One Moment, Please

The above picture presents the Delt who has been given the honor of serving the Fraternity as Editor.

In accepting the position there is but one aim in mind and that is to give the Fraternity a magazine which will reflect as creditably the progress of  $\Delta T \Delta$  as is given us in the performance of the Arch Chapter, the undergraduate chapters, the alumni chapters, and the Central Office.

In this number, the first of Volume LXI, several pages are allocated to tell you of the latest milestone in the progress of  $\Delta T \Delta$ —the Fifty-Fourth Karnea.

Three Delts, not unknown to the readers, are introduced as new Arch Chapter officers.

In addition to several articles telling of the activities of individual Delts, you are given an opinion as to the value of fraternity membership, as expressed by a man well qualified to speak on the subject.

Of interest to the alumni as well as the undergraduates will be the announcement of a prize to the undergraduate chapter that publishes the best chapter paper during the 1937-38 college year.

Pictorially is presented a display, by no means all inclusive, of undergraduates in football.

A new department in this number is The Delt Pledges, which announces the 1937-38 pledges of the chapters. Many of the chapters operate under rushing regulations which would not allow pledging prior to the copy deadline, therefore, we could not have 100 per cent representation.

The usual departments complete the number.

An Alumni Chapter Delegate Reports the Fifty-Fourth Karnea

... Gentlemen, the final order of business of this meeting is to hear the Karnea report by our delegate, Mr. J. H., himself.

Thank you, T. F., I only hope that my report on the Pittsburgh Karnea will fulfill the expectations that you have entertained in the minds of those present. This date may represent an occasion of at least semi-formality due to the fact that it is our first fall meeting, but with the permission of our president, Mr. T. F., I ask that you let me throw aside formality in my report and allow me to give the story as around the fireside conversation.

As one who feels qualified to give the opinion, the Pittsburgh Karnea, the fifty-fourth in the history of the Fraternity, was very much a success.

As the train was entering Pittsburgh, Wednesday morning, August 25, I saw a Delt badge on the vest of the fellow across the aisle—he had boarded the train late the night of the 24th. Our introduction was spontaneous. He was a former classmate of yours, Bill. He said that he had been keeping track of you through chapter publications and the university news bulletin.

I checked in at the William Penn Hotel, Karnea Headquarters, and then joined two Delts from Ohio for breakfast.

The Karnea was not scheduled to open until evening but already there seemed to be many convention badges in view. The sight of a badge was always reason to start conversation. The lobby of the hotel was a parade of Delts, young and old, talking, laughing, and waving a hand in greeting to passing Brothers.

At noon I met a couple of Delts from your chapter, Fred. They said to tell you that they had read about the recent addition to your family and suggested that some chapter pledge him now if you planned to have him follow up your talent on the piano. I had lunch with these two fellows in the grill of the hotel. At more than half the tables were Delt groups, talking like lawyers preparing the next defense during a court recess.

Wednesday afternoon official registration was started on the seventeenth floor of the hotel. The halls were crowded. The registration booth gave all the information needed by a visitor—the boatride, the dance, the banquet, the meetings, the chapter reunions, recreation, luncheons, yes, even a dating bureau where the elite of Pittsburgh's femininity came to offer hospitality to the delegates.

Around the seventeenth floor were many rooms, large and small, all devoted to the Fraternity convention and all in use most of the time. There was one room that the boys noticeably passed on tiptoe. Inquiry as to the sanctity of this particular hall brought the reply, "Sh-h, the Arch Chapter is meeting in that room." This answer brought memories of Karneas in my undergraduate days when we used to slip quietly past the meeting room in which Jim Curtis and Henry Brück reigned.

On down around the hall came a flash; our group being curious, we worked along and arrived just in time for a second flash which placed on film the likeness of Colonel Frederick Palmer, the Fraternity's National Librarian. This room, gentlemen, was the press room. Between discussions, Norman MacLeod, general chairman of the Karnea, was leading members of the Arch Chapter to the press. By the way, reading the Pittsburgh papers during Karnea week was like reading daily reports of  $\Delta T \Delta$  programs at the William Penn.

Well, following your instructions, I waited and waited at this point in hopes of being able to give you a first hand report on this fellow Owen Orr, Secretary of Alumni, who has been hounding us to death during the past four years. But wait as I did, no one could identify this fellow Orr for me. N. Ray Carroll, Charles J. Crary, C. T. Boyd, Roscoe C. Groves, Dr. George F. Weber, L. N. Fitts, J. L. Finnicum, and George W. Brewster took their turn; my fingers counted that there should be two more, but they did not show up. Later I was told that Owen Orr would be unable to attend because a director's meeting of his company conflicted with Karnea dates. Dr. Henry M. Wriston, Supervisor of Scholarship, was unable to attend because a wise doctor advised that the old machine would not function properly during the coming year unless it was given a month's rest. And that doctor chose the month of August, much to the disappointment of all delegates.

Wednesday night at dinner, those at our table were pleasantly surprised when Hugh Shields stopped to break bread with us. You know Hugh was out here three years ago to add pressure to Owen Orr's demands that we do something. I was happy to report the progress we have made and to tell of our plans for the coming year. Hugh expressed pleasure in our report but choked a bit on a sip of coffee when I told him that he was to deliver the Founders Day Address here next March. The fellow on the other side of me touched my elbow and said, "Brother, you have made a mistake," and added, "The only way you can bring Shields out is to get into trouble, or to tell him that you are going to build a fifty thousand dollar chapter house for the local undergraduate chapter and mortgage the property for forty-nine thousand." My adviser said, "He'll come then and you will not even have to bother to extend an invitation."

Now for the Karnea itself. Wednesday night in the Cardinal Room of the William Penn, the Karnea officially opened with a Lidlifter, Vaudeville, Get-Acquainted Smoker. At this point over four hundred had registered. Chairs were circled around the room. Following several introductions and announcements a quartet from Gamma Sigma chapter at the University of Pittsburgh presented several songs. Then we all joined in some good old Delt songs.

Suddenly a loud voice rang out in a tone that demanded attention. It was evident to the crowd that the intruder was not a member of the convention assembled. Several of the strong arms near the door politely offered assistance in guiding this person to the door. Further demands made by the visitor brought mixed replies from the crowd. Some said, "Let's hear him." More replies came in the nature of, "Throw him out." The visitor had sufficient size to command the respect of more than one man. He was proportioned along the lines of a one hundred ninety-eight pound fullback, who had ripened a bit in spots. Finally the crowd silenced and the uninvited guest gave his story. It seems that he had a son Joe at the University of Nicaragua. Son Joe was an up and coming young medic and being a joiner by nature he was asking Papa to petition for a chapter of  $\Delta T \Delta$ . Papa expounded the praises of son Joe, his enthusiasm bordering the edge of shouting at all times. "Boo-Boo-Boo," was the answer from the crowd. But no, Papa would not be thrown out without a fight, so fight it was. Several of the husky delegates at the door succeeded in placing both of Papa's feet firmly outside.

Group singing was continued, but not for long. Papa returned. Shouting, screaming, almost crying, for an audience. The crowd silenced for a moment, Papa yelled, "Where is Hugh Shields?" This question did silence the room. How could this impostor know Hugh Shields? Another name, he said, "Where is Reggie Wilson?" Reggie is secretary of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter and was a loyal worker in the preparation of the Karnea program. Now the delegates did want to hear what was to be said about the University of Nicaragua. With a choked voice and while wiping tears from his eyes, Papa told how Hugh Shields was represented to him as Reggie Wilson and Reggie Wilson as Hugh Shields. He expressed disappointment in that his attempts to talk with him had been futile. Mr. Shields then came forward and placed a fatherly hand upon the shoulder of our distressed guest. Our Central Office Manager's body guard was George W. Brewster, President of the Eastern Division; Mr. Brewster is said to have been serious in his intention to supply protection.

Here an undergraduate from California, moved by the predicament in which our guest had placed himself, jumped up on a chair and asked for attention to his words. He suggested that the delegates express regret that any embarrassment might have been given and that the convention in formal session discuss the petition of the University of Nicaragua and give an answer to Joe's Papa. "So be it," was the reply. Papa departed.

Much to the surprise of the majority of the delegates, Papa was led back out of character and introduced as Luke Barnett, Pittsburgh's greatest ribber. Yes, most of us were completely fooled.

Closing the entertainment, singers and dancers from a nearby cafe presented several numbers all of which brought encores. Refreshments followed, and then to bed to be ready for the first meeting of the convention Thursday morning, called for 9:30 A.M.

Promptly at the appointed time, President N. Ray Carroll called the convention to order. Invocation was pronounced by Rev. Joseph Morledge, pastor of the Sixth Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh. As is customary at all official affairs of the Fraternity, the assemblage stood and joined in the singing of Delta Shelter.

During the first session the convention received words of welcome from Mayor Scully of Pittsburgh; from Lewis Walker, honorary chairman of the Karnea; and from the executive committee of the Karnea. Following the appointment of committees the session was recessed so that the Credentials Committee could prepare a report. Shortly after 11 A.M. the session was again called to order. Vice-President Charles J. Cray assumed the chair while President N. Ray Carroll presented his report. Gentlemen, what a report it was! Rather than give the detail at this time, I suggest that you borrow the printed copy of the report which I brought back with me.

It was then about time for lunch so the first session adjourned.

The second session opened at 2:30 P.M. This session was used for completing the presentation of officers' reports. All of these reports are commended to your attention, and are available to you though the secretary of the alumni chapter. When one thinks in terms of reports, he visualizes an informal recess of a convention until the reports are completed. Not so in Pittsburgh. There was so much real meat in each report that very few of the large assembly moved until all officers had finished. Yes, gentlemen, there are some orators on the present Arch Chapter.

In reviewing Karnea minutes, you will note that Secretary C. T. Boyd's report was very brief, however, his words in concluding his report might very well have been included. There was not a man who did not show signs of emotion at Mr. Boyd's closing statement, "Gentlemen, Brother Delts, I commend that you make your Fraternity one of the greatest influences of your life—along with your home and your church." During this session came the introduction of many of the former Arch Chapter members in attendance and also many of the old timers who are ever faithful to Δ T Δ no matter when or where she calls. There was good old "Dad" Pumphrey. You can always tell whether an alumnus has been attending conventions by whether or not he is acquainted with "Dad." This time "Dad" was assisting in the promotion of his home town, Cincinnati, for the 1939 convention. Dad lost, but what a gracious loser he was.

Thursday evening at dinner many alumni groups joined in chapter re-

A Little Soot From the Smokestacks of the Pittsburgh Karnea

L. ALLEN BECK
Gamma Theta (Baker), '09

We were indebted to Mayor Scully of Pittsburgh, who confessed that he almost lost his wife to a Delta Tau, for an official pronouncement that Norman MacLeod, General Chairman of the Karnea and former President of the Fraternity, is also a respected citizen of the Smoky City. It is unthinkable that Norm might have prompted the Mayor to so classify him at the opening session of the Karnea. But anyway, even though "Buzz" Doyle may have done all the work, we'll have to give the General Chairman credit for one of the most perfect Karneas in the history of  $\Delta T \Delta$ —most perfect until Colorado in 1939!

It was one of the disappointments of the Pittsburgh Karnea that its Honorary Chairman, Colonel Lewis Walker, class of '77 at Allegheny, and one of the Patriarchs at the Conneaut Lake Karnea in 1925, could not be present. Perhaps it was his official connection that put the zip into the local committee. (Col. Walker manufactures zippers; Beck puns—Ed.)

They will tell you otherwise, but Blake Palamountain, the big boy from Berkeley, California; Hugh Shields, the Fraternity's Comptometer from Indianapolis; and George Brewster, President of the Eastern Division, were not the wise-guys they claim to be, but innocents who were beautifully "ribbed" by Luke Barnett, Pittsburgh's professional ribber, at the Karnea smoker.

Two entertainers bring smiles to Delt faces at the Karnea Smoker unions. Following dinner came the boatripe down the Ohio. The enthusiasm and genial atmosphere was not dampened a bit, even though the Pittsburgh weather man failed to order a clear sky for the event. The young bucks, yes, and some of the old bucks, had dates and dancing was in order during the trip.

Well, boys, you had better rekindle the pipe, for we have two days yet to go.

At the third session, Friday morning, came an address to the convention by Dr. Ralph C. Hutchison, president of Washington and Jefferson College. Dr. Hutchison emphasized the position of the college as an instrument to promote progress of the fraternity system. To many, his views were very much a surprise, as so outspoken a demand for coöperation by the college had not been heard.

During this session, two general discussions of the convention were held. Field Secretary Hibbs led the discussion on rushing and was ably assisted by several representatives of undergraduate chapters and alumni chapters. You men would be surprised to hear of the great detail and care that is used by the chapters in selecting new members. Also, in the way that some of the alumni chapters around the country are assisting the Delta Chapter was much in evidence with Bob Sinclair of Detroit heading the Committee on Nominations and Charles R. Burgess the Committee on Time and Place. That their job was done well is proved by the selection of Paul Hoffman, President of Studebaker, as Vice-President, and Branch Rickey of St. Louis as Secretary of Alumni; and as for Burgess—his job was done perfectly, with the selection of Colorado as the place for the next Karnea.

Nomination for the permanent secretariat on the basis of efficient service as chairman of Karnea committees: Hugh Hartley, of Baldwin, Kansas, now a veteran of four Karneas and many conferences.

Burt Riviere, Chairman of the Ball, was quite unconscious of his Pennsylvania accent when he announced that he would explain just four important points in connection with that social event: "W'ere, w'en, w'y and 'ow."

One of those new friends that one finds at each new Karnea was Lloyd Irving of Philadelphia, who came on to receive his Citation to the Court of Honor. He shared with me a tour through the plant of the Pittsburgh Press, personally conducted by its editor, Ed. T. Leech, Beta Kappa, '14, and a member of the Pittsburgh Karnea committee.

Those who have read his books—even those who have not—probably recognized in Colonel Frederick Palmer one of the most colorful figures of the Karnea. A product of Alpha and now National Librarian of the Fraternity, Colonel Palmer was for a time the only American correspondent accredited to the British Army in France. There is in his writings no respect for the thing called war, in his conversation no fear of immediate worldwide conflagration. I have the feeling that the Colonel got his money's worth. "It's the first time I've really got the feel of Pittsburgh," he said.

undergraduate chapters by participation in rushing activity—particularly during the spring, summer, and fall. No wonder our officers give reports of continued progress at each successive convention. With such selection of membership and such coöperation by alumni, the Fraternity is bound to report progress. We can do a great deal more than we have done here to date.

Field Secretary Frank Serviss, Secretary of the Karnea, led a discussion on pledge training which proved very interesting to all present.

Friday afternoon came recreation. Following a luncheon at the William Penn, our hosts provided transportation for a sight-seeing tour of the city. A caravan with police escort, if you please. First, to the Cathedral of Learning of the University of Pittsburgh, a forty-two story building designed to house a complete university. This building, though not completed, is one of the most beautiful structures in the world—libraries, theaters, studies, recreation centers, all the needs of an institution of higher learning under one roof.

