89th Chapter Installed at Sam Houston

By PHILIP G. WARNER, Epsilon Zeta, '61

ON JANUARY 9, 1960, 72 members of the 22-year-old Esquire Social Fraternity were initiated as charter members of Epsilon Zeta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta on the campus of Sam Houston State College in Huntsville, Texas. This installation created the 89th undergraduate chapter of the Fraternity.

It all began during the summer of 1958 when the first steps were taken by the Esquires to affiliate with a national fraternity. The entire summer was spent corresponding with and visiting people and campuses which might aid the local organization in its efforts.

Fall found the Esquires ready to move on in their quest for a national fraternity. National fraternities by the score were checked, investigated, and asked to come to Sam Houston and talk with the club. The Esquires had a good name and excellent recommendations. Also on the asset side of the ledger was a $100,000 fraternity house.

Then one day in the late fall a tall snow-haired man with the bearing of a corporation president came to the Esquire house. He introduced himself as Eldridge C. Thompson. He was from the Houston Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta. The reasons for his coming were soon made clear, and within half an hour the magnetism of his character and personality had drawn the entire club around him in the Esquire house living room.

In the days to come he was to return so often that he became a treasured friend of the Esquires. His wife called them "his boys." As decision time drew near the atmosphere around the Esquire house became heavy with serious thought being given to the action to be taken. On the night the decision was made, the results showed that out of 50-odd actives the vote was unanimous for Delta Tau Delta.

Work on a formal petition began immediately. In the early spring the petition of the Esquire Social Fraternity at Sam Houston State College was submitted to the central office of Delta Tau Delta to be acted on by the Arch Chapter. It was accepted. Due to the installation at the University of Arizona, no more major steps could be taken until the following fall. On October 11, 1959, the Esquires became pledges of Delta Tau Delta and received their pledge pins. The Esquire pin, much the same in appearance as the Delt pin, and the Esquire emblems, the top hat, cane, and gloves, were put away. Loyalty now was to Delta Tau Delta.

The initiation and installation date was tentatively set for the second week end in January, 1960. It was later changed to January 9.

Official registration for the week-end activities began Saturday morning at 9:00 a.m. at the Shelter on the west side of the campus. Most of the morning was spent with Field Secretary Jack McClenny checking on eligibility and making the final preparations for the afternoon's events. At noon more than 100 people attended a luncheon held in a local banquet room. Members of the Delta Zeta chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha at Sam Houston served and acted as hostesses.

Beginning at 1:30 p.m. the formal ceremonies got under way at the Shelter. Initiation teams which had arrived the night before from Texas Christian University and the University of Texas performed the rites. From Gamma Iota at the University of Texas were: Mike Kirkpatrick, Peyton Townsend, Ronald Blake, Thomas Mast, Robert Zenavle, James Watkins, Sam Gyler, and John Walker. From Epsilon Beta at T.C.U.

were: David Freeman, Al Hiezer, Lewis Munzer, Al Ahlen, Ronnie Peterson, Paul Russell, Philip Walker, and Gary Hamrick. Both teams were highly commended on the job they did. The formal transformation from Esquires to Delts, and from the Esquire house to the Shelter, indeed took place in an atmosphere of Deltism and reverence.

When the ceremonies were over the Delt brothers, old and new, gathered at the Conroe Hotel in Conroe, Texas, for the installation banquet. The banquet was held at Conroe, a few short miles from Huntsville, because of the excellent facilities there.

After an excellent steak dinner, the evening's program was opened under the direction of Eldridge Thompson, Colorado, '21, who is now serving as president of the Houston Alumni Chapter. Brother Thompson introduced Toastmaster Silas B. Ragsdale, Jr., Texas, '48. After a few appropriate remarks from Brother Ragsdale, he introduced the national officers and dignitaries at the banquet.

National officers present were: Francis M. Hughes, Ohio Wesleyan, '31, Fraternity President; George A. Fisher, Jr., Purdue, '33, Western Division President; Gordon B. Broyles, Sewanee, '37, Western Division Vice-

Fraternity President FRANCIS M. HUGHES

Other dignitaries included: Major General Robert M. Ives, Columbia, '21; Major General Albert Sidney Johnson, Texas, '19; Dr. Harmon Lowman, President of the College; Dr. W. E. Lowry, Dean of the College; W. T. Creager, Dean of Students; Reed Lindsay, Dean of Admissions; W. C. Perkins, Dean of Services; and John R. Burton, Director of Fraternities.

The gathering was greatly honored by the presence of three members of the Distinguished Service Chapter: Silas B. Ragsdale, Sr., Texas, '16, of Houston, Texas, General Johnson, and Hugh Shields.

Finally the long-awaited moment had arrived. George A. Fisher, Jr., presented the membership certificates to the 72 charter members. As each new Delt received his certificate, these words no doubt rang in his ears: "I believe in Delta Tau Delta as an abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self respect . . . and bring about that happy day wherein I may more truly love my fellow man, serve my country, and obey my God."

Next came the presentation of the coveted charter. All the anxiety, waiting, work, and final preparation culminated in its presentation to chapter president, Terry Carlton, and W. P. Mallery, III, Epsilon Zeta alumnus. The charter was presented by Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President. Brother Shields invited Eldridge Thompson, the man most responsible for the birth of the new chapter, to participate with him in the presentation. On receipt of the charter, President Carlton said, "I accept this charter on behalf of the Epsilon Zeta Chapter with much gratitude and admiration. It is my wish and the utmost desire of every member of our chapter that we will live up to the high standards and ideals set forth by Delta Tau Delta. May we make you proud to call us your brothers."

Toastmaster Ragsdale then introduced Dr. Harmon Lowman, beloved President of Sam Houston State College. Dr. Lowman, true to form, captured the complete interest of everyone present. He spoke of the relationship between fraternities and the college administration. Francis M. Hughes, President of the Fraternity, was the next and principal speaker of the evening. President Hughes directed his speech along the lines of what the fraternity means to the individual, and what he should derive from its teachings. It is an understatement to say that he held his audience spellbound. In closing, President Hughes, with the fires of Deltism, burned an everlasting principle into the heart and soul of every Delt present. He said, "What kind of fraternity would Delta Tau Delta be if every other Delta was just like me." He received a standing ovation as he retired from the speaker's stand.

The installation banquet of the 89th undergraduate chapter of Delta Tau Delta was, of course, closed with the singing of "Delta Shelter."

The men of Epsilon Zeta would like to relate here the love, admiration, and respect they have for Brother Eldridge C. Thompson. Had it not been for him we fear that all the foregoing could not have been possible. A scholarship trophy has already been initiated in his honor. It is to be called the Eldridge C. Thompson Scholarship Trophy.

Organized on April 21, 1879, as Sam Houston Normal Institute, what is now Sam Houston State College began classes with an enrollment of 400 students. It is now a liberal arts college, boasting approximately 40 buildings on the campus itself, with 40 dormitories with facilities for housing 2,250 students. Every building at Sam Houston is completely air-conditioned. It is believed that no other college in the United States can make that statement. Every room in every dormitory, sorority, and fraternity house has a telephone. Since Dr. Lowman became president of the school in 1941, the institution has been engaged in a gigantic building campaign. Present enrollment at Sam Houston is 4,003.

In closing, we of Epsilon Zeta would like to dedicate ourselves to this statement by Dr. Henry M. Wriston, Wesleyan, '11: "If the undergraduate student is making a man of himself, he is doing the world's most important job. Growing and working, thinking and gaining power, reflecting and gathering insights, the student justifies his life. . . ."

Centennial Songbook Soon Available

IN RESPONSE TO DEMAND from chapters of the Fraternity, a new songbook is being prepared. The new book will be a most attractive one, probably the best looking songbook that Delta Tau Delta has ever had. The book will be one of 48 pages. It is not just a new edition of an old songbook, but is a completely new book, in which many of the old Fraternity songs have been incorporated with modern arrangements for four-part men's voices. In addition to the old standbys, some new songs have been introduced, which will give the chapters brand new material for competitive singing and will fill the need for certain types of songs which have been absent from our previous editions. For example, the book will contain a new lighthearted marching song; a new short grace to be sung before meals; and the Centennial Elegy, which was sung by the West Virginia glee club at the Centennial Karnea in Pittsburgh in August of 1958.

It was decided that due to the fact that nearly all singing in Delt chapters today is done a cappella—that is, without piano or accompaniment—the space which would have been taken up by piano accompaniments in the new book has been, instead, used to include many more songs than otherwise might have been possible. In arranging the new songbook, it was deemed advisable to delete some of the old songs which appeared in former editions, but which recent surveys disclosed are never sung anymore. These songs appeared to be no longer suitable, either in lyrics or music, to the demands of a modern Delt chapter. Still finding their place in the songbook of the Fraternity, however, are many of the old standbys, including some of Stuart Maclean's great contributions. The new book is a professional effort worthy of all its predecessors, and all Delts should be very pleased with it.

The editor of this fine new collection of Delt songs is Carr Liggett, Ohio, '16. Brother Liggett is presently chairman of the board of Carr Liggett Advertising, Inc., a Cleveland, Ohio, advertising firm. Carr, however, has not confined his talents and efforts strictly to the field of advertising. He has written music and light verse ever since his undergraduate days at Beta Chapter. Carr himself explains his interests as a means of "revenge on society one might expect from a thwarted English professor." Over the years, he has written half a dozen or more plays, satirizing business and advertising. The latest one, entitled "The Squirrel Cage," a full-length musical comedy produced at Ohio University in March of 1958, has since been rewritten under the title, "The Passionate Pudding." Once the new songbook is off the presses and distributed to the chapters and Delts throughout the country, Carr Liggett's plans are to write a Commencement address, though he says no college or university will ever ask him to deliver it. Following composition of the Commencement address, he hopes to write a "crazy satirical book."

Many long hours have been put in on the songbook by Brother Liggett and the Fraternity will long be indebted to him for his efforts.

Printing of the new book will be done by Swift and Company in Chicago. Heavy bindings are planned for those copies of the books which will be distributed to the undergraduate chapters. These heavy bindings will be produced in Cleveland by the A. H. Pelz Company. Some 500 copies of the new book will be bound in plastic. Five complimentary copies of these plastic bound copies will be sent to the undergraduate chapters. Those chapters desirous of obtaining extra copies for glee clubs, will be able to obtain them at an unusually low price of $1.00 a copy. Orders for such additional books should be sent to the Central Office of the Fraternity.

Karnea Committee Named, Program Taking Shape

IF ONE WERE TO ASSUME that the Karnea following a Centennial Karnea might be anticlimactic, he could not be blamed for his assumption; however, judging from all the reports coming in from New England, the Sixty-fifth Karnea of the Fraternity will be one taking its place as a memorable and fitting celebration of Delta Tau Delta's embarkation on its second century of being.

Karnea Chairman Joel W. Reynolds, Tufts, '23, has been efficiently planning and organizing for the past several months. All of the arrangements have been made with The New Ocean House at Swampscott to assure all in attendance the utmost in comfort and enjoyment. Our "cold" New England brothers are off to a good start in their aim of proving to the Fraternity that the South has no monopoly on the claim to hospitality.

The Karnea committee named by Chairman Reynolds is comprised of the following men: John C. Adams, Jr., M.I.T., '46; Harry G. Barr, Wesleyan, '55; Malcolm M. Beers, Tufts, '49; George W. Brothers, Tufts, '20; James Campbell Deveney, Rensselaer, '34; Rev. Sam Hedrick, Baker, '32; Rudolph L. Helgeson, Tufts, '41; Lawrence E. Kennedy, Jr., Tufts, '45; Ralph L. Morse, Illinois Tech, '17; Douglas W. Payne, Northwestern, '28; Richard H. Pierce, Tufts, '41; Harris S. Richardson, Jr., Dartmouth, '41; Anthony O. Shallna, Indiana, '18; Steven W. Shanosky, Tulane, '30; C. Elliott Smith, Tufts, '28; Frank W. Spencer, Maine, '44; Richard G. Velte, Tufts, '42; Frederic C. William, Penn State, '25; Ralph L. Williams, Tufts, '24; and Francis W. Young, W. & J., '24, Tufts, '27, and Dartmouth, '28.

A meeting is planned for the entire committee and their wives, at the home of Chairman Reynolds, on March 5. At this meeting it is planned that the various subcommittees for the Karnea will be selected with the above-named general committee members designated as chairmen. Responsibilities in all of the specific areas will be assigned at this meeting. It is almost unbelievable how much planning it takes to arrange for a well-organized convention.

Mrs. Joel W. Reynolds has accepted her husband's appointment as chairman of the Karnea ladies program. Trips will be planned for the ladies to some of the many points of historical interest in and around Boston. A tea is also planned and it is hoped that arrangements can be made for attendance at the North Shore Music Theater. More definite plans for the ladies program will be announced in the June issue of THE RAINBOW.

The tentative Karnea program will include the President's reception on Wednesday evening, June 22. The usual plenary sessions of the Karnea will take place on Thursday morning and afternoon. Thursday evening will be the time set for the model initiation. A reception, featuring professional entertainment, will follow the initiation. It is planned to have Beta Mu Chapter conduct the model initiation. Arrangements are now in the process of being worked out for the Beta Mu double sextet to have a part in the entertainment at the reception. Chapter reunions will take place at the reception if present plans can be carried out.

On Friday morning, June 24, the program will continue with business session and round-table discussions. Friday noon will find Karnea attendees meeting for a recognition luncheon, honoring members of the Distinguished Service Chapter. One of the high lights of the social side of the Karnea will take place Friday afternoon and early evening at the New England clambake, complete with all of the trimmings. It will be back to work again Saturday morning as the delegates again meet for a business session. The concluding business session will take place Saturday afternoon for the important task of electing officers of the Fraternity, selecting the time and place for the 1962 Karnea, and finishing up all other business of the Karnea. The Sixty-fifth Karnea will draw to a fitting conclusion Saturday night at the Karnea banquet. Some of the most out-

Cincinnati Shelter Addition Dedicated

ON FRIDAY EVENING, November 13, 1959, nearly 300 enthusiastic Delt alumni and undergraduates from more than 15 chapters thronged to the Gamma Xi Shelter to help celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the Cincinnati chapter and the one-hundredth year of the national Fraternity.

The evening's festivities began at the spacious home of Robert Heuck, Cincinnati, '13, as the group renewed friendships of college years past. The reception, as well as the banquet which followed, were covered on film by all three local television stations.

The banquet then followed, and all adjourned to the modern Gamma Xi Shelter to enjoy the fine meal. At each table setting was a copy of Dad's Chapter, a 100-page history book of Gamma Xi Chapter. The book was more than two years in the making and comprises a prose history, a section of the chapter honors, and a complete initiate roster. Thomas A. Bratten, Cincinnati, '57, was editor of the book and is deserving of acclaim for his flawless and painstaking efforts. The history book was appropriately dedicated to "Dad" Clarence E. Pumphrey, father of the Cincinnati chapter.

In true Cincinnati German fashion, Robert Heuck, Cincinnati, '13, lived the program with a few remarks. His artistic "Deutschland" accent and original humor left all with a firm impression of his "fond memories of old Delta Tau." The toastmaster of the evening was Joseph Matre, Cincinnati, '13, retired State Department legal assistant and Washington orator. Brother Matre was charged with introducing National President Francis M. Hughes, Ohio Wesleyan, '31, the keynote speaker of the evening. At the conclusion of the program, John V. Maescher, Cincinnati, '13, assumed

Several of the original petitioning members of the old Alpha Mu Alpha Club, which became Gamma Xi of Delta Tau Delta on October 30, 1909, were in attendance. They were: H. Frederick Koenig, Cincinnati, '09, Bernard C. Bowen, Cincinnati, '09, and Edward B. Story, Cincinnati, '09. Also present were four members of Gamma Xi's first pledge class. They Kappa Gamma at the University of Cincinnati. Appropriately, Miss Fry is the daughter of Dr. Harry L. Fry, Cincinnati, '28. General chairman of the anniversary celebration was Jim Rockwell, Cincinnati, '60, whose efforts stimulated what was called by many as the biggest Delt function in Cincinnati Delt history. Assuredly, all who did attend felt that it was a fitting tribute to the double anniversaries that it celebrated.

Chapter Upsilon Dedicates New Home

By JOHN D'AURIA, Rensselaer, '61

ON SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1959, Chapter Upsilon proudly held its official dedication of a new Delt Shelter on the Rensselaer campus. Members of the undergraduate chapter, together with some 100 alumni and friends, attended the dedication and open house.

The new house, planned by the architectural firm of Henry Blatner in Albany and built by Duncan & Cahill, Troy, New York, brought many expressions of admiration. Built on three levels of sloping ground, with the living room, dining room, and kitchen on the top floor; the recreation room and one level of the study and sleeping rooms on the second floor; and a second level of study and sleeping rooms on the rear ground floor; the house affords accommodations for 46 members, plus the house-mother and cook.

Ernest L. Warncke, president of the house corporation, presided at the dedication ceremonies. He introduced Dr. Richard G. Folsom, who extended greetings and congratulations on behalf of the Institute; Roger Merrifield, president of the chapter, who presented Brother Warncke with a plaque and a wrist watch as a token of appreciation for his counsel over the years and his leadership in making the new Shelter a reality; Edwin H. Hughes, III, editor of THE RAINBOW, who spoke for the Fraternity; and the Rev. Donald Webster, Upsilon, '46, who conducted the devotions. Brother Warncke extended special recognition to Miss Harriet Peck, whom he termed the "unofficial housemother of the Delts" because of her years of interest in and loyalty to the chapter.

Following the dedication program, the undergraduates and alumni reconvened at the Troy Club for a banquet celebrating the chapter's 80th anniversary. Clarence H. Daniel, Carnegie Tech, R.P.I. business manager, served as toastmaster. Rensselaer Dean of Students Ira E. Harrod spoke on the advantages and the responsibilities of fraternity men on a college campus. Brother Edwin Hughes spoke of the great potential of fraternity

Among alumni returning for the dedication and the 80th anniversary banquet were, left to right: LORNE HUGHES, '05; HERVEY BRAINARD, '01; and JAMES LOHNES, '05.

LOU ROMAIN in his photography workshop.

WE AT BETA ALPHA are proud to announce that our house photographer, Louis F. Romain, has been awarded the Gold medal for the most creative print in the 47th Annual Pittsburgh International Salon of Photographic Art. His picture, "Study in Domesticity," won over several thousand entries from all over the world.

But this is not his first honor . . . he has been winning awards for his photographs ever since we can remember. This year alone he hung prints in all three of the international salons that he entered: Seattle, Boston, and Pittsburgh. He won a trophy, blue ribbon, and a cash prize for having the outstanding print in the Richmond Photographic Society Annual Salon in Richmond, Indiana. This picture was entitled "Dancer, no. 11." Lou was honored by a ribbon and cash prize in the 1959 Indiana State Fair, where he won third prize in the fine arts division. He won the Print-of-the-Month Contest of the Photographic Society of America in October, 1959, and continued his record by taking third place in November. The judge in October was T. F. Wood, FPSA-ARPS, of Toronto, Canada. Lou has sent three pictures on national print circuit under the Photographic Society of America. These prints were "Davit Pattern," "Dancer no. 11," and his second copy of "Study in Domesticity." For this last year Brother Romain has won one medal, one trophy, eleven ribbons (three of these were for first prize), and six certificates.

You might think it strange but Brother Romain is not even considering a career in photography. He wants to go into medicine and thus far has very good grades in his undergraduate work. His major area is chemistry. As a Delt, Lou has held many positions. He is now Beta Alpha's sergeant at arms, photographic editor for Beta Alpha publication and a staff writer for it, assistant scholarship chairman, and house photographer. Lou enjoys taking pictures of all the chapter's activities, from pledge dunking of "pinned" actives to dances and initiations. Lou once commented that his camera (a 4x5 inch press-type with electronic flash) "never, ever sleeps."

Lou has always tried to further art through discussions of it and through his own photographic art gallery in our annex. He has built his own little darkroom here, but does the bulk of his printing at home where he has a darkroom and a studio. Brother Romain is not satisfied with anything static and is now starting work in the new field of direct-color printing with the type-C process (Ektacolor process). Its complexities don't seem to bother him.

The front of Butler's impressive new Shelter. Shutters for the front windows and landscaping are still to be added.

BETA ZETA CHAPTER of Delta Tau Delta moved into a new Shelter October 15, 1959. The chapter has had a long and illustrious career at Butler University, located in Indianapolis, Indiana. In January, 1875, a charter was granted from Alpha Chapter of Ohio Wesleyan, the then governing body of the Fraternity. The 1884 catalog of the Fraternity says that "this chapter had only a brief existence and died from want of attention on the part of the general Fraternity." Exact dates for grant and withdrawal of the charter are not now known. A short time later Alpha Chapter at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pennsylvania, granted a charter in the name of Zeta Beta Chapter and dated February 11, 1878. This charter is in the chapter archives, but the name later was changed to Beta Zeta.

The holding company for the several houses occupied at different times by the chapter during the past 40 years is Beta Zeta Foundation of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. After organization of the chapter in 1878, it maintained its Shelter in eight rented locations near the campus, moving around Irvington, the suburb east of Indianapolis and home site of Butler until 1924, when it acquired the beautifully rolling lands and stately forest trees in Fairview Park, adjacent to the north side of Indianapolis along the picturesque and historical canal. In the summer of 1938, Beta Zeta went into its "owned" home at 4233 West 46th Street, near the new campus. By 1953 this was too small, so one of the most beautiful and authentic Williamsburg type of houses in the city and again near the campus was purchased. The four acres of landscaped park surrounding the home proved almost too much of a care problem for husky chapter athletes. Butler's College of Religion became Christian Theological Seminary in the summer of 1958 and subsequently bought, as part of its new site, the Beta Zeta Shelter at 942 West 42nd Street. After a long period of negotiations, the deed for this handsome property was signed over to the new seminary and Beta Zeta again started out on another home-owning venture. This time they would build their own Shelter.

Now Beta Zeta Foundation members turned to the trustees of Butler University and successive meetings and further negotiations resulted in obtaining a fee simple title to a plot of ground (high above the canal banks) on the west side of Haughey Avenue, 4340 is the new house number, with 200 feet of frontage and about 500 feet in depth, overlooking both canal and White River. Fraternity Architect Edward James, Beta Zeta, designed the new Shelter, another of Colonial patterns inside and out. Another good Delt from Purdue University, Ray Fatout, was the able contractor. At long last the new furniture is in place and the four-storied Williamsburg-type red brick and stone house is occupied by the chapter from pledges to seniors. Recently the Indianapolis Alumni Chapter had dinner "with the boys." Living quarters will take care of 40 "out-of-towners." The construction is practically fire proof, with spacious living room, standing speeches ever made in the fraternity world have been made at Delta Tau Delta's Karneia banquets. Although the main speaker has not as yet been selected, it will be an orator who will be worthy of his illustrious predecessors.

Although the committee has attempted to provide for some leisure time for Karneia delegates, it would be wise for Delts who will be visiting New England for the first time to plan for a few additional days, either before the Karneia opens or after its conclusion, in order to see more of the historical points of interest in the area.

library, trophy room, large lounging room, dining room, kitchen, and pantry. An attractive study and dressing room is allotted every two boys. There is a fourth-floor dormitory. The house is set back about 150 feet from the street, with ample parking space and circular driveway. Landscaping, with awareness to views around the corner down sorority row and the campus and the high banks on the west, will be a major problem this coming spring. The housemother's suite is near the front entrance on the east side.

Total cost of building, furnishings, and landscaping will be approximately $250,000. Beta Zeta actives and all loyal alumni, including members of the Foundation who constituted the building committee, are justly proud of this tangible result of some 50 years of labor and united effort for the Fraternity. If the spirit of living inside the Shelter can be compared with the external beauty visible to the passerby, then indeed we have built so that future generations who live within these walls "will grow in grace and loyalty."

Purdue's "Doc" Ruggles now Value Analyst

By GORDON L. JONES, Beta Tau, '41

WAYNE F. "DOC" RUGGLES, Purdue, '48, has recently joined Value Analysis, Inc., of Schenectady, New York, as midwest-area representative. Unique in its field, the firm offers to industry services designed to increase profits by eliminating unnecessary costs in the entire business cycle from product design to customer purchases.

Well qualified to provide consultation in the value analysis approach, Mr. Ruggles served for three years as supervisor of a departmental value analysis section of the Hotpoint Division of General Electric Co. In this assignment he was responsible for he heads is located at 721 North Main Street, Wheaton, Illinois.

Many Delts will recall "Doc" Ruggles in another connection—as a key figure in the superlative entertainment provided at the 1948 Karneia in French Lick. Fresh out of Purdue, he brought his singing "Sixteen," glee club of Gamma Lambda Chapter, to the picturesque southern Indiana resort to enthrall Karneagoers with stirring interpretations of favorite Delt songs. That same summer Doc also led the "Sixteen" in making the recordings of Delt songs which have been sold for a number of years through the Central Office.

