IF the undergraduate student is making a man of himself, he is doing the world's most important job. Growing and working, thinking and gaining power, reflecting and gathering insights, the student justifies his life; the future may safely be left to its own devices.

One Moment, Please . . .

LYNN WATSON, Pittsburgh, '57, was appointed to the regular field staff of the Fraternity early this fall. Many of you have already had the opportunity to see Lynn and talk with him as he has been on the job since September.

During his undergraduate years at the University of Pittsburgh, Lynn served Gamma Sigma Chapter as treasurer and as president. He was active not only in his Fraternity work but in many campus activities and organizations as well.

The experience that has been Lynn's in all phases of chapter organization, and in his work on the Pittsburgh campus, prepares him excellently for his work with the undergraduate chapters.

Introducing Epsilon Delta . . .

87th Chapter Installed at Texas Tech

ON SATURDAY, December 7, Delta Tau Delta had the pleasure of installing its 87th chapter at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas. The charter from the Fraternity was granted to 21 undergraduates students, members of Tau Delta Tau Fraternity, and the initiation ceremonies were conducted by Delta Alpha Chapter (Oklahoma) and Epsilon Beta Chapter (Texas Christian).

The event was also the occasion for a general reunion of alumni in the Oklahoma and Texas area. The initiation ceremonies were held at 1:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the First Christian Church, Lubbock, and the initiation banquet was held that evening at the Lubbock First Methodist Church. The installation ball followed the banquet.

Texas Tech was established in 1923 by the 38th Texas State Legislature and first opened its doors to students in September, 1925. Today Texas Tech has an enrollment of more than 8,000. Its campus is one of the largest in America, embracing 2,008 acres and including more than 50 permanent buildings. All of the buildings on the campus are of a Spanish Renaissance design.

The College has 40 academic departments operating within a framework of six schools—agriculture, arts and sciences, business administration, engineering, home economics, and graduate. A staff of more than 1,400 faculty members, administrators, and employees is required to operate the college. It is a growing school with a warm, friendly atmosphere.

Those of you who have not as yet had the opportunity may send your messages of welcome to Epsilon Delta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, Texas Tech College, Lubbock, Texas.

Of exceptional interest on the Texas Tech campus is the West Texas Museum.

The Lubbock Auditorium Coliseum is viewed from across the spacious parking area.

By the end of 1958 Texas Tech plans to have 11 dormitories. Of those now completed Horn Hall, pictured here, is typical.

Undergraduates and Alumni Express Opinions on Matters of Fraternal Interest

IT HAS BEEN suggested that there is a place in THE RAINBOW for a new feature, one providing opportunity for members of the Fraternity to express their views and opinions on subjects of current interest and concern to members of the fraternity world in general, and to Delta Tau Delta in particular.

A general format has been sketched. It is planned that changes will be made from time to time to provide the greatest scope and widest coverage of the subjects under discussion. Generally, the plan will be to have four or five undergraduates, and a like number of alumni, contribute their views on a chosen subject. In the following issue, space will be allocated to print letters and comments which are received in response, either agreeing or disagreeing with the views so expressed. It is hoped that anyone having a subject deemed worthy of discussion will notify THE RAINBOW of his desire to have such subject included in one of the future issues. This first discussion must, of necessity, include only those articles contributed by the four undergraduates and four alumni to whom requests were sent. The March issue will include the replies and comments received in response to these articles.

In spite of the fact that the current contributors were given the very minimum of time in which to tackle the assignment, and that the subject itself inherently requires scholarly treatment and reflection, it is sincerely felt that each of the eight articles herein published represents an outstanding expression of a mature, studied viewpoint.

The subject chosen to inaugurate the feature is that of the Fraternity's responsibility for scholarship. There are those who still share earlier views that as a social group the fraternity has no responsibility for the scholastic achievements or performances of its members. The beliefs of John S. Crouch, Gamma (W. & J.); Bobby W. White, Gamma Iota (Texas); D. Michael Geehan, Mu (Ohio Wesleyan); and Frank Camp, Jr., Delta Kappa (Duke), all on behalf of the undergraduates; and those of Joseph D. Boyd, DePauw, Dean of Men at Northwestern University; Forrest H. Witmeyer, Syracuse, '28, former President of the Eastern Division, and currently a candidate for re-election as commissioner of education for the Syracuse school system; Edwin L. Heminger, Ohio Wesleyan, '48, vice-president of the Northern Division; and Marion K. Coley, Alabama, '41, chapter adviser for Delta Eta and formerly President of the Southern Division, are as follows:

JOHN S. CROUCH

Scholarship is the largest single element associated with a social fraternity. The Fraternity was founded to provide conditions congruent with study. By attempting to satisfy all of the individual's social needs within a limited area, the time that would ordinarily be spent in building up a social life may now be allocated to study. The Fraternity, theoretically, establishes an academic environment; it is up to the members of the Fraternity to bring this ideal into actuality.

Every individual member within the Fraternity is responsible both to himself, and to the Fraternity, in the advancement of his scholastic record. The Fraternity offers, or should offer, the conditions favorable to serious study, but it is the individual's responsibility to realize and benefit from these conditions. The chapter may evidence concern for those members of low academic standing, and may offer advice or encouragement; but the individual men must do their part in meeting the responsibility of study. Generally, a high or low academic standing is the expression of each individual member's attitude toward studies taken collectively.

A standard requirement for pledging, as well as initiation, is the average or median grade set by the institution and determined by the average of the individual's total record for a given semester. This requirement placed upon the individual is a distinct benefit to the Fraternity in that the poorer students are excluded from those men pledged, lowering the "mortality" rate within the pledge class and aiding in the maintenance of the chapter's over-all average. Generally, those men meeting the requirements for pledging have indicated that they have the ability and the initiative to maintain an average, or above average, academic standing. The requirement for initiation is usually a formality; however, in many cases it will exclude those who have lost their initial drive, or who have, for one reason or another, lost sight of their scholastic responsibility both to themselves and to the Fraternity. To raise or lower the requirements from a "C" average would defeat their purpose by excluding valuable men on the one hand, and including less desirable men on the other.

Practically speaking, good scholarship is good publicity. A high academic standing distinguishes the chapter within the Fraternity, as well as within the local institution. The publicity aspect of good scholarship cannot be overlooked, but it is minor in relation to the personal achievements of each individual. For a chapter to be concerned over the "house average" is ridiculous; the concern should be directed at the individual and the individual's average. If every member meets his responsibility to scholarship on the individual level, it is axiomatic that the over-all house average will be high, as this average is merely the collective expression of all the individual achievements within the chapter.

A high scholastic standing indicates many things, both on the individual and the collective levels. A responsibility has been met and realized through a united effort; but the realization of a high scholastic standing is dependent upon a single element, as are all worthwhile things, this element being sacrifice. A man must sacrifice a percentage of his time for the sake of his studies. The amount of time necessarily devoted to studies depends upon the individual and the institution. For some this is a very difficult sacrifice, for others it is no sacrifice at all. The personal attitude toward serious study is all important, and when viewed as a chapter's over-all average it is a determining factor.

The student only has so much time; how he spends his time will largely determine how his chapter will compare with other fraternities on the local level, and within the Fraternity on the national level. A chapter's record in all respects—sports, studies, and activities—is indicative of how the majority of the chapter spends its time. Generally, it requires an exceptional group of men to excel in all respects at the same time. It is widely accepted that when a man engages in sports, or outside activities, his studies fall off to a greater or lesser degree, but the drop is usually noticeable. While a chapter as a whole may excel in one field it follows that it will rarely be more than average in others. For as the majority of individuals goes, so goes the chapter. Since we find that the average individual cannot be expected to excel in all fields at the same time, we find that the ideal has evolved into that of the "well rounded" individual. So also with the Fraternity.

The object is directed at the well-rounded chapter that will be above average in all things, but outstanding in none. For a chapter to excel in one field means sacrificing the many for the one. A high scholastic standing, therefore, does not necessarily indicate that the chapter will, or even should, be outstanding in all fields as well. All endeavors must be integrated into a well balanced and united whole, with the emphasis on studies, but distributed as equally as possible over the other fields. This is a problem that if handled on the individual level, will not arise as a problem on the Fraternity level. It is not up to the Fraternity—it is up to the individual within the Fraternity.

The primary responsibility of the Fraternity for good scholarship is to provide the atmosphere and physical facilities conducive to study. An adequate study hall should be maintained by the Fraternity, and the members should adhere rigorously to the prescribed quiet hours.

Established scholastic requirements which must be met for initiation should be followed. The Fraternity is, and should continue to be, a group of men that are above average in intelligence, moral standards, and ability. To maintain this high standard, requirements for membership must be proportionately high. In most cases then, the scholastic requirements for initiation should be more rigid than those required by the administration.

After a man is initiated the Fraternity's responsibility, although lessened, has not ended. An atmosphere conducive to study must be maintained by the Fraternity for all of its members. If some member fails to meet the high standard of scholarship set by the Fraternity, the members should do all they can to assist the man having difficulty with his studies. At the same time the member falling below the scholastic standard of the Fraternity must make every effort to raise his academic standard of work.

The desire to achieve high standings in scholarship should be motivated by the Fraternity's desire for each member to obtain the maximum benefit from college life. The fundamental reason for the existence of the Fraternity is to give to its members the fullest possible education. Without a doubt the most important single phase of a college education is academic study. Should the Fraternity desire that its members excel in scholastic achievement solely for the glory of the Fraternity, then the Fraternity is not fulfilling its purpose. Certainly the Fraternity benefits from and is strengthened by high grades, but the desire for such grades should be for the benefit of the individual, not the Fraternity. The Fraternity exists for the individual, not the individual for the Fraternity.

There appears to be a direct correlation between a chapter's outstanding scholarship and outstanding achievements in other phases of campus and Fraternity life. Ordinarily, a chapter strong in scholarship will be strong in other activities. This can be credited to the fact that a member who is conscientious enough to make good grades will also be conscious of his obligation to the Fraternity and to the campus. It may be claimed that a person who makes high grades does not have time for other activities. The direct opposite to the claim seems to be true. The people who make the best grades accomplish more work in the Fraternity and on the campus than those who make poor grades.

This is not to say that good students spend more time with the Fraternity, but they do accomplish more work for the Fraternity. An industrious person when given a task will do it immediately because he does not have time to put it off until later. Those who use the "I must study" excuse to shirk a task are usually those who do little studying. The person who is truly busy will excel in scholarship, Fraternity activities, and campus activities. A well rounded chapter that maintains a high scholastic rating will contain these industrious members, hence the chapter will also excel in Fraternity and campus activities.

Our responsibility, as a fraternity, for the scholarship of our members is a primary concern of any chapter. To exactly define this responsibility, however, presents a difficult problem. Just how far can a group infringe upon the freedom of an individual? Should some strict means of enforcement be established to insure good scholarship? It appears that scholastic standards are not something which can be improved through tyrannical methods or military discipline. This defeats the whole purpose of a fraternity. Organization is definitely necessary to attack this problem. Ideally, a fraternity should try to win the scholarship trophy with all the unified enthusiasm that it shows in any intramural athletic event. Since academic achievement is reduced to an individual responsibility in most chapters today, there must be some way developed to deal with the problem as it appears in reality. Just how can we cure the attitude of scholastic mediocrity which is so common throughout our chapters? A few suggestions are presented below:

I. Make good scholarship a criterion for pledging.

Naturally good scholarship can only be attained when the ability is present. The key to getting men with mental ability is to gear the rush program toward those men who possess good scholarship records. This is no problem for most chapters, for in nearly all cases the ability is present. Developing this ability and putting it to use is where the problem lies. A well organized scholarship committee can be helpful in this respect, which leads to a second suggestion.

II. Establish an active scholarship committee.

This committee should be one of the most important functional groups in the chapter. Through a well organized scholarship committee wonders can be done to improve the attitude of a fraternity toward the importance of scholarship.

III. Create incentive.

Because of experience and authority the chapter has a natural means to create incentive for scholarship in the pledge class. However, when dealing with the initiated upperclassman, the methods of the Fraternity are more limited. Here lies the largest task of the scholarship committee. It must originate several ways to instill the incentive in the active members. Scholarship banquets and improvement awards are examples. It can definitely be seen that good scholarship can result from the careful planning and administration of the committee.

IV. Let each member see the true picture of the over-all goal.

Proper attitude toward scholarship is the key to a successful scholastic program in a fraternity. When a member's difficulties can be attributed to his poor attitude, the only way to remedy the situation is to show the individual the meaning and the benefits of good scholarship. When a man finds the actual meaning of his grades in relation to his over-all objectives in life, only then will he become enthusiastic toward the academics. Too often a man loses sight of his true goal, and looks upon grades as an end in themselves. This is as erroneous as it is foolish for anyone claiming to be in any way a scholar. Grades themselves are only an index of the knowledge one may have acquired. The grade-point average is by no means an indication of true knowledge; however, it is the only tangible measure of one's success in college. In this light it should be respected fully.

FRANK

FRANK CAMP, JR.

"I believe in Delta Tau Delta for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity, so that I may better learn and live the truth." This statement from the Delta Creed is the first sentence appearing in the Delt pledge book, Within the Four Stars. Our creed states that one of the reasons justifying Delta Tau Delta's existence is that it is dedicated to the education of its members. If for no other reason, each chapter of this Fraternity should feel a definite responsibility to see that the ideals imbedded in its creed are fulfilled.

Before one joins a fraternity, he often ponders the question: since I am going to college for the primary purpose of learning, should I join a fraternity? Such an opinion of fraternities, as an organization hindering scholarship, is actually quite a prevalent attitude. This opinion is not without justification in many instances. A fraternity must guard itself from falling into the category of a hindrance to scholarship. Furthermore, a positive attitude must be taken toward the stimulation of higher scholastic achievement among its members.

This stimulation actually is put into effect before a boy is pledged by the fraternity. A freshman at Duke, for example, must have an over-all "C" average with no "F's" for his first semester in order to be considered eligible for pledging a fraternity. Although scholarship is definitely an individual matter, this requirement is certainly an influencing factor in the study habits of many freshmen.

After a man is pledged and initiated, however, the fraternity's responsibility toward his scholarship is not ended. In fact, its responsibility is really just beginning. One of the main functions of a fraternity is to provide an atmosphere which is conducive to good scholarship.

In a fraternity as large as this one, there are always brothers who share common interests. When a brother is having trouble with a particular course, there is always someone in the fraternity who can straighten him out. What type of test does this professor give? I just don't understand ionization constants. Which of these English courses should I take next semester? All of these questions and many more are quickly answered by turning to the right brother. Much of what is learned in college is gleaned from such fraternal "bull-sessions."

Included in this scholastic atmosphere is a spirit of competition—not a cutthroat contest, but one of friendly, cooperative sport. Each brother is interested in how he is doing in comparison with the other brothers, and is, in the process, probed on to more studying. Competition exists also among fraternities as a whole. In doing one's own share of making good grades, the fraternity itself achieves good scholarship. Scholastic achievement over other fraternities always leads to a sense of pride in one's own fraternity; hence, the competition itself is a stimulus for learning.

Delta Tau Delta does have a responsibility for stimulating scholastic achievement among its members; it does have a responsibility to uphold its own creation, the Delta Creed. When this responsibility is fulfilled, one may say with pride: "her columns are aspiration and her windows are understanding."

JOSEPH D. BOYD

Every student generation of fraternity men goes through certain experiences, plans, and programs that appear to completely ignore the basic premise upon which their very existence depends. This premise being that colleges and universities furnish the environmental setting and have opened up opportunities for social fraternities to be an integral part of campus life, and this privilege demands a responsibility to be an adjunct to the obtaining of academic knowledge and intellectual skills. As important as social development, inter-personal skills, true brotherhood, and a needed sense of belonging are to the development of a good fraternity man, many chapters of undergraduates across the country merely tolerate, or often ignore, the fact that the best way to "join hands" with an institution of higher learning is to constantly give the proper attention to good scholarship and be a true complement to education.

The word "scholarship" is a distasteful topic in many chapters across the country. Often they will discuss it with great fervor with pledges, but purposely avoid it in active meetings. A defeatist attitude of despair prevails or often a sense of helplessness wins out. It seems so strange that a chapter can unite with reasonable ease to improve its intramurals, its social program, or its pledge-training programs, but it often takes a threat of charter removal or social probation from the national office or the university to excite a chapter to begin thinking of scholarship. This, to put it bluntly, is a sad state of affairs that needs immediate attention.

JOSEPH D. BOYD

Many faculty members, administrators, and other interested persons who are ardent supporters of the fraternity movement are often left speechless when critical outsiders ask them to pin-point what fraternity chapters are doing to help their members achieve the intellectual understandings and academic records that each member is academically capable of making. Yes, we can say they have a scholarship chairman, but often this man functions in a vacuum and if any man needs fellow officer and chapter support in his program it is the scholarship chairman.

Let's analyze the question—why good scholarship? I firmly believe that it is not grades for grades' sake. It does not mean that we set a single specific grade average for all members to meet. It does not mean, in my opinion, that we must be concerned because the alumni, the national office, or the university authorities are bringing pressure upon the chapter. To me a chapter achieves good scholarship and possesses the constructive attitude when it sees to it that each of its members gives proper precedence to the academic matters of class attendance, class preparation, written work in good order, deadlines promptly met, and serious, but ethically correct, preparation for all examinations. A chapter must treat its members fairly, but not alike, when expecting a given academic record. It must ask and expect that each man obtain what is for him a reasonable and proper academic performance. Your house average may be tops on the campus, yet you have a poor scholarship rating if the facts show that the potential of your members far exceeded output. High scholarship ratings rightfully belong to those chapters that can point with pride to the fact that their members achieved an academic record that matches their potential. No professor or fraternity can ask a person to do more than he is capable of doing in academic matters, but they do have the right to insist that every person be encouraged and given time to perform at his proper level.

The typical professor today frequently hears the story from a failing pledge that the fraternity kept him up all night before a test or that demands on his time held his grade down. Often this is rationalization and at other times it is not. The challenge to any chapter is to see to it that it can never be justly criticized for belittling or hindering academic performance. This requires more than lip service. A fraternity with a sound scholarship program must give at least as much time in planning it that goes into a successful rush or social program.

Yes, scholarship has to be given time in chapter meetings and officers must unite themselves to present to the total membership an attitude of concern over the importance of good scholarship. Good scholarship can become a tradition and my experience indicates that a chapter's total program varies in direct proportion to its scholarship record. If you want to get at the heart of the problem, analyze the attitude of your members. Apathy begets mere token expression to academic matters, but real concern begets a changed attitude and soon after scholarship will assume its rightful place in a fraternity's attempt to justify its existence on a campus as a complement to education.

A college or university is an educational institution. Every segment of the total program must contribute to the cultural enrichment of the individual student. Unless a fraternity has a sincere interest in scholarship it fails to justify its position in the academic community!

FORREST H. WITMEYER

Although there are many ways in which the college social fraternity system can be helpful to its pledges and members, there is probably nothing that is more important than the influence fraternities exert, or should exert, on the achievement of good scholarship. And this is especially true of Delta Tau Delta occupying, as it does, such a prominent place among all the college fraternities of America.

In my opinion our Fraternity does an excellent job in maintaining fairly strong requirements for pledges, whereby they cannot be initiated until they meet those standards. Many who might otherwise qualify are thereby automatically deferred or eliminated from membership. And this is entirely as it should be, for otherwise our Fraternity could quickly become a refuge for the "weak" instead of an association for the "strong."

One criticism could be that a certain number of pledges fail to make their required academic standing because some chapters do not do a really good job in helping their pledges in this respect. And study habits formed during the freshman year are often adhered to in later years—for good or for bad. That is why a strong scholastic program for pledges is exceedingly essential.

Another observation I have had is that a certain number of upperclassmen in too many chapters are really a detriment to good academic habits of their fellow underclassmen. Not only do many of them fail to maintain good scholarship themselves, but by example and influence actually hinder and discourage others in this respect. Thus a strong program is needed in every chapter for every member. Otherwise one "bad apple" can spoil many others and ruin the record of an entire chapter.

The desire for good scholarship should by no means be motivated entirely, or even primarily, by a desire for favorable publicity either within or without the Fraternity; although this in itself can well be a good stimulant. Rather, the goal of good scholarship by each chapter and each individual therein should exist mainly because of the many relating benefits resulting.

It has been my observation, for example, that good scholarship makes for a better all-around chapter and individual. True, high scholastic standing alone is not the sole criterion of quality, whether for a chapter or for an individual, but certainly this, coupled with all the other qualities that usually accompany good scholarship, makes for outstanding and notable success—not only during undergraduate days, but throughout life.

Yes, the chapter that ranks high in scholarship will also usually stand high in other facets of campus life, as well as in the Fraternity. It seems to generate a feeling of "achievement" and of "alertness"—of gentlemanliness if you please—that can't possibly exist where scholarship is below par. This is equally true of an entire chapter, or of a single individual.

Thus there exists a constant challenge to the entire fraternity system, and to Delta Tau Delta in particular, to maintain and further improve a program to bring about these desired results; and to inculcate in the hearts and minds of each individual a strong yearning for superior scholarship and all the other good things that are closely related to it.

May this be foremost among your resolutions for the new year 1958!

Scholarship, like citizenship, finds just about everybody in favor of meeting responsibilities. Anyone asked if he considered himself a "good citizen" would immediately respond, "Of course!" and probably be a little insulted at your asking.

Yet, looking at the record we find millions of these so-called "good citizens" not voting, doing much less than their responsibilities call for. Are they really good citizens?

And perhaps we have a tendency not quite to face the facts honestly when we ask, "Are you doing all you can about your chapter's scholarship?"

Every Delt when initiated is entrusted with an opportunity to contribute in some measure to Delta Tau Delta's scholastic record. Every Delt is given the same opportunity. Some add to the Fraternity's glory by improving that scholastic record. Others serve to damage the record. No Delt can escape leaving his mark one way or the other. We either help build or we tear down what others have been building.

Some say, "What's the difference? We're a social fraternity."

Oh, yes! Our purpose is to supplement the academic work in college. But each of our members enrolled in college as a student, with an avowed purpose of receiving an education. Success in most walks of life depends upon how well we perform in given jobs, how well we carry out our responsibilities. And so it is in college, academic performance serves to measure how well the individual is performing, in the task he has assumed.

Creditable scholarship indicates the individual is doing a successful job in the task at hand, getting an education. Less than topflight scholarship indicates either a lack of talent or lack of effective application.

Although the primary purpose of Delta Tau Delta may not be scholastic attainment, the fact that scholarship is the primary responsibility of each of our individual members makes it a group responsibility for the chapter and Fraternity. We cannot escape sharing in this responsibility.

If the individuals in the chapter are doing well in their academic performance, it means our members have successfully assumed this basic campus responsibility. It speaks well of the chapter and offers "proof positive" that Delta Tau Delta is a group of outstanding campus citizens.

Less than topflight scholarship indicates either a lack of talent in the chapter or lack of application in the matter of studying.

A fraternity has a large degree of control over both these factors. Rushing provides a means of selection that should provide the chapter with above-average talent in the field of scholarship. Application to the job of studying can be encouraged by any chapter with a will to excel. (Unfortunately, many chapters not only fail to provide an atmosphere for such serious application to work but actually provide such a variety of diversionary activities that scholarship becomes the perpetually postponed item of business on the day's agenda.)

As one of the few departments in a chapter's operation where performance can be precisely measured in mathematical terms, and be accurately compared with other chapters and fraternities, scholarship takes on an even added importance. Arguments will always continue over what chapter has the best "spirit," the best "fellows," the most campus "leaders," for no exact measure can accurately be applied.

But scholarship must be accounted for each year. It can be pinpointed with exactness. We know what chapters performed better than we did. We can list from top to bottom.

No amount of talking can change the record. It is there for all to see, friends as well as enemies of the fraternity system. If the record is good, it speaks well of the fraternity system. If it is bad, it provides ammunition for the anti-fraternity forces. Certainly, the record could speak much better for fraternities than it does today. A system that claims to bring into membership those with above-average abilities should produce a record of above-average performance. To do otherwise indicates we are either accepting below-average individuals or we are sapping academic efforts into other activities.

The answer lies in each individual Delt accepting his personal responsibility in attempting to leave his mark on the credit side of Delta Tau Delta's scholarship record. Each Delt can improve his own scholastic attainment, work to develop a chapter spirit to excel in scholarship, and help indoctrinate our new initiates with pride in scholastic attainment.

Let the scholastic record of Delta Tau Delta not be something less than we know it should be, but let it be a bright star that shines proudly for all to see and to respect.

MARION K. COLEY

Over the years countless hours of effort and tons of paper have been expended in an attempt to motivate college men toward better scholarship. I do not hope to add any new ideas to the literature covering the subject, but I have been close to the problem for 21 years as a student, interrupted by periods of teaching amounting to some six years, and as a chapter adviser for ten years.

Our particular interest here is fraternity scholarship. It is a serious subject. Fraternities would have little reason to exist at our universities and colleges, or to expect support from school administrations, if they could not justify their claim that they contribute to the over-all education of their members. Yet I do not believe that the fraternity world can be honest with itself and say that it really is measuring up to its responsibilities regarding the fundamental objective of college work, an academic education.

One can get into heated discussions as to just what a chapter's responsibility is with regard to scholarship; but however diverse the arguments, a sound conclusion must take note of the primary reason the chapter's members are in college. If we concede that the vast majority of students are there for the purpose of obtaining an academic education, it follows that any influence which does not encourage this purpose, which does not contribute to it, or certainly which interferes with it, has no place on the college scene.

This then is one reasonable statement of a fraternity's responsibility toward scholarship; to encourage it, to contribute to it, and in any event not to interfere with it. A sound fraternity program should observe this responsibility while it achieves its other goals of offering advantages and experiences which are not included in the academic program.

I do not wish to take any credit away from the many fine chapters that attain a standard of scholastic excellence year after year, but the fact that it is a rare campus on which the all-fraternity average consistently exceeds the all-men's average is fairly convincing proof that we are failing to fulfill our responsibility.

Regardless of how good your chapter's record may be, I think your chapter adviser will tell you that he sometimes gets discouraged when he sees capable students transferring from pre-medicine, pre-law, engineering, or what have you, to some less exacting curriculum because he has not made the grade in his chosen field; or when he commiserates with some disappointed pledge who just missed initiation; or when he tries to answer an irate parent who blames his son's failure on fraternity activities.

School authorities are keenly aware of the situation. Restrictions such as deferred pledging or requirements that freshmen shall live in dormitories are justified by such authorities on the grounds that freshmen need this period to adjust to college life free from the pressures and influences of the fraternity environment. A peek in the administration's closet will often reveal other explanations for such policies, but too often fraternity records fail to justify counter argument.

Even at locations where such restrictions are not imposed by school authorities, chapters are running into the same restrictions imposed by parents, and for the same reasons. What further proof do we need?

If we admit that we have a responsibility toward scholarship, then we must face the question of what can we do to accomplish a reasonable standard of achievement.

One approach to the problem is divided into four phases. First, the chapter should adopt a sincere resolution to make good scholarship a primary goal. This part is easy, but many have attempted it and failed because of inattention to detail and a lack of interest.

