Delta Tau Delta Holds First Place in Scholarship by Wide Margin

Nearest Competitor Makes Less Than One Half
1938-39 Delt Score

The  $\Delta T \Delta$  scholarship average index for the undergraduate chapters for the year 1938-39 was plus 3.203. This record was the best of all the fraternities with fifty or more chapters. The nearest competitor had a scholastic average index of plus 1.488. The  $\Delta T \Delta$  average index for 1937-38 was plus 2.47, and for the year 1936-37, plus 2.23.

By Divisions,  $\Delta T \Delta$ 's 1938-39 scholastic record reads:

Southern	plus 9.581
Western	plus .786
Northern	plus 5.036
Eastern	plus 2.856

The average index is computed in accordance with a system adopted by the National Interfraternity Conference and the National Associations of Deans and of Registrars, and it represents approximately the percentage by which the composite records of all the chapters of  $\Delta T \Delta$  exceeds the average of all men in their institutions.

Fifty-Fifth Karnea at Estes Park

THE Delts who attended the Fifty-Fifth Karnea have many pleasant recollections to bring back to mind during the winter months around the family fireplace. For years to come those Delts shall look forward with great anticipation to the reunion of the many new friendships formed almost two miles up from sea level. The Colorado Mile-High Karnea is a memory now—and what a memory. Judging from the fight we all had for descriptive adjectives at the close of the convention the writer should have been able to pick up several new additions for the next edition of Webster's, but the proper combination has not been found to describe the job those Colorado Delts did for all of Delta Tau Delta.

Many of the delegates arrived a day or two early so as to have full opportunity to take in the scenic wonders of the Colorado Rockies, in fact some had been on extended trips covering the entire West. Tuesday's buses from Denver were well loaded with delegates who had made the trip to the Colorado capital via train, bus, and airplane. With the influx of automobiles from over thirty states the little village of Estes Park was well aware, by Wednesday noon, that the Delts had arrived. Flags, signs, placards, stickers, carrying the colors and symbols of Delta Tau Delta were to be seen at every glance.

Tuesday night the lobby of the Stanley Hotel was filled with groups greeting newcomers and old friends. Here you saw Maine and Florida on the east coast join hands with Washington and California on the west, and Canada on the north, and

Texas on the south. There was a great interest in mixing up the conversations between the Southern boys, the New Englanders, the Mid-Westerners and the cowboys from the West. An alumnus from California said, "I've found fifteen different ways of saying Delta Tau Delta, yet they are all spelled the same."

So it was for Tuesday, just a plain old roundup of the grandest bunch of guys you would dream of meeting anywhere.

The roundup continued on Wednesday morning. The early buses bringing in more and many new license plates coming into view. Many of the fellows took early morning hikes into the mountains. Those with tender feet transferred the agony to a horse and rode over some of the beautiful trails conditioned by the National Park Service. Around lunch time you could see some golfers returning from a morning round.

N. Ray Carroll called the first session of the Fifty-Fifth Karnea promptly at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, August 30. Invocation was pronounced by Norman MacLeod, past president of Delta Tau Delta. Eugene Hibbs, former field secretary of the Fraternity, led the assemblage in Delta Shelter.

Colonel Philip S. Van Cise, general chairman of the Karnea, was introduced to the convention and he in turn introduced several members of the Karnea Committee.

Colonel Van Cise introduced the

KURT F. PANTZER, HONORABLE RALPH L. CARR, PAUL G. HOFFMAN

Fifty-Fifth Karnea of Delta Tau Delta, The Mile-High Karnea, Hotel Stanley, Estes Park, Colorado, August 30-September 2, 1939

Honorable Ralph L. Carr, Beta Kappa (Colorado), '10, Governor of Colorado and former United States District Attorney of Colorado, and Honorary Chairman of the Fifty-Fifth Karnea, who welcomed the Delts to the state and spoke briefly on his evaluation of the Fraternity. Governor Carr declared, "Delta Tau Delta gave me everything I got out of school—and most important, my ideals of life."

After the full list of committee appointments was completed by President Carroll, he introduced the members of the Arch Chapter and former members of the Arch Chapter who were attending the Karnea. The Arch Chapter members on hand for the opening session included Vice-President Paul G. Hoffman, Secretary Charles T. Boyd, Southern Division President Irving B. McDaniel, Western Division President Herbert W. Bartling, and Eastern Division President George W. Brewster. Secretary of Alumni Branch Rickey was detained until Friday and the other three members, Treasurer Owen C. Orr, Supervisor of Scholarship Henry M. Wriston, and Northern Division President Kleber W. Hadley were prevented from attending the convention due to illness.

Two former presidents of Delta Tau Delta joined in the festivities of the Mile-High Karnea, Norman MacLeod and A. Bruce Bielaski. Two former presidents of the Western Division, Francis F. Patton and Martin B. Dickinson; two former Northern Division Presidents, Clarence "Dad" Pumphrey and Perl S. Miller. Two men who have had double-duty service records for Delta Tau Delta completed the lineup of former Arch Chapter members: Charles Judd Crary, former Vice-President and former Secretary of Alumni; and L. Allen Beck, former Supervisor of Scholarship and former Secretary.

The first official order was the reading of the president's report. For the complete report we refer you to any undergraduate chapter—it is a report that you will take pride in reading. Here are a few excerpts:

"It is significant that this Colorado Karnea of 1939 should be designated from all others as the 'Mile-High Karnea.' The term 'mile-high' is not only applicable to our location geographically, but may be applied as a measure of our growth throughout the years. . . ."

"It is not a matter of chance or luck that the Fraternity has not only survived but grown through more than three-quarters of a century of flux and change in the standards and ideals of society. That Delta Tau Delta was founded by men with a magnificent vision for the future and that the principles of honesty, fair dealing and usefulness were incorporated into its foundation account for its ability to withstand these periods of change. . . ."

"Man's span of life is short, but it is a fine thing to feel that we have a part and a responsibility in the building of something larger and more lasting than one's self, and to work unselfishly toward the realization of the ideals of Truth and Brotherhood in an organization which has these ideals for a basis. This in itself is no small assignment. It exacts loyalty, self-sacrifice and work—the very elements of character."

"The fact that you are a member of a fraternity has no significance or merit in itself. But the fact that you are willing to contribute something worth while to group-living and to bring credit to yourself and to that group through your daily course of action adds to the general sum total of human dignity, achievement and sound citizenship."

"The past twenty years have been most difficult years for youth. Born into a world disrupted by war and its aftermath, he has seen the lowering of old standards of virtue and has been confronted by the results of blind thinking and selfish actions of the past generation. Sensing the confusion of the elders, youth has been forced to formulate a philosophy of its own. The weakening, as always, has assumed the defeatist attitude and is being carried along with the tide; but beneath the political and emotional claptrap, the 'still, small voice' of the thoughtful, conscientious student is distinctly audible. He is looking to the future in terms of what he can do—not in terms of what he can get—toward the establishment of a more stable state of society in which he may live a full and better life. . . ."

"Delta Tau Delta has passed her eightieth milestone. No longer may we plead youth and immaturity as an excuse for foolish actions and poor judgment in the administration of our affairs. The follies of youth belong to youth and are, to an extent, excusable. But we are an adult organization and must be held responsible for future errors of judgment. Likewise, the credit which will accrue from skillful planning and honest building is rightly due us. A course of action in which each man contributes his best efforts to the common good of the group, wholeheartedly and selflessly, is an honest stone in the whole structure. A course of action built on self-seeking and disloyalty points to a predictable end for the whole organization. Let the Creed of Delta Tau Delta be an eternal flame to light our way! . . ."

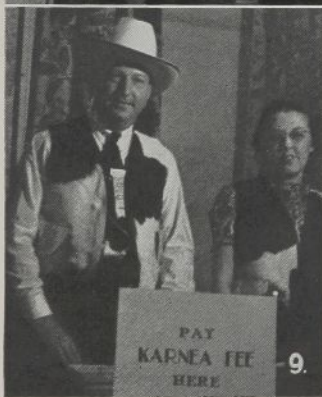

"It is our hope that you will accept your responsibility fully. . . ."

"Delta Tau Delta was among the first, if not the first, of the fraternities to recognize that a strong central organization is a condition precedent to the successful functioning of a fraternity; and in January, 1913 the Board of Directors, acting under corporate authority, established the Central Office. Since that time, and more especially during the current decade, this branch of the Fraternity's administration has developed into one of the very best business and coordinating organizations I have ever come in contact with in either fraternity or business circles. . . ."

"The field secretarial system is an indispensable part of the successful fraternity. It is, in fact, one of the most important developments in the whole system. . . ."

"There is no inconsistency between fraternal management and a common-sense and honest attitude toward finance. The laws of political economy do not recede in the face of emotional impulses, and no amount of fraternity zeal will keep water out of a leaky vessel. It is not possible to defy the rules of sound finance and not pay the penalty. . . ."

"The primary condition for the successful functioning of the individual, the home, business and government is a sound financial policy. This principle applies to the college fraternity. . . ."

"I believe that we are receiving more intelligent leadership and practical utility for the funds expended than at any time in the history of Delta Tau Delta. That does not imply a feeling that those who have preceded us were remiss in their planning. It does mean that we know more now what is required and how to do it—the natural result of accumulated experience. Too, the Fraternity has had the benefit of the rigorous demands of recent years in which it was necessary either to increase the cadence or drop out of the parade.

"No large surplus in the General Fund is being accumulated. The income is expended in a judicious manner to promote the general welfare of the Fraternity, especially that of the undergraduate chapters. . . ."

"Delta Tau Delta's multiple expansion of facilities and services to the present status occurred largely during the depression years on a budget substantially less than that of the years immediately preceding the end of the golden era. We are now geared to smooth operation in good times or bad, and being so mobilized we expect that Delta Tau Delta will be able to deflect without serious results the major portion of contingencies encountered as the route is traveled. . . ."

"Management of properties which represent an aggregate cost approximating $3,500,000.00 is big business, particularly so when one considers that about 75 per cent of that amount was formerly mortgage indebtedness. There is no tribute too high for these unsung Delts who comprise the officers and boards of directors of the Fraternity's house corporations. . . ."

"The greatest honor which can be conferred by the Fraternity is the opportunity to serve it. The opportunity has been mine for over ten years and I would not recall a single one of them except to try to do better. Keep your heads high and your rapiers unsheathed in the interest of the right. Give to Delta Tau Delta the fullest measure of your confidence and loyalty. God bless all of you!"

Was it any wonder that the convention arose and proclaimed the acceptance of N. Ray Carroll's report with long applause.

The reports of the other Arch Chapter officers completed the first session.

