Berley Winton, Kentucky, '22
Robert W. Sinclair, Michigan, '07

Prentiss M. Brown, Albion, '11;

Cotes, executive vice-president of the Motor Wheel Corporation, and Mr. Winton, chapter adviser to Iota Chapter and director of the Department of Agriculture's Regional Poultry Research Laboratory.

From Detroit, the committee draws Mr. Seitz, an attorney, and Mr. Brown, president of the Detroit Edison Company. Mr. Brown is a former U. S. Senator from Michigan and former head of the Office of Price Administration. He is also a trustee of Albion.

These gentlemen will head the largest group of distinguished Delt leaders from professional and business circles ever assembled at a Karnea. Numbered among such prominent Delts will also be the past Presidents of Delta Tau Delta—W. H. Brenton, G. Herbert McCracken, Charles T. Boyd, Paul G. Hoffman, N. Ray Carroll, Harold B. Tharp, Norman MacLeod, and A. Bruce Bielaski—who have already signalled their intentions of attending.

The character of the Karnea is a reflection of such great personalities.

WELL . . .

So you're thinking about coming to the Mackinac Karnea?

That's a good thought. May we help you keep it moving?

First of all, if you're the least shade undecided, you should read the special invitation on the next page from the General Chairman, Kyle Worley. He speaks for all Delts in Michigan when he assures you that the Wolverine state knows how to roll out the welcome mat.

Consider the fact, too, that your Chairman is reinforced by a committee of distinguished personnel. They are the men whose direction helps make the Karnea the greatest experience in any Delt's life.

Members of the committee, whose names are listed above, represent a broad cross section of Delts and Delt activity in the state of Michigan. Elder statesman of the committee is Judge Newcomer, of Bryan, Ohio, organizer of Kappa Chapter's house corporation, a trustee of Hillsdale, and a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter. Mr. Sinclair, who is a manufacturer's representative in Detroit, is another member of the Distinguished Service Chapter and Mr. D.T.D. among Delta Chapter men.

Bishop Reed is resident bishop of the Detroit area of the Methodist Church and a trustee of Albion College. Another trustee of Albion is Mr. Toncray, president of the Horner Woolen Mills Company, Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

The committee's representation in Lansing, state capital, includes Mr.

The inviting prospect of the Grand Hotel's veranda.

JUDGE CHAUNCEY L. NEWCOMER

The list should include as well the "regulars"—members of the Distinguished Service Chapter, former Arch Chapter members, and the growing pack of Karnea Hounds. For the uninitiated, let it be said that a Karnea Hound is that breed of Delt whose inoculation with Karnea fever has so thoroughly taken hold of him that the biennial call of the national conclave draws him irresistibly and eternally to the assembly grounds. At Mackinac, you will again see the Chief of the Kennel, Judge Harry R. Hewitt, Wisconsin, '02, who will rack up his 17th Karnea.

MERVIN F. COTES

For the alumnus, however, the real spirit of the Karnea is its youth—the undergraduates representing 84 chapters. Dr. Frank Wieland, former President, spoke for many alumni when he said: "For me, the Fraternity means boys, and association with them in the day of their enthusiasm is the secret of my interest in Delta Tau Delta, and the reward for it."

These associations are built around the framework of the Karnea program, which gets under way on Sunday, August 31. You will be whisked through the registration line and advised to attend the model initiation ceremony at 4:00 p.m. If you have attended a previous Karnea initiation, then you know that you will see our Ritual dramatized in inspirational fashion.

After dinner on Sunday, there will be an informal get-acquainted reception, so that Delts may get to know each other in preparation for the opening session on Monday. Five full business sessions on Monday and Tuesday mornings and afternoons and Wednesday morning will give the Karnea ample time to kick up its legislative heels. On both Monday and

An Invitation to Mackinac Island

TO GOOD DELTS everywhere, the members of the 61st Karnea Committee and I extend an invitation in the earnest hope that the largest number ever will join us in the activities and festivities of the 61st Karnea to be held at Mackinac Island, Michigan (August 31, September 1, 2 and 3, 1952).

Underclassmen newly initiated and flushed with zeal for their newly found brotherhood will need no urging; nor will upperclassmen soon to face the hard facts of life outside their alma mater. Military service or the necessity for making a living will be compelling reason enough for the latter to linger awhile longer with college pleasures.

Youth has always seemed wiser in some ways than its elders and particularly in the practice of the realistic philosophy—"it's later than you think." It is to the alumni, therefore, that I should turn to make my philosophical point.

Those alumni who have attended recent Karneas will know the stimulating pleasure to be derived from observing fine representative young men from all sections of North America analyze and solve the social, economic, and administrative problems of the Fraternity, with dignity and amazingly mature judgment. They will also remember the heartwarming meetings with old friends, and the delightful social events among luxurious surroundings.

JOHN KYLE WORLEY
General Chairman
61st Karnea

To all other alumni, I offer not only the same joys and pleasures of other Karneas but also the grandeur of Northern Michigan in late summer and the luxuries of world-famous Grand Hotel on historic Mackinac Island. You will have had no comparable experience, I am sure.

I should like to add to my invitation a suggestion to individual chapter alumni groups. The four days at Mackinac offer an excellent opportunity for class reunions, as a substitute, or better still, as a warm-up for the gatherings to be held at homecoming football games later in the fall. Therefore, I suggest you start your organizing work immediately. The Central Office has very accurate address lists kept up-to-date.

Lastly, those of you traveling by automobile should tarry awhile going to and from Mackinac Island and enjoy some of the natural beauties of our wonderful state. The Michigan Tourist Council Information Bureau, 19 Cadillac Square, Detroit, Michigan, Telephone Woodward 3-1055, has been contacted and stands ready to serve you without charge concerning travel and tourist information of all sorts about Michigan.

—John Kyle Worley.

Tuesday afternoon, moreover, there will be round-table discussions during which chapter delegates may swap ideas and brush up on their techniques in rushing, pledge education, and the like.

On Monday evening comes a Karnea high light—the musical entertainment—which promises a famous Delt singer, with perhaps some of the undergraduate talent which has been the toast of the Karnea in recent years. On Tuesday night, time has been reserved for chapter reunions, so that the class of '53 may learn how they did things back in '09.

Weather permitting, there will also be an outdoor event in the rustic splendor of Mackinac's verdant surroundings. You may expect, moreover, the traditional luncheon which fetes

Delta Tau Delta's most honored legion—members of the Distinguished Service Chapter.

Following a custom which dates back to the original Karnea, the climax comes with the Karnea Banquet. It is scheduled for 1:30 p.m., Wednesday, to permit late-afternoon departure. Everyone knows, of course, that the Karnea Banquet brings forth the cream of the Fraternity's oratory, that it is the culmination of four days of fellowship, and that it sounds the keynote for the next two years.

The Karnea committee has promised that the Delt ladies shall not want for entertainment. They are included in many points of the regular program and there will be, besides, special events designed for their particular pleasure.

You will be pleased to know that the four chapters in Michigan—Delta, Epsilon, Iota, and Kappa—stand ready to serve you. Iota of Michigan State, for instance, located in East Lansing on the direct motor route to Mackinac, invites all Delts passing their way on August 30 (Saturday) to a reception and party that evening. In addition, Iota Delts will arrange to meet busses, trains, and planes coming into Lansing and will have road maps, ferry schedules, and the like available for delegates.

Everyone—from the general committee through the Delt chapters—is bent on making this Karnea a memorable experience in your life.

So you've decided to come to the Mackinac Karnea?

Good! We'll see you there.

Economic Life XX: Ministry

By DR. HORACE G. SMITH, Northwestern, '05

President, Garrett Biblical Institute

"SO YOU ARE GOING into the Ministry!" This salutation addressed to almost any undergraduate Delt who is still dreaming of what to do with life, would meet with a prompt and emphatic denial. This denial would in some cases be expressed in a tone of sarcasm if not scorn, humor if not ridicule. However, there is more of truth in this greeting than appears on the surface, for the ministry is an inclusive rather than exclusive term.

If a Delt intends to live up to the idealism expressed in the initiation ritual, then he cannot escape a life characterized by the spirit of the ministry. If he purposes to be a gentleman, that is one who will put back into society more than he takes out, then he is indeed "going into the ministry."

If he dreams of a home in which little children learn the great lessons of the past that they may carry them into the future, then he is "going into the ministry." If he is to become a good citizen, that is one who will help make the great dream according to which life in America will be "richer, finer and fuller for all" come true, then he is certainly "going into the ministry."

If he hears and gives heed to the undertones and overtones which I have sensed in these articles dealing with human relationships—Teaching, Medicine, Engineering, etc.—then whatever field of action he enters, he will go in the spirit of the ministry.

My point is that the idea of the ministry is far more comprehensive than is ordinarily supposed. It is not limited in its scope to a few seemingly solemn men clothed in a distinctive garb who perform certain ecclesiastical functions. It includes them, but it does not exclude one who plays the role of a good neighbor, a decent citizen, and a responsible servant of humanity.

MINISTERING CARE ESSENTIAL

The truth is that we are born into a world where ministering care is not only essential to our well being, but even to life itself. The human infant may come "trailing clouds of glory," but he also comes "in utter helplessness." He will perish from exposure in a very little time, as stoical parents have found in the disposal of unwanted babies. Without the skilled ministry of hand and heart, the little life flickers out very quickly. The home, and by that I mean Kipling's " 'oly trinity, 'im, 'er and it," is an institution the heart of which is the ministry. Parents are called upon to pour out their resources to carry the tiny little stranger, who is at best only a candidate for humanity, to the beginning of maturity at least. This is a ministry that taxes the best that men and women have to give. A boy may sing lustily "I am the captain of my soul," but when he becomes a man he sees how much of needed help and guidance the home and its supporting agencies gave to him. Those who maintain homes of high character certainly are in the ministry.

DR. HORACE G. SMITH

Other institutions in our social order come clearly within this definition. Schools, from the kindergarten to the university, are organized to meet the needs of growing personalities. They transmit the learning of the past and constantly enlarge the frontiers of human knowledge, but all this is done to strengthen the individual, and through him, serve the social order of which he is a part. The church of course comes within this category. It exists only to be of help to all. Historically speaking, hospitals, orphanages, and homes were in their beginnings like schools, children of the church; the offspring of religion. Our welfare and charity agencies organized on the local, national, and international level are ministering institutions. The Red Cross becomes an agency through which the individual may minister to those on whom has fallen the disaster of fire, flood, or famine. CARE has become a great international agency through which anyone in the remotest region of America may offer a helping hand to the distressed in Germany, Greece, Japan, and Korea. All this has been written to indicate to the young Delt that he is going into the ministry unless he deliberately sidesteps the responsibilities of maturity. He may, like the priest and Levite of old, pass by on the other side, but if, like the Good Samaritan, he helps those in need, he is in the ministry.

MINISTRY BEGINS AT BIRTH

With this interpretation of our subject, it may be said that a person exercises a ministry from the day he is born. Society laughs at the antics of a father or a grandfather when a new baby comes into the world. That is their way of acknowledging that this little mite of humanity has done something to them as well as for them. If, when that day comes to you, my young

Editor's Note: With this essay, we conclude the "Economic Life" series. It was felt that, in publishing such a compilation of articles dealing with the requirements and inducements of various vocations, and written by distinguished Deltas, the subject of the "Ministry" would provide a particularly appropriate conclusion. The Fraternity is fortunate indeed to have one as eminently qualified in his field as Dr. Smith write the final chapter.

friend, and you find there is no inescapable upsurge of something deep within you, then be sure you are fit for "treason, stratagem, and spoils."

Space will not permit a full development of this aspect of our theme. A sentence or two is all that can be added. Centuries ago a man surprised his friend whose name was Job by saying to him, "Thy words have kept many a man upon his feet." In this way, as well as in many others, a man renders a ministry often quite unknown to himself. It is still true that those "little nameless unremembered acts of kindness and of love are the best portions of a good man's life." Through them if in no other way, all good men render a silent, but creative ministry.

With this broader understanding of the ministry clearly in mind, let us turn now to look at what for lack of a better term may be called the ordained or professional ministry. At this point I ask special indulgence of the reader. Please divest yourself for a moment of any preconceived notion or prejudice of what the ministry is or what the minister does. There is a sort of stage stereotype of a minister that is utterly unfair. It is no more a true picture, than is the caricature presented by the cartoonist. Both exaggerate idiosyncracies and overlook the heart of the matter. Furthermore, I wish you would forget any peculiar, unhappy, or frustrated individual minister you may have met, especially if you think of him as a fair sample of the profession. It is true that the ministry has its quota of "odd bodies," "off oxen" so to speak, peculiar individuals to say the least. But the ministry has no monopoly of this minority that reflect discredit upon any group to which they belong. After half a century of dealing with all professions and vocations, I am prepared to assert that you find them also among doctors, lawyers, teachers, and the whole range of commercial executives. The unfortunate thing about it all is that the minister is so much in the spotlight that his weaknesses and peculiarities stand out clearly. He could not hide them if he would.

TAP ON THE SHOULDER

The man who goes into the ministry ought to do so with some sense of inner urge that would make it hard to do otherwise. In older days men spoke of a call to the ministry as though an audible voice summoned them to the task. Few are the ministers of today who would claim such a credential. However, they do sense something akin to this. A recent chaplain of the U. S. Senate called it "A Tap on the Shoulder." Another referred to it as a "hand that beckons me away." Still a third insists that "he heard another drummer." All these are varied ways of expressing a sense of vocation. This may be the outgrowth of years of reflection, or come as a sudden intuition that the ministry above all else is the thing that he wants to do. Sometimes this sense is heightened with a feeling of aptitude for such a task. The candidate may even have taken some of the many tests now available, which may clearly indicate that he ought to serve within the ministry. Frequently, too, this personal feeling and conviction is confirmed by the suggestion on the part of those who know him and have seen him work, that here is where he ought to spend his life.

Then, too, the man going into the ministry must prepare himself over a long period of training. First of all he must be a college graduate with a good liberal arts training. After that he must give himself to three full years of professional study on the graduate level. Usually the Divinity Schools are a part of a university and their idea is to maintain standards of education on a par with those of law, education, commerce, etc. Let no one think that a course in one of our modern graduate schools of theology can be pursued without serious effort. The institution with which I am associated admitted 150 new students this autumn. It also refused 52 other applicants either because of low academic standing or failure to measure up to the personal qualifications deemed necessary to a successful ministry. Those allowed to enter must meet a high academic standard if they are to continue within the school. A degree is awarded only after three years of work, ranging over wide fields of study culminating in a series of comprehensive examinations.

The task of the minister is a widely varied one. It is by no means limited to the one hour he spends in the pulpit Sunday after Sunday, though that obviously calls for many hours of preparation. The modern minister must be an organizer and administrator. He must know how to enlist a group to work on a volunteer basis to secure certain ends. The average layman would be surprised to know how much is involved in what seems such a simple matter as the conduct of a service of worship. It calls for the co-operation of musicians who often are somewhat touchy to say the least; ushers who too frequently take their task lightly; sextons and others whose co-operation is necessary to the effectiveness of a service. Then in the average church, the minister has large responsibility for the finances and the educational program. He must also carry forward a serious schedule of pastoral work that now casts him in the role of a counsellor. Over and above this he must maintain certain denominational responsibilities and play his part in the community in which his church is located.

VARIETY OF TALENTS USEFUL

So varied and comprehensive are the tasks that a minister is called to perform, that there is scarcely any talent which cannot be put to good use. This is especially true in the program of a modern church. Older ministers often find it hard to understand just why and how the younger man succeeds by the use of methods entirely unthought of a generation ago. This case is amusingly put in the picture "Going My Way," where the older priest says to his young colleague who is putting new life into the church, "How did it happen that a man like you went into the priesthood?"

One way to gauge the opportunities for a man in the ministry is to look at the titles applied to the profession. Each one suggests a different aspect of a minister's responsibility. For instance, he has been called in turn pastor, preacher, priest, and prophet. Usually he should be all four rolled into one. In earlier days he was called the shepherd whose faithfulness knew no bounds. In these later days he has been called a counsellor in recognition of the service he has rendered in line with the newest of professions. Beyond this the minister is frequently referred to as a teacher and even a physician, because in a way some of his work parallels that of these two servants of humanity. These titles are like the facets on a diamond. Each reflects a different light and also opens another window revealing hidden depths of meaning and beauty. The wide range of a minister's life is attested further

Olympic Track and Field Coach

—That's the Job Handed Delt Brutus Hamilton

His selection as head coach was unanimous: Members of the American Olympic committee are convinced that they have the perfect man for a difficult assignment.

BRUTUS HAMILTON, Missouri, '22, appointed head track and field coach of the American Olympic team which will compete in the 15th Olympiad in Helsinki this summer, is certainly no stranger to the international games. The athletic director and track coach of the University of California has been active in all but one of the once-every-four-year games since his Missouri undergraduate days.

The appointment of Hamilton by the Olympic Selection Committee on February 2 is a fitting reward for many years' service in athletics in general and track and field in particular.

"Hamilton has the complete good will and respect of his colleagues in the track and field business," said Harold Berliner, president of the Pacific Association of the A.A.U. and assistant manager for the Olympic track team.

"Brutus was unanimously selected the track coach by acclamation at the Chicago meeting. I believe he will produce a team that will bring glory in the games for our nation."

Hamilton's Olympic debut was made in 1920 as a participant, when as a University of Missouri undergraduate he placed second to Norway's Lovland in the decathlon competition at Antwerp (Belgium).

During his stay at Missouri, Hamilton was also named to Walter Camp's second All-American football team as an end. He also played basketball as well as starring in track. After graduation in 1922, he taught at Neodesha High School in Kansas and in 1923 played on the National A.A.U. title-winning Kansas City Athletic Club basketball team.

The year 1924 was Hamilton's first as a coach and the year of his second try for the world decathlon title in the Paris Olympics. The current Olympic coach was eighth in the eighth Olympiad competition. After returning from the 1924 Olympic Games, Hamilton taught history and served as assistant football coach at Westminster College, Fulton, Missouri. He introduced track to the small Missouri school and his teams won five titles in his five seasons as track coach.

In 1930 he moved to the University of Kansas as track coach and continued his remarkable career. Two of his outstanding stars while Jayhawk coach were Glenn Cunningham and Jim Bausch.

Cunningham was the first American to finish in the Olympic's 1500 meter run in 1932 and then finished second to Jack Lovelock in 1936. Cunningham is still rated by many as America's top all-time distance runner. Bausch won the Olympic decathlon title in 1932. Bausch and Cunningham won the James E. Sullivan Memorial Medal in 1932 and 1933, respectively, for being the most outstanding athletes of the year.

Hamilton moved to California in 1932 and since then has developed many outstanding track stars. In 1936 Californian Archie Williams copped the Olympic 400 meter title. That year

Brutus coached the Olympic decathlon team and under his guidance Glenn Morris, Robert Clark, and Jack Parker swept win-place-and-show honors in the toughest event of them all. Clark, a California protege of Hamilton's, was also sixth in the broadjump.

Although there were no Olympics in 1940 and 1944, such California stars as Grover Klemmer and Hal Davis were outstanding world's champions in their specialties. Hamilton also coached a California mile relay team of Fay Froom, John Reese, Clarence Barnes, and Klemmer to a still existing world mark of 3:09.4.

During the war Hamilton served as a briefing officer with the Eighth Air Force in England.

Aside from his work on the track at California, Hamilton also filled the position of Dean of Men in the early 40s. In 1947 he took over the position of Director of the Athletics at the University of California. He was a committee of one to select a new football coach for California and his choice of Pappy Waldorf has been one of the happiest ones in UC history.

In 1948, although not actually connected with the U.S. team, Hamilton was an observer and an overseer for California's 20 Olympic team members. The Golden Bear delegation was the largest single University group in the Games.

His job isn't supposed to begin until June 28, Hamilton says, but judging by the looks of his desk, it is already under way.

"I get letters, telegrams, and telephone calls at all hours from throughout the country," he has been quoted. "The more I see of it, the more I realize what a big job getting a team together for the Olympics is."

No one, however, doubts that he will handle that big job effectively. He is universally held in great respect by athletes, and he is rated as an expert in handling young men. All the members of the Olympic Committee are convinced that they have the perfect man for a difficult assignment.

Divisions Hold Regional Meetings

REGIONAL CONFERENCES were held in the Northern and Western Divisions during the months of February and March. There were three such meetings in the Northern Division and two in the Western.

Regional Conferences, utilized by all Divisions except the Southern, are workshops in chapter management and operation. At these meetings, which are relatively small and intimate, chapter delegates sit down to discuss programs ranging from rushing and scholarship to alumni relations and house corporation operation. Here the undergraduates swap ideas, pick up new techniques in chapter management, and go back to their chapters loaded down with a bumper crop of suggestions and plans for improvement.

In contrast with the leadership school type of meeting where know-how is imparted ex cathedra, or by one-way communication, Delta Tau Delta has found the effectiveness of Regional Conferences in their stimulating impact of idea upon idea and in their development of self-expression.

The Southern Division at its Division Conference a year ago ordered an investigation of the Regional Conference plan as a possible activity for the alternate years in which the full Conference is not held.

Here is a roundup of the Divisions' winter activity:

The first Regional Conference in the Western Division was held February 29 and March 1 in Los Angeles, with Delta Iota Chapter, U.C.L.A., as host. Delegates of 11 chapters in the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Colorado attended.

Sessions were moderated by Division President John W. Nichols. Local arrangements were handled by Dick Rundle, president of Delta Iota, and Ken Kendall, housemanager.

A high light of the meeting was the participation of three past Presidents of the Western Division—L. N. Fitts, Colorado, '09; Hans J. Jepsen, Stanford, '20; and Daniel W. Ferguson, Chicago, '09. Mr. Jepsen is also a current vice-president of the Division.

Delegates to the Conference were guests on Saturday night, March 1, of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter at its annual Founders Day Banquet. Howard D. Mills, Western Reserve, '18, gave the principal address at the banquet.

On Friday night, Delta Iota Chapter was host at an informal party given in honor of visiting Delts.

In addition to the usual round-table discussions, delegates of each chapter represented reported on conditions of their respective chapters.

The Eastern Regional Conference of the Western Division convened at the University of Nebraska on March 15, 1952. The Conference opened with round-table discussions in the Student Union led by John Nichols, President of the Western Division.

Delegates from 12 chapters were present for the Conference which lasted for two days. These included Westminster, Baker, South Dakota, Iowa State, Oklahoma, Kansas State, Missouri, Texas, North Dakota, Kansas, Oklahoma A & M, and Nebraska. Beta Tau (Nebraska) was host to the Conference.

The round-table discussions which were held on Friday and Saturday were preceded by a short address, given by T. J. Thompson, Dean of Student Affairs at the University of Nebraska. The discussions included such topics as rushing, scholarship, finance, chapter publicity and activity committees, alumni relations, house corporation relations, social programs, internal organization, pledge education and The Delt Development Program, and chapter publications. The scholarship discussions were led by Francis M. Hughes, Supervisor of Scholarship, and the publicity and publications discussions were led by Gordon Jones, Editor of THE RAINBOW.

Fraternity fellowship and spirit were displayed at the Conference banquet held in the Terrace Room of the Hotel Lincoln Friday night. Besides the group singing, entertainment was provided by the Beta Tau Delt combo and a skit that was presented by the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. John Riddell, Beta Tau alumnus, acted as toastmaster for the affair.

Keith Skalla, president of Beta Tau Chapter, welcomed the delegates and the guests to the Conference and Rusty Joynt, alumnus and adviser of Beta Tau, welcomed the alumni who were present for the banquet. Southern Division President Marion Coley and John Nichols spoke briefly.

Principal speakers were Supervisor of Scholarship Francis Hughes and Martin B. Dickinson, President of the Fraternity. Mr. Hughes defined the ultimate goal of the Fraternity as "building better men." Mr. Dickinson developed as his main theme the thought that the national character of the Fraternity transcends campus lines, which eliminates "self-centered reasoning." The traditional Delt Walk-Around, led by President Dickinson, closed the evening's entertainment.

The delegates and guests numbering almost 60 Delt were provided with dates for the Conference dance held in the ballroom of the Lincoln Hotel Saturday night. The Jack Wells Combo from Oklahoma City provided the music for the evening's festivities. Following the dance the combo moved to the Shelter for a "jam session" after the dates had been secured for the night. After breakfast Sunday morning at the Shelter the delegates and guests left to return to their chapters spread out through eight different states.

Kansas Delts Open Pipeline to Korea

THE KANSAS CITY alumni were out for blood the afternoon of their Founders Day—and they got it, too. They even drained a pint from our national President, Martin B. Dickinson.

The idea originated with Tom White, president of Gamma Tau Chapter. He had signed up all of his boys from Kansas to give blood to the Defense Blood Program through the American Red Cross. They scheduled their hemorrhage for the afternoon of March 28, just prior to the annual Kansas City Founders Day Banquet.

Tom had made arrangements through Milton C. Tainter, Baker, '30, executive director of the Kansas City and Jackson County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Milt quickly got in touch with Kenneth C. Johnson, Kansas, '29, alumni chapter president. Between them they hatched the plan to give all Delts an opportunity to bleed.

"It's not your money I want," Tainter wrote to the alumni; "it's YOUR BLOOD."

This was a new angle, they agreed—and they responded. The bloodletting began at 2:30 p. m. and continued until 6:00. Besides the actives of Gamma Tau Chapter and alumni from the Kansas City area, several of the Delts from Baker, Kansas State, and Missouri who came in for the Founders Day banquet also contributed their blood for the armed forces in Korea.

Minus some twenty-odd gallons of hemoglobin and bolstered only by a stiff shot of orange juice, Delts still were able to enjoy the Founders Day festivities, at which Western Division President John W. Nichols was the principal speaker. As a matter of fact, they reported that the experience gave them an even keener perception of the things for which Delta Tau Delta stands.

As for President Dickinson's remarks, there was no anemia there. It was said he had never been in better form.

Perhaps it should be mentioned that the sanguinary service at Red Cross headquarters was fully illuminated by a large reproduction of the Delta Tau Delta emblem of membership. And as someone was heard to remark, the Delt badge never gleamed more brightly.

Florida State's New Shelter

By Ralph McWilliams, Florida State, '51

DELTA PHI CHAPTER moved into its new Shelter at the beginning of the spring, 1952, semester. The Shelter is one of eight fraternity houses erected by Florida State University and financed through the sale of public bonds. The cost of each of the houses was approximately $130,000.

Located about two blocks west of the main campus, the new Shelter is a vast improvement over the old building formerly occupied by the chapter on the University's West Campus. In addition to being about three miles nearer the main campus and Tallahassee than the old house was, the new house has the advantage of being almost across the street from the recently constructed Doak S. Campbell Football Stadium.

The architect's conception of Delta Phi Chapter's new home. This is but one of eight modern buildings which now comprise the new Fraternity Row in Tallahassee.

The Deltas' backyard sports a wooded picnic area and barbecue pit, which are reached by this Delt-made foot bridge.

The new Shelter has dormitory accommodations for 40 men, an additional guest room, and a suite for the housemother. It has a large dining room and an adequate kitchen for serving meals in true "Southern style." There is a folding wall separating the dining room from the game room which is most accommodating in the event of big affairs, such as social functions.

In mentioning recreational facilities, one must not forget to comment on one of the best liked characteristics of Delta Shelter and that is the landscape of our home. There is a small creek running downhill and past the Shelter behind the house. Deltas built a footbridge across the stream to a beautiful wooded area where an outdoor barbecue pit is the center of much activity on week-end parties.

Coming from this rustic area, one re-enters Delta Phi's home from the patio into a comfortable lounge. From here there is a pleasant view through the floor-length windows, across a spacious lawn separating Deltas and their neighboring fraternity's modern home, which was also constructed by the University.

In the May, 1949, issue of THE RAINBOW, there was an article featuring Delta Phi's installation as the 80th chapter of the Fraternity on March 5, 1949. Delta Tau Delta, along with six other fraternities, pioneered the fraternity system here at Florida State

Beta Chapter Initiates 1000th Member

FRANK SHELTON (left), Secretary of the Fraternity, congratulates LOYAL BEMILLER, No. 1,000 on the Beta Chapter roll. Smiling approval are "Coach" FRANK B. GULLUM, chapter adviser of Beta for more than a quarter-century, and THOMAS TERHUNE, Initiate No. 1001.

BETA CHAPTER at Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, on March 16, 1952, became the first chapter of Delta Tau Delta to initiate 1,000 members. No other chapter is even close to that figure.

Ohio Delts reached the one thousand milestone by holding a special initiation for Francis Loyal Bemiller, '55, and Thomas Alan Terhune, '55. The chapter had run its string to 999 earlier in the year by initiating a 21-man pledge class.

Among the alumni who were on hand to commemorate the event were Frank W. Shelton, national Secretary, and John R. Terhune, Indiana, '51, brother of Beta's 1,001st initiate.

The event marked also another milestone in Frank B. Gullum's distinguished career as chapter adviser of Beta Chapter. Chapter adviser for more than 30 years, "Coach" Gullum has the record for the longest tenure in the Fraternity. He is also a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter.

Founded on June 21, 1862, Beta Chapter celebrates its 90th anniversary this month. During those 90 years, it has averaged 11 new Delts per year and has compiled an outstanding record of leadership on the Ohio University campus. Beta is the second oldest fraternity chapter at the institution.

Within the Fraternity, Beta Chapter played a major role in shaping the history of Delta Tau Delta. The founding of many Delt chapters may be traced to the missionary zeal of early Beta alumni.

On the front steps of the Ohio Shelter, Initiates Nos. 1,000 and 1,001—LOYAL BEMILLER and THOMAS TERHUNE—pose with the officers and alumni of Beta Chapter, on the occasion of inaugurating the Fraternity's first 1,000-man chapter.

Discovery of Uranium Brings Fame, Acclaim, And Pamphlets to Delt

ROBERT VAN SICKLER, Cincinnati, '29, by this time is probably getting pretty sick and tired of being kidded about his sensational discovery of uranium.

The "discovery" received plenty of publicity, principally because it was fully reported by Jack Wilson in Look magazine and effectively illustrated by Delt Jim Berryman, George Washington, '24, Pulitzer-prize-winning cartoonist.

It seems that Bob, who is a patent attorney in the Nation's Capital, dusted off some old files in the patent office one day and found a uranium deposit in Utah. Being a duty-minded American citizen, he promptly dispatched a letter to the Atomic Energy Commission under the assumption that Uncle Sam has an interest in such diggings.

The AEC thanked Bob in due time for his patriotic effort.

"He suddenly realized," wrote Jack Wilson, "that he had done a fairly large thing and when he didn't hear any more about it for a while he came naturally to the conclusion that the AEC was taking the time necessary to work up something suitable in the line of a medal or a small monument.

"He knew that the atomic boys wouldn't want to make a big show and tip the world off to the uranium find, so the presentation ceremony would have to be simple and secret—just the President, the AEC, the Joint Chiefs of Staff and perhaps the Secretaries of State and Defense. The President would make a little speech and say he would rather have this medal than be President. Mr. Van Sickler would respond with a few modest phrases, mentioning duty and redblooded Americans, and everybody would shake hands."