Second, there should be a screening of rushees as to their scholastic ability and their attitude toward scholarship. These procedures are well known, but are seldom followed. A chapter by-law setting requirements for initiation higher than those set by the IFC or the school sometimes acts as a screen as well as an incentive. If a chapter's bid talk informs a rushee that the chapter expects a responsible attitude toward academic work, and that in order to insure this attitude, the chapter has established the highest requirements for initiation on the campus, there is a tendency for better students to be attracted to that chapter. Nor does such a program seem to hurt rushing. It presents a challenge which better students are anxious to meet.

In spite of any screening program, a chapter is going to pledge some boys who do not have the capacity or the motivation to perform college work. We should strive to limit their number because their grades hurt the chapter's average, but they are not really our big problem. If the chapter does not drop them, the academic requirements of the school soon weeds them out. Our real problem is to encourage men who have the capacity to develop it properly.

This brings us to the third phase of the problem, fraternity activities which tend to interfere with scholarship. A fraternity man is a busy man. He has, and should have, many interests and activities of a non-academic nature. Too often time devoted to these activities is at the expense of time which should be devoted to study.

This problem can be partially overcome by careful planning of chapter activities to schedule them at such times as will allow a study period each day. For instance, a serenade should not be scheduled on the night after an afternoon intramural football game.

Especial attention should be given to the pledge program. Any requirements for personal service, work assignments, intramural activities, social obligations, work on campus publications and organizations, should be examined to determine whether they allow a reasonable period for uninterrupted study each day. Many a potential campus wheel has never started to turn because he got so far behind in honor points during his freshman year that he could not afford the time to participate in extracurricular activities later.

The last phase is no less important. It is example. A chapter should have little patience with a man who becomes initiated, then sits on his backside in the false belief that he has it made.

Most of us never reach a point where we are not influenced to some degree in our activities by the conduct of those whom we like and respect. It is a bit of a shock to many upperclassmen to look around some day and discover that some young freshman is using him for an example.

Example can be beneficial to a scholastic program in many ways. The outstanding upperclassman who lets it be known that he too has to study, the upperclassman who takes time to help a weaker student understand a problem, the upperclassman who shows consideration for his brothers by observing quiet hours, all help to establish a pattern of conduct which contributes to the scholastic program.

These are the factors I mean when I say that the adoption of a scholastic goal must be sincere. If it is, the phases of the program tend to line up automatically. If it is not, the program will not work. A few men cannot achieve a scholarship goal. It takes the cooperation and participation of the entire chapter. Chapter scholarship boils down to combined individual effort.

Academic standards are being upgraded at almost every college and university to help ease pressures of increasing enrollments. The campus playboy and the academic bum are soon going to be colorful figures of the past. The chapter which coddles these fellows and does not heed the trend is likely to find itself short of manpower in the near future. It is a problem that deserves consideration.

Program for Pittsburgh Takes Form . . .

Memorial Service to Open Centennial Karnea

By WILLIAM P. RAINES, Pittsburgh, '48

SNOW TODAY HIGHLIGHTS the vaulting roof and granite pinnacles of Heinz Memorial Chapel on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh. But snow and winter will be forgotten a few short months from now when hundreds of Delts from throughout the United States and Canada file into this stately Gothic edifice to herald the beginning of the second century of our Fraternity.

On Tuesday evening, August 19, 1958, the Centennial Karnea of Delta Tau Delta will open with a memorial service at Heinz Chapel. Here, only 40 miles from Bethany, West Virginia, where Delta Tau Delta began, the Fraternity will pay tribute to the wisdom and perseverance of the eight who founded her and the countless thousands who have contributed to her hundred years of growth and progress.

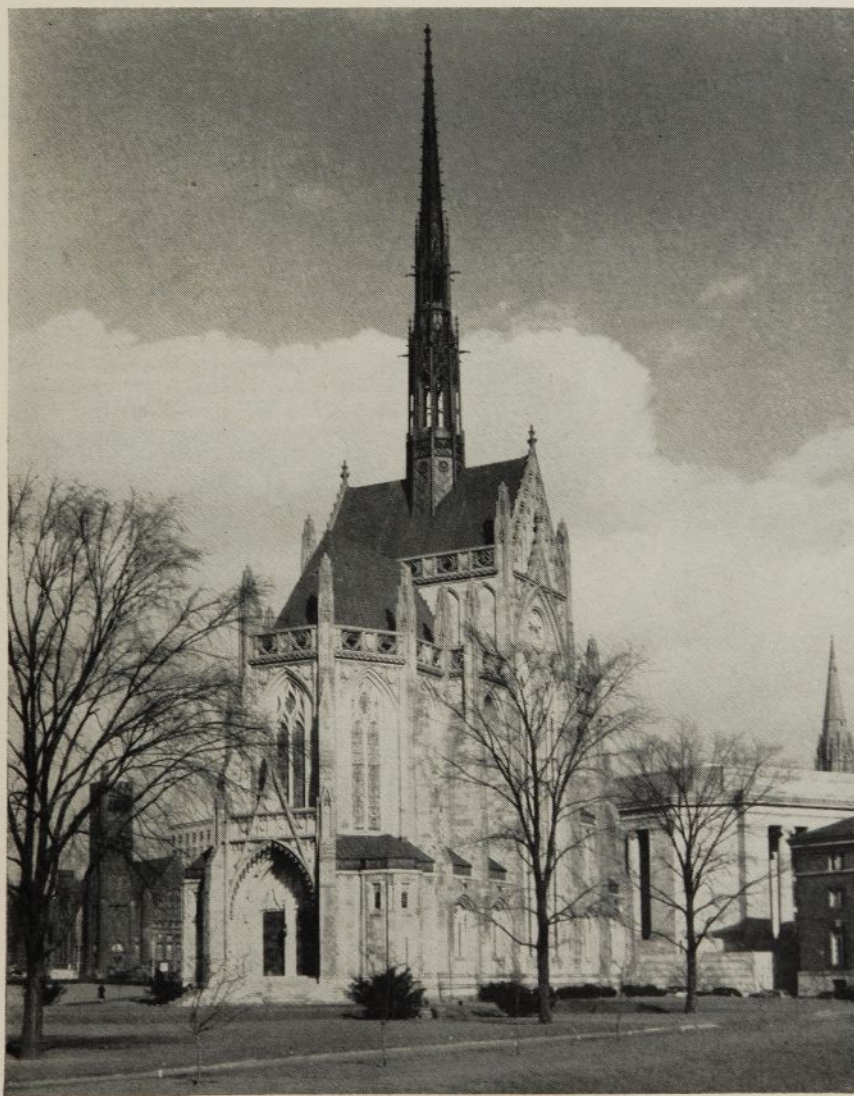

Following the impressive opening ceremonies, the Sixty-fourth Karnea will move rapidly through five days of business sessions, round-table conferences, luncheon and dinner programs, and vocational discussions.

But the Centennial Karnea won't be all work, not by a long measure, if the plans of General Chairman NORMAN MACLEOD, Pittsburgh, '17, and his committee are any indication.

Included in the program will be an afternoon of golf, tennis, and swimming at Pitt's beautiful Wildwood recreational center, capped by an outdoor barbecue and an informal dance.

For those more interested in "spectator sports," there will be an evening program featuring Delt "greats" from the baseball, football, track, and basketball arenas. A National League baseball game at the Pittsburgh Pirates' Forbes Field ball park will complete the "sports Night" festivities.

A Centennial Smoker, the traditional model initiation, and the Karnea Banquet are just a few of the other activities planned to keep interest at a peak throughout the convention.

In preparing for the Karnea, the committee is counting heavily upon the support and assistance of Delt undergraduate chapters in the Tri-State area surrounding Pittsburgh.

In addition to Gamma Sigma at the University of Pittsburgh, Delta Beta at Carnegie Institute of Technology, and Gamma at nearby Washington and Jefferson College, district chapters include Alpha at Allegheny College, Gamma Delta at West Virginia University, and Tau at Penn State University.

Across the border in Ohio are Zeta at Western Reserve, Delta Omega at Kent, Gamma Upsilon at Miami University, Beta at Ohio University, Beta Phi at Ohio State, Chi at Kenyon College, and Mu at Ohio Wesleyan.

With such an environment of fine

Delt chapters, the Karnea Committee is assured of a solid nucleus around which to build record-breaking attendance and participation by undergraduates from all of the Fraternity's 87 chapters.

But the Centennial Karnea will be of great significance and interest to alumni as well as undergraduate Deltas. With topflight speakers, a full and varied program, and the opportunity for renewal of acquaintances, the Pittsburgh Karnea will be a true Mecca to alumni from all over the Delt world.

Now is the time to plan your vacation schedule for next year to make sure you include Pittsburgh for the Centennial Karnea. Just make a note on your calendar—"Pittsburgh, August 19-23, 1958."

Delta Tau Delta Fraternity—Centennial Development Fund

DEAR BROTHER DELT:

The Loyalty Fund of Delta Tau Delta was established in 1926. It represents the endowment of the Fraternity. Over 80 per cent of the Loyalty Fund is invested in first mortgages on chapter house properties.

Loans from the Loyalty Fund are secured by first mortgages on our chapter houses. The amount of a loan must be commensurate with the undergraduate chapter's ability to pay. It is, therefore, not possible for the Fraternity wholly or to a large extent to finance the construction of new houses when secondary financing is required. This situation has greatly handicapped newly established chapters of the Fraternity, which do not have a sufficient alumni body to provide by contributions the required equity for chapter house construction. It has also deterred the expansion policy of the Fraternity, as the necessary financing is not available to create proper housing for possible new chapters on campuses where the Fraternity desires to be represented.

In view of these circumstances, the 1956 Karnea by constitutional amendment created the Delta Tau Delta Centennial Development Fund. This Fund is designed to make available to recently or newly established chapters secondary financing for the construction of chapter houses. In addition to the Loyalty Fund first mortgage, a second mortgage would be secured from the Centennial Development Fund. No interest would be charged on the second mortgage until the maturity date of the first mortgage, at which time the second mortgage would be amortized over a definite period of time. The Centennial Development Fund would thus be a revolving fund, available for other chapter house projects of the future.

Under the Constitution, expenditures from the Fund may be made only upon a 7/10ths vote of the Board of Directors of the Fraternity and the Centennial Development Fund Advisory Committee.

The Board of Directors of the Fraternity has authorized an appeal to the alumni of Delta Tau Delta for contributions to the Centennial Development Fund. Contributions may be made on an annual basis in an amount of $25 or more, cancellable at will.

The asking is modest. It is intentionally so, as the Fraternity recognizes that the first concern of many alumni will be contributions to their own chapter projects. If, however, 10,000 Deltas annually contribute the modest sum of $25 to the Fund, a million and a quarter dollars would be available over a period of five years.

The creation of the Centennial Development Fund is another first for Delta Tau Delta in fraternity annals. It comes at the threshold of the second century of our history. The success of the Fund is of vital concern to the future welfare of the Fraternity. With the Fund we can build a greater and stronger Delta Tau Delta.

It has always been the prayer of every Good Delt that the influence of our Fraternity may be good, both for time and for eternity. With this in mind, we call upon every Good Delt to make his pledge to the Centennial Development Fund.

Fraternally yours,

Francis M. Hughes

1957 All-Delt Football Squad

Select Your Own All-Delt All-American Eleven From This Squad
Of One Hundred Fifteen Candidates

GARY VANGALDER
Stanford End

JOHN SOMMERS, end; TOBIN FINIZIO, fullback; and DON EUGENIO, halfback, sparked Hillsdale to an undefeated season and a "bowl" bid.

ATTEMPTING TO SELECT an All-Delt eleven from the many fine candidates sent in by the various chapters for 1957 would be a job anyone in his right mind would refrain from attempting. There are too few of these footballers we have had the privilege of watching, either on the spot or by way of TV, during the fall. To be assured of a squad of 115 men such as these one might be induced to undertake a head coach position, and not spend too much time with worries as to who might appear on your schedule. This year, as last, at least five Delts led their squads as team captain or cocaptain. In the nationally televised "game of the week" between Stanford and Northwestern this September, Delt Bob McKiever was present for the toss of the coin as Northwestern's team captain, and Gary Van Galder of Stanford, also a Delt, was one of the cocaptains for Stanford. In addition to Bob and Gary, 14 other Delts saw action in the game and 11 of the 22 players on the field for the opening kick-off were Delts. Other Delt captains were Pat Ewing, DePauw; Keith Brown, Kenyon; Earl James Lewis, W. & L.; and John Beese, cocaptain with Keith Brown, of the Kenyon eleven. Delt representation was largest at the ends and guards and was slimmest at quarterback and fullback.

Here is the complete Delt roster submitted to THE RAINBOW:

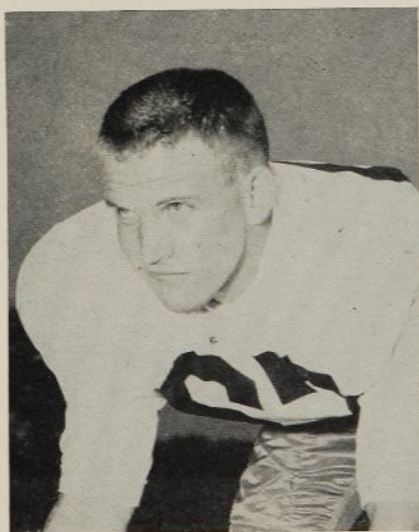

FULLBACKS

Although there were only six Delts listed as fullbacks, half of the total were first-string men, and one, Tobin Finizio of Hillsdale, was an honorable mention selection for the all-Michigan Intrastate Athletic Association team.

First String: Keith Evans, DePauw; Joe Miluski, Brown; and Tobin Finizio, Hillsdale.

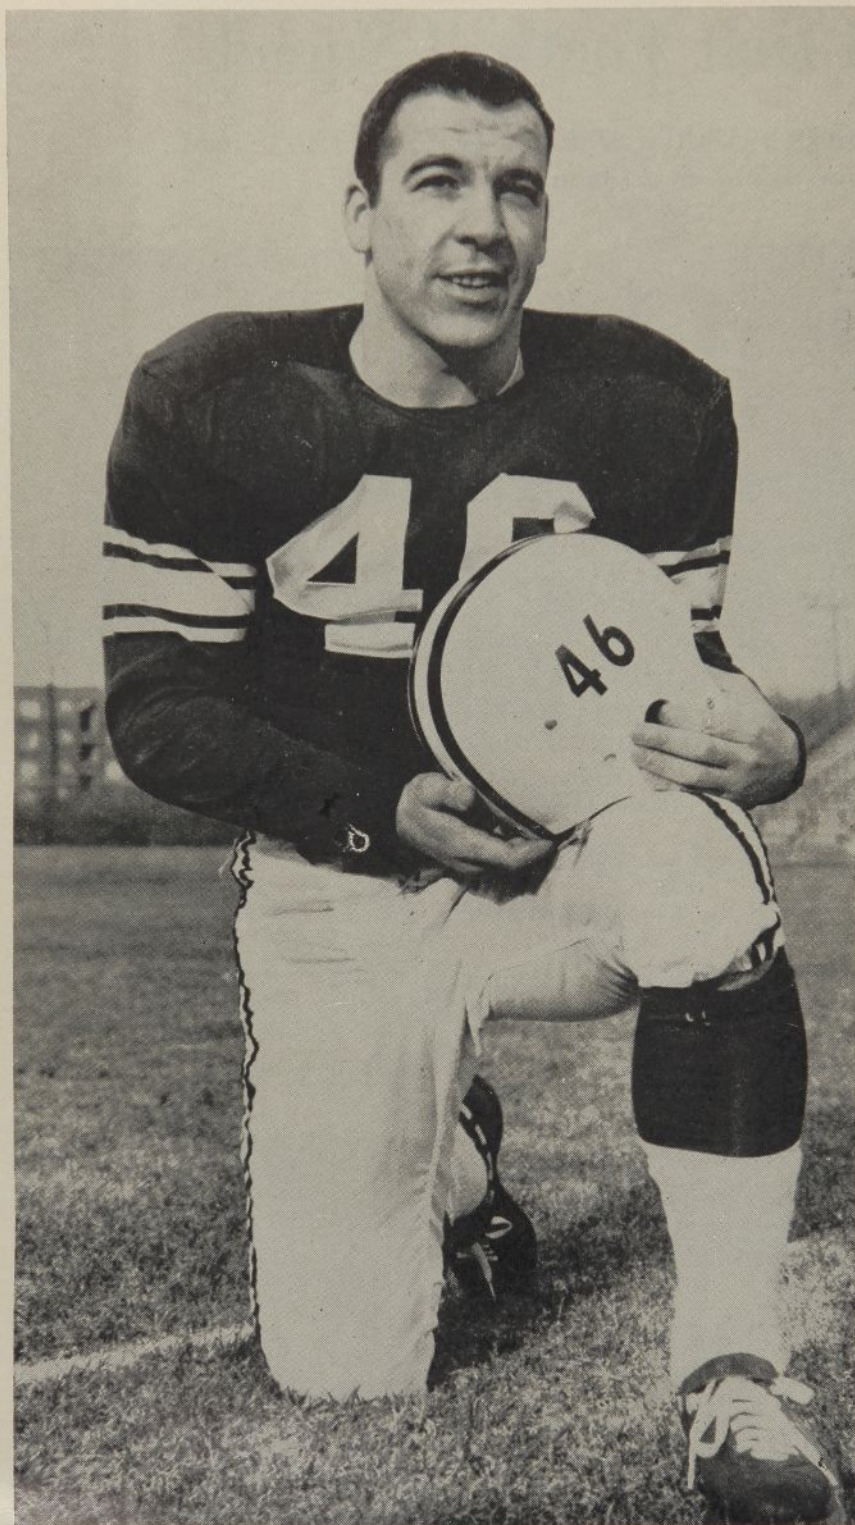

Reserve: Don Duncan, U.C.L.A.; Ernest A. Arnold, Dartmouth; and Mike Comar, Hillsdale.

HALFBACKS

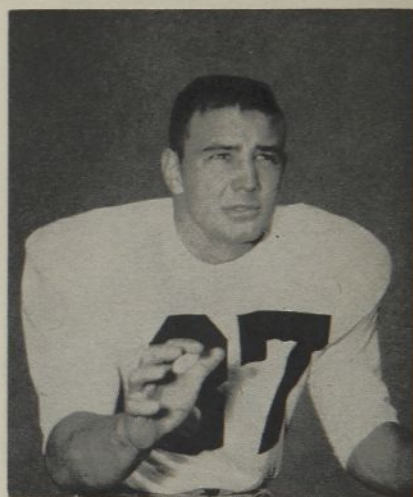

Our squad is strong at halfback, not only numerically but in talent, too. There are 26 halfbacks listed, including such national standouts as Northwestern's Bob McKiever, an All Big Ten selection; Bill Chorske of Minnesota and Al Harrington of Stanford; George Gorgodian and John McTigue of Brown, both strong candidates for winning Ivy League laurels as leading rusher and pass receiver, respectively. Don Eugenio, Hillsdale, was all-Michigan Intrastate Athletic Association halfback, and Elton Couch, Texas Christian, participated in the Cotton Bowl game.

First String: Jim Lee, Baker; Bob Meyers, Missouri; Bob Morrill, Ohio Wesleyan; Bill Chorske, Minnesota; Bob McKiever, Northwestern; Jeri McMillin and Al Harrington, Stanford; Bill Young and Clark Lea, W. & L.; John McTigue and George Gorgodian, Brown; Hal Traviolia, Wabash; Larry Naviaux, Nebraska; Tim Behrendt, Ohio University; and Don Eugenio, Hillsdale.

JOE MILUSKI

QUARTERBACKS

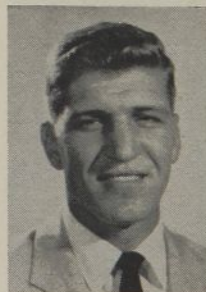

Boyd Dowler, Colorado, star of the 1957 Orange Bowl game leads the Delt quarterback entrants.

First String: Dowler, Colorado.

Reserve: Frank Deleone, Tufts; Sid Garber, Stanford; Ed Hino, George Washington; Tony Petrarca, Brown; and Charles Smith, Nebraska.

squad. Eight of the 13 are first string and Baker's Chuck Brown gained honorable mention on the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference team.

GUARDS

The Delts are well fortified at guard with a total of 25 men. Twelve of these are first-string performers. Kenyon's John Beese, in addition to being one of his team's cocaptains, was voted to his conference all-star team and was a selection on the Little All-American team. Paul Furnish, Butler, was an all-conference guard.

TACKLES

The tackle contingent includes nine first stringers and six reserves. Jim Harmony, Albion, was a second team selection on the all-Michigan Intrastate Athletic Association squad.

First String: Andy Cverko, Northwestern; Harmony, Albion; Paul Adams, Illinois; Armond DeWeese and John Kidd, Stanford; Don Roda, Nebraska; Jim Woods, Ohio University; Bill Trozzo, West Virginia; and Jim Bibb, W. & J.

Reserve: Roger Fagerholm,

U.C.L.A.; Jerry Winters, Stanford; Jimmy Guinn, Texas; Don Penn Moore, Kentucky; Roger Seals, Florida; and Tom Romanik, Pittsburgh.

ENDS

Of the 24 ends on the Delt squad, 12 are on the first string, four are team captains, including Pat Ewing, DePauw; Keith Brown, Kenyon; Gary Van Galder, Stanford; and Earl James Lewis, W. & L.; Ewing was selected to the Little All-American team, and Scott Mann, Baker, was chosen on his conference all-star team and to the Methodist All-American team. Bob Jewett, star of the Rose Bowl game two years ago and out of action most of last season with a leg injury, was back in service for Michigan State this year, and Delzon Elenburg participated in the Cotton Bowl game with his Texas Christian teammates.

Gamma Tau and Beta Alpha Win Publication Awards

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE chapter publication awards for the college year 1956-1957 has been made as follows:

FIRST PLACE

Gamma Tau (Kansas)

HONORABLE MENTION

Beta Kappa (Colorado)

Beta Upsilon (Illinois)

NEWSPAPER FORMAT

FIRST PLACE

Beta Alpha (Indiana)

HONORABLE MENTION

Beta Psi (Wabash)

Nu (Lafayette)

Gamma Zeta (Wesleyan)

Undergraduate chapter publication awards were first established in 1937. The awards are made in two divisions, magazine format and newspaper format, with first-place awards of $50 cash, to be invested in furnishings or equipment suitable for a chapter hall or chapter house, for the winner in each division.

Chapters using professional services in publishing their newspapers or magazines are not eligible for first-place awards, but the committee is authorized to grant honorable mention for such publications.

Winners are selected on the basis of general appeal and interest of material to alumni, or to rushees if the publication is also sent to prospective members; attractiveness in typographical layout and printing; and the quality of writing and editing. The number of issues published during the school year enters into consideration; however, issues in excess of three will not influence the award.

Last year duplicate awards were presented to Mu (Ohio Wesleyan) and Gamma Iota (Texas) in the magazine format division. The committee declined selecting a winner in the newspaper format division because it was felt that none of the entries submitted measured up, in either frequency of publication or in general effectiveness of presentation, to the standards established by previous award winners.

Beta Alpha's prize-winning newspaper was edited by Raymond Cooper, assisted by Don Wright, and with Wayne TenCate in charge of photography. The paper was published in four issues: October, December, March, and May. The newspapers of Nu and Beta Psi were given honorable mention for the second consecutive year.

Gamma Tau's magazine, The Keltz of 1957, gained honorable mention last year and was this year elevated to the prize-winning position.

The committee was of the opinion that Beta Delta (Georgia), although not selected for mention in either the newspaper or magazine format divisions, was entitled to special mention for its one-page rushing pamphlet. It was felt by the committee that this pamphlet was about as effective and well-handled as any publication of this particular type which had ever been presented to them.

Pitt Runner Gains National Notice

By JAN SWENSEN, Pittsburgh

Pitt's JIM DONAHUE noses out Notre Dame's JOE FORMAN. FORMAN ran for Canada in Melbourne Olympics.

SPORTSWRITERS all over the country will have their eyes on a stocky Delt from Pitt named JIM DONAHUE when track season rolls around next spring.

Brother Donahue, who didn't even go out for the track team when he started at Pitt, has developed into one of the finest sprint men in the country. Jimmy started the indoor season last year by breaking the Allegheny Mountain Association record for the 50-yard dash with a time of 5.3 seconds. Since then his times have been steadily reduced.

Last year in intercollegiate competition, Jim ran the 100- and 220-yard in five meets. He was undefeated in the 220 and won four out of five in the 100. His best times have been 9.7 in the 100 and 21.1 in the 220.

At the ICAAAA meet in New York City last May, Jim was dubbed the "Cinderella Kid" because of his rapid rise to track prominence. He was listed as the best sophomore prospect in the meet.

As far as Fraternity athletics go Jim quarterbacked the Gamma Sigma football team to second place in interfraternity competition last year. The prospects look good for him to pass us to the title this year.

Mu to Campaign for New Shelter

By JOHN PORTER, Ohio Wesleyan

ON JUNE 8, 1957, the new house committee, a temporary sub-committee of the house corporation, voted unanimously to initiate a campaign to build a new chapter house for Mu.

The reasons for this decision are numerous: the present Shelter is crowded beyond capacity; a number of rival fraternities have built, or soon will build, new houses; the 50-year-old

Shelter is naturally beginning to show signs of age.

The financial campaign will be launched in early winter, according to JOHN RAINE, Mu, '50, chairman of the new house committee. The new Shelter will be constructed on a University owned site. BRANCH RICKEY, Mu, '04, has volunteered to serve as honorary chairman of the campaign.

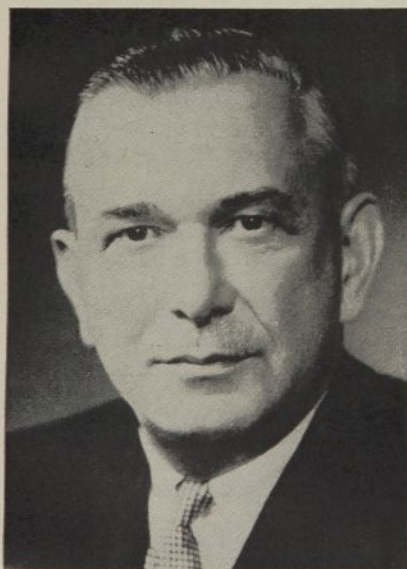

From the Editor's Mailbag

OTTO SILHA, Minnesota, '40, vice-president and business manager of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, has been named the new chairman of the Minnesota Business Development Advisory Commission, by Minnesota's Governor Orville Freeman. Mr. Silha, a former vice-president of the Northern Division, has been a member of the commission since June, 1953. In addition to his alumni activities in the Minneapolis area and at the University of Minnesota, he has been active in the Minneapolis Area Development Corp., Minneapolis Aquatennial, Citizens League of Minneapolis and Hennepin County, and many other state and community activities.

as president of the bank. Mr. Gelbach joined Central National Bank as a vice-president in 1938, following his election as a director the previous year. At the present time he is vice-president of the Ohio Bankers Association, state chairman for Ohio of the Savings Bond Division of the United States Treasury department, and has served as chairman of the board of regents of the Graduate School of Banking of Rutgers University.

Mr. Gelbach has long been active in civic activities in Cleveland. He is a past chairman of the Cleveland Chapter of the American Red Cross, and is a director of a number of companies in the Cleveland area.

