Hewitt, Wisconsin, '02, former Arch Chapter member, who attended his 17th Karnea to retain his title of Chief of the Kennel of Karnea Hounds. With him is the runner-up, former President Norman MacLeod, Pittsburgh, '17, who attended his 15th Karnea.

The Mackinac Story

—Our 61st Karnea and How It Grew

WE WERE JUST coming out of the Grand Hotel dining room when it happened.

I was letting out my belt a notch or two to make more room for the Grand's 13-course (or was it 14?) dinner. One of the Karnea Hounds was brushing from his vest a bit of pommes de terre au gratin, which looked suspiciously like potato. And the delegate from Oklahoma had just made some remark about hoping that the brandy sauce which came with the dessert would not be detected on his breath.

At this exact moment, the combination flying wedge and snake dance which is known in Deltdom as the Choctaw Walk-Around nearly bowled us over.

The sight of the ancient rite took me back a few years, but not enough to risk a dislocated vertebra. Hoping to pass as a more or less regular guest of the hotel, I began a studious scrutiny of the wallpaper.

But something about my rear view gave me away—perhaps it was the posterior shine, or the belted-back sport coat. In any event, the Choctaws were not to be denied. The spell of Koshgantz was on them, and they seized us brusquely. Before we quite knew what had happened, there we were—inextricably part and parcel of a long, weaving mass of college spirit that wound its way through the hotel lobby.

Such things have a way of getting under your skin. Within five seconds our "Wahnehee, Wahneho" was as loud as the others.

Even so, we could not help wondering how our demonstration would affect other alumni. Just then we saw them—Norman MacLeod, Hugh Shields, President Martin Dickinson, et al.—swept along with the tide and hanging on for dear life to the shoulders in front of them.

Well—even so, how would this affront to the austere propriety of the Grand Hotel strike Chief Weygandt? Then we saw him. The Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, right in the middle of the swarm, somehow preserving the judicial dignity—and enjoying himself more than anyone!

That settled it. The reserve of maturity melted away, while "Wahnehee" gathered momentum.

Once through the lobby we trailed, then onto the spacious veranda. At the head of the procession was Harley Carpenter, of old Alpha, his straw hat at a rakish angle, a beatific smile on his countenance.

Swelling out into the darkness, the rhythmic chant cascaded down the island's terrace and broke against its dense growth of pine. In the gloom of cypress and hemlock, where centuries before the redmen buried their great warriors, one could almost imagine that ghosts of Chippewa and Algonquian waved back a shadowy salute to the spirit of modern Choctaw.

There must have been almost 400 Deltas in the procession by the time it spilled into the driveway, with nearly as many bald and greying heads as there were crew cuts. And, say, did you ever hear the Choctaw chant played on a violin? Then you should have been there, for the leader of the hotel's orchestra was swept up in the surge, and he brought up the rear, to keep us on pitch with a string "Wahnehee" that would have sent Fritz Kreisler running for cover.

That's the greatest Walk-Around we've ever seen. It would probably still be routing the Chippewas out of their graves if it hadn't started to rain. As it was, even the Alpha boys weren't going to court pneumonia for the sake of old Koshgantz.

But if you think these Deltas let it go at that, you haven't reckoned with the great God Carneus. We massed in the lobby for the final Whoopla Ree, while the hotel clerks cast apprehensive glances at the cut-glass chandeliers.

They could have been spared the trouble, however, for the Choctaws, though high-spirited, were only warming up for a choral clambake. They stayed in the lobby, their arms around

* * *

No doubt you wonder what this incident has to do with reporting the Sixty-first Karnea of Delta Tau Delta. It has everything to do with it. It is the very essence, the heart of the Mackinac Karnea.

Put it something like this: A Karnea is more than the resolutions that are adopted, the motions that are passed, the speeches that are made, the awards that are presented. A Karnea is, in reality, an expression of the national character of Delta Tau Delta.

And there was about that Walk-Around and its aftermath a spontaneity and a warmth that summarizes more dramatically than any journal of proceedings the fraternal spirit which pervaded the 61st Karnea.

In the faces of both the young and the older men you could see it—a sudden realization of the splendid concept of Fraternity. Here were representatives of the finest youth from 83 colleges in the United States and Canada, finding the strong bond of common ideals and giving it voluble expression. Here also were their elders, helping them discover this experience, sharing it with them. Here, indeed, was the voice of the Karnea.

MANY KARNEA HOUNDS

Actually, the spirit which motivated the 61st Karnea was in evidence from the opening day, Sunday, August 31, to the final day, Wednesday, September 3. The Delts' invasion of Mackinac Island was accompanied by precipitation—even the delegates from California had to admit that it was quite a rain—which only made it easier for Delts to get acquainted with one another.

By Sunday afternoon, we could see that registration was going well over the 400 mark, which is really quite a tribute to the magnetism of a Karnea when you consider the tremendous distances involved. Traveling-distance laurels went to Delta Pi Chapter (U.S.C.), which sent 11 of her loyal sons halfway around the world.

As we got to know each other better, we learned that Judge Harry R. Hewitt, Wisconsin, '02, former Ritualist of the Fraternity, was attending his 17th Karnea, to retain his pleasantly-earned title of Chief of the Kennel of Karnea Hounds. Norman MacLeod, Pittsburgh, '17, past President of the Fraternity, was close at Judge Hewitt's heels with 15 to his credit.

We met other past Presidents, too: A. Bruce Bielaski, N. Ray Carroll, and Charles T. Boyd—all of them high-ranking Hounds. The former Presidents, with their wealth of Fraternity know-how, make major contributions to the Karnea.

There were many more of the Karnea Hounds, and we even discovered that among the Delta Dames there are several whose attendance records qualify them for this select group. Mrs. A. Bruce Bielaski, with ten Karneas, was the female titlist. Both Mrs. Fred C. Tucker and Mrs. Henry G. Hoss have attended seven.

Twenty members of the Distinguished Service Chapter, Delta Tau Delta's loyalty legion, were assembled. Eighty-three undergraduate chapters and 25 alumni chapters were represented by delegates, only Delta Xi at North Dakota on the undergraduate level failing to send a delegate.

Karnea Chairman Kyle Worley arrived early, a genial and ubiquitous host, who gave Delts further reason for being pleased that they had brought the Karnea to Michigan.

Leslie A. Buell, Michigan State, '83, was the oldest Delt in attendance. It was the first Karnea for the spry, 94-year-old gentleman.

One of the most meaningful traditions of the Fraternity was exemplified, as seven father-and-son combinations were posted on the Karnea attendance roster. The partnership of longest standing was composed of Nicolai H. Hiller, Stevens, '89, of Carbondale, Pa., and Paul W. Hiller, Stevens, '18, delegate of the Long Beach, California, Alumni Chapter.

We even had a set of identical twins in John C. Bay, Michigan, '52, and Robert M. Bay, Michigan State, '53. This intelligence may come as a surprise, and a relief, to some who attended and have subsequently consulted an eye doctor.

MODEL INITIATION

If you think we are gradually getting around to saying that this Karnea had everything, you are right. It did.

The program really began, however, with Sunday's main event, the model initiation ceremony, expertly performed by an undergraduate team of Iota Chapter at Michigan State, assisted by Joel W. Reynolds, Vice-President of Delta Tau Delta. The Karnea was so impressed by their portrayal of the Ritual that it passed a resolution expressing real appreciation and urging that the model initiation be made a permanent feature of subsequent Karneas.

On Sunday evening there was ample time for Deltas to become familiar with the American Plan in the Grand Hotel dining room. Looking back on the Karnea, one would almost expect to find a resolution commending the maitre de, for if any superlatives are to be applied to the 61st, certainly it should be recorded as the "eatin'est." It would have done your heart good to see these college boys wade into the menu. The French was no stumbling block. If they couldn't pronounce it, they just said, "I'll take two of these."

By Monday morning the Karnea was prepared to get down to business. President Dickinson, as chairman, plunged into the work at hand and moved the sessions along briskly. His report on the state of the Fraternity, delivered at the morning session, laid the vital issues squarely before the delegates and covered a wide range of information on the programs and purposes of Delta Tau Delta. President Dickinson's report and the reports of the other officers were unanimously adopted.

THEME OF NATIONAL UNITY

Then the work of the Karnea really got under way. Committees went into

SCHOLASTIC AWARDS

Duplicate awards for the chapter attaining the highest scholastic standing for the last biennium (1949-50, 1950-51) were presented to Mu Chapter (Ohio Wesleyan) and Gamma Iota Chapter (Texas) at the 61st Karnea. Such awards are decided on the basis of two factors: the percentage of the chapter's average above the All Men's Average and the chapter's relative rank among the fraternities on its campus.

For the two-year period the two chapters ranked as follows: For 1949-50, Mu was first of 14 fraternities, with a percentage above the A.M.A. of 9.82; Gamma Iota was second of 30 fraternities, with a percentage of 14.51. For 1950-51, Mu was first of 14 fraternities, with a percentage of 20.21; Gamma Iota was third of 30 fraternities, with a percentage of 15.57.

Supervisor of Scholarship Francis M. Hughes also announced Division Scholarship Awards for 1950-51. Mu Chapter won the Northern Division award and Gamma Iota Chapter the Western Division Award with the ranks above stated. The Southern Division award was won by Delta Epsilon Chapter (Kentucky) by ranking second of 22 fraternities on its campus and an average 13.78 per cent above the A.M.A. The Eastern Division award was won by Delta Upsilon Chapter (Delaware), with a rank of first of nine fraternities and a percentage above the A.M.A. of 14.24.

huddles, motions were put before the assemblage, resolutions were discussed, new ideas were advanced. And through all of the deliberations there ran a central theme of harmony, and of fair play, and of looking at each issue not alone from a particular chapter's viewpoint but with a consideration of what is best for Delta Tau Delta as a national organization. As President Dickinson reported, "I am glad to say that Delta Tau Delta is a genuinely national fraternity, throughout the United States and Canada, and that we have no one chapter, nor small group of chapters . . . which, by tradition or otherwise, can claim a controlling voice in our deliberations."

And so the work of the Karnea went forward, for five business sessions in three days. Here are some of the accomplishments:

Following the plan originated at the 60th Karnea, attention was focused sharply on scholarship. As a result, two resolutions which will help determine our course in the next two years were adopted. One commends chapters who have attained scholastic averages which equal or exceed the All Men's Averages of their respective campuses and urges that other chapters "will take adequate measures within their individual groups to raise the average to the level recommended by the Supervisor of Scholarship."

The other resolution provides the tools to implement the Fraternity's goal. It is as follows:

"Resolved, That the Supervisor of Scholarship be and he hereby is authorized and directed from time to time to cite to the Arch Chapter such chapters of the Fraternity who have consistently maintained an unsatisfactory scholastic standing, and that the Arch Chapter be and it hereby is authorized in its discretion to place such chapters on scholastic probation, specifying the terms and conditions upon which the scholarship program of such chapters shall be operated."

A motion to amend the Fraternity's constitutional qualifications for membership was defeated by a vote of nearly 4-to-1 proportions.

PRESIDENT DICKINSON RE-ELECTED

Following the report of the Committee on Nominations, Martin B. Dickinson, Kansas, '26, was re-elected President of the Fraternity for another two-year term. Joel W. Reynolds, Tufts, '23, was also returned for another biennium as Vice-President.

William H. Martindill, Ohio, '32, the immediate past Treasurer, was elected Secretary of Alumni. W. Edgar West, Ohio Wesleyan, '23, who recently served out part of an unexpired term as Secretary of Alumni, was named Treasurer, and John W. Nichols, Oklahoma, '36, former President of the Western Division, moved up to the office of Secretary. Francis M. Hughes, Ohio Wesleyan, '31, continues as Supervisor of Scholarship. All elections were unanimous.

The report of the Committee on Time and Place evoked the customary lively discussion. The Karnea considered invitations from three localities: Houston, Texas; Swampscott, Massachusetts; and the Southern California area. Sectional loyalties were briefly given free rein, with some entertaining moments for the delegates. Someone from Oklahoma had the temerity to suggest that Texas might warm up a bit uncomfortably in the summer. This allegation was vehemently denounced by the Lone Star delegation, with the good-natured footnote, "Besides, I don't like anybody from Oklahoma talking about Texas."

In the end, the land of sunshine and oranges won out. The 62nd Karnea will be held in the latter part of June, 1954, in a location somewhere within the boundaries of Southern California.

PUBLIC RELATIONS STRESSED

As a part of the regular business program, a panel of experts from business and industry presented a forum on public relations for the Fraternity.

Chapters were urged to set up within their own ranks a regular committee which devises and executes a program of constructive public relations.

Norman MacLeod, vice-president of Ketchum and MacLeod, a Pittsburgh public relations and advertising firm, was chairman of the panel. Other members were Lee T. Sellars, Ohio, '31, manager of the Pittsburgh office of Hill and Knowlton, Inc., public relations counselors; Gerald A. Harshman, W. & J., '30, editor and publisher of the Sharon Herald, Sharon, Pa.; William P. Raines, Pittsburgh, '48, staff member of the public relations department of Koppers Company, Pittsburgh; and William M. Hutchison, DePauw, '20; Indiana, '22, vice-president of Keeling & Co., Indianapolis advertising agency.

The benefit of this discussion was officially recognized by the adoption of a resolution of appreciation "for their [members of the panel] valuable suggestions as to the manner of presentation to the public of the many good things in the fraternity system."

Other resolutions were also adopted which (1) affirmed the Karnea's faith in the values of chapter singing and urged wider dissemination of good Delt songs "in firming chapter spirit and fostering national unity"; (2) recommended an extension of the field secretarial system; (3) commended the Arch Chapter on the Fraternity's wise program of expansion.

Another resolution recorded the Fraternity's great loss in the death of Delegates got acquainted quickly at the Karnea in bull sessions such as this one. Chapters ranging from Sewanee to Oregon to Cornell are represented in this shot.

Rain put an end to the Walk-Around, but it couldn't quell the group singing, pictured here, which continued for some time in the hotel lobby.

WORKSHOPS OF CHAPTER MANAGEMENT

On Monday and Tuesday afternoons instructive round tables, workshops of chapter operation, were held.

Each round-table group was moderated by one alumnus and two undergraduates. Alumnus moderators included: Warner D. Orvis, Cornell, '06; Frank M. Mallett, Kenyon, '34; Edwin L. Heminger, Ohio Wesleyan, '48; Edwin H. Hughes, III, DePauw, '43; Treasurer William H. Martindill; and Supervisor of Scholarship Francis M. Hughes.

The undergraduate moderators were: John G. Miller, Ohio; John L. Stephens, DePauw; J. Dean Davidson, Georgia Tech; Robert E. Stufflebam, Westminster; George D. Oetting, Lawrence; Phillip S. Bursett, Washington; Robert G. Rutishauser, Cornell; E. Keith Skalla, Nebraska; Thomas Y. Martin, Kentucky; Robert B. Peacock, Colorado; Robert L. Drake, Ohio Wesleyan; and Michael L. McGee, Oklahoma.

DELT AMATEUR HOUR

If the work of the Karnea was intense, however, so was the fun.

Take Monday night, for instance. The bill of fare called it the "Undergraduate Entertainment Program," but it was more than that.

The Karnea Committee had rounded up for Master of Ceremonies Ernie Miller the best undergraduate talent available, including the Delta Chapter Chorus and Quartet. They looked like a serious, steady crew. Which only goes to show that you can't tell a book by its jacket, or a piano player by the company he keeps. Even Ernie hadn't anticipated the comedy which rocked the hall.

Ray Fitch, Minnesota, led off with a piano selection. Intentionally or otherwise, he made a few mistakes. The humor of his commentary and introduction of the encore got the concert off to a rollicking start. The Michigan quartet, composed of Dick Gess, Jack Bay, Gerry VanSyoc, and Carl Hedner, followed with some more of the same and ultimately settled down to their task—to stand the audience on its ear with superlative barbershop harmonies.

Like the Karnea, the entertainment program had both variety and a change of pace. George Oetting, Lawrence, performed some amazing feats of magic, with the help of Don Van Buren and his colorful Seminole jacket. Ron Rice, Kent, with his rich baritone treatment of such ballads as "Night and Day," made the Delta Dames wonder what they had ever seen in Frank Sinatra. George Goodnight, Butler, exhibited good modern technique with piano interpretations of popular tunes.

from that performance prouder than ever that we could claim their achievement as a hallmark of Delta Tau Delta.

By Wednesday, the final day, events were rushing to a swift climax. The Karnea photograph, postponed a day on account of cloudy skies, was snapped at 12:00 m. (See the results on the back cover.) KARNEA BANQUET

Mr. Gilley assumed office September

Supervisor of Scholarship Francis Hughes made the initial presentation of a biennial scholastic award established by the 60th Karnea. The award is to be given at each Karnea to the undergraduate chapter which achieves the best scholastic record for the two-year period between Karneas. Since official standings for the academic year 1951-52 were not available at Karnea time, the award presented was based on 1949-50 and 1950-51.

Duplicate awards were given to Mu Chapter (Ohio Wesleyan) and Gamma Iota Chapter (Texas). Robert Drake accepted for Mu and Donald Eastland for Gamma Iota.

A. Bruce Bielaski, member of the Committee of the Distinguished Service Chapter, after commenting that he was pinch hitting for N. Ray Carroll, chairman of the Committee, who had to leave early, introduced members of the D.S.C., who were seated at special tables in the center of the room. Mr. Bielaski then called up Frederick L. Stone, Syracuse, '14, and John Kyle Worley, Michigan, '27, and presented to them Citations to the Distinguished Service Chapter.

Carl V. Weygandt, Wooster, '12, Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, was the principal speaker. His theme was "I Believe. . . ." Elaborating on the meaning of the Delta Creed, he gave to all of us a better appreciation of the high purpose of Delta Tau Delta.

All but a handful of the Delts departed Mackinac on the 5:00 and 8:00 p.m. ferries. We watched the last one pull away from the dock.

The island seemed to heave a mighty sigh and settle back into deep silence. Overhead the stars were out again, and a fresh, cool breeze was blowing in from the lake.

As the dim outline of the ferry grew smaller and the sound of its mournful horn faded in the distance, we could feel the Karnea slipping away.

A grizzled, pipe-smoking patriarch of the island shuffled up out of the twilight, paused, and looked at us curiously.

"That was a mighty fine lookin' bunch of boys there," he offered. "You fellers musta had some meetin'."

"We sure did, old-timer," I said fervently. "We sure did."

At the 61st Karnea Banquet, two Distinguished Service Chapter Citations were presented. Following are the texts of the two Citations:

FREDERICK L. STONE
Gamma Omicron, '14

"Chapter adviser to Gamma Omicron for more than twenty years; dedicated to the ideals of Delta Tau Delta; gentle and considerate at all times with his loved ones at home, with the boys whom he serves as a teacher in public schools, and with the boys of Gamma Omicron whom he advises, counsels, and fathers; devout Christian and patriotic citizen; ambitious for neither worldly wealth nor acclaim, but rather to be at all times a Good Delt."

JOHN KYLE WORLEY
Delta, '27

"As Vice-President of the Northern Division, President of Delta Chapter Foundation, Chairman of Delta Chapter Alumni Committee and Acting Chapter Adviser, he has served the Fraternity with distinction. He has given unsparingly of his time and energy, his organizational ability, his constructive thinking, and his sound advice continuously since his graduation. His fairness and sincerity, his loyalty and devotion to Delta Tau Delta have proven him a truly Good Delt in every way, one loved and respected by all."

Ohio, Missouri Publications Judged Best

First-place awards for the best undergraduate chapter publications during the year 1951-52 have been presented to Beta Chapter (Ohio) in the magazine format classification and Gamma Kappa Chapter (Missouri) in the newspaper format classification.

Each chapter is awarded a prize of $50, to be invested in merchandise suitable for a chapter hall or house.

Winners are selected on the basis of: first, general appeal and interest of the material to alumni or rushees; second, manner in which the material is written and edited; third, attractiveness in typographical layout and printing. The number of issues presented during the college year is taken into consideration, but more than three issues will not influence the award.