When Bob's "medal" arrived in the mail, however, it turned out to be AEC pamphlets on how to dig uranium.

"The AEC didn't come right out and order him to go to Utah and start digging," Jack Wilson reported, "but it quite pointedly told him where he could buy a book that would instruct him in such matters as saddling a mule and what kind of shovel was best for a beginner."

George Sisler Named to "Baseball's Greatest Lineup"

GEORGE H. SISLER, Michigan, '15, has been selected for the first-base position in baseball's 50-year lineup, chosen by the All-American Board of Baseball.

From among all the diamond stars who performed from 1900 to 1950, Sisler was named as the outstanding first-sacker. The fact that he won out over the great Lou Gehrig of New York Yankees fame is in itself the highest sort of tribute.

The All-American Board of Baseball, which made the selections, is composed of Connie Mack and 12 veteran writers. Consideration was also given to ballots cast by 500 sportswriters.

Although Sisler won his renown chiefly as a hitter, his all-around ability as both a fielder and base runner establishes him as the greatest first baseman of all time. Here are a few entries from his record as a player:

Played in 2,055 games from 1915 to 1930, with a lifetime batting average of .340.

In 1939, elected to Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Holds major league individual all-time record for the most hits in one season (257 with St. Louis in 1920).

American League batting champion two years—1920 (.407) and 1922 (.420).

Tied with Ty Cobb for best season's batting average in American League since 1900.

First player to win official honor of "most valuable player in the American League."

Set an American League record by hitting safely in 41 consecutive games.

George Sisler was started on his major league career in 1915 when Branch Rickey, Ohio Wesleyan, '04, signed him to play with the St. Louis Browns. He is chief scout for Rickey's Pittsburgh Pirates today.

Chapter to Be Installed at Auburn on May 24

DELTA TAU DELTA's undergraduate chapters will be increased to 84 on May 24, 1952, when members of a local fraternity at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama, receive their charter as Epsilon Alpha Chapter. The charter grant was voted at the April meeting of the Arch Chapter.

Installation ceremonies will begin at 10:00 a. m. on Saturday, May 24, when an initiation team of Delta Eta Chapter, University of Alabama, begins the induction of charter members. The program for the week end will include a luncheon Saturday noon, a formal banquet at 6:30 Saturday evening, and a formal ball at 9:30 Saturday night. There will be an open house at the Shelter on Sunday at 2:00 p. m.

The charter will be presented by former President Charles T. Boyd, North Carolina, '21, who is also a past President of the Southern Division. Receiving the charter for Epsilon Alpha will be Joseph F. Stegall, local president.

Sharing speaking honors at the banquet will be President Martin B. Dickinson and Dr. Ralph B. Draughon, president of the Institute. Marion Coley, President of the Southern Division, will also appear on the banquet program, as will Jack W. Crist, Northwestern, '40, a member of the Auburn faculty and chapter adviser to The Crescent Club, forerunner of Epsilon Alpha Chapter.

In spite of the fact that the installation date falls near the close of the college year, a large turnout of Southern Division Delts is expected to welcome the new chapter into the Fraternity fold.

The Crescent Club, which was organized more than two years ago by Herbert L. Bullard and Kenneth A. Nall who transferred from Delta Eta for the purpose of establishing Delt at Auburn, now numbers 30 actives and ten freshman pledges. The group obtained satisfactory housing last fall and recently acquired a housemother.

In an amazingly short time, members of the new chapter built a solid organization which proved that they were ready for a charter of Delta Tau Delta.

Epsilon Alpha is the first new chapter to be chartered since the installation of Delta Omega at Kent State on February 18, 1950.

Delt Sprinter Rated Olympic Prospect

THANE BAKER, junior of Gamma Chi Chapter at Kansas State, throws another track record into the discard, an act which is getting to be a habit with him. He was Big Seven indoor champion this spring in the 60-yard dash and the quarter mile. He recently ran the 60 in 6.1 to tie the world's record in that event. His performances this season rate him as a strong contender for a berth on the Olympic track team.

Oklahoma Delt Holds Key Government Post

JESSE LARSON, Oklahoma, '28, Defense Materials Procurement Administrator and Administrator of General Services, was principal speaker at the 93rd Delta Tau Delta Founders Day Dinner held in Washington, D. C., March 7.

Rancher, lawyer, administrator, and artillery officer of World War II, Larson was ordered to Washington in July, 1945, for duty with the Chief of Staff, War Department, where he was assigned under the National Defense Act to reorganize the National Guard and the Organized Reserve Corps. In July, 1946, he was transferred to the War Assets Administration, where he was successively assistant counsel, general counsel, and associate administrator.

He was appointed W.A.A. Administrator on December 20, 1947. On April 28, 1949, President Truman nominated him as Administrator of the Federal Works Agency and he took the oath of office on June 6. Exactly one month later the Senate confirmed his nomination as Administrator of General Services. The General Services Administration came into existence July 1, under the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949.

On August 28, 1951, the President established the Defense Materials Procurement Agency and centralized in the new agency responsibility for procuring strategic and critical materials both in this country and abroad. He nominated Jesse Larson to head this important agency and the Senate confirmed him unanimously on September 12, 1951. This action was testimony of the high regard which Republicans and Democrats alike have for Larson. He was sworn in the following day, meanwhile continuing as Administrator of General Services.

Larson's early background includes management of his family's ranching, dairy, and creamery enterprises in southwestern Oklahoma and a four-year term as mayor of Chickasha, Oklahoma. He was admitted to the Oklahoma State Bar in 1935 and was president of the Oklahoma Municipal League in 1931 and 1932.

In 1935 he was appointed secretary to the Commissioners of the Oklahoma State Land Office, where he actively managed and supervised operations involving approximately $200 million in assets divided between land, oil holdings, farm mortgages, and state, municipal, and Government bonds.

He refinanced $35 million in farm mortgages between 1935 and 1939, which resulted in a reduction in delinquencies of mortgages held by the state from approximately 95 per cent to 21 per cent.

He was inducted into Federal Service with the 45th Infantry Division, Oklahoma National Guard, in 1939. Promoted to lieutenant colonel, he served as executive officer to the Division artillery commander and later as commander of a field artillery battalion. He went overseas with his unit in 1943, to participate in landings at North Africa, Sicily, and Salerno. He was wounded in combat at the crossing of the Volturno River in Italy in 1943.

Evacuated to the United States, he was assigned as instructor in the Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Oklahoma. He was later moved up to head the department of tactics in the advanced course and received the eagles of a colonel in October, 1944.

Assisting Jesse Larson in his present assignments are two other Delts: Tom L. Peyton, Sr., George Washington, '20, and Oscar W. Teckmeyer, Wisconsin, '25.

Delta Tau Delta is not a tangible thing; it is not even a fact; Delta Tau Delta is rather the spirit of loyal and affectionate brotherhood, enriching your lives with a new inspiration, opening your souls to a new conception of unselfish service to your fellow men, and bringing to you a new sense of personal duty and personal worth.

—Alvan Duerr, at the Toronto installation, 1927

As we go to press, there comes a late flash that Rush Moody, member of Gamma Iota Chapter, has been elected president of the student body of the University of Texas. Congratulations, Gamma Iota!

THE President's Page

By MARTIN B. DICKINSON

THE MILESTONES of Delta Tau Delta are her Karneas. As we approach completion of each such period, it is well to think of our basic objectives and characteristics, to refer to our ancient landmarks, and to see whether our course remains true.

The key landmark is the idea of fraternity. It means many things, but first of all it means group life, as distinguished from the haphazard aggregation of individuals. It means that we each submerge our individuality to a certain extent to create something which is both different from, and greater than, any of us, and which therefore enables achievements which not only are more extensive than those we could accomplish alone, but are different in kind.

It is true that this concept can be extended to the complete submergence of the individual, as has happened in many groups, societies, and even civilizations, long before the word "collectivist" was coined, or even the oldest of such groups now extant were formed. There have always been many persons who have found fulfillment in complete surrender.

There have always been many other persons who were not willing to surrender any part of themselves to cooperate with other persons. In our present civilization such persons frequently desire the material advantages of co-operation, and assume that they can, and should be able to, obtain such benefits by writing checks for money. They see no valid distinction between a Delt chapter and a boarding house or a social club.

As a fraternity, we have little to offer either the complete collectivist or the complete anarchist. Such persons may be pitied, but are not to be despised; they are proper members of humankind. Many of them are personally desirable, and some have made outstanding contributions to human progress. We have no more right to criticize their ways of life than they have to criticize ours, but we have the same right to prefer our way that they have to prefer theirs. Our choice is to avoid both extremes, recognizing that we each have in us something of the two, and that we can learn to use both tendencies in proper balance.

A Delt chapter is a sort of pilot-plant democracy. It does not always work perfectly, because its members are always changing, and each new member must become part of the group. As he does so, the group itself is changed. It cannot be controlled from the outside; its very purpose is to develop sound judgment, self restraint, and responsible thinking. It has no place for those who are mere followers. The followers in its ranks are those who are learning to lead. Such is the way of North American democracy.

An equally significant landmark is that of our national character, of which the Karnea is the embodiment. Just as there are those who think they should be able to get all the values of fraternity membership by writing a check once a month, there are those who think that a common badge makes a national fraternity: that wearing our badge is all they need contribute to our national existence. If Delta Tau Delta existed to sell badges, that position might be sound. As it is, we undertake in Delta Tau Delta to bring together men from the farthest corners of English-speaking North America on a basis mutually acceptable to all of them. Delta Tau Delta has no room for those of parochial viewpoint. Since we come together voluntarily, by our own choice, and are mutually acceptable, we become brothers, parts of one indivisible Fraternity.

With this secure foundation, we can then develop and present a program which represents the best of our combined experience of over ninety years, whereby each of our chapters, and each Delt, may realize what we see as the best to be obtained in fraternity life.

We need not, and we do not, claim that our program is the only good program, nor that it meets the needs of all groups, nor of any group except our own, any more than we claim that our standards should be universally adopted. Rather do we say merely that the standards of Delta Tau Delta, and the program it presents, are the best we have yet been able to develop for the individuals who are attracted to Delta Tau Delta.

The essential function of the Karnea is to review the policies and programs of Delta Tau Delta, with due reference to our landmarks and the traditions and objectives we have received as a priceless heritage from those who have gone this way before us. If we have wandered from the course, we should make the necessary corrections. But first of all we must know what the course is, by reference to the fundamental characteristics of Delta Tau Delta, two of which I have mentioned: that it is a fraternity, and that it is national.

The Sixty-first Karnea will be a great and glorious meeting. It will bring together Delts from every part of the Fraternity. It will have its share of social and ceremonial occasions. It will choose six members of the Arch Chapter to lead the Fraternity for the next two years. It will offer inspiration, representative of the best a great fraternity can offer. All this is important only as it will aid us in reaffirmation of our objectives and wise consideration of how best to approach them.

Portland Delt Honored

ROBERT W. GILLEY, Washington, '30, receives his Citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter from H. J. Jepsen, former Western Division President and D.S.C. member, at the Portland, Oregon, Founders Day Banquet. Following is the text of Mr. Gilley's Citation:

President, secretary, legal adviser, and member of Board of Governors of Portland Alumni Chapter; a steadfast sponsor of and participant in all Fraternity affairs; a credit to the legal profession; a devoted family man; a leader in his church and community; he truly represents The Good Delt.

W. Edgar West Becomes Secretary of Alumni

W. EDGAR WEST, Ohio Wesleyan, '23, has joined the Arch Chapter as Secretary of Alumni. He was appointed to the office in March to replace Frank M. Cornell, Pennsylvania, '28, who resigned.

A resident of Columbus, Ohio, Mr. West is vice-president and treasurer of the Farm Bureau Insurance Companies. He is better known to Deltas for his masterful job as General Chairman of the 60th Karnea, which was held in Columbus nearly two years ago.

Mr. West's elevation to the Arch Chapter culminates a 33-year period of Delt activity which has known no abatement of interest and zeal for the Fraternity. For nearly a quarter of a century he has been treasurer of Mu Chapter's house corporation. He is a past secretary of the Columbus Alumni Chapter, an organization which still claims his time and talents. He served the Northern Division as a vice-president from 1947 to 1951.

Viewing the college scene from another point of view, Mr. West has served for several years as an alumni director of Ohio Wesleyan University. He is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary, and of the Controllers Institute of America.

His son, Bill, is a senior of Mu Chapter, Ohio Wesleyan.

Luncheon Speaker

MAJOR GENERAL EDWIN P. PARKER, George Washington, '12, Provost Marshall General of the Army, was a recent speaker at one of the weekly luncheons of the National Capital Alumni Chapter. He discussed many of the problems confronting this country incidental to negotiating a satisfactory armistice in Korea.

Speaking of his personal experiences, General Parker explained the responsibilities of his office in working out a solution to the delicate prisoner of war question which appears to be the paramount issue under discussion at Panmunjon. He has made an intensive study of this problem and is thoroughly familiar with all of its ramifications, as he demonstrated during the question and answer forum which followed his talk.

General Parker was wartime commander of the 78th (Lightning) Infantry Division which fought in Central Europe, Ardennes, and Rhineland campaigns and particularly distinguished itself in the Roer River dams area at the Remagen Bridgehead and in the Ruhr Pocket. He was Commanding General of the Division from its activation at Camp Butner, North Carolina, in 1942, until he assumed command of the XXIII Corps in Germany in September, 1945.

General Parker has attended a number of the weekly luncheons of the National Capital Alumni Chapter and has addressed Gamma Eta Chapter at one of its initiation banquets.

Unselfishly dedicated for more than twenty-five years to helping in the establishment of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity in the State of Oklahoma; ever constant in his support of and work for the Tulsa Alumni Chapter; prominent and generous in the formation of the Oklahoma Foundation; purposefully and vigilantly interested in all active and alumni projects in the Western Division. The devotion of not only himself but of his family to the highest ideals and meaning of Deltism has been an inspiration to his fellow Deltas.

A GOLD STANDARD OF PUBLIC BEHAVIOR

By OLIVER HOYEM, Columbia, '16

(From remarks made as retiring president of the National Capital Alumni Chapter, at the Founders Day Banquet, March 7, 1952, Washington, D. C.)

BEFORE I am catapulted into the honorable and ancient order of past presidents, I have some words to say about the place of a college fraternity in a man's life. Your ideas may be different. I speak only for myself.

In college, the fraternity is the gang you choose and the gang that chooses you. It is organized fellowship, men learning how to live together. Rules of order are observed. Standards of social behavior are acquired. A man's infractions of the code are not condoned merely because he is a member of the fraternity. It is an institution that helps a man grow up.

Yet the college fraternity serves only as an aid to growth. It is not foolproof. The process of growth in moral stature continues in the broader fraternity that embraces all mankind. Out of the generalizations of his fraternity's creed, a man must shape his own set of principles, his own code of ethics, his own standards of loyalty, the truths by which he can live without hypocrisy. It may take him a lifetime to clarify those truths. As he grows older, right and wrong take on less positive shadings of white and black, but the shadings give character to a man's principles and warmth to his personality.

If we grow wiser as well as older, we examine also the half-truths that some men stupidly parrot or unctiously substitute for truth. One example is characteristic of the times. Men praise another because "he stands by his friends." If I could find nothing more to say in praise of a man, especially a man who has been honored by a nation for other outstanding qualities of heart and mind, I would remain silent, unless my purpose was to damn him with faint praise. For, if loyalty to friends were a man's only virtue, you would properly ask, who are his friends and for what do they stand?

Of course, if I were afraid of going to jail for a crime, I should certainly try to convince someone with power to protect me that loyalty to a friend is the highest of all virtues. Gangsters have their own standards of loyalty to friends, and they also want it known that they love their mothers, but that does not in itself make them noblemen. It is not a sound yardstick for measuring a man.

Melodramatic loyalty to a "friend" can be a dangerous attribute of character if it violates loyalty to a person's own principles or loyalty to one's country. It certainly cannot be condoned in a man in government obligated to uphold a particular code of action which is at variance with the morality of a friend. But let's make it a virtue, also, to stand by one's principles. Let us measure all men, as well as ourselves, by the total of all their virtues, including loyalty to their own set of principles, including, if they so choose, the Ten Commandments or the Sermon on the Mount, for then lesser loyalties will take care of themselves.

My reason for speaking of standards of behavior as citizens and as public servants, as are so many of us in Washington, is that we, as members of Delta Tau Delta, are, in spirit at least, pledged to high principles of public behavior. At gatherings such as this, we can properly rededicate ourselves to the maintenance of a gold standard of publicity morality. For we, added to men and women gathered together in similar groups throughout the country, are the United States of America, and what we think and do counts in the building of the world of tomorrow.

Editor's Note: The following comments on fraternity living have been lifted from a report made recently by Judge C. A. A. McGee, Wisconsin, '99, first president of the Santa Barbara Alumni Chapter, to the press of Santa Barbara, California.

THE WORLD today needs above all things the substance and the ideals of fraternity. If civilization is to be saved, if the world is to emerge triumphant from the threats, complexities, and confusion of this war-infested age, if Christian civilization is to live, it will be because men and women in all lands everywhere have a new, a finer, and a better understanding of fraternity, democracy, and tolerance, and because they adjust themselves to obey the last command of the Nazarene when he said to his disciples the night before the crucifixion, "I give to you my last commandment. Love one another."

What is fraternity? It is fellowship, and something more. It is, in a broader and better sense, democracy. What is democracy, except that status that emphasizes at all times the proper relationship between man and man and between men and nations. Christianity in its broadest sense is the essence of fraternity. Do unto others as you would have others do unto you. It means tolerance, understanding and a readiness to try to understand the other fellow's position. . . .

We, the American people should realize that our nation was born and nurtured in the cradle of fraternalism. Washington and most of his military aides, civilian friends, and advisors were members of the world's leading fraternity, the Masonic Order, and because they were thoroughly versed in the wholesome ideals and traditions of the Masonic fraternity they, in writing the Constitution of the United States, embodied in that memorable document the finest ideals of fraternity.

by the famous Yale Lectures on Preaching. These have been given every year but two since 1871. Yet year after year new lecturers come to speak on the same theme. They say some old things of course, but each time they add something new. The profession must be worthy of any man's careful consideration, else these lecturers would long ago have said the last word that could be said on the theme.

TIME-HONORED PROFESSION

Finally, as a preacher is inclined to say, let me note that men have been going into the ministry for centuries. As a profession it is much older than the Christian Church. We find its beginning in the priests and prophets of the Hebrew tradition. A minister of today gladly takes his place in the succession to which Amos, Isaiah, and thousands of nameless and unknown men belonged. This procession continues as a long, long line from the first of them to those of us in 1951. Great names are found on its roster—Huss, Calvin, Knox, Wesley—just to mention four whose given name was John. The rank and file of these ministers, however, have done their work quietly and faithfully and are not counted among the famous.

Some groups in this tradition have acquired in retrospect a certain romantic character. Chief among these would be the early American ministers known as Circuit Riders. They followed the pioneers in their westward movement immediately after the Revolutionary War was ended. As the states west of the Alleghenies filled up with settlers, these men kept on their trail. William Warren Sweet, the distinguished historian and a Delt alumnus of Ohio Wesleyan, gives them credit for winning the battle in that pioneer world for morality and religion. Theodore Roosevelt pays tribute to them as those who kept alive the divine fire in the heart of the pioneer. Woodrow Wilson spoke of them as knights-errant who rode endlessly in the service of God. Francis Asbury, the best known of the group, is credited with 250,000 miles on horseback. These men worked so hard and suffered such privation that most of them died before they were forty. Even though their successors have not played such a dramatic role, they have shown in other ways a similar devotion.

Into the ranks of this great company, young men still continue to come. One church with over 20,000 appointments to fill, faced a shortage of ministers ten years ago because it had raised its standards of admission. A recruiting campaign was instituted with the result that within eight years men have responded in unexpected numbers. Consequently candidates for its ministry are found today in the colleges and universities from which its clergy come in larger numbers than for half a century. The ten graduate seminaries this church maintains are overcrowded with students. One seminary alone had an average attendance last year of 375. Of this number one-fourth were veterans of World War II. Immediately after the end of the war the percentage of veterans was much higher than this. These students came from nearly every state in the Union and many foreign countries. They were graduates of over 200 different colleges and universities where they had participated in all types of college athletics and other activities. Fraternity men constituted a fair proportion of the group. It should be noted, therefore, that this succession which started so long ago is living still. In these tense days of vast unrest and uncertainty, the ministry seems to have a most urgent and vital appeal.

During the forty years of my own ministry I have met many Deltas and other fraternity men in its ranks. Let me in their name, as well as my own, issue a word of invitation to the Deltas of today. If you find yourself moved by a strange wistfulness to make the most of life; if you discover that you have some aptitude for this ministry; and if you have the courage to follow a long, long trail of high adventure, then in words that will recall happy memories, "Come on in, the water is fine."

L. Hartford, vice-president of the Northern Division; Edwin H. Hughes, III, secretary-treasurer of the Northern Division; Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President; and Gordon Jones, Editor of THE RAINBOW. Eastern Division President Forrest Witmeyer and former Eastern Division President Darrell Moore were welcomed to the meetings the second day. In attendance, also, were delegates from Western Reserve, Ohio State, Cincinnati, Illinois Tech, Butler, and Kent.

Acting as host chapter, Beta Zeta Chapter at Butler entertained the group with a buffet dinner at the chapter house. Included in the activities of the Conference were the Indianapolis Alumni Chapter's Founders Day banquet and dance. Over 300 were present for the usual singing, speeches, chapter stunts, and dancing.

The second Regional Conference of the Northern Division was held at the Beta Pi Chapter Shelter in Evanston, Illinois, February 29 and March 1 for the chapters at Northwestern, Michigan, Iowa, Michigan State, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Purdue. President Martin Dickinson was in attendance, along with Ernest Miller, Northern Division President; John H. Hutchinson, Northern Division vice-president; and RAINBOW Editor Gordon Jones. Also present were William Frank, assistant chapter adviser at Michigan State; Cecil C. Bean from Chicago; and Thaddeus S. Snell, chapter adviser at Northwestern.

The Northwestern chapter held its annual Pledge Dance during the Conference and many of the delegates attended.

On March 14 and 15 the third of the Northern Division Regional Conferences convened at the Mu Chapter House in Delaware, Ohio. Delegates were present from Ohio Wesleyan, Miami, Wabash, Hillsdale, Albion, Ohio, Lawrence, Bowling Green, and DePauw. W. Edgar West, Secretary of Alumni, and Frank Shelton, the Fraternity's Secretary, were present along with Northern Division President Ernest Miller; Robert M. Grove, chapter adviser at Ohio Wesleyan; Larry Sheaffer, Wabash's chapter adviser; John Gee, Bowling Green chapter adviser; Wilfrid Hibbert, delegate from the Toledo Alumni Chapter; and the Dayton Alumni Chapter's delegate, Rollin R. Rosser.

Following the buffet dinner at the chapter house, everyone attended the basketball game between the "pinned" and the "unpinned" members of Mu Chapter.

Kansas City Mothers Hold Allied Luncheon

ON FEBRUARY 13 the Kansas City (Missouri) Mothers' Club of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, Gamma Tau Chapter (University of Kansas), sponsored what we believe to be the first meeting of its kind—an allied group luncheon meeting of all Delt mothers in the greater Kansas City area.

Organized Delt mothers' groups in the city were contacted as early as last December to ascertain the reaction to such a meeting. The interest shown was definitely affirmative. A committee was set up in the Kansas City Delt Mothers' Club (U. of K.) to handle details of the luncheon. Not only were the organized groups contacted but every Delt mother who could be found was invited to attend and to bring any Delt mother whom she might know.

Mr. Martin B. Dickinson, President of Delta Tau Delta, was honored guest and gave a most interesting talk on "Delts." Also present was Mr. Kenneth C. Johnson, president of the Delta Tau Delta Kansas City Alumni Chapter.

The response on this first meeting was most gratifying: 65 Delt mothers from these seven chapters attended: Beta Kappa (Colorado); Delta Kappa (Duke); Gamma Chi (Kansas State); Gamma Kappa (Missouri); Gamma Pi (Iowa State); Gamma Tau (Kansas); and Gamma Theta (Baker).

There were mothers of actives as well as of alumni who have been out of school for some time, which shows without question how solidly the mothers support their sons as "Delts."

We have an idea this allied Delt Mothers' Luncheon may become an annual affair in Kansas City.

M.S.C. Delt Swimmer Olympic Contender

CLARK SCHOLES, senior of Iota Chapter, has stamped himself as a definite contender for the Olympic free-style swimming championship.

With two triumphs over his arch rival and world record-holder—Dick Cleveland of Ohio State—Clark led the Michigan State swimmers to a season that was marred only by defeats from powerful Ohio State and Michigan in the dual meet season.

In the Big Ten Meet, Iota's tall, blond free-styler, led the Spartans to a second-place finish behind Ohio State. In the recent NCAA and NAAU meets Scholes beat Cleveland decisively to retain the title of king of the nation's sprinters.

Clark won his first title in 1950 as 100-yard free-style champion of the NCAA and NAAU. In 1951 he successfully defended his crown in the National Collegiates, while adding the 50-yard free-style championship to his string of laurels.

Columbus Wives' Club Completes Fifth Year

THE YOUNGEST of the four Delt organizations in Columbus, Ohio, is the Delta Tau Delta Wives' Club. The other three—Beta Phi Chapter, the Beta Phi Mothers' Club, and the Columbus Alumni Chapter—have been well established for many years. The Wives' Club, now in its fifth year of existence, is beyond the experimental stage and appears to have taken a permanent place with the others in carrying on the work of the Fraternity.

The purpose of the organization is to provide an outlet for the interest that many wives of Columbus Delts have in their husbands' Fraternity. Originally an additional purpose was to provide a means for the wives of undergraduate Delts to get acquainted. With the passing of most of the older veterans from the scene, this purpose has now become secondary, as there are not now many of the undergraduates who are married.

Of the 16 charter members who attended the first meeting, six have since moved from Columbus, but other members have joined the group. The membership now numbers about 30. The presidents of the club have been Mrs. Thomas Parker, Mrs. Carroll Carr, Mrs. Gordon Campbell, Mrs. Frank Mallett, and Mrs. Charles Freeble. The membership is open to wives of members of the Fraternity (of any chapter).

Meetings are held monthly, sometimes at the Beta Phi Chapter house and sometimes at the homes of members. About twice a year social meetings are held to which the husbands are invited. One of the major events each year is a dance called the "Shelter Hop" which provides a social event for all Delts in Columbus and vicinity and also provides some money for the fund that the Club has established to help the Beta Phi Chapter with its proposed new house. Other money-making projects are held from time to time. The Club has occasionally helped with furnishings for the present house, supplementing the excellent work that the Mothers' Club has carried on for many years.

A high light in the Club's past activities is its participation in the 1950 Karnea at Columbus. Joined by members of the Mothers' Club, Delt wives served as hostesses for the visiting Delt ladies and carried on the Ladies' Program.

"Our danger at home is fixed and constant. Right at this moment, every major city in the United States is within reach of Russian bombers. We know that Russia has atomic bombs. We know that Russia has the facilities to wage biological warfare. We know that Russia is supplied with all of the modern war gases. So long as those things are true—and every one of them is true—Fortress Main Street must be on the alert day and night."

Back around 1912 or 1914 when Author BEN AMES WILLIAMS, Dartmouth, '10, was collecting rejection slips and notes of regret from various magazine editors, friends told him it was "not worth the effort," according to a recent article in the Boston Post. Today he is one of the top novelists, well known for such works as House Divided, Leave Her To Heaven, Time of Peace, and It's a Free Country.

Mr. Williams began his career as a short-story writer, but "found that as I grew older, I had a tendency to write stories longer. In some cases I would start to write a short story and end up writing a serial, mainly because there was more I wanted to do with my characters. My short stories were growing longer and longer, and the editors clamoring more and more for me to shorten up my stories." So he decided to confine himself to the writing of novels.

Mr. Williams does his writing in longhand, using a pen to do the original writing, and a soft-leaded pencil to write corrections and to fill in with additional material.

House Divided is said to be the longest novel ever written in the English language, and the author feels that it has also made him better known than any of his other work. At the present time he is working on a novel about reconstruction days in New Orleans. It is a sequel to House Divided, with many of the same characters.

University at that time. Delts of Florida State will long remember that date and the special occasion of seven national fraternities being installed on the campus in one day. The most prominent of all men in the Fraternity and the state were present for this historical ceremony.

Florida State University with its forward thinking and careful planning promised to develop an exceptionally sound fraternity system. Its officers had a vague dream which at that time they only hoped to accomplish. That was the building and development of a fraternity housing section.

The fraternity system has made remarkable progress in the past three years at Florida State University. On the campus there are now 14 national Greek-letter fraternities strongly bonded together by the well-organized Interfraternity Council. This was proof enough to the University that the fraternity system was one that would permanently take its rightful place as part of the educational system on the campus. Therefore, the University began planning and constructing its dream of a Fraternity Row. That dream has materialized.

The altruism, the tolerance, the generosity, and the understanding of our people are witnessed and impressed by our all-out effort to aid and assist the more backward nations of the world to give to the world and all its peoples a finer understanding of Christian civilization. But a few weeks ago we witnessed this nation at San Francisco leading 49 other nations to affixing their signatures to a treaty of peace with Japan, extending the hand of fellowship to our former enemy, and placing her high on the road to the practice and maintenance of a fraternal and democratic form of government. Our history is replete with acts of generosity in an endeavor to aid any cause that makes for a better and finer status of life. Hail to fraternity and the American conception and practice thereof!

Lawrence Bagpiper

LOUD MALE VOICES and firecrackers used to be the only threats to "quiet hours" around Brokaw hall—that is, until James Sackett [Lawrence, '55] showed up this fall with his Highland bagpipes.

The freshman from LaGrange, Ill. (younger brother of Ross Sackett, '51) has been skirling away on the pipes since he was a broth of a boy of six. And he is probably the only piper in the world to admit publicly that he once went through a revolving door with a set of pipes over his shoulder. When he came out he had just twice as many pipes—all of them significantly shorter.

Sackett's infatuation with the doodlesack (Scotch slang) began in the first grade when he went to a concert of the Chicago kiltie band. For the next months the Sackett household was so plagued with pleadings that finally Jim got his first bagpipes.

His teacher is the director of the Kiltie band—Pipe Major Robert Sin, who was private piper to the King of England until he came to America after World War I. Sackett has become so proficient around windbags that he takes some of Sin's beginning pupils, in exchange for advanced lessons from the master.

In Chicago, Jim is in the thick of Jim plays for a lot of Scotch dancing groups, plays as a solo piper in contests, and appears with the Kiltie band. When he makes a public appearance, he has a choice of two kilts—his band uniform or the Ross tartan, his family plaid.

For several years except the summer just past, Jim has gone with the Chicago pipers to the Highland games in Canada, and there he has won both the juvenile and amateur classes in piping.

