Pittsburgh Welcomes You to the . . .

CENTENNIAL KARNEA

By WILLIAM P. RAINES, Pittsburgh, '49

A KARNEA IS ALWAYS an important milestone for Delta Tau Delta, but the Centennial Karnea which opens August 19 in Pittsburgh will be the greatest and most significant of them all.

Here, almost within the shadow of Bethany, where Delta began, the largest turnout in our Fraternity's history is expected to gather to honor 100 years of growth and progress.

Through a record five days of business sessions, entertainment, luncheons, round tables and banquets, the Karnea will move Delta Tau Delta into its second century.

Commencing with a Centennial Memorial Service Tuesday evening, August 19, at beautiful Heinz Chapel, on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh, the Sixty-fourth Karnea will open its first business session at Hotel Penn-Sheraton on Wednesday morning, August 20.

Succeeding days will see six additional business sessions, at which the Karne delegates and visitors will participate in round-table discussions on such vital subjects as rushing and pledge training and hear noted Delt leaders, as well as conduct the official transactions of the Fraternity.

A Karnea is not all business, by any means though, and the Centennial Karnea will be no exception. Sandwiched in and around and between the formal sessions will be a great variety of Delt fun and entertainment.

Wednesday evening, following the inspirational Model Initiation, the entertainment phase of the Karnea will feature the Centennial Choctaw Reception. This will be an excellent opportunity to relax and become better acquainted with Delt Brothers from other chapters and sections of

Program Set for Delt Wives

By MRS. ARTHUR H. STROYD

Ladies Program Chairman, Centennial Karnea

Looking over the varied and interesting program which has been arranged for Delt wives attending the Centennial Karnea are, left to right, Mrs. RICHARD BERG, Mrs. ARTHUR H. STROYD and Mrs. C. ROBERT SCHAR.

It's Springtime in Pittsburgh and the Ladies Committee has now completed the plans for your entertainment at the Karnea in August. We hope that you will be as happy and pleased with the program as we are.

The Karnea will open Tuesday evening with a special service in the beautiful Heinz Memorial Chapel on the University of Pittsburgh campus. Wednesday morning, we are looking forward to meeting you at a Coffee in the Penn-Sheraton Hotel. It will be an excellent opportunity to meet the other Delt wives who will be arriving from all parts of the country. We hope that we will be able to assist you at that time in pointing out the good stores, shops, restaurants, clubs, and other points of interest. We do not plan to monopolize all of your time, because we know that you will enjoy "browsing" on your own part of the time.

Wednesday evening, the men will

Delta Beta to Dedicate New Shelter as Part of Centennial Karnea Program

Even as Deltas celebrate the past, they look to the future. It is fitting, therefore, that as the Fraternity convenes for the Centennial Karnea, an important part of the program will be the dedication of a new Shelter for Delta Beta Chapter at Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh.

On Thursday, August 21, the Karnea spotlight will swing from the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in downtown Pittsburgh to the Tech campus in the Oakland Civic Center of the city. Here Delta Beta Chapter will formally dedicate its new $185,000 Shelter. Designed by Lawrence and Anthony Wolfe, architects, and built by Navaro Corporation, the new Shelter actually will be part of a duplex unit, the other half of which will be occupied by Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. The entire structure, which is part of a Fraternity Row being constructed at Carnegie Tech, will cost about $370,000.

In the Delt unit will be three floors and a basement. The basement will contain a large recreation room, a chapter hall, storage room, furnace

MILLARD ROMAINÉ

By ANDREWS ATKINSON, Cincinnati, '58, LEWIS HODGES, Ohio, '57, and JOHN READING, Pennsylvania, '50

ON THE EVENING of January 7, 1958, the largest builder of machine tools in the world paused in tribute to a man exemplary of the traditions of Delta Tau Delta. Officers of The Cincinnati Milling Machine Company gathered to honor Millard Romaine, Cincinnati, '18, company vice-president, retiring after 43 remarkably productive years of service.

The achievement of Millard Romaine is not a title, but a record. His rise to prominence in the world of machine tools was not a result of favor, but achievement. His story began in 1909.

"Romey" Romaine began in that year as a toolboy, hustling tools for the Lodge and Shipley Company at $4.95 for a 55-hour week. He left his home each morning at 5:20 and returned at 7:00 in the evening.

Education was beginning, even at this date, to become a common ingredient for success. Romey found that the goals he set were seemingly inaccessible without a college diploma, so he decided to get that degree.

At that time the University of Cincinnati was pioneering a new system of engineering education. This system, the "co-operative" plan, allowed a student to work while going to school—just the thing for an ambitious young man with limited funds.

His first co-op job was with the R. K. LeBlond Company and his pay was 10 cents an hour; but after only three years, Romey was making nearly ten dollars every week.

As he later stated in an employment record, "... even this munificent sum was insufficient" and eventually Romey "went broke and had to quit school."

In February, 1916, his funds had been sufficiently replenished and he reentered the University. This time he became a pledge, and in short order wore the Golden Square of Delta Tau Delta.

Millard Romaine was a Delt with special talent, and in recognition of that talent, he was presented with a special jewel-studded badge—and what jewels! Pictured in his Senior Annual, his badge was encrusted with a lovely co-ed in each corner.

Scholastic proficiency was his most important aim. Through his insistence and example, Gamma Xi was awarded more scholarship honors during 1916-1918 than any campus chapter enjoyed—before or since.

The 1918 commencement exercises were just that for Millard Romaine. They were the beginning of a never-ending series of accomplishments which carried Romey to the vice-presidency of the "Mill."

Romey Romaine began his career as an estimator for machine tool sales, and in four years headed this department. From 1925 to 1929 he spent a good deal of time in Europe where he represented the "Mill" in the foreign machine tool market. An example of his skills are orders for 282 machine tools sold in a 3-year period to one Italian company.

His ability was not confined to sales, as the 38 patents on which his name appears will attest. In 1928 he became head of the engineering service department, where his responsibility included estimating, designing, and the manufacture of special machines.

Romey became sales manager in 1938, and in 1939 celebrated his 25th year at the "Mill."

War came in 1941, and industrial leaders throughout the United States were called upon to guide the country through this hazardous time. Romey's part was with the Army Air Force and the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics. At Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio, he was civilian head of the Machine Tool Division, Aircraft Allocation Schedule Groups. His experience and training proved invaluable to the war effort as he helped determine allocation of machine tools based on over-all needs.

Returning to the "Mill," he was appointed executive assistant to the president for postwar planning and development. At the same time, he served as executive secretary of the Cincinnati Council of the Committee for Economic Development.

The "Mill" purchased the Cincinnati Lathe and Tool Co. in 1945, and Delt Millard Romaine was elected president of the new associate company. His primary task was the reorganization of the company and development of a new line of light duty, economically priced machines.

While president of CL&T, Romey was also secretary of the "Mill" and a director of its sales company, Cincinnati Milling and Grinding Machines, Inc.

In 1952 Millard Romaine was elected vice-president of the "Mill." Under his guidance, a new associate plant,

This photo of MILLARD ROMAINE demonstrating a machine tool was taken in the 1920's, just a few years following his graduation from the University of Cincinnati.

Mr. ROMAINE pictured in a group including PAUL HOFFMAN, past President of the Fraternity, during an inspection tour in March, 1944.

Cincinnati-Nederland, was established in Holland. The new plant was conceived and completed in three short years and dedicated in June of 1954. In August of the same year, Romey was made an officer of the Order of Orange Nassau in recognition of his work in furthering Holland-American co-operation.

The accomplishments of Millard Romaine in 43 years can only be approached here. The numerous patents on which his name appears are not listed, nor could the friendships, respect, and honor accumulated possibly be enumerated.

A 10-cent-an-hour tool hustler . . . or a decorated executive of a great American industry . . . but always a Delt! The "old grads" still gather for the familiar "hearts" session, and relive the great memories of the Shelter.

A keen competitor, a loyal brother, and a great American—truly an asset to all humanity. Millard Romaine has almost been an Industrial Revolution in himself.

Grandma Retires at Emory

By CARL E. STIPE, JR., Emory, '43

"NOW TAKE CARE of the azaleas and those new roses we planted in the back, and don't let the lawn get parched." Just as she had done for so many years, "Grandma" reminded those unfortunates staying for summer school as she prepared to leave for the summer vacation. Only this time it was different. The boys who grinned at her oft-repeated admonition did not know that this was the last spring they would hear this from her, for she wanted no announcement of her plans and no big to-do about her retirement.

After 22 years of devoted service to Beta Epsilon Chapter, Mrs. RALPH

GRANDMA HUMPHRIES

S. HUMPHRIES stepped down from the office of housemother at the end of the spring quarter, 1957. Called "Grandma" partly in jest by her first chapter of Delts many years ago, the name stuck, and Grandma became for hundreds of Delts an important memory of college days at Emory. As a matter of fact, it is difficult for us to think of the Shelter without seeing her warm smile from the front door, or more likely from the kitchen door—possibly with a smudge of flour on her nose from helping the kitchen crew prepare dinner. Never too tired to brew a pot of coffee, she wel-

A Tribute to a Chapter Adviser

By JOHN L. DOWLING, Tufts

AT THIS TIME Beta Mu finds itself loaded down with anniversaries. We are approaching the centennial anniversary of the Fraternity as well as the 70th anniversary of the establishment of Beta Mu Chapter at Tufts College in 1889; but perhaps most important of all this is the 35th anniversary of the graduation of our Chapter Adviser, Joel W. Reynolds, Tufts, '23.

Joe, as everyone knows him, graduated as stated above in 1923. In 1934 Joe became chapter adviser and in 1939 he became Eastern Division Vice-President, a post he held until 1943 when he became President of the Eastern Division. During this period Joe received the Distinguished Service Chapter Citation of the Fraternity. This was doubly notable when one considers that he was not only the youngest member to be so honored but also the only one to receive it who had not been out of school at least 20 years. This honor was bestowed at the record-breaking White Sulphur Karnea.

In 1943 Joe moved to the position of Alumni Secretary, a post he held until 1950. From 1950 to 1954 he was National Vice-President. From this auspicious position he was elevated to National President, a position he held for two years until 1956. This period was marked by a nationwide growth of the Fraternity.

In 1955 Joe was a delegate to the National Interfraternity Conference House of Delegates.

JOEL W. REYNOLDS

Today Joe holds two positions of some considerable merit in the fraternity world. He is Secretary of the N.I.C. and Chairman of the Advisory Committee on the Delta Tau Delta Centennial Development Fund.

As though his work for his Fraternity was not enough, Joe also worked for his college. From 1941 to 1943 he was chairman of the Tufts Alumni Council, after which he served six two-year terms as president of the Alumni Association, 1942-1954. He received an honorary M.S. degree in 1948. During the same year he was also awarded the Tufts Distinguished Service Key. In 1949 he was made a life trustee. He has been a member of the Executive Committee of Trustees since 1950. He is also a member of the engineering honor society, Tau Beta Pi.

About this point you may be asking yourself, "What does he do in his spare time?" He is president of the Gustavo Preston Company in Boston. We also heard, on the sly from Mrs. Reynolds, that at last count Joe was a member of 32 committees and other bodies.

As long as we've mentioned Mrs. Reynolds we might consider just what this active man's wife does.

The former Marion Newhall graduated from Jackson College in 1924. She is a member of Chi Omega Sorority. She has been chapter adviser of the Tufts Chapter for 15 years. She is currently a member of the Tufts Alumni Council and received the Tufts Distinguished Service Key in 1954.

Joe once commented on Mrs. Reynolds' activities. He said, "I got her into this business so that I could go to Brothers Meetings on Monday nights."

The Reynoldses have three daughters, who naturally enough are Jackson graduates and members of Chi Omega.

Right now much of Joe's time and interest are consumed by his campaign to build a $30,000 addition to the Beta Mu Shelter and to install a housemother.

At this point all we undergraduates can do is to say, "Thanks a lot, Joe," and to hope that from among us at least one Joe Reynolds will emerge.

room, and toilet and powder room facilities.

The first floor will have the living and dining room areas, a kitchen, and a pantry. The second and third floors are living quarters. Each floor has a two-man room, four three-man rooms, one four-man room, and a dormitory for 18 men. The new Shelter will house 36 Delts.

STRAIGHT "A" INITIATES

CHARLES E. BUCHNER, Delta Alpha, '61, and BERNIE L. HULME, Delta Alpha, '61, were initiated by Oklahoma Chapter on March 16, 1958, with 15 and 17 hours, respectively, of straight "A."

MAX A. ALLEN, Delta Eta, '60, and SAM H. HAMNER, Delta Eta, '61, were initiated by Alabama Chapter on February 26, 1958, each with 18 hours of straight "A."

MERRILL KENNETH KING, Delta Beta, was initiated by Carnegie Tech Chapter on February 8, 1958, with 57 hours of straight "A." At Carnegie Tech a normal load is 50 hours.

GRANDMA RETIRES

came the opportunity to share in late bull sessions with her boys to plan with them for their future and that of the Fraternity. She could bake a pie, paint a room, dig a rose garden, mend a pair of socks, preside over a formal tea, or cook hot dogs over an outdoor fire.

Always the optimist, Grandma came to the Fraternity when the Emory chapter was at low ebb. With a force of about eight men, Beta Epsilon occupied a rented house across the street from the campus. Before her day, only men had lived in the chapter's quarters, even the off-and-on cook being a man. The future of the chapter was none too promising, even with the hope of building a Shelter on the new fraternity row on Emory's campus. She came as temporary housemother to help out, and stayed long enough to break all records for a housemother's tenure of service at Emory, and possibly in the United States.

In the spring of 1938, the chapter moved into its new house on the campus. The furnishings were scarce, what with all the money having gone into the house itself. Grandma bought dime store dishes and pots and pans, and she built the Mothers Club into a strong and loyal vanguard for her boys. This past summer when she moved her possessions from the house, she took along a few pieces of the old china which she had preserved over the years as memoirs of the earliest days. As the chapter developed into a more important factor on the campus, her influence is clearly to be seen, molding and developing good Delts and good citizens. Her love for the Fraternity was an inspiration to her boys to greater accomplishments for Delta Tau Delta. Her counsel helped keep the chapter one of which Emory was proud, one which remained always above reproach.

Just as we felt the lean years were over, Pearl Harbor upset the balance. Boys were called from school to put on the uniform. Those who stayed on briefly brought their ration books from home, and Grandma had to plan her meals with considerable ingenuity. The Navy V-12 unit moved in, and Emory took over the chapter houses for civilian dormitories. Grandma moved to Florida to assist in a home for children to stay busy enough to help relieve her mind of worry about her boys, now scattered throughout the world. She kept in touch with as many as possible through encouraging letters, and awaited impatiently the day she could return to Emory.

As the war ended and the colleges became inundated with veterans as well as younger men, Beta Epsilon grew to such proportions it was necessary to double the size of the house. This meant more work for Grandma, more boys to mother, more meals to prepare, and longer hours on duty to keep up. Her sense of humor was never dimmed by any of the problems she was called on to solve.

The years were kind to her, partly as she says because one cannot be associated with young people without staying young in heart. Her purpose was always to build good Delts and a better chapter of Delta Tau Delta at Emory, and "no matter how good you are, you can be better." Such a purpose gave meaning to all the sacrifices which she made over the years.

Emory Delts pay tribute to this "Grand Lady" of the Fraternity. Among all the things she means to them, the greatest is the fact that she is a good Delt. It will be difficult to adjust to the knowledge that she is not still on the scene at Emory carrying on as we remember. However, we know that the influence which she has had over the years is still evident there, as it is in the hearts of Delts over the world who came under that influence.

Grandma now lives at what she once called her farm in the country, but which is now a residence in a growing community in rapidly developing DeKalb County. She will enjoy traveling about the country visiting old friends now that she has no schedule to follow. But she will always come back to Emory from time to time to see that the boys have cared for the azaleas and the roses and the lawn as she told them.

the country, while enjoying the outstanding Glee Club from Gamma Delta Chapter, West Virginia University.

On Thursday, the entertainment fare will include the Centennial Recognition Luncheon. Here Delt leaders from many walks of life will be honored for their contributions to the Fraternity and the nation.

Among the well-known Delts who already have indicated their intention to attend the Centennial Karnea are U. S. Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, Texas, '22; Benjamin M. McKelway, George Washington, '19, Editor of the Washington Star and President of the Associated Press; U. S. Senator William E. Jenner; Congressman Richard M. Simpson; Baseball's Branch Rickey; Porter M. Jarvis, President of Swift & Co.; and former Delt Presidents Paul G. Hoffman, the first United States Economic Co-operation Administrator, and W. Harold Brenton, agriculturist, banker, and former President of the American Bankers Association.

Besides honoring outstanding Delt alumni, including members of the Fraternity's Distinguished Service Chapter, the Centennial Recognition Luncheon will feature the presentation of scholarship and publication awards to Delt undergraduate chapters and a special tribute to those often unrecognized heroes of the Fraternity, our chapter advisers.

Thursday evening will offer two attractions to Karnea participants. At 5:30 p.m., Delta Beta Chapter at Carnegie Institute of Technology will dedicate its new $175,000 Shelter. At 8:30 p.m., the lights go on at Forbes Field for a presentation of the world-famous "Ice Capades." Although not a part of the official Karnea "package," the Ice Capades will offer interesting and colorful entertainment to Delts wishing to attend.

Entertainment literally will take over on Friday, when, after the morning business session, the scene will shift to Pitt's Wildwood Recreation Center (a former Country Club) for an afternoon of golf, swimming, and tennis. Following an outdoor barbecue supper, the fourth day of the Karnea will close with a dance at Wildwood.

Undergraduate Delts planning to attend the Karnea will be glad to know that a special committee has been set up and will handle arrangements to provide visiting brothers with charming and attractive dates from among the Tri-State area's loveliest.

The Sixty-fourth Karnea will come to a close on Saturday, August 21, with the final business sessions, the traditional division luncheons, and, as the grand climax, the Centennial Banquet in the main ballroom of the Penn-Sheraton Hotel.

To Delts visiting Pittsburgh for the first time, the conclusion of the Karnea need not spell the end of a pleasant vacation trip.

From Pittsburgh, nearly all of the historic and recreational attractions of the East are within easy driving distance. The Great Lakes, the Skyline Drive, New York, New England, Washington, Jamestown, and Williamsburg are but a few of the easily accessible areas.

Of course, Pittsburgh, itself, has much to offer to the Delt visitor this summer.

By happy coincidence, 1958 also represents a special birthday for the city of Pittsburgh—its 200th. An immense Bicentennial Celebration is being planned to commemorate the capture of Fort Duquesne during the French and Indian War by troops led by British General Forbes and a young Virginia Militia Colonel named George Washington. Promptly renamed Fort Pitt in honor of Britain's great Prime Minister, the fort and the town which grew around it became the gateway to the western frontier and today is the steel center of the world.

The story of Pittsburgh's Renaissance, which has captured the imagination of city planners both in the United States and abroad, is well illustrated by Mellon Park, the beautiful midtown recreational area which lies right beside the Karnea Headquarters.

Mellon Park, with its six stories of underground garage, replaced an area of old and worn-out stores, and is typical of the rebirth of Pittsburgh—from a smog-ridden mill town to the nation's most progressive city. Although this will be the fifth Karnea held in Pittsburgh (1874, 1881, 1909 and 1937) it is doubtful that even the veterans of the 1937 gathering would recognize Pittsburgh today. The once "smoky city" has shed its grimy smog, rebuilt its business district, and undertaken a renaissance that is the talk of the country.

Besides "lifting its face," Pittsburgh has made itself much easier to reach in the past few years. Delts planning to attend the Karnea will have a

Gamma Mu Hosts Western Regional Conference—Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary

Delegates to Western Division Regional Conference, Seattle, February 14 and 15.

On February 14 and 15, Gamma Mu Chapter at the University of Washington served as host to the delegates to the Western Division Regional Conference. The host chapter took this opportunity to observe officially its 50th anniversary as a chapter of Delta Tau Delta. The high light of the Conference and celebration was the banquet held at Seattle's Olympic Hotel.

The main speaker at the banquet was Mr. WILBUR Dow, prominent New York attorney. He told of his travels to the North Pole several years ago, illustrating his talk with color slides. Serving as master of ceremonies at the banquet was "DEE" WILLIAMS, one of Gamma Mu's most outstanding alumni.

Among the many distinguished guests present at the function were ROBERT W. GILLEY, Washington, '30, Vice-President of the Fraternity; GEORGE A. FISHER, JR., Purdue, '33, President of the Western Division; KENNETH C. PENFOLD, Colorado, '37, Western Division vice-president; SCOTTY CORUM, president of Gamma Mu's alumni association; THOMAS E. THE DELT ALUMNI CHAPTERS

Akron

The last meeting of the Akron Alumni Chapter was held at the Chesterfield Inn in conjunction with Founders Day celebrations and the anniversary of Delta Omega Chapter at Kent State University. Akron alumni turned out in good numbers for this fine combined celebration. Ray Finley, Iowa, was the principal speaker.

At the present time Akron alumni are engaged in publicity work for the Centennial Karnea to be held in Pittsburgh this August. The Karnea committee has been exceptionally co-operative in supplying us with information and lists of alumni in the area. It is our expectation that this publicity and the follow-up campaign will result in a good representation of Akron-area Deltas at the Karnea this summer.

Atlanta

The last week end in March was a busy one for Delt alumni in the Atlanta area. Friday was the date for the usual monthly luncheon at the Town House Restaurant; Sunday afternoon the Emory chapter was host at a reception in honor of its new housemother; Monday night the Atlanta Alumni Chapter, in conjunction with the three active chapters in Georgia, observed the 99th anniversary of the founding of the Fraternity.

Although Sunday was a pretty dismal day of clouds and showers, this did not prevent some 200 guests from attending the Emory chapter's reception in honor of Mrs. Mildred K. Moore, its new housemother. Also present at the reception were Mrs. R. S. Humphries, "Grandma" to Emory Deltas who joined the Fraternity during the past 24 years she had been housemother, and Brother Burr Christopher, President of the Southern Division of the Fraternity.

The Founders Day dinner was the second that the Atlanta Alumni Chapter has had. Over 80 Delt alumni and actives met at the downtown Elks Club for a social hour and dinner, followed by a message from Brother Christopher. Burr recounted briefly some of the Fraternity's past and then moved to a look at the future, bringing home to all present that our work with and responsibility to Delta Tau Delta is not finished when we leave college. He urged, in this Fraternity's 100th year, greater effort on the part of all Deltas in the continued upward growth of the Fraternity.

Following Brother Christopher's talk, the meeting was adjourned with the traditional singing of "Delta Shelter."

In the last issue of the RAINBOW we asked to hear from Deltas living out of Atlanta but who had interests here. We were glad to hear from Dr. Thomas T. Galt, Emory, now living in Spartanburg, South Carolina. We will be happy to act as a clearing house for addresses or messages from any Delt who wants to renew contact with his brothers or who just wants to write. Let us know what you are doing and where you are; there are other Deltas who would like to know. Who knows, if we get enough information, a newsletter might result.

For the last six months Frank has been commuting to Boise for this task. In this capacity he is serving as a colonel in the Quartermaster Corps of the Idaho National Guard.

Plans are underway for the annual Delt Picnic in honor of local rushees. Although the place is not yet picked, the date will be August 23 at 4 p.m. This time the choice is between the usual place at City Park or out in the timber at Idaho City.

Weekly luncheons are being held every Thursday at Patten's Restaurant on Court Street at 12:15 with the old stand-bys in regular attendance. Jasper Peairs, Jr., usually a regular member at our weekly attendance, is now on sabbatical leave in Europe studying European jurisprudence. Occasional communications indicate he is enjoying his tour. Joel Reynolds, past National President, is now actively pursuing his duties as secretary of the National Interfraternity Conference and still finding time, among his other duties, to attend our weekly luncheons.

Several visitors to the Boston area have attended our luncheons during the past two or three months and we welcome any Deltas in this area to meet with us for a friendly and informative chat.

Due to very heavy commitments on the part of many of the Boston Deltas, no Founders Day dinner was planned this year; however, we are looking forward to the possibility of having a family get-together sometime in the summer months.

The Charleston, West Virginia, Alumni Chapter has elected as officers for the forthcoming year Harry Bell, president; Scott Camp, Jr., vice-president; and Donald E. Kelly, secretary-treasurer.

The chapter is coming along with very fine success. At the next monthly luncheon we are having as our guests some of the graduating seniors from the various local high schools who are planning to attend college this fall. It is hoped that this activity will serve as the opportunity for outstanding high school seniors to become acquainted with our Fraternity as well as the chance for our undergraduate members to see what a fine group of high school men we have coming along.

Chicago

Chicagoland Delts braved a combination of rain and snow to attend the 1958 Founders Day Banquet on March 19. The festivities were held in a private dining room at the Prudential Building in downtown Chicago. The speaker of the evening was Joseph D. Boyd, De-Pauw, '48, Dean of Men at Northwestern University. Dean Boyd told the alumni chapter of some of the many ways undergraduates and alumni could strengthen their chapters and the fraternity system as a whole.

The gathered alumni also heard reports about remodeling and new building plans from House Fund representatives from Northwestern and the Illinois Institute of Technology. In addition, the presidents of the Northwestern and Illinois Institute of Technology chapters gave summaries of the activities and scholarship of their respective chapters. The alumni were pleased to see a large representation of undergraduates from IIT at the dinner.

As the last RAINBOW went to press, this chapter was electing its officers for the 1958-59 year. Now heading the chapter are Jerome Pinderski, Northwestern, '45, president; Wayne Viner, Wabash, '28, vice-president; and Hugh Solvsberg, Northwestern, '52, secretary and treasurer.