From this point the caravan divided. Some went through Carnegie Institute of Technology, some to Homestead, Pennsylvania, to visit a division of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Plant, some direct to the Wildwood Country Club to play their hooks

It was something of a shock to find grass growing about the Cathedral of Learning—the University of Pittsburgh's skyscraper. There was still much work being done, with only a few floors occupied. Stonemasons were carving huge blocks of stone by hand. As we stood beneath the vaulted arch, while the organ filled its far recesses with the music of Delt songs, I said to Colonel Palmer, "How long will it take to saturate these stones with culture?"

"About a hundred years," was his reply.

Chas. V. Critchfield, '92, of old Bethany Chapter, came to all the sessions with his son, Charles S. Critchfield, '24, of Kenyon. He had hoped there might be another pilgrimage to Bethany, but there was not time.

The talk by Charles O. Gridley, Washington correspondent and President of the National Press Club, on the prospects of a Delt in the White House, carried me back to my first Karnea in Chicago, in 1911. There, through the maneuvering of his son, Bennett, then an undergraduate member of our chapter at Missouri, there was presented at the banquet Hon. Champ Clark, Theta, '73, then a leading candidate for the Presidency; also Hon. James R. Mann, Beta Upsilon, '76, mentioned for the Republican nomination. Gridley gave us three potential Democratic nominees for 1940—Senator Bennett C. Clark, Senator Alben W. Barkley, and Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace; and one Republican—Glenn Frank, whom he called the Republican White Hope.

The Steamer St. Paul just before departure on the trip down the Ohio River

From Memphis came two of the stalwarts of the Rainbow Karnea of '35—Albert G. Riley and F. P. Cheape, chaperoned quite properly by their wives.

"Dad" Pumphrey may have missed the chance of having a Karnea named for him when Cincinnati lost to Denver; but he may be certain that when he comes to the Colorado Rockies in 1939 his own bald dome will be at home among those native peaks that also rise high above the timberline.

It gave me a queer feeling, when called by accident to a phone at the William Penn Hotel, to have a former student of his at Storm King School inquire whether Stuart Maclean was in attendance at the Karnea. This man had kept Stuart's dog while Stuart journeyed to a Delt affair some years ago. The influence of Stuart Maclean was not confined alone to wearers of the Square Badge!

Owen Orr, too busy with Certain-teed Products to make the Pittsburgh meeting, yet promoted from Secretary of Alumni to Chancellor of the Exchequer in absentia. Owen reminds me that when he stays away he gets an office; that when I attend I get none. If he doesn't get to Colorado I'll run against him for Treasurer; always did envy the payoff man!

When one has served long in that intimate relationship that comes to fellow members of the Arch Chapter, there is always a lump in the throat as another of the old guardsmen retires from office. Charles Jud Crary and Roscoe C. Groves

Scene of the speaker's rostrum during the first business session and slices to advantage on the slopes of this beautiful golf course. No matter what your choice, at this point, all alumni were to meet at the Wildwood Country Club for a dinner in honor of those souls who belong to "The Fallen Arches."

For Friday night was scheduled the Karnea Ball at the Hotel Schenley. This old fogey joined some others on the sidelines to watch festivities. All who attended offered no regrets. A beautiful setting on the lawn of the hotel, beautiful partners, good music—this should amply express what you missed.

Saturday morning came the final business session, held in the Cardinal Room, as the main Ballroom was to be used for the banquet at noon. The final report of the Credentials Committee indicated that seventy-three undergraduate chapters and sixteen alumni chapters were officially represented. Then followed the final reports of the other committees. All were accepted by the convention. The Committee on Chapters and Charters reported that no petitions had been presented for consideration. The Committee on Constitution and Laws recommended that the state of Texas be transferred to the Western Division of the Fraternity. The stepped ashore at Pittsburgh—Jud after six years in which he served first as Secretary of Alumni and then as Vice-President, Roscoe after nine years as Western Division President and Treasurer. Jud brought to the office as fine a sentiment toward the Fraternity as it has ever been our privilege to have in its official ranks. He was and is devoted to his Delt associations. Roscoe is a peroxide blond, and blonds are supposed to be cold. So what a man for Treasurer! His business experience brought much to the Fraternity through his service on the Executive Committee and Board of Directors. But only those who worked with him these many years can appraise the depth of his interest in his Fraternity.

May they become stalwarts of the Fallen Arches!

It was good to see E. M. Bearden, of Sewanee, again. He had missed the Memphis gathering, right in his own back yard; yet it was in order to be with Stuart in New York, those days in 1935, while Stuart's life hung in the balance.

From that scholarly but deeply human address by Dr. Ralph C. Hutchison, President of Washington and Jefferson College:

"Fraternalities have grown up almost without the guidance or leadership of the educators of America."

"There is a side of a man's life deeper than his logical thinking. . . . It has been the tendency to neglect the emotional side of college life."

"Fraternalities have never been free—they have had all the negative restrictions and no positive aid from the colleges—only negations and permissions. . . . Fraternalities should not build fraternity houses; they should be provided by the colleges. . . . The collection of fees in the name of brotherly love is an anomaly."

Committee on Audit and Finance recommended the acceptance of the audit report for the two years ended July 31, 1937. The Committee on Nominations reported that Constitutional limitation made it necessary to change the personnel of three Arch Chapter offices. Paul G. Hoffman was recommended for Vice-President; Branch Rickey for Secretary of Alumni; and Owen C. Orr for Treasurer. The report of the Committee on Resolutions was beautifully presented by "Dad" Pumphrey. Then came the report of the Committee on "Time and Place." Denver was recommended. Two nominations from the floor brought Washington, D.C., and Cincinnati into the picture. The convention vote gave the Fifty-Fifth Karnea to Denver on the first ballot. President N. Ray Carroll declared the Pittsburgh Karnea closed shortly after noon.

The final event was the Karnea Banquet. Say, Jim, at the banquet I was at the table with some men from your chapter. I'll tell you about them later this evening.

Possibly there will be some question as to just how your delegate is making up his report inasmuch as you do not find him in the picture of

Said our new Secretary of Alumni, Branch Rickey, the night after his election: "I've never done anything for my Fraternity. This is my opportunity!" It has been my rare privilege to sit beneath his spell at Indianapolis and Chicago and Pittsburgh. I have watched Delt faces as he held them for an hour, preaching the homely virtues of honesty, of toil and sweat, of kindness; pleading for clean sport, for clean living; driving home each point with some dramatic incident from his long experience in the field of professional sport. What a godsend that Branch was saved from the ministry to put his message over in a layman's lingo! But when he told me that he had done nothing for his Fraternity, I could not pass it over flippantly, for to Branch this was the beginning of his opportunity to be of greater service to that Fraternity which "since 1901 has had a tremendous impression upon me."

A few Branch-Rickeyisms: "Even sport must find a reason for being—so must religion—so must the Fraternity."

"The thing one does must be worth while—he must pay the price for it."

"The greatest thing to make a man preëminent is the desire for preëminence."

"A man must learn to do the job well—he must develop a fine technique in his work."

Wide-eyed and smiley-faced were Ned Crary and David Fitts, young sons of California's two Arch Chapter representatives, whose mothers wisely sent them along as reporters plenipotentiary. It was Dave's second Karnea and Ned's first. They're coming to Colorado in '39, and by the time they get to college they'll be eligible for the Fallen Arches!

The Arch Chapter and other Fraternity officials have dinner meeting with Pittsburgh Karnea Executive Committee

William D. Brandon, '68, of Butler, Pennsylvania, 72 years a Delt, won the all-time Karnea prize for brevity. Standing before those hundreds of young Delts at the Karnea dinner, his figure erect, and with voice full and firm despite his 89 years, he spoke this gem: "I graduated from the school of public speaking many years ago, and now confine my efforts to private thinking and personal conversation."

Tom Campbell, Gamma Mu (Washington), '34, came all the way from Fairbanks, where he teaches at the University of Alaska. He is to remain for a year's graduate work at M.I.T.

Some of the old timers felt a deep appreciation of the finer compensations of the fraternal relationship when Charles W. Hills, Jr., Gamma Beta (Armour), '11, came up at the close of the dinner to receive his Citation to the Court of Honor. "Billy" Hills had flown from Chicago that morning to receive this much-belated recognition of his high service to the Fraternity.

It was while seated at lunch with an upperclassman from one of our Western chapters that the question was asked: "Isn't Hugh Shields a Delt?" And that question calls for the suggestion here and now that it may be timely for the new editor of THE RAINBOW to inform the Fraternity somewhat concerning our most efficient but self-effacing Comptroller and Central Office Manager. Let some Chapter Treasurer cast the first stone! And might I suggest that hereafter he be referred to as BROTHER Shields?

the banquet which is being passed around the table. No doubt, there are several other alumni chapter delegates who are asking themselves, "Why didn't I move around so as to get into the picture so that I could prove my attendance?" Unfortunately the size of the crowd was such as not to allow all tables to be included in the picture.

At the first call of Toastmaster Paul Hutchinson of the Pittsburgh committee, it was evident that a treat was in store.

By the way, I have failed to mention the ladies of the convention during this report. Well, from conversation of several of the visiting wives, there was every indication that all thoroughly enjoyed the program outlined for them by the Pittsburgh Delt wives. And the ladies were not excluded from the banquet. The balcony of the ballroom was the vantage point for the ladies to listen to the program.

To go on with the banquet program—Five Court of Honor Citations were presented. Four of the five recipients were present. President N. Ray Carroll presented the citations, and as is customary, no response was allowed by the honored men. The Pittsburgh Karnea Committee was presented and thanks to these loyal workers was extended by way of applause. Washington D. Brandon, Gamma (Washington and Jefferson), '68, the oldest Delt at the Karnea, was presented and responded with the poise and clarity of a young college orator. William Ganson Rose, Zeta (Western Reserve), '01, of Cleveland addressed the banquet and his words added a touch of humor and several priceless gems on the philosophy of life. Then came Charles O. Gridley, Beta Pi (Northwestern), '21, President of the National Press Club of Washington, D.C. Mr. Gridley gave us inside information as to present political trends in Washington. He mentioned the possibility of Delts being selected as representatives of the major parties in the 1940 campaign. Branch Rickey gave the principal address. Mr. President and Mr. Sec-

Gems from William Ganson Rose at the Karnea dinner:

"There is no expedient to which a man will not resort to keep from thinking."

"Footprints on the sands of time are not made by sitting down."

His quotation from the verse by John Kendrick Bangs—"It's either DONE o'clock or only half past thru."

Was it because Hugh Shields has no kadinkas that he notified all delegates to leave their tuxedos at home? And how, I ask you, can an Arch Chapter strut at a Karnea with no opportunity to wear their kadinki?

* *

Percy Cullum, of Alpha, one of the patriarchs of the Choctaw Karnea at Conneaut Lake, was still a patriarch in 1937. Or could it be that he was just an active in 1925?

The portly old fellow with the gavel was none other than N. Ray Carroll, of Deer Park, Florida—he of the fifty-five thousand acres of Florida alligators. It was the second time that capable gentleman has been elected President of our Fraternity without opposition. And I can remember when, at Savannah, ten years ago, he first took his place on the Arch Chapter. In those days he was not portly—just a little fat! He was probably giving too much credit to others when in his report as President he made the statement: "The affairs of the Fraternity have been so well conducted that we find ourselves in an enviable position."

A sprig of laurel to Paul Hutchinson of Pittsburgh—one toastmaster who let his speakers do the talking!

C. T. Boyd, unregenerated Democrat from Greensboro, N.C., hadn't much to report as Secretary. But does that gentleman express himself in private conversation!

It was Harry Green's last week as Field Secretary of the Fraternity. For on September 1 he became the Business Manager of the Phillips Secretarial College, Lynchburg, Virginia. But as he left his job in the Field he carried with him the Editorship of THE RAINBOW, for which he had gained much experience as a member of the Central Office staff.

Interesting feature of the Karnea Ball at the Colorado Karnea will be the wedding of Ed Lincoln, former president of the Northern Division. Ed has left the selection of a mate to the Dating Committee. And it promises to be a large event, for Ed's displacement at sea-level, or at Battle Creek, is 250 avoirdupois—I forget whether it's pounds or tons. There's just one possible hitch to this—if that girl with the southern accent should decide to jump the gun on our committee!

The Karnea over, I had returned to the routine of getting a couple of my offspring off to school when who should arrive but Mr. Shields himself. Our widely untraveled former traveling secretary had never before beheld anything higher than the Soldiers and Sailors Monument in Indianapolis. He retary, I suggest that we get to work on some of the things that Owen Orr has told us to do. I am told that this man Rickey does a good deal of traveling and is likely to drop in on us most any time. Mr. Rickey presented what he termed his four year report to the Fraternity. He reported in 1929 at Indianapolis, in 1933 at Chicago, and this time at Pittsburgh. Words fail me in attempting in any measure to convey his message, I would not chance to bungle the words of so fine a speaker. Yes, of course, he mentioned sports; he mentioned religion; yes, and the Fraternity. Even to us old boys, his words made a reflection on the points in life where we have turned to the left to avoid apparent obstacles in the road at the right. He made us wonder how much more satisfied we would have been with ourselves today had our turn been to the right.

Gentlemen, so endeth my report on the Fifty-Fourth Karnea. Thank you for choosing me as your delegate. I sincerely hope that at the Colorado Karnea in 1939, there will be no delegate chosen from this chapter—instead, let's all plan now to return to the Fraternity fold for the Fifty-Fifth Karnea.

L. Allen Beck and Hugh Shields in the Colorado mountains. (Colorado Karnea Promoter Beck submits this picture as evidence that Comptroller Shields actually visited the scene of the 1939 Karnea.)

was curious to know how delegates to a Karnea could be entertained at an altitude of 7500 feet. And never having taken a vacation from the Central Office, he knew not what sort of thing a VACATION KARNEA might be.

And so it was my privilege to give our Manager and Comptroller a touch of Colorado high life—at about 12,000 feet elevation. First we went to Troutdale-in-the-Pines, which Darrell Moore in his ignorance was wont to dub "Tripedale." (Mr. Shields still owes the Constable at Morrison the small sum of $3.00 for exceeding the speed limit.) And after that we went to Estes Park. Hugh has been looking down on House Managers, House Corporations and Arch Chapters these many years; but he admitted to me that he had never in his life looked down on so much of the world at one time as when I parked my car at the top of the Continental Divide above Estes Park—with the continent of Europe to the East of us and Shanghai to the West.

That night one of the natives—an artist friend of mine—drove us around in search of elk and antelope. We spotted some of the elk in the high meadows. It was their mating season; and as we sat quietly in the dark we heard the bull elk bugle, first from one hillside and then another, as they sent back and forth their challenges to combat—all to determine ownership of the elk harem for the coming year. Mr. Shields was fascinated—probably at the thought of combat. And he is coming back next fall to hear the bugling. If it should happen that Ed Lincoln is not available for that little marital affair in 1939, there's no telling what might happen to the Central Office!

