VOLUME LXIX NUMBER 3

The Delta Creed

- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity, so that I may better learn and live the truth.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as a shrine of international brotherhood: her cornerstone friendship, her foundation conscience, her columns aspiration, her girders self-restraint, her doorway opportunity, her windows understanding, her buttresses loyalty, her strength the Everlasting Arms.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as an abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self-respect, and bring about that happy life wherein I may more truly love my fellow men, serve my country, and obey my God.

One Moment, Please

Discussing the "democracy" question, upon which there seems to be a rising cacophony of sound and fury, Alvan E. Duerr presents the case objectively and logically on Page 105. Along the line of his thinking is the recent N.P.C. release which states: ". . . For the whole campus there are various 'drives,' homecomings, the yearbook, the big intercollegiate contests for which special plans are made to back the team, the governing student association, etc. Toward these all-campus enterprises the Greek-letter groups have responsibilities, and as a rule they meet those responsibilities, just as various organizations in your home town back projects of the town. And when the Greek-letter men and women close the door of their chapter houses or chapter rooms, they are then a group of friends of their own choosing, just as there are groups in your home town."

We are honored to have the Attorney General of the United States, Tom Clark, as author of the very important "Economic Life" series essay on the profession of law.

The uniformity of esprit de corps exhibited in the chapter letters in this issue is not amazing to us, but it is reassuring. The words "prewar prestige," "postwar strength," "former position of leadership," "adequate man power," and "excellent personnel" positively echo throughout that department and show a spirit of optimism and a will to succeed that cannot do otherwise.

All signs point to a tremendous interest in the Karnea scheduled for the Palmer House, Chicago, Illinois, August 31 and September 1 and 2, Labor Day week end. It seems more than coincidental that this Karnea falls on the same dates and will be held in the same city where the last record attendance for the fraternity world was established by Delta Tau Delta in 1933. General plans for this event are discussed in Gordon Jones' article on Page 100, and detailed announcement will be made in an issue of The Delta Tau Delta News to be distributed to all members of the Fraternity early in July.

OBJECTIVE . . . is to make Delta Tau Delta a greater force in the development of its members.

ASSETS . . . will consist of gifts from alumni and friends who have deep interest and faith in youth.

DONATIONS . . . to the Fund, under an official ruling by the Department of Internal Revenue, are deductible for income tax purposes. Contributions may be in the form of money or securities.

ADMINISTRATION . . . is in the hands of the Board of Directors of the Fraternity and an Advisory Committee of five members.

FOUNDERS . . . Francis F. Patton, President of Delta Tau Delta, and Charles T. Boyd, former President of Delta Tau Delta.

PURPOSES . . . To pay the expenses, in whole or in part, of a system of cultural instruction and training for undergraduate and postgraduate members;

To provide scholarships for members who are undergraduate or postgraduate students to enable them to continue their studies and to participate in the educational work in the undergraduate chapters;

To make loans to deserving members who are undergraduate or postgraduate students to enable them to continue their studies;

To pay the expenses, in whole or in part, of a library program for the undergraduate chapters to enhance the educational opportunity of the members; and

To pay the expenses, in whole or in part, of other educational programs and projects, consistent with the general purpose of the Fund.

The Delta Tau Delta Educational Fund

Delta Tau Delta has once again enlarged the scope of its objectives, this time by the establishment of the Educational Fund—a project with vision, designed to make Delta Tau Delta an even greater force in the development of its members.

Why a new fund? The financial foundations of the Fraternity have long been secured by the General Fund and the Loyalty Fund, but these Funds are necessarily restricted to specific applications. The General Fund is the operating fund of the Fraternity, and the Loyalty Fund is the endowment, from which loans are made to build, obtain, or repair chapter house property. The addition of a third fund—the Educational Fund—proposes to broaden our progressive activities, to enable the Fraternity to put into effect practical applications of its highest ideals. The Educational Fund will promulgate the educational phases of the Fraternity's program, including a system of cultural instruction and training for undergraduate and postgraduate members, scholarships, loans to deserving students, a library program, and other projects consistent with the general purposes of the Fund. The Undergraduate Loan Fund and the Scholarship Fund, whose purposes are implied by their names, will be preserved as separate entities within the structure of the Educational Fund.

The Fund will be built by gifts from alumni and friends who have a deep interest and abiding faith in youth, who recognize that the college fraternity is making an invaluable contribution to molding its undergraduates into responsible and upright citizens, who demonstrate by more than lip service that they "believe in Delta Tau Delta for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity. . ." Gifts may be restricted or unrestricted, according to the wishes of the donor, and gifts may be made for specific purposes consistent with the general purpose of the Fund. Prospective donors will be interested to learn that contributions to the Educational Fund, by ruling of the Department of Internal Revenue, are deductible under income tax regulations. Regardless of cost, the market value of securities donated may be deducted, subject to the statutory limit on such deductions. Because of this provision and the substantial advance in prices of securities, many donors find it possible to make substantial gifts at very little cost to themselves.

The Fraternity is assured of sound administration of the Fund. It will be in the hands of the Board of Directors and an Advisory Committee of five members. The Board has the power to invest and reinvest the assets of the Fund and to establish and maintain the provisions necessary to accomplish its purposes. Expenditures will be made only upon approval of the Board and the Advisory Committee.

Members of the present Committee, elected by the Arch Chapter, are Paul G. Hoffman, Henry M. Wriston, Norman MacLeod, Charles T. Boyd, and Philip S. Van Cise. Each is a former Arch Chapter member. Mr. Hoffman, a past President, is president of The Studebaker Corporation and Chairman of the Committee for Economic Development. Dr. Wriston, President of Brown University, was Supervisor of Scholarship. Two former Presidents are Mr. MacLeod, public relations executive, and Mr. Boyd, attorney. Mr. Van Cise, former Vice-President, is also an attorney.

Francis F. Patton, while serving as Treasurer of the Fraternity, proposed the idea of such a fund, which would implement the objective of Delta Tau Delta—" . . . to educate, contributing to the young men within her sphere of influence a moral, spiritual, and social development commensurate with the intellectual training supplied by the colleges and universities." The legal structure of the Fund was drawn up by Mr. Boyd, while serving as President, who ably represented the Fraternity in its application to the Department of Internal Revenue.

No concerted campaign for contributions to the Fund has been made; however, several have been received from alumni who are interested in the objectives of the program and who want Delta Tau Delta to continue to lead among fraternities in co-operating with the colleges and universities in a broader and more dynamic educational program. This Fund presents a real opportunity for Delts to do something concrete for promising youth, the leaders of tomorrow, and for the cause of education and better citizenship.

Karneia Returns to Chicago

By GORDON L. JONES, Nebraska, '41

Field Secretary

This is it. This is the convention the Greek world has been waiting for—the Fifty-Eighth Karnea of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. This is the Karnea that brings together for the first time since the outbreak of hostilities the Good Delts who compose our far-flung organization. This is the Victory Karnea—the Karnea that honors the Fraternity's sons who fought—and won—the greatest battle the world has ever seen. This is the Karnea that launches the Fraternity on an era of advancement, one that will mark a new high in its development.

Delts from all over the United States and the Dominion of Canada are poised, ready to descend on Chicago's Palmer House to hold forth for three golden days—Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, August 31 and September 1 and 2, 1946. Chicago is making ready for a "deluge of Deltas," welcoming as host for the eighth time the members of Delta Tau Delta.

The Fraternity could not have chosen a more appropriate site than Chicago for the Fifty-Eighth

KARL J. DIGEL

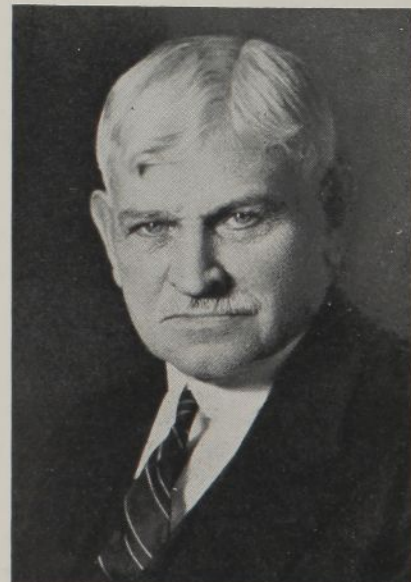

Karneia. Delta Tau Delta started holding Karneas in the "convention city" as far back as 1880. The walls of the old Victoria Hotel rang with the songs of Delta Tau in 1897 and again in 1899. The editor of THE RAINBOW during this era was inspired to write: "The most wonderful city in the world is Chicago, the enfant terrible of the western hemisphere." In 1907 the Thirty-Ninth Karnea left the Greek world open-mouthed with some 600 Delts gathered at Chicago. This was a world record for attendance at fraternity conventions. Returning to Chicago just four years later, the Karnea enrolled 847 members to surpass its former performance and to hang up another record. We were by no means through with Chicago. The World's Fair Karnea of 1933 counted 1,010 members in attendance, to establish the third precedent-smashing record—all in Chicago. Is it not fitting, then, that, for a Karnea as significant as the Fifty-Eighth, we should return to the scene of our triumphs, to the city that has so much tradition for Delta Tau Delta—for a Karnea that will again eclipse all past records, for a Karnea that will enroll more than 2,000 Delts?

Plans for the Karnea are moving forward under the direction of Karl J. Digel, Wooster, '13, General Chairman of the Karnea Committee. Not to be outdone by the Thirty-Ninth Karnea of 1907, which was attended by five of the founders of Delta Tau Delta, the Fifty-Eighth will be honored by the presence of eight past Presidents of the Fraternity—Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, Alvan E. Duerr, A. Bruce Bielaski, Norman MacLeod, Harold B. Tharp, N. Ray Carroll, Paul G. Hoffman, and C. T. Boyd—and our present President and presiding officer of the Karnea, Francis F. Patton. These are the men who have provided the vigorous leadership of the Fraternity, under whose guidance our organization has grown and flourished. Bishop Hughes first appeared on the Karnea program in 1888 at the Stillman in Cleveland, Ohio, when he toasted "The Future Delta" at the convention banquet. Those of you who attended the White Sulphur Karnea of 1941 and heard Bishop Hughes deliver the Karnea address know how well sustained has been his loyalty. Alvan Duerr, who has served the Fraternity in multitudinous capacities, is widely recognized today as the one man who has done more than any other for the American college fraternity. The Karnea is privileged to honor the nine living presidents of Delta Tau Delta.

What is the Karnea? First of all, it is an institution. Delta Tau Delta began having conventions at the same time it began expanding. The minds that conceived the high idealism and purpose of the Fraternity recognized that the policies and plans of the organization must be representative of the desires of all chapters, and that only by a meeting of delegates from all segments could the principles of universal fellowship and the maintenance of representative standards be sustained. The idea caught hold and gathered momentum. From the McHenry House in Meadville, Pennsylvania, to Templar Hall in Bloomington, Indiana, annual Karneas were held; from the Weddell House in Cleveland to the Galt House in Louisville Good Deltas met and charted the course of the Fraternity. Open literary exercises, with a convention poet and a convention orator, were the order of that day, and at the banquets Delta Tau Delta was toasted "the beau ideal of college fraternities." From the beginning the officers acted with the clarity of purpose which has always characterized the actions of our leaders. "It is a fact fully demonstrated," said one of our early Fraternity authors, "that all organizations, to be prosperous, must hold conventions, where ideas may be interchanged and new measures advanced; where the good may be affirmed and the injurious discovered. . . . These conventions have always been looked upon with joy by many Deltas. . . . Here brothers have met and enjoyed 'a feast of the soul and a flow of the reason.'" By 1881 enthusiasm was mounting rapidly and the conventions were attracting more and more Deltas from all sections of the country. Of the Twenty-Third Karnea, the CRESCENT (now THE RAINBOW) records: "Things not to be doubted: That the XXIII took the rag off the bush." The festivities of the Karnea were invariably concluded with a banquet and the traditional Choctaw "walk-around," customs which we still honor.

The Karnea traveled to many cities—from Milwaukee to New York, from Pittsburgh, "the workshop of the world, a hotbed of Deltism," to San Francisco, where Delta Tau Delta Day was celebrated in the Exposition's Court of Abundance. In 1907, after the Chicago Karnea, Frank Wieland, then President of the Fraternity, had the answer to "What is a Karnea?" He wrote: "A Karnea is really a demonstration of a great love—nothing more than this . . . a Karnea isn't business sessions. Neither is it entertainment, nor dinners, nor banquets. It's the 'get-together' part of a Karnea that makes it worth while." Boston, Omaha, Savannah, Seattle, Memphis, Estes Park, and others—all played host to Delta Tau Delta.

Long before Boston, however, or Omaha, or the others, the Karnea had become an institution—an institution whose history has shaped the policies of the Fraternity, has given us our beautiful Ritual, has passed our laws, has, in short, made us what we are today. For the Karnea is the legislative body of the Fraternity. Those men who will represent their chapters as delegates to the Fifty-Eighth Karnea stand on the threshold of a great experience, for they will be the navigators who direct us toward new and wider horizons, they will usher in a renaissance of stronger Deltism, and they will have the cumulative experience of fifty-seven Karneas behind them from which to draw. They will contribute to re-entrenching the Fraternity which has successfully weathered three great wars and is now emerging from the throes of a fourth, stronger than it ever was. The Karnea of 1881 heard from the lips of Dr. Rhodes S. Sutton, '62, how Delta Tau Delta was expanding on the very eve of the Civil War, how he and his companion, Samuel S. Brown, rode on horseback from Cannonsburg, Pennsylvania, to Bethany, the birthplace of Delta Tau Delta, thirty-odd miles on a cold, stormy night, to be initiated into Delta Tau Delta and to carry the torch of Deltism into the North. The Karnea of 1899 did not allow the shock of the Spanish-American War to dampen its ardor. The Karnea of 1917 had for its theme "War, Patriotism, and Fraternalism," and carried on in spite of the fact that "... chapter after chapter reported that from 60 to 95 per cent of its active membership had answered the call to 'make the world safe for democracy. . . .'" The Victory Karnea of 1919, however, bounced right back with renewed vigor to begin the task of rebuilding. The Karnea of 1946 shall be no exception; it shall be the greatest of them all.

Then there is the "get-together" part of the Karnea, the fellowship, the renewing of old friendships, the reminiscing over "the good old days," which everyone recognizes as one of the chief joys of fraternity membership. There is the establishing of new friends, the exhilaration of shaking hands with brothers from every nook and cranny of the land, the concrete realization that your Fraternity transcends provincial barriers and is an active force for good in countless communities. A special feature of the Karnea is the holding of individual chapter reunions. One alumnus of every chapter will be asked to sponsor and manage the reunion for members of his chapter; we shall witness some spirited competition to see which chapters can outstrip the others in attendance records.

Another outstanding event will be a memorial service for members of the Fraternity who gave their lives in World War II. The entire Karnea will pause to pay tribute to our brothers who made the greatest sacrifice that any man can make. All Delts will enjoy and profit by the model initiation ceremony which will be conducted. Of course there will be entertainment, the Karnea banquet, and social events. Delts will want to bring their wives and sweethearts, too, for the Delta Dames will be royally entertained. Events for the ladies are being planned to keep them busy enough to forestall sallies into the local department stores with the resultant drain on the family sock.

Chicago's Palmer House, the city within a city, is the official hotel which will house the Karnea events, but there are, of course, many other hotels which are available, including the near-by Stevens, which is under the same management as the Palmer House. Boasting more cubic feet of space than any hotel in the world, the Palmer House is famous for its Empire Room, the Victorian Room, the Petit Cafe, and other delightful retreats.

The Fraternity invites you, then, to share this, the greatest Karnea of its distinguished history. In the vernacular of the old-timer, the Fifty-Eighth, too, will "take the rag off the bush." If any member is not convinced already why he cannot afford to miss the Karnea, let him consider the reason advanced by Brother R. Robinson in his address to the Karnea of 1891: "If I were asked now why I am here tonight, after being nearly thirty years from college, I should answer 'Because,' and in the same breath add—'I am a Delta Tau Delta.'"

Economic Life XI: Law

By THOMAS C. CLARK, Texas, '22

Attorney General of the United States

Should you become a lawyer? That is an important question. To you, it is so important that you should not permit anyone else to make up your mind for you.

You will, of course, want to make a rational decision. That means, you must critically search your own heart, your own ideals, your interests, to learn what you really want most to do with your life. You must be as dispassionate as you possibly can be in estimating your abilities, aptitudes, and opportunities. It means, also, that you will want to investigate actively business, commercial, and industrial pursuits as well as the various professions—old and new—before reaching a decision. I am happy to give you a few leads that you may find helpful in your inquiry about the profession of the law.

Here are some objective things you can do to test whether you would be happy as a lawyer. Attend one or two jury trials. Observe lawyers argue in an appellate court. If you can get a group of school-mates to join you and talk your experiences over later, so much the better. Spend an afternoon or more in your father's or uncle's or family lawyer's law office. An alert fellow clerking in a law office for a summer may learn a good deal about law-ways. He cannot help but become familiar with the practitioner's daily routine. The least you should do is to talk with lawyers; ask yourself whether they are the kind of persons you want to be like, do business with, or come up against in court.

Read The Autobiography of Ephraim Tutt by Arthur Train, Arthur Garfield Hays' City Lawyer. From books like these you may taste the flavor of law practice, and besides, they are fun reading. Read Max Radin, The Law and Mr. Smith, to get some notion of what the law is all about.

You may get a more concrete understanding, if you can elect even one law course while still at college. Every American should know the elementary facts about our law: how it came to be, how it grows, how it functions, its purposes, values, limitations, courts, and other institutions. Blackstone long ago taught the cultural significance of law study. A more important reason is that ignorance of the law—as of the medical and other professions—must be dispelled if they are to respond best to their own needs in, and to the needs of, democratic society.

THOMAS C. CLARK

What do lawyers do? Well, for one thing, they have to talk a lot. To or with all sorts of people: business executives, union officers, workers, physicians, investigators, other lawyers, policemen, deputy marshals, court clerks, judges, juries, government officials. They must also prepare a bewildering variety of documents. To mention a few of the most common: contracts, leases, mortgages, deeds, corporate resolutions, pleadings, memoranda of law, briefs, opinions of counsel, and proposed legislation. And, of course, they should do a great deal of planning and deliberating. This usually requires, among other things, reading case files, opinions of judges, statutes, treatises, legislative hearings, reports, and debates, arguments of counsel, and law review material.

In a word, lawyers plan business and legal transactions. They advise and negotiate in connection with them; they draft the documents embodying proposals, counter-proposals, and agreements or other conclusions. In court or before an administrative tribunal, they plead, interrogate witnesses to develop the facts in a dispute, and argue points of law by which the rights of the parties will be measured.

In American tradition, the lawyer has been thought of as a "mouth-piece," as a champion who does battle, the battlefield being the courtroom. Lawyers will continue to dominate in litigation, even though accountants, rate experts, labor relations consultants, and others drawn from outside the bar play an increasingly important role in proceedings, before boards, commissions, and other administrative tribunals; however, it is now clear that lawyers perform a tremendously important preventive function. The "officer lawyer" is coming into his own.

Litigation is, at best, an expensive proposition. A case in court means usually that something has gone wrong. The job of the office lawyer is to arrange or order the business or other transaction in advance in such a way that the interested parties will not want to go to court and will not have to litigate to ascertain their rights.

In order to appreciate the full potential significance of this preventive function, you must remember that in this country law (including legislative, judicial, and administrative) is practically coterminous with our civilization. Almost any transaction, money-making or otherwise, private or governmental, may have legal implications. The layman may not even recognize the legal questions, let alone the answers. In law as in medicine, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

The central problem, for both the office counselor and the courtroom advocate, is one of prediction. In handling almost any matter, they must test each proposed decision or course of action against what may happen if or when the case gets into court. What are the parties likely to claim? What is the probable strategy of opposing counsel? How expensive will litigation be? What delays may be encountered? What witnesses would be available? How objective, truthful, and persuasive might they be on the witness stand? What documentary proof can be furnished? Which side would have the "equities," that is, the position most appealing to the court's sense of justice? How many difficult or novel questions of law are involved? In a word, what alternatives are open to the judge (or jury or administrative tribunal), and which alternative is he most likely to adopt?

The lawyer organizes his (and, insofar as possible, his client's) thinking, speaking, writing, and other actions around predictions of what the judge will do. Analyzing his over-all problem into its two major, interrelated phases, we may say that the lawyer must in every case (1) marshal the facts, and (2) determine the rule of law that governs on these facts. By applying the presumptive rule to the supposed facts, the lawyer forecasts the outcome of the actual or hypothetical case—judgment for his client or judgment for the opponent.

These two aspects require independent operations. On the fact side, the lawyer must develop or inquire into particular negotiations, transactions, agreements, corporate and other records, as well as general psychological, economic, or social facts. On the law side, the lawyer must consult statutes, "distinguish" or analogize from previously decided cases, and examine other authoritative data in a search for the controlling law. They merge, however, into a unified process, because the relevance or materiality of various facts is determined by the pertinent rule of law; correspondingly, a change in the facts may mean a change in the applicable legal rule.

The process, in both of its phases, is investigatory, exploratory, tentative. Hunches are important. It is frequently creative. The lawyer must discover elusive facts, decide what to make part of the agreement or other transaction in question, choose the correct form into which to cast the transaction. He devises methods of harmonizing conflicting interests. He has to fish the right precedents out of oceans of decided cases. In many disputes, the existing authorities do not compel a decision one way or the other. Here the lawyer has an opportunity to help the judge make law; that is, formulate a new rule which disposes of the case in the manner most consistent with already established rules of law or their immanent ideals of justice, equity, morality, and social expediency. Justice Holmes once remarked that "the law is made by the Bar, even more than by the Bench."

In or out of court, the lawyer acts for a client. The client must trust himself to his lawyer, just as a patient and ward are placed respectively in the hands of a physician and guardian. The law classifies the lawyer, physician, guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, and others in a similar position as fiduciaries and applies to them much more rigorous standards of good faith and fair dealing in relation to clients, patients, wards, etc., than it does to persons in other relations, let us say, buyer and seller, landlord and tenant, or competitors, neighbors, relatives, or friends.

Traditionally, the lawyer has been his own employer, practicing alone or in partnership with one or two other lawyers. The law clerk is generally expected to serve an apprenticeship, then become a partner or his own master. The development of industrial society with its large-scale enterprises has made inroads on the lawyer's independence. With the rise of the large city law firm, more and more lawyers have remained in the employee class or have received a nominal partnership and a small share of the profit. Also, in the last half century, the practice has grown of having lawyers go on the pay roll of, or devote all their services to, a single large railroad, industrial, banking, insurance, public utility, or other corporation. Similarly, the federal, state, and local governments have been employing lawyers in greater numbers.

Although general practice may be said to remain the rule, the transformation of the lawyer as a salaried employee and the other influences of industrialization have made for an increasing degree of specialization among lawyers. Patent and admiralty practice are specialties of long standing into which the usual general practitioner would not venture; however, lawyers, while remaining in general practice, will frequently develop other special interests; for example, probate work, labor relations counseling, and tax law. In addition, the larger law firms customarily divide their work into departments and many lawyers in these firms are likely to remain in one of the departments.

Semi-specialization is prominent in the government service. For example, a lawyer for the Securities & Exchange Commission will concentrate, let us say, on one of the statutes administered by the Commission. There may also be vertical specialization. Thus, at the National Labor Relations Board a lawyer may be an opinion writer, or trial counsel, or briefing attorney; however, government attorneys, not infrequently, shift from one kind of legal job to another so that the specialization is only temporary.