Doc, moreover, sang tenor in a foursome of Purdue Delts—including Ed Easley, Bob King, and Bill Wainwright—who kept the 1948 Karneia up all night with its ringing barber-shop chords. That was the Varsity Four, who remained together in harmony in postcollege days and achieved fame in S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.* by finishing fifth in the Society's international quartet finals at Buffalo in 1949.

The Varsity Four, whose business careers took them to four different cities, broke up; but Doc Ruggles kept right on lathering up barber-shop tunes. As a result, he has achieved with his avocation national prominence as a most articulate exponent of close harmony.

Doc sang lead with an Oak Park quartet called the Kord Kings, who were Illinois State champions in 1952 and three times finalists in barber-shopping's world series, the international quartet contest. Under sponsorship of the State Department, the Kord Kings spent four weeks in Korea and Japan during 1954, entertaining Armed Forces groups and teaching U. S. soldiers the relaxing art of blending chords.

Doc also lends his exceptional abilities to S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. by directing barber-shop choruses. He has served training, product evaluation, and implementation of the value analysis theory. Previously he had been assigned to Hotpoint's materials section as buyer, expeditor, and inventory control supervisor.

The theory of value analysis, pioneered and developed in General Electric, has been praised as a vital factor in trimming manufacturing costs, and the formation of the new company with which Mr. Ruggles is now associated has been hailed as filling a great need for aggressive industry. Gamma Tau, Beta Kappa, and Nu Chapters Win Publication Awards

CHAPTER PUBLICATION awards for the college year 1958-1959 were recently announced as follows:

Beta Kappa (Colorado)

HONORABLE MENTION

Iota (Michigan State)

Gamma Pi (Iowa State)

NEWSPAPER FORMAT

FIRST PLACE

Nu (Lafayette)

HONORABLE MENTION

Beta Epsilon (Emory)

Beta Upsilon (Illinois)

The first-place award consists of a $50 cash prize, to be invested in furnishings or equipment suitable for a chapter hall or chapter house.

Editor of Gamma Tau's prize-winning magazine was Don Culp. Colorado's winning effort was put out under the direction of Rush Chairman Bob Weakley.

Gamma Tau's magazine, The Keltz, has been a frequent contender in the magazine format division over the past few years. Iota's Chronicle, Gamma Pi's Delt Crest, and Beta Kappa's magazine are newer contenders, although Gamma Pi has been an honorable mention entrant within the past few years.

The newspaper format division offered entrants of a higher caliber than have generally contended in this division over the past several years. The selection of Nu's News over Beta Epsilon's Delt Data and Beta Upsilon's Booster was a close one. All three newspapers compared very favorably to previous award winners. Serving as co-editors of Nu's News were Paul Luscombe and Peter Mitchell. Bill Garland edited Delt Data and Fred Thayer served as editor of The Booster.

Awards for undergraduate chapter publications were established in 1937.

For those chapters who desire to compete for the annual awards, the awards committee suggests attention to the following points.

Winners are selected on the basis of general appeal and interest to alumni (or to rushees if the publication is also used in rushing programs); manner in which the material is written and edited; and attractiveness in typographical layout and printing. Frequency of publication (the number of issues presented during the college year) is taken into consideration in the case of newspaper format, but issues in excess of three will not influence the award.

Chapters using professional services in publishing their papers or magazines are not eligible for the award; however, the committee is authorized to confer honorable mention upon such chapters.

Doug Beito Added To Field Staff

The Fraternity is pleased to announce the appointment of Douglas J. Beito, Oregon State, '57, to the regular field staff.

Doug is a former vice-president of Delta Lambda Chapter. During his undergraduate days, he also served his chapter as rush chairman, pledge trainer, and as delegate to Division Conferences and to the Karnea. He was business manager of the student newspaper at Oregon State and was also a member of the debate team, of Alpha Delta Sigma, Advertising Association of the West, Pershing Rifles, the Business & Technology Club, and of Thanet, sophomore men's service organization. He was also a stewardship deacon at the Central Lutheran Church of Portland, Oregon.

The latest addition to the Fraternity staff takes up his work with the Fraternity following two years of military service with the United States Army.

Doug's outstanding background in the Fraternity and on the Oregon State campus provides excellent equipment for his work with the undergraduate chapter. He has completed an intensive training course at the Central Office and a busy schedule is planned for him during the coming months as he visits Delta Tau Delta undergraduate chapters throughout the country. Doug will be looking forward to meeting many of his Fraternity brothers for the first time, and the brothers who have not yet met him have a treat in store for them when they do.

Automobile drivers will find the interstate highway system has reached one of its most advanced levels in Massachusetts and New England. EDITORIAL ERROR!

It was erroneously listed in the Delt Initiates section of the December issue of THE RAINBOW that JON P. WARDRIIP was an initiate of Epsilon Delta Chapter. In truth and in fact, Jon is an initiate of Epsilon Epsilon Chapter.

Centennial Song Book

Copies of the new songbook will also be available for alumni chapters and for individual Deltas.

The songs published in this, the fifth edition of the Fraternity songbook, were selected on the following basis: (a) the 1957 chapter survey, in which many chapters complained of the lack of an up-to-date four-part male chorus arrangement of various songs; (b) the songbook supplement of 1950, which was largely four-part arrangements without piano scores; and, (c) a dozen or more arrangements from Mu Chapter, Ohio Wesleyan, none with piano part. There will be a total of approximately 42 songs included in the new book. These new four-part arrangements, together with the editing and new arranging supplied by Brother Liggett, will help give Deltas a fresh approach to their music. Some of the new songs are modern enough to help Deltas make friends and influence people.

In spite of the diligent efforts of Carr Liggett, some of the authors and/or composers of several of the songs included in the new book are unknown. If any Deltas have information as to these authors or composers, Brother Liggett and the Fraternity would very much appreciate knowing about them, in order that they may be given full credit in all future editions.

Throughout the history of the Fraternity, Deltas have always been known for their musical ability. We have had some outstanding Delt songwriters, but Stuart Maclean, Sewanee, '94, is still highly regarded as the Beethoven of the Fraternity. Certainly Carr Liggett now takes his place alongside Brother Maclean for his contributions to the musical side of Delta Tau Delta.

The new songbook is a good one. We feel sure that all Deltas will be very pleased with it, and that they will find it prepared in a manner and a style which will render it most useful to them. Just a reminder: all undergraduate chapters of the Fraternity will be furnished five complimentary, heavily bound copies of the songbook. Additional copies may be obtained at a price of $1.00 per copy by sending an order to the Central Office of the Fraternity, 3242 North

Meridian Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

All right, Delt baton wavers, you asked for this new songbook. Have fun enjoying the use of it!

THE DELT ALUMNI CHAPTERS

Boise Valley

The annual Christmas party was held at the City Club on December 28. Old timers said that this was the best-attended Christmas party in their memories. We called this dinner dance the 29th annual; however, Leon Weeks, Sr., said he attended his first one as an undergraduate of Beta Chi local in 1928, which would appear to make this the 31st annual. We would like to hear if anyone else has an earlier recollection than Leon so that we can correct the records. The attendance this time was 120, of which about half were actives and half alumni.

Serving on committees for the affair were Jack Haymond, Bob Nelson, Bill Briggs, Al Kiser, Russ Vieweg, Chick Donaldson, Max Durall, Chuck Daiger, Dick Weeks, Tom Hennessey, Wiff Janssen, Pat Day, Dale Faylor, and Bernard York. We want to give special recognition to Chick Donaldson and Al Kiser, who handled tickets. This time-consuming job was so expertly handled that it was a major contribution to the success of the party.

The William Allen Reeb scholarship award was presented by Dick Weeks. This year the award went to John Fitzgerald. Dick was the first recipient of this award and he was, therefore, the first alumnus to present the award who was a previous winner. John Van Deusen acted as master of ceremonies. Len Bielenberg came from Moscow for the affair. Len, who is now Delta Mu chapter adviser, was a former president of the Boise Valley Alumni Chapter. Among the actives present from an out-of-state chapter were Clark Bevington from Oregon State, who is the son of Frank Bevington. We were both pleased and honored to have the president of Delta Mu Chapter, Dick René, present to the alumni some of the high lights of the Delta year at the University of Idaho. The president of Beta Rho Chapter, Sid Garber, also honored us with his presence. Besides his impressive scholastic record, Sid is a standout backfield ace of the Stanford University football team. The guest of honor was John Fitzgerald, who, in addition to winning the scholarship award, is the newly elected president of Delta Mu Chapter.

Joe Jesseph and Wiff Janssen were elected to the executive board of the Boise Chamber of Commerce. Mark Southworth is in Caldwell, Idaho, as manager of the Kit Mobile Homes, Inc., northwest territory and Caldwell factory. Howard Ahlskog was elected to the executive board of Mountainview Council (Boise), Boy Scouts of America. Howard reports that Mel Conrad was in Boise from the Ogden office of the U. S. The Founders Day Banquet was held on the 22nd of February at the University Club. Approximately 150 alumni and undergraduates listened to Fred Kershner, Jr., Butler, '37, supervisor of scholarship of the Fraternity, deliver the principal address. Plans are well under way for this year's membership drive and the alumni are being grouped by school, and a few within the various divisions will be asked to contact those in their group. It is felt that in this way we can get a wider coverage.

Harold Handley, Indiana, '32, Governor of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the Cleveland Junior Chamber of Commerce "Bosses Banquet" on January 20. Al Riedel, Ohio, '52, formerly with Squires, Saunders & Dempsey, is now with Cooper-Bessemer as legal counsel and assistant secretary and is living in Mt. Vernon, Ohio. George Heymann, Western Reserve, '30, has returned to Cleveland as assistant to the president of Chickmaster Incubators, Inc. George is living at the Commodore Hotel. Ron Rice, Kent, '52, has switched from the law firm of Spieth, Bell & McCurdy to Louisville Title Insurance Co.'s legal department.

Remember, the alumni luncheons are held each Thursday noon at Clark's Playhouse Square, in the Farm Room. Hope to see you there.

F. H. STANBRO

Denver

The Denver Alumni Chapter Founders Day Banquet was held on Saturday, February 6, in the Banquet Room of Writers' Manor.

The featured speakers at the banquet were Head Coach Sonny Grandelius and Line Coach John Polonchek, both of the University of Colorado.

C. O. FRISBIE

Houston

Eldridge Thompson, hard-working Delt from the University of Colorado again is head of the Houston Alumni Chapter. Eldridge, who was president at the time the Karnea was held in Houston, will do a good job. His work in connection with the establishment of Epsilon Zeta Chapter at Sam Houston State College, has been outstanding.

Other alumni chapter officers named at the annual meeting November 15 at the Briar Club include Wayne Ogden, vice-president; Sam Croom, secretary-treasurer; Richard Nemmer, corresponding secretary, and Silas Ragsdale, Sr., RAINBOW reporter. All these officers are from Gamma Iota at the University of Texas.

The number of young Delts who are attending our meetings is most gratifying and Houston can be looked to for a strong, active year. A new directory is planned and it is hoped that monthly meetings will be resumed. With the establishment of several more Delt chapters in Texas, it is thought that interest will be higher and attendance better.

The younger group also was very much in evidence at the Christmas party arranged by President and Mrs. Thompson and held at the new home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rugeley. It was a Sunday afternoon affair. Delts and their ladies came by the score and lots of good fellowship prevailed.

Some 20 of our members went to Huntsville for the Epsilon Zeta installation and initiation on January 9. The contacts there with the new Delts and with our national leaders, Francis Hughes and Hugh Shields, were, we hope, much to Houston's advantage. We are quite proud of having an active chapter so close by and are even prouder that one of our members, Eldridge Thompson, deserves—and received—major credit for its being in the Delt fold.

SILAS B. RAGSDALE, SR.

Indianapolis

The Indianapolis Alumni Chapter had its annual election of officers in November at the new chapter house of Beta Zeta at Butler. The new officers are: president, Dave Englehart; vice-president, Andy Phillips; treasurer, Dean Dooley; and secretary, Charley Hulett.

We were taken on a tour of the beautiful new chapter house and then met for a buffet dinner with the active chapter.

On December 19, at the Marott Hotel, the group met for its annual Christmas luncheon. There were approximately 50 brothers present to enjoy the luncheon and a little well-planned "horse play." Ed Hughes, Editor of THE RAINBOW conducted a "Chinese Auction" and Brother Fred Hill (as he has for many years) acted as Santa Claus, passing out gifts to all the assembled brothers.

The annual Founders Day Banquet and dance, honoring Indiana's five undergraduate chapters, will be held at the Indianapolis Athletic Club on March 19. An interesting and entertaining evening is being planned for all Indiana-area Delts.

CHARLES W. HULETT

La Jolla

Founders' Day will find the La Jolla alumni sitting down to dinner with the brothers of San Diego and Imperial Counties. Not content with sweating out the weekly deadlines for his television show, "Gunsmoke," good Delt and author, Stuart Lake, is planning and organizing this event, which should highlight the year for the local group. He has persuaded President Francis M. Hughes of the Arch Chapter and Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President from the Central Office, to leave the ice and snow of Indianapolis long enough to spend Founders Day in sunny California. Howard Mills, Arch Chapter Treasurer, from Los Angeles, will also be down for the banquet. Many of the members have never met the top brass of their organization and await the occasion with pleasure.

E. Harrison Powell, Gamma Alpha, '11, and one of the La Jolla chapter stalwarts, is expecting four of his life-long friends and fraternity brothers to attend. They are Dan Ferguson, from Los Angeles; Francis Patton, from Chicago; Zach Brinkerhoff, from Denver; and Frank Paul, from Amarillo. Their reunion will add much to the evening.

The alumni group here was pleased to learn that some of last spring's rushing efforts had borne fruit. Bill Helming, an outstanding scholar and athlete from La Jolla High School, pledged Delt at Oregon State College and was in the running for freshman class president there.

Orchids to Vic Binsacca, Beta Omega, rushing chairman at the University of California. His was the only other active chapter heard from of the six to which recommendations were made.

The luncheon meetings of the La Jolla Alumni Chapter continue with increasing attendance on the first Tuesday of each month at the La Jolla Town House.

J. M. WHISENAND

Lexington

An hiatus or hibernation has ended, and life is showing again in the organization of Delts in the Blue Grass. Leaders in the revival were the three who have since been chosen as new officers of the group—Elliott Peel, president; Angel Levas, secretary, and Jim McGruder, treasurer. Regular meetings were started again during the winter, on the heels of a very successful homecoming party on the day of the UK-Tennessee football game, and the clan is now gathering on the second Tuesday night in each month.

DE chapter at UK always has representatives at the meetings and Peel has been naming committees right and left to confer with and assist DE committees in various matters and to promote Delt activities in general. One project into which much time and energy already has been poured is a bigger and better observance this year of DE's Founders Day anniversary. This reunion banquet is regularly held early in May, and word will be spread soon about date, place, and other details.

LAURENCE SHROPSHIRE

Long Beach

The Long Beach Alumni Chapter has regular luncheon meetings, at the University Club of Long Beach, on the second Tuesday of each month. We emphasize this because we welcome any Delts who may be in this vicinity on any of these dates to join us for an hour of brotherly fellowship. These meetings bring together members from many different chapters, and who knows, the visiting brother may contact one or more from his own alma mater.

In December, officers were elected for the present 12 months. Our new president is William E. Fisher, Baker '29; vice-president, Paul W. Hiller, Stevens, '18; and secretary and treasurer, Edwin S. Thomas, U.C.L.A., '27, re-elected in recognition of two previous years of outstanding service in that position.

Tentative plans are being made for a Founders Day dinner to be held in March. Notices will be mailed far enough in advance so that other engagements will not interfere.

The chapter congratulates Epsilon Zeta on its entry into the brotherhood of Delta Tau Delta and is confident that it will have a long and successful life as an outstanding chapter, both in scholarship and in campus activities.

The 24th annual Delt Christmas Service was held on Sunday evening, December 6, 1959, at Trinity Cathedral, downtown Pittsburgh. Dean High Moor, Chi, '14, delivered a very fine message, and there was an excellent turnout.

Following the service the annual Delt Sing Contest was held in the Parish House, with Chapters from Pitt, Tech, W. & J., and West Virginia participating.

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Alabama

Delta Eta has embarked on what we expect to be another great year. The past year saw many honors come our way in all facets of our campus endeavors.

Prior to Christmas, the 'Bama Deltas and members of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority entertained underprivileged children in the area with our annual Christmas party. The biggest surprise of the afternoon came with the appearance of Santa Claus. Brother Frank Phillips relinquished his title to one of the Kappas. Mrs. Claus made a big hit.

December was highlighted socially with another annual Delt party. "Piano Red" and his band from Atlanta furnished music for the event. The pledge class set a new precedent with its elaborate decorations.

'Bama's Bowery Ball.

The fall semester ended and the new year began with the ever-popular Bowery Ball. Recording star Sammy Salvo made a return visit to the Shelter and furnished music for the event. Prior to the party the pledges presented their big brothers with souvenir paddles.

During the past semester, the brothers at Delta Eta received their share of honors. Brother Max Allen was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa. In addition to Brother Allen, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities will list Delta Eta President Sam Hamner in its 1959-1960 edition. Brother Reggie Hamner was elected for membership in Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premed honorary. Pledge Bob Schleusner was elected to the vice-presidency of Rho Alpha Tau, freshman honorary.

Delta Eta Alumnus Charles Morgan, Jr., has been named as a vice-president of the Southern Division of the Fraternity. He has also been named chairman of a drive to secure the passage of a bond issue that would benefit the mental hospitals of the state.

In the near future, we are looking forward to being the host chapter for the Fraternity's Regional Conference. The Rainbow Formal and Alumni Banquet are planned for the same week end.

In the coming year, we at Delta Eta will strive to attain even higher goals than those reached in the past year.

REGGIE HAMNER

Albion

Elections find former student council representative, Dick Caister, guiding the chapter as its president into 1960. This junior has the drive, and his energy is expected to keep Epsilon on top at Albion. His new right-hand man, Vice-President Dave Elliott, is looked to for a fine job. The other officers are: treasurer, Charlie McCaslin; assistant treasurer, Ed Angove; recording secretary, Dave Braun; corresponding secretary, J. D. Reed; student council representative, Greg Hornie; sergeant at arms, Bob Foss; and guide, Jim Gunn. We look to our officers for another fine year.

On the social scene, the "bundle" party was a success. Each member and his date made a bundle of clothing which was exchanged at the party. Many of the get-ups were imaginative and humor prevailed. Also, "Black and White," our annual winter formal, is being carefully planned by Social Chairman Greg Hornie. His fine work in the past assures the success of the event.

Member in the limelight this issue include Don Morris, retiring treasurer, who was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa. This national men's honorary fraternity selects its members on the basis of character, leadership, and scholarship. In October, Don received the Betty A. Pierce award for scholarship improvement at Albion. It is awarded for the best improvement in over-all average for three and one-half years. Richard Turk, another Epsilon senior, has been elected in a vote of all fraternities and sororities to be placed in Who's Who in American College and Universities. In sports, Jim Gunn has been given an honorable mention on the MIAA all-conference team. Jim's spirited leadership as captain of the Briton's defense greatly helped Albion football this year. Also, Bill Losey, last year's high scorer, and Denny Groat are starting for the Albion cagers this year. Their continued good performance is expected.

In intramural sports, our amazing football team set a new school record in an undefeated season. John Krafft's defensive leadership held all seven opponents to a total of 18 points, while competent offense captain, Rick Smith, led his men to an amazing total of 297 points! Our gratitude to Bert Dygert, the smiling coach, is very deeply felt. We now far outdistance all competition in the battle for the all-sports award. Our fine basketball teams are expected to keep our lead. They are under the leadership of Mike Dant and Lee Hubble.

Because of the deferred rush system at Albion, freshmen do not pledge until next semester. A full report on rush activities and pledging will be included in the next issue.

Allegheny

"Prohibition Days" was the theme of Alpha's fall party. The brothers' dates were picked up in true "gangland" fashion, complete with old-time cars, armed drivers, and an all-out gun battle to boot. Upon arriving at the Shelter, the couples were led into "Mulligans Funeral Parlor," complete with flowers, soft music, and a coffin containing Alfred E. Neuman. After giving the password, the Delts and dates passed through a fake bookcase into the "back room." Much to the surprise and delight of our dates, the "back room" contained a swinging band. In the basement were gambling devices of all kinds, and although only stage money was used, we all enjoyed ourselves. Thanks to the social committee, under its able chairman, Brother Leech, and special effects by Brother Ottey, this year's fall party was one which will not soon be forgotten.

The social committee topped itself again in planning our annual Christmas Dance. Traditionally, the Shelter is decorated with boughs from over 200 pine trees, and a buffet dinner, complete with a pig's head for decoration, is served during intermission. More than 150 couples attended as Alpha Chapter welcomed alumni, faculty, and representatives from all of Allegheny's fraternities.

The Delts of Alpha Chapter have also been doing their share in campus activities. Serving as student chaperones are Brothers McKnight and Merchant. Brother Middleton is a member of the foreign student committee and Brother Merchant is a member of the student admissions committee. Brother McKnight is a member of the traffic committee, and in the spring he will be in charge of the student government elections. Brother Walther writes for the campus newspaper and Alpha is represented on the famed "Allegheny Singers" by Brothers Love and Ingram. Brother Love is also a member of the college orchestra. Brothers McCreary and Berkebile were honored at the fall Honors Day convocation by becoming Alden scholars. The prerequisite for joining this group is an 85 overall average for the preceding semester. Brother Berkebile is also president of the newly formed Allegheny Geological Society. Other brothers in this organization are Matty Mathews and Tom Benthin. Hardly a playshop production goes by without a Delt holding down a principal part. "Witness for the Prosecution" featured Brother Nixon; "The Matchmaker" starred Brothers Ottey and Nixon; and the coming production of "The Lark" will have Brothers Ottey, Nixon, and Francis in its fine cast. We were also able to place men on all major varsity teams so far this year. Brothers Damitz and Leech in football; Brothers Mathews, Walther, Bernard, Francis, and Brooks in soccer; Brother Burkett on the basketball team; and Brother Love on the swimming team. Members of the Allegheny varsity Block

GARY HYDE,
Arizona's
representative in Who's Who.

"A" Club are Brothers Mathews, Walther, Hiwiler, and Edwards.

We are fortunate in having eight men in the advanced AFROTC program. Brother McCreary is group commander; Brother Hrach is group executive officer; Brother Wilson is OIC of the band; and Brother Ingram is OIC of the rifle team. As a point of information the AFROTC rifle team has just been given varsity status and all lettermen will be members of Block "A." Of the five starting positions, three are being held down by Brothers Ingram, McCreary, and Kepple. Still more honors were bestowed on Alpha Chapter when Brothers Leech and McCreary were awarded the AFROTC distinguished cadet award for their all around excellence and achievement. Newly pledged sophomores of The Arnold Air Society are Brothers Damitz, Brooks, Thomason, and Luminati. Already members are Brothers Leech, Hrach, McCreary, and Ingram.

With the support of a strong sophomore class, Alpha has far exceeded its intramural record of last year. With the coming of winter and spring sports, the Delts promise to be top contenders. Pete Nixon was recently initiated and is following in the footsteps of his father, Eugene, a 1927 alumnus of Omega Chapter. Our thanks to Brother Ottey who just presented the chapter with a four-by-five painting of the Crest. The house purchased a frame for it and it now hangs impressively over our mantel. Alpha Chapter is glad to have Brother

Byers back this semester. John was forced to withdraw from school last year because of an illness.

Elections for the coming year were held and the following men were elected: Nick Moryatis, president; Dave Ottey, vice-president; John Gschwendtner, treasurer; Mike Bernard, recording secretary; Jim Merchant, corresponding secretary; Jim Ingram, guide; Bob Luminati, sergeant at arms; and Jim Brumage, pledge-master.

The semester is drawing to a close and the brothers are preparing for finals. We are looking forward to rush week, which promises to be successful, thanks to the excellent job of Rush Chairman Jack Francis and his committee.

JIM MERCHANT

Arizona

With the spring semester in full progress, Arizona's Delts gladly hesitate for a moment to recall the events of the fall term.

The homecoming week end with Texas Western found this chapter's efforts concentrated on the construction of its undeniably "original" float, "Homecoming Honeys." Following the theme of the University's 75th Anniversary, the men of Epsilon Epsilon depicted the last 15 homecoming queens in a dazzling display of color and pageantry. From Craig Trueblood, who portrayed Miss 1945, to Pledge Vic Carman, posing as Miss 1960, the array of beauty was indeed unique.