New Vice-President . . . Paul G. Hoffman

THE ELECTION of Paul G. Hoffman, Gamma Alpha (Chicago), '12, as Vice-President of  $\Delta T \Delta$ , brings to the Arch Chapter another high executive whose success has long been an inspiration to members of the Fraternity, young and old alike.

His sincere interest in the affairs of the Fraternity and his loyalty are evidenced in his acceptance of the position on the executive body. That Mr. Hoffman is a busy man need not be stated in detail. These pages have outlined before his many activities; the daily press in all sections of the country frequently tells of his accomplishments.

Born in Chicago, Mr. Hoffman was schooled in this area, being graduated from La Grange, Illinois, High School. As a grade and high school student he was a great organizer, constantly promoting parties, clubs, etc. He enrolled in the University of Chicago in September, 1908.

His favorite pastime was playing billiards. One story is that when his mother gave him two dollars to get cured of barber's itch, he spent this large addition to the weekly allowance on carom and masse shots and sold the campus barber on the idea of giving him free treatments for the disease.

During these years, the automobile industry was in its infancy. The motor-powered wagon fascinated him and it was only natural that at the termination of his formal education, he would try his hand in the field which apparently presented the greatest opportunity for the future. He became a salesman of Halladay cars. That was the day before advertising, leads, and ready prospects. Paul adopted a unique and successful method. He would take a new car from the sales office on Michigan Avenue in Chicago, then known as automobile row, and drive west looking for a purchaser until he made a sale. Then he took the street car back to the office, reported his success, and started out to repeat the experience. It was not long before he became known as the best automobile salesman on the row. Before his career was well started, his family moved to Los Angeles and along went Paul.

It was at this point that he first joined the Studebaker organization; at the time the company went into the automotive field. He became Studebaker's star salesman and was soon made manager of the Los Angeles branch, which became the most successful in the company and surpassed all others in the territory. This organization developed into the Paul G. Hoffman Company of Los Angeles in which Mr. Hoffman has a large financial interest and he is now chairman of the board.

He had many offers to go East but remained in Los Angeles where, while still in his twenties, he achieved the distinction of being a leading citizen.

In 1924 the Studebaker Corporation asked him to come to the home office in South Bend, Indiana, to see if he could do for the whole organization what he had so successfully accomplished on the West Coast. He was made vice-president in charge of the sales forces, and later president of the Studebaker Sales Corporation of America. The company more than held its own in the face of fierce competition and sales were maintained at a high level. It was at this stage that the president of another leading automobile company referred to Hoffman as the ablest sales manager of his acquaintance. Incidentally, Paul had many flattering offers all the way up to the presidency of competing companies but loyalty to Studebaker kept him at South Bend.

But overexpansion, unwise financing, and a major business depression was a combination that was too much even for the corporation that had the most competent sales executive in America. The result was a receivership early in 1933 with the appointment of Hoffman as co-receiver. It was in the position as one of the receivers that Hoffman had an opportunity to display his executive genius. He was elected president of the Studebaker Corporation in 1935.

Paul G. Hoffman and Dorothy Brown of Los Angeles were married in December, 1915. They have six children.

Paul's brother, Hallock, was a member of Beta Rho Chapter at Stanford, Class of '21. His sister, Margery, is the wife of Potter Bowles, Gamma Alpha (Chicago), '09.

He served as 1st Lieutenant in the Field Artillery from 1917-19. He is a Director of the Automobile Manufacturer's Association, and Chairman of the Safety Traffic Committee.

While Paul Hoffman has led a busy and eventful life, he has never lost interest in his Fraternity nor his Alma Mater. He has become one of the most active among the University of Chicago alumni and is now a trustee of the University. His genial personality and captivating smile have endeared him to a host of friends.

The Fraternity welcomes this loyal Delt to its Arch Chapter.

Introducing the New Secretary of Alumni, Branch Rickey

By DONALD E. BEACH, Mu (Ohio Wesleyan), '04

THE QUESTION is how to introduce one who needs no introduction, either to Delts or to the world at large.

It would be inadequate to say that the subject of this brief sketch is a genius. A genius is a person who has the power of originating. Branch Rickey, Mu (Ohio Wesleyan), '04, has spent a large part of his time in originating, but still more in fulfilling. The easy way holds no interest for him if the hard way leads where he wishes to go.

Dates and details mean little. Branch was born on a farm near Portsmouth, Ohio. His first evidence of sagacity was in selecting a father and mother who, though not wealthy, were an inspiration to him and to all who knew them. He attended a country school, and then he taught at a country school where he had pupils older than himself. Branch intended to go to college, and did, without ever having attended high school. While teaching others, he worked out himself a few of the college requirements. He then went to Ohio Wesleyan University but never sat with his class, that of 1904, until the last term of his Senior year. Until that time he was taking as much work in the preparatory department as in the college and did both in four years. In addition, he was an outstanding student, Delt, and athlete.

In the next few years he found time to play professional baseball in the summers, get out some work toward a law degree while coaching baseball and football two years at Ohio Wesleyan. Later he coached baseball at the University of Michigan while completing his law course. He was graduated with honors. The next year was spent under doctors' orders at Saranac. There was some suspicion at the time that perhaps the sojourn at Saranac was due to overwork. Prior to most of this, he married Miss Jane Moulton of Lucasville, Ohio.

After practicing law a year or two in Boise, Idaho, the doctors advised him to return to the midwest. St. Louis was his choice of city and he again became associated with professional baseball. After a few years with the St. Louis Browns, Branch decided perhaps that he had been working too hard all his life, and went to the St. Louis Cardinals as vice-president and manager, and later as general manager where he could take it easy. That seemed reasonable because there was nothing the matter with the Cardinals except that they were firmly established as a last place club, had no players nor prospects of any, and their liabilities exceeded their assets to such a degree that they had to train in St. Louis that spring instead of going South. Not being able to buy new uniforms, it was necessary to wear the old ones. Mr. Rickey had stepped into quite a job. How it was done is evidenced by the fact that the Cardinal organization now consists of over thirty clubs having under contract over five hundred players and assets of several million dollars. While not minimizing the efforts of other men who have helped to build the great Cardinal machine, St. Louis, generally, gives the major portion of the credit to Branch. A few years ago, when the Cardinals were again world's champions, Sam Breadon, principal owner of the club, said, "It is the system of scouting worked out by Rickey that put us where we are."

That Branch's success with the Cardinals has helped to improve baseball generally is recognized by a statement made some years ago by John A. Heydler, then president of the National League, "It is a fine thing for baseball when a man of Branch Rickey's talent and experience takes time to discuss that subject on the lecture platform. He is not only a former big league player and manager who knows every angle of play, but he is also a man of fine character and high ideals."

Branch Rickey is now really taking it easy. Besides raising a family of six children, Branch, Jr., being a Delt; personally supervising some thirty ball clubs scattered all over the United States and the destinies of several hundred players; playing a leading part not only in the baseball world but in the public life of St. Louis and Missouri; filling speaking dates all over the country; responding to all calls from Mu Chapter and the Fraternity at large; being a port of call for all friends in trouble; an active trustee of Ohio Wesleyan University and filling similar positions of honor and trust; he will now occupy his "spare" time as Secretary of Alumni of  $\Delta T \Delta$ .

Branch Rickey

Owen C. Orr . . . New Fraternity Treasurer

IN THE November, 1933, number of THE RAINBOW, Stuart Maclean introduced Owen Orr as Secretary of Alumni. To quote from Stuart's words, "Mr. Orr has always been a doer of things." Had there been any question in this phrase of the introduction, the experience of the Fraternity during the past four years has removed such question.

The activities of the alumni of the  $\Delta T \Delta$  have increased substantially since 1933. The number of organized alumni groups is now the largest in the Fraternity's history. The "Byrd Broadcast" in January, 1935, was one distinction given  $\Delta T \Delta$  through the efforts of this man. The promotion of Founders Day observance in Delt circles throughout the world is traced particularly to Owen's enthusiastic guidance. The records do not show the full benefits of his four-year service because much of his work has not developed beyond the embryo stage. Reports of the field secretaries show that in many towns, where the number of Delts is just within the constitutional requirement for establishing an alumni chapter, interest is increasing—the impetus being the letters received by the alumni from Mr. Orr. It is in such locations that great increases in activity will be made in the future.

His capacity is unlimited. One would think that in his position as general purchasing agent for the Certain-teed Products Corporation involving purchases totaling in the neighborhood of $10,000,000 a year, that he would be unable to find time for his Fraternity; that he does give it much time is evidenced in the voluminous correspondence that he carries on with Delts all over the world.

A week seldom has gone by that the Central Office failed to receive an envelope containing numerous newspaper and magazine clippings of Delts. This one particular envelope originated from the desk of Owen Orr.

Owen spent his early days in Missouri. For his college education he chose the University of Wisconsin.

When questioned as to his experience in affiliating with  $\Delta T \Delta$ , Owen replies, "The Delts took me because I had a younger brother coming to college in a couple years who was really a good egg." That he was active as an undergraduate is evidenced in his election to many chapter offices. He would resign from one office only to discover that his resignation was not accepted and to prove that resignations were not tolerated, he would be elected to another. The chapter knew that the job would be done if Owen was at the helm.

His business career has given him the opportunity to travel. We would be wont to find a member of the Fraternity whose acquaintance with Delts is so far reaching. With him Delts come first if they prove to be deserving of that position.

His sincerity and loyalty are further evidenced in that he holds no sympathy for one who fails to respect his Fraternity. An example of note came during one of the Arch Chapter meetings of the past four years. Discipline cases were being presented for action. One case, peculiar in that no defense was presented, requested that an alumnus be expelled. Owen quietly listened to all facts to the point where evidence mentioned that the member involved had expressed desire for expulsion. This brought the quick reply and indication of vote, "Let's accommodate him!"

During the current year there have been changes in the organization of the Certain-teed Products Corporation. We now find Mr. Orr as assistant to the president with offices still in New York City. Yes, Mr. Orr is a doer of things.

The Constitution of  $\Delta T \Delta$  provides that a man may not serve on the Arch Chapter in one position for more than two terms, four years. Thus Owen's service as Secretary of Alumni was to terminate in August. A wise nominating committee sensed the opinion throughout the ranks that such a man must not be lost so soon. Your committee selected Owen as Treasurer. His acceptance insures  $\Delta T \Delta$  of a continuation of the sound financial policies of past years.

Alumni will continue to hear from Owen. His energies are not confined only to that which is included by title, so as warning to all alumni—you may expect his letters to question why you haven't called a meeting of the local group, why you are not participating in the work of the National Membership Committee, or why you are not a subscriber to THE RAINBOW. As concerns the latter, it is a well known fact that a Delt entering his office never leaves without proving that he is a subscriber. If not, the $1.50 is on the desk and a copy of the last issue pulled from the bottom drawer. Few, if any, have been known to escape.

Delta Tau Delta has prospered as a result of his work since 1933 and rejoices in that he is to continue on the Arch Chapter as Treasurer.

President Carroll's Radio Address

EDITOR'S NOTE: This address by President N. Ray Carroll was given August 24, 1937, in connection with a Δ T Δ program presented over Station WCAE, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

N. Ray Carroll

THE AMERICAN college fraternity had its inception with the dawn of the American Republic, the first Greek-letter society, Phi Beta Kappa, having been founded in historic Raleigh Tavern in Williamsburg, Virginia in 1776, being motivated by the need of a clearing house for students sharing common aims and ideals.

The society prospered and gradually the fraternity idea became an integral part of college life. The years from 1825 to 1865 can be said to cover the impressive growth of the fraternity system.

With Phi Beta Kappa entering the field of honorary scholastic endeavor the other college fraternities came to represent the spontaneous efforts to supply the lack of guidance on the part of the university, in such matters as student health, student morals, and student personality. Δ T Δ Fraternity may well consider herself a pioneer in this field, having been founded at Bethany College, Virginia, now West Virginia, in 1859.

Generally speaking, the history of college fraternities may be divided into three Eras: The Era of Suspicion, when both the university and the home cast a dubious eye on fraternity affiliation; the Era of Toleration, when a fraternity was considered something to be endured; and, the present Era of Coöperation, when university and home alike look to the fraternity for aid in furnishing a home, encouraging scholarship, and supplying a broadening influence from both the social and civic standpoints. Recognition by the university of a common purpose with the fraternity in developing a well-rounded individual has fostered this new understanding.

Fraternities may well meet the criticism that "Fraternities foster the growth of a caste system in a democracy" by saying that a caste whose underlying principles are moral and social integrity, culture and intelligence has a place in any complex society.

Too often there is a basis for the adverse criticism given fraternities when insufficient care in the selection of fraternity material is displayed. In order to foster a steady growth of confidence the alumni have assumed an interest and responsibility for the undergraduate chapters in searching out likely candidates for membership.

A candidate chosen on the basis of previous record in his community, scholastic standing, character, and financial responsibility cannot fail to add to the prestige of the chapter with which he becomes affiliated; and, it is only through the selection of such material, together with careful planning in the furtherance of the fraternities' objectives, that the wall of prejudice against the fraternity system has been substantially weakened—if not entirely eliminated.

One has but to scan the pages of Who's Who in America to find leaders in every walk of life who are affiliated with the fraternity system. Hundreds of leaders of industry and of the professions cherish with deep affection their connection with these important organizations of American College Life, and give generously of their time and energy to act in an advisory capacity to both the national and the undergraduate groups. Few organizations can boast such continued interest in their activities.

The traditions of Δ T Δ Fraternity are the accumulated expression, over three quarters of a century of some 30,000 men who have sought to formulate wholesome and vital group-living and group-thinking, who have searched for a realistic answer to what too often is regarded as an ideal that stands quite apart from practice. The fact that these traditions are a composite of the tried East and the eager West, of the practical North and the chivalrous South, brings to men of all sections a new and refreshing approach to a common problem.

BROTHERHOOD, as Delta Tau Delta interprets it, is a curiously and gloriously wrought philosophy of inflexible standards and genuine sympathy, of justice and mercy, of rigorous demand and affectionate forgiveness, of inspirational example and human understanding.

A Decade of Southern Division Leadership

By KENYON B. ZAHNER, Beta Delta (Georgia), '12

ONCE upon a time there was a Delta chapter that had a treasurer who was indeed a treasure. He carried the respect of every man in the chapter and few were the items of any sort due by the members that were not paid by the tenth of the month. Does this parallel a fable? But it is no fable! This treasurer was by no means a bear or a Shylock. But he got his difficult job done. He was a quiet, unassuming student, who went his way about the campus, taking part in his share of campus activities, working at and passing his courses as they should be passed, liked by students and faculty. He had no enemies for everybody was his friend.

Twenty-five years ago seems a long way back. And yet, as I write this I can clearly see those old campus days and old chapter days. This treasurer was so imbued with  $\Delta T \Delta$ , that his love and enthusiasm for his Fraternity and all that it stood for was passed to his fellow chapter members in some indefinable way of his own. Because of this treasurer, the chapter forged ahead, standing high on the campus. Its internal life was closely knit, there was a true brotherhood of loyalty to each other, assistance, and coöperation along all lines.