Many of the special positions lawyers hold are not true specializations, because the techniques they employ are little, if at all, different from the techniques required by lawyers in general practice or other kinds of positions.

Should Fraternities Relinquish the Right of Selection?

By ALVAN E. DUERR, Kenyon, '93; Williams, '93

Attitudes and regulations aimed at racial and religious discrimination, designed originally to be concerned only with employment, are being applied more and more to social relations. Fraternities are thus faced with a delicate problem, which will have to be handled with real tact, so as to steer a straight course between their unquestioned rights and increasingly articulate opinion.

Let us begin with some definitions. To discriminate against means to make an adverse distinction; but as popularly used it is merely the cry that is raised as a last resort by someone who does not obtain something which, under the circumstances, he had no right to expect. It is always helpful, when the expression is used, to discover which of these definitions applies.

It is inherent in a membership organization that it has the right to establish its own rules of eligibility, and admit only those who qualify under those rules, whether financial, social, geographical, political, racial, or religious. But on the other hand, the college has an equal and prior right to determine what organizations shall be allowed to function on the campus. That is why we are in a defensive position. The only way out is the one that Lincoln used when he received a complaint that Grant was a whisky addict: wield such an influence on the campus through developing the social competence of our members, and so being a primary educational force, that no one will care how we select them, and will be interested only in the brand of whisky that seems to be so effective.

The criticism that fraternities discriminate racially and religiously is founded on a misconception of what constitutes discrimination. The basic need, and therefore right, of successful group-living is personal congeniality. This is a right because men thrive best in a congenial atmosphere, and no one has ever challenged the privilege of the individual to select his own friends. Any basic difference in opinion or taste or standard—no matter what its nature or source—may destroy this essential atmosphere of congeniality in the chapter house, and so destroy the solidarity of the group and its capacity for constructive influence. This is as true when the division is between playboys and purposeful students as when it is between men of different race or different religious belief.

We are not tolerant in this country of people who entertain any type of belief that differs radically from our own. It is not so long since we pilloried atheists, although we were indifferent deists or Christians ourselves. An unsuccessful drive was made to defeat Taft for the presidency because he was a Unitarian; one of the ablest and most typical Americans rather recently was defeated for the presidency on the score of his religion. Fraternities are not responsible for this spirit of intolerance, but fraternity men do inherit these same prejudices, and it is doubtful whether the average chapter is mature enough to control them. And it is this same spirit of intolerance, extended from a difference of belief to a difference of privilege, which lies back of all this agitation about social democracy and all the charges of discrimination.

The situation is aggravated, moreover, by a natural tendency, found in every type of organization and business, on the part of people of one persuasion or interest, when elected to membership, to want to bring in others of similar persuasion or interest. And not on the score that they meet the qualifications for membership in the organization, but because of their extraneous tie with the proposed candidates. In the chapter, that leads to division, and such divisions have wrecked many a chapter. To avoid that is not discrimination; it is a realistic and sensible approach to the task of building a congenial membership, securing its solidarity, and assuring some promise of constructive usefulness.

To take extreme examples, what would have happened late in 1941 to a chapter which had a number of Nazi sympathizers in it, or in a California chapter with a goodly number of Japanese? That problem was not solved successfully even by our government, nor by most of our mature men and women; what right have we to expect young boys and girls to solve it?

The agitators of social democracy, in which we believe implicitly, represent a small minority of the most radical element. Radicals serve a useful purpose in any situation. But we must bear in mind always that they represent one extreme of the question and that the truth lies somewhere nearer the center. Nor is it safe to judge of their intelligence and logic by the amount of noise they make. Nor do they establish truth by impugning the motives of those whom they would convert, or by misrepresenting their attitude or ignoring their rights. They are intolerant in their insistence that others be tolerant.

To attempt to force this issue of religious and racial intolerance on the college campus is a serious mistake, for two reasons: First, college youth does not lead or mold public opinion in this country. That is one of the weaknesses of our educational setup, that ours is the only important country in which great youth movements have not sprung from the colleges and universities. Secondly, the colleges do not exercise moral and social leadership even in their own communities, but are all too prone to follow the lead of their clientele. Consequently, to use the fraternities as a guinea pig for a social experiment for which they have no means of securing support in its many ramifications beyond the campus will meet with little success, even though no invasion of rights were involved. This is particularly true in the section of the country where our most serious problem of discrimination arises.

College youth is democratic, as is all youth. But neither can be made more democratic by fiat, nor by confusing democracy with congeniality, nor by calling the right to choose one's own friends discrimination. Let us assume that someone succeeds in making a sorority initiate a colored girl, what will have been accomplished? A whirlwind of resentment and a deepened prejudice in groups which no one has yet prepared to take a broad view of human worth. And where does the girl stand with these same groups? Isn't her membership going to bring her more hurts than pleasure in the years to come? Is that going to help anyone or any cause? Wouldn't refusing to initiate her be the greater kindness? It is tragic, but people are often cruel in their thoughtlessness, and any remedy must be applied at the source rather than so late in the process. No wise man would force an issue unless he could control every stage of the procedure.

If fraternity membership is to be used as a vehicle for proving that the American people have been cured of their prejudices and intolerances, the experiment is doomed to failure, just as prohibition failed to demonstrate that the public had lost its appetite for something stronger than near-beer.

Two efforts, that we know of, have been made to establish a fraternity that should recognize no religious distinctions. Both gave up the experiment. One is now admittedly Jewish, "discriminating" against gentiles; the other is admittedly gentile "discriminating" against Jews. May discrimination properly be charged in either case, or is our contention sound, that, with all the liberality of both groups, the differences in attitude and custom made a cohesive organization too difficult?

The college's function is to educate, not to regiment or coerce. You cannot legislate morals, and this is a moral question, not social; conversion is indicated. And when the college, through precept and practice, has changed the thinking and feeling of all its component parts—faculty, students, clientele—realistically and justly, the relations between students of all colors and creeds will gradually adjust themselves accordingly. A current writer on the Negro problem says: "Emancipation may have legally freed the Negro, but it failed morally to free the white man, and by that fact denied the Negro the moral status requisite for effective legal freedom." Since freedom consists, in part, of not being a slave to our own prejudices and impulses, the full significance of this statement becomes apparent. There is the college's problem, to free the white man morally, to change his sense of values, to help him to master his prejudices and control his impulses, to cure him of the Hitlerian doctrine of the super-race, and to infuse men and women with a spirit of kindly understanding and tolerant appreciation.

"We are not a democratic fraternity, if democracy means an equal right to join our ranks. Our ambition is to be an aristocracy of the high-minded and the clean-souled; of men with a serious purpose in life, who will not be satisfied to leave their college, or their community, or their country, except it be the better for their having been of it; of men who do not measure success in terms of things tangible, but who accept opportunities and the reward for their efforts only as evidence of added responsibility."

There are certain rights that we all have that are inviolable. Among them are the privacy of our homes and the choice of our companionship. To construe our enjoying these privileges as anything but the free exercise of an inalienable right is merely being guilty of crooked thinking. For anyone to try to use this right of ours as a means of securing for himself a privilege which would otherwise not accrue to him, is unwarranted intrusion. And that is the exact nature of so much of this agitation.

Even so, the college may refuse to allow us to function on its campus, though we exercise only rights that are unchallenged. In the first place, the manner in which we exercise a right may run counter to the prevailing spirit on the campus. We must be circumspect and conscientious about this, and always have a fine regard for the social objectives of the college. Secondly, the college may have failed so completely to guide student opinion to sound conclusions that the real issue involved becomes clouded in prejudice and misunderstanding. The president-elect of one of our famous colleges recently deplored the lack of leadership on the college campuses. Such leadership must be furnished by the college, for that is its entire function. So we have a right to expect wise leadership by the college on this delicate question, which reaches every part of our country. In the meantime, let us all keep our heads, and approach the problem dispassionately and with great human consideration.

Scholarship Focus Changes

By MARTIN B. DICKINSON, Kansas, '26

Supervisor of Scholarship

Thanks to the support of our chapter advisers, who were on the firing line and bore the brunt of the battle, Delta Tau Delta's proud scholarship policy and vaunted standards remained in operation throughout the war and are aiding the sound reactivation of our chapters.

That is the most important fact to be stated in this first word on the subject in THE RAINBOW since the war began.

When capable and conscientious Prexy Mauck had to resign his office as Supervisor of Scholarship and terminate the wise leadership he had given us in that field to go to national service, and when the writer was appointed to replace him, in September, 1942, it seemed the whole college and fraternity world was already in turmoil. No one in the whole field of higher education for men seemed very sure where he was going or why or how or when. Haste, confusion, and uncertainty were the rule. These tendencies resulted in more and more chaotic conditions for over a year thereafter. With the very survival of the whole system of higher education in doubt, it was not surprising that standards, scholastic and otherwise, for fraternity membership were sacrificed.

Most, but not all, institutions had long enforced scholastic requirements for fraternity initiations, in most instances approximating our constitutional rule, though in some particular instances Delta Tau Delta's rule was traditionally higher than that of the campus. These rules had resulted in part from fraternity suggestion and example, notably our own pioneering. Unfortunately, the faculties themselves were often the leaders in the proposal to junk all standards and permit fraternities to initiate any man on whom they could lay hands. In a substantial number of the institutions in which we are represented, chapters were permitted to pledge and initiate men regardless of scholastic records, and, in many instances, immediately upon first enrollment. The writer believes these college administrations did the fraternity system on their campuses a serious and lasting injury.

Delta Tau Delta, though a pioneer, had long since ceased to be exceptional in its insistence, on a national basis, on definite scholastic achievement before initiation. Other fraternities had similar rules. Many of them, probably because of the pressure and hysteria of the times, but perhaps because of their urgent need of current funds, threw their rules overboard. In some instances and in some chapters they initiated large numbers of men who remained a very short time and whose right to a place in a select group of college men is still to be demonstrated.

In our own ranks there were not a few, usually not intimately in touch with any chapter, who felt that the least we could do was to initiate any man who wanted to be initiated. That was a human impulse, nonetheless so that its practical application was not understood. Certainly it influenced the thinking of every one of us and the benefit of any doubt was always resolved in that direction.

The practical welfare of our chapters is in the hands of the chapter advisers more than any other group or class. They always have supervision of all initiations. The brunt of the matter fell on them and they were closest to every appeal of sympathy and personal consideration. They also had experienced the operation of our rules and standards under other conditions. When the Arch Chapter needed guidance as to the course Delta Tau Delta could and should follow, it turned to the chapter advisers and found them almost unanimous in urging the retention of a policy of definite standards adjusted to meet the current situation, but still concrete and objective. A substantial number urged higher standards, at least postwar.

This response by the chapter advisers came in the face of the confusion existing in the college world and the harassment of the various motions and rules adopted, in the attempt to meet the situation, and administered by the Supervisor of Scholarship during the early period. There was plenty of fumbling, for none of us were very sure just where we stood.

Finally, and with the aid of the chapter advisers, whom it believed to represent most accurately the pulse and temper of the Fraternity, the Arch Chapter worked out the standards for initiation which have guided us for nearly three years with remarkably little friction. The gist of these rules was that we would permit initiations on the standards

In the past year, the following men have been initiated into Delta Tau Delta with A averages:

Wayne D. Kuettel, Beta Gamma, '47
Robert K. German, Gamma Iota, '48
Howard A. Swick, Gamma Lambda, '48
Ralph O. Butz, Jr., Beta Pi, '47
Maxwell P. Barret, Delta Epsilon, '48
William Gothard, Beta Upsilon, '49
Merle E. Dowd, Beta Pi, '48

of quality, quantity, and duration of work effective on the various campuses if those standards were definite and concrete in each respect. In some instances, this left Delta Tau Delta the only chapter on the particular campus maintaining definite requirements, but the principle involved met general approval and was followed.

The result has been that we can say that Delta Tau Delta has received few new members during the war period who are not scholastically up to our normal standard. These rules plus the other rules adopted by the Arch Chapter concerning recognition of the active status of chapters have also prevented the wildcat, entirely unauthorized initiations which have sorely troubled some of our competitors.

Delta Tau Delta has not been cheapened. A salute is due our chapter advisers for that achievement.

It is expected that the need for wartime rules will have ceased by September 1, 1946, and that we will then return to our normal constitutional standard as we return to normal operation of the Fraternity in other respects. This readjustment will be easy because the line was held, and we believe our program will, in effect, be years ahead by not having been uselessly scuttled.

In normal times, the duty of the Supervisor of Scholarship is not so much administrative, in passing on initiation qualifications and the like, as it is promotional and inspirational, in stimulating scholastic achievement in the undergraduate chapters. It need hardly be said that any such work has been impossible and useless with closed chapters, reduced enrollments, and rapid turnover of what enrollment we had. This activity can and must be resumed and developed. It should be possible for it soon to become the major effort of the Supervisor of Scholarship.

Our efforts in the past have borne good fruit. We proudly led the sixteen fraternities of fifty or more chapters each by a wide margin in the year 1938-1939, after having been second the three preceding years. We are not so proud to note that we stumbled badly the next three years, in each of which the averages say that the average Delta was not as bright as the average man on his particular campus. That isn't a nice way to put it, but it's exactly what the figures mean, even though our Constitution says something quite different about our qualifications for membership. It would be interesting to know why we stumbled, but there is no way to tell, and we must look to the future. The year 1941-1942 was the last in which the colleges generally supplied and the National Interfraternity Conference compiled the scholastic standings of the fraternities, and we have no sure way of knowing what we accomplished since then. We do feel, from such fragmentary reports as we have, that a number of our chapters have continued or developed excellent scholastic performances during the war period, and we feel sure that we have avoided taking a great many men who don't measure up.

We are ready to go and we can soon lead the procession again.

We are already in a period in which far more men desire membership in Delta Tau Delta, or in almost any other fraternity, than we can possibly receive. We have an opportunity without precedent in twenty-five years to select our members. How we solve that problem will determine our scholastic achievement for a decade to come and may determine the general welfare of the Fraternity for the next quarter century.

We know that our prewar methods of selection brought us men who by and large got no better grades (there is no other objective measure of intellectual ability!) than had we, blindfolded, picked them in the gymnasium. The averages referred to are computed to several decimal places in order to determine superiority or lack of it. Actually the margins of difference represented are often trivial.

Too often we think of our efforts for better scholarship in terms of preventing fraternity membership and living conditions from lowering the scholastic achievement of our members. We have probably done a certain amount of good in trying to stimulate men of mediocre ability to do a little better. Such efforts are not to be neglected, but we have no reason to suppose they represent a permanent solution.

It could be demonstrated statistically that had we been able, over any recent period of a few years, to induce each of our chapters to pledge each year, as a freshman or sophomore, one B-average student, in addition to the classes they actually took, we would in a very short time have had a standing vastly above any of our competitors. Incidentally, the presence of these men would have eliminated or minimized many problems in the actual operation of the chapters by supplying additional intelligent leadership.

In the difficult selection problem of the next few years, we have an opportunity to experiment in this way. The chapter which makes scholastic ability a definite and indispensable consideration in pledging will be able to contribute to the progress of Delta Tau Delta as it never has before.

We have saluted the chapter advisers: now we look to them for the future.

An unusual record was made by Beta Pi Chapter pledges at Northwestern, when eleven men qualified scholastically for initiation with an average of 4.2, a B- for the group. Merle E. Dowd, who had 18 hours of A, was one of these neophytes who were inducted April 14, 1946.

The Good Men Do Lives After Them

By ROBERT HEUCK, Cincinnati, '13

It has been given me to describe a most unusual Delt gathering, most unusual in that in these days of "give me" eighty-four brothers gathered around the banquet boards to be "took." Maybe "took" is the wrong word. It seemed the brothers came to pay an obligation to one of their departed. They did not know how they wanted to do it, but deep down in their souls they knew it was a must.

It was a strange gathering—not too solemn, not without song, ending with a Walk Around and whoopla, whoopla ree, Heap Big Chapter Delta Tau Delta—but from beginning to end it was dominated by that kindly departed spirit from Eta, who no longer would grace our gatherings. What kind of a man was this, that could bring together such a group for such a purpose? Not a big man, measured in today's standards of size, wealth, or importance, but one who could and did bring forth in all that knew him that strange thing between men—deep affection. I wish it were permitted to say love. Kindly, helpful, loyal, as Bunyon in the spirit of the Woods, Clarence Pumphrey was the incarnate spirit of Delta Tau Delta. Sure he was honored by the Fraternity President, North Division; received the Honor Plaque; banquets were held in his honor; respect was shown him on every hand, but with his passing hundreds have said it was not enough—something must be done to commemorate a life like "Dad's." "Why, he did this for me, that for Jim." "He started this chapter, he was—" well, he was just everything a Delt should be. He trod the boards of life giving of himself, not a Pollyanna, not a Lady Bountiful; maybe he is not to be compared; maybe he himself will become legend, for he gave of himself as only Dad Pumphrey could.

O.K., we who knew him, loved him. What should we do about his passing? There was no precedent in the annals of the Fraternity; many of the big names that fought to make Delta Tau Delta great have gone from the stage of life, and nothing was done. Remembered, yes, and honored, but with Dad it was different; he wasn't great—the history of the Fraternity will not recite his accomplishments; he sought no place in the sun; he is enshrined in the hearts of men.

O.K. number two! We'll have a memorial for Dad. So a committee was formed at the last initiation banquet, and the members heard the wishes of many—a library annex to the house, pay off the house debt and call the house Pumphrey Hall, enlarge the bummering room, make a dance floor, build a swimming pool, have a separate outside Chapter Room Building. So, the committee met and puzzled it out three long sessions of at least four hours each (not without refreshments), and, in between, the discussion raged at the weekly luncheons. (We had to get a larger table.)

The report of the committee was five to two in favor of a swimming pool—something happy, a place where Delts and their families could and would come without urging, a center of social activity and friendliness. No chapter has a swimming pool, something new. Look at what it would do for rushing, that was what the five said. The two gloomy Guses said: expense, trouble, chaperones, liability, used only in the summer—bah! Came the banquet, came the committee's report—came the spirit of Dad Pumphrey. "Dad was primarily a ritualist." "Dad gave the Charge to hundreds." "Dad never missed an initiation."

Anyone wishing to make contribution by mail to the Pumphrey Memorial Fund is asked to send it to:

Mr. Ralph Sigmund
913 Provident Bank Building
Cincinnati, Ohio

What happened to the committee's report? What happened to the swimming pool idea? "Dad was a Delt." "The Fraternity came first." "Whatever is done must be done for the whole Fraternity." "Make this lodge a separate building." "Make it the very latest thing in chapter halls." "Make it the Shrine of Perfect Ritualistic work, and dedicate it to Pumphrey." "He would like that."

And so it was voted to have a separate building to house the chapter hall—right back of the Gamma Xi house—the newest and best for such a purpose.

Now comes the question of money. Dad was not local, he was the Johnny Appleseed of Delta Tau Delta. Chapters and Delts alike grew or flourished better in the Fraternity because of him—his confidence, his faith, his example, his personality.

We want this message to reach all that Dad reached in his life.

Nobody will urge you to give—Dad would NOT like that.

If this is to be a shrine, the nickels, dimes, and hundred dollar bills must come in, in keeping with the thought.

Yes, we would like each chapter, active and alumni, to send at least something. Dad worked for you—you may not have known it, you may not have known him—but the richness of Deltism today is because of Dad Pumphrey and the hundreds of Dad Pumphreys throughout the country.

Yes, it's something new to do honor to men like that, but it's right and just. It can mean, in itself, a great new awakening in the spirit of Delta Tau Delta.

It's not "How much shall I give?" or "How little can I get away with?"—it's what do you want to give to a Delt Shrine, commemorating a brother Delt who gave seventy-four years of service to the Fraternity, with the whole Greek world watching and secretly applauding.

South Dakota Reports

By ROBERT SHEILD, '48

Sunday, April 14, 1946, marked celebration of the twelfth annual Founders Day for Delta Gamma of Delta Tau Delta. A banquet, served at the chapter house on the campus of the University of South Dakota in Vermillion, was the high light of the day's happenings.

Alumni from near and far gathered at the chapter house to greet many of their old friends for the first time since the winds of war blew them apart. Delta Gamma contributed approximately 140 men to the armed services, seven of whom paid the supreme sacrifice in the line of duty.

An interesting program followed the banquet. Don Cadwell, alumnus from Yankton, South Dakota, did an excellent job serving in the capacity of toastmaster for the after-dinner program. Don served as chapter adviser during the war, and it was due mainly to his handling of the financial affairs and other important items that the house was able to remain in active operation during the trying war years.

Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President of the Fraternity, was the honored guest. A very enlightening speech was given by Mr. Shields during the course of the program. He spoke on the postwar plans of the national chapter and also praised the work done by Delta Gamma alumni and undergraduates in reorganization and pledging. (The chapter has grown from two active members during the war to a present total of forty-five men.) He spoke very favorably of the wartime work carried on by Delta Gamma and, also, of the financial position which the chapter has been able to maintain. Hugh Shields lived up to his reputation as being an exponent of speech and creative Delt thinking. The merits of his speech were beneficial to all and his presence was greatly appreciated by the men and alumni of the chapter.

Other guests, better known by the men directly affiliated with the chapter, were:

Keyes C. Gaynor, whose initiative and sustained effort were greatly responsible for the construction of the new chapter house in 1938. The house now stands as a symbol of his loyalty to the Fraternity.

Judge Lloyd B. Peterson, of Watertown, and Vern Cadwell, of Vermillion, who were two of the original founders of Alpha Tau which later became Delta Gamma of Delta Tau Delta.

Roscoe "Rocky" Frieberg, of Beresford, who was a charter member of Delta Gamma.

Ross Oviatt, of Watertown, and Tom Barron, of Sioux Falls, who are outstanding active alumni.

Orville Beardsley, present chapter adviser, made the annual presentation of awards. To Harry Klostergaard, of Beresford, went the honor of outstanding pledge of the year. The Keyes C. Gaynor plaque, awarded annually to a member of the chapter for commendable work accomplished, was presented to Bill Kunze, of Charter Oak, Iowa, for splendid work done in holding the chapter in an active status during the war years. For the present school year, the award went to Bud Ebert, of Huron, in recognition of his aid in re-establishing Delta Gamma to her prewar standard as uppermost fraternity on the campus.

At the conclusion of the program, a Delta Shelter Walk Around was conducted. Activities of the day were concluded by a house corporation meeting and election of corporation committee officers.

Other alumni present were: Howard Crandall, Gil Paulton, Marshall Brandon, Morry Persson, C. F. Vagle, and Chuck Austin of Sioux Falls; Don Crawford, George and Bill Williges, of Sioux City, Iowa; Bob Severance, George Schmidt, Max Oviatt, and George Georgiades, of Huron; Tom Brisbane, of Woonsocket; Norman Graham, of Miller; Dick Huffman, of Aberdeen; and Bud Sundling, of Vermillion.

WITH GOOD DELTS

By John A. Davies, Wesleyan, '43

A vital problem facing fraternities at the present and affecting them in the future in the college community is their attitude toward preinitiation activities. The question of what to do about hazing, with all of its components, has reached its apex; action is now necessary.

A step in the right direction now will go far in bringing about progressive growth of the fraternity system. Too often, however, a chapter is reluctant to change so-called "tradition" for fear that it will not have any "fun." Herein lies a grave mistake, for the margin between tradition and outmoded habit is narrow and requires a discerning mind to ascertain it, selecting the finest and dropping by the wayside that which does not contribute to growth or enhance the reputation and history of the group.

What can be done to eliminate these preinitiation activities, including paddling and other practices expressly forbidden by the Constitution and By-Laws of Delta Tau Delta? One chapter found the answer and it has proved so effective that the old "tradition" is now a forgotten page in its progress.

