The Distinguished Service Chapter

ON FOUNDERS DAY, 1956, Delta Tau Delta Fraternity in its 98th year pauses to honor the eight college men who banded together at Bethany College in 1859 to establish our order.

From the earliest days it has been deemed altogether fitting that we should pay tribute to our Founders, for theirs was the dream and theirs was the ideal which has enriched the lives of more than 50,000 men. It is a documented fact that the Founders from the outset visualized Delta Tau Delta as a national movement, which placed an obligation on succeeding college generations to work for the extension of the organization.

The tradition of continuing service beyond undergraduate days, of alumni loyalty, is also one which has been handed down from the Founders, and these gentlemen themselves demonstrated by their acts their belief in this concept of fraternity.

Initiated members of Delta Tau Delta well know, too, the historic promise that recognition be accorded to those who are worthy of recognition. So, in a broader sense, it is also fitting that on Founders Day we should remember those Delts who have captured the tradition of service and given it new lustre by their own devoted service in the cause of Fraternity.

In 1929 Delta Tau Delta created the Distinguished Service Chapter (originally named the Court of Honor) as a means of officially honoring members of the Fraternity who over a period of considerable time have performed outstanding service to Delta Tau Delta. The Constitution gives plenary power to a Committee of three to determine from time to time the qualifications for Citations to membership of the Chapter.

The present Committee is composed of three former Presidents of the Fraternity, each of whom is himself a member of the Chapter. They are: N. Ray Carroll, Western Reserve, '08, Chairman; A. Bruce Bielaski, George Washington, '04; and Norman MacLeod, Pittsburgh, '17.

Criteria for the awarding of Citations, based upon the rules which have been followed since the inception of the group, and adopted by the present Committee, are as follows:

"1. The Committee, the Arch Chapter, an alumni chapter, officers of any Division of the Fraternity, or individual members of high repute in Delta Tau Delta may make nominations.

"2. The term of membership in the Distinguished Service Chapter is for life, but the Committee may terminate any membership 'for cause,' not known at the time of the Citation, or thereafter appearing.

"3. A nomination for Citation shall be in writing, shall be signed by two or more members of the Fraternity who are in good standing, and shall show satisfactorily to the Committee that the nominee has (a) for at least twenty years been actively loyal to the Fraternity as an alumnus, (b) rendered some unusual service to the Fraternity or a Division thereof, and (c) evidenced personal characteristics and habits which have been and are 'worthy of all acceptance' by the Fraternity and society at large. The names and locations of the nominee's college, active and alumni chapters, and his concrete services for which the Citation is sought must be included in the written nomination. To the above qualifications, the nominating letter should add other information which appears to bear upon the worthiness of the nominee. A nominee's own initiative or other form of promotion of his own nomination would be viewed as a vital disqualification and particularly out of harmony with the unselfish spirit and intent of the Distinguished Service Chapter.

"4. While not making an absolute rule affecting the matter, the Committee will usually insist upon quite more than a chapter interest on the nominee's part, inasmuch as the Distinguished Service Chapter is representative of the entire Fraternity.

"5. No one shall be voted a Citation while serving as a member of the Arch Chapter.

"6. Citations shall usually be presented only at large, important Delt functions.

"7. The Committee grants Citations by unanimous vote. In view of the fact that nominations are determined largely by personal friendships and that one nomination from a given locality easily evokes others from the same region, resulting in inequitable distribution of honors, the Committee will, other merits appearing to be substantially equal, give preference to nominations from regions which do not appear to be adequately represented in the Chapter, and it may defer consideration of other nominations in the interest of substantial justice to all parts of the Fraternity."

To the following Delts, who since

An Experience Rich and Rewarding

By NORMAN MACLEOD, Pittsburgh, '17

Past President of Delta Tau Delta

What is there about a Karnea that merits the time and attention of a busy alumnus? Here is the answer from one of the Fraternity's great leaders, who has attended more Karneas than any other Delt.

HERE IS MY RESERVATION for the 63rd Karnea. Here is my pledge to be on hand in Houston on August 15 when Joel Reynolds brings down his gavel on the opening session.

And here is why.

In my book, the Karnea is far more than merely a group which passes so many pieces of legislation. To me and to countless other Delts, the Karnea is a rich and rewarding experience.

It can be the same for any Delt alumnus.

Consider the opportunity of a Karnea. It brings together, for four wholesome days of friendship and dedication, undergraduate representatives of 85 universities and colleges throughout the United States and Canada. Each of these men is a leader in his own chapter and on his own campus. Each has the ability to influence others of his age. Each will go back to his own campus with a report, with impressions, with a responsibility to share with his comrades whatever he may have derived from the Karnea.

Consider that if each chapter averages just 40 members, then no fewer than 3,400 college youths will be directly affected by the benefits the Karnea generates. If, indeed, the Karnea succeeds in imparting effectively the historic mission of the Fraternity, the undergraduate delegates will return to their campuses charged with a desire to work for benefits accruing not only to their own members but to their college community as well.

What transpires at the Karnea, then, is terribly important.

Everything the Karnea does is aimed at furthering the Fraternity's objective: "to educate, contributing to the young men within her sphere of influence a moral, spiritual, and social development. . . ." Is there not, therefore, a golden opportunity for any alumnus who attends the Karnea and contributes to making this meeting more effective and meaningful to the undergraduate?

Who cannot recall with a thrill his own first Karnea experience! Mine was at Boston in 1919. World War I had recently been concluded and the Karnea provided the means of a great reunion of the Fraternity's members.

No one attending the Boston Karnea will ever forget the parade of more than 500 delegates down to Boston Harbor and the boat ride out to one of the New England beaches, the clam bake, the group singing, and the many friendships formed which have lasted through the years.

But if the Karnea presents an opportunity for the alumnus to contribute, it affords an even greater opportunity to receive. In Houston you will see the heart of America's promise for tomorrow. There will be met some of the finest young men this nation has to offer. When you see them in action and observe how sensible and sincere they are—yes, and how eloquent—your faith in the future will be re-enforced. You will realize, as I have on other occasions, that your Fraternity is preparing undergraduates for broader and greater responsibilities.

It seems not so many years ago that I met in Savannah, Georgia, an enthusiastic delegate from the chapter at U.C.L.A. who by his right thinking and speaking won the admiration of the 49th Karnea. His name was Tom Cunningham. Today he is a distinguished judge of the courts in Los Angeles and general counsel of the regents of the University of California.

There is always the element of discovery in a Karnea. For the under-

Past Presidents BIELASKI, CARROLL, and MACLEOD at the Mile-High Karnea in Colorado (1937). This trio today comprises the Committee of the Distinguished Service Chapter.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Norman MacLeod, whose service to our Fraternity is legend, has attended 16 Karneas covering a span of 35 years. The 63rd will be his 17th.

When our biennial convention has the ability to bring back time after time a man of Mr. MacLeod's stature in his profession and in his community, it must be worth while indeed. It was suggested, therefore, that he set down here for the benefit of other Delts the values of a Karnea as he sees them, to the end that they may be inspired to discover and share this "rich and rewarding experience."

graduate, of course, the most important discovery is the truly national character of Delta Tau Delta. The delegate from Maine, for instance, will exchange ideas with a Delt from Florida in one session, while in the next he will make friends with another from Colorado. It is invariably surprising to find that the Delt heart beats as strongly in Oregon as it does in Kentucky, that Wisconsin has something to offer to Georgia, that the standards of Oklahoma are mighty close to the standards of Pennsylvania.

Before the four short days allotted to a Karnea have raced by, there is born a realization that the delegate and his chapter have grown in dignity and in power as they have become more closely identified with a significant national movement. Each Delt finds that he has gained immeasurably in a sense of responsibility and obligation—and in confidence. He senses the value in extending his Fraternity contacts beyond his immediate campus, in widening his collegiate horizon. He sees that, in the Fraternity as in life, what is right and good is more often derived from general rather than purely local experience. And, like as not, sometime in the future when he is confronted with a problem back on his own campus, he will find himself asking, "What would that fellow from Illinois think of our action?" or "How would the Delt out in Washington handle this situation?"

For the alumnus, too, there is discovery; or, more properly, rediscovery. The Karnea grants him a nostalgic backward glance at the golden days of his early Delt life and brings home to him a finer interpretation of the Fraternity than he has hitherto known. He sees clearly that the "inspiration of maturity" referred to in the Delt Creed is an active rather than a passive emotion, which must be translated into service. This inspiration of a Karnea has on many occasions motivated a particular group of alumni to go out and build a new Shelter, or sponsor a rush party, or establish a scholarship fund, or do one of a hundred different things to help the boys in the chapter.

Who will forget the Karnea at Conneaut Lake, Pennsylvania, in 1925 when the Loyalty Fund, which has given financial stability to the Fraternity, was inaugurated? Or previous Karneas where such events as the annual Freshman Dinner, established by the late Dr. Wieland, was carried out by the Chicago Alumni Chapter; or the annual rushing parties put on by the same group.

And after five Karneas, or ten, or fifteen? There is still the irresistible call. The promise of Karneas future is only made keener by the memories of Karneas past. Piled one on top of another, they are a treasury of warm recollections—"gifts shaken down, pressed together, and running over," as eloquently phrased by Bishop Hughes at the White Sulphur Karnea.

Sewanee Gymnasium Named for Frank A. Juhan

THE LARGEST STRUCTURE on the campus of the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tennessee, has been named in honor of the Right Reverend Frank A. Juhan, Sewanee, '11, former Episcopal Bishop of Florida. Construction on the Frank A. Juhan Gymnasium was begun last fall. Enclosing two existing gymnasiums, the new structure will be longer than a football field and will provide Sewanee students athletic facilities as good as the best to be found in a school of its size.

Bishop Juhan, who, prior to his retirement in February of this year, was the senior active Diocesan of the Protestant Episcopal Church, had served as Bishop of Florida since 1924. Former Chancellor of the University of the South, he now plans to devote himself chiefly to the interests of the University by continuing as chairman of the Sewanee Centennial Fund. In the near future he intends to make his home on the Mountain at Sewanee.

Bishop Juhan, a member of the Fraternity's Distinguished Service Chapter, has been devoted to Sewanee for many years. He once served as chaplain of Sewanee Military Academy. He was one of Sewanee's most versatile athletes, participating in football, baseball, boxing, and track. He has coached both University and Academy teams and at one time boxed a world's champion, Bob Fitzsimmons.

It is said that Bishop Juhan has sent into the Episcopal ministry more young men than any other living person. He has also won the all-time championship, according to the Sewanee Alumni News, for sending students to Sewanee. At no time since he finished college in 1911 has there been a year in which he did not have one or more students at Sewanee who had been sent by him. There are at present 19 Bishop Juhan Scholarship men enrolled in the College and Theological School.

The Frank A. Juhan Gymnasium will house a basketball arena with seating capacity for 1,248, a rifle range, swimming pool, and facilities for wrestling and gymnastics. The total cost of the new sections and renovations is estimated at $675,000.

Work With Wayward Boys Earns Praise

CLYDE JEFFREY, Stanford, '40, the California Comet who rambled the 100-yard dash in :09.4 as a Stanford sprinter before the war, is making good time in his work with wayward boys. Here's the story reported by Art Rosenbaum in the San Francisco Chronicle:

"Clyde Jeffrey . . . has sped to a new touch of notoriety in Riverside. Clyde is now a probation officer in charge of a boys' camp for juvenile delinquents. He instituted an honor system—'you can run away if you desire, but don't.'

"Maybe the kids decided they'd better not try to run for it because speedster Jeffrey would catch 'em. At any rate, the record is almost unblemished.

"Clyde's honor camp came to the attention of Earle Stanley Gardner, famed author and investigator of prisoner rehabilitation. Gardner made an unscheduled stop at Riverside and Jeffrey's ears are still blushing pleasantly from the praise."

Delt Nuclear Scientist Named One of America's Ten Outstanding Young Men

NUCLEAR SCIENTIST Dr. Robert A. Charpie, Carnegie Tech, '47, was honored in January as one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men of America for 1955.

At a recognition banquet in Springfield, Illinois, sponsored by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Charpie received his award from Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Hugh McKenna, national Jaycee president.

Dr. Charpie, who is assistant research director of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, was cited for his contributions to nuclear science and international nuclear planning. Selected by a judging panel of nationally prominent persons, he was one of ten men chosen for outstanding contributions to their professions and to the general welfare of the people. The U. S. Junior Chamber, sponsor of the selections since 1938, annually distributes 10,000 nomination blanks for the award.

As assistant to Professor I. I. Rabi, U. S. representative to the recent Geneva International Atoms for Peace Conference, Dr. Charpie participated in many delicate, international discussions preceding organization of the conference and often carried the responsibility of the United States as deputy spokesman. Although responsible for the preliminary conference agenda, he maintains that his contributions to the welfare of the people "stem mainly from the unique position which atomic energy development plays in the shaping of our national life."

But at the age of 30 Dr. Charpie is responsible for the scientific work of about 400 technical persons in his position as assistant research director at Oak Ridge. He joined this organization in 1950 and rose to his present position in four years.

At Oak Ridge the young scientist has developed high speed electronic computing equipment that enables determinations of nuclear reactor behavior to be made in days, whereas it would have taken months of experimentation and computation. He is an instructor in the Oak Ridge School of Reactor Technology and, as assistant director, is responsible for the school's operation. He is also a visiting lecturer on mathematical physics at the University of Tennessee.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Dr. Charpie began his studies at Carnegie Tech in 1943 on a Westinghouse National Science Scholarship. He completed the usual seven to eight year course in five years. He interrupted his bachelor of science studies to serve as a combat machine gunner in the Mediterranean Theater during World War. In the two years following 1948, when he received his B.S. degree, he completed his master's and doctor degrees and included a year spent as instructor in physics.

He is a member of such honorary organizations as Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, and Pi Mu Epsilon. A fellow of the American Physical Society, he is a charter member of the American Nuclear Society. His church is the First Presbyterian Church of Oak Ridge.

The banquet at which Dr. Charpie and the nine other citees received their awards attracted a capacity crowd of approximately 2,000. Vice President Nixon, himself a former TOYM winner in 1947, presented the ten men and spoke at length of their accomplishments. He said that he was "proud that my country was able to produce such outstanding men representing their various fields of work."

In summary, Mr. Nixon stated, "As long as America produces young men like this, we need have no fear for the future."

The ceremony took on special significance by being held in Springfield, in "the Land of Lincoln," and symbolically a lifelike statue of the former great President looked down upon the speakers' table and the vast throng seated below.

Dr. ROBERT A. CHARPIE at Springfield, Illinois, where he was presented as one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men of America for 1955.

KARNEA OF THE GOLDEN BEND

EVEN THE CASUAL reader will note an emphasis on the State of Texas in this issue of THE RAINBOW.

This circumstance is part of a subtle campaign to remind Delts that the 63rd Karnea is being held August 15, 16, 17, and 18 in Houston, Texas. It is also designed to acquaint the rank and file of Square Badge wearers with the fact that a visit to Houston in August will open their eyes to the respected position Delta Tau Delta holds in the Lone Star domain.

COMPLETE DETAILS LATER

The June issue of THE RAINBOW will provide complete details of the Karnea program and such matters as how to make reservations and will otherwise let the Fraternity know what General Chairman John Singleton and his Houston committee have been up to all these months. One thing Delts can be sure of—Texas does everything up BIG.

The city of Houston itself gives us a clue of what lies in store. Down there natives will tell you that the city's basic characteristic is dynamism. It is "the surging, pulsating adolescent" among American metropolises—the Giant of the Golden Bend.

MOVING UP FAST

Ranked 29th in size by the 1930 census, Houston moved up to 21st in 1940, 14th in 1950. By 1955 it had taken over 12th place, and planned annexation this year will install it among the Big Ten.

No wonder Houston is known as an amazing city! Most visitors notice the construction projects first—and rightly so. Some $344 million worth of building took place in the metropolitan area in 1955 alone. Visitors arriving by air will be introduced to Houston through the new $5 million International Air Terminal, one of several transformations which have been wrought in recent years. The visitor may travel from the airport to downtown Houston on the concrete engineering marvel, the Gulf Freeway. This is one of a network of freeways which eventually will serve all parts of the city.

MOST AIR-CONDITIONED

Houston is said to be the most completely air-conditioned city in the world. Proof is the fact that even the monkey house in Hermann Park Zoological Gardens is air-conditioned—to give Houston in August the world's most comfortable monkeys.

Leisure time in this great city can be profitably spent on an excursion boat operating up and down the full 50-mile length of the Houston Ship Channel. This is a man-made channel which serves the nation's number two deep seaport, tonnage-wise.

PETROCHEMICAL EMPIRE

The boat trip affords an opportunity to see the $1.5 billion worth of industry which lines both sides of the channel. The varicolored pipe mazes and silver spheroid tanks of the giant petrochemical and oil refining industry are an impressive sight. Some 85 per cent of the nation's petrochemical industry is located in the Gulf Coast area.

Also on the channel is the famous San Jacinto Monument, marking the spot where the Republic of Texas won its independence from Mexico. The graceful shaft is equal in height to the Washington Monument. The base of the monument, however, which houses the San Jacinto Museum of History, adds enough height to give Texas another boast: the San Jacinto

San Jacinto Monument, near Houston, scene of battle where Texans under General Sam Houston defeated Mexican Army and won independence.

Houston boasts a score of fine golf courses, both municipal and private. Karnea-goers will have ample opportunity to enjoy these and other recreational facilities. The Karnea Committee has promised, among other things, a real honest-to-goodness cow barbecue out in the open, in authentic Texas fashion.

The famous Shamrock Room in the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel in the world's most completely air-conditioned city.

A view of the east side of Shamrock-Hilton Hotel, Karnea headquarters, with swimming pool in foreground.

Monument is actually taller than the Washington Monument. Visitors may take an elevator to the top of the monument for a panorama view of the Texas Gulf Coast.

TWO BEAUTIFUL CAMPUSES

Houston has many other attractions, such as the beautiful campuses of the University of Houston and Rice Institute, Museum of Fine Arts, Museum of Contemporary Arts, and other cultural points of interest.

Adjoining Hermann Park (home of the air-conditioned monkeys) is the $100 million Texas Medical Center. This is one of the world's great concentrations of medical facilities for research, teaching and treatment. Just ten years ago, the 163 acres of "dream" hospitals and schools were occupied by oak trees and Spanish moss. Since that time, six new hospitals, two university medical colleges, two medical office buildings, and a medical library have been built. Outstanding among the institutions is the M. D. Anderson Hospital, now world famous for its research and treatment of cancer.

GOLDEN BEND KARNEA

The oil and gas fields, gas pipeline installations, cattle, rice, mounds of sulphur, salt mines, and tons of oyster shells waiting to be crushed—all are part of this "Golden Bend," as the Texas Gulf Coast is often called. Such is the booming, growing area of which Houston is the sparkling hub.

Such is the setting for the Golden Bend Karnea—the first national Delt meeting ever to be held in the continental limits of the State of Texas. This is the city which promises for Delta Tau Delta a big and dynamic Karnea.

Top Receiver for World's Champs

DANTE LAVELLI, Ohio State, '46, who last January completed his tenth season as a member of the World's Champion Cleveland Browns, professional football team, is regarded as one of the greatest pass receivers the game has ever seen.

In the brilliant history of the Cleveland juggernaut, he has scored more touchdowns (71) than any other Brown, including the backfield stars. All of the markers were racked up on pass plays. He has amassed the amazing total of 6,134 yards on pass receptions.

Other records he has written in the Browns' log include most touchdown passes received in one season (9 in 1947), most in one game (4 in a 1949 contest), and most consecutive games catching touchdown passes (5 in 1954).

Lavelli's primary assets are speed and large hands. If the passer gets the ball anywhere near him, it's as good as in his pocket. What's the secret of his remarkable success? Dante declares that he merely follows the pass patterns carefully. "It is my job to go in a certain direction and be at a certain spot at the proper count," he simply explains.

Oddly enough, the great end started out as a halfback and at that position led his Hudson, Ohio, high school to three undefeated seasons. When he reported to Paul Brown at Ohio State, however, the famous coach noted a peculiarity in Dante's stride which he decided would be hard to correct and might keep Dante from becoming a first-rate back. As a result, he was shifted to end, where he remained.

As a sophomore in the fall of 1942, Lavelli made the Buckeye first team but was injured in one of the early games and played in only one more game that season. That was the extent of his football experience until he reported to the Browns in August of 1946 to compete for a position with several boys who had frequently been mentioned on All-America teams as collegians. Dante not only made the squad but became the regular offensive right end and led the league in pass receiving.

Succeeding years found him continually up with the leaders—making numerous All-Pro clubs including selection to the 1951 New York News and Sporting News honor teams.

Only two other players, Lou Groza and Frank Gatski, have served with the Browns as long as Lavelli has. And although at the age of 33 and after ten active years of pro football many players would be ready to call it quits, he is still going strong. In the last two years he has caught 78 passes for gains of 1,294 yards and 11 touchdowns.

A veteran of World War II, Dante served overseas in France, Belgium, and Germany.

Rhodes Scholar Is Gamma Iota Chapter's "Yazoo"

By JOHN T. STUART, III, Texas, '58

WILLIAM W. MORRIS
... Oxford bound.

"SO THIS IS TEXAS," drawled Mississippi-born William Weaks Morris as he stepped off the train in Austin for his first visit to Texas and the University. Willie (Yazoo to his brothers and close associates and just about everybody at the University) was soon to take the school by storm and not let it loose until he had firmly left his mark and his ideas deep in the heart of Texas.

Willie is about six feet tall, on the chubby side of the dinner table, and has a practical joker look in his eyes. Little would you realize that behind his cheerful smile and deep Mississippi (Yazoo City, that is) accent there is a Rhodes Scholar, a Phi Beta Kappa, and a 2.75 scholastic average (3.0 is straight A). In the scholastic side of Willie one would also find that he has received two Jesse Jones Scholarships for journalism, is a two-year winner of Gamma Iota Chapter's scholarship trophy, and past president of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary. He is now senior advisor of the honorary.

Well-rounded isn't the word for "Yazoo." There just can't be found anything that the Willie hasn't done, thought about doing, or known someone who has already done it twice. He has served on the Interfraternity Council, is a member of the Silver Spurs, campus service honorary, and last year was chosen as an "outstanding student" by the Cactus, Texas annual.

While working toward his Bachelor of Arts degree in June with a major in English, he has found time to represent the Delts in intramurals. He has played on the football team, the basketball team, and the softball team, not to mention running in the University intramural track meet for the Purple and White.

Willie doesn't just study and play athletics. He is editor of the campus newspaper, the Daily Texan, which is a full-time job, and this fall he was chosen a Friar, which is the top men's honorary at the University which selects for its membership only outstanding senior men. Its membership is limited to 12.

Once you get to know the 170-pounder from Mississippi (usually takes about two or three minutes), you at once know his real love. Like many others, he is out of his mind over baseball. He played on the freshman team, played outfielder on the Mississippi and Mid-South semi-pro championship team in 1954. He hit .750 in 1955 in the Mississippi semi-pro state tourney.

For the history minded, Willie was graduated from Yazoo High School in 1952 as valedictorian, a member of the National Honor Society, and a member of the National Athletic Scholarship Society. At Oxford he plans to study philosophy, politics, and economics. After he finishes, Willie will probably enter journalism or writing in the South.

One thing is for sure—that when W. W. Morris attends Oxford next fall, either England will change or Willie will. Every one at Texas is betting on England; so don't get excited if the Englishman of the future comes out with an occasional "you 'al" or "right now any how." It's just the Yazoo and his effect on the Isle.

Bowl Games Wrap Up Grid Season

MANY DELTS HELPED ring down the curtain on the 1955 gridiron story by participation in annual "bowl" games.

In the granddaddy of them all, the Rose Bowl, End Bob Jewett of Michigan State and Tackle Roger White of U.C.L.A. squared off against each other in what proved to be a real thriller. A Delt on the sidelines, however, contributed to the Spartan victory. He was Everett Grandelius, backfield coach of the Big Ten team and former All American.

Purdue's fine fullback, Bill Murakowski, played in two bowl games. He was a defensive star of the East-West game in San Francisco and the leading ground gainer for the northern team in the annual Senior Bowl Game at Mobile. Among players opposing Murakowski at San Francisco was Lamar Meyer, Colorado's outstanding end and team captain.