Thomas Irwin Miller, Beta Delta (Georgia), '12, was that treasurer and the chapter was Beta Delta at the University of Georgia. Over twenty-five years ago I got on the train for Athens and my college adventure. On that train was Tom Miller and we met then as green freshmen. We became friends from that very first day and this friendship has come down through the years, stronger each year. Fortunate indeed is anyone to have known Tom Miller as I have known him.

Tom Miller had his share of college honors and was an outstanding man. But in  $\Delta T \Delta$  his work was greatest. He is a charter member of Beta Delta and during his college years the chapter ranked at the very top. He will not admit it, but the other members of the chapter know to whom most of the credit was due—Tom Miller.

On leaving college in 1912, Tom went immediately into the Central Bank & Trust Corporation of Atlanta. He began at the bottom. Tom gave to his work the same energy, initiative, and enthusiasm that he had given his Fraternity in college. He was made assistant cashier of the bank in 1920, and in 1922 when the Central Bank & Trust Corporation was merged with the Citizens & Southern National Bank, which institution is one of the largest banks in the South, Tom Miller was made cashier of the central office. In 1925 he was again promoted to the main office of the bank and made vice-president, which position he now holds.

He served as secretary-treasurer of the Atlanta chapter of the American Institute of Banking, and in 1917 was elected president of the Atlanta chapter. His work brought national recognition, for in 1921 Tom was elected to the National Executive Council of the American Institute of Banking, and he served in that capacity for three years.

During all of this time he did not forget  $\Delta T \Delta$ . He helped to organize and is a charter member of the Atlanta Alumni Chapter, and largely through his efforts this alumni chapter has continued and grown. Tom took much interest in the Southern Division and was instrumental in getting Gamma Psi installed at Georgia Tech. In 1920 he was appointed to fill an unexpired term as President of the Southern Division; he was elected to that office in 1921 and served as President of the Southern Division for ten years, retiring voluntarily in 1930. The ten years under his administration were most successful. Seven new chapters were installed, and one was reestablished. In these years the average scholarship standing in most chapters of the Southern Division steadily rose and all along the line the chapters showed marked improvement. Tom Miller was awarded a Court of Honor Citation in 1931.

In 1924 Tom married Miss Helen Palmer, a charming girl who has been a real help and inspiration to him and who has done so much to make his life the success it is. Their home is always a welcome meeting place for Delts and Helen is indeed the true Delta hostess.

Tom is also a member of the Druid Hills Golf Club; golf is one of his hobbies. Play him sometime and find out for yourself how good he is.

A Delt Is Administrator of the Oldest Hospital in the United States

THE PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL in Philadelphia is the oldest hospital in the United States, having been founded in 1751 largely through the efforts of Benjamin Franklin, who was the first secretary of the Board of Managers and the second president.

During the first three years the hospital activities were carried on in what had been the residence of Judge Kinsey, located on High Street, which is now the east end of Market Street.

The Penns, John and Richard, made a grant of land near the then village of Philadelphia for the purpose of erecting a building for the permanent use of the Pennsylvania Hospital. The east wing of the building was completed in 1755 and has been occupied continuously since that time. The cornerstone was laid by Benjamin Franklin who also composed the inscription which reads as follows:

In the Year of Christ
MDCCLV,
George the Second Happily Reigning
(For he Sought the Happiness of his People)
Philadelphia Flourishing
(For its Inhabitants were Publick Spirited)
This Building
By the Bounty of the Government,
And of Many Private Persons,
Was Piously Founded
For The Relief of the Sick and Miserable;
May the God of Mercies
Bless the Undertaking

In 1796 the west wing of the building was occupied, and in 1804 the center building was completed. The center building contains the first public medical library founded in the United States and it also contains on the third floor, under the circular dome, the first surgical operating amphitheatre. This building is one of the very few existing structures of early Philadelphia. Its architecture, both exterior and interior, is considered a classic and is studied and copied by students of architecture from all parts of the world.

The first medical teaching undertaken in this country was in the wards of the Pennsylvania Hospital. History of the development of medicine in this country is filled with references to this hospital and to the men who practiced there. Benjamin Rush, a signer, with Benjamin Franklin, of the Declaration of Independence, served as an Attending Physician from 1783 to 1813. There were also Thomas Cadwalader, Thomas Bond, William Shippen, William Shippen, Jr., Caspar Wistar, Philip Syng Physick, Joseph Hartshorne, John Rhea Barton, Benjamin H. Coates, William Rush, George W. Norris, and his grandson of the same name, William Pepper, Charles Meigs, Joseph Pancoast, Edward Hartshorne, David Hayes Agnew, James H. Hutchinson, Thomas G. Morton, Arthur V. Meigs, John H. Packard, and Richard H. Harte, all world famous physicians.

An interesting contrast to the modern hospital is found in the library museum of the hospital in an original manuscript entitled, "A Table of Diet for the Patients of Pennsylvania Hospital," dated the 11th month, 13th, 1759, and signed by six managers. There were four diets—Full, Low, Milk, and Dry. It will be further noted that under "Full Diet" it is specified that Bread and Beer sufficient without waste shall be served daily; and under "Low Diet" is the stipulation "Small Beer a Pint a day." Patients so unfortunate as to require either "Milk Diet" or "Dry Diet" were denied their accustomed beer.

The Pennsylvania Hospital has grown into a large institution since the early nineteenth century. It is an eleemosynary hospital, privately endowed, but receives assistance from the Community Fund of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Approximately 76% of its patients are known as indigents.

About 1840 the hospital purchased a tract of land west of the then City of Philadelphia, but now located several blocks east of the city limits. On this tract of land of more than 100 acres, buildings were erected and the "Department for Mental and Nervous Diseases" established. The hospital has since acquired a 650 acre farm located at Newtown Square, Pennsylvania, and the comprehensive plan for the future calls for the treatment of insane patients there, while the Institute for Mental Hygiene will remain in West Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania Hospital corporation is valued at approximately $16,000,000 of which $6,500,000 are endowment funds. For administrative purposes there are two major executives; the Administrator of the Department for Mental and Nervous Diseases, and the Administrator of the Department for Sick and Injured. In the latter capacity we find a Delt, John Nye Hatfield, Tau (Penn State), '20.

Mr. Hatfield was born in Rutland, Pennsylvania. His early schooling was obtained in Rutland, Mansfield, and Wellsboro, Pennsylvania, and

John Nye Hatfield, Tau (Penn State), '20

North Woodstock, New Hampshire. He was graduated from the Mansfield-Richmond High School, Mansfield, Pennsylvania, in 1916. In the fall of that year he entered Pennsylvania State College, enrolling in the pre-medical course. Having outstanding ability as a high-jumper and pole-vaulter his extra-curricular activities were directed toward track. In January, 1918, he left college and enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps, serving in France until the close of the War. Following his release from the service in 1919, he entered the Pennsylvania State Highway Department. In 1922 he was appointed Storekeeper of the State Sanatorium, Hamburg, Pennsylvania. In 1923 he became Steward of the Reading Hospital, Reading, Pennsylvania, where he remained until late 1924 when he was appointed Purchasing Agent, of the Pennsylvania Hospital. In 1927 the position of Assistant Superintendent was offered him. Mr. Hatfield accepted and continued in this capacity until January, 1931, when the appointment of Administrator, his present position, was made.

The department for which he is responsible has 560 beds with an occupancy averaging between 76% and 80%. It has the most active accident department of any hospital in Philadelphia and one of the three largest out-patient departments and the second largest maternity department in Pennsylvania.

There are 18 medical interns, 2 dental interns and 10 residents and fellows, making a resident medical staff totaling 30 men. In addition there is a School of Nursing, which gives a three year course; also a course for dietitian interns covering a period of one year. There are 34 clinics in the out-patient department to which nearly 200,000 visits are made each year.

It costs almost a million dollars a year to operate the department for which Mr. Hatfield is responsible. The department maintains a laundry employing 26 people, who, each week handle an average of 60,000 pieces or 15 tons. The heat, light and power plants consume about 7,000 tons of coal each year. During the last year an average of 2,336 meals were served daily, or more than 850,000 for the year. During 1936 2,412 infants were born in the Maternity Department with the total for 1937 expected to reach 3,000.

Added responsibilities include the maintenance of the historical significance of the oldest hospital in the United States and the preservation of the priceless records; the continuation of all policies which have stamped the hospital as unique in its field; the maintenance of what is recognized as "The Pennsylvania Hospital atmosphere"; and the advancement of the teaching program which has been under way for nearly two hundred years, which, in addition to the School of Nursing, includes considerable instruction for medical students of the University of Pennsylvania, Jefferson Medical College, and Temple University Dental School.

An extremely busy man, the list of Mr. Hatfield's accomplishments would indicate a twenty-four hour working day. With his comprehensive grasp of administrative problems, and genuine interest in hospital and social service fields, naturally he is much in demand as organizer, manager, and committee member.

Mr. Hatfield is a frequent contributor to hospital magazines. He is a member of numerous hospital associations and has served in official capacity in several of these organizations. Two of these positions which he now holds are: Trustee of the American Hospital Association, and President-elect of the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania.

Married in 1924, he has two sons, John Nye II, and David Morris, who in seven and ten years, respectively, will be ready to start their college careers.

With all his responsibilities, this good Delt finds time to work in two hobbies—collecting stamps and gardening. During the vacation season the Hatfield family prefers the seashore for all of them enjoy swimming.

Wisconsin Delt Makes Good in Florida

By OWEN C. ORR, Beta Gamma (Wisconsin), '07, Treasurer

CLEARWATER, Florida, is north of St. Petersburg and has a very impressive court house. At the entrance the attendant used to tell you that the judge's chambers were on the left but that he was occupied. The writer, some years ago, walked into the judge's chambers. A distinguished looking gentleman in a light gray suit, almost collegiate in cut, was looking at some papers. He looked up and said, "Ah, I'm glad to see you," in his best judicial and political manner, evidently seeing a vote in prospect. That was the first time I had seen Harry R. Hewitt, Beta Gamma (Wisconsin), '02, in about fifteen years. He had been elected judge and reelected again on the prohibition ticket. In 1928 he was the first Republican elected in Florida since Reconstruction days. He was reelected in 1932.

The judge lost his easy air when he learned he was being stuck for the dinner. Later, we went over to Tarpon Springs where they fish for sponges. No one recognized the judge, so when the Greek fishermen tried to get us to take a ride and see how sponges were caught, or grown, or whatever they do to them, we pleaded poverty because it was during the depths of the depression; but just to keep in practice, we told one of the Greek boat captains who our companion was and that he was not over there to see if any of the boys were breaking any of the prohibition laws, but to show an old friend one of Florida's unique and interesting industries.

Judge Harry conducted himself with the dignity and bearing of a judge on a prohibition ticket, and for the afternoon we were guests of Captain Nick Chalkios, whose picture is shown here with the judge. His interest in the sponge fishermen's problems and his enthusiasm in the industry in general made him the center of attraction and the subject of conversation among the workers. We estimate that the judge's gracious manner that afternoon was good for at least two hundred sponge fishermen's votes in the next election.

Harry has always been that way. People like him. The last election put our only Republican judge in Florida out of office, even if he was an ardent prohibitionist, but by only eight hundred votes; and Harry Hewitt, the lawyer, is doing pretty well in St. Petersburg.

Beta Gamma owes a great deal of its solid foundation to Harry's guidance during the early days of the chapter. He was the one who employed Annie Meyer, who served the chapter for many years as president of the culinary department, mother confessor, "locator" of lost alumni, and guardian of the freshmen.

Harry occupied most of the chapter offices while he was at Wisconsin and after graduation stayed around Madison and did a lot of good, first-class worrying about the chapter, first as chapter adviser and then as a deeply interested alumnus, and that is how he earned the nickname of "Aunty."

His law business took him to Minneapolis, but he used to run down to Madison for the week-end to do a little first-class worrying about the boys. One winter a couple of extra law cases came into his office, and he used the surplus to visit down in St. Petersburg, Florida. The game of roque fascinated him so he packed up his law books and without telling many of his friends about it, went down to St. Petersburg and settled.

Harry served on the Arch Chapter as President of the Western Division from 1902 to 1906, and was Ritualist from 1913 to 1917, and he continued his worrying about the Fraternity as a whole. In fact, he was such a good worrier that at the Florida Founders Day banquet in 1936, he was awarded a Court of Honor Citation. This was a special dispensation which would allow him to worry not only for the undergraduate chapters, but also for the organized and unorganized alumni.

Harry is still single. We don't know why and neither does he, but there's a Leap Year coming.

Mr. Hewitt and Nick Chalkios

W. D. Brandon . . . 72 Years a Delt

WHEN a four score and ten-er looks back to what happened seventy years ago and upward, the atmosphere is misty, not to say cloudy.

I became a Delta Tau at Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, in 1865. It was the first year for the united college of Washington and Jefferson. For years Jefferson had been at Canonsburg and Washington at Washington, Pennsylvania, some eight or nine miles apart. A sentiment favorable to union had been going on for years. Early in 1865 a merger was consummated. The three classes, Sophomore, Junior and Senior, in the Classical Department were to be at Canonsburg, the Freshmen and the Scientific Departments at Washington. This proved unsatisfactory. Our class, 1868, was the last to graduate at Canonsburg. After that Washington and Jefferson was at Washington.

In 1865 there were several fraternities at Canonsburg. I soon found that I was in the one that stood at the top. The college merger controversy caused intense and bitter feeling in the community and it pervaded the student body and the fraternities. Partly due to this there existed an unfriendly feeling toward the college administration by some of the fraternities. This threatened trouble. The faculty tried to eliminate fraternities altogether by pledging incoming students not to join any fraternity. This caused an explosion. A large body of students threatened to leave. The pledge was withdrawn and thereafter a better feeling prevailed, but a few fraternity students remained bitter and continued to annoy certain members of the faculty. For example, a scurrilous sheet reflecting on the character of a leading member of the faculty was distributed through the town. Nothing was known of it until found in the morning on the door steps of the town. It was distributed in the night by a gum shoe brigade, apparently seen by no one. The student body was

EDITOR'S NOTE: Our first correspondence with Mr. Washington D. Brandon, Gamma (Washington and Jefferson), '68, brought the modest reply that he would hesitate to write concerning his memoirs of undergraduate days. Fortunately, he reconsidered and has given us an interesting account of his college days, which, you will note, came during the first decade of the Fraternity's history.

Any question that may be entertained in connection with Mr. Brandon's closing paragraph is answered by friends and associates with one word, "Outstanding."

morally certain as to its authorship, but nothing could be done.

I have always been grateful that it was my "hap" to fall in with the fine, outstanding men in the Delta Tau. We had no fraternity house—we were too poor. We met in the rooms of members, generally those who had the largest rooms, and we had jolly, good times. All were not saints, however. We had one member, kind, likeable, generous to a fault, but of quick temper. One night he took offense at a remark made by a fellow member. He had not yet learned the diplomatic international modern method of settling disputes other than by the arbitrament of war. After the slugging was over the offending member was expelled from the Fraternity.