Upon converting to peacetime operations, the chapter studied all the problems dealing with fraternities in general. It saw that it had to streamline many of its past functions and eliminate several others. One of the eliminations was Hell Week. The chapter studied Hell Week as it was practiced on that campus, conferred with alumni and college authorities, and finally discussed it in chapter meeting. Several meetings followed, and conferences were held with other fraternity presidents on the campus, with arguments pro and con respecting the issue.

Not satisfied with discussion, this chapter drew up a plan based upon The Delta Creed, which is an influence for men of intelligent understanding. The freshman delegation elected its own chairman, as usual, who is responsible to the chairman of the sophomore class. These two delegation heads are under the pledge training committee which formulates the pledge training program and has complete control of the pledges. Both the delegation chairmen, as well as the pledgemaster, work in conjunction with the house officers and chapter adviser in schooling the neophytes in the true meaning of Delta Tau Delta. All forms of hazing, paddling, moral degradation, or any other ceremony or exercise that would injure the respect of the pledge were abolished.

Thus the fundamentals were laid down. The chapter did not completely abandon preinitiation activities. One tradition which remains is the freshman quest, during which each freshman is assigned a specific duty to perform at a given time, carrying on his person only two dollars. Quests included interviewing prominent people, visiting interesting places, and getting signatures of prominent men. In each instance the man is sent into an area where there is a Delt chapter. Thus the quest accomplishes two purposes. First, the neophyte gains a sense of moral responsibility in that he must, through his own endeavor and ingenuity, accomplish a difficult task. Second, he sees how other chapters function and gets probably his first individual experience with the national character of Delta Tau Delta.

The paddle remains as a token of good will and industry in this chapter. At the freshman smoker, each man presents to his sophomore "big brother" a paddle he has himself made. This paddle is a keepsake, a token of friendship, and is never to be used as a disciplinary instrument. These paddles are also a reminder not to degrade the chapter through misuse.

At the present time there is considerable public discussion of the place of the fraternity in the educational system. Delta Tau Delta has stated its objective as a constructive adjunct to the system of higher education. It is "to educate, contributing to the young men within her sphere of influence a moral, spiritual, and social development commensurate with the intellectual training supplied by the colleges and universities." This objective precludes such practices as Hell Week.

To attain the stated objective, it is essential

The Fraternity's Law adopted by the Karnea in 1933:

"... There shall be prior to or in connection with the initiation of any neophyte no ceremonies, exercises or assigned feats which might work injury to the health or morals of the neophyte, or which might tend in any way to injure his respect for the Fraternity or its ideals."

Resolution passed by the Arch Chapter at its meeting March 22, 1946:

"Whereas, It has come to the attention of the Arch Chapter through the press and from the Interfraternity Conference that hazing by fraternities, either during "Hell Week" or at other times, still is being practiced on certain college campuses, and

"Whereas, Such acts of hazing result in irreparable damage to the reputation of all fraternities, and

"Whereas, The By-Laws of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity have for many years forbidden such practices even though condoned by the local college or university,

"Now be it resolved, That the attention of all chapters of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity again be called to Article VII, Section 1, of the By-Laws, and that furthermore all chapters be advised that any violation of this bylaw will bring prompt disciplinary action by the Arch Chapter."

Memorials Are Planned at Illinois

On February 27, William M. McNamee, Illinois, '10, sent out an appeal to members of the chapter for contributions to a memorial to honor the late Louis M. (Mike) Tobin, seeking suggestions as to the form such a memorial should take.

Quoting from Bill's letter: "There are hundreds of our alumni—members of the chapter during Mike's regime—who revere and honor his memory and who owe him a debt of gratitude for countless reasons, which they may now in some small measure be able to repay. . . . Any amount that you can send on will be both acceptable and appreciated, with hope that you will be as generous in your contribution as was Mike in his life to his chapter and his friends."

In the same mail was an appeal for funds for a suitable memorial to honor the World War II dead of Beta Upsilon, sixteen members of the chapter having made the supreme sacrifice:

Kenneth S. Beall, '26
Perry W. Blain, '38
Robert J. Boyle, '44
Robert J. Campbell, '45
Carl Conron, '40
William R. Faris, II, '40
John H. Galey, '43
James H. Giehler, '44
Calvin E. Giffin, II, '43
Donald F. Hamley, '44

John J. Neiger, Jr., '33
Robert D. Perkins, '37
William A. Reeb, '42
Chester B. Sikking, Jr., '41
John P. Whitehead, '40

Contributions to both funds from members of Beta Upsilon and Delt friends of "Mike" and the chapter will be welcomed by the committee in charge. Checks or money orders should be made payable to THE TOBIN MEMORIAL FUND and to BETA UPSILON CHAPTER MEMORIAL FUND—separately—and forwarded to

Economic Life

How much money a lawyer will make depends on a large number of predictable and unpredictable factors. The range is from poverty to riches. The successful small town lawyer will not ordinarily earn as much as the successful lawyer in a large city. The very young government lawyer does as well as, if not better than, the very young attorney in private practice, but the salaries of government attorneys do not compare favorably with the earnings of successful, mature lawyers in practice. Obviously, other things being equal, the more conscientious and able do better than the less conscientious and able. Other things are, however, rarely equal. Personality counts; so do family, social, and business contacts. And for lack of a better word, we may call the inponderables "luck" and let it go at that.

The law has been, and probably still is, the best stepping stone to a political or government career. One of the glories of the legal profession is the large number of lawyers who, in each generation, have devoted their lives to the public service. I will not burden you with a long list of names, but I cannot help being proud of the fact that Jefferson, Lincoln, and Franklin Roosevelt were members of my profession. Lawyers had an outstanding share in drafting the United States Constitution and getting the federal government started. Is it too much to expect that lawyers will do their part in developing the United Nations Organization as well as other instruments of international cooperation?

What subjects would I recommend for those of you who wish to take a pre-law course? Among others, I would include English composition, public speaking, logic and scientific method, American history and government, economics, critical ethics, psychology, sociology, accounting, and English constitutional history. Latin is ornamental, rather than functional, except for the lawyer who plans to write legal history.

Let me say a word about the first semester at law school. You may find yourself "plunged in a thick fog of details—in a black and frozen night, in which [are] no flowers, no spring, no easy joys." The subject matter, the method of instruction, the spirit, are all very different than at college. Do not despair. The first semester is the hardest. If you weather its storms, you may look forward with confidence to being able, with further learning and experience, to survive any legal tempest.

I believe with Justice Holmes that "a man may live greatly in the law as well as elsewhere." Whatever profession you may choose, it is up to you whether that profession will keep you chained as in a dungeon or whether it will help bring you into communion with civilization, humanity, and the cosmos.

Around the Fireplace

that each chapter do its utmost to eliminate Hell Week.

No college requires a fraternity to have Hell Week. Stand up and throw out all the old, puerile practices and lead the way on your campus. Show your colleagues that Delta Tau Delta stands for only the highest standard of academic, social, and moral interpretation of life. No one thing could more nearly erase public censure of the fraternity system than the eradication of Hell Week.

Much is to be done to eliminate Hell Week, and now is the time it must be done. Make it a challenge for your chapter and show that the Deltas lead—others will follow. As a beginning, follow these simple rules in your campaign against pre-initiation activities:

1. Think first; then act accordingly.
2. Use your head, not your hands.
3. Plan your activities in a businesslike manner.
4. Lead; do not follow outworn paths with others.
5. Profit from your own mistakes and try to avoid them in the future.
6. Keep the active chapter busy on a constructive program; idleness breeds discontent.

CHARLES A. MILLER, Missouri, '19, a member of the Kansas City Real Estate Board for many years, has been named one of three members of the new Missouri State Tax Commission.

W. L. FULGHUM, Georgia, '25, is Division Manager of the Retail Credit Company in Canada.

DICK PHINNEY, Idaho, '40, has been made secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce in Monterey, California. He was retired from active duty in the Army last September after five years of service, three and one-half of which were spent in the Pacific.

College of a tract of land comprising over three hundred acres near Battle Creek to serve as its Biological Preserve.

Mr. Ott is former president and chairman of the board of Spencer Lens Company of Buffalo. As a boy, Mr. Ott, then a Michigan resident, enjoyed the study of plants and insects under a magnifying glass, an experience which led to his development of laboratory microscopes for which he claims over sixty patents. He is a member of the board of trustees of Albion.

GEORGE SAUER, Nebraska, '34, former director of athletics and head football coach of the University of New Hampshire, recently was named head grid coach at the University of Kansas. He is regarded as one of Nebraska's all-time gridiron greats, having been selected as All-American fullback by the Associated Press, International News Service, All-American Board of Football, and Grantland Rice.

Distinguished Service Chapter Citations have been presented to Alfred T. Rogers, Wisconsin, '95, and Earl C. Adams, Stanford, '16, the former at the Chicago Alumni Chapter Founders Day and the latter at Los Angeles.

Presentation was made to Mr. Rogers by Harvey V. Higley, Northwestern and Wisconsin, '14. The Citation is as follows:

"For more than fifty years a stalwart son of Delta Tau Delta, devoted and loyal to Beta Gamma Chapter. Ever since initiation giving continuously and conscientiously of his time and effort to his Fraternity. His judgment and leadership have served as a guiding light to his Chapter."

A. C. Dimon, Stanford, '14, presented the Citation to Mr. Adams at the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter meeting. The text of the Citation is:

"Unremitting and tireless in his zeal for Beta Rho, Delta Iota, Delta Pi, the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter, and his Fraternity, for more than thirty-two years he has been a continuing inspiration to his co-workers in Delta Tau Delta."

DABNEY S. LANCASTER

DABNEY S. LANCASTER, Virginia, '11, has resigned as Virginia State Superintendent of Public Instruction to become the president of the Farmville State Teachers College.

In announcing his resignation, the chairman of the State Board of Education said that Dr. Lancaster will leave the state department sometime before July.

Dr. Lancaster is a former Arch Chapter member, having been President of the Southern Division. He was formerly Dean of Men at the University of Alabama and Executive Secretary of the Board of Overseers at Sweet Briar College.

CHARLES L. CARR, Northwestern, '13, has written a book entitled, Missouri Civil Procedure. Last year he was elected as the first president of the integrated Missouri bar and served for one year. He has recently been re-elected to the Board of Governors of the Missouri bar. He is the father of LT. CHARLES T. CARR, Kansas, '40, who, after spending some thirty-four months on duty in the Pacific, has recently been reassigned to the office of Chief of Naval Operations, Washington, D. C.

LT. COM. HOLLIS F. PECK, Northwestern, '34, has resumed his position as manager of the public relations department of John Morrell & Co., meat packers.

A former two-time president of Beta Pi, he says he solved the housing problem confronting veterans by "paying too much for a house that's too small."

FOSTER B. DOANE, Allegheny, '17, was installed as general trustee of the College at its annual meeting last fall. He is president of Magnaflux Corporation. The magnaflux process is a highly efficient method of testing steel, which has made marked contributions to the industry. During the war the process was used widely in war material for the Army and Navy.

RT. REV. WILLIAM T. MANNING, Sewanee, '93, liberal and outspoken Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, has announced recently that he will retire next fall due to poor health. Bishop Manning will be 80 May 12.

One of Bishop Manning's accomplishments is the progress made on the magnificent Cathedral of St. John the Divine on Morningside Heights. He saw the Cathedral as a house of prayer for all people of all faiths and opened the pulpit to clerics and laymen of all creeds.

Born in England in 1866, Bishop Manning received his theological training at the University of the South and was ordained in 1889. He became bishop of New York in 1921.

BISHOP MANNING

FOWLER B. MCCONNELL

Promoted from vice-president in charge of retail administration, FOWLER B. MCCONNELL, Chicago, '16, became president of Sears, Roebuck & Co. in March. With his promotion, Delts head the two largest mail order companies in the world. SEWELL L. AVERY, Michigan, '94, is president of Montgomery Ward & Co.

Mr. McConnell is a veteran of thirty years of service with Sears, with experience in both the mail order and retail branches.

For the fiscal year just ended, Sears reported net sales of $1,045,258,832, net before federal taxes on income, $96,661,836, and net after taxes $35,834,836, equal to $1.52 a share on the recently split capital stock. This is the first time in the company's history that net sales crossed the billion dollar mark, although gross sales were above that level in the 1944-45 period.

As an undergraduate "Bill" McConnell won a letter in football and baseball and was president of Gamma Alpha Chapter.

G. W. Cloldt, Illinois Tech, '17, won first prize recently in the nation-wide contest sponsored by the American Surety Group on suggestions for improving its policy forms. Competing with 225 other suggestions submitted by company agents, his idea won him a $500 war bond.

Announcement is made that LT. COL. H. J. PREBENSEN, Illinois Tech, '26, has rejoined Air Comfort Corporation of Chicago, manufacturers and distributors of commercial and industrial air conditioning and refrigeration equipment, as vice-president and director. He was one of the original organizers of the company in 1935 and served as a director and vice-president in charge of engineering until he left to enter government service in February, 1942.

COL. PREBENSEN

REV. HARRY A. FIFIELD, Florida, '33, recently honorably discharged from service as a chaplain in the Navy, has been named pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Lynchburg, Va.

GUY W. BOTTS, Florida, '36, Jacksonville, Fla., attorney, was honored by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce early this year when he was selected as the outstanding young man of Jacksonville for 1945 and was presented with the Distinguished Service Award.

The award was made for his work in management of the finance committee of the Officers' Club in Jacksonville, which retired the entire capital debt of $7,500. The club was characterized as one of the greatest community service projects undertaken in the city. At the presentation note was also made of his work on the legal aid committee, as a member of the Board of Directors of the Children's Home Society of Florida, and the Veterans Information Advisory Council of Jacksonville.

At the organization meeting of the New York Ferge of the American Public Relations Association early in April, HARRY W. McHose, Columbia, '27, was elected president. Maintenance of highest standards among public relations practitioners, under a strict code of ethics, underlies the formation of APRA and its various chapters in the principal cities. Mr. McHose is director of the Cigar Institute of America.

A. J. MURPHY, JR., Penn State, '38, has been appointed supervisor of student activities on the Graduate Student Training Course at Westinghouse Electric Corporation, East Pittsburgh, Pa.

A native of Sewickley, Mr. Murphy graduated from the Pennsylvania State College in 1938 with a degree of Bachelor of Arts in commerce and finance. He then spent two and a half years as field secretary for the Fraternity. In 1940 he joined the staff at Carnegie Institute of Technology where he served as student counselor, Dean of Men, faculty adviser, teacher of physical education, and in other capacities, going to Westinghouse in December, 1944.

Charges of "extravagance, dissipation, snobbishness and loafing" against college fraternities and their members in general are "practically baseless," Frederick L. Hovde, president of Purdue University, asserted in a speech here last night.

"We need not give too much attention to those who damn fraternities for the unwise conduct of a few individuals who may be members or for the complete failure of a single chapter, for I believe, by and large, that all colleges and universities which have fraternities have benefited from their presence and service.

"Most of the criticism leveled against fraternities comes from irresponsible and uninformed critics who are usually people outside the system whose motive to criticism emanates from jealousy.

"Fraternities are performing miracles in the housing of returned veterans. Fraternity house rules are certainly better and study conditions good compared to most other types of college housing."

He added that fraternities can do much to correct bad moral habits of their members, stimulate scholarship and provide leadership training.—The Indianapolis Star, March 31.

Gamma Lambda Honors Alvan E. Duerr

Alvan E. Duerr, past President of Delta Tau Delta and present Scholarship Chairman of the National Interfraternity Conference, spoke to a large group of Deltas at a banquet given in his honor at the Gamma Lambda Chapter house at Purdue University April 18. Mr. Duerr described eloquently the importance of human relations in all phases of social endeavor.

Another guest of honor was Maurice Jacobs, President of the National Interfraternity Conference and past President of Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity. Mr. Jacobs and Mr. Duerr were on the Purdue campus attending a conference of the National Association of Deans and Advisers of Men.

Jack E. Wilhelm, president of Gamma Lambda, introduced other guests of the chapter, including William Martindill, President of the Northern Division of the Fraternity; F. Darrell Moore, former Supervisor of Scholarship; and Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President of Delta Tau Delta. Charles McCabe, Gamma Lambda's chapter adviser, introduced the speakers.

During the course of the banquet, Gamma Lambda's glee club entertained with Delt songs.

Aerobond, a wartime development by Dr. Floyd E. Bartell, Albion, '05, to produce lightweight,

At its meeting March 23, the Board of Directors of the Fraternity took unprecedented action in order to insure greater than normal undergraduate attendance at the Karnea and authorized payment of the transportation expense of two undergraduate delegates to the convention. Heretofore, the expense of only one delegate from each chapter has been paid by the national Fraternity.

waterproof, cold-resisting clothing primarily for the Army, is expected to have far-reaching effects upon the textile and clothing industries. Uniforms of Aerobond were first used by the armed services in the heat and rain of Okinawa and have been ordered for use in Alaska to protect Army personnel from arctic snow and cold. In addition to the qualities the Army desired, Aerobond is sound deadening, can be used for insulation and "has so many possibilities we are not yet aware of all of them," according to Dr. Bartell.

The substance derives its name from the fact that it is light weight, floats and "breathes," letting perspiration out but preventing water from entering. It was first made and used in a pilot plant at the University of Michigan with equipment constructed by Dr. Bartell and his associates.

Dr. Bartell has been at the University since 1910.

▼ DELTS IN THE SERVICE ▼

GARTH B. SLATER

CAPT. GARTH B. SLATER, Miami, '38, who served as field secretary for four years prior to his entry on active duty, has returned to the staff following four years of military service. During this time, he rose from the ranks to Captain, serving as assistant executive to General B. O. Lewis, Director of Materiel and Supply for the Chief of Transportation in the Army Service Forces.

Garth entered service at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Indiana, in June, 1942. He then was sent to the infantry, stationed in Jacksonville, Florida, and later was accepted for O.C.S. in the Transportation Corps. Upon graduation, he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant and was assigned to the Office of the Chief of Transportation. He was stationed in Columbus, Ohio, Cincinnati, Ohio, and then in Washington, D. C., from December, 1944, to March, 1946.

He is married and has one daughter.

Two Delts have been reported as being honored for their work in connection with the atomic bomb. They are A. G. STROUGHTON, Minnesota, '04, and NEWTON H. BULLARD, Florida, '36.

Mr. Stoughton was one of the heads of 117 industrial firms, universities, and research organizations honored. He is president of the Midwest Piping and Supply Co., St. Louis.

Lt. Com. Bullard was cited by Secretary of the Navy Forrestal for "outstanding performance of duty as consultant in connection with the atomic bomb project at the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratories."

CAPT. JOHN M. ELLIS, Emory, '24, until recently chapter adviser of Beta Epsilon Chapter, has been closely associated with malaria control activities of the United States Public Health Service. Special study of the public health significance of foreign malarias relapsing in troops returning to the U. S. from overseas is the project jointly of the Army, Navy, and Public Health Service, upon which he has been working.

The Allegheny branch office of the Veterans Rehabilitation Program is in charge of Dr. A. Lester Pierce, chief vocational counselor, and GEORGE W. CANFIELD, Allegheny, '36, vocational appraiser. Mr. Canfield has held this post since September 1. Prior to that time he taught in the high school of Union City, Michigan, and Monroe, Michigan. He received his master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1937.

COL. KENT C. LAMBERT, Wabash, '13, Assistant Chief of Staff, G-4, of the Eastern Defense Command, received the Legion of Merit award for outstanding services on February 28 at Governors Island.

Col. Lambert, who commanded Combat Command A of the 1st Armored Division in Africa and Italy, received the Oak Leaf Cluster to the Legion of Merit for his work as director and senior liaison officer, Transportation and Signal Department, Chinese Services of Supply, in the Chinese Theater from February 9 to October 6, 1945.

He served in France for eighteen months in the first World War, taking part in the Verdun, St. Mihiel and Argonne offensives. He has been an instructor at several service schools, including the Infantry School at Ft. Benning, Ga., the Cavalry School at Ft. Riley, Kan., and the Virginia Military Institute. He was assigned as a U. S. military observer in Russia in 1941-42.

Col. Lambert took part in the Morocco invasion with the late General George S. Patton's force and served as G-3 of the II Corps in the El Guettar offensive in March, 1943. In addition to the Legion of Merit, he has received the Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star, and the Purple Heart.

LT. COL. WILLIAM A. BOETCKER, Allegheny, '33, now wears the Bronze Star for meritorious service in connection with military operations. Stationed at the United States Air Forces Reinforcement depot headquarters, Stone, Staffordshire, England, he received the award after long and arduous months of outstanding achievement. He entered the air force with a direct commission as second lieutenant in June, 1942.

COL. STENJEM receives medal.

COL. ELDON M. STENJEM, Wisconsin, '18, was awarded the Legion of Merit for outstanding performance of his duties as Executive Officer of the Personnel Center at Fort Sheridan in a special ceremony there early in April. The presentation was made by Major General Louis A. Craig, commanding General of the Sixth Service Command.

STAFF SERGEANT JEPHTHA E. CAMPBELL, III, Emory, '41, has been presented the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy in Burma.

Having served the chapter well during the war years, LANE SUMMERS, Michigan, '17, resigned as adviser of Gamma Mu at Washington in March. He kept a close eye on chapter affairs during the war years and assisted in maintaining operations on the Washington campus, largely with personnel selected from the Navy training program. With the return of undergraduates who have had experience in Fraternity affairs he has resigned, and the Vice-President has appointed BURTON C. WALDO, Washington, '41, as chapter adviser.

Burt is still in service as a Lieutenant. His work, commanding troop trains, takes him to Seattle frequently and he will be able to maintain close contact with the chapter until his release from service when he plans to return to the University to complete his law training.

ROBERT WHITELEY, Washington, '43, is serving the chapter as resident adviser this quarter.

CORPORAL WILLIAM M. KERR, II, Lehigh, '46, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal posthumously by the President of the United States.

The citation accompanying the medal reads as follows:

"For heroic achievement while serving with the Seventh Marines, First Marine Division, in action against enemy Japanese forces on Peleliu Island, Palau Group, 26 September, 1944. Wounded while carrying vitally needed supplies to the front line troops, Corporal Kerr valiantly continued his essential task throughout the day, although suffering from a concussion caused by an exploding mortar shell blast. When volunteers were called for to help reinforce a sector of the defense line around the airport, Corporal Kerr unhesitatingly went forward and was mortally wounded during an enemy attempt to infiltrate the line. His heroic fighting spirit and selfless devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Services."

"He gallantly gave his life for his country."

LT. (J.G.) JOHN R. BILL, Missouri, '44, who was a skipper of an LCT in the South Pacific, is now a patient at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Corona, California.

Editor's Note: Records of the Central Office show that 9,329 men have been in military service in connection with World War II. The military listing was inaugurated with the February, 1943, number, and includes the names, years, and ranks (when given) by chapters. Beginning with this issue, only those chapters with additional men reported in service will be listed.

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Beta Chapter at Ohio University

Alpha—Allegheny

Election of officers was held here at our chapter house recently. The men entrusted with the power to govern our group are: Ralph Roberts, '48, president; John Ruggerio, '49, vice-president; Neil Mould, '49, secretary; Harry Banta, '49, corresponding secretary; William Lortz, '48, treasurer; and Cloyd Bartholomew, '49, assistant treasurer.

The task of beating up an active member for unpaid dues proved too difficult for a single treasurer, so it was decided to have two.

Mack Cook, '47, and James Dougherty, '47, two very capable Deltas, were appointed to represent us at the Allegheny Men's Undergraduate Council.