Cleveland

One hundred eighteen alumni and undergraduates turned out for this year's Founders Day Banquet at the University Club to hear former Fraternity President A. Bruce Bielaski deliver the principal address.

Carr Liggett did an excellent job as toastmaster of the fast-paced program. Former Governor of Ohio and presently Associate Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, Tom Herbert, spoke on behalf of the alumni of Zeta Chapter. Northern Division President Bob Hartford brought us up to date on National Fraternity affairs and Al "Judge" Sheriff gave us an outline of the local chapter's extensive plans for the coming Karnea in Pittsburgh. This Karnea sounds like a "must" for everyone.

C. D. Russell, Clem Frank, and Bill Hecker, were only a few of the many who worked to make the banquet a successful affair.

Last year's officers, President Al Reidel, Vice-President Dick Miller, Secretary Al Sheriff, and Treasurer Ron Rice, are to be commended for the job they did in promoting alumni activities. The new officers, President Ron Rice, Vice-President Al Sheriff, Secretary Fred Stanbro, and Treasurer Arch McCarthy, have indicated a strong desire to continue the momentum started by last year's leaders.

the goal of the membership committee this year. "It costs so little to gain so much" is the theme of the drive.

A typical "wing-ding" was held in May to get the social activity underway, and, of course, there will be the annual "rush party" later this summer for all prospective Delts, no matter where they plan to attend school.

The Farm Room of Clarks Restaurant on Playhouse Square every Thursday at noon is the scene of greeting, meeting, and eating for any Delts in the area. Hope to see you there.

Columbus

The Columbus Alumni Chapter's Founders Day Banquet was attended by 180 loyal Delts on April 10 at Lincoln Lodge, Columbus, Ohio. Among the many outstanding Delts present were former Governor of Ohio Tom Herbert; Bill Daugherty, author of Ohio State University's well-known "Fight the Team"; Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court Carl Weygant; Treasurer of the Fraternity W. Edgar West; our much beloved Charlie Flick; and the main speaker of the evening, Robert Campe, borrowed from Pittsburgh.

Rod Wittich, Ohio, '50, was banquet chairman, and he and his committee are to be greatly commended. This was beyond a doubt the largest gathering of Delts in the Columbus area since the Karnea of 1950.

The invocation was given by Charlie Flick and Rupert Starr served as toastmaster. Ed West spoke on "Our Fraternity, Past, Present, and Future," and Bob Campe spoke of the plans for the Centennial Karnea.

JAKE SHAWAN

Denver

The Denver Alumni Chapter held its annual Founders Day banquet Friday, April 11, at Caveleris Restaurant in Denver. In attendance were approximately 75 alumni and 90 undergraduates from Beta Kappa Chapter at the University of Colorado.

Frank Southworth, president of the alumni chapter, introduced L. Allen Beck as toastmaster. Brother Beck took it from there in his usual vigorous and witty style. We were fortunate to have with us Bob Lucas, managing editor of the Denver Post. Bob is a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity and qualified to be present, thanks to his son, a recent initiate of Beta Kappa Chapter.

Other alumni chapter activities include our weekly luncheons held each Monday noon at the Denver Dry Department Store in downtown Denver. All visiting Delts and all Delts residing in the Denver area are urged to attend.

We are looking forward to a big year, including a repeat of our most successful outing of last summer at the Boulder Country Club.

SPIKE FRISBIE

Ft. Worth

As the weather warms up here in Texas so does the Delt alumni chapter.

The last meeting was held in the new chapter room on the Texas Christian University campus. Newly installed President Carroll Collins, of social fame, presided over the meeting. Members of the alumni chapter got a look at the undergraduate chapter room and living quarters, and reports from the chapter officers and committee chairmen.

A dinner in conjunction with the fathers of the Fort Worth Delts was discussed along with other projects such as the Founders Day banquet the 7th of May and a rush party for all potential Delts in the Fort Worth area, which for the first time will include the University of Texas, Texas Christian University, and Texas Tech, all at one time.

DAVID ALTER

Houston

Our regular meetings, held the second Friday of each month at the Lamar Hotel, have been resumed after a brief mid-winter "vacation." Rush Moody, the new president, arranged for Harris County's district attorney, Dan Walton, to speak to the group at our February gathering which had about 30 men in attendance. Mr. Walton told of his law enforcement problems, dwelling particularly on the Houston juvenile crime situation.

The "Foreign Legion" (alums from chapters other than Texas' Gamma Iota) outnumbered the G. I.'s at our March meeting. This get-together was rather poorly attended, but that didn't keep us from electing Richard E. Lawler, Gamma Iota, '56, secretary-treasurer to succeed Fred Smithwick who is departing our shores for a job in Dallas. Smithwick's withdrawal from the Houston area also brought about the necessity of selecting another alumni delegate to the forthcoming Karnea. The nod was given J. N. Troxell, executive of The Texas Company's producing department, father of two fine Delts, and a Pittsburgh alum. Jack will give a good account of himself as our representative.

At this same meeting, Hirst Suffield was asked for an informal report on the progress of the Delt Centennial Fund. This he did briefly.

Rice Institute's athletic director and football coach, Jess Neeley himself a Delt from the old Vanderbilt chapter, was scheduled to speak at our April meeting. A postponement of this session from the 11th to the 18th ran afoul of THE RAINBOW's deadline and a report of his remarks will have to wait until more suitable football weather. Jess's grid talks always are a magnet; so very likely a record crowd of brother Delts will have heard him by the time this account appears.

SILAS B. RAGSDALE, SR.

Kansas City

George A. Fisher, Jr., President of the Western Division, spoke on the subject, "Delta Tau Delta—Progress or Decay," at our annual Founders Day, March 20. He emphasized that we, as alumni, have very short memories in regard to the opportunities we received while being active members of our undergraduate chapters. If each alumnus would stop for a moment and think what Delta Tau Delta did for him, and is still doing for him, the individual would feel a strong obligation to help promote the Fraternity whenever and wherever possible.

Brief undergraduate chapter reports from Baker, Kansas State, Kansas, and Missouri gave the alumni an idea of their fall and winter activities. Skits were presented by Baker and Kansas State. Our Founders Day program came to a very successful end with the singing of the "Shelter."

Summer is here and that means the undergraduate chapters will be in full swing with their rush programs. If you have a prospect that would be good Delt material, write your summer rush captain or get in touch with your Kansas City Alumni Chapter. They will be glad to take it from there.

If you haven't sent in your card to be included in our Alumni Directory, send it in. If you have misplaced it, call your secretary and he will furnish you with another.

Vacations are beginning and we hope you all have a fine time. Take care and return safe.

La Jolla

The La Jolla Alumni Chapter celebrated its first year as an active alumni organization of Delta Tau Delta at its monthly luncheon held on Tuesday, April 1, 1958, in the Pent House Dining Room of the Hotel Del Charro. At almost every meeting during our first year as a chapter we have had the pleasure of adding one or more names to our growing list of active members, and our first annual meeting was no exception. We are happy to report that our new members are: Zach K. Brinkerhoff, Michigan, '04; W. A. Wood, Iowa State, '21; and John Albertson, Indiana, '56. In addition to our new members, we were all pleased to have Francis Patton back with us. Francis, President of the Fraternity in 1946, was the inspiration and guiding hand responsible for the successful founding of our alumni chapter.

We have continued to grow and have had a most successful year under the leadership of the following officers: Captain Curtis H. Dickens, Tufts, '94, president; Joseph C. Ewing, Chicago, '00, vice-president; and Francis F. Patton, Chicago, '11, secretary-treasurer. Our retiring president, Captain Curtis H. Dickens, USN (Retired), was initiated into Delta Tau Delta in 1891. After 30 years service in the U. S. Navy, he was retired from his position as Chief of Navy Chaplains in 1929. All of us who have enjoyed the inspiration and fellowship of our meetings are grateful for the leadership of these men.

One of the high lights of our business meeting was the report from the committee appointed to investigate the growth or establishment of educational institutions in Southern California, particularly those which would offer opportunities for future expansion of the Fraternity. After hearing the committee's report, all present agreed that the chapter should actively support the efforts of all groups who are working to bring better educational facilities to the La Jolla-San Diego area. It appears highly probable that the recently approved establishment in the San Diego area of a postgraduate school of engineering by the University of California will result eventually in the establishment of an undergraduate school.

There is a growing demand for an undergraduate school in or near San Diego which will provide the best possible instruction in engineering and related scientific fields.

New officers for the year 1958-1959 were duly elected by unanimous approval of the choices of the nominating committee. They are Lowell Niebuhr, Northwestern, '18, president; Lee Campbell, Northwestern, '51, vice-president; and George M. Gilmore, Michigan, '21, secretary-treasurer.

The La Jolla Alumni Chapter expects to be well represented at the Centennial Karnea at Pittsburgh this summer. Kenneth H. Dame, Pittsburgh, '22, will represent the chapter as its official delegate. Other members of the chapter who are planning to attend are Francis F. Patton, Chicago, '11; Zach Brinkerhoff, Michigan, '04; E. H. Powell, Chicago, '11; and Kirk B. O'Farrel, Kenyon, '09. Dan Ferguson, Chicago, '09 and Frank Davenport, Lafayette, '09 will go if their schedule for the summer can be rearranged.

After several changes in location, we now have what we hope will be a regular time and place for our monthly luncheons. Our meetings are held the first Tuesday of every month, 12:30 noon, at the Hotel Del Charro, 2380 Torrey Pines Road, La Jolla, California. All Deltas visiting the San Diego area are cordially invited to join us. We assure you you will receive a hearty welcome.

Long Beach

On Tuesday, March 4, the Deltas of Southern California, including the active chapters at Santa Barbara, USC, and UCLA, gathered at the Statler Hotel in Los Angeles for the annual Founders Day Banquet. As is our custom, many members of the Long Beach Alumni Chapter journeyed to Los Angeles to attend this most important meeting of the year. We were well rewarded by the opportunity to honor our Founders and to join our brothers for a very enjoyable evening. On these occasions we not only renew friendships with Deltas from all parts of our country but with fellow actives of our college days. The Founders Day Banquet should certainly be, and I believe is, the most looked forward to and important event of the year for every alumni and active chapter.

At our regular monthly luncheon on March 11, at the University Club of Long Beach, plans were formulated to have a dinner party with our ladies on April 20, at the University Club.

Notice to all Deltas: You are invited to have luncheon with us on the second Tuesday of any month at the University Club. If you happen to be in Southern California on that day, come to Long Beach and get a fine view of the blue Pacific from the club dining room.

ROBERT B. TAPLIN

National Capital

If the interest generated at the centennial Founders Day dinner of the National Capital Alumni Chapter can be considered as a barometer of what to expect at the Karnea, there will be a record-breaking attendance.

Over 200 Deltas assembled in the main ballroom of the famous National Press Club to hear Brother Norm MacLeod, Pittsburgh, '17, past President of the Fraternity, review Delta Tau Delta's century of progress. He also outlined plans for the Karnea, and a large delegation can be expected to attend from the National Capital area.

Seated at the head table were Col. Ray W. Short, Georgia, '21, president of the local alumni chapter; Justice Thomas C. Clark, Texas, '21, of the U. S. Supreme Court; Hon. Loy W. Henderson, Northwestern, '15, assistant Secretary of State; Hon. Leonard P. Walsh, Minnesota, '27, chief judge of the D. C. municipal court; Col. Alvin C. Welling, Kentucky, '32, engineer commissioner for the D. of C.; R. Roy Dunn, Purdue, '25, president of the Potomac Electric Power Company; Thomas G. Meeker, Wesleyan, '41, general counsel, Securities and Exchange Commission; Maj. Gen. Edwin P. Parker, George Washington, '12, formerly Provost Marshal General of the Army, now retired; Art Eglington, Delaware and George Washington, '57, and Lewis T. Hatcher, Maryland, '51, presidents of the house corporations at G. W. and Maryland, respectively; Bernard Degen, George Washington, '59, and Kent Price, Maryland, '59, undergraduate chapter presidents.

After several musical numbers by the active chapters at Maryland and George Washington, appropriate certificates were presented to 15 Deltas who have been members of the Fraternity for more than half a century. Those receiving the gold certificates were: Carl H. Butman, Dartmouth, '09, Cornell, '10 and George Washington, '11; Albert R. Calder, George Washington, '11; Raymond R. Clapp, Cornell, '10; General Roscoe C. Crawford, Allegheny, '09; Richard D. Daniels, George Washington, '09; Dr. Joseph A. Jeffries, Virginia, '03; Camden R. McAtee, Indiana, '06; George E. Morrissey, Stanford, '06; Col. John A. O'Keefe, Tulane, '11; Claude W. Owen, George Washington, '08, and James G. Shibley, George Washington, '04.

Awards were presented to the following who were voted as the most outstanding undergraduate in their respective chapters—Richard Henson, Delaware, '58; Don Headley, George Washington, '58, and George A. Weinkam, Jr., Maryland, '58. Also, a $200 scholarship was presented to Timothy Mead, George Washington, '59.

Justice Clark was inducted into the Distinguished Service Chapter by Norm MacLeod who read the Citation commending Brother Clark for his continued active support of the Gamma Eta and Delta Sigma Chapters. Reverend Robert H. Andrews, Penn State, '34, Rector of St. Andrews Church, Arlington, Va., rendered the invocation and Raymond R. Dickey, George Washington, '38, did a masterful job as toastmaster.

Officers of the National Capital Alumni

Chapter for the coming year (1958-59) will be Boyce F. Betzer, Nebraska, '28, president; Rhesa M. Norris, George Washington, '14, vice-president, and Robert E. Newby, George Washington, '24, secretary-treasurer. The executive committee will include Karl W. Doering, Penn State, '34; W. Gordon Gemeny, Maryland, '51; William T. Sheris, Pittsburgh, '41; Col. Ray W. Short, Georgia, '21; John S. Toomey, George Washington, '51, and Robert VanSickler, Cincinnati, '29.

The roster of Deltas residing in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia, containing over 2,000 names, will soon be distributed to everyone on our mailing list, including all active and alumni chapters. All chapters of the Fraternity are represented except Toronto and the four new Epsilon chapters. See "Alumni Chapter Calendar" in the back of the RAINBOW for luncheon schedule of the National Capital Alumni Chapter.

ROBERT E. NEWBY

New York

At the time of the writing of this report plans are underway for the annual Founders Day Dinner, which is scheduled for April 23 at the Princeton Club. Since this year is the centennial anniversary of the Fraternity we are making an all-out effort to make it an extremely successful occasion, being honored by the presence of Delta Tau Delta President Francis M. Hughes as our speaker, who will talk to us on the "First 100 Years of Our Fraternity." Invitations have gone out to the National and Eastern Division officers of the Fraternity and neighboring undergraduate and alumni chapters inviting them as guests for the occasion.

At the three-quarter point of our '57-'58 season for the alumni chapter, we are pleased to note that we have more than 150 active dues-paying members with an increased attendance at our luncheons, which have proved highly successful at the new location at the Princeton Club.

Hardly a month has gone by without hearing from some new alumni coming into the metropolitan New York area and expressing an interest in our activities. A roster of Delt brethren within the metropolitan area is under preparation, and we hope we will have them distributed by the time this issue of the RAINBOW is delivered to you.

The Greater New York Alumni Chapter recently voted unanimously to make Charles R. Gallow, Toronto, '35, an honorary life member of the alumni chapter in recognition of his active work and participation in the chapter's activities as treasurer over the past two years. Chuck will be leaving in July for Johannesburg, South Africa, to take up his duties there with the Canadian Trade Commissioner.

GEORGE W. WHITNEY

Northern Kentucky

The Northern Kentucky Alumni Chapter regrets to report the death of Thomas Youtsey, Sr., Kenyon, who was truly one of the "grand guys" of Delta Tau Delta. Brother Youtsey took a great interest in all Delt activities over the years.

A delegation of Purdue Deltas, including Tommy Hall, Ft. Thomas, Kentucky, a recent president of Gamma Lambda Chapter at Purdue; Vos Huheey, of Ft. Thomas; and Pete Kreig, of Indianapolis, met with a local delegation to discuss problems (not of money raising) of alumni relations with the undergraduate chapters.

Brother Tommy Hall is the newly elected president of the Purdue University interfraternity council, much to the delight of his dad, T. J. Hall, and his two uncles, Fred Hall and Oliver Hall.

Dames marked our social activities for 1958. A June outing is planned and the annual rush party and steak dinner in September at Brother Bill Stegeman's are planned for the agenda.

The chief sports topic of our group at the present time centers on the reasons why the University of Cincinnati team did not win the NCAA basketball championship. Brothers Fred Stine and Tom Leonard have been leading the debate.

All of us from Delta Epsilon Chapter just sit and listen—and chuckle—after having told them months ago that Kentucky would walk off with the title.

CAMERON COFFMAN

Pittsburgh

The Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter is actively preparing for the Centennial Karnea under the direction of Norman MacLeod, General Chairman. The proceedings and Karnea program have been set and committees are in operation to make this 1958 Karnea the largest and best in the Fraternity's history.

As a kickoff to the Karnea, the annual Delt Founders Day Banquet and Baseball Outing will be held this year on May 23. Dinner will be served at the University Club, following which the group will attend the Pittsburgh Pirate-St. Louis Cardinal baseball game. In charge of the affair this year is Emil Narick, who is assisted by Forrest Lydic and Bill Hawkins. A record turnout is expected this year at the dinner and game.

The weekly alumni luncheons are held every Tuesday in the private dining room on the 11th floor of Kaufmann's Department Store, corner Fifth and Smithfield, in downtown Pittsburgh. All Delts located in or visiting the Pittsburgh area are welcome at these luncheons. If there are any Delts in the Pittsburgh area who are not receiving notices of the affairs of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter, please notify Bill Swanson at 1732 Oliver Building, Pittsburgh 22, Pennsylvania, and your name will be put on the mailing list.

Don't forget to get your Karnea tickets and make your plans to attend the Centennial Karnea. To take advantage of the advance sale price, send your check for $19.50 before July 15 to C. R. Wilson, treasurer, c/o Commonwealth Trust Company, 312 Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh 22, Pennsylvania.

WM. F. SWANSON, JR.

Portland

The future of the Portland Delt Alumni organization is being planned for very carefully by the officers, and the outcome will be our annual meeting which will take place at Blitz. The usual functions will be performed, and elections of the 1958-'59 officers will take place. We are sure all of the Portland alums are looking forward to this affair.

Under the leadership of Paul Peterson, who by the way was recently discharged from the service in Europe, our new bowling group has been organized. Many of the people who have been active in this sport are: Don Barrett, Paul Eckelman, Pat Lund, George Egan, Bill Eigener, and our own president, Harry Swan.

Our own Paul Eckelman, the ex-president of the Portland interfraternity council, is now on the board and is currently working on a bill for relief of the State Income Tax on house corporations. Paul is also very active in the Gamma Rho Alumni Advisory Committee, replacing Darrel Johnson, who by the way was caught passing out cigars last week. Congratulations!

In closing, we would like to welcome back Myron D. Headley, who, just returning from the Air Force, has joined his father, Marion M. Headley, in the drug and pharmaceutical business here in Portland. Incidentally, both are Delts from Delta Lambda.

CHARLES P. LUND, II

St. Louis

Robert W. Kroening, chapter adviser for Delta Omicron, spoke on the responsibilities of the pledges, actives, and alumni to the Fraternity at the St. Louis Alumni Chapter's Founders Day Banquet.

Speaking before 82 pledges, actives and alumni, Mr. Kroening told the group that the "cloak of our Fraternity is not something that can be put on and taken off at will—it is a lifetime association."

More than 40 actives and pledges from Delta Omicron and Gamma Kappa attended the dinner meeting at Ray Quinlan's Party House in suburban St. Louis. Alumni present at the meeting represented a wide variety of chapters.

Both Jim Ritter, president of Missouri U's Gamma Kappa, and Bailey Word, president of Westminster's Delta Omicron

Chapter, spoke at the meeting. Westminster pledges presented a skit depicting contemporary life for the benefit of the alumni.

Gamma Kappa pledges presented Delt songs set to rock and roll music. The chapter plans to record the songs to provide money for a new chapter house.

John Gury, III, president of the St. Louis Alumni Chapter, announced that Delta Omicron had won the alumni chapter's annual scholarship trophy award for showing the most improvement in scholarship in the past year. Formal presentation of the trophy will be made in May at the chapter house in Fulton, Mo.

BOB ZEITINGER

Toledo

Bill Diemer and Jack Toman cochairmanned Toledo Chapter's Founders Day Stag held at Sunningdale Country Club March 19. Delt Iris decorated the banquet tables over which flowed the songs and talk of college days of yesteryear. Toledo's mayor, John Yager, Michigan, introduced the speaker of the evening, Joe Scalzo.

Joe is not a Delt, but has a list of accomplishments a mile long. Besides being a city councilman, he is the Olympic Greco-Roman wrestling coach. His talk was a stern call for action for the Olympic program in the United States. Joe's keen insight on the manner of dealing by the Russians was an eye-opener to all of us.

Toledo chapter voted to sponsor a trophy for Delta Tau Chapter, and President Vince Bailey appointed Bob Lowrie and Maltbie Brown to select the trophy and find a proper deed.

The fall rush party will be held as usual and any chapter which wishes a prospective Delt rushed or recommended is urged to contact the secretary.

FRED HIBBERT

Topeka

No special news from the Topeka alumni group. Glad to report that the attendance at our monthly luncheons is growing, and the Delts appreciate the fellowship of these meetings. We had 25 at the March meeting, and enjoyed having three actives from Gamma Chi at Kansas State with us who invited us to attend their Founders Day meeting. Gail Wilson was elected to represent the Topeka group at the Western Division Regional Conference held at Lawrence February 28 and March 1, and made a report at this meeting.

Plans are being made for a spring party the last of April or first of May, when we hope to have Governor and

The new officers of the chapter were elected early in March. Jim Dilworth was elected president. The other officers are Earl Whatley, vice-president; Jim Parnell, corresponding secretary; Jim Sockwell, recording secretary; and Ferrell Maughn, treasurer.

The eyes of the campus were on the Delts as skit night approached. The chapter was trying for its eighth first place in nine years. Brothers Gerry and Norman Waddell directed a skit which polled the most votes by a large majority, although we were later disqualified for a mix-up in the script.

In intramural sports it has been a successful year for Delt teams. We started the year by winning the annual track meet. This, along with one of the best football teams in recent years, made it an enjoyable fall for the 'Bama Delts. The basketball team made quite a showing this spring before losing out in the campus finals. Pledge Bill Hiese was placed on the all-star team. Brothers Forrest Wilson, Ferrell Maughan, and Jim Buckler teamed up to bring in the campus bowling championship for our second trophy.

Excitement rises as time approaches for the awarding of the Delt trophy, which is given to the outstanding sorority of the year. Kappa Delta received the trophy last year, and who will win it this year is quite a conversation topic.

Many Delts have shown their leadership in school publications and campus politics. Brother Gerry Waddell is president of the IFC. Gerry is also the new editor of the Mahout, school magazine. Brother Earl Whatley is the assistant editor of the Mahout. Brother Max Pope has been named business manager of the Crimson White, school paper. Brother William Gray has been selected for Phi Beta Kappa.

JIM PARNELL

Albion

The spring season here at Epsilon promises to be jam-packed with many events concerning both varsity and intramural as well as joyous social activities. Under the leadership of Delts Bert Dygert and Chuck Nebel, cocaptains of intramural activities, Epsilon promises to place high in fraternity all-sport standings. Epsilon tied for first place in the intramural swimming meet, and prospects for a fine softball team and track crew are good.

Epsilon was recently honored by having its president, Keith Petherick, elected to the presidency of the interfraternity council.

Turning to a theatrical note, Delts Robert Bartlett, John McCord, and James Wyse wrote and directed what has been considered the greatest entertaining endeavor ever to be presented on Albion's campus. The production, entitled "John Brown's Ballad," was a two-and-one-half-hour presentation depicting the trials and tribulations of a young musician, portrayed by Marv Camburn, in his struggle for fame and recognition. Other Albion's Black and White Queen, BETTY GREEN, escorted by Delts KEN BORLAND and DAN CHAPMAN.

Delts made fine contributions to the show, enabling the production to be an all-out success.

Under the leadership of Captain Joe Radzik, Albion's varsity baseball team will be sparked by Delts Bill Deer, Dave Althouse, Kirk Flack, and Dave Smith. Albion again promises to have a high-ranking varsity track team with competent athletes such as Jim Taup, George Grien, Gary Barnes, and Chuck McCaslin. Varsity golf will be boosted with returning golfers Ben Mayne, John Krsul, and Bob Bonfield.

With the coming spring season, Epsilon hopes for greater laurels in scholastic, athletic, and social endeavors.

BRUCE LACEY

Allegheny

Rush week opened the second semester at Alpha Chapter. At the four evening banquets during the week, actives and pledges were amused by a hypnotist, a magician, a home entertainment review, and a night of athletic activities. When the festivities were over, Alpha was well pleased with its 14-man pledge class, which included Tom Benthin, Mike Bernard, Fred Brockman, Jim Brummage, Jack Francis, John Gschwendter, Paul Hood, Jim Ingram, Dick Martin, Jim Merchant, Dave Ottey, Vince Valenti, Brian Waters, and Jerry Wilson. The pledge program, under the leadership of Pledgemaster Jack Hartwell, is aiming at a thorough instruction in all phases of chapter activity to maintain a lasting interest throughout the undergraduate years. Stress is being put on developing a closely knit tie between actives and pledges and also the role of the national organization.

In intramural sports the Delts have placed first, second, third, and fourth in badminton, bowling, ping-pong, and basketball, respectively, among the college men. Returning to the softball team will be five starters from last year's team.