One day Professor Linn announced that to show us the difference between Attic Greek and New Testament Greek we would have one lesson a week from the New Testament Greek. A pal of mine who sat at my right in the class room was called on to translate. He began reading the Greek and translating freely. We saw a familiar quirk appear on the Doctor's face and awaited the result. It soon came: "Mr. B., you are reading your English from the next chapter."

After our class graduated the fraternities went with the college to Washington. Because of that bitter controversy our class had practically no acquaintance at Washington, so we felt like college and fraternity orphans. As a result I have had few opportunities to meet with fellow Delt during the intervening years.

In the spring of 1869 I registered as a law student with the Honorable E. McJunkin, of Butler, Pennsylvania. I was admitted to the Bar two years later and began the practice of law in Butler. I afterward was admitted to the State Supreme and Superior Courts and the United States District Court. I have continued in the practice of my profession ever since, and being blessed with good health, I am on the eve of my ninetieth birthday going daily to my office.

Although aware of my responsibility as a citizen I have never sought nor held public office.

As to my part in the educational, industrial, social and religious movements of the day I will leave others to state.

Five Delts Join Amelia Earhart Search

By JACK HOOPER, Beta Omega (California), '39

LOOKING for a needle in a haystack" was the situation of the U.S.S. Colorado which was the Navy's main ship in the search for Amelia Earhart this summer. The big, first-line battleship was called into the search on July 3 while on a R.O.T.C. training cruise in the Hawaiian area. Among the cadets of the University of California R.O.T.C. unit were five Delts of the Beta Omega Chapter at California. They were Lin Loring '39, Jack Hooper '39, Frank Andrews '40, William Gaddis '40, and Dick Haugh '40. We left San Francisco on June 19 and proceeded to Hilo for a three-day visit. After leaving Hilo we spent two days on the lee side of the island of Maui conducting our short range battle practice and thence directly on to Honolulu where we anticipated a five-day visit. But Fate decided that those five days were not to be spent in Honolulu. Instead we were called into action and, consequently, had only a day and one-half of the famed "Hawaiian Hospitality." Those Island people really know how to entertain. There were mutterings of mutiny and everything else when we found out that our leave was cancelled.

As for the search, we had to refuel and take on provisions first. No one had any idea how long we were going to be away, so we took on about a million gallons of oil and enough provisions to last us for years. All this taking on of supplies was at Pearl Harbor. Finally we got underway. They put the throttle down to the floorboards, figuratively speaking, and we were away for the South Seas.

The search area was around the Phoenix and Baker Island groups which are about 1800 miles southwest of Hawaii. We steamed for four days before we saw anything but water, then the Coast Guard Cutter Itasca, which was the advance guard of Amelia's flight, was sighted. After refueling the Itasca, we started on the actual search. The cadets had their schooling, drills, watches, and various other duties to perform regardless of our main objective. We were killing two birds with one stone: learning and searching.

We five Delts aboard stuck fairly close to each other. Although we were in different squads and sectors of the ship, we always found time to get together and talk things over and help each other. Loring and I had made one of these battleship cruises before so we were able to give the freshmen a little advice on how not to sleep in a hammock and how to keep out of people's way. In fact, we had it all doped out how the Navy should go about finding this lost aviatrix so that we could get back to Honolulu, but naturally no one paid any attention. The Navy, of course, had their definite plan of search and we were included. Two cadets were stationed for an hour at a time on each side of the foretop (a glorified crow's nest with steam heat) and given definite sectors of the visible ocean to search. I have never seen so much water in my life. However, the three planes that the Colorado carries did most of the searching. They left early in the morning, refueled a couple of times, and finally came to roost just before dark. They did this day after day without any signs of the Earhart plane or its occupants.

The search began to seem futile about this time, and the Colorado was preparing to withdraw from the area. The aircraft carrier, Lexington, was coming to relieve us. We refueled the three destroyers that accompanied the Lexington but at no time did we catch sight of her. After refueling the "cans" we proceeded to Honolulu. The cadets were not idle during all this extra time that we had on account of the search. We had navigation, watches, drills, lectures, and a number of other duties to keep us busy. At night when not on watch, we could go to the movies or try to sleep. Incidentally, sleep is a minor item on a battlewagon. One is lucky if he gets six hours a night.

Those taking this past summer's cruise seemed destined to have many experiences which were not planned at the time of departure. The Earhart search took us across that imaginary line called the Equator, which, in the tradition of the sea, calls for a great deal of ceremony. Stories of the sea had often told us of the celebrations held aboard ships but this time it was to be our actual experience.

All of those who had previously received "The Solemn Mysteries of the Ancient Order of the Deep" were known as "Shellbacks," the others were known as "Pollywogs." The Delts on the cruise belonged in the latter classification.

The thrill that came with the announcement that we were crossing the Equator brought threats from the "Shellbacks," but we were spared several days as the ceremonies, of course, were not allowed until our participation in the search had been withdrawn.

Great preparations were made for this event. A large platform was built over the anchor gear where the slaughter was to take place.

In the Navy the custom of initiating landlubbers into the Kingdom of Neptunus Rex is fully encouraged and authorized by the Navy Department. We of the R.O.T.C. could not do anything but take it. The day was a holiday on board. We cadets were told to wear colored shorts to distinguish us from the ship's crew. Incidentally, that was all we were allowed to wear as this was a big stag party anyway, and a lack of apparel made no difference. About 8:30 P.M. we were all herded back to the quarter-deck. First, we had to get down on our hands and knees with our foreheads touching the deck in kow-tow fashion. In about five minutes the "Shellbacks" came marching through our ranks swatting us with canvas blackjacks filled with sawdust or sand. The first fifteen did not hurt so much but from then on up, it really began to have its effects. It seemed hours before they told us to stand up and when we did, we could hardly remain that way.

I did not notice where Loring, Andrews, Haugh, or Gaddis were; I was too busy taking care of myself. We stood around for a few minutes waiting our turn to appear before Neptunus Rex. We saw some of the ship's officers who had gone through the mill and they certainly were in good condition. Then our turn came.

The second part of the ceremonies was running a gauntlet from back aft up to the bow of the ship. With people hitting from all sides, I ran that distance in nothing, flat. When I finished that run, all I could feel was a dull sting. But it was only the beginning! We were now at the base of the platform on which the Royal Court was in session. Then someone grabbed me in a very ungentlemanly manner and took me before Davey Jones who checked me off his list. Then without warning, they gave me a jolt of electricity on the arm. I was sort of automatically catapulted on an operating table where they stuffed deck soap, epsom salts, and sea water down my throat and I was made to swallow it before I kissed Neptune's Royal Baby's foot. As I bent over to kiss this dirty foot, I got a jolt of electricity that lifted me right up into the baby's lap where he had his baby bottle filled with canned milk and quinine for me to taste. Fooey, what stuff! Next, after being put into the stocks and beaten, I was seated in a "barber's" chair where they cut some of my hair and literally poured crude fuel oil over me. The chair was so constructed that they could flip you over backwards into a pool of oily water. There they promptly held me under for a while and continued ducking me until I yelled "Shellback" a few times. Then they threw me out of the tank and I had to run another gauntlet. When and if you finished this last run, you automatically became a full-fledged "Shellback."

This ceremony was the best workout that I have ever been put through. I spent four or five days scrubbing with Lava soap before I looked normal. But to look back on it, which is better than looking forward to it, it really was fun and I am just waiting for the day when I will cross the Equator again to get my licks in on somebody else.

When we sighted the Islands again, the five of us were expecting to get ashore to see an alumnus of our chapter who had been graduated a year ago and had taken up his residence in Honolulu. But it seems that the Navy had other plans for us. Instead of docking at Honolulu, they merely anchored two miles off shore while they disembarked two gentlemen of the press and took on some fresh fruit. We layed to out there for about two hours and then they pulled up the hook and we sailed for home. There was many a heavy heart as the Islands dropped out of sight.

The Colorado pushed her nose through the Golden Gate on the morning of July 22 to end one of the longest battleship cruises since the World War.

The experience and value gained from such a cruise cannot be estimated. We spent twenty-nine out of the thirty-three day cruise underway and really benefited by it.

Our only regret was that we were not successful in finding Amelia Earhart and her navigator.

His Capabilities Are Marked by Versatility

By SAVOIE LOTTINVILLE, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '29

ELGIN GROSECLOSE, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '20, has proved himself one of the most versatile members of the Fraternity, as an economist, literary critic, novelist, and national authority on monetary and financial problems. His new novel, The Persian Journey, has been heralded in advance notices of critics as a second Bridge of San Luis Rey. It was released January 29 by Bobbs-Merrill.

Two years ago, Mr. Groseclose published Money: The Human Conflict (University of Oklahoma Press), a brilliant and unique interpretation of the world's monetary history from Greek times to the present. Of it the eminent American historian, Harry Elmer Barnes, said, "It is by all odds the best and most readable survey of the rôle of money in western civilization which has thus far appeared."

Shortly after the appearance of this book, Mr. Groseclose was called in by the Federal Communications Commission to act as economist in charge of the Federal investigation of American Telephone and Telegraph Company at New York. He is still serving in this capacity.

Elgin Groseclose

Mr. Groseclose had previously been United States Assistant Trade Commissioner, analyst for the Guaranty Trust Company, New York, and economist and associate editor of Fortune. He is now on leave of absence from the University of Oklahoma, where he had been a member of the faculty of the college of business administration immediately before assuming his duties for the Federal Communications Commission. He is married, has two daughters, and now makes his home at Great Neck, Long Island, New York.

Members of the Fraternity may expect to hear even more frequently of this distinguished Delt, who is able to write, seemingly with equal facility, novels and treatises on finance, preserving at the same time the breadth and capacity for high executive duties which have carried him to posts throughout the United States and Europe.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Savoie Lottinville, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '29, is the chapter adviser of Delta Alpha and a boxing Blue of Oxford University. He was editor of the Oklahoma Daily, the morning newspaper of the University of Oklahoma, in his senior year; a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and Sigma Delta Chi; and he was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship. He made a high Second in Modern Greats at Oxford and fought against Cambridge three years. After doing newspaper work in Oklahoma City, Savoie went to the University of Oklahoma Press to become assistant editor, later being named to the newly created position of business manager.

Kenneth C. Penfold

New Field Secretary Appointed

IN September 1937, Kenneth C. Penfold, Beta Kappa (Colorado), '37, joined the service of the Fraternity as field secretary. His home is in Rapid City, S.D.

Ken's record as an undergraduate was outstanding. An athlete, with more than one man's share of natural ability, he starred particularly in baseball. A promising football career was stopped because of injuries during his sophomore year.

As to his activities in the chapter—it is enough to say that he served

Beta Kappa as president during his junior and senior years.

Undergraduates and alumni will enjoy working with Ken—his willingness to join in the job ahead and his enthusiasm toward the goal designed will bring out in all good Delts a mutual spirit of coöperation.

The Fraternity's field staff now totals three men. Eugene B. Hibbs, Gamma Tau (Kansas), '33; and O. Franklin Serviss, Gamma Upsilon (Miami), '35 are the senior members of the staff.

Why Join a Fraternity?

JOHN ROBBINS HART, Ph.D.
Lecturer and Consulting Psychologist
Member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity

John Robbins Hart

A FRATERNITY is steeped in tradition and has about as much atmosphere as any word we use. I would want to join a fraternity if I were a freshman once again to conserve and enrich all of these traditional values. We are naturally omitting the false values—the inane, vapid and vicious practices that were more or less prevalent some years ago.

We are not interested in having the fraternity house the center of sophistication or a loafing place for those who are in college to escape work.

The fraternity has made its place and will hold its place because it is founded on true ideals—critical, spiritual, social. It has given comradeship and friendship a chance to grow under the most favorable circumstances. It has taught college students some of the “close-ups” of life. Living with people is a fine art, and we may as well get a trial at this art during the enthusiastic days of college life. The fraternity is a place to enjoy life with the fellows you really like, and they are the only ones who should be taken in.

The college administrators and the leaders of all the campus activities can find in the fraternity houses the natural units through which any project can be carried out. They must be kept the reliable and substantial centers for maintaining college spirit and loyalty, and for promoting all that progress demands.

Every chapter on every campus should be distinctive, and some are. Distinction comes by doing the extra thing. Just going through the regular, required motions does not justify a fraternity's existence; but to take hold of something additional such as helping in some needed campus improvement, stimulating the intellectual and moral life of the student body in some definite way, building good intercollegiate relationships and activities, carrying on some philanthropy that others are neglecting—these bring a fraternity standing of distinction.

After graduation we go right on with all this abundant life among fraternity men, old and young, and unless there are good reasons to the contrary, which of course there frequently are, let's join a fraternity and make it the best chapter in the country. “The man who stops at third base to congratulate himself will never make a home run.”

Two Faithful Officers Retire From Arch Chapter

Charles J. Crary
Former Vice-President

Two of the Fraternity's ever loyal and enthusiastic workers were retired from the Arch Chapter at the Pittsburgh Karnea—Charles J. Crary, Beta Rho (Stanford), '03, Secretary of Alumni 1931-33, Vice-President 1933-37; and Roscoe C. Groves, Gamma Kappa (Missouri), '13, President Western Division 1928-33, and Treasurer 1933-37.

As farewell greetings were being exchanged at the close of the Karnea, it did not seem in order that at the Colorado Karnea these two men were to be greeted within the ranks rather than in the official lineup.

There is a provision in the Fraternity Constitution which states that an Arch Chapter member may not serve in one office for more than two terms, four years. Both Roscoe and Jud served full terms and in retiring from the Arch Chapter they may be assured that in no small measure were they responsible for the progress reported in  $\Delta T \Delta$  in recent years.

The responsibilities which they so willingly accepted at the call of the Fraternity have been well attended and all who have come to know them sincerely appreciate their faithful service.

In no sense is the Fraternity losing Jud and Roscoe from the ranks

Roscoe C. Groves
Former Treasurer

of loyal workers. Official title did not lessen their willingness to join in the work at home. Now that they have been relieved of official responsibilities, we will find Jud in Palo Alto, continuing to be an inspiration to all men of Beta Rho; and in Kansas City we venture that at any Delt function Roscoe will be one of the leaders.

Our November Contributors

L. Allen Beck

L. Allen Beck, Gamma Theta (Baker), '09, former Supervisor of Scholarship and Secretary of  $\Delta T \Delta$ , has again given us a review of a Karnea. This time under the title, "A Little Soot from the Smokestacks of the Pittsburgh Karnea." Mr. Beck's home is in Denver, Colorado. Those who attend the Colorado Vacation Karnea in 1939 will enjoy meeting this genial personage who continues to give much time and energy to  $\Delta T \Delta$ .

Kenyon B. Zahner, Beta Delta (Georgia), '12, has given us the article entitled, "A Decade of Southern Division Leadership." He is one of the tireless workers of  $\Delta T \Delta$  in Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Zahner's long acquaintance with T. I. Miller, the subject of his article, well qualifies him to tell us about this Delt who has so actively participated in the progress of  $\Delta T \Delta$  in the Southern Division.