A week later the Arizona aggregation temporarily transported its chapter to Phoenix for the Thanksgiving vacation. High light of the week end was the traditional Arizona-Arizona State game at Tempe, attended by Arizona Delts "en masse." A buffet dinner, coupled with an exciting ball game, made the holiday a memorable one.

Social Chairman Chris Roberts closed out the 1959 calendar with his flawless arrangements for our annual Christmas formal. Held in the Champagne Room of the Baghdad, night spot of the Tucson Inn, the event proved a fitting finale for 1959, even Santa Claus making a guest appearance.

On the intramural front, EE squads continue to maintain their hold on ninth place among the University's 26 Greek competitors. The Delt football team closed out the semester's athletic program with a 3-3 mark.

On campus, Delt Gary Hyde, first president of EE, received national recognition when he was selected as one of 46 UA seniors named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Hyde is scholarship chairman for the Arizona IFC, the nation's top-rated interfraternity council.

Pledge Randy Carmichael, son of Song Writer Hoagy, put his musical abilities up for charity at the annual campus Community Chest auction in December. His "sound" was purchased by the Tri-Delts for a one-night stand.

Heading EE administration for the coming year will be newly elected officers: Carl Osterman, president; Steve Williams, vice-president; Bill Potts, recording secretary; Ray Dull, corresponding secretary; John Potter, treasurer; and Dick Young, assistant treasurer.

Approaching our first anniversary, UA Delts look back on a year of experience and ahead to a year of reward.

JON WARDRIP

Auburn

"Couldn't be better!" This phrase expresses the feelings of Epsilon Alpha as we enter a new school quarter. After the successful rushing program of last quarter, during which we pledged 22 men, the idea was born for a similar winter rush program. This program was launched by an intensive rush week, similar to fall rush although on a smaller scale, during the first week of the quarter. So far this program has brought the chapter into contact with many men we feel are good "Delt material." We at Auburn are always on the lookout for good men so rush is a never-ending vital function of the chapter. Out of the fall pledge class, 12 men are to be initiated this quarter. This leaves the winter pledge class at nine men, but we hope to enlarge this number soon.

Auburn's Homecoming display

Epsilon Alpha finished up fall quarter with a bang. The Christmas party took our minds off the impending final exams. Frank Price played his annual role of Santa Claus and distributed the humorous gifts to the brothers and their dates. Christmas carols were sung by all and, of course, there was plenty of time to dance. After the party the gifts were contributed to needy children in the area.

Things are looking good in the vitally important field of scholastic achievement too. The chapter turned in a point average of 1.76 on the 3-point scale for fall quarter. Since winter quarter is generally regarded as a far better "study quarter," we hope to improve this average.

All the brothers feel that a well-rounded chapter is a better chapter; therefore, Epsilon Alpha took part in almost every phase of the extensive intramural sports program offered by the University. We really did not rank as high in the overall outcome as we felt we should, so this quarter will find us spending a little more time on the practice field. We would like to come out on top of the other 22 groups on campus.

Ron Coleman, our brother from West Memphis, Arkansas, stood out scholastically with the top point average of 2.75 for the past quarter. Incidentally, Ron is attending school on a scholarship and has consistently ranked high in the B-average bracket since entering school. Just recently, Brother Coleman was tapped for Pi Mu Epsilon, a national mathematics honorary fraternity.

Other individual accomplishments were those of Brothers Charles Webb and Bob Barrier, who were elected president and secretary, respectively, of Pi Sigma Epsilon, a national professional management fraternity.

Another brother who gained recognition this past quarter was Bill Martin. Bill was elected to head all publicity work of the Auburn sports car club.

Other achievements include Phil Pauze and Ken Stephens singing with the Auburn concert choir and Phil Day working with the "Auburn Players," a dramatics group on campus.

We face the coming quarter with good spirit and hope this spirit is evidenced in all other chapters every where the banner of Delta Tau Delta is raised.

JIM SHIPMAN

Baker

Gamma Theta has not slackened its lead on the Baker campus since its last report to THE RAINBOW. In fact, we can proudly point to several great steps we have made this semester to widen that margin of leadership. Of great pride to the chapter is its lead in scholarship among all men's organizations on the campus. This is an honor for which we have been vying for some time and we now plan to maintain that lead.

Now that basketball season is well under way we can mention that 15 of the 21-man squad are Delts. Of that number Jim Kean, John Rubow, Terry Herman, Lewis Roller, Richard McDowell, Bob Sarna, and Babe Hawk compose a considerable portion of the first ten.

The rest of the chapter takes an active part in the highly competitive intramural program, and at this time we are leading in the race for the sweepstakes trophy. This will be our eighth year to win this trophy and we feel that the chances are exceptionally good to keep it in the Shelter.

Post-season football honors were awarded two Delt men this year. Jim Paramore received all-conference honors while quarterbacking the Baker Wildcats to third place in the Kansas Conference. He led the team in rushing, passing, and scoring and he was 23rd in the nation in total offense. Bud Spear, Baker guard, has been named to the second Little All-American academic team. This All-American team requires a high academic standing.

Along with putting in plenty of time on the books, the men of Gamma Theta also find time to get out with nature when hunting season rolls around. This year the freezer in the kitchen began to fill up so rapidly that we decided we would need more than the men in the chapter to consume it. The social committee was put to work and a very unusual party was the result. The theme was "Sherwood Forest," and the idea was a smorgasbord. Everyone came in Robin Hood costumes and found in a glen in Sherwood a banquet table of the king's game, delectably prepared by our cook and housemother. Included on the menu were quail, prairie chicken, duck, squirrel, rabbit, turkey, venison, and ham. Over-looking all was a large roast pig.

The entire faculty was invited and their reaction to the feast was one of complete enjoyment, as was that of all the guests.

When the Christmas season drew near, plans for our annual Christmas Formal began to develop. The Delts elected to be the first to use the new student union to hold a party and we proved that it could be a fine place for that purpose. White and gold was the color scheme with purple being used sparingly at different points for high lights. A completely new room soon developed within the union dining room and the simple beauty of Christmas was depicted in black silhouettes on the white walls. Under a large white tree the guests found their favors, each selected by their date and wrapped in the usual Christmas fashion. The guests were entertained by the singing of the chapter and by a simulated "Kingston Trio," made up of G. D. Blackwood, Jr., Dick Driver, and Sam Higdon. The quality of the party again was an indication of Delta Tau Delta's leadership on the campus.

John Rubow, Gamma Theta senior, is the recipient of the annual Pulliam Award for outstanding achievement in the field of journalism. John is editor of the Baker Orange this year and served as associate editor his junior year.

The spirit and enthusiasm shown this year has brought the chapter to even greater heights of leadership and we owe much for this spirit to our president, Jim Kean. We feel confident that the new administration will continue to exert the necessary leadership which the Delts at Baker have traditionally had.

Bowling Green

As the semester rolls along, the BG Delts are swinging into action. An informal rush party for freshmen in early November saw the Shelter turned into a western scene. The furniture was taken out and the floors covered with hay. Soft colored lights, the strumming of a guitar, and dancing, added atmosphere to the occasion, which was attended by some 250 people.

Immediately following this was Greek Week, an annual event on campus. This year's theme was the "Seven Keys," one for each day, and the week started with open houses and informal interfraternity discussions on Sunday. Monday evening followed with an exchange dinner with a representative from each Greek society present at every house. The faculty was entertained at the Delt Shelter on Tuesday night for discussion. Among those present were the Dean of Men, the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, the Dean of the College of Education, and the head of the chemistry department. All of the above commented positively on the discussion and the hospitality they were shown. On Wednesday, Olympic Night, the Delts again took honors by placing second in the series of events. The Greek Week banquet was held on Thursday, and Friday climaxed the week with a formal dance featuring Richard Maltby.

An outstanding brother, Bill Shuck, brought honors to Delta Tau recently by being elected president of the Association of College Unions, Region Five. Bill is also social director and on the board of directors for the Union. Representing us in the Union are Hal Wassink, as director of recreation, and Bill Harp, as a committee head. Hal is also a justice on student court and was recently tapped into Omicron Delta Kappa. Gary Brown, a senior, brought further honors by being elected parliamentarian of the student body and with being a member of Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary.

Jim Stagg is representing the chapter in the wrestling world again this year. So far he is undefeated in his 123-pound class. Last year, Jim was a runner up for the Mid-American Conference title, won the 4-I title in Cleveland, and represented Bowling Green in the NCAA matches. We all hope that he will continue to bring recognition to Delta Tau Delta and Bowling Green.

Pete Gallo was re-elected treasurer in the January election and Don Miller was re-elected his assistant. One of their biggest jobs in the near future will be to finance our Winter formal in February. Also coming up soon is spring semester rushing. We are looking forward to a successful program.

The first semester has proven to be a very busy one for the men of Beta Zeta Chapter. We participated in homecoming, the cheer drive, a blood donating campaign, and several other all-school functions. President Tom Simmons was in charge of collecting funds for the multiple sclerosis drive.

The pledge Christmas dance was a huge success. The pledges did a great job of decorating the Shelter for the dance. Pledge Social Chairman Ron Spall is to be commended for the fine job he did in organizing the affair. Our house-mother, Mrs. A. J. Perry, was thoroughly pleased with the camera set the chapter gave her as a gift.

Owen Muir was re-elected treasurer. Brother Muir, sometimes called "Scrooge," has proven himself to be a very capable keeper of the coins.

Ralph Gennarelli and Bob Parsons are again directing our Geneva Stunts act. Parsons and Gennarelli led us into a second place in last year's stunts. This year's act is either going to be a satire on TV westerns or a Frankenstein spectacular.

John Ross and Bob Parsons were voted to the intramural all-star team which played the champion TKES to 0-0 tie. Brother Ross latched onto six passes for the all-stars, besides making an interception near the goal line.

As was predicted in the last edition of THE RAINBOW, the pledge-active football game ended in disastrous defeat for the pledges. Tom Simons hauled in passes of 35, 50, and 70 yards for touchdowns. The passes were thrown by Ace Passer Butch Carr. The last active score came on a 40-yard sprint by Billy Thompson. The pledges, try as they may, could only cross our goal line once; the score came on a two-yard pass from Bill Welch to Herb Biddle. Defensive Captain "Scrooge" Muir, leader of "Muir's Maulers," played a great defensive game even though he had to be helped from the field once or twice. Pledge Ron Spall, a 240-pound tackle, was outstanding for his team and for his inspired play he received an extra easy pledge duty.

We promised the pledges a turn-about-day if they beat us and although they lost, we, out of the kindness of our hearts, allowed them to have the day anyway. Many of the actives found the turn-about-day to be quite strenuous. All in all the day was enjoyed by everyone. We believe that having a day like the one described helps to bring about better pledge-active relations.

Our basketball team is finally beginning to hit its stride after getting off to a slow start. Ron Spall and Jeff Fisher are engaged in a duel for high scoring honors. Coach John Demaree has been trying to find a way to let the other players get shots, but so far he has been unsuccessful. Pledge John Oberhelmen managed to get five shots in our last game and connected on all of them. It has been brought to the attention of Rush Chairman Charlie Spiher that we could use a seven-foot center.

We are very fortunate to have Don Fine, Billy Thompson, and Don Bevis back in the chapter this semester.

Another rise in scholarship is predicted by Scholarship Chairman Jim Craig. Last year we pulled ourselves from sixth to third and this year we are very much in contention for top honors.

Andy Zipko of East Chicago and Alan Perdue of Indianapolis are Beta Zeta's most recent initiates. Andy and Al are already proving to be assets to the chapter.

Pledge Mike Wood recently cut a record for one of the top recording companies in the nation. It is due to be released in the near future.

Our water polo team lost its first game of the season. Goalie Ralph Gennarelli found that trying to block shots and keeping one's head above water can be quite a task. Pledge Bill Highland announced after the game that he did not think that he would participate in the sport anymore. All of the players on the team seemed to agree that we might have won if we hadn't had to spend so much time in the deep end.

Bill Highland, Larry Rodabaugh, Vance Redfern, and Jeff Lazo are all trying out for the varsity wrestling team. Mike Parry and John Galloway are vying for positions on the swimming team.

Byron Schoolfield is one of the officers in the campus blood drive. Billy Thompson will join Bob Parsons, Jeff Fisher, and Schoolfield in Gamma Sigma this spring.

Dean Sheneman and Don Howery had the top grade averages for the pledges at midterm. Dean had a 3.5 and Don had a 3.0.

With finals just a week away, we of Beta Zeta are now busy readying ourselves for them. With a little extra effort from each member, we should be able to bring the scholarship trophy back to Delta Tau Delta. With high hopes for the next semester, the men of Beta Zeta will be looking forward to bringing more honors to our great Fraternity.

California

California Delts came out on top in the intramural championship. The Delts had an almost unblemished record this year. With one defeat, we came from behind to defeat the previously unbeaten Sigma Chis to win the intramural football championship. The best game was, in fact, this win over the Sigma Chis. It was a see-saw type battle with the Sigma Chis on top by six points with ten seconds to go. Then quarterback Dave Shellberg fired a long pass to halfback Dick Dumke to tie the game. We went on to defeat the Sigma Chis in the overtime period. Another win which made us feel pretty good was our 12-8 victory over the visiting Stanford Delts. As the basketball season progresses, the Delts find themselves without any defeats and if things follow their pattern, we could very easily win another championship. Much of the success that we have had in intramurals this year can be attributed to Robbie Ward, intramural chairman, who has worked so hard in organizing practices, plays, and so forth.

Annual house elections were held on January 11 and the following men were elected to run Beta Omega Chapter for the next two semesters: John Moore, president; Robbie Ward, vice-president; Bob Snyder, house manager; Dick Neuman, recording secretary; Bill Ausfahl, corresponding secretary; Kevin Scarpelli, treasurer; and Steve Lind, assistant treasurer. These men have proven themselves capable of doing a good job and the chapter should continue in its successful ways.

Social life at Cal is running at its usual high pace this spring semester. Some of the high lights include the traditional Vikings party, where many of the old Vikings' customs are revived and some new ones are initiated, and the annual "overnight," which will be held at Denton's Mountain Inn, located in the heart of the Santa Cruz mountains. Near the end of the semester our spring formal will take place. It hasn't been decided yet as to where it will be held.

As the spring semester progresses, the Cal campus sees two more Delts enter the political arena. Whitney Nicholas was elected sophomore class vice-president and Brian Van Camp was elected lower division representative-at-large. Whit has been one of the yell leaders this past semester and Brian has been active in many of Cal's social and political organizations. Both men should have very promising futures.

Beta Omega's eleven, IM football champs at California.

We have been working diligently on the alumni banquet that will take place on the week end of April 29, 1960. This banquet is an effort to strengthen our alumni relationships, and to provide the opportunity for the alumni to get together and talk about the times they spent while they were at the "Old U." The particulars of this occasion are in the process of being mailed to each alumnus.

In the last few months, much has happened at Delta Beta. Intramural football ended with the Delts in second place in the league, losing only one game, and that to the team which eventually won the school and city championships. The team was not without its individual stars this year, as two brothers were picked for the all-school team. Tom Tomasek was selected for the first-team defensive backfield and Bill Montgomery was selected for the first-team defensive line.

Coach Jim Linduff reports that the basketball team is looking forward to the coming season with great anticipation. The team, which lost only two players due to graduation, will be strengthened this year by Brother Paul Lang, who played freshman basketball last year.

The chapter is very sorry to report that we will soon be losing our housemother, Mrs. Ruth Annis. She has accepted a supervisory position at a home for the aged and will be leaving February 1. During her stay with us, "Mom" Annis' many years of experience as hostess and dorm mother proved to be a great asset to us and her absence will be a great loss.

The chapter participated in the annual Dean Moore Sing this year, along with the three other Delt chapters in the area. Under the able directing of Brother Linduff, we came in second to the Gamma Delta sing team, which appeared at the last Karnea.

The social committee, headed by John Gantt, went all out this semester, and is to be congratulated for a job well done. The semester ended with the traditional Christmas party, complete with

"Santa," and a very beat, "Beatnik Party."

HOWARD D. MATTICK

December held many enjoyable experiences such as vacation, Christmas, and various parties and dances. The Christmas formal is one of these happy occasions. This year it was held at Pleasure Isle, Kentucky. Program entertainment was supplied by the pledges and the "Deltone" octet, led by our song leader, Ted Smith. The octet is gaining a fine reputation on the campus, and has serenaded several sororities. Featured soloist was Brother John Betz, who sang a few "calypso" ballads. John has affiliated with Gamma Xi from Beta Omicron at Cornell. Awards were also presented at the formal. Brother Dave Hughes received the most improved scholarship award. Blaine Cunningham was tapped by the Delt Pillars, a group of outstanding brothers in the chapter.

After vacation, the men of Gamma Xi wasted no time in becoming active. Brother Don Plane was initiated into Tau Beta Pi, an honorary society for outstanding engineers. Richard Foley was initiated into Pi Tau Sigma, a mechanical engineering honorary. Dave Wortendyke holds the position of commanding officer of Scabbard and Blade, an Army ROTC association. In November, Pledge Roger VanWyngarden brought honor to the chapter as he was selected as the "pledge prince of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. This was the second time in three years that a Delt has won this award. High lights of the future are the pledge formal, to be held January 29, and spring rush. Prospects for rush this spring are good and the pledges are working hard to recruit new brothers.

Intramurals this season look favorable. A tall Gamma Xi basketball team has a perfect record so far and secondary sports prospects are also favorable.

JACOB DOTY

Cornell

As the spring term begins, Beta Omicron is active in securing its pledge class for the current year. Following the rushing period will be the initiation of our present pledges. The rush committee has been especially active this year and is grateful for the fine recommendations received. Rushing restrictions during the fall term were relaxed somewhat, giving the freshmen better insight into the Cornell fraternity system and an opportunity to visit the Delt House. The chapter's intramural athletic record will be an asset during rushing. The Delt basketball squad has not been defeated and the bowling team is also doing well. In addition, the chapter is in preparation for the annual interfraternity skit night, and we hope to secure the fine trophy.

Two additional Deltas received scholastic awards during the term. Pete Eveleth was tapped by Kosmos, an industrial and labor relations honorary, while Lee Atkinson received a certificate indicating that he made the Dean's List in the College of Engineering. Lee also received the Warner Orvis scholarship award for the pledge having the highest scholastic average.

Socially, Beta Omicron has also been quite active. Besides the two outstanding social events of the fall term, fall week end and the Christmas party, the chapter arranged exchange dinners with Alpha Phi and Pi Beta Phi. The new hi-fi set in the social area and Drummer Dave Roy provide entertainment.

With the pledging of a new freshman class, the spring term should prove equally successful.

BRAD FRANKLIN

Dartmouth

The return to Hanover started out with a series of good week ends and the initiation banquet. Delta Delta Delta Sorority from Middlebury College invited us down for a buffet supper and an evening of good times. Twenty-seven Deltas braved the cold weather to make the trip, that included a hockey game and a delicious supper. The pledge banquet followed the initiation of 18 new Deltas. A good time was had by all, and entertainment was later supplied in Hartford by Sandy Apgar, Woodrow Chittick, and Jay Fritz.

Harry Ames keeps the anxious brothers posted on his travels to the interior of Brazil. At last report he was teaching the natives the use of the bull-whip. David Loughran has returned from studies in Spain, where he was studying Spanish culture.

Mitch Engle has been placed on the all-Ivy soccer team after he captained our team to another successful season. Jake Gillespie is hard at work preparing for our annual Fraternity play. Much work is planned for the Winter Carnival snow statue for the house. C.B.S. television is going to cover the winter week end and great competition is expected for the winning statue. Our theme will be centered around our new St. Bernard puppy, named El Rae. Charles Maschal is doing the sculpture on the gigantic statue.

Plans are now under way for another successful Carnival and many Delt alumni are expected to return for the festivities.

EDWARD W. DAUMIT

Delaware

The brothers of Delta Upsilon have been working to keep the Deltas one of the leading fraternities on campus, both collectively and by individual effort.

Brother Ken Shelin was fortunate to attend the American Educational Theatre Association national convention over Christmas vacation as an official delegate of the University theatre group. While at the convention, Ken was able to audition for producers for jobs in summer stock. Ken, a dramatics major, had leading roles in the two major productions of the University Theatre this semester.

Brothers Mike Lewis and Cliff Simon are both members of the varsity chorale, a 15-voice men's choral group whose repertoire extends from Bach to show tunes. The chorale gives concerts on campus and throughout the Delaware, Maryland, and Pennsylvania area. Brothers Lewis and Simon are also members of the concert choir, a mixed voice group that is one of the better college vocal groups on the east coast.

The Delaware interfraternity council is forming a constitution in conjunction with the University administration. Brother Walt Liefeld is chairman of the committee writing the constitution. There have been many efforts in the past to draw up a constitution agreeable to all concerned, but this attempt has been the most successful so far and is sure to be completely successful. Much of the credit for this success goes to Brother Liefeld.

While preparations are being made for the second-semester rush program, the brothers are working on finals, hoping to preserve their standing of second on campus, and remembering the fine social functions of the past semester, especially the South Sea Island party and the Christmas party.

DAVID R. KEIFER

DePauw

Since the end of football, Beta Beta has remained active on the sports scene. Jim DeArmond is helping the Tiger swimming team as he is trying to place in the conference diving again this year. Joe Kertis, Rich Hersman, and Jim Gable are keeping the freshmen represented and are participating in basketball, wrestling, and swimming, respectively. Again this year the all-IM football team was represented by Deltas; with Bob Summers, Jim Zurcher, John Rumberg, and Don Walters making it. We are also proud to have Dick Schaefer as the new chairman of the "Little 500," which is the annual DePauw bicycle race that was publicized in Life last year. Rounding out the sports is our current five-game winning streak in IM basketball, after a first-game loss.

Socially, the Deltas are never caught lacking. In November the chapter held an open house for the citizens of Greencastle, which was well attended and enjoyed by both townspeople and brothers. As the Christmas season began to roll around again, Beta Beta had a carol sing with the Pi Phis for shut-ins and other townspeople and faculty. Then we again enjoyed the frolic and genuine thrill of the annual Christmas party for needy children. It is always a good feeling for the brothers to see the children's happy faces. At the annual Christmas party we had the largest faculty attendance in years and one of the best parties of the year. The first big event after vacation was an unannounced breakfast exchange with the Kappas, who entered the premises at 9:00 a.m. Saturday morning with much hilarity. When the brothers finally got out of bed, we all had breakfast, followed by cards.

At present there is no sound in the house as the brothers are beginning the long grind of final exams. We are about to prove the ability of the chapter in this scholastic atmosphere of DePauw and then make a flying start into the next semester.

KEN KELLER

Duke

Delta Kappa has enjoyed a highly successful first semester and is now looking ahead to formal rush in February. Delta Kappa currently numbers 61 active brothers, making us the second largest fraternity on campus.

As always, there have been many terrific Delt social events, including our annual "Roaring Twenties" party, which was a real "roaring" success—the biggest and best ever! The party featured a dixieland combo and flapper attire, with transportation to the party being provided by a 1928 fire engine with siren and bell going full blast. Our annual Christmas dance was also a gala affair, highlighted by the exchanging of "gifts" by the brothers. Actually, Santa Claus gave out the presents but we all knew it was really Brother Steve Prevost, class of '59, on special leave from the Navy for this event.

In athletics, the "Green Wave" of Delta Kappa has had a truly outstanding semester, winning the league football championship with an unblemished record in regular season play and going all the way to the school finals before going down in defeat. Basketball is currently underway with all six Delt teams turning in fine performances. In addition, the Delts have captured the intramural bowling league championship! Captained by Ed Dowden, the Delts compiled a 35 and five won-and-loss record in their first entry in the infant bowling league here at Duke.

Duke Delts have also been prominent in athletics on the intercollegiate level, with speedster Jerry Nourse highlighting a successful season by capturing the Atlantic Coast Conference championship. Delt Tom Bazemore captained the Blue Devil harriers and Dave Jones rounded out a tough trio of Delt runners. In addition, Ed Elsey captained the swimming team and John Birmingham was the Duke soccer captain. Brothers Gary Dickinson and Bruce Richards were also members of the swimming team.

Noteworthy achievements have been accomplished in scholarship by Brothers Rix Diefenbach, Ed Greene, and Gary Dickinson, who were recently inducted into the Order of Saint Patrick, engineering society, and Bob Frey, who was initiated by Phi Eta Sigma, scholastic honorary society. Brothers Ed Elsey, Jim Elsasser, John Harrelson, and Joe Lanning have reported their acceptance to medical schools—Elsey and Elsasser at Washington University in St. Louis, Harrelson and Lanning here at Duke.