Tuesday night in the Stanley Hotel dining room the Karnea Smoker gave all delegates an opportunity to get acquainted. L. Allen Beck started the program by enticing a number of the celebrities to the stage from which point he shot a few quick jabs of wit. He even succeeded in getting the six United States Senators up for introductions. The Senators, by the way, though not Delts, were guests at the Stanley Hotel during the week while making an investigation of new water development projects in the mountains. The Senators attended most of the social functions of the convention and indicated great enjoyment in the festivities.

Dr. W. Bernard Yegge of the Denver Alumni Chapter took over the duties of master of ceremonies and a riot followed. With a slight stretch of imagination you can imagine Yegge dressed similar to W. C. Fields in the role of Macauber. In company was one or two flower girls (I hope those guys don't look me up), a balloon dispenser, an Indian, and several song birds. After a few moments the agony became too great and the brethren "booed" them off the stage in favor of the real entertainers for the evening, featuring "The Men of the West," radio entertainers over KOA, Denver's NBC station, and the Claire Deane dancers. Plenty of refreshments were on hand during this informal evening and the first official social gathering was proclaimed a huge success.

Thursday morning's session started off with the presentation of a Distinguished Service Chapter Citation to A. Bruce Bielaski, former president of the Fraternity. The citation was presented by Norman MacLeod.

Following some brief reports and announcements President Carroll introduced Kurt F. Pantzer, Beta Psi (Wabash), '13, Assistant National Librarian, to the convention. Pantzer addressed the convention on the subject of "The Delt House System," the new frontier open to the Fraternity. We will hear more of this "new frontier" which is proclaimed by our new president "that it contained the elements of the finest program of any educational system in America today."

The second session adjourned about noon with announcements concerning the program for the afternoon and evening. Following lunch at the hotel the delegates joined a caravan of some seventy-five automobiles which transported the entire convention on the beautiful Trail Ridge drive over the Continental Divide down to Grand Lake. A park service patrol lead the caravan and a wrecker served as caboose for the long train of cars that wound their way up and down the mountains. Here again, adjectives cannot properly describe that trip. Two or three stops were made along the way so that the camera bearers, about two out of every three, could give their lens a workout.

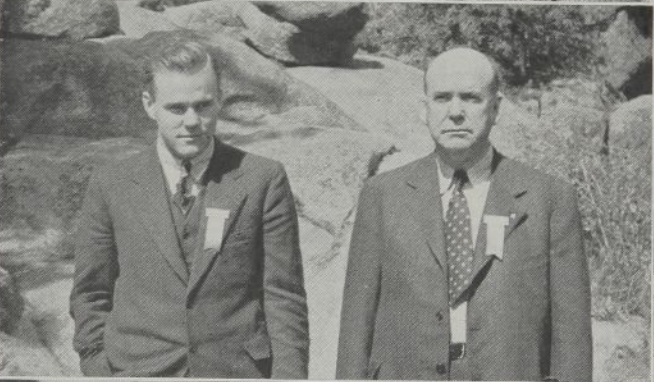

On the west of the Divide at Grand Lake the kitchen staff of the Stanley Hotel had started a steak barbecue. It was not long until the gang was eating and let us say that it appeared that no injustice was given the cooking by anyone after that long ride which at one point reached a height of twelve thousand two hundred feet plus. That mountain air made us all eat.

After the barbecue came a song fest, entirely informal and unannounced—but good. Then those Colorado Delts pulled a surprise in smoking some Wyoming Indians into the open. The warriors, squaws, and those just beyond the stage of papoose, danced and sang around the campfire.

The trip by caravan back over the Divide to Estes Park was one that will never be forgotten. It was a beautiful moonlight night, just as advertised by those apparently predictable Colorado Delts. From most any point of the caravan the headlights of the cars gave an appearance of lights strung on a Christmas tree. Some of the wild life of the mountains stole the show at one point and momentarily stopped the parade. A buck, a doe and a fawn staged a holdup, but quickly withdrew some thirty feet up the side of the mountain and watched the parade.

The third session was called to order Friday morning. Following preliminary announcements the delegates were divided into groups for round-table discussions covering internal organization, rushing, pledge education, finances, scholarship, and alumni relations. One group was headed by Herbert W. Bartling, President of the Western Division, and the other by Eugene B. Hibbs, former field secretary of the Fraternity.

The fourth session Friday afternoon was also used for round-table discussions.

Friday night came the Karnea Dance. It was held in the auditorium of the Stanley Hotel with one of Colorado's top-notch orchestras providing the music. The big show came just before the dance. Estes Park, being just a small resort town, did not provide the necessary feminine appeal in sufficient quantity for the dance so the Denver and Boulder Deltas brought a select group of Colorado's finest to the dance by bus. Three bus loads arrived promptly at the appointed hour and nary a delegate was late. The dates were introduced by cards which gave full description, so from the background it appeared that the boys just went down the line looking for the one that was "five foot two with eyes of blue." One delegate was heard to say, "What's the use of going to all this trouble, after looking them all over let's tear up the cards and just grab—they're all good."

The dance was a big success except that someone forgot to turn the clock back, and of course that precision of the Colorado Karnea Committee would not be broken so the girls were all loaded in the buses and started back home at 1 a. m.

The final session of the convention came Saturday morning. The Site of the 1941 Karnea, The Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia

Committee on Nominations was the first to report. H. J. Jepsen, Beta Rho (Stanford), chairman of the committee read the report. Their report was accepted by the convention and your new officers are introduced in this number of THE RAINBOW.

Clemens R. Frank, Zeta (Western Reserve), acting for Chairman Martin B. Dickinson, Gamma Tau (Kansas), read the report of the Committee on Constitution and Laws. Of the several amendments recommended for adoption the discussion on the changes in the geographical distribution of the Northern and Western Divisions proved of particular interest.

The report of the Committee on Audit and Finance was read by Chairman Hugh P. Hartley. Clarence Pumphrey, Eta (Buchtel), '74, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, read the report of his committee.

Then came the reports of the Committee on Chapters and Chapters by Chairman George G. Traver; and the Committee on Time and Place by Chairman Norman MacLeod. Invitations for the 1941 Karnea were received from New Orleans, Louisiana; Washington, D. C.; Columbus, Ohio; and White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia. Representatives of each city spoke in behalf of their invitation. After a short discussion on the advantages due to accommodations, expenses, etc., a motion was made, seconded, and passed that White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, be accepted for the 1941 convention.

Milton F. Hader, Mu (Ohio Wesleyan), led the delegates in the singing of Delta Shelter, after which President N. Ray Carroll declared the Fifty-Fifth Karnea duly closed.

The banquet in the Stanley Hotel dining room at noon served as the final wind-up of activities at Estes Park. N. Ray Carroll introduced Paul G. Hoffman and presented the traditional diamond badge to our new President. This badge has been worn by all Presidents since it was given to the Fraternity by relatives of the late Jim Curtis.

President Hoffman commended the Colorado Deltas for staging a most successful Karnea. In reviewing the progress of Delta Tau Delta he asked the delegates to recognize, "In congratulating ourselves on this Karnea, we should recall what the years have built up for this Karnea, the Fifty-Fifth Karnea. What preceded this Karnea in 1860, in 1870, in 1880, and on through the last century into this one. Throughout the years they have attacked their problems and passed judgment on to us. Deltas who have preceded us have brought us to a position of leadership of the fraternity world. Their work in undergraduate and alumni chapters dates back almost eighty years. We have had great leaders and I want to pay tribute to

I am greatly impressed with Kurt Pantzer's idea of The Delt House System . . . in this . . . it seems to me we can consider ourselves living up to the tradition of that rich heritage. . . . It is a great opportunity as well as a great obligation. . . ."

Dr. Bernard Yegge, toastmaster, then introduced Kurt Pantzer, our new Supervisor of Scholarship, who responded briefly with a word of appreciation for Colorado Deltas.

Then came introductions of the dignitaries at the speakers' table. Good old Clarence "Dad" Pumphrey stole the most attention.

A. Kimball Barnes, Beta Tau (Nebraska), '02, extended greetings from Colorado with his theme being "Frontiers."

The principal address of the banquet was given by Branch Rickey, retiring Secretary of Alumni. Dr. Yegge's introduction was, "I have the great pleasure of introducing to you Branch Rickey, the first gentleman in the field of sports, who will speak to us on 'Sportsmanship in Delta Tau Delta.'"

The inspiration of this address was a fitting benediction to the Mile-High convention. Not a single delegate could have left the banquet without feeling a better man, a more capable man, and a man who was aiming to take a greater part in the development of his community, his state, his country, and of all mankind.

Following the banquet the hotel was filled with delegates hurrying about to get in a last farewell to those who were not going to stop at Boulder on the way to Denver. Beta Kappa at the University of Colorado was host to a large number of the delegates for a buffet supper at the chapter house.

After the visit in Boulder the buses and cars headed for Denver, from which point the roads, trains, buses or airplanes were picked to start the journey homeward.

By A. KIMBALL BARNES, Beta Kappa (Colorado), '36

Member of the Colorado Karnea Committee

In 1937, somewhere in Switzerland, I received word that the next Karnea would be held in Colorado. I coasted my bicycle to a stop in front of a small postoffice to send a card:

"Mr. L. Allen Beck,

Fraternally,
Kim Barnes."

Late in 1937 I was called to attend a meeting at the home of Col. Philip S. Van Cise, Denver, Colorado. This distinguished brother was reading aloud the names of those who were to serve on the various committees. . . . "Kim Barnes is chairman of the dance and dating committee!" Good gosh, what a job! # PAUL G. HOFFMAN—President of Delta Tau Delta ANOTHER busy executive has accepted the charge of watching over the affairs of  $\Delta T \Delta$  for the coming two college years. The newspaper accounts of Paul G. Hoffman's election as President of  $\Delta T \Delta$  seemed to infer some surprise at so busy a man accepting the position. Those who know this Good Delt see no surprise in this announcement.

Being, through service, a public figure Paul's rise in the business world since college days is well known. All  $\Delta T \Delta$  rejoices in his introduction as its President. Starting at the University of Chicago, Gamma Alpha extended an invitation and Paul indicated a preference. With the class of 1912 Paul's interest in  $\Delta T \Delta$  started.

He was fascinated with the motor-powered wagon and his start in the automotive industry during its infancy came as a porter in the salesroom of the Halladay Motor Company. In an address to a recent graduating class of a state university he told of his start. "It didn't thrill me a bit to clean spittoons. The thing I minded most was washing windows while my fraternity brothers paraded down the boulevard in their shiny automobiles accompanied by some charming co-ed I had known. But it was work and in the course of time I got my break and became a mechanic's helper. Later on I realized my great ambition and became a demonstrator."