Delta Tau Delta's newest chapter, Epsilon Beta at Texas Christian, made a sizable contribution to the Cotton Bowl game in the persons of Stanley Bull, right end; Ray Taylor, right half; Don Sanford, alternate right end; and Delzon Elenburg, alternate quarterback. Taylor was particularly outstanding as T.C.U. lost a close 14-13 decision.

Delts carried bench strength for Ole Miss, the victor. Backfield coach of the flashy Oxford running crew is John A. Hovious, Mississippi, '42. O. Britt Rogers, Mississippi, '13, is chairman of the Ole Miss Athletic Association.

Two of the standout performers of the annual professional bowl game were Delts. Dante Lavelli, Ohio State, '46, perennial end for the world's champion Cleveland Browns, was a major factor in the Browns' retention of their title. Jack Ellena, U.C.L.A., '55, playing his first season of professional ball with the Los Angeles Rams, gave an excellent account of himself in the contest. Ellena was an All American tackle last season.

President of American Football Coaches

By SILAS B. RAGSDALE, Texas, '18

Here is fresh recognition for Rice's incomparable Jess Neely, who has been honored not only as a great coach but also a front-rank citizen of Houston, his community.

IN THESE DAYS OF "win or else" football, a coach usually is gauged by his statistical record. And speakers at a banquet, say honoring a coach, are wont to flaunt his gridiron successes ahead and above all other considerations. Certainly the coach has a good win-and-loss record or would anybody be staging a banquet in his honor?

The surprising and complete answer to that rhetorical question is Jess Neely—athletic director and head football coach at The Rice Institute, Houston, Texas.

Jess, a Delt from his Vanderbilt days, was the center of a lot of attention last fall as he was completing his 16th year as Rice's football coach. It really was a Southwest Conference affair, the dinner they staged for him. The room was chock full of people including non-grid as well as grid greats and near greats.

EMPHASIS NOT ON WINS

Neely has won his share of games (although the 1955 season was not noteworthy in this respect), but the tone of the meeting was not pitched on that. In fact, the main speaker, Kern Tips, veteran sports authority and ace football broadcaster, did not mention Neely's win and loss record although a formidable case might have been made. The emphasis was on other things.

And rightly so, friends of Neely will tell you—or the world.

The American Football Coaches Association, always intent on putting its best foot forward, knew what it was doing in January when it picked Neely as its president. These fellows, a critical breed, don't judge their candidates by wins and losses. Rather, they are intensely jealous of their federation and pick a man of real stature. So the highest recognition that can come to one in this profession was Jess Neely's.

Neely is looking forward to his 35th season as a football coach and his 26th as a head coach. Prior to coming to Rice in 1940, he was athletic director and head football coach at Clemson College for nine years. The dean of Southwestern Conference head coaches, Neely has served twice on the coaching staff of the West for the famed East-West Shrine game in San Francisco.

OTHER FACETS

But keeping on that track will end up with more dates and other figures which would inevitably bring on talk about grid wins and losses. And that doesn't happen to be our topic.

Here we would discuss a coach and what makes him tick on the gridiron, but we also want to bring into the picture other facets of his busy life, facets which have caused those in the know to accord the tag, "great."

Kern Tips in his talk that night last fall gave the assembly a good dose of football facts, most of them with the distinct and distinguished Neely flavor. The feature speaker would have been chased off the campus if he hadn't. But he reminded them that Neely the coach leads three other lives: he's a foster father to a good many boys, those fellows who report to him each September; he is truly representative of his craft and an outstanding practitioner of his chosen profession; and finally, he is a citizen of his community with the responsibilities inherent in the fact.

As an instructor in football, certainly Neely measures up. Proof: his services as a teacher are in constant demand from the East Coast to Hawaii. The secret is his undeviating devotion to fundamentals. It was Knute Rockne who said "Give me 11 men who know their fundamentals, and I'll give the other team my signals." Neely directs his boys through a thorough course in fundamentals. That's why his November games are usually gems to watch.

ROLE OF FOSTER FATHER

That November legend that has attached itself—and not without reason—to Neely also is fair proof that during the intervening two months Neely has assumed, with success, the role of a foster father. The boys on his squad have learned that their coach is one whose wisdom they can depend upon, whose understanding of their problems is deep, and whose willingness to care about them is paramount.

"Anyone who saw Neely propelled off the bench at the Cotton Bowl in 1953 when Dickie Moegle was tackled from the Alabama bench will know what I mean about the parental concern," Tips declared in his talk. "He will understand the feeling of a man who after observing Jess over the years declared: 'If I had a son, I would wish that he could play football for Jess Neely.'"

(Incidentally, one of the cryptics linked with this historic Cotton Bowl tackle came from the taciturn Neely who is reported to have said following the unorthodox play: "If Dickie thought what I think he thought, then he thought just right.")

We have touched on Neely's record

as practitioner of his craft—the case of a man trained for law but turned to football. Contacts instead of contracts, you might say. But even if he did choose the gridiron, it must be admitted that he briefs his cases with minute care and when he appears in the 300 x 160-foot open-air courtroom, he puts up a convincing fight.

It is commonplace to think of coaches as men with no time nor inclination to be civic minded. But Uncle Jess isn't in that class, either. But, you ask, how can a fellow in the coaching business participate normally in public affairs?

THE WAY NEELY DOES IT

Again the answer is "do it the way Neely does." And how does Neely do it? Kern Tips furnishes the key to that one too: "He can cash in on the opportunities unique to his position and with the tools that are available to him. He can build physical plant while he builds physical stamina."

If this "sounds pretty, but," the abstract can be translated with ease into the concrete. And we do mean concrete, because reference is to the spacious gymnasium and the outstandingly beautiful $2.5 million stadium, both virtually brand new. (It's been said that the builder of any major stadium anywhere would be making a huge error if he, before finalizing plans, failed to visit Rice Stadium or examine its blueprints.)

These two obvious achievements of the Neely regime are landmarks on the Rice campus. Houston people and friends of Rice everywhere must take a bow, of course, but, to spark the moves, they needed someone of real vision, a leader in whose judgment they had great confidence. And Jess Neely furnished those two essentials.

Such is the physical plant wherein Jess Neely works. Rice Institute, with a student body restricted to about 1500, has one of the most comprehensive, best-rounded programs of any school in the country.

CITIZEN OF COMMUNITY

"Here indeed is evidence of broad purpose and broad achievement of a man working in sympathy with others who see a program of athletics as a means toward an end rather than the end itself," Kern Tips declared with eloquence. "Rice Institute is a Houston institution; you cannot separate its director of athletics from this community; Jess Neely is a citizen of his community in a real and tangible sense."

Neely is popular both on and off the campus, although his usual silent, somewhat stern approach frequently makes one think that he would just as soon not be.

After a workout which lasted almost three hours Bill Whitmore, Rice's sports publicity man, encountered the footsore, weary players as they trudged toward the showers. "Coach," he said, when he reached Neely, "those boys aren't saying very nice things about you." Neely fixed a cold stare upon Whitmore and announced in his soft drawl, "Beall, if theah's one thing weah not runnin' around heah it's a pop-you-larity contest."

For a wrap-up, let's tune in Allan Shivers, Governor of Texas:

"A third of a century as an adviser, friend and coach to young Americans is a record that any man might envy," the Governor wrote Neely last fall. "No one has carried the responsibilities of such a career with more dignity or more honor than you have. The benefits to our state and nation which have come as a result of your efforts are countless."

Classmates Outstanding Law Scholars

TWO 1953 GRADUATES of Delta Omega Chapter at Kent State University have attained an exceptional degree of success since completing their undergraduate work. They are now attending law school. The two men are Ronald G. "Ron" Rice and Alfred R. "Bud" Mays. Mr. Rice is attending Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, and Mr. Mays is attending Duke University in Durham, North Carolina, and both are now in their senior year.

Ron and Bud had the honor of being elected to the position of executive vice-president of the American Law Student Association in their respective circuits. By being executive vice-presidents of this Association, they automatically became members of the board of governors of the organization. The Board is made up of 16 members from all over the United States and decides the controlling policy of all law students of America.

Bud and Ron both attended the annual Bar Association convention held last year in Philadelphia, where one of the speakers was President Eisenhower. In addition to holding positions on the board of governors, Ron and Bud are presidents of their student bar associations on their respective campuses. Both have received scholastic scholarships and have presented articles to the Law Review, a publication contributed to by outstanding students at each law school in the country.

Mr. Rice was honored by being one of three United States law students to attend the Inter-American Academy of International and Comparative Law in Havana, Cuba, in 1954. With Ron at this convention were students from each Latin-American country as well as the students from the United States and prominent lawyers from all participating countries. Bud and Ron are looking forward to successful and stimulating careers in their chosen profession.

While at Kent State, Ron and Bud were among the most active members of the chapter and incidentally, members of the same pledge class. Ron was vice-president of the chapter and Bud was treasurer. In 1952, they attended the Karnea at Mackinac Island. They worked tirelessly to raise the standards and maintain the high level of brotherhood which is present in Delta Omega. Bud and Ron are members of Blue Key, national service fraternity.

Both make their homes in Cleveland, Ohio.

THE RAINBOW REPORTS A MEETING C

An on-the-spot account of the Arch Chapter in action, capably handling the Fraternity's administration.

In the walnut-paneled Presidents' Room, dedicated to former leaders of the Fraternity, President JOEL REYNOLDS (center) goes over the agenda with Vice-President WILLIAM MARTINDILL (right) and Executive Vice-President HUGH SHIELDS.

On Friday evening, following its day-long business session, Arch Chapter members took time to pay a short visit to Beta Zeta Chapter at Butler University. Housemother Mrs. ADDISON PARRY and Chapter President VIC LEWIS serve coffee to Arch Chapter Members CHRISTOPHER, HARTFORD, and MARTINDILL. Shortly afterward, President REYNOLDS cracked the whip and the Arch Chapter reconvened to work late into the night.

THROUGH MANY YEARS, Delta Tau Delta's Arch Chapter has occupied a unique and respected position in the Fraternity.

As the governing board of the organization, it is charged with the responsibility of maintaining the high standards which Delta Tau Delta has set for itself, of keeping the Fraternity moving ahead in all departments, of vigorously pursuing policies which will serve the best interests of the chapters and the members, wherever dispersed.

How well the Arch Chapter discharges this heavy responsibility is well illustrated by what goes on at one of its regular meetings. The last such session, pictured on these pages, took place in November at the National Headquarters building in Indianapolis.

The long week end started on a Friday morning with President Joel Reynolds presiding at the head of the massive oval table in the beautiful Presidents' Room.

Here should be interpolated a brief word concerning the composition of the Arch Chapter, which will testify to the wisdom of the framers of our Constitution. The group numbers ten men, six officers elected biennially by the Karnea and the four Division Presidents, who are elected by the Division Conferences. All, of course, serve the Fraternity on a purely voluntary basis, usually at the sacrifice of considerable time from family and business obligations.

Their homes are scattered from one end of the country to the other. President Reynolds, fast becoming a citizen of all points of the compass, hails from Boston; others of the Arch Chapter come from South Bend, Indiana; Los Angeles; Oklahoma City; Indianapolis; Portland, Oregon; Washington, D. C.; Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio; and Buffalo, New York.

The total effect, of course, is to give representation to many points of view and to blend these into policy which will foster the broad interests of the Fraternity as a national entity.

The first order of business was the reports of officers, with the President leading off. His remarks reflected how closely he has kept himself in touch with the various operations of the Fraternity and the conditions of chapters throughout the country—and also what a great amount of travel and correspondence is demanded of our chief executive. As each officer's report was submitted, a composite picture of Delta Tau Delta nationally began to unfold, and when the last one had been completed, one would think that there was little ground left to cover.

But the work of the meeting had hardly begun. Now came the careful discussion which resulted in decisions of what action should properly be taken: how to bolster a weak situation here, how to inspire more consistent performance there, how effectively to commend a chapter's job well done on another campus.

Anyone who has ever read the terse minutes of an Arch Chapter meeting would little guess how much painstaking consideration and give-and-take discussion precede a motion finally constructed to everyone's satisfaction and recorded in the minutes as "unanimously passed." Nor will the record reflect always the hours of spade work performed prior to the meeting so that all of the facts and pertinent considerations may be presented in session.

Obviously a story such as this cannot report details of an Arch Chapter meeting, but certain impressions stand out. Scholarship is one. The meeting made quite clear the fact that scholarship remains one of the Fraternity's foremost goals. Armed with reams of statistics, Francis Hughes presented a complete and up-to-date picture which enabled the Arch Chapter to adopt further aggressive measures to spur the lagging chapters into action.

It was apparent, too, that decisions are not reached by the Arch Chapter in haste, although the meeting moves with purpose, as one after another of the items on the agenda is ticked off. After a full day and a night session on Friday, the Arch Chapter was hard at it again all day Saturday. And by Saturday's end, it was amazing how much work had been accomplished. Just as a sampling, appointments of chapter advisers had been confirmed, a charter for the Honolulu (Hawaii) Alumni Chapter had been granted, plans for the forthcoming Karnea had been discussed, and the Fraternity's chapter housing program had been analyzed.

A good deal of time was devoted to looking ahead and planning for the future. Exploring opportunities for the establishment of new chapters, the Arch Chapter heard reports on and inquiries from no fewer than fifty-two college campuses where Delta Tau Delta is not now represented. The Centennial Karnea, coming up in two years, was discussed.

The windup came on Sunday, with a short session to handle the few items still remaining on the agenda. Following adjournment, there was a flurry to make plane and train connections, and some of the members still had enough of the old Delt bug left to schedule stops at undergraduate chapters on the way home.

Most of all, that's what our RAINBOW reporter liked about the Arch Chapter meeting. Its members have a Delt zest that won't stop, not even at 11:30 p.m. on a Friday night, not even after nearly three days of thinking and talking Fraternity every minute.

That's a mighty fine tribute to Delta Tau Delta.

Relaxing at the Butler Shelter with undergraduate Delts are Division Presidents GILLEY (foreground) and CHRISTOPHER.

Deep reflection and serious discussion are recorded in this close-up of Supervisor of Scholarship HUGHES, Northern Division President HARTFORD, and Vice-President MARTINDILL.

A lighter moment at the far end of the conference table as the camera catches Southern Division President CHRISTOPHER, Editor JONES, Field Secretary MORISON, and Eastern Division President WILSON.

Intent on a discussion of "unfinished business," are: Western Division President GILLEY, Secretary of Alumni MILLS, Secretary NICHOLS, President REYNOLDS, and Executive Vice-President SHIELDS.

National Interfraternity Conference

Discusses Predicted Tidal Wave of Students

"THE IMPENDING TIDAL Wave of Students," with its implications for fraternities, was forcefully demonstrated to national fraternity delegates as one of the outstanding features of the 47th annual session of the National Interfraternity Conference. This year's meeting was held December 1-3 at the Hotel Jefferson-Hilton in St. Louis.

Dean Fred H. Turner of the University of Illinois headed a panel comprising the executive committee of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators who conducted a lively discussion on the probable effects of the excessive numbers of students who will besiege college campuses in a few years. The responsibility of fraternities in helping to solve some of the problems which will be created was emphasized.

The panel agreed that there will be tremendous implications for fraternities in the great increases in enrollment but also agreed that there is sufficient imagination, energy, and ingenuity in fraternities to solve the major problems connected with expansion.

LARGE DELT DELEGATION

Increase and numbers were also the keynote of Delta Tau Delta's representation at the national Greek gathering. Official delegates were President Joel W. Reynolds, Supervisor of Scholarship Francis M. Hughes, and Executive Vice-President Hugh Shields.

On the undergraduate level, 16 Deltas represented their local interfraternity councils, to give Delta Tau Delta the highest proportionate representation based on number of undergraduate chapters. These delegates were: Neil Brown, Rensselaer; Robert Bullock, Penn State; Don Caplinger, Wabash; Roger Cram, Michigan State; Robert Drath, Kent; Kenneth Kutil, Illinois Tech; John Louis, Missouri; Charles McCullough, Kentucky; William McDonald, Carnegie Tech; Arthur Wilkins, Hillsdale; Richard Sorenson, Oklahoma; Terry Spragens, Cincinnati; Richard St. John, Michigan; Richard Trupp, Nebraska; and William McNeery, Missouri. Tom Denner, Oklahoma, also designated as an official delegate, was unable to attend because of a conflict with another activity.

Delta Tau Delta's President, Joel W. Reynolds, took a leading part in the organization's program, as he moderated the round-table discussion on "Character and Scholarship."

ONE OF THE HIGHEST REGISTRATIONS

The annual session was notable for one of the highest registrations in the history of the Conference. Included were 258 delegates and alternates, 91 deans and educational officers, 11 visitors, and 431 undergraduates, for a total of 791.

First of the Conference sessions was a luncheon on Friday. The keynote address was given by Powell B. McHaney, past president of Pi Kappa Alpha and president of the American Life Insurance Company, who expressed confidence in the fraternity system. He listed as tangible benefits of fraternity life the stimulation of scholarship, a full and complete college experience, the learning of good manners, taste, sportsmanship, and tolerance, a sharing of civic responsibilities, and fine training in qualities of leadership.

A new feature of the Conference, a dinner meeting for college administrators and deans, sponsored by the College Fraternity Secretaries' Association, was held at the University Club with nearly 200 persons in attendance.

APPROVE NIC CENTRAL OFFICE

One of the significant actions of the meeting was the adoption of a motion looking toward the establishment of a central office for NIC as soon as methods can be found to finance the project.

Resolutions at the close of the Conference recommended that local interfraternity councils encourage programs of better relations between fraternities and their respective university regulations and develop programs for the betterment of scholarship on their respective campuses. Other resolutions encouraged development of local alumni interfraternity councils; urged constructive pledge activities during the period generally referred to as "Help Week"; and recommended the adoption of programs by individual interfraternity councils to promote better public relations.

The Conference banquet, held on Saturday night, was attended by more than 700 persons. Principal speaker was Dr. George A. Bowman, President of Kent State University, who presented a realistic statement of his point of view as a college president toward Greek-letter organizations as a part of the educational program.

GRAND AWARD TO MICHIGAN

Awards for outstanding achievement by interfraternity councils were presented to representatives of Hanover College, Omaha University, Gettysburg College, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Purdue University, University of Michigan, and Ohio State University. The grand award went to the University of Michigan.

Cecil J. Wilkinson, past Chairman of the NIC and executive secretary of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity, was awarded the Conference Gold Medal for Service to Youth.

Officers elected for 1955-56 are: Chairman, Horace G. Nichol, Delta Upsilon; vice chairman, Francis S. Van Derbur, Kappa Sigma; treasurer, Houston T. Karnes, Lambda Chi Alpha; secretary, J. Edward Murphy, Sigma Nu; educational adviser, Donald R. Mallett, Alpha Tau Omega; executive committee members, P. F. Lavedan, Phi Kappa; Howard P. Locke, Kappa Alpha Order; and Sigmund H. Steinberg, Alpha Epsilon Pi.

The 1956 session, it was indicated, will probably be held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City, the first week in December.

That Chapter in Texas!

By JOHN T. STUART, III, Texas, '58

Here's a look at Gamma Iota, down in the Karnea country. Perhaps you'll agree with the man who said, "There's no justification to brag about Texas. The plain truth is staggering enough."

TEXAS BRAGS, sure—but it well has cause to!

Gamma Iota Chapter at the University of Texas can justly brag about its campus leaders at a university with a 17,000 plus enrollment.

It is unique indeed when both of the two top campus student officials belong to the same lodge, when one group on the campus has more than any other group in membership in the two campus service honoraries, when two of the top officers in two of the three cadet corps are in the same fraternity, and an unending list of others. Gamma Iota's membership at the University includes all of these.

The two top campus offices at the University of Texas are the Student Association president and the editor of the campus paper, The Daily Tex- an. Brother Roland Dahlin and Willie Morris hold down the offices of president and editor, respectively. Other major offices include cheerleader and sports editor of the campus annual, The Cactus, filled by Delts Jay Lewell and Johnny Stuart, respectively.

Jack Little and Dave Williams, both having served as chapter officers in '54, are the ex-presidents of the two campus service honoraries. Jack was president of Cowboys and Dave headed Silver Spurs. The membership of both of these honoraries is limited to 60 per year. Sixteen Delts (eight in each organization) are members of these groups. This amount is unsurpassed by any other Greek organization on the Texas campus. To add to the place Gamma Iota holds in these honoraries, Bob Keith was just chosen as vice-president of Cowboys and Marvin Dunaway and Joe Youmans have been chosen vice-president and treasurer, respectively, of Spurs.

The Shelter in Austin.

The Friars, an honorary for senior men which limits its membership to 12 per year, is led by Delt Little and has in its members three brothers of Gamma Iota. Besides Little, Brothers Dahlin and Morris have been recently elected into the fold of the senior campus brotherhood.

ROTC is not to be left off the list of groups that are headed by Delts either. The Army unit is under the command of Cadet Colonel Bill Roush, and the Air unit staff includes Cadet Lt. Colonel Roland Dahlin, who is in charge of all promotions of cadets and their placement in the unit. Cadet Captain Tommy LeBleu is a company commander in the Army; while Cadet Major Sam Bradshaw is a squadron commander in the Air ROTC.

The U. T. campus has three political parties and Gamma Iota has the past chairman of one and the present chairman of the other. Bunch Brittain was the chairman of the Student Party and Bob Rylee is the chairman of the newly formed University Party.

Scholarship isn't forgotten at the Shelter either. Willie Morris recently made Phi Beta Kappa and was chosen a Rhodes Scholar to attend Oxford next fall. Gamma Iota also is strong

Another Lesson of Fraternity

One of the Good Delts down in Jackson, Mississippi, sent us an editorial clipping the other day which illustrates admirably what has always been to us a self-evident and often overlooked value of fraternity experience.

We refer to this matter of community responsibility. The college man who is lucky enough to be a member of a fraternity learns at an early stage that man does not live for himself alone—that, in fact, he achieves full expression only as a responsible and contributing member of the community in which he lives.

The Fraternity and each of its chapters owes its strength and effectiveness to the individual efforts of each member. Collectively, these efforts make the chapter and the Fraternity more useful and meaningful, and everyone is the recipient.

Thus it is that Delts, and members of other fraternities, leave their colleges and go out into the various communities of the nation conditioned and accustomed to doing something for their fellows. You will find them as Boy Scout leaders, YMCA committeemen, P.T.A. officers, in politics, on crime commissions, serving with civic committees, as church officers, and in other fields ad infinitum.

Here's what the Jackson Daily News thinks of one of them, Delt George Brannon, Alabama, '32:

"George Brannon has again this year taken on the voluntary assignment of managing Jackson American Legion baseball team. The team, as you may know, is made up of youngsters between 16 and 18-year-olds.

"All of us understand the considerable value in directing the energies of our youth toward constructive and supervised play. Baseball certainly is constructive, for it helps build sturdy young bodies and is in the tradition of the American heritage. It teaches fair play and teamwork. And, a more direct result, youngsters who are busy perfecting a pitching arm or a batting stance, aren't likely to be getting into much trouble.

"Baseball, if properly played, requires constant coaching. The coach and manager of a baseball team become profound influences in the lives of boys dedicated to the game.

"That's why it is so fine to see a man like George Brannon give freely of his own time and energy to help the kids play ball. Mr. Brannon has a full-time job with the Mississippi Valley Gas Company. Most men feel that after they put in a day's work, they are rightfully entitled to rest and quiet at home. Indeed they are.

"But George Brannon instead goes out with the American Legion ball club and helps the youngsters. He is rendering a fine service indeed, as are all men who voluntarily work with Jackson's kids."

Fraternity Valedictorians

Here's a pat on the back for the University of Illinois fraternity system: co-valedictorians among midyear graduates at that school were fraternity men—one a Delt, the other an Alpha Tau Omega.

The Delt is Harold F. Tenney, better known as "Dutch," who took his degree in commerce and law and is now going on with law studies. A former officer at the Shelter, he is also a member of Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity. He has been a representative in the Junior Bar Association and took part in the National Moot Court Competition. After graduation from law school, Tenney plans to practice in his home town, Decatur.

We congratulate both "Dutch" Tenney and Beta Upsilon Chapter for their fine achievement.

27th or 29th?

A clipping received from a Boise, Idaho, newspaper reminds us that husbands aren't the only ones who sometimes slip up on dates, appointments, and things of that sort. It seems that Delt Wif Janssen came home on the evening of December 27 to find his wife regaled in formal gown, ready to go to the Delts' annual Christmas Dance.

"Wrong night? No, Wif, dear . . . see here on the invitation it says 27th . . . uh . . . 27th annual party on the 29th!"

