One Moment, Please

In January of 1935, the Editor of THE RAINBOW published an article which he designated "an impersonal analysis of the state of the Fraternity." It was an appraisal made by the Comptroller, Hugh Shields, and it had not been written for publication.

In reading this article, one is struck by its tone of confidence and quiet self-assurance, and especially by the three-column head which proclaimed "From Here On Every Step Will Be a New Record." It was an ambitious prediction. It would not be unreasonable to suppose that some readers considered it something else besides ambitious.

With this in mind, we invite your attention in this issue to "The President Reports," which is a contemporary analysis of the state of Delta Tau Delta, drawn today by our President, G. Herbert McCracken. Delt everywhere will read this report with interest, and as they consider the current condition of the Fraternity, we believe that they will readily agree that the prediction of twelve years ago, even with a world war intervening, was, after all, more than gasconade—that it was, in fact, a prophecy that has been realized.

On Page 197 seventy years of continuous publication of THE RAINBOW are commemorated by an account of its history and progress, and tribute is paid to the early editors who made possible a remarkable record.

"Confessions of a Bass Horn Player" by Penrose T. Ecton, on Page 201, injects a somewhat lighter note into this number. Chuckling time about five minutes.

The Delt chapters have finished the school year 1946-47 under full steam, the first year of "normal" operations, really, since 1941. The job that they have done deserves chronicling—and this we have accomplished under "The Delt Chapters" department. You will be delighted to read of their accomplishments.

The President Reports

By G. HERBERT McCracken, Pittsburgh, '21

This, the eighty-ninth year of Delta Tau Delta, has been one of the most remarkable in its illustrious history. It marked the successful reactivation of the Fraternity following the impact of the war—the fourth such impact since Delta Tau Delta came into being at Bethany College in 1859. It marked the return to peace and the campus of thousands of Delts, some of whom left just prior to graduation, others just after initiation—to peace, but not tranquility, for there remained a rebuilding job of unpredictable proportions. But it did not stop those Delts, alumni and undergraduate, who powered the home front for four years and more or the returning Delt veterans, because they had the moral fiber, the courage, and the skill to do the job—and it has been done faster and more efficiently than any of us had a right to expect.

Foundations are the prerequisite of all human endeavor. Delt foundations, built over the years on a sound and true basis to command the time and all-out effort of energetic men, made possible this exceptional rebuilding job during and immediately following a period of stress and great personal sacrifice.

Those sturdy foundations have been put to a severe test by the college year 1946-47, perhaps the most exhaustive test in Delt history, and have been strengthened by it. It has given Delts the opportunity to show their pride and their loyalty to their Fraternity. It has proved that Delta Tau Delta is a solvent and forward-looking organization, abundant in courage and the will to do. It has been a year of distinguished achievement. It is my pleasure to give you a condensed statement on the condition of the Fraternity, as follows:

UNDERGRADUATE CHAPTERS

Seventy-three chapters completed the college year under full-scale operations. Gamma Eta at The George Washington University is being reactivated this month with one of the finest demonstrations of alumni support on record. And something new has been added—the re-establishment of Iota Chapter at Michigan State College, the first fraternity chapter established on that campus in 1872, which suspended operations with all other fraternities just before the turn of the century. Iota was first and one of the finest. The modern custodians of that heritage have already proved their right to that responsibility.

In normal times the total undergraduate enrollment averages about 3,000. This year the total is close to 6,000. The normal number of new initiates is approximately 900. This year Delta Tau Delta initiated almost 1,700 new members.

This condition has precipitated housing problems which could not be solved, and it has complicated the administrative machinery. It is, therefore, amazing how rapidly chapters have absorbed supernormal enrollments and how well they have re-established administrative continuity and have developed chapter unity and spirit.

A glance at the chapter department of this issue of THE RAINBOW will convince you how well our chapters have done in achieving distinctions on their campuses. It would be difficult to find an era when so many chapters have won interfraternity sings, homecoming decoration contests, float competitions, and intramural athletic trophies. It would be difficult to find another year when undergraduates have represented the Fraternity so well in campus offices, honor societies, activity organizations, and athletics.

In a highly competitive field, where Delta Tau Delta must depend largely on the excellence of its chapters for pre-eminence, we are proud to report that your Fraternity is setting the pace.

SCHOLARSHIP

First nationally in scholarship in 1939 and among the first five of the larger fraternities since 1933, Delta Tau Delta continues to regard scholarship as a measure of a college fraternity's excellence. Our leaders have always recognized that the Fraternity exists as a satellite of the larger body—the college—owes its existence, in fact, to that institution, and they have stoutly maintained that the Fraternity is a constructive adjunct to the system of higher education. Delta Tau Delta was first to place on its governing board an officer charged solely with the administration of scholarship.

This does not mean that Delta Tau Delta does not have chapters which are below par on their campuses. These chapters, however, are by far in the minority, and they are encouraged in every manner possible to hold up their end of the scholarship program.

Complete returns are not in for the past year, but the fragmentary reports received show that several Delt chapters were first on their respective campuses and many others were in second and third places. Initiation certificates have contained many straight A averages and numerous high B's. Early in the spring, before all selections had been made, twenty-five undergraduate members were Phi Beta Kappa and forty-two others were Tau Beta Pi. On the basis of these early indications, I think we may reasonably predict that Delta Tau Delta will rank among the top few in the final tabulation.

A Delt whose work in interfraternity scholarship has earned national acclaim from college educators is Dr. Alvan E. Duerr, who recently resigned as chairman of scholarship of the National Interfraternity Conference. First man to be appointed to that important post, he served for twenty years. The unstinting work of Brother Duerr has been termed the most significant contribution in history to interfraternity scholarship.

PLEDGE EDUCATION

Delta Tau Delta's pledge education is The Delt Development Program. The Program is based on the practical principles of self-government and self-expression, founded on the conviction that the Fraternity has an obligation to its pledges—an obligation to prepare them adequately for active membership, to inculcate in them self-reliance and the principles of intelligent thinking and living, to help them to realize the fullest measure of the opportunities of Deltism.

To this end, the Program is being revised, and each chapter will receive next month The Delt Development Program manual, a guidebook which details for the Program committee the manner and means by which pledge training techniques are implemented. The Program is not offered arbitrarily and inflexibly. Rather, it is hoped that each chapter will add the flavor of the best in local tradition and color and imbue it with its own personality.

As a companion piece, a new pledge manual is also being produced. Every chapter in the Fraternity was canvassed last spring for suggestions as to what this manual should contain. The result is a composite of the best features from many sections, plus the accumulated experience of three-quarters of a century. The Delt pledge will have at his fingertips a ready reference to supplement his instruction in all phases of Fraternity activity.

RUSHING

Few, if any, Delt chapters have grown complacent and have foregone that fundamental known as "rushing." A good fraternity cannot afford to get out of the market, for the men whom we wish to attract will always be urgently sought after, and the fraternity chapter that believes it can relax for even one season is riding for a fall. The athlete who stays out of competition for a year finds it difficult to regain quickly his old form. Delta Tau Delta fully realizes that the competition for the men we want will be keen, as it has always been, and we are prepared to meet that competition and to pledge men who will always be a credit to their college and Fraternity.

ALUMNI CHAPTERS

There are today seventy-five Delt alumni chapters in all parts of the country. Of this number a few are dormant, but most of them are meeting regularly, increasing their membership, enjoying well organized functions, and assisting the undergraduate chapters in their localities in many different ways. The growing interest among alumni has resulted in the chartering of four new chapters in the last year. They are the San Antonio (Texas) Alumni Chapter, the Choctaw Alumni Chapter (Meadville, Pennsylvania), the Lansing (Michigan) Alumni Chapter, and the Boise Valley (Idaho) Alumni Chapter.

Secretary of Alumni A. B. Walling has urged that alumni chapters adopt definite aims and objectives as a means to insure greater interest and participation, for the alumni chapter which strides toward a well-established goal will prosper.

CENTRAL OFFICE

The heart of the Fraternity's management and administration is the Central Office in Indianapolis. Under the direction of our Executive Vice-President, Hugh Shields, who is one of the best informed fraternity executives in America, it has worked overtime to accelerate a return to normal operations. During a crucial period it has proved a tremendous asset in co-ordinating the efforts of the components of our organization.

FIELD SERVICE

During the past school year, every undergraduate chapter and thirty-four alumni chapters have been visited at least once, some as many as four times, by the field secretaries of Delta Tau Delta. A total of one hundred sixty-three chapter visits was made in a period of nine months, exclusive of visits made by members of the Arch Chapter, the Executive Vice-President, and Division vice-presidents. In addition, three undergraduate chapters have had the services of resident advisers.

The present field staff consists of four secretaries, which will be increased to six full-time men sometime this fall, assuring undergraduate chapters of even more assistance in the future.

The requests for field secretary visits from chapters, both alumni and undergraduate, were far greater than it was possible to answer. The only course open, and that which was pursued, was to spread the man power in accordance with the greatest need and the time element. For this reason it was not practical to cover the field on the orderly basis that prevailed before the war. The orderly basis will come later; the important thing during this crucial period was utilizing our men where they were most urgently needed.

FISCAL POLICY

The Fraternity continues on a sound economic policy, believing that the only worth-while fraternalism is built on a foundation of business integrity, responsibility, and a common-sense attitude toward finance. The Fraternity has an obligation to protect the broad interests of its members, which can best be accomplished by keeping the Fraternity sound from financial and operating standpoints, both of which are essential to the interests of the individual as well as the Fraternity as a whole.

Every single chapter completed this college year without an operating deficit. Fraternity law prevents any other course, in the belief that the heritage of one generation should not be the oppressive debt of another. A majority of chapters ended the year, as a matter of fact, with substantial operating profits, which many of them have wisely turned over to their house corporations to reduce debt and rehabilitate chapter property. The collection of members' accounts has been excellent. Delta Tau Delta has always considered that its chapters should inculcate in their members proper business principles. College educators are in full accord with this policy. In this connection, it is interesting to note that the cost of fraternity membership today, including housing, is no greater, and often less, than the cost of living in college dormitories or private residences.

Our chapter house corporations have acted with discretion, and there have been few examples of profligate spending. Two new Shelters were acquired last fall. A number of new ones are on the board now, but house corporations are prudently holding off until building costs have leveled off and construction can be accomplished with better economic stability. Some property rehabilitation is under way, but this is on a conservative scale and only in keeping with immediate maintenance demands. The lessons of the last quarter of a century have shown that long-range planning and studied financing are requisite to successful property management. Today sixty-nine chapters own their own houses or have substantial investments in lodges, homes, and houses that cost approximately four million dollars and have less than $600,000 currently owed on them.

The Fraternity's future is secured by the Loyalty Fund, our endowment. Amounting to more than half a million dollars, it has aided since its founding sixty-five chapters with seventy-eight different loans. Its income pays approximately 20 per cent of the operating cost of the Fraternity.

EXPANSION

The subject of expansion is treated fully elsewhere in this issue. I should like to state, however, that I believe that the pattern we followed at Michigan State is sound.

In this instance, careful, unhurried investigation, encouragement and development of a hard-working local, and much preliminary spadework by Delt alumni have paid off in a chapter that is now established on a firm footing. The Fraternity is constantly considering many prospective fields, but it will move into those spots only where the conditions are favorable not for just a fair chapter, but for a good chapter of the Fraternity. Numbers alone do not make a great fraternity. Constant time spent in exploration and development by both alumni and Arch Chapter members will determine what fields offer the best opportunities for Delta Tau Delta.

PUBLICATIONS

THE RAINBOW, third oldest magazine in fraternity circles, now reaches more Deltas than it ever did before. Every day sees more members completing payment on their Loyalty Fund notes and thereby becoming lifetime subscribers of our magazine. As more Deltas are added to our subscription lists, the power and influence of our Fraternity increase, for an informed Delt is an interested Delt, and a Delt with the facts is a Delt who appreciates and is loyal to the Fraternity.

The Delta Tau Delta News continues to go out two or three times annually to those Deltas who do not receive THE RAINBOW. Thus we are assured of keeping every member of the Fraternity up to date on news and late developments within the organization.

New editions of The Catechism and the Constitution and Bylaws were printed during the year and have been mailed to our chapters. The Manual of Organization and Administration is now being revised and a new edition prepared for delivery this fall.

KARNEA

The Fifty-Ninth Karnea will convene during the month of August, 1948. The site will be announced this fall. The recommendation of the last Karnea and current advice from the ranks favor the resort type of location, such as White Sulphur Springs, where the 1941 Karnea met.

An interesting commentary on our Karnea is the fact that some resorts already approached, who have handled conventions of many other fraternities, express regrets when they learn of the size of our gatherings. Certainly it is significant that Delta Tau Delta, numerically smaller than many of its competitors, has on four different occasions set world's records for attendance at college fraternity conventions. The present record was established just one year ago in Chicago, when 1,055 Deltas were officially registered.

Looking forward, we urge that as many Deltas as possible plan now to attend and participate in the next Karnea, for Delta Tau Delta will grow and prosper in proportion to the number of interested members who meet in general convention to chart its destinies.

DIVISION CONFERENCES

The four Divisions have just held their first Conferences since before the war. The attendance was excellent, but what struck one more particularly was the unusual esprit de corps and the great amount of undergraduate participation at these gatherings.

There you have the status of Delta Tau Delta today. I think that you will agree with me that our Fraternity is moving forward and has made great strides in the last year. There is no such thing as standing still. Moving forward is important. We should look energetically toward the future.

Delts in Norway

A special communique from Edwin L. Heminger, undergraduate president of Mu Chapter at Ohio Wesleyan, who is taking a special summer course in the Oslo University Summer School, Blindern, Norway, reports that there are three other Deltas besides himself studying at the University this summer. They are Russell G. Gustavson, Colorado, '45; William C. Kuhn, Albion, '49; and William B. Grindereing, Ohio, '46.

Mr. Heminger writes that all four of them have been much impressed by the friendliness of the Norwegians and the delightfully cool weather. Part of the summer course included a trip to Copenhagen, Denmark.

Seventieth Anniversary of RAINBOW

"I take pride in our RAINBOW. May its colors never fade."

So wrote J. P. L. Weems, Hanover, '76, cofounder and early Editor of the Fraternity's magazine.

As the year 1947 sees THE RAINBOW embarking upon its seventieth year of continuous publication, the Fraternity, too, points with pride to a record that stands high in the field of fraternity journalism.

The third oldest college fraternity magazine in existence, THE RAINBOW had its origin in 1877 as The Crescent, a monthly publication. In 1885, when the Rainbow Society was amalgamated with Delta Tau Delta, the magazine was renamed THE RAINBOW, in honor of the former fraternity.

The need for a national publication was recognized early in the history of the Fraternity, but it was not until the conventions of 1875-77 that any definite action was taken. Weems was chairman of the committee on publications at the convention of 1875, and his committee gave a favorable report, urging the publication of a magazine at once. The responsibility of editing and publishing was delegated to Alpha Chapter, but "the boys at Alpha thought the outlook was not favorable enough to launch The Cres- cent upon the turbulent waters of journalism."

Not to be put off further, the convention of 1877 commissioned a committee of three alumni to publish a magazine, naming William C. Buchanan Editor-in-Chief and Weems his assistant. This came at a time when the Fraternity was but eighteen years old and governed entirely by undergraduates.

In the first issue, which was printed in Cincinnati, Ohio, on September 15, 1877, the Editor launched his overture to the readers with this introduction: "Every experiment has a strange experience. All beginnings differ. . . . Our bow is the very humblest, while our pretention is still less. Youth, modesty, bashfulness, inexperience and ignorance, but with a devoted heart, a soul in the enterprise, and a belief in success, and faith in a well-worked enterprise, makes up the origin of The Crescent."

After he had edited two issues, however, Buchanan relinquished his duties, and Weems suddenly found himself "Editor-in-Chief of a fraternity paper, a law student, and I have not a cent in the world." The Crescent and all its effects were sent to him in Vincennes, Indiana—in one large envelope.

"The fraternity will never know," wrote Weems several years later, "how I struggled on to make it (The Crescent) live. . . . I was reading law in Vincennes, but had not a cent of money to buy even a postage stamp. But I kept the paper going. In the winter I had to quit reading and go to the country ten or eleven miles away, to teach school, to raise money to pay my board and keep the paper going. . . . When I was teaching it was rather difficult to look after The Crescent, for sometimes I had to walk to the city (ten or eleven miles) on Friday evening; or else come in Saturday. By working till midnight Saturday nights I could keep up. I did all the work—arranged matter, read proof, corresponded, mailed it, and the like. . . ."

Weems succeeded in keeping his magazine going and finished out Volume I by himself. To his great loyalty and devotion to duty in the face of overwhelming odds we largely owe the inception of our official publication.

With Volume II, when Alpha took over its management, The Crescent began to deal with the policy of the Fraternity, a feature which has endured to the present day. Early numbers chronicled the history of the Fraternity, accounts of chapter activity, the forming of the first alumni association (Chicago), and the first powwow of Alpha where began the now universal "Walk Around." The editorship, which changed annually, was assumed by undergraduates, and it was not until 1885 that the undergraduates relinquished control of the magazine.

EDWIN HOLT HUGHES

FRANK F. ROGERS

The first illustration to be used in The Crescent came with Volume V in 1881. It was a portrait of John R. Scott, author of "The Fraternity Song."

In this early period, The Crescent had a profound effect in shaping the policies of the organization. It provided the principal means by which liaison among chapters was maintained and matters of policy were impressed upon members. Lowrie McClurg in 1895 declared, "... until the creation of the council it did more for the advancement of Delta Tau Delta than all other influences combined."

At the same time that the magazine was placed under the jurisdiction of the Executive Council, it was renamed THE RAINBOW. At this juncture new features were being developed. The Symposium became a field for debating current issues, the byword "Once a Delta, always a Delta" was originated, and Deltas were referred to as "Crescent Knights." In keeping with its pronouncement "If a journal of a fraternity should be anything useful, it should be a reflex of the best thought of the members," THE RAINBOW crusaded against the practice of "lifting" from other fraternities, argued the small college versus the large, and ran scholarly articles such as "What Education Do the Times Demand?"

As early as 1892 THE RAINBOW was championing the elimination of hazing. "It may be heresy," wrote the Editor, "it may be contrary to all the canons of fraternity etiquette, it may be opposed to all the traditions of the fraternity life and practice, but if we could have our own way, we would, once for all, annihilate the custom of having any 'monkey work' connected with initiation into Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. . . . The incongruity of the impressiveness and solemnity of the initiatory service, and of the rowdiness that follows it, too frequently, to say nothing of the danger to life and limb and to countenance, ought to stamp the whole proceeding as unworthy of the modern college fraternity."

In 1888 an article, "The Relation of THE RAINBOW to the Fraternity," written by an undergraduate appeared. The author was Edwin H. Hughes, later to become Editor and President of the Fraternity, the same Bishop Hughes who conducted our War Memorial Service at the Fifty-Eighth Karnea. He pointed out how THE RAINBOW had accounted for the Fraternity's success in expansion, how it had contributed to the success of the Karneas, how it brought before the entire Fraternity the discussion of vital issues. Two other earlier Editors, McClurg and Babcock, have also served the Fraternity as Presidents.

MAX EH RMANN

From the beginning THE RAINBOW had given prominent space to members who were distinguishing themselves in statesmanship, education, literature, and other fields. In 1889 it reprinted an interview with Will Carlton, Hillsdale, '69, whose poems "Betsy and I," "Over the Hill to the Poorhouse," and others, originally published in Harper's Weekly, had made him the popular "people's poet" of America.

Unlike a good many of its contemporaries, THE RAINBOW had not become introspected. In 1897 there appeared a novel monograph entitled "The Fraternity Man and the Non-Fraternity Man," written by a nonfraternity man who pulled no punches and probably opened many eyes with his candid probing.

With the turn of the century, THE RAINBOW secured as its Editor a Delt who was to direct its destinies for a quarter of a century, whose famous cipher "F. F. R." became synonymous with DTD. He was Frank Fowler Rogers. His influence on the development of THE RAINBOW and on fraternity journalism in general cannot be overestimated. Delta Tau Delta's representative at the first session of the National Interfraternity Conference and originator of the annual Editors' Dinner, he devoted his lifetime to Fraternity work and Fraternity journalism.

Under his direction, THE RAINBOW began branching out, added new and unusual features, and used frequent illustrations and photographs. One of the most significant articles ever to appear in a Fraternity publication began in 1904. It was "Historical Notes" by Henry T. Brück, a former President of Delta Tau Delta. Backed by exhaustive research and painstaking care for accuracy, this work still remains the best history of the Fraternity. During this period, too, THE RAINBOW became the mouthpiece for the Fraternity's President. The personality of Dr. Frank Wieland exerted a profound influence in the progress of Delta Tau Delta through his numerous articles which appeared in THE RAINBOW.

When Frank Rogers died suddenly in 1923, his own RAINBOW paid him high tribute, and the Interfraternity Conference and other fraternity editors wrote into their journals the great loss felt by the entire fraternity world.

THE RAINBOW continued under the direction of Frank Hemmick, Manager of the Central Office, for two years before it was turned over to the sage of Cornwall-on-Hudson, Stuart Maclean. For the first time in many years, the Editor was no longer a member of the Arch Chapter.

The dry wit and provocative raillery that were to characterize Maclean's style in THE RAINBOW cropped out even in his first number. Giving credit to those dependable contributors—Clarence Pumphrey, Charlie Axelson, and Louis Tobin—he wrote: "If a Delt writes a book or marries money or gets a medal or becomes President or talks back to his mother-in-law or achieves distinction in any line, they write THE RAINBOW about it."

Shortly after Maclean became Editor, the makeup and the page size of THE RAINBOW were radically modified and improved. It was, as Dr. Wieland pointed out, "like seeing one's grandmother with bobbed hair." But it was a coiffure that became. Every issue contained a pictorial section, and greater participation by members throughout the Fraternity was built into the structure of the magazine. More than this, the philosophy, the personality, and the humor of Stuart Maclean were woven into its pages; he spoke the idiom of the Fraternity man. He struck out fearlessly for the things in which he believed; his high idealism and fine conception of brotherhood set a tone for THE RAINBOW that made it a truly great journal.

His reputation as a writer is unquestioned. No one member has contributed more to the literature of Delta Tau Delta. Numbered among his works are "Sing to the Royal Purple," "Delta Shelter," "The Successful Rushing of Good Men," "The Good Delt: His Book," "The Rite of Iris," "My Girl Is a Delta," and the Delta Creed.

National Capital Celebrates Founders Day

By GEORGE A. DEGNAN, George Washington, '17

Wartime conditions in Washington definitely put the brakes on alumni activities, but with accommodations for dinners again available, the Capital Delts finally got together at the National Press Club on April 17 for the National Capital Founders Day Banquet. And what a revival! Two hundred and thirty alumni from more than fifty different colleges answered the chapter roll call.

The United States Attorney General, genial Tom Clark, Texas, '22, was the speaker for the affair and gave us a most interesting talk on juvenile delinquency. Bruce Bielaski, George Washington, '04, former President of the Fraternity, presided as only Bruce can preside.

Senators Raymond Baldwin, Wesleyan, '16, and William Jenner, Indiana, '30, as well as Congressmen Raymond Burke, Chicago, '06, of Ohio, Rolla McMillen, Illinois, '03, and Michigan, '06, of Illinois, Ellsworth Buck, Dartmouth, '14, of New York, and George MacKinnon, Colorado and Minnesota, '29, of Minnesota, also graced the head table.

Washington, '10, former ambassador to China, Loy Henderson, Northwestern, '15, Director of Near East and African Affairs of the State Department, and Don Wheaton, Kenyon, '13, representing the Arch Chapter.

Absence from Washington or illness prevented the attendance of Senators Barkley, Stewart, and Kilgore and Congressmen Morrison, Short, and Simpson.

Henry Price, Emory, '33, and George Washington, '37, Frank Hemmick, George Washington, '09, and "Duke" Calder, George Washington, '11, did a swell job on getting out the big crowd. Incidentally, these same fellows have revived the weekly luncheons, and the attendance has been excellent.

Part of the banquet program included lively group singing. Fifty song slides of Delt songs were projected upon a large screen with two members accompanying at the piano.

Confessions of a Bass Horn Player

By PENROSE T. ECTON, Kentucky, '29

As the last bugle call died away, the director paused, then motioned violently at the kettle drums, nearly blinding the solo cornetist. It was the climax of a descriptive number called "The Battle of San Juan Hill," given as the feature of a University band concert. Shells could be heard bursting here and there, as the bass and kettle drum players flailed their instruments, while the property man was imitating rifle fire by shooting fire crackers in a lard can.

