-place trophy cinched. Of course, along with homecoming and all its excitement we'll be having our first big party of the school year, and our first reunion with alumni. Socially speaking, accommodations have already been made to hold our fall formal out at the Edina Country Club December 6. Everyone here at Beta Eta is looking forward to our first big social function of the year, and we hope to see many alumni present.

Beta Theta—Sewanee

CROSS-COUNTRY CHAMPION

The Sewanee Delts jumped into the limelight early this year when Brother Ralph Patston won the all-school cross-country run. In intramural football, however, because of a lack of offensive punch, the Delts seem to be headed for a mediocre season. Brothers Spicer and Hayes lead a formidable defense, but the offense still doesn't click effectively. The passing combination of McCrummen to Thompson is the only powerful offensive threat.

Rush season brought in few pledges, but we still consider our rushing a success, because every new pledge is top-notch Fraternity material. Under Rush Chairman Jack Muir's leadership, we pledged: Paul Andress, Tom Herbert, John Koen, Sidney Francis, Troy Martin, Pete Knapp, and John Pontius. Competition has already begun for the pledge trophy, and the pledges' Fraternity spirit is high. The big brother system has been stressed to a great extent this year, and, through it, we hope to prepare the pledges for leadership in the Fraternity.

ANONYMOUS GIFT STIMULATES ACTIVITY

All the Delts had something to shout about this summer when we learned that an anonymous donor had promised the chapter one thousand dollars if we could raise another thousand. We are well on our way to doing just that, and already we can see the light of day. Part of the money will be used as a fund to help any deserving man who is unable to pay his Fraternity expenses. The rest will be used for house improvements. Early this fall, a room on the third floor was decorated and furnished, and it now serves as our TV room. Plans are being laid for painting and redecorating the rest of the Shelter.

SCHOLARSHIP GIVEN TOP PRIORITY

Due to the Delts big drop in scholastic ranking among the nine fraternities on the Mountain, the chapter is striving to bring up its average. Scholarship Chairman Will Stearley, who represented Beta Theta at the Karnea, has many ideas for the improvement of individual study, and the whole chapter is solidly behind the drive. The attainment of a high scholastic average is first among the "musts" this semester.

Beta Kappa—Colorado

FOOTBALL ROLL CALLED

Beta Kappa boasts ten men on this year's varsity football squad. Seeing action regularly are Lee Venzke at quarterback, Ron Johnson and Carroll Hardy at halfback, and Bob Klamann at tackle. Lyle Van Horne, Jim Parker, Dave Forgan, Red Scarff, Marsh Hoffman, and Dick Mikkelson, all reserves, complete the football roll of Beta Kappa.

Lee Venzke, a senior and alternating at quarterback, is showing the outstanding form he has proved so effective in previous years. His uncanny ability to call the right play, often catching an unsuspecting opposing team off guard, has made Colorado's offense a powerful threat.

With much of the ground gaining attack built around Johnson and Hardy, they have proved themselves the heart of Colorado's running power. Johnson, a junior, and Hardy, a sophomore, were both lauded by Colorado football fans last year: Hardy as a freshman sensation and Johnson as a flashy halfback whose deceptive running often paid off in long runs for a Colorado T.D. Both men rank as two of the fastest men on the squad, and their dazzling running is helping make Colorado a threat to the Big 7 title.

Standing 6' 4" and weighing 210 pounds, big Bob Klamann, also a senior, is turning in brilliant performances, game after game, at left tackle. Opposing players hitting his side of the line have found themselves stopped short by his determined tackling.

INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS

During the summer, it was announced that Beta Kappa had won the coveted all-school intramural championship for 1951-52. Accumulating a total of 1366 points in the 13-sport program, we literally walked off with the crown, beating our nearest rivals by over 300 points. With many of our intramural teams strengthened from the pledge class, we are hoping to retain the championship this year.

NEW SONG GROUP COMPOSED

A new song group composed of 12 of Beta Kappa's top songsters has made a tremendous hit on campus serenades this fall. This triple quartet, as the members have deemed themselves, has worked hard from the beginning of school perfecting its close harmony. It is soon to be given the opportunity of showing its wares to the entire student body during the coming homecoming festivities. The western band is working on songs for western serenades which were popular last year.

Beta Kappa pledge class.

SEVERAL RECEIVE HIGH HONORS

Several men from the Shelter have received high honors recently. Foster Garn, an outstanding campus figure for several years, has added membership in Heart and Dagger, senior men's honorary, to his lengthy list of honors. John Boone was tapped by Sumalia, junior men's honorary, and active in Star and Sextant, naval science honorary, are Dave Blanchard, John Boone, Lew Ross, Joe French, and Chuck Husted. Jim Modeer is now a member of Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau, both engineering honoraries. Initiated this fall into Phi Epsilon Phi, sophomore men's honorary, were Dave Stratton, Dee Hubbard, Jim Parker, and Bruce Lawrenson.

Beta Mu—Tufts

PREP FOR RUSH WEEK

Beta Mu Chapter has been busy preparing for rush week, October 20 to 25. We have had the house repainted and new draperies have been hung in our living and dining rooms. The brothers returned early this year and have done an exceptional job in redecorating their rooms.

The chapter has had a dinner for the girls who are going to rush for us, and it was a thorough success.

HEADS SOPHOMORE HONORARY

Sword and Shield, our sophomore honor society, which is under the presidency of Brother Nat Rutter, has been successful in directing freshman tradition and keeping freshman spirit high. Brother Bill Schmid, also a member of Sword and Shield, and Brother Fred McCurdy, a member of the junior class honorary, will be vying for top honors in diving. Brother Schmid went undefeated in freshman competition last year.

SINGING TEAM WORKING OUT

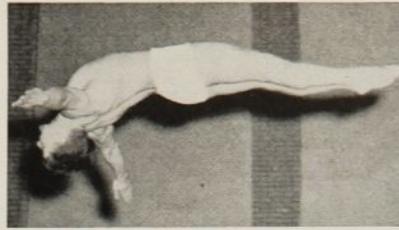

We are preparing for the Annual Christmas Sing by frequent after-dinner singing. We hope to add to our record of three wins out of the last four college singing competitions.

Beta Nu—M.I.T.

BETA NUS BUY NEW SHELTER

We're still excited here at Beta Nu over the purchase of a new Shelter. Our old house was gradually falling apart at the seams and it was evident that a new Shelter would be needed in the near future. Sparked by the efforts of President Pete Bixler, Bob Oliver, and Will Carson, of the active chapter, and Messrs. Jack Adams, Bert Adams, Edwin Woodward, Paul Weamer, and Arthur Shaw, of the house corporation, preliminary negotiations were started last spring, and the final deal went through over the summer.

The new house is in excellent condition and accommodates 38 men—about ten more than the old Shelter. Its location is also more favorable. Previously we were in Brookline, a nice residential section, but rather far from school and the majority of the other fraternities. Now we are located on Fraternity Row and are within a few minutes' walk of school.

BILL SCHMID, Tufts diver, was undefeated last year.

During Work Week we refinished all our old furniture and moved everything to the new Shelter. We also bought a quantity of new furnishings. All in all, the new Shelter now ranks among the very best here at M.I.T.

We had quite a job on our hands during Work Week, but we managed to have one last get-together at the old Delt house. It was a good party and brought back many fond memories as we gathered in the same good-natured fellowship that marked so many years of residence there. In that respect we were all sorry to leave the old house.

CONDUCT SUCCESSFUL RUSHING CAMPAIGN

The purchase of our new Shelter left us with a rather critical rushing problem. To help assure financial success of the undertaking, it was essential that we fill the house to capacity for at least the first year. I am happy to say that this year we wound up the best rushing campaign in our chapter's history, the success of which was due in a large measure to the bang-up job done by our rushing cochairmen, Tony Turano and Fred Bowis. They mapped a campaign that was highlighted by a mammoth get-acquainted party for the rushees with girls from the neighboring women's colleges as hostesses. When rush week ended, we had pledged 18 top men and our goal was more than met.

Beta Xi—Tulane

HOLD SUCCESSFUL RUSH

Thanks to our well-organized rush parties, we were successful in pledging a good crop of boys. The chapter celebrated the end of rushing by giving a small party for the present members and dates.

PARTICIPATE IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Many Tulane Deltos are taking part in outstanding campus activities and honor organizations. Sid Rushton has been initiated into the Arnold Air Society. Sid is also a Lt. Colonel (Group Commander) in the AFROTC. Our president, Mickey McClure, and Bob Hamer are members of the Greenbackers. This group is most instrumental in furthering spirit here at Tulane. Dwight Settle has been made a member of the Judiciary Committee of Tulane's Panhellenic Council. Dwight, along with Howard Lewis, is a member of the Adelphons, which is an interfraternity fraternity. Howard, by the way, is treasurer of this organization.

WIN FIRST PANEHEL EVENT OF THE SEASON

We are very proud of the fact we have won the first Panhel event of the season. Under the able leadership of Howard Lewis, the bowling team earned five points for Beta Xi. We hope to continue on through the future events and make more favorable showings.

Beta Omicron—Cornell

PICNIC HIGHLIGHTS RUSH WEEK

Beta Omicron had a successful two weeks of rushing this fall resulting in a 16-member pledge class. The rushing was highlighted by a picnic at one of the several good state parks around Ithaca. The pledges show the traditional Delt spirit as we have already detected plots that the freshmen are planning to carry through in the next few weeks.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

The new officers of the chapter, following elections, are Bob Rutishauser, president; Gene Leinroth, vice-president; Pete Everett, recording secretary; Jack Cane, corresponding secretary; and Bill Johnson, treasurer. Bob was also recently elected to the senior honorary activities society, Sphinx Head. Gene is active in campus activities, being chairman of the Senior Men's Council Social-Committee. Among the sophomores, Jim Pigman was elected to the Sophomore Class Council.

DELTS ACTIVE IN INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Delts in the University's intercollegiate athletic program include Dick Mathewson, a sophomore who is first-string varsity end in football, and Bob Dilatush and John Braun, both on the reserve squad. Larry Hitchon, after playing varsity ball for a year, switched to the 150-pound team because of his weight. Bob Ashton and Bob Lindemeyer are members of the varsity soccer squad, and the chapter has nine men out for crew.

On the intramural side, the Delt football team took its first game from Watermargin, a local fraternity, by the score of 10-0.

TWO TRANSFERS AFFILIATE

We were glad to receive two transfers into the chapter this fall—Ken Hammer, a graduate student from Gamma Mu at the University of Washington, and Carl Glaser, a sophomore from Chi at Kenyon.

ALUMNI WEEK END PLANNED

The alumni committee has made plans for Alumni Week End, October 24 and 25, and the social committee is making big plans for Fall Week End, November 14-16. I hope to report success in these two projects, along with many other things, in the next publication.

Beta Pi—Northwestern

P.J. RACE HIGHLIGHTS SOCIAL SEASON

Once again the Beta Pi social calendar was highlighted by the annual Freshman Pajama Race. This year the event, which was handled by Bob Christiansen and emceed by Jim McGinn, attracted a crowd of about 3,000 people. Gretchen Hohaus of Kappa Kappa Gamma was chosen as P.J. Queen and the P.J. King was in turn elected by the queen candidates.

The Delt pledge class won the relay race with a new record time. Joe McCormick, Frank Jeske, Mac MacDonald, and Bob McKeiver supplied the power for the winning combination. It wouldn't seem quite right to win your own race; so the trophy was given to the second-place team.

HOMECOMING PLANS LINED UP

Homecoming plans are going full blast with Tony Brashy in charge of the construction of our house decoration. Hammers are already starting to pound on what is to be a four-story-high steam engine. After the homecoming game, there is to be the usual fine buffet for the alums and a little later in the evening the alumni are going to have a dance at the Evanston Women's Club.

PLEDGES ARE SCHOLASTICALLY AND ATHLETICALLY MINDED

The new pledge class is one of the finest in years. Of the 16 pledged, ten had A or A- records in high school. All were prominent in various school activities. Five of them are playing first string on the freshman football team. Bob McKeiver was a member of the All-American high school team and is a standout for the frosh. Two other pledges are at N.U. on basketball scholarships. One of them is on the freshman swim team. We feel that ours is the best on campus.

HOLD SECOND PLACE IN INTRAMURAL COMPETITION

I.M. football is going well with the Delts in second place in tough league competition. We expect to have another wrestling championship as all the members of last year's winning team are back, along with some good new prospects.

Delts are getting their share of attention on the varsity football team, too. Five Delts are playing on the first string this year. Tom McCormick was out of action for the Vanderbilt and Minnesota games because of a painful knee injury received in the first game of the season, but he expects to be back at his old position by the time the Michigan game rolls around.

Beta Rho—Stanford

CONTRIBUTE TO STANFORD'S GRIDIRON

Beta Rho Chapter once more is making an important contribution to another surprisingly strong Stanford football team, which at this date has won its first four games. One senior and two juniors are holding down first-string positions and are playing outstanding football. Chuck Essegian, the senior, is once more a rock in Stanford's defensive armor at his line-backing position. Big Charlie also fills in for Bob Mathias on offense when needed and does some of the punting.

Playing next to Essegian at linebacker is Ted Tanner, also a regular for the second straight year. Ted and Chuck form one of the best linebacking teams on the Coast. When the Indians go on offense, Delt Ron Cook takes over one of the halfback spots and has been doing a bang-up job, including scoring three touchdowns thus far. Also on the varsity squad are Reserves Bill Scheidecker and Beta Pi's winning relay team and judges for 1952 P. J. race.

Johnny Gilmore, end and halfback, respectively. Delt Jack Bonetti, a regular last year at guard, is now assistant coach.