Georgia Tech Cleans Up

THE BATTLE of Battle Hill Haven was fought by the Delt pledges of Georgia Tech last January. The skirmishes were led by paint-brush platoons, however, and the charges were made by mop-bucket brigades.

For Battle Hill Haven is a home for the aged, and Gamma Psi Chapter had adopted a Help Week program which called for a cleanup campaign at the establishment.

It was the first time that such a project had ever been undertaken by a Georgia Tech fraternity. Beginning on Monday, January 21, 25 Delt pledges invaded Battle Hill to scrape and paint the walls, scrub the floors, and wash windows that had not been washed for a year. The work, which continued throughout the week, included also such tasks as cleaning the yard and making many small repairs around the grounds.

Although actives were not required to participate, they joined in the fun willingly. The job reached its climax on Saturday, January 26, when the entire chapter swarmed over Battle Hill to complete the project. On the next day the formal initiation was held.

The Dels received high commendation from their community. Lawrence R. Hamilton, director of Battle Hill Haven, wrote to Clinton Huguley, former chapter adviser, "They [the Dels] proved themselves to be a fine bunch of fellows and we feel sure that such enterprises as the one in which we participated help to build good solid citizens for the future."

Expressing his appreciation to Blount Boswell, president of Gamma Psi Chapter, also, Mr. Hamilton wrote:

"Altogether it was an experience which lends us confidence in the oncoming crop of leaders upon which much depends."

Dr. Blake Van Leer, president of Georgia Tech, expressed his personal satisfaction to Gamma Psi for its community spirit:

"I wish to commend most heartily the action taken. . . . My congratulations to you and your fraternity for having the courage to undertake something really constructive."

Military services and burial were held January 9, 1952, at Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D. C., for Dr. A. J. FALETTI, Wisconsin, '25, former Oak Park, Illinois, physician and retired major of the U. S. Army Medical Reserve.

As a member of the Medical Reserve, Major Faletti was called into service immediately after Pearl Harbor and served nearly four years in the Southwest Pacific as a battalion surgeon with the 24th Infantry under General MacArthur. Because of wounds and other complications resulting from service, he was invalidated home just before the Philippine Invasion and spent more than three years in various veterans' hospitals. He never regained his health, however, and he died January 4 at Pratt General Hospital, Coral Gables, Florida.

Major Faletti is survived by two sisters and by two Delt brothers: Stephen L., Wisconsin, '22, and Frederick J., Illinois, '36.

EDGAR H. HEMMER, Purdue, '45, a navy flyer, considers himself a very lucky guy, since he survived a crash landing at sea and exposure of nearly two hours on a small raft in freezing weather.

On the night of December 26 he was a member of an eight-man crew which ditched its plane off the North Korea shore under extremely adverse weather conditions.

"The air temperature was 32 degrees, with steady snow and 30-foot waves," writes Hemmer in describing the incident. "Nevertheless, we made our position known to a friendly task force and six of the eight members of the crew survived the crash.

"All six of us managed to remain together on one four-man raft—the only raft not damaged in the crash. After one hour and 45 minutes in the water, we were rescued by a destroyer.

ALPHA HAS PLEDGING AND INITIATION OF NEW MEN

Following the usual extensive and hectic rush week, the Allegheny Deltas pledged 14 men, the second largest pledge class on the campus. These 14 men include 12 freshmen and two sophomores, and they are as fine a group of men as we could hope for. After a six-week pledge training period ending with the annual Help Week, eight of them were initiated on Sunday, March 30. The other six had not made the required average during the first semester.

TWO DELTS HANDLE COLLEGE FUND DRIVE

During the recent weeks, the annual Allegheny fund drive has been conducted. This is a drive held solely among the students which this year had as its goal $4,000 to be divided among three causes. This goal was passed, greatly due to the work of two Alpha Deltas who were the leaders for the drive. Ned Vidal was the chairman for the entire drive and Tom Newcomb was in charge of an all-College carnival which netted a great share of the final total.

DELTS FIGURE IN A.U.C. ELECTIONS

The Allegheny Undergraduate Council elections have just been completed. Four days before election day, Jack Olofson of this chapter was nominated for the presidency by a student petition. Despite the short time, Olofson and his campaign staff were able to conduct a fairly extensive campaign only to be defeated by a close margin at the polls. Nevertheless, he, in losing, was automatically nominated for a representative berth on the Council from the senior class, which he won easily. Another Delt, Gus Elias, was elected treasurer of the senior class.

ALPHA CHAPTER HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTIONS

The Alpha Chapter held its annual elections recently with the new officers to hold office for a full year. Jack Howie, a Korean veteran returning to school this year, was elected president of the chapter. The other officers are as follows: vice-president, John Gow, a sophomore; corresponding secretary, Dan Bratton, a sophomore; recording secretary, Wilbur "Monk" Miller, a sophomore. The election of treasurer was held off until the present assistant treasurer, Brad Shelp, is well enough acquainted with the job.

March 16, 1952, marked a great achievement in the history of Beta of Delta Tau Delta. On this day, Beta Chapter became the first chapter of Delta Tau Delta to initiate 1000 men. Loyal Bemiller, of Mansfield, received pin No. 1000 and Thomas Terhune, Cleveland, Ohio, received pin No. 1001.

Frank W. Shelton, Jr., Secretary of the Fraternity, was present for the initiation ceremonies. Many other alumni were present for the affair.

BETA CHAPTER ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The newly elected officers of Beta Chapter are: president, Paul Jackson; vice-president, Joe De Cosmo; recording secretary, Charles King; corresponding secretary, Dick Jones; treasurer, Al Uncapher; assistant treasurer, Charles Moore; guide, Jack Glinn; and guard, Dick Farrell. The new officers took their positions in February, 1952.

ANOTHER STEP

The name of Al Riedel, Bellaire, Ohio, recently appeared in the book American Student Leaders.

Dick Doran, Niles, Ohio, was elected president of Men's Union Planning Board, and Charles Krauskopf, of Athens, Ohio, was elected vice-president of Student Council.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

On the social calendar, the annual Gay Nineties Party was held in the Athens Eagles Club on April 5 and proved to be a great success as usual. Music was provided by a combo and decorations followed the theme. The chorus line was on hand and proved to be better than ever.

NEW INITIATES

Beta Chapter recently initiated 17 men. After the initiation, the Founders Day banquet was held at the Athens Country Club. Principal speaker was Francis M. Hughes, Supervisor of Scholarship of the Fraternity. Mr. Hughes spoke on the theme "Being a Man."

NEW PLEDGES

Beta Chapter's new pledges are: Paul Brown, Al Cooper, Larry Crist, Dick Fowler, Jack Honeck, Tom Riley, Dick Samelian, and Don Stroup. All are fine men and thanks are in order to Dick Doran and his rush committee for its fine work and choice of men.

Bob Kramer is their pledgemaster and doing a fine job, using The Delt Development Program.

J PROM

Beta Chapter will make Ed Parker its candidate for J-Prom king on Ohio's campus. A likable fellow, Ed's popularity adds to further hope for a victory. Ed Chapel and Joe Mickey, along with their committee, are pushing along with confidence for a winner.

Gamma—W. & J.

INGLIS NAMED PRESIDENT

As the administrative year came to a close, the men of Gamma Chapter had the task of electing new officers to administer the Fraternity for another year. After the ballots were counted, John Inglis was our new president; Norman Sirianni, vice-president; Frank Dunbar, recording secretary; Al McGhee, corresponding secretary; Bob Lynch, treasurer; Bill Doub, assistant treasurer; and Bill Inglis, social chairman. Everyone in the chapter is confident that these men will do their utmost to uphold their positions and exercise their power wisely.

ACHIEVEMENTS IN SPORTS AND SCHOLARSHIP

We are proud of Al McGhee and Mike Liles who are representing our chapter in college baseball and track, respectively.

In line with scholastic achievement, Bill Inglis, Jerry Harshman, and Ken Kost have all helped to raise the chapter's average by ending the first semester with an

CHAPTER ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The annual election of Delta Chapter found the following men elected to house offices: Bob Shetler, president; Dick Tinker, vice-president; Pat Golden, treasurer; Jim Himmelberger, recording secretary; George Hardwick, corresponding secretary; and Carl Hedner, sergeant at arms.

SEVEN MEN PLEDGED BY CHAPTER

Under the supervision of Doug Cutler, another successful rushing season has come to a close with seven of the sharper men coming our direction: Bill Barlow, Max Daniels, Bob Dombroski, Al Magnotta, Jack Pierce, Buck Moss, and Sam Di Francesco.

ACTIVE IN INTRAMURALS

With the election of Dick Gess, our new athletic chairman, we are looking forward to another successful year of intramural sports. At present we stand tenth of the 44 fraternities on campus, but we are hoping to better our standing with the coming of spring sports. Individual stars in wrestling for the house were Bob Shetler, our newly elected president, and Freshman Jack Schaupp, who did so well in intramural wrestling that he was asked to join the freshman squad.

SOCIAL EVENTS DOMINATE SPRING SEMESTER

For the remaining eight weeks we have a full social calendar. Our new social chairman, Fred Teague, has planned a Bohemian Party for the week end after spring vacation, while on the following week end Michigan's Biannual Spring Carnival "Michigras" will be in full swing. We are planning to enter a float in competition with other organizations on campus. May 3 will find the Shelter gayly decorated for our spring formal, an event well worth waiting for. The following week end will find the Shelter spic and span, as our mothers will move in.

On the seventeenth we have our annual alumni-active party at The Bloomfield Open Hunt Club in Detroit. We are all looking forward to the event, especially since we now hold the Joe Hickey trophy for the alumni-active baseball game. For the past two years the youngsters dominated the diamond. On the evening of the seventeenth our Inter-Fraternity Council is sponsoring the annual I. F. C. Ball. This year we will have the pleasure of dancing to the music of Ralph Flanagan.

DELTS IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Delts are prominent in several campus organizations such as Men's Glee Club, The Inter-Fraternity Council, The Student Legislature, Phi Beta Kappa, Sphinx, Druids, and The Michigan Union. Our president, Bob Shetler, is Cadet Commander of the Air Reserve Officers Training Corp.

Epsilon—Albion

STUDY TABLE PAYS OFF IN GRADES

Epsilon Chapter initiated a study table program last semester for pledges failing to receive a grade average of 1.4 or better on a 3.0 system at the mid-semester marking period. Of the 12 pledges who attended the three-hour study table on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings, only two raised their average sufficiently at the end of the semester to become initiated. The significant result of the program, however, is found in the fact that each man raised his grade an average of .09 in the eight weeks the program was in progress.

The study table took place in the dining room under the supervision of the active members. Many other actives took advantage of the program by studying at the table and helping the pledges with their assignments. The study table was helped by the enthusiasm and co-operation of the pledges, and it is hoped to be more successful as it is used again.

Epsilon requires a 1.2 grade average for initiation, and the chapter has consistently maintained a high scholastic rating on Albion's campus by being either first or second in interfraternity scholarship the last few years.

INTERFRATERNITY COMITY PROMOTED

The chapter recently sponsored two social functions that have opened the way for better all-campus and interfraternity relations at Albion. On Saturday, April 15, Epsilon held an all-campus open house that was attended by students from every Greek organization on campus, and also by many faculty members.

A week later Epsilon hosted members of Tau Kappa Epsilon and their dates at a combined date night at the Shelter. Plans and arrangements were made by Ralph Parker and William Cansfield, and entertainment was provided by Mark Blaising, John Hummon, Doug Dean, and Jim Murray. Murray, athletic activities chairman, is arranging the annual softball games this spring with Kappa Chapter at Hillsdale and Iota Chapter at Michigan State.

GAIN SPORTS RECOGNITION

Several men are gaining recognition for Epsilon along the Albion sports front. Charles Mohl and Jim Murray were on the Britons' high-scoring basketball team, with Mohl winning another major letter and Murray receiving a minor award. Bill Kessel and Bill Ash, stellar freestylers, won major letters on Albion's swimming team. Freshman Phil Benz, backstroker, would have received a letter, but he was declared scholastically ineligible at the end of the first semester.

Fifteen of Epsilon's members are participating on the Britons' four spring sports teams. The MIAA championship track team lists Jim Holmes, Dick Nebel, Jim Timmons, John Brundage, Mike Dailey, and Tom Misner, with Holmes and Nebel being holdover lettermen. Lettermen Charles Mohl, Larry French, Don Carmien, and Freshman Jack Lewis nearly dominate the six-man golf squad, last year's MIAA champions.

Letterman Bob Siegel is Epsilon's lone representative on the Briton tennis team, while Letterman Warren Fabel, Ralph Parker, Jim Murray and Bob Kouts are on the baseball team.

Bill Biggs has rounded up a softball team that will try to cop first-place honors in the intramural softball league that begins competition after spring vacation.

Zeta—Western Reserve

IN LEAD FOR ALL-SPORTS TROPHY

Intramural competition highlighted a busy program for Zeta at Reserve as the Deltas found themselves in the lead for the All-Sports Trophy. Winning championships in foul shooting, "A" and "B" basketball, and wrestling, the Zetamen held a narrow lead over their closest rivals. The "B" squad was undefeated while coping two championships. Intramural Manager Skip Diederich is working out strategy for the forthcoming baseball and track competition in an attempt to bring the trophy back to the Shelter.

MEXICAN HAT PARTY ON SOCIAL CALENDAR

The social calendar has been well filled by Social Chairman Ted Poesse with the Mexican Hat Party, exchange dinners and desserts, stag parties, and impromptu get-togethers. The Spring Formal will be held on June 6.

CHAPTER IS BUSY FOR SPRING

The spring issue of our chapter newspaper, the GaZeta, is being readied with an eye to stimulating interest within the chapter, informing the alumni, and serving as rushing material. House Manager Steve Butzko, with the aid of the chapter, has reseeded the lawns and extended our rear parking lot. Representing Zeta on varsity teams this spring are Ralph Engle, tennis; Chuck Wiedman and Norm McCreary, track; Gordon Bower and Tom Lohrey, baseball; and Al Oldenburg, Jim Goldie, and Bill Taake, golf.

GREEK WEEK HIGHLIGHTS CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Highlighting campus activities was the annual Greek Week Show, "Guys and Gods," in April. Deltas in the all-male cast were Ralph Engle, Tim Anzellotti, Merwin Yockey, Bob Sigrist, Bob Brown, Conrad Hein, Ned Stevens, and Leon Lee. Jim Goldie was business manager, assisted by Bob Fleck. Also on campus, Ralph Engle and Dick Walter are president and vice-president, respectively, of the sophomore class, while Al Oldenburg and Bob Fuzy hold Varsity "R" Club offices. Ralph Engle, Chuck Wiedman, Ned Brown, Dean Sobek, and Gene Schwartz are on the year-book staff, and Gordon Bower writes for the Reserve Tribune. Further representing Delta Tau Delta on campus are Jim Goldie and Al Oldenburg, president and vice-president of the Interfraternity Council.

IOTA MAKES KARNEA PLANS

Iota has already started making tentative plans for the coming Karnea at Mackinac Island. These plans call for a party at the house for the delegates who will be passing through East Lansing on their way to scenic Mackinac. Travel information and some rides to Mackinac from East Lansing will be available to delegates. Watch for more information on this. Remember, all roads to Mackinac pass through East Lansing.

GOLF AND TENNIS

Iota's defending IFC golf champions will once again be favored to take the links trophy. Iota has another trophy chance in its tennis squad. It is composed mostly of veterans: Jim Hayes, Ken Parlin, Dewitt Parsons, and Duane Vernon.

Mu—Ohio Wesleyan

FIRST PLACE IN SCHOLARSHIP!

The past few months have certainly brought recognition to Mu Chapter here at Ohio Wesleyan. For the first time, to the knowledge of those in school now, the interfraternity scholarship trophy was won by a fraternity with a point average of more than 3.0. We were the happy recipients of this honor which puts us in first place in the scholarship competition. Mu Chapter was honored when four of its members were elected into the national scholarship honorary, Phi Beta Kappa. Two of the initiates, Dave Smith and Jack Cole, are juniors while the other two, Bill West and Dave Hummel, are seniors. Bill and Dave have also recently been initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership honorary.

WIN POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Here at the Shelter we feel at ease reading the political news in the newspaper. We have just been through a political campaign of our own. Under the capable direction of Bob Drake we were successful in having Dave Smith elected as student body president. The final success ended a rigorous week of open houses, speeches, parties, demitasses and hand shaking.

HELP OHIO WESLEYAN TO VICTORY

Dick Surbrook, Bob Kimble and Stew Peterson represented Mu on the basketball floor and played no small part in placing victory in the hands of Wesleyan. Bob and Dick both received their letters this year and are now looking forward to next year's season.

NEW LEADER ELECTED

Bob Drake, past sports editor of the campus newspaper, the Transcript, has been elected as president of the chapter. Under Bob's leadership, the Deltas are looking forward to a prosperous year. Duncan White will take over Bob's sports editorship playing the role of "Bill Stern" for the Transcript.

DRAMA GROUP PRODUCES PLAY BY BILL WEST

Nu placed three men on the varsity baseball team; Brothers Chick Quigg, Jack Madden, and John Alviggi. The house softball team beat Theta Delta Chi 9-3 to open a promising softball season.

NU INITIATES NINE

Spring initiation took place April 8 with nine men becoming brothers. The following men were initiated: Joseph W. Drosdick, Edward J. Elbert, Alfred H. Gross, Barry F. Hampe, Richard R. Ritzman, Forrest L. Schaffer, Coleman J. Sewell, Theodore R. Sullivan, and Joseph M. Toth.

Omicron—Iowa

ACTIVE ON SEVERAL FRONTS

The spring season here at Omicron showed activity on several fronts. Omicron climaxed the interfraternity intramural athletic season by carrying off the lightweight basketball crown. Members of the team included Bruce Clark, Stan Etzen, Gene Feyen, Jim Kimler, Brick McKelvey and Bob Overholzer. The team was coached by the athletic committee chairman, Tom Bowers. Members of the chapter recently completed a modernly-decorated recreation room which has become a center for chapter social events.

INITIATE ELEVEN

March 8 Omicron initiated eleven new members into the Fraternity. The following day Omicron entertained visiting alumni at a banquet held in Iowa City's Hotel Jefferson. The speaker for the day was Darrell Moore, past president of the Eastern Division, and professor at Purdue University.

ELECTED TO TWO CAMPUS POSTS

In the spring all-campus elections, Bob Ballantyne, an Omicron sophomore, was elected to two important campus posts. He is now a member of the board of directors of Student Publication, Inc., which controls the campus daily paper, and also a member of the Union Board, which controls the scope and activities of the Student Union.

ANNUAL FRENCH PARTY HELD

March 29 marked the annual French Party, which was a very successful event this year. The entire house was decorated in French motif for the occasion. Scholastically, Omicron again stood above the All Men's Average for the first semester of this year. Omicron is, through an effective planning program, looking forward to a very successful year, with even more achievements to add to its record.

Rho—Stevens

WIN COVETED TROPHY THIRD CONSECUTIVE YEAR

Rho is happy to report that the coveted I.F.C. sports trophy has been won for the third straight year, thus enabling the retirement of the trophy. The clinching points came when the basketball team, sparked by the fine floor-play of "Rocky" Langhans and the rebound strength of Dave Martin, Jack Wilcox, and Ralph Sundstrom, eked out a close 22-19 victory for the basketball championship of 1952.

SEVEN NAMES ADDED TO PLEDGE ROSTER

With spring came closed rushing and seven new pledges were added to the roster, each hoping to bring some new men when open rushing starts. The new pledges are Jack Horsefield, Ozzie Morton, Al Canham, Dick Haug, Dean Nold, John Tunney, and Wally Kineyko.

SPRING—LACROSSE AT RHO

Spring also brought the opening of the lacrosse season—spring at the Delt house means lacrosse. Many of the members are on the varsity and J. V. teams, with several in the starting line-ups. Dave Martin at attack, Ed Wilson in the goal, Ernie Stevens' seven new pledges.

Tanker in defense are regulars, while Vic Berent, "Rocky" Langhans, and Watson Smith play most of the game at mid-field and attack.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

Recently elected officers for the coming year are: Bob Lankering, president; Dick McCormack, vice-president; Harry Ricci, recording secretary; Dwight Massey, treasurer; Harold Soederberg, corresponding secretary.

ONLY SIX ARE GRADUATED

Graduation in June will see Rho lose only six seniors to industry, leaving the house membership with about 40 undergraduates.

Tau—Penn State

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

Newly elected officers of Tau Chapter are: Tom Judge, president; Bob Gribben, vice-president; Krebs Myton, corresponding secretary; Joe Kline, recording secretary; and Dick Haenel, treasurer.

ROMAN COSTUME PARTY HELD

IFC week end marked a new high for house parties. A total of 43 imports stayed in the house over the week end. A Roman costume party at the Shelter on Saturday night crowned the house party.

GREEK WEEK IS CLEANUP WEEK

In keeping with the first annual Greek Week, a week set aside to foster better relations between the fraternities and the townspeople and faculty, we helped clean up the borough's playgrounds and other recreational areas. Later in the week, with the help of sororities, we entertained 50 townspeople and faculty members and their wives. The IFC Ball, with Woody Herman and his band, concluded the week on Friday.

IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Joe Kline has been elected business manager of Froth, the college humor magazine. Dick Haenel is the new president of Chi Epsilon, honorary civil engineering fraternity. Gene Donahue and Bernie Kelly are the number one broad jumper and javelin thrower on the track team. Fred Sprenkle and Tom Shaw run the half mile. Tau Chapter mourned the recent death of Walter B. Nissley, former chapter adviser and long-time treasurer of Tau Company.

Upsilon—Rensselaer

NEW MEN WELCOMED

Midyear rushing turned out to be successful with the pledging of six excellent men. Brother Bob Morgenroth, among others, is to be congratulated for supervising a terrific rushing campaign. Eight bids were given; six were accepted. Congratulations are also due to eight newly initiated brothers. These Deltas have already established themselves as leaders in various activities on campus.

SOPHOMORE SOIREE CLIMAXES SPRING SOCIAL SEASON

The spring social season here at Rensselaer, was climaxed by the Sophomore Soiree. The theme at the Shelter for the Friday night party was a "Roman Forum," while "On an Island with You," was the theme of the dance Saturday night. Maestro Johnny Long provided the music for the dance with the famed Teddy Wilson Quartet playing during the breaks. The week end got off to a flying start Friday night with the Dartmouth Saints and their terrific Dixieland jazz. Roman Forum and Dixieland—how's that for incongruity?

SCHOLARSHIP SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

The fall term showed a marked improvement in the scholarship standing of the house here at RPI, and we hope to be even better this term. The scholarship chairman, Brother Hard, has established a plan for consulting the pledges' instructors about their progress in their studies. We hope that this will serve to improve our standing further.

NATION'S NUMBER ONE HOCKEY PLAYER IS PLEDGE

Our chapter was honored this year by having as a pledge, the nation's number one hockey scorer, Chico Chiarelli. He has set a new record for goals scored by any college hockey player—55 goals! Chico was placed on the second all-American team, which is selected each year by the nation's leading hockey coaches. Brother Moore was also high among the nation's scorers, with 41 points. Brother Jim Pope, the work horse of the Rensselaer hockey team, finished the season with 25 points. The house is in third place for the coveted Barker Trophy, and all hands will be working hard for this significant award.

DELTS DOMINATE LACROSSE TEAM

Without Phi Chapter's contributions, it is doubtful that the Washington and Lee lacrosse team could survive. Six of the regulars on the team are Deltas, led by Co-captains Jim Gray and Morgan Lear, who have been notably outstanding in competition this season. Delta Tau Delta is also represented in the other spring sports, including golf, tennis, and baseball.

INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONSHIP?

At this time it looks as if Phi Chapter will again athletically reign supreme in the hotly contested intramural race. After capturing blue ribbon honors in the "Annex" billiards tournament, and finishing second in volleyball, we moved into third position in the over-all standings—only a few points behind the leaders. With our usually "strong" sports still before us, the chances are we shall come out on top when the year's complete totals are compiled.

DELTS AND DANCES

In addition to our other achievements, Delts on this campus always rank high in the social department. This year, because Brother John Allen has been elected president of final dances, Phi Chapter has been given the distinct honor of being host fraternity for the entertainment and celebration program taking place on graduation week end. All the brothers have been aiding Allen in his vast and elaborate preparations.

WEDDING BELLS

Three Delts, all seniors, are planning June weddings. Don Shuck, Bill Wirth, and a former woman hater, Dick Owen, have all submitted to the powerful female sex, and are nervously awaiting the beginning of their married lives. Most of the other brothers have managed to stay out of marital danger.

ANOTHER YEAR

This year has been an exceptionally fine one for Phi Chapter—athletically, socially, and scholastically. It is here we would like to wish the senior class, and all others leaving, the best of luck.

Chi—Kenyon

ELECT NEW LEADER

With the opening of the spring semester, Chi Chapter elected a new president. Ed Ames, a junior from White Plains, New York, has succeeded Senior Grant Cooke. Ed's leadership has equaled the high level of the retiring president.

CHI DELTS LEAD DRIVE FOR BLOOD DONORS

In April the Red Cross bloodmobile came to the Hill and the drive for donors was headed by a Chi Delt, Bill Ranney. Under his guidance, the drive was very successful with 100 per cent of the blood pledged being donated.

COLLECTS THREE ATHLETIC TROPHIES

Athletically, the chapter had collected three trophies at the time this article was written, "A" basketball, "B" basketball, and swimming. We feel confident of our chances in the intramural track meet and tennis tournament.

HOLD ANNUAL MOTHER'S DAY FESTIVAL

Initiating something new on the Kenyon College campus, Chi Chapter has had the first Annual Mother's Day Festival. A goodly number of mothers spent the week end at the chapter enjoying parties and banquets with their sons.

KARNEA DELEGATES SELECTED

Brothers Tildon McMasters and Bill Williams received the nod for attending the forthcoming Karnea. Several other brothers may "audit" the session.

Beta Alpha—Indiana

WELCOMES NEW MEMBERS

Beta Alpha welcomed 12 new members March 12, and it seemed like "Old Home Week" when half of the initiates were pinned by their fathers or brothers. John Heiney, of Huntington, was honored as "Outstanding Pledge of 1951-1952" at a banquet following the initiation ceremonies.

MANY SOCIAL EVENTS PLANNED

The remainder of the semester features a long list of social and athletic events. The theme for the annual spring dance will be "South Sea Island" and again the guys will be attired in bathing suits and beach apparel while the gals will catch the attention with their grass skirts and sarongs. The date is May 10. A Mother's Day week end is planned for a Sunday in May, and the "Little 500" bicycle race is scheduled for May 10, also. Cream and Crimson Day, the spring athletic carnival, is set for May 3, and a large rush week end is planned. Already Jim Moss, rush chairman, has pledged six outstanding men who'll enter I.U. this fall. Count Fisher and his jazz combo will play for the Delt open house April 23. Six sororities and five fraternities have been invited, and Beta Alpha will treat the guests with all the shrimp they can eat. Then on April 30 the third annual "Coach's Banquet" will be at the Shelter. The entire I.U. coaching staff and administrative officials are expected to turn out for the event.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Oh, yes, in the act of relaying the social calendar, we almost forgot that Pete Sprecher and Al Davis, both of Indianapolis, were elected president and vice-president, respectively, in February. They've made a lot of advancements already, and Beta Alpha is expected to retain its high standing on campus.

Beta Beta—DePauw

CHAPTER NETS NEW PLEDGES

Early in March eleven new men were initiated into Beta Beta. The stepped up rush program has been successful. Many full rush week ends in March, April, and May netted Beta Beta an outstanding group of boys for next year's pledge class.

BANQUET OPENS SPRING SOCIAL SEASON

The Sweetheart Banquet in March opened the busy spring social season. On Alumni Day, March 29, the chapter welcomed a group of Greencastle alumni to the Shelter, and gave them a delicious dinner. An Easter egg hunt early in April filled the spacious front lawn with happy children. Everyone had a great time. The Spring Formal was a success this year and the annual steak fry gave us a chance to enjoy the balmy spring breezes.

PARTICIPATE IN SPORTS

Twenty-two Delt athletes are participating in spring sports this year. Nine men—Van Fucilla, Trav Kendall, Gary Rutledge, Ed McGreevy, Jerry Williams, Ed McFarland, Jim Gauss, Vic Voras, and Don Johnson—turned out for spring football and the baseball roster includes Ward Shawver, Bob Van Nest, Jim Kelly, Nick Osmer, and John Hufferd. Jim Dudley, a letterman in track last year, is tearing up the cinders again and Freshman Jim Totman shows great promise as a distance man. Rounding out the athletic picture are Bob Radle, Jim McClenahan, Al Burkhalter, and Steve Swaim on the tennis squad and Phil Brown and Wally Johnson out on the golf links.

PLACE THIRD SCHOLASTICALLY

Final tabulation of the scholarship standings for the fall semester placed the Delt house third out of 14 fraternities on the campus.

COPS PRESIDENCY

McClenahan gained added laurels by copping the presidency of the Union Building in a campus-wide election. John Stephens became an area chairman and Jim Rowlett also received an important position in the Union Building organization. Outstanding members of the freshman class are Paul Stenger, who became a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary, and John Hufferd, who has demonstrated his dramatic talents in several plays and radio productions.

Beta Gamma—Wisconsin

FERDERBAR RECEIVES OUTSTANDING PLEDGE AWARD

Tom Ferderbar received the Bailey Award for being the outstanding pledge in the chapter for the last semester. Tom is a hard worker who constantly keeps all members laughing with his many quips. He is also the leading photographer on the campus, and has done Beta Gamma many a service in the field of publicity. The recipient of the Bailey Award was very hard to decide this semester because of the fine work done by so many of our pledges. These men were not only great workers in the Shelter, but also outstanding all over campus.

WIN FIRST PLACE IN VARIETY SHOW

Chuck Doman, in his last weeks as a pledge, took upon himself the job as director of Delta Tau Delta's entry in Campus Carnival. This was Chuck's second year in this capacity, and for the second year the Delts came out on top. Delts, together with the girls of Alpha Chi Omega, put on a variety show called "Wigglyworks," which took first place in carnival ticket sales, selling over 1200 seats to aid Madison charities. It seems the Delts were all over Campus Carnival at Wisconsin this year. Another pledge, Dick Schillfarth, was general chairman of the charity affair and was so successful in that capacity that he eclipsed all previous sales records by two and one half times. Working with Dick as cochairmen of the Carnival parade were Dick Pfeil and Bob Bischoff, who brought more fame to the chapter by putting on a colossal exhibition with 50 floats, bands, horses, fire engines, and just about anything else imaginable. Another Delt, Neal Hartwell, was in charge of publicity and programs.