We have always believed at our chapter that the "play is the thing." Of late, two of our aspiring Thespians have ventured upon the Playshop stage. Cloyd Bartholomew is now rehearsing for The Happy Journey from Trenton to Camden, by Thornton Wilder, and Harry Banta has recently ended runs in Ladies in Retirement and Carlo Goldoni's comedy classic, The Mistress of the Inn.

Alpha Chapter was represented in college athletics by Fred Hannum, '47, and Ralph Roberts, '48. These two hardy individuals received letters for intercollegiate soccer. Ralph Horton, one of our outstanding pledges, captained the basketball team that won the intramural championship. With our pledge class steadily increasing in number and many veterans returning to the campus, we expect to have a great many more participants in college sports next year.

Social activities are not lacking here. We had an informal party at the Delta Shelter on the night of March 22, and it was a big success. Refreshments were served and everyone present was in high spirits. Plans are under way and committees are being appointed for a spring formal dance. We feel that such an impressive occasion would be a fitting way to close a very active year.

With the new officers instilling spirit into a conscientious group, Alpha Chapter expects to make 1946 one of its biggest years.

HARRY BANTA

Beta—Ohio

In a quick review of the fall semester, the Deltas of Beta Chapter find more laurels added to their already shining record. Tom Lavery, one of our returned vets, was elected "Star-Lite Prom King." We took the first postwar trophy by capturing the intramural football championship. Homecoming found the actives and town alumni prepared with the traditional open house and buffet dinner for alumni and guests. A full social calendar of dances, hay rides, and picnics kept us busy and well-entertained.

The opening of the spring semester found even more vets returning to Ohio U. and dear old Delta Tau Delta. Rushing went into full force, aided by the reopening of the boarding club and the annex. We emerged with the prize pledge class of the campus. On February 24, 14 more men received the Golden Square, which now gives us 42 active members and 23 pledges, a full-sized chapter.

Right now we are in the midst of a campaign to have "Mr. X," whom we later announced to be Buddy Connott, elected J-Prom King. Under the leadership of campaign manager Bill Pritchett, we have attracted much attention in the variety of ways he has used to present our candidate.

Big plans are under way for the week end of June 8, with initiation and the spring formal heading the list. We are hoping to see many of our alumni and national officers present for the occasion.

June 21 will be the eighty-fourth birthday of Beta Chapter. Through all these years Beta Chapter has never once had to close. Long may she stand, and, with the continued and loyal help of all, her future can be as glorious and bright as has been her past. ROBERT C. HARTUNG

Epsilon—Albion

The present school year has been one of success and achievement, and the prospects for next year are even better. In all of the chapter's activities, much united interest and desire to do things for the common good have been in evidence.

The chapter won both the interfraternity and intramural basketball championships hands down. Thus far, the volleyball team has found no peer and stands an excellent chance of winning that title. The outlook for a successful baseball team is inspiring because many of the servicemen that sparked teams of several years ago are back.

At the recent election of officers it was very obvious that the veterans are taking an active role in the chapter and its activities. Results of the election are as follows: president, J. R. Struthers; vice-president, Edwin Athey; corresponding secretary, Jack Pahl; and recording secretary, Paul Deller. The new chapter adviser is Gordon Herrick, Epsilon, '27, who has many helpful and constructive ideas to create better alumni-chapter relations and for better ways and methods of carrying out our pledge training program.

This year, returning to a prewar custom, the annual Black and White party was held. A very large number of alumni were able to return for it. The pledge party of this semester was highly successful. Future pledges in charge of parties will have a fine example of how a successful party should be planned and executed.

Barring any unforeseen events or circumstances, Epsilon should be fully recovered from the past several years of restrictions and set its sights for bigger and better things. JACK PAHL

Zeta—Western Reserve

Zeta Chapter, the only fraternity on Western Reserve campus to keep both house and table operating during the war, is now back on a prewar basis. We now have an active chapter of thirty-seven and a pledge class of thirteen. All but one of the pledges are veterans who have returned to receive the education which the war temporarily withheld from them. Among the actives who have seen service and have now returned to school are: Bruce Doolittle, Fred Myers, Don Blair, Bob Johnson, Hal Centini, and Tom Green. At the semester elections, Harlow Greenwood and Dan Griese were re-elected president and vice-president respectively.

The Shelter, pretty badly run down during the war, is now in the process of being completely redecorated, both inside and out. Our housemother, Mrs. Halverstadt, has been with us a year and a half now and is doing a marvelous job. As a token of our deep appreciation for her splendid work in our behalf, we presented her with a jeweled sweetheart pin at Christmastime.

Varsity sports are returning to the campus in full this year. The track team has several meets scheduled this spring and the football team is now holding spring practice. Many Deltas are on both teams.

On March 30, a large get-together party, sponsored by the Mother's Club, was held at the Shelter and all the Deltas; their parents, relatives, and friends attended to make the affair a huge success. Western Reserve is holding its first big all-University dance since 1941 on May 3 in the gym. Alvino Rey is slated to supply the music.

On February 21, all the actives attended the alumni Founders Day banquet at the University Club. That afternoon we pinned the Square Badge of Delta Tau Delta over the hearts of six newly initiated actives. They are Dick Portmann, Bruce Hasse, Wayne Pringle, Charles Strauss, Fred Schuster, and Holly Broadbent. Our former chapter adviser, Harold Hopkins, who left us in November, delivered the Charge to these boys. Our new chapter adviser, Gard Whitehead, who also attended the initiation ceremonies, has helped us immensely since he has taken over that position.

All in all, Zeta Chapter, which is still the strongest chapter on the campus, is keeping up its great record of accomplishments of the past and attempting even higher goals for the future.

Kappa—Hillsdale

On February 9, 1946, we had our Victory Initiation, an occasion celebrated by undergraduates and alumni of Kappa Chapter with great anticipation, for it was our first peacetime initiation. We welcomed into our ranks the largest class of neophytes since Pearl Harbor.

Taking to heart an article which appeared a few months previous in The Delta Tau Delta News, this chapter has stepped out of the "short pants" stage by stressing to our pledge class the teachings and functions of Delta Tau Delta, at the same time eliminating the infantile tactics usually associated with college pledging. We believe that such a program imbues the pledges with a more serious and mature appreciation of what our Fraternity stands for.

On March 29, 1946, the Shelter was transformed into Bar-None Ranch for the evening. Straw, symbolic railings, wheels, and lanterns added the atmosphere to our ranch, which was open to all students on campus.

Kappa Chapter is fortunate in regaining Burr Manby as our president. Burr was president before he left for the service, and we feel that this term will be even more successful than the one previous. While on the subject of president, the appreciation and gratitude of this chapter towards Bill Jesswein, whom Burr succeeds, must be mentioned. Bill served during the war years, and it was mainly his determination and zeal, along with a few others, that kept the Shelter open for business.

On April 8, 1946, we are entertaining the Hillsdale high school basketball squad in honor of their winning the Twin Valley Championship. This banquet, in charge of Bill Moore, marks our first attempt at fall rushing. We plan, also, to entertain prospects for rushees in the near future.

Before closing, Kappa wishes to express its gratitude to Mr. Ed Lincoln, our chapter adviser, for his efforts during the past year. JACQUES LIEBENGUTH

Cars Have Returned to the Ohio Wesleyan Campus

Mu—Ohio Wesleyan

Mu Chapter has taken rapid strides since the end of the war. Since the University started semesters in both November and January, we have initiated eighteen men. With our November nucleus of thirteen actives, eleven more returned to us by the government, and the eighteen initiates, Mu Chapter now has forty-two actives and no pledges. Twenty-eight of our number are veterans. We didn't pledge any men in the March term for two reasons: first was the lack of material (most of the men entering in March were returnees), and second, we were faced with the possibility of overbalancing the freshman class which would lead to complications in the cycle of rotation.

A new administration was elected on April 1. Bob Stauter, retiring president, deserves a "well done." Through his leadership, our reconversion was very satisfactorily executed. The new officers are charged with completing our program of normalcy. Art Brandeberry has taken the reins, with Charles Stewart as vice-president. Bard Battelle is the new scribe, and Ed Heminger takes over as corresponding secretary, after a successful term as pledge-master. Heminger set up a new pledge training program designed to train both veterans and boys fresh from high school. The plan was accepted and adopted and has proven very efficient.

Mu finished the intramural basketball season in first place. We added another trophy by winning the interfraternity swimming meet. The outlooks are very promising for other sports in spring competition.

Socially speaking, the first peacetime formal dance at Wesleyan was the Delt Winter Formal held December 15, in the Shelter. Numerous functions have kept the chapter buzzing all year. Our spring formal is scheduled for June 1.

Brother Jack Moss holds the position of student body president this year. We have three O.D.K. men with Bill Eells as president of that organization.

The first Mu Murmurs in over three years is to be published in the near future.

Rho—Stevens

Since the war's end, the return of veteran members and the pledging of several discharges have lent a new strength and stability to the house. Many improvements have been made with the painting and redecoration of several rooms. With the addition of more pledges and the initiation of more members, more progress can be expected in the future. The house now consists of fourteen members and seven pledges. With rushing just about to begin, a promising outlook for a good future is at hand.

With the Navy training units active at Stevens during the war, fraternity life was greatly handicapped due to lack of interest and time. Rho Chapter, however, with a large percentage of its members as Naval trainees, managed to maintain a substantial membership and survived the situation comparatively well. Now that civilians once again dominate the Institute, and with the house off to a good start, the Delt house boasts a fine record in extracurricular activities in school. Tom Kavanagh, the president of the house, is also president of the interfraternity council, along with his many other activities, including The Gear and Triangle honorary society, Press Relations Board, Link Board, Rifle Club, and the Stevens Engineering Society. With five men on the lacrosse team, the house is also well represented in sports.

Four men were initiated on March 23, 1946: S. Clausen, '48; H. Losey, '49; A. Wilson, '49, and H. W. Rowan, '49. All these men are veterans and are welcome additions to Rho Chapter. Many alumni have visited recently. Tom Trent, '41; Glenn Williamson, '42; John Nankivell, '43; Fred Thoen, '44; Bruce Kirker, '43; Bob Eichman, '45; and Ted Ottens, '46, have all made frequent visits when able. This shows an added interest among the alumni as well as the undergraduates. With so many veterans back, the house is certainly open to any alumni interested in meeting some of their old classmates.

ARVE LARSSON

Chi—Kenyon

A lot has happened since the last résumé of Chi's activities, all of which is aiding postwar Chi in becoming prewar Chi.

At present the chapter has seventeen actives and no pledges, initiation being held March 19. Those initiated were Robert Carruth of Circleville, Ohio, and Robert Fischer of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Although we are losing three members next term, there will be a large freshman class to rush, so we are looking forward to a bigger chapter.

Chi's prominence on the campus is evidenced by the many capacities which have been filled by its members. Carl Cooke was elected president of the student body and captain of the swimming team. Dick Hershberger was chosen captain of the basketball team, while five other members received letters for football. In the field of dramatics, Chi is also well represented. The dramatics club recently gave a successful presentation of Hamlet, the cast including four Chi members. On other fronts, we are represented on the staff of the college newspaper, the International Relations Club, the German Club, and the Wranglers, an organization of the students of economics.

Chi's over-all objectives for the future include the successful prosecution of the ensuing terms toward re-establishing Chi as it was in the prewar days and promoting as much as possible the fund-raising campaign of the school. This includes the gala commencement and initiation in June, which we hope all interested alumni will attend. We are looking forward to being able to entertain at least one hundred guests, so all chapter alumni are urged to drop us a line availing themselves of this festive occasion. JOHN R. RODERICK

Omega—Pennsylvania

Omega Chapter has gained momentum in the past three months, and, from all indication, will retain it. The return of numerous veterans and a good pledge class have brought the chapter back on its feet. It called for a great deal of hard work on the part of the brothers to buckle down to making this house a prominent part of the campus again. The success seems undeniable.

The reopening of the dining room seemed a large part of the program. We are now experiencing excellent meals in the manner we were used to three years ago. This enabled the giving of banquets before campus dances and such. Notable in this respect was the dinner given before the Interfraternity Ball on March 22.

New officers were elected last month as the house filled out to almost normal capacity. They are: president, David Mulford; vice-president, John F. Fant; treasurer, Edwin Cathcart; secretary, John Dolphin; and corresponding secretary, Wilbur Fiske Myers, Jr. Formal installation of officers was held March 20 with chapter adviser, Mr. Frank Cornell, attending.

The new pledge class was formally initiated on March 30, followed by the annual Founders Day dinner given at the University Club in Philadelphia. This acted as more or less a climax to the fact that we are again functioning in high gear.

VICTOR H. KUSCH

Beta Alpha—Indiana

After many long and trying months of reactivating, Beta Alpha is again ready for competitive service on the campus. Several of the old gang have rejoined us in the battle for campus prestige and leadership, and with their aid definite signs of advancement can be seen. Bob Vitoz, a fellow who is known well by the boys of '41 and '42, has assumed the responsible role of president. Under his leadership, the old traditions of Beta Alpha have been re-established, and the house has been able to resume an active position on campus.

Patsy Ronzone has returned to be our only member in the Sphinx Club, but those who know Patsy realize that we have sufficient representation in the so-called "governing body." Foster Reuss, known here as "The Mouth," has undertaken the responsibilities of house and grounds manager, while Bob "Rabbit" Knight has responded to the duties of rush captain. Steve Jarvis is pledge trainer, and Lee Rust is handling the tiring job of scholastic chairman. Bob Coffin, Jim Schneider, and Bill Hiatt, our three newest initiates, are also taking an active part in the house activities. Coffin is social chairman; Schneider is active socially; and Hiatt is keeping a record of his own expenditures. Coffin also filibusters in chapter meetings.

Two "I" men have also returned. Bob Meyer, center on the Big Ten Champs of '45, is back limping around campus as a result of a leg injury suffered in the Michigan game. Del Russell, the ball totting back who was Hoernschmeyer's shadow in '44, is still shadowing "Hunchy" in Bo's annual spring training.

We also have a few celebrated pledges. Possibly many Delt's remember Gordy and Dick Englehart. We are also fortunate, for we have in our pledge class Dave Englehart, Dick's younger brother. Jim Vasil, the only straight "A" student in the house, has proven himself on both the Indiana and Toledo University campuses. He has made it his sole obligation to make "Rusty" a success in his present position. For the most part the pledge class is made up of veterans who have undertaken their pledge training with the best of spirit. They are very conscientious about their academic work, and seem to realize fully the value of good pledge training.

Every Beta Alpha man for the past thirty-five years will remember the late Dean Clarence E. Edmondson. Dean Eddie has been considered a friend to every boy who passed through the doors of the Delt House, and Bob Vittoz, an aspiring artist, has presented the house with an elaborate oil painting of him which is now hanging above the mantle. Several of Dean Eddie's old friends have seen the portrait and each has commented about its lifelike characteristics.

Max Oster, the vice-president and possibly the most popular man in the house, has now taken over the responsibilities of head table waiter and has proceeded to settle the petty differences in the kitchen. O. P. Hartman, Neal Welch, Bob Kinsey, Chuck Barker, Bill Spall, and Dick Pumphrey are also aiding the house by supplying the much-needed backbone. Bob Tracy, Alabama, Bill Caley, Texas, George Browne, Jr., and Bill Kriel, both of Butler, are bringing in new and better ideas from their respective chapters.

The house is filled at present; however, this semester the sophomores are living in. We have an active chapter of twenty-three members and nineteen pledges.

During the next few semesters Beta Alpha will again attain the prestige which was its prior to the war.

JOHN B. FUNK, JR.

Beta Gamma—Wisconsin

Since October, 1945, the roll call of Beta Gamma has increased from 14 actives and 24 pledges to the present total of 22 actives and 24 pledges. Much credit for our very successful rushing program is due Bob Claus, chairman. Our loss was in Hank Fricke and John Krummell, Navy personnel.

Our Christmas formal held at the Nakoma Country Club was a huge success. Over 70 Deltas and guests were present. The spring formal is being planned for May 3.

Beta Gamma's intramural teams have been in the thick of things. Last fall, the football team ended up in second place, with a record of only one defeat in seven games. The volleyball team placed fourth and the track and badminton teams won their championships. With softball coming up soon, the Deltas are out in practice. At a picnic March 31, a practice game showed the actives to be better than the pledges by a score of 9-2.

Clarence Esser was voted "the most valuable player" on the 1945 Badger football team. This was the second year in a row that he has won that honor.

Bob Claus is vice-president of the interfraternity council. He was general chairman of the interfraternity spring formal and was ably assisted by Delt Tom Aylward on the decorations committee.

The Deltas have been out serenading the sororities with the coming of spring, and the weaker sex have gone for our songs in a big way. We are preparing to enter the University Sing tournament.

More of our "bisexual" picnics are being planned for this spring and summer. We are looking forward and planning for taking over the Shelter next fall. Looks like a big successful future next fall.

ARPAD MASLEY

Beta Epsilon—Emory

This has been the best year for Beta Epsilon since the war began. As the war ends, we burst forth as the unchallenged, leading fraternity on the Emory campus. In nothing have we failed.

Only once was Beta Epsilon slightly jarred. This was when the draft took all officers in one month. To serve the unexpired terms, Jack Odom was elected president; Dick Hill, vice-president; Philip Donehoo, secretary; and Charles Laney, treasurer.

This year, from a pledge class of thirty-four, twenty-four men were initiated. We filled our quota of pledges, which is an unusual and coveted achievement on the campus.

Beta Epsilon is proud of her scholastic average. As usual, it is the highest on Fraternity Row.

We are also proud of our athletic achievements. We were runner-up in our basketball league, league swimming champions, campus cross-country champions, and Bert Meyers took the campus ping-pong championship. We expect to do very well in tennis, volleyball, softball, and track, which are the intramural sports for the Spring Quarter. We ran up 162 points during the winter quarter for the permanent campus and league trophies. We are in second place now, and only 28 points behind. We are going to get those trophies!

Our social functions are considered the best on the Row. The Christmas formal, the Hallowe'en party, and the Valentine formal, were extremely successful. The Spring Quarter banquet and formal dance is planned for May 10.

Miss Beverly Dobbs has been a successful "Delta Darling," working untiringly for the fraternity. She will represent us in the competition for "Queen of Dooley's Frolics."

The leading positions on the Emory campus have been filled by Deltas. Tom Galt was elected president of the Interfraternity Council; Jim Ridley was elected captain of the swimming team; and Bill Dorr took over the reins as editor of the Emory Phoenix, the campus literary magazine.

The officers elected for the new year are Lucien Harris, president; Jim Ridley, vice-president; George Knight, secretary; and Bill Dorr, corresponding secretary.

WILLIAM S. DORR

Beta Zeta—Butler

Once again up to strength, with 19 actives and 33 pledges, Beta Zeta's postwar plans are taking shape. Election of officers for the spring semester has taken place; campus activities are being pushed; the Shelter is receiving needed repairs; and a table has once again been established.

In the chapter elections, held the latter part of February, Bill Ransdell was chosen president; Bill Wildman, vice-president; Tim Jones, treasurer; Bob Myers, recording secretary; and Art Graham, corresponding secretary.

Thanks to the fine work of Bill Wildman and John Carmack, Beta Zeta had a very successful rush week. Keeping pace with the enrolling of veterans in the abbreviated spring semester, pledging continues to play a big part in the activities of the chapter.

The pledge class held its annual dance on March 29 at the Campus Club. It was a "come as you are" party, and guests appeared in everything from bathrobes to riding breeches. Biggest dance now on the calendar is the one following the completion of the semester in June.

As for other miscellaneous chapter news, three Deltas, George Downey, Russell Miller, and Ted Popoff were among the eight Butler men recently elected to Blue Key, national senior honorary society. A first prize in the stunt competition of the Fairview Frolics accounts for the latest addition to the trophy collection. Jim Franklin and Scott Christie were initiated in a ceremony held April 5.

With a chapter body composed almost entirely of veterans with similar ideas about what can and should be done, Beta Zeta's future looks promising.

Beta Eta—Minnesota

Beta Eta actives and alumni have done a splendid job in building up the membership of the chapter from three actives on campus two years ago to the present number of forty-seven, thirty-eight actives and nine pledges.

Elections were held last week, with the following men chosen to hold office to the ensuing term: Allan H. Chambers, president; Robert W. Schimke, vice-president; Douglas P. Hunt, treasurer; Francis N. Satterlee, secretary; Warren M. Pomeroy, corresponding secretary.

The social calendar was dimaxed with a costume party, the theme of which was "Arabian Nights," held at the chapter house. Brothers and alumni with their dates and wives were entertained at an Arab feast in the colorful setting of a gigantic cave, decorated with papier-mache, and in the other rooms of the chapter house decorated as Arab tents. The entrance to the house was through a giant skull, the mouth of which entered the cave.

Beta Eta's Mother's Club of twenty-four active members meets once a month for lunch at the chapter house. Their constructive program has furnished curtains for the living rooms and dining rooms, rugs, and kitchen utensils. The Club gave a reception for Delt James Melton of the Metropolitan Opera and a Sunday open house and supper which was attended by more than one hundred members, alumni, and guests.

WARREN M. POMEROY

Beta Kappa—Colorado

Beta Kappa Chapter at the University of Colorado is in high spirits these days, and we all are looking forward to a big year. The chapter is increasing rapidly, and, with all the old Delts coming back from the wars, we don't know from day to day how many of us there are. At the last count there were about thirty-five actives and twelve pledges. The University is to return the Shelter in June, and we intend to make additions and repairs during the summer months, so we will be in top shape for the start of the fall quarter.

Election of officers for the next school year was held recently and the following men were elected: George Denig, president; Burton Boothby, vice-president; David Corbin, corresponding secretary; Bill Martin, recording secretary; and Jack Tobin, treasurer. The rushing program will be under the able direction of John Dickinson, and Bob Bigelow will arrange the social functions.

Even though we haven't as yet got the Shelter back, our activities have been quite complete with almost constant rushing, the usual sorority tea dances, intramurals, and week end social functions. Our winter formal was held in February at Cherry Hills Country Club in Denver, and many of the Delts in service were back in time to enjoy some Delt social life.

We were privileged to have the Denver alumni come up and conduct the ceremonies at a recent initiation. We enjoy these chances to meet and get better acquainted with the Denver alumni to whom we are very grateful for their help and interest in Beta Kappa.

Beta Eta Chapter at Minnesota

As for all the chapters, this year promises to be a great one for Beta Kappa, and we intend to keep the Delts on the top.

DAVID N. CORBIN

Beta Lambda—Lehigh

The coming of the spring semester and the large increase in enrollment at Lehigh have brought about the reopening of most of the fraternities which have been inactive since 1943. Delta Tau Delta, on the other hand, has been active almost continuously with the exception of a period from May, 1943, to June, 1944, when the Army Specialized Training Program took over the house. Beta Lambda reopened in June of 1944 with three brothers and three pledges and has steadily built up her numbers until there are now twenty brothers and ten pledges.

In scholastic standing, the Delts had one of the highest house averages of any living group. Among those in the house there is one member of Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu, three members of the Cyanide, junior honorary, and two members of Pi Delta Epsilon, journalistic honorary.

In campus activities the chapter also ranks high, boasting six members of the staff of the Brown & White (school paper), including the editor Jack Shipherd; two members of the University band, two members of the Lehigh dance band, two members of Arcadia Student Senate, and two members of the Dramatic Society.

In varsity athletics this spring we have three members on the baseball squad, and four members of the track team including the captain. In intramural athletics, the Delts won the interfraternity wrestling crown for the second straight year, and this spring are hoping to defend successfully their interfraternity baseball crown won last year.

Plans are now being made for renovating the Shelter and improving the grounds, and we hope to be able to carry them out during the spring semester.