DONALD J. RUSSELL, Stanford, '21, president of the Southern Pacific Co., was recently selected as the winner of the National Defense Transportation Association's award for "the person who has made the most outstanding contribution in the preceding year to the solution of emergency transportation problems affecting national defense."

Typical of Mr. Russell's contributions to military and civilian transportation was the development of an alternate railroad route around Los Angeles, assuring uninterrupted flow of rail traffic past the city to and from the harbor and other vital areas.

Mr. Russell's home is in San Francisco.

Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio, last June conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws upon CLAUDE W. PETTIT, Ohio State, '11. Two Delt members of Ohio Northern's faculty present for this honor accorded Judge Pettit were DR. KEITH MYERS, Iowa, '41, and DR. OTIS GAMES, Cincinnati, '20.

Judge Pettit is Probate Judge of Hardin County, Ohio, and is probably better known in the legal circles of northwestern Ohio than any other man.

has been named chairman of the business division of the 1958 March of Dimes in the Chicago area. He was a fighter pilot during World War II and flew with Chennault's Flying Tigers in China.

As business division chairman, Mr. Sheridan will work with some 300 top business leaders in soliciting 67 industrial, commercial, and professional categories for the Chicago area drive, which begins January 2. Last year this division accounted for nearly 18 per cent of the total amount contributed during the campaign.

NEAL L. CRESWELL, DePauw, '50, was chairman of the Boise, Idaho, Junior Chamber of Commerce prize-winning "Decisions—1957" program. At the Jaycee convention, held in Milwaukee in June, the Boise program was judged best in the nation. As a reward, Mr. Creswell received a trip to New York City to accept an award presented by the Foreign Policy Association.

The object of the program was to better inform the public on foreign policy, to get them interested in it, and to get them to register their opinions. To achieve this aim, Mr. Creswell recruited 175 people, organized neighborhood discussion groups, and kept them supplied with study material. He is in the insurance business in Boise, has served as an officer of the Boise Valley Alumni Chapter, and has been chairman of many Delt functions in Boise.

BRIGADIER GENERAL ELBERT DE-COURSEY, Kentucky, '24, Commandant of the Army Medical Service School, has been appointed to the Council of Research and Education of the American Hospital Association. The purpose of the Council is to guide and give help to the program of the Association's educational and applied research activities.

General DeCoursey was director of the Army group at Nagasaki investigating effects of the atomic bomb in 1945. Later he was a member of the Naval Medical Research Section in the radiological safety section at Bikini in 1946. He is a member of the American Association for Advancement of Science, American College of Physicians, College of American Pathologists, and a member of its board of governors, the Radiation Research Society, the International Academy of Pathology, the American Medical Writers Association, and many other professional organizations.

WHITNEY G. MORSE, Stanford, '37, has been appointed a trust officer of Bishop Trust Co., Honolulu. Mr. Morse first went to Honolulu in 1938 to join Hawaiian Electric Co. He was in military service from 1942 to 1946. Following his discharge from the army, he joined the Bank of Hawaii, working in various departments of the bank, and rising to the position of assistant manager of the Waikiki branch.

The appointment of RICHARD E. HOIERMAN, Miami, '48, as southwestern district representative for the Army-Navy-Air Force Journal, has been announced by the publisher of the Journal, an unofficial but authoritative 94-year-old publication which circulates among officers of the armed forces throughout the world.

Mr. Hoierman has been active in advertising, public relations, and publication work in Dallas, Texas. He has served most recently as an account executive with the McCarty Company of Texas. He came to that post from Dravo Corporation, Pittsburgh, where he was manager of advertising and public relations. He was formerly associated with the Cooper-Bessemer Corporation.

ROBERT L. SHERMAN, Missouri, '39, has been named supervisor of training for the New York Life Insurance Company's Pacific region. He has been a sales training assistant in the company's home office in New York City since 1955.

Mr. Sherman is a Chartered Life Underwriter and has been associated with New York Life since 1949.

A. S. CHALFANT, Pittsburgh, '33, has been appointed director of steel sales for A. M. Byers Company. In his new post, Mr. Chalfant will head up the firm's recently expanded steel sales department.

At the 79th general conference of the National Guard Association of the United States, BRIGADIER GENERAL G. ROBERT DODSON, Oregon, '26, was unanimously elected secretary of the Association.

General Dodson is chief of staff of the Oregon air national guard. In civilian life he is an executive of the Jantzen Knitting Mills.

GEORGE E. BENTLEY, Emory, '50, has been named as manager of the Trade Development and Agriculture Departments of the Greater Tampa Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Bentley is a Korean veteran. He moved to Tampa in 1956 from Atlanta where he had been advertising manager of a supermarket chain. He was a supervisory employee of a Tampa insurance company prior to his recent appointment.

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Alabama—Delta Eta

Delta Eta has kicked off what promises to be the most successful year since the founding of the chapter. With the largest pledge class on campus, Delta Eta is second in membership out of 26 fraternities at Alabama. The 30 Delta Eta pledges include 2 high school student body presidents, 4 athletic captaincies, 2 valedictorians, a golden gloves champ, 2 Senior class officers, 2 Boys State representatives, 4 yearbook editors, a Hi-Y president, and an all-state football player. These spirited pledges show promise of achieving even greater fame in college, both as a class and individually.

Delta Eta has taken the lead in Alabama intramurals, under the able hand of Sports Chairman JERRY SEWELL. Winning the track meet gave Delta Eta another trophy to add to the overburdened mantel. The football and volleyball seasons are well under way and Delta Tau Delta holds first place in the league at the time of this writing.

Brother DAVID JACKSON of Tuscaloosa was elected president of the School of Arts and Sciences, climaxing a vigorous campaign by the whole chapter.

Campus publications, under the influence of GERRY WADDELL, MAX POPE, JACK YORK, TENNENT LEE, and many of the pledges, are assuming a place on campus never before achieved.

Delta Eta, believing that all work and no play makes anybody a dull boy, has social plans to top any. We would like to hear from any alumni whose address might have been misplaced so we may notify you of the coming parties and get together.

GERRY WADDELL

Albion—Epsilon

Under the able leadership of DAN CHAPMAN Epsilon began the new semester in grand style with the initiation of 27 of the best men on Albion's campus. Although it was a large group, organization under the leadership of SAM BUTHER made a harmonious and successful "Help Week" possible. Many improvements were made around the Shelter.

The Epsilon Delt, chapter publication, was put together this summer by KIRK FLACK and his staff consisting of BOB TERRY, JIM TAUP, LOUIE MEEKS, KIP PEITRICH, TOM STINSON, DAVE SUTTON, JOHN KRSUL, LARRY MANNING, and DAN CHAPMAN. The magazine depicts chapter organization and spirit with side glances into life as Deltas live it at Albion. Articles such as "Metamorphosis of a Delt," "Varsity Athletics," "Intramural Athletics," "Party Time," and "Campus Achievements," has helped a great deal in our rushing program in the past and all indications are that it is going to help a great deal this year.

Albion's winning float.

The big issue at Homecoming this year was that of a new Shelter. Through the hard work of LARRY MANNING and his alumni committee, hand in hand with the alumni of the Albion area, we have succeeded in having plans drawn up for our new Shelter. Mr. BESSERT, alumnus of '32 has incorporated some of the most desirable characteristics of other fraternity houses throughout the United States into our plans. With the help of our alumni we hope to build it within a few years.

Considered almost second to our alumni and house building program this Homecoming were the float and house decorations. Under the leadership of DONALD CRANDALL and his committee of

BOB BARTLETT, RICK SMITH, JOHN KRAFT, CHACK BLANK, and JOHN CARYLE the Epsilon Deltas showed their leadership on campus by winning all three trophies offered to the fraternities on campus for Homecoming. We took firsts for the best fraternity float, the best float in the parade, and the best house decoration. We hope to continue this record through the remainder of the school year.

JOE TAYLOR, scholarship chairman, came out with the great news after figuring our grade average for the last semester that our average was higher than last year when we were first on campus and second highest in the Fraternity. Not one active was under a "C" average and we had three men with a straight "A" average. We now hold about seven of the first 12 places in campus scholarship. With this record we hope to continue our good marks and better the average even more.

JOHN EMAN is heading study breaks at the Shelter. Twice a week we have a different group of freshmen over for cocoa and doughnuts. This is our way of getting to meet and know every freshman on campus. By the time rushing comes around we have a list of only the best on Albion's campus. This has worked wonders in the past and we are hoping for the same this year.

This is all from Epsilon for the first month of the new school year but we expect to have more by the next issue of THE RAINBOW.

DONALD CRANDALL

Allegheny—Alpha

There were many new additions to Alpha Chapter at Allegheny. The boys came back a week early to redecorate their rooms. A new stair carpet has been added. BOB SWANSON is designing a pattern for tiling the Choctaw room. A new cook has been employed and the brothers enjoy the food very much. WYNDHAM RIOTTE was elected to finish the vacated term of recording secretary and AL MAURO was elected assistant rush chairman.

Since the beginning of the year we have pledged two new upperclassmen. They are TOM BENDER and DOMINICK BENGIVENGO. The brothers also instituted a new system for rushing freshmen, and it has thus far proved very effective.

The brothers have also been active in sports. PETE PETERSON and JOE LEECH are playing varsity football. Brothers BELL, BROOKS, KENNEDY, MATHEWS, and MYERS are playing varsity soccer. In intramurals, the Delts have also been at the top of the heap. Halfway through the season, we are tied for second place in football. The tennis team, which consists of Brothers NEUBAUER, CHRIS SMITH, SIEFFERS, and VANCE, is thus far undefeated with the championship play-offs coming up.

Socially the Delts have not had any parties except for their annual fall tea. On November 9, however, we are planning to have a Charles Addams party. Homecoming week end saw many alumni back for the alumni banquet.

On the campus, the Delts have also gotten off to a good start. DAVE BRAY played the role of Captain Fisby in "Teahouse of the August Moon." BILL HRACH is the student leader of the ROTC band. The color guard is composed of Brothers JOHNSON, MCKNIGHT, CONGLETON, and WALDINGER.

The building fund drive for a new Shelter is still making progress by leaps and bounds under the leadership of Brother HARTWELL. We hope to have a new Shelter in the near future.

BRUCE BELL

Auburn—Epsilon Alpha

Starting off a good year at A.P.I., the chapter came back in full force and pitched in to out-rush every fraternity on campus. The result was a group of 22 outstanding men. We feel that this is the best pledge class that we have ever had at Epsilon Alpha. Great thanks to Rush Chairman FRANK PRICE for his successful handling of rush.

Two unusual parties highlighted the week: a Calypso Party with the Alpha Gamma Deltas as our guests and a Playboy Party for which the Shelter was decorated in true playboy fashion. Other rush activities included a Delta Carlo gambling party and a first hand film of the Sebring race.

With Homecoming just around the corner, we are planning an alumni meeting on the same week end. So far, we have had great response from the alumni, and it looks like the meeting will be well attended. Plans are under way for a spectacular Homecoming decoration which we hope will top any on campus.

Fall quarter finds Epsilon Alpha's B.M.O.C.s active in every phase of campus activity. Student Body president, KEN MATTINGLY, has been busy reorganizing the student government setup while FRANK PRICE has been doing a good job as assistant advertising editor of Auburn's weekly paper, The Plainsman. BOB LYNN, superintendent of organizations on the President's cabinet, is in charge of all campus committees. We are proud of these men for nailing down these top positions.

DEWITT BURNS

Baker—Gamma Theta

Delts at Baker U. are continuing the leadership traditions established by our predecessors.

On the varsity gridiron five Delts are starting for the Baker Wildcats that are undefeated at this time. The two coaches, KARL SPEAR and JIM IRICK are also Delts. First-stringers are CHUCK BROWN, SCOTT MANN, LYLE HABERBOSCH, JIM PARAMORE, and JIM LEE. Five more Delts are members of the 35 man squad. They are: DON WEBER, RICH McDOWELL, CARL ANDERSON, BUD SPEAR, and HARLEY RANEY.

LARRY WILSON, DON WEBER, and JARRETT CLINTON were elected to the presidencies of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes respectively. The fourth Delt presidential candidate, Pledge JEB BARHAM was defeated by five votes in the freshman elections.

October 27 the house corporation met to give final approval to the site and plans for a new Shelter at Baker.

Gamma Theta's 68th Annual Chicken Fry was observed October 5. Approximately 130 people, including many alums, were on hand to see the traditional 25-foot pyramid log fire and Choctaw walk-around. Dates were branded with the Delt Greek letters in white paint.

We have completed our softball schedule and are assured of at least a tie for our 6th straight intramural softball championship. We were in third place before the final round.

Our 19-man pledge class contains scholars, athletes, musicians, and campus romances.

CHUCK CAYWOOD has one of the two male parts in the all-campus fall play, "Silver Chord," by Sidney Howard.

Delta Tau has men in nearly every phase of activity on campus, including clubs and musical groups such as choir and glee club.

MEL HAWK

Brown—Beta Chi

This fall the Beta Chi Delts are proud to display their fine array of campus and sports leaders. The focus is on the prospect of a fine football season to which the Delts will largely be responsible, but we don't want this to blot out the other honors achieved by the Beta Chi men. These range from service commanders to volleyball champions.

Talk this year is centered around three top Delt stars on the football squad: Halfbacks JOHN MCTIGUE and GEORGE GORGODIAN, and Quarterback TONY PETRARCA. John was last year's leading ground gainer at Brown while George compiled the best average per carry. The two have taken up where they left off last year and appear to be on their way to an even better season in '57. Tony, last year's freshman general, is a pinpoint passer and the imaginative quarterback who will pass from any spot on the field. Unfortunately Fullback JOE MILUSKI and Center DICK CAROLAN, letter winners last year, suffered pre-season injuries which will probably keep them out for the rest of the '57 campaign. Tony has a good pair of receivers in BILL HAYES and DICK ADAMS. Bill is a big 205-pounder with a lot of speed and ability. He has already shown that he is a big asset to the team and figures prominently in Brown's future plans.

In Brown's big 21-20 victory over Yale this fall McTigue and Gorgodian paced the attack. The two gained over 200-yards in total offense culminating their efforts with a pair of touchdowns. John scored his late in the first half to tie the score at seven-all while George slammed over early in the third period to put Brown out in front 14-7. The two share punting chores with John averaging 41.7 yards in four boots while George has an impressive 36.8 average in five. In short, Brown's outcome in '57 will largely depend on the performances of its Delt representatives so we're looking forward to a sensational year.

In other activities Delts CHARLIE

BROWN BATCHELDER and JOE MILUSKI are the undergraduate commanders of the Air Force and Navy units respectively. Charlie, as the cadet colonel, has the responsibility of leading the 200 cadets and supervising their program to enable them to become future lieutenants in the USAF. His job also entails liaison work in co-ordinating administration policy with the cadet activities. Inspections and battalion review are also carried out by the colonel. Joe's duties as NROTC Commander follow along the same lines as those of Charlie's except that the Navy complement is somewhat larger with 350 undergraduates, thus entailing more staff work, headaches, and red tape.

Seniors JIM HACKETT and BRUCE FOWLER added two presidencies to the Beta Chi folder. Jim was elected president of the Brown-Pembroke Newman club and plans a vigorous expansion of the club's activities. For example Jim organized his group into units and sent them into the various districts of Providence to campaign for the United Fund. The competency of Jim's leadership is displayed in the collection figures—the Newman club led all other clubs in contributions to the fund drive. Bruce heads up the Brown Christian Association which organizes such things as the Orphan's Clothing Drive and parties for underprivileged children. The high light on the Association's schedule is the Christmas party given for all the Providence Welfare Center's children.

Intramural athletics have always been a Delt stamping ground and this year is no exception. Football is still in progress with the Beta Chi club still in strong contention but the real merit thus far goes to the volleyball team captained by WALLY SCHWARTZ. The volleyballers won the Athenian League championship and stand a good chance of sweeping the University championships.

The social season was opened with a rush after the Columbia game when Beta Chi held its first party of the new year. Social Chairman JERRY CANTINI has an active fall program scheduled. Jerry has a party planned for every home game and a band for every home Saturday night. The high light of the season is Homecoming, October 18, with its poster contest, queen, dance, parties, and famous Sunday rendezvous.

In all the Beta Chi Deltas are enjoying one of their best fall seasons and would like to extend an open invitation for all fellow Deltas to come over and join in the fun.

CHARLES F. GORDON, JR.

Butler—Beta Zeta

Beta Zeta resumed its winning ways in Spring Sing after a one year lapse. The group, directed by KENNY HUNT, sang

"Old Black Magic" and "The Moon Is Blue" to near perfection and garnered first place for the chapter. The long weeks of diligent practice paid off again.

Through the tireless efforts of Rush Chairman DAVE MCCORMICK and his committee, one of the finest pledge classes in Beta Zeta history has been acquired for this year's fall semester. The 18 new pledges have given more than just a little promise. They have already shown the spirit and unity necessary to any good pledge class.

Guard PAUL FURNISH was elected to the pre-season All-America Football squad. Paul is having another great year as a mainstay of the Bulldog forward wall.

This autumn's social chairman, BOB TRITIN, is doing an outstanding job in organizing new and unusual parties. The latest, a Hobo Party, was complete with Mulligan stew and a hobo jungle throughout the first floor of the Shelter. Bob has also scheduled an exchange dinner and a social with every sorority on campus.

At this writing, the entire Butler campus is attempting to stave off a flu epidemic in order to participate in the gala Homecoming festivities.

A chapter newspaper is being planned for publication this fall along with resumption of the famous Beta Zeta Log Book.

The winter's social program is due to be set off by the Rose Dance, a formal affair in the Shelter which is organized and put on by the pledge class.

RON SCHAFFNER

Carnegie Tech—Delta Beta

This year's Rush Week produced an excellent pledge class of 18 men. This is the largest and best pledge class the chapter has had since 1952. This was followed a week later by the initiation of seven men who had finished their pledge training from last year.

The Deltas are again showing their athletic prowess on campus by winning their fourth league championship in four years in football. In three of the years the team was undefeated. With the play-offs for the school championship starting soon, the chapter has hopes of bringing home another trophy. The season was highlighted by the fabulous broken field running of DICK SPHON and the pass snaring feats of JOHN MIHM, two all-campus greats of last year. Mihm was voted all-campus again this year for the fourth straight year, and Sphon for the third.

Nineteen hundred fifty-seven marked the fourth straight year the Deltas have copped the volleyball championship. Fortunately for the Chios they have teamed up with us for two of the years. The members of the winning team were BRUCE BOWEN, DICK MATTICK, CONNIE FEREN, MAC STEEL, DICK KOPPEL, and DON MACFARLANE. Two of the outstanding Chios were Mary Ellen Sheridan and Nancy Tresky, Delt supporters in everything for three years.

In politics on campus, BRUCE BOWEN was reelected president of the IM Managers Club, DICK SPHON was nominated to the mechanical engineering honorary

Pi Sigma Tau, Pledge President Amy Alfonso was elected vice-president of junior CFP, and Pledge Louis Romain was appointed head photographer and designer of the Scot magazine.

With the building of the new Delt Shelter underway, Delta Beta should be in fine shape to fulfill the role as one of the host chapters at the Centennial Karnea next August. The members of the chapter wish to extend an invitation to all Deltas to stop in. If we have five visitors we'll have a party.

BRUCE H. BOWEN

Cincinnati—Gamma Xi

After a gala two weeks of stags, ball games, and date parties, Gamma Xi found herself with 34 new pledges, certainly the finest to be found on the campus. Leading this year's rush was JIM ROCKWELL and his assistant, ANDY ATKINSON, both doing a fine job.

Pledge class officers are BLAINE CUNNINGHAM, president; RICHARD STOHR, vice-president; ROBERT VOLLAT, secretary; and RICHARD STAFETAS, treasurer.

Gamma Xi's scholarship again rose this year, the chapter placing fifth of 18 on the campus. This marked the third year in a row in which the chapter scholarship rose.

Homecoming was a large success as many alumni pilgrimaged back to the Shelter for another look and to meet old brothers. Our float, though acclaimed best by the press, failed to place. The pledges did a fine job of expressing the Homecoming theme of "Disneyland" with the float, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

All Bearcat rooters watch DALE HECKMANN lead the fine Cincy band as head drum major. Congratulations go to PETE KENDALL, who has been named head recording engineer for the University Dramatics Department. If you hear someone panting at the front door it's probably BOB SCHWAB, the Delt representative on the U. C. cross-country team.

The Shelter will be taking on a new and larger appearance starting in April, due to the foresight of the house corporation. A $70,000 addition is going to be added, increasing the study, recreational, and sleeping facilities of the Shelter.

KENNETH R. LEHR

Colorado—Beta Kappa

The Delt house at Colorado University assumed a new look over the summer. Placing our efforts on internal repairs, we completely rejuvenated our living room, which now rates tops on the Colorado campus.

As far as the pledge class for the coming year goes, we picked up 42 top men, dominating the University's fall rush. We now have the largest fraternity on the CU campus with 123 men. Helping considerably in obtaining such a fine pledge class was the work of our fine rush chairman, PHIL SHOCKMAN, and our new rush pamphlet, The Colorado Delt, which we know has set a new precedent on the Colorado campus. It consisted of pictures and articles of the 1956-57 year at Delta Tau Delta.

Last spring, to add to the many intramural championships already won, we captured the softball crown. NEIL SNIDER led the team by pitching two no-run, no-hit games. This completed one of the finest intramural years ever for Beta Kappa, winning seven of 11 all-school championships. In varsity football action this fall, we find BOYD DOWLER starting at quarterback and BILL MONDT at right guard. HOWARD COOK alternates at left half, and JIM MCKIM at center.

Aside from the many extracurricular activities mentioned in other issues of THE RAINBOW, many more Deltas have attained high positions. GARY CHRISTY, vice-president of Beta Kappa, was elected vice-president of the Senior class. RICK DARST, president of Beta Kappa, was elected vice-president and chairman of the Actions Board of IFC. DON GENTRY was elected president of business school and CHUCK NAGEL was elected president of engineering school. JACK BROKAW represents the Colorado campus as president of the Southwest National Association of Student Architects.

Seven Deltas, the largest group from any fraternity, were tapped for Phi Epsilon Phi, a sophomore men's scholastic honorary. PHIL PAUL was elected president; FRITZ IEUTER, treasurer; and BILL REYNOLDS, secretary, for three of the five offices. Three Deltas were tapped for Hammers, a junior men's honorary, JOHN MATTOX was elected president and PHIL SHOCKMAN, treasurer.

DON ROBINSON will be leading cheers as a varsity cheerleader and AL SCHARF is chairman of 1957 Homecoming here at CU.

The Deltas also showed their versatility by placing second in the CU Day's Songfest last spring.

FRITZ IEUTER

Cornell—Beta Omicron

The 1957-58 school year began with the initiation of our spring pledges. The group of 15 pledges represent six separate schools and come from nine states.

The chapter has been active in sports, both varsity and intramural, as well as other campus activities. JACK EVANS and DENNIS CAVERLY are on the fencing team, while CLAYTE ROOT and CHARLIE ROGERS spend their afternoons sailing on Cayuga's waters. Representing Delt on the tennis squad is DICK BALL, while JOE CONROY is on the Cornell baseball team. The Delt football team

(the Asian-flu eight) won their first game (6-2), but lost the second on first downs (3-2). Our broomstick polo team is in training for the winter season ahead.

In addition to studying, many B. O. Deltas take part in extracurricular activities. Our president, PETE SCHNECK, is a member of the Student Union board of directors. Four B. O. Deltas are currently members of the Cornell Glee Club, while six are in advanced ROTC. Pledge DAVE SHELLEY is on the wrestling team and on the campus humor magazine staff. PETE WOOD is active on the Senior Class Council, and HUGH DINGLE secured a dorm counselor's position.

Several house construction projects are in process or have recently been finished. Brothers ROY BEHLING, JACK EVANS, PETE SCHNECK, and PETE PITTERELLI laid 80-feet of new sidewalk and steps. BURT LENT and LEE DRAKE are in the midst of landscaping the Shelter's grounds, while several other Deltas are building an 18-foot cabin cruiser in their spare time. Our new mascot is a beagle pup, named Homer, who has yet to be Shelter-broken. Several of the brothers with automotive experience have instituted a Delt "garage" in our parking lot. The brothers now spend their Saturday afternoons washing, adjusting, and rejuvenating their cars. The early social events of the fall term consisted of an Initiation party, and four football week ends, including Homecoming. We were pleased to see the many alumni who returned to the Shelter and inspected our renewed social area. We hope to see many more of our alumni and Delt brothers from other chapters throughout the coming year.

D. BRADY FRANKLIN

Dartmouth—Gamma Gamma

The first order of business upon arrival back in Hanover was rushing, which went extremely well for us. We pledged 19 outstanding men on the evening of September 20, and an additional 3 on October 15, bringing the pledge class total to 22.

The Delt touch football team is currently in second place in our intrafraternity league, with a record of 2 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie. We tied our first game, 0-0, lost the second 20-0, then came back to take two in a row by the scores of 2-0 and 19-0. One more game remains on the regular schedule at the time this article is being written.

It has been recently revealed that in over-all intrafraternity athletic competition over 1956-57, Delt ranked seventh out of 24 chapters on campus.

President JOHN FOSTER has been elected vice-president of the intrafraternity council, and is also serving as chairman of the Undergraduate Council Judiciary Committee.

Corresponding Secretary SAM SMITH has been awarded a Senior Fellowship, and is serving on the Undergraduate Council Academic Committee.

Rushing Chairman BUCK LATIMORE was recently tapped into Phi Beta Kappa.

Treasurer BUCK BUCHOLZ has been elected president of the Dartmouth Rowing Club.

THOMAS V. SEESSEL

Delaware—Delta Upsilon

The fall semester at Delta Upsilon chapter appears to be a very promising one. Two new pledges, FRED GRAMPP and HENRY CLAY DAVIS, were recently added to the chapter. Plans for an extensive rushing program are now being prepared for the February rush period.

Recently an original song, My Delta Badge, was sung for the first time at a serenade. The song was composed by Brother BOB MCALPINE, a senior music major.

The Delts recently received a third place award for our float entry in the Delaware Homecoming Parade. Many chapter alumni visited the Shelter during the Homecoming Week End. They were delighted to see the many new improvements made to the Shelter. These include an enlarged parking lot constructed during the summer.

The Delts have also captured a first and second place in the fraternity house display competitions. At present we rank third in the race for the Cheerleader's Spirit Trophy.

A very successful social season is underway, thanks to the planning of Social Chairman BOB LOVELL. An open house for freshman women was held at the Shelter on October 5. On October 23 our annual scholastic steak dinner was held at the G. & T. Restaurant. Losers in the index race bought dinners for the winners. The Shelter will be transformed into an island paradise on November 2 when we hold our South Sea Island costume party. The Interfraternity Week End, also held in November, promises to be the high light of the semester.

ED HAUGH

DePauw—Beta Beta

After pledging ten outstanding freshmen in the spring, Beta Beta's Delts, under the leadership of Senior DAVE DEVOS, rush chairman, wholly emphasized scholarship in fall rush and landed six more top-notch men. The pledges include BOB BLANKENSHIP, TOM BYRKET, BUTCH COLIN, JIM DEARMOND, TOM EVANS, BILL GERBER, VIC GILLA, BILL GROVES, FRANK LAYNG, ART MAINE, GEORGE MENDENHALL, JOHN NULL, DICK SCHAEFER, BILL SHUCK, JOHN STELLE, and NED TUHEY.