BAILEY TAKES BLUE RIBBON IN AGRICULTURAL COMPETITION

Beta Gamma also has its share of "Campus King" aspirants this year. Dick Outland lost a whirlwind campaign for king of the "March Roar" pledge dance by only a few votes. Ray Stommel, a senior in Advanced Corps ROTC at Wisconsin, is now running for "Military Ball" king. Prospects look very good for Ray in this department. Animal Husbandry Major Curt Bailey took a blue ribbon for best in class of steers in an Ag. School competition of the "Little International." Bailey also represented Delta Tau Delta in the calf roping competition.

DELTS SHINE IN ATHLETICS

In athletics, Brother George O'Brien was awarded a trophy as left guard on the Catholic all-American team, and is now on the traveling squad of the Wisconsin baseball team as catcher. Jim Evoy is whipping his arm into shape as pitcher with the Wisconsin team this year. Gordy Johnson, captain of cheerleaders and gymnastics at Wisconsin, is now giving fancy diving exhibitions all over the state. The chapter as a whole is still in the running for the fraternity Badger Bowl, and has high hopes with baseball, tennis, and golf seasons approaching. In a chapter game for a prize, the actives beat the pledges in basketball last week, 48-21.

Beta Delta—Georgia

MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS FOR YEAR POINTED OUT

In retrospect, each Delt at Beta Delta might point to a different accomplishment as our greatest achievement of the year. Doubtlessly, some would list the honors we took in athletics, second in our league in football and third in the University volleyball intramural program, others might prefer the improvement in our scholastic standing, all are proud of our 23 pledges and 15 initiates who will carry on at Beta Delta. The personal triumphs of the Deltas in scholarship, athletics, and leadership have received campus-wide recognition; our spring formal, held April 4 at a downtown hotel ballroom, climaxed the earlier parties and dances at the chapter house.

ELECTIONS AND RE-ELECTIONS HELD

Recent elections find us with President Girard Campbell, Vice-President Bob Withers, and Treasurer Bob Troup—congratulations to them and good luck. Retiring President Bob Walker has made quite a name for himself this year on the varsity track team, as has Hurly Jones, starring on the football team. The chapter recently re-elected Sweetheart Martha Shuman—she is one of those wonderful girls with whom you can't part. Dottie Wright, our beautiful and charming sponsor, and Mrs. Overstreet, our gracious housemother, along with Sweetheart Shuman, make up the three members of the fairer sex who are indispensable at Beta Delta.

CONSTRUCT "SHACK"

Notable among achievements is the "shack" we have constructed in the backyard entirely with Delt labor under the guidance of Brother Bill Wallace. The "shack" boasts an open fireplace, dancing area, snack bar, many tables, and cleverly cartooned walls by Brother Arthur Fort. Despite the marked drop in college enrollment and the even more marked drop in fraternity membership at Georgia, the Deltas have made a record for the year that would be a credit to any organization.

Beta Epsilon—Emory

COLONEL SPEAKS AT ANNUAL FORMAL

We at Beta Epsilon had our Annual Formal Dance on February 8 at Piedmont Park. Our speaker was Colonel Lawson, an alumnus of Beta Zeta Chapter and head of the Air Force R.O.T.C. here at Emory. I think everyone agreed that our formal was a big success.

EXPECT MUSH BANQUET TO BECOME ANNUAL AFFAIR

On February 22 we had a Mush Banquet, the first party of its kind at the Shelter. Brothers and pledges having an average of A at midterm ate sirloin steak, those having B average ate cube steak, those having C average, hamburgers, and those unfortunate souls having an average of below C—mush. The dates shared the fate of their escorts. Since the mush banquet will probably become an annual affair, it will serve as an incentive to better scholarship. Pictures taken at the banquet were published in The Atlanta Constitution.

HOLD WIENER ROAST & BARBECUE

The first week end after spring vacation we had a house party at Lake Blackshear, about six miles from Cordele, Georgia. There was a wiener roast on Friday night and a barbecue on Saturday night. Sunday morning three of our theology students, Charlie Hillis, Clyde Smith, and Billy Yon, conducted a worship service.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR TWO BIG SOCIAL EVENTS

Beta Epsilon is buzzing with activity these days getting ready for the two big events of the spring quarter. Skits-O-Frenia, in which the fraternities on the row present a skit, competing for a cup, will be April 4. Dooley's Frolics will be April 25-27. The lawn decorations for the fraternities this year will be based on movies. We have chosen "Bird of Paradise." We are looking forward to having a lot of fun on this great week end.

Beta Zeta—Butler

PLEDGE THIRTEEN

Beta Zeta Chapter began the new semester with 13 new pledges. New officers of the pledge class are: Chuck Boltin, president; Bill McCoy, vice-president; Bill Bockstahler, secretary-treasurer; Dave Blue, sergeant at arms; and Paul Denny, social chairman.

PLAYS HOST AT DIVISION CONFERENCE

On February 22 and 23, Indianapolis played host to representatives from the chapters of all the city colleges in the Northern Division, who met in a conference at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

On February 23, the annual Founders Day dinner and dance were held at the Athletic Club, with members of the five Delt chapters in Indiana attending.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Election of officers was held on January 16. The chapter officers for 1952 are: Vic Tanguy, president; George Goodnight, vice-president; John McCardle, recording secretary; Lloyd Cast, corresponding secretary; Marlin Husted, treasurer; and John Newman, sergeant at arms. Jack Whaley was appointed social chairman; Max Truby, scholarship chairman; and Fred Ryan, intramural chairman.

WALKS AWAY WITH TOP HONORS IN GENEVA STUNTS

Under the very capable direction of Brother Dave Berry, Beta Zeta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta walked away with top honors in this year's Geneva Stunts. The act, acclaimed as "reaching professional standards," was a minstrel show. Participants included nearly the entire chapter, plus the chapter's little beagle hound mascot. The terrific job done by Brother Vic Tanguy as interlocutor was highlighted by the antics of Endmen Don Schladeiman, Jim Shrock, Bill Loebig, and John McCardle. The superb quartet, composed of Brothers Max Truby, Ross Copeland, Warren Clements, and Clyde Green, and the golden-voiced tenor, John Newman, gave performances which were nothing short of professional. The over-all quality and precision made it a performance which will not soon be forgotten.

Beta Eta—Minnesota

MANY ATTEND FOUNDERS DAY BANQUET

Winter quarter here at Beta Eta has been a busy one for all the Deltas. Our biggest event of the winter quarter, the annual Founders Day banquet, held at the banquet room of McCarthy's supper club on February 16, was a success, well attended by alumni. Our guest speaker, Edwin H. Hughes, III, vice-president of the Indianapolis Alumni Chapter and secretary-treasurer of the Northern Division, gave a very excellent address. Otto Silha, vice-president of the Northern Division and former chapter adviser here at Beta Eta, did a noteworthy job as the toastmaster. Dave Thomas, Sr., old-faithful Beta Eta alumnus, made the trip from Faribault, with broken ankle, crutches and all.

WINTER PARTY PROVIDES MUCH ENTERTAINMENT

The next event on the social calendar was the annual Winter Party held at the White Pine Inn in Bayport, Minnesota, March 8. The order of the day consisted of skiing, tobogganing, and skating in the afternoon, followed by a dinner-dance in the evening, and everyone concerned had a wonderful time.

NEW LEADERS ELECTED

At our recent chapter election, Ray Fitch was elected president of Beta Eta for the new year, and he has already shown by his actions that he will make a very good president. The retiring president, Dave Clark, and his officers, were given a standing vote of thanks for their work during the past year. The other new officers elected were: Russ Johnson, vice-president; Ray Bangs, recording secretary; and Wayne Lewis, corresponding secretary.

ANNUAL FAMILY AFFAIR HELD

Our annual Family Dinner, sponsored by the Mothers' Club, was another successful event of the winter quarter. Nearly 75 mothers, fathers, sisters, and brothers enjoyed the delicious ham dinner served by the mothers.

ALUMNUS PROMINENT IN PRIMARY

On the alumni front, Beta Eta alumnus, Forst Lowery, received nationwide recognition for his inauguration of the Eisenhower "write-in" here in the recent Minnesota primary election. We at Beta Eta are proud indeed of our prominent alumnus and his recent work.

LAST BIG SOCIAL EVENT OF SEASON SET

Big events in the offing here at Beta Eta include the Campus Carnival and our Spring Formal. The Campus Carnival is one of the biggest all-University events of the year and a lot of work is being done in preparing the Delt show. Our Spring Formal is to be held May 24, at Forrest Lake, and our new social chairman, Steve Samels, is busy preparing for this, the last big social event of the school year.

Beta Theta—Sewanee

TWELVE NEOPHYTES INITIATED

The end of the first semester saw the initiation of 12 neophytes into the active chapter. These new members were greatly needed and have already been assigned jobs of responsibility. Tommy McCrummen was awarded the cup for the most outstanding pledge.

GRIER PRESIDENT OF PANAHELLENIC COUNCIL

Recent changes within the Panhellenic Council saw Brother Jack Grier take over as president of that organization from Brother Mark Johnson and appoint Brother Fritz Erschell as secretary.

ACTIVE IN INTRAMURALS

The end of the intramural basketball season saw Beta Theta standing even in the win-lost column. Returning to next year's squad will be four of the starting five and all of the reserves who gained valuable experience during the past season. Baseball now has the limelight, and under the capable guidance of Brother Erschell the Delt team should emerge as a winning combination. Pledge Frank Oxarart is holding down the number one position in the one- and two-mile run on the varsity track team.

ANNUAL PARISIAN PARTY HELD

The annual Parisian Party will highlight the social season this spring. Social Chairman Jim Kilpatrick and his committee have been working out the details to make this a joyous occasion. Closing this week end will be the annual Blue Key Sing held on the University Quadrangle. Again, under the direction of Brother Alan Bell, the Delt "choraleers" will be out to bring home the bacon.

Beta Kappa—Colorado

DELTS TAKE WRESTLING AND BOXING CROWN

In the sports department, the Deltas captured the championship crown in both wrestling and boxing. Dave Forgan won the heavyweight wrestling trophy, while Frank Narcisian was the runner-up in the 175-pound class. In boxing it was Rod Dexter who walked away with the heavyweight crown. Phil Kingdom was the 175-pound class title winner, while Dee Hubbard got the runner-up position in the 135-pound class. Now that spring is again upon us, our softball team is limbering up to prepare for the defending of its championship title. In track, tennis, and golf, we have a large turnout of men who will try to bring home some more trophies.

SCHOLARSHIP

Due to an emphasis on scholarship and the enforcing of a new quiet-hour plan, the men of Beta Kappa came out on top scholastically last semester. With an average of 2.297, we were above the All Men's Average, which was 2.173, and were above the all-student's average which was 2.240. We advanced from ninth position last year to the number three spot this year, and we plan to hit the top of the ladder this semester.

FOUNDERS DAY BANQUET

On March 14 the Eideweiss Restaurant in Denver was the location of Beta Kappa's observance of the annual Founders Day banquet. A new attendance record was set with over 80 per cent of both the undergraduate and alumni members being present for the annual affair. Ben Hillyard, the M.C. for the banquet, introduced the officers of the alumni and active chapters, who then gave a short report on their activities during the past year. Entertainment was provided by some of the more talented members of Beta Kappa who gave a short, humorous skit. A speech commemorating the founders of Delta Tau Delta plus a few Delt songs ended the evening.

Colorado's new pledge class.

ELECTION OF NEW OFFICERS

LIVING ROOM AND REC ROOM IMPROVEMENTS

A new color scheme has changed the appearance of our Shelter's interior. Our once drab-white living room is now a modernistic tan and dark brown. To further brighten the living room, a colorful picture will soon hang over the fireplace. Our front hall and stairway have also been repainted an eye-pleasing light green. Our rec room is next in line for improvement. Plans have already been completed not only to cover the now bare walls with wood paneling, but also to rebuild our concrete fireplace with Colorado sandstone.

Following the usual system of deferred rushing here at Lehigh, Beta Lambda pledged ten second semester freshmen. These new men have brought new vigor to the already strong position the Dels hold here on campus. The scholastic picture is bright, with the Dels among the upper half of fraternities, and holding a place well above the All Men's Average.

WELL REPRESENTED IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Balancing the activities with scholarship, we do not find ourselves on the short end. Of particular note is the fifth annual Spring Music Festival (largest single extracurricular activity on campus). Very few of the Dels were not in some way connected with the production. Besides the Festival, we are well represented in nearly all campus activities, and most of the freshmen and varsity sports. Jim Hobbs and Bill Murray received varsity swimming letters this season. Jim took a second place and Bill a fourth in the Middle Atlantic Tournaments, which Lehigh won for the third year in a row.

HOLD TOP POSITION IN VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE

In interfraternity wrestling, Frank Dunne's was the only pin in the entire competition. The Dels have won top position in the volleyball league; final play-offs will take place after spring vacation.

HOUSE PARTY PLANNED FOR MAY

Initiation ceremonies were performed for our newest brother, B. Franklin Reinauer, on April 2, 1952. All thoughts over vacation were directed toward a successful house party on the week end, May 2, 3, and 4. A new theme is going to be worked around the title: "A Southern Plantation Party," a subject which should prove bountiful as far as decorations and costumes are concerned.

Beta Mu—Tufts

DELTS DINE WITH SIGMA KAPPAS

Our first activity after the midyear exams was a dinner given at the Shelter by the Sigma Kappa Sorority. The house was overwhelmed by the dinner cooked and served by the girls. Although the meat was burned, we were well enough to enjoy a skit put on afterwards by the pledges of both organizations.

INITIATE TWELVE

Following a successful "Help Week," during which the Beta Mu rec room was completely redecorated, 12 successful candidates were initiated into the chapter on March 23. High light of the initiation day was an address given by Dr. Leonard Carmichael, President of Tufts College, who spoke on the values of the fraternity in the American college system.

MANY ACTIVITIES LINED UP FOR SPRING

The spring term promises to be an extremely active one for the Dels with Brother Paul Wiggin campaigning for Mayor of Tufts. Running as "Mickey McWig," he has enrolled strong support from several fraternities and sororities. Also on the agenda will be the annual Spring Week End at Magnolia, Massachusetts, which consists of a formal dance Friday night at the Casino, followed by a beach party with all the trimmings of lobsters, clams, and steaks on Saturday. In May, Brother Min Aliapoulos will lead the Delt chorus in Sigmund Romberg's "To the Inns We're Marching," as it attempts to repeat last year's victory in the Spring Sing. On the winter competition tally sheet, the Dels can account for the all-College basketball championship which saw the team go through the season with a 13 and 1 record. Brother Bill Schmid's form from the low board was enough to send him through the swimming season undefeated in all freshman meets. At the Winter Carnival a depiction of Jumbo's death—P. T. Barnum's famous elephant which is the College mascot—placed second among the fraternities and dormitories.

HONORED IN Who's Who

Three Beta Mu Dels are honored in this year's Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. They are Brothers Min Aliapoulos, Richard Walsh, and Robert Young. The house is looking forward to a banner year under the new officers—president, Dave Curley; vice-president, Jim Tobin; recording secretary, Charlie Davis; and corresponding secretary, Charlie Vassallo.

Beta Xi—Tulane

PLEDGES HELP IN TRAFFIC SURVEY

Our prospective initiates had fine spring weather to work in during their "Help Week" all-campus program. In addition to assisting in a traffic survey of New Orleans with pledges from other fraternities, they wielded paint brushes in an all-out cleanup of the house for the spring festivities.

ROARING TWENTIES PARTY BECOMES ANNUAL EVENT

The warm weather did dampen the spirits of several raccoon-ensconced members of our "Roaring Twenties" party, but it was such a success that we've instituted it as an annual event. The biggest laugh of the evening came when President Alex Cocke devoured a goldfish in genuine "Twenties" tradition. A picnic is next on the agenda, and that is to be followed by our formal.

DELTS IN CAMPUS SPOTLIGHT

Delts in the campus spotlight are Tony Clesi, Don Harris, and George Newburn. Tony was recently appointed to the editorship of the Wave, annual campus orientation magazine. Harris and Newburn are charter members of Tulane's Arnold Air Society and are on a two-week tour of Texas air fields; however, our greatest contribution to campus life is The Urchin, Tulane's monthly humor magazine. It is almost completely staffed by our chapter.

Beta Omicron—Cornell

COP FIRST PLACE IN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

In our last article we left you with the report of only two basketball victories that our team made early in the intramural season. We lost two games in the regular season, one to Delta Upsilon, and the other to Theta Chi, but finally defeated all the other teams to cop first place in our league. Our team, consisting of Dick Mathewson, Bill Sullivan, Larry Way, Jim Guild, Don Danly, Jim Casey, and Leighton "Ace" Burns, carried the chapter to the semifinals where we were defeated by a strong Lambda Chi Alpha team.

JUNIOR WEEK END OPENS

Junior Week End at Cornell began January 31, and Beta Omicron opened it with a bang that night. Dates had been arriving all day, and we entertained them that night with dancing and listening to Jim Casey's Dixieland Band. Several of the pledges had worked on a soapbox racer between terms to be entered in the soapbox derby on Friday. The car, named the "Delta Tau Delta Asteroid" in conformity with the theme of the week end, "3000 AD," was driven by Tom Tomfohrde. We won our heat in a close race but were disqualified on a minor point. The car served a good purpose, however, since it gave the pledges a project. Friday night we went in on a dance with Sigma Nu and Delta Upsilon. The next day, Saturday, the house attended the Cornell-Penn game, and that night we culminated the week end with a formal dinner and dance. The girls headed home the next day, leaving us many compliments for a wonderful week end. The pledge class worked for a week on the pledge formal which was held on February 23. Practically the whole class worked on the skit which turned out to be a judgment of some of the actives before a panel of devils. The boys decorated the entire house in red to conform with the theme of the dance, "Delta's Inferno." The following week, 14 pledges were initiated into the Fraternity.

EXCHANGE DINNERS HELD

Social Chairman Bill Vickroy arranged a very successful tea dance with Phi Gamma Delta for March 8. About 50 couples attended. Our two houses held an exchange dinner on the preceding Wednesday to allow the men to get a little better acquainted. We sent half of our members over to Phi Gam, and they sent half of theirs over to us. It turned out that the dinner did a lot to add to the success of the dance. We had another exchange dinner on Wednesday, March 11, as a part of Fraternity and Sorority Week at Cornell. We were host to about 30 people from Pi Kappa Alpha, Delta Upsilon, and the sorority, Alpha Phi, while one third of our men went to dinner at D.U. and another third to Pi K.A. A good discussion on the social life at Cornell followed an excellent dinner.

HELP PAINT CHAPEL

We are most proud of our participation in the painting of Beebe Chapel on March 15 which concluded Interfraternity Week. Ten Dels formed a group that painted a large part of the interior of the chapel.

Beta Pi—Northwestern

HOST AT DIVISION CONFERENCE

Under the leadership of Cochairmen Dick Kline and Jim McGinn, Beta Pi was host to several of the Northern Division chapters in a regional conference. Beside the delegates of the various chapters, we were honored to have President Martin Dickinson, RAINBOW Editor Gordon Jones, and Division President Ernie Miller at the meetings. Mutual problems of the chapters were discussed and some very profitable conclusions were reached.

FINISH SECOND IN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Beta Pi did well in I.M. basketball this year. Led by Sports Director Jim Paul, the team finished second in rugged league competition. This enabled us to get into the all-school play-offs where we lost to the powerful team which won the championship. Outstanding for the Dels during the season were Harv Wahls and Jack Tosh. The freshman basketball tournament and I.M. baseball will be underway soon and it looks as if we will repeat last year's fine performance in both events. There are many fine basketball players in the freshman class, and baseball looks especially promising with the team strong at every position.

HOUSEMOTHERS' DINNER HELD

Toward the end of last quarter a dinner was held for the housemothers of the various campus houses. Following the dinner they were treated to some light entertainment. The dinner, an annual affair, proved to be very successful and helped to build and maintain good will with the rest of the houses.

EXPECT ANOTHER WIN IN ANNUAL SING

We have started work to better last year's second-place win in the annual all-school May Sing. Under Andy Anderson's direction, a snappy rendition of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again" copped the trophy for us. Andy will direct again this year and we expect another win.

PROMINENT IN VARSITY SPORTS

Bob Christiansen and Jack Tosh are two Delts who are prominent in varsity sports. Bob won a major letter in wrestling and placed fourth in Big Ten competition. Jack made the spring trip through the south with the baseball team and was one of the three outstanding freshmen on the team.

Beta Rho—Stanford

HOUSE ELECTIONS HELD

In the house elections held last quarter, Chuck Denny was elected new president, replacing Bob Wycoff. Other new officers are Bob Barley, vice-president; Ted Tanner, recording secretary; Fritz Kunzel, corresponding secretary; Dick Andrews, rushing chairman; and Phil Hicks, intramural chairman. With the exception of Denny and Barley, all are presently sophomores.

PLEDGE TWENTY-FIVE

In last quarter's rushing, Delta Tau Delta pledged 25 freshmen, the largest number among Stanford fraternities. Among the outstanding pledges are such "names" as Basketball Phenom Ron Tomasic and Freshman Class President Fred Aurel.

RANK FIFTH SCHOLASTICALLY

Beta Rho Chapter ended up fifth on campus among the 24 fraternities in scholastic standing for winter quarter. This represents a slight drop from our third place gained in the fall, but is nevertheless an impressive position.

DELTS ATHLETICALLY PROMINENT

In athletics there is, as always, much to say about Stanford Delts. Jim Ramstead achieved numerous honors at the close of the basketball season. He was named the San Francisco Bay Area's Player of the Year, then won all-tournament honors while playing for the Oakland Engineers in the Pacific Association Tournament in San Francisco. The "Rammer" was also chosen to represent the Pacific Coast in the annual East-West All-Star game to be played in Kansas City shortly.

In baseball several Delts are prominent. Chuck Essegian is Stanford's power hitter and recently became the first man ever to hit two home runs over the fence at Stanford's Sunken Diamond in one game. Dick Cole is a regular outfielder, Don DeLong and Ken Brown are up-and-coming pitchers, while Ralph Cassidy, Terry Evans, and Bill Scheidecker are playing for the Stanford JV's.

In track, Wes Fry is high jumping 6' 1" and gives promise of going higher. George Zaninovich is experimenting in the broad jump, while Norm DeBack and John Hanna are aspiring pole vaulters. The Stanford swimming team that finished fifth in the nation in the national championships was aided by Delt Bob Frojen, while Bob Wycoff is another prominent member of that team.

Beta Tau—Nebraska

CHAPTER CLIMBS SCHOLASTICALLY

Scholastically, Beta Tau has finally climbed above the All Men's Average to rank very high unofficially among the other fraternities on campus. This was indeed a long step forward, and if the same determination persists, Beta Tau can and will reach a goal of even greater consequence this semester. To add to Beta Tau's scholarship laurels for the past semester, four men were named to the engineering honorary, Sigma Tau. They were Jack Warren, Herb Saxton, Don Crook, and Gene Lightner. Warren was also elected the vice-president of the honorary fraternity, and Saxton was chosen corresponding secretary. Guiding the activities of the photo-journalism honorary, Kappa Alpha Mu, is Duane Nielsen, their newly elected president. As well as being a photographer for many of the major campus publications, Duane, who plans to make photography his career, is invaluable in preserving all of the events and activities of the chapter.

PARENTS-ALUMNI AFFAIR HELD

On a cold Tuesday evening in February, the Shelter was warmed by over 100 parents and alumni. This was a wonderful opportunity to get better acquainted with them and to better acquaint them with us, our duties, our activities, and our aspirations. Entertainment was provided by the Delt Combo with songs by Fred Allen. The social hour was made possible by the Delta Alliance who furnished coffee, cake, and pie.

HOST CHAPTER AT DIVISION CONFERENCE

Beta Tau was very happy and proud to have been the host chapter at the Western Division Conference. The Conference was highlighted by a banquet in the Terrace Room of the Lincoln Hotel with addresses by President Martin B. Dickinson and Supervisor of Scholarship Francis M. Hughes. John Riddell, a York, Nebraska, attorney, was toastmaster. The Conference closed with a party in the ballroom of the Lincoln Hotel. The delegates and their dates danced to the music of Jack Wells and his Combo of Television Station WKY-TV, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

SISTER-DAUGHTER BANQUET PRESENTED

To close out the social events of the year, the Delt Sister and Daughter Banquet was held at the Shelter on April 27. The purpose of this gala affair was to honor all sisters and daughters of Delts who are seniors in high school or who attend college.

SHINE ATHLETICALLY

With the close of the winter sport season, letter awards in gymnastics were earned by Max Kennedy and Don Hodge, both of Beatrice, Nebraska. Max added to his achievements by qualifying for the N.C.A.A. gymnastic meet in Denver. In the spring he puts aside the trampoline and parallel bars for the pads and cleats of football spring practice. A two-sport letterman, Max was one of the outstanding defensive halfbacks for the Scarlet and Cream last fall. Don added to his gymnastic honors and the scope of Delt men in campus activities by being chosen one of next year's cheerleaders. With freshmen eligible for varsity competition this year, Brian Hendrickson proved that his high school laurels were a clear indication of his ability by lettering in indoor track. During his high school days Hendrickson was a two-year Gold Medal winner in both the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes. In the Big Seven indoor meet at Kansas City, Freshman Brian placed fifth among a field of the finest quarter-milers in the nation. With baseball season well under way, Ray "Tito" Mladovich has set his sights on a major league career as he completes his third season as a regular for the Nebraska Nine. Holding down the first sack position for the past two years, "Tito" was switched back to shortstop this year, his former high school position. The winter intramural sport season climaxed with George Paynich receiving unanimous acclaim for all-University basketball honors. Football Letterman Paynich was also named to the all-fraternity team.

REVIEW OF YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

Since this is the final issue of the RAINBOW for another school year, it might be interesting to glance back at the honors, the activities, the events that have become a part of Beta Tau in 1951-2.

A great amount of interest always revolves around athletics, and Beta Tau's interest was increased during football season by the four big "N's" which graced the chapter halls. Letter awards in track, baseball and gymnastics completed the varsity athletic honors.

In this past year, the campus activity membership lists that displayed the names of Delts were the Red Cross board, the Blue Print, an engineers' publication, the Cornhuskers yearbook, the All-University Fund Board, the debate team, and Pershing Rifles.

Beta Upsilon—Illinois

SEVEN NAMED TO HONORARIES

The Delts at Beta Upsilon Chapter are very proud of the record they have set so far this year. Seven men have been initiated into honorary fraternities. Harold Tenney, Bob Gasaway, both spring semester pledges, and John Hayes were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholastic honorary. Toastmaster at the initiation ceremony was Robert Hamilton, another Delt. Paul Bowers and Denis Keith were pledged and initiated into Scarab, national architecture honorary fraternity. Jack Williams, former vice-president, was initiated into Pi Tau Sigma, honorary mechanical engineering fraternity. Chuck Berlin became a member of Alpha Tau Alpha, the agricultural education honorary. Bill Butler, who has been very active this year in campus theatrical productions, was elected vice-president of Mask and Bauble, the campus theatrical honorary fraternity.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES IN FULL SWING

Along the social line, the Delts this year have been hard to beat. Shortly after Christmas vacation the house held its annual Winter Formal. The dance this year had a rather unique theme. The Shelter was appropriately decorated with fire-red walls and the bandstand was framed with banks of fire and dancing devils. Smoking cauldrons were placed about the room. "Ollie," our colored porter, dressed in a devil's costume, served punch and sandwiches from behind a burning bar in the library. Another item in our social calendar has been record dances held every other week end. Preparations are now in full swing for the Spring Party which consists of a formal on Friday night, picnic on Saturday afternoon, and a Sweetheart Dinner served Sunday noon. The theme of the formal will be "Delta Tomb," with the interior and exterior of the house decorated to simulate an Egyptian pyramid.

DELTS A SUCCESS IN SPRING CARNIVAL

Another Delt success was its show in the campus Spring Carnival. The theme of the show was "Not Too Legitimate," and was a take off on the legitimate stage. This year we joined forces with Kappa Delta to put on one of the best shows of the carnival.

DENNY—A NEW ADDITION

The chapter has had a new addition, "Denny," a good-looking Irish setter. Bill Meid, an alumnus now working on his Master's degree here at Illinois, gave the dog to the chapter. "Denny" is a never-ending source of amusement for the brothers.

SHELTER IS A STOPPING-OFF PLACE

The Shelter has been a "stopping-off place" for brothers of other chapters en route from all over the country. So far we've had guests from Northwestern, Purdue, Lawrence College and Miami.

TATE VOTED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Along the athletic line, Bill Tate, star fullback for Illinois, was awarded the Helm trophy for being the most valuable player in the 1952 Rose Bowl game. Bob Lenzini has made a permanent berth for himself on the track team. Bob has been throwing the discus and putting the shot.

Beta Phi—Ohio State

PREPARE FOR FOUNDERS DAY

Founders Day festivities in Columbus this spring will be bigger and brighter than at any time in the past. Conferences between officers of the Columbus Alumni Association and of Beta Phi Chapter have resulted in a schedule bound to attract many Ohio Delts. Scheduled for April 26, the date which will bring Beta Phi's initiation week to a close, present plans are to combine the Founders Day festivities and the tribute paid to Beta Phi's new actives into one big, gala affair, which will include both a banquet and a formal dance, sponsored by the Columbus Alumni Association and Beta Phi Chapter. Not to exclude anyone, all Ohio Delt chapters will be invited to attend the affair and enter into sing competition with the home chapter.

Week affairs. The Delts will enter a float in the May Week parade and hope to be as well represented in this contest as they were when they copped the homecoming decorations first-place award last fall.

ANTICIPATES BIG JOHN AS NO. 1 CANDIDATE FOR QUARTERBACK

Good news to every Beta Phi man came from John Borton, freshman line backer on the 1951 Buckeye squad. From all appearances Big John will be the number one candidate for the quarterback spot, and further, John himself is dead set on letting no one stand in his way.

Beta Chi—Brown

WELCOMES FOURTEEN FRESHMAN PLEDGES

Beta Chi is very proud of the results of the recent rushing period. The chapter feels that the new pledge class is composed of real Delt material. Rushing Chairman Dave Jackson deserves a great deal of credit for directing his rushing program so successfully. The new pledges are: Mitchell L. Smith, John R. Bosler, Arthur R. Beil, Jr., Donald P. Trepte, Lawrence M. Gleason, Allan E. Bulley, Ralph L. Lary, Gordon E. C. Fuller, Alan P. Thomson, George E. Hotton, Thomas C. McLellan, William J. Pearce, Joseph F. Granger, and John L. Roll.

LEADING IN COMPETITION FOR CUP

Beta Chi is equally proud of its winter athletic intramural achievements. Pledge Stan Orcyzk and Brother Don Cottey led the team to the college championship with an undefeated record. The track championship was copped due to the outstanding performance of Pledge Al Swanson. By winning the intramural swimming championship, also, Beta Chi is leading in the competition for the coveted Lampher Cup, which is the award given at the end of the year for intramural supremacy in team sports. With Brothers Dave Jackson, Jim Carey, and Al Boyer capturing the singles and doubles handball championship, Beta Chi also leads in the competition for the Swain Cup, which is given for superiority in individual sports.