As the players drew an extra breath for the grandioso finish, playing "Star Spangled Banner" (audience all standing except sleeping English professor), a series of magnified roars and bright flashes burst from the rear of the band. With a startled leap, the bass horn player landed in the alto section, while rapid reports and great volumes of smoke poured from the bell of his horn.

At the post-mortem and court-martial it developed that the property man, finding the battle nearly over and several rounds of fire crackers still on hand, had slipped up behind the bass horn, lit the whole bunch, and dropped it into the bell of the big horn.

I was the bass horn player.

To me it was the climax of a long series of trials, tribulations, and practical jokes. I have always been unfortunate musically. While I was still too young to be responsible, a supposed friend had foisted a five-dollar cornet upon me. By the end of the first week my genius had asserted itself and I was able to play "America." (Under pressure my mother would also admit it was "America.") In self defense my father sent me to a teacher, and by the end of the year I was able to play the other three verses of "America."

Three years later, at my teacher's request, my mother had me play a solo at my school graduating exercises. Unfortunately, in the excitement, I failed to warm up beforehand and, as the piece started on high G, the first four notes were decided failures. I became so fussed that I lost the place but solved the emergency by shifting down to the "Trio." By playing this through four times, I was able to finish only seven measures behind the piano.

My second solo appearance was at church. It was a delightful little number called "Clovernook," written in two flats. It seemed to go very well until on the last time through the chorus, when I blew the cork out of the spit valve and finished like a pitiful asthmatic sufferer. I also found out afterward that I had played it in two sharps.

The next couple of years I struggled doggedly through the Sunday school orchestra and the Boy Scout band until in my freshman year in college I landed in the last chair of the fourth cornet section. The director was an old army bandsman, and by maneuvering directly in front of him at football games and blowing louder than any other three cornets, I was promoted to the first and finally the solo cornet section.

I felt that things were in store for me for the next year, but during the summer vacation I dived off a twenty-foot tower onto a man's head. This added several extra cowlicks to his scalp, not to mention the numerous perforations to my lower lip. When I arrived back for the first fall practice, I was called aside by the director at the end of the first number and advised to take up the bass horn. I thought of it as a promotion but later found out that neither of the former bass horn players was allowed to return to school and the director merely needed some one to carry the big shiny horn in parades.

I marched in the next parade, and as I am only five feet seven, I was considerably put out to be met with yells and jeers of "Hey, Horn, where'd ya get the kid," and other similar degraded remarks. By the end of the semester I was playing in concerts, though the director was constantly giving me dirty looks and waving a softening hand in my direction. He always looked relieved when I apparently had a thirty-seven measure rest or lost the place.

Then came the big football trip to Chicago which meant taking the full band in new uniforms. On the way to the station I stopped by the Shelter for a few moments and left my horn unguarded in the front room, much to the delight of some of the brothers and to my later embarrassment. At the station I dismantled the horn, packed it away in its huge case, and put it aboard the baggage car. When I opened it the next morning in Chicago, I found two slickers, three quarts of corn, and five pounds of beef for the school's pet wildcat.

I soon distributed these stow-aways, assembled the horn, and fell in for the parade, but a couple of huge puffs on the first march number convinced me there had been dirty work at the cross roads. A hooked wire soon brought to light two bath towels and someone's "heavies" which the Fraternity brothers had stuffed into the horn.

At noon I was further humiliated when, upon trying to pass through a revolving door at the hotel with my horn, I became stuck. The doorman had to detour traffic through a side door while the house carpenters dismantled the door so that I could back out. I then had to check the thing at an express office next door while I got something to eat. At the football game that afternoon, whenever I would try to put up my horn to play the school pep song with the rest of the band, every one in the next five rows behind me would yell, "DOWN IN FRONT" and heave cushions, megaphones, and pop bottles.

At the banquet that night something was wrong with the rolls and every one started throwing them at the bell of my horn. Only about half of them hit the bell. The rest hit me. Then while making a triumphant march around the room, an over-exuberant alumnus, a noted judge, poured a pitcher of water into the bell of the horn with the rolls. During the concert afterward the other bass player, a Kentucky mountaineer, thinking an intermission near, loaded up with a chew of long green tobacco, and when no intermission was given he was completely out of commission, leaving me to play the entire concert.

The crowning insult to my social pride, however, occurred when we arrived home. The whole student body met us and insisted on marching through town while they agreed to carry the instrument cases. When the station platform finally cleared, there was my bass horn case untouched, while going down the street were three sorority queens carrying one piccolo case. In addition, while unloading the case, I had torn my pants on the baggage car door. You can picture my graceful progress down Main Street, playing with one hand while holding my coat down in the back with the other.

So it was on other trips, sometimes worse and sometimes not so bad. For instance, while on a trip to Charleston, West Virginia, I was suffering with an acute case of arthritis in the ankles. With me struggling with that thirty-eight-pound horn playing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," the drum major got lost and marched two miles out of the way looking for the stadium.

But retribution struck swiftly, though not silently, just before I was graduated. With eight minutes to drive six blocks to play in the senior march, I dashed out the back door and put down the horn while I opened the garage doors. It was not until the back end of the car reared up with a sickening crunch that I remembered where I had left the instrument. A glance under the car and I couldn't distinguish the differential from the spit valve. When I dragged the horn out, I found that the lower half was mashed flat, but by hanging my cape over it, I could hide most of the damage. It played pretty well through the parade and concert and if anything, the tone seemed slightly improved.

These experiences have at least furnished me the supreme insult. When I find myself completely "burned up" with someone, instead of cussing, I just remark that I hope all his children are bass horn players.

International Pivot of Folklore

International authority on folklore, Dr. Stith Thompson, Butler, '07, professor of English and folklore at the University of Indiana, is spending a year in South America on a threefold mission that will take him to all the Latin Americas.

Dr. Thompson will be engaged in inaugurating a folklore service within the Ministry of Education for the government of Venezuela and in executing missions for the Library of Congress, the Guggenheim Foundation, and for folklorists throughout both hemispheres.

To be in South America until the first of next year, he will spend the last six months of his stay in Venezuela, having visited already Peru, Chile, Argentina, and Brazil. He is visiting not only the capitals of these countries, but also provincial towns and especially university towns in Peru and Argentina. The Library of Congress commissioned Dr. Thompson to conduct some searches involving book collections to be added to the library. The Guggenheim Foundation has entrusted him with the responsibility of interviewing candidates for possible fellowships.

First in the United States to hold a chair in folklore, granted at the University of Indiana in 1939, he has been referred to as the international pivot of folklore. He holds the unique position of being the one person known to folklorists the world over, with whom he carries on voluminous correspondence. He has three times been president of the American Folklore Society.

A scholar among scholars, Dr. Thompson has received high commendation for his writings, which have been referred to by his contemporaries as "a monument not only to you but to American scholarship." His newest book, The Folktale, is being translated into Spanish in Argentina. His extensive research has been made not alone in the libraries of this country, but in Ireland, England, Finland, France, and Sweden as well.

Delts Figure in President's Conference

When President Truman called a national conference on fire prevention for May 6, 7, and 8, there were present four Delts who provided much of the leadership which marshalled leading citizens from all over the country for the purpose of developing a practical program for a nation-wide drive against the fire menace. The meeting, which was held in Washington, D. C., was attended by fifteen hundred public officials and representatives of a large number of important business, civic, service, women's, and farm organizations.

United States Attorney General Tom C. Clark, Texas, '22, was one of the principals to appear on the speaking program of the conference.

W. Harold Brenton, Iowa State, '20, banker and manufacturer of Des Moines, Iowa, chairmanned one of six committees which made preliminary studies of the underlying causes for the present excessive loss of life and property by fire and of ways and means for reducing them. Their findings formed the basis for recommendations of the conference. Mr. Brenton's committee was charged with the responsibility of research concerning scientific development and human behavior as applied to fire safety.

Currently Vice-President of Delta Tau Delta, Mr. Brenton has served on the Arch Chapter since 1939. He was re-elected to his present post by the Fifty-Eighth Karnea last summer.

Executive director of the conference was A. Bruce Bielaski, George Washington, '04, assistant general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and World War I chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Past President of the Fraternity, Mr. Bielaski is widely known in Delt circles. He is presently a member of the Committee of the Distinguished Service Chapter.

George G. Traver, Dartmouth, '24, also of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, served the conference as secretary of the committee on Organized Public Support which has developed plans for implementing the recommendations of the conference throughout the country. Mr. Traver is a former vice-president of the Northern Division of the Fraternity.

The objectives of the conference were to emphasize to the public the ever-present danger of fire to human life and material resources and to intensify the work of fire safety in every community.

Under the chairmanship of Major General Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator, the conference brought together distinguished authorities and experts in all phases of fire prevention and control. Committees made preliminary surveys on such subjects as fire prevention education, fire laws, and fire-fighting personnel and equipment.

Tau and Beta Psi Celebrate Anniversaries

Beta Psi

The seventy-fifth anniversary celebration of Beta Psi Chapter at Wabash College has been set for October 17, 18, and 19, 1947, with both the College and Fraternity planning this to be the biggest fraternity reunion ever held on the campus.

Events, which have been arranged to include alumni and their wives, will begin on Friday, October 17, with registration during the afternoon, a buffet dinner at the house, followed by a moonlight organ concert in the Chapel and an old-fashioned songfest.

The program Saturday will offer a choice of activities in the morning—a visit through the College campus and classrooms, a tour of the Lane Home, Ben Hur Study, and other Crawfordsville beauty spots, or a tour of historic sites of Montgomery County, followed by lunch together. In the afternoon in special reserved seats provided through the courtesy of the president and athletic director of Wabash, the group will witness the Butler-Wabash football game. Following the game the chapter will hold open house for the College and friends. In the evening a banquet will be held to honor guests from both the Fraternity and College.

On Sunday the Crawfordsville churches will co-operate and a union service will be held in the Chapel. A dinner will be served at the Shelter, formally ending the anniversary celebration.

Don C. Frist, '20, president of the Beta Psi Alumni Association, is general chairman in charge of the anniversary celebration. Serving on his committee are Richard G. Savidge, '38, program chairman; John L. Curry, '39, treasurer of the Association; and W. L. Grimes, Chicago, '32, an honorary member of Beta Psi.

Edgar H. Evans, '92, one of the oldest living members of Beta Psi, and a trustee of the College, will be present for the celebration.

The undergraduate chapter, working with Chapter Adviser Lawrence L. Sheaffer, '17, will be host to what is expected to be the largest gathering of Wabash Delts in history.

Tau

In 1872 a group of students on the Penn State campus organized under a charter of Delta Tau Delta. At that time it was one of three fraternities at the school. This group was dissolved by an act of the state a year later. From that time until 1912 when fraternities were permitted to function again the chapter was dormant at Penn State. In that year, Tau Chapter was reorganized.

The year of 1947 is, therefore, a banner year for Tau Chapter and Delta Tau Delta on the Penn State campus. It is the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding and the thirty-fifth anniversary of the reorganization. Inasmuch as the other two fraternities did not return to the campus, Tau Chapter is the oldest fraternity at Penn State.

In celebration of these two anniversaries Tau Chapter is planning a special alumni day, October 25, 1947, at State College, with A. J. Murphy, Jr., '38, chairman of the committee in charge. It is hoped that two hundred alumni will return to the campus to join in the observance of these anniversaries.

The program opens on Friday, October 24, with registration and a general get-together for early arrivals. Saturday morning a group picture will be taken and informal gatherings will be held prior to the buffet luncheon at the Shelter. In the afternoon the group will sit in a reserved section in the stadium for the Penn State—West Virginia football game.

Following the game the Commemoration Ceremonies will be conducted at the chapter house from approximately 5:00 to 5:30 o'clock. The banquet will be held at the University Club at 7:00 p. m. Special guests for the affair will be G. Herbert McCracken, President of the Fraternity; Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President; Norman MacLeod, past President of Delta Tau Delta; and Joel Reynolds, President of the Eastern Division. In addition, there will be present Dean Arthur R. Warnock, Dean of Men at Pennsylvania State College; his assistant, Dan DeMarino, President of the Interfraternity Council; Ed Hipsolhim, Alumni Secretary, and his assistant, Ridge Riley; and Bob Higgins, football coach. Principal speakers will be Dr. Ralph Hetzel, President of the College, and President McCracken.

For details respecting housing—at the Nittany Lion Inn for early birds with their reservations—and cost, address communications to the committee chairman, Mr. Murphy, at 416 Ella Street, Wilkesburg, Pennsylvania.

Beta Delta Honors Delt Producer With Reception at New Shelter

On June 12, Beta Delta held a reception for one of her past presidents who went out into the world and made a great name for himself. Lamar Trotti, Twentieth Century Fox writer and producer, was of the graduating class of 1921 and was the president of Beta Delta of that year. He was among the first to graduate in the new school of Journalism that was started in 1920.

Upon graduating from the University of Georgia, Brother Trotti became a reporter for the Atlanta Georgian, a paper that does not exist today. Later he joined a movie publicity organization known as the Johnson Office. It was from this position that he broke into the field of writing movie plays and producing them.

During his first few years as a movie writer, Mr. Trotti wrote and produced such screen favorites as, Judge Priest and Life Begins at Forty. In 1942 he became the producer of the year, when he produced the picture, Wilson, for which he won the coveted Academy Award. Later in 1946 he adapted and produced the very popular movie, Razors Edge.

Among his most recent screen plays to be released soon is the picture, Mother Wore Tights, that will star the beautiful Betty Grable and Dan Dailey. To be released soon, also, is his production of Captain from Castile starring Tyrone Power, Jean Peters, and Cesar Romero.

Alumni of Beta Delta as far back as the class of 1897 were on hand to greet Brother Trotti as well as the President of the University, Harmon Caldwell, and members of the University faculty. Dean William Tate, Col. J. V. V. Shufelt, and Mr. T. M. Philpot were the alumni members that made up the receiving line.

The reception was held in the new home of Beta Delta at the corner of Milledge Avenue and Broad Street in Athens. Mr. Trotti expressed his pleasure in seeing the chapter advance in the manner that it has since its reactivation last July.

Minister to Ireland

Newly appointed United States Minister to Ireland is George A. Garrett, Chicago, '10, investment banker of Washington, D. C. Announcement of the appointment by President Truman was made in April and later confirmed by Congress.

A native of LaCrosse, Wisconsin, Mr. Garrett entered the University of Chicago in 1906, where he distinguished himself in a variety of activities and was an exceptionally popular student. Both quarter-miler and half-miler, he won his "C" in track, and in 1908 he was a member of the famous eight-man track squad which won the Western Conference championship.

Piano-player and song-writer, he composed all of the music one year for the campus musical sponsored by "Black Friars." One of his tunes, "The Big C of Victory," was Chicago's most used football song for several years.

Mr. Garrett entered the banking business early, associating himself with a Chicago firm in 1910. From 1912 to 1917 he was vice-president of the DuPont National Bank of Washington. He later became a partner in the firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, and Beane, investment bankers, and for a number of years was in charge of its Washington office.

TVA Head Speaks at Lawrence

Gordon R. Clapp, new chairman of TVA, received an honorary LL.D. degree on June 8 at the Lawrence College Centennial Commencement Exercises, delivered the Commencement address, and was initiated into Delta Nu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta all on the same day.

An undergraduate member of the original local fraternity at Lawrence which was established in 1935 as Delta Nu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta, Mr. Clapp was certified for initiation at the time of the installation, but, time and distance intervening, was unable to be present for the initial ceremonies. The heavy duties of Mr. Clapp's public service career in other parts of the country prevented his subsequent initiation. It was gratifying, therefore, to the Delts that this opportunity for Mr. Clapp to don the Square Badge, to which he had long been entitled, presented itself.

Mr. Clapp was appointed by President Truman this year as chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority to succeed David E. Lilienthal, who was named chairman of the nation's Atomic Energy Commission.

The new chairman of the most important power development in the United States came to TVA in 1933 and has been with the Authority ever since. After his graduation from Lawrence College in 1927, Mr. Clapp was director of admissions and assistant dean at Lawrence until he went to the University of Chicago to work for his master of arts degree, which he received in 1933. The same year he joined TVA as assistant director of personnel, became personnel director three years later, and in 1939 was named general manager, holding that post until his appointment as chairman. In this capacity he will administer the "second phase" of the TVA program, that of "making the resources of the river serve the needs of the people."

Mr. Clapp also was a member of the President's advisory committee on education from 1936 to 1939 and was chairman of the committee on employee relations in public service of the Civil Service Assembly in 1942.

Anniversary

When Stuart Meelean died in 1935, THE RAINBOW was again edited from the Central Office, this time under the able direction of Hugh Shields, the Comptroller. Two years later THE RAINBOW traveled to Lynchburg, Virginia, with Harry G. Green, former field secretary, as its Editor. Continuing under the wing of the Central Office in 1944, THE RAINBOW maintained uninterrupted publication through the war, bringing Delts news to members scattered all over the world. In the past decade, it emerged more than ever from the status of a mere chronicle, bringing to its readers real service through the medium of such features as the "Economic Life" series, The Eighth General Directory, and the like.

Seventy years have wrought great changes in THE RAINBOW. An initial circulation of slightly more than two hundred has been multiplied by sixty-five. It has chronicled the rapid advance of Delta Tau Delta from twenty undergraduate chapters to seventy-three undergraduate chapters and seventy-five alumni chapters. Through three generations it has brought the Fraternity to its members.

And what of the future? When Frank Rogers assumed the Editor's mantle, he wrote, "THE RAINBOW will be a success in direct ratio to the support it receives from the Fraternity at large." A half century has not dulled the penetration of that observation. We still need our Pumphreys and Axelsons and Tobins. A whole staff of Weemses, Hugheses, Rogers', Macleans, Shields', and Greens couldn't make a go of it unless the heart of the Fraternity were in it.

The progress of the next seventy years of THE RAINBOW, just as that of the past, will be paced by the enthusiasm and participation of all Delts.

The National Membership Committee requests your assistance in the undergraduate chapters' rushing program. Send your membership recommendations to the Central Office.

Choctaw Chapter Chartered in Meadville

The petition for a charter for the establishment of an alumni chapter at Meadville, Pennsylvania, to be known as the Choctaw Alumni Chapter, was granted by the Arch Chapter on March 28, 1947.

The Choctaw Alumni Chapter will be largely composed of Alpha alumni who were active in the famous Choctaw Degree. Some of the objectives of the Choctaw Alumni Chapter are: (1) To collaborate with the local Alpha Chapter at Allegheny College to bring about a closer relationship of alumni and actives; (2) To keep alive the Choctaw traditions at the Lodge of Great Wanahe and Wanaho and to enjoy the mysteries of old Koshgantz, who brews a beverage bitter, draws from Choctaw lore the secrets of the forests, the haunts of owl and newt and rattler, and loves the stars at heaven's door (Fallami Fishick and Fishick Issuba).

On August 27 to 29, 1925, the Forty-Eighth Karnea was held at Alpha at Conneaut Lake, Pennsylvania. On the evening of August 28 the Ancient Choctaw Degree of Delta Tau Delta was given to some six hundred Deltas.

Harley D. Carpenter, Alpha, '09, originator and promoter of the Choctaw Degree, is a member of the new alumni chapter.

OSU Field Director

Kenyon S. Campbell, Ohio Wesleyan, '19, Ohio State, '19, Columbus attorney and former chapter adviser of Beta Phi Chapter, has recently been appointed to the important post of Field Director for the Ohio State Development Fund.

"We doubt whether any alumnus has ever given the University more of his time and labor," reported John B. Fullen, editor of the Ohio State University Monthly. Treasurer of the alumni association for twelve consecutive years, a member of the Board of Directors, he has served on such bodies as the alumni committee for honorary degrees, the alumni committee on the presidency, the football ticket committee, and the committee which organized the Development Fund.

As an undergraduate, he was editor of the yearbook, a member of the student council, on the editorial staff of the campus daily, and elected to two honoraries. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi, legal honorary.

In his community, Upper Arlington, he has served as president of the school board, president of the PTA, and has been active in the Civic Association.

Brotherhood Renewed

When Pinky "Object of My Affection" Tomlin, Delta Alpha, recently arrived from Los Angeles with his fourteen-piece band and no hotel reservations, Idaho Deltas exchanged their bunks for the living room rug to make room for the weary bandsmen. Two midnight till daylight jam sessions and participation by the band in a sweetheart serenade amply repaid the chapter for its hospitality. In his thanks to Delta Mu, Pinky stated that he had almost forgotten what it means to be a Delt, and that his stay renewed his appreciation of membership in Delta Tau Delta.

The photograph of the speakers' table at the National Capital Founders Day banquet, which appears on Page 200, was used through the courtesy of John G. Norris, George Washington, '29, of the Washington Post. Other photographs of banquet scenes were furnished by Robert E. Newby, George Washington, '24.

DR. ROBERT F. HALL

Wins Fischbach Foundation Award

Dr. Robert F. Hall, Colorado, '40, has been named first recipient of a scholarship under The Fischbach Residency Foundation. The selection was announced by the Foundation committee in July.

The award is made annually to a member or members of the Fraternity who are doing, or are about to do, graduate training beyond internship in a hospital recognized by the American College of Surgeons or by the American Medical Association. The scholarship consists of a monthly cash payment in an amount which is determined by the Foundation committee.

Dr. Hall, who is specializing in orthopedics, began a residency July 1 at the Colorado General Hospital in Denver, Colorado. He recently completed a postgraduate course in orthopedics at the University of Iowa.

A veteran of three years' service with the United States Army Medical Corps, Dr. Hall is a graduate of the University of Colorado and the University of Colorado Medical School, finishing in the upper sixth of his class. As an undergraduate, he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Scimitar, sophomore men's honorary.

Dr. Hall is married and has a son two years old.

▼ FROM THE FRATERNITY-COLLEGE WORLD ▼

A mushroom growth of new chapters, chapter reactivations, and colonies characterizes the interfraternity scene today. Capitalizing on the superabundance of man power available on the college campuses, many national fraternities have become expansion-minded and are planting their colors in more and more colleges and universities on a nationwide scale.

Numerically Tau Kappa Epsilon tops the list. From January 18 to March 8, six new chapters were chartered at the following institutions: North Carolina State, Oklahoma A. & M., University of Maryland, Tri State, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, and Missouri School of Mines. In addition, The Teke reports that reactivation of chapters at Nebraska and the University of California is under way, and locals are being developed at the University of Missouri and U. C. L. A.

Alpha Tau Omega recently enjoyed the greatest month of expansion in its history. Between April 25 and May 25, four new chapters were installed and the chapter at the University of Montana reactivated. The new chapters are located at Middlebury, Monmouth, Northwestern, and Oklahoma A. & M.

Last January 3, the Miami Triad—Sigma Chi, Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Delta Theta—entered Willamette University, Salem, Oregon, en masse. Sigma Chi's new chapter became its one hundred and fourth. Phi Delta Theta's chapter roll was increased to 108. The month before Phi Delta Theta had entered two other new fields—Oklahoma A. & M. and the University of New Mexico.

Zeta Beta Tau during the past few months has begun new chapters at the University of Miami (Florida), University of Indiana, and University of Colorado, in that order. Moreover, it has colonies operating, with the approval of the administrations, at the Universities of Florida, Maryland, and Arkansas.

A chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa was installed May 3 at the University of Texas.

Theta Chi, on March 29, went into Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania. Guest speaker at the installation ceremonies was Dr. Herbert L. Spencer, Carnegie Tech, '21, president of the University. Incidentally, Bucknell celebrated its centennial anniversary during the past school year.

Southern California is coming in for its share of attention. A chapter of Acacia was established there March 8, and the May issue of the Beta Theta Pi announces the formation of a Beta colony at that school.

Summer, of course, is convention time for college fraternities, and there are plenty of spirited Greek-letter gatherings on the calendar. Beta Theta Pi is having its 108th General Convention September 1 to 4 at the Poland Spring house, Poland Spring, Maine. Kappa Sigma will meet at Edgewater Park, Mississippi, September 2 to 5 for its thirty-sixth biennial grand conclave. Sigma Phi Epsilon's first postwar national conclave will be in Kansas City September 2 to 4.

The victory convention of Phi Kappa Tau was held June 26 to 28 at the Spink-Wawasee Hotel, Wawasee, Indiana. Lincoln, Nebraska, is the scene of Theta Xi's seventy-fourth national convention August 27 to 30. Other conventions in August include Kappa Alpha Order in Savannah, Georgia; Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Mackinac Island, Michigan; and Delta Sigma Pi at the Radisson Hotel in Minneapolis.

One hundred years old, Theta Delta Chi Fraternity held its centennial convention June 27 to 30 at Hotel Sagamore, Bolton Landing, Lake George, New York. As a part of the convention, members made a pilgrimage to Union College, Schenectady, where a commemorative service was held in Union Memorial Chapel. Ceremonies which followed dedicated a plaque commemorating the fraternity's founding at Union College in 1847.

