KARNEA 2002 LOS ANGELES

A LIMITED PREMIERE ENGAGEMENT INVITATION FOR

AUGUST 7-11 ■ AT THE CENTURY PLAZA HOTEL AND SPA ■ SEE PAGE 12

A special invitation for undergraduates

DID YOU KNOW...

...that without the Delt Foundation, undergraduate dues would be increased by $85.

...that the Foundation fully funds the Leadership Academy.

...that without the Delt Foundation, there would be no DTAA.

...that the Foundation provides several grants and scholarships to undergraduate members.

...over 500 undergraduates have already contributed to the future by joining The Crescent Society.

Over the past 20 years, tens of thousands of alumni have contributed to the Delt Foundation and given back to the organization that helped to shape their lives. When we recently polled undergraduates about the Delt Foundation and how they can support it, many did not even know that we existed. So, with the help of the Undergraduate Council and a team of undergraduates from across the Fraternity, we have come up with a way for undergraduates to become involved in the success of the Delt Foundation and to understand that they can make a difference.

The Crescent Society is a giving level specifically designed for Delt undergraduates. Charter members who join through the Karnea will receive the special Crescent Society watch and recognition at the Karnea, all division conferences, in the Rainbow and at our Foundation special events and receptions. All for $15. We want to make it fun, affordable and easy to do.

Will you help preserve the future of Delta Tau Delta? Will you fulfill the prophecy of future growth and greatness? Will you become the newest member of The Crescent Society?

THE CRESCENT SOCIETY

Your chance to become a part of the future!

Yes, I want to become a charter member of The Crescent Society. I understand that the future growth and greatness of Delta Tau Delta lies in the advancement of our programs and operations.

Iota Epsilon chapters, impressive

On Nov. 17, 2001, the Iota Epsilon Chapter of Delta Tau Delta was installed at Chapman University in Orange, Calif. Forty-seven men entered into our brotherhood, bringing with them a long list of campus accomplishments and honors. Most impressive is a 3.43 GPA, ranking them No. 4 in the Fraternity.

"It was amazing to see that a group of men who had never met together could have come together and obtain such a goal," new initiate Tom Wroten said. "I am pleased that I could be a part of this chapter, seeing it grow and accomplish everything that it has. I think that a lot of us now are wondering what we can do from here, but at the same time we are also anxious and excited."

The colony was founded in the fall of 2000 following an expansion effort by the International Fraternity resulting in an initial group of 27 men with a 3.4 GPA. From day one, the men broke the image of being Greek at Chapman University.

"The colonization at Chapman was everything you could ask for from a new group of men," Director of Expansion Nick Prihoda said. "These men used their collective skills to develop an organization that is truly representative of our organization, the university and their own mission of 'Being Vanguard'."

The 47 members who were installed at the ceremony on Saturday afternoon have only improved throughout their colony period. Besides being the most visible and respected group on campus in the academic arena, 20 percent of all resident advisors on campus are Delts.

"The new brothers of Iota Epsilon at Chapman have made us proud to be Delts," International President Robert Roush said. "They are number one in grades on a campus that is a sister institution to Bethany, they have contributed more hours of community service than any other group, and they have enlisted as faculty advisor a remarkable member of the Chapman faculty and administration, Dr. Roberta Lessor. All these positive attributes augur well for the newest Delt Flag unfurled in the Western Pacific Division to fly high for all time.”

ters with 47 ist of honors

The Rite of Iris and Ritual were performed by the Theta Lambda Chapter at the University of California at Riverside.

“It [Ritual] was one of the most incredible moments in my entire life,” former president Darren Frank said.

The day was capped off with an installation banquet in which the chapter received its charter. The highlight of the installation banquet was the keynote address from Dr. Roberta Lessor. Lessor, the chapter’s faculty advisor, spoke of the founding of Delta Tau Delta at both Bethany College and Chapman University. Both institutions were formed by the same organization and both spawned the development of our Fraternity.

She spoke on how this day was a “Day of Destiny.” When Chapman University was originally founded, it was founded as a Disciples of Christ college. The Disciples of Christ movement was a movement that began at Bethany College, also the birthplace of Delta Tau Delta. Reading through the histories of both Delta Tau Delta and Chapman University, it was only a matter of time before a group of men started a new fraternity in the image of that created in 1858 at Bethany College.

“We’re ready to take this chapter to new heights and look forward to what the future has in store for us,” current Chapter President Mark Doti said.

“It is truly an amazing opportunity to share this day with the men,” Prihoda said. “Watching their growth over the last year simply excites you for what they will do in the future!”

International President Dr. Robert Roush signs the Iota Epsilon charter prior to presenting it to Darren Frank.

About the university

- Chapman University is the largest independent university in Orange County. It is comprised of eight schools and colleges, including a school of film and television created in June 1996 and a school of law which opened in August 1995, as well as a liberal arts college in an academic structure that offers both professional studies and liberal arts education.

- The 1999-2000 student body population is approximately 3,900.

- Chapman is a church-related institution in covenant with its founding denomination, the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

About Chapman Delts

- Overall GPA of 3.43, ranking them No. 4 in the Fraternity.

- Chapman won their first Court of Honor Award for the 2001-2002 academic year.

- Twenty percent of resident advisors at Chapman are Delts.

Interesting Facts

- 170 people attended, it was held in Beckman Hall (the business building) on the fourth floor which has a patio that overlooks all of Anaheim and Orange.

- During the invocation the giant six foot by six foot 150-pound Delt letters on the stage fell on Dr. Roush. “Oh my God; I thought we killed the President,” former President Darren Frank said. Chapter Advisor Scott Foreman helped get the letters off of him. Dr. Roush was not injured in the incident.

- Dean of Students Dean Kertes said in the spring of 2000 that, “he needed another fraternity like he needed a hole in his head.” He now says that the Chapman chapter has been an inspiration to the Greek community and the students and he is looking forward to the things the Delts will do in the future. He also wished that his other chapters were half as good as Iota Epsilon.

Oklahoma State plans 12th annual philanthropy

For the past twelve years Delt Dunk has attracted thousands of athletes and spectators from all around the state to Oklahoma State University's Delta Chi chapter. This year's Delt Dunk will take place April 5-7.

Not only is it one of the largest three-on-three basketball tournaments in the state but it is also a tribute to one of Delta Tau Delta's departed brothers, Chris Massey. This tournament is also about giving back to the community. Every year the Stillwater YMCA provides hundreds of families, especially children, with opportunities that they would otherwise not be able to enjoy. This is why all of the proceeds from Delt Dunk go to benefit the Stillwater YMCA. The YMCA looks forward to our donation every year in order to continue to provide for the community.

Stanford Delts launch 'Delt Legends Golf Classic'

To make a good gumbo, you need the best ingredients and it must be served in the right environment. Realizing they had the best ingredients and a superb setting, the Beta Rho Chapter held its first Golf Classic on February 25, raising funds for the local Boys and Girls Club.

The ingredients were plentiful. Stanford's Beta Rho Chapter has 800 living alumni, and most played college sports. Dozens of alumni went on to professional baseball and football careers or won Olympic medals. Beta Rho is located at Stanford University in Palo Alto, Calif. and is surrounded by 2,200 Delts from other chapters who have made their homes in the San Francisco Bay Area.

The environment for the event could not have been better. The Stanford Golf Course is one of the best in the nation and has some of the best weather in the nation. Temperatures on playing day were in the 70s with sunny skies and no wind.

The purpose of the Golf Classic was to pull together many programs into one grand day: alumni outreach, community involvement, social gathering, recruitment and improving relations with Stanford administrators. During the several months of organization of the tournament, the chapter created its website (www.StanfordDelts.org) and compiled a long list of the chapter's "Sports Legends" dating back to 1893. Pat Dempsey (2003) served as golf committee chair and George Reppas (1951) coordinated the playing Legends.

The $300 tournament fee included the green fee; golf carts; golf towel, balls and tees; lunch, hosted reception, filet mignon dinner and raffle tickets for prizes. Anyone could attend the hosted reception and banquet for $75.

Brendon Fox (2003), Chris Burford (1960), David Guilfoyle (2003) and Al Hildebrand (1963).

The day started with a chipping contest won by Ron Tomsic (1955) and a putting contest by Rick Bianchia (1967). After the BBQ lunch the Classic started with a shotgun start at 11:45 a.m. The Tournament used a scramble format. Vince Sakowski (1984) had the longest drive on hole one for the men as did Sue Larson, wife of Robert Larson (Beta Nu 1960), for the women. The first place team of Jeff Siemon (1972), James Smythe (1976), Dr. Dennis Sheehan (1972) and Sean Zaharakes (2004) had a score of 64.

During the reception, chapter members brought recruits to meet the alumni and exchanged information. One recruit, impressed with the number of alumni present, remarked about the tightness of the Delt brotherhood.

At dinner, Chapter President Jon Penn (2002) reported on the status of Beta Rho. Jon was followed by Stanford Head Football Coach Buddy Teevins, who updated everyone on the success of this year's recruiting. Vince Sakowski spoke about the importance of helping those less fortunate than ourselves and said, "The Classic was an idea whose time has come; next year our goal will be to sell out."

After the speeches, Don Manoukian (1957) and Pete Lazetich (1972), who both came in from Reno, roasted this year's honorees. The humor and laughter they produced made one think that besides playing pro football they must be professional entertainers in Nevada. Pete confessed that during college he had a stage name, "Buck Loner," and often performed in Palo Alto Talent shows.

During dinner, four alumni were honored for the exemplification of the Fraternity's Foundation of Truth, Courage, Faith and Power in their lives and in service to others: Rose Bowl MVP Dr. Don Bunce (1971), NFL Hall of Famer and Director of Player Operations Gene Washington (1968), and father and son members of the Stanford 1970 and 2000 Rose Bowl teams John Sande III (1971) and John Sande IV (2000).

Funds were raised as corporations sponsored holes and made donations. Many executives also paid for the opportunity to play with Delt Legends mentioned above, as well as: John Arrillaga (1960) Mike Aldrete (1985), Marti Brill (1968), Chris Burford (1960), Jeff Deaton (1984), Jesse Freitas (1973), Jim Plunkett (1970), Jeff Siemon (1972) and Ron Tomsic (1955).

Chapter Advisor Charles Marsala (Tulane University, 1982) remarked, "The Stanford Delts in attendance span five decades and seven states; Delts from six other chapters came as well. It was a testament to the character of the honorees, the bond of the brotherhood and the commitment to Stanford. Many of us are involved in the Boys and Girls Club and believe in the importance of their cause."

The chapter has reserved February 24, 2003, for next year's Classic. Registration forms are on the Stanford Delt's website or can be obtained from the chapter. During the fall of this year, plans are underway for a pre-football game tailgate party.

The chapter is working on two more alumni projects: to obtain the e-mail addresses of all Stanford Delts and all Delts in Northern California and to host on its web site a "yellow pages" of alumni businesses. If you are a Delt alumnus residing in Northern California, please send your e-mail to Beta Rho Advisor Charles Marsala at cemarsala@yahoo.com or call (650) 328-7113.

This story was written by Charles Marsala (Tulane 1982) and Lenny Maughan (LSU 1989), Louisiana Delts now living in the Bay Area. They met while working on the Golf Classic. Photos by Lenny Maughan, Patrick Dempsey and David Guilfoyle.

Breakout sessions included small group discussions in the session led by Director of Academic Affairs Rock Clinton at the Southern Division Conference.

Teamwork helps a marble travel 20 feet without stopping on 12-inch tracks. Men at the Western Plains Conference learned the importance of working together to achieve a goal.

Fraternity announces elected international officer nomination process and deadline

Strong, effective leadership has long been a hallmark of Delta Tau Delta. The prestige and prominence the Fraternity enjoys today has been realized through the untiring efforts and wisdom displayed by elected international officer members throughout the past 144 years.

Expertise must include an ability to understand the needs of young men. Officers are called on to model behavior reflective of the principles and values espoused in the Fraternity's Ritual, Creed and mission statement. Officers must have an open mind and the ability to listen to the various Fraternity constituencies before making a decision with fairness for all.

An important requirement is good business sense, including the ability to make sound financial decisions, which affect both the current and future financial health of Delta Tau Delta. Outstanding abilities in administration, management and leadership are also necessary. Extremely strong written and oral communication skills, as well as familiarity with current office technology are essential.

Elected service requires a significant time commitment. Daily tasks include correspondence, telephone calls, policy deliberation and other related duties to fulfill the obligations of the specific office; the ability to travel is a necessity, as is good health, dependability and the support of family members.

Who may nominate? An active or alumni chapter or any member in good standing may recommend a nominee.

What is the nominations process? The process was reviewed at the January 2000 Arch Chapter and Undergraduate Council meeting for joint approval. The process as approved during that meeting is included in its entirety with these materials.

Who may be nominated? An eligible Brother who has demonstrated knowledge of Delta Tau Delta's commitment to excellence and who has served on the local, regional and/or national level.

What is the time commitment? The total annual time commitment is 10-12 weekends away from home for all offices except president, which will require 12-15 weekends. A high percentage of commitments include Thursday and/or Friday away from work.

How can I obtain a nomination form? A nomination form may be obtained from the Central Office by calling (800) 335-8795. The form is also available on the Fraternity's website at www.delts.org.

Where should it be sent and by what date? Nominations should be sent addressed as follows: Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, Attn: David Nagel, 11711 North Meridian Street, Suite 100, Carmel, Indiana 46032. Mark envelope personal & confidential.

TRAVEL ASSISTANCE

Delta Tau Delta uses Allen Travel Services, Inc. The Fraternity does not have a specified convention plan with Allen Travel, however, if you are in need of a travel agent, they will be happy to help you. You can reach them at 1-800-525-1570.

SOUTHWEST AIRLINES DISCOUNT

Southwest Airlines is offering a 10 percent discount on most of its already low fares for air travel to and from the event. You or your travel agent may call Southwest Airlines Group and Meetings Reservations at 1-800-433-5368 and reference ID code R2374. Reservations Sales Agents are available from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. CST Monday through Friday or 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. CST Saturday and Sunday. You must make reservations five or more days prior to travel to take advantage of this offer.

WEDNESDAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

Karneia will officially begin at the opening business session at 3 p.m. where alumni and undergraduate members begin discussing legislation and sharing the Karneia experience.

THURSDAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

Besides a busy day with educational and legislative debates as well as the division luncheon, the afternoon's activity at the hotel will include a model performance of the Ritual.

FRIDAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

Adopt LA! The entire Karneia will participate in Adopt-a-School, the Fraternity's community service project. We will be working with underprivileged children of the Los Angeles area by sharing the morning with them. This will include sporting events, tutoring, mentoring and role modeling.

Friday afternoon and evening will consist of an out-of-hotel event to Universal Studios.

SATURDAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

The Karneia finale is the banquet to recognize alumni achievement. This is a coat and tie affair and a moment to never forget as we celebrate another Karneia, the election of Arch Chapter members and the renewed spirit of our great Fraternity.

T-SHIRT SWAP

Without fail, one of the most popular informal activities at any Delt function is the swapping of chapter rush and event T-shirts and Karneia is no exception. Every two years, hundreds of undergraduates and even alumni come equipped with their collection of shirts from past rush, fund-raising, homecoming and other campus events and activities. This is one situation where one man's trash is another man's treasure so bring your shirts and your best haggling skills.

DELT SHOP

The Fraternity's Central Office maintains an arsenal of resource information concerning literally every aspect of fraternity management and programming. At the Karneia there will be order forms for everything stocked by the Central Office ranging from officer guides to rush folders to name tags as well as samples of many of the Fraternity's publications. Whether you are an undergraduate officer, committee chair or involved alumnus, you'll want to stop by and place your order with Central Office representatives.

FRATERNITY SPORTSWEAR

Campus Classics, the Fraternity's official sportswear supplier, will have a complete line of sportswear available at Karneia including the latest in colors and patterns. Look for the Campus Classics table near the meeting rooms and, especially if your school does not stock Delt sportswear on campus, seize the opportunity to stock up for the 2002-2003 school year.

Golf Classic kicks off Karnea activities

Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation is sponsoring the second Karnea Golf Classic. The 18-hole scramble golf tournament is scheduled on Tuesday, August 6.

The beautiful rolling hills of the Rancho Park Golf Course are located just minutes from the Century Plaza Hotel. The Classic is open to all Delts, patrons, spouses and guests with proceeds used to fund Karnea Fellowships to assist chapters in sending delegations to the convention.

Use the registration form on page 15 to register for the golf classic. Early registrations are due by July 5.

Although the golf classic committee members have been busy working on securing patrons and committee members, additional patrons and committee members are being sought. For patron opportunities, please contact John Mainella at the Central Office at 317-818-3050. Many undergraduate, alumni, spouses, and friends are being sought as volunteers. Please contact Sid Gonsoulin to serve as a committee volunteer at 601-266-5767. Golfers and non-golfers are encouraged to volunteer.

Undergraduate and alumni chapters invited to participate in Karnea multimedia production

Jason Watters (University of Florida, 1999) will be producing a multimedia production for Karnea that will include chapter pictures and accomplishments over the past two years. Alumni chapters can also submit photos from events held during the past two years.

Watters is asking chapters to submit three or four pictures that they feel represent their chapter and are of fairly high quality and detail.

You may email photos to: deltwatters@yahoo.com

If scanning photos, please scan them at 300 dpi and do not scan them any larger than 550W x 400H pixels. If you have technical questions, please contact deltwatters@yahoo.com.

Photos can also be mailed to:

Jason Watters
7800 Pointe Meadows Drive
Jacksonville, FL 32256

Watters will scan the photos and return them to you.

Undergrads carry Olympic torch through campus

Jason Bradshaw of Perry, Ohio, and Erik Petersen of Las Vegas, both students at Case Western Reserve University, joined the 11,500 people nationwide to carry the Olympic torch across 48 states, culminating at the 2002 Winter Games in Salt Lake City.

Petersen said it has been an honor to be chosen to carry the Olympic torch even if more than 11,000 other runners will take up the task. "There were 210,000 nominees, so I feel very lucky to be chosen," he said.

Each student ran about a quarter of a mile along Euclid Avenue in University Circle. The duo won the opportunity through an essay contest sponsored by Coca-Cola.

"I was watching TV one day last spring, and an advertisement came on to nominate someone to carry the Olympic torch," Peterson said. "I immediately thought of my Fraternity brother, Jason."

Bradshaw and Petersen got acquainted at CWRU through the Fraternity and on-campus events. Bradshaw is majoring in mechanical engineering. Petersen is a student in electrical engineering.

"Jason was nominated Orientation Leader of the Year at CWRU last year for the exceptional way he helped make freshmen more comfortable on campus when they got here," Peterson continued. "He also has always supported me. Being an out-of-towner, he has made me feel a part of something special in Cleveland."

"So I wrote an 800-word essay about him, and they wrote me back asking me to scale it down to 100 words," he said. "After I did that, they told me they selected Jason and asked me if I would run, too."

Bradshaw was thrilled to represent CWRU by carrying the torch on New Year's Day, especially since he graduates this spring.

"This has been a fantastic opportunity," Bradshaw said. "All my friends and family came out to cheer us on. We also get to keep our uniforms and purchase our torches for $350, so I'll have these things to remember this day for a lifetime."

Story by Marci Hersh, The Observer, Case Western Reserve University. Reprinted with permission.

Leading the University of Pennsylvania to an 8-1 record was All-Ivy League second team quarterback Gavin Hoffman, who completed 179 of 282 for 2,000 yards and 12 touchdowns. He received All-American honorable mention and became the first Penn quarterback to throw for 2,000 or more yards in three straight seasons. In 2001, he ranked 34th in NCAA Division I-AA passing efficiency (132.8). Gavin became the school's career leader in total offense yardage (7,188), passing yardage (7,542), attempts (1,004), completions (651) and touchdown passes (50). His 2,199 passing yards as a Northwestern freshman ran his career total to a Delt record, 9,387 yards.

The Dallas Cowboys signed quarterback Chad Hutchinson (Stanford University, 1999) to a three-year contract. He has not played football since his junior year in 1997 and has spent the last four years playing baseball in the St. Louis Cardinals organization. He pitched three games for St. Louis in 2001 but decided to return to football.

Former 20 game winner Rick Helling (Stanford University, 1994) signed a contract with the world champion Arizona Diamondbacks after the Texas Rangers released him, rather than go to arbitration. Returning to Savannah as manager is Paul Carey (Stanford University, 1993), who was with the Texas Rangers farm club from 1998 through 2001. He managed the Tulsa team in the Texas League in 2001. Pitcher J.D. Brammer (Stanford University, 1997), who missed the 2001 season with shoulder and groin injuries, has re-signed with the Cleveland Indians organization. He had been on the club's 40-man roster until he was injured. Pitcher Andrew Lorraine (Stanford University, 1994) joined the Milwaukee Brewers organization and will report to the major league camp for spring training.

OTHER SPORTS

The Fraternity's top pro golfer, Scott Dunlap (University of Florida, 1984) kept his PGA Tour card for 2002 after placing 121st on the Tour in winnings ($420,777 in 28 events). Our top Delt pro tennis player, Todd Martin (Northwestern University, 1992), was a member of the U.S. Davis Cup squad in several matches against European opponents during 2001.

Helping to promote Texas Christian University athletics during the current school year are three Delt alumni. Serving as president of The Frog Club is John Cockrell (Texas Christian University, 1969) while Mark Mourer (Texas Christian University, 1995) is associate director of The Frog Club. Former All-Southwest Conference shortstop Don Bodenhamer (Texas Christian University, 1973) is on The Frog Club boosters board of directors.

Fall Semester 2001 Chapter Reports

Allegheny College

It has been a great first full semester for us at Alpha Chapter. A lot has been accomplished this fall with goals set for greatness next semester and for years to come. We had a very strong fall rush that was coordinated by Matt Adams who did a tremendous amount of work. After meeting with our chapter consultant, Matt decided that it would be a good idea to set up an interview process with the rushees. The rush program that Matt developed is something that is not done on Allegheny's campus and worked out very well. We have given out 14 bids so far and plan on giving out another 12 by the end of the semester.

Homecoming was also a very exciting and fun event for the brotherhood. We were paired with Alpha Delta Pi, and even though we did not win, everyone had a great time. Brad Burroughs was selected for Cornerstones, which is comparable to Homecoming Court but more academically based. Everyone is very proud of Brad and he is the strongest brother academically in the chapter.

Housing Corp recently approved money to be used in fixing up the chapter room. The contractors should begin work soon and we should be able to start using the room at the start of next semester.

Our strong commitment to service continues with five brothers recently completing fire essentials and becoming volunteer firemen along with many other brothers being involved in Adopt-a-School, Bonner Leaders and many other service programs.

As the semester comes to an end, the current exec board is helping prepare the new exec board for their role of leading the chapter to great things next year. Every brother looks forward to the spring and another great semester as part of Delta Tau Delta.

BETA

Ohio University

Following the conclusion of the fall quarter, the Beta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta at Ohio University is once again standing atop the other fraternities on campus.

The new executive board has already accomplished many of its intended goals, under the leadership of President Kevin Morgan. One such goal was a strong fall pledge class, which we are proud to announce includes 20 members under the direction of return Pledge Educator, A.J. Poole.

Academically, the chapter is on top of the Interfraternity Council grade reports with a cumulative 3.1 chapter GPA. This average also exceeds the university's overall GPA.

In the area of athletics we have already captured the IFC and intramural football crowns, which included a stomping of the Betas in the title game, as well as both the softball and tennis championships. We also finished second place in soccer, which places the chapter second overall in IFC sports thus far.

Individual sports achievements, which should also be noted, begin with Shane Print, who is a member of the nationally ranked Ohio University Hockey Team. He was also chosen to represent United States Hockey in Norway last spring.

Also to be acknowledged are Will Mathes, Rob Crisman and Matt Newman, all members of the Ohio University Lacrosse Team. The team is currently ranked number one in the National Club Lacrosse League.

The final extracurricular sports highlight goes to Keith Wander, Dave Vance and the rest of the Ohio University Volleyball Team that will compete at Nationals in Dallas, Texas this April.

Although we take sports very seriously, philanthropy and other ventures also consume large amounts of our time.

Thus far this year we as a chapter have participated in a trick-or-treat for under privilege children in the community, the Adopt-a-School program, as well as the Adopt-a-Highway program and we are just getting started.

Still in the works for the remainder of the year include: a pizza run from Columbus to Athens to benefit the American Cancer Society, a Habitat for Humanity project, a local fund-raiser to benefit Athens area schools, as well as the second annual Delt Cup, which gets sororities across campus involved in contributing to the American Cancer Society. We were also very proud to be a part of the nationwide Delta Tau Delta donation to the September 11th Fund.

On the IFC front we are proud to announce that Beau Zaremski is the newly elected IFC president, with Kevin Steidel and Jarad Hunter also claiming positions.

Another feat as a part of the Greek community was our Homecoming victory, along with our paired sorority, Alpha Delta Pi.

Overall the Beta Chapter has been a part of an outstanding year, and we still have two more quarters to be completed. We would like to give special recognition to our Chapter Advisor, Garry Hunter, as well as Terry Russell, Bob Kraft and the rest of our house corporation for all the time and effort they have given to us. Our future looks bright, and we encourage everyone to follow our progress by checking out our expanding web page at www.oudelt.com.

GAMMA

Washington & Jefferson College

As the fall semester comes to a close, we here at Gamma Chapter are entering the winter break in full stride. It has been an extremely eventful semester, filled with numerous accomplishments, both as a chapter and as individuals.

This past October, we held our Second Annual Seesaw Marathon in conjunction with Delta Gamma Sorority. This year we raised in excess of $2,400 for a sister of Delta Gamma with cancer. It was a great time for a good cause.

Gamma Chapter also entered the fall 2001 semester ready to defend our title as the Fraternity with the highest GPA on campus. Gamma Chapter's GPA was also higher than the All-Male, All-Female and All-College averages. We hope to maintain a standard of academic excellence for many years to come.

This past summer William Knestrick and Shawn Robinson attended Leadership Academy in Oklahoma City. Both men are using what they've learned over the summer to guide the many leaders at Gamma Chapter toward better leadership.

Michael Watson graduated from Army Advanced Camp in Washington this summer. He plans to use this training to defend our country as a First Lieutenant in the United States Army following his graduation in the spring.

Michael Watson, representing Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, was also first runner-up in the Second Annual Greek God Pageant, sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. John Friedmann '02 also competed in this pageant, representing Delta Tau Delta, received the People's Choice Awards.

Brian Hutchison and Matthew Easton both had parts in this fall's production of 'Carnival' put on by the W&J Theater Company, of which Matthew is president.

Gamma Chapter's float finished Second in the W&J 2001 Homecoming Parade, themed, 'W&J Goes to Hollywood.' Our float honored John Astin, a W&J graduate, who played Gomez Addams in the popular TV series, 'The Addams Family.'

Michael Pehur and Robert Anders have successfully settled back in, after spending a semester at Royal Holloway University of London last year.

All in all it's been an exciting semester for Gamma Chapter, and we're all looking forward to an even more eventful semester to come.

ZETA

Case Western Reserve University

Sometimes it becomes hard to improve. The Zeta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta has been on a steady upswing for the past several semesters: its numbers are high, brotherhood is strong, academic performance is among the best on campus (Third overall among all campus fraternities) and the list goes on. In cases like this, however, the danger lies in idleness; it is easy to sit back and reflect on what has been accomplished, but more must always be done. Now, it becomes necessary to shrug off the accomplishments and ask ourselves, 'What can be improved upon?'

A major improvement that the chapter is currently focusing on is alumni relations, which is one of the most difficult tasks any fraternity faces. However, it has been a topic of much discussion inside the house, and the recently formed alumni committee has been convening frequently and making sure that the chapter's alumni relations are not only focused on, but also improved upon in future years. With Jason Spurling, head of the committee, graduating in the spring, the younger committee members will be stepping up and taking responsibility; several have already volunteered.