Chapters receiving honorable mention in the newspaper format division were: Epsilon (Albion), Gamma Psi (Georgia Tech), and Alpha (Allegheny).

Chapters receiving honorable mention in the magazine format division were: Mu (Ohio Wesleyan), Beta Tau (Nebraska), Gamma Iota (Texas), and Gamma Kappa (Missouri).

Auburn, Another Link in Delt Chain

By JOSEPH F. STEGALL, Auburn, '53

DELTA TAU DELTA welcomed into its fold the 84th active undergraduate chapter May 24, 1952, when Epsilon Alpha Chapter was installed at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama.

Thus concluded two and one-half years of intensive work by the men of The Crescent Club, forerunner of Epsilon Alpha Chapter. The Crescent Club had its beginning in the winter of 1950, when two Delts, Kenneth A. Nall and Herbert L. Bullard, transferred from Delta Eta (Alabama) for the express purpose of establishing Delt at Alabama Poly.

From the very beginning, The Crescent Club received wonderful co-operation from Delts in the Alabama area and from surrounding undergraduate chapters. As the new group improved its organization and began to grow strong, it gained confidence and encouragement from the visits of such men as Field Secretary Alfred Sheriff, Southern Division President Marion Coley, former President Charles T. Boyd, Executive Vice-President Hugh Shields, and President Martin B. Dickinson.

Late in the fall of 1951, The Crescent Club submitted its petition for a charter of Delta Tau Delta. President Dickinson appointed William F. McCue, Dartmouth, '41, special investigator to make a last, thorough inspection of Alabama Poly and the petitioners. A unanimous vote of the Arch Chapter in April of this year granted to the members of The Crescent Club their privilege to become a part of Delta Tau Delta.

Choosing carefully its men who were to be the nucleus of soon a leading fraternity chapter at Auburn, The Crescent Club grew to number 30 actives and 10 freshman pledges in May, 1952. The Club acquired its home in the fall of 1951 and welcomed its first housemother, "Mom" Barham, in the spring of this year.

Gordon Jones, Editor of THE RAINBOW, arrived in Auburn May 21, to lend the future Delts a helpful and experienced hand in preparing for their big week end.

Unfortunately, since final exams were being taken at that time by other Delts over the nation, attendance for the week-end activities was expected to be lower than at previous installations. But, in keeping with the great Delt tradition of extending a warm welcome to every new chapter, large delegations from Delta Eta (Alabama), Gamma Psi (Georgia Tech), Delta Delta (Tennessee), and Beta Epsilon (Emory) poured into Auburn Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

During the week preceding the installation, hundreds of congratulatory letters and telegrams were received

Delta Eta of the University of Alabama, who considers Epsilon Alpha as her "baby," was in charge of the initiation ceremonies. Begun Saturday morning, the impressive Delt Ritual was concluded late the same day, with the induction of 30 new Delts and charter members of Epsilon Alpha Chapter.

Approximately 225 Delts and guests flooded the Girls' Dormitory Dining Hall Saturday evening for the installation banquet, which was termed by many of the guests as one of the most impressive banquets ever held on the A.P.I. campus.

The speakers' list was headed by Fraternity President Martin B. Dickinson, and included such dignitaries as former President Charles T. Boyd, North Carolina, '21; Marion K. Coley, President of the Southern Division; and Jack W. Crist, Northwestern, '40, chapter adviser to Epsilon Alpha.

Dr. Ralph B. Draughon, president of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, who was to have appeared on the speaking program, was prevented by emergency administrative duties from attending, but Delts were privileged to have Mrs. Draughon as their charming guest for the evening. James E. Foy, acting Director of Student Affairs of A.P.I., and Jim Lineberger, president of the Auburn Interfraternity Council, extended warm welcomes to Epsilon Alpha from the respective groups that they represented.

Entertainment at the banquet was presented by the men of Delta Eta, who kept the guests laughing with their rendition of a radio hillbilly program. To add a serious note, the Delta Eta choir sang two numbers which topped second place in last year's University of Alabama Step Sing Contest.

Pride surged through every man of Epsilon Alpha as Charles T. Boyd presented the chapter charter to Chapter President Joe Stegall.

The banquet guests will long remember the most impressive address delivered by President Martin B. Dickinson, who spoke of the principles and goals of every Delt chapter and who chartered a course for Epsilon Alpha Chapter when he challenged it to become not only the leading chapter on the Auburn campus but also a leading chapter of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

The guests rose and sang "Delta Shelter" which concluded the banquet.

Shortly after the banquet, Delts and their dates flocked to the Palm Room of Hotel Clement for the Installation Ball. The only complaint relative to the Ball was that the time passed too quickly.

Lovely Auburn coeds added to the scenery at the Shelter on Sunday afternoon at a reception attended by scores of faculty members, fraternity and sorority men and women, and townspeople.

The program for the week end was planned by an installation committee composed of Jack W. Crist, Northwestern, '40, chairman; Albert M. Middleton, Alabama, '49; and Robert H. Jones, Alabama, '50.

Already, Epsilon Alpha has established itself as a prominent fraternity chapter on the Auburn campus, and future plans indicate that the newest chapter of Delta Tau Delta will soon join other Delt groups as the leading fraternity chapters on United States and Canadian college campuses.

All installation photographs were made by Barton H. Perry, official photographer of Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

U.S.C.'s Hugh Stewart Wins National Collegiate Tennis Crown

HUGH STEWART demonstrates the form that earned for him the N.C.A.A. championship and a berth on the United States' Davis Cup squad.

HUGH W. STEWART, III, U.S.C., '53, became the 1952 National Collegiate Athletic Association tennis champion (singles) in June when he whipped the cream of the college field on the Northwestern University courts.

He took the final match from Bob Perry of U.C.L.A., 6-4, 6-2, 6-2. Stewart, who is also former junior college singles and doubles champion, was named to the Davis Cup squad later in the summer.

Playing in the Western tennis tourney at Indianapolis in July, Stewart and his partner, Noel Brown, of Los Angeles, came within a hair's breadth of upsetting the nation's top-ranking doubles combination. Veteran Davis Cuppers Billy Talbert and Gardnar Mulloy had to call upon their best shots to put down the youngsters in the men's doubles finals, 4-6, 6-4, 6-8, 9-7, and 6-0.

Sportswriters were impressed by the young Californians' play. They were especially complimentary of Stewart's killing forehand and flawless service.

In the same tourney, Stewart teamed up with Anita Kanter, national junior champ, to win the Western mixed doubles crown.

Competing in the second round of the North American zone Davis Cup matches, Stewart scored decisively for the United States. He crushed Dr. Juan Weiss, Cuba's No. 1 player, in straight sets, 7-5, 6-0, 6-4.

Stewart, who hails from San Marino, California, will have another year of collegiate competition at U.S.C.

Delts Contribute to Olympic Victory

Delt CLARK SCHOLES (center) displays his gold medal after winning the Olympic 100-meter free-style swim in Helsinki on July 27. With him are HIROSHU SUZUKI (left) of Japan, who took second place, and GORAN LARSSON of Sweden (right), who came in third. Scholes set a new Olympic record in the event.

THE SIX DELTS who participated in the 1952 Olympic Games at Helsinki, Finland, last summer figured prominently in the United States' smashing team victory over all other nations in the world's greatest sports festival.

Clark C. Scholes, Michigan State, '52, became the first Delt since 1906 to win an Olympic gold medal. He set a new record in the semifinals of the men's 100-meter free style swimming and went on to outdistance the field in the finals.

Under the leadership of Brutus Hamilton, Missouri, '22, head track and field coach for the United States, the Yanks completely dominated the men's events. They walked off with 14 of the 24 gold medals in track and field, scored 1-2-3 sweeps in the shot-put, 200 meters, 110 hurdles, and the decathlon, and placed 1-2 in the javelin, high jump, broad jump, and pole vault. Their achievement marked the high point of American supremacy since World War I.

Other Delts who scored decisively included W. Thane Baker, Kansas State, '53, second in the 200-meter sprint, and John W. "Jack" McCormack, U.S.C., '52, fourth in the 10-meter platform diving.

Kenneth M. "Monte" Nitzkowski, U.C.L.A., '51, in the 200-meter breast stroke, and James E. Gerhardt, Texas, '53, in the hop, step, and jump both qualified in their events but failed to place in the finals.

COMPETITIVE SPIRIT WINS

Scholes' victory in the first Olympic swimming event was hailed as a powerful psychological sendoff for the Americans in their bid to retain their natorial supremacy. Noted for his keen competitive spirit, he staved off the last-ditch bid of Japan's Hiroshi Suzuki, who came up with a rousing burst of speed in the final 25 yards. Both were clocked at 57.4 seconds, even though the American finished 18 inches in the lead.

Scholes' time in the semifinals was a blistering 57.1, which bested the old mark of 57.3 registered by Wally Ris of Iowa in 1948 at London.

"I really swam a foolish race," said Scholes, as quoted in an Associated Press release. "I went all out the first 75 meters and had no fight the last 25."

The gameness of that finish was typical of his great spirit as a competitor. In the qualifications on this side of the ocean, he came from behind in the last 25 meters to whip Ohio State's Dick Cleveland, National A.A.U. champion, by a foot and a half. His time in that race—57.3—tied the Olympic record.

His qualifying time in the first round at Helsinki was a relatively slow 58.3, and he was second in his heat behind Larsson of Sweden. When the pressure was on, however, the rangy, broad-shouldered Delt was never better.

Scholes, who hails from Highland Park, Michigan, is 21 years old, stands 6' 3", and weighs 185. He says that he does not plan to engage in any more competitive swimming "unless it's in the Army." He is a second lieutenant in the Reserve.

SHARES GRAND SLAM WIN

the 200-meter run came behind an Olympic record. He finished just a yard from Andy Stanfield, Seton Hall graduate, who tied the Olympic record of :20.7, set by Jesse Owens in 1936. Baker was timed at :20.8. This was one of the events in which the United States registered a grand slam.

In the American trials at Los Angeles, Baker also finished second, close behind Stanfield, who established a new American mark of :20.6. At Helsinki, the lanky Kansan won his first two qualifying heats in :21.4. In the semifinals he was second behind Bailey of Great Britain, but in the runoffs the best Bailey could do was fourth, behind all three Yanks.

Baker said that the U. S. trio had agreed beforehand to race for a team victory. He also commented that he was not at all tired and could run the same race all over again.

With another year of collegiate competition before him, Baker should extend his domination of Big Seven sprints to other circles. He tied the world's record in the 60-yard dash last spring with a clocking of 6.1 seconds.

HIGH DIVER IN GOOD FORM

Jack McCormack, U. S. National Tower Diving champion, finished fourth in the finals of the Olympic high dive. He is a protege of Sammy Lee, who won his second Olympic championship in the event.

Competing under the colors of the Pasadena A.C., McCormack finished third in the U. S. qualifications with a score of 763.40. At Helsinki the 26-year-old Californian was in excellent form but suffered in the judging.

"I thought McCormack should have won third," commented Sammy Lee. "He was certainly diving beautifully here, but he never got a break in the scoring."

Besides the Tower Diving championship which he held for two years, McCormack has captured these titles: All Service Championship for two years; Far Western Championship for both tower and springboard; PCC Springboard Champ; Junior College National Champion; and every Junior National Tower and Springboard title. He was named All-American A.A.U. Champion for 1951.

BREAST STROKER REACHES SEMIFINALS

Monte Nitzkowski, All-American swimmer, finished tenth in the final standings of the men's 200-meter breast stroke. He found the competition unusually tough, as a new Olympic record of 2:36.8 was established in his event.

Swimming for the Navy Olympic squad, the 22-year-old Uclan finished third in the American tryouts with a 2:40 time. He qualified easily in the first round of the Olympics with 2:40.6 but was eliminated in the semifinals.

Nitzkowski was 1950 Pacific Conference Southern Division 200-yard breast stroke champion and record holder. He was named to the All-American swimming team in 1950.

HOP, STEP AND JUMP ARTIST

Jim Gerhardt, of San Antonio, Texas, registered the best distance of the American qualifiers in the Olympic hop, step, and jump with a mark of 49' 1.8". In the finals, however, the winner set a new Olympic and world's record of 52' 2.59", and Gerhardt's leap of 48' 2.37" earned him only twelfth place.

Last spring in stateside competition, the Texan won his event in both the Kansas Relays and the South Texas A.A.U. Track and Field Meet. He soared 47' 6" to break the Relays' 15-year-old record and 48' 4" to smash the South Texas meet record of 44' 9", which had been set by Delt John Robertson in 1948.

Prior to coming to the University of Texas in 1951, Gerhardt won six varsity letters in basketball and track at Rice Institute. He was cocaptain of the 1951 Rice basketball team. While at Rice, he was also student body treasurer and junior class president. As a Delt pledge last fall, he was elected president of the Gamma Iota pledge class.

COACHES AMERICANS TO VICTORY

Delt Brutus Hamilton, himself a former Olympic star, praised the "magnificent achievement" of the United States track and field squad which he coached. Disclaiming any honor for himself, he confessed that he did not know how to account for the Americans' transcendent performance. "Credit goes to your fathers and mothers," he said.

That is perhaps not a fair estimate of the modest Delt's contribution to the 15th Olympiad. Hamilton, University of California athletic director, is noted as the producer of great track athletes. He was the coach of Glenn Cunningham, still rated by many as America's greatest all-time distance runner, and Jim Bausch, winner of the Olympic decathlon title in 1932. Under his tutelage, Californian Archie Williams copped the Olympic 400-meter title in 1936.

At Helsinki he was a popular man around the Olympic village. Foreign and American athletes alike came to him for advice or assistance in training.

Under the Olympic rules, Hamilton can never serve as coach again. This year's performance, however, is an appropriate finale of his activity in the Olympics. Since 1920 he has participated in all but one of the Olympiads as either athlete or coach.

Sportswriters still remember him as the greatest all-around athlete in the history of the University of Missouri. Walter Camp put him on his second All-American team as an end in 1922. That was a great concession because Camp was just beginning at that time to recognize in his selections mid-western and western grid stars. In 1923 he played on the Kansas City

A.C. basketball team that won the national A.A.U. title.

At the age of 19, he represented the United States in the 1920 Olympic Games at Antwerp, Belgium. He had already been declared A.A.U. national pentathlon champion and A.A.U. decathlon champion by setting a record score in the latter event. Although he lost 20 pounds after his departure from American soil and was ill the day the decathlon was scheduled, he finished second. He lost by only four points to the Norwegian athlete, Loveland. He placed fourth in the pentathlon.

WON FOUR GOLD MEDALS

Delta Tau Delta's greatest Olympic performer in years past was James D. Lightbody, DePauw, '06; Chicago, '08, who won a total of four individual gold medals. His feat of winning three first places in one meet stands among the outstanding individual Olympic performances of all time, especially since the victories were scored in distance races.

Lightbody turned in his remarkable solo achievement in 1904 at St. Louis, where the 3rd Olympiad was held. He won the 800-meter run in 1:56, the fastest Olympic time to that date. He was first in the 1500-meter run with a time of 4:54, which also established an Olympic record. For his third gold medal he captured the 2500-meter steeplechase.

To top off his stellar performance, Lightbody ran as a member of the U. S. relay team that secured second place and a member of the Champion One-Mile Relay Team. Scoring the greatest number of points of any participant, he was declared the Olympic Individual Champion of the 1904 Games.

He came back in 1906, at Athens, Greece, to retain his title as 1500-meter champion and garner his fourth gold medal.

Lightbody began his collegiate athletic career at DePauw University but transferred to Chicago University in order to compete against the nation's best distance runners. His Olympic point-scoring record was not equalled until 1936.

Today Mr. Lightbody resides in Charleston, South Carolina, from which point he is still an avid sports enthusiast. Karnea-goers will recall that he attended the 59th Karnea at French Lick in 1948, where many Delts had the pleasure of meeting the well-known champion.

PAST PERFORMANCES

Today's Delt athletic achievements revive other memories of great Delt performers of the past. To name just a few, James I. Wendell, Wesleyan, '13, was second in the 110-meter hurdles in the 1912 Games. Clyde A. Blair, Chicago, '05, in the 1904 Olympics, made the lead which won the relay race for his team, of the Chicago Athletic Association.

Marc S. Wright, Dartmouth, '13, competing in the 1912 Olympic try-outs, pole vaulted 13' 2 1/4" to break the world's record in that event. In the finals at Stockholm he tied for second place with a vault of 12' 5¼". If he had been able to repeat his performance in the tryouts, he would have won the gold medal easily.

Victor S. Rice, Chicago, '04, is remembered as the great American sprinter who could have won two gold medals in the 1904 Games. In that year Archie Hahn of the University of Michigan walked off with both the 100-meter and 200-meter titles. During the previous season Hahn had been decisively beaten in both the 100-yard and 200-yard dashes by the Chicago ace. Rice's physical condition at the time, however, prevented his participation, and he was advised by his physician to forego the Olympic trip.

This year's Delt participants, like Dels of other days—both those who scored points and those who did not—acquitted themselves with honor. They upheld the best competitive tradition of Delta Tau Delta and of the Olympic Oath, sworn by every Olympic athlete, participating "in the true spirit of sportsmanship for the honor of our country and for the glory of sport."

Loss of Sight Handicap Surmounted by Plucky Baker Delt

JAMES L. "JAY" ELLIS, Baker, '46, lost his sight two years ago, but courage and determination, plus good friends, have restored him to a useful life as a newspaper reporter.

When he became blind, the result of diabetes, Jay was given a year's leave of absence with pay by his employer, the Ottawa Herald, Ottawa, Kansas, where he had worked as an advertising salesman. He attended the Kansas Rehabilitation Center for the Blind in Topeka for nearly a year. Completing his work there, he traveled to Morristown, New Jersey, for his guide dog, Perda. This trip was made possible through the generosity of the Ottawa Elks lodge, of which Jay is a member.

In March of this year, Jay assumed his reporting duties with the Webster City Graphic, Webster City, Iowa. A Delt classmate, James C. Rippey, Baker, '46, who is editor of the Graphic, was largely responsible for signing Jay up for the paper's staff.

Jay works like any other reporter. He goes to his news source accompanied by Perda and with a Banks Braille writer in his pocket. The quick notes which he takes are transcribed into news stories at the office.

In writing a story, Jay reads his notes with his fingers and types his copy on a regular typewriter. He types faster than many reporters and about as accurately as the average.

Jay says that Boss Rippey often jokingly recalls college days at Gamma Theta when Jay was an active and Jim a pledge and threatens impossible assignments for Jay to cover in repayment for pledge duties which were passed out back at Baker. Rippey was a reporter for the Kansas City Star and the Manhattan Mercury before taking the editorship of the Graphic, semiweekly publication.

Working against great odds is nothing new to Jay Ellis. He learned a good lesson in that department when, during the war, in the fall of 1943, he found himself a one-man Gamma Theta Chapter. Chapter Adviser Cherry Leitnaker mobilized the alumni, who not only elected Jay president, rush chairman, secretary, and house manager, but also helped him rush and bring in a crop of new pledges that fall.

Jay's leadership, abetted by Cherry's alumni brigade, saw the chapter successfully through that year and rebuilding for the day when the veterans returned. And, two years later, when the veterans did return, Jay was again elected president, not alone in tribute to his keeping the chapter alive during the thin war years, but also because he had demonstrated by his ability that he could handle the job.

Today Jay has proved that he can still go it alone. Although his wife is a willing and ready helper on many assignments, the bulk of his work is done unassisted. He is building his own Braille telephone directory and has learned his way around most of the downtown section of Webster City, which has about 7,000 population.

The pluck of Jay Ellis, a Good Delt, should serve as an inspiring example to other handicapped people.

Oklahoma Scholarship Winner Announced

THE $450 SCHOLARSHIP which Delta Alpha Chapter (Oklahoma) annually awards to an outstanding high school senior was accepted this year in preference to the $3,170 George Westinghouse Foundation Scholarship to Carnegie Institute of Technology.

James Bryon Farmer, of Guthrie, Oklahoma, who was declared this year's winner of the Delt award, rejected the Westinghouse grant because "he believes that he can get the same quality of instruction at the state university as he could in the eastern school. . . ."