Brothers Harden and Love have ended a season on the varsity swimming team while Brothers Vance, Mathews, Bender, Valenti, and Pledge Francis are just starting track. Our chapter sent two teams to the Presidents' League intramural tournament in Cleveland where we took second place in badminton and third in volleyball.

Brother Pete Peterson was recently elected vice-president of educational affairs for the Allegheny Student Government. The sophomore class elected Brother Bill Hrach as its vice-president. Chapter elections followed the resignation of former President Dick Smith, who left his post for candidacy of student government president. The previous vice-president, Dave Bray, was elected president, and Fred King, former recording secretary, took over the reins of vice-president.

Pledges selected a Carribean theme for their March dance. As favors for the occasion the class made miniature pledge paddles for each couple.

To raise money for the fund drive at Allegheny, Alpha, along with the other social groups on campus, participated in a carnival.

Bill Hrach, who formed a concert band on campus this year, held the first concert of this semester. The music department praised Brother Hrach's ingenuity in undertaking this project without outside help.

For the second straight year Delta Tau Delta placed in the Interfraternity Greek Sing. This year the fraternity won second place.

Among the activities on campus, Fred King was elected to the R.O.T.C. Arnold Air Society. In the drama field, Brothers Derry Bird and Dave Bray had parts in Romeo and Juliet. In the Imaginary Invalid, Brother Bird appeared again. Phi Beta Phi selected Brother Bruce Bell as a member to the honorary biology fraternity.

Although the contest for the ugliest man and "mister formal" are not yet over, we feel that our candidates, Fred Waldinger and Al Mauro, have a good chance to win. These two contests are sponsored by Allegheny's I.F.C. as part of the Greek Week program. The chapter is now looking forward to the last part of the semester which will begin with a help night and will terminate with Alpha's annual spring formal.

WALTER E. VIEHMANN, JR.

Auburn

Spring quarter has started and the sound of the sphere striking leather can be heard on all sides of the Shelter as Epsilon Alpha's intramural softball team trains. Although there had not been a game at the time this was written, hopes were high for a winning season.

Campaigns for student body positions are in full swing here at Auburn and this chapter has three brothers running. One of them, Brother Frank Price, who is a candidate for business manager of the official school paper, The Plainsman, is already assured of his election; he is running unopposed. Brother Sonny Clinigan is running for editor of the Glomerata, the Auburn yearbook, and Brother Roy Redderson is a candidate for sophomore senator.

Epsilon Alpha recently elected Brother Frank Price, president; Brother DeWitt Burns, vice-president; Brother Norment Pittman, treasurer; Brother George Fozzard, corresponding secretary; Brother Ken Stephens, recording secretary; Brother Jimmy Nix, sergeant at arms; Brother Bill Sefton, guide; and Brother Ed Barnes, assistant treasurer.

Brother Wendell Nix recently received a stipend from the Atomic Energy Commission granting him $2,500 and nine months of tuition-paid study at Vanderbilt in the field of radiological physics. This scholarship is administered by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. Brother Nix will work at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory next summer.

Baker

Gamma Theta has concluded another school year which has again brought recognition to the chapter as the campus leader in varsity athletics, leadership, intramurals, and activities.

The annual all-campus spring play this year, Teahouse of the August Moon, featured two Delts, Chuck Caywood and Eric Erickson, in the two male lead parts. Many other brothers had parts in the excellent production.

Seven of Baker's 11 varsity basketball lettermen were Delts. Heading the list was Sophomore Jim Kean, who was chosen second team all-conference. Kean, also the top javelin thrower in school, is chapter scholarship chairman. Chuck Hollinger, a 6' 5" junior with a 15-point-per-game average, received honorable mention. Other Delt lettermen are: Bill Hines, Jim Lee, Milton Skeens, John Rubow, and Richard McDowell.

Baker's House Corporation meets to discuss plans for new Shelter. Standing is RALPH POLSON, head of financial committee.

Senior Bill Hines has been initiated into Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary scholastic fraternity on campus which requires over-all grade index of 2.30 on a three-point system. Hines has a 2.50 plus average. Bill is a past president of Gamma Theta.

In intramurals we have about clinched our sixth consecutive sweepstakes title and will retire our second straight trophy which requires an organization to win it three consecutive years. Intramural championships in both divisions of basketball, swimming, track, and ping-pong doubles have been won since the last RAINBOW issue. With tennis, golf, and baseball left, the year's trophy harvest appears bright.

In Baker's opening dual track meet it was a case of not enough "Delt power." Delts scored 45 of the 50 scored by the team. Three first places were won by Baker, all by Delts. Baker's varsity tennis team, winner of 16 consecutive dual matches, has three Delts in the top four positions.

Karneia interest is at high pitch around the Shelter. Elected as delegates are Jarrett Clinton and Carl Anderson. It is hoped we will be able to match our showing at the Houston Karnea when we had the largest undergraduate delegation of any chapter other than the home-state Texas chapter.

Almost every activity on campus has had Delts in the leadership positions this year. Three of the four class presidents were Delts. A Delt was vice-president of the student commission and another was editor of the school paper. Many club presidencies were manned by Delts which include: Business Roundtable, Young Republicans, Young Democrats, Philosophical Forum, and International Relations.

A house corporation meeting in early March confirmed reports that construction on the new Shelter will probably begin within a year. Al "Cap" Runyan, a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter, is chairman of the corporation and Ralph Polson, '50, is in charge of the financial drive.

MEL HAWK

Bowling Green

Delta Tau Chapter came back on campus in fine style second semester by pledging 32 men, one of the largest pledge classes on campus. Within a matter of weeks the Delts captured high honors in intramural sports. The Delts now boast 12 men participating in intercollegiate sports: three swimmers, six wrestlers, two football players, and one tennis player. When spring football practice gets under way, Brother Dale Huston will be starting his third year as left end on the varsity squad. As the varsity swimming team finished its third undefeated season, Brothers Keith Miller and Gerry Dewey were outstanding in their specialties—the butterfly and orthodox breaststroke events. Pledge Howard Scarborough was conference champion in the 100-yard butterfly event.

New officers elected in February are: Ralph Stuard, president; Hal Wassink, vice-president; Dimitrios Economides, treasurer; Bob Rakovan, recording secretary; Ken Wardell, corresponding secretary; Gary Brown, IFC representative; Lloyd Weaver, guide; and Harry Sir, social chairman.

On campus this year we have several student leaders. Recently, Brother Richard Kamieniecki was initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary, joining Ed Ward, ODK president, who is also chief justice of student court. Brother Ken Kjoller is photo editor of the B-G News, biweekly campus newspaper, and is doing a fine job on various leadership committees on campus. Jim Pollack is president of Circle K, men's honorary.

On March 25, seven men were initiated into the chapter.

The chapter is planning several events, including the spring formal and senior banquet. We hope to capture the intramural track and softball titles in which we placed second last year!

TOM LINDY

Brown

The winter months have been good ones for BX Chapter. Shortly following first semester exams, we pledged 23 men, under the able direction of Rush Chairman Dick Carolan. At this point, the pledges have handled their scuttling duties very capably. Their work has largely consisted of improvements to the Shelter. We feel that we have again succeeded in pledging many of the outstanding members of the freshman class.

As usual, Brown sports will be well supported by the Delts. Captain Charlie Batchelder, supported by Brother Cantini, will lead the golf team in what promises to be an interesting campaign. A number of pledges also figure prominently in plans for the freshman squad. Joe Miluski and Norm Enman will again perform for the lacrosse team at mid-field and defense. Ritchie Caputo, a promising sprinter, and Doug Crowe should aid the spring track team. In baseball we have a number of pledges vying for positions on the freshman squad: Harry Usher, Kayo O'Reilly, Gerry Long, Dave Walles, and Joe Kelly.

In intramurals the Delts are eagerly contesting for the fraternity softball crown. If we win this competition, we should win the fraternity intramural award. The team will be led by Don MacKensie. "Coke" Gorgodian and John McTigue, ex-varsity baseballers, are expected to help a great deal.

The spring semester also promises many social high lights. Brother Cantini, our social chairman, has extensive plans for our motif parties, spring week end, and initiation week end. In regard to spring week end, Tom Brennan has been zealously coaching the brothers for the annual interfraternity sing competition. A fine performance in this competition would certainly insure the success of spring week end. As usual, the Delts will have a couple of boats on the river during the annual crew race on spring week end. This, plus the good parties on Friday and Saturday nights, makes spring week end our big social event of the year.

The brothers are all looking forward to the Karnea in August. We hope to be well represented there and look forward to meeting the brothers from other chapters.

DOUG CROWE

The most exciting news around Beta Zeta, now and for some time to come, is the approval and acceptance of plans for a new Shelter. The operation is at last under way, and we are due to break ground around the first of June this year. Spring of 1959 will see all the boys living in a new and modern house. It is to be of the latest design and one of which any fraternity man in the country could be justly proud.

The February election and installation of officers saw Paul Furnish take over the helm as president for the ensuing year. Dave McCormick was elected vice-president; Bob Stevens became the new treasurer; Bill Bangs is recording secretary; Tom Shirely is corresponding secretary; Walt Hap is sergeant at arms; and Maurie Schutz is the new guide. The entire chapter is behind them and wishing them good luck in the coming year.

Beta Zeta garnered a second place in competition at the annual Geneva Stunts variety show. A "Gay Nineties" health bar provided the setting; and the act, which was filled with songs and mayhem, provided much light amusement for the entire audience.

The labors of Rush Chairman Joe Reynolds and his committee produced ten new pledges. Currently, the brothers are hard at work putting a few numbers together for the annual Spring Sing competition among all the fraternities and sororities on campus. Song Chairman Bill Lathouse is sure he has another winner in the fire to follow last year's championship group.

RON SCHAFFNER

California

As the semester draws to a close we can look back upon many successful Delt functions. Among the most successful were the "overnight" in the Santa Cruz Mountains, the "Mexican Insurrection" party, and the "Xmas in the Jungle" party. We have combined with these enjoyable functions many long hours spent towards improving the appearance of our Shelter. We have almost completed our barbecue-volleyball court, and by the time this article goes to press it will be completed, with the only exception being the cyclone fence enclosing this area.

Pete Merle was elected to the position of representative-at-large the past semester, and he has been tremendously successful with his political endeavors. Pete took over this position from Tom Ready, who is now making preparations for his campaign for student body president.

Our intramural basketball team finished second in the all-university finals. After battling our way into the finals, we were barely edged in the final game. Fifty-two houses competed in this league and we are quite proud of our second-place finish. Rounding out the first team was Dave Ohlson, Dan Ohlson, Gary Wulfsberg, Butch Moore, and John Henrotin.

Now that baseball season is here, Delt enthusiasm is even greater. Ted Falk is one of the top prospects on this year's defending NCAA championship team. Ted has combined his stylish left-handed pitching with a big bat to become one of the most valuable men on the team. Two other Delts, Kevin Scarpelli and Dave Amoroso, are doing well on the frosh baseball team.

Gary Wulfsberg is steadily improving in the discus and threatens to become the No. 1 man for Cal in that event. A letterman from last year's team, Gary is destined to become a consistent winner for the Bear track squad. Gulden Lloyd, another of the top Delt pledges, is currently the No. 1 man on the Cal varsity tennis team. Gulden has proven his superiority by gaining a series of victories over other team members and has done equally well against opposing teams.

As a measure for improving our scholastic standing, the scholarship committee, headed by Dick Thinger, is planning a "Mush Banquet." Those who receive notice of an "F cinch" will eat, along with their dates, mush; those receiving "D cinches" will eat hamburger; and those receiving no "cinches" will eat steak. The response for this proposal has been overwhelming, and we feel that it has been quite beneficial to the improvement of our academic program.

JOHN HENROTIN

Cincinnati

The Gamma Xi Delts are the proud possessors of one of the most coveted trophies given on the University of Cincinnati campus. Brother Dale Heckmann carried home the trophy as the 1958 Kampus King. This came after two weeks of hard, active campaigning by the entire chapter to get the votes of the women students. The announcement that Dale had emerged victorious over 18 other candidates was made at an all-campus dance. Following the announcement the Delts and their friends formed a huge song circle to serenade the "King." Earlier in the year Delt's Dick Stafetas captured the Zeta Tau Alpha Pledge Prince trophy, giving Delta Tau Delta the two top male popularity positions on campus.

Hardly had the Kampus King celebration ceased when Help Week started for the Gamma Xi pledges. This year the chapter initiated the idea of a progressive, instructive week. The week ended successfully with 19 young men wearing the square badge for the first time.

In February the pledges were honored at a formal dance which was sponsored by Playboy Magazine. The "Playboy Rabbits and Playmates" contributed to making the dance one of the most successful functions of the social season. Other high lights of the social whirl included a Pajama Party, a French Apache party, and numerous fireside parties with sororities.

The results of the recent chapter elections are as follows: President Jim Rockwell, Vice-President Dale Heckmann, Corresponding Secretary Jack Vedra, Recording Secretaries Charles Moeser and Jim Thomas, Treasurer Harold Whitney, and Assistant Treasurer Lloyd Green. In the recent campus political elections Brother Dick Foley was elected to the Engineering College Tribunal, and Brother Phil Leech was elected to serve on the Applied Arts Tribunal.

Pi Delta Epsilon, journalistic honorary, recently tapped Brothers Jim Arnn and Jack Vedra. Jim has served as feature editor of the campus newspaper and Jack has been art editor of the yearbook. Other Delts who have been active on campus are Pete Kendall as business manager of Mummers Guild, Don Jordan as chairman of the Union Dance Committee, Oran Heuck as president of Cincinnati Christian Fellowship, and Dave Wortendyke and Don Plane serving as president and vice-president of Alpha Phi Omega.

The past year has been very successful for Gamma Xi and with the tremendous amount of chapter spirit there are only bright skies in the future.

JACK A. VEDRA

Colorado

Beta Kappa started off the spring semester by initiating 23 new members and electing officers for the coming year. Al Brockob was chosen president; Jon Spolum, vice-president; Bob Hughes, recording secretary; and Steve Guzak, corresponding secretary. House Manager Joe Keown appointed Fritz Ieuter to assist with the chapter's finances.

When the scholastic standings from last semester had been calculated, Delts were sixth among the 24 fraternities at CU. Several brothers were chosen for various scholastic honoraries. Past President Rick Darst is a member of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary. Tapped for Semalia, senior men's honorary, were Phil Shockman and John Mattox; while Jon Warnick, Hank Brown, Jerry Hannon, and John Wittemyer made the sophomore honorary, Phi Epsilon Phi. Brown was elected president of the honorary and Wittemyer, vice-president.

Three big events topped the social calendar for the spring. First came the "Klondike" as Delts and their dates took to the beautiful Rocky Mountains and re-enacted the days of the "old North." Unique costumes were featured and even the weatherman joined in the spirit of things by contributing a large snowfall.

Next was the Founders Day celebration in conjunction with the Denver Alumni Chapter. Held in Denver, the celebration included a banquet, entertainment, songs, and, of course, jokes.

The Spring Formal was the third big event. For this, the Delts and their girls migrated to Estes Park for a week end of dancing and sunning at the foot of towering Long's Peak. The couples enjoyed hiking and parties on Saturday afternoon, then donned formal attire for the dance that night.

As the intramural sports swung into the final race for the over-all championship, the Delts were well in the lead as a result of capturing the all-school basketball championship again this year. After sweeping through the regular league play undefeated, Delt basketballers won four straight play-off games for the all-school title.

Two Delts, Larry Collins and Norm Haegboeck, played with the Boulder team in the regional AAU basketball tournament.

In the intramural ski meet, Delt Dave Hoff swept down the slopes in record time to win the event. Table tennis and bowling matches have not been completed at this writing.

Brothers Ieuter and Tony Scheer are doing well on the varsity baseball team. Frank Wagner and Orlin Jacobson swing clubs for the Colorado golf team. Boyd Dowler and Dennis Krueger completed the indoor track season just in time to start spring football practice, and then went back to track for the outdoor season.

Two Delts, Chris Hemmeter and Roger Miercort, were recently chosen as cheerleaders for next year.

Rick Darst is a candidate for CU Days king, which was won last year by Delt John Harker. While the chapter, along with the Thetas, prepares to build a float for the CU Days parade, two teams of bicycle riders representing the Delts are practicing for a bike marathon race to be held for the first time this year at the festivities. The race will be an 80-lap affair around the stadium track, complete with pit stops. Delta Gamma Sorority will sponsor the Delts and operate the pit.

The Delts were recently honored with an invitation to sing at the Pi Phi's initiation banquet. The serenade was held in the dining room of the Pi Phi house at the conclusion of the banquet.

It has been our privilege to have a foreign student with us this year. Hans-Joachim (Yogi) Worms, of Rheydt, Germany, has given us interesting stories of life in his country while learning our way of life. Through his efforts, and despite those of the United States Customs Office, the Delts were able to obtain German drinking boots as original favors for the Spring Formal.

For the second year in a row, a Delt has been elected as a commissioner on Colorado's student government. Phil Shockman, Beta Kappa's rush chairman of last fall, was recently elected to the commission. Gale Christy has served as athletic commissioner for the past year.

Cornell

The spring term finds Beta Omicron with 21 new pledges who are actively participating in hockey, lacrosse, crew, track, student government, dramatics, glee clubs, the Cornell Engineer, and, in addition, are maintaining a high scholastic average. The group represents ten states from all parts of the country and is enrolled in six separate schools within the University. The formal rushing period was climaxed by the pledging ceremony followed by a pledge party, thus giving the brothers and pledges a chance to know each other better. Other spring social events include the pledge formal, several exchange dinners, a picnic, and the traditional Spring Week End.

Our newly elected house officers are Jack Evans, president; Jake Youngs, vice-president; Junius Brown, recording secretary; Clayte Root, corresponding secretary; Wick Minns, guard; and Bill Southworth, guide. Brothers Evans and Youngs also attended the Eastern Division Conference where they learned of several unique ideas from other chapters, which they are eager to apply here.

We were very pleased to have President Hughes present for the initiation of neophytes Tom Barney and Bill Southworth. An inspiring and informing speech by Brother Hughes concluded the initiation banquet.

In athletic circles the Delt volleyball, badminton, and softball teams are all in practice for the spring intramural tournaments, while pledges Nees, Wheeler, Dent, and Roy, in addition to Brothers Southworth and Franklin, all placed in a recent interfraternity track meet. The present also finds the entire chapter practicing for the oncoming interfraternity song contest under the direction of Glee Club Member Kyro Kyrtsis.

We are anticipating meeting Delts from other chapters this coming summer at the Centennial Karnea in Pittsburgh and will hope to see many of you there.

The Gamma Gamma basketball team won its league championship and advanced all the way to the finals of the interfraternity playoffs before bowing by a slim margin. The high-scoring Delts lost only one game during the regular season. A high light of the campaign was Randy Austin's 41-point effort in one game, a college scoring record.

In the Interfraternity Play Contest, Gamma Gamma's entry, Act II of The Torchbearers, was judged third best in the entire competition. Two of the players won awards for individual performances.

A week end to entertain alumni is being planned for the near future. Both occasions are being looked forward to with great anticipation.

Two senior honorary societies recently tapped five Gamma Gamma juniors for next year's membership. Pete Paxson, Ernie Arnold, and Bob Watson were honored by Dragon, while Randy Malin and Tom Seessel were tapped by Casque and Gauntlet.

Randy Malin, all-Ivy League soccer goalie for the past two seasons, has been elected captain of the soccer squad for next year. Malin was also elected vice-president of the new delegation in Casque and Gauntlet.

Delt choristers are getting warmed up for the Interfraternity Hums, scheduled for late in the spring.

Brothers with literary interests are eagerly planning the revival of Gamma Gamma's Four Star Final, the chapter quarterly which has been well received in the past.

Recently elected officers for next year include Pete Paxson, president; Joe Marx, social chairman; Jim Groundwater, corresponding secretary; John Hanson, athletic director; and Jim Pinkerton, house manager. Dave Garrett, formerly assistant treasurer, has succeeded to the position of treasurer.

In the intra-chapter skiing tournament, Fred Bagnall copped skimeister honors against a strong competing field. Pete Herz, out of action with a broken leg sustained during Winter Carnival, was unable to enter the meet.

Delta Upsilon opened the spring semester with rushing activities, under the capable direction of Rush Chairman Fred Moore. Our efforts were rewarded by the acquisition of a fine pledge class. Pledge Don Bruner is an outstanding member of the varsity swimming team. Ken Shelin will appear in a forthcoming University theater production. Jon Peterson is a candidate for treasurer of the sophomore class. With an eye to next year's pledge class, we are once again sponsoring an open house for high school seniors.

Our new officers were installed on Wednesday, April 9. They include: John Koch, president; Hal Hultman, vice-president; Jim Gear, corresponding secretary; Gene Saville, recording secretary; Ed Schmauder, guard; Dave Kiefer, guide and house manager. Treasurer Fred Trutt was installed shortly after his election in January. We are confident that these men will give us excellent leadership.

Social activities at the Shelter have been tops, thanks to Social Chairman Paul Wellborn. In addition to numerous informal house parties, our social functions include a French Apache costume party, a Parents' Tea, and of course, Delt Week End. As usual, the Apache Party, which is sponsored by the pledges, was a real blast. This year Delt Week End will consist of a formal dinner and dance at the Northeast (Maryland) Yacht Club, a house party at the Shelter, and a picnic. At the formal dinner we will announce the names of our Delt Queen, Outstanding Pledge, and Outstanding Alumnus. Appropriate trophies will be awarded.

Congratulations to Brother Dick Henson on winning the Outstanding Delt Award. We would like to thank the brothers at Gamma Eta Chapter of George Washington for presenting this award to Dick at their Founders Day Dinner in April. Dick's latest position is that of pledgemaster; as always, he is doing a fine job.

Delta Upsilon is sending a full complement of representatives to the Karnea this year. We are looking forward to seeing everyone out at Pittsburgh in August. Let's hope that this Karnea will be the best one ever.

JIM GEAR

DePauw

With the coming of spring here at De-

Pauw, the men of Beta Beta are continuing their fine work of the past months, and are looking forward to the completion of another successful year. Again we have been well represented in campus activities, athletics, social activities, and intramurals. We feel that we have gained a firm foundation for the 1958-'59 school year.

Under the leadership of retiring Rush Chairman Dave DeVos and newly appointed Chairman Jim McElwain, we have acquired ten spring pledges who will form the nucleus of next year's pledge class. We also gained a sophomore transfer, Mike Wiest, from Beta Alpha at Indiana University. Completing the rush picture, three new men were added to the rush committee: Freshmen George Mendenhall and John Null, and Sophomore Dick Gillmer.

Twelve men were recently initiated into the chapter bringing the house total to 63 active members.

In the recent house elections a slate of nine new men gained office. Jim Beard was elected president; Lynn Neal, vice-president; Joe Noel, recording secretary; Pete Kries, student senate representative; Joe Goddard, KTK representative; and Tom Evans, corresponding secretary. In the respective committees, John Williams was appointed social chairman; Dave Portman, pledge trainer; Roger Martens, assistant treasurer; Mac Toates, house manager; Bob Summers, song leader; Bill Gerber, alumni; Pete Kries, public relations; and Bruce Hinley, scholarship chairman.

On campus, the Deltas are well in evidence. Chapter President Jim Beard was elected vice-president of the intramural board. Pat Ewing is a newly appointed member of the alumni fund committee, and was elected as class agent for the senior class this spring. The brothers also placed three men on the University orientation staff; Freshmen Dick Schaefer and George Mendenhall, and Sophomore Phil Richardson. Both Joe Goddard and Hal Kenna have been active in radio and Little Theater, and Goddard was recently awarded a radio show of his own. In the KTK elections, Jerry Morgan was voted in as treasurer, and in student senate, Pete Kries was appointed chairman of the senate conference on University affairs.

Bob Edler was named to Phi Beta Kappa and received the highly prized Woodrow Wilson fellowship. Senior Tim Ubben also received a business scholarship to Northwestern University.

In intramurals we finished high in the basketball standings, with Lynn Neal placing on the first string all-intramural team and Jerry Morgan receiving honorable mention. We also won the free throw tourney for the third year in a row; Bob Fauth and Joe Goddard taking top honors. Volleyball, baseball, and track will begin soon, and we are looking forward to winning teams in all of them.

Varsity athletics also proved a fertile field for the Delts this year. Freshmen Butch Colin, Jim DeArmond, and Art Maine, and Sophomores Keith Evans and Ross Roberts represented the chapter in football this spring. Swimmers Jim McElwain and Mike Hicks finished the season in good form, and Freshman Jim DeArmond gained numerals. In baseball Pete Kries, Roger Martens, and returning all-Conference Shortstop Keith Schroeder are working out for the varsity, while Jim DeArmond, Butch Colin, Bill Shuck, Tom Evans, and George Mendenhall are seeking positions on the freshman team. In golf, Seniors Tim Ubben and Dick Locke have done well in their first matches.

We are all looking forward to two big social events in the near future. The first of these is our "casino party," April 12. From Harold's Club in Reno, Nevada, we obtained a roulette wheel, blackjack, poker, and dice tables. Toy money will be sold at a price of 50¢ per packet of $800.00 with prizes being given to the biggest winners. The proceeds will be used to pay for the refreshments.

The second event is our spring house dance which will be held May 10. Under the direction of Jim McElwain, Tom Lilly, and John Williams, we hope to make it as enjoyable an event as it has been in past years.

This spring we will lose 13 seniors through graduation. They are: Dave DeVos, Ted Driscoll, Dave Eberle, Bob Edler, Pat Ewing, Hal Kenna, Dick Kindig, Dick Locke, Don Parker, Bob Rudolph, Keith Schroeder, Tim Ubben, and John Woodworth. We feel that it has been a privilege to know and live with these men in the past years, and sincerely wish them good luck after graduation.