REPRESENTED IN WATER POLO

In the other fall sport, water polo, Delts Fritz Kunzel, Jerry Smith, and Don Koll are cogs in another strong Stanford team. Kunzel and Smith are guards, while Koll is a forward.

SCHOLARSHIP STRESSED

In scholarship last spring, Beta Rho came out seventh highest of the 24 fraternities on campus and was above the All Men's Average. This represented a slight drop from our previous standing, but under the supervision of Bob Barley, improvement will be stressed.

MOTHERS' CLUB HONORED

With Jim Westphal in charge, Beta Rho is holding a giant Mothers' Night on October 28. This function will, we hope, do much to acquaint the mothers with the members and show our appreciation for the help we have received from the Mothers' Club.

The 1952 edition of Beta Pi's pledge class.

Beta Tau—Nebraska

TWENTY-THREE ACCEPT PLEDGE PINS

Twenty-three men were pledged during rush week. Each of these men exemplifies the great job that Sophomore Jim Adams did as rush chairman. Thanks must also go to Brian Hendrickson and Dick Wells, both of Lincoln, for their tireless efforts and organization. But, most important of all, congratulations to these 23 prospective members of Delta Tau Delta.

FOUR ADVANCE ON CAMPUS

Four Beta Taus gained new positions in the activities of the University of Nebraska.

Glenn Nelson was selected sports editor of the Daily Nebraskan. Now a junior, Glenn served as assistant sports editor last semester.

Walter Wright will serve as the only sophomore member on the Student Publications Board for the coming year. This Board selects the staff members of the Cornhusker, yearbook, and the Daily Nebraskan.

Jim Adams, rush chairman, earned the position of assistant business manager of the 1953 Cornhusker by his fine and industrious work during his freshman year.

Eldon Park was appointed as Speakers Chairman of the All-University Fund and was elected to the Junior Class Council.

WINS PLACE IN TALENT SHOW

Competing against the best talent at the University, Roger Sack was chosen to appear in the Student Union Talent Show. The York freshman chose as piano selections "Lover" and Stan Kenton's "Artistry in Rhythm."

MOTHERS' CLUB UPS MEMBERSHIP

Seemingly catching the enthusiasm of the active chapter, the Delta Tau Delta Alliance of mothers and wives started the year off with an attendance of 35 at their first meeting. Adding to this 30 more who have paid their dues results in the most active Alliance in a decade.

BOB LENZINI,
Illinois

Beta Upsilon—Illinois

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Beta Upsilon began the school year by electing three new officers. Jack Williams, a senior in engineering, is now president. Tom Konrad, another senior in engineering, is the new vice-president. Lou Kee-sey, a junior in journalism, is now corresponding secretary. Dick Anderson, a

PLEDGES AND PLEDGE OFFICERS SELECTED

Following the election of new officers, the chapter got to work and pledged 17 new men.

The new pledge officers are Tiff Carroll, president; Hugh Morrison, vice-president; and Don Casper, social chairman. Casper is one of the finest prep athletes to enroll at Illinois in some time. At Springfield High School he won letters in football, basketball, and baseball. He was picked on the Illinois all-state football and basketball teams.

OFF TO GOOD START IN INTRAMURALS

Beta Upsilon Chapter has jumped off to a good start in intramural sports. The football team won its first game by defeating Zeta Psi. Then it dropped a close contest to Tau Delta Phi. In intramural swimming, the medley relay team took fourth. John McCune took fifth in the 200-yard free style. Pete Koch placed fourth in the backstroke.

CLEANUP WEEK HELD

The chapter members took it upon themselves to redecorate the front hallway when they returned for cleanup week prior to rush week. New linoleum was put down in the kitchen, too.

LENZINI RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Bob Lenzini recently received a $1,000.00 scholarship from the Seco Steel Corporation. Although Bob is a regular defensive guard on the Illinois football team, he has found time to maintain over a "B" average in his engineering studies.

Beta Phi—Ohio StateRUSH WEEK SEES THE CHAPTER WITH 35 PLEDGES

When the smoke cleared after a hectic week of rushing from 7:30 a.m. breakfasts to 2 a.m. parties, Beta Phi found itself with 35 fine pledges to start the new year. Tom Franklin and his committee receive the chapter's thanks for the able planning and carrying out of this important job.

PLEDGES BECOME BUSY IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

The pledges got off to a flying start as eleven began in campus activities and publications. Fran Machinsky and Bob Dickbrader were playing freshman football. Pledges challenged the actives to a football game and were to plan a house party on their own.

DELT QUARTERBACK SHINES IN SCHOLARSHIP, TOO

Calling plays for the Buckeye football team this fall is sophomore Quarterback John Borton. Off the football field, John has a 3.3 scholastic average and is a sophomore class senator.

HELP MAKE OHIO STATE CELEBRATION A SUCCESS

Jim Hogan as publicity director and Keith Olds as sponsor ticket chairman accomplished much to make Ohio State's first Day of Champions a success. More than 250 former athletic champions, including great Delt Footballer Les Horvath, returned to campus to be honored.

SOCIAL CALENDAR PACKED

Beta Phi's social calendar was packed through the fall. The Shelter was filled as it seldom has been for an 11:30 p.m. fried chicken dinner at a house party. The Delt Wives' Club sponsored a dance to raise money in the campaign for a new house.

The chapter is looking forward to its annual Sadie Hawkins Party and is planning how to win homecoming decorations for the second straight year.

Beta Psi—Wabash

GOOD START IN RUSH ESTABLISHED

As autumn's color blazed its way across campus, the Beta Psi Deltas returned to the Shelter looking forward to another year. Every man returned with the desire and renewed vitality to make this year more successful than the last.

Last year for the Shelter was a success on two accounts. First of all, we had attained and maintained the good scholastic average we had sought during the year. Delta Tau Delta was fourth on campus and above the school average. Secondly, our spring rushing program was a success, and this gave us a good foothold for the coming year.

Under the direction of Rush Chairman Pantzer and with the assistance of every man in the chapter, Beta Psi went ahead to pledge 17 men this fall. The men of the pledge class look promising; many were outstanding in high school, and they already have done a great deal for the house both in the Shelter and on campus.

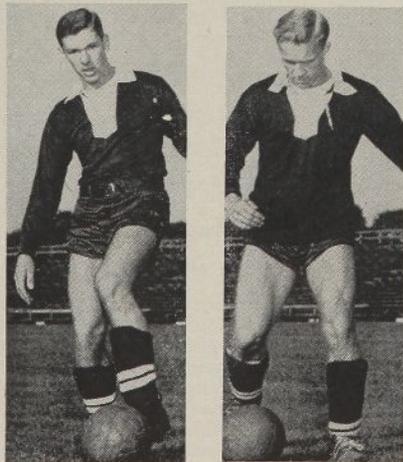

LOOK TO BIG INTRAMURAL SEASON

In intramurals our football team got off to a dragging start by losing two games straight. Things are looking up, however, and the Beta Psi's team is slowly beginning to take shape because we have tied one game and won another by a wide margin since our two early defeats. The Shelter's basketball and volleyball teams which are up next should be first-place contenders since the main stalwarts of both teams will be playing again this year.

Our only representative on the varsity football team this year is Halfback Mike Gillis, who plays first string on both offensive and defensive. Two freshmen, Stan Matheny and Ronny Grimes, are also out for football and have made Wabash's "B" team.

THANKS, ALUMNI!

To all the alumni of the chapter and others, we, the undergrads, send thanks for the part you had in our rush this spring and fall. Many letters containing leads and recommendations were received and it is a result of these that we were able to pledge some of the fine men that we did. A hearty thanks is extended to all who helped. We would also like to give advance notice to our alumni of the reunion of all the classes that we are planning next spring here at the Shelter. We will at this time honor one of the graduates of the chapter with whom all you men are acquainted.

BURRIS ORGANIZES SUCCESSFUL RUSH

Under the guidance of Rushing Chairman Doug Burris and his assistant, Tom Wright, Beta Omega finished a highly successful fall rush by obtaining 17 new pledges. From the looks of things, this appears to be one of the best, most well-rounded pledge classes that we have had in several years.

The pledges were quick to get organized. Under their newly elected officers, they arranged a pledge exchange with the "Dee Gees."

KARNEA SPURS ENTHUSIASM

Returning to the house in September full of stories and enthusiasm were Doug Burris and Pete Parrish, who had just attended the Karnea. After their visit to Mackinac Island, they were convinced that Delta Tau Delta is the best of all.

INJURIES PLAGUE DELT GRIDDERS

The Delt footballers have been hit by a rash of injuries this fall, which has sidelined one for the season and possibly another. Jere Brooks, who was in line for a first-string tackle position, injured his knee in the second game of the season and will have to sit out the rest of the year. Steve Dimeff also sustained a knee injury and it is doubtful whether he will see any more action at the fullback spot. Sophomore Quarterback Doug Stowell continues to lead the attack on the junior varsity squad.

NOMINATED FOR INTERFRATERNITY BOARD

Two Delts, Doug Tanner and Jack Herring, have been nominated for membership on the University of California Interfraternity Scholastic Board.

Gamma Gamma—Dartmouth

SHELTER GETS FACE LIFTING

The opening of school in Hanover last month began another year of campus leadership for the Gamma Gammas at Dartmouth. Several brothers were able to return to school early in order to make some needed repairs on the Shelter, and after a flurry of paint and nails the brothers found themselves the proud possessors of a house with a fresh paint job and new flooring in the main hall. These repairs were made at a time which proved very opportune for fall rushing, a period in which we are now engaged. The prospects for rushing appear very bright, and if all goes as expected, the Delts at Dartmouth will come up with an unusually outstanding group of pledges.

DELTS REPRESENTED IN SPORTS

In fall sports, Gamma Gamma is well represented on the soccer field by Chester Caswell, first-string left wing, and Johnny Rice, star halfback. It should be mentioned here that Rice, president of Casque and Gauntlet (an important honor society here at Dartmouth) and member of the Undergraduate Council, was largely responsible for an entirely new and highly successful system of freshmen orientation on the Dartmouth campus.

GRIDDERS DEFEND CHAMPIONSHIP

Intramural football shows a bright future for the Delt gridders. Led by the passing of Dean Berry, the Delt machine is thus far undefeated and untied and is making a strong bid for another intramural championship.

MANY PARTIES HELD

The Gamma Gamma Shelter was the scene of an enjoyable series of parties on the week end of September 27. The brothers' spirits were in no way dampened by Dartmouth's loss to Holy Cross, and a party was enjoyed by all after the game, followed by an informal dance.

Gamma Delta—West Virginia

EXTEND THANKS TO ALUMNI

The alumni may be complimented for their interest and consideration in sending in informative recommendations of rushees that gave us considerable assistance in rushing. We also wish to extend thanks to our alumni who helped in partially redecorating our living room. Brother McCue of Clarksburg and Brother Bell of Fairmount were primarily responsible for this fine gesture. Many of our alumni visited us during this past homecoming of West Virginia University. We welcome them on any and every occasion they desire to visit us.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES UNDER WAY

Delt serenaders began early by welcoming the freshman women with a group sing. Other serenades were held for new Delt Sweethearts. There has been open house during all the week ends of home football games, and numerous parties in the evenings. The new pledge class has had various sorority pledge classes in the Shelter for meals, teas, and parties.

OUTSTANDING MEN

Gamma Delta Chapter members are represented in nearly every honorary and campus organization. Two new members of Fi Bater Capper, a mock honorary of outstanding men on the campus, are Walter Bullington and Arch Jones. The Delts also possess leadership in the cadet military department. Robert Rosser is top colonel in the Air Division, with Brad Hoke, Jess McHenry, Calvin Griffin, and Eddie Gooden assisting him. Harry Miller is retired colonel in the Army Division, and Al Ware is retired colonel over both the Air and Army forces. At present, in the Army Division, Ralph Morris holds a top-ranking position. In addition, Ralph is up for president of the entire advanced class and is pledgemaster of Scabbard and Blade, the military honorary. Harry Miller is past president of the advanced class and also retiring captain of Scabbard and Blade.

SCHOLARSHIP

Because our scholarship has not been as high as we desire it to be, definite steps have been taken this year by our scholarship chairman, Leonard Van Dune, in an endeavor to raise it. This is, after all, the prime factor for which every individual enters college, and, inasmuch as Delta Tau Delta Fraternity emphasizes scholarship, we want to uphold it justly.

Gamma Zeta—Wesleyan

TO EARN ΦBK HONORS

Considerable honor and distinction were brought to Gamma Zeta recently by Russ Eggers and George Maltese, who were two of five elected to Phi Beta Kappa. They represent the only Greek-letter fraternity men on campus to be elected to the society. Russ and George, both seniors, added to their laurels by placing first and second, both in their sophomore and junior classes. Their averages respectively were 93.2 and 92.2 while juniors; 95.1 and 94.8 while sophomores.

UNIQUE RUSH PROGRAM PRESENTED

Rushing, very competently directed by Snuffy Smith this year, was conducted as informally as possible in an effort to present the house to the freshmen in a natural manner. High lights of the program included short airplane flights, piloted by Bill Arndt, and trips to the Middletown Yacht Club. Charles Hoyt, leader of the High Street Five—campus Dixie sensation—along with Jim Plimpton, Bob Moore, and Dave Rich, put their musical talent to good advantage throughout the rushing program. The pledge delegation was formally welcomed with a traditional pledge party week end. The pledges are now under the leadership of Sophomore Bob Moore and have elected Ed Hoffman as their delegation president.

TWO VARSITY HALFBACKS

Bob Brown, Russ Eggers, and Jim Trumbower represent the house on the varsity gridiron this year. Russ is playing both offensive and defensive halfback; Bob Brown, halfback; and Jim Trumbower, guard. Pledges Tom Plimpton and Craig Stone are both seeing action on the frosh soccer squad.