The Delt scholarship is granted unconditionally—that is, the recipient is under no obligation to pledge Delta Tau Delta. This year's winner had a straight "A" average for four years in high school and is considered to be the outstanding mathematics scholar ever to study at Guthrie High School. He is, besides, an accomplished pianist. He had previously received a citizenship award from the Daughters of the American Revolution and the God and Country Award of the Boy Scouts of America.

Carnegie Tech Actor Wins Radio Role

JOHN RAGIN, Carnegie Tech, '52, (left) talks things over with CHARLES MARTIN, Miss MIRIAM HOPKINS, and REED HADLEY as they prepare for their participation in the Philip Morris Playhouse presentation of "Kitty Doone." Ragin played opposite Miss Hopkins, stage and screen star, over the CBS radio network on June 29.

Mr. Martin is producer-host-director of the program heard every Sunday evening, and Mr. Hadley is a movie actor and Captain Braddock on "Racket Squad," CBS-TV show. Ragin, dramatic student and holder of the Milton Goldbloom Memorial Scholarship, which is awarded to an outstanding student of drama, was selected to compete in the Philip Morris acting contest.

JOHN RAGIN, senior dramatic student of Carnegie Tech and a member of Delta Beta Chapter, made his professional debut opposite Miriam Hopkins, stage and screen star, in the "Philip Morris Playhouse" on June 29 over the CBS radio network.

Ragin, a candidate in the Philip Morris Intercollegiate Acting Competition, performed in a presentation of "Kitty Doone," a forceful drama with a Hollywood background. For his stint, he received $250 in cash, membership in AFRA, all expenses paid, and an opportunity to shoot at the competition's $2,000 Grand Finals Prize.

Although Ragin's performance received high praise, he was outpointed for a shot at the grand prize by Charles Schultz, a student at Princeton.

The young actor earned his chance to appear on the radio program by his string of outstanding performances in Carnegie Tech dramatic productions. His work in the title role of "Hamlet" last spring was judged particularly noteworthy, styled "tremendous" by a Hollywood talent scout.

It was said that the school had been looking for 26 years for a student good enough to play the tragic Dane. In the lanky, 22-year-old Delt Tech's drama department found its man.

The show closed in April after playing to almost 7,000 people at 18 packed performances. It probably could have doubled its run if the department's pre-arranged schedule of other plays had not pushed it off the stage.

John first scored in the play "Six Characters in Search of an Author," produced last fall. Although he was offered a scholarship to the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, he intends to stay on at Tech to work for his master's degree. He has been awarded a scholarship from the Leopold Schepp Foundation. He is also the holder of the Milton Goldbloom Memorial Scholarship, awarded annually to an outstanding student of drama.

In spite of his early success, Ragin has kept both feet firmly on the ground. He is determined to prepare himself thoroughly and to get more experience under his belt before he makes the big jump to a professional career. But when he does make that jump, critics predict that John Ragin will click in no uncertain manner.

Ft. Lauderdale Delts Reorganize as Seminoles

DELTA TAU DELTA has had its Choc-taws, and now it has the Seminoles. For the Fort Lauderdale (Florida) Alumni Chapter is back in business with a new name—the Fort Lauderdale Seminole Alumni Chapter.

Evidence that the Seminole Delts mean business is the fact of two summer meetings with a set schedule of regular meetings the first Wednesday of each month.

Preliminary plans were laid June 17 which culminated in the first regular meeting held June 25 in the Orchid Room of the Governor's Club. Carl P. Weidling, Ohio State, '99, presided, and Phil H. Fairchild, Florida, '38, acted as secretary. Don Van Buren, Western Reserve, '11, was elected delegate to the 61st Karnea.

A committee composed of David M. Carr, Albion, '50; Robert Culliver, Florida State undergraduate; and Milton Hall, Florida undergraduate, was appointed to handle plans for fall rushing.

Others who attended the meeting are: Dr. Norris M. Beasley, Ohio, '29; Harry D. Clarke, Ohio Wesleyan, '97; Robert L. Hall, Florida, '29; Eugene Leonard, Baker, '31; F. Laird Rickard, Florida, '29; Dr. David R. Shull, Kansas State, '16; and Rolf S. Weidling, Georgia, '25.

The second meeting was held August 7, with the promise that Ft. Lauderdale Delts will once more be taking an active part in Delta Tau Delta alumni work.

Thompson Appointed Ambassador to Austria

LLEWELLYN E. THOMPSON, JR., Colorado, '26, has been named American Ambassador to Austria and United States High Commissioner for Austria. Announcement of his appointment by President Truman was made in July.

Mr. Thompson had been assigned as Counselor of Embassy at Rome, Italy, with the rank of Minister since June, 1950. Prior to that post he had served as Deputy Director of the Office of European Affairs and Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for European Affairs.

THE MOTTO of the Greater New York Alumni Chapter might well be: "The mail must go through!" At least that's what Gordon Gaskill, Tennessee, '34, staff writer for American Magazine, has been thinking since notices of the alumni chapter requesting his presence at the weekly luncheons have followed him halfway around the world.

A letter from Gaskill to Gilbert B. Sorg, Brown, '47, secretary of the group, complained good-naturedly about Sorg's persistence. It also explained to everyone's satisfaction why Gaskill had not been attending the alumni luncheons lately.

"I'd love to come," wrote the journalist, "except that I live in Europe and on a boat in Europe at that.

"This means that your notices have been faithfully forwarded to me by my office here, often at some expense, and I remember one time when, learning that there was 'mail for Signor Gaskill,' I took my outboard four miles to an island—to find a notice from you of a meeting weeks before. And that was all the mail there was!"

Gaskill adds that when he returns to the United States and there is some likelihood that he can attend the New York Delt meetings, he would be pleased to be put back on Sorg's mailing list.

The familiar blue forms, which are used to submit recommendations for membership, went out from the Central Office again last summer. Many came back—a good response as usual—several with varying comments.

Our favorite comment, however, was this one, which accompanied information concerning a young man entering college this fall:

"I have sent in the names of several men at different times but somehow was never able to get any of them by an individual chapter. I shall never give up trying, as I think that this is one way a Delt can serve."

Bible quotations have been used to support many arguments, but it remained for Dr. Robert Sproul, president of the University of California, to point out a quotation that argues for education and scholarship. Here it is, from Proverbs iv. 7-13:

"Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding. Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her. She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee. . . . When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble. Take fast hold of instructions; let her not go: keep her; for she is thy life."

Late one night last March, a member of Delta Tau Chapter at Bowling Green State University was stricken with appendicitis. A physician was summoned, and when he had put the ailing member on the road to recovery, he was surprised with an invitation to return to the Shelter as a special guest.

Along with other professional and business men, he was entertained and fed at a smoker. It was all part of a master plan: the Delts attempted to include every man in the community who had helped the chapter or its members in the past year.

They invited, among others, the dentist who cleans the members' teeth, the banker who handles the chapter account, the hatchery owner who gave 20 dozen eggs for the Easter egg roll which Delta Tau Chapter sponsors as a public service to the children in the community. These men enjoyed their night with the Delts, and they got a new and inside view of the American collegiate fraternity.

Such a program strikes us as a particularly effective and unostentatious means of promoting good public relations for the Fraternity.

By the adoption of a resolution, the 61st Karnea has spoken out for a program of increased singing among the chapters and has requested that THE RAINBOW assist in the undertaking.

For this worth-while project, the co-operation of THE RAINBOW is assured. It is hardly feasible to print musical scores in our magazine—this much of the program can be accomplished more effectively and economically through other media—but we shall willingly dedicate some of our space to bringing home to all Delts the desirability of good singing.

Those who attended the Karnea saw what a powerful cohesive force singing can be. The performance of the Michigan glee club and quartet, moreover, was an inspiration to other chapters and sent delegates home with the determination to improve their own chapter singing.

Perhaps it should be pointed out that during 1948-49 an undergraduate Songbook Committee worked over both old and new Delt songs quite extensively, which resulted in the publication of a supplement to the Songbook. The supplement, containing many four-part arrangements, may be ordered through the Central Office, as may also the most recent edition of the Songbook itself.

Delts who have good arrangements of old or new Delt songs are requested to submit them to the Central Office for possible future publication. Further, useful ideas and methods of stimulating tonsillar harmonics will be gratefully received.

Beta Mu Delts Continue Domination of Tufts Interfraternity Sing Competitions

This is a "midnight and informal" practice of the Delt glee club at Tufts, as Beta Mu Chapter prepares for the Spring Sing.

The Beta Mus have won three out of the last four campus sing competitions, including the 1950 Christmas Sing, the 1951 Spring Sing, and the 1952 Spring Sing. They also placed second in the Christmas Sing of 1951.

Selected to represent Tufts as "The Singing College" in June as an episode in the College's huge centennial pageant, the Delt choir was also featured on the Monsanto Chemical Company radio broadcast in May, 1951. The chapter's octet has sung for many College functions and the glee club was selected to sing at the Centennial Alumni Banquet last fall.

Elmer Scott Honored as Leader in Adult Education

ELMER SCOTT, Ohio Wesleyan, '91, pioneer in adult education and a member of Delta Tau Delta's Distinguished Service Chapter, was the recipient last June of the Louis S. Weiss Memorial Award.

Mr. Scott, who is now 87, received the certificate from Dr. Hans Simons, president of the New School for Social Research in New York City.

The award was established last year honoring Weiss, late chairman of New School's board of trustees. It is given annually to individuals who have contributed most significantly to adult education.

Mr. Scott served as executive secretary of the Civic Federation of Dallas, Texas, from 1917 to 1951.

In accepting the recognition, he said: "It is my personal conviction that in many instances one's life objectives are motivated by a desire for property, power, and prestige. On the other hand, a humane social philosophy may give to one's ambitions a more wholesome content."

Since leaving business as general manager of Sears, Roebuck & Company in Dallas in 1913, Mr. Scott has devoted his whole life to social work.

ELMER SCOTT, seated with other members of the Distinguished Service Chapter, enjoys the Karnea Banquet at Mackinac Island on September 3.

In 1924 he was awarded the Linz Cup for civic work. He has served as president of the Southwest Social Science Association and the Texas Conference of Social Welfare.

In addition, he has been a member of the Texas Planning Board and educational consultant to several private and government agencies. Southern Methodist University has awarded him the degree of Doctor of Laws.

In Delta Tau Delta, Mr. Scott's devoted service earned him a Citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter. As president of the Chicago Alumni Chapter, he helped make the Windy City a hotbed of Deltism during the early part of the century.

The fact that he has passed his 88th birthday has not curtailed Mr. Scott's activity. He attended both the Columbus Karnea in 1950 and the Mackinac Island Karnea this month. The 61st was his ninth Karnea.

TRUMAN V. (PINKY) TOMLIN, Oklahoma, '32, who wrote such songs as "The Object of My Affection" is starting a new career. He says, "Its based on a theory of permanence. I want to be a film actor and enjoy a home life with my wife and kids. No more of that cross-country night life for me."

In his role of a singing barber and pal of Will Rogers in "The Story of Will Rogers" at Warner Brothers, Pinky is a prairie character with spectacles on the end of his nose, suspenders to hook his thumbs in, and a nasal twang to call square-dance tunes. The director who picked Pinky for the role thought he was good enough to consider him at one time for the principal role of Will Rogers in the film. That role is being played by Will Rogers, Jr., who Pinky thinks is doing a fine job.

Although Pinky wrote and introduced the song almost 18 years ago, "The Object of My Affection" is still his trademark. "That song did me an awful lot of good," he states, and adds

HOMER CROY, Missouri, '07, successful writer of many books (He Hanged Them High is his most recent publication), began his writing career in New York City as a young man. As the April 20, 1952, issue of This Week Magazine puts it, "The going was tough, but to make the home folks [Missouri] think he was doing fine, he 'borrowed' stationery from the city's best hotels. That started a bad habit that has continued to the present day."

As his books were published, Mr. Croy "graduated from hotel letterheads and went in for more bizarre material." His friends all over the world supply him with probably the craziest collection of writing paper in existence. The two kinds which cause the most excitement are the penitentiary and undertaker stationery. Among his collection he has a worthless but impressive-looking gold-mine stock certificate.

This Week Magazine states that it "asked Croy if he has any honest-to-goodness letterhead paper of his own. It turns out he has. It's a very calm and dignified job. He uses it when writing to the Income Tax Bureau."

The development of new drugs which may be effective in the treatment of tuberculosis has been reported in Industrial Medicine and Surgery by Dr. FRANK R. FERLAINO, Columbia, '22. Dr. Ferlaine is assistant clinical professor of industrial medicine of the New York Post Graduate Medical School, secretary of the Council on Post-Graduate Education of the American College of Chest Physicians, and medical director of the New York executive offices of General Motors.

Although premature newspaper reports have been over-optimistic, Dr. Ferlaine reports, there is good indication from early experiments that the new isonicotinic hydrazide drugs may constitute an effective weapon in combating tuberculosis. "The apparent curative effect . . ." he emphasizes, however, "must be measured over a long period of time before final conclusions can be reached."

Dr. Ferlaine is also secretary of the Common Cold Foundation, a non-profit enterprise incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois to create and disburse funds "for use in developing research and investigation to the end that the common cold and its complications may be more adequately controlled, minimized, or eliminated from our national life."

The Foundation, which held its first conference last February, has enjoyed widespread publicity. As almost no one escapes suffering the common cold, the progress of the group will be followed with interest by millions.

In yet another field, the results of Dr. Ferlaine's extensive work are beginning to be felt. In 1948 he was appointed chairman of the Medical Advisory Board in New York, created by the state legislature to prepare stricter standards for the physical examination of boxers and wrestlers. As an undergraduate at Princeton, Dr. Ferlaine was an All-American lacrosse goalkeeper and a boxer and wrestler.

The work of the M.A.B. and the obstacles it encountered were fully reported by Sports Columnist Joe Williams. Dr. Ferlaine and several of his associates resigned from the Board when their recommendations fell on deaf ears. The new Board, however, has been assured of co-operation by the revised boxing commission.

This Board, as reported by Joe Williams, has "the immediate benefit of long hours of study, research and competent medical conclusion, the net labors of Dr. Ferlaine and his pioneers. Indeed, they need do little more than apply the main features of the original board's blueprint."

When he went to Sunday school as a boy in Butler, Pa., he had for his superintendent there a Delt—Washington D. Brandon, W. & J., '65, Delta Tau Delta's oldest living member, who will be 105 this fall.

At the same time, the pastor of the church was also a Delt—Rev. William E. Oller, W. & J., '75.

It is small wonder that after Mr. Smith had entered Purdue University he became a charter member of Gamma Lambda Chapter.

Ten top leaders from the fields of education, business, and labor met on June 23 to pool their knowledge and ideas during an all-day probe of America's economic system. It was the third in a series of Round Table discussions being undertaken by The Advertising Council for the purpose of developing, in modern terms, a restatement of the ideals, beliefs, and dynamics of the present-day American society.

Moderator of the panel was Dr. HENRY M. WRISTON, Wesleyan, '11, president of Brown University. Dr. Wriston is a former member of the Arch Chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

of Boston, is a collection of many of the thoughts and reflections of MAX EHLMANN, DePauw, '94, a former editor of THE RAINBOW, who died in 1945.

Mr. Ehrmann is perhaps best known as the author of Jesus: A Passion Play. One of his shortest works, "A Prayer," has been most widely disseminated.

The Journal, which covers the period from 1917 to 1936, has received high praise. Bishop Francis J. McConnell, Ohio Wesleyan, '94, has called it "a veritable adventure in the highest realms."

The Journal will be more thoroughly reviewed in the next issue of THE RAINBOW.

Pittsburgh Delts Continue Annual Baseball Dinner

Following the dinner at the Pittsburgh Athletic Club Annex, Pittsburgh Delt alumni and their wives watch the game at Forbes Field as the Giants whip the Pirates in ten innings early in May. It will be a different story next year, Rickey promises.

John Galbreath speaks to assembled Delts at the baseball dinner. Galbreath heads the Delt roster of seven alumni prominent in the Pirates' management. The annual Delt baseball outing, begun in 1946, has grown in popularity each year. Branch Rickey, finishing his second year as manager of the Buccos, is expected to start his team on an upward trend in another season.

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Alpha—Allegheny

Full Social Calendar Scheduled Near Close of School Year

In the Allegheny Intramural Interfraternity Softball League, Delta Tau Delta finished in second place in an eight-team league. Winning five in a row at one point, the Delts finished with a six-win and three-loss record. Throughout the season the play of the team was sparked by the play of De Myers, Bud Schorr, and Dane Hannum. Myers was the only pitcher on the squad and pitched many excellent ball games. Schorr, the field captain, was generally the spark plug of the team. He played the first three games of the season at first base and then caught for the remaining ones. He did both well enough so that he was the team leader in fielding. He also had the second highest batting average on the team and had the most hits. He was the team's cleanup hitter. Hannum led the team in hitting, runs scored, and total bases. He tied for the team lead in home runs and was second highest in the number of hits. Due to the fact that no one on the team was graduated, Alpha Chapter looks forward to supporting a championship team in 1953.

During the last three weeks of the school year, the Alpha chapter house was the site of a full social schedule. On the week end of May 17 and 18 the Delts had their father's week end. A total of 29 dads took over the house, three of them coming from over 400 miles away. The week end was brought to an enjoyable close with a fine banquet at the house on Sunday, May 18. On May 21 the Allegheny Delts sponsored a campus open house in honor of a member of the faculty who was spending his last year at Allegheny. As the evening went on there were, at one time, 200 guests including members of the faculty, administration, and student body. On June 7 the social calendar of the 1951-52 school year was brought to a close with a successful Alumni Banquet. This is an annual affair for Alpha Chapter. The success of these occasions is greatly due to the efforts of President Jack Howie, Steward Jack Olofson, Grounds Chairman Chris Conway, and House Manager Dick Chamberlain.

Numa F. Vidal, a member of the class of 1952 at Allegheny College and a member of Alpha Chapter, died on June 5, 1952, at the City Hospital in Meadville, Pa. His death was due to extensive burns resulting from an explosion of a gas stove. He was to have graduated from Allegheny on the following Monday, June 9. His funeral was on Saturday, June 7, in his home town of Sharon, Pa.

Ned, in his four years with Alpha Chapter, had been active in Fraternity affairs. He was the alumni chairman of the chapter and the editor of the Choc-taw, Alpha Chapter's alumni newspaper. Well known in campus activities, Ned had been the chairman of the 1952 Allegheny Fund Drive.

Maintaining a B-plus average in college, he was a prelaw student and was planning to attend the graduate law school at the University of Pennsylvania.

Ned's passing is taken with great sorrow by his brothers of Alpha Chapter and by all who had the pleasure and the honor to be associated with him.

Beta—Ohio

Members Win Many Awards

Beta Chapter was well represented in scholastic honoraries this year. Don Pease won the Men's Union Planning Board Award for a 4.0 average, Dick Goodrich won the pledge scholastic award, and Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholarship honorary, claimed Alex Prislopsky, as its president, and Mike Kucsma, Dick Goodrich, Alan Riedel, and Don Pease.

Representing the chapter in other honoraries were Edward Chapel, Joe De-Cosmo, and Pete Winter in the art honorary; Don Pease and Alan Riedel in Omicron Delta Kappa; and Don Pease and Dick Goodrich in the journalism honorary.

The Delts of Beta Chapter are holding their own in campus activities with Don Pease, president-elect, 1952-53, in the student council; Esidore Parker, senior class vice-president; Alan Riedel, senior class treasurer; Charles Krauskopf, junior class vice-president; Oscar Clippard, junior class treasurer; Dick Dorna, Men's Union Planning Board; Bob Maruna, Scabbard and Blade; Dick Haffner, chemistry club; and Frank Shelton, American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Don Pease served as editor of the biweekly newspaper, and Dick Goodrich as sports editor of the newspaper and as editor for 1952-53.

Last spring's sports season found Dave Nantz out for track and Bill Lagonegro on the tennis courts helping the Delts win the tennis championship.