Out campus way, the Delts are again well represented. Senior DAVE EBERLE has already highlighted the new year by leading DePauw's annual carnival, as chairman, to a record breaking year. The chapter, with the aid of the Alpha Phi sorority, backed Brother EBERLE by bringing in more money than any other booth with their "African Dip" machine. Frog Trainer JOHN WILLIAMS did the best he could with what he had, but couldn't gain a place. Brother Eberle was later placed on the University Scheduling Committee.

Senior DON PARKER and Junior JIM MCELWAIN did good jobs as orientation training chairmen for the first weeks of college.

Senior DICK LOCKE did an excellent job as chairman of DePauw's Old Gold Day, the alumni and homecoming week end. Along this same line was the fine job Sophomore TOM GALLAGHER turned in as chairman of the decorations of DePauw's Union Building. The sophomores erected another fine Homecoming display on the spacious front lawn to keep in the spirit of things.

In other campus activities Junior DAVE VANDAVEER was elected secretary-treasurer of the Physics Club, Sophomore JOE NOEL as commander of DePauw's AFROTC's Saber Air Command and Sophomore JOHN SLATER as commodore of DePauw's Sailing Club.

Senior HAL KENNA earned a role in DePauw's opening Little Theater play to be produced Dad's Day. Sophomore PETE KREIS made the University Chapel Committee.

The Delt quartet, consisting of Brother DEVOS, Junior JIM BEARD, Sophomore BOB SUMMERS, and Pledge BYRKET, was recognized as an outstanding talent group and will appear on television for a Dad's Day performance. They have already been on radio and have appeared at many University socials and dances.

With autumn, of course, comes football and the Delts are well known on the varsity gridiron. Senior PAT EWING, who last year earned an honorable mention Little All-American award as an end, has already scored three touchdowns to lead the team. Junior DICK CROSS, a guard, has ably filled the shoes of Brother RON TURNER, DePauw's "Most Valuable Lineman" for the last two years, who was unable to return to school this semester. Brother Cross has started every game and played every quarter for the Tigers. Sophomore KEITH EVANS, at full-back and line-backer, has seen considerable action as an alternate and has accounted for a touchdown.

The pledges are making quite a showing on the frosh team. In fact, three of them, Pledges COLIN, DEARMOND, and GILLA, are competing for the quarterback slot, while Pledge SHUCK has nailed down a halfback post. Pledges GERBER and MAINE round out line representatives.

RON YOUNG, junior distancer, is back for another year of cross-country in which he has placed well the last two years.

RON YOUNG of DePauw.

In IM's, the Delts are again making a good showing. At this writing they are in second place in speedball and Seniors JOHN WOODWORTH and BOB RUDOLPH, last year's doubles winners in tennis, are still advancing.

The Delts were happy to see Senior BOB EDLER who has returned after studying a year in Europe. Along with him comes exchange student Claus Speelmans from the Netherlands.

Senior KEITH C. SCHROEDER was elected the new vice-president in the absence of Brother Turner.

The pledges are already well-known. In an annual "off-the-cuff" census of girls dorms, the new men were voted the outstanding pledge class on campus. Pledge Maine was elected treasurer of DePauw's freshman interfraternity council.

Already in the past are four pinnings, four showers, two exchanges, a sophomore smoker, a hayride, and traditional serenades. The Delts are now looking forward to their annual Halloween exchange with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

JOE GODDARD

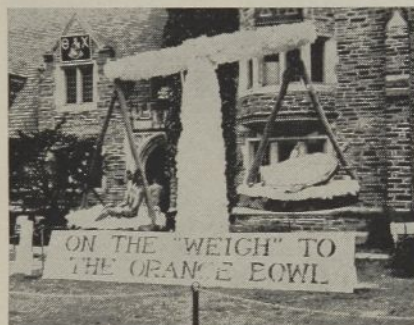

Duke—Delta Kappa

After a very successful spring rush, the Duke Delts initiated 28 neophytes to boost our ranks this fall to 60. At that size we are third in size on the Duke campus, and in other aspects we think of ourselves as near the top. The Deltas won first place in the annual Joe College Week End Float Contest, second place in the annual Fraternity sing, second place in the Homecoming Display contest, and led the campus in off semester rush (fall).

Prize-winning finished product.

In the early fall the Deltas began one of the best social calendars that we have had here at Duke in the last five years. Starting off the year, the Duke brothers held open house for all of the student nurses from Duke Hospital; then the next Saturday we had an informal evening of dancing at one of the local clubs. The Brothers held an informal party at the annual Devil's Revil which lasted all afternoon and into the evening. We played football (with dates), some badminton, volleyball, and danced a little to the music of the Duke Ambassadors. That night we had a listening party for the Duke-Rice game (incidentally Duke won 7-6).

The next big party on the social agenda was a Roaring Twenties party. The Deltas all dressed for the occasion with knickers, striped shirts, and flat straw hats. We picked up the dates in two model-T Fords driving around the quadrangle of the Women's Campus, and held the party at Turner's Cabin.

The Duke chapter holds several offices around the campus this year. JOHN AMSLER is vice-president of the Interfraternity Council, this job is basically for the control of rushing and rush rules. STEVE HAMMER is the managing editor of the student newspaper, The Chronicle,

A Delta Kappa story-teller?

while the Deltas hold three editorial positions on the yearbook, The Chanticleer. On this staff are LAIRD SLADE, associate editor; CHARLIE WEINBERG, engraving editor; TIM MOONEY, fraternities editor.

The Deltas also are in good control of the Duke Pep Board. BOB CREWS is chairman of the board, while JIM MATTHEWS, former president of Delta Kappa chapter, is chairman of the card tricks. And back in the publication line, GENE VANCUREN is editor of the DukEngineer (a position that the Duke Deltas have held for over five years). The Deltas also have two brothers on the cabinet of the YMCA; DOUG SUDDUTH and STEVE HANKINS.

We are proud of our having members of the chapter in many of the student activities and in some varsity sports. We have three members of the varsity soccer team: JIM MATTHEWS, captain of the team, GARY POWER, and DAVE KREIDLER. We also have two track men, TOM BAZEMORE and BOB SPARROW. Last year Bob was the second highest point scorer on the team. DAVE LOWER and ED ELSEY are members of the varsity swimming team.

Rounding out the Deltas for the fall term, we are having the luck to be moving into a new fraternity section in February. The chapter room and lounge area will be about three times the size of our present facilities, and for the first time in Delt history at Duke, all of the brothers will be able to live in the fraternity section. We are spending a record budget on this section, but we are getting some help from our Alumni through our alumni club, DELTAY (DELta Tau Delta Ten A Year).

Emory—Beta Epsilon

In the aftermath of a hectic spring quarter, the summer was quiet and tranquil for Beta Epsilon—at first. Then came the thundering hordes of painters, appliance servicemen, and finally Brother EADY with his rush program, which proved enough to complete the job of shattering the peace.

The painters did a beautiful job of repainting the house and the appliance men performed the long-to-be-appreciated job of installing our new stove, new refrigerator, and new freezer.

With Brother EADY's rush program under way, there were parties to attend, visits to make, and numerous letters to write. One of the high points of the summer rush program was a party at Savannah, Georgia, which included swimming and yachting at the summer house of Mr. J. D. McLAMB, Delt alumnus, and a banquet at the famous Pirate's House. The Florida caravan did not materialize this summer but there were several parties held at some of the Florida brothers' houses.

Pledge APPENFELDT and Brother GARDNER receive refreshments at Emory party.

After 22 years of faithful service as housemother to Beta Epsilon, Mrs. R. S. Humphries, known affectionately as "Grandma," has retired. This fall we are welcoming Mrs. Mildred Moore as our new housemother. Last year Mother Moore was housemother for the Alpha Delta Pi sorority at the University of Maryland.

Fall rush began officially September 12 with the usual set of round-robin smokers, resulting in the deep throated croaks of hoarse voices (due in part to Brother WAGNER's good old Tau Delt spirit) and paralyzed right hands. Our rush program was very successful. With the artistic hand of Brother MANUEL NAKIS providing the decorations for the parties and the "pear-shaped terror of the biology department" directing the skits, things progressed smoothly, except for that curtain.

The results of our efforts were 13 very promising pledges. Pledgemaster TURNER's protégés are: DUKE APPENFELDT, DANNY BYRD, SAM CANGELOSE, JOHN CHUNN, JERRY DIXON, SAM ALDERMAN, BROWNIE FLOWERS, BURT GRATIGNY, JIM MAJOR, HANK ROBERTSON, DAVE STRIMER, SPENCER RAGSDALE, and BILL TUSZYNSKI.

Prior to the Rush Week activities, four new brothers were initiated into the chapter.

Due to marriages, transfers, Uncle Sam, etc., many offices were left vacant this fall, which necessitated the election of new officers. The slate included, president, GLENN ESSLINGER; vice-president, VIRGIL EADY; guide, GEORGE GARTNER; sergeant at arms, DAVID MASSEY; assistant treasurer, BILL FACKLER; and corresponding secretary, FLOYD ADDISON.

Brothers TOM BYRD and LEONARD TURNER were awarded Summer scholarships by Harvard University through Emory University. We were very honored that such an award should be bestowed on two of our brothers.

We of Beta Epsilon have a great year ahead of us and we plan to make it our greatest. In the fall quarter the main events coming up are the Interfraternity Sing, the Blood Drive, and the Empty Stocking Drive; all of which we plan to win. Later in the year will be the Skits-O-Frenia, and Dooley's Frolics. Last year we won the Sing and the Blood Drive, and received fourth place in the Frolics. We plan to hold this record and better it. Another of our goals this year is to be top scholastically and maintain our high social standing.

To these goals we are setting our aim.

FLOYD ADDISON, JR.

Florida—Delta Zeta

Delta Zeta got off to a great start this year as 40 of the best men on campus donned our pledge pins. Rush week was climaxed by a banquet with Brother BILL BENSON of Tampa, former student body president, as the principal speaker.

Alumni from all parts of Florida came to see Delta Zeta take first place in the Homecoming Gator Groul, the largest all-student show on Earth. Thirty-three brothers and pledges worked hard in this production entitled "Homecoming at Moscow U." Those who were most responsible for this Homecoming triumph were Brothers FRED FAGAN, GENE ROWE, DAVE NELSON, and BOB FOWLER.

"Homecoming at Moscow U."

Brother DAVE KING has been selected to fill one of the top campus positions as he took over the post of director of intramurals. Dave has been working in intramurals his first three years at Florida and is also Delta Zeta's social chairman.

Brother REX SETZER was named to the all-campus team as we took third place in water basketball, the first fall sport. Brother JOE HOBBS made the second team and Brother DON VARNADORE received honorable mention.

Campus elections will be here soon and Delts are well represented by BOB HENDRY, who is running for Senior Class president. Bob is a veteran campaigner and has previously held positions of business manager of the Florida Alligator and the Orange Peel.

A new concrete athletic court has just been finished on the east side of the Shelter. This court, which is exclusive on this campus, has facilities for playing basketball, shuffleboard, badminton, and volleyball. Brothers and pledges supplied the manpower to carry out this project.

F. BRITT ROGERS

George Washington—Gamma Eta

After a summer of parties, rush and social, work on the house, and tedious studies for a few of the brothers, it was with some joy that we opened the new school year with a blast at the Shelter. And what a blast.

Also over the summer one of our newly initiated brothers, JAY RANDOLPH, won the District of Columbia Golf Championship, amateur, thereby adding to his laurels as Egyptian Amateur Champion of '56.

This fall rush week went well with nine new pledges and more to come when informal rush starts. New pledges include GERRY CORNELIUS, DAVE HERRIMAN, HAYNES MCDANIEL, WENDELL ADKINS, ANDY BIRZNIEKS, DAN PARKINSON, LARRY MELCHER, BILL REAGAN, and BILL EILBECK.

Delts BILL SMYTHE and ED HINO are only sophomores this fall, but are seeing a considerable amount of action in the backfield of the GW football team.

Intramurals look good again this year with the same fine Delt football team so far unbeaten and unscored upon in league play. This is the year we are all striving to not only win the football championship, but the intramural championship also.

Delts on the activities side are also performing above and beyond with RICHARD JAMBORSKI, TIM MEAD, and Delt Pledge LARRY MELCHER making up the backbone of the GW debate team, and WILL HINELY and TIM MEAD participating in student council activities. PETE DYER is also still holding down his office as Student Union social chairman. TOM WHYTE is in charge of a large part of the Homecoming affairs this year. PAUL FANNING and PETE DYER have a large part in organizing GW's first sports car club, The Foggy Bottom S.C.C. this fall.

BERNARD DEGAN has a fine social program set up for the fall and already we have had a great exchange with the Thetas. And speaking of the Thetas, Theta Carol Hollett, 1957 Delt Queen, is in the running for Homecoming Queen.

CHUCK JOHNSON is singing for the Traveling Troubadours, GW's mixed vocal group which will travel all over the world to perform engagements.

All in all it looks like a very fine year for Gamma Eta, and we wish one and all to drop by 1915 G St. N.W. to share our hospitality and great parties.

PETER S. DYER

Georgia—Beta Delta

All brothers and pledges returned to the Shelter one week previous to freshman orientation this fall to prepare the Shelter for rush week. Before this week was over, the interior of the house was painted, the "pit" was decorated and painted, and under the direction of Brother FRANK BAHIN a three-level patio was completed in the back of the Shelter. This work was not in vain. After a successful rush week 24 men were pledged. (We would like to say thanks to Brothers BEN MOGNI and BOB FLINN, alumni of Beta Pi, now at the U. S. Navy Supply School here in Athens, for the help they gave us during rush week.) The night following, the brothers gave these new pledges a party. The following week we had our first big blast of the year with a combo dance, at which we made full use of our patio and "pit." The social committee has two other parties planned. On October 25, we will have a halloween party, at which everyone will be "dressed" in the most weird costumes possible. There will be a combo to help keep things lively. Following this party is one of our biggest social events of the year, The Dogpatch Drag. The high light of this event will be a dance, complete with a combo, at which all brothers and pledges will be dressed as characters in "Lil' Abner." All the male "Dogpatchers" will be sporting their hard earned beards.

On October 13 five new men were initiated into the chapter. Brother LEWIS BRINSON, Beta Delta, '57, spoke at the banquet immediately following the initiation.

In a recent chapter meeting an election was held to fill several vacant offices. DAVID KIPPENBROCK was elected treasurer; JOHN WATERS, assistant treasurer; and KENNETH DAVIS, corresponding secretary.

Beta Delta did it again. We had a yearly scholastic average exceeding the All-Mens Average, and we had the third highest average of all fraternities on campus.

Due to pressing business commitments Brother CONNIE BRANCH felt it necessary to resign as chapter adviser. We wish to thank Brother Branch for his untiring service. Taking his place will be Brother B. J. CLEMENCE.

KENNETH K. DAVIS

Georgia Tech—Gamma Psi

At the top of the list of Delt activities this fall was the banquet honoring Mother Jane Wilson's 10th year with Gamma Psi. More than 150 alumni, actives, and pledges showed their appreciation by attending the banquet which was held in Atlanta's famous Biltmore Hotel.

Thirty-three of Tech's finest rushers and one of the largest pledge classes are the results of a tremendous week of parties, smokers, and meals. The parties included a hayride, a Tennessee Mountain party, a semi-formal dance, and a prison party, actually held in an abandoned prison near Atlanta. Almost 200 girls from high schools and colleges throughout the city proved to be a tremendous asset during the week.

Seven of the 33 pledges are planning to run for Student Council; three are in honor mathematics sections; and three are in honor English sections.

Activities in which the pledges are already participating include the student newspaper, the student engineering magazine, the freshman Glee Club, the Co-Op Club, the Society of Automotive Engineers, the gym team, Pershing Rifles, Arnold Air Society, and Sabre Air Command.

Gamma Psi is again proud to aid the cause of world peace by participating in the Georgia Tech World Student program. Arno Mueller of Zurich, Switzerland, one of four students sponsored by the program this year, is a guest of the chapter. His immediate goal is a masters in electrical engineering.

Comparing the United States to Switzerland, Arno commented, "The United States looks different, but after all, the difference isn't so great." The fraternity system he said, "... is a good idea."

To promote better cooperation among the administration, faculty and fraternities, the chapter now invites members of the faculty and administration, with their families, to be guests for Sunday dinner.

Guests have included Mr. Bob Wallace, editor of the Georgia Tech Alumni magazine; Dr. Paul Weber, Dean of Faculties; Mrs. J. Henly Crosland, Librarian; and Major Robert Bradford, Army Chemical Corps.

ROY LEONARD has been awarded the important part of Barachio in Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," a production of Tech's amateur theater.

The group, Drama Tech, is one of three recognized amateur theater groups in Atlanta.

HAL REEVES, student body president, was elected chairman of the Great South-eastern Region of the National Student Association at a national convention held this summer at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Hillsdale—Kappa

With the opening of the new year, Kappa continues to remain socially and academically strong. In campus elections EARL LAING, president of Kappa, was elected president of the men's council, while former vice-president of Kappa, JERRY TOWNS, attained two high-ranking posts, one as vice-president of the Student Federation, and president of the Interfraternity Council. JIM STURGESS was elected to the vice-presidency of the Senior class. DAVID DEJOHN, president of his class last year, was re-elected as head executive of his class again this year. CHARLES VARNUM became vice-president of the Union Board. These committees and the positions attained by these men bring about closer relationships among the faculty, administration, and student body, a quality for which Hillsdale College is known to have, her Delta Tau Delta chapter being one of the firmest supporters. This is one of the privileges of being a member of Kappa. The Fraternity can always be proud of this.

Homecoming 1957 was a great success with the return of a great many alumni. A buffet luncheon was held at noon on the eventful day of October 19, followed by a football game between Hillsdale College and Alma College. A steak dinner followed the victory over Alma, and the day was rounded out by a party held for the returning alumni, parents, and friends. A striking display for the occasion was a giant football player set-off by a finely painted and detailed backdrop of a stadium with the slogan "Dales Go Scot Free" decorating the lawn of the Shelter. The participation of every member of Kappa was displayed through the success of the "big" week end. Several rush parties and jam sessions have sparked preceding week ends. With the Bowery Brawl and Dads' Day just two weeks away the social activities appear to be in full swing.

Academically, Kappa was awarded the Mens' Council Scholastic trophy for the highest average among fraternities on Hillsdale's campus for the second semester of 1957. One of Kappa's pledges, KEN SAMPSON, was given recognition for obtaining an all "A" academic record for the same period of time.

Sportswise, Kappa boasts of three outstanding members of Hillsdale College's record-breaking football squad: Halfback DON EUGENIO, slated for Little All-American honors, Fullback TOBIN FINIZIO, and End JOHN SOMMERS. The three men are large contributors to the 30-game winning streak held by the Hillsdale team, which is the second longest winning streak in the nation. The team is also ranked among the top 20 colleges in the nation for total offense and defense. Intramurally, Kappa is out to capture its third straight title in intramural football.

Idaho—Delta Mu

The hard work and leadership of Rush Chairman JOHN ROSHOLT, combined with fine cooperation on the part of the members of Delta Mu, brought to the Shelter an outstanding group of 16 pledges when rush week ended September 18. Members of the pledge class of 1957-58 are: CHUCK ECKERY, ED WEIDE and MIKE WILLIAMS, Nampa; KENT ANGERBAUER and BOB RIDGEWAY, Twin Falls; KENNY EVERETT and MIKE MORGAN, Mountain Home; DICK GRAVES and RAY WILLMS, Gooding; LYNN SMITH and TERRY WARD, Jerome; GEORGE DICKENSON, Fairfield; JOHN FITZGERALD, Moscow; DON NELSON, Idaho Falls; BRODY CONKLIN, Spokane, Wash.; and DEL EATON, Weslaco, Texas.

Pledge class officers include: BOB RIDGEWAY, president; BRODY CONKLIN, vice-president; MIKE WILLIAMS, secretary-treasurer; JOHN FITZGERALD and CHUCK ECKERY, co-social chairman; and DEL EATON, song leader.

The pledges were honored at the annual pledge dance Oct. 19. The theme of the dance was "Delt Hit Parade," with the pledges depicted as the top 16 tunes. DICK WISDOM was chairman for the affair, with the music being provided by WSC Delt, LEROY ROACH, and his combo. The pledges, in turn, entertained the members at the annual pledge party, this year themed "Bad Night at Rock Creek."

Fall initiation was held at the chapter house October 13 with nine men being welcomed into the bonds of Delta Mu.

As has been the custom in the past, Deltas are playing leading roles in Idaho campus activities and university athletics with both members and pledges of Delta Mu "getting out on campus."

For the third time in the last five years a Delt has been elected president of the Idaho Interfraternity Council. Brother JOHN ROSHOLT recently succeeded Brother ERNIE DAVENPORT as head of the organization. Brother Rosholt has also been named to head this campus' Greek Week activities and was recently tapped for Blue Key.

Brother BOB BERNARD and Pledge John Fitzgerald are busy campaigning for class elections. Brother Bernard, who is also vice-president of United Party, is running for vice-president of the sophomore class, while Fitzgerald is competing for the same office in the Freshman class.

Brother DICK SHEPPARD was elected president of the Idaho Intramural Manager's Association and was selected to head the recreation committee on the campus. Representing Delta Mu on the ROTC choir are Brother John Rosholt and Pledges Mike Williams and Ed Weide. Pledges Chuck Eckery and Kenny Everett are beginning their campus political life as members of Greek Caucus and Pledges LYNN SMITH and BRODY CONKLIN are members of the junior interfraternity council. Many other Deltas have been selected on various campus committees and are participating in many varied organizations.

On the University athletic scene, Sophomore THERON NELSEN, a reserve halfback, is representing the chapter on the Vandal football squad. Theron has picked up valuable experience this year and is slated to see plenty of action in years to come. On the frosh football club are four Delt pledges: Halfbacks Kenny Everett and Lynn Smith; Fullback Mike Morgan; and Quarterback Dick Graves.

Brother RON ADAMS, from Bristol, England, is the leading runner on the unbeaten Idaho cross-country team, of which Brother MIKE LUND is also a member.

With the coming of the basketball season Brothers Gary Simmons and Bob Walton will step into the Idaho athletic spotlight. Gary, the team's most valuable player and leading scorer last year, despite the fact that he sat out half the conference schedule with an ankle injury, has been picked on several pre-season All-West Coast teams and is expected to lead the strong Vandal five. Brother Walton, the leading scorer on last year's frosh club, will be a valuable addition to the Vandals this season. Three pledges: TERRY WARD, KENT ANGERBAUER, and BOB RIDGEWAY will represent Delta Mu on the freshman basketball team.

On the intramural scene Delta Mu ranks second in total points, ahead of all other fraternities, after the first three sports on the program. The defending champion touch football team slipped to third this year, however, this was compensated for by a campus championship cross-country team and a strong third place finish in tennis.

After winning the Homecoming Parade men's living group float competition for two consecutive years Delta Mu was made ineligible this year, and instead of competing, constructed the "Queen's Float" with last year's winner in the women's division, Alpha Phi.

DON NEVILE SMITH

Illinois—Beta Upsilon

Beta Upsilon has done it again! This fall Beta Upsilon literally cornered the market on the top men coming through formal rush, making the 1957 formal rush one of the most successful in Beta Upsilon history. Chapter spirit, combined with organization and a unique rushing program, proved to be the magic formula which resulted in the pledging of 31 top men who are already showing the Greek world here at Illinois that they deserve the title given them, "cream of the crop."

This outstanding accomplishment under the biggest fraternity rushing program in the country marks the beginning of what is promising to be one of the biggest years in Beta Upsilon's history. Other achievements are sure to follow.

In the area of intramural sports, Illinois Delts have proven themselves the best in both individual and team sports so far this year. The big story is centered in our IM football team, captained by President ED DELONG who is backed by a hard playing, well trained squad. So far DELONG and his crew have shown they are a better team by trouncing four of the opposing teams in our league and by edging last year's IM champs 11 to 10. It looks as if we may go all the way this year, with a first place trophy in sight and a team that's red hot.

Beta Upsilon has two members representing it on the Illini varsity football team this year: veteran linemen, PAUL ADAMS and DICK NORDMEYER. Both Paul and Dick are mainstays on the Illini squad and saw plenty of action in Illini's game with Minnesota.

Homecoming was also the time when Beta Upsilon rose to the occasion by plucking two first places from a field of tough competition in house decorations and Homecoming badge sales.

A welcome addition to the Shelter this year is our new housemother, Mrs. Lillian Griffiths. Actually, Mrs. Griffiths is only new to the active chapter. Those alumni who lived in the Shelter from 1933 to 1943 will remember Mrs. Griffiths as the chapter's housemother until she left to assume a position with the government during World War II. We are indeed fortunate to have Mrs. Griffiths return to the Shelter as our housemother after an absence of nearly 14 years.

Beta Upsilon alumni across the nation are making names for themselves. Among them are HARRY WILLIAM MILLER, '28, and JAY JENSEN.

HARRY WILLIAM MILLER, a World War II veteran of Navy armed guard duty in the Atlantic and Mediterranean, was unanimously elected national vice-commander of the American Legion by the 39th National Convention, held in Atlantic City, New Jersey, on September 19, 1957.

Professor JAY W. JENSEN, a faculty member at Illinois since 1950, has been named head of the journalism division of the University of Illinois College of Journalism and Communications. He will succeed Dean Theodore Peterson. Professor Jensen has a bachelor's degree from Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia, and a master's and Ph.D. from the University of Illinois. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Kappa Tau Alpha, and Sigma Delta Chi professional fraternities.

RONALD DEMPSEY

Illinois Tech—Gamma Beta

After completing a most successful year the Delts here at Tech have all intentions of attaining equal success this coming year. Rush week this year produced a fine pledge class consisting of 13 well rounded men. Under the guidance of MIKE MOLONEY and a newly developed pledge program we have high hopes for the future of these men as Delts.

The athletic activities at the Delt house look very promising for the coming year. Already we have shown a bit of our versatile power by claiming the swimming title for the second year in succession and placing second in the golf tournament. Our football team is proving itself again unbeatable through the leadership and accurate passing of GENE HODGE. In tennis we have won all the singles matches and show strong possibilities of going undefeated in the doubles competition. If all goes as expected this year we have high hopes of claiming the highly desired activities trophy for the second year in succession.

All Delts here at Tech are looking forward to '58 with great hopes of breaking ground for a new chapter house. In keeping with the Institute's modern building program, the house corporation is busy carrying out its program for the promotion of the necessary funds for a new Shelter. As it looks presently the possibilities of a new Shelter in '58 are very favorable.

The social activities at the beginning of this semester suffered considerably from constant outbreaks of the flu. One such outbreak involved so many brothers that the whole Shelter was quarantined for a week end. Since then the majority of the brothers have recovered sufficiently and many parties are scheduled over the remaining months. Outstanding among these is the pledge formal to be held in November.