ROSS ROBERTS

Emory

The election of chapter officers was among the usual activities of the new year. These officers were chosen as follows: Glenn Esslinger, president; Nat Long, vice-president; Jim Major, recording secretary; Jerry Dixon, corresponding secretary; Bill Fackler, treasurer; John Chunn, assistant treasurer; David Massey, sergeant at arms; and Jim Underwood, guide.

The biggest social event of this year was our annual formal week end. On February 14, we enjoyed a very nice Valentine's Party. The next night was the formal and the crowning of our new sweetheart. We lost Nancy King, our former sweetheart, whose tenderness we cannot forget, but gained a very charming one at the same time. During the intermission of the formal, Jane Lovelace, a sophomore at Emory from Spartanburg, South Carolina, was presented by President Glenn Esslinger, as the new Sweetheart of Beta Epsilon Chapter. The music was furnished by Neal Montgomery and was enjoyed by all.

On March 29, our new housemother, Mrs. Mildred Moore, from St. Louis, Missouri, was introduced to faculty, parents, housemothers, and friends at an afternoon tea. We are grateful to Brother Jimmy Prevatt and the social committee in arranging the tea.

We are very proud of Brother William Cox who was tapped in Phi Beta Kappa.

Looking ahead, we all are anticipating the coming of "Dooley's Frolics" in May. Preparations are now being made for our lawn decoration and also for the biggest party and formal of the year.

We are looking forward to a very good summer rush program. Plans for rush tours and summer rush parties are now under way.

JERRY DIXON

Florida

Delta Zeta is in full swing with its many activities for the spring semester. After having placed third among fraternities on campus in scholastic averages, we are again seeking a place in the top three. The pledges finished a successful semester by capturing second place in scholastic averages among the fraternities. Tom Carlos, past president of the 1957 pledge class, was initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary scholastic fraternity.

This semester we began our social activities with a party and a hay ride. The traditional Rainbow Ball, held on a Friday night in the beautifully decorated American Legion Hall, was a grand success. Highlighting the formal Ball was the crowning of our new Delt Queen, Miss Pamela Brown, by former Queen Judy Adams. After spending all day Saturday at Camp O'Leno, we returned to the Shelter for a barbecue and private party that evening. A serenade, with the accompaniment of Brother Bill Park and his violin, was held as a climax to the week's activities.

Delt Queen PAMELA BROWN being crowned by former Queen JUDY ADAMS at Florida.

This chapter took great pride in initiating 16 men from our select pledge class. The men went through a tough "work week," after which they celebrated with a steak dinner.

The Delts fared well during the recent campus elections. The Liberty Party, headed by Brother Bob Hendry as chairman, made a clean sweep of the election, taking almost all positions. Those Delts elected to officers were Tom Carlos, freshman executive council, and Charlie Pike, journalism executive council. Brother Truman Skinner, secretary of interior of the Student Government, was in charge of the elections.

Brother Joe Hobbs, Sheridan, Indiana, has completed his basketball career at the University of Florida with a fabulous record. The following are some of his achievements as one of the greatest basketball stars in the history of the University. Joe set the University record for: the most points scored in one season (502), the most fields goals in one season (202), the most points scored in a three-year career (1332), most points in a single game (41 points), and the most consecutive free throws (29). Joe, captain of the team, was also named to the all-South Eastern Conference team for two straight years and the most outstanding player at the 'Gator Bowl and Carousel Tournaments. Congratulations, Joe, on such a fine performance.

The recent Military Ball, which is sponsored by the ROTC Departments, was under the direction of Brother Don Wilcox. Assisting him were Brothers John Cannella and Bill Sillick. Brother Wilcox is now serving as the president of the Presbyterian University Center. Recently tapped for Scabbard and Blade honorary military fraternity were Brothers Gavin O'Brien and John Cannella. Brother John Hiatt was initiated into the Sigma Lambda Chi honorary building construction fraternity.

JOSEPH W. BRINKLEY

Florida State

There seemed to be a shortage of Delt pins in the Delta Shelter this spring and it wasn't because the brothers gave theirs away to their girls in a burst of spring romances. The time was shortly after initiation. Eighteen big brothers were quickly shorn of their pins in the ceremony. But eighteen new brother Delts helped make the shortage anything but unwelcome. For this initiation class was Delta Phi's largest, and most successful. Two of these new brothers were tapped for Phi Eta Sigma, men's freshman scholastic honorary, for making a semester grade average of Publicity of a different sort was given Don Ayres, president of Delta Phi Chapter and one of the top pole vaulters on the FSU varsity track squad. A photo sequence of Ayres vaulting was sent over a wire service statewide hookup for publication over the state. Ayres is also commander of the Arnold Air Society chapter here at FSU.

Brothers Sal Lanza and John DelVecchio were tapped early this spring for membership in Cavaliers, a social dancing honorary.

Brothers Ed Miller and Harold Powell were tapped this spring for membership in Arnold Air Society.

Brother Charles Maultsby, who was a member of the fall, 1957, pledge class, was awarded the "Pledge of the Year" award at Delta Phi's Rainbow Ball held April 11. Joyce Sims was named 1958 Delta Tau Delta Queen. Joyce is a member of Alpha Xi Delta. Brother Ron Elvena received the "Active of the Year" award. Elvena was pledge trainer this fall.

BOB WOLFENBARGER

George Washington

Gamma Eta continues to play an active roll in campus activities here at George Washington. Will Hinely held the office of membership-at-large in the Student Council this year while Lanny Ormsby served as comptroller of the Homecoming Committee. Bernie Degen was elected president of Old Men, an organization of older students which helps freshmen get oriented. In the School of Engineering, Mike Gall and Atwood Barwick were elected, respectively, treasurer and secretary of the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers; and Pledge Jerry Cornelious became secretary of the student chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Chuck Johnson, currently a member of the University Glee Club, appeared in the University production of Arthur Miller's play, A View From the Bridge. Also under the spot light is Delt Tim Mead, who regularly appears on the GW-sponsored TV program, "Youth Wants to Know."

Highlighting the sports field, Jay Randolph, district amateur golf champion, who sparked the GW team to the Southern Conference golf crown, is leading the team through another successful season. Bob Moore continues to do good work as captain of the rowing team.

Among the honored were Peter Dyer, tapped by Gate and Key, fraternity men's honorary, which recently elected Tom Topping as its president. Selected for Who's Who this year were Will Hinely and Dick Jamborsky, and Bill Reagon was initiated into the GW Pershing Rifles, a national honorary military association. The Pershing Rifles are commanded by Delt Bill Smythe. Lee Potterton and Henry Mayo appeared on the honor list of the School of Engineering for the fall semester and Engineer Mike Gall was initiated into Theta Tau, engineering fraternity.

The newly elected officers of Gamma Eta Chapter include: Bernie Degen, president; Bill Lady, vice-president; Bill Talentino, treasurer; Conway Richardson, recording secretary; At Barwick, corresponding secretary; and Stan Fortner, sergeant at arms.

The biggest thing in the social line on campus is the Delt "GIGIF" parties (Gee I'm Glad It's Friday). These are well-planned and publicized open houses which are financed by donations but organized and sponsored by the Deltas. Every one has been a smashing success, largely through the efforts of Social Chairman John "Mike Todd" Bachman, and has contributed to better interfraternity relationships (as well as Delt prestige). The "gigifs" are held on Friday afternoons and are open to anyone who wants to come.

The spring semester Parents' Dinner sponsored by the Mothers' Alliance was the best ever this year. The fabulous array of tasty dishes provided by the mothers will be long remembered.

Founders Day was particularly significant to Gamma Eta this year since the guest speaker was A. Bruce Bielaski, first president of Gamma Eta and former President of the Fraternity. The Pappy Lipscomb Award for the outstanding Gamma Eta Delt went to Don Headly.

ATWOOD S. BARWICK

Georgia

All is going well here in the Sunny South. After a winter of many memorable events. Beta Delta Chapter is looking forward to a warm and eventful summer.

Winter went so fast that it seems just like yesterday, and that the "Dog Patch Drag" was just last night. As its name implies, the "Dog Patch Drag" is a dance where everyone comes as a "Dog Patch" character. As you can imagine we had some real characters. Even "Nightmare Alice" was present to spread gloom over the otherwise festive party.

As the "corn-squeezen's" cleared from our heads we elected a new slate of officers. John Wenish was elected as president. To assist him in his duties Allen Stovall, Rhett Tanner, and John Waters were elected to the positions of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

During the winter and early spring the Delt athletes were by no means cramped by the cold weather. We are proud to announce that the Beta Delta basketball team lost only two games to place second in its league. In volleyball we were in fine style also, winning the intramural championship.

During the beginning of track season, Jack Thompson scored the only points for Georgia at the Vanderbilt relays. Jack is following in the foot steps of the captain of the track team, Denny Jackson, who is also a Delt.

As for the plans we have for spring quarter, we are having the Southern Division Regional meeting here on April the 18th. This will certainly be a big week end. Besides the Conference there will be an intramural track meet and a big Delt Dance.

Also on the menu for spring quarter we find the Annual Spring Formal. Not only is this the time to show off suntans and new formal dresses, but the Deltas of Georgia pick their sweetheart. This is indeed a pleasant task.

the yearbook, a staff writer for the feature magazine, and copy editor and writer for the newspaper.

Along with Don Mullins, Jim was also elected to Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society.

Getting back to publications, Jimmy St. John was promoted to features editor of the paper, and Bobby Massey joined the long list of Delt editors when he was named associate sports editor of the same publication.

Midshipman Dick Gramlich has been appointed drillmaster of the Navy's crack 32-man drill team. The team performed twice for basketball fans, and Dick is considering accepting invitations to drill during the half-times of several fall football games.

Another midshipman, John Krummel, now holds the top NCO rank which puts him in the running for battalion commander. John is a member of Scabbard and Blade, military honor society.

John Reed of the Air Force and Buddy Dunderhill of the Army are also new members of Scabbard and Blade. John is a top contender for the position of wing commander and is executive officer of Arnold Air Society, the Air Force honorary.

To be eligible for election to Scabbard and Blade, students must first be recommended for their outstanding leadership ability and scholarship.

Excellent scholarship helped place Leo Parrish in Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary, and Sam Harrell in the Industrial Management Society.

Don Brock moved into the presidency of Wesley Foundation, the Methodist Student organization. Succeeding Don as vice-president was none other than Delt Charles McGuirt.

Charles was also elected Wesley Foundation's Bulldog Club representative. The club is composed of outstanding members of the junior and senior class who promote, organize, and arbitrate intramural athletics at Tech. Brother Chip Gaver is the new secretary of the organization.

Chic Haight has moved from the freshman baseball team to the varsity and is one of Tech's top pitchers. Tex Crumly, an outfielder on the freshman team, is following in Chic's footsteps.

New officers for Delta Tau Delta, the finest organization on campus, are Ray Warner, president; Bill Mitchell, vice-president; Jimmy St. John, recording secretary; Bayley Walker, corresponding secretary; Paul Hodgdon, guide; and Art Vogan, sergeant at arms.

Organizations have by no means left the Deltas with no time for social life.

ANITA MERRIFIELD being crowned Delt Queen by retiring Queen MIKEL BROWN at Gamma Psi.

Girls invaded the Delt House and the brothers moved out as the annual Rainbow Ball house party week end rolled around. Beautiful Miss Anita Merrifield was crowned Delt Queen at the Rainbow Ball held at the East Lake Country Club near Atlanta. She was escorted by Wade Horton.

Her court included Miss Margaret Nettles, escorted by Sam Harrell; Miss Jane Foster, escorted by Buddy Dunderhill; Miss Hollis Smith, escorted by Paul Ware; and Miss Pat Cowley, escorted by James Hardy.

Crack Navy ROTC drill team at Georgia Tech is led by Gamma Psi's DICK GRAMLICH.

The initiation of 14 excellent men was followed by an initiation banquet. Dr. Edward Foster, a Delt and English professor, was the guest speaker.

During the banquet, Larry Farrar was awarded the Mother Wilson Outstanding Pledge Award. The award was the result of a new pledge evaluation system conducted by Pledge Trainer Ed Malia.

Most of the chapter attended the Founders Day Banquet arranged by the Atlanta Alumni Chapter. Delts from Emory University, the University of Georgia, and Georgia Tech were present to meet Southern Division President Burr Christopher.

BAYLEY WALKER

Hillsdale

Spring, 1958, is already a successful period for the men of Kappa Chapter. Headed by a sound administration, including Mac Jones, president; Bowen Broock, vice-president; Ken Sampson, treasurer; and secretaries, Bob Moreland and John Hopps, plus an ambitious feeling of unity and responsibility, every effort is being made to better all previous Delt achievements on the Hillsdale campus.

A rejuvenated program of high scholarship is being promoted to place ourselves on a permanent position at the top of all scholarship lists. This is to go hand in hand with a strict financial policy to plan ahead for even more elaborate facilities for the future men of the chapter.

Four of the brothers, Jones, Goetz, Schwartz, and Moreland, attended the Northern Division Regional Conference.

Certainly with the co-operation and effort extended thus far, our alumni and brother Delts can be proud of Kappa Chapter.

HOWARD E. JOHNSON, JR.

Idaho

Delta Mu's Chapter Adviser, Len Bielenberg, stepped into the spotlight when he was recently named Moscow's "Man of the Year for 1957." Brother Bielenberg was chosen for the distinguished service award by the Moscow Junior Chamber of Commerce, of which he is a member.

In 1954 Brother Bielenberg gave up his position as Assistant Attorney General of Idaho to become a partner in the private law firm of Felton and Bielenberg in Moscow. Aside from being a lawyer, Brother Bielenberg has held many positions including; Genesee city attorney, vice-president of Moscow Jaycees, secretary of Latah County Republican Central Committee, and head of the Knights of Columbus of St. Mary's Catholic Church. But, in spite of all his activities, Brother Bielenberg has found time to be an excellent adviser. Needless to say, Delta Mu is extremely proud to have such a "Good Delt" as its chapter adviser.

Sophomore Bob Bernard and Freshman John Fitzgerald started Delta Mu's activities by their elections as vice-presidents of their respective classes.

Brother Dick Wisdom was called upon to hold the position of president of the P.E. Club. Tapped for the P.E. honorary, Phi Epsilon Kappa, were Brothers Jack Acree and Theron Nelson. Brother Acree was also recently elected president of the University's social co-ordination council. Brother Lorin Nelson has taken on the responsibility of cadet colonel for the AFROTC. Brother John Rosholt has added to his presidency of IFC, a tapping to Blue Key and is serving on student-faculty committee.

Delta Mu is proud to say that it has again risen above the all-men's scholastic average with a 2.44. This is a full .2 over the all fraternity average, and rates as fourth among all fraternities on campus.

Delta Mu has been in quite a social whirl with many dances, exchanges, and firesides, but the top function on the social calendar this year was the Russian Ball. Considered to be "better than ever," the ball started with a Smorgasbord at one o'clock, followed by gambling at three and the dance at 3:30. Naturally, a tremendous time was had by the Delts and their 100 guests.

Intramurally Delta Mu has only won one crown, cross-country, but is standing in fourth place. We have finished high in table tennis, tennis, "b" basketball, and football. With our relatively better sports coming up this spring, Delta Mu has a bright future.

Brother Gary Simmons sparked the Vandal basketball team this year with his tremendous 21.9 scoring average. Besides leading the Vandals in scoring, Gary received the PCC crown for total points this season. He was also chosen as Idaho's "Most Valuable Player." Brother Simmons received the honor of being selected as first team guard on the All-Conference team. Gary was also nominated as an honorable mention All-American. Surely Idaho will have a long hunt to fill Brother Gary Simmons' spot on the hardwoods.

Other varsity members included Brother Bob Walton, who played with Brother Simmons on the basketball court. Brother Mike Lund, another honorable mentioned All-American, led the ski team to second place. Brothers Shern and Adams hold places on the track team. Brother Adams was also an outstanding cross-country runner. Brother Theron Nelson will see lots of action on the gridiron next season. The Idaho golf team will be based around Brothers Dick and Rusty Sheppard and Brothers John Rosholt and Lynn Hansen. Our freshmen did very well this year with Brother Mike Morgan and Pledge Bill Scholes earning their letters in football and Pledges Scholes and Ward and Brother Angerbauer in basketball.

With chapter elections finished we

Four new men moved into the Delt house second semester at the finish of mid-year rush. The new pledges are: Jim Child, Bill Scholes, Len Unzicker, and Cliff Lawrence.

SCOTT VAUGHT

Illinois

Beta Upsilon is following up a great first semester with what should be just as successful a spring semester.

First thing this semester was the initiation of 13 new brothers. Tom Roos, freshman in journalism, was the recipient of the scholarship ring awarded to the initiate with the highest grade point.

Other brothers received recognition for high scholastic achievements past semester by being elected to honoraries. They are Bob Eggers, Tau Beta Pi, engineering; Jack McWhirter, Sigma Tau, engineering; and Dave Satttem, Omega Beta Pi, premed.

In varsity sports, Swimmer Dale McDyer was awarded his letter for performances in the freestyle events this past season. Delt varsity athletes in spring sports are Jim Cvik and Don Harvey, baseball; Roy Etnyre, track; and Hap Georlett, golf.

In intramural competition, we are still going strong. We lost only one basketball game this season, but it cost us a division title. Our two outstanding guards, Jack McWhirter and Don Harvey, were named to the all I-M team. The J-V team came through with a second-place trophy, much to the chagrin of the first team. Indoor track and handball were other point getters.

Activity wise, the Deltas are paired with Gamma Phi Beta for the spring event, Sheequon. We have come up with an original idea which is sure to get a first place.

DAVID N. SATTEM

Illinois Tech

In an all-out effort to retain the IFC's highly desired "All Activities" trophy, Gamma Beta has accumulated a 51-36 total point margin over the nearest of its ten fraternity rivals on campus. The first-place basketball trophy was retained after a resounding 75-46 victory over Triangle and the first-place bowling trophy was retired on the same week end.

With seven IF sports events thus far completed, Gamma Beta Deltas hold first-place honors in football, basketball, swimming, and bowling, and runner-up laurels in tennis and golf. Only in ping-pong did the Deltas fail to place. Since the nucleus of last year's championship baseball and track teams are back, we have high hopes of repeating successes in these two remaining IF sports.

Freshman John Olin was top scorer on the school basketball team, averaging over 20 points per game. Don Neal, Bob Bender, and Don Kilpatrick were also on the Tech net squad. Bill Van Santen and Paul Murschel earned awards for their participation on the Tech swimming team, while Dick Ward and Dick Wadsworth picked up letters for their wrestling team performances.

On the campus political scene, George Kush is IFC president and holds a seat on the ITSA, the major student governing board. Ken Folgers, senior class president, and Dick Ward, newly elected vice-president of ITSA, are also voting ITSA board members. Dick Brandt is IFC sports chairman and Dave Gibbs is junior class vice-president.

NANCY LOU WILLETT, Illinois Tech's IF Ball Queen.

Terry Lindquist and Dick Brandt are on the Student Union Board. Tom Graham and Paul Murschel recently became members of Pi Nu Epsilon, honorary music fraternity, Ken Paulsell is very active in Beta Omega Nu, honorary social fraternity.

Nancy Lou Willett, Senior Gene

Hodge's fiancée, captured the social spot light on March 29, when she was chosen "Queen of the IF Ball." Music at this heavily Delt-attended affair was provided by Ralph Flanagan and his Orchestra. Other social events thus far this semester have included a Delt "Gay '90's Party." The semiannual Delt Mothers' Tea was given in February. Gamma Beta placed third in the yearly "Pageant" and will soon sing to defend its 1957 IF Sing title.

Initiation ceremonies greeted seven new brothers into the Shelter on March 30. At present, Gamma Beta has five pledges, led by Pledgemaster Dick Fero.

Gamma Beta's one weak link is scholarship and vigorous attempts are being made to improve this all-important fault. With the portion of the active chapter now holding scholarships recently pushed above 60 per cent and the pledges now in one supervised room, Scholarship Chairman Tom Graham is confident of an upgrade. Scholarship last semester was led by Pledge John Olin, 3.85, and Senior Ken Folgers, 3.71 (4.00 system).

Gamma Beta's fund-raising drive for a new home is in full swing. We will break ground before the end of the year, assuming financial success. The modern Shelter is being designed by Alfred L. Mell, GB, '31, a practicing Chicago architect.

Indiana

The spring semester began with election of officers. The new officers and their respective positions are: David Warnimont, president; Jack Washburn, vice-president; Roger Vignolo, corresponding secretary; Tom Mote, recording secretary, and John West, treasurer. Other cabinet officers are: Bob Hoskins, pledge trainer; Duane Reed, social chairman; John Foltz, special events; Jack Washburn, intramurals; George Piepho, house and grounds; Roger Vignolo, scholarship; Bill Tanner, rush chairman, and Don Wright, alumni relations.

The vision of "bigger and better things" because apparent this year with the acquisition of an annex adjoining the Beta Alpha property. The annex is an eight-room, two-story brick home located to the rear of the Shelter; close enough that it is not uncommon to see night-gowned figures flying from one building to the other.

The purpose of the new annex is to supply quiet housing for professional students and those who have troubles with their studies. From the general tranquility of the building and the lateness of the lights burning at night, it can be assumed that something is being done to improve the chapter's scholastic standing.

Another obvious advantage of the annex is that it alleviates the crowded conditions in the shelter. With an approximate 20-man capacity, the annex makes it possible to restrict the small rooms in the chapter house to only two men. This should also help the scholastic situation in the chapter, as well as making living conditions more comfortable.

With only six men now occupying the annex the possibility for a great deal of future expansion is opened. Not only can more men be pledged, but also more pledges who heretofore have lived elsewhere can now live in the house. The chapter is certainly going to benefit in many ways from the house corporation's decision to purchase this additional housing.

serve on the I. U. Foundation, an honorary student organization composed of outstanding individuals who promote scholarship funds through Indiana's annual Little "500" bicycle race.

To the business honorary, Delta Sigma Pi, Brothers George Piepho and Dan Fleming were recently pledged.

Past President Gene Kalina received the honor of being nominated to Indiana's all-campus activities and scholastic honorary, Blue Key Society.

Brother Phil Johnson was nominated for justice of the Student Supreme Court and vice-president of the Senior Class. Phil spent Easter vacation touring Florida with the varsity tennis team.

With the completion of the new bowling alleys in the addition to the Union Building, intramural bowling was initiated at Indiana University. Brothers

Bob Allen, Don Wright, Jack Washburn, and Pledge Brothers Al Paxton and Dave Shaw won the high three-game individual series, high individual game series, and the high team series. We are now five games ahead of second place in a non-handicap tournament.

Among the annual Greek Week activities, the T.K.E.'s sponsored a Chariot race in which Beta Alpha won third place with the co-operation of Alpha Phi.

Our chapter's publication, the Beta Alpha, won first place in the newspaper format division for which we received a cash award and trophy at State Day.

We were fortunate this semester to have Francis M. Hughes visit us for Sunday dinner. President Hughes toured the house and had an enjoyable visit with the Brothers.

Beta Alpha was host to seven chapters at a Regional Conference held at the Shelter March 7 and 8 with Northern Division President Robert L. Hartford presiding. Edwin Holt Hughes, Lynn Watson, and Hugh Shields, all of the Central Office, also attended.

The biggest and most rewarding event for us this year was the Founders Day Banquet which we had in conjunction with Omicron Chapter during the spring.

Attending were Francis Hughes, Hugh Shields, past Fraternity President Harold Brenton, and many alumni from this area. A tremendous turnout was shown not only by the undergraduate chapters but by the alumni too.

As the Fraternity observes its 100th anniversary, we at Iowa State are also celebrating the college's centennial and are caught between two wondrous events.

Our annual Orchid Formal was held at the swank and exclusive Des Moines Club. Chosen as Delt Queen was Barb Meyer, fiancée of Brother Detrick. Favors and orchids flown from Chicago were given to each girl.

Four intramural basketball teams kept us fairly busy last winter. Two of the teams played in the finals which added to our point total this year helping us get near the top. We also racked up many points in bowling and table tennis.

With the spirit from winter carried over to this spring we are looking forward to capturing the volleyball championship along with a good battle for baseball honors.

The "Spirit of the Future" is the title of our Veishea float this year and we definitely have a winner with this one. It depicts Lindberg's flight to Paris. With a new conception in float building and careful planning it looks very promising.

With the combined efforts of Leigh Linsley and Jerry Mundt we started the year off with one of the largest pledge classes on campus and are continuing to acquire new pledges with the addition of five new ones just in the past few months. Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic honorary, recently chose one of our pledges to its ranks.

Not only do we have excellent representation in intramurals this year but also in campus activities. Leading parts were awarded to Gary Thiele in the Veishea Play and Tom Lettington in "Stars Over Veishea," the big musical event of the year. Tom was also chosen to sing in the Varsity Four, the Iowa State quartet.

The position of president, treasurer, and banquet chairman went to three Deltas in their departmental clubs. With representation in student government, IFC, departmental clubs, and various activities we feel we have a good stronghold in campus activities. We also are planning to enter Sinfonia Sing, the all-campus singing contest.

On Saturday, April 5, at the Arkansas Relays, Olympic Discus Champion Al Oerter broke the magic 200-foot barrier with a mighty heave of 202' 6". In addition to being the first man to go over 200 feet, Oerter had two other throws which surpassed Fortune Gordien's present world record of 194' 6". Whether any one of the Kansas team captain's efforts will be accepted as a world record depends upon a thorough investigation of conditions by the International Track and Field Federation. eration accept one of the throws, Oerter will have attained just about every conceivable discus title from the National High School Championship to the world's record.