Beta Chapter once again placed first in the annual Torch Sing for the second consecutive year.

Gamma—W. & J.

Gammas in Many Activities

Gamma Chapter has just finished a very successful year. From the time of the last issue of THE RAINBOW, our chapter has participated in the intramural softball league and has come out on the top of all other fraternities on the campus. Our reward was a beautiful trophy which now decorates the mantel. Al McGhee and Bob Lynch were the softball team captains. We also have ended the year with a good scholastic average. Two men in the chapter, namely, Ken Kost and Bill Inglis, finished up the year with a 3.0 average for the year 1951-52.

Gamma Chapter's winning softball aggregation. You'd smirk too if you had just won the cup of the champion.

Bill Inglis has been re-elected President of the Student Council at Washington & Jefferson. Bob Lynch has been elected President of the Premedical Society. Also, these two men mentioned above were awarded the Distinguished Military Service medal for outstanding achievement in the ROTC. John Inglis is editor of the college yearbook.

Besides having had the house painted and new kitchen units built, the house will also be made even more attractive by the laying of tile floors in all the rooms.

Along with our intramurals, Gamma Chapter also had its annual picnic with Beta Theta Pi. This proved to be an enjoyable evening for all even though our pledges were defeated in the tug-of-war battle.

With the good bunch of men that will be coming back next fall and the good pledge class which everyone in the chapter will strive to obtain next year, everyone is in high hopes of making the year 1952-53 the best that Gamma Chapter has seen for many years.

Delta—Michigan

Win Interfraternity Sing Cup For Second Year

For the second year in a row Delta Chapter's glee club has won Michigan's traditional Interfraternity Council Sing. This success was due to a "Love Story" medley arranged and directed by Carl Hedner.

Carl was president of Men's Glee Club this year, and other Delts in Michigan campus activities were Jim Jacques, Jim Stoddard, and Norm Welch, winners of Regents Alumni Scholarship; Theodore Reynolds, president of Ski Club and winner of the aeronautical engineering scholarship; Bill Allen, winner of a scholastic scholarship; and Allen Norris, Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary.

Elected to the senior honorary, Druids, were Carl Hedner, Dick Tinker, and John Purvis. Dick O'Shaughnessy was tapped by the sophomore honorary, Sphinx.

On the sports front, Dick O'Shaughnessy won football and wrestling varsity letters and the Big Ten 177-pound wrestling championship, and Andrew Kaul won a wrestling letter. Intramurally speaking, Jack Schaupp represented the chapter in the 145-pound wrestling class and Bob Shetler wrestled in the 130-pound class. The chapter's horse shoe team won the championship. Members of the team were: Dick Gess, Ken Carroll, Theodore Reynolds, Jim Stoddard, Tom Schmidt, and Barry Dunne. Other major distinctions this year were won by Gerry Dudley, who was made senior football manager, and Bob Shetler, who was made cadet commander of the Air Force ROTC unit.

Epsilon—Albion

Many Win Varsity Letters

The close of another year at Epsilon found many members holders of varsity athletic letters. Baseball letter winners were: Ralph Parker, Warren Fabel, Bob Kouts, and Jim Murray. Holders of football letters were: Bill Monahan, Don Carmien, Bob Kouts, and Jim Murray. Letter winners on the golf links were Lawrence French and Don Carmien. Track varsity winners were: John Brundage, Dick Nebel, Jim Timmons, and Jim Holmes who also held the cross-country team captaincy. Robert Siegel and Walt Kutch won tennis letters and Bill Ash lettered in swimming.

The chapter placed first in intramural football competition and second in intramural track competition.

Many Epsilon Delts were tapped for honoraries. Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholarship honorary, claimed Warren Fabel, Dick Pollard, and Jim Timmons, and Lawrence French was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa. John Porter served as business manager of the College annual and John Brundage was selected sports editor for the 1953 College paper. Representing the chapter in the economics club were Dave Valentine, Noel A. Black, and Warren Fabel. Ron Carmien and John Hummon became members of the Forum Club. Bill Cansfield and Leonard Howard were claimed by Beta Beta Beta, biology, Bill Cansfield serving as vice-president, and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, music, selected Dave Valentine, Herb Fenske, Earl Carpp, and John Hummon.

Active in campus activities this year were Noel A. Yaney, president of interfraternity council, James B. Murray, elected as president of the sophomore class for 1953, and Jim Timmons, elected sophomore class treasurer for 1953.

The chapter placed second in the interfraternity Quartet Sing.

Four Ohio Wesleyan Delts, newly elected to Phi Beta Kappa: Bill West, Dave Smith, Dave Hummel, and Jack Cole.

Zeta—Western Reserve

Delts Represent Zeta in Many Campus Activities

Zeta Chapter battled right down to the wire for the Intramural All-Sports Trophy last spring and came out as champions in one of the closest finishes in many years. The Delts captured "A" and "B" softball championships, the canoe tilts, and scored well in handball, track, and horseshoes, as IM Manager Skip Diederich turned in an excellent job.

Rushing, of course, has been all-important in Zeta's plans. Rush Chairman Art Akers and his committee began work before school concluded last spring and continued their fine work throughout the summer. Highlighting the summer program were three rushing parties, including a trip to an Indians' ball game.

The spring issue of the chapter newspaper, the Ga-Zeta, was printed in time to serve as valuable rushing material. Merwin Yockey and Gene Schwartz served as coeditors.

Art Akers has been elected vice-president to succeed Don Gordon who has transferred to OSU dental school.

Zeta was well represented on campus last spring, and is this fall as Bob Fleck, Chuck Wiedman, and Ralph Engle have been elected to the University Senate. Bob and Ralph are treasurer and president, respectively. Selected as members of Omicron Delta Kappa are Ralph Engle and James Goldie, while Bob Fleck serves as president of Phi Society. Tim Anzellotti and Bill Moley are historian and corresponding secretary, respectively, of the Varsity "R" Club.

Serving as athletic captains were Chuck Wiedman, track, and Jim Goldie, golf.

Receiving priority in plans for this fall is the conversion of our annex into a meeting hall and social center.

Two graduating seniors who will be sorely missed by Zeta are Jim Goldie and Al Oldenburg. All of their contributions and activities are too numerous to mention in detail, but Al won honors as a soccer player, coach, and captain, golfer, fraternity officer, member of IFC, and recipient of the Varsity "R" Trophy, presented annually to the graduating senior who has contributed most to the club. Jim, besides serving as chapter president, was an outstanding golfer and active on campus, being IFC president this past year. To Jim and Al, from Zeta, thanks and good luck!

Iota—Michigan State

Shine in Campus Activities

The Delts this year won first place in the flower show and third place in the annual water carnival. Clarke Scholes, Iota's all-American swimmer, was again on the all-American swimming team, Duane Vernon cochairmanned the J-Hop and was elected to the senior council, and Jack Winklejohn served on the union board of directors.

Five Delts were elected to Student Congress seats for next year comprising one-ninth of the membership, and four Delts were elected to the student union board for next year.

Representing the chapter in honoraries were Gaylord Sheets, Ken Ketzler, Jim Slezak, and Duane Vernon. Gaylord Sheets was elected president of the College student government. Duane Vernon will serve as president of Phi Chi Eta next year, and Donald MacLaughlin was president of Junior Hotel Men of America.

Kappa—Hillsdale

Chapter Stands Out in Varsity Athletics

Winning letters in varsity athletics seemed to be an outstanding feature in this year's activities at Kappa Chapter. Letter holders in football were: Norman Taylor, John Lusk, Bob Reynolds; in basketball, Dick Gettings and Jim McDonald; in swimming, Jack Dunn and Dan Barrett; in baseball, Dick Gettings, Don Riehl, Lloyd Murray, Norman Boyea, Bud Neal, and Jack Dunn; in golf, Bill More, Joe Savarino, and Dick Armstrong; and in tennis, Lloyd Murray, Pepper Rehm, Fred Riggan, Art Burns, and Bob Morey.

Holding down honors in scholarship are Dick Gettings and Bob Reynolds, national men's honorary. Bob Reynolds was also claimed by the men's leadership fraternity.

The presidencies of all four classes were held by Delts. Jack Gunn, John Lusk, Jim Conquest, and Joe Savarino were elected presidents of the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes, respectively.

Lloyd Murray was voted the most valuable tennis player on campus and Joe Savarino was voted the most valuable golfer. The chapter had the distinction of winning the scholarship cup and the Mardi Gras concession cup.

Mu—Ohio Wesleyan

Win Intramural Championship

The spring semester brought many outstanding honors to Mu Chapter at Ohio Wesleyan. The fun and hard work that captured these honors have produced an enthusiasm which will provide a good beginning for the fall semester.

Of course, the biggest social event of the spring was the formal. Spanish moss and blue lights provided the proper atmosphere for the occasion which was highlighted with the crowning of Celeste Youker as Delt Queen. Celeste is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority and is pinned to Chuck Ferrell who has served as Delt president for the past year.

In the field of athletics, the Delts were successful at Wesleyan. Both of the trophies for spring sports went to the men of Mu Chapter. With the skillful pitching of Jim Welch, a freshman, the baseball cup was easily taken. After this success, the volleyball team, determined not to be outdone, went ahead to win the trophy which put both spring intramural championships in the hands of the Delts.

Along scholastic lines the chapter has maintained its high standing. Four of the brothers, Bill West, Dave Smith, Dave Hummel, and Jack Cole, were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Bill West and Dave Hummel were also elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary.

Dave Smith, former editor of the Wesleyan yearbook, brought further honor to Mu Chapter when he was elected president of the student body. The chapter worked long and hard on the campaign and was justly rewarded when its political efforts paid off with a landslide ballot in favor of Dave.

With the completion of another school year, Mu Murmurs, the chapter publication, has gone to press. The magazine describes the activities of the chapter during the past year and explains to the rushees what life is like at the Delta Shelter at Ohio Wesleyan. Anyone desiring a copy of the publication will receive one by writing to Hal Stevens, 163 N. Franklin St., Delaware, Ohio, anytime after the fifteenth of September.

Omicron—Iowa

Orchid Formal Highlights Year

Omicron Delts closed the book on another eventful year last June 6 with graduation ceremonies at the University of Iowa. Four Delts were graduated. They were Tom Bowers, Dave Crumley, Jim Grotenhuis, and Karl Scheld, all from the College of Commerce. Two Omicron juniors went on to medical school, and one was drafted. This meant that Omicron would reopen with a large number of men returning this fall.

The spring season last year was highlighted by the Orchid Formal. At this dance Omicron copied a tradition of many other Delt chapters by using an Orchid Tree theme where corsage and favor were combined in an orchid for each guest.

The Delt chorus placed second by one point in last year's University Sing. We were beaten by the SAE's. This year the sing title will be among our major efforts.

Also last spring a hard-playing Delt softball team made things rough on its opponents in the interfraternity league. Hampered by lack of depth they lost the quarter-final game; however, they did avenge the loss of the sing by beating the SAE's 9-0.

Omicron contracted last spring with an interior decorator to redecorate the main floor of the Shelter this summer. This was completed early in September.

All members of Omicron were on hand September 9 to open the Shelter for another year. Rush week begins on the Iowa campus September 14, and an effective summer rushing program laid groundwork for a profitable season.

Alumni Chairman Jim Hepner is busy with plans for an alumni gathering in connection with homecoming this fall.

Speaking of football games, indications point to a good football season for Iowa this year, and Omicron extends an invitation to members of neighboring chapters to follow their teams to Iowa and stop at the Shelter while they're here.

Along with this invitation goes the good wishes of Omicron for a good year at all other Delt chapters.

Tau—Penn State

Tau Delts Win Many Honors

The Delts won the third-place trophy in the Spring Week contest. Points were awarded for participation in the Spring Week Parade, the Mad-Hatters' Contest, and for ticket sales at the carnival booths. Kappa Delta Sorority co-operated with us. The climax of Spring Week was a formal dance at the Shelter on Saturday night featuring Lee Vincent and his orchestra, who annually opens the famous Steel Pier at Atlantic City. Mary Towson was crowned Delt Queen at a formal banquet preceding the dance.

Penn State Delts won many honors during the spring. Joe Kline was elected business manager of Froth, the campus humor magazine. Al Marshall was elected president of the Penn State Christian Association and tapped for Androcles, senior men's activities honorary; Tom Anderson was selected assistant golf manager and named to Blue Key, junior men's honorary; and Gary Lewis was named head golf manager. Jim Rugh will return this fall as head cross-country manager.

Upsilon—Rensselaer

24 Lettermen Represent Chapter in Campus Athletics

Graduation in June saw 13 men leave for service in the Armed Forces. It is hard to lose so many fine guys both from a fraternal and personal point of view. We all wish them the best of luck in the future.

Varsity lettermen of Upsilon Chapter, Rensselaer.

Congratulations are in order for Bill Glaser who was elected president of the Rensselaer I.F.C. Bill, a management engineer from Tuckahoe, New York, has been very active in his three years here at RPI and is certainly the man for the job.

Last spring the house, under the direction of Tom Mooney, won the IF Songfest hands down with the renditions of "Beautiful Savior" and "Dry Bones." Tom had good support from the members and did a terrific job.

It seems that someone counted up the lettermen in the house and came up with the startling figure of 24. These letters represent every sport played on the hill.

Since the lettermen cannot compete in the IF sport in which they won their letter or while in training for a sport, it makes it difficult for us to win the IF Trophy. Nevertheless, we made a good showing by coming in second after winning the track meet.

Bill Lillis, one of the graduates, was honored by being chosen to play first attack for the North Lacrosse Team. The North-South Lacrosse Game was played June 6 and unfortunately the South won. Bill was cocaptain of the RPI Lacrosse Team during the past year and will be a great loss to the team.

Phi—W. & L.

Final Dances Held

Last June during graduation final dances, Phi Chapter, in the role of host fraternity, gave an open house terrace party which was a tremendous social success. The party, attended by students and parents alike, was enhanced by abundant refreshments and stimulating Dixieland jazz. Brother John Allen, who was president of the dance, must be commended here for his efficient planning of this party, and also his skillful management of the dance which was acclaimed as one of the best in years.

Jack Delahunty, chapter president and University executive committeeman, has now added the captaincy of the football team to his repertoire of Washington and Lee achievements. In addition to Captain Delahunty, other Delt participants in Washington and Lee football who will probably see considerable action are Bill McHenry, Dan Popovich, Jerry Murphy and Wally Degree.

In addition to its contributions to varsity ball, Phi Chapter should also excel on the intramural gridiron. Almost every member of last year's second-place team is back, and with our abundant supply of competent substitutes, the Deltas should easily cop the football crown. The situation is similar in other sports, and we shall certainly be among the leaders in the coming intramural race.

This year it again appears that Delta Tau Delta will reign supreme on the Washington and Lee political scene. Jack Delahunty has been appointed senior executive committeeman, and Robert P. Smith, the extracurricular activity king of Phi Chapter, has been appropriately elected president of the junior class. Watson Bowes, varsity wrestling letterman and honor roll student, has also grasped a rung on the political ladder by winning the sophomore class vice-presidency. Deltas also hold many minor offices, too numerous to mention here.

Chi—Kenyon

Win Many Major Distinctions

Chi Chapter wound up the year with many Deltas holding positions of major distinction on the Kenyon campus. Elected to play for the Southern Team in the North-South All-Star Lacrosse game to be played in New York Polo Grounds was Jeremiah Ellsworth, and Silas Axtell was voted most valuable player on the 1952 lacrosse team. Tildon McMasters and Ron Ryan are Ohio Conference tennis champions, and Jack Gammon became a sophomore member of Kenyon Social Committee. Pledge Jim Wallace was elected secretary-treasurer of the freshman class. Robert Roth became secretary-treasurer of student assembly and Edward Ames was elected secretary-treasurer of the senior class.

Delta Tau Delta won a sports trophy for having most men out for varsity athletics. Silas Axtell served as captain of the soccer team and cocaptain of the lacrosse team, Ron Ryan served as captain of the tennis team, and Ron Fraley holds the cocaptaincy of the football team for 1952-53. The chapter won the Pasini Trophy which is given to intramural champions of the year, figured on a point basis, and is held permanently if won by the same fraternity three years consecutively. This is our third win; therefore, we retain the trophy.

The chapter bid farewell to Grant Cooke, who was graduated cum laude in June. Norm Nichol was granted a one-semester scholarship to the American University in Washington, D. C., for his high average in political science and for showing exceptional promise in the field of political science. Tildon McMasters held the editorship of the biweekly paper and Charles Cable served as its advertising manager. Both will hold these positions until February, 1953. The senior honorary society claimed John Ver Nooy, Bob Roth, and Bill Ranny.

Omega—Pennsylvania

Well Represented in Honor Societies on Campus

Helping the Deltas at Pennsylvania shine in campus honoraries are Charles Russell, Steven Littauer, Isaac Van Voorhis, George Rieder, Dick Johnson, Lawrence Groo, and Monroe Trout, Friars Senior Society; Jim Jones, Charles Mellon, Scott Fuess, Irving Miller, and Tom Scotes, Sphinx; and Monroe Trout, Tom Scotes, Dick Johnson, and Tom Singer, Phi Beta Kappa. Jim Jones was tapped by Beta Gamma Sigma, business honor society, and the national education honor society claimed Charles Schroepe.

Holding campus presidencies are the following: Charles Russell, undergraduate council, 1951-52; Monroe E. Trout, junior class, undergraduate council, 1952-53, and interfraternity council, 1952-53; and George Rieder, Friars Senior Society.

The Deltas have been busy as editors and business managers of student publications on campus. Charles Russell was editor in chief of the daily newspaper, Bill Rader served as promotions manager of the newspaper, Tom Scotes will be managing editor of the newspaper for the year 1952-53, and Isaac Van Voorhis was advertising manager of the yearbook.

On the sports front George Rieder and Jim Williams turned out for track, Bill Gay starred on the golf links, and Irving Miller, Dick Johnson, and Steve Littauer rowed with the crew.

The chapter won the Sphinx Society Leadership Award on the basis of being the best house on campus in scholastic and extracurricular activities. The Cane Award for the outstanding leader in the senior class went to Charles Russell. Many Deltas represented Omega in the Mask and Wig Club this year, and Scott Fuess led the cheers at all the games as head cheerleader. Head track manager was Norm Stevens, head tennis manager was Jim Crisanti, Ronald Atkins served as assistant crew manager, Emmett Housh as assistant football manager, and Bill Gay as assistant soccer manager.

It is plain to see that the Deltas at Pennsylvania have won many major distinctions this year and we look forward to the same type of representation for next year.

Beta Beta—DePauw

Steak for Alumni

Alumni day, June 7, brought to a close the 1952 school year at DePauw. Many alums turned out and topped off a busy day at a steak fry on the spacious front lawn.

Outstanding in spring sports were Bob Radle and Jim Dudley. Radle, a senior, was runner-up in Little State singles competition and was elected captain of the tennis team. Dudley, only a sophomore, took first place in the 880 in the Little State track meet.

Several other Deltas closed out the year with honors. Curt Clark, an outstanding pianist, made Phi Mu Alpha, national music honorary, and also received a scholarship to continue his studies in Vienna. Van Fucilla was elected president of DOX, premedical honorary. Jim McClenahan was tapped for Gold Key, senior men's honorary, and Ward Shawver was chosen DePauw's Most Valuable Athlete.

Although Beta Beta lost ten seniors in June, our spring rush program netted us ten good pledges and we should have no trouble picking up ten or 15 more during fall rush.

At least a dozen Deltas will be fighting for berths on the football team this year and three others are out for cross country.

All in all, 1953 should be a great year for Beta Beta.

Beta Gamma—Wisconsin

Hold Athletic Captaincies

George O'Brien held the captaincy of the football team this year while Gordon Johnson captained the gymnastics team and the cheerleaders, and George O'Brien, Jim Evoy, Gordon Johnson, and Theodore Fox all won varsity letters.

