A Chapter Adviser's Dreams Come True

By FRED C. ZWAHLEN, JR., Oregon State

THE DEDICATION OF the Delt Shelter at Oregon State College can well be summed up as a chapter adviser's dream come true. For it was Matt C. L. R. Mathes, Delta Lambda counselor and chapter adviser for more than 28 years, who continually hoped, prayed, and prodded for the new building.

It was the week end of November 2 and 3 that the $160,000 house was dedicated. As Robert W. Gilley, Washington, '30, Vice-President of Delta Tau Delta, the main speaker at the dedication ceremonies, put it, the new OSC Shelter was dedicated to education in and out of the Fraternity and in and out of the classroom; group living; service to Oregon State College; and fellowship among Deltas.

Dr. A. L. Strand, president of Oregon State College, said that Delta Tau Delta had provided better housing for 66 men than the college could have provided for $230,000. "It is not difficult to be enthusiastic for what you have done," Dr. Strand told the more than 150 assembled Deltas, wives, college officials, and other guests. "The administration at Oregon State can't help but be in favor of fraternities and sororities."

"The some 30 fraternities and 16 sororities have a value to Oregon State of some $7,000,000," Dr. Strand said. "The values of a fraternity are not all measured in dollars and cents," Dr. Strand continued. "There are many values in group living."

Marc Corwin of Portland, president of Omega Upsilon House Corporation of Delta Lambda Chapter, spoke for the Board. Representing the Portland alumni chapter was Harry Swan.

Dedication week end had two parts. Besides the new house "warming," the Omega Upsilon cornerstone in the old Shelter was transplanted to the fireplace of the new chapter room. Seven "old faithful" Omega Ups were on hand to "plant" the old stone. Emile Christensen of Eugene, Oregon, was in charge. Retired Chapter

Delta Lambda's New Shelter.

Adviser Mathes spoke at the ceremony placing the cornerstone in the new Shelter.

Robert House, of Stockton, California, Delta Lambda alumnus, traveled the greatest distance for the week end ceremonies. He was accompanied by his wife. In addition to Dr. Strand, other college officials present were E. B. Lemon, the Dean of Administration; F. M. Shideler, director of information; and Dan W. Poling, Dean of Men.

Organizers of the dedication activities were Harold S. Whiteside of Corvallis, Oregon, on behalf of alumni, and Verne Church of Portland, Oregon, on behalf of the undergraduates. John F. Porter, Corvallis city manager, represented the city. Also present were two Corvallis Deltas from other chapters—Dale Kirkpatrick, Kansas State, associated with Citizens Bank of Corvallis; and Colonel A. H. Bond, Oregon, United States Army, Retired.

And now back to the beginning. Omega Upsilon, a local fraternity at Oregon State, moved into a brand new house in 1923. In 1930, Omega Upsilon joined the Delt family. The Omega Upsilon house was designed to accommodate 33 members. But over the years, the house was changed inside and the basement area was developed when first cordwood and then sawdust gave way to oil for heating fuel. As many as 55 Deltas were squeezed into the old structure. At times during the past ten years it was necessary for the Deltas to have an annex away from the Shelter with chapter membership up to 70 men.

This is when the dream, at times, turned into a nightmare. The old Shelter location wasn't adequate for expansion. A problem equally as big as the financial one was to find a suitable building site. Through detective-like tactics of Robert Scott, at that time a senior and now the assistant business manager at Oregon College of Education, Monmouth, Oregon, a possible lot was found in the Benton County courthouse records. After tracking down the legal owner, several times removed from the records, meetings were held and the negotiations were completed. Cost of a 125 foot by 350 foot lot was $11,000. Then is when the House Corporation started figuring. Cash on hand was about $30,000 and the old Shelter could be sold for $55,000. Total: $85,000. Needed: at least another $90,000. At times it was just plain discouraging.

Adding encouragement were Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President of the Fraternity, and Vice-President Gilley. While financing was being studied, Chris Jeppsen, Corvallis architect, was hired.

To shorten the story, the Arch Chapter of the Fraternity approved a loan to the House Corporation of $80,000, with certain provisions, of course. But a strong point of Delta Lambda was its delinquent members' accounts. It was difficult to find the last person delinquent, or when the delinquency occurred.

An alumni campaign was launched with results of $10,000 to date. The bids came in lower than originally expected. The general contract was awarded to John Carrick & Son of Albany. Later, we found out that John Carrick, Jr., was a Delt from Gamma Rho Chapter at the University of Oregon. He served as foreman of the job. Robert Andrews, a Delta Lambda alumnus, donated his services and did the blueprints for the mechanical system. His firm, Widmer Plumbing & Heating, of Portland, did the mechanical work on the house. Total contract price: $155,000.

The dreams began to fade into reality—construction began in November, 1956. It was a hectic 1957 spring term. Phi Kappa Tau purchased the old Delt Shelter and was anxious to undertake making repairs as soon as school ended in June. The Delt activities had moving day during final week.

Credit for getting off to a good start should be given to Chapter President Gerald F. Kelly, of Livermore, California, a senior in pharmacy; House Manager Jack Dolan, of Grants Pass, Oregon, a sophomore in lower division; and Treasurer Roger Flynn, of Ben Lomond, California, a senior in business and technology.

And now about the structure.

The new Shelter is of contemporary architecture. It has three connected sections with five different levels, with the highest level being the den which overlooks the roof. Floor area of the Shelter is 17,200 square feet.

The study wing section has two floors just alike. Eleven three-man study rooms on each floor in addition to a drinking fountain, two 20-man sleeping porches with outlets for electric blankets, telephone booth, linen closet, janitor supply room, and washroom with six washbasins, three toilets, two urinals, and four shower heads.

Desks and wardrobes are built-ins. Each five-foot desk has six electrical outlets, bookshelf, cork bulletin board, pencil drawer, and file drawer. Storage is available with a five-shelf storage unit in each room and on top of the wardrobes on both sides of the room.

The center section of the house has the main entry way that leads to the living room, dining room, study wing, housemother's room, or to the half-covered, half-opened patio. The outside patio has steps leading either to the downstairs play area or to the dining room, both located in the third section.

Also located in the center section is the housemother's quarters with living room, bedroom, private bath, outside and inside entry, and the main phone booth, women's powder room, mail room, and coat racks.

The third section has a dining room which can seat 80 persons and a kitchen with formica and stainless steel work tops, dishwasher, numerous built-ins, gas range, telephone, roughed in plumbing for the addition of a commercial garbage disposal unit, and two storage areas. On the lower floor of the third section, one can find a janitorial closet, cook's day room with private toilet, recreation room, typing rooms, canteen, and a special room for the manager's use.

The chapter room can be reached through folding doors and steps which lead off from the recreation room. When not in use for meetings, this level can be set up for use for house dances, along with the recreation room.

A large "project" room, furnace room, luggage storage area, and laundry are located in the main basement area.

Fireplaces are found in the living room, the den, and the chapter room. Large laminated beams go through the living and dining rooms. Mahogany paneling is evident on the study room clothes closets, study room hallways, and the den. Wiring is installed for an intercommunications system between each room and the main living areas.

The new Shelter was constructed on a 125 foot by 200 foot part of the lot. The remaining grounds will be developed into a parking lot and a basketball court. Another major job planned for this spring will be landscaping the area with lawn planting the first objective on the list.

It is truly a marvelous Shelter.

House Corporation members who spent hours in meetings and planning were Marc Corwin, Clair Young, Jack McLaughlin, Ian Robertson, and Don Eckman. Working on the fund-raising campaign were Marion Headley, Robert Scott, and Doug Beito, for Delta Lambda alumni, and Paul Eckelman, alumnus from Gamma Rho Chapter

Northwestern Adds New Look To Historic Home

Remodeled porch and entry blend modern and tradition for Beta Pi Shelter.

Living room lounge.

New dining room.

THE POST-WAR era has given colleges and universities throughout the land the problem of increasing classrooms, staffs, and housing to accommodate the ever increasing numbers of students. Such added enrollments have necessarily meant that fraternities are faced with the responsibility of providing for three or four members for every two cared for 20 years ago. Fraternity houses originally built to provide living facilities for 40 to 45 men have been strained to house from 60 to 80 members. Just as many colleges and universities have answered the problem by constructing new and larger dormitories, many fraternity chapters have resorted to erecting new and larger chapter houses.

Beta Pi Chapter at Northwestern University was not excluded from the list of those fraternity chapters finding themselves faced with the problem. Since the chapter was founded in 1893, Beta Pi has had but one Shelter. A solidly constructed house located on one of the most desirable sites on the campus was no longer adequate to serve the chapter's needs. To build a new house would mean sacrificing the desirable frontage on Lake Michigan. It would also entail the expenditure of a large sum of money which the house corporation did not have and would have to obligate itself for to an unsound extent in order to obtain.

The decision to renovate the existing dwelling was made by the Beta Pi House Fund Corporation only after long and careful consideration and investigation. The basic structure was found to be sound and well capable of serving as the base for extensive and complete remodelling. There was no necessity for the hallowed and historic walls to be levelled. The cost of the new construction was set at $150,000. Bob Nord, president of the House Corporation, and fellow committee members began to make necessary plans, including a fund-raising campaign designed to meet a goal of $100,000 of the total amount needed of $150,000.

Construction began late in July of 1957 and was completed for occupancy by the beginning of January. Architect was Beta Pi's own BERTRAM WEBER and Roy Mansfield was the general contractor. The completed interior would lend justification to the belief that one was inside an entirely new house. Though most of the changes were to the interior, there were some significant exterior alterations as well. A new entrance was added, over which is found mounted nine-inch Greek letters of the Fraternity initials. The old, open front porch has been enclosed, with two beautiful picture windows overlooking the campus. This new porch is decorated in a pale green, with tile floors, paneling, and furnished with wrought iron furniture with plastic upholstery. This room is now used primarily for card games and viewing television.

Several rooms in the former house have been replaced in the new Shelter, including the kitchen, dining room, card, and music rooms. The space formerly occupied by these rooms has now been changed into a huge lounge and social room. The lounge is decorated in beige and with a natural wood paneling. It is furnished with leather sofas, mahogany tables, and blending lamps. The fireplace has been reconstructed in exquisite marble. The installation of a new hi-fi system provides music through speakers located in the lounge, social room, and lower-level dining room.

The old dining room now constitutes part of the lounge-social room and has a large rug which can easily be rolled back to provide a dancing area. This room, like the main lounge, has beige walls, natural wood paneling, and a large, enamel colored Delta Tau Delta crest on the wall.

Quarters have been provided for a housemother on the first floor. This space was formerly occupied by the old card room and kitchen. The housemother's bedroom is finished in pale pink and is complemented with a sitting room decorated in soft colors. Both rooms have been furnished with matching furniture.

Upon entering the house one immediately sees the new entrance-stairs to the lower-level dining room and adjoining kitchen. Hawaiian paneling and shaded tiles highlight the dining room which has two actual windows and two false picture windows which can be lighted to show the lake and mountain scenes depicted. There is also a fireplace in the dining room with raised hearth. The room is furnished with circular tables and cap-tain chairs.

Adjacent to the dining room is the new kitchen. The room features the most modern equipment available for use in an ideal fraternity house. There is adequate storage space and counters providing facilities for both preparation and serving of food.

Perhaps the most pleasing new feature to the Beta Pi undergraduates is found in the upstairs room arrangement. The old "dorm" system is a thing of the past. It has been replaced with the much more popular and convenient "suite system." The new system provides a large study room with adjacent sleeping room with three men assigned to each suite. The rooms have tile floors, pull drapes, and newly painted walls. Metal doors and acoustical tile ceilings help reduce noise. The rooms are to be refurnished with desks, chairs, etc., to complement the new decorations.

The decorating and new furniture throughout the Shelter were provided by Marshall Field & Company. Joint committees of the House Corporation and undergraduates helped make the selections.

One of the finest new additions is not a structural one. For the first time in its history Beta Pi now has a full-time housemother, and a most welcome addition she is. Beta Pi was most fortunate in obtaining the services of Mrs. FRED B. MANN to fill this new position. Mrs. Mann comes to Northwestern following 12 years' experience as a resident housemother on the campus of DePauw University. It is anticipated that Mrs. Mann will be a great help in the development of social graces as well as making it possible for the Beta Pi Delts to have house parties and additional activities not permitted those social groups not fortunate enough to have a resident housemother.

It is entirely fitting and in keeping with the occasion that Beta Pi Chapter saw fit to have a celebration commemorating the completion of its new Shelter. Plans for such celebration were not hastily drawn. Chairman DAVE TOMPKINS, a junior, and his committee spent many weeks in preparation for the events which were spread out over a three-day period the week end of February 14, 15, and 16. More than 1300 invitations were sent to alumni, faculty and student groups, and fraternity officers and leaders. A special booklet was edited and prepared to distribute to the guests relating the full story of the new chapter house. The book was entitled Welcome to the Delt's New Home. These careful preparations, plus the fine co-operation and hard work of the entire undergraduate chapter, resulted in hundreds of guests being made welcome to the Shelter over the week end.

Festivities were formally opened at four o'clock Friday afternoon, February 14, by Dr. J. ROSCOE MILLER, president of Northwestern University, who officiated at the ribbon-cutting ceremony. A reception followed at which event the Delts formally presented their new housemother, Mrs. Mann, to University officials, faculty, counselors, fraternity and sorority presidents, and other campus housemothers.

On Saturday afternoon the Shelter was the scene of a housewarming to which was invited the entire Northwestern student body and faculty. Many presidents of other Delta Tau Delta undergraduate chapters were also in attendance. The official host for this affair was JEFF McCULLOUGH.

Saturday evening at 6:00 p.m. the men of Beta Pi extended their appreciation to the Beta Pi alumni at a banquet held in the remodelled dining room. Steve Fitzsimmons, president of Beta Pi Chapter, served as the official host for the banquet. The undergraduates were entertained and amazed by the tales of adventures and activities of the past as recounted by those alumni in attendance. It was pleasing to the undergraduates to hear expressions of pleasure from the alumni as to the changes and additions made in the Shelter.

Sunday morning witnessed the initiation of 20 new men into Beta Pi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta. To these men the honor of being the first in-

Get Ready for Pittsburgh . . .

The Centennial Karnea Shapes Up

By WILLIAM P. RAINES, Pittsburgh, '48

TAKE A CENTENNIAL birthday, a fine program of entertainment, a parade of nationally-known business, government, and professional leaders, a series of productive business sessions and thought-provoking round table discussions, an inspiring memorial service, luncheons, barbecues, dances, and banquets—blend them with a major city's 200th anniversary celebration, and you have the ingredients for the Pittsburgh Karnea—the greatest of them all.

As the key dates of August 19-23 loom close, General Chairman NORMAN MACLEOD and the more than 150 members of his committee are putting the final touches on plans for the Centennial Karnea.

Opening on Tuesday evening, August 19, with a memorial service at beautiful Heinz Chapel on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh, the Karnea will move swiftly through a record-breaking five days of business sessions, round-table conferences, luncheon and dinner programs, interspersed with sports and entertainment.

Wednesday evening will bring the traditional model initiation, conducted by a crack team of undergraduates, followed by a centennial smoker at Hotel Penn-Sheraton—headquarters for the Karnea. HUGH SHIELDS, Executive Vice-President of the Fraternity, currently is doubling as a "talent scout" and promises to produce at the smoker and succeeding Karnea events an undergraduate Delt Glee Club second to none.

On Thursday, the Karnea will reach a high light in the centennial recognition luncheon. Here Delt notables from government, the ministry, law, medicine, education, the military, business, and industry will be honored for their contributions to the life of the nation as well as the Fraternity.

Plans for Thursday evening are not yet complete, but tentatively call for an inspection of the new Delta Beta Chapter Shelter being built on the campus of Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh's Oakland Civic Center.

RAINES, ROBERT CAMPE, JACK BRAND, and JACK KELSO.

PITT STUDENTS RELAX at the University of Pittsburgh's Wildwood Recreation Center, where Delts attending the Centennial Karnea will take over on August 22 for an afternoon of golf, tennis, and swimming, followed by an outdoor barbeque and dance.

PITTSBURGH AT NIGHT shines like a beacon directing all Delts to the site of the Centennial Karnea, opening August 19.

Sports and dancing will dominate the program Friday, as the Karnea adjourns to the Wildwood Recreational Center for an afternoon of swimming, golf, and tennis, followed by an outdoor barbecue and dancing to a top Pittsburgh band. Delts who remember the 1937 gathering in Pittsburgh will recall that the outing at Wildwood, then a private country club, was a high point in that Karnea. Now a part of the University of Pittsburgh's athletic plant, the Wildwood Recreational Center boasts a championship 18-hole golf course, a large clubhouse, new tennis courts, and a fine swimming pool, all in the midst of 30 acres of beautiful Pennsylvania woodland.

Saturday, August 23, will bring the Centennial Karnea to a grand close with division luncheons, the closing business session, and the Karnea Banquet in the Main Ballroom of the Penn-Sheraton. Tentative acceptances of speak at the Banquet have been received from U. S. Supreme Court Justices TOM C. CLARK, Texas, '22, and WILLIAM J. BRENNEN, Pennsylvania, '28.

Adding to the impact of this attraction-filled Karnea will be the backdrop of Pittsburgh's Bi-Centennial Celebration. Civic and private organizations throughout Western Pennsylvania will join in a year-long festival commemorating the 200th Anniversary of the founding of Pittsburgh during the French and Indian War.

Pittsburgh today is a far cry from the frontier outpost that was rechristened Fort Pitt in 1758. The steel center of the world, its spectacular transformation since World War II from a smoke-ridden, dilapidated area into a model city with open spaces, trees, and pastel-colored skyscrapers, has caught the imagination of city planners and city rebuilders both at home and abroad.

With the double-barreled appeal of the Centennial Karnea program and a city-wide "Open House" celebration, NORM MACLEOD and his Committee extend a hearty invitation to all Delts, young and old, to set their sights now for five wonderful days in Pittsburgh, August 19-23, 1958.

WILL YOU HELP?

A CHANCE TO TAKE part in the Centennial Karnea is one that unquestionably appeals to every Delt undergraduate in our 87 chapters throughout the United States and in Canada.

But to many of these undergraduates, the registration fee, reasonable as it is in today's inflated economy, represents a formidable obstacle in the path that leads to Pittsburgh.

On the other hand, I know that many of you who are Delt alumni, especially if you live some distance from Pittsburgh, may find that the press of business, health or family commitments will make it impossible for you, personally, to attend the Karnea.

Here, then, is how you can help some undergraduate from your chapter to take part in the Karnea and, at the same time, be participating in an important way towards assuring the outstanding success of this, the Fraternity's 100th Birthday Commemoration.

It's MARCH and the weather is cold and blustery, but already the Delt wives are busy with plans and arrangements for what we hope will be a most outstanding program for the women attending the 1958 Karnea in August.

As plans develop and expand, the committee's enthusiasm grows by leaps and bounds in anticipation of a stimulating, exciting and fun-packed holiday in late summer.

We are so proud of the new Pittsburgh and sincerely welcome the opportunity to escort the Delt wives to the many places of interest that this great city offers.

In the next issue of THE RAINBOW, we will reveal the entire ladies' program, and we are convinced that if you have been indecisive about the trip until now—you will immediately start planning to come.

In the meantime, it is with the warmest enthusiasm that we extend a most cordial invitation to Delt wives everywhere to join us this summer in the Golden Triangle of Pittsburgh.

WILL YOU HELP?

Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh 22, Pennsylvania, and tell him that it is for a gift registration for an undergraduate from your chapter, a registration ticket will immediately be sent, in your name, to your chapter. Along with the ticket will go the stipulation that it be awarded by the chapter to an undergraduate on the basis of service to the Fraternity, interest, and general merit.

In the event that your alma mater no longer has a Delt undergraduate chapter, you may designate your gift registration to any one of the 87 active chapters or leave the choice up to the Karnea Committee.

If you act upon this suggestion right now, while school is still in session, your chapter will have plenty of time to award your gift registration.

A centennial anniversary comes only once in a lifetime and I know that every Delt alumnus will want to participate, in some way, towards making the Centennial Karnea an outstanding success. If you can attend in person, wonderful! If you can't make the trip, a gift registration would be a fine expression of your interest and loyalty.

BE AN EARLY BIRD AND SAVE $1.50

C. R. WILSON, treasurer of the Centennial Karnea, has just announced a special "bargain" price on Karnea "package" tickets bought in advance of July 15.

To these "Early Bird" Delts, the complete price of the Karnea, including the registration fee, the centennial banquet, the recognition luncheon, the Wildwood Outing—with bar-b-que, golf, swimming, tennis, and dancing, and the centennial smoker will be only $19.50.

This advance sale price represents a savings of $1.50 under the price of the "package" tickets sold after July 15. It also saves the thrifty Delt $5.50 as compared with the cost of buying individual tickets to each of the Centennial Karnea's events.

To take advantage of the advance price, act now by sending your check for $19.50, payable to "C. R. WILSON, treasurer," to Brother WILSON, c/o Commonwealth Trust Company, 312 Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh 22, Pa. Be sure to include your name and address.

The Centennial Chapter

By EDWIN GERALD DABBS, Texas Tech, '59

IN THE FALL of 1956 a group of ambitious young men of Texas Technological College met to discuss the possibility of forming a new fraternity, and in a little more than a year—on December 7, 1957—the Epsilon Delta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity was installed at Texas Tech. This installation of the 87th and centennial undergraduate chapter of Delta Tau Delta was not the result of haphazard decision and selection, for a great many letters, telephone calls, examinations, and conferences went into the selection of the college by Delta Tau Delta and of the Fraternity by the college group, Tau Delta Tau.

The presentation of the charter by JOHN W. NICHOLS, Oklahoma, '36, Secretary of Alumni, to JOE DALE BRYAN, past president of Tau Delta Tau, and JERRY LEON MARTIN, president of the Epsilon Delta Chapter, marked the climax of the short but eventful history of Tau Delta Tau. The group was formed without a name and without official recognition; they became jokingly known as the "Rho Rho's" or the "Road Runners." In January of 1957 JOHN NICHOLS, Secretary of Alumni, and HUGH SHIELDS, Executive Vice-President, of Delta Tau Delta, visited the Texas Tech campus in response to an invitation extended to them by Dean JAMES G. ALLEN, Dean of Student Life of the College. The visit proved profitable to both Tau Delta Tau and the Fraternity officers. Much was learned about Delta Tau Delta, and an enthusiastic, unanimous vote in favor of petitioning the Fraternity for a charter was taken. On February 6, 1957, Tau Delta Tau social fraternity was officially recognized by the Board of Student Organizations of Texas Tech.

After official recognition, Tau Delta Tau began preparing its petition and making plans for social events for the spring and fall semesters of 1957. Plans were also made for participating in the spring rush. Everyone was busy but happy because they at last had a name.

All possible preparations were made prior to the granting of the charter. Contacts were made with alumni of the city who could assist with organization and other problems which might arise after the granting of the charter. These alumni who later formed the Epsilon Delta House Corporation include JOE M. JENKINS, Texas, '46; ROBERT C. GOODWIN, Texas, '18; HOLLIS D. KEYS, Kansas, '21; MALCOLM J. KUTNER, Texas, '42; and F. ALTON WADE, Kenyon, '25. This group became very instrumental in making arrangements for the purchase of land in the proposed Greek Row.

The spring rush was very successful as a result of hard, concentrated rushing and the prospect of membership in Delta Tau Delta. Education of the pledges and members of Tau Delta Tau in the history and ideals of Delta Tau Delta was begun by Pledge Trainer NORRIS GREEN.

The Tau Deltas, as the group was known, participated in many activities for the purpose of becoming known on the campus, but primarily for the purpose of drawing the brothers of Tau Delta Tau closer together. Through these activities and working together toward a common goal, a foundation was laid which would be strong enough to support the responsibility and privileges of becoming a chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

On April 27, 1957, Dean Allen received a telephone call from Hugh Shields, notifying him that Tau Delta Tau Fraternity had been granted a charter by the Arch Chapter of Delta Tau Delta. For the members and pledges, this event was the realization of a dream and the beginning of another—being initiated into Delta Tau Delta.

Dreaming was certainly not the only activity of the men of Tau Delta Tau, for they began making plans for the coming year's many activities. Pledge manuals and copies of the Fraternity songs were received from the Central Office, and these were studied in order to become as acquainted as possible with the organization and traditions of Delta Tau Delta. Another important event was acquiring another good pledge class during a special rush granted to Tau Delta Tau by the interfraternity council.

After a great deal of summer planning headed by the Tau Delt's new president, JERRY MARTIN, the job of preparing for the December installation activities was well under way. Field Secretary JACK McCLENNY arrived in Lubbock in early November for the purpose of making the final plans and arrangements for the installation program. He conferred with the alumni group and with the chairmen of the various installation committees: MORRIS R. SCALES, CHARLES W. SMITH, WAYNE LAMBERT, DONALD J. GRIMES, and E. GERALD DABBS. Mr. McCleNNy also conferred with members of the school administration as a part of completing the final details.