WINS CAMPUS LITERARY PRIZE

Fred Wandall, editor of Wesleyan's monthly literary magazine, the Cardinal, was recently awarded first prize in a campuswide competition entitled "The Meaning of Liberal Arts Education." Also participating in literary activities are Scroggs Nelson, Bill Roche, and Russ Eggers as members of the Senior Editorial Board of the school newspaper, The Argus. In addition, Ed Konopka and Dick Burrage are junior editors, while Bob Carey is circulation manager.

Singing in the Glee Club, Gamma Zeta offers Dale Lot, Jim Katsis, Don Doan, Charlie Hume, and Norman Stussy. Charlie Hume is also singing in the Glee Club's double quartet, the "Cardinals."

Rounding out extracurricular participation, Bud Johnson and Ed Boniface have been active in the Yacht Club; Swede Olsen, spark plug of our interfraternity football squad, captains the Wesleyan Fire Brigade; Jim Hopkins was elected to the standing committee of the College Body Church; and Charles Hoyt will star in the Theater's coming production, Ah, Wilderness.

Gamma Eta—George Washington

SUCCESSFUL RUSH SEASON

When Gamma Eta's "rush season" opened October 2, no one thought the chapter brothers would have to learn the Japanese language or perfect an ability to prepare Italian spaghetti; but, to a certain degree, we had to do both.

It seemed we simply wanted to build our rush functions around "unusual" themes—you know, something which would attract attention.

Well, anyway, the chapter launched its "Back Up Front Party" and the Shelter took on the appearance of a Nipponese cabaret, complete with characterized signs and low strains of Oriental music. Everyone entered this "Geisha Ghetto" through the side alley.

While most of the "partiers" were dressed according to normal Washington standards, a few of the brothers donned fatigues, helmets, cartridge belts, etc., and shouldered (for a while at least) the 10½-pound M-1's. And a few of the dates, dressed in authentic kimonos, made like young "Madame Butterflies."

Hardly had we taken off the combat boots and stacked arms, when it was time for the second "themed" rush festivity, "Luigi's Wake."

"Luigi," portrayed by Ray Miller, was supposed to be the prototype of an over-rushed but much-sought rushee. After the Fraternity had him in the "bag" (pocket pledged), tired Luigi up and dies. So, making this affair realistic also, the Delts laid the jovial corpse out in state and spun a party skit around him.

The chapter successfully accomplished the first two incidentals, but, when it came to making enough spaghetti for about 200 hungry people, we . . . well, we needed help. So, Mrs. Dave Harrington and Dave himself came in and did the job up as only experts can do.

But, getting into the last stages of rushing, we took a more serious tack and held two "stags," an afternoon party and an alumni banquet, to which selected freshmen were invited.

LAUNCH CHAPTER NEWSLETTER

After many months of deliberation and preparation, the chapter published its first issue of the Colonial Delt, a four-page mimeographed newsletter directed primarily at the alumni. At least three more issues during this school year will be mailed out to over 500 Delts. Staff members for the first issue were: Fred Warder, John Foltz, Bob van Sickler, Jr., George Dowd, and Tom Potter. Mr. Robert E. Newby, GH, '24, aided in the publishing and addressing.

PREPARE FOR GOLDEN JUBILEE IN 1953

The chapter will mark its fiftieth year at GWU with a four-day Jubilee in the first week of February, 1953. The plans coincide conveniently with the annual Founders Day celebrations, and a large turnout of Gamma Eta alumni is expected. While details of the anniversary have not been completed, the program generally will feature a banquet, initiation ceremony, dance, two open houses, and several informal functions. Then, on May 9, 1953, the actual anniversary date, another event is to be held.

Gamma Iota—Texas

RUSH WEEK RESULTS IN 24 PLEDGES

Gamma Iota is looking forward to another great year with 24 pledges ready to take the place of a number of last year's actives now in the service. A vigorous rush week was led by Brother Hal Finch. Elected officers of the pledge class were Charles Tighe, president; Tom Hatfield, vice-president; Mack Lynn, secretary-treasurer; and James Pope, social chairman.

Gamma Theta (Baker) pledge class.

SERVE IN ARMED FORCES

Delts serving in the armed forces from last year's active chapter are Artie Lamb, Dick Walker, John Kutzer, Sam Boswell, Tony Buckley, Tony McGee, Sam Croom, and Bob Jamar.

SET SIGHTS FOR ALL-YEAR TROPHY

Intramural Manager Bailey Cawthron has one ambition this year and that is to bring the all-year trophy to the Shelter. An eager group of tennis players is helping with that purpose at the moment, and in addition strong A and B football teams, led respectively by Passers Travis Eckert and Bill Penn, have added to the Delt point total. Thus far the purple and gold are winners of four of their five games.

PLANS BIG SOCIAL YEAR

This being Social Chairman Carroll Collins' last year at the University, he is planning to make it a big one socially. Already held was a buffet dinner before and a western party after the Notre Dame game, and a party at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas with the O.U. chapter following the Oklahoma game. Another closed house party and five open houses are scheduled for this semester.

Another event to which all Gamma Iotas are looking forward is the Rice week end, when several parties and a stag banquet with the Houston alums will be held.

Along with all the parties, of course, will come study, and the Texas Delts will be trying to surpass their 1919-1951 record when the chapter tied with Mu Chapter for the Fraternity Scholarship Award.

Miss BEK STINER, Milton Caniff's model for "Miss Mizzou," is shown with Steve Canyon, Bon-Bon, and "Himmie" Himmerskorn—all Missouri Delts. Miss Stiner was named "Coming Home" Queen of the University. The three Delts were her inseparable companions during her stay on the campus.

Gamma Kappa—Missouri

CAPTURES FIRST-CLASS PLEDGE GROUP

After the hectic furor of rush week had died away, the Delts found themselves with 32 new pledges. While lacking one of tying for first-place honors, all indications are that the pledge class is one of the best to hit the campus in many years.

Three pledges, who were pledged during the previous semester and have a short time to go before their initiation, are lettermen on the Missouri varsity football squad. They are: Guy Rose, defensive halfback; Charlie Bull, offensive tackle who had the dubious privilege of holding down the famed "Little Mo" of Maryland; and Bob Bauman, fullback replacement for the redoubtable Bill Reaukamp, West Point's gift to Missouri.

GAINS IN SCHOLARSHIP

In scholarship, Delta Tau fought its way to third among the scholastic fraternities on the campus by sporting a 2.40 average. This improvement over last year was good enough to insure possession of the rotating Delt-Theta scholarship trophy for the first year of the series. This year, with this latest record as incentive, the Delts are vigorously attacking the ever-present problem of how to make Gamma Kappa "a constructive adjunct to the system of higher education."

"COMING HOME" CELEBRATION HONORS "MISS MIZZOU"

A recent fall event was the "Coming Home" game between the Missouri Tigers and the Southern Methodist Mustangs. Miss Bek Stiner, who serves as Milton Caniff's model for "Miss Mizzou" in the Steve Canyon comic strip, was selected as "Coming Home" queen. She was accompanied throughout most of her stay at the University by her three inseparable companions, "Steve Canyon"; "Bon-Bon," the French-Canadian; and "Himmie" Himmerskorn. Incidentally, these three gentlemen are Delts.

Tom Skinker, Roland deLinere, and Vic Summa thoroughly enjoyed their brief moment in the limelight, and the entire chapter would be in complete accord if blond and curvaceous "Miss Mizzou" would accept a standing invitation to pledge.

Gamma Lambda—Purdue

NINETEEN ARE PLEDGED

Gamma Lambda, under the able leadership of Jack Bliss, president, Bob Ragains, treasurer, and Tommy Thompson, vice-president, has started out the new year in high gear. First in everyone's mind was rush. Heading the program was Chuck Bradley, the new rush chairman. After numerous smokers, dinners, and other informal gatherings, the nine old pledges were joined by 19 new pledge brothers. Several of these men have been in the spotlight of Indiana high school sports.

ALUMNI RETURN FOR HOMECOMING

The Shelter was recently the scene of much gaiety and celebration among the many alumni who returned for homecoming in time to see Purdue hand Iowa a 41-14 shellacking, thus starting the Boilermaker Special on the track to the Rose Bowl. The chapter's homecoming sign, "We'll Stop Their Clock," featuring Purdue Pete astride a gigantic Cuckoo Clock striking a Hawkeye emerging from the clock, was quite appropriate. Bruce Anderson was the chief carpenter on this project.

AIM FOR TOP SPOT IN SCHOLARSHIP

Last year Gamma Lambda ranked second on campus in scholastic improvement. Arnon Lundborg, scholarship chairman, has plans for moving the house up to the top spot this semester. By keeping a close tab on the scholastic progress of the pledges, the chapter is able to offer its assistance to any pledge having trouble in a course.

CHAPTER REPRESENTED IN STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

Delta Tau Delta is well represented at Purdue in student publications. Karl Snepp holds down a senior editor job on the Debris, the yearbook. He is also a member of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic honorary, Skull and Crescent, sophomore activities honorary, and Gimlet, activities honorary for organized men. Jack Langston, a senior in the School of Pharmacy, is editor in chief of the Purdue Scientist, president of Sigma Delta Chi, and a member of Gimlet. Ted Blaschke, a junior in the School of Engineering Mechanics, is subscription manager of the Purdue Engineer. Ted is also a member of the Varsity Debate Team and Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholarship honorary.

Gamma Mu—Washington

RANKS FIRST IN SCHOLARSHIP

Doing just as it has many times in the past, Delta Tau Delta was again on top in fraternity scholarship at the University of Washington. Out of 39 college fraternities, Delta Tau Delta was rated first with a 2.7 grade average for the year 1951-52. Everyone was pretty pleased when the results were published.

NEW PLEDGES

The coming year of 1952-53 is even more promising than the last. Here at Washington we have acquired an outstanding pledge class that should do great things. The following are Gamma Mu's pledges for the fall quarter: Richard W. Brandt, James T. Bryant, Owen A. Bull, Roderick D. Bush, Alfred R. Cettie, John Courage, Roger O. Davis, Frank B. Donaldson, Jr., Jack Elberg, Alan F. Galbraith, Leonard W. Garrett, Clyde A. Laughlin, Jack L. McPherson, Roger L. Mehl, Richard H. Phillips, Jack Roos, Elwood D. Poole, Bob E. Rohr, Craig W. Roland, Jack W. Schuh, Norman C. Stanley, and William D. Zirbel. These pledges are really talented and should do a great deal for Gamma Mu.

MAIN EVENTS FOR FALL AGENDA SCHEDULED

The two main events on the fall agenda for Gamma Mu Chapter are to construct a homecoming sign for our game with the Oregon Ducks and, on the next week end, the annual Pledge Dance. The Barn Dance is also on the autumn calendar, which will make this quarter an outstanding success.

Gamma Nu—Maine

ROXANNE CROWNED QUEEN

Roxanne, lovely blonde of T.V., who works with Bud Collyer on C.B.S.'s program "Beat the Clock," was named a queen as a climax to an informal tea held in her honor. Onlookers at the presentation of the loving cup and crown of roses by House President Patrick Dionne included several girls modeling in the Bangor Daily News's Pageant of Fall Fashions, the Deans of all the colleges, many faculty members, and, of course, the Gamma Nus.

After the crowning ceremony, the first time that Roxanne had been a queen and the first time Gamma Nu has had a queen, the youthful model was shown about the campus by several Deltas.

October first has been named Roxanne Day and plans are being set up for the 1953 observance with Roxanne present for the celebration.

CHAPTER ADVISER RETURNS

John Grant, Gamma Nu, '48, chapter adviser in 1950-51, who was recalled to active service in Korea, has returned to serve again as adviser. Mr. Grant received a promotion from major to lieutenant colonel while in Korea. William Schrupf, Gamma Nu, '12, who had been chapter adviser from 1929 to 1950, again served as adviser from 1951 to 1952 in Mr. Grant's absence. Mr. Schrupf is a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter.

NEW INITIATES

We welcome to our chapter room seven new members: Bob Lebrun, Neil Fox, Bill Grove, Doug Vollmer, Merwyn Hall, John Hunter, and Bob Deshaies. Congratulations! We're proud to have you with us.

Gamma Xi—Cincinnati

RUSHING NETS 25 PLEDGES

Keeping the accent on quality, the results of Frank Eden's hard work as rush chairman were most gratifying, and we have some 25 new men.

One of the most popular of the rush parties was a scavenger hunt in which Deltas and rushees were divided into two teams. Points were scored by bringing in hard-to-find items. What made the enterprise so interesting was the fact that the most valuable items pointwise were the names of different sorority girls around campus.

MUSICAL INVENTION MAKES SHELTER CULTURAL CENTER OF CINCINNATI

Through the help of an alumnus, John Petzhold, who will henceforth be known as a prominent musical benefactor, the

PAT DIONNE, Gamma Nu (Maine), presents loving cup and crown of roses to ROXANNE of C.B.S.'s program, "Beat the Clock."

Delta Shelter's newest addition is an old-time player piano and about 75 classical rolls.

Neighbors and passersby have been awestruck as rapturous strains of everything from Bach and Beethoven to "Balling the Jack" flow from what is fast becoming the cultural center of musical Cincinnati. Pumping the old monster requires a good deal of leg exercise, however, and when those devoted to the preservation of the Fine Arts began to complain of the development of enlarged veins, Don Wheeler used his engineering ingenuity by hooking up the vacuum cleaner to the venerable instrument. This device has eliminated the leg work and given us mechanically pumped bellows.