Holding memberships in many scholastic honoraries this year were Theodore Fox, Marvin Malix, and Ray Morton. Joe Benton was elected as president of the interfraternity council, and Curtiss Bailey and Steve Copps were claimed by Scabbard and Blade, ROTC honorary. Ray Stommel and Ray Morton became members of Provost Corps, military police ROTC honor society.

The winner of the 128-pound championship AAU wrestling of Wisconsin was Ted Fox. The Deltas won the fraternity Blood Drive by 20 pints and the trophy for the most ticket sales in the Campus Carnival show, chairmanned by Dick Schillfarth.

Beta Delta—Georgia

Chapter Places Third Scholastically

Beta Delta opens another school year endeavoring to better last year's achievements.

In intercollegiate athletics the Deltas are well represented by three letter winners from last year: Brother Hurley Jones, first-string center on the Georgia football team; Pledge Louis "Red" McGee, first-string basketball guard; Pledge Jim Pyle, track team. Jim also manages the football squad. Managing the basketball team will be Pledge Bill Scott.

Graduating Brother Tunis Crowley, past president of the Intramural Athletic Board, will be hard to replace. He leaves an intramural basketball record of 46 points scored in one game. Our football team, runner-up last season, plans to continue its winning ways.

Brothers Connie Branch and Bill Pruett, who were initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, helped place the chapter in third place scholastically out of 20 fraternities on the campus. Connie, ranking in the upper five per cent of the graduating class, was also initiated into Beta Gamma Sigma. Bill Pruett, standing in the upper ten per cent of the graduating class, won a Shorter Art Prize. Hurley Jones ranked in the upper five per cent of the junior class.

Brothers Dave Lamb, Tom Westbrook, and John Hammond were cited as the outstanding cadets of their respective R.O.T.C. units. Brother Lamb represented the University at West Point's 150th Anniversary. Brothers Lamb, Hammond, and Bo Hardigree fired on the Georgia rifle team.

Brother Charlie Petteway was elected treasurer of the Interfraternity Council for 1952.

The Delt quartet, composed of Brothers "Jug" Campbell, B. J. Clemence, Alan Shadgett, and Bob Withers, gained campus-wide fame and popularity entertaining at house parties and formal dances last year, and is anticipating another year of successful performances.

Beta Zeta—Butler

Several Beta Zeta Deltas

Receive Scholastic Recognition

Eleven Beta Zeta Deltas were graduated from Butler University on June 9. Those who received their degrees were: Bill Loebig, Bill Robertson, Gerald Closser, Warren Clements, Clyde Green, Roger Mays, Jack Jackson, Harold Martin, Don Schladehan, Dave Berry, and Jim Mathis.

On June 15, initiation was held at the Shelter, followed by a banquet at the Riviera Club and a beach party in honor of the initiates.

The Deltas have been well represented in campus honorary societies this past year. Jim Shrock served as president of Sphinx, and Dick Curtis was president of the Loyalty Legion. For next year, Dave Northam has been elected president, and Marlin Husted treasurer of the Society for the Advancement of Management. Vic Tanguy was elected vice-president of Alpha Epsilon Rho, and Jim Smith will be treasurer of Sphinx.

Several Deltas have received recognition for scholastic proficiency throughout the year. Marlin Husted, George Goodnight, Jim Shrock, and Ross Copeland made the Dean's List, and Ross Copeland, Marlin Husted, and Jim Shrock were elected to Blue Key. Warren Clements was selected the outstanding ROTC cadet; and Marlin Husted, Jim Mathis, and Jim Shrock also received ROTC awards.

Beta Zeta is not without its athletes, either. Mike Marmion, one of the finest offensive centers Butler has seen in many years, won his letter this season. The chapter was also represented in football by Fred Ryan, on the varsity squad, and Chuck Boltin, playing for the freshman team. Bob Reed, a mainstay of Butler's basketball team, had a season's scoring average of over .800, and JoDean Crist was leading the field events in track until he received a serious knee injury.

The chapter officially closed the school year with a highly successful spring formal, held at Lakeshore Country Club. Carolyn Tudor, of Kappa Alpha Theta, was chosen the Delt Queen. Beautiful orchid corsages were given as favors, and the music was by Brother Dave Northam and his orchestra. The dance was followed by a wiener roast. Brother Jim Shrock, social chairman, is to be commended for his work toward making this a successful evening and a fitting close to an equally successful school year.

Beta Eta—Minnesota

Delts Hold Own Athletically

Spring quarter started off with a bang here at Beta Eta with the advent of the all-University event of the year, the Campus Carnival, May 4. After many nights of practice, the "Delt Combo," an eight-piece Dixieland group, finally rounded into fine shape for the Delt show, which was based on the theme, "Dogpatch Inn." The highlight of the show was the take-off on "Li'l Abner's" honeymoon, a satire based on Al Capp's now famous comic strip marriage.

The last big social event of the year was our Spring Formal held at the Forrest Lake Country Club, May 24. Many alumni were present and Alumnus John Madson led the singing during the evening. The Spring Formal was a great success, along with the previous parties this year, thanks to our new social chairman, Steve Samels. Another outing of equal success was our picnic at Taylor's Falls this spring which included softball, wiener roasting, and singing.

The Delts held their own in athletics this year. Max Schmitt, although plagued with injuries early in the season, saw plenty of action with the Gophers as the No. 2 quarterback. Max also held down the second base position on the baseball team until midseason when he again turned his attention to spring football practice. Don Korn, No. 2 man on the tennis team, had a good record this year, and next year he will lead the Gopher tennis team as the No. 1 man.

With the student government elections this year we saw the Greek party, the Gopher Progressives, defeated for the first time in its history. Despite this fact, however, Delt Tom Bell was elected President of the Junior Cabinet, one of the few positions held down by fraternity men.

Due to the loss of nearly half of our actives through graduation and the marked decrease in college enrollment, the emphasis has been on rushing this summer. Rush Chairman Bob Olson has been busy with his committee this summer contacting rushees throughout the state.

Beta Theta—Sewanee

Place Second in Annual Sing

The annual Parisian Party proved to be one of the most successful parties on the campus. Much praise must go to Social Chairman Jim Kilpatrick for his work on the details of the occasion.

The intramural softball season provided many thrilling games, but the Delts didn't prove to have a winning punch, and ended the season in the second division. Brothers McCrummen and Norfleet showed some power at the plate, and both ranked in the top ten batters in the league. Brother Eshleman proved to be a topflight pitcher, but the inconsistency of the fielding kept the team out of contention.

Brothers Eshleman, Hayes, and Niebank were chosen to fill the three offices vacated by graduating seniors. At the same meeting, three new men were initiated, and they are: Dave Cole, Dick Garrison, and Mickey Thompson.

In the annual Blue Key Sing, the chapter placed second among all the fraternities on the Mountain, under the direction of Brother Alan Bell.

Brothers Grier and Stearly were chosen as Karnea delegates.

At Commencement time, an Old Timer's Party was held at the Shelter, and proved to be a success. Thus, a successful year was brought to a joyful close, and everyone is looking forward to September's rush season.

Beta Kappa—Colorado

Beta Kappa Wins All-School Sports Trophy

Beta Kappa's men of sports came through in grand style this year by winning the All-School Sports Trophy. This award is made each year to the organization that has compiled the most points in the various competitive sports events.

Although we were not told the exact number of points that we had accumulated, we were way in front of the nearest competitor.

The Delt hot-shot volleyball team repeated last year's performance by again winning its league. Aided by many freshmen, the team was undefeated throughout the season and shows great promise to duplicate the feat next year.

During our very successful CirCUs Days, our hook and ladder chorus captured the second-place trophy in the men's division by singing "The Fireman's Bride."

At the intramural track meet held on the Saturday afternoon of C.U. Days, "Red" Scarff broke the low hurdles record. Jack Bratley, Lynn Miller, Jim Galligan, and Chuck Rufen turned up the cinders for us to win the 880.

C.U. Days was completed in grand fashion by the Delts. Their yearly blast was again held up in Boulder Canyon, and everyone agreed that the party was at its best.

The main event for the men of Beta Kappa this fall is homecoming, which will be held on November 15. For the first time in several years, all organizations will concentrate on house decorations in place of the usual colorful float parade.

Although no definite plans have been made for our decoration, the men of the Shelter are out to add another item to their trophy case.

Beta Lambda—Lehigh

Chapter Receives Charter Member's Badge

Looking back over the spring semester, we find Beta Lambda well represented in the field of varsity athletics, with 17 members participating. Dunc "Scotty" Malcolm had a good year as captain of the much improved basketball team. Our other regular, Harry Stowers, was forced to the sidelines for part of the season with a sprained ankle. Pledge Archie Schifflin made the team in his freshman year, and shows promise of being one of Lehigh's future stars. In tennis, we find Bill Deugler holding down the No. 1 spot on the team, after being chosen as the outstanding member of last year's group. Of particular note is the new Middle Atlantic Shot-Put record which was set this past season by Don Bell, who heaved a tremendous 49' 3 3/4" to break all previous Conference and Lehigh records. Don Bell has been defeated only once in varsity competition, and then by a teammate. Other spring sports in which Deltas were represented were golf, sailing, baseball, and spring football.

Beta Lambda Chapter is proud of its representation in a number of honorary societies which include Varsity "L" Club, Alpha Kappa Psi, Omicron Delta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi, Chi Epsilon, Scabbard and Blade, Arnold Air Society, Pi Tau Sigma, and Pi Delta Epsilon.

Recently, Beta Lambda was honored to receive a gift from Charles M. Case, class of 1892—the original Square Badge given to Brother Case in 1888 which bears special significance because he was a charter member of Beta Lambda Chapter and first to sign the register. We intend to exhibit the badge in a glass case over the mantelpiece in the living room.

The chapter was active in the Interfraternity Council Community Service Project this spring. This consisted of a donation of work by all the Lehigh fraternities toward the cleanup or rehabilitation of some city youth centers including painting, window cleaning, care of grounds, furniture repairs, etc. Part of the work contributed by Beta Lambda was the cleanup of the grounds of the girls' orphanage, Wiley House in nearby Fountain Hill.

The 1953 yearbook staff will be headed by Bob Linck, with Bruce Reinhold as art editor, and Pledges Bill Stempfle and Jim Crabtree on the sports staff.

Despite the fact that we have had to say "so long" to nine of our brothers this past June, Beta Lambda has a lot to look forward to during the coming year, and the pledges have shown a fine interest in Lehigh affairs in general and fraternity affairs in particular. By Smith is vice-president of the freshmen class; Dick Thompson had the lead in the Spring Music Festival production of "Brigadoon"; Howie Keim is a definite candidate for the coming season's football team; Dick Sperry is among the lead players of the golf team; Archie Schifflin, as previously mentioned, is on the varsity basketball team—just to mention a few of the highlights so far.

Beta Mu—Tufts

Wins Spring Sing Second Straight Year

With the medley from "The Student Prince," Beta Mu once again took the Tufts College Spring Sing. The sing was under the direction of Senior Min Aliapoulos, who was the unit battalion commander of the N.R.O.T.C. during his four years at Tufts.

The softball team had a creditable season by winning seven of eight games played and finishing second in the College championship. Other diamond news shows that Freshmen King, Lengzel, Bonasia, and Fryer were all starters on the yearling team.

Elected to Sword and Shield, sophomore honorary society, were Brothers Rutter and Schmid. Nat Rutter was later president of the society. To the junior honorary, called Ivy Society, went Delt Fred McCurdy.

Plans are already made for next year. Our sights are set on better scholarship and better rushing. Before the summer vacation Brothers McCurdy and Raine held a clinic on scholarship and rushing. By September rush week our house should be in fine shape. We are working on interior improvements with the installation of new rugs, while the exterior is receiving a coat of paint. With a good nucleus of men returning, we should be well on our way to another successful year.

Beta Nu—M.I.T.

Eleven Lost by Graduation

The close of the school year found eleven men being graduated and a great store of reminiscences at hand . . . such things as the I.F.C. week end, which was an outstanding success last spring and was enjoyed tremendously by everyone, and which, incidentally, will be run next spring from the chairman's position by Tony Turano. We all feel sure that next April we will have a great week end to be even more vividly remembered.

Also of importance, this spring marked the elections of new chapter officers. They are as follows: Pete Bixler, president; Chris Whitcombe, vice-president; Jim Fenske, treasurer; Dave Reed, recording secretary; Larry Coffin, corresponding secretary; Fred Bowis, social chairman; Jack Redlein, athletic chairman; Al Cron, house manager; and Karl Reuther, I.F.C. representative.

The past athletic season saw a good majority of the house out for lacrosse with Bill Carson, Bob Oliver, Tony Turano, and Dick Mapes on the varsity.

Crew-wise Chuck Buntschuh pulled the stroke oar for the varsity heavy boat and Don Christensen held the business end of another sweep in the same shell. Ken Foster and "Uncle John" Gaylord were in the J.V. lightweight boat which saw considerable action at Princeton. Al

Cron and Bob Buntschuh numbered among the frosh crew.

Brothers Reuther and Reed were on the frosh baseball nine, while Brothers Bushnell, Craven, Brannon, and Pledge Snodgrass looked good on the freshman lacrosse field. Warren Lattot continued to break track records.

Probably the biggest news of the spring is the fact that we're on the verge of purchasing a new Shelter. By the time this issue of THE RAINBOW is published, what are now our hopes should be a reality. The house we have in mind is perfectly suited for a fraternity and when the next issue is out we'll be able to tell you all about it with a picture or two.

Beta Omicron—Cornell

Shelter Undergoes Thorough Polishing Prior To Social Affairs

We left you at the end of the basketball season and told you that we had made the semifinals. We were more successful in bowling. The bowling team, consisting of Dave MacDonald, Bill Moyer, and Larry Way, won its way to the intramural final competition. Our softball and volleyball squads were less fortunate, each winning three out of five games in league competition.

The boys polished the Shelter especially well for two big occasions in April. The first, the eleventh through the thirteenth, was Sub-Frosh Week End. The program, sponsored by the University, was to bring acquaintances who were juniors and seniors in high school to Cornell in order to give them a foretaste of college life. Several good fellows stayed at the house and enjoyed the week end. The second big occasion was Freshmen's Parent Week End; the eighteenth through the twentieth. Parents of Delt freshmen visited our Shelter, met and talked with the brothers, and enjoyed good weather and good meals at the house. The chapter co-operated with the University's program, and tried to show the parents as much of Cornell fraternity life as was possible during the program intervals.

Spring Week End at Cornell began on May 9. Everyone at the house worked a great deal on the float for the parade. The hard work paid off, because our float took third prize.

Good weather in Ithaca this spring provided excellent picnic conditions of which we took advantage. Two of our outings were exchange affairs, one each with the sororities, Kappa Alpha, Theta and Delta Delta Delta.

Several fellows returned to the Shelter before school began this fall to redecorate the interior of a large part of the house. We believe redecorating will help in rushing.

to win sixth place in the Intramural Sweepstakes race for the year. At present the big emphasis is on touch football. With last year's entire starting team returning we should do quite well in this activity. Wrestling is another sport in which we expect to excel. The whole championship team from last year is back, and while we can't do much better, we can equal our first-place win of last fall.

Spring quarter was complete socially with the usual round of serenades, beach parties, tea dances, and picnics. This was all topped off by our annual all-day Spring Formal. This fall, of course, the big social event is homecoming. Plans are rapidly going ahead for the homecoming float and a party is being planned for the alums on the evening of homecoming.

Probably the most important event staged by any one fraternity on campus is the Freshman Pajama Race which Beta Pi sponsors. This event is deemed important enough to be placed by the University on its social calendar. It is the first all-school social function which the incoming freshmen may attend. Every year between 3,000 and 4,000 students and spectators assemble to watch this relay race with the contestants running in their brightest pajamas.

Each men's house places a team of four freshmen in the race. Also each sorority submits the name of a freshman girl as a candidate for P.J. Race Queen. The winners are awarded traveling trophies which remain in the respective houses throughout the year. This function not only immediately impresses the freshman body with the name of Delta Tau Delta, but it also places the Delt pledges in an advantageous position in that they escort the queen candidates for the evening.

Two Deltas have really distinguished themselves in scholarship this year. Both Bob Christiansen and Harv Wahls have been elected to two honoraries. John Damore, Ed Demyon, Duck Haffner, Bud Israels, and Tom McCormick will have starting assignments on this year's Northwestern football team. You can expect to hear a lot about them as the football season progresses.

Beta Rho—Stanford

Weismann Elected President of Student Presidents' Association

For the fifth time in the last decade, the new student body president of Stanford University is a Delt. Dick Weismann, redheaded senior from Burlingame, California, won an overwhelming victory in the elections held last spring. He totalled over 1800 votes to the next highest candidate's 450. Dick will take over his new chores at the start of the new school year.

While attending a conference of new student body presidents at Seattle at the close of the last school year, Weismann was elected president of the Pacific Students' Presidents' Association, and will preside at the next meeting of these 75-or-more student body presidents.

Weismann's winning campaign was only the climax of a series of honors won by Stanford Deltas this past year. Chuck Denny, house president at the present time, is the new president of the Interfraternity Council. Chuck was formerly sophomore class president and has been very active in student government.

Steve Mitchell was elected president of the school's house managers for the coming year. Steve will also be in the running for the quarterback spot on this fall's Stanford eleven. Ron Cook, first-string halfback on Stanford's Rose Bowl team of last season, was elected new president of the Block and Circle "S" Society. "Cookie" is from Redondo Beach, California, and has two more years of eligibility.

Fred Backer, a senior from Los Angeles, is the new president of the Rally Committee. It will be Fred's job to plan and execute the giant rallies and card stunts during the coming football season. Two new pledges have been busy winning elections also. Fred Aurel was freshman class president during the last year. Marco Vitulli was president of Encina Hall and is the new sophomore class president for the coming year.

In athletics, three Deltas were especially brilliant last spring. Chuck Essegian, who was a stellar line backer in the Rose Bowl and one of Stanford's few bright spots in that game, was the sensation of the college baseball season on the Coast. Chuck blasted ten homers during the season, seven of them being hit out of Stanford's Sunken Diamond, which is notorious for a lack of home runs. The shortest fence is 350 feet away right down the foul line. Nevertheless, the husky Stanford clouter hit two consecutive homers in one game, the first time that this has been done, and his seven homers out of Sunken Diamond during the season is five more than any other player has ever hit. Chuck's seasonal average was .350. The big league scouts are now on the trail.

In swimming, two Deltas, one an old-timer, the other a freshman, shined for the championship Stanford team. Bob Frojen captained the team and won three first places in the Pacific Coast Championships. Frojen's specialty is the 200-yard breast stroke. He is also a good bet to make the Olympic water polo team, being an All-American in that sport.

The new Delt, Larry Heim, was setting the record books on fire with a series of blistering races. He set a new intercollegiate freshman record in the 200-yard backstroke, and also set the Coast varsity record in that event. Larry is already great, and is ready and willing to make a shambles of the remaining national backstroke records in the next three years.

Beta Tau—Nebraska

Beta Tau Deltas Receive Major Distinctions

Ivy Day at Nebraska was Beta Tau's day of "Major Distinctions." On May 3, William Henry Adams of West Point, Nebraska, was tapped a member of the Innocents Society. This Society of 13 active members is the reward for the men who have been outstanding in leadership, in scholarship, and in service to the University of Nebraska. Bill's record of service and leadership includes three vice-presidencies, the junior class, Kosmet Klub, and Scabbard and Blade. Adding to this he was also treasurer of the Red Cross College Unit, and a member of the University Flying Club and the Newman Club. This was Beta Tau's first Innocent in a score of years, which easily explains why the common phrase around the Shelter still is . . . "Nice going, Bill!"

Spring elections brought more honors and success to Beta Tau Deltas. Bob Hasebrook was elected vice-president of the junior class. At the same election he also won the contest for a seat on the Student Council. At the interfraternity council elections he was elected secretary. As the climax to a year of supreme effort, Bob was chosen a member of Kosmet Klub. For Robert Hasebrook, it was a victorious spring, and it will be a very busy fall awaiting him.