Why Trophies?

We heard the thought expressed the other day that the measure of success of a Delt chapter is not the number of trophies that grace the mantel of the Shelter, but rather it is what the chapter has done and is doing to benefit each individual member.

Certainly we can all subscribe to that. Who can dispute that the good fraternity is one which, through its daily associations, teaches and prepares the undergraduate for a useful life? Why, then, do we make so much over a scholarship plaque, or an intramural trophy?

Our contention is that there exists no conflict between the two ideas, that the latter more often than not is a manifestation of the former. Look at it this way: When you find a chapter regularly collecting trophies for various campus achievements, invariably you find a chapter which is also serving its function internally, daily bringing home valuable lessons to its members. And the chapter that never wins a trophy? How alert and vital and alive can that group be?

Let's back up a moment and look at this idea from another angle. In what ways does a chapter help its members? What are the lessons it teaches?

It should teach industry. It should scorn idleness. It should show the undergraduate that worth-while goals are achieved through combined effort—teamwork, if you will. It should teach the individual that he often must subordinate selfish interests to work for the greater good of a group, a community. It should show a man how to organize, how to get the greatest effort from his fellows, how to direct and to lead. These things it should teach, as well as others.

And are not these lessons the by-product of winning trophies? Is not a trophy won the evidence of industry and teamwork and organization? Is there not a real satisfaction for the individual in having done his part to enable his fraternity to score a victory? Will not fraternity lessons well applied invariably, inevitably, somewhere along the line result in additions to the trophy case? We believe so.

That's why we say, Delt chapters, by all means follow the Delt Creed to make the fraternity experience of each member deeply meaningful and constructive, but at the same time—Go get those trophies!

The Walk-Out Grows Up

Traditional in many chapters of many fraternities is the pledge walk-out. For the benefit of the uninitiated, a walk-out generally consists of a clandestine exodus from the house of the chapter's pledge class, usually accompanied by silverware, light bulbs, and other useful articles, whose absence is intended to make life as miserable as possible for the actives left behind.

Multitudinous variations of this general theme are widely practiced, but the net result is invariably the same—disruption of the academic routine, pledge independence asserted and suppressed, with questionable over-all benefits accruing.

But a fresh wind is blowing. From the University of Oklahoma campus comes word that Delta Tau Delta pledges have initiated an alternative program that has earned them widespread praise for their straight thinking.

Pledge members have pooled the money they would have spent on the walk-out to make available three $100 scholarships to be awarded to freshman students. "To my knowledge," said Dr. Jodie C. Smith, Oklahoma's counselor to men, "it is the first time this has been done on this campus."

The scholarships were awarded in February—one to a sorority or fraternity member, one to an independent girl, and one to an independent boy. Delt pledges judge the freshmen recommended by the University scholarship board on the basis of need and scholarship.

"This act shows positive progress and mature thinking that fraternities are undergoing," Dr. Smith stated. "This pledge class deserves commendation."

Indeed it does, and here's our salute to the Sooner neophytes.

Memorial at Idaho

Delta Mu Chapter at the University of Idaho has accomplished a fine tribute to one of its members in establishing a $250 dairy science scholarship for a freshman student in that field. The scholarship, known as the Allan Reeb Memorial, is in memory of Allan Reeb, chapter member fatally injured in a train-automobile collision last May.

The scholarship was deemed a particularly appropriate memorial in view of Allan's excellent record at the University. Only a sophomore at the time of his death, he had established a grade average midway between a three- and four-point, had served as corresponding secretary of his chapter, and was a member of the University election board.

The fund is being accumulated through contributions from alumni and others.

Chapter in Texas

in Phi Eta Sigma and has for many years held offices in the freshman honorary organization.

In this year's annual Sing Song at the University, Gamma Iota took top honors in the fraternity division, while the Deltas' neighbor sorority, Chi Omega, also captured a trophy. After two months of preparation under the direction of Brother Hank McNamara, Gamma Iota came through in winning style with "Ride the Chariot" and the Fraternity song "Greece Is a Famous Land." It was Gamma Iota's fourth win in six years.

To round out the list of campus leaders, Gamma Iota has its share of varsity and freshman athletes. On the baseball team one finds three Deltas in the line-up. Tommy LeBleu, Marvin Dunaway, and Woody Woodman represent the Texas chapter on the squad. In varsity swimming and basketball, Richard Lawler and Sam Bradshaw, respectively, represent Gamma Iota. Sam has concluded his eligibility, while Richard has one more year. Last year Richard was Southwest Conference one- and three-meter diving champion. Two starters on the frosh football team are in the persons of Danny Myers and Joe Winters. They hold down the positions of end and guard respectively. In track, Freshman Brooks Patrick is already looking good in both cross-country and the half-mile and mile relay teams. State high school tennis singles champ and outstanding freshman racket star is Richard Keeton. All are Gamma Iota men to watch out for to make the sports headlines in the near future.

Look around, and for sure you will agree with Gamma Iota that down in Texas they truly have something to brag about and do it up in a big way, that's "Texas style, podner!"

Old Alumni Don't Die

They don't even fade away—and here's proof!

At the Kenyon College Commencement last summer, George Eagon, Kenyon, '38, for the sake of old times proposed to the swimming coach that he (Eagon) give an exhibition with the varsity star in the 50-yard free style. The coach was a bit apprehensive (after all, George was 17 years out of college), but he finally consented.

You guessed it: in front of a goodly crowd, Alumnus Eagon not only held his own with the varsity star but defeated him by one body length!

Mr. Eagon is a doctor of osteopathy and a loyal Delt way out in Portland, Oregon.

From the Editor's Mailbag

PAUL J. AMEN, Nebraska, '38, has been named new head football coach of Wake Forest College, Wake Forest, North Carolina. He had been serving as backfield coach and head scout at the United States Military Academy.

At the University of Nebraska, Amen was a three-sport athlete. As an end in football, forward in basketball, and first baseman on the baseball team, he was an outstanding performer in the Big Seven Conference.

Following graduation in 1938, he played professional baseball with Dallas of the Texas League as a left-handed first baseman. He also played pro ball with Youngstown, Ohio, of the Middle Atlantic League in 1939. Meanwhile he had returned to Nebraska as an assistant football coach under Biff Jones. He remained at Nebraska until 1941 when he was commissioned in the Army Air Corps.

In 1943 he was assigned to West Point as an instructor in the English Department and Plebe football coach. In addition, he was named head baseball coach of the cadets.

In 1946, after his discharge from the service with the rank of major, Amen joined Coach Earl Blaik's varsity football coaching staff as end coach. He later served as backfield coach and chief scout until accepting the position at Wake Forest.

Amen served as president of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches in 1951. During his undergraduate days at Nebraska he toured Europe with the United States Olympic baseball team.

Amen is the brother of a Delt: Colonel HENRY J. AMEN, Nebraska, '37.

CLARENCE E. MEYER, Syracuse, '13, has received the highest decoration of the Austrian Government. The Great Gold Medal of Honor, was presented to Mr. Meyer by Dr. Karl Gruber, ambassador to the United States, at recent ceremonies in the Austrian Embassy in Washington.

Mr. Meyer served as chief of the ECA Mission to Austria following World War II. The decoration was given in token of appreciation of the efforts of the United States in post-war Austria and of Mr. Meyer's own work which resulted in a marked boost of Austrian economic recovery. He is the first non-Austrian to receive this highest honor since the war.

Mr. Meyer, who retired in 1950 as vice-president and director of the Stanvac Corporation, has recently been serving as director of the United States Operations Missions in Tokyo.

For the Delt Book Shelf—

Pioneer Motoring Recaptured

WHO CAN IMAGINE driving an automobile at 15 miles per hour and being arrested for speeding? Or being "requested," at the point of a shotgun, to keep one's car off a public highway? Or putting a lifelike rubber dummy in the driver's seat of a parked car to prevent auto thievery? Or motoring hub-deep in mud just for the pleasure of it?

The pioneer motorist can. But few can do it as tellingly as has Delt Harold B. Chase, Pennsylvania, '11, in his new book, Auto-biography, recently released by Pageant Press of New York City.

As the title suggests, the volume is built on Mr. Chase's personal recollections as a pioneer motorist during the period from 1896 to 1911—from the day at the age of seven he piloted his first "horseless carriage" to later years when he ran the gamut of experience with Knox, Rambler, Thomas Flyer, and all the other early makes.

Because the author succeeds so well in capturing the spirit of the dawning of the automobile age, the book is absorbing reading. Here are pleasingly combined anecdote and humorous misadventure, happy memories and grim struggle, nostalgia for the older Delt and almost incredulous discovery for the younger brother.

AUTHOR HAROLD B. CHASE

The story, however, emerges as more than just a pleasurable recounting of experiences. It has been authoritatively cited as a real and worthwhile contribution to Americana. Such is the encomium of Mr. Clarence Brigham, director of the American Antiquarian Society and the country's leading authority on Americana. Already M.I.T., sponsor of a non-commercial nightly educational program on television, has placed the work on its suggested reading list on the history of the automobile.

Mr. Chase's "auto-biography" is cast in Ohio and Washington, D. C. Like a good many other Deltas, he was born and spent much of his boyhood in Mt. Vernon, Ohio. In 1900, the Chase family moved to Washington, where the senior Mr. Chase operated a theater—"Chase's," well-known to Capital old-timers.

Much of the story deals with experiences during the time when the author was a student at Pennsylvania, where he was president of Omega Chapter, captain of the varsity soccer team, member of Sphinx Senior Society, and on the boards of four undergraduate publications. One wonders how he found time for all of these accomplishments when he was simultaneously vulcanizing tire tubes, cleaning spark plugs, and performing all the numerous other chores required to coax the early auto around a city block.

Now retired, Mr. Chase was an attorney-at-law (as well as a stock breeder, automobile distributor, and executive in a steel tube manufacturing company). For the last ten years, he has been a book reviewer for the Sunday Telegram of Worcester, Massachusetts.

An active citizen of Worcester, he has been president of the University Club, president of the local chapter of the Unitarian Laymen's League, and Red Cross and Chamber of Commerce officer. Long interested in golf, he was vice-president of the Massachusetts Golf Association and chairman of the committees in charge of the Ryder Cup Matches (in 1924) and the U. S. Open (in 1925).

Mr. Chase is the father of Harold

B. Chase, Jr., Wesleyan, '43, an Air Force career captain, now stationed at Colorado Springs.

Auto-biography has already begun to receive enthusiastic reviews from coast to coast. THE RAINBOW predicts that it will attract many more, as older readers reminisce over, and younger readers rejoice that they escaped, the bygone perils of pioneer motoring.

MODESTY may be nature's chiefest virtue, as a well-known writer once suggested, but it led THE RAINBOW into serious error in its December, 1955, issue.

In reporting J. Addington Wagner's election as national commander of the American Legion, THE RAINBOW referred to him as the first Delt to hold this high office.

Mr. Wagner is not the first. He is not even the second. He is the third. Both Ralph T. O'Neil, Baker, '09, and Bennett C. Clark, Missouri, '13, served the Legion as national commanders. Both are now deceased.

A former United States Senator from Missouri, Mr. Clark was a World War I infantry colonel and an organizer and early commander of the American Legion. Mr. O'Neil, who had a distinguished career in the organization, served as national commander in 1930-31.

The Fraternity is, of course, proud of this substantial contribution of Delta Tau Delta to the leadership of a great organization, and the editors apologize for their oversight. Mr. Wagner, losing the distinction of being the first, nonetheless has the satisfaction of knowing that he joins distinguished Delt company.

New Shelter Previewed At Homecoming

For the 1955 Homecoming return of our alumni, Delta Eta rolled out the traditional red carpet. Football, banquets, and old times were the prevailing topics of conversation as brothers of past and present gathered in the Shelter. Chapter efforts were well rewarded in lawn decorations, with Delta Eta awarded second place in the annual Homecoming Lawn Decorations competition.

Alumni were informed that blueprints for the renovation of the Shelter were now in the hands of the Fraternity's architect. All that remains is approval, and building will begin. This announcement culminates a ten-year drive by Bama Delts for a new Shelter.

Brothers Hartwell Lutz, Del Carraher, and George Linn are to be included in the forthcoming Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Brother William Gould was elected to membership in Omicron Delta Kappa.

Brothers George Linn and Dick Gunder ushered in another successful season for Coach Johnny Dee's Crimson Tide. Team Captain George Linn started the ball rolling by breaking the all-time Alabama record for most points in one game with 38 at the first of the season. Brothers Linn and Gunder, both returning first-string lettermen, will prove a strong factor in the Tide's successes this year.

In chapter athletics, Brothers Forrest Wilson and Del Carraher won the campus intramural horseshoe championship this year.

Delta Eta held her annual Christmas party for underprivileged children in December. With Brother Don Conner as acting Santa Claus, gifts of clothing and toys were given to the children. Later in the evening the Delt Chorus, under the direction of Brother Bill Owsley, serenaded the dormitories and sorority houses. This is another Delt "First on the Campus" and received for the chapter much favorable recognition.

Scholarship Cup Stays at Shelter

With the school year well under way, we find the Epsilon Delts, under the able leadership of President Denny Doolen, busy in every phase of campus life.

Epsilon, for the second semester in a row, was awarded the Scholarship Cup for maintaining the highest scholastic average among the fraternities on campus.

In athletics the Delts of Albion are represented on the swimming team by Ben Mayne, individual medley, and on the basketball team by Dick Johnson, guard. Both boys are only sophomores and show plenty of talent.

Before the holidays the Delts had a Christmas party for the underprivileged children of Albion. There were refreshments and presents for all the kids as they thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

In the field of music the Delts are again among the leaders on the Albion campus. A new quartet of Joe Munk,

Tom Leavy, Jim Lay, and Ben Mayne took a strong third place in the annual "Quartet Sing."

With the new year upon us, Epsilon elected the following men to lead the fraternity through the months ahead: president, Jerry Timmons; vice-president, Sam Butcher; corresponding secretary, Tom Ness; recording secretary, Dave Haan; treasurer, Ed Jenkins; and publications secretary, Bill Westerman.

As in the past, the end of the semester brings with it our annual Black and White. We are all looking forward to this joyous occasion and to the prosperous year ahead.

Volleyball Crown Won by Deltas For Third Consecutive Year

Near the Christmas season at Alpha things started happening which set the pace for many activities since. The first big event was the Annual Delt Christmas Dance held December 10. The campus newspaper reported that the decorations and our traditions for the dance completely transformed the house. A lot of leadership credit goes to Gene DeLaney, our social chairman, and every brother who helped.

In athletics the intramural and interfraternity volleyball tourney was soon over and Delta Tau emerged the victor for the third straight year. Tony Marcantonio coached the fine team to victory.

Soon after Christmas vacation, basketball started. At present we are in second place in a hard fought contest with two other major fraternities on our campus. In intercollegiate basketball, Brothers Jim Vance and Jim Lauffer are sparking the varsity to many a victory, while in wrestling Price, Myers, and Shaffer are working hard on Allegheny's up and coming team, which recently beat Hiram.

In other campus activity many Deltas take part. In Alleghenians, an all-College men's glee club, we have seven Deltas who do their share to make it the fine group that it is this semester. In drama and in other clubs many take part and acquire leadership. The president of the Senior Class, Jim Lauffer, is a Delt.

Harrison Shields organized a glee club "within the fold" and we plan on having them sing during Rush Week and in later events. The accompanist is John Neidel, who is also an accompanist for many college functions and groups such as the Alleghenians.

Elected to Sophomore Honorary

Politics again was the big issue here at the Shelter. Our new president is Charlie Blackburn; "veep" is Frank Alkov. Treasurer is Tom Barnett, and his able assistant is Jason Raines. Webster Deadman is corresponding secretary.

Homecoming was a welcomed event here and also a great success. We entertained alumni and guests with an open Shelter house dance and an intermission party during the homecoming dance. The high light of the week end was the announcement that we had taken fourth place in the decorations. Later in the week end we were saddened when it was partially destroyed by a fire which we did not set.

In the line of honors, we are proud to announce that Charlie Blackburn, our president, was initiated into Scabbard and Blade, and Ken Mattenly was initiated into the Squires, a sophomore honorary.

We are now looking forward to "Greek Week" and are making plans to make it very successful.

Intramural leaders for the fourth straight year, three of the five starting berths in varsity basketball, Student Commission presidency, and intramural directorship are some of the honors which Gamma Theta members have brought to their chapter for the beginning of 1956.

Gamma Theta's intramural softball team finished the season undefeated. A postseason all-star team made up of players from other campus squads also fell to the Deltas. A volleyball championship was added to the list after softball.

Three of the starting five on Baker University's cage squad are Deltas—Swede Malm, All-Kansas Conference center last year; Bill Hines, guard; and Fran Coxen, forward. Malm has a 21-point-per-game average. In three games in the KCAC Tourney he set a new record of 92 points with 44 and 37 in the first two contests.

Dick Purdy, Dick Maze, Keith Smith, and Jerry Sexton are members of the Wildcat squad. Purdy also received his fourth football letter this year.

Neal Malicky is serving as president of the Baker Student Commission. He has been selected delegate from the Ottawa District, Kansas Conference of the Methodist Church, for a European Work Camp this summer.

Malicky is a former Gamma Theta president and was a delegate to the Karnea in 1954. He will be graduated from Baker in June.

Wayne Icenogle is Baker intramural director and advertising manager for the Baker Orange, newspaper, and Baker Wildcat, school annual. Tom Hedrick is sports editor, Bill Wright makeup editor, and Bill Hines a reporter on the Orange.

A National Scholarship Award was received by Gamma Theta late in the fall for being above the All Men's Average at Baker last year.

Mike O'Byrne, Tom VanSickle, and Bob Thornburgh were in the cast of Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller," a comic opera presented at Baker in January.

Jack Austin had a part in the fall play, "The Crucible."

Five Gamma Theta Deltas were members of the Dean's Honor Roll at 12 weeks.

The "Shelter" was decorated in the festive gaiety of an old English inn for the annual Christmas party December 17. Forty-five Deltas and their dates were present.

Campus affairs are an important part of fraternity life; however, the following section of a letter from Don Shelby, former Gamma Theta president and now assistant pastor of the Torrence, California, Methodist Church, expresses what many Deltas feel. Shelby was graduated from Baker in 1953.

"The Deltagram (a Gamma Theta quarterly publication) arrived the other day and it would seem that the chapter is achieving something of merit for itself. However, the paper never reveals what the internal state of affairs are and that is what is important. It never matters how many trophies grace the trophy case or how many campus honors are accorded individual members, but rather it is what is happening to each boy as a result of his associations with others and the standards which prevail which measure the relative success or failure of a fraternity and give it reason for existence."

Weaver Heads Interfraternity Council

Richard Weaver, former president of Delta Tau Chapter, has been elected president of the Interfraternity Council at Bowling Green for the spring semester of 1956. This also automatically gives Dick a seat on Student Senate and the Council of Student Affairs.

Dick Rose, Delta Tau junior, is a varsity letterman on the BeeGee undefeated swimming team which just won the OU Relays.

The following men were elected to office in Delta Tau Chapter for the coming year: George Howick, president; Ward Ryan, vice-president; John Creech,

Miner Is Senior Class President

Two Butler Deltas, Joe Ditmire and Glenn Tirsell, were among the 31 students from the University to be selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Both Deltas are members of Blue Key and hold several important campus positions.

Beta Zeta placed third in house decorations for the 100th Homecoming game and took the runner-up position in the float competition.

The pledge class sponsored its annual Rose Dance for the active chapter in December. Favors which were Delta bracelets were given to the dates along with a rose corsage. Joan Underwear, Pi Beta Phi, was chosen as the 1955 Rose Queen.

Open house gave the Delta Tau Delta chapter a chance to show the results of long hours of back work, which they have done in their redecorating job, as more than 250 people were given a special tour of the house and were served cookies and tea.

The Mothers Club gave the chapter a beautiful chandelier for the dining room as a Christmas gift. The Deltas received also a mascot dog named "Humphery" during the Yuletide season.

Walt Cooper, sophomore, was elected as the sophomore treasurer and Pledge Dave McCormick won the freshman vice-president's job in campus elections. Don Britton, senior, was elected president of the Butler University choir and Bill Miner, senior from Warsaw, Indiana, was chosen as the Senior Class president for the 1955-56 school year.

Two seniors, Dick Berndt and Carl Buser, were graduated in January of 1956. The Mothers Club honored these men with a banquet and the two Deltas received plaques for their four years of service to the chapter.

Plans are being put into effect for the Deltas' entry in the 1956 edition of Geneva Stunts, an annual event held on the Butler campus each year, in which the different fraternities and sororities vie for honors by giving a 15-minute skit. The Deltas will present "An American in Paris" this year and will be aiming for the number one spot in the fraternity ratings.

Knudsen Memorial Award Presented to Bob Rossi

To date, Beta Omega has not lost an intramural football game. The chances are exceptionally good that we will win the finals. Sparking the team play have been Dave Brown, Mike Giberson, Lowell Weight, Wylie Keeler, Bruce Towne, Bill Stuart, Gary Haase, Bob Paxton, and Tom Reedy. Dave Ohlson has indeed done a fine job in coaching the club.

The chapter's active roster was bolstered by four new members. They are: Dick Platt, Bob Rossi, Don Sawyer, and Jim Farmer. Bob Rossi received the coveted Knudsen Memorial Award for outstanding service.

Graduating Senior Tom Wright was succeeded by Chuck Welsh as house president. Wright, president for two consecutive semesters, has done an outstanding job as head of this chapter. Bill Stuart was elected veep, Wylie Keeler took over the job of secretary, and Jim Farmer was elected corresponding secretary. All officers are looking forward to a successful new year.

It was an intensely busy semester socially; a bang-up Christmas party climaxed the old year. This party was attended by many parents and neighbors. Many thanks are due the Mothers' Club for its staunch support throughout the past semester. Beta Omega is now looking ahead to a very eventful year under the leadership of Chuck Welsh.

Singing Award Captured

Having just completed a successful season in intramural football and co-ed volleyball, Delta Beta Chapter is looking forward to another successful season in intramural winter sports. With last season's championship bowling team back, we should be able to bring home our second championship in two years. The Delta football team was once again champions of its league and was defeated by only five points in the play-offs for the school championship.

With the start of the second semester, Delta Beta held our annual elections for officers of the chapter. Our new president, William H. Wilton, was installed in an impressive ceremony at our chapter house last month. Our former president, William A. McDonald, was honored at a dinner at the Shelter.

The new president, Bill Wilton, is an active participant in extracurricular activities, as he was selected for the all-campus and all-league football teams. Bill is a junior in the School of Printing Management.

The past year was indeed a successful one for Delta Beta. Our sing team won the coveted ship's clock awarded at the annual Dean Moor Sing held at Trinity Cathedral in Pittsburgh. A scholarship award was given our chapter by the Fraternity for exceeding Tech's All Men's Scholastic Average for 1954-55.

We are looking forward to our new Shelter, which will be a part of the school's new housing plan. The fund raising committee, headed by Alumnus Karl Konnerth, is working toward a goal of $50,000, the sum needed by 1958 for us to enter on schedule.

Bipartisan Poll of Greeks Ranks Deltas Number One

The Deltas have moved high on the Colorado campus, as was evidenced by a bipartisan voting poll taken of Greek students. In the eyes of their fellow fraternities and sororities, Deltas ranked below no other fraternity.

Possibly the Deltas intramural championships have had something to do with the rating. With the intramural schedule just half completed, they have already copped the water polo and wrestling championships and are walking away with the basketball crown. Or maybe the University's society editor helped, when he said the Deltas "gave the best party of the year." He was referring to the "Saints and Sinners Pledge Formal," with two jazz bands still playing at two in the morning.

The Deltas have a well-seasoned supply of varsity athletes. Skill and a deft shooting eye have put Dave Mobray in a first-

EDITOR'S NOTE: We would like to pass on to our readers, particularly the Delt chapters, the wisdom of a letter from a Delt alumnus to one of the Delt chapters in the state of Kansas. The letter was written last November, following publication of the September issue of THE RAINBOW. We heartily commend it to your thoughtful appraisal.

..... Chapter
Delta Tau Delta Fraternity

Gentlemen:

THIS COULD HAPPEN TO YOU TOO!