Donald E. Beach, Mu (Ohio Wesleyan), '04, was graduated in the same class with Branch Rickey, whom he introduces as the new Secretary of Alumni of  $\Delta T \Delta$ . Mr. Beach has been associated with the Columbus Baseball Club since 1931. He was first secretary of this unit of the St. Louis Cardinal chain organization and in 1936 he became president, which position he now holds. Mr. Beach is chapter adviser of Mu.

To Ed Dodd, Gamma Psi (Georgia Tech), '25, we are indebted for the cartoon on page 25, titled, "A Picture of a Man Talking to Himself." Mr. Dodd, a nationally known artist, is author of the syndicated cartoon, "Back Home Again." In the January, 1936 number, he gave the readers an interesting history of his cartoon as well as the self-portrait shown here.

Ed Dodd

Mr. Dodd resides in Gainesville, Georgia.

Other contributors are introduced in connection with their articles with the exception of Owen C. Orr who gave us "Wisconsin Delt Makes Good in Florida." Mr. Orr is presented as the Fraternity's new treasurer.

"MANY THANKS
CONTRIBUTORS!"

Hillsdale College Achievement Cup Is Again Awarded to Deltas

KAPPA is awarded the cup pictured here for maintaining the highest average per man in the following activities: physical development, scholarship, religious, civic, social, and self-expression.

The engraving on the cup tells that Kappa was the winner the first year the competition was open, 1934-35. The triumph was repeated in 1936-37.

The Fraternity rejoices in this splendid record. Congratulations to Kappa!

Eighth General Directory Correction

THERE was erroneous deceased information in the Eighth General Directory concerning Clarence C. Garrison, Gamma (Washington and Jefferson), '87. This Delt is living. His address is Jensen, Florida.

AROUND THE FIREPLACE WITH GOOD DELTS

Excerpts from the Report of President N. Ray Carroll to the Fifty-Fourth Karnea at Pittsburgh, August 25, 26, 27, and 28, 1937

THE AFFAIRS of the Fraternity have been so well conducted that we find ourselves in an enviable position. I do not mean to boast of the accomplishments of the Fraternity or of any particular individual in it. That, to my mind, is not the function of this report; but I feel it is my duty to give you a true accounting of the facts.

WE ALL know that for the past decade there has been a world-wide depression. Through it all, Δ T Δ has continued to gain in strength in every department, and we are continuing to improve.

An executive of a large business corporation made the statement that Δ T Δ's system of organization is comparable to a well-managed business enterprise. One authority has stated that the Fraternity is developing into a cold-blooded business organization and is losing sight of the main job it can do. I do not believe this for the simple reason that the big job can be done well only if the structure is sound. I see no quarrel between fraternalism and a sound structure. They are fundamental elements which are vitally important to the welfare of the Fraternity.

I DESIRE to quote from the comments submitted with the "Report on Examination of Accounts and Financial Records for the Two Years Ended July 31, 1933." "The Fraternity should protect effectively the broad interests of its members. This can best be accomplished by keeping the Fraternity sound from the financial and operating stand-points both of which are essential to the interests of the individual as well as to the Fraternity as a whole. The Fraternity should continue development on the basis of an aggressive and forward-looking policy, for upon the excellence of the chapters it must generally depend for its strength and reputation in a highly competitive field."

We have with utmost diligence followed this sound advice during the past two years. We have been concerned with following the policies laid down by previous Arch Chapters. We have not deviated from these policies in any particular, but we have taken steps to entrench those that have proved to be so exceptionally sound, as evidenced by the statements of the financial condition of the Fraternity, the house corporations, and the undergraduate chapters.

The Board of Directors of the Fraternity has been especially active in making Loyalty Fund loans on a sound financial basis to duly incorporated house corporations. Some indication of the extent of this business activity will be reflected in the statement that for the past two-year period new Loyalty Fund loans in the aggregate amount of $133,000 have been made to eighteen house corporations. Four other loans have been approved and two loan applications are pending before the Board of Directors. The additional loans contemplated approximate $50,000.

The General Fund is the operating fund of the Fraternity. Consistent with the policy of the Fraternity, no large surpluses are accumulated in this fund. The Fraternity operates on a balanced budget and a cash basis.

The Undergraduate Loan Fund shows a steady improvement during the past six years.

AT NO TIME during my experience in the Fraternity have the house corporations evidenced such efficient management, which is a continuation of the steady improvement for the past several years. The management of the chapters' $3,000,000 properties is in good hands. We salute these men who have carried the additional weight of recent years when their own energies and time have been taxed to the limit on personal affairs.

THERE is an old adage that where there is a good chapter adviser there is found a good chapter. The Fraternity has been especially fortunate in having a high percentage of interested and capable men with the time available to accept these positions. With consummate skill these guides, philosophers, and friends to the undergraduates fill the first requirement of a successful chapter. They are doing a great work with Spartan courage.

YOUR Arch Chapter assumes the position that it is jointly responsible with the alumni to the Fraternity for the condition of the various undergraduate chapters. We sincerely believe that it is the Fraternity's duty to assist in every way possible the nursing back to health of those chapters that have become weak because of a lack of alumni interest, internal difficulties, or conditions beyond their immediate control. If, however, the fundamental character of a chapter is unsound and if there is no desire on the part of its members, alumni and undergraduates, to help themselves, or if the conditions in the institution in which the chapter is located are no longer conducive to satisfactory fraternity operation, then it is the duty of the Arch Chapter to bring about the elimination of such a chapter. Delta Tau Delta cannot continue to stand for the principles it represents and permit any chapter to retain its charter which refuses to enter into the spirit of the Fraternity or impairs in any way its good name.

THE UNDERGRADUATE chapters have sustained the steady scholastic improvement of recent years. For the year ended June, 1936, they finished in second place of sixteen fraternities with fifty or more chapters in competition. The general average was plus 1.38, exceeding both the All Men's Average and the All Fraternity Average; however, until 42 per cent of the chapters which are below the All Men's Average attain a positive record, our scholastic standing will not be impressive.

Last year the enrollment of the undergraduate chapters was the highest of any year during the past six years, incidentally the top in the history of the Fraternity. It is especially interesting to note that the scholarship of the undergraduate chapters has substantially improved during the period in which the enrollment has increased.

The financial condition of the undergraduate chapters is the best in the history of the Fraternity. Last school year the chapters collected 97.8 per cent of income billed.

I DESIRE to recommend for your serious consideration, the library program which has been created by our National Librarian, Colonel Frederick Palmer. His inspiring and informative articles appearing from time to time in THE RAINBOW have received interfraternity acclaim. Although the program from the standpoint of actual execution is still in its infancy, I want to urge every delegate to give to his chapter our earnest request that the various articles of Colonel Palmer be reviewed by the chapter in session with a view toward the establishment of a permanent library in the chapter house. During the course of next year, you will hear more of the library program.

TOO OFTEN there is a basis for the adverse criticism given fraternities when insufficient care in the selection of fraternity material is displayed. In order to foster a steady growth of confidence, the alumni should assume increasing interest and responsibility in assisting the undergraduate chapters to obtain likely candidates for membership. A candidate chosen on the basis of his previous record in the community, scholastic standing, character, and financial responsibility, cannot fail to add to the prestige of the chapter with which he becomes affiliated.

THE DEVELOPMENT of the fraternity system has reached the present Era of Coöperation between the college and the fraternity, which supersedes the evolutionary stages referred to as the Eras of Suspicion and Toleration.

The college and the home alike now look to the fraternity for aid in furnishing a home, encouraging scholarship, and supplying a broadening influence from both the social and civic standpoints. The fraternity system has been referred to as the best socializing instrument on the college campus. I believe that. Recognition by the college of a common purpose with the fraternity in developing a well-rounded individual has fostered this new understanding.

We have discussed individual and general matters with college officials at every opportunity, and we have coöperated in a number of programs fostered by the colleges for the further development of the fraternity system, on their respective campuses.

Fraternities are meeting the criticism that they foster the growth of a caste system in a democracy by the simple statement of fact that a caste whose underlying principles are moral and social integrity, culture and intelligence, has a place in any complex society.

I hope that the fraternity system will always be subject to constructive criticism. The fraternity ideal needs no defense. If its practices are not all that they should be, its hope for the future lies in the refusal to defend the indefensible. It must be willing to admit weak points and to attack them vigorously.

I WANT to express to all of you the sincere gratitude and appreciation of the Arch Chapter for the untiring efforts and marked loyalty of the individual members of the Fraternity, who have served to their utmost capacity without thought of personal reward or commendation. The quality of leadership displayed by the undergraduate chapters and by the alumni has been outstanding.

The reputation of the Fraternity is built on the basis of how well the majority do the job. Much has been written about system and organization but no success is ever achieved without superior performance from those in the field. Neither can stand alone, but both constitute a powerful influence. To my mind, one of the most encouraging factors is the increasing evidence that  $\Delta T \Delta$  is getting both with equal regularity.

★ FROM THE EDITOR'S MAIL BAG ★

The June, 1937 issue of The Lamp, Standard Oil Company (N.J.) publication, announced the election of WILLIAM STAMPS FARISH, Pi (Mississippi), '02, as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Standard Oil Company (N.J.).

The dedication of Dale Carnegie's book How to Win Friends and Influence People will be noted as follows:

This Book is Dedicated to a Man
Who Doesn't Need to Read it:—
My Cherished Friend
HOMER CROY

Mr. Croy is from Gamma Kappa (Missouri) '07.

Rotarians! Did you read in the September, 1937 number of The Rotarian the debate "Are Fraternities Worth While?" Yes, says Mr. Fred H. Turner, Dean of Men, University of Illinois; No, says Mr. John R. Tunis, Author of Was College Worth While.

The column "Who's News Today" by Lemuel F. Parton, in The New York Sun, October 18, 1937, was titled "Engineering Barkley as Presidential Nominee in '40."

"... Many Democratic leaders are toying with the idea of Barkley for President. . . . The Senate fight of last July, when Barkley defeated Pat Harrison for floor leader, has advanced Barkley as a possible reconciler of factional animosities. . . . A loyal Southern party man who has New Deal and administration support, they think, might prove to be the great amalgamator. . . . As to presidential traditions, his had an authentic log cabin take-off and he rustled his way unaided through a couple of small Kentucky colleges. He is bulky, vigorous and homespun, a good orator and campaigner." (Ed. Mr. Barkley is from Beta Epsilon (Emory), '00.)

In his column on October 1, 1937, this same writer tells of "... a great deal of talk about the possibility of Paul G. Hoffman as a Republican candidate for the presidency. Mr. Hoffman is president of the Studebaker Corporation, acclaimed in the business community for the speed and skill with which he swung that business into the black, after its receivership. Lots of people . . . think he could do the same thing for U. S. A. . . ."

In error a letter was directed to Mr. EDWIN D. HASELTINE, Sigma Prime (Mt. Union), '81, of Youngstown, Ohio. His prompt reply stated, "... I am not the secretary nor any other officer of the alumni chapter and being almost eighty years old am too far from college days to be of any use as an officer. However, I would be glad to attend meetings such as we used to have and visit with both the old and young members. . . . We have a lot of good timber now in various colleges who ought to be led into the Delta Fraternity. I wish you would take the matter up with our chapter at Ohio State University and see if it will not interest graduates from State who live here in a revival of the alumni chapter. . . . Do not expect me to be active, although I will attend any meetings that may be called for that purpose. . . . (Ed.—Attention Beta Phi and Youngstown!)

GEORGE W. CRILE, Psi (Wooster), '92, has recently returned from another of his scientific expeditions. The United Press release of October 21, 1937, states: "... Dr. George W. Crile of the Cleveland Clinic, back from a trip to the Arctic is confident he has found further evidence in support of his theory that cold-climate animals have larger brains, thyroids, and adrenals in proportion to their bodies than do animals in warmer climates. He expects a study of the 400 specimens of wildlife gathered on his expedition to the Hudson Bay region to bear out his belief."

ALVAN E. DUERR, Chi (Kenyon), '93, has been appointed associate editor of Banta's Greek Exchange. The October, 1937 number of Banta's Greek Exchange presented the following announcement: "The Greek Exchange takes the greatest pleasure in announcing the appointment of Alvan E. Duerr as associate editor of the magazine to succeed Dr. Shepardson.

"Mr. Duerr, a member of  $\Delta T \Delta$ , is so well known that it is unnecessary for us to attempt to tell much about him. His work in  $\Delta T \Delta$  and the National Interfraternity Conference stamps him as one of the ablest men who has ever militantly espoused the cause of the college fraternities. He has been one of the first to sense the trend and to urge the fraternities to adapt themselves to the changing conditions now shaping themselves in the educational world.

"The Greek Exchange is in entire sympathy with Mr. Duerr's ideas and plans, and we hope that we may continue to be helpful in carrying the message of progress and construction to college and fraternity people."

As the last copy for the November number of THE RAINBOW was being directed to the publisher this telegram arrived: THREE OF US MET IN A BANK YESTERDAY TO RENEW OUR NOTES AND INCIDENTALLY RENEWED INTEREST IN THE SAN DIEGO ALUMNI CHAPTER signed STUART N. LAKE

Alumni chapters take notice! Mr. Lake is responsible for the organization of the San Diego Alumni chapter. He is the only reported officer. This fall he corralled two of the brethren in a bank.

★ THE DELT ALUMNI CHAPTERS ★

Atlanta

THE SOCIAL activities which we reported in our last installment are continuing in full swing. If we didn't stick in a good stag party now and then, we might be accused of trying to rival the local debutante season. But that good stag party is coming and it's going to be a big one. ALL YOU DELTS IN GEORGIA AND SURROUNDING STATES HEREBY TAKE NOTICE. THE ALL STATE BANQUET will be held Friday night, November 26, the day before the Tech-Georgia game. The active chapters from Tech, Georgia, and Emory will be present, and we want alumni from all over the map. If you don't believe it's a good party, ask anyone who has ever attended before.

The annual alumni outing went off with more of a bang than usual, and with only one or two dark moments. The two active chapters had their regular soft ball struggle; the boys plowed up the tennis courts, and kept the horseshoe pits ringing, and Roy Petty, in charge of operations, saw to it that everyone was filled with the very best grilled steaks the Forrest Hills Club could provide. The dark moment came in the blind bogey when two numbers came out of the hat that no one had hit, and then finally 74 was drawn, on which number Tom Miller was sitting alone. Thus always must the prosperous prosper.

We indulged ourselves in a swell party "for alumni only" September 30. This was a dinner dance at the Ansley Hotel Rathskeller and it was ostensibly given for the ladies of the members, though if the ladies had a better time than the members present, they should be ashamed of themselves for indulging in such revelry. Those who felt the need of an "appetizer" were invited to Brother I. B. McDaniel's beforehand, and from the number who came and the time they stayed, you would judge we had hardly a natural eater in the group. The occasion was triply festive since we welcomed to our midst Brother Alton Sadler from the Duke Chapter, Brother Sam Harrison who returned to us from Honolulu, and had with us Charlie Bickerstaff, our very reliable treasurer, with his very new bride, the former Margaret Anna Banks of New York City.

