A Man of No Ordinary Stature

By GEORGE BANTA, JR., Phi Delta Theta

Such a man is Henry M. Wriston, Wesleyan, '11, whose eighteen years as President of Brown University have marked him as one of the truly great of our time

I CONSIDER IT a great compliment to be asked to write an article about Henry Wriston for THE RAINBOW on the occasion of his retirement as President of Brown University. My contact with him goes back to the time when he was a fledgling president of Lawrence College and I a green trustee, and I think of him as a man who does more things superlatively well than anyone I have ever known.

Just to list some of his attributes will illustrate what I mean. Mr. Wriston is recognized as an authority on international relations and was a brilliant teacher in that field. He writes clearly and well and has a number of books to his credit. He is one of the country's ablest public speakers and has for many years been in great demand as such. His understanding of education, in the broad sense, is unequaled and he is looked up to by other educators as a natural leader. He has a knowledge and appreciation in the fields of art and music that is remarkable, and the same is true of architecture. When a handsome building was erected on the Lawrence campus, the architect frankly said, "I didn't build that building, Wriston did." His proficiency in financial affairs is attested by what he did for Lawrence and Brown in that respect and the fact that he has been, for many years, a trustee of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, one of the nation's leaders.

With all these qualities he is as human as a man can be. When he was at Lawrence he knew all about current fads and fancies of the undergraduates. He would quote from the latest College Humor or sing the latest popular songs. He knew as much of what was happening on the football squad as he did in the history department. He was aware of all of the campus love affairs and joked about them to the principles. If there is such a thing as a many sided person, Mr. Wriston certainly fits the description.

He is a good fraternity man and a good Delt. He recognizes the assets and the weaknesses of fraternities and realizes, because they are human institutions, they are subject to the foibles of human beings. Along with almost everything else, he recognized the fraternity situation at Lawrence and helped to bring on the campus chapters of three of the old national fraternities. He was unhappy about the locals he found at Lawrence and pressed to nationalize them to join the two national groups already there.

Mr. Wriston envisioned the fraternity quadrangle which was built at Lawrence after he left and which has been operated with outstanding success for fifteen years. It was the model for the quadrangle at Willamette and for the splendid one which was recently built at Brown as the result of his initiative, planning, and persistence. When Mr. Wriston arrived on the Providence campus, he found the fraternities, for the most part, living in squalor and filth and he was not content until they were moved into handsome University-built houses, supervised and maintained by the Brown administration. He persuaded Mr. Rockefeller and other alumni to contribute the large sum necessary to carry out the idea.

He has spoken very effectively at more than one meeting of the National Interfraternity Conference, particularly on the occasion of the dinner given to Wendell Willkie at the time he was in the national spot light. His value to the fraternity movement was recognized when the N.I.C. gold medallion was presented to him a year or so ago.

On February 2, 1937, Dr. Wriston received the original Brown charter of 1764 as a symbol of the office of President. Seated in the University's historic Manning Chair, he accepted the document from the then Chancellor, Dr. HENRY D. SHARPE.

Miss Ruth E. Sandborn, his research assistant and editor whom he took with him when he left Lawrence, contributed an article about him in a recent Alumnus in which she points out that there are more than one Henry Wriston and therefore you will continue to hear and read about him for a long time. For instance, as a foreign relations expert, he has since last spring been serving as Chairman of the Secretary of State's Public Committee on Personnel. He will undoubtedly continue with this and other assignments for the State Department. He is at present working on a new book and has others in mind, for he says, "A book on foreign policy needs to be written."

It is impossible to recite in this short article Mr. Wriston's honors and responsibilities in the field of education. While still at Lawrence he was president of the North Central Association, and of the Association of American Colleges and a trustee of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. He has been an influential figure in the affairs of the American Council on Education and a trustee of the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Fund.

His activities and fame in education have not been confined to this country, for in 1953 Mr. Wriston was one of ten American university presidents invited to attend the Seventh Congress of the Universities of the Commonwealth in Cambridge, England, and gave the opening address at one of the sessions. He was the recipient of one of the first honorary degrees conferred by the University of Southampton in England. Indeed, he has received a great many honorary degrees from institutions large and small in this country.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

GEORGE BANTA, JR., president of the George Banta Publishing Company and editor of Banta's Greek Exchange, is a man closely in touch with fraternity and college affairs. A member of Lawrence College's board of trustees, he is also a former president of the board. He has served Phi Delta Theta Fraternity both as editor and national president. In the National Interfraternity Conference he has been both vice chairman and member of the executive committee.

Delta Tau Delta is grateful for this splendid interfraternity gesture on the part of Mr. Banta.

Fraternally and Interfraternally . . .

- Supervisor of Scholarship of Delta Tau Delta for three years during which period the Fraternity achieved its best record in scholarship, ranking first in 1938-39 among national fraternities with 50 or more chapters.
- Member of Delta Tau Delta's Distinguished Service Chapter.
- Member of the Delta Tau Delta Educational Fund Advisory Committee.
- Recipient of the National Interfraternity Conference Gold Medal for 1952, for "distinguished service to youth through the American College fraternity."
- Founder of fraternity quadrangles at both Lawrence College and Brown University.

Henry Wriston's idea of a good job is a tough one. When he came to Lawrence to begin his work as a college president, the entire structure of the institution needed rebuilding, physically and spiritually, and in twelve years he accomplished that in a manner which brought it to the attention of the entire collegiate world. Among other things he brought to the campus John Millis, formerly president of the University of Vermont and now head of Western Reserve; Victor Butterfield, the present president of Wesleyan University; and Nathan Pusey, who left Lawrence two years ago to succeed President Conant at Harvard. He also founded the Institute of Paper Chemistry, a graduate school affiliated with Lawrence, which has become one of the most distinguished institutions of its kind in the country.

At Brown he found the seventh oldest university in the country badly in need of a refurbishing job and there is no doubt about the effectiveness of his service while in Providence. Mr. John D. Rockefeller, an alumnus of Brown, recognized it in a signal manner when he gave his alma mater five million dollars recently in appreciation of the work which President Wriston has done for the institution.

Henry Wriston is truly one of America's great men and Delta Tau Delta can be proud of the fact that he is, and always has been, an interested and devoted member.

Mark ye well these dates—August 15, 16, 17, and 18—for then there shall come to pass a great Delt event, known as . . .

THE HOUSTON KARNEA

DOWN IN HOUSTON, Texas, rumblings from Delt quarters are beginning to be heard.

They are said to be the forerunners of cataclysmic forces which will be released next August.

August 15, to be exact. That's when the tremor starts. It lasts four whole days.

It is more accurately known as the Karnea, Delta Tau Delta's biennial outpouring of national spirit, when the Fraternity's loyal sons and servants foregather to pledge anew their dedication to the magnificent ideal of undergraduate and graduate brotherhood.

The Karnea has been to many places—California, New York, Georgia, Washington, and other points east and west—but never to Texas. The 63rd Karnea is therefore the first one not only for Houston but also for the state of Texas. That's one of the many reasons why Houston wants to make good on this Karnea. That explains, too, why Houston Delts are getting an early start, just to make sure that the 63rd goes over big.

They took a long step in this direction late in November when the General Chairman was named. He is John V. Singleton, Jr., Texas, '40, one of the go-getting members of the Houston Alumni Chapter.

Mr. Singleton is a partner in the law firm of Bates, Riggs & Singleton of Houston. Past president of the Houston Junior Bar Association, he is now vice president of the Houston Bar Association and member of the Texas State Bar and the American Bar Association. He is licensed to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court, U. S. Court of Civil Appeals, and U. S. Federal District Court.

The Karnea Chairman made quite a name for himself while a student at the University of Texas. He was president of Gamma Iota Chapter, having first served a tour as rush chairman. A member of the interfraternity council, he was also a member of the Union Board of the Student Union and of Cowboys, men's honorary fraternity.

A naval officer in World War II, he served in the Pacific aboard the destroyer escorts U.S.S. Dempsey and U.S.S. Greenwood.

Tall and friendly in the best Texas tradition, John Singleton will head a team of Dels who assure the Fraternity of another memorable Karnea. From the ranks of the active Houston Alumni Chapter, John will recruit his committee. His right-hand man, of course, will be Eldridge C. Thompson, Colorado, '21, president of the host organization.

Mr. Thompson, who was long active in the Fraternity's Denver Alumni Chapter, is an old hand at alumni work. Besides going to bat for the Dels, he was instrumental in reviving the Houston chapter of the University of Colorado alumni association.

A member of the GMAC organization for 18 years, Mr. Thompson was manager of the Abilene, Texas, branch until World War II closed the offices. He then became a partner in Camp Howze Bus Lines. In December, 1945, he opened Thompson Nash Company in Houston and served as president and general manager until 1951. He has also been manager of the Smith Chevrolet Company.

During undergraduate days, he was treasurer of Beta Kappa Chapter and lettered in varsity baseball. He is the brother of Llewellyn E. Thompson, Colorado, '26, U. S. Ambassador and High Commissioner to Austria, who was named the University of Colorado's outstanding alumnus for the year 1954.

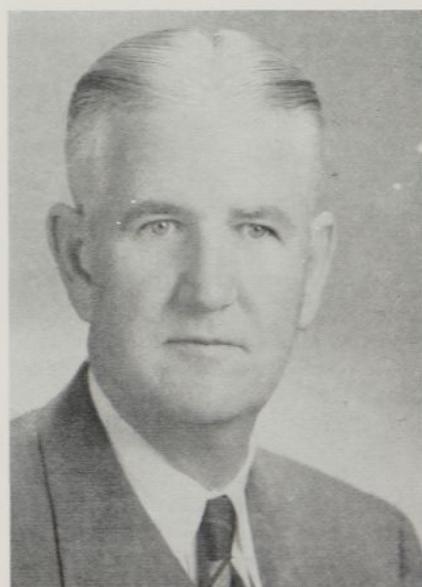

Karnea headquarters in Houston will be the fabulous 18-story, 1100-room Shamrock Hilton Hotel, every room of which is air-conditioned. As the hotel's flyer advertises, "Here you will find the best of everything—beautiful, air-conditioned rooms, fine food, superb service, and a luxurious resort setting with swimming pool, cabanas, and playgrounds for children."

Outstanding features of the hotel include an adjacent 1000-car garage and lobby promenade lined with fine specialty and service shops. There is, of course, the famous Emerald Room—as well as the Shamrock Room and

Dr. Gifford Upjohn—Pilot of Progress

As President of The Upjohn Company, he heads an organization which regards progress as the cornerstone of its operation

To MILLIONS of Americans, the name Upjohn is almost a household word—a word of special significance and rich in connotation.

Identifying products of one of the world's largest and most respected full-line pharmaceutical houses, it has become synonymous with quality and dependability. For those who must put their faith in the curative power of drugs, in the urgent hours of emergency, or in the everyday situation, it speaks with authority and confidence.

Behind the well-known label is The Upjohn Company, of Kalamazoo, Michigan, approaching its 70th year of distinctive service to humanity. Its president since 1952 has been a Delt who himself bears the Upjohn name.

He is Dr. E. Gifford Upjohn, Michigan, '25.

On meeting Dr. Upjohn, one is somehow struck by the impression that here is a man particularly well cast in his role as head of an organization which combines science with business. He is friendly and relaxed. He has a ready smile. He moves in an atmosphere that bespeaks teamwork and efficiency. There is little about him to suggest qualities of aggressiveness and high power usually associated with the executive of big business. But there is the strong suggestion of confidence, serious purpose, thoughtfulness—and competence and understanding.

ground, too, to bear out this impression. Dr. Upjohn joined the company at a time when the drug industry was embarking on an era of great discovery; he played a vital part in that renaissance, and along the route accumulated a vast store of the technical training and practice required to keep pace with today's rapidly changing medical pharmacology.

A graduate of the University of Michigan School of Medicine, he represents the fourth generation of Upjohns to achieve the M.D. degree. His son, Dr. Harold, a recent graduate of Harvard Medical School, is the fifth generation.

First in the lineage was Uriah Upjohn, a Welchman who migrated to America via England. He first touched our shores in 1830 and lost little time in securing his diploma from the college in New York City which is today known as Columbia University. Uriah had four sons—three M.D.'s and a pharmacist—one of whom, Dr. Henry Upjohn, set up his practice in Kalamazoo.

Henry fathered five boys, of whom one is Dr. L. N. Upjohn, former president and chairman of The Upjohn Company, presently honorary chairman of the board, and father of the present president. Dr. Henry Upjohn and his brother, Dr. W. E. Upjohn, both clever and inventive men as well as competent physicians, founded the company in 1886—but more of that later.

Although Gifford Upjohn was born in Kalamazoo, he did not remain there long, for his father was placed in charge of the Upjohn New York office, and most of the son's preparatory schooling was taken in the East. When he chose his college, however, he returned to his native state and the University in Ann Arbor. There he moved into the Delt house and settled down seriously to the job of preparing himself to be a physician.

Dr. Upjohn recalls with pleasure many of his associations in the Fraternity and feels today that Delta Tau Delta was a constructive influence in his undergraduate days. Later, in medical school, he was befriended by another Delt, the late Dr. John Alexander, Pennsylvania, '12, one of the nation's most eminent thoracic surgeons and professor of surgery at the University of Michigan.

During the summers of his college years, Dr. Upjohn began to acquire first-hand knowledge of the drug business at the grass-roots level, by accepting employment in the shipping and sales departments of the New York office. His extracurricular activities at Michigan, too, provided good business training, for he served as sales manager of the yearbook, the Michiganian. In medical school his fraternity was Nu Sigma Nu.

Following graduation from Medical School, he served from 1928 to 1930 as a rotating intern and assistant resident at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor. In the back of his mind during this period was the thought, of course, that his future career might lie with his father's, his grandfather's, and his great uncle's firm, but there was still the thought, too, that he might prefer to follow the practice of medicine. He knew, however, that whichever decision was made, the training as an intern would later be invaluable to him.

By 1930, his decision had become a conviction: the fascination of drug compounding, with its many facets of research, production, clinical testing, and marketing, was too great. Perhaps he saw, moreover, even at this early stage, the need for greater integration between drug manufacture and medical practice, with a challenge which was to provide an opportunity for his own distinct contribution to the rapidly developing science.

So it was that he joined forces with The Upjohn Company, and, as one final step of preparation, fortified himself further with special graduate work in economics at Columbia University.

Dr. Upjohn's first assignment was a post in the production department, where he quickly became conversant with the methods, procedures, and problems of the vital division that assures the daily flow of quality drugs. Shortly afterward he was named assistant production manager and took the first step toward assuming broad responsibility in the development and progress of the company.

As Dr. Upjohn became more deeply involved in the management of the company, the realization grew in him that he was right in the middle of an age of fantastic growth and change, an age that imposed tremendous responsibilities on the drug manufacturer not only to keep pace but also to assume a position of leadership in widening the horizons of medicine.

The founders of The Upjohn Company had themselves been pioneers. Both Henry and William Upjohn had been mechanically inclined and had invented a number of improvements with wide application outside the drug and medical fields. They began with the development of the first friable pill, manufactured by a process of their invention, which permitted standardization of weight and ingredients. Such pills were advertised and sold to the medical and pharmaceutical professions under the slogan, "Can be crushed to a powder under the thumb." This statement combined with an illustration of a pill and thumb comprised the first trademark of "The Upjohn Pill and Granule Company," forerunner of The Upjohn Company. Much of the early pill manufacturing, coating, and bottling equipment was designed by the Upjohn brothers, and modifications of this equipment are still in use.

Around the turn of the century, the drug industry began manufacturing flattened tablets, made by compression, as a new form of medication, and The Upjohn Company began to enlarge its scope and add general pharmaceuticals to its line. Throughout the ensuing years, expansion of facilities and general progress continued, but the most sweeping changes in drug practice have occurred in the last quarter-century.

In 1950, for example, Upjohn's management pointed out that 15 years prior 90 per cent of today's routinely prescribed drugs did not exist, and even 10 years prior, 60 per cent of these drugs were not even discovered.

As Dr. Upjohn gained further experience in his chosen field, the medical activities, embracing the arrangement and supervision of clinical research, began to center around him. In 1937 he was named director of the newly created Medical Department.

Plant offices are situated in a one-story structure centered along the front of the new 870 by 1125 foot building. A driveway extending underneath this projecting area is used by company-operated busses which provide employee transportation to and from the plant.

Penicillin and other antibiotics are produced in this two-story and basement structure at Upjohn's new plant. Much of the special process equipment extends the full height of the building, which was specially designed with mezzanines to provide ready access to pressure vessels and other production facilities.

During the years that followed, he has continued to rise steadily in positions of responsibility.

He was elected to the board of directors in 1942, and another year gained him the office of vice president. In the same year he assumed the duties of assistant to the president, and eight years later, on November 1, 1951, became executive vice president. His election as president of the company occurred September 23, 1952, and became effective on the first day of 1953.

The organization that Dr. Upjohn heads today, and in whose evolution during the past 25 years he has been a key figure, is in many respects unique. It is, of course, one of the largest ethical drug houses, which operate under largely self-imposed scientific and ethical standards to a degree unknown in other industries. But more than that, the ultimate goal of the company—which embraces the altruistic aim of furthering the health and healing of mankind—is being achieved under conditions representing unusual co-ordination and good will between management and labor.

Between 1946 and 1950, Upjohn erected what is without doubt the most modern pharmaceutical plant in the nation. The idea was to achieve a design flexible enough to produce all of the more than 700 products made by Upjohn and yet leave space and facilities to switch quickly to large-scale production of drugs still to be discovered and developed. This required a 1500-acre site just outside Kalamazoo and some 33 acres of floor space under one roof. These facilities, of course, are in addition to the company's general headquarters and research laboratories buildings in Kalamazoo.

In physical equipment, the plant represents a high degree of co-ordination between the craftsmanship of the architect and builder and the scientific knowledge in drug compounding of Upjohn specialists. Designed and equipped to produce drugs on an assembly-line basis, it is capable of turning out two to four million vitamin capsules per day.

Each component of the huge structure is in itself a fascinating story of applied science. There are, for example, 120 separate air-conditioning systems, some involving highly complex combinations with ultra-violet germicidal lamps, chemical dehumidifiers, and electrostatic precipitators to satisfy the demand for sterile and favorable manufacturing conditions. There is machinery which produces sterile water at the rate of one million gallons per day. There are fabulous research tools such as the Upjohn-developed "Automatic Chromatographic Fraction Cutter," which automatically breaks down, analyzes, and charts the ingredients of a chemical mixture. The Goldberg-like apparatus plays a vital role in hormone research.

There emerges from this gleaming, germless factory, the product, which may be a tiny capsule, or a powder, or an elixir—each compound a reservoir of white magic. Except for vaccines and sera, almost every type of pharmaceutical is represented in the Upjohn portfolio. In fact, the corner druggist could very nearly stock his entire prescription department from the Upjohn catalog.

Certain lines, however, predominate. Upjohn is a leading producer of chemotherapeutic agents, antibiotic and sulfa drug products. It also markets a long list of penicillin, streptomycin, tetracycline, neomycin, and bacitracin preparations.

Upjohn is the world's chief producer of adrenal cortical extracts, synthetic cortical hormones, and other hormones and was one of the first firms to process blood plasma for the armed forces during the war. It also ranks high among the manufacturers of quality vitamin preparations. Uni-caps and Zymacaps are well-known trade names for Upjohn's wares in this field. In addition, there are still many developments of former years, such as "Citrocarbonate," "Super-D," and "Jeculin," which are widely prescribed.

If ever there was an industry, however, that can ill afford to rest on its laurels, it is drug manufacturing. It is axiomatic in this business that to stand still is to perish. The forward march, the search for new and improved drugs, is the mission of the Upjohn Research Division. Established in 1913 as a one-man show, it now comprises about one tenth of the company's total personnel.

Company

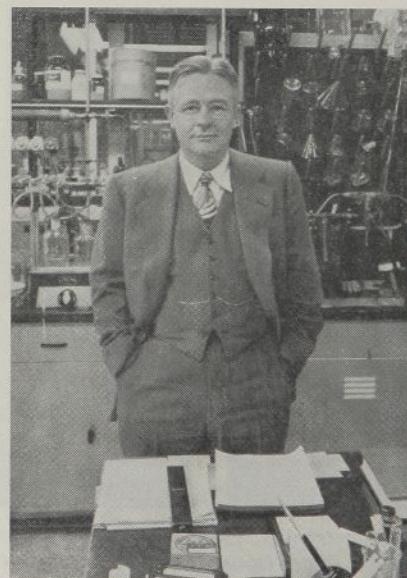

Vice president and director of research is another Delt—Dr. Richard S. Schreiber, Wabash, '31. Working under his supervision are 450 scientists, more than 80 of whom hold M.D. or Ph.D. degrees. Each is a specialist assigned to one of ten research departments, ranging from physics to endocrinology.

For Upjohn, research is regarded as a vital arm, even though a small fraction of such effort is ever likely to prove immediately practicable or profitable. In fact, a batting average of five per cent effectiveness is considered well above average for the industry.

Upjohn's principal research efforts have been in the field of antibiotics, in which important advances have been scored. Cer-O-Cillin, for example, the first penicillin derivative having low allergenicity, bears the Upjohn label. Significant work has also been done in endocrinology (the science of internal secretions from ductless glands, as thyroid and pituitary). Upjohn introduced the first cortical hormone product approximately twenty years ago.

Library Dedicated to Delt Educator

IN RECOGNITION of his outstanding service as President of Kansas State College in Manhattan, Kansas, Dr. Francis D. Farrell, Kansas State, '22, who now carries the title President Emeritus, was honored in October by ceremonies dedicating the College Library as Farrell Library.

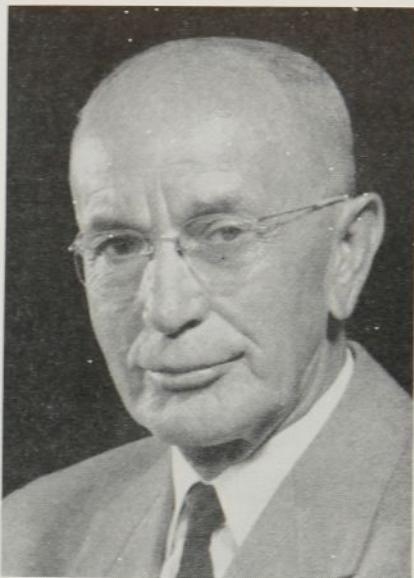

President James A. McCain on October 5 presented Dr. Farrell a certificate at a College assembly which read as follows:

"In recognition of your notable contributions to the cause of education and to the youth of Kansas while President of Kansas State College, and in order that future generations of students and teachers at Kansas State College may be reminded of your vision and wisdom, Kansas State College wish to enshrine permanently in the public memory recognition of these accomplishments and your distinguished service to country, to state, and to community.

"Therefore with the official approval of the Board of Regents, and in behalf of the students, faculty, and alumni of Kansas State College, we specify that the College Library building shall hereafter be officially designated Farrell Library, and convey to you our warmest personal greetings and affection upon this fifth day of October, 1955."

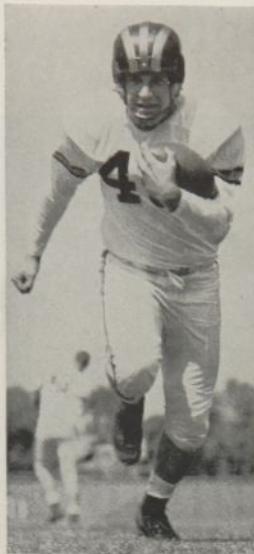

Dr. Farrell was President of the College from 1925 to 1943. He was Dean of the Division of Agriculture and director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Manhattan from 1918 to 1925. Many honors and responsibilities have come his way, including presidency of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities.

sive array of captains from other seasons, and they run the total to 32 for the period from 1950 to the present. W. & L.'s Stiner is the third Delt captain of football at that University in the last four years, and both Fink of DePauw and Bishop of Albion succeed Delt captains of the previous season.

It is interesting to note that since 1950 there has been a Delt grid captain at least once in Big Ten schools of Michigan, Ohio State, Northwestern, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, and Purdue; Big Seven schools of Colorado, Missouri, and Kansas State; and Pacific Coast schools of Stanford, U.C.L.A., and Washington. Other colleges represented during this period include Tufts, Rensselaer, Kenyon, Cincinnati, Wabash, and Brown.

Team captains, however, are only the beginning of a list of distinguished performers who represented Delta Tau Delta on the field of battle this fall. So sharpen your pencil, roll up your sleeves, and have a try at selecting your own All Delt eleven. Here they are, by positions:

ENDS

Delts invariably come up with a fine crop of wingmen, and this year is no exception. High on the list is Colorado's Lamar Meyer, cocaptain of his team and a strong candidate for All Big Seven honors. Two veterans of postseason games from last year are Kriss of Ohio State (Rose Bowl) and Butherus of Nebraska (Orange Bowl). Kriss is the Buckeye kicking specialist; in the Northwestern game alone he booted six points.

An outstanding pass receiver is Jewett of Michigan State, and another in the small college loop is Hillsdale's Rankin, his conference's highest scor-

THE 1955 DELT COLLEGIATE football fortunes were paced by seven Delt captains or cocaptains, who led their respective teams in this fall's weekend struggles for gridiron supremacy. They are: Lamar Meyer, Colorado; Donald Stiner, Washington & Lee; Robert Skoronski, Indiana; William Murakowski, Purdue; James Bishop, Albion; Robert Fink, DePauw; and Fritz Kling, South Dakota.

TACKLES

Undoubtedly two of the most rugged tackles in the Big Ten are Skoronski of Indiana and Guy of Ohio State. Hoosier cocaptain, Skoronski was the bulwark of the Indiana line; his outstanding defensive play in the Notre Dame game attracted wide attention. Guy, who saw considerable action as a sophomore in the 1955 Rose Bowl, has continued to make good on the promise he exhibited in that classic.

State; Joel Sappenfield, Stanford; and Bob Beagle, Whitman.

GUARDS

Delts have three captains at this position—Albion's Bishop, DePauw's Fink, and South Dakota's Kling. Fink was an all-conference selection last year and was chosen DePauw's "most valuable player."

The two standouts among pivotmen hail from opposite ends of the country: Carolan of Brown and Mitchell of California, both of whom have seen plenty of action in starting roles this fall.

First String: Dick Carolan, Brown, and Don Mitchell*, California.