I just returned from a little vacation swing out through Nebraska, Colorado, and Kansas last week. In Nebraska I ran into some friends whose son is a freshman at the University of Nebraska this year. He is a potential pledge for some fraternity—and a very good one, too. On my desk tonight I noticed the September issue of THE RAINBOW. It caught my fancy to send this young man this copy of THE RAINBOW, a means to better acquaint him with Delta Tau Delta and what it stands for, a chance to learn and read about many fine accomplishments of Delt alums throughout the world. In fact, I went one step further and ordered a one year's subscription to be sent to him, a further effort to keep Delta Tau Delta fresh in his mind until such time as he officially pledges, which will probably be next spring or at the beginning of his sophomore year.

I scanned through the pages of this September RAINBOW to get an idea of what might sell this young man on becoming a Delt pledge. First thing that struck me was the article on "The Stylist Supreme," George Sisler, Michigan, '15. This young man is a New York Yankee diehard, lives and breathes baseball. He certainly would like to join Sisler's team.

Just across the page is an article entitled "General DeCoursey Is Medical School Commandant." This article carries a double load for this boy. He himself is taking pre-med and his father is a colonel in the Army Reserve. He wouldn't miss reading this article.

by Ohio State's Delt Rose Bowl football players. This is first-class selling material to any young man with athletic blood in him.

This young man's second choice for a life's work is the ministry. Back four pages I found "If There Be Need for a Man . . ." concerning The Reverend Joseph G. Wick. In all probability this article would be an attention getter also.

There are probably many other fine articles that will catch the eye of a fellow eager for information about an organization, one of several he is contemplating joining. For young-blooded Americans, it would be unforgivable to omit the pictures of the Delt Queens as best sellers, especially Maryland's choice on Page 29.

Assuming we have by now gained the interest of our prospect (if nothing else, he is leafing further through the magazine for more Queens), a final sales pitch is needed. The Nebraska chapter is now on its own to make this sale. Its number one contribution is on Page 30, as fine a sales presentation as any rushing chairman and his assistants could ever dream up. Congratulations to this Dick Trupp who wrote Nebraska's pitch. And he had pictures of his key advertisements to boot in Mr. Hove and Mr. Tomsen.

And now to the point of all this. On Page . . . you have no sales pitch. Delta Tau Delta is fortunate that this young man is going to Nebraska.

If the other fraternities are getting all the good boys these days, THINK IT OVER. You may be missing other rushing potentials too. The pledge you miss may be another Dwight Eisenhower. It would make marvelous reading on the front page of the September, 1955, RAINBOW. And such men do come from Kansas.

Fraternally,
Anonymous

P. S.: Alumni are just like Mom and Pop. They like to read and gloat over the successes of the younger generation. Putting it in THE RAINBOW saves you three cents postage per alum. The pledge labor saved in printing, addressing, and dropping in envelopes could win a homecoming decoration prize.

string guard spot. His 43 per cent shooting average has helped Colorado win most of its pre-season games, including a big win over Iowa, Big Ten Defending Champions. Fritz Hageboeck, Colorado's number one hurdler, is in top contention to win Big Seven honors.

The Delts were lucky to come up with one of the finest housemothers to grace Colorado's campus in many years. She is Mrs. Scoggins, widow of the late Charles Scoggins, a favored writer for the Saturday Evening Post.

AL SCHARF

ter just before the vacation was a big success. To start it off, we entertained 15 ten-to-twelve-year-old boys from one of the Ithaca Settlement Houses. We showed movies of some of the Big Red football games, gave out presents, and then served refreshments before they left. Later on in the evening the regular party and dance was held with Santa Claus giving out presents to Delts and their dates.

Many of the brothers are participating in various activities on the Hill. In athletics three Delts, Lee Drake, Mike Feakins, and Hugh Dingle, are on the varsity wrestling squad, while Joe Crisanti, a co-captain, and Denny Caverly are wielding swords for the fencers, and Bill King is on the track team. Dud Norton, president of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Sailing Association, presided at a meeting of that body in New York the first week end in February.

Four brothers, Barry Hart, Keith Stewart, Denny Caverly, and Bruce Beck, are acting as resident counselors in the freshman dormitories. Tom Webster, Pete Schneck, and Hugh Dingle are serving on Interfraternity Council committees. Ty Frank sang with Cayuga's Waiters over the vacation when the group went to Nassau in the Bahamas.

Rushing begins at Cornell one week after the beginning of the second term in February. The rushing committee, headed by Keith Stewart and Denny Caverly, is now in process of drawing up final plans with high hopes for a successful formal rushing period.

Chapter President Wins Mat Title

The emphasis of this issue's Gamma Gamma report is on the athletic. The house made a rather poor showing in the interfraternity football and hockey contests, but came back strong in the golf and wrestling divisions. John Armstrong lost a very close match in the finals of the golf tournament, but won for the house a second place. "Gorgeous" Len Giuliani—our president—outwrestled all comers in his weight division. After a slow start the house basketball team picked up fast and is now slated for the second-place slot, but with some luck we might capture first.

For the individual athletic achievements we turn to hockey, swimming, basketball, and squash. As usual the squash team is largely a Delt outfit, Tony Jenks, and Pete Buswell playing behind Delt Captain John Parke. The swimming team looks to Dick Karslake for great things this year, while the hockey team depends on Delt Fred Bagnall for its goal defense. In basketball we are well represented by Randy Austin, who has been numbered among the high scorers this year.

Looking forward to non-athletic activities we see Winter Carnival not far away with its parties and snow sculpture contest, and not far behind it the interfraternity play contest which the Delts

New York Alumni Meeting Launches Plans for New Shelter

Plans for the building of a new Shelter are now well under way. Over the Christmas holidays a meeting of alumni to discuss these plans was held at the Cornell Club in New York. It was attended by Keith Rowan, chapter president, and Bill Anderson, the co-ordinator of the building committees.

Karl Buretz Elected to OΔK

During the week of classes prior to our Christmas vacation, 25 orphans from Siena Hall in Wilmington, Delaware, were treated to a party followed by a university basketball game. Each year we go to Siena Hall and bring the boys back to Newark for the game. The event is almost as much fun to the brothers as it is to the orphans.

Karl Buretz, vice-president of this chapter and president of Beta Beta Beta, honorary biology fraternity, has received campus recognition for his ability as a leader. Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity, has selected him to join its ranks.

John Long, former pledgemaster and sergeant at arms, attended the National Scabbard and Blade Convention held at the University of Wisconsin. Representatives from Army, Navy, and Air Force ROTC units in 131 colleges were present.

Two major intramural achievements occurred this fall. Rod Snowwhite was chosen defensive halfback on the All Intramural Football Team. Tom Moore captured first place in diving, which makes his second win in two years.

The initiation of Brothers Fred Harwood, Bob McAlpine, and George Webber makes a total of 134 initiates since the founding of this chapter in 1948. February marks the beginning of another rushing season and consequently finds us busy painting and remodeling portions of the first floor of the house. With persistent working, the improvements should be finished before rushing.

Six Deltas on Cinder Paths

Deltas on the DePauw campus have been active in all phases of college life this year. Beta Beta's Christmas party proved to be the main social function on campus. Faculty and administration guests again echoed the feeling that the Delt party was their favorite. To Dave Stone should go the main credit for the organization of this social event.

In intramural sports the Deltas are in the thick of the fight for the all-school championship cup. If the basketball team takes the title, then it will put us right up near the top. Volleyball and bowling are two more sports that should add to our over-all point total.

In varsity sports Beta Beta has again contributed greatly to the baseball and track teams. Walt Martens, Keith Schroeder, and Freshman Jim Beard all are expected to hold down starting positions. Martens gained all-conference honors last year.

Six Deltas will be representing DePauw this year on the cinder paths. They are: Gerry Harrmann and Ron Young, distance men; Ben Johnson, sprint man; Wayne Tencate, hurdles; Phil Trissel, high jump; and Vic Dix, broad jump.

Delta Kappa Publishes Tau Delt

For the purpose of better informing freshman rushees as to the dedication and representation of Delta Tau Delta at Duke University, Delta Kappa has published a rushing magazine. This magazine includes articles of information on the brothers, their social life, and their interests about campus. Since this is the first of its kind published by Delta Kappa, we hope that its success will warrant further issues.

Delta Kappa's football team once again delivered the league trophy to the halls of Delta Tau. Brothers Sims, Schroeder, and LePage were named to the all-intramural football team. At present our basketball team is one of the leading contenders for its league championship.

Chapter Gathers Three Trophies

Our rush program, motivated by Brother Jim Frisbie, progresses—Beta Epsilon pledged four new men at the beginning of the winter quarter. Five of our fall pledges, Tim Henniss, George Creighton, Manuel Nakis, Bob Seale, and Glenn Esslinger, were initiated at the beginning of the winter quarter. At a banquet held in their honor, Tim Henniss was named Outstanding Pledge.

Three new trophies now grace the mantel at the Shelter: the first is the trophy for the greatest improvement in scholarship for the academic year 1954-55, which was presented at the annual Greek Week Banquet; the second was won in the blood drive, in which we had the highest percentage of donations among all the groups participating; the third was won just before the Christmas holidays in the Empty Stocking Drive, a fund to provide Christmas presents for needy children. Not only did we collect more money than any other fraternity in our division, but also our per capita collections were higher than those of any other Emory group competing.

The chapter recently elected John Henniss president and Jim Frisbie vice-president. Beta Epsilon is unanimous in commending retiring President Ed Chance and retiring Vice-President Bill Earnshaw for the excellent job they have done during their term of office.

The social committee, headed by Brother Sid Kennedy, is busy planning the Formal, which is scheduled for February 24 at the Druid Hills Country Club.

Congratulations to Brother John Syribeys and Jim Robbins, who were accepted by the Emory Medical School.

Hobbs Paces Gator Cagers With 15 Points Per Game

At the University of Florida, the Deltas are well represented in basketball this year. Joe Hobbs, Charlie Pike, and Wayne Williams are on the varsity squad, which is enjoying a winning season. Forward Joe Hobbs is currently pacing the Gators with a 15-point-per-game average. Also in the line of sports, the Delta Zeta pledges had an unbeaten season and emerged as football champs of the Orange League.

The Gator Growl, held during homecoming, is the largest outdoor amateur show in the world. Delta Zeta made the finals for the second straight year, winning first prize last year and third this year with a humorous skit on outer space, the theme of the show.

The chapter's annual Christmas party, held on December 10, included presents, eggnog, and even a Santa Claus, Brother Charlie Joiner. Two weeks later, the annual Christmas formal was held in Tampa at the Palma Ceia Golf and Country Club.

On campus, Delta Zeta has several outstanding Deltas. Bob Hendry is business manager of the Florida yearbook, the Seminole, while Larry Carroll is the Chancellor of the Honor Court. Bob Davenport is vice-president of the student body, Charlie Pike is Sophomore Class president, and John Wyman is on the Board of Student Publications.

In the line of scholarship, Jack Minnick received an RCA radio scholarship and Ben Griffith received one from the Florida Bankers' Association.

Chapter Introduces New Housemother

The sparkling event of FSU's social season turned out to be the Formal Tea introducing Mrs. Dorothy C. Hildebrandt (Mother Dee), our new housemother. Several wives of the alumni, Mrs. W. W. Putnam, and Mrs. Frank Worth gave valuable assistance in directing the table and the floral arrangements. Guests were served tea or punch by Misses Jackie Charles and Anita Wall. Receiving the guests were President Bob Culliver, Mrs. Dorothy C. Hildebrandt, Nancy Vaughn (Delt Queen), Mr. and Mrs. George Kilner (chapter adviser), and Larry Merideth (social chairman).

Delta Phi's entry in the Homecoming Parade was a 15-foot Walt Disney skunk, lying among gaily colored flowers, which sprayed orange blossom perfume (in squirts) so as to add character to the float. The Kitty was runner-up for first place in originality. Its theme was "We've got it all over 'em."

The Deltas of Florida State were praised by many friends around campus for pre-Christmas caroling. We trooped to all the girls' dorms and sororities with flaming torches and our own jolly Santa to add his hearty chuckles to the carols. Everyone agreed that the caroling this year surpassed that of the last several years. Many, many thanks to Leader Vince Williams!

Boosting contributions to the Campus Chest was a "Parking for Campus Chest" project conducted by the pledges. It consisted of parking cars in the Delt lot at 50 cents per car at the last two home games. The project netted $21.

Two Deltas Named to Who's Who

Halfway through the year, Gamma Eta is fighting for the lead in intramural sports at the University. Paced by all-mural gridders Tom Smith, Sandy Schlemmer, and Fred Laso, the Deltas swept through six games, scoring 120 points and remaining unscored upon, only to lose in the championship game late in November. Gamma Eta finished third in swimming, led by Roger Hart and Mike Gall, and are currently undefeated in basketball. The Deltas' float for the West Virginia homecoming game in November copped second-place honors.

The social smash of the new semester was the "Turn-of-the-Century" costume party in the Shelter—a little Basin Street in D. C. Earlier in the fall Gamma Eta held a joint party with the Maryland chapter.

Tops in Empty Stocking Drive

Sunday morning, December 11, found the Shelter humming with activity. All the brothers and pledges had arisen at the early hour of 6:30 to participate in the annual Empty Stocking Drive for underprivileged children.

The different fraternities on the Tech campus compete on an amount per man basis, insuring an equal chance for small and large fraternities alike.

Brother Tom Perry, who was chairman of the drive, had carefully mapped out and assigned the different districts.

Atlantans cheerfully and generously responded to the knocks on their doors at such an early hour and within two hours all the districts had been completely canvassed. The returns were tabulated and Delta Tau Delta was found tops in the area.

Hats off to Brothers Bobby Ballard, Hal Reeves, and Martin Torrence. Bobby and Hal are on the varsity swimming team and have several first places to their credit in early meets. Martin returns to the varsity track team in the spring and is expected to better his last year's mark of 9.8 seconds for the 100-yard dash.

Hillsdale—Kappa

Intramural Champions in Both Football and Cross-Country

The Hillsdale Delt intramural football team fought to the College Championship with the first undefeated season since another Delt team turned the trick in 1952. Showing excellent strength at all positions, the gridders rolled up 215 points while allowing their goal line to be crossed in only one of their nine victories.

Outstanding on this well balanced team were defensive ends Ron Stedman and Bob Burgess, while Gerry Lorenz, Don Nicol, and Dave Carruthers shared honors in scoring.

The versatile offense was patterned on the multiple offense system of MSU, utilizing both the "T" and single wing formations. Coaching duties of this year's team were shared by Dick Triggs and Tom Rowe.

Kappa Chapter also took a first in the intramural cross-country run. The race was two and one-half miles long. Tom Rowe, a senior, finished first, setting the course record. Don Hite, George Grossfuss, Art Wilkins, and Dean Davis finished third, fourth, fifth, and sixth, respectively.

Last fall the social committee, with the complete co-operation of the house, was able to present the first Homecoming display winner for Kappa Chapter in ten years. Motivated by an urge to improve our social status and the zeal to create, the social committee set about to design and build a display that would give credit to our house.

We spent a great deal of time planning in advance. A time schedule was worked out over a month before the Homecoming day. Our display was completed a week before the scheduled day. This time was used to complete and perfect our display.

As you can see by the photograph, our display was built around Paul Bunyan and Babe the Blue Ox. These figures of papier mache were made earlier in the summer by one of our brothers. Around the figures were several other pieces which gave depth and fulness to the display. Completely covering one side of the house was a backdrop featuring a woodland scene. Upon this scene appeared a sign made out of twigs stating "Babe and Paul say Scots will Fall." The term Scots referred to the Alma Scots who were our Homecoming opponents.

Thanks to the many helpful hands around the house and the complete co-operation of the social committee, we have initiated this year what we hope will become a yearly occurrence—a suc-

*Dick Weeks Is Class President
Second Consecutive Year*

Delta Mu is proud of Brother Dick Weeks for being elected president of his class for the second successive year. Last year Dick was Sophomore Class president, and this year the Idaho juniors chose him for the head job again. Dick was also tapped for Blue Key, along with Bill Bauscher, outgoing chapter president.

Jerry Zimmerman was elected president of Idaho's social co-ordination committee, consisting of all the living groups' social chairmen. Sophomore Jack Cole was elected treasurer of the Interfraternity Council recently.

Two pledges have stepped out in campus life early this year. Don Nevile Smith is the sports editor of the Idaho Argonaut, the campus paper. Recently Bob Mecham was chosen cheerleader for the Idaho freshmen.

The big after-Christmas social function was the Odd Ball Dance held on Friday, the 13th of January. As usual this dance, which is held off campus, was enjoyed not only by Deltas, but also by several guests.

Intramurals this year are the best they've been in years. Thus far, Delta Mu ranks third in total intramural points with a third place in football, third in cross country, fourth in swimming, and fifth in volleyball. If spring sports are as successful, the big intramural trophy just might end up on the mantel above the "Delta Tau Fireplace."

Two Deltas are members of this year's Vandal basketball team. They are Co-captain Bill Bauscher and Gary Simmons, one of the sophomores on the young Idaho team.

Rangy Delt Cage Team Captures University Crown

Beta Upsilon's eighty-first annual winter formal was held on January 7 in the chapter house. The theme was "The Delta Tomb" and the Shelter was cleverly disguised as an Egyptian tomb. The bids were delivered to the brothers' dates the day preceding the dance by an entombed mummy (still in the coffin) carried by four slaves. Due to the hard work of Chairmen Bill Sillick and Marty Maguet and the co-operation of the chapter, another successful dance became history.

The new guiding hands of the chapter were elected for the new year on January 9. Those who will take office at the beginning of the second semester are Wayne Marthaler, president; Bill Sillick, vice-president; Verle Besant, treasurer; Jim Whitelaw, recording secretary; Dewey Kessler, corresponding secretary; Bob Eggers, assistant treasurer; Bob Rankine, guide; and Dick Renfro, sergeant at arms. The outgoing administration has set an enviable example for the newcomers to follow.

Jon "Buns" Culbertson is now beginning his third year of varsity competition on the University of Illinois gymnastics team. Jon, having won two letters already, is the seasoned veteran needed to lead the young team to another national championship and its eighth straight Big Ten title.

Sophomore Ed DeLong is slowly

rounding himself into shape for the coming indoor track season. State high school 880 champion for two consecutive years, the fleet-footed DeLong is rated as Illinois' top middle-distance man.

The house basketball team can be very proud of itself after winning the all-University basketball championship. The undefeated Delt five slammed Theta Xi in the championship 50-34. The well-balanced squad was paced by Rubin McWhirter, who consistently hit long jump shots the whole season. The boards were controlled by our two 6' 5" men, Russ Blake and Fred Most. Al Zengel and Don Harvey, the magician with the ball, rounded out the first team. Also seeing plenty of action during the season was Ed DeLong and Dick Renfro.

The Delt volleyball squad came close to matching the undefeated record of the hoopsters before being beaten in the semi-final round of the I-M championships. The team was led by the deadly spiking of Fred Most and the able coaching and playing of Ron Dempsey.

Continuing the success of the Deltas in I-M, Bob "Viva" Salata captured the heavyweight wrestling crown. He is also a top prospect on the freshman wrestling team and won his numeral in freshman football.

In its choice of officers for 1956, this chapter is fortunate indeed. To the presidency, we elected Dale Gruninger, a Delt of outstanding personality and industry. Active in numerous extracurricular activities, he has also always been a leader in house activities. Bob Mock, former house manager, now serves as vice-president; Ken Kutil is treasurer with Gene Hodge his assistant. Craig Stubblebine and Dick Horvath are corresponding and recording secretaries, respectively. Ken Folgers is the IFC representative; Frank Ravetto, the sergeant at arms; Tom Baumgardner, guide; and Harold Hayer, the house manager. This cabinet promises to be a most efficient and outstanding one in keeping the Delts top on campus.

One of the most influential and important organizations on campus is the student newspaper. Frank Ravetto, a seventh semester food engineer, has been selected the editor in chief of Technology News. Accompanying him are Ron Schaffner as associate editor and Dave Heise as news editor. Three of the nine available editorships are now held by Delts.

Beyond 1956, the future of the chapter lies in the present pledges. One of the finest pledge classes in several semesters has us feeling confident of the house's standing in 1958.

After several years, a house mascot is again an attraction of Gamma Beta. The animal, named Tux, is a Great Dane and stands three feet high.

Chapter President Heads Freshman Orientation Program

Brother Robert R. Bateson has been elected president of Omicron Chapter. Other officers named in the recent election are: Allen Chapman, vice-president; Richard Berry, recording secretary; William Ide, corresponding secretary; William Zunkel, treasurer; Marshall Young, sergeant at arms; and Robert Heldridge, guide.

The annual Hell's Holiday party held in the Shelter in November was considered a huge success. The guests entered the "Gates of Hell" complete with steam. Shortly before Christmas, the Omicron Delts went caroling at the Veterans Memorial Hospital in Iowa City with Pi Beta Phi Sorority. After the caroling, the Pi Phis returned to the Shelter for refreshments. The most recent of our social activities was our winter formal. Following the dinner, the brothers serenaded the pinmates of Brothers John Dockendorf and Jim McKnight.

Omicron Delts are very active in campus activities this year. Brother Bateson was recently elected president of the freshman orientation program. Brothers Mark Joy, Jim Cutright, and Don Sherk are all serving on Union Board subcommittees.

In intramural sports, the lightweight basketball team appears well on its way to the championship in that division. Undeclared to date, the team has only one scheduled game remaining.

Kansas Plans Mortgage Burning

The BIG news from Gamma Tau Chapter this spring concerns plans for the biggest week end in the history of K.U. Delts—if not the biggest ever undertaken by a fraternity on this campus. The occasion is to celebrate the mortgage burning of the Shelter, and the date is March 17 and 18.

A jam-packed 24-hour schedule of activities and reunions awaits any members of Delta Tau Delta who attend the big event. Things will start rolling Saturday morning the 17th with registration and a buffet luncheon at the Shelter. The afternoon's agenda includes watching the I.F.C.-sponsored Greek Chariot Race (a part of K.U.'s big Greek Week celebration), followed by a smoker to renew old acquaintances and make new ones. Incidentally, Gamma Tau is the defending Greek Chariot Race champion.

One of the big high lights of the reunion is watching the finals of the N.C.A.A. Western Regional play-offs Saturday night. A large block of tickets in K.U.'s new, beautiful 17,000-seat Allen Field House is reserved for the brothers present. Following the two basketball games, some interesting entertainment by several of Gamma Tau's talented members will be presented.

The windup of the week end comes Sunday with spring initiation for Gamma Tau's 1955 pledge class, followed by a special interdenominational religious service in the Shelter. Then comes the big ΔΤΔ banquet to be held at K.U.'s spacious new Memorial Student Union, after which is the special mortgage burning ceremony.

Under the planning of Brother Monte Allen and retiring President Jerry Nelson, Gamma Tau Chapter is going all out to make this the most memorable week end in the chapter's history. Personal invitations have been sent to alumni of Gamma Tau, but a cordial invitation is extended to any Delt from anywhere to come to Lawrence for this really great week end. Accommodations in Lawrence motels have been reserved—just write Monte Allen in care of the chapter for reservations. Hope to see you here!

Keith Erickson was recently appointed as Iowa-Nebraska regional chairman of the United States National Student Association. In this capacity, Keith travels to many schools in Iowa and Nebraska in addition to his many activities on campus.

Gamma Pi Deltas are again taking the lead on the liberal arts side of the campus. Bob Campbell is now managing editor and Steve Funk is business manager of the Iowa State Daily. Joe DeBoer has a lead role in the current production of Iowa State Players, his second this year. Don Williams has a lead role in a Lab Theater production.

Five Deltas Boost Jayhawks' Track and Field Hopes

As spring semester gets well under way, the Kansas Deltas as always are busy doing many things all over the campus. Pepsters wearing the square badge—Jim Bickley, Irby Hughes, and Jim Miller—represent three-fifths of K.U.'s male cheerleading section. Gene Coombs and Jim Miller hold important positions in the All-Student Council. President-elect of Gamma Tau Chapter, Tom McCall serves as commander of Arnold Air ROTC Society, and Bob Strannathan is a key member of the AFROTC wing staff. Bill Jackson, one of the campus' outstanding photographers, is assistant editor of the Jayhawker yearbook.

In typical Delt tradition, Gamma Tau Pledges Kenny Richardson (secretary of the Freshman Class), Dick Jones (treasurer of freshman pep organization Froshawks), and Allen Hickey (one of the brightest frosh debate prospects on a strong yearling squad) added to the chapter's campus activity list.