REMODELING MAKES ROOM FOR HOUSEMOTHER

Thanks to the house corporation, the upstairs rooms of the house have been completely remodeled. Seems like everything is new—walls, bookcases, wardrobes, desks—the whole works. Home was never like this!

But the newest addition of all is yet to come. At long last we are able to have a housemother—something which we have always felt we needed but which because of housing facilities were unable to have.

Gamma Omicron—Syracuse

SYRACUSE DELTS IN MANY ACTIVITIES

The Syracuse Deltas got off to another good year activitywise with just about all of the brothers and pledges in one or more major activity.

Jack Hennessey is leading the way as sophomore class president in addition to being social chairman for St. Thomas More, the campus Catholic parish house. Pete Preston has just been named as photography editor of the school paper, the Daily Orange.

Bob Lefko was recently named over-all chairman of the Soph Hop, the biggest sophomore affair of the year. He also is a member of the yearbook staff and works for the Daily Orange and the school's radio station, in addition to being publicity chairman at St. Thomas More.

John Diaz is really making a name for himself in honoraries. Two engineering honoraries, Alpha Pi Mu and Theta Tau, and an R.O.T.C. honorary, Arnold Air Society, have claimed John. He also is vice-president of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers, an engineering society. During the summer he is a member of the varsity baseball squad.

Jack Duddy was editor of the school rushing handbook this fall and also is in the industrial designers honorary, Alpha Xi Alpha. The house president, Syd Walker, gained another honor when he was named to the Forestry Club's Cabinet.

WINNING AGAIN ON INTRAMURAL FRONT

On the intramural front, the Gamma Omicrons are winning again this year. The squad took its opening two football games against Tau Delta Phi, 27-0, and Pi Alpha Chi, 12-6. Leading the gridders in their opening games were swivel-hipped halfback, Syd Walker, and captain and blocking back, Doug Collins.

MANY ATTEND BUFFET SUPPER

Many Cornell Deltas were our guests at a buffet supper after the recent Cornell-Syracuse football game. Also present to watch the game were the President and vice-president of the Eastern Division, Mr. Forrest Witmeyer and Mr. Bob Wilson. Joe Camarda, last year's chapter president, was also here for the game.

Gamma Pi—Iowa State

TAKE FIRSTS IN TWO I-M EVENTS

The Gamma Pi Deltas began their intramural program with a bang this fall by taking third place in the All-College Sports Triad. In addition, they maintained their all-college volleyball championship standing and took first place in horseshoes. Intramural Chairman Bill Weidenbacher reports that the Delt bowling team is still maintaining its winning streak, and high hopes for a top team are held.

The end of fall formal rush week found 28 pledges in the Shelter. Cal Ashland was elected secretary-treasurer of the interfraternity pledge council.

WIN PAJAMA RELAY

Homecoming at Iowa State found the Deltas in a cyclone of campus activities. For the second year, a Delt team won the traditional Pajama Relay, staged in the college stadium at the Pep Barbecue.

Chairman Dean Karns is making plans for the Deltas' entry for the annual campus Variety Show. Jim Greiner, Bill Weidenbacher, and John Dahl are putting their heads together to rack up a second variety trophy for the chapter.

TWO JOIN CHEMISTRY FRATERNITY

Two Gamma Pi Deltas, Dean Karns and Cal Ashland, were initiated into Alpha Chi Sigma, national chemistry fraternity. Both boys are juniors in chemical technology.

Gamma Rho—Oregon

PLANS LAID FOR SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

The Gamma Rho Deltas are looking forward to a bigger and better year as plans are being laid for numerous desserts, homecoming banquet, sign competition, and rushing functions in preparation for rush week the second week of winter term.

WELL-KNOWN DELTS ON CAMPUS

Well-known Deltas on campus include Ron Ricketts and Phil Lewis, both members of Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's honorary. Ron is sportswriter for the Oregon Daily Emerald and also house social chairman. Phil is a varsity letterman in swimming, specializing in 220 and 440. He swam the 1500-meter event in Northwest Conference competition.

STRIVE FOR TOP HONORS AGAIN

Previous years have seen Delt signs take top honors in the homecoming sign contest, and as soon as the theme is announced, work will begin on planning and constructing a winner again this year. Also part of the homecoming activities will be a banquet held in honor of returning alumni, after the homecoming football game with Washington State.

PLEDGE TRAINING PROGRAM CONDUCTED

Deferred living prohibits formal rushing of freshmen until winter term, at which time rush committees, led by Paul Peterson, will go to work. Hopes are to exceed last year's achievement of pledging a group named by the University as one of the top pledge classes. Freshmen must live in University dormitories until their sophomore year.

Chapter Adviser Earle Zander is conducting a thorough pledge training program, and is working in conjunction with Scholarship Chairman George Weir to insure that Delt grades this year will reach an all-time high on the campus.

Gamma Tau—Kansas

PADDLE PARTY OPENS SEASON

The Deltas of old K.U. started the social season off with a bang with the annual Paddle Party. The main event of the evening was the paddle presentation, which the pledges had been looking forward to since the beginning of pledge training. It was not only the new class's first opportunity to get back at the actives, but the dramatic climax to many hard practice sessions.

EMPHASIZED RUSH REWARDS WITH 28 PLEDGES

The emphasis on rushing has rewarded the chapter with 28 enthusiastic pledges, one of whom, Dick Knowles, has won a starting berth in the varsity line-up along with our other gridiron representatives, Joe Fink, Cal Bender, and Chuck Lane.

CHAPTER OUT TO LEAD ON CAMPUS

Gamma Tau's intramural football heroes have gotten past the first hurdle in the race for the hill championship by winning their first games.

Campus leaders in the Student Congress for the coming year are Dick Schmidt and Dana Anderson. Jack Byrd will be urging the team on to victory in his capacity of head cheerleader.

Gamma Upsilon—Miami

INAUGURATE NEW SCHOOL YEAR

The Gamma Upsilon Deltas inaugurated the new school year in great style with the pledging of five outstanding men during the informal fall rushing season. Jim Burt, Bob Nellis, Jim Rushing, Tom Shaver, and Forbes Taylor are expected to be valuable additions to the chapter.

INTERFRATERNITY FOOTBALL SPOTLIGHTED

The coming of fall also brought the interfraternity football competition into the spotlight. At the time of this writing, the brothers were fighting hard to garner the football trophy and, at the same time, gain points towards retaining the all-sports trophy which was won last year after a close fight with two other organizations. Winning two out of three championships in the major sports last year, we are looking forward to another successful year in intramural athletics.

LEAD WAY IN VARSITY ATHLETICS

Deltas are again leading the way in varsity athletics as well this year. Jim Root, the Redskins' magnificent quarterback, began another great year, after breaking the Mid-American Conference record for pass completions last season. Doug Thompson, a deceptive, hard-running fullback, and Dick Hunter, who is expected to be one of the outstanding sophomore backs in the Midwest, round out the Deltas in the backfield. Paul "The Toe" Sautter, who was one of the team's leading scorers last season, although he never carried the ball, once again was splitting the uprights with amazing consistency.

SHELTER PAINTED

The Shelter is looking better this year than it has for several years due to the efforts of Brothers Charles Harrison and Tom Olson, who returned to school early this fall to clean up the grounds and to paint the exterior. Their efforts added greatly to the appearance of the house, and are an example of the type of work necessary for a successful chapter.

Gamma Chi—Kansas State

BIG NEWS IS NEW SHELTER

The big news at Gamma Chi as the fall semester begins is the start of construction of our new Shelter. Construction began the second week of October and the Shelter is expected to be completed by rush week of next year. The building, which is contemporary in design, will provide sleeping, eating, and studying accommodations for 54 men.

During the fall rush we pledged 11 good men. Our new pledges include Bob Rinehart, Paul Strunk, Monte Meyers, Dave Boucher, Jack Moore, Jess Gebson, S. W. Gunter, Kurhman Kempthorne, Ken Ellis, John Monroe, and Ted Heath.

OLYMPIC SPRINTER RETURNS

Here at Gamma Chi we are especially proud of Thane Baker, our Olympic 200-meter dash star. Thane not only won second place in the 200 meters at Helsinki last summer; he also won many honors at different post-Olympic meets. This will be Thane's last cinder season. We are expecting many more records to fall before he hangs up his collegiate spikes for good.

TWO ON STARTING LINE-UP

We are well represented in football this fall. In the starting line-up are found the names of Deltas Price Gentry, tackle, and Joe Rainman, end. On the reserve list but seeing plenty of action are Jim Limes, end, and Buford Crick, guard. One of our pledges, Ted Heath, is on the freshman squad.

Gamma Psi—Georgia Tech

RUSH HIGHLIGHTS FALL SEASON

The high light of the fall season here at Gamma Psi Chapter has been the rushing season. The rushing program was a very intensive one this year lasting only nine days, as compared to over three weeks last year. During this time we had three big parties and 12 smokers. We had two smokers a day for six days. The rushing program got off to a great start with a party sponsored by the parents of our president, Dean Davidson. It was hay ride plus round and square dances. There were about 250 people attending the party.

Rushing was climaxed by two successive parties held on our back terrace. One was a "Hoodlum Hop." Everyone dressed as some type hoodlum or gangster, and some of the costumes were very spectacular. The last party was a "Beachcomber's Brawl." Some of the costumes for this party were also quite good.

Our rushing program was organized and accomplished by the unceasing efforts of our rush chairman, Bill Britton. Bill spent many hours in making this rush program the best we have ever had, as the results prove. We pledged 31 new boys. Though everyone was glad to see rushing end, we were all overjoyed at the outcome, and the spirit of the chapter has reached a new high.

FOUR MAKE UP KARNEA DELEGATION

Four boys from the chapter were fortunate enough to go to the Karnea this year. They were Dean Davidson, Bill Wilson, Tom Alnutt, and Bert Astrup. From the reports they gave, we are all quite sure that the Karnea was a beneficial occasion for them all.

Delta Alpha—Oklahoma

SECOND PLACE IN OLYMPICS

It looks like another good year for Delta Alpha. We have 35 new pledges, five new members, and three new officers. The addition to our house is progressing rapidly. Mrs. Hazel Curfman, our housemother, has recovered from her auto accident of last May, and it looks as if we may have another winning touch-football team.

One of the new pledges, Tom Evans, took second place in the 147-pound wrestling division in the Olympics at Helsinki last summer. He was also voted the most outstanding wrestler at the AAU tournament in 1952.

ELECTIONS HELD

Dick Patten was elected vice-president, Bob McBride is the new assistant secretary, and George Stanley was chosen for the corresponding secretary job. They filled places left vacant by graduating members last semester.

CHAPTER HOUSE RECEIVES NEW ADDITION

The new addition, including a dining room, kitchen, and two new dorms, is really coming along in fine style. The outer walls for the first floor are completed and ceiling joists for the second floor are being put in place. According to the contractor, the job should be finished by mid-February.

HOUSEMOTHER RECOVERS FROM ACCIDENT

Mrs. Hazel Curfman, our housemother, who suffered severe facial and head lacerations and an injured shoulder in an auto accident when on her way to Oklahoma City last May, has recovered almost completely from her injuries.

BID FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The touch-football team is out after another championship. With almost the same team we had last season, we should be able to go a long way toward winning. To date, we have won one game by an impressive score.

Delta Beta—Carnegie Tech

WIN MANY FIRSTS

The Deltas finished the 1951-1952 season here with a bang last spring. Added to our two-way sweep of Spring Carnival with firsts in the buggy race and the float parade were league championships in soccer and softball. We are also proud of John Ragin's eminent success in the Tech Drama Department's presentation of Hamlet.

PLANS FOR COMING YEAR SET UP

Now as the fall season opens, big plans are under way for the coming year. Total renovation of the old chapter house is now about complete and will enable us to use it for meetings and initiations. An alumni committee, headed by Mr. Horace Johnson of Pittsburgh, has been established, and, in addition, we will be working during the coming year with our new resident housemother, Miss Florella Wallace. The latest step in the transition has been the election of new chapter officers. Our president is Jack Sweeney, of Bloomfield, N. J., and our treasurer is George Billy, of El Paso, Texas. Other officers are: Frank West, vice-president; Frank Loya, house manager; Bud Kelly, corresponding secretary; and Clark Garrecht, recording secretary, a recent affiliate from Washington & Lee.

FALL SOCIAL SEASON PROMISES MUCH

The fall social season has gotten under way with the promise of many successful parties, as in the past.

The intramural football season also shows promise of repeating last year's results, when the Deltas took the campus championship. So far, captained by Bill Jones, the team has won its first three games.

Finally, and most important, we have brought to a climax a successful rushing program. The chapter, under the supervision of Rush Chairman Dave Lose, has pledged 17 good men, and our pledge training is well under way.

PLEDGES NUMBER TWENTY-NINE

To start off the new school year right, we came out of the fray again leading all fraternities on the campus in both quantity and quality. We pledged 24 of the finest men on the campus during formal rushing. Informal rushing, thus far, has netted us four more good men raising the total number of pledges at Delta Gamma to 29. We have the very able leadership of Rush Chairman Don Buxton, to thank for this great success.

TIE FOR FIRST IN INTRAMURALS

To the sorrow of the entire University, the backfield spark plug, Mark Eixenberger, is out for the remainder of the football season as a result of a back injury suffered in practice. Actives Duane Brunick and Duff Lorentson and Pledges Fritz Kling and Joe Di Santo are playing varsity ball this year. The chapter is tied for first place in intramural football with five more games to play. The team has so far emerged victorious led by the excellent coaching and playing of Steve Le Fevre. Star pass-receiver is big Ken Koop, transfer from Colorado.