Gamma Tau distinguished itself recently by winning second place in "Rock Chalk Revue," annual campus musical skit production, which is undoubtedly the greatest single competitive event of the year. Entering a skit in the revue improved chapter spirit and contributed greatly to Delt prestige on the campus. The experience gained through this year's presentation should prove invaluable next year when we again plan to be a serious contender for first-place honors.

The Delt war horses, Freshman Halfbacks Ron Michaels and Bill Zagar, pulled the Delt chariot to second place in the annual Greek Week race. Guided by "Charioteer" Nick Marcellino, the "horses" finished just two tenths of a second behind the first-place winners.

Ted Hall is one of the chosen few elected to Owl Society, junior men's honorary organization. Membership in the society is determined by grade point average and campus activities. Jerry Nelson has been appointed publicity chairman of the Engineering Exposition which is held in conjunction with the KU Relays. The exposition is one of the largest in the Midwest and had over 20,000 visitors last year.

Gamma Tau has hit the political trail this year with Brother Dave Wilson hanging onto the reins. Dave has his own telephone now and is taking care of one crisis after another. Brother Bill Witt is running unopposed for senior class president and Howie Ellfeldt is campaigning for an all-Student Council seat.

With a social event second only to our Annual Rainbow Ball, Gamma Chi celebrated the Centennial as 25 Delt alums and wives returned for Founders Day. Alumni Chairman Curt Zeigler and his committee deserve a great deal of credit for this fine event. Notable among the entertainment was Banquet Speaker Martin B. Dickinson, past President of the Fraternity.

Scholarship Chairman Joel Kesler was very proud to announce that Gamma Chi was fourth of the 23 K-State fraternities in scholarship. Brothers Mike Dole, Larry Foulke, and Melvin Burdorf were tapped for membership in Sigma Tau, engineering honorary. Brother Foulke also qualified for Phi Lambda Upsilon, chemical honorary.

Gamma Chi scored another social first on campus by serving an early morning breakfast in the Shelter to the members of Pi Beta Phi Sorority. Many coeds will agree that George Washington never had a birthday party like the one the Delts threw for him this year. This second semester social event is always a favorite campus party.

The "Four Delts," popular campus vocal group, have been moving up into the radio and TV world with several local performances. This group recently represented K-State in the Big Eight Talent Show. Brother Foulke was overall general chairman for this intercollegiate event.

Campus activities are still a strong point of Gamma Chi. Several experienced Delts have applied for positions on the Student Union Program Council, which has been dominated by Delts for the past three years. Brother Dick Hotz is president of the perennially strong Integrity political party. Brothers Pat Loyd, Bill Patton, and Larry Jefferies received special recognition for outstanding work in student government at a recent student government banquet.

Activity plans for the remainder of the school year include improving one notch on last year's second-place Interfraternity Sing trophy. Under the capable guidance of Song Leader Larry Foulke, we hope to bring home the first-place cup this year. A below-par softball team has kept us from standing in first place in intramurals for the past two years; however, we plan to do well in softball this year with the coaching of Brother Walt Mayden, and behind the pitching of Varsity Footballer Ben Grosse. These activities combined with some rush week ends, social events, and study will keep the men of Gamma Chi moving at a good pace for the remainder of the semester.

EDWARD REGNIER

Kent State

The fall rush program led by Rush Chairman Steve Bandy netted 15 pledges for the best percentage of men bid on campus. The rush season was highlighted by a party at the Akron Women's City Club.

The annual Founders Day banquet was held in the Chesterfield Hotel in Cuyahoga Falls on February 25. Ray Finley, an alum and prominent Akron attorney, spoke on the American justice system.

Delta Omega placed third in the annual variety show, "Pork Barrel." Under the able direction of Chuck Kurtak, we presented a song-and-dance routine called "Timberland."

Our winter formal was held at the Stow Smorgasbord.

Recent elections show Al DeMarco, president; Ron Ross, vice-president; Ed Hindle, treasurer; Gordon Hill, recording secretary; Gus Jordan, corresponding secretary; Bill Vandersall, guide; and Joel Westfall, sergeant at arms. Brother Steve Bandy was appointed house manager, and Dave Darwin is our new steward.

Brother Dave Rausch lead the active chapter in scholarship for winter quarter with an average of 3.7. Larry Engman had a 4-point and Don Hicks a 3.5 to lead our pledges.

A birthday party was recently held for Housemother Georgianna Weisenbach. This is her seventh year with Delta Omega.

Delta Omega has high hopes for increasing its political power on campus in the coming spring elections. Brother Frank Ambrozic, president of the Gold party, one of the two parties on campus, leads a slate of candidates including 18 Dels into the spring primary.

Pledge Bill Trout recently rated a fourth place in competition open to architectural students from Kent and other universities sponsored by a large oil corporation.

The Kent State University June graduating class includes the following Dels: Don Dickison, Keith Damshroder, Don Mehok, Barry Reynolds, Dave Rausch, Dick Senpiel, Lee Smucker, and Dave Twaddle.

GUS JORDAN

Kenyon

As the brothers of Chi Chapter have returned from spring vacation and are looking forward to final exams and the end of another year, it would be well here to review the accomplishments of Chi Chapter during the past year.

In October we were "blessed" with 15 outstanding pledges who showed their good will and interest by refurbishing and redecorating the Division and the Lodge.

Fall dance week end found the brothers in top condition for the rigors of partying, dancing, etc. The party, held at a popular place called "The Schoolhouse," was applauded by the Dean's office as "magnificently planned and executed."

The Chi Chapter String Ensemble was organized this year and members Bill Swing, Bob Maurer, Roger Smith, and Ward Van Epps have added hours of enjoyment to parties. Incidentally, Chi Chapter bettered its record of last year by having 37 successful parties during the past two semesters.

Through the efforts of the brothers, particularly Dick Schori and Don Price, a newsletter, The Chi Delt, was published. Copies have been sent to alumni and chapter presidents.

This year, Chi's football team was undefeated and tied only once. The team's average points per game were 56, due to the unstoppable combination of Ron Bennington's passing and Bill Swing's work at end; however, it must be said that without our blocking backs, Dick Schori and Mark Powdermaker, the combination could hardly have been successful.

Our intramural basketball team has been equally as victorious. Although we lost one of our better players to the varsity at mid-semester, we managed to go undefeated. At center was Pete Conway, supported by Keith Brown and Ward Van Epps as forwards, and Jim Cox and Ron Bennington as guards.

Despite a prediction that the Dels would lose their slim lead in the Kenyon Stiles trophy race by a poor showing in the intramural swimming meet, the spirit and teamwork of Chi Chapter brought victory. A team composed of John Clark, Frank Loverien, Dave Marks, Fred Bergold, Jim Donaldson, Jim Ludman, and "Pop" Moody was coached by Chi's six varsity swimmers who demanded strict observance of training rules—for one week. Chi spirit was high for the meet and with one or two upsets (accomplished no doubt through the efforts of the non-swimming brothers) the team was able to leave the pool with a 20 point upset win. Coach Lanny Ritter was thrown into the pool, much to the joy of the brothers.

This year Dels captained every major sport and have participated on all athletic teams. The football team was led by Cocaptains Keith Brown and John Beese.

Jim Cox bolstered the forward wall at guard position. Jim Ludman, one of our pledges, received the award for the most outstanding freshman on the squad.

The Kenyon basketball team was captained by Delts Jerry Looker and Ted Moody. Ted has had one of the best foul shot averages in the country. Bob Ramsay, one of the mainstays on the intramural squad, was drafted by the varsity to play for the Lords at center.

Tom Wilson, captain of the swimming team, helped pace the tankmen to the conference title again this year.

The spring sports are equally represented by the members of Chi. Bill Swing is captain of the golf team while Ron Bennington is firmly guiding the Kenyon baseball team through one of its hardest seasons.

Bennington also leads the fraternity scholarship with an average of 3.75. Todd Bender, also a senior, was second with a 3.63 average. Bender, one of the top students in the senior class, recently was awarded a Woodrow Wilson scholarship to the Stanford Graduate School. President Walt Taylor was third and top sophomore with a 3.50 average.

The Air Force ROTC unit at Kenyon will again be headed by a Delt. Cadet Commander Tom Wilson has relinquished his position to Fred Bergold, who, with his staff of Delts Roger Smith, Bob Stevenson, Tom Carrol, and Jim Riddle, will strive toward bettering the ROTC unit at Kenyon.

ROGER SMITH

Lafayette

Early this spring on the week end of March 22, Nu Chapter played host to 22 representatives from six Delt chapters who had come to Lafayette to attend the Regional Conference. These delegates had traveled from Cornell, Delaware, Lehigh, Stevens Institute of Technology, Syracuse, and Toronto. Also scheduled to be present was Omega Chapter, at the University of Pennsylvania, but inclement weather made the trip impossible. In attendance at the Conference were such Delt notables as Dr. Fred Kerschner, Supervisor of Scholarship; Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President; Robert Wilson, Eastern Division President; and Lynn Watson, field secretary. Round-table discussions were held with the main emphasis being placed on Fraternity scholarship. Various methods of improving individual scholarship through the fraternity system were discussed. Judging from comments of various chapter delegates, the Conference was felt to be a success.

A new trophy will soon grace Nu Chapter's living room, for this year's campus intramural wrestling tournament saw the Lafayette Delts emerge victoriously. Under the coaching of Doug Cherry, the team won five of its seven initial matches, including two by pins. Brothers Pete Mitchell, Bob Mayer, and Ed Reece reached the finals with Mitchell and Mayer taking the 130-lb. and 145-lb. classes and Reece placing second at 160-lb. With Delts entering most of the weight classes and with the loyal support of the remaining brothers, Nu was able to prove its wrestling prowess second to none on the Lafayette campus.

With spring here, the Delt softball team has begun to practice in earnest. Placing second in last year's competition, we hope to improve this year and take the title.

With the fraternity scholastic standings in for the fall semester, the Lafayette Delts rank second on the campus with an average of 76.9. Dean's List men are: Don Havey, '58, Ed Curley, '59, Dick Altimari, '60, Al Conover, '60, Paul Luscombe, '60, Dick Shelling, '60, Ron Geesey, Dick Perry, Fred Schilling, and Mel Smart, all class of '61.

For the coming year the Delts will again be well represented on The Lafayette, the college newspaper, as Ed Curley has been elected editor-in-chief; Don Ohnegian '60, news editor; and Paul Luscombe, sports editor.

Curley has also been elected to the Knights of the Round Table, the senior honorary society.

The pledge class, of whom 15 were initiated in February, has contributed to the beauty of the Shelter by painting some of the downstairs rooms and also doing further work on the new party room. The arrival of newly purchased drapes also adds greatly to the appearance of the first floor.

RON GEESEY

Lehigh

Things at the Beta Lambda Shelter have been quite hectic during the last few weeks. Rushing has taken up a great deal of time, but we all expect the best pledge class on campus again this year.

The big talk around the house and around Lehigh has been the victory of Brother Pete Davidson in the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association tournament held in Pittsburgh. Pete, previously Lehigh's heavyweight contestant, trimmed down to a sleek 177-pounds for the tourney and emerged victorious with the crown. There was a great deal of sweat and hard work involved in Pete's victory and we are all proud of him.

ficers. Leading the group is the new president, Logan Blank. Logan is a geology major and has been active in the Glee Club, the lacrosse team, and many other school and house activities. He is known for his great ambition and purposefulness and we know that he will lead us to another fine year here at Lehigh.

Charles Vogt, new vice-president, is also a very capable person. His background as corresponding secretary last year makes him well fitted for the job. Charley, a member of the lacrosse team, lives in Freeport, New York, and is majoring in mechanical engineering.

In Jim Swenson we are lucky to have an extremely capable accountant as treasurer. We know that Jim, who is very active on campus, will lead us to a sound financial year. To get back to the field of sports, there are five Delts on the varsity lacrosse team this year, namely Jack Sweitzer, Charley Vogt, Bob Biggs, Roy Meseke, and Logan Blank. These men made their presence known in the team's first outing, trouncing Franklin and Marshall by the score of 21-2. Jack scored five goals while Bob tallied three and Charley one. Jack also chipped in with nine assists.

The biggest talk, of course, is about the new Shelter which is now in the process of being built. It is scheduled to be finished by the beginning of the second semester next year. The new Shelter will accommodate 36 men and will be built at a cost of $210,000. It is American Colonial in style and will contain all modern facilities. We are all looking forward to moving into the new building and we are grateful to those who have contributed to make this building possible. Look for a gala housewarming at the new Delt house at Lehigh.

BOB ELLIOTT

Maine

With Dick Marston at the helm, Gamma Nu's rush program for this year turned into a smashing success. This year's two weeks of rushing found the Delts ready to show their best. With all of the hard work connected with a rush program, the success made the work and time seem secondary. By the magnificent efforts of the rush committee, the joviality of "Mom" Barron, and the superb cooking of Chef Ray Thi-beault, Gamma Nu pledged 23 men to form the best pledge class on the campus—both scholastically and socially.

This semester finds an increasing number of men at work on various campus activities. Working on the Memorial Union executive committee are Larry Thurrell, Eric Bolen, and Bob Everett. George Casavant also heads a committee. Bob Poulin is a member of the Scabbard and Blade drill team. Dick Twitchell is prexy of the Student Affiliates, American Chemical Society, while Frank Domingos is veep of the Newman Club. Pete Muzeroll is chairman of the Annual Maine Day Student—Faculty skits. Grey Lane and Ron Richardson have won their "M" from the rifle team, while Grey is captain of next year's team. Ken Latham is a member of the varsity track team, and Charlie MacDonald is the 156-lb. campus wrestling champ.

This year's Jamaica Party was even bigger and better than last year's. Under the direction of Bob Warren, the decorations turned the Shelter into a true tropical paradise with the sawdust "beach" again a big attraction to the Delts and their dates. This year's Spring House Party should be a big success, under the direction of Bob Warren, Bob Everett, and Bob Poulin. It will feature an outing to Bar Harbor, with a chicken barbecue and lobster feast under the direction of Larry Thurrell.

The brothers have great hopes for sending a large delegation to the Karnea, and by the enthusiasm shown so far Gamma Nu will be well represented.

Maryland

The second semester of the 1958 academic year has proved especially rewarding for Maryland's representative of Delta Tau Delta, with the Delta Sigmas celebrating in full strength the Fraternity's 100th anniversary at the National Capital Alumni Chapter's Centennial Founders Day Dinner held on April 11 at the National Press Club in Washington, D. C. It was a wonderful evening, full of presentations, good speakers and, ah yes, good food. The dinner committee, headed by this chapter's adviser, Robert E. Newby, Gamma Eta, '24, is to be complimented. The Delta Sigmas surprised Mr. Newby with the presentation of a plaque for his devoted chapter advisory service which will end this year. I might add that this chapter has been extremely fortunate to have had as its adviser, such a devoted and energetic person as Mr. Newby.

The musical entertainment at the dinner was supplied by Gamma Eta and Delta Sigma Chapters. Following the Delta Sigma quartet version of "Dry Bones," sung at last November's "Harmony Hall," the outstanding Maryland Delt was honored. The 1958 choice for this award is George A. Weinkam, Jr., who has recently been awarded $350, the first prize for submission of an essay on Public Warehousing, and he has been placed on the school honor roll which requires a 3.5 or better grade-point average.

Two other Delta Sigmas placing on the honor roll were past Rush Chairman Reginald A. Traband, an agricultural major, and Hart T. Joseph, a public relations major and presently the managing editor of the school freshman information book—the "M" book. These two, Weinkam, and President Kent S. Price, will have their names inscribed on the Delta Sigma plaque which requires a 3.25 or better grade-point average.

President Price not only came through with winning grades, but he supplied the chapter with a beauty for this year's Delt Queen. Pinned to Price, she is Alpha Chi Omega's Joanne R. Linduska, who was crowned at the Delt Spring Formal on May 3.

Three awards were made at the Spring Formal. The first two, annually awarded by Dean Adele S. Stamp to the active and the pledge who have respectively demonstrated superior citizenship performance, were presented to past President Joseph F. Meadow and past Pledge President Robert H. Grove.

Rounding out the Spring Formal, the annual Outstanding Athlete award was presented to Engineering Senior M. Michael Carpenter, mainly for his performance on the football field and the volleyball court.

Rush Chairman Edward A. St. John has, through his informal rush French-style dinners, helped Sigma Delta pledge three new brothers. They are Lester Riordan, Wallace E. Ward, and James P. Bryan.

Delta Sigma takes this opportunity to wish all brothers a happy and healthy summer.

DONALD E. WITTEN

M.I.T.

This year proved a big one for Beta Nu, as the Delts gained campus-wide recognition in all phases of M.I.T. life. This was due mainly to new and vigorous programs introduced by Scholarship Chairman Dan Michael, Rushing Chairman Mike Nash, Social Chairman Gary Bracken, and Athletic Chairman Ernie Johnson.

In scholarship, the Delts rose to sixth on campus with a chapter average of 3.4. This was aided by the presence of six scholarship holders in the freshman class alone. Scholastic honors included the appointment of Bob Schmidt, Ernie Potter, and Dan Holland to the mechanical engineering honorary, Pi Tau Sigma, while Brother Bob was also elected to the national engineering honorary, Tau Beta Pi. Other appointments include Chapter President Bruce Blomstrom to the junior honorary, Beaver Key; Mike Nash to an office in the American Institute of Chemical Engineers; and Chapter Vice-President Dan Michael and Joe Verderber to the sophomore honorary, Q-Club.

Brother Verderber also led the house in participation in campus activities with his election as publicity manager of the athletic association, I.F.C. rushing chairman, and Freshman Orientation Week chairman, besides his numerous other activities. The Beta Nu Delts also boast three members on the freshman council; these "politiking brotheren," Bob Andrews, Larry Rojahn, and Buck Frike, were also appointed to the Institute Secretariat. Other outstanding Delt honors include Jim Winshart's election as the financial manager of the athletic association, and Jim Kennedy's award of the Distinguished Military Student medal.

The most noticeable phase of Beta Nu endeavor is in the field of athletics, especially among the freshman class. Brothers Buck Frike, Nelson Stephany, and Lloyd Fisher occupy positions on the freshman lacrosse team, while Bob Andrews, Al Klancnik, and Pledge Chuck Neff are subject to the physical tortures of freshman crew. The frosh' baseball team sports Delts John Crissman as starting pitcher and Hank Wagner as starting second baseman, while Bill Mosca was lost to the team due to a broken ankle.

Beta Nu Chapter's "Communist Party."

The Delts are no laggards on varsity sports either, boasting the first-string rugby backfield of Dan Holland, Frank Braidech, and Mike Haugh. These three travelled with the team to Bermuda this spring for the Bermuda Rugby Tournament where they were met by Brother Ralph Harris, who had sailed there in his yacht, accompanied by his first mate, Art Burns. Lacrosse has claimed Brothers Joe Timms and Dan Michael, while track holds the interests of Freshman Fred Carson and Sophomore Ralph Harris, the star broad jumper. Seeking honors in golf this year are Juniors Bill Smith and Ernie Potter. Sophomore Joe Verderber, by the way, was named by unanimous choice as the top varsity sabre man in fencing.

Other Delt athletic interests lie in the fields of managerial duties and intramurals. Larry Rojahn is a manager of baseball, Hank Wagner and Bill Mosca are in wrestling, and Ernie Potter manages golf. In intramurals the frosh Delt bowling team has captured first place, while the softball and tennis teams are expected to steal the same honor.

Alumni relations were strengthened by a House Corporation meeting, April 7, followed that week end by a dinner for the alumni.

The high light of the social season was the I.F.C. Greek Week End, May 2-4, with a formal dance and dinner at the Shelter, followed the next day by a Greek Chariot race, float contest, and Greek House Party.

ARTHUR INGARD THRASH

Miami

We started the second semester by attracting 21 new pledges. Bill Ludeke was elected president of the pledge class, and Brother Doug Rand was appointed pledge trainer. A lot of credit must go to Rush Chairman Bob Nelson who did a fine job.

We got the spring season off to a start with a south sea island party complete with roast pig and eight tons of sand. Many thanks go to Brother Jack Paskins who was responsible for this and our other fine parties.

Our basketball team wound up in third place after a highly successful season. Brother Don Burcham has organized a baseball team which looks like one of the best in years. Brother Bill Chambers has won a starting assignment on the Redskin baseball team.

We have recently purchased new curtains for the Shelter with the assistance of the Mothers' Club. They will brighten up the house and we hope to have them by Mother's Day.

BOB MORGAN

Michigan

As always, spring has brought on increased activity at the Shelter. Having taken a respectable third place in the Interfraternity Council Sing, the brothers are now working hard on Michigras. The plans for Michigras, which includes a gambling booth, are on a scale larger than any ever before attempted.

In addition to these activities, the spring sports are getting into full swing. We have two intramural championships to defend; and, should we be successful, there is little doubt that our present fourth-place position in the standings will be improved upon. In addition, just one more victory in water polo will bring the trophy back to the Shelter for the second year in a row. Karl Lutomski, who has just finished his second successful season as a varsity wrestler, was recently elected to head the Michigan Varsity Club.

Along the scholastic front, Dave Schultz has been tapped by Pi Tau Sigma, an engineering honorary. Also, Bill Beck and Dave Gilbert will be serving this spring as president and vice-president, respectively, of Phi Eta Sigma honorary. Last semester Delta Chapter was once again above the All Men's Average, ranking ninth on campus.

Michigan State

As Iota Chapter nears the close of the school year and welcomes spring and all the fun and beauty that comes with it, we can look back on this past year and happily see many achievements worthy of merit, as well as a heap of parties and happy times.

Brothers Tom Anderson and Bob Marsh were elected to the senior scholastic honorary, Blue Key; and Jim Herrmann, Jim Wheat, Bill Rutchow, and Dave McCaffree were elected to Green Helmet, Dave McCaffree being chosen as vice-president. Iota is proud to say that the active chapter was third scholastically at M.S.U. fall term.

At the annual Christmas Tree lighting last December, the Delts and Pi Beta Phi combined to give the program, with singing climaxed by the tree lighting by a blind child chosen from an orphanage nearby. Each year this is done, and it always starts the Yuletide season off with the right spirit.

Elections for class officers are this term, and several Delts are planning to run for various offices: Dave Ball, Jack Lundstrom, and Jim Ledinski for senior class president, vice-president, and treasurer, respectively; and Jim Herrmann and Russ Peppet for Junior class president and vice-president. Dave Ball is presently junior vice-president.

In athletics this year Iota has done exceptionally well, now in second place for the interfraternity championship. In football and bowling we won block championships, and in swimming won the interfraternity championship for the second consecutive year. Tennis, track, golf, and softball are left, and now we are preparing for these, with high hopes and eyes on the coveted championship trophy. In varsity athletics, Iota Delts were heard around the nation, as Fencing Team Captain Darold McCullough was named an all-American, and as M.S.U. End Bob Jewett was named outstanding player in the North-South game. Both are graduating seniors.

Remaining this spring are Interfraternity Sing and Water Carnival, both of which Iota is readying for now. We have high hopes of making an excellent showing in both.

And so Iota says good-bye for this year, wishing all members of undergraduate chapters a good summer.

Under the very able guidance of Brother George Perzel, Beta Eta captured the Greek Week All-Participation trophy for the second consecutive year. The All-Participation trophy is the most sought-after prize on campus, and very stiff competition was encountered. Winning of first place was only possible through the co-operation of the brothers in an all-out effort. Despite the time and energy devoted to Greek Week, Beta Eta raised its scholarship average considerably.

Beta Eta Delts have reached many top positions on campus this year. At this time, Brother Wayne Anderson is the leading candidate for the highest post in student government, president of the All-University Congress, and Brother Dick Arney is the Fraternity representative. Other brothers in top positions on campus are Jim Lewis, rules commission chairman of All-University Congress; Milt Iossi, treasurer of All-University Congress and candidate for Phi Beta Kappa, and Denny Gladhill, co-chairman of the Student Education Conference. Wayne Anderson is the president of Delta Sigma Rho, a national speech and debate honorary society. In varsity sports, Beta Eta is represented by Double Letter Winner Bill Chorske in football, Letter Winner Bill Comstock in swimming, and Larry Enger in tennis. Larry and Bill Comstock are only sophomores and Bill Chorske has another year of eligibility remaining.

With the excellent programs planned by rushing, activities, intramural, scholarship, and social committees, Beta Eta is looking forward to next year, which should firmly establish our position as "tops" at the University of Minnesota.

Sunday, March 16, Gamma Kappa initiated six new brothers.

The Mizzou Delts intramural volleyball team finished third in league play under the direction of Karl Kittlaus. Doug Sullivan's softballers are expecting another good season with the addition of several freshmen.

The week end of April 11 and 12 will see some 40 rushees at the Shelter. Rush Chairman Kermit Raydon has a well planned high school week end in store. The prospective Delts will be introduced to the campus and Mizzou social life.

Social Chairman John Silver has set aside May 17 for our annual Pig Roast. May 28 is the date for our train ride and Spring Formal.

Infielder Steve Lewis, outfielder Bob Meyers, and Gary Starr, with Pitcher Paul Knopf, are members of the Missouri Tiger's baseball squad. In pre-league play the Delts have helped the Tigers to a 3-1 record. Johnny Antonio has earned a starting birth at second on the freshman squad.

The recent election of Beta Tau's Tom Neff to the position of treasurer of the TOM NEFF, Beta Tau Chapter.

Interfraternity Council marks the eighth consecutive year that a Delt has held one of the top four positions in this important campus organization. Tom, a pre-med student, is also active as a member of Student Council, a business manager for the Daily Nebraskan, and president of Beta Tau Chapter. The Delt retiring from office of president of the I.F.C. is Dick Arneson, a senior.