Beta Tau also received a "Major Distinction" in scholarship when Eldon Park received the award for "displaying outstanding proficiency in Naval weapons." Eldon also was elected to the Student Council. At the first meeting of the new Council, he was elected treasurer. Adding to his financial responsibilities, Eldon was chosen treasurer of the University of Nebraska Builders.

When the 1952 Cornhusker yearbook was opened for the first time by anxious students, they found that the frontispiece carried the name of Duane Nielsen as photographing editor. Another congratulation for a year of hard work must go to Lou Laffin who was initiated last spring into the Corn Cobs, men's pep organization.

Writing again about Ivy Day, 1952, every Beta Tau extended the hand of appreciation and congratulations to Freshman Fred Allen of Auburn for the tremendous job of directing that he did in the traditional Ivy Day Sing.

Last spring a very strange occurrence took place at the Shelter. It was a bright, sunny morning and everyone, actives and pledges alike, were pitching in and cleaning the Shelter and mowing the lawn. Then the strange occurrence happened, the Tri Deltas, led by their housemother, marched in and with house cleaning weapons in hand, helped us complete the tedious task. After the work was done, a picnic and an afternoon of good times were had by all. This might be classified under the heading, "Suggestions to all good Delt chapters."

The close of school last spring was dotted with many picnics and watery outings, but the party season was closed with the French Quarter party, which featured decorations at their best.

From Beta Tau Chapter to Richard Lander and William Keeney, Ensigns, U.S.N., best wishes for a successful tour of duty. Both Dick and Bill were graduated from the University of Nebraska last June and at that time received their commissions.

Lenzini—Ol' Dependable Shot-Putter

During the last few months the Deltas at Illinois have been quite busy. Hardly a week end went by without the house being filled with guests.

This year we held one of our most successful alumni reunions. Donald Halahan, the alumnus chairman, did a fine job in contacting the alumni of the chapter. The week end started with golf and various informal get-togethers by the alumni, and climaxed with a banquet Saturday evening. The Deltas at Illinois were celebrating their 80th year on the campus. After the banquet, movies of the Rose Bowl Game in which two of our members, Bill Tate and Bob Lenzini, took a very active part, were shown. Bill Tate did the narrating.

Another yearly occurrence was Mothers' Week End. The boys relinquished the dorms and late Saturday night serenaded the "Moms." A banquet was held Saturday evening.

During the track season, Bob Lenzini made quite a name for himself as an ol' dependable in the shot-put.

Elaborate plans are being laid for a successful summer of rushing. Bob Gasaway, our rushing chairman, has been busy at work contacting likely prospects.

Jack Williams, former vice-president and present pledgemaster, was elected to the student senate, the campus political organization.

Newly elected officers are: Dick Hanes, president; Bill Hoelscher, vice-president; Dick Anderson, treasurer; John Hayes, assistant treasurer; Tom Konrad, corresponding secretary; and Bob Hamilton, recording secretary.

Beta Phi—Ohio State

Extensive Rushing Plans Formed

In the closing weeks of school last spring the Beta Phi Deltas were very proud to see several of their men initiated into various honoraries. Jim Hogan was tapped by Sphinx, the senior men's honorary, and Johnny Borton was initiated into Romophos, the freshman men's honorary. Several of the freshmen were also initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman scholastic honorary.

Toward the end of the quarter, Jim May was presented with a souvenir gavel by the Council of Fraternity Presidents in appreciation for the work he did as its president. Jim Hogan retired from the presidency of the Junior Class, and Gene Matanovich was elected president of OSPA, the leading Greek political party. Beta Phi Deltas also won positions in the various class senates and on the Council of Men's Organizations.

In the intersquad football game that terminated the spring practice, Johnny Borton showed up well in the quarterback slot. By all indications he will be Number One man in this key position this fall.

Last spring Beta Phi saw nine outstanding men complete their college careers. Many of them held fraternity offices. Others had been active in campus activities. They all have done much for Delta Tau Delta and will long be remembered.

Tom Franklin, the rushing chairman, really has a job on his hands to fill the vacancies of the graduating seniors. Besides the three rushing meals served at the house every day, there will be several informal smokers at the house along with outside parties. The high light of the week will be an all-day party at Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm, which is one of the show places of Ohio. So, with the opening of school for the fall quarter, Beta Phi is ready to embark on its first big job of the year—that of rushing. We are sure that it will be the beginning of a successful year.

Beta Psi—Wabash

Chapter Pulls Up in Scholarship

As a result of the efforts of Beta Psi's Mothers' Club and the men of the chapter, the appearance of the Shelter has been greatly improved. After the living room, dining room, and various study rooms received a coat of paint, some of the mothers visited the Shelter, made draperies and recovered the valances in the living room. In addition to this interior decoration, the wash room was modernized by the installation of new wash basins and full-view mirrors. We of the chapter are indeed grateful to the house corporation and to the mothers who contributed to the improvement of our Shelter.

In spring intramurals the Deltas showed well but could have done better with a little luck. The Beta Psi basketball team was the victim of several tough breaks. Most of the games that ended up with the team on the short end of the score were lost by one or two points that could have easily been had with a little luck.

With the passing of basketball, the Beta Psi Deltas moved outdoors and held early leads in baseball and horseshoes. The baseball team held its own throughout the season and came from behind in more than one of its games to bring home a victory and a strong finish at the end of the season for Beta Psi.

Honors for the men and recognition for the chapter have been won by Beta Psi's underclassmen and seniors this year. Bob Lewis, a freshman this year, won his numerals on the golf team. Jay Koehler and Jim Hedges started the season as freshman track managers, and Dick Howell served as varsity manager. Amongst the seniors, Dick Franks finished out the year as business manager of the Wabash and was awarded a Senior Key in addition to a White Lily presented by the Sphinx Club, the significance of which is not known. Doyle Pickett, Bill Reinke, and Bob Hepler were initiated into Blue Key and were also awarded Senior Keys. Sparkling Bob Watts, a real Delt, was awarded his key for participation in football for four years, while John Mahrdt won his for Scarlet Masque, and Dick Neidow for basketball.

We are justly proud of the showing of our intramural teams, the recognitions which our men have received, and of the decoration of our Shelter. But the thing in which every man in the house feels a personal satisfaction and has deep-rooted interest is our scholarship. For a number of years we have been on the bottom of the list scholastically and below the All Men's Average. This year, however, the chapter as a whole decided to emphasize scholarship. When the results of these united efforts were harvested, Beta Psi found that it had climbed from the bottom of the ladder to third on campus, missing second place by five hundredths of a point and that it was above the All Men's Average.

10, at the Sequoia Country Club. This proved to be an enjoyable evening. Shortly after the Formal came the "Beachcomber" which was held at Half Moon Bay. We combined forces with our neighboring chapter from Stanford for an enjoyable evening in South Sea surroundings.

The Alumni Barbecue was another big event of the spring semester. There was a big softball game followed by a barbecue. The Mothers' Club held its annual raffle at the chapter house on May 25. The donations from this raffle will go to buy a radio-phonograph combination for the chapter house. There was an excellent turnout for this event, and "Spide" Kelley, our ex-chapter adviser, went home with the first prize, a half of a steer. The prize was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Gwerder, parents of one of our brothers.

Behind the sensational hurling of Dick Mackey, a powerful Delt baseball team went undefeated throughout the season to walk off with the all-University softball championship, a league that contains well over 100 teams. This is the third time in four years that veteran hurler Dick Mackey has led the squad to the all-University championship.

During the spring semester, two Delts lettered in Varsity Track at U.C. They were Lyle Stainfield, the leading broad jumper, and Larry Lippincott, the top hurdler. Doug Stowell lettered in freshman baseball, and Richie Lien, who went all the way to the semifinals of the P. C. C. Golf Tournament, lettered in golf.

Climaxing a successful semester, the chapter elected George Schroeder, president; Doug Burris, vice-president; Pete Parrish, corresponding secretary; and Norm Gard, secretary.

Gamma Beta—Illinois Tech

Chapter Cops IF Cup For Fifth Win in Six Years

Past years have found the Delts represented in the student government and this coming year is no exception. Last May Bob Zekes was elected vice-president of the Illinois Tech Student Association and Matt Merfeld was elected president of the Junior Class. There was heavy competition in both cases; however, Delt know-how and our reputation on campus pulled a large margin of votes for both men.

The mention of Junior Week, which comes every May, always brings to mind immediately two events: the IF Sing and the House Decorations. Thanks to the efforts of Glen Brown and Bob McWhorter, the IF Sing Cup is ours for the fifth time in the past six years. One more win and we retire another beautiful trophy. A load of thanks is also due to Bob Cook for his design of an 18-foot helicopter which copped first place. Josephine (the helicopter) was a masterpiece of construction, but what surprised the judges most was when her motors started to turn and she lifted 25 feet into the air. Also, last May the second Delt Derby was sponsored and won by the Delts. The grueling bike marathon seems to be too much for everybody else except our boys.

The beginning of a school year always means looking ahead and making a plan. There are three major parts to our plan for the 1952-53 school year. The first is to remain as the leaders on campus. We have men in the top positions of the student government, the student newspaper, and in many of the other organizations on campus. Bigger and better house parties is the second part of our plan. We have had some good parties in the past, but we intend to surpass them this year. The part of the plan is to raise our scholarship standards and show everyone that the Delts have come to college to learn, but can still have a heck of a time while they are at it.

Gamma Gamma—Dartmouth

Finish Another Successful Year

The Dartmouth chapter of Delta Tau Delta finished another year of leadership in Hanover. Three Phi Betes, "Bubs" Richardson, Dick Dalbeck, and Lee Coulter, were graduated last June. Coulter was valedictorian of his class, and Richardson won a $6000 law scholarship to New York University.

The Delts virtually dominated special events again last year. Victory in the interfraternity play contest and creditable showings in the glee club and snow sculpture events have assured us of a first-place cup in the special events competition.

In sports, the Delt boys shone in many fields. Don Wheatly captained the rugby team again last year and, with the aid of Johnny Rice, led them to a highly successful season. Nels Ehinger, ace Delt high jumper, proved himself tops in eastern competition and pointed toward the Olympic tryouts. George Davies, Jerry Evans, Howdy Russel, Beaver Nash, Tom Hartshorn, Coach Duke MacArthur, and Captain Ted McKown were Delt names on the crew rosters.

Green Key, Dartmouth's big spring week end, was one which will be remembered for a long time at the Gamma Gamma Shelter. We got the week end under way with a dance Friday night, and a picnic, a formal party, and a house party on Lake Mascoma brought us through the week end in high style.

Summer found the Gamma Gammas spread well throughout the country. Several brothers made trips to California, Oregon, and points west, while others were touring the "Sunny Southland." We're sure that many wild tales will be told at the Delt house this fall.

The year 1952-53 seems to hold a rosy future for the Dartmouth Delts. With our fall rushing under the capable guidance of Howdy Russell and a highly laudable year behind us, we should have a successful rush period this October, and hopes are high for pledging another fine group of boys. The house renovation program planned before school opens this year and the work program planned for this year's pledges should result in some noticeable and timely improvements for the house.

Gamma Delta—West Virginia

Members Up Scholastic Average

As autumn nears, one begins thinking of classes, greeting old friends, and meeting new "buddies." Those who were graduated remain, but only as memories of past acquaintances; however, this time of the year is the rushing period. Rushing, if conducted favorably, can be quite a determining factor as to whether a fraternity is outstanding—the rushees which are pledged must first be outstanding. Calvin Griffin, who also is vice-president of Gamma Delta, is rush chairman of our chapter and has planned our rush parties, which have been held in various strong Delt cities.

While mentioning rush parties, it brings to mind that Leonard Van Dyne, our newly elected social chairman, has presented quite a list of varied activities and parties that will be held in the forthcoming year.

Academic work cannot be slighted in the mass of activities which become a part of college life. After all, it is the prime reason one continues his education and it deserves the utmost consideration. Gamma Delta members have upped their scholastic average, but not quite to a peak it should reach. It is above West Virginia's All Men's Average, but it should be higher.

A college student must achieve much, at least near the extent of his capabilities, and develop a way of life that will prepare him for after graduation. A fraternity is a huge cornerstone in that building of life, during and after college days.

Gamma Theta—Baker

Ranks High in Campus Scholarship

Gamma Theta is beginning one of its biggest years. George Schrader, Gamma Theta president, has been elected president of the Student Commission at Baker. Bill Eddy will head the B Club, the organization of varsity lettermen, for the forthcoming year. Don Shelby is president of Mu Sigma, national honorary music fraternity, and Clayton Smith fills a similar position in the Business Roundtable Club.

Gamma Theta showed an excellent scholastic record during last year. First semester found Gamma Theta ranking first among all fraternities on the campus and above the All Men's Average. Cecil Miller led the way during the second semester with a 3.00 index while seven other Delts made the Dean's Honor Roll.

One of the high lights of the past social season was the Annual Orchid Ball on May 10. Jeanne Mueller was crowned Delt Queen and was presented a dozen roses and a loving cup. One of the main attractions at this party was the ten-foot orchid at the center of the floor. It was covered with aluminum foil and turned slowly, reflecting the colored lights shining upon it. After the party, the chapter serenaded all of the sororities on the campus.

The parents of Gamma Theta were guests on May 24 and 25. The house was turned over to the mothers on Saturday night and the fathers arrived on Sunday. The mothers were serenaded on Saturday night and the chapter sang for all of the parents on Sunday after dinner.

Commencement Week was highlighted by Stag Night, the annual gathering of alumni and undergraduates. Toastmaster for the evening was Everett Filley, IΘ, '15, manager of the Production Department of the Texas Company, who was awarded the LL.D. degree by the college. He has been with the Texas Company continuously since graduation. The main speaker was Dr. Donald F. Ebright, IΘ, '32, who is in charge of American Refugee and Famine Relief for India. Also present for the reunion was Hon. Dewey Short, IΘ, '19, Republican Congressman from Missouri.

As part of the program Stanley Caywood, Henry Rowland, Larry Mathews, Charles Newton, and Robert Toole were initiated in an impressive ceremony.

With this year under way, Gamma Theta is rapidly making plans for the 63rd Annual Chicken Fry to be held early this fall. With 32 returning actives and a strong pledge class, Gamma Theta will again lead the way on the Baker campus.

Gamma Iota—Texas

Delts Race Ahead in Many Campus Activities

Gamma Iota enters into campus activities this school year as a power to be reckoned with, due especially to victorious elections held last fall. Most outstanding of these was the presidential race which saw Delt Rush Moody, of Houston, chosen head of the University Student Association. Rush, a senior law student and former Associate Justice of the Student Court, ran on the ticket of the newly formed Student Party. Led by Campaign Manager Bob Mickey, of Austin, the entire chapter played an important part in Rush's victory.

Elected president of the University YMCA was Don Eastland, of Hillsboro, a law student and chapter vice-president. Chosen president of the Texas' house-manager's association was Bill Bonham, of Navasota. Not to be outdone by one of her boys, Mrs. Dneproff was made president of the Housemothers' Council.

Carroll Collins, of Fort Worth, received a Texas-letter sweater and a membership in the "T" Association for his work as senior intramural manager. Madison Weaver, of Waco, was promoted to senior manager for this year, and David Alter was advanced to junior manager.

Prominent Delt alumni of Baker who spoke at this year's Gamma Theta Stag Night. Left to right: DEWEY SHORT, Republican Congressman from Missouri, nationally famous orator; Dr. DONALD F. EBRIGHT, director of American Refugee and Famine Relief for India; EVERETT FILLEY, manager of production department and vice-president of the Texas Company. Mr. Filley received an honorary LL.D. degree at the University's commencement exercises.

BOBBY BRODNAX, Texas diver, who took second in the conference meet on both low and high boards behind A.A.U. and Olympic Champion Skippy Browning. In National Collegiates, Bobby received All-American recognition on three-meter board.

The chapter is intent on raising its fourth-place position in intramural sports made last year in competition with 28 fraternities. Varsity athletes, including the former Rice cage captain and Olympic man, Jim Gerhardt, All-American Diver Bob Brodnax, Southwest Conference champion Baseballers Paul Mohr and Travis Eckert, will be among those working to increase the worthy record of six team championships garnered in last year's competition. Delts were winners in football, bowling, water polo, softball, handball doubles, and co-champs in swimming.

Of course, the Olympics haven't been held yet, but Jim Gerhardt is sure to make them as a hop-step-and-jump man, unless he breaks a leg, since his was the best distance in the nation this year. Since the NCAA playoffs in Omaha haven't been finished it may be that Jim and Travis Eckert will be members of a national champion team.

Also of great assistance in this aim will be Troy Lee Hand, of Vernon, varsity footballer, pledged last April.

Gamma Mu—Washington

*Several Delts Reorganized
Scholastically on Campus*

Numerous Delts at Washington received recognition this year for being outstanding in scholarship. The most outstanding were Dave Heggie, who made Phi Beta Kappa and Zeta Mu Tau; Bill Beachner, who received a Phi Beta Kappa scholarship; and Ken Hammer, who made Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, and Zeta Mu Tau. Others who received scholastic distinction were Howard Cady, who made Zeta Mu Tau and Phi Lambda Upsilon, and Jules Diebenow, who made Beta Gamma Sigma and Beta Alpha Psi.

In spring athletics Rod Vanderhoof made his second varsity letter in track by running the half mile, and Dick Greene earned his freshman numerals in crew. Dick was in Washington's boat this year that went against the California freshmen on the Oakland Estuary in Berkeley.

In the Sophomore Carnival this year the Delts, who entered a doubles entry with the Delta Gammas, were awarded the second-place trophy; however, when it was learned that one of the Delts was a professional dancer, we were disqualified. Everybody had a great time though and afterwards we had a terrific party with the Delta Gammas.

All in all, the Delts at Washington had a very outstanding year of activities, sports, and social events. After a good summer highlighted by the Karnea everybody should come back in the fall ready to make the year 1952-53 even bigger than this past year.

Gamma Nu—Maine

Several Receive Military Honors

Gamma Nu is justly proud of several men who received military honors at the Federal Inspection last May. Given the honor of Distinguished Military Student were: Ernest W. Johnson, Harry T.

Jose, Patrick H. Dionne, John Langlais, and Herbert F. Hardy. John Langlais was also named the Outstanding Senior Infantry Cadet; Herbert F. Hardy, the Outstanding Junior Artillery Cadet.

The Senior Skulls, highest nonscholastic honor for Maine men, had for its president in 1951-52, David A. Collins. Patrick H. Dionne has been elected to the society for the coming year.

The outstanding social events of the spring semester were the '49er and spring house parties. Traditional garb of the gold rushers at the '49er was worn, although a couple of Union soldiers also were found in our midst.

The day following the spring house parties a novel outing was held. A boat was boarded at Camden by some 50 couples. It sailed to North Haven, an island ten miles off the Maine coast.

Henry N. Berry was chosen Mr. University for the year 1951-52. His duties were announcer and master of ceremonies for the University of Maine Radio Guild, which broadcasts every Friday evening over WLBZ, Bangor.

Patrick H. Dionne was elected President of the Interfraternity Council for 1952-53. During the year 1951-52 he was president of the Students' Religious Association. Pat also fills the job of chapter president.

Paul E. Marcoux is the editor-elect of the class yearbook for 1954 (the Prism). Paul has been a photographer for the Maine Campus since entering the University.

Douglas Vollmer strengthened Maine's track team considerably, winning three Men whose names appear for the last time are David D. Brackett, Philip Cameron, David Collins, George Dodge, Donald F. Horran, Patrick Hurley, Louis S. Jennings, Malcolm Jones, John MacDonald, Anthony P. Mezoian, Normand A. Ste Marie, and Romeo Mikalonis. We wish them luck and success wherever they may go.

Gamma Xi—Cincinnati

Shine in Social Activities

Prexy Jim Micheau added to his list of accomplishments by being crowned with the somewhat dubious title but certainly deserving award of "Cotton King of Chi Omega." The girls, in grateful appreciation of our most manly specimen, honored the chapter and Jim with a party in celebration of their new official "heart throb" for the coming year. All we can say is, that for a man who has only been back from the service for five months and not only has been elected president of his Fraternity, but designated as the official "dream boat" of a sorority, sure must not be wasting any time.