WILLIAM D. PLECHATY

Iowa—Omicron

After a successful rush week, Omicron chapter is looking forward to another outstanding year. Campus activities find Delts in many important positions. Chapter president, DON SHERK, headed the men's freshman orientation program. JIM KANEALY is serving as president of the Central Party Committee, which is in charge of all university dances. On this 12 member committee is JIM TILTON serving his second year. Tilton is also in charge of student-faculty teas here at the University. Elected vice-president of YMCA for this year is JERRY CHILES. Filling an important position on the Hawkeye (yearbook) staff is AL CHAPMAN who is in charge of the men's residence section. The outstanding Iowa Marching Band finds DICK DUFF again playing drum.

Delts are well represented on the Iowa athletic teams. DOUG MACKINNEY is playing end on the football team and Freshman AL MILLER is a fine prospect for next year's team. Baseball Pitcher JOHN MILLER and Free Style Swimmer KEITH ZASTROW have started working out. Sophomore JOHN STOY is playing on the varsity tennis team this year.

Following a victory in our homecoming football game, an open house was held at the Shelter. We were hosts to a large number of parents, alumni, and friends for our buffet supper. Our float, entered in the homecoming parade, won honorable mention in the originality division. All in all, it was a good homecoming week end.

Omicron is looking forward to its annual Hell's Holiday party and winter formal coming up soon.

B. REES JONES

Iowa State—Gamma Pi

Gamma Pi is proud to say that this year we have the finest and one of the largest pledge classes on campus. After a very sparse rush week which found a lot of the rushees worried about studies and waiting until later to pledge, the Delts came up with 20 very fine pledges. Among our pledge class we have the potential varsity football, swimming, golf, and wrestling candidates which we have been lacking in past years.

This last Greek Week found one of the Gamma Pi Delts in probably the most honored positions of the entire season. Not only was JACK KINGERY one of the cochairmen of Greek Week, that in itself being a very great honor, but he was also elected to "Honor Greek" as a charter member. "Honor Greek" is an exclusive Greek honorary composed of people from the Greek system who have contributed a lot to the furthering of Greek ideals.

The falling of leaves this fall ushered in a hot intramural season and the Delts are, as usual, in there fighting all the way. After last year's championship in football and bowling we are anticipating greater things for the future.

JOHN CAPPELLIN

Kansas—Gamma Tau

The Kansas Deltas started off this year by taking a pledge class of 31 top men. They have already made a name for themselves on the "Hill."

JERRY MCNEAL, captain of KU's championship cross-country team, led the KU runners home in a lopsided victory over Missouri in their first dual meet of the season. Jerry is expected to be a contender for top honors in the national meet later this fall.

Individual honors this year have gone to CHUCK ELLIOT and TED HALL. Chuck was elected president of Froshawks, freshmen men's pep club, and Ted has been appointed sales manager for the Rock Chalk Revue.

The Shelter was transformed to a western setting for the first fall party, the paddle party. It proved to be a great success. In fact, it was called the best fall party on campus. The pledges are to be congratulated on the fine job they did.

The big news for our alumni concerns the Alum Week End we held on our Homecoming week end with Missouri. Needless to say, it was quite a week end, and a good time was had by all.

RALPH ROBINSON

Kansas State—Gamma Chi

With the beginning of a new school year, Gamma Chi is well pleased with its new pledge class of 18 men. They elected JIM WEST, president, WILL WHITE, vice-president, DAVE LINSTRUM, secretary-treasurer, and HARLAN LEUSZLER, sergeant at arms. JACK ROBBINS, who was chosen to represent Delta Tau Delta in the interpledge council, was also elected as its president.

GARY RUMSEY, a junior in agriculture economics, will gain valuable experience in his field before returning to K-State next fall. Gary was chosen by the International Farm Youth Exchange program to represent them in Guatemala for nine months.

The social life at Gamma Chi got off to a good start by entertaining Miss Georgiana Rundle, who was chosen as Miss Kansas. Georgiana, who is engaged to Brother DAVE LARSON, was also elected Miss K-State before going to Atlantic City in September. Miss Roberta Wray, our Delt Sweetheart, was one of the five Homecoming Queen finalists whom we invited for a dinner date.

With football underway, Delta Tau Delta is still undefeated and almost assured to repeat as division champions. Pledge HARLAN LEUSZLER has shown his ability as a starting end on the Kansas State freshman squad. BILL BALFANZ, who recently affiliated from Gamma Theta at Baker University, and LARRY JEFFERIES demonstrate their marksmanship as members of the undefeated K-State Army ROTC rifle team.

Because many Delt brothers from colleges and universities throughout the nation are stationed at Fort Riley, which is near Manhattan, we have had many visitors at the Shelter during the summer and fall week ends.

The K-State Deltas are making a name for themselves in the Student Governing Association. BILL BRETHOUR, along with DWIGHT BENNETT, who is vice-president, hold positions on the Student Council. The student activities board includes PAT LOYD, president, DICK HOTZ, MAX BISHOP, and DWIGHT BENNETT, the Student Council representatives. The committee co-ordinating staff has DWIGHT BENNETT as its president, and LARRY FOULKE and LARRY JEFFERIES as members.

LOWELL NOVY is kept busy with his position as president of the Student Union program council. The program council, which controls union activities, also has MIKE DOLE as chairman of the dance committee, LARRY FOULKE, chairman of the campus entertainment committee, and JIM WEST, chairman of the jazz committee. Sixteen other Deltas hold positions on the various committees to insure our domination of union activities.

Other offices held by Gamma Chi Deltas include BILL PATTON as a tribunal justice and chairman of the Big Eight Governing Association, JOHN "Hoot" GIBSON, president, and LOWELL NOVY, vice-president, of the Student Veterinary Medical Association, and JOE KASHNER, secretary of the Interfraternity Council.

BILL SIMIC

Kent—Delta Omega

Fall 1957, and the beginning of another big year for Delta Omega. Homecoming, sports, student elections, Greek Week, rushing, and all those other chapter activities that keep us busy.

The first week of the school year, Freshman Week, found many of the brothers acting as new student week advisors, and DON HOLLIS and DON DICKSON acting as co-chairmen of the Freshman Week Preview, a university talent show.

Speaking of Homecoming, the chapter has appointed TERRY WALSH and ED HINDLE as cochairmen. This year's theme will be "Operating for Victory." We think it will be a winner, and we're hoping to see all our alumni return for the big day.

Keeping men in campus offices is an important function of every fraternity, especially Delta Omega. Class elections are coming soon, and the Deltas have a man for each post in virtually every class. In student council, Brother DON HOLLIS was recently elected administrative advisor to the president, which is just another way of saying vice-president. A transfer from Tulane University, Don is our treasurer and well on his way to being a BMOC.

The lifeblood of the fraternity, rushes, are also being kept busy attending Delt parties and other functions. With the start of fall rush, we have already managed to take four new pledges, thanks to our experienced rush chairmen, DON MEHOK and STEVE BANDY. But we're all looking forward to winter quarter when the "big rush" begins and discriminating freshmen will be able to wear the gold and white square.

GEORGIANA RUNDLE entertains K-State Deltas.

Our football team is off to a good start. With no defeats, the prospects look good for a first place. JOE WESTFALL, our captain, keeps the brothers in there punching all the time.

During the summer, we had some improvements made around the Shelter that add a lot to its appearance. Our parking lot has been enlarged, and the driveway widened and curbed. Paint has been applied to the outside, broken windows replaced, and cracks in the ceiling mended. Other than a slight lean, the Shelter is in good condition again.

Each year, we at Delta Omega try to start a new fad for our young mid-western university. Things like umbrellas, three button suits, duffers, motoring caps, and now the very latest—our 1937 vintage Packard limousine—complete with front fender spare tires and wide running boards. To top it off, a Delt crest on the doors to add that mark of distinction. What more could a poor mid-western fraternity ask for?

The 100th for Delta is right around the corner, and we're all looking forward to the Karnea when we will mass to celebrate this big occasion. We hope to see a rep from all 87 this summer in the great steel city of Pittsburgh.

DON DICKISON

Kentucky—Delta Epsilon

After an extensive rush program, Delta Epsilon pledged 17 excellent men. They were BOB BAUGH, BOB BURNS, MORT HARKEY, WALLER HULETTE, JIM HILL, BOB LINKNER, TOM GENTRY, JIM EDWARDS, JIM KAVANAUGH, BILL ALEXANDER, ED THOMAS, RUSSELL TOWNSEND, DON WEIMANN, KEN BEARD, BOB O'DEAR, DOUG ROBERTS, and BILL MCGOODWIN.

Delts Epsilon presented a production of "Around the World in 8 Minutes" in Lances Carnival this year. Brother RANDY TURNBULL was chairman of the successful show. We finished second this year and our queen candidate, Miss Patty Harper, of Delta Delta Delta, was first attendant at the dance which followed the carnival.

At the present time Delta Epsilon has several men in key positions on the campus. Brother DAVE BECKER is president of Keys, the sophomore men's honorary and he is also a member of SGA. Brother DAVID PAGE is vice-president of the Student Union Board and is also a member of the commerce honorary, Delta Sigma Pi. Brother JIM HAMPTON is feature editor of the Kentucky Kernel, the campus newspaper. Brothers BURKE TERRELL, J. M. DISHMAN, and DANNY YATES are members of Keys, and Brother YATES is also a member of Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman men's honorary.

Brother BALLANTINE is a member of the Student Government Association and the judiciary committee of SGA. Brother DAN MILLOTT was recently reelected as chairman of the Student's Party, and Brother ROY WOODALL is now serving as president of Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's national honorary.

Brother DICK HOWE, like the rest of the basketball team, is preparing for the coming year. This year UK is host to three top teams in its annual invitational Christmas tourney. Included on the list is North Carolina, last year's number one team.

Homecoming will be November 23 this year and arch rival Tennessee will furnish the opposition. As usual Delta Epsilon will hold an open house for alums after the game.

Last semester (spring, 1957) the chapter improved on its first semester overall. Scholarship took an upward trend on campus last semester and everybody improved. Delta Epsilon went down in the scholastic ratings because of this larger improvement among the other fraternities.

DAN MILLOTT

Kenyon—Chi

Chi has started its 77th year in fine fashion. The president, TODD BENDER, seemed very optimistic at the sight of the coming year. With 15 enthusiastic and fun-loving sophomores now living in the "house," a fine academic and social program is planned.

On the athletic front Brothers BROWN and BEESE are leading Kenyon's football team this year as cocaptains. Both have stood out in Kenyon's first three games—BROWN at end, BEESE at guard. At the other guard, Delt JIM COX is again demonstrating his outstanding abilities, continually breaking through to bring down the ball carrier. All three earned varsity letters last year and will definitely bolster Kenyon's forward wall this year. Kenyon's coach, Bill Stiles, was overheard saying, "Brown, Beese, and Cox are three of the best linemen I have ever coached."

Brother THATCHER SCHWARTZ is earning his letter in soccer this fall. This is his first year of playing soccer, but he will definitely help Coach Edward's squad.

Swimming has started with Delts LANNY RITTER, DAVE MARKS, BILL BEESE, and Captain TOM WILSON hoping to lead the tankmen to another successful season. JOHN BEESE will report for swimming as soon as football is over.

The Delt intramural football team is again heading up the gridiron intramural league. They won their first 4 games by scores of 64-7, 59-2, 53-6, and 44-6. The RON BENNINGTON to BILL SWING combination has scored one-third of the touchdowns thus far. It should be another championship season for the Delts and another addition to the trophy case.

Chi Chapter salutes the men who have attained 3.5 or better in the past academic semester. Included are Brothers WALT TAYLOR, DICK SCHORI, JIM COX, TODD BENDER, JERRY LOOKER, RON BENNINGTON, and LANNY RITTER.

October 26 is homecoming at Kenyon and a fine week end is planned for them, including the football game with Oberlin and the annual homecoming dance. The homecoming display is a good one and should place high among the other fraternities on the Hill. ED LEAVENWORTH and his committee are in charge of this project.

On hearing that necessary equipment could not be obtained this year for the football squad, DR. LOUIS P. CARABELLI '22, took it upon himself to get the equipment. He sent out letters asking for contributions and the result was phenomenal. Contributions were received from not only Delts, but from other fraternity and non-fraternity alumni. We are indeed proud of these alumni and very grateful for the time and effort spent on such a project as this must have been. It has been a great help to the team, its coach, and its spirit. Dr. Carabelli was a Delt and a member of the class of '22.

The Air Force ROTC unit at Kenyon has a very capable major in Delt TOM WILSON. He is a diligent worker and 'keeps 'em flying.' He expects to command a unit of the Civil Air Patrol in an excursion to the Hawaiian Air Force Base in Honolulu during the latter part of January. They are expected to pilot an Aeronica sea plane.

Chi Chapter is now in the midst of rushing. Our rushing program is proceeding well and under the capable leadership of rush chairmen, ROGER SMITH and BOB MAURER, we should obtain a fine pledge class. There have been three rush parties so far with just one left in which to fulfill our purpose.

The Delt frisbee team composed of Brothers CONWAY, LEAVENWORTH, VAN EPPS, POWDERMAKER, BRAY, and MOODY are doing well in the interfraternity league this year. Only one casualty has been suffered thus far, that being Conway, who tripped over a "bunny" and sprained his ankle. DOC EDINGTON administered alternating hot and cold packs on his ankle and it is reportedly doing fine.

ED LEAVENWORTH

Lafayette—Nu

Nu Chapter is now proudly displaying the trophy awarded by the Fraternity for the highest average on the Fraternity exam. Congratulations are due to RAY CAREY, '57, whose efforts in preparing last year's initiates for the test were, in no small measure, responsible for the chapter's fine showing. In campus scholarship, Nu continued to hold her high position among the fraternities at Lafayette, placing fifth out of 19 fraternities during the spring semester. Five Deltas made the Dean's List: DICK ALTIMARI, AL CONOVER, PAUL LUSCOMBE, and DICK SHELLING, all class of '60, and ED CURLEY, '59.

This fall Nu pledged a total of 23 men, the largest pledge class on campus. Although the incoming class of '61 was 10 per cent smaller than any class for the past five years, Nu's smooth-running program, directed by TOM GRANT, brought in a top-flight pledge class numerically larger than any Delt pledge class here in recent years. Pledged were BOB CHRISTOPHERSON, '58; MILT CORRELL, '59; DICK ALTIMARI '60, and WALT DALLER, RON GEESEY, JOHN GRABARITS, FRED HAMMOND, BILL LARRABEE, PAUL LOFBERG, BOB MAYER, TONY MESSENLEHNER, PETE MITCHELL, JIM OEHLERT, DICK PERRY, ROGER RADER, BILL REMALY, FRED SCHILLINGER, FRANK SCHLAGETER, DAVE SCOTT, MEL SMART, FRED SMITH, DAVE TAMBURRO, and DICK WELCHANS, all '61.

Pledge CHRISTOPHERSON was recently elected news editor of The Lafayette, for fraternity representative to the Student Council in the upcoming freshman elections.

The football team got Nu's intramural program off to a flying start this year with a 6-0 upset victory over the top-rated team in the league. WALT PICKWELL, WILL SMILES, and TOM GRANT were the key men for the Shelter squad, with GRANT taking a pass from SMILES for the winning touchdown. The intramural program has since been halted by school officials because of the flu epidemic, but upon its resumption the Deltas expect to be back in there fighting it out for the championship.

Lt. JOE PRIAPI, '55, a Nu Chapter Delt now serving in the Air Force, escaped serious injury early this fall, when the F89D jet interceptor plane in which he was flying crashed and burned near the Swanson River on the Kenai Peninsula. Within an hour of the crash PRIAPI and his co-pilot were picked up by a 71st Air Rescue Squadron helicopter. He was held for observation at a hospital briefly before being released. His plane, attached to the 66th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Elemdorf, was on an active air defense "scramble" mission.

coupled with a top-notch pledge class will definitely maintain the superior reputation of the Deltas on the Lawrence campus.

The pledges have illustrated their sense of participation at the recent pledge formal, which was held with the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority at the North Shore Country Club. They have also shown their enthusiasm for inter-collegiate and interfraternity sports, and a recent informal party with the Delta Gamma sorority was a big success. In athletics, BOB PIHL, BOB SMITH, MOTZ DREW, and GARY LARSON are out for football. As the year goes on, LEE RYAN and LEE KING will be out for swimming, BOB GRIFFIN and TOM WEBER will be out for tennis, LEE ROCHE will be out for track, and BOB SMITH and MOTZ DREW will be out for baseball.

Due to a flu epidemic at Lawrence, Homecoming with all its floats and pageantry has been canceled. However, fraternity house and dormitory decorations are still in order, and the Deltas are working hard on an original idea for decorating the shelter, keeping in mind last year's first prize.

This year the Deltas have two actives, DAVID WEGE and JOHN ELLERMAN, who have distinguished themselves in the AFROTC detachment at Lawrence by winning the Air Force's Air Power Award, an honor given to those who have a high grade average, a serious interest in the Air Force, and qualified leadership ability. The entire chapter is looking forward to a great year, and it is bent on making it such.

LEE ROCHE

Lehigh—Beta Lambda

The first big week end this fall at Lehigh was "Parents Week End," October 12-13, and, of course, the Deltas participated to the fullest extent. The Lehigh-Gettysburg game highlighted the festivities Saturday afternoon, with Lehigh coming out on top to take the game. Afterwards the Deltas and their parents assembled back at the Shelter where everyone enjoyed dinner. After dinner the old Shelter began to liven up a bit with music and singing, which was taking some of the parents back to their younger party days. In all, everyone had a tremendous time and it gave the parents of the Deltas an excellent chance to see the Shelter and those who lived in it.

During the Lehigh-Gettysburg game the Deltas got to see their own BILL SCHAEFFER in action at guard position. This is Bill's second year playing varsity ball and he is becoming a vital link in Lehigh's winning combination. During Saturday's game his fine defensive play was a key factor in Gettysburg's inability to score.

New pledges at Chapter Nu.

our semi-weekly newspaper, thus giving the Deltas three out of eight editorial board positions on the paper, the maximum number allowed any one fraternity. Pledge SMITH has been chosen by the Maroon and White party as the nominee

Lawrence—Delta Nu

It looks very much like the school year of 1957-58 will be an outstanding one for the Deltas at Lawrence. A colony of capable and experienced actives

Another Delt who was seen on the field Saturday, but only during half-time, was JACK SWEITZER, the Delt's own musician. His hot french horn could be heard setting that marching beat which was felt throughout the stadium. Jack is also quite the man on a piano. Whenever a party becomes a little dull, the Delt just prop Jack on that piano stool and he soon has things moving again.

BOB ELLIOTT, the Delt's new athletic manager, is having a little trouble getting his touch football team working properly. Composed mostly of juniors and sophomores, the Delt team has faced two consecutive losses which were mostly due to the lack of practice and experience. However, with Bob's persistence the Delt's ball club should come through with a few victories.

Right now the flu is catching up with many of the Delts. It had gotten so bad here at Lehigh that school had to be called for two weeks. However, with Houseparty and Lafayette Week End coming up shortly I'm sure that all of the ailing Delts have a certain incentive to pull through.

CHARLIE VOGT

Maine—Gamma Nu

Once again the portals of Gamma Nu were opened in anticipation of another school year, and Delts bombed into their newly painted Shelter from all over the country. LEE ALLAIN, who arrived early to open the house quickly put the arriving Delts to work, and the Shelter was promptly set in order. Especially welcomed back were "Mom" Barron and chef "Ray," who have become an indispensable part of Gamma Nu, and Brothers BILL BARTON and WAYNE HODGEMAN, who after a semester's absence have returned all fired up with the old college try.

Upon the beginning of each year we look forward with great concern and industry in helping the pledges to become infused with the ideals of Deltism. It is the consensus of opinion amongst the brothers that the present pledge class has exceeded our expectations. Their high spirit, teamwork, and commendable organization have made them the best of good-will ambassadors of Deltism on the U. of M. campus. We happily look forward to their becoming lifelong brothers and congratulate Brother GEORGE CASAVANT in his untiring energy as pledge trainer and highly praise Brother PAUL FRANCIS and the "Greek-Week" committee in their ambitious plans and effort.

Strict rules during study hours imposed upon the Shelter by Brother DICK TWITCHELL, chairman of the scholarship committee, have produced good results, and Gamma Nu's scholarship rating has jumped up two places on the U. of M. campus. The strict rules program was initiated last semester and will be continued again this year with hopes of regaining high merits in scholastic achievement.

The program set up by the activities chairman, Brother NORM MERRILL, for infiltrating various student organizations on campus has had great success.

Under this program many Delts have become earnest and assiduous workers in many of the student organizations. We especially wish to congratulate Brothers LARRY THURELL and GEORGE CASAVANT who have been elected president and vice-president, respectively, on the Student Union staff.

Gamma Nu shot the gun that started the social life on campus underway with a four-hour jam session followed by a "pick-up" chow and dancing until midnight. Dale Whitney and his frolicking quintet kept the Shelter bouncing while it overflowed with students and guests. The session continued on into the late afternoon and finally broke up for a spell in order to eat supper. After supper the horns were again taken up and wild music and dancing captured a large crowd until midnight, when the girls' curfew sounded. Because of the co-operation and teamwork of all, this social event was one of the most inexpensive and successful functions ever held at the Delt Shelter.

FRANK DOMINGOS

Maryland—Delta Sigma

The intramural football season has again invaded the University of Maryland campus, and the Delta Sigmas are in the process of proving their skill as leading intramural contenders. The Delt football squad, coached so vigorously by Brother SONNY PLATT, is at the time of this writing in second place. The ZBTs, Phi Sigs, Sigma Kappas and the Lambda Chis have fallen victims of the hard pressing Delt lines and the intricate maneuvering of the backfield. CHARLES MC-MINN, a Penn State transfer graduate student, and MIKE HEALY have shown outstanding ability in the backfield. It might be noted that Healy was All-Army quarterback at Fort Hood, Texas during his service years.

The football season will provide the opportunity for a Delt to prove himself worthy of an Outstanding Athlete trophy recently instituted at Delta Sigma. The trophy will be presented at the Delt's 1958 Spring Formal.

Another Delt award presented annually is the Sorority of the Year trophy. The sorority demonstrating outstanding ability, scholarship, and campus participation will be awarded this four-foot trophy.

The annual scholarship awards were presented to JERRY HARTIGAN and our present secretary, GEORGE WEINKAM.

RICHARD WILKINSON, one of eight recently initiated actives, was awarded the Maryland's new initiates.

Outstanding Pledge trophy for his faithful participation in Delt activities.

Although rush activities were somewhat slow at Maryland this year, the Delts pledged 11 new neophytes and four hold-over pledges. The new pledge class is headed by President Robert Grove and Vice-president Hillary Little.

DICK LATHAM has accepted the position of assistant treasurer after the resignation of HART JOSEPH from that job. Latham will replace the present treasurer, JACK E. STEVENS, who is due to be graduated in February.

The Delt Auxiliary club, originated last spring, has moved into action this academic year by presenting the Delta Sigmas with a complete new outfit of formal meeting robes.

Due to the construction of new Kappa Alpha and Sigma Alpha Mu houses on the north side of Maryland's famous Fraternity Row, the Delts have lost their favored number one position on the row.

DONALD E. WITTEN

Miami—Gamma Upsilon

Returning to campus a week before classes started, the actives and pledges shaped up the Shelter for the coming year. They all pitched in and reconditioned the back and front yards, as well as their own individual study rooms in the Shelter.

The first chapter meeting got off with the election of a new president, recording secretary, and a corresponding secretary, JACK VAN METRE, JAY MINNELLO, and JACK ORCUTT were elected respectively.

Our social calendar started off with a loud bang this year. After the first home football game, the brothers and their dates paraded to the Shelter's back yard to enjoy "The greatest Honker of them all" Red Prysock and his Mercury recording band. Second on the calendar was the week end celebration of the Dad's Day football game, November 9. The fathers arrived Saturday and attended the game with their sons. After the traditional party that evening, the fathers took over the house for the night. The affair closed Sunday noon with a banquet at the house.

Two of Miami's starting eleven this year are Delts. Doing the passing is Brother TOM KILLMURRY at quarterback, and playing tackle is Brother JOHN DREW. Both are doing a fine job helping Miami pull to victory.

JACK ORCUTT

Michigan State—Iota

Iota opened its Shelter on a happy note this fall, having placed third scholastically for the previous term with a 2.472 all-fraternity average. Spirits were high as the joyous news of "no more scholastic pro" was heard throughout the Shelter.

The following week the spring pledges were initiated after their brief period of "proving." BILL YOUNG was presented with a trophy for being the outstanding pledge in the spring class.

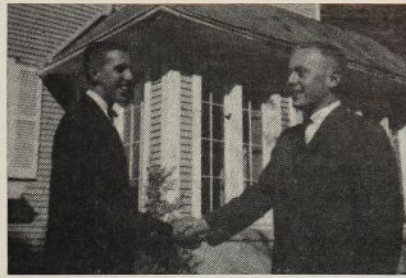

Iota's new initiates.

Iota is now in the midst of fall rush, and thus far all has been very successful. Rush Chairman DAVE BALL, now handling this all-important job for the second consecutive term, is doing a wonderful job, due to his ideas and hard work. Social Chairman JERRY McDONALD held a party for the rushees at the Shelter, which was certainly a sizeable asset to the rush program.

Mrs. Louise Hornbeck, Iota's new housemother, has become a "mom" to all Delts here, and is helping considerably with rush and all problems confronted at the Shelter. Iota is happy and swelling with pride to welcome Mrs. Hornbeck as its mother.

Several Delts were honored as initiates by M.S.U.'s Arnold Air Society: Brothers BOB MARSH, FRED HEITMAN, KEN YONKER, and GARY CARR. DICK CREGAR, a member of the AROTC rifle team, attended a meeting at Indiana recently, preparing for the upcoming rifle competition.

BILL YOUNG, left, outstanding pledge, and Brother YONKER after Iota initiation.

Iota is also in the sports spotlight, placing third in all-fraternity competition last year, and now the Delts here are out for even higher honors this year. Iota's IM football team, headed by Brother TOM ANDERSON, has won its first game and is working hard preparing for other upcoming games. Brother PAUL LEAVENWORTH, sports chairman, is predicting great things for Iota this year.

Iota wishes all undergraduate chapters the best of luck in the coming year.

RODY SHERRILL

Minnesota—Beta Eta

After a big year last year Beta Eta started out this one the same way—BIG. We boast one of the largest and best pledge classes on campus. We have many "men on campus" and in athletics. Our social calendar looks good indeed and both of our intramural football teams are undefeated.

Our successful rushing program is due to the hard work of TERRY DIETERLE, our rushing chairman, and complete support by the chapter. Playing a part in our summer rush program were JIM LEWIS, DAVE KOLLITZ, and PETER ROYSE. All of the brothers deserve a hand for a job very well done.

Beta Eta has more than her share of "Big Men on Campus." Brothers DICK DUXBURY, MILTON JOSSI, and WAYNE ANDERSON are on the S.L.A. Board and JIM LEWIS and DICK QUANRUD are members of the all-U-Congress.

Brothers BILL CHORSKE and BOB CHARON are members of the finest Minnesota football team in years. Brother CHORSKE is close to being one of the leading scorers in the Big Ten while Brother CHARON hasn't had a chance to see action yet because of injuries.