The aid and co-operation which had been given Tau Delta Tau by the students and administration of Texas Tech was evidenced further. The Public Information Office and the school paper, The Toreador, were very helpful in publicizing the events of the coming installation. The ten sororities on the campus were very helpful in providing hostesses for the reception and dates for the visiting Deltas. The Student Union Building was made available for the registration of the visiting actives and alumni. Registration began on Friday evening, December 6, with the registration of the delegates of Epsilon Beta Chapter, Texas Christian University.

December 7, the big day, finally arrived, the day beginning with the registration of Deltas from Delta Alpha Chapter (University of Oklahoma), Epsilon Chi Chapter (Oklahoma State University), and Gamma Iota Chapter (University of Texas). Adding to the delegates were alumni from all parts of Texas and surrounding area. The arrival of Executive Vice-President HUGH SHIELDS, EDWIN H. HUGHES, III, DePauw, '43, Editor of THE RAINBOW; GEORGE A. FISHER, JR., Purdue, '33, President of the Western Division; and JOHN NICHOLS completed the list of Delt guests. President FRANCIS M. HUGHES, Ohio Wesleyan, '31, was forced to remain in Indianapolis due to a sudden illness.

The initiation ceremony for the charter members-elect was conducted on Saturday afternoon at the First Christian Church of Lubbock. The initiating teams were composed of: Brothers JAMES L. HALL, JR., PAUL R. MCDANIEL, RICHARD E. DIXON, F. WARREN MOORE, II, JIMMIE D. WOIFENBERGER, DONALD E. TREPS, WILLIAM W. NELSON, and CHARLES M. ELLET, of Delta Alpha Chapter; Brothers FRANK E. ROSS, VERNON F. HADDOX, JR., DONALD E. FINE, CHARLES P. DI IORIO, THOMAS C. JONES, EDMUND L. BARNES, JR., DENIS I. KEARNEY, EDWARD L. HEALD, and DEWEY H. RUTLEDGE, of Delta Chi Chapter; and Brothers MYRL L. MOORE, ROBERT H. ROCK, PAUL J. YOUNGDALE, JR., MICHAEL M. EBERSOLE, JOHN R. HANKINS, FREDERIC F. FORREST, JR., TODD W. OVERTON, THOMAS W. SCHMIDT, and HAROLD W. KEY, JR., of Epsilon Beta Chapter.

The charter members receiving Delt badges were: JERRY LEON MARTIN, JOE DALE BRYAN, KENNETH BICK BASS, EDWIN GERALD DABBS, CHARLES

A gala banquet at the First Methodist Church followed the installation. After the invocation by Dr. DUDLEY STRAIN, pastor of the First Christian Church, Lubbock, JOE JENKINS, president of the Epsilon Delta House Corporation, introduced JOHN B. POPE, Texas, '34, as toastmaster. Distinguished guests and alumni were introduced by the toastmaster.

After the brief introductions, the membership certificates were presented to the charter members by Western Division President GEORGE A. FISHER. This individual presentation was followed by the presentation of the charter by JOHN W. NICHOLS to JOE DALE BRYAN and JERRY L. MARTIN. At this time Brother Nichols said, "The granting of this charter forms another link in a chain that extends across the continent, and as charter members you assume a significant role in the history of Delta Tau Delta. Accept this charter with responsibility, guard it with courage, and honor it with loyalty."

Salutatories were offered by Dean ALLEN and his assistant, Dean JAMES B. WHITEHEAD. They recalled the short history of Tau Delta Tau and pledged Texas Tech's faith and respect to Delta Tau Delta and its newest chapter.

Dr. E. N. JONES, President of Texas Technological College, was then introduced by Toastmaster POPE. He spoke on the young fraternity system at Tech, and the reasons for the absence of fraternity housing. He discussed the plans for the new Greek Row which will consist of lodges belonging to the fraternities and sororities. Dr. Jones also extended his welcome and best wishes to the Fraternity and initiates of Epsilon Delta.

The principal speaker of the evening was EDWIN H. HUGHES, III, Editor of THE RAINBOW, who spoke of the necessity for abstinence from mediocrity, both as a group and as individuals. When speaking of Delta Tau Delta, Brother Hughes stated, "Delta Tau Delta makes no concessions to mediocrity. It is neither the oldest nor the largest national fraternity, but Delta Tau Delta is one of the oldest and certainly one of the best. We did not achieve this through any mediocre performance or standards. This national standing came from historic determination, on the part of members of Delta Tau Delta, to be satisfied with nothing less than the very best. Delta Tau Delta has not grown to its present position by being satisfied by mediocrity."

The banquet was concluded and the remainder of the evening was spent enjoying the Installation Ball which was held in the Fair Park Coliseum. Delts and their guests danced to the music of a local orchestra under a false ceiling of white with huge rainbows filling the four corners. Dates for the visiting Delts were arranged by the new brothers of Epsilon Delta. The Installation Ball was certainly a fitting climax for a very exciting and eventful day.

The festivities were ended for most of the visiting Delts, but a campus-wide reception was held Sunday afternoon in the Ballroom of the Hotel Lubbock honoring the new charter members of Epsilon Delta Chapter. Many old and new friends of the Delts attended, including administrators and students of the College and parents of the initiates.

The following Wednesday, a pledge-

Undergraduates and Alumni Express Opinions on Matters Of Fraternal Interest

Following the first appearance of "I Believe" in the December issue of THE RAINBOW, we received several letters evidencing interest in, and approval of, this type feature in our magazine. Several of these letters made suggestions and requests for future subjects to be discussed in this manner. Among these suggestions was the request that pledge training be treated. Another suggestion was to include the subject of the importance and the value of the Karnea. These two subjects, then, will furnish the basis for the articles in this issue and in the June issue of THE RAINBOW.

Our contributors in this issue are three undergraduates and one alum-nessful chapter operation of the chapters represented by these Deltas. There is much to benefit the chapter which has experienced difficulty in the success of its pledge training program in reading these articles and following the suggestions and seeking the aims and results as herein set forth.

C. DAVID TOMPKINS

The four articles are presented according to alphabetical listing by authors' names. We thank Kentucky's John Hampton, Chapter Adviser William F. Reichert of Allegheny, Northwestern's Dave Tompkins, and Baker's Lauren Wilson for taking time from busy schedules to share with us their thoughts and opinions on this subject of such basic interest and vital concern to all chapters of Delta Tau Delta.

JOHN L. HAMPTON, JR., Kentucky

The ultimate purpose of a pledge training program should be to produce individuals who are aware of their fraternity's principles and their responsibility to Delta Tau Delta, and who are able to think and act maturely. These objectives, while rather general in nature, encompass many specific things which go into making a well-rounded individual.

Men who are just entering college are usually anxious to conform to the standards set by their associates, assuming that those standards are acceptable. After pledging, they will usually adopt the general habits of the chapter, and it is here that the chapter's greatest opportunity lies. By guiding the pledges during those crucial first months, a chapter can either begin their development or allow them to adopt habits which will be to their detriment, now and in the future.

One facet of the pledge training program should emphasize the importance of scholarship, both to the individual and to the Fraternity. While some pledges will study without any prodding, there are always some who must have encouragement or help—or both. I think that the pledge's "big brother" can be an immense help in this respect. We try to let each pledge have a big brother who is in the same field of study, if possible. And early in the year the active members sign a tutoring list which is then given to the pledges. If the big brother cannot give the pledge assistance in any particular course, he is usually able to find someone in the chapter who can do so.

I am opposed to all forms of hazing, and I think it has no place in a Delt pledge training program. Physical mistreatment is no way to gain a pledge's respect or to impress upon him the fact that the Fraternity exists "for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity." Any form of hazing which degrades a pledge or exposes him (and thus the Fraternity) to public embarrassment serves no purpose other than to detract from the Fraternity's constructive efforts.

An educational pledge training program should be the norm, in my opinion, for Delta Tau Delta. If the pledges are taught the standards and nus—a chapter adviser. The very nature of pledge training is such that it can be more timely discussed by those closest to it, the present undergraduates. We were very much impressed by all four articles. We feel that they demonstrate a great deal of mature, carefully considered thought on the part of their authors. Our conclusion is further substantiated by the record of accomplishment and suctraditions of the Fraternity, and if the active members uphold them in every instance, then the result will almost certainly be the desirable one: that of molding men able to meet problems and think through them intelligently. This cannot be achieved if the paddle is the means used to gain compliance with chapter policy.

Since meeting people socially is one of the determinants of a college man's success, a portion of the pledge program should include stress on the basic etiquette outlined in the pledge manual. This has long been a part of our chapter's pledge training, and as a result the names "Delt" and "gentleman" have become synonymous in the community as well as on campus. The pledge (or brother) who fails to stand when a lady enters the room knows that someone will mention it to him later.

One of the greatest hazards to a pledge training program is apathy on the part of the active members. If the pledge trainer lays down the law, his decisions should be backed up by unanimity in the chapter hall. Implicit in this, of course, is the fact that the pledge trainer must be a person in whom the chapter has the utmost confidence, and whose decisions will be sound.

I think the pledge trainer should be an older member of the chapter, in age and tenure, and he should possess not only a devotion to the Fraternity but a thorough knowledge of its history and traditions and adhere strictly to its beliefs. Since he is more intimately connected with the pledges as a whole than any other member, many of their impressions of the Fraternity are going to depend on his attitude and his presentation of ideas. It is imperative that he be well-grounded in his knowledge of the Fraternity, and that his program be planned and executed with decisiveness.

As a past pledge trainer, I found it better to allow the pledge officers to conduct their own meetings with the exception of the lesson, which I gave each week. I intervened only to clarify points of information or to correct some infraction of parliamentary usage. Thus, when the pledges were initiated, they were accustomed to orderly meetings and their participation in meetings was thereby facilitated.

I believe that a pledge committee, or board, can be a successful implement for closer co-operation between pledges and active members. Our chapter has a pledge board, consisting of four officers and four members from the chapter at large. We periodically schedule, on short notice and without explanation of its purpose, a meeting of the board. The pledges are required to appear, in coat and tie, individually before the board. Each pledge is asked for his candid opinion of the Fraternity and its various programs, including this pledge training program, and he is free to criticize anything he so desires. We answer any questions he may have concerning the operation or policies of the chapter.

If complaints have been made about a pledge's conduct, he is apprised of them and told to correct his mistake. If, on the other hand, he has done something which merits praise, he is complimented on behalf of the chapter. These board sessions have been of real value in evaluating our pledge training program, as well as other aspects of the chapter's activities.

It is evident that the Fraternity cannot expect the pledge to give everything and expect nothing in return. Aside from the intimate friends made through fraternal associations, the Fraternity should offer other advantages. It is obligated to do everything possible to encourage individual self-development, to promote scholastic achievement, and to offer a source of mature guidance toward these goals. The Fraternity is in effect a mold into which a pledge may place himself with the belief that its ideals and aspirations are concomitant with his.

Whether the product of this mold is a successful, mature individual or a frivolous, irresponsible one is largely determined by the criteria on which the pledge training program is based.

C. D. TOMPKINS Northwestern, '59

There is no area in a fraternity that reflects the attitude of the chapter toward fraternity life more than pledge training. In our program we incorporate all of our values and beliefs as fraternity men. There is probably no single factor which affects the future of a chapter more keenly than the orientation of pledges into the organization. Yet we find that many of our chapters fail to realize the importance and need for a high quality program. Often chapter difficulties can be directly traced to the training that we have given our new members. As in any aspect of the Fraternity we must constantly re-evaluate and rework our programs to effect the very finest chapter. This is true of pledge training and consideration of our program is needed to maintain our leadership as a great national fraternity.

The goals of our program should readily complement the academic education of our new members. An attitude of training the pledge to develop himself to his fullest potential combined with a willingness to assist him in his difficulties will produce a good fraternity man. Our job is to orient him to college life and integrate him into the social membership of our chapter. If we view pledging as a beginning of a long period of self-development which extends beyond the initiation, we will help the pledge begin his preparation for a successful and useful life. The college fraternity, and especially pledge training, can be an important component of the board education that is not gained entirely from the books. This type of training will prepare our members for their entrance into the professional or business world.

In a program that is designed to train the pledge and work with him, we as an active chapter should maintain certain attitudes that will heighten the success of our program.

The first of these attitudes which is often forgotten, yet important, is that a pledge is a human being. He can think. He can reason. He can forget. Treatment of the pledge as a rational being will net a stronger and more permanent feeling of responsibility towards the Fraternity. As a rational being the pledge can readily see the inconsistencies in our program. For a person in the chapter to demand good manners of the pledges while the active has no manners is like a drunk demanding abstinence from his son. A constant help in planning our program will be this simple fact that the pledge is human and should be treated as such.

The second attitude that will guide us in our program is to view the pledge as a student; that is, his major objective in school is to gain an academic education. We as actives can help the new student in his adjustment to college and encourage his development of intellectual curiosity. But in our planning we must always bear in mind that he is a student and gear our programs so that they will not interfere with his academic welfare. A man may be a real asset to the group, but if he flunks out of school, he is himself a failure and no longer any help to the Fraternity.

The third attitude that can guide us in the integration of new members is to focus the new member into the role of pledges. In this we have the responsibility of preparing him to merit the secrets of Delta Tau Delta. Only by a thorough knowledge of the ideals, traditions, and organization of the Fraternity, can a man be a sound member. We do want the pledges to form a solid, well-knit group. Yet in this unity we must take care not to expect a conformist of each pledge in total personality; that is, we must recognize individual differences, and only demand a degree of conformity from each pledge necessary for the successful operation of a fraternity.

These attitudes can guide our planning of a program. The next need is to stress ideals in pledging which we want the pledge to become well acquainted with in his development. These can be lumped into what we call "The Delt Way" of pledge training.

Scholarship is the first and foremost trait to be developed in a pledge. It is our responsibility to recognize and encourage good scholarship. We may have a man who will have academic difficulty and it becomes our responsibility to give him the needed help so he will not become a liability to the chapter. We cannot generate good scholarship if we teach our pledges to cheat or tell them just to get away with as little work as possible. Generally, the best pledge classes have excellent scholarship which then carries into the chapter.

The second area that we should stress in our program is that of the individual development of the pledge. Encouragement of the pledge to become familiar with all facets of the Fraternity will equip him to be a more faithful active and, we hope, share in the responsibility by holding chapter office. Develop a pride in the reputation and activities of the group by the sharing of such with the pledge. We should emphasize individual achievement and distinction in athletics, school politics, other extracurriculars, and in house activities and the importance of these. By this development we hope to improve chapter reputation and give the man special recognition for his accomplishments. Later in his life we hope the pledge will continue to be a credit to the Fraternity by distinction in his chosen vocation. Here we must show our pledges the need for respect for each other as persons regardless of interest in athletics, activities, or other phases of campus life. The man must learn to live and work with the brothers for the good of the chapter.

Social development is the third aspect that we must stress to the pledge. Basically the college fraternity is a social unit in which we offer a well-planned social program to our members. We can encourage the social development of the pledge by showing the best of manners and demonstrating grooming in our daily activities. We can aid the man in his social life by helping with pledge parties, encouraging dating, providing rides, and teaching proper decorum. We hope to train our members to be socially comfortable in any situation in which they may find themselves. This ability to adapt socially and be at ease is so important in the business world and generally determines, in part, the success of a man in his chosen profession.

With our basic philosophy of pledge training as a training-education for life, combined with our attitudes and areas of concentration, we must then look to our methods. This is probably where most chapters violate our fraternal, moral, and ethical codes. Consider pledge discipline, its effects and objectives. One type of pledge discipline which often brings discredit to the fraternity system is the harsh mental or physical treatment, sometimes inhumane, hazing of the pledge. How can we treat a pledge one day as dirt under our feet and the next day after initiation, shake his hand and call him brother? If we make the period of pledging an unhappy, possibly even traumatic experience, for the man, can he respect the ideals of our Fraternity or does he simply fear the brute force? Often when we can not gain respect, we proceed to beat the pledges and satisfy our sadistic feelings. Can you beat a man into fulfilling his obligation as a pledge and expect him to fulfill his obligation as an active minus the hazing? This treatment reflects the often heard phrase: "I went thru it, so can he." This attitude does not bring good training or development for the pledge, and after initiation we find the new active with an attitude that he has earned through toil his right to the Badge and, therefore, has no more improving or work to do for the Fraternity. As we can see, such an attitude will not help maintain a good fraternity.

I do not mean to suggest a weak or "sissy" program, for this will lead to a lazy chapter. We can begin with the assumption that a pledge wants to improve, and if he doesn't, we don't want him. Considering this assumption, a pledge would be insulted if he were not disciplined and constructively instructed in methods of improvement and growth as an individual. Our program has to have real teeth. We should demand the highest standards of our pledges, enforce all our rules, and make the pledges aware of their responsibility to the Fraternity. We should view the pledging period as one of trial or probation in which the man develops and proves his worth to the chapter before being given the rights to the secrets of Delta Tau Delta. We can work our pledge disciplining through various methods depending upon the chapter, but if all attempts to improve the pledge fail, then depledge him. Men who show the right attitudes as pledges make good actives. Above all, use a rational approach toward getting results with your men. Let us never forget our principles in attempting to educate the man in principles.

Probably the best method of getting results with a pledge class is to develop a high level of rapport with the pledges. By becoming close to them we can help, criticize, work with them, and get to know and understand them better as individuals. This sense of brotherhood is the very strength of the Fraternity.

The best method of preparing a man to be a Delt is to have him become acquainted with the men of the chapter and become well indoctrinated in the "Delt Way" by the power of example. Let's not have a pledge program with the basic idea: "Do as I say, not as I do."

Only by excellent pledge training can we have a good chapter. Only we, the members, can insist upon the type of training which will give future leadership to our chapter. If we constantly evaluate, discuss, and reconstruct our program, then we will succeed in our goals. The best guide for orientation of new brothers into Delta Tau Delta can be found in the words of the Delt Creed: "I believe in Delta Tau Delta as an abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self-respect, and bring about that happy life wherein I may more truly love my fellow men, serve my country, and obey my God."

Chapter officers aware of their responsibilities and also resolved to live up to them start the pledge through an educational process early so that the candidate will enter the chapter hall for the first time fully mindful of the step he is taking. They must also prepare him to understand the teachings exemplified by the Ritual, to enable him to enter promptly into the responsibilities of active chapter membership, and to start his life-long Fraternity service.

Well-laid plans for rushing lead to a successful rush week. But what then? Does a chapter have "the best pledge group on the campus" merely around the house in the weeks before initiation? Some Greek-letter fraternity chapters probably do. But the chapter which is tops and means to stay there, or the chapter fighting for a better position on its campus, cannot afford to let its pledges enter the initiation ceremony ignorant of the meaning of the word fraternity, lacking in thought about the goals of the fraternity to which they are about to swear lasting allegiance, or without information concerning the group with which they will be associated closely for several years.

Evidences of the physical suppression method of training are still present, but to a waning degree. Experience over the years has proved this method to be inferior to the pledge education concept. It is Delta Tau Delta's gain that her leaders have long recognized the superior advantages of pledge education over so-called pledge humbleness, and the evolutionary growth of The Delt Development Program serves to point out that Delta Tau Delta has educated herself in the ways of determining better methods. The present one is adequate only temporarily and will be the basis for the next one.

In a very brief span of time, the rushing season, chapter members undertake to select the best prospects from a large group. During the same brief span the student sought by several fraternity groups has to make his best choice. And all too soon, at the pledging ceremony, pledges and actives face each other—individuals on one hand and an organized group on the other. All have to be molded into one. The new pledge has come up against a type of organization different from any he has known before, and because of the peculiarity of the college fraternity, we can almost say different from any he will ever know in the future. The educational process serves as a means to adapt the pledge to active chapter membership. The degree to which he develops into a good Delt depends on four vital factors: the program prepared for him, the seriousness with which it is offered by the pledge training committee, the respect the active chapter confers upon it, and his acceptance of that program.

Delta Tau Delta is a democratic body, governed by the principles of delegated authority to its officers and majority rules by its chapter and national legislative units. It is never too early to start pledge instruction concerning these tenets through pledge class organization. Here the differences in talent, interest, and acceptance of responsibility will become apparent, and the beginning of a chapter organization several years hence is under way.

The operating policies of a Delt Chapter treasury are a vital lesson for every pledge—not to be restricted to possible future treasurers. The fact that a chapter budget must be suitable for one year's operations, and that those operations have to conform to a sensibly estimated budget, should be paramount in the neophyte's comprehension of chapter activities. The teaching of sound financial policy is invaluable, not only in undergraduate years, but in later life, too. Specifically, he must be taught that the chapter cannot live off the "fat" of previous years, nor should it leave a "lean" treasury for the future.

Whatever the student's scholastic difficulties before pledging, corrective measures should start during pledge training. The idea of good scholarship paying off in later years, the best methods of mastering course material easily, and the thought of helping a brother in an area of knowledge he finds difficult—all these find their best root in the period between pledging and initiation.

Second to scholarship, the pledge must be taught the value of participation in group efforts such as athletics, publications, student government, and other activities. The pledge must be inculcated with the desire to enhance his chapter's good name, as well as his own welfare. He must be taught that his chapter's campus rating is a major part of the "why" he enters into efforts outside the classroom.

The financially sound chapter with scholastically capable men in extra-curricular positions is the chapter which will pledge good men. Good men not only develop into top men, but as pledges they will be most receptive to an excellent Delt Development Program.

By LAUREN WILSON, Baker

The molding of a group of "green" freshmen into a unified pledge class is one of the biggest jobs confronting an undergraduate chapter. This molding can be greatly facilitated by careful selection of the pledge class members, with two basic ideas in mind: 1) Does he have the raw potential, that with the guidance of the active chapter he can become a good Delt, and 2) Is he the type of individual who will fit in with the other men pledged?

When a chapter has filled its pledge class with this type of men, the real work begins.

Few new students realize the strength and depth of a fraternity. To most of them a fraternity is little more than a rooming house. This outlook presents a challenge to the active members. They must, in one semester's time, overcome these thoughts and replace them with wholesome ideals of the Fraternity. During the pledgeship, the pledges must be taught to work together, each as a vital part of the whole. They must be treated by the chapter as one group, but each individual must get the feeling of his own importance. This feeling of individual importance is vital as is well brought out in our Delt Development Program through the use of father-son relationships. The fraternity father is the one place where a pledge can take his problems, whether fraternal, scholastic, or social, and, without worry of ridicule, get them thoroughly discussed. This feeling of confidence is essential for the pledge and is most effective if he has a hand in the selection of his fraternity father. The trust and understanding is greatly facilitated when there is mutual agreement between them.

In the construction of the pledge policy the chapter must strive for clearness and consistency. The policy should state precisely what the chapter's attitude toward the pledgship is and then should be borne out by each active. When each pledge can grasp some definite goals to strive for, pledge life becomes easier. The chapter should carefully plan its response to all pledge activity and should always have a definite purpose supporting its every action. "Busywork" projects have little value in pledge education. The time of pledgship should be a period of learning and not one of drudgery. The pledge should always be looking forward to his primary goal, initiation.

Next to the president, the selection of the pledge trainer is probably the most important of all chapter offices. He is the connecting link between the active chapter and the pledge class. He must be a qualified leader, capable of operating a business meeting and possessing the ability of putting his thoughts into words. He must also be well versed in the rules, history, and knowledge of the Fraternity. Above all, he must command the respect of both the active chapter and the pledge class. The pledge trainer should consistently maintain satisfactory scholarship and participation in campus affairs. If he fails to uphold that which he is teaching the pledges, their feeling of confidence will be shattered. He must always treat the pledge class as a group of men and be as fair to them as possible. The pledge trainer is to the pledge class as a fraternity father is to his son. The primary goal of the pledge trainer should be inspirational training. This is even more important than a complete knowledge of Fraternity structure. If the pledge does not acquire a feeling of spirit during his days of pledghood, it is quite likely that he will never achieve it while an active.

During this pledgship, the active chapter has many opportunities to build the type of individual that it wants as an active member. Its policy toward pledges should be one of betterment of each individual and should instill in each the feeling of confidence. Social poise, friendship, good mental attitude, and maturity are all to be gained by a properly administered pledge policy.

In the June issue we plan to have a discussion of the importance and value of the Karnea. We hope to hear from Karnea "Hounds" as well as those who have not had the opportunity of such frequent Karnea attendance. The reminiscences of these men will surely give all of us a new and deeper appreciation and evaluation of Karnea experiences.

Georgia Tech Housemother Honored

By BAYLEY R. WALKER, Gamma Psi

Mrs. J. E. Wilson first became Gamma Psi's housemother in 1947. She is the only one the chapter has ever had.

To celebrate her 10th anniversary the undergraduates and alumni held a surprise party for Mother Wilson at the Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta. She thought she was being escorted to an after-the-game party. Much to her surprise she was taken to the head table to enjoy the dinner-dance, complete with orchestra and a speech by the dean, held in her honor. Her three sons and daughter came from New York and Tennessee for the party.