QUARTERBACKS

There are several really outstanding signal callers in Delt ranks. Ohio State's Elwood, another Rose Bowl veteran, has turned in brilliant performances in directing the powerful Buckeye attack. Late in September, when Nebraska dropped a close 28-20 decision to Ohio State, another Delt, Don Erway, was the Cornhuskers' field general for the full 60 minutes.

Baker's Moherman, named to the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Association second team in 1954, bids strong to take the number one position this time. Passing star for Hillsdale's undefeated (at this writing) eleven is Delt Jack Rossetti.

Ohio Wesleyan's Hancher will likely repeat honors earned last year. He was named All Ohio Conference and held a third-team position on the small college All American eleven. Among small colleges he was third in passing,

Among the best line buckers in the country is Purdue's stalwart captain, Bill Murakowski. Old reliable of the Boilermaker attack, he will be a leading candidate for All Big Ten honors.

Hillsdale's Perian has piled up impressive yardage, with an average per carry of 9.8 yards, which is good rambling in anybody's ball game.

First String: Steve Dimeff, California; Ron Perian, Hillsdale; Bob Edington, Kenyon; and Bill Murakowski, Purdue.

HALFBACKS

Included in the boys who pack the leather for the runs that bring the spectators to their feet are W. & L.'s cocaptain, Don Stine, and Albion's Conklin, last year named to the MIAA second team.

Old Oaken Bucket Captains

OTHER FALL SPORTS

In other fall sports, there were more Delt captains leading their teams to victories. Special mention in this department belongs to James Lewis, who has been soccer captain for three years at Washington & Lee and has been named to either the first or second All Southern soccer team for three consecutive years.

Omicron Observes Diamond Jubilee

By ALLEN R. CHAPMAN, Iowa, '56

DURING THE WEEK END of October 22 and 23, Omicron Chapter at the State University of Iowa in Iowa City celebrated the 75th Anniversary of its founding.

The Diamond Jubilee, as it was termed, began Saturday morning with registration for all those attending. An active meeting was held that afternoon for the alumni and active members. Reports on the present status and progress of the chapter were given by the respective officers and chairmen. Simultaneously with the meeting, Mrs. Charles Birdsall, our housemother, presided over a bridge party for the wives of those present.

The high light of the week end was the banquet Saturday evening. Over one hundred people were present, including alumni and wives, faculty members, and the members of the chapter. The faculty guests included M. L. Huit, Counselor to Men; Paul G. Griffith, Office of Fraternity Affairs; and L. Dale Faunce, Dean of Students.

Art Kroppach, '17, present Postmaster and past Mayor of Davenport, Iowa, did an excellent job as toastmaster. In addition to his many quips, Mr. Kroppach told of some of the Delt customs prevalent in his time and suggested that we bring them into use again. The principal speaker was Clemens Frank of Cleveland, Ohio, a past member of the Arch Chapter. Mr. Frank spoke on the importance of Delta Tau Delta, both in relation to the Fraternity system and also as a significant adjunct to a college career.

Just one week prior to the anniversary celebration, William Ide became Omicron's 800th initiate. In commemoration of this, Bill was presented with an engraved sterling silver medallion at the banquet. The Deltones, Omicron's own vocal group that has achieved some note at Iowa, provided the entertainment.

Following the banquet, the Jefferson Hotel played host to an informal gathering of Delts and guests. The alumni reminisced of college days past, and we sang many fraternity songs now popular on the Iowa campus, most of which they didn't recognize. They stumped us, however, on a few songs and customs popular in their time.

Sunday there was a buffet at the chapter house for those still remaining in Iowa City and that afternoon, an open house for the faculty and other fraternity members on campus. Wives of alumni poured tea at the open house.

The Diamond Jubilee really started six months ago in the planning stage. Jim Seitz, as head of the Jubilee committee, formulated plans and preparations for the event. Jim was greatly assisted by Dick Mitchell, alumni chairman. Attendance at the Diamond Jubilee was not all that it should have been. We may pride ourselves, however, on the fact that those who came were men of standing, men who helped build Omicron to the position of eminence it holds today and who have contributed much to Delta Tau

Conversing at the open house on Sunday afternoon are JOHN DOCKENDORFF, Col. IRVING CRAWFORD, Mrs. and Mr. R. PETER INK, and DICK MITCHELL. Mr. Ink was the oldest Omicron Delt present.

Chapter President DEAN LUND congratulates BILL IDE on becoming the 800th initiate of the chapter and presents him a silver medallion commemorating the attainment of this milestone.

Delta in general. We do consider the celebration a success, due in part to the excellent planning and the good impression left with those who came.

The celebration was enhanced by the presence of Mrs. Hazel Foley, Omicron's housemother from 1940 to 1950. Another special guest was Carl Kuehnle, Iowa, '19, president of the West Baden National Bank in West Baden, Indiana, and former member of the Arch Chapter. Mr. Kuehnle was instrumental in getting our present chapter house built. Irving Crawford, '14, retired Army colonel from Grinnell, Iowa, also lent much to the occasion. The oldest Omicron Delt present was Mr. Peter Ink, '97, of Mt. Vernon, Iowa. Mr. Ink, upon graduation, went on to found Delta Phi Rho, a local fraternity at Cornell College in Mt. Vernon. It is unfortunate that space does not permit us to name all of the alumni who attended.

Omicron Chapter was granted its charter on October 29, 1880. It was organized by several Dels of other chapters who were then students at the University of Iowa. Beta Theta Pi and Phi Kappa Psi were the only fraternities to precede Omicron and this was but by a matter of months. The first meeting was held in a law office at which time arrangements were made to rent a permanent hall for meetings. Omicron, incidentally, was the first fraternity at Iowa to build its own chapter house. This house was used until approximately 1923, when the present chapter house was erected on Dubuque Street.

Higgins Chosen American League Manager of Year

AMERICAN LEAGUE manager of the year, according to a United Press poll of baseball writers, is Michael F. Higgins, Texas, '30, who recently completed his first season as pilot of the Boston Red Sox.

The popular Beantown manager brought about a 30-game improvement in the Boston club and kept it in contention for the pennant right up to the final two weeks of the season. Along the way he has won many friends both in the press box and on the playing field. Quiet and unruffled, he proved particularly effective this year in dealing with his players and in molding them into an effective unit.

MIKE HIGGINS

"Higgins is a conspicuous example," wrote David Bloom, syndicated sports reporter, "of the wisdom of giving a newcomer a chance to break into the big-league managing trust. Most of the clubs prefer a man who has had years and years upstairs. . . . Higgins preferred to start from the bottom, almost, with a Class B club. Then he gradually worked himself up, through Class AA and Birmingham to Class AAA and the majors, eventually. How many others would do that deliberately?"

Pinky Higgins has made no extravagant promises for next season, but if he fulfills the role the experts foresee for him, the Boston Red Sox will be playing in the Series one of these days.

"Dear Folks . . . I Came Through All Right"

So wrote a Delt undergraduate of 1872, whose letters home, excerpted here, remind us that 80 years have not changed so many things after all

SOME THINGS do not change.

The sun still comes up in the east, two and two still total four, the Yankees still win the American League pennant.

And college students, in their letters home, still write about the same subjects as they always did.

Anyone who doubts the truth of this assertion has but to consult a modern-day parent and to compare his findings with the following undergraduate observations originally penned more than 80 years ago.

For the sake of proving the immutability of a collegian's interests and coincidentally providing a nostalgic, backward glance down the corridor of time, THE RAINBOW is privileged to reproduce these excerpts from the letters of Fremont C. Hamilton, Buchtel, '77, through the courtesy of his daughter, Miss Donna Hamilton, of East Liberty, Ohio.

Addressed to his parents, the correspondence covers a period from September, 1872, to May, 1877, when young Hamilton was graduated from Buchtel College (now Akron University).

The following passages, chosen as a sampling of the life and times of a college student in the Fraternity's early days, fall into a pattern strikingly similar to contemporary undergraduate correspondence, to wit:

1. There is the beginning, a period of awe and uncertainty:

"Dear Father: Brother Jimmy and I came through all right. We arrived about five o'clock, and fifty cents landed us at the College door. While we were driving up in the hack, we could see the Buchtel matriculates peeping from the windows at us, wondering, I suppose, where these two greenhorns came from. . . .

"We have not deposited the money yet, for we do not know how much we shall need at present, not having paid any in advance for board. . . . You may ease Mother's mind with the fact that the greenbacks came through safely. . . .

"But the worst to be dreaded is the fact that declamations come next Saturday forenoon. Expect 'twill make the college shake like an earthquake when we all get to trembling. We have to appear before the whole school. . . ."

2. College men write of their surroundings, their rooms, and their friends:

"We applied to Mr. McCollester for a room. He assigned us one on the third floor, on the south side of the building, one of the best in the institution. . . . They haven't got their water works working yet and the gas is not in, so we are all burning candles, with a little board and three nails for a candlestick. They are digging a well right beneath our window. . . .

"About the pillow slips. It takes the combined efforts of the chambermaid, Jimmy, and myself to pull them on and it answers very well for gymnasium exercise. . . .

"My sixteenth birthday. We have not got any carpet on the floors yet and they look almost like pig pens sometimes as we carry in a good deal of mud. . . . I forgot some of my books [following vacation]. Would you express them—also my slate and soap. . . .

"They have found water [beneath the window], but six hands keep digging day and night at three dollars a day. . . .

"They are sodding the grounds around the college so as to give it a better appearance during the convention. . . . The well is about finished, so after this it will look kind of lonesome out the window. . . .

"Owing to the disturbance always going on in the hall, Arthur Ralston and I concluded to board out this term. The boys were continually running in and out and we didn't get much studying done. The cost will be the same as in the college. . . .

"About the first thing to happen after we moved out of Buchtel was for Ralston to turn over the stove—fire and all—on the floor. Luckily for us that water was near; about the only damage done was to burn Ralston's fingers. . . .

"Our nearest neighbors are two brothers, George and Anson Howard, sons of Senator Howard near Woodstock. . . . Several new students arrived in the last week, among them Clarence Pumphrey of Cincinnati. . . ."

3. Food, always an important item, commands its share of correspondence:

Once every week we practice elocution. The President gets me by the throat and I by his to feel the movement of the muscles of articulation.

← In our calculus examination, six of us became exhausted. BAIRD fainted. JONES had to go to bed. Prof. FRAUNFELTER finally dismissed the class.

"I must tell you what we have to eat: for breakfast, bread and butter with a little coffee; at noon, meat and bread with a little water to wash it down. At tea we have apples and cakes. . . .

"Some of the boys are boarding out in town. I don't know why unless they want better eating. I think we have first-rate board, get good brown bread, and all kinds of dishes. The generous Mr. Buchtel gave us an oyster supper this evening. . . .

"I have gained 12 pounds since I left home. . . . The students went out and gathered apples for the college, so we have all of them that we want to eat now. . . . We have lettuce almost every day and rhubarb pie now and then. . . . President McClester's family has been boarding in the building for the past week. I do not know how they can relish our hash, as it has been rather scarce and not quite as good as we had been getting."

4. There is usually loneliness at first, which eventually is replaced by a feeling of belonging:

"I am pretty lonesome without Brother Jimmy but guess I will come around all right. . . . Back in Akron again. Albert White of Columbus wants me to room with him but I have not decided. I am dissatisfied and have been somewhat in the notion of returning home. . . .

"I had a rather lonely time coming back this time until the train whistled for Akron, when I revived and was greeted by a half dozen familiar faces—did not retire until midnight. . . .

"I have been thinking about going home with Joe Hidy who lives in Fayette, Ohio, this coming vacation for a week or so. What do you think?"

5. They write of their studies—and of how hard they work:

"I have taken up four studies: arithmetic, philosophy, Latin grammar, and physical geography. . . . Prof. White gave a lecture yesterday on the languages, after which he was applauded for stopping. . . .

"Prof. Fraunfelter gave his trigonometry class about a twenty-five hour lesson but two of us got together and accomplished it in twenty hours. . . . We have been out botanizing—pretty dry stuff. . . .

"The President has me come to him once every week to practice elocution; he gets me by the throat and I by his to feel the movement of the muscles of articulation. Ralston says when he gets hold of the President's throat, he feels like pressing his hand together. . . .

"I am almost through examinations. Only a few of us will remain during vacation. In our calculus examination last Friday six of us became exhausted. I became dizzy and handed over what I had written and left the room. Baird fainted. Jones had to go to bed. Fraunfelter finally dismissed the class and let them finish the questions in their rooms. . . .

"I am very busy writing on my oration for Commencement Day. I am before the President once a week for practice and we practice our class song every day for class day. John Risinger and I don't think there is much chance for improvement in that direction."

6. And occasionally of how hard they play:

"We expect to have a little fun this week if the boys in the lower classes continue to wear their plug hats. We had a meeting last week, drafted resolutions, and posted the following notice: 'Whereas, in all colleges throughout our land, the wearing of "plug" hats is, by custom, limited to the students in the Senior Class. Whereas, certain men in the lower classes and certain boys in the Preparatory School have assumed the right to wear such hats contrary to said custom. Whereas, it is not seemly that any infringement on this time-honored custom be permitted in Buchtel College; therefore, be it resolved, that, unless the aforesaid parties abolish said "plugs" as head coverings within the term of one week, prompt and radical measures will be taken to bring about said abolition.'

"The 'plugs' came off the heads as was determined upon. Mc. told us the common way was to smash it down over their eyes, but we caught the student, took his hat, brought it up to the College, and made a football out of it. . . ."

7. Even the most bashful eventually get into the social swim:

"They had another social this evening, but we did not attend as it was our night to bathe and, as it comes once a week, we can't very well miss it. . . .

"Last night I went down to the sociable. Soon after I got there the President came up and told me to get a girl and go out on the floor; so the next set I was on the floor doing my best. . . .

"I went to the sociable last night and shook the 'light fantastic toe' four times. . . . Our evenings of the sociables are about the best time of the term, since I manage to get on the floor five or six times every Saturday evening."

8. They mention their clubs and fraternities:

"I belong to the literary society. Its name is Bryant. Mr. Bryant sent it his picture for naming it after him. They made me a leader on a debate.

"Our society is going to make itself a college society instead of a preparatory as heretofore. They have given us a room on these grounds if we would carpet it and furnish chairs for the room. . . .

"Last Friday evening the Carey Society gave an entertainment in the College Chapel. The Bryant boys went en masse and were given the front seats. After the performance the President said he expected us to have the next public entertainment. . . .

"Our society will move into its hall next week, having purchased a carpet, desk, and chairs. We are after a man by the name of Smith for three hundred dollars to furnish us a library. . . .

"I received my Fraternity pin all right. . . .

"Prof. Welch delivered a lecture Friday evening to the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, subject 'The Ideal.'"

9. Their extracurricular activities:

"The baseball fever has been raging among the students. We have three clubs in school, one on the ladies' side and the other two on our side. . . .

"This week we all went to hear Edwin Booth act out some of Shakespeare's plays. . . ."

10. The events of the community:

"The Women's Crusade has been waging for some time. I believe they have about eight hundred pledged to fight and picket the saloons. . . .

National Commander of American Legion

J. ADDINGTON WAGNER

NEW NATIONAL COMMANDER of the American Legion is J. Addington Wagner, Hillsdale, '36, & W. & L., '37, of Battle Creek, Michigan. He was elected to the post at the Legion's national convention in Miami, Florida, on October 13.

The 41-year-old attorney won election with only 35 opposing votes. A Navy veteran and Purple Heart recipient, he will lead the 3,000,000-member organization for one year.

His elevation to the Legion's highest office caps a distinguished career in behalf of his fellow veterans, which began shortly after he returned from the service. He served as service officer, adjutant, commander, and captain of the ritual team of the Battle Creek post. Later he went on to become judge advocate of the third district and was a department commander in 1950. In 1952 he was elected national vice commander and in 1954-55 served as both chairman and vice chairman of the Legion's important National Americanism Commission.

Add (as he is known to his friends) has an outstanding service record. He was commissioned an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve in 1942 and underwent amphibious training and advanced sea duty training. He saw action in Okinawa as a lieutenant in command of a rocket firing ship supporting amphibious landings. Severely wounded during an air attack, he was sent to a hospital in Guam but recuperated in time to rejoin his ship and participate in the initial occupation of Japan. He was released to inactive duty in May, 1946, as a lieutenant commander in the Reserve.

A graduate of the Washington & Lee law school, Mr. Wagner practices law with the Battle Creek firm of Wagner, Wagner, & Wagner (father and sister). He is former assistant attorney general of Michigan and former assistant city attorney in his home town.

Apparently marked for leadership even in undergraduate days, Add Wagner was president of Kappa Chapter at Hillsdale as a sophomore. When he transferred to W. & L., he affiliated with Phi Chapter and captained the varsity swimming team which won the Southern Conference championship. As an alumnus, he has been an active member of the Battle Creek Alumni Chapter. His law fraternity is Phi Delta Phi.

Mr. Wagner's community activities are by no means restricted to the American Legion. In the Boy Scouts, for example, he is a former scout master and member of the area executive council. He has served as a member of the Community Chest board of directors and was co-chairman of a public campaign which raised $800,000 for the Community Hospital. His activities also include membership on the Greater Battle Creek Industrial and Development Committee. His church is the St. Thomas Episcopal Church. He is a Mason.

He is married to the former Virginia Dare Beagle. They have one son, John A. Wagner, III.

Mr. Wagner becomes the first Delt to serve as national commander of the American Legion, but in doing so he gives added weight to the Fraternity's participation in the organization. The late John J. Sullivan, Washington, '09, was one of the Legion's founders and was the first national vice commander.

The Fraternity extends its best wishes to Add Wagner in his newest and greatest responsibility in service to the nation.

Honored by Kainai Band

GEORGE H. GOODERHAM, Toronto, '12, of Calgary, Alberta, was initiated into the Kainai Band of Chieftainship of the Blood Indians of Alberta last summer, along with the Right Honourable C. D. Howe, Minister of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada. The Kainai Band is the most exclusive fraternity in Canada, and it is a fraternity in the truest sense of the word. This brotherhood of white men is limited to 35 living members who assist in tribal matters, further the education of young Blood Indians, and help preserve their folklore. The members of the Kainai Band (Honorary Chiefs) are men who have been chosen because of acknowledged deeds in their own world. There are many illustrious names—Viscount Alexander of Tunis; His Excellency, Vincent Massey, Governor-General of Canada; the Honourable J. J. Bowlen, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta; the Honourable E. C. Manning, Premier of Alberta; the Duke of Windsor; and others recognized for their service to church and state.

"Kainai" is the Blackfoot for "Bloods." The Blackfoot and Blood Bands both belong to the Great Blackfoot Confederacy of which there are three bands in Canada and one in the United States.

Since his demobilization after having served as a captain in the British Royal Artillery in Italy and France in World War I, Delt Gooderham has had a noted career in the Department of Indian Affairs until his retirement in 1954. He served as Indian Agent in Alberta for many years and latterly was supervisor for the Province of Alberta and the District of Mackenzie —his territory, reaching from the 49th Parallel to the Arctic Ocean. In 1943, in recognition of his outstanding service, he was appointed a Member of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (M.B.E.).

Honorary Lithuanian Consul

THE REPUBLIC of Lithuania, one of three Baltic states caught in the vise of Russian domination, finds one of its best friends in this country in the person of a Delt—Anthony O. Shallna, Indiana, '18.

As Lithuanian consul for New England, he represents the free government of a nation whose people are trapped behind the Iron Curtain. He has held the post for 16 years.

Mr. Shallna had hardly received his appointment as honorary consul (which means that he serves without salary, even though his status is valid), when World War II broke out. The following June the Red army marched into Lithuania, Estonia, and Latvia to set up puppet regimes which the United States refused to recognize. Mr. Shallna received a wire during those dark days ordering him to surrender his files to the nearest Russian consulate, but he ignored the command.

Through the years he has continued to function as a legitimate consul. His duties consist mainly of handling estates of deceased Lithuanians who have relatives living in countries behind the Iron Curtain and answering questions which arise pertaining to immigration and settlement problems of displaced persons. In pursuit of his duties, he has traveled widely in Europe, including The Hague, Riga, and Berlin.

ANTHONY O. SHALLNA

Mr. Shallna's status as consul for the Republic of Lithuania is based upon this country's recognition of the 1940 government of that country as the last one that represented the choice of its people. Repeatedly the United States has restated its recognition of Mr. Shallna as the legal representative of the Lithuanian government in Boston.

An attorney by profession, he specializes in handling legal matters for a Boston bank. Born in Scranton, Pennsylvania, of Lithuanian parents, he obtained his schooling at Indiana, Cornell, and George Washington Universities. When World War I came along, he entered the Army as a private and came out a commissioned officer.

A sympathetic and generous person, Mr. Shallna has helped a number of DP's to settle in New England. From them and others he has learned of what goes on in an occupied country behind Russian barbed wire. Lithuania, he says, may be best described as a huge prison. Only a few have escaped its confines. Natives are regularly deported to Siberia, and Mongols brought to Lithuania to take over homes and jobs of those deported. It is a systematic attempt to wipe out the Lithuanian people and their stubborn adherence to their own culture and tradition.

Mr. Shallna annually joins with other American citizens of Lithuanian descent in celebrating Lithuanian Independence Day. In the hope that Lithuania will again take its place among the countries of the free world, he continues to serve his people in a worthy cause.

Vice President of Travelers

HAROLD A. MCKAY, Brown, '19, who has been a vice president of The Travelers Insurance Company since 1949, heads the Casualty, Fidelity and Surety Agency Department. In his position, he is in charge of the production of these lines by representatives of The Travelers throughout the United States and Canada.

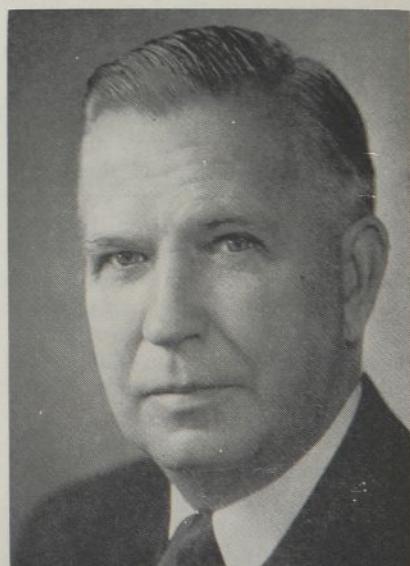

Mr. McKay became associated with the insurance firm as a field underwriter of casualty lines in 1919 and attended the home office school. He served as a field underwriter in Syracuse and Minneapolis and has been an assistant manager at Minneapolis, and manager of casualty, fidelity, and surety lines at St. Paul, Montreal, Rochester, and New York City.

Between periods of field service, he was stationed in the home office as an agency assistant and assistant superintendent of agencies. He was made superintendent of agencies in 1940 and placed in charge of the New York Metropolitan area. He returned to the home office staff in Hartford in 1945.

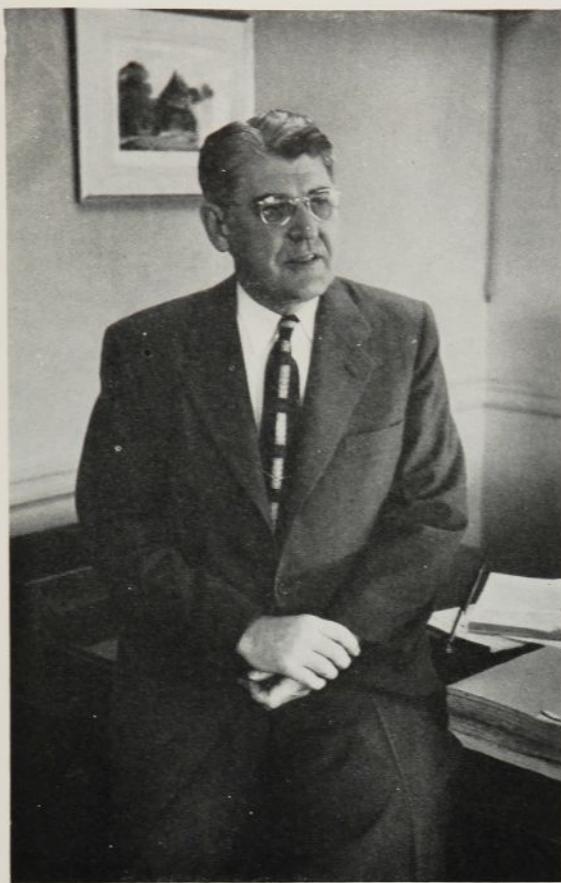

Mr. McKay has an unusually thorough knowledge of the casualty business. Conversant with sales and managerial problems, he has had particularly wide experience in connection with large brokerage centers. His experience, combined with an engaging frankness, co-operation, and conciliation and the ability to get along easily with associates, has served him well in his post.

As an undergraduate at Brown University, Mr. McKay was an outfielder on the varsity baseball team. His love for the national pastime has remained with him and made him an avid baseball fan.

HAROLD A. MCKAY

He Gets the Wells Down

To assure a steady flow in oil production, Texaco relies on Everett R. Filley, its Vice President in charge of domestic producing at a refinery in Okmulgee or as a roustabout in the oil fields. But his ambitions were a long way from oil wells and refineries. He wanted to be a lawyer.

In 1915, he was graduated from Baker University in Baldwin, Kansas. He had majored in mathematics, but now began to concentrate on law studies. However, the unexpected death of his father . . . required him to return to his home in Tulsa, where his family had moved.

During his college vacation in 1914, Filley stated his Texaco career. He was an accounting clerk in the Producers

Oil Company at Tulsa. "I got the job," he explains, "because I knew how to add figures."

With no college studies to return to in the fall of 1915, he went to work as a full-time employee, learning all he could about oil production. In a few years, he became "Man Friday" to the late Colonel Wilson, the colorful General Superintendent of the Producing Department's Oklahoma-Kansas Division.

"Mr. Wilson was my first teacher in drilling and production," recalls Filley. "I had to do everything in the office, because he hated paper work. He showed me how to get a well down . . . every step from leasing land to producing oil."

Under Wilson's tutelage, the young man forgot about his law ambitions.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article is reprinted in part from the Summer, 1955, issue of The Texaco Star and appears here through the courtesy of The Texas Company. The photograph of Mr. Filley is by Grant Compton (courtesy of Business Week).

He decided he "didn't want to go into any other kind of business."