▼ AROUND THE FIREPLACE ▼

WITH GOOD DELTS

By Martin B. Dickinson, Kansas, '26

College campuses, with few exceptions, are overflowing with students. Record enrollments are expected to increase for at least a year or two. They will surely decrease within a few years, but many expect the total to remain far above the 1940 level. Most colleges and universities have immense expansion programs, both in physical plant and curriculum. Former teachers' colleges and technical schools are granting the A. B. degree and are becoming universities.

Fraternity house bills have not kept pace with increased living costs and frequently offer bargain accommodations. On many campuses most men can afford membership in even the most expensive fraternity chapters.

More men want fraternity membership, however, than can be assimilated by existing chapters, bloated as many of them are. For the good of the entire fraternity system, it is obviously desirable to make available to a great number of college men the benefits of fraternity membership.

In response to this demand, many fraternities are establishing new chapters throughout the country. The policies which govern such expansion have ranged from extreme conservatism to indiscriminate chartering of new groups.

This article is intended to be a report of what Delta Tau Delta is doing about expansion. Other effects of current conditions must be considered separately.

In 1942, when the outlook was blackest, the Arch Chapter realized some of the problems Delta Tau Delta would face if the fraternity system survived the war. At that time there was established a standing Committee on Chapters and Charters, of which the writer has been Chairman since 1944 and of which the other members are Don C. Wheaton, Charles Pearson, Jr., and Joel W. Reynolds.

The first effort was to find out what could, should, or must be done to re-establish our existing chapters satisfactorily. The situation of every chapter and its prewar operation were reviewed and specific programs blueprinted where they were found advisable. These programs necessarily related to guidance and assistance from the Central Office and to improved alumni participation; no requirements were made for performance by undergraduates. Two chapters did not survive, but in every instance where conditions in the institution itself permitted successful operation, these programs have been or are being followed, and the chapters in question are now stronger than they were in 1940; the last is reopening in September, 1947.

The next phase of the work of the Committee, commenced long before the end of the war, was a review of the institutions in the United States and Canada in which the Fraternity was not then represented, to determine where it might profitably expand. More recently, we have been aided in this work by literally dozens of inquiries, if not outright applications, from officials or students on the campus of practically every institution of higher learning in the United States and Canada of which any member of the Committee has heard, and a good many of which we have not.

Consideration of specific institutions for expansion necessarily required review of our expansion policy. Delta Tau Delta has long regarded herself as conservative on that subject, though nearly all of us have been willing to expand to good institutions on a sound basis. The present Arch Chapter retains that thinking, necessarily modified in the direction of expansion by the many opportunities available, as against the years when it seemed unlikely any new chapter could succeed.

Our first requirement continues to be that the institution be sound educationally. It is indispensable that it be fully accredited by the Association of American Universities and the appropriate regional accrediting agency. It is preferred that it be recognized by the leading honorary societies, such as Phi Beta Kappa, if it has a liberal arts college. We cannot expect to build on a foundation of sand. We cannot expect a chapter to be sounder or better than the institution where it is. We do not define educational standing in terms of football, politics, or emotion; we rely on the judgment of specialists in that field.

A number of institutions are in the process of transition to the type of institution in which the Fraternity places chapters. Many of these were formerly teachers' colleges and had fraternities which were of a different group or classification from Delta Tau Delta. This situation has raised rather difficult questions, in some instances seriously embarrassing to fraternities which have rushed into these institutions before they were accredited by the Association of American Universities.

Next, we consider the institution as a field for national fraternities. A few institutions apparently are either not suited to the development of group life or actively discourage it; others tolerate or encourage it, but only on an essentially local basis, though in some instances through chapters of fraternities which are "national" in the sense that they have the same name and badge as chapters at other institutions. On the other hand, many institutions actively desire to promote fraternity life and offer the fullest co-operation to such organizations as Delta Tau Delta.

Delta Tau Delta is far beyond the stage of sneaking onto any campus. Our Fraternity will establish a new chapter only with the co-operation and approval of the college administration from the beginning. Sev-

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Alpha—Allegheny

The Choctaw, so named in deference to the honorary degree originating at Alpha Chapter on the Allegheny campus, was revived this year and sent out to alumni and interested friends by the Alpha undergraduates.

In addition the chapter personnel was busy entrenching its position on the campus with intramural activity which saw the Deltas champions in the softball league and out in front in the first half of the basketball competition. Two positions on the all-star intramural football team were held down by Alpha men.

Mack Cook represented the chapter in campus honoraries, being a member of Phi Beta Phi.

Alumni interest was courted with the monthly tureen suppers at the Shelter and the alumni banquet June 7 at the Shelter.

Varsity letters were won by Rush Stunder and Ralph Roberts in soccer, Dave Miller in baseball, and Paul Berner in track.

At the all-college carnival the Delt booth, a "gambling" concession, was an attraction.

R. A. Cox of the class of 1916 has been named general trustee of the College.

Beta—Ohio

Coach Frank B. Gullum is in his twenty-seventh year as adviser of Beta Chapter at Ohio State and is proud of the record made by the chapter this year. Achievements include the burning of the mortgage at the Shelter November 23, 1946, which was homecoming. During the homecoming celebration the Beta Shelter was adjudged second, with the decorations attracting a large number of spectators, many of whom took snapshots of the house.

The scholastic achievements of the chapter and the individual members were good, with the actives placing second of all fraternities and first of fraternities with more than fifteen members, and the pledges second of all fraternities, all in the first semester of the current year. Don Day and Robert Bloor were tapped by Phi Beta Kappa; John Stauffer and Keith Fox by Torch, senior men's honorary; and Fred Esterly, Robert Bloor, Don Day, James Shreffler, Don Staker, and Clare Grosenbaugh by Phi Eta Sigma.

Active in campus affairs were Herbert Klier, Student Council president; Keith Fox, senior class vice-president; Alan Himelick, associate editor, Ohio University Post, campus newspaper; John Nolan, captain, Pershing Rifles; John Prisel, president of Men's Glee Club; and Ted Evans, assistant director, Men's Glee Club.

Fourteen varsity letters decorated the members: Football, John Clark, Richard Miller, A. H. Borgman, and John Laughbridge; basketball, William Hasselback, Phil Perry, Gene Gyurko, and Robert Johnson; track, John Nolan, Robert Hanna, and Ed Mazzocco; cheerleading, John Stauffer; tennis, Ted Evans; and swimming, James Wilbraham. In intramural athletics the chapter's teams placed second in football, pledge basketball, and active volleyball.

Thomas Hoover, '05, retired from active teaching at the University this past year.

Delta—Michigan

Brotherhood at Michigan flourishes this year, both blood and fraternal, with five sets of brothers in the active and pledge groups of Delta's postwar chapter.

Alumni participated in the events of the chapter with attendance at the Iota Chapter installation at Michigan State College February 28 and at the Delta initiation banquet March 15.

Ranking eleventh of thirty-one fraternities on campus, the chapter was represented in Tau Beta Pi by Marion L. Callahan and in Phi Eta Sigma by Robert Foote and Kenneth Bay.

Pledge Robert Zinn won the intramural golf championship, and varsity letters were won by William Ludolph in golf and Arthur Johnson in swimming.

Campus positions were held as follows: Robert Foote, Interfraternity Council; William McConnell, chairman, homecoming dance; Clayton Dickey, city editor, Michigan Daily; Arthur Higbee, editorial writer, Michigan Daily; and Kenneth Bay and John Forrestel, feature writers, Michigan Technic.

Epsilon—Albion

Three members of Epsilon won gold letters at Albion, denoting membership on three out of four varsity teams. They are Bill Kasler, Don Denton, and Harold Quebbeman. Gaver Athey and Paul Deller won track letters; John Mayne won a letter in tennis; Bob Morr and Spud Sparling in football, and Bob Morr was All MIAA blocking back.

Intramurally, the chapter won the swimming championship and tennis championship and tied for the basketball trophy with Delta Sigma Phi.

Prominent positions on campus during the past year were held by: Jack Pahl, president of senior class; John Ferentz, president of Economics Club; John Gardner, business manager of Albionian; Bill Richards, business manager of Plied; Dick Campbell, treasurer of Phi Mu Alpha; and Wilbur Johnston, vice-president of Physics Club.

Marquis Shattuck, '12, received an honorary doctor's degree in business administration from the College at commencement June 2.

Zeta—Western Reserve

The spring formal at the Lake Shore Country Club June 6 climaxed the year's social events for Zeta Chapter at Western Reserve University, which had been highlighted during the winter by an alumni banquet in February at the University Club and the Christmas formal at the Hotel Hollenden.

The basement of the chapter house has been painted and a recreation room is nearly completed, paneled in knotty pine. It is the only room of its type among the fraternities on campus.

Athletic captaincies centered in the Delt house included basketball, Bob Roberts; cocaptain, football, Tom Lange; cocaptains, track, Jack Mercer and Hank Sazima; and swimming, Pat Clark. Varsity letters were won by Tom Lange and Ed Lewis, in football; Pat Clark and Dan Griesse, in swimming; Dick Oldenburg, in tennis; Bob Roberts, in basketball; and Bob Patterson and Hank Sazima, in track.

Omicron Delta Kappa claimed Jim McKim, Dan Griesse, Bob Roberts, and Dave Alden. Bruce Doolittle was vice-president of the senior class; Marling Able, student council representative; Dave Alden, interfraternity council vice-president; and Pat Clark, interfraternity council.

Zeta's team was the "A" bowling league champs. Other intramural teams placed as follows: swimming, second place; track, second place; football, runner-up; and the chapter won second place in the interfraternity sing.

Iota—Michigan State

Iota Chapter, oldest and newest at Michigan State, is living up to expectations. Reactivated fifty years to the month after it was withdrawn in 1897, Iota returned to the campus with a flourish last February 28. More than 300 Delts attended installation ceremonies and predicted that with such a send-off Iota would surely succeed. And now Iota is paying off on that promise.

Her members have swung into action on campus activities. Neale Schermerhorn was elected as one of two representatives for fraternities to the student council. Jerry McCarthy is treasurer of the junior class. Bob Kinney, Iota's vice-president, is president of the Newman Club, vice-president of the national forensic honorary, and student delegate for Michigan State to the National Student Organization Convention, to be held at the University of Wisconsin this summer. Other Delts in key posts are Phil Werner, president of R. O. T. C. officers club; Pledge Joe Sherman, vice-president of the same group; Chapter President Warren Eddy, psychology club treasurer; John Otto, assistant director of the men's glee club; Bob Atha, IFC representative; and Bill Morse, chief counselor of Snider Hall and member of campus junior honorary.

Gerlaugh is Tau Beta Pi. Schmitzer is a member of the business honorary, as is Brown. Brown is also in Phi Kappa Phi and the forensic honorary.

In varsity athletics, Shomin lettered in track, Pledge Hickey in boxing, and Zito in football. Fike and Shuler played jayvee football.

Iota received a nod from the campus newspaper for being the leader in campus-wide cleaning. Pledges scrubbed the walk in front of Beaumont Tower and policed the area, in the heart of the campus, which drew favorable comment that it was good to see "constructive pledge work" instead of fraternity hazing.

One of three fraternities on campus having a housemother, Delts have stepped up the tempo of their activities with such things as entering IFC sing and Water Carnival competition, entertaining at dinner disabled vets from Percy Jones Hospital, having Delt orchestra leader Bob Strong dedicate a song to Iota during spring "Mardi Gras" dance, entertaining five youngsters from Delt Floyd Starr's Commonwealth School (Michigan's Boys' Town), dining MSC's Dean of Women and secretary to the Dean of Men, and raising the cocker pup "Iota" to be chapter mascot.

Iota is moving forward with the finesse of a chapter seventy-five years old.

Kappa—Hillsdale

Two Kappa alumni, S. Benjamin Harvey and Fred N. Dewey, both of the class of 1887, returned to Hillsdale this spring to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the graduation.

The two alumni found that the undergraduate chapter had received first place in group scholarship on the campus for the first semester, with four members in Epsilon Delta Alpha, local scholastic honorary, Charles Bretschneider, Charles Kline, David DeCamp, and William Friedrichs.

Robert Crankshaw, president of the junior class and chapter vice-president, was business manager of the Collegian. Bill Moore was president of the sophomore class.

Gil Edson, who was voted the most valuable player of the 1946-47 basketball team, tied for high scorer in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Other athletic achievement is evidenced by varsity football letters won by Tom Clarke, Bob Cort, John Cuddeback, Bub Giaque, Bernie Link, Charles Martin, and Bob McNeilage. Russ Rowe and Don Lang received varsity letters in baseball.

Mu—Ohio Wesleyan

Mu Chapter at Ohio Wesleyan was outstanding not only in campus affairs but in Ohio intercollegiate circles. The chorus took second place in the All-Ohio Interfraternity Sing and Alex Cook won first prize on the cartoon competition for the Ohio College Newspaper Association contest.

On campus it was represented in extracurricular activities by Bob Stauter, secretary-treasurer of the student body; Art Brandeberry, advertising manager of Le Bijou, yearbook; Jack Gale, editor-elect of Le Bijou; James Kratt, president, Red Circle Club, varsity managers; Mike Kevesdy, college social chairman and president of Bishop Boosters; Bob Bruce, leader of campus dance band; and Richard Peters, sports editor, Le Bijou. In addition Bob Stauter and Sherwood Rowland are Phi Beta Kappa; Bob Stauter, Sherwood Rowland, Kelly Danford, and Arthur Brandeberry, Omicron Delta Kappa; Bob Stauter, Pi Sigma Alpha and Delta Sigma Rho; Sherwood Rowland and Alex Cook, Pi Delta Epsilon; Kelly Danford and Henry Strachan, Theta Alpha Phi; Sherwood Rowland and Kenneth Brown, Chi Gamma Nu; and Kelly Danford, James Kratt, Jack Frieg, Manning Wetherholt, and Roger Turrell, Phi Mu Alpha.

Alumni participated in the initiation and reunion February 23, homecoming November 2, and commencement and reunion of classes of '26, '27, and '28, June 7 and 8.

Dr. C. L. Ballinger, '22, was elected president of the Ohio Osteopathic Association.

Varsity letters were attained by John Racin, Mike Kevesdy, and John Knapp in football; Sherwood Rowland in basketball; Bob Brown in baseball; Bob Thompson and Bruce Myers in tennis; Miles Prescott in golf; and Paul Hummel in swimming. Gordon Newell and James Kratt were varsity managers.

The prize-winning chapter chorus broadcast over station WMRN, Marion, Ohio, in December, and over station WHKC, Columbus, May 8.

Nu—Lafayette

William Greenip, Nu, '47, won the George Wharton Pepper award, a prize of $100 given annually to the senior who, by vote of the faculty and students, most nearly represents the Lafayette ideal. He was also captain of the varsity football squad.

Vice-president of Tau Beta Pi, William Anderson, is also president of the student chapter of American Society of Civil Engineers. Tau Beta Pi elected Capt. James T. Reside, USNR, '14, to membership. Capt. Reside spoke on April 15, 1947, on "Navy's Combat Docks" and several hundred attended.

Pledges of Nu and Omega Chapters were initiated in a combined ceremony held in conjunction with the celebration of Omega's fiftieth anniversary celebration April 12. A banquet followed with the active chapters from Lehigh, Penn, and Lafayette participating. Speakers were President McCracken and Alvan E. Duerr.

Members in campus activities include Herbert Steele, Maroon Key, and Edward Matthews, student council. Dave Updegrove received a varsity letter in tennis; George Miller, in soccer; and Bob Adams, in baseball.

Omicron—Iowa

Omicron Chapter at Iowa is having its house redecorated this summer and is pointing toward a concerted rushing season with three summer rush dinners to be given over the state.

John Krabbenhoft is an executive member of Interfraternity Council. Jim Fencil is interfraternity wrestling champion and Bob Giegle received a major "I" award with a minor "I" going to Duke Lindeman.

Scholarship in the chapter improved with the group moving from eighth place to sixth of fourteen fraternities the second semester of the past year.

Rho—Stevens

Feature of Springs Sports Day at Stevens, May 17, was an auto race conducted by Upsilon Chapter between two Model T's, 1924 vs. 1926, after the lacrosse game. The 1924 model, driven by C. R. Lea, won when Bill Rademeakers pushed it across the finish line to nose out Bob Gooley's 1926 "Jet."

Upsilon won the plaque for interfraternity bowling championship this past year.

Members of the chapter who held prominent positions on campus during the past year include W. R. Spernow, vice-president of the senior class and Khoda, senior honorary society; T. F. Kavanagh, president of the Interfraternity Council and W. R. McQuaid, also president of the Council.

Scholastic honors were won by Spernow and Kavanagh, and J. Dodd, as well, who was in Gear and Triangle.

Athletic achievement was paced by Spernow as captain of the lacrosse team, who won a letter in lacrosse. Other lacrosse letters were won by Arve Larsson and D. Cordell. R. Gooley won a letter in soccer and J. Dodd one in basketball.

Tau—Penn State

House party week end was celebrated by Tau Chapter at Penn State May 23. Brother Clark Daugherty and Mrs. Daugherty were chaperones. Other alumni present included Brother Ray Leffler and Mrs. Leffler, Lt. Bob Morrow, and Joe Steel, who was on vacation at that time.

Delts active in campus affairs include Robert W. Moore, business manager of the Penn State Glee Club, and Len Ritchie, recently elected to Druids honorary society for his prowess on the lacrosse field.

Tau won the intramural soccer trophy for the past season.

Frank Delp recently was touched by Lady Luck and won a new Ford sedan.

Upsilon—Rensselaer

Upsilon, or Delta Tau Delta, and lacrosse seem to be synonymous at Rensselaer this year with twelve men on the varsity team and thirteen on the jayvee's. The Delt lacrosse team played a game against the RPI varsity team with the Delts victors in a close contest. This game was the focal event of alumni day, which was attended by more than thirty "oldtimers." Daymon Jordan, last year an All-American lacrosse player, was again this year picked to play on the All-North team in the annual North-South game played in Baltimore. Daymon in preliminary practices before the big game showed such exceptional ability that the North's attack was built around him. In the all-star game June 6 he justified this faith by scoring four goals to lead the North's scoring rampage which trounced the All-South squad 15-3, the greatest score in the history of the game. Jordan was also awarded the BOR trophy for the outstanding freshman athlete and is captain-elect of the lacrosse team.

Varsity letters in other sports were won by Walt Young, Dick Scarrazzo, Larry O'Connor, Bill Peace, Jim Grimm, Machado Mead, J. J. Donahue, Spence Spaulding, Arthur Beard, Bill Coleman, Chuck Connors, Bob Speed, and Emmet Mann. Daymon Jordan is captain-elect of the lacrosse team and Arthur Beard captain of the football team. Beard was elected to the Hall of Fame for Athlete of the Year, having won letters in football, track, and lacrosse.

Upsilon won the interfraternity championships in softball, bowling, and ping-pong. The chapter's glee club has been quite active in campus events, presented a performance at a local church, and recorded several numbers.

Don Pollock was the student chairman of the Coach Harkness Day celebration, the second time in the history of the school that such an event was ever held, honoring a member of the coaching staff.

Upsilon Delts active in campus affairs included Walt Young, editor of Transit and treasurer of the junior class; Machado Mead, president of Pi Tau Sigma, secretary of Phalanx, and secretary of senior class; Arthur Beard, president of Phalanx; Charlie MacMorrow, manager of WHAZ, radio station on campus; and Lawrence O'Connor, treasurer of Pi Tau Sigma. Arthur Beard was a member of Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu; Pi Tau Sigma included Delts Machado Mead, Ralph Splittberger, and Larry O'Connor; Phalanx tapped Charlie Connors, Larry O'Connor, Walt Young, Arthur Beard, Machado Mead, Bill Peace, and Bob Speed. Machado Mead is also a member of Pi Delta Epsilon.

Phi—W. & L.

For the third year straight and for the sixth time in the last eight years, Phi Chapter has won the University's intramural championship, taking individual honors in four different sports.

Other honors have been plentiful during the past school year. The pledge delegation was awarded the Phi Eta Sigma trophy for having the highest scholastic average of any pledge class on campus. Valedictorian of the class of '47 was Delt Rodney M. Cook. Three of the seven W. & L. students elected to Phi Beta Kappa are Delts—Rodney Cook, Joe Rowe, and Jim Farrar. These three are also members of Phi Eta Sigma, scholastic honorary, Rowe being president of the organization.

Other Delts prominent on campus include Bob Mosby, business manager of the school newspaper and secretary of the publications board; Lynch Christian, executive committeeman from the senior class; Frank Brooks, president of the sophomore class; Dick Spindle, president of Omicron Delta Kappa and co-editor of the Law Review; Don Moxham, one of two student representatives on the University committee on intercollegiate athletics; and Charles Rowe, vice-president of Sigma Delta Chi.

On the athletic field, Don Moxham, Harry Wellford, and Jim Farrar earned varsity letters in tennis; Gordon Sibley and John McKelway in golf; Lynch Christian in swimming; Frank Brooks, Gill Brooks, and Tom Tongue in lacrosse. Moxham and Sibley captained their teams. Wellford is tennis captain-elect.

Tongue and Frank Brooks were named to the Southern all-star lacrosse team which met the Northern all-stars in Baltimore on June 6 in the highlight game of collegiate lacrosse.

Phi Chapter's personnel represents a cross section of America. Its members hail from nineteen different states and the District of Columbia.

Chi—Kenyon

Senior class president, student assembly president, president of the Kenyon Klan, and cocaptain of the football team, former chapter President Arthur "Sparky" Vail sparked Chi Chapter to a successful year on the hill, which included such achievements as the intramural victory cup awarded to the fraternity accumulating the most points in all sports and the Wertheimer Cup awarded to the fraternity which places the most men on the football squad.

With twelve members on the Kenyon Klan, ten varsity letters in football, five in basketball, three in baseball, three in golf, six in track, two in tennis, and two in swimming, Chi rounded out its activities by placing members in key positions on the campus. They were: Charles Rhemus, senior council president; Dick Hershberger, president of intramural board; Robert Carruth, literary society president; David Endsley, secretary-treasurer of the junior class; and William Fine, John Pritchard, and Ted Judd, all business managers of different campus publications.

Individual honors came to Charles O. Hering, Jr., winner of the Hoag Football Sportsmanship Trophy; Eppa Rixey and David Bell, all-conference basketball selections; and Carl Cooke, who with Vail shared captaincy of the football team. Rixey was also basketball captain.

Add to this the expert touch of a hard working social committee which sponsored numerous memorable social events, and you have a red-letter page in the history of Chi at Kenyon.

Omega—Pennsylvania

Omega Chapter celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its founding during a school year that was crammed with activity.

Chapter members are making a strong bid for prominence in campus activities. Among those who are representing Omega are Robert Dodge, business staff of the campus daily, Jim Horn, manager of freshman Mask & Wig, and Les Deming, secretary of the sophomore class council. Edward Hoffman, David Mulford, and Bill Blum are all members of Friars. Such members as Kevin Tolan in the editorial and choral societies, Ray Silva on the student board of directors, Joe Codori in the Penn Players, dramatic club, Bob Brunner on the rifle team, Bob Reynolds who is vice-president of the veterans club, and Larry Layton in Beta Gamma Sigma have aided the activities program.

A varsity swimming letter was won by Bill Schindler. Freshman numerals were won by the following: Bob Godfrey, tennis; Les Deming and Tom Wadlow, crew; Gus Grandy, track; and Frank Harri-man, swimming.

Honors won by the chapter include first in intramural pool and runner-up in the school's poster contest held during Navy week end.

Beta Alpha—Indiana

The largest pledge class in the history of Beta Alpha Chapter was initiated March 16 when nineteen members received the Square Badge. A good delegation of alumni was present.

The year 1946-47 was one which showed advances in scholarship, activities, alumni interest, and other phases of Fraternity endeavor. William Faulkner, with a 2.9 average, was recipient of the freshman scholarship award. During the year, Harry Wallace, in addition to knocking down top-notch grades, served as secretary of the Union Board.

In the honoraries, John Curtis, Bill Fraser, and Robert Coffin are members of Sphinx Club. George Browne, Bill Ringle, and Harry Wallace are members of Falcon Club. Dave Englehart, Robert Lentz, and Robert Klepper are members of Skull and Crescent.

Varsity lettermen were Delmar Russell, football, and Jerry Stuteville, basketball.

An alumnus of Beta Alpha who has recently won national recognition is William E. Jenner, United States Senator. At the Northern Division Conference, Ernie Miller was re-elected Division vice-president.

The chapter is fortunate in having for its chapter adviser Dr. Leon Wallace, of the Indiana law school faculty.