Mrs. Wilson was presented with a silver service and a check, but perhaps the gift dearest of all to her was the love of her boys as they sang to her, "You're My Delta Queen."

Word has been received that HOWARD E. AHLKOG, Idaho, '38, has been appointed supervisor of the 2,623,700-acre Boise, Idaho, National Forest. This is a significant promotion for Brother Ahlskog who was previously supervisor of the Kootenai National Forest at Libby, Montana. The Boise National Forest constitutes part of the famous Idaho primitive area. Brother Ahlskog takes over his new duties on March 1, and will make his headquarters in Boise, Idaho.

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Alabama

The Alabama Deltas held the annual Bowery Ball recently and it turned out to be the most successful party held on the campus for sometime. Recording Star Sammy Salvo and his band furnished music and the party was attended by a large number of alumni as well as many rushees.

Speaking of alumni always will make the chapter think of the 1957 homecoming, for it was attended by many brothers. Gordon Boswell, class of 1940, was here for the first time in many years. Brother Tom Terry was back again to enjoy the fruits of his efforts in the chapter when he was active. At the homecoming banquet plans were made to have a Founders Day Banquet in March, and the chapter is looking for those Deltas, as well as many others, to attend.

The whole chapter expressed deep regret upon the death of Brother George Briggs. Brother Briggs was active in the national organization, but Delta Eta always took pride in claiming him as its own. An alumni committee is devising a George Briggs Memorial in an attempt to express our true admiration for this departed brother.

In the intramural sports category, the Delt basketball team has a fine record thus far and hopes for another trophy are high.

GERRY WADDELL

Allegheny

Highlighting the fall semester were two colorful social events. Starting with the fall party, the Shelter was transformed into an eerie, haunted "Charles Addams House," complete with coffins, embalming fluid, and bodies stuffed into fireplaces. This was followed by our traditional Christmas formal. Boughs from over 200 evergreen trees, Christmas lights, and, in the living room, a boar's head, saw the Shelter so changed that the Dean of Students, John McKean, found the dance "enjoyable, the most pleasant on Campus."

The new officers of the chapter were elected early in January. Dick Smith, a music major and a counselor in the freshman dorm, was elected president. The other officers are Dave Bray, vice-president; Jerry Congleton, treasurer; Fred King, recording secretary; and Wally Viehmann, corresponding secretary.

Our building fund for a new Shelter was recently increased by an anonymous check from an alumnus for $5,000. The only stipulation on this check was that the funds must be raised and the plans ready to start in about two years or the check will be forfeited. Alpha is most grateful and is stimulated to work harder for this goal. Jack Hartwell, building fund chairman, has said the outlook is very good.

Brothers Dave Bray and Derry Byrd continued their Allegheny Playshop activities with lead roles in "The Crucible." Brother McCreary received honors as a member of the AFROTC team which placed second in the Western Pennsylvania Collegiate Rifle League. In the AFROTC program on campus three of the five squadron commanders are Deltas.

Bill Hrach, campus newspaper staff and AFROTC band leader, has found time to form and direct a new concert band at Allegheny. Another example of Delt leadership is campus affairs. Several brothers are participating.

For six of the last seven years Alpha has captivated first honors in intramural volleyball, taking second place this year after being edged out in a play-off for first place. Brother Jan Dyckes coached the team.

Again in winter athletics, but on the varsity level, newly elected Pledge Master Chuck Myers is captain of the Allegheny grapplers. He is undefeated for two seasons.

WALLY VIEHMANN

Albion

The big news here at Epsilon is the election of new officers for the coming school year, and also the approach of our largest social activity, the annual "Black and White." This gala week end, which begins February 7 and ends February 9, promises good times for all. Beginning with a house party Friday evening the activities are culminated with a formal dinner-dance Saturday night. Under the leadership of Dave DeBoer and his social committee, we hope to make this the most spectacular social affair of Epsilon in many years.

New officers for the coming year include Keith Petherick, president; Kirk Flack, vice-president; Bruce Lacey, corresponding secretary; Mike Dant, recording secretary; Rich Johnston, treasurer; and Truman Bicum, assistant treasurer. All incoming officers share mutually the hope that the coming semester will be even more profitable than past years.

Epsilon boasted some of Albion's top athletes participating in fall sports. Brothers Bob Danforth, Bert Dygert, Jim Harmony, and Rich Johnston sparked Albion's varsity football squad. Jim Taup, captain of varsity cross-country, consistently took first places in intercollegiate competition.

Under the watchful eye of Intramural Athletics Chairman Dave Sutton, Epsilon is making an excellent bid for the all-sports trophy. By finishing high in the standings of each major and minor sport, Epsilon has a fine chance to receive the highest number of points and the resulting intramural trophy.

As the retiring officers look back on past events with a deep feeling of pride, the incoming officers, along with the remainder of the Chapter, anticipates even greater achievements in social activities, fraternal relations, athletics, and scholarship.

BRUCE LACEY

Auburn

As winter quarter gets under way, Epsilon Alpha is found preparing a strong rush program. On the Auburn campus may be found many good men worthy of pledging and prospects are bright for a fine pledge class to help sustain and broaden this chapter's prestige.

Chapter elections were held recently with the following men selected: Joe Wolfe, treasurer; Frank McDaniel, assistant treasurer; "Robbie" Sclater, social chairman; and Johnny Thomason, house manager.

The Village Fair, Auburn's open house for high school students, and one of the most important occasions annually, finds ten Deltas on the various planning committees. Heading the decorations committee is Brother Bob Lynn, and working with him, in charge of campus decoration, is Brother Sonny Clingan. Brother Frank Price is also working hard as program director for the business committee, with seven other brothers helping on other committees.

Recently Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary fraternity for outstanding men leaders, tapped Brother Bob Lynn for membership in the local circle. Epsilon Alpha is proud to announce this, and the recent appearance of Brother Ken Mattingly's name in the current edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

As an interesting post-season high light to this year's intramural football schedule, members of Epsilon Alpha's squad scrimimaged with members of Auburn's nationally ranked varsity squad. If the brothers recover from their bruises, aches, and pains, the chapter will have a good team in the coming year, sadder but wiser.

DEWITT BURNS

Baker

For the third time in the last five years Gamma Theta has elected a sophomore to the chapter presidency. Jarrett Clinton is our new prexy. He is president of the sophomore class at Baker and makes practically a straight "A" grade index. Other officers are: Pete Johnson, vice-president; Chuck Caywood, recording secretary; Don Langford, corresponding secretary; Bob Blanchard, treasurer; Jack Davidson, guide; and Brian Ford, guard.

Many former Baker Delts returned to the Shelter last December 14 for our annual Christmas formal. The formal was in the chapter house. It was a little crowded, but we felt that the Delt atmosphere in the Shelter would be the best place for a formal. Approximately 120 attended the dance and open house which preceded.

Four Gamma Theta Delts received mention on the All-Kansas Conference team chosen at the end of the football season. Heading the foursome were Senior End Scott Mann and Freshman Back Jim Paramore. These two men were selected by the conference coaches to the second team. Chuck Brown, senior center, and Jim Lee, junior back, had honorable mention ratings. Paramore averaged 4.9 yards per carry and gained 767 yards. He completed 18 of 41 passes. Mann was the team's top receiver, ten for 154 yards and two TDs. There were ten Delt varsity lettermen on the Baker team which compiled a 6-2-1 record.

Baker's varsity basketball team looks like a Delt team. In fact, eight of the first ten men are Delts. Two Delts, Chuck Hollinger and Jim Kean, are currently leading team scoring.

In intramurals, we are in second place at this time among all fraternities in the sweepstakes race. We are after our sixth straight championship. By the end of basketball season we should be back on top. Our two basketball teams are leading their respective leagues now. We tied for first in one volleyball league and finished second in the other.

MEL HAWK

Brown

The big news this spring at the BX Shelter is centered around our current alumni program. Last fall we reviewed our alumni relations over the past three years and found that they were conspicuously absent. We realized that the non-contact relationship was largely our fault for not evaluating correctly the actual alumni interest in their own Chapter. The BX newsletter had fallen into random periods of publication, largely because its operating funds had annually been cut, and these few newsletters suffered from the type of information they supplied our alumni. The facts called for immediate action on our part if we were to avoid a permanent break with our alumni.

In early December we sent letters to all our alumni briefly analyzing the situation as we saw it. We called for the formation of an alumni council, centered in Providence, to co-ordinate the alumni activities with a progressive program sponsored by us. The alumni council, we felt, should be integrated closely with members of our alumni relations board in order to establish better liaison between the two groups. We further proposed a revised newsletter which would include much more information pertaining to the current activities of our alumni. In order to compile a more accurate alumni report, we enclosed a 16-section questionnaire to be filled out and returned to us. Through this questionnaire we have been able to find out what our alumni have been doing in the past, what they are currently doing, and their opinions on our proposals for a closely knit alumni-undergraduate program. These facts also supplied an infinite amount of data for our new newsletter. I am happy to report that response from our alumni has surpassed all expectations and that we are well on our way toward fulfilling the program initiated last fall.

In other activities this winter the Delts at Brown have done equally as well. The annual Delt Christmas week end, December 13, 14, and 15, was a booming success. Under the direction of Social Chairman Jerry Cantini, the Delts and their dates entertained underprivileged children from the Providence Welfare Center on Friday afternoon. The children, whose ages range from eight to 11, were first entertained by a Disneyland film and then served ice cream and candy. The real treat came when Brother Dick Carolan dressed as Santa Claus and handed out presents to each boy and girl. The children (60 in all) and the Delts had a lot of fun during the party which ended in the form of a small riot.

The children's party was followed the next afternoon by another one of the "healthy" Delt parties. The party was momentarily quiet when Santa (this time played by Brother Dick Arroll) joyously appeared on the scene with his bag of presents for the brothers and their dates. The presents ranged from unmentionables to nonclassified materials which provided many laughs for all. The high light of the week end came during the Saturday night formal dance when Ken Crossland and his date, Brigitte Bardot, were given the Outstanding Couple Award for 1957.

In other fields, the Delt basketball team, under the leadership of Jorma Wakila and Don Mackenzie, is heading into the season under full steam. Thus far in the campaign the high-flying Delt five is undefeated and greedily eyeing the University championship which we have so often won in the past. Jorma is leading the league in scoring with a respectable 18.8 average.

We are also proud to announce that Brothers Dick Carolan and Joe Miluski won the Sportsmanship Award for "devotion, loyalty, and faithfulness to the football team." Both Dick and Joe are seniors and have won varsity letters for the past three years. Unfortunately, both were hampered by injuries during the past season which limited their amount of playing time.

Delt Bits: Marsh Williams is helping to pace the resurgent hockey team. . . . John Carpenter has been a staunch supporter of our alumni project. . . . President Bill Barry is also '58 class secretary. . . . We understand Brothers Thompson, Philippi, Baird, Bulley, and Fry (all doing graduate work) have set up a Delt annex in Chicago. . . . Tony Petrarca is now permanent president of TV Committee.

Butler

Seven new brothers joined Beta Zeta's roster during the fall semester. Bob "Red" Stevens was elected treasurer of the chapter at the last meeting. The results of the elections for the remaining offices are not available at this writing.

Guard Paul Furnish was selected to several postseason Little All-America football squads. He performed in yeoman fashion all season and was rewarded by his selection as cocaptain of the 1958 Bulldog football team. Beta Zeta's homecoming float received a second place during the gala festivities. It was a fitting tribute to the diligent efforts that Chairman Bob Luker put in on organizing and building the float. *

The winter formal, The Rose Dance, came off in grand style and was a huge success. The pledge class sold cookies to raise money for the dance and then performed most of the work of organizing and decorating for it. The girls present were all thrilled at receiving the jewelry boxes which were given as favors.

Junior Dick Elliott was elected junior prom chairman for the dance to be held for the entire campus this spring. Dick won out in an all-school election. It is a mammoth job, but we are all backing him to turn out one of the best dances of the year.

Plans are in full scale for the second annual Delt Tricycle. The tricycle race for all sororities and the Women's dorm around our one-tenth mile circular driveway was a huge success at its inception last year. We are anticipating an even greater success this year with much more local publicity on a grand scale.

RON SCHAFFNER

California

This semester began rather early for some of the chapter, as they returned a few weeks early to construct a barbecue-volleyball court addition. Though its completion has yet to be achieved, the barbecue arrangement enhanced greatly the grounds during the ensuing rushing period.

Rushing this semester was ably directed by John Wilson. John's organization netted us unequalled results in 15 topflight pledges. Having now lived with these new men for some three months, I regret the usage of the trite remark, "topflight." These men are of the highest caliber and are representatives of the "much-to-be-sought-never-to-be-forgotten" class of all-around, good American boys.

Consequently, their addition to the chapter immediately kindled a fire which has burned strong in Beta Omega over the last months. Some of this is witnessed in our social functions—their number and success, as well as our improved scholarship and attitude toward the ever present burden of the school.

Blais Carr's direction of the social program of the chapter shouldn't pass without certain mention. For example, long to be remembered will be the "Christmas in Africa" party, the Delta Gamma-Delt football function.

On the campus, Delt's achieved special mention this semester. Pete Merle was elected to the exalted position of representative-at-large and our new pledge, Bob Voit, was elected unanimously to the position of freshman class president. Tony Torrance was elected vice-president of the Interfraternity Council, and Chuck Dutton was in charge of Homecoming activities during Cals all-time football season.

In our recent initiation ceremonies Gary Wulfsburg won the chapter's award for the most outstanding pledge. Elections were recently held for chapter officers, and it now stands that Tony Torrance is our president; John C. Wilson, vice-president; Victor J. Binsacca, corresponding secretary. Under the able direction of these men Beta Omega will be striving for further progress and achievements in all fields of endeavor.

cheering supporters have pulled many games out of the fire.

The bowling season finds the Delt's leading the league at the halfway mark. Sparked by Juniors Roger Kessler and Don MacFarlane, the team has not lost a match yet, and possibilities for another campus championship are close at hand.

Delta Beta's Winter Formal, held at the Jacktown Hotel, was a great success again this year, thanks to Social Chair-

With the touch football season over, the Delt's again displayed their annual steamroller power, and swept through the league play undefeated. They romped through the first round of the school play-offs, and then were eliminated by a close score by the team that eventually won the title. To prove the season was no fluke, three Delt's were named to the all-campus football team, two on offense and two on defense. John Mihm, defensive back, was a unanimous selection, as he was the past three years. Dick Sphon, offensive back, was an outstanding performer and a repeat from last year's all-campus team. Bruce Bowen, center, was a stalwart of the forward line and a glue-fingered pass receiver.

As the volleyball season draws to a close, the Delt's are again figuring in the play-offs. Two men, Dick Mattick and Bruce Bowen, were named to the all-league teams. Mattick stunned the league again and again with his booming spikes. Great team play has predominated the games and the great Delt spirit and man Walt Labys. Respects were paid to Delt Queen Waverly Hutson, a junior from Presbyterian Nurses.

With help week, initiation, and the initiation formal coming up in February, the chapter sees a busy schedule ahead. Plans are already in motion to improve our standing in the buggy race at Spring Carnival next spring. Plans are being made to host many Delt's during the Centennial Karnea next summer during the month of August. The new Delt Shelter should be completed by then, and will be an open house to all visiting Delt's.

BRUCE H. BOWEN

Cincinnati

It has been a flying season for the Delt's at the University of Cincinnati. There hasn't been one dull moment since school started. It probably all came to a head in December because of all the things Delt's did on and around campus.

Cincinnati's saw Jerry Keyes do a tremendous job as Colonel Purdy, III, in the Mummer's Guild production of "Teahouse of the August Moon." Supporting roles were played by Russell French, Bud Cunningham, and Dave Hughes. The Mummer's Guild is the campus dramatic organization.

A few days later, Dick Stafetas was named as the Zeta Tau Alpha "Pledge Prince." Dick is a freshman in the College of Business Administration and treasurer of the pledge class.

Just as we were congratulating the pledge class for its fine campaigning in Dick's behalf, they were nowhere to be found. The whole pledge class took off for parts unknown and the actives were left with all the work of cleaning up the house on the Saturday pledge work section.

The annual Christmas formal was a tremendous success as alumni and actives renewed the old stories that are told whenever they get together. The "Delt Pillars" again tapped active members of the chapter for work outstanding to Gamma Xi Chapter. Those tapped this semester were Andy Atkinson, Dale Heckmann, and Jim Rockwell.

The whole chapter was gathered at the home of Jim Rockwell New Year's Eve as Cincy's Delt's hated to see the great old year of 1957 go, but feted the year of 1958 and the promise it shows for the chapter.

KENNETH R. LEHR

Colorado

At the top of the list of Delt activities this fall was our homecoming festivities. Under the theme of "Songs of the Twenties," Beta Kappa captured the first-place trophy for its house decoration of "Flat Foot Floozy With the Floy-Floy." After the football game we were honored to feed the largest crowd of alumni, parents, and brothers in our history. There were over 500 people to enjoy the turkey dinner.

Heading the list of social events for the year was our annual pledge formal. Being very unique in its theme of "Saints and Sinners Ball," it was a smashing success again this year. One band furnished music upstairs in the Shelter for "Heaven," while a combo played downstairs in "Hell." Both places were vividly deco-

Brothers WILKINSON and PAUL and "friends" at Colorado.

One enjoyable feature of our Shelter this year has been our colored television set. Besides being wonderful for the athletic events, the set is enjoyed by all the Brothers' dates, especially on Sunday nights. Every Sunday night we have a buffet dinner for everyone and his date. It is very well liked by the girls.

As the intramural season rolls along, Beta Kappa finds itself once again at the top of the heap. With half of the season over, we lead all others in total points, going toward the over-all championship. Helping this total a great deal was our first in wrestling in which three of our pledges, Tom Hayden, Dave Heldt, and Bob Young, copped first places. Before each Colorado varsity basketball game, our Delt intramural basketball team scrimmages with the C.U. frosh in what usually turns out to be a Delt victory.

Delt participants in winter sports at C.U. add up to a large number. Walt Bradley is starting forward on the C.U. varsity basketball team and doing a fine job. John Spolum, Tony Scheer, and Fritz

Burt McRoy performs on the horizontal bar in gymnastic meets and Hep Ingham has shown himself to be one of the top distance swimmers on the C.U. swimming team.

Inadvertently left out of my last article was the mention of Bob Hughes, football guard. Recently elected house manager for '58-'59 was Joe Keown.

preparations, in addition to studying for the coming final exams. We would like to thank all our alumni for the many recommendations we have received. One of our most interesting fall term activities was a 90-mile sports car-American car rally, concluding in a "Roaring Twenties" party. The rally was designed and organized by Roger Demler, Wick Minns, and Tom Barney and was, in the mind of the participants, comparable to similar official rallies. The first-place prize was won by Driver Ev Westa and Navigator Roy Behling in a '57 Plymouth. Dave Berry and Clayt Root in a MGTC took third. Other fraternity men entered but the Deltas managed to dominate the field. The costume party afterwards highlighted the day's events.

The Gamma Omicron Chapter at Syracuse University managed to acquire a new "skin" as a gift from us, due to a narrow victory over Cornell this fall. The BO Delt football team did much better, however, and won its league title. Our bowling team is presently tied for first place, and our basketball team is doing quite well.

Recently Brother Gurrie Rhoads was elected president of Alpha Epsilon Kappa, an economics honorary. Phil Schneider is a member of Fallout, an engineering physics honorary.

Our new Beagle mascot, Homer, has been making quite a name for himself on the campus. He has discovered the girls' dorms and spends a good percentage of his time there, as well as attending numerous classes and lectures.

We are looking forward to the spring term, and anticipate a fine group of pledges and an even more valuable term.

Gamma Gamma is presently setting the pace in the interfraternity basketball league with four wins and one loss. Senior Randy Austin has been a consistent star, and in the last outing hit for 41 points, league high for the year.

Junior Randy Malin has recently been named All-Ivy League goalie for the past season. Malin won the same honor last year. Junior Jim Kennedy was named to the second team all-star squad.

Initiation was held Friday evening, January 10. A special guest was Joel W. Reynolds, former President of the Fraternity. A banquet with all the trimmings followed the ceremonies in which 20 pledges became brothers.

Junior Dave Garrett was recently elected assistant treasurer, and experience in this position will groom him to assume full duties as treasurer later in the spring.

Senior Buck Latimore and Junior Tom Seessel won their first-round battle in the interfraternity quiz contest, and will advance to the second rounds soon to represent Gamma Gamma.

Saturday, January 4, was the date of our annual Faculty Party. The brothers and pledges and some 100 faculty guests and their wives enjoyed the affair.

THOMAS V. SEESSEL

Activities at Delta Upsilon Chapter for the fall semester having drawn to a close, the chapter is looking forward to an equally successful spring semester. Activities last fall included a Delt "island" party, a fabulous interfraternity week end and, to put everyone in the holiday spirit, our annual Christmas party. A New Year's Eve party at the home of Brother Bart Rinehart successfully ushered in 1958.

Freshman rushing in February should prove to be highly successful this year under our revised rushing program. Rushing activities include a buffet dinner given by our Mothers' Club and the debut of "the real gone" Delt combo. Under the leadership of Rush Chairman Fred Moore, Delta Upsilon is looking forward to its largest and finest pledge class ever.

The traditional Delt spirit was recognized recently when we were awarded the Cheerleaders Spirit Trophy. We were a consistent winner in pepfests, send-offs, and house displays in addition to winning third place for our homecoming float. The Delta Upsilon cross-country team led by Brother Jack Mundy earned second place in the interfraternity meet. Brothers Hal Hultman and Jim Leathrum recently had the honor of becoming members of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society. Brothers Leathrum and Ray Sneller were initiated into Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity.

One of our big social events planned for the spring term will be a banquet with Omega Chapter of the University of Pennsylvania and the Wilmington and Philadelphia Alumni Chapters. The event will commemorate the tenth anniversary of Delta Upsilon Chapter and the 100th of Delta Tau Delta.

The brothers are also looking forward to our annual French Apache costume party held every spring. Delt week end will wind up the big events for the spring.

Representing the chapter this season in University of Delaware athletics are Fred Grampp, wrestling; George Webber and Bart Rinehart, swimming; Jack Terres, track; and Paul Wellborn, lacrosse.

Things look very promising for Delta Upsilon Chapter and this spring should prove to be very interesting.

ED HAUGH

DePauw

With fall accomplishments satisfactorily completed and winter activities well under way, Beta Beta's Deltas look forward to another outstanding spring.

We are pleased to announce the addition of two new pledges in Bud Meisenger, from Berwyn, Illinois, and Dave Sarver, from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. A new rush committee under the direction of Senior Dave DeVos was elected and includes Sophomores Bob Fauth, Roger Martens, Ross Roberts, and Bob Summers.

Just before Christmas the Deltas held their annual Faculty Christmas Party which included President Humbert and other faculty members. Entertainment was provided by Exchange Student Claus Speelmanns from the Netherlands and the Delt Quartet which is rapidly gaining prestige here on campus. Preceding the faculty party was a Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Senior Hal Kenna was a student director for a television show and stage manager for a campus modern dance performance.

In intramural play Seniors John Woodworth and Bob Rudolph teamed up in tennis to take the doubles honors and bring the Dels up near the top. The Dels are doing well in basketball after placing high in the bowling finals and will be out to capture the free-throw tournament for the third straight year.

A quick recap on fall sports finds three Dels earning varsity football letters. They are Senior Pat Ewing, Junior Dick Cross, and Sophomore Keith Evans. Brother Ewing was all-conference end and was selected as the league's most valuable lineman. Freshman numerals went to Pledges Butch Colin, Jim DeArmond, Bill Gerber, Art Maine, and Bill Shuck. Junior Ron Young lettered again in cross-country.

In winter sports the Dels have three representatives in DePauw's newest sport—wrestling. Junior Dave Portmann and Sophomores Bob Summers and Mac Toates are the mat men while Pledge Dick Schaefer made the freshman basketball squad. In swimming the Dels have two outstanding swimmers in Junior Jim McElwain and Sophomore Mike Hicks. Pledge DeArmond made the freshman swimming team.

We are very sorry to receive the resignation of our housemother, Mrs. Phipps, whose generosity and understanding made her outstanding. Mrs. Phipps is as popular on campus as she is at the Shelter. President Humbert and other administration members are close friends of Mrs. Phipps.

Mrs. Phipps is from Cleveland and is completing her seventh year after first coming in 1950. During her stay she revised and recorded important financial and social records which will serve as guides in the future. Her handling of the budget was done expertly and accurately.

She will be missed mostly, however, for her understanding and advice which she gave so generously to those who sought it. She will certainly be remembered by us here at Beta Beta and by all those who have known her during her tenure with us.

JOE GODDARD

Duke

The Duke Dels rounded out a nearly perfect semester at the end of January. Our social calendar included such events as cabin parties, open houses, and dances. Since our last RAINBOW report we have had two tremendous week ends. The first was the fall Shoe and Slipper week end sponsored by the University and the second was our annual Christmas dance. At the latter we crowned the snow king and snow queen of the Fraternity.