As a salesman he was soon known as the best on Chicago's automobile row. His family moved to Los Angeles and Paul went along. It was at this point in his career that he affiliated with Studebaker and soon became its star salesman on the Pacific Coast. The Paul G. Hoffman Company of Los Angeles was the result and since coming to South Bend in 1924 he has retained his interest in the Los Angeles company and is chairman of the board.

As vice-president in charge of the sales forces he made an enviable record. He received many flattering offers all the way up to the presidency of competing companies but loyalty to Studebaker kept him at South Bend. A combination of setbacks placed the company in a receivership in 1933 and Hoffman was appointed as co-receiver and in this capacity had full opportunity to display his executive ability. He was elected president of the Studebaker Corporation in 1935 and is frequently referred to as a genius because of the rapid progress of the corporation during the past four years.

What keeps him in so active concern of  $\Delta T \Delta$ ?

His sincere interest was known long before he accepted the official position as one of its leaders. In his travels east and west, whenever his business schedule could be designed to permit, he would drop in at an alumni luncheon or visit an undergraduate chapter. With such interest is it any wonder that he answered the call?

Just how it happened is told in the story of his answer to the nominating committee of the Pittsburgh Karnea in 1937. The committee wired him for permission to present his name to the convention for the office of Vice-President. He pondered a decision. There was his intense interest in young men to be weighed against the human limitations of time and energy. He tells of his wife's warning, "that if I took on any more activities that made it necessary for me to be away from home there would be a divorce. When you have seven children a divorce is pretty bad, for no one would be interested in a grass widower with seven children."

He wired his acceptance and went home to dinner and to tell Mrs. Hoffman. Paul relates, "When I told her that I had accepted the nominating committee's proposal, she said, 'I think you should!' We have five boys and she has a tremendous interest in boys and was glad that some of my time would be devoted to assisting in young men's activities and the building of character."

Paul told the convention in Colorado that he is frequently asked the statement by business men, "How can you give the time and energy to your college fraternity, I cannot work mine into my schedule." "My reply is the same to all of them," explains Hoffman. "I couldn't either, if it was your fraternity, but my Fraternity is  $\Delta T \Delta$ !"

Paul has been a leader in civic and public welfare programs from California to the Atlantic Coast. Traffic problems are a particular hobby and as president of the Safety Council he brought about a reduction in traffic accidents in the face of an ever increasing number of automobiles on the roads. He was given the C. I. T. Safety Foundation award for leadership in traffic safety during 1937.

He is a member of the Board of Trustees of his alma mater.

The Hoffman family is truly a Delt family. Paul's brother, Hallock, was a member of Beta Rho (Stanford), '21; his sister, Margery, is the wife of Potter Bowles, Gamma Alpha (Chicago), '09; his oldest son, Hallock, is a junior at Kenyon (Chi); and the second son, Peter, pledged Delt at Washington and Lee (Phi) this fall.

Gentlemen, your new President!

Two Arch Chapter Members Take New Positions

C. T. Boyd, Vice-President — Herbert W. Bartling, Secretary of Alumni

C. T. BOYD

THE new Vice-President of the Fraternity is another Delt with a long record of service. C. T. Boyd, Gamma Omega (North Carolina), '21, is the genial representative of the Southern Division on the Boule. During the past three years he has been serving us as Secretary.

"C. T.," to which he answers as well as to "Charley," hails from North Carolina. Greensboro is his home and he is a partner in the legal firm of York and Boyd. He was a charter member of Gamma Omega at North Carolina and for several years following graduation served as secretary-treasurer of its house corporation. His law degree was received from Harvard University.

Boyd has been regular in attendance at Division Conferences and Karneas for years and you will always find him surrounded by undergraduates and alumni. His personality is one that just naturally attracts the boys and for every story you tell he has one to offer from an apparently inexhaustible supply. It takes but a few minutes in conversation with him to realize his intense interest in  $\Delta T \Delta$ , and as for information, he makes an excellent Fraternity encyclopedia.

This fine Delt is reserved and a man of few words. His counsel is not lengthy and he can always be depended upon to come up with a summary in a few words which precipitate the meat from any discussion. He has had no little part in the progressive steps taken by the Fraternity in the past three years.

Charley is married and has two children. At the Karnea he reported that the Boyd family had moved into its new home.

As Vice-President it is his duty to appoint and promote the activities of the chapter advisers, and to promote the development of ritualistic activities in the undergraduate chapters. In both he is enthusiastic. In years past he has been a firm supporter of those unsung heroes on the firing lines, the chapter advisers. In hearing him speak one recognizes his faith in ritual as the best foundation on which youth and age may build and keep ideals.

THE selection of the Fifty-Fifth Karnea for the office of Secretary of Alumni was Herbert W. Bartling, Beta Pi (Northwestern), '18. The office for the past eight years has had such men as C. Judd Crary, Owen C. Orr, and Branch Rickey. It is said to be one of the most demanding offices from the standpoint of time. Enthusiasm and energy without limits are needed along with an intense interest in the opportunity for the good to be accomplished in harnessing for progress numbers which are rapidly approaching thirty thousand. Gentlemen, that's a job, not a hobby to tinker with after the toils of the business day.

Herb Bartling has the enthusiasm, the energy, and his interest is indicated through a brief review of his  $\Delta T \Delta$  activities. Beta Pi has looked to him as chapter adviser during several college terms. He believed in bringing other alumni into the advisory picture and then backing out himself but he has always been ready to step in and offer counsel to the undergraduates on the first call. For years he has been a member of the board of directors of Beta Pi's house corporation.

Herb's alumni activities started with the Chicago Alumni Chapter of which group he is a past president. For several years he served as a vice-president of the Western Division in charge of the Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin chapters and he was a frequent and welcomed visitor at all of the undergraduate chapters in his charge. At the San Francisco Western Division Conference in 1938 he proved the popular choice of the delegates and since that time has been serving as President of that Division and as a member of the Arch Chapter.

Herb is married and has three children. The family home is in Chicago where Herb is engaged in the securities business. Undergraduates and alumni take notice! You are going to hear from this fellow. He will prove to the undergraduates that  $\Delta T \Delta$  is just beginning in their lives at commencement, and for the alumni he will offer a solution to stop the worry of a few grey hairs—stay young through  $\Delta T \Delta$ .

Introducing Our New Secretary and Treasurer

W. H. BRENTON, Treasurer

W H. BRENTON, Gamma Pi • (Iowa State), '20, is a newcomer to the official family of  $\Delta T \Delta$  but by no means is he displaying initial interest in his Fraternity. His sincerity and enthusiasm date back to undergraduate days when he was a leader in chapter and campus life. His classmates refer to him as "just another of the boys, unassuming and very well liked by those who knew him."

Following his graduation from Iowa State in 1920, he began in the banking business at Dallas Center, Iowa. In 1921 he married Etta Spurgeon. In 1929 he became vice-president of the Iowa National Bank which later merged into the Iowa-Des Moines National Bank and Trust Company, of which he was made president in 1931. In 1933 he moved to Minneapolis and became vice-president of the Northwest Bancorporation, and in 1934 he was made treasurer, and he is so listed in Who's Who in America.

In 1923 he was made secretary-treasurer of the house corporation of Gamma Pi and remained in that capacity until 1933, when he became president.

The Brentons have seven children; four girls and three boys.

Iowa State Delts say, "We are looking forward to the day when there will be three more Good Delts of the Brenton variety."

Harold served in the Navy during the World War. He is a trustee of Drake University.

Delta Tau Delta looks with pride to his acceptance of the call to serve in the vitally important capacity of Treasurer. The experience of his business career will unquestionably bring values to the Fraternity.

THE Fifty-Fifth Karnea selected a man for the position of Secretary who brings to the executive body a career as lawyer, author, and soldier. Philip S. Van Cise, Beta Kappa (Colorado), '07, is the man who headed the Colorado Mile-High Karnea, the success of which the preceding pages tell.

Phil was born in Deadwood, South Dakota, then a pioneer mining camp two hundred miles from a railroad, where ox teams carried the freight and the stagecoach transported the passengers and the gold. In 1900 his family moved to Denver where he finished high school. He worked his way through college as a reporter for the Rocky Mountain News. Following the career of his father he studied law, receiving his degree in 1909, the same year being admitted to the Colorado Bar.

He has participated in many famous trials, including his defense of two libel cases against the Rocky Mountain News, one by Fred G. Bonfils of Denver and the other by Upton Sinclair of California.

From 1921 to 1925 he was District Attorney of Denver, and in this office rounded up the Blonger gang of confidence men which had worked for years under police and political protection.

Phil is the author of Fighting the Underworld, a narrative of his attack upon and capture of "The Million-Dollar Confidence Ring."

As a soldier he was captain in the Colorado National Guard during the turbulent coal strike in 1913-14, and was in command at the hot point at Ludow. He was in France during the World War for sixteen months, serving as Lieut. Colonel of Infantry on the General Staff of the A. E. F. and assigned as G-2 of the 81st Division. He is now Colonel of the 411th Infantry (Reserve Corps), and the senior Colonel in the 103rd Division.

Van Cise has maintained an active interest in  $\Delta T \Delta$  since his initiation. He assisted in the organization of the Denver Alumni Chapter and is one of the "regulars" to be looked for at all Denver functions. Interest in the undergraduate chapter at Boulder is held high through his position as president of the house corporation. He is responsible, more than any other one person, for the beautiful new home completed for Beta Kappa in 1935.

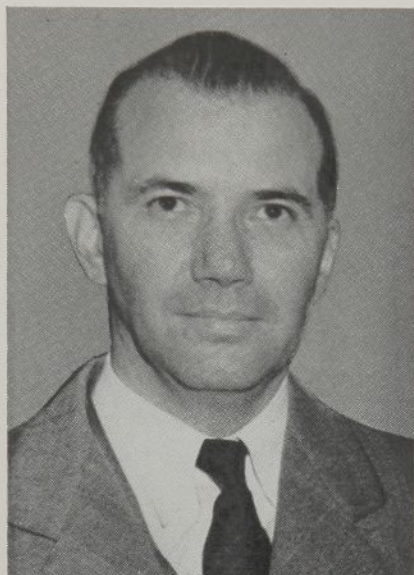

Many honors have come to him, three of the most prized being the Distinguished Service Medal for his work in France; the University of Colorado 1923 Gold Medal for distinguished services to the State of Colorado as District Attorney; and the Citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter of  $\Delta T \Delta$ .

Colonel Van Cise has two children, a daughter, and a son who is a senior in Harvard Law School.