FAREWELL SERENADE HONORS HOUSEMOTHER

Our beloved housemother, Mrs. Clifford Watkin of Sioux City, Iowa, has left us to attend the bedside of her father. The chapter held a formal banquet in her honor and later a farewell serenade. The high spot of the evening was the presentation of the Delt sweetheart pin to Mrs. Watkin.

CHAPTER OFFICERS BUSY

Chuck Higgins resigned his position as chapter president in favor of law school. Stepping up to take the post was Chuck Jones, a government major from Canton. S. D. Our new vice-president is Duff Lorentson.

Social Chairman Dick Kalstead has announced November 8 to be the date of the Annual Fall Formal. House decorations and a float are well under way and promise to win us at least one fine trophy.

Delta Epsilon—Kentucky

SHELTER DRESSED UP FOR RUSH

To begin the year, we all pitched in and made ready for formal rush week by fixing, polishing, and painting the Shelter and grounds. Our trophies shone and our active membership welcomed and befriended the rushees in a true Delt fashion during the three days of open house. The following week there were three invitational parties, and our cogs were grinding all the time and we all seemed interested in entertaining some 100 freshmen with song and laughter and making them feel at home. The result of our undying interest and persistent efforts was the formal pledging of 37 of the finest young men on the campus. Our hats go off to Paul Holleman, Ange Levas, and Don McClannahan for their excellent rush supervision. Already the two-week-old pledge class is organized and is playing a working part in our chapter. The pledges are presently remodeling our recreation room for after-game parties.

GO ALL OUT FOR SPORTS

Intramurals have opened up with football and the Delt team shows both spirit and promise on the two-hand touch gridiron. Our last game was a 2-0 victory, and the whole chapter was out with supporting cheers. We have a rich stock of talent in all sports and will surely be close to tops if not tops this season.

BID FOR FIRST PLACE IN CARNIVAL COMPETITION

Lances Benefit Carnival is on hand for October 17, and we will again endeavor to win first place in the fraternity division of the fraternal best side show. Since everyone is talking about the "Ike versus Adlai" race for President, we have chosen a similar farce for our skit. If we win, it will make the fourth consecutive year of winning first place.

FALL INITIATION HELD

There is an initiation planned for Sunday, October 12, under the able direction of our president, T. Y. Martin.

In closing, we are proud to be a part of a good Fraternity and proud that our part is a good part.

DELTA ETA PRESENTS AWARD

The Sorority of the Year Award, which Delta Eta presents to the outstanding women's social group, was won by Phi Mu Sorority for the year 1951-1952. Last year's holder was Kappa Delta.

The trophy, 40" tall, is awarded on the basis of participation in all phases of campus life. Scholarship, group and individual participation in organizations, and activities are totaled on a point system to determine the winner.

The points are assembled and controlled by the Women's Student Government Association and a board composed of the WSGA president, a women's Panhellenic Council member, an independent woman student, and two representatives of the Fraternity.

In the two-year existence of the award, winning the trophy has become a major part of sorority life on the Alabama part of sorority life at Alabama.

ALL-AMERICAN ATHLETE PLEDGED

Bart Starr, Montgomery, Ala., is an All-American.

All-Americans aren't entirely unheard of at Alabama, but this one's a freshman.

Starr, a pledge of Delta Eta, came to college with the title.

An outstanding T-quarterback at Sidney Lanier High School in Montgomery, he and a teammate both placed on the prep school Mythical Golden Eleven. Starr, and Nick Germanos, his fellow All-American and his ace pass receiver, came to Alabama as a ready-made passing combination.

Coach Harold "Red" Drew labeled him as "the greatest prospect to come to 'Bama since I've been head coach."

A good, but not exceptional runner, Starr is noted for his passing, coolness, and deceptive ball handling. Even as a freshman, he is playing second-string varsity ball.

Delta Theta—Toronto

HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS MADE

The fall term got off to a roaring start here at Delta Theta. We greeted old brothers and welcomed this year's rushees at a variety of parties. There were several informal evenings at the house as well as a weiner roast and a buffet supper.

A successful summer and timely support from the alumni enabled us to finance several improvements around the chapter. Since our former president, Don McParland, is no longer our leading light, we started the fall term with Fred Bolling in office. After heated debate, the dining room was redecorated in accordance with the views of the modern school, but the die-hards insist that the dark woodwork in the outer rooms remain.

WILL INITIATE IN DECEMBER

Pledge Chairman Jimmie Jerome recently returned from the Karnea full of ideas. His efforts yielded a promising crop of pledges, and we are looking forward to our initiation banquet early in December. This is to be an occasion when both alumni and active members will welcome the new brothers.

We were disappointed to find that Al Dyer, former chapter adviser, would not be with us again this year. We are looking forward, however, to a successful year with Jo Langan as our new adviser. We also have a new vice-president: Charlie Morris.

Delta Iota—U.C.L.A.

RUSHING VICTORY

Another very successful rushing season brought our chapter 22 nuggets, through the outstanding work of our rush chairman, Dick Lievers. Among them is a fine football varsity player, Defensive Tackle Jack Ellena, who has seen a lot of action in our first few games.

SOCIAL LIFE

Socially the Delts got the semester in full swing with a combined initiation formal with the Tri Delts. The Beverly Hills Hotel was the site of this dance which will be long remembered by the honored initiates.

After the homecoming game with Stanford, we got together with our Stanford brothers for a fine party at the house.

All of us are looking forward to our traditional Delt-Dee Gee formal late in November, for which plans are now being made. As always, this dance promises to be another important date on our social calendar.

Track Men Charlie Corbato, Mal Riley, and Bob Hunt are competing in varsity track. Bill George and Bill Zerkie are our pride on UCLA's water polo team.

DELTS IN SCHOOL GOVERNMENT

Our able and ambitious president, Dick Williams, holds a responsible position on IFC's Judiciary Board as public relations co-ordinator, and Lew Leeburg is now AMS president.

DELTS IN THE ARMED FORCES

Bob Rhoades is in the Marine Air Electronics Training Center at Memphis, Tennessee. He will be graduated about the end of the current year. The best of luck to our Brother Bob from all of us.

Delta Lambda—Oregon State

SECOND LARGEST PLEDGE CLASS

Delta Lambda had a successful rushing year, thanks to the wonderful work of our rush chairman, Jim Fisher. The main officers of our 26-member pledge class, which is second largest among 30 fraternities, are Gary Zimmerman, president; Jerry Thomas, vice-president; Dick Boenighausen, manager; and Leroy Martin, J.I.F.C. Thomas was chosen chairman of the Rook Bonfire, which is the freshman homecoming project.

Delta Mu—Idaho

EIGHTEEN PLEDGED

Delta Mu pledged 18 men at the beginning of the fall semester of the academic year 1952-1953. These men are Bill Bauscher, Jerome, Idaho; Jack Blalock, Emmett, Idaho; Steve Boyle, Idaho Falls, Idaho; Jere Burke, Pocatello, Idaho; Clayne Chaumell, Picabo, Idaho; Gene Dickey, Idaho Falls, Idaho; Jerry Duffy, Kuna, Idaho; Grant Gillette, Twin Falls, Idaho; Kenny Goodwin, Emmett, Idaho; Joe Jesseph, Boise, Idaho; Deane Jolstead, Clarkston, Washington; Jerry Jones, Tom MacGregor, Ray Skillings, and Jerry Zimmerman, Nampa, Idaho; Roger McPike, Payette, Idaho; Carl Murphy, Hazelton, Idaho; and Dave Burgess, Moscow, Idaho.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

New officers were recently elected to fill the positions vacated during the summer. Those elected were Pat Duffy, vice-president; Stan Bray, corresponding secretary; Francis Schulz, recording secretary; and Bill Webb, sergeant at arms.

SHELTER'S LIVING ROOM REDECORATED

During the summer the living room of the Shelter was completely redecorated. New furniture, lamps, bookcases, etc., were bought and a new lighting system was installed. All work was done by the members.

Delta Xi—North Dakota

SCHOLARSHIP—BIG NEWS

The big news at Delta Xi is our present scholarship standing—second among campus fraternities. The boys are working to maintain or improve our present position. Next semester should show an improvement even over our last efforts.

ACTIVE IN SPORTS

In the field of athletics two pledges, Glen Peterson and Bob Putz, stand out. Glen is a substitute right end on the varsity football team and Bob is out for a position on the basketball squad. One of our "amateur" athletes, last year's RAINBOW correspondent, Gene Schacht, tore himself away from the books long enough to play an intramural football game. As a result, he has been hobbling about the house on crutches for the last week.

TWO PARTIES PLANNED FOR SOCIAL REGISTER

On the social register are two projected parties—a record affair and the famous "Hard Times Party." Our new social chairman, Leonard Christianson, has been doing an outstanding job, both in his official capacity and as our disc jockey.

SHELTER GLEAMS WITH PAINT

The entire Shelter is gleaming from the thorough painting it received. New draperies and curtains have been ordered for the living room and further improvements in the form of a newly tiled dining room have been added.

MIKE HIBLER was one of the big scoring threats on U.C.L.A.'s west coast championship team last year.

Pledge class at Westminister.

DELT HEADS CAMPUS SCHOLASTICALLY

With Jerry Berger leading the entire campus with a 97.2 average last semester, the men of Delta Omicron have raised their scholastic average by two points. Brother Berger also received the freshman chemistry award for the highest average in that course.

FIFTEEN IN NEW PLEDGE DELEGATION

The chapter was blessed with a fine pledge class this year, numbering 15. The rush season owed a large proportion of its success to many of the brothers who arrived several days early to finish a large-scale reconditioning project of the summer. Norman Freiberger, our house manager, spent many vacation hours doing odd jobs about the Shelter. The kitchen was completely refinished and much of the house was painted. New drapes, contributed by the Mothers' Club, added the perfect finishing touch to the work.

OPEN HOUSE HELD

Sunday, October 5, was the date of a very successful open house held in honor of our new housemother, Mrs. Mary Sue Hamlin, and the incoming pledge class. With serenades, pledge entertainment for "vic" dances, Dad's Day, and the Pledge Formal all coming up in the very near future, things will be moving fast here at Westminister.

TAKE LEAD IN INTRAMURAL RACE

In the intramural race the Deltas have taken an early lead in the fall sport lineup. After winning first place in golf and third place in tennis we hope to tie for first place in baseball with one game left. In the varsity sports, which count toward intramural points, two men from the tennis team, Captain Bill McCue and Jack Jefferson, two from the track team, Stan Brenner and Ken Whitehead, plus three returning to the varsity basketball team, Ken Whitehead, Bob Stufflebam, and John Gunn, will all give us the needed points to remain on top.

IN CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS

House President Bill McCue is also president of Omicron Delta Kappa. Lee Denner has just recently joined Brother McCue in ODK. Jerry Berger is the new president of the sophomore class with Bob Stufflebam the vice-president of the junior class and Stan Brenner sergeant of arms of the senior class. Sheldon Crossette is the vice-president of the Westminister Y.M.C.A.

Delta Pi—U.S.C.

FESTIVITIES FOR YEAR PLANNED

Delta Pi is off to a good start this year with a pledge class of 19. Fred Moldenhauer, as rush chairman, should receive credit for a job well done. He is doing double duty, for, as social chairman, he is busy planning our festivities for the coming semester.

BID STRONG IN INTRAMURALS

The house has obtained a good position for the race in IFC sports competition. Al Call took the singles title in ping-pong and teamed with Glen Hoagland to take the doubles. The next IFC sport is swimming, in which we placed second last year.

HOMECOMING PREPARATIONS

Delta Pi is laying careful plans for Homecoming. Ken Flower is chairman of the event. Al Casten and Cy Consonni are in charge of the selection of the Homecoming Queen.

Representing Delta Pi in campus organizations are Glen Hoagland, of the Knights, and Bill Beazly and Fred Moldenhauer, of the Squires.

Delta Rho—Whitman

FIRST DELT QUEEN CROWNED

At the end of fall rush, Delta Rho gained nine new pledges. This year Whitman College changed its program so that freshmen can move into the fraternity houses as soon as they are pledged. For this reason, our pledges have quickly become conditioned to fraternity life and are well on their way to being assets to the house.

On May 17 Delta Rho Chapter held its annual dinner dance. This was a colorful affair at which our first Delt Queen was crowned. The queen, Miss Pat Herman of Delta Delta Delta, was presented with a beautiful 36-inch trophy donated by Delta Rho's alumni. The walls of the ballroom were decorated with murals depicting the theme of the dance, A Night in Morocco.

ON TOP SCHOLASTICALLY

Delta Rho was the top house scholastically on Whitman's campus during the past year. It is the first time we have held the cup during our five years at Whitman, but now that we have it, we plan to keep it for a long time to come.

At Whitman's annual Mayfete, Steve Churchill and Don McGuire were tapped by the Knights, sophomore honorary. Ev Harris and Jack Kulp were also tapped by the Dramatics Club for their thespian performances.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES IN FULL SWING

The fall whirl has found the Deltas in the midst of social activities. A successful postrush fireside was followed by a Sunday night waffle feed at the Shelter. In the steps of previous Deltas, the house has begun weekly exchanges with Whitman's sororities. An innovation has been started which we hope to continue in the future. The Delt "widows," girls who are pinned to brothers who were graduated last year, were entertained at Sunday dinner.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR SING COMPETITION

The chapter is beginning to prepare for the coming choral contest in which all of Whitman's fraternities and sororities participate. Under the direction of Ev Harris, member and former student manager of the Whitman College Choir, Delta Rho is expecting to present its best group in some years.