EXPECTS TO MOVE INTO NEW SHELTER SOON

The chapter is looking forward to moving into its new Shelter in the Quadrangle next fall. A committee composed of brothers and pledges has been hard at work, in conjunction with an alumni committee, selecting furnishings for the Shelter.

TWELVE ARE GRADUATED

Twelve seniors are graduating in June, but with the new freshman class just pledged, Beta Chi looks forward optimistically to a new era of fraternity life in the Brown Quadrangle.

Beta Omega—California

OUTSTANDING PLEDGE TROPHY AWARDED

At the formal initiation on April 4, the members of Beta Omega welcomed seven new brothers into the chapter: Steve Dimmeff, Doug Burris, Bob Meyer, Grady West, Bob Weiske, and Pete Parrish. Grady West received the Knuden Memorial Trophy given to the outstanding pledge. On the evening of the initiation the chapter had a very successful Alumni Reunion, highlighted by a panel discussion led by the successful Delts in this area.

HARD-TIMES DANCE HELD

The Beta Omega Chapter had a hard-times dance in which the house was well decorated to fit the occasion. It was a costume dance and a good time was had by all. We are now planning the Spring Formal which will be held on May 10. It is expected to be the top dance of the year.

ACTIVE IN ATHLETICS

The chapter remains in top contention for winning the fraternity intramural trophy. Our teams are still battling it out in basketball, volleyball, track, and baseball, not to mention several minor sports. Two of the brothers, Larry Lippincott and Kent Stainfield, are top men in their events on the University of California varsity track team. Larry is the leading hurdler, while Kent takes top honors in the broad jump.

Gamma Beta—Illinois Tech

TEN NEW MEN ON CHAPTER ROLL

Last March 9 marked the beginning of Delt life for ten men at Illinois Tech. "Chet" Keyser was voted the most outstanding pledge by the active chapter.

PARTIES HIGHLIGHT SOCIAL CALENDAR

As always, Delt parties will be the high lights of the social calendar at Tech. Bud Schutt, social chairman for the spring semester, has laid plans for three promising parties. An informal dance at the Shelter on April 19 will feature an eight-piece band. The informality and coziness of a hayride to be held May 17 will be a welcome relief from the social whirl connected with Illinois Tech's annual Junior Week Open House celebration. The semester will be closed by a beach party on May 31, providing the weather is favorable.

FOOTBALL TEAM HOPES TO REMAIN UNDEFEATED

The basketball season has just closed with the Delt team taking second place in the twelve-team Inter-Fraternity League. IF football will soon be resumed after being discontinued last fall because of adverse weather conditions. The team has yet to be defeated this season, and from the looks of the practice sessions, it will remain undefeated. The ping-pong team currently has accumulated a record of three wins and one loss with one more game on the regular schedule, and is eagerly awaiting the play-offs. With the baseball season just around the corner, Coach Joe Schwebel is whipping his softballers into shape, anticipating a rugged campaign. After several weeks of fruitless search "Chet" Keyser, swim coach, has finally found a practice pool for his squad and has begun rigorous workouts.

HOPE TO WIN SING CUP

The annual Junior Week Open House is drawing near and the Shelter is beginning to buzz with preparation. The Inter-Fraternity Sing has been carried off by the Delts four out of the past five years. Having won the new Sing Cup last year, we are looking forward to winning it a second time this year under the able direction of Glen Brown and Bob McWhorter. Ernie Bratlie is the chairman of the IF Sing committee this year. Among other JWOH activities, preparation for the pageant and house decoration are well under way.

DELTS IN CAMPUS LIMELIGHT

Delts as usual are in the campus limelight. Bob "Ich" Zekes, star Delt forward, started for the IF's in the annual All-Star IF-IM game sponsored by Technology News, the student newspaper. Four Delts, Jim Knight, Matt Merfeld, Jim Salapatras, and Wayne Hamilton played four of the ten parts in the latest Campus Players production, "See How They Run." Wayne Hamilton, JWOH chairman, and Gus Wingate were honored by being nominated for the annual Man of the Year election.

Gamma Gamma—Dartmouth

MONOPOLIZE INTERFRATERNITY SPECIAL EVENTS

So far this year the Delts seem to have a monopoly on interfraternity special events at Dartmouth. Winter Carnival brought on the first contest in this field, and Gamma Gamma barely missed first place to take second honors. Portraying a huge clown welcoming visitors to the Delt house, "Carnifool" was designed and ingeniously engineered by George Passano and Clyde Smith.

Next on the agenda, the Delt portrayal of "Death of a Salesman" not only ran off with the first prize in the play competition but exceeded the efforts of all previous years. Dave Replogle, who directed the production as well as played the lead role, received the award for the best acting job, and Bill Ford won honorable mention. With an eye on the cup for special events, Gamma Gamma is now eagerly preparing for the hum competition—the last of the three big events in this field.

SHINE IN INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

In intramural athletics, the Delts have likewise not been lacking in notoriety this winter. Bulwarked by the superior skating and stick-handling of John Rice, Pete and Dave Stanley, and Pete VosBurgh, our practically all-star hockey team ended up in second place, losing only in the finals. In track, largely due to the talents of Speedster Monk Robinson, the Delts copped first-place honors. As yet undefeated in squash, Warren Babcock, Honas Wagner, and Tommy Harrington provide an encouraging prospect for the future, and a strong volleyball team led by Lee Coulter, Tom Wilson, and Dick

MANY IN VARSITY SPORTS

This spring finds several Delts outstanding in varsity sports. Chuck Luker finished a successful swimming season by being elected captain of next year's team, and long-legged Nels Ehinger is pointed toward the Olympic high jump tryouts with first places in both the ICAAAA and the Eastern Heptagonals. On the lacrosse field, Don Bigham and Willy White have been seeing action, and Bill Mansfield will be holding down an outfielder post for the baseball team. Once again this spring Don Wheatley forms the backbone of the rugby team by filling both the important positions of student coach and scrum half, and John Rice is also playing in the backfield. As per usual, the crew roster includes several Delt names. George Davies, Howdy Russell, Beaver Nash, and Ted McKown will be rowing on the varsity with Tom Hartshorn as coxswain and Duke MacArthur as coach.

Gamma Delta—West Virginia

ALUMNI PAPER PREPARED

The alumni committee of Gamma Delta has been working on an alumni paper, which will be sent out in early May to all the alumni of Gamma Delta. The first issue of this paper will be composed of short feature stories of the activities and achievements of Gamma Delta.

POPULAR FOOTBALL CONTEST HELD

Warm weather, which has finally come to Morgantown, is reminiscent of the "Mud Bowl" football game, held annually on the Gamma Delta back lawn. The past glorious victors were the actives who plunged over six touchdowns and a total of 48 points to shut out the pledges. The contest is quite popular on the campus and many members of various fraternities and sororities came to enjoy it. Afterwards, there was a party for all where the game was played over in conversations many more times.

SPRING—IT'S CIRCUS TIME

Also, in the spring, it's circus and carnival time, and at the Delta Shelter a "Carnival Party" was held. The house was decorated in carnival fashion with characteristic carnival acts and side shows. Now, there is really something spring means besides examination time and graduation; that is the Gamma Delta Spring Formal. A banquet preceding the dance began the occasion in a "full" manner, and on the following day a picnic completed the week end, which was quite enjoyable.

GAINING PRESTIGE ON CAMPUS

There have been numerous more serious accomplishments of which Gamma Delta can proudly speak. Gamma Delta has gained quite a bit of prestige on the campus. Through more efforts of taking part in activities and winning athletic contests and other events, Delta Tau Delta at West Virginia University is more in the position it should be—one of the top fraternities of the University.

WELCOME TO GAMMA DELTA!

One last word, but definitely not least, is that we all would like to extend a cordial invitation to any member or friend of Delta Tau Delta to visit us. We will accommodate and provide for you all to the best of our abilities. We sincerely want you all to visit us.

Gamma Zeta—Wesleyan

RECOGNITION IN HONOR ROLL AND HONOR SOCIETIES

Brothers George Maltese, Jim Plimpton, Fred Wandall, and Russ Eggers gave a valuable boost to Gamma Zeta's scholastic standing on campus for the past semester. Their efforts for the year rated them Group I honor roll standings, representing over-all averages above ninety. Jim Plimpton is also a member of the Rosa Club, an honorary physics society. Russ Eggers and Chas Hoyt brought further recognition to the chapter in being elected to the Mystical Seven, Wesleyan's senior honorary society. The society is the oldest on campus and is composed of seven men who have shown outstanding merit in scholastic and extracurricular activity.

REPRESENTATION IN ALL SPRING SPORTS

Gamma Zeta was well represented, as usual, in the starting berths of all spring sports. Key positions on the starting varsity baseball squad were held down by Delts. Jim Hopkins, chapter vice-president, competently manned second base, while Bill Roche, a starter on last year's team, again proved to be consistent in bolstering the team's success with his brilliant performance both in the outfield and at the plate. Chapter prexy, Russ Eggers, recognized as the top athlete on campus, produced in the pitching slot to become the season's hurling sensation. Bill MacLear was a new addition to the varsity netsters this year, proving his merit against strong competition. George McIver captained the cindermen to a successful season, supported by Dick McMahon who starred in both the low and high hurdles, Bob Brown running the 440, and Carter Hearn, top-miler for the team. In freshman sports, Dave Rich maintained a berth on the tennis team, while Dick Burrage turned in an enviable pitching record on the frosh nine.

DINING ROOM RENOVATED

The chapter recently showed a fine spirit of co-operation and initiative as all brothers contributed funds for a complete dining room renovation. With Steward Bill MacLear in charge, aided by Pete Cheney, Pete Linton, and Bob Moore, the room underwent a real face lifting, entailing refinished floors, installation of new lighting facilities, and impressive wall redecoration. The men contributed their spring vacation to the project and their work was greatly appreciated by the entire house.

PARTY WEEK END A SUCCESS

The social committee, under the direction of Dick Fischer, planned a well-remembered program for the annual Prom party week end, which featured Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra. The brothers and their dates turned out in Lil' Abner and Daisy Mae regalia for a hillbilly party the evening before the prom, at which time Milly Wallace, Fred Trevithick's date, was elected Delt Queen. Don Porter and Joan McAlpine, attired in a potato sack, were chosen as the best-costumed couple. Also in the party spirit, Chas Hoyt's High Street Five Dixieland band has extended its reputation beyond the campus in its recent party-week-end engagements at Yale, Williams, R. P. I., and Connecticut College.

FIRE PROTECTION GUARANTEED THE SHELTER

The newly organized campus volunteer fire department elected Sophomore Lee Olsen as its captain. The squad has received faculty acclaim and has recently purchased its own fire truck. Gamma Zeta has experienced a year of enjoyable activity and achievement, and is anticipating a very successful rushing program in the fall.

Gamma Eta—George Washington

CLAIMS ALL-U ATHLETIC TROPHY

Gamma Eta has accumulated enough points in the I-M contests to claim the All-University Athletic Trophy. We're just waiting for time to pass before adding it to the shelf. This feat exceeds the normal, however, in view of the fact that it is the second successive year that Gamma Eta became the All-U Champs. Available records show that this is a new record in I-M activities. Similarly, it is a fair wager that our Brother Sandy Schlemmer, last year's All-U I-M Champ, is to repeat the same honor this year. Gamma Eta, as the Champ, has taken individual top honors in many sports. First-place personal honors go to the following: boxing, McNulty, Turpin, Schlemmer, Fox, and Warder; wrestling, Yuill, Jones, Howard, Fox, Schlemmer, and Burford; basketball, Schlemmer, Clark, Warder, Miller, Howard, and Evans. Swimming was covered in the report for last quarter. But outstanding personal honors go to Brothers Clark and Schlemmer, whose names are deeply engraved in the annals of GWU intramural sports already. Both were chosen as first-stringers on the GWU I-M all-star basketball team, which means that DTD copped two of the five places, a thing which no other fraternity achieved. Dels on the GWU varsities are: Eddie Beale, star of the tennis team; Jim Merrow, skipper of the sailing team; and Pledge Jim Pfaging, starting with the gridders.

NOT ALL BRAWN—BRAINS, TOO!

All brawn and no brains, you ask? Brother, if you think that, YOU'RE WRONG! Gamma Eta ranks third scholastically out of 16 fraternities on campus. That represents a climb of eleven places from last year. Topping the local scholars this semester was Tom Farley, who made 18 hours of "A" in his physics major; yes, that's right! Other "above-averagers" include Brothers Wilson, Merrow, Warder, as undergrads; in the law school are Brothers Sabol and Boone, both of whom are carrying mighty fine averages there. Sabol is also holder of a coveted Tau Beta Pi key for his undergraduate work.

ACTIVE IN EXTRACURRICULARS

The brothers also occupy vital spots in extracurricular activities. Gene Fox is an officer of the newly formed GWU AFROTC Squadron; Chapter President George Dowd and Brother Frank Burford are members of the "Gate and Key Society," an honorary recognizing outstanding fraternity men. Brother Joe Goodwin is a member of the Student Council as the Comptroller. Wilson Rook is vice-president of Alpha Phi Omega, the BSA national service fraternity; and Fred Warder is now holding down the job of president of the sophomore class, while directing the Soph-Follies also. Photographer for the annual, The Cherry Tree, and the weekly, The Hatchet, is Brother Jim Awtry.

Gamma Theta—Baker

ELECTION OF OFFICERS STARTS SEASON

Gamma Theta started the second semester off with the election of its new officers. George Schrader was chosen as president, Kenneth Head as vice-president, Bill O'Byrne as treasurer, Cecil Miller as recording secretary, and John Lewis as corresponding secretary.

INITIATE TWELVE

On February 17, the initiation of 12 men was held in the chapter house. Preceding the ceremony was a banquet at which Dr. H. K. Ebright, TΘ, '00, was guest of honor and speaker. Two initiates were honored at the banquet—Ronald Sundbye was chosen as the outstanding pledge and Larry Haskin was rewarded for having the highest scholastic average. The chapter paid his initiation fee.

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

The Delt basketball teams upheld our honor this year and brought us a championship. The "B" team, composed of Joe Emery, Jim Parke, Cecil Miller, Bob O'Byrne, Bob Toole, and Ron Ebberts, came through the season undefeated and was awarded the championship trophy. The "A" team lost two games by a one-point margin to finish in second place. These two fine showings mark the Dels as strong contenders for the all-sports trophy to be given at the end of the year.

RANDY KIENE VOTED CAMPUS CLOWN

One of the most recent honors to be received by a Delt is that of Campus Clown. Randy Kiene was voted the honor by the student body. The election was held as a part of Baker's Community Chest Campaign, which had George Schrader as head.

REPRESENTED IN TRACK

With the arrival of track, Baker's varsity squad was bolstered, in addition to the returning of John Lewis, high and low hurdler, by Stan Caywood, a 12-foot vaulter from Santa Ana Junior College. The Dels are also represented by two other new men on the squad—Randy Kiene, who runs the 100, 220, and 440, and Bob O'Byrne, 440 and 880.

PLANS MADE FOR ORCHID BALL

The social season will come to a climax with the arrival of the spring formal, the annual Orchid Ball. The plans include the selection of a Delt Queen, and, according to Joe Emery, social chairman, this Orchid Ball should be one of the best.

Gamma Iota—Texas

WINS SIX PLEDGES

Gamma Iota emerged victorious from a hard-fought midterm rush campaign with six shining new pledges. They are Jimmy Byrd, Roland Dahlin, Wayne Dear, Jack Little, David Pfeiffer, and Bob Rasmussen. Pledging later was Tom Eubanks, and returning after illness was Pledge Bill Marr. The pledge class elected Roland Dahlin, president; Wayne Dear, secretary; and Bill Marr, social chairman.

ACTIVE IN INTRAMURALS

In intramural basketball, Dels had three strong teams, one of which reached semifinal play, and included among its members all-intramural Players Ballard Bennett and Cruger Ragland. In intramural softball, two strong teams represent the chapter. In water polo, under team Captain Carlos Walker, Gamma Iota is assured of University championship, the second in two years. In the last game, played against the second-rated team, the Delts emerged victorious though lacking three members because of illness. From intramural volleyball squads a team was chosen to represent the University against conference teams. The team which is undefeated includes Delts Curtis Roberts, Bill Penn, and Bob Jackson.

PLAY ON BASEBALL VARSITY

On the orange and white varsity baseball team are Delts Paul Mohr, first base; Travis Eckert, left field; and Conrad Werkenthin, catcher. Helping the University swimming team to its victories were Breast Stroker Fonsie Ragland, and Diver Bobby Brodnax. Brodnax went to the NCAA swim meet and is a candidate for all-American honors.

SHINE IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Upholding its position of leadership on the campus, Gamma Iota has had several men recently elected to University-sponsored organizations. For outstanding campus leadership and service Claiborne Bell was elected to Silver Spurs and Bill Bonham and Fonsie Ragland to Cowboys. Chosen to Chancellors, highest honorary law society, was Bob German. Elected to Phi Delta Phi, honorary law fraternity, were Bill Bonham, Tom Eubank, Dewey Gonsoulin, and Ballard Bennett. George Nowotny was recently elected historian of Phi Eta Sigma, honorary freshman scholastic fraternity.

BIDS FOR THIRD PARADE TROPHY

Round-Up makes April a festive month at Texas. This year Delta Tau Delta was one of two fraternities selected to entertain sweethearts from visiting southwest schools. The chapter is making its bid for its third Round-Up parade trophy with a gayly-colored two-decker street car, built under the direction of Tony McGee.

Gamma Kappa—Missouri

ROTATING SCHOLARSHIP TROPHY ESTABLISHED

March 28 came and went, and so did most of the men in the house. The reason for this mass evacuation was the Founders Day banquets held simultaneously at Kansas City and St. Louis. At Kansas City, Gamma Kappa, as the reward of feverish days of preparation, walked away with the trophy for the best skit among the chapters present. The St. Louis banquet marked the establishment of a rotating scholarship trophy, to be retired by the chapter winning the cup for two of five years.

SCHOLARSHIP SURGES UPWARD

If the upsurge in scholarship shown last semester continues as it has to date, Gamma Kappa may become a serious contender for still another trophy. Because the spirit of competition is essential to good performance, a contest between the Delts and Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority is being considered. If inaugurated, the contest will be based on scholastic improvement.

NEW PLEDGE IS FOOTBALL TACKLE

Jerry Forbes, rush chairman, launched a second semester rushing program that resulted in the pledging of three "top men": Bob Bauman, St. Genevieve; Charlie Bull, Maplewood; and Guy Rose, Cuba, Missouri. All three are freshmen and lettermen in varsity football. These three, along with Walker Hutchison, a sophomore veteran who played first-string defensive tackle last fall, should provide plenty of Delt representation on next year's University of Missouri football squad.

WIN SECOND IN INTRAMURALS

In intramurals, the Delt varsity gathered up enough steam to roll to a division volleyball championship, but bowed before last year's champions in the final game to emerge with second place in the fraternity league. Now that softball days are beginning to appear with regularity, the Delts are planning to continue their "winning ways."

Gamma Mu—Washington

DELTS OUTSTANDING IN ACTIVITIES

First on the agenda this spring will be a rousing election campaign for Dom Driano who will be running for the junior class presidency. Dom has been an outstanding activities man on the Washington campus for nearly two years now and has an excellent chance of winning the position.

With All-American Oarsman Ken Walters having graduated and gone into the Navy Air Corps, the Delts will be sending Sophomores Al West and Jerry Bond out for a seat in either the jayvee or varsity crew. The interest in crew here at Washington is high because of the coming Olympic tryouts. Freshmen who are turning out for crew are Hal Henkel, Dick Greene, Wilson Arnold, and Coxswain Bill Staples.

In baseball, Bruce Crandall, a freshman and former all-state center fielder from Olympia, has an excellent chance of getting at least a jayvee letter. Freshman Hal Olson and Ken Erickson are also turning out for the infield. In track, Letterman Rod Vanderhoof will be running the half mile and Sophomore Bob Friars will be skimming the hurdles. One more Delt who will be going out for athletics this spring is Jerry Windham, who plays tennis.

SCHOLARSHIP EXPECTED TO RISE

Morale is at a new high around the Delt house now because of the high grade points turned in during the last two quarters. The entire house has averaged over 2.7, and if this tendency keeps up for one more quarter, the Delts should be rated pretty close to the top among Washington fraternities. Outstanding in scholarship among the pledges was Harold Henkel, who received a 3.94 grade average for fall quarter.

Gamma Xi—Cincinnati

OIL TYCOON PRESIDES

In their few short weeks of office, newly elected President Jim Micheau and "Veep" Bud Kohr have been doing a magnificent job in spearheading Gamma Xi to very successful heights. How Jim, besides going to school and doing such a bang-up job for the Fraternity, finds time to sell oil on the side is a great mystery. At any rate, we're the only outfit on campus with a rich oil tycoon for president. The only trouble is that his little business venture has been so profitable that half the dear brothers want to work for him and cash in on the "greasy monopoly," better known as "Micheau's Menace."

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN ORDER

Congratulations are due to Glenn Cullen, former Commodore of the UC Sailing Club, who added to his list of achievements by being named as a Distinguished Military Student, and who was also tapped by Metro, men's honorary. Richard "Weepy" Delong, for years a leading military figure on campus, was also chosen as a Distinguished Military Student. Fleet-footed Paul Geisen, UC's outstanding track star, was named captain for the coming season.

WIN SECOND INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Maybe "old McDonald had a farm," but our "Wild Bill" McDonald sure has a basketball team. For the second straight year in a row, Captain Bill has led his team of all-stars to the Intramural Championship.

CHAPTER GOES ALL OUT IN CAMPAIGN FOR KAMPUS KING

The good brothers went hog wild in backing their "Mr. X" candidate, who in reality was Vince Papitto, for Kampus King. Ten black-robed, masked pallbearers gave out a weird chant as they paraded their unknown candidate around campus in a coffin. Meanwhile other mysterious men blasted sorority row with a public address system and Pledges Dave Kaiser and Bob Muller played a piano which was hanging high in a tree in front of the Shelter. Dick Pardinia and Don DeVaux, looking more like members of the Mothers' Club than brothers, enchanted everyone with their exotic charms as they masqueraded as fair young maidens.

INITIATION BANQUET HELD

For the first time in years the initiation banquet was held at the Shelter at which time 18 initiates were honored. High spots of the program were the entertaining remarks and comments of Guest Speaker John Bullock, Delta Epsilon, '28, and Toastmaster Clifford Mueller, Gamma Xi, '38.

Gamma Omicron—Syracuse

IN THE CHAPTER

Chapter elections, held early in March, put some of the best men in office. Syd Walker, a forestry junior, became gavel holder; Ray Wiseman, our star football player, is the new Veep; Chuck Williams, another forester, took over the exchequer; Gordon Bradbury, a future teacher, is now recording secretary; Johnny Diaz, an engineer, replaces Jack Duddy as chapter guide; Bill Daily, an industrial designer, assumes the duties as sergeant at arms.

ON CAMPUS

Spring found the Syracuse Delts high in campus activities. Ray Wiseman, an outstanding performer on last season's football squad, was named cochairman of the Block "S" Banquet held on March 30. This banquet, honoring the athletes of Syracuse University, is one of the high lights of the spring semester. The affair, attended by the chapter in a body, was a tremendous success as witnessed by a sellout attendance. Through the untiring efforts of Ray, coeds were allowed to attend for the first time in the history of the Block "S." In politics, Jack Hennessey, a newly initiated brother, was elected president of the sophomore class, the successful candidate of Dave Leone's USP machine.

SOCIAL WHIRL

Socially the semester has been an active one. The "Deltarado," our annual western dance, turned the Shelter into an old-time western saloon with swinging doors and all that goes with it—except the drinks. Our spirits at the affair could not be dampened, even with the appearance of many water pistols which subjected everyone in attendance to a liberal soaking. Replicas of western "wanted" notices were sent to the dates of all the chapter members and provided a new and novel twist. The large murals for the interior decoration were aptly painted by "Artist" Spider Alderisio. Spring Week End saw us attending the Strawberry Breakfast, entering a float that again awed the campus, and letting spirits fly at Ernie Deming's annual clambake.

Gamma Pi—Iowa State

WINS ONE OF FOUR TOP AWARDS

Gamma Pi walked off with one of the four top awards for its All-Campus Varieties skit this year. The skit was a musical, with a Russian college background. It was selected from over 20 other campus productions. Jack Coulson and Dean Karns were instrumental in putting Delt talents to work and adding another trophy to our fast-growing collection.

INITIATED INTO TWO HONORARIES

Jack Faulkner was initiated into two honoraries during winter quarter. He was made a member of Knights of St. Patrick and Tau Beta Pi. Charles Oppedahl was initiated into Pi Tau Sigma. Ted Marston was named Agricultural Council representative from the department of horticulture. This gives the Delts two voices in the Ag. Council here.

LARSON NAMED ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Ron Larson, wrestling in the 155-pound division, won his first major I this season, and was named Athlete of the Week. Spring practice is claiming several other Delts. Bill Byrus, defensive tackle, has begun his spring practice. Dave Swanson is spending his time getting in shape for the first tournament of the varsity tennis season.

DELTS BUSY PLANNING FOR GREEK WEEK

Delts are busy with plans for "Greek Week," an all-fraternity help week being held for the first time at Iowa State. Our quartet, composed of Bob Samuelson, Dean Karns, Tom Faul, and Duane Hauser, has entertained several times at the state hospital at Woodward, in connection with the program.

FABULOUS PRODUCTIONS PLANNED

Plans are forging ahead for our annual "Lucky Pierre's" French costume party. Bob Samuelson is head man for this event, which in the past has proved to be a fabulous production. The whole Shelter is turned into a bit of the Paris Left Bank for the evening. Veishea, Iowa State College's annual student-managed spectacle, is claiming the time of a number of Delts. Bob Ruby is traffic chairman, Wayne Burger is with the personnel committee. Others are active in the horse show, publicity work, the opening ceremonies and divisional and departmental open houses. Then there is the Delt float for the parade to plan and build. Charles Oppedahl is heading the house float committee.

Gamma Rho—Oregon

DELTS FIELDING STRONG INTRAMURAL TEAMS

Spring term has arrived at Oregon along with the usual flood of extracurricular activities. The Delts are fielding strong intramural teams in softball, tennis, and golf. The basketball team completed a tough schedule of games with only one loss to take second place. Two men on the squad, Captain Darrel Hawes and Don Hull, made the all-star intramural team which dropped a close one to the Oregon J. V.'s in the season's finale.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR VAUDEVILLE CONTEST

The spring house dance will take place on April 26 and will be a costume affair. For a theme, the Shelter will be changed into a speak-easy of the roaring twenties. Meanwhile, preparations are being made for a vaudeville skit contest held on Duck Preview week end, when high school seniors from all over the state are invited to spend the week end on campus at various living organizations of their choice. So far, about 15 guests have acknowledged Delt invitations. The campus sing contest, with Gamma Rho giving a rendition of "Summertime," and a float contest for Junior Week End, will round out the formal social calendar for the year. Many informal and spontaneous picnics and river parties have already taken place as the annual exodus to the Willamette and MacKenzie river banks is well under way.

THREE ATTEND DIVISION CONFERENCE

Three delegates were sent to the Western Division Regional Conference, February 29-March 1, held at the U.C.L.A. chapter in Westwood. Head delegate, Don Miller, brought back many useful ideas and criticisms in his report on the chapter. The U.C.L.A. Delts proved to be fine hosts, staging a party and providing dates for all the delegates.

NEARLY ONE HUNDRED AT FOUNDERS DAY CELEBRATION

The Portland Founders Day banquet took place March 8 as alumni and actives from the Oregon and Oregon State chapters met. Nearly 100 Delts were present to make it the best turnout so far for this function.

ACTIVES KNUCKLE DOWN TO SCHOLARSHIP

Winter term saw the actives knuckle down to their studies with the result that they came from below to above the men's fraternity average. The advance from fall term's 2.2 to winter term's 2.4 is still under the all-University average of 2.5 and indicates that more improvement is in order.

Pittsburgh's debate team, coached by Delt FRANKLIN BLACKSTONE (center), boasts two Delts, BILL MCKINLEY and DAN PURDY (left of panther).

Gamma Sigma—Pittsburgh

HOLD FOUNDERS DAY BANQUET

March 7, Gamma Sigma had the honor of entertaining our Fraternity's President, Martin B. Dickinson, and Eastern Division President, Forrest H. Witmeyer, at the annual Founders Day banquet in the Webster Hall Hotel here in Pittsburgh. Brother Dickinson gave a very inspiring talk after the dinner.

CELEBRATE GREEK WEEK

March 31-April 5, the University of Pittsburgh celebrated its first "Greek Week" to foster better IF and sorority relations. Gamma Sigma walked off with the first-place award for the Interfraternity Sing Contest which was held as a part of this year's "Greek Week." The Sing was held at the local YMCA with 13 fraternities and 12 sororities participating. The Week's functions were in the hands of Brothers William McKinley, Greek Week chairman, and Joseph Edmundson, prexy of IF Council. The Week was a great success, climaxed by an IF round-table discussion, at which the Delts had the best representation.

HELP PITT WIN SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIP

The University of Pittsburgh won the Eastern Collegiate Swimming Championship for the first time in 12 years, but not without the help of five Deltas: Bill Corr, Fred O'Nions, Jim Palmer, Chuck Floyd and Garry Greer. Bill Corr is the University's stellar 100-yard dash man, and anchored his team that won the ECSA first-place award in the 400-yard relay event. Not only do we swim, but two of the four men representing Pitt in the field of debate, and the director of the team, are of Gamma Sigma. Franklin Blackstone, alumnus of Gamma Sigma and winner of the ODK award, coaches the team, while Bill McKinley and Dan Purdy comprise the undergraduate faction.

PREPARE FOR CARNIVAL TIME

Carnival time has once again come to Pitt, and Gamma Sigma has pitched in once more to help make the merry carnival season the greatest yet. Highlighting "Carnival Row" will be the canvas of the Deltas and their sorority cohort, Delta Zeta, sporting the colorful sign, "Behind the Seven Hills." The theme of this year's carnival extravaganza is one of "Old Rome." Not only did the Deltas take first place in the IF Sing, but the DZ's took first-place laurels in the sorority competition—great publicity for a wonderful show!

Gamma Tau—Kansas

GAMMA TAUS GIVE BLOOD

The Kansas Deltas highlighted their spring achievements by a mass blood donation at the Kansas City Red Cross. Turning out 100 per cent strong, the men from our chapter, together with the Deltas from schools in surrounding areas, and alumni mobbed the Red Cross office from 2:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m. on Friday, March 27, in an effort to do their part for the present war situation. The idea, which was originated by our president, Tom White, and Alumnus Monk Tainter, who is executive director of Kansas City Red Cross, went over tremendously, and the Red Cross, which was more than grateful for our efforts, repeatedly voiced its amazement of our spirit. The donors were treated with refreshments by the Red Cross, and then the entire group, active members and alumni alike, went to the Wishbone to celebrate the Founders Day banquet.