Meet Our New Supervisor of Scholarship and Western Division President

Kurt F. Pantzer and H. J. Jepsen

KURT F. PANTZER
Beta Psi (Wabash), '13

OUR new Supervisor of Scholarship, Kurt F. Pantzer, Beta Psi (Wabash), '13, is a Delt who has long recognized the values of assisting undergraduates in appreciating the importance of good scholarship in rounding out a thorough development during the college years.

Kurt has been working with Beta Psi at Wabash during the past three or four years in an unofficial advisory capacity, directing his energy particularly toward good scholarship and recognition of the values of appreciation in literature and arts. The response of this one group brought to the attention of first, the Northern Division, and then the entire Fraternity, a program which is already adding great values to the college careers of our undergraduates.

Pantzer is a senior partner in one of the mid-west's leading legal firms. As a corporation attorney he has earned an enviable reputation. Kurt received his Doctor of Jurisprudence degree from Harvard University.

He served as a major with the A. E. F. during the World War.

Indianapolis, Indiana, has always been his home. He is prominent in civic affairs particularly as a patron of fine arts.

His interest in college affairs has been constant and during the 1938-39 college year he served Wabash College as President of the Alumni Association.

Kurt is married and has three children, two boys and a girl. Mrs. Pantzer is a graduate of Western Reserve University.

As director of  $\Delta T \Delta$ 's scholarship activities, Kurt has accepted a responsibility which for years has been the Fraternity's top project. The position is his at a period in our history when the peak has been reached as far as relative position is concerned. We can have no question as to what he is going to do. This leader knows and accepts no peak. His address to the Fifty-Fifth Karnea gave us an insight as to the opportunity which is open in a new field. The acceptance, with acclaim, of this "new frontier" definitely marks the birth of a new milestone, and, all forces working together,  $\Delta T \Delta$  shall realize a logical and constructive development of this milestone under his leadership.

THE selection of Herbert W. Bartling as Secretary of Alumni opened the office of President of the Western Division in which Herb had so ably served. The filling of vacancies are the constitutional responsibility of the President of the Fraternity. The new President of the Western Division hails from the Pacific Coast and California which has given  $\Delta T \Delta$  a number of outstanding leaders through the years.

H. J. Jepsen, Beta Rho (Stanford), '20, is the new leader of the second division in the historical development of  $\Delta T \Delta$ , and every Delt in the land who has enjoyed the acquaintance of this fine Delt will delight in the selection. "Jep," as he is known to friends, has been on the firing line for fifteen years.

Jepsen took his undergraduate work at Stanford, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1920. He took his law work at the University of Chicago and received his Doctor of Jurisprudence degree in 1923. He has practiced his profession in San Francisco since graduation.

Jepsen has served as Beta Rho's chapter adviser for fifteen years—a record which speaks for his enthusiasm and interest in  $\Delta T \Delta$  and the affection of several college generations of Delts. He has been a vice-president of the Western Division in charge of the California chapters, so his appointment gives the Division a leader well equipped to serve. "Jep" is married and has one daughter.

Duplicate Awards Given for 1938-39 Publications

Beta Psi (Wabash) and Gamma Zeta (Wesleyan) Win

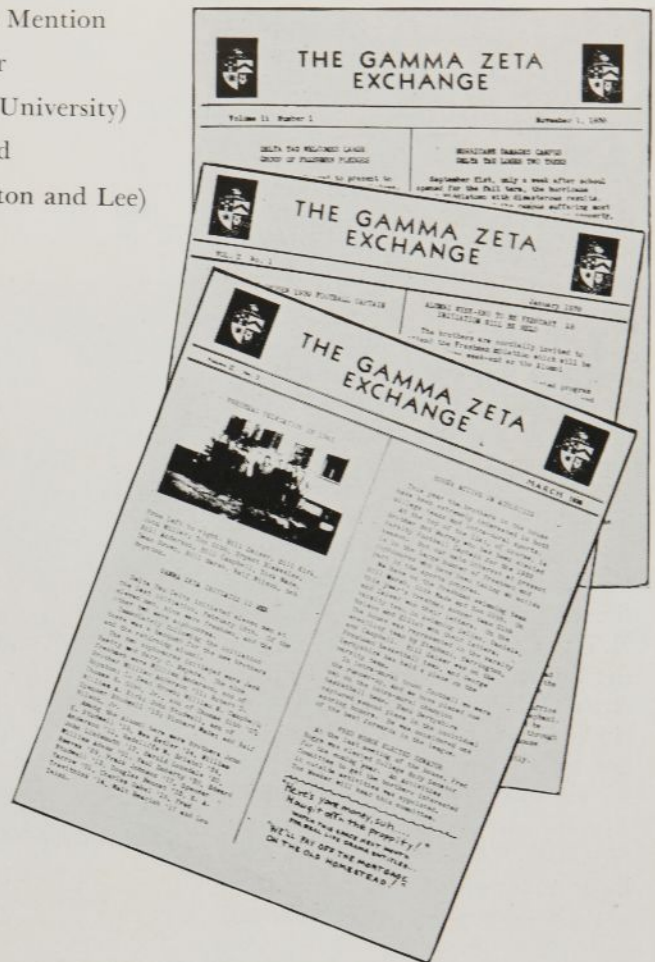

Honorable Mention

for

Beta (Ohio University)

Phi (Washington and Lee)

As a guide to the chapters in competing for the publication award the committee suggests attention to the following points which are considered in awarding the annual $25 publication prize.

The publications must follow newspaper style—magazine or brochure styles cannot be considered. Chapters editing their own publications are given more credit than those using professional services. The number of issues presented during the college year is taken into consideration; however, more than three issues will not influence the award. With the above qualifications the winner will be selected on three points: first, general appeal and interest of the material to the alumni; second, manner in which the material is written; third, attractiveness in typographical layout and printing.

“Well Done Thou Good and Faithful”

Four Members Retire From Official Family

THE title of this article expresses in words taken from the report of the Committee on Resolutions the sentiment of all  $\Delta T \Delta$  in offering appreciation to four loyal Delts who retired from duty on the Arch Chapter.

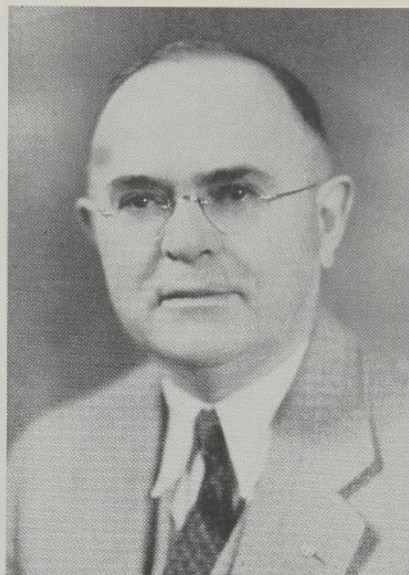

To single out one man of these four as a busy man is not possible—each one in his field is among the busiest. To single out one as having a longer term of influence on all of  $\Delta T \Delta$  could only be done by using initiation dates—because each one has remained a constant force for the advancement of  $\Delta T \Delta$  from the day the oath was taken. To N. Ray Carroll, past President, goes the honor of having served on the Arch Chapter for the longest period, ten years, six as Vice-President, and four as President. Owen C. Orr served four years as Secretary of Alumni and two years as Treasurer. Henry M. Wriston guided the scholastic program of  $\Delta T \Delta$  for three years as Supervisor of Scholarship.

Branch Rickey served as Secretary of Alumni during 1937-38 and 1938-39.

Four busy executives, N. Ray

Carroll, owner and manager of one of Florida's largest ranches; Owen C. Orr, assistant to the president of the Certain-teed Products Corporation until this year when illness forced his retirement; Branch Rickey, vice-president and general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals; and Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown University. We salute you, gentlemen! You answered the call of  $\Delta T \Delta$  willingly and sought no compromise in the fulfillment of the duties accepted. The reward for the sacrifices, which must have been necessary, are yours in the progress which is recorded as a result of your guidance.

Delta Tau Delta regrets losing you as members of the official family but rejoices in the knowledge that you shall never be lost as an aid to the advancement of the purposes of the Fraternity to which you have subscribed wholeheartedly and which you have promoted unselfishly.

Instructors and Students in Aviation

By C. N. Warren, Jr., Beta Zeta (Butler), '38

THERE are a number of Delts in the classes which Uncle Sam is sending through the well-known Kelly and Randolph Fields each year. Two men who completed their instruction with the 1939 summer class were retained for instruction positions in the fall group and, in all probability, the five men pictured on this page will be together until the next graduation period, late in November.

Lieut. Barns and Lieut. Warren are the Delts assigned to duty as instructors following graduation from the Air Corps Advanced Flying School at Kelly Field this summer. Barns is stationed at Randolph Field and Warren at Kelly Field.

At Randolph Field Barns has the job of teaching accuracy flying; preliminary instrument flying; and putting a "polish" in the young flyers' air work and judgment. Night flying instruction is an added duty along with the assisting in the great transition from primary trainers to the faster and more powerful basic training planes.

Lieut. Warren at Kelly Field is instructing in day and night navigation or cross-country flying; formation flying from three to eighteen planes; and advanced radio beam flying or blind flying.

At Kelly the students fly 600 H.P. planes called the B C-1, similar to the B T-9 trainer used at Randolph but incorporating a constant speed propeller, radio compass and retractable landing gear that the B T-9 type does not have.

Cadets Gray, McConnell and Cranston are now at Kelly undergoing their advanced training and will be graduated in late November. They have upheld the tradition that no Delt has "washed out" of Randolph or Kelly since 1936, or nine classes ago. There are three classes graduated each year.

The five Delts included in the roll call of Randolph and Kelly Fields at present represent the four branches of military aviation. Cranston is in the pursuit section; Gray in basic combat; McConnell in the attaché division; Barns in the pursuit; and Warren in bombardment.

Where the three "Kelly Field Misters"—Gray, "Mac" and Cranston—will be stationed upon receiving their commissions as officers in the Air Corps Reserve remains a mystery until graduation.

THE DELT AUTHORS

ARARAT. By Elgin Groseclose, Delta Alpha (Oklahoma), '24. Pp. 482. Carrick and Evans. New York. $2.50.

SOME two years ago Elgin Groseclose published "The Persian Journey of the Reverend Ashley Wishard and His Servant, Fathi." It was a small book—a Persian miniature of a book—but it showed a fresh talent and won devoted readers. Now, with "Ararat," that circle of readers should be a great deal larger. For his new novel shows that Mr. Groseclose can deal with a large and exciting theme, without losing that sensitivity to shades of human character which distinguished "The Persian Journey."