In 1926, Filley was promoted to Division Superintendent at Tulsa. Three years later, he was named Division Manager. He helped to assemble the leases and geological data for the drilling, in 1938, of the discovery well at the famous Salem field near Centralia, Illinois. "When that well came in," he says, "it was a tremendous thrill for all of us . . ."

Filley was transferred to Houston in 1938 as Assistant Manager of the Producing Department. He became Manager in 1947 and, in 1949, was made General Manager. Four years later, he was elected Vice President in charge of Domestic Producing. . . .

On a typical day in his Manhattan office, Vice President Filley may make decisions concerning such matters as: offshore drilling in Texas Gulf waters; exploration in a new area of the Rocky Mountains; a bid for unexplored acreage in Louisiana or the Gulf of Mexico; the departmental budget for the following month. "Every week," states Filley, "we authorize the drilling of about 35 wells."

At conferences, Filley listens to all the facts, and asks several searching questions. Then he makes his mind up quickly and stands firmly behind his decision. His fairness and steadiness in encountering problems have won the esteem of his associates. Says the executive of another major oil company: "I've known Everett for 20 years. He always remains calm and cool—no matter how heavy the pressure. That's why he accomplishes so much."

The Vice President in charge of Domestic Producing is a director on the boards of several principal subsidiaries and affiliates of The Texas Company. He also serves as an officer of a number of these companies. As president of Texaco Exploration Company, a wholly owned Canadian subsidiary, Filley guides all Texaco producing operations in Western Can-

"YOU DON'T LEARN ALL about oil production by working from 8 to 5. You've got to put in plenty of extra hours." So declares Everett Roswell Filley [Baker, '15, & Kansas, '15], Vice President in charge of Texaco's Domestic Producing Department.

During his rise into management Filley worked many a night and week end when he was in the field. "My boss worked harder than any of us," smiles Filley. "He was also a good teacher."

Everett was born in 1894, in the town of Filley, Nebraska (pop. 136), which was named after its banker-founder, Elijah Filley—the Vice President's grandfather. When he was eight years old, the Filleys moved to Okmulgee, Oklahoma, which was located in the Indian Territory.

At the age of 14, Everett watched surveyors come in and stake out an oil well drilling site in the pasture land near Okmulgee. Then a derrick went up. Shortly afterward, oil was discovered and the plains were soon dotted with derricks and lease tanks.

On summer vacations, Filley worked

Delta Gamma Chapter Moves Into Enlarged Shelter

FROM THE TIME of the establishment of Delta Tau Delta on the University of South Dakota campus in the year 1924, Delta Gamma Chapter has steadily grown from a group of 22 members to one of more than 80.

With this type of progress, it naturally became necessary to think of what should be done to accommodate the Deltas better at the University. By 1953, it was obvious that it was not only desirable but necessary to enlarge the Shelter.

Since that time the chapter, the Delta Gamma Chapter Association, and the Fraternity's Arch Chapter have been planning and working toward the building of an addition to the present structure. This fall all the work and planning became a reality, and the new addition is now complete.

With the new addition to the Shelter, the house now provides living quarters for 22 more Deltas, a new dining room with twice the facilities of the old, and a new and much larger chapter room. Other benefits include: a living room increased by one-half in size in comparison with former facilities; an expanded and refurnished kitchen; and enlarged bath and toilet facilities.

This is another chapter to be added to the story of the many years of progress of our Delt chapter, and we of Delta Gamma of the University of South Dakota are truly proud of our accomplishment.

ada. He spends a total of four months out of every year away from Texaco's Manhattan headquarters. Annually, he visits the Producing Department's six geographical divisions in the United States as well as the Canadian operations. "Our job is to find over 150 million barrels of new reserves every year," he says. "If we do this it means that we find more oil than we take out of the ground during the year. Thus, we're always building a backlog of reserves for the future."

Busy as he is, Everett Filley devotes much time to college and church activities. For many years, he has attended board meetings at Baker and Drew Universities as a trustee. Recently, he was elected to the board of trustees of the Methodist church he attends in New York City. He also serves on the board of managers of the Brooklyn Methodist Hospital.

Religion is a very important part of Everett Filley's life. "I've found that people who make a sincere effort to follow a religion are happy and get along with people more easily."

Popular Television Series Based on Delt Writer's Biography

ONE OF THE MOST successful new television shows to appear this season has turned out to be "The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp," on the ABC network. Since its appearance early in the fall, it has grown steadily in popularity, has racked up an enviable national rating, and is rapidly accumulating imitators, which is regarded as a certain sign of success in the trade.

Although credit is given to Stuart N. Lake, Cornell, '11, only as the program's "consultant," he is responsible for a good deal more than the name indicates. The entire series stems from his biography, Wyatt Earp, Frontier Marshal, first published in 1931.

While the TV episodes do not follow the text of the book, each presentation is authentic in its characterization of the fabulous Western hero and is built around actual events in his career, all of which are based on Mr. Lake's notes set down during the years he spent gathering material on Earp's life. Much of the show's success is due to its ring of authenticity, accomplished by keeping the story true to the character of Wyatt Earp and the places and people of his early associations.

STUART N. LAKE

As a tie-in with the television show, Houghton Mifflin Company has recently released a new edition of Mr. Lake's book, which promises to sell around 100,000 copies in its first year. Houghton Mifflin also has scheduled for release in February a juvenile edition of Wyatt Earp, based on the original text and lavishly illustrated with color plates.

The original Wyatt Earp, which gave the intrepid frontier marshal his place in history so far as a definitive record goes, has been steadily in print ever since its appearance in 1931. Prior to the special TV edition, it has sold approximately 300,000 copies, not counting British and French editions, still in print.

Mr. Lake's biography today is still required reading in scores of colleges and universities (including our British branches at Oxford and Cambridge).

Gilfillan Gift to Stanford Helps Build Electronics Laboratory

EXTENSIVE EXPANSION of the Stanford University Electronics Research Laboratory, costing $90,000, has been made possible by gifts from two prominent West Coast electronic manufacturers. One of the donors is Gilfillan Brothers, Inc., of Los Angeles, whose president and co-founder is Sennet W. Gilfillan, Stanford, '12, a member of the Fraternity's Distinguished Service Chapter.

Construction of the new Gilfillan wing on the north end of the laboratory was begun late in August. Increasing floor space by nearly 8,000 square feet, the expansion program will provide added facilities for advanced electronic research.

A former Stanford baseball team captain, Mr. Gilfillan has led his company to a position of eminence in the electronics field. Founded shortly before World War I, Gilfillan Brothers became the leading western manufacturer of home radios between the two wars. During World War II Gilfillan led the nation in producing GCA (Ground Control Approach) radar equipment to assist airplane landings under conditions of poor visibility.

Earlier gifts from Gilfillan have provided engineering scholarships at Stanford and funds for a program of instruction and research in transistors. The transistor is a rugged, simple device which promises to revolutionize radio by taking the place of delicate radio tubes and other components.

Mr. Gilfillan's outstanding contributions to the Fraternity were recognized in 1938 by his election to Delta Tau Delta's loyalty legion. Following is the text of his D.S.C. Citation: "Loyal, generous, contributor of time and service to his Fraternity, he has since graduation been one of those men who keep ever alert in their search for superior and most excellent youths who may carry on the precepts of Delta Tau Delta."

D.S.C. Citations for Two Delts

DISTINGUISHED Service Chapter Citations were presented to two Delts in opposite ends of the country last October in recognition of their outstanding contributions to the Fraternity. The recipients of Delta Tau Delta's highest honor were Henry S. Otto, Cornell, '07, and Gerald G. Stewart, Stanford, '27.

Colonel Otto received his Citation on October 22 at the Beta Omicron Chapter house, Ithaca, New York, on the occasion of the annual meeting of the chapter corporation. It was Homecoming week end, and more than 40 alumni were back for the meeting and the Cornell-Princeton football game. Warner D. Orvis, Cornell, '06, member of the Distinguished

Following is the text of the Citation:

Beta Omicron, '07

For fifty years, devoted to his Fraternity and Beta Omicron Chapter. Always one of the first contributors to Beta Omicron projects, he has given unstintedly of his time and excellent advice to the furtherance of the welfare of the Chapter at Cornell; a past President of the House Corporation, of which he has long been one of the Trustees; as Treasurer of the Greater New York Alumni Chapter, he was responsible for the financial success of the first clubrooms occupied exclusively by the Chapter. In true Delt tradition, he is a loyal supporter of his Country, his University, and his Fraternity, beloved and admired for his sterling qualities.

Mr. Stewart, whom Karnea-goers will remember as publicity chairman of the 62nd Karnea, received his Citation at a meeting of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter.

Following is the text of Mr. Stewart's Citation:

A Founder and Chapter Adviser of Delta Pi Chapter; a Founder of Delta Psi Chapter; Past President of Los Angeles Alumni Chapter and perennial editor of its publication, "The Delt News." For twenty-eight years outstandingly consistent, creative, and zealous in furthering all phases of the Fraternity's affairs; marked always by his interest and understanding of undergraduates to whom he has become endeared in exceptional numbers, and through whom he has strengthened the Fraternity.

Frederick Sheppard Becomes Justice in B.C.

FREDERICK A. SHEPPARD, Toronto, '12, was recently elevated to the Bench as a Justice of the Court of Appeals of the Province of British Columbia, Canada.

Delt Sheppard practiced law, as a barrister and solicitor, for several years in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, and received the honour of being appointed a Queen's Counsel. About twenty years ago he joined one of the leading law firms in Vancouver. He has also lectured in the law schools of the Universities of Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

N.I.C. Annual Session Held in St. Louis

Delta Tau Delta was represented by President Joel W. Reynolds, Supervisor of Scholarship Francis M. Hughes, Executive Vice President Hugh Shields, and former Presidents Martin B. Dickinson and Charles T. Boyd.

Full details of the meeting will be reported in the March, 1956 issue of THE RAINBOW.

The first-place award consists of a $50 cash prize, to be invested in furnishings or equipment suitable for a chapter hall or chapter house.

strong, Ken Murphy, Don Metz, Ron Vidmar, and Al Dimmers. Ted M. Kerr served as editor of The Phi Journal and his photography editor was Clay B. Carr, Jr.

Both chapters have been winners on two previous occasions. Mu won the first award in the newspaper division for the year 1937-38 and was co-winner again in 1946-47. Phi was co-winner in the newspaper division for 1939-40 and took undivided honors last year for the 1953-54 term.

As a guide to chapters competing for the annual publications award, the awards committee suggests attention to the following points.

Winners are selected on the basis of general appeal and interest of material to alumni (or to rushees if the publication is also sent to prospective members); manner in which the material is written and edited; and attractiveness in typographical layout and printing. The number of issues presented during the college year is taken into consideration; however, more than three issues will not influence the award.

Chapters using professional services in publishing their papers or magazines are not eligible for the award, but the committee is authorized to confer honorable mention to such chapters.

Examination Award

GAMMA LAMBDA CHAPTER, of Purdue University, has been announced as winner of the Fraternity Examination Award for the college year 1954-55. Members compiled an average of more than 96 per cent in the test which is given annually to new members to determine their familiarity with the organization, history, and government of Delta Tau Delta.

Beta Omega Chapter (California) ranked second, and Delta Mu Chapter (Idaho) placed third.

The first-place chapter receives a bronze plaque in recognition of its achievement. To be eligible for the award, a chapter must have at least seven members participating in the Examination.

Ohio State Shelter Dedicated

OHIO STATE'S NEW Delta Shelter at 67 Fifteenth Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, was officially dedicated Friday evening, October 28. President Joel W. Reynolds and other officials of both the Fraternity and the University were present to participate in the ceremonies.

Those present to inspect the completed structure came away convinced that Delta Tau Delta has added another fine new Shelter to its expanding program of first-rate housing.

Of modern, fire-proof construction, the house has adequate facilities to house at least 42 men. The ground floor features a dining room and chapter room which can be opened up into one large area for banquets and special parties. There are also kitchen and serving pantry, utility and storage space, and a room for the chapter's town men.

The first floor has a large lounge opening out onto a two-story portico with four Corinthian columns. Connected to the lounge by three large openings is the living room, carpeted and equipped with a four-foot open fireplace. On the first floor are also a guest room, powder room, housemother's suite, game room, and chapter office.

The second and third floors contain members' living quarters, including dormitories and shower facilities.

Architect of the new Shelter was Downie W. Moore, Ohio State, '14, who worked closely with officers of the house corporation and others to assure a design particularly well adapted to the needs of Beta Phi Chapter.

For Mr. Moore and all Ohio State Deltas, the completion of the Shelter represents fulfillment of a vision of many years standing. The need for improved housing was forcibly brought home to Deltas following the war, when the number of returning veterans caused the old house to bulge at the seams.

ARCHITECT MOORE

Alumni launched a campaign for funds approximately three years ago. One year later the drive gained new impetus from a substantial gift by John W. Galbreath, Ohio, '20, and as contributions from a large number of other alumni continued to accumulate, the goal was reached during 1954. Ground-breaking ceremonies September 8, 1954, inaugurated construction of the Shelter.

On that occasion, Jake Shawan, president of the Beta Phi House Association, presented certificates of appreciation to the following members of the Building Committee: Rusk H. Whipps, Ralph S. Fallon, Howard S. Sterner, Alvan Tallmadge, and Downie W. Moore. House Drive Captains Thomas L. Parker, Robert K. Zimmer, and Frank Mallett also received certificates of appreciation. Many others who contributed to the success of the drive were presented such certificates.

Toronto Delt Honored By Planning Officials

ARTHUR EDWARD KENNEDY BUNNELL, Toronto, '07, of Toronto, Canada, was honored for his many years of service with a citation from The Community Planning Association of Canada at its annual meeting in September at Montreal, Quebec, which meeting was held jointly with the American Society of Planning Officials, with a world-wide registration of over 1400. His citation is as follows:

THE COMMUNITY PLANNING
ASSOCIATION OF CANADA

ARTHUR EDWARD KENNEDY BUNNELL, Consultant to the Department of Planning and Development of the Province of Ontario:

We greet you as an Honorary Member of the Community Planning Association of Canada. In this way our Association wishes to salute your admirable contribution to the aims we share.

You helped to found our Association and you have given staunch friendship to those who have worked in our cause. You have given wise counsel to those in our country who have made Town Planning their profession.

In your public responsibilities you have traveled tirelessly along the highways and byways of your native Province, to recognize the needs of communities great and small.

In negotiation you have been persistent but patient.

You have been faithful to the belief that the decisions made in the building of our towns and cities today provide the foundations of a good life for the inheritance of those who follow us.

John White Heads Educational TV

JOHN F. WHITE, Lawrence, '41, former vice president of Western Reserve University, has been appointed general manager of WQED, Pittsburgh's education television station. He assumed his new duties October 15.

Mr. White consented to leave the Cleveland college after the board of directors of WQED had voted unanimously to invite him to accept the responsibility of re-organizing and revitalizing educational television in the Pittsburgh area. He has experience in television with WEWS in Cleveland, which since 1951 has offered the nation's first full-credit college course on television.

From the Editors Mailbag

MIMS THOMASON, Tennessee, '31, has been named vice president and general business manager of United Press Associations. He succeeds another Delt, JACK BISCO, Missouri, '30, who resigned to go into private business.

Mr. Thomason, who had held the post of vice president in charge of United Press Newspictures since 1952, has been with the United Press 21 years. He started in 1931 as a reporter for Knoxville newspapers and was city editor of the Knoxville Journal when he resigned in 1934 to become North Carolina-Virginia manager of United Press.

Subsequently he was transferred to New York, then to Detroit and to Chicago. He was named central division manager in 1943 and continued in that post until 1952, when he was named a vice president and appointed general manager of U. P. Newspictures.

Mr. Thomason was also responsible for the development of United Press radiophoto service on a regular schedule to South America, Puerto Rico, Central America, Australia, Europe, the Philippines, Hawaii, and Japan.

ROBERT H. STOPHER, Wabash, '29, associate editor of the Akron Beacon Journal, was recently named by Ohio Governor Lausche a trustee of Kent State University in Kent, Ohio. Mr. Stopher was also appointed to a 26-member committee to work with the American Psychiatric Association in a survey of Ohio's mental health problems and resources at the community level.

RICHARD H. HENDRICK, Miami, '25, district manager of the Social Security Administration for the Akron, Ohio, area, was recently re-elected treasurer of the Akron Area Citizens Committee on Aging.

Rice Institute alumni turned out in force on November 4 to give special honor to JESSE C. NEELY, Vanderbilt, '23, Rice's head football coach. The event was under the auspices of the Association of Rice Alumni, which has paid tribute to only a few persons.

Mr. Neely, who holds a law degree from Vanderbilt University, where he also starred on the gridiron, is in his sixteenth year as head coach at Rice. During that time Rice teams have won 96 games, lost 56, and tied four. Neely-coached Owls have won one and shared two conference championships and have played in the Cotton Bowl twice and the Orange Bowl once, winning all three bowl games.

"During his 30 years as a head coach," according to the Houston Chronicle, "he has earned a fine record not only for turning out winning teams but also for the commendable way he has handled the young athletes from the standpoint of character building. Known as a disciplinarian, Neely nevertheless maintains the respect and good will of the athletes."

"Evidence of his standing among fellow coaches is the fact that he now is first vice president of the American Football Coaches Association and will become its president in January."

W. E. BLASINGAME, Emory, '50, has recently been appointed head of the Georgia State Department of Entomology. At 31, he is the youngest head of any state department.

Mr. Blasingame became assistant entomologist in 1950 upon graduation from college. He has served as president of the Georgia Entomological Society and secretary of the Federation. He is a member of the Apiai Inspectors of America, the Georgia Academy of Science, the Entomological Society of America, and an alternate member of the Southern Plant Board.

Colonel HERMAN A. HAUCK, Syracuse, '33, has assumed the post of commanding officer of the United States Air Force R.O.T.C. unit at Tufts University. He is also head of the Department of Air Science.

H. STEPHEN CHASE, Stanford, '35, has been elected a senior vice president at the Head Office of American Trust Company, in San Francisco, California.

For the past 15 years he has served as vice president and manager of the bank's Sacramento main office. He started his banking career with American Trust Company in 1927 following his graduation from Stanford University and Harvard School of Business Administration. In his new assignment Mr. Chase will be in charge of the general development program of the bank.

JOHN VECKLY, Allegheny, '26, has accepted a position as assistant director of administration of the advertising division of U. S. Steel Corporation in Pittsburgh. He had been advertising and promotion manager of The Saturday Evening Post since 1949.

DAVID W. HALLSTEIN, Indiana, '39, & Purdue, '39, has been named general manager of the Ingersoll Rand Company plant in Athens, Pennsylvania. He was also elected president and general manager of the Rand foundry located in the same city.

Mr. Hallstein joined the Rand Company in 1940 following his graduation with distinction from Purdue University. During World War II he served three years overseas with the Army Air Force as a flyer. Rejoining Rand after the war, he was with the company in Detroit until 1950, at which time he was moved to New York City as assistant to the vice-president. In 1954 he was sent to Athens as assistant general manager of the company's plant there.

Mr. Hallstein is the brother of two Deltas—HARRY T. HALLSTEIN, Purdue, '32, and WALTER P. HALLSTEIN, JR., Purdue, '31. The latter was fatally injured in an automobile crash in 1948.

Winner in a slogan contest sponsored by Stalcup, Inc., outdoor advertising company of Kansas City, Missouri, was WALTER J. EGGERS, JR., Missouri, '52. He collected a check for $1,000 for his efforts.

Mr. Eggers is employed in the advertising department of Kansas City Gas Service Company.

F. C. LEITNAKER, Baker, '19, chapter adviser of Gamma Theta Chapter and a member of the Fraternity's Distinguished Service Chapter, has assumed duties this fall as a member of the Baker University faculty. Publisher of the Baldwin Ledger, he instructs in the journalism department.

DR. EVAN E. EVANS, Baker, '19, began his duties this year as the first Executive Director of the National Aviation Education Council with headquarters in Washington, D. C. The Council is supported by members of the aviation industry.

A member of the Baker University board of trustees, Dr. Evans was a speaker at the University chapel on October 12.

A speech entitled "Things and People" by ROBERT A. WEAVER, Kenyon, '12, board chairman of Ferro Corporation, was included in a recent edition of Vital Speeches of the Day. Mr. Weaver delivered the commencement address at Kenton High School, Kenton, Ohio, last spring. He is a graduate of Kenton.

Mr. Weaver has been a leader in many educational and community activities. He is a trustee of Kenyon College and has served as president of the school's Alumni Council. He is also a former president of both the Citizen's League of Cleveland and the Ohio Civil Service Council. A former member of Delta Tau Delta's Arch Chapter, he served as president of the Northern Division.

Uncle Sam's State Department has been calling upon an Oregon Delt from time to time in shaping its public relations program with citizens of this country and foreign nations.

HAL SHORT, Oregon '32, who heads the Hal Short Advertising Agency in Portland, Oregon, caught the eye of national leaders at the 1952 Republican National Convention, and he has since been used on some major national assignments.

For the government, he is completing a year's tour of duty to set up the public relations program for eight of the bureaus in the State Department. The work required an office in Washington, D. C., and Geneva, Switzerland, where Short spent two months last May and June.

The assignment called for close work with Under-Secretaries Carl McArdle, Herbert Hoover, Jr., and Scott McLeod. In establishing procedure for applying the Refugee Relief Act, Short dealt directly with high officers of Austria, Germany, Holland, and France.

Another field pioneered by Upjohn researchers is blood substitutes and clotting aids. Utilizing beef bone gelatin, an easily available raw material, Plazmold, an effective blood plasma substitute, was developed. Gelfoam is another discovery of significance in this field; it has proved effective in halting bleeding and has the additional advantage of being completely absorbed into the system during the healing process.

Although the greater part of Upjohn research is focused on the quest for new and better drugs, manufacturing and handling processes also come in for attention. Along this line, Upjohn possesses the first electron accelerator purchased by an American industrial firm. The 2,000,000-electron-volt Van de Graaff particle accelerator is being used for the experimental sterilization of drugs. Other specialized equipment used in the laboratory includes an electron microscope, an infra-red spectrometer, and an ultracentrifuge.

The many-faceted operation of The Upjohn Company is staffed by more than 4,500 persons, located in Kalamazoo and in branch offices throughout the United States and Canada. In spite of this large number, the company has enjoyed an enviable position in its employee relations and has never had so-called "labor troubles." With the exception of holidays, the plant has not been closed a single day since its founding. An example of Upjohn's farsightedness in this field is found in provisions made in the new facilities. For the convenience and recreation of employees, there are a 600-seat cafeteria, lounges, playgrounds, barbershop, and even a movie theater.

Such is The Upjohn Company, briefly presented, whose destinies are directed by Dr. Gifford Upjohn. One would think, even from such a cursory examination of the complex business of drug manufacturing, that its chief executive would require nearly 24 hours a day to discharge his duties.

Another cursory look, however—this time at Dr. Upjohn's extracurricular activities—belies such a thought. In connection with the drug business, he served on the board of governors of the National Vitamin Foundation from 1947 to 1949 and was president of the organization in 1949. He also served as a member of the Medical Section and the Patents and Trade Marks Committee of the American Drug Manufacturers Association.

A member of the American Medical Association and president of the Kalamazoo County Academy of Medicine, he belongs to the American Federation for Clinical Research and is on the United States Committee of the World Medical Association.

Through the years Dr. Upjohn has been an outstanding civic leader in Kalamazoo. He served on the City Commission from 1945 to 1947, was a director for nine years and president for another of the Community Chest. A member and an officer of the Chamber of Commerce for many years, he is also a former member of the County Board of Supervisors.

The Boy Scouts of America have claimed a share of his time, and he is a member of Kalamazoo's First Baptist Church. He is a director of the American National Bank of Kalamazoo.

The record is by no means complete. At the age of 51, Gifford Upjohn is just getting nicely under way. His company, his industry, and his community may all look forward to many more years of his distinguished leadership.

Named President of West Virginia Bar

A prominent attorney of Fairmont, West Virginia, he is a member of the American Bar Association, American Law Institute, and American Judicature Society. He has served as a member of the West Virginia State Bar board of governors and was first vice president of the organization during the past year.

Active in political affairs of the county and state, Mr. Lehman was vice president of the Young Republican League of West Virginia a number of years ago. He is a past president of the West Virginia University Alumni Association and has also served as head of the local Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Lehman has given distinguished service to Delta Tau Delta. A former president of Gamma Delta Chapter, he served for many years as secretary-treasurer of the chapter's alumni house corporation.

THE DELT CHAPTERS

START OFF YEAR WITH SUCCESSFUL RUSH WEEK

THREE IN VARSITY FALL FOOTBALL

With the onset of fall football, Delta Eta finds herself well represented in Alabama's "Crimson Tide." Returning Lettermen Doug Potts and Curtis Lynch, tackles, as well as Don Conner, guard, will provide Coach Whitworth with an excellent nucleus around which to build and mold his newly acquired "Tide."

DELTS NAME SORORITY OF THE YEAR

Delta Eta's rotating annual Sorority-of-the-Year trophy was awarded to Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alabama's most outstanding for 1954-55. President Del Carragher presented the trophy to Kappa President Faye Carrington at the Annual Women's Fall Convocation in an impressive ceremony culminating long weeks of inter-sorority tension.

DELTS WIN JASON'S JAMBOREE

Repeating her performance from four previous years, Delta Eta won her fifth Jason's Jamboree Cup in the last six years. Emcee, choral and music director, and number one man, David Black provided the directorial talent necessary to success, as he ushered Delta Eta into another of her now almost traditional triumphs. Jason's is the largest and most widely publicized interfraternity event of the year. Demonstrated leadership in this as well as all competitive fields is fast becoming a Delt tradition.

BISHOP CAPTAINS GRIDDERS

As the men of Epsilon returned to the Shelter this fall, they again looked forward to a prosperous and rewarding year. Under the able supervision of Rush Chairman Jerry Timmons, the fall rush program was put into high gear. Because of the new deferred rushing program which went into effect at Albion this year, the results of this program will not be evident until next semester; but all indications point to a successful rushing year.

As has been true in the past, the college football team is again strengthened by Epsilon Dels. Led by Captain Jim Bishop at guard, the starting team also includes Tom Schwaderer at quarterback, Jim Harmony at tackle, and Floyd Conklin at half. All of these men have a good chance to receive special mention in leading the Albion team to victory in the MIAA league.