Christmas holidays began shortly after our Christmas dance. Many of the Duke Dels, including Dr. Leon Ellis, our adviser, went to Miami for the Orange Bowl classic. Duke played the University of Oklahoma, and needless to say we lost; in this case we lost not only the game but a skin to the Oklahoma Dels. Miami was crowded with Dels; there were about 18 from Duke. We met Dels from Florida State and three of us spent the night at the University of Florida chapter's Shelter in Gainesville.

Following our trip to Florida, we returned to Duke and into the final exam period. This over, we began preparing for rush which will begin on the fourth of February. We are expecting to have a very successful rush season this year. Going into rush we are 63 strong with the return of Brothers Turner and Bowman.

One of our most powerful assets this rush season will be our new fraternity section. For those of you not familiar with the Duke system, we live in assigned sections of a dormitory. These include living quarters and social rooms. This new section has the capacity of 62, so for the first time at Duke the Dels will all be able to live in the same section.

Our alumni club, Deltay, has helped us a great deal to achieve these goals. Through the dues from the members we will be able to finance more of the original expenses without high interest rates. We are really indebted to these fine Dels from our chapter. We hope that they will visit us to see the things that they have contributed to. We have been keeping in touch with these alumni through our newsletter, Delt 'N' Passed.

Brother Jim Matthews was recently picked as a member of the All-Southern soccer team. Other honors go to Brothers Camp and Baker for achieving membership in Phi Beta Kappa, and to Phil Oliva for the highest scholastic average for the fall semester with a 3.93 out of a possible 4.00. Phil was an A-average pledge when initiated last December.

Brothers Amsler and Crews, rush chairmen for Delta Kappa, wish to thank all of the Delt alumni for sending us such good recommendations for rush. Out of a freshman class of 600 we have received 170 names from alumni.

News is news only to those who have not heard it. We haven't heard from many of you Delta Kappa alumni who are receiving The RAINBOW. We certainly would like to hear from you whenever you have a chance to drop us a card.

LAIRD SLADE

Florida

Delta Zeta climaxed Christmas activities with a pledge-brother, touch football game and a dance. Although the pledges were guided by Wayne Williamson, 'Gator varsity quarterback, the brothers proved to be too powerful. The final score was 12-6, in favor of the brothers.

Gifts were exchanged before the dance. Santa descended from a balcony into the patio via a ladder and distributed his "goodies" amidst much laughter. Since emphasis was placed on the originality of the gifts, there were many humorous surprises.

Music at the dance was by Little Johnny Ace and his swinging combo. When the last weary dancer called it quits in the early hours of the next morning, one of the most fabulous dances of the year came to a close.

Chapter officers for 1958 are Gavin W. O'Brien, president; David D. King, vice-president; John Hiatt, treasurer; and Roger Phillips, recording secretary.

Delta Zeta loses only one man this semester, Ronald Hock, who was graduated in January.

Members of Delta Zeta take a special interest in the 'Gator basketball team this year. The team is sparked by Captain Joe Hobbs, all-Southeastern Conference guard last year. Joe currently has a 22.5 point average per game.

In the 'Gator Bowl Tournament, Hobbs scored 24 points to lead the 'Gators to victory over Georgia. He was chosen most valuable player of the tournament. We feel that Joe will do even better this year than last.

Assisting Hobbs on the court is another Delt, Charlie Pike. Charlie is a returning letterman, an expert ball handler, and a master of the fast break. Also on the team is Wayne Williamson.

LESTER T. STANFORD

Florida State

In these past few months the Deltas of Delta Phi have been resurrecting an old model-T Ford fire engine. Now it is frequently seen chugging around the F.S.U. campus loaded with girls going to the Delt Shelter.

Every year Delta Phi joins with a sorority and gives a Christmas party for underprivileged children. On December 15 the Deltas went out to pick up the kids and took them to the Alpha Xi Delta house. There they were entertained with stories and songs while being filled with soft drinks and all the cookies and candy they could hold. A little later Santa Claus, complete with red suit, long white beard, and gifts, arrived. After the gifts were distributed the children were taken home. Needless to say, the party was a tremendous success.

In winding up the social life of the semester, Delta Phi decided to have one last function before exams. A combo was secured, plans were made, and the dance was christened the "Last Blast." To further interfraternity relations the boys from Sigma Nu and their dates were invited over. After the party everyone agreed that this should be an annual affair to expend pre-exam energy.

As the opening of a new semester approaches, Delta Phi is preparing for informal rush, when another group of men of the caliber to keep Delta Tau Delta one of the top fraternities at F.S.U. will be pledged.

WILLIAM M. SELLERS

Georgia

With the opening of the new year, Beta Delta continues to remain socially and academically strong. Frank Chandley, president of Beta Delta, was initiated into the X-Club; Allen Stovall has been tapped for membership as a student affiliate into the American Society of Landscape Architects; and Jack Thompson is once again on the U. of Ga. track team after winning first place in the high hurdles in the Southeastern Conference last year. Beta Delta won first place in homecoming decorations this year for the third year in a row. The decorations consisted of a huge Bulldog gamehunter with his foot resting on a downed elephant.

Socially, we have several parties planned for the very near future. This coming Friday we will have a jazz session which will begin the initiation of Robert Mills, Cecil Clapp, John Farmer, and Arthur Willard. We also have planned a joint party with the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and the Dogpatch Drag, one of the biggest social events of the year, will be coming up in a few weeks.

Hurdle King JACK THOMPSON of Georgia.

Sportswise, Beta Delta has been doing fine. The volleyball team captured a trophy for going undefeated the entire season, and as of now the basketball team remains undefeated.

At the first chapter meeting in January, John Waters was elected treasurer and Jim Pickens was elected assistant treasurer. Following this meeting, Beta Delta pledged two men. They are Jack Hobbs and Hal Fetzer. We would like to welcome them into the chapter. We would also like to welcome Carl Duvall. He is a transfer from Emory University. He has proven very valuable on our basketball team.

Miss Barbara Haggman, our sponsor, has been placed on the Pandora Beauty Court. She is also entering the March of Dimes Queen Contest. We wish her all the luck.

Gamma Psi's entry in Georgia Tech's annual Ramblin' Reck Parade purred to an easy first place, seven IFC points, and a trophy.

Held the morning of the Tech homecoming game, the parade featured fraternity-built jalopies that were judged on mechanical ingenuity, originality, and ability to climb a hill under their own power.

Cake Race. His prizes included a cake, a hug from the Homecoming Queen, and two IFC points for the Fraternity.

A school spirit trophy was won as the Delts out-cheered all other fraternities at a school-wide pep rally. Setting the standards for school spirit at football games, Gamma Psi conducted its own flash card section under the leadership of Cheerleader Sonny Sammons.

Buddy McCloud, a pledge from Atlanta, was one of four freshmen elected to the Student Council.

Don Brock, a junior from Mayfield,

Kentucky, has been elected president of the Georgia Methodist Student Movement. He is an officer of Tech's Wesley Foundation, a Methodist student organization.

Gamma Psi and honorary almost became synonymous as brothers earned memberships in leading honor societies.

Ron Shepherd was voted president of Sigma Gamma Tau, aeronautical engineering society, and Fred Dougherty received bids from Sigma Gamma Tau and Briarcliff Co-operative Honor Society.

Buddy Dundervill and Dave Bowen were initiated into Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary and Phi Kappa Phi, senior honorary. Alpha Pi Mu, industrial engineering society, tapped John Krummel, and Chi Epsilon, civil engineering society, tapped Bob Bates.

Krummel, a junior from Donnellson, Illinois, was also elected treasurer to succeed Brother Tom Perry. His assistants are Steve Wilenchek and Jim Wilson.

In the military category, Delts proved equally qualified. Three of five officers of Sabre Air Command Basic Air Force ROTC honorary are Delts. They are Bob Lawler, treasurer; Pete Gissing, secretary; and Charles McGuirt, sergeant at arms.

Buddy Dundervill was one of 12 seniors chosen to represent Tech's Army ROTC unit in a new flight training program leading to a pilot's license.

Sportswise, Jimmy St. John coached the Delt cross-country team to third place. The victories earned another five IFC points.

BAYLEY WALKER

Illinois

As predicted in the last RAINBOW, we Delts at Beta Upsilon emerged with the football championship trophy. The team, sparked by two all IM boys, Quarterback Ed DeLong and Hap Georlett, ended an undefeated season by defeating the ATO's 6-0 in the championship game.

Volleyball was another big IM point winner. The V-ballers marched to a repeat division championship, and then on as far as the semifinals of the play-offs. The Rec Basketball team also did well. They breezed by their first five opponents to take the division title, and then proceeded to the final game of the play-offs only to be edged out in the championship game.

Combining those IM points gained in the above-mentioned sports with those won in the minor sports moves us to third out of 59 in the IM standings for the first semester.

Still in the line of athletics, two of the chapter's participants in varsity sports had free trips to the warm southland over the Christmas vacation. Paul Adams, who was one of four Illini football stars who played in the North-South game, played almost the whole game and made a fine showing. Dale McDyer, a member of the varsity swimming team, spent his holiday training in Florida.

In social events the Delts at Beta Upsilon have set a new precedent. By far the greatest social event on the campus in years was the Delt "Mystery Day." Every brother's date agreed that they hadn't had such a ball since they've been on campus. We believe our other chapters could find the same booming success with their own "Mystery Day," and we suggest that they write us for the details of this fabulous event.

Another big success was our winter formal. The theme "In Days of Old" was carried out by converting the Shelter into a castle complete with drawbridge and moat.

Due to the overwhelming success of last year's voyages on the vast ocean of the Illinois campus, the chapter has chosen last year's president, Ed DeLong, to captain again the ship Beta Upsilon, and we're sure it will mean greater success. Captain Eddie's crew consists of Bruce Duff, vice-president; Don Harvey, treasurer; Pete Legendre, recording secretary; and Dave Sattem, corresponding secretary.

RON DEMPSEY

Illinois Tech

The beginning of 1958 finds a new group of administrators at the chapter. To the presidency we elected Dick Ward, a Delt of outstanding accomplishments within as well as outside of the Fraternity. Dave Gibbs, former activities chairman, filled the vice-presidency. As the former assistant treasurer, Paul Christoffersen advanced to the treasurer's position with Jack Hall as his assistant.

Dick Fero and Bob Archer as recording secretary and corresponding secretary, Dave Roberts as IFC representative, Don Hierman as sergeant at arms, Bill Plechaty as guide, and Dick Friedl as house manager, fill out the new slate for '58. This cabinet promises to be a most efficient and outstanding one in keeping the Delts tops on campus.

At the close of the year, high lights that remain outstanding in our memory here at Gamma Beta are those of sports accomplishments and parties. The alumni party in conjunction with a house corporation meeting proved highly successful from the social standpoint and also from the business view. The prospects of breaking ground for a new chapter house in '58 are still in the minds of all Delts here at Tech. We, along with alumni, are hoping our combined efforts will improve our fund drive campaign and achieve its goal in time to accomplish this. A championship football team carried another gridiron trophy back to our mantel. Along with this came a first place in the annual preseason basketball tournament. Prospects for future victories are excellent because of an athletically strong sophomore class.

The newly elected administrative cabinet is looking excitedly toward a social trip which will start here at Tech and terminate at Fort Lauderdale, Florida. This excursion will begin immediately after finals, and visits to alumni and chapters along the way are scheduled. We are looking forward to visiting many of you and exchanging ideas.

Beta Alpha opened the year with 26 new pledges, the largest class in six or seven years, due to the efforts of Rush Chairman Jack Washburn and many loyal alumni recommendations. The pledges lost no time in showing their enthusiasm turning out a Helluva-Jama dance. The guests before entering the Shelter had to grope their way through a fun-house maze cleverly constructed in the front yard. Several of the guests found themselves in a daze before the dance started.

In intramurals the chapter has so far taken top honors in bowling and tennis while placing sixth out of 29 in golf and cross-country. The football team had only an even record but showed an over-all tough performance in holding opponents to 39 points in six contests. Basketball season is just starting and is inconclusive as of now. The spring promises to bring us the top spot in wrestling with three veterans on the mats.

GENE KALINA, past president of Beta Alpha.

In the social column, aside from the previously mentioned pajama dance, the brothers have worked hard on the homecoming decorations and the annual fall street-dance, "Jazz at the Deltharmonic." A Dixieland group, the "Salty Dogs," played to a crowd of 3,000 and later held a smaller session after hours. The excitement was such that several strings went from the banjo. Such was the talent that the rest of the group carried on unruffled. The annual Indiana University Fall Carnival was tackled next. The sophomore class was in charge and collaborated with the girls of Gamma Phi Beta in a pie-throwing affair for which the brothers collected tickets and furnished the participants with ammunition. The Gamma Phis collected the pie.

Beta Alpha, beginning with a good pledge class, plus scoring on the athletic field, and rounding out a season of successful social events, appears to be on the way to a great year for Deltas on the Indiana campus.

DAVID BARNES

Iowa

The coming of spring here at Iowa is always long awaited because the vernal equinox brings with it the breaking up of the ice on the Iowa River. Watching this ice breaking is always a good excuse for a date and perhaps even a little of the time-honored rite called "river banking"; however, it appears that these activities will be greatly curtailed this spring. We have quite a full schedule before us.

Old Gold Week, complete with varieties, olympics, dances, exhibitions, and parades, will feature much Delt talent, for which we are so well known throughout the campus. Dennie Oliver and Jim Kanely are doing the choreography as well as several interpretive modern dance numbers themselves. John "The Man With the Velvet Voice" Miller is readying some folk and modern songs with the house combo behind him. Many Delt voices will also be heard in the chorus.

Under the leadership of Craig Beck our scholarship performance has shown much improvement, $50 being offered to the pledge with the highest grade point and to the active showing the most scholastic improvement. At present the interfraternity scholarship trophy is not too far from our grasp and we hope that it will soon be resting upon the mantel.

Thomas Huxley tells us in his widely-read essays that we are here in college for a liberal education; we believe this to mean a generous sprinkling of activities. Jim Tilton was recently selected to head men's freshman orientation, while Jim Kanely is president of Central Party Committee, the agency which plans university dances and jazz concerts. Craig Beck is currently serving his term as prexy of the junior journalism class, and Dave Zimmer recently organized the Miss SUI elections.

Omicron has always done well in intramurals but we have never been as well represented in varsity athletics as we are this spring. Brightest prospect is Pledge Al Miller, freshman end, who is pushing hard for a starting slot on next fall's highly regarded grid squad. Al is also competing against Brother Doug MacKinney, a sophomore with a year of experience at the end spot. We have our own baseball battery in Pitcher John Miller and Catcher Al Shirley; both will travel with the varsity nine this season. John "Gravity" Stoy, towering 6' 7" tennis player, is third man on this year's team, and Keith Zastrow is the swimming squad's leading free-styler.

Last, but by no means least, is Dennie Oliver; he has his own two-man squad. Dennie and Brother John Dockendorff have gone into a very successful partnership selling vitamins, sterling silver, used cars and accessories, merchandising cattle, and auctioneering on the side. We get no trophies for their effort, but the entire membership is "vitaminized," "sterlinged," and "auctioneered" to the hilt.

With such active participation in campus affairs, it is easy to understand why we might not get to watch the ice break up on the Iowa River this spring.

JIM HAMBLIN

Iowa State

Gamma Pi this quarter is proud of its two straight-"A" students. We feel that this is quite an accomplishment in a school that can boast of but a few score such students out of more than 10,000.

We are doubly proud of one of our four-point students, for not only has he studied hard to get good grades but he has also earned one of the two football letters here in the house. He is Jay Dockendorff, quarterback on the freshman football team. The man right in front of Jay is also a Delt pledge. He is Jerry Kolshowsky, center on the freshman squad, destined to take over varsity honors next fall.

The Delt quartet is again headlining Varieties, our annual all-school production of winter. The Silhouettes, now seniors, have been the Varieties opening act for the last two years and, needless to say, we'll be sorry to see them graduate.

JOHN CAPPELLIN

Al Oerter, Olympic discus champion, was honored by the Dominican Republic on a postage stamp commemorating the 1956 Olympic Games. For an American to be so commended during his lifetime is a rare honor which can only be bestowed by a foreign country. Congress passed a bill in 1866 which prohibits the issuance of a postage stamp bearing the likeness of a living American.

The Deltas of Kansas U. are one of three fraternities selected to give musical skits in "Rock Chalk Revue"—annual campus variety show. All of the fraternities and sororities submit scripts from which three fraternities and three sororities are chosen. We are especially proud of Brother Ted Haines who composed the original musical score and Brother Alan Craven who wrote the clever lyrics. The musical score is especially significant since this is the first time such a production has appeared in the "Revue."

"Little Man on Campus" is the title which Bill Wilson won in a homecoming festivities election. Competition for this honor was keen with every fraternity on the "hill" eligible to run a candidate. Coming from behind with the help of Brother Dave Wilson's furious campaigning, Bill swept to a spectacular finish.

BILL WILSON of Kansas.

Dave Wilson has been elected president of Pi Epsilon Pi, more commonly known as "Ku Ku's," which is the men's pep organization. With Dave's election, the Delts now have a monopoly on pep presidencies since Chuck Eliot was previously elected president of "Froshawks," freshman men's pep organization.

One of the most promising backs on this year's freshman football team was Ron Michaels. Michaels, a fleet halfback, starred in the K.U.-Kansas State game scoring a touchdown on a 12-yard run and setting up another touchdown with a 46-yard run to the one-yard line. Also playing on the freshman football team was Bill Zagar, a fine defensive halfback, who will move up to the varsity squad next year.

The pledge class distinguished itself by winning the annual Campus Chest competition. The pledges solicited and washed actives' cars to amass a total of $152 for this campus counterpart of the Community Chest drive.

ALLEN HICKEY

Kansas State

With the advancement of the school year, Gamma Chi continues to show strength in campus activities. "The Four Delts," a vocal quartet composed of Lowell Novy, Larry Foulke, George Rood, and Max Bishop, was selected as K-State's top talent group for the second consecutive year. The quartet is scheduled to compete in the Big Four talent show on the campuses of Kansas State, Iowa State, Kansas University, and Nebraska University.

Dwight Bennett was chosen as an attendant in an election for "Favorite Man on Campus." The pledge class will try for similar success with Rex Leforgee, who is running for interfraternity pledge council "King" in an upcoming election. This year marks the first time a fraternity and sorority may present combined entries in Y-Orpheum competition. With the help of Pi Beta Phi we stand a good chance of having our script selected for the finals.

The Delts have continued to play an important part in the intramural program by reaching the semifinals in football and the finals in basketball for the third straight year. Kansas State's wrestling team will again have the services of Pat Doyle this season. Pat, who was only a sophomore last season, won the Big Seven championship in the 158-pound class and represented K-State in the NCAA meet.

The pledge class presented its annual "Paddle Party" for the graduating seniors. With the help of Playboy magazine's novel decorations, the party proved to be a big success. The Christmas season was highlighted by a tree-trimming party and a serenade which is always a big hit with the sororities.

This attire was in vogue at Gamma Chi's Playboy Party.

Recent elections show Laurence T. Schaper, president; Dave Craig, vice-president; Karl Stutterheim, treasurer; Mike Dole, assistant treasurer; Mike Finney, recording secretary; Dick Hotz, corresponding secretary; Pat Doyle, sergeant at arms; Doug Archer, guide, and Larry McWhorter, historian, as the new officers of Gamma Chi.

Curt Zeigler, alumni chairman, is already making plans for what promises to be a bigger-than-ever Founders Day.

BILL SIMIC

Kent

The most important week of the winter quarter for Delta Omega is rush week. This year the brothers are going all out for the largest pledge class in our history. Two years ago we broke a University record by taking one-fourth of the men rushing and more than doubling the number of men pledged by any other fraternity. This year will be no exception. Steve Bandy, rush chairman, and his rushing teams have been weeding out the top men on the campus since school started last fall.

The brothers have also been spending their evenings redecorating the Shelter so it will be in top shape when rush begins. A new living room carpet has been purchased, and each room in the house has been either repainted or papered.

Social Chairman Al Demarco has been busy planning the parties for rush. The week will be culminated with a party at the Akron Women's City Club.

"Operating for Victory" was a successful venture for the brothers in last quarter's homecoming competition. Brothers Terry Walsh and Ed Hindle were co-chairmen of the project. Our largest first-place trophy yet was presented to the brothers at the University dance that evening before a crowd of 10,000 students and guests.

Kent's homecoming display winner.

Three men were elected to Blue Key recently, boosting the number of brothers in that organization to five. Chosen for their leadership in campus activities and above-average scholarship were Don Hollis, Don Mehok, and Don Dickison. Two men were also chosen to be charter members in a newly-founded honorary on campus. Now on the charter of Phi Eta Sigma are the names of Don Hollis and Al Demarco.

Delts have been active in campus politics this quarter. Jan Mason was appointed justice of the High Court. Frank Ambrozic, parliamentarian of the junior class, represented KSU as a student council delegate to the National Student's Association regional convention at South Bend, Indiana.

The Delts have always been active in campus publications. Evidence of this is the appointment of Dave Darwin as business manager of the Kent Stater, daily University newspaper. Assisting him will be Frank Ambrozic, assistant business manager, and Andy Grinter, edition manager. Don Dickison was also chosen to be on the student publications policy committee.

There will be many activities to keep the brothers busy this quarter. Chuck Kurtak will lead the chapter in the annual "Pork Barrel," a program of slapstick comedy that is sponsored by the fraternities and sororities at Kent. Don Mehok serves as chairman of the University show. Founders Day is coming soon, followed by the winter formal. Our eighth year will be celebrated February 25.

DON DICKISON

Kentucky

Several members of Delta Epsilon have been elected to campus honoraries recently. Brothers Carlton Godsey and Roger Gum were elected to Keys, the sophomore men's honorary. Brother Godsey was selected for Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman honorary.

Brother Dave Becker was invited into Lances, the junior men's honorary.

The pledges did very well in the OΔK tag sales during the football season as they won two of the four weekly awards.

Brother Dick Howe is a member of Kentucky's basketball team this season and Brother Joe Johnson played end for the football team this past season. Both of them will be back next year for further intercollegiate competition.

Brother Jim Hampton is presently the feature editor for the Kernel, the campus newspaper.

Brother Kent Combs was recently elected to the Student Government Association. Brother Dave Becker was re-elected to a second term. At the present time Delta Epsilon has four representatives in the assembly.

The Delt spring formal is planned for May 17. Detailed plans are incomplete at this time, but it promises to be another good week end.

Alumni are asked to watch for an announcement of the annual Founders Day celebration. It will probably be held around May 10.

After many long and wonderful years of association with Delta Epsilon, Mrs. William Fish, known to us all as "Me-Me," has seen fit to retire as our house-mother. "Me-Me" will be missed greatly by all and the news of her departure from the chapter will undoubtedly bring back many thoughts of the past to the may alumni of Delta Epsilon across the country. We, as undergraduates, are not really qualified to say what "Me-Me" has meant to the chapter.

Kenyon

After five weeks of extensive rushing, Chi Chapter was blessed with fifteen pledges to clean rooms, etc. It is a fine group and the pledge program should shape them up into pretty good Delts by the time they have completed it. Pledge Dave Brown is president of his pledge class and has some very able assistance from the other pledges. Brothers Walt Taylor and Dick Schori are doing a magnificent job in handling the pledge training program this year and must be complimented.

Last week the officers for next year were elected. The new leaders are Walt Taylor, president; Jim Cox, vice-president; Ward Van Epps, corresponding secretary; Bob Stevenson, recording secretary; and Dave Bray, treasurer. Ralph Copeland and Bill Beese were elected to posts. This is a fine group of officers and it should prove to be a very good year for Chi. We are indebted to the officers this year for helping us have such a fine year.

On the sports front, Delts Lanny Ritter, Bill Beese, Tom Wilson, John Beese, and Pledge Phil Post are again giving the Lord's tank team the boost it needs to win the meets continually. Thus far the Lords are undefeated, including winning the conference meet held here at Kenyon.

Captain Ted Moody is leading the basketball team in just about every department imaginable. Although the team is not winning every game the Delts are coming through when they are needed. Besides Moody, Bill Swing and Jerry Looker are demonstrating that their loss would be disastrous to the ball club.

Chi did it again. We copped the intramural football championship this year. Ron Bennington received the most valuable player award again. It is given to the man who in the opinion of the officials of the college best exemplifies Knute Edington. Edington was an intramural star of a few years ago. Needless to say, congratulations are in order for Ron.

With Dick Schori leading the wrestling team, it is again having an excellent year. Dick is without a doubt one of the best wrestlers in the conference, exemplified by the fact that last year as a freshman he won the conference meet in his class.

Last week the Delts had a pre-junior dance party that was hailed by the Dean's office as one of the best parties on the Hill in the past decade. As a result of the party it was found that several of the brothers have remarkable "hidden" talents. Tex Copeland is a ventriloquist; Ward Van Epps reversed the saying to read "I'll Bet I Can," Bob Mauer can play the micks, something new from Italy, and Mark Powdermaker is a masonite. At our last meeting we decided to present some of this talent, plus more, to the Chinese orphanage not too far from school, which is run by a very dear friend of ours, Hen Sen Yen. It might be added that a few weeks ago one of the orphans, Tasmu Baol, was chosen honorary queen of Kenyon's Christmas Dance. Chi is trying hard to help the cause of the children at this orphanage. In charge of this program is Fred Bergold.