Again he has chosen to paint a contrast—the contrast between Amos Lyle, the Texas cowboy turned missionary, who trusted in the will of God and took no thought for the morrow and Paul Stepanovitch Markov, ex-officer in the Russian Army, who believed in the will of man and fighting the devil with fire. The two men are living human beings—they might also stand for Spirit and Heart, in an allegory of man's diverse nature. Their coming together, and the fruits that alliance brought forth, form the underlying theme of the book. Pure goodness is likely to be martyred, pure will to break itself against a wall. But when goodness and will combine there is hope for the race—or so the book seems to say. And because it has an underlying pattern as well as a great deal of external adventure—because Mr. Groseclose is trying to say something about human nature itself as well as to paint the patient and tragic struggle of the Armenian nation for existence—"Ararat" stands out among the fiction of the season.

Amos Lyle was forty-five when the first storm broke upon the eight thousand Armenians of Dilijan, in the days of Abdul the Damned. They were a prosperous and thriving community—too prosperous and thriving for their own good, in the eyes of Turkish officialdom. But they were a simple people also, and because of that simplicity Amos Lyle was able to minister to them. Gawky, direct and earnest, his financial accounts were impossible, his formal reports negligent. But he had the Spirit of God in him, and his parish found it out, when massacre came. He did not die, he did not swerve, he saved those whom he could save, he trusted in God. And because of his limitless energy and his invincible confidence he was able to lead a remnant of his weary and terrified flock out of Turkey into Russia and found the Village of Bartzan. And that, too, was of no avail. Living on sufferance, in an anemic village in a foreign land, the remnant of the Dilijanians slowly wasted away. The strongest and hardiest migrated, to Erivan, to Tiflis, to far-away America—when the Russian imperial edict finally abolished Bartzan, the heart of the village had already ceased to beat. "This had been the history of the Dilijan community; this, apparently, was the history of the Armenian nation; gradual wastage, gradual shrinkage, gradual extinction, like the buffalo of the Great West, like the beaver and the passenger pigeon." Yet it was not to be the end of their history—nor the end of the story of Amos Lyle.

It is not till we reach the third section of the book and switch to a completely different set of characters that we realize that the author is telling, not merely the story of the threatened extinction and ultimate survival of the Armenians, but that history of oppressors and oppressed which is the history of our time. The switch seems awkward at first—we go from Amos Lyle's apparent defeat—the defeat of saintliness—to the young, dashing lieutenant, Paul Markov, who believes that the will of man is the only God. And through Paul Markov's eyes we see the disintegration of the Russian empire, the revolt of the soldiers and the coming of the Russian revolution. It is vividly and excitingly pictured, but through it runs a continuous thread of questioning. We see Belinsky, the sincere revolutionist, the ardent humanitarian, using torture on his prisoners because he was pressed for time—as, in the earlier part of the book, we saw the steely Hashim Farouk Bey admitting that the Armenians were a superior people, and for that reason must be eliminated because they stood in the way of pan-Islam. We see Paul Markov himself, believing in the supremacy of man's will but unable to accept the revolution that carries out his principles. The world begins to divide itself into the hostile and the simple—into the theorists who march to their goal over other men's bodies and the small folk, ground between upper and nether millstone, and yet the wheat of the world.

Then the two main strands of the book begin to draw together. In the wreck of a dissolving world where no ground was solid, no force was certain, no hope was sure, Paul Markov came to Amos Lyle and found a force and a hope. How, between them and with the aid of the Near East Relief, they rebuilt the Town of Bartzan as a city of children—the Armenian children orphaned and made homeless by war—how, driven by the threat of new invasion, they found refuge at last under the shadow of Noah's Mountain—the tale tells with skill and fire, and with a symbolism more effective for not being baldly stated. You can take Amos Lyle for Moses, if you like, and Paul Markov for Joshua, but you do not forget that they are mortal beings of our own time. And the last hegira and the crossing into Promised Land is very good writing indeed. It does more than stir the emotions, it lifts the heart.

Markov barely escaped with his life from the revolt of his regiment. "What was happening to his beloved country?" he asked himself. "What were these forces that were sweeping across the land like a plague? . . . Had the Russian people gone mad? . . . The army—symbol of order, the embodiment of perfect system—was gone."

Thus bewildered, Markov stopped to listen to a revolutionary orator, speaking in the name of the "Promethean proletariat." The speaker affirmed fervently: "By our will, and our will alone, shall be created a new Russia, full of all those blessings to the people which the former masters of the country have denied us—great physical works, hydroelectric works, machines, factories and ships, and shoes for every one."

And Paul Markov, the aristocrat, was astonished and dismayed to recognize the sentiment as one he had heard all his life—"what the Kaiser had said, what Tsar Peter had said, what Tsarina Catherine had willed. . . . In outlook at least, he (Markov) and the Bolsheviks were one. . . . And it was the same intellectual atheism which had been used to justify the brutalities of the factory system that the revolutionaries offered as the principle of their new order."

"Ararat" is one of those books that people are going to argue about, puzzle over, attack and defend, and remember. It is the work of a thoughtful and civilized mind, of a man who can tell a rapid and exciting story and yet makes ideas as exciting as physical adventure. And I think it

AMERICAS TO THE SOUTH. By John T. Whitaker, Beta Theta (Seewanee), '27. Pp. 300. Macmillan. $2.50.

AS more and more books about the conflicting aspirations of the expanding powers reach this desk, the notion grows that the idea of restoring lands to nations that once owned them holds some fantastic possibilities.

Talking about restoring bits of Poland to Germany or a slice of Savoy to Italy or Gibraltar to Spain is all very well. Or, rather, all very bad. But why stop there? These are comparatively paltry measures. Why not hold an international conference to restore the Assyrian or the Persian Empire? Why not re-establish the Danes in England? Why not give Canada back to the French, Manhattan to the Dutch or the English? Why not give parts of our South back to the French, who would then give it back to the Spanish, who would then give it back to the Indians? And so on.

Americas to the South of Us

These reveries, stirred by a reading of John Whitaker's new book, "Americas to the South," with its discussion of the part Spain once played in Latin America and might like to play down there again, urged on by the Germans and the Italians—whose current activities in South America Mr. Whitaker charts tersely and informatively—could go on indefinitely. For in considering affairs as he has just found them in Brazil, Chile, Argentina, Bolivia and Mexico, Mr. Whitaker does not forget that what happens in one part of the world affects all parts, whether we like it or not, these days.

And as a correspondent in Italy, Central Europe, Abyssinia and Spain before he went down there, Mr. Whitaker had opportunity enough to see the interrelation of contemporary international events. Indeed, it was from Prague—just after Munich—that he cabled his newspaper, the Chicago Daily News, asking that he be sent to the Latin-American countries on his next assignment.

His request was granted. He went, he traveled widely, he talked to such varied key figures as President Cardenas of Mexico, Benavides of Peru, Vargas of Brazil, Haya de la Torre—leader of the Aprista movement in South America—and a good many others of every class, native and foreign-born. The result is an uncommonly interesting and timely book, with the impact and immediacy of a series of special articles hot off the wires from Latin America.

The Echo of the Goose Step

Like Katherine Carr, whose excellent "South American Primer" we reviewed not long ago, Mr. Whitaker refuses to become overheated about the fascist menace below the Rio Grande—but he also refuses to underestimate the strength of the German and Italian drive. For, though in a number of ways the Nazis have overreached themselves already, the fact remains that since Hitler rose to power Germany has doubled her sales to the leading Latin-American countries, and she shows no signs of lessening her bustling activity down there. Nor do the Italians and the Japanese.

The proprietary attitude of this country toward Latin America, Mr. Whitaker suggests, has become outmoded. "The workability of the pre-New Deal Monroe Doctrine," he writes, "is lessened as technical advances—especially in long-range bombers—reduce distances. Germany, Italy and Japan already can reach many regions of South America as swiftly as the United States can move cruiser divisions or flying fortresses down there. If Germany retakes African colonies or deprives Spain and Portugal of the Canary and Cape Verde Islands, the lesson will be plainer still. Consequently, American defense tends increasingly to require the cooperation of all the Americas. And precisely for this reason the Monroe Doctrine tends increasingly to become the charter of freedom of all the Americas." Lima, he feels, advanced that idea.

Dictators and Revolutionaries

The question as to why Benavides of Peru allows Haya de la Torre to go free was answered, for Mr. Whitaker's benefit, by Haya de la Torre himself. "President Benavides doesn't dare arrest or kill me; either would be a signal to raise the country to wrath and fury," he said. He admitted the APRA had lost ground lately, because revolutionary movements don't usually prosper with prosperity, and Peru is enjoying a boom.

Haya—who was reading, in English, Harvey O'Connor's "The Guggenheims" and Einstein's "Relativity" when Mr. Whitaker went to see him in a place near Lima—said that South America isn't ready for anything but functional democracy now, because it hasn't yet had anything comparable to the French Revolution. As for the wars for independence, those, he observed, were more like the demands the barons put up to King John.

The People of Latin America

When business men told him that they couldn't compete with Germany unless they slashed labor costs, Mr. Whitaker says he told them that in Germany it was middlemen's profits and stockholders' dividends that had been most thoroughly slashed. The eternally waiting attitude of the South American Indian is exemplified in Mr. Whitaker's story of the American archaeologist who turned to a group of Indians that appeared at the diggings day after day to stare impassively at his strange exertions, and said:

"What do you think as you stand there?"

"No think," said an Indian. "Just wonder. Wonder whether some day we dig you up."

That, perhaps, is the ultimate answer. But meantime some of the nations with the most urgent inferiority complexes are on the march, and their tramping through Europe is echoing loudly in the Americas to the south.—New York Times, reviewed by Charles Poore.

THE NEW DEAL GOOSE STEP. By Carl H. Mote, Beta Beta (DePauw), '07. Daniel Ryerson, Inc. New York.

CARL H. MOTE

NOTHING more original in the line of analysis has appeared than Carl H. Mote's new book. In the title, "The New Deal Goose Step," there may be a touch of the joyousness of attack. But the book itself is keen, sedate and convincing.

The author is a gifted student of government. He explains that he was inspired to write his analysis of the New Deal by an increased similarity between the patterns of the new planning and the utterances of its leaders, and the program devised by Marx, Engels, Lenin and lesser disciples, to accomplish the world revolution.

He brings into the picture the various shibboleths of the brain trusters who surrounded President Roosevelt in his beginning days, and introduces with disturbing clarity the contributions of John L. Lewis and "other labor racketeers." Out of the words and activities of an elaborately authenticated New Dealism, he makes a revelation of the situation at Washington which is astounding.

The book contains some seventeen analytical chapters and is followed by an epilogue and three chapters of appendices.