COOLEY LEADS CROSS-COUNTRY RUNNERS

Three Dels are also helping to lead the college to another championship in cross-country. Dick Cooley, who is captain of the team, and Bob Probst are both first-class runners. The manager of the team is also a Delt in the person of John Steverman.

As is usual in the fall of the year, Homecoming celebrations come to the foreground. This year the chapter held a special alumni banquet to supplement the Homecoming festivities of October 7 and 8. Both the alumni and the actives enjoyed themselves tremendously at this affair, and Epsilon hopes to make it a regular occurrence.

Under the leadership of president Mike Garrett, the chapter is solidly represented in campus affairs. Athletic, political, dramatic, student affairs, and musical groups—all see Delts active.

In varsity athletics Alpha had five men on the soccer squad and one out for football. Jim Lauffer, Allegheny's only three-letter athlete, was elected captain of the Gator booters for his last season on the squad, while Tom Butz and Dick Stewart were at right halfback and outside left respectively. Sophomore booters Chuck Meyers and Darrell Kennedy also showed promise on the cross-country squad. George Sceiford completed his third season as a tackle on the Allegheny football squad.

SHIELDS STARS IN PLAYSHOP

The first production staged by the Allegheny Playshop this season, Gershwin's "Of Thee I Sing," featured Hass Shields in the starring role of John P. Wintergreen, elected to the Presidency on a "Put Love in the White House" plank. Ed Gooding, who with Kent Ryder is a counsellor in the freshman dorm, had a prominent chorus role.

Also on the lighter side, October 29 was the date of Alpha's "Suppressed Desire Party," an evening which turned the Shelter into a cross between a masquerade ball and a wax works.

ALUMNI TURN OUT FOR HOMECOMING

Our Homecoming Banquet for Alpha alumni was held on Saturday, October 22, at the Eagles Auditorium and was well attended by alumni interested in Alpha's plans. The chapter's annual tea in honor of the freshman women was held on Sunday, October 16. Social Chairman Gene Delaney and Alumni Secretary Don Trask did one fine job in organizing these affairs.

One of the bright spots in the semester for the upperclass women living in Brooks Hall was the spontaneous Choctaw Walk-Around staged at the dorm following the chapter's October serenade for freshman women. Fifty-five Alpha "braves" deftly led by Bob Swan, wahnee-heed and hoed down and around Brooks driveway before delighted but unbelieveing coeds.

Allegheny has a new 45-piece AFROTC marching band this year. It was organized, directed, and brought through a successful season of appearances at home and away football games by Cadet Lt. Col. "Fritz" Fries, also Alpha rush chairman. Fritz was the "outstanding cadet" during his summer camp tour at Hunter AFB in Georgia. Seniors John Cowles and Rod McClean have also been commissioned cadet majors in the ROTC corps.

The campus blood drive trophy, awarded to the chapter as the social group donating the most blood in last spring's blood drive, finally found its place on the Shelter mantel in September.

If the next RAINBOW report includes mention of a top pledge class as Rush Chairman Fries is predicting, then Alpha will have accomplished the banner year we've been planning for.

EPSILON ALPHA TAKES THIRD IN FLOAT COMPETITION AT AUBURN

Each year three days before the Auburn-Georgia Tech game a "Wreck Tech Pajama Parade" is held. It is the custom that the pledges of each fraternity build a float, and dress in pajamas, and pull the float over the campus to Cliff Hare Stadium where a pep rally is held.

SEVENTEEN TAKE PLEDGE PINS

Epsilon Alpha enjoyed a successful rush this fall. The net gain was 17 very promising boys. Epsilon Alpha, being a small, new chapter, is very proud of this fine pledge class.

At the pledges' first meeting elections were held. The officers are as follows: president, Bob Lynn; vice-president, Kit Logan; secretary and treasurer, Tony Sporl; sergeant at arms, Ray Reid.

In line with an old custom, Epsilon Alpha had a steak, ham, and mush supper. Every student with an average below one point ate mush; the students with an average above one point ate ham; and the new pledges and the two-point students ate steak.

SCHOLARSHIP BEST ON CAMPUS

The Baker University Delt chapter led national fraternity chapters on the campus for the second semester of last year, according to figures released in September by Dean B. A. Gessner. The chapter average on a three-point system was 1.6959 which was .1830 above the All Men's Average of 1.5129.

HEADS STUDENT COMMISSION

Neal Malicky, Gamma Theta president of 1954, is president of Student Commission this year, and was the first campus celebrity portrayed in "In the Spotlight," a feature column in the Orange, official Baker student newspaper.

The article pointed out that Malicky had an average index of 2.40 for his first three years of college, and has consistently been on the Dean's honor roll since his freshman year. Last semester he made an outstanding 3.00 index.

"Neal, a political science major, has narrowed his postcollege ambitions to three professions: city management, foreign service, or the Methodist ministry. He has participated in church affairs and sings in the Baker choir. He is a two-year letterman in track and also competes in intramural softball, volleyball, basketball, track, and baseball."

SOFTBALL TEAM TAKES CROWN

Gamma Theta is currently leading the intramural sports race at Baker for the fourth straight year. Softball season had just closed when this article was written with Gamma Theta boasting a record of four wins and no losses.

EMPHASIS ON SCHOLARSHIP

This year Beta Chi has realized the need for more stress on academics; therefore, we have instituted a competitive system in which the chapter is divided into small groups, each competing against the others to attain the highest scholastic average for the semester. As an added incentive to do well, the house will treat the winning team to a steak dinner.

This year we have decided to make the initiation ceremony a more festive occasion than ever before. In an effort to make it a more memorable event, as it should well be, we have planned a large banquet with a dance to follow.

HOMECOMING MEMORABLE EVENT

Homecoming this fall was quite eventful for Beta Chi. Dick Carolan's very attractive date was elected Brown's Homecoming Queen, which got the week end off to a fine start. We are also proud to announce that more alumni returned for Homecoming this year than for any we can remember. The Delt chapters in the East were also well represented. We particularly enjoyed meeting many of our brothers from the Gamma Gamma Chapter at Dartmouth. We extend our condolences on the football game.

Butler—Beta Zeta

PLEDGE TWENTY-TWO

The Beta Zeta Deltas of Butler University pledged 22 men for the fall semester. The rushing program included several rush parties at the Shelter which was highlighted by various activities.

Joe White, sophomore, from Princeton, Indiana, has been elected treasurer of Utes, sophomore men's honorary.

DITMIRE IS CADET COLONEL

Senior Joe Ditmire has been selected as cadet colonel of the Butler University Air Force ROTC unit. This summer Joe was selected as the outstanding cadet of his unit at summer training.

Don Powers, junior, has been appointed sports editor of the 1956 Drift, University yearbook. Last year Don served as editor-in-chief of the school paper.

At Michigan State, new Delt initiates are: BILL YOUNG, DICK PAYNE, BOB MARSH, LYNN MALLORY, and CHUCK CARR.

Delts' contribution to Albion College's cross-country team: PROBST, STEVERMAN (manager), and COLLEY (captain).

Plans are being put into effect for our Homecoming float and house decorations. This will be Butler's 100th anniversary celebration.

PLAN VISITS TO OTHER CHAPTERS

Recently the chapter held an after-game open house with the Delta Gamma Sorority at the Shelter. Over 300 students from Butler and Ball State attended the affair. A combo furnished the entertainment and cider and cookies were served.

A tour of other Delt chapters in the state is in the making. Already one tour has been held, this one consisting of a visit to the DePauw chapter by the old pledges of the chapter. The chapter hopes to acquaint the new pledges with other Delt chapters by taking them on such trips.

The combined athletic prowess of the new and old members gives us a good chance for the All-University Trophy for intramural sports. So far, we are unbeaten in football, basketball, and volleyball. The prospects seem good in tennis, handball, softball, and swimming.

BEARS' FULLBACK AND TACKLE

SPENDS SUMMER IN INDIA

Chapter Vice-President Bruce Towne was one of eight students chosen to spend last summer on a goodwill tour in India. Their purpose was to meet and exchange ideas and viewpoints with college students of India. Bruce is presently being kept busy giving talks on his trip.

Socially, this semester has been highlighted by many parties and activities. The stand-outs were the Hard Times Party, the Big Game Party, and the Delt Formal. The Annual Alumni Party was also again a success. This event, held at the Mira Vista Country Club in Berkeley, included a golf match and a banquet. We were also pleased with the alumni turn-out at our Open House luncheons before the football games.

PREPARE FOR REGIONAL CONFERENCE

Preparations are being made for the Regional Conference which will be held at our chapter this year. We are working hard to make the Conference a full, eventful, and useful one.

The Beta Omega Chapter is proud of its members for having placed second in the Fraternity Examination. First-place honors were missed by only a fraction of a point.

STEVE VANTRESS

Carnegie Tech—Delta Beta

RUSH WEEK HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Delta Beta had an exceptionally successful rush week this year. We are proud of the unity and work which the house has put forth. We are even more proud and thankful for the pledge class which these efforts have produced. Special thanks are due our rushing chairman, Bob Wheeler, and Jim Morrison, Field Secretary for the Fraternity.

GRIDDERS LEAD LEAGUE

Participation in Tech's extensive intramural touch football program has produced a league-leading Delt team. The team has been undefeated with two games remaining. Ken Laughery and Bill Wilton are the mainstays in the Delt offense. The ends, John Ekiss and John Mihm, are the pass receivers who have been responsible for many a touchdown. Our defensive plays are sparked by Wayne Dickinson, Dave Hoffman, and Hugh Coble. Two outstanding pledges, Dick Sphon and Don Zakman, have helped us immeasurably.

LARGEST DISPLAY READIED

This year we are optimistically attacking the largest Homecoming display ever seen in Western Pennsylvania. Sub-senior Architect Al Anderson has designed a giant ship with pirates and football players walking the plank. We are hoping for a big alumni turn-out, as we have done much on the invitation and party planning in their behalf.

Last week, our newly returned army veteran, Jack Sweeney, a junior in the music department, inspired and led the house in a serenade of the girls' dorm, while Steve Frangos and Ira Kuhn made a flaming blue $\Delta\Tau\Delta$ in the street.

PARTY FEATURES RADIO HAMS

Cincinnati Delts have started the new school year with a series of unusual parties, the high light being a clever scavenger hunt which incorporated the location of objects with the location of several hidden radio transmitters in the city. As each group located the Delt radio "hams," they reported in to the main transmitter in the Shelter, and an extremely interesting time was had by all.

FIVE SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENTS

The close of the fall rush season at the University of Cincinnati resulted in a fine pledge class of 35 men for Gamma Xi Chapter, the largest for Gamma Xi in four years, and second largest on campus this year. Included in the group are five high school senior class presidents. Gene Marras, Warren, Ohio, was elected president of the class, with Lee Wray, Dayton, Ohio, serving as vice-president. Jim Rockwell, Cincinnati, is the secretary, and Ken Barker, of Sarasota, Fla., is the pledge treasurer.

PLEDGE ORGANIZES HOCKEY TEAM

Pledge Tom Laker, of Cincinnati, has started a hockey team in Gamma Xi Chapter, and after training, the team will compete in a league which he intends to organize on the UC campus.

Our newly appointed social chairman, Bob Davis, announces the Pledge Formal for Friday, December 16, to be held at Mariemont, Ohio. All Dels from the surrounding area are cordially invited to attend.

TOP PLEDGES MARK BEGINNING OF BANNER YEAR

Rush week again this fall was very successful, with the Beta Kappas pledging 41 top men from all parts of the country. Each of the men in the pledge class has excelled in either athletics, scholarship, leadership, or all three during his pre-college days.

The Dels this fall are being led by President Ned Job and Vice-President Dick Rinehart, who anticipate an even finer year than last. This should be quite an accomplishment, because the Beta Kappa Dels walked away with an impressive list of accomplishments. During C.U. Days we captured first place in the gold division for the float "Rockin' to Toyland." We also added to our list a gold trophy from the all-school Songfest. The Dels also garnered second place in school intramurals.

BUFFS' FOOTBALL CO-CAPTAIN

The Dels will be well represented on the football field with Lamar Meyer co-captain and a top candidate for All Big-Seven honors. Jim McKim, Byron Bennett, Don Strait, and Jim Hudson are also helping to lead the Buffs on the gridiron.

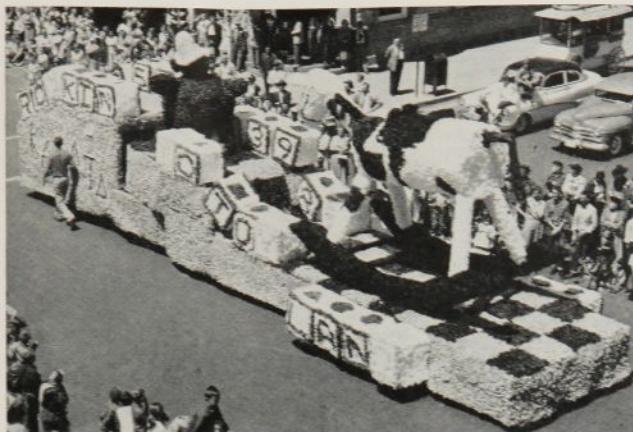

In school activities this fall we have been in many important positions. Lyle Taylor is managing editor of the Colorado Daily, the University newspaper. Rick Darst, Don Gentry, Frank Wagner, and Al Scharf have all been tapped to Phi Ep Phi, the sophomore men's honorary. John Drabing and Jim Engle are also very active in school activities.

tion of a new Shelter for Beta Omicron Chapter. An architect's drawing has been presented for approval, and a fund-raising campaign will soon be in progress. The date for the start of construction is still undecided, but it is hoped that it will be in the not too distant future.

Socially the fall season has been a big success. We entertained several Lehigh Dels at the party after the Lehigh football game. At this writing plans are being made for both the Princeton, which is also Alumni Homecoming, and Columbia week ends, with the latter being Fall Week End which will be highlighted by a formal banquet at a nearby restaurant and a lighting display at the Shelter.

BOAST HIGHEST GLEE CLUB REPRESENTATION

Among the many activities in which the brothers are taking part, we are most outstanding musically. There are more Dels in the Cornell Men's Glee Club than members from any other single fraternity on the Hill. The six men singing in the group are John Edsall, Keith Rowan, Ron Hitchon, Lew Gravis, Pete

Wood, and Ty Frank. Ty is also a member of Cayuga's Waiters, a triple quartet made up of members of the Glee Club, while Keith Rowan and John Edsall both sing in the Cornellaires, a group composed of eight men and eight women. In addition to the singers, John Maclay plays trumpet in the Big Red Marching Band and the University Concert Band.

CAPTAINS SAILING TEAM

Athletically most Dels are waiting for the start of the winter sports season, but Dud Norton is captaining the sailing team this fall and Don Maclay is playing end on the 150-pound football team.

There has been a strange absence of pledges around the Shelter this fall due to the advent of deferred rushing at Cornell. A moratorium is in effect until the start of the second term in February when the formal rushing of freshmen begins. We have high hopes for spring term rushing, and plans are already being drawn up in preparation for its start.

PICK OF SOPHOMORE CLASS

Although our feet were sore and our hands cramped, although our sleepless eyes were mighty heavy, and our voices hoarse, the Dels at Gamma Gamma were a happy crew when we emerged from rush week, because we felt we had found the pick of the sophomore class to live within the Fraternity of Delta Tau Delta. Any hopes of resting our tired bodies and catching up on our lagging studies, however, were soon revealed to be dreams, for the men with whom we talked quietly during rushing and who worked industriously during the day, lit their brothers' cigarettes, and offered them gum, changed at the stroke of midnight into a band of single-minded marauders, lurking in the morning shadows with the one intention of kidnapping their brothers, and leaving them blindfolded on some dark and deserted road. The traditional battle between the pledges and the brothers was on—the weapon, the "ride," and the consequences, a sleepless night and a long walk home.

By daylight normalcy prevails, and on the week ends the pledges are brothers, taking part as brothers in the home game parties. Both the parties of the Holy Cross and the Lafayette week ends met the past Delt standards.

TRIO OF VARSITY SWIMMERS

The Delaware Dels are well represented on the varsity swimming team this year. Returning from freshman competition are: Jim Lawson, backstroke; Philip Reiss, breaststroke; and Bob Dempsey, diving. Tom Moore is starting his first year in competition as a diver. These swimmers are looking forward to a good season and are hoping to live up to the record set by last year's captain, Bob Wagner, also a Delt.

Bob Maegerle is again on the varsity cross-country team, which was undefeated during the season of 1954-55.

NEW REC ROOM ABUILDING

In the past we have been hindered by lack of space for house parties and meetings. To overcome these space limitations, the basement is being remodeled. The partitions have been removed, the floor lowered, and the oil burner and heater hidden by a plasterboard screen. The walls have been redecorated with stimulating colors. Plans are being made to hide the plumbing with a new ceiling, and to cover the floor with asphalt tile. The beauty of our new room will be further enhanced by indirect lighting and suggestive wall decorations. The basement will be a tremendous asset to all of our future social events.

TOP HOUSE IN SCHOLARSHIP

Delta Upsilon Chapter succeeded in being among top fraternities on campus in the preceding year's scholastic race. Not only did the chapter have the highest average fraternity index, but it also bettered the All Men's index.

DUTCH STUDENT IS DELT GUEST

Beta Beta started off the new school year by pledging eight new men in fall rush. Added to the men we pledged in the spring, our class of '59 totals 20.

The chapter has as its guest for the year Hans Wassenaar from The Hague, Netherlands, who is attending DePauw under an exchange student program. Murray DeArmond of our chapter is attending school in France this year under the same program.

Old Gold Day, DePauw's homecoming, found 15 alums back for a renewing of fraternity friendships. The chapter's display, "Bengal Roadblock," took a third-place award among the houses in a campus-wide contest. All the University activities for the week end were planned by a committee headed by Delt Dwight Walton.

TIGER ELEVEN AIDED BY DELTS

The DePauw football team has a definite Delt flavor with Captain Bob Fink, Ron Turner, Pat Ewing, and Freshman Jim Braden all bolstering the first-string line-up. Braden scored the first touchdown of the year for the Tigers. Keith Schroeder and Clark Taylor are also seeing a lot of action and both should earn their varsity letters.

The cross-country team finds Gerry Herrmann and Freshman Ron Young consistently placing up in front of the pack. Young took first for DePauw in the opening meet of the season.

In intramural play Beta Beta's speed ball team is currently leading its league and we are all confident of a championship. Intramural golf will soon be upon us, and Beta Beta is hoping to keep the title that we won last year.

GEORGE KARAS

SPONSOR SMORGASBORD FOR CAMPUS

The brothers of Delta Kappa are returned to their Shelter confident that this year will be as successful as the last . . . and more so. The social year was christened and launched on its maiden voyage by an open house and listening party for the away Duke-Tennessee game. The girls of the Duke nursing school were our guests. Duke won the game, but the Dels commanded the party.

As has been our policy in the past, we throw the Shelter open to alumni and brothers' dates and relatives during football week ends. A smorgasbord seems to be the rage this year.

Varsity soccer this year is dependent on Brothers Kephart and Matthews at left-wing and left-half, respectively. Our intramural football team is, at this date, undefeated and unscorched upon. Captain Bob Schroeder is looking forward to a championship season.

The big football week end this year is the Homecoming Duke-Pitt game. Besides the game itself, there will be a fraternity display competition. The Dels are sponsoring a post-game smorgasbord, open to the campus.

RUSH EMPHASIS PAYS OFF

Beta Epsilon's fall activities this year have centered around its rushing program. Plans for the program were made as early as last spring and rushing actually began this summer with several parties made possible by alumni of the chapter. After the intensive summer preparation, the chapter was able to begin the fall quarter confident of success.

The week of rushing was climaxed by two parties. The first, on Friday night, featured a South Sea island theme. Girls from nearby Agnes Scott College wore sarongs and grass skirts to fill the Shelter with rushees. On Saturday night a Bavarian Beer Garden Party was not dampened by dismal weather, and rushees, dates, and brothers drank genuine root beer inside. The following day, all the work really paid off when Beta Epsilon pledged 15 good men.

The prospective Dels found that they had more than studies to contend with at Emory. The pledge training program, led by Brother Schmitt, soon went into effect and, in addition to the usual "essential" rules, brothers bore down on the pledges' scholarship and extracurricular activities, with the result that five are now in the Glee Club. Even the brothers are kept busy and consequently they placed second in scholarship last quarter.

HOUSEMOTHER CELEBRATES 21ST YEAR

Keeping a watchful eye on the brothers during all this time has been the chapter's housemother, Mrs. R. S. Humphries, known to her many "boys" as "Grandma," she came of age on November 6, having spent 21 years with Beta Epsilon. Present at the reception in her honor were pledges, brothers, and many alumni. All hope for 21 more successful years of her guidance.

CHA-CHA-CHA DANCE WINS VARIETY AWARD

Ed Franklin and Dick Puckett won the men's award in the annual Campus Chest Variety Show for the second successive year. It was obvious from the beginning that the boys stole the show with their novel act which consisted of a Charlie Chaplin version of the Cha Cha Cha. The form and routine displayed by the two had a professional look. In winning, they competed with entrants from 14 other fraternities.

DELTA PHI INITIATES VISIT CHAPTERS

Delta Phi began the semester with a "Help" week conducted for the benefit of Initiates Dale Gallagher, Harold Lambert, Gus Sardinha, Sherwood Williams, and John Word. Following initiation rites on Sunday, a banquet was held at the Tallahassee Restaurant in their honor. The high light of the banquet was the telling of their road-trip experiences. It's routine policy here that all neophytes take a road-trip to a neighboring Delt chapter just before being initiated. We feel that their visit to a neighboring chapter helps to build chapter relations, and at the same time acquaints the new-member-to-be with the facts that the Fraternity is among the top fraternities on other campuses.

PLEDGES TWELVE

After a week of rush clinics and rush parties, the Dels pledged 12 of the top freshmen on campus.

Festivities of the week included a barbecued chicken supper held on picnic grounds; a steak supper at the Shelter with entertainment by the Memory Four Quartet; a buffet supper with Claire Green singing a few songs; and finally a successful oyster roast and water skiing party at the coast.

Once again, as Christmas approaches, the Alpha Xi Delta Sorority and the Deltas are making plans for a bigger and better Christmas party for underprivileged children in Tallahassee.

TOP PLEDGE CLASS OF 15

For the third consecutive year, Gamma Eta pulled in one of the top pledge classes at G.W. Culminating the three-week rush period with a trip to the Colonial-Penn football game, followed by a party at the Omega Shelter, Gamma Eta pledged 15 men.

The new pledges include Will Hinley and Kyler Craven, from Savannah, Georgia, who are on the debate team at G.W. From New Jersey are Pledges Bob Letts, Bernie Deegan, and Jerry Quaglia. Except for Stan Fortner, from California, the remainder of the pledges are local boys: John Fisher, Atwood Barwick, Jim Somervell, Sandy Morrison, Lanny Ormsby, Tom Tingle, Ronnie Lambert, Paul Fanning, and John Doerfer.

RUSHING GAMMA PSI STYLE

The 1955-56 college year started off with a bang here at Gamma Psi. The brothers returned after vacations to put all their energies into a rush program which had been carefully mapped out by Rush Chairman Bob Johnston and associates.

The first phase of the program included getting the Shelter into top-flite condition. Washing windows, painting, and mowing lawns were the general orders of the day, made enjoyable by the world's most varied assortment of music on Hi-Fi.

Next came the "smokers" where we introduced rushees to the Gamma Psi way of life. Entertainment included Graham Jackson, a sharp man at the piano; Delt Ed Dodd, creator of comic strip character "Mark Trail"; and our own "Dixieland" combo headed by Brother Shelby Barre.

The week ends brought colorful parties to the Shelter that took brothers, rushees, and their dates to New Orleans' famous Mardi Gras, a desert island "somewhere" in the Pacific, and "Club International," the crossroads of the world.

Result—a lot of happy people and 33 fine new pledges for Gamma Psi.

Hillsdale—Kappa

DELTS LEAD UNDEFEATED DALES

As defending champions of the MIAA League in the State of Michigan, the Hillsdale football team is again slated for another championship season this year. Already holding an eleven-game winning streak record, Quarterback Jack

"The brothers put all their energies into a rush program," wrote Georgia Tech's RAINBOW correspondent. Here is the result.

Rossetti (president of Kappa Chapter) has called the plays for four successive victories this season.

With Rossetti in the first-string line-up are three other Delts. Ron Perian, who has played first-string fullback for two years; Ken Borgne, a pledge and second highest ground gainer on the team; and Dan Rankin, most improved player from last season, still hold first-string slots since the beginning of the season.

LEADS IN PASSING

Rossetti began playing football again last season, after being out of action during his sophomore year, and was listed as fourth-string quarterback for most of the season. He played with the first team the last three games of the 1954 season, however, and has held onto that spot ever since. Jack is leading the team in passing and is second in kicking with a 46-yard average. He is a man who shows much poise and confidence when on the playing field. Jack has also played varsity baseball for three years and basketball for two.

PILE-DRIVING FULLBACK

Ron Perian is sometimes called the silent man of the team, but his running ability and hard driving which have piled up many first downs prove that he is a dangerous man against the opposition. Perian never complains about injuries or bad playing after a game. For the first time in two years, in our second game, he was pulled out of the line-up, not because of poor playing but for a serious injury. Perian stands only 5' 7" but weighs close to 200 pounds. When rushing yardage or first downs are needed, the ball is always given to Perian.

MOST IMPROVED PLAYER

Dan Rankin, end, was voted as most improved player for last season. This year he is right back in the line-up at left end on the starting eleven. Dan has the ability to pull in passes which are difficult even for the best type of end.

He is sometimes referred to as "Fingers" by his teammates. He has picked up quite a few yards on pass receiving and also a few touchdowns at the right time when needed. This is Dan's third year of varsity ball and he will be a great loss to the team when he is graduated in January.

Ken Borgne has just begun his career with the Hillsdale College football team. He is a pledge of Kappa Chapter and is expected to be initiated in December. Borgne stands 5' 6" and weighs only 150 pounds. A flashy right halfback, he has picked up almost 200 yards in his first four games for the Dales. On his first play of the year, Ken was handed the pigskin and took off on a 48-yard touchdown run. A great many things are expected of Ken in the next three years with the team.