PETER ROYSE, Beta Eta's new athletic chairman, has both of his football teams off to a good start this season. Both teams are made up of both actives and pledges and are hoping to take the championship.

BENNO KRISTENSEN

Missouri—Gamma Kappa

Gamma Kappa began the 1957-'58 collegiate year with five new brothers, four of them being initiated early in September, and JOHN SILVER being affiliated from the Phi chapter at Washington & Lee University.

After a summer of very successful rushing, under the direction of Rush Chairman BOB FALKENHAINER, Gamma Kappa pledged 28 men. Among the pledges are two freshman footballers, RON MULLIN and JACK FIELDS, and several freshman baseball candidates, including BILL McDONALD, JIM BRICKEY, and BOB TIPPETT.

The social season has started off with a bang. Our annual fall pig roast was held at the Pinnacles early in September. Over 60 Delts and their dates attended the festivities.

Intramurally, the Missouri Delts are doing very well. Our touch football team has won its first two games, under the excellent coaching of ROGER SHARP. The tennis team, behind TOM FELTENSTEIN, has won several matches.

BOB MEYERS and DON LOUDEN are representing the Delts on the varsity football team. Meyers is a starting half back and has seen quite a bit of action this season. Loudon is a reserve guard.

PAUL KNOPF

Nebraska—Beta Tau

Under the leadership of BOB HARRY, Beta Tau began the fall semester by bringing in a pledge class of 18 outstanding men. Officers of the pledge class are TOM PIESTER, president; JOHNNY COX, vice-president; LARRY KLEIN, secretary-treasurer; DON DAVIS and TOM SHELTON, cosergeants at arms; and KARL FALLER, social chairman. DICK BOND is the pledge trainer for first semester.

After rush week our president, DICK ARNESON, made these new chairmanship appointments. MIKE LOGUE is rush chairman; BOB ADEN took over as intramural chairman; social chairman is MICK TOOLEY; TOM NEVOTTI was named activities chairman. JERRY AMOS and BOB WRIGHT are the new Delt song leaders, while DICK BOND heads our 1957 Homecoming display committee.

During the third Sunday in September, Beta Tau initiated ten new Delts.

The Delt intramural program got off to a good start as we won the all-University golf hole-in-one contest. DICK BOND was All-University individual champ and DICK HOVE was second. At present our house is engaged in football, track, tennis, horseshoes, basketball free-throw competition, and is busy planning for three intramural basketball teams.

For our migration to Columbia, Missouri, JERRY AMOS and his committee have scheduled a bus for the Delts and their dates. The exciting week end will be highlighted by the Nebraska-Missouri game on Saturday, October 26.

Chairman TOM NEVOTTI has stated that the Delts have shown considerable strength in activities this fall. TOM PRESTER has been elected to treasurer of junior IFC; four sophomores, DICK DUDEN, DICK HODGE, DICK HOVE, and TOM NEVOTTI are new Korn Kob members; BOB WRIGHT is a new member of Builders; Kosmet Klub has selected DICK HOVE as a new member; and TOM NEVOTTI has become a member of the Nebraska University Council on World Affairs. In athletic activities DWIGHT SEIBLER and JACK CLARK have been initiated into "N" club.

JOHN W. CLARK

North Dakota—Delta Xi

Delta Xi has experienced the most successful rushing campaign at the University of North Dakota. Twenty-six outstanding young men have received the pledge pin of Delta Tau Delta to date. They, along with 12 holdover pledges and 24 returning actives, give us a total membership of 62, which is believed to be an all time high for our chapter.

New pledge officers are president, KEITH IVERSON; vice-president, NEAL HOLTER; secretary-treasurer, KEN TRANA; sergeant at arms, HOWARD HOOVESTAL; and social chairman, DEAN FLANDERS.

Two of the new pledges are relatives of Delts from our chapter. HOWARD HOOVESTAL, a brother of RICHARD HOOVESTAL, '52, pledged this fall along with DAVE MELDAHL, son of Brother CARL MELDAHL.

Delta Xi was very fortunate to have an outstanding float entry in the Homecoming Parade on October 12. Under the guidance of Float Chairman BRUCE LISTOE, the entry we had placed 2nd in competition with 10 other fraternities.

Several Delts were prominent in Homecoming activities. Prexy GLENN MUIR was the over-all Homecoming Chairman who had 14 committee chairmen under him. Under his direction, Homecoming was termed a huge success by the alums, parents, and students. STU FELDE was Queen Selection chairman for Brother Muir and represented the chapter in a fine manner with the excellent job he did.

BARRY NELSEN, Air Force ROTC drill commander, has recruited several Delts for the drill team so that approximately one-third of the team is composed of Delts.

Social life at the Shelter is coming along in fine style. Exchange dinners with every sorority on campus have been arranged by Social Chairman BARRY NELSEN. Brother Nelsen has set November 23 as the date for our annual Hard Times Party. On December 14, Delta Xi will hold the Kris Kringle Christmas Formal. John Stone's Orchestra, a very fine group of musicians from the UND campus, will provide the music. A new Delt Sweetheart will also be presented at this time.

The annual fall cleanup and pledge-active football game will be held on October 26. Following this, a party will be held with the Alpha Phi Sorority as our guests.

GLENN MUIR received a Regular Army commission in the Finance Corps of the United States Army this summer and will report for duty next August 30.

Brother Muir was the recipient of a $1,000 graduate scholarship given by CHESTER FRITZ, prominent alumnus of the University of North Dakota. It so happens that Mr. Fritz is a Delt, being a member of the Delt Chapter at the University of Washington, 1913. Brother Fritz is an outstanding banker and financier and has contributed more than $100,000 to the University since December of 1956.

Six men will become the proud recipients of the Delt Badge on November 3.

LEW SCHOENEMAN was recently elected president of the University of North Dakota band.

With the way things are developing around the Shelter it looks as though we're going to have a most successful year. The major item we are working on now is our scholarship, which we are going to improve greatly.

JACK MCCOY

Northwestern—Beta Pi

As a result of intensive summer organization and planning, rush parties, and hard work through rush week, Beta Pi landed the largest pledge class on campus, 31 strong. What appeared would be a disadvantage, namely, the lack of a house in which to rush because the Shelter was in the midst of an extensive remodeling job, turned into an advantage for Beta Pi. Here was evidence of progress and a new era for Beta Pi. Many compliments go to Rush Chairman DAVE TOMPKINS and to LYLE HERSCHLAG for his assistance.

July 6 was the starting date of a $172,000 renovation program on Beta Pi, thus far the most extensive job done by any fraternity on the Northwestern campus. Included in the program are completely new fixtures, conversion from a dormitory to a suite system, new interior decorating, housemother's quarters, and facilities for a high-fi system. The lounge area is being greatly increased by enclosing the porch and moving the dining room and kitchen downstairs. The dining room space will be doubled to seat 70. The front porch and part of the side of the building will feature plate glass windows. Completion is scheduled for the middle of the fall quarter.

To the "new" chapter will come Mrs. Fred Mann, our first housemother. With 12 years' sorority experience at DePauw University, she became a part of our chapter during rush week, and the fourth housemother for a fraternity on this campus.

Beta Pi's traditional freshman pajama race was held October 11 and celebrated its 29th annual running. Each fraternity pledge class entered a relay team of its four fastest men with Sigma Chi emerging victorious.

DON CENTOFANTE and BOB SERHANT introduced the queen candidates following the race. All freshmen, they were selected to represent each sorority pledge class and dormitory. Chi Omega's Rocelyn Dwan was selected queen.

The queen candidates selected Phi Gamma Delta's skit, "Wake Up, Little Suzie," as winner in the "King" contest.

ROCELYN DWAN, '57 Delt Pajama Queen.

Completing the activities on the campus, Deltas and their dates polished off an evening of festivities dancing at the Polynesian Room in Chicago's Edgewater Beach Hotel. Cochairmen for the race were FRANK MANTA and TOM VANA.

With the ushering in of fall quarter, the brothers entered the varied field of activities. JEFF McCULLOUGH served as assistant central rush chairman for the Interfraternity Council during rush week. Chapter President STEVE FITZSIMMONS is serving on the executive council of the Senior class, and DAVE TOMPKINS on the Junior class. Dave was recently selected to the Little Hoover Commission and is serving as vice-president of Norleggama, Junior men's honorary. LEO MANTA is chairman of the student intramural committee. GEORGE JAVARAS was elected to the freshman council. RUSS PHILLIP is serving on Junior IF. GEORGE PLATZ was elected to Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholastic honorary.

After his selection as last year's "Athlete of the Year" by the student body, Senior BOB McKEIVER, All Big Ten half-back last year was recently elected to serve as cocaptain of the Wildcat football team for the second straight year. ANDY CVERCKO, junior, plays starting tackle position for the second straight year on the NU squad, while JOHN LAKE, sophomore, started his first Big Ten game against Michigan this fall and shows great promise. MARK JOHNSTON, another sophomore, has seen action in every game this season at half-back. Two end candidates, JOE McCORMICK, returning serviceman, and JIM WOZNY, have seen limited service. Playing frosh ball is DICK SODERBERG.

Beta Pi's intramural action started off in football with decisive wins in our first two games, including a victory over last year's league champions. Scores were 26-0 and 24-0. Tennis and golf singles victories have also pointed to what looks like the beginning of a very successful year in IM's. Recently announced members to last year's ALL-IM softball team were DON CENTOFANTE, center field, and BILL SHINEFLUG, third base.

Beta Pi extends its gratitude to Deltas at Michigan for entertaining and feeding our pledges and their dates, the Tri Delt pledges, on October 19 in Ann Arbor. Beta Pi's pledge class invited the Tri Delt pledge class to go with them to watch the football tilt with Michigan that day.

Ohio—Beta

Ohio University Deltas have copped first place in scholarship for the spring '57 semester. The Beta Deltas had a cumulative of 2.53 on a 4.00 basis, with 18 of the 26 graduating seniors getting above a 3.00 average. WALT MANSKE and SYD BUCK had perfect 4.00 averages.

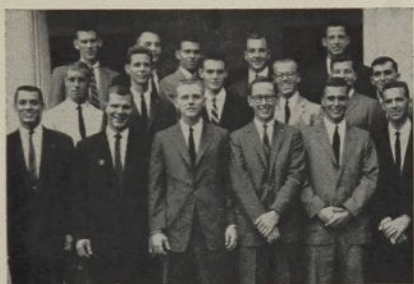

After getting back to school, Beta Chapter got back into the swing of winning ways by capturing three trophies in the annual Greek Week at Ohio University. Utmost was winning the Ugly Man trophy by BOB "Darkhorse" HORN.

Another trophy won by the OU Delts was a second place for their unique booth at the Greek Week Carnival. The booth consisted of a giant slot machine with very intricate and synchronized mechanization consisting of—you guessed it—pledges. In order for someone to win at the "Greek Gambler," the combination of Greek letters denoting a specific fraternity or sorority on the OU campus had to be shown on the one-armed bandit. A third trophy-producing project for the Beta Chapter Delts during Greek Week was the winning of the blood drive. Fifty-two pints from a chapter of 69 men resulted in a record-setting feat.

Beta Chapter has pledged nine new men. They are: BILL BAXTER, DON BOTTLES, JAY FLEENOR, DAVE LEETY, GENE RAYMOND, BOB SHIERMYER, JIM SMIRGINA, NEIL WILLIS, and JOHN WILSE. Officers are: Wilse, president; Baxter, vice-president; and Willis, secretary-treasurer.

Ohio University and Beta Chapter have lost a great man. Chapter Adviser DR. FREDERICK D. KERSHNER, who is also Delta Tau Delta's Supervisor of Scholarship, has transferred to Columbia University. A very capable Beta Delt, Robert E. Matson, '53, has accepted the position of chapter adviser. Mr. Matson in his first year on the staff of Ohio University in 1956 was resident manager of a men's dormitory. In 1957 he was promoted to the position of Assistant Dean of Men.

BOB FORLOINE

Ohio State—Beta Phi

Off once again to an enthusiastic beginning of a new year, the Beta Phi Delts have welcomed as new pledges 25 boys hailing from all parts of Ohio and neighboring states. Among the new members-to-be is GARY MILLIKEN, star basketball player from Waynesburg, Pennsylvania, where he won a berth on the All-State team. Stepping into an active college program, the new pledges assembled and elected their officers: RON HASKAMP, Cincinnati, is president; RON MILLER, Columbus, is vice-president; DAVE EVANS, Toledo, is secretary; and RON MILLER, Lancaster, is treasurer.

Two eagerly awaited fall events are Homecoming week end and Initiation week. Homecoming has been planned with much diligence and preparation, and if past years are any indication, this year should be a resounding success, for we all remember last year's highly prized second place award for decorations. Initiation week is always a memorable event, more pleasant for actives than pledges perhaps, but, an important part of the fraternity system. Eight pledges have been readied for the ceremony, which is to be chairmanned by DAVE WEINSZ and GEORGE MILLER. An engrossing program for a full week of festivity has been outlined in complete detail. With this fall's new roll the active chapter will number more than 50 members.

CHIEF JUSTICE WEYGANT and House-mother BARNES.

President MILLIKEN, JUSTICE WEYGANT, Mrs. BARNES, and LARRY BRAKE.

We were proud to be hosts this month to two distinguished guests who came to the chapter house for dinner and an evening of informal discussion. Chief Justice of Ohio's Supreme Court, CARL V. WEYGANT, Wooster '12, gave a short after dinner talk which centered around the Delt Creed. Marshall Smith, sports editor of Life magazine, spent an informal evening interviewing and assimilating ing material for a future article on the college football player.

The Delt athletes are off to a running start as we boast the capabilities of ace track man, JACK MCCLAIN, who last year won second place in the Big Ten finals which placed him in sixth position nationally. Jack runs the half-mile. FRED SCHENKING, varsity end for Ohio State's eleven, has seen action in the two opening games this year. NAT SMITH, who last year won membership in Mike Peppe's National Collegiate Diving Team, is looking forward to an equally successful year.

In campus activities GEORGE BAUGHMAN has recently been elected vice-president of O.S.P.A.—the Ohio Student's Party Associated—which is at present the reigning party of the two existing political organizations.

RANDY WRIGHT

Ohio Wesleyan—Mu

Having pledged 24 fine men, Chapter Mu looks forward to another rewarding year. The 62 returning actives and the pledge class swell the ranks to 86 members. The brothers feel that with our exceptional group of pledges, Mu is well equipped to maintain its record of superiority in scholarship and leadership on the Ohio Wesleyan campus.

The interfraternity scholarship trophy is again resting in its proper place on the mantel. The Delts copped the cherished award easily this semester, as the chapter's accumulative point average exceeded that of our nearest competitor by nearly two-tenths of a point.

Many honors have fallen to individual members. Brother JIM McHOLLAND, in his position as president of Student Government, has received campus-wide acclaim for his proficiency in office. Brother ED WHIPPS has recently been appointed chief justice of the Campus Court. Also seated on the court is Brother CHARLES BROWN, who did an excellent job as rush chairman for the chapter this fall. Brother BOB STEVENS is the producer for "Carousel," this year's Senior Show.

Delt contributions to the University gridiron include BOB MORRILL, CHUCK HANSEN, and DICK DEHAVEN, first-string halfback, guard, and end, respectively; with BOB WILKINSON, DICK HEASTON, TERRY ROSS, and two freshmen, ROGER COOK and BRUCE MICKEY, as good reserve men. Brother MORRILL was recently picked by the coaching staff and campus sports writers as the "player of the week."

Delts are quite active in campus publications this year as in many previous years. On the yearbook staff is Brother JERRY CHILD, layout editor, and Brother VICK FRENCH, assistant editor. Several men from the chapter are writing for the newspaper, under the supervision of Brother JACK BATTY, managing editor of the All-American Transcript.

Mu Chapter hopes to welcome many of its alumni back to the Shelter on Homecoming week end; November 2 being the date set for the festivities.

JOHN PORTER

Oklahoma—Delta Alpha

We started out the year with a very successful victory party, which celebrated the pledging of 41 outstanding men. By the way, the pledge class was the largest one on the campus.

October 25 will bring many dads to the University of Oklahoma for the annual Dads Day celebrations. Our own Dads Club will present several awards to men in the chapter. One will go to the member and pledge with the highest grade average. A scholarship of $50 will be awarded to the sophomore, junior, and senior, who have made outstanding improvement in their grades during the past year.

This year will be a very active one for Delts at O.U. In intramurals, our football team has promise of being one of the best in several years. So far the team has gone undefeated. Three Delts were chosen to lead the Air Force ROTC this year. PAUL McDANIELS was chosen deputy wing commander, along with the selection of WARREN MOORE and DON TREPS to be on the wing staff. We are already planning our decorations of Homecoming and our act for the annual Sooner Scandals. We are sure that this will be an outstanding year for Delta Alpha.

ALLEN EVANS

Oregon—Gamma Rho

The Oregon Delts started the school year in the right direction by giving a new look to the house. Members returned a week early to scrub, wax, and re-paint the complete interior.

Gamma Rho closed a successful rush week with a house party honoring its 13 new men. LLOYD GAITHER, PETE STRAGNOLA, RAY DAVIS, DICK SCHONFELDER, GARY PARKS, JIM STACEY, CARL THIELE, TERRY RADDATZ, LOU PARMENTER, JIM RISINGER, BRUCE BAILEY, ALAN CARLSON, and BRIAN LEWIS accepted the pledge pin of Delta Tau Delta.

After a year's layout due to a knee injury, CHUCK OSBORN returned to the Oregon gridiron as a fullback instead of halfback. Chuck is showing his capabilities by splitting starting roles with last year's number one man. Running right behind Osborn is another Delt, MARLAN HOLLAND, who in his second year at Oregon is proving he is a more than capable replacement.

Two of the brothers are working out for the coming wrestling season. BOB MCOLLOUGH, letterman in the 177-pound class is back shooting for the Pacific Coast championship which he lost last year by a split decision in the final match. GARY PARKS weighing in at 123-pounds is up from the freshman squad, and is pretty sure to be the top man in that division.

Also in training for winter sports are PETE STRAGNOLA and DICK SCHONFELDER, who are getting in shape for the ski team.

With the school year only three weeks old campus activities have been pretty limited. However, several Delts have become active in student affairs.

PETE STRAGNOLA is in the finals in the "Joe College" contest.

TOM WALDROP is program director, and RON LINDER is news supervisor for the University radio station, KWAX.

In the music division TOM LEWIS, RON LINDER, and BILL SWARTZ play in the famous University marching band. ROY PHILLIPS has his own dance band with Brothers RON LINDER, BILL SWARTZ, and BRUCE BAILEY all members. Roy plays for many house dances, and the campus "Friday at Four" entertainment hour.

The year has just started and so has Gamma Rho. The outstanding record of its members and campus awards won last year was only a preliminary of bigger and better things to come this year.

GRANT McCORMACK

Oregon State—Delta Lambda

With the completion of the new Shelter, Delta Lambda starts another successful year at OSC. All the members came back a week early to help polish up and move into the house. We all took much pleasure and had a lot of fun in helping finish the newest and finest of the fraternity houses on campus.

Over the summer there were two major rush parties at Oswego and Suttle Lakes which gave us the opportunities to get to know many good prospects. Through the excellent work on the part of BOB EBERHARD, our rush chairman, and the members, the Delts begin the school year with an outstanding pledge class, which we are sure will help maintain our Delt sons at Oregon State: GROVES, REIMER, GILLEY, and PEARSON.

Delta Lambda's pledge class at Oregon State.

PETE YAZZOLINO was made a member of Blue Key, the national senior men's service honorary. Already several of our pledges are in campus activities: TONY PEARSON is rook football manager, JOHN TURNER is out for rook football, ED DUCKETT, ED GARRISON, and TED MOON are out for rook basketball, and several have pledged Pershing Rifles, the Army drill team. As a house function, members and pledges went to Coos Bay on Oct. 5 and 6 to donate their time to working on the Oregon Society for Crippled Children's camp, a worthwhile project which we hope to continue every year.

We have ahead of us this term the dinner-dance in honor of the pledges, which will be held in the two-level party room of the Shelter. Also, there is a dedication of the new Shelter on the week end of Homecoming at which many alums and honored guests will be present. We are looking forward to a successful year in intramural sports and have several teams in all sports ready to go.

So, with many good men and a new Shelter, the Delts are again ready to stay at the top as scholastic, social, and activity leaders at Oregon State College.

AL PALMER

Penn State—Tau

Tau started out the year socially with a combined party with Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Epsilon Pi. It was a week end affair including a cabin party and dinner and ending with a jam session Sunday afternoon.

Within the house we have BUD KOHLHAAS again grinding it out on the football field. Bud, a sophomore, is playing second-team varsity guard. Another of our pledges, DELLIE KREISER, was recently tapped into Delphi, men's hat society. LEE SWANK, DICK WILSON, and JIM SLOAN were initiated into Arnold Air Society.

Our Ugly Man this year is PAUL PRITCHARD. (Ugly Man, incidentally, is a contest among fraternities, having nothing to do with the physical appearance of the contestants.) Paul placed well in the preliminaries and we're hoping he will be a winner.

We are looking forward to a visit in the very near future of Gamma Sigma Chapter. When they arrive everyone will be treated to a preliminary Pitt-Penn State football game, followed by a jam session, dinner, and a party at night.

In closing, we would like to apologize to all the alumni of Tau for not being able to hold a homecoming celebration this year. Over half the house membership was stricken with flu, and we felt it unwise to proceed with the celebration. But we promise—we'll do it up twice as good next year.

RICHARD DRAYNE

Pittsburgh—Gamma Sigma

The Gamma Sigma Delts started the year with a traditionally active rushing schedule. After four parties, a stag dinner, and a tea dance with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority 13 of the finest men at Pitt had pledged Delt.

Our football team, under the direction of JIM DONAHUE, has the chapter off to an impressive start. Our second place team of last year has improved from experience and is presently battling for first place in the play-offs.

The football team put its fine record on the line by traveling to Penn State to down Tau Chapter, 26-15. Twenty-five brothers and pledges were the guests of the Tau Delts during the same week end of October 25-27. The game was followed by dinner and a combo party at which inter-chapter relations were cemented.

Pitt Homecoming Queen, NANCY HOULIHAN.

Homecoming activities are dominating this week. The Delts started the week by having its candidate, Nancy Houlihan, crowned Homecoming Queen. Miss Houlihan is a sophomore at Pitt and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. This marked the third straight year that our candidate has won this honor. We are also building a float for the half-time parade at the Syracuse game.

Brother LEE DOBLER has been made cadet colonel and commander of the Pitt Army R.O.T.C. regiment.

JAN SWENSEN

Purdue—Gamma Lambda

Last spring seems to have been a big one for Gamma Lambda. We celebrated the 50th anniversary of the founding of our chapter. Three days of activities were planned and many "old" Delts returned to witness the celebration. Several members of the class of 1907 returned to view the growth of the institution which they had started, and the famous "Varsity Four" barbershop quartet returned to sing some of the old favorites which were heard in the Shelter in '49.

Also highlighting the spring semester was the annual house dance which featured a speakeasy theme, but still retained the air of a formal dance. Gaye Kutchins, Pi Beta Phi, was elected queen with JIM MCKNEIGHT as her escort. The time rolled around for University sing in which the Delts were picked to appear in the finals. Since the sing took place on Mothers' Day week end, all the mothers attended the show to cheer us on.

We are proud to announce that out of a total of 40 fraternities on campus the Delts ranked 9th in scholarship and 12th in intramural sports, thanks to the hard work of our scholarship chairman, JESSIE SABIN and of our athletic manager, PHIL CONREAUX.

This spring the campus also saw many Delts pledging honoraries and petitioning for jobs on several of the school's major activities. RODGER GRANT and JIM HALL were chosen to pledge Pi Tau Sigma, the national mechanical engineering honorary. ART GUSTAFSON, JIM DEMING, and RODGER GRANT were initiated into Scabard and Blade, a national military honorary, and TOM HALL and JIM REYNOLDS were pledged to Skull and Crescent, a national honorary for sophomores.

DAVE HULL, sophomore, was chosen from many contenders for the title of "Purdue Pete," an honor which any Boilermaker would be proud of. CLIFF CHAPPELL was pledged and initiated into Gimlet, athletic honorary and activity booster club for fraternity men. Three Delts were elected to hold down junior jobs on two major activities. JIM REYNOLDS and BOB LINDBERG both received jobs on the office of Student Services staff, and PETE KRIEG was chosen night editor of the Purdue Exponent. Last but not least, we were proud to graduate 15 seniors from the chapter.

With all the brothers back from summer vacation things really started rolling with the pledging of 9 top men. Altogether this brought the total of pledges up to 17. Next on the agenda was the construction of a mammoth "Purdue Pete" holding a Badger, Wisconsin's mascot, by the tail and dunking him up and down in a bottle of grade "F" milk. Our theme was "Homogenize the Badgers." Homecoming was as usual, fun for the undergrads as well as for the alums.

Again this fall the campus saw Delts in honoraries. JACK MEILAHN, wrestler, was chosen to pledge Gimlet and Pledge DICK MOLL made Skull and Crescent. We are looking forward to another fine year of school and living in the Shelter.

PETE KRIEG

Rensselaer—Upsilon

It was encouraging news to hear that President Houston of the Institute recently approved plans for the new Delt Shelter. This "go ahead" sign means construction will probably get under way early this coming spring.

Our scheduled IF Big Week End was postponed due to a well-known nemesis—the flu. Despite this disappointment, we were happy to welcome back several of the chapter alumni.

On the varsity gridiron, Brothers RON BROWN and PETE GORRY have made good showings in the RPI eleven's first two outings. Pete has scored touchdowns in each game so far, and Ron has been moving the team right along with a fine job at left end. Brother JOHN BURKARD, fleet captain and leading scorer of the sailing club, has been the key figure in the team's successes thus far. Defense-man PETE MACARTHUR and diminutive, All-American GARY KEARNS are getting their legs in shape for the coming hockey season, which begins on November 30.

With the fall intramural sports program coming to a close, the brothers are anxiously looking forward to the playoffs. Of the three fall sports—football, horseshoes, and tennis—Delt teams have earned play-off berths in each.

Brother BRAD KENNEDY, following his appointment as the Interfraternity Council treasurer, was recently named as the I.F.C. representative to the Council of Club Presidents. Brothers JOHN BURKARD and JERRY LUFF received committee appointments.

EDWARD KROMER

Santa Barbara—Delta Psi

As the Delta Psi smiling summer swept its way into the hidden den of nature our rush chairman, JIM HEZLEP made plans for what proved to be a great campus sweep. After the sand, evidence of a victorious summer program including volleyball championships and beaching escapades, was removed from the outside halls of the Shelter the chapter effected its rushing program which attracted and pledged 17 well qualified men. Jim used a system of mailing lists and personal contacts that really placed the name of Delta Tau Delta out in the lead. Proud of our campus standing are Brothers COTTLE, TICE, and G. B. H. serving the student body as vice-president, senior class president, and representative at large, respectively. Added to the rank of Delt student leaders, holding voting positions on Legislative Council, is Pledge PATTERSON, who charmed the gals and convinced the men that he could ably lead the Frosh Class as its president. Another feat; another Council seat for Delta Psi.