Sportswise, Brothers Al Frame, Jerry McNeal, Larry and Louis Stroup, and Al Oerter are five big reasons why K.U. is again favored to dominate Midwest track circles. Last fall Frame and McNeal ran one-two on the Jayhawks' cross-country team which won the Big Seven championship and then placed second in the N.C.A.A. meet. Teaming with Frame, defending Big Seven mile and two-mile champ and a track All-American, and McNeal, the conference's most promising sophomore distance runner, are the Stroups, both top quarter milers, and Oerter, one of the nation's most promising discus-shot men.

Delt Shelter activities included a very successful winter formal, the high light of which was the orchid tree blossoming forth with more than a hundred beautiful orchids that became the property of Delt dates after intermission. The chapter is also the proud possessor of the three-foot-high trophy given annually to the K.U. fraternity making the greatest scholastic improvement during the previous year.

Close Contention for I-M Crown

The Gamma Chi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta has done quite well in intramurals thus far in the 1955-56 year. The Deltas have captured the swimming crown and placed second in football and basketball. We rank a close second with 226 points, 30 points out of first place in over-all standings in the 22-member fraternity division. Next on the list of events is volleyball, in which the Deltas placed second last year.

The annual Paddle Party put on by the pledge class was a tremendous success. The pledge class went all out in decorations and amusements to give the party a real Daisy Mae and Lil Abner setting. An amusing skit was presented by the graduating seniors who in return received paddles bearing the name and years of graduation. For one night the Delta Shelter resembled a hayloft with straw completely covering the floor and ceiling; large pictures were painted on the large living room windows of Dogpatch characters. Congratulations for a fine job to the pledge class from the active members on one of the great events of the fall semester.

The Delts held their annual Christmas gift exchange and Christmas dinner December 14. Each member drew a name of another and gave him a small gift along with a suitable poem. Several new poets are discovered each year at this event. The following Sunday the Delts made the rounds to all sororities and girls' dorms and sang Christmas carols.

Bill Brethour received recognition as he competed in the Chicago International Livestock Show as a member of the Kansas State College Poultry Judging Team. The team placed fourth in the contest. Several Delts have obtained positions on the new Student Union Programs committees, including Dave Larson, promotion; Stanley Hanson, movies; Norman Keyse, movies; Gary Rumsey, movies; and Lowell Novy, dance.

The newly elected Gamma Chi officers are as follows: president, Wilbur Schleifer; vice-president, Lawrence Schaper; treasurer, Bob Quanz; assistant treasurer, Merle Starr; corresponding secretary, Dave Neal; recording secretary, Danny Hutchins; sergeant at arms, Eldon Johnson; guide, Dick Haines.

House Decorations Win Prize

Kent State Delts have completed a successful fall quarter. The brothers won second place in the Homecoming house decorations competition under the co-chairmanship of Jerry Whitmer and Lee Smulker. The display, three stories tall, depicted a KSU football player with a flute, "charming" a snake, which another player, upon coming out of his castle, hit over the head with a giant mallet.

On the sports scene, Dave Twaddle's teams have earned us a tie for first place in the race for the interfraternity sports trophy. Dave is confident that our spring teams will bring home the trophy.

The president of Delta Omega, Perk Jenkins, edited the interfraternity rushing booklet. Jim Dougher took over the business manager position of the daily school paper as Bob Drath finished his fall term of office.

Dave Kennard has finished a color slide program entitled "A Day in the Life of a Delt." The slides, along with the president's narration, will be used at our smokers.

Founders Day, February 25, will mark six years on the Kent State campus for Delta Tau Delta. Jack Gimbel, chairman, has planned a banquet and speakers to celebrate the occasion.

Brothers Tom Anderson and Bob Stopher finished the fall quarter with straight "A" averages.

The Delta Shelter at 223 East Main is all redecorated for the new year. New paint, furniture, and curtains make the living room a comfortable and pleasant room. The television room has new "warmth" as the tan walls complement the re-upholstered furniture. Want to study? The Shelter has added another study room. The room, the third, is done with white walls and murals from the brush of Brother Bob Williams.

Chapter Prepares to Observe Fiftieth Anniversary

On April 7, Nu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta will be celebrating its 50th year of continuous service to Lafayette, with a week end of gala festivities for the alumni and actives alike. The week end includes class reunions and a banquet for the alumni featuring as the special guest . . . "Bloody" Jim Nolan. Brothers Ray Carey and Glenn Grube are heading the committee working on the project. Thus far, the chapter has received excellent response from the alumni concerning the affair.

The brothers of Nu got off to a good social season by copping first place in the interfraternity outdoor display contest. After many months of hard work, the brothers' efforts were rewarded. This semester the Shelter again is excelling in scholarship, even hoping to better our record of last year as fourth scholastically on campus.

The Delt basketball team got off to a good start. The house wrestlers have already started workouts in an all-out effort to better last year's award of third place. This spring, the Delts will be filling the ranks of the varsity, with Brothers Bill Rude and John Baggar and Lawrence's TOM PLAETHN, who succeeded in fooling a good many Appleton youngsters.

Pledge Frank Fletcher on the track team. Spring football workouts will see Brothers Tom Good, Ed Reece, and Chuck Thorpe filling the backfield positions. In baseball, Brother Good will still hold down his position on third base, while Brother Lee Sturn returns to the lacrosse team.

Last year was the first in the new series of Nu's News, of which the first issue won honorable mention in competition with the other chapter newspapers for the 1954-55 scholastic year.

Swimming and Football Co-captains

Our main interest, and pride, in the Delt Shelter this year is our pledge class. It is considered the best pledge class on the campus not only by us, but also by the other fraternities. We filled our quota (26) with boys that were sought by the other fraternities and we feel that we have the cream of the crop. We hope that we may do as well in the years to come.

So far this year, there have been only two interfraternity sports contests. In football we took second place. The pledges and actives presented quite a formidable team on the gridiron. The second sport was swimming and in this, too, we came in second.

Rolf Dehmel, the Viking swimming team backstroke star, has been elected the co-captain of the team and Max Galler was elected the co-captain of the Viking football squad.

The photograph of Santa Claus may look like any other Santa, but in reality it is our own Tom Plaehn. Tom had a job playing Santa Claus in a local shopping center for the two weeks prior to Christmas. The children seemed to get a big kick out of Tom and according to him, the feeling was mutual.

At the last chapter meeting we held an election of officers for the coming year. The results were as follows: president, Charles Montag; vice-president, Tom Diener; treasurer, Walt Bredeson; corresponding secretaries, Bill Bast and Arno Haering; sergeant at arms, Jack Tichenor. All of the officers are juniors this year with the exceptions of Bill Bast and Arno Haering, who are sophomores.

Orphans Party Made Annual Event

This fall the Lehigh Delt House Party was rivalled by two equally successful social events at the Shelter, the Lehigh-Lafayette week end and our annual Christmas Party.

On Lehigh-Lafayette week end the outstanding event for the Lehigh Delts was the display contest which we won. A committee headed by Richard Thompson chose the type of display, a Cyclops stewing the Lafayette Leopard, and worked out the details, but the success of the display can be attributed mainly to the wonderful way in which all members combined efforts in their spare time and late into the night to build the Cyclops. Although the Lehigh football team lost the afternoon game, it didn't dampen our spirits as evidenced by the spirited party held that evening at the Beta Lambda Shelter and attended by Lehigh and Lafayette Delts and numerous alumni.

This year's Christmas Party was undoubtedly one of the finest ever held. Warren Benzinger and Richard Ament, aided by the members of the house, did a wonderful job in developing a Christmas atmosphere with the decorations. After a formal dinner all attended the Lehigh-Pennsylvania wrestling match, and then returned to the Shelter for the remainder of the evening to sing carols around the piano and cheerfully pass the time with conversation and games in front of a roaring fireplace.

On the Sunday following our Christmas Party, we held an affair which all agreed should become a tradition for Beta Lambda Chapter. A Christmas party was held for the children from the Wiley Orphans' Home. They were brought to the Shelter in time for Sunday dinner, and afterwards they were entertained by a magician, movies, and children's games. To top the afternoon off for them, Santa Claus, portrayed by Howard Keim (who organized the party), distributed presents to the children. Many of the children became attached to the brothers and their dates, and we hope to be able to visit them throughout the year.

Chapter Sponsors Hallowe'en Party For Third Grade Children

The Shelter gave a bang-up Hallowe'en party for 29 third grade children in a drive to keep down Hallowe'en vandalism. With the help of several women's organizations on campus, the kids participated in games, told stories, bobbed for apples, and generally had a good time. During the evening the Dean of Men and his wife stopped by to see how we were getting along. We also gave prizes for the funniest, the prettiest, the most scaring, and the most appropriate costumes. Many grateful parents sent notes of thanks to the chapter and expressed hope for a similar party next year.

All fraternities viewed a letter of congratulations from the faculty council through the IFC, sponsor of the campus-wide affair.

December 9 was a busy evening at the Delt House. The occasion was our fall House Party with music by Sammy Saliba's orchestra. Approximately sixty couples attended and had a party with singing during intermission. About midnight the Shelter became unexpected host to about fifty braves and maids from another fraternity Indian party. The Shelter's walls reverberated with "injun" hoots, hollers, and dancing. The theme of our party was Winter Wonderland, and Bob Leach gave his artistic touch to the decorations.

Annual Orphans Party Sponsored by Fraternity Row

Delta Sigma started off its winter social season by sponsoring the annual Christmas Orphans' Party given by the ten fraternities and sororities on the Fraternity Row at College Park. Brother Tom Clark of the Supreme Court lighted a fifty-foot Christmas tree, and Santa Claus distributed over 500 gifts to 200 orphans from nearby orphanages. After the tree-lighting ceremonies and gift giving, the children adjourned to the five fraternity houses for cocoa and cookies. Brother Joseph Meadow, social chairman, was chairman of the party.

Results of the fraternity elections were as follows: president, Gerald E. Hartdagen; vice-president, Joseph F. Meadow; corresponding secretary, John J. O'Neil; recording secretary, David S. Kappe; sergeant at arms, Ralph A. Shinn; and guide, Carl A. Winfield. Our congratulations go to former President Oscar

W. Mueller for a successful term in office. Athletically, the Maryland Delts are looking forward to a fine season in basketball and bowling. In the basketball league at this writing, we have a .500 record, having won one and lost one. In bowling, we should take the championship, as there are five brothers who carry high averages in their respective downtown leagues.

Maine Delts Build Own Ice Rink

This fall Buz Warren toyed with the idea of converting a vacant lot next to the house into an ice skating rink. The next day Buz and our house manager, Fred Bastow, started clearing the lot of debris and rubbish, which had accumulated during the years. Enthusiasm for this project mounted, and over the following week end everyone turned out to help build the rink. Boards and lumber which had been part of our 25-foot homecoming display were used to build up the sides. Rod McKenny borrowed a transit and rod from the Civil Engineering department and all the C.E.'s got some practical experience in grading land. With the grading finished and the sides built, the rink measured 36' x 76'.

While waiting for cold weather, we built hockey goals and installed flood lights for night skating. When the time came to flood the rank, there were some problems. The frost hadn't penetrated the ground sufficiently to hold the water long enough for it to freeze. Finally, with the use of two garden hoses, we managed to get a thin sheet of ice which we built up by nightly sprayings.

The first of December marked the opening of the rink. There were hockey games, races between members, and skating time set aside for couples only. Bill Taylor, one of the field secretaries, didn't seem to mind our cold climate too much after he had a chance to brush up on his skating. Almost every night a group will take a break from their studies and go skating. On week ends, parties usually end up outside by the rink.

What once was a vacant lot now serves as a source of pleasure and pride to the members of Gamma Nu.

dren receive presents from the brothers and everyone has a great time. This year Santa Claus was played by Walt Wolfinger, who did a good job of it by interposing a few hilarious comments now and then.

The chapter can claim the honor of two of its brothers being voted the "Athlete of the Week" award. "Leaky" Dyke and "Red" Miller were the honored ones and both are co-captains of the soccer team. "Leaky" is also co-captain of the lacrosse team, which explains why he was the first winner of the award in school. M.I.T.'s two best divers are Dave Bryson and Dan Holland. They are in their junior and sophomore years respectively and both of these brothers will be around for some time to show us more of their skill.

The chapter as a group did well this year so far by placing first in league bowling. We went into play-offs in both basketball and football but had to settle for seconds in both.

Our pledges are all turning out for activities and sports which we are all glad to see. Four of them are on the Frosh Council and one is the representative to the Institute Committee. They have turned out for many of the freshman sports, especially wrestling and crew (last fall).

Seek Second All-Sports Trophy

During the first semester the Delts improved their position as the top fraternity on campus. In intramural football, we won our division, only to lose 7-6 in an all-fraternity play-off game. With intramural basketball having started, however, prospects look even better. Our goal is winning the all-sports trophy again this year, to give us two consecutive years as the intramural leader among the fraternities.

Freshman rushing has started in earnest, and Gamma Upsilon has prospects of one of the largest and finest pledge classes in many years.

On Monday, January 16, the following new officers were elected: Bill Swanson, president; Dave Burr, vice-president; Robert Rand, recording secretary; Edward Grabill, treasurer; and Gerry Kincaide, corresponding secretary.

One of our outstanding parties of the fall semester had as its theme "Black Denim Trousers and Motorcycle Boots." The dress is self-explanatory and bicycles took the place of motorcycles. Plans for a big spring social calendar are in the making.

We're looking forward to seeing many of the alumni back here at the Shelter this spring.

Duff Elected Chapter President

Delta Chapter announces the election of new officers: Donald Henry Duff as president, Victor Carter Krause as vice-president, and Robert Geddes Willoughby as treasurer.

Don Duff is from Blue Island, Illinois. He is in the second semester of his fourth year in the school of architecture and design. Don was previously vice-president of Delta Chapter. Vic Krause is from Rockford, Michigan, and is in the business administration school. Bob Willoughby is from Plymouth, Michigan. He was initiated at Gamma Eta Chapter (George Washington). He is now a sophomore.

On campus we find other elections holding Delt attention as both Nort Stuart (former chapter president) and Mike Barber (ex-Fraternity Buying Association purchasing agent and chapter editor) are petitioning for nomination for IFC presidency.

In other interfraternity and campus affairs, Delta Chapter is continuing its attention. In I-M football we reached the play-offs, in cross-country we came in seventh, and in basketball both the A and B teams have swept all of their contests thus far. On the Michigan varsity teams, Delta Chapter is represented by Brothers John Heald in wrestling, Budge Sherwood in tennis, and Jerry Harwood in track. On the freshman team, we have Pledge Karl Lutomski in wrestling and Jim O'Dea in basketball.

In singing, Delta Chapter continues to set the campus pace with several pin serenades, a Christmas caroling party with the Tri-Delts, and a Hallowe'en serenade which saw the brothers dressed appropriately as ghosts and goblins and singing autumn songs. Father's week end was also highlighted by serenades given by fathers and sons to the D.G.'s, Kappas, and the AΔΠ's.

Nearly all of the men of Iota Chapter capped off the start of another great year with a victorious ten-day trip to the Rose Bowl.

Individual accomplishments highlighted fall term as Rog Bennett, Bob Marsh, and the bowling team won student honors.

Brother Bennett, present promotion manager of the Wolverine yearbook, was appointed public relations director for the Spartan Special train trip to the West Coast.

Rog also designed and drew the cartoons for the Rose Bowl badge, the MSU pennant, and the luggage sticker.

Now a junior, Rog is in line for a probable job as editor of next year's Wolverine.

Bob Marsh, Chicago sophomore, staged a first-class one-night sales job in winning the annual Wolverine individual sales contest.

Brother Marsh received a $25 gift certificate from a clothing store for his winning effort.

A total team effort enabled the Iota bowling team to take first place in our block. The Delts staged a spectacular march to the block championship by winning every point of every match.

Manager Jim Moreau guided Bob McDonald, Norm Duvall, Dean Barndt, Bob Urban, and Ev Bennett to the first-place honors.

The Iota Delt football team lost only one game and finished second in the block.

A large turn-out of Delt long-distance runners resulted in a second-place finish among fraternities in the annual Turkey Trot. Lynn Mallory, Carter Gudal, Bill Young, Gary Dietrich, Ron Smith, and Ron Hitter braved the bitter cold to garner points for the Iota Delts in the mile-and-a-quarter run. Brother Mallory finished sixth and Gudal eighth out of a field of 400 runners.

Jewett, playing mostly offense during the season, caught nine passes, good for 170 yards and three touchdowns. However, Bob was hurt in the first practice on the West Coast and saw only limited action in the Rose Bowl.

MSU's powerful swimming squad owes part of its present success to Brothers Frank Parrish, Jim Clemens, and Larry Walker.

Brother Parrish set a new MSU pool record of 52.8, in winning the 100-yard freestyle January 14 against Wisconsin.

Brothers Gordon Sinclair and Jim Merchant are both active in MSU's Union Board. Sinclair is presently in charge of Union Board Week, and is also the chairman of Special Events for IFC. Merchant was named director of the Union Board Week Variety Show.

Eight new brothers were initiated into Iota Chapter, Sunday, January 15. Brother Dave Scott was voted the outstanding pledge of fall term by his pledge brothers.

Gamma Kappa's biggest social event of the season, the Orchid Ball, was held December 10 at the Shelter, with decorations featuring thousands of baby orchids flown in from Hawaii and a genuine waterfall flowing down the front steps.

Also on the social scene, many Delt serenades have resounded through Greek Town since October. Song Leader Bob Falkenhainer worked long and hard and managed to keep pace with Gamma Kappa pinnings.

As for athletics, our volleyball squad reached the final play-offs and landed in second place. Currently, the bowling squad is rolling along in second place near the top spot. We must also mention here the results of the annual pledge-active football game, which is held the day of the first respectable snowfall in Columbia. Gamma Kappa pledges, sparked by several of their ranks who are holding top-string positions on the freshman football team, trounced the actives, 8-0.

Buck Weaver Chairmans May Week

The winter quarter opened with snow and ice here at Northwestern, but it will take more than the weather to stop the Deltas, who figure in almost every sort of campus activity from politics to I-M sports.

President Buck Weaver was recently appointed chairman of May Week, the high water mark of spring quarter campus activities. Weaver, who has been active in myriad campus organizations, is also a member of DERU, senior men's honorary society. As chairman he will have the delicate task of supervising and co-ordinating the 19 different committees which promote the various phases of the week-long festivity. We know that Buck will do the best job possible, and the office is indeed a fitting climax to his fruitful sojourn at Northwestern.

Pledge Dave Tompkins rose to a position of considerable eminence last November when he secured the presidency of Bobb Hall, the new freshman dormitory. In January he talked himself into the presidency of the Freshman Class.

Ted Rodgers has been initiated into Tau Beta Pi, the national honorary fraternity for engineers. He was selected on the basis of his 3.5 scholastic average and his unusual range of participation in campus activities.

Fred Malloy Is Elected Junior Class President

For the first time this year Beta Chapter sponsored an award to the man named "Senior Athlete of the Year" here at Ohio University. Presented the 32-inch trophy was John Schwab, captain of the 1954 football team.

To be awarded the trophy, a man must have three letters and be eligible for a blanket his senior year, must have at least a 2.5 accumulative average, and must have demonstrated leadership qualities both in campus activities and in athletics.

Beta Chapter continued its control over the OU campus by adding more men to its growing list of BMOC. Elected president of his class was Junior Fred Malloy, of Cleveland.

Representing Beta Chapter on Student Council are Malloy and Gordie Keller, vice-president of Campus Religious Council. Fred Butcher is on the Men's Union Governing Board.

J Club, which honors the 11 top men in the Junior Class each year, tapped four Beta Deltas into its ranks. They are Dud Kircher, Dave Mocklar, Fred Butcher, and Gordie Keller, all leaders in campus affairs.

President of IFPC is Bob Bannon. Tom Lyons, also a pledge in the fall semester, is publicity director for the 1956 Athena year book and Sophomore Class publicity chairman. Pledge Ron Johnson is secretary of the Veterans Club at OU.

Captain of OU's swimming team is All-American Tad Potter. Tad, a senior, swims in the 50-yard freestyle, 100-yard freestyle, 200-yard freestyle relay, and the 400-yard freestyle relay events. With Potter are three other Delt tankers—Walt Manske and Pledges Gary Thatcher and Al Lephart.

Denny Grady, Al Ludlum, Jim Keinath, and Nate Reynard composed the chapter's trophy-winning badminton team.

Wray Heads New Administration

Beta Phi Chapter at Ohio State University held elections for president of the chapter and his cabinet on January 9. The new president is Richard S. Wray, a senior in Arts College; vice-president is James W. Rosenthal, a junior in Arts College; John S. Gidcombe, a sophomore in commerce, is the treasurer; Tom C. Schnell, a sophomore in engineering, is the recording secretary; Joseph C. Topping, a sophomore in engineering, is the corresponding secretary; Robert L. Winters, a sophomore in Arts College, is the guide; James R. Slater, a junior in engineering, is the sergeant at arms; and Richard D. Ross, a sophomore in education, is the newly-elected social chairman.

The new officers take office with the chapter in good shape, because of the excellent quality of the previous administration. We are looking forward to an especially fine social calendar. The Winter Formal is to be held February 18, at the Hotel Chittenden in downtown Columbus.

Prepare for 90th Anniversary

On Sunday, December 4, Mu Chapter increased by two as Robert L. Sommers and Frank A. Hughes were initiated into the brotherhood of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

Recently (Friday, January 13), national Executive Vice-President Hugh Shields and a number of alumni visited the Shelter to aid in formulating plans for the observance of Mu Chapter's 90th anniversary. This celebration will be held on Sunday, June 10, and will include a banquet at the Ohio Wesleyan Memorial Union Building. Prizes will be awarded to the oldest Mu Delt returning and also to the one who travels the greatest distance in order to attend. Various forms of entertainment are planned in anticipation of some 200 Mu alumni returning. The whole chapter is looking forward to the occasion and extends its invitation to all Mu alumni.

In athletics, Freshman Gerry Fross has been representing the chapter in basketball. Gerry rated a first-string slot on the JV team until side-lined by an ankle injury, but should be back in action soon.

At present the chapter is buckling down for final exams at the end of January but will take time out for a gangster party in the near future. The freshman class has been socially active with Sunday afternoon open houses for the various sorority pledge classes.

Ugliest Guy on Campus Aids Campus Chest Drive

One of our brothers, E. Lee Kennedy, alias "Ugly Elk," had the privilege of being voted "Ugliest Guy on Campus." Don't get any wrong ideas—it came as part of the Campus Chest drive to raise money for things like polio and cancer.

We consider our pledge class one of the best if not the best in the United States, because instead of going on their walkout, as is customary, they set aside a fund of three $100 scholarships: one to the outstanding fraternity pledge, one to the outstanding sorority pledge, and one to the outstanding freshman independent student with need as the main factor. This is the first time any thing like this has been done on the O.U. campus.

On December 17 we held our annual Christmas Party and on the following day we held our first "Little Guys" Party. This party is for underprivileged children in and around Norman. We played games, had ice cream and cake, saw movies, and then Santa, played by Tom Denner, came out of the fireplace to distribute the presents. Maurice Ferris was in charge and really did a wonderful job and the chapter decided to make it an annual affair.

Everyone knows that OU beat Maryland in the Orange Bowl. We had a good representation at the game, a few being Cheerleader Jim Michaud and Band Members Charles Ellet and Richard Ryer-son.

The elected officers for the next year are: Jerry Marshall, president; Dan McNatt, vice-president; Richard Dixon, recording secretary; Fred Fajen, corresponding secretary; Jim Jackson, treasurer; J. D. Wolfenberger, assistant treasurer; Jack Holmes, sergeant at arms; Paul McDaniel, guide; and Jim Hall, IFC representative.

Three Deltas Win Varsity O

Brothers Chuck Osborne, Jim Potter, and Jack Hilfiker were awarded varsity letters for their efforts on the Oregon football team. First-year letter winners, Osborne and Hilfiker were initiated into Varsity O.

Winter term saw the men of Gamma Rho active in many campus affairs. Monk Booth and Tom Waldrop were busy with Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's honorary. Waldrop was also seen in the production of the University theater and in campus entertainment.

Bob Frank was a recent initiate of Alpha Delta Sigma, the national advertising honorary. Lon Bryant figured prominently in the re-organization of an international relations league. Dan Frank, George Guldager, and Waldrop are heard throughout the week on the campus radio station, KWAX.

Phil Bell is out for varsity baseball and should see plenty of action as a pitcher. He is a recent transfer from Pasadena City College.

In intramurals the Deltas are defending bowling champions for the third straight year and seem to be continuing their winning ways as they won their first contest.