Beta Epsilon started winter quarter by pledging five new men the first week. The new pledges are Henry Colvin, Don Kemp, Toxy Purvis, Archie Smith, and Ben Taylor.

During the latter part of fall quarter, the Delts achieved many honors which helped make 1959 one of the best years in the history of Beta Epsilon.

For the second year in a row, the Delts captured the interfraternity sing trophy under the able direction of Bill Kennedy.

In athletics we had a very successful football season with Brother Duke Appenfeldt making the all-star intramural team. Pledge Gary Keats is a member of the intercollegiate swimming team while Ben Lacy and Pledge Bill Chatham both pinned their opponents in the first intercollegiate wrestling match.

In addition to several combo parties, we closed the quarter by giving our traditional Christmas party for orphans of the Methodist Children's Home.

Brothers Nat Long and John McKeever were two of the six new ODK initiates. Bill Garland and Joe Rainey were initiated into Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, lower-division honor society.

David Marsh, Dedrick Dollar, Ike Hancock, Jim Prevatt, Bob Shoemaker, and Bob Godwin toured with the Glee Club during the Christmas season. Pledge Dollar was a soloist.

Joe Rainey was elected vice-president of the Emory Christian Association. Jimmy Cowell is the new publicity chairman for ECA and George Slade will be orientation chairman for the ECA next year.

Pledges Ernie Penley and Ben Taylor are serving on the BSU freshman council. Pledge Roy Brown has recently been elected a hall counselor of his freshman dormitory.

Miss Lou McMillan, Delt sweetheart, was named one of the nine finalists in the Miss Emory University contest. The winner will be announced in May.

Pledge Bob Shoemaker has been named Beta Epsilon's outstanding pledge. He is also a Stipe Scholar.

With a long list of accomplishments already behind us, Beta Epsilon looks forward to an even better year in 1960.

January 24 eleven men will be initiated into the brotherhood. The chapter owes much to John Ballard, pledge master, who graduated after fall quarter. An initiation banquet will be held at the time of initiation.

The high light of the quarter, which we are all looking forward to, is our formal week end which will be held February 12-13. With the formal and other activities coming up, 1960 promises to be another year full of honors for Beta Epsilon.

JIMMY COWELL

Florida

After a competitive election, Delta Zeta has an outstanding group of new officers. Our leaders for 1960 are: Mike Myers, president; Bob Gilmour, vice-president; Gavin O'Brien, treasurer;

These Emory Delts captured first-place trophy in IFC for Beta Epsilon Chapter.

Tony Fernandez, assistant treasurer; Bill Biglow, recording secretary; Gary Sorrell, corresponding secretary; Buck Hicks, guide; and Henry Minchew, sergeant at arms. We are looking forward to a great year under such capable supervision.

Delta Zeta has figured prominently this semester with a large number of brothers entering honorary fraternities. Dave Qualls has made both Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. Tom Carlos was tapped for Beta Alpha Psi, national accounting honorary. Two Delts, Buck Bradford and Emmett Anderson, were selected for the outstanding honor of membership in Florida Blue Key. We Delts are especially proud of our all-around engineers. Eight of them were tapped for Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary: Mike Troke, Jim Kidd, Bill Boggs, Ray Miller, Joe Miles, Charlie Carroll, and John Soloman. Brother Sol-oman is also the commander of the Air Force ROTC wing.

In extracurriculars the Florida Delts have their share as Brother Jim Rumrill was made chairman of homecoming '59. Brother Skip Crawford is serving as chairman of the "Dollars for Scholars" drive this year. The pre-law club has Brother Charles Bigalow as president and Brother Bill Biglow as vice-president.

In the field of music the Delts shine with their answer to the Kingston Trio, The Deltones, featuring Bob Gilmour, Don Larson, Hugo Jimenez, and Duck Smith. The Delts also boast of their own band, "The Continentals," with Don "Duck" Smith on lead guitar and Steve Foreman on bass. "The Continentals" have shown their ability by winning the state college talent competition, thereby making them a well-known and popular musical unit in the State of Florida.

Christmas week end was very enjoyable for the Delts this year. Saturday afternoon the Delts and the Delta Gamma Sorority served as hosts to the deaf and blind children of the institute in St. Augustine. The party was enjoyed by all and we hope to make it an annual affair. The Delts then returned home to a great steak dinner and a combined Christmas party and dance to make one more fine social week end to remember.

Delta Zeta is truly proud of its new full-time resident housemother, Mrs. H. N. Sayer. "Mom" Sayer is from Sanford, Florida, and is really making life around the Shelter more pleasant.

During Christmas vacation a luncheon was held in Jacksonville with both active brothers and alumni in attendance. The main topic was the rushing of outstanding men. With the help of our fine alumni, the Florida Delts hope to have another top pledge class in the coming semester.

Some of our present pledges are making names for themselves on the Florida campus. Jack Jones will be the starting quarterback on the 'Gator football team next year. Rick Emmet is one of Florida's top debaters. Steve McBride is one of the South's outstanding divers and a future All-American in the eyes of his coaches. Delta Zeta is proud of its entire pledge class.

The Delts at 1926 W. University Ave. wish all other chapters success in the completion of the school year, and we hope you all will come to Florida sometime soon.

GARY SORRELL

This past fall has been a happy and successful one for everyone here at Delta Phi. In October, the Delts won first place in the annual soap box derby event. Delts also took first place in horseshoes and table tennis and received first-place award for the most outstanding contribution to Gymkana. Delta Phi also had an extremely successful basketball season, finishing second among 15 fraternities on campus. We would all like to thank Brother Jim Crosby. We are now in the midst of the football season, placing first in our league.

Emory's eleven new initiates.

Jubilant Delts after winning annual soap box derby at Florida State.

Delta Phi now boasts 42 pledges, the highest number of pledges of any fraternity on campus.

Newly elected officers for the coming year are: Steve Helgemo, president; Sal Lanza, vice president; John Boesch, recording secretary; Louis Billups, corresponding secretary; Herb Hendrickson, guide; and Junior Holland, treasurer.

Socially, the Delts have been bucking hard to keep the social reputation they have obtained through the years. Jimmy Reed and his orchestra were at the Delta Shelter in December for their "Hawaiian Roll." A giant volcano was erected outside, flaming and spurting fire. At the entrance, palms and various colored flowers (300 mums, incidentally) cascaded from the roof over a sparkling blue waterfall. The pond was illuminated with a red spotlight from beneath, allowing everyone to gaze at the 25 goldfish. Pineapples and coconuts were the decor inside and each Delt and his date wore matching, brightly colored Hawaiian costumes. The event received a full-page spread in the University newspaper.

Playing football on the FSU freshman team are Bruce Darsey, voted "most valuable" player on freshman squad, and teammate Jerry Hourdas.

Delts are now in rehearsal for Campus Sing, which will take place in March. They won second place in the competition last year and received a standing ovation.

This past Christmas, the Delts gave a party for the underprivileged children of Tallahassee. This was a joint affair with Alpha Xi Delta Sorority. A good time was had by all in spite of the fact that Santa (Brother Charles Maulsby) lost his beard.

We are all extremely proud of Brother John Boesch, commander of the Pershing Rifles drill team. Under his supervision, the drill team has been invited to perform at many universities and military functions in the South.

Plans are now in effect for the "last blast before exam" party and the Delta Tau Delta "Gay Nineties" party.

We have a full spring schedule ahead of us. So far this fall, the chapter has put "Delta Tau Delta, first place" on every trophy presented up to this point. We have had a wonderful and successful season and we hope the spring semester will prove just as fruitful for Delta Phi.

SAL A. LANZA, JR.

George Washington

The fall semester was made particularly hectic at Gamma Eta with the completion of the new Shelter and the assigning of the room space for 14 men to the 60-man chapter of actives and pledges. But the confusion was more than compensated for by the finished product. A party December 18 bade farewell to the temporary Shelter which had served the chapter faithfully since the destructive fire of more than a year ago, and by Christmas vacation the "lucky" 14 began moving into the new house. The first party in the new, rebuilt Shelter was held on New Year's Eve, and it gave the modern foundations and acoustics their first acid test. Since then, open houses have been held for the alumni, parents, faculty, and students. The unanimous opinion has been that the Shelter is second to none.

In addition to this primary activity of transferring locations, the fall semester has seen other successful achievements. Our "Roaring Twenties" party, held at the home of "Theta" Bobbi Lohnes Smythe in October, was a fine party which sent jealous murmurings up and down fraternity row. We had our traditional "hayride" with the Kappas at the home of Gwen Gregor. We hosted four sororities in our special brand of lively exchanges—Kappa Kappa Gamma, Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, and Kappa Alpha Theta. We and the Thetas reciprocally pilfered each other's trophies, plaques, and car batteries before our exchange with them.

This semester also featured a parent-

son dinner sponsored by the Mother's Alliance of Gamma Eta. At that dinner the outstanding mother award was bestowed on Chuck Johnson's mother. Chuck, incidentally, did an outstanding job in the lead role of Joe Hardy in the University presentation of "Damn Yankees."

In intramurals, we lost the football championship by one point, an exact repetition of last year, but we won the intramural bowling crown, with Pledge Jerry Bowman the individual high scorer, to retain our traditionally high position in intramurals. Although the varsity football team had a bad year, our chapter had three standout starters in Gene Posati, Ed Hino, and Bill Smythe.

The semester also saw us win first place in every car decoration and house decoration contest before football and basketball games, and saw our flag taken by and later recaptured from Georgetown University. As always, studies were an integral part of our semester, and we plan to rank above the all-University scholastic average, as we did last semester.

JACK CLIFFORD

Georgia

"To Heck With Tech" and "Go Bulldogs" were the yells that started off the year here at Beta Delta. The brothers gathered around the Shelter in the early days of September to begin what is proving to be a very good year. "Paint that wall, nail that board" were the orders for the first week of the school year as we spruced up the old Shelter.

The spirit was high and it carried on through rush week to help us gather 20 new pledges. This was very good because the largest number of rushees pledged by any fraternity was only 33. These pledges are the finest group of young men that we've had in a long time at Beta Delta. Already some of these boys have distinguished themselves in important school positions. Fred Hubely and Bill Riddly have been elected to the Reed Hall council, a governing body for the largest freshman dormitory on campus. We are very proud of all our pledges.

Under the direction of its able athletic director and physical education majors the Delt intramural sports program is doing fine this season. The Delts' strong football team is really rolling along. The team has been led by Quarterback Sonny Mason, who has allowed only 12 points to be scored by any one team. Other members who have contributed a great deal to the team are, Bill Riddly, Phil Phillips, Ed McKinney, and Barry Dubberly, who are known as the "Delt Wreckers." Football is the big sport of the quarter, but by no means the only one. Other activities include the "sweetest" event of the quarter—volleyball, horseshoes, swimming, and the cake race.

Georgia's homecoming display.

Victory bonfire at Beta Delta.

Each season homecoming sweeps through the campus like a whirlwind. This year bad weather discouraged some of the fraternities, but the Delts didn't give up. The characters were a very large Indian and a huge bulldog. Bill Riddly drew up the idea and Carl Duvall led the crew in the construction of this winning lawn decoration. Several attempts were made to destroy the bulldog in the early stages of operation, but none were successful. Day or night many of the brothers and pledges could be seen working. When the winning fraternity's name was announced at the homecoming football game, a tremendous cheer was heard as the Delts let everyone see who had won. Someone hearing the cheer might have thought that it was the Tech football game and the score was Georgia 50 and Tech 0.

After the festivities of homecoming were all over, we had a bonfire party for the victorious bulldog and the degraded Indian. All the pledges and brothers joined in tearing down the bulldog and burning the Indian at the stake. Cars jammed the street for blocks as passersby stopped to view the whooping, yelling, and screaming Delts celebrating the victory.

We here at Beta Delta are very proud of our new chapter adviser, Mr. Arthur C. Howell. Mr. Howell is employed by the Westinghouse Corp., here in Athens. He is really a swell guy and a true Delt all the way. We are looking forward to many years of brotherhood with Mr. "Archie" Howell.

The outstanding event in the lives of all Gamma Psi Delts during the past several months was the going-away banquet for our housemother, Mother Wilson.

After having served the chapter and some 400 brothers for more than 12 years, she decided to retire at the end of the fall quarter.

In an effort to honor her and pay her tribute the way we best could, a banquet was held for her November 21. Alumni, parents, pledges, actives, friends, and part of Mother Wilson's family were present.

High light of the affair was a speech by Alumnus Hazard Reeves and the presentation of a gift to Mother Wilson. It consisted of a charm bracelet with 13 charms, one for each year of her service and devotion to the chapter.

On the back of each charm was engraved part of the words of "Delta Queen" so that the song in its entirety could be read.

Although the absence of Mother Wilson created a great void in the chapter, our new housemother, Mrs. Mildred Davis, of Macon, has taken over the seemingly impossible job.

Mother Davis, the mother-in-law of Alumnus Joe Pinnell, in the few weeks that she has been with the chapter has done an excellent job.

Perhaps the one greatest achievement of the chapter is the fact that Gamma Psi's pledge class placed first on campus in scholarship, being far above the pledge average with 70 per cent becoming scholastically eligible for initiation.

The actives, not to be outdone by the pledges, also placed high on campus. The total combined efforts of the entire chapter enabled the Delts to cop the second spot among all fraternities on campus.

In fall athletics the Delt volleyball team captured the top spot in their league. In cross-country, the Delts raced to a second place.

While the football team did not capture any of the top slots, the squad provided tough competition for all of its foes.

On the Tech swimming team, three Delts compete for honors. Charles LeMoine, Steve Halleck, and Bob Popp form a very important segment of this intercollegiate team.

During the homecoming festivities, Delta Tau Delta scored again. Under the direction of Brother Dave Crapps, the Delt's entry in the annual Ramblin' Wreck parade took third-place honors.

The homecoming display, fathered by Tony Smith, featured a giant yellow jacket at the gates of heaven (Dodd's country) with many blue devils (of Duke) pulling at the gates in an effort to enter.

Although it did not place in the competition, the display created a great deal of favor with the crowd and was accorded honorable mention.

With the IFC points gathered in these accomplishments, the Delts are among the leaders and are far ahead of the pack in the race for the very coveted IFC trophy, which is awarded annually to the fraternity with the most IFC points.

Since the last issue of THE RAINBOW, several honoraries have added the names of Delts to their rolls.

Brother Paul Hodgdon, long an outstanding figure on the campus, was tapped into ANAK society. ANAK, a local leadership organization, is the highest honorary a Tech student may be invited to join.

Omicron Delta Kappa, nationally recognized leadership honorary, chose Delt Bill Abercrombie to become a member of its select group.

Leo Parrish had the distinction of being invited to join three different honor societies: Tau Beta Pi, Eta Kappa Nu, and Scabbard and Blade.

Also chosen for membership into Scabbard and Blade were Brothers John Walker and Dick Simmons. Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honorary, also picked George Calcott for membership.

Following in the footsteps of many past Delts, Pledge Dekle Roundtree campaigned for student council and received enough votes to tie him for the post of chairman of class affairs. On the flip of a coin, Dekle was accorded the runner-up position.

Many other pledges are taking active parts in several campus organizations, including the newspaper and the annual.

Scabbard and Blade also chose two other Delts, bringing the total number of Delts chosen for membership to five. These are Brothers George Calcott and Robert Lawler.

Kappa Chapter presented its housemother, Mrs. Chenoweth, with a sweetheart pin in appreciation of her efforts to serve the brothers. Even this pin cannot fully reflect the gratitude we feel for the invaluable help and guidance she has given us in the short time she has been with us. Kappa Chapter was also host to a group of 26 underprivileged children at a Christmas party held in the Shelter. The party was complete with refreshments and presents for everyone. The brothers were fully rewarded by the happy smiles of appreciation on the faces of these youngsters who might have otherwise had a very bleak Christmas.

The fraternity informal had a roaring '20's atmosphere. The house was decorated like a speakeasy typical of this era. In keeping with this theme everyone dressed accordingly, which added the spirit that made the party a success. The winter formal was held at the Hillsdale Country Club. Although it was in direct contrast with the theme of our informal we had a responsive and enthusiastic turnout.

Many Delts have recently assumed responsibilities on the campus. Pete Beckwith is the new captain of the wrestling team, which incidentally is doing a good job in the intercollegiate competition. Sandy MacMechan is a new Delt representative on the publications board. In class offices we have Bob McLaren, vice-president of the sophomore class, and Harry Schwartz, vice-president of the senior class. These Delts were selected for their exceptional potential of leadership and ability to generate a sound organizational response from their fellow students. We are proud to say most of the region's newspapers. In fact, the float was printed on the local sheet's front page and appeared in the paper on the streets before the parade ended.

Soon after homecoming week end, Idaho's IFC met to elect the sixth Delt IFC president in the last seven years, Dick Rene.

Various honoraries have been tapping Delts regularly. Sigma Tau, engineering honorary, tapped Bob Schumaker; Sigma Delta Chi chose Dave Iverson; Phi Eta Sigma picked Rob Tyson; and Scabbard and Blade added Brody Conklin, Dick Rene, and Theron Ward, giving the Delts a total of six members. Brody Conklin was chosen as chairman of the Navy Ball and Bob Schumaker as vice-chairman of the Army honors committee.

Socially, the chapter has been busy with four annual functions. After the pledge dance, the pledges returned the honors with a pledge party. The Christmas Fireside was warmly appreciated as a welcome addition to the chapter's Christmas spirit. Another Christmas event was the stag party. Over vacation the Boise alumni chapter gave its annual Christmas party. It was held in the City Club of the Owyhee Hotel with Delts from several chapters and alumni contributing to the largest turnout ever and by far the largest success. January 8, the first week end after vacation, saw the Protective Order of Oddballs (POO) swing again into action for the annual Oddball dance. The dance was handled very successfully by Terry Holcomb.

Chapter elections wrought a new regime for Delta Mu. The slate was headed by John Fitzgerald, president, who will be ably assisted by Brody Conklin, vice president; Norman Gissel, treasurer; Terry Holcomb, assistant treasurer; Kent Angerbauer, recording secretary; Duane Allred, corresponding secretary; Theron Ward, sergeant at arms; and Vaughn Estrick, guide.

DICK RENÉ, IFC president at Idaho.

The latest intramural totals see Delta Tau Delta with a sixth place in football, first in cross-country, fourth in volleyball, fifth in swimming, and second in tennis. Basketball is now under way and with the same team returning which took second place last year and an unblemished record this year, the prospects look good in that sport. The chapter now stands in second place over-all on campus and that total point trophy is looking awfully good. Delt starters in basketball include Bob Walton for the varsity and Dan Barrett for the frosh five. The Idaho cross-country team took great honors this year, becoming the best collegiate cross-country team in the nation. Delta Mu is proud to have its English exchange student, Ron Adams, as one of the first four on such a fine team. Rob Tyson, Cliff Lawrence, and Mike Watson form the Delt contingent on the swimming team.

The Idaho Deltas now enter finals with hopes of house improvement and winning the pledge scholarship trophy. If mid-terms are any guide we've got a real good start.

Gamma Beta Chapter has reached a major milestone in its 58-year history with the beginning of construction on the new Shelter. Construction has been moving along rapidly on the $215,000 Shelter, which will be occupied next fall.

Gamma Beta's executive administration has just changed as the new officers have commenced their terms. The new administration consists of the following: president, John Olin; vice-president, Ray Van Horn; treasurer, Bill Van Santen; recording secretary, Mike Wayte; corresponding secretary, Lou Luchessi; guide, Russ Meloche; and sergeant at arms, Tom Candy. Other offices include: assistant treasurer, Dave McGuire; IFC representative, Jim Solon; and house manager, John Lane.

Several of the brothers have gained some prominent positions on campus.

Delta Mu's officers. Standing: HOLCOMB, ALLRED, WARD, ANGERBAUER, and ESTRICK. Seated: GISSEL, FITZGERALD, and CONKLIN.

Construction begins on Gamma Beta's new Shelter.

Ray Van Horn has been elected secretary of IFC while Russ Meloche won the position for engineering representative on ITSA, the student governing board. Pledge Jack Hagman was voted president of PIFC.

The social calendar wasn't quite so active toward the close of the semester due to finals. Highlighting the "Integral Ball" was the crowning of the I-Ball Queen, Sue Nelson. The pledge formal, "Casino," with the true settings proved very entertaining. Before the holidays a Christmas caroling party in the Shelter with Deltas and their dates got us into the spirit.

The Deltas are maintaining a fine representation in Tech athletics. On the wrestling team are Dave McGuire and Pledge John King. Adding points for the Tech tankmen are Bob Yoerg, Bill Van Santen, and Pledges Bill Miller and Lyle Clugg. For the fourth consecutive year we have copped the IFC swimming trophy. At the present we are looking forward to a successful season in IFC basketball.

Each fall, Indiana University sponsors a fall carnival and invites campus organizations to enter a booth. All of the proceeds from the carnival are given to charity.

rority as our coed sponsor. The theme of our booth was Delta Motors, Inc. The idea of the booth was to raffle off a Model "A" Ford. A car was completely reconditioned beforehand and sported a shiny purple paint job with a purple, white, and gold interior.

The booth was a great success and Delta Motors, Inc., finished with high ticket sales for the evening.

Beta Alpha Deltas make no claim to setting any record of parking sports cars. But our pledges, at the lament of Brother Lloyd Cast, tried to solve Beta Alpha's "off the street" parking problem by moving his small car into the house. Our new housemother, Mrs. Neel, got into the spirit of the thing by taking her place behind the driver's wheel.

Bob Worrell, one of Beta Alpha's seniors and its scholarship chairman, was recently honored by election to the Indiana chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. A government major, Bob is currently engaged in honors research in the French and Russian revolutions and plans eventually to go into international law.

Beta Alpha again has many men who have attained prominent positions and honors on campus.

Housemother NEEL (in car) and pledges in Beta Alpha living room.

Tom Frank, senior, is a member of Indiana's varsity debate team. Tom is also a member of the famed "Singing Hoosiers" choral group, which plans to tour Europe later this year. Bob Worrell, our Phi Beta Kappa, is also a member of Pi Sigma Alpha, national government scholastic honorary. George Pipepho, immediate past president of Beta Alpha, is serving this year as president of the Indiana Marketing Club. Matt Milligan, another senior, is presently secretary of I.U.'s Sphinx Club, a senior activities honorary for organized men. Al Paxton and Jack Boges, juniors, are members of I.U.'s bowling team. Al placed fifth last year in the Big Ten meet and is looking forward to new honors this year. Beta Alpha's pledges are wasting no time in entering into campus activities. Seven of our pledges: Frank Pollard, Jim Riddet, Bob Dugan, Gary Pershing, Tom Chase, Jim Morrison, and Bob Turner have been selected senatorial assistants, a position necessary for those with future campus political ambitions.

There is much activity and excitement here at Omicron. We have just completed our "Hell's Holiday" party and are making the final arrangements for our winter formal, which will be held February 12. We also have to squeeze in our semester finals.

Our traditional "Hell's Holiday" party was very successful. The pledges, led by Spencer Page and Ralph Matthews, "volunteered" to decorate the house. The main attraction of the evening was the sentencing of the brothers to "hell" for "sins" they had committed.

Keith Zastrow, our social chairman, has been busy making last-minute preparations for our winter formal, which is being held a little later than usual. Our formal this year has a St. Valentine's Day theme. The brothers and their dates will be dancing to the well-known combo of Leo Cortegmiglia. Again our pledge class "volunteered" to supply the special entertainment for the night.

As far as activity on the campus is concerned, Jim Farrell is heading the committee for Greek Week, which is coming up in February. Jim Littlefield, Bryan Clemons, and Lee Harker were nominated as the outstanding freshman,

With another successful year well under way, Omicron Chapter is upholding its reputation as one of the top fraternities on campus.

As the intramural football season drew to a close, the Gamma Pi Deltas found themselves the proud recipients of the Class B all-college trophy. The season ended with a victory over the Men's Residence Association's Class B entry, Lowden House.

Without relaxing between seasons, the Deltas began their long climb to the top of the basketball pile.

Tom Kline was re-elected as president of Pep Council by an overwhelming majority and Bruce Chester was elected to the secretarial duties of the A.S.M.E. On the domestic scene, Gary Godbersen and Larry Deppe were elected as chapter treasurer and assistant treasurer, respectively.

As 27 current pledges waited in contemplation of initiation, two hold-over pledges, Tom Schuppe and Paul Di Bono, became new members of Gamma Pi Chapter.

When spring quarter arrives, the Gamma Pi Deltas and the brothers of Omicron Chapter will meet in Marshalltown, Iowa, for a formal dinner-dance. Although plans are still strictly tentative, it could become an annual event with even the slightest degree of success.