Beta Beta—DePauw

Reorganization of the Mothers Club, celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary November 11, 1946, and observance of alumni day June 14, 1947, highlighted the year insofar as activity in conjunction with the alumni was concerned on the DePauw campus by the Beta Beta Chapter.

Scholastic honors were maintained with Bill Dailey, Jack Hardebeck, and Don Torchiana becoming members of Phi Beta Kappa. Bill Dailey, Jack Bundy, and Charles Aschmann were tapped by Gold Key.

Varsity letters were won by Joe Boyd in basketball; Bob Brown, track; Art Zwierlein, track; Bob Bugh, tennis, and Jack Bundy, baseball.

Beta Gamma—Wisconsin

As a group Beta Gamma Delts were out in front on the Wisconsin campus the past school year with the chapter placing first in the homecoming decorations competition sponsored by the Interfraternity Council, first in division basketball, third in golf, and in the finals in "Humerology" (campus skits). The "Humerology" production was for the relief of crippled children, and the Delts were in the finals.

Forty men from Beta Gamma participated in all-campus workday. On Legislator's Day six members conducted senators about the campus.

Clarence Esser was named honorary football captain. Jim Cleary is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, and Louis Robinson, secretary of Alpha Kappa Psi. Varsity letters in football were awarded to Clarence Esser, Gail Butt, Tom Corral, and Stuart Locklin. Jim Oeland won a letter in fencing; Jerry Wallon, golf; Nelson Waity and Stuart Locklin, baseball; and Fred Suckow and Robert Herman, crew.

Beta Delta—Georgia

Reactivated less than a year, Beta Delta Chapter has bounced back into the fraternity picture at Georgia with a spirit that has already earned for it the distinction of having the highest scholastic average of any men's Greek organization at the University.

Spearheading the spurt in scholarship was James Sirmans, whose achievements merited membership in Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. Jim received, also, a scholarship award from Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity. Chapter President Dan Stanley set an outstanding example for his brothers with an average of 96.20 for the year. Dick Lewis, freshman, finished the year with an average of 93.96 and received the scholarship key which is awarded annually by Dean of Men William Tate. Beta Delta, '24, to the Delt who achieves the highest scholastic average during his freshman year.

In campus affairs, Dan Stanley was secretary of the interfraternity council; Boone Boggs was assistant news editor of the school paper; Sirmans was editorial staff member of the same publication; and Lee Dickens was member of Phi Delta Phi, law honorary. The chapter won third place in the annual stunt show, winning first among fraternities.

The housing problem has been solved by the acquisition of a new Shelter, which far outshines the former residence. One of the first events to be held at the new Shelter was a reception on June 12 for Delt Lamar Trotti, movie writer and producer and featured speaker of alumni day at the University of Georgia.

Beta Epsilon—Emory

Dooley's Frolics (named for the skeleton Goodrich C. Dooley—the only skeleton listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities) this year chose as its theme the United Nations. The Delts decorated and disguised as Egyptians. Props included a river boat, the Nile and its "Delta," two massive pyramids (scrawled on one: Kilroy was here), prexy Bill Taylor waving at passersby from his mummy case, and a sign in the center of it all which read simply "Sphinx, doesn't it?" Modern touch was a partially constructed pyramid with signs which read "Local Pyramid Builders 418, E. F. of L., on Strike."

The Grand Ball was a fitting climax to a year which saw several honors come to Beta Epsilon. The chapter won the campus golf championship. Ray Hull and Jim Ridley

1. "Puddles," mascot of the University of Oregon, a resident of the Gamma Rho Shelter.

2. Gamma Rho's prize-winning float.

3. Costume prizes being awarded at Gamma Psi's Artists' Ball at Georgia Tech.

4. New initiates at Gamma Psi: SNELLING, GREASER, SEEGAR, MORROW, and JONES.

5. Miss TOVEY SESSIONS, elected Delta Sweetheart by Westminster Delts.

6. The pledges of Delta Omicron beautify the Shelter's landscaping at Westminster.

were letter winners in cross country and swimming, respectively, and members of "E" Club. Oscar Adams served IFC as secretary, Lucien Harris represented the business school on student council, and Dan Plunket was glee club librarian.

Plunket and John McLellan were initiated into A. E. U., honorary scholastic fraternity. Jim Ridley was a member of Eta Sigma Psi, leadership honorary.

Beta Epsilon is the chapter of two Delt senators—Alben W. Barkley, minority leader from Kentucky, and Tom Stewart, of Tennessee. Professor W. A. Strozier, head of Emory's foreign languages department, is faculty adviser to the student honor council.

Beta Zeta—Butler

Beta Zeta is keeping the winning tradition alive at Butler University. For the fourth consecutive year, its members won the interfraternity spring sing, and for the third year running they won the homecoming decorations contest.

Past chapter President Bill Ransdell led the campus in offices and activities. Editor of both the school paper and the campus directory, president of the senior class, president of Loyalty Legion, he was a member of Sigma Delta Chi and winner of the outstanding journalism student award. Other Deltas who are members of the journalism honorary are Carl Henn, Bob Watkins, and Art Graham.

Scott Christie, head of Beta Zeta, was treasurer of the sophomore class and vice-president of Utes. Byron Fry is president of the campus YMCA.

A member whose scholastic prowess won for him the outstanding freshman award and membership in Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary, is Clyde Steckel.

In athletics, Beta Zeta contributed four letter-winners in track in Cline, Simonton, Farmer, and Steckel. James Cline was elected captain of track. Lester Dold was a member of Butler's conference champion football team.

The current year saw the revival of Beta Zeta's annual three-day house party at Spring Mill State Park. The formal initiation and banquet at the Athletic Club on March 19 brought out a record attendance of more than one hundred alumni.

Beta Eta—Minnesota

The Deltas walked off with the interfraternity sing title on May 13, performing "Battle Hymn of the Republic," an arrangement by Fred Waring, who also has a glee club, and "Delta, Delta Tau." Leader Johnny Madson and his group were asked to repeat their numbers a week later at an all-University sing.

Beta Eta has received considerable recognition for what has been called the "political propensities" of its members. Besides two class presidents—Norm Groth of the juniors and Paul Johnston of the freshmen—there are Rick Wickberg on the Union Board, Tom Allen on the sophomore cabinet and board of publications, Dave Clemens on the senior cabinet, Bob Culver on the arts board, and John Zoller on the business board. Norm Groth was recently elected president of All-U Council, highest all-student governing body on campus.

Bud Sweet is president of the R. O. T. C. cadet officers club. Both Doug Miller and Bob Carlson hold executive positions in Scabbard and Blade. Carlson was given the Sons of the American Revolution award for scholarship and military proficiency in R. O. T. C. Jim McGovern is a letterman in football.

During the annual main election this spring, the Deltas ran six candidates and had five elected, which is more than any other group, Greek or non-Greek, had on a campus of 28,000 students.

The annual spring formal at Westwood Hills Country Club, preceded by a steak dinner at the Shelter, with music by Delt Johnny Madson's band, was a gala occasion. The annual alumni banquet in April produced Supervisor of Scholarship Clemens R. Frank, of Cleveland, as guest speaker.

An alumnus of Beta Eta, George MacKinnon was elected to the United States House of Representatives during the past year. Chapter Adviser Otto Silha was elected vice-president of the Northern Division and was recently promoted to promotion manager of the Minneapolis Star.

Beta Theta—Sewanee

Beta Theta entertained its alumni who attended special commencement exercises in June, emphasizing the endowment and building fund campaign which the University of the South has launched.

This affair followed closely on the heels of another social function for alumni, which was a banquet at the Shelter on May 7, to which alumni from neighboring Tennessee cities were invited. The banquet preceded an all-University dance.

A chapter which has only begun rolling during the past year, Beta Theta had but two seniors; nevertheless, its members have entered intramurals and other competitions with an enthusiasm which placed them in close seconds and thirds in nearly all events.

Varsity letters were awarded to Morehouse, Miller, and Gould in football; Francis and Wetherill in basketball; Pinther, weights and jump man, in track; and Hamler, football manager.

Beta Theta alumni on the Mountain include Professor William W. Lewis, Librarian John Hodges, Reverend George B. Myers, Major Ellis M. Beardon, Dramatics Instructor Walter L. McGoldrick, and Walter R. Belford.

Beta Kappa—Colorado

During the past year Beta Kappa Chapter at Colorado inaugurated a program of alumni speakers. Prior to the state elections, outstanding alumni, members of both political parties, were invited to the chapter. They debated the various aspects of the political issues after which they answered questions put by members of the chapter. Other alumni gave informative talks on their respective vocations in order to help graduating members and for the information of undergraduates.

Kenneth C. Penfold, Beta Kappa alumnus and former field secretary of Delta Tau Delta, is now secretary to the new mayor of Denver.

Members of the chapter participated in the intramural sports program of the University. The teams won championships in the all-school softball league, Greek basketball, and all-school golf. Second place was won by Beta Kappa in the all-school handball tournament and in the C. U. Days house decorations. The chorus placed first in the all-school song fest.

The chapter as a whole placed first in scholarship the first semester and second the last semester.

Walt Wamsley, '50, won the 155-pound intramural wrestling championship and Al Lodge the 136-pound one, and Gene Brown won the heavyweight boxing championship.

Prominent positions on campus were held by Harry Farnham, president of Greek combine, campus political group; Bob Carr, Ethnic minority representative to the student governing body; "Soupy" Campbell, associate editor of Coloradan; Gene Grieshaber, junior representative to Combined Engineer, which is the governing body of the engineering schools; John Dickinson, president of business school; and Gene Grieshaber, circulation manager of Colorado Engineer. Bob Bigelow and "Soupy" Campbell were elected to "Somalia," junior men's honorary.

Varsity letters were won by Harry Narcisian and Charles Goodrich in track and Jack Hughes in wrestling.

Beta Lambda—Lehigh

Beta Lambda Chapter was a guest of Omega at its fiftieth anniversary celebration April 12 at the Drake Hotel in Philadelphia.

On the Lehigh campus, the chapter took the softball championship, volleyball championship, first prize in the homecoming display, and was runner-up in the intramural track meet.

Bill Royer and Pete Eagleson were elected to Cyanide, junior honorary, and Bill Hardy was named to Tau Beta Pi, Pi Tau Sigma, and Omicron Delta Kappa. Tau Beta Pi elected to membership also Dave Herder and Ed Luckenbach; Omicron Delta Kappa, Dave Herder and Bill Royer; and Phi Eta Sigma, Ed Luckenbach, Dave Herder, and Bill Hardy.

Varsity letters were awarded to Al Kuentz, soccer; Bill Hardy, soccer and lacrosse; John Bowman, football; Ed Luckenbach, football; Dick Kelsey, wrestling; Bob Wagen-seil, rifle; Bill Wallace, Stan Lawler, Dick Downs, and Dave Stoner, cheerleaders; and Bob Dyer, tennis.

HONOR ROLL

This is the last number of the present volume—Volume 70—of THE RAINBOW. As the reader is well aware, THE RAINBOW must lean heavily on the undergraduate chapters as its principal source of news. The response of the vast majority of chapters has been most gratifying. Following is a listing of those undergraduate chapters who have contributed to all four numbers of Volume 70 and who thereby have earned a position on this honor roll:

Beta	Gamma Beta
Delta	Gamma Theta
Epsilon	Gamma Iota
Zeta	Gamma Lambda
Mu	Gamma Mu
Tau	Gamma Tau
Phi	Delta Alpha
Beta Beta	Delta Beta
Beta Gamma	Delta Delta
Beta Eta	Delta Zeta
Beta Xi	Delta Eta
Beta Pi	Delta Mu
Beta Phi	Delta Nu
Beta Psi

It should be noted, in addition, that nearly all of the other chapters missed the honor roll by only one oversight. The following chapters have contributed to all but one number of this volume of THE RAINBOW and are therefore deserving of honorable mention:

Alpha	Beta Upsilon
Kappa	Beta Chi
Nu	Gamma Gamma
Omicron	Gamma Delta
Rho	Gamma Zeta
Upsilon	Gamma Nu
Omega	Gamma Xi
Beta Alpha	Gamma Pi
Beta Delta	Gamma Upsilon
Beta Epsilon	Gamma Chi
Beta Zeta	Gamma Psi
Beta Theta	Delta Gamma
Beta Kappa	Delta Epsilon
Beta Mu	Delta Lambda
Beta Nu	Delta Pi
Beta Tau

Beta Mu—Tufts

Beta Mu Chapter at Tufts is emphasizing the international character of Delta Tau Delta with its membership which includes two Canadians, Bob Herold and Bud Turner, Dick Steels from Trinidad, and John Richardson of Hawaii.

Joel Reynolds, President of the Eastern Division, Beta Mu alumnus and chapter adviser, was re-elected president of the Tufts Alumni, and Ralph L. Williams, '24, became chairman of Tufts Alumni Council. Paul I. Wren, '26, was named trustee of Tufts. He is vice-president of Old Colony Trust Company of Boston.

As a group the chapter was represented in intramural swimming by the championship team. The intramural golf trophy went to Beta Mu, also.

Bill Lawton was named the best all-around pledge for the year.

Beta Mu appears to have been a well balanced chapter with campus offices held, members in campus honoraries, athletic captaincies, and varsity letters all included. Jack Ehrhardt and Bob MacLeay are president and treasurer of the class of '49, respectively; Roy Percival, vice-president of the class of '50; Colby Burbank, president of A. S. C. E.; Dick Porter secretary-treasurer of A. I. E. E. and camp commandant, N. R. O. T. C.; Larry Kennedy, president sophomore honor society, and vice-president of varsity club; Phil Robinson vice-president of Interfraternity Council; Brom Palamountain president of T. Mountain Club; Phil Roberts, color guard, N. R. O. T. C.; and Richard Mancib, manager of T. Dance Band.

Members in campus honoraries include: Larry Kennedy, Jack Ehrhardt, Chuck Berndt, and Jack Dinsmore in Sword and Shield; Jack Ehrhardt on student council; Fred Lister in Tau Beta Pi; C. C. Smith, Sigma Pi Sigma; Ken Leigh, Lambert Kingsley, Bill Gallupe, Alexander Bain, Ken Boynton, Bruce Marshall, and Bob MacLeay on the Dean's List.

Dick Porter was cocaptain of the track team and Fred Lister cocaptain of the wrestling and football teams. Larry Kennedy and Chuck Berndt were game captains of the football team. Varsity letters in football were won by Larry Kennedy, Chuck Berndt, and Fred Lister; in soccer by Dick Boss; in wrestling by Fred Lister, Chuck Berndt, and Frank Steeves; indoor and outdoor track by Dick Porter and Jumbo Luce; and lacrosse, Brom Palamountain and Phil Roberts.

The chapter held several events for the alumni throughout the year, climaxed by the alumni buffet supper May 25.

Beta Nu—M. I. T.

The Beta Nu softball team at M. I. T. bested the Sigma Nu's team 25-5. The following week it lost, 15-14, to the freshman team of Simmons College for girls. There is some suggestion that the loss was occasioned by better form evidenced by the winning team.

The members of Beta Nu have a penchant for water sports, with Al Bowen being awarded a special straight "T" for crew. He was a member of the crew which placed second in the Seattle Sprint Regatta in June, 1946. George Loomis won a swimming straight "T" as a member of the relay team which broke the school record. Bob Edgar and Pledge Fred Mellin won frosh swim numerals and were members of the relay team which won the freshman relay in the New England Interscholastic Swimming Association meet. Mellin broke the freshman 200 and 220 free style records. The chapter placed third in the intramural swimming meet.

Fred G. Heuchling has completed terms as vice-president and secretary of the student managed athletic association. The chapter was represented in Drama Shop by Cameron Higgins. Dick Stephans was make-up chief for Tech Show. Bruce Gist and Dick Cella are members of Society of the Sigma Xi, national scientific honorary.

Varsity letters were won by George Loomis in swimming, Al Bowen in crew and Bill Stoney in lacrosse.

Beta Xi—Tulane

The climax of the rush season this past year at Beta Xi Chapter at Tulane was the broadcast party from nine to one o'clock at which music was furnished by Stanley Ray's FM radio station, WRCM, and the names of the new pledges were broadcast during the program.

The chapter won second place in the Pan-Hellenic Homecoming display and participated in New Orleans' famed Mardi Gras, having a truck decorated as "The Old Absinthe House."

During the year the chapter revived the Beta Xi-Clone and completed the chapter hall and patio in the Shelter.

Don Sharp, arts and sciences college president, was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Bob Beadle, president of Tau Beta Pi, was also vice-president of engineering college. Phares Frantz was president of Alpha Phi Omega, and Paul Hoff and Paul Baker were members of Beta Gamma Sigma.

Beta Omicron—Cornell

William Ebersol of Beta Omicron Chapter was steward and a member of the board of directors for Hotel Ezra Cornell, the annual model hotel put on by the Hotel Administration School at Cornell this past year. He is also vice-president of Ye Hosts.

Members who are included in campus honoraries are: James W. Macdonald and John C. Pennock in Tau Beta Pi; John C. Pennock and Frederick S. Turk in Kappa Tau Chi; Hamilton Miller, James W. Macdonald, Theodore H. Lansing, William F. Hunt, and Gordon Harrison, in Sphinx Head; Hamilton Miller and Eugene E. Hook, in Red Key; James W. Macdonald, Theodore H. Lansing, William F. Hunt, and Gordon Harrison in Aleph Samach; and John T. Newell, Jr., William F. Hunt, William Ebersol, and Hamilton Miller in Ye Hosts. Macdonald is secretary of Sphinx Head. John C. Pennock became a member of Phi Kappa Phi, and Theodore Lansing, Pyramid.

Gordon Harrison was captain of the varsity basketball team for the past season. James W. Macdonald will be co-manager of the basketball team next year.

Warner Orvis, '06, has set aside a fund for refurbishing the Shelter.

Varsity letters at Cornell were won by the following Beta Omicron men: football, Theodore H. Lansing and Eugene Hook; basketball, William F. Hunt, Gordon Harrison, and Frederick S. Turk; crew, James W. Macdonald; lacrosse, Hamilton Miller; hockey, Joaquin de la Roza; and track, Jack Servis.

Beta Pi—Northwestern

The Deltas started out the year in good form by winning first place in the annual homecoming parade. At the Shelter they celebrated their victory and held the traditional homecoming pig roast. On the grid-iron Beta Pi was ably represented by Lawrence Day, Loran Day, Frank Jagels, and John Kroeger.

During the winter season Beta Pi initiated thirteen new Deltas, held its traditional housemothers' dinner, and combined the winter formal dance with a Founders Day celebration.

When spring rolled around, Delt Dale Peterson was elected president of the sophomore class for 1947-48. Dave Rogers was selected talent scout for the 1948 Waa-Mu, annual campus musical revue. The 1947 Waa-Mu show had fifteen Deltas in the cast.

Beta Pi's songsters, led by Hal Enger, captured fourth place in the interfraternity sing, in which nineteen groups competed. Lawrence Day played varsity baseball for the Northwestern team.

The chapter's spring formal,

Beta Pi Glee Club

The Pride of Beta Upsilon

1. ANDY PHILLIP, captain of Illinois' famous "Whiz Kids" basketball team, varsity baseball.
2. ROGER DOWNS, captain of tennis, member of Big Nine champion doubles team.
3. WARREN SULLIVAN, Big Nine fencing champion.

4. ROGER TOBIN holds the trophy he won for greatest number of points scored by an individual in all-University intramurals. Beside him are other trophies won by Beta Upsilon, including the all-University intramural trophy, which stands four feet tall.
5. LLOYD BROWN, golf captain.

6. DONALD VAIL, Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, Sigma Tau, and Pi Tau Sigma.
7. "BABE" SERPICO, varsity football and Rose Bowl game.

which rounded out a full year, included an all-day outing in Burlington, Wisconsin.

Beta Rho—Stanford

Beta Rho has just closed a most successful year, functioning again after three years of enforced war-time closing. Socially, athletically, and scholastically the chapter has shown a lot of drive.

The initiation banquet during autumn quarter with many alumni participating; the Pledge Dance immediately following the close of rushing in winter quarter; and the annual Delt-Beta dance spring quarter were high lights of the year. These were augmented by many informal parties and firesides.

Ward Walkup, varsity baseball captain, was elected all-conference catcher for his outstanding ability and hustle behind the plate. Ward was second in the league in hitting, ending the season with a sparkling 410 average. Bill Arce, third sacker, and Clyde Dingfelder, outfielder, also stood out during the season.

George Grimes, ace middle distance man, scored one of the few wins registered against California in the final meet of the year by winning the half mile. Don Hester, 1946 and 1947 Pacific Coast breast-stroke champ, set a new conference record in the 200-yard event and was instrumental in having swimming made a major sport at Stanford. Bob Rosecrance, holding down number four spot on the golf team, went East to Ann Arbor, Michigan, to compete in the national championships.

Al Harris, '47, former house manager and outstanding welterweight on this year's boxing team, was appointed student body president for the balance of the year. Gus Chavalas, basketball letterman, also entered politics and was elected to the school's executive committee.

Scholarship has also been on the upgrade during the year. The chapter standing was raised from 20th to seventh among campus fraternities. Chapter representatives in Phi Beta Kappa were Ted Chester and Ferris Boothe.

Beta Tau—Nebraska

Three Beta Tau men in three different classes came through this year to place scholastically in the top 10 per cent of their respective classes. They are Donald Lentz, freshman, John Baas, sophomore, and Edward Bartle, junior.

On the athletic side, the chapter had five members who won the scarlet and cream "N." They are chapter president Ralph King, track, Ed Schwartzkopf, football, Ed Nyden, football, Don Stroh, golf, and Jim Sharp, baseball.

Delt Ralph Nelson was elevated during the year to the presidency of Delta Theta Phi, law fraternity, and was also elected treasurer of the Nebraska Law School Association. Bill Ballew is a member of the Cornhusker student council.

Big event within the ranks was the formal initiation and banquet staged at the Fontanelle Hotel, Omaha, by the Omaha Alumni Chapter. Another tradition which was revived was the annual Delt-Phi Delt picnic, held May 19, with more than 150 Deltas and Phis attending.

A chapter whose charter member group produced two famous governors of the state and a United States cabinet member, Beta Tau still boasts alumni who bring credit to Delta Tau Delta. John Lawlor, '22, is both president of the Nebraska University Alumni Association and president of the National Sporting Goods Association. Delt George Sauer, former All-American fullback, is the new head coach at Kansas, who brought that University its first Big Six championship in many years.

Beta Upsilon—Illinois

Beta Upsilon Chapter at Illinois this past year won the All-University Intramural Trophy, placing first and winning Division trophies in football, bowling, horseshoes, baseball, badminton, and volleyball. Roger Tobin won the All-University intramural individual trophy.

Beta Upsilon's spring reunion April 18, 19, and 20, was an event attended by a number of alumni, at which the alumni approved a remodeling plan for the house. Mother's Day, celebrated annually by the University, found sixty Delt mothers living in the Shelter for the week end, attending campus functions, visiting campus "spots," and, in general, learning how their sons live all year. The annual spring formal was held May 9, 10, and 11, with a banquet at a downtown hotel. The house was decorated as an old German wine cellar for the dance. The week end was brought to a close with a picnic-barbecue the last day.

Outstanding seniors who were graduated at the end of last term include Donald Vail, member of four engineering honoraries; Lloyd Brown, golf captain; Roger Downs, tennis captain; Andy Phillip, basketball captain; Babe Serpico, '45 football captain and Rose Bowl participant; Warren Sullivan, Big Nine fencing champion. Varsity letters were won by each of these men and by Julie Rykovich, in football and baseball, also a Rose Bowl player.

Tom Cavanaugh, '47, was awarded the Martin plaque for the outstanding fine arts student. Other members prominent on campus included Bob Newell and Bob Clapp, Skull & Crescent, and Bob Swan and Julie Rykovich, Mawanda, senior honorary.

Beta Phi—Ohio State

Beta Phi was one of three fraternity chapters on the Ohio State campus who scored high enough in finances, scholarship, house condition, and co-operation to receive an A plus rating from the Dean of Men for the past school year.

With three members in each of the three upperclass honor societies, the chapter placed more men in these organizations than any other group on the campus. Chuck Becker is president of the senior men's honorary, and Bruce Paschal, chapter president, is president of the junior men's honorary. Deltas King, Oehmler, Lunka, Cowperthwaite, Jones, Cole, Paschal, Becker, Bacon, Powell, Lucas, Clarke, and Dorsey teamed to garner the following honors on the campus: high scorer in all-University track meet, president of sophomore class, secretary-treasurer of the fraternity affairs office, business manager of humor magazine, publicity chairman of Ohio Union Drive, president of men's glee club, president of Social Board, chairman of 1946 homecoming, president of writers' club, sophomore secretary of student senate, treasurer of sophomore men's honorary, director of student activities, editor of student desk-book, chairman of executive committee of the council of fraternity presidents, president of union board of overseers, chairman of freshman prom, chairman of Ohio State Red Cross chapter, business manager of daily paper, chief justice of student court, vice-president of Sigma Delta Chi, and editor of interfraternity magazine.