But we have wandered around long enough, imbued with our own enthusiasm, to the complete boredom of the readers of these columns. If we've left out anything important, ask us about it at the ALL STATE DINNER.

WILLIAM B. SPANN, JR.

Ashtabula County

ASHTABULA COUNTY ALUMNI CHAPTER's high spot for the summer season was its famous annual summer party at Geneva-On-The-Lake. We were very fortunate to have a very large turnout, and the opportunity to be host to several members of the Cleveland Rams, professional football team. Consequently, the main topic of the evening was football.

We are glad to welcome Bill Gault, Gamma Upsilon (Miami), '31, who has been in West Virginia with the American Fork and Hoe for some time, back to our chapter.

We were very pleased to recommend three or four boys of our community to various chapters at the schools where they are attending this year.

We have resumed our regular monthly meetings, and we cordially invite any sojourning Delts to meet with us on the second Tuesday of each month in the Hotel Ashtabula.

MIKE HEWINS

Cincinnati

SUMMER in Cincinnati was punctuated by only one Delt alumni event—the Golf Party. Seventeen of the tried and true teed off at Terrace Park Country Club August 17; and after old man par had successfully withstood each onslaught, low gross honors went to Vint Stegeman with a 76. Al Porter not being on hand to capture high gross, this somewhat dubious achievement was credited to Ray Hilsinger. It is an unwritten rule that the high gross score is never recorded for posterity.

Not wishing to dine near the scene of the crime, the gang traveled over to Grace's Folly, known to the unenlightened as the Hyde Park Country Club, there to partake of broiled lobster and all the trimmin's.

And now for a few personals—two of the brothers are shortly to leave the ranks of the benedicts. Cal Robertson will be married to Miss Miriam Bahr of Marion, Indiana, October 16. Clarence Arata will take the plunge November 12 when he weds Miss Gretchen Haldy of Cincinnati. Clarence and Gretchen have been "going steady" since their high school days.

Tony Kendall has accepted a position with Ferro Construction Company as foreman of concrete. His first project will be identified with the new power development of Columbia System at Saylor Park, near Cincinnati. Tony is also teaching construction and estimating at the University of Cincinnati Evening School.

This year's Finals for the club championship at Kenwood Country Club resolved into an all-Delt affair, with Gale Evans coming out on top by virtue of a particularly poisonous putter. Dick Farrell, on the short end of the count, has since been afflicted with nightmares, wherein he drives the greens on par four holes and then uses Evans for a putter.

Tom Grace has a troublesome job on his hands in keeping Cincinnati's government on the side of Charter in the coming November elections. As chairman of the Men's Charter Committee, Tom's goal is to increase what he delicately terms "the intelligent vote." It is widely rumored that win, lose, or draw, Tom expects to continue his spare-time hobby of managing the Willson Dairy.

Cleveland

THE CLEVELAND ALUMNI CHAPTER, under the leadership of President John C. McConnell, Zeta (Western Reserve), '22, is planning an active and interesting winter season, and extends a sincere invitation to all Delts in the Cleveland area to take part in our chapter functions.

The finest feature of our activity is the regular weekly luncheon meeting. These meetings, held every Friday noon, are exceptionally well attended and serve as a clearing house for Delt news. Around the banquet board we get Delt information from all quarters. We learn that Bill Mould, Alpha (Allegheny), '09, was seriously injured in a recent automobile crash but is making a rapid recovery and will soon be with us again. We hear that Bob McCarthy, Zeta (Western Reserve), '28, is store manager for Montgomery Ward at Rocky Mount, N.C.; that Frank Pelton, Zeta (Western Reserve), '04, is the new president of the Rotary Club and also selected as president of the Western Reserve Law School Alumni Association. There is news that Ed Cole, Zeta (Western Reserve), '29, has been made Chief Attorney Examiner for the Ohio State Sales Tax Department; that John Hirsch, Zeta (Western Reserve), '30, is studying at the Rockefeller Institute in New York; that Ray Ferrell, Mu (Ohio Wesleyan), '19, is now with the Treasury Department; that Ed. Hinckel, Jr., Zeta (Western Reserve), '28, is head of the Fire Inspection Bureau of Lenihan & Co.; that Sam Lind, Zeta (Western Reserve), '08, is off on another trip to Europe; that Governor Martin L. Davey has appointed Edward Dietrich, Mu (Ohio Wesleyan), '11, Director of Education for Ohio; that Herman Bartels, Zeta (Western Reserve), '34, recently married the beautiful Eleanor Hopkins, daughter of our former president, Harold C. Hopkins, Gamma Omicron (Syracuse), '10; and that Jack Finnicum, Beta (Ohio), '11, has just received a letter from Ray Carroll with interesting news. Indeed these weekly luncheon meetings do keep us in contact with the activities of Delts throughout the land.

Harry Hoffman, Beta Chi (Brown), '25, chairman of the social committee, announces a series of special functions for our winter season to include a Bingo party and dance to be held at the Zeta chapter house in November, a formal dance in December, a get-together dinner for January and the annual meeting and banquet in February.

If you are in Cleveland on a Friday, we invite you to have lunch with us. If you live in the Cleveland district, we cordially invite you to become a member of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter.

Denver

THE NEXT Karnea of  $\Delta T \Delta$  is to be held in the heart of the Rockies, and will be called the Vacation Karnea of 1939.

Can't you just picture the advantages of a great Delt gathering in Cool, Colorful Colorado, with its possibilities for outdoor recreation that can be offered at no other Delt center within reasonable hitch-hiking distance? As a bracer before breakfast, we suggest a spin over perfect mountain highways to the top of the world where snow-ball souvenirs are yours for the taking. Instead of the usual Karnea smoker in a smoke-filled hotel room, we offer a barbecue on the mountainside, with Delt songs echoing and reëchoing as they strike the aspens and the evergreens of the ever-higher mountain across the valley. For the Fallen Arches there will be a game of golf on the mountainside or a battle with the elusive trout in some mountain stream; for those under 70, a hike to peaks that rise above 14,000 feet.

Colorado has called before, but always there was another section of the country which was favored. There has been the tradition that alternate Karneas must go to some big city in the Mid-west or Mid-east . . . so we went to Pittsburgh in 1937. It's Colorado's turn in 1939.

Make your plans now for the 1939 vacation; bring along the family, the girl, the dog, or come alone, BUT COME.

Fox River Valley

THE NEWS from our alumni chapter is not particularly impressive to date. Our main function during the summer was to join with the Milwaukee Alumni Chapter in a big banquet at the Milwaukee Yacht Club, given for rushees of Delta Nu and Beta Gamma.

Since the opening of the school year we have not been able to arrange for a meeting, but have a dandy in prospect. Jimmie Melton, the famous baritone, is coming to Appleton sometime in November to appear on the Lawrence College Artists' Series program. At that time the actives, pledges, and alumni intend to have a banquet in honor of Brother Melton. Since we usually have a party for the new pledges every year, this banquet will have a two-fold purpose.

At our last business meeting last fall, Brother George Nixon was elected to act as Secretary-Treasurer in place of Brother Jack Benton who found himself too busy with his dental patients to carry the load. The boys were kind enough to reëlect me as Prexy.

ROBERT DURBROW

Greater New York

WE ARE having our first luncheon on Wednesday, October 20, and consequently I have no news with respect to any of the alumni in this district other than the following:

John K. Moffett, formerly vice-president of the Guarantee Trust Company, resigned from that company effective as of August 1 and is now vice-president of the Illinois

Glass Company, with headquarters at Toledo.

I will have more information in connection with the alumni in the Metropolitan district and will forward such personals to you for the next number of THE RAINBOW.

JOHN M. MONTSTREAM

Indianapolis

WITH vacations and the World Series behind us, football at hand, and a long winter (we hope mild) before us, we look forward to a season of many Delt activities. Football season always adds much zest to the conversation at the Friday noon luncheons, and you non-comers miss a fine opportunity to wager a small sum with your nefarious brethren.

Activities of the summer season included a rushing party sponsored by the alumni chapter for the benefit of all the Indiana chapters; Jess Pritchett was chairman. The party was held at the Greenwood farms of the Polk Milk Company, our host. While rain spoiled the soft ball game, it did not dampen the fun nor merit of the event, and our thanks are given to Polks, Jess Pritchett, and Kleb Hadley for their contributions to the success of the party.

Several Indianapolis Delts attended the Pittsburgh Karnea including Harold Tharp, Fred Tucker, Joe Morgan, Francis Hughes, John Barney, and Kleb Hadley. Several stories have been spread about, but the one that interests us most is the one about the boat ride that Kleber didn't take.

The Beta Zeta Chapter alumni group is coming along very successfully in its efforts to get the Butler chapter a new house, and hope to start building in the spring, the house to be ready for the opening of the 1938-39 school year. The alumni chapter has benefited by their efforts, as many Butler Delts have attended our luncheons regularly and we hope they will continue.

Plans for the Annual State Dance and Banquet are under way. President Hib Rust and Treasurer John Barney have already been in correspondence with the active chapters of Indiana, and we are wondering which chapter will be the first to respond with a pledge of one hundred per cent attendance. We haven't forgotten the challenge that Beta Alpha gave Beta Beta last spring; and we know of three other chapters that won't be outdone, so it looks like the biggest State Dance of all time.

WILLIAM H. MARTINDILL

Kansas City

OUR ANNUAL rush party for the neighboring active chapters was held at Paul Hamilton's home, Friday evening, September 3. A good crowd of alumni turned out, together with many of the actives from the Missouri, Kansas, Baker, and Kansas State Chapters, with their rushees.

It was particularly gratifying to the Kansas City Delts to note the names of many of these rushees on the pledge lists announced from these chapters later in the month. Field Secretary Gene Hibbs was here to aid in the festivities, and then departed to spend some time with the boys in Columbia.

Recent conventions have brought many prominent Delts to Kansas City, including President Watson of the National Safety Council, and Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker Corporation.

We were also glad to have George G. Traver, manager of the Greater Chicago Safety Council, with us at our luncheon this week. He just dropped in, and gave us an enthusiastic report on the rushing at Chicago. His own chapter is Dartmouth.

The American Bar Association found many Delts active in its convention affairs, with our own president, Charles L. Carr, busy with arrangements.

Representative Dewey Short addressed the Southwestern Group, Investment Bankers Association recently, and we understand he made quite a hit.

Visiting Delts are always welcome at our weekly luncheons held every Thursday noon at the Hotel Kansas Citian.

FRANK B. SIEGRIST

Lexington

FOR MONTHS and months, from last spring right on through the dog-days of the late summer, the Lexington Alumni Chapter existed with hardly more than an occasional chirp. But, where there's life there's hope. Two small meetings this fall have given some promise of a return to activity, and for the next issue of THE RAINBOW there may be more news to report.

All Lexington alumni felt deeply the tragedy of the most untimely death of Bob Freeberg, who, as president of Delta Epsilon at the University of Kentucky, whence sprang most of the local alumni, had become very close to the group. Bob, a swell fellow and a model character, was highly respected and admired by all who knew him. The loss is a great one for all his Delt brothers and his many other friends.

LAURENCE K. SHROPSHIRE

Los Angeles

THE LOS ANGELES ALUMNI CHAPTER has enjoyed a rather quiet and uneventful summer, but with the advent of fall, we are returning to our normal activities. Beginning October 21, we will continue our monthly dinners at the Delta Iota Shelter. These dinners are enjoyed by members of our alumni chapter from all over the country and have proved beneficial to ourselves as well as to the chapter.

Our weekly luncheon is now permanently established at the University Club with an average of 25 attending and with a considerably larger number on special occasions.

One such special occasion was in honor of Brother Nat Fitts' return from the Karnea at which he gave us a very interesting report of the doings at the Karnea, both business and personal.

We are always glad to welcome any visiting Delts at our weekly luncheon, and since our chapter is probably the most cosmopolitan in the country, they usually meet one or more men from their own chapter.

O. L. COX

EDITOR'S NOTE: Modesty must be the cause for the change from established style in presenting Alumni Chapter wheel-horses in this number. Our request for a review of those men whose work is contributing to the advancement of Δ T Δ in Chicago was answered with four pictures and copy which follows.

DELT BROTHERS EVERYWHERE:

W E SEND greetings from Chicago. Here long ago was located a peaceful Indian village. The village was inhabited by Pottawatomies and the Pottawatomies were inhabited—but let us pass that.

A small river empties into Lake Michigan. The region was known as She-Caw-Goe; literally, "the place of the wild onion," a native plant of unusual fragrance.

Came the white man! The fragrance of the wild onion was replaced with the aroma of the stockyards. He made the river run backwards. He built a great city. Chicago grew fast and tough. Then an Irishman's cow set fire to the works, and Chicago went up in smoke.

In the spirit of "I will," the city was rebuilt. Two World Fairs have proven the merchandising ability and showmanship of its citizens.

In this atmosphere of enterprise and leadership thrives Δ T Δ. A large number of loyal alumni, gathered here from all chapters in the Fraternity, join in making the Chicago Alumni Chapter a live organization in a great city.

In April, 1937 the activities of the old Chicago Alumni Chapter and the North Shore Alumni Chapter were consolidated, forming one organization to carry on Delt activities throughout the Chicago area. Impetus to this reorganization and revitalization program was furnished by Herbert W. Bartling, Beta Pi (Northwestern), '18, vice-president of the Western Division of the Fraternity. The officers pictured on these pages were elected.

Alumni Chapter Wheel

The first social event under the new regime was a dinner at the Adventurers Club, attended by over 65 Delts. Isak Dahle, Beta Gamma (Wisconsin), '04, president of the Adventurers Club, was host. Judge Charles M. Thomson, Gamma (Washington and Jefferson), '98, past president of the Chicago Bar Association, was the speaker and he related to the interest of all present some of his experiences while judge of the Superior Court in Cook County. His subject was "Crime Stands Before the Court." The comedy of the evening was furnished by Edward W. Hoffman, Beta Gamma (Wisconsin), '07, who came from Milwaukee for the event.

In June a Golf Tournament and Dinner was held at the Rolling Green Country Club under the direction of Carl N. Wolf, Beta Pi (Northwestern), '11. The Chicago Alumni Chapter Cup was won by Hugh C. Duvall, Beta Pi (Northwestern), '35, former Northwestern University football star. Carl Wolf presented the cups and other prizes at the dinner which followed the afternoon on the fairways. William M. McNamee, Beta Upsilon (Illinois), '10, former president of the Western Division, spoke briefly.

During the summer months, the Chicago Alumni Chapter carried on an intensive rushing program under the direction of George G. Traver, Gamma Gamma (Dartmouth), '24, secretary of the alumni chapter. The purpose of the program was to assist the undergraduate chapters in obtaining information on desirable candidates from the Chicago area.

The program culminated in a dinner which was held at the Union League Club, Thursday evening, September 2. One hundred seventy-five alumni, undergraduates, and rushees attended. It was the largest Delt gathering held in Chicago since the 1933 Karnea.