Gamma Tau Deltas returned after an enjoyable Christmas, anxious to extend their outstanding list of honors and activities. Brothers Ted Hall and Wes Witt are new members of Scarab, professional architecture fraternity, and Brother Dick Harper is a chapter associate of Sigma Pi Sigma, national honorary physics society. Brother Don Culp is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and has recently been appointed head sports director of campus radio station KUOK. Brother Chuck Mofet was honored by Tau Beta Pi, engineering fraternity as last year's outstanding freshman in engineering, and our fine pledge class, not to be outdone, includes Steve Wood, who is secretary of interfraternity pledge council.

Another new member of Gamma Tau's pledge class is Henry Korn, who heaves the shot-put for KU's track team. Other thin-clads are Pledges Brent Benkleman and Red Harrison, while Jerry Foos and Kelly Rankin figure prominently in Jay-hawk hopes to repeat as Big Eight indoor track champs. Brother Bill Steele flexes his muscles for the varsity gymnastic squad, while Brother Hubert Neiss, who hails from Vienna, Austria, will be a skiing instructor during semester break. Gamma Tau fielded five basketball teams, and with two of them undefeated and a third having only one defeat, hopes are high for a very successful season.

Topping the winter social season was the Orchid Formal, with our orchid-laden tree the center of attraction. Another social high light was the annual pizza party, held this year with the Alpha Chi Omegas. On January 14, the Shelter was filled with legacies, the fairer sex, of course. The occasion was the Delt Legacy Banquet, held annually in honor of our coed legacies attending KU. Our busy social calendar hasn't been for naught, as the busy schedule will attest.

As the semester comes to a close, and that inevitable final week draws near, the Gamma Tau Deltas look back with pride at their many accomplishments and the future looks even brighter with the promise of better things to come.

As winter closes in, the Deltas at Kansas State are well settled in their new $27,000 addition. The 21-man addition increases the capacity of the Shelter to 79. Two larger dormitories are contained in the new addition with the previous dormitories on second and third floors being converted to study rooms.

"Ship-wreck" was the theme of the annual paddle party held December 12 in the Delt Shelter. Following the senior skit, each of the 27 seniors was presented with a paddle from the pledge class. Decorations within the Shelter included a swinging bamboo bridge, waterfall, several huts, and a sandy beach.

Following a Christmas dinner by candlelight, the K-State Deltas enjoyed a gift exchange. Gifts were given to Mother Daughters; Ward Keller, chapter adviser; Howard Hubert, yard super-viser; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hobson, cooks. Later the Gamma Chis serenaded the sororities and girls' dormitories with Christmas carols.

Elections were held the first meeting of the new year. Gamma Chi elected Brothers Mick Gibson, president; Dave Rehfield, vice-president; Jon Londeen, corresponding secretary; Alvin Zwick, recording secretary; Rex Leforgee, treasurer; Herb Whitney, assistant treasurer; Devon Miller, guide; Will White, sergeant at arms; and Jim Guthrie, historian. Under the leadership of their new officers the K-State Deltas are looking forward to another profitable semester.

rush week with Ben McGinnis and Ron Rice, Delta Omega alumni, as speakers. Ben McGinnis is from the Dean of Men's Office at Kent and Ron Rice is a Cleveland lawyer. We are planning a house party and a dance at Twin Lakes Country Club to bring rush week to a climax.

This is Kent's semicentennial year. In celebration, 13 outstanding graduates of Kent were honored at an arts and sciences convocation. Seven were Deltas.

This quarter, three brothers are on the Daily Kent Stater staff. George Newkome is advertising manager with Joe Focer as assistant. Mike Roeder holds the position of sales manager.

Bob Farrell is publicity manager and Bob Doane his assistant for the all-university production of "Annie Get Your Gun."

In University Theatre, Dick Kahler plays one of the leading roles.

This year President Tom Cooke represented Kent at the mid-American IFC convention at Bowling Green University.

Tom Cooke and Gus Jordan were activated into Blue Key last quarter.

Three brothers did very well in grades last quarter. Dennis Cooke, Jim Snyder, and Bob Wick received four points.

This is Delta Omega's tenth anniversary. The celebration will be on Founder's Day at Twin Lakes Country Club.

The doors of Delta Omega are always open to visiting brothers who are in the area.

EDWARD HINDLE

Kentucky

The first semester of school is rapidly drawing to a close here at Kentucky and frantic studying can usually be seen at the Shelter. After exam week there will probably be the mass migration to Florida to recuperate and prepare for the second semester. The first semester was topped off with a basketball championship by the Deltas in all-fraternity competition. Led by Lary Heath, Ken Beard, Ken Baker, Reeves Jackson, Fred Hynson, Brit Kirwan, and Bob Linkner, the Deltas were never seriously challenged and won all nine games handily. Coach Dick Lowe had charge of the barnstorming Deltas. Size, good floor play, and fine rebounding made the Deltas unbeatable. The first team averaged 6' 4" in height and a new fraternity record was set in one game when the boys from Delta Epsilon won by the score of 109 to 16. There was not much question about the outcome of that one.

Kentucky's HERKY RUPP

The Deltas are well on their way to winning the intramural trophy again. Spring is usually the big time of the year for sports here at the Shelter and this year we will be stronger than ever.

One of the outstanding personages at our chapter that deserves a great amount of mention, but seldom is recognized for her help, is our housemother, Mrs. Frank Wenzel. Mrs. Wenzel came to the Shelter two years ago, after the resignation of Mrs. Ethel Fish, who had been with us for twelve years. Mrs. Wenzel agreed, at that time, to help us out for the rest of the year until we could find a replacement for the vacancy. At the end of that period it was a unanimous decision that we should keep her for our permanent housemother. After being with us for that one semester she said that she would be proud to continue, in her words, "I would hate to leave this house here at Delta Epsilon because I am so very fond of each and every one of the boys here. I admire their spirit and willingness to get things done. They have the pride of wanting to be the best in everything and strive always toward that end. They are such nice boys and I love them as if they were my own."

Though she doesn't receive many thanks of appreciation for all she does for us, we hope that she realizes how much we respect and love her. For those of us who will depart from here we know that there will always be a special place in our hearts for the kindly little lady with the big smile and a bigger heart.

We will always have many beauty queens, but she is our one, true "Sweet-heart of Delta Epsilon."

The basketball fortunes of the University of Kentucky are getting a boost from two of the Delta Epsilon brothers. Kentucky has won an unprecedented four N.C.A.A. championships, 19 Southeastern Conference championships, and has a record of 617 wins compared to only 110 losses in the past 30 years. The man who is responsible for all of this is Adolph F. Rupp, a name known throughout the basketball world.

Delta Epsilon is fortunate and proud to have Adolph F. Rupp, Jr., as a member of our local chapter. Rupp, better known as "Herky," is a sophomore on the current Wildcat team. He is a reserve on the team and the only member of the team who is not on a scholarship, which points out the desire he has to play basketball for Kentucky. Although he is the son of the coach, whether in a game or at practice, he is just another guy and is treated as such.

Brother Jim McDonald is the other member of the present team. A sophomore, Jim is one of the bright and promising players to come up from last year's freshman team. Jim has been impressive in his first few games and is expected to improve as the season progresses. He has started the season as a member of the first team and in his first game as a varsity player, McDonald chipped in 14 points and did a fine job on defense and on the boards. Coach Rupp says of McDonald, "Jim is an outstanding prospect here at Kentucky and we are just tickled to death to have him. I am sure that he will be playing a lot of basketball here for us. He is one of our top sophomores and he plays the kind of ball that we like around here."

Mrs. FRANK WENZEL, Kentucky's housemother.

We are, indeed, proud to have Jim McDonald, and Herky Rupp in our Shelter.

Another invaluable asset connected with the chapter that does not receive credit where it is due, is our Mother's Club. Consisting of the mothers of members and pledges, they have contributed much to make living more pleasant for all. In the past year they have held benefit parties, raffles, bazaars, and other functions in order to raise money for various things that are needed at the house. A very nice set of end tables and lamps for our living room were the fruit of their time and labors last year and have improved the appearance of our house greatly. We appreciate their efforts and services more than can be expressed.

Delta Epsilon is very fortunate to have an alumni chapter that is both large and helpful. There are approximately 80 alumni in the immediate area that have given us aid and advice through the years. This year, they have had a new furnace installed at the Shelter and new beds are arriving in the near future.

New officers were elected recently for the alumni chapter. They are: Elliot Peel, '48, president; Angel Levas, '54, secretary; and Jim McGruder, '55, treasurer. They have meetings once a month to discuss problems that may confront the undergraduates and find ways to better Delta Epsilon Chapter. It is desired that all alumni send their present address to Elliot Peel, 242 Market Street, Lexington, Kentucky. An accurate mailing list is in the process of being made and with the correct addresses of present alumni the task will be in a more complete form. There are a few whose addresses are not known. The alumni chapter is preparing for a large amount of correspondence to graduates concerning the functions here at Kentucky. So, alumni, please write, wherever you are!

DICK WALLACE

Kenyon

The first semester again saw Chapter Chi at the forefront of Kenyon activities. In their social, athletic, and scholastic endeavors, Chi Deltas ranked the very best on the Hill.

Socially, the year began with a series of rush parties, netting us a group of outstanding pledges. Currently, the pledges are under the benevolent and watchful care of the Chi Delt guidance program, led by Pledgemasters Hoffman and Carr. With a little work, the pledges may someday become the "Good Deltas" as seen in the current actives. They have the potential, as they are excellent, both scholastically and athletically.

In between rush parties, we had a homecoming party. Next came the fall dance, beginning the week end after homecoming, and running through the Christmas party.

Now, Chi looks forward to the coming months as being even more enjoyable than those recently past. After the junior and sophomore class dances comes the ROTC war ball. Of course, plans are now being made, and will continue to be made, in preparation for spring dance week end next May.

Despite our occasional week end training-breaking sessions, we have managed to keep in shape for other activities, particularly athletics. Last fall, "Ma" Brown's brood, Brothers Binder, Clark, Ramsay, Riddle, and Van Epps played well enough together to gain the intramural football championship. On the Kenyon varsity were Lettermen Thomas, Rosenstiel, Owen, Mieure, Colwell, and Brown. All were instrumental in Kenyon's football success. Brother Glaubitz was a one-man soccer team whose admiration for referees was legendary.

Both "A" and "B" league basketball teams are well in front of their intramural opponents. Meanwhile, Bob Ramsay captains the Kenyon Lords, assisted by Hank Kasson, Doug Hill, and Dave Larkin, along with a freshman starter, Tom Collins. In the natatorium, Brothers Carr and Mayher are cocaptains of the Kenyon varsity team. Swimming with them are Brothers Hoffman, Oliver, Binder, Evans, Riemenschneider, Kuppenhiemer, and Post. Brother Schori is again captain of the wrestling team and should round out his three-year undefeated string.

Scholastically, the word from Scholarship Chairman Bob Ramsay is, "study."

Thus, Chi Delts again surge to the forefront at Kenyon. We look forward to the next semester with renewed hope and vigor, eager to continue the tradition established by those who preceded us in our ivy-clad cloister. Under our new president, Don Price, new vice-president, Joe Pek, and secretary, Bruce Rogers, Treasurer Hank Kasson should be able to keep the fraternity floating until next spring.

BRUCE ROGERS

Lafayette

With both the year and the first semester over, the brothers of Nu Chapter are looking at the record, so to speak, while at the same time anticipating the high lights of the coming semester. The past one has brought to us a fine pledge class, but, unfortunately, the last for two years due to a shift in college policy. The year also saw the completion of the

Lafayette first baseman, PHIL BOLLMAN.

Shelter additions and the inception of a fund-raising drive, which is still continuing.

The football team turned in a winning season and the basketball team, under the direction of Senior Dick Beck, is thus far undefeated. The prospects of the team look good with Soph Jay Parker turning out consistently fine games. The bowling team leads the league with only the final third of the season remaining. This is due, in part, to Junior Dick Perry, who has the highest average in the league. Wrestling Coach Bob Mayer is lining up a full slate of candidates, said to include three freshmen, for the coming mat season.

The Rainbow dance plans have been formulated and this annual social high light is to be held at Harkers Hollow Country Club during February. Following that we are having combined party and basketball game with our Lehigh brethren.

The new rooms of the house are quickly becoming functional with the purchase of some furniture, and we hope that with the continued support of the alumni we will be able to make them 100 per cent useful. We would like to extend our hearty thanks to those who have thus far contributed. The improvement in the house is enormous.

H. PETER CLAUSSEN

Lawrence

President Peter Switzer was one of four Lawrence men elected to Lawrence's highest honorary fraternity, Mace. Pete's election culminates an outstanding college career, exemplified by the leadership ability he has shown as president of Delta Nu Chapter. Lawrence's Delts hate to see Pete retire from the presidency, but we are confident that our new president, Motz Drew, will carry on in Peter's tradition. Other new officers are: vice-president, Dan Brink; treasurer, Ron Alwin; recording secretary, Bill Stout; corresponding secretary, Gary Larson; guide, Tom Oakland; and historian, Dick Young.

The Delts are looking forward to an outstanding semester, socially. If our "Playboy" party is as successful as it has been in past years, it will be one of the social high lights at Lawrence this year.

Delta Nu is also having another great winter athletic season. Peter Switzer is currently captain of the Lawrence swimming team. Presently he is high-point man for the school and stands a good chance of scoring high in the conference meet. Pledges John Grenzebach and Mike Franzen are showing much promise on the frosh swimming team.

In wrestling, Chico Kauffman has a very good chance to become Midwest Conference champion in the 137-pound weight class. Chico pinned all his opponents in freshman competition last year and has won all but one match this year. Pledge Hap Sumner is the most promising wrestler on the freshman squad. He, too, is undefeated in freshman competition.

In basketball, Don Bergman is an important member of the varsity team. Only a sophomore, Don is regarded as a valuable asset to the squad.

In fraternity sports, the Delts are in a three-way battle for first place. After winning the football title, the Delts have high hopes of taking the interfraternity sports championship.

RICHARD YOUNG

Lehigh

December saw the election of officers for the coming year. Congratulations are in order for the following: president, Walter Krzesiewski; vice-president, James Williams; treasurer, Dennis Maus; recording secretary, Richard Eelman; corresponding secretary, Alan Peoples; assistant treasurer, William Nichols; sergeant at arms, William Burrows; guide, Tipton Galyon.

In December Beta Lambda Chapter initiated seven new members.

December 12 saw our annual Christmas party for orphans. Ten orphans from the Topton Home were our guests. The chapter provided dinner, movies, a ventriloquist, Santa Claus (played by Carl Pettillo), and gifts.

Second semester promises to be a busy time for everyone. Rushing begins as soon as we return from semester vacation. Several members will be participating in varsity sports. Dean Taylor and Carl Tindall are now swimming for the varsity team and doing a fine job. Several are making a valiant effort to whip themselves into shape; Walt Krzesiewski and Terry Brenner for baseball and Dick Eelman, Jack Sweitzer, and Dick Vogt for lacrosse.

We of Beta Lambda have been able to do quite well in intramural sports this year. We now lead our league in volleyball and several members have advanced quite well in the ping pong and badminton tournaments. Basketball and wrestling begin soon and we should field strong teams in each.

We of Beta Lambda feel that this will be one of our best years yet and we hope that all Delt chapters can have the good fortune which we have experienced.

Maryland

Delta Sigma Chapter at Maryland has just completed one of its most successful semesters. Under the leadership of President Leo Balsamo and Rush Chairmen Richard Lathan and Charles Mundt, six informal rushees pledged Delta Tau Delta. These men are Jack Smyth, Fred Barlow, Monty Baker, Jack Houghton, Bob Jeffers, and George Effinger. They will take the place of six of our older pledges who were recently initiated into Delta Sigma Chapter.

In intramural competition, the Maryland Deltas did very well. With an untested team composed mostly of pledges, we defeated Sigma Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Pi, and tied Zeta Beta Tau. We lost several close games to Kappa Alpha, Alpha Gamma Rho, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. One of our pledges, Dale Carbonier, was chosen to the intramural all-star team, the only freshman in the school to accomplish such a feat. Dale is also expected to be one of the stars of the Maryland baseball team. He recently rejected a $40,000 bonus from the Baltimore Orioles to come to Maryland.

Among the Maryland Deltas honored for their campus activities are President Leo Balsamo, who was recently named to Kalegethos, the fraternity men's honorary society; Pledge Trainer Bradley Becker, recently elected vice-president of the sophomore class; and past President Edward St. John, who was appointed squadron commander in the AFROTC, with the rank of captain.

Scholastically, the Maryland Deltas distinguished themselves last semester. We placed ten men on the Dean's List, all having over a 3.0 average. Leading the Fraternity were Charles Kugel, with a 3.72; Leroy Smith, with 3.45; and Richard Allen, with a 3.40 average. Our chapter's over-all average for the year came to 2.32.

Following the brief semester break, the Maryland Deltas will come back strong for spring rush. Under the direction of our new rush chairman, Tom Brown, and assisted by Jim Putnam, we hope to pledge one of the largest and best groups on campus. If our formal rush program is as successful as our informal program, we should have no problems.

Since the last issue of THE RAINBOW things have started hopping around old Beta Nu. In intramural athletics, the Deltas have had outstanding teams in football and basketball. The chapter placed third in football after losing its only game to the eventual champions. In basketball, a one-point loss severed the championship hopes of a team plagued by loss of players to the varsity and freshman teams.

Our eight-man pledge class has begun its project, that of installing an acoustical tile ceiling in our basement recreation room. They hope to have it completed before pre-initiation festivities begin.

Scholastically, we have been honored this year by the election and initiation of four brothers to scholastic honoraries: Bob Larson, Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu; Joe Verderber, Tau Beta Pi; Gary Kincaid, Chi Epsilon; and Hank Wagner, Pi Tau Sigma. Brother Verderber is also a member of Pi Tau Sigma, which group boasts Brother Dave Powell as immediate past-president. Milt Reed is also a member of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society. Brother Wagner was recently elected to Beaver Key, the junior class honorary and service society.

Socially, this year has been quite entertaining. Since the last RAINBOW, a successful Halloween costume party, featuring ghouls and caskets, was sponsored by the pledge class and we had a Christmas party, where Santa Claus collected a kiss from all the girls as he gave them presents from their dates. The first week end in January found us traveling cross-town to visit our brothers at Beta Mu. A really fine band rounded out the evening's entertainment. By the time this issue is out we will have had our annual pajama party and buffet dinner before finals period. A Valentine's Day party before formal initiation should also have become a reality by then.

Right now we are looking for our new rushing chairman, Kim Reyburn, to give our mid year rushing a boost. Our finances are now going to be well managed by our new treasurer, Woolly Stefany (who just bought a car while assistant treasurer) and new assistant treasurer, Karl Sladek (who ought to learn the tricks of the trade quickly). Brother Steve White, a sophomore transfer from Western Reserve, has been elected guide.

We are all now looking forward to finals, mid term vacation, and second term, which should be a great one for Beta Nu Deltas.

Winter term found Iota Chapter starting with a new slate of officers after January elections. Retiring President Bruce Gilbert handed the gavel over to Sophomore Larry Osterink after one of the finest jobs at Iota's head this chapter has ever seen. dent of his pledge class, scholastic chairman of the chapter, and in almost two years has maintained a straight-A average. John Forsyth, sophomore, takes over as vice-president and John also has gained recognition as an outstanding sophomore, having reigned as president of the frosh honorary, Green Helmet. He earned a 3.9 scholastic average and was rules chairman and pledgemaster for our chapter. The remainder of the newly elected officers are: treasurer, Doug Wagner; assistant treasurer, Jim Dobrei; recording secretary, Jack Durliat; corresponding secretary, Jerry Myers; sergeant at arms, Al Tanck; and guide, Bob Howse. With these brothers in command, Iota is confident of maintaining its present outstanding position on the Michigan State campus.

accomplishments more than supports this. Our intramural football squad captured the fraternity title with ease and went on to win the all-university championship, after an overtime play-off in the semifinals. In the semifinal tilt Brother Rody Sherrill caught a pass from our sharp junior quarterback, Jim Draves, and raced 20 yards to score the crucial touchdown and then caught a pass on the PAT to tie the score and send it into overtime. Our crew had no trouble in the final game, however, winning handily 26-0. This year's squad had great balance and poise and the highest of praise goes to Seniors Archer, Sherrill, VerPlanck, and Young; Juniors Caltrider, Draves, and Durliat; and Sophomores Dobrei, Pfaff, and Osterink.

Iota's bowling team, not to be outdone, racked up a great string of victories on the alleys and won the all-fraternity bowling championship. Incidentally, this is the second year in a row Iota's Deltas have taken the crown. Enthusiastic support by all the brothers and clutch performances by the five-man team contributed greatly to the cause. Bowling is now a major sport at M.S.U. and we're proud of Seniors Dave Dimmers, Bill Porter, Bill Rutchow, and Bob Dall; and Junior Al Tanck.

On the social calendar, the annual Christmas tree-lighting ceremony, accompanied by the singing of carols (which is sponsored by the Deltas every year) again proved very successful. Two youngsters from the Michigan School for the Blind flipped the switch to light the huge tree, which stands at the main entrance to the Michigan State campus. Iota was graciously joined by Pi Beta Phi Sorority this year in the traditional caroling that follows the lighting. Iota's term party is on the agenda for February, under the direction of John Jordan. Spring term is still a long way off but our chapter will be shooting for a first place in the annual water carnival, with a trophy from this fall's homecoming display contest already in the case.

The winter season has been one of many social activities for the brothers of Beta Eta. Exchanges with many sororities have been arranged by the hard-working social committee, under the leadership of Jim Westman. Puck Parties, held after the hockey games, also have been a great favorite with the brothers. Another fabulous winter party was held February 13 at the White Pine Inn at Bayport. This annual event has always been the high light of the winter season with Deltas and their dates enjoying a day of skiing, skating, dining, and dancing.

Fast becoming a favorite with sororities is the Delt Invitational basketball tournament for sororities. The girls really put on a good show and the all-sorority team that was picked at the conclusion of the tournament had a tremendous amount of talent.

The chapter basketball team has tremendous potential this year and should do quite well. In varsity basketball, Brother Ron Johnson's 20 points per game average and great floor play have shown why he was elected captain of the Golden Gophers. In bowling, the chapter team is looking toward the championship. Brother Dave Holmberg finished last quarter's roll-offs with high single game, high average, and high series. Quite a record.

As a social service project the Delts went together with the Gamma Phis to give a party for underprivileged children. Games, entertainment, and dinner were provided for the 17 children who were there; but it was a toss-up as to who had more fun, the children or their hosts.

In campus activities, the Delts are well represented, as usual, with three of the important Greek Week positions held by three of the brothers. For the last three years in a row the Delts have taken first place among fraternities in Greek Week and we are out to win again.

Scholastically, our position is not known yet as the results of last quarter are not out but it looks as if we did fairly well. Brother Bill Chorske, now a graduate student in engineering, is under consideration for a Rhodes Scholarship.

Congratulations to Brother Jack Heen, our new treasurer, and a big hand to Brother Dick Grosgebauer for his great job in that position during the past year.

Prospects are quite good for the next few months. Already plans are being made for trips to Aspen, Ft. Lauderdale, and many other locales throughout the states during spring vacation. Campus Carnival, always a great time, is coming, and working on it with the Thetas will be most enjoyable. Parties, rushing, exchanges, and all will certainly be an integral part of upcoming plans as Beta Eta continues to maintain her position as a top fraternity on campus.

The Gamma Kappa Delts, after a four-hour chapter meeting, came up with an outstanding group of new officers in recent elections. John Meives, one of our four returning baseball lettermen and a natural born leader, will step into Steve Lewis' shoes as president. Dave Howell, who will take over Rich Joy's job as vice-president, is also our IFC representative and public relations commission head. Dave is also one of the five men on the MU IFC communications commission and was on the campus chest commission during its annual drive. Other officers include: Tom Williams, recording secretary; John Rhodes, corresponding secretary; and Bob Green, sergeant at arms.

Other men involved in top positions in student government and other student activities are: John Silver, who is now serving as chief justice of the traffic court; Andy Kantis, head of the public information committee; Allen Steinburg, advertising manager for the MU yearbook, Savitar; Wayne Schindler and Pledge Jim McKinney are two of the leads in "Guys and Dolls," the all-campus musical.

In our recent initiation, we initiated four fine men. Three of these men have been given positions as officers and committee members in the Shelter and all four are top grade earners.

Bill Kennedy has proved to be a very successful rush chairman, adding five men (Gordon Kempf, Chick Naylor, Dave Amundson, John O'Dowd, and Bill Dyer) to our growing list of pledges.

Four returning Tiger lettermen, John Meives, Gary Starr, Steve Lewis, and Bob Meyers, are among the Mizzou Delts eagerly awaiting the return of baseball season.