Delt Actor Takes Leading Roles

For the past four years Bill Strader, '56, has been entertaining OSC audiences with leading roles in such plays as "Country Girl," "Ten Little Indians," and several others. This term Bill will play one of his final roles in "The Glass Menagerie." Bill has had parts in seven plays. This year he is repeating his second year on the school senate as well as serving his third year as feature writer for the school paper, The Barometer.

Another promising Delt actor is Pete Yassolino, '58, who in five terms of college has had top roles in "Sabrina Fair," "Affairs of State," "Bell Book and Candle," and his present lead in "The Late George Apley."

This term Delta Lambda held its annual French Apache costume dance with the usual amount of splendor, color, and "unusual" costumes. Following shortly came the housemother's tea in honor of our hostess, Mrs. Anderson.

The intramural free throw trophy took its place on the Delt mantle as the free throw team topped all competition by an amazing margin.

Scholastically Delta Lambda ranked third on campus for fall term.

Tau Wins Bowling Championship

The beginning of the spring semester found Tau Chapter holding the top berth in the IFC league bowling championship. Our fine bowling team captured first place by a smashing win over the closest competition. Not to be slighted, the basketball team is also forging ahead, and with a bit of luck, we may also capture the basketball crown. Harry Fuehrer and Herb Hollowell are again starting on the varsity track roster and the boys expect a fine season.

Sports are not the only activities in the limelight, however. A few days before Christmas vacation, our former housemother, Mrs. Alice Confer, announced her engagement and her intent to be married in the spring. In accordance with traditional custom, the chapter all turned out to serenade her in the Shelter. We wish her continued happiness.

Our social calendar saw a few high spots when the chapter was host to the faculty members of the University during our annual faculty dance which we sponsored with Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. In co-operation with a movement by the University to fete the underprivileged children in the area, the Deltas and the Tri Delt Sorority sponsored a Christmas party for a group of underprivileged children—complete with a jolly old St. Nick.

With the coming of the spring semester, Tau looks forward to a bigger and better chapter, in keeping with the traditional rating here at State.

Pledges Rack Up Honors In Many Fields

Gamma Sigma began the school year in the usual spectacular Delt fashion by pledging 37 high-calibre men, topping all other fraternities at Pitt both in number and quality. Quite a few of the pledges have already secured a foothold in activities and sports at the University. Among them are Herman Joy, president of the pledge class, who is on a football and baseball scholarship; soccer players Bill Eisinger and Al Solomon; and Neal Connelly, freshman swimmer.

Pledge Bill Monahan is running the hurdles on the Pitt track team and two other wearers of the square pledge pin bright, Roger Anderson and Jan Swensen, have been elected secretaries of their respective freshman classes.

Aside from the outstanding individuals in the pledge class, the group has shown its worth as a whole by winning second place in Interfraternity Council's Community Help Drive. The pledges were also a tremendous help in obtaining trophies for our unique house decoration and float at Homecoming.

Ellie Leslie, our Delta Queen, provided a fitting climax to the Homecoming Week by being crowned Pitt's Homecoming Queen at the Miami game. Ellie, escorted by Brother Tom Moore, was later chosen to travel to New Orleans to reign as Pitt's Queen at the annual Sugar Bowl Game.

In addition to our lovely Queen and top-notch pledge class, many of the boys are garnering honors for the chapter by being tapped to honoraries. Ed Ifft, George Liebler, and Fred Liebler were selected for Druids, a national activities fraternity. Two of the chapter's many scholars, Bill Lane and Art Saxon, were recently tapped to Pi Tau Phi, a national scholastic honorary.

Jim Zurcher, last year named Pitt's Outstanding Swimmer, recently led the team to victories over V.M.I. and Miami. Jim is backed up by another Delt, Lou Durbin. A sophomore, Lou is considered to be one of the brightest prospects on the team. Another sophomore, Bill Banow, is bolstering Pitt's track team.

Among the recent social functions held by the chapter were our nineteenth annual Kappa-Delt Reception for the faculty and a Christmas reception for all the other fraternities and sororities. Both events were extremely successful, as were our annual Alumni Dance and Homecoming.

Delts Make Varsity Varieties

After a few weeks of hard work and practice, Wood Hall and the Delts tried out for Varsity Varieties in the Union Building. Soon after, the results were out. We were among the five finalists. A week later, after more work, two performances of the show were given in the Hall of Music. Both were very successful. After the show, we came back to the house and entertained the girls for the last time as a group. A great deal of fun was had by all during the parties and practices.

After a rapid Thanksgiving vacation, we came back to prepare for our house dance, which was held December 3. The theme was "Forest Fantasy," with music by Keith Sylvester. The living room was decorated as a forest, while the library was fixed up like a hunting lodge. It was judged by all to be one of the best house dances we have had.

The recent number of pinnings was preceded by several men making mostly military honorary societies. Mike Heperlen was selected by Arnold Air Society, an Air Force honorary, and Sigma Alpha Tau, the air transportation scholastic honorary; Frank Judy and Pierre LaBerge were chosen by Quarterdeck, a Naval honorary; and Mark Potter was initiated into Scabbard and Blade and Purdue Order of Military Merit.

Again this year, Joe Sexson and Danny Thornburg are turning in first-rate performances in basketball. The team is off to a great start with eight wins and one loss. Joe is the number one man in the scoring department, with a twenty-point-per-game average, followed by Danny with thirteen points per game. We wish them continued success.

We are also proud of Bill Murakowski, who had an excellent season at the full-back slot. He was honored by being asked to play in two bowl games; the East-West Shrine Game and the Senior Bowl Game. He was voted the most valuable back on the North team after the game.

Two Varsity Captains From Shelter

Since the last issue of THE RAINBOW, many of Upsilon's Delts have been honored for their participation in school affairs. We received an unusual honor when '56 co-captains of the two major fall sports was elected from the house. Dick Gustafson was elected co-captain of the football team, and Jerry Silvey was elected co-captain of the soccer team. Both men have been outstanding in leadership and sportsmanship and have earned their letters for three straight years.

During October Walt Goddard was elected to membership in the White Key Society. Election to White Key is considered the highest honor that a sophomore can attain at Rensselaer. Walt writes for the staffs of the school paper and humor magazine, is a member of the student council, and serves on his class dance committee.

Neil Brown attended the National Interfraternity Conference's meeting in St. Louis. While there, he attended a luncheon given exclusively for the Delt members in attendance. In Neil's opinion, the undergraduates were very much enlightened as to the spirit of Delta Tau Delta by the luncheon.

Bob Cook, president of the management engineering honorary society, has been elected a member of Tau Beta Pi. Bob is also a state champion shot-putter. Bill Sweitzer was tapped into Pi Tau Sigma, the mechanical engineering honorary society. Dick Gustafson, who has had only one B in five semesters at RPI, was elected to membership in Chi Epsilon, the civil engineering honorary.

Our building committee, headed by E. L. "Ernie" Warnecke, '27, reports a substantial increase in our new house fund. "Ernie" states that "we can and should finish this financial drive before the end of the present school term." We, the undergraduates, are certainly thankful for the interest and support of our alumni.

Party Features Safari Movies

The newly elected president, vice-president, and house manager are Thad Smith, Joe Diehl, and Bill Tice, respectively.

Starting the Christmas season off, the annual Delt Christmas formal was held at the Mar Monte Hotel. The decorations were highlighted by a twelve-foot Christmas tree which the Deltas later donated to the local juvenile hall authorities so that the boys and girls could enjoy a merrier Christmas.

One of the recent high lights of the semester was a party given by Leighton Wilkie, an alum, at his exclusive Montecito home. The Deltas were entertained by color sound movies of his recent safari to Africa.

This year's Hallowe'en party was held at the Shelter, which was decorated in the traditional Hallowe'en colors. Bobbing for apples, dancing, marshmallow roasting, telling ghost stories, and scavenger hunts on the Delt acreage highlighted the events of the evening.

During Christmas recess the Deltas were kept busy attending the weddings of Brothers Dick Goode, Earl Hupp, Ron Boorman, and Jess Walker, who seem to have lost all sense of better judgment.

Our interfraternity basketball team has the trophy well in the bag with only two more games to be played this year.

Representing Delta Psi on the varsity basketball team this year is Wayne "Lefty" Schoell.

Rainbow Ball Will Honor Chapter's New Members

Beta Theta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta is now in the final struggles of the closing moments of first semester. In other respects chapter life proceeds at a fast pace with elections and the forthcoming initiation of new men into the chapter.

The Homecoming of 1955 was thoroughly enjoyed by the Deltas and the Mountain. The victory over Washington and Lee was greatly appreciated; and the Deltas participated in the Homecoming contests. On the Friday night before Homecoming there was a surrealistically decorated party at the house and on Saturday evening before the dance there was a very pleasant supper party at the house, all under the direction of Craig Casey, social chairman. The Christmas party was held in December and involved gift exchanges between big and little brothers. Preparations are now commencing for Midwinters Dances and the annual Rainbow Ball, which is held the night before in honor of the new neophytes.

Bill Taylor, traveling secretary, visited the chapter this fall and made the acquaintance of the chapter. His visit was exceedingly enjoyable to one and all.

Señor William Waters Lewis was absent from the Mountain most of the early fall. He traveled to Mexico and also made some short trips. The Deltas are continuing the old tradition of gathering at Señor's for coffee after luncheon at the dining hall.

As is this chapter's custom, we shall again co-operate in the Help Week program at the University. The pledges will also advance the work on the Shelter, which has been and is being gradually completely renovated and repaired. So the chapter advances into the new semester in the midst of a great deal of activity and effort.

Shelter Addition Is Completed

The new addition to Delta Gamma was finished during Christmas vacation. We are now living and eating in the expanded quarters. The rooms are brightly painted and have tile floors. They are study rooms like those in the Shelter proper. All sleeping is done in dormitories.

We plan to have a dedication on Founders Day next spring.

After much hard work, we were again recognized for our work on Dakota Day, when our float won second place in the most beautiful division, and the house decorations took third place.

We have three basketball teams in the intramural leagues. At present, the pledge team is leading its league. The others are still fighting hard for second.

Lettermen Bob Middleton and Dick Wold have both been stalwarts on the Coyote varsity basketball team this winter. Middleton has been third high scorer for two years. Much is expected of him now as a senior. Wold came to the University known for his scoring ability. He has continued to score but is one of the best defensive men in the conference.

Our November house party, "Roman Holiday," was a huge success. Most couples dressed in tunics or togas. The house also was decorated to represent a Roman Court of Caesar's time. The high light of the evening was the crowning of the Delt Sweetheart. She is Keeta Riserand.

At the annual election of officers, Bob Freiberg was a unanimous choice for president. Other officers include Kit Duncan, veep; Ted Thompson, recording secretary; Mick McCahren, guide; Jim Kennedy, sergeant at arms; and Chuck Allen, corresponding secretary.

Preparations are being made for the annual U.S.D. vaudeville show, Strollers. Our act will be with Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. Jim Walters, who has been a great help in past years, will again direct the act.

President Bob Freiberg has been very active in speech this year. Last year he was instrumental in winning several meets. Already this year he was on the winning debate team that brought the Black Hills debate trophy to U.S.D.

leading the Stanford varsity. The Delt starters are Hap Wagner, Carlos Bea, and Bill Bond. Ron Wagner, chapter president, and Beppo Dyer also hold positions on the squad. The varsity basketballers, expected to have a rather poor season, are off to a flying start under the leadership of the Delts and have dropped only one game in their first eight.

At the present time, numerous Delts are readying themselves for varsity baseball, track, and tennis. Ron Wagner, Doug Camilli, and Dave Bohnen will head towards the baseball diamond, while Armand DeWeese, Gary Van Galder, Jim Truher, John Wright, Doug Dick, and Tim Bell are working their winter cramps out on the track. Bill "Pancho" Sampson and Wally Honeywell are two varsity boxing hopefuls.

Approximately two weeks before Christmas, the Delt house became a temporary orphanage for nearly 100 Chinese children from Los Gatos. The children were presented with fine gifts and, of course, were fed the traditional ice cream and cake. This gave even the Delts a chance to let off some steam as the next week was finals week at Stanford. The orphans, as well as the entire chapter, thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

After the compiling of grades of all fraternities in the University offices, it was announced that Beta Rho was ranked fourth academically out of 24 for the autumn quarter.

Morgan Smashes Scoring Record With 35-Point Court Performance

The dinner the house sponsored for Fred and Mrs. Kluender was both a surprise to the "K's" and an enjoyable evening for all those in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. K received a dinnerware set from the men currently in the house and a check from their "older boys." Following the dinner, which was held in Meyer's Hotel, we had a small party at the house. The alumni turnout was very pleasing to the K's who had not seen many of them in quite a few years. We of the present were also pleased to see our alumni and we would like to extend to them an invitation to visit us any time they are in the vicinity.

Second prize at Kent was this snake-charming act, featuring a blinking, red-eyed, 16-foot snake.

Last November an initiation was held for 12 sophomores. During work week these men put up a new ceiling in the living room and painted the walls and also did other odd jobs around the house.

This year we finally won the plaque presented to the house with the best Christmas display. Lou Calvin spent a great deal of time planning the display and everyone in the chapter aided him in the construction.

After winning our second IFC basketball crown, we are now tied in the competition for the sports trophy.

to break the old school scoring mark of 30 points, which he had tied last season. Other Deltas on the varsity squad are: Bob Walker, Jack Mawe, Stan Porfido, Ray Martinelli, and Nick Roudopolos.

Our Winter Carnival week end and our New Year's Eve party were extremely successful this year. Most of the credit must go to Social Chairman Bob Cushman who has spent a great deal of time preparing for our parties.

The results of Rho Chapter elections held on January 16, were as follows: president, Robert Cushman; vice-president, Marshall Lipton; treasurer, Thorpe Aschoff; recording secretary, Neil Stuart; corresponding secretary, Howard Engelsen.

Mush Banquet Achieves Purpose For Scholastic Drive

Under the leadership of newly-elected President Louis Stuart, the Deltas of Delta Delta Chapter have started the new year off with a bang.

Our "Mush Banquet," which was held on January 21, was a great success. Any brother or pledge having under a two-point average for the fall quarter had to eat mush. Every boy was accompanied by a date, and much to our regret a few of the dates had to eat mush.

A few weeks ago we went to the Great Smokies where we had a house party. The house party was a tremendous success with everyone having a good time. It was chaperoned by our very fine housemother, Mrs. Ellen Russell. The pledges added to the enjoyment by putting on several amusing skits. It was one of the best outings that we have had during the whole school year.

As we look to sports we find Al Weber, a very fine marksman, as number four man on the "VOLS" rifle team. During the past year Al has shown amazing skill in his marksmanship abilities. If he continues to show such progress, as we know he will, it will not be too long before he will be top man on the "VOLS" rifle team.

Through the fine capabilities of our brothers, Delta Delta Chapter is well represented in campus activities, and is recognized as one of the best fraternities on the campus.

Three Are Chosen for Campus Service Honoraries

Gamma Iota closed out the first half of the 1956 school year with the business of electing officers for the forthcoming year. Elected to guide Gamma Iota at the post of president was Mike Higgins, whose dad, Ox Higgins, was president of the same chapter. The other officers are: vice-president, Tommy Hatfield; corresponding secretary, Gene Shepperd; recording secretary, Johnny Stuart; and treasurer, Roy Moore.

The intramural scene around the Shelter showed a picture of vast improvement from the slow start at the first of the year. In handball, Brothers Bob Keith and Joe Youmans were runners-up in Class "B" doubles and the Class "B" basketball team reached the finals of the fraternity division. As a side light to the sports picture, the actives took on the pledges in a game of touch football. Run under the intramural rules and with regular referees, the actives upset a talent-packed pledge team, 20 to 12. The active team was under the direction of Buddy Voelkel and the pledges followed the generalship of Hershel Wells.

Campuswise, three brothers have been initiated into the service honoraries, The Cowboys and the Silver Spurs. Johnny Stuart and Larry Schmucker became members of the Cowboys; while Joe Youmans was chosen by the Silver Spurs.

In the closing of social activity for the school year, the high lights were the Christmas party and the fall formal. Of course the formal was the true high point of the social year. Playing for the dance was Chuck Cabot and his band from Houston. It was truly more meaningful because Cabot is a Delt alumnus. Also with the band to provide extra entertainment were the nationally famous Mascots. The singing group which has appeared on several national TV shows made a big hit with the entire party, as did the great music of Mr. Cabot. Brother Bob Rucker deserved and got a great hand from the entire chapter for the excellent job on the top formal in many a year around the Shelter.

Four Deltas in Cotton Bowl

Our fall rush was very successful, in that we pledged 19 top-notch fellows. Delta Tau Delta was ranked first on campus, ahead of seven other fraternities, in rushing. Joe Dugger, rush chairman, carried out a marvelous plan of rush and pledging.

On the intramural football field, we went undefeated until the championship game, and then we lost by a weak score of 0-7. In volleyball, we tied for first. As last year's defending basketball champions, we are hoping to win this season's trophy also.

So far this year we have had only two pinning serenades, but we have pinned six girls in those two ceremonies. The traditional roses, kisses, and "Delta Girl" always go with this serenade.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Alumni Chapter sponsored a dinner in honor of Epsilon Beta in November at Amon Carter Airport. Representative Jim Wright was the guest speaker, and Deltas from 16 different schools were present.

All of our Deltas and dates sat together at the Cotton Bowl Game. Don Sanford, end; Ray Taylor, back; "Poss" Elenburg, back; and Stanley Bull, end, were all playing against Ole Miss. After the game everyone went to Phil and Warren Rudolph's house in Waxahachie for dinner.

Our biggest news from the T.C.U. campus now is the coming of fraternity houses, to be built by next February. Although the fraternity system is only one year old on our campus, many of the chapters are large enough to support a house already. Delta Tau Delta has voted and approved the proposed housing, thus establishing a criterion for other local campus groups to go by.

James Melton Host to Chapter

Although the activities of the Fraternity are more numerous and more varied in the early fall, many social functions have taken place in the past two months which were both enjoyable and worthy of note.

On the evening of October 25, Brother James Melton gave a performance at the Royal Alexandra Theatre in Toronto and graciously extended an invitation to all the fellows in the chapter and their girls. The show was most enjoyable, and it was a great pleasure meeting Brother Melton after the performance. We were delighted to find him friendly and sincere as well as a great showman.

The following Saturday we held our annual pledge party which adopted a West Indies musical theme; the beat of the calypso could be heard well into the wee hours of the morning. The party was a great success and everyone was in the proper mood, due primarily to the lavish decorations which helped set the scene. The pledges were required to put on a skit and, as usual, several actives were mildly maligned.

We have a fine selection of pledges this year, two of whom should be noted for their athletic prowess. Bruce Faulkenner is a fine sprinter and John Ackert is a member of the swimming team. The pledges were also good enough to defeat the actives in the annual football "classic." This can be attributed to the fact that the game was played outside this year rather than in the living room.

We are all looking forward to the Fraternity Formal which will be held Friday, January 20, at the Forest Hills Golf and Country Club. This is the last and invariably the best social event of the season.

Soon the fence will go up around the front campus—the signal for a concentrated academic drive to the finish.

had cleared, we realized that we had pledged 26 top men.

So far they have made an outstanding record. In Tufts' frosh elections, Beta Mu saw her pledges take all five offices. Elected were the following: Bob Watson, president; Dan Murphy, vice-president; Jack Leckie, secretary; Jim Miller, treasurer; and Jack Doykos, marshal.

We are also proud of the record our new pledges have made athletically. Playing frosh football were Jim Miller, Bob Watson, Bill Bringham, Dan Murphy, and Tom Bartlett. Bob Buckley was the outstanding man on the freshman soccer team. Playing basketball are Fred Horenburger, Joe Havlicek, Jim Miller, Jack Doykos, and Bob Buckley. Wrestling for the frosh are Rock Ulrich and Tom Bartlett.

Our Christmas party for the orphan boys was a huge success, thanks to the thoughtful planning of Brother Steve Falchetta. Our president, Frank Cogliano, played Santa and distributed such unique gifts as colored atomic ray guns, portable croquet sets, and magic tricks. Perhaps the most humorous note of the evening was struck when Brothers Ed Sklarz and Bob Price, Beta Mu's claim to fame on the pool table, were given a sound lesson in pool by two South Boston orphans.

Beta Mu so far is in second place for the Tufts "Trophy of Trophies"—the interfraternity athletic award.

Mothers "Redo" Living Room

The rapid pace of our social calendar is slowing down as we near finals, but in the early part of December, Walt Alves, activities chairman, arranged exchanges with the Santa Barbara Delta Gammas and Pi Phi on Friday night and Saturday afternoon respectively. Forty members made the trip, which met with great success. We had a great time at our annual dinner-date-caroling Christmas party. This was followed by a spectacular New Year's Party at which we were privileged to host some members of the Iota Chapter from Michigan State, who were out West to see the Tournament of Roses.

Our donation to the Fall Charity Drive here on campus bought for us five sorority pledge classes who were our slaves for a week.

Newly elected officers are Dave Owen, president (previously house manager); Bob Sproul, house manager; Jim Demille, vice-president; Jim Toole and Walt Alves, assistant house managers; Brandy Glenn, corresponding secretary; Leroy Farrar, recording secretary; and Don Duncan, sergeant at arms.

Delta Iota's very active Mothers' Club recently had the living room furniture recovered and they are planning to buy a new rug and new drapes for the living room. Thirty alumni turned out for an active-alumni dinner, January 4, at the chapter house. A lion's share of the credit goes to Dave Folz, alumni chairman, and to Dick Bardin, president, whose efforts were largely responsible for the success of the dinner.

We are now in second place in the over-all intramural standing among a field of thirty fraternities and we should improve our standing in the second half and take the All-U Championship.

Wide Range of Activities Represented in Delt Ranks

Beta Psi captured the cross-country title and trophy with an unblemished record in intramural play this fall. Otto Schug teamed up with Mike Costello, Butch West, Ron Smith, and Ted Zieke to dominate the league. The volleyball team finished in third spot with Seniors Weliver, Benson, Grimes, and Fenesy sparking the team.

The Beta Psi football squad placed second with an impressive 8-1 season record. Stan Matheny, Jim Padgett, Buck Dennis, and Bob Elvart were elected to the campus All-Star Team. Beta Psi was the largest contributor to this honorary team.

The Delt basketball team is thus far undefeated and is regarded as the favorite to win the trophy. Teammates Waechter, Traviolia, Grimes, Weliver, and Crain are averaging better than 50 points per game.

Ron Grimes, Red Traviolia, Fred Pipin, and Gil Purdy concluded their varsity football season with a large banquet in Indianapolis with the guest speaker being Otto Graham of the professional Cleveland Browns. Grimes is a letterman and senior; Traviolia as a sophomore won his letter this season; and Freshmen Pipin and Purdy were awarded numerals for their play.

Beta Psi also has five members on the varsity basketball team this season. Ben Fellerhoff is the team's leading scorer with an 18-point average per game. Ben was elected to the All-Star Team of the Quantico Marines Holiday tourney. Mike Costello, a freshman, scored 26 points in his first varsity attempt. Matt Thoman, Buck Dennis, and Dave Howarth are also carrying the Delt banner on the Cave-man basketball squad.

Fred Pipin, Bob Elvart, and Butch West are all regular members of the Wabash varsity wrestling team. This is the first year of wrestling at Wabash College and our Beta Psi men are handling their assignments like old-timers.

Stan Matheny, Delt senior, was appointed to the chairmanship of the Indiana Young Republican Collegiate Division recently. Stan is also the president of the local chapter of the Young Republican Party. Dave Schreiber was recently elected as secretary-treasurer of the Wabash chapter of Delta Phi Alpha, national German honorary fraternity. Schreiber is also the captain of the Wabash chess team. John Pence was appointed sports editor of the Bachelor, campus newspaper.

For the Scarlet Masque, Joe Spurgeon was the assistant producer of the year's first play. Frank Barr was in charge of the lighting for the play and his work received special recognition from nearby critics. John Nemeth served as stage manager for the production and John Pence was the ticket chairman.

New officers were elected to assume their duties second semester. Retiring President Stan Matheny will hand his gavel to newly-elected President Don Caplinger. Other officers are: Fred Bury, vice-president; John Pence, corresponding secretary; Dave Schreiber, recording secretary; and Bruce Olson, treasurer.

Don Caplinger, Delt vice-president of the Interfraternity Council, was the campus' delegate to the National Interfraternity Conference in St. Louis, Missouri.