Delta Sigma—Maryland

BARBECUE CLIMAXES RUSH WEEK

After a successful season, fall rushing ended with an outdoor barbecue. Congratulations are in order for Phil Shays, rush chairman, for the planning and execution of a fine rush program. When Delta Sigma's rush week ended, Maryland Deltas migrated to George Washington to lend Gamma Eta a hand in its bid for new pledges.

SCHOLARSHIP STRESSED

With scholarship stressed so strongly at the 61st Karnea last summer, increased emphasis is going to be placed on scholarship at Delta Sigma this year. For the preceding year, the chapter placed eighth on campus among 25 fraternities.

SKIN MYSTERY UNSOLVED

After a semester of much searching and inquiry around other fraternity houses on campus, our wall skin, which we won from Delta Delta Chapter (Tennessee), was finally returned. The skin, stolen from the Shelter last semester, came back over the summer in an envelope bearing a Wisconsin postmark. So the mystery of "Who stole the skin?" is still unsolved.

Delta Tau—Bowling Green

SENATOR ADDRESSES CHAPTER

On October 20, Bowling Green State University was the scene of a large Republican rally which featured an address by Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio. Two Delts, Jack Taylor and Chuck Bonser, serve as president and vice-president, respectively, of the Young Republican Club which sponsored the rally.

Prior to the rally, Senator Bricker and other outstanding guests including President and Mrs. Ralph W. MacDonald, were entertained at a luncheon in the Shelter. Cochairmen of the luncheon were Jack Taylor and Ron Ritter.

ELECTION HELD

We elected two assistant treasurers: Al Cobb and Sam McClellan.

The chapter elected Jo Gliot, Gamma Phi Beta, as Delta Queen. She is pinned to Brother Jack Ross and will reign at our Christmas Formal December 6.

AFTER-GAME PARTY HELD

After the Bowling Green-Miami football game, we entertained about 15 brothers from Gamma Upsilon Chapter. The party was attended by approximately 70 couples, and although we were defeated in the ball game it wasn't evident at the party.

SHELTER REDECORATED

The University redecorated our house during the summer. The sleeping rooms which were originally dormitory style and housed 12 and 16 men were remodeled into four- and two-men rooms. They also remodeled our old game room into a four-man sleeping room. New partitions were put in the living and dining rooms, and the dining room and all the sleeping rooms were repainted.

NEW TRADITION ESTABLISHED

A new tradition was started by the brothers by inviting all the women on campus who are pinned to Delts who don't attend school down to the chapter house for Sunday dinner once a semester.

Delt President Bill Baddaker was chosen regimental executive of the ROTC for the coming year. He is second in command of all the ROTC students in the artillery. He was chosen because of his excellent leadership ability and good point average.

HOMECOMING COMMANDS GOOD ATTENDANCE

Homecoming was well attended by both the undergraduate chapter and the alumni on October 24 and 25. More than half of the alumni returned and were present at the gala party held at the American Legion hall in Perrysburg, Ohio. In tradition, we all went to the Sycamore for our party on Friday night before the big game between Baldwin-Wallace and Bowling Green on Saturday afternoon. Sunday found many tired alumni and undergraduates with their wives and dates at the Shelter for a buffet-style dinner prepared by our cook, Mrs. Barr, assisted by our housemother, Mrs. Marie Thompson.

Delta Upsilon—Delaware

PLEDGE RANKS INCREASE

Early October saw the pledge ranks of Delta Upsilon increased to eleven prospective initiates, with Jack Pollock, Spen

JOE FERGUSON, vice-president of Bowling Green's senior class.

Hedger, Wendell Wheatley, Al Tanver, and Bob Mattson all accepting the Delt pledge badge. These upperclassmen became additions to the Delaware chapter primarily as a result of a rushing smoker held during the first week in the aforementioned month of October. At least one more upperclass smoker will be held this term. Then, with the opening of the second semester in February, comes the intensive freshman rushing, which will be carried on for two weeks.

ACTIVES RETURN FROM ARMED SERVICES

The list of active brothers affiliated with Delta Upsilon has been augmented by the return of recently discharged Air Force veterans, Bill McCauley and Art Hodges, who were activated into the 142nd Fighter Squadron two years ago while Delaware students and Delt members. Two new brothers have also been added to the chapter rolls, namely John Schauermaun and Jack Phillips, who were formally initiated into the Delt mysteries on October 8.

THANKS, DELTA SIGMA CHAPTER!

In a fine gesture of interchapter spirit, Delta Sigma of Maryland University played host to a number of Delaware Delts at the Maryland-Navy football game at College Park, Md. Our heartiest thanks go out to the Marylanders for their hospitality!

SCHOLARSHIP PLAQUE OCCUPIES PROMINENT PLACE

As a memento of the recent Karnea, the attractive scholarship plaque which was awarded to Delta Upsilon for having the top scholastic index among the Eastern Division chapters for 1950-51, now occupies a prominent place in our charter room in the Shelter.

ALUMNI INTEREST INCREASES

The interest of the alumni seems to increase with each passing year. Their presence at various chapter meetings and social functions has been especially heartening to the undergraduate members of Delta Upsilon.

OUT TO BREAK SPORTS RECORDS

Brother Jack Stowers, former Sewanee basketball ace who transferred to Delaware over a year ago and immediately affiliated with Delta Upsilon, is now eligible for Fred Emerson's Blue Hen quintet and appears almost set as a starter on the team, which is the defending Middle Atlantic champion. Pledge Bob Wagner, a Lehigh transfer of a year ago, will be out to break records this season as a member of Delaware's swimming team. Last winter, he swam for the chapter in the Interfraternity Swimming Meet and pored 15 big seconds from the previous record for the breast-stroke event.

Plans are now in the making for another annual Christmas party for the children of the Ferris Industrial School, located outside Wilmington, Del.

Delta Phi—Florida State

NEW SCHOOL YEAR UNDER WAY

At Florida State University our school year began with rush week. We were fortunate both in the number and the quality of the men we pledged. Our "western" parties with make-believe gambling were enjoyed by rushees and Delts alike.

We began serving meals in our Shelter the first week in October. The food is very good. Our steward, Fred Smiseth, and our assistant steward, Teddy Aggelis, are doing a fine job of planning, procuring, and serving our meals.

We regretted losing our president, Bob Culliver, to the armed forces during the summer, but we have found able leadership in our new president, John Kinsaul, and our new vice-president, Harvey Sellars.

Our new Shelter is only one block from the F.S.U. football stadium, and we are finding it very convenient for informal parties after the games.

FIRE TRUCK A NEW POSSESSION

We are the proud owners of an ancient fire truck which is often seen chugging around the campus. It is painted bright red and has "Delta Tau Delta" printed on the sides in large letters.

Delta Chi—Oklahoma A. & M.

SHELTER DAMAGED BY FIRE

The biggest news here in the house is a fire we had on October 13. Two rooms of the house were partially or completely destroyed with extensive smoke damage over the entire second floor. Estimated losses were $3,000 on the house itself, $1,000 on household furnishings, and $1,500 personal damage.

Two pledges of the chapter were completely cleaned out except for the clothing they had on at the time of the fire. Only one boy was in the house at the time or perhaps we could have lost the entire house. Since repairs will be very extensive, it has been necessary for everyone to move out of the house into town housing. Repairs should take at least three weeks.

As homecoming is on October 18, it will be hard for us to entertain, but we still plan to enter our homecoming entries and entertain our guests.

The damage to the Shelter has been very severe, but it has only helped build our chapter spirit.

NEW OFFICERS TAKE OVER

Delta Chi elected practically a new set of officers this fall. They are: Joe Benson, president; Eddie Morris, vice-president;

Delta Chi Chapter's Shelter at Oklahoma A. & M., which was extensively damaged by fire on October 13. No members were injured.

Joe Greggs, treasurer; and John Farley, corresponding secretary.

Because of a complete lack of summer rush, our rush week was not all it could have been. Delta Chi, standing by quality rather than quantity, pledged only four men. By the time this issue is out, however, we will have initiated our fall pledge class of six men.

Delta Psi—Santa Barbara

GARNER TEN PLEDGES

Delta Psi closed a successful fall rushing period with the pledging of ten men. Energetic John Chatfield, vice-president of the chapter, guided the program.

SEEK FOURTH STRAIGHT GRID TITLE

The bowling team, led by Captain John Collister, who bowled high game in the league last year, is seeking the giant trophy for the second time. Ralph Yates, Wendell Long, Bob Magruder, and Jess Walker form the kegling squad.

The intramural football squad is making a successful defense of the championship, which Delta Psi has held for the last three years.

The chapter was a close second in the fall swim meet, with Pledge Skeeter Sekking receiving the Dave Russell Memorial Trophy as the outstanding swimmer of the meet.

Delts on the Gaucho varsity grid squad are George Mattais, first-string offensive and defensive end, and Pledges Don Hastings, fullback, and Joe Mathew, center.

TWO DELTS MAKE DEAN'S LIST

Scholastically the chapter was represented on the Dean's List of fraternity men with 2.25 or better by Rod Olsen and Bob Holland. The chapter was sixth on the fraternity list.

NEW OFFICERS

Chapter office vacancies caused by matrimony and the draft were filled by the election of: Bill Kindel, president; Ralph Yates, corresponding secretary; and Charles Bengochea, sergeant at arms.

Epsilon Alpha—Auburn

SUCCESSFUL RUSH WEEK COMPLETED

Fall quarter here at Epsilon Alpha started off with a rush. "Rush Week," that is! During the summer, the rush committee planned a complete and effective rush program for this fall. When school began each man knew the job he was to do. Our rush functions consisted of smokers, coffee parties, and house dances. Thus far our efforts have netted us 23 pledges.

NEW KITCHEN SET UP

In addition to being very busy with rush week, we were faced with the major task of setting up our kitchen. The new stove, refrigerator, and other kitchen equipment had to be put into operation. Several projects have been planned for the pledges, one of which is converting our basement into a recreation room.

ELECTIONS HELD

Joe Stegall, who recently married, resigned his position as president of our chapter, and Ed Vaughan, our former vice-president, was elected to replace him at the helm. Officers for the school year are as follows: president, Ed Vaughan; vice-president, Taylor Davis; secretary, Eddie Fann; corresponding secretary, Gene Browning; treasurer, Lewis Stallworth. Herb Bullard is the new pledge trainer.

MEMBERS IN HONORARIES

The men of Epsilon Alpha are not lacking for honors. Bruce Welsh is president of Omicron Delta Kappa. Joe Stegall was selected outstanding student in R.O.T.C. and is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and Tau Beta Pi. Paul Powers was elected Senior Senator and is a member of Steerage and Omicron Delta Kappa.

We are already making plans for our first annual formal which will be December 6, 1952. Everyone is looking forward to it with great enthusiasm.

Let's Start Singing, Delt Chapters!

THE DELT ALUMNI CHAPTERS

Akron

Resumption of our monthly dinner meetings is scheduled for October, and for this occasion we have a real treat. Raymond E. Dix, managing editor of the Wooster Daily Record, and E. B. "Ted" Evans, Ohio, '42, general manager of WWST, radio station in Wooster, will give a skit, "Notes and Sidelines of Both National Party Conventions." Both attended the political conventions; so their offering promises to be interesting.

Last year Ray Finley, Iowa, '24, did a fine job as president, and this meeting will usher in Gary Fox, Kent State, '49, as our new president.

At our last gathering in June, Richard Hendrick, Miami, '25, head of the Social Security Administration in this area, gave a fine talk regarding the agency. Many new faces were present; we hope that this trend will continue throughout the year.

DR. LOUIS P. CARABELLI

Ashtabula

Our spring meeting was held on April 9 at the Swallows, with the primary business being the election of new officers for the coming year.

The nominating committee of Jack Kerger, Dick Baldwin, and Cliff Hughes, presented the names of Lawrence Robishaw for president, Ed Sites for vice-president, and Peter A. Manyo for secretary-treasurer.

The above names were placed before the members and were unanimously elected to the offices indicated.

Harry Tennant, former president of the local alumni group, has been transferred to New York by his company and as soon as housing accommodations are found for his family he will be moving there. Ed Sites was seriously injured in an automobile accident recently, but reports indicate he is making satisfactory progress.

Plans are now under way for the fall meeting and we hope that all of the members will support the new officers in making the coming year a successful one.

PETER A. MANYO

Boston

Word has recently been received that "Confirmed Bachelor" and Boston Alumni Chapter President Fran Young has finally succumbed and entered into the bonds of matrimony.

Congratulations are also in order for Brother Joel Reynolds on his recent reelection at the Karnea to the office of Vice-President of the Fraternity.

Plans are now under way for the issuance of a Boston alumni newsletter to our entire mailing list in preparation for a bigger and better Founders Day Dinner in March. All Deltas in the area who have not attended meetings during the past year are requested to send their names and addresses to the Boston chapter secretary for incorporation in our next mailing.

A welcome is extended to all Deltas in Greater Boston to attend our weekly Thursday luncheons at Patten's at 12:15.

RUDY HELGESON

Chicago

In spite of several record-breaking heat waves in Chicago this summer, an office building elevator strike and summer vacations, many loyal Deltas gathered each Monday for lunch and their "two cents worth" in the inevitable "discussions" on everything from pledging to politics.

Major event this fall was the rushing party at the Michigan Shores Club on August 19. Capably directed by President John Roddy, we entertained over 75 alumni, actives, and rushees for dinner, topped by an interesting talk by John H. Hutchinson, Beta Pi, '22, Northern Division vice-president. Approximately ten undergraduate chapters were represented, and we understand several of the rushees were subsequently pledged to Delta Tau Delta.

The "debates" on politics have been very interesting because the "active" chapter represents both political parties in every age bracket. Evidence that they know what they are talking about came a month before the party conventions when, in a secret poll, over 70 per cent correctly predicted the nominees.