For the first time in years, under the able gyrations and guided instructions of Nick Shundich, our gifted group of tune-ful "jolly-boys" was finally given noteworthy recognition by music lovers of the University and we made the Interfraternity Sing Finals. Our selection and masterful rendition and interpretation of a medley of Serbian War Songs sung in the Serbian language dazzled and stunned even the old masters. This was not enough to win understand, but we were certainly not the least offensive of the losers.

As if this was not enough, the souped-up D.T.D. version of "Barnacle Bill the Sailor" rounded out our well-balanced program of musical depreciation.

A very successful open house was held on Mother's Day for the parents. Jim Barnes was named as the outstanding pledge and former Prexy Dick Hanauer was titled as "Mr. Delt," a new award given for outstanding work and service to the Fraternity.

The week-end party has developed into the year's biggest social splurge and is the time when all the brothers take great pride in bringing back and showing off their home-town sweethearts. The fairer sex takes over the house and we men move out for three days, finding other suitable accommodations with nearby friends or in the local trees and caves in the park just across the street. The girls are left to manage pretty much for themselves; however, they are confronted with a multitude and maze of various signs, posters, and notices—warning, advising, counseling, and cautioning on almost every anticipated phase of their possible conduct and activity during their week-end adventure. Pledge Brother Fritz Zivic went so far as to wire his date's room with a dictaphone. Fritz is going to be popular or know the reason why.

Through graduation this year we only lost a few men. But the small number does little to reflect the extent of the loss. Such names as Nick Shundich, Bill McDonald, Dick Wolfe, "Weepy" Delong, and others have been symbolic of great service and sacrifice to Delta Tau. Words cannot do justice for the contributions they have made—all we can say is, thanks fellows, thanks an awful lot for something which is as hard to express as it is to repay.

Frank Eden is hard at work laying plans and organizing the coming rush program. Judging by Frank's past efficiency, as far as competition is concerned, no one short of Uncle Sam is going to do a better job of grabbing good men.

Miracles never cease, and the Delta Shelter is in the process of getting a new face lifting on the second deck. New super modernistic study rooms and living accommodations will undoubtedly be a tremendous rushing asset and will be a great morale builder for the men in the coming year.

Gamma Pi—Iowa State

Win Fourth of 28 In Float Parade

The boys of Gamma Pi can look back on a spring quarter filled with activity. Brightest spot was, of course, the annual all-College Veishea celebration. Delt minds and hands went to work to create the "biggest and the best" float for the Veishea Parade. Our "Stick with Leadership" won us fourth place out of 28 floats in the fraternity division. Charles Oppedahl was the mastermind behind the giant Scotch-tape holder, complete with perky Scotchmen, resplendent in tartan plaids woven by the brothers.

Gamma Pi tried something new this year in holding its spring alumni reunion during Veishea week end. A picnic dinner climaxed the busy week for Deltas, alumni, and parents. Bob Mahnke was in charge of the mountainous correspondence that went into the Alumni Day planning.

Bill Byrus, defensive tackle for Iowa State, served as cocaptain of the varsity team during the annual game between College alumni and varsity players. The local sports fans are looking for great things from this forester-footballer this season.

Also on the athletic side, the boys from the Shelter outpitched all contenders in the all-College horse shoe contest, to take the championship for a second year. Pitching for the house were Bill Weidenbacher, Bill Byrus, John Krob, Bob Rubey and Bob Samuelson.

Ted Marston was recently named engraving editor for the 1953 College yearbook. Ted, together with another Delt, Bob Campbell, was among the nine Iowa State men elected to Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, spring quarter.

"Those Deltas must be growing their own orchestra," think passers-by. Musical brothers squeeze practice time into after-meal periods. Well represented in Iowa State's crack marching band, Deltas also lend their talents to the concert stage. Brother Ron Vogelgesang's dance band is fast becoming a campus favorite. Our versatile pianist, Dean Karns, gives us and the College everything from New Orleans blues to the best of the concert classics.

Under House and Grounds Manager Ken Gibson, the Deltas added more improvements to the Shelter. A little-used basement room was connected to our much talked about "Redwood Room."

FORMER DELT PRESIDENT PAUL HOFFMAN visits Gamma Rho Chapter at Oregon. He is welcomed here by Chapter President BOB SHETTERLY. Mr. Hoffman paid a short visit to the Shelter in May, following his appearance at the Student Union where he spoke in behalf of General Eisenhower's candidacy.

A black and white decorating scheme gives a very sophisticated air to even an hour dance exchange.

With agriculture majors acting as "straw bosses," all the Delts took their turns at turning over the sod of the lawn. A turf rivalry, so we claim, only by the College golf greens, was the eventual result.

Gamma Rho—Oregon

Water-Shooting Elephant Wins Third Place For Chapter

A huge lifelike elephant which squirted water at clowns and confetti at spectators won third place for the Delts in the gala Junior Week End float parade May 10. Other spring term events highlighting the busy Gamma Rho social agenda were the spring costume dance, "South Seas Serenade," the Hilltop Party, and the Daughter-Sister Banquet.

The Gamma Rho intramural basketball squad dropped a close one in the play-offs to take second place in a tough tournament. Oregon State Delts took home the perpetual softball trophy June 7 after winning the annual Gamma Rho-Delta Lambda softball game. Freshman Phil Lewis made a varsity letter in swimming, specializing in the 440-yard free style.

Phil Lewis and Ron Ricketts were tapped for Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's honorary. Bob White took top house freshman scholastic honors with a 3.7 GPA, and Rick Tarr was honored as the outstanding pledge of the year.

Mr. Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker Corporation, on a campaign tour for General Eisenhower in May, visited the Shelter after speaking in the Student Union ballroom.

Practically a full house will greet Gamma Rho members returning in the fall as 17 of last year's newly initiated freshmen will move into the Shelter for the first time. Under Oregon's deferred living plan, they had to live in University dormitories for their first year.

Several summer rushing parties helped prospective freshmen get acquainted. Socially, this promises to be another outstanding year, with the fall term house dance and homecoming activities first on the agenda.

Gamma Sigma—Pittsburgh

Win Letters in Varsity Athletics

Holding varsity letters in football this year were Paul Chess and Neil Huffman, and swimming letter holders were Bill Corr, Fred O'Nions, Chuck Floyd, Gary Greer, John Kruper, and Jim Palmer.

Joe Edmundson was elected as president of the interfraternity council, Bob Tarter as president of Nu Sigma Sigma, and Bill McKinley as president of Omicron Delta Kappa. Don Bravin will serve as editor of the interfraternity handbook next year. Scholastically speaking, the Druids claimed Leo Kairys and Dan Purdy this year.

The chapter came through for the second consecutive year in first place in the IF Sing competition.

Gamma Tau—Kansas

Gamma Tau Emphasizes Rushing

With the christening of the 1952-53 year, the Kansas University Delts look forward with confidence towards another successful year. The emphasis during the summer has been placed on rushing, and it seems apparent that this year's pledge class has rewarded our efforts. This summer's rush program was conducted in a well-organized manner. Immediately after finals, several boys made a trip throughout the state talking with the prospects and signing them for rush week dates. Through the remainder of the vacation months the actives in the various cities and most of the smaller towns held rush parties with the boys in their localities. The climax came just before rush week when the committee made another trip. On this trip they managed to reach each in time for main rush parties and a final chance to discuss rush week with the high school grads.

The Gamma Taus finished a very successful intramural year by winning the "Hill" golf championship. Dean Frisbie then added to the laurels by taking the individual trophy. This brought the year's total of "Hill" championships to four, plus three division winners. Turning to the social front, the Delts entertained with the Annual Spring Formal on May 10. As has been the custom, the theme for this, the biggest party of the year, was Chinese. A 10-foot statue of Buddha was the dominant prop. Louie Kinman and his band provided the dancing music.

The policy for the coming year will follow that of past years. It includes emphasis on athletics, social activity, fellowship, and a little extra concentration on scholarship.

Gamma Upsilon—Miami

Delts Lead in Campus Activities

The Miami Delts were outstanding in many campus activities this year with Walter Dimmers as Y.M.C.A. president-elect for 1952-53, Larry Hall as president-elect for the Young Republican Club for 1952-53, Edwin R. Ricker as president of Phi Epsilon Kappa for 1951-52, and David Davis as Young Republican Club president for 1951-52.

Shining in athletics, the Delts helped the varsity teams to many victories. Representing the chapter on the baseball varsity were Carmen Cozza, Ken Smith, Don Puls, and Charles Doersten. John Lawrence and Jack Nelson were on the wrestling varsity and Carmen Cozza, Jim Root, Paul Sautter, Charles Harrison, Dick Hunter, Doug Thompson, and Jerry Sutter starred on the gridiron.

In intramurals, the Delts of Miami claimed the interfraternity championships in basketball and softball, and won the interfraternity All-Sports Award for 1952.

The chapter placed second in the interfraternity sing.

Winning many major distinctions this year were Charles Shawver as head cheerleader; David Davis as cochairman of the Democratic mock political convention; John Cartwright, chief announcer and program director of campus radio stations; Ron Tammen, Dave Williams, Lee Cooper, Jack Nelson, and Bob Schutte as freshman counselors; Lee Cooper on Men's Disciplinary Board; and Carmen Cozza, winner of Outstanding Senior Award.

Gamma Chi—Kansas State

Many Become Prominent in Campus Honoraries

This year many Delts became members of campus honoraries. They are: Jim Linger, Blue Key and Tau Sigma Delta; Dean Morton, Dave Marshall, Wendell Lady, and Jim Linger, Sigma Tau; and Jack Erwin, Dale Anderson, and Hal Davis, Alpha Mu. Jim Linger served as co-editor of the engineering magazine and Dean Morton will take over in that capacity for 1952-53.

Sportswise, John Gibson represented the chapter in basketball, Austin Gentry and Joe Rainman in football, and Walter Baker and Donald Thurlow in track.

The chapter won the football and tennis championships, and placed first in the interfraternity sing.

Gamma Psi—Georgia Tech

Pledge Waites Wins I-M Mile Run

For the first time in a number of years, the Delts fielded a track team to compete in the intramural meet. Under the able leadership of Truman Raspberry, the team surpassed all expectations and finished a strong fourth.

High light of the afternoon was the mile run, won by Pledge Bill Waites. Sid Anderson also did a good job for the Fraternity by placing second in two events.

On April 30 eight more men were initiated into Gamma Psi Chapter. Following initiation ceremonies, a banquet was held in honor of the new members.

During the spring quarter Gamma Psi has carried on a modified rush program. Rush chairman was Jerry White, who turned in an excellent performance. The following new men were pledged: Tom Garrett, Bill Gary, Don Law, Bert Jacobs, George Bass, Bob Scott, and Bill Waites.

Another graduation has come and gone here at Tech. We are sorry to see these men depart from the chapter: Blount Boswell, Bill Brvant, John Caddell, Pat Cowan, Barry Christophine, Dave Cofer, Marshall Graham, Bob Hefner, Fred Hocke, Bill Johns, Walter Lee, Ben Martin, Mack Nickles, Dick Partridge, Frank Shaver, Foster Spain, and Carl Weaver.

They will all be missed, and we hope that in the future we can pledge men who will be as outstanding as they were.

OKLAHOMA DELTS DID IT AGAIN! After winning the annual University Sing last May 10, Delta Alpha glee club members hoist Director JOE WOLFE to their shoulders and bear him triumphantly back to the Shelter. Delts placed 20 points above the closest contender.

Delta Alpha—Oklahoma

*Chapter Wins Many Honors
On Campus For Year*

Delta Alpha did it again! At the annual University Sing, May 10, the Delts walked off with the cup with no trouble at all. There were 18 men's glee clubs in the contest, and the judges placed Delta Alpha 20 points above the closest contender. After being awarded the trophy, Director Joe Wolfe was supported on the shoulders of members of the glee club and carried to the Shelter singing, "I'm a Delta Tau From Arkansas." It was a wonderful send-off for the Mother's Day activities, which later included an all-campus serenade, a program skit produced by the mothers themselves, and church the next morning, with the Delt choir singing at McFarlin Methodist Church. Without a doubt, it was the most successful Mother's Day in Delta Alpha's history.

The second semester elections yielded some excellent leaders for the Delts. The new officers are: Paul Mindeman, president; Dale Hinson, vice-president; Don Anderson, treasurer; Buck Pruett, recording secretary; Herb Carson, corresponding secretary and state rush chairman; Pete Bascomb, social chairman; Carl Hare, activities chairman; Don Bobzien and Bus Bates, campus rush chairmen; Dale Stauffer, parliamentarian; and Bud Cole, sergeant at arms.

The Delts are one of four fraternities on the OU campus which has improved its grade average over last semester, and there are high hopes that we can bring home the Scholarship Improvement Cup for this semester.

All in all, Delta Alpha has had more than an outstanding year. Among the honors the house has won collectively are the Football Trophy, the Boxing Trophy, and the University Sing Cup. There are Delts in Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma, Arnold Air Society, Trident Society, Men's Glee Club, and numerous honorary business, engineering, and law fraternities.

Delta Beta—Carnegie Tech

Chapter Wins Many Firsts

Delta Beta had another good year. In intramural sports, we copped the school football championship and also the league championship in volleyball. Brother Don Braun took singles honors in badminton and Pledge Owen Edelblute took honors in wrestling.

The Delts fared well in other fields. Brother John Ragin reached the national semifinals of the Henry Clay Memorial Oratory Contest and Brothers Bob Byrne and Bob Boyer were both chosen for Tau Beta Pi. Brother Jack Sweeney had the lead in "Scotch and Soda," the annual campus musical production.

Both the Delt Winter Formal and Initiation Formal were classed with the top campus social events of the season, but Spring Carnival was even better. For the fifth year in a row, Delta Beta won the campus sweepstakes pushmobile race. The Delts entered two buggies this year, to set a new precedent, and took both first and fourth places. Not to be stopped there, we also took first place in the float parade with a theme of "The Merchant and the Genie" from the Arabian Nights. This is the first time anyone could recall that any fraternity had taken first place in both the major Spring Carnival competitions.

After Carnival the year ended up rather quietly, since finals started two weeks after Carnival. With the closing of this year, Delta Beta is looking forward to another successful year and particularly to a newly renovated house in the fall.

Top Campus Honors Garnered

Garnering the top campus honors, the Delts strode forward to lead the campus with Charles Jones as president of Phi Eta Sigma, Bill Day as president of interfraternity council, and Karl Kabeiseman as president of the law fraternity. Charles Jones edited the student handbook, and many members of the chapter were elected to various honor societies on the campus. Among these are: Kirby Emler, law fraternity; Frank Spiecker, Kappa Kappa Psi, band; Karl Kabeiseman, Eta Sigma Phi, Greek or Latin fraternity; and Charles Jones, Ron Whalen, and Keith Wrage, Phi Eta Sigma.

On the athletic front Mike Hooker, Mark Eixenberger, and Duane Brunick walked off with six freshman letters in football, Duane Brunick and Larry Johnson took three freshman letters in basketball, and John Shields and Duane Brunick starred in track.

Intramurally speaking, the chapter won the swimming, baseball, and bowling championships and tied for first place in basketball.

Delta Gamma won the house decorations contest and thus retired the traveling trophy. The chapter also won the Strollers with the Alpha Phi Sorority.

Delta Epsilon—Kentucky

Delts Close Another Successful Year

Another successful year has closed at Delta Epsilon, and the outlook is that the same should be repeated this fall.

The mantel in the Shelter, despite our recent theft of a score of trophies, is again resembling a hock shop: military, musical, athletic, leadership awards—all stand there in evidence of that indefatigable Delt spirit of participation and attainment.

The coming year sees Delta Epsilon disqualified from the annual Campus Sing, which we haven't lost in the 17 years it's been held. The Sing committee was forced to add a clause to the regulations stating that "any group winning three consecutive years must wait a year before re-entering." Our main selection this year was Schubert's "Wider-spruch," Opus 105, Number 1, suggested to us by Robert Shaw himself while in Lexington on concert tour.

The new athletic all-participation trophy won't impress the frosh who are herded through the Shelter in this fall's "Panhellenic-type" rush program as we had hoped it would. Alas, it has been awarded to SAE with its advantage of 1 point. The tennis doubles turned the tables, and Delta Tau Delta was nosed out of its position by a 1 point margin.

Again this spring Founders Day and May Day coincided, inciting much activity in our neck of the woods. The day started with the University's May Day Parade in which our housemother, "Me-Me" Fish, sat rocking and knitting by the entrance to her shoe, surrounded by her "so many Delts she didn't know what to do," carrying out the theme of nursery rhymes followed by all fraternities and sororities in the parade. Later in the afternoon we greeted old grads at a party, followed by the Founders Day Banquet at which Brother "Doc" DeCoursey delivered the address. Following a dance that night, we all retired to the Shelter, relaxed, and began worrying about impending final exams.

Our annual spring formal was followed by a new innovation on campus—a breakfast at the Shelter rather than the usual suburban restaurant affair. The Dean of Women, when approached for special permission for co-eds to be in the Shelter past curfew, remarked "The Delts always set the precedents for doing things properly."

Delta Zeta—Florida

Walks Off With Four Intramural Trophies

Delta Zeta Chapter enjoyed a very successful year on the Florida campus, both in intramurals and politics as well as socially.

The chapter walked off with four intramural trophies, including the intramural department sportsmanship trophy, which is annually awarded to the team setting the best example of sportsmanship throughout the year.

Delta Zeta also copped the water-basketball crown and dethroned the Pilams from their six-year reign of the handball championships.

A precedent was set this year by Delta Zeta, having placed six brothers in Florida Blue Key, traditional leadership honorary fraternity. Those brothers who wore the coveted key were: Paul Horton, editor of the campus newspaper, the Alligator; Clark Nichols, campus political figure; Bob Billingsley, honor court justice; Evans Crary, outstanding ROTC officer; John Trinkle, chancellor of the honor court; and Bill Fleming, intramural sports head.

In the spring elections, Delta Zeta placed Bill Benson as editor of the Orange Peel, campus humor magazine, and Tom Moore as business manager of Seminole, the yearbook.

by the senior men's honorary for the third straight year and second place in the spring sing competition.

Many were elected to honor organizations on campus and included among them were: Jim Montgomery, Omicron Delta Kappa, Jasons, Alabama Quadrangle, Druids, Kappa Pi (art), Sigma Delta Chi, Scabbard and Blade, Arnold Air Society, and Pershing Rifles; and Alfred Good, chairman of ASME, American Foundry Society, Alabama Quadrangle, president of Arnold Air Society, secretary of Scabbard and Blade, and AFOTC Cadet Officers Club Council. Druids claimed Bob Guthrie, Leon Terry, Bill McMillan, Jim Gould, and Bill Berry. Bob Guthrie was elected as president of interfraternity council, Alfred Good, Jim Montgomery, and Hib Weathers were elected to the student legislature, and Charles Morgan is a member of the student cabinet.

Jim Montgomery served as editor of the humor magazine and will serve as editor-elect for 1952-53, and Charles Wilson will serve as editor-elect of the campus newspaper for 1952-53.

Delta Kappa—Duke

Delt Float Wins Division

The Duke Delts of Delta Kappa polished off last spring's activities with a big bang, and are now planning to make the fall season even more of a success.

Duke University's annual "Joe College" week end last spring found the Delts strolling across the campus and through town wearing short pants, bright colored shirts, ties, sox and vests, topped off with straw hats. Our many hours of hard work before the week end paid off Friday afternoon when the judges, after surveying the floats of all the fraternities and sororities parading through Durham, picked the Delts as division winner. The float was made up of a 32-foot paper-maché whale with a boat load of typically dressed "Joe College" Delts on its back. In bright gold letters on the side of the float was our slogan, "Joe College—a Whale of a week end." Pete Waldrop accepted the trophy for the float Friday night at the informal dance. Pete and Bob Johnson were the chief idea men and designers who brought our grinning big blue whale to life.

Another trophy was added to the case last spring when the softball team went through an undefeated season. Perry Stewart, our chapter treasurer, was the outstanding pitcher in the intramural league, and compiled a record of seven wins with no defeats.