Thomason Honored for Scholastics

During the past quarter Washington Delts have honored and have been honored many times. Among those honors bestowed by the chapter were: the Alumni Award to Rob Thomason for the highest grade point fall quarter of all first quarter students in Gamma Mu; Honor Initiates John Carey and Rob Thomason; and Alumni Achievement Awards to James M. Bradford, Arthur F. Ederer, Edward O. Feek, and L. Carlos Flohr, from the class of 1927 for continued and outstanding interest in Deltism, shown through active participation in Gamma Mu alumni functions. These awards were presented at the Annual Founders Day Recognition Banquet January 13, for which the active chapter takes this opportunity to thank the alumni, not only for their show of interest at the banquet but for their continued assistance throughout the year.

Among those honored by other than the chapter were: Bill Zirbel as Outstanding Senior Man by the University; and the entire chapter for again remaining well above the University's All Men's Scholarship Average. In sports, numerals were awarded to Dennis Adler, tackle, and Roger Hegstrom, end.

The active chapter of Gamma Mu would like to add its sincere thanks, although without plaque or trophy, to John Nelson, adviser, for his special ability to assist without pushing.

Denny Must Class President For Third Consecutive Year

With Help Week nearing, the actives are preparing both Shelter details and local community projects for the pledges. Ten freshmen, out of twelve, so far have qualified scholastically to join the active body of the Fraternity. The pledges are: James Welsh, James Bibb, Harry Sydor, Walter Terpin, William Boesman, Lief Erickson, Dennis Nason, Fred Huff, James Giambroni, John Crouch, Richard Maurer, and James Cochran.

William Shaw has won, in recognition as an outstanding sophomore, the Kappa Scholar Certificate. This award is given to sophomores by the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Freshmen Harry Sydor and Fred Huff, along with Sophomore Thomas Logan, are playing outstanding varsity basketball. Len Stobel and Andy Puglise have been playing outstanding Jay Vee basketball. James Bibb has been elected unanimously to the second team of the Tri State Football team. Just a freshman, Jim played outstanding football for the Jay Presidents.

Dennis Must has been elected president of the Senior Class. For three consecutive years Denny has been elected president of his class. Andrew Puglise is the new head of the Sophomore Class. Jack Raymond and William Temple on the varsity rifle team, Len Stobel on the baseball team, and Richard Taylor on the tennis team have all won their letterman's jackets. Each has played two years of consecutive varsity sports.

Four Delts Elected to OΔK

Attention at Washington and Lee has been focused on honorary societies lately. Phi Chapter had its share of men in these. Bill Henley, Bob Huntley, and Clay Carr were elected to Who's Who, while Bob, Clay, Ted Kerr, and Jim Farrar (Phi Chapter alumnus who is assistant dean of the University) made Omicron Delta Kappa. Ted was one of the two juniors to be elected to membership this year. Beside these recent elections, Delts populate most—if not all—of the honorary fraternities on campus.

Sports are perennially interesting. Gibby McSpadden is having an undefeated year at the 167-pound weight in wrestling. Gibby's only two losses in college were to the Fisher brothers, both of whom were national champions. John Ellis, at 137, has only one loss. Dick Whiteford and Don Fowler both are on the varsity, at 130 and 157, respectively, and have good records. Bob McHenry (four-year letterman and former captain), Frank Hoss, and Nick Nichols are mainstays on the basketball team. Jay Fox has just set a new pool record in the 200-yard breast-stroke. The record which he broke was his own, by the way.

Fancy Dress, the South's outstanding collegiate social event, is coming up. Bill Henley, president of the Dance Board, has secured Les Elgart for this event. Jim Lewis is one of the vice-presidents of the dance. And now the House is buckling down for exams.

Wesleyan—Gamma Zeta

Contribute Four Varsity Wrestlers

During the past winter, one of the outstanding events of this social "off" season was Gamma Zeta's Hobo Party on January 14. At this party, a two-week beard-growing contest was climaxed by measurement of the brothers' growth and the awarding of appropriate prizes, as well as a timed "shaving race" in which dates attempted to remove their escorts' "chin fur" with a minimum of time and blood. Also featured were a skit taking off Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" and a turtle race. Credit for the success of this party should go to Social Committee Chairman "Owl" Eager and the remainder of his committee, whose ingenuity and hard work were responsible for making the evening really "different."

In winter sports, the chapter has once again made an impressive record in wrestling, having contributed four men to the varsity squad, as well as the varsity manager. These men are: Tom Burns, 123-pound class; Jack Braitmayer and "Jet" Gobielle, 147-pound class; Tom Sorensen, 177-pound class; and "Whitey" Johnson, manager. On the freshmen squad, Frank Dotti has proved himself a reliable winner in the 167-pound class.

Over the week end of January 6-8, Gamma Zeta contributed materially to the success of the College-sponsored Sub-Freshmen Week End, during which prospective freshmen are given an organized introduction to life at Wesleyan. During this time, the house entertained a dozen visitors, whose activities were planned by "Cardinal Key" Representatives Ernie Gobielle and Laurie Miller, in co-operation with the college administration.

Outstanding Lineman Award Goes to New Chapter Head

The elections on January 8 produced a new slate of officers for the forthcoming year. They are as follows: president, Larry Seidl; vice-president, Keith White; corresponding secretary, Jerry Hejduk; recording secretary, Bill Fisher; treasurer, Larry Schwartz; assistant treasurer, Larry Weiss; guide, Ken Webster; sergeant at arms, Harry Gallagher.

Zeta boasts of having three of the first six on the basketball team. They are: Ed Sarbiewski, John Miller, and Bill Fisher. But even more prominent than that is the five out of eight starting places that the Zeta men hold on the wrestling team. The Zeta men on the team are: Ken Webster, Dan Klisch, Paul Park, Dave Atkins, and George Malindzak.

In intramurals, the chapter is in the lead for the University all-sports trophy. The "B" basketball team has won first place in the winter league and the "A" team is also undefeated at the time of this writing. The "A" volleyball team has to play one game to decide who the University champions will be. To "round off" the sports picture, Brother Seidl was presented "the outstanding lineman" award for varsity football.

The Zeta men were awarded second place in Homecoming decorations competition. Now that most of the "hard work" of the extracurricular activities is over, the chapter is looking forward to the spring social life, including the Mexican Hat and Spring Formal.

Dad's Day Trophy for Delt

In the line of athletics the boys of ΔO won their seventh straight annual Dad's Day track meet and made a clean sweep of the other fall sports to annex the Dad's Day Trophy.

The cinder team was led by Seniors Dick Fischer and Dave Steinmeyer and Freshman Chick Edwards, with support from others.

Our softball team again came through to win its third successive crown. The All Star squad this year had six Delt on the first team and one on the second team. Dick Fischer, a four-year veteran of the diamond, hurled superb ball with less than a 1.00 E.R.A.

With three returning starters from last year's basketball squad (Tom Lawrence, Tom Hicks, and Bob Duke), we appear to be in a positive position in the intramural race. "A vote of thanks" to Dave Steinmeyer, our intramural chairman, who, along with Ron Brown, is participating on the varsity basketball squad.

Our annual Christmas formal, "Orchid Ball," directed by Dick Brower, Jerry Parker, and Don Ames, added another bright spot to the year. Main decorations were 700 baby orchids with a background of evergreen chains.

To add to our social life, George Kenney and JoAnn Vincel, to whom he is pinned, were crowned Snow King and Queen at William Woods College. This honor has now been bestowed on a Delt for the second successive year.

Congratulations go to Jim Whitney, recently selected by the student body to represent Westminster in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; and to Paul Hawkinson, who has taken over the presidency of the Freshman Class.

At this time we would like to wish our graduating seniors, John "Rod" Gabe, John "Mick" Meiklejohn and William "Tex" Fuhmeister, a successful future and encourage them to visit the Shelter whenever the opportunity prevails.

BOB DUKE

Whitman—Delta Rho

Major Contribution to Ski Team

Delta Rho's expected "biggest year yet" is proving to be just that as Delta Tau Delta is making itself felt in all phases of campus activity as never before. Whitman's 1955-56 ski team is one of the top squads in the Northwest this year and Delta Rho's Bill Stevens, Clint Pelt, Tom Harris, and Bob Hodgson have made it what it is. Delt occupies first, third, fourth, and fifth positions on the team, which is one to be reckoned with, as Stevens is a past member of Canada's F.I.S. team.

Delt Terry Townley was recently given the honor of directing a play in the Whitman Theater. His "Hope Is the Thing With Feathers" had audiences chuckling and applauding for three week ends. Pledges Val Lewton, Gene Greenlee, and Ernie Tucker occupied important roles in his play and each one of them turned in exceptional performances. Lewton and Greenlee were also cast in "Idiot's Delight," which appeared earlier in the year; and Lewton, along with Al Pasco, was in the jury of "Trial by Jury," another theater presentation.

Pledge Chris Lunn is holding down a spot on the varsity basketball team and the varsity track and golf teams can expect to see more than ample Delta Rho representation.

George Pettibone and Ian Tervet, both freshmen, walked away with the coveted intramural debate trophy last fall. This win was our first in debate competition in six years. Pettibone was later selected for a position on the varsity debate team, a high honor on the Whitman campus. Our intramural sports participation is booming, too, as we hauled down undisputed second spot in the final volleyball standings.

Early in January our pledges kidnapped the entire active chapter and whisked us off to the far tullies. On the more sedate social side of our existence, our major dances, the annual pajama dance, a come-as-you-are party and our pledge dance, entitled "Whispering Sands," were all received with much enthusiasm.

House elections found Al Peterson emancipated from his house manager's chores and elevated to the position of chapter president. One of his first duties will be to co-ordinate plans for our Founders Day banquet, to be held March 17. From all indications, it will be bigger and better than ever due to demonstrated enthusiasm from alumni of ΔP chapter of $\Delta T \Delta$.

The Delt serenade was again a top performance this year. Beta Gamma presented itself as the Delt Gospel Singers, in a religious revival. Delts visited all the sorority houses.

Ken Burg received the Outstanding Pledge Award this year as fall initiation brought five new men into the active chapter. A top rushing program during the last semester by John Pinkerton raised the chapter total to seventy members. This is the largest it has been since the postwar days. With all this new blood in the chapter, it was easy for the Beta Gamma Delts to win their fourth straight Campus Blood Drive Trophy.

In the social department the Delts had another great semester. The winter formal, with decorations by Jim Weadock, was the high light of the year. Delts closed out the season with a Pajama Party to put a "good night" touch on the first semester.

Casper Alumni Chapter Chartered

By FRANK L. BOWRON

A CHARTER APPLICATION for an alumni chapter was made in January by a group of Deltas at Casper, Wyoming. The group met in November to organize, and elected officers at its January meeting. Regular monthly dinner meetings will be held on the second Thursday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in the Elbow Room of the Henning Hotel at Casper.

President of the chapter, which will be known as the "Casper Alumni Chapter," is Frank L. Bowron, George Washington, '51, Casper attorney. Other officers are: vice-president, William A. Swan, Oklahoma, '31, owner of Swan Specialties Co., an oil field supply concern; secretary, Darrell Booth, South Dakota, '48, secretary of the Casper Chamber of Commerce; and treasurer, Frank Turner, Cornell, '33, president and manager of the Henning Hotel.

J. M. McIntire, Ohio State, '20, was named by the group to investigate possibilities of organizing a Delt chapter at the University of Wyoming. Mr. McIntire, who is president of the Northern Utilities Gas Company, is a member of the Board of Trustees of Wyoming U.

State Representative Robert Wehrli, Colorado and Georgia Tech, '45, head of the architectural firm of Wehrli and Associates, was named rush chairman and will head rushing activities among high school and college students in Wyoming.

Other members of the organization are: R. H. Nichols, Colorado, '09, attorney and former president of the Wyoming State Senate; Joe O. Young, Kansas State, '48, attorney for Stanolind Oil & Gas Co.; David Kidd, Illinois, '28, vice-president of the Title Guaranty Co. of Wyoming; William A. Swan, Jr., Oklahoma '57, soon to enter Air Cadet training; Thomas R. Marshall, Kent, '50, independent consulting geologist; Ernest Linder, Wabash, '45, floor manager for J. C. Penney Co. at Casper; Dick Armstrong, district manager for Oil Well Supply Co.; and Lloyd W. Johnson, Oklahoma, '33, division office manager for Stanolind Oil & Gas Co.

Rex Alworth, an Oklahoma U. alumnus, was a visitor at the January meeting, being a temporary resident of Casper while drilling an oil well near the city.

Membership in the chapter will be open to all Delt alumni in the state and any Deltas in the area will be welcome at the meetings.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Subsequent to Mr. Bowron's submission of the above report, the Arch Chapter approved the charter application, and the Casper Alumni Chapter is added to the official roster.

The Fraternity takes this opportunity to welcome the new group and wish it every success in its undertaking.

Boston

PLANS STARTED FOR FOUNDERS DAY

The record of the Boston Alumni Chapter is not, unfortunately, as spectacular as the behavior of good old New England weather. Having survived quite well the rigors of late summer floods followed in the early winter by one of the earliest elongated cold spells of many years, we are hopefully looking forward to seeing the sun after eight days of rain and sleet.

Despite the weather, our weekly Thursday luncheons have continued with all the regulars, headed by President Joel Reynolds and occasional visitors.

Many of the Beta Mu alumni attended the Homecoming supper and meeting held at the Shelter this past fall.

With the excitement of the holidays now behind us and the mystery of the Brinks' case now past history, plans are being started for our Annual Founders Day Dinner. As soon as the time and tary-treasurer to succeed Jerry Evans for the remainder of the year. Jerry resigned from that office because of business commitments. The annual election of officers is scheduled for the January meeting.

We wish to welcome Don Wilde to the chapter. Don is associated with the West Coast Airlines. The chapter now has 46 members on the rolls. Some of these are in outlying towns. The weekly meetings attract an average of about 30 per cent of the members, while the main functions attract from 50 to 75 per cent of the members. It is impossible for our members in Nampa to make it to the luncheon meetings; however, they support us admirably in other ways.

We wish to remind all members of the chapter to send in their donations to the scholarship fund sponsored by Delta Mu Chapter. Please remit to Neal Cresswell, 505 First National Bank Bldg. Forward all news to Maurice Byrne, 213 Mobley Drive.

Memorial Scholarship Established

THE 27TH ANNUAL Christmas Party of the Boise Valley (Idaho) Alumni Chapter was highlighted by the presentation of the William A. Reeb Memorial Scholarship Plaque.

The traditional Christmas party goes back to the days when Delta Mu Chapter was Beta Chi, a local fraternity at the University of Idaho. The plaque is in memory of William A. Reeb, class of 1957 and member of Delta Mu, who was tragically killed in an automobile accident in May, 1955.

Brother Reeb was a sophomore at the time of his death, hence the plaque will have engraved on it each year the name of the Delta Mu sophomore with the highest scholastic average for his sophomore year. The plaque will hang in the trophy room of the Delta Mu Shelter.

In keeping with the highest traditions of Delta Tau Delta, Brother Reeb was very active in the interests of the Fraternity and consistently high in scholarship. At the time of his death he was corresponding secretary and activities chairman for the chapter. He was also an honor student in the School of Agriculture.

The first brother to have his name engraved on the plaque was a classmate, Leon Richard Weeks. Brother Weeks is an honor student in the College of Law and is prominent and active on the campus. This year he is president of the Junior Class, head of the Intercollegiate Knights, and a pledge of Blue Key. His father, Leon Weeks, Sr., Delta Mu, '31, is a charter member of the chapter.

The presentation was made at the banquet preceding the formal dance, at which Winfred Janssen, Delta Mu, '33, was master of ceremonies. Orland Mayer, '28, a member of Beta Chi local, made the presentation in behalf of the Boise Valley Alumni Chapter. Delta Mu Vice-President Roger McPike, '57, accepted the plaque for Delta Mu Chapter.

The party and presentation were a grand success. A near record attendance of 90 alums, their wives, actives, and their dates strained the facilities of the Plantation Clubhouse where the dinner dance was held.

Among the alumni present were State

Senator Jack Morgan, Delta Mu, '32, and State Representative Charles Donaldson, Delta Mu, '42. Although Delta Mu alumni predominated, Delta Pi was represented by John Van Deusen, '42, Gamma Mu by Frank Chapman, '32, and Omicron by Dale Cornell, '38. The large delegation from Delta Mu included Jon Hayes, James Hill, Jack Acree, John and George Beer, Roger McPike, Joe Jessup, Dave Powell, Jerry Zimmerman, Charles Sauls, and Richard Weeks. Omicron Chapter was represented by Allan Chapman.

In summarizing the purpose of the award, the words of Mr. Mayer in his presentation could not be better:

"We know that you, the recipient, will continue the high record in your remaining years at the University. In addition to this, we ask that you assume a personal responsibility for maintenance of the high standards of scholarship which is the tradition of Delta Tau Delta. We share with you your honor in receiving this award and know that in the years to come your name and those succeeding names which will be added each year will commemorate and perpetuate the memory of William A. Reeb, who was the inspiration of this award."

President Heuck's plan is to activate the already successful Alumni Chapter here in Cincinnati by means of a plan of asking members to pledge themselves to attend at least one Tuesday luncheon meeting during the month. Since the weekly meetings are at the present time primarily the spot at which we are most active, this seems like the best way to get things off to a good start. At the present writing over 40 members have agreed to this plan with every indication that many, many more will join us, particularly those of you who happen to be in Cincinnati on Tuesdays.

DEAN CRAMER ADDRESSES DELTS
AT ANNUAL FOUNDERS DAY BANQUET

Right in the middle of a busy year, our President Howard pulled up stakes, got himself a nice position in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and promptly moved to the Hoosier state. At this point our very capable vice-president, Cory Byrne, reached for the gavel and took over as chief executive of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter—and we've been moving in high gear ever since.

As always, the high light of our year was the Founders Day Celebration, annual meeting, and banquet in honor of the Zeta Chapter initiation. Clarence H. "Red" Cramer, Dean of Adelbert College of Western Reserve University, was the principal speaker at this annual function held this year on February 22 at the Manger Hotel.

Starting on February 2, our weekly luncheon meetings have been held at Clark's Hanna Restaurant at Playhouse Square. For many years the Cleveland Alumni Chapter has held luncheon meetings on Friday. However, a recent "poll of the regulars" indicated that Thursday had fewer conflicts—hence the change.

Cleveland Delts were thrilled with the news that Delt Bob Charpie (Carnegie Tech) has been chosen by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of the ten outstanding young men of America. Bob is a Cleveland, graduate of Glenville High School, but at present is located at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, where as an atomic scientist he has gained world-wide recognition.

We invite all Delts in the area to stop in whenever possible at Patten's Restaurant on Court Street any Thursday at 12:15. There is a table waiting on the second floor. There is no better way to keep up on Delt activities when in Boston than to drop in and chat with Prexy Reynolds and some of the other prominent and active Delts.

AT TUESDAY LUNCHEONS

The Cincinnati Alumni Chapter is off to an eager start for 1956 under its new president, Robert Heuck. VALENTINE SOCIAL

Plans are taking shape for the Valentine Social of the Dallas Alumni Chapter which will be held at the Adolphus Hotel on February 10. This will start off our 1956 "Get-Togethers," which we will have on a monthly basis.

Newly elected officers of the chapter are Henry Nash, president; Dean Burford, vice-president; Ed Schutze, secretary-treasurer; and Ted Jackson, corresponding secretary.

On October 10 Dallas Delts met in the private dining room of the B. & B. Restaurant. A report on Gamma Iota Chapter rush parties indicated a high percentage of pledged rushees and a record of which the chapter may be justly proud—all fine young men with widely varied talents.

Among those present at this meeting were: Frank Knox, Ralph Cole, Dallas Addison, Byron Cain, Lloyd Birdwell, Henry Nash, Alphonso Ragland, Gus Rounsaville, John Rawlins, Fred Abney, Dean Burford, and Jack Dickson.

Guests from the Ft. Worth Alumni Chapter were Dr. W. O. Hulsey, K. C. Miller, and W. B. West, III, who proposed a joint meeting of Dallas and Ft. Worth Alumni Chapters in honor of the new pledges at T.C.U. The proposal was unanimously approved.

On November 3 the joint meeting was held in a private dining room at the Ft. Worth International Airport located approximately halfway between the two cities. It was considered by many as one of the most successful meetings we have had. Guest speaker was Congressman Jim Wingate, who spoke on "A Day in a Congressman's Life."

We're hoping to have a substantial representation from Dallas at the Karnea in Houston.

KARNEA PLANNING BEGINS

Delt alums of Houston, at this writing, are looking forward to the visit of Hugh Shields who has projected an important Karnea-planning session here shortly. John Singleton has been named General Chairman for the Karnea and it was he who was our speaker at the January 13 meeting.

This meeting, held at the Lamar Hotel, was sparsely attended, but that didn't keep John from opening up and putting the facts of life before the group. He emphasized that the Karnea assignment was not a one-man job and that the brethren would be called upon for various duties. He expressed the thought that between 700 and 1200 might attend the Karnea, slated for August 15-18 at the Shamrock Hotel here. John will make definite committee chairman assignments within a short time.

Thought was expressed by Thad Grundy, who accepted the chairmanship of the Chapter Reunions committee, that all meetings of the Houston Alumni Chapter between now and August be devoted to Karnea matters. This was agreed upon.

George Townsan, vice-president, presided in the absence of President Eldridge Thompson.

This was the second meeting since officers were elected late in the fall. The first meeting, also a luncheon, was held in December and featured a talk by Paul Weaver, retired Gulf Oil Corporation geophysicist, who told about the water resources of Texas.

SONG FEST AT HOLIDAY MEETING

The Indianapolis Delt Alumni Association held its annual Christmas Party on Saturday, December 17 at the Marott Hotel. After lunch there was a visit by Santa who passed out gifts for everyone. Seward Baker and Ruell Moore led the group in a song fest of Delt songs and Christmas carols. We had 51 Delts present representing at least 12 different chapters.

The weekly Delt luncheons are being replaced by monthly night meetings. We hope that this will encourage larger attendance.

Our annual State Day Banquet and Dance will be held Friday, March 9. The five Indiana Chapters have pledged 100 per cent attendance with a great number of alumni pledging to be there; so we are looking forward to the finest State Day ever. Our Indianapolis Alumni Chapter elected the following officers for the year 1956: president, Ernie Miller; vice-president, Charlie Cruse; treasurer, Dale Hodges; and secretary, Jess Pritchett.

All Delt alumni are welcome to attend our monthly meetings. Call in your reservation to any one of our officers.

Election of officers for the coming year was held on January 19 and James Mordy (Kansas, Michigan) was elected president; Bob Bonebrake (Baker University, Kansas University), vice-president; Don Steele (Iowa, South Dakota), secretary; and Miles Nichols (Kansas), treasurer.

Activities planned for the next few months include the Founders Day Banquet and support of Gamma Tau Chapter Mortgage Burning Ceremonies.

REACTIVATION SPURS NEW PROGRAMS

The alumni chapter of Knoxville, Tennessee, dormant for many months, has been reactivated and is meeting the first Thursday of each month at Highland's Grill. President Howard Jarvis, '32, is already lining up some top-notch talent for programs in the coming months.

An informal dinner meeting plan is observed, with each member individually ordering. The formal program portion of each meeting begins at 7:00 and is completed by 8:30 p.m. Dues are a mere fifty cents monthly, payable under virtually any plan each member desires.

The first meeting, to discuss re-organization, was November 10; and it was followed on December 8 by a meeting to crystallize the organization. On January 12, closely following the re-opening of school, the first meeting with a real program was enjoyed by an informal gathering.

Brother Jack McClenny, field secretary for the Fraternity, was guest speaker at this meeting and was able to give some concrete suggestions to the chapter along lines of building suitable objectives. Being in Knoxville to work with Delta Delta Chapter, he was able to give a current appraisal of its activity and progress.

A committee, consisting of Dr. Alvin J. Weber, Jr., '29; James M. Haynes, '50; and Lem T. Anderson, '53, is currently studying several recommended objectives for the chapter and is expected to present a list of acceptable objectives and projects at the next meeting.

A congenial air which has prevailed over the meetings thus far seems to have been the encouragement needed to bring members back regularly; and attendance is showing good progress. With this informal plan, implemented by a solid set of objectives, the fine fellowship and good programs thus far seem destined to guarantee continued success for the Knoxville Chapter.

Lists mailed to all alumni in the Knoxville area show approximately 100 alumni within the city limits and another fifty alumni within driving distance. This size nucleus should assure the chapter's night meetings of good crowds throughout coming months.