The high light of the social season was the spring formal, held this year in the Georgian Room of the Cornhusker Hotel. Chosen as Delt Queen was Miss Marilyn Miner, a Theta. Marilyn was presented a trophy, a dozen roses, and a kiss from Sam Olson. Topping off a very enjoyable evening was an informal after-party at the Italian Village. Credit for a very successful evening goes to Jack Redmond and his social committee for the work they did in making all the arrangements.

The recent basketball season saw Delt Bob Harry work his way to a starting position in the varsity line-up. Bob, a junior, played a key part in the spectacular upsets the University of Nebraska pulled on Kansas and Kansas State on two successive week ends.

In post season all-fraternity intramural basketball selections, two Delts received recognition. Larry Naviaux, who will be playing his third year at starting half-back next fall, was selected to the class "A" all-fraternity team. Bob Aden received honorable mention for his skillful ball handling and rebounding.

Representing the Delts on the baseball diamond is Veteran Pitcher Dwight Seibler. Having pitched a no-hitter last spring, Dwight will be doing much of the hurling chores for Nebraska again this year.

During the State basketball tournament held here in Lincoln, the Beta Tau Delts entertained more than 75 high school seniors as week end guests in the Shelter. Friday night we enjoyed dancing to a jazz combo in the Shelter. Saturday, the Deltas, guests, and dates went to the dance at East Hills. Due to the many good contacts made during the tournament the groundwork for next year's rush program is nearly completed.

Plans are being made for the late spring activities. Of primary concern are the Ivy Day festivities. Brother Jerry Amos is busy molding together a vocal group to compete in the Ivy Sing. The social committee is in the process of completing the necessary arrangements for the annual French Party which will soon be held. Later on the calendar of events is a picnic function and the annual Squab Scramble, bringing activities to a close, and leaving Beta Tau to concentrate on final exams and rushing. Tom Nevotti, a sophomore in Arts and Science College, is rush chairman for the coming season and can be reached this summer at 2886 Vane, Omaha, Nebraska. The chapter is very grateful to the alumni for making possible the purchase of a new mimeograph machine. This machine has been a great aid to the committees concerned with rushing and alumni relations.

treasurer, Richard Lapp; assistant treasurer, Edward Schwartz; guide, Harvey Hodges; sergeant at arms, Barry Nelson.

The big social event this spring will be the Annual Spring Banquet and Formal. It is to be held May 24. John Stone's band has been engaged for the affair. A spring picnic is also planned.

In sports this spring, Brother Loney Norby answered the call for trackmen while Brother James Willyard answered the call for baseball players. Brother Norby, a fine hurdler with a year of varsity track behind him, is expected to make a good showing. Also, Brother Willyard, a pitcher on the freshman team last year, is expected to show promise.

At the Annual Greek Week Banquet held the week end of March 21, Richard McKelvey was presented as Delta Xi's outstanding pledge. Among his achievements was a 2.33 average for the first semester of this school year. Pledge McKelvey will be presented with the Hallenberg Key at the Spring Formal. Also presented at the Greek Week Banquet was Delta Xi's outstanding alumnus for 1958. He is Brother R. H. Johnson of Drayton, North Dakota. Brother Johnson graduated from the University of North Dakota in 1930, and was a member of Beta Chi, a local fraternity. In 1935, when Beta Chi became Delta Xi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta, Brother Johnson was one of the first to be initiated.

Brothers Farhart, Lapp, Schwartz, and Hodges, and Chapter Adviser Gordon Bennett, of Grand Forks, attended the Division Conference held at Gamma Tau, February 26 to March 2.

Recently, Brother Lapp became a member of Golden Feather. Brother Muralt is also a member. Golden Feather is a campus organization devoted to promoting school spirit and the support of our athletic teams.

Brother Roy Thompson has recently become a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa, an honorary physical education coaching fraternity.

Our new intrafraternity council representative is Brother Arnold Johnson. Richard McKelvey is our student council representative.

New pledges include: William Grange, Wade Kramer, Kenneth Niemeier, James Olson, and Richard Platts.

Beta Pi's newly elected officers for the coming year are: David Tompkins, president; Jeff McCullough, vice-president; Bill Witte, recording secretary; George Platz, corresponding secretary; Dick Unholz, treasurer; Buzz Peterson, sergeant at arms; and Kent Mallquist, guide.

Heading the list of important winter quarter events was the three-day open house presenting our completely remodeled chapter house and our new housemother, Mrs. Fred B. Mann. The housewarming, which was featured in the April issue of The Fraternity Monthly, began with ribbon cutting ceremonies by the President of Northwestern University, Dr. J. Roscoe Miller. Over 250 members of the administration, faculty, students, and alumni attended the three-day festivities.

Initiation ceremonies were held in conjunction with the open house. Twenty new initiates became Delt actives on Sunday, February 16, after which was a banquet with parents as guests.

Brothers Bill Witte and Bill Wolter are making plans for the coming Housemother's Banquet to be held on April 30.

The Mother's Club of Beta Pi is holding its annual card party on May 15. The purpose of this event is to raise funds to finance a gift for the chapter.

Our social calendar for the winter quarter was highlighted by the Delt Pajama Party and our Playboy Formal, sponsored by Playboy Magazine. We also had several exchanges and house parties in our new house. We are looking forward to spring quarter, with the pledge-active party and our annual all-day formal at Nippersink Manor in Wisconsin.

There are several Deltas serving in important capacities on the all-school level. Leo Manta is on the student intramural committee. Former president Steve Fitzsimmons has been named chairman of Senior Day. George Platz is sophomore polling commission chairman, while President Dave Tompkins heads the IF hazing committee. Jeff McCullough was elected to the junior class council.

Gayle Grubb is an editor of the intrafraternity council newspaper along with Reporters Gerry Ball and Jerry Tanselle. Dennis Kyros has been appointed to the business school executive council. Don Vacin is now social chairman for the political party, Federation of Northwestern Voters.

Beginning the final quarter of play, Beta Pi leads 40 other school organizations in the race for the Intramural Sweepstakes trophy. We tied for first place in our league in both football and basketball, narrowly missing the school championship in each sport. Wally Kirk was named to the all-intramural football and basketball teams.

Our bowling team, which has already broken the school high series record twice this season, is competing for the school championship. Team members Wally Kirk and Leo, Frank, and Steve Manta bowled a high series of 2302, breaking the record they set earlier in the season.

John Humbert and Dave Vonder took first and third place in diving to give us a fifth place in the all-school swimming meet. In indoor track, Delt Bob McKeiver led Beta Pi to third place in the school.

Second semester started off with Brothers Dave Spreng, Dave Miller, and Dave Larcomb figuring prominently in campus politics. Brother Spreng was elected president of the East Green (Men's housing units); Brother Miller was elected vice-president of Men's Union governing board; and Brother Larcomb was elected junior class treasurer.

The alumni chairmen are sending newsletters to our graduate brothers. They are receiving much success and bringing us in closer contact with Beta Chapter alumni. The chairmen, Jim Deters, Jim Anderson, and Gaike Paulsen, are doing the biggest share of the work.

Our intramural volleyball team looks like another winner. We have won our league championship—next is campus championship!

The social life at the Shelter started off with the Deltas and their dates enjoying our famous annual Shipwreck Party. Immediately following the party, Social Chairman Lloyd Furer announced that the Gay Nineties Party would be held after Easter vacation. These and many more good times are to be had at the Delta Shelter in Athens.

The brothers are gaining enthusiasm as J-Prom is drawing nearer. Brother Frank Gillespie, chapter J-Prom chairman, announced that this year's theme will be built around Jim Weeks, our candidate for J-Prom King. Teas, parties, serenades, and mixers are highlighting our pre-prom activities.

Brothers Chuck Bloom, Gaike Paulsen, and Ed Skeen were recently honored by being chosen for Scabbard and Blade, national military honor society. The three ROTC students were formally tapped during the annual Military Ball.

The Founders Day Banquet was one of the most outstanding events of this year's activities for Beta Phi. About 250 undergraduates, from Beta Phi and Mu, and alumni were present. It was probably the most successful Founders Day in a great many years. It is hoped that the banquet will soon be a state-wide function.

Among those present at the banquet were: Carl V. Weygandt, Wooster, '12, Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court;

Thomas J. Herbert, Zeta, '15, Associate Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court and former Governor of Ohio; William A. Dougherty, Beta Phi, '17, New York attorney and author of Ohio State's fight song, "Across the Field"; Kenyon Campbell, Beta Phi, '17, president of the Ohio State Alumni Association.

The main speakers at the banquet were W. Edgar West, Secretary of the Fraternity, and Robert Campe, member of the Karnea Committee. Twink Starr, former Beta Phi chapter adviser, served as toastmaster.

The Mu Chapter song group and the Beta Phi combo provided music for the assembly. After the banquet, Brother Daugherty led the group in several Ohio State and Delt songs.

In the field of athletics, three Beta Phi members have gained national recognition this year. Nat Smith placed fifth in the Big Ten gymnastics meet and seventh in the National AAU. Jack McClain is on Ohio State's championship mile relay team which set a new Big Ten record and a new record at the National Invitational Relays at Quantico, Virginia. Jack also placed second in the 1000-yard run in the Big Ten Finals. Chuck Bechtal, a member of the free style relay team which tied the NCAA record, has also collected several individual swimming medals.

Spring football practice finds Delts Fred Schenking and Gabe Hartman trying for positions. Frank Ellwood, Beta Phi, '57, is now an Ohio State football coach. Dave Bird is serving as senior manager.

Delts on the baseball team are Jim Peebles and Phil Keller, and Jerry Horn is playing lacrosse.

Activities have also found Beta Phi members in demand. Lawton Gerlinger was elected treasurer of the Student Senate. George Baughman, vice-president of Ohio Students Party, Associated, has received the party's nomination for senior senator. Bob White and Willson Baker have received the party's nominations for junior senator and junior treasurer, respectively. Another politician in our group is Larry Brake, president of the Young Republicans Club and vice-chairman of the State of Ohio's Young Republican organization.

Dramatics, too, have claimed Beta Phi members. Bob Winters and Ted Sawyer both have parts in Guys and Dolls, the major dramatic production of the year.

Fred Kriss, past treasurer of Beta Phi, was recently taken into the ranks of Phi Beta Kappa. The activities honoraries, which tap their members in May, are expected to have several Beta Phi Delts in their midst.

The Beta Phi Mother's Club has been quite active these past two months by sponsoring two special dinners for the brothers and their families. The proceeds of the events have gone to buy new dining room and porch furniture for the Shelter.

The social calendar for spring quarter finds the Sweetheart Formal and the Bohemian Party, topping the popularity list.

BILL BOWDEN

Ohio Wesleyan

The Delts of Chapter Mu again ran a successful student government campaign, placing Don Saliers in the office of senior class president. Don replaces Jim McHolland, retiring student body president, as the Delts' contribution to an active student government. Don's victory was not the only bright light in the Delt house during the past few months. Jack Batty was chosen as the new editor of the Transcript, our campus newspaper, while Vick French was elected as vice-president of I.F.C. Vick also is editing next year's I.F.C. rushing brochure. Bryce Collier has moved up in the field of publications, taking the position of business manager of next year's year-book.

Chapter Mu looks forward to another successful year under the direction of its recently elected officers. Chuck Hansen, president, Bill Stegall, vice-president, Steve Whitehead, corresponding secretary, John Elliot, recording secretary, Bob Barnhouse, guide, and Jim Dilgard, sergeant at arms, are the new occupants of these positions and are already hard at work. Led by our new social chairman, Terry Ross, the chapter is in the midst of an active social program, and is taking part in many theme and record parties. The Spring Formal, including the traditional serenade to the Delt pinmates, will top off the full social calendar.

Despite this active social program, the Delts continue to excel in scholarship, copping the I.F.C. scholarship trophy for the eighth time in the past 14 semesters. A result of our high interest in this area can be seen in the recent entrance of Don Hughes into Phi Beta Kappa. In other areas of activity, the song group is perfecting the songfest number, "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho," to be presented at the annual I.F.C. Songfest scheduled for early May. In just a few weeks the Delt softball team will be taking the field in hopes of successfully defending its intramural championship which was won last spring. This task will be all the more difficult this year without the services of the league's most valuable pitcher, Phil DeVries, but a crop of promising freshmen should help matters considerably.

A Founders Day Banquet with Ohio State's Beta Phi Chapter early in April brought many alums together again and provided some competition between the two chapters with the presentation of a songfest and a short jazz concert.

In the sport spot light, Dick Blanks contributed considerably to the varsity basketball squad while Freshmen Rick Nesbitt and John Welch performed well for the junior varsity. Chuck Hansen, Bob Wahl, and Dave Yoder combined to form a good share of Ohio Wesleyan's wrestling squad, with Dave winning his second conference championship in three years. With the arrival of spring, the Delts are also very active on the varsity baseball team. Dave Lehman, Bob Olson, and John Welch perform very well in their respective positions.

Although engaged in numerous campus activities, the Delts are constantly at work on rushing plans in hopes of securing another outstanding pledge class next fall.

STEPHEN WHITEHEAD

Oklahoma State

The Delts at Oklahoma State had a very successful spring semester with several activities which they participated in.

Intramurals was a big thing with the Delts this semester. We had a fine softball team placing second at the College play-offs. Three of our fine brothers were on the all-college softball team. They were: Andrew Cummins, Marvin Kline, and Jerry Marlow. Track is another event in which the Delts were in high standing on the campus. Max Jordan won the high and low hurdles for the past two years setting a new all-college record this year. We're very proud of Vernon Haddox who is on the varsity track team. He brought home three first-place medals during the season.

The annual Sweetheart Formal was held at the Rock Castle on April 25. Music was furnished by Ashley Alexander and his band. Also included in the evening's events was the crowning of the Delt Sweetheart for the coming year, followed by the members of the chapter singing the Delt Sweetheart Song.

We are very proud of our past president, Frank Ross, who presented his spring senior music recital with approximately 200 guests attending.

As the spring semester ended, the Delts at Oklahoma State University had again shown the tremendous enthusiasm which has made us outstanding in years past.

GEORGE ENGLISH, JR.

Oregon

The Delts of Gamma Rho began the winter term by bringing another trophy to the brimming trophy case. It was won in the annual Dad's Week "Barber Shop Quartet Contest." The group of four was headed by Songleader Tom Lewis; the other three members were Dave Powell, Bob McCulloch, and Marlon Holland. The brothers sang a medley of tunes from the old South.

Soon after the quartet contest, we began preparations for the annual Delt Queen Winter Formal dance. The field of contestants was narrowed down to five who were interviewed on radio and television. They visited the house several times before the final selection was made. The finalists were: Carlyn Compton, Oregon's Delt Queen, CARLYN COMPTON, being crowned by '57 Queen SHARON LOWERY.

Mu Delts erect Saliers sign on campus.

Carol Dean, Carol Eskola, Sally May, and Marilyn Reaney. The final selection was announced at the dance and Miss Compton was named as the Delt Queen for 1958.

Initiation ceremonies were carried out at the beginning of the term. Nine neophytes were initiated. These nine men added to the 11 men initiated fall term, makes a total of 20 men to become members this year. Other chapter room news was the election of new officers. The brothers elected and their relative posts are: Larry Kromling, president; Grant McCormack, vice-president; Douglas McKay, house manager; Warren Rucker, corresponding secretary; Thomas Hurley, recording secretary; and Stewart McCaw, guide. These men have all assumed their duties with a great deal of vigor.

Two awards of honor have been bestowed on Oregon Delts. The Carl Grieves Trophy, which is awarded to the outstanding pledge, was presented to Al Winters for outstanding work in campus and chapter activities. The other award was the announcing of the outstanding alumni support, which was won by Paul Peterson, a resident of Portland.

Future plans of Gamma Rho are now concentrated on two campus-wide contests. The first is the Ugly Man Contest and the second is the All-Campus Sing. The Gamma Rho Delts have always been top competitors in these activities. We feel we have winning material in each of these fields.

DARRELL CORNELIUS

Oregon State

With spring term here again at Oregon State, we at Delta Lambda are enjoying an active and full schedule of events. Starting things off with a bang was a very successful initiation, in which the chapter welcomed 15 new members. Following the initiation, a banquet was held in honor of the new members, and guest speaker was Matt Mathes, a member of the Fraternity's Distinguished Service

Delta Lambda's 15 new members.

Chapter and a charter member of Delta Lambda.

House elections were held and the following officers were elected to manage the affairs of the chapter: president, Tom Appel; vice-president, Ron Pattee; recording secretary, Gary Neilson; and house manager, Jack Dolon.

The Delts have an active intramural schedule ahead of them, participating in everything from softball to horseshoes. Chet Warnock and Karl Meyer won the all-fraternity table tennis championship. John Kramer earned a spot on the "rook" golf squad and Ron Pattee won the all-school golf championship. Out for "rook" track is John Turner, throwing the discus. Arnie Schroeder and Ted Miller finished a successful season on the varsity basketball team, with Ed Duckett on the "rook" basketball squad. This season Ed Duckett and Jerry Anderson are on the "rook" baseball team. Stu Cato and Pete Owens were on the varsity crew, traveling to Stanford, where the OSC crew finished third.

Starring in "The Four-Poster" was Pete Yazzolino, with Jerry Long acting as student director. Bob Eberhard took an active lead in the production of the Friday variety all-school talent shows.

Finishing a successful year as president of the senior class is Pete Yazzolino. In the coming final elections for that office is Harley Blankenship. Running for senators from the schools of agriculture, lower division, and pharmacy, are Glen Klock, Bill Clarke, and Ted Moon. Winner of the $250 Agricultural Extension Work scholarship was Glen Klock, who also received an expense-paid trip to a conference at Kansas State College.

Ahead of us yet is the annual formal dance in honor of the graduating seniors. The morning after the dance, everyone brings his date to the Shelter for a pancake breakfast, after which we all head for the beach. Also coming up is the Sister-Delt banquet, to which all sisters or daughters of Delts on campus are invited.

Nearly all the freshmen are taking an active part in the Rook-Sophomore picnic, with Kerner Doughton as general chairman. On "request" from the rooks, the sophomores are all growing beards for the picnic, and they are looking forward to the picnic mainly because they will then be able to shave again.

Scheduled for this summer are two rush parties at which we will get to meet rush prospects from all over Oregon and northern California and they will get to meet us. The rushing program has automatically stepped up as we all are starting to prepare for another outstanding pledge class next fall.

AL PALMER

Penn State

Tau Chapter has elected a new slate of officers and is having a successful semester under their leadership. Dick Wilson is our new president, with Fred Taylor as vice-president. Jim Sloan is the new recording secretary, with Dick Drayne as corresponding secretary and Bob Mills as treasurer. Other new officers are Jim Greeves, guide; John Behne, sergeant at arms; and Bob Schimmel, assistant treasurer.

Socially, Tau Chapter has had a rather full semester. Our IFC Week End house party had a "jungle party" theme, and entertainment was provided by a five-piece combo. We have also had Eli's Chosen Six, a top Dixie Land band from Yale whose music has been featured in a number of well-known New York night clubs, for two jam sessions during the semester. The first of these was a combined party with Chi Phi, and for the second we combined with Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Beta Sigma Rho. Both jams were considered high spots in the campus social life.

Our second house party, during Spring Week, was our annual spring formal, complete with white dinner jackets. Lee Vincent's 12-piece band from Philadelphia provided the music for the formal. Tau Chapter's social calendar also included a combined party with Sigma Chi, a skating party with Kappa Alpha Theta, and a party at the Shelter with Chi Omega.

Another high point of the semester was a combined week end at the Shelter with Gamma Sigma, our Pitt chapter. The combined parties with the Gamma Sigs are becoming a regular event, with each of the chapters hosting the other several times during the year.

Scholastically, the chapter has been doing well, placing in the upper half among fraternities in the University's scholastic ranking. Many members are in scholastic honoraries on campus, and Bill Fell, a senior language student, will be studying at the Sorbonne in Paris next year, on a University scholarship.

In the line of activities, the chapter members are furthering the Fraternity's name on campus. The Chapter participated in the IFC-Panhellenic Sing, in competition with other fraternities and sororities, and although we didn't win the Sing, we have received considerable favorable comment on our showing.

Various members of the chapter are also in campus activities. Dick Wilson is a member of Tribunal, the campus's highest judicial body. Fred Taylor is a member of the elections committee, chairman of an IFC committee, and a member of the junior class advisory board. Jim Sloan is the vice-president of the Arnold Air Society, replacing another

Tau Chapter's IFC-Panhel Sing winners.

Tau Delt, Bill Meyer, in the position. Dick Drayne is the new managing editor of the Daily Collegian, campus daily newspaper. Skip Reeder and George Campbell, both sophomores, are members of IFC committees; Bob Koch and Dick Wilson are in the University Glee Club, and Dellie Kreiser is a member of the Blue Band, the University's marching band. Bill Abbey, a forestry major, is the editor of the College of Forestry's magazine.

Tau Chapter is also well-represented on Penn State's athletic teams. Earl Kohlhaas, a sophomore, should be a starter on next year's varsity football team, and is being mentioned as a future All-American. John Behne and Burt Houseworth are both starters on the varsity lacrosse squad, and another sophomore, Dick Bullock, is also a member of the team.

In June, eight of our outstanding seniors will graduate. We wish them the best of luck in their new careers in the business world.

As one of the host chapters for the Centennial Karnea in Pittsburgh this summer, we're all looking forward to the big event. We hope to see Delts from all over the country there to help with the festivities.

DICK DRAYNE

Purdue

Gamma Lambda opened the second semester with the pledging of 23 men, one of the largest pledge classes on campus, and has been leading in all fields at Purdue ever since.

The Purdue Delts joined forces with Chi Omega in this year's Greek Week Carnival booth, "K-9 Chase." The Chi O's, dressed as greyhounds, chased a Delt "rabbit" around a track on scooters, while the public placed bets on the fastest "hound." We received the first-place trophy for having taken in the most money for Campus Chest through this project, and were awarded a second place in the "best booth" competition.

Rabbit BOB SMITH being pursued in Purdue's "K-9 Chase."

The spring social season was started with the Delts' Gambling Party. The Shelter took on the atmosphere of a Wild West gambling house, with roulette wheels, dice tables, and card games. Several more informal parties are planned to follow up this very successful affair, and our house dance, "Road's End," will round out the year's social events.

Chapter President Tom Hall was elected to the presidency of the interfraternity council, and Emil Smider will edit the Purdue Greek next year. Jim Reynolds was named to the senior board of the Office of Student Services, as student government treasurer.

In athletics, Cliff Chappell and Jack Meilahn continue to lead the wrestling squad, while Boilermaker Pitcher Dave Hull is working out in preparation for the coming baseball season. Dave Ehrhardt was chosen captain of the Purdue crew. Delts now rank fourth of the 40 fraternities in intramural sports, and we're working on the last push to boost our final standing even higher.

Purdue honoraries are heavily infiltrated with Delts this year. Dave Hull was recently elected to Tau Beta Pi, as well as to Sigma Gamma Tau, the aeronautical engineering honorary, and to Gimlet Club, senior men's activities and athletics honorary.

Pi Tau Sigma, the mechanical engineering honorary, tapped Brothers Tom Hall, Bob Huheey, Jerry Churchill, Kent Garvens, and Dave Ehrhardt. Four men: Bob Rich, Jon Reynolds, Emil Smider, and John Igoe, were chosen for Skull and Crescent, sophomore activities and athletics honorary.

The military organizations are also being led by the Delts at Purdue. Scabbard and Blade selected the following eight men in their most recent pledge class: Dick Lind, Bob Lindberg, Bob Smith, Dave Kuebler, Nelson Ringmacher, Kent Garvens, Jerry Churchill, and Bruce Kessler.

Bob Smith was initiated into the Arnold Air Society, while the Purdue Order of Military Merit selected Nelson Ringmacher and Bob Lindberg. Quarterdeck, the Naval ROTC honorary, initiated Kent Garvens, Jim Reynolds, and Jerry Churchill, and recently tapped Bruce Kessler and Emil Smider.

The crack Purdue Drill Team, which won the Cherry Blossom Festival invitational meet in Washington this spring, counts among its members Brothers Nelson Ringmacher and Bob Rich, and Pledges Eric Johannison, Hal Crain, and Al Theiler.

We are now working hard, under the leadership of Jon Reynolds, on our University Sing numbers, hoping to add another first-place trophy to our collection.

The entire chapter expresses thanks to the Delt alumni who have sent us many fine recommendations for rush, or who have helped us in any other way. Our busy rush chairmen are still working on letters to all who made such recommendations, and we hope to have complete reports of results out soon.

JIM REYNOLDS

Santa Barbara

Despite the temptations offered by Santa Barbara sunshine and the unusually warm Pacific Ocean which prevailed throughout the fall semester, the active chapter of Delta Psi has once again come in first among fraternities in scholarship. Credit is due to Steve Allaback whose untiring efforts and self-sacrifice as scholarship chairman put us on top. Steve has become our first academic martyr.

Delta Psi's answer to Osa and Martin Johnson, namely Brothers Ron Wilmot and Harris Miller, recently embarked on a journey to South America and the Caribbean on board Harris' 33-foot yawl. The boys plan to spend a year visiting various South American ports before returning to Santa Barbara. Along the same vein, past President Jim Bailey has returned from a year's good-neighbor tour of Europe.

The chapter has good reason to be proud of the 15 men pledged this spring. All display great promise and enthusiasm. Pledges Ed Hartell, Dave Brickner, and Rick Beguilen have shown great athletic prowess. Ed surprised everyone with his fine showing for the basketball team. As a sophomore he promises to develop into a fine center. Rick is a member of the diving team and has already developed into a consistent point maker. Dave is coming along at a fast clip for Coach Stackhouse's swimmers. He has done a good job in breast stroke competition this spring.