Five Delts were key men in a drive to sell to the students the need for a new four million dollar union. President Howard L. Bevis called it the greatest student project he had even known on the OSU campus.

Varsity letters were won by Moldea in track, Adamle in football, and Schadler in fencing.

Four members of Beta Phi who are playing pro football and carrying a full college load are Lavelli, Adamle, McCafferty, and Horvath.

Beta Phi rounded out a full year by playing host to the Northern Division Conference in Columbus during March.

Beta Chi—Brown

A review of the happenings of the year at Brown reveals that Delta Tau Delta held its own as the outstanding fraternity on the hill.

In intramural athletics the Delts showed their versatility by winning the Lanpher Cup, an award given at the end of each year to the fraternity compiling the most points in the sporting events of the year. An unusual feature of this was the fact that the Delts did not win a single team diadem, although Vince D'Angelo was crowned the single horseshoe champ. Much credit is due Nick Coppolla for his successful work in bringing the Delt teams onto the field and leading them off as winners.

Politically the Delts were shown to good advantage also. During the semester no less than five of the Beta Chi brothers were elected to student governing bodies. In the first election Bob Grant and Bob Conley were elected as representatives of the campus-at-large in the Cammarian Club, the student governing body. This increased the chapter's representation to four out of twenty-one members, Chuck Sweeney and Tom Luby being the chapter's other men.

The sophomore society, Brown Key, also showed the Delts polling the largest number of votes. When the election was over, Bill McLellan, Vince D'Angelo, and Red Barlow were members of this organization. It was only a short time later that Vince became vice-president.

The Brown chapter gave its annual dance on May 17 for its seniors. The week end, starting on Friday afternoon and extending until Sunday evening, was a huge success enjoyed by all.

Many thanks should be extended the seventeen men being graduated in June, but to enumerate their unending contributions would be impossible. To mention one and leave another out would be a grave injustice to all. Beta Chi Delts, however, are grateful to them for building a chapter of which they are all proud.

Beta Psi—Wabash

Wabash Delts went to town this year to win three firsts on the Crawfordsville campus—first in intramural athletics, first in intramural debate, and first in the interfraternity sing. In addition, they walked off with first-place stunt prize at the Delt State Founders Day Banquet in Indianapolis. They also placed third in the homecoming decorations contest.

Key posts on the campus were held by Max Jones, editor of the humor magazine; George Ekstedt, freshman class president; Bob Shepler, president of the glee club and yearbook business manager; and Norman McDaniels, senior class vice-president. Bill Clark was runner-up in the Baldwin Oratorical Contest and cheerleader extraordinary, whose antics were hailed by sportswriters and radio announcers throughout the Midwest as "something to write home about."

The Sphinx Club is packed with eleven Delts—McDaniels, Trapp, Bludorn, Paich, Washburn, Boss-tick, Dal Sasso, Massena, Bauman, Kulik, and Ziemann.

Two Delts were varsity captains—Sigmund Kulik in football, John Speirs in baseball. Varsity letters were awarded to nine Delts in football, two in basketball, three in baseball, and seven in track.

Eight Wabash Delts were winners of the industrial scholarships, pioneered by President Sparks, which have gained national publicity. Dale Compton, Robert Shepler, Ralph Paich, Fred Massena, Al Prince, Lynn Davis, Francis McIntyre, and Robert Held were awarded scholarships by such companies as Celotex, Perfect Circle, Eli Lilly, and Stokeley-Van Camp.

An alumnus of Beta Psi who has been in the news recently is William C. Murphy, publicity director of the Republican national committee.

Beta Omega—California

The one hundred second initiation of Beta Omega Chapter of Delta Tau Delta was held April 13 on the California campus. Great stress was placed on having as many alumni as possible attend, and efforts of the undergraduates were rewarded when alumni from both northern and southern California appeared. Of the more eminent alumni present were three members of the Distinguished Service Chapter, Percy Hall, '99, Bill Gay, '13, and George Parrish, '18. Dinner was served after initiation, and following the dinner, the group gathered in the spacious library. Ed Clark, '36, introduced the speakers for the evening, Arleigh Williams, '35, Ed Manske, Beta Pi, Gustave Moller, '15, Brutus Hamilton, Gamma Delta, and Graham Glascock, '49. After the speakers gave short informal talks, Bill Gay, active in alumni relations, introduced the alumni present. Two men of athletic distinction present were Ludy Langer, the greatest swimmer in the world in 1916, and Ed Salisbury, stroke on the famous Olympic crew team of 1932.

Beta Omega Chapter placed fourth out of forty-five in scholarship in the first semester of the past year.

Varsity letters were won in basketball by Wayne Hooper and in track by Don Ware. Tom Parrish was senior track manager and co-chairman of the rally committee. Jack Cain was president of the Interfraternity Council in the fall semester, and Bill Marckoff was president of Beta Beta, men's honorary. Other members were Ron Naess, Lev Sacre, and Jack Yeager.

Gamma Beta—Illinois Tech

As a climax of Junior Week celebration at Illinois Tech, Wit Kosicki, Gamma Beta undergraduate, was elected Man of the Year. The chapter's skit presented in connection with the celebration won it second place. Kosicki is editor of Technology News.

Gamma Beta was first of eight fraternities maintaining houses on campus in scholarship for the second semester of 1946-47. In the period of one year after obtaining a house following the war emergency, Gamma Beta has grown from a membership of eighteen actives and ten pledges to a membership of forty-four actives and seven pledges. Of the twenty-two men from Illinois Tech listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Gamma Beta claims eleven.

The chapter placed first in the interfraternity sing competition. Kurt Kuhnle is president of A. S. M. R.; Ivan C. Hamilton president of A. S. M. E. and vice-president of Illinois Tech Student Activities. Grant Medin is president of Alpha Chi Sigma. Grant Medin, John Makilski, and Fred Travis are members of Tau Beta Pi. John Makilski, Kurt Kuhnle, Fred Travis, J. Chamberlain, and Jim Doane are members of Pi Tau Sigma. John Makilski was captain of the varsity swimming team and won a letter in swimming. Other varsity letters were won by Greg Fenton, baseball; Jack Chamberlain, golf; Walter Garbalinski, baseball; Harry Twickler, wrestling, and Chandler Sammons, track.

On May 10 the annual celebration was held with the alumni in connection with the house corporation meeting. Over ninety alumni and actives filled the Shelter with rousing song. This strong turnout predicts an even stronger chapter.

Gamma Gamma—Dartmouth

Five major awards were won by Gamma Gamma during the school year 1946-47. They were: (1) debate cup for first place in interfraternity debate, (2) scholarship award for second place among twenty-one fraternities, (3) second place in an interfraternity dramatics contest, (4) third place in the interfraternity sing, and (5) the non-athletic cup for all-college fraternity competition, which is an award made to the group which amasses the largest number of points in debate, dramatics, sing, snow sculpture, and bridge.

The following Delts were prominent in campus activities: Jenness, managing editor of the college daily; Bellows, business manager of campus humor magazine; Lehigh, production manager of the same publication and designer of the official Winter Carnival poster; Flynn, station engineer of the Dartmouth broadcasting system; Portman, president of Bait and Bullet; Ludington, staff member of Dartmouth Players; Hicks, arranger for school glee club and Barbary Coast orchestra; Colegrove, president of Cabin and Trail; and Wensinger, president of the German Club. Honors came to Heterich, Wensinger, and Morrison, members of Phi Beta Kappa; Bellows and Ludington, members of the junior honorary; Ashby and Smith, members of the senior honorary; and Ruh-sam, member of Dragon.

Varsity letter awards were made to Furley and Bower in soccer, Hewlitt in track, Rutter in baseball, Worthen in swimming, and Calder in golf.

Noteworthy social events included the Harvard houseparty, Winter Carnival, and Green Key week end. Gamma Gamma's two-story Dartmouth Indian snow sculpture held up traffic in front of the Shelter. Fireside song fests, skiing, and informal parties made the Winter Carnival week end a success. Major event of Green Key week end was the chapter's picnic held in the traditional setting of Chapter Adviser Murray Austin's farm.

Four Delts—Worthen, Jenness, Mallory, and Tillson—are adding their bit to what is generally considered the criterion of the post-war campus—in other words, marriage. Gamma Gamma reports, "It's mighty nice having a bevy of beautiful girls around the house on this all-male campus."

Gamma Delta—West Virginia

The new president of the student body at West Virginia is Delt Tom Smith, the result of Gamma Delta's break with the old political party and formation of a new front to eliminate fraternity-independent segregation, which swept campus elections.

Other Delts in key spots are Emil Narick, president of the law school student body and president of Phi Alpha Delta, law honorary, and Jack Beddow, president of the council of fraternity presidents. There are also John Pozega, star footballer, officer of Mountain, senior honorary, and student representative to the University athletic board; Robert Counts, vice-president of Mountain; James Johnson, president of the ag club; Richard Jones, yearbook business manager; Miles Jorgenson, president of the business honorary; and Bill Barnhart, president of the engineering honorary.

Gamma Delta was first in scholarship among sixteen fraternities, winner also of first place in pledge athletics. Its glee club was runner-up at both the Christmas sing and the Mother's Day sing.

An appraisal of campus honoraries shows a good balance of representation from the Shelter. There are four Delts in Sphinx, four in Mountain, four in Phi Delta Phi, four in Scabbard and Blade, three in Rowan Rifles, and many members in other business and professional honoraries, including law, premed, engineering, business, band, agriculture, botany, and military.

Gamma Zeta—Wesleyan

Outstanding event for Gamma Zeta this past spring was a chapter picnic for members and their dates at Hurd Park, Connecticut, which followed the college prom week end.

A Gamma Zeta Delt who has been prominent on the Wesleyan campus is Horace R. Baldwin, president of the German Club and elected this year to membership in Phi Beta Kappa. In other activities, Duncan Fraser serves on the editorial board of Argus, biweekly campus newspaper.

Karel Winkler, Dutch exchange student, was initiated into Gamma Zeta Chapter during the past year.

Chapter Adviser Tom Meeker, Gamma Zeta, '41, was elected Eastern Division vice-president at the Division Conference in March.

Gamma Theta—Baker

Winner of the all-intramural sports trophy, first in scholarship, Gamma Theta continues to add to its supply of cups.

A Gamma Theta Delt who has achieved distinction on the campus is Jim Irick. All-conference end in football, cocaptain of the team with Delt Burley Martin, Irick was also basketball captain and voted to the all-star team in that sport. In addition, Jim is president of the junior class and president of the "B" Club. Martin was chosen second team all-conference tackle.

Other members who have been active in campus affairs are Jake Landen, president of the student commission; Wendell Winkler, treasurer of both the junior class and "B" Club; Dick Wynant, president of the freshman class; Le Roy Deyo, retiring president of "B" Club; and Robert Anderson, sophomore class treasurer. Karl Brecheisen and Anderson are in Alpha Psi Omega, and Anderson and Bill Runyan are Pi Kappa Delta.

Besides Irick and Martin, Gamma Theta had the following varsity letter winners: Adriance, Fox, Rose, and Winkler in football; Webb, basketball; Morgan, Martin, and Webb in track. Winkler was hero of homecoming when he booted a field goal to score the only points and won the game.

Gamma Theta's fifty-seventh annual chicken fry in October and the annual alumni stag in May both set attendance records. At the latter event, Alfred "Cap" Runyan, '20, received a Citation to the Fraternity's Distinguished Service Chapter, to become Gamma Theta's fifth member to achieve this high recognition.

Gamma Iota—Texas

The Delts have had a good year at Texas—everything from being host to the Western Division Conference to having Delt Bob Strong and his orchestra play for their winter formal. They won awards for best Christmas decorations and best homecoming decorations. They won another first in Class A fraternity division basketball, second in intramural baseball and all-University swimming, second places in float competition and annual "Beat the Aggies" bonfire.

A Texas Delt who is gaining national recognition is Broad Jumper J. J. Robertson, who won the NCAA event with 24' 10½" and also was first at the Los Angeles invitation meet in May. In that meet he was a member of the Texas 440 relay team that won the event with a time just one-tenth of a second over the world record. Other members who have starred for Texas this season are H. K. Allen, football, Ray Monroe, track, Vilbry White, basketball, and Bill Roden, golf.

Max Werkenthin holds the campus breast stroke record and scored more goals (seven) in one water polo game than any other player all year. Another Delt, Hyalmar Karbach, was not far behind and held the record temporarily.

Scholars in the chapter are Hobbs, King, and German, members of Phi Beta Kappa, and Ellison, Krausse, and Douglas, members of Tau Beta Pi. Buckley, German, Krausse, Schutze, Douglas, Brown, Wharton, George, and Nash are members of Phi Eta Sigma, and Buckley was elected the sixth Delt President of that organization in the last seven years. Hobbs, King, and West were among the top honor students of law school. King started writing for the Texas Law Review while still a freshman law student, which is a rare honor.

In Cowboys, campus service honorary, are Delts Herndon, Allen, Robertson, Sneed, and Chandler. Members of Silver Spurs, another service honorary, are Schutze, Sherwood, Fry, Scott, Dellinger, Manogue, and Krausse, who is president of the organization. Two Gamma Iota men—Sneed and Schutze—are members of the eight-man senior honorary, Friars. Numerous other honors have come to Longhorn Delts.

Alumni who have recently been in the limelight are H. Grady Chandler, elected president of the Texas Bar Association in June, and Judge John A. Rawlins who succeeded Judge Walter S. Pope (a Gamma Iota founder) as president of the Texas Ex-Students Association.

Gamma Kappa—Missouri

Gamma Kappa put on a political campaign this season, the like of which Missouri has never seen before. Boosting Doug Bales for Night Owl (king of the women's annual dance), Delts launched a week-long assault which included printed posters, torchlight serenades, a sham street fight, dropping of leaflets from airplane, singing commercials over the local radio, and automobile parades with a high school band in one of them.

Like the operation which was a success even though the patient died, the campaign was a great success, but Doug lost. The vote was so close, however, that Doug was named Prince Consort, which sounds more impressive than Night Owl anyway.

In other activities at Missouri, Jim Austin serves as vice-president of Pan-Hellenic council, and Fred Kellogg is a council member of the student government association. Jim, incidentally, besides being a football letterman, received a medal this spring for setting a new record in the medicine ball throw at the intramural track meet. In the honor societies, Tutt Richards is a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, and Stewart Gillman is in Sigma Delta Chi.

Chapter President Mel Sheehan is a football letterman and captain of the track team. Mel was winner of the discus throw at this year's Drake Relays. Other varsity lettermen are Frier in baseball, and Allen, Ebinger, and Frier in B team football.

An alumni reunion was held at the Shelter on April 12, at which time the annual meeting of the house corporation was held and undergraduates and alumni attended the varsity-alumni football game.

Gamma Lambda—Purdue

Mother's Day at Purdue found the men of Gamma Lambda entertaining their mothers. The mothers came early enough to hear the interfraternity sing and to see the Delts receive the first-place honors. The Delt glee club serenaded the mothers at the Shelter Saturday night after the sing.

Gamma Lambda boasts a versatile crew. There are six members in Gimlet, fraternity men's activities honorary. They are King, Collister, Trump, Sardone, Schimmelpfenig, and Wilhelm, the latter being vice-president of the organization. Jack is, besides, treasurer of IFC. Ted Howard is a member of the sophomore men's honorary. Bob King and Dick Vining were elected to Tau Beta Pi. Bob King, in addition, is a member of Eta Kappa Nu, Scabbard and Blade, and the research honor society.

In the education honorary is Dillon Moffat. Dick Vining is Pi Tau Sigma. Member of the pharmacy honorary, Bob Kashner received a pharmacy scholarship and two Merck awards.

Four Delts comprise "The Varsity Four," a campus barbershop group of note. These four and three other Delts are in the University's glee club, and two of them are soloists. Cas Kwasnieski, billed as "The Mystery Voice," has his own weekly fifteen-minute broadcast on the University radio station, with Delt Bob Kashner as his announcer.

Varsity letters were awarded to Schimmelpfenig in football, Trump in basketball, Boydston in squash, Schimmelpfenig and Sattler in baseball, and Perry as football manager. Against Michigan, Sattler had pitched a no-hit game until the third man to face him in the ninth frame singled. Bob struck out the next batter, and Purdue won 12 to 0.

Gamma Mu—Washington

Gamma Mu won two major events in one week end—first in the

Winners of the All-U Songfest at Washington

All-U Songfest and first in the All-U Sophomore Carnival, May 9 and 10. This was the second consecutive year that the Delts have won the Carnival and the only time in Washington's history that both events have been won by one fraternity in one week end.

To back this achievement up, the chapter also ranked first among thirty-five fraternities in scholarship for both the fall and winter quarters.

Other firsts taken by Gamma Mu include the campus chest drive carnival and intramural cross country. In addition, the Delts came in second in intramural football.

Gamma Mu has many of its members busy in campus activities. For instance, there are John Hicks, president of the junior interfraternity council; Keith Kolb, president of Atelier; Bob Shafon, general chairman of both the IFC university formal and the all-U mixer, member of Western IFC committee, and publicity chairman of Campus Chest; Bill Sill, cartoonist for the humor magazine and editor-elect; Tom Sill, IFC executive committee. There are others: Larry Smith, chairman of Welcome Week committee; Earle Zander, secretary and executive committee of IFC; Harry Meixner, president of the student branch of American Pharmaceutical Association; and Mike Gagg, IFC secretary and executive committee.

There are three members in Phi Beta Kappa—Bert Ames, Charles Elicker, and Keith Kolb—and four in Tau Beta Pi—Bert Ames, again, Jim Briggs, Miles Rogers, and Wes

Carter. Gamma Mu has numerous members in such other honoraries as Sigma Xi, Purple Shield, Malamutes, Kappa Psi, Rho Chi, Atelier, etc.

Events during the year in which alumni participated include homecoming, initiation banquet at the Washington Athletic Club, a bingo party, spring formal dinner dance, and the annual alumni-active golf picnic at the Inglewood Country Club.

Gamma Nu—Maine

Many cups have come the way of Gamma Nu this year, chief among which are two for the highest scholastic averages of all Maine fraternities, two for winning intramural indoor softball and interfraternity softball, first place in intramural snow sculpture, and second place in intramural winter sports events. In addition, the interfraternity individual bowling championship was won by Clem Vose.

Biggest event of the year on the Maine campus was the campaign to elect the Campus Mayor. Delt Bob Merchant won the post, polling the largest vote in the history of the University. Bob had been sponsored by Fred Waring on one of his radio programs.

Other honors on the campus were gathered in by Doug Collins, yearbook editor; Clem Vose, president of the International Relations Club; Joe Wedge, president of the Newman Club; Nick Johns, Tau Beta Pi, Phi Kappa Phi, and president of the Physics Club; Russ Libby, chairman of the intramural athletic association; Doug Collins, vice-president of the sophomore class; and Stan Murray, men's glee club secretary-treasurer, Tau Beta Pi officer, Phi Kappa Phi, and music honor society officer. The chapter had three members in Scabbard and Blade, military honorary.

In athletics Corbin was captain of the jaycee football squad, Bickford was a stellar member of the golf team, and both Stickel and Sackley won track numerals.

Gamma Xi—Cincinnati

Cincinnati Delts have just finished a school year which saw them win league championships in five intramural sports, advance to the finals in another, stage the most effective float at homecoming, and sing the Royal Purple into the finals of the interfraternity sing.

Two initiation banquets—one in February and one in June—were impressively staged to welcome new brothers into the ranks of Delta Tau Delta. At the latter event, Gamma Xi was honored to have as its guest speaker Carl V. Weygandt, Wooster, '12, chief justice of Ohio's supreme court.

On the activities front, Delts Guise and Hughmark brought home scholastic bacon by their election to Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Sigma. Nickerson is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and Schindler a member of Sophos. Delts have the campus literary magazine well in hand, with Zinkhon and Weber as editor and business manager, respectively.

Athletically, varsity letters were awarded to Delts Groeniger, track, Hobt, football, Duccilli, golf, and Clickner, basketball.

Gamma Pi—Iowa State

A flying club, known as the "Deltairs," has been formed among the members of Gamma Pi. Two of the men have already earned their private licenses, flying the club's ship, a Luscombe "Silvaire."

Bob Kenworthy, past president of Gamma Pi, was chairman of the 1946 homecoming and Iowa State's representative at the national convention of student governing bodies in Minneapolis this year. Other wheels include L. N. Roose, advertising manager of the campus daily, and Paul Himebaugh, business manager of "Stars of Veisha," a large stage production given by Iowa State.

In the honor societies, F. T. Thomsen is Tau Beta Pi and Phi Kappa Phi, Charles Vogelgesang is Phi Eta Sigma, P. W. Peterson is Phi Mu Epsilon, and Alton Erickson is in Scabbard and Blade. Winner of the gold "I" in music was "Pooch" Carlson.

Among the alumni of Gamma Pi, Wallace McKee had the honor of crowning the Queen of Veisha for his class of '22. W. H. Brenton, '20, Vice-President of Delta Tau Delta, was recently elected president of the Iowa State Bankers Association.

Gamma Pi during the past year was winner of the Class C softball championship.

Gamma Rho—Oregon

Gamma Rho Delts celebrated the acquisition of a new Shelter this year by walking off with the intramural softball championship, placing second scholastically among twenty-two fraternities, being runner-up for Junior Week End float competition in a field of thirty-two entries, and trouncing Delta Lambda Chapter in a softball contest which preceded the annual get-together picnic.

The University's duck mascot, "Puddles," which resides at the Shelter, has been joined by a German shepherd puppy presented to the men of Gamma Rho by Junior Week End Princess Sally Timmens in behalf of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Three Delts achieving distinctions are Norman Morrison, winner of the Carl Greve Activities Cup, Paul Pierson, who was elected Knave of Hearts by women students, and Rollin Woodruff, winner of the freshman scholarship plaque. Gamma Rho is well represented in honor societies. Pietschman, Morgan, and Nagel are members of the sophomore men's honorary, Morgan and Welborn of the premed honorary, and Donahue and Woodruff of the mathematics honorary.

Delts who have shone in campus activities include Al Pietschman, who has been publicity chairman for numerous University events and projects; Eugene Davis, vice-president of the interfraternity council; Tom Collins, vice-president of the house managers council; Chuck DeGanahl, copy desk editor of the Oregon Daily Emerald; and Peter Hill, publicity chairman of the Affiliated Students Association.

Gamma Rho advanced to the semi-finals of both intramural golf and volleyball and copped second prize in the University's Nickel Hop Contest. George Kikes was a varsity letter winner in golf.

Among the alumni, western novel writer Ernest Haycox is president of the University of Oregon Alumni Association. George Hall is now acting dean of men at the University.

The annual Gamma Rho alumni banquet, held May 25 at the new Shelter, was a giant-sized congregation of both actives and alumni.

Gamma Sigma—Pittsburgh

The University of Pittsburgh's annual Spring Festival, held May 8 to 10, was given special coverage by Look magazine. Several Delts, including Hank Procyk and Sid Russell, hogged the camera and will be seen in a forthcoming issue of Look.

Outstanding honors came to Delt Jim Ludwig, who received the Locke Memorial Scholarship Award for meritorious achievement. Jim was also cited to Omicron Delta Kappa, as was another Pitt Delt, Bob Reighart. In addition, Bob made Junior Worthly, senior honorary group of seven male students who have been most active in school.

Another Delt who has stood out in campus affairs is Franklin Blackstone, Phi Eta Sigma, business manager of the humor magazine, and president-elect of the interfraternity council. He will be succeeded in his post with the humor magazine by Jack Moran. Dick Wallace is business manager of the Pitt yearbook. Besides Blackstone, both Ben Jones and John Marshall are members of Phi Eta Sigma.

Gamma Sigma was cohost to the Eastern Division Conference, entertaining the delegates at the Shelter with informal dancing and buffet. Herb McCracken, Gamma Sigma,

'21, was guest of honor, the second Pitt Delt to become President of the Fraternity, Norman MacLeod, '17, having served a previous four-year term.

Gamma Tau—Kansas

In intramural sports Gamma Tau was Division runner-up in intramural volleyball, softball, and basketball, and Malcolm Black took first place in the tennis elimination.

George McCarthy was president of the junior class.

Elected to Tau Beta Pi were Robert S. Stockton, Stephen R. Stimson, and Robert E. Wiedemann. James Mordy made Phi Beta Kappa.