HILL VOLLEYBALL CHAMPS

The Gamma Taus once again showed their intramural power by running away with the Hill volleyball championship. Losing once during the regular season, the team came back in the play-offs to avenge its defeat and then sweep through the remaining field for the highly honored trophy. Now the scene turns to baseball, and the boys can be found out on the practice field every night as we eye our second consecutive championship. Most of last year's squad members are back and a bright future is predicted. The golf, badminton, and horseshoe teams also swing into action soon as the Gamma Taus seek to add to the year's intramural trophies.

PARTIES AT GAMMA TAU

On the social scene we are in the midst of preparation for our big Spring Formal. The dance will be held on May 10, and the music will be provided by Louie Kinman. If the winter formal was any indication, this should be the biggest and best Delt party of the year. Our last party, on April 4, was a costume affair where everyone came dressed as his favorite song title. Although it was a new idea, the party and the costumes were tremendously successful. An annual party of this type has now been suggested. In connection with the social front, we are also very happy to announce the recent marriage of Clark Grimm and Gary Davis, the engagement of Keith Hartell, and the pinning of John Cox, Don Muir, and Ray Hessling.

Gamma Upsilon—Miami

CHAPTER CLAIMS TWENTY-NINE PLEDGES

With spring rushing officially over at Miami, Gamma Upsilon once more proudly claims 29 of the best men in the freshman class. This pledge class is one of the most well balanced the chapter has had in several years, with athletes, scholars, and "party boys" all mixed into a great Delt clan.

ADDS TO ATHLETIC VARSITIES

Gamma Upsilon's recent additions have added Delt to the pitching and catching staff of the varsity baseball team, and next fall's gridiron will be sparkling with new Delt talent as well as with old standbys like Jimmy Root at quarterback, Carm Cozza at halfback, Paul "The Toe" Sauter booting extras, and Chuck Harrison on the forward wall.

SHELTER GETS FACE LIFTING

Now that spring is officially here, Gamma Upsilon has undertaken a large-scale face lifting campaign. New leather easy chairs were purchased for the living room along with a most comfortable leather eight-foot couch. A new electric potato peeler and a new twin-oven stove now make the chapter's meals easier to prepare. The exterior of the Shelter is also getting a working over. A new-type shingle roof is nearly a finished job. This addition will keep some of the "front-dorm sleepers" a bit more dry during the coming Oxford monsoon season.

DELTS JOIN IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Returning to Miami and Gamma Upsilon after a year with the Marines is Hank Ciesicki, full of landscaping ideas for the front terrace. With the addition of Hank's juniper trees our "new look" will be complete. In a recent chapter election, Gridman Carm Cozza was chosen as our outstanding man of the year, and his picture will grace Miami's yearbook, the Recensio, for claiming this honor. This selection usually goes to a senior man, but Carm, a junior, is one of those "few" who make every year outstanding for himself and the chapter. Dave Davis, owner of almost every honorary key offered here on campus, has been selected to represent Gamma Upsilon in a forthcoming mock Democratic convention led by ex-Price Stabilizer Michael DiSalle. This will be an amusing job for Dave as he is at present the president of the Young Republican Club of Miami. Song Leader Keith "Pinky" Weber is now running the chapter through bi-weekly song practices in preparation for the annual Interfraternity Sing on Mother's Day in May. This year, under Pinky's able direction, Gamma Upsilon is sure to rank on top with the singing of "You'll Never Walk Alone."

"TAKE TO THE AIR"

"Take to the air!" seems to be the cry around the Shelter lately with Dave Clipper and Ozzie Fay about ready to make their solo flights in Piper cubs. On a smaller scale, but just as fascinating, Tom "Wilbur Wright" Olsen and Jack "Orville Wright" Lawrence are daily tinkering with gas models of the big planes. The tiny roar of those little engines has put several of us asleep at night.

Gamma Chi—Kansas State

MAY WILL BE BUSY

The month of May promises to be a busy one for the Deltas at K-State. First on the schedule will be the participation in the Interfraternity Sing on May 1. The following week we will hold our annual barbecue, which is always the party of the year, and this year will be no exception. The spring dinner-dance will climax the May events and will be held in the new ballroom of the Wareham Hotel in Manhattan.

Miami's new pledges give first Delt smile for the cameraman.

CHAPTER RACES FOR INTRAMURAL TROPHY

Although we are still second by a small margin in the race for the intramural trophy, we hope to pick up the necessary points in the two remaining events, softball and track. Our softball team, still undefeated, is looking great. Brother Thane Baker is currently leading K-State trackmen in total points earned and was undefeated in indoor competition in both the 60-yard and 440-yard dashes. In the Colorado Relays, he ran the 60-yard dash in 6.1 seconds to equal the world's record in that event.

SEVERAL ATTEND FOUNDERS DAY BANQUET

Several Gamma Chis journeyed to Kansas City on March 28 to attend the Founders Day banquet of the Kansas City Alumni Chapter. They enjoyed a fine dinner and several skits presented by neighboring chapters. Mr. John Nichols, President of the Western Division, was the main speaker for the evening.

NINE NEOPHYTES INITIATED

On Sunday, April 6, nine Delts were initiated into Gamma Chi. They are: Douglas Heath, James Limes, Ron Grittmann, George Hoover, Edward Gillette, Donald Ayers, Price Gentry, Eldon Moore and O. S. Gossard. Following the ceremony, the entire chapter enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner.

Gamma Psi—Georgia Tech

CROWN QUEEN AT RAINBOW BALL

The most outstanding social event of the past three months was Gamma Psi's annual Rainbow Ball, which took place March 7. The high light of the evening was the crowning of the chapter's new queen, Miss Joyce Brown.

Another feature was the presentation of the Dean Tate Scholarship Award to Dan Springer. The award is presented annually to the pledge with the highest point average for the preceding quarter.

The week-end program included an informal get-together at Groover's Lake, outside Atlanta. Delts moved out of the Shelter to make way for girls from out of town who were guests for the week end.

OUTSTANDING PLEDGE HONORED

On January 22 twelve new men were initiated into Gamma Psi Chapter. High light of the banquet which followed the initiation was the presentation of the annual Mother Wilson Outstanding Pledge Award. Our housemother, Mrs. Jane Wilson, presented the honor to Luther Cowan.

NEW OFFICERS TAKE OVER

An event looked forward to every year is the election and installation of new officers for the coming year. Guiding future destinies of Gamma Psi are the following: Dean Davidson, president; Tommy Alnutt, vice-president; Bob

Attending the Founders Day banquet at Oklahoma are JOHN W. NICHOLS, Western Division President, MARTIN B. DICKINSON, President of the Fraternity, and PAUL H. MINDEMAN, president of the chapter.

Heard, recording secretary; Bert Astrup, corresponding secretary; Russ Leverette, guide; and Tommy Severinghaus, sergeant at arms.

Delta Alpha—Oklahoma

EXPANSION SLATED

When Delta Alpha received three lots from the University last year, we began to hope for an addition to the house. This spring that hope becomes a reality.

Thanks to our resourceful and cooperative alumni, construction of a $64,000 addition will begin in May.

TWO TROPHIES GARNERED

The championship in ping-pong doubles was taken by A. T. Stair and Lloyd Waner as they gave the Alpha Tau Omegas a demonstration in teamwork.

Boxing proved to be a field of major endeavor when four Delts took first place in four weights and second place in two weights. Thanks to these men, another trophy has been added to the house shelves. First-place winners were: Bob Rhyne, Bus Bates, Jim Edwards, and Clyde Bynum. Taking second place were Latimer Chastain and Jerry Sullivan.

FOUNDERS DAY BANQUET

The Thirtieth Anniversary of Delta Tau Delta at Oklahoma University was commemorated February 23 with a Founders Day Banquet in Norman. More than 100 members, pledges, and alumni attended. For the men who have worked and lived in Delta Tau Delta, the commemoration was one of the most memorable occasions in the history of the two chapters.

We were greatly honored to have Martin B. Dickinson, President of Delta Tau Delta, as our guest speaker. His address was one of the most genuinely enjoyable we have heard.

Mr. Dickinson awarded Bob Bates a Distinguished Service Chapter Citation. Bob is one of the founders of Delta Alpha and since his graduation in 1924 has contributed 28 years of service to the chapter. He is the first member of Delta Alpha to receive this award.

THREE DELTS ARE PHI BETAS

Delta Alpha was honored with three Phi Beta Kappas this year. Recipients of the award were: Jim Lyon, past treasurer of Y.M.C.A. and member of Alpha Epsilon Delta; A. T. Stair, Phi Eta Sigma, Scabbard and Blade, Distinguished Military Student, Big Man On Campus; and Bill Karnes, outstanding junior and past president of Y.M.C.A.

Our Fraternity was one of four on the Norman campus to show an improvement over last semester's scholarship record, and hopes are high that with continued effort we may capture the scholarship trophy at the end of the year.

Dale Stauffer has been elected president of Pi Tau Sigma, honorary mechanical engineering fraternity. He also holds membership in Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau. John Brock was initiated by Tau Beta Pi. He is a member of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Sigma Tau, and Scabbard and Blade.

PLACE FIRST IN VAUDEVILLE SHOW

Delta Gamma won its second big honor of the year by placing first in the annual Stroller's vaudeville show. This year the Deltas combined with the Alpha Phis and won over seven other acts. Individual honors went to Brothers Art Schanche and Dick Kallestad as best director and best supporting actor, respectively.

RANK HIGH IN ATHLETICS

First places in swimming and bowling and a second in basketball combined to raise Delta Gamma to the top in competition for the Interfraternity Athletic trophy. Pledge Jerry Moen raced to four firsts and broke two records while winning the swimming meet almost singlehandedly. The bowling team won both the all-campus and interfraternity trophies. Our basketball team was nosed out in the play-off game for the basketball title. Brother Larry Johnson finished the season as a regular guard on the University varsity basketball team. Larry is a three-year letterman. Promising freshmen basketball players are Ken Noel, Mick Henderson, and Gene Reynick.

SOON TO GO ON TOUR

Several eastern South Dakota high schools will be visited soon by Delta Gamma's annual entertainment tour. This year's program will include the music of our 20-man chorus and the Delt combo.

New initiates at South Dakota for 1952.

The combo is a campus-wide favorite with its terrific swing music.

MOCK WEDDING PERFORMANCE

Brother Dean Cadwell was united in marriage with Pi Phi Connie Clark in a mock-wedding ceremony February 1. The engagement had been announced that morning and a stag dinner was held for the bridegroom in the Shelter that evening. The wedding ceremony took place in the Pi Phi house. It was strictly a formal affair with Brother Art Schanche officiating. Larry Johnson served as best man, and Jack Salem as head usher. The mothers of the bride and bridegroom attended the extravaganza dressed as clowns. Refreshments consisting of water and jelly-beans were served at the reception following the event. Dean is a senior and Connie a sophomore at the University.

Delta Delta—Tennessee

STARTS SEASON WITH PARTY

Delta Delta started the spring season off right with a party. On March 2 we gave our big party of the year, a dinner dance. It was very successful and everybody had a most enjoyable time.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Election of officers for the year was held in February. The new officers are as follows: Brother Tom Woodard, president; Brother Bob Kelley, vice-president; Brother Fred Kitts, recording secretary; Brother Cletus MacWilliams, steward.

SHELTER RENOVATED

The Shelter has undergone a general working over. A new furnace was purchased which we hope will keep us warmer than the old one. Our four initiates for the winter quarter are now engaged in improving the Shelter even more. Brother Lynn Seiber is Phi Delta Phi's law graduate of the year.

Delta Epsilon—Kentucky

STAND SECOND HIGHEST IN SCHOLARSHIP

We are very proud of our chapter morale and achievements in these closing months of the school year of 1951-52. At the top of our list of achievements is an outstanding scholarship record which is second highest on the campus. One of our increasing number of engineers, Louis Catlett, has recently been accepted into Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary fraternity. We are fortunate in having a few of the best students in each college. Another distinguished member, Fred Huey Miller, has been accepted into Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce fraternity.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED

The new officers for this term were installed as follows: David Nightingale, president; Paul Holleman, vice-president; T. Y. Martin, treasurer; N. M. Smock, recording secretary; Thomas Hutzler, corresponding secretary; Morris Burton, guide; and Larry Wiere, sergeant at arms.

Of course we can't forget our preparations for the all-campus sing contest which will take place the last of April. We are singing our hearts out again to try for our traditional victory.

NEAR TOP IN INTRAMURALS

Intramurals are well under way by this time, with badminton, tennis, and softball next on the docket. We are near the top with total points and with particular confidence in softball, we hope for big trophies.

SHELTER SPORTS NEW FURNITURE

Thanks to the latest pledge class, we now have some more flashy furniture in the living room. And thanks to the alums, we have new dining room tables.

Delta Zeta—Florida

MORTGAGE BURNING

High spot of Delta Zeta's annual Founders Day banquet this year was the burning of the house mortgage. Approximately 200 actives and alumni who gathered in the banquet hall of the campus service center for the occasion heard Delta Zeta President Ray Billingsley congratulate the chapter members for their fine co-operation. He called for continued effort in the future and announced plans for improvements and additions around the Shelter. Several alumni exchanged reminiscences over the early days of the chapter and the trials of the "Tarpaper Palace," which was the first Delt Shelter on campus. Dr. G. F. Weber, faculty adviser, outlined the chapter's progress down through the war years, and Dr. E. D. Hinkley, president of the house corporation, burned the mortgage. A smoker was held at the Shelter after the banquet, and both alumni and brothers returned to enjoy the first addition to the house—a newly arrived radio-phonograph combination—which has been sorely needed.

CAMPUS ELECTIONS

Delta Zeta Chapter placed two brothers in the recent campus elections at the University of Florida. Tommy Moore, former social chairman of chapter, was elected business manager of the Seminole, campus yearbook, and Bill Benson, one of the chapter's new initiates, was elected editor of the Orange Peel, campus humor magazine. Moore, a junior in engineering, has served as assistant business manager of the campus Summer Gator and business manager of the Orange Peel. Benson has been active in debating.

BLUE KEY AND HALL OF FAME

Delta Zeta placed three men in Blue Key and Hall of Fame on campus this year. Blue Key, traditional leadership honorary, was attained by Paul Horton, Alligator editor, and Bill Fleming, intramural sports head. Fleming is past president of Delta Zeta. Both men, along with John Trinkle, Chancellor of the Honor Court, were elected to the campus Hall of Fame.

INTRAMURALS

Delta Zeta took its second intramural trophy recently when it defeated Tau Epsilon Phi in a special water-basketball game during the annual Intramural Open House. The open house matches winners from last year's sports in each league and offers trophies to the exhibition winners. Delta Zeta had previously toppled Pi Lambda Phi from the handball championship after a six-year reign by the latter.

Delta Eta—Alabama

1952 VERSION OF OLD-TIME WAGON BAND
PRESENTED

Delta Eta's now-famous Dixieland band, the Delta Saints, presented the Alabama campus with a 1952 version of the old-time wagon bands when they boarded a truck and toured the University, boosting the Campus Chest drive. The Campus Chest is the school's united charity collection which each year puts "all the begs in one askit." Playing in the combo are Brothers "Dee Dee" Black, banjo; "Tee-Bone" Nabors, piano; "Flip" Welch, clarinet; Frank Stanton, percussion; "Bear Cub" McRae, trumpet; "Bugsy" Briggs, tuba; and "Baby Bill" Owsley on the tail-gate sliphorn. The combo gained additional fame when it played as part of the Frankie Laine concert in March. In response to an urgent call from the state Red Cross, the Saints presented an hour concert to the patients of the Veteran's Hospital in Tuscaloosa. Always at the call of worthy campus groups, the boys helped ad sales for the yearbook by playing jazz as the ad staff approached the prospective buyer, surrounding him with music and girls in shorts. A wild idea, but it sold a record number of ads.

WIN TOP HONORS IN JASON'S JAMBOREE

For the third time in as many years Delta Tau Delta has walked away with top honors in Jason's Jamboree, variety show put on by Jasons, senior men's honorary. The Jamboree, which is presented each March, presents trophies to the winners in fraternity, sorority, and individual acts. Three quarters of the Delta Eta Chapter took part in the ten minute show which was judged best by the audience of over 4,000. The general opinion of the campus is that the Deltas have in the past three years made it necessary to stage a production rather than a skit to win Jason's. The most recent success was sparked by Brother James "Tee-Bone" Nabors. In the short duration of the production, Nabors played four parts. He danced, sang, joked, and fought his way through the "Secret Life of Delta Dan."

HOLDS PRESIDENCY OF IFC

Robert A. Guthrie is the new president of the Bama Interfraternity Council. Brother Guthrie plans to continue the program of strengthening the IFC. A sophomore in the School of Commerce and Business Administration, Guthrie is a member of Druids, sophomore honorary; the sport planning committee; and the Campus Chest committee. He also fills the job of chapter vice-president.

DELTS CONTROL PUBLICATIONS

Bama Deltas will control two out of three campus publications next year. Brothers Charles A. Wilson and James M. Montgomery ran unopposed for the editorships of the school newspaper and humor magazine, respectively.

Wilson is the editor-elect of the Crimson-White, Alabama's "all-American" weekly. A junior majoring in politics and minoring in journalism, he is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. He advances to the editor's desk from the rank of managing editor.

Jim Montgomery, Birmingham, Ala., will direct the frivolous course of the Rammer Jammer, popular (with the students) humor magazine. With a major in commercial art, he minors in journalism. Like Wilson, Montgomery is at present managing editor. Also a junior, Montgomery summarizes his college career as "Paint, publications, and politics."

Delta Iota—U.C.L.A.

PLAYS HOST AT REGIONAL CONFERENCE

Delta Iota felt quite distinguished to be the hosts of the recent Western Division Regional Conference. President John Nichols of Delta Alpha presided while Dan Ferguson, dear friend of Delta Iota, Jep Jepsen, Beta Rho, and Natt Fitts, Beta Kappa, were a few of the noted alumni who attended. Delt chapters of Colorado, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Oregon State, Whitman, California, Stanford, Santa Barbara, U.S.C. and U.C.L.A. were represented.

These "Mad Musicians" won top honors for the Alabama chapter in variety show.

SCHOLARSHIP IMPROVES

The scholastic standing of Delta Iota improved materially during the past semester under the guidance of Don Smith, scholarship chairman. From an unmentionable low, the chapter standing shot into tenth place to rank highest of the major houses.

STRIVE FOR INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONSHIP
AGAIN

Last year found us to be the intramural champions of U.C.L.A., and our hopes are set quite high at placing the perpetual intramural trophy on our mantel for keeps by again coming out on top. In basketball, we have already edged out the Betas, 32-30, and the Fijis, 34-33, to win our league. Handball proved to be a great asset with Morgan Craft proceeding to the singles finals while Dick Rundle and Joe Yzardiaga copped the title of All-University Champs in doubles. The baseball and swimming teams are warming-up and they both feel rather confident.

ACTIVE IN CAMPUS SPORTS

On the campus, six-foot-seven-inch Mike Hibler spotlighted the basketball scene by playing great ball in the pivot position to push U.C.L.A. to the top of the Pacific Coast Conference. Chuck Corbato, Mal Riley, Don Guttry, and Pledge Bob Hunt are looking forward to some fast times on the track, while Pledges Jack Freeze and Jim Lauder turned to wrestling. In the tank, Assistant Swim Coach "Ducky" Chandler is cracking the whip over Bill Zerkie, Bill George, and Norm Von Herzen.

JOIN TWO OTHER CHAPTERS FOR EXTRAVAGANZA AFFAIR

April 26 is the date planned for a three-way luau with the U.S.C. and Santa Barbara chapters. U.S.C. is playing host to what we hope to make an annual affair.

Delta Lambda—Oregon State

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

The new officers recently elected are: president, Bill Kessinger; vice-president, John Marshall; social chairman, Bill Sundstrom; Jim Lewis is manager; and recording secretary and alumni chairman are held down by Joe Coffey and Mike Headly, respectively. New officers on committees are Kay Morse, handling the vital job as scholarship chairman, Bill Smith and Ed Hagemann are cochairmen for intramural, and Lowell Wright, corresponding secretary.

JOINT FORMAL PLANNED

A joint spring formal is being planned with the Delta Delta Delta Sorority and awaits approval by College authorities. If we have it and all goes well, it is planned that the joint formal will be an annual event.

FOUNDERS DAY BANQUET HELD

The biggest event last term, other than our costume dance, was the Founders Day banquet and Honor Initiation sponsored by the Portland Alumni Chapter. The two honor initiates were Dave Schmidt and Bob Miner. Dave was out for football last term, but will not be with us next year for he is joining the Naval Air Cadets this summer. Bob is one of our freshmen. He is majoring in chem engineering, one of the hardest courses in school. Winter term he received all A's. His top grades won him a scholarship. Recently he was elected president of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary.

EXCHANGE STUDENT AT SHELTER

Toni Syriotis, an exchange student from Athens, Greece, who is sponsored by the I.F.C., will be staying with us spring term. He is out for track this spring and should do very well. In Athens he ran the 1000 meter and received several prizes. Toni arrived in September last year; he uses English well, and has given over 40 speeches to Oregon State College organizations. He is an interesting person and has helped us realize the problems of Greece and Europe today.

Delta Nu—Lawrence

DELTS HELP CAMPAIGN

The Lawrence Deltos immersed themselves in all of the features of the recent Wisconsin primary election campaign.

Showing no partiality, the Deltos came up with posters, welcoming signs, and a parade for the major Republican candidates who appeared in Appleton. Led by our new political dilettante, George Wanberg, the Deltos received nation-wide recognition for the imagination displayed in the house decoration constructed for Earl Warren, California candidate.

SEVERAL RECEIVE ATHLETIC LETTERS

Representing the Deltos on the Lawrence tennis squad are Brothers Ed Grosse and Dick Gast. Both are "three-sport men," having received letters in basketball and football. Harry Patterson, Bob Zimmerman, Roger Kennedy, George Oetting, and Phil Webers are making a substantial contribution to the track team. Rounding out Delt participation in school athletics this spring are Golfers Jim Brown, Chuck Peters, and Chuck Kubitz. At the "L" Club letter's day banquet, letters were awarded to Brothers Jim Prims, swimming; Kent Hansen, wrestling; and Grosse and Gast, basketball. Oetting also received recognition for the all-College wrestling title, heavyweight division, which he wrestled in the recent all-College matches.

PARTICIPATE IN CONCERT TOUR

Brothers O. K. Johnson, Pete Notaras, Harry Sisson, Paul Johnson, Fritz Born, Jerry Johnson, Steve Busch, and Kennedy are participating in the annual Lawrence College choir's spring concert tour. Brother C. Franklin Crowder is piano soloist on the tour for the third straight season. The choir will sing in major midwestern cities.

The Delt choir, led by Brother Busch, gave its first serenade of the year, and the magniloquent praises of the girls were exceeded only by the diligence of our director, who whipped up one of the best Delt groups in recent years.

THREE RECEIVE SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT RECOGNITION

At the Honors Day Convocation, Brothers Zimmerman, Notaras, and Prims received recognition for achievements in scholarship during the first semester. Zimmerman and Prims are psychology majors, while Notaras is a premed student.

RECEIVES RADIO AMATEUR'S AWARD

Brother Joe Schroeder received his certificate from the Century Club, the radio amateur's Phi Beta. To receive such a certificate, Brother Schroeder had to present post cards from the 100-odd foreign countries, with which he has made contact in the past few years.

Delta Xi—North Dakota

OFFICERS ELECTED

Spring at the Delt house here on the University of North Dakota campus finds a new slate of officers. At the helm is Romaine Krzmarzick with Don Naismith as his assistant and Dave Halverson as recording secretary. Our new corresponding secretary is Duane Williams, and Hank Mahlman has charge of the vaults with assistance from Eldon Levi. Hank is also our scholarship chairman, Cecil Keisacker reigns as rush chairman, and Eldon Roberts is proving himself capable of handling social events.

HUMOROUS SKIT ENTERED

The social committee has arranged a pair of fine exchange dinners with sororities as a prelude to a French Quarter party and our spring formal, both of which are on the planning board at this time.

With the coming of Follies, a campus-talent production, the house is sharpening up its humorous skit entitled "From Here to Infirmary," with the idea of winning another trophy. The act depicts life in an army reception center, the likes of which have never before been seen.

DELTS ELECTED TO HONOR SOCIETIES

Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary society, initiated Dick McConnell into its organization. Ray Larson is now a member of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism honorary, and Hank Mahlman is now a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce fraternity, and Phi Delta Phi, honorary law fraternity. Don Naismith, Ben Klem, Gordon Senzek, Romaine Krzmarzick, and Dave Halverson have been initiated into Arnold Air Society, and Dick Hoovestol and Cecil Kiesacker now belong to Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Men whose names will appear for the last time are Jim Hanson, Gordon Senzek, Dick Hoovestol, LeRoy Gunerius, Cecil Kiesacker, Don Overland, and John Smith. We wish them luck and success wherever they go.

Delta Omicron—Westminster

INITIATE EIGHTEEN

Delta Omicron recently initiated 18 men of her 22-man pledge class. The initiation came as a climax to "Delt Development Week" which is devoted to constructive work and study. Attending the ceremony and principal speaker at the following banquet was Martin B. Dickinson, President of the Fraternity. The chapter is very grateful to Mr. Dickinson, and was truly inspired by his visit.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS HELD

Officers for the coming year were installed February 4, 1952. Bill McCue of Amarillo, Texas, is our new president and Bob Stufflebam of St. Louis was elected vice-president. Other officers are: Dick Smith, treasurer; Vint Gay, corresponding secretary; Robert Weihe, recording secretary; and Charlie Chandler, house manager. Al Sheriff visited Delta Omicron soon after the installation and helped the new officers start in the right direction.

DELEGATES ATTEND DIVISION CONFERENCE

The Western Division Conference was well represented by 14 of Delta Omicron's men. The delegates to the two-day Conference were the guests of Beta Tau Chapter, Lincoln, Nebraska. A very enjoyable week end was spent by the delegates due to the fine hospitality of the Beta Tau brothers.

BASKETBALL QUINTET WINS FIRST PLACE

The Delt basketball quintet walked away with the first-place plaque by maintaining a perfect 6-0 record. Stanley Brenner led the team in scoring with 80 points, and this fact probably had a lot to do with his receiving first choice on the Intramural All-Star team. In handball, the Delt finished in second place by losing one match. Volleyball is the only sport remaining on the intramural schedule, and our chances for first place in this sport are very good. As things look now, we will miss retaining the intramural supremacy crown by only a slim margin.

SCHOLARSHIP IS RISING

Scholastically, the house average rose 1.2 per cent this past fall semester from last year's all-time low. The official house average for the past semester was 83.7. By continued effort, we hope to raise this mark even more this semester.

TOM SHIELDS NAMED TO Who's Who

Delta Omicron's latest addition to Who's Who is Tom Shields, who also heads the Student Council. Vince Allen has recently been initiated into the local senior honorary society, the Skulls of Seven. Vince replaces Allen Oakley who will graduate this June. The Spring Formal, our last big social event, will be held May 17. The usual large number of alumni are expected.

Delta Pi—U.S.C.

WIN UNIVERSITY BASKETBALL CROWN

As the spring semester draws to a close, Delta Pi Chapter can look back on a semester that was exceedingly successful. We started by winning interfraternity and all-University basketball.

In University functions, Ted Todd was chairman of the Trojan Chest. This is a fund formed to raise money to educate the children of U.S.C. men killed in the war. In this all-out drive to raise money the University sponsors a musical presentation called the Varsity Show. Two of the brothers, Jack Tiller as producer and Sam Spence as music director, worked diligently to make it the success it was.

THREE CHAPTERS MERGE FOR FORMAL

On the spacious lawn of the Delta Pi Shelter a three-way formal luau was held with the U.C.L.A. and Santa Barbara chapters. The white dinner jackets seemed appropriate for "A Night at the Royal Hawaiian." Parties were exceptionally well organized this term because of the efforts of Social Chairman Cy Consani.

OLYMPIC SWIMMER

A champion in our presence is Swimmer Allen Gilchrist. Allen is a freshman, who hails from Ocean Falls, British Columbia. He represented Canada in the last Olympics and is a likely prospect for the 1952 Games in Helsinki. At the N.C.A.A. in Princeton a few weeks ago, he placed sixth in the 440-yard freestyle.

JOE VIELBIG, Whitman, member of Phi Beta Kappa and secretary of I.F.C.

Picked as the most outstanding active for the year was Richard Davies. Dick performed numerous acts which caused the house to operate so smoothly.

From President Tracy St. John and the rest of the Delta Pi members, we send best wishes to our brothers across the country.

Delta Rho—Whitman

ALUMNI BANQUET INAUGURATED

Delta Rho Chapter inaugurated a new tradition at the Shelter when we held the first Alumni Banquet. The dinner was held on March 21 to celebrate the double birthday of the Fraternity and the fourth successful year of Delta Rho. Twelve of our alumni gathered from the vast Pacific Northwest to celebrate the occasion. Al Sheriff, field secretary, gave the keynote address of the evening. Paul Troeh, our alumni adviser, and Mrs. Milne, our gracious housemother, were on hand to welcome back the alumni.

LIBRARY PROGRAM UNDERTAKEN

In order to build a sound and complete chapter library a plan was introduced and accepted by the chapter whereby every member donates one book a year. Additional volumes such as encyclopedias and dictionaries will later be purchased by the house.

CAMPUS MUSICAL FEATURES DELTS

In true Fraternity fashion, Whitman Delt is rapidly proving that, in spite of their size, they have many of the outstanding leaders on this campus. Constantly aware that a house which supports only one phase of college activities is undesirable, the Delt of Delta Rho have been active in many different activities. B. G. Leffler, Ev Harris, and Jack Kulp are spending many long hours learning their parts and songs for the musical to be put on by the Whitman Theater. The musical, Cole Porter's "Anything Goes," promises to be one of the outstanding events of the school year. Skiing Delt Dick Haufl has recently returned to the campus after attending a ski meet held in Banff, Canada. Dick also represented Whitman and Delta Tau Delta in the Northwest Intercollegiate Ski Association races at Stevens Pass.

For many years interested students of Whitman have been working toward the day we can realize the dream of having a college radio station. Jim Campbell has shown his capabilities of leadership by bringing this dream many steps closer. Jim, who has donated a large amount of personal time and work, is now busy directing work on one of the sections of the future station. It is hoped that the station will be completed and be on the air early next year. Dick Morrow is once again representing our chapter on the varsity golf team.

At the time of this writing the entire chapter is working on its annual spring dinner dance. The theme, Morocco, will be carried out by a false skyline covering one complete side of the dance floor. Again this year the house will have orchids flown in from Hawaii for the dance.

The Delt of Delta Rho are looking forward to the traditional baseball game and picnic to be held on April 20 with Delta Mu Chapter at the University of Idaho.