With the increasing return of Delts from the service and with the house now at nearly full strength, we are looking forward to an even better Delta Tau Delta at Lehigh.

I would like to say to those alumni whom we have been unable to contact by mail, that the week end of June 22 is alumni week end at Lehigh, and that the house will be completely turned over to alumni. Please let us know if you are planning to come.

DAVID J. HERDER

Beta Mu—Tufts

Beta Mu Chapter, for the first time since early 1943, has a majority of civilians. The work of the Navy men in maintaining the chapter over these war years is well appreciated by the men who have returned to find a well-functioning chapter. Our actives now include five Navy men: Ray Ackerman, Bob Breckinridge, Jack Clime, Chick Oldham, and Brom Palamountain; and nine civilians: Larry Crocker, Jim Hayward, Howard Houghton, C. C. Smith, Don Nickerson, R. C. Smith, Phil Robinson, Don Abbott, and Don MacRobbie.

Although we are not living in Delta Shelter because of its continued use as a girls' dorm, we meet weekly and remain as integrated as possible between meetings in such activities as intramural athletics and campus social events.

We are again fortunate in having Beta Nu Chapter, a few miles away, graciously offer the use of their house to us. On April 14, we are to have a combined dance in honor of the new pledges of our chapters. Following that, some time in May, will be one of those famous Reynolds beach parties.

Two initiations are planned for this term. One will be the latter part of April, followed by an alumni smoker, and the second in June. Counting the men who will return in the fall, with our present group, we are sure to start the 1946-47 year with a full house complement—and a house.

BROMLEY PALAMOUNTAIN

Beta Nu—M. I. T.

With the return of several veterans, a new pledge class, and many major repairs to the chapter house, Beta Nu is fast moving back to its prewar position. Back from the war are: Mal McFaul, '44; Bill Kennelley, '44; Tom Jackson, '45; Fred Heuchling, '45; George Loomis, '45; Byron Lutman, '45; Al Bowen, '45; Mike Tenney, '46; Jack Adams, '46; and two of our alumni, Lawson Bowers, '42, and Lamar Field, '44, are back as graduate students. Several of our alumni have visited the chapter recently. Bob Gunther, '43; Eddie Czar, '43, and Bud Willenbrock, '45, were among the most recent.

The new chapter officers are: Al Bowen, president; Dick Scheuing, re-elected vice-president; Cort Turner, treasurer; Al Becker, corresponding secretary; Mike Tenney, recording secretary; and Tom Jackson, rush chairman.

Everyone is anxiously looking forward to the coming I.F.C. week end May 10. This week end will probably be the largest since 1942, since the entire chapter and several alumni are planning to attend.

News of our alumni: Chuck Carlson, '44, is now married to Bea Farmer and is working on Long Island; Gerry Dennehy, '44, is married to Peggy Mori and is working for Pan-American Airlines. Dick Luce, '45, married Bobbie Craven and has now been commissioned with the Navy and is stationed in Maine. Dutton Smith, '45, is on his way back from the Philippines. Pete Hellige, '42, our past chapter adviser, is now in Rochester with his family, working for Eastman Kodak. Jack Adams, our only married undergraduate, and his wife Audrey are living at the Riverside Apartments. They were married last February after Jack returned from a year overseas with the ATS.

Some Beta Nu Men at M.I.T.

Sports are the main objectives of the chapter this term, with Al Bowen stroking the crew, Inky Ingraham and Jerry Lewi burning up the cinders, and Jack Adams guarding the goal for the lacrosse team. Fred Heuchling is at the managing end of the Tech teams as vice-president of the athletic association. We are going all out for the gold cup this term, with 22 fellows turning out for the Delt softball team.

Scholastically, we are at the top of the list with a house average of 3.82. Cort Turner was high man with a 4.60, but Dick Scheuing ran a close second with 4.45.

Plans are now being made for an alumni dinner some time in the near future. With the aid of Colonel George F. Hobson, '06, we are reorganizing our alumni files, and he has helped us financially through his alumni drive. We want to thank sincerely all the contributors for their generous donations. We would appreciate hearing from the Beta Nu alumni, especially those who have changed addresses since 1943, to facilitate the reorganization of our alumni files.

Beta Nu is going and looking upward to bigger and better things!

ALLAN BECKER

Beta Pi—Northwestern

Beta Pi Chapter is on the go! A host of Delts have returned to their old Alma Mater. Just in case you might be interested, Bob Gleason, Bob Swank, Jim Sills, J. M. Walker, Jack Hempel, Cort Cunningham, Tate Alexander, Don Gridley, Hal Stromsen, Jim Walker, Dick McEachron, Doug White, Tom Kendall, Tom Gorman, and Norb Buenik are among the latest arrivals.

New officers installed last February include Jim Vynalek, president; Bert Eberly, vice-president; Jack Smith, treasurer; Ralph Butz, recording secretary; and Jerry Pinderski, corresponding secretary.

The Navy is releasing all fraternity houses on June 24, in time for the summer quarter. The Shelter will be operating during that period. Letters are being sent to all Beta Pi's whose education was interrupted and who are likely to return next fall. We would like to know how many plan to live in the Shelter, since any vacancies will be filled by the University. We would rather fill the Shelter with active and pledges next September than complete the quota of 44 with independents. This brings to mind the important subject of rushing. The chapter has been very careful in its rushing activities, trying to keep the caliber of its membership as high as in the past. If you know of any men who will attend Northwestern in the near future and who you think would be good Delt material, please let us know. We will give your recommendation every consideration and inform you promptly of the outcome.

Remember the "good old days" when the spring formal was held out of town? Well, they're back. May 18 marks the climax of a well-rounded social calendar. The formal dance will be held that day at the Lake Lawn Hotel, Lake Delavan, Wisconsin. It will be an all-day expedition, leaving early in the morning and returning at curfew time.

The Waa Mu Show is back and boasts 18 Delts on its rolls, both on stage and off. Merle Dowd has been appointed editor of the Northwestern Engineer, the Technological Institute publication. John Kepler, Jerry Pinderski, and Don Banta represent the Fraternity in a mock United Nations Organization. Jim Walker is out for spring football practice, and Jim Vynalek may be trotting the cinder paths soon.

Yes, sir, Beta Pi is on the go!

JEROME PINDERSKI

Beta Rho—Stanford

After several years of comparative silence from Beta Rho we are happy to report as follows. The Shelter will be returned to us by the University at the beginning of summer and will be ready for occupancy by Delts again next fall. In the meantime there is considerable activity. Bob Kennedy, '42, while finishing up work at the graduate School of Business, is keeping student affairs in order as president of the associated students. Tom Howard, '43, Carl Kellenburger, '43, and Lloyd McGovern, '44, are on the baseball team holding down the second base, center field, and pitching spots. George Grimes, '44, is showing some of his prewar ability on the cinder path and is expected to account for many points this spring. With approximately thirty veterans back in school now we have been competing in intramural athletics and got to the semi-finals in the basketball league. An intensive rushing program is being started under direction of rush chairman George Grimes, and Tom Howard, newly elected house president. All activities are looking forward to the opening next fall and the return of more Delts still in the service.

DAVID O. JESBERG

Beta Tau—Nebraska

Beta Tau is at full strength again! That is the good word from the Delts at Nebraska. The five of us who held on for three long years during the war have now been reinforced by approximately twenty-nine more good Delts.

Among the returning Beta Taus are:

Eddie Schwartzkopf, former All-American guard on Nebraska's Rose Bowl football team; Ed Nyden, who played end on the same team; and Bob Galloway, our resident adviser.

Our pledge class boasts of fourteen "Squabs" who saw fit to elect Bill Ballew, president; Lee Phelps, vice-president; Harry Mease, secretary; and Ted Mabie, sergeant-at-arms. The entire chapter is determined to restore Beta Tau to its former position as the number one fraternity on the Nebraska campus.

All Beta Taus are looking forward to the alumni banquet to be held on April 13 at the Cornhusker Hotel.

HUGH M. ALLEN

Beta Upsilon—Illinois

Beta Upsilon of Delta Tau Delta, the University of Illinois' first fraternity, is again back in its house. During the war, the chapter had a pretty rough time of it but has managed to keep on the bandwagon.

With many of its members having returned from overseas, last month the chapter elected officers among whom are Jack Cavanaugh, president; Bob Ferris, recording secretary; and Tom Cavanaugh, treasurer. Jack and Tom, brothers, were just discharged from the service. Babe Serpico, the Illini's retiring football captain, ties the string with his gal this month in Chicago. At the beginning of the new semester, the Delta Shelter initiated seven of its pledges. They were Don Miles, Sam Edgerton, Dick Listug, Lou Mautz, Bill Dallenbach, Marty Bleeker, and Bill Gothard.

Jim Thompson, president-elect of the new pledge class, has helped a great deal towards making the Delt pledge class the leading one on campus. Not to be outdone ever in the history of the University, the Delt pledges held a ten-day walkout last semester. Now, in the traditional Delt manner, the pledges held a picnic, rented a Greyhound bus for the occasion, and took twenty of the campus queens out for the day.

Up to the end of February, the Delts carried top billing on the activity front. Al Shirley, returned vet and former letter man, is now back to join the basketball team. Bob Bohannon, top Big Ten wrestler in his class is now defending his title. John Ernster and Ned Howe claim honors in water polo.

Last semester, the Delts kept the campus publications under constant surveillance. Sam Edgerton and Jim Thompson, freshmen, worked hard on the Daily Illini. As editor of the Tom Tom—campus humor magazine, Browning Jacobs assisted by Jim Thompson, assistant editor, held up the Delt colors here. Then, too, as associate editor of the Illinois Technograph, Browning Jacobs helped on engineering campus.

Up to now, the Fraternity is tied with the ATO's for first place in the intramural basketball tourney. Sparked by Spook Riley, Don Miles, and Bill Gothard, the Delts have managed to keep at least twenty-five points in front of all opposition. Slated to return to the University's basketball team is Andy Phillips. Andy was the "all time, all-timer" back in 1942-43 when the Illini cagers won the Big Ten Conference championship. Beta Upsilon also received third and second place honors in the intramural football and bowling tourneys respectively.

With many of its past members now returning, and, with the support of those already returned, Beta Upsilon Chapter has a very pleasant and prosperous future.

BROWNING JACOBS

Beta Phi—Ohio State

Beta Phi Chapter has returned to its normal strength this quarter due to the return of 23 actives and pledges from service. The actives who have returned are: Howard Baker, Bob Byrd, Dwight Davis, Neil Dunn, Ivar Ford, Danny Herbert, Alexander Himler, Dick Jones, Dick Johnson, Vic Lunka, Don McCafferty, Bill Mills, Hap Nolan, Don Renz, Don Schuman, Ed Snider, Jo Tatem, Bill Vickroy.

We held our winter formal February 8 at the Fort Hayes Hotel. Our spring formal will be held May 17.

Our basketball team was undefeated in our league, but was beaten in the second game of the tournament by one point.

Our scholarship record for the actives in the fall quarter was the highest on the campus, and, although the ratings haven't come out yet this quarter, we expect to come out on top again.

At the intramural festival, we came in second in the sing contest.

Our Founders Day banquet was held March 8 at the Seneca Hotel with a record attendance. The Beta Phi Chapter was represented almost 100 per cent. A dance was held afterwards.

The following boys who formerly played football for Ohio State are now back in school: Emil Mol Dey, Danny Lavelli, Don McCafferty, and Bill Vickroy. Of these, only Emil Mol Dey is eligible to play.

Beta Psi Chapter at Wabash

Lavelli has signed a contract with the Cleveland Browns; McCafferty has signed with the New York Giants; and Vickroy is ineligible because of having already played three years. Dey also throws the shot put on the track team and is expected to be one of the best in the Big Ten this spring.

JOHN F. COUNTS

Beta Chi—Brown

No more can high-pitched giggles and shrieks be heard from No. 65 Prospect Street, but, instead, one can hear the pleasing sound of Delt songs and happy shouts of brothers meeting each other after four years of war. The Delts are once again back in their old homestead since relinquishing it in July, 1943, to the women of Pembroke College. Like many other chapters, the war played havoc with our Shelter, but even those trying years could not crush the true Delt spirit ever-present at Brown.

Now, however, the brass is shined, the welcome mat is down, and 65 Prospect Street is once again rumbling and quaking from the many activities in Beta Chi Shelter. The third semester at Brown started this March with an active house of thirty-eight members, divided evenly among Navy and civilian brothers. For the first time in three years, there are more civilians than naval men here in our chapter. The score now reads as nineteen for the civilians and fourteen for the Navy, while our five pledges are divided into four civilians and one Navy man.

This June, however, the naval personnel leave Brown University, but we are hoping that our Navy brothers will once again join us and help us make those Greek letters of D.T.D. shine brighter than ever.

The chapter is definitely growing stronger now, and under the capable leadership of Tom Luby, our president, and the valuable guidance of Al Lemon, our chapter adviser, our various committees are running true to good Delt form. There are many activities planned for our active brothers, and for our alumni brothers as well. We, here on the hill, all realize what few things we had to offer during this transition period, but you can bet that any Delt will be welcomed in true fashion when he walks into our Shelter now.

So, Alumnus, let's hear from you; drop us a line and come to our smoker and open house planned for late May. You will receive a card concerning the date. Plan on meeting all of your old brothers and your new brothers as well. Do you remember the line in our opening ode, "And as closer we draw, to our hearts will return, the remembrance . . . ?"

ROBERT F. CONLEY

Beta Psi—Wabash

The chapter is going to have its annual formal dinner and dance in the Country Club, April 13. The initiation for the pledges will follow this event April 14 at the Ben Hur Building.

There will be a Pan-Hellenic dance held May 17-18. Brother John Holden is our representative on the council.

Ed LaRoche, a senior, is the vice-president of the Senior Council, business manager of the Wabash yearbook, which is being revived now, and a member of the Board of Publications, the Sphinx Club, and the "W" Men's Club.

John Holden, a senior, also, is vice-president of the senior class, a member of the Senior Council, and an active participant in social science. Holden participated in the Carnegie Foundation Undergraduate Round-table Discussion at Oshkosh Teachers College at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, last month. He was the discussion leader of the table on world peace.

Stuart is the news editor of the Bachelor, the college newspaper, which is now being restored to normal.

Wabash College has started its postwar building program. Excavation for Waugh Hall has already begun. The foundations will be laid within the next sixty days if the present rate remains constant. This building will house a biological science laboratory to replace the present South Hall. As soon as Waugh Hall excavation is finished, work will commence on the Student Union building and on the dormitory. The Student Union building will be located on the present site of Forest Hall, and the dormitory, which will accommodate 137 independent students, will be built directly west of the Student Union.

President Sparks announced that there will be a four-hour course in religion required of all men graduating from Wabash after the class of 1950. The groundwork for the course was laid in 1942 when Mr. Edgar Evans, a lifelong friend of Wabash, offered $100,000 to the Board of Trustees if they would use this money to start a Chair of Religion which would teach a required course of religion for at least four years. If, at the end of four years, this program was found to be unsatisfactory, the chair and course could be dropped and the money revert to some other college fund.

HENRY BUZZARD

Gamma Beta—Illinois Tech

Gamma Beta's reconversion to peacetime operations is going smoothly. The chapter house will be released by the Navy on July 1, and the chapter will begin preparing it for occupancy as soon as possible, planning to complete the arrangements before the Karnea. During the war the chapter maintained an apartment in the vicinity of the campus and, although handicapped by the man-power shortage and other wartime restrictions, carried on an active fraternal life. At the present time the membership stands at twenty actives.

The end of last semester saw five Deltas graduating. They were Art Strong, Herb Corten, Bob Fries, Leslie Gunner, and Harry Knowlton. All received degrees in mechanical engineering, and all except Strong were naval V-12 students and received their commissions upon graduation.

The Deltas are taking an active part in the campus activities. We have consistently produced one of the stronger teams in the Interfraternity Council's athletic tournaments. Several of the men have been elected to national honorary fraternities. Members of Pi Tau Sigma, honorary mechanical engineering fraternity, include Dave Hoffman, Fred Travis, and John Makielski. Race Wilt was elected to Salamander, fire protection engineering honorary; Grant Medin to Phi Lambda Upsilon, chemical honorary; and Fred Travis and John Makielski to Tau Beta Pi, the highest honorary engineering fraternity.

Delta Tau Delta set the pace in the recent school elections, winning nearly all the major offices. Fred Travis was elected president of the senior class; Kurt Kuhnle, junior class president; and Louis Feckner, freshman president. John Makielski was elected president of the Illinois Tech Student Association.

The chapter is welcoming back many of its members that are being released from the service and the outlook for the future is bright.

JOHN D. HANEY

Gamma Delta—West Virginia

Gamma Delta was reactivated on February 15 after three years' absence from the West Virginia campus. We opened with only a small active chapter because many of our members are still in the service. The returning actives are Bob Gibson, Oliver Burgess, Stephen Narick, Jim Nelms, Bob Perry, Miles Jorgensen, Donald Gaw, Don Mullins, Jim Frost, John Pfost, Don Lazalle, and John Abbott.

The rushing committee, headed by Don Gaw and Don Mullins, has done a splendid job, and we now have twenty-three pledges.

The entire membership of the chapter was in some branch of the service. Our new president, Oliver Burgess, served for three years as a paratrooper and is now a senior in the college of agriculture. Bob Gibson, vice-president, recently returned to school after serving for four years in the infantry. John Abbott, recording secretary, graduated from W.V.U. in 1938, received his M.B.A. from Harvard in 1942, and is now studying law. During the war, he served as an officer in the infantry. The treasurer, Bob Stamm, was a pilot in the Army Air Forces. He is a sophomore in the college of engineering.

Several actives and pledges are participating in the various sports offered here at school. Vernon Barrett is manager of the baseball team. John and George Pozega, Jack Matheson, and Harold Mullins are on the varsity football team. John Pozega is captain of the football team this year.

We are anticipating the return of most of our old members for the fall term, and, within a short time, this chapter will regain its high scholastic and social position.

JAMES C. ALDREDGE

Gamma Zeta—Wesleyan

With the start of the fall semester of 1945 came the return of a peacetime basis for the operation of our house. Evidence of excellent house spirit appeared when, in the two weeks before the first day of classes, several of the brothers sacrificed their time and effort and worked together to bring the house into top shape. Headed by Brothers John Davies and John Lydecker, both veterans, they were very successful.

Elections were held on the day before classes began. Jack Davies was chosen to head the house as president; Edward Roberts, vice-president; Vic Johnson, treasurer; William Duff, secretary; and John Lydecker as steward. Spirit was excellent throughout the entire term and the house was successful in working together, especially on repairs, as well as attaining third highest scholastic standing of all fraternities on campus. One thing that was done away with in this term was the Hell Week of pledging. We found that such a program was hardly necessary for a good chapter.

The present term started off with the return of many of the boys of prewar days. The house, as far as rooming space is concerned, is full, sleeping twenty-one men. Officers were elected as follows: Jack Skelton, president; Ed Roberts, vice-president; Vic Johnson, treasurer; Dan Rourke, secretary; and Stuart Bush, steward.

One of the high lights of this term, begun a month ago, has been an alumni smoker. All living alumni of this chapter were invited to attend for the week end, which began with a big banquet on Saturday night. At the close of the affair, John R. Lindemuth, '12, our chapter adviser, was awarded the honor of membership in the Distinguished Service Chapter. A true friend of us all, he has been extremely helpful in guiding us, and we are proud and glad to see him receive the award.

Observing the no liquor rule at the last dance week end, we put on a large tea party, contrasting with the several cocktail parties of the other houses on campus. If I do say so myself, it was a huge success and by invitation drew almost the entire faculty here instead of to the cocktail parties. We received numerous compliments about the affair.

RICHARD W. RAMETTE

Gamma Iota—Texas

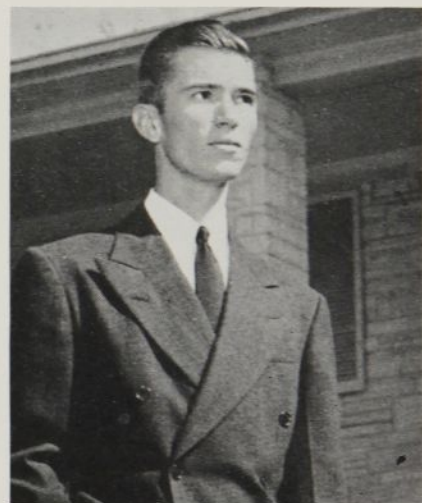

Gamma Iota's past president, Roy Munroe, was one of ten students of the University of Texas to make Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Roy is one of the most active men on the campus, being a member of the Friars, the highest honorary society to which a man can belong at the University of Texas; the Texas Cowboys; the varsity track team; Phi Eta Sigma; Pi Epsilon, honorary engineering fraternity; the Interfraternity Council; and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Austin's Jim Wharton and Corsicana's Ballard George were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma April 2, helping to keep Delta Tau Delta among the top three fraternities in scholastic standing on the campus.

The Delt formal held February 1 was again one of the best formals of the season on the campus of the University of Texas. Seventy Delts and their dates enjoyed a formal dinner in the Crystal Ballroom of the Driskill Hotel, before swinging into step with Johnny Baker's orchestra at the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. The Delts had as their guests some seventy other students as well as various members of the faculty.

On March 8 Gamma Iota held its annual Founders Day banquet, again at the Driskill Hotel. Alumni present included Dean H. T. Parlin, member of the Distinguished Service Chapter, D. T. Evans, Sr., Joe Dunlap, H. Grady Chandler, Sr., Jim Douglas, Sr., S. W. Mickey, Austin Anderson, Sr., and Coleman Gay. After short speeches by Brother Bob Sneed and Dean Parlin, awards were made to the outstanding Delts of the year. The outstanding pledge award went to conscientious, hard-working Frank Bernson. The highest scholarship plaque was awarded, for the second year in a row, to Jim Douglas, Jr., of Austin. Don Wolf was awarded the best big brother cup, for his excellent work with the pledges. Miniature gavels were awarded to past Presidents Frank Sherwood and Roy Munroe, and miniature gold paddles went to past pledge masters John Binnion, Pat Baskin, and Don Wolf.

Gamma Iota ranks second in intramural athletics, according to a bulletin published April 1. With hard work in the coming volleyball, baseball, swimming, and track seasons, she hopes to advance to first place and win the all-intramural trophy for the second year.

The Delt Class A basketball team won the fraternity championship and advanced to the finals in the all-University playoff and the Class B basketball team entered the finals in the fraternity division. Both teams were coached by Delt Vilbry White, all-state high school player last year and varsity star this year.

Big Max Werkenthin was runner-up in the intramural light-heavyweight wrestling. Other Delt entries in wrestling and boxing were Tommy Morrison, Harry Owens, Henry Dalehite, and John Evans.

Gamma Iota has been well represented on all varsity athletic squads during the past year. Flashy H. K. Allen and All-American Zuehl Conoly represent the Delt in football, and Texas' great backstroke swimmer is Pledge Dick Westkaemper. The Southwest Conference record holder in the broad jump is versatile J. J. Robertson, vice-president of Gamma Iota, and former President Roy Munroe carries the Texas colors in the low hurdles. These men combine with Vernon Mayfield, tennis player, to make Delta Tau Delta one of the best-represented fraternities on the campus in varsity athletics.

Gamma Iota is proud of the progress she has made in this first postwar semester. With a chapter of ninety men and a house overflowing, she looks to the future with great expectations.