A very incisive chapter under the head "The Jew and the New Deal" occurs in the book. It is not particularly anti-Semitic, but it presents with peculiar realism the contribution which Jewish leaders have made to Communism, beginning with the fact that Karl Marx himself was a Jew, whose racial background had brought him much unhappiness. The book is sufficiently up to the moment to suggest the odd situation of the present hours in which the followers of Karl Marx, the great Jew, and the followers of Adolph Hitler, who hates all Jews, are working together for the destruction of democracy. The author also brings into the discussion of the Jewish contribution to radicalism the dozen or more Jewish radicals made famous in the Washington New Deal.

You are impressed by this striking treatment that the author is seeking to bring out the fact that Communists function much too often in this country and elsewhere thru Jews in high places. This situation is generally not made pointed in American discussion, "for while a patriotic American can discuss and dissect Germans, Italians, Spanish, Irish or French, with fullest freedom, let him call attention to the activities of the Jews and immediately he is the target for attack."

While Mr. Mote analyzes frankly every phase of the New Deal, his writing is free from malice. He sets the record forth from current sources with the subtlety that belongs to understatement. The documented facts are presented with such simplicity as to be graphic. It is not so much an assault on the New Deal as it is an exhibition of its grave dangers to the pattern of our government.—An editorial in the Topeka Daily State Journal, October 4, 1939, by its editor, Henry J. Allen, Gamma Theta (Baker), '91, former Governor of and United States Senator from Kansas.

WITH GOOD DELTS

Hats off to those Colorado Delts! To the man, Karnea goers proclaimed the 1939 convention at Estes Park as "tops." Modestly the Colorado boys gave Mother Nature the majority of the credit but those who have experienced the organization of a Delt convention were quick to recognize the clockwork precision of the programs during each day of the Karnea.

That Colorado gang hadn't missed a thing. Any question asked or request made was answered immediately. Colonel Philip S. Van Cise was the leader—his title may account for the completeness and precision of the program. The Colonel and his committee men, all loyal Delts, took a great pride in the job of hosts.

You set a tough precedent, gentlemen! In the years intervening our return to your mile-high terrain we look for your alumni and undergraduate chapters to give us "sea level" Delts targets that will always require high aim to hit.

United States Senator Andrews of Florida, not a Delt, but a guest at the Stanley Hotel during the Karnea, commented to President N. Ray Carroll, "I have never witnessed a fraternity gathering as decent and as gentlemanly as this one of Delta Tau Delta."

We take pride in such an outside opinion. For years Delta Tau Delta conventions have received comments which to outsiders may not seem quite understandable. President Carroll's words conveying another meaning are well applicable here also, "No longer may we plead youth and immaturity as an excuse for foolish actions and poor judgment . . . we are an adult organization. . . ."

In this writer's opinion an undergraduate stole the show at the Mile-High Karnea. No names will be mentioned.

Discussions were in progress during one of the roundtable discussion sessions covering the subjects internal organization, rushing, pledge education, finances, scholarship, and alumni relations.

The discussion in progress pertained particularly to pledge education although its relation to internal organization was included, thus giving a general aspect to the suggestions. There seemed to be some difficulty in arriving at the solution of perfection in coöperation. A question from one source would bring a constructive suggestion from another—but not a complete solution.

The president of this chapter asked for the floor and in a few brief sentences gave the most logical answer to the question of ways and means of gaining coöperation, of gaining discipline, of gaining a unity of purpose in chapter organization. "The history of our chapter shows that progress has been great only when the upperclassmen have set the example. With the proper attitude and example within the upperclasses we have found no problem in pledge education. We cannot train our new members to do a good job unless our job gives them something to shoot for. We cannot hope to be successful in our discipline unless we as upperclassmen honestly establish a reason for the discipline."

That chapter has a good record, in every phase of organization. Not just last year or the last two or three years, but a consistently good record over a long period of years. The alumni are strong supporters. Is it any wonder? The university administration has commended the chapter to visitors for years. The undergraduate group has a unified spirit—they lead consistently in intergroup activities. With it all they have a good time.

That suggestion of this one chapter president, possibly was the most logical and mature answer to the age-old problem.

Too much recognition cannot be given those loyal Delts who have just retired from active service on our Arch Chapter. They have made innumerable sacrifices during every year of their service. To know that is perhaps a cherished reward. No man serves in any capacity but that he feels younger.

In N. Ray Carroll, Owen C. Orr, Branch Rickey, and Henry M. Wriston,  $\Delta T \Delta$  has four men who served unselfishly and who made every decision looking to the future welfare of the Fraternity.

The Committee on Resolutions for the Fifty-Fifth Karnea expressed with simplicity the sentiment of all Delts, "Well done thou good and faithful."

Following immediately the "tops" Karnea undergraduate  $\Delta T \Delta$  came through with the most successful new membership enrollment in history. Thanks to the alumni whose membership recommendations outnumbered all previous records. Thanks to the undergraduate units—they recognize that this year's selection must report progress in 1943. Thanks to the Central Office and its unequalled staff. And thanks, above all, to the spirit of  $\Delta T \Delta$  in every corner which is a combination of the alumni, the undergraduates, the executive and administrative  $\Delta T \Delta$  in COOPERATION. That spirit will not be beaten.

We earnestly recommend that all Delts review in full the Fifty-Fifth Karnea minutes. A copy is available through your nearest undergraduate or alumni chapter secretary.

Akron

FOLLOWING several months of vacation and laxity we will try and comply with the request—"a news letter in every number" of THE RAINBOW.

The local chapter is functioning under the leadership of "Jim" Fitch who was elected president at the annual meeting in March along with Geo. Andrus, vice president, "Al" Kelley, secretary, and "Dunc" Wolcott, treasurer. It was voted to have meetings on the last Thursday of each month throughout the ensuing year. The time, place and nature of the meetings to be decided by the entertainment committee under "Doc" Whiteside as chairman.

Jack Finnicum of Cleveland was a welcome visitor to our meeting in April.

At our get-together in May we welcomed back to the fold none other than W. H. Fleming. He had been with Goodyear in California for several years.

The meeting in June was a retreat to the Silver Lake Country Club where many of our functions are held since Jack Wolcott is the manager. At this meeting Judge Portmann of Massillon gave a good description of his trip abroad and what he thought of the possibilities of a war in Europe.

In July the weather was too warm for speeches but a good time was had by all at the Akron City Club.

The August meeting consisted of a sunset supper held on the fifty-acre summer estate of C. T. Pflueger. Entertainment consisted of baseball, horseshoes, swimming, music and cards.

In September, at the conclusion of dinner at Youngs Hotel, the group was entertained by three local Japanese experts demonstrating the art of jiu-jitsu.

William E. Genung, of this chapter and a Beta Phi passed away July 11, after a short illness. The following Deltas acted as pallbearers:

William McIlwain, William Edmund, Duncan Wolcott, Albert Kelley, George Andrus and Ben Ansley.

The local alumni list now totals around seventy-five members.

Several sons of local Deltas are attending college. Two sons of R. D. Evans are at Ohio University and Walter Keith's son is making a good scholarship record at M. I. T.

Among them are: Jack Clark, nephew of Dr. Ted Clark, Beta Upsilon (Illinois), '27; who drove to Athens from Chicago to pledge Jack; Ted Sprague, brother of Dr. John T. Sprague, Beta '29, and Ted Evans, Akron, son of Rhys Evans, Beta, '07, and brother of Bob and Bill Evans, both Deltas.

Paul Houf, Beta '36, and member of the Athens alumni was killed when his plane crashed this summer near San Diego, Calif. Houf was a pilot in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Harley Nelson, Beta '37, was back in Athens this summer working on his master's degree. Nelson has a coaching job near Wheeling, W. Va. While here, he was married to Marge Porter, former president of the Pi Beta Phi chapter at O.U.

Also recently married was Paul Halleck, high school coach at Staunton, Va. Paul married Rose Lane Mitchell, a Mary Baldwin graduate.

James W. Day, known as "Sweet William" to the boys is now employed as auditor of the Unemployment Compensation Bureau for the State of Ohio in Athens.

Bill Beckwith and "Cotton" Welch, two Beta alumni members visited Athens recently and entertained many of the undergraduates with their fine singing and story telling. Bill is in the clothing business in Parkersburg and "Cotton" is selling real estate. Both are former Beta chapter presidents.

Several Beta alumni visited Athens to watch Ohio eke out a 14-12 victory over Western Reserve, Saturday, October 7. Among them were "Bid" Edmunds, now recreation director for the city of Akron; Bill Bates, '39, who has resigned his position with the J. and L. Steel Co. in Aliquippa, and is motoring South for the winter; and Paul Day, '39, chapter president, now sports editor of the Middletown Journal.

Atlanta

THE ATLANTA Alumni Chapter elected new officers at its October meeting, held at Doc Bean's house. The affair began as a fish fry which was successful and very enjoyable. The business was dispensed with early in the evening leaving the greater part of the time free to discuss informally the outlook for the coming year.

Joe Westbrook was elected president for the coming year. Joe is a graduate of Georgia Tech and is actively interested in what is going on there. Gordon Curtis, graduate of Duke, was elected vice-president, and Hal Clarke from Washington and Lee was elected treasurer.

The new house at Georgia Tech is rapidly taking on a finished appearance. Any Delt within a reasonable driving distance of Atlanta should drop over and see it. On completion, it will be one of the best equipped and up-to-date houses on the campus.

The Atlanta alumni want to express their keen appreciation to the retiring president, Charlie Bickerstaff, for having such a successful year, and for the permanent good he has done the Fraternity.

Buffalo

OUR PRESIDENT, Walter Fissell, had a number of the Buffalo Deltas and their wives as guests at his summer home on the American lake shore for a very fine dinner and evening's entertainment.

Activities this summer have been very light due to the number of members being away for the summer.

We are continuing to hold our weekly luncheons at the University Club on Delaware Avenue at 12:30 each Monday noon, and again cordially invite all visiting Deltas to join with us when in town.

DENNIS C. LILES

Camden

THE CAMDEN, N. J. Alumni Chapter started its second year as an organized chapter with its first meeting of the 1939-40 season at the Walt Whitman Hotel, September 27.

Nine members were present, which we consider a good start for this year. A campaign of "Every Member Get a New Member" was launched and results will be counted at our next meeting, October 25.

Congratulations were extended to our recently married president, John Bottomley, Jr.

Plans were started for a "rip-roaring" Christmas Party—more details later.

Chicago

THE ANNUAL rushing party, sponsored by the Chicago Alumni Chapter, was held Thursday evening, September 7, 1939, at the Beta Pi Chapter House, Northwestern University, with approximately two hundred alumni, actives, and rushees in attendance. The fact that the thermometer stood at one hundred during the party did not dampen the enthusiasm of the group.