Intramural basketball finals start next week and our hustling team has an excellent chance for first place as it enters play with six wins and no defeats under their belts.

It has been said that in the fraternity system chapters have cycles of ups and downs. If this is true, the Gamma Kappa Delts are most certainly on the upswing.

MARK McKINNEY

Nebraska

Dennis Novicki is the newly-elected president of Beta Tau. Brother Novicki, a junior majoring in psychology, succeeds Harold Stuckey.

Other new officers for the coming year include Brothers Dick Stuckey, vice-president; Bob Wright, treasurer; Jim Samples, assistant treasurer; John Mitchem, recording secretary; Gary Parker, corresponding secretary; Gene Johnson, sergeant at arms, and Jim Morgan, guide.

The Beta Tau Delts have been shining on the intramural scene. Most recently, the track team captured second place in the all-University intramural track meet, being edged out of first place by a mere two and one-half points. The meet wasn't decided until the last event, the mile relay. In that race the Delts were edged by only six inches. A relay victory was needed to win the meet.

In basketball, the Delt A, B, and C teams have a combined record of ten victories and two defeats. Of the three, the B team has the only clean slate. If the present trend continues, all three teams will enter the play-offs for berths in the end of season tournaments.

Socially, the Delts will be busy this spring. Heading the social activity will be the annual Delt spring formal, to be held in March. Also on the agenda are the French party, the date dinner, and the annual late-spring squab scramble. Come Greek Week, the brothers will be out to defend their fraternity chariot race championship. The Delts have monopolized the event the past three years. Riding in the chariot will be the Delt Queen, whose identity will be revealed at the formal.

On the athletic front: Bob "Doc" Harry has been a regular starting center on the varsity basketball team. Doc stands 6' 6", which helps account for his rebounding ability. Playing baseball with the varsity will be Pat Tooley, Steve Smith, and Jerry Bean. On the freshman track team will be Sprinter Steve Pfister, last year's state high school 100-yard dash champion. Freshmen Dave Wohlfarth and John Nore will be trying for the tennis team. Presently on the gymnastics team is Pledge Steve Joynt. The golf team will welcome the faces of Ralph "Bud" Williamson, former state high school champion, and Gene Johnson.

Also coming up is the spring initiation. Prospects look bright for initiating a large proportion of the pledge class. While some of this year's class is being initiated, the brothers will be wasting no time in getting busy with rushing chores for next summer and fall by making early contacts this spring. Heading the rush committee will be Jim Samples.

The high light of the social season was the annual Kris Kringle Formal, held December 4 at the Riviera Ballroom. At the formal, Peggy Stefionowicz was chosen Delt Sweetheart for 1960. A sophomore from Devil's Lake, North Dakota, Peggy was chosen from 30 nominees for Delt Sweetheart. She was presented along with her attendants, finalists Vernetta King, and Kathy Meyer, by President Darrell Wood. Ed McPeck and his social committee did a magnificent job on decorations and on arrangements for the formal.

Other social events held were a Halloween party October 31 and the annual hardtimes party held November 21. Bringing the busy social season for the first semester to a close was the pledge princess ball, January 16. Everyone will agree that Delta Xi has had a very successful fall semester, socially.

Brothers Roy C. Thompson and Marino Melsted received their degrees at mid-term graduation exercises. Brother Thompson received a degree in education and Brother Melsted a degree in mechanical engineering.

Delta Xi is looking forward to the Western Division Regional Conference, to be held here at the Shelter and the University of North Dakota April first and second, 1960. We are hoping that the last icy blasts of our North Dakota winters will have passed by then so that our Brother Deltas from the more temperate regions will enjoy their stay in North Dakota. An alumni meeting is planned for April third, 1960. We hope that all alumni will make an effort to be at both the Regional Conference and the alumni meeting.

MARINO S. MELSTED

As the brothers returned from their festive holiday vacation, they looked forward to another eventful quarter of campus activity. Last quarter Beta Pi again achieved an impressive scholastic record, led by the perfect average of George Javares, who again heralded us in the true Delt spirit. Along the lines of intramurals, we advanced in contention for the sweepstakes trophy by fine performances in wrestling, swimming, and track. Our defending champion basketball team, replete with veterans, started off the season with a booming victory, defeating Acacia 59-37. Jim Maggart and Terry Hogan led the attack. Backing up these men were Bill Shineflug, Jerry Tanselle, Jon Humbert, Jud Doss, Bob Serhant, Rich Hall, and Dick Hunt—a fine array of talent to whom we wish the best of luck. In bowling we also present a formidable foe for any oncomers; and in swimming our hopes are high for a top position. All in all our optimism seems justifiable and our goal of winning first place in the sweepstakes a near accomplishment.

The brothers have extended their scope of extracurricular activities to many important campus affairs. A rejuvenated activities program, headed by Chairman Rog Kuppinger, has stimulated many of the brothers to fare into many interesting positions in student council, class dances, interfraternity council, etc.

Beta Pi also has a fine representation on the various athletic teams. Bill Cacciatore, the sophomore sensation of the Wildcat basketball team; John Glerum, rated as one of the best divers in the Big Ten and currently No. 1 diver on the NU tank team; Don Millican, wrestling in the 147-pound class, shows great potential as a standout on the mat; and not to forget, our freshmen crop of future varsity stars: Ken Lutgens and Bill Woislav on the hardcourt, Jack Cvercko on the gridiron, Rock Spooner in track, and Fred Schelegel in baseball.

And not to be forgotten as a vital element in any Delt's development is the social side of campus life. This quarter we plan a multi-sided social calendar; first is our "End-of-the-World" party, resplendent with galaxies of entertainment, featuring our own Russo Phillip and his "Rock 'N Aires"; next our syndicate party, with selected guests from the underworld; and finally our annual Pajama party, with the crowning of our Delta Sweetheart. Along with these parties, we plan a few sorority desserts and a family banquet as well as an alum banquet—all this to satisfy any lover of life.

May I take this opportunity now to express the chapter's gratitude to the admirable leadership provided by the past officers who will be vacating office this quarter and pass on to their successors the fruits well earned by their accomplishments, coupled with that true Delta virtue of desire to constantly improve the lot of their brothers.

More honors came to Brother Dave Brueckner when he was awarded the Mario DiNardo trophy as the outstanding campus leader of the year at the annual leadership banquet. Dave, a senior, is president of student council and first in his class with a 3.86 scholastic average.

Chuck Strawman was chosen by the chapter as the outstanding leader of the year. Chuck, a real worker around the Shelter, represented Delta Tau Delta at the campus leadership banquet.

Beta Chapter's new officers are: Bob Kraft, president; Roger Wolfe, vice-president; Fred Jurek, recording secretary; and Mike Tressler, corresponding secretary. Terry Russell was elected treasurer and Larry Colbert is assistant treasurer. Phil Murchison and Ed Staten were elected guide and guard, respectively.

Jack Lloyd, president of the fall pledge class, was chosen president of the interfraternity pledge council.

Beta Chapter's first intramural soccer team won the fraternity championship. We were beaten by the Ohio University freshman soccer squad for the all-campus championship. The freshman team's most promising player is Brian Jakes, a Beta Chapter pledge. Brian scored twice and assisted on the third goal in the championship game.

Doug Ryan, one of this fall's initiates, was elected captain of the Ohio wrestling team. An independent golf team, organized and led by Tom Plummer, won the all-campus championship.

November 20-22 was Dad's week end at OU. As usual, a great time was had by all the brothers and their dads who spent the week end at the Shelter. On Sunday, the Deltas played the ADPi sorority in an annual spastic football game.

Beta Chapter's new officers.

Neil Willis is organizing the bowling team for the coming season. Last year, Beta Chapter won the campus championship and hopes to repeat this year.

The Delts once again won the Greek Week blood drive. Both the total donation trophy and the percentage award were taken home to the Shelter this year. Brother Lloyd Furer was campus Greek Week chairman.

Rush Chairman Burt English got rush off to a fine start and a fine pledge class is in the making. Brother Dick Lewis was elected pledgemaster and Bob Stewart will be workmaster for the spring pledges.

The yearly winter formal was held January 16, after a round of parties which included the well-known Delt circus party and the pledge Christmas party.

As the "OU 'Chine Club" nears the halfway point in the season, the Delts' two teams are still running neck and neck. Neilie "String" Willis, captain of the Vinton County All-Stars, leads the league in individual scoring. Dickie Lewis captains the Union Furnace Stokers, currently in second place. High man in recent games has been Mike "Clutch" Brown, of the Stokers. The Stokers were recently strengthened when J. Tipton Koch was moved up from the Sundry farm club.

Beta Phi held elections on January 11, giving us the men that will keep us on top for another year. Our new president is Ed Hartford; vice-president, Pat McCarthy; treasurer, Glen Stitsinger; assistant treasurer, Don Smith; recording secretary, Larry Zedaker; corresponding secretary, Tim Herr; guide, Ned Tookman; sergeant at arms, Merle Rotsel; and historian, Mike Reickert.

Our intramural future is as bright as it possibly can be. Inspired by our great football season, we are certain that we will be tough in every sport this year. Since everyone is back from our championship swimming, track (indoor and outdoor), baseball, basketball, and golf teams, it is certain that these men, coupled with certain talented pledges and transfers, will add to our collection of trophies.

Returning from a two-week Christmas vacation, the men of Chapter Mu have begun to direct their efforts toward winning their sixth straight scholarship trophy. As the end of the first semester rapidly approaches, the brothers can review their past three months' accomplishments with pride. Excelling in all activities, from athletics to scholarship, the chapter hopes to extend its list of achievements during the second semester.

Football season saw the Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan wind up with a 7-1-1 record, good for second place in the Ohio Conference. Both Delts on the team performed in an outstanding manner. Senior End Dick Heaston led the team in scoring with 37 points and was voted the most valuable man on the squad. Halfback and team captain, Senior Dick DeHaven, ran well throughout the season despite a leg injury, and was rewarded with a professional football contract.

Winter sports find Senior Ed Metz wrestling in the heavyweight division for the Bishop wrestling squad. Ed's competitive spirit was responsible for his compiling such a fine record last season and is one reason why Coach Ray Leech is counting upon him as one of the team mainstays this season.

Led by Dick Blanks, John Welch, Bob Olson, and Tom Swaim, the Delt intramural football, volleyball, and basketball teams have fared very well. A good showing in the winter sports could give the chapter enough points to garner the all-year trophy for intramural sports.

Our continued dominance in all major areas of activity can be seen by the following: another Delt tapped by Omicron Delta Kappa (Bob Olson), two members of student council (Bryce Collier and Dick Smith), president of Phi Society (Don Gartrell), editor of the LeBijou (Denny Appleyard), and a justice on the Men's Court (Terry Ross). These are only a few of the top positions held by Delts. A look into other activities reveals Delts occupying many top offices. Two men occupy chairmen- ships of student government committees.

Socially, the chapter has by no means been idle. During the pre-Christmas period, parties were held with the Delta Delta Delta and Delta Gamma sororities. Eight members of Pi Beta Phi prepared breakfast for the men living in the house during the first week following Thanksgiving vacation. Jerry Child has served as M.C. on several occasions, the most recent being the Dawn Dance, held at 5:00 a.m. on the morning of December 12, 1959. The high light of our winter social schedule, the winter formal, was also held on December 12.

The 24-man pledge class has been progressing fast and, upon returning to school, will concentrate on winning the annual tug of war with the Phi Gamma Delta pledges. Several of the pledges have already distinguished themselves on campus, and the chapter feels that 1959's rush week was a smashing success.

With the above notion in mind, Rush Chairman Dave Rees and his assistant, Jeff Keating, are at present busily engaged in preparing for the 1960 rush week. Holding the belief that a chapter is only as strong as its weakest link, these men hope to secure another top pledge class next fall.

One of the most pleasant duties of the chapter president, Vick French, during the pre-Christmas period, was presenting our housemother, Mrs. Ruth Helser, with a Christmas gift on behalf of the chapter. "Mom" Helser's genuine concern and devoted interest to the chapter over the past 14 years have been greatly appreciated by all.

Winning the first-place homecoming display trophy for the fifth consecutive year rounds out the chapter's list of accomplishments during the first semester of 1959-1960. It is with a feeling of great anticipation that Mu Chapter's eighty-five men return to campus to assume again the prominent position that they have long held, both in the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity and upon the Ohio Wesleyan campus.

After an excellent football season we are in the midst of the intramural basketball season. Three teams, A, B-1, and B-2 represent the Shelter; the A team is already in the play-offs.

influence on the campus. Brother Jed Johnson is vice-president of the student senate. In the fall elections, Brother Jerry Tubb received the greatest plurality that was given a candidate and was re-elected. Pledges Bob Bascom and Berry Miller were elected to represent their predominantly freshman, University College.

Brother Buzz McDaniel, besides being a "Big Man on the Campus," member of PE-ET, and Omicron Delta Kappa, was chosen by the yearbook to be one of the seniors featured in the yearbook as a campus personality. Recently he was elected president of the Union activities board, which governs and controls many campus activities.

Brothers Ed Buchner, Bernie Hulme, Jed Johnson, and Jerry Tubb were elected to membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, junior men's leadership and scholarship fraternity.

When the fathers of Delt's were recently entertained at O.U. Dad's Day, the Delt Quartet, which has had a monopoly on first place ever since the quartet contest was begun, this year placed second. Members of the quartet are Brothers Ed Rice, Ron Murray, Tom Aitken, and Bob Ray.

The quartet recently was selected to perform in the Sooner Scandals. The Delt Glee Club, which also happens to be the perennial winner of first place in the men's division in the all-University sing, has been asked to appear in the Scandals, the campus variety show. We will sing the overtures to each act. Brother Ed Buchner is director of the 1960 Sooner Scandals.

At this year's Campus Chest carnival the O.U. Delt pledge class topped all other bidding fraternities in the auction to purchase the most desired pledge class on the campus; pledge president and vice-president, Berry Miller and Mike Dirham, respectively, directed the bidding. This is the third consecutive year that the Delt pledge class has afforded this privilege. Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority pledge class received the distinction this year.

Members and pledges of Delta Alpha keep marching uniformly onward and forward, trying to leave no stone unturned, no feat unaccomplished, no distinction bypassed, nor any opportunity not utilized to show the world the beneficial blessings and constructive customs that the word "fraternity" should connotate.

A number of others were also given a "party" by the Delt's, but of a different kind. The Kappa Alpha Thetas were treated to a Delt surprise breakfast and Sally Sunshine contest at 6:30 a.m. one Saturday morning. After being treated to a delicious breakfast, the Thetas were entertained by the well-known Delt Trio. Shan Brown was elected Sally Sunshine.

For the second year in a row the candidate being backed by the Delt's was elected homecoming queen. Bob Paine was the campaign manager for Betsy Lee, a Delta Zeta. Dick Styskal was selected as the official escort for the queen at all University functions.

Delta Lambda chapter finished fall term by placing five men on the school honor roll. Scholarship Chairman Stu Cato reports that Larry Cushing, Al Palmer, John Joelson, Denny Ellison, and Don Wrenn all placed in the select group with a 3.50, grade point average or higher, average. Doug Coughenower was high man in the pledge class with a 3.47.

Four new pledges were added during open rush last term. The addition of Jim Grinnell, Con Pekkola, Tom Tweed, and Cliff Worley brings the pledge class total to 22 men at the start of winter term. Bob Paine was recently elected pledge class president. Other officers include: Tony Mohr, vice-president; Doug Coughenower, secretary; Bill Beckwith, treasurer; Doug Thompson, rush chairman; Gayle Mishler, social chairman; and Jay Brauning, sergeant at arms.

Intramural Chairman Jack Dortch is leading the chapter to an outstanding year in sports, as we are currently in third place for the all-school intramural trophy. The football team finished the season by winning the last three games.

Oregon State's BILLY WOLD

Delta Lambda's 22-man pledge class.

The Delts were eliminated from the championship play-offs by a 7-6 decision in overtime to the team which went on to win in the all-school championship game by 20 points. Our entire starting team will be returning next year, so we can expect another good season. Jerry Anderson is working the basketball team into shape, and the outlook is for a winning record. The starting five will probably be Anderson, Lynn Cannon, Larry Bissonnette, Cliff Worley, and Con Pekkola. Pledge Billy Wold recently led the Oregon State varsity basketball team to a nine-game winning streak. In the Far West Classic tournament won by OSC, Wold won the semifinal game against Idaho with a clutch jump shot with only four seconds left and was named to the all-star team for the tournament. Letterman Scott McKean is winning points in the freestyle distance races for the varsity swimming team.

This term the big activity on the Oregon State campus is the Beaver Preview week end for visiting high school seniors. Nine Delts are currently working on this project. Jack Faia, Ron Kalina, and Terry Payne are chairmen, and Tom Schooley, Eric Burbano, Jack Dortch, Ed Clough, Scott McKean, and Rush Chairman Jim Woodcock are committee members. Another campus position is ably filled by Jim Grinnell as chairman of the campus student insurance program.

On the social side, the Delts paired with Alpha Chi Omega to win first place in the sign and noisemaking contest preceding the "Civil War" football game with Oregon and won by Oregon State 15-7. The main prize was a table crew performance by the dancing rally girls for an exchange dinner with the A Chi O's. The entire Delt house and the OSC coeds are eagerly awaiting our famous winter term dance, the French Apache, to be held February 12. House Manager John Turner and his crew will once again "remodel" the Shelter into a typical French night club scene, complete with John Kramer's art work, and featuring the traditional entranceway in the form of a 100-foot long tunnel through the house.

The biggest social event of the winter season for the Omega Delts was the Christmas formal. Bob Garrison did a terrific job as chairman of the dance and made it a night which we will all remember for quite a while.

Last week we had elections for treasurer and assistant treasurer. Dave Robinson is our new treasurer and his assistant is Bob Eastwood.

Fred Guest, organizer and captain of the polo club here at the University, represented the Delts on the sporting scene during the Christmas vacation. Over the holidays, Fred played on a United States team that won the Lima Cup in a match with a Peruvian all-star team.

The Delts are well represented on the wrestling team by the following men: Ed Smith, Pete Schantz, Tom Wright, Dick Harkins, and John Doubman.

Several of the Delts who played on Penn's championship football team have won individual honors. Barney Berlinger won the Edar M. Church award, was selected for the all-Ivy team, and made honorable mention on both the UP and AP All-American teams. Jack Hanlon made all-Ivy and honorable mention All-American (UP). Bruce Cummings was all-Ivy. Bunky McPherson and Bill Gray both made the Chemical All-American team.

In addition to his football awards, Barney Berlinger won the Class of 1915 Award, which is given to the most ideal athlete in the senior class. Barney's father was the first recipient of this award in 1931. Barney has also won an alumni award of merit from the University for outstanding service to his class.

Rushing will be the next important phase of our program and we are well under way with plans to get another great pledge class which, we hope, will carry on the fine Delt tradition here at Penn.

Tau Chapter began the second semester minus the services of three men who were graduated in January. The three grads are Bob Pulver, Frank McGowen, and Fred Taylor.

December was a social-filled month for the chapter. Military Ball week end was also pledge week end, and the theme for the house party was "Club 62." The Shelter was decorated with a night club atmosphere, with progressive sounds supplied by the Ditty Potter Quartet. Per usual, the pledges had the week end off while the brothers did the work.

Tau Chapter's annual faculty reception with Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority once again proved to be quite successful. Members of both groups entertained their professors and deans of the various colleges at the Shelter, and the party was complete with an orchestra, decorations, and refreshments.

On the week end before Christmas, we had our annual Christmas party. The party began in the party room, and then moved upstairs for a festive dinner by candlelight. The meal was followed by dancing and singing by the fireplace.

With the year half over, Tau Chapter has yet to maintain its usual high standing in campus intramurals. Athletic Chairman Sam Bowman attributes this to a vast rebuilding program this year, following the loss of many of our outstanding performers last June and January. After a mediocre season in football, golf, boxing, and tennis, Tau Chapter pins its hopes this semester on its undefeated basketball team, bowling, soccer, wrestling, swimming, volleyball, and handball teams.

By a unanimous vote of the chapter, the name of previous treasurer, Bob Schimmel, was placed on our plaque honoring outstanding treasurers. The achievements of Brother Schimmel in his term of office cannot be emphasized enough. Stepping into Bob's shoes in February was Dick Whittaker, who we are confident will do as capable a job.

J. ROGER KENT

Pittsburgh

As we start the winter semester at Pitt, Gamma Sigma can look back with pride upon its accomplishments. The policies of the school have been conducive to the growth of the fraternity system, and the Pitt Delts did their share in its promotion.

Homecoming proved to be the most successful one in years; party-hopping, which has been unfortunately absent, made an auspicious debut. The following day the pregame luncheon was well attended. We will dismiss the game, thank you, and dwell upon the float parade. Although our entry, "16 Tons," didn't win a trophy, we received much favorable comment on it and are encouraged to do better next year.

Following the Gamma Sigma alumni dinner and the house corporation meeting, Doctor Geise, one of Pitt's vice-chancellors, spoke concerning the proposed fraternity housing project which is to be realized in the near future. On Sunday evening, December sixth, our 24th annual Delt Christmas Service was conducted at Trinity Cathedral by Dean High Moor. After his excellent service, our sing team, led by Sing Chairman Jon Wiig, sang "Gamma Sigma" and "Sweetheart of Delta Tau." Again the Tau Delts were our guests for the Pitt-Penn State football game, and the party afterwards was a memorable one.

Our last social event of the semester, and another innovation, was our Sweetheart Dance; and it was an outstanding success. During intermission, Nancy Noethling, Kappa Kappa Gamma, was officially crowned as our sweetheart and representative for the year. The members of her court were Connie Pendleton and Chris Conti.

In conjunction with the Pitt Chest charity drive, the Delts sponsored Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority in the first Powder Puff Bowl, and Forbes Field was the scene of yet another pro tem Delt victory for a most worthy cause.

In athletics, the Delts are in contention for the all-sports trophy because of an unexpectedly strong showing in minor sports. We took a second in squash, ping-pong, and soccer last semester. Brother Dave O'Laughlin took fourth place in the national junior squash tournament held in Pittsburgh over the holidays. In varsity athletics, the Delts were once again well represented. Brother Ray Tarasi lettered as a half-back on the football team, Pledge Harry Mears is on the varsity basketball squad, while Brothers Dick Faull and Jim Donahue are on the indoor track team.

The graduation of Brothers Jon Wiig, Bill Peckman, and Bill Ziefel last semester will be sorely missed, although we are confident that they will succeed in their chosen field.

We of Gamma Sigma look to an eventful year of scholastic and fraternal activity.

JIM KINNEY

Purdue

Looking back over the fall semester at Purdue, Gamma Lambda has once again, through consistent hard work, had another 16 weeks of success.

Football season found the chapter working exuberantly on pep rally signs with Kappa Kappa Gamma and Chi Omega sororities, a function where there was no shortage of male labor. The homecoming sign, however, was not quite so pleasant. The original efforts of the co-chairmen, Dick and Bob Berg, collapsed two hours before the judging in a downpour of rain.

On the week end of October eighth, Gamma Lambda held its annual pledge-active football game. The spirit of the 23 returning pledges was running high as they forced a scoreless tie with the "old men."

The long awaited moment of initiation finally came to 20 men on the week end of October 31. The rites were followed by a banquet given in honor of the new initiates. Several parents were present for the occasion.

Dominic Fatta, our social chairman, added to his list of social successes with the planning of our fall house dance. The theme was Greek, and although the thermometer registered 34 degrees, everyone seemed to have a good time in spite of sleeveless togas.

John Dzien, who is extremely active in the Purdue Glee Club, has also proved himself more than able in his new position as house song leader. His well-planned serenades of various sororities and organizations have contributed much to the established Delt name.

December 17 was the date of the annual Gamma Lambda Christmas party for the underprivileged children. This function has found campuswide acclaim and shows Delt spirit at its finest.

On the intramural scene, Gamma Lambda has been doing quite well. We took second place in softball, after a heartbreaking defeat in the semifinals. In squash we took second place again, also losing in the semifinals. In spite of these runner-up positions we are still ranked in the top five among the 40 fraternities competing in intramural activities.

Jim Rieth, Dick Capen, Mike Savod, and Dick Wall, a transfer from Kansas State, brought the Dolphin swimming trophy home to the Shelter for the first time.

Athletically, we were well represented in a wide variety of campus sports. Dominic Fatta, with three wins in three starts, and Chip Rose, defeated once in two starts, hold down key positions on the Purdue wrestling squad. Bob Berg, Dick Berg, and Jack Buckman represent the chapter in tennis; Jim Kearney in soccer; Jim Rieth and Chuck Stewart in crew; Bob Monroe in track; Bob Bemm in swimming; and Dick Wall, manager of the freshman basketball squad.