READY FOR FIRST FLIGHT

Several of the brothers of Delta Rho are busily working repairing an airplane. Jim Campbell has already received his private license and several other men are rapidly completing the required hours and hope to obtain their licenses soon. The plane had a small accident which seemed to discourage the former owner, and the ever alert, air-minded Delt purchased the plane and are now spending a great deal of time in an effort to make the plane airworthy. It is hoped the repair job will be completed in time to make several flights this spring.

Delta Sigma—Maryland

NEW LEADERS INSTALLED

As a result of the recent elections, the new officers of Delta Sigma Chapter are: president, Thomas M. Burckes, III; vice-president, Philip R. Shays, Jr.; recording secretary, Thornton J. Parker, III; corresponding secretary, William Sibbold; treasurer, William Praus; and sergeant at arms, Joseph A. Dodge, III.

CONGRATULATIONS TO NEW INITIATES

Delta Sigma wishes to congratulate its new group of initiates. Robert McGroarty was selected as the outstanding pledge. Congratulations are also in order to the fine new pledge class. Delta Sigma again took many of the best men during the spring rush season.

BASTEDO NAMED OUTSTANDING DELT

William Bastedo has been named outstanding Delt of the chapter and was presented with a plaque along with the outstanding Delt from George Washington University and the University of Delaware at the recent Founders Day banquet in Washington, D. C. Delta Sigma turned out en masse to greet its brothers from all parts of the United States in honor of Delta Tau Delta's 93rd Anniversary.

WINS WAGER

One of our pledges was successful in his recent trip to Delta Delta Chapter at the University of Tennessee in obtaining a skin wagered on the recent Sugar Bowl game between Maryland and Tennessee.

PLACE FOURTH IN INTRAMURALS

On the sports side, the chapter placed fourth in the intramural basketball tournament with seven wins and four losses. The softball tournament is now under way and the team is headed for what looks like a successful season.

ACTIVE IN CAMPUS POLITICS

Now that spring is once again rolling around, the chapter is again active in campus politics. With the top position of Student Government being vacated by Brother Frank Wright, president, we again hope to maintain our campus prestige by filling another top position in Student Government. All eyes are on Joe Cover, who we feel is qualified to uphold the good name of the Fraternity on campus.

PLANS LAID FOR ANNUAL DANCE

The chapter is now making preparations for its annual Blue Book Dance which is open to the entire University. It is the last social event of the year before final examinations and in past years has proven to be one of the nicest events of the year.

Delta Tau—Bowling Green

SMOKER HELD FOR BUSINESSMEN

The Delta Taus gave a smoker for the businessmen of Bowling Green on March 27. It was our way of showing appreciation for the fine job they did in serving us for the year. We invited every person with whom we traded, from the Fraternity accountant to the clothing dealers of the community. The evening's entertainment was headed by Brother Ron Lauber as master of ceremonies. The newly formed Delt quartet, composed of Ray Fernandez, Bob Murphy, Chuck Green, and Chuck Bonser, sang barber-shop harmony, and there were other acts performed by the Delt.

NEW OFFICERS

Recently elected officers for the year are Bill Baddaker, president; Joe Ferguson, vice-president; Dean Mandeville, treasurer; Chuck Green, assistant treasurer; Mike Ryan, corresponding secretary; Ray Fernandez, recording secretary; Al Iandolo, guide; and Al Cobb, sergeant at arms.

SPONSOR EASTER EGG HUNT

Palm Sunday the Delt sponsored their Second Annual Easter Egg Hunt for the children of the community. All proceeds went to the Bud Gallier Welfare Fund, a community welfare project for the care of needy children. Jack Taylor was the general chairman, and Joe Dick was master of ceremonies of the egg hunt which was attended by more than 500 children.

DELTS IN ACTIVITIES

The newly formed campus organization, The Young Republicans Club, is headed by two Delt. Jack Taylor was elected president and Chuck Bonser vice-president. Don Eaton was elected by the chapter as the outstanding Delt for this year. Congratulations are in store for Dick Soluri on the fine job he did as rush chairman. Thanks to his hard work and fine rush program we have 21 new pledges. The pledges, headed by their president, Jack Gee, have been very active on campus and in the community.

Delta Upsilon—Delaware

CHAPTER ELECTS NEW LEADERS

The middle of March saw the election of new officers to lead Delta Upsilon for the coming year. Heading the list of men chosen were Tom Mulrooney, president, and Art Eglington, vice-president. The post of recording secretary went to Don Godfrey, while Dave Allen was elected as corresponding secretary. Bob Starks continued in his capacity as treasurer, having succeeded Senior Orlin Anderson earlier this year. Don Junghans assumes the vital position of house manager. Thanks go to the out-going officers for the great service and leadership rendered the chapter in the past year. Former President Tom O'Donnell was named as the outstanding graduating senior. While on the subject of elections, Dave Menser, a recent initiate of Delta Upsilon, was selected by his fellow freshmen to serve as president of next fall's sophomore class in the Student Government Association elections conducted in the early spring. Lem Lilleht was the recipient of the position as engineering representative in the same elections.

MANY CONTRIBUTE WORK ON CHAPTER PUBLICATION

After considerable sweat and toil, the men at 230 East Main got out the spring issue of the Diamond State Delt, the newspaper published twice a year by Delta Upsilon. Jack Fairchild, and countless others, contributed much time and effort towards the success of the paper.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

The Founders Day banquets in both Washington and Philadelphia were attended by the brothers and pledges, and from all reports, these occasions are a vital "must" every year. Among the more or less miscellaneous items of interest can be included mention of the fact that, at long last, we now have a fraternity mascot in the form of a beloved black mutt known as "Sambo." If things ever tend to become dull (very rarely does this happen), "Sambo" always livens things up.

HOLD OWN IN SPORTS

Our softball squad has managed to hold its own against fraternity opposition this spring. In the field of varsity sports, Tom (Pancho) Mulrooney continues to hold forth on Delaware's varsity tennis team. Ed Fogel, who received his badge of membership a short time ago, has been participating in spring grid workouts with the Blue Hen football squad. While still mentioning sports, Bob (All-American Kid) Wagner will probably be one of the mainstays on the varsity swimming team this next year, judging from the Lehigh transfer's superlative performance in the past winter's intramural swimming championships. Bob won the breast stroke event quite handily, beating the previous record by some 15 seconds. He also currently holds the state YMCA mark in the same event. Besides saying a fond so long to our graduating seniors, we're forced to give a like farewell to Will Brown, sophomore, who has been accepted into the Dental School this September.

Delta Phi—Florida State

PUTS BEST FOOT FORWARD

Delta Phi of Delta Tau Delta started off the semester with its best foot forward by moving into the new Shelter. The house corporation has made remarkable progress in furnishing our new home. Mrs. Lambert, our housemother, is living with us now. She has a three-room suite. "Lambie," as we call her, has a most fascinating personality and is popular with all.

PLANS FOR MEMBERSHIP DRIVE SET

The chapter repledged nine members of the pledge class and began plans for rushing and building up the chapter's membership. A very successful rush program by Chairman Steve Risley and members brought 12 new pledges into the chapter. The official pledging ceremony was performed and the present total number of the pledge class is 21 members strong. The pledge class, being trained by John Kinsaul, organized The Delt Development Program and is putting it into practice. The pledge class elected its new officers and Bill Leavitt is the president. The vice-president is C. T. Nogel, treasurer, George Arrants, and secretary, Ken White.

IN MANY ACTIVITIES

Members representing Delta Tau Delta in activities on the campus boost our prestige considerably. Preston Bradley is a power-driving factor of the Seminole football team. A pitcher on the undefeated baseball varsity is Jim Morrison. Robert Culliver is a versatile performer in the Florida State University's circus. Matt Sullivan is a member of the varsity volleyball team. Jim Fadigan is a varsity performer on the gymnastic team, which is intercollegiate and A.A.U. champions for two consecutive years. Elwood Parker and Carlos Fraundorfer are the varsity track stars.

THREE DELTS ARE CHARTER MEMBERS OF NEW SERVICE ORGANIZATION

Members of social organizations on the campus are Delt Robert McKenzie, Ed Fields, and Bill McDonald, president of Alpha Kappa Psi. Delt Steve Risley is a newly initiated member into L'Apache, along with Haywood Taylor and Preston Bradley. Delt who are charter members of the newly organized service fraternity, Circle K, are Ted Aggelis, Harvey Sellars, and James Hudson.

MCWILLIAMS AND RISLEY RECEIVE ACCLAIM

We have great pride for Ralph McWilliams who was recently initiated into Phi Beta Kappa. Ralph is an assistant professor of math and an outstanding man on campus. Steve Risley edited the annual Seminole Delt Newspaper and published it last April. It was distributed to undergraduate chapters and alumni for the purpose of bettering our Fraternity relationship.

HOLDS ANNUAL RAINBOW BALL

The chapter held its annual Rainbow Ball on Friday night, April 4, 1952. The climax of the evening was the crowning of Betty Ann Gaskin as our Delt Queen. This was followed on Saturday by an overnight coast party for the Delts and their dates. We were chaperoned by Alumnus Robert Sedore and his wife. This type of social function makes Delta Tau Delta Week End the event most looked forward to. Harvey Sellars is the social chairman of the chapter and through his efforts the social functions and sorority parties are remarkably improving the social prestige of Delta Tau Delta on our campus.

Delta Chi—Oklahoma A. & M.

NEW LEADERS SELECTED

Our chapter has accomplished quite a bit since the last publication of the RAINBOW. The chapter officers, elected shortly after the start of the second semester are: Don Foresee, president; Dale Maddry, vice-president; Don Mabry, recording secretary; John Farley, corresponding secretary; Don Hammer, treasurer; Homer Hutton, assistant treasurer; and Charles Oakes, sergeant at arms.

SEVERAL NAMED FOR HONORARIES

Several of the men have made outstanding achievements. Don Foresee was recently selected for membership in Blue Key, national honorary fraternity for leadership and scholarship. Park Buckner became a member of Phi Eta Sigma national scholastic fraternity. Dale Maddry was named the outstanding sophomore in the Air Force ROTC unit. Gene Brewer was elected editor of the college yearbook, The Redskin. He also won the National Engineers' Technical Writing Contest. Jim Maddry was recently elected president of Blue Key.

SHELTER REDECORATED

Through the generosity of the alumni of Delta Tau Delta of Oklahoma, we have been able to enclose the porch to the east of the house. The pledges decorated the room and Mom Poff made the new draperies. With the addition of the new room we can now entertain all of the members, pledges, and their dates at one time. To the north of the new room the pledges have constructed a small patio which will soon be connected to a large patio. Here will be built a barbecue pit, which will enable us to have fish fries and barbecues. This will be a help to us during rush week and throughout the entire year.

WELL REPRESENTED ON CAMPUS

Our chapter is well represented over the campus. Don Foresee is president of the Punchers, one of the pep organizations. We are represented in the music field by Dick Smith, Dan Hurley, John Bryant, Stan Wall, and Walter Kaesler, who are all in the glee club. Stan Wall is a member of both the athletic and symphonic bands. We are represented in the Commerce Council by Dale Maddry.

NEW CHAPTER ADVISER AND NEW INITIATES

Since the start of the semester, Don Holt has been our chapter adviser. He is one of the founders of Delta Chi Chapter, and being an A. & M. graduate of 1951, he is unusually well qualified. The high light of this semester has been the initiation of nine new members. This was held April 6. At the initiation banquet, Joe Harvey was presented with the trophy for the Outstanding Pledge. At this time Dale Maddry was presented with a jeweled pin as the Ideal Delt of the year. This pin was presented to Dale by John Venable, who held it last year. The pin was given to the chapter last year by Bob Cox, an alumnus of Delta Alpha.

Delta Psi—Santa Barbara

SPRING SEASON STARTS WITH BANG

Starting the spring social season with a bang, the Gaucho Deltas' first party was a French Apache dance. The Shelter was redecorated as a cellar and appropriate murals were painted on the walls by Brother Bud Bottoms. Music was furnished by Skip Wilson's combo. Brothers Bill Myers and Doug Albright, hashers at the KAΘ Sorority, arranged an impromptu joint with the Thetas when they absconded with the girls' supper. The young ladies followed the food and a buffet dinner was served at the Shelter. Social Chairman Herbert Christian is planning the gala Spring Formal at which, for the first time at Santa Barbara, the chapter will present a Delt Queen.

WELCOMES BACK CHAPTER ADVISER JONES

The chapter, at the beginning of the semester, welcomed back as our adviser Dr. Paul "Cap" Jones, replacing Dave McKee who accepted an out of town business opportunity. "Cap" has been a guiding light for Delta Psi since its inception, and is one of the best liked professors at Santa Barbara College. He will be an able replacement for Dave, who guided the chapter through a difficult period of reorganization during the fall semester with admirable foresight. The brothers at Delta Psi hope for Dave's continued success. New chapter officers are: Jack Carroll, president; Don Noble, vice-president; Bob Dullea, treasurer; Bill Myers, corresponding secretary; Jim Guillet, recording secretary; Alec Hardos, sergeant at arms; and Dick Mills, guide.

ACTIVE IN INTRAMURALS

As the intramural season progresses the Delt bowling squad currently rests in sixth place. Indications are that this won't be for long as it has whipped the two top squads recently.

Last year's championship softball squad is in the process of reorganization. Returning are Hurlers Bill Myers and Bob Dullea, around whom the team will be built. Jerry Koory, out for baseball last year, will lend support at the hot corner and Jim Wooden will be back behind the plate. Delta Psi is well represented on the Gaucho varsity baseball squad by Hurlers

Jerry McElvaine and Wynne Smallwood, supported by Al Cox, outfielder, George Mattais, first sacker, and Utility Infielder Herb Christian.

PROMINENT IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Brother Bill Myers was elected to the post of sophomore president, replacing Brother Don Noble. Delt talent was again prominent in the Roadrunner Revue, all-College show. Brother Daulton Hatch was featured in a dance number and the chorus of the Red Schmoos, male comedy ballet, was composed of Deltas Bob Holland, Bill Smart, Bill Myers, John Collister, Bill Grannis, and Pledge Wendell Long.

Delta Omega—Kent

SPEAKER'S SERIES

Delta Omega has started a new project which has proven both entertaining and inspiring. Each week we invite a prominent, local man to eat dinner with the chapter and then to deliver a short speech. After the speech, the chapter and speaker retire to the living room where a general question and answer session is held. George A. Bowman, president of Kent State, was the first speaker of the series. He gave a talk on the relationship between the administration of the school and fraternities. Others who have addressed the chapter are Bob Hartford, vice-president of the Northern Division of Delta Tau Delta, the editor of the local newspaper, the minister of a local church, and the head of the philosophy department at Kent State.

DELTS BUSY IN ACTIVITIES

Out of nine positions on the business staff of the daily Kent Stater, seven are taken by Deltas. Jim Branigan, president of Delta Omega, is also business manager of the daily paper. Bud Mays is assistant business manager; Jim Young, advertising manager; Cal Ratcliff, assistant advertising manager; Jerry Dougher, edition manager; Bud Murray, edition manager; and Tom Duke, circulation manager. On the editorial staff is Jerry Lowe, reporter and copy editor, and Tom Duke, copy editor. Brother Bob Weber, chairman of the school social committee, recently brought Woody Herman to Kent for a concert. Bob is now making plans for the biggest day of the year, Campus Day, May 24. Brother Bud Mays has been appointed to the allocations committee of the school.

PLEDGE CLASS REMODELS BASEMENT

The fall pledge class recently paneled the basement of the Shelter with knotty pine. As a fitting reward to the pledge class and their pledgemaster, Bob Wattleworth, the Winter Formal was held the night of their activation at the Chagrin Valley Country Club.

RUSHING

Ron Rice is to again be congratulated for his successful rushing job. Eleven men were recently pledged.

▲ THE DELT ALUMNI CHAPTERS ▲

Tulsa

Mr. R. P. Bates, a member of the Tulsa Alumni Chapter, was awarded a membership in the Distinguished Service Chapter of the Fraternity at the annual Founders Day banquet at Norman, in March, 1952. The award was presented by Mr. Martin Dickinson, President of Delta Tau Delta.

Mr. Bates is the first Oklahoman and the first member of Delta Alpha Chapter to receive this award. The program was conducted by Mr. Lawrence Wilson, of the Tulsa Alumni Chapter, and Mr. Bill Bates of the active chapter at Norman. Mr. Bill Bates is the son of R. P. Bates.

The Annual Easter Formal of the Tulsa Alumni Chapter was held at the Topaz Room of the Tulsa Hotel on April 11. All undergraduates of the chapters at Norman and Stillwater were invited, although only about 50 were able to attend. The dance was one of the most successful ever held by the Tulsa group.

Meetings are still held on the second Tuesday of each month at the Tulsa Country Club at 6:30 p. m. All Deltas in this area are urged to attend. For those who wish to be put on the mailing list for notice of meetings, dances, picnics, and dinners, contact Harold Shultz, Secretary, c/o County Attorney's Office, County Court House, Tulsa.

HAROLD SHULTZ

Topeka

Our monthly luncheons have been very successful with increased attendance each month. We have added several new members who have moved to Topeka.

One of our members, Mike Oberhelman, has worked as an official at many basketball games the past season, and we have all joined with the fans of the Kansas University basketball team in congratulations on their successful winning of the Olympic finals.

Our club plans a spring picnic as soon as the weather gets warmer, and we hope any visiting Deltas, or Deltas moving to Topeka, will contact us.

FRANK F. HOGUELAND

Toledo

Delts in the Toledo area are focusing some attention on the 61st Karnea plans and hope to have a delegation at Mackinac Island.

Our president, Herbert M. Sharp, has been off to Florida for several weeks, but the regulars have been showing up at the Tuesday noon luncheons.

We had a representative at the Northern Division Regional Conference at Delaware as guests of Chapter Mu recently, and he brought back a good report of the businesslike methods of the Fraternity chapters, their interest in rushing, and promotion of scholarship.

Plans for a big general spring get-together have not yet matured, but there are some plans for visits to some of the nearby active chapters in the next two months.

G. WILFRID HIBBERT

Syracuse

The busy spring season got off to a good start with a Founders Day observance in the University Club on March 1. This was a joint meeting with the active and alumni chapters attending. Our alumni president, Ernie Deming, acted as emcee. Active Chapter President Joe Camarda introduced the new pledges. The principal speaker was newly elected Eastern Division President Forrest H. Witmeyer. In his talk, Mr. Witmeyer particularly advised the seniors of the active chapter to associate themselves with Delta Tau Delta alumni groups, no matter where they are located, and also recommended that they get into civic activities as much as possible. Our Founders Day meeting was well attended and a good time was had by all.

With regard to some of the coming events, we are planning to have the annual meeting on April 21. Ernie Deming has invited all of the actives and alumni to the annual clambake at his country estate "Back of the Moon," Saturday, May 3. This is always a good party.

REVERSE ENGLISH

Did you ever stop to think how unfair it is to some of our alumni chapters that these reports of their activities must always be listed in alphabetic order? Well, we did. This conventional arrangement has meant that, if a capricious Fate has cast you into a city whose initial letter is "T" or "U" or "V," like as not the last paragraph or two of your report ends up squeezed between "The Chapter Eternal," and "Loyalty Fund Life Members."

At the risk of forever ruining our chances of winning a Pulitzer prize, we have scuttled convention for one issue by reversing the alphabetic order in which these reports are arranged.

How about that, Wilmington? Don't you wish you had submitted a letter this time?

—Associate Editor in Charge of Arranging Alumni Chapter Reports in Their Proper Sequence.

Since Bernie Dawson is general chairman of the Regatta committee, a number of our alumni have major and minor jobs in connection with the event. We will be glad to hear from any Delt alumni in Syracuse for the Regatta. The secretary can be reached at his office by telephone, 3-8013.

Seattle

Our new program of having a monthly dinner meeting at the Shelter is proving very successful. The first meeting in February and the Founders Day Banquet last month at the house got off to a flying start.

This month we are instigating a Father, Son, and Daughter Dinner which we hope will become an annual affair. At the present time all indications are that it will set a new record for attendance. The idea is to start our sons and daughters thinking and talking Delta Tau Delta at such a tender age that by the time they reach college, there will be one, and only one, Fraternity for them. Some may question the "daughter" part, but I believe we all recognize that the "fair sex" could be useful in steering some young "nugget" into Delta Tau Delta. We are also urging all alums without children to bring a young lad who they think would make a good Delt.

Our alumni chapter here in Seattle is deeply indebted to the local undergraduate chapter, Gamma Mu. They not only welcomed the idea of having our monthly meetings at the house, but came up with one of their own, which I believe is tops. Each Monday evening they invite two alums as their guests for dinner and chapter meeting. It doesn't take much thought to realize what this is doing for our alumni chapter.

Only time will tell, but my prediction is that in the near future we will have an alumni chapter second to none and the most powerful and influential undergraduate chapter on the University of Washington campus.

Santa Barbara

EDITOR'S NOTE: On the occasion of the opening of the new News Press building in Santa Barbara, C. A. A. McGee, Wisconsin, '99, senior past president of the Santa Barbara Alumni Chapter, was requested to prepare an article covering the history and activity of the alumni group. Space limitations do not permit us to run the entire article, but we are reproducing below excerpts which we feel will be of general interest.

You would know when the charter for the alumni association of Delta Tau Delta at Santa Barbara was granted by the Arch Chapter. It was on the 17th day of April, 1949. The span of our existence will be three years this coming April, a very brief period in which to have accomplished the goals at which we are aiming, and yet we feel that we have left a fraternal impress on the community.

The first initiation of a class including undergraduates and members of the faculty of the College of Santa Barbara, University of California, was held on May 20 and 21, 1949, and the degrees were conferred by representatives of Delta chapters from Berkeley, Stanford, U. C. L. A. and Southern California. The local undergraduate chapter is known as Delta Psi. Delegates from five California Delta Tau Delta alumni chapters were also present, as were the president and associate officers of the Arch Chapter of the national organization.

The first officers of the local alumni chapter were: president and organizer, C. A. A. McGee, who now holds the position of senior past president; secretary, Evert Arnold. The liaison officer and corresponding secretary was Grady Drake, who is now taking his doctorate degree at the University at Glasgow, Scotland. The treasurer was Attorney John Hass. The vice-president was Dr. Paul Jones, member of the faculty of Santa Barbara College, now on a trip through Europe, gathering material for a book that he is writing. The first meeting was a dinner at the dining room in Kerry's Restaurant, and 27 were present. Monthly thereafter we have held regular dinner meetings at the University Club, at the Barbara Hotel, and at Kerry's.

We started with 18 alumni members and today we have an enrollment in Santa Barbara of 47 active members.

It may be interesting to note that the Sigma Alpha Kappa organization, commonly known as SAKs, of which Dr. Paul Jones was chapter advisor and director, was perhaps the strongest and best known Greek-letter association on the campus. It was from this organization, around which we built, that we received our largest and perhaps best group of initiates. Dr. Lynne C. Monroe, Dr. Paul Jones, Dr. Jerry Clark, and Dr. Kermit Seefeld were among those from the faculty who were in our first class of initiates. Sigma Alpha Kappa was organized in 1924 and was one of the oldest and most active Greek-letter organizations on the college campus. During its existence, it has consistently won the scholarship trophy, and included among its graduates are more than 100 presidents of the student body and other campus leaders. . . .

The next president of the alumni chapter will be Dr. Kermit Seefeld. The alumni chapter is primarily interested in promoting a fraternal spirit between the various chapters in the Universities of California through correspondence, visits back and forth, and the spirit of co-operation and collaboration in all that makes for the welfare of the communities in which the chapter is located.

We furnish from among the alumni members, chapter advisors and counsellors, being primarily interested in maintaining our scholastic and spiritual standards. . . .

You ask of what accomplishments we are the most proud. Our answer is that we recognize that Santa Barbara is the cultural, educational center of the tri-counties and in many ways is the most beautiful and desirable residential place on the coast. We realize that the University as it is presently located, and in the future to be at Goleta, is outstanding in importance to our community. . . .

In conclusion, we desire to make grateful acknowledgment of the aid and assistance given to us by the Los Angeles Delta Tau Delta Alumni Chapter. They have a membership of over a thousand, and in their membership they list leading professional and business men of the community. . . .

St. Petersburg

The "Sunshine" city alumni association is unique in one respect—its membership is probably representative of more undergraduate chapters than any other alumni chapter in the country. Our membership, now about 65, hails from 45 of the 83 chapters and our attendance averaged about 20 during the season. Founders Day was celebrated March 12 at the St. Petersburg Yacht Club.

Speakers' table at the St. Louis Founders Day Banquet. Left to right: TOM SHIELDS, Westminster student body president; WILLIAM H. MARTINDILL, Treasurer of the Fraternity; FRANCIS M. HUGHES, Supervisor of Scholarship and principal speaker; CULLEN COIL, Missouri Supreme Court Commissioner; and GEORGE H. BUCHANON, Jr., president of alumni chapter. On the table is the scholarship trophy awarded annually to the Delta chapter in Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, or Illinois having highest scholastic standing.

Harold R. (Dutch) Frankenberg, Ohio State, '23, now residing in Jacksonville, Florida, recently visited with a number of local Deltas. Dutch is a past president of the Jacksonville Alumni Chapter.

Colonel Clif Burnham, Illinois Tech, '15, Chicago, now living in New Smyrna Beach, Florida, rolled into town on his way down the west coast recently. Blake C. Hooper, also of Illinois Tech, '07, spent a few days in St. Pete recently and looked up the Deltas.

Judge Harry R. Hewitt, Wisconsin, '02, will represent the St. Petersburg Alumni Chapter at the coming Karnea to be held in August at Mackinac Island.

Our president, Howard Helt, Gamma Sigma, '20, entertained the chapter at our last luncheon at his beautiful Garden Cafeteria. As many of our members leave until next fall, luncheons until October will be held intermittently at the St. Petersburg Yacht Club.

ROBERT S. ARTHUR

St. Louis

Our Founders Day Banquet was held March 28 at Le Chateau and was well attended by alumni and undergraduates alike.

We were fortunate in being able to have Francis M. Hughes, Supervisor of Scholarship, as our speaker of the evening. Mr. Hughes delivered a truly inspirational message entitled "Loyalty," which contained thoughts worthy of reflection by all Deltas.

Actives from Gamma Kappa of the University of Missouri acquainted us in dramatic fashion with their need for a new house. It was a highly amusing, well-done skit and should be as effective as anything could be in eliciting those much needed funds.

On display at the banquet was the St. Louis Alumni Chapter Scholarship Trophy which will be given each year to the chapter in the states of Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, and Illinois which distinguishes itself to the extent of having the highest grade average among the chapters in competition. It is a beautiful trophy and we hope all competing chapters work sedulously to achieve possession.

WILLIAM L. SEIM

Portland

Our Annual Founders Day Banquet was held in the Rose Bowl of the Multnomah Hotel this year, with attendance in the neighborhood of 100 Deltas. The occasion was made doubly significant in that, during the course of the evening, Robert Gilley, Gamma Mu, was presented a Distinguished Service Chapter Citation—the first Delta from the Northwest to be so honored.

Undergraduate chapter presidents from Gamma Rho and Delta Lambda each introduced their respective two honor initiates who were presented scrolls from the alumni chapter. Trophies are on order and will bear the honor initiates' names and will be placed in the respective chap-

H. J. Jepsen, vice-president of the Western Division, was up from San Francisco to present the Distinguished Service Chapter Citation to Bob Gilley and also to perform the duties of main speaker of the evening.

Attendance at the semimonthly luncheons has been excellent. They are still being held at The Broiler on the first and third Wednesdays of the month.

The next social event on the calendar will be a Delt party to be held on May 28. On the business side of the Delt schedule is the annual election of officers and the summer rushing program.

T. R. KEEFE

Pittsburgh

A "Man with a Plan" took over as head of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter at Founders Day when Kenneth R. Query was elected president.

Regional manager of the National Association of Manufacturers, Query lost no time in demonstrating his executive talents in the organization of a chapter program.

At the first Tuesday luncheon after the election, President Ken set up a schedule of alumni events for the next twelve months and appointed a chairman for each affair.

Slated for 1952-53 are the traditional Baseball Dinner, Christmas Service, and Founders Day Banquet, as well as two golf parties—one in June and the other in September.

With this full schedule as an added "inducement," the chapter mailed out dues notices to its members. Money collected as dues is used to defray the costs of mailing announcements to members throughout the year, and to underwrite part of the cost of the two annual banquets, so that undergraduates may be offered special dinner prices.

Founders Day was celebrated in top fashion by the Pittsburgh Chapter on March 7, when an estimated 200 brothers turned out to hear and welcome President Martin B. Dickinson.

Stressing that Delta Tau Delta is primarily an undergraduate institution, President Dickinson outlined the advances being made by the undergraduate chapters in achieving stronger foundations, scholastically and financially.

On hand to hear the President and meet the new chapter officers were Forrest Witmeyer, newly-elected President of the Eastern Division; his predecessor in that post, A. J. (Bud) Murphy; and Division Vice-President John Grove.

Retiring Chapter President Malcolm Corner served as toastmaster for the banquet until after the elections and was followed behind the microphone by Ken Query.

Other officers elected for the coming year include Bill Collins, vice-president; Bill Raines, secretary; and Jim Ludwig, treasurer.

Next event on tap for Pittsburgh Delts is the Rickey-Galbreath Baseball Dinner, May 2, at the University Club.

Featuring the appearance of the Pittsburgh Pirate "Delt Combine"—John Galbreath, the Branch Rickeys, Sr. & Jr., John Herron, George Sisler, and William Turner—the evening's entertainment will include the game at Forbes Field between the Pirates and the New York Giants. Harry "Boots" Snyder is chairman for this annual baseball party.

Remember—informal luncheon at Danny's Restaurant every Tuesday at noon.

BILL RAINES

Philadelphia

On March 29 we held our Founders Day dinner at Houston Hall on the University of Pennsylvania campus. That afternoon the Omega Chapter initiated its pledges and held an Open House following the ceremony for the Delts of the Philadelphia area and the undergraduates from the University of Delaware chapter. It was good to see Dean Schuster and the fine boys from Delta Upsilon again.

Joel Reynolds came down from Boston for the day. He not only attended the initiation ceremonies but also gave a stirring talk on the present-day activities of the Fraternity at large.

We were grateful to Dinner Chairman Ed Noll and the other members of the executive committee who did so much to make the Founders Day dinner such a huge success. We were also indebted to the undergraduates of both universities in attendance for all they did to bring about another successful celebration.

On May 10 we again joined the undergraduates of the Omega Chapter for their annual Spring Outing at the Myers' farm. The actives, who promised to bat left-handed, challenged the oldtimers to a game of baseball. There were many aches and pains the next day.

Recently we have been holding our luncheon meetings at the Omega Shelter on the fourth Tuesday of each month. Post cards have been mailed out as reminders. During the summer the meetings will be discontinued, but they will be resumed in the fall.

ROBERT D. GODFREY, Jr.