There has also been an increase in brotherhood activities, directed by Brotherhood Chair Eric Fromm; he has made an effort to keep chapter unity strong - a difficult, often thankless task - and has been successful. The 52-inch television set recently purchased by the house has also been effective in bringing the brothers together; sometimes the key to interpersonal relationships can be solved by nothing more than mindless drivel on a big screen.

Fall semesters are always highlighted by the Initiation of a new class; this particular semester saw a strong pledge class join the chapter. As usual, every one of them is different from every other, and all have leadership capabilities. Initiation also brought forth a new executive committee, composed of both younger and more experienced brothers. Newly elected President Steven Gajda is going to make the Zeta Chapter proud; his video gaming ability is abhorrent, but he is still a good guy. Vice President Jonathan Maxwell Teets, with his exceedingly strong determination and wealth of 'yo' mama' jokes, is perhaps the strongest personality they have had in the vice president seat for many years, so the chapter should be in for some fresh leadership ideas.

Nicholas Hanek will assume the role of corresponding secretary for the next year; with any luck, he will be able to write chapter reports whose vibrant wit and grammatical accuracy will be almost as good as his predecessor's.

Trying to keep things going strong is of utmost importance to the Zeta Chapter; they have done an exceptionally good job of maintaining a strong leadership, close-knit

Recruitment

Recruitment is the lifeblood of every chapter. Without new members, our Fraternity would not have been able to survive for the last 144 years. This past fall semester, the chapters I have worked with in the Southern and Western Plains Division have shown excellence in recruiting new brothers into our great Fraternity. Here are some examples of how well these groups have done recruiting in the fall term. Overall, the chapters in Texas and Louisiana increased the number of new members pledged 20 percent this fall compared to the fall of 2000. That's over 30 more men that we have extended a brotherly hand to and invited to lead lives committed to excellence. Out of 11 chapters and colonies, we had seven groups increase their number of fall pledges this year, and two colonies take new members for the first time. Seven out of the 11 chapters also met or exceeded their recruitment goals. This is truly excellent progress, proving that Delta Tau Delta sincerely is a growing organization.

From what I have observed, the key to many chapters' and colonies' successes have been that they actively recruit new members. As a Fraternity, we have learned that it is very difficult to expect rushees to come to us. We need to seek them out. The majority of these successful chapters have done just that. Summer recruitment has become more and more common among our growing chapters. By meeting incoming freshmen at orientations, finding out who from your high school will be attending your university and responding to referrals from alumni, you and your chapter can virtually have your pledge class established before school even begins. The University of Texas and Texas Christian University do an excellent job of recruiting members in the summer by using all three of these methods.

I have observed members from Louisiana State do an excellent job of just talking to non-affiliated men, which can lead to discussions on the Fraternity and Fraternity membership. Tulane University, after only being established two months, pledged four more members before the semester ended. Both Southeastern Louisiana University and Southwest Texas State University, after experiencing sudden drops in membership, increased their chapter sizes 75 percent in the fall, nearly doubling the number of members in the chapter. These are just some examples of the excellence that has occurred this semester. All of the chapters recruit in some way that reflects excellence. Some are good at the formal recruitment process, while others do well with informal recruitment. If these trends continue, we all can expect to see chapters growing in both size and excellence.

brotherhood and academic excellence. The next step, to improve on those things that are not as good as others, is something the chapter is eager to continue tackling. With a smart group of guys at the helm, we will accomplish our goals.

THETA Bethany College

The fall 2001 semester has been very exciting for the brothers of Theta Founding Chapter. Through hard work and determination, nine brothers previously on academic probation managed to return to good academic standing. The chapter is stronger academically than it has been in several semesters, and is constantly improving. We recently renovated our scholarship room, which now provides an ideal study area for as many as six brothers at a time.

Our chapter has also been actively involved in philanthropic activities this semester. Once again the brothers participated in the Adopt-a-Highway roadside clean-up, as well as the Sunil Simon Hembrom Change Drive. The brothers are currently volunteering to help the town of Bethany turn the old fire hall into a community center, and have spent countless hours cleaning and painting the building. The chapter also donated articles of clothing gathered by the brothers to the local Salvation Army.

For the second semester in a row, our chapter teamed up with the local Catholic Youth Ministry group to hold a Faculty Tea at our shelter. We experienced an excellent turnout, as several members of the Bethany College faculty and administration were in attendance. We received a lot of positive feedback from those who attended the event.

This fall the chapter competed in Bethany's Homecoming Spirit Week and placed first among all fraternities on campus. Despite the graduation of several talented brothers, we also successfully defended our Greek Week title, bringing home another 'Golden Keg' trophy. Another highlight of Greek Week came when our president, Joel Tachoir, was named Bethany College's Greek Man of the Year.

In varsity athletics, 20 brothers were members of the Bethany football team and helped the squad to its first winning season in six years. Most noteworthy were Justin Crothers, Seth Brody, John Hostetler and Dwayne 'Animal' Wright by earning all-conference honors. This spring, 'Animal' hopes to defend his shot put conference championship for the third year in a row. The chapter is anxiously awaiting the upcoming basketball season, where six brothers are members of Bethany's defending conference championship team. Todd McGuinness and Nevada Smith are both entering their fourth seasons as starters for the Bison squad.

Currently, relations with our alumni are stronger than ever. We are very pleased with their involvement in the chapter and thankful for all of the generous donations we have received from them. We have developed a strong base of devoted alumni, which we hope to build upon. The future is looking bright for Theta Founding Chapter!

IOTA Michigan State University

Iota successfully completed its first full year as a chapter this past November 4, which has seen tremendous strides in all aspects of the Fraternity. It quickly became one of the top fraternities on campus. The IFC recognized the chapter as the best in Leadership Development, Financial Management, Pledge Education and Multicultural Initiative. Pledge Education won this award for the second consecutive year. These four awards were more than any other Greek organization at Michigan State University, and this is something that we take great pride in. While our past accomplishments have shown the devotion of each member to our young chapter, we look forward to the future and continuing to be an example for the rest of the Greek community.

Perhaps the biggest accomplishment was moving back into the shelter at 330 N. Harrison Road. Members put in much of their own time to remodel the shelter over the summer in order to have completed in time for school. The dedication to its improvement is evident by the shelter's overall cleanliness.

Homecoming saw a large number of alumni return to the shelter they lived in for the first time in years. We were happy to have all of them, and look forward to future interactions.

The recruitment process was also overhauled this past semester. Iota drew from the top 300 incoming freshman, all of who were individually contacted. The process yielded the absolute best that MSU has to offer, all of which we are very happy to have. The pledges have been very eager to learn why this fraternity is so special to each and every one of us. Their participation in chapter events has been great thus far and we expect this to continue throughout their career here. Their pledge education was based around the mission and values, as well as Franklin Covey leadership techniques.

The members of the Iota Chapter have continued to work very closely with Adopt-a-School at Glencarin Elementary in East Lansing. This is our third year with the school, and even with a new principal things are going well. We will be doing after school clubs this coming spring to continue to strengthen our community. We also have participated in Safe Halloween, AOP Dodge Ball and Chi Omega's soccer fund-raiser. The Iota Deltas also managed to capture the fraternity soccer league championship this fall, their first athletic championship since returning to MSU.

Academics continue to be a strong point for the members of Iota as well. There have been four of our members initiated into Order of Omega Honors Fraternity over the past semester. Congratulations to Greg Wolenberg, Chris Braverman, Rick Pellafone and Mike Bink. Every member of the house was out onto an academic 'team' to compete with the other members of our chapter. The team with the highest GPA at the end of the semester receives a substantial reward. Also, congratulations to Cory Amendt for graduating this past fall semester, and best of luck in all your future endeavors.

KAPPA Hillsdale College

The successful conclusion of the 2001 fall semester perpetuated 134 years of brotherhood for the men of Kappa Chapter. Once again, Kappa Chapter had a very successful and eventful semester. Knowing our proud heritage and tradition, we took seriously our role on campus. As in previous years, we are proud of being the most altruistic fraternity on campus. Philanthropy this year included Adopt-a-School, Adopt-a-Highway, Arboretum clean up, Paint-the-Town, March of Dimes and a canned food drive. The men of Kappa Chapter are continuously looking for new ways to help the community. In maintaining the Delt tradition, we hold many leadership positions on campus and in the community. Among these are: the president and treasurer of IFC (Interfraternity Council), vice president of Student Activities Board, president of Greek Christian Fellowship, active mentors and Young Life leaders; with active members in honorary societies and Student Federation.

The chapter also has many members participating in several varsity sports including swimming, soccer, football and baseball. In addition, the Deltas sponsored and hosted a successful forum discussing the pros and cons of Greek life between advocates and non-advocates. The attendance reached well over 100 guests and the response has been excellent. The forum is part of a series of continuous discussion groups, in which we invite faculty members to speak. The chapter has also successfully established an electronic e-mail system with alumni that will further and deepen our relations.

As a result of the bond between active members and alumni, the initial steps for a new shelter have commenced. The Deltas at Kappa Chapter are very excited for the spring semester of 2001. Rush has been very successful and we anticipate a large pledge class. In a final note, the men of Kappa Chapter would like to thank our strong alumni board and our Academic Advisor Dr. Anna Ebling for their continual support.

RHO Stevens Institute of Technology

The brothers of Rho Chapter are having one of their busiest semesters. The majority of the summer was full of construction, which stemmed from a responsibility to rearrange the living arrangements in the Rho Chapter house. The brothers worked together to arrive at a unanimous solution.

With the lofts torn down, the rooms have more space to accommodate the needs of its inhabitants. More space allows for more friendly conversations and gatherings. To promote more brotherhood, we have increased gathering in the common areas, similar to the pledge room, which helps eliminate any small groups dispersed throughout the house. The changing of the lofts was, at first, frowned upon by the brotherhood despite the decision. Being the only feasible solution, it would take some adjustment. To the satisfaction of the house, the destruction of the lofts has inevitably increased brother relations and general life in the house.

When the September 11 tragedy struck at the beginning of the semester, the brotherhood united to help out in any way possible. We have donated many man-hours and money to help in the relief effort. Even two months after the tragedy, the brothers are still going strong. Our semester blood drive will take place in November for the Red Cross, who are still in great need of blood donations.

Rho Chapter is successful for several reasons. Our brotherhood activities and our alumni relations are major contributors to our success. The brotherhood has been drawn together like a tight knit blanket. Every Monday, we participate in the Monday Night Football event where brothers, pledges and prospective pledges gather and enjoy each others' company. Along with that weekly event, our semester is filled with other brother events like Delt Bowling Night and Medieval Times.

Alumni relations will continue to remain strong. In October, we had our annual alumni football event. We had a great turnout from both undergraduates and alumni. Our other fall annual events, usually consisting of Career Connections and Casino Night, were postponed. In attempt to have a great showing from our alumni and to create a large event, it was moved to early spring semester. This time is also crucial for rush, and it can be geared towards the freshman who meet the qualities of a Delt pledge.

Overall, it's been a great semester. Rho Chapter is striving to reach new heights. Our brotherhood is as strong as ever, which leads to increased morale. All the qualities that a Delt should be are truly exhibited by the solid core of brothers that we have as members. Everyone defines what it truly means to be part of Delta Tau Delta.

TAU Pennsylvania State University

With the end of the fall semester things are looking up for Tau Chapter. Our members are active in a numerous array of activities ranging from varsity track to karate to many Greek committees such as Dance Marathon. This group of brothers is definitely making a great impact on our chapter and the rest of Penn State.

We just started a new season of raising money for Pennsylvania State University's Dance Marathon (THON), the world's largest student run philanthropy. Last year THON raised over 3.6 million dollars to help kids with cancer at the Hershey Medical Center through the Four Diamonds Fund. The Hershey Medical Center is where the children that we adopt are treated for their cancer. Last year we raised over $70,000 for our two Dance Marathon families with Chi Omega Sorority. This year our Dance Marathon chair is Owen Salerno, who has hopes of breaking the $100,000 mark. We also have two THON captains this year, Amit Patel and Matthew Smith. They are in charge of an operations and social committees for Dance Marathon this year. This year we raised $20,000 for THON during our first camping trip of four this year, so we are well on our way to our goal.

At the beginning of this semester we had a retreat to a cabin in a remote location in Pennsylvania. This greatly helped the structure of our chapter, allowing us to formalize all positions and committees and it was a fun, enjoyable time to bond.

We had a great Homecoming this year with various activities for active brothers and alumni. We concluded our festivities with a successful Homecoming dinner in which we had the best turnout of alumni and active brothers since anyone there could remember.

We participated in Greek Sing this semester. This was a fun time for all as we performed "Anything Goes" with the sisters of Alpha Delta Pi. This was a great experience for everyone involved. We will be participating in Spring Week next semester with Sigma Kappa, and hope to have an equally good time.

The brothers at the Tau Chapter are ecstatic about involvement of our brothers and how these semesters went. We are positive that we will work hard next semester to keep this Delt Chapter thriving.

UPSILON Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

This fall was productive for Upsilon. Rush gleaned us 20 new pledges, which have gone through the pledge program with joy and zeal. Our Alumni Retreat Weekend produced a large amount of donations towards the renovation of our kitchen; we are also looking forward to the installation of new doors for our shelter. Congratulations to our newly elected officials: President: James Andritz; Executive Vice President: Anthony Markopolis; Ritual Vice President: Andrew Taber; Recording Secretary: Andrew LeBlanc; Director of Risk Management: Brian Kanagaki; Director of Academic Affairs: Richard Hyland; Steward: Hudge Barrow; House Manager: John Merkin; and Social Chair: Steve Lehner.

We raised over $25,000 for the local public broadcasting station, WMHT, and a couple of us were on TV which is always a good time. We are looking forward to continuing our service with our adopted cathedral, The Cathedral of All Saints, in Albany, New York.

We participated in a number of sports this fall, both intramurally and interfraternally. We posted, shockingly enough, winning records in all. Winning the kickball and soccer titles, placing second in football, track and field. The culmination was the trouncing of all other houses in the pool. Our swim team not only won every place in every event, but also set a series of Interfraternity Council records as well. Bringing us that much closer to the coveted Barker Trophy, awarded to the winner of the most interfraternity sports titles.

We are looking forward to a productive spring here in sunny, beautiful Troy, where the brotherhood is planning on digging deep and fulfilling the goals that we have set for ourselves for the upcoming year of 2002.

CHI Kenyon College

In 2001, Chi Chapter continued to lead the Kenyon College campus politically, athletically and socially, setting a precedent for other student organizations.

We are proud to report to our international brothers that this year we achieved our goal of 100 percent participation in a wide variety of community service activities. This effort was spearheaded by Chris Brose our community service chairman and Patrick Kozak who became the managing director of Kangaroos, a student-run day care provider for local families. James 'the Bus' Corey played an influential role as an elected member of the Kenyon College social board. Paul Schmid helped keep the campus informed and entertained as the business director of Kenyon College newspaper, the Collegian. Mr. Schmid, a resident of the Boston area, also introduced us to the world of campus fundraiser.com. Campus fundraiser.com proved to be a valuable source for obtaining funds. Sophomore wunderkind Daniel Kight is a member of the sophomore class committee, a freshman orientation leader, the co-president of the pre-law society, as well as a member of the Kenyon judicial board. The dynamic duo Patrick Abel and Patrick Kozak are both active members on the student advisory boards in the sociology and English departments, shaping the curriculum and reviewing professors. Patrick Abel is also the editor of the award-winning Horn Gallery Magazine, student-run literary publication. Trip Gilbert Baldwin is a third. Isaac 'Asimov' Wilson is also a third. Mr. Wilson was the scrum captain on Kenyon's Rugby team. This fall the Fraternity held a retreat at the home of our renowned and award-winning Consultant Drew 'Big Daddy' McFarland. As well as outlining the future of our Fraternity, stating goals and evaluating our progress concerning the previous year's goals, the retreat acted as an open forum where all brothers were encouraged to express their opinions and aspirations for the Fraternity. Sean DeSales Hughes Esq. and David Levy co-founded the Kenyon College Pugilists for Peace Club. On the athletic field, Tyler 'Pele' Perfect and Andrew Gerkey led the Lord's soccer team to a six-two and one record on their way to the conference tournament. Mr. Perfect was also named to the NCAC second all-conference squad team for the second consecutive season.

BETA BETA DePauw University

All is going well for the men of Beta Beta Chapter. Our brotherhood is stronger than ever and we are well represented across campus with our abundance of activities.

Starting the first semester off with successful philanthropies like a Frisbee Fling against domestic violence and Dance Marathon to benefit children with AIDS, Beta Beta is as involved with the community as we have ever been.

The surrounding community proves to be no stranger to Beta Beta as our men volunteer much of their time to tutoring local elementary school students in a local after school enrichment program. Many of our men also volunteer their time to helping out the elderly at a nearby retirement home. Our chapter has demonstrated great alumni relations this semester by hosting our annual Alumni Dinner, in which we honored Bill Welsh as Beta Beta's Man of the Year. Beta Beta shows its innovative

Retention

A challenge that faces every Greek organization is membership retention. Recruiting, educating and building bonds among a group are the cornerstones to high a retention rate. The men of Zeta Beta, LaGrange College, have found a way to successfully conquer these challenges and master membership retention.

In today's Greek communities the typical recruitment period is wrapped up in approximately one week. An expedited recruitment process makes it difficult to know anyone on a personal level, let alone to offer membership into our brotherhood. If Delta Tau Delta is not truly selective during the formal recruitment period our organization runs a high risk of poor retention rates. Zeta Beta is selective in offering membership to new members and they select members based on Delta Tau Delta's Mission and Values.

Zeta Beta's new membership education program introduces pledges to Delta Tau Delta's principles, privileges, rights and responsibilities. From the beginning of the program they are integrated into the group. The chapter's programming stresses the importance of actives and new members showing one another mutual respect. From day one new members are encouraged to be contributing participants because the future of the chapter relies on their active involvement and participation.

The actives have a tremendously strong brotherhood, which the new members are quickly welcomed into. Incorporating the new members into the brotherhood from the beginning allows them to feel as though they belong in the group. Strong brotherhood helps prevent the loss of interest among the new members and also provides the necessary catalyst for encouraging them to become involved from the beginning of their pledge-ship.

Zeta Beta initiated 14 out of 15 new members this past fall, which was a retention rate of approximately 93 percent. Their high retention rate was possible because of their strengths in recruitment, new membership education and brotherhood. High retention rates generally have a direct correlation towards a group's success. Zeta Beta's success can definitely be contributed to their hard work and high retention rate.

ways to raise money by hosting a successful Parents Weekend where we had an auction in order to keep our shelter in top condition. In Beta Beta's new officer elections there has been a very strong sophomore class involvement and we are excited to prepare for the next semester. The men of Beta Beta are greatly anticipating good times at our fall formal in Louisville, Ky.

Beta Beta also understands that rush is just around the corner and we are looking forward to recruiting a high quality class of men to extend our many traditions.

BETA DELTA
University of Georgia

This has truly been a remarkable semester for the brothers of the Beta Delta Chapter. The semester certainly began with a bang as the brothers capped their first Interfraternity Council rush by pledging 37 into the chapter, making our class the second largest on campus.

Rush Week was definitely exhausting as members of the brotherhood were continuously participating in rush activities such as Casino Night, golf, paintball volleyball and even a few trips to the local IHOP for breakfast. At its completion though, the chapter was rewarded greatly for all its hard work and dedication.

The chapter, along with Sigma Kappa Sorority, continued their successes by taking second place in the street painting competition that was held during the Homecoming week festivities. During the week both organizations constructed a float to enter into the Homecoming parade; it was definitely a fun week had by all.

We also recently held our second annual Down on the Delta Low! Country Boil benefitting the Children's Healthcare of Atlanta. Once again the event was a huge success. Over 500 people attended the philanthropy and all there enjoyed the entertainment provided by the North Georgia Bluegrass Band and of course the tasty boiled shrimp. After the last banjo string was plucked and the last shrimp was peeled, we were happy to donate $5,100 to a wonderful cause.

The chapter is also continuing its academic prowess at the University of Georgia as we have risen to fourth place out of 22 fraternities with a 3.18 GPA. It is something we are proud of and we hope to continue rising towards the top of the rankings. With another great semester behind us, the Beta Delta Chapter looks forward to another great semester.

BETA EPSILON
Emory University

This semester, Beta Epsilon started with 13 brothers but has made steady paces toward expanding our numbers. The semester started as a semester to plan, and those plans have already paid off. We had the highest number of upperclass pledges on the row this year and are making strides towards having one of the largest freshman pledge classes that this chapter has seen in years. In addition to our efforts at expansion, we have been keeping very active with philanthropic life by participating in Project Open Hand, an organization that sends meals to those suffering from AIDS.

Socially, we have been an active force on campus with a number of smaller date parties, a large 'V.I.P.' party where we parked limos on our front lawn and gave attendees the V.I.P. treatment. We most recently held a great semi-formal at Ciao Bella and the Havana Club, a restaurant and dance club in Atlanta.

Beta Epsilon is looking forward to a successful spring rush and to a bright future as we continue on in our efforts to live in fraternal strength and dignity.

BETA ZETA
Butler University

The fall 2001 semester got off to the right start with the addition of six new pledges during open rush, largest open rush class on campus. They have all proven to be fine men, and were initiated before Christmas. Rush has been a main focus for the house this year. Twenty-two seniors are graduating, leaving some spaces to be filled. However, the Deltas here at Butler are emerging as a campus leader with the outstanding character of our actives, which has been recognized by the freshman class.

Homecoming brought not only Butler spirit, but also a return of 50 years of Delt alumni. In the presence of our alumni we were proud to give out the Gibbons and the Curtis Scholar awards to two brothers who excelled academically. A good time was had by all as we shared many great Delt memories from both past and present. We even got the pleasure of hearing some old serenade songs, accompanied by the new baby grand piano graciously donated to our house by Bud Selick (Class of 1944).

We have seen a very productive semester as far as campus activities are concerned. The first annual Delt Dunk, a three-on-three basketball tournament, was held.

The Delt Intramural teams have been strong with undefeated regular seasons in both football and volleyball. We also received second place in Geneva Stunts, a campus-wide musical competition. We have also dominated the sorority competitions, placing first in the Theta Grill-Off and winning the Alpha Chi Omega King Contest.

Overall, the first semester of the school year was fantastic. We stepped up in many ways across campus, and are making great strides for the future of our Beta Zeta.

BETA ETA
University of Minnesota

Things are going well here at Beta Eta Chapter. This past fall semester did well in Homecoming, placing first in Volleyball and Lip Sync, second in Cheer and third in Spirit. Although we did not place overall, we are happy with how we did. Right now, we have nine pledges waiting to be initiated in January, and we are continually rushing students so we can have a bigger spring class. We are also in the middle of elections right now. Half of the offices have been elected with the second half finishing up on Monday, December 3. The newly elected officers are excited and eager to assume their offices in January. The house is also looking forward to what is becoming the bi-annual pairing with Kappa Sigma for Spring Jam, the University's spring festival. We are also paired with Alpha Omicron Pi this year in what should be a very successful Spring Jam.

BETA THETA CRESCENT COLONY

University of the South

The Beta Theta Colony reports a strong first semester. Recruitment has been going quite well, and we hope to increase our numbers from 13 to around 25 with next semester's formal rush.

As many southeastern chapters already know, however, the Beta Theta Shelter was the victim of arson during Thanksgiving weekend. The chapter room and several irreplaceable items (a letter from President Taft; the original Delt Creed written by Stuart Middleton, Beta Theta 1910, etc.) were destroyed in the fire. The Beta Theta Deltas will rise from these ashes, as we watch the building of a fine, new chapter room and the renovation of many other portions of our house. In response to the arson, the Beta Theta Colony has collected money for a Fire Victims' Relief Organization, the Firefighters' Charitable Foundation. Other community service projects this semester include working with the Sewanee Area Animal Rescue and volunteering for a Red Cross blood drive.

BETA IOTA
University of Virginia

The Brothers of Beta Iota hit the ground running as they began the fall 2001 semester. The brotherhood picked up where it left off at the conclusion of last semester by continuing to give our time and efforts to many volunteer programs. Brothers answered calls at a local crisis intervention hotline, sponsored little siblings from the community, ran with the EMT squad and tutored local grade school students.

Thanks to fourth year Steve Soutendijk, Beta Iota held its first Parents Weekend this semester. Our families flew in from across the country for a weekend of festivities. They came from as far away as Minneapolis, Minn. and Boca Raton, Fla. For so many of us, the brotherhood represents a family away from home, and it was a joy to see the union of our biological and fraternal families. The Brotherhood plans on making the Parents' Weekend an annual event.

The recent switch of formal rush from fall to spring hit the whole Greek systems at UVA pretty hard this semester. Due to the lowest rush numbers in years and the lack of quality men, the brotherhood decided to cancel fall rush and focus all efforts on the formal spring rush.

On a brighter note, Beta Iota initiated eight new brothers this semester, all of which have already shown strong chapter involvement, academics and leadership. With these newly initiated leaders and formal rush right around the corner, the brotherhood looks forward to strong growth and improvement in the spring 2002 semester.

BETA LAMBDA Lehigh University

The Beta Lambda Chapter has had a productive semester in the fall of 2001. As brothers, we continue to excel in all aspects of our university and have opened doors that will lead to great opportunities in the following semester.

Our rush period is coming to an end and we feel the men we have recruited thus far are an outstanding group with a genuine interest in becoming members and contributing to the Fraternity. We feel that each could add to a well-rounded learning experience of the brotherhood and its ideals next semester.

Our leadership on campus is still as strong as it has ever been. Senior Barry Shenker was recently elected to the position of vice president of the IFC, overseeing the judicial board. With this position, Barry should be able to provide good insight for our chapter within the university's Greek system. The chapter also has many brothers who are involved with leadership roles within their graduating classes. Ron Schulhof and Scott Mazur presently hold the positions of president and vice president of the junior class, which just finished holding a canned food drive for the Thanksgiving holiday supporting the surrounding community. Mike Schaefer and Matt Regan are also the president and secretary of the sophomore class. They spent the majority of the semester focused on the tragedies of September and sold patriotic Lehigh T-shirts, raising $1,100 that they will donate to the September 11th Fund.

Turning to leadership within the house, we would like to congratulate Eric Schreiber on being elected as the new president of our chapter. Eric has also demonstrated his leadership in the house by representing the chapter in the university's Good Scholar Election, in which he raised

$4,500 for Cancer Research and received second place over all other fraternities, sororities and clubs. We are proud of Eric's accomplishment and trust that he will lead the chapter strongly during the following semesters.

The brothers are also still involved in various university athletics. Senior Captain Colin Reardon and sophomore Jon Marshall both run for the track team and are preparing for the upcoming season. Additionally, Scott Mazur and Mike Giunta are part of the rugby team and finished up the fall season as Mid-Atlantic Champions of Division Three. They traveled to Richmond, Virginia for the championship game, beating Old Dominion 41-31 and capturing the title, which will enable them to host the East Coast Championship game in the spring.

We would also like to wish the best of luck to Sam Rokoff, Hayden Nemitz and Ron Schulhof who are studying abroad next semester. With their destinations of Belgium, Austria and Australia, we know that each of them will represent the Fraternity in the highest regard and return to the chapter as more experienced and knowledgeable brothers.

Overall, the brotherhood is proud of its achievements in rush, leadership, philanthropy, athletics and other activities on campus and we look forward to observing the fruit of our labors next semester.

BETA MU Tufts University

This has been another stellar year for the Beta Mu Chapter. We have again added new, vibrant members, who along with existing brothers, have worked hard to continue Beta Mu's reign as best house on campus.