ED LEAVENWORTH

Lafayette

Nu Chapter once again turned in a winning performance in the house display contest and captured first prize. Brother Bob McCarron supervised the project and the whole membership put in many hours of work to make it a success.

Another homecoming winner for Nu.

Brother Doug Cherry is the captain of Lafayette's wrestling squad this year and he is undefeated so far. Doug has been one of the mainstays of the team for three years now.

In other sports, Bill Clearwater is one of the stars on the swimming team and Dick Schelling is anchor man on the Lafayette indoor relay team. The tankmen also have the services of Pledge Bill Larrabee while the freshman wrestling team is strengthened by Pledges Pete Mitchell and Bob Mayer.

Brother John Fulmer, one of the most active Deltas on campus, was recently elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The Lafayette College newspaper staff, headed by Brothers Fulmer and Curley, also has the services of Pledges Ron Geesey and Bob Christopherson and Brothers Don Ohenegian and Paul Luscombe.

This year we have planned a formal initiation dance to be held in February at a local country club. We hope to make the dance an annual event.

With work progressing on our party room in the cellar we should complete the work soon and it will be ready next semester.

In intramural sports Nu has fielded strong teams in both basketball and bowling and in wrestling we should better our second-place performance of last year.

DAVID MACK

Lehigh

The writing of this article brings another semester to a close for the Beta Lambda Deltas. We will all be sorry to see Hale Smith graduate and leave the Shelter.

The past semester was extremely successful socially. Led by Social Chairman Jack Sweitzer the Deltas had some of the finest parties on campus. Our big fall week ends included houseparty, Lafayette week end, and our own traditional Christmas Party. For the Christmas Party great pains were taken to decorate the house to fit in with the Christmas spirit. A formal party Saturday evening began festivities and included a delicious steak dinner. Most couples went to see Lehigh's yet undefeated wrestling team beat Syracuse but the men and their lovely dates returned to the Shelter for one of the finest parties of the year.

Sunday was also a busy day as 18 orphans invaded the Shelter to give the Deltas a chance to exhibit the true Christmas spirit of giving. The children were treated to turkey dinners soon after their arrival. This was followed by the entertainment of a professional magician and Walt Disney movies. Finally, Bill Schaeffer, as a truly realistic Santa Claus, gave out such wonderful gifts as pogo sticks, machine guns, and flying saucers.

Returning to wrestling, Pete Davidson has meant a world of difference to Lehigh's wrestling squad. He was solely responsible for the victory over Cornell, the closest the team has come to losing. Pete, a heavyweight, wrestled with the score, Lehigh 12, Cornell 9, and whipped his highly favored opponent to give us a 15-9 victory.

The past semester also included the initiation of six men, and house elections. The new officers of Beta Lambda are Logan Blank, president; Charles Vogt, vice-president; Jim Swenson, treasurer; Bob Elliott, corresponding secretary; Bob Freeman, recording secretary; and Charles Rohleder, assistant treasurer. We are all confident that the chapter will retain its high position under the leadership of these men.

We are all proud of Brother Bob Holcombe, one of 32 Lehigh men chosen to be included in this year's Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Bob, the outgoing president, and all others who served with him, deserve a great deal of praise from all of us for a job certainly well done.

BOB ELLIOTT

Maryland

Delta Sigma Chapter has elected a new slate of officers, placed one brother on the list of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, ended up second in the Maryland intramural football season, and lost three brothers through graduation since the December, 1957, issue of THE RAINBOW.

The newly elected president is Kent S. Price, a junior in the College of Arts and Science. He is supported by Rudolph A. Vignone in the capacity of vice-president.

Filling the very important treasurer slot is Theodore T. Lawshee, III, who is also a junior in the College of A. & S. Assisting him is S. Jerome Crumlish, who is the newly elected assistant treasurer. Crumlish is a sophomore in the College of Business and Public Administration, and has recently relinquished the position of sergeant at arms. Completing the slate is Samuel H. Ebersole, Jr., corresponding secretary; James D. Beynon, recording secretary; Dewitt W. Platt, sergeant at arms; and Charles Mundt, guide. Ebersole fills another secretarial position in Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity.

Delta Sigma's past recording secretary, George A. Weinkam, Jr., was notified that he has been selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Weinkam has also been tapped for Phi Kappa Phi, honorary senior scholastic society, and has been filling the position of business manager for the school yearbook, the Terrapin.

The Delt intramural football team, inspired so vigorously by Coach Dewitt Platt, tied the first contender, Theta Chi, in the final play-offs of their division. The game was rescheduled and the Deltas took second place, losing 2-0 to Theta Chi. A Delt lineman, M. Michael Carpenter, was picked for his outstanding exhibition to play on one of the intramural all-star squads.

through February, 1958, graduation. The first, past Treasurer John E. Stevens, is to be complimented for the very capable job he performed while serving as treasurer. John J. O'Neil, our second recent graduate, was a past president and recently vacated his position as parliamentarian, and as chairman of the rules committee. The final recent graduate is Daniel doCarmo, Jr.

The Delta Sigmas recently decorated their dining room with a 75-square foot mural, depicting a Mediterranean seashore scene. The mural is to be framed on the sides with curtains, another contribution to the Shelter from the Delta Women's Alliance—formerly the Women's Auxiliary.

DONALD E. WITTEN

M.I.T.

While much chapter interest has been centered around the intramural sports leagues, Beta Nu activity has been outstanding in all phases of campus life.

Five of Beta Nu's 16-member pledge class are receiving M.I.T. on scholarships. Lloyd Fisher has been awarded a Lockheed National Engineering Scholarship; Milt Reed, a General Motors Scholarship; Hank Wagner, a Sloan Scholarship; Larry Rojahn, a National Merit; and Walt Jackson, a local McCune Scholarship. A Sloan Scholarship has also been recently awarded to Sophomore Dan Michael. The outstanding ROTC cadet last year, Brother Dan has also been elected to the executive committee of the "Q" Club, the sophomore honorary.

Three members of the '57-'58 pledge class, Bob Andrews, Larry Rojahn, and Buck Fricke, were also elected members of the Freshman Council.

Other outstanding appointments include Bruce Blomstrom to Beaver Key, the junior honorary; Mike Nash to an office in the American Institute of Chemical Engineers; and Bob Schmidt as executive officer of the Air Force ROTC Doolittle Squadron. Bob, along with Chapter President Dan Holland, was also elected to Pi Tau Sigma, the mechanical engineering honor fraternity. Dan, the president of M.I.T.'s athletic association, was one of six Deltas on the Beaver varsity rugby team along with Dan Michael, Mike Haugh, Joe Timms, John McCarty, and Frank Braidech. Pledge Braidech was the successful team's top scorer.

Other pledges receiving athletic honors were John Crissman as frosh basketball high scorer and Nelson Stephany, who was a member of the frosh swimmers' record-breaking 200-yard medley relay team. Joe Verderber, voted outstanding pledge last year, also achieved fame by defeating the 1957 New England sabre champion in an eastern fencing meet.

Encouraged by these notable honors,

Beta Nu is expecting an outstanding year in all fields of activity.

ARTHUR Q. THRASH

Miami

Our first-semester activities were highlighted this year by the annual holiday festivities. The Christmas season was started in good style with a tree-decorating party with our dates. Later in the week the brothers held a gift exchange and after-hours fireside party which we hope will become an annual affair. The culmination of our activities was the Christmas Formal on the 14th based on a "gas-light" theme. Many thanks go to Brother Doug MacEachin for his hard work in making the formal a success.

Brother Bob Miller is playing a big role in Miami's court successes this year. Our fine intramural basketball team is enjoying an undefeated season. Pledge John Drew was elected the most improved player on the conference champion Redskin football team.

New officers elected at the January 14 meeting are; president, Chris Callsen; vice-president, Bill Papenbrock; corresponding secretary, Bob Morgan; recording secretary, Bill Chambers; sergeant at arms, Dick Studinka; guide, Doug MacEachin; treasurer, Jerry Bonesteel; and assistant treasurer, Bill Graham.

We are looking forward to attracting a fine pledge class during the forthcoming February rush week. A week of open house will precede the formal pledging.

We look forward to the return of Brother Doug Rand from the service and Brothers Bill Drysdale and Don Ball, who received athletic injuries, to help us to a successful rush week and second semester.

BOB MORGAN

Michigan

Delta Chapter started off the year by pledging 17 outstanding men. Much of the credit should go to Earl Duryea who did an excellent job as rushing chairman. Immediately after rushing ended, the pledge program began under the direction of Bob Heiberger, Bill Penner, and Gordon Murray.

Saturday, November 16, will go down as an important day in the history of Delta Tau Delta at Michigan, for it was then that the new $90,000 addition to the Shelter was formally dedicated.

Robert Sinclair, '07, Grosse Pointe Farms, and Samuel Sackett, '00, Evanston, Illinois, teamed up at the dedication ceremony to cut the ribbon, officially opening the new addition and a bright new era for Delta Chapter.

The day got under way before noon when alumni began arriving for luncheon preceding the Michigan-Indiana football game. After the game, alumni returning to the Shelter were taken on informal tours of the new area. At a dinner following the dedication, alumni were introduced.

The fall social program came to a fitting climax on December 13 when we held our fall pledge formal. Tom Jones handled the arrangements as chairman and Jerry Coon was responsible for the beautiful Christmas decorations. A special surprise for the girls were beautiful Hawaiian leis flown in from Honolulu.

On January 10 new officers were elected to serve for the coming year. Tom Hudak, a junior in premedical studies, was chosen to lead the house as president. Others elected were: Tom Jones, vice-president; Dave Barnes, corresponding secretary; Bill Beck, recording secretary; Dave Schultz, treasurer; Jack Ross, parliamentarian; Dick Pryce, sergeant at arms.

At the halfway point in the race for the IM all-sports trophy we are in second place. This standing was bolstered by the wrestling team which finished a close second out of 43 fraternities in the recent all-campus meet. Dave Schultz and Tom Dietrich both gained first places in their weight classes.

As the new semester begins, the brothers are looking forward to many spring activities. Included in these are Michigan, the Annual Soap Game Classic, and I.F.C. Sing in which we will be defending our championship trophies.

JIM O'DEA

Michigan State

The Iota Delts returned to the Shelter and all the ice and snow after Christmas and prepared for a cold winter term.

Looking back on the previous term is a pleasure for Iota, as many happy times and merit-worthy achievements can be seen.

Iota won the block championship in football and went on to be semifinalists. Tom Anderson, a former M.S.U. player, coached Iota's team, and, for the fourth consecutive year, the Delts won the coveted Powder Puff Bowl trophy; two powder puffs suspended from a garter. Brother Rook Shank was crowned, amidst his dress and rouge, "Miss Powder Puff of 1958."

Iota is now in third place for the all-fraternity sports trophy, two points short of second place. The winter teams are hoping to push Iota into first place. Paul Leavenworth is coaching basketball; Ron Dunbar, hockey; and Tom Woods, swimming, in which Iota won the all-fraternity championship last year.

Iota is now in the midst of winter rush, headed by Rush Chairman Dave Ball. The number of rushees is fewer than expected, but the quality of the rushees is exceedingly good and Iota expects to pledge several of them, all prospects for good future Delts.

Jerry McDonald, social chairman, planned and had many good parties last term, one of which merited mention in the Detroit Free Press: the "Dead Man's Party." The Shelter resembled a funeral parlor, but only in appearance, as the dancing and party-making got under way.

Congratulations are given to Ron Dunbar, our newly-elected treasurer, succeeding Dick Payne, and Bruce Gilbert, the new assistant treasurer.

Congratulations, also, to Brother Bob Jewett, who was chosen outstanding lineman in the North-South game, and to Jim Ledinsky, recently appointed to the Michigan State Union Board of Directors. Brother Bill Rowe is also on the board.

Iota is looking forward to reading the achievements of other Delt chapters around the country and wishes them luck in the coming term.

RODY SHERRILL

Minnesota

Last quarter was very successful for Beta Eta with many "great" parties, a winning athletic program, a successful rushing program, and many B.M.O.C., but at present all the brothers are anxiously awaiting the starting of Greek Week. Beta Eta again, as last year, plans to run off with top honors.

Greek Week All-Participation trophy at Minnesota.

Brother George Perzel is our Shelter chairman for Greek Week and has a very extensively organized program that is a sure winner. Other Delts in Greek Week are: Brother Bill Bergen as chairman of button sales and Brother Richard Arney as chairman of the Greek Week banquet.

Beta Eta has a lot more than its share of "Big Men on Campus." Brothers Milton Iossi, Wayne Anderson, Jim Lewis, and Robert Martin are on the all-University congress. Brothers Peter Vaill, Milton Iossi, and Wayne Anderson are on the S.C.S.A. Brother Richard Duxbury is on the S.L.A. board. Much credit is due to these gents for spreading Delta Tau Delta on campus.

There is always much action going in Beta Eta's committees. "Pudge" Ingebritson and Richard Arney, our social committee chairmen, have many good "theme" parties coming up. "Pudge" is quite an artist and introduced his "Denny Delt," who frequently is seen at our social gatherings. Terry Dieterle has kept our rushing program going full strength all year and as a result we always have a fine, as well as large, pledge class.

BENNO KRISTENSEN

Missouri

On the evening of December 14, Gamma Kappa held its annual winter formal, the Orchid Ball. Preceding the dance, approximately 80 Delts and their dates attended dinner at Moon Valley Villa. Following dinner, everyone adjourned to the Shelter, decorated with smilax and Spanish moss and some 2,000 baby orchids, for an evening of dancing. At 10:30 p.m., Miss Nancy Weatherly of Kappa Kappa Gamma was crowned Orchid Ball Queen of 1957 by President Tom Taylor. Nancy was escorted by Rodger Sharp.

The Mizzou Delts have elected new officers for the coming year. Jim Ritter, former treasurer from Columbia, was elected president. He will receive able assistance from his vice-president, Dick Heavener, and Treasurer Phil Wahl. John Silver will fill the post of recording secretary, and Paul Knopf will continue to handle the chapter's correspondence.

Under the leadership of Rush Chairman Kermit Raydon, two new pledges were added during open rush. They are Bob Arkes and Gary Starr, a candidate for the varsity baseball squad. Several other new pledges are expected at semester.

When not on the road with the Tiger varsity, Reserve Guard Steve Lewis has been leading our intramural cagers to a very successful season. The Delts are currently in second place, trailing the league leaders by only one game.

PAUL KNOPF

Nebraska

Beta Tau Chapter has recently elected its officers for the coming year. Succeeding Dick Arneson as president is Tom Neff. Tom Nevotti was elected as vice-president, and the new treasurer is Bob Aden. Bill Lindgren is the new assistant treasurer, Roger Krhounek is the recording secretary, and Skip O'Halloran is the new corresponding secretary. Ross Lance will serve as guide and Bud Arneson will perform the duties of the sergeant at arms.

The Nebraska Deltas put together another fine homecoming display this year to win third place in the men's competition. Dick Bond ably performed his duties as chairman of homecoming activities.

Nebraska's third-place winner.

Prior to the opening football game against Oklahoma the Beta Tau Deltas invited a group of Boys' School youngsters from Omaha, Nebraska, to be guests of the chapter. The boys were taken to the football game and had seats in the Delt section at the stadium and were treated to a fine meal at the Shelter following the game.

A traditional party on the Nebraska campus, the Delt Hangover party, provided an enjoyable evening for 75 Deltas and their dates, all clad in colorful pajamas. Sawdust, slides, and signs decorated the Shelter, adding to the merriment of the evening.

We had a most successful Delt Daughter dinner at the Shelter. The invited "daughters" included daughters of alumni and pinmates of the undergraduates. Entertainment following the dinner was furnished by Brothers Rod O'Donnell and David Pennington.

A recent event of interest was our faculty tea in honor of our gracious house-mother, Mrs. Bernice Hinds, who has been with us for six years. Our Mothers Club took charge of preparation and serving of the refreshments.

The intramural program continues to find the Deltas piling up championships for Beta Tau. Under the leadership of Dean Jenkins, our wrestling team won all-University honors. Meanwhile, John Moyer and Jack Clark won the intramural bridge tourney. At the present time, the bowling team, consisting of Jere DeVilbiss, Jack Redmond, Dwight Seibler, Gordon Anderson, Bob Wright, and Lee Liming, has won its league and is now engaged in the play-off for all-University champs. Both the "A" and the "B" basketball teams are in the play-offs for the all-University championships and are very much in contention for league championships, each squad having been defeated but one time. The teams are coached by Roger Morris and Tom Pies-ter, respectively.

JOHN W. CLARK

North Dakota

The big high light of the year so far was the Kris Kringle Christmas Formal held December 14, 1957. During intermission of the formal Mona Kay Larson, a Tri-Delt from Grand Forks, North Dakota, was presented by President Glenn Muir as the second Sweetheart of Delta Xi Chapter. Mona Kay was presented with the Sweetheart pin and a dozen roses. Judy Johnson, a Delta Gamma, and Gwen Hamilton, an Alpha Phi, were attendants and each received a dozen roses. Barry Nelson and his social committee did a magnificent job in decorating and arranging the formal.

Other social events this year were the annual Hard Times party and the Christmas party.

In sports, Pledge Wade Kraemer is a member of the freshman basketball squad. Loney Norby, a very fine hurdler, is a member of the track team. Connie Thompson, a junior from Bismarck, North Dakota, is a member of the gymnastic team.

Arnold Johnson, of Larimore, North Dakota, was the recipient of a $300 scholarship from the 4-H for outstanding work. Arnold received another fine honor recently when he was initiated into Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity.

The Delta Xi pledge class received a trophy for having the best representation at the annual pledge skip sponsored by Sigma Chi Fraternity.

With semester exams approaching, we are all making a determined effort to improve our scholarship and are looking forward to success next semester.

JACK MCCOY

Ohio State

Among the usual activities of the new year is the annual election of chapter officers. This January the '58-'59 leaders were chosen as follows: Dave Weinsz, president; Lawton Gerlinger, vice-president; Dick Wilson, recording secretary; Larry Brake, corresponding secretary; Byron Higgins, treasurer; Willson Baker, assistant treasurer; George Miller, sergeant at arms; Jon Slater, guide; and Dave Kuenzel, historian. For the first time in many years the elections took over six hours, a fact which demonstrates much careful thought and deliberation.

The biggest social event of this year was undoubtedly the almost campus-wide exodus to Pasadena, California, where our national champion football team was honored to play in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl game. The most popular bowl game of the country proved this year to be as exciting as past years, for the 19-point favored Buckeyes from Ohio had considerable difficulty in winning by a three-point field-goal margin. Many members admit that even in Big Ten ball they have seen fewer closer games. Among the chapter members to make the trek out west were Dave Weinsz, George Baughman, Tom Wilson, Jon Slater, Nat Smith, Willson Baker, and Randy Wright. Playing on the team was Fred Schenking. Many memories and many pictures will be discussed for months to come as the boys all agree that the trip was indeed worth while.

Looking ahead to the coming year and its various events, we all are anticipating the Winter Formal, with its parties and activity. Already in consideration is the Delt Sweetheart contest, which is the high light of the dance as well as the winter quarter. To be eligible a young beauty has to be a wearer of the Golden Square. At present there are about 20 girls in the running.

RANDY WRIGHT

Ohio Wesleyan

Chapter Mu was gratified by the response of alumni to its homecoming week end invitations and preparations. Over 150 Mu Delts returned to the Shelter to fraternize and share in our victory—the winning of the first prize in the homecoming display competition.

The college Christmas season brought an invitation for the Delt song group to serenade the formal Christmas parties at the women's dormitories. Needless to say, we were quite pleased to be elected for this performance by the campus coeds, and certainly tried to merit the continuance of their approval. If popularity is any indication of quality, the Delts have reason for high hopes of winning the interfraternity songfest this spring.

The chapter is duly proud of Brother Dick DeHaven, who was named as first-string end for the honorary Ohio Conference team, but it was no surprise to anybody who had observed Dick's gridiron ability that he was chosen for this honor.

Mu's campaign for a new Shelter has been officially launched. Several contributions have already been promised. The prospects are encouraging; we all hope to be able to view a beautiful new Shelter at Ohio Wesleyan in the near future.

JOHN PORTER

Oklahoma

As school slowly draws toward the end of the first semester, the Delts at the University of Oklahoma have again shown the tremendous enthusiasm which has made us outstanding in years past. In sports, scholarship, activities, and in social life, we have again ranked high on the campus.

Our first-semester social events ended with a wonderful Christmas party. We started the party in the Shelter by giving gifts to all of the girls. Later we moved to the Norman Country Club to complete a tremendously successful party. Listed as one of our most successful parties was the annual Little Guys Party, given for underprivileged children in the Norman area. This party provided several children with a much happier Christmas.

Our football team had a fine season and placed third in the over-all fraternity standings. For the second straight year we were chosen to participate in Sooner Scandals, the annual school variety show. Our act received the highest rating of any of the 30 acts which participated. Many thanks to Act Director Neal Horton and to the men in the act.

This year the University of Oklahoma has the best basketball team it has had in several years. We are very proud of the fact that Bill Hammond has done such a fine job on the team. Although he is only a sophomore, he has earned a position on the starting team. As a side light we might mention that Bill was the high-point man against Kansas State, the nation's number two ranked team. Bill also takes part in all forms of our Fraternity life, including the coaching of our chapter basketball teams.

Our officers for the coming year have been elected. We are sure these men will continue the fine leadership which has earned for us the top spot on the campus: J. D. Wolfenberger, president;

BILL HAMMOND

The Delts on College Circle here at Oklahoma State University are eagerly looking forward to the new year with a fine new slate of officers ready to take the helm. The following men were elected to lead the chapter through a very important year for all concerned. Andy Cummins, president; Max Jordan, vice-president; G. W. English, corresponding secretary; David Kelley, recording secretary; Vernon Haddox, guide; Dick Moore, sergeant at arms; Jerry Spencer, historian; Dennis Karney, treasurer; Dick Snyder, assistant treasurer, and D. H. Rutledge, I.F.C. representative.

Frank Ross, outgoing president, added to his laurels during the fall semester when he was elected vice-president of the Oklahoma State band and served as chairman of the Greek Week committee.

After a very successful fall social program climaxed by the Fall Formal and the Wake Party, in which all the Delts wore black and were escorted to the party by the local police force, we are looking forward to a full spring program with the Sweetheart Dance and Spring Orchid Formal.

Representing the Delts in the Sugar Bowl Festival at New Orleans was Brother Vernon Haddox, who ran a leg on the fine relay team from Oklahoma State.

The Delts again proved themselves "always a bridesmaid but never a bride" when they reached the play-offs in both football and basketball only to lose out to a fine Sigma Nu team. Fiery Andy Cummins was the sparkplug in both sports, supported ably by Max Jordan, Dick Moore, Charles Di Iorio, Frank Ross, Don Fine, and Jerry Spencer. Jim Kreymsborg was the individual scoring leader for the roundballers as the Delts came up with the best defensive team in the league.

Displaying their versatility, the Delts sent a crew of men to Lubbock to help install the new chapter at Texas Tech. Buddy Rutledge is to be commended for his excellent part in this performance.

Looking ahead, the Delts are preparing in earnest for the I.F.C. Sing, which we lost last year for the first time since its origin. Led by Song Leader Max Jordan, we are determined to prove again our supremacy in this annual song fest.

In this first year of the Centennial Fund the Delts at Oklahoma State University are doing their utmost to prove not only their need for such national support but also that they are deserving of such aid.

DICK MOORE

Oregon

Oregon's "Bowl Bound Delts" took seven men with them on the journey south to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl. Two men played football, and the other five played in the University band. Senior Charles Osborne and Junior Marlon Holland, both fullbacks, put in a good performance in the game. Brothers Thomas Lewis, Ronald Linder, William Schwartz, Bruce Bailey, and Roy Phillips participated in the band during opening and halftime activities. The brothers are also active in other sports. Juniors Earl Curtis, Bob McCulloch, and Sophomore Gary Parks are members of the varsity wrestling team. Two men are also on the varsity ski team. They are Peter Stragnola and Richard Schonfelder.

During fall term, 11 men qualified for initiation and were duly installed in the chapter. These men are active in both campus activities and sports. They are all of excellent quality and live up to the standards set by Gamma Rho.

Oregon's homecoming display.

Homecoming Week brought another trophy to the Gamma Rho den. Two weeks of concentrated effort won the award for the Homecoming Sign Contest. The theme for Homecoming was "Ducks Track Back," and the combination sign depicted a huge television set and a stereoscope which showed present and past scenes respectively. Both parts of the sign contained six scenes, turned together by pledge power.

Along the social line, our annual surprise breakfast was held with the Delta Gamma sorority where "Miss Sally Sunshine of 1957" was elected. Plans are in order and preparations are being made for our annual Delt Queen contest. This is the biggest event during winter term, and it already has the campus buzzing.