Under the able leadership of "Sham" and Brother COMSTOCK the Santa Barbara Delts promise to dazzle the Homecoming Parade viewers with our version of the world through a Delt telescope. Just in line this year with the theme U.C. the World the float should be among the winners. And to insure that it will be a winner we have selected Brother PURCELL to lead our hard working pledges in the traditional feats. Assisting our pledge trainer is a real "old dog" of the Shelter, Brother BASKERVILLE. His outstanding leadership of certain pledge class activities, including joints and enjoyable Shelter services, has at times caused the pledge class to "bark" with humor as he steps into the pledge chamber to lead them in the famous Chapter pinning songs. The laurels truly go to our pledge leaders this semester; and in their turn to our pledges for their wonderful spirit and never ceasing expression of scintillating remarks.

Coaching right at the top of our sports ladder is Brother CONWAY, who has organized an all-time, record-beating football team. It seems that Bill has mustered the power to capture for us the golden cup that represents an all win season. Cliff and Gary earned the laurels last month, but the team surely has a place for the one coming.

With the future now unfolded it would be well to mention that our social chairman has planned an event that the gals seem to be going for in a big way! Bob claims that he got part of the idea from our last joint with the Delta Gamma's. It includes costumes, which by definition must be "different," and just to make things more interesting the Pledges are going to get all the actives dates. Unless I miss my guess Brother TISSUE is correct when he bleated, "BRACK, I'll get my own."

As the members of Delta Psi dig into the books, celebrating a hope and in more ways a promise that scholarship will also prevail, we cherish our memories of the eventful month of rushing and look with great expectations towards our Homecoming fast drawing near. And in all our reminiscences of plans well perfected and pledges striving forth we notice a well-tied knot that has bound Delta Psi together in brotherhood and in fighting spirit. Truly a felicity, Max, representing a feeling that the Santa Barbara Delts are planning a program that we might have trouble topping in years to come.

GEORGE HAWKINS

Sewanee—Beta Theta

Beta Theta opened the school year with a tremendously successful rush week. The efforts of the chapter resulted in the pledging of 19 men with others still being rushed for a delayed pledge day set up under University regulations.

On October 20 the chapter entertained the University community with a tea honoring Brother FRANK A. JUHAN, retired Episcopal Bishop of Florida and a resident of Sewanee. This was the first major event in celebration of Beta Theta's seventy-fifth anniversary.

Delt activities and pledges have started the year well with participation at a peak in extracurricular activities. Brother GEORGE KIKER was elected chairman of the Debate Council for the University. Many members are participating in this activity as well as the journalistic opportunities available on the student publications.

Beta Theta placed second among the fraternities in scholarship last semester. The chapter made a 2.80 average on a 4.00 system. The winning group had a 2.83. A pledge scholarship program is underway to assure the continuation of our present standards.

Homecoming week end at Sewanee is set for November 8-10. Delt activities will build a float for the parade and pledges will build lawn decorations to see who can win the higher prize. The losers will host the winners at a party.

The chapter is looking forward to its seventy-fifth anniversary banquet next April 12.

BATTLE SEARCY

Stanford—Beta Rho

The members of Beta Rho have been conspicuously prominent on the Stanford campus for the past decade. Whether as enthusiastic participants or as distinctive leaders, Delts have been present in every aspect of Stanford life. This year is no exception. Eight Delts occupy starting positions on the Stanford football team: GARY VAN GALDER, end and cocaptain; President JOHN KIDD and ARMAND DEWEESE at tackles; NOEL ROBINSON and DON MANOUKIAN, guards; RUSS STEELE at center; JERI McMILLIN, flanker back, and AL HARRINGTON at right halfback. Veteran JOHN CLARK alternates with MANOUKIAN at the left guard position, while Sophomore SM GABER holds down the second spot at QB. Sophomores JERRY WINTERS and CHRIS BURFORD, at third string tackle and end, respectively, both are pressing hard for that second berth.

Campus Leaders WALLY HONEYWELL, PHIL BERRY, and DOUG McLENDON are putting their abilities to good use this year. As three of 24 upperclassmen chosen by the administration to act as freshmen sponsors, these three Delts will play a big role in facilitating the adjustment and orientation of many freshmen to the ways of college life on the "farm."

The first house pleasure project of the year was the Orphan's Party preceding the San Jose game. Fifteen orphans, all under ten years of age, were brought up to the house for lunch and a pre-game scramble tilt of their own before being taken to the real thing at Stanford Stadium. It was indeed an enjoyable afternoon for all.

The Delts have traditionally been on the upper rung scholastically among Stanford fraternities. Dropping a little in the over-all standings this past year, we were nevertheless represented by a few brilliant academic achievements. JOHN NEFF, PETE LIKINS, and STEVE DOCTER were elected to nationally known Phi Beta Kappa. It is interesting to note that each one of these men starred in a major sport. NEFF and DOCTER were outstanding performers on the Stanford varsity football teams for three years, and LIKINS was captain and undefeated P.C.C. champion on last year's wrestling team. Of no less interest is the fact that NEFF and LIKINS were both past presidents of the Stanford Chapter of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society.

TOM CRAWFORD

Stevens—Rho

BOB WALKER is the deserving member of Rho Chapter in the Delt spotlight this month. Bob is the foremost leader on campus being president of the Senior Class, student council, and senior honor society, Khoda. He is also vice-president of Gear and Triangle, as well as cocaptain of the varsity basketball team and a four year veteran in the soccer nets. Here is hats off to a truly great Delt.

Sharing individual honors with Bob this month are our new vice-president of Rho Chapter, DICK CLEMENT, and BOB FIOCCO newly elected vice-president of the Student Council.

Athletically the chapter is pursuing its second straight IFC football trophy. Optimism is running high with all of last year's team back except starting quarterback, BOB WOODWARD. Although the team is confident it is still working hard to overcome any unforeseeable trouble which may block its victorious path. The Delts are also well represented on the Stute's soccer team, placing six lettermen on the squad.

The chapter is going hi-fi for the coming Winter Carnival Week End. As usual the formal will be held in New York where we will dance to a name band. All eyes are turned toward this big week end and all alumni who would like to attend are welcome.

GIL MORIN

Texas—Gamma Iota

The Gamma Iota Delts are anticipating another successful year. We have completed our fund raising drive and the new wing for the house will be under construction in the near future.

Rush week, under the leadership of RICHARD KEETON, found us with 21 pledges.

The intramural program looks better this year than it has in any of the previous five years. We lost very few men as a result of graduation, and since we won the all-intramural trophy last year, the caliber of men returning goes to prove that Delt will be the fraternity to beat. We have FRANK NAGLE and BUDDY VOELKEL who were both in the top ten in individual points last year, and AVIS JOHNSON, with his golden right arm, will again lead us in softball. ROBERT MCINTYRE is our intramural chairman again this year and he intends to make it "winner and still champion" for the Delts.

Last spring, the Delts put two student assemblymen into office in the same election. This semester the prospects look good for DAVID CALDWELL, who is running for arts and sciences assemblyman. KEN DUNLAP, a pledge from Dallas, is the new vice-president of the Freshman council.

Gamma Iota welcomed five new men into the chapter Sunday, October 20.

One big fall event is past—the week end in Dallas which found Delts cheering at the Texas-Oklahoma football game (wait till next year!), partying at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, and taking in the sights and sounds of the State Fair of Texas, including "My Fair Lady."

But the fall social program is only beginning. We are still looking forward to the Christmas party, the winter formal, the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children, given in conjunction with a sorority, a costume party in the Shelter, along with buffet dinners before, and parties after, all the home football games.

Delt Song Leader ROBERT "Ear" DICKSON is now arranging the music the Delts will present in the annual Greek Sing-Song. The record books show three first places and one first honorable mention for the Delts in the past four years, and under the leadership of "The Ear," we intend to come out on top this year.

DAVID EWING

Texas Christian—Epsilon Beta

The Delts of Texas Christian University have a great year ahead of them. The Delts started toward a very successful year with an outstanding pledge class. During Rush Week the Delts chose who we believed to be the top 25 boys going through rush. Out of these 25 that we bid, 23 pledged Delta Tau Delta. We are certainly proud of this achievement and feel that we are very fortunate. Since we had such a successful rush program the Delts are now one of the two largest fraternities on the campus with a membership of 61.

Not only did the Delts do good during rush, but we also acquired recognition in our school elections. We feel that these elections reflect the leadership abilities of Delts in campus activities as well as in our own Fraternity. The following Delts were recently elected class officers: BOB ROACH, vice-president of student congress; JOHN CANTRELL, president of Junior class; DAVID FREEMAN, Sophomore class representative.

Although intramurals haven't started yet, the Delts look forward to another big year in intramural sports. Our biggest event is the basketball tournament that the Delts sponsor each year. There will be 16 fraternities represented in this tournament, including Delts from Texas and Oklahoma Universities. This annual tournament is equipped with three large trophies for the winning team, runner-up, and the winner of the consolation bracket. Individual trophies will be awarded to the players on the winning teams.

Epsilon Beta Chapter would like to say "Howdy" to all our fellow Delts around the country. We wish to all of you a great success during this 100th year of our brotherhood.

DAVID FREEMAN

Toronto—Delta Theta

Having achieved excellent scholastic results in the past spring final exams, Delta Theta is well on the way to another successful academic year, with emphasis on scholarship as well as extra-curricular activities.

In sports, BRUCE FAULKNER, champion varsity sprinter, is again competing on the University track team. Another track man, GORD HUESTON, has recently been elected as treasurer of the Victoria College Athletic Union.

In the theatrical field, BRUCE WRIGHT is singing in the Victoria College Music Club's production of Gilbert & Sullivan's The Gondoliers, while BRUCE DRYNAN is active in the Victoria College Dramatic Society.

Recent renovations have been made in the hallways and lobby and have brightened up the Shelter considerably. Sliding panel doors at the several landings have a sound-proofing effect that permits activities downstairs without disturbing those studying on the upper levels.

Socially the Delts were well in motion with a highly successful football dance held in the Shelter after the McGill-Toronto game played here in October. Our next big party will be on the Homecoming Week End, for which preparations are already being made. The Annual Formal dance is scheduled for January 24, and is to be held at the Granite Club, Toronto. This promises to be a smashing affair, with a large turnout of alumni expected. A hearty invitation is extended to all Delts, actives and alumni, to this social event of the season.

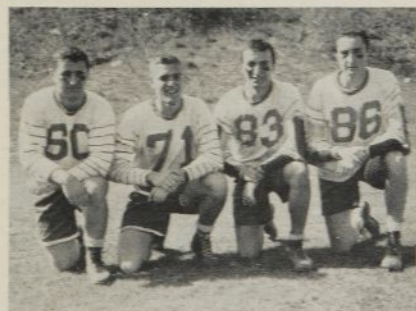

BRUCE M. DRYNAN

Tufts—Beta Mu

In sports, the Beta Mu Delts ended the year by winning the All-College softball championship. Brothers who won letters in lacrosse were: JACK LECKIE, JACK DOYKOS, and CHRIS BACOS, who was also elected cocaptain for the coming year.

This year there are four Delts on the powerful Tufts football squad. BILL CALLAHAN, RAY ZALESKI, DAN MURPHY, and FRANK DELEONE have played an important role in the Jumbo's 4 and 0 record.

In campus election, TOM O'BRIEN was elected president, FRANK DELEONE, vice-president; GENE MAYER, secretary; and BOB WILSON, Student Council representative, of the Sophomore class. These four men plus Brothers JIM BARTON and BUTCH DEMARCO were also elected to Sword and Shield, the sophomore honorary society. Brother DELEONE is president of this organization.

BOB WATSON was elected Student Council representative from the Junior class. Bob is also the president of the junior honorary society, the Ivy Society. JACK DOYKOS is also a member of the Ivy Society.

Brothers DELEONE, MAYER, O'BRIEN, and WILSON were chosen to be freshman counselors. They have assisted the freshmen in their adjustment to college life.

Beta Mu placed second in the Spring Sing with a rendition of "Kentucky Babe." Plans are underway to make that "second" a "first," this coming spring.

PHIL COBURN is the new editor of The Tuftonian, the college literary magazine. The last edition of the Tuftonian contained a story written by Brother WAYNE GRANQUIST.

TOM O'BRIEN and BOB STEVENS were elected Pledges of the year, by last year's Senior class. Their names will be inscribed on the pledge trophy.

The men are preparing for Rush Week which begins on October 14. JOHN BANAS and his committee have been doing a fine job and the men are looking forward to Rush Week with enthusiasm.

MAC WRIGHT and his alumni relations committee have been busy planning the program for Homecoming Day and we are looking forward to an exceptionally large number of returning Beta Mu Delts.

WALTER RECKERT

Tulane—Beta Xi

The most important news from Beta Xi is our new Shelter. We are now situated in one of the finest houses on campus, and also in one of the best locations. Special thanks go to our local group of young and energetic alumni, without whose help this house would not have been possible. In particular, we owe Brother PHARES FRANTZ, our alumni adviser, a tremendous debt of gratitude, as he is with one of New Orleans' finest architectural firms, and donated all his time and services on the new Shelter.

Under the able leadership of Brother JIM LAROSE, Rush Week was a tremendous success. We pledged 16 men, in addition to 2 pledges from last year. With this fine group we are expecting a very successful year.

Homecoming at Tulane is October 26. Brother BYRON RUTH is chairman of our house decorations, and this year we are going after that first place trophy.

All evidences point to a great year social-wise. We started the year with Saturday night house parties, and also a most enjoyable hayride. Coming up are the open house for homecoming, and the annual Thanksgiving party and banquet. We have chartered a Greyhound bus to take a number of the men and their dates to Mobile for the Tulane-Alabama game. With these affairs for starters we hope to continue throughout the year with great parties.

In closing I want to remind everyone of our change of address. The new address is 835 Broadway, New Orleans, La. So listen, Brother Delts, when you're down yonder in New Orleans, drop by and say hello.

WALLY EDWARDS

U.C.L.A.—Delta Iota

Delta Iota is looking forward to another successful year. After a prosperous two weeks of rushing in September, the brothers have started making numerous and original plans for Homecoming Week End. Last year the Delts won Sweepstakes with a very professional looking float. Our plans are even more extensive this year, and with the help of Kappa Kappa Gamma, we expect to be strong competition again.

The Initiation Formal was held October fifth, at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena, in honor of the 11 fall initiates. Our first big party of the year featured the Fire-House Five-plus-Two as entertainment. In another few weeks we will begin decoration for the French Apache Party, an annual event.

President BOB SPROUL announced last week that Lynda Hoover of Pi Beta Phi would be our 1957-58 Delta Queen. This year's runners-up are Carol Peterson, Delta Delta Delta, and Felecia Cramer of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Fall varsity sports are well represented by Delts.

After placing second (among 35 fraternities) in intramural competition last year, we will again be fielding top quality teams in hopes of taking first this year.

MARK TRUEBLOOD

U.S.C.—Delta Pi

This looks like another fine year for the men of Delta Pi. Under the leadership of President DICK WALKER, Vice-president SIM HIXSON, Secretary JIM STANSFIELD, Social Chairman CHET PINTO, and Pledge Master KNIGHT SOOY, we are making more secure our number one position here at U.S.C.

On October 27 initiation was held for 12 men who, we are sure, will be fine additions to the active membership. Following the initiation ceremony, the new initiates were honored at a dinner which was concluded by a serenade on sorority row.

Pledge Master KNIGHT SOOY has molded a wonderful pledge class of 18 men. Although this was not the largest pledge class on the campus, we are convinced that it is the best on fraternity row. They fit together well and have a spirit that is increasing day by day as pledge training continues. The new pledges are: ERNIE WOODS, KENNETH SMITH, ROBERT MCKINLEY, MICHAEL BELL, JOHN KARNS, WILLIAM TILLY, ROBERT IRWIN, THOMAS ANDERSON, LEE CRISSELL, RICHARD GREGG, JAMES KRUEGER, HOWARD FERGUSON, JOHN GRAVES, MICHAEL GINGRICH, STEVE DEWEY, RICHARD BYNNY, ROBERT KILPATRICK, and BEN HRAMADKA.

Our trophy case is more complete than it was last year at this time. Since then we have taken first place in both the major and the minor IM sports, giving us a trophy for every sport but basketball, plus the small "iron man" for minor sports, and the big "iron man" for major sports. None of the championships have as yet been completed this fall. However, two-man volleyball is underway and it would seem as if we were taking up where we left off last fall as all our teams are still undefeated.

We are well represented on the football field by BILL HOWARD and JERRY PERSINGER. Bill and Jerry are both half-backs and Bill had the distinction of making the first U.S.C. touchdown of the year on a spectacular lateral pass play. Jerry is just up from the freshman squad and has a fine football future.

At this writing the brothers are looking forward to the annual presentation of Trolios. This is an event held at Homecoming each year, and consists of every fraternity and sorority putting on a five minute act. The acts are judged and trophies presented to the winners.

Social Chairman CHET PINTO has made up a busy social calendar for this semester, dotted with sorority exchanges, and climaxed with our formal, which is still in the planning stage. In November we have the Delt Roundup, a party for alumni, actives, pledges, and their friends and families. We always look forward to this outstanding event.

Many of the brothers are serving the school in campus organizations. DICK WALKER and JIM ROGERS are members of Knights, the junior-senior service organization, and TOM HOEPTNER is a member of Squires, the sophomore organization. These two groups are particularly active at the football games and are responsible, to a great extent, for the half time card stunts, ushering, and so forth.

TOM HOEPTNER

Wabash—Beta Psi

School opened this year on the 15th of September, and as usual, prime emphasis was put on rush for the first week. The pledge class numbers 19, of which two are sophomores.

Beta Psi finished out the year with a first in intramurals and a third place in the scholarship rankings, being well above the All-Men's Average the second semester. As this issue goes to press, we have already lost one intramural football game, but we still have a chance to grab the championship.

Playing football for the varsity this year are returning lettermen, HAL TRAVIOLIA and FRED PIPIN, both starters. BOB DAMM is on the second string. Pledge BILL BIRCH is a reserve half-back, and JOHN DINSMORE, also a pledge, plays first string end for the freshman team. DAN REMLEY, who promised to see a lot of action at end this year, broke his leg early in the season and will be out of action for the remainder.

Basketball practice started early for the varsity, and the team again ought to be flooded with Delt starters. Among the returning lettermen are BEN FELLERHOFF, who was most valuable player for the last two seasons; BUCK DENNIS, last year's honorary captain; DUANE AXLE, MIKE COSTELLO, and TRAVIOLIA, who will join the team as soon as the football season is completed. Other Delts on the team are DON GOOD, DAN REMLEY, and Freshman PHIL DUCAT.

JIM KIPP

Washington State—Epsilon Gamma

From out of the land of the Inland Empire comes the vigorous call of "Hi Gang" and fraternal greetings to all Delts for the coming year.

Epsilon Gamma Chapter, ably led by President LEROY ROACH and Rush Chairman ROGER RICHERT, came through rush week with 14 outstanding pledges for this fall. A house debating team composed of Pledges RAY KRONQUIST and BILL PRIEST, has been sweeping victory after victory over other houses on campus. We of Epsilon Gamma are proud of this pledge class and we feel that they will be an outstanding addition both scholastically as well as socially to our chapter.

A work week was held this fall before rush and the old Shelter was given a complete interior paint job. All alumni in this area are invited to drop in and see the "new look."

A large Homecoming Week End was staged in October with a dinner being held for the attending parents. A float was built for the Homecoming parade and the week end proved to be an outstanding get acquainted time for parents as well as members.

LEROY ROACH is again leading a musical group this year in the form of a three piece combo. The "Skyliners" dance band is being directed by JEFF STILLMAN and both groups have proven to be outstanding attractions in this area. With so many musicians in the house, we have had no trouble in having the best rally band on campus.

The sporting scene has again been attacked by TOM ASKEW on the varsity swim team. Pledge TERRY COOK has come through with a position on the freshman swim team. ROGER RICHERT, four year gymnastics letterman, is teaching a class in gym this fall. Last summer found CHUCK LUCAS winning the Northwest Drag Racing Championships held at Shelton, Wash., in the Four Banger Class with a speed of 92.5 miles per hour for the quarter mile.

With the winning of the campus Songfest last spring and an outstanding pledge class this fall, we of Epsilon Gamma are looking forward to an even greater coming year on campus.

CHUCK LUCAS

W. & J.—Gamma

Gamma Chapter initiated four new members at the beginning of this school year. Ten new pledges are currently going through pledge training, and the members are looking forward with optimism to the second semester rushing program for this year.

The volleyball team is doing very well and has a good chance of winning a trophy for the chapter. The members of the volleyball team are DAVE QUINN, WALT DIENER, ANDREW PUGLISE, HARRY SYDOR, TOM LOGAN, and DON QUINN. Logan acts as captain of the team.

Homecoming will be celebrated on the 26th of October. Gamma Chapter is entering a float and our Delta Queen is one of the favorites to win the title of Homecoming Queen.

Second semester rushing has benefited the Delts at Washington and Jefferson College and the members are looking forward to another fine year at Gamma Chapter.

HOWARD MARTIN

W. & L.—Phi

Rush Week was the big factor in the minds of Phi Chapter members as they returned to college this year. Under the leadership of Rush Chairman HENRY LEBRUN, a senior from Baltimore, Md., Phi Chapter had one of its most successful rush weeks. Sixteen freshmen and two sophomores accepted bids. The new pledges are: NED AMES, KEN BEALL, SANDY BIRNEY, BRENT BUCHHEISTER, BUDDY COMEY, STEVE HAWKINS, GENE JOHNSON, JACK LEMMON, SANDY MOSBY, WOODY NOEL, REG SMITH, BUCKEY STRUVEN, DON THALACKER, JOHN TOWLER, WAG WAGENHEIM, DICK WHITE, WHIZ WHEELER, and SKIP WOLFE. A few weeks later, two boys decided they had made the wrong choice in another house, deplored and accepted Phi Chapter bids. WINDY WEED and WOODY HITT were the two, moving the number of the pledge class up to 20. This pledge class, considered the best on the Washington and Lee campus, is a real tribute to LeBrun's hard work, and the able assistance of PAUL IRONSIDES.

Campus activities find Phi Chapter members in many positions. ARNOLD GROOBEY is president of the Student Body, chairman of the executive committee, and is the ROTC regimental executive officer, holding the rank of cadet Lt. Colonel. HARRY BRUNETT is president of the Dance Board. JIM LEWIS is captain of the football team and a dormitory counselor. UNCAS McTHENIA is a student professor, vice-president of the science school, and a dorm counselor. BILL TOWLER is chairman of the University Religious Conference, senior editor of the school radio show, a dorm counselor, and executive officer of the second battalion, ROTC. CORKEY BRISCOE is president of the Fancy Dress Ball, coaching football, and a member of the University Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics. PHYZ LEMMON is head cheerleader. Besides these key positions, Delts are found in all of the key committees, societies and organizations on campus.

In the realm of sports, Phi Chapter members are again demonstrating their leadership ability. JIM LEWIS is captain of the football team. Besides Jim, who plays end, six other Delts are on the first team. ROGER DOYLE is at center and is flanked at the two guard posts by BUDDY CRUTCHER and FRED HIENA. The other Delt filling in the line is Tackle DICK YOUNG. In the starting backfield are Delts BILL YOUNG at left halfback and CLARK LEA at right halfback.

In the chapter, the committees have started plans for all phases of fraternity life. Homecomings are November 2, and the pledges have started preparing the decorations. The social committee has started plans for a party and all signs point to another excellent year for Phi Chapter.

WILLIAM A. FOWLER, III

Wesleyan—Gamma Zeta

The event of prime importance to us here at Gamma Zeta was the highly successful conclusion of our rushing season. The new freshman pledge class numbers 14, which makes it tie for the largest class in the house with the present Junior class. The frosh come from such varied places as University City, Missouri and Rochester, N. Y. Under the vigilant eye of Sophomore Whip BOB KIRKPATRICK these men have been gradually shaping up to the point where we hope to find them worthy of initiation this February.

The major social event of the season thus far has been the Pledge Dance, held here at the Shelter on October 19. The pledges had previously shown that they deserved the privileges of the use of the front door and the living room couch by returning from a little quest five minutes under the time limit of three hours set by the Sophomore Whip. The dance itself progressed rather smoothly, sputnik and mock pledge pins being the main decorations. During the course of the dance an award for the best pledge went to AL WILLIAMS, and FRED SCHERRER's date, Sue Koelly of Vassar, was crowned Pledge Queen. Al is president of the pledge class.

Upon our return to the campus this fall, we were all struck by the improvements made on the house over the summer. A sparkling new coat of paint, a new driveway, and a new parking lot were donated by Phi Rho Literary Society, our alumni organization. Later on this fall they will pay off the rest of the mortgage, much to our satisfaction. The mortgage was originally for $29,000!

Saturday, November 9, will be Homecoming Day at Wesleyan. All alumni and other Delts in the area are invited to attend the Wesleyan-Williams football game, followed by a party and dinner at the Shelter. We will make a concerted effort to win the Annual Effigy Contest this year and would appreciate the support of all the "grads" who might be able to attend.

Best of luck to all you Delts in the coming year.

JESSE G. HAFFER, JR.

Western Reserve—Zeta

The fall semester was begun at the Shelter by getting it in tip-top shape in preparation for the big rushing season. Some high lights of the rushing campaign were the annual watermelon bust and the penthouse party. Four members of the Cleveland Browns football team served as judges for the watermelon bust contest. Through the efforts of Rush Chairman RAY NAJEM and the cooperation of the whole active chapter the Delts were able to obtain 20 pledges, which is one of the biggest pledge classes on campus and a very impressive record considering the fact that only 27 bids were handed out. The new pledges are: GARY DEONISE, JAMES ZEIGLER, BILL MCCLURE, BUD ROSSETTI, DAN SAUTER, JOE MACYS, NICK SCHROCH, FRED KAISER, WALT LESSEY, REX HYRE, ED CRUM, GARY AGLER, GEORGE POGAN, PAT HAGGERTY, BILL BALTZ, CHARLES O'TOOLE, ROGER PARENT, BOB SPAC, MIKE OSTERGARD, and JACK MCLEOD.

Last year the Zetamen captured the intramural all sports trophy by beating the Betas with a final big push in the spring sports. The Betas and Delts each have two legs of the trophy, and this year the competition will be even keener.

The Delts are well represented on the athletic teams this season. Senior HERMAN MASCHMANN, who has earned two letters, is starting at center, while DICK PORTER will start at end as soon as his wrist heals from a fracture received during pre-season drills. Sophomores JIM MCQUILKIN and GLENN CAUDILL have seen plenty of action at the guard and end positions and should have little trouble earning a letter. ED LECKEY has earned a starting birth on the soccer team.

Not only are the Delts represented on the athletic field, but they are doing quite well scholastically. JOE STRONG, a sophomore, earned a four-point average both semesters of his freshman year in a tough pre-dent schedule. With a little luck he should repeat this performance again this year.

PAUL MODIE

Westminster—Delta Omicron

The Delta Omicron Shelter has received quite a face-lifting over the summer. Thanks to a hard working house corporation, we have a completely remodeled first floor.

Our house is now over 40-men strong with the acquisition of an 18-man pledge class. They are quickly proving their value by supporting the chapter both in scholarship and athletics.