Once again this spring the UCSB horse hiders are led by Audie Pope, last year's most valuable player, and Jimmey Joe Hezlip. Both are mainstay pitchers for the Gaucho ball club. Audie and Jimmey Joe both are sporting 3 and 0 records early in the season.

Delta Psi entertained Dels from Stanford, USC, and UCLA recently at its "Viva Zapata Party." This yearly event was a great success. High light of the evening was the dancing of UCSB Exchange Student Cleo Torrez. This annual party is gaining popularity among West Coast Dels and is a fine opportunity for us to get together.

The chapter is proud of its showing this fall and we have reasons to believe that the spring semester will be equally successful. Coming up we have our Spring Formal at which time Delta Psi will honor its distinguished advisor, Dr. Paul A. Jones, who has helped to guide our chapter since its founding; and is continuing to do such great service for us. Following the formal the annual Delt Luau will be held. This is possibly the high light of the Greek social calendar at Santa Barbara.

RICHARD LYONS

Sewanee

In June of 1883, at the University of the South in Sewanee, Tennessee, eight young men received word from the National Headquarters of Delta Tau Delta that their petition for a Charter had been approved. In 1958 at Sewanee, a larger number of young men have been celebrating this occasion—the 75th anniversary of Beta Theta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta. This anniversary coincides with the 100th year of the Fraternity and the centennial year of the University. Beta Theta was granted the privilege of being the host to the Regional Conference this year as part of its celebration. On the last night of the Conference a banquet was held in the brand new, ultra-modern, Sewanee Inn. The speaker was Francis M. Hughes, President of the Fraternity. Mr. Burr Christopher, President of the Southern Division, presided over the meetings of the Conference. Mr. Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President, also was able to attend the banquet. Beta Theta is most grateful to these gentlemen who took time to honor us with a visit.

Mr. Hughes congratulated Beta Theta at the banquet for having the best scholastic average of all chapters in the Fraternity for 1956-1957. It is a truly great honor for those people who were in the chapter last year.

Each fraternity at Sewanee observes the custom of giving a tea during the year in honor of some alumnus or friend. We were most happy to be able to give our tea in honor of Brother Frank Juhan. Brother Juhan is the retired Bishop of South Florida and a past Chancellor of the University of the South.

Beta Theta would like to express its thanks to the Auburn, Univ. of Georgia, Georgia Tech, and Emory chapters for the generous hospitality they showed to a number of its pledges who visited them.

Brother Battle Searcy was elected to represent the chapter on the executive committee of the Order of Gownsmen, which is the student governing body. The executive committee is the "cabinet" of the OG. Bat is also the managing editor of the Sewanee Purple newspaper. Jim Hutter is the assistant managing editor.

Ten people were initiated into Delta Tau Delta by Beta Theta recently.

Brother Jerry Crowe, initiated earlier this year, won first place for the Dels in the high hurdles at the recent intramural track meet. Brother Jim Mayson, who was initiated with Brother Crowe, was one of Sewanee's outstanding wrestlers this year. The chapter wants to congratulate both of these men.

South Dakota

Delta Gamma of Delta Tau Delta initiated ten men March 16. Following the initiation ceremony was the banquet which was attended by the chapter and visiting alumni. President Glenn Fingerson was the main speaker of the affair. Following the banquet, pictures were taken and songs were sung in honor of the new initiates.

The Dels planned a house party the week after the initiation festivities which was to highlight the first week of active membership for the new initiates. The theme was "French Frolics," which was illuminated by various French decorations distributed throughout the Shelter. The party suggested the French regalia of the revolution and the ever romantic beret, as worn by all, enticed the mood. A combo supplied the music, and punch was served by two French-speaking Delt brothers.

In the elections of new officers of four campus organizations the Dels came out on top. Delt Bill Dickinson is the new president of Scabbard and Blade, men's military organization. Delt Bill Stofft will guide the History Club for the coming year. Delt Glenn Fingerson leads interfraternity council for the next two semesters. Delt Dick Middleton, a recent pledge of Dakotans, men's service organization, is vice-president elect and will assume duties for the next year. Other outstanding Dels during the past year have been Roger Nelson, member of the first five of the NCAA small college champions. . . . South Dakota University; Bill Stoff, varsity high jumper. Delt Norm Headrick was cited as one of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

In competition this year the Dels have won first in both the intramural swimming contest and the intramural discussion meet. First place trophies were added to the chapter for these accomplishments.

Delta Tau Delta has pledged seven new men for second semester, who are as follows: Erwin Reiser, Donald Saathoff, Harold Foss, Monte Dodson, Phillip Carr, Ray Dykeman, and Jim Rueschenberg.

Delta Tau Delta is planning three events which will take place later this spring. Founders Day will consist of a barbecue on Saturday and banquet on Sunday, April 26-27. A speaker will be featured at the banquet. Numerous alumni letters have been sent out announcing the affair. The annual Delt spring formal will take place in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, May 17. Favors will be given and the alumni who wish to attend are invited. Interfraternity Sing will be the last event of the year, which will find the Delts singing two songs in competition.

TONY ZARIFIS

Stanford

Beta Rho members are extremely proud to welcome 22 outstanding freshmen into the folds of Delt life. Rushing, considered the most important activity of the year to the Stanford Delts, culminated with the pledging of one of the best classes in Beta Rho's history. Now, with a feeling of security, actives and pledges alike can turn toward athletic, social, academic, and campus activities which will conspicuously identify them on the Stanford campus.

After ending a successful term as rush chairman, Doug Dick will turn his talents to the gridiron. Spring practice will feature Doug, a starter in '55 and hurt in '56, leading 20 Delts, all vying to fill the starting berths vacated by seven graduating Delts. Returning lettermen include Russ Steele, first team center; Sid Garber, second team quarterback; Roy Stephans, second team halfback; Jerry Winters, second team tackle; and Chris Burford, third team end. Meigs Jones, hurt most of the season, will be counted on to hold down a guard spot. Six Delt freshmen will be prominent in Stanford's football plans for the next three years. Leading this group is Gil Dowd, MVP on the frosh team.

Delts were well represented on other varsity teams during the past year. Outstanding individual achievements on the basketball team included Junior Paul Nuemann being elected captain and Sophomore John Arrillaga being voted Northern California's "player of the week" twice. Frosh basketballers included Morgan Metcalf, Bud Mathiesen, and Al Simila. Delt boxers dominated the varsity boxing team, also. They were, Tyler Miller, captain and light-heavyweight; Trev Grimm, sophomore heavyweight and undefeated; and "Canvasback" Gertmenian, a battling welterweight. Track team members are Armand Dewese, senior; Jerry Winters and Gary Pike, sophomores; and Graig Bushman, Mark Perry, and Tom Glover, freshmen.

Consistently high among the fraternities academically, the Delts have been represented by five Phi Beta Kappa elects in the past two years. This year, Harry Collins and Wally Honeywell joined Chapter President John Kidd as members of the national engineering fraternity, Tau Beta Pi. Senior Honeywell and freshman Tom Glover have been selected to study in Stuttgart, Germany, as winners of much-sought after scholarships.

Recognizing the importance of campus leadership, the Beta Rho Chapter is proud this year to be represented by Freshmen Sponsors Wally Honeywell, Phil Berry, and Doug McClendon; Wally Howley, member of this year's pre-reg committee and past president of his class; John McNelly, president of the I.F.C. House Manager Association; and John Kidd, chairman of the I.F.C. rushing committee.

Spring quarter has seen the long-awaited arrival of the sun to the Stanford campus, and with the sun, nationally ranked Surfer First Class Bill Bullis, can be seen leading "the Delt invasion of the sea." Also in the social spot light, our annual Beachcomber Overnight is being anxiously awaited by all. Bound together by a strong bond of interest in one another and in the activities of the house, Delt parties have had nearly 100 per cent attendance and, therefore, have been highly successful during the past year.

JACK CARTER

Stevens

With the coming of spring, the Shelter once again is bustling with activity. Rho Delts completed a very successful rushing season and with its finish we had pledged 15 new men and started them on their way to brotherhood.

From the time the first robin chirps, the main topic of conversation in the house is sports. The Stevens baseball team is looking forward to a good season through the efforts of Pitchers Dick Klee and Joe Kaminski; Captain Mike Machowsky, catcher; George Eckert and Ray McEntee, who play the outfield and infield, respectively. This optimism is shared also by the lacrosse team which is aided by the talents of Bill Pepper, Carl Sardaro, Bob Sinatra, Bob MacDonald, Muff Terreri, and Frank Calderazzo.

Our very able new president, Dick Clement, presided over our spring initiation of Mike Machowsky and Bob MacDonald.

We are all now looking forward to Spring Sports week end. The I.F.C. formal will be held in the Essex House with Skitch Henderson of Steve Allen fame handling the baton. Our private feature of the week end will be the receiving for the fifth time in the last six years the I.F.C. sports trophy. In addition, we will also receive the basketball and ping-pong trophies and be finalists in the quartet singing contest to be judged that night.

After the big week end the Delts will buckle down to studying for finals in order to maintain our scholarship, so we can look forward to another big year at Stevens Tech.

DICK KOCH

Syracuse

At Syracuse University, the Delts have been on a real whirlwind of exciting events. The chapter has started to gain the rewards of its concentrated efforts at self-improvement. The largest social event of this winter season was the afternoon of March 8, when we had our initiation ceremony for nine new men, and a Testimonial Banquet for our long-time chapter adviser, Mr. Fred L. Stone.

The class we initiated was the result of a vast rushing job conducted by Craig McArt, who studied methods of rushing at many chapters this past summer, and brought them back to us. Of the nine, two have been newly elected to chapter office, and three others have been appointed heads of committees. The initiation ceremony was held in the Hotel Syracuse, and Mr. Francis M. Hughes, National President of Delta Tau Delta, spoke briefly to the initiates at the ceremony.

Following the initiation, a combination of great events was rolled into a testimonial banquet for Fred L. Stone, who has loyally acted as our chapter adviser for 35 years. Featured speaker at the banquet was President Hughes, who cited the record of Mr. Stone, and spoke to the many alumni, actives, and initiates, stressing in his talk that the Fraternity was now beginning to win prestige for itself, but that we were not at the top, and must work even harder than ever to make our chapter better, and in that way contribute to the national effort in this direction.

Forrest Witmeyer presented Mr. Stone with a binder of testimonial letters from long-time associates and a beautiful watch in thanks for his devoted service.

After the delicious chicken dinner, the large crowd stayed for dancing and a party in honor of the initiates. A fine time was had, and many new friendships were made, as well as old ones revived.

The chapter has also been winning its share of awards this year. We were presented with a certificate from the Fraternity for being well above the all men's fraternity average, and we received the Syracuse Interfraternity Council's Cup for Most Improved Campus Scholarship in the past year.

In the competition for the Tolley Cup, awarded each year by Chancellor Tolley to the best fraternity on campus, we received a Merit Award, and this meant that we were among six runners-up. This we are very proud of, and next year we want to be first. The recognition of the fine efforts all our men made this year, as well as the expected and needed continuation under the leadership of our new officers, will, we feel, be a constant incentive to fight for the Tolley Cup next year.

We have elected our new officers for the coming year. They are Gary Strong, president; George Kosboth, vice-president; William LaBorde, recording secretary; Lynn Usher, treasurer; and Paul Morehouse, corresponding secretary.

Gary was vice-president this year, and has been doing a very impressive job. He has worked a great deal with outgoing President Charles Hill, and this experience will help a great deal. He has just returned from the Division Conference at Lafayette College where he got many new ideas for the next year.

Our last big events of this school year are to be Parents Week End and Delt Week End. The rest of our time will be spent winding up school work for the year, and studying for exams.

PAUL W. MOREHOUSE

Tennessee

With the coming of spring, the Delta Delta Delts' efforts were directed toward the first annual Playboy Party. Through the aid of the many fine decorations supplied by Playboy magazine, and the efforts of Social Chairman Gary Sanders, the entire house, inside and out, was decorated with party cartoons and jokes, playmate pictures, and the ever-present "Playboy Rabbit." The formal dinner and dance was a howling success. Miss Mary Ann Morris, a Tri-Delt junior, was elected "Playmate of the Year."

Spring also brought a new slate of officers. The new officers are: Bill Spielmann, president; Bill Barbee, vice-president; Bob Tate, recording secretary; Bob Barger, corresponding secretary; Chris Clements, treasurer; and Bill Bennett, assistant treasurer.

Along scholastic lines, Bob Barger was recently initiated into Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary, and Alpha Phi Mu, industrial engineering honorary. Bert Parent, though he was among the "mush eaters" at the winter scholarship mush banquet, has been pledged to Sigma Pi Sigma, physics honorary fraternity.

Thus, with good morale, three new names added to the chapter rolls in the past week, and Don "Rock" Wick trying for his third play of the season, the chapter is in excellent position for summer and fall rush for which plans are now being made.

ROBERT G. TATE, JR.

Officer elections found Jim Haltom taking the lead as president, with Bob Marwill acting as second in command. Herman Waters was chosen corresponding secretary and "Bugger" Beaird was selected to provide the "Good Brothers" with some enticing entertainment as recording secretary. Of course, we needed a house manager and Brother Paul Wilcott vigorously volunteered.

Under the able leadership of Rush Captain Billy Dobbs, the Texas Delts corralled 13 new mid-term pledges. This was the largest mid-term pledge class seen around "The Shelter" in many years. They elected Tom Wadill for president and David Ewing was appointed pledge trainer.

Due to the hard work of Brother Jim Woodson the spring social calendar is filled with many activities. The Winter Formal was held at the Austin Country Club. Since the formal fell on February 14, multicolored and assorted valentines served as the prominent motif. The week end following the formal was scheduled for a hayride. All "The Good Brothers" and their dates piled into the haywagon and journeyed to Marshal Ford, where the usual dancing and good times were enjoyed. Round-Up parade found the Delts entering another "crowd pleasing" float, consisting of an engine followed by its accompanying cars. Friday night found the Delts and their dates attending the Rodeo and then moving to Yacht Harbor for the party. Saturday morning the "Shelter" played host to the beauties. All the Southwest Conference Sweethearts and the top five nominees for the Sweetheart of Texas University presided at the breakfast table. Saturday night the party was held in the Stephen F. Austin Hotel Ballroom with a "swinging" combo providing the entertainment. Throughout the semester there will be T.G.I.F. Parties with various sororities. These provide a brief respite for the weary "Brothers" on Friday afternoons. Toward the middle of April there will be an exchange dinner with a local sorority, followed by a picnic and a moonlight riverboat ride. Come April 26 the Delts and their dates will pack up and begin their annual House Party trek to Ft. Clark. Horseback riding, swimming, tennis, and a multitude of activities await the arrival. Before finals swoop down on us there will be one last fling. "Brother" Woodson has scheduled a Hollywood-type costume party complete with red carpets and klieg lights.

Turning to intramurals we find the Delts some 595 points ahead in what has been termed "The Biggest Year in Intramurals" that the University has ever seen. Bob Keith and Fred Baccus started the ball rolling by copping the University handball title. Led by "Buz-zard" Townsend, the Delts won the swimming title. The cause was helped along by recent University championships in "A" volleyball and water basketball. Robert McIntyre and Buddy Voelkel won berths on the all-University volleyball team. Also our "B" volleyball team went all the way to the finals before it met with defeat. With only three sports remaining, the Delts seem a sure bet to recapture the coveted "all-Intramural Trophy." Co-ordinated by Robert McIntyre, intramural manager, we ought to come out on top this spring. In golf, Jim Underwood and company seem to be the foursome to beat. The "A" softball team, led by all-Intramural Star Avis Johnson, seems certain to retain its all-University crown. Brother Bob Marwill is back to defend his low hurdles title, and there seems to be a chance of our relay team placing.

Spring sports seem to be dominated by the Texas Delts. Representing Texas on the varsity baseball team are Woody Woodman, all-Southwest Conference second baseman and Pete Embry, outfielder and catcher. Both figure very prominently in the Longhorn victories. Woody is pounding the rawhide pellet at a .450 clip and Pete is in the high .300's. Sam Rossen, Milam Johnson, Arthur Adams, J. N. Legg, and Mike Kirkpatrick make up half of the starting freshman roster. In varsity track, Charlie Hayman and Brooks Patrick represent the Delts. Charlie is winning a place on the record-breaking 440-yard relay team and Brooks is holding his own on the mile relay team and defending his Southwest Conference 880-yard dash title. Barton Ulmer is the top high jumper for the freshmen and Ken Dunlap contributes his share to the middle distance races. If you were to pass by the links, you would see the top University golfer in Brother Sonny Rhodes. Richard Keeton is the No. 1 man on the varsity tennis team and Tommy Carter occupies the same spot on the freshman team.

With spring comes the all-important campus elections. This spring finds the Texas Delts trying to place three of the "good brothers" in office. Richard Keeton is seeking the presidency of the student body. Jay Lewallen is after the head cheerleader slot, and Bud Toole is pursuing the Cactus editorship. These three offices are perhaps the most sought after on the campus.

Scholastically, the Texas Delts rank fifth on the campus. John Bell, Robert Abercrombie, and Richard Keeton represent the Delts in Phi Eta Sigma and various other scholastic societies, as does Woody Jackson. There are many other "good brothers" in various other service organizations around the "40 Acres."

Under the guidance of "Puppy" Dickson, we are invariably snowing the sororities on the campus with our serenades. Every Sunday night finds the Delts decked out in white shirts and ties eager to test their vocal chords on the female populus. These serenades provide a means to have some fun and brotherhood as well as to accomplish a purpose.

Looking forward to the Western Division Conference, which will be held here next spring, the Delts are pushing their house building campaign. So far it has been a pretty elusive goal but there is always another day.

The Delts began the new semester with the election of officers in Epsilon Beta Chapter. Warren Rudolph is president; Charlie Miller, vice-president; Frank Traweek, treasurer; and Boobs Youngdale is secretary. Warren is filling big shoes as retiring President Myrl Moore did a great job in his year at the helm.

Lee Bennett and Bob Roch were recently installed in Alpha Chi, a national scholastic fraternity. Roch is vice-president of the student body at TCU and also retiring vice-president of Epsilon Beta.

TCU Deltas and dates enjoy barbecue at guest ranch outing.

Scholarship was an important factor this year. The pledge class was tops on campus, while the actives were second. The entire chapter was second.

An all-school intramural trophy will be presented to the fraternity that wins the most points in the TCU intramural program. At the present, the Deltas are leading all fraternities. We came in second in the basketball this year, losing the championship game by two points.

The Founders Day Banquet and Spring Formal are being looked forward to with great expectations. The formal is being held at the Ft. Worth Boat Club. The Delt Queen for 1957-58 will be presented at the formal.

Open rush has been a big success this spring. Bill Lewis, Buzzy Elder, Charlie Wright, Carlos Vacek, Ronnie Peterson, Harold DeHart, Spencer Hayes, and Walter Ince were pledged during that period.

A wonderful party was enjoyed by all at a guest ranch just outside Ft. Worth last week end. Dancing, horseback riding, and bridge were the main interests in the afternoon. Barbecue was served at supper and was very good; the evening was capped off with more dancing and a hayride.

It has been a good year for the Deltas at TCU, a well-planned year that produced the best pledge class on campus, very high scholastic standards, many social outings, and the usual domination in intramurals.

JERRY RAY

Texas Tech

Spring has certainly arrived on the Tech campus and at Epsilon Delta. Many functions are in the planning process, while others are history.

An excellent pledge class of 20 was added to the ranks of Epsilon Delta as a result of spring rush. This is the important rush at Tech, as its fraternities are on the deferred rush system.

Rush was preceded by the initiation of six fall pledges into Epsilon Delta. These were the first Deltas to be initiated by an Epsilon Delta initiating team. The customary "Big Brother-Little Brother Breakfast" was a part of the initiating activities. The pledges presented paddles to their big brothers, and each pledge received a mug. Robert Gray was presented a plaque by the membership as best pledge while the pledge class presented the traditional "Brick Award" to Gary Hall.

Junior Stunt Night, the annual skit night, was a victorious night for Epsilon Delta, as it won the fraternity division for best skit. The skit presented was "Mesquite Tree County," and featured

BOB GRAY and GERALD DABBS in Epsilon Delta's "Mesquite Tree County."

Brothers Robert Gray, Gerald Dabbs, Jerry Lobdill, Norris Green, Pete Raish, Robert James, James Lake, and James Thruston. A loving cup trophy was presented to the chapter by the junior class, which sponsored the event.

Epsilon Delta also received the "Sportsmanship Award" from the interfraternity council for the spring semester of 1957. The award was presented at the annual I.F.C. Awards Smoker, and represented all phases of interfraternity competition.

Brothers Jerry Lobdill and Tommy Priddy were recently initiated into Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honorary society. Pledge Richard Price is regimental commander of the Army ROTC. Brother Gerald Dabbs was recently initiated into Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society, and he is also vice-president of the premed club. These are only a few of the many campus organizations in which the Deltas are represented on the Tech campus.

The remaining two months will be busy ones for the brothers of Epsilon Delta with a formal dance, retreat, fraternity sing, softball games, serenades, and other social functions.

GERALD DABBS

Toronto

Here at Toronto, activities are finished by the end of March. The formal, held for the first time at the Granite Club, attracted a large number of alumni who added to the gaiety of the evening. The Founders Day banquet was revived by the alumni this year and was well-attended by actives and alumni. Reluctantly, the actives are turning their backs on memories of the Valentine's, St. Patrick's, and Casino parties as they focus attention on the exams.

The officers for the coming year are: President Bruce Faulkner; Vice-President Bob Ross; Treasurer Ian Thompson; Assistant Treasurer Paul Seagrave; Recording Secretary Pete Armstrong; Corresponding Secretary Pete Bright; Sergeant at Arms Hugh Thomson; and Guide Barry Mitchell.

Dave Harvey, daredevil diver, came in second in the intercollegiate championships this year, and we feel sure that next year Dave, former Tri-Service champ, will come out on top.

Pete Bright came back from the Regional Conference at Lafayette College chock-full of ideas for next year. Along that line, the chapter is planning a newspaper especially to inform the alum's about undergraduate activities.

Congratulations go out to Bruce Drynan for his fine performance in the all-Varsity Revue; and to John Sanderson and Dave Collacut for the excellent snow statue, symbolizing Delt striving, which just failed to cop the trophy in the Winter Carnival contest.

BRUCE WRIGHT

Tufts

With a successful fall semester under their belts, the Beta Mu Deltas have looked to strengthen themselves internally with the final polishing of their pledges under the guidance of Bob Buckley and Dick O'Brien. A new pledge advisory committee has been formed to act in a capacity "to counsel and guide pledges concerning their conduct with respect to the Fraternity." Any problems of a pledge, from failure to do a house duty and attend pledge meetings to a generally poor attitude, are reason for appearance before the committee. Should the pledge not improve his name may then be brought before the brotherhood for cancellation from the Fraternity. To go along with such committee work is the rejuvenation of both oral and written reports by all committee heads at frequent intervals.

With the arrival of spring, our chapter not only anticipates a rendezvous with our campus-renown fire engine but also participation in the annual Marlboro cigarette contest won last year by Beta Mu with 24,000 boxes.

In sports, Beta Mu, with a final surge of deadly accuracy on the part of President Bob Buckley, George Manias, and Jim Barton, captured the all-College basketball championship. In softball, with last year's crown to defend, Beta Mu is at full strength with such regulars as Steve Falchetta and Joe Havlicheck back in the line-up. Aided by Sophomores Fred Nichols and Gene Mayer, Jack Duncan and Ned Leeming have taken to the tennis courts between spring snows to polish up for the approaching interfraternity doubles tourney. With the all-campus competitive Spring Sing only weeks away, Joe Havlicheck and his pitch pipe are in continual prominence.

This is also the time of year for the seniors to emerge and here at Tufts this is no different with seven out of ten of the class having been accepted to graduate school: Joe Salvo and Chris Bacos to dentistry; Edward Cardone to business school; and Fred Geary, Ron Zeffiro, Bill Callahan, and Lou Malm to medical school. This is the same Lou Malm who has gained further distinction by being chosen one of the top ten in sailing in New England. In prominence also is Sophomore Jim Barton and Juniors Jack Doykos and Bob Watson, they having been accepted to dental school.

And still our list of honors goes on: John Banas has been elected into the Lambert-Kingsley Honorary Biology Society and associate editor of the Tufts Ivy Book; "Zeke" Bogosian, Jack Doykos, Chris Bacos, Jack Leckie, and Hank Bonk are not merely on varsity lacrosse, but have made such a reputation for their close teamwork that they alone constitute the first team. Robert Watson has been elected president of the Ivy Junior Honorary Society.

as the big gun returning to the baseball team in the pitcher's slot.

Among the sophomores, Jim Barton, Frank Deleone, "Butch" Demarco, Gene Mayer, and Tom O'Brien form a solid nucleus in the sophomore honorary society; Jack Duncan is the key man in varsity soccer; and Fred Nichols has been elected commodore of the Tufts Yacht Club.

At present Beta Mu is looking forward to the traditional Tufts mayoralty campaign and our Spring Week End at Gloucester to put the cap on a highly successful academic year.

JOHN L. DOWLING

Tulane

Twelve pledges were initiated into Beta Xi Chapter on March 2. The ceremony was held at the end of Tulane's Greek Week. A steak banquet was held after the initiation at a local restaurant.

Heading the list of social events was the formal held at the Southern Yacht Club in March. Papa Celesteins' jazz band furnished the music. Janice Lewis was elected queen and was presented with a dozen roses and a jeweled sweetheart pin. Janice is a sophomore at Sophie Newcomb and is a Phi Mu.