Hoyt Baker was fullback on the Big Six cochampion team.

James L. Barrick, '29, has recently been appointed national advertising manager for the Kansas City Star. William B. Dickinson, '29, now heads the United Press in New York City as bureau manager. The youngest golf coach in the history of the K. U. athletic department is Bob Coyn, '43, who took over the job of head golf coach this spring. He has a championship team to his credit.

Gamma Upsilon—Miami

Climax of the year's events at Gamma Upsilon was a record Mother's Day attendance when the chapter moved out and turned the Shelter over to sixty-three mothers who were feted over the week end.

Other noteworthy events included homecoming, when 150 alumni returned for buffet and evening entertainment at the Shelter, a Christmas formal, a Valentine costume party, and a spring formal lawn dance.

Campus honors were third place in the interfraternity sing, runner-up for intramural basketball championship, and the recognition of Delts Carmichael and Heine for outstanding art work. Bob Russell was chairman of the senior ball, and Dick Kerns was chairman of the junior prom and treasurer of the radio honorary. John Voss holds down a position as radio announcer for the University station.

In the honoraries, chapter President Don Holtzmuller is Delta Sigma Pi, and both Jack Thomas and Bob Culp are Phi Eta Sigma.

The Delts have a lion's share in athletics, with thirteen members on the football squad and seven of twelve men on the University boxing team.

Gamma Chi—Kansas State

Delts at Kansas State have packed the engineering honoraries. Four of them—Finegan, Rieb, E. Sellers, and Perkins—are members of Steel Ring. Four again—E. Sellers, Keller, G. Sellers, and Rieb—were cited to Sigma Tau. Pi Tau Sigma (mechanical engineering) has three Delts in its ranks—Rieb, Keller, and Douglass.

Gabe Sellers won the Westinghouse scholarship of five hundred dollars as the outstanding sophomore electrical engineer. His grade average for the first two years is 2.97 out of a possible 3.00.

Gamma Chi's glee club this year won second place in the interfraternity sing. Ex-prexy of the chapter Karl Kramer has the distinction of being the only student member of the athletic council.

Varsity athletic letters were won by Kramer, Merriman, and Barley in football; Bartley and Blaser (reserve) in baseball; and Grieshaber in swimming.

Gamma Psi—Georgia Tech

The traditional Artists Ball, held May 9 in the Sky Room of Atlanta's municipal auditorium, climaxed a good year for the Delts of Georgia Tech. Attired in the garb of French artists, members danced away the evening and crowned Miss Eleanor Lockwood "Queen of Delta Tau."

High lights during the year included playing cohost to the Southern Division Conference, taking first honors in the homecoming decorations contest, being runner-up in the Ramblin' Wreck contest, and scrapping to the finals in both intramural basketball and softball.

Gamma Psi Delts have been represented on the campus by Erskine Love, whose activities include assistant editor of the yearbook, news editor of the school paper, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma, Pi Tau Sigma, Anak, president of the journalism honorary, and junior manager of the baseball team. Noel Turner is president of Tech's student council and also a member of Anak.

Other BMOC include Don Braidwood, vice-president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers; Buddy Fiske, president of the Society for Advancement of Management and assistant news editor of the daily; V. J. Doyle, SAM secretary; and Jack Young, SAM treasurer and student council representative.

Delt Curly Cusack is a member of Tech's wrestling team.

Delta Alpha—Oklahoma

Delta Alpha Chapter won the scholarship cup at the University of Oklahoma for the first semester of 1946-47, being first of twenty-one fraternities. The chapter also won the interfraternity sing of 1947 and the intramural football cup. In intramural boxing it took second place.

Individual chapter members were rewarded for outstanding performance as follows: Maurice Lewis, Tau Beta Pi fellowship award; Harry McMillan, first place in the Gordon Fuller oratorical contest, and Howard Borden second; Howard Sowers, outstanding business senior and Delta Sigma Pi senior key; Tom Ingram, senior marshall, and Ralph Myers, winner of all-University Crooner contest.

Two major social events of the year were the alumni all-state formal and dance at the Country Club in Oklahoma City and the all-state spring dance at the Oklahoma Club in Oklahoma City.

C. U. Cartwright, '42, was elected state president of the League of Young Democrats. Charles Duffy, '22, was named State Commander of the American Legion. Public relations adviser to the President of Oklahoma University is now Kenneth Harris, '39.

Members who were prominent in campus activities include Grant Keener, editor of Sooner yearbook; Frank Fonvielle, president of Delta Sigma Pi; Dale Edmundson, senior intramural manager; Maurice Lewis, president of the Petroleum Engineers Club; Bob Nuzum, president of the Pre-Law Club; and Don Phelps, senior adviser of Phi Eta

2. Coach BOB BLUDORN (standing) and his intramural basketball champs at Wabash.

3. GEORGE BLACK, president of Beta Pi, takes a cut at one in the Northwestern softball league.

8. Scene from Mother's Day week end at Gamma Lambda (Purdue).

9. Six new initiates of Gamma Lambda pose on the steps of the Shelter.

Sigma. Dale Grubb won a varsity football letter.

Thirty-eight towns are represented in the chapter from Oklahoma, Texas, California, Arkansas, New Mexico, Illinois, and there are even two men from Brazil in Delta Alpha.

Two members of the chapter were elected to Phi Beta Kappa; they are Bill Stephenson and Bill Bender. Fonvielle, Keener, Sowers, Fretwell, B. Kirkpatrick, and H. Kirkpatrick are members of Delta Sigma Pi; Bob Harris and Tom Ingram, Pe-Et; Jack Richard, Pi Tau Sigma; Dow, Harris, Buhl, Phelps, Stephenson, Ingram, and Sowers, Phi Eta Sigma; H. Keener, Ingram, Lewis, and Harris, Tau Beta Pi; Ingram, H. Keener, Lewis, and Harris, Sigma Tau; Davidson, Collier, Don Holt, and Russell, Kappa Kappa Psi; Davidson, Psi Chi; and Al Shirley, Alpha Kappa Psi.

Delta Beta—Carnegie Tech

Members of Delta Beta Chapter held a reception at the Carnegie Tech Shelter for Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and John W. Galbreath, part owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, May 16 to climax a year filled with chapter and individual activity.

During spring carnival the chapter came off with its share of the honors, winning first and third in the canoe tilting, third in the float parade, and third in the interfraternity sweepstakes. The Sing & Swing, annual Greek singing contest followed by a dance, saw Delta Beta in second place. Two intramural championships rest at the Shelter for this past year—football and softball.

Individual honors, accruing benefit to the chapter, included these offices: R. C. Eschenbach, editor of Tartan; T. J. Farrah, president of Delta Skull, junior class honorary, chairman of junior prom, and student council; Nick Reed, business manager of Cano and student council; Bruce Murray, student council; Fred Frank, president of Scimitars; A. P. Christenson, student council and president of intramural board; and Norm Zuerner, spring carnival committee and Delta Skull.

Individual achievement in scholarship was attested by membership in Tau Beta Pi—John Wolff, Dick Eschenbach, and Augie Binder, Omicron Delta Kappa—Art Slagle, Bob Kerr, and Tom Farrah, and Theta Tau—Tom Hall, Dick Huntoon, and Nick Reed.

Christenson was captain of the golf team and was awarded a varsity letter as were Norm Zuerner and G. G. O'Brien. Other varsity letters won by Delta Beta men were football, Les Wahrenburg; soccer, R. M. Kindblom and Ken King; and track, Hal Frederick.

Formation of the Delta Beta alumni club and the Delta Beta mothers' club was significant of the progressive program in effect during the past season.

Delta Gamma—South Dakota

The climax to a big year came on May 11, Mother's Day, when Delta Gamma Chapter entertained 105 Delts and their mothers in the Shelter with a turkey dinner. The day was brought to a successful conclusion when members of Delta Gamma, under the able direction of Bob Merrick, won the big gold trophy for the interfraternity sing contest, singing "Delta Shelter" and "Night and Day."

Delts copped second place in the University Strollers show, being defeated only by the independents. Delt pledge Ted Mallder, who sang with Bob Crosby's service band, brought down the house once more with a brilliant performance in the musical product "Hits from Light Opera." An additional award won last fall was for second place in homecoming float competition.

Delta Gamma's contribution to the University's basketball team was noteworthy. Tom Luby, Harry Carleton, John Diefendorf, and Jack Van Arsdale were all lettermen. Captain of the team, Luby was named first-string all-conference and Diefendorf received honorable mention. In varsity golf, Gordon Ellis and Harry Carleton were members of the University team which won the North Central Conference golf tournament. Football lettermen were Bartholow, Vail, Klostergaard, Merrigan, and Van Arsdale.

On the activity front, Manolis is president of the sophomore class;

Egan and Klostergaard members of student senate; Egan a member of the honorary "Dakotans"; Luby a member of the athletic board of control; Johnson drum major of the school band; and Berg, Weeks, and Haberman members of Strollers Council. Top dance band on the campus is under the leadership of Delts Bud and Jim Doyle. Recently initiated into Phi Eta Sigma were Don Steele and Curt Jahraus.

Greatest event of the season for Delta Gamma was the return of one of its prominent alumni, Bucky Whittemore, of the world-famous piano team of Whittemore and Lowe, who played a concert at the University. Following the concert a reception was held at the Shelter for Bucky, attended by more than two hundred faculty members and townspeople.

Delta Gamma's Founders Day celebration on May 4 was a tribute to Keyes Gaynor, M. I. T., '09, who received his Citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter last fall at the Karnea.

Delta Delta—Tennessee

Delta Delta produced a basketball team this year which swept through a tough schedule and emerged champions of the Knoxville Municipal League. Both Bill Acuff, guard, and Louis Mankus, center, were selected members of the all-star team. Bill was, in addition, all-intramural shortstop of University softball.

The chapter boasts other outstanding athletes. Marshall Hawkins has been chosen captain of the University team for next winter. Delts Wooten and Burris were also varsity netmen for the Vols. Webb was a football letterman, and Snyder earned his "T" in tennis. Byrd, McDonald, and Shackelford played varsity baseball, the latter two doing some fine work on the mound. Head cheerleader for the University of Tennessee is Tandy Wilson.

Garland O'Shields played on a college all-stars basketball team which defeated the country's reigning professional champions.

Activity men of Delta Delta were Tandy Wilson, president of the fraternity relations board; Benny Bird, sports editor of Orange and White, official school publication; and Leslie Inman, president of the University's debate club.

Delts in campus honor societies are Evans and Raines, Tau Beta Pi; Hoffmeister and O'Shields, Scarabeus; Wilson, Shackelford, and Smith, Circle and Torch.

Most memorable function of the year was the annual Founders Day Banquet March 7, held in conjunction with the Knoxville Alumni Chapter. Principal speaker was Southern Division President Charles Pearson, Jr., of Nashville. Other speakers were Gregory Benson, of the alumni chapter, and Felix Nance, of the active chapter.

Chapter Adviser Arthur D. Gray was this year re-elected vice-president of the Southern Division.

Delta Epsilon—Kentucky

Delta Epsilon Chapter won the all-participation trophy in intramural athletic competition for the first time this year.

The Delts won team trophies in boxing and wrestling and individual prizes in two divisions of golf play and piled up a total that was almost 600 points ahead of the runner-up.

Jack Montgomery, vice-president of the chapter, was the intramural manager for the year's activities. All-around co-operation and teamwork were the deciding factors in winning the trophy.

Delta Epsilon also won the men's division of the annual All-Campus Sing, which was held in February. The Delts have won the Sing nine out of the last eleven years. Joseph Young, president of the chapter, and Harold Bell Wright, corresponding secretary, were leaders of the twenty-five men composing the glee club.

Elliott Peel was voted the most valuable pledge for the winter quarter by the active chapter. Elliott was a cheerleader for the University before the war. After coming back to school, he was selected by the school's athletic staff to coach the cheerleaders for the complete year.

Billy Mac Rhoads was voted the most valuable pledge for the spring quarter by the active chapter. Billy Mac was recently elected president of Suky, campus pep organization. He succeeded Harrison Dixon, also a Delt. Billy Mac is a freshman, which makes his elevation to this position all the more noteworthy.

Delta Zeta—Florida

The spring season brought two notable social events for Delta Zeta—a Founders Day Banquet on March 30 at the Varsity Dining Room and the Rainbow Ball, held at Club 400 on March 7, at which the Delta Zeta Queen, selected by alumni judges Dr. Elmer Hinckley, Dr. Glenn Mead, Colonel William Fifield, and Captain Jack Williams, was crowned.

During the past year the chapter won the homecoming decorations contest, intramural shuffle board singles and doubles championship, and intramural softball championship. Delt Lefferts Mabie was crowned national intercollegiate billiards and pool champion.

Participating in campus activities were Jack Doherty, editor of Orange Peel, variety magazine, and publicity director of the leading political party; Wyckoff Myers, secretary-treasurer of the junior class; Lee Henderson, IFC treasurer and managing editor of Orange Peel; Andrew Potter, Honor Court member; and Gollattscheck, Davis, and Clarkson, editorial staff members of Orange Peel.

Earning honors were Trinkle, Youtz, Doherty, Myers, and Collie in Phi Eta Sigma; Wattenbarger in Phi Kappa Phi; and Watson, Godwin, and Myers in Kappa Kappa Psi. Varsity letters went to Earnest and Taylor in track and Morgen as football manager.

Alumni of Delta Zeta who figured in the news this year are Cyril Houle, dean of Chicago's University College, who was chosen the city's outstanding young man of 1946; Major Woodrow W. Dickey, wartime military attache at Rome, pilot and aide to Field Marshall Sir Harold Alexander, now joining foreign liaison branch of the War Department General Staff; and Jerry McGill, Rhodes scholar, British pole vaulting champion, now producer and director of "Big Town" over Columbia Broadcasting System. Sydney Lenfestey, '34, is newly elected vice-president of the Southern Division.

Delta Eta—Alabama

Delta Eta's return to normal operations in one year has brought renewed interest in activities, which has seen several of its members appointed to the staffs of Rammer Jammer and Crimson-White, campus publications, Dick Oliver installed as president of the Newman Club, Don Landgraff cited to Rho Alpha Tau, and Bill Allison elected to Druids.

The chapter took first place in its bridge league, second place in its intramural basketball league, and first place in an ice-pushing contest on University Avenue during homecoming.

Social events of note sponsored by Delta Eta included the Rainbow Ball in January, the Bowery Ball in February, and a formal house dance in April.

Members of the chapter were pleased to see Alumnus Howard Foltz appointed general manager of radio station WJRD in Tuscaloosa recently.

Delta Iota—U. C. L. A.

Delta Iota came through this year to win two intramural championships—basketball and volleyball.

The chapter boasts the first freshman—Jack Nelson—ever to become captain of the swimming team at UCLA. Other varsity lettermen are John Roesh, football; Peter Ellis and Dick Romer, water polo; Gil Tuffli, swimming; Rodney Sackett, tennis; Warde Brand, crew. Horton, Klinger, and Frear played freshman basketball, Frear being captain of the team.

In campus activities, Bob Bernard is president of the house managers association. Jack Baddeley is treasurer of the interfraternity council. Members of Phi Phi, national honorary, are Fred Montgomery, Andrew McGee, Jack Baddeley, Spike Tattan, and George Henderson. Bob Bainbridge played the lead in a movie produced by Hal Roach under the auspices of the California state department, depicting life at a typical university.

Delta Iota held its twenty-first Charter Day Banquet on May 20. Two founders, Nat Fitts and Frank Rethlefsen, spoke concerning the

1. Beta Zeta song leader CARL HENN poses with the first-place cup his glee club won at Butler.
2. Intramural basketball championship at Texas was won by these Delts of Gamma Iota Chapter.
3. Beta Omicron's TIP NEWELL, BILL COULTER, and DAVE WILLIAMS relax after a hard fought softball game at Cornell.
4. Part of the crowd at Gamma Zeta's (Wesleyan) spring picnic.
5. TOM SMITH, Gamma Delta, president of the student body at West Virginia.
6. Delta Iota Chapter at UCLA.
7. TANDY WILSON, president of fraternity relations board at Tennessee, member of junior-senior honorary, head cheerleader, and past president of Delta Delta.
8. BOB MERCHANT, Campus Mayor of the University of Maine.
9. BRUCE PASCHAL, president of Beta Phi, is president of junior men's honorary at Ohio State and prominent in multitudinous campus activities.
10. JAMES SIRMANS, Beta Delta, is Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, and winner of Sigma Delta Chi scholarship award at Georgia.
11. RICHARD BERGMAN, Delta Nu, is a member of Mace and other campus honoraries at Lawrence.

history and founding of the chapter.

Principal speaker at the 1947 Los Angeles Founders Day Banquet was Colonel Thomas Cunningham, Delta Iota, '26, who spoke on "Universal Training." Delta Iota Chapter Adviser Frank Sproul was recipient of the Charles Lincoln Edwards award for the greatest contribution to the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter.

Best Fraternity party of the year was the annual Barbary Coast dance at Delta Iota Shelter. Hollywood sets completely converted the house into the San Francisco Barbary Coast of the 1890's. The finishing touches were added by the many guests who wore lavish costumes of the period.

Delta Lambda—Oregon State

John Alexander, Sr., Delta Lambda, '23, returned to the Oregon State Shelter for the first time in seventeen years this past winter. Attraction was John, Jr., initiated into Delta Lambda April 20, 1947. The senior Alexander has been in Afghanistan the past two and one-half years as chief engineer for that country's government.

Although Mr. Alexander was a bit late for the first postwar homecoming, designated as "Reunion After Tokyo," many other alumni returned for this event, at which the chapter took second place.

Campus honoraries included the following: Sigma Delta Chi, Fred Zwahlen; Blue Key, Tom McClintock; Rho Chi, Don Kroeger and Duane Netland; Kappa Psi, Don Kroeger and Duane Netland; Sigma Pi Sigma, Sam Peoples; Mask and Dagger, John Alexander; Thanos, service society, Tom Pearce and Glenn Wilson; Pi Mu Epsilon, Ed

Milne and Ed Locke; Phi Omega, Ed Milne; and Phi Lambda Upsilon, John McClintock.

Varsity letters were won by Art Weiland, crew, and Alex Peterson, forward on the Oregon State Pacific Coast Conference championship basketball team.

Delta Mu—Idaho

Placing third in interfraternity scholarship at Idaho, Delta Mu has many members who have excelled in scholarship and have still had time for activities.

Louis Boyle, Maurice Paulsen, and Rolland Tipsword are all members of Phi Eta Sigma. Tipsword is junior adviser to the organization, and Paulsen is vice-president. Paulsen is, besides, editor of Blot, and Tipsword is vice-president of the sophomore class.

A standout in activities is Robert Dahlstrom, who is treasurer of IFC, on the student body executive board, and a member of both Silver Lance and Blue Key. Charles Urban is a member of Junior Knight and IK.

Five men of Delta Mu won varsity letters in five different sports. They are: John Christensen, football; Glen Cushman, golf; Paul Thome, tennis; Robert Metzger, baseball; and Richard Boyle, rifle team.

Allen S. Janssen, chapter adviser, has recently been appointed Dean of the College of Engineering at the University.

Delta Nu—Lawrence

The Centennial graduation at Lawrence was participated in by Delts of Delta Nu, with Bill Burton, student body president, delivering an address at the dinner. Three Delts sang in the choir which played an important part in the exercises, and thirteen Delta Nu brothers were graduated. Gordon R. Clapp, '27, received an honorary degree of LL.D. on June 8 at the Centennial Commencement exercises and he delivered the Commencement address.

In the fall the men will welcome back Mrs. "Mom" Aldt, house-mother, and the chapter will resume eating in the house after a wartime lapse.

Meantime, Delta Nu is looking toward a successful year next fall to keep up the position it maintained during the past year. In addition to Burton, student body president, campus offices held by members included business manager of the student newspaper, George MacKinnon; student body publicity director, yearbook sports editor, and editor of homecoming program, Vern Duerrwachter; and social chairman and student newspaper sports editor, Richard Bergman.

Delta Nu won the interfraternity touch football championship for the seventh consecutive year. The championship interfraternity bowling team also resides in the Shelter. In the homecoming house decorations competition, the Delts placed second.

In 1946-47 James Steward was the individual attaining the highest scholarship in the chapter. Bill Burton received the Iden Charles champion cup for excellence in scholarship, athletics, and College spirit and loyalty. The Businessman's prize in Latin was awarded to George Vander Weyden.

Richard Bergman is a member of Mace; Phi Mu Alpha elected Walter J. Chilsen, Scott Hunsberger, and George Vander Weyden, who is also a member of Eta Sigma Phi. Walter Chilsen, Ted Roeder, and Fred Thatcher are members of the Sunset Players.

One of the outstanding events which included alumni was the alumni and active banquet held at Butte de Morte Country Club May 14.

In athletics George Vander Weyden was track captain of the 1947 Mid-West Conference championship team. Bill Burton was All-Conference second team end and was elected cocaptain for the Lawrence 1947 defending champs. Varsity letters were awarded to Bill Burton, George Lucht, Joe Greco, and Ronald Gottsacker, in football; Bill Burton, George Vander Weyden, and Vern Duerrwachter, manager, in basketball; George Vander Weyden, Bill Gillham, Don Hubers, Tom Clift, and Tom Edgerton, in track; John Watson, in swimming; George Steed, in cross country; and Fred Thatcher, in wrestling.

Delta Xi—North Dakota

The activities of 1946-47 have added three cups to the Delta Xi Shelter—one for the highest active scholastic average of all fraternities, one for the highest combined scholastic average of actives and pledges, and another for the best homecoming float in a highly competitive field.

Individual honors came to Harold Stewart, who was awarded the Minute Man Medal for being the best drilled student in freshman R. O. T. C. at North Dakota.

Chapter President Ronald Fett, in addition to being the editor of The Student, campus newspaper, was elected to Sigma Delta Chi, journalism honorary. Donald Stonestrom, past president of Delta Xi, has earned membership in Sigma Tau, engineering honorary. Other members have contributed to various programs of the University.

Reactivated little more than one year since war conditions suspended Fraternity activity, Delta Xi is rapidly gaining momentum and looks forward with enthusiasm and optimism to the school year 1947-48.

Delta Omicron—Westminster

For the second time in succession, the George B. English Scholarship Trophy rests on the Delts' mantle, to become their permanent possession if they can repeat once more. Instrumental in acquiring the award were Dennis, White, Lowary, and Murphy, all members of Alpha Psi Omega, and two pledges, Williams and Hausstette, who stood in the top ten scholastically at Westminster.

Delta Omicron's basketball team won the intramural championship for 1947. Varsity athletics found Shroeder a letter-winner in tennis; Gnojewski and Whiteway, who was medalist, in golf; and low hurdles champion Titus in track.

Icenogle, Mullen, and Lowary were members, two of them soloists, of the famous Westminster glee club which toured the Southwest.

A special event for the alumni was the reunion and Christmas formal held on a December week end, when alumni and their wives were feted at the Shelter.

Delta Pi—U. S. C.

Big news from USC is the fact that Delta Pi is well installed in its elegant new Shelter at 919 West Adams Boulevard. It was here that the University's Council of Atomic Implications held its benefit dance in the Delt gardens to raise funds for atomic education. Delts Purviance and Witmeyer are members of the Council.

Delta Pi ranked third in both novelty and fraternity songs in the interfraternity song fest and ranked third of twenty-three fraternities in scholarship for the first semester.

On campus, Bob Patten is president of the freshman class, Al Reid is president of Blue Key, national honorary, Bob Smith is managing editor of the daily newspaper and president of Sigma Delta Chi, and Fred Knell is president of the college of letters, arts, and sciences.

Delts are well represented in the honoraries. Members of Knights are Perrin, Long, McCarthy, and Green. Tom Smith is Phi Eta Sigma. Long, Power, Patten, Duitsman, and West are Squires. Reid, Purviance, Harshman, Smith, and Knell are in Blue Key, and Bob Smith is a member of Skull and Dagger.

Paul Carter and Don Reid are regulars on the USC golf team, and Reid is captain of the squad.

One of the outstanding events of the year which included the alumni was the dedication of the new Shelter, which honored Kenneth Morse, a member of Delta Pi who was killed in the service of his country.

Fireplace

eral of our most likely inquiries came originally from officers of institutions.

Next, we consider whether the institution has and will continue to have sufficient man power eligible for Delta Tau Delta to support another top-flight fraternity chapter operating on a basis comparable to the strongest existing chapters on that campus and in a manner consistent with our standard types of operation. If that condition exists, we prefer a campus where two or more of our strongest competitors are already established or are locating. We expect a new chapter to step into the front rank on its campus, but not by default.