Delta Kappa's annual Queen dance held last spring was one of the best social events of the year. Carol Laubenhimer, a Sigma Kappa, was crowned as Queen by our president, Jim Fulton.

Major redecorations have taken place in our chapter room over the summer. Several new pieces of furniture and new leatherette covering for the old pieces add greatly to the appearance of the room and will see much use this fall during the many scheduled open houses and rush functions.

All of us of Delta Kappa wish to extend an invitation to any Delts in the area, or who happen to be visiting Duke or Durham, to stop and spend a few days with us.

Delta Lambda—Oregon State

Feldkamp Chosen An Outstanding Graduate

Journalism is a top activity at the Delt house for next year. Neil Wissing, news editor of the OSC Daily Barometer, was recently elected president of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism honorary. Bart Williams, Jim Fisher, and Dick Coyner are section editors for next year's Beaver, the school yearbook. Fisher is also sports editor for the Barometer.

The local Delts have also been active in intramural sports. We tied for our league championship in softball and were third in Sigma Delta Psi, national athletic honor society.

Our softball team recently beat University of Oregon's Gamma Rho Chapter 11-8 at the annual picnic held by the chapters.

Bill Kessinger and Bill Sundstrom were two of five Beavers who earned varsity golf letters. Both Delts alternated in the No. 1 spot for the Orange and Black. Bill Smith was awarded a varsity crew letter while Ed Hagemann received his junior varsity crew numeral. Smith is secretary of the OSC rowing club.

In campus politics Delts John Marshall and Bill Sundstrom were elected president and sergeant at arms of the junior class, respectively. Bill Sundstrom will also be next year's Yell King. Don Wells, Dick Coyner, and George Durham, all of the freshman class, were selected as Rook Counselors—this is a select group to aid incoming freshmen next fall.

Bob Feldkamp was chosen as the outstanding graduate of the School of Business and Technology on the scholastic side.

Delta Lambda alums are active in the OSC alumni association. Mark Corwin is now president of this group, and Hal Whiteside was re-elected to the post of treasurer.

As another school year comes to a close the rushing committee is planning an effective summer rush program. High light of the summer's program will be a rush party at Suttle Lake in central Oregon. The event will be held on August 16 and 17.

Delta Mu—Idaho

Achieves Honors In Intramural Sports

Delta Mu pledged 20 men at the beginning of the 1951-52 fall term. Thirteen were freshmen, five were sophomores, and two were juniors. Four more fellows were pledged second semester, all freshmen. Thirteen men were initiated in January and the rest will be initiated this fall. Eight seniors were graduated from the Shelter and will be placed on the alumni roster.

The social calendar was headed by four major dance dates. These included the annual Pledge Dance in October, sponsored by the members; the Club Rendezvous party at the Moscow Legion Cabin in January; the Russian Ball in February; and the Spring Formal Dinner Dance in April. Other important social events were the annual Lake Chatcolet picnic and several exchanges with sororities and women's halls on campus.

Delta Mu achieved many honors in intramural sports, winning the tennis, table tennis, and bowling championships. Varsity athletic letters were earned by Jim Price in basketball, Pat Duffy and Gary Dixon in track, and Bob Zimmerman, Bob Rowles, and Max Nunenkamp in tennis.

Junior Pat Duffy was chosen by the Greek party as its candidate for student body president in the spring election. Pat narrowly lost out to the Third Party candidate. Senior Dick Moore served as IFC president during the fall semester.

The living room of the Shelter will be redecorated during the summer. New furniture and drapes are being purchased and a new indirect lighting system will be installed.

Delta Nu—Lawrence

Lawrence Delts Strive For More Athletic Trophies

When the Lawrence Delts started the 1951-52 school year, there were seven athletic trophies strung across the mantel. In June the mantel was bare, except for one trophy which somebody must have forgotten to pick up.

However, the Delts still retain that trophy of which they are most proud—that is the scholarship cup presented by the Interfraternity Council each semester to the chapter with the highest grade point. This makes semester No. 5 for the Delta Nus and in part explains the acute shortage of athletic trophies.

Not all the athletes have left the Delta hall, however, they've just improved to the extent that we now have four starters on the Lawrence football team who'll be back this fall and will assist in Lawrence's Midwest conference title defense. Ed Grosse plays outstanding halfback for the squad, both on offense and defense. The other backfield man, Dick Gast, plays safety most of the time and has saved many a touchdown for the champs.

In the line, there is Kent "Tarzan" Hanson and George Oetting. George, better known as "Bink," is a three-sport man, who partakes in wrestling and track, besides being chapter president and one of the outstanding campus leaders.

Grosse and Gast, the Shawono twins, are also three-sport men, participating in basketball and tennis, for which they each received letters last year. Grosse, a sophomore, received honorable mention on the all-conference basketball team. Hanson, along with Paul Johnson, will participate on the school wrestling squad this year.

Delt representatives on the cross-country and track teams include Bob Zimmerman, Roger Kennedy, and Jerry Johnson in addition to Shot-Putter Oetting. Zimmerman, Midwest conference co-champ in cross-country also runs the distances for the track team. Kennedy and Weber run the half mile, and Jerry Johnson is improving in the dashes.

Delta Omicron—Westminster

Chapter Walks Off With Intramural Volleyball Plaque

When school officially closed for the summer months on June 2, Delta Omicron wound up another successful year. In the intramural race, we were in there scrapping all the way. In the final intramural sport, volleyball, the Delt team emerged undefeated to walk away with the plaque for that event.

Our last big social event of the year was the spring formal which was held May 17. This dance was quite successful, especially from the standpoint of returning alumni.

The Shelter also provided its share of varsity men. Among these we find Stan Brenner, captain of the baseball team and track letterman; Ken Whitehead and Bob Stufflebam, basketball lettermen; Bill McCue, captain of the tennis team; Jack Jefferson, tennis team; and Sheldon Crossette, basketball squad.

A number of Delts were also prominent in other campus activities. Bill McCue, Tom Shields, Jeril Sandin and Stan Brenner are all members of Phi Rho Epsilon. In Omicron Delta Kappa, the Shelter is represented by Tom Shields, Bill McCue, and Lee Denner; Tom Shields is our 1952 addition to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The prospects for next year are excellent. In spite of the graduation of four key men, nearly all the actives are looking forward to the coming school year with renewed ambition and spirit.

Delta Sigma—Maryland

Riddle Receives Governor's Award

After another highly successful year, Delta Sigma is looking forward to another which we hope will be just as great.

Included in our social calendar for the past year, and assured of repeat performances, were the Boat Club parties, Monte Carlo, Come-As-You-Are, Ship Wreck, and Blue and Gray parties and many more. The high light of the social season was the Annual Spring Formal held at the Willard Hotel in Washington, D. C., when Miss Barbara Taylor of Delta Gamma Sorority was crowned Delt Queen. As a climax the highly successful Blue Book Dance was again given for the entire school as the last social event of the year.

With Brother Frank Wright holding the top student position and Pledge Brother John Downing as the Freshman Class Men's League representative, Delta Sigma was well represented in student government. After a couple of hectic weeks during the spring elections, Brother Joseph Cover was elected president of the junior class for the coming year.

Also in the spotlight were Brothers Robert Riddle and William Bastedo who received honors from the Military Department of the University which boasts of the largest AFROTC unit in the country. In the Annual Military Day Competition, Brother Riddle was presented with the Governor's Cup by the Honorable Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland for the best drilled squadron, and the Military Department's award for the best squadron commander. Brother Bastedo received the Arnold Air Society's highest award for the cadet who "promoted the ROTC most on campus."

At the Honor and Awards Assembly in June, Brother Frank Wright, graduating senior, was the recipient of the Men's Citizenship Award presented by Dr. H. C. Byrd, President of the University.

Delta Tau—Bowling Green

Win Service Award For Most Benefit to Community

Brother Joe Ferguson was recently elected vice-president of the senior class at Bowling Green. Among his other activities Joe is vice-president of Delta Tau Chapter.

The chapter's annual award for the Delt who has maintained the highest scholarship during his four years in college this year went to Nev Armitage from Hamburg, New York. He was given a key by the chapter at the annual banquet for graduating seniors which was held in the Shelter. His scholarship record was 3.49, just missing cum laude.

The Wood County Service Award was won by the chapter this year. It is given to the B.G. fraternity which does the most in benefitting the community. The Deltas did such outstanding things as giving a Christmas party for underprivileged children, an Easter Egg Hunt for all of the children of Bowling Green, food for the orphans' home, and a smoker for the town's businessmen.

We gave open houses after the Greek Week Dance and the University Prom. The Interfraternity Banquet held during Greek Week was under the direction of Brother Mike Ryan.

JACK CARROLL (right), Santa Barbara chapter president, presents the chapter's gift to Dr. PAUL "CAP" JONES, chapter adviser, in appreciation of his service to the Fraternity. Sorry, brothers, the attractive young lady was not identified.

Chicago last summer was well attended by Deltas in the capacity of page boys. Those attending were Jack Taylor, Chuck Bonser, Joe Dick, and Merrill Games.

We received honorable mention in the May Sing, which is the highest tribute we have ever received in this event. Led by Songmasters Art Kurtze and Chuck Green, we sang "All Through The Night" and "I Want To Go To Chicago Town."

Bob Slager received his letter in track last spring. Also on the varsity track squad were Dan Springer, Will Dornkott, and Ron Bracewell. Don Doran was a pitcher for the varsity baseball team.

The Deltas finished second in the intramural swim meet under Don Doran's guidance as coach. The two previous years we had been able to walk off with first-place honors.

The Delt combo has been selected to play for the Freshman Orientation Period this fall. The combo, which has played at many fraternity functions, consists of Ron Lauber, Ray Fernandez, and Bill Baddaker.

Brothers Hal Van Tassel and Joe Zingale both had their own disc jockey programs on the campus radio station, WBGU.

Delta Upsilon—Delaware

Delta Upsilon Receives New Chapter Adviser

The last few weeks of the second term in the school year at Delaware ushered in a flurry of tail-end activities. Just before cramming for exams, the Deltas from Delta Upsilon held one of their finest week ends yet; one of the high lights which came out of this wonderful three days was the naming of lovely Sarah Ruffner (recently married to Jack Stowers) as our Delt Queen.

At the final chapter meeting for the year, Dr. Paul Dolan, a brother Delt on the University faculty, succeeded Dean George Schuster (also a Delt) as chapter adviser, with the latter retiring from an active advisory role to the chapter due to pressure of his duties as head of the school of agriculture. Our appreciation goes out to the "Dean" for his guidance over the past three years; at the same time, Delta Upsilon gives Dr. Dolan a warm welcome as adviser.

Delaware Deltas Don Morton and Willis Hoch graduated with honors and distinction in agriculture and biology, respectively, in the June Commencement exercises, with Ed Milligan and Tom Phillips receiving reserve officer commissions in the U. S. Army as part of their graduation. Ed and Tom will probably be in active service as this is read.

With the summer behind them, the men of Delta Upsilon returned to a Shelter now completely furnished with new study-room furniture. The drapes made by our active Mothers' Guild also add an attractive note to the interior of the house.

Rushing Chairman Art Eglington is laying plans for adding some four or five upperclassmen this fall as pledges. A couple of informal smokers will launch this project in early October. Freshman rushing will be deferred back to its usual time of the first week of the second term instead of being held in November of the first term, as it was done last year. Continued emphasis will be upon the subject of rushing throughout the coming school year. Come June, 1953, some 15 brothers will be leaving Delta Upsilon and this gap will need to be filled by a number of promising pledges.

An ambitious social calendar is being drawn up by Social Chairman Warren Beh, who is aiming, as usual, for "bigger and better parties." An all-out drive for improved chapter scholarship will be led by Ted Sandstrom, head of Delta Upsilon's committee on scholarship. The recently graduated Class of '52 will be aiding this quest and incentive for better marks by means of the trophy which they donated last May. The cup will be presented annually to that senior who has attained the highest scholastic average and standing of his class in Delta Upsilon.

Delta Phi—Florida State*I.F.C. Week Climaxes Year*

The final high peak of Delta Phi's social year was the I.F.C. week, held May 19 through May 24, which this year was named "State Capers." Like each of the other 13 national fraternities on campus, Delta Tau Delta gave informal suppers honoring members of the other fraternities on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Then on Friday night we attended the I.F.C. formal ball, for which the music was provided by Art Mooney and his orchestra. Saturday night Delta Phi held its traditional "Shipwreck Ball," a costume party which was a great success. Delts Steve Risley and Harvey Sellars, I.F.C. representatives, are responsible for the fine I.F.C. Week. Harvey Sellars, also social chairman for the chapter, deserved a vote of recognition for the success of the "Shipwreck Ball." This colorful costume party for Delts and their dates exclusively highlighted the week's affairs.

Sunday morning was church-going time for the Greeks, and Monday evening the chapter held its last meeting of the year. It was a joint pledge-active meeting held at the TQ Inn a la banquet. Later Monday evening the Greeks on campus staged a "panty raid." This was most different from the nationwide craze in the sense that it was well organized and accomplished its purpose. We raised over $1,400.00 through auctions and contributions by campuswide effort to financially help Don Anderson toward speedy recovery. Don is a PKT and was seriously hurt diving into shallow water, breaking his neck and partly severing the spinal cord which meant paralysis. His sister has polio and his mother is the sole support of the family. This human interest story enriches fully the brotherhood and fraternal life we live and leave behind for the summer vacation.

The chapter will be in Daytona shortly after school is ended and begin the summer with a coast party after which we shall conduct a statewide summer rush program. Delt Haywood Taylor, who is first delegate to the Karnea, will be the rush chairman.

Recently elected officers for the year are Robert Culliver, president; John Kinsaul, vice-president; Robert McKenzie, treasurer; Fred Smiseth, assistant treasurer; Ralph Mc Williams, corresponding secretary; Sam Blount, recording secretary and guide; and Preston Bradley, sergeant at arms.

Delts receive acclaim through "Sportsmanship Intramural Trophy," for attitude and achievement. Scholastic attention was focused on Delt Ralph Mc Williams who was recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Delta Chi—Oklahoma A. & M.Four Graduate and Enter Armed Services

There have been quite a number of activities here at Delta Chi since our last report, many of which haven't been reported.

The new room mentioned in our last report has been completed, and the construction of the large patio on the north side of the house is finished. The patio, as well as the room, is quite an addition to our Shelter. Howard Watkins, our house and grounds chairman, is the man who is mainly responsible for this fine job.

Spring house cleaning day was quite a day around here. The house is now in pretty good shape to leave for the summer. When rush hits next fall, there won't be quite so much to do in preparation for it.

Jerry Humphry, Steve Winkleman, and Ron Fishburn have recently been pledged. We are losing about 12 men this summer and we have been pledging men off the campus throughout this semester so that we won't have so much work ahead of us as it would usually require.

We are losing four men by graduation this spring: James Maddry, Duane Pugh, Joe Milburn, and Bob Johnson. These four men have done a marvelous job since they have been here. The chapter surely hates to see them go. They have all received commissions in the armed services. The chapter held a banquet in their honor. Mom gave the men gifts, and the members and pledges gave short farewell talks.

Ira Winfry has been chosen as Wing Commander for next year in the AFROTC.

Dale Maddry has recently been elected to the Student Senate.

Sunday, May 11, was Parents' Day here at Delta Chi. Joe Greegs was the man in charge and deserves a lot of credit for a smooth program.

Delta Psi—Santa Barbara*Intramural Bowling Team Wins Trophy Again*

Presentation of Joyce Bunting, Delt Sweetheart, and a token of appreciation to Dr. Paul "Cap" Jones for his years of service to Delta Psi highlighted the annual Sweetheart Formal and ended the social activities for the school year. The Sweetheart's attendants were Molly Thomas, ΔΓ, and Janice Macabec, KAΘ. Joyce, a ΠΒΦ, received a cup and the Pi Phis a large perpetual trophy. Dr. Jones was presented with an engraved cigarette case as a remembrance of his years of service and counsel to the chapter. The dance, held in the Loggia Room of the famous Santa Barbara Biltmore, featured the soft music of Skip Wilson's band.

The Delts enjoyed the company of the Thetas on two occasions in May. The first was a jaunt around the swimming pool of "Cap" Jones's beautiful Santa Ynez Valley ranch. The Thetas also evened the dinner-stealing score when they pilfered the chapter's evening meal. Hungry Delts found it at the Theta house where an impromptu buffet dinner was enjoyed.

The intramural football team, led by Bill Myers, Wynne Smallwood, and Jerry McElvaine will be in quest of its fourth straight championship this fall. Roaring from behind and winning 16 straight games, the intramural bowling squad copped the giant trophy. Also added to the chapter's collection was the newly inaugurated table tennis trophy. Al Cox was named to the all-C.C.A.A. baseball

Lt. Col. WILLIAM D. MOODY, Illinois, '41, of the United States Marine Corps Reserve, was killed last November 6, 1951, in a jeep accident on field maneuvers near Camp Pendleton, California.

Moody, a former president of Beta Upsilon Chapter, first entered the Marine Corps in 1941 as an officer candidate. Receiving his commission on November 1, 1941, he attended the Marines' Artillery School.

In World War II he served as a battery officer and battery commander with the 11th Marines, First Marine Division, for 33 months overseas. He took part in the recapture of Guadalcanal and the seizures of Cape Gloucester and Peleliu.

For his participation in these actions he was awarded the Bronze Star, letter of commendation with ribbon from the Secretary of Navy, and the Presidential Unit citation with star.

In December, 1945, he resigned from the regular service, re-entered the Reserve, and was released to inactive service. As a civilian, he was engaged in real estate business in Los Angeles, California. He was married to Janet Hamer in Los Angeles on April 2, 1948.

Col. Moody was recalled to active duty in July, 1950, and served as executive officer and commanding officer of the First 155mm Gun Battalion, FMF. He was to have been released to inactive status on November 1, 1951, but chose to remain for a few extra days to participate in field maneuvers which he had personally helped plan. It was during these maneuvers that the fatal accident occurred.

DR. HERBERT R. MILLS, Baker, '06, noted pathologist, died June 27 in Tampa, Florida.

Dr. Mills had practiced pathology in Tampa since 1919. Prior to that he had served as director of the local laboratory of the Florida State Board of Health.

He was a Founding Fellow of the College of American Pathologists, a Fellow of the American Society of Clinical Pathology, and a Diplomat of the American Board of Pathology. He was certified in both clinical pathology and pathologic anatomy.

Dr. Mills took a great interest in nature and wild life. In 1946 the Florida State Chamber of Commerce awarded him the Gold Medal of Conservation for outstanding work in this field. He was appointed by the U. S. Biological Survey to assist in making a nationwide census of duck, mainly by air. A member of the Seminole Indian Association, he championed preservation and protection of all types of wild life and did much to help the Indian population of the state.

FRANK S. HEMMICK, George Washington, '09, former manager of the Central Office of Delta Tau Delta and former Editor of THE RAINBOW, died at his home in Washington, D. C., on May 23, 1952. Well known to hundreds of Deltas, Mr. Hemmick was a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter.

Frank Hemmick began his Delt career as a charter member of Gamma Eta Chapter, and from that day to the time of his death he served the Fraternity with unabated zeal. He became manager of the Central Office in 1923 and continued in that capacity until 1931. During part of this period he was also Editor of THE RAINBOW.

As a student at George Washington, Mr. Hemmick completed a four-year law course in three years and earned the highest mark of any law graduate up to that time. He was editor of the University's monthly, The Hatchet. For the last 12 years Mr. Hemmick had been an examiner with the United States Treasury Department.

Mr. Hemmick gave a good deal of personal service to the advancement of the National Capital Alumni Chapter. One of the most appreciated courtesies he practiced was to telephone personally every new Delt arrival in the Washington area; to extend the fraternal hand of fellowship and to invite the Delt to participate in alumni activity.

Funeral services were conducted by CANON R. FRANK WILLIAMS, Tennessee, '33, of the Washington Cathedral, in the chapel at Fort Myer, Virginia. Burial was in Arlington Cemetery.