Personalities. . . . We commend to the Deltas of Milwaukee, Bob Swanson, Gamma Lambda, '49, one of our most active members who was recently transferred to the Johns Mansville offices in Milwaukee. . . . C. C. (Bunker) Bean, Beta, '10, gave the charge to new initiates recently at Illinois Tech. . . . A fine report on the Karnea was received from our delegate, Walt A. Sommers, Gamma Eta, '06. . . . Congratulations to recently married Branwell Fanning, Beta Pi, '48.

DAVE ROGERS

Cincinnati

The Cincinnati alumni, thanks to the hospitality of Brother Edward Schott and to Ed Hoffeld and his hard-working committee, gathered 100 strong at Cincinnati's Coney Island for their annual summer outing. This event again was the high point of the year, with many in attendance who had been absent for too long, as well as a host of the regular standbys. All who attended were in accord that this was again an event not to miss.

This followed another successful event, the summer picnic at Mound View Park, near Cincinnati. Maurice Nelson, Cincinnati, '50, came in for many thanks for his fine work in organizing the hotly-contested horseshoe contests, volleyball in the old championship form of past chapter trophy-winners, and singing far into the evening. This is the third year for the summer party, and each one seems better than the former.

Many of the alumni put forth their best rushing technique in behalf of Gamma Xi Chapter's rushing program this September. This was done in line with the chapter's program to help the undergraduates. Brothers Bob Heuck, Cincinnati, '13, and Herb Schroth, Cincinnati, '16, graciously extended the use of their homes for rush parties.

If you have moved or in some way have acquired a new address, please drop a post card to Dick Reiman, 2722 Legrove Circle, Cincinnati 24, Ohio; or telephone WE-1280. Be sure to be on the mailing list for the fall program.

RICHARD REIMAN

Cleveland

The Cleveland Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta has developed a "pattern" of activities which apparently appeals to our members. Our chief activity is the weekly luncheon meeting. Long ago we dispensed with a formal program and every Friday noon anywhere from eight to 30 wearers of the Square Badge gather at the Nanking Restaurant in the Hippodrome Building where the luncheon hour is given over to informal discussion of Fraternity matters and history, college trends, politics, gripes, groans, stories, and suggestions for the good of the order.

Occasionally some world-shaking event, such as the recent marriage of Brother C. D. Russell, is of such magnitude that a single item becomes the subject of discussion. Only two subjects are "taboo"—requests for contributions or hounding the brothers for dues. These latter items and other matters of business are reserved for direct contact or our Cleveland Alumni Chapter Bulletin.

Just prior to college opening date we held our annual baseball party. At that time alumni and actives joined together to entertain a number of rushees at an afternoon ball game followed by a supper party. Other fall and winter plans include a dinner meeting, Christmas dance, and the annual meeting in February.

One final item. The Cleveland Alumni Chapter extends a most cordial invitation to all Deltas in the area to join with us in the continuing enjoyment of our Fraternity and our service to Delta Tau Delta.

RANDALL M. RUHLMAN

Columbus

The Annual Fall Roundup was held at Darby Dan Farm on September 24. Besides alumni present, the actives, pledges, and rushees of the Ohio State chapter enjoyed an afternoon of sports and talk before the excellent supper that was served about six o'clock. Curt Horning, Beta Gamma, was the chairman for the arrangements, aided by Rupert Starr and the Ohio State chapter.

The luncheon meetings continue to be held every Friday at the University Club. All Deltas are welcome.

A trial program of evening meetings is being inaugurated this fall. Jim Haywood, Beta Phi, is chairman. Plans are also being made for the Founders Day Banquet. Walt Heer, Gamma Gamma, is the chairman for this event. His committee will be announced later.

The officers for this year are: Frank Mallett, Kenyon, president; Dean Strausbaugh, Duke, vice-president for alumni affairs; Rupert Starr, Ohio University, vice-president for undergraduate affairs; Dr. Charles Freeble, Pittsburgh, secretary; and Maurice Nelson, Idaho, treasurer. Note that all four Divisions of the Fraternity are represented in the five chapters from which these officers come.

FRANK MALLETT

Evansville

Our spring meeting was held in May at the Alpine Restaurant west of Evansville. At this time, we welcomed into our group two newcomers, Rev. Joe Wick, Butler, who is now pastor of East Side Christian Church, and Dr. R. Case Hammond, Indiana, who has returned to practice here after a second hitch as a Navy surgeon. Also invited, but unable to attend because he left the very day of our meeting for his first Navy service, was Chick Anderson, Wabash. He was our only active in Evansville last year.

We did come up with an idea which we hope will bring us closer to the active chapters in our area. The secretary has been instructed to write the presidents of these chapters, asking them for a report of any chapter activities which might be of interest to our group here and also suggesting that they plan to send a rushing team to Evansville this spring.

We feel sure we can line up a few prospective Deltas for them.

BEN J. LURIE

Findlay

The Findlay Alumni Chapter held a successful rushing party on Friday evening, August 22. Outstanding young men from this area who planned to attend college this fall were invited by the local alumni to attend.

Congressman Jackson E. Betts of the local alumni chapter spoke to the young men.

Dr. John Gee, chapter adviser of Delta Tau Chapter at Bowling Green, was a guest for the evening. Several active members from the Bowling Green undergraduate chapter attended also.

The Findlay Deltas are currently making plans for an annual scholarship award to be made to nearby Delta Tau Chapter.

ED HEMINGER

Houston

The Houston Alumni Chapter, under the guidance of President Otto Wymer and Secretary Jack Ewing, continued its activities through the summer months. Three meetings have been held since the last report, and the annual meeting, at which time officers will be elected, is scheduled for the night before (October 24) the Rice-Texas football game. The roster of officers will, therefore, have to await announcement until the next issue of THE RAINBOW.

Jim Hunter, with Humble Oil & Refining Company, was the speaker at the June luncheon, giving those in attendance a quick summary of his oil field experiences in Mexico, Santo Domingo, and Venezuela. Maps and charts helped Jim in giving a clear presentation.

Another oil company man, Dave Evans of Gulf Oil Corporation, was the July speaker. Dave is in charge of the marketing research work for Gulf and he told us about the development in the marketing of gasoline. His talk was most instructive and he faced a barrage of questions after it had been concluded.

Bud Siverson, who helps the Lamar Hotel plan and serve those fine meals (that's where we are to hold our annual meeting) was to have spoken at the September meeting, but attendance was too sparse for such a feature and he will be booked again right soon.

The Houston chapter chipped in to help with rushing activities conducted here principally by Gamma Iota members, and, as has been the case for the past several years, the Texas chapter pledged quite a few high-class Houston boys.

SILAS B. RAGSDALE, SR.

Kansas City

Now that the various rush weeks are over, the Kansas City Alumni Chapter has settled down to watching the football results and planning for the Second Annual Fall Party.

This past summer's only notable activity was the rush party held again at Brother Hartley's place. Rushees and actives from practically every chapter in this area were in attendance as well as a good showing of alumni. A fine fare of picnic food was served and everyone seemed to enjoy himself. The chapter's thanks again to Brother Hartley. He is a fine host.

Plans are being formulated for the Second Annual Kansas City Alumni Fall Party. The date this year is November 15. This party is not going to be held on such an elaborate scale as last year (the cost is lowered considerably), but we do expect to have a large turnout and it should be a very rewarding evening. Everyone is cordially invited—come on out and see those brother Deltas you don't see every day.

Don't forget the weekly luncheon at the University Club—Thursday, 12:15 p.m. If you have time and are in the vicinity, drop in—the food is wonderful.

BUCK NEEL

Los Angeles

The Los Angeles Alumni Chapter has been enjoying an unprecedented year, highlighted by the outstanding and well-attended monthly program luncheons. The June luncheon was arranged by Nat Fitts and Dan Ferguson in behalf of the Colorado and Chicago chapters, in which the Olympic Games were emphasized and at which motion pictures of the 1948 Olympic Games tryouts which were held in Los Angeles were shown. In July the luncheon was sponsored by California, and the freshman track coach from the University of California was our speaker.

The August luncheon was noteworthy since our delegate, Doug MacDonald, who was then selected as our delegate to the Karnea, later reported that the invitation he had extended on our behalf to hold the 1954 Karnea in Southern California had been accepted. The alumni chapter looks forward to this occasion with great interest and expectation.

Also at the August meeting Roy Crocker and Arch Tuthill, who were members of the California delegation to the Republican National Convention, reported extensively concerning the Convention, the issues, and the personalities. The September meeting featured King Football and took the form of a barbecue dinner. The publicity director of UCLA, Brother Vic Kelly, and Don Clark, line coach at USC, gave fine talks, and a motion picture featuring highlights of the 1951 Pacific Coast Conference football season was exhibited.

The USC undergraduate and alumni chapters have completed a Delt alumni directory which is now being distributed. This is an outstanding job and congratulations for this fine work are certainly in order.

ARCH TUTHILL

National Capital

The National Capital Alumni Chapter, after a slow start, is gaining momentum in its plans for one of the outstanding events in its history—celebration of the 50th anniversary of Gamma Eta Chapter. Taking advantage of the four-day week end occasioned by George Washington's birthday, which falls on Sunday with Monday considered a national holiday, plans are being perfected to hold this year's Founders Day on Friday, February 20, at the famous National Press Club, scene of many Delt gatherings down through the years.

Dinner will be preceded by initiation ceremonies conducted by Gamma Eta and Delta Sigma Chapters and followed by formal dancing. Saturday and Sunday will be set aside for sightseeing in and around the Nation's Capital by those actives in attendance representing other chapters. Alumni in Washington will be asked to house and feed all undergraduate Deltas who plan to attend this historical event, which means that the only expense will be transportation plus banquet ticket.

Gamma Eta alumni making the trip to Washington on this special occasion will not only mingle with their Fraternity brothers of yesteryear but will also have an opportunity to attend once again some of the many functions incidental to the midyear graduation ceremonies at George Washington University, where they may visit with classmates, sons and daughters of classmates, and members of the faculty. We cannot conceive of a more comprehensive program which will have more widespread appeal among Deltas than the one being planned under the general chairmanship of Brother George A. Degnan, George Washington, '17.

For further information, address inquiries to the undersigned at the Gamma Eta Shelter, 1009 H Street, N. W., Washington 6, D. C. All Deltas, when visiting the Nation's Capital, are cordially invited to attend our weekly luncheons, held every Wednesday at Bonat's Restaurant, 1022 Vermont Avenue, N. W., at 12 o'clock noon.

ROBERT E. NEWBY

Oklahoma City

Several of our members returned from the recent O.U.-Texas game with glowing reports of a wonderful week end in Dallas. We won't embarrass our neighbors to the south by mentioning the score, but we will say that even in defeat the Texans are great hosts.

By the way, our officers are: Wendell Cates, president; Dan Walding, vice-president; Shelby Green, treasurer; and Don Holt, secretary. Arnold Shelley is our rush chairman, co-ordinating with the undergraduate chapters; H. C. Luman is our social chairman; Dick Lunn, attendance and program chairman; and Shelby Green, financial chairman.

We were sorry to hear of the fire in the Shelter at Stillwater and regret the loss of clothing and books of some of the boys. They were fortunate that the damage was not greater and that there were no injuries. Good luck to you of Delta Chi, and may you be back in your re-decorated house soon.

We enjoyed the rush parties with the undergraduates this last summer and look forward to bigger and better parties in the coming year.

DON HOLT

Pittsburgh

A full summer and fall program, featuring golf, the Karnea, service to undergraduate chapters, and the ever-popular Tuesday luncheons, has kept Fraternity interest high among members of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter.

John Grove, Division vice-president, led off in June as chairman of the Golf Tourney at Edgewood Country Club. Jim Ludwig captured first honors among the niblick fans that day.

Chapter Treasurer Ludwig figured again in the summer's activities by serving as the Pittsburgh chairman of the fourth annual golf tournament and dinner held jointly with the Butler Alumni Chapter.

With Vernon Wise once more heading the host delegation, a record turnout of 44 Deltas took part. When the scores were tallied, Jack Brand proved to be "golfer of the day."

Late in August, four members of the chapter, Norman MacLeod, Gerald Harshman, Lee Sellers, and Bill Raines, arrived at Mackinac Island, Michigan, for the 61st Karnea. There they were joined by Wm. M. Hutchison, from the Indianapolis chapter, in conducting a panel discussion on "Public Relations in the College Fraternity."

On the home front, meanwhile, five Delta Beta alumni were hard at work helping the Carnegie Tech chapter with its rushing program and in renovating the house. Among the many achievements chalked up by Horace Johnson, Ernest Butler, Jack Pool, Jim McGarvey, and Joseph Gray, is a new chapter room at the Delta Beta Shelter.

December and the Christmas season herald the oldest and best loved tradition of Pittsburgh Delt alumni—the annual church service at Dean High Moor's Trinity Episcopal Cathedral.

To meet the deadline for December's RAINBOW, the writer has stuck his neck out for the past two years by describing the Trinity Service in October as though it already had taken place. In 1950, Pittsburgh's worst snow storm in history postponed the service for a week. Last year Dean Moor introduced Branch Rickey as a surprise guest speaker.

Despite these departures from form, the basic facts about the Delt Christmas service can be predicted with certainty even in October:

It will take place Sunday evening, December 7.

It will be the 18th annual program under Dean Moor's direction.

Bob Buell will be chairman.

There will be a singing contest after the service by the undergraduate teams from Pitt, Tech, Washington and Jefferson, Allegheny, and West Virginia.

A large turnout of Deltas, their wives,

OFFICIAL JEWELERS

Delta Tau Delta Fraternity is served by three official jewelers. They are: L. G. Balfour Company, Attleboro, Massachusetts; Burr, Patterson & Auld Company, Detroit, Michigan; and Edwards, Haldeman and Company, Detroit, Michigan.