Finally, we must have or develop a local group which at least for a brief period proves itself capable of functioning satisfactorily. Nowadays there are Delts on almost every campus. With the co-operation of the administration and local Delt alumni, it is not difficult to organize a desirable group.

No mention has been made of arbitrary classifications, as to size, state or private, urban or nonurban, region, and like matters. There is no rule or policy on these subjects, nor has there been for many years in practice, as will be noted from examining the list of recent charters. It is true that institutions which are essentially local, such as municipal universities, are rarely suitable. Those situated in metropolitan areas are frequently difficult fraternity fields, but it is quite likely that the Fraternity may have one or more new chapters in such areas. Some parts of the United States and Canada seem to offer exceptional opportunities, but there is no large section from which we have not had apparently desirable inquiries.

The fraternity system expanded tremendously following World War I. Much of that expansion was hasty and without proper foundation. Many chapters failed to survive, even though the institutions where they were located improved. Our Fraternity had its troubles, but we were able to save almost every one of our young chapters. By judicious application of the principles we are following, we believe Delta Tau Delta can expand by the addition of chapters which will strengthen our position and be able to survive when the pendulum reverses its swing, as it surely will.

The Texas Company has announced the elevation of E. R. FILLEY, Baker, '15, Kansas, '15, to a position as manager of the producing department and its operations throughout the United States east of California, according to a recent issue of The Oil Weekly. The Company also announced the appointment of JOHN N. TROXELL, Pittsburgh, '21, as assistant manager, who will retain also his present post of departmental geologist.

Announcement was made in July that a charter had been granted by the Arch Chapter for an alumni chapter of Delta Tau Delta in San Antonio, Texas. The new group will be known as the San Antonio Alumni Chapter.

Charter members of the chapter are ROBERT W. MILLER, Idaho, '40; FRED ROHLES, DePauw, '42; C. STANLEY BANKS, Texas, '43; CHARLES H. JACKSON, George Washington, '30; ALFRED NISBET, Stanford, '31; FRANK L. SCOFIELD, Texas, '39; FRANK MURRAY, Texas, '38; WILLIAM H. RUSSELL, Texas, '38; WILBUR C. BARTH, Texas, '42; BLEWETT SMYTH, Texas, '49; ROSWELL C. BURNS, Wooster, '16; STANLEY JUNG, Texas, '42; and COLONEL JOHN L. CLEM, JR., Sewanee, '06.

JOHN GUNTHER, Kansas, '47, immediate past president of Gamma Tau Chapter, was one of thirty-five United States college men awarded a scholarship to the National Institute of Public Affairs in Washington, D. C.

A graduate in political science, John has taken part in many outside activities, serving as chairman of the Pachacamac political party, a member of the student council, dance manager, campus social committee chairman, a member of the International Relations Club and Forensic League, member of the interfraternity council, and candidate for president of the student council.

After training a year in Washington, which will be completed in June, 1948, John expects to obtain a master's degree at Washington University in public affairs. He has chosen the teaching profession for his career and hopes to acquire experience in his field of study by working in a department of the federal government.

Announcement has been made of the appointment of DR. N. R. H. MOOR, Kenyon, '14, as director of the Winchester-Thurston School, Shadyside, Pittsburgh. He will continue in his church capacity. His position at the girls' school will be largely as an adviser and consultant.

falo Bisons of the All-America pro conference as soon as the Illini's participation in the N. C. A. A.'s baseball tourney is completed. He said the offer was "too good to turn down." He had one year of college eligibility remaining.

KENNETH C. PENFOLD, Colorado, '37, former field secretary for the Fraternity, has been appointed by Mayor-elect Quigg Newton of Denver as his secretary. He was formerly purchasing agent for C. A. Norgren Company in Denver and is a past president of the Denver Junior Chamber of Commerce.

For "exceptional and meritorious service in the signal corps of the 6th service command of the Army from 1942 to 1943," COL. SAMUEL R. TODD, Illinois Tech, '12, recently was awarded the Legion of Merit by the War Department.

DR. GEORGE MORRIS PIERSOL, Pennsylvania, '02, was recently made a Master of the American College of Physicians. The award is given in recognition of outstanding and distinguished service as a member of the medical profession. During the past thirty years only twelve men have received the award.

Nine leaders in the fields of science, letters, the ministry, sports, law, and politics were awarded honorary doctorates at the one hundred third annual commencement of Ohio Wesleyan University on Monday, June 9. Included in the group were two alumni from Chapter Mu.

DR. BRANCH RICKEY

BRANCH RICKEY, '06, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball club, and former member of the board of trustees of the University, received the Doctor of Law degree. He holds two other doctorates, the J.D. from Michigan (1911) and the LL.D. from McKendree (1928).

The Doctor of Science degree was conferred upon WALTER CHARLES RUSSELL, '14, professor of agricultural biochemistry and executive secretary of the graduate faculty of Rutgers University. Professor Russell received his B.S. degree from Ohio Wesleyan in 1914, his M.S. from Syracuse in 1923, and his Ph.D. from Chicago in 1927.

LEWIS DESCHLER, Miami, '26, and parliamentarian of the House of Representatives, received a doctorate degree from the National University in commencement exercise of the School of Law last June.

Directors of the Purdue Alumni Scholarship Foundation have announced the appointment of RICHARD P. THORNTON as executive secretary of the Foundation. He is a member of Gamma Lambda Chapter in the class of 1941.

The Alumni Scholarship Foundation was created to aid needy and worthy students who would otherwise not be able to obtain or complete their college educations at Purdue. Funds for the work are given by alumni and are controlled by the Foundation under the guidance of the University administration.

After obtaining his degree in electrical engineering, Thornton was employed by the Ingersoll-Rand Company. He entered the Army in November, 1942, where he served as a radar officer in the European theater. He was discharged in March, 1946, with the rank of captain.

JOHN A. HANEY, Northwestern, '40, has been awarded the $100 first prize in the Robert Whitehand memorial award contest at the University of Oklahoma for his mystery story, "The Blonde in the Bottle."

Announcement of the prize was made as one of the high lights of the annual short course in professional writing at Oklahoma. The contest was judged by Saturday Evening Post writer Steve Payne and by Harlan Mendenhall, writer of detective fiction and founder of the award.

FOWLER B. MCCONNELL, Chicago, '16, president of Sears, Roebuck and

Company, has been named a member of the board of trustees of the University of Chicago, which now makes a total of five Delts among the trustees and honorary trustees of the University. PAUL G. HOFFMAN, Chicago, '12, and CHARLES F. AXELSON, Chicago, '07, are members of the present board, and SEWELL L. AVERY, Michigan, '94, and HARRY B. BARNARD, Wooster, '95, are honorary trustees.

FREDERICK D. KERSHNER, JR., Butler, '37, has been appointed as instructor in history at Ohio University, according to a recent announcement. He will assume this post September 1. He received his Bachelor's Degree from Butler University and a Master's Degree from the University of Wisconsin, where he served the Fraternity in capacity of resident adviser.

DR. GEORGE H. THIELE, Kansas, '18, was installed as president of the American Proctologic Society at its gathering in June in conjunction with the centennial convention of the American Medical Association.

Cited for Distinguished Service

Latest recipient of a Citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter is Alfred C. "Cap" Runyan, Baker, '20, who was presented this honor at the annual Gamma Theta Stag in Baldwin City, Kansas, last May. The presentation was made by Martin B. Dickinson, Secretary of Delta Tau Delta.

Mr. Runyan becomes the one hundred thirty-fourth member of the Distinguished Service Chapter. Since the day of his graduation he has been a loyal alumnus, a constant Karnea-goer, a staunch supporter of Gamma Theta. He was the author of the article "What the Well-Dressed Delt Should Wear," which appeared in the last issue of THE RAINBOW, and he is the stem-winder of an enthusiastic group of Delts in Pittsburg, Kansas, his home, who will soon petition for recognition as the Southwestern Kansas Alumni Chapter.

A letter received from Mr. Runyan last December best describes his activity in the Fraternity. He wrote, "The year is well advanced, but I am still living under the spell of the Chicago Karnea, every minute of which I thoroughly enjoyed. . . It goes without saying that I am now looking forward to the next Karnea—and wherever it may be held I am going to do my utmost to be present. I'm still maintaining my record at Gamma Theta—that of getting back to the old chapter house at least once every school year. I haven't missed since I graduated from Baker in 1920. Have been up four times this year and hope to make several more visits before June."

Following is the text of his Citation:

Friend and counselor to Delts of two generations; for thirty years a one-man rushing team in behalf of his chapter and others in his own and neighboring states; organizer of alumni groups; ever watchful for opportunities to serve his Fraternity and with no thought of recognition or reward; his never-failing loyalty and enthusiasm have been an inspiration and a fine example to those whose privilege it is to know him.

Following is a roster of the members who have been cited to the

THE DELT ALUMNI CHAPTERS

Battle Creek

The Battle Creek Alumni Chapter is making plans for a picnic this summer. This picnic will be for the purpose of entertaining high school graduates in the vicinity of Battle Creek and acquainting them with the lifelong benefits of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity and Delta Tau Delta chapters.

On the individual "alums" in Battle Creek, there is not a great deal of news except that Brother Harry Babcock, Hillsdale, '36, has opened and is doing a rushing business with Battle Creek's finest dining room. Probably the best word I could pass along to other Deltas is that if they are ever through Battle Creek and are interested in the ultimate in dining pleasure, they should stop and dine with Harry at the Williams House.

J. ADDINGTON WAGNER

Buffalo

The alumni chapter at Buffalo continues to meet weekly at the University Club, where several newcomers to Buffalo have joined us in our activities.

The variety of professions and industries represented in our group make our weekly meetings most interesting and educational.

Summer activities being planned include a golf match with one of our neighbor chapters, a picnic at Milt Perrott's new summer home at Lotus Bay, and an ox roast at Bob Wilson's.

Walt Fissel recently returned from his annual winter vacation in Florida—brown as a berry and ready for more fishing, as usual.

We urge all Deltas in the Buffalo area to join us in our weekly and special activities. You will find the personal and business association very friendly and worth while. Come on fellows—join in.

R. E. FRANK

A Word from Walling

By the time this issue of THE RAINBOW reaches you, it is hoped that preparation of the new Handbook for Alumni Chapters will have been completed, and copies placed in the hands of presidents and secretaries of all alumni chapters and also undergraduate chapters and chapter advisers.

It is also to be made available to any other alumni who may be interested in giving assistance toward the organization and establishment of new alumni chapters, or reviving and restoring to active status alumni groups which may have been inactive during the war years.

This manual, which has been prepared in convenient pocket-size shape, presents in condensed form an outline of the procedure of organization and other information, with a comprehensive schedule of established aims and objectives, recommended for use by alumni groups; also a typical but simple set of bylaws, in the hope this may serve as a pattern or guide in helping to draw up bylaws for your own chapter.

While Delta Tau Delta is indeed fortunate that it continues to command the loyalty and inter- est of so many of its older men, no plan has yet been devised by which it can continue to guide and animate its members so effectively after graduation as it was possible to do with them as undergraduates. No time or effort is spared, however, to try to enlist a greater and increasing measure of alumni interest and activity, especially through the encouragement of their active participation in the affairs of the undergraduate chapters and efforts to guide and assist them in various ways.

It is our earnest hope that this new manual may serve a useful purpose for those who are charged with the responsibility of the administration and development of a realistic and constructive program for Delt alumni chapters; and that they, as well as others interested in the rehabilitation of alumni groups or the organization and establishment of new alumni chapters, may find in the expression of high aspirations, as exemplified in the suggested aims and objectives, particularly wholesome and worth-while goals to incorporate into any constructive program designed for alumni chapters.

Secretary of Alumni

Chicago

As usual, just in under the dead line with news of the Chicago Alumni Chapter. This time it was worth waiting until the last minute, because we're able to report the visit of Hugh Shields and Martin Dickinson at our luncheon June 30. There were no speeches, but we heard informally about the state of the Fraternity. The occasion brought forth some old familiar faces we haven't seen in quite a while. The Arch Chapter was also represented by A. B. Walling, one of our most loyal members, who is doing a lot to promote alumni activity.

Others present were France Patton, Charlie Axelson, Blake Hooper, James W. Bridge, Merrill Dwinnell, E. F. Winter, Port Arthur, Ed Peebles (an Army major just returned from Germany), Gil Smith, Karl Digel, Gene Grossman, R. A. Nix, Stuart Watson, T. T. Edwards, R. C. Yocum, Don Snell, A. F. Gilman, Orville Dewey, "Bunker" Bean, Harold Bever, Ralph Butz, Bob Gardner, and Jack West.

The long-heralded Chicago alumni directory is really in process, and we're hoping it will be ready this fall. Please cooperate with the publishers in giving them up-to-date information about yourself. They're trying to do a thorough job.

Port Arthur has been agitating for somebody to get behind a golf tournament and put it across in a big way. After considerable banter, the job finally descended on Port himself, and at this writing, plans for the tourney are in process.

Clifford L. Burnham, Illinois Tech, '15, has moved to New Smyrna Beach, Florida.

Since the last chapter letter, all three officers have switched jobs. Jack West, president, left T. W. A. to become Chicago manager of Emery Air Freight Corporation. Bob Gardner, secretary, has hung out his shingle as public relations counsel. Jim Matson, treasurer, is now with Cory Corporation, who make the glass coffee makers.

Founders Day at the Gamma Beta Chapter house May 10 found numerous alumni of the vicinity on hand, among them Harold Smith, B. E. Hartnett, R. Hartless, L. P. Brown, R. B. Stantial, H. Gragg, and R. B. Campbell.

Visiting Deltas from other cities who have attended Monday luncheons in recent weeks are Captain D. D. Myers, Gayville, South Dakota; David W. Hancock, W. & L., '38, Morocco, Indiana; and G. C. Blick, Delta Nu, who was on his way to take up residence at Corpus Christi, Texas. Now that another class has been graduated, we want to extend a special invitation to the new alumni to join the Chicago Chapter. Monday luncheons at the Fair will continue through the summer.

Cleveland

Once again we report that the activities of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter have centered around the weekly luncheon meetings held at the Mid-Day Club in the Union Commerce Building. The pressure of business, vacation schedules, and other conflicting dates made it impossible to hold our traditional spring party, but President Frank "Pat" Moran has appointed a special committee to arrange for the family picnic to be held in August. This has always been one of our finest events, and the one which brings out the largest crowd. A late summer golf tournament and an early fall dinner meeting are on our schedule. The Cleveland Alumni Chapter is now swinging back to its pre-war program of social functions.

For the past thirteen years Cleveland activities have been highlighted by our news bulletin. This continues to be the best media we have found for keeping our members alert and interested in our program.

Karl Ertle's Cleveland-Canada Steamship line started operations in June, when the S. S. Cadillac made its first trips to Cedar Point and to Erieau, Ontario. This regular passenger-automobile service is proving a welcome addition to Cleveland's vacationland facilities.

Ohio's Governor Tom Herbert is gaining in stature as each day passes. Tom's executive ability and his masterful selection of high-grade cabinet and appointive officials mark him as a man to be considered on the national political scene.

During the first week in June your correspondent conducted an American-Canadian Good Will Tour around the rim of Lake Erie. Forty-five Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, and Automobile Club representatives, United States and Canadian Government officials and newspapermen were in the party. Purpose of the trip was to advertise the Lake Erie region as a vacation spot and to improve the facilities available for the tour, travel, and vacation public. The whole idea was sponsored by the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce. Brothers Robert Whaley of the U. S. Department of Commerce, and advertising man, Hubert Morley, were members of the party.

And now for a roundup of a few "quickie" items: Jack Finnich on his way for an extended Canadian vacation. State Senator John Morrison given credit for doing an outstanding job in his first session of the Ohio General Assembly. Purdue Delt Jon Ruhlman finds the "hurry up" way to visit his home in Cleveland—rents himself an airplane and solos to Cleveland in a couple of hours. Gordon Harkin marries the very attractive Vera Jean Curtis of Sandusky. Bill Watts is manager of the huge Colonade Restaurant in the Leader Building. Harold Hopkins reports a very delightful time on the Ohio River spring cruise to New Orleans.

Plenty more doing here, but the editor has set up space limitations. Why not drop in at a Thursday luncheon and get the complete story. We assure you that you will be very welcome.

RANDALL M. RUHLMAN

Columbus

Beginning Friday, June 20, the Columbus Alumni Chapter luncheons returned to the University Club after an absence of several years due to curtailment of food and service which forced the University Club to abandon all fraternity groups in 1944.

The Columbus Alumni luncheons have been held on Wednesday noon for the past several years but by agreement among the members, it was voted to hold them on Friday noons in the future. The first meeting held on June 20 was attended by nearly 20 Deltas.

President Charlie Flick has been active, recently attending initiation and chapter activities at Beta Phi Chapter and at his own chapter (Alpha) at Meadville, Pennsylvania, where he was toastmaster at the Fraternity banquet held at Commencement time. Charlie reports that about 145, including many old grads of the Alpha Chapter, were there.

Preliminary plans are under way for the annual fall roundup which we hope to hold again at Brother John Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm. This has been an annual event for several years and has been one of the outstanding social functions on the Columbus alumni Delt calendar. Following the custom of past years Columbus alumni Deltas will act as hosts to the Beta Phi Chapter, who are to take their rushing prospects to this party.

Brother Richard Riley, President of the North High Savings & Loan Company, was recently named to the Board of Trustees of Miami University.

Dallas

The Founders Day Banquet of the Dallas Alumni Chapter was held March 4 at 7:30 in the Main Dining Hall of the Melrose Hotel. Twenty-five members of the Alumni Chapter were present. The principal discussion was the advisability and the possibility of installing an undergraduate chapter of Delta Tau Delta at Southern Methodist.

W. F. JACOBY, JR.

Dayton

Through the courtesy of Fowler Mould at N. C. R., the Dayton Alumni Chapter held a Delt picnic at Old River Park on Saturday, June 21. It was a family affair, complete with picnic baskets. Deltas and their families enjoyed a day of swimming, boating, canoeing, shuffle board, and other sports.

Des Moines

Des Moines Delta Tau Delta alumni have been reactivated, remotivated, and rejuvenated. Under the dynamic leadership of Stanton Marquardt, new president of the Des Moines alumni, with the watchful overseeing of national Vice-President Harold Brenton, of Des Moines, two meetings have been held which give as much promise as The Rainbow ever did, either Biblically or from the Delt angle.

Meetings are now to be held regularly at the Des Moines Club on the last Thursday of each month. The only exception is the July meeting which will be at the home of Brother Earl Butler, Gamma Alpha, '06, one of the most interesting modernistic homes in the nation.

Eighteen Deltas were out in full force on the last Thursday in June and heard President Marquardt of the local alumni tell the general purpose of the meetings—just to get acquainted with each other. A spread of forty-four years was noted in those on hand; from Earl Butler, '06, to Carl F. Mahnke, Jr., Gamma Pi, '50, and there were plenty in between. Any and all Deltas in Des Moines and vicinity are cordially invited to send their names to the secretary if they don't receive the cards sent out regularly.

Those present included:

W. H. Brenton, Gamma Pi, '20; Carl F. Mahnke, Gamma Pi, '22; Carl F. Mahnke, Jr., Gamma Pi, '50; Sam Green, Gamma Pi, '17; R. G. Wilde, Beta Psi, '48; E. E. Butler, Gamma Alpha, '06; James Liddle, Beta Psi, '45; Glen S. Worden, Kappa, '15; Bert Brown, Gamma Pi, '20; Stanton Marquardt, Omicron, '25; Davis Chamberlain, Omega, '24; K. G. Ellsworth, Omega, '21; J. Y. Foster, Gamma Pi, '46; Lawrence G. Copeland, Omicron, '48; John E. Spence, Omicron, '35; Dan R. Wessling, Jr., Omega, '40; Fred R. Green, Gamma Pi, '18, and Beta Rho, '20; Arthur H. Brayton, Beta Gamma, '14.

Indianapolis

The Indianapolis Alumni Chapter has enjoyed a most successful spring season under the able guidance of Gene Hibbs, president. The Annual State Founders Day Banquet and Dance, sponsored each year by the organization on behalf of the five active chapters in the state of Indiana and alums from each, was held on the evening of March 1 at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. Proceedings were in charge of Judge Alex Clark, ably assisted by Lloyd Rossebo and Frank Weiland.

High light of the stag banquet, which was attended by some 250 actives and alums from the chapters at Indiana, Purdue, DePauw, Butler, and Wabash, as well as those alums from other chapters who have settled in this area, was a splendid address by Brother Francis M. Hughes, outstanding attorney and U. S. Commissioner from this area. The dance which followed featured presentation of the annual attendance cup which went this year to Butler University (Beta Zeta) with 100 per cent attendance, and the usual stunt prize which Wabash College (Beta Psi) was awarded. The awards which are given by the alumni association were presented to the winners by Brothers Clark and Hibbs.

Indianapolis Deltas are proud of Brothers Adrian Wilhoite, accountant, and Kirkwood Yockey, attorney, both of whom have had outstanding abilities and hard work recognized by the Indianapolis Junior Chamber of Commerce, which boasts a membership of some 450 men. Brother Wilhoite has just completed a highly successful year as president of that organization and on the first Wednesday in August will pass the president's gavel and attendant honors to Brother Yockey, who has just been elected by overwhelming vote as his successor.

Activities of other members of the organization in and about Indianapolis have been noteworthy. Gene Hibbs is president of Dura-Crates, Inc., a box-manufacturing concern; Alex Clark, as was reported before, is a municipal judge in Indianapolis; Bowman Downey serves in an executive capacity with Holcomb and Hoke Manufacturing Co.; John Barney and Francis Hughes are partners in the outstanding firm of Barney and Hughes, attorneys, in Indianapolis; Bill Martindill, popular President of the Northern Division, holds an executive post with Stokely Foods, Inc.;

Ernie Miller, who serves as Bill's able assistant as vice-president of the Northern Division, is prominent in the "movie world" of Indianapolis, serving as head of The Cinema Theatre; Joe Morgan, who has been an active Delt alum for better than fifty years, continues to practice law and rarely, if ever, misses an alumni association weekly meeting.

Wallace Weatherholt serves as Assistant Treasurer of the state of Indiana; Guy E. Morrison is agent and C. L. U. with The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. in Indianapolis; Dr. Richard R. Hughes is about to complete his Army career at Ft. Knox, Ky., where he has been performing general surgery; Herman Brecht has recently accepted a fine position with Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U. S. in its Indianapolis offices; Claude Warren, Carter B. Tharp, and Bob Morgan are all outstanding young attorneys in this locale; Judge Emsley W. Johnson, Jr., has made an outstanding name for himself on the bench and was in charge of Alumni Weekend at Butler University well assisted by Gene Yockey, also an outstanding young attorney in Indianapolis; Wade Neal has recently become associated as a sales engineer with the firm of J. T. Couchman and Co. in Indianapolis; A. E. Gordon has recently become affiliated with the firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, and Beane; George Browne is the president of the Optimist Club of Indianapolis; Jess Pritchett and Hank Pond both hold executive posts with the Barbasol Company whose headquarters are in Indianapolis; Fred Hill, Norman Hammer, and Kenneth Fry are noted realtors in the community; Dick Hutchison recently went with Stokely Foods, Inc., in Florida but will soon return to the Indianapolis office and again become one of the frequent attenders at the luncheon meetings; Steve Badger, our treasurer, continues as an officer at Adams, Inc., interior decorators and large home furniture house in Indianapolis; Bob Glass has recently joined his Delt dad, Elbert Glass, who is an official of the Crown Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co.; and Don Nicwander continues as an outstanding accountant in this city. Many others who are members of the organization are distinguishing themselves in their particular fields of endeavor but space does not permit complete enumeration of all of them. Suffice it to say that all mentioned as well as those other members are loyal Delt Alumni boosters and always lend a hand when called upon to do so.

Honors came recently to Delt Allison Maxwell, lieutenant colonel and A-26 group leader during the war, who was awarded the Croix de Guerre by the French government.

Plans for the ensuing six months call for possibly two golf tournaments and dinners at one of the local country clubs—one for July and one for August—and the organization of a bowling league for this coming fall and winter which will be made up of two teams from each of some six fraternity alumni organizations in Indianapolis. This league will be sponsored by Delta Tau Delta and is receiving enthusiastic support from representatives of other organizations already contacted. Lloyd Rossebo will be in charge of this program with Famous Bowler Jess Pritchett, Jr., in able charge of meeting place, time, schedules, etc.

Frank Weiland, our 70-shooter, will head up the golf committee for the coming tournaments. The other activity yet to be sponsored will be the rush picnic toward the end of the summer, at which time all alums will lend a hand in helping the five Indiana active chapters invite and entertain prospective Delt pledges for the coming fall semester.