DARRELL CORNELIUS

Pennsylvania

Now, as in the past, we of Omega Chapter feel that we can be extremely proud of the accomplishments of our brothers in the activities field. The variety of the activities engaged in, and the high standards of leadership achieved by the men of Delta Tau Delta, serve as indications of the interests of the undergraduates in furthering the Fraternity and the University.

The fall issue of the Omegaphone, chapter publication, with President Jere Young as the editor, and his staff: Chuck Carpenter, Crash Clark, Paul Derringer, Brooks Heenan, Tim Heidelbaugh, Dryver Henderson, Walt Offermann, Dick Taylor, and Jack Windolf, gave quite a complete picture of the activities of Omega Chapter for the fall season.

At about 4:30, Saturday, November 2, one of Omega Chapter's most outstanding alumnus returned to the Shelter for a necessarily brief but very enjoyable visit. Mr. Justice William J. Brennan, Jr., Omega '28, of the United States Supreme Court, took advantage of the lapse in time between the football game and a dinner in his honor to visit Omega Chapter. After a tour of the first floor of the Shelter, Justice Brennan and his wife went down to the basement party room and there met many of the actives and alumni, including some who were here during the same years in which he was active in the chapter. During the ensuing conversation, he mentioned many of the good times he had as an undergraduate and also commented on the many changes in the Shelter physically since his years at Pennsylvania.

This year, as in past years, the Christmas Formal was the high light of our fall social season. With the Haverfordians providing the music, and under the leadership of Jack Windolf and Tim Heidelbaugh, the dance was a great success.

Omega Deltas started the New Year by having a party at Suffern, New York, home of "Crash" Clark. Brothers came from all over to attend the party and start the New Year together. A really great time was had by all who attended.

Plans are being made for rushing with the hopes of getting another great pledge class for Omega Chapter.

BOB GARRISON

Penn State

The proudest achievement at Tau Chapter in the last two months has been the rushing record. We had all of our extended bids accepted for a perfect record. This is a real feather in the hat of Rush Chairman George Mabey, his committee, and the entire chapter membership.

The outcome of the Pitt-Penn State Delt football game plunged Tau Chapter into a state of gloom, as we went down to a crushing defeat in Tau Park. Never to take it lying down we have already extended a challenge to Gamma Sigma Chapter for a return game in the spring.

Our bowling team moved into second place in the league with a record of 42-6 as the first half of the season drew to a close. In basketball, when the team took a breather for finals it found itself to be in a tie for second place with a record of five victories against a lone defeat.

Tau Chapter's annual faculty reception, in co-operation with the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, turned out to be a most successful event. It was followed the next week end with our Christmas dinner-dance. The Shelter was bathed in festive atmosphere as a string trio rendered soft music to blend with the surroundings and contribute to a most successful and enjoyable evening. Congratulations are extended to our hard working social chairman, Paul Pritchard.

In January, five of our outstanding seniors will be graduated. We wish them the best of luck and good fortune as they embark on their new experiences in the business world.

FRED TAYLOR

Pittsburgh

A crowning achievement of the past semester was the success of the Gamma Sigma football team. In interfraternity competition the Pitt Deltas stormed through the league with only one loss and regained the championship. After capturing the IF crown we entered the play-offs for the all-University title and won it. This gave the chapter the right to represent Pitt in the city tournament among teams from Pitt, Carnegie Tech, and Duquesne. In the final game for the city supremacy we met the representative from Carnegie Tech. After coming from behind twice we pulled out an 18-12 victory.

A good deal of the credit for our fine 14-1 record and the three new trophies for our case goes to Coach Jim Luci, Tailback Jim Donahue, Ends Lou Durbin, Ed Ifft, and Russ Sweely and Halfbacks Rog Ahlers and Forest Good.

The seniors from Gamma Sigma this year all appear to be well on their way to high achievements. Brothers George Buerger, Fred Liebler, George Liebler, Lee Dobler, and Grover Philippi have all received acceptances to medical school and are planning future careers in medicine. Ed Ifft has been accepted to law school and Paul Barzd has been accepted to Harvard's Graduate Business School.

Over the past six months the brothers at Gamma Sigma have been able to receive and appreciate all the enthusiasm and all the work being put into the coming Centennial Karnea in Pittsburgh. We at Gamma Sigma feel that the Karnea will be a great success and hope that Deltas throughout the country have the opportunity to enjoy it.

With the end of Thanksgiving vacation and the football games, the brothers buckled down to a mid-semester "push" for scholarship. With the coming of Christmas we joined forces with the Kappas and went caroling around to the different institutions, children's home, old peoples' home, etc. The Christmas party sponsored by the chapter for underprivileged children was a great success as brothers and their pinwomen, along with Santa Claus, handed out much-coveted gifts.

Some of the brothers got together and whipped up an unusual Christmas decoration which won for us for the second time the traveling trophy. If we win the trophy again, it is ours to keep. Our theme for the sign was "Sleighnick," a large Santa Claus riding on a satellite pulled by "eight tiny reindeer."

Vacation ended, as all vacations have a tendency to do, and we are all back for the final study effort. We were very happy to have initiated eight new members into the Fraternity. We have not yet chosen our spring pledges, but we are rushing more than 300 men, and expect to have a large pledge class.

PETE KRIEG

Rensselaer

Congratulations are in order for Brother Ron Brown as he sparked the varsity football team to its "winningest" season in seven years. Ron's versatility in pass receiving, blocking, and punting earned him a selection to the 1957 All-Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference first team for small colleges. After three years at quarterback, Ron switched to end where he starred for the '57 season.

On the ice, Brothers Pete MacArthur and Gary Kearns are moving the hockey team right along with outstanding play. Currently the second highest scorer in the nation, Gary is making a fine bid for another All-American selection. His all-around ability has also enabled him to appear in the current Who's Who. In addition to his superb play at defense, Pete has also been very effective at offensive scoring.

Our rushing program, with the spirited efforts of the brothers, directed by Russ Slayback, the rushing chairman, was a big success. Our new pledge class of 22 is well represented in all phases of campus activities and should produce some fine Deltas in the future.

Mike Gaul, '57, is currently channeling his literary talents in the form of a newsletter and sending it to the alumni and undergraduate brothers. Besides being most entertaining and packed with laughs, it is promoting a closer alumni relationship and keeping brother Deltas well informed.

EDWARD A. KROMER

Santa Barbara

The University of California, Santa Barbara College, recently established the Max Burton Caulk memorial trophy in honor of our deceased brother. This trophy will be awarded annually to the college living group, residence hall, sorority, or fraternity for the outstanding contribution to the welfare of the school, town, or society as a whole. The award will be based on such criteria as charitable events undertaken, scholarship, and participation in school drives, etc. A perpetual trophy will also be placed in the school trophy case with the winner's name engraved. Those of us who knew Max so well, feel that this is a fine tribute in memory of his many contributions to Delta Tau Delta, the University, and to Santa Barbara. Max will always be with us in spirit.

The Santa Barbara alumni joined the actives and pledges of Delta Psi in greeting the Honorable Fran Hughes, National President, and Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President, in their trip to Santa Barbara. Chapter President Cliff Purcell gave Mr. Hughes and Mr. Shields a guided tour of our new multimillion dollar, 408-acre campus on the seashore. Mr. Hughes and Mr. Shields also had a conference with our dean of students, Dr. Lyle Reynolds, and Dean of Men, Dr. John Groebli. The evening was spent at the Shelter, and after a turkey dinner, Mr. Hughes gave a very enlightening speech. The speech included such topics as the financial condition of Delta Tau Delta, the newly established Centennial Fund, and other chapters of Delta Tau Delta. We certainly feel proud to have these two fine gentlemen as our leaders, and hope that they will honor us again with their presence soon.

The chapter held its annual election on January 9, and in a close contest Cliff Purcell emerged as president. Cliff's brother, incidentally, is a charter member of Delta Psi. Jim Hezlep was elected to fill the difficult job of vice-president. George Hawkins was chosen house manager. "Old G.B.H." has some revolutionary ideas in running the house, and while campaigning actively for this position promised steak and eggs for breakfast within a month! Only time will tell. The job of treasurer went to George Springowski who has had some experience with figures. Recording secretary is Richard Lyons and corresponding secretary is Morlan Hagenbaugh.

DON COTTLE

Sewanee

Beta Theta started 1958 with the election of officers. Those elected were Brothers Bob Carter, president; Battle Searcy, vice-president; Jack Horner, treasurer; Bill Bullock, corresponding secretary; Sam Carleton, recording secretary; Bob Williams, sergeant at arms; George Kiker, guide; and Ed Provine, assistant treasurer.

Active in the Hudson Stuck branch of the English Speaking Union this year are Brothers Bill Bullock, Sam Carleton, Bob Carter, Craig Casey, Jack Horner, George Kiker, Dick Lindop, and Battle Searcy. Meetings are held at the home of Brother George B. Myers, Beta Theta faculty adviser. Brother William W. Lewis, beloved Mr. Delta Tau Delta of Sewanee, has long been associated with this group. The branch is named for Brother Hudson Stuck, the first man to climb Mt. McKinley.

Pledge Brother Jeff Sewall lettered in varsity cross-country this season. Other actives and pledges are currently active on the undefeated Sewanee swimming team.

Brothers Sam Carleton and Jack Horner were elected to the German Club, student cotillion organization, to replace retiring Delt members, Harvey Allen and Battle Searcy. Brother Carleton was also elected to Sopherim, the mother chapter of Sigma Upsilon, literary fraternity.

Brothers Bill Bullock and Craig Casey appeared in the cast of "My Three Angels," a fall student production. Brother Casey was elected to Purple Masque, dramatics honorary, upon completion of point requirements.

Brothers and pledges are active in the choir, band, newspaper, annual, humor and literary magazine, volunteer fire department, debate council, acolyte's guild, Highlanders, and Los Peones, student social organizations.

Several junior and senior brothers qualified for election to the Order of Gownsmen, student governing body, and were installed with the academic gown. Brother George Kiker was elected to the discipline committee of the Oxford-styled order.

Beta Theta is in the midst of its 75th anniversary celebration. Activities are under the direction of Brothers Horner and Searcy, celebration chairmen. Climaxing the celebration will be the 75th anniversary banquet, April 19, with the dedication of the Beta Theta Alumni Hall of Fame. President Francis M. Hughes is to be the featured speaker.

BATTLE SEARCY

South Dakota

The annual homecoming of the University of South Dakota, Dakota Day, found the Deltas winning first place in interfraternity float decorations. The Deltas have won four firsts out of the last five years in this division. With the help of 25 top-notch pledges in the construction of the float, "Progression of Years," the Deltas were awarded for the most beautiful description of the 75th anniversary of the University of South Dakota.

South Dakota's winning float.

The first main social event of the year was the annual fall house party in which the theme "Hobo Convention," was accentuated by box cars and paintings of hobos throughout the Shelter. A couple that represented the best looking hobo couple was chosen by the chaperones, who served as judges.

Crandall, Theta, was chosen as Sweet-heart.

September 28 marked the activation of six men into the Fraternity. A banquet was held on Saturday morning at which Chapter Adviser Tom Poe was the speaker.

Norm Headrick was added to the list of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Brother Headrick is vice-president of the student body, president of Dakotans, and a member of Toastmasters. Brother Harry Schwartz was pledged to Strollers, men's vaudeville organization. Brother Bill Dickson was pledged to Scabbard and Blade, and is junior chairman of the Military Ball.

Thus far during the current year the Deltas have won first place in the interfraternity golfing competition in which Delt Mike Gibson was medalist. At present the Deltas are ranking high in basketball and bowling.

Dakota's golf team: Medallist MIKE GIBSON, EV COMSTOCK, TOM SIMMONS, and GIB SCHWARTZ.

The new officers of Delta Gamma for the 1958 school year are: president, Glenn Fingerson; vice-president, Pat Regan; recording secretary, Bill Stofft; corresponding secretary, Bill Dickson, and treasurer, Dick Frieberg.

TONY ZARIFIS

Stanford

Beta Rho closed out another successful fall quarter with two memorable experiences; one a group effort, the other individual performances by two brothers.

The group effort referred to was the annual orphan's Christmas party. Thirty tots invaded the house for the day and wound up with full stomachs and full stockings. The function is one of the most rewarding of the year, and the actives enjoy it as much as the children. In the way of individual performances, the election of Don Manoukian as the outstanding lineman in the East-West Shrine game was a fitting tribute to a great inspirational leader both on and off the field. The unspectacular but consistently tough Gary Van Galder also accepted his invitation to the Shrine game, and spent the afternoon upending the highly touted East backfield.

While mentioning outstanding individual performances in connection with athletics, it should be noted that Stanford's basketball team is captained by the conference's brilliant floor leader, Paul Neumann. In addition, the team's efforts have been greatly aided by a pair of promising sophomores in John Arrillaga and Chris Burford. Other Beta Rho members who round out the varsity include John Pflueger, Jerry Rose, Tom Crawford, and Bob Bletcher.

Help Week, postponed because of the number of boys participating in athletics and activities during the autumn, was the first order of business for the winter quarter. After the usual games, everyone spent an entire day cleaning and repairing the house and adjoining grounds. The following week end culminated activities with formal initiation, the initiation banquet, and initiation dance in San Francisco.

The main purpose of college concerns the academic field, and here members of Beta Rho distinguished themselves. President John Kidd was joined in the honorary engineering society by Harry Collins and Wally Honeywell. The chapter itself seemed to compare favorably with other campus living groups in over-all grade returns.

ALF BRANDIN

Stevens

With the closing of the fall term, the chapter elected new officers for the coming year. The new slate is led by Emil Pavlik, '59, as president; Franklin Calderazzo, '60, as vice-president; Tom Faith, '59, as treasurer; Ray McEntee, '60, as corresponding secretary; Dick Koch, '59, as recording secretary; and Bob Koudelka, '60, as assistant treasurer.

At the top of the list of Delt activities for the fall term was the initiation of 22 new brothers. They spent their "pleasant" work week refinishing the woodwork in the dining room as well as installing a new ceiling. With the conclusion of initiation, Buddy Roedema was voted the Best Pledge Award.

The social spectrum of the past fall was gayly decorated with the many successful parties. Leading the gay array were, of course, Winter Carnival and the Halloween Party. The Halloween Party was thrown by the pledges for the brothers and was a howling success. The biggest hit of the party was the black and orange living-room walls. The catastrophe was soon remedied as they were repainted red and green for the Christmas season. Winter Carnival was the high point in the social calendar. The Formal was held Friday night at the Concourse Plaza, where the Deltas danced to the music of Warren Covington's Commanders and Bill Harrington's orchestra. Saturday was featured by the Stevens' victory over NCE, spotlighted by the fine performance of the four Deltas on the starting five of the basketball team. The week end was brought to a rousing conclusion with a jazz concert at the Shelter on Sunday afternoon. The social calendar was completed on New Year's Eve when all of the Deltas and many of the alumni welcomed in the New Year at the annual Roaring Twenties Party.

Bob Fiocco hit the grand slam of honor societies around school the past term. Bob was tapped by Khoda, Pi Delta Epsilon, and Tau Beta Pi. Combining these with his Gear and Triangle tapping of the previous term gives him the distinction of being tapped by all the possible honor societies that a non-ROTC man is eligible for. Last but not least for Bob was being elected to the post of vice-president of the Student Council. Also tapped by honor societies this term were Dick Clement to the Arnold Air Society and George Murphy to Gear and Triangle. George was also elected to the presidency of the Interfraternity Council.

Sports also played an important part on our fall schedule. In interfraternity competition we have a two-point lead in all-around sports, and are now leading the league in basketball. The Deltas are well represented in varsity sports. Nick Rodoupolos, Bob Schwab, Joe Kaminski, and Cocaptain Bob Walker are leading the basketball team. The squash team, led by Captain Emil Pavlik, is off to a winning season and the soccer team is looking forward to a successful season.

GIL MORIN

"Hot to Pledge," "He's a good man," were the words that started off our semester this year here in Syracuse. After three weeks of rushing, we pledged 20 men whom we know will be a definite asset to our Shelter. Also, two new men have joined our Fraternity membership roll: Paul Frazer and David Fellows. Dave is a junior majoring in business administration, and Paul's major is engineering. He has been carrying a Dean's List average.

Our second high light of the semester was Colgate week end when our football team came up with a victory. Among those alumni sitting in the cheering section were Bill Alderisio, Bob Lefko, Doug Collins, Jack Bujold, and Jim Peden. Afterwards, we had a Dixieland party featuring the hot chords of the Finger Lakes Five. It should be mentioned that Mrs. L., our cook, helped make our week end a success through the buffet luncheon spread and her remembering all of the "Old Guard" that dropped in to see her. To round out our social calendar, we have had coffees with KKG, AZD, DDD, and KD, where we managed to extend our list of "availables."

Fall, 1956, leaves a memorable impression as the time when the Eastern Division Conference was held here in Syracuse. Upon that occasion we received the lesson that we are here to prove our scholarship. This must have made an impression upon us for we moved from 24th in '55-'56 to the top spot among all the national fraternities on campus, and fourth out of 30 fraternities on the hill.

ERLING W. MAINE

Tennessee

The fall quarter at Delta Delta Chapter was highlighted by the acquisition of a new housemother, Mrs. Emma Scott. Under her watchful eye we had a successful social season beginning with a "poor taste party" at which everyone rushed to use Brother Rhen's ties. This was followed by our annual South Seas party "sans" sand but nothing else. The season was climaxed by our Dogpatch party, for which we have particular talent. The Scrags were resplendent in underwear and entertained with mountain music.

The first part of intramurals got off to a good start with seconds in shuffleboard and tennis to give us third place in the Orange intramural league. The Delts are well represented on the air waves in Knoxville with Pledges Gary Sanders and Don Wick broadcasting on local stations. The Delts' bowling team is standing second in one of the city leagues. Pledge Bill Bennett is freshman basketball manager.

We are looking forward to a successful winter which will include our annual mush banquet at which everyone below the All Men's Average for the fall—and his date—eats mush.

ROBERT S. BARGER

Texas Christian

The big event on the Texas Christian University campus this fall was the second annual Delta Tau Delta basketball tournament that was held December 13 and 14. Sixteen fraternity teams from Oklahoma University, North Texas State College, Texas University, Southern Methodist University, and Texas Christian University, entertained overflow crowds in both TCU gyms. The SMU Phi Delt won the tournament by edging out the host Delts in the final game 59-54. The SMU Alpha Tau Omega team won the consolation championship beating the Oklahoma Sigma Chis. Trophies were presented to the top three teams. An all-tournament team was selected and two TCU Delts were on the squad: Al Coggan and "Possum" Elenburg. Sororities that had the best attendance during the two-day meet were presented with trophies. Kappa Kappa Gamma won first place while Zeta Tau Alpha and Kappa Alpha Theta tied for second place. The tournament was a big success and the TCU Delts plan to make it better and larger next December.

Four men were initiated on October 20 in the Shelter.

TCU Christmas Party?

During open rush we pledged two new men, Sophomore Jackie Shatley and Junior James Livergood.

The TCU Delts sent an initiation team to Texas Tech for the formal initiation of Epsilon Delta. Mike Ebersole, Paul Youngdale, Myrl Moore, Tom Schmidt, Rich Hankins, Harold Key, Todd Overton, Bob Roch, Fred Forrest, and Charles Miller all made the trip. All enjoyed it.

Delta Tau Delta continued to dominate intramural sports by winning the football championship for the second straight year. Warren Rudolph, Dean Bennett, John Blanton, Harold Key, and Mike Ebersole made the all-fraternity team at TCU. The Delts also picked up more points toward the all-school intramural trophy by winning second place in volleyball. We are also favored to win basketball for the fourth straight year since all the starters from last year's championship team are returning. They are Al Coggan, Elenburg, Robert White, Harry Aston, and Jerry Ray. We are also favored in the swimming meet, to be paced by Jack King, and should take the softball championship again this year with Rudolph, Jim Smith, Larry Harris, Coggan, and Jerry Ray, last year's pitcher.

A Christmas party for 30 children from the Tarrant County Orphan's Home was held December 15 in the TCU Brown-Lupton student center. Presents were given to all the children and "Rabbit" Walker did a great job as "Santa."

Spring rush is the main thought of Epsilon Beta now. It begins February 20 and several rush parties have been planned.

In spring varsity sports John Cantrell will be tossing the shot while Kelly Westlake and James Livergood will run the 440 and 880. Livergood placed in the Southwest Conference meet last year as a sophomore. Harold Key will seek his third letter in baseball at the catcher's position. The Frogs are expecting big things from the arm and bat of Key. Pledge Joe Linville will be pitching for the freshman team. Elenburg will be on the varsity golf team for the third straight spring. Another pledge, Marshall Roberson, is the number one man on the freshman golf squad.

Ranch Week is only two months away. This year we're having a show with the Kappa Kappa Gammas. A "Wyatt Earp" theme is to be used. A western band will be led by a hillbilly crooner, Elenburg, and other hayseeds, Nick Taylor, David Orr, Joe Hickey, Frank Twaweek, Livergood, and Robert Fleming. Pledge Bobby Mueller is growing a beard and running for Ranch Week Foreman.

A Bum's Rush party is being given at the Eagle's Nest February 13 with the Kappas. This is where our New Year's Eve party was held and was one of the top parties on campus this year.

The Delt spring formal will be held at the Fort Worth Boat Club located on beautiful Eagle Mountain Lake May 9. The Delt Sweetheart will be presented and favors are being acquired for the occasion.

The Annual Founders Day Banquet is scheduled for May 7 at Amon Carter Airport. The Fort Worth and Dallas alumni are invited to this social event.

DAVID FREEMAN

Texas Tech

The baby chapter of Delta Tau Delta is coming along fine after being installed on the Texas Tech campus on December 7, 1957. Our Installation Ball was a grand success and everyone on the campus has been talking about it and is watching with anticipation the advancement of the Delts.

As Delts, we reminisce about our last Tau Delta Tau big brother-little brother breakfast with great joy, and are looking forward to our first Delt big brother-little brother breakfast. At the last breakfast paddles were given to all big brothers and the little brothers received a mug. The pledge trainer, Paul Ragland, received a paddle and the pledge class gave to the keeping of the corresponding secretary a Tau Delta Tau plaque for old memories' sake. Brother Gerald Dabbs was presented with our most coveted award, the "Brick Award." Joe Muckelroy was announced as the outstanding pledge and was presented with a plaque.

Our intramural program is advancing slowly as we won only one football game. However, we are hustling to improve this record in basketball. Basketball has just started and we are doing fairly well. We are looking to baseball with great anticipation as we lost only one player from last year's team.

The Delts are represented well in the Tech dormitory system as we have several leaders there. Norris Green is president of Bledsoe Hall and Bob James is a wing governor there. Gary Hall is vice-president of Gordon Hall and Grady Clark is a dorm wing supervisor in Doak Hall. In other fields of leadership we find Don Grimes and Joe Muckelroy secretaries of Kappa Kappa Psi and Phi Mu Alpha, respectively. Dan Moore is the director of the Tech Amateur Radio Club.

Scholastically the Delts have set their goal higher as we fell .01 of a grade point behind first place last semester. Things are looking great at this point and we feel sure we will win the scholarship trophy for this fall.

Brother James Thruston has started working on the music for the interfraternity sing this spring. We are practicing once a week and feel that we can bring home a trophy on our first try.

With Bob James as rush chairman, we are anticipating a large pledge class this spring. Spring rush is the largest rush on our campus and with last semester's percentage, 15 bids offered and 14 pledges, we feel sure that we will again come through with the top guys on our campus.

DON GRIMES

Toronto

Delta Theta Chapter had a most successful rushing season and pledged an outstanding group of 12 men.

During the pledge work week, previous to their initiation, the pledges hustled a good deal about the Shelter, the most noticeable accomplishment being the renovation of the downstairs lounge which received a tiled floor and walls newly panelled in knotty cedar.

One of the new brothers, Pete Bright, has achieved stardom at Victoria College by starring as the male lead in the Bob Revue, a musical comedy entitled "Oh Men! No Women!" Bruce Doidge proved his athletic talent by coaching the junior Victoria lacrosse team while playing in the senior league himself. With colder weather he switched to intermediate intercollegiate hockey. Dave Harvey, a member of the senior intercollegiate diving team, placed first in intramural freshman diving.

Socially the Delt's have been in full swing with a lively party after Homecoming Week End. The pledges' satiric skit on the actives was well performed in calypso style and fitted in with the East Indian theme of the annual pledge show. One of the high lights of the Christmas party was John Sanderson's convincing impersonation of a very friendly Santa Claus. New Year's Eve was celebrated by the Delt's at the Shelter with a dance that lasted through the small hours of the morning. After the formal in late January, the social whirl decelerates and concentrated study swings into high gear in preparation for the final exams.

Brother Delt's, the best of luck to you all!