This semester we have added two new pledges to the house, John Bram and Frankie Corleone. Both of the young lads have extremely high GPAs and are overflowing with love for the brotherhood. Once again, Beta Mu is the only fraternity on the Tufts campus to get fall pledges.

On the athletic side of things, many Beta Mu Delts have stood out this semester for various Tufts varsity teams. Arvind Chary, Daniel Kramer and David Hendler all excelled for the Tufts golf squad. Josh Flaherty and Joseph Schaefer have also been shining athletically as they co-captain the Tufts water polo team. Although not involved with Tufts athletics, Rami Peltz has been winning many awards with his local equestrian team and his incredible stallion, Andrew.

Academically the Beta Mu Delts have once again been leading the field at Tufts, boasting the highest GPA among fraternities at the school. Academics continues to be the house's top priority and the chapter hopes to soon have the highest GPA of all northeastern division houses.

The current executive board is about to finish their term and is quite excited about the incoming officers. Although it will be a challenge to out do this exec board, the new officers are ready and eager to accept the challenge.

On a final note, Beta Mu would like to congratulate their amazing Chapter Advisor Andrew McDevitt, who recently got married. Overall, Beta Mu continues to be a chapter on the rise and is sure that their efforts will soon garnish them the coveted Hugh Shields award.

BETA NU Massachusetts Institute of Technology

The 2001-2002 year started off successfully for the Beta Nu Delts after a great rush that brought 16 pledges to the house. With newly elected Rush Chair Christopher Voekler, we are in great shape for the new system of rush that will be in place for 2002. Already, our pledges are distinguishing themselves. Peter Jaglom, Ian Driver, Nick Fahey and Joseph Paul Carlucci are members of varsity crew, cross country, ice hockey and swimming teams respectively. Christopher McQuin, Air Force and Ed Hsieh, Army, are serving in ROTC. The pledges continue to meet our high expectations.

MIT Delts continue their excellence in athletics this term. George Hanson helped lead the varsity cross country team to a conference championship, while Dan Opila and Hans Holter are already in intense training for the upcoming spring track season. Christopher Voekler plans to lead the varsity swim team to a successful season. Delts follow a strong tradition and are again dominating the MIT intramural sports scene. Mike Mulvania and David Gottlieb have overcome the loss of graduating seniors in leading DTD to back-to-back A league football championships. The Beta Nus are faring well in intramural ice hockey, led by Derrick Chan, Dave Kim, John Rondoni and stellar goal tending by David Gottlieb. Our first-ever intramural hockey championship is well within reach.

As usual, MIT Delts have influential leaders on and off campus. Bryan Schmid has served superbly as IFC vice president. John Rondoni was the main figure in rewriting the IFC bylaws as chairman of the IFC Restructuring Committee. Alex Forrest did an amazing job as orientation coordinator this year and was asked to be coordinator of IFC Greek Week. With IFC elections approaching, Beta Nu looks to continue strong campus presence and leadership.

While MIT Delts like to have fun, we are scholars first. John Rondoni and David Micheletti have been admitted into the Electrical Engineering/Computer Science and Mechanical Engineering Master of Engineering Programs respectively. Dan Opila has maintained a perfect 5.0 GPA and is in the process of applying to graduate schools. Eric Dominguez received the Bill Gates Scholarship for his excellence in academics. DAA Bobby Basu has been working with all the brothers and is helping to make Beta Nu's GPA one of the highest on campus.

John Hartofilis has done a fantastic job as community service chair, putting together many community service activities like City Days and our annual Christmas event with the Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. Together, we bring Christmas to children whose families are not fortunate enough to afford it. Overall, Beta Nu Delts put in countless hours for the betterment of our community.

We are committed to lives of excellence as Delts and we have strived to live that life through hard work and dedication to our academics, athletics, community service and leadership. Beta Nu is extending its strong tradition.

BETA XI CRESCENT COLONY Tulane University

This has been an extremely exciting fall semester for the Beta Xi Crescent Colony. After a highly successful re-colonization effort earlier in the semester, the Beta Xi chapter is 24 men strong and growing rapidly.

Not content to progress slowly as a colony, Beta Xi has been very active on Tulane's campus. One week after Beta Xi's reestablishment, the colony was awarded third place in the annual Homecoming parade. One month later, the colony again put on a strong showing, winning third place in Greek Olympics.

In addition to on-campus efforts, the colony has been very active off-campus, participating in numerous philanthropy events including a No AIDS Walk, 'Take Back the Night', an anti-domestic violence rally, a Red Cross fund-raiser, a Halloween party for local elementary school children, 'Boo at the Zoo', a benefit for the New Orleans Children's Hospital, and 'Burgers for Books', an event combating illiteracy. The colony assisted the women of Pi Beta Phi in holding 'Burgers for Books.'

As the spring semester approaches, Beta Xi is actively preparing for rush. Since Tulane holds formal rush exclusively in the spring, the colony is expecting to have a sizeable pledge class this year.

BETA PI Northwestern University

This fall quarter has been a strong one for the Northwestern Beta Pi Chapter. We have made big steps lately in terms of inspiring alumni participation in the shelter. Alumni Chair Dave Giljohann, organized a Homecoming reception this year at which the alumni attendance was much greater than any other alumni event in the past few years of Beta Pi history. Plans for an alumni golf tournament in the spring have also been put into effect. Dave has also been key in providing the house with some much needed renovations. New carpeting has been put in the stairwell and all the hallways and new lighting has been wired throughout the house.

Perhaps one of the greatest improvements of the house this quarter was the new wireless DSL Internet network that was setup by Academic Chair Brian Hannah. The University was unable to supply us with Ethernet at an affordable price so we were forced to take matters into our own hands and set up a network ourselves. Another impressive feat this quarter was the dramatic increase in our house GPA. We jumped from a 3.17 to a 3.27 putting us above the all-men's average at Northwestern.

As for athletics, Beta Pi Chapter currently houses two Northwestern varsity athletes. Lee Drucker, a sophomore, plays middle linebacker for the Northwestern football team and Robbie Potashnick, a senior, is on the Northwestern wrestling team. Both of them have been able to participate largely in house events and maintain an above average GPA despite the large time commitments they must make to their sports. We also have many club and intramural athletes in the house involved in basketball, lacrosse, soccer, softball, flag football and rugby.

BETA RHO Stanford University

Fall quarter has been a busy one for Delt at Stanford. This year we made a commitment to operate using the committee structure recommended by the National Fraternity. The transition has had a few bumps, but we are confident that we have made the right decision and are beginning to see the benefits in increased efficiency and morale.

We also had a reorganization of our chapter membership, which has witnessed a great and ongoing improvement in member commitment to the chapter and in morale. The reorganization was consummated in our current upperclass recruitment drive, which has so far seemed quite successful.

Additionally, we have begun a residential education initiative, together with the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. We have set up an open, for-credit university class in Greek culture, ideals, values and themes taught by a professor from the classics department. Highlights included Greek dance lessons and a full Greek feast!

In community service, we have begun a relationship with the Peninsula Boys and Girls Club, designed to offer talented but underprivileged youngsters the opportunity to succeed. Next quarter our participation in the club will be formal and consistent.

Right now, we are in the final stages of planning our winter quarter 'Delt Legends Classic' golf tournament. We intend to raise major funding for the Boys and Girls Club by organizing this alumni tournament, as well as increase the visibility of Delt on campus.

BETA TAU University of Nebraska

The men of Beta Tau have been working hard to make this semester a success. At the beginning of the semester we welcomed 26 pledges. Each one of them brought their own characteristics to help build a successful pledge class. Throughout the semester they have been learning how to become successful Deltas. With the help of the actives and especially the pledge educators, John Meuret and Justin Dawson, this year's pledge class is one of the best here at UNL.

Beta Tau had our annual alumni banquet. This is a time when the alumni can come back to see the house and hang out with the members of their class. The turnout was great, and it was a good time hanging out with the alumni and hearing all the stories from the past.

We also had our annual Parents Weekend. This consisted of a day where the parents come down to see what takes place at the house. The Parents Club did an outstanding job by setting up all the activities that went on. Throughout the day parents have a chance to hangout with their son, attend a lunch and go to the Nebraska football game.

Throughout the semester Deltas have been participating in the Adopt-a-School program. The school that we work with is Clinton Elementary. During the semester Deltas have done several philanthropies to help out Clinton Elementary. The two biggest philanthropies that we did were, Mud Tug and Floats for Clinton. Mud Tug is when sororities and fraternities participate in a tug-of-war competition. We then take the proceeds that we make and give them to Clinton Elementary. Floats for Clinton is where we sell root beer float tickets and have root beer floats during one of the weekdays during the warmer part of the semester. The proceeds we get from that are also given to Clinton Elementary. With the contributions Clinton Elementary has received, they have been able to build a new computer lab. Clinton Elementary ended up naming it the 'Delt Lab.'

The Deltas have taken an active role when it came to intramurals. There were several intramurals that went on. The Delt football team made it to the elite eight in the Uncle Ben's flag football tournament.

With the semester coming to an end, the executive committee will be changing. Elections will be occurring towards the end of the fall semester. The new executive committee will have big roles to fill, but with the help of the outgoing members, we know as a house that they will be very successful.

BETA UPSILON University of Illinois

Beta Upsilon is very proud of our chapter's history at the University of Illinois. Delta Tau Delta was the first fraternity on this campus, which has become home of the strongest Greek system at any college or university. Our chapter's alumni include the first athletic director here at U of I, as well as the Secret Service agent that took a bullet for President Ronald Reagan. Beta Upsilon, however, isn't all about its past, we maintain a strong presence on this campus and continue to be leaders in its Greek community.

Academics are always a very strong point for Beta Upsilon. Once again our chapter's GPA was well above the all-fraternity and all-men's average, as well as the overall university average.

Athletics have been particularly good for Beta Upsilon this semester. We fielded multiple teams in the university's intramural flag football and soccer leagues and placed much higher in both than we have in several years.

We've implemented a new pledge program this semester which is far more efficient in educating young men on what it means to be a true member of this Fraternity. The chapter is excited by the progress we've already seen. Our fall pledge of 24 is a group of highly dedicated men who exemplify the qualities of a Delt, in addition to an understanding of the history behind us.

Philanthropic events continue to go well for the Beta Upsilon. This semester we participated in Delta Gamma's 'Anchor Splash' bringing home a trophy, as well as Kappa Alpha Theta's 'Theta Hoops' Gamma Phi Beta's golf outing and Sigma Delta Tau's 'The Weakest Greek.' Next semester Beta Upsilon is taking a leadership role in the campus-wide philanthropy event, 'Up 'til Dawn' a dance marathon held at several campuses across the country. We're excited for the opportunity to make such a positive contribution to our community.

Beta Upsilon's chapter update would be incomplete without the mention of our social calendar this past semester. We attended a Chicago White Sox game with the Alpha Gamma Delta Fraternity, had a Halloween party with the Chi Omegas, a western-themed party with the Pi Beta Phis, parties before football games with the Alpha Phis and finally a toga party with the Alpha Chi Omegas. Social events continue to be a strong point of Beta Upsilon, and next semester looks great as well.

Beta Upsilon is a great chapter. We have a beautiful shelter, membership numbers placing us among the top on our campus, which has more fraternities than any other school. We are thriving in all aspects that are of value to Deltas, and

Heck receives Gustafson/Johns Scholarship

Kevin Johns and Ned Gustafson are shown presenting Ryan Heck (Bradley 2002) with the Ned H.

Gustafson/Kevin R. Johns Scholarship. Heck, a senior marketing major, has served the Zeta Omega Chapter as corresponding and recording secretary and is a 1999 graduate of the Delta Tau Delta Leadership Academy. On campus, he is the co-creator and coordinator of the Bradley University Integrated Leadership Development program. He has served as the Student Senate Director of Student Relations, a campus tour guide, student housing liaison and as President of the University Residence Hall. Heck has volunteered at the Whittier Primary School and is the Public Relations Coordinator for Junior Achievement of Central Illinois. The Ned H. Gustafson/Kevin R. Johns Scholarship is offered to a sophomore, junior or senior who has displayed outstanding leadership skills at his chapter, on his campus and in his community.

plan to continue for a long time.

BETA PSI Wabash College

Here at Beta Psi, we enjoy boasting one of the best houses on campus year after year, and this year is no different. We continue to have strong on-campus representation, including participation in Alpha Pi Omega, Pi Sigma Alpha, the Interfraternity Council, Model U.N., Sphinx Club (an elite club devoted to upholding the traditions of Wabash College), Student Senate, Malcolm X Institute and the American Chemical Society.

We also have a very strong representation athletically. Chapter Beta Psi boasts 20 varsity athletes participating in 26 sports and representation in every varsity sport on campus, including the captains of the soccer and tennis teams. In addition, we have strong representation in the club sport lacrosse.

We also have a very strong participation in intramural sports, and are currently in first place for the intramural all-sports title. Our intramural football team went undefeated and our volleyball only lost one game but won the championship. We also added an intramural cross country championship.

Every year, Wabash awards a Freshman of the Year award based on academics, athletics and leadership. Last year's Freshman of the Year award at Wabash College went to Mike Lynch, a Beta Psi Del.

This past Halloween the brothers worked together to create a 'Haunted Shelter' for the children of Crawfordsville. It was a very big hit, thanks to the participation of every brother in the house, attracting many more children than we had expected. This is the second year we have done a 'Haunted Shelter' and it has become a favorite with Crawfordsville kids and parents. We are also working on adopting a highway, and plan on continuing our participation in Adopt-a-School. We look forward to the semesters ahead of us and strive to make the Deltas the strongest living unit on campus.

GAMMA BETA Illinois Institute of Technology

Fall 2001 saw the house grow by 13 pledges. These 13 went on to win the Greek Council Pledge Football Championship, plan a formal and coordinate a weekend with the brothers of Gamma Sigma at the University of Pittsburgh! While being busy within the chapter we have been no less involved on campus. This semester saw Deltas gain a majority of positions on the student government's exec board with Daniel Monahan as chair, Tyler Butler as vice-chair internal, and Ryan Kirk as secretary. Gamma Beta Deltas hold the positions of IVCF president (Andrew Makanov), Greek Council sports chair (Tom Hennigan), Greek Council Scholarship chair (Giovanni Bondi) and Finance Board chair (Fred Bainbridge). In addition, Giovanni Bondi won Illinois Tech's Outstanding Senior Award. Mackie Derrick attended the national championship for triathlons hoping for a bid to represent the United States at the world championships. Senior Justin Henry is the AFROTC Wing Commander here at IIT. He is also applying to medical schools in hopes of becoming a doctor. In the past few weeks there has been a renewed vigor for the Adopt-a-School program with the ranks of participants swelling. Installations are coming up and the new exec board is looking forward to leading the brothers through a semester marked by unrealized productivity and brotherhood.

GAMMA DELTA West Virginia University

As the first half of the year is coming to a close and the men of Gamma Delta have had another successful semester. Brotherhood and recruitment have never been stronger for the Deltas in Morgantown. In the beginning of this semester we held a pig roast in honor of our alumni. Deltas from all different parts of the East Coast came in for this event. The alumni were most impressed with the way the shelter looks with all of its new additions to the different rooms and newly remodeled basement. We would like to thank the alumni for their attendance and generous donations. Recently the whole shelter received a complete paint job of all of the major rooms. Also a large detailed shield has been painted to the end of the fourth floor hallway thanks to Mike Wohleber.

Rush could not have been any better this semester. Our Pledge Educators Nate Martino and Chris Gemondo have done an outstanding job in teaching these new initiates about what Delta Tau Delta and our chapter is all about. We have initiated 19 new men who will be looked at in the future as the heads of our chapter.

In light of the September 11th tragedies, we have participated in a campus-wide food drive, which was a part of this year's Mountaineer Week. All brothers gave what they could to help the people in need.

The start of a new fall semester means a new executive board must be chosen. The responsibility that comes with the positions is ready to be taken by all of the new officers. Our new executive board includes: President Chad Bo Meador, Vice President Pete Grimm, Treasurer Thomas Moody, Recording Secretary Adam Gursky, Corresponding Secretary Phil Evans and John Jackfert as the risk manager.

Philanthropy events have been one of our strong points in the semester. Brothers participated in a wide range of philanthropies including a 5k run, flag football, bowling, golf and paintball. We look forward to the spring semester and hope it is as successful as the fall. To find out about our and coming alumni events go to our updated Delt website: www.geocities.com/wvu_delta_tau_delta.

GAMMA ETA George Washington University

This semester Gamma Eta of the George Washington University continued to be the recognized leader on campus. Not only did the chapter excel in both varsity and intramural sports as well as in social life, but the chapter also maintained over a 3.0 grade point average. This solidified Gamma Eta as the dominant fraternity at GW once again.

The chapter took in 14 new member this fall. This brings the brotherhood to over 70 members. With over 200 actually rushing this fall, the chapter had the opportunity to be over selective. The pledge class has already shown leadership, academic and athletic dominance over their freshman counterparts.

Internally, with the dedicated and hard work of the brotherhood, Gamma Eta was able to make major renovations to the shelter. This summer, 15 brothers completely refinished their pool room and turned it into a library. The chapter room was also renovated with an entirely new façade. Over winter break the chapter is planning on attaining brand new doors for all areas of exit, and replacing the floor and ceiling in the basement. These projects will be donations by the chapter's Educational Foundation, led by the new President, Mr. Scott Lutz.

The chapter continued to coach their little league team this fall and continued on with their alumni lecture series at the shelter. The Adopt-a-School program will begin again with the start of the spring semester. Also this spring, the chapter plans the revival of the highly anticipated JamicanMcCrazy Party, the 99th Anniversary Celebration of Gamma Eta and the biggest formal of the century, as Gamma Eta will say farewell to 25 seniors.

The chapter also will lose two-term President Bob Simon, and two term Executive Board members, Tom Conroy, Brad Simon, Gavin Daniels, Spencer Hugret and Tim Small. With Chapter Advisor Wayne Sinclair continuing to do an outstanding job guiding Gamma Eta, and with the young leaders in the chapter, these senior members of Gamma Eta are well assured that the chapter will be left in good hands.

GAMMA THETA Baker University

As another fall semester winds down at Baker University, the men of Gamma Theta can truly look back and say that it was a successful one. We began the year with an exceptional rush. We pledged over 20 men once again, giving us the largest pledge class of all the fraternities, something that has become common place at Gamma Theta.

The chapter also had a great semester academically, finishing above the all-male and all-fraternity averages once again. We finished second among all fraternities in house GPA and we are making a strong push towards finishing first in grades next semester.

Giving back to the community is something we take pride in here. This is evident through our philanthropy work. On Halloween, the men did a trick-or-treat for canned goods drive, going door to door to ask for canned goods which in turn were donated to a local food pantry. Over 500 pounds of food were collected that night. The house also sponsored a Toys for Tots drive for the first time. It went very well and we had a lot of fun in the process. Other activities that the men of Gamma Theta take part in are the Adopt-a-Highway cleanup program and the Adopt-a-School program, which will take place this spring.

Along with all of these activities, the Baker Deltas still find time for athletics. We have members of the varsity baseball team, cross country and track teams. Our chapter includes over 40 members of the varsity football team that went 9-2 last year and began the season ranked number 13 in the nation, including six offensive starters and seven defensive starters.

Finally, although we are always striving to be the best, a lot of what we do would not be possible without a lot of help from our alumni. They have worked hard to provide us with a great house and are always there to lend a helping hand. We extend our deepest thanks to them and to our House Corporation, who has invested a lot of time, money and effort into us and our shelter. Again, thank you all for everything you have done for us.

GAMMA IOTA University of Texas

Fall 2001 was a fun and exciting semester for the Texas Deltas. The much anticipated shelter re-opening was a smashing success and it looks absolutely beautiful. Elections resulted in new faces leading our chapter, all of whom are eager to keep our chapter the best on campus.

Our pledge class of 40 outstanding young men has been the perfect addition to our brothers. They are all solid guys who certainly add value to our Fraternity. The rush captains did an excellent job of selecting only the finest men. Their pledge class is destined to become one of the best we've ever put through.

Our chapter took home 10 Order of Omega awards, more than all other chapters on campus combined. The Hugh Shields award looks great amongst our plethora of other trophies in the trophy case. Our chapter GPA is above 3.0, which is phenomenal considering the increasing difficulty of courses at The University of Texas. One could make a solid argument in calling life at the Delt house euphoric.

The new house looks fantastic. The house corporation worked long and hard to make sure that the shelter was ready to be moved into by the beginning of the fall. They surpassed their goals, as our house was finished at the end of July. A new state of the art study room with networked computers and a laser printer has made studying at the Delt house a joy rather than a nuisance. Mom Abbot's room underwent some serious renovations and she now has her own kitchen as well as a washer/dryer.

One of the biggest tasks that the men of Gamma Iota focused on during the semester was donating to the victims of the September 11th tragedy. Our Philanthropy Chairman, J. Todd Krumholz III, led a fundraising campaign that netted over $5,000 in donations to the American Red Cross.

On a sad note, a mainstay of the Delt house is no longer with us. Mom's dog, Sullivan, passed away in November. We are all deeply saddened by this loss; Sullivan was truly 'a man's best friend.'

On the sports front, our active intramural football team won the championship in their division, and our pledge team made it to the finals in the pledge league. As this article goes to press, our soccer team is fiercely competing in the play-offs. Furthermore, our own C.J. Martin will be traveling to Dallas to help the Longhorns bring home the Big 12 Championship. C.J. plays an integral role and his presence is invaluable to the team.

Socially, our ties continue to be strong with the top sororities on campus. Crush party lists brought to the Delt house seem miles long, and every weekend Gamma Iota brothers can be seen at any number of sorority events. Our annual Christmas formal is quickly approaching, and we are looking forward to making that a blast. Incidentally, the house is fully covered in Christmas lights and it looks fantastic.

Von Mathew Hammond is currently serving his term as student body president. Gamma Iota boasts a number of men that hold high positions in student government. Also, congratulations to Russel Lorfing and James McDermott for recently being elected president and chief justice, respectively, of the Intrafraternity Council. Words cannot express how proud we are of these fine men.

As the semester winds down, the Gamma Iota brothers are preparing diligently for final exams. A lot has been accomplished this semester at Gamma Iota and we are extremely motivated to keep the tradition strong. Though it has been a tumultuous semester with the tragic events nationally, we remain closer than ever. God Bless America.

GAMMA KAPPA University of Missouri

At the University of Missouri-Columbia, Gamma Kappa has been working diligently, strengthening the bonds that hold this chapter together on the campus and within the community.

The men of Gamma Kappa finished up one of the oldest living traditions at MU, Homecoming 2001. Our theme this year was, 'Unleash the Legend.'

Coordinating the events this year were Liaisons Shane Koenig and Eric Kramer. Placing fifth overall in this year's events, the men of Gamma Kappa and the women of Kappa Delta set a precedence in this years events. The Homecoming competition has five main activities: skit, house decorations, float, blood drive and community service. Gamma Kappa was pleased with the first place finish in float, whose chairman Tony Valenta did a wonderful job.

One of the biggest bonds holding this chapter together with the community was our motivation and determination to give back something to the city of Columbia. Community Service chairman Jason Brenton finalized plans for the adoption of Derby Ridge Elementary School and Lange Middle School. With in the Adopt-a-School program members can help teachers with lesson plans, become role models for younger children who have no one older to look up to and socialize with the children during recess.

Since the September 11th attacks on the United States, Gamma Kappa has held fundraisers to help the families of the victims. Donations topped into the thousands, and blood donations ranged from 60-75 units. The men of Gamma Kappa are setting forth new precedents for other chapters to follow.

Eric Kramer, Internal Philanthropist, introduced a new philanthropy into the Greek system, 'Dirty Delt Ball.' This mud volleyball tournament consisted of eight teams of girls from various sororities within the MU Greek system, rolling around in the mud to benefit the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Another bond that holds this chapter together is the brotherhood. Administrative Vice President Nigel Morton has been working with our Social Chair Tony Merkel planning brotherhood events such as the Mekong Delta and Hayride. In addition, Gamma Kappa dressed in costumes with the men of Delta Upsilon and the women of Delta Delta Delta and Alpha Delta Pi to celebrate Halloween.

As the semester comes to an end, the men of Gamma Kappa keep going strong. We are looking forward to a victorious Greek Week with the women of Zeta Tau Alpha. This will be our first time in 15 years to participate with the Zeta's in Greek Week 2002 and the men are looking forward to that experience.

Initiation is right around the corner, and the active chapter is ready to welcome their 14 new members into the chapter. Rush chairmen Hal Rutherford and Pat Mullen are working diligently, signing new members every week under our new rush program implicated this semester. Gamma Kappa has found this new approach to rush very helpful and rewarding. If you would like to contact the men of Gamma Kappa or have any questions to ask, you may e-mail the chapter at: mu_delts@hotmail.com.

GAMMA LAMBDA Purdue University

Gamma Lambda is finishing up its fire restoration, we first need to say thanks to our housing corporation; New carpet, new paint, the furniture looks fine, our new brotherhood room is oh so divine; Philanthropy is an area we excel at so well, Many of Powder Puff T-shirt we did sell; 1500 dollars we raised for the American Heart Association; Not to mention the 11,000 dollars in Red Cross Donations, Participating in other philanthropies: we are the best, Victories in Frats-at-Bat and Frisbee Fling; we do not rest; Did I mention we won Frisbee Fling three years in a row, every time we guarantee an exhilarating show; We were also the champions of Purdue's Greek Week, Adam Parrish and Andy Brower's trivia knowledge was sheik, Brotherhood is very strong so let me tell ya, Rafting was awesome in West Virginia; We had a few dinners to bring back some Alumni, The President of Purdue, Martin Jitscke, stopped by; Not to mention Dean Hawkins and Murray Blackwelder too, Jim Russell, new Delt CEO, we are very proud of you; Dean Herloman was given the alumni achievement award; Restoration in the year 2007, we are moving toward; Commitment to excellence, we will continue our fight, Rah, Rah Delta to all and to all a good night.

GAMMA MU University of Washington

It has been an exciting and busy quarter here at Gamma Mu this fall - our eight-week pledge program has drawn to a close and we are waiting patiently for finals. Our pledge class of 23 excellent men are anticipating solid grades and are looking forward to Initiation in January.

Two weeks ago we elected a new executive committee that is led by the New President and Vice President, John Gagnier and Ryan Spahr, respectively (both helped to raise over $80,000 for the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center as Miss Greek chairmen during the 1999-2000 school year). The new executive committee looks to expand on the able leadership displayed by the previous committee and attain our chapter goal of a Hugh Shield's award for chapter excellence.

FOUNDATION HIGHLIGHT

Demmel receives Gustafson/Johns Scholarship

ing Washington State in the annual Apple Cup. Gamma Mu member Kevin Ware, who earned Offensive Player of the Week honors from his team looks to lead the 8-3 Huskies against a big-12 opponent in the Holiday Bowl in San Diego on December 28. Besides the loyal Dawg fans who will make their way to southern California, three Gamma Mu Deltas will represent the university as members of the cheer team: Paul Chamberlain, Seth Gilliland and Chris Lenderman. Our Delta intramural team is currently rolling through the competition in the IM playoffs.

We have a couple events we are eagerly awaiting, Founder's Day (date is TBD, but in the spring) and our annual Miss Greek competition. We have been holding weekly meetings since October and enjoyed a visit from the current Miss Washington, Breann Parriott. The Miss Greek Chairman, Tyler Tennyson, says that this year's event will raise more than last year's $70,000 donation, which goes to funding for cancer research.

GAMMA XI University of Cincinnati

The fall quarter of 2001 has been a very rewarding and exciting quarter for the Gamma Xi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta. The greatest achievement of this quarter was the extremely successful rush, in which 25 men accepted bids to become new members giving our chapter the largest new member class of any fraternity at the University of Cincinnati. The chapter takes great pride in our achievement because of the many hours of work put in by all members of the house.