Besides having four men on the first team, the Deltas boast the fact that there are seven other members playing on the second and third teams. They are: Jack Thierbach, Ron Pierceall, Bruce Felker, John Sommers, Jack Johnson, Joe Saniate, and Terry Distel.

LEADERSHIP ASSERTED EARLY

After a highly successful rush in which 16 men were pledged, Delta Mu lost no time in showing the Idaho campus that it is still the top fraternity on campus. This was done by sponsoring the first all-house exchange on the campus with a sorority, by leading in the intramural football competition, and by taking the first-place award in the Homecoming parade.

Thanks to Tom MacGregor and Dick Parsell, the Idaho Deltas' float completely outclassed all of the other thirty floats entered in the Homecoming parade. The parade theme this year was based on the Lewis and Clark Sesquicentennial celebration, and the float was a replica of the Lewis and Clark Commemorative postage stamp. It was acclaimed by Idaho Deltas are mighty proud of this year's pledge class. Here they are with Mrs. T. W. MACARTNEY, chapter housemother.

Above: During Technorama festivities last spring, Illinois Tech Deltas bested the field with this fleet roadster. They also walked off with first prize (below) in the house decorations contest.

The annual pledge dance was held October 29 with the theme being "Saints and Sinners." Character body drawings with pledges' faces on placards were used as a form of rogue's gallery of the 16 saints and/or sinners.

PLEDGE 21 DURING RUSH WEEK

The Beta Upsilon Deltas came back to school this fall a week early to shape the house up for rush week. Everyone pitched in and painted and cleaned his room. The house corporation donated new rugs for the front hall and stairs, which helped the general appearance of the downstairs. It all paid off at the end of rush week.

We started the school year off right by pledging 21 boys from all over the state. Their new pledge officers are Larry Venable, president; Jim Patton, vice-president; Jack McWhirter, secretary-treasurer; Jack Ablanalp, sergeant at arms; and John Jones, social chairman. Currently, two sophomore pledges, Dan Wile at fullback and Dick Nordmeyer at tackle, are playing first string on the Fighting Illini.

many to be one of the most beautiful floats ever to be entered in an Idaho Homecoming celebration.

CENTER FOR VANDALS

This year the chapter entered the annual Homecoming Stunt Show with Alpha Omicron Pi. The theme for this year's show is Musical Moods and as a result the chairmen have chosen a "rock and roll" setting. Everyone is working toward a winner.

SIX TAKE VOWS THIS FALL

September 27 was a memorable day for Wayne Marthaler, Paul Adams, Marty Maguet, Mark Costello, Dick Daniel, and Alan Zengel. On that day, President Dick Merhar presided over initiation ceremonies as these men took their fraternal vows.

INTRAMURAL OUTLOOK GOOD

Beta Upsilon has started out strong in intramural competition this year. The football team, after dropping its first game, has come back with two victories. The swimming squad also picked up several points in the backstroke, diving, breaststroke, and the 200-yard relay. Because of the good start, we are ahead of last year's progress, when we finished the year tenth out of 57 fraternities.

DELTA LINKS HOLDS RUSH

After finishing the spring semester with a first in Technorama house decorations and a second in activities, the Deltas here jumped off to a good start again this fall. The Shelter is in good shape, as a result of a sand-blasting job on the front and a week of thorough cleaning and painting inside.

Rush Week ended with a successful party featuring Delta Links, a nine-hole miniature golf course, complete with golf pros and a tenth hole. As usual, we outdid the rest of the row, and pretty well "snowed" the group coming through rush. Coming events on Ken Folgers' social calendar include a hayride, dinners with the sororities, and a Halloween party.

Pledging Gamma Beta this fall was a well-rounded group of 14, including three upperclassmen. The class looks pretty sharp, and we expect plenty of pledge power in sports and school activities.

MOCK IS SOPHOMORE PREXY

Gamma Beta will again be well represented in school functions with Bob Mock sophomore president-elect, Brothers Ravetto and Schaffner serving as Tech News editors, and Craig Stubbleline taking over as S.A.A.B. president. Brother Dale Gruninger retains his office of S. U. board president, as does Dave Geupel, the ITSA treasurer. Gene Foley was chosen "Big Mug" in BON, the local interfraternity honorary.

PLEDGE CLASS 31 STRONG

Beta Alpha Chapter of Delta Tau Delta opened its fall semester with a pledge class composed of 31 men. On October 23 nine holdover pledges were initiated. The remaining 22 pledges, with three exceptions, are freshmen who will spend the year in pledge training under the guidance of Arthur J. Pasmas, pledge trainer.

We here at Beta Alpha are proud of the honors won thus far this semester. Our annual street dance, Jazz at the Deltharmonic, gave many freshmen their first opportunity to observe organized life. The Gregory Johnson Quintet of Indianapolis provided swinging, danceable jazz.

1930 BUICK TOPS TICKET SALES

The Fall Carnival was our next conquest. A 1930 Buick was used in a carlot-salesman theme. We received the trophy for ticket sales in our division. Tom Scott and his partner drew a trophy from the jitterbug contest during the Fall Carnival.

HOOSIER CO-CAPTAIN

Brother Tom Cassidy, a first-string, sharp-throwing quarterback, is one of our representatives on the Indiana University football team. The other first-string player, Bob Skoronski, senior, is co-captain of the team.

THOMAS BREWER

PLEDGING 22 STARTS FINE YEAR

The pledging of 22 men heralded the start of the new school year for Omicron Chapter. Our pledge class, incidentally, is the second largest on campus and certainly one of the sharpest. Much of the credit must go to Brother Mark Joy, who is doing a great job as rush chairman.

FAME AS SONGSTERS

Activities are off to a fine start as well. Iowa's gridiron victories have been followed by postgame buffets at the chapter house for Deltas and dates. Our claim to fame as songsters has been upheld by several serenades and many more are planned. We also anticipate a successful season in interfraternity sports. With about two more wins, our football team should take first place and we appear to be doing as well in other sports.

WHALE CAPTURES FLOAT PRIZE

Homecoming was a big week end for the University of Iowa and especially for Omicron Chapter. Our float for the Homecoming parade, a large Disneyish whale captioned "Whale the Tail Off Purdue," brought us a first-place trophy. At the dance following the game, the Deltones, composed of Jack Laughery, Keith Casey, John Dockendorff, and Mark Joy, provided the entertainment during intermission.

Recently, with the initiation of four new men, William Ide became the 800th Omicron Delt.

CHAPTER GETS NEW IMPROVEMENTS

Gamma Pi Deltas opened a new page in its history by conducting a very successful rush week. This rush week ended with a total of 29 of the best pledges on campus. Early in the quarter, the pledges organized themselves and administered the traditional "initiation shower" to eight of the new initiates and also have just returned from their first walkout to a neighboring chapter.

Before school started, all the brothers came back and put in four days of hard work getting the Shelter cleaned up and ready for the year. Also, two improvements were added: a luxurious patio and a spacious parking lot accommodating up to twenty cars. The patio was christened during the second week end of school at an informal fireside and everyone enjoyed dancing under soft lights within the seclusion of a surrounding stone wall.

WISHES TO SERVICEMEN

To the Gamma Pi's graduating seniors, the chapter wishes to extend their congratulations and wish them luck in the future. Ronald Narmi and Edward Oppenheimer are now serving with the U. S. N.; John Dahl and Robert Byrus are serving with the U. S. A. F.

HELP ORGANIZE HOMECOMING

Several Deltas have played an important part in the organizing of Iowa State's '55 Homecoming. Doug Stock was assistant chairman of Homecoming Pep Rally and Robin Thompson was chairman of the first "Scrap Heap Scramble." This event finds all the fraternities on campus entering the oldest and the junkiest car they can find or create in a parade. Robin was also personnel chairman for Homecoming ticket sales.

TAKE LEAD IN PUBLICATIONS

On the publications side of the campus, Steve Funk is now business manager of the Iowa State Daily and John Bucher is sales manager for the Bomb, the school yearbook.

Joe DeBoer, an active member in the Iowa State Players, has the romantic lead in the Players current production.

LIBRARY RENAMED FOR DR. FARRELL

Dr. F. D. Farrell, Gamma Chi alumnus, was presented a certificate which provides that the Kansas State College library building shall hereafter be officially named Farrell Library. The presentation was made by the President of Kansas State College, President James A. McCain.

Farrell, the son of a Utah rancher, came to Kansas State in 1918 as dean of agriculture and director of the Kansas Agriculture Experiment Station, and in 1925 became the eighth President of the institution. He resigned in 1943 because he felt the College "needed a young president." Even so, he served as head of the College for more than 18 years, longer than any other President.

COP SWIMMING CROWN

DAY BECOMES STUDENT BODY HEAD

Gerry Day, senior in veterinary medicine, was elected president of the student body at K-State. Brother Day was a member of Student Council last year. Day has also been a member of the College debate team the past three years.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL PRESIDENT

The Delts have shown their ability to compete in student activities. Sterling Gunter was elected president of Interfraternity Council. Dave Larson was elected as one of the five Kansas State cheerleaders. Ed Gillette was elected chairman of the program council of the new Student Union which will open in February. Gary Rumsey was appointed chairman of the movies committee for the new Student Union. Dale Kendall is treasurer of the student chapter of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

TWENTY DELTS ARE STUDENT ADVISORS

With Perk Jenkins in the driver's seat, assisted by Pat Burns, vice-president, the Delts of Kent State University are off and running. Rounding out the administration are Secretary Dick Edwards and Jerry Whitmer, who is serving his second term as treasurer.

Twenty Delts served as student advisors during Freshman Week. The brothers entertained hundreds of students with jam sessions the same week. The chapter held its traditional "First Night" torch-light serenade the first day of school.

DELTS HOLD GAVEL IN THREE ORGANIZATIONS

Delts are wielding the gavels in the Golden K's, Justice Society, and Men's Student Association. Brother Bob Drath is business manager of the daily college student newspaper.

Delta Omega Chapter of KSU crowned Lynn Wiley, pin-mate of Brother Dick Fedosh, its Delta Queen.

BLUE KEY FOR MALMER

Blue Key, national honorary society, has tapped Wally Malmer. The Delts have kept up scholastically with several members making the Dean's List.

BAG RUSHING LIMIT OF 30

Of prime importance at the beginning of the fall semester was formal rush and pledging. Under the tireless leadership of Brother John Perrine, rush chairman, Kentucky Delts went all out to pledge the cream of men going through rush. If an IFC ruling had not limited us to taking just 30 men, Delta Epsilon would have netted over 50 pledges.

SHROPSHIRE RETIRES AS ADVISOR

Delta Epsilon's chapter advisor of many years' standing, Brother Jim Shropshire has had to relinquish this post upon his appointment as a full-time marketing specialist consultant in tobacco to the Foreign Agriculture Service. Filling in Jim's shoes is one of Lexington's best known civic leaders, Brother Penrose Ecton.

CAMPUS LEADER EXTRAORDINARY

Brother Paul Eggum, president of Delta Epsilon Chapter, has distinguished himself as a campus leader. At the present, he is president of Omicron Delta Kappa and Lamp and Cross; chairman of the judiciary committee of the Student Government Association; representative of the annual Leadership Conference; and past president of Keys, Lances, and Pryor Pre-Medical Society. He has done all this while participating in intramurals, maintaining a grade average up around 3.5, and generally being one of the boys.

HOLD THREE-FOURTHS OF $\Phi\text{H}\Sigma$ OFFICES

FOR ALL-AROUND CAMPUS LEADERSHIP, TRY TO TOP THIS

Running through the rest of the chapter, Brother Bill Ballantine is president of Keys, sophomore men's honorary; Jim Crawford is editor of the Kentucky Kernel and secretary of Omicron Delta Kappa; Pledge J. E. Owens is president of the Marching 100; George Park is president of Pryor Pre-Med and Pledge John Anderson has been elected treasurer; Roy Kavanaugh is historian of Delta Sigma Pi, national commerce professional; Harry Conley is reporter for Alpha Chi Sigma, chemistry fraternity. Brother Conley has won the $500 Ashland Oil Scholarship for outstanding work in chemistry; Brother Charlie McCullough is president of the Student Union Board.

BARBARIC CUSTOM inflicted on Kentucky Delts who hang their pins involves rope and water pillory, with rescue coming only from the fair recipient of the Square Badge.

FIVE DELTS ARE LANCES

Out of 12 members of Lances, we have five; of Lamp and Cross's 14 membership, we have five. We had four representatives to the Leadership Conference and five representatives to the Student Government Association. Brother Keuper has been chosen by the members of Pi Tau Sigma, engineering fraternity, as their representative to the national convention at Stillwater, Oklahoma. Pledge Jim Host is attending the University on one of two baseball scholarships, offered for the first time this year.

SEEK REPEAT ON TROPHY

Intramural football is under way here at Kenyon, and Chi was surely up on its first two games. Hoping to win a twin for last year's intramural trophy is keeping this group on its toes and as enthusiastic to win as ever. Chi's winning capacity has surely been augmented by the fine support of its spirited sophomore neophytes.

KLANNED DELTS

Six sophomore Delts—Ron Bennington, Keith Brown, Thatch Schwartz, Jerry Looker, Tom Forbes, and Ted Moody—were initiated recently into Kenyon's honorary lettermen's club, Klan. To qualify, a student must maintain a certain academic standing and be a letterman.

K-MEN WIN HONORS

This summer brought manifold surprises for Chi's treasurer as he was awarded Honorable Mention All-American, All-Midwest Champion, and was elected to the first-string All Class C Lacrosse Team. Dick "Rocky" Nelson will captain the Kenyon Lacrosse Club which was the 1955 Ohio Conference Champion, finishing third in the Class C lacrosse division. Birds of a feather are Dick Nelson and his versatile roommate, Bob "Biz" Rowe. Bob, our vice veep, is a probable All-American candidate who plays his last season at the catching spot this spring. Bob copped the Ohio Conference batting championship last season with an average of .458.

ALL HELL AND STEW

Along with keeping his little brothers in line as Chi President, Bob Stewart has been rapping the gavel at many a meeting of the Pan-Hellenic Council lately. Bob is also finding time in his senior year to donate some of his literary talents to the Kenyon Society by co-editing our campus magazine, Hika, with Brother Bob "Shad" Clark.

PLAY CAINE MUTINY

This year's Debate Team will be headed by our own Stan Walsh with the support of Delt Veterans Gordon Duffey and Todd Bender. Brother Duffey will also be noticed in Kenyon's activities along with Brother Chuck Schwarz as they appear in the Dramatic Club's adaptation of "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

All the Delts of Chi Chapter wish to congratulate their unanimously elected Pledge of the Year, Paulene Smith.

Hoping for good weather and good times, Kenyon Delts are rolling out their welcome mat for alumni. Homecoming Chairman Keith Brown says that the number of returning Delt alumni will be double that of last year.

PLEDGE THIRTEEN FRESHMEN

With the culmination of rushing, Nu Chapter, under the direction of the rushing chairman, Malcom MacClay, pledged 13 top men from this year's freshman class. Under the leadership of Ray Pearson, pledgemaster, the pledges will receive a good introduction into Fraternity life.

After receiving second place in house decorations display last year, Nu Chapter is combining all of its talents in an effort to cop first place this fall. This year's plan calls for a huge lawn mower running over an opposing football player, flashing the slogan, "MOW 'EM DOWN."

EXCEED COLLEGE SCHOLASTIC AVERAGE

This year the house made a great scholastic improvement over last year, attaining fourth place out of the 19 fraternities and exceeding the all college average by two points. Brother Charles Churchman was awarded the Distinguished Military Student Award at a recent ROTC ceremony, while Brothers Don Kress and John Fulmer advanced to associate news editors of the college newspaper.

In the field of sports, the varsity teams feature Brother Thomas Good as quarterback in football and Brothers John Baggett, William Rude, and Richard Lemen in cross-country.

NINE GRADUATED; ELEVEN INITIATED

With the opening of the fall semester, the Lehigh Delts started a new year of brotherhood and friendship. Although eight Delts were graduated with the Class of 1955 last June, we have filled the vacancy with the initiation of eleven new brothers of whom we all are proud. From Gamma Upsilon Chapter, we affiliated Pete Davidson, a 210-pound future Lehigh wrestler.

STAR IN CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS

The Delts are still one of the leading fraternities here on the Lehigh campus. Duane Jennings, co-captain of cross-country and track, is serving as vice-president of Pi Tau Sigma, and is a member of Tau Beta Pi and the Varsity L Club. Also on the cross-country and track teams are Ken Rittenhouse and Fred Richtberg. Serving as chairman of ASE and corresponding secretary of Pi Tau Sigma is Tom Henderson. Bob Fouchaux, Beta Lambda's president, is secretary of A.I.P. and is a member of Tau Beta Pi and the varsity fencing team. Every class cabinet has one or two Delts as members. Alpha Kappa Psi, Lehigh Accounting Society, Scabbard and Blade, and many other outstanding campus organizations are well represented by the brothers.

FALL HOUSE PARTY BIG EVENT

The biggest social event of this semester was the Fall House Party. The Delt theme was "On the Waterfront." Headed by Social Chairman Fred Smith and Decorations Chairman Bill Moore, the party committee carried out the theme very appropriately. The living room, with murals depicting the skyline of New York City and a warehouse, formed the atmosphere of a dock. The hall served as a waterfront street, and the party room as a realistic waterfront dive.

The dates began to arrive Friday afternoon from Holyoke, Smith, Cedar Crest, and many other colleges. In the evening the Delts danced to the music of the Sauter-Finegan orchestra in Grace Hall. Saturday afternoon we all walked to Taylor Field to watch Lehigh beat the Temple Owls. After the exciting clash, the Delts returned to the Shelter for the Longshoreman's Party. Sunday morning rolled around too fast for most brothers, but before they realized it, Sunday itself had passed and another unforgettable house party had ended.

LARGEST RESIDENT MEMBERSHIP

This fall Gamma Nu opened its doors to 42 members and pledges, the largest resident membership in our 47-year history. We also welcomed back for her third year our housemother, Mrs. Marion Barron. Unfortunately, "Mom's" Scottie, "Heather," whom we had adopted as our mascot, passed away during the summer, and has certainly been missed.

We are also glad to welcome back Chuck Packard and Charlie Grant as graduate students. Chuck, who was chapter president during 1953-54, is serving as an instructor in physics while studying for his Master's degree. Charlie has returned, after serving four years in the Air Force, to do graduate work in chemical engineering.

MILITARY AWARD TO ABBOTT

Paul Abbott, our house president, received a Distinguished Military Student Award at ROTC summer camp in North Carolina. Paul has also been elected secretary-treasurer of the Interfraternity Council, which represents the 17 fraternities on campus.

DELTAS PLACE 14 ON DEAN'S LIST

Last year showed a marked improvement in our scholarship rating as we placed fifth on campus. This average put us well above the All Men's Average and included 14 men on the Dean's List.

After an absence of seven years, the Gamma Nu's has been republished under the direction of Larry Howard and Dick Lowry. The Gamma Nu's is a semi-annual paper published by the alumni relations committee to keep the alumni informed about chapter activities. One issue is published in November just before Homecoming and another in March. It would be appreciated if any alumni not receiving last year's issue would please send us their addresses.

PRESENT FIRST SORORITY AWARD

The Maryland Delts got off to a good start this year. Attention was centered on Delta Tau Delta on October 14, as the trophy for the Outstanding Sorority on Campus was awarded. The trophy, which stands 42 inches high, was awarded to Delta Gamma Sorority by Delta Sigma Chapter President Oscar W. Mueller. This was the first year on the Maryland campus for the presentation of such a trophy, but in its short period of existence it has already become an established Maryland tradition.

WEINKAM OUTSTANDING PLEDGE

Delta Sigma initiated three men this fall—George Weinkam, Ray McGreevey, and Joe Benson. Winner of the Outstanding Pledge Trophy was George Weinkam. George is also on the Dean's List of the College of Business and Public Administration.

Rushing came to a successful close on October 10 with the pledging of 29 new men, the fourth largest pledge class on campus. During rush week, our traditional Monte Carlo Gaming Party was held, and was the high light of the current social season.

Maryland Delts are looking forward to winning the Homecoming Float contest, coming up on October 29. Last year we had to settle for third place, but this year expect to win first prize.

We also have high hopes of winning the intramural football crown, for we fielded the fastest and strongest team in our chapter history. All in all, it looks like a banner year for the Maryland Delts.

NEW PLEDGES TIE IN TO ACTIVITIES

We have just completed a most successful Rush Week, evidenced by the spirit and enthusiasm of our pledges. Four—Jim Wishart, John Irons, Ed Schmidt, and Mike Nash—are battling for top slots on the frosh crew. Mike Hough is leading the frosh football team as first-string quarterback, Gary Bracken is filling a first-string position on the frosh soccer team, Bob Brooker promises to be one of Tech's outstanding swimmers by his extraordinary time in the two-hundred-yard free style. Vern Johnson, a candidate for the rifle team, is a potential basketballer, Campbell Francisco is working with T.C.A., and Bruce Blomstrom was just elected to the position of frosh representative to the Institute Committee. If this is any indication of what the future holds in store for these boys, we can be sure that they will be a real credit to Beta Nu.

Our intramural football team, although losing a close one, is still a top contender for the crown. Deltas representing us on school teams are: Pete Dyke and Red Miller, soccer; Bob Solenberger, cross-country; Ed Johnson, rugby; and Dan Holland, John Macarty, Bob Schmidt, and Joe Timms, sophomore football.

Beta Nu has made a very good start into the new school year. The officers are doing an excellent job, all parties have been extremely successful, and spirit is way up. It looks like a great year ahead.

ENTERTAIN DADS IN SHELTER

Quite a few changes were noticed by those returning to the Shelter this fall. A new rug spans the living room, with freshly painted walls to match. This, among other improvements, has the Shelter in top shape for the coming year.

Gamma Upsilon started its fall season with the annual Alumni Week End. Chairman Dick Freeman did a fine job in planning the festivities, highlighted by a golf tournament Saturday afternoon.

The next big event on our calendar was Dad's Day. A large turnout of dads attended the game, had buffet dinner, and "bunked" in the Shelter for the night.

THREE DELTS ON MIAMI ELEVEN

With football season in progress, the Deltas are represented by Halfback Jerry Hanlon, Tackle Don Smith, and Quarterback Tom Dimitroff. Dimitroff is taking over the quarterback spot of Delt Dick Hunter, who was graduated last year. Smith, besides holding down the tackle position, also kicks the team's extra points.

PLAY HOST TO IOTA CHAPTER

Delta chapter opened its doors to what promises to be another successful season. A redecoration program, sponsored by the Michigan Delta Foundation, included complete refurnishing and restyling of one room, repainting of the halls, and a number of improvements in all other rooms of the Shelter. This redecoration sparked a most successful rush (under Brother Ken Johnson) which netted Delta a strong pledge class of sixteen.

Delta Chapter began its social activity early and strong. Under Brother Jack Demorest, it was given a good send-off with over two-hundred people attending the first (Michigan State game) party. This party was highlighted by a combo providing dance music and nearly 35 members of Iota Chapter as guests. Other social events of the fall include such variations on our Saturday night parties as "exchange parties" (invitations to the whole chapter, to other campus fraternities' parties) with other campus fraternities and the traditional Father's Week End.

ENTRENCHED IN IFC

On campus Delta Chapter returns its old faces and several new ones. With Delta President Nort Stuart as a member of its Executive Committee, Brother Rick St. John as administrative vice-president, Brother Mike Barber as chairman of the cooperative buying program, and Brother Jerry Harwood as chairman of the tryout program, Delta Chapter is entrenched in Michigan's Interfraternity Council. Delta Chapter also boasts its alumni relations chairman, Bill Striker, as chairman of the Michigan Union's ticket resale program (for football game tickets).

Musically speaking, Delta is proud to announce that Brother Oleg Lobanov is the new vice-president of the Michigan Glee Club. With Brother Lobanov on the Glee Club are six other members of Delta Chapter. Other Delta musicians include Brothers Jim Holton and Don Young as members of the Marching Band. Brother Lobanov also combines his talents with Brother Jim Phelps and several lovely young ladies as a part of a professional quintette.

EARLY VICTORIES GIVE PROMISE

Back from our most successful year, the Iota Deltas have high hopes of taking even higher honors in the year to come.

MSU's Centennial Parade, October 22, will offer the first big prize of the present year. Brother Gary Carr, chairman of the Delt float, has high expectations for the design trophy. The Iota Deltas are working hard for their second first-place Homecoming trophy in as many years.

Touch football is also in the spotlight this term. Fresh from easy 33-0 and 13-0 victories, the Iota Deltas are fighting for the fraternity title which was lost in the play-off game last year.

Runners-up last year, the bowling team has 8-straight points in two victories to date. Brothers Jim Moreau, Bob Urban, Dean Barndt, Norm Duval, and Dean McConkey head the bowling team.

JEWETT MOST IMPROVED WINGMAN

Brother Bob Jewett, end on the Spartan grid team, has shown great offensive potential. In three games Bob has caught five out of five passes for 100 yards and six points. Voted the most improved and hustling end last spring, Bob has two years of playing eligibility left after the present season.

Tom Anderson, center, and End Larry Harding are being primed for heavy duty next season, although both will see limited action this year.

PITCHER READY FOR STARTING BERTH

Fireballing Pitcher Jon Davis has shown Spartan diamond coaches he may be ready next spring for starting assignments. Pitching regularly in fall practice games, Jon has compiled an earned-run average of 1.00, headed by no other Spartan hurler.

Numerous Iota dances top the fall social-activity program. Actual tree limbs decorated the Shelter the night of October 8 for the "Woods Dance." Our annual Homecoming Dance, held in Lansing October 22, will feature a fall-football theme.

SHELTER UNDERGOES GENERAL FACE-LIFTING

The summer of 1955 was a big one for Minnesota's Beta Eta Chapter. After installing a completely remodeled chapter room during the spring, it was decided to carry over this enthusiasm to the rest of the Shelter and work was started on a brand new kitchen, repainting the entire house, and modernized lavatory.

The alumni, besides donating over two thousand dollars for the kitchen, pitched right in and helped with the work. Our new kitchen now boasts an automatic dishwasher, hardwood tables, modern cabinets, and all new stainless steel equipment. The total cost came to $5,500 with much of the work done by the chapter itself.