BRUCE M. DRYNAN

Tufts

After pledging 26 outstanding freshmen this fall, the Beta Mu Delt's are looking forward to another strong pledge class under the leadership of Bob Buckley and Dick O'Brien. This fall the pledges have already made a name for themselves on the campus. Mike Kiniry, Steve Moore, Dave Troy, John Gilman, and Rob Oscar played on the strong freshman football team. Bill Gorden was also outstanding on the soccer team. In the freshman elections, Bob Webb was elected to the position of treasurer.

Not to be outdone by the pledges, the brothers of Beta Mu also made a fine showing in the sports field. Bill Callahan, Dan Murphy, and Ray Zaleski received varsity letters in football. Bob Buckley and Jack Duncan received their letters in soccer. Up on the hill, Editor Phil Coburn was busy preparing the first edition of the campus magazine.

As the winter season swings into high gear, the freshmen are once again seen on campus. Pledge Dave Troy is on the hockey team, Rob Oscar is jumping six feet plus in track, and Bill Richardson and Bill Gorden are on the swim team. Dave Tozier is on the varsity ski team, and Bob Morin is playing squash. Steve Moore, Skip Meyer, and Phil Bonifacio are grappling for the freshmen.

Senior Steve Falchetta and Bob Coli are on the varsity indoor track team, and Jim Miller is on the basketball squad. John Dowling is on the swimming team. Bill Callahan received the honor of being chosen "player of the week" in the Amherst football game. Bob Watson, Courtney Bourns, and Bill Callahan were elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Sophomore Jim Barton and Junior Jack Doykos have been accepted to dental school, and Seniors Ron Zeffiro, Fred Geary, and Bill Callahan have been accepted to medical school.

Jack Leckie recently played in the North-South lacrosse game, in which he scored one of the four goals made by the North in a losing cause.

FRED NICHOLS, JR.

Tulane

Rush week has not culminated here at Beta Xi Chapter. Thanks to our alert pledges, who are under the direction of Rush Chairman Jim Larose and Pledge Master Ronnie Reso, we have already pledged five new men, the latest being Bud Noel from Lafayette, Louisiana.

Although we couldn't cheer about the results of the homecoming football game, the day was not a complete loss for us because during the alumni party that followed the game, President Wally Edwards presented the second-place trophy for house decorations to the Fraternity. The success of our display was due to the fine spirit and hard work of the pledge class.

Our annual Beta Xiclon party was, as always, an excellent climax to a hectic first semester. Ranking with the Beta Xiclon was a party given by our pledges for the pledges of Phi Mu Sorority. The plans for the annual Rainbow Ball are now being finalized. A queen and her court will be presented at the ball and also the Outstanding Senior Award and Best Pledge Award will be made.

The Wharton brothers, Bill and John, will spearhead our drive for the interfraternity basketball crown. Assisting them will be Pat McElroy, Lenny Cottonio, Buster Gregory, Ronnie Reso, and Paul Fallone.

Congratulations go to Frank Lopiccolo on his recent election as president of the University College.

We extend our welcome to Epsilon Delta at Texas Tech.

BYRON RUTH

U.S.C.

Another semester is about to close. At our meeting Monday, January 13, the brothers of AII elected officers for the coming year. Sim Hixson, vice-president last year, was elected president for the coming year. Other officers are vice-president, Harold Murdock; house manager, Bob Clark; social chairman, Mason Fenton; rush chairman, Bob Fortner; and pledge master, Mike Normanly.

We collected a first place trophy in the men's division in the annual Trollos Acts during homecoming week with the theme: "College Songs Through the Ages." During this same week we took a third place trophy in the Flapper Day Parade with "Famous People of the 20's." Our next activity will be the annual S.C. songfest, which will be held at the Hollywood Bowl in the spring.

Basketball season is in full swing and Delta Pi is well represented by three top varsity players: Forward John Werhas, Guard Bill Bloom, and Forward Jim White. At times it looks like an all-Delt team. Jim White was high scorer in our last game with 19 points; he has probably assured himself a starting position in the next game against U.C.L.A. this week end. These men are all sophomores. One of our pledges, Ernie Woods, is starring on the frosh team.

In interfraternity sports, the brothers took the first four places in two-man volleyball and came from behind to score a first in six-man. Basketball is next.

The week end following Christmas vacation the brothers traveled to Las Vegas for our annual week end formal to end the social calendar for the fall semester. Night clubbing was the order Friday evening with the formal topping off the week end Saturday night. Sunday all returned to the Shelter tired but happy.

With pledging just about over, our 18-man pledge class has started to show the spirit that is common to good Deltas. They should make fine additions to Delta Tau Delta when pledging is concluded.

TOM HOEPTNER

Wabash

Now that finals have come and gone and spring is just around the corner, we see that a lot has happened at Beta Psi since our last issue. Leading Wabash to a fine season record in football last fall were returning Lettermen Fred Pipin and Hal Traviolia, assisted by new Letterman Bob Damm, while Pledge John Dinsmore received his numerals for his action on the freshman squad. The basketball sporting scene was again attacked by Delt Starters Ben Fellerhoff, Buck Dennis, and Hal Traviolia, who were assisted by Duane Axel, Mike Costello, and Don Good. Beta Psi plunged right into intramural sports, too, by running away with cross-country early in the season to finish with a first-place trophy. Pledge Bill Kilgore added to the Deltas' glory by grabbing first place in every meet. We finished out the fall IM sports with a second place in volleyball and a fourth place in football.

The brothers have held their own in the honoraries, too, as proved by Fred Burry, Tom Cole, and Bob Little, new members of Sigma Xi, national science scholastic honorary. Deltas Burry and Marvin West and Pledge Bob Charles now wear the coveted black and white caps of Sphinx Club, national honorary for athletics. Beta Psi is being well represented in Blue Key honorary by Tom Dewey, Hank Sheldon, and John Pence. In the fall, this organization promoted a special Stunt Night which took place before our annual football skirmish with rival DePauw. Designed to build up school spirit and team support, Stunt Night was a tremendous success, much credit going to special Committee Chairman Pence and Committeeman Dewey. To top off the evening, the men of Beta Psi copped the first-place trophy for best stunt with a skit organized by Pledge Bryan Graham and executed almost entirely by the pledge class.

In December the Chapter established a new precedent among the fraternities here at Wabash by staging a Faculty-Delt Open House. Designed to promote better faculty-student relations by allowing free exchange of ideas on an informal basis and by enabling everyone to get better acquainted with one another in general, the project was a huge success, lauded by the faculty and the administration alike. Needless to say, many of the other Greeks on campus rapidly followed our example. The Chapter was so pleased with the project's outcome that we decided to have another such open house in the near future.

On January 7 Beta Psi held election of new officers for the coming year. Beginning February 1, the Chapter will be under the able leadership of President Dick Tschan, Vice-President John Johnson, and Treasurer John Waechter. Other newly-elected officers are Assistant Treasurer Don Good, Recording Secretary Marvin West, Corresponding Secretary Bob Kryter, Guide Jerry Kight, and Wabash IM team.

Sergeant at Arms Jim Hurd. Don Good, the new pledge master, will be in charge of molding future pledges into good Deltas during the coming year.

Spring sports look promising for the Deltas. Besides returning Trackmen Bill Mauck and Marvin West, Pledges Bill Kilgore, Pete Groth, and Phil Ducat plan to join the thinyclads. John Johnson will represent Beta Psi in both tennis and wrestling, aided on the mats by Fred Pipin. John Stiles plans to return to the baseball diamond as catcher, and Pledges Rusty Duvall, Bryan Graham, and Ralph Carlson also intend to represent the Deltas on the baseball team.

BOB KRYTER

Washington

At the time of this writing the Deltas at Gamma Mu Chapter are extra busy, and for good reason. Our big project is to host the Western Regional Conference, plus celebrating our own 50th anniversary. All this will happen on February 14 and 15 which promises to be quite a week end. In addition to having many distinguished speakers to go along with the great luncheons and dinners planned, there will be a barn dance for all the visiting Deltas to get together with our chapter.

Scholastically, we distinguished ourselves from the 39 other fraternities here at Washington this year by winning the Sigma Chi Scholarship Trophy. Perhaps the reason for doing so was our advancement in fraternity scholastic standing from 24th to sixth place.

Brother Lee Kueckelhan is a happy and busy man since he was elected treasurer of the interfraternity council. The choice seems to be a good one since Lee is an accounting major. Dick Sampson is A.M.S. representative at large.

Sportswise, the Deltas captured the all-University gymnastics crown for the third consecutive year, thus obtaining permanent possession of the trophy. At present, the Deltas have entered four well-rounded basketball teams in the intramural league, with prospects for a championship looking better as time goes by. Individually, Carlton Olson received his frosh numerals for his play on a strong frosh football team. Dave Kinley, Harry Meloeny, Wally Tweeden, and Mick Roberts are all fighting for positions on the Washington crews.

At the present time the Deltas are looking forward to a great active dance not to mention the remaining exchanges with sororities and other planned parties.

The past semester has proven to be a successful one for the men of Epsilon Gamma. Our pledge class has been molded into a versatile group taking an enthusiastic part in all Chapter activities. Pledge Bill Priest has demonstrated his entertainment talents by assembling a large magic show which should prove to be very popular on campus during the coming year.

Socially we have had many fine functions during the past year. The pledge dance entitled "Skid Row" proved to be a great success. A stag Christmas Party was also held with Pledge President Don Nichols doing the honors as a very robust Santa. In the music department, Brother Leroy Roach had a very successful year with his three piece dance combo. The group has been very popular on and off campus.

Scholastically, Stell Newman, senior in anthropology, has been awarded a combined research grant totaling $1500 for graduate work in anthropology next fall. The grant was made by the College and the National Park Service.

With the fall semester drawing to a close and finals less than two weeks away, the men of Epsilon Gamma are knocking down to the study tables after a busy 1957. Last year saw our chapter become installed in Delta Tau Delta and we celebrated this event with the first banquet held in December. We of Epsilon Gamma are looking forward to a greater year on campus and a greater year for all Delt chapters throughout the nation.

Gamma Chapter has had another successful month, and in the interim many noteworthy events have taken place. Gamma won the Homecoming Float Award by submitting a float which everyone in the Chapter had the opportunity to work on. One of our pledges, Jerry Cook, was the chairman of this project.

Harry Sydor, one of the basketball players in the Chapter, was honored by being elected to Phi Alpha Theta, the national history honorary. Our president, Andrew Puglise, was made campus personality by our college newspaper, The Red and Black.

Gamma Chapter is looking forward to the rush week which is to be held at the beginning of the second semester. Several fine freshmen have said that they would like to pledge Delt and we are hoping to add substantially to the membership of our Chapter.

Much has happened since the last report of Phi Chapter. Several new men have been added to the pledge rolls. Included in these were Windy Wood, Dave Cook, Connie Lemon, and Dave Frackelton. This brings the total number of members in Phi Chapter to 56, making us the largest fraternity on campus.

Phi Chapter members were again recognized for their outstanding leadership at the annual Omicron Delta Kappa ceremony. This honorary fraternity, of national standing, admits to its fellowship only those few men who have shown outstanding leadership in three fields of endeavor. Of the 18 men tapped, three were Deltas. Senior Jim Lewis was recognized for being captain of the football and lacrosse team; student member, University Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics; freshman camp counselor; dorm counselor; Fraternity secretary; and a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Harry Brunett was tapped for his work as president and business manager of the Dance Board; co-director, University Religious Conference; dorm counselor, Dean's List; and Honor Roll, Who's Who.

At Washington and Lee's Homecoming game last November, the Deltas took two trophies. The first was awarded for first place in the Homecoming decorations, and several hours later we won first place in the spirit contest. Since these two trophies were the only two awarded to fraternities, it was a clean sweep for Phi Chapter. Much of the credit for the winning Homecoming decoration must be given to Don Thalacker, freshman from Michigan, who was the head of the decorations committee, and all the pledges who worked quite hard on the decoration.

As soon as exams are over, the Washington and Lee campus will turn to thoughts of pleasure via the Fancy Dress Ball. Since the president of the dance is a Delt, we will be giving a campus-wide party in his honor the afternoon before the big dance. The Mike Pedicin Quintet will be providing the music and will also be playing at the Shelter on Saturday night. Buddy Morrow will be playing for the Friday night dance and Louis Armstrong for Saturday night, with photographers from Look Magazine wandering around taking pictures of all the festivities.

In the world of sports members of Phi Chapter are again excelling. Frank Hoss, a senior, is cocaptain of the basketball team and top man in the rebound department. Nick Nichols is at one of the forward positions and has been high scorer in several games. Freshman Don Wagenheim has nailed down two starting positions on the swimming team—one in the individual breast stroke and the other in the four-man team medley.

Chapter elections will be coming up soon. With the tremendous selection of outstanding men in Phi Chapter, the choice will be hard, but we know that those elected to office will carry on the fine traditions and responsibilities that have always characterized the officers of Phi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

WILLIAM A. TOWLER, III

Wesleyan

Highlighting the fall social season for the Gamma Zeta Deltas were fall house parties on November 15, 16 and 17, preceded the previous week end by a gala Homecoming Dance. A banner turnout of alumni for homecoming cheered on our entry in the annual effigy competition, bringing us honorable mention in a very close contest. Featured on Friday night of fall parties was our Shipwreck Party, with Skip McAfee and his date winning the prize as best costumed. At our Saturday evening dance and Sunday afternoon jazz concert we were fortunate enough to have Brother Charlie Hoyt, class of 1953, and Brother Davo Rich, class of 1955, providing the best music on campus with the "High Street Five." Rounding out activities before Christmas was our yearly stag Christmas party on December 13. It goes without saying that this was a rousing success.

The end of the interfraternity football season saw the Delt team high in the standings, but two heartbreaking losses cost us the chance for a second straight championship. Since only one member of the squad is graduating, we expect to regain that trophy next year. Right now the basketball court is our stamping grounds. The impressive "Delt Machine" has rolled undefeated through the first five weeks of the season and is unquestionably the biggest powerhouse on the campus. Veterans Don Fletcher, Bob Kirkpatrick, Jim Brands, and Bert Edwards lead the scoring, ably supported by Tom Buckovich, Bruce Butler, Keith McBride, and Tim Taggart. The big starting five, averaging over 6' 2" in height, makes a formidable obstacle to any team challenging our supremacy.

Across the campus the Deltas are strongly represented in the many extracurricular activities. Outstanding debater on the Wesleyan Debate Club is Jan Hogendorn, who is vice-president of that organization. Wesleyan singing groups show a large number of Deltas. Tim Taggart, Tom Welch, and Jan Hogendorn represent us on the Glee Club. In the choir are Dick Donohue, Al Lobb, Ed Roberts, Jan Hogendorn, and Don McClure. The Choral Society has among its members Rich Thomason, Ed Knox, Al Williams, Dick Donohue, Ed Roberts, and Don McClure. Dick Donohue is the leading soloist with both the Choral Society and the Choir. Ranking on the campus newspaper, the Argus, are News Editor Pete Lincoln, and Desk Editors Ed Collins and George McKenzie. Loren Pate is on the Christian Association cabinet, and also will appear soon in a theater production. Radio station WESU has on its board of directors Al Lobb. Chairman of the campus blood drive is Ted Webster. Among other organizations well represented by Deltas are the Pre-Law Club, the Pre-Business Club, the International Relations Club, the Political Union, the Outing Club, and the chemistry, biology, and math clubs.

Campus athletics also find the Deltas showing themselves well. Cocaptain of the varsity wrestling team is Tom Sorensen, and Elliot Snow, Frank Dotti and Ron Loose take their places among the varsity grapplers. A consistent winner on Wesleyan's swimming team is John Lutton. Outstanding on the freshman wrestling team is 130-pounder, Al Williams. Filling three of the starting positions on the freshman squash team are J. Smirnow, Fred Scherrer, and Ed Knox.

The start of the new year here at the Delt Shelter found a very capable group of officers elected on January 14. Chosen as president is George Bryant, and vice-president is to be Jan Hogendorn. Re-elected treasurer is Jim Brands, while John Lutton will take over as assistant treasurer. New corresponding secretary is Pete Lincoln, and critic will be Elliot Snow. Filling the positions of costewards will be Ted Bromage and Nils Wagenhals, and the recording secretary will be Loren Pate. On February 16 this new slate of officers will take over; this being also the date for initiation of our pledges.

This year's Delt queen, Miss Mary Lou Morris, was chosen Homecoming Queen over 17 other candidates. Miss Morris was judged on beauty as well as popularity. Zeta holds quite a distinction in this as this is the third time in the last four years that its candidate has won. Last year's queen, Miss Diana Attie of Toledo, was named Miss Toledo and was also the second runner-up in the Miss Ohio contest.

In scholarship we are also faring quite well. The undergraduate scholarship society, Phi Society, initiated the following sophomores: Peter Nintcheff, Richard Prouty, Alan Robinson, Joseph Strong, and Junior Paul Schopp. Joe Strong has the highest scholastic average (a perfect four point) in the sophomore class and Paul Schupp ranks within the top ten in the junior class. John Gigax, a junior, is vice-president of Phi Society.

In University intramural competition the Deltas are near the top in the race for the all-sports trophy. We are the fraternity champs in volleyball and have just nosed out the favored Betas as the fraternity champs in basketball. We are also doing well in the badminton tournament with Jim Marinelli still in the finals.

Zeta boasts of having two of the starting five on the basketball team. They are Senior Jim Marinelli (who is also captain) and Sophomore Richard Rush. Glenn Caudill, also a sophomore, is also seeing plenty of action.

The new officers for the year are: president, Gerald Hejduk; vice-president, James McQuilkin; treasurer, Daniel Silk; assistant treasurer, Richard Rush; corresponding secretary, John Gigax; guide, Patrick Walsh; sergeant at arms, Glenn Caudill.

Michael Ostergard, the pledge class secretary, was also elected secretary of the freshman class and Dan Sautter is earning his letter on the freshman basketball team.

JOHN H. GIGAX

West Virginia

Looking ahead to spring, Gamma Delta is making plans for what is hoped will be as successful a semester as was our last. The biggest achievement last semester was our victory in the Delt Sing which is held in Pittsburgh each year at Trinity Cathedral. Song Leader Joe Johnson guided our chapter to its second consecutive win. Competing in the sing this year were Gamma Sigma of Pitt, Alpha of Allegheny, and Delta Beta of Carnegie Tech.

Individual standouts last semester were Roger Chancey and John Barille, who were chosen by the Monticola yearbook staff as two of the 20 outstanding seniors of the year at West Virginia University. Dick Kleckner, former W.V.U. footballer, who has concentrated his interests on a theatrical career, will star in the stage production of "Picnic" in the near future. Dick won wide acclaim for his leading role in "The Lark" last October.

The Deltas are well represented in winter sports this season, as Joe Johnson and Bob Bradley are holding down berths on the varsity wrestling team. Bruce Merideth is the second leading scorer on the University rifle team. The Deltas are still among the leaders in the competition for the all-year cup in intramural sports. Bob Dunnavant and Lowell Gainer recently brought the intramural archery trophy into the Shelter by winning six consecutive matches in an outstanding performance.

The annual Christmas Party marked the social high light of the year. This gala affair was preceded by a tea party in the afternoon, which featured an array of delicious food prepared by our housemother, Mrs. Beavers. The semi-formal dance was a great success thanks to our diligent social chairman, Doug Adams. Another high spot this year was the party and buffet dinner after the Homecoming football game. This informal get-together was attended by a number of alums as well as the families of many of the brothers.

The next big objective of the year for Gamma Delta is winning the annual Mothers Day Sing.

JOHN DORSEY

Whitman

As late October came upon us, we of Delta Rho were busily preparing for the Whitman College Homecoming. This year's theme was "The Good Old Days." We decided upon a display which would truly reflect "The Good Old Days," a medicine man show. Leroy Leisle was put in charge and with the aid of our two fine artists, Mike Moloso and Val Lewton, and the hindrance of the flu, we built our display. Although it did not run away with first-place honors, our display was extremely successful. After Thanksgiving recess our next big event was the annual Christmas pajama party. Each year in the past this has been one of our most successful events and this year was no exception. The sophomore class held its annual Christmas Snow Ball, and two of our sophomores, Mike Moloso and Holden Brink, were nominated for snow king. Before closing the 1957 social and activity calendar of Delta Rho another of our brothers brought fame to us. He is Val Lewton, who has become very interested in the theater. Val has gained the lead in several school plays and currently holds the lead in a play called the "Gamblers." Val is terrific in the play.

This year Delta Rho has proven itself to be a formidable foe in the field of athletics. Being second in the all-intramural race, we are only one point behind the leader. Our fine football team took a hard-earned second place; its only loss of the season was the last game, on which the championship rested. The team was

Akron

Our meeting in October, held at the Fairlawn Country Club, was well attended. Gustav H. Burchard, of the B. F. Goodrich Company's internal control department, gave a most interesting talk on "Fraud and Embezzlement in Industry."

Next events on our calendar are the Founders Day Banquet and the anniversary celebration for Delta Omega Chapter at Kent State University. The Akron Alumni Chapter always joins with Delta Omega undergraduates and alumni for their anniversary celebrations.

All of us are looking forward to the Pittsburgh Karnea this summer. Deltas in the Akron area have already been contacted in the hope of having a good Akron representation present at Pittsburgh.

LOUIS P. CARABELLI

Atlanta

Carl E. Stipe, Jr., of Decatur, an alumnus of Beta Epsilon Chapter, was elected president of the Atlanta Alumni Chapter at the annual meeting in December. Other officers elected at this time were J. Tom Severinghaus, vice-president, and John W. Pattillo, secretary-treasurer.

One of the four meetings this year was held at the Lobster House, a well-known Atlanta restaurant on famous Peachtree Street. Over 40 Deltas and their wives or dates attended. Following a social hour and an excellent dinner, retiring President Blount Boswell reviewed the year's activity of the chapter and introduced guests. These included representatives of both the Georgia Tech and Emory chapters and the housemothers of these chapters. This was the first opportunity many alumni had had to meet Mrs. Mildred K. More, the new Emory housemother.

After musical entertainment by three Emory Deltas, Brother Leonard Robinson introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. H. Park Tucker, chaplain of the Atlanta Federal penitentiary. Dr. Tucker is the author of the book, Prison Is My Parish, and has been featured on the national TV program, "This Is Your Life," as well as in several newspaper feature stories. He presented an inspiring talk, well laced with humor, stressing the duty of each of us to help and guide those less fortunate.

Following Dr. Tucker's talk, President Stipe closed the meeting with remarks concerning the 1958 activities of the alumni chapter, stressing particularly the hope that more Deltas will become active and supporting members of the chapter. With the singing of "Delta Shelter," the meeting was adjourned.

In the last issue of THE RAINBOW we asked those Deltas who were not on our mailing list but who would like to be included to contact us. We were glad to hear from Edward Lidseen, Cincinnati, '31 in Hayesville, N. C. Brother Lidseen makes frequent business trips to Atlanta, and we are looking forward to meeting him at one or more of our meetings. Perhaps this is an idea for others of you who are in Atlanta frequently.

Plans are now under way for a Founders Day celebration to be held in March. We have no details as yet but will keep you posted.

Boise Valley

The annual Christmas Dinner Dance was held at the Plantation Country Club on December 27. As usual it was the Delt social high light of the year. Bob Zimmerman did a fine job in organizing it. This was the largest one in many years. There were 107 Deltas, wives, and sweethearts in attendance. Frank "Bevo" Bevington was master of ceremonies. The high light of the evening was the presentation of the Allan Reeb Scholarship Award. The plaque was accepted by Delta Mu President Ernie Davenport.

This was the third annual award of the plaque which is presented in memory of Brother Allan Reeb who was killed during his sophomore year in 1954. Other committees were headed by Wiff Jansen, in charge of entertainment, and Neal Cresswell, in charge of publicity. The photos were taken by that great amateur, Leon Weeks, and Al Kiser was the ticket and finance committee head man. Another enjoyable experience was a talk by Art Hayes, senior Idaho Delt who recalled the days when Delta Mu was petitioning Delta Tau Delta. I might add that Bob Ridgeway and Ernie Davenport, Delta Mu actives, made the society page when the local paper showed them and dates dancing. Notice all Boise Valley Deltas: this year there will be a Founders Day banquet at a place and time to be designated later.

MAURICE E. BYRNE

Cincinnati

On December 17 the Cincinnati Alumni Chapter held its annual Christmas party at the Cincinnati Club. There were 81 Deltas in attendance for the reception and luncheon.

Following the luncheon our famous Delt sportscaster, Dick Baker, acted as master of ceremonies for the program. Awards were made to past presidents of the alumni chapter and our annual election was held. The following were elected as our officers for the forthcoming year: Albert F. Ruehlmann, Cincinnati, president; Charles L. Shawver, Miami, vice-president; Paul N. Berner, Hillsdale, and Western Reserve, secretary; and Robert Dhonau, Kenyon, treasurer.

Cleveland

The Cleveland Alumni Chapter on December 31 rang down the curtain on one of its most active and successful years. With 170 dues-paying members on the rolls at the close of the old year, we are pointing this year toward increasing this by 20 per cent to 200 in 1958.