JOHN FRY

Gamma Kappa—Missouri

After two and a half years of wartime inactivity, Gamma Kappa reopened its doors at the start of the second semester in February. Fourteen actives and three pledges, all veterans, arrived in time for the reactivation. There was a great deal of work to be done—both in reorganizing the chapter and in fixing up the house—but everyone pitched in in true Delt spirit, and the job has been started successfully. We are greatly indebted to Field Secretary John Oliver who was with us for two weeks and got us started off on the right foot.

It is difficult to give enough credit to the alumni of Gamma Kappa, particularly the members of the house corporation and our adviser, Dr. Wood, who generously donated their time and money to make the reactivation of the chapter possible. To date, Gamma Kappa alumni have donated $3,600 for the repairing and modernization of the chapter house. With such staunch alumni support, the future success of Gamma Kappa seems assured. At present, we are looking forward to the annual meeting of the alumni association.

Rushing under a carefully planned program with Jim Austin and Jack Lemons in charge, we have pledged twelve fine men, all of whom are veterans. Although rushing is handicapped at present by repairs which are being made on the house, there will be a return to full-scale rushing activity with the opening of the table early in April. Gamma Kappa has also benefited by five transfers from other chapters: President Tutt Richards, Jim Richardson, Harry McLearn, and Bud Ellis from Gamma Theta; and Jack Strunck from Gamma Lambda.

Making the fullest use of The Delt Development Program, the chapter has abolished all forms of hazing and most distinctions between actives and pledges. This system has had great success. Several of the older actives have remarked that they have never seen a pledge class with so much spirit and interest in the Fraternity.

On his return to school in February, Jim Austin jumped into the starting basketball line-up and sparked the Tigers in their last games. Both Jim and Mel Sheehan are out for spring football at present. Mel, who won second place in the discus throw at the 1943 Big Six track meet, is also working out in track. Out for baseball are Chris Fehr and Harry McLearn. Chris was the regular shortstop on the 1942 and 1943 championship teams.

The Delts are greatly handicapped in intramurals by the fact that all the other fraternities have a semester's head start; however, in ping-pong and half of the volleyball season, we have almost caught up to the next fraternity in total points. With several events remaining in intramurals, we hope to finish in the first half at the end of the year.

Gamma Kappa Chapter at Missouri

Socially the Delts are right on the ball, as usual. We are looking forward to having the house in shape soon for our first party since 1942. Mid-semester grades are just beginning to come in, and it looks as though the chapter will be well up on the scholastic list. ALFRED M. FREDERICK

Gamma Lambda—Purdue

With the advent of spring, Gamma Lambda at Purdue has become a beehive of activity. Chapter elections for 1946 were held April 1. There was a complete turnover of positions, and now every office is occupied by a new man. This was definitely not an April Fool's joke, for every officer is equally competent with those of last term, and the outlook for the coming year is very promising. Our new prexy is Jack Wilhelm, who has been house manager for the last few semesters and who is a member of several campus honorary organizations. Replacing senior Lloyd Knight as vice-president is Ken Grant, who has just returned to Purdue from serving overseas in the ETO. Bob Perry has taken over Wilhelm's position as house manager, and Don Frankenberry has replaced Treasurer Willie Wainwright, who was inducted into Uncle Sammy's infantry a week before elections.

Interfraternity sports are consuming a lot of extracurricular time these days. The Delt volleyball team was really in there plugging up to the finals with a record of eight straight games and no defeats. Somehow, we just didn't click in the final game, but we expect to console this minor misfortune by taking the fraternity softball crown within the next few weeks. The Delts walked away with this championship last summer and now the other Greek-letter boys are out to see that we don't do it again; but we still have most of our team intact, along with a few additions, and our chances look exceedingly good.

The Delt spring formal is always a big attraction on the Purdue campus, and this semester's dance is no exception. Preparations are well under way, and this spring we've really come up with a novel theme which will be quite a surprise to the rest of the campus.

Now that we've got a lot of our prewar brothers back and our house is filled to capacity, Gamma Lambda is swinging back to its usual peacetime prominence at Purdue. JON RUHLMAN

Gamma Mu—Washington

It's back to normal for Gamma Mu Chapter this spring, and the postwar word is full speed ahead. With reinforcements of returning veteran actives and new members, both recent high school graduates and new vet pledges, we are on our way toward fast recovery to our prewar status on the University of Washington campus.

The small group of fifteen men who ably held the house together during the shaky war years is a far cry from the fifty-five members of today. Mike Gragg, directing operations from the president's chair, and Jim Briggs, vice-president, are competently rallying their social, rushing, activities, and other committees into action. Pat Kilner now writes the chapter records, Bob Anderson handles the chapter correspondence, and Jim Picha is in charge of balancing the finances.

Many of the men are active on the campus this spring; Steve Dunthorne is on the Associated Men's Council and is secretary of the interfraternity council. Mike Gragg is the University Concert Committee chairman, and Dick McNamara and Verle Duckering are working on the University yearbook, The Tyee. In the sports field, we have five men turning out for crew, Pat Kilner, Miles Rogers, Wes Carter, Pitt White, and George Monroe, with John Biggin crew manager. Herb Fritz is on the University golf team and Verle Duckering and Steve Dunthorne are turning out for tennis.

This spring's social functions fill the calendar to the brim when considering the University and Shelter functions must interlace. The season's biggest date will be the spring formal, June 1. Other functions are an informal house dance, three dinner exchanges with sororities, and the remainder of the week ends will be divided between bridge parties and firesides.

The alumni have been very active, meeting once every month, alternating between bimonthly luncheons and get-togethers at the Shelter with the active chapter to talk over current problems and activities. The alums are planning a spring picnic and a dinner-bingo game this April, which is expected to be a great hit with all concerned.

The wives and mothers' association, meeting once a month at the Shelter, has procured funds through the means of a house-sponsored book review and a raffle. The money has bought two new tea tables and a two-piece lounging davenport, which add much to the appearance of the house.

A remodeling program is being planned which, with the aid of the Rainbow Society, will enable us to rebuild the second and third floors and add a new wing to the house for the accommodation of many new members and actives expected in the future.

WILLIAM B. SILL

Gamma Nu—Maine

When classes were resumed at the University of Maine for the spring semester in February, the roll call brought forth ten active Delts and five pledges. After a happy informal reunion was held, and the handshaking was over, we settled down to more serious business by electing an informal slate of officers. Dick Bloom, class of '47, was elected president; Clem Vose, class of '47, was elected vice-president; Cal Conant, class of '46, was elected treasurer; and Norm Mosher, class of '43, and now doing graduate work at Maine, was re-elected to his old position of secretary. "Prexy" Dick Bloom served with the Army Air Forces and flew 15 combat missions with the Eighth Air Force. He held the rank of first lieutenant and was a lead navigator on a B-24 Liberator bomber.

Clem Vose saw action as an infantry platoon sergeant with the famous First Division in France and Germany. He was wounded in the battle of the Hurtgen Forest during the winter of 1944-45.

Cal Conant served in England, France, Belgium, and Germany with a medical unit attached to the Ninth Army. At present he is in his last semester at Maine, majoring in business administration.

Norm Mosher saw duty with the famed Twenty-sixth "Yankee" Division in France, Austria, and Germany. He is back at Maine for graduate work.

Other active members who have "hit the books" once again are Bob Brokaw, '48, who served as an infantryman with the Ninety-ninth Division in Northern France, Belgium, and Germany; Bob Foye, '46, who served in the Eighth Air Force in England, and was later captured by the Germans after being shot down on a strategic mission to the Reichland; George Walsh, '48, who was with the amphibious forces; Stan Murray, '48, who served at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, on the atomic bomb project for fourteen months; Joe Albert, '42, who served with the United States Army in the Southwest Pacific, is now back taking a refresher course at Maine; and Joe Wedge, '47, served as a public relations writer with the Fifteenth Air Force in Italy.

Presently, the Delts are scattered throughout the various men's dormitories here at Maine, as the University has not resumed fraternity life. Freshman co-eds are occupying our chapter house on the wartime dormitory plan; but, with the opening of classes in the fall, we will return to the fraternity system once again and resume living in our Delt Shelter.

Frequent meetings are being held, and plans are being formulated for a formal initiation of pledges before the semester ends in June.

We are also working hard at our plans for next fall. As we gaze into the crystal ball, the future looks bright for Gamma Nu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta at the University of Maine. JOE WEDGE

Gamma Xi—Cincinnati

With more and more veterans returning to the University and to the Shelter, the chapter here in Cincinnati is once again building up in membership, prestige, and popularity on campus. The men have returned with varied and extensive plans for the future of the chapter and are all anxious to put these plans into effect as soon as possible.

Elections were held this month, and our worthy prexy, Fred Ebeling, was re-elected on the basis of his fine work this past year. Jim Utrecht took over the job of vice-president and pledge trainer of our class of twenty pledges. Forrest Respass was re-elected secretary, and Bob Weber as treasurer.

A number of our men hold important positions on campus. Fred Ebeling is president of both interfraternity council and engineering tribunal, while Gordon Hughmark holds posts on student council and social board, as well as being managing editor of The Cincinnati, the school yearbook. Ken Guise did his bit as captain of the basketball team and as junior class president.

The race for the all-year intramural trophy this year has resolved into a close fight for top honors, and, by winning the track meet, the Delts pushed to the fore by a narrow margin; however, with many spring sports coming up, it promises to be an exciting race down to the very finish, with the Delt spirit playing no small part in deciding the outcome.

The social program is set up for the rest of the school year, with our spring formal in May being the most-anticipated affair of the season. The active-alumni bowling party is scheduled for April, and we all welcome the chance to get together with the "old men," who usually show us a few of the finer points of the sport.

RAYMOND E. WUERTH

Gamma Rho—Oregon

Gamma Rho Chapter was reactivated January 8 with the return of seven actives to the campus. For spring term three more actives were counted, and, with this nucleus, we immediately set to work rebuilding the Fraternity.

Pledging for winter term was limited to ten men by the interfraternity council. The quota of members and pledges for the spring term was limited to 120 per cent of the capacity of the house. We pledged nine men the first term and two more since then. Rushing is now going on in full force.

We are getting ready to enter intramural sports this term for the first time since 1943. Several members and initiates hold positions on The Emerald, the student daily newspaper, and we are well represented on the varsity baseball, golf, and track teams.

Next fall term should see a large influx of actives returning from service, and we are confident that Delta Tau Delta will again resume its rightful place on the campus.

T. RICHARD KEEFE

Gamma Tau—Kansas

As in most Delt chapters, Gamma Tau of Kansas University, started out the current year with an active chapter of twenty-eight men, most of whom were carry-overs from the wartime year of 1945.

This semester, many of the men recently discharged from the service have bolstered the chapter roll to a total of seventy-three men of which forty-nine are living in the house.

Ward Benkelman, Don Boardman, Joe Brooke, Charles Elder, Harold Vanslyck, Glee Smith, Hoyt Baker, Jack Brownell, Harold Goss, and Bud Herriman are a few of the old-timers who have returned thus far.

Ward Benkelman came back to Gamma Tau after serving in the Army Air Forces as a major in charge of a squadron in the European theater. The biggest man to return is Joe Brooke, who was a member of the class of '41 and was last at K. U. in 1938. Joe weighs in now at 290 and has ambition toward the football squad. Another football aspirant is Hoyt Baker who played with the Kansas squad in 1942 as the varsity quarterback. He is now sweating out the spring practice coached by the new head football coach, George Sauer, former All-American and Delt from Nebraska.

Most of the pledge class of twenty men are veterans and the bull sessions around the house are composed of wartime experiences. The pledge trainer is Buck Neal, affiliate from Gamma Chi of Kansas State, a P-47 pilot in ETO. A rush week end is planned for April 12 and 13.

The house will be maintained this summer for those who plan to attend summer school. Any alumni who plan to be in Lawrence any time of the year will find the house open. Homecoming was attended by numerous Delts, many of them with new wives.

Officers were elected February 1 for the coming year. Dave Stimson was elected president; Ralph Hedges, vice-president; Bob Lee, recording secretary; and Bob Bonebrake, affiliate from Gamma Theta at Baker University, corresponding secretary. A full house is expected for the coming year.

D. R. BONEBRAKE

Gamma Upsilon—Miami

The opening of the second semester here at Miami found the Delts of Gamma Upsilon Chapter again in the Shelter after an absence of three and a half years. The first several days were spent putting the house in order. We were very fortunate in again having Mrs. O. N. Young as our housemother. "Mom," who was with us for four years before closing the house, is well known by alumni near and far as well as the present chapter, and, with her presence, it seems the Shelter was never closed. Nine men, all of whom were associated with the chapter before and are now veterans, have returned to school this semester and live in the house. In all, there are thirty-one actives and fourteen pledges now associated with the chapter. Seven of this number are men attached to the NROTC unit stationed on the campus.

PRESIDENT CLYDE SNODGRASS and
MOM YOUNG

Intramural basketball found the chapter team runner-up in the championship play-offs. Now everyone is looking forward to the opening of the spring softball round when an attempt will be made to regain the championship once more. The team from this chapter held that distinction for two straight years before the war.

The initiation of six men was held several weeks ago. This was again the first held in the Shelter since 1943. The rushing program has started with newly elected Tom James hard at work. The first social affair of distinction was held near Valentine's Day; a dance with decorations and refreshments in accord with the occasion was enjoyed by the men and their respective dates. Plans for the traditional spring formal are already being made. This annual affair was also done away with during the war. A Delt Homecoming for alumni of this chapter is being planned for spring, also.

Since the reopening of the Shelter, several of the prewar alumni were welcomed back at various times. Chick Olin and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sander, and Jack Mier are but a few of those who have called. We hope to see many more in the future.

The spirit here at the Shelter is assuming the strength of the prewar chapter, and, with the veterans returning, we know the chapter will again reach the heights attained in former years.

Gamma Chi—Kansas State

Delts at Gamma Chi have done a remarkable job of getting on their feet after several years of negligible activity, because of the war. They began the year with only eleven actives (most of them returned veterans) and no pledges. By the end of the first semester they had increased their membership to fifteen actives and twenty-one pledges.

This membership deficiency, together with the fact that they were not living in the Delt Shelter, did not prevent them from forging to the front in fraternity activities. They quickly annexed the intramural touch-football crown. In the ping-pong singles tournament Bill Buser reached the finals and Jim Davis was eliminated in the semifinals. Buser and Davis teamed together in the doubles tournament and again battled their way into the finals before they were defeated. The all-school volleyball championship was also won by the Delts. At the time of this writing K-State Delts stand far in the lead in the race for the intramural cup which is awarded the group making the best showing in all intramural activities. Only softball and tennis remain to be played.

As is usually the case, a good percentage of Delts were represented in other school activities. Duane Patterson and Karl Kramer were star backs on K-State's varsity football team. Kramer was also a regular guard on the varsity basketball quintet. Jim Davis serves as president of the interfraternity council. Wendell Bell is a representative on the student governing association. Leonard Banowetz is president of the Wampus Cats, a men's pep organization. The latest DTD recognition comes through the efforts of Bill Buser and Earl Perkins who won the all-school bridge tourney and will defend the intercollegiate bridge trophy at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in New York City in April. Their expenses will be paid by the National Intercollegiate Bridge Committee.

Annual social affairs have been resumed—the spring formal being a most colorful affair. The Delt Barbeque has always attracted large numbers of alumni, and this year it promises to be the usual gala affair. It is hoped that the chapter will be privileged to entertain alums in the traditional manner.

Much of the credit for reactivating Gamma Chi goes to Bill Buser, hard-working chapter president for the present term. Karl Kramer has been elected to succeed Buser, and the chapter is pointing toward an equally successful coming year.

Gamma Psi—Georgia Tech

With the returning veterans and pledges, Gamma Psi has regained her old strength. Among the returning vets are: Bud Cloud, Don Gray, Bill Buran, Allen Johnston, Claude Cope, Jimmy Hunter, James McNeill and E. K. Ervin.

Redecorating the interior of the house has been completed with the exception of new furniture, which we hope will arrive soon. Work on the grounds has begun and is scheduled to be finished in the near future.

A number of changes were afforded by the recent elections. The newly elected men are: George Raikie, president; Julian Fiske, vice-president; Henry Bradford, recording secretary; and Clifford Christian, corresponding secretary.

A successful rush week culminated in the pledging of sixteen men.

Standing third in scholarship on the campus, and lacking only .001 points for second place, we hope to be first this semester.

The social functions have been extremely enjoyable ones. They include a house dance, swimming party, dinners, moving pictures, "wiener" roasts, and house parties. With Don Gray as social chairman, we are expecting many attractive and varied functions.

Formal initiation was held March 31 when seven men were made Delts for life. The men initiated were: Jim McNeill, Mac

Crawford, Bill Stevens, Claude Cope, Gus Gardner, Don Braidwood, and Bill Greene.

On February 22, the Shelter mourned its loss of graduating seniors. Those to whom we bid a sad farewell were: Stan Simpson, Ned Richardson, Johnny Bozek, Ray Harris, Charlie Fears, Walt Anderson, Earl Fowler, and Ken Shaw. Our best wishes go with them.

We were visited by the Arch Chapter's traveling secretary, Gordon Jones, recently. We received some helpful advice from him and hope to see him again.

The annual Artist's Ball, given by Gamma Psi, is planned for May 10. Because of the war, it had been cancelled for the past two years; but with our enlarged ranks, it should be the best Ball ever.

CLIFFORD L. CHRISTIAN

Delta Alpha—Oklahoma

Although the Shelter is still occupied by forty co-eds, Delta Alpha is again active after an enforced vacation of two and a half years. Joe Enos heads a slate of new officers predominantly veterans of the various services. Reactivation was completed with the pledging of seventeen promising men. This number plus fourteen active members provides a nucleus around which we are going to build the membership to its prewar number and standard.

Forward-looking plans for the needed redecoration of the Shelter have been made by the treasurer, Paul Opp. About twenty-five men plan to live in the house this summer if they can keep ahead of the carpenters and painters. George McDonold is contributing his best to the member-short chapter by handling the always important state rush campaign and assisting Joe as vice-president.

As this note is mailed, exacting Joe Myers, our song leader, is conducting final practices for the University sing to be held April 7. The chapter has an excellent chance of taking the winner's cup to add to the six others acquired from seven previous contests.

April 13 will find all the fellows and the war have been married or soon plan to take the final step that there will be more Delts on the campus next year than any time in the history of the chapter. Frank Dobyns, Frank Fonvielle, Shelby Green, and Lewis Fisher are already back with their wives. Shelby has further complicated the situation with a new pledge who won't be ready for several years.

Already the chapter is planning to send a large delegation to Chicago late this summer. We expect to see a lot of fellows who have been long absent from the college scene. Until then, here's to a wonderful vacation and a successful rush.

FRANK L. DOBYNS

Delta Beta—Carnegie Tech

The Shelter at Carnegie Institute of Technology is experiencing little of the growing pains which are now prevalent in the postwar fraternity world. Strong throughout the war, Delta Beta has been recently reinforced by the return of Brothers George Jackson, Hal Frederick, Dick Lindgren, Bob Smith, Dave Culp, and Tom Farrahy from the armed forces. Many more of the older brothers are expected in the fall, and these, coupled with the ever-strong pledge classes, pose a real housing threat.

The Delts here at Tech have been fortunate in the past few years in maintaining the Shelter at a prewar level, even while selective service was making its dent in the C. I. T. ranks. The Shelter has remained open throughout the war supported only by its active membership, with the result that, at the war's end, Delta Tau Delta ran far in the lead in the fraternity race on the Carnegie Tech campus.

At the present time Delts are strongly engaged in C. I. T. activities—athletic, scholastic, and social. Three brothers—Ralph Kindblom, Ed McMullan, and Ken King—have just received their letters for varsity soccer, while the razzle-dazzle boys, Carnegie Tech's cheer leaders (male), are made up almost entirely of Delts.

One of the big events of the year is the Tech pushmobile race which is run in May during the school's spring carnival. With Art Slagle directing the building operations, our entry is almost finished and it looks like a champion.

The Greek Sing and Swing, which will also be held in May, will feature a Delt ensemble rendering "Chloe" and "Daddy Get Your Baby Out of Jail." If they keep this up the Mills Bros. are on the way out.

Our future objective is clear—to maintain and reinforce our present high position on Carnegie Tech's campus. Under the guidance of Hal Frederick, the newly elected president, and with the assistance of other experienced Delts in executive roles, the chapter is at present experiencing a fervor and spirit not seen even during the triumphant war years.

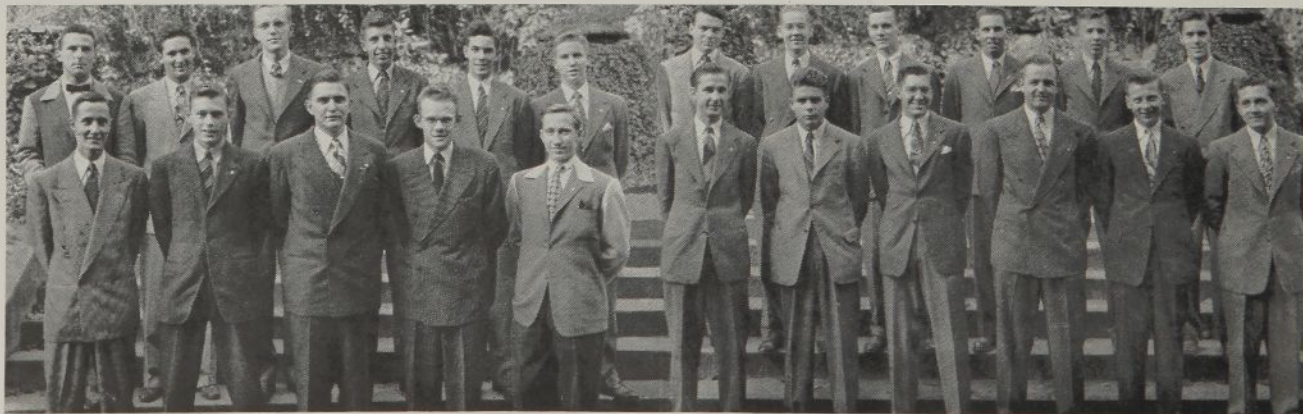

HARRY HAMILTON

With the return of several veteran actives, and with the pledging of eighteen good men, Delta Gamma started the year in typical Delt style. At one time there were only two men representing Delta Tau Delta on the U. S. D. campus, but now there is an almost prewar strength of forty. Considering the adverse conditions under which we started, we have good reason to be proud of our accomplishments.

Undoubtedly, the most important occasion of the year is the chapter Founders Day, at which time Delts from the surrounding territory meet at Delta Gamma. Because of our achievements in re-establishing the Chapter, we feel that this year's banquet is taking a greater significance, and will, for that reason, be well attended. The date has been set for April 14.

In the way of other social activities, Delta Tau Delta has provided the campus with some of the most outstanding parties of the year. Foremost have been our Winter Formal and house parties on at least one Friday night each month. Plans are now under way for the spring semi-formal, which has been tentatively set for May 11.

Due to the small size of the fraternities on the campus, interfraternity athletics did not get started until the second semester. Thus far competition has been offered only in basketball, with the Deltas placing third on a list of nine teams. With the advent of spring, baseball practice has been started, and judging by the way things are going, Delta Gamma can be assured of a strong team.

So far this year we have pledged nineteen men, twelve of whom have recently been discharged from the services. Delta Gamma is taking full advantage of the large number of students present, to pick only the best men, and for that reason we may expect, in the future, one of the best chapters in our history. LEE GILBERT

Delta Delta—Tennessee

It would appear that normalcy is perceptibly returning, if, indeed, it has not already returned, to Delta Delta. Enough of the prewar vintage of Deltas are back at the University that it might be said we are the same old chapter; nor yet has the influx of new men been allowed to wane. In fact, we have reached a strength in numbers on a par with the average size of the chapter in the years before the war. To the specter of extermination, we have uttered the classical call, "Ave Atque Valet!"