On March 10 our elections were held. The new officers were installed on March 17.

Ronnie Reso, a sophomore in chemical engineering, was elected president. Ronnie was president of his pledge class, received the Best Pledge Award in 1957, served as pledge master, and was recording secretary.

Jim Larose, a premed student majoring in physics, was elected vice-president. Jim has held several other offices including treasurer, rush chairman, and pledge class treasurer. He is also on the varsity track team.

Others elected were: Bill McIntosh as recording secretary; Ronnie Joseph as corresponding secretary; and Al Taylor as sergeant at arms.

WILLIAM MCINTOSH

UCLA

The new semester has begun and Delta Iota can be well pleased with the accomplishments of the rushing season. We pledged ten men to provide us with an excellent pledge class. Under the inspired leadership of Danny Peterson, all-Coast Conference center, we have forged ahead in almost every phase of campus life. Following a program of scholarship, combined with an active social calendar, we expect the remaining year to be most successful.

This spring semester will be highlighted with many outstanding events. April 13 was the Parents' Banquet, which saw a virtual 100 per cent attendance. Spring Sing follows in the early part of May, and the chapter is actively rehearsing in the Men's Division. We hope to repeat our success of last year when we won second place in the Mixed Division. The last week in May will climax the social season at the chapter and UCLA, too. This week has set aside as Barbary Coast Week, to be climaxed with the famous and traditional Barbary Coast dance in the Shelter. This event promises to be the most successful to date with an attendance of over 500 expected. The design and layout is being drawn up by Dick Sproul.

In spring varsity athletics the Deltas were well represented. Rugby provided one of the most successful teams with the backbone coming from the chapter. Featured were Bert Frescura, Don Duncan, Dan Peterson, and Ken Gunn. Varsity baseball has been equally supported by the aid of Lani Exton, Wayne Wherling, and Connie Munatones. The intramural program was highlighted with league championships in two-man volleyball, football, five-man volleyball and co-championship in basketball. We expect to do equally well in the two remaining sports of baseball and swimming.

During the summer months we hope to stage several events with Delta Pi at USC and Delta Psi at Santa Barbara. Our aim is to help co-ordinate the rushing programs of the various chapters and to bring the three chapters in southern California closer together. Last season we held several events with Delta Pi, which were enjoyed tremendously by the brothers. The events planned for this summer are expected to be very successful.

DON BRIGGS

USC

Church, breakfast, ceremony, and a banquet comprised the initiation of 14 men into Delta Tau Delta Fraternity on March 16.

Delta Pi obtained six new pledges. With a limited number of men rushing fraternities at S.C., we feel that the "cream of the crop" accepted bids and pledged Delt.

Again this year, Delta Pi is leading by 100 points in I.F.C. Helping us to retain the Iron Man Trophy, which is given to the fraternity that leads by points in interfraternity athletics, are Bob and Ralph Irwin, golfing; Jack Schick and Jim Kruger, track; Lee Crisell, tennis; and a representative group in baseball. Having lost in the basketball playoffs by only two points, we are planning on elimination of all opponents in the remaining sports.

Success in University sports is being aided by Deltas such as John Werhas in baseball. An outstanding basketballer last season, John is the first man to hit a ball over the screen in left field at the Los Angeles Coliseum. Other brothers are taking an active part in swimming, crew, and gymnastics.

Last year in Songfest, which is presented in the Hollywood Bowl, we received second place for our men's quartet. This year, we are singing in the mixed division, presenting songs from Hans Christian Andersen.

With long-awaited summer vacation finally here, we like to look back over some of our chapter's activities and achievements for the past semester.

At Indiana Delta Tau Delta State Day, February 26, Beta Psi again made an excellent showing as it walked away with all three major awards of the evening. The Delta Queen for the evening was Brother Bucky Dennis' pin girl, George Ann Gerlock. George Ann, charmingly dressed in pale blue, won over the four other lovely candidates representing chapters from Purdue, Indiana, Butler, and DePauw. When the judging for best skit of the evening was announced, it was Beta Psi who received the trophy. Thanks go to John Pence for his original ideas, and to the pledge quintet, aided by talented Delt Thespians. In the third and last category of the evening, scholarship, Beta Psi again received top honors for its excellent average last spring semester.

Not only at State Day, but also on campus, was scholarship strong. Third on campus for the fall semester, Beta Psi totaled a 1.488 average (3.0 point scale), comfortably above the all-men's average of 1.418. On campus, the brothers have also been successful. Junior Butch West is new secretary of the senior council. Sophomore Jerry Kight has replaced retiring junior prexy of the I.F.C., Fred Pipin. Freshman Dave Bohlin is secretary of A.P.O., and Freshman Bryan Graham is campaign manager of W.U.S. for the 1958-'59 school year.

In intramurals, we are again after the championship, trying hard to make it two in a row. As we go to press, we are standing in second place, but only 12 points down. Our softball team is close to a perfect season, which can clinch the IM title for us.

Beta Psi's Initiation Dance, March 22, was another great success. High lights of the evening were the presentations of Best Pledge award to Tim Conlon and Highest Pledge Scholarship to Dave Bohlin, both freshmen.

As a climax to working the past summer and school year for the Wabash biology department, Senior Tom Cole has received a $2,900 scholarship from California Technical for four years of biological research at that institution. Tom has been tops in scholarship his four years here at Wabash.

Honorary captain of this year's basketball team for the second consecutive year was Senior Bucky Dennis. High scoring Ben Fellerhoff was nominated to the all-tourney NCAA team. Hal Travolia joined Buck and Ben in finishing their final season for the Big Red.

Bryan Graham and Tim Conlon, freshmen, are active now in our school publication, The Bachelor. Tim is assistant news editor and Bryan is assistant sports editor. Austin Brooks, frosh, has been working very hard on our yearbook, The Wabash.

Co-Rush Chairmen Brooks and Conlon have done a fine job this year. Pledges Ron Fisk and Jim Little, are the number one and two for Beta Psi in 1958.

Gamma Mu began spring quarter with a new slate of officers. The officers are Rob Thomason, president; Lee Kueckelhan, vice-president; Dave Cortelyou, recording secretary; Robert Montgomery, corresponding secretary; Bill Flodman, treasurer; Jack Bontemps, guide; and Jim Roser, sergeant at arms. Along with the new officers are several new committee chairmen, including Lee Kueckelhan, rush chairman.

This spring the Delts combined with the Kappas in Sophomore Carnival, a big affair at Washington. Before the work began both houses got together for a large breakfast. Delts are also working with the Tri-Delts for the annual Song Fest, under the able leadership of Jim Flint, song leader. Last year the Delts and the Alpha Gamma Deltas captured third place.

Gamma Mu's scholarship trophy.

Sportswise, the intramural water polo and baseball seasons are getting under way with a great deal of enthusiasm. Last year the Delts came in second in water polo. Carl Olson, Bob Kem, and Jack Grover have made the frosh baseball team. Carl, who numeraled in frosh football, was an all-state baseball player from Wenatchee.

Several Delts have been initiated into Scabbard and Blade, national college military honorary. Those initiated include George Ringer, Gary Danekas, John Temple, and Bill Huntington.

Socially, the Delts were highly successful. The formal and the house party were held spring quarter. Other functions during the year were the pledge dance, barn dance, and active dance. Washington Delts have had more registered social functions than any other fraternity for the past three years.

So closes another year. Gamma Mu has received good grades, had a lot of social functions, and obtained part of an education. Looking back on the past year, we can say that, "The Delts have had another good year."

Gamma Chapter has recently pledged eight men from the freshman class. The pledges are: John M. Bibb, Richard L. Gaertner, James D. Gilson, Eugene R. Leach, Michael G. Papas, George H. Penn, David L. Petry, and Francis R. Sopyla.

We, at Gamma Chapter, are looking forward to making a fine showing in this year's intramural track meet. We are counting heavily on such standouts as James and John Bibb, Dennis Nason, Frank Sopyla, and William Shaw.

The annual rope-pull with the Beta's is to be an event of April 25. We are hoping to gain revenge for the defeat that was suffered last year. A party is to be held immediately after the pull in South Park, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

The chapter's scholarship has improved very much since the past semester and we are well above the All-men's Average. The pledge average is also very fine. It was considerably above the freshmen average.

The float which was reported as being constructed in the last issue of THE RAINBOW, was finished in record time and took first-place honors in the Homecoming Celebration. Jerry Cook, the chairman of the float committee, and everyone who worked on it, is to be congratulated for a job well done.

As the end of the 1957-'58 session draws to a close it appears that this year will be another successful one for Phi Chapter.

The last report hit the high lights of the first semester. Since then much has happened and much more promises to happen before June.

In late February, chapter elections were held, and from the long list of outstanding and responsible men in the Fraternity, a new slate of officers was chosen. Tom Gowenlock was selected to fill the top administrative post. Elected to the other offices were: Mac Patrick, vice-president; Corky Briscoe, house manager; Bill Young, treasurer; Zack Blalock, recording secretary; and Conrad Lemon, corresponding secretary. We are sure that these new men will carry on the fine traditions that have characterized the officers of Phi Chapter in the past.

In the field of scholarship, Phi Chapter has again excelled. Three of the brothers were initiated into Phi Beta Kappa in April. They are Andrew McThenia, Arnold Grooby, and Harry Brunnett. The ability of all three men has been recognized elsewhere as they have been offered graduate scholarships to some of the finest schools in the nation. In all, the Delts placed three men on the honor roll and 12 men on the Dean's List last semester.

This record shows Phi Chapter has achieved success in scholarship, but this is only one of the many phases of University life in which the chapter has been outstanding. In the world of sports, the Delt's record of ability and participation goes unquestioned. At Washington and Lee the big spring sport is lacrosse, and Phi Chapter men form the backbone of the team. Goalie Jim Lewis has received honorable mention All-American for three years. Midfieldman Henry LeBrun, the team's highest scorer, and Attackman Dave Nichols form a vital part of the offense. Roger Doyle, Clark Lea, Chuck Crawford, and Corky Briscoe hold defensive positions, while Dick Moore is assistant coach. Six Delts are also playing on the freshman team.

Delts are holding down positions on the baseball team, also. Frank Hoss, past captain of the basketball team, is at shortstop, and Charlie Broll, after a slow start due to a groin injury, is having a fine year at third and on the mound. Conrad and Jack Lemon are seeing a lot of action in the outfield.

Tom Gowenlock is the number two man on the tennis team, and Dick White and Ned Ames are on the track squad.

Altogether this year the Delts have contributed three cocaptains and an assistant coach to the school's athletic program, and next year's football captain is another Phi Chapter member, Clark Lea.

The year has been a social success also. The Fancy Dress Ball, with Corky Briscoe as president, was held the first of February. It was the second set of the year. A campus-wide party was held in Corky's honor, and the Mike Pedicin Quintet provided music for the after-the-dance party at the Shelter. A few weeks later the Delts had their first house party of the semester. It was a costume affair based around a Dogpatch theme. As this is being written preparations are nearing completion for the Spring Dance Set to be held the week end of April 19. The house combo has not yet been chosen, but the social committee, under Leigh Allen, is sure to pick another great group for the occasion. Plans are also being made for another house party to be staged soon after the beginning of May. The final dance set in June will round out the social events of the season.

Two Phi Chapter men are running for University offices next month. Corky Briscoe has received the party nomination for secretary of the student body, and Bill Young is campaigning for the office of president of next year's spring dances. Several Deltas will be running for class offices this spring. We hope to have as much success this year as last when Arnold Grooby was elected president of the student body.

All chapter committees are active and functioning, especially the house and grounds committee under Charlie Broll and the rush committee with Corky Briscoe as chairman. The latter is making extensive preparations for next fall's rush in order to obtain the same high caliber of men that are brothers in Phi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta today.

ROBERT C. LEMON

Wesleyan

We started the second semester with an initiation ceremony on February 16, when 13 men were welcomed as they made the step into the brotherhood from pledgship. Keen disappointment was felt when our speaker, Joel Reynolds, could not get here because of a sudden, raging snowstorm. At that same time, our new slate of officers took over.

Three weeks later, on March 7, 8, and 9, festivities of Junior Prom Week End reigned supreme. Chosen as our Prom Queen was Carol Topping, from Mount Holyoke College. Carol was the date of President George Bryant. Work is well under way for spring house parties, which come on May 2, 3, and 4. A full crew is hard at work on the construction of our "battleship" for the race on Dirty River Day, which is on Saturday afternoon of that week end. On Saturday evening our dance will feature a Western motif.

At the end of the interfraternity basketball season, two Deltas, Jim Brands and Don Fletcher, distinguished themselves by finishing first and second, respectively, in individual scoring. Jim, in addition, was an almost unanimous choice by the campus newspaper, The Argus, for the all-Star team, while Don was chosen on the second team. Our Delt team, rounded out by Bob Kirkpatrick, Tim Taggart, Bruce Butler, Tom Buckovich, and Captain Bert "Moose" Edwards, suffered a mid-season spell of ill luck and finished with an eight and five record. With the same team coming back next year, we hope to walk off with the championship then.

In the coming spring softball season, the Delt team hopes to improve on last season's record, which showed only three losses. With veterans at practically every position, along with a number of promising freshmen, the prospects for the season are very good. Speedball Artist Dick Kaseler and Control Artist Bert Edwards are both confident that this will be a championship year for the Deltas.

Spring sports find Ed Collins an outfielder for the Wesleyan baseball team, while Tom Buckovich has the third base position nailed down on the freshman team. Jess Hafer holds one of the top positions on Wesleyan's golf team, and Ed Murphy has a spot on the track team. The freshman tennis team boasts both J. Smirnow and Rich Thomson as members, and Al Williams and Bruce Butler take their places on the lacrosse team.

Planning is now in the process for this year's graduation banquet, which will be on June 6. We hope to make it even bigger and better than last year's most successful event.

JAMES E. BRANDS

Zeta is completing another year as the top fraternity on this campus. Sixteen men were initiated into the chapter on February 21, in a well-performed ceremony in Amasa Stone Chapel on the campus. Rexford Hyre was named the Honor Pledge of the preceding semester. February 22 was the date of the Founders Day Banquet at the University Club of Cleveland. The guest speaker was A. Bruce Bielaski, former President of Delta Tau Delta and also a former chairman of the National Interfraternity Conference. Many distinguished alumni were present, including Judge Thomas Herbert, associate justice of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The members of the chapter have been very active in campus activities during the past year. A February graduate, Jack Amy, was vice-president of the student council. Members of the student senate include Pat Walsh and the vice-president of the senate, Larry Weiss. Paul Schupp has just been appointed to the honor board of the senate. Ray Najem is treasurer of the junior class; Alan Robinson is president of the sophomore class; and Michael Ostergard is secretary of the freshman class. The yearbook staff is well stocked with Deltas. The editor is Edward Leckey; co-associate editor is John Gigax; section editors include Pat Walsh, Alan Robinson, and John Frazier; and photographers include Joe Macys, Jacob Fridline, and Rex Hyre. On the campus radio station, WRAR, Daniel Silk, Robert Weaver, and Jacob Fridline have their own three-hour program. Bob Brubaker was head of the stage crew in this year's Greek Week production. John Gigax is president of the biology club. Craig Ryder is president of the Student Christian Union, and also the Inter-religious Council.

In honoraries we are also well represented. Delt members of Omicron Delta Kappa include Edward Leckey, John Bell, and the president of ODK, Larry Weiss. Edward Leckey is also a member of Pi Delta Epsilon. Ray Najem and John Gigax are members of Kappa Kappa Psi, and the chapter has many members in Phi Society.

We are, at present, second in the race for the all-Sports trophy. Our chapter is defending champion in swimming, tennis, and softball, and Intramurals Chairman John Frazier says we have a good chance of winning these again this year. Delt teams of volleyball and basketball were the only teams to represent the University in the President's Athletic Conference intramural tournament. Jim Marinelli represented the University in badminton. The chapter played host to volleyball and badminton players from Alpha Chapter at Allegheny College during the tournament week end.

Men on University sports teams include Joe Strong, tennis; John Frazier, wrestling; Edward Crum, freshman baseball; and John Rossetti, freshman basketball.

Richard Frank, son of Clemens R. Frank, Z, '19, (a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter), is now a pledge of Zeta Chapter.

Two of the brothers were given that once-in-a-lifetime chance of dating two Hollywood stars during the Easter week end. Bill Moley, a former chapter president now doing graduate work in chemistry, dated Margaret O'Brien; and Jerry Hejduk, chapter president, was the escort of Star France Nuyan. The ladies were here for the première showing of the movie, South Pacific, in which France has one of the lead parts; however, Brother Moley insists that Margaret came only to see him.

The Shelter has undergone some big improvements during the semester. The house was reroofed, and professional plasterers replastered some of the walls. The party room, pool room, both pantries, and all the bathrooms were repainted, and the amplifying system was remodeled for finer hi-fidelity.

Seniors going on to graduate work include Paul Modie (medicine at Western Reserve); Larry Weiss (7-year M.D. and Ph.D. program at Western Reserve); Edward Leckey and George Economus (law); Ken Webster and John Bell (medicine at Ohio State).

Another outstanding Spring Formal is now being planned by Social Chairman Jacob Fridline, at the Shaker Heights Country Club, on Saturday, June 7. All Zeta alumni are cordially invited to attend.

JOHN H. GIGAX

Westminster

Delta Omicron, under the competent leadership of its newly-elected president, Bailey Word, once more is seeking to sail the rocky sea to success as an outstanding campus organization for the last quarter of the year. Word, a junior, succeeded Bob Fehrenbach to office in March and has shown an aggressive spirit and determination through the first two months of officership. His other officers are: Dave Wright, vice-president; Bill Brell, treasurer; Bill Dodson, assistant treasurer; Fred Kuhn, recording secretary; Bob Richards, alumni secretary; Art Werremeyer, guide; and Bob Fehrenbach, parliamentarian.

Heavy emphasis was placed by President Word on three important areas: rush, scholarship, and social life. The appointment of Fred Wright as rush chairman saw the advent of a heavy, yet well-planned, rush program, beginning with a dinner invitation to Fulton High School seniors last month. An extensive rush calendar was drawn up and members were assigned areas near their hometowns to cover over the spring recess and the summer vacation. With delayed rushing coming to Westminster in 1959 for the first time, Delta Omicron will next year strive for an unusually large pledge class.

The field of scholarship was handed to Larry Weber, who, despite all the headaches which come with the job, threw himself into his task with a zeal which included a strict observance of study hall, both pledge and active. Delta Omicron is one of the few chapters having an active study hall, but it is the general opinion of the "Shelter" that a man's first obligation is to his school and his second to his Fraternity, and the best way to fulfill this obligation is through good scholarship. Consequently, all actives with a below 80 average are placed in a three-hour study hall three nights a week. The idea made its point when the chapter was presented with a gigantic trophy for the most improved scholarship in the four-state area of Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, and Iowa. The trophy, an annual one, was presented by the St. Louis Alumni Association to President Word at the annual banquet in St. Louis on March 21.

The social calendar had its inning when a steak fry, attended by about 80 people, was held at Professor Fuller's farm recently. Eating steak with both hands and drinking cokes, the couples finished the evening off with a "vic" dance back at the "Shelter." A blues dance was held last month with great success, and Social Chairman Ben McDougald has set April 19 as the date when two faculty members, Chaplain Asbury and Professor Fuller, have a donkey race through Fulton. A pig roast, a prohibition party, and a Lake-of-the-Ozarks feast are also planned for the last quarter.

One of the high lights of the year was touched off on March 22 when Delta Omicron held a Maurice Bloom Day and presented Maurice with the second

Delta Omicron. A huge plaque was presented him and his name was engraved on the Delt plaque which hangs in the living room. A banquet was held in his honor and he and his entire family spent the evening at the "Shelter." Several alums were present and several others sent telegrams of congratulation. Bob Kroening, chapter advisor, gave a short speech to conclude the festivities.

The next day saw the initiation of six new Delts.

On the varsity sports side of the ledger, Delta Omicron has, as usual, been extremely active. The baseball team is composed of six Delts—Don Otto, Art Werremeyer, Bailey Word, Bill Brell, Ken Gitzendanner, and Jerry Powell. The basketball team was represented by Dave Wright, all-conference center; the swimming team by Pledge Bill Roper. Bill Dodson, Fred Kuhn, Bill Elliott, Judd Presley, Wayne Wilke, and Chick Edwards are trackmen, and Edwards follows in Tom Hicks' shoes as captain. The rifle team was made up of Payson Adams, Ben Timmerman, Bill Brell, and Ben McDougald. Adams was the No. 1 shot on the team throughout the season.

In intramurals, with volleyball just starting, Delta Omicron looks toward a bright future next year to regain many of the trophies lost this year. For the first time in nine years, another fraternity took Dad's Day; for the first time in eight years, another squad won the track meet; for the first time in five years, the Delts did not win in softball; and after an undefeated basketball season last year, struggling along with only one starter back, the Delts played two freshmen and next year return with four of this year's starting five.

Frenzied, hard work by the entire chapter brought Delta Omicron a trophy for homecoming decoration for the fourth time in five years, as it was built around a familiar sputnik theme and had a moving rocket.

In other campus activities, Zeta Tau Delta, Westminster's Phi Beta Kappa, has Bob Fehrenbach and Marvin Schmidt, both seniors, on its roll. Scabbard and Blade, honorary ROTC club, is represented by Bob Fehrenbach, Fred Johnson, Don Otto, Bill Brell, and Fred Cory. ODK, honorary society, has Bob Fehrenbach and Don Otto on its books. The Skulls of Seven, campus honorary organization, already represented by Fehrenbach, recently initiated Dave Wright into its ranks. The Westminster Men of Song are represented by Don Otto, Fred Johnson, Bill Dodson, Ben Timmerman, Fred Kuhn, Bill Brell, Fred Cory, George Alsbach, who is organist, and Payson Adams, a group which composes over a fourth of the glee club.

It has been a busy year for Delta Omicron and next year looks even busier.

BAILEY WORD, right, presents F. MAURICE BLOOM with Westminster's Alumni Service Award.

annual Chapter Alumni Service Award, honoring 20 years of loyal service to

With strong centralized leadership, a chapter that is eager to go places, and a steadily rising spirit, it seems that next year might see established once again the Delt dynasty which rode the campus for year after year in all fields and in all activities.

DAVE WRIGHT

West Virginia

The high light of the summer for Gamma Delta will be its participation in the Karnea as official choir. Our main function will be to provide the music at the memorial services on Tuesday, August 19, as well as on several other occasions during the week.

Because of the change in rushing rules on this campus, we have been forced to undertake a rather extensive summer rushing program. A number of parties have been planned all over the state of West Virginia. The job of coordinating these activities is being executed by Doug Adams, our rush chairman.

This past spring was highlighted by our annual Mud Bowl Game, usually played in the fall, however, postponed because of the threat of Asian flu. The actives, of course, romped to a one-sided victory over the pledges and neophytes.

The house has been improved by the addition of a much needed new television set. Our new activity room was finished this spring, and it is the show place of the house. Credit for this job goes to Sam Troutman, our efficient and masterful house manager.

Outstanding Delts this spring were John Bucy, initiated into Sphinx, and Charles Simms and Tom Gant, initiated into Scabbard and Blade. Wayne Austin was one of the powerhouses on the W.V.U. baseball team for the second straight year. Both years he has been among the leading hitters in the Southern Conference. Roger Chancey was drafted by the Chicago Bears, but will probably pass up a professional football career for a teaching job.

The Delts finished high in the competition for the all-Year Cup for interfraternity athletics. Again this year, our "B" league basketball team went to the finals in tournament competition. Tom Yost, our athletic director, must be given credit for his hard work all year long.

Socially this spring, the Delts had a very successful season. Our Wild West Party during Greek Week was the hit of the campus, and there seemed to be more outsiders than Delts at the affair. We also had our spring formal, which was a tremendous success.

JOHN DORSEY

Whitman

Whitman Delts began the second semester in full swing, socially and academically. Beginning the new semester, Delta Rho initiated 16 pledges after a successful "help week." At the end of second semester rush we had three new pledges: Dave Elderkin, Fred Fair, and Don House.

With an excellent intellectual effort on the part of most, the Delts were first scholastically among the men's groups on campus. Helping the cause was our "outstanding pledge," Ross Kennedy, who was elected to the freshman men's honorary scholastic society.

On the intramural scene the Delts are currently in strong contention for the intramural cup, being only six points out of first place. Led by Jack Thomas, we won the badminton trophy. Later, Fred Fair won the ski meet; however, the team effort wasn't quite sufficient as we placed second in the meet, losing by a tenth of a second. After the tennis and track meets it looks as if the Delts will have won the intramural cup—another first.

Representing Delta Rho in varsity athletics are several in each sport. On the ski team, Don Burneski, John Miller, and Bob Hodgson did an excellent job. Don competed in the invitational national ski meet at Dartmouth this winter. In track, there is Val Lewton and Don Mair; in baseball, John Frizwald and Bill Greable; and in golf, Holden Brink. All are making a fine showing. Bill Knorp and Jack Thomas will probably represent the Whitman tennis team in the top two positions.

On the social scale, Delta Rho started the semester with its annual alumni banquet. The dinner and the dance following were successful. Entertainment was provided and the alums enjoyed themselves. Numerous firesides rounded out the social program. At the present we are preparing for our annual dinner dance. With the enthusiasm and progress shown thus far it is sure to be a success.

Again taking active part in campus politics, we have nominated Bill Knorp for the office of second vice-president. The freshmen are also becoming known. Dave Coxwell, Ross Kennedy, Ian McGowan, and John Frizwald have been nominated for the Whitman Knights, a freshman men's service honorary. Steve Abbott was recently elected treasurer of the Young Republicans on campus. So ends the news from Delta Rho.