An inspirational program was provided to give the sixty odd boys who are entering universities and colleges this fall a picture of the ideals and objectives of the Fraternity.

Judge Charles M. Thomson, Gamma (Washington and Jefferson), '98; Arthur J. Elliott, Beta Pi (Northwestern), '02; and Frank H. (Sankey) West, Beta Pi (Northwestern), '02, were the speakers. John R. Hastie, Beta Pi (Northwestern), '38, spoke for the undergraduates of his chapter. The presidents of Epsilon (Albion), Beta Psi (Wabash), and Gamma Beta (Armour) chapters responded briefly to introductions.

One of the most valuable activities of the local alumni chapter is the Placement Bureau, under the direction of Vice-President George S. Sando, Beta Psi (Wabash), '22. This bureau was successful in placing a number of undergraduates in jobs during the past summer. Also assistance was given several young graduates in obtaining permanent positions. It is the plan of the alumni chapter that the activities of this bureau will be greatly expanded during 1937-38.

The necessary funds for promoting the activities of the alumni group have been contributed by numerous alumni who have learned how to corral plenty of the world's goods without losing the inspiration of  $\Delta T \Delta$ .

The work of reorganizing Chicago alumni activities in recent months has been greatly aided by the active interest of many of the faithful members in this area who have contributed both time and money at the call from the officers. Just a few of the familiar faces are, Charles F. Axelson, Gamma Alpha (Chicago), '07; A. R. Brunker, Omega (Pennsylvania), '03; Donald J. Cranston, Beta Psi (Wabash), '14; Stuart K. Fox, Beta Gamma (Wisconsin), '20; Charles W. Hills, Jr., Gamma Beta (Armour), '11; Roy Massena, Beta Psi (Wabash), '02; George A. Pad-dock, Beta Iota (Virginia), '06; Francis F. Patton, Gamma Alpha (Chicago), '11; Marshall A. Pipin, Beta Psi (Wabash), '24; Roy O. West, Beta Beta (DePauw), '90; and others.

Milwaukee

WEDNESDAY, September 8, the local alumni, numbering thirty-five members who were present at the meeting, gave a rushing banquet for fifteen rushees of the University of Wisconsin and Lawrence active chapters.

The banquet was held at the Milwaukee Yacht Club and the toastmaster was Fred Leech of the class of '36 of the Lawrence chapter.

Brothers Darryl Johnson of Cincinnati, Herbert Cornell, Foster Sheller, and others, participated in the speaking, and the result was a very interesting, instructive and inspirational meeting for everyone present.

The Milwaukee alumni understand that the results of the rushing were quite favorable for both the University of Wisconsin and the Lawrence Chapters, and we understand that the Lawrence Chapter had practically the pick of the campus during rushing week.

Incidentally, this is the best attendance there has been at a Milwaukee  $\Delta T \Delta$  meeting in years; and we are going to try to keep up the record and even improve upon it if possible at the next meeting.

We miss the advice and assistance of an occasional visit from the Fraternity's office, and we extend our standing invitation to any of the officers or members of the Arch Chapter who are in the vicinity of Milwaukee at any time in the future.

O. W. CARPENTER, JR.

Portland

THE ALUMNI chapter feels that it has aided materially in the successful undergraduate rushing season this fall. During the summer we staged a party at Art Carlson's home on Lake Oswego. Among the twenty rushees present were boys who are now attending University of Washington, Oregon State College, and the University of Oregon. Les Wilkins brought a fine group of boys down to Portland from Seattle. After swimming, canoeing and a few horseshoe tournaments, the picnic supper tasted like a million. Later in the summer another party was held at the home of Chris Ferris. About 30 rushees, again composed of prospects for our three neighboring chapters, and twenty actives and alumni were present. We enjoy attending these affairs and are pleased to be of assistance, in the chapter's rushing campaigns.

On June 6 (all day Sunday) we put on our annual golf tournament. No need to be an expert golfer to enter these tournaments—with the handicap system and the additional mental hazard prevailing, it's anyone's game. Attesting to this statement is the fact that Bob Rankin came out with low medal score. Johnnie Hawks, who was in charge of arrangements, was in second place. We can't remember who won the booby prize but it must have been Karl Greeve.

Mark Gill's baby girl is 8 months old but the secretary slipped up on the announcement. Other arrivals are a baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Karl Greeve and a boy to the Bill Graeper family.

Warren Hale, M.D., has joined our group. Until recently he was the physician at McNeil Island Federal Penitentiary in Washington.

Curley Fuller and Don Schafer have been admitted to the Oregon bar.

We still have lunch at the Old Heathman Hotel, Wednesdays at noon.

W. R. TODD

San Francisco

IN OCTOBER, 1937, the San Francisco Alumni Chapter held its annual banquet at the Embassy Club near famed Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco. Harry Montgomery acted as toastmaster during such times as he could get hold of the microphone. It has always been the custom of the San Francisco alumni to have as their guests at this annual banquet the active members of Beta Rho (Stanford) and Beta Omega (California). This year, because of the football game between the University of California at Los Angeles and Stanford being played at Stanford on the following day, an invitation was extended to Delta Iota (University of California at Los Angeles) to join in the celebration. As a consequence the number of undergraduates at the banquet exceeded those of any previous year.

As the theme of the occasion was pure fun, no speeches had been arranged. All such rules must fall, however, when a good enough reason to waive them appears and, as a consequence, Nat Fitts spoke and suggested that the next Western Division conference would be in San Francisco. This met with enthusiastic approval. The San Francisco Alumni Chapter is very proud that its city has been chosen for this conference.

The officers chosen for the ensuing year were: D. Power Boothe, Jr., Beta Rho (Stanford), '31, president; Marshall R. Brown, Beta Rho (Stanford), '30, vice-president; Edward Clark, Beta Omega (California), '34, vice-president; and Frank P. Adams, Beta Rho (Stanford), '31, secretary.

The San Francisco Alumni Chapter will continue its regular weekly luncheons on Wednesdays at Coppa's Restaurant just off of California Street between Montgomery and Kearny Streets. Delts residing in San Francisco who have not registered with the chapter are urged to do so at once.

Stark County (Ohio)

THE STARK COUNTY ALUMNI CHAPTER has been going full speed during the summer months. Two of our monthly meetings have included the ladies. We feel that these ladies' nights have done a great deal toward getting the members better acquainted. Steak fries were held on the farm of Brother Jacob Hess.

Many of our members have been active in steering boys to nearby chapters. Stark County now has as many, if not more, active Delts than there are Delt alumni in the county. We feel that much of this is due to the activity of the Stark County Alumni Chapter.

Plans are now being made for our big luncheon meeting during the Christmas holidays, at which time all actives and pledges are invited.

About half of our membership is made up of Delts from Massillon, and the other half from Canton, Ohio. As a result, we are already starting to play the annual Massillon-Canton High School football game, a game which usually attracts nationwide attention, to say nothing of a crowd of around 20,000. Sometimes the rivalry becomes so keen that our discussions severely strain the fraternal bonds.

As for vital statistics, the only ones available at this time are the birth of a baby daughter to Brother Roesch on September 6, and the marriage of Brother Kies a few months ago.

We would welcome the opportunity to show our hospitality to any visiting Delts, and if there are any who may be visiting Stark County, we would be glad to have them get in touch with the undersigned, or with Brother Philip Young in the First National Bank Bldg., Canton, Ohio.

We have just heard that Brother Baltzly, who is employed by the Timken Roller Bearing Company, is moving to Pittsburgh about November 1. He has been one of the mainstays of our group but we have the slight consolation, at least, that Pittsburgh alumni will benefit by our loss.

JACK ROESCH

Topeka

THE FOLLOWING are the Delts who have moved to Topeka during the past summer: George E. Sinning, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '37; Donald P. McIntosh, Gamma Chi (Kansas State), '32; Clinton C. Acheson, Gamma Theta (Baker), '35; Edward J. Mueller, Gamma Chi (Kansas State), '22; Frank L. Roark, Gamma Tau (Kansas), '23; G. E. "Fuzzy" Wilson, Gamma Tau (Kansas), '20, coming here from Wilmington, California; and Paul R. Beatty, Gamma Kappa (Missouri), '29.

The Topeka Alumni Chapter was host to the new pledges of Gamma Tau Chapter of Lawrence, Kansas, at a dinner given at the Hotel Jayhawk on the evening of September 18, 1937. This is an annual event with the chapter from Gamma Tau and is a part of the conclusion of the rush week activities at Lawrence, Kansas.

Officers elected for the ensuing year include: president, Paul R. Beatty, Equitable Life Insurance Company, Central National Bank Building, Topeka, Kansas; secretary-treasurer, Hugh L. Manion, Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, National Bank of Topeka Building, Topeka, Kansas.

Under the able leadership of Ed Mueller, plans are being made for a large number of the Topeka alumni to attend the annual Kansas University-Kansas State game at Lawrence, Kansas, Saturday, November 13.

At a luncheon given on October 13 at the Jayhawk Hotel, the Delts were still talking about the annual Summer Stag Party which was given at the home of Dan Anderson. After an ample buffet supper, we retired to comfortable chairs on the lawn and were shown a premier showing of color motion pictures taken by Dr. Paul M. Powell who had just returned from extended study in Vienna.

These pictures covered an extensive tour of Europe and showed many interesting views taken in France, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Italy and Switzerland. Perhaps the most beautiful were those taken on a skiing trip in the Austrian Alps and picture of the blue Mediterranean near the Isle of Capri.

Dr. Powell explained as he showed shots of a Hitler Parade that German Police prevented him from getting a picture of the dictator himself. He obtained several pictures of Mussolini, however. The pictures showed the architecture, farming methods, and scenery in and near Vienna.

Following the pictures, the boys retired for a bit of poker which lasted until the wee small hours of the night.

Mr. Richard Hickey, following his admittance to the Bar in June, was taken into the firm of Ebright & Smith of Wichita, Kansas.

Mr. Hugh Manion is the proud parent of a girl born since our last writing.

The Topeka Alumni Chapter now has more than forty members which is a large increase over former years. We extend a cordial invitation to any Delt to attend our Wednesday luncheons at the Jayhawk Hotel.

C. R. HARNER

Toronto

THE ANNUAL meeting of the chapter was held at the fraternity house September 23 at which meeting the officers for the coming year were elected. "Suds" Malcomson succeeded Bill Bentley as president, Ted Sharpe, vice-president, Alan Dyer, treasurer, Art McKinney, secretary, and the Council will consist of Kel Leitch, Ed. Bell, Harold Sproat, C. Gallow, Ivan Hardy.

Later the executives met and from many good suggestions selected a list and set the time, place, and form for the year's monthly meetings. Outstanding among these are Psi Delta Psi night at Ed Cousins' home October 29 where we hope to entertain all the older graduates who were the backbone of our former local chapter. Mass attendance of alumni is planned for active chapter initiation and banquet in November and Founders Day banquet in March.

Activities of the chapter outside of regular meetings have not been varied, rather, they have been concentrated on assisting the active chapter. Five members have volunteered their services in assisting rushing and many others are giving much of their time and energy in helping the actives shake off the last traces of depression.

Many members attending the opening Intercollegiate football game between University of Toronto and Queen's University of Kingston, Ontario, and were very much pleased with the result. Apparently Varsity's first professional coach, Warren Stevens of Syracuse, has another good team this year.

ART MCKINNEY

Tulsa

ALUMNI CHAPTER PRESIDENT LAWRENCE WILSON, back from Dallas where it is alleged he witnessed the Oklahoma Sooners tie the Texas Longhorns 7 to 7, has officially opened the fall alumni activities by restating his now famous motto, "More Delt and Less Self." After visiting over half the states this past summer and renewing Delt acquaintances everywhere and making many new ones, it is becoming an established fact that "Honky" knows more Delts than any other one in this section of the country. Lawrence was the Delta Alpha (Oklahoma) alumni delegate to the Karnea.

Speaking of the Karnea at Pittsburgh, and a very fine one it was too, Tulsa alumni were very much interested in the fine report presented by our official delegate Jack Troxell (Gamma Sigma) at the first meeting after his return. No little enthusiasm was created among Tulsa alumni by the decision to hold the 1939 Karnea at Denver. For the first time, to our recollection at least, the Karnea will be close at hand for Oklahoma Delts. Plans are already underway for the Tulsa alumni to attend "en masse."

The weekly luncheons that were carried on during the summer months for the added purpose of bringing the alumni into closer contact with Delt rushees and to coöperate with the various active chapters in their pre-rush activities, have been discontinued and the fall program of monthly dinners went into effect in October. The dinners are held the second Friday in each month at 6:30 at the University Club.

The Delta Alpha Chapter at Norman was very appreciative of the fact that Bob Bates, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '24, returned from his vacation in the cool mountains of Colorado two weeks ahead of schedule to assist in rush. Last spring Bob presented Delta Alpha with an award to be presented to the outstanding freshman. The basis for selection is scholarship, leadership, and activities. The freshman class is to determine the recipient of the award each year.

Saint Nick came out of his summer hiding, according to Rev. George McDonald, Beta Beta (De Pauw), and gave him a swell vacation to Glacier National Park. From reports the fishing was mighty fine.

Ronnie Johnston spent his vacation "riding again" the lofty ranges in and near Grand Lake, Colorado.

George Mix McKinney, erstwhile alumni chapter secretary, has moved to Lawton, Oklahoma. The chapter regrets his leaving Tulsa but wishes him every success in his new location. Hirst B. Suffield has been elected secretary-treasurer.

Joe Fred Gibson, Oklahoma City

Alumni President, was a Tulsa visitor for the University of Oklahoma-Tulsa University football game. Gordon Watts, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '35, Waggoner attorney, is a frequent Tulsa visitor. Joe Caveizel, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '37 and Don Pilkinton, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '37, are among recent graduates to join the Tulsa Alumni Chapter.

E. R. Filley, Gamma Theta (Baker), Texas Company official, and H. F. Sackett, Mu (Ohio Wesleyan), have recently returned from a visit to the new oil play area in Illinois. R. P. Edmunds, Beta Omega (California), visited at his home in California recently.

Gene Buchanan, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), Brown-Dunkin buyer, returned recently from a business trip to New York. Howard Newman, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), made a trip to St. Louis recently.

Lawrence Wilson was the genial toastmaster at the Delta Alpha annual rush banquet held in September at the Oklahoma University Club in Oklahoma City. Bob Bates was his able assistant.

Again let us remind you that the alumni dinners are held the second Friday in each month at 6:30 at the University Club. All Delts are cordially welcome.

HAVE YOU SECURED YOUR COPY?

The thirteenth (1935) edition of the only directory of American College Fraternities published is now available. Thoroughly revised and brought up to the minute by Dr. Francis W. Shepardson, the editor, the book is a valuable reference work that should be in every fraternity house and on every fraternity worker's desk. It contains a short history, complete chapter directory, and list of famous members, of every fraternity; a short history of the fraternity movement; a list of colleges and universities and the fraternities located there; and a history of interfraternity movements, and of the present organizations.