In a review of the chapter history for the past quarter, one finds that sports have figured prominently. By winning eight games and losing one, then defeating our former conqueror twice consecutively on subsequent occasions, Delta Delta acceded to the interfraternity basketball championship at the University of Tennessee. At the end of the competition a fraternity all-star team was chosen from among the contestants, and Delta Tau Delta furnished two men, Sam Snyder and William Maiden, this being Maiden's second year among the all-stars. The high scorer of all players of all fraternities in the recent tournaments was Louis Mankus, one of our new initiates. Dale Powell, Charles Clickner, Jack Thompson, Marshall Hawkins, and Garland O'Shields, all Delta Delta Deltas, figured with great success on the University's basketball team.

Delta Delta entered into a rather extended program of society for the winter season. Under the leadership of Hildreth McAshan, social chairman, a series of luncheons were given entertaining the officers and pledge officers of the several sororities on the Hill. Two sororities a week were so honored until the circuit had been covered. This was climaxed by a formal buffet supper-dance for our sisters, the Tri Deltas.

The highlight of the winter season, however, came at the close of the quarter. Miss Eleanor Waters, one of the most charming belles of both the Mississippi Delta and Delta Tau Delta, was given in marriage to our new prexy, Tandy Wilson.

At the annual election of officers, besides Wilson's being chosen president, Garland O'Shields was elected vice-president; Bertram Mayes, corresponding secretary; Richard Maerker, recording secretary; and Glenn Copeland, treasurer. Copeland's assistant is Don Pope. As Mayes did not matriculate for the spring quarter, Mack Scott was appointed corresponding secretary to fill the unexpired term.

All in all, we are looking forward to a most prosperous and far-reaching future. And, incidentally, as we have entertained a number of visiting Deltas here in Knoxville, let us reaffirm our welcome to all brothers who may pass through.

MACK H. SCOTT, III

Delta Epsilon—Kentucky

Gamma Xi Chapter, which had assisted more than twenty years ago in the installation of Delta Epsilon at the University of Kentucky, also lent a helping hand in the rebirth of Delta Epsilon.

The Kentucky Chapter, reactivated during the winter after several of its former servicemen returned to the campus, had a group of pledges who became eligible for initiation during the winter quarter. There was no suitable place to hold an initiation, however, the Shelter still being under lease to a sorority, and furthermore, the chapter still lacked a sufficient number of actives for proper presentation of the ceremonies.

Gamma Xi, preparing for an initiation about the same time, kindly invited the Delta Epsilon group to join it for the occasion. The actives and pledges from Kentucky journeyed to Cincinnati, Delta Epsilon's six candidates were initiated by Gamma Xi's team and were equally honored and given recognition along with Gamma Xi's own initiates at a banquet following the ceremonies.

The six who became the newest members of Delta Epsilon were Freddie Kaestner of Louisville, Maxwell (Buddy) Barret of Frankfort, Earl Pugh of Vanceburg, Don Combs of Hazard, Jack Montgomery of Ashland, and Don Mitchell of Harlan.

Delta Zeta—Florida

Delta Zeta Chapter has grown into pre-war size and importance this year, having twenty-two actives and thirty pledges, largest membership in the history of this chapter. One factor in our development has been the opening of the dining room, serving two meals daily. All rooms at the house are full so that one of our plans for the future is the addition of a wing to the house.

The new officers for the year are: James L. Wattenbarger, president; Daniel H. Ruhl, vice-president; John R. Boling, Jr., secretary; S. Kienast Smith treasurer; and J. Thurman Hively, Jr., corresponding secretary. John H. Phillips as the steward of the dining room is doing a very fine job.

Our chapter has been well represented in athletics, both varsity and intramural. Conrad Delgado was a letterman on the basketball team this year and also coached our intramural squad. Milt Knellinger, varsity shortstop; Bill Cromartie, relief pitcher; Chuck Powell, outfield; and Joe Sincore, infield, are our representatives on the baseball team. Jim Pigott, who just entered school, will be a luminary on next year's varsity football team.

The intramural teams have done well this year. Our basketball team came into the finals with flying colors but because of injuries sustained earlier in the season by two of our stalwarts, Ed McLean and Gibby Henderson, we only finished third. Other members of the bucket squad we were proud of were: Claude Appenzellar, Hugh Reynolds, Floyd Hull, Bill Walker, and Joe Sincore.

Delta Zeta has been active socially giving parties and breakfasts during the festive week ends at the University. March 20, we had our annual Founders Day Banquet. Honored guests were J. Colin English, BE, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and N. Ray Carroll, Z, State Senator. Many prominent alumni and their wives were present. Honored also were the new initiates of the chapter.

In the near future Delta Zeta is going to become even more prominent than she has been. We are hoping to keep in closer contact with our alumni and look forward to seeing more of them. Next year's plans include a larger membership, more athletics, and a greater fulfillment of the ideals of Delta Tau Delta.

J. THURMAN HIVELY, JR.

Delta Iota—U. C. L. A.

Delta Iota has just started its second semester back in the Shelter. With this start it also found fourteen men returning, from classes as far back as 1938, under the GI Bill. No need to say the house isn't strong—with the aforementioned fourteen, twelve from last semester, twelve new initiates, and a current pledge class of seventeen. To have the return of so many brothers is certainly one way to revive the prewar spirit. We also owe much to them for a successful rush season.

We recently had our annual elections with the following results: Ed Radlauer, president, an ex-army officer; Lee Jensen, vice-president, a new initiate and ex-marine fighter pilot; Art Sikking, treasurer, from the Navy; Ed Wardrip, recording secretary, ex-army fighter pilot.

Since the services have released so many pilots, Tom Neely, Delta Iota and Beta Omega, '42, has conceived the idea of having a Delt Squadron to fly Navy craft in an active reserve capacity. Seems like a good idea.

The chapter has had many successful social functions and at present is looking forward to two prewar functions which were notable on the campus. Those are, the Delt-DecGee Ball and the annual 4-way—Delt, Phi Delt, Zeta and Deke formals.

Our house corporation has plans to redo the house this summer and at the present the Mother's Club, under the able leadership of Mrs. Clarence A. Roesch (Mother of U. C. L. A.'s famous footballer, Johnny Roesch) is out to redecorate right now. The Mother's Club was the only semblance of Delt activity for most of the period of the war. They remained active, doing war work at the different meeting houses, sending their boys presents and keeping the Delt name in the papers. To them we owe much.

If anyone passes through Los Angeles be sure and stop by the Shelter. We are open again. You will find the housing shortage very bad but we may be able to spare a bed for the night.

BOB WINEGARDNER

Delta Kappa—Duke

The Delta Kappa Chapter here at Duke University, for the last two years, has been composed mainly of Navy students, but with the return of many ex-servicemen we are being gradually reconverted to a peacetime basis.

Looking back over this period of time we are quite proud of the chapter. A year ago we won the intramural championship in basketball, and this year we were defeated in the finals of our division. In softball, the chapter again has proved its worth, for we were again taken out in the finals for the championship.

While wartime restrictions hampered us greatly, our social functions were held up to standard though perhaps fewer in number. Fraternity dances, cabin parties, and banquets made up our social calendar. Now that the war has ended we are making up for the functions we were unable to have during the war with a full social calendar, the high light of which is the Delta Queen dance which will be held April 27. At the dance the members will choose their queen for this term.

The officers of the chapter are still members of the Naval Unit typified by our president, William Condon, who has six years' service behind him.

Although chapter houses are not allowed for fraternities at Duke each is given a dormitory to occupy which is called a section. In September we will return to our section. At that time the chapter will be composed entirely of civilians and complete reconversion will be accomplished.

At present the chapter is composed of thirty-five members and eight pledges. Rushing is now in full swing and we hope to build up this number considerable to keep Delta Kappa the top fraternity on the Duke campus.

WALTER T. SCOTT

Delta Lambda—Oregon State

*The flag waves over the Shelter once more
And the paddles hang in the den;
We have the Alumni welcome mat out,
Delta Lambda is active again.*

During winter term, just ended, Delta Lambda was reactivated and is once more a going concern on the O. S. C. campus. Although handicapped by the presence of only twelve members back, we set to work immediately with our own reconversion job. Fortunately, our work was not too difficult because of the work Frank Henry, who is now resident adviser and special field representative of the Fraternity in the Northwest, had done as manager during the war, when the Shelter was being run as a boarding house. Frank saw to it that the house was run in true Delt fashion; and the group of men living in the house were, as a whole, of high caliber, and are now the nucleus of our pledge class, which now numbers fifteen men.

The eight active members back this past term were Omer Taylor, Phil Coyner, Dick MacDonald, Dick Kuhn, Arny Roehlk, Fred Zwahlen, Phil Peoples, and Tom McClintock. Back, also, but not living in the house were Bob Beckwith, Steve Reed, Chelsea Browne, and Ed Berlin. Stan Swan and Wes Coyner plan on being back next term.

With the beginning of Spring Term, we have high hopes of bringing Delta Lambda back up to her traditional prominence, and are very confident, with the continual return of old members and the initiation of our present pledges, of doing so. Matt Mathes has already been of great help with his advice from the many years of association with Delta Lambda, and although she is no longer physically able to cook full-time, J.J. comes over once a week to cook, and has certainly lost none of her touch. THOMAS C. MCCLINTOCK

Delta Mu—Idaho

Delta Mu opened the second semester with a boom, having a full house—on the scale of prewar days. Twenty-three veterans, all former members and pledges, returned at the mid-year to resume their education.

President this year is Bob Gardner; house manager and treasurer, John Feldhusen; corresponding secretary, Russ Viehweg; social chairman, Bob Dahlstrom; scholarship chairman, Jack Berry.

House officers have been elected for next year: Bill Kennedy, president; Roland Tipsword, vice-president; Jack Berry, house manager and treasurer, and Paul Thome, corresponding secretary.

Delta Mu has been active in campus affairs and has shown a great deal of spirit in every venture undertaken by the house. The pledge dance, semi-formal affair, with "nite and day" as the theme, went off in a big way. Black and white clocks with the name of a pledge on each, adorned the walls. Each dance was dedicated to one or two of the pledges. Radio station KUOI furnished the music for the dance.

Bob Dahlstrom, social chairman, has plans under way for the annual Russian Ball to be held in May. It is being resumed for the first time since 1942. The Russian Ball has been the one big house event of the year and has always been a howling success. Tradition will be met and possibly surpassed this year.

Seventeen members and twenty pledges at present make up Delta Mu. In the unique department is Bill Campbell—only veteran in the house who served in both the European and Pacific theaters, only senior in the house, and only senior in the University of Idaho enrolled in Chemical Engineering. RUSS VIEHWEG

Delta Nu—Lawrence

With the return of several of the old gang this semester we are now almost back to prewar level again with twenty-three actives and fourteen pledges. Among those who returned are Wally Chilsen, Gordon Butke, John Wadd, John Dyer, Bruz Moeller, George Vander Weyden and Olie Mead. As yet, we haven't had a week this semester that at least one alum has not dropped in, and the Interfraternity Ball on March 23 brought quite a few more back to the campus.

For the first time since 1943 the men are enjoying a spring vacation and, as usual, most of us needed one. Everybody has been working hard at raising the chapter grade-point average. At the same time we haven't passed sports up either. The mile relay team took second in the Chicago Relays and we are quite proud of the three Delts on that team. Golf and tennis are claiming their share of Delts, too.

"Lawrence in the Spring" brings back the picnic season and rumor has it that the Sturgeon Bay Outing will again be held after a four-year lapse. A reunion of all the alums from the class of '40 on is being planned for next fall. More info for you alums on that later.

See you at the Karnea. OLIE MEAD

Delta Omicron—Westminster

Delta Omicron opened its spring semester by pledging ten of the best men on the campus. Taking only one man, the armed services did not hit the chapter as hard as in the past few years. Returning from the armed forces were Reynolds Hamlin, Dwane Icenogle, William Brantley, Gilbert Thomas, and Wallace Odell. Our membership is nearly back to normal with twenty-one actives and ten pledges.

The house is also nearly back to normal peacetime standards. Released to the Navy during the war, it was returned to the chapter at the beginning of the fall semester. Much work had to be done before it was in the condition it was before the Navy took over. Having only a few members, no attempt was made at that time toward serving meals in the house; however, we obtained a housemother before the end of last semester and started the new semester eating our meals in the house.

The chapter is well represented in the Skulls of Seven, Westminster's honorary senior fraternity. Bob Roddy is Grand Marshall and Bennett Strong and Baxter Watson are members. Bob Roddy is also president of the student body. Our representatives on the Pan-Hell Council are Bennett Strong and the chapter president, Harold James. Crawford King is chairman of the intramural activities on the campus.

Delta Omicron's scholastic averages last semester were exceptionally high with approximately 50 per cent making the honor roll or honorable mention. We had two men on the honor roll and six on honorable mention.

Intramural activities, canceled during the war, did not start again until this semester. The Delts were second in basketball and expect to win in track, bowling, tennis, and golf, which will begin within the next few weeks.

A big event for the campus and chapter was the address delivered on March 5 by Winston Churchill, after an introduction by President Truman. Shortly after the address, the chapter was honored by the visit of Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers. We were also pleased to have many alumni visit us that day. Although this day gave many old members an opportunity for visiting, we plan to have a homecoming after all the old members are out of the armed forces and everyone can attend.

Much emphasis is being placed on a spring formal dance because it will be our first one since the Navy released the house. In addition, plans are being made for several hayrides during April.

FIFTY-EIGHTH KARNEA

August 31 to September 2

Chapter reunions will feature this eighth Karnea to be held in the Windy City. Names of chairmen will be announced later. Plan to attend.

Entertainment is planned for Delt Dames.

Chicago Founders Day Luncheon

Akron

The last regular meeting of the Akron Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta was held on April 26, 1944. Immediately after that two of the regular officers donned Uncle Sam's uniforms, along with several other brothers in the chapter, and with the press of extra work on all brothers our chapter put the books into mothballs temporarily.

Last night we reopened for business with twenty-three of the boys gathered together for a dinner and general get-acquainted party. We believe that our chapter will be larger and more active than ever before because we have had our roster augmented by quite a few more recent graduates.

Bro. Bill McIlwain (Chi), who was the president before he went into the Navy, was re-elected to finish out the year. Bro. Bob Stophar, another returned GI, was elected Vice-President. Bill is Personnel Director for the Quaker Oats Co. and Bob, who is an alumnus of Beta Psi, is on the editorial staff of the Beacon Journal. Yours truly was elected Secretary-Treasurer, is a Beta Chapter alumnus, and Director of Education and Recreation for the Goodyear-Akron Plants and Subsidiaries.

After the dinner and business session, Bros. McIlwain and Stophar gave some very interesting accounts of experiences while in the service. BID EDMUND

Boston

The Boston Alumni Chapter is still meeting every Thursday noon for luncheon at Patten's restaurant in Boston in the second-floor dining room. Attendance has increased and they now reserve a larger table for us.

Plans have not yet been completed for our annual evening meeting, but we hope to announce the affair soon. With more and more of our Boston Deltas being released from military service, it won't be long before we will be holding our evening meetings each month with a turnout of fifty or sixty of the faithful.

DUNC NEWELL

Chicago

Hubba! Hubba! Hubba! Seems that that old dead line was three or four days ago—and me with two swell pictures from the Founders Day Luncheon for you fellows to look at. One is a candid shot of Brother Harvey V. "Doc" Higley, Beta Gamma, '06, congratulating Brother Alfred T. "Alf" Rogers, Beta Gamma, '92, following his citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter; the other is a group picture of some 150 well-fed Deltas sitting around the banquet boards at the Palmer House on March 2 waiting for "Doc" Higley and "France" Patton to get going on their speeches of the day. It was one grand party.

Chairman Karl Digel, Psi, and his committee deserve to be commended for their excellent arrangements and fine program. President Blake Hooper, Gamma Beta, presided long enough at the speakers' table to introduce the distinguished guests: National President and member of the Distinguished Service Chapter Francis F. Patton, Gamma Alpha; National Executive Vice-President Hugh Shields, Beta Alpha; Brothers of the Distinguished Service Chapter Charles F. Axelson, Gamma Alpha; William L. McKay, Beta Tau; Roy O. West, Beta Beta; (absent in person but present in spirit—Albert R. Bruner, Omega; Carl F. Kuehnle, Omicron; and George A. Paddock, Beta Iota); citee of the day, Brother Alfred T. Rogers, Beta Gamma; citator of the day, Brother Harvey V. Higley, Beta Gamma; Brother James Vynalek, President of Beta Pi; Brother John D. Haney, President of Gamma Beta; the retiring officers of the Chicago Alumni Association, Brother H. C. Bever, Beta Psi, treasurer; Brother Merrill M. Dwinell, Beta Pi, secretary; and Brother Karl Digel, this time as chairman of the nominating committee. Brother Digel brought forth that fatal piece of paper from which he read off the nomination of ex-Commander Orville C. Dewey, Gamma Eta, for president; Jack L. West, Beta Beta, for treasurer; and J. Joe Biery, Gamma Upsilon, for secretary. Brother Hooper took over at this point with an election, Chicago style, and Brother Dewey, the new president, found himself holding the gavel in faster time than he could recall one of those good Navy stories.

But don't think the new president was unprepared. National President "France" Patton was sitting at his side all ready to tell us about the program and plans of the Arch Chapter to assist in the revitalizing of the active chapters throughout the country. The 1946 Karnea, scheduled for Chicago over next Labor Day week end, is an integral part of this over-all picture. The strength of our Fraternity, both administratively and financially, was gratifying to all of us.

The emotional high light of the meeting came when the Creed of Delta Tau Delta was indelibly reflected in the hearts of all of us as "Doc" Higley recounted the life of brotherly love and service exemplified by Brother Alfred T. Rogers of Madison, Wisconsin. Brother Rogers' name was eighth on the list of charter members of Beta Gamma Chapter of the University of Wisconsin, and since that date in 1892 he has been attending chapter meetings regularly—50 years since graduation. To every Delt who has crossed the threshold of that "Shelter" in Madison, Alf Rogers is the living exemplification of that "abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self respect, and bring about that happy life wherein I may more truly love my fellow men, serve my country, and obey my God." Why else would some twenty-odd Deltas from all over the State of Wisconsin journey to Chicago to join in this meeting at which Alfred T. Rogers was to receive the 126th Distinguished Service Citation of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity?

Need it be added that Delta Shelter had more ring and fervor for us that Saturday afternoon, March 2, 1946, than at any time since the night each of us received his own "Square of D.T.D."?

We had a good time. We always do. Come join us for lunch every Monday, private dining room, seventh floor of the Fair Store.

J. J. BIERY

Cleveland

More than one hundred Delts attended the Cleveland Alumni Chapter Founders Day Banquet and annual meeting held at the University Club February 21. Ray Hyre served as toastmaster to introduce Clem Frank, Doctor Sam Lind, and Frank Moran who paid tribute to the Founders of Delta Tau Delta. For Cleveland Delts this was also our "Reconversion Banquet," and it was a thrill for all those present to welcome home the boys who have been absent during the war years. Retiring President Bill Holloday presided at the business session and election of officers for the coming year. Under the G.I. Bill of Rights, Major William F. Hecker resumed his traditional position as Chairman of the Nominating Committee and the results proved conclusively that although he had served with the Army Air Forces, he had not lost any of his skill in the operation of a steam roller, and the democratic processes functioned to the same extent as usual in the election of Ed Henckel as president; Frank Moran, vice-president; Art Francis, treasurer, and the writer as secretary.

After accepting the gavel of authority from Bill Holloday, the new prexy briefly outlined his policy for the coming year. He urged the younger alumni to become active and suggested regular attendance at the weekly luncheon meetings held every Thursday at the Mid-Day Club. He further stated that the Cleveland Alumni Chapter would resume all of its prewar traditional social events, starting with a spring golf tournament, followed by a family picnic in June, a dinner meeting with the entire party going to a night baseball game in August, a fall golf tournament, and a Christmas formal dinner dance. In all of these activities, President Henckel says that we will look to the younger group for leadership and service. He also stated that as alumni we will have a continuous program of assistance for all nearby active chapters.

The Monthly Bulletin of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter now enters its 12th year of continuous publication. This little newsheet has been the medium for carrying notices of meetings, announcements of social events, and bringing items of general interest to the attention of Cleveland Delts at home and abroad. It has also been worth its weight in gold as a vehicle for blackjacking delinquent brothers into paying their dues. The method has occasionally been crude but effective. In defiance of numerous threats of violence, and countless ouster proceedings, the editorship has never changed.

And now under the caption of "Who's Doing What in Cleveland" we pass on a few quickies: Hopkins planning a trip down the Mississippi River. Ertle awaiting delivery of a new cabin cruiser. George Heymann back from Tokyo. Bob Weaver heading the Red Cross Drive. Gordon Nichols still Mayor of Chagrin Falls. George Creed marries the very charming Edith Charlotte Kylin of Cleveland Heights. John Veckley, former Cleveland, now promotion manager of Holiday. Tom Herbert sure of the Republican nomination for Governor. Joe Wood becomes a Mason at the Golden Gate Lodge at Chagrin Falls. Sid Wilson, Twentynine Palms, California, still a member of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter. Bill Hecker resumes practice of law in Cleveland. Doctor James Villani named Superintendent of the Edwin Shaw Sanatorium in Summit County. Russ Griffin, back from the Navy, is now Dean of Men at Western Reserve University. Supreme Court Chief Justice Carl Weygant addresses annual meeting of the S.A.R. Frank Pelton vacationing in Florida. Joseph F. Manak chosen alumni secretary (a full-time job) for Western Reserve University. As Chamber of Commerce executive the writer recently visited Windsor, Chatham, and London, Canada, in the interest of vacation and airline development. Pat Moran back with the Plain Dealer. Ivan Davenport returns to Cleveland. William Ganson Rose directing a number of Cleveland's Sesqui-centennial celebration events. Bill Donaldson becoming well known in Cleveland as a Chamber of Commerce statistical expert. Bob Hartford, recently located in Cleveland, finds a house. Mark McElroy doing a nice job as Secretary of Ohio Veterans Commission at Columbus. Chris Bannick urged for Republican leadership in Cuyahoga County. Doctor R. E. Ruedy and Karl Ertle both members of Cleveland Heights City Council. We could go on and on but I see the Editor reaching for the blue pencil to cut this short.

But one last word—all Delts in the Cleveland area are most cordially invited to "join up" with us. We will be glad to send our Bulletin and notices, if you will give your name and address to the Secretary.

RANDALL M. RUHLMANN

Columbus

March 8, 1946, marked another Founders Day celebration for Delta Tau Deltas in Columbus, Ohio, and surrounding territory. Sponsored by the Columbus Alumni Chapter this affair was designated the Victory Dinner-Dance, welcoming home all returning Delta Tau Delta men from the various branches of the military services and honoring them as well as those who did not return.

The chapters of Chi (Kenyon College), Mu (Ohio Wesleyan University), and Beta Phi (Ohio State University) attended en masse to make this the largest Founders Day party in the history of the Columbus Alumni Chapter.

Dinners were served at 6:30 p.m. to 187 persons, including 52 wives and sweethearts of the Delts present, in the main Ballroom of the Seneca Hotel. Many who found it impossible to dine with us arrived for the program and dance after, and although it was impossible to keep an accurate record, it is conservatively estimated that throughout the evening there were well over 300 in attendance. Being centrally located, this is fast becoming an outstanding annual state-wide gathering.