Only these three firms are authorized by the Fraternity to reproduce the Delta Tau Delta insignia in articles of jewelry.

OPEN HOUSE FOR DELTS AT BRANCH RICKEY'S PITTSBURGH FARM. Left: Active and alumni voices blend in "Sing to the Royal Purple." Right: "Why go Delt?" BRANCH RICKEY answers this question convincingly at his Open House for undergraduate, alumni, and prospective members of the Fraternity.

"Chow line was never like this!" one freshman was heard to exclaim, as Delts lined up for turkey and shrimp on the back porch of Rickey's suburban home. Right: LUKE BARNETT, famous after-dinner comedian, subtly chides the assembled Delts, who have not yet seen through his guise of a "Czech professor."

and their sweethearts will gain inspiration and have a rousing good time.

BILL RAINES

Portland

The Portland Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta was very greatly honored by having one of its own members, Bob Gilley, appointed President of the Western Division. Congratulations to Bob from all of us.

At our annual meeting, held June 18, 1952, the following officers were elected: Ralph O. Peyton, president; Dick Keefe, vice-president; Bill Eigner, treasurer; and Herbert W. White, Jr., secretary.

At the dinner, Bob Gilley was awarded membership in the Distinguished Service Chapter. At that time, it was decided to hold our meetings every Monday, at the Broiler. All alumni and visiting alumni and active members are cordially invited to attend our weekly meetings.

Several rushing parties were held during the summer and the prospect for rushing in our chapters seems very good. One rushing party, held at Suttle Lake in the Oregon Cascades in the central part of Oregon, was a bang-up deal.

Now a bit about social events of the alumni. In October, we are having our annual Hard Times Dance at Metzger Hall, on the west side of Portland. Everyone has a good time at this dance each year. Paul Eckelman is in charge of this event.

In November, we are planning on having a bridge party. Plans are not quite crystallized on this one as yet, but in the years past we have always had a good turnout at these alumni events.

For our Christmas dance, another big annual event, arrangements have been made to have it again at The Rose Bowl at the Multnomah Hotel, on Friday, December 26. Plans are being made for a big evening. Mark this on your calendar, all alumni and actives anywhere around Portland at that time! We'll be happy to see you all there.

A few personals: Paul Eckelman was seen driving one of his employer's cars in the political parade through downtown Portland streets the other day. You know Ike was in town.

Bob Case has had a few of his stories telecast and is now working on another one.

Herb White has moved back into town.

Carl Grieve has moved into a house in the west side Hills.

Don't forget that our luncheons are every Monday now at the Broiler. Be seeing you all there.

HERB WHITE, JR.

St. Louis

Along with summer went several memorable occasions for St. Louis Delts. President Jack Frier seems to have been most responsible for their success.

First among these was a family picnic at Hillcrest Country Club. There were games, swimming, food, fun, and heat galore. A second and very worth-while event was a Sunday afternoon rush party at the home of Jack Frier's father. Rushes, undergraduates, and alumni were abundant. We heard some enlightening talks on different aspects of the Fraternity by Missouri and Westminster Delts, Skip Giebel and Tom Shields. Local contributors were Jack Frier, Mel Sheehan, and the very capable Bill Martin-dill, Arch Chapter Secretary of Alumni.

One of our early fall gatherings was at the Missouri-Maryland football game at Columbia. We, about 40 in number, visited the Westminster and Missouri chapters prior to the game, where we were hospitably received and fed.

Our annual Christmas party is to be held this year at the Elks Club on December 27. Naturally, it's going to be a lively affair, and we might add, inexpensive. All of you alumni and undergraduates are welcome.

This is the first year our quad-state scholarship trophy is to be offered. Among the Delt chapters in Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, and Iowa, the St. Louis Alumni Association is presenting a permanent trophy to the chapter having the highest grade standing for the school year.

HAROLD MANESS

St. Petersburg

The St. Petersburg Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta has the unique distinction of having as its delegate to the 61st Karnea none other than the Chief of the Kennel of Karnea Hounds, Judge Harry R. Hewitt, Wisconsin, '02, for his 17th Karnea. The cover of the September RAINBOW pictures the three Hounds—one of them our own Judge Harry Hewitt.

The chapter gave a luncheon September 12 at the St. Petersburg Yacht Club complimentary to several young men about to enter college. Among those present were John Edwin Ellis, son of Judge Edwin B. Ellis, Virginia, '24; Ogden Helt, son of Howard Helt, Pittsburgh, '20, and president of the St. Petersburg Alumni Chapter. Young Ellis plans to enter the University of the South and Ogden the University of Florida.

Our next regular luncheon is scheduled for Wednesday, November 5, at the Yacht Club. Election of officers for the coming year will be held Wednesday, December 3, at the regular Wednesday luncheon.

A great loss to Delta Tau Delta and the St. Petersburg Alumni Chapter and the community was the sudden death of Charles C. Carr, Indiana, '02, on July 29. Brother Carr, one of the foremost men in the field of newspaper work, advertising, and public relations, was never too busy to do a good turn for his friends—and every Delt was his friend.

When in St. Pete, make it a must to come to our monthly luncheons. Watch the papers for time and place.

ROBERT S. ARTHUR

Toledo

The Toledo Alumni Chapter planned its first annual wild duck dinner at Sylvania Country Club on November 7 with a limit of 60 places.

The ducks were furnished by Bob Eddy, Jr., and Dick Bohl, two young hunters who filled up their frozen storage with the birds last fall and wanted an incentive to go out and get some more for the coming year. The generous sportsmen received a big hand from Toledo Delts.

W. Edgar West, Treasurer of the Fraternity, was invited to represent the Arch Chapter, and the boys planned also a "post mortem" skit on the national elections entitled "How It Happened."

Vincent Bailey was chairman of the duck dinner.

What may develop into an annual rushing meeting was inaugurated at Greyhaven, the suburban home of Harry N. Hansen, on the evening of September 9. About 30 Delts gathered there for renewal of fellowship. Refreshments were available at the big outside grill, lawn games were played, and around the fire-side young and old-time Delts were called to report on their active chapters—most of those in the Northern Division were represented.

While there were few rushees present, and some of the actives had already returned to their schools, a pattern was set for future years. The boys put on a moonlight Walk-Around to conclude the Delt event.

G. WILFRID HIBBERT

Topeka

Topeka alumni have continued to hold monthly luncheon meetings all summer with the exception of the August meeting. Our September meeting was a good one with full attendance. Our new officers are Gail Wilson, president, and Dick Gelvin, vice-president. We have not had our usual summer picnic, but are looking forward to an evening party this fall.

Gamma Theta held a rushing party here before school opened, headed by George Schrader, president of the chapter at Baker, who lives in Topeka. Several of our alumni members attended.

Mike Oberhelman just returned from a meeting of the American Bankers Association at Atlantic City. Fred Conger, manager of Radio Station WREN, reports an application in for television for his station, which we hope will be working before long. Judge Roy L. Bulkley reports that he is being kept very busy as Judge of the Court of Topeka.

Any Delts who may be stationed at the Forbes Air Force Base located at Topeka are invited to get in touch with our group through the secretary.

FRANK F. HOGUELAND

Wichita

On September 24 the chapter here in Wichita had its monthly luncheon, at which time the following officers were elected for the next year. They will hold office until September of 1953. Those elected were: George McCarthy, president; Joe Yager, vice-president; Bill Marshall, treasurer; and Art Wolf, secretary.

Also discussed at this meeting were the preliminary plans for our annual Christmas formal, which will be held in the ballroom of the Hotel Broadview shortly after Christmas.

Joe Moddrell, Jr., was given a hand for the splendid job that he did as president of the chapter through the 1951-52 year.

Among the plans discussed were those concerning a closer relationship with the nearby active chapters and more assistance to them in their rushing activities.

F. LAURISTON BULLARD, Wooster, '91, Pulitzer prize winner, died at his home in Boston August 10. He was 86.

Dr. Bullard was chief editorial writer for the Boston Herald from 1919 to 1943. He was awarded the Pulitzer prize, journalism's top recognition, for his 1926 editorial, "We Submit," a reappraisal of the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

He was the author of numerous books and magazine articles. He was well known as a Lincoln scholar. Despite three years of lingering illness, he worked through to completion on his last book, Lincoln in Marble and Stone, which was published last April.

CHARLES C. CARR, Indiana, '09, nationally recognized public relations consultant, died July 29 at St. Petersburg, Florida. Prior to his retirement in 1949, he served the Aluminum Company of America for 15 years as its director of public relations.

Mr. Carr, who had also served Alcoa as advertising manager, carried out a nationwide program which became famous for its "imagineering." Last January his book, Alcoa: An American Enterprise, which chronicles the rise of this great industry, was published.

He was one of the foremost leaders in civic activities of St. Petersburg. Among other achievements, he was a founder and past president of the Rotary Club, vice-chairman of the local Red Cross, and a governor of the St. Petersburg Chamber of Commerce.

EVERETT W. FRAZAR, Stevens, '90, who pioneered the import business in Japan, died last summer.

Mr. Frazar was an associate of Thomas Edison, worked with him in his laboratory in the early 1890's, and later sold Mr. Edison's inventions in the Orient. He introduced the Edison phonograph in Japan and saw his innovation grow in favor to the point where Japan became the greatest manufacturer and purchaser of phonographs and records in the world.

HARRISON B. BARNARD, Wooster, '95, Chicago builder and contractor, died August 14. He was an honorary trustee of the University of Chicago and a trustee of the John G. Shedd Aquarium. He had been a resident of Chicago since 1892.

A. SHELDON CLARK, Colorado, '00, chairman of the Sinclair Oil Corporation, noted sports and civic figure of Chicago, died August 15 at the age of 75.

Mr. Clark was a man who had crammed a wealth of activity into his lifetime. He began his career with Sinclair in 1916, to become a pioneer of the modern oil industry. He is widely credited with conceiving the present-day gasoline filling station, which has grown from a single curbstone pump into a functional, complete unit.

Mr. Clark won international fame in the sports world. An ardent yachtsman, he held yachting's highest post in 1934 as commodore of the Yachtman's Association of America. He was an early aviation enthusiast. At one time his hydroplane held the world speed record for single-engine craft of this type. He also owned the Rainbow, a Nova Scotia schooner, in which he competed in the Chicago-Mackinac races in the twenties.

Mr. Clark was connected officially with the biggest indoor and outdoor attendances in boxing history. He was a judge at the Dempsey-Tunney "long count" fight in Soldiers' Field in 1927. It drew a record gate of $2,658,000. He was chairman of the Illinois Athletic Commission from 1941 through 1948, and in 1947 saw fans pay $422,918 for the Zale-Graziano bout in the Chicago Stadium, which set a world indoor record.

In 1941, the Chicagoan was honored by more than 1,100 civic, sports, political, and business leaders at the first annual Sports Celebrities Dinner. In 1951 he was awarded the Silver Buffalo Medal by the Boy Scouts of America for his long record of service to that organization.

He had also been an active worker for the Republican Party and served as secretary of the Republican National Convention in Chicago in 1916.

Dr. ROBERT M. SHERRARD, W. & J., '92, one of the original members of Pittsburgh's (Pennsylvania) Board of Public Education, died September 19. He was 82.

Dr. Sherrard was associated with the Pittsburgh school system from 1895 to 1938 and had advanced to the associate superintendency.

MORTON C. CAMPBELL, W. & J., '96, professor of law emeritus of Harvard University, died September 16. He instructed in the Harvard law school from 1919 to 1942, specializing in the commercial law field.

As an instructor, he was distinguished for his clarity and precision of thought and his great knowledge of detail.

APPRECIATION

The Fraternity gratefully acknowledges the valuable assistance of the many Deltas who submit to the Central Office newspaper clippings, obituaries, and other information which help the Fraternity maintain up-to-date membership records.

and song writer, died August 19 at the age of 92.

"Tell Mother I'll Be There" is the best-known of Rev. Fillmore's compositions. President McKinley's message to his dying mother furnished the inspiration for the song. It was translated into various languages, sold thousands of copies, but earned for its author only $5.

Although he had given up the active ministry 20 years ago, Rev. Fillmore continued preaching as guest minister in churches until he reached the middle 80's.

LAMAR TROTTI, Georgia, '21, Academy Award winning screen writer and film producer, died of a heart attack in St. Malo, California, on August 28.

Mr. Trotti, who was president of Beta Delta Chapter while he was a journalism student at Georgia, began his career as a newspaperman. At one time he earned the distinction of being among the youngest city editors in the country.

Later, however, he began writing movie publicity and soon broke in as a script writer. From 1933 to 1943 he wrote the entire screen plays for some 15 films, several of them starring Will Rogers.

The Academy Oscar for the best original screen play was awarded to Trotti in 1944 for his script for the film, "Wilson." He also won the annual Christopher Award with the picture, "Cheaper by the Dozen."

Mr. Trotti became a producer in 1942, opening his new career with the film, "The Ox-Bow Incident," which brought praise from critics and still is regarded by the film industry as one of its most artistic accomplishments.

Among many other films credited to Mr. Trotti were "Razor's Edge," "My Blue Heaven," "Guadalcanal Diary," and "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

The Delta Creed

- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity, so that I may better learn and live the truth.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as a shrine of international brotherhood: her cornerstone friendship, her foundation conscience, her columns aspiration, her girders self-restraint, her doorway opportunity, her windows understanding, her buttresses loyalty, her strength the Everlasting Arms.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as an abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self-respect, and bring about that happy life wherein I may more truly love my fellow men, serve my country, and obey my God.