The Shelter living room was given a new coat of paint and a refinished ceiling with new light fixtures. The game room had a rejuvenation, too, with a white ceiling and bright new light fixtures to cast plenty of light on our ping pong table and card games. The actives did most of the work themselves, holding down the cost and yet having a good time while doing it. Cries of "Tear down that wall" and "Rip out that fixture" were quite common during the early summer, while toward the fall things began to take shape in our "new" Shelter. Besides painting the house inside and out, even the storm windows and screens were given a new coat of paint along with the trim.

ALUMNI CHAPTER LENDS HAND

Beta Eta Chapter's alumni have more to boast about than just helping with the work on the house. After much careful planning last spring, a new House Corporation was formed under the guidance and control of the Minnesota Alumni Chapter. The Delt Mothers' Club pitched in, too, and held a very successful party at the home of Mrs. Bros to help raise money for the summer work.

The work was done in time for a successful rush week, and we now have a fine new crop of pledges and two new actives in David Bros and Milton Iossi, who were initiated on October 14.

We are expecting great things from Sophomore Halfback Bill Chorske in the years to come, and from Rod Snyder, who will be playing guard on the Gopher basketball team this winter. Minnesota Dels are looking forward to a great year for Beta Eta.

RUSHING NETS LIMIT OF 20

Gamma Kappa's year began with the inevitable work week, and there was no rest for the weary with rush week following immediately. We felt our efforts were well rewarded, however, as rush week again was pronounced a complete success. Because of limited facilities, we could pledge only 20 men, and we pledged what we consider the top 20.

This year promises to be a good one for Gamma Kappa as far as activities are concerned. In addition to the active members who are "out on campus," more than half our pledge class is already taking part in the campus extracurricular activity program. Three pledges have seen considerable action on the freshman football team, which promises to be Missouri's best in years.

SPORTS LOOK GOOD

Sports are looking good too. At the present time, Gamma Kappa teams are in first place in their leagues both in bowling and volleyball. We would be leading intramural football also, except that that sport was dropped from the intramural program this year.

As for the social scene, Dels and their guests once again enjoyed the annual fall pig roast October 8. Rain threatened the event all week, but old Sol came out right on schedule to insure the party's success. After recreational games and a delicious barbecue dinner, everyone gathered around a huge bonfire to socialize and be entertained by a pledge skit.

pany Commander as well as the president of the Battalion Recreation Council, and Dick Grant has a platoon. These men are the largest group of Dels to hold so many leading positions in the Battalion.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Don Erway and Leroy Butherus are returning lettermen and are playing first string—quarterback and end, respectively. Both are standout performers and play 60-minute ball. Don has scored 24 points this season and stands first in the Big Seven in this department.

DELT-PHI DELT SOFTBALL GAME

The Dels blasted the Phi Delt team in the annual game to decide who keeps the victory bell for the coming year. The bell has been in Delt hands for six years and is becoming a permanent fixture in the Shelter.

RANKS HIGHEST ON CAMPUS

The Delta Xi Chapter had the highest active average of all fraternity chapters on the University of North Dakota campus for the spring semester of 1955.

24 PLEDGES JOIN DELT

The fall quarter promises much for the Dels here at Northwestern. During one of the most successful Rush Weeks ever, we pledged 24 of the finest men on campus. Two have already answered the call to freshman football, one for basketball, two for tennis, and several anticipate reporting for the track team in the winter and spring. We think this is a commendable account and are ineffably grateful to Rushing Chairman Frank Magee, whose unflagging efforts and determination aided us in the selection of such fine men.

DELT PAJAMA RACE

In October the Dels officially opened the 1955-56 social calendar with their annual Delt Pajama Race. This is by far the biggest and most unique all-school social event of the year, and is deserving of special mention. Each women's housing unit and sorority nominated a candidate for the title of "Delt Pajama Queen."

Activities for the big evening began at 5:00 p.m., when queen candidates were called for by Delt pledge escorts. Following a delicious meal at the Shelter, the queens were escorted to a special seating section along one of Evanston's main streets, which had been blocked off and especially lighted for the occasion. Four pajama-clad freshmen from each men's housing unit competed over a 200-yard course for first-place honors.

After the races, festivity and pageantry were continued at the Shelter, where awards were presented to the winning relay team and to the Queen, chosen by senior members of the chapter. This year Miss Ann Riesse, the Kappa Alpha Theta candidate, was selected. She wore a black velvet dress for the judging and was the subject of many approving sighs from envious Northwestern men. But the most coveted prize of all was a kiss from the queen to the man wearing the most pretentious pajamas.

With the judging over, refreshment was served to those who had attended the race. An estimated crowd of 600 people was on hand.

Social Chairman Bob Flinn and Barry Gidley have announced a series of picnics and desserts with various sororities on the campus. Music for the parties will be provided by the Beta Pi "combo," which has a campuswide reputation. These brothers play hot stuff.

The Delt I-M squad is off and rolling toward a championship trophy. In their first game of the season, they annihilated a highly rated Lambda Chi Alpha team 36 to 0. Led by such veteran performers as Bill Shineflug, Forrest MacDonald, and Bill Ratzer, the Deltas should have no trouble in finishing first.

Ohio—Beta

DELT IS HOMECOMING CHAIRMAN

Beta Chapter opened the school year with its Delt Circus Party. Under the direction of Social Chairman Bob Matthews, it was one of the most colorful events of the past few years.

On the sports side of the picture, Beta Chapter is gunning for the all-campus intramural football crown and seemed to be on the right track as it trounced Phi Kappa Sigma 52-0 in its first game, setting an intramural scoring record for OU. The Delt eleven is coached by Jim Delaney and captained by Quarterback Don Stroup.

On the campus this year Beta Chapter is well represented. Homecoming chairman for OU is Gordie Keller. Gordie is also president of Circle K, vice-president of Campus Religious Council, and a member of Student Council.

TOMPKINS HEADS ODK

Ron Tompkins, besides being president of Beta Chapter, is president of ODK, a member of IFC and Student Council and is a Phi Beta Kappa.

David Mocklar is Junior Prom chairman and also handles three programs on WOUI, the University radio station.

Also on WOUI are Tom Roper, Bill Hilz, and Dick Rader, announcing director, special events director, and senior announcer, respectively.

In addition to being on the Green Goat, Kircher is vice-president of Air

Fred Butcher is the junior class representative on the Men's Union Governing Board.

BANQUET HONORS INITIATES

A banquet was held Sunday, October 9, for 11 new initiates of Beta Chapter. Guest speaker for the affair was Dr. Frederick Kershner, Beta Zeta, '37. David Mocklar, Beta, '57, was toastmaster. Frank B. Gullum, honorary chapter advisor, also spoke.

GREAT PROMISE IN 48 NEW PLEDGES

Under the guidance of Rushing Chairman Dick Wray and his committee, Beta Phi carried on one of the best rushes in its history. We added 48 top-notch pledges to the chapter roll. The active chapter is looking to this pledge class to make a mark on the campus that will remain in the history of the University.

In varsity football this fall Beta Phi can boast of five team members: Frank Elwood, quarterback; Fred Kriss, end; Dick Guy, tackle; Alex Nagy, tackle; John Trittipo, end. We are also proud of the eight pledges on the freshman squad.

ATTAIN FOURTH-PLACE SCHOLARSHIP

Beta Phi is very proud of its fine scholastic rating this past year. Our "accum" ranked us fourth among Greek societies on campus and first among the prominent fraternities for the year. Not only do we shine scholastically but many of the brothers are outstanding in campus activities, such as Dick Guy, Jim Millikin, Bill Bowden, Jack Herrington, Dick Wray, Nat Smith, and Ken Segal.

JOHN GIDCOMBE

CHAPTER STRENGTH AT RECORD 87

class of 22 men, swelling the chapter to 87, the largest number of Mu Deltas in many years.

Socially the year began colorfully as Deltas and their debs attended a hard times party. The pledge formal's theme was "Autumn in New York." A pre-dance banquet was held in the Shelter with actives serving as waiters. The annual Ozark hillbilly party and the winter formal held on December 10 rounded out a full autumn social calendar.

ALL OHIO QUARTERBACK RETURNS

Athletic-wise the Wesleyan Deltas put nine men on the varsity football team, two of whom, Jim Boggs and Bob Hancher, were returning first-string lettermen. Boggs is back at his halfback slot after a two-year visit with Uncle Sam, while Hance is busy matching his last year's performance. The senior econ major from Mentor, Ohio, was All Ohio Conference quarterback and rated a berth on the Little All American third team. He was third in the nation among small college passers, averaging 107.4 yards per game, and carries a two-year pass completion average of better than .500.

THREE FROSH ON VARSITY

Not to be overlooked, however, were Wally Hood, Jim Eickhoff, and Bob Wilkinson, who turned in valuable reserve roles. Three Delt freshmen also made the varsity, they being Bob Morrill, Chuck Hanson, and Don Wright.

To complete the athletic picture, Sophomore Bob Clifton's sharp play won him a starting spot on the soccer team. Two other freshmen, Dave Yoder and Jack Batty, ran cross-country.

SIX JOIN "W" CLAN

"W Clan," Ohio Wesleyan's varsity award winners' organization, initiated six Deltas—Bruce Homfeldt, Don Metz, Bruce Taylor, Darrell Geib, and Bob Sommers.

Mu Chapter wishes to extend the season's greeting to all her sister chapters.

PLEDGE CLASS OF 24 GETS ORIENTED

Delta Alpha started off what promises to be one of the best years yet. We pledged 22 men during rush week and two more off the campus, making a total of 24. Thad Shook, of Las Cruces, New Mexico, was elected president of the pledge class; Stan Breitweiser, Wichita, vice-president and social chairman; and Jim Hathaway, Oklahoma City, secretary and treasurer.

This year the Deltas established a pledge orientation program to familiarize the pledge with his duties and what is expected of him in connection with the Shelter. The program helps the pledge to meet and begin to know his pledge brothers better.

We have added eight new brothers to the rolls of Delta Alpha on September 18. This makes a total of 682 men initiated by Delta Alpha.

EXCHANGE STUDENT FROM HOLLAND

This year we are sponsoring an exchange student. His name is Fred Zeeven, and he hails from Holland. He is studying business management and real estate. Fred lives in the Shelter and takes an active part in all functions and activities.

FOURTH WITH BICYCLE FOR TWO

On October 15, Homecoming Week End, we placed fourth with our house decoration. Kermit Ferrell was in charge of the display, with Steve Trower, Jim McSherry, and Charles Rider planning the actual construction of "A Bicycle Built for Two," which was the theme picked by Paul McDaniel.

CHARLES RIDER

PRIDE AND JOY—THESE PLEDGES

Pride and joy of Delta Chi Chapter this year is the top-flight 19-man pledge class with which we came out of rush. Full credit must be given to Tommy Mays, whose excellent work as summer rush chairman helped to give the Deltas the top pledge class on campus.

THREE TIMES CHIEF EXECUTIVE

President Billy J. Waters brought another honor home for the Deltas recently when he was elected secretary-treasurer of the Interfraternity Council. Bill is at present holding down two other presidencies, that of the American Institute of Architects and Beaux Arts Society, in addition to his chapter duties.

The Deltas have started off with a "bang" in intramurals by jumping into the league lead in bowling with 8 wins and no losses. Pledge Kip Moore leads the team.

IFC ACCEPTS SPORTS PROGRAM

Brother Don Doty is to be complimented on his fine work in drawing up a completely new sports program for the I.F.C. and having it accepted at the organization's last meeting.

Social-wise the Deltas opened up the fall season with an old-fashioned hay ride which was a huge success. Brother Don Fine gave the boys a "scare" when he didn't get chaperones until the night of the party, but in Horatio Alger form he saved the evening.

NAB SECOND BUNION DERBY CROWN

FOUR DELTS POWER VARSITY

Giving the Oregon varsity football team power in the backfield and line are four Deltas: Jim Potter, lineman and letterman; Jack Hilficker, transfer lineman; a speedy transfer halfback, Chuck Osborne; and a freshman baller, Gary Hubbard. Gamma Rho has 25 new pledges this fall, giving the house over 60 men.

Many Deltas are active in campus affairs. Tom Waldrop is a member of Skull and Dagger, sophomore honorary. Also up for membership in this organization are Brothers J. H. Booth and Lon Bryant.

THREE DELTS ON AIR LANES

Heading the Oregon Homecoming entertainment committee was Walt Ching. On his committee were Deltas Len Overholser, John Richardson, Paul Linnebur, and Gary Hubbard.

DWYER ACTIVE IN SYMPOSIUM

Roy Dwyer was recently appointed to the Symposium, a lecturing group that visits high schools, clubs, and various other organizations. Deltas are also associated with the University Band and Theatre.

One of the big accomplishments was the pre-term work program for house improvements. This included complete cleaning and interior painting, paving the area in back of the Shelter for a basketball and volleyball court, tiling the front hall and rooms, and general grounds cleanup.

RUSH EFFORTS DRAW FULL HOUSE

The game of rushing ended with a full house for the Deltas. Through the efforts of Rush Chairman Steve Gilley, 26 new pledges put their names on the roster. With the house presently filled to the brim, Delta Lambda Chapter is anxiously anticipating a new Shelter by the end of next year. A large lot with a good location has just been purchased by our house corporation, and house plans are now under way.

WELCOME NEW HOUSE MOTHER

Mrs. Anderson of Salem, Oregon, is the new hostess at the chapter. She replaced Mrs. Spencer, who served as housemother last year.

Fall term social life has the Deltas in a multitude of full week ends, including the Homecoming alumni party, pledge dance, pledge banquet, and several exchanges. For the United Fund drive we have rented a theater to be at the disposal of the Deltas and the sorority which donates the most to the fund for our services.

JOURNALISTIC EFFORT LAUNCHED

Bob Scott, alumni chairman, has completed the first edition of the Delta-Alum-ination, a newspaper, complete with photographs, which will be sent monthly to the Delta Lambda alumni. This paper should be a big step in bringing the alumni closer to the chapter.

IN MEMORIAM

It is with extreme regret that Omega Chapter announces the irreplaceable loss of one of its outstanding members. John August Seifert, III, was killed on the Ohio Turnpike Sunday evening, August 7. He was en route to Cleveland and his summer job when the accident occurred.

Jack was president of the pledge class here in the Shelter and was elected permanent captain of the freshman wrestling team. He stood Number One scholastically in the Wharton School's class of 423.

Services were held on campus October 9 at the Shelter. He is survived by his mother and father and a sister, Barbara.

SHELTER IMPROVEMENTS

Thousands of dollars went into improvements for the Shelter this past summer. Our stairway was enclosed to meet existing fire laws, new tables and new benches were installed in the basement, and other improvements were also added.

The social program for the house has greatly improved since these physical improvements have been added. Also to be added in the near future is a high-fidelity music set, with sound piped to all rooms on the first floor and the basement.

DELTS IN M & W

Mask and Wig has enlisted the services of quite a few Deltas for this coming year. Frank Brown and Paul Zemke will be dancing, Don Coates will be singing, and Ted Scotts will have the female romantic lead in this year's production, "Vamp Till Ready." Larry Kneifel will handle the managerial duties.

Parents Week End, held the week end of the Penn State football game, featured a buffet dinner and a Sunday coffee hour. Homecoming, held the week end of the Army football game, brought back to the Shelter the largest number of former Deltas in the chapter's history.

LARRY KNEIFEL

TAU HOST TO GRADS ON ALUMNI WEEK END

When the Tau Deltas returned to the Shelter this fall, they were greeted by several pleasant surprises. Their kitchen had been converted into a spanking new stainless steel model; and, after two years of absence, Edie Rollins has returned to our kitchen to appease the 44 appetites of the Shelter. Our bathrooms also got their faces lifted with sparkling tile. We at Tau Chapter would like to give a big hand to all our alumni for the great job they have done in supporting the active chapter.

Our annual Alumni Week End arrived in the rain as usual, and Tau Chapter was host to many of her "Grand Old Deltas." The high light of the week end was the annual banquet with the alums. The memory of Brother Walt Nissley, charter member of the chapter, was preserved in a plaque which was presented to his wife in a brief ceremony following the banquet. Walt was outstanding in founding the chapter and keeping it on its feet during the early years of Tau's existence. We all feel he would be proud to see the Shelter as it appears today. Scotty Brown deserves a hand for the fine job he did in co-ordinating the week-end activities.

Intramural Winners

PLEDGES ACTIVE ON CAMPUS

Tau is off to a flying start in campus activities this year with the help of a vigorous new pledge class of 13. Pledge Moyer is a second manager of the football team and Bill Myer is holding down a lacrosse management with his pledge brother, Ron Urick, playing goalie for the squad. Also in sports is Fred Keck, Delphi Hatman, who is out for a berth on the State wrestling team. Pledge Bob Koch has the honor of being the interfraternity chaplain, in charge of all fraternity religious affairs; Bob also sings in the University Glee Club and is a boomer on the championship soccer team.

PRESIDENT OF SENIOR CLASS

Not to be outdone, the brothers are also active about campus. Bob McMillian is Senior Class president and active in many campus activities. Bob Bullock is I.F.C. president and a letterman on the lacrosse team. He also holds presidencies of several committees and organizations. We also have two first managers of varsity sports and six hatmen in the brotherhood ranks.

SHELTER RENOVATION PROVIDES IMPETUS

Rushing gained impetus with the renovation of the Shelter. All of the rooms have been repainted, new venetian blinds and desks have been installed, and all beds are soon to be rejuvenated with innerspring mattresses. In addition, the house corporation has decided to order wall-to-wall carpeting for the entire second floor.

HIGH SCHOLASTIC STANDING

Our scholarship record has certainly been no detriment to rushing either. Deltas had more members proportionately with B or better averages than any other fraternity at Pitt last semester.

Deltas also managed to keep their sport car superiority here this semester. Although last spring's seniors managed to drive off with a large percentage of our foreign imports, we still hold our prestige with five M. G.'s and two Jaguars.

CHAIRMAN'S U.N. WEEK

Lynn Watson, chapter president, is chairman of United Nations Week at which General Matthew B. Ridgway will speak. Other Deltas prominent in promoting this annual affair are Eddie Ifft, arrangements chairman; Dean Bartlett, finance chairman; and Art Saxon, publicity chairman.

Art Saxon, junior in the college, has been accepted by Pitt Medical School and will enter in fall of '56.

Purdue—Gamma Lambda

MURAKOWSKI NAMED CO-CAPTAIN

Bill Murakowski, last season's leading ground gainer and scorer for Purdue, was named co-captain of the 1955 Purdue grid squad. He is currently proving himself worthy of this position by leading in both departments again this season. Being known as the work horse of the team, he is frequently called upon to get those precious few yards for another first down. At the end of the season, Bill will finish three very successful gridiron years.

FROM COAL ROOM TO REC ROOM

Last spring some of the juniors got together and decided that there must be a way to improve the appearance of an old coal room, which had only a coat of paint on it, with a few broken down couches in it. It was decided that some plywood paneling, acoustical ceiling, asphalt tiling, wooden booths, and a juke box would brighten the room considerably. After a great deal of toil by the men in summer school, the room was finally completed for Homecoming. The alums thought that the room was great.

This fall, we of Gamma Lambda were fortunate in getting a fine pledge class, ranging in location from Wauwatosa, Wisconsin, to Granite City, Illinois. The pledges should consider themselves fortunate in scoring once against the active chapter; however, their meager effort was overcome by an 18 to 6 score in the annual pledge-active football classic.

SELECTED FOR HONORARY

Eta Kappa Nu, the electrical engineering honorary for students with a "B" average or better, pledged Jack Swanson in its fall pledge class.

At the present, the house and Wood Hall, a freshman women's residence hall, are working on Varsity Varieties, an event in which a unit, or units, work on a certain theme, which, if among the seven best, receive the honor of putting their show in the Hall of Music at a later date. Our theme centers around Big Ten college medleys. To see whether we make the finals, read the next issue of THE RAINBOW.

LEAD AGAIN IN INTRAMURAL RACE

We're at it again! With the football team's 5 and 0 record and the horseshoe team fighting for first place, the Shelter is again leading the pack in Rensselaer intramurals. We're all hoping to keep up there in the standings so that we can retain the Barker Trophy which we won for last year's supremacy in intramurals.

Dick Gustafson and Bill Sweitzer have been named to the junior prom committee. Neil Brown was on the IF Ball committee and is also treasurer of the Interfraternity Council.

FOUR DELTS AID GRID CAUSE

Ron Brown, Dale Choate, John Guldin, and Dick Gustafson all were determining factors in RPI's most successful football season in years. Only a sophomore, Ron was particularly outstanding as the first-string quarterback. The house was represented on the soccer team by Jerry Silvey and Bob Varsall, both of whom were first string the entire season.

SHELTER GOAL WITHIN SIGHT

We would all like to thank our alumni for the rushing candidate recommendations that we received during the fall. Thanks to their generosity, our building fund was increased substantially during the summer. At the present we are very close to having the necessary amount in order to start construction of a new Shelter for Upsilon.

Our rushing program was successful, as we pledged 16 men.

October 14 was Homecoming week end here at the University of California at Santa Barbara and Delta Tau Delta again came through by taking second place in the fraternity division for our float in the Homecoming parade. PLEDGE CLASS NUMBERS 21

The return to the Mountain in September saw the usual amalgamation of Shelter work, rushing plans, and numerous spur-of-the-moment parties to welcome successively arriving brothers. Simultaneous with the redecoration of the front room, an effective pre-rushing program was carried out under the supervision of Brother Irvin Dunlap. Because of his efforts and all those who contributed to the success of the rushing parties, Beta Theta pledged 21 pledges, one of the largest pledge classes among the nine national fraternities at the University.

Brother Wallace Bryant Smith has been elected to the Highlanders, a group whose avowed purpose is to "increase and disseminate appreciation of Scottish customs and institutions among the student body." Brothers Douglas Mayson, James Mayson, and Irvin Dunlap have received roles in the Purple Masque production of "Labernum Grove." Brothers Paul Stout and Bob Marssdorf have made notable showings in the fall cross country meets.

SHELTER ADDITION NEARS COMPLETION

Delta Gamma held a successful rush week and pledged 26 rushees in spite of the fact that the new addition on the Shelter was not completed. We are proud of the pledge class and expect great things from it.

We are quite crowded now because construction is still in progress on the addition. Confusion reigns with plumbers, carpenters, and electricians at work. We had hoped that work would have been completed this summer; however, it wasn't, and we are cramped into the Shelter proper. There will be room for 24 more men upon completion.

To add to the turmoil, we are in the midst of preparing for Dakota Day, U.S.D.'s homecoming, the 22nd of October. We are making an attempt to win the most beautiful float award for the third straight year in this year's "Holiday" theme. We would like to win the house decorations trophy also, after having won runner-up last year. The house has shown a great amount of enthusiasm in this preparation.

SEIZE GOLF AND TENNIS TITLES

Delta Gamma has done very well in intramural sports this fall. Bill Bryant, sophomore in medical school, teamed with another medic to win the doubles tennis championship. Our golf team, led by Fred Gellerman, who fired a 76, won over the second-place team by 15 strokes. Also on the team were Chuck Stadtfeld, Gary Woodle, and Tom Simmons. The touch football team lost only one game in the regular season, but still took second place after playing some great ball games.

We have a new housemother this year, Mrs. Lorraine Gunderson. She has been very gracious and understanding, although living conditions haven't been satisfactory here. We know she will continue to help us when things get back to normalcy.

MAJOR CONTRIBUTION TO GRIDIRON

TWO CAPTAINS IN WINTER SPORTS

Many other men in the house are also active: George Lane is co-editor of the Senior Booklet; Bob Jones and Bill Pepper are in the Dramatic Society; Bruce Kirk, Jim McGrody, and George Lane all members of the school newspaper staff; Bill Snyder, Chuck Lathrop, Bruce Kirk, Jim McGrody, George Lane, and Bill Pepper are represented on the humor magazine staff; Chuck Morgan is proxy of the Varsity S Club.

Following rush week, new pledges of Beta Epsilon Chapter line up in front of the Emory Shelter.

at Fred Tyminski's summer home on nearby Oneida Lake. The party was highlighted by the appearance of many alumni and a good time was had by all.

SHELTER ACQUIRES NEW MASCOT

"Ike," a rooster, which is rumored to come from President Eisenhower's farm at Gettysburg, has been adopted as the mascot of this chapter. He arrived on campus, after an uneventful trip closely guarded by Harold Reeks and Ronald

INITIATION HELD

Evan Robinson, Harold Reeks, Ronald Rear, and Charles Wade were initiated at the Annual Fall Ceremony on October 15. The ceremony was followed by a banquet at the chapter house, at which time Harold Reeks received the James Peden Outstanding Pledge Award. Among the noted guests were Freder-

PRODUCTIVE RUSH CONTINUES

The summer here at Delta Delta was one of arduous labor in preparing the "Shelter" for rush week. Many improvements were made by our "town boys" and summer school brothers.

Our rush week was one of general success, and our pledge class got off to a good start under the able leadership of Brother Joe Prucka. We did not stop, however, with the end of rush week. Under the leadership of Rush Chairman Al Weber, we have added four good men to our pledge class at this writing.

SHOW PROMISE FOR "VOLS"

As our brothers attend the football games, they are pleased to see two of the good brothers wearing the "Mighty Orange and White." Joe Roe, center, and Cliff Williams, guard, show great promise for the "Vols."

Plans are being made to entertain our Georgia Tech brothers.

YEAR BEGINS WITH INITIATION

Gamma Iota began the 1955-56 collegiate year with six new brothers. Initiation of the men occurred during the last week of September when Brothers Avis Johnson, Robert Green, Ed Bridges, Thomas Roach, Roy Moore, and James Satel donned the badge of Deltism.

Rush week ended in one of the most successful Gamma Iota sweeps in recent years. Bob Keith, rush captain, ended up copping 24 pledges after a week-long grind of blood and tears.

TEXAS-OKLAHOMA GET-TOGETHER

The social calendar, co-ordinated by Social Chairman Bob Rucker, began with a party after the Texas-Texas Tech game. A repeat was made the following weekend of the clash between Texas and Tulane. But the high light of the fall football program was the annual Texas-Oklahoma week end in Dallas, Texas. The Dallas Delt Mothers had a brunch and a buffet supper. This was followed by a dance at the Insurance Club of Dallas. More parties after games and exchange parties with sororities are planned for the remainder of the fall.

Intramural football is now under way at Texas and Gamma Iota has two teams entered. The "A" team has yet to play while the "B" team led by Brother Buddy Voelkel has not been scored on as they bested the Phi Sigma Kappas 39 to 0 and the Pi Kappa Alphas 36 to 0.