Dinner was followed by a half hour of serenades by Mu, Chi, and Beta Phi Chapters' choral groups. "If You Want to Be a Tau Delt" and "Sweethearts Divine" hold a special significance when directed as they were to our ladies in a group.

Don C. Van Buren (Western Reserve, 1911), as president of the Columbus Alumni Chapter, introduced those at the speakers' table, which included Charles W. Flick (Allegheny, 1915), vice-president; C. Curtiss Inscho, past president; Thomas Reed (W. & J., 1934); Lieutenant Wallace Stover (Ohio State University), returned from the Air Corps; Robert Groves (Ohio Wesleyan, 1914); J. E. Kinney (Ohio State University, 1909), president of the Standard Savings & Loan Company; Lieutenant Martin Van Buren (Ohio State and Georgia Tech, 1944), returned from the European Theater; Howard S. Sterner, immediate past president; Rusk K. Whipps (Ohio State, 1912); Bishop H. Lester Smith (Allegheny, 1905), Resident Bishop of the Methodist Church in the Ohio area; John Oliver (Ohio State, 1943), field secretary; and Clemens R. Frank (Western Reserve, 1919), national Secretary of Delta Tau Delta.

From here, the program was temporarily turned to William Eells (Mu Chapter) who as chairman of the undergraduate committee, gave a warm welcome to the returned veterans and expressed how truly these boys have been missed from chapters during their absence. John Pritchard, as representative of Chi Chapter, Jack Powell, president of Beta Phi Chapter, and Rich Heidkamp, representing Mu Chapter, were presented and gave concise but gratifying reports of the state of their chapters and their activities.

Kenyon Campbell (Ohio State, 1920), chapter adviser of Beta Phi, was called upon for verification of the report of this chapter's winning the coveted first place in scholarship at Ohio State University.

One of the major projects of this area was introduced as the drive for a new chapter house at Ohio State University. Rusk H. Whipps, treasurer of the House Corporation, gave his report on the progress already made and presented C. Curtiss Inscho (Beta Phi, 1933), Downie W. Moore (Beta Phi, 1915), outstanding architects, and Howard S. Sterner (Gamma Lambda, 1917), noted structural engineer, all of Columbus, Ohio, who have already drawn up plans for the new Shelter.

Clemens R. Frank, as national Secretary, reported on the enviable position of Delta Tau Delta nationally and praised the activity of the Columbus Alumni Chapter.

Bishop H. Lester Smith spoke to the assemblage on "The Supreme Sacrifice" and paid tender tribute to our boys in the service who lie sleeping in unmarked graves and to those who took the same chances, but through the kindness of God are fortunate to be with us, then turned to say we are fortunate to have them with us and consider their presence a privilege to us. "Fraternal spirit," he said, "must be in the heart," and likened the badge of Delta Tau Delta as the outward symbol of our fraternal spirit to the Flag of the United States as the symbol of the principles for which our boys fought.

At 10:00 p.m., the ballroom was cleared for dancing to the rhythm of one of the best dance bands in this area. We look forward at once to next year's Founders

Day and welcome Delts everywhere and especially in Ohio, in joining us in commemorating this day so important to our Fraternity.

DON WOLFERT

That loyal old work-horse, Beanie Beck, worked harder than ever before. Capt. Neal Smith, BK, '38, fresh out of the Air Forces, was ready to do some pitching—and did—as banquet chairman. Result: Some 80-odd Delts—alumni and Beta Kappa actives as guests—turned out for the annual Founders Day Banquet at the Shirley-Savoy, March 1. President "Beanie" turned the meeting over to Lt. Col. Harold C. Thompson, BK, '21, who served as toastmaster and, incidentally, reeled off a salty ballad that must have come from the Texas ranges. Colonel Bob Hartnett, Gamma Mu, '29, talked of Delt objectives. Bob was with the Air Forces and served in China, Burma, India, and France, Italy, Greece, and Yugoslavia. He met up with Chris Cusack with the result that the Hartnett family are now Denver residents and Bob is with the C. F. Cusack Advertising Agency. Ross Oliver, home from the war and president of Beta Kappa, got a big hand for his fine talk. That old maestro of the piano, Capt. Ralph Wray of the Marines, BK, '21, had stopped in Denver on his way east from eighteen months of island jumping in the Southwest Pacific. As soon as Ralph started banging out familiar Delt songs on the keyboard, old Delts and young Delts joined in reviving memories of the good old days in college, before there was a war, etc. A mighty fine reunion, it was.

According to long-established custom, the "Machine" steam-rolled its slate of candidates over all opposition and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Bill Williams, BK, '19, president; Neal Smith, BK, '38, vice-president; and Bob Hartnett, Gamma Mu, '29, secretary-treasurer. Neal Smith had made the banquet a decided success, and this talent must be utilized. Succeeding Fred "Pinky" Holmes, who carried the burden of secretary through the war years, and Phil Perry, treasurer, Bob Hartnett will handle both jobs. As for that guy Bill Williams, he will have to step some to maintain the standards set by the retiring president, Beanie Beck.

The Founders Day Banquet brought out many of the old gang who have just returned from service with the Armed Forces. Commander George Powell, BK, '23, just back from Australia, looked mighty good in blue. He's in civvies now and has just returned to the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation. We're glad to have the Powells as Denver residents again. Major Bill Moody, BK, '35, served with distinction in Italy, France, and Germany and is looking forward to the contracting business—will learn the ins and outs with Peter Kiewit Co. beginning April 1. Lt. Foster Parriott, Kansas U., '37, had some narrow escapes in infantry combat in Italy, later trained men in Texas, and returned to Denver in February. He has rejoined the firm of Walter H. Simon, architects. Major Wilson D. Evans, Dartmouth, '33, son of Claire Evans, was in Medical Supply service, and spent five months in the Philippines and Japan. Returning to Denver in February he is now with Wm. Ainsworth & Sons and will make Denver the future home of the W. D. Evans family. Lt. Gerald Samson, BK, '31, of the Seabees, spent a couple of years in the Marshall Islands and the Philippines and is now back with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation to help build up our nation's water resources. Lieutenants Allen and Bob Hiester are now on terminal leave after a lot of action in the Pacific and on in to Japan. Major Bill Reno, BK, '24, who did a big job in ordnance, resigned from General Motors recently so that he and his family can continue to live in Denver. He has acquired, believe it or not, a Ford dealership, and will operate at East Colfax and Garfield. Lt. Col. Herb Newcomb, BK, '25, was in Washington, D.C., and India, in the adjutant general's department and is practicing law again in the Midland Savings Building. Navy Lt. George Lesser, BK, '33, home from the Pacific is now University manager of the 200-unit trailer-town on Boulder Creek which houses veterans attending C. U. and their families. Navy Lt. Bill McElroy, BK, '38, has memories of the Pacific, like many another Delt, and is glad it's all behind him now. He is with the western branch of Westinghouse Electric. Navy Lt. Robert M. Vote, BK, '40, home from the sea lanes of the Atlantic, has returned to C. U. to get his law degree. Navy Lt. Dudley Hutchinson, Jr., BK, '38, has returned to Boulder and is practicing law with his father. Major Herman Maul, BK, '38, who spent twenty-seven months or so in the South Pacific, dropped in on the brothers for a few minutes to greet old acquaintances.

The alumni initiation team was on hand at Boulder Sunday, March 24, to welcome four new members into the brotherhood.

Regular evening dinners will be held on the last Wednesday of each month at 6:30 p.m. Now that Neal Smith is back on the job our dinners will be held at the Shirley-Savoy Hotel. Luncheons will continue on the second Wednesday of each month at the Daniels and Fisher Tea Room. An open invitation is extended to all Delts to attend these meetings. We are having some very interesting talks by the fellows returning from the armed forces. Lt. Col. Douglas W. Macomber, one of the country's outstanding plastic surgeons, spoke of his experiences in the Medical Corps in England and France. Lieutenants Allen and Bob Hiester did a duet on telling of their experiences with the Navy and Coast Guard out in the Pacific. Major Dan Charlton, a veteran of World War I and World War II, has given us some vital comparisons regarding the two wars. Capt. Kim Barnes, Jr., had so much to say about the Air Force in Australia, South Pacific, and Japan that we had him talk at both a luncheon and dinner meeting.

We know you all will be traveling to cool Colorado this summer so drop in at one of our meetings in the Mile High City—Denver that is. BOB HARTNETT

Indianapolis

After all these years we have had to move the place of our Friday noon meeting. The Washington Hotel, 10th floor, is the new location.

Our Founders Day dinner and dance really showed that the war was over. About two hundred and fifty Delts attended the dinner and more Delts and Dames came for the dance. Our genial president, Claude Warren, presided as toastmaster, introducing our next senator, Bill Jenner, who gave a good rousing speech.

The stunt prize went deservedly to Purdue, while both DePauw and Butler were awarded attendance prizes.

We have enjoyed a lot of visitors and would enjoy a lot more. Come whenever you are in town. This month starts our monthly night dinner meetings, to be held at the Butler Chapter house. Those who cannot make the regular Friday luncheons can now hunt for a new excuse for not keeping up their Fraternity connections.

K. R. DAVIS

Jacksonville

With the release of many Delts from the service, alumni get-togethers should be more active in the future. It is hoped to have a general meeting in the form of a luncheon or dinner, so that all local Delts, including those who have just moved to the city, will have an opportunity to get acquainted.

The Jacksonville Chapter did not celebrate Founders Day, but a number of Delts made the trip to Ocala, where Delta Zeta actives and alumni in that section celebrated with a banquet March 20.

Among those back from the service is Bill Jackson, now practicing architecture in the Florida Theater Building. Bill served as a major in the European campaign with the U. S. Army Engineers.

After several years in South America with the Signal Corps, Bobby Carlisle has forsaken his teaching to become an accountant. He is with a local CPA.

Bill Ostner is back at his former position with Jax Brewing Co. The other two loyal Delts from this family are Charles, now with the regular Army in Korea, and Jake, active in the local Coast Guard Reserve (T).

Hudson Bullard, a Jacksonville resident in prewar years, has been cited by Secretary of the Navy Forrestal for "outstanding performance of duty as consultant in connection with the Atomic Bomb project." Recently released from the Navy, Hudson will continue his government affiliation as a civilian and is now living in California.

As a signal honor for his civic work, Guy Botts has been awarded the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Award as the most outstanding young man of the city during 1945. In addition to being president of the local alumni chapter, Guy was also head of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, is secretary of the Jacksonville Junior College, and one of the up-and-coming young attorneys of the city.

JOHN B. TURNER, JR.

Kansas City

The Kansas City Alumni Association announces the return from service with the Armed Forces of the following men: Bill French, Bill Gilges, Ernie Whitney, Dwight Steele, Jim Harper, Earl Wait, William H. Quinn, K. E. Wolz, and W. T. Warner.

Charles Miller is a new member of the State Tax Commission and is now living in Jefferson City, Missouri.

Gamma Kappa Chapter at Missouri University has reopened a second semester, and we expect to have thirty men by April 1, 1946. The Chapter at Kansas University has about forty-eight men, and the Gamma Theta Chapter at Baker University has about thirty-five men.

FRANK H. SCOTT

Lexington

Delt alumni in Lexington, seeking to find a meeting night which will encounter fewer conflicts, have decided to hold their monthly dinner meetings on the second Tuesday night in each month at the Lafayette Hotel. That puts the next session on the night of June 11. No meeting was held in May because the alumni joined Delta Epsilon Chapter in a banquet observing the twenty-second anniversary of its installation.

Attendance at alumni gatherings in the late winter and the spring usually was between fifteen and twenty, but this is expected to pick up considerably due to the new meeting date and with the return of still more Deltas to Lexington after their release from service.

Among those who have doffed uniforms and are back in Lexington since the last previous RAINBOW report are Hoot Combs, John F. Crosby, Jim Darnaby, Dan Fowler, Bruce King, Jack Mylor, George Skinner, Ollie Williamson, Carter Brumfield, and J. D. Davis.

Stan Hays, Homer (Moose) Crowden, C. D. (Windy) Blair, and Bert Cooper are among the old-timers who have enrolled at U. K. again for more schooling under the G. I. Bill of Rights. Jim Hagler has located at Paris, in the newspaper business, and George Kagin is back in Frankfort—they say.

Bob McVay, out of the Navy and ready to return to the insurance business in Jersey, came over from Louisville, where he had been visiting relatives, for one of the alumni dinners. D. R. Durbin, Jr., of Louisville, showed up for another. Dick Fuller, released from the Navy in Florida and en route with his family back to their home in Chicago, stopped in town long enough to attend a smoker which the alumni gave to assist Delta Epsilon in its program for spring rush week.

Hoot Combs turned over his home one evening for the use of the active chapter so a party might be given in honor of a group of initiates.

President Bill Greathouse appointed Jack Mylor as general chairman of alumni committees to assist Delta Epsilon activities in planning and arranging for the annual Founders Day program here, and the sub-committees worked hard to make the event the largest and most successful

W. W. GREATHOUSE, III

The hand on the throttle of the Lexington Alumni Club is now that of William Wesley Greathouse, III, a long and large young man who was boosted to the club presidency when Ben Fowler had to resign because he was moving to Frankfort to make his home.

Big Bill, like Ben, had been back home from military service only a short time when the office was handed to him.

Entering active duty in July, 1941, as a second lieutenant with the 38th Division, he spent twenty-three months overseas in the Pacific theater, didn't get back to the States until late last November, and didn't finish up his terminal leave until March 9, by which date he had received the silver leaves of a lieutenant colonel of Infantry.

Bill stopped first in Hawaii with the 38th, was with the 27th Division on Saipan, in the Marianas, then went with the 38th to New Guinea and from there to the Philippines, where he was in on the campaigns for Leyte, Bataan, Corregidor, and Manila. Later, under an assignment for Headquarters of Army Forces in the Western Pacific, he served as province commander, or military governor, of the island of Mindoro.

Now, after his fifty-six-month hitch in the Army, he's back farming, and attending to sideline interests in a tobacco warehouse and an insurance business. His wife is the former Miss Harriett Lancaster of Lancaster. They have a son, William Wesley Greathouse, IV, who's now going on three.

affair of its kind ever held in Lexington.

The Lexington Alumni Club has received response from more than 200 alumni of Delta Epsilon in its effort to establish a new and complete file of alumni addresses and at the same time to obtain information for a complete war record of the chapter's men in service. Ad-resses have been obtained for virtually all DE men still in service as well as for many who have established new homes since their release. In addition, quite a few of those alumni who have been "lost," as far as local records and those in the Central Office have shown, have been located.

The club mailed out its first information blanks last December, followed up with an information bulletin and news-sheet in February, and circulated two newsheets in April, the last publishing plans for the Founders Day reunion and banquet.

The president appointed Bob Odear, Coleman Smith, and Jim Shropshire as a committee to assist Delta Epsilon in arranging for reoccupancy of its Shelter in June and to arrange for reorganization of the house corporation. The chapter house has been under lease to a sorority for two years, and Delta Epsilon hence was unable to return to the Shelter immediately after the chapter was reactivated.

LAURENCE SHROPSHIRE

Los Angeles

The latest high light on the Delt calendar in Southern California was an outstanding Founders Day Banquet. Brother Gerry Stewart, Stanford, '27, gave a report in the Alumni Chapter Delt News upon which it would be difficult to improve and is as follows:

"Commemorating the founding of the fraternity at Bethany College, in West Virginia, way back in 1859, members of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta celebrated the 87th anniversary at the University Club, Friday, March 8.

"In attendance were more than two hundred five Deltas, representing 44 chapters of the Fraternity, and it was the second largest gathering of Deltas in Southern California, the largest being at the banquet in February, 1941, when Delta Pi, at U.S.C., was installed.

"Festivities of the evening were many and varied, ranging from songs, both spontaneous and planned, introductions, speeches, awards and the renewal of friendships which symbolize the meaning of fraternalism. Howard Mills, Western Reserve, served as toastmaster in his own inimitable style, carrying out his duties with ease and smoothness. Principal speaker of the evening was Lt. Col. Geo. W. Rochester, Chicago, '22, who gave a compelling address on the relations between Russia and the United States. Rochester's remarks were based principally on the idea that we should try to understand Russia's realism and her philosophy and the fact that we, as Americans, have a real problem to solve during the next twenty-five years.

"Considerable credit for the success of the evening must, as always, be given to Brother Dan'l Ferguson, whose indefatigable efforts for the Fraternity during the past twenty years can scarce be equalled in any organization, and to W. G. Schwab, Kentucky, '24; Carl Jessen, Indiana, '10; C. B. Elliott, Missouri, '16, and Larry Kennedy, Purdue, '25, who had charge of the arrangements."

thirty actives and seventeen pledges, which, by the way, are the cream of the crop, so they are back in the running at full speed. Delta Pi at U.S.C. is already away to a flying start and in full swing. Plans are afoot to resume the periodic get-togethers at the two chapter houses on a more active scale.

Brother Dan Ferguson, Chicago, '09, some time ago inaugurated the "High Order of Pillar." The qualification to be a "Pillar" is to attend at least twelve luncheons per year, and he reports at the present time that we have ninety-eight members of this loyal organization which means that the average of forty or better per week in attendance at our luncheons is well varied, along with those who do not qualify for the designation of "Pillar." The gratifying fact is that many of our returning veterans are rapidly qualifying for their admittance into the ranks of Pillardom.

There is every indication that there will be increased alumni activity and participation which augurs well for the months and years to come.

BEN MCNEILL

Milwaukee

The Milwaukee Alumni weekly luncheons are beginning to show real signs of life the past few weeks. Our attendance has jumped about 150 per cent or more, and every week someone new is coming in. A surprising number of Delts who prior to the war lived in other cities are settling in Milwaukee.

Plans are now in progress for a big Delt Alumni smoker to be held sometime in May. We have about 200 Delts here in Milwaukee and are anxious to get as many of that 200 together as possible. If things turn out right this should be the biggest Delt get-together Milwaukee has yet seen. We also have some big plans for summer rush in progress, including such functions as outings, picnics, and smokers. We feel we could be of considerable help in contacting some good prospects for our surrounding chapters.

We would also like to make mention of our alumni chapter president here in Milwaukee. He's Lou French, Beta Nu, '10. Lou has attended the weekly luncheons and other alumni functions here in Milwaukee ever since this chapter was started. He takes an active interest in the Fraternity, and through his efforts and loyalty, the alumni chapter has been held together the past four or five years, and is now gaining strength every week. Anyway, we here in Milwaukee certainly believe there isn't a greater guy or president in any outfit. AUGUST J. RICHTER

New York

New York activities for the first quarter of 1946 were many and varied. In the month of January, we held our luncheon in the Engineers' Club, as usual, and Don Moffett spoke to us on the subject of "Pension Plans." This was discussed at length by the thirty some odd Delts present. We went to the month of February and John Schwartz spoke to us on the subject "Why Is a Hormone?" and certainly gave us a different insight into this subject which it seems has only been confused by the things which we have been given to read. The discussion and the asides that followed made this one of the liveliest luncheons of them all and was again thoroughly enjoyed by the thirty-five Delts present.

On Friday, March 1, we held our annual Founders Day Banquet in the University Club and had with us, as our guest for the evening, Brother Tom C. Clark. He spoke to us informally on some of the problems facing him and also on some of the problems facing other members of the administration. His being able to take time out from his many duties as Attorney General was certainly appreciated by us all. We also had with us on this occasion, Douglas M. Smith, who had formerly been a captain in the French Foreign Legion and who had been active in many guerrilla operations in North Africa, the Middle East, and in Southern Europe. I know that we all were very much impressed by the things Brother Smith had to say, especially since many of them were in the category of inside information.

The luncheon in the month of March was addressed by Brother James W. Hemphill, who showed us a film on Heat and Insulation and gave us a running commentary on the different points covered in the film.

All the activities mentioned above have shown the officers of the Greater New York Chapter one thing, and that is that our chapter is beginning to grow by leaps and bounds, especially with the returning of many servicemen. For those of you who haven't had the opportunity of being with us recently, may we urge you to get in the swim, the water's fine, and we hope to see you soon.

Pittsburgh

We are on a peacetime basis again in Pittsburgh. Now attending our weekly luncheons regularly are those we haven't been able to report for a long time; names such as Snee, Harvey, Willison, Schar, Riester, and many others. Since January, we have been meeting every Tuesday at 12:15 at the Victory Room of the Hotel Henry. Attendance is nearly twenty-five each week. There is always room for another so we extend an invitation to all who can attend.

The Founders Day banquet was a great success. Held at the University Club, Friday, March 22, there were 116 alumni and 27 actives present. Long speeches and other formalities were dispensed with this year and a few short talks were substituted. Norm MacLeod reported on the program and work of the national Fraternity. Alan Beatty related some experiences while with the AMGOT. The spirit was one of reunion and the start of a new and better future.

Annual election of officers was held. After a convincing speech of nomination by Paul Hutchinson, the group unanimously elected Lee Sellars, president; Jack Snee, vice-president, and Art Stroyd, secretary-treasurer. We owe many thanks to all those arranging this party, with particular tribute to Turk Lydic, Bud Hawkins, and Lee Sellars.

Delta Beta Chapter at Carnegie Tech and Gamma Sigma at Pitt have almost returned to a peacetime basis and report very successful rushing programs. Alumni of Gamma Sigma are concluding a fund raising drive for returning the chapter

▼ LOYALTY FUND LIFE MEMBERS ▼

Since the establishment January 1, 1926, of Delta Tau Delta's Loyalty Fund, its endowment fund, 6,088 men have become Loyalty Fund Life Members. Three hundred twenty-seven have been added to this group from January 16, 1946, to April 1, 1946.

Following are the names of men initiated prior to January 1, 1926, who have become Loyalty Fund Life Members upon contribution of $50.00:

Walter John Lehman, Indiana, '23
Paul Fifield Thomas, Brown, '28
Harry Allen Decker, Pittsburgh, '28
William Henry Andrews, Jr., North Carolina, '20
Sterling Roy Kerns, Kentucky, '27

Notes, signed at the time of initiation, have been paid in full by the following, who are now Loyalty Fund Life Members:

 ART STROYD

St. Louis

New members welcomed to our group since our last letter are Dallas Johnson from Minnesota, just out of the Service, and James Graham, Iowa State, with Mallinckrodt Chemical of St. Louis.

Samuel Patterson, Miami, Ohio, just returned from the Service and has joined Sohio Petroleum, located in St. Louis, and we hope will be a regular.

Charlie Drake, Westminster, returned to St. Louis April 1 after service in the Navy. Has some interesting experiences to relate at our regular Monday luncheon. Charlie hopes to locate here permanently again.

Fritz Ellet, Missouri, was a visitor during the week of March 25. Fritz recently finished his service with the Army and is now located at Carrolton, Missouri.

W. C. Beck, Lawrence, now located in Chicago, was a visitor April 5.

Don Holt, North Carolina, although busily engaged in directing the operations of Travora Mfg. Co., finds time to write and report that he would like to get up this way again. G. H. BUCHANAN

Stark County

Our association has been holding meetings every alternate month during the winter. Our list comprises about forty-five names. Our meetings are on the second Tuesday of the month and at our last meeting we had a group of twenty-two.

Most of our boys are back from the service but Brother Cobbey is still serving as a doctor in the Navy.

Ray Hambleton has just been released after a very long illness but is quite recovered. PHILIP S. YOUNG

A New Generation Faces the Future with Confidence

These resolute young people will succeed, especially if they PLAN wisely and carry through with convictions.

PLANNING is the Key!

We urge all Balfour friends and customers to PLAN their gift needs and requirements for their social season as far in advance as possible.

Materials are still scarce. Transportation has slowed even more. More time is required for making.

We are sure we can depend upon your co-operation to make Balfour Quality and Service possible.