A number of men have taken individual honors this fall. Chip Rose, Jack

Thomas, and Bob Monroe were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, a freshman scholastic honorary. Gil Churchill, our president, was tapped into Tau Beta Pi, the national engineering honorary. Steve Turner was chosen to represent the Shelter in Skull and Crescent, an activities honorary. Dom Fatta and Steve Kozak were accepted into the pharmacy honorary, Kappa Psi. Steve had the honor of being Kappa Psi's pledge class president. He now holds the position at the Shelter as pledge trainer.

Achievements in ROTC were numerous as Tom Thomas became the second Delt in succession to become cadet colonel of the corps. He is also cadet commander in chief of the Naval ROTC unit. Scabbard and Blade, the military honorary for junior and senior men found eleven of our men worthy of becoming members. They were Hal Crain, Bob Berg, Dick Berg, Bill Walker, Steve Kozak, Doug Roby, Dennis Winstead, Joe Lung, Darrell James, Dick Antle, and Jon Foust. Jon Foust went on to pledge the Arnold Air Society.

The Shelter, supervised by Chuck Ayers, had the honor of winning the State of Ohio in the Purdue mock political convention. Our partners for this will be the women's residence unit, Wood Hall.

Every semester the prevailing cry around the Shelter is "rush." Our rush chairman, Ken Hauersly, is doing a fine job and has many functions planned to interest men in becoming Delts.

The semester was brought to a close with the election of Tom Kaminski as our new treasurer. He replaced Dick Moll, a senior, whose superb job was recognized by all. George Williamson won the assistant treasurer's position.

The men of Gamma Lambda are looking forward to the spring semester so that they may continue to keep the name of Delta Tau Delta alive at Purdue.

CHUCK STEWART

Rensselaer

Upsilon Chapter's new house received its official house warming on November seventh. Distinguished guests representing the school administration, Dr. Richard Folsom, president, and the national, Ed Hughes, editor of THE RAINBOW, were present. Mr. Ernest Warcke, chapter adviser, presided over the ceremonies at which Roger Merrifield, president of the chapter, President Folsom, head of the school, and Mr. Hughes gave short speeches. At this time Mr. Warcke was presented with a watch and plaque from the brothers for his many efforts in their behalf.

Held in conjunction with this was an alumni reunion week end for which many returned. Members of classes as far back as 1901 were present and plans were made to name this week end as alumni reunion for the future. A banquet was held at the Troy Club at which Mr. Ed Hughes made the principal speech. It was at this time that Mr. Warcke was notified of his selection to the Distinguished Service Chapter of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

Tom Graves received an unprecedented honor by being elected captain of the wrestling team for the second year in a row. This year appears to be a big year for this fine grappler as he is undefeated in his first six matches. Another brother, Joseph Colangelo, rounds out the Delt stronghold on the fine RPI team.

The Delts made a fine opening in their quest of another Barker trophy, emblematic of the top fraternity in sports. The Delt machine ended a fine season in football, finishing a strong second. In tennis and golf several points were achieved by second- and third-place finishes. Opening up a strong basketball season, the team is tied for first place after the first round. In hockey, which is an unofficial interfraternity sport, the Delt team plays an aggressive game, led by Bob Sheh, one of the league's top scorers, and bolstered fine goal tending of Vic Andrade.

JOHN D. AURIA

Santa Barbara

In lavish temporary quarters, the brothers from the University of California at Santa Barbara anxiously awaited the lifting of their year-long term of social probation. While patiently awaiting the end of our period of punishment, several attacks made during the semester by tribes of Santa Barbarian amazons detracted from the general ambience of euphoria characteristic of the Delt house. During these attacks, despite overwhelming odds, the staid and intrepid brothers survived the trial by water. As the new year was rung in and the social ban lifted, our efficient social chairman, Ray S. Polley, had plans in motion for our first party in a year. This quiet, discrete affair brought the brothers together in a true atmosphere long absent here.

On the intramural scene, the Delta boys were far from inactive. In the hard-fought football league, the Deltas, led by Shaming Jones and Y. A. Yamamoto, quarterback and field admiral, the team winged into second place. In his usual capacity of leading yells was the mighty mite, spirited Mike Rubber. Second place was also grabbed by the Delt hoopsters, thanks to the tremendous efforts of such standouts as Marquis McInnes, Billy Haskel, Sportscaster Tom Morgan, Kermit Harkos, and fleet-footed, lay-up artist, Al Zingsley. In innerhouse activities, L. Blaine whipped Jim Ross and J. Cliffield whipped Chuck Gorder in wrestling.

Final plans are now being drawn up for our new house on the campus. Hopfuls are predicting occupancy by next fall.

Early in the semester we were honored by a visit from our traveling secretary, Jack McClenny. Conferring with him and absorbing many useful ideas was H. Harvey Springowsky.

JOHN SOTH

Sewanee

Beta Theta Chapter ended last year's busy activities with a big Christmas party given by the pledge class. The Shelter was well decorated in the traditional manner, humorous gifts were exchanged by the brothers, and a fine wassail bowl added to the cheer. Honored guests included Bishop and Mrs. Frank Juhan, the Rev. and Mrs. George B. Myers, and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Cheape. The pledge class was highly praised for its work and planning to make the party a huge success.

Volleyball season has just ended and the Delt team made a fine showing. The coaches are now working with the intramural basketball team, and a good record is being predicted. Beta Theta is proud of its swimming team this year. This team made one of the best records we've had in recent swimming tournaments. A new sport introduced to intramural competition at Sewanee this year is bowling, and already many Deltas have become enthusiastic participants.

The first order of business for the new year was the election of chapter officers for the second semester. Those elected at the meeting on January fifth included: Sam Swann as new chapter president; Gilbert Green as vice-president; Thomas Byrne, treasurer; Park Ticer, recording secretary; Dan McNutt, corresponding secretary; Charles Kiblinger, guide; and George Freeman was chosen to be sergeant at arms. The new officers will be installed in February, following the initiation of this year's pledge class.

Initiation of the pledge class will be in the second week of February, according to present plans. First, however, the pledges will be going on their pledge trips during the semester break at the end of January. Next will come Help Week, climaxed by the initiation ceremony. We have been very proud of the record made by our pledge class, under the leadership of Pledge Master Park Ticer.

Extensive plans are being made for the chapter in the new year, and improvements of great importance to Beta Theta are at present being worked on. The year 1960 promises to carry the chapter forward in progress and development.

ALLEN SATTEFIELD

South Dakota

Delta Gamma's annual "Operation Santa Claus" project, held in conjunction with the Vermillion Jaycees, was a tremendous success this year. By selling Christmas tree decorations we earned enough money to buy presents for countless children in the Vermillion area who normally would have had nothing for Christmas. Besides giving Delta Tau Delta state-wide publicity, it gave to us of Delta Gamma a great satisfaction and helped to bring the Christmas spirit to the Shelter.

Upon returning to the Shelter after vacation we started off the new year's business with the annual election of officers. Lonnie Vanderlinden was elected the new president of Delta Gamma. He replaced Bob Daughters, who has done a wonderful job in the past year, and we are confident that Lon will do equally as well in the ensuing year. The other new officers of Delta Gamma are Milt Schwartz, vice-president; Marv Johnson, guide; Buzz Pozz, sergeant at arms; Tom Brisbane, treasurer; Alex Knox, recording secretary; and Mark Melcher, corresponding secretary.

In the field of sports, Delta Gamma is right in the thick of things this season. Our B squad intramural basketball team is leading its league and our A squad team is in serious contention for the lead in its league. The pledge class intramural team is also leading its league and four of our pledges are seeing a lot of action on U.S.D.'s freshman basketball team. They are John Ehret, Tom Holloway, Jim Hale, and Dick Tenney.

Our fall house party, held November 13, was viewed by all as a great success. The theme of the party was suppressed desire, and everyone came dressed as what he has always had the suppressed desire to be.

Our plans for the immediate future consist mainly of cramming for test week, which starts January 23, but with the completion of finals and the beginning of a new semester there is another house party planned for February 13. This will be our annual Sweetheart Ball, at which Delta Gamma's 1960 Sweetheart will be elected.

MARK MELCHER

Stanford

With the opening of winter quarter, we of Beta Rho are looking forward to an enjoyable and profitable 1960. Profiting from the experiences and mistakes made in 1959, we are all doing our best to continue the success enjoyed by Delta Tau Delta on the Stanford campus over the past years.

The rising of the curtain on basketball season witnesses four Delt hoopsters holding down first-string berths. Forward John Arriallaga leads the club in scoring, followed closely by sensational sophomore center, John Windsor. Watch charm guard, Clayton Bowling, continually has the fans and opposing players bewitched by his uncanny ball handling. Helping these three is John Hendry, with his steady scoring and rebounding. Supporting the first ball club is Delt Al Simila, who gives the first stringers added reserve strength.

As the wrestlers unroll the mats for another season, grappler captain, Dick Denny, leads his team into action, supported by heavyweight, Tom Walsh.

On the intramural field, the Delt football team fell short of defending its championship as it lost in the semifinals. The offense, with Craig Bushman, Jack Watkins, and Walt Kirch doing the blocking and Jack Carter, Burt Dole, and Armond Jaques handling the pigskin, could not get up full steam, while the defensive stalwarts, Don Thornburg, Bob Travers, Wally Hawley, and Bob Harrison could not stop the advancing wave as the Delts came out on the short end of a 13-to-7 score.

With the opening of basketball season, the chapter puts last year's crown on the chopping block. Holdovers Craig Bushman, Armond Jaques, Harry Walker, and Don Thornburg will be aided by sophs John Fontius, Bill Elfving, and Tom Boysen as they seek to win the crown a second straight year.

On the social page, the Delts closed out the football season with an overnight following the big game with California. All the members and their dates trooped to the famed Brookdale Lodge in the Santa Cruz hills for a dinner, dance, and breakfast the following morning. All claimed it a success and looked forward to the active winter schedule which has been planned by Social Chairman Steve Reynard.

To high light the Christmas season, the Delts gave their annual Christmas party for the Ming Quong Orphanage in the Los Gatos foothills. It is always a great thrill for all the members to watch the children open their presents as Santa Claus, this year played by John Windsor, hands them out under the tree. It was an enjoyable afternoon for all, ending with ice cream and cake and everyone singing carols.

The house is minus one of its members temporarily, as Mark Peery is in Germany at Stuttgart for the next six months. But with the loss of one member, for the time being, we regain two others who are returning from Europe. These are Tom Glover and Tal Ray.

The chapter is also losing a very capable resident adviser in Ron Chocate, as he is traveling to Spain to work on his thesis. His replacement is going to be Past President Harry Walker who is now in graduate school.

We at Beta Rho are looking forward to another outstanding year and wish to extend best wishes to all fellow chapters.

MARTY R. MATHIESEN

Stevens

Returning to Stevens for the fall term of 1959 finds Rho Chapter of Delta Tau Delta participating in the annual interfraternity football competition. Although faced with tougher competition than in the past, the Delt Chapter once again showed its spirit and teamwork by winning its league championship. The Delts entered the play-offs for the interfraternity championship in football.

Before the play-offs began, eight pledges of Delta Tau Delta underwent Work Week, prior to initiation. The Work Week proved to be very beneficial to the house; the dormitory room on the third floor was completely repainted with the floor being tiled; the second landing and staircase had also been tiled; the game room was restained; and many minor improvements on the house were accomplished during this period of "pledge labor." After a long, fun-filled, and tedious week, the eight new brothers were formally initiated into Rho Chapter on November 22, 1959.

On December 3, we found the Delt football team in the football play-offs. The game was hard fought by both contestants, neither giving in to the other. At the final gun, there emerged a co-championship in fraternity football for the year of 1959. Both teams played a spectacular scoreless tie.

As the Christmas season rolled our way, Winter Carnival week end was slowly gaining pace. On December 11, the members of Delta Tau Delta were in attendance at the formal held in New York City at the Concourse Plaza. It was a "fabulous" week end enjoyed by all.

All too soon the fun and enjoyment of the week end was over and everyone again took up his slide rule and began to study.

To ring in the New Year in rousing style, the Delt House held a "Roaring Twenties" party on December 31. The remainder of the term found the chapter involved in a change of officers. Succeeding our president, Paul Terreri, is Paul Hausmann; the vice-president position belongs to Mike Pellet; recording secretary is Jack Stamm; corresponding secretary is Matty Sowul; and keeper of the money, our treasurer, is Tony Stevens, with the assistance of John Zupko.

Another term is slowly drawing to a close and much preparation for final exams is being made.

On returning to school in February, the Delts will be participating in interfraternity squash, basketball, bowling, and ping-pong. The chapter has high hopes of winning its tenth sports trophy in the past eleven years. The activities trophy which is awarded at Spring Sports, is almost in the hands of the Delts. Over 50 per cent of the members of the chapter are on the Dean's Activity List, completely outnumbering our nearest opponents.

With the end of the term approaching, Rho Chapter can look back proudly upon its accomplishments and look forward to an ever better year in 1960.

JOHN ZUPKO

Syracuse

The big word from Syracuse is, of course, our great football team. The entire campus, Delts included, were virtually intoxicated with school spirit and pride. Most of our home games were preceded by celebration parties. We were indeed happy when Delts from our opponents' chapters appeared to join in our post game festivities. The Colgate week end was everything we had hoped it would be, and more. It didn't take long for the word about the "great Delt party" to spread to the rest of the houses on campus. In the course of the evening, representatives of several of these houses stopped in to see if the party was all it was cracked out to be. They agreed that it was.

As always, the Delts are riding high in both intramural and varsity athletics. The bowling team of Bob Fenske, Lynn Usher, Tom Fox, Bill Wetzel, and Bob Tuberacki have captured the division title and are now in the thick of the battle for the University championship. The basketball team, led by Usher, got off to a slow start, but they are now on the comeback trail. Thus far Ed Siedlick has been defeated only once in varsity fencing competition. The coach is quite pleased with his progress and expects even greater accomplishments in the future. Mike Radz is swimming the distances for the varsity squad. Pledges Vic Masters and Jim Morrissey form the nucleus of the strongest freshman swimming team in several years.

It has been a harsh winter in Syracuse and the weather finally got the boys down. Naturally, there was only one thing to do: bring a tropical climate into the house. Anyone who walked in the house during our Hawaiian party would have sworn that he was actually in our 50th state.

The festive atmosphere is gone and the house is now as quiet as a tomb as the brothers prepare for finals.

Texas Tech

With fall finals over and another semester to begin anew, Epsilon Delta embarked on several projects. The center of attraction is now placed on spring rush. Smokers, parties, week end dances, and general get-togethers will highlight the rush program. A large spring rush is anticipated and high hopes have been placed on the spring pledge class.

Several accomplishments occurred before the big week of fall finals. The large item of interest was that we finally found a new lodge—a large house on Ave. Q and 17th street. It has a living and dining room, den, 2 large bedrooms, kitchen, and a large back yard. This is something that we have been looking for and it looks like it's the answer to our prayers for a new Shelter.

A big accomplishment for the Tech Delts was placing second in the float competition in the homecoming parade in November. The float depicted the Eiffel Tower at one end and the Statue of Liberty at the other. Around the Eiffel Tower was flying the Spirit of St. Louis. The theme of the float was, "They Said It Couldn't Be Done." Our thanks to Brother Carl Hyde, chairman of the float, for a job well done.

Our annual Christmas Dance was held on December 4. Being primarily a rush affair, the dance was a big success both in the large turnout and in the fine manner in which the dance was held.

January 10 marked the big brother-little brother breakfast. This semester the brothers met at the Holiday Inn for breakfast and the giving of paddles and awards. T. K. Haseloff was given the best pledge award. Pat Fletcher was noted as the best member by the pledge class. The brick award went to Jerry Beeler and David Markham received the Knot-Hole award.

Brother Lee Roy Whitley was noted as one of the ten distinguished military students on the Tech campus this year. Brother Morris Scales was placed on the all-tournament team in the basketball tourney held by Epsilon Beta Chapter at T.C.U.

Shelter, meet other parents, and become acquainted with the actives. The Alumni Stag, under the capable direction of Brother Kirk Thompson, provided the alums as well as actives with a chance to renew old friendships while relaxing and enjoying themselves in songs and games. The initiation banquet, which marks the first chance the new initiates have to celebrate with their new brothers, proved to be one of the best celebrations of the year.

The new year will see many more festive occasions. The formal, which is the high light of the whole year, will be held in February. Almost every week end we will have a planned party. One of these parties will be held in conjunction with Beta Sigma Rho, a Jewish fraternity. This will help better interfraternity relations; something which is often neglected because of our lack of an I.F.C.

Several of the fellows are playing interfaculty hockey while Brothers Gary Ball, Hugh Thomson, and Gary Akins have somehow acquired the enviable job of coaching a girls' hockey team. Brother Kirk Thompson is again representing Delta Tau Delta on the intercollegiate swimming team.

B. F. JONES

Epsilon Delta lost three of its members this last January. Brothers Bob Gray and Joe Smith graduated and Brother Jerry Brooks was lost to the matrimonial ranks. May the best that is theirs to deserve find its place in their lives.

With this new semester and year ahead of us, Epsilon Delta will strive to bring pride and distinction to Delta Tau Delta.

SLED RATLIFF

Toronto

At the end of the first term Delta Theta initiated nine new men into Delta Tau Delta.

Again last term Delta Theta's parties and social events were quite successful. Besides the regular parties, which included the Toga party, the Christmas party, and the New Year's party, there were many other events which served the dual purpose of entertaining the brothers and strengthening the ties of brotherhood. The Mothers and Wives' tea gave the parents an opportunity to look over the Beta Mu's fall season was highlighted by homecoming week end. The neophytes, headed by Lew Watt, spent the previous four days working on the display, a 20-foot rocking "Jumbo." On Saturday we were pleased that many alumni ignored the sloppy weather to support the team and visit the house. The previous week end a gratifying number of parents also braved the elements to attend Parents' Day and become acquainted with the house and the brotherhood. Since the homecoming party coincided with Halloween night, the house was filled with a myriad of pumpkins and cornstalks obtained from local friendly farmers by Jack Schuler's decorations committee. The party was a swinging success, as shown by the great number of party-hoppers who crowded the Delt house.

In intramurals, the Delts, having swept the cross-country meet, consequently winning a live turkey, have a strong track team, and the volleyball team expects to maintain its championship.

Four brothers achieved distinction recently. Gene Mayer was accepted at Columbia medical school and Bob Wilson was accepted at Cornell. Paul Rothaug was appointed co-editor of the yearbook and Charlie Hallahan will return his inimitable disk jockey show to Tuft's radio station WTCR.

An opportunity for expansion of Delt waistlines has arrived in the form of a new stove, making Arthur's chafing chores easier. Another potential source of group degradation, a new pool table replacing the old washboard, is rapidly gaining inroads into the popularity now enjoyed by the ping pong table. In the realm of bounding intellectualism, many of the brothers have become engrossed in a better than usual type television show called "Yogi Bear." Lest you be led astray by this seeming de-emphasis of studies, the Delt house average is for the fifth consecutive semester, above the all-men's average and in the top half of the fraternities. A third acquisition to the house, Ralph, a four-year-old Dalmatian, will complement the famous Delt fire engine, which was completely overhauled and repainted last summer by Tip McCallister.

Twenty-four boys were present at the annual orphans' Christmas party. Santa Claus Balasco visited them during dinner to distribute presents; cartoons were shown following the meal; and then the boys were given an almost free run of the house until the brothers fatigued and couldn't keep up with them any longer.

A temporary orphan, Bill Meserve, spent Christmas at the South Pole, where he was with the Geological Survey.

Singing "Ave Verum," under the leadership of Eric Thorgerson and accompaniment by Charlie Bemis, the Delts placed third in the Christmas Sing.

The high light of the Christmas season was the Christmas formal. After eggnog and a steak dinner at the house, the brothers and their dates traveled to Sydney Hill Country Club for the dance. During the festivities, Patti Gray was crowned Delt Queen by Terry Findel, the retiring queen.

With second semester rushing approaching, John Sullivan and his committee are planning a tremendous rush week and the Delts look for a fine pledge class.

Tulane

Organizations on campus, as well as academic studies, are involving the time of Beta Xi Delts. Various University center committees number Richard Hays, Neal Schafer, and Mark Wilkiemeyer among their members. Kirk Webster and Mickey Michel are, respectively, leaders in Tusk and Greenbackers, campus spirit organizations. Other campus organizations in which Delts are prominent include the pre-med society, the Hullahaloo, and the various R.O.T.C. units. Charlie Chassignac is the director of social activities for the Air Force R.O.T.C.

Wilbert Noel has again been elected treasurer of the chapter. Helping him as assistant treasurer is Justin Ansel. John Wharton, our new social chairman, is hard at work making arrangements for our annual Rainbow Ball.

We are pleased to have recently pledged Tim Hoff and Durham Barnes, halfback on the freshman football team. The pledge-active football game was held in Audubon Park. With President Jim Kincaid acting as referee, the active chapter won 13-12.

Recently, the Shelter has rocked with some of the greatest parties on Tulane's campus. Our Christmas party, with Pledge Jimmy Robinson as Santa Claus, featured the traditional skit by the pledge class in which they gave their impressions of various actives. Looking to the future, our traditional Roman Toga party will kick off the second semester with a bang—that is, if the University officials change their minds and let us have it this year!

Bob Clark is in charge of our annual Greek Week. Both actives and pledges are looking "forward" to this week!

CHARLES NORTH

U.S.C.

The last four months have been very successful for Delta Pi of Delta Tau Delta. Socially, the season was highlighted by the Las Vegas formal. Delts and their dates enjoyed the luxurious accommodations of the Riviera Hotel and a wonderful time was had by all. Parties with the Thetas, Kappas, Tri-Delts, and D.G.s further served to make the semester an exceedingly memorable one. Academically, we expect to remain one of the top houses on campus. Darrell Carter, Steve De Patie, and Bart Porter have done a great deal in helping us realize this ambition.

With the semester about to end, Delta Pi has elected its officers for the coming year. They are: Jim Krueger, president; Mike Gingrich, vice-president; Dave Gaon, treasurer; Mike Bambauer and Bill Hazewinkle, social activities. All are very capable and are expected to do an excellent job.

Rush Chairman Park Turner has started planning next semester's rush program and a fine group of new pledges are expected. The high light of Delt rushing is the system of parties, which has proved successful as well as effective in the past.

With interfraternity athletics about three-quarters over for the year, the Delts are pushing for first place and have a good chance of capturing the coveted Iron Man trophy. Delta Pi also boasts of the individual athletic achievements of many of its members. Among the notables are Lance Larson, All-American swimmer; John Werhas, all-Pacific Coast in basketball; and Fred Tissue and Dick Bynny, All-Americans in water polo. Also deserving mention is Bob McKinley, a key man on S.C.'s newly formed rugby team.

With the end of the first half of the year in sight, plans are being made for the coming semester. At the present time the outlook is very promising. We at Delta Pi would like to wish you the best of luck and a very successful year.

Wabash

During the long winter months in Crawfordsville, the Wabash Delts have kept busy with their usual full schedule of studies, extracurricular activities, social week ends, and house programs. Probably heading the list of house activities was the election of officers for the coming year. The men of Beta Psi elected a fine slate of eight officers. They are Austin Brooks, president; Tim Conlon, vice-president; Wayne Cobb, treasurer; Lee Andreas, corresponding secretary; and Brent Sutton, recording secretary. The other officers include Terry Anderson, assistant treasurer; Ralph Carlson, sergeant at arms; and Pack Carnes, guide.

President-elect Brooks has maintained the traditions of Wabash Delt presidents by being an outstanding leader on campus as well as in the house. Austin is one of three Delts on the four-man board of publications, present treasurer of Young Republicans and Scarlet Masque, dramatics organization, past business manager of the Wabash yearbook, membership in honoraries Pi Delta Epsilon and Alpha Psi Omega, and finally, a straight A man in his major, botany. In the chapter, Brooks has held the offices of pledge class president, rush chairman, and pledge trainer.

Although at this writing final exams haven't begun at Wabash, the Delts have shown a marked improvement in scholarship over last spring semester. At mid-term the chapter rose a full tenth on the index standing and Scholarship Chairman Bohlin, with his intensified first-semester program, expects a definite rise in fraternity standings. In winter intramurals, the Delts are encountering difficult opposition in defending the basketball championship. At the present time the team has a 1-1 record with eight tough games ahead of them. In varsity sports, Brothers Johnson and Templin wear the varsity basketball uniform while four Delt freshmen, Wilson, Nickerson, Dickerson, and Pride, play ball for the frosh team. In wrestling, returning Delt Lettermen Witt and Warren are proving themselves tougher than last year. Freshman Steve Jay was wrestling on the first team until he was severely injured in a match.