On behalf of the entire Indianapolis Alumni Chapter, the writer extends greetings to all Deltas throughout the land, and again urges you all to stop over at one of our weekly luncheons on the Sixteenth Floor, Washington Hotel, in downtown Indianapolis any Friday of the year.

FRED C. TUCKER, JR.

Knoxville

On July 12 the alumni chapter is to have an informal dinner-dance at the Norris Tea Room in Norris, Tenn. This will be the first alumni-sponsored social function of the year, and every effort will be made to make it a success. It may be possible later in the summer to hold a similar party in Oak Ridge.

The members of the chapter are taking an active interest in the arrangements now being made by the Delta Delta Chapter for making a number of improvements on the chapter house.

Since it is indicated that a fairly good turnout can be expected, the chapter plans to continue its meetings throughout the summer months and all Deltas who are in the Knoxville area on the first Monday of the month are cordially invited to attend the meetings at the Farragut Hotel.

CHARLES D. MOAK.

Long Beach

The May meeting of the Long Beach Alumni Chapter was held at the home of Brother Ray Gould and was a purely social gathering. All those present pronounced it a bang-up party. Tall stories of undergraduate days, interspersed with Delt songs and culminating with refreshments par excellence made this meeting a memorable one.

The June dinner meeting, held at the Pacific Coast Club on Tuesday, the Seventeenth, was made a special occasion to honor Brother John Hull who has been a member of Delta Tau Delta for fifty-three years. Brother Dan Ferguson, President of the Western Division, Brother Ben McNeill, president of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter, and four other brothers from that chapter, made the trip from Los Angeles to be with us and Dan presented Brother Hull with a certificate of fifty years membership in the Fraternity.

Brother Hull was initiated into Delta Tau Delta on February 24, 1894, as one of the charter members of Beta Upsilon Chapter at the University of Illinois. In the fall of 1894 he transferred to the University of Iowa and affiliated with Omicron Chapter, graduating in 1897 with the degree of Ph.B. and obtaining the degree of LL.B. in 1898. He came to Long Beach in 1919 and served as Deputy City Attorney and City Prosecutor from 1924 to 1939, since which time he has been engaged in private practice. He is a charter member of the Long Beach Alumni Chapter, a consistent attendant at our meetings, and is an inspiration to younger brothers in his loyalty to, and enthusiasm for, his Fraternity.

Brother John Spielman is making an extended visit in Iowa, his home state.

We urge all brothers who may come to Long Beach as tourists, visitors or residents to join us at our meetings, held on the third Tuesday of each month.

ROBERT B. TAPLIN

Los Angeles

Sorry we can't tell you about our successful summer jinks but this letter is being written a little too early for that. In 1946, however, approximately 200 attended and we anticipate that this year it will be just as large. In that respect John Mudge, Iowa State, '21, showed us moving pictures of our 1946 affair at a recent Thursday night dinner and they were enjoyed by all, so if you want to get into the movies the only requisite is to be there this year. Speaking of our Thursday night dinners which are held at Taix's Restaurant, 321 East Commercial Street, this last quarter produced three equally successful dinners, one of which was mentioned above. The second one we had the pleasure of listening to Robert Meyer, past president of Delta Pi Chapter. He threw out a challenge for the future of fraternities that will be productive of great results for any group that lives up to his recommendations. Incidentally, it was one of the finest talks ever made by an undergraduate. At our most recent dinner we had the pleasure of listening to Major Al Woodward, Stanford, '34, who gave us a very fine talk on engineer problems, supply and transport in the Battle of the Bulge.

Two years ago Sid Wilson, Zeta, '88, our President Emeritus, had 15 Deltas and their wives to his eightieth birthday party. Sid was such a wonderful host and everyone had such a magnificent evening, that the group determined to have a series of Ladies Nights for the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter. It was considerably experimental. None of us was sure whether it would work or not, but now that two of the parties are a matter of history it has been decided to let the membership at large in on the deal.

On the third Wednesday of February and the third Wednesday of May, 20 Deltas and their lovely wives gathered at Taix French Restaurant and while we don't believe in superlatives, there is no other word that describes these parties except colossal. The next party will be the third Wednesday of November. There will be no notices sent out because we want these gatherings to be spontaneous and voluntary. If you would like to have your wife meet the people you spend so much time with why not make a big circle around this date and show up there at 6:30 p. m. We have been doing a lot of talking about Taix French Restaurant and we don't like to cloud the issue, so don't forget we still meet every Tuesday at the University Club for lunch. We had an exceptional luncheon a month ago when Captain C. F. Cotton, graduate of Annapolis, gave an outstanding talk on the activity of the post-war Navy in applied and pure research.

Jack Baddeley and Bill DeRidder, presidents of the Delta Iota and Delta Pi Chapters, respectively, have requested us to send all possible names of anyone entering either U. C. L. A. or U. S. C. to them in order that we may get a head start on rushing.

Inasmuch as a man is in the active chapter only four years and is an alumnus for forty years, it is very fitting that we interest ourselves in the type of fellows we are going to be associating with in the years to come. Both of our chapters in Southern California are top-flight groups and you are not only doing something for Delta Tau Delta but also for the rushee when you send his name in to either one of these chapters. Keep your eagle eye open.

Bob Jones, Stanford, '32, former NCAA champion in the discus, and associated with United Geophysical in Pasadena, was recently transferred to the company's office in Tulsa. Bob had charge of the monthly dinners at Taix French Restaurant and did yeoman service in making the meetings a success. We are sorry to have him leave but our loss is Tulsa's gain.

The All-America Alumni Chapter is proud of its work in establishing chapters at U. C. L. A. and Southern California but now that is past they are looking for other fields to conquer. In this respect Santa Barbara State sent down a delegation of six men to one of our weekly luncheons, and we reciprocated by sending twenty-five to a dinner in Santa Barbara with the object in view of getting a Delt chapter in that very fine school. We also sent a delegation of six men to Long Beach on the seventeenth of June when John K. Hull, Beta Upsilon and Omicron, '98, was presented with a fifty-year certificate.

People we like to see more of: Any and all visiting Deltas to Los Angeles.

GORDON B. CAREY

Milwaukee

Milwaukee's alumni contingent manages to keep the ball rolling in one way or another, even if our copy is late. Besides continuing our weekly Tuesday luncheons throughout the summer, we have already inaugurated the picnic season and are planning another for the benefit principally of rushees later on. On June 14, a band of hardy Deltas, including Red Johnson, Cincinnati, '24, and Herb Cornell, Penn., '08, braved 50-degree temperatures to gambol on the green alongside Lake Michigan for several hours, and all who attended agreed it was a pleasant event.

Thinking to broaden its activities in a worth-while direction, this chapter has inaugurated a job-counseling service for graduating Deltas, which it hopes will become a well-oiled machine operating year in and year out for their benefit. Starting from scratch is not easy, but we are getting plenty of help from Fraternity Alumni Secretary A. B. Walling and good word from liaison alumni Bob Ulmer, Lehigh, '41, and Carl Gezelschap, Wisconsin, '41, who are carrying out the plan.

Recent additions to the Milwaukee alumni roll are Vito Bash, Michigan State, '50; Bill Myers, Penn., '47; Bob Renwick, Minnesota, '26; Bill Stinson, Brown, '41; and Stan Zabel, Baker and Wisconsin, '42. Visiting Deltas are always invited to make contact.

PHIL DRESSLER

National Capital

Deltas in the Washington, D. C., area have been extremely active during the past few months. Subsequent to the very successful Founders Day Banquet, a committee, with Rhessa Norris and Everett Woodward as cochairmen, was established to assist in reactivating the dormant Gamma Eta Chapter at George Washington University. Due to the large number of alumni from chapters throughout the country, as well as the George Washington Chapter, the need for the re-establishment of the chapter at the school has long been felt. Plans have been carefully made to accomplish this objective at numerous alumni luncheons and committee meetings which include an adequate financial setup, procurement of a temporary Shelter, complete furnishing, and the establishment of a rushing committee headed by Lowell H.

Moran. Other active Deltas in school are Charles Ellis, Harold Howland, Dean Nichols, Ellison, and Young. In the event that Deltas out of Washington are contemplating transferring to George Washington this fall or know of any young men considering attending school there this fall, it is suggested that Lowell H. Moran be contacted at 2634 North Florida, Arlington, Virginia.

The financial affairs of the prospective chapter are being managed by the alumni committee, headed by Sidney Nyhus, who hails from California. It is reasonably surprising and equally gratifying to see the interest displayed by the Deltas from other chapters.

Another alumni activity is the preparation of a complete directory of all Deltas residing in the Washington area. Practically every chapter in the Fraternity is represented, and if there are any Deltas that we have failed to reach, they can get in touch with anyone in the Washington group.

We were very appreciative of the recent visit of Darrell Moore, representing the Arch Chapter. His visit was enjoyed by all, and it is hoped that his findings were sufficiently encouraging to justify favorable consideration of re-establishing the Gamma Eta Chapter at George Washington.

A very nice buffet supper was given by Foster Hagan, June 22, at his home in Virginia. We were fortunate in having Darrell Moore among the forty at this party. He also had as his guest, Donald Pierce, president of the local fraternity at Maryland University, which is petitioning Delta Tau Delta for a charter, as well as

Following are officers of the National Capital Alumni Chapter for the coming year: President, Henry E. Price; vice-president, Robert E. Newby; treasurer, Riggs Montfort; and secretary, Robert van Sick-

Many Deltas have attended the alumni luncheons at Bonats, including A. Bruce Bielaski, Frank Hemmick, and Nelson Johnson, former ambassador to China and Australia, who gave a very interesting talk on Russia and the Near East at one meeting. It is contemplated that these luncheons will start again in the fall, and an invitation is extended to all Deltas coming through Washington to drop in on these Thursday get-togethers.

An outing is being planned for the near future, which will include a softball game between the George Washington alumni and the men from chapters outside of Washington. Bob Newby is to be captain of the Gamma Eta "athletes" while Bob van Sickler has lined up about twenty promising ballplayers and one good pitcher. Following the ball game, a picnic supper will be served by the ladies' committee, and, if the boys are able, dancing will follow.

ROBERT VAN SICKLER

Pittsburgh

During the past four months the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter has probably been more active than in any previous period of its history. The joint celebration of Founders Day and the Eastern Division Conference opened the era in March. In May we had one of the very best parties ever. Brother Norm MacLeod arranged to have Brothers Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and John Galbreath, treasurer of the Pittsburgh Pirates, together as our guests for dinner and a night baseball game (as you might guess, between the Pirates and the Dodgers).

We lost a ball game but gained the memory of as fine an evening as can be remembered. Along with Brothers Rickey and Galbreath, we also had Frank McKinney and Tom Johnson, president and secretary respectively of the Pirates. The only missing officer was Bing Crosby.

Brothers Rickey and Galbreath in the afternoon visited Delta Beta Chapter at Carnegie Tech, where the undergraduates of both Pitt and Tech were given the inside story of how the Dodgers will win the pennant sans Durocher. After a fine dinner at the University Club, Brother Rickey related the sorrowful tale of his parting with such irreplaceable ball players as Kirby Higby, Hank Behrman, Eddie Basinski, etc., to the Pirates at bargain basement prices. Brother Galbreath and the other Pirate owners, with great restraint, waited until Brother Rickey finished before revealing that the "bargain basement prices" represented a six figure deal. It was a splendid party, and Mert Grubbs is to be loudly cheered for his splendid chairmanship.

Our next event was a golf party and dinner Friday, June 13. After golf at Butler's Golf Course, a good old-fashioned Delt dinner was served. It was complete with songs and a lot of spirit. Golf and door prizes were distributed in a way that will never be repeated (we hope). Bob Jones won the golf prize with some unknown score. His close daily association with Bob Soles, chairman of the event, had nothing to do with his winning—so it is reported. Lee Sellars, our president, was called upon to draw a number for the door prize. He graciously consented and promptly drew his own number.

Since meeting at our new luncheon room at the Law and Finance Building restaurant, the attendance has been consistently large. All Dels in town on Tuesday are invited to drop in.

We have things rolling here in Pittsburgh; so if you are interested in a good old Delt time, join us for lunch or at our next affair.

ARTHUR H. STROYD

Portland

The May issue of THE RAINBOW announced that the campaign to raise sufficient funds to purchase a Shelter for Gamma Rho Chapter was drawing to a close. It was anticipated at that time that the additional $3,000 worth of bonds would be soon purchased and the financing job completed. But when the annual general business meeting was held last May, it was announced that the goal had not been reached and that we needed then—and still do need—the financial aid of any alumnus of Gamma Rho Chapter who may be able to help.

The actives at Eugene will start the fall term in their own Shelter for the first time since 1944. The remodeling will be nearing completion, and the Gamma Rho actives are looking forward to a year of accomplishment.

The retiring officers of the Portland Alumni Chapter did such a good job during the past year that two of them were re-elected to offices for the ensuing year. Reed Swenson was re-elected president; Arthur (Ole) Larson was elected vice-president; Walter Vernstrom (secretary last year) is the new treasurer; and Clyde Angerman, secretary.

The Portland Alumni Chapter is already making its plans for the annual honor initiation to be held this winter, after the suspension for the war years, and it promises to be the biggest success of all previously held. The weekly luncheons are to continue meeting at the Chamber of Commerce dining room each Monday at noon; drop in when in town.

CLYDE ANGERMAN

St. Louis

The St. Louis Alumni Chapter has been rather inactive the past few months, although individual little get-togethers have been going on. Most of the Delta Omicron alumni in the area attended a recent dinner in honor of Dr. Franc L. McCluer of Westminster College. Dr. McCluer is leaving Westminster for Lindenwood College in the fall.

April and June saw two other gatherings at the Drum Room with active Dels from the area attending. Brother Wallace Odell of Chaska, Minnesota, was a recent visitor in St. Louis and attended one of these affairs.

Although there are at present no definite plans for future night meetings, the luncheons will continue on Tuesday noon. It is hoped that a rush party can also be held this summer in conjunction with the active chapters.

DICK WATKINS

Seattle

The Seattle Alumni Chapter, under the continued and able guidance of Ed Stuchell, justified its existence by helping to keep the local undergraduate chapter at the University of Washington operative during the war years, working with an ever-changing handful of Delt Navy trainees. At war's end, the alumni assisted in the reopening of the chapter and the re-establishment of Gamma Mu as one of the Greek Row's most potent forces.

During the summer of 1946, the house corporation, helped by the Mothers' and Wives' Club, turned its hand to redecorating the Shelter to handle the greatly increased chapter enrollment and provide a suitable setting for the excellent class of undergraduates. With alum Howard Wright co-ordinating the work, the Shelter's interior was given a complete working-over and the bright paint job and new furniture made the campus' oldest chapter house look like new. Further plans for the eventual complete remodeling of the Shelter were drawn up, and the alumni group under its new set of officers (Howard Wright, president; Jack Garrett, vice-president; Roland Richter, treasurer; and Bob Whiteley, secretary), together with the house corporation (now presided over by Ed Campbell), has dedicated itself to carrying through those plans to make Gamma Mu's home the best on the campus.

The undergraduates, expressing their appreciation of alumni interest, invited the alums to their chapter Spring Formal, and the result was one of the finest dances in local fraternity history. A record number of alumni turned out and enjoyed themselves to the extent that they all look forward to having a similar dance of their own in the Fall.

Returning the younger men's favor, the grads entertained them at the Seattle alumni's newly revived, traditional Golf Picnic handled by Jack Garrett. The match play-off between undergraduate and alumni champions resulted in a win (again) for the "old men," represented this year by Ed Stuchell and son Harry. Other prize winners were Bob Hesketh for a 350-yard drive, Harry Stuchell for low gross, Dee Williams for low net, and Boyd Morrison for highest score.

The monthly luncheon meetings have been bringing large turnouts of alums and serve to bring news to the members of the association's progress toward its goals. Prospects for the summer include a full round of rushing parties and activities designed to offer complete support of the Gamma Mu program, the past and anticipated continuing success of which has made the Seattle Alumni Chapter extremely proud.

BOB WHITELEY

Spokane

The Spokane Alumni Chapter is on the march again. While the group has not yet done anything spectacular, there are plenty of plans for the future. A regular luncheon and business meeting is held at noon on the last Wednesday of every month at the Spokane Hotel. All Dels are cordially invited to attend and those in the immediate area, and this includes Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, are urged to come and meet the brothers. Some of you may be surprised to find that your next door neighbor is a Delt.

The chapter has profited considerably from Ben Lindsay's efforts in compiling a roster of all Dels in Spokane. Ben really did a fine job. We are looking forward to his returning to our city as soon as he gets his Master's Degree at Harvard.

Among those who have been turning out for the regular meetings are: Merle Emry, Stanford; John MacMillan, Washington; Lyle Meehan, Washington; Ed Scofield, M. I. T.; Bob Wert, Stanford; A. Z. Hadley, Hillsdale; Bob Greene, South Dakota. Others are Harley Boyle, Stanford and Michigan; Kinsley Brown, Idaho; Bernard Snow, Idaho; Louis August, Idaho; Lawrence Weaver, Nebraska; and John Byrne, Washington. The writer also makes it a point to be on hand.

The writer was elected president of the organization at the last meeting. Bob Wert is the retiring official. At this time, the chapter has but one official officer. The attendance committee consists of Merle Emry, John MacMillan, and Lyle Meehan. Plans are to have everyone take an active part in the activities which will be coming up in the future.

Charles Daiger of the local organization at Whitman College attended the June meeting. At this time the members of the group pledged their support in helping to get the proposed new chapter off to a good start. A rush party later in the summer was suggested.

One of the primary objectives of the chapter at this time is to establish closer

THE DELT AUTHORS

Holdfast Gaines

By W. ODELL SHEPARD
Northwestern, '06, and
WILLARD SHEPARD

Odell Shepard needs no introduction to the Delt world. Several years ago his biography of Bronson Alcott won the Pulitzer prize. This is the first novel, and it was written in collaboration with his son. Since shortly after publication, it has been on best-seller lists, and in spite of this, it also merits the critical acclaim which it received.

Holdfast Gaines is an historical novel covering the turbulent years between the Revolution and the War of 1812. It is reportedly accurate in its historical facts. The title part is a young Mohegan Indian whose wanderings, principally between Connecticut and the Gulf Coast, are dedicated to bringing peace between the red man and the white. The failure of his quest does not detract from the nobility of the central character. The book is a revelation of the nature of the pioneer, and the interplay of good and evil in the formative years of the Republic. Sometimes Holdfast appears more of a symbol than a man, a symbol of heroism and tenacity of purpose. There is none of the romance in this tale; it is real.

In his wanderings Holdfast meets some of the most important men of the time and is present at some of the most exciting events of the period. Andrew Jackson is his companion on a journey into Tennessee and again appears as the winner of the Battle of New Orleans. The Shepards' description of this battle is one of the best in all literature. Andrew Jackson's personality is one of the best drawn in the novel, and the humor of his experiences as a cockfighter is particularly effective. Other important historical personages who appear in the book include the famous Lafitte pirates and Tecumseh.

The book is long, in the nature of current successful historical fiction. Some parts are more interesting than others.

Holdfast Gaines is well worth reading. It should be included in every Delt chapter's library.

Autobiography

By WILLIAM COLFAX MARKHAM
Baker, '91

"Having waited in vain for many years," writes the author, "for someone to write my biography, I have prepared an autobiography which is a record of times, events and contacts with people over a period of almost eighty years." And a complete record it is, too, tracing Mr. Mark-

ham's early education, his struggles to establish himself, his experiences at Baker University, his close association with the president of the University, his first venture into journalism and politics, and his subsequent rise to national prominence.

After his graduation from Baker, Mr. Markham relates how he went East to study at Johns Hopkins, taking work under a Princeton professor—Woodrow Wilson. An account of the author's crossing swords with Mr. Wilson in seminar is given in a provocative manner and provides a surprising commentary on the personality of a former President.

Mr. Markham returned to Baldwin, Kansas, to become the editor and proprietor of the Baldwin Ledger, a newspaper whose editor even today is a Delt. Shortly later, he became postmaster of Baldwin, which launched him on a career which saw him become successively Secretary of the National Association of Postmasters, Secretary of the first State Highway Commission in Kansas, and Executive Secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

The book contains, besides the autobiography, three historical plays, numerous editorials, and verses.

Mr. Markham tells his story with delightful candor. His excellent memory for details and his ability to dramatize events make the work an interesting and authentic document. Moreover, his salty good humor which crops out frequently gives the reader pages which are highly entertaining.

There are parts that will prove of special interest to members of the Fraternity. One chapter, entitled "Seeking the Best," relates how Mr. Markham founded and developed the local group at Baker which petitioned Delta Tau Delta and ultimately became Gamma Theta Chapter. First initiate of the chapter and chapter adviser for twenty-five years, he was cited to the Distinguished Service Chapter in 1941. Presentation of the Citation was made by Senator Henry J. Allen, Baker, '91.

Another chapter describes President Taft's visit to Baker in 1911 and how he was entertained with a reception in the Markham home. The President's aide, Major Archibald W. Butt, Sewanee, '91, accompanied him on the occasion. When Mr. Markham shook hands with Major Butt, he gave him the Fraternity grip, and the Major exclaimed, "By George, are you a Delt?"

A few months later, Archibald Butt went down with the Titanic and was the hero of that tragedy. In Baldwin memorial services were held in his honor.

Shikar and Safari

By EDISON MARSHALL
Oregon, '17

Well known to general readers because of his successful career as a novelist, Edison Marshall in his latest book accounts his real experiences in the indulgence of his passion for big-game hunting all over the world. In big-game vocabulary, shikar means "hunting in India" and safari means "hunting in Africa."

Mr. Marshall unhesitatingly classifies himself as a permanent tenderfoot for whom hunting is a big and salubrious adventure. His frequent terror, excitability, and humiliating blunders are described with humor and candor. His ability as a novelist makes it easy for him to describe incidents in such a manner that the reader vicariously lives through them as the book unfolds. The all-night vigil behind a blind of foliage, when a procession of animals comes to feast in turn on a dead zebra, is so effectively described that we get the peculiar scent of each.

Five factors for grading important quarry are analyzed in his chapter "Oscars for Animals." They are pugnacity, intrinsic beauty and value, elusiveness, remoteness, and glamour. The sladang, of Indo-China, has Mr. Marshall's highest rating, followed by the elephant, tiger, lion, and the Kodiak bear. The profiles of the animals are quite diverting.

One often wonders what enters into the psychology of a big-game hunter. This book gives the author's own explanation. Dangerous beasts have a fascination for him. One gets to know a good deal about the author by reading his comments on the animals.

relationships with the undergraduate chapters in this area. Undergraduates are urged to attend the alumni meetings whenever possible.

ALFRED C. KISER

Tulsa

The Tulsa Alumni Chapter has been having a monthly dinner on the last Friday of each month at "Bit o' Sweden." We have been having from fifty to seventy-five per cent turn out of our sixty-eight registered alumni in Tulsa. At our recent election of officers, Harold MacDowell (Washington-Jefferson) was elected president; Everett Filley, Jr. (University of Texas), vice president; Bartlett Crawford (University of Missouri), treasurer; and Jack Harlow (University of Oklahoma), secretary.

The Tulsa Alumni Chapter has had as its chief project thus far in 1947 assisting Delta Alpha Chapter at the University of Oklahoma with its rush program. Rush parties for Tulsa (prospective Deltas) have been given at the chapter house at Norman. Robert P. Bates has been chairman of the committee to arrange transportation for rushees to Norman to attend Delta Alpha's "Tulsa" week ends. Three of these parties have been given, and have been huge successes, with as many as twenty Tulsa rushees being taken down on a week end.

The next event on the slate for Tulsa Alumni Chapter is a rush party for Tulsa and Northeastern Oklahoma at the Tulsa Country Club, to be given on August 15.

Robert F. Jones (Stanford) has recently been transferred to Tulsa from Los Angeles and has joined our alumni group.

ROOSEVELT PARK - DETROIT 16, MICHIGAN

AMERICA'S OLDEST AND MOST PROGRESSIVE FRATERNITY JEWELERS

"I HAD NO IDEA that there was so much hand work entering into the making of our insignia!" are the first words from fraternity officials and other visitors after a tour of the BALFOUR plant.

This skill, borne out of long experience in fine craftsmanship here in the heart of the jewelry industry, together with the large BALFOUR production facilities, MEANS that you may take additional pride in the wearing of your BALFOUR made insignia.

While insignia is our primary concern, your needs in kindred lines are also provided for in our other factories.

Extensive additions have been made in our AWARDS facilities, PAPER PRODUCTS and LEATHER factories.

A force of over 1000 employees is engaged in the manufacture of these things for your greater enjoyment. Some of this merchandise is listed at the right.

It is our sincere desire to serve you to your complete satisfaction.