Along with our success with rush there have been many strides made within the chapter. The average GPA of active members rose from a 2.64 to a 2.96 from fall quarter 2000. This jump has placed Gamma Xi eighth out of the 18 fraternities on campus.

The shelter has also seen some improvements over the past year, most notably with the addition of a fence surrounding the back of the house and the "pit." The fence was installed to improve neighbor relations and to give the chapter privacy. Jerry Roetgers, Ryan Steadman, Tony Easter and Nate Kight put in many long hours during the construction.

In this year's Homecoming court, Gamma Xi was represented by Greg Deibig. This was the second straight appearance by Greg on the Homecoming Court. Homecoming was also marked by an excellent alumni turnout. The many of the current actives and alumni congregated at Fries Café the night before the game and then attended the game the next day. The chapter greatly enjoyed the alumni presence and looks forward to more such events in the future.

The past year has seen the chapter improve in many ways and has set a strong foundation for future success. With the commitment and focus of the actives and the new members the Gamma Xi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta is ready and able to achieve the goals it has set for itself for the upcoming year.

GAMMA PI Iowa State University

This past semester the hard work and diligence of each and every member of Gamma Pi undoubtedly reflected the strength of the chapter as a whole. Last February we won our 14th Hugh Shields Award, and since then we have been striving for new levels of chapter excellence. Academics are an essential part of our progress and we have continued to raise our house average from those in the past. With the help of another great summer recruitment, the fall 2001 pledge class consists of 15 outstanding members. This fall we also enthusiastically celebrated the Initiation of four spring semester pledges.

The dedication to the constant success of our chapter was shown in another all-house retreat where members set goals to accomplish for the semester. Every semester these retreats filled with team building exercises help keep our chapter on the right path. Homecoming was another great brotherhood building experience this year as we paired with the beautiful women of Kappa Alpha Theta and the men of Phi Gamma Delta. Included in this event was the building of another exceptional lawn display and participation in "Yell-Like Hell", a five-minute skit filled with school-spirited chants and dialogue. Out of the 14 total pairings, we placed second in "Yell-Like Hell" and fifth in lawn display, finishing fourth overall. Thanks to all of our alumni who participated in the festivities.

Strengthening our bonds in the Greek community, the Deltas of Gamma Pi joined the wonderful women of Kappa Kappa Gamma for Halloween pumpkin carving, which we hope to become an annual event. In hopes of a victory for the upcoming semester, we have paired with the women of Alpha Gamma Delta for Varieties. Practice is well underway for this event that includes singing and dancing in skits, musical performances and comedy routines.

After many dedicated years of service to Gamma Pi and the international Delt community, Dave Nagel has stepped down as our chapter advisor and has passed the title to Michael Kaputka. We would like to thank him for his continued dedication to our chapter in which his leadership has brought us to new levels of excellence.

The end of the year brings the installation of a new executive committee who will bring great leadership to our chapter as those in the past two semesters have. As yet another great semester comes to a close, the events of the upcoming year will only exemplify the accomplishments of our chapter.

GAMMA SIGMA University of Pittsburgh

As 2001 draws to a close, the brothers of Gamma Sigma find they have a great deal to be proud of and bright future ahead of them in the upcoming years. Although they have been through some turbulent times over the past year, Gamma Sigma is prepared to begin 2002 led by its confident and capable executive board, driven by the renewed faith of all its brothers and backed with the continued support of its outstanding alumni. The brothers have made dynamic changes to enhance their level of excellence and to continue the legacy that is Gamma Sigma.

First off, Gamma Sigma has increased its attention to the details of ceremonies and the refinement of their performance. After performing the Rite of Iris for the Allegheny College chapter last spring, the brothers set their sights on perfecting the Ritual. Initiation of the spring pledge class was executed brilliantly, including a special Initiation ceremony presented in front of some of Gamma Sigma's most prestigious alumni to formally induct Matthew Gaughan into the chapter. The brothers have developed a new appreciation of our Ritual and its value to their sense of brotherhood.

To ensure that only the best men would follow in their footsteps, Gamma Sigma devoted numerous hours to pledge recruitment this fall and had an amazing turnout. The Deltas at the University of Pittsburgh are proud to announce a pledge class of 26 exemplary young men. Both brothers and pledges are excited about our great success as we know these men will be an asset to the house in future years.

Philanthropy efforts continue to run smoothly and the brothers find a sense of pride in contributing to Pittsburgh area. Brothers actively support causes such as the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Cribs for Kids, Toys for Tots, and Adopt-a-Block. In the next week, these Deltas plan to participate in Bowling for Breath along with the sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma in an effort to raise money for children afflicted with Cystic Fibrosis. Gamma Sigma Deltas understand the importance of giving back to one's community in time, talent and treasure.

The brothers have worked extremely hard this year to maintain the level of excellence that Gamma Sigma has always been associated with, but this cannot be accomplished solely by our active members. The installation of Nick Frollini as the chapter's new advisor in the early fall kept the functions of the fraternity running according to plan. Nick not only assisted the chapter in refining its administrative committees and fine-tuning its policies but he also served as a constant pillar of support, a source of sound advice and a close friend for the entire brotherhood. With Nick's help the Fraternity has not only achieved so much, but is set in the right direction for further awards and accolades.

Gamma Sigma would also like to thank the Educational Foundation and Kenneth File for their investment in the brother's progress this year. With the Educational Foundation's guidance, and the incredible support of the House Corporation and our alumni, we now have the benefit of a substantial endowment fund to support our future educational activities. The example set by the alumni clearly shows how a Delt can best live a Life of Excellence and continue to support his Fraternity throughout his entire life. The House Corporation, under the guidance of Jeff LaFuria and with the support of such alumni as Dick Swanson, have also graciously worked to raise money to refurbish the shelter's kitchen; the Anna Rose Garvey kitchen (named in honor of our long-time, and much loved, cook) will be dedicated next semester. These contributions inspire new faith in the Fraternity and a comfort in knowing that Delta Tau Delta supports us in all of our endeavors.

The brothers are immensely proud of their success this year, and no one deserves more thanks than our esteemed alumni. As we have mentioned, they have truly gone above and beyond the call of duty and we appreciate their financial, emotional and fraternal support for us. To thank them, each year Gamma Sigma holds a Delt Homecoming event at the shelter. Brothers and alumni alike gather to relax, dine and learn from each other what it means to be a Delt during every period of their lives. There is also a formal meeting wherein alumni are brought up to date on the status of the chapter. This year the event was magnificent; our alumni make us proud not only to be Deltas, but also to be students at the University of Pittsburgh. No other organization on campus has the alumni involvement of Gamma Sigma and for that we are eternally grateful. We only hope that we can make our alumni just as proud, and follow their example after we graduate.

However, on somber note, Gamma Sigma was deeply saddened by the sudden death of Kevin Marlo, '95. Kevin worked for Sandler O'Neill on the 105th floor of the World Trade Center. While the events of September 11th clearly took some-

FROM COLONIST TO
CHAPTER CONSULTANT...

Opportunity

As a freshman at Quincy University I was invited to come to a meeting to start a new fraternity. Little did I know that this would be an opportunity that would have a large impact on my future. During my time as a member of Quincy Crescent Colony, had the opportunity to see all aspects of a colony striving to become a chapter. As a freshman I never would have thought that I would one day be one of those guys that travels around and helps the chapters.

Well, here I am, it has been a long and, at times, difficult journey. I made the transition from colony member to chapter member to chapter consultant within one year. Each point along the journey marked another accomplishment, but at the same time it revealed that my work was not done.

The first step into Delta Tau Delta was to achieve colony status. This was the transition from our service organization to a recognized Greek letter fraternity. It seemed that our work to join a fraternity was close to done, this was not the case. The next step was to accomplish a long list of objectives in order to become a recognized chapter of Delta Tau Delta. At this point some members decided that they did not want to put that much time and effort into starting a fraternity. The men that accepted the challenge were rewarded for their efforts with the Installation of the Iota Delta Chapter.

Following graduation, I decided to pursue the position of chapter consultant. The position of consultant has given me the opportunity to meet many Deltas and work with them on a variety of projects. The projects that I have undertaken have allowed me to grow both as a Delt and as a person.

thing away from every person in our country, this chapter greatly feels the loss of one of its most valued alumni. We send best wishes to his friends and family and honor him as he joins the Chapter Eternal.

It is in Kevin's name, and in the name of all of the alumni of our great Fraternity, that we press on. Gamma Sigma has had its share of trials and tribulations but will continue to remain strong and proud. With the help of alumni and support from our fellow brothers, we will continue to prove that the Deltas at the University of Pittsburgh will always remain "a cut above the rest."

GAMMA CHI
Kansas State University

This year we excelled in intramurals, which have been on a steady rise in last few years and are looking forward to a good overall university standing. In racquetball, Justin "Butch" Fernandez became the 2001 university intramural champion. In flag football we made it to the playoffs. We also excelled in tennis, wrestling, bowling and badminton. Softball is also a perennial power in the fraternity division and continues to be a threat into the season. We have competed in several non-intramural tournaments and held our own against well-established teams.

We recently held executive elections and voted Pat Stanton as the new president and Aaron Kirkpatrick as the new vice president. We are confident in their strong leadership qualities.

We have been participating in Adopt-a-School and it is going well. We have also been active in Adopt-a-Highway.

Our new spring initiates have exceeded our expectations in chapter academics and involvement. Are pledges are showing a lot of promise and we are looking forward to initiating the majority and believe they will be a great asset to the house.

This year we also welcomed a new affiliate, Ben Shaffer, from the Baker University chapter, and he is already showing leadership by being elected to the executive committee.

GAMMA PSI
Georgia Institute of Technology

After enjoying a relatively relaxed summer semester, the Deltas at Gamma Psi came back to school with an enthusiastic attitude. The executive committee met at the beginning of the semester to discuss the goals of the chapter and the means necessary to achieve them. With support from the entire brotherhood, the next step was to begin implementing our plans for success. Gamma Psi identified specific areas on which to focus, including Recruitment, Pledge Education, Philanthropy and Alumni Relations.

With the beginning of the new semester came fall rush. Rush Chairman, Scott Taylor, held a recruitment retreat in order to get everyone into the rushing mindset. The next week, campus-wide rush began, and the Deltas were excited about the prospects of a new pledge class. Rush events included a mechanical bull, rock climbing wall and a steel drum band. Although Gamma Psi had laid out the plans for success, fall rush was disappointing, as pledge numbers campus-wide declined severely from last year. Recognizing the potential problems that low numbers will cause for any member-driven chapter, plans were immediately set to have an impressive spring rush as well. Through the efforts of Scott and his rush committee, Gamma Psi already has seven spring pledges, with the official start of spring rush still a month away. This is an impressive number, and one that Gamma Psi is excited to use as a tool for the upcoming spring rush.

Considering the low pledge number, Gamma Psi turned its attention to pledge education, to ensure that the incoming class, although small, would still make an impact on our chapter in future years.

Recognizing the importance of success, Pledge Educator Andrew Smoker and his committee worked diligently to plan out the pledge education program. A new manual was created and made available on-line to the entire chapter, which helped to minimize confusion and communication breaks between the pledge educator and the brothers, while allowing the pledges to have easy access to information contained in the manual. Another key goal for pledge education was to more thoroughly involve the brotherhood in the pledge education process. The point was made to delineate the relationship between pledge and brother as a mentor status, rather than inferiority. This, in turn, made the pledges feel comfortable and welcome around the shelter, bringing them closer to the brothers than pledge classes of past years. Hopefully, the Foundation has been set to facilitate the roll of future pledge educators to succeed in the same manner.

With the groundwork in place for success in rush and pledge education, the chapter's next goal was to focus on philanthropy. With our annual charity volleyball tournament occurring in the spring, Philanthropy Chairman Adam Guyer concentrated on finding more philanthropic events for the brotherhood. Gamma Psi participated in numerous events throughout the semester, including Team Buzz, a school sponsored event where students go to specific locations around Atlanta. We were also involved with SEC fanfare, occurring on the weekend of the SEC Football Championship Game in early December. Finally, Adam and his committee have set up plans to start participation in the nationally sponsored Adpot-a-School program for spring 2002.

Having a successful philanthropy calendar in place, Gamma Psi then turned its focus to Alumni Relations. Chairman Alex Fowler made great strides in our alumni program, including several outstanding newsletter publications throughout the semester. In correlation to our Academic Plan, several alumni-faculty dinners were held at the shelter during the semester, sometimes even including potential rushees. Another achievement for alumni relations was Homecoming Weekend. Several alumni attended our annual semi-formal, held on the Friday before Homecoming. There are many school-sponsored alumni events on Saturday in which Gamma Psi participates, including the Ramblin' Wreck parade and Homecoming display contest. An outstanding number of alumni stopped by the shelter throughout game day to enjoy a cookout, picture display, and good company. All had a great time and we look forward to repeating the successes next year.

We are confident that these triumphs will continue to strengthen our bond of brotherhood and look forward to a fun, exciting and successful upcoming spring semester.

DELTA ALPHA
CRESENT COLONY
University of Oklahoma

Delta Alpha is Back! We are excited to say that after all of our troubles in the last year we have our charter back. Despite all the rumors, we never shut down and are still running as we always have.

We did well this year in rush going with the attitude of quality over quantity. We signed 41 men in fall rush. They have been very busy this fall. Cliff Johns, our president, helped lead around 20 pledges in their University Sing performance with the women of Kappa Alpha Theta. The group performed songs from the "Lion King" to go on and win the Most Professional Award.

We won intramural golf with Brad Rice, Adam Goodrich, Andy Lawrence and Trevor Johnson on the winning team. Our intramural football team received second place and we are looking forward to yet another successful basketball season.

Delta Alpha will host our annual Christmas party coming up in December. Every year we invite needy children from the Norman area to receive presents from the guys. It is always great to end the year knowing that we are providing many of these children with their only presents for the holidays. For spring, we have plans to build another house with the help of Habitat for Humanity. Last year the chapter built a house for tornado victims in Moore, Okla.

We recently held our Dads Day Weekend and had a great time watching OU beat Texas A&M. Our alumni weekend was held at the house that same weekend. Many dads and alumni enjoyed the University Sing Production. We had dinners for both the dads and alumni with our new cook Sheila Pryor prepared great meals both Friday and Saturday.

DELTA BETACarnegie Mellon University

As the fall semester draws to a close, the Carnegie Mellon Deltas are proving once again why they're considered the leaders among the Greeks. Despite graduating 11 brothers, the younger members of the house have taken up the reigns and have the house headed forward at full speed. The Delta Beta Deltas welcomed seven new pledges into the house under the leadership of Rush Chairman Eddie LeBreton and initiated the previous pledge class' 12 members into the brotherhood.

While the Deltas' parties are still tops on the quad, they showed their commitment to strengthening community by raising over $7,000 for a local soup kitchen with the 24-Hour Delt Famine, organized by Philanthropy Chairman Nate Motta. The Famine was second only to Greek Sing as the largest charity event on campus. The Deltas also participated in Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority's Mr. Fraternity and Delta Gamma Sorority's Anchor Slam.

The upcoming spring semester promises even more excitement. Rush is already planned, and the brotherhood is looking forward to growing even stronger. The Deltas are looking for a fourth-consecutive win in Greek Sing when they perform "Singing in the Rain" with the lovely ladies of Delta Gamma. The 2002 Spring Carnival will feature a brand-new Buggy, thanks to Dan Gielas and Roberto Arevalo.

Along with house activities, the shelter is undergoing some major improvements in the spring. All of the Delta Tau Delta composites dating back to 1958 are being restored, and the entire first floor is being renovated with new carpet, paint and furniture. Also, a new House and Grounds plan promises to keep the floors shining and the parents pleased. Any and all alumni are invited to pay a visit to Ole Carnegie and drop by the house.

Another initiative that's gaining momentum is the DTD First-Year Scholarship. The brotherhood is actively raising funds that will be awarded to incoming first-year men who demonstrate the qualities of a Delt and show the potential to be contributing members of the house. The scholarship will significantly help the fall rush program and be yet another example of the chapter's dedication to the Carnegie Mellon community.

Any alumni interested in knowing more about what's going on at Delta Beta or who have ideas, suggestions or comments should please contact the Chapter President Andy Bayowski, at 412.862.3948 or acb3@andrew.cmu.edu. The Deltas welcome your involvement and support as they strive to add to the chapter's long history of excellence. As always, "By Any Means Necessary."

DELTA GAMMAUniversity of South Dakota

Efforts to improve on success are what ultimately maintain success. Fueled by the successes of the 2000-2001 academic year, the brothers of the Delta Gamma Chapter hope to continue to grow and prosper this year.

A strong start does not hurt. For the second straight year, the Deltas boast the largest new member class among the fraternities on the University of South Dakota campus. The chapter was able to attract the most men through recruitment week activities and ultimately ended up pledging 25 quality men.

Again, philanthropy and community service remains a solid stronghold for the chapter. The chapter demonstrated its devotion toward the community in a number of facets. Active participation in Adopt-a-Highway as well as numerous charity events around the USD campus has reinforced the Delt position as leaders in the community and campus.

Delta Gamma made its most significant contributions in its 10th annual charity Teddy Bear Relay. Active and new members ran a 50-plus mile relay route to raise money for the Sioux Falls Children's Hospital. The event raised $1,500 and was presented to the hospital upon arrival of the final runner.

As the chapter continues to look for ways to improve, several changes have been incorporated. A live-in graduate assistant has moved into the shelter. Megan Miller has been a valuable resource to the house in terms of input, experience and morale. Her insight has provided bases for improvements within the chapter. Also, for the first time in five years, the chapter hired a cook. Mark Karcher has done a great job in keeping our stomachs full and giving us the energy to handle our many obligations as college students and Delt brothers.

It seems like all the pieces of the puzzle are coming together, but there is always room to improve. For Delta Gamma, the basic principle "Live lives of excellence" is what it will take to continue our success and obtain another Hugh Shields Award. All the tools are in place to maintain and build on this success and we look forward to finding ways to improve on our individual selves and Delta Gamma.

DELTA DELTA
University of Tennessee

This semester has been an exciting one for Delta Delta Chapter at the University of Tennessee. We have found ourselves encountering success after success as we continue to grow and strengthen our name at the university. This semester, we committed ourselves to strive for excellence in our community, on campus and to continue to build the connection between our alumni and ourselves.

Early this past October we hosted our first annual Delt Open Tennis Tournament. Alpha Chi Omega Sorority won the doubles tennis tournament, narrowly beating a team from Kappa Delta in the finals for the win. This event was very successful, the ladies and the brothers had a great time and we were able to donate all profits to the American Red Cross to help with the September 11th relief effort. Deltas attending the Georgia game were surprised and delighted to hear the halftime announcement that Delta Tau Delta and Delta Delta Delta Sorority had prevailed in Sigma Kappa's annual Money Wars for Alzheimer's. This semester we began a new mentor program for at risk students at our adopted Dogwood Elementary. Each week brothers spend one hour, tutoring and mentoring a student who is struggling in school and often time lacks a positive male role model. These, as well as several other projects, the Deltas at Tennessee have culminated in almost 700 hours in community service so far this semester.

This semester we've continued to reach out to our alumni. Each football weekend brought more and more alumni to the shelter to share in the brotherhood of bratwurst and Tennessee football. At our annual parents and alumni weekend, we were honored with the opportunity to present Brother John W. Fisher class of '38 an award recognizing him for lifelong contribution to our chapter. Later that semester we had the pleasure of welcoming the Cumberland Trio, a bluegrass quartet formed in the late fall of 1962, back to the University of Tennessee as a part of Homecoming weekend. "They're called a 'trio' 'cause the only three that matter are Deltas." This semester also saw the first issue of the Crescent, our chapter's new newsletter, mailed to our alumni. We would like to ask any alumni it did not get to, to please let us know.

Most recently, we had the pleasure of initiating six new members into our chapter. These men have already involved themselves in our community and campus. We are sure that these six will surely strengthen the name of Delta Tau Delta at the University of Tennessee. We look forward to what we believe will be a big spring rush, as several other rushees, who wanted first to prove themselves academically, begin expressing interest in the Fraternity.

We are excited about the upcoming semester. We know it will be a very prosperous one for our chapter. Rush, for us, is already underway. Our social calendar is already filling. And most importantly every brother here is looking for his part in strengthening our chapter and our fraternal bond.

DELTA EPSILONUniversity of Kentucky

The brothers of Delta Epsilon are enjoying a time of newfound freedom and renewed commitment to living lives of excellence. Delta Epsilon is no longer under the control of an alumni supervision committee. The committee is happy to step down and see what the rejuvenated Delta Epsilon Chapter is capable of achieving. The University of Kentucky Deltas wasted no time in proving itself to not only the alumni supervision committee, but the university and the National Fraternity.

Delta Epsilon has enjoyed great success already in almost every area possible. The semester began with a reception from the university's new President Dr. Lee Todd. The reception was held at the president's mansion and attended by active members and rushees. The active chapter was highly selective and employed a policy of quality over quantity that produced a pledge class of 15 young men none of whom carry a GPA of less than 2.8. The Initiation of these 15 members in January and the December graduation of seven active members once again put the active membership of Delta Epsilon at 100 strong. Overall, the active chapter has excelled in academic life. A steady increase in grades has led the chapter to a GPA of 2.79, the highest in five years. The brothers share their academic knowledge with the children of Maxwell Elementary school during weekly tutoring sessions as part of the Adopt-a-School program.

On campus the Kentucky Deltas have earned the attention of the university and the rest of the Greek community. Delta Epsilon was honored with the Wildcat Cup, the highest award in the Greek system for all Homecoming events combined. The Deltas have also shown off their athletic talent in intramurals sports as the soccer team made it to the finals of a highly competitive soccer tournament.

Delta Epsilon has several new officers both within the Fraternity and on IFC. Nathan Peacock and Jeff Powell have assumed office as the internal and external vice presidents of IFC. Eric Ritter will take over Peacock's duties as Delta Epsilon treasurer and Adam Block assumes the role of pledge educator for the spring semester.

The brothers of Delta Epsilon realize the importance of alumni involvement. Weekly formal dinners have included many alumni guests as well as community and university officials. Homecoming with the alumni was a success and the brothers look forward to an equally pleasant Founders Day. Founders Day is tentatively scheduled for the second Sunday in May, so watch for your alumni newsletter to learn more details about upcoming events. If you are not receiving your alumni newsletters, please contact Delta Epsilon.

Finances

The finance committee is like the offensive line of a football team. You never hear about it unless it is not doing its job. Rarely is the success of a chapter attributed to a well-run finance committee, but rarely is a chapter successful without one. So in this column, I would like to recognize three finance committees from across the Eastern Division that have stood out in the past year.

Upsilon Chapter at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Technology in Troy, New York is one of these chapters. After suffering the loss of their accountant and roughly $5,000 because of it in the spring of 2001, the chapter was in a financial bind. But Chapter Treasurer William Goulston has been able to take on all of the operations previously handled by the accountant, and now the chapter appears to have fully recovered. In fact, the loss of the accountant may have been a blessing in disguise. Money is now more readily available and William's tracking of receivables appears to be more thorough than that of the accountant. This potentially major problem was averted through William's significant efforts. From this, it is evident that undergraduates can do a thorough and efficient job handling large budgets.

In the past, our Beta Mu Chapter at Tufts University in Medford, Mass. consistently suffered from poor collection. This year, by making the decision to go to with Omega, a financial management company, the chapter has significantly improved collections and is thus able to stay current with the House Corp and provide much more programming for its members. To learn more about Omega Financial, check out their website at www.omegafi.com.

And finally, at Pittsburgh University, our Gamma Sigma Chapter started off the fall of 2001 in a dire financial situation. In one short semester, Chapter Treasurer John Algie and Chapter Advisor Nick Frollini helped Gamma Sigma collect over $3,000 in past receivables and pay off over $10,000 in past payables. This is an astounding turnaround and as a result, the chapter morale and brotherhood have greatly improved. Gamma Sigma's is a great example of how quickly a dedicated chapter can turn around a poor financial situation.

These chapters serve as great examples of how a well-run finance committee can lead to a much more positive Delt experience.

CHAPTER REPORTS

DELTA ZETA University of Florida

This chapter did not submit a fall semester chapter report. For information on this chapter, please contact the chapter president at 352-337-1067.

DELTA MU University of Idaho

As the fall session comes to a close here at the University of Idaho, the men of the Delta Mu Chapter are able to proudly reflect on an excellent semester. Moral was soaring throughout the shelter after the fall rush graced us with 26 fantastic pledges that have since taken a very active role in their house.

The U of I Delt is continuing to be exceedingly involved in their community. We are currently in the midst of our Adopt-a-School philanthropy and have already pulled together for our first highway cleanup of the year. Our annual Todd Pierce Memorial golf tournament took place on Dads Weekend and the turnout was better than we expected as all who participated had a good time. We successfully put on the first annual I-cup ultimate Frisbee competition jointly with the Alpha Phi Sorority and are excited about the tradition that is sure to follow. The I-cup raised money for the Red Cross.

In addition to our philanthropies, our intramural teams for the fall season have also done very well. We once again reached the finals in Ultimate Frisbee and finished in the latter rounds in soccer, volleyball and football.

New officers have just been voted on and we are all very excited with the excellent new panel of leaders. Here at the Delta Mu Chapter, we are continuing to suit our reputation as a campus strength.

We at the Delta Mu Chapter are energized with our various achievements from last semester and from our shelter's perch atop what has come to be known by the locals as "the Delt Hill" we are looking forward to a wonderful spring.

DELTA NU Lawrence University

The immediacy of our housing situation has become of extreme importance in the last two months. The board of trustees has approved a plan for a new student center to go directly on the location of our current house. Although construction will not begin for at least a few years, our main concern lies in whether the university will honor our 1941 contract that states they must provide us with comparable housing. We would like to take this opportunity to thank our local alumni, especially Mr. O.K. Johnson, and nationals, via Mr. Kazarian and Mr. Stevens for their continued support on this matter. If any alumnus have any questions or would like to talk about the housing issue, please feel free to contact our President, Brion Winters at (920) 832-7178.

On a more positive note our activity this semester has been outstanding. We continue to volunteer at the local Boys and Girls Club and each member contributed $5 to help the relief efforts in New York City. We also have brothers participating in Larry Buddy (tutoring program), Into the Streets (Campus Community Service Project) and assisting local hockey teams.

Along with our commitment to philanthropy, the brothers of Delta Nu have continued to excel on the athletic field. Zach Michael, a wide receiver for the football team, is now the universities all-time leader in receptions in a game, total yards receiving in a game and total receptions in a single season. Tom Conti, a member of the hockey team, is now Lawrence's all-time leading point scorer.

DELTA XI University of North Dakota

You begin walking into the Student Union of the University of North Dakota. The four-story building is virtually empty, but you decide to trek on because your kids are tugging on your arm. Peering ahead you see the old bookstore, tonight's destination. Sounds of horror, followed by screams that seem to resonate from the path ahead, but for now you are waiting. The suspense is building. You are waiting for the chance to see if, hopefully, you can fare better than the group ahead of you.

Your group is called, and you can feel your stomach begin to tighten up. The first room you get to is "Alien Autopsy." You see a man dressed in white scrubs with a scalpel in his hands. After some explanation you are offered to assist him with this operation. Dr. Schletty begins his operation by cutting open the alien's torso, and if you decided to help, that's right; you get the luxury of helping to clean out the insides of an alien. If you had the guts to handle this, as about 20 percent of the groups didn't, it was off in to the darkness that awaits you.