Freshman Half-miler Brooks Patrick has shown up well in his first cross-country try as he led the Texas frosh to a victory over the varsity in an intersquad meet and placed third individually. Pledges Joe Winters and Dan Meyers also look good on the Texas yearling football team. Another pledge, Jay Lewella, was recently chosen yell-leader for the 1955-56 year at the U. of T.

CANDIDATE FOR STUDENT PRESIDENT

Brother Roland Dahlin has put his hat in the University student presidential race to be decided in late October. Roland was elected to the student assembly of 1953-54 and is no new face in student politics at Texas or Gamma Iota. He has also served as vice-president of the chapter.

Rounding out the calendar this fall will be various costume parties, coffees, campus contests, and more intramurals which Gamma Iota is planning to participate in with its full strength.

RUSH WEEK JUDGED HUGE SUCCESS

The newly born Epsilon Beta Chapter jumped off to a spectacular start by pledging 12 boys. The week-long rush activities were climaxed by a beautifully executed pledging ceremony. Out of the eight fraternities represented on the Texas Christian campus, Delta Tau Delta felt satisfied with acquiring 12 top-notch pledges.

AIR FORCE WING COMMANDER

The Delts are well represented on the nationally recognized football, with Ray Taylor, Stanley Bull, Don Sanford, and "Poss" Elenburg all making the traveling squad.

ROSES AND SONGS PRESENTED

MOTHERS AND WIVES SPONSOR TEA

The chapter has been quite active in the social activities so characteristic of the fall term. On September 29, the chapter participated in the initiation of the "frosh" Physical and Occupational Therapy, an annual event for which we have become quite well known. The girls were subjected to all sorts of "hideous tortures," but went home happy after coffee and donuts were served by the active chapter.

The chapter recently acquired a large bass drum which was purchased at an auction sale for a ridiculously small sum. Consequently we have been making our share of noise at the football games and a Toronto newspaper was good enough to print a photograph of our drum and of course the publicity is greatly appreciated.

October 15-16 was "Homecoming Week End" and it was a great success. Dinner was served at the Shelter after the game and the ensuing party lasted until early in the morning, when the musicians felt they better head for home. The active chapter then pitched in to clean up the Shelter for the Sunday afternoon tea sponsored by the Mothers and Wives' Association.

FIRE TRUCK ON PARADE

With 41 Beta Mu Dels returning early this year, much needed and attractive work was done to our Shelter.

A new member of the Beta Mu Motor Club is Vice-President Al Isquith's 1929 fire engine. Besides causing quite a sensation on our campus, we have taken our fire truck on several trips to other schools nearby. The only fault the girls at Lessell could find with the Delt fire truck was that there wasn't room enough for all of them to fit on.

Besides our new fire truck, Brother Don Miller brought back a 1922 Model "T" truck all the way from Maine. This truck has been received with a great deal of excitement throughout the campus.

Columbus Day found Beta Mu celebrating in true Delt style. We consented to use our trucks in the annual Boston Columbus Day Parade. With an equal number of flashily dressed men in either truck as well as a Dixie-land band aboard the fire truck we sported through Boston for an afternoon of laughs and entertainment enjoyed by all.

Beta Mu's football team competing in the Tufts interfraternity league promises to be one of the best. Beta Mu is hoping for first place in the annual fall golf tournament with Brothers Singdahlsen and Gudgel representing the house.

INTENSE RUSH PREPARATIONS

As the College season approaches rush week, Beta Mu Shelter has become the center of many "coke" parties given for the girls who we hope will help us get the best pledge class ever. A great deal of preparation is already under way for skits, entertainment, and parties. Under the excellent supervision of our social chairman, Rich Lightcap, and our rush chairman, Al Isquith, this promises to be an extremely successful rush week for Beta Mu. The high lights of rush week as planned will be a "Show Boat" party Friday night and a "Fireman's Ball" Saturday night, at which time the rushers will pick up their dates and escort them to the party on Beta Mu's newly acquired fire engine.

BRUCE WERNER

VARIED TALENT IN NEW PLEDGES

SIX MEMBERS OF TUSK

The Delts are now well represented around the campus, having six members in TUSK (Tulane University Spirit Klub), three members in Adelphons (interfraternity social and service group), and a staff member of the Hullabaloo (the University newspaper).

Art Gallusser was recently initiated. Art had made the highest grades of any pledge in many years.

The whole chapter is now feverishly working on the 1955 Homecoming display. The entire campus looks to the Delts for a good one, for they have won the trophy four times in the last six years.

HOST TO FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR

The Shelter is host to a Fulbright scholar from the University of London this year. He has proved himself a worthy addition.

PI PHI CHOSEN QUEEN

Big event of the semester was the Delta Queen Contest and Formal held in conjunction with initiation. Pi Phi Toby Livingston was chosen Queen by the chapter and was crowned by President Dick Bardin, to climax the formal held October 8 at the Del Mar Club. Our other big social event was the French Apache Party held at the chapter house. Social chairman Bob Stickney also arranged the Delt-Kappa football exchange which started with a bang when our rented truck had a blow out.

CROSS-COUNTRY CAPTAIN

Delts on the football team include Roger White, Bud Johnston, Don Duncan, and Dan Peterson. Bob Hunt was re-elected captain of the cross-country team; he also served as track captain last semester. Bruce Hulbert is a freshman footballer and John Welker is on the water polo team. We are making a big push for the Intramural Championship this year under the guidance of Chairman Jim Toole. With only three men lost by graduation last June and 13 new pledges, we should end up on top.

Wabash—Beta Psi

SCHOLARSHIP WELL ABOVE ALL MEN'S

THREE PRIZES IN HOMECOMING

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM UNBEATEN

The Delt intramural football team has lost only one of its seven games and has a chance for the intramural football championship. The intramural cross-country team is unbeaten and seems unbeatable. Beta Psi is looking forward to the intramural sports title this year.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS HEAD

Men of Beta Psi now hold seven of the 25 B.M.O.C. positions on campus. Stan Matheny recently was elected president of Public Affairs Forum. Many freshmen are already active in campus activities which insures Beta Psi of continued strength in future years.

With outstanding pledges, an enthusiastic active chapter, high scholarship, strength in varsity sports, outstanding intramural teams, and many campus leaders, Beta Psi is looking forward to a most successful year.

TWO ELECTED TO FBK

The opening of the fall term at W. & J. found Gamma in good condition. The Shelter has been painted. The membership has been increased by three; Andrew Puglise, James Young, and Roger Kossler were initiated September 17. The rushing program brought Gamma a pledge class of 12.

When all the dust of last semester had settled, it was found that Gamma's chief accomplishments were academic in nature. Two of our graduating seniors, Ken Kost and Tom English, were elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and eleven of the brothers were on the Dean's List. Gamma rated third on campus.

CAPTAINS SOCCER TEAM THREE YEARS

The Delts have done so many things this fall, it's hard to know where to start. But we must, and here goes:

FOUR WILL PLAY BASKETBALL

Anticipating the seasons, Bob McHenry, senior guard; Nick Nichols, sophomore forward; Frank Hoss, sophomore center; and Freshman Holt Butt will be playing a lot of basketball. Jay Fox, Southern Conference Champ, junior, will be swimming the breast-stroke. Gibby McSpadden, 167-pound Southern Conference champion, senior; John Ellis, varsity, 137-pound senior; Dick Whiteford, varsity, 130-pound junior; and Don Fowler, varsity, 147-pound sophomore, will be back wrestling—along with Sophomore Harry Brunett and Freshman Phys Lemmon, out for the first time.

PLACE 14 ON DEAN'S LIST

Scholarship: 14 men made the Dean's list, with Rich Berry, Watty Bowes, Clay Carr, Mike Clark, Bob Huntley, Harrison Stone, and John Groobey on Honor Roll (2.5, on a 3.0 scale); John Groobey made Phi Eta Sigma; Clay Carr was on the Quiz Bowl for the second year.

Leadership: John Groobey was elected to SWMSFC (too long to translate); no other honors this fall, but we still have the vice-president of the student body, the president of the Senior Class, the vice-president of the Junior Class, the president of the Dance Board, and the president of the Christian Council.

Publications: Buck Buchanan, associate editor of yearbook; Clay Carr, associate editor of humor magazine; Derek Schoen, script-writer for student news broadcasts; and Clay Carr and Keith Belch, columnists for student newspaper.

DISTINGUISHED MILITARY STUDENTS

ROTC: Gibby McSpadden, DMS and Scabbard and Blade, battalion executive officer; Don Stine, DMS and Scabbard and Blade, company commander; Clay Carr, DMS, executive officer of band company; Jim Lewis, executive officer of band company; Ted Kerr, color sergeant (highest third-year post) and commander of fancy drill team.

Miscellany: Ted Kerr was one of 13 juniors elected to membership in the Thirteen Club, junior honor society. Dud Ross is vice-president of Openings Dances.

And last, but not least (to coin a phrase), the pledges; thanks to the effort of Buck Buchanan, rush chairman, his committee, and the rest of the House, we got the eleven best freshmen on campus—naturally.

CLAY B. CARR, JR.

Wesleyan—Gamma Zeta

RUSH HIGHLIGHTS FALL SEASON

Zeta was our rushing program, which netted us eleven outstanding freshman pledges, and is considered the most successful in several years. Activities, following the general rushing system of Wesleyan University, included entertaining groups of freshmen over a six-day period, and were climaxed by pledging ceremonies on the evening of September 21. During the rushing period, excursions and picnics were held at several nearby places of interest.

The new pledges have displayed interest in a wide range of campus activities, including various sports, the college newspaper and radio station, theatre, music, and special interest clubs.

HOUSE IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

Prior to rushing, the house embarked on an extensive program of house improvement under the guidance of Ed Boniface and Tom Plimpton, the house stewards. Redecorating work was carried out in the living room and card room, and a couch and several lounge chairs were purchased with funds provided by the house alumni group, Phi Rho Literary Society. Considerable remodeling was also done by individual brothers in the rooms they occupy. Out of doors, a general clean-up program was carried out, new grass was planted, and plans made to pave the driveway with asphalt as soon as funds are available.

IMPORT HIGH STREET FIVE

Socially, Gamma Zeta stole the show during the early-fall "Pledge Party Week End" by importing Delt Alumnus Charlie Hoyt and his widely-known "High Street Five" jazz band for the Saturday night dance. This group also featured another Delt, Dave Rich, on clarinet. The house also sponsored two successful parties after Wesleyan home games. Much of the credit for the success for these parties falls to "Owl" Eager, chairman of the house Social Committee, and those who worked with him.

In the field of sports, several of the freshmen have been particularly noteworthy. Bill McGowen has earned himself an excellent record on the freshman cross-country team, while Ed Webster, Ed Roberts, and Bob McAfee have been key men on the frosh soccer team.

This year finds Gamma Zeta in an excellent financial position, due to the fine work of Treasurer Al Lundsford, who has been instrumental in formulating a sound financial policy, and has been responsible for increasing the size of the eating club, thus reducing per capita food costs.

WILLIAM G. SUTCLIFFE, JR.

Western Reserve—Zeta

TWENTY-SIX PLEDGED

DELT MIDDLE LINE

Another important Zeta contribution to the Reserve athletic scene is the return of Ed Lewis, Zeta, '43, to his alma mater as football line coach and head wrestling coach.

Working behind the scenes with the dials and meters and so forth at campus radio station WRAR as engineers are John Bell and John Tyner.

At this writing, both Delt intramural football teams are leading their respective leagues. The A team, with Otto Miklovic pitching and Dante Harmon catching, is undefeated and unscorched upon, while the B's, with a powerful line-up headed by runner-up in last year's intramural boxing wars, Tiger Amy, and pitchin' Paul Modie, have fielded another strong club.

The Zeta social scene is in the competent hands of Bill Fisher this year. The Penthouse Party during rushing was a sophisticated success. Recently the University held a Parents' Day, and Zeta sponsored a buffet supper for the moms and dads which was thoroughly appreciated.

DELTAS GET READY FOR DAD'S DAY

The annual event of Dad's Day will take place October 29 this year. The Deltas have won the track event six years in a row, so on Dad's Day we will be out to make it seven consecutive years.

Also along the line of sports, $\Delta\Tau\Delta$ is far in the lead in intramural softball, which makes it look like another trophy for the "Tau Delt Boys."

LARGEST PLEDGE CLASS

Boasting the largest pledge class on campus, we would like to thank all alumni who gave a hand in the "cool" rush parties this past summer. The whole chapter gets a nod for a bang-up rush week.

Spring elections saw Tom Hicks, captain of the track team, hurdling into office as chapter president. The veep's job went to Bob Fehrenbach. Again we give a nod of appreciation, but this time it goes to our new administration.

West Virginia—Gamma Delta

SCHOLARSHIP MAIN GOAL

The year 1955-56 started off with a bang for Gamma Delta with the initiation of five new members. They are Bob Stocker, Ed Seibert, Sam Troutman, Ed Patterson, and Larry Amos.

The next big event of the year was the pledging of 15 boys. Out of these 15, thirteen were in the National Honor Society in high school. Scholarship is one of the main goals of Gamma Delta this year.

Ben Hayes was selected co-ordinator of the "Spiriteers," which is the student flash card display group. Adrian Nestor and Dave Grimes were selected chairmen of Spiriteer committees. Adrian also was picked for Phi Battar Kappar, the men's mock honorary. He was also appointed as co-ordinator of Mountaineer Week End.

SURBAUGH CAPTAINS VMI GAME

Ray Surbaugh, senior halfback from Hinton, was co-captain of the W.V.U.-V.M.I. game. During this game another one of our boys, Roger Chancey, played a terrific game and topped it off by catching a touchdown pass.

We are doing well in interfraternity sports under the able direction of our athletic manager, Bob Fulton. So far we have only had golf, tennis, and horseshoes, but we are doing great in all three.

STEVE LANG

PLEDGE 19 IN FORMAL RUSH

At the end of the fall rush, Delta Rho pledged 19 men. This accomplishment is the most significant of the events in the chapter's history. The new membership permits the chapter for the first time since 1949 to be realized as one of the top fraternities on the Whitman campus.

The prevailing atmosphere in the Shelter is now one of sufficient self-confidence to inspire genuine and active interest in both the Fraternity and campus activities. To begin with, the chapter proved its new and vital spirit in its participation in the recent Homecoming activity. A float which was the best of the chapter's entries in Homecoming parades and a crowded but friendly alumni and parent dinner were high lights.

In addition, the chapter has invited the pledges of each sorority to the Shelter for informal get-togethers and has had a postrush dance.

This fall the Deltas will enter the Interfraternity Choral Contest for the first time in three years. Also for the first time in three years, Delta Rho will be represented in intramural debate.

Representing Delta Rho in varsity sports are: Bob Beegle, football; Clint Pelto, Bill Stevens, Tom Harris, and Bob Hodgson, skiing; and Chris Lund.

Wisconsin—Beta Gamma

FIFTH YEAR AS DRUM MAJOR

Beta Gamma's Deltas didn't claim any football players on the gridiron this year, but we did claim a good many of the personnel on the field who weren't playing football. Bob Cotanch and Don Jefferson were cheerleaders for the Wisconsin Badgers and the two are also out for gymnastics. Stan Stitgen is almost a permanent fixture on the Wisconsin football field, as he is now in his fifth year as drum major for the UW band. Also on the field for the Deltas was Ted Stowe, a member of the NROTC color guard. And finally, that important looking gentleman on one knee beside the field was Phil "Flashbulbs" Skinner, the Badger Photography Editor.

The efforts of Beta Gamma's rushing program, headed by Fritz Seybold, proved fruitful this fall, as 13 top pledges were added to the pledge class.

TOP ALL MEN'S THIRD SEMESTER

Last semester's scholarship ratings showed the Wisconsin Deltas tied for seventh out of 35 fraternities on campus and well above the All Men's Average. This marked the third consecutive semester that we have topped the All Men's Average.

But the Beta Gamma Deltas believe in a little party life also. Ted Stowe, social chairman, has lined up a full schedule of suppers, listening parties, and theme parties for the semester.

Our homecoming float was under the direction of the fertile imagination of Paul Counsell, who is also in charge of our formal decorations. Homecoming again proved to be the biggest party of the season as BG alumni flocked back to the Shelter to renew old acquaintances.

BERNARD M. DAWSON, Syracuse, '22, president of the Syracuse Builders Exchange, recently conferred with Asa Bushnell, secretary of the U. S. Olympic Committee, on the staging of the Olympic Rowing Trials on Onondaga Lake next year, June 28-30.

Mr. Dawson, as president of the Syracuse Regatta Association, heads a group of sportsmen in the rowing fraternity to promote the sport in and around Syracuse, New York. The Intercollegiate Rowing Association Regatta, held recently on Onondaga Lake, with 30 crews from colleges all over the country competing, was handled under Mr. Dawson's direction.

Mr. Dawson is also vice president of the Syracuse Section of the American Society of Civil Engineering; vice president of the Syracuse Technology Club; past executive committee member of B.I.E.; and past president, Central New York Chapter, New York State Society of Professional Engineers.

U. S. Attorney General Brownell has announced the appointment of MILO V. OLSON, U.C.L.A., '28, to try the government's $100 million claims against eight oil firms alleged to have received overpayments for Marshall aid oil purchases.

Mr. Olson, who began work on the litigation in August, was described by Stanley Barnes, former presiding judge of the Los Angeles Superior Court, as one of the city's "most competent and respected trial lawyers." Mr. Olson says that he expects the litigation to take approximately one year, most of which time he will spend in Washington or in New York, where the suits are filed in the U. S. District Court.

The Department of Speech of Ohio State University has announced the appointment of ROBERT S. GOYER, DePauw, '45, to its regular instructional staff. He was awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy by the University at its regular summer commencement in August of this year.

Dr. Goyer received the Master of Arts degree from Miami University and was retained there as an instructor in the Department of Speech in 1950. After recall to Army active duty for 17 months during the Korean conflict, Dr. Goyer entered Ohio State in 1953.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT IS SPEAKER

Our next meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 26, at the University Club. Martin Essex, new superintendent of the Akron schools, will be the speaker.

REORGANIZATION MEETING HELD

The Atlanta Alumni Chapter has been reorganized, and it appears that younger alumni may take over the tasks hitherto performed by alumni of much greater age.

A meeting for reorganization was held in September at the Gamma Psi house at Georgia Tech, and it was decided that a permanent slate of new officers would be elected at a buffet supper to be held at the home of Brother Mitchell, the incumbent president, on October 27.

Brothers Miller (Beta Delta, 1912) and Mitchell (Beta Delta, 1915) aided Dean Tate (chapter advisor of Beta Delta Chapter) in procuring a house for the chapter at University of Georgia in Athens. It is the first time the Georgia chapter has owned a home. It is a fine home, and will accommodate a good part of the actives.

STEPHENS MITCHELL,
Retiring President

The Atlanta Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta held a reorganizational meeting on the evening of September 12 at the Gamma Psi Chapter House. At this time it was decided to reactivate the chapter so that it might become an integral and active part of the Fraternity. Temporary officers were elected: Beverly Johnson, president, and John Pattillo, secretary. Evening meetings will be held the last Thursday in each month at 7:30 p.m. For the present, meetings will be in members' homes.

It is the intention of the chapter to be more than a mere social organization. It desires to support actively and help the three Georgia chapters in whatever way possible and to become a living part of the Fraternity. With the active support of the Delt alumni in the Atlanta area, this goal can and will be accomplished.

TWO DELTS IN LEGISLATURE

The Boise Valley Alumni Chapter was well represented in the Idaho Legislature this term by Carl Burt and Charles "Chick" Donaldson. Burt is a leader in the House when it comes to legislating on matters concerning education or other matters concerning youth. He is a member of the civil defense, counties and municipalities, highways, and aeronautics committees. This is his first year in the legislature, but he is an experienced lawmaker from previous long terms on the Boise city council.

Chick Donaldson has already made a name for himself in the legal aspects of legislation and is called upon as a legislator to explain the intent of the law.

Brother Al Kiser recently announced the opening of his new law office at 224 Idaho Building, Boise. He was previously a partner of Anderson, Kaufman and Kiser.

Since the last report 1954 President Len Beilenberger has resigned to move to Moscow where he will practice law. Len was the Assistant Attorney General before he resigned. The remaining part of the year Wiff Janssen acted as chairman as well as serving as chairman (as usual) of the Annual Christmas Dinner Dance. As usual a very successful affair was made even more successful by a large attendance of actives from Delta Mu.

The annual picnic was held August 19. The picnic was arranged by President Lem Williams. Frank Chapman was in charge of refreshments. There was a large turnout and a delegation of actives from Delta Mu Chapter. The picnic is traditionally held in honor of potential rushees.

Plans for the annual Christmas Dinner Dance are under way with the following committees: ticket sales, Al Kiser; entertainment, John VanDeusen; invitations and emcee, Wiff Janssen; publicity, Neal Cresswell. Delts in nearby sections are invited and urged to attend the Christmas Party. The date will be December 29.

The alumni are looking forward to a large delegation for Delta Mu. Every year some of the Delta Mu men drive as far as 400 miles to attend.

Chapter has continued to be a lively group. The traditional functions such as the monthly meetings and the Annual Picnic were a tremendous success.

PEAK ATTENDANCE FORECAST FOR DELT CHRISTMAS PARTY

The ever present interest in Delta Tau Delta has been of prominence in Cincinnati this summer and fall, with increased attendance at our many social functions.

The Baseball Party with Brother Dick Baker forecasting was a big success because it brought forth more of the younger brothers who, we noticed, were able to compete with the best in the "tall tale department." The Bowling Party which followed was enjoyed by all, but who am I to say which group is best, alumni or actives? As I recall, the actives played a terrific game.

Brother Dick Farrell's home was the setting of our Swimming Party. Many of the actives from the University of Cincinnati were in attendance. As I remember it, the alumni ate most of the food and the actives did most of the swimming. That's youth for you!

This year we again enjoyed Brother Ed Schott's hospitality at Coney Island and as evidence of what a terrific time was had by all, 104 alumni, wives, and dates enjoyed themselves immensely. Amusements, dining, and dancing were the main attractions. Brothers Paul Berner, Al Porter, and Forrest Maddux did a great job of organizing this gala party.

Another feature which is of note for its illustration of Cincinnati Brotherhood was the evening open house at Brother Herb Schroth's beautiful home overlooking the Ohio River. It was the fall "Kickoff" Party at which time some of the ground work is laid for the coming rush season at our local undergraduate chapter. Here we assembled to enjoy the friendship of the newer members of our organization along with many of their proud Dads.

For the balance of the year, the Cincinnati Christmas Party at the Cincinnati Club tops the list. Attendance is expected to be at its peak because of the election of officers. If you are in town, don't forget, we cordially invite you to our luncheons every Tuesday at the Cincinnati Club.

HOST RUSHING PARTY

The Clarksburg Alumni Chapter was host to a large band of undergraduate brothers when a rushing party was held at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel early in

Although this party has been the extent of our summer activities, regular meetings will commence again at 12:15 p.m. on the second Thursday of each month at the Stonewall Jackson hotel.

COMING EVENTS INCLUDE HOLIDAY PARTY

The activities of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter continue to center around the weekly luncheon meetings at the Cleveland Athletic Club every Friday.

Cleveland and Ohio Deltas were saddened by the recent death of Brother Howard Bowie, Zeta, 1913. Howard was a true and loyal Delt, giving much of himself to the Fraternity and to younger Deltas. His death followed a long illness.

During the coming months the Cleveland Alumni Chapter is planning several of its traditional events—an evening of song and fellowship, participation with Zeta Chapter in a Christmas party, and of course the Annual Meeting and Founders Day Celebration in February.

All Delts in the Cleveland area are cordially invited to attend the luncheons and other functions.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED IN OCTOBER

Early fall's first blue norther ended our summer doldrums and brought revival of Dallas alumni activities, with a good crowd turning out for the October 20 dinner meeting at Lucas B & B Restaurant.

Top item on the agenda was naming of new officers, a matter which was ably railroaded by the nominating committee composed of Byron Cain, Lloyd Birdwell, and Sam Clark. Those harnessed for the coming year were W. T. Cortelyou, president; Henry H. Nash, first vice-president; Dean Burford, second vice-president; Ed Schutze, secretary-treasurer; and Ted Jackson, corresponding secretary.

Reports on activities at Texas' two undergraduate chapters were called for by the now retired president, W. Frank Knox, Jr. Ed Schutze responded with a glowing résumé of Delt doings at the U. of Texas in Austin, and Fort Worth Alumnus K. C. Miller outlined the trials, tribulations, and early successes of the youngest Delt chapter, TCU's Epsilon Beta. Dr. Bill Hulsey was another of our Fort Worth visitors, as was Bill West, who withheld numerous intercity insults in announcing plans for a joint Dallas-Fort Worth alumni and undergraduate dinner meeting for early November. More frequent two-city gatherings are in prospect for the future.

Dallas alumni meetings, held irregularly, are announced by mail to all Deltas on our roll. If you are located anywhere within range of Big D and might even occasionally be able to join us, be sure Ed Schutze has you on his mail list. Write him at 910 Fidelity Union Life Building, Dallas.

Evansville

RUSH CAPTAINS, PLEASE NOTE

The high light of our summer rushing plans came on Saturday, August 27, when a group from Beta Alpha motored to Evansville to meet a fine group of prospective Deltas headed for Indiana University this fall.

First on the program was a swimming party at Henderson, Ky., just across the Ohio—then a wonderful steak dinner at Smitty's Steak House here in Evansville.

The whole affair was planned by the Indiana University rush team and much credit is due Bob Thompson, their rush chairman, and Beta Alpha Alumnus Perry Tichenor, our own chapter president.

Here's hoping other Indiana chapters will want to join with Indiana University next summer in one really big rush affair. (Rush captains at Butler, DePauw, Purdue, Wabash, please take note.)

CONGRESSMAN BETTS ADDRESSES RUSHEES AT CHAPTER PARTY

The Findlay alumni held their annual rushing party and picnic Thursday evening, September 1, with a total of 43 persons participating. Twelve Findlay alumni and eight undergraduate members played host to 23 rushees, who were heading to a total of eight colleges and universities where Delta Tau Delta is represented.