A buffet supper was served on the porch, and most of the crowd sat out on the lawn to eat and try to keep cool. An innovation was tried this year in not having any formal speaking program. The party was an informal get-together to give the rushees a chance to visit a Delt house and get acquainted with some of the actives and alumni.

Over seventy rushees, entering some twenty different colleges, were guests.

An interesting entertainment program finished off the evening. Consisting of a performance by Matt Schulien, one of Chicago's best-known magicians, Northwestern football movies, and the showing of two reels of movies of the Southern Division chapters.

Several Chicagoans were on hand for the Mile-High Karnea at Estes Park. The delegates of the Chicago Alumni Chapter were F. F. Patton and George G. Traver. Among others in attendance at the Karnea were Herb Bartling, Shorty Egan, and Hal Prebensen.

The members of the Chicago Alumni Chapter are proud of Herb Bartling's election to the Arch Chapter as Secretary of Alumni.

Luncheons are held each Monday noon at Hardings on the seventh floor of the Fair Store, Chicago, where a sizable group of Deltas can be found each week. Visiting Deltas are heartily urged to drop in at the luncheons when in Chicago.

GEORGE G. TRAVER

Clarksburg

AN EXTREMELY warm summer has caused our alumni meetings to be abandoned temporarily. The first of our winter meetings will be held around the sixth of November, at which time there will be an election of officers.

Anthony McCue, one of our most prominent West Virginia alumni, attended the "1939 Mile-High Karnea" this summer. He was accompanied by his son, Bill McCue, a Delt from Dartmouth. McCue brought back the bacon as usual. The next Karnea is to be held at White Sulphur Springs in the hills of West Virginia. In passing, we might say that we are not wholly surprised, because McCue is a combination of a volcano, a politician, and a darn good fellow. Our local chapter extends the warmest invitation to Deltas everywhere, and we guarantee them "the tops" in Karneas.

The social high light of the summer was an afternoon and evening spent at the country estate of "Rosy"

Reed. Briefly, Reed's estate can be described as a Utopia. It is located beyond Buckhannon in a highly mountainous country. Swimming in a natural pool and hiking through dense woods were the occupations of the afternoon. Partaking of a chicken dinner with all the "fixin's" took a pleasant two hours of our time, and the end of a perfect day came under a high yellow moon to the throbbing melody of old Delt songs. To "Rosy" Reed we say, "You're the bestest of the best." One hundred and fifty people attended, consisting of the brethren, their wives and sweethearts.

Cleveland

THE CLEVELAND Alumni Chapter is planning an unusually active program for the coming fall and winter. Under the leadership of President Harry Hoffman, assisted by Joe Wood, who is one vice-president who actually works, the Cleveland chapter continues to provide activities to interest every member.

The "Special Events" Committee, composed of "Pat" Moran, Bill Mould, Jim Riley, "Dick" Seaman and Ivan Davenport, announce two very worth-while functions. October 27, Coach "Bill" Edwards of Western Reserve University will be the guest speaker and display football moving pictures at a special luncheon meeting. The second special event will be a "new member roundup" at the second meeting in November. The committee plans to have as guests for that luncheon, all the "young alumni" who can be located in the Cleveland district. Of course the month of December will bring our annual Christmas Formal, then in January an "old timers" dinner, and February the annual meeting and banquet. That listing just about covers our calendar of future events, except the regular weekly luncheons held every Friday throughout the year and which are always very well attended.

The Cleveland Alumni Chapter was indeed gratified to hear that Harold C. Hopkins was awarded a citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter at the Colorado Karnea. "Hop" has been our most loyal and capable alumnus. His tireless efforts have been responsible to a great extent for the continued success of the Cleveland chapter, and he, indeed, richly deserved the honor which was bestowed upon him.

And under the heading of "What Are the Cleveland Deltas Doing?" we might report that:

Ray Hyre who was recently smashed up pretty badly in an automobile wreck has proven himself too tough for the grim reaper and is now back in circulation as hale and hearty as ever.

Al Berr, architect with The Austin Company, spent several months in Chicago on a special job but once more is in the home fold.

John L. Speers, Tau, '23, for many years head of the Insurance Department of the City Ice and Fuel Company has become associated with Davis & Disette, Inc. and is specializing in liability and fire insurance.

Bill Hecker is a candidate for the school board in Euclid and Gordon Nichols is gunning for the position of mayor of Chagrin Falls.

"Bill" Stage has bought a new home in the exclusive Fernway Section.

Ed Cole joins the legal staff of the B. F. Goodrich Company.

Frank Pelton won the Cleveland District senior golf championship.

Judge Ray Speers of Sandusky makes our luncheon meetings about once each month.

Dave Shannon, Cincinnati barrister, is a regular paid-up member in the Cleveland chapter.

Karl Ertle piloted his cabin cruiser on a Great Lakes vacation trip.

Dr. Ed Knowlton joins the staff of Charity Hospital.

Dr. J. J. Thomas is named Associate Professor Emeritus of Obstetrics at Western Reserve Medical School. Dr. Thomas has been on the Reserve faculty for forty-three years.

Clayton Townes was honored as one of Western Reserves "all time track stars" at a recent banquet held at the Cleveland Athletic Club.

Jack Roesch, a member of Senator Taft's staff, dropped in at a September luncheon meeting.

John Davin leaves us to live in Louisville where he will be associated with the Standard Oil Company.

Carl Wagner goes with the G. M. Basford Advertising Company.

Mark Egan, head of the Cleveland Convention and Visitors Bureau, served on the Amateur Day Committee of the Cleveland Baseball Federation.

Les Morgan is putting on a drive for funds to help the boys at Zeta to install a recreation room in the chapter house.

Lee Roesch, our treasurer, has done a fine job this year keeping the till well filled.

C. D. Russell, our ambassador to Akron, manages to get to Cleveland for every function as well as to a luncheon meeting every month.

Ed Henckel, Clem Frank and Harold Hopkins represented the Cleveland chapter at the Karnea.

There are approximately three hundred Delt alumni taking an interest in the Cleveland Alumni Chapter. It is our desire to reach every Delt in this district with our monthly bulletin and to invite all wearers of the Square Badge to take part in our affairs. If, by some chance, you are not on our list we will be most happy to have you notify the secretary.

RANDALL M. RUHLMAN

Denver

IT TAKES only thirty years in these parts to go from the secretaryship of an alumni chapter to the general chairmanship of a Karnea—at least, that was Phil Van Cise's experience. And when Blaine Ballah, Jr. asked me to pinch-hit for him in writing this letter I have an idea he expected me to nominate him for general chairman of the next Colorado Karnea. After all, he's about the only one of the recent Karnea Committee who can hope to escape the Chapter Eternal that long. Or perhaps his request came from that exhausted feeling he has had since he sold his "B'loooooons" at the Karnea smoker and poked his candid camera around dark corners those four days—and nights—at Estes Park.

We are glad to hear from so many sources that the Karnea was a success. Its success may be attributed to two factors—the place and the crowd. For years we have been telling the Fraternity that the Colorado Rockies offered an ideal setting for a Delt Karnea. But when there were placed in that setting four hundred of our best actives and alumni, it just wasn't in the cards for anything but a perfect affair. Your hosts deserve little credit. We were just on hand in case of an emergency—frinstance, if Kim Barnes had failed to show up with those three bus loads of girls for the dance. (Incidentally, he didn't know it, but we had Kim shadowed from the opening day!)

The Denver alumni are to gather at Baur's for dinner October 27, to hear the financial report of "Shylock" Glass and a re-hash of the Colorado Mile-High Karnea. We will have with us that evening the one prize exhibit which we promised you but failed to produce at Estes Park. B. C. Hilliard, Jr. had been sharpening his wits and aging his jokes in preparation for the job of Karnea Toastmaster until he had really come to be recognized as one of the best toastmasters in Denver. And then, after all our care and patience in developing so finished a product, he failed us in the crisis. We are giving him this one chance to redeem himself; and if you think Ben will not need a Maginot Line that night, then you don't know the Denver alumni in their most intimate moments. Every story will be dissected for age and possible aroma. But Ben is long and tough and wiry, and will probably live to a mean old age to torment you at that next Colorado Karnea!

Pardon this personal experience: Once, while an undergraduate at Baker, I worked out my required church attendance by going with a small crowd to the colored church on Sunday evening. Imagine my discomfort when the minister asked his congregation to come forward and deposit their mites in the collection plate beneath his nose at the altar—and to find that my smallest coin was a quarter. No sooner had I gone forward than he shouted, "Bress de Lo'd! Bress de Lo'd! Dis gen'man done give us twenty-five cents. Come again, Brudder!" Delta Tau Delta has made a real contribution to the Deltas of this Rocky Mountain region, and I am sure that I voice the sentiment of each and every one of them when I say: COME AGAIN, BRUDDERS!

L. ALLEN BECK

Fox River Valley

THE ALUMS were mighty proud of the rushing activities of the local chapter, and after the successful pledging of a fine group of freshmen the active chapter was asked by one of the loyal alums to gather the yearling pledges and swarm over to his home, October 4. So the pledges were entertained at Dan Hardt's residence and a more "good-fellow" time was never had by any pledge.

And, of course, the alumni are co-operating with Lawrence College in heralding the coming Homecoming game, October 14. We are starting a big drive to get every Delt alumnus back to his old stamping ground. We are trying to contact old Delt alumni as well as the younger graduates and with an overflowing house, to get together and show what a real bunch of high spirited Delts can do, to try and bring a victory at Homecoming. Naturally the Delt Shelter will be the official gathering place, but we are planning various functions for those Delts who will bring wives and families—that's a big order, but who wouldn't want to be one of the Delts to congratulate a victorious team that won a Homecoming game for the first time in fifteen years?

CLIFF BURTON

Kansas City

THE KANSAS CITY Alumni Chapter has confined its social activities recently to the weekly luncheons at the Hotel Continental, where gathers weekly a cross section of the business life of the city. There on any Thursday you may find President Martin Dickinson in the south chair, flanked on either side by Roscoe Groves and Walter Hausmann. This end of the table handles fraternity gossip and financial matters, with a dash of city politics.

Continuing to the left are Ken Bates and Paul Jordan, comparing notes on their troubles in the cement business. Charles Miller needs no loud speaker in telling about the apartment building he almost sold, but Paul Hamilton with homesites always goes him one better. The lumber industry is represented by McCray, Buschman and Bruce, while our grain is being stored and processed by Marshall and Bill Gilges.

Now at the foot of the table is Charles Carr, dispensing free legal advice and settling weighty problems with Possum Moore, who saves up trick questions to propound.