By feel you guess you are in a hallway, yet you are not sure since you just went from a completely white room to a pitch black room. While your eyes are adjusting, something sticky begins to pull on your clothes. Something brushes your face now, and you bump into someone in your group for you couldn't see her. The both of you now jump and start screaming; to make things worse you are disoriented. You begin to walk back to the beginning of the path because you can't tell you are now going the wrong way. The tour guide yells at you to turn around. Walking through the remainder of this hallway, about 200 insects hanging from the ceiling seem to bump into you, stick to your clothes and tangle you up.

This was just the beginning tour of the annual Delta Tau Delta Haunted House. For another year the Delt's not only scared area children and their parents, but raised almost $1,500 for the Dakota Science Center and provided roughly 200 items of non-perishable food items for the Salvation Army's Thanksgiving Baskets.

DELTA OMICRON Westminster College

The men of Delta Omicron, staying true to form, have begun yet another brilliant year at Westminster College. The active members began the year by hosting a weekend blowout in which actives and alumni worked side by side to make improvements to the shelter. It was a huge success, allowing the active members to get better acquainted with many of the alumni and vice versa. Everyone had a marvelous time and hopefully we can continue this new tradition.

Delta Omicron had a very successful rush, selecting 17 new freshman affiliate members to continue the well-rooted traditions of our brotherhood.

Delta Omicron has amassed a very impressive list of philanthropic ventures this year, already eclipsing last year's success. So far this term Delta Omicron has sponsored and participated in blood, bone marrow and organ tissue drives on campus. Actives worked with the Youth Life Improvement Center, Valet-Parked cars for a hospital ball, raked leaves within the Fulton community, participated in "Anchor Splash", "Lyre Fest", "Frats at Bat" and "Cupids for Casa" and donated money to the New York Firefighters Fund and the United Way. Individual members donated their time and talents to help a struggling small business here in the Kingdom of Callaway, while others helped clean up after the destruction of a hurricane in Belize.

Delta Omicron prides itself on its continuing traditions of academic excellence. Once again this chapter accumulated a total GPA of over 3.0. By providing a positive atmosphere wherein our actives thrive academically and socially, Delta Omicron has come up with a winning formula that has stood the test of time here at Westminster College. To ensure continued academic prominence, Delta Omicron has implemented a new academic strategy to supplement our already celebrated academic traditions.

Whether in the classrooms or on the sports fields, Delta Omicron is a force to be reckoned with. With many dedicated varsity members of the college football, basketball, baseball and cross country teams, as well as formidable intramural teams, Delta Omicron is an athletic powerhouse.

The brotherhood experience here at Delta Omicron can best be exemplified by instances such as the night when the entire chapter worked together to erect a 30-foot tall Christmas tree in front of our shelter.

Recently, Delta Omicron mourned the loss of Brother Bob Young '96. He will be greatly missed.

Here at Delta Omicron, our solid academic and moral foundations, combined with our strong brotherhood and social traditions, create an environment that has been and will continue to be conducive to success, and a place that we are all extremely proud to call home.

DELTA SIGMA University of Maryland

The previous semester continued to be a whopping success for the Delta Sigma Chapter at the University of Maryland. Firstly, we took part in a 1980's cartoon-themed Homecoming with the Alpha Epsilon Phi Sorority this past fall. Although we did not place in any procedures throughout Homecoming, which happened to be quite competitive, we did participate and put forth valiant efforts in several events such as volleyball, kickball and the skit competition. Furthermore, the Delt's annual tailgate for the Saturday Homecoming football game attracted a large turn out of alumni and family, and because we beat up on Duke by a score of 59-17, everybody left with a feeling of sheer contentment.

Once again Delta Sigma was extremely active in philanthropy by continuing Delta Tau Delta's national philanthropy program Adopt-a-School for a third consecutive semester. The teachers and students greatly appreciate the effort put forth by our active and eager brothers. Our annual Powder Puff sorority football tournament was a great success; proceeds went to benefiting the American Heart Association.

We are all very proud to announce that Ian Wolkoff was elected Interfraternal Council (IFC) risk management chairperson, and we recently voted in a new Chapter President, Nick Burkholder, who proceeds a tradition of hard working and effective presidents, our last being C.J. Carey. We are all very proud of their accomplishments and successes. Delta Sigma's chapter GPA of 2.96 for spring of 1999 placed us well above the All-Men's average.

We initiated six flourishing new members this fall semester, and they were active in chapter activities such as athletics, philanthropy and vision. Also, we annually attended and enjoyed our fall date party that took place at the Maryland Renaissance Festival in early October. We ate jumbo turkey legs, threw spears and ninja stars, spoke in our best Scottish accents and had a ball! Also, we just recently threw our formal at the Renaissance Hotel in Baltimore, which predictably, was quite a gala. We had a fun and safe semester hosting extravagant parties such as an 80's party fully equipped with a very entertaining cover band, a toga party and our annual Halloween bash.

We are looking forward to another captivating semester here in College Park and wish you all continued success for the future.

DELTA TAU Bowling Green State University

The Delta Tau men have been extremely busy this last semester. We have been doing many fundraisers, participating in philanthropies, giving back to the community and staying highly involved on campus.

We took a weekend and went to Cedar Point to work in the haunted houses. The members dressed up in costumes and scared the people who walked through. It was very successful because we raised over $3,000 in that weekend. We also held our Delt Derby philanthropy to benefit the Children's Miracle Network. We raised $500 dollars for the CMN. Additionally, our fall rush was also successful in that we found 12 new members. Though the number is not that high, all of these new members are going to be strong additions to our chapter.

In sports, we have finished second in softball, fourth in football and currently working on winning ultimate Frisbee. We will be holding our annual alumni golf outing this April. This event has been very positive for our alumni relations and keeping them involved.

This past weekend, our brothers participated in our annual community service with the Salvation Army. Many of them weathered the high winds and rain to raise money for the Salvation Army. We will also be participating in the annual Dance Marathon that raises $250,000 for the Children's Miracle Network. We plan to have at least two to three dancers and numerous cheerleaders at this event.

The men of Delta Tau are making a positive presence on the BGSU campus and throughout the community. We hope this semester to be a building block for all of the semesters to come for the men of Delta Tau.

DELTA PHI Florida State University

Over the past year, our chapter has continued to personify excellence on our campus. Over the last year, we have initiated 24 quality men, enabling us to continue as one of the largest fraternities at Florida State. We were competitive socially, we won the Overall Intramural Championship and we continue to be a force academically, adding two more men to our group of National Merit Scholars, bringing the total to seven. Twelve members of Delta Phi were named Kershner Scholars this fall and we had men initiated in Phi Beta Kappa, Golden Key, Omicron Delta Kappa, Order of Omega and Alpha Kappa Psi honoraries.

Paired with the ladies of Delta Gamma, we had a successful Homecoming last fall and currently we are paired with Kappa Delta for Dance Marathon, the campus-wide philanthropy which every year raises thousands of dollars for the Children's Miracle Network.

Speaking of philanthropy, Delta Phi broke ground this year on a bold new campus philanthropy. The first edition of Delt Knockout, an interfraternity boxing tournament, raised over $2,000 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. It was the largest fraternity-run philanthropy this year and it promises to only get better.

Relations with our alumni have improved greatly over the last year. Large numbers came back to the shelter for barbecues and our House Corporation is doing a great job setting up alumni events.

We have started the new year with a bang. We believe we have a shot at the highest GPA on campus, we are in the driver's seat for another intramural championship, we are gearing up for a great fall rush and brotherhood and morale are at an all-time high. If any alumni know of quality men headed for Florida State that would like to be a part of the best fraternity on our campus, please give Brian Diesselhorst a call at (850) 224-4007.

DELTA CHI Oklahoma State University

The summer and fall of 2001 proved to be prosperous and beneficial for the men of Delta Chi. Our summer rush proved successful by recruiting 33 young men from Oklahoma and surrounding states. These young men have brought a new light to the fraternity and we have high expectations from them in the future as leaders. These young men have also contributed financially by bringing the house to near full capacity.

The fall is always an exciting time at Oklahoma State for the members of Delta Tau Delta. Every year the Greek system at OSU puts on the largest Homecoming celebration in the nation. This year we participated in the Homecoming competition along side the women of Kappa Alpha Theta. We received the honors of second place in sign decoration and a gold rating in the blood drive.

I would like to take this time to thank Mr. Joe Taylor for his generous donation of a baby grand piano to the shelter. We intend to put this generous gift to good use and bring back the musical traditions of Delta Tau Delta.

Philanthropy has always been Delta Chi's strong point, and it continues still today. As a chapter we have completed over 1,766.50 hours of community service this semester. In conjunction with community service the chapter has also donated in excess of $6,550 for 2001. We hope this remarkable stride towards excellence will give Delta Chi a recognizable name when the word philanthropy is mentioned. We would like to personally thank Enrico Wallace for his time and dedication to organizing our philanthropy.

All in all the fall semester of 2001 has been successful and provided many learning experiences. We would like to invite all alumni to come by and see the future of Delta Tau Delta at Oklahoma State.

DELTA OMEGA Kent State University

It's been a great year for Delta Omega. After coming off an uplifting spring, we have continued our pursuit of excellence by recruiting our largest pledge class in two years. We have found 13 great guys that have committed their lives to excellence. As for academic success, we also continued to increase, averaging a 2.83 GPA for the past spring and hoping only to increase in the fall. Eric Turney was awarded highest GPA in all fraternities and was fourth in all the Greek system, while John Brayer was 14th in the Greek system. Also continuing excellence on campus, our float placed second in the Kent Homecoming parade.

In regards to the shelter, it looks the best it has in 15 years. Renovations to the shelter are finally complete. Bushes have been pulled, flowers have been planted and walls have been painted. We received all new windows, including glass block in our basement, a new fiberglass front door and new carpet throughout the house. We received multiple compliments from alumni and parents at Homecoming regarding the shelter. With completion of the renovations and the large pledge class this semester, Delta Omega has turned itself around and is one step closer to being atop Kent State once again.

EPSILON BETA Texas Christian University

The men of Epsilon Beta are extremely proud to report the success our chapter has enjoyed over the past semester. We started the semester by greatly exceeding our rush goals and pledging a new member class of 39 men.

Throughout the next two months, Epsilon Beta succeeded in placing in the top three spots for sorority philanthropies, benefiting charities such as the Ronald McDonald House and breast cancer research. We are currently raising $1,000 as part of the Interfraternity Council/ Panhellenic Council's plan to raise over $25,000 to be used to boost enrollment in the RISE school for children with Down's Syndrome. We continue to excel both academically and athletically on campus and maintain our position as true leaders in the TCU community. We have continued to increase participation in brotherhood activities such as weekly barbecues and football games.

We look forward to hosting the divisional conferences for the Western Plains division in February of 2002. We are acquiring new chapter room furniture and continuing to remodel the Delt house here. Hopefully everything will be in good shape to properly display our house in February.

We can't wait to see everyone in Fort Worth in the coming months.

Academics

Excellence in the classroom is a direct reflection of our chapters and our membership. We go to college for one reason—to get an education. The experience in the classroom and how chapters do academically says a lot about the men in our organization. When it comes down to it, if we don't succeed in the classroom, we can't succeed as Deltas.

Academic excellence takes a lot of work, but if the members of the chapter are given programming to help guide them, it can be easy! Beta Tau Chapter at the University of Nebraska has an excellent academic program. The members of the chapter receive an academic manual at the beginning of the semester so they know exactly what their obligations are, what their resources are and what is expected of them.

One of the exciting aspects of Beta Tau's academic program is that there is a pride factor. The chapter realizes that academics are important and they stress it. They strive to excel. Historically Beta Tau is in the top third academically on Nebraska's campus. Now, first off one might say—why not number one? Beta Tau had a 3.14 GPA last spring has hopes of near that level for the fall 2001. A 3.14 is a great GPA.

The members of the chapter maintain a progress report for each class that they are enrolled in. This form includes class time, professor, grades, major exams, paper dates and GPA goals. The progress reports are to be used twice a semester so the Academic Affairs Committee can track the membership's grades and get them help if they need it.

The chapter has study tables on a weekly basis Sunday through Thursday. This is required for new members and members on academic probation. The study tables are a great way to get everyone on the right track and focus on academic excellence.

Beta Tau's incentive's program is one of the best ideas I have seen at a chapter over the past semester. If a member gets two As on tests or projects worth 20 percent of their total grade they get study table hours off for an evening. The semester also has a board up in their dining room with everyone's name on it tracking good grades for the semester. The members with the most As get recognized. The chapter tracks As on tests, so members can see who is doing well. They have an Academic Achievement Program that encourages every active member and pledge by giving them a chance to receive a $100 scholarship. The chapter has a drawing based on GPA; the higher the GPA, the more times your name will get in the drawing.

The Beta Tau Chapter also offers a "Hardest Worker" scholarship of $100 given to the tow members (one active/one pledge/neophyte) who best exemplifies hard work and dedication towards academic achievement. This scholarship is voted on by the chapter.

Academic excellence is not only each individual member's responsibility, it is the chapter's responsibility to promote and provide a positive environment and attitude towards academic success. Beta Tau does an excellent job promoting the importance of succeeding in the classroom and their results have proven over the past few years that academic success is easy!

CHAPTER REPORTS

EPSILON GAMMA

Washington State University

Epsilon Gamma is steadily growing, furthering along our capacity to lead lives of excellence. With renewed alumni support and a little help from Epsilon Gamma parents, we were able to put in new windows, new borders on the second floor, new tiles on the first floor and new stair covers for the basement steps. We have just begun work restoring the sauna for use and are taking estimates on our roof.

Dads Weekend was again a success and the Epsilon Gamma dads raised over $1,400 towards the improvement of our chapter house.

Alums, be on the lookout for the Alumni Newsletter, which we are attempting to send out semesterly if not bi-semesterly. Contact Mike Bennett at wsudelt657@aol.com if you'd like to confirm that we have your address.

The men of Epsilon Gamma tried to do our part in helping out the Red Cross following the September 11 tragedy. Project American Flame had members switch off hourly for 24 hours, watching an ever lit candle in a vigil for those who died. We collected over $350. Also, the proceeds from our annual DeltFest went to the Red Cross. Various bands, good food and intermittent football game reports helped us collect over $700.

Intramural sports, we have teams that have done well in both softball and football and we received second in volleyball. We took first in Alpha Omicron Pi's football tournament which subsequently helped us win their philanthropy. Jordan Parrish took second in singles tennis, and Jordan and a partner took first in doubles.

Speaking of Jordan Parrish, he just took a position on the undergraduate council with the Fraternity. Closer to home, Ryan Pirkle was just named IFC public relations chair. Congratulations to both members.

In rush this year we picked up 14 pledges, and seven more from informal rush. Our house total, members and pledges, is now 52. Quite the jump from the 24 of last year.

We continue to be as a chapter heavily involved in both Adopt-a-School and GAMMA, the Greek self-policing force here at WSU. The future brightens with every day for our chapter.

EPSILON DELTA CRESCENT COLONY Texas Tech University

The re-colonization efforts of the Texas Tech University Crescent Colony continue with success. Combined, we still have one of the highest GPAs of all fraternities at Texas Tech thus continuing our reputation as one of the most respected Greek organizations on campus.

Our largest event of the fall was the "Reunion of Reunions" held November 2. The re-colonists of Epsilon Delta would like to publicly express our gratitude to Mr. Bill Windsor for developing the concept of this reunion, Mr. David Hart for handling all the arrangements and Mr. Kent Hance who served as Master of Ceremonies. Over 400 were in attendance.

In November we elected new officers to serve throughout the spring. Senior Jason Robison from Lubbock, Texas, is our new president. Our external vice president, sophomore Jason Kogler, is from Coppell, Texas. Our internal vice president, sophomore Kevin Joyce, is from Plano, Texas. Secretary Josh King, senior, from Wichita Falls, Texas, was reelected and treasurer Brad Young, senior, from Canyon, Texas, was also reelected to his position for another year.

There are many projects and activities that we, as a chapter, have completed and many more ideas and goals we wish to undertake in order to promote Delta Tau Delta as the leading organization on the Texas Tech campus. The officers, as well as the pledges and other colony actives, take their Delt responsibilities, at both the national and local level, very seriously.

In the fall we attained a successful rush of 30 quality guys. Thanks to our rush chairman we mounted an even more powerful rush during the spring. Throughout the spring we held numerous recruitment events paving the way for our most productive fall rush ever. Our co-chapter advisors, Jim Gilbreath and Dal Burrous, continue to assist the pledge trainer in developing a stellar associate membership program.

The Tech Deltas consider athletics a vital pillar to constructing and holding onto the seamless organization status we've achieved. We compete in all intramural sports battling head-to-head against other large division fraternities. We are proud of our teams and support them energetically by attending games as a chapter. We have not won all of our games, but the scoreboard is turning in our favor as our colony diversifies its base and seeks out athletic talent during rush.

We have initiated our "Adopt a School" program and so far, the results have been astounding. We adopted the Lubbock Boy's Ranch, a home for underprivileged boys. Most of the resident boys have never spent time with anyone in college. Our role as mentors is key in their lives. They look forward to each and every visit. This spring we also plan on participating in Arbor Day, a huge Greek tradition on our campus, and have numerous other community service projects in the work as well.

The Tech Deltas continue to be a united chapter boasting of our strong diversity. That being said, we enjoy activities that bring us together. The social calendar for spring 2002 is filled with a theme or date party nearly every other weekend. We have begun mixing with top sororities on campus. Our parties have attracted the highest caliber of women as our reputation continues to grow. Keep in mind, these parties are not mere social events for us, but instead opportunities for us to grow together as a group and create memories that will last a lifetime.

During the weekends a social event is not planned, a brotherhood event is scheduled. We typically spend brotherhood weekends camping out at White River, a camp ground nearly an hour outside Lubbock. We sing Delt songs, complain about present or past girlfriends and bond as brothers.

We have taken pride in our long-standing tradition of excellence at Texas Tech. Plans are still in the works for building the finest lodge on Greek Row. The alumni support of the project continues to be overwhelming. The sentiment amongst the chapter is that this dream will soon become a reality.

We expect to receive our charter and are dedicated to positively impacting the National Fraternity in the future. The Tech Deltas continue to work hard in striving to attain lives of excellence and look forward to many positive years ahead. For more continuously updated information regarding the events surrounding the Texas Tech Deltas, log onto our website and visit us online. We'd love to hear from "ya'll." EPSILON EPSILON University of Arizona

We are coming to the end of the first full year at our new shelter and things are going great. The house is now completely furnished and landscaped and it looks great. Our membership is increasing and the house has been full all year.

Our new philanthropy, the Delt Games, was a great success this fall semester. We raised over 5,000 pounds of food for the needy and donated quite a sum of money to a local charity. The philanthropy included a week of friendly competition between Greek houses on campus in order to raise money and food. With our wonderful success we are planning to make an annual event.

As always we started the new year with many members in leadership positions on and off campus. Joel Burnstein was elected to the Interfraternity Council and Greg Altman is serving on the school Judicial Board governing the Greek system. Many of our members also lead various clubs around campus, and many others volunteer at an off campus community service program called Project Shine.

This has been a great year for us on our campus. With our strong freshman class, our future looks very bright and we have much to look forward to in the coming years.

EPSILON ZETA Sam Houston State University

Recruitment was a huge success here at Epsilon Zeta as we exceeded our goals and expectations for this fall semester. Recruitment chairmen Mark Brown and Steven Thiele with

by Chapter Consultant Perry Hurth

the help from the rest of the Epsilon Zeta members accepted 24 new pledges, three of which are legacies.

Initiation will be held on December 9, and International President Dr. Robert Roush will be in attendance as well as many other distinguished alumni. This fall semester marked the beginning of the Delta Tau Delta Invitational Golf Tournament, which was a huge success. The tournament brought brothers from all pledge classes together for a round of golf.

Proceeds from the tournament benefited the Good Shepard Mission and other community service projects. We recently adopted a two-mile stretch of highway 1791 for Adopt-a-Highway, and our food drive for Good Shepard Mission is currently in progress. In sports we placed third overall in football and we are currently first in soccer with playoffs just beginning. We are still in contention to win the all-sports trophy for a third year.

We would also like to remember two of our brothers that have passed away this semester, Mr. Danny Wolda and Mr. Marvin Barrera. These two men contributed much to the chapter as members and as alumni. They will be deeply missed.

EPSILON ETA

Texas A&M at Commerce

The men of Epsilon Eta have had an excellent year full of successes, and are showing the A&M Commerce campus what it means to be "committed to lives of excellence." We recently obtained the highest social fraternity GPA on campus for the third semester in a row! We also just completed our "Delt Haunted House" event. Thanks to the hard work and dedication of every brother, we were able to raise and donate $1,000 to the American Red Cross! We would like to thank all of our Alumni who participated in our 40th Anniversary a few weeks ago. We had a great time and enjoyed the opportunity to get to know you all. Thank you all for your support.

We are currently looking forward to next semester and what is sure to be a successful "Delt Relays," which will also raise money for the American Red Cross.

EPSILON IOTA A

Kettering University

The events of September 11 have had their toll on all of us especially the family of Brother Mark Wurth or "Zeke" as so many of us know him as. Brother Wurth is proudly representing not only his country but also our house that has supported Zeke with our letters and our prayers. His mother keeps all of us updated on his situation through e-mail. The brothers of Epsilon Iota A ask you to keep Zeke in your prayers.

Delta Tau Delta is well represented on campus in various campus organizations and councils. Matthew Wendt is the president of SAC or Student Alumni Council. We have several members who hold positions in the school's Greek Council: Dave Garbarino, vice president; Eric Salenbien, head of recruitment; Brad Thomas, athletic chair; Vincent Gusty, social chair and John Aarssen philanthropic chair.

We had another excellent recruiting term receiving 33 of the bid intent cards that we gave out. This was more than any other fraternity on campus. We strive to continue to be the best on campus and our performance shows it.

Our Annual semi-formal will take place February 2 at the Ramada Plaza in Windsor, Ontario. Events include dinner, a slide show and dancing. Each year this event becomes bigger and better and this year promises to be no different.

The brothers of Epsilon Iota A have once again made St. Jude's Up Till Dawn event a huge success. Up Till Dawn is a charity event that raises money for St. Jude's Children's Hospital. Students try to raise a minimum of $100 or more in order to be invited to the Up 'Till Dawn party where students enjoy a live band, card tournaments and other fun events. Our chapter was able to raise more money than any other organization on campus. Our own brother, John Aarssen, organized and directed the event and was able to raise a grand total of $28,000 for St. Jude's Children's Hospital.

Parents Weekend was another huge success due mostly to the planning of Shaun Carrithers. The Parents Auction, where parents bring in items for each other to bid on for their sons, raised over $1,600, which was then donated to St. Jude's Children's Hospital. We also raised over $1,000 from our Car Wash.

Our brotherhood camping trip took place August 17-19 near Tawas City, Mich. at brother Pfendt's parents' cabin. The first night involved bonding and fun with members and rushees, including a brotherhood event where everyone told their best memory as a Delt or while at school.

Saturday involved the choice of either golfing or canoeing down the river. Eighty-five percent of our chapter participated in intramural sports. Our A tourney football took third place; R tourney football took third place; A tourney softball team took second place; R tourney softball took first place; four man volleyball took third place; Shaun Carrithers took first place in tennis singles and Ryan Ward and Shaun Carrithers took first place in tennis doubles.

EPSILON IOTA B

Kettering University

Fall term for the Brothers of Epsilon Iota B has been all but ordinary; it has been an exceptional term with only the possibility of getting better as time goes on.

At the beginning of the term, we were honored with the Dean's Cup Award, Kettering University's highest Greek honor, for the sixth consecutive year. Along with all of the hard work we have put forth in academics, we have also put a lot of time toward projects that not only benefit the school, but also benefit the community. Philanthropic efforts continue in activities such as Adopt-a-School, Adopt-a-House, Habitat for Humanity and Adopt-a-Highway. There is also high involvement in school related activities such as Compass, Discover Kettering and Student Alumni Council.

The brothers of Epsilon Iota B have put a lot of time and effort toward this year's rush that will broaden and expand our Fraternity. We obtained 20 bid acceptors for the second year in a row with a solid rush effort by the entire membership. This is a great accomplishment for our Fraternity because it gives nothing but high expectations of greatness for the future.

Another highlight emphasizing our success this term is the participation in A-tournament intramural sports. Up until last term, we have only participated in R-tournament intramural sports, but this term has been a whole different story. By combining the talent of the previous two rush classes with the experience of the upperclassmen, we have been able to put together an arsenal for the more competitive A-tournament intramural sports. We came out with third place overall in A-tournament intramural football and are awaiting our next soccer game for the championship. Intramural basketball was off to a rough start, but the team has pulled together and made the best of the season so far as we make our run for the Greek Cup, which recognizes the top athletic fraternity.

On a more social note, our spring semi-formal event was a huge success last term. We have also held several mixers with sororities this term, which has brought many new people out to see just what we are all about. Something new for this term was a Fall Alumni Day where our underclassmen and alumni shared their experiences and good times together. Finally, our annual Christmas Party was a success for all the members and bid acceptors who attended.

With generation after generation of quality and upstanding individuals, we look forward to all the success that our hard work has brought us, now and in the future.

EPSILON KAPPA CRESCENT COLONY

Louisiana State University

The next few months for the Epsilon Kappa Crescent Colony will be exciting, as our members wait in earnest at the arrival of our charter. Our goal is reinforced by our continuing efforts at improving the colony's grades, along with the dedication we have put forth in recruiting new members.

With regard to academics, we have established a reward system that provides a generous incentive in meeting our full potential. All of our members are drafted to academic teams, headed up by Joe Matta, Chris Welch, Mark Inman, Mike Whitman and David Munson, our current academic leaders. The group that succeeds in attaining the highest overall GPA receives a cash reward, donated by two of our supportive alumni, Matt Thomas and Jason Tolliver.

Informal rushing in the next few months will test our commitment to seeing our goals reached. We will bring in 15 new pledges by late February to be a full chapter, with 20 living in the house by the beginning of the fall 2002 semester. A plan similar to our summer embassy program will be in effect over the Christmas break. It's designed so that each brother is responsible for meeting potential members in their area. This will undoubtedly be key and we know it will be a success.

EPSILON MU

Ball State University

The men of Epsilon Mu would like to inform you of our great success for the 2001-2002 school year. Our ongoing push towards Hugh Shields excellence is off to a great start, thanks to our old and our new leadership. We ended the semester by initiating 25 men who will surely be an asset to our house and all we strive towards. We are also rushing a new pledge class, who we wish the best of luck as they endeavor to live lives of excellence.

We began the year with a smaller than usual membership, but we have still been able to maintain a dominant presence on the Ball State campus. With our membership now 69 guys strong, we are improving the atmosphere at Epsilon Mu and things will only get better.

Epsilon Mu Deltas continue to be involved in every part of campus life. Scott Williams and John Ridenour are both executive members of the Interfraternity Council. Our annual philanthropic event, Watermelon Bust, was a great success, raising more than $10,000 for Habitat for Humanity. Mike VanPutten was the Watermelon Bust chair this year and he lead the philanthropic to one of its most successful years yet. Our philanthropic committee chair, David Frye, has also kept us very involved with the surrounding community and we have garnered excellent public relations because of his efforts. We also have many members involved in Student Government and the community at-large. We like to think our chapter is one of the best, and our involvement is a major reason why.

Even the shelter has seen her share of improvements this year. We have a newly remodeled Formal that is a welcome addition to our historic house and we would like to thank our alumni who contributed to its construction. Epsilon Mu also has a new ritual room thanks largely in part to one of our alumni Jade McGillem. With our membership growing beyond 70 men this spring semester, we have a house that will

Public Relations

In an era of "image is everything" promotions, our chapters must be mindful of how others view them. No matter the size of the institution, the placement of our shelter, or the quality of men that comprise the organization; one poor piece of publicity will change how we reflect our values.