At the present time, a hard-working committee under the cochairmanship of Bill Hecker, Western Reserve, and Fred Stanbro, Pennsylvania, is making plans for the annual Founders Day Banquet to be held February 22 at the Manger Hotel. The banquet, always well attended by local alumni, will follow the formal initiation ceremonies by Western Reserve's Zeta Chapter. On hand to do the honors as a featured speaker for this af-

The Central National Bank in Cleveland has its own alumni representation. These Delts all work at the bank. Seated together as luncheon guests of LORING L. GELBACH, Tau, are: ALFRED P. fair will be A. Bruce Bielaski, former President of Delta Tau Delta and Chairman of the National Inter-Fraternity Conference. Brother Bielaski headed up the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, the forerunner of today's F.B.I., from 1908 to 1918. He is presently head of the Arson Bureau of the National Fire Underwriters Board.

Thursday luncheons at Clark's Playhouse restaurant continue to attract an average of 20 Delts—the latchstring is always out to any newcomer.

AL SHERIFF

Columbus

Just as regular as a fine clock, Delts from many chapters gather each Friday noon at the University Club in Columbus. This has been a continual function since Don Van Buren, Western Reserve, gathered a few Delts together in 1938.

The Columbus alums join with Beta Phi members in saluting Tom Parker, Ohio State, house corporation treasurer, and Rusk Whipps, Ohio State, long a key member of the board. Both Tom and Rusk resigned after a long tenure of service, including the period of planning, financing, and the ultimate construction of the new Shelter. Delts everywhere thank these two men and the many others who worked long and hard to make the new Shelter a reality.

Kenyon Campbell, Bill Moore, James Rhodes, and Jake Shawan, all from Ohio State, were elected to serve the next term. Kenyon Campbell was elected president and Jim Rhodes, treasurer.

Columbus Alumni President Curt Horning, Wisconsin, has just announced the plans for the Founders Day Banquet to be held on March 14. Rod Wittich, who works for Brother John Galbreath, Ohio, will be the chairman.

Friday, January 9, the election of officers for the Columbus Alumni Chapter was held. The following men will steer the chapter for the next term: Doyle Pooch, Western Reserve, president; Rod Wittich, Ohio, vice-president in charge of alumni affairs; Alan Gulker, Ohio State, vice-president, chapter activities; George Billey, Carnegie Tech, treasurer; and Jake Shawan, Ohio State, secretary.

JAKE SHAWAN

Dayton

After a five-year period of inactivity, the Dayton Alumni Chapter is once again "alive and kicking." Last August a preliminary meeting and mixer was held at the home of Dr. Dean Dooley for the purpose of discussing reactivation. Those Delts who were present saw the inspiring movie of the Houston Karnea and made plans for reorganization.

In September a dinner meeting was held at the Oakwood Restaurant. We were fortunate in having W. Edgar West, Ohio Wesleyan, '23, Secretary of Delta Tau Delta, as our guest speaker at this meeting. The Green Mill Restaurant was selected for the site of our luncheons and the following officers were elected: Fowler Mould, Cincinnati, '16, president; Tom Bratten, Cincinnati, '57, vice-president; Ted Floridis, Miami, '52, treasurer; and Dick Graybill, Ohio, '57, secretary.

At present we are beginning publication of The Dayton Delt, a bimonthly newsletter designed to keep all Delts in the Dayton area posted on the chapter's activities and members. If there are Delts residing in the area surrounding Dayton who would like to be included on the mailing list and attend our activities will they please send their name and address to Tom Bratten, 20 Blossomhill Road, West Carrollton, Ohio.

Shortly after the Dayton Alumni Chapter was reorganized and getting started with its planned activities, it suffered a severe blow in the death of its newly elected president, Fowler Mould, who died suddenly at his home on December 1. Fowler was the primary organizer of the chapter and had long been a devoted Delt. It is our sincere hope that the Dayton Alumni Chapter will continue to achieve the success Brother Mould had worked so hard for.

TOM BRATTEN

Detroit

As reported in the last issue of THE RAINBOW, the Detroit Chapter was reactivated early in 1957 for the purpose of offering good fellowship to all Delts who reside, work, or visit in southeastern Michigan.

We meet for luncheon every Tuesday noon in the Empire Room of the Fort Shelby Hotel. Recent "regulars" have included graduates from Albion, Michigan State, Duke, Illinois, and Michigan. The Fort Shelby Hotel, located near an expressway exit at Lafayette and First Streets in downtown Detroit, is within walking distance of downtown office buildings and is but a few driving minutes from most locations in the Detroit area. There is always plenty of room for more Delt brothers and no reservations are required, so when you are in the Detroit area on a Tuesday noon come join us for lunch and good fellowship.

Plans are presently being formulated for the third evening party to be held in late winter or early spring. Let's all plan to attend.

Please call Ed Kleinschmidt, Jr., at WO. 2-0011 or Doc Mitchell at LO. 3-0962 if further information is desired.

DOC MITCHELL

Fort Worth

Election of officers for 1958 took place on December 11 at the dinner meeting of the alumni chapter held in the Elks Club, Fort Worth. The newly elected officers are: Carroll W. Collins, president; Bill Coughlin, vice-president; and Richard C. Perhamus, secretary.

The new president anticipates a busy year in continuing to lend support to Epsilon Beta Chapter at Texas Christian University. The March meeting will take place at Epsilon Beta's chapter room on the Texas Christian campus. This will give the newer undergraduate members of the chapter an opportunity to become better acquainted with the "elder" Delts.

All Fort Worth alumni are urged to send their annual dues to Richard C. Perhamus, or better yet, to attend our next function and pay the dues in person.

RICHARD C. PERHAMUS

Indianapolis

The Indianapolis Alumni Chapter held its annual Christmas Party at the Marott Hotel on December 14. A delicious baked ham dinner was served to more than 50 Indianapolis Delt alumni. Bob Huncilman, president of the alumni chapter, presided over the meeting which followed the luncheon. Several members of the Distinguished Service Chapter were introduced and Francis M. Hughes, Ohio Wesleyan, '31, President of Delta Tau Delta, spoke on the developments in the Fraternity during 1957. Santa Claus, in the person of Fred Hill, visited the party and passed out gifts to all present. Ernie Miller conducted a lively and interesting Chinese auction, which resulted in several members being able to take home valuable prizes. The meeting was concluded with singing of Christmas carols and Delt Shelter. This annual event is becoming established as one of our most looked-forward-to and most enjoyable activities.

The officers of the alumni chapter have voted to hold again weekly Delt luncheons. To date there have been five luncheons and the average attendance has been about 18. We are anxious to have all Indianapolis Delts attend our luncheons whenever possible. They are held each Tuesday noon at the clubrooms of the Indianapolis Bar Association, 33 North Pennsylvania. We have a private dining room and have enjoyed excellent food and wonderful fellowship.

On Saturday evening, February 22, we held the annual Founders Day Banquet and Dance at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. In traditional fashion the banquet honored the founding of the Fraternity and the undergraduate members of Indiana's five chapters, Butler, DePauw, Indiana, Purdue, and Wabash. President Francis M. Hughes was the main speaker and Fred C. Tucker, Jr., acted as toastmaster.

PETER L. SPRECHER, JR.

Kansas City

Kansas City Delts enjoyed their annual pre-Christmas dinner and dance on Friday, December 13, at the newly redecorated Advertising and Sales Executive Club. Although the alumni attendance was smaller than it has been the past several years, there was a large attendance of Kansas and Kansas State undergraduate members and all present enjoyed a fine evening of dancing following an excellent dinner.

One of the most loyal, hardworking, and conscientious Delts in the Kansas City Alumni Chapter, Roscoe Groves, has been in the hospital recently and all of us join in hoping that he has made a complete recovery. His presence at the weekly luncheons on Thursday noons is greatly missed. We would also like to see some of the 300 to 400 Delts located in the Kansas City area who have not been attending these luncheons. They are held each Thursday noon in the Pine Room at the University Club, 916 Baltimore Street.

Newly elected officers for 1958 are Don Steele, Iowa, president; Sam Sherwood, Missouri, vice-president; Fred Biehl, Missouri, treasurer; and Miles Nichols, Kansas, secretary.

Plans are presently well under way for a Founders Day dinner in March or early April. We are also undertaking preparation of a directory of all Delts in the Greater Kansas City area.

JAMES C. MORDY

Long Beach

The Long Beach Alumni Chapter some months ago undertook a project to secure the establishment of an active chapter at Long Beach State College, a young, but rapidly growing liberal arts and engineering college with a large, very attractive campus, and many buildings, as handsome and functional as modern architecture can conceive. Three Delts on the faculty and five Delt students comprise a nucleus through which we hope to form a local which will eventually become an active chapter. To this end we invited President Francis M. Hughes and Executive Vice-President Hugh Shields, who were in Southern California, and Howard D. Mills, Treasurer, to visit the campus and partake of luncheon with us on January 13. This invitation they graciously accepted.

In the forenoon they toured the campus with a committee of the chapter, led by Professor Bill Fisher. Brothers Hughes, Shields, and Mills appeared to be much impressed with the appearance and facilities of the college. At noon more than 30 local Delts greeted our guests at the University Club for luncheon, at which the necessary procedures were explained and discussed.

Long Beach alumni and guests are TAPLIN, HUGHES, Dr. HANSON, SHIELDS, MILLS, THOMAS, and FISHER.

On Friday, December 20, the chapter members and their ladies gathered at the home of Quale Parmenter for a potluck dinner and social evening, greatly enjoyed by the 30 or more in attendance.

The officers chosen for the calendar year, 1958, are Harley B. Smith, Idaho, '35, president; Thomas E. Collins, Oregon, '47, vice-president; and Edwin S. Thomas, UCLA, '27, secretary-treasurer.

Our regular luncheon meetings are held at the University Club at noon on the second Tuesday of each month. To these any Delts who may be in this vicinity are cordially invited.

ROBERT B. TAPLIN

Minnesota

Minnesota Delts have been greatly saddened by the recent deaths of two members of the Beta Eta house corporation. JOHN ANDREWS, Minnesota, '49, died early in December and CHET BROS, Minnesota, '22, vice-president of the house corporation, died on January 14. These two good Delts will be greatly missed by all the brothers.

Beta Eta Chapter will celebrate its 75th anniversary this spring. Plans are now being made to celebrate the anniversary on April 25 at the Normandy Hotel in Minneapolis. Beta Eta alumni are urged to send their stories of earlier chapter days to JOHN HARKER, 4908 Queen Avenue, South, Minneapolis 10, Minnesota. It is hoped to have a complete chapter history compiled by the time of the anniversary banquet.

Alumni lunches for Delts in the Twin Cities are now being held on the first Friday of each month at the Normandy Hotel. We sincerely invite all Delts residing or visiting in our vicinity to join us at the luncheons.

THOMAS F. ALLEN

National Capital

Friday, April 11, will long be remembered by those Delts fortunate enough to be in attendance at the Centennial Founders Day dinner to be held in the Nation's Capital. A committee of alumni has been hard at work to make this a record-breaking event. There will be many pleasant surprises for the old-timers who have not attended a Delt function in years. Renewals of acquaintances will take place during the fellowship hour, a strictly stag affair where Delts meet Delts from all over the world—many for the first time since college days or those never-to-be-forgotten Karneas. There are more Delt chapters represented in the National Capital Alumni Chapter than any other alumni chapter, so plan to attend this dinner and be rewarded for your effort. Justice Tom Clark, Texas, '22, has promised to bring Justice William J. Brennan, Pennsylvania, '28, which will be the latter's first appearance at a local Delt function since his appointment to the U. S. Supreme Court. Of necessity, there will have to be a limit on the number of tickets sold—so send in your reservations early to the undersigned, 7515 Radnor Road, Bethesda 14, Maryland. Our rapidly expanding roster now exceeds 2,000 Delts residing in the area. Because of high mailing costs, we can send announcements of luncheons and Scenes snapped by former President HERB MCCracken at New York Alumni luncheon.

"special events" only to those Delts who have made financial contributions to our alumni chapter. Many events are being planned for celebrating the centennial anniversary of the Fraternity, culminating in a large attendance at the Karnea in Pittsburgh, August 19th through 23rd, 1958.

ROBERT E. NEWBY

New York

Midwinter finds the Greater New York Alumni Chapter flourishing with good attendance and excellent spirits at both our regular uptown luncheons at the Princeton Club on the second Thursday of each month and at our informal downtown luncheons on the first Tuesday of each month, now being held at Massoletti's Restaurant at 12:00 o'clock.

Gordon Bowen, Stevens '30, gave us an excellent talk at our November meeting attended by some 30 brothers. His topic was "Search for the Trained Executive," a field in which he is actively engaged for industry. In December Don Mallory, Cornell '17, gave us the pleasure of seeing skiing pictures taken while on his trip earlier in the year through central Europe.

The subject of burning interest in January was setting plans for our Founders Day Dinner which we plan to have on a Wednesday in the latter part of April or beginning of May. The mills are turning to give us a top-notch speaker for the occasion and we look forward to having a large turnout. The dinner will be held at the Princeton Club. Anyone who has not been receiving notices of the Founders Day Dinner and other activities, please contact George W. Whitney, 90 Broad Street, New York 4, New York, DIghy 4-5888.

Northern Kentucky

The Northern Kentucky Delts held their annual Christmas party in January at the Highland Country Club with 20 Delts and their Dames in attendance.

Other events on the calendar include a stag get-together in February with Brother John Wuest in charge of arrangements.

A square dance is planned for March and a bowling party is on the agenda for April. Vint Stegeman will be host to the local contingent at his home in May, while Bill Stegeman has again offered his spacious lawn and grill for the annual steak fry for prospective Delts during early September.

Some of us ole' time Delts around Northern Kentucky are sorry to learn that they have discontinued readin' and particularly writin' in some more of the larger universities around the country.

Pledge recommendations to Miami, Cincinnati, Stanford, Ohio, Kentucky, Purdue, and Michigan failed to bring acknowledgegements or reports of results again this year.

The sports pages of the local papers recently reported that Eppa Rixey, Cincinnati, Ohio, has been named to the "All-Time Greats" team of the Cincinnati Redlegs. Our sincerest congratulations to our friend across the Ohio River.

CAMERON COFFMAN

Philadelphia

The year, 1958, marks the tenth anniversary of the founding of Delta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Tau Delta at the University of Delaware, the chapter which was sponsored by the Philadelphia Alumni Chapter.

Quite appropriately plans are well under way for us to join with the undergraduates and alumni of Delta Upsilon Chapter in the celebration to be held early in March at Newark, Delaware. This will be a dual celebration of both Delta Tau Delta's Founders Day and the Tenth Milestone of Delta Upsilon. The undergraduate members of Omega Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania will also participate in this joint celebration.

The next Eastern Division Regional Conferences will include one to be held in Philadelphia on March 5 and 6. It is hoped that many of the Philadelphia area alumni will be able to attend at least some of the Conference sessions.

Our monthly luncheons at 12:15 on the fourth Tuesday of the month are held at the Quaker Lady Restaurant, 16th and Locust Streets.

Pittsburgh

The Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter sponsored the annual Delt Christmas Church Service at Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, on Sunday, December 8, 1957. Dean N. R. High Moor presided at the service and was assisted by Rev. Fred T. VanderPoel. This was the 22nd annual Delt service and was an inspiration for the more than 200 undergraduates, alumni, and their families who attended.

Over 100 undergraduates from West Virginia University, Washington & Jefferson College, Carnegie Institute of Technology, and the University of Pittsburgh participated in the service and undergraduate sing contest which took place after the service. Gamma Delta Chapter from the University of West Virginia again took the honors at the sing and thereby retained possession of the clock trophy until the competition next year. There were approximately 60 men who participated on the West Virginia sing team. The team from Washington & Jefferson took second place, and the Carnegie Tech team finished third. This year all the teams were excellent and made the judging very difficult. Assisting Bill Collins, chairman of the affair, were Jack Bash, Bill Raines, Bob Craft, Harris Hawkins, Bob Jones, and Bob Soles. During the intermission of the sing program, A. J. "Bud" Murphy and Bob Soles spoke about the 1958 Centennial Karnea to be held in Pittsburgh and plans that had thus far been formulated.

The Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter is actively preparing for the 1958 Karnea. Norman MacLeod, general chairman, and his committees are active and Karnea plans have been entirely formulated. The alumni chapter and the Karnea committee are preparing to make this 1958 Centennial Karnea the largest and best in the Fraternity's history.

The annual Founders Day and Baseball Banquet will be held during May. Plan to attend this affair and make it serve as a kick-off for the Karnea events in August.

The weekly alumni luncheons are held every Tuesday in a private dining room on the 11th Floor of Kaufmann's Department Store, Fifth and Smithfield, downtown Pittsburgh. All Deltas in the Pittsburgh area are invited.

WILLIAM F. SWANSON, JR.

Seattle

The Seattle Alumni Chapter started the New Year with new officers and a full schedule of activities. Elected at the January meeting were "Scotty" Gorrill, president, and Jim O'Hearne, secretary-treasurer.

As this is written, we are looking forward to our Founders Day Banquet, to be held at the Olympic Hotel on February 14. Gamma Mu Chapter is celebrating its 50th anniversary at the University of Washington, and will be host to the Western Regional Conference that week end. With delegates from all over the Western Division, representatives of the Arch Chapter and the Central Office, alumni and active chapter members, it should be the most successful Founders Day in years. We are most fortunate in having Wilbur Dow, New York attorney, explorer of note, and Gamma Mu alumnus as our main speaker.

Annual Christmas Service at Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh.

Broadening our activities this year, we held a well-attended dinner meeting in October and a dinner-dance at the Sorrento Hotel in January. This was the first alumni dance held in years, but from the successful turnout and the wonderful time enjoyed by all, it promises to become an annual affair. The monthly luncheons continue on the second Tuesday of each month at the Olympic Hotel Grille.

JIM O'HEARNE

St. Petersburg

The St. Petersburg Alumni Chapter has now successfully held its meetings for 24 consecutive months. In the past the summer meetings were suspended, but with the large number of Deltas living in the area now, our summer meetings are almost as heavily attended as the mid-winter. Anyone vacationing on the west coast area is cordially invited to drop in the first Wednesday of every month at Tofennetti's Restaurant at noon.

On February 14 we held our first major social event of some time when we had our Valentine's Day dinner party for Deltas, their wives, and guests, at the Bath Club, located on one of St. Pete's beautiful beach sections! The high light of the evening was Charlie Belden's illustrated lecture of his just completed trip, by motor, through all of the Scandinavian countries. Brother Belden is quite a famous world traveler and photographer, his works appearing regularly in National Geographic, Holiday, Saturday Evening Post, and other publications.

If any of you visiting Deltas ever have difficulty in securing hotel reservations in our area, may we remind you that Donald Church is general manager of the lovely Bellevue Biltmore Hotel in Clearwater; Sterling Bottome is general manager of the exclusive Vinoy Park Hotel in St. Petersburg; Brother Howard Helt is general manager of the spacious Martha Washington Hotel; Bob Mack manages the more commercial downtown Phiel Hotel; and John Marshall manages the Safety Harbor Spa, whose mineral baths and facilities are becoming more and more widely known. No need, really, to have to sleep on a park bench at the height of the season. Just give them a call, or write in advance.

Brother A. B. Walling, a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter, has been quite ill, but is now improving.

JACK FRANCIS

disappointed but not ashamed and the men deserve a pat on the back. Making the all-intramural team from our squad were: Bob Hough, our fine halfback; Don Mair, a fine slotback and end; and Jim Ellis, an excellent defensive end. Delta Rho is also very proud of its undefeated volleyball team. Led by its player-coach, Jim Ellis, the team swept the field and brought home to the Deltas a championship and a strong position in the all-intramural race. We now are preparing for basketball and badminton. Coach Buck Sellers, our intramural chairman, rates Delta Rho's basketball team as a dark horse with the badminton team as very strong.

Wisconsin

Beta Gamma started 1958 in a big way—with elections. In the first meeting of the year Ken Conger was elected president; Carl Geissel, vice-president; Dex Free, treasurer; Don Schneeberger, assistant treasurer; Bob Stedman, corresponding secretary; Ken Lewis, recording secretary; Dick Westring, guide; and Paul Counsell, sergeant at arms.

In answer to a school-wide complaint that all exchange dinners were becoming stereotyped, the Deltas gave a square dance supper. With Jon Stillman calling, everything in the Shelter, including the supporting beams, really rocked. This party kept Delta Tau Delta in the Badger social spotlight.

More and more Deltas are landing chairmanships in various activities. Ken Lewis is cochairman of New Student Week; Howie Brown is the new Air Force cadet colonel; Jim Quirk is chairman of Scabbard and Blade Society; and Bill Breuch is general chairman of the Military Ball.

Date night at Wisconsin.

Gregg Bleed, a Beta Gamma alum, played piano in the orchestra which furnished the music for the Winter Formal.

this period Dr. Williams will be affiliated with the Australian National University of Canberra, Australia. The purpose of the fellowship is to enable Dr. Williams to conduct research on the Liberal Party of Australia. In 1951, Dr. Williams was awarded a grant in aid by the Haynes Foundation of Los Angeles to study the British Conservative Party.

CHARLES R. WILSON, Pittsburgh, '26, vice-president of the Commonwealth Trust Co., Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, has been appointed by Governor Leader of Pennsylvania as a member of the state Public Schools Employee Retirement Board. Brother Wilson was appointed to fill a vacancy which has existed on the board since May of 1956.

ladies and guests attended the affair. Epsilon Alpha at Auburn, Zeta Epsilon at Emory, Delta Phi at Florida State, and Delta Zeta at the University of Florida were all represented by undergraduate members.

Bob Allen, president of the alumni chapter, introduced the new officers. They are: Bill Benson, Florida, '53, president; Bill Haupt, Florida, '52, vice-president; Sid Hall, West Virginia, '49, secretary; Alfred Zipperer, Florida, '53, treasurer. Several outstanding actives from Delta Zeta were introduced by the chapter president, Jack Nichols.

Our alumni chapter is gaining strength with the arrival from the north of several Delt alums. Many of these men get in touch with us upon arrival in sunny Florida, but we need the help of all alumni chapters in finding transferees and acquainting them with our activities.

Toledo

The turn of the year saw Toledo Alumni Chapter emerging from the political wars to boost attendance at the Tuesday noon luncheons and plan a bigger and better Founders Day Stag. Also planned is a party honoring Delta Tau Chapter and our annual rush party at Harry Hansen's.

Harmon S. Holt, Illinois Tech, '31, led a successful attempt to incorporate Adams Township. Proving that perhaps all Delt don't see eye-to-eye, Fred Hibbert and Harry Hansen were on the other side. Toledo's mayor is John W. Yager, Michigan, '42, and Perrysburg's city council boasts another Delt, Larry Jensen, Bowling Green, '50.

Final date for the Founders Day Stag has not been nailed down but cochairmen Bill Diemer, Ohio State, and Jack Toman, Bowling Green, announce that it will be on a March Thursday at Inverness Country Club.

Herb Sharp, Illinois Tech, was presented with a recognition pin for his service as president of the chapter. In the tally of predictions (all predictions are recorded in the luncheon "Minutes") Herb received both the crystal ball for the most correct and the liar's trophy for the most errors.

FRED HIBBERT

Topeka

We regret to report the death of one of our loyal members, Dr. Vernon C. Winkle, who passed away from a heart attack. Dr. Winkle came to Kansas from Nebraska and was with the State Board of Health. He had many friends in Topeka and we will certainly miss him at our Delt meetings.

We are having better attendance and our Delta Tau Governor, George Docking, is usually with us. We are trying to add a few new members, as we find new Delt living in Topeka. We hope to have a representative at the Western Division Regional Conference at Lawrence, Kansas.

Not much news this time. Our annual election of officers is set for our February meeting, and we hope to have another party to report in our next letter.

ing ceremony was held for the pledges of Tau Delta Tau to initiate, officially, them into Delt pledgship. The new pledges of Epsilon Delta Chapter are: JAMES F. BABB, JERRY W. BROOKS, ROBERT O. GRAY, JOHN B. JORDAN, CHARLES C. KNOWLES, HENRY D. RAISH, JOHN B. SPORAR, and CHARLES M. WILLIAMS.

Tau Delta Tau's brief history has ended, but it has left behind fond memories and a young group of men, rich in spirit and brotherhood, who look forward to an even brighter future as Epsilon Delta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

fet dinner rather than a banquet in the traditional form. Other guests included the executive officers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Acacia, Alpha Xi Delta, and Alpha Phi.

The memories of this wonderful week end will endure for a long time. As Beta Pi Chapter begins its 66th year, its members can look with pride to the fine new Shelter—complete with modern and attractive decorations and furnishings, yet at the same time solidly entrenched with the preserved traditions and memories of a happy and illustrious past—and can be thankful to the generous and loyal alumni who have helped make it possible. Such an accomplished project is a living testimonial to the abiding belief found in both alumni and undergraduate hearts and minds as they repeat, "I Believe in Delta Tau Delta. . . ."