Our tennis team made its strongest bid in the fall intramurals. The basketball season is in our immediate sights as we hope to repeat our 1956 record and again win the basketball plaque.

Several men of the chapter have recently received honors by their initiation into various honor fraternities on campus. ROBERT FEHRENBACH and MARVIN SCHMIDT are now members of Zeta

Tau Delta, the local scholastic fraternity. DON OTTO has been initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, the national honorary leadership fraternity, while ROBERT FEHRENBACH is acting as president of this organization. DON AMES, BILL BRELL, and FRED CORY are new members of Phi Rho Epsilon, the national pre-medical honor society.

The chapter's positive scholarship program paid off last year and we all hope it will continue with even better results. As proof our last year's average ranked as third among all fraternities.

Graduating this past semester were nine seniors. GEORGE SLEIGHT is attending Vanderbilt Medical School. JACK LUMAN is entered in Kansas City Dental School. TOM HICKS is at Yale Divinity School on a Rockefeller Foundation Scholarship. RICHARD SMITH is employed by Western Textiles (E. V. P. of E. H.) in St. Louis.

ELROY PUJOL, STAN CHIRNSIDE, BOB DAKE, and DALE HARTIG are presently engaged in defense work for the government (Army).

FRED CORY

West Virginia—Gamma Delta

Gamma Delta recently increased its representation in "Fi Batar Cappar," mock honorary, when BILL ORR and JOHN BUCY were announced among its 1957 pledge class. Pledges are chosen on a basis of scholarship, leadership, and particularly, on non-curricular participation.

The Delts can boast another of their members on West Virginia's starting grid eleven. BILL TROZZO, a transfer last year from Notre Dame, has joined ROGER CHANCEY on the rugged Mountaineer forward wall. Bill is a tackle, while Roger is an end. Chancey, in addition to his football activities, is president of Gamma Delta Chapter and a "Fi Batar."

Gamma Delta again had an outstanding rush week, pledging 25 boys. TOMMY LANTZ, Clarksburg, was rush chairman, and with the wholehearted support of the entire chapter, did an excellent job of picking the "cream" from the 2,000 freshmen at the University.

Socially speaking, the Delts held their first house party recently, with the theme being "An American in Paris." The predominate costume seemed to consist of beret, turtle-neck sweater, and a black sport. Some utilized such incidentals as sun glasses and cigarette holders to good advantage. Dress of the girls was similar, though some of them wore slit dresses.

TOM YOST, athletic chairman, is busy making preparations for the intramural program here. Chances of the Delts walking off with the all year cup are good.

JOE JOHNSTON, song leader, has been drilling the chapter hard in hopes of retaining the clock which we won last year at the Delt Sing in Pittsburgh. They sang The Creation.

DAVE PORTER

Whitman—Delta Rho

Twenty-two pledges, the product of an excellent rush, has been Delta Rho's first major achievement this fall. Three pledges, DAVE COXEWELL, BOB GENGLEBACH, and LARRY MEADE received honors at entrance for their outstanding scholastic ability and achievement. Larry has been elected vice-president of his class and vice-president of the men's dormitory. The pledges are now consumed in pledge exchanges with the various sororities, inviting the girls for an evening of dinner and entertainment. Under KIRK PRINDLE, their president, and MIKE ROGERS, social chairman, they are busily preparing for a pledge dance. Five of the fellows have founded a new Whitman band.

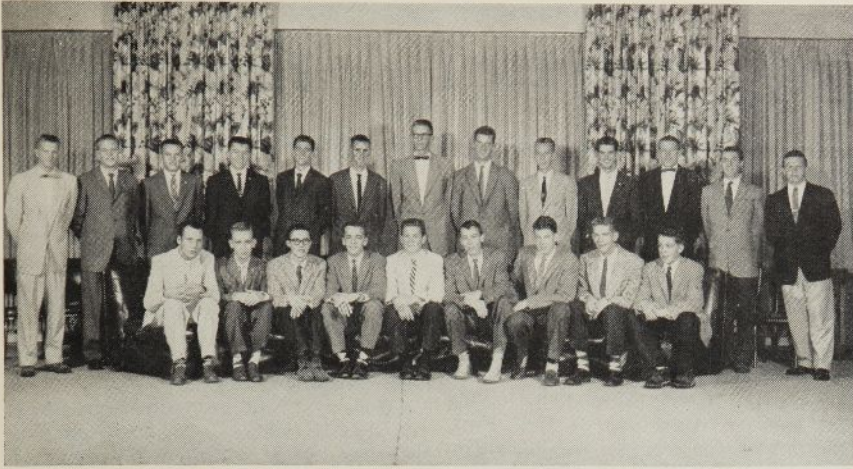

Delta Rho came back to school with Student Body Vice-president RALPH LEISLE, student body publicity Chairmen and Men's Counselor, BILL KNORP, and president of the Young Democrats, GEORGE PETTIBONE, leading our political aspirations on campus.

On the intramural scene the Delts are currently in first place in football. So far undefeated we have only two more games to play. Led by Quarterback BUC SELLARS, a varsity basketballer in the winter, and three fellows who run a ten flat hundred we have an offense team that has hopelessly outscored its opponents thus far. In golf the house finished second and is preparing for intramural swimming.

In scholarship last year we finished second, well above the All Men's Average. Sophomore MEL DAVIDSON received undergraduate honors with a 96 per cent average grade.

Socially the Delts are off to a great year. Our first function was a successful post-rush dance where our guitar strumming troupe displayed its skills and Freshman DAVE COXEWELL sang a few numbers. Present at the dance was Field Secretary WAYNE MARTHALER. Several weeks ago we held a scavenger hunt. Among the required articles was a live spider for which Pledge TOM KEIFER and his red headed date captured a live black widow. (Tom's father is an active member of the Portland Delt Alumni.) This past week end we had our annual apple squeeze. Using an old hand press, Delts and their dates had a great time making cider (and anticipating our Halloween Party at which time it will be consumed).

Representing the Delts on the cross-county team are VAL LEWTON and BOB GENGELBACH, BILL STEVENS, All-American honorable mention slalom skier, is busily preparing to leave for Europe this winter with Canada's contingent of the Federation of International Skiers. He is one of a select group of fellows chosen to represent Canada in the world championships.

This year sees an addition to the Shelter. We have acquired the house next door and refer to it as the Delt Annex.

DON MAIR

Wisconsin—Beta Gamma

This fall the social calendar of Beta Gamma is bigger and better than ever. A few events that are coming up in the near future are Friday night suppers with Alpha Epsilon Phi and Alpha Phi, a listening party with Kappa Kappa Gamma, and a bundle party on a Saturday night.

The biggest event on our social schedule is the trip to Minnesota with the Tri Dels on the week end of November 22-23 for the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game. We are going to leave on Friday afternoon, the 22nd, on chartered buses and return late Sunday afternoon on the 24th. Beta Gamma will stay at Beta Eta and the Tri Dels will reside at their chapter in Minnesota. We are looking forward to the trip with great anticipation for it will be the first time anything like this has happened at the University of Wisconsin.

Beta Gamma is always on the lookout for ways to improve the Shelter and some of the improvements that have been made in the last year have been the installation of a new range for the kitchen, a new dishwashing unit, and a new gas furnace. This year we hope that we will be able to make more improvements.

A few of the alums that have dropped in at the Shelter this fall have been ROD MCPHEE, BOB FORSBERG, president of the Beta Gamma Cooperative Association, HENRY ANDING, who is now working out of the Chicago office of the Federal Trades Commission, and JOHN STEDMAN, professor of law at the University of Wisconsin. We are looking forward to Homecoming week end, when many alums come back to renew old friendships and meet the new brothers.

JOHN F. MCGOWAN

On Saturday afternoon, October 19, while Purdue was playing at Michigan State, the Gamma Lambda pledge class made a visit to the Central Office.

Pictured here are some of the pledges gathered around the conference table in the Board room, not unlike the scene of an Arch Chapter meeting.

STRAIGHT "A" INITIATES

HENRY W. JACKSON, Gamma Iota, '58, was initiated by the Texas Chapter on October 20 on the basis of 18 hours of "A." KENNETH D. SAMPSON, Kappa, '60, was initiated at Hillsdale on October 27 with 16 hours of straight "A."

THE DELT ALUMNI CHAPTERS

Akron

The start of the banquet circuit for Deltas in the Akron area began on October 23 when a dinner meeting was held at the Fairlawn Country Club.

The newly elected officers for the Akron Alumni Chapter are: Warren E. Starner, Western Reserve, president; Leonard Turk, Carnegie Tech, vice-president; and Dr. Louis P. Carabelli, Kenyon, secretary-treasurer.

We welcome all Deltas who may be in town at "meeting time" which is generally around the third Wednesday of each month, to call any of the officers who will be glad to give you details as to time and place and have you as our guests.

LOUIS P. CARABELLI

Atlanta

Since the last letter to THE RAINBOW the Atlanta Alumni Chapter has held two major functions in addition to continuing the monthly luncheons inaugurated at the beginning of the year. The first was a dinner dance last spring for alumni chapter members and their ladies. The party, attended by some 40 people, was held at the officers' Club of the Atlanta Naval Air Station. The party was an informal affair affording ample opportunity for the renewing of old friendships and the making of new ones.

In August the annual summer rush party took the form of an afternoon outing and supper held at Atlanta's Chastain Memorial Park.

Monthly luncheon meetings continue at the Town House Cafeteria on the fourth Thursday of the month.

Members of the alumni chapter continue to serve the fraternity in various ways: Brother Spann as Southern Division vice-president and as a director of the Beta Epsilon Building Corporation; Brothers Stipe and Cobb as directors of the Beta Epsilon Building Corporation and Brothers Carnes, Pattillo, and Curtis as officers of the Corporation; Brother Adams as the Emory chapter advisor and Brother Lathem as an officer of the Gamma Psi House Corporation.

Since mailing lists are notoriously inaccurate (and ours is no exception) we would like to take this opportunity to invite all Deltas in the Atlanta area who receive THE RAINBOW but who have not been contacted by the alumni chapter to contact the secretary whose address is listed in this issue. We assure you of a hearty welcome.

JOHN W. PATTILLO

Charleston

The alumni rush party was held Sunday, August 18, 1957, with 30 prospective pledges in attendance. This outing was held at the home of Bob Hess, Ohio State, where a film was shown on West Virginia football, the 1956-57 season; the group also enjoyed swimming and buffet.

The alumni chapter is to start in its November meeting to select prospective pledges to be rushed for 1958 from all local high schools in Charleston and Kanawha County.

Chicago

The high light for summer activities of the Chicago alumni was the annual rush party held on August 20 at Stouffer's in the Prudential Plaza. In-itations to participate were sent to all undergraduate chapters in the United States and Canada. The 119 alumni, undergraduates, and guests were so deeply impressed by the inspirational address of President Francis M. Hughes, Mu, '31, that they gave him a standing ovation at the conclusion of his remarks. Ken Bates, Kansas, '19, did an admirable job as toastmaster while C. Bunker Bean, Ohio U., '09, and Stan Stitgen, Wisconsin, led the singing which became so enthusiastic it reminded many an alumnus of the "good old" undergraduate days.

Our Alumni Directory, which is published every two years, is about to go to press. We urge those who have recently moved into the Chicago metropolitan area to send us their name, address (business and home), business and club affiliations, chapter and year, degrees, and business and home phone number so they may be included in, and receive a copy of, this handy publication.

The drive for Monday luncheon attendance at Harding's Grill, 7th floor, the Fair Store, Dearborn and Adams Streets, is still being pressed. Many of you will receive personal invitations to attend. We hope you will, but don't let the absence of an invitation stop you from dropping in on us. Fact is, plan on coming soon and bring a brother Delt with you. We'd like to meet you, and besides you'll enjoy yourself.

An appeal is being made for volunteers to join the standing committees. If you wish to help, call us, drop us a line, or come to the Monday luncheon. We'll do the rest.

J. W. PINDERSKI

Cleveland

The year 1957 has been a good year for the Cleveland Alumni Chapter with a record 170 paid members on the rolls and a group of active and interested members participating in its activities. Weekly luncheons continue to attract on the average 20 or more Deltas and support of various parties has been very satisfying.

On August 27 the Alumni Chapter sponsored its first rush party in recent years. Some 23 alumni, 25 undergraduates, and 40 rushees were on hand to participate in an informal clambake held at Lakewood's Clifton Park. The treasurer indicates that from the size of his bills, everyone was well fed. Northern Division President Bob Hartford, and former Arch Chapter member, Clem Frank, delivered brief speeches acquainting our guests with Delta Tau Delta, its history and purposes. The evening was concluded with a showing of the 1956 Dallas Karnea movies. Cal Ratcliff and his committee did an outstanding job of planning this clambake-rush party, and it was received with such enthusiasm by the undergraduate chapters as a good rushing aid that the Cleveland Alumni Chapter expects to incorporate the summer rush party as a part of its annual program.

We recently had the pleasure of welcoming former Fraternity President and general chairman of the 1958 Karnea, Norm MacLeod, to one of our Thursday luncheons. Norm's thumbnail sketch of this next great Centennial Karnea sufficiently aroused the enthusiasm of all present that there have been a number of total reservations sent in and we can promise our sister city of Pittsburgh that there will be a good representation from Cleveland at what promises to be biggest and best of all Karneas.

The Cleveland Alumni Chapter's next evening event will be the Founders Day Banquet to be held at the Manger Hotel on February 22, 1958. We can promise you now a good program and a headliner speaker. In the meantime we continue to extend an invitation to all Cleveland Delts and to all visitors to the "Best Location in the Nation" to join us at the Thursday luncheons held weekly at Clark's Playhouse restaurant.

AL SHERIFF

Denver

It has been an active summer and fall for the Denver Alumni Chapter. At the dinner meeting held on June 4, the new officers were elected for the ensuing year. They are Frank Southworth, Kentucky, '50, president; Dave Dellinger, Texas, '47, vice-president; C. O. Frisbie, Colorado, '47, secretary-treasurer.

On a Sunday late in August, a successful outing was held at the Boulder Country Club. This was a well attended affair, and in the nature of outings, provided an informal good time for all.

The annual fall rush party was held on September 9. The alumni chapter was host to 65 members of Beta Kappa (Colorado) and 164 rush guests. A new alumni directory was published this summer, including the names of more than 200 alumni of the Fraternity in the Denver area.

Noon luncheons are held by the alumni chapter each Monday at Denver Dry Goods Department Store. Monthly meetings are held the first Sunday of each month at the Cherry Hills Country Club in Denver.

C. O. FRISBIE

Detroit

The first meeting of the year was a dinner-election meeting held on April 24, 1957, at the Harmonie Club. Nearly 100 Delts representing 14 chapters throughout the country attended the reactivation ceremonies. Clark Schooles, famous Olympic swimming champion was our guest speaker. The former secretary, Frank Daugherty, presided until election of officers, and "Chris" Christiansen, a past Northern division vice-president, gave us a brief, inspiring talk. Dick Reid read the proposed by-laws of the newly organized group, and motion duly made and seconded made the by-laws a matter of record and fact. The new officers elected were: Ed Kleinschmit, president; Bill Wall, vice-president; Dave Taylor, vice-president; Doc Mitchell, vice-president; George Voorhis, secretary; and John Bartley, treasurer. The meeting adjourned, and a social hour followed with Delts joining together in Delt fellowship.

The second meeting of the year was held October 8, 1957 at the University Club in Detroit. Mr. "Nick" Kerbawy, general manager of the Detroit Lions Football Co., was the guest speaker. The president called the meeting to order and the usual order of business followed. "Chris" Christiansen led the group in reciting the "Delt Creed," and George Voorhis led the group in the singing of "Delta Shelter," at the conclusion of the meeting. Attendance equaled the first meeting and I am proud to say that the Detroit Chapter is on the move, not only in spirit but in members.

Our next general meeting is planned for early next spring and in the meanwhile the board will meet to plan for a big year in 1958.

Every Tuesday noon, Delts meet for luncheon in the Empire Room at the Hotel Fort Shelby in Detroit. This is an informal gathering of Delts from all walks of life.

In closing, again I say, I am indeed proud to be a part of the newly reactivated Detroit Chapter, and am confident that our progress will continue to grow in high Delt ideals.

ED KLEINSCHMIT

Houston

The Houston Alumni Chapter again reached into the Gamma Iota (Texas) bag for its president, Rush Moody, a recent law graduate who is practicing in Houston, having been chosen at the annual meeting. Other officers include Artie Lamb, vice-president; and Fred Smithwick, secretary-treasurer. Jack Ewing's year ended on a high note as he presided at the steak dinner attended by about 30 Delts.

President Ewing explained that in the nominations a group of young men had been selected for the express purpose of trying to interest more and more of the younger crop of Delts, many coming to Houston these days from various parts of the country. He looks for Rush Moody, who in his undergraduate days served as president of the student body, to have a good year.

Dave Wynne finished out the year as secretary-treasurer when J. J. Robertson was transferred by his oil service company employer to Venezuela. He reported that we're quite solvent. The biggest recent expense was in connection with rushing in August, at which time we helped Delt actives stage a barbecue and picnic for a dozen or more good prospects.

A report was read from Gamma Iota detailing their success with rushing and the hope that by spring ground would be broken on an addition to their chapter house. A finance campaign was staged earlier this year. "A little more money is needed," the report stated.

Houston alums are proud of the fact that John Nicholls has named one of our number to his Centennial Fund advisory committee. And Hirst Suffield, Oklahoma Delt, was accorded a big hand.

Installation of the third Delt chapter in Texas, that one at Texas Tech in Lubbock, was announced. It is hoped we will have a representative present at the December function.

Only spring meeting not reported in THE RAINBOW was staged in May at the Lamar Hotel, Houston, when George Sauer, Nebraska Delt now serving as athletic director of Baylor University, Waco, Texas, was our very much appreciated speaker.

Indianapolis

The Indianapolis Alumni Association met October 10 for a golf outing and dinner meeting. The event was held at the Fort Benjamin Harrison golf course and Officers Club. Allen Davis was low medalist for the afternoon and won first place in the golf tournament.

Some 50 Delts and their wives attended the dinner held after the golf tournament at the Officers Club. After the dinner there was a short business meeting presided over by Arnold Berg, alumni president. Several Distinguished Service Chapter members were introduced and then Francis M. Hughes, President of the Fraternity, gave a short talk on new developments within the Fraternity.

The new officers for the 1957-58 year were elected. They included: Robert Huncilman, president; Richard Englehart, vice-president; Peter L. Sprecher,

Jr., secretary; and Carter Tharp, treasurer.

The new officers announced that there would be a number of exciting get-togethers this year and plans were laid for the annual Christmas party to be held at the Marott Hotel in Indianapolis, Saturday, December 14.

Arnold Berg and the outgoing officers were given a vote of confidence for the fine job they did during the past year and then the meeting was adjourned.

National Capital

The officers and executive committee held their first luncheon meeting of the 1957-58 year at Olmsted's Restaurant. Oliver Hoyem, Columbia '16, past president of our association, having just returned from Thailand after two years, gave an interesting talk on his experiences. He leaves shortly on a mission to Turkey. All in attendance pledged their full co-operation in overcoming the many handicaps which have developed in recent years making it almost impossible to hold regular weekly luncheon meetings. We solicit suggestions from all interested alumni. Many similar groups are experiencing the same difficulties—lack of appropriate eating facilities, parking, and prohibitive food costs. On the other hand, the active chapters are establishing new records in scholarship, finance, social, and intramural sports. The Mothers' Clubs at both chapters have been of tremendous assistance in advancing the interests of the Fraternity in the area. The 1957 Roster of over two thousand Delts residing in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia is in preparation and will be distributed shortly after the first of next year. As in the past, the names of all annual contributors will be set forth in bold face type. The Roster will be designed to generate interest in the forthcoming Karnea at Pittsburgh next August commemorating the Centennial. Delta Sigma Chapter at Maryland will be celebrating its tenth anniversary. If you want to receive notice of all "special events" now being planned, send nominal contributions (postage stamp money) to the undersigned at 7515 Radnor Road, Bethesda 14, Maryland. Post card announcements are sent to contributors only. Luncheons at which outstanding Delts will appear as speakers are being planned, so be sure your name is on our mailing list.

ROBERT E. NEWBY

New York

The 1957-58 season has started off in good style with some 20 brothers attending our main uptown luncheons, which are set for the second Thursday of each month at the Princeton-Dartmouth-Brown Club, 39 East 39th Street, New York, New York at 12:30 p.m.; buffet style, the tab is $3.

Those in attendance were representatives from the year 1907 to date, with a good distribution over the span; therefore, no one can feel bashful.

Frank Shelton, information manager of American Telephone and Telegraph Company, started the year off with a bang by giving an up-to-the-minute speech on the inauguration of A. T. & T.'s "Over the Horizon" communication service between Cuba and Florida City, Florida, which occurred at 12 o'clock noon on September 12, the day of his address to us.

The officers for the coming year are as follows: George W. Whitney, president; William F. Gaston, vice-president (Uptown); John L. Barry, III, vice-president (Downtown); Charles R. Gallow, treasurer; and Charles J. McCann, assistant treasurer.

You will be interested to know that we now have an active mailing list covering some 260 names, we are in a sound position financially, and we look forward to an active and successful year.

GEORGE W. WHITNEY

Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter held its annual combination Baseball and Founders Day Outing on Friday, May 3, with dinner at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association, followed by the Pittsburgh-Milwaukee baseball game. Brother Branch Rickey, Sr., was principal speaker and spoke to the group of 100 Deltas about baseball generally and the Pittsburgh Pirates in particular. Jack Bash was chairman of the affair and Norm Serianni was in charge of ticket sales.

tinues to have its luncheon every week on Tuesday at Kaufmann's Department Store, 11th floor. The group has a private dining room and all Deltas are welcome.

Preparations for the 1958 Karnea to be held in Pittsburgh are progressing and General Chairman Norman MacLeod and his committees are hard at work making preparations for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Fraternity.

Portland

The Portland Chapter of the Delta Tau Delta Alumni elected the following men for the year of 1957-58: Harry Swan, Upsilon, '30, is our new president. Donald Barrett, Delta Lambda, '50, was re-elected vice-president. The new secretary is Pat Lund, Delta Pi, '55, and William Eigner, Gamma Rho, '40, is again treasurer. This is a fine slate of Portland Alumni IFC heading up this group is our own past president and past president of the undergraduate chapter at the University of Oregon, Paul Eckelman. We will see much accomplished by this fine group of men.

Plans are almost complete for our annual Christmas formal, which will be held at the former Alderwood Country Club, on the 28th of December. This promises to be a gala affair, and a large turnout is expected.

C. P. LUND

Toledo

Toledo Alumni Chapter is well on the way to its most successful year. A record turnout at our annual fall roundup at Brother Harry Hansen's and the planning of the early spring stag in the hands of Brothers Jack Toman and Dick Diemer shows that Toledo spirit is high.

Three dozen Deltas turned out September 5 for our roundup at "Grey Haven." Yard games and "Old Choctaw Warrior" talk started the afternoon off on the Delt pitch as President Vince Bailey prepared the ground-round-roast. After the roast, Deltas gathered to hear the world's champion extemporaneous speaker, Malcolm Ward, hold forth on the glories of Deltaism and also to help Toledo Chapter's foreign minister to Fulton County, Judge Donald Van Buren, celebrate his 50th year as a Delt—all active. Bill and Bob Nelson, Mu Chapter undergraduates, entertained with songs before leading the group in some old and new Delt favorites. Some of the older members gave the Nelsons' a couple of songs to take back to Mu, too. Somewhere in the good fellowship the old officers were re-elected; President Vince Bailey because his hamburgers were so good and Secretary-Treasurer Fred Hibbert because the books were out of the red for the first time since anyone could remember. Our good host, Harry Hansen, led the Walk-a-Round over most of his property and those who didn't get lost in the cornfield ended with Shelter.

The next Toledo function will be a stag in the early spring planned by Jack Toman and Dick Diemer. We hope to top last year's crowd of 50.

Bill Schomburg is a very active Toledo Chamber of Commerce president and Councilman John Yager is apparently on the way to a second term as he pulled a second of 18 in the recent primary.

FRED W. HIBBERT

Topeka

No special news from the Topeka alumni group. We are having regular meetings, and George Docking, Governor of Kansas, usually attends our monthly BRANCH RICKEY, SR., Ohio Wesleyan, '04, member of the Distinguished Service Chapter, addresses the Pittsburgh alumni at the Annual Baseball Outing.

At the dinner, officers of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter for the year 1957-58 were elected as follows: Jack Bash, president; Emil Narick, vice-president; Bill Swanson, secretary; and Bill Blackstock, treasurer.

After the dinner those Deltas who were not frozen out by the cold weather, attended the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball game as a group.

This year the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter golf outing was held at Shannopin Country Club on September 13, under the chairmanship of Jack Kelso. A large group of the brothers played golf and enjoyed an excellent dinner.

Attractions for the fall calendar are the Fall Dance and the annual Christmas church service at Trinity Cathedral.

The Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter continues to have its luncheon every week on Tuesday at Kaufmann's Department Store, 11th floor. The group has a private dining room and all Deltas are welcome.

In the way of social functions, we have seen and will continue to see much action. Earlier this year, a dinner was given for the new Oregon governor-elect, Robert Holmes, past president of Gamma Rho. Along with the presentation of red roses for Mrs. Holmes, the dinner was excellent and there was some fine entertainment including a few songs from Bob, himself.

The annual picnic was held at the home of George Butler, Gamma Rho, overlooking the beautiful Sandy River, and we had the usual good turnout.

Our annual golf tournament was held at Forrest Hills golf course, and many fine prizes and trophies were awarded.

A new organization for Portland is the luncheon meetings. We appreciate his coming as we know that he has a busy schedule. We enjoyed having the president and the rush captain of Gamma Tau with us at our September meeting. They spoke to us regarding rushing prospects for this year. Gamma Tau entertained all its prospective pledges at Hooper's Dinner House here in Topeka on September 4, and were afterwards entertained by Governor and Mrs. Docking at the executive mansion.

Another new Delt in Topeka is Harry Wiles, who is a member of the State Corporation Commission. Two of our members are Dr. James Mott and Dr. Vernon Winkle, who are both with the Kansas State Board of Health, and have recently moved to new offices in the State Office Building. Our college football referee, Mike Oberhelman, was back for the American Bankers Association meeting in Atlantic City, and since returning has been busy working Big-Eight conference games.

Always glad to hear from any visiting Delts in Topeka.

Hardly an hour passes in the life of a chapter without its opportunity to fortify the character and spirit of some member who is tempted to do the easy, the foolish, or even the harmful thing which would by just so much defeat the purpose which has brought him to college. That is the responsibility which your college has laid upon your shoulders. That is the opportunity which has been given you to exercise an influence for good in the life of your members, and thus in the life of your college.

ALVAN E. DUERR

President of Delta Tau Delta

1925-1927

The Delta Creed

- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity, so that I may better learn and live the truth.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as a shrine of international brotherhood: her cornerstone friendship, her foundation conscience, her columns aspiration, her girders self-restraint, her doorway opportunity, her windows understanding, her buttresses loyalty, her strength the Everlasting Arms.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as an abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self-respect, and bring about that happy life wherein I may more truly love my fellow men, serve my country, and obey my God.