Using a public relations program, you are able to shape the way all communities picture Delta Tau Delta. At our newly installed Iota Epsilon, public relations are alive and well. From the T-shirts to the rush banners, the men of Iota Epsilon push their strengths such as academic excellence. They also recruited Dr. Roberta Lessor, an esteemed member of the Chapman University faculty and noted sociologist, to assist the chapter in maintaining this strong point. Furthermore, they have created a lasting relationship with many administrators on campus. Through the relationships established, Iota Epsilon spreads the news of their high standards and accomplishments across campus by word of mouth and tasteful publications.

Delta Tau Delta actively relates with Albertson College of Idaho. For, as we become members of this organization, we assume the association's identity. Therefore, we are often described by our affiliation. Students recognize four student government officers by more than their names; they are Deltas. In addition, members work on campus giving tours, serving as RAs and participating in other clubs. Contributing to the campus community gives Theta Psi the ability to promote the Fraternity and attract new members. Positive publicity can breed results in recruitment.

Chapters must also look to push the programming that makes Delta Tau Delta an asset to its college or university. At the University of Washington, Gamma Mu's "Miss Greek" pageant continues to surpass expectations, when it comes to philanthropic events. With the help of a majority of sorority chapters, our men create a memorable experience that allows representatives from each of the sorority houses to display their talents in the name of charity. The pageant itself is the final step in months of fund-raising aimed at assisting cancer research.

As you continue with your lifelong Delt experience, make time to promote this organization in a positive manner. Encourage your chapter to create a program that establishes relations with your campus and surrounding communities.

be bursting at the seams with Deltas, and we love it.

We finished last semester with great success under the leadership of Ryan Rabatin and his administration. Despite some tough challenges facing the chapter Ryan has surely helped us have an outstanding year and make a solid effort towards Hugh Shield Excellence. Leading us into the future will be new Chapter President Kyle Risser, whose strive towards excellence will surely leave us much to tell you about in our next report. Good luck to everyone this semester.

EPSILON NU University of Missouri at Rolla

The Epsilon Nu Chapter has had a great semester. We had a great rush year, getting our second biggest pledge class in our history, as well as the second biggest pledge class on campus this semester. We even have another house on campus that wants us to teach them how to rush!

We have also been active in our philanthropy projects this semester. We had our usual neighborhood barbecues and our annual haunted house, which did very well again this year. We also started a new program this semester, "Delt Outreach," where we volunteer to do yard work, etc. for those in the community who are not able to do it themselves.

The Epsilon Nu Chapter is also celebrating its 35th anniversary this year. We had a big Homecoming celebration, and a lot of alumni came down for the event. We are hoping to see even more alumni down for St. Pats. We will be working hard to make this next semester the best ever, and maybe even return the Hugh Shields to our chapter.

EPSILON XI Western Kentucky University

The fall of 2001 was a great semester for us. We started the school year with an outstanding rush, bringing in the second largest pledge class on campus. We continued participating regularly in Adopt-a-School. Intramurals is on the rise for us this year, which was started off by a much improved flag football season. We look forward to spring semester for basketball season, which will be our strongest sport.

Our individual bills from monthly dues are at the lowest they've been in years. This allowed us to have a great Homecoming. It was held inside Lost River Cave, where there was once an underground night club years ago. It was by far the most memorable Homecoming in years.

On behalf of the brothers of the Epsilon Xi Chapter, we wish the best of luck to all of you.

EPSILON OMICRON Colorado State University

The fall semester has been one to remember. To begin with, rush this year has been quite productive. Through hard work and a little perseverance we were able to add 12 new brothers to our Fraternity. The 12 gentlemen of the Omicron class have been a great addition to this chapter. Through the semester they were able to generate close to $1,000 by working at Avalanche and Nuggets games. They were also able put on a great hot tub formal in our parking lot.

Homecoming this year for the chapter was quite an experience. For the first time the annual "Old Fart Football Game" was played and even though the actives gave a valiant effort, the alumni came away with the win. The chapter also had a first of its kind when E.O took first in the Homecoming parade float contest. Overall, the weekend was a great success and we look for more like this one.

The philanthropy efforts have also increased this year with the improved support from Putnam Elementary towards the Adopt-a-School program. Efforts increased with an 80 percent-plus participation rate due mostly impart from our Vice President Jon Oates. The chapter has also been spending our time cleaning up their section of highway in the Poudre Canyon through the Adopt-a-Highway program.

The chapter this year, however, was also saddened with the resignation of Gary Mitchell. Through his 10 years spent at Epsilon Omicron he managed to see the chapter through colonization, the leasing of a house, a flood and the addition of a kitchen equipped with a four star cook. The chapter however should be in good hands with a new chapter advisor by the name of Dan Kelly UNC '97 who being trained by Gary as we speak.

The elections in November this year also brought a new face to the chapter with the elections of several great officers. The chapter's executive committee will be completely composed of juniors. The alumni should expect great things from this house as we look to our 10th anniversary coming in October of next year.

EPSILON UPSILON Marietta College

The fall semester has been one of great accomplishments for the men of Epsilon Upsilon. After a number of successful fundraisers and community service activities, we are sure to have one of the best years our chapter has seen in recent years. Due to a very successful recruitment, we were able to pledge nine men into the Fraternity. Our intramural flag football team also had a successful season, winning the championship. We also came in second place in the Greek Bowling League. After winning the Academic cup last semester, an achievement the Deltas at E.Y. are trying hard to repeat. Junior Joe Wood had yet another good season for the Marietta football team. Also, this semester, three of our members took a trip to the Founder's House. We would like to welcome our new pledges and our latest initiates into the Fraternity. We also welcome back Junior Chris Hale who was studying in Washington, D.C. this fall. We would like to thank Josh Williams; our chapter consultant who helped us set and accomplish many of our goals this semester and our great alumni who came in droves to Homecoming.

EPSILON PHI Southeastern Louisiana University

The Epsilon Phi Chapter is proud and excited about all of the accomplishments that our members have displayed this semester. We are extremely proud of our 2001 E-Board officers for all of the hard work that these guys put into our chapter. We would like to congratulate Marques Armant and Eric Relle from being initiated in the Order of Omega the Greek honor society. Also we would like to congratulate Darren Dupont and Garrett Schewebe from being elected as IFC officers. As for our community service and involvement on campus, the E-PHI Deltas have displayed the true qualities of campus leaders. We won the IFC participation Points Award and our Adopt-a-School program has been an awesome success. Not only are we tutoring the students at Eastside Elementary School, we have also incorporated our annual Deltas-Do-a-Thousand to raise money for them. For more information about the E-PHI Deltas please e-mail us at: Deltataudelta@selu.edu or call (985) 542-1969.

ZETA BETA LaGrange College

It has been an exciting semester for the brothers of Zeta Beta. Our fall rush was the best in several years and the future looks great for our chapter. We have been involved in several philanthropies this semester. In our most recent one, we served guests at a charity dinner for the LaGrange Pregnancy Center. In addition to participating in various community service projects, our brother were able to maintain one of the top GPAs in the nation. We have also made several improvements to our house and are looking forward to other building projects in the future. Our new officers will take over their positions in February and we hope to have an even more successful semester in the spring.

ZETA DELTA Southwest Texas State University

Things here at the Zeta Delta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta have been going extremely well. This fall has been a rebuilding semester due to quite a few brothers graduating these last few semesters. We had an outstanding rush this fall, almost doubling the size of our chapter. We've managed to retain the top GPA of all IFC fraternities here at Southwest Texas State University for the second year in a row. This fall has also seen quite a bit more social functions due to a more lucrative budget coming from having more new members. These included mixers and some really great date parties. Most of this was due to our current exec board and committee chairs who have all done an outstanding job this past year.

This coming spring we are hoping to have an equally good, if not better, rush. This spring we will also begin the Adopt-a-School program here in town at Travis Elementary School. We're all really looking forward to helping the local youth of San Marcos. The Delt shelter here has been going through some remodeling and additions including: repainting, the addition and near completion of an outside deck, and some minor renovations to our chapter hall. In conclusion, things are going really great for us and we hope that it continues to do so.

ZETA ZETA Morehead State University

This fall has been a busy one for the Zeta Zeta Chapter. We are continuing to renovate the shelter. We have repainted the outside of the house and touched up the inside as well. All and all the chapter has worked together and we have the house to show for it. We had a good turnout of alumni this year for Homecoming. We would like to thank all the alumni that came out.

We are proud to announce the success in the scholarship fund created by the House Corporation. The recipient this fall for Best GPA was Dave Manco with a 3.5. The recipient for most improved GPA was Travis Torrence with an increase of 2.37.

The chapter continues to give to the community, as strengthening community is essential to our vitality. We have continued to be very successful in our Adopt-a-School program. We visit Rowan County Middle School three times a week to help students to further their studies. In addition, we donate time and effort to Adopt-a-Highway and the local S.O.S. project. We hope, by contributing our time to these projects, to better the learning environment to the whole community. This would benefit everyone.

We plan to hold our sixth annual middle school basketball tournament. This provides a fun activity for the kids not only in our community, but surrounding communities as well. The chapter enjoys putting this tournament on because it gives us an opportunity to work together for a good cause. The money raised in this event, as well as all other events, will be donated to the American Cancer Society.

The brothers would like to thank the executive board consisting of Ryan Taylor as president, David White as vice president, Tommy Cains as secretary and Tyler Collins as treasurer. The whole chapter would like to send a special thanks to Dr. Terry Irons who is a model to us all in how to keep going even when life throws us on our backs. Good luck Doc, we all hope for the best.

The brothers of Zeta Zeta would like to wish Joe Leimbach good luck on and off the green as he graduates this December with a degree in golf course management.

The brother of Zeta Zeta would like to wish Taylor Meek a successful future as he graduates with a degree in business.

ZETA THETA Villanova University

As we move into yet another semester, the brothers of Zeta Theta look to continue to build on what we consider to be an already successful year here at Villanova University.

Above everything else, we plan on bringing in a strong recruiting class this semester. Our new administration, which took over immediately following winter break, is very excited to lead the Fraternity into this new year.

After last spring we lost over 20 seniors, but we did not look back for even a second. The largest event so far of the semester was "Phiesta Bowl," our annual flag football tournament that our chapter runs with Alpha Phi Sorority.

Speaking of philanthropy, our Adopt-a-School program is up and running again after a strike-shortened year at Conshohocken Elementary in Conshohocken, Pa., just outside Philadelphia. Working with us in the after school program has been Delta Gamma Sorority, where our brothers all work together as they accumulate their mandatory 10 hours of community service per semester.

Other things we held within our Fraternity included another paintball trip to the Poconos. It was a lot of fun, and we are looking forward to heading out again this semester. Another big trip we took to the Poconos was our Winter Formal, held back in December. The formal was a great time and we hope to make it tradition, along with our Black Tie Formal which we will be holding at the end of this semester in Philadelphia.

Brothers also enjoyed Homecoming this year. Many of those 20-plus seniors from last year were able to return for the weekend, along with many of alumni. In fact, it may have been our largest alumni turnout ever. Thank you to all of those who came out. We hope to see you again this semester at our alumni golf outing and again next year at Homecoming.

So, we consider last semester to be a success, especially after our annual Thanksgiving three on three tourney which we hold within the Fraternity. Brotherhood volunteer work has also contributed to this success. We had brother involvement in both Habitat for Humanity and in the Pennsylvania Special Olympics, held on Villanova's campus, and we hope to carry this momentum into this coming spring semester.

ZETA LAMBDA Western Illinois University

We have experienced a great semester in the fall of 2001. We have brought in seven great new members that will most certainly boost our future on this campus. The Zeta Lambda Deltas have also successfully had our philanthropy, Big Wheels, for the 25th year in a row. Big Wheels, being a non-alcoholic event now, was still able to raise a considerable amount of money for the New York City aid.

We also had our Fraternity formal this past semester where all had a wonderful time. We also had the basement of our house remodeled due to a flooding from last winter. After some patience in waiting, the condition of the shelter's basement is better than ever.

All of the Zeta Lambda Deltas look forward to next semester in meeting all of our goals that we have set for ourselves. We can't wait for rush to find the next quality men to join our folds. We wish everyone good luck with rush and a happy new year.

ZETA OMICRON University of Central Florida

As the fall semester winds down, Delta Tau Delta's Zeta Omicron Chapter has much to proudly reflect upon and also much to look forward to in the spring semester.

Within recent weeks, we have gladly bestowed Brother Badges upon 17 exceptional gentlemen, the largest class of new members in recent years. With them is brought many distinguished honors and much diversity, and well-known trademark of this chapter.

Also this semester our chapter has successfully participated in numerous Greek events, not only making us a better known chapter across the campus, but also strengthening ties between ourselves and the rest of the Greek community. Our chapter, along with Kappa Sigma Fraternity and Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority placed second in UCF's Homecoming, with a well-built float and an exceptional skit. We also participated in Kappa Delta Shakedown and Delta Gamma Anchor Splash, where our chapter also placed.

Besides Greek activities, Zeta Omicron has also participated rigorously in community service projects throughout the city of Orlando. Most notable is our involvement in Habitat for Humanity.

Furthermore, a first for our chapter was the Crescent Moon Alumni Banquet, held on November 16. This semi-formal event was held to honor distinguished alumni of Delta Tau Delta, and also current brothers of the chapter.

As spring semester approaches and new opportunities present themselves to our chapter, we anticipate a successful rush to add to the growth of our chapter. We also hope that with the strong ties of brotherhood and the understanding of the principles this Fraternity is built on, we can make this upcoming semester even greater than fall 2001.

ZETA PI Indiana University of Pennsylvania

It's been another great semester here at the Zeta Pi Chapter. Many of our brothers worked hard over the summer and into the semester on improvements to the shelter and continue to try to keep it looking good. We would like to welcome our new House Corps and thank them for the work they have done so far.

We had another excellent Homecoming placing in third in the float contest and would we like to thank our alumni for coming out. Our formal was held in Niagara Falls, Canada and was a lot of fun! Thanks Tom for making the arrangements. We would like to congratulate our new guys and we put our confidence in them on being good brothers. Our exec board officer transition went well and we wish our new officers the best for the next two semesters. Finally, we would like to thank our advisor, Dan Burkett, for always being there for us. You're the best!

ZETA RHO Eastern Illinois University

This fall has been busy for the men of Zeta Rho. Our members had goals they wanted to accomplish, and we did so in true Delt Fashion. Our first big event of the year was rush, the key to a strong chapter. We met our rush goals with 17 quality guys. They look to be the future of this house. After rush, we immediately started work on our Homecoming float with the grand prize on our minds. We not only won first place in the float division, but we won the Homecoming King and Prince crowns, getting second place overall. Congratulations Jason Guziec and Joe King, you represented our house well! After Homecoming was over, we put a lot of emphasis on our newest community service project, Adopt-a-School. We have gotten quite a response from both our members and Jefferson Elementary School. We would like to thank our old executive board, Brian Dombrowski, Bryan Jesse, Jon Hucke, Joe King, Mike Holden, Bob Graham and Larry Ward. They did an outstanding job and have provided our house with the necessary means to go far. Congratulations to our new executive board, Bryan Jesse, Andrew Zalon, Shaun Burnette, Robert Edwards, Eric Zilch, Charles Burrows and Larry Ward, we hope to see many good things come from this new group of motivated individuals. This being our 20th year at Eastern Illinois University, we hope that the next 20 years are even more successful than the first. There are four Hugh Shields Awards on the wall just waiting for a fifth. Good Luck to all the Delt chapters through the next year. We see the fraternity world adjusting to the 21st Century just as it has for centuries before.

ZETA SIGMATexas A&M University

The 2001 fall semester for Zeta Sigma will be one that will not ever be forgotten. On the morning of October 14, 2001, we lost two brothers, Antonio Torres II and Xavier Monge Ortega, in a car accident. No words can express the feelings of loss we have for these two promising young men. On November 6, 2001, along with their pledge class Upsilon, they were initiated into the Chapter Eternal with the help of International President Dr. Robert Roush and Chapter Consultant Andy Hafner. We would like to thank Dr. Roush, Charles Mallory, Dr. William Birdwell, Andy Hafner and members from Gamma Iota, Zeta Delta and Theta Delta for attending the Ritual and helping us through these hard times. As in all things in life, we are trying to move on and continue the way Tony and Xavier would have wanted us to. Yet, they will always be missed and always have a place in each of us.

Fall rush brought in the first double-digit pledge class (Upsilon) in nearly three years under Rush Chairman Tom Sherman. They will be a great addition to the Zeta Sigma Chapter and should contribute for years to come. The actives of Zeta Sigma continue to impress, having sent two members, Trey Kasling and Pete Kramer, to Leadership Academy. Three more Deltas, Josh Rosen, Ryan Schilcher and John Steed, will represent us at the Future Quest Conferences in January. Also Director of Risk Management, Tom Sherman, is planning travel the Western Division as the new DTAA intern. On campus Joe Handy and Kris Long finished up a successful year on the IFC executive board as vice president of public relations and vice president of scholarships, respectively. Next semester we will again have the maximum of two members serve on the IFC executive board with Kris Long as vice president of community relations and Pete Kramer serving as IFC chief justice. We again had counselors in Fish Camp as well as T-Camp.

Our search for the "Holy House" has significantly improved this semester as Alumni Relation Chair Dain Tolbert and the rest of Zeta Sigma strengthened alumni support for our cause. We will be having our biggest alumni event in years on the weekend of April 6 at Chilifest. All Deltas and alumni from surrounding chapters are also invited to attend. Jerry Cooper, Illinois State '98, has agreed to head our House Corporation and we plan on moving into a house by summer of 2002.

All of Zeta Sigma would like to bid farewell to our good friend and brother Brant Moore, Omicron Pledge Class, as he graduates from Texas A&M University. He plans on pursuing a job in development in San Marcos, Texas.

ZETA TAUUniversity of North Carolina at Wilmington

The fall 2001 semester has proven to be a productive and fun filled four months. The defining characteristic has, without a doubt, been the success of our fall rush. We handed out 30 bids and enjoyed 100 percent bid acceptance. The pledges have worked well as a unit and through the attendance of events they have grown considerably during the semester. They have been given the opportunity to attend several community service projects such as Adopt-a-School, Adopt-a-Spot, Habitat for Humanity and the most recent event, Rock-a-Thon, which was a joint project with a local sorority.

There have also been several Brotherhood Moral events, which were designed to try to bridge the gap between pledges and brothers a little, and really unify the chapter as one entity. These events included Monday Night Football gatherings, weekly dinners at local restaurants, several pledge/brother picnics and a fraternal food fight which doubled as a canned food drive.

Other highlights of the semester included a very successful alumni weekend, which has provided Zeta Tau Chapter with much needed alumni support also the opportunity our chapter had to pin a new colony of pledges at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

In summary, this chapter has reached almost all of the goals it set for itself at the beginning of the semester and has given itself a good start at making the 2001-2002 school year one of the best in Zeta Tau history.

ZETA CHIUniversity of Southern Mississippi

Zeta Chi has had quite an interesting semester. After a wonderful 15th anniversary last spring and another semester being in the top three in grades on campus, Zeta Chi entered the fall semester with high aspirations. Zeta Chi was named number two on campus according to the new Five Star evaluation program for fraternities at Southern Miss, merely a fraction of a percentage from being number one.

Recruitment saw the pledging of seven exceptional men to add to the strength of the chapter. The chapter narrowed these men down to four and initiated each one. These new members have already taken leadership roles in the chapter and show great promise.

The fall also saw a wonderful community service project for Zeta Chi. Hattiesburg was very fortunate this year to have the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Moveable Wall come to the city. Zeta Chi was very excited and willing to do whatever was needed to help the Military Order of the Purple Heart with the wall. Zeta Chi had a billboard made to welcome the wall to Hattiesburg.

We donated our flag pole to be used at the wall which has become a permanent reminder of the wall being at Southern Mississippi. The brothers served as night centennials to help guard the wall. The opportunity was tremendous and we would like to thank the Military Order of the Purple Heart for the opportunity to help.

Zeta Chi also had another great year for AOP Garage Sale were over $1,500 dollars was raised for the United Way and 1,000 pounds of clothes were donated to Christian Services.

Adopt-a-School and Adopt-a-Highway programs were also successful this year.

Zeta Chi is planning a recruitment workshop for January to help us understand the growing needs and concerns of today's freshmen. This will greatly improve our recruitment efforts and help to keep Zeta Chi as number one at Southern Miss.

ZETA OMEGABradley University

The fall semester proved to be an incredible success for the Zeta Omega Chapter, as we pulled together and showed the rest of the Bradley Greeks, as well as ourselves, what we are truly made of.

The chapter saw success in Greek Week, as we teamed up with Tau Epsilon Phi and Chi Omega to win the Pan-Fra Sing competition for the third year in a row. We also placed third in Airband, where we were able to showcase our dancing abilities. Our dominance of the Greek system reached its peak at Grand Chapter, an event where the Interfraternity Council awards the fraternities and sororities for their various achievements. The men of Zeta Omega truly cleaned up at this event, as we took home more awards than any other house on campus. In addition to winning Greek Week, the chapter was awarded the prestigious Ed King Award for fraternity excellence, best public relations for the second year in a row and best risk reduction. Chapter President Sean O'Dell won president of the semester as well as scholar of the semester.

Rush was also a great success for the Zeta Omega Deltas, as Rush Chair Matthew Kuntz led the chapter to welcome 18 new pledges into our brotherhood. We hope that these men, led by pledge class president Steve Lafontaine can take the success of the chapter even further. Parents Weekend proved to be a great time for our families as Kevin Miller organized a brunch at the Weaver Ridge Golf Course, with an auction that raised nearly $2,000 dollars for improvements to our shelter.

Social Chair Chad Matthews planned many exciting events for the chapter, including our annual Spelunking party, where we transformed the entire shelter into a cave, complete with black walls and stalactites. We also held our second annual Halloween date party on the

FOUNDATION HIGHLIGHT*Kenyon Delt receives File Scholarship

Ken File, President of the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation, is shown with John DePowell (Kenyon 2002), the 2002 recipient of the File Scholarship for Undergraduate Excellence. DePowell will graduate in May as Magna Cum Laude with a degree in Biochemistry. He has served Chi Chapter as immediate past president and treasurer. While at Kenyon, he has been honored as a Distinguished Academic Scholar, a Merit List member and was a member of the Kenyon College Swimming and Diving Team. He volunteers at the Kangaroos After School Program, the Good Samaritan Hospital and Hospice of Knox County. The File Scholarship for Undergraduate Excellence is awarded to recognize individual efforts of excellence as well as superior academic achievement.

Spirit of Peoria riverboat. Special Events Chair Chris Brophy organized a luxurious Semiformal at the Eagle Ridge Resort in Galena, Ill., complete with townhouse lodging.

Finally, Zeta Omega voted in its new executive and administrative boards this fall, led by President Larry Johnson and Vice President Brian Wojcicki. The chapter would like to recognize the efforts of the previous boards, thanking them for all their dedication and hard work.

THETA DELTA Baylor University

During the fall 2001 semester the Theta Delta chapter at Baylor University has experienced success in many different aspects of the Fraternity. In academics, the chapter held a 2.9 GPA, which ranked us third among all fraternities. In intramurals, we find ourselves fourth out of 12 fraternities, right in the hunt for top three.

Our Homecoming weekend proved to be successful when the chapter, led by float chairs Casey Gurganus, Andy Speer, Nathan Heersink and Blair Dollens, teamed up with the beautiful ladies of Kappa Kappa Gamma to create an elaborate "Looney Tunes" themed float which placed first among all other participants.

Preparation for All-University Sing is already under way, which is proving to be very time consuming but a great brotherhood experience. Sing chairs Kyle Lewis and Matt Zolfo have prepared a great act and the entire chapter is excited to perform above and beyond all expectations.

Though the chapter is experiencing much success, it is also seeing many changes. This past December, five of our brothers graduated moving on to new adventures. They may be gone, but we will never forget all the time and effort they put forth to make this chapter what it is today. We wish them the best in their future endeavors. With the loss of these great brothers comes the future for our new ones. The chapter was proud to initiate seven new members of the Beta Delta pledge class. These new brothers are already proving their excellence throughout the chapter by serving on honor board as well as rush, service, and fundraiser committees.

We have also experienced a great change with the voting of our new executive board. Former President Eric Ytterberg passed the gavel to newly elected President James Garrett. James has set new goals for the chapter, goals that include obtaining national recognition as well as bringing in a successful spring pledge class. He is raising the bar for our excellence. Furthermore, the recently elected executive board is excited with their newly found responsibilities and hope to bring the chapter great success over the next year. Our involvement with the Interfraternity Council (IFC) has grown with two brothers being elected to executive positions, Blake Anderson (recruitment rush) and John Heinke (scholarship). These two men will prove to be great voices for our chapter. Only time will tell how strong their voices will become.

With spring rush approaching the chapter, rush chairs Kevin McCutchen, Charles Rowlan and William "Wink" Watkins are pulling together to receive one of the strongest pledge classes that the chapter has seen.

The brothers of Theta Delta are striving to represent Delta Tau Delta in the manner that she demands and deserves. Each member has shown the qualities of truth, courage, faith and power. We are committed to our chapter, our brotherhood, our families and our faiths. Each one of us are committed to lives of excellence.

THETA EPSILON American University

This fall semester for the brothers was an exciting one. The morale and involvement of the brotherhood is at an all time high. We continued our tradition as being one of the most respected fraternities on campus.

On November 7, we organized one of American University's largest philanthropy events, the eighth annual Delt Movie Night. Delt Movie Night is a midnight showing of current films at a local cinema. The admission was $2 for fellow students; we raised $1,700, benefiting the United Way's September 11th Relief Fund.

On December 1, we initiated one of our largest fall pledge classes, the Beta Etas. Vic Agadi, Kevin McColaugh, Ben Casolero, Brad Hyatt, Brook Wilson and John Erbach. Their positive presence can already be felt within the Fraternity.

Our chapter has continued to be leaders on American University campus in many respects. We earned the highest fraternity GPA on campus by putting our academics at the front of our responsibilities. John D.A. LaRose is currently the President of the Interfraternity Council. Brother Clark Gregor is the Director of Communications for the Student Confederation. Three of our brothers are starters on the AU ice hockey team.

On October 19-21, we had our alumni weekend. Alumni, including some of Theta Epsilon's founding fathers were present for the weekend's events. The high intensity, first annual, alumni vs. undergraduate basketball game highlighted the weekend. The undergraduates look for revenge in 2002!

THETA ZETA University of San Diego

This semester was another solid stepping stone towards becoming a strong well-rounded chapter on campus. We did several events throughout the semester that were effective in creating stronger bonds within the chapter, but also with the community. We are proud to say that in November we were the winners of Greek Week 2001, beating out four other fraternities. Greek Week is an All-Greek program, which is designed to unite Greek the community together in an effort to create relations with each other and the outside community by donating their time to performing community service. Some of the popular events that take place during this week are penny wars, lip syncs and the famous Greek Olympics. The objective of the penny wars event is to collect as many pennies and as few silver coins or dollars in your chapter's can, the winner is the one with the most pennies and fewest dollars and silver coins. The lip sync involves a fraternity and sorority paired together and organize a skit, that involves singing, dancing and a variety of other artistic movements. There are judges present who decide which pair performed the best and indicate the top three performing pairs. Greek Olympics involves a day long series of events in which sororities and fraternities duke it out against their rivals to see who has more muscle. Some of the events are the forming of Greek letters with people, sorority flag football and tug-of-war. We won second place in the Olympics, but overall we scored more points than every other fraternity. Go Deltas.

On November 16, 2001, we had our first exchange this semester with Sigma Kappa from UCSD. Overall, it was a very successful event. Everyone was happy, especially since the theme was "graffiti" and people were writing all over each other's shirts with colored markers. We plan on having another exchange with this sorority again some time in the future.