Rounding the northeast corner is Charles Daniel with storage and moving on his mind, while Frank "Pontiac" Ball and Roland "Dodge" Record hold a whispered conference regarding prices, and credit records of the prospects present.

Then comes Siegrist, engraver, and Ken Tapp, who thinks Governor Stark may be O.K.

In the background are the shadows of many of the boys who should be here—as Forest Hanna, Morris Simpson, Claud Beeks, Vic Phillips, Paul Matchette, Hannah Smith, etc.

Anyway, we have some interesting luncheons, sometimes profitable, and any and all Delts are always welcome Thursday noon, Hotel Continental.

FRANK SIEGRIST

Los Angeles

NINETY Los Angeles Delts attended the annual Past President's Luncheon at the University Club, October 17. John Krehbiel was chairman of the day and introduced our "Elder Statesmen." Superior Judge Reuben Schmidt, Delta (Michigan), '03, told of the founding of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter in 1906, at which time he became the first president.

We were honored by the presence of Francis F. Patton of Chicago, Chairman of the Committee of the Distinguished Service Chapter. Patton's visit was particularly timely because Howard Mills, Zeta (Western Reserve), '18, one of our very best, was awarded a well-earned Distinguished Service Citation at this meeting. Brothers Ferguson and Fitts conducted an impressive presentation ceremony.

Bishop Charles Edward Locke, Alpha (Allegheny), '80, was present. Brother Locke's continued interest in Delt affairs is an inspiration to us all.

The new Delta Iota chapter house will be dedicated October 26. One hundred actives and alumni are expected to attend the ceremony and the dinner which will follow.

The splendid work just finished by the Alumni Building Committee, Roy Crocker, Nat Fitts and Charles Koehler, will be recognized by the presentation of a handsomely engraved certificate to each of them.

We are pleased to report that in the last three months at least ten Delt newcomers to Southern California have appeared at the weekly luncheons at the University Club.

FRANK RETHLEFSEN

Milwaukee

THE MILWAUKEE Alumni Chapter held its first meeting of the new college year, September 8. Fifty-six Delts attended and the report is that, as usual, everyone had a fine time.

We had as our guests several young men who were to attend college this fall.

Milwaukee Delts were honored in having Herbert W. Bartling of Chicago,  $\Delta T \Delta$ 's new Secretary of Alumni, as one of the speakers. His presence as a representative of the Arch Chapter added a great deal to our meeting. Joining Herb in the trip up from Chicago was George G. Traver, president of the Chicago Alumni Chapter. We hope to have them both back with us again this year.

M. J. Cleary, president of The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, was called out of town at the last minute so was unable to attend as planned.

Plans for the coming year include luncheons every Tuesday noon, at the City Club. Visiting Delts are cordially invited to join us.

BERT C. NELSON

Minnesota

THE DELTA TAU DELTA Alumni Association of Minnesota held its first fall meeting at the Cafe Exceptionale, 716 4th Avenue South, Wednesday, October 4, at 12:15 p. m. The meeting was presided over by Perry N. Johnson and thirty-five Delts turned out.

Otto Silha of the active chapter gave a report on the Karnea and drew prolonged applause when he stated that the Minnesota active and alumni chapters were designated at the Karnea as the two groups having made the greatest progress in the entire Fraternity during the year 1938-1939. He pledged that this progress would continue through 1939-1940. Dick Savage also brought down the house with this statement: "That the Beta Eta active chapter for the first time in the memory of man entered the opening of the school season with all bills paid and a balance in the bank."

A cordial invitation is extended to visiting Delts to attend the Minnesota alumni meetings which are held the first Wednesday in every month at the Cafe Exceptionale, Minneapolis.

FRANK KIEWEL, JR.

Nashville

A GROUP of Nashville Delts had luncheon at the Noel Hotel, August 1, and were introduced to Charles Pearson, Jr., who has been transferred from Atlanta to Nashville by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. This meeting was thoroughly enjoyed by all and it was decided to meet again August 22.

For the second meeting eighteen Delt alumni had dinner at the Noel Hotel and made plans for the organization of a strong alumni chapter in Nashville. Charles Pearson, Jr., Gamma Psi (Georgia Tech), was elected president; John W. Hufaker, Lambda (Vanderbilt), vice-president; and Garland Sweeney, Lambda, secretary-treasurer. It was decided to hold regular meetings the second Wednesday of each month at the Noel Hotel. It was proposed to secure the names of possible rushees and furnish recommendations to the various schools they were to attend.

September 13, the alumni chapter at Nashville held its first regular monthly meeting at the Noel Hotel and a report was made regarding rushees. A list was furnished the Central Office and we hope our active chapters were able to pledge some of these men. We are expecting our biggest meeting so far in October, as we plan to interest more of the older alumni with the reorganization of the Nashville Alumni Chapter.

GARLAND SWEENEY

New Orleans

THE ALUMNI chapter in New Orleans is continuing its weekly luncheons every Tuesday at Kolb's Restaurant. The success of these luncheons on a weekly basis is very encouraging and bids fair to make our alumni chapter the strongest of any fraternity alumni chapter in the city of New Orleans.

The rush banquet during rushing week of this year was a great success, with over 100 active members, alumni and rushees being present. Jack Ducourneau presided as toastmaster and speeches were made by Burt Henry, Dick Whitten, "Senator" Jim Morrison (now a candidate for governor) and several others. The banquet was the most successful rushing event of the season, which resulted in the pledging of twenty-nine fine men for Beta Xi at Tulane.

ASHTON PHELPS

New York

THE NEW YORK Alumni Chapter began its 1939-1940 season with a luncheon September 28. The luncheon date is officially the third Thursday in the month, but due to the lateness of getting our organization started, the September meeting was held one week later. Alumni will please note that the September luncheon was held, and probably the rest of the luncheons for the ensuing season will be held, downstairs in Longchamps Restaurant, across from the Commodore Hotel, at the corner of Forty-second Street and Lexington Avenue. There is an underground connection from the subway to the Chanin Building and directly to the downstairs dining room, so that inclement weather creates no hardship in attending the luncheons.

James W. Corner, the featured player in the movie "Winter Carnival," attended the September luncheon. He is hoping to find a part in a Broadway play. We hope he is successful in this and also hope that he will be a regular participant in our monthly luncheons and other alumni affairs.

Don Moffett, our president, is busy planning an active and successful winter season. Last year's affairs are indicative of Don's ability to provide an interesting, entertaining and constructive program.

JOHN M. MONTSTREAM

Philadelphia

THE PHILADELPHIA alumni are still on their summer vacations as far as our association is concerned since no meeting will be held until the first Saturday in December. With no summer meetings and with the members scattered in and around Philadelphia, very little news has reached the secretary. Each year we offer the same apology for a brief report for the November number.

Dr. Walter S. Cornell, Omega (Pennsylvania), '97, was our representative at the Karnea and he will not make his formal report until the first meeting. The convention made an excellent destination for a vacation trip to the West for Dr. Cornell.

We have added the name of Ensign Charles L. Loring to our mailing list this fall. Brother Loring has recently moved to Philadelphia and is at the finance school of the Philadelphia Navy Yard. We hope that any other Delts in this vicinity will join us when our meetings begin again.

CHARLES C. GRAY

St. Louis

WE ARE glad to say that our attendance at our regular Monday luncheons has been consistently good for the past several months and we hope to have an even greater number of Delts present at these luncheons before the year is out.

Bill Turner, Ohio Wesleyan, has started in the turkey raising business. He has substituted turkey for chicken in that famous motto. The first crop is due October 20.

The Delts here are looking forward to the installation of the chapter at Westminster which is expected to be held sometime in November, following the completion of their new house.

Bill Gentry, Missouri, is scheduled to make the address at the dedication of a monument November 11, at Okeechobee, Florida. This monument will commemorate a battle fought with the Seminole Indians in which Bill's grandfather participated.

Fritz Ellet, Missouri, has gone in with Shaw & Francis, real estate operators, and is reported as doing an excellent job.

An informal dinner was held last month for some of the Yorke House, Westminster, alumni and some of the Delts. After dinner some of the crowd attended a rush party.

G. H. BUCHANAN

San Francisco

THE SAN FRANCISCO Alumni Chapter is making plans for its annual banquet, Friday, November 10. The 1939 Banquet is to be held at the Bellvue Hotel. The committee in charge plans on an attendance of over two hundred.

Stark County (Ohio)

AFTER a quiet summer we have again renewed our meetings, which are the second Monday evening of each month.

We always have a good turnout and wish that any time any Delts are in this territory they would join us.

Our summer picnic was held at the Jake Hess cottage at Turkeyfoot

Lake. Phil Young, our past president, turned out to be the poorest sailor, losing badly in a triangular course cat boat race, to an old pal of his, George McCoy, who was one of our guests.

The Massillon cribbage team ended last year far ahead of our Canton brothers, which was in keeping with the way our football teams usually end the season. Speaking of football teams, we Stark County Delts see that the great Massillon High School football team play was written up in Life, October 2 issue.

Tulsa

"PINKY" TOMLIN came to town with his orchestra to play the first of the alumni dances of this season. The Casa Del was swarmed with Delts, their families and friends, to welcome the Oklahoma maestro back to Tulsa and to dance to the excellent music of his orchestra.

At one table were Mr. and Mrs. Herrick Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Beasley, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Newman and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Trower. On the dance floor nearly every dance were: Norbert Proctor, Burdette Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Major Perrine, Harold Harper, and many others.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Watts of Waggoner, recently returned from their honeymoon to Mexico and the Gulf Coast, drove over for the dance and were seen visiting with some of their many Tulsa friends. Lawrence Wilson gave "Pinky" the official welcome at one of the intermissions which was seconded by continual greetings of former college mates throughout the evening.

Bert Bass was having his usual good time. George Hollingsworth, recently of U.C.L.A. and now a flying cadet, was being introduced to all the Tulsa Delts. Vance Suffield, an active from Norman, represented Delta Alpha.

Among those from Tulsa who attended the Southern Methodist-Oklahoma football game were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bates, and Lawrence Wilson. "Pinky" Tomlin attended the game and played later for a dance in Oklahoma City. Delts seen at the Oklahoma City dance were: Lawrence Wilson, Jack Davis, Kay Garnett, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Luman, Harry Shrader, Cleve Hall, and H. C. Luman.

Shelby Green and Bob Mason represent Tulsa in Delta Alpha's fine pledge class this year. Bill Beauman and Carl King of Delta Alpha spent the week end in Tulsa recently. Rollie Edmunds of the Carter land department is now a full-fledged lawyer, having recently passed the Oklahoma bar examinations, with honors.

Karnea Delegates Lawrence Wilson and Bob Bates gave reports on the Mile-High convention at the October meeting of the alumni chapter held at the University Club.