Beginning in February, Brothers John W. "Bill" Lawhon, Jr., and Robert E. Lee, Jr., will mail each month to all area alumni a chapter newsletter, advising them of past, present, and future ac-

MILLS REPORTS ON DELT PROGRAMS

At the December meeting of the Long Beach Alumni Chapter Samuel A. Erskine, Nebraska, '11, was elected president for the year 1956; John Dodd, W. & J., '38, vice-president; and Harley B. Smith, Idaho, '35, secretary-treasurer.

On December 5 a dinner meeting was held at the University Club at which Howard Mills, Secretary of Alumni, was our guest. He gave us an account of his just completed visit to the Fraternity Headquarters. He described the new building and emphasized its adequacy for conducting the business of Delta Tau Delta, giving due acknowledgment and praise to Hugh Shields for his leadership in securing the building and arranging the various departments for maximum efficiency. He described the operation of the business affairs of the Fraternity and the excellent social and financial position which it enjoys among college fraternities. I wonder if we appreciate how fortunate we are in having such an outstanding Executive Vice-President.

At our January luncheon plans were made for the current year. It was decided to continue the noon luncheons on the second Monday of each month and to have at least four evening meetings to enable those whose engagements prevent their attending Monday luncheons to enjoy the fellowship of their brothers at evening gatherings.

Brother Frank Wheelock, Nebraska, '12, long an active member of the Los Angeles Chapter, and now a resident of Long Beach, joined us at our December 5 dinner.

All Delts finding themselves in Long Beach on the second Monday of any month are invited to meet with us.

DAN FERGUSON AND JERRY STEWART ARE HONORED AT OCTOBER LUNCHEON

The Los Angeles Alumni Chapter just completed one of its most successful years under the able guidance of Stu McKenzie. The monthly meetings featured top speakers in many fields which resulted in one of the best attendance records we have had in years.

At the December meeting the following officers were elected for 1956: Robert Tyler (Colorado), president; Doug McDonald (USC), secretary; William Shattuck (USC), vice-president; Charles Church (UCLA), vice-president; David Berry (Stanford), vice-president; and Roy Crocker (California), treasurer.

Fred Moldenhauer (USC) will keep the records and mail the notices of our regular and special meetings.

The high light of the October meeting was the presentation of two awards. The first award went to Dan Ferguson, a certificate for being a member of Delta Tau Delta for 50 years. Dan has been the backbone of our alumni chapter and through his efforts in past years, he has built our alumni into a Delt association unequalled in any other part of the country. For this we have often been called the All America alumni chapter. We all salute Dan and as a tribute to him it is our goal to equal if not exceed the attendance records which have never been equalled since he served as president of the Los Angeles Chapter.

The second award was a presentation of a Citation to the Distinguished Service Chapter to Jerry Stewart (Stanford). We all felt this Citation was long overdue to a brother who has given so much to Delta Tau Delta for the past 30 years. Sel-dom will you find a man as enthusiastic and loyal as Jerry.

The officers for 1956 have set forth a program somewhat different from what we have had in the past. Luncheon meetings will be held the first and third Thursday of each month at the University Club. They will emphasize general get-togethers rather than planned programs. The above idea will prevail at this year's Founders Day dinner by deleting speeches and substituting entertainment for the brothers. Under the able leadership of Toby Tyler, we believe a new and even greater era in the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter has begun. We hope the optimism of the officers will be sufficiently contagious to prompt many alumni who have not been active recently to join once again with us in building our organization into truly the All America of all Delt alumni chapters.

If anyone should desire details regarding the meetings or care to be put on the mailing list, please contact either Fred Moldenhauer or Doug McDonald at TRinity 6543.

HOUSE CORPORATION ORGANIZED

The organization of a house corporation has been the primary concern of the Minnesota Alumni Association for the past several months. It is hoped that through the corporation greater support will be able to be given to the undergraduate chapter. Recently elected officers of the corporation include: president, Fred Samels (BH, '23); Chet Bros (BH, '22) and Gerald Oyass (BH, '32), both holding down the vice-presidency position; John Andrews (BH, '49), treasurer, and John Harker (BH, '46), secretary.

Fred Souba retired as chapter adviser, a position which he held for many years. Our hats are off to Fred for his many years of faithful service. John Harker will be taking over Fred's duties.

Plans are currently being laid for our annual Founders Day Banquet which will be held early in April. Announcements will be mailed at a later date.

In the meantime, alumni lunches are still being held every Friday noon on the second floor of the Covered Wagon in Minneapolis.

LOY HENDERSON RELATES EXPERIENCES

The new school year was greeted with enthusiasm November 16 by the 40 Capital Delt alumni who gathered together for a highly interesting, informative luncheon at the Touchdown Club. The Honorable Loy Henderson, Northwestern, '15, Assistant Secretary of State in charge of Administration, related his personal experiences in the Middle East, where he served many years prior to his present appointment. This was followed by questions from Brother Delt's concerning current problems and the State Department's foreign policy in that important area.

Also at the November luncheon was Lt. Col. Carl P. Garner, Northwestern, '37. Col. Garner served as a military attaché in the Middle East and met Mr. Henderson while piloting him over the desert en route to a meeting with a tribal chief. Following Mr. Henderson's address, Col. Garner related some of their mutual experiences.

The annual Founders Day Dinner will be held during the latter part of March at the National Press Club. All Capital Delt's are invited. Those who did not receive a notice or out-of-town Delt's in Washington during March may call either of our local chapters listed in the telephone directory for the specific date, time, and name of the speaker.

A new roster listing the more than 1200 Delt alumni residing in the Washington area has recently been distributed.

New York

HERE'S AN INVITATION TO ASSIST IN RECHARGING CHAPTER BATTERIES

The activities of the Greater New York Alumni Chapter for the 1955-56 season unfortunately can be best expressed by one word, INACTIVE. There is a movement under way to recharge our batteries and get the chapter back on its feet. However, that movement has not gotten much momentum as yet. What we have primarily are the hopes of many of our brother Delt's in the area that the chapter will again become active.

Some of us feel that one way of doing this would be to try to arrange for an all-out, top-notch Founders Day banquet this spring. To make this possible, we need the active participation of all interested alumni in the Greater New York area.

If you are interested, please get in touch with me, so that our Alumni Chapter can again become an effective organization.

The bright spot on the otherwise poor picture for this area lies in the fact that we have been having an average turnout of eight to twelve men on the first Tuesday of each month for an informal luncheon of those in the downtown area on the fourth floor of the New York Chamber of Commerce Building, 65 Liberty Street, at 1:00 p.m. Anyone who is interested in attending these luncheons, which last for only an hour each month, and who is not receiving notices of the luncheons, please contact me, so that your name can be added to our list.

At our downtown luncheon early in December, we had a good turnout of Delt's, representing a wide cross section of chapters. Among those attending were the following: Arthur Beyer, Columbia, '30; Harry Finlay, Cornell, '37; Daniel Grant, North Carolina, '21; Donald Mal-lory, Cornell, '17; Charles McCann, Rensselaer, '48; John Montstream, Carnegie Tech, '21; Warner Orvis, Cornell, '06; Howard Ross, Missouri, '37; Calder Sinclair, Pennsylvania, '28; and George Whitney, Rensselaer, '49.

A possible date for the Founders Day Dinner this year is sometime during the month of May. Therefore, there is plenty of time for all of you to do a little work to put our chapter back on its feet.

Northern Kentucky

FRIDAY 13TH PROVES LUCKY

The Northern Kentucky Delt's defied the "Friday 13th" jinx and held their annual "shindig" on January 13 at the Highland Country Club in Fort Thomas.

The "13th jinx" proved lucky as 47 Delt's and Delt Dames turned out for the dinner and dance, which should be a good organizational commendation for our new prexy, Dick Sullivan, and his helpers, Boonie Fennell and Fritz Erchell.

Brother Fennell, who recently fell heir to a "Rushin' Wolf hound dawg," is looking for a home for the wayward pup. Fennell reports the hound spends all his time "rushin'" around the house and "wolfin'" all the food he can find.

Our annual rush party was held during early September at Brother Bill Stegeman's home with a large number of prospective Delt's present.

Delta Epsilon Chapter reported the pledging of four Northern Kentucky boys: Dave Becker, Bill Wagner, Bill Holmes, and Willie Dobbling.

Edward Smith pledged Delt at Ohio Wesleyan University.

We're anxiously looking forward to the Miami chapter's report when its deferred rushing system goes into effect.

Along the matrimonial front Brother Ted Tillman (DE) and the attractive Jean Dilling (UK Theta) middle-aisled it during the early fall.

Another young Delt arrived on the Northern Kentucky scene during the summer. He's young David Lee Houlis-ton, son of Brother George Houlis-ton, and his wife, Joan.

Brother Jim Stites, another of the UK Delt's, is the new president of the Greater Cincinnati Chapter of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association.

Your correspondent recently deserted the public transit ranks and joined the staff of the Kentucky Times Star as promotion manager.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS SERVICE HELD

This year, as in years past, Dean N. R. High Moor conducted the annual Delt Christmas Church Service at Trinity Cathedral. As usual the service was an inspiration to all who attended and Dean Moor's message was stimulating. At the undergraduate chapter sing contest which took place after the service the Delta Beta sing team from Carnegie Tech took the honors and possession of the clock trophy until the contest next year.

Another winter event of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter took place on February 28 at the Pittsburgh Playhouse. On that night about 100 Deltas, their wives, and friends attended a production of "Morning at 7:00," a comedy. Jack Neslage was chairman of the event and did a fine job. As in past years, a number of those attending gathered before the show for dinner at the Playhouse Restaurant and made the occasion a real night out.

Weekly luncheons are held at Childs Restaurant, at the corner of Fifth and Smithfield in downtown Pittsburgh, each Tuesday at noon. Any and all Deltas in the vicinity at that time are invited to participate in the fellowship. Just drop in.

WELCOME DINNER FOR JUDGE EAST

The continuing events since our last writing started out with the Alumni Welcome Dinner for Judge William East, moving into our Portland group from Eugene, Oregon, to take over his recent duties as Federal District Judge. This dinner, held at the Three Star Restaurant, was thoroughly enjoyed by the Delt alumni and their wives.

Several carloads of alumni from various chapters met at Gamma Rho at Eugene, Oregon, for the University of Oregon and Oregon State Homecoming football celebration. The Ducks were in their glory as the field was thoroughly prepared with a heavy rain and therefore they swam their way to victory.

A terrific turn-out was had at the Christmas Formal Dance at Jack and Jills Night Club the week before Christmas. Plans have already been laid for the same location and band next time because of the success of the formal.

The second issue of the Portland Deltas Alumni Directory and Business Guide has already been published and has been mailed to the alums in this area.

LUNCHEON FEATURES COLOR SLIDES

The St. Petersburg, Florida, Alumni Chapter started the New Year off with a luncheon-meeting on Wednesday, January 4, at Brother Howard Helt's beautiful Garden Cafeteria, which was attended by twenty Deltas. Brother Charles Belden, the Cowboy Photographer, whose pictures of foreign lands are used by the National Geographic and other magazines, showed color slides of scenes taken last summer in Algeria, Tunisia, and Morocco. They were a real treat.

Brother William Mills is the newly elected president of the St. Petersburg Chamber of Commerce, which, in addition to being the Mills of Mills and Jones, our leading general contractors, makes Billy one of our most prominent alumni hereabouts. Brother Herb Thornberg, after spending the summer in California, returned to St. Pete and bought a home here. Our president, Gene Lawton, has been getting checked up at Mayos but expects to be on hand for our next meeting, February 4. Our meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month. See newspapers for time and location.

BILL HOMER NEW SYRACUSE ALUMNI CHAPTER PRESIDENT

Keeping abreast of the progressiveness of the Syracuse area, the Alumni Chapter is rolling again. The Women's Club kindled the fire with a couples gathering at the home of Bernie Dawson in early December. Spontaneously a dinner was held at the University Club, Thursday, January 12, and the newly elected president, Bill Homer (B, '39) enthusiastically is planning future meetings.

All Delt alumni in the Central New York area have been contacted, but we want the names and addresses of the RAINBOW readers whom we do not have on our mailing list. Send a note along to Bill Homer, Ely Drive, Fayetteville, New York, and keep abreast of the meetings and doings of the Syracuse Alumni Chapter.

BUFFET SUPPERS FOR MEETINGS

We are still continuing a conservative program in our activities. Our last meeting had a disappointing attendance, but it was undoubtedly due to a severe snow storm that evening.

For the present it is agreed to continue the meetings in the homes. Buffet supper is served and an evening of entertainment follows. The next meeting is at the home of Stan Warp, Gamma Mu, '47.

The Seattle alumni held their annual Founders Day Banquet on January 13. Unfortunately, their invitation to our group was late and most members had other commitments. Frank Pracna, Gamma Mu, '35, and Frank Hobi, Gamma Mu, '17, however, are reported to have attended. We hope to be invited again in the future and hope for a better turn-out.

All interested Deltas in this area are cordially invited to attend our meetings on the third Thursday of every odd-numbered month.

Toledo

HAIL CHIEF MES-QUON-A-QUOT

The welcome sign is always out at the Tuesday noon luncheons of the Toledo Alumni Chapter. We have gone through the holiday season with some attrition due to the call of Florida and southern climes, but a few of the old regulars are always on hand to welcome visitors.

Eugene "Pike" Brown, Beta Phi, '15, has recently assumed the presidency of the Toledo Exchange Club, which is one of the oldest groups in the National Exchange Club. He has been a member for several years. And his program chairman is none other than LaDow "Doc" Johnston, Gamma Tau, '25, an acknowledged authority on the old smooth-bore, muzzle-loading musket. Toledo Exchange Club meets on Tuesdays; so we miss these brethren who are out doing their civic duty.

Walter W. Faben, Chi and Delta, '17, high school teacher at Montpelier, Ohio, and a former member of the Toledo Chapter of Delt alumni, came to town recently and was hailed here as Chief Mes-quon-a-quot, a title granted him by the Chippewas to the Canadian Indian Reservation on Walpole Island in the St. Clair River. Walter has been gathering evidences of the Indian cultures in these parts for many years. And he has become an authority. Possibly he got his start in the old Choctaw Walk-Around ceremonies as well as his reading of the Leatherstocking Tales of James Fenimore Cooper. He opines that the modern tractor has taken much of the romance out of the search for Indian lore—the plowman could stop and pick up a tomahawk or an arrowhead but a tractor engineer sees nothing in his noisy grind around the field. When you see smoke coming out of our tepee of a Tuesday, come over, Walter, and pow-wow.

G. WILFRID HIBBERT

ELECT HALE CHAPTER PRESIDENT

The Topeka Alumni Chapter changed the date of our annual meeting from June 1 to January 1, and at our meeting on January 3, William H. Hale was elected president, and Charles Blakely vice-president, for 1956, and the writer re-elected secretary-treasurer. We are picking up a few new members, and hope to show an increase in attendance at our monthly luncheon meetings.

We regret the death of one of our members, Albert A. Nattier, who died at Winter General Hospital here in Topeka on December 9. Albert was from Gamma Theta Chapter, and was an attorney and in charge of inheritance taxes for the State of Kansas, under the Department of Revenue and Taxation. He was a veteran of World War I, and was formerly county attorney and probate judge from his home county at Fredonia, Kansas, where burial services were held.

Always glad to have any visiting Deltas call on us when in Topeka, and especially show up at our monthly luncheon meetings which are the first Tuesday in each month.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS DINNER INCLUDES DELT MOMS AND DADS

Election of officers highlighted recent Tulsa Alumni Chapter activities. The following honored gentlemen were railroaded into office: president, Robert E. Evans; first vice-president, Don A. Harris; second vice-president, Richard Cantrell; secretary, John Haney; treasurer, Robert B. Bradley.

The annual Christmas Dinner with the moms and dads was once again a huge success. Bob Bates was again pressed into service as master of ceremonies, and did a commendable job.

Conference Chairman's Column

HORACE G. NICHOL
Chairman
National Interfraternity Conference

Dear Fellow Greeks:

The annual National Interfraternity Conference in St. Louis December 1 to 3 was the best ever—with the largest attendance at its sessions; 450 undergraduates nearly doubled previous attendance at Undergraduate Conferences and showed committee chairman Ed Murphy, Sigma Nu, that we will have to step up the tempo of those meetings if such a whopping attendance continues.

A most important resolution, among others, was passed by the undergrads asking NIC to study possibilities of closer integration between the undergrads and the grads. Certainly we have not yet found the ultimate answer to our problems of internal liaison and may come closer after a year's study as requested by the resolution. These undergrads were mostly IFC presidents and "sharp" men.

In reality, they and their college brothers are the reason fraternities exist, as you all know.

Ninety-two deans of men attended, an all-time record. They contributed much to the meetings—and particularly to an evening with the fraternity secretaries, where groups were formed to discuss problems at dinner. Later concise reports were made by discussion leaders which indicated the wide variety of problems these devoted people must meet every day.

At the House of Delegates the business was conducted with dispatch by Chairman Herb Brown, and the Conference agreed to authorize the establishment of an NIC central office by the executive committee (subject to raising certain needed funds via the Interfraternity Foundation), a service that has been urged by fraternity leaders for 23 years, and an indication of the progressive conclusions that result from the new organization of the Conference through the House of Delegates.

These are some of the high lights from the Conference, in this Conference Chairman's Column, which we hope to repeat at regular intervals through the courtesy of THE RAINBOW.

Sincerely yours,
HORACE G. NICHOL
Chairman, National Interfraternity Conference

Rensselaer Delts Get Together in N. Y., Plan Repeat Meetings

RENSSELAER DELTS living in the New York area had such an enjoyable get-together on November 30 that they have decided to make the reunion a semi-annual affair. The dinner, which was the second such event this year, was held at the Teheran Restaurant in New York City.

There was no formal program of speeches, but Ed Hauck of the Upsilon Chapter house corporation made a special and welcome trip down from Troy to keep Delt alumni advised of how the plans are coming for the new chapter house at R.P.I. Twenty-two members attended the meeting.

If there are any Upsilon Chapter Delts within striking range of New York City who have not been receiving notices of these get-togethers and would like to be counted in for the next one, they should get in touch with George W. Whitney. Mr. Whitney's mail address is 10 Lexington Street, or he may be reached by telephone at Digby 4-5888. Mr. Whitney will make sure that such names are included on the mailing list.

All Rensselaer Delts are looking forward to the day, not too far distant, when a new Delta Shelter will be erected on the Troy campus.

The Delta Creed

I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity, so that I may better learn and live the truth.

I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as a shrine of international brotherhood: her cornerstone friendship, her foundation conscience, her columns aspiration, her girders self-restraint, her doorway opportunity, her windows understanding, her buttresses loyalty, her strength the Everlasting Arms.

I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as an abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self-respect, and bring about that happy life wherein I may more truly love my fellow men, serve my country, and obey my God.

Death Takes Bishop Henry D. Phillips

On June 19, 1955, death came to the Right Reverend HENRY D. PHILLIPS, Sewanee, '04, retired Episcopal Bishop of Southwestern Virginia and a former President of the Fraternity's Southern Division.

Bishop Phillips had been living in Columbia, South Carolina, where he served as rector of Trinity Church from 1922 until his consecration in 1938. He was a former chaplain and professor of Bible of the University of the South, where during his undergraduate days he had been an outstanding athlete.

Bishop HENRY D. PHILLIPS
Early Southern Division Head

As President of the Southern Division, Bishop Phillips served on the Fraternity's Arch Chapter during 1920-21. At about the same time, he was also president of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Henry Phillips was known as one of Sewanee's great athletes. He played varsity football and baseball for four years and was gridiron captain of the 1902 team.

Second Lt. THOMAS RILEY, Ohio, '55, was killed October 26, 1955, when the jet plane he was piloting crashed at the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, North Carolina. Riley had joined the Marine Corps' aviation program in June, 1953, and received his wings on July 20, 1955.

Dr. FREDERICK J. DOOLITTLE, Kenyon, '94, master emeritus of Episcopal Academy, Merion, Pa., where he had been a teacher in the classics for more than 50 years, died November 19 at his home in Wyncote.

Dr. Doolittle, a loyal member of the Fraternity, took an active part in the founding of Omega Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania in 1897 and was the last living member of the installation team. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he was given an honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities at Kenyon in 1947.

Dr. Doolittle was held in the highest esteem by all of those at Episcopal Academy with whom he had been associated through the years. Of him one of his colleagues there wrote: "... the impact of a half-century of his complete integrity on the thousands of boys with whom he had close and sometimes intimate friendships is completely immeasurable."

Chapter Eternal

EDWARD R. LADD, Northwestern, '04, publisher, president, and principal owner of the Evanston Review, Evanston, Illinois, died January 23.

Mr. Ladd was a former director of the Evanston Chamber of Commerce. He was also a former president and one of the founders of the Evanston Rotary Club and was instrumental in bringing the permanent headquarters of Rotary International to Evanston.

FRANK M. McKEY, Chicago, '03, who served for many years as chapter adviser of Gamma Alpha Chapter, died January 21 in Chicago. He was 75 years old.

Dr. EGBURT FREYER, Sewanee, '24, chemist and manager of the Central Control Department, Research Division, Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., died last fall in Coral Gables, Florida.

Dr. Freyer, who received his doctorate of chemistry from Johns Hopkins University, was a specialist in analytical determination and was recognized as an authority on the refining of vegetable oils and color measurement.

ARTHUR D. GRAY, Tennessee, '21, former vice-president of the Southern Division and chapter adviser of Delta Delta Chapter, died December 27 at Presbyterian Hospital in Knoxville.

Mr. Gray was well known in Knoxville as a leader of young people. He gave devoted service to Delta Delta Chapter, which he had been instrumental in establishing. He had also been a leader in such youth activities as the Boy Scouts, Methodist Church Sunday School, Little League Baseball, and Knoxville's Dale Avenue Settlement House. A number of years ago he won the title "Typical Father of the Year" in a Knoxville contest.

Mr. Gray was production co-ordinator of Fulton Sylphon Company.

THOMAS E. PARKER, Missouri &

George Washington, '14, for the past 23 years state editor of the Los Angeles Times, died December 22 following partial invalidism for three years.

At Missouri University, Mr. Parker had been one of the first graduates of the first journalism school in the country. He was one of the founders of Alpha Delta Sigma, national honorary advertising fraternity, and was a charter member of Missouri's chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity.

RINGLAND F. KILPATRICK, Sewanee, '00, builder and real estate executive in New York City, died November 5 at his home in Spring Lake, N. Y. Among the structures he built in New York was the Fox Film Building.

A famous athlete at Sewanee, he was a member of the University's undefeated and untied football team in 1899.

Mr. Kilpatrick was chairman of the executive committee of the Union League Club and a veteran of the New York Athletic Club. He was a fellow in perpetuity of the Metropolitan Museum. He received the Gari Melchers Gold Medal from the Salmagundi Club in 1947 for his interest in American art. He became a vice-president of the club in 1953.

WILLIAM C. SCOTT, Duke, '52, Naval jet pilot, has been reported fatally injured during recent U. S. Naval Air Force maneuvers over Malta.

ROBERT C. MIZELL, Emory, '11, director of development and finance at Emory University, died December 13 in a private hospital in Atlanta.

Dr. Goodrich C. White, president of Emory, said that Mr. Mizell "has played as large a part as any one person in the great development that has taken place at Emory in the past 20 years."

Mr. Mizell, who received his Ph.B. from Emory in 1911, was the school's first president of the student body. He was a former president of Sparks College at Valdosta, Georgia, and served as acting dean of Emory's School of Business Administration in 1942-44. He was a charter director of the United Hospitals Service Assn. (Blue Cross).

Alumni Chapters

The chapter is making last-minute preparations for its top social event, the annual formal dance on January 28. We hope to entertain some 400 Deltas and guests this year.

In a move to bolster attendance at the monthly meetings, new Prez Bob Evans has divided the roster into groups, with one man responsible for the attendance of each group. President Evans also has many other good ideas and we are looking forward to a big year under his astute leadership.

DON MYERS

THE UNSUCCESSFUL RUSHING OF GOOD MEN

Why don't we rush young Allen Wood? He's quite a guy, his grades are good. Go get him, Mac, our chairman said. Rush him hard and use your head. "I can't tonight; I've got a date; Don't worry, though, this Al will wait. He'll take our button by and by—"

That's how Al came to pledge Phi Psi.

Straight A Initiates