Congressman Jackson E. Betts, Kenyon, '26, a member of the Findlay group, presented informal remarks following a roast beef buffet served outdoors. Congressman Betts recalled some of his own personal experiences at college and went on to explain the deep significance that fraternity association plays in college life.

He advocated the philosophy of Davy Crockett in selecting a college fraternity: "Be sure you are right, and then move ahead."

Delt Alumni—

It's not too early to make your plans for the Houston Karnea. Join your brothers there!

Other activities of the summer included a golf party and stag dinner at the Country Club early in June, with William Fleming, George Washington, '32, winning top golfing honors.

Fort Worth

JOINT MEETING PLANNED

The summer and early fall activities of the Fort Worth Alumni Chapter have been concerned with giving a helping hand to the new Epsilon Beta Chapter recently established on the Texas Christian University campus.

A summer rush party for boys going to Texas Christian and the University of Texas was held at the Fort Worth Boat Club on August 6, and assistance was supplied to help the new chapter plan the activities for its first rush period.

Plans are now in the making to arrange a joint meeting with the Dallas Alumni Chapter on November 3, 1955. Bill West, the program chairman, has invited Congressman Joe Wright to be the speaker. All the members of the Epsilon Beta Chapter are to be invited to attend also.

An invitation is extended to all Delts moving to the Fort Worth area to join our chapter in its program to assist our new Epsilon Beta Chapter at Texas Christian University.

Houston

COLORADO DELT NAMED PRESIDENT

Another Colorado Delt—and we've had a distinguished procession of them—heads the Houston Alumni Chapter for 1955-56. Eldridge C. Thompson is the new president. Colorado Dels who have held the job during the past few years include Otto U. Wymer and James W. Hunter.

The annual meeting was held October 18 at the Briar Club and was attended by about 30 of the brethren. Other officers besides Thompson elected were: vice president, George L. Townsman (Pennsylvania), and secretary, Jim Douglas, Jr. (Texas). Silas B. Ragsdale, Sr., was entrusted again with RAINBOW reporting duties.

Hugh Shields had been booked for an appearance (wanted to kick around some plans for the 1956 Karnea which will be held in Houston), but he was kept away by important Fraternity matters. Hugh missed a topnotch feed and some first-class fellowship. John Fry, retiring president, announced that the contemplated visit would be effected within the next few weeks. Some attention was paid the Karnea at the meeting, but the first real licks will await Hugh's visit and go-ahead.

Darrell Jones of Gamma Iota was on hand with brief greetings and news of the University of Texas' active chapter. "Thanks for your help in rush, and we solicit your continued interest" was the Jones message. A representative from the recently installed chapter at Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, was invited but was not able to be here.

Discussion of new Delt chapters in Texas was natural inasmuch as the University of Houston has just opened the doors to national fraternities. All locals, some 14 in number, have been or are about to become affiliated with nationals and there will be no additional national fraternities permitted until 1960. This was explained by Dr. Don C. Kroeger, a Delt who is a U. of H. faculty member. Don is going to keep a weather eye out and advise the alumni chapter when and if any activity should be started. It seemed to be the consensus that another chapter or two in Texas would not hurt Delta Tau Delta, but any hammer-and-tongs discussion was held up until we could get the advice and counsel of Hugh Shields.

Our September meeting had Rice Institute Coach Jess Neely, Delt from Vanderbilt, as the main speaker. Jess gave an entertaining talk on football in general and tried to picture what Southwestern Conference fans were in for this season. A ding-dong battle was forecast, a very sound prediction. About 35 Dels were in attendance at the meeting which was held in the new Houston Club quarters.

The alumni chapter will continue its regular meetings on the second Friday of each month at noon at a place yet to be arranged.

SILAS B. RAGSDALE, SR.

ANNOUNCE MORTGAGE BURNING

Alumni rushing activity was concluded with a party at the Missouri Yacht Club, Lake Lotawana, with C. C. Daniel, Missouri, as our host. Rush talk prevailed before and after swimming, water skiing, and fried chicken. Large delegations from M.U., K.U., and Baker participated.

Plans are currently under way for our annual pre-Christmas Dinner Dance, Saturday, December 3, at the Golden Ox (upstairs) Frontier Room. Hawaiian orchids are being flown in for the ladies and Don Accurso's orchestra will play for dancing. Locally famous Chuck Waggon buffet will feature beef, turkey, and the like.

Gamma Tau Chapter announces a first Alumni Reunion & Mortgage Burning ceremony, tentatively set for March 17-18 at the Shelter in Lawrence, Kansas. An off-campus party is being planned for alumni visitors. After dinner at the house, the group will attend a basketball game in K.U.'s new fieldhouse. The Mortgage Burning ceremony will conclude the events on Sunday.

SEBASTIAN NEW PRESIDENT

The motors have been gunned for a new takoff in the Blue Grass with new characters in the cockpit—Don Sebastian, president, and Frank Pitman, secretary-treasurer. Both are only a few years removed from active status in Delta Epsilon Chapter and, imbued with both energy and enthusiasm, promise to keep the alumni group roaring along at high level.

Jim Shropshire, Kentucky chapter adviser and long-time mainstay in the local alumni organization, has taken leave of local paths and pursuits for a time to try a stint in the tobacco export division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. From headquarters in Washington, he has been marked for a lot of travel, trying to peddle burley in Japan, and many other foreign lands.

Dr. Jack Floyd, who left town during the summer for another hitch as an Air Force surgeon, wound up the detail in the fall and has returned to Lexington to resume his practice.

Among the numerous ex-DE men of slight vintage, or more, who were in town at some time during the football season were W. T. (Oak) Fowler of Indianapolis, whose oldest son, Bill, is in the new DE pledge group; Preston Ordway of Murray; Cameron Coffman of Ft. Thomas; Randolph Brown of San Antonio, Texas; and Len Weakley and John David Nantz, both of Cincinnati.

LAURENCE SHROPSHIRE

SECRETARY OF ALUMNI MILLS WILL ADDRESS ALUMNI

The Long Beach Alumni Chapter meets for luncheon on the second Monday of each month, at the University Club, Lafayette Hotel. If you who read this have occasion to be in Long Beach on the second Monday of any month, join us. Advance notice of your coming, sent to our secretary, John Dodd, 2210 East Pacific Coast Highway, Long Beach 13, will add to our eagerness to greet you. Should your presence here not coincide with our meeting date, don't let that deter you: get in touch with John Dodd, anyway. We can always get several of the members together when the purpose is to meet a brother Delt.

During the past several months the following brothers have become residents of our city and attended our luncheon meetings: Thomas Collins, Oregon, '48; Ross Cash, Washington, '48; Don Thomas, USC, '49; Dr. Richard Schug, Indiana, '36. On two occasions Allen Hughes, grandson of the late, very distinguished Bishop Hughes, and himself an enthusiastic Delt, met with us.

Under the able leadership of our president, Dr. Dennis Smith, Northwestern, '09, the chapter has maintained contact with its members by mailing notices of each monthly luncheon and holding that gathering on the scheduled date. Occasional evening meetings have been held, in addition, as an inducement to those whose duties prevent them from attending the luncheons.

A dinner meeting is planned for the latter part of November (tentative date the 30th) for the purpose of listening to the Secretary of Alumni discuss the role of the alumni chapter in advancing the prestige and welfare of the Fraternity and advising us as to how our chapter can contribute our share to that objective. Knowing Howard Mills, we are sure that this will be a very interesting and productive meeting.

ROBERT B. TAPLIN

AID IN RUSH AND RENOVATION

After a period of inactivity during the summer months, the Minnesota Alumni Chapter has started to wheel into action once again under the guiding hand of our new president, John Madson, Minnesota, '49. Major Fred Stockdale, our past president, was transferred to Harrisburgh, Pa. We will miss the major greatly and wish him the best of luck in his new assignment.

Although we used the word "inactivity," we find that after thinking matters over the alumni chapter was really quite active this past summer. A helping hand was given to the active chapter in rushing, and we are happy to report there are nine freshmen at the University of Minnesota now wearing Delt pledge pins.

Through the help of the alumni, the old kitchen at the chapter house was completely gutted and in place of the old sinks and cupboards now stands sparkling new stainless steel equipment. Many thanks to Paul Samuels (BH, '46) for his many hours of labor on this project. The chapter also wishes to thank Dr. Lee Harker (BH, '16), John Harker (BH, '46), Fred Samels (BH, '23), Chet Bros (BH, '22), and all others who made this project possible.

Initial steps in the formation of a house corporation have been started and you will receive a complete report along with future plans at a later date.

We also want to remind you that alumni dues for the coming year are now due. Again this year, the dues are set at $1.00, which is used for covering postage and other expenses of the chapter. All dues may be mailed to the alumni treasurer, Fred Souba, 5720 Xerxes Avenue South. We could certainly use that buck and are in hopes that we will be able to top last year's membership of 130.

Pittsburgh

ENJOY GOLF WITH BUTLER DELTS

The Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter has continued this year the activities that have been carried on in previous years during the summer months. Around the middle of the summer, Jack Kelso rounded up some of the golfing alums and took charge of a golf outing at Mt. Lebanon Country Club. Toward the end of the summer, on September 13, the annual Butler Golf Party was held and approximately 50 brothers from the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter and Butler Alumni Chapter met at Butler Country Club for golf and a delicious dinner. On the committee, serving under Norm Tisdale, Jr., for that event, were President Jim Ludwig (who, incidentally, shot the lowest score of all the brothers present), Art Corace, and Bill Berg. Several of the brothers won golf balls as prizes; however, the comment was heard that the prizes did not nearly replace the number of balls lost during the afternoon.

The evening of November 12, the day of the West Virginia vs. University of Pittsburgh football game, the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter revived a social custom and held a very successful dance at the William Penn Hotel's Urban Room. John (Sam) Means was general chairman of the dance and assisting him in making arrangements for the room, band, and tickets were Lou McLinden, Bill Raines, Bob Craft, and "Sonny" Russo. All those present at the dance thought it was a fine affair and seemed to think that it should become an annual event.

The attendance at the weekly alumni luncheon has been improving. These luncheons are held every Tuesday at noon and all Delts in the area are invited to attend and enjoy the fellowship. It is to be noted that we have changed the location of the luncheon to Childs Restaurant at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Smithfield Street, in downtown Pittsburgh.

Again this year, the alumni chapter will sponsor its Annual Delt Christmas Service. The event will be held on December 4 at Trinity Cathedral in downtown Pittsburgh. Notices concerning the affair will be sent to all alumni in the Pittsburgh area. If your name is not on the list or your address has been changed, please notify either Secretary Bill Swanson or President Jim Ludwig.

HI-JINKS GOLF PICNIC ENJOYED

The year started out with a bang with the annual spring meeting at the Blitz Weinhard tap room. The new officers of the chapter were nominated and elected at this meeting. President Sid Moore, Vice-President Don Eckman, Treasurer Bill Eigner, and Secretary Bill Copps are the new officers for the coming year.

The next major event held by the Portland chapter was the Hi-Jinks Golf Picnic held August 21 at the Welches Oregon Golf Course on the slopes of Mount Hood. Johnny Ekstrom and Rollo Gray, co-winners of the golf tournament, were presented with a trophy cup. The weather was wonderful and everyone had a great time participating in the picnic and the golf.

September 30 the fall-rally sports dance was held at the Metzger Community Club the night before the Washington-Oregon football game. If the Oregon Deltas could only have known what was in store for them the next day, they wouldn't have had such a joyous time that night.

The Portland Area Delts are planning and looking forward to a full program of activities for the coming year. At the moment a dinner is being arranged for November 4 in honor of our newly appointed Federal District Judge for Oregon, Judge William East. The Portland chapter is also looking forward to its annual Christmas Dance which will be held December 17 at a bigger and better location than last year, Jack and Jills at 16321 S. E. Stark St. in Portland. All alumni and undergraduates are invited to attend.

We would like to remind all visiting Delts and all Portland Delts to try to attend our regular Monday-noon luncheon meetings at the Broiler Restaurant in Portland and join in the activities of the coming year.

BILL COPPS

St. Louis

ST. LOUIS SCHOLARSHIP CUP WON BY ILLINOIS TECH

The high light of our recent activities was a rush party the afternoon of August 21, 1955, for prospective students at the University of Illinois, Missouri University, and Westminster. The beautiful home and spacious grounds of Brother Don Rutishauser provided ample room for an alfresco spread of the usual food and drinks. Nineteen rushees were present with a fine showing of alumni to make the event a grand success.

Gamma Beta at Illinois Tech was awarded our Scholarship Cup for the 1954 school year, presented in June by our then President Bob Kroening. The cup had been won in 1953 by Beta Upsilon at the University of Illinois and in 1952 by Gamma Theta at Baker University. Delt chapters of the states of Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, and Iowa only are eligible for the Cup.

About twenty of our Delt alumni group formed the Rainbow Syndicate to give the boys a whirl at playing the stock market. The Syndicate has deliberately sought speculative issues that appear to have a future. This venture not only satisfies the universal urge of man to risk for a profit but much more importantly has served to bind our group together more solidly in a very happy way. Each Syndicate meeting is a noisy outpouring of good fellowship but is also educational in the realm of high finance. Before President Eisenhower's illness, the Syndicate was showing a respectable over-all profit.

New officers of our alumni group were elected in June, 1955, and immediately assumed their duties. They are: Bill Jackson, president; Arthur Kirkpatrick, vice-president; Bob Koester, treasurer; Ray Felker, secretary.

Our alumni group meets every Monday at noon at the Mark Twain Hotel. Visiting Delts are cordially invited to join our garrulous group. All important questions of the day are talked over and resolved.

Sioux Falls

PROJECTS OF DELT ASSISTANCE CHARTERED BY NEW CHAPTER

Getting rounded into a well organized and active alumni chapter is the recently organized Sioux Falls chapter. The chapter consists of 33 members, each of whom is very interested in the accomplishments of the group.

The newly elected officers of the organization are Virgil E. Vail, president; William Kunze, treasurer; and Jack Hamilton, secretary. All the members of the chapter are active on one of the committees that have been organized.

A noon luncheon is held every month by the group, at which time the current business is discussed. Just recently the chapter held a stag party, which consisted of a barbecue, which was attended by 25 of the members. The annual rush party for the University of South Dakota Delt chapter was again staged by the Sioux Falls alumni this fall. In the not too distant future a hunting party, to be followed with a banquet at the Shelter in Vermillion, is on the schedule.

Our most important project at the moment is the raising of the necessary money to pay for the new wing which has been added to the Delt house in Vermillion. This addition is to be ready for occupancy the 22nd of October, which is Dakota Day, our annual homecoming, which the Alumni Chapter of Sioux Falls is attending as a group.

RUSHING ASSISTANCE OFFERED

Our meetings are held on the third Thursday of every odd-numbered month. This makes our next meeting November 17. For that gathering we are planning a Buffet Stag at the home of Eugene Riggs, Washington, '50. Several of the wives are preparing dishes for dinner and Edward Burkhalter, Northwestern, '24, has committed himself to bring the ice cream.

The meetings to date have been held at the University-Union Club. They have had an attendance of about ten members on the average. The meetings consist of dinner, business, and social. We have had three and our main business to date has been the arrangement of meetings and similar details.

We have invited Gamma Mu Chapter (Washington) members to any of our meetings they can attend. It was also suggested that if they want any rushing help in the area, we shall be happy to co-operate. We feel that our main function will and should be in furtherance of rushing for the Fraternity in the Tacoma area.

Any Delts in the Tacoma vicinity are requested to attend our meetings. If they are not on our mailing list, they should contact: W. Earle Zander, 2101 N. Winifred, Tacoma.

Toledo

PROSPECTIVE DELTS ENTERTAINED

Outstanding social event of 1955 for Toledo Delts was the annual rushing party at the country estate of Brother Harry N. Hansen on September 1. Greyhaven was especially beautiful, and with ten prospective student guests it was one of the most successful of all the recent annual series of such meetings.

The Rev. R. Malcom Ward, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Maumee, delivered a brief talk and the Rev. John A. Greely, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, led in the recitation of the Delt Creed. Both are from Chi Chapter.

Lt. Col. Thomas Alvey, professor of military science and tactics at the University of Toledo, and G. Wilfrid Hibbert, chairman, spoke informally.

Host Hansen presided at the grill and provided lawn games in the twilight.

The Hon. Donald C. Van Buren, Zeta, '12, judge of the common pleas court of Lucas County, Wauseon, Ohio, has affiliated with our Toledo group.

Three of the Episcopal rectors in the Toledo area are Delts from Chi Chapter at Kenyon College. Brothers Ward and Greely achieved headlines when they were dunked in the Maumee River while sailing with their wives on Thursday, October 13. A sudden gust of wind overturned the 16-foot craft. The four are good swimmers. Perrysburg fire department put out a boat and rescued them, towing their sailboat back with them.

Leonard H. Farmer, Jr., Beta, '42, has joined the legal department of Owens-Illinois Glass Co. A native of Newport News, Va., he is a graduate of Harvard Law School.

APPROACH 100TH LUNCHEON

Topeka Delts keep going with a luncheon meeting every month, and next January will be our one hundredth monthly luncheon, which will be our annual meeting, which was changed from July to January. We have not had any outside activities lately, but plan for a party in December or January.

Our luncheon meetings usually provide some good football arguments, and as our October meeting came at the same time as one of the World Series games, it was hard to get the boys back to work that day.

Some of our members include Mike

Oberhelman, who has been making some group meetings of Kansas Bankers for his bank, but is carrying on as a football official for some of the big games; Cliff Stratton, who will be here until Congress reconvenes, and keeps us up to date on the political situation; Roy Bulkley, who is busy with his job as County Attorney; Louis Howard, who is City Water Commissioner; and Ferd Voiland, Jr., who is State Printer. Our membership also includes five doctors, who do not always make the meetings but come whenever they can.

Best wishes, and visiting Delts always welcome.

FRANK HOGUELAND

Toronto

MOTHERS AND WIVES PARTICIPATE

Canadian Delts laid the groundwork for a busy season at an executive meeting in September, and it looks like a fine program.

Friday, October 21, will be the annual Alumni Stag at the Shelter. All the actives and pledges, plus food and drink, make a traditionally good night.

Early in December, the mothers and wives are planning to corral the oldsters in a mixed party of bridge and other games of chance. The annual Formal will be January 29, and the actives promise the biggest yet. Any Delts from out-of-town will be given a hearty welcome if they find their way to the Shelter on these dates.

Coming up in the spring is a great occasion for Delta Theta and the Toronto Alumni Chapter—the fiftieth anniversary of the fraternity on the University of Toronto Campus. All the grads will be out for a formal initiation and banquet.

"Wandering Bill" Seeley reports the news on several Delts he has contacted lately: Frank Williams has moved from Minneapolis to the Prudential head office in Newark.

Among Our Correspondents

We doubt that many readers of THE RAINBOW realize by what distinguished reporters our news is brought to them. The man who keeps us posted on Delt doings in Houston, Texas, for instance, is editorial director of the world's foremost technical magazine on oil processing.

Many Delts will have the pleasure of meeting him at the 63rd Karneia, to be held in Houston next August. We refer, of course, to Silas B. Ragsdale, Texas, '18, a member of the Fraternity's Distinguished Service Chapter, director of the Petroleum Refiner, published by the Gulf Publishing Corporation.

Mr. Ragsdale got his start at the University of Texas, where he was successively managing editor and editor in chief of the Daily Texan. After graduation he went to work for the Galveston News and became city editor.

fice in Newark, "Whitey" Belshaw now is in Imperial Oil Construction and Maintenance in Toronto. Norm Jull is coming back to Toronto to begin consulting work in soil chemistry. Jim Peer spent the summer in a trailer building the Timmins airport for Standard Paving. Joe Prell is taking a training course with Ethyl Corporation in Louisiana, then goes to the new plant in Sarnia.

Iain Gibbons is back at school taking business administration at University of Western Ontario. Bill Burgess now has a son, Tony, to enroll in Delta Theta '77 and play pop's trombone.

PHELPS BELL

MOMS AND DADS DINNER PLANNED

Tulsa Delts are resuming monthly meetings in the English Room of the Hotel Tulsa after a two-month summer "recess." The meeting date has been changed to the third Tuesday of the month in an effort to allow more members to attend.

Plans are already being formulated for the annual formal dance which will be scheduled for the second week in January instead of at Easter. Last January this event attracted a record crowd of approximately 460 Delts, wives, and guests.

President Dick Dodson and his officers are also preparing for another successful combination Delt alumni and Moms and Dads dinner during the Christmas holidays. Although this dinner was held for the first time only two years ago, it has already become a traditional event.

The Tulsa chapter is fortunate to have several different universities represented in its membership, now including Oklahoma, Kansas, Kansas State, Texas, Miami of Ohio, and Colorado. We are hoping to expand this representation during the coming year.

DON MYERS

He resigned to take a position with Gulf but after a few years returned to Galveston to become managing editor of the News Tribune. In 1944 he came back to Gulf as managing editor of The Oil Weekly and was later transferred to Petroleum Refiner.

Included in his staff is an editor who holds a master's degree in chemical engineering. Others are experts in the highly technical chemical and mechanical facets of oil processing. The magazine has a world-wide circulation of 17,000.

Delt Ragsdale has been active in the Rotarians since 1923 and is one of Texas' oldest members of the journalism fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi.

Known as "Si" to his Delt friends, he has long been an active, front-line Fraternity man, which probably helps to account for another Delt in the family, Silas B., Jr., who served as president of Gamma Iota Chapter in 1952.

Death Takes Noted Police Administrator

BRUCE SMITH, Wesleyan, '13, & Columbia, '16, world-famous criminologist and director of the Institute of Public Administration, died September 19 in Southampton, Long Island.

Mr. Smith, who never wore a police uniform, had the reputation of knowing more about police work than any other man in this century. He knew the insides of police stations from coast to coast, rode patrol cars, went on raids, and was familiar with the jobs of law enforcers from rural constables to big city police commissioners.

An adviser to police systems all over the country, he worked out, from 1928 to 1930, a system of uniform crime reporting that was quickly adopted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other police departments. He had been a visiting faculty member at the F.B.I.

Following Mr. Smith's death, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the F.B.I., told the press: "The imprint left by Bruce Smith on American law enforcement will survive his passing. An expert in municipal management, he sought through his analyses of numerous American cities to have police departments operate on an efficient basis."

For many years Mr. Smith had served intermittently as acting director of the Institute of Public Administration, a non-profit research group. He became director in 1954.

True Worth of College Fraternity

ABOUT THE ONLY WAY to estimate the true worth of a college fraternity is to note its Creed outlining the manner of life its alumni should follow.

Delta Tau Delta emphasizes creditable scholarship. That is its basic requirement, and upon that rests the guidance and training essential to a liberal education.

In its home, Delta Tau Delta promotes friendly group living and respectful social behavior. It urges cooperation among its members in holding the chapter to the high standard of our national organization. It constantly fosters fairness and justice in personal relations.

Delta Tau Delta inspires the forming of lasting friendships, and the bringing about of a better understanding between individuals and nations. Practical businessmen, who deal with facts, are now admitting openly that friendship and understanding are something more than mere theories, that they are tangible and important influences, and that the salvation of the world, to a great extent, is going to depend upon their realization. While it now seems a long way off, Delta Tau Delta believes in a Christian civilization through the brotherhood of all mankind.

—Adam McMullen, charter member of Beta Tau Chapter (Nebraska); former Governor of Nebraska mathematics since 1929 and former Dean of the College of Science, died July 8 at his home in Champaign, Illinois.

Known as the local "patriarch" of the University campus, he was senior retired member of the faculty making his home in the college community. He first came to Illinois in 1893 as assistant professor of mathematics, later became full professor and department head. From 1905 to 1913 he was Dean of the College of Science.

Dr. Townsend, who held many academic and professional honors, was a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and member of both Sigma Xi and Phi Beta Kappa. Listed in "American Men of Science," he was author and co-author of many books and other publications.

Following retirement he owned and managed two dairy farms in Michigan for a time, then devoted himself to research in the beginnings and growth of the Christian religion. As a memorial to his 90th birthday, a private printing in book form of his work was made.

DAVID BABP, Lafayette, '98, lawyer and civic leader of Washington, D. C., died at George Washington University Hospital in mid-October. He had been secretary of the Federation of Citizens' Association from 1923 until the time of his death. He had been a leader of numerous drives for city improvement. He first came to Washington in 1913 as special assistant to the Attorney General during the Woodrow Wilson Administration.

One of the oldest members of Gamma Pi Chapter, NATHANIEL SPENCER, Iowa State, '88, died August 4 in Mandeville, N. D., at the age of 90. A former resident of Kansas City, Missouri, he had been a leader there for many years in opposition to immoral and illegal social and political practices. He was a former editor of the Missouri Farmer and the Kansas Farmer.

AUSTIN F. ANDERSON, Texas, '09, district attorney of San Antonio, Texas, died July 11 at his home in San Antonio. He had practiced law in Fort Worth and had been assistant district attorney in that city.

A veteran of World War I, he was a colonel in World War II and served as commander of Fort Leonard Wood in Missouri during much of the war.

He is survived by two Delt sons, both members of Gamma Iota Chapter.

A. GIRAUD FOOTE, Pennsylvania, '19, president of Berry and Foote, Inc., coal brokers of Philadelphia, died September 14. He was a past governor of the Pennsylvania Society of the Order of Founders and Patriots of America. He was also a life member of the New York Chapter of the Society of Colonial Wars and the Hugenot Society.

AIDEN M. HIGHLEY, Indiana, '03, who headed the text book division of The Macmillan Company in the state of Michigan, died September 11, 1955, in Los Angeles, California. He had retired in 1950 and moved from Ann Arbor to Los Angeles.

He is survived by Mrs. Highley and a Delt son, Aiden M. Highley, Jr., who was a member of Delta Chapter (Michigan). His brother-in-law, Judge James H. Pope, is also a Delt, of Epsilon Chapter (Albion).

Mr. Highley was a teacher before he became associated with The Macmillan Company. He had taught at the former Orchard Lake Military Academy (in Michigan) and in the Goshen, Indiana, High School.

The Delta Creed

- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity, so that I may better learn and live the truth.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as a shrine of international brotherhood: her cornerstone friendship, her foundation conscience, her columns aspiration, her girders self-restraint, her doorway opportunity, her windows understanding, her buttresses loyalty, her strength the Everlasting Arms.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as an abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self-respect, and bring about that happy life wherein I may more truly love my fellow men, serve my country, and obey my God.