Currently we are busy preparing for rush next year. It is vital that we have a large pledge class this spring 2002 semester and our Rush Chair Ryan Kennedy is making sure that it will be a very well planned week. More than half of our brothers are graduating this May 2002 and will therefore cause our chapter membership to drop tremendously if we don't have fulfill our objectives of a large pledge class. Our president, Pat Mahncke, is busy making sure he encourages everyone to do their job, as it will be the difference between a good and a bad rush.

Our Vice President David Morgan, has also had his hands tied making sure social and philanthropy events go well. For the second straight semester we implemented the Adopt-a-School program at a local private elementary school called the Holy Family. Every week our Philanthropy Chair Bryan Rousseau, designates a few brothers to go to the school and help out teachers by tutoring children that have fallen behind in class. This is one of our most effective community service programs we implement each year. The other well-known community service event we hold each year is the "Haunted House" on October 26, in which we set up one of the floors in a dorm building on campus with Halloween decorations. At night children from the surrounding community come and walk through this decorated floor and receive some candy and a few scares.

Some of our future events include Charter Ball, which will be held in May of 2002. This dance, which takes place in the luxurious city of Las Vegas every year, gives active members a chance to see long lost alumni and also a chance to continue to develop a lifelong friendship with them. Our brotherhood chair, John McInnes, is also planning a paint ball trip, which allows the brothers to take out all of their frustrations on each other.

We will continue, as a chapter of dedicated men, to strive towards excellence. There will be several obstacles to overcome in the next few months, but if we continue to work together like we have been doing our chapter will be triumphant.

THETA ETA University of South Carolina

Deltas at the University of South Carolina have repeatedly proven that they are capable of passing any test presented to them. However, the fall semester began with questions that needed answering, the most important being the uncertainty faced after losing a vast majority of Founding Fathers to graduation. During Rush, 29 of the best young men on campus became Deltas, leaving the entire chapter with the responsibility of working with Theta Eta's largest pledge class ever. These young men will be leaders both in the fraternity and on campus, fulfilling the legacy of previous brothers who stood apart from the masses. With so many seniors having departed, younger brothers were needed to step up and take leadership positions; they have not disappointed in this effort. Everyone is encouraged to join other organizations; with memberships in groups ranging from Student Government to Dance Marathon to Greek Week Committee, Deltas are represented across the board.

One of the most exciting events Deltas have been involved in is the organization and running of the Fidler 5K, a race held March 2 in honor of Dr. Paul Fidler, Professor Emeritus at the university and a Delt. His battle with Leukemia has inspired every member of Theta Eta. A special thanks goes to Kevin Snyder, Zeta Tau '98, for his role as chairman of the event. In other philanthropy news, Theta Eta continues its relationship with Brennan Elementary and Adopt-a-School by tutoring students six hours a week. This gives every brother a great deal of satisfaction in knowing that this is a positive experience for the students and the Fraternity. Theta Eta also participated in River Sweep, an effort by Keep America Beautiful that works to keep the rivers and beaches across the nation clean. Theta Eta also placed second in Alpha Chi Omega's Volleyball Brawl, a volleyball tournament held to benefit Sistercare of Columbia.

The 2001 football season gave Theta Eta Deltas a chance to meet Deltas from both the University of Georgia and the University of Florida. It was wonderful to talk to members of two Hugh Shields chapters and gave Deltas from each school an opportunity to increase brotherhood across three states. In the annual Homecoming Week festivities, Theta Eta and Alpha Delta Pi teamed together to finish second, an encore to the third place award received last year. Intramural sports have always played a large role in brotherhood and this year has proven to be no different. Whether it was football, soccer, volleyball or basketball, Theta Eta cheered their brothers on to victory. The semi-annual Brotherhood Retreats were also a success, as the pledges were able to see the interaction of all the brothers together at the same time and hear each brother speak about the Fraternity in his life. To learn more about Theta Eta or inquire about the Fidler 5K, visit our website at: www.sa.sc.edu/dtd.

THETA THETA University of Ottawa

The big news among Deltas from the University of Ottawa is the renewed involvement of alumni. Theta Theta has always maintained strong alumni involvement, but fall 2001 saw more alumni return to the Chapter than ever before.

Alumni participation culminated at the end of the semester when over 20 members returned to Ottawa University for our annual Kris Kringle dinner. The event was an enormous success, and definitely our largest alumni gathering in over five years. Much thanks goes out to Keith Chow (University of Ottawa, 2001), Miguel Madeira (University of Ottawa, 2000), Julian Franklin (University of Ottawa, '94) and Tony Monize (University of Ottawa, '94) who made the trip from Toronto in order to attend.

Social life was great for members of Theta Theta this past fall. Mixers were held with local sororities Nu Sigma Pi and Xi Delta Theta. We even had a mixer with Delta Phi Epsilon for the first time in six years.

Involvement in intramural sports was successful. Our hockey team came together as a group and went undefeated during the playoffs to win the consolation prize.

Upcoming events for spring 2002 include Delt Challenge, our annual sleigh ride and formal. This year's formal will take place on March 16, 2002. All activities will be present at formal, and we invite all alumni to join us. Please contact Derrick "Jynx" Fong at 613-282-6368 for reservations.

Please feel free to contact Chapter President Eric Ducasse at 613-740-0464 for any questions concerning Theta Theta, or any of our events. Also, take a look at our web site for a more detailed listing of upcoming events. Theta Theta's website is located at: <http://www.deltas.ca>.

THETA KAPPA University of Nebraska at Kearney

The men of Theta Kappa continue to set the standard on campus for other fraternities to follow. We have done this through our work in leadership, volunteerism and academics.

The men of Theta Kappa also look to improve the house from within by working especially hard on rush. This past fall, we had a good rush, pledging 14 solid young men. We look forward to initiating these members in January. One of the goals we have set for this semester is to improve our recruitment, and the men of Theta Kappa look forward to a strong spring and summer rush with the newly elected rush chairs of Ryan Barker and Jesse Cain.

Theta Kappa plans to continue to build on its excellence with the election of Ben Brachle as president, and the newly elected vice presidents Chip Shield and Jack Kreman. The house was very pleased to meet some of its last semester goals. The house has pulled itself out of debt by the extraordinary efforts of our former Treasurer Chip Shield and former Fundraising Chairman Kevin Keller. Due to these efforts, the house was able to purchase a new 60-inch television at the beginning of the fall semester. This has been one of Theta Kappa's most successful fundraising years with fundraisers that range from working at local hockey and arena football games to bleacher building to magazine sales. We have worked and continue working extremely hard to continue to meet our goals.

The men of Theta Kappa are leaders in many organizations. Drew Young and Jack Kreman work on IFC as secretary and recruitment chairman, respectively. We are involved in a number of campus activities, which include honor societies, majors organizations, various varsity athletics, intramurals, drama and many other organizations.

Theta Kappa also demonstrates leadership on campus through service to the community. Jack Kreman, our former philanthropy chairman, worked very hard to have us involved in many various philanthropies and other community services. As mentioned earlier, we are very active in the UNK Buddy System, a sober driving system for campus. We also help out in the community with Adopt-a-Highway in which the men pick up litter on a two-mile stretch of Interstate 80. Theta Kappa also contributes to the community with Buddy Bowling, a program where the men take a special mentally handicapped friend bowling once a week. Theta Kappa had excellent attendance in the Memory Walk in Cozad to help raise funds for people with Alzheimer's disease. We are trying to adopt Kenwood Elementary for the Adopt-a-School program. The men would like to help this school out with recess time and Room of Knowledge homework time. We have also supported the local Habitat for Humanity on many Saturdays in the fall semester. Theta Kappa's service to the community is yet another way they demonstrate their leadership in the Kearney community.

Finally, Theta Kappa strives to be the academic leader on campus. We currently hold the second highest GPA on campus, but we hope to regain the highest overall GPA on campus by the end of the fall semester. Mat Davey, Academic Chairman, has worked hard with many individuals to improve the overall GPA of the house. He has done a lot of work with pledges to help them earn higher grades and become better assimilated into college. The men of Theta Kappa hold academics to a very high standard, and we are working very hard to regain our position as the highest overall GPA on campus for a Greek organization.

The men of Theta Kappa have had a strong and successful year, and with a very youthful house, we plan to improve much beyond what we have already accomplished. We are looking to improve in all areas, and with strong rush classes in the future we see no problem in attaining our goals.

Theta Kappa would like to thank our alumni for their continuing support, and wish them the best of luck in the future. In conclusion, our thoughts and prayers go out to all who were affected by the September 11 attacks on New York, Washington and Pennsylvania. We support the efforts of the troops in Afghanistan. We pray for their safe and speedy return and our prayers go out to their families and friends.

THETA LAMBDA University of California at Riverside

Theta Lambda has been busy as usual these last few months both in and out of the academic realm. Our softball team won Greek Week competitions, while our other sports teams finished in close seconds and thirds. We are presently fielding teams for intramural basketball, football, soccer and softball, and are considering the possibility of resurrecting our long defunct intramural hockey league as well. Chapter GPA has also improved sizably since last quarter, well above the All-Men's Average with a 2.8.

On the community service side of things, preparations are under way for our first Delta Queen, scheduled for the weekend of March 8. Our second annual golf tournament is in the process of being scheduled and dates will be announced during the next report. Our chapter has also begun working security for various campus

Collins inducted into Bethany Society

At the recent 2002 Western Plains Division Conference in Fort Worth, Texas, the Delt Foundation had the pleasure of inducting Mr. Witfield "Whit" Collins, a 1940 graduate of The University of Texas and Gamma Iota Chapter. Brother Collins is the 105th member inducted into the Bethany Society. The Bethany Society was launched at the 1998 Kansas City Karnea to recognize Delt alumni who have made major cash gifts of $25,000 or estate gifts of $100,000. Members of this society to date have made cash gifts in excess of six million and estate gifts in excess of seven million. Through their generosity and that of all of the Foundation's donors, the Fraternity is able to provide leadership and other educational opportunities to our undergraduates and ensure our commitment to "the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity."

functions as a way to both catch the public eye and do some fundraising.

As far as rush is concerned we're continuing to do remarkably well. We have just recently pinned a pledge class of 13 amazing individuals, consisting of writers, athletes and even a few gun aficionados. We're hoping that by the time you read this the 13 pledges from our Sigma class will add to the already diverse population of the Theta Lambda Chapter. Currently we are preparing for the Chapman Crescent Colony installation (which is scheduled for this November) and all that such an effort entails. This past year has seen a lot of growth and the strengthening of the brotherhood of Theta Lambda and we can only hope to continue this trend on into the next year.

THETA MU Clemson University

The past few months have been marked by great strides in philanthropy for Theta Mu Chapter. Perhaps our proudest achievement is the Adopt-a-School program. We have been active in tutoring students at a local middle school for about a year now, and already we can see the difference that we are making in the lives of young people. Several students have remarked that their grades are higher because of the program and that their homework is not so much of a chore when they have someone to help them along the way. In January, an article about our efforts appeared in local newspapers and we organized a pizza dinner for the children and their parents as a way of expressing our appreciation. We are certainly excited about our success with Adopt-a-School and plan to build on that in the months to come.

In other news, five members of our chapter competed in Gamma Sigma Sigma's Karaoke For Cancer. This event raises money for cancer research while giving teams a chance to show off their singing and dancing skills. This year's theme was "One-Hit Wonders." Our team performed "I Touch Myself" by the Divinyls. Although they did not win the prize, a fun time was had by the participants and the other Deltas who came to cheer them on.

Socially, Theta Mu has kept a busy schedule. Our semi-formal was held in October and a formal is planned for late in the spring. The tradition of cooking out prior to home football games was continued. Alumni and parents stopped by often to enjoy the food and excitement that precedes a Clemson football game. During Homecoming, our chapter rented a dining room and provided a buffet style lunch for all parents and guests who were in town for the weekend. We were also proud to sponsor Cortney Seamon in the Homecoming Queen competition. The panel of judges selected her as one of the top 10 contestants. In December, the chapter decorated a convertible and displayed it in the Clemson City Christmas Parade. This was an excellent way to put our name out in a positive way to the community. Candy was distributed to the children who were watching the parade.

Overall, the Theta Mu Deltas have seen their hard work come to fruition. We look forward to finishing up the 2001-2002 academic year with a great deal of pride in how far we have come and a realization of how much still remains to be done. We know that various challenges may lie ahead, but by working together we can accomplish anything.

THETA NU Southeast Oklahoma State University

This has been a great semester for the Theta Nu chapter at Southeastern Oklahoma State University. We had a great recruitment in which we ended up with eight guys pledging. During our formal Rush Week, we had a wall climb, rode go-carts, ate pizza, went flying and camping.

We also had a retreat that involved the pledges, members and alumni so that everyone could become more acquainted with one another. We had Homecoming in which we built a parade float, went to the game with some of our alumni and were visited by the brothers from the Commerce, Texas chapter.

We have been very active in our philanthropies this semester. In November, we held ECU run in which we get local businesses to sponsor us in a 69-mile run from the campus in Durant to the East Central University campus in Ada to raise money for Toys for Tots. We contributed to our adopted school by watching some intermediate school children while they entertained the elderly at a local nursing home. We have also helped remove old playground equipment and install new equipment for the intermediate kids.

Next semester we hope to have another good group of pledges and some exciting philanthropies to help strengthen our community.

THETA XI Eastern Michigan University

The brothers of Theta Xi are off to another good year. This year we took on 10 pledges, along with many others who want to rush in the winter. This can be due to the great social skills of the chapter and especially Brandon Jones. Now they will be left to Andy Follic to get the education and enrichment to be initiated. We're hoping to get a lot of quality guys to replace the ones we lost last year. Once again we achieved the highest GPA on campus. This is most likely due to the chapter's extensive hours in the library. Once again we had a blast at Homecoming, even though we lost the game. We had our fifth annual old blood versus new blood football game, this is always a highlight of the weekend. During the game, Mike Thomas was named Homecoming Prince, the first runner-up, even though he didn't win we still gave him our support. As far as philanthropy, Steve Hartong and Mike Bauchman are doing a wonderful job. Steve is working his hardest to get people to Adopt-a-School and Mike has helped our chapter raise the most money for "Up 'Til Dawn." Besides that, things are going as good as ever and brotherhood is keeping our chapter strong.

THETA OMICRON University of Northern Colorado

As the conclusion of the fall semester is shortly threshed upon us we once again continue adhering to the Delta Tau Delta mission statement. With our recently initiated Lambda pledge class consisting of 15 stellar individuals (our largest pledge class ever), we are definitely maintaining and striving towards "Lives of Excellence." These 15 new initiates have displayed exceptional leadership qualities and have presented us with a positive outlook for the future of our Fraternity. Three of them now hold positions on the Fraternity's executive committee.

Thanks to the hard work of our alumni chair we were able to attain an anonymous donation of $10,000. We allocated this money into a scholarship fund for individuals interested in joining the fraternity. The requirements for the scholarship are that the recipients must have attained a 3.0 or higher GPA in high school and lettered in either athletics or academics. Not only does this allow us to give recipients the privilege to join the best fraternity in the nation but it also helps us to rush academically sound leaders.

While on the topic of leadership I think that it is important to inform you about how the Theta Omicron Deltas are involved at the University of Northern Colorado. Delta Tau Delta President Kevin P. McCann, Alumni Chair Andrew J. Stoltz and Director of Academics Christopher R. McGilvrey hold three of the nine voting positions on the Student Representative Council for the University, one-third of the voting population! Kevin P. McCann as the vice president for personnel affairs is currently in the process of extending the Thanksgiving holiday so that students have at least one travel day to safely reach their destination. Christopher R. McGilvrey as the vice president of academic affairs just recently passed a "Repeat Delete Policy" which allows all students to improve their GPA by re-taking a class that they received a D or an F. This was a milestone in university history and for Delta Tau Delta because Chris was the first student to ever pass a policy through the faculty senate. Andrew J. Stolz as the vice president of student affairs increased the number of student volunteers on campus by a higher percentage than any of his predecessors and was recognized by the university for his outstanding achievements.

We also recently had two members of our Fraternity elected on to the Interfraternity Council (IFC), the maximum allowed by IFC bylaws. Delta Tau Delta Honor Board Chairman Kyle Pottorf was elected Vice President of IFC and Corresponding Secretary Steven Gustafson was elected secretary/treasurer of IFC. It was one of Theta Omicron's goals to get two Deltas elected on to the council because of the lack of Greek unity on the UNC campus and also to show the local community the positive aspects of Greek life. Together combined with the rest of the Inter Fraternity Council Steve Gustafson and Kyle Pottorf plan to make big changes for the Greek system at UNC including "All Greek Philanthropies."

The UNC Deltas alone have put in close to 900 hours of their time this semester towards Philanthropic events. Philanthropy Chairman Jeff Dodd ran a very effective program. Motivated by the illness of their mother Jeff Dodd and brother John set up fund-raisers for the American Cancer Society as well as many other organizations such as the United Way and "A Women's Place." Jeff also ran one of the most productive Adopt-a-School programs in Theta Omicron history.

Our fall retreat in Winter Park, Colorado plays a very pivotal role in our goal setting and planning for the year to come. We have very high expectations for the coming year and our newly elected officers are very confident that they will be able to fulfill their obligations. Retreat is also a time for discussing where we are at on our long-term goal of building a new Delt shelter. We have had outstanding alumni participation. Our new House Corporation president, former UNC Delt, Marc McCutchen is doing an excellent job of keeping us updated and informed on the status of our financial situation and future plans to help us accumulate more equity.

There are fine things happening at Delta Tau Delta's Theta Omicron chapter and we plan on growing beyond our highest expectations. The leadership here is amazing and the brotherhood seems to be strengthening as time progresses. Special thanks to our Chapter Advisor, Larry Swanson, and the University President/alumni, Hank Brown, for all of their time and contributions to Theta Omicron. The house would also like to thank former President Kevin P. McCann and former Vice President Joe Fransen for their hard work and dedication to the chapter. We wish the newly elected President Aaron Forehand and Vice President Sean Fujimoto the best of luck in their terms to come. As the men of Theta Omicron there is no finer honor to us than to be recognized as a member Delta Tau Delta Fraternity and to be apart of everything she stands for.

Brotherhood

If you look down at the bottom of those posters, certificates, folders, etc. that are blazoned with the mission and values of our great Fraternity you will see at the bottom three words that seem to roll of the tongue with such ease that to some it may be ignored. That last (but by no means least) value is "Brotherhood Sustains Us." Brotherhood is a term that many use loosely and throw it around with no regard and understanding of what brotherhood is all about. Many men across the nation would probably struggle to speak of the difference between brotherhood and friendship. I feel that the one down there on the bottom basically says, without brotherhood none of the before mentioned values will be possible. As we all know our values are reflective of men of goodwill throughout the world, common to men that dedicate their lives to something better than the norm. So we as Deltas, men that have taken a fraternal oath dedicating our lives to excellence shall strive to live a life that is far from the norm of the day. It is when one decides that he wants to live a good life that he needs the assistance of his brothers. Values such as truth, courage, faith, power, integrity and accountability should be driving every Delt's life. But how many times are we tempted to bend the rules for our favor, or not speak up when we know we should, maybe even drop the ball on a project because we know others will pick up the slack. Who is there to steer us in the right direction? Your brothers are. We must all be good brothers not simply friends. Brothers took the same oath, and said without a doubt that they would work toward improving themselves and others. Your brothers were right there when you took that oath, and will call you out for doing the wrong things-embrace them and return the favor, for brotherhood is a two-way street. Living a life of values is difficult and so is maintaining a value-based fraternity. Trust in Brotherhood and we will be successful.

THETA RHO
University of Dayton

The brothers of the Theta Rho Chapter at the University of Dayton have enjoyed a successful fall semester. The chapter celebrates our Fifth Anniversary chartered on campus, sustaining the dreams that Deltism and our founding fathers put forth for us. Wishing to share in the reflection of the past five years and articulate the steps needed to take us into the future, we included alumni from various chapters, brothers and rushes in a ballroom banquet to commemorate the hard work that goes into bringing Deltas to campus and creating a thriving chapter. This event worked to establish our young alumni base as both involved in the chapter after graduation and vigilant at keeping a commitment to a life of excellence. Faculty Advisor and Founding Father Victor Perez and Alumni Chair Dan Heinmiller organized the event.

The chapter also saw the installation of the largest fall pledge class in recent years. The rushes were introduced to the chapter by creative rush events, timely scheduling, and a commitment from a tried and true chapter of Deltas. The new initiates were ushered in by Rush Chair Keith Wilson. A highlight of their pledge period, the rushes experienced a weekend long retreat focusing on building brotherhood through their combined efforts and the participation of brothers.

For the Greek intramural sports competition, the brothers have showed another outstanding semester competing at the top level. Sharing the lead in the combined total of all sports, the brothers took the soccer title for the third year in a row. Also, the volleyball squad was able to win the championship, totaling two championships as well as a runner up in football. On the rise is a very promising basketball squad coming off a successful season last year. The team is led by Chris McCarthy in his final season as Coach. Moving into the winter season, Theta Rho is en route to attaining the first all sports championship in our short history.

The Fifth Annual Hopewalk to benefit the Cancer Society went successfully this year. Teaming up with Phi Sigma Rho Sorority, the event raised money from the area of Dayton. The five-mile run/walk brought the chapter out for a rousing time and a successful philanthropy.

THETA TAU
Moravian College

The brothers of Theta Tau would like to thank the previous officers for their hard work and dedication over the past year. We would also like to wish the new officers the best of luck in the upcoming year. Theta Tau continues to strive towards being the most well-rounded and reputable Greek organization Moravian College has to offer. The chapter recently held its biannual campus-wide dry Beirut tournament.

When Homelessness and Hunger Awareness Week took place at Moravian, the brotherhood collected food for a food drive. In light of the death of a Moravian alumni on September 11th, a fund-raiser was held to start a foundation in his memory.

In the near future, Theta Tau will be participating in an Adopt-a-Family program, which supports a less fortunate family during the holiday season. Also for the holiday season, we will be participating in an all-Greek toy drive. This spring we look forward to a strong rush and large pledge class.

We would like to welcome four new brothers this semester. As for the two departing brothers, we thank you for your friendship and dedication.

THETA UPSILON
Western Michigan University

This chapter did not submit a fall semester chapter report. For information on this chapter, please contact the chapter president at 616-384-9945.

THETA CHI
Muhlenberg College

The fall semester of 2001 has been an exciting time for the brothers of Theta Chi. We initiated one of our largest pledge classes since we became a chapter. All of the new members exemplify all the qualities of a Delt and have already added greatly to the brotherhood. We are looking forward to setting a record for number of spring pledges that will topple last spring's Theta class.

Our seniors are entering into the final stretch of their college career, leaving the rest of the brotherhood to fill new positions. Juniors and sophomores are anxious to become more involved in the Fraternity, however we also will miss the seniors greatly. They have left big shoes to fill and have set a precedent that will be felt many years from now.

We have encountered setbacks this semester by losing our Adopt-a-School partner, but we have quickly recovered and have set up relations with a new school. We have also lost several brothers to transferring, Douglas McCoul, Jeff Martin and Drew Scibilia. However, with numerous brotherhood events and homecoming, Theta Chi has been in close contact with many alums and brothers that have transferred.

As the year goes on we continue to grow as a brotherhood. We are generating new ideas and strengthening the brotherhood everyday. The brotherhood had a great time at our semi-formal in December and is looking forward to stepping up in Greek Week at the end of the year. We are moving forward and tackling each new day with determination and tenacity. With each new challenge we are eager to overcome it.

THETA PSI
Albertson College of Idaho

The Theta Psi Chapter has once again staked its claim on the Albertson College campus. This year, the Student Body President, Bennett Smith, and the Student Body Vice President, Luke Malek, are Deltas. In addition, the program council directors, Dausen Harker and J.D. Smith, are both Deltas. Other Delta leaders include four student senators, campus committee chairs including food service, and a host of presidents and treasurers on campus clubs and organizations. To say the least, the Deltas lead the ACI campus.

With this leadership in mind, Theta Psi set out to pledge the best men of this year's class. Recruitment Chairs Alec Cindrich and Jim Tolles spearheaded a campaign that included dorm strolling, corn maze, bowling and getting to know as many men as possible. At the end of the recruitment period, we had nine solid men, bringing our chapter size to 34. Theta Psi can now claim that roughly one out of every 10 men on campus wears the letters of Delta Tau Delta.

Theta Psi acquired a shelter roughly a year ago. Since then, we have passed the city's inspection, built a deck, graveled the driveway, dug out a volleyball court, landscaped the yard, planted new grass and decorated the shelter with chapter paraphernalia. The shelter is quickly becoming a home away from home for our brothers. Chapter brothers can be seen during the week conducting study groups in the shelter and on the weekends sharing camaraderie and getting to know one another. The shelter has improved our brotherhood and given us a common goal.

This winter Theta Psi will be retreating in the Sawtooth Mountains for a weekend of brotherhood. This destination is approximately one hour from Sun Valley and the brothers will be staying in a lodge for the weekend. Brotherhood Chair Caleb Weller is planning the 1st annual event with brotherhood building exercises, cross-country skiing and day hikes. We look forward to this event.

While we have dealt with the tragedies that have left our nation crestfallen, we applaud the efforts of fellow chapters and our own in relief efforts. Theta Psi participated in an all-Greek Penny War on our campus that raised $500 for relief efforts.

With the strong campus leadership and dedication to excellence that Theta Psi has shown we are eagerly awaiting our Annual Charity Ball and a winter recruitment period. As a young chapter, we continue to grow and build traditions that will be on the Albertson College campus for years to come.

THETA OMEGANorthern Arizona University

It has been quite an eventful semester for the Deltas at Northern Arizona. To begin the semester, the Deltas spent a day volunteering at the Masonic Lodge in Williams, Ariz. Over 30 members showed up to help renovate the building and we accumulated over 250 philanthropy hours from the event. This event, however, was only one of several philanthropic projects that were completed this semester. The Deltas also organized a philanthropic powder puff football tournament to help raise money for the Flagstaff High swim team. The event showcased two live bands, women football players and talented Delt cheerleaders. Several student organizations, both Greek and independent, fielded teams to play in the event.

As far as academics go, the Deltas were once again in the top three of all fraternities on the campus for grade point average. We do, however, look to reacquire the best overall GPA this spring among all Greek organizations.

We just finished our intramural season, taking second place in overall standings out of 13 fraternities. The Deltas managed to bring home two all-campus championships this semester, in water polo and track. We went to the championship in several other sports, but were just unable to take the crown. Next year we predict that the intramural trophy will be in our chapter room, where it belongs.

At the end of the semester we initiated six proud and capable new members. Unfortunately, we are losing the company of five Founding Fathers at the end of the semester but wish them the best of luck in the future.

The Deltas are still the top social fraternity at Northern Arizona. For our spring formal, we rented out a train car on the Grand Canyon Railway and spent the weekend at a resort at the Grand Canyon. Our initiation party themed "Temptation Island" was also a great success like all of our parties.

Several of our brothers were also recognized this semester for their outstanding contributions to the Greek system. Jake White was recognized as "Chapter President of the Year," and Kaare Wagner received the "Living Your Ritual" award. The Deltas also received "Philanthropic Programming of the Year."

IOTA ALPHADePaul University

The men of Iota Alpha have been having a fantastic year so far. For the first time since colonization, we had a full load of men moving into our townhouse. We managed to recruit five outstanding men, despite the numerous obstacles that were unintentionally created by some new university policies. One of our brothers, Eric Dusik, is the brother of IA Founding Father Jack Dusik, while another, Joel Porter, comes from an extensive line of Deltas.