Northern Kentucky

Our belated annual Christmas party was held January 27 at The Colonial Inn, which is operated by Johnny Maggio, brother-in-law of Eddie Arcaro, four-time Kentucky Derby winner. All horse lovin' Delts spent part of the evening "talking Derby" with Johnny, who offered the sure winner of the Derby for a Delt pin. (Johnny's still waiting, but he's touting any bangtail that Arcaro is riding to take the Run for the Roses.)

Six Kentucky Delts—Jim Stites, Charles Wooten, Frank Cassidy, Andy Clark, Tom Youtsey, and Cam Coffman—were unexpectedly joined by Brother Elbert DeCoursey at the monthly Kentucky alumni luncheon in March. Brother DeCoursey is Chief of Pathological Services for the U. S. Army and wears the stars of a Brigadier General.

Brother Bill Stegeman and Frau Helen made an amicable house swap recently when Brother Rand Stegeman retired and moved to Florida. That other Stegeman feller, Vint, is getting to be a regular commuter to Switzerland, "messaging up the watch works for Elgin," quipped Brother Fred Stine following Vint's latest jaunt to Europe.

Young Henry "Hank" Stegeman is still "sweating out" his engineering course at Purdue, but drops in on Northern Kentucky now and then. (Free Adv. Dept.) "Hank" is now a partner in a sporting goods store in Covington.

OTHER DELT DOINGS IN NORTHERN KENTUCKY (and that suburb Cincinnati): Johnny Bullock took time out from getting his law partner, Senator Robert Taft, nominated to serve as chairman of the Fine Arts Committee for Cincinnati . . . Brother Bill Schwarberg, one of Northern Kentucky's all-time great athletes, was recently named a member of City of Covington Youth Activities Committee . . . Brother Dick Sullivan, who made an outstanding record while attending Ohio University, is now Lt. Sullivan and is stationed with the Fifth Infantry Division at Indiantown Gap, Pa. . . Plans are being discussed for our summer rush party . . . Although he doesn't know it until he reads it here, Brother Bill Stegeman has been selected as host . . . A steak fry for our Delta Dames is set for sometime in June at Coffman's Mildew Manor, our own lean-to in Mortgage Valley . . . Brother Ollie Hunter is scheduled to wind up his tour of military duty in July . . . Brother Fred Stine and Frau Marj are expecting the arrival of a little Delt or Tri Delt very soon . . . Ditto for Brother Fred Hall and Frau "Finky" . . . They have their hearts set on a girl . . . Brother Fred Tower, Herb Schroth, and Bob Heuck, all of Cincinnati, honored us with their presence at the January party.

This last item is for Brother Tom Leonard, Gamma Lambda, who accused us of never putting his name in THE RAINBOW, even when he married the extremely attractive Peggie Puryear, a Kappa Delta from U.K. He is threatening to get even by buying a lot in Mortgage Valley, just in "insultin' distance" from Mildew Manor.

CAMERON COFFMAN

National Capital

The 93rd Founders Day dinner of the National Capital Alumni Association was held on March 7 in the East Lounge of the National Press Club. One hundred and seventy Deltas were in attendance to hear Brother Jess Larson, Oklahoma, '26, Administrator of General Services Administration, reveal the tremendous responsibilities that are his in the management and disbursement of an appropriation exceeding two and a quarter billions of dollars annually. The assembled Deltas were impressed with Brother Larson's sincerity of purpose as disclosed by his forthright discussion of the complex problems of government from an attorney's point of view. They now know why Brother Larson has become one of the outstanding public officials in such a short time—highly respected by Democrats and Republicans alike.

This year's dinner was dedicated to those Deltas engaged in the practice of law both in and out of government. Seated at the head table were Oliver Hoyem, Columbia, '16, president of the National Capital Alumni Association; Raymond R. Dickey, George Washington, '38, general chairman of the dinner committee and toastmaster; A. Bruce Bielaski, George Washington, '04, past president of the Fraternity; Robert N. Anderson, George Washington, '21, past president of the Federal Bar Association; Frank Shelton, Cincinnati, '28, Secretary of the Fraternity; Hon. Jackson E. Betts, Kenyon, '26, congressman from Ohio, and Richard D. Daniels, George Washington, '09, prominent local attorney.

A brief entertainment program featuring Ralph Wray, Colorado, '20, and George A. Degnan, George Washington, '17, preceded the presentation of plaques to outstanding undergraduates at Delaware, George Washington, and Maryland Universities. This year's awards went to Thomas F. O'Donnell, Delta Upsilon, '52, Roy R. Schlemmer, Jr., Gamma Eta, '52, and William G. Bastedo, Delta Sigma, '52. Brother Bielaski of the Distinguished Service Chapter Committee presented a framed Citation and recognition pin to the secretary of the N.C.A.A.

Officers for the year 1952-53 were unanimously elected by acclamation as follows: William T. Sheris, Pittsburgh, '41, president; Dr. John A. Swartwout, George Washington, '32, vice-president; Ronald Fett, North Dakota, '48, treasurer; and Robert E. Newby, George Washington, '24, secretary. The executive committee will be C. Burr Christopher, George Washington, '28, Raymond R. Dickey, George Washington, '38, Oliver Hoyem, Columbia, '16, E. Riggs Monfort, Kenyon, '30, and Rhessa M. Norris, George Washington, '14.

Additional details and names of those in attendance at the dinner will be set forth in the next issue of the NATIONAL CAPITAL DELT which is distributed regularly to our mailing list of over 1,000 Deltas. A number of Washington Deltas are already making their plans to attend the 61st Karnea where they can renew those fraternal associations of the past and establish new ones. This year's Karnea has an added attraction in the person of Kyle Worley, its general chairman, a native Washingtonian who took up residence in Detroit after graduating with the class of '27 at Michigan.

ROBERT E. NEWBY

Montgomery

The last meeting was held at Montgomery's Press and Radio Club. For an infant organization such as ours, it was very encouraging to see brothers from Maxwell Air Force Base in our midst as well as all the local, more permanent residents.

After a delicious T-bone the meeting was called to order by Club President Bob Jones. The progress being made by The Crescent Club, a colony located at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama, was discussed. It was concluded that the men over there have done, and are doing, a magnificent job. We hope to see them granted a charter at the next Arch Chapter meeting.

The program for the meeting was the showing of a baseball film of the play-off games between the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers and high lights of the World Series.

Three charter members of Alabama's only Delt chapter, Delta Eta at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, are also charter members of the Montgomery Alumni Chapter. They are Roy E. Hicks, Fox Harmon, and Sherwood Holmes. It's always consoling to hear them talk about old times, when fraternity organization was really rough going.

Spring being here, quite naturally our thoughts are turned toward a function appropriate to the season. Plans are being made for a lawn party to be attended by all Montgomery alumni members and Montgomery Deltas enrolled at the University of Alabama and Auburn.

ALBERT M. MIDDLETON

Los Angeles

The Los Angeles Alumni Chapter has enjoyed outstanding monthly luncheons since the start of the year.

The Annual Past Presidents' Luncheon in January was attended by 21 past presidents of the association. It was indeed an auspicious occasion. In February, with arrangements being handled by Delta Pi Chapter, Professor Gage of the University of Southern California delivered a talk on Abraham Lincoln, during which he molded the head of Lincoln with its changes during the years. A March luncheon featured a discussion on the subject of the removal of constitutional restrictions on membership, and, needless to say, spirited arguments were developed. It is planned that the April luncheon, under the direction of Nat Fitts, will feature the Olympic Games, and will include motion pictures with sound of local track and field events.

The Annual Founders Day Banquet was held at the close of the Western Division Regional Conference in Los Angeles, and approximately 200 loyal Deltas attended and thoroughly enjoyed the evening. At this meeting, awards were presented. Howard D. Mills gave an impressive talk on the subject of Delta Tau Delta, and entertainment and fellowship abounded.

ARCH R. TUTHILL

Long Beach

The Evening Stag on March 31 was the first get-together for 1952. Dr. George W. McDonald read Memorials of John G. Spielman, of Omicron Chapter, and William N. Deatherage, of Gamma Kappa Chapter. Russell H. Pray delivered an honorarium to Robert Baird Taplin, Beta Eta, for having served most devotedly Delta Tau Delta during his 50 years as a distinguished member. "Bob" continues his great enthusiasm and unselfish service to all Deltas.

Guest speakers were: Richard Rundle, president of the Delta Iota Chapter; Tracy St. John, president of Delta Pi Chapter; our beloved Daniel Webster Ferguson; and Robert L. Meyer, president of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter.

Other guests were: Don Black, Delta Iota; Ed Johnson, Delta Pi; and Elkan "Buck" H. Powell, Gamma Alpha. The 39 enthusiastic Deltas present were: "Bob" Parmenter, secretary-treasurer of the Long Beach Alumni Chapter; Paul W. Hiller, vice-president, Long Beach Alumni Chapter; Dr. Dennis V. Smith, Paul F. Hardie, Thurlow B. Drake, John C. Dodd, George Dale Brown, Richard F. Carr, Robert J. Corbet, Frank M. Cookson, Clifford N. English, Samuel A. Erskine, William A. Goggin, Ray O. Gould, Dr. George B. Hanson, Keaton K. King, Robert J. Lahey, Charles B. Martz, George W. McDonald, D.D., Frank A. Neer, Dr. Curtis R. Paxman, Russell H. Pray, Harvey Barton Smith, Edwin S. Thomas, A. Ames Tuthill, Carl A. Trexel, Harold S. Tucker, Charles E. Wardman, C. Wayne Wright, Elkan H. Powell, Benjamin T. Laughlin, Daniel Webster Ferguson, Richard Rundle, Donald Black, Tracy St. John, Ed Johnson, Robert L. Meyer, Robert Baird Taplin, and Victor A. Mingers.

The President's Committee is hopefully planning a future Ladies and Guests Nite with a distinguished guest Delt speaker, for the Monday evening of May 26. As soon as arrangements are definitely made, an announcement will come forth to those on the mailing list. It is sincerely hoped that every Delt living within comfortable travel distance of Long Beach will please voluntarily send his full name, chapter, college, and year, residence address and telephone, and business address and telephone to "Bob" Parmenter, secretary-treasurer, at his office, 5313 East Second Street, Long Beach 3, California; telephone, L.B. 8-3411.

Please know that there is a Delt fourth Thursday noon luncheon table at the University Club of Long Beach, top floor, Lafayette Hotel.

VICTOR A. MINGERS

Lexington

From capsules to crankcase to calipers—Delts in and around Lexington now seem to be covering just about all trades and professions. Just name it, and you can get service.

Along with operating a fertilizer business, Ike Moore has become part owner and president of Smith-Watkins Hardware Store. William Patterson is ditto with Lexington U. S. Tire Company. Penrose Ecton has gone in for farm implements. Finley and Bruce Davis peddle coal from the family mines. Preston Price is in the television trade.

Jim Darnaby, current Lexington alumni president, is district boss for Standard Oil. Jack Crain knows all and tells all about automobile insurance. Bill Curry helps operate the family drug store. Elliott Peel is advertising manager for Stewart's new store in Lexington. Russ Lutes owns two furniture stores. Tom Sawyer is with Cranfill-Frey, supplying furnaces and tin-work.

Bill Greathouse, Jim Shropshire, Carrick Shropshire, and Coleman Smith are farming, with Smith also giving some time to the Goodwin Automobile Agency. In the U. K. College of Agriculture are Richard C. Miller (sheep) and Ed Johnson (plant diseases), and still teaching engineering at U. K. is Prof. R. D. Hawkins, who recently was made a Kentucky colonel after serving 24 years on the city planning and zoning commission.

Hoot Combs still does some radio talking, but recently passed the state bar exam and is practicing law here, joining such other Delt barristers as Dan Fowler, Neil Sullivan, Angus McDonald, and Bob Odear.

J. B. and Frank Faulconer ride the air lanes for a local station. Chuck Bohmer operates a flying service at the local airport. Ned Turnbull is running the W. T. Sistrunk Company, a wholesale grocery business. Dr. Jack Floyd keeps busy doctoring. Zellner Peal is an insurance expert. Bill Schimmel continues to hold out against letting anyone have his job as night clerk at the Lafayette Hotel. Carlisle Myers deals in gasoline and petroleum products.

Is there any way to get a local Delt to become director of the mint or take over as custodian of the Fort Knox gold vaults?

LAURENCE SHROPSHIRE

Kansas City

The Kansas City Alumni Chapter is growing with rapidity under the able direction of its president, Kenneth C. Johnson. New social functions are being added to the calendar and the turnout for the weekly luncheons (Thursday, University Club) has been gratifying. Many new faces are being seen every Thursday, which demonstrates the growth of interest in Delta Tau Delta in this area. We would like to see many more; so if you are in the Kansas City territory on Thursday, drop around to the University Club—we welcome all.

In February we held the annual election of officers. Re-elected were Kenneth C. Johnson, president, and William French, treasurer. New officers were Hugh Hartley, vice-president, and your writer, Buck Neel, as corresponding secretary. The election was held at the Wishbone—a restaurant catering to the fried chicken fanciers.

Undoubtedly the most significant event in this quarter (and rightfully so) was the Founders Day Banquet. It was also held at the Wishbone (we love fried chicken), Friday night, March 28. In connection with the banquet, 55 brothers turned out at the American Red Cross headquarters that afternoon to donate their blood. A great deal of advance publicity was given this event on all local radio stations and the city's only TV station—WDAF-TV. This idea originated at Gamma Tau on the suggestion of President Tom White. It was a fitting preliminary to the Founders Day Banquet and Gamma Tau deserves our heartiest congratulations.

Approximately 160 Delts representing 15 chapters of Delta Tau Delta attended the banquet. Kenneth Johnson introduced Mr. Bill Hornbuckle as master of ceremonies. Mr. Hornbuckle in turn introduced guests and speakers. National Prexy Martin Dickinson made a few well chosen remarks; we are always honored to have him with us. Mr. John Nichols, Western Division President, gave the main address of the evening. His talk was of extreme interest to everyone and we are looking forward to a repeat performance.

Another high light of the evening was the competition between the Baker, Missouri, and K. U. chapters for the cup awarded for the best skit. The writer was very happy that he was not one of the judges because the decision was unquestionably difficult. The Missouri chapter won with a very fine skit appealing to the generosity of the alumni chapter. However, all chapters are to be complimented for the work put in and originality shown in their presentations.

The Kansas City Alumni Chapter wishes to thank Delt Milton C. Tainter, executive director, American Red Cross, Kansas City, for his efforts in setting up the blood donor program. It is always nice to have a friend in high office.

Future plans of the Kansas City chapter include an informal party (with wives and dates) in June and the annual rush party this summer. The year-around functions at the present number four, including the two just mentioned—two with the fair sex and two stag affairs. We believe this program will serve to get everyone better acquainted and in turn heighten interest. If you haven't already done so, jump on the bandwagon with the KC Delts—glad to have you aboard!

BUCK NEEL

Indianapolis

Founders Day dinner and dance, February 23, climaxed five weeks of Tuesday luncheons honoring state Delt chapters. Presidents of active groups attended and gave a report on the activities and honors of each group—a state of chapter speech.

Beta Zeta members turned out in force for their special luncheon with the quartet singing. The well-known quartet of 20 year's ago gave several numbers, proving most things improve with age.

Congratulations go to Lloyd Rossebo, BA, '39, and his committee for having an unusually large attendance of actives and alumni at the Founders Day dinner. John Barney, BZ, '31, served as toastmaster, with Mayor Alex M. Clark, BB, and BA, '37, as speaker.

Chapter stunt and attendance awards went to Beta Beta, DePauw University, with Beta Zeta, Butler, receiving honorable mention. During the dance intermission, Don Schlademan, BZ, '52, and Ross Copeland, BZ, '53, gave impersonations of Deltas from other parts of the country.

Indianapolis members are looking forward to their summer golf tournaments. Weekly luncheons will continue each Tuesday at the Warren Hotel, with special luncheons being held occasionally. Fran Hughes, M, '31, president, is planning a father and son luncheon soon. Any Delt in Indianapolis on Tuesday is urged to attend the luncheons.

BILL HUTCHISON

Houston

A Founders Day observance was held at the Sam Houston Steak House on Thursday, April 17, the feature talk being made by Silas Ragsdale, Sr., who gave some of the history of Delta Tau Delta and particularly touched on the history of Texas' only active chapter, Gamma Iota. About 30 Deltas were in attendance.

There are 29 dues-paying members of the Houston Chapter at this writing with Secretary Jack Ewing predicting that the total will soon reach 50. The monthly luncheons (Houston Club, second Fridays) have been attracting an average of about 20 men, this number having increased since Otto Wymer took over the helm.

Planned programs have helped in this regard. In February, Delt John Barrett, an otolaryngologist, described and presented slides on a comparatively new ear operation developed to relieve a certain type of deafness.

The March group heard a report from John Fry on the Houston alumni visit March 9 to Austin for a Gamma Iota initiation. Eight men made the trip and witnessed the initiation of 17 men, including President Ott Wymer's son, John. Brother Fry praised the reception extended by the actives and commended the proficient ritualistic ceremony which was the high light of the visit.

Following a request from the active chapter, the Houston group has contributed $30 toward a Texas Delt Directory, this compilation to contain the names and addresses of all Deltas now residing in Texas.

Houston has issued its own directory, the first in about three years. It also has started publication of a monthly bulletin, tentatively titled "Delt Doings" which is being edited by David Evans. This mimeographed sheet appears just in advance of the monthly luncheons and serves to carry the announcement of the set program as well as listing some of the activities of Houston Deltas.

Plans are being made to sponsor summer rush parties to assist Gamma Iota and other active chapters in pledging good men from the Houston area. Houston is quite well represented at this time in Gamma Iota.

SILAS B. RAGSDALE

Greater New York

Reservation problems forced the postponement of our Founders Day Banquet for 1952. Thus, at this writing, we can only report our plans. In the next RAINBOW, we feel sure that we will be able to report one of the most successful affairs ever.

Friday, April 25, is the big day for New York Deltas. The banquet will be held at the Williams Club, scene of many successful luncheon meetings. Our principal speaker is Representative Jackson Betts (R., Ohio), graduate of Kenyon College and Yale Law School. After Brother Betts' talk, we all expect to know just what makes official Washington tick.

This being an election year, political discussion has been banned. However, just to be on the safe side, members will be requested to check all deadly weapons at the door.

The regular uptown luncheon meeting, on April 7, featured a talk by Brother Frank Shelton, Secretary of the Arch Chapter, and was very well attended. Incidentally, in an effort to build up luncheon attendance, President Cal Sindair has instituted an impressive, "sliding-scale" method of scheduling: Monday, one month; Tuesday, the next; then Wednesday, Thursday, and so on. Since Cal employs a correction factor when holidays are involved, members are advised to depend on the regular postcard notices for the official luncheon dates. If you are not getting the notices, notify the writer c/o Westinghouse, 40 Wall St., N. Y. C. (5).

Downtown luncheon attendance (first Tuesday) continues good, but there is always room for more: Chamber of Commerce Building, 65 Liberty Street, 1:00 p.m.

TOM FARRAHY

Findlay

The Findlay, Ohio, Deltas have recently reorganized and are moving into high gear to be of assistance to nearby Delta Tau Chapter.

At a luncheon meeting held March 10, over 75 per cent of the membership turned out to elect new officers and to discuss plans for the coming year. Dr. John Gee, chapter adviser of Delta Tau Chapter, Bowling Green State University, was the guest of honor.

Plans are underway for Findlay Deltas to visit the nearby chapter. Delta Tau Chapter is graciously extending invitations to individual Delt alumni in the area and their wives to visit the Shelter for dinner. The plan has been enthusiastically received by the local Deltas.

A summer rushing party is being planned, and particular attention will be paid to co-operating with Ohio chapters in their rushing programs.

Denver

A very successful Founders Day celebration launched the Denver Alumni Chapter on its way toward a promising year. The banquet, arranged by Ross Oliver, drew almost 150 alumni and actives from Beta Kappa. Ben Hilliard was a fine toastmaster. The program was arranged by Piet Hondius for the alums and Scott Smith for the actives. The following alumni officers were elected: president, Ross Oliver; vice-president, Allan Vickers; secretary-treasurer, Bob Hiester.

The entertainment, provided by the actives from Boulder, featured a Western band and several musical numbers. The actives climaxed the evening with a remarkable skit which resulted in only very minor damage to the ceiling of the banquet hall.

Any Deltas in the Denver area who were not contacted about Founders Day are urged to get in touch with Ross Oliver, 624 17th Street, or Robert Hiester, 3415 Ash Street.

JOHN F. FALKENBERG

Columbus

On Saturday, April 26, 1952, the Columbus Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta united with the Ohio State Beta Phi Chapter to make the 1952 observance of Founders Day the most memorable Ohio Delt function since the 60th Karnea. There were representatives from many of the chapters all over Ohio. A formal initiation was held in the afternoon at the Beta Phi house to which alumni were invited, followed in the evening by a dinner-dance at the Ft. Hayes Army-Navy Club, at which Jimmy Frank's orchestra furnished rhythmic music. Everyone who attended had a wonderful time.

We are very proud of Ed West, Ohio Wesleyan, '23, vice-president and treasurer of the Farm Bureau Insurance Company, who was recently elected to the Arch Chapter, where he will serve as Secretary of Alumni. Congratulations to both Ed and the Fraternity!

Felicitations are also in order to "Hub" Sherry, O.S.U., '51, who married Gertrude Elizabeth Sullivan on February 23, in New York City; to Blaine Loudon, O.S.U., '52, who married Sally Newell in Cincinnati; to Beta Phi Prexy, Allan Gulkar, for slipping a ring on Janis Welch's finger; to John Winter, O.S.U., '38, named regional branch manager of Occidental Life of California; and to Lowell Christman, Ohio Wesleyan, '30; Bill Reynolds, Maine, '17; and Don Wolpert, O.S.U., '40, all of whom recently completed building beautiful new homes.

When you are next in Columbus, we cordially invite you to attend our weekly noonday luncheons at the University Club, 40 S. Third St. The food and fellowship are unexcelled.

J. DEAN STRAUSBAUGH

Cleveland

Under the able leadership of President Bill Howard, the Cleveland Alumni Chapter is enjoying a highly successful year. The luncheon meetings held every Friday at the Nanking Restaurant are well attended and our special events have been received with interest and enthusiasm.

Nearly two hundred Deltas attended the annual meeting and Founders Day Banquet held on February 22 at the Tudor Arms Hotel. Reviving our old tradition, this was a combined function of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter and the Zeta Chapter initiation celebration. Brother Loring Gelbach, president of the Central National Bank of Cleveland, was the main speaker of the evening. The portion of his address in which he told of participation in a European tour by American bankers was tremendously interesting, and his inspiring and beautiful remarks devoted to Delta Tau Delta held everyone enthralled and gave us all a renewed pride in our Fraternity.

During the business session, with Brother Gordon Nichols at the helm of the steamroller, the following officers were elected for the Cleveland Alumni Chapter: president, William R. Howard; vice-president, George Kratt; treasurer, Harlow Greenwood; and secretary, Randall Ruhlman.

Our plans for the summer include a dinner and night ball game, a golf tournament, and a family picnic. Each of these events will combine a social event with a rushing party.

All Deltas in the Cleveland area are cordially invited to affiliate with our alumni chapter, to attend the luncheon meetings, and to participate in our social functions.

RANDALL M. RUHLMAN

Cincinnati

The Cincinnati Alumni Chapter started out the year 1952 in fine style by unlimbering the winter-soft muscles at a Bowling Party at the Cincinnati Club. Youth proved no advantage for such "old birds" as Ed Hoffeld, Meritt "Dick" Farrell and Fred Tower, as they showed the "young bloods," Clyde Haehnle, Bob Garbutt and Dick Reiman, how it was done. About 40 were in attendance and quite a few stayed on for cards and talk to the wee hours. We of the Cincinnati area are happy to welcome two recent graduates of Miami University, Bill Sasser and Stewart Proctore, into the fellowship.

During March, the alumni, led by Toastmaster Clifford Mueller, Gamma Xi,

'38, and Speaker John R. Bullock, Delta Epsilon, '28, a prominent Cincinnati lawyer, welcomed the new initiates of the 94th, 95th, and 96th initiations of Gamma Xi Chapter into the Fraternity at an Initiation Banquet held at the Delta Shelter, March 16, 1952. John Petzhold, Gamma Xi, '21, led the "walk-around" and the singing of "Delta Shelter."

If you are not now on the mailing list and live in the Cincinnati area, please drop a card to the secretary, Richard Reiman, 6725 Hampton Drive, Silverton 36, Ohio. Watch for the announcement for the April and May meetings.

RICHARD REIMAN

Chicago

In spite of a small blizzard in Chicago, 73 members of the Chicago Alumni Chapter, and Gamma Beta and Beta Pi, undergraduate chapters, braved the elements to meet Saturday, March 8, for the annual Founders Day Banquet. Through the cordial hospitality of Karl Digel, the Union League Club was our destination, and long before the dinner was served we were enjoying the fellowship of renewing old friendships, making new friends, and raising our voices in good songs.

During the short business meeting conducted by Acting President Frank Bagamery, the alumni chapter elected the following as officers for 1952-53: John P. Roddy, Jr., president; Ralph Olson, vice-president; David B. Rogers, secretary; and Branwell D. Fanning, treasurer.

With our great interest and attention focused on the coming primary elections, we were fortunate to have as our honored guest, William N. Erickson, Gamma Beta, President of the Cook County Board, and candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. "Bill" reminisced about his experiences with Deltism and gave us a straight-from-the-shoulder report on local politics.

The new officers have been meeting to plan activities for the coming year and one fact is apparent; to publicize the events adequately we must make a mailing to all the Deltas in the Chicagoland area. Please pay your $3.00 dues promptly to Bran Fanning, Cartan Travel Bureau, 104 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, and make sure we have your latest address.

Interested in bridge? Politics? Sailing?

We've been having some doggone good discussions of these subjects each Monday noon in Hardings, 7th floor, The Fair Store. Why not come; we'd like to see you.

DAVE ROGERS

Boston

Our Thursday luncheon spot has been held down by the regulars the past few months. We were very glad to welcome the following newcomers: Bill McCabe of Beta Chi Chapter, a partner of McCabe-Partenheimer Company in this area; John Lyman of Beta Chi, also in these parts and working for Massachusetts Gear & Tool Company; Bill Searle, Jr., of Phi Chapter, presently doing graduate work in naval architecture at M.I.T., and still in the Navy.

We welcome all Deltas in this area to meet with us at our Thursday luncheons.

Our traveling ambassador of good will, Joe Reynolds, recently made a short trip to the Omega Chapter initiation, and also was the principal speaker at the Philadelphia Founders Day dinner. He also was the main speaker at the recent Gamma Zeta and Beta Mu initiations.

Chalmers A. (Jasper) Peairs, of Gamma Delta, a regular attendant at our Thursday luncheons, has recently been appointed vice-president of the Eastern Division in charge of all New England chapters. Jasper is a professor of law at Boston University Law School.

RUDY HELGESON

Boise Valley

The annual election of officers was held on February 6 at a special meeting. The new officers for the Boise Valley Alumni Chapter were elected by unanimous vote: president, "Al" Kiser, Boise attorney; vice-president, "Wiff" Janssen, radio sports and news editor; secretary-treasurer, "Chick" Donaldson, Boise attorney; corresponding secretary, "Maury" Byrne, Idaho Power Company engineer. The outgoing officers were: president, Jack Haymond, Baxter Foundry Company chief engineer; vice-president, "Vin" Matthews, owner and operator of the Vista Theater (the best sound in town—double feature every night); secretary-treasurer, "Larry" Thielke, manager of the Chattin Ditcher Company. Others attending meetings this quarter were "Joe" Jesseph, manager at Western Bearings, Inc., "Russ" Viehweg,

M. E. BYRNE

Atlanta

The Atlanta Alumni Chapter held its annual Founders Day Banquet on March 21 at Peacock Alley Restaurant. It was attended by about 50 of the alumni as well as members of the active chapters of Georgia Tech and Emory.

The high light of the occasion was an address by Brother Marion Coley, newly elected President of the Southern Division of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. Brother Coley spoke on the conditions of the active chapters in his Division, expressing delight with the over-all progress being made by most of the chapters.

Following Brother Coley's talk, the meeting became a sort of question and answer forum which gave us the chance to become better informed with Delt conditions. One of the most interesting developments was a discussion of the possibility of a Karnea being held in Atlanta or some other Southern locality in the foreseeable future. It was the general opinion that this would tend to show the remarkable growth of Delta Tau Delta in the South, and its value to the Fraternity.

LOUIE LATHAM, JR.

Ashtabula County

The last meeting of the Ashtabula County Delta Tau Delta Alumni Chapter was held on the evening of January 16, at Stone's Long Beach. About 20 members, representing two-fifths of the Delt alumni in this area, attended this evening meeting. A fine dinner, during which a short business session was held, was followed by songs and reminiscing. The fine voices of Al Lewis and Jack Cummings lead the group in Delt songs both old and new.

Our next meeting, during which there will be election of officers, will be held at The Swallows on Wednesday evening, April 9.

Among the personals, we can report that Jim Maynard has been called to active duty in the U. S. Naval Reserve, while Bud Sites has completed his tour of duty with the Navy and has returned to civilian life. Bud was married a short time ago to an Army nurse who at last report was still in the service but expects to join Bud in the not too far distant future. We also welcome a new alumni member, Norman Petite, who has recently become a resident of Ashtabula.

C. L. HUGHES

Akron

January 16 marked the first meeting of the year with more new faces being present. Robert Stopher, Beta Psi, associate editor of the Akron Beacon Journal, gave a talk on "Constitutional Conventions of the State of Ohio." An interesting discussion followed, led by the legal minds present. On February 19 the talk was by John N. Hart, Beta Phi, economist with the B. F. Goodrich Company on "Business and Economic Trends." March 19 Harold Wies, Gamma Pi, superintendent of the Quaker Oats Company, spoke about the history and workings of his concern, distributing its numerous products and methods of production. The Quaker Oats Company had its beginning here in the city of Akron. At present, we are looking forward to the combined dinner meeting of the Akron alumni and the members of Delta Omega Chapter at Kent State University in May. Also for the future there are plans going ahead for a summer outing.

WALTER E. FRITSCH, Indiana, '96, a former vice-president of the St. Louis Browns baseball team, died January 27, 1952, in St. Louis.

Mr. Fritsch was one of the founders of the Missouri Athletic Club in St. Louis. From 1916 to 1935 he was associated with the late Phil Ball in the ownership and management of the Browns.

WALTER B. NISSLEY, Penn State, '10, house corporation treasurer of Tau Chapter, died April 6, 1952. Mr. Nissley was chapter adviser at the Penn State chapter for many years and a member of the local fraternity, Alpha Kappa Delta, which became a unit of Delta Tau Delta when the chapter was re-established at Penn State in 1912.

A member of the Distinguished Service Chapter, Mr. Nissley was always intensely loyal to the Fraternity and was greatly pleased that he could take a more active part in the activities at Tau Chapter as house corporation treasurer after his retirement from the Penn State faculty in February, 1947, where he served for 31 years.