Academically, the men of Iota Alpha still dominate DePaul's campus, once again holding onto the number one spot. We also are continuing our tradition of campus involvement and leadership. Jeff Wondrely and Paul Motz just finished serving on the IFC executive board. Jeff held the position of vice president of standards, while Paul was the vice president of internal affairs before succeeding to the presidency in the early fall. Iota Alpha is proud of the service and leadership provided by our brothers to the Greek community. Pledge Class President Charles Marshall is also serving as president of DePaul Ambassadors, a large student organization that coordinates campus tours and assists with Open Houses. Tony Chan is also serving on the executive board of the ambassadors. Paul Motz and Chapter President Nick Jarmusz, members of DePaul's College Republicans, led the CRs in a debate against the College Democrats over national energy policy. Andy Schnieder was also named to DePaul's Core Staff, and will be heading up next year's freshmen orientation program.

Thanks to the fund-raising efforts of Rick Urban, as well as the fine accounting of Treasurer Harry Fox and his assistant Steve Meints, our chapter had money to fund brotherhood events this quarter, including a trip to the United Center to watch the Chicago Blackhawks, as well as an end of quarter bowling extravaganza. Our social calendar has also been full this quarter, thanks to Social Chair Andy Schnieder and President Nick Jarmusz. Andy planned a hobo-prom with the ladies of Alpha Omicron Pi, while Nick coordinated a Vegas Night mixer with the ASAs and our brothers at Gamma Beta (IIT). Tony Chan also put together a small dinner party with the ASAs to further our relations with our Greek sisters. Finally, our pledge class planned our traditional Christmas in October party at the townhouse.

The brothers of Iota Alpha are looking forward to another wonderful quarter when we get back from the holiday break.

IOTA BETAWittenberg University

The Iota Beta Chapter has been working harder than ever this year to maintain the excellence that is demanded from us. We have concluded our informal rush events on campus and were again in the top three in recruiting. Five new members have been added to the Iota Beta family helping to ensure a bright future on campus. We are currently busy with formal rush events ranging from basketball games to holiday dinners to Twister with other sororities on campus.

We placed second during Greek Week, winning the banner competition and the flag football tournament. This was the highest placing for our young fraternity. We are still actively participating in our Adopt-a-School program at Highlands Elementary School by helping them to excel in the classroom and in preparing them for their proficiency exams. We would like to congratulate Steve Provost who has been sworn in as our new chapter advisor. In intramural news: we placed first in soccer, second in flag football and second in basketball. We are looking forward to a strong finish to end spring semester and continue our leadership and excellence on campus.

IOTA GAMMAWright State University

The brothers of Iota Gamma started this year with a lot of goals on their mind. We planned on continuing our dominance as fraternity leaders in academics and community service. We also had big plans for recruitment this fall for our young chapter.

Although grades are not back yet, everyone has a good feeling that we will continue our long-term streak of being a powerhouse academically on campus. To show our athletic ability we won second place in the Interfraternal tackle football tourney this November.

For philanthropy we took on a project we called the Fire Truck Fund. In light of recent events in New York City we began to raise money to go towards the purchasing of a fire truck for the NYPD. Our plan was to wave a flag for 24-hours a day for seven days straight in front of the local Meijer stores and collect donations from customers. The drive was a big success earning attention for our cause from the local media and university. We raised nearly $9,000 dollars for the NYPD.

We did other charity work for Habitat for Humanity. We have been doing this for a couple years now and it is always a rewarding experience for the brothers.

Our rush went very well this fall. We recruited quality pledges from many events like a Home Run Derby, which landed us many new prospects for the upcoming quarters. Hopefully, the groundwork laid this quarter will allow us to achieve our recruitment goals for the following quarters of this year.

All things considered this quarter was a big success for the Iota Gamma Chapter and we have already been working hard to make the following year better the last.

IOTA DELTAQuincy University

The Fall Semester of 2001 was extremely turbulent for the Iota Delta Chapter at Quincy University. The term began on a high note with our Fourth Annual Jell-o Wrestling Event on Sept. 8, 2001. This proved to be the chapter's most successful Jell-o Wrestling to date, raising more money than any of the previous years. The money was then donated to the YWCA and Dewey Primary School. Iota Delta also introduced two new side events at Jell-o Wrestling this year; being a car smash and water-balloon launching.

That same week two brothers and the chapter consultant were fortunate enough to meet U.S. Senator Richard Durbin. John Wietholder, president, Tom Barry, philanthropy chairman, and Perry Hurth, chapter consultant, were all invited to meet the Senator Durbin by the director of the YWCA as a thank you for the years of service Iota Delta has given the YWCA.

The first week of October, however, proved to be disastrous for the members of Iota Delta. Our brother and Chapter Advisor, Robert Carlisle, Jr. passed away at the age of 40. The members were extremely shocked and saddened at this news, as was the entire Quincy University community. Bob was an extremely loved and integral part of our Fraternity and will be forever missed. The members viewed Bob's passing as catapult to continue and enhance their "Lives of Excellence." Since the tragedy, Iota Delta morale and dedication have been on an upswing. The chapter's scholarship fund was also renamed in Bob's memory with the memorials of his death being donated to the fund.

Since Bob's death there has been a great increase in the amount of service contributed by the members of Iota Delta. Adopt-a-School is now in full swing and is being met with high praise from the school administration, students and the Deltas. Also, members are volunteering time for an on campus beautification project to be dedicated to Bob Carlisle when finished.

During the first weekend in November, the brothers traveled to a secluded cabin in the woods of southern Missouri for their Fourth Annual Retreat. As always, the weekend was a positive experience for all who attended. Brotherhood exercises, Ritual education and faith-building exercises were all included in the itinerary for the weekend.

With the exception of a brother's passing away, the semester proved to be extremely positive for the chapter. With the semester winding down, Iota Delta is focusing on an instrumental large spring rush.

IOTA EPSILONChapman University

On November 17, 2001, we the men of Iota Epsilon were installed as a chapter of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. We would like to take this opportunity to thank the many involved on our colonization, including the recruitment team, Theta Lambda Chapter at Riverside, Scott Foreman, Dave Hecker, Nick Prihoda, Bill Onefrey, our wonderful Advisor Dr. Roberta Lessor, Dr. Kertes, Chapman University staff, Jim Bowersox, Eric Miller, Dr. Roush and everyone at Central Office. Thank you.

The beginning of this semester brought 20 new men to Iota Epsilon,

ON THE ROAD WITH A

Expansion

The concept of undergraduates today being able to walk in the shoes of Alfred, Belle, Cunningham and the rest of the original founders can be very humbling. During the recruitment of founding fathers during the expansion process, a direct correlation is drawn between what our original founders did in 1858 and the opportunity available to current undergraduates in starting their own colony of Delta Tau Delta. Spreading the message of the Mission and Values of Delta Tau Delta along with the positive aspects of fraternity membership draws some of the most prominent undergraduates on the expansion campus. Delta Tau Delta looks differently at each and every campus and establishing a colony allows a new group of members to develop a fraternity that reflects Excellence in a new, unique way.

To current colony members, I congratulate you for taking on the challenge of starting a colony of Delta Tau Delta at your respective college or university. Seek to establish traditions of excellence with your members and their involvement on your campus and in your community.

To current chapter members, I encourage you to contact and serve as a resource for helping our colonies grow and develop. Also, I encourage you to utilize the Mission and Values during your recruitment process; it works!

To alumni, I strongly urge you to become involved with a colony located in your vicinity. Providing fraternity knowledge and experience will prove to be key in helping a colony grow and develop.

our second and largest rush class yet. These men were installed with the original 25 men to be Founding Fathers here at Chapman.

Besides rush, preparation for our Installation was a key issue. Thanks to Oscar Teran and the installation committee we had a wonderful night of dinner and dancing.

Over the past few months, since our Installation, we've had our first officer elections and we'd like to welcome the new executive and administrative boards. These new boards are beginning to work on new events for the upcoming year including a new fall philanthropy besides our annual Delt Grand Prix, which takes place in the spring.

Our Adopt-a-School program is continuing to be a success at Cambridge Elementary here in Orange County having already completed 1,000 hours of service since October 2000.

Overall, the past few months have been exciting for all of us and we look forward to taking our chapter to newer heights on a national level and here on the Chapman campus.

VIRGINIA TECH CRESCENT COLONY Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

The past fall semester was a great test for many people across the nation after the September 11th tragedies, as well as for the Deltas here at Virginia Tech. As it came during our first week of formal recruitment, it set a tone across campus that prevented us from achieving our recruitment goals. However, rather than step down in defeat, an event was organized by James Freeman to bolster support from the community for campus and for Delta Tau Delta.

The event was called "Delta Tau Delta Keeps the Flag Waving." It began on September 19 and ended September 24, five days later. During this period, a brother was positioned outside the local Wal-Mart for 24-hours per day in rain and sun, waving an American flag. The event helped to make our name more known among the students who frequent the store, and it also helped the community see the positive side of fraternities. A total of $10,290 was collected in donations and was distributed to the Red Cross and New York City Police and Fire Department Funds.

This spring, our chapter Installation ceremony will be held later during March. It's an event that everybody is looking forward to, as we will be able to learn the Ritual of the Fraternity. Being installed as official chapter will also allow a Delt to serve as an officer of IFC and begin to suggest changes.

BELMONT ABBEY CRESCENT COLONY Belmont Abbey College

We are very excited about the colony activities which have taken place this year. The bylaws for our colony are now completed and accepted, and our member education has come to the forefront. With five recruits, we now have 18 men. On December 1, we participated in the active colony ceremony. Each brother worked extremely hard for us to reach our goals. As a result, we have begun the process of petitioning for chapter status. In October, everyone pulled together and worked hard to bring the "Night of the Living Deltas" Halloween Party to Belmont Abbey College.

Community service has been a high priority in our colony. Gary Bowers and Jonathan Marr have both helped to develop and get brothers involved in McAdenville Elementary Adopt-a-School and the Cystic Fibrosis Walk. In addition, Ryan Ludick worked at the World Trade Center site in New York City as a volunteer firefighter. Many of our other brothers are involved in campus community service events. For example, we participated in YMCA Healthy Kids Day. We are continually attempting to bring our name to the community, and E. Flores has been especially helpful by submitting an article about our colony to the Gaston Gazette.

Our member education has been revamped and has created a better understanding of the International Fraternity. In addition, Matt Wehrle is seeing to it that our academic standards stay high by creating a new academic tutoring program. Brotherhood has grown stronger as Ed McGill keeps planning new events for brothers to enjoy.

The leadership of our colony continues to expand campus-wide. President Robbie Dills serves as Student Body President, Greek Council President and was on the Homecoming Court. Gary Bowers serves as College Union Board President. Vice President Jonathan Marr serves as commuter council president and vice president for college union board. Ryan Ludick and Matt Tortorich serve as student government senators, and Secretary Matt Rowland serves as Delta Epsilon Sigma honor society president.

While Matt Ferrante has worked hard to keep financial matters in order, Recruitment Chair Rob Rodite and his committee have worked hard to plan rushes and recruit new members. In the future, we are committed to having successes in fund-raising, recruiting, member education and academic superiority. In addition, those successes will be met with a solid pledge education program. Belmont Abbey Crescent Colony is hard at work towards developing a strong foundation for Delta Tau Delta.

IRVINE CRESCENT COLONY University of California at Irvine

Our colony is really starting to come around and is getting ready to submit our petition for our charter. fall quarter was a tough time for the brothers but the dedicated ones are really pulling together to be the best fraternity on campus. Winter quarter our IFC representative Chris Tagliamonte and our Recruitment Chair Zach Ellis worked with the other IFC representatives and recruitment chairs to design a rush schedule that is equal among all the fraternities. It was designed to promote IFC and Greek life before promoting the individual chapters. The new design went well and our new pledges are doing great. We have also been getting more involved with sororities be they greek or non-Greek. The guys are also getting involved on campus. One of our fall pledges, Aaron Echols, is very involved with student government and two other brothers are applying to be resident advisors for the next school year. Our colony is really starting to build character and prestige. The brothers are really excited about getting our charter soon and can't wait to be the next Delt chapter.

Leaving a

Legacy

"Delta Tau Delta shares a great heritage with its chapters across the United States and Canada. Our ideals and principles are as relevant today as they were decades ago. Our alumni are proof that our Fraternity enhances lives by teaching leadership development, character, inspiring maturity and building brotherhood.

If Delta Tau Delta is to remain competitive and provide the services to our chapters that we need over the next 50 years, we must seize this opportunity before it is lost.

Your International Headquarters will not only provide a comfortable and effective office from which to direct the day-to-day operations of the Fraternity, but it will also be a celebration of the Delt experience, capturing forever those moments that have made Delta Tau Delta one of the premiere Fraternities in North America—a place that will celebrate lives committed to excellence.

As we reflect on our 150 years, it is important to renew our commitment to the future of Delta Tau Delta.

Remember that all of us have benefited from the work, sacrifice and generosity of those who have gone before us. We all enjoyed the comfort and fellowship provided by Delta Tau Delta during our undergraduate years.

We urge your thoughtful consideration of this proposed plan of action. Today, let's provide Delta Tau Delta a permanent home; one built for Deltas in a way that celebrates our history and meets the challenges of the future."

— DAVID B. HUGHES, CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN
OHIO WESLEYAN, 1961

I BELIEVE IN DELTA TAU DELTA for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity, so that I may better learn and live the truth.

I BELIEVE IN DELTA TAU DELTA as a shrine of international brotherhood:

her cornerstone friendship, her foundation conscience, her columns aspirations, her girders self-restraint, her doorway opportunity, her windows understanding, her buttresses loyalty, her strength the Everlasting Arms.

I BELIEVE IN DELTA TAU DELTA as an abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self-respect, and bring about that happy life wherein I may truly love my fellow man, serve my country, and obey my God.

"This will be OUR shelter. Just as we all have pride in our local chapters' shelters, this building will represent all of us. Alumni, staff, and undergraduates can all claim this as their own. Inside those walls will reside the heart and soul of our great fraternity. Our history can be found there to remind us of all of those who came before us and worked so hard to make our fraternity great. Our present will be working there. All of the ideals we hold so dear will be at work every day there to make our fraternity better. And, most importantly, our future will radiate from here. This headquarters will stand as the symbol of our future - strong and available for all to enter.

As I look at all the anniversaries we have coming up, I am reminded that this headquarters will represent and honor those events as well as honoring every Del. I am so proud to be associated with an organization that has such a strong commitment to honoring all their members. Our new headquarters will be a beacon that draws all Delts home, helps to guide our undergraduates on their journeys, and shines a light of inclusion for all future Deltis. I am proud to be a Del and look forward to taking a journey to OUR new home."

In order to allow major gifts to be tax deductible to the donor, all gifts must be made to the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation. The Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation is a charitable 501(c)(3) organization. Contributions to it are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.

All donors are encouraged to provide early and generous support. Gifts may be made over a five-year pledge period. You will be mailed payment reminders. The early collection of gifts will reduce borrowing costs associated with the project and allow it to be completed in its entirety. Some donors may find that they are able to enhance their giving capability by making gifts of appreciated securities. Gifts of appreciated stock often provide a significant tax advantage to the donor. This campaign may also accept in-kind support on a case-by-case basis, within certain established guidelines.

“Leaving a legacy is what life, the Fraternity and this special campaign is all about.”

Your place in our history

In the early stages of our project, the gifts and pledges of many generous brothers totaled nearly $2,300,000. Now we need you to step forward with a gift demonstrating your commitment to this once in a lifetime opportunity—to record your name permanently on the walls of our Shrine of International Brotherhood.

Our undergraduates understand the importance of this effort and have already pledged over $100,000 to help with the furnishings of the Fraternity. They are dedicated to this effort and are asking you to join them.

The alumni, along with our undergraduates, must pull together for this major undertaking that will allow us to bring action to our campaign theme "A Shrine of International Brotherhood." Your participation is absolutely vital to the continued success of Delta Tau Delta.

You are the only one who can place a value on your Delta experience—on the lifelong friendships you made, the influence it had on your values and principles. Every chapter has had its experience touched by the International Fraternity. For 90 years, the Central Office has held the line and made do with barely adequate offices so that all resources could be kept in the field helping our undergraduates.

It is now time that we make the offices of the Fraternity and Foundation a place and a destination that celebrates our intergenerational Delta experience.

The following contributors ask you to join them in supporting this historic project.

This list is current as of March 8, 2002. Updated listings will appear in each subsequent issue of the magazine.

ED HEMINGER, FORMER INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT, DELTA TAU DELTA
OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY, 1948

"Since the Central Office was established from one location to another, primarily in leased quarters. The ownership of our own Delta Tau Delta office provides us a real, long-term home wonderfully fitted to our ongoing needs. This gives a newfound added identity to our Fraternity."

Leadership Conference Center Design Concept

Honoring the service of Eugene B. Hibbs, Kenneth C. Penfold, John W. Fisher, Albert J. "Bud" Murphy

One of the showpieces of the new Delta headquarters will be our Leadership Conference Center. The room will honor the service and contributions of former Chapter Consultants Gene Hibbs, Ken Penfold, John Fisher and Bud Murphy. These four men represent the spirit of lifelong service and friendship that are emblematic of what we try to teach our young undergraduates. Naming this room for these four men will provide true-life models of what a life of excellence can accomplish.

Flexibility will be key to this environment and include potential small meeting environments. Eight identical tables, each seating six people, can be arranged in different configurations for formal or informal training or meeting situations.

Paneled screen covers move to expose a variety of presentation surfaces. Acoustical drapes provide a warm effect to the room but can be opened to reveal additional presentation surfaces from tack flipcharts to brainstorming story-boards. The facility will accommodate cutting edge technology for a variety of educational seminars, values education training and sessions of the Leadership Academy as well as accommodate Board Meetings.

Founders Hall

As you enter the new headquarters you are greeted by a soaring 30-foot atrium dominated by eight portraits of the Fraternity's Founders. Comfortable seating is provided throughout forming a very inviting reception and open meeting area. Over the fireplace will hang a print of Old Main, the administration building of Bethany College, honoring the founding institution of our great Fraternity.

Founders Hall will be dedicated to the great leaders of the Fraternity, past, present and future.

Chapter Archives

In addition, many chapters will be celebrating significant anniversaries and beginning fundraising efforts in the next several years. It is the goal of the Educational Foundation to provide a central repository to collect this important research material for these projects and to preserve them in a manner that can be shared with future generations for these individual chapters.

Much of your chapter's history is being lost, one alumnus at a time or during chapter reversals or in the worst-case, chapter fires. As families clean attics, they unknowingly pitch valuable Fraternity and Chapter history.

As a part of this campaign, we are asking all alumni to send this material to the headquarters. It is earnestly being sought and will be lovingly preserved.

Presidents Boardroom

The tradition of the Presidents Boardroom was created when the Fraternity moved to its first owned building in the summer of 1953, at 3242 North Meridian Street in Indianapolis. The tradition was slowly lost as the Fraternity moved into three different office buildings during the course of the last 30 years. The central feature of the Boardroom will be framed portraits of every president of Delta Tau Delta, as well as other display cabinets of mementos and artifacts from former presidents.

Members Room

An office away from home, this room, located just off the lobby, will provide alumni traveling through Indianapolis a place to rest, make a few phone calls and keep up with their hectic office schedules. This room will also double as a receiving room for small meetings with alumni and undergraduates.

A feature of the Central Office since 1953 was the Presidents Boardroom dedicated to all former Presidents. The concept withstood three moves, but was lost in 1996 to save space. Only the photos of former Presidents survived.

“Hugh Shields would have been pleased.”

building blueprints

Delta Tau Delta has never had a permanent home of its own and has existed in either leased space or converted residences since the Central Office was created in 1913. That strategy has served us well, but now it is time to invest in ourselves and own a facility that represents the durability and permanence of our 150-year history.

It is time

future generations of Deltas, home for Delta Tau Delta and create a source of pride for Allow alumni the opportunity to invest in a permanent rates.

- Eliminate the disruption of operations of an ever-growing organization every five years to secure competitive rental for the historical archives.

Early in the planning of the new Foundation and Central Office Headquarters, it was determined that areas should be set aside to display the beautiful artifacts that have been collected by the Fraternity over the past 150 years. Due to our desire to minimize rental costs we have rarely had the space to display these materials. This valuable history will be on display for Deltas to see and is comprised of:

DELTA TAU DELTA
EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION
DEPAUW UNIVERSITY, 1951

"It was a stroke of good fortune to find a completed building right in the area where we were looking but designed to function as the headquarters of a high-technology company. But, isn't that what Delta is? Every chapter connected by the Internet. Every alum being added as we get an e-mail address. Every officer and chapter advisor and house corporation linked. But, these are only characteristics, not the soul of Delta Tau Delta. That is still enshrined in our Creed. We have just found a better way to manage its delivery to 6,000 undergraduates and to our 70,000 alumni. In recent years, our alumni have told us to bring the finest programs we could to our undergraduates in the areas of chapter management, leadership development through our Leadership Academies and to address the serious issue of alcohol abuse through our Deltas Talking About Alcohol. In other words, the young men come first. Now, they have told us it is time to put our headquarters into suitable and permanent housing and to bring our archives, training facilities, e-tech skills and management together for greater service to both undergraduates and alumni."

TRAVIS ROCKEY
UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, 1973

"After nearly 150 years, our great Fraternity finally will have a permanent home to conduct fraternity business, archive Delt history and an opportunity to put the rent we have been paying toward undergraduate programming. Purchasing the Fishers site is a winner all the way around for Delta Tau Delta."

Planning for the future while respecting the past

In November of 1999, the Fraternity approached the Delt Foundation indicating an interest in leasing space from the Educational Foundation as a part of an overall decision of the Foundation to invest part of its assets in real estate.

With the growth and success of the Foundation's programming, it will be necessary for the Foundation to secure additional space as well as diversify its investments to include real estate. Through mutual negotiations, it was determined that a facility could be purchased and in turn, a portion of the space leased to the Fraternity at market rates. These rental payments, would create a market return on investment that the Foundation could invest in educational programming. In essence, why should the Fraternity and Foundation be paying rent to a third party landlord when we could retain that investment of rent paid by undergraduate dues and, after expenses, return it in a form that could be used for educational purposes in accordance with the Foundation's mission?

The logic made sense, but rather than using current assets of the Foundation which would take away from current programs, we have launched a capital campaign for a headquarters effort to bring new money to the Foundation that might not otherwise be invested for such a purpose.

We have studied the needs and desires of the current headquarters staff and the technological advances that would be necessary to keep Delta Tau Delta on the cutting edge of providing high quality service to our undergraduates. The emphasis in this new headquarters for the future will be to provide Class A office space and access to cutting edge technology.

Our proud heritage

In 2008, Delta Tau Delta will be 150 years old. Founded in 1858, Delta Tau Delta had humble beginnings with little interest in expanding to other campuses. However, our motto and mission were of such solid character, it quickly spread to other campuses and today, more than 140,000 initiates have taken the oath of membership.

Among those men are United States vice presidents, Supreme Court justices, Nobel laureates, university presidents, Fortune 500 CEOs and leaders on almost every professional frontier, whether it be outer space, medical research or the deepest depths of our planet's oceans.

Our alumni are leaders in business, law, education, politics, information technology, engineering, religion and the arts. It is hard to find a profession that a Delt has not helped shape. Many have risen to the top of their fields of endeavor. Since 1966, more than 175 men have been honored as recipients of the Fraternity's Alumni Achievement Award for Excellence in their professions.

Our alumni also have a history of involvement with Delta Tau Delta. These men have served their Fraternity as volunteers in capacities as chapter advisors, house corporation officers, division vice presidents and members of the Arch Chapter. Their unselfish service above self to furthering the motto of Delta Tau Delta serves as an inspiration to our young people and helps to fulfill our prophecy of future growth and greatness.

We are a great Fraternity not because of a great Arch Chapter or Central Office, but because we have great chapters at first class campuses. Great leadership at the national level is a reflection of the success of our local chapters. All Deltas can be proud of our chapters' accomplishments on the various campuses where they hold the Delt banner high as a recognized leader for academic excellence and service to their various communities.

As we approach our 150th anniversary, it is important to look back to understand what has made us great. In almost every action, regardless of the time period, decisions have been made with this overriding point:

“Is this the best utilization of resources available to assist the greatest number of undergraduates to achieve the highest level of excellence?”

The driving pursuit of this goal has led Delta Tau Delta to review constantly operations to make sure we are getting the best value from our collective Delt Dollar.

Retain more resources under our control
A sound business decision

“To retain more control over expenses and to take advantage of tax savings in the State of Indiana, the reasons for leasing space have finally been outstripped by ownership. With the expanding services being provided by both the Fraternity and Foundation, the need for additional space has become apparent. It makes little sense to be paying those dollars to someone else when they could be retained by the Foundation. In addition, while the Fraternity and Foundation continue to lease space, it cannot take advantage of the fact that it is exempt from property tax in the State of Indiana.

The need for a permanent structure for Delta Tau Delta is readily apparent. The structure that is proposed will be approximately 19,000 square feet on two levels with additional space for storage, a training facility and room for expansion in an adjacent 6,000 square foot building connected by walkways forming a center courtyard. The facility is built in a manner that is in keeping with the national character of Delta Tau Delta, while at the same time being a facility that can be marketed and sold in the future, should the economies of ownership reverse themselves.”

— KENNETH A. FILE, PRESIDENT

DELTA TAU DELTA EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION
 KANSAS STATE, 1981

"To administer Fraternity business and provide a repository for important documents and records." That sentence taken from the Arch Chapter minutes in the fall of 1912 led to the creation of what we have come to know today as the Delta Tau Delta Central Office and the offices of the Educational Foundation. This experiment for centralizing services for the purpose of "relieving the officers of the Arch Chapter of their detail and routine work" has led to a committed staff of more than 25 men and women who administer a budget in excess of $2 million dollars annually and provide more than 120 different types of services and publications. With nearly 90 years of history, the Central Office has borne witness to the Delta experience stretching across world wars, social conflicts and campus challenges. For the past 20 years, Delta Tau Delta has had a partner in promoting the Delta experience in the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation. Through the Foundation's efforts in educational programming, Delta Tau Delta is a better Fraternity today. This is most evident through the recent successful completion of a $9.6 million capital campaign to fund our marquee programs such as the Delta Tau Delta Leadership Academy, Deltas Talking About Alcohol, the Chapter Consultant Program and Values Training Education.

Your Fraternity, with the assistance of our alumni, is meeting the challenges of the current college campus with an eye on the future—always putting the undergraduate experience first.

Our next opportunity:

As an extension of this commitment, a significant review has been done of the Fraternity's business operations. It has become apparent that an increasing percentage of the Fraternity's budget is going toward leasing space for an expanding staff that is supporting the operations of the Fraternity. In 1996, the Fraternity and Foundation received an exceptional rental arrangement due to an unusual opportunity to sub-lease space in a premium office building on the north side of Indianapolis. This business decision allowed us to cut office rent by nearly 50 percent.

In November 2000, the favorable lease arrangement that the Fraternity and Foundation had been receiving expired, doubling our costs to more than $120,000 a year for rent.

A few previous Fraternity Central Offices from 1913 to 1996. Since its creation, the Central Office has moved locations 13 times.

Headquarters Campaign Leadership

JOHN FISHER, CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN
UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE, 1938

"We have been charged with the awesome responsibility of finding a permanent home for a great 150-year-old, but still growing, fraternity. We were most fortunate to find an ideal answer to space requirements, well located, outstanding construction, parking, with plenty of room to grow—all within financial requirements. The Central Office administrative staff and the Educational Foundation will enjoy the additional space that will promote more efficient and effective leadership. The Arch Chapter and various committees will have ample meeting facilities. To house our treasured records and memorabilia. We are indeed fortunate to find a first-class facility like 10000 Allisonville Road. I am extremely pleased to have worked with a great committee and staff to complete the initial part of this task. I ask all of you to now join us in completing this historic campaign."