The social scene for the Wabash Delts has greatly expanded this year. In addition to the regular dance week ends, faculty dinners, and campus Christmas open house, the Delts have had an exchange with the Butler Pi Phis and are planning a spring party with the Kappas from DePauw. On campus, the chapter has shown itself to be fully active in the semiweekly parties sponsored by the IFC. Already the social chairman and his committee are preparing for next semester's social events including Sweetheart week end, the initiation dance, two record dances, and, of course, the Pan-Hel week end.

Since the last epistle to THE RAINBOW, the chapter has installed a new stair carpet and bought a new baby-grand piano. With the coming of the second semester, the men of Beta Psi are looking forward to improved progress on the new addition and new heights at Wabash, especially in scholarship.

Although the University had scheduled winter quarter to begin January fourth, quite a few Gamma Mu Delts did not find their way back to the Shelter in time for the first few days of school. It seems that the surprising Huskies captivated their attention at the Rose Bowl classic in Pasadena.

This classic victory soon faded out of the picture as the quarter progressed. Mid-quarter found the Delts campaigning for Tom Warren for freshman class president. In other areas of campus activities, we find Jim Todd elected as JIFC vice-president and Wally Tweden becoming a member of Oval Club, an upperclassmen's honorary. Scabbard and Blade again this year found four new Delt names on its roster; they were Fred Putney, Wally Tweden, Jim Harrington, and Larry Henshaw, which brought the total to 12 active Delt members. Other Delts in campus work are George Stewart, Tyee minor sports editor, and Jim Roser, who is presently head of the managerial council for all University athletics.

The social calendar for winter quarter was filled with many very enjoyable events. The first dance of the quarter was a real "stomping" affair called the Barn Dance. This was followed by the active dance, which was put on by the pledges. We entered an act in the junior class variety show that was an interesting version of a "beatnik" band. Intermingled with these events we had numerous exchanges and firesides. Toward the latter part of the quarter we began harmonizing with the Thetas for Song Fest. We will be working for our second straight win of this coveted trophy.

The pledge class, now 38 strong, showed its strength and drive by obtaining a 2.43 grade point average in fall quarter. With such a record as this we have many hopes for an outstanding year.

Since October, Epsilon Gamma's men have been a bunch of busy people. Our barbershop quartet won the honor of participating in the all-Northwest barbershop contest on February 26 and 27. The meet will be held in Forest Grove, Oregon, and expenses will be paid by the University. Bill Paulson, Jim Johnson, Ken Nielson, and Mike Durkee worked hard for this honor and deserved it when they beat out last year's winners as well as several other top groups.

Recently some of the men decided to sell pink lemonade—ice cold variety—with about six inches of snow on the ground. As you may have noticed in the picture, they did so. The sale was a booming success with a total intake of $1.15 less $.80 for lemonade.

Officers were elected this fall due to the failure of our president and vice-president to return to Washington State. Our new president is Jim Estes and our vice-president is Max Bolte. Both are doing a fine job, along with our new house manager, Larry Swanson and our assistant house manager, George Gleason.

Social Chairman Bill Paulson has been doing a fine job this year with several real "swingin'" functions. One of these was our annual Christmas smorgasbord, which went off very well and was talked about in a most favorable light for some time following the function which was held on December eighth.

In the intramural sports line, the Washington State Delts had a moderately successful football season, coming in third place behind the Betas and the Phi Delts. In basketball, we are so far undefeated and hope to remain so.

The pledges put on a fine pledge dance at the end of October with a fine turnout and it was considered a complete success. Our pledge class is also doing a fine job on all of our chapter functions and are coming through with some good grades to boot. The pledge class officers are Walt Nelson, president; Jerry Estes, vice-president; and Orlin Rajala, secretary-treasurer. These men are a fine example of probably the best pledge class Epsilon Gamma has had in its relatively short history and represent also the obvious fact that we are surely (and maybe not too slowly) headed for the top, as all Delt chapters are, or should be.

STEVE RODGERS

W. & J.

On November 14, W. & J. celebrated its first Parents' Day. Delta Tau Delta was well represented with most of the ushering and registration being handled by Delts. Following the parents' luncheon, parents of the brothers were entertained at the Shelter.

After returning from Thanksgiving vacation, Gamma Chapter underwent the second round of visitation by the freshman class. The rushees were received enthusiastically by the brothers and pledges. This enthusiasm was reflected in the number who are interested in Delta Tau Delta.

Gamma Chapter braved the miserable weather of December 6 to journey to Pittsburgh and participate in the 24th annual Delt Christmas Service and Sing, sponsored by the Pittsburgh Alumni Association. The service and message by Dean High Moor at Trinity Cathedral was very inspirational. Gamma didn't fare too well in the sing but was high in the spirit shown.

Greek Swingout week end, December 11 and 12, saw much merrymaking at the Shelter. Donna Rathfon was selected Gamma's 1960 Delta Queen. She was crowned at the party preceding the dance on Friday evening. Donna succeeds 1959's Delta Queen, Pat Gerger. Following the dance, Delts and dates journeyed to a local restaurant for breakfast. Saturday night saw one of the most unusual parties ever celebrated at the Shelter. The theme was a Greek Orgy. Everyone was costumed in togas of ancient Greece. A banquet was held during the evening with the Greeks sitting on cushions and a menu including wine, fruits, and meats. The party was acclaimed as the best yet.

During Christmas vacation the living room and dining room furniture was reupholstered as a continuation of the improvements seen at the Shelter this year. A new face in the kitchen at Gamma Shelter this year is Mrs. Marie Morgan, our new cook. She has made special efforts in providing exceptionally good meals and adding real class to our parties.

Intramurals during the last half of the first semester found the Delts finishing in the first division in wrestling. At the present time, Gamma is enjoying the lead in intramural bowling, while our inexperienced basketball team is having a mediocre season.

Elections for treasurer, assistant treasurer, and steward for 1960 found Jim DeLozier, treasurer; Michael Matzko, assistant treasurer; and Bob Kabo, steward. The other officers will be elected at the beginning of the second semester.

Gamma Delts are looking forward to rush week, February 8-13, with much anticipation. Their enthusiasm is due to the reception of the Delts by the freshmen at the visitations. Plans for a full rush week have been completed and a full pledge class for 1960 is expected.

BYRON SINGER

W. & L.

In looking back over the achievements of the fall semester, the men of Phi Chapter pride themselves in many notable individual and chapter accomplishments. In intramurals, in scholarship, in sports, and in social events, the Delts of Washington and Lee University proved that their chapter was still, as it always has been, the top fraternity in Minkland.

Let's start with intramurals: we find the Delts in second place in the intramural ratings, close behind the first-place spot and planning to take over their proper place in intramurals soon. The Delts were the only house on campus to enter the finals in golf, football, and handball. Under the inspired leadership of our intramural director, Ned Ames, the Phi intramural swimming team won first place by outdoing every other fraternity on campus. In tennis, basketball, and bowling the Delts have shown determined spirit by playing against uneven odds and winning—especially in tennis, where freshman support showed how the pledges knew how to pitch in and participate for the glory of Phi Chapter and Delta Tau Delta.

In varsity sports, the gridiron players of Delta Tau Delta practically ran the team and led the Washington and Lee Generals to one of the best seasons they have had in many years. Steve Suttle at quarterback was extremely proficient in either passing to Ends Windy Weed and Ned Hobbs, or handing-off to Fullback Doug Martin, or pitching out to Speedster Jim Hickey. Up in the forward wall, keen offensive and defensive play was demonstrated by next year's captain, Terry Fohs, rugged guards, Bart Dick and George Cruger, while mean man, Bill Wheeler, did his share of stopping the opposition's offensive before it could get into the secondary where Jerry Hyatt and last year's captain, Bill Young, would always move in for the kill. On the freshman team much promise of future great ball playing was demonstrated by Delt pledges, notably Bob Payne, Charlie Gummy, and John Grifins.

On the wrestling squad, unbeaten Danny Dyer reigned supreme, while Pledges Dave Montgomery and Tom Andrews also showed their stuff. Turning to soccer, All-American candidate and captain, Bob Lathrop, was a great mainstay in the Generals' line-up, while Pledges Bob Pagano and Chuck Beggs kicked the soccer ball around enough to earn much praise and varsity letters. Washington and Lee is now on the way to a successful basketball season, under the direction of an old Phi Chapter man, Bob McHerry. And one of the big reasons why the Generals are doing so well is a sophomore Delt, Mike Monier. Pledge Dave Grogan has also shown his well co-ordinated abilities at being a hoopster and will certainly be a first-string Mink by his sophomore year.

For the third consecutive year, the men of Phi Chapter, under the fabulously varied imagination of Don Thalacker, have copped first place in the homecomings decorations contest. The theme of the first-place winner was "Knock the Wind Out of Their Pipes," which was quite appropriate since W. & L. was playing a team called the Tartans. The decoration consisted of a gigantic gloved hand, representing the Generals, balled up in a fist ready to strike a rather forceful blow into a bagpipe done in Tartan plaid. The entire show was months in planning, and took more than two weeks to put together carefully.

Phi Chapter bids good-bye to two of its members who graduated in February. They are Russ Mickler and Bob Lathrop, both men typical of the quality of men that are in the ranks of Phi Chapter and recognized on every level for their excellence. Lathrop was vice-president of the chapter, All-American soccer player, Dean's List student, and plans to be a teacher in the classics. Mickler, on the other hand, was a business school major and plans to work for a retail food chain in his home town, Jacksonville, Florida. Russ was active in all the intramural activities, a star of the annual SWMSF's minstrel show, and well-liked by students and faculty members as well. The Delts wish these men good luck in their every endeavor, and sincerely hope that they will drop by and see their fraternity brothers every chance they get.

Once every four years, Washington and Lee attracts the eyes of the nation by staging their mock convention. This is a faithful reproduction of the national conventions, consisting of parties, smokers, parades, nominations, and the whole works! A special attraction for this year's mock democratic convention will be Miss America of 1960, Miss Lynda Lee Mead, sponsored by Delt Dave Cook's home state, New Jersey. As usual, the Delts have tied down many important posts in this famous event and here are just a few of the more important posts and the key men who hold them: art co-ordinator, Don Thalacker; chairman of the Texas delegation, Walt Cremin; chairman of the Kentucky delegation, Bill Young; chairman of the Virginia delegation, Ned Ames; chairman of the Michigan delegation, Warren Welsh; and Dave Cook is political boss of the Rhode Island delegation. Because of the importance and the responsibility involved in these aforementioned jobs, men of Phi Chapter proved themselves the most capable of holding them down.

But the Delts at Washington and Lee don't look back as much as they look forward and push on to do bigger, better, and greater services to their Fraternity and their school. With the high quality of men Phi Chapter has in its pledge class, we expect every one of these freshmen to become actives and to carry on the fine reputation that the Delts of years gone by have established for Phi Chapter at Washington and Lee University.

JOHN C. TOWLER

Wesleyan

During the fall the Gamma Zeta Delts have been active in all aspects of campus life.

Jan Hogendorn, who is doing an honors thesis on the economic situation in Nigeria, was the eighth-ranking speaker in the Pittsburgh national debate tournament. Jan had led the team to 20 straight victories until they bowed to a humorous and learned group from Cambridge University of London. Jan is also college body secretary-treasurer and parliamentarian of the senate.

The Cardinal wrestling team suffered a great loss when Captain Al Williams was put on the inactive list by a serious illness. Al hopes to be back in action by the time of the New England tournament in March. Last year he placed second in his weight class.

Ron Loose also holds down a varsity wrestling berth, while Bill Roberts and Howie Black grapple for the yearlings.

The Delts are also active on the swimming team: John Lutton on the varsity and Lew Whitney, John Harvey, and Harvey Baggy vying for slots on the frosh team.

The managerial staff for the mermen is also filled with Delts. Bill Haffner is manager with George Walker, Jim Dossinger, and Bill Grossman his assistants.

Gracing the ranks of the Glee Club and Choral Society, which impressed the campus with its annual Candlelight Concert with Smith College, are George Walker, Rich Thomasin, Bill Everett, John Harvey, and Bill Roberts.

On the staff of the Argus, the campus semiweekly, are Ed Collins, sports managing editor, and Bruce Butler and George McKenzie, desk editors. Jim Dossinger and Keith Willis are reporters, while Frosh Dean Schooler and Dave Linton are undergoing the training program.

Fred Scherrer is the circulation manager for the paper, in addition to being on the college body finance committee.

Under the direction of Steward Nils Wagenhals, the house is undergoing extensive repairs and additions. New chairs were purchased for the dining room. The piano was completely overhauled and restrung. Over $1500 is now being spent on a complete redecoration of the ladies' room, while an additional $300 is being used to renovate the basement party room.

The chapter greatly enjoyed the fall social season: pledge parties in October and alumni week end and fall house parties in November.

On the Friday night of fall house parties the Shelter was transformed into a "den of beats," with its attendant poetry readings. Saturday night's party was more formal, however, and on Sunday the Delts saw the Kingston Trio in the gym. The latter group was brought to the campus by the college body social chairman, Bob Kirkpatrick.

As this goes to press the Delts are placing the fall behind them in view of the oncoming semester exams.

With new opportunities opening up the second semester, the Delts are looking forward to quite a successful year!

GEORGE MCKENZIE

Western Reserve

Homecoming this year was approached with a great deal of interest. Our opponent was John Carroll University, and Co-chairmen Joe Macys and Jim Ellis decided on the theme, "Quotes Against Carroll," involving a stock ticker and two large figures, one representing John Carroll, the other Western Reserve. At the presentation between halves of the homecoming game we were awarded second place.

The intramural race is a close one. At the moment we have a slight lead but the outlook is good because our "A" League basketball team is undefeated and our "B" League team has a 3-1 record. There are quite a few more games to be played so if we can keep on at this pace we could gain a considerable lead. We are holding our own in departments other than basketball. Our volleyball team was within one game of the undergraduate championship when it was defeated and we won the University badminton championship for the second straight year.

This year brought something very new and different in the way of winter formals for Zeta Chapter. A winter week end at a ski lodge in Champion, Pennsylvania, was arranged for, and at five o'clock on Friday we all climbed into a bus and were off for an enjoyable week end, climaxed by the dance Saturday night.

Terry Wenger is one of the first five varsity basketball players, and Pledges Bill Ostrander and Ed Nabring are two outstanding members of the freshman team.

Zeta Chapter continues to be a leader in campus affairs. Rex Hyre and Joe Macys were recently initiated into Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism honorary, and Bob Weaver, Rex Hyre, and Jack Waslyn were appointed section heads of the yearbook. Brother Waslyn is also the yearbook's chief photographer. Tom Reichert made his contribution to homecoming by organizing the queen contest. At Honors Chapel, Brothers Reichert and Bob Weiss were admitted to Phi Society, the freshman scholastic honorary, and Mike Ostergard, who is studying in Spain this year, was admitted to Omicron Delta Kappa.

This semester will see the graduation of Jack McLeod and Dick Prouty, who plan to attend Ohio State Medical School. Other seniors who have been accepted to and plan to attend graduate schools are: Al Robinson, who received a $5500 Binz Scholarship to Western Reserve Medical School; Pat Walsh, who will also be attending Western Reserve Medical School; and Pete Nintcheff, who plans to go to George Washington University Medical School.

This semester has been a successful one, but we are already looking ahead. Elections produced the following men to guide us in the coming year: Ed Crum, president; Bob Weiss, vice-president; Rex Hyre, treasurer; Jerry Ault, assistant treasurer; Charles Zernechel, recording secretary; Bob Boerner, corresponding secretary; Jack Waslyn, sergeant at arms; and Gordon Nichols, guide. Bob Weaver has been selected as rush chairman for the second semester and we hope for some good prospective rushees to help us maintain the excellent achievements of Zeta Chapter.

Westminster

Delta Omicron successfully ended the 1959 social season with its annual pig roast, followed by the Christmas formal. The two events provided an exciting contrast in entertainment and the two weeks spent on the formal by Social Chairman Carter Benson and the co-operative freshmen seemed to be worth every minute of it.

The 1959 intramural program was highlighted with the Delts placing first in the Dad's Day track meet and second in softball. These two impressive performances, coupled with placing four men on the varsity basketball squad, Dave Wright, Lanny Larason, Bill Bennett, and Doug Carlander, pushed us into first place in the race for the athletic supremacy trophy.

Individual honors were given to Bill Dodson and Dave Wright as they were both elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Along with Bailey Word, the above two were also initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, an outstanding leadership fraternity.

At the beginning of February, President Dave Wright's administration bows out to President Jim Vaughn and the following capable men: vice-president, Bill Bennett; treasurer, Jerry Powell; assistant treasurer, Dave Bynum; recording secretary, John Taylor; corresponding secretary, Carter Benson; guide, Dick Smith; sergeant at arms, Payson Adams.

On the week end of January 9-10 our chapter advisor, Bob Kroening, and Payson Adams attended the installation of Delta Tau Delta's newest chapter, Epsilon Zeta, at Sam Houston State College in Huntsville, Texas. Although the round trip was 1600 miles, they thoroughly enjoyed the visit and we sincerely wish Epsilon Zeta much success in the future.

Although '60 promises to be a great year, the loss of three outstanding seniors at semesters, Bailey Word, Silvio Lombardi, and John Woods, leaves a gap which we hope our fine pledge class can fill. As the same slack last year was taken up by the productive sophomores, we look forward to the new year with hopes that it will be one of the best Delta Omicron has experienced.

DAVID BYNUM

West Virginia

The Delts are again off to an auspicious start as the Gamma Delta Shelter took on a look of festive cheer for the holidays. The Christmas party was the undisputed hit of the social season. A tip of the hat to Dave Rowe and his committee. Refreshments for the occasion were prepared by Mrs. Chipps and Mrs. Beavers.

The "Old Frat House" gave forth a little merriment and happiness when the annual underprivileged children's Christmas party was held in December. Interjection here of a little credit to Emil Johnson for a job well done. Mrs. Beavers, our devoted and loved housemother, contributed the sparkle and efficiency that only a housemother can. Her ingeniousness and experience add polish to every social event.

"Chippie" is nothing short of a culinary perfectionist. Rumor has it that Jim Westfall has controlling interest in Procter and Gamble. He continues to raise the Dow Jones averages by creating an unsuppressed demand for peanut butter and jelly and personally devouring immense quantities of both.

The new "Shylock" of the Shelter is Tom Young and assisting him in the task of gathering in the finances will be Doug Walker. John Lukens has been appointed pledge trainer. He has aspirations of developing these future Delts into a high tide of spirit and new ideas.

Miss Judy Coyne is the Delta Tau Delta nominee for Miss Monticola. The yearbook queen will be announced sometime during the second semester.

We feel confident that she will reign supreme, as did many others before her who have been selected by the discerning eyes of the brethren.

Tom Spelsberg is the proud owner of a tremendous trophy which represents the second-place individual award for the Southern Conference cross country meet. Tom also is the leader of the cultural committee, which recently brought Dave Brubeck and Chris Conner to the campus.

Bruce Meredith continues to spark the Mountaineer rifle team as he is well on his way to breaking the yearly individual record. Joe Johnston remains a prominent member of the wrestling team and Ron Klug and Tom Young represent the University tankers.

Fred Garner recently received his Regular Army appointment through his selection as a distinguished military student. Congratulations are in order for Sam Urso and Tom Young who were recently initiated into Scabbard and Blade.

Oswald continues to dominate all facets of the Delt menagerie as he alone remains as our mascot. Jack Shepherd's fish went down for water but never again came up for air.

The B basketball team will be out to garner its second consecutive trophy during the coming months and everyone is commending Joe Johnston for leading Gamma Delta to victory at the "Trinity Sing" in Pittsburgh. The trophy-clock still remains above the hearth. We at West Virginia are looking forward to another prosperous year.

BRUCE MEREDITH

Whitman

Delt Rho started off the new academic year by pledging 17 top men. Included in this year's pledge class is Fridtjof Mangschou, a native of Oslo, Norway, who worked his way half-way around the world to attend Whitman College.

The pledges, under Pledge Trainer Jack Thomas, staged an excellent pledge dance with a South Pacific theme. They also attended a not too successful sneak.

On the sports field this year, the Delts took a second-place tie in football, through the talents of Brothers Bucky Sellers and Lowry Gilbert. In volleyball, we topped the competition with a 10-0 season to win the trophy. Brother Ross Kennedy became the first man of 1960 to attain the summit of Oregon's formidable Mt. Hood.

Politically, Delta Rho made its traditional fine showing in the recent class elections. Kirk Prindle was elected president of the junior class and Doug Byrkit was chosen treasurer. Brother Byrkit also served as homecoming cochairman.

"The Group," Whitman's folk-singing five, including Brothers Kirk Prindle and Mike Moloso, made a record this fall which has sold well in the Pacific Northwest.

With semester finals coming up, Whitman's Delts are out to repeat their fine scholastic record by keeping the scholarship trophy, won last year.

EMERY BAYLEY, JR.

Wisconsin

Excitement mounted at Beta Gamma as we approached one of the biggest social events of the year—a trip to Minnesota for the football week end November 21-23. Accompanying us on our gay excursion to the home of Beta Eta Chapter were approximately 50 Alpha Gam beauties. The success of our week end was due mostly to the wonderful hospitality extended by our Minnesota brethren and we wish to thank them and compliment their spirit and ingenuity. We are certainly looking forward to playing host to BH next fall!

Two Delts helping to spur the football team to its Rose Bowl clinching victory at Minnesota that Saturday were Head Cheerleader Jon Stillman and Cheerleader Bob Bing. Next fall Jon will turn over the responsibilities of head cheerleader to Bob.

In December, the social spot light fell on our winter formal. After dining at a nearby cabaret, Delts and their dates returned to the Shelter for the formal dance. Music was supplied by Brother "Shorty" Schaefer's band and the Christmas spirit was augmented by a fantastic decorating job, including snow covered Christmas trees, snowballs (in the form of popcorn balls) hanging from the ceiling, lots of blue lights, and a glowing yule log in the fireplace.

Brother Kurt Smrcina was elected captain of the swimming team, while one of the mainstays of Wisconsin's young basketball team has been Mart Gharritty. Bob Coleman has seen action in fencing and Brother Jon Stillman and Pledge Chuck Meyst represent us in gymnastics. Jon is captain of the gymnastics team and is also serving as president of the "W" Club.

Results of our recent election gave us these new officers: Arnie Roebuck, president; Bob Jautz, vice-president; Bob Babiarz, treasurer; Bob Conner, recording secretary; and Paul Althouse, corresponding secretary.

Delt Alumni Chapters

This year the music was excellent and West Virginia, again, was the winner, thus retaining possession of the "Clock" for another year. Jarvis Cotton was in charge of the "Sing Competition," and Dick Swanson was chairman of the Christmas Service. Bill Collins sang "Delta Shelter," and, as usual, did a very fine job.

The current officers of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter are: president, William Swanson; vice-president, Earl D. Hollinshead, Jr.; treasurer, Robert G. Taylor; and secretary, Robert N. Craft.

Bob Taylor reports that dues for 1960 are coming in, but not fast enough! If you have forgotten to pay yours, please send your check for $3.00 to Robert G. Taylor, Room 1814, 525 Wm. Penn Place, Pittsburgh 19, Pennsylvania.

For good fellowship once a week, how about attending our weekly luncheons which are held every Monday, at 12 o'clock noon, at the Oliver Building Restaurant? You are always welcome!

Plans are now being made for the annual Founders Day celebration and baseball dinner and Earl D. Hollinshead, Jr., our Vice President, will be the chairman.

ROBERT N. CRAFT

Portland

Our Christmas party, held at Portland Golf Club, was a wonderful success. At least 175 Delts, wives, and guests attended and we all agreed this was our top function in years. Instead of a week end date we scheduled the Wednesday before Christmas. There were doubts about the midweek time but the large turnout should make it a permanent feature of the party. Paul Peterson was chairman of the dance and his good work was much appreciated.

The Portland directory will soon be out with about 300 Delts listed. Anyone desiring to place an ad should call Paul Eckelman.

Plans are now being completed for the Founders Day Banquet.

WILLIAM E. KESSINGER

St. Louis

Since the St. Louis Alumni Chapter is heavily populated with Gamma Kappa Delts, the Missouri University Tigers trip to the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day was the subject of much conversation in December and early January at our weekly Monday luncheons. Although the Tigers were edged by Georgia this year, we expect to be discussing the same subject with different results next year.

Plans are under way to make this year's Founders Day Banquet bigger and better than ever before. The date has not been set at this writing but it is expected to be late in March, as usual. If this event is not already history when you read this article, we certainly hope that you will make it a point to join all your friends for this "once-a-year" occasion. Not only is it an enjoyable social event, but it also provides aspiring officers a chance to campaign for votes to be cast in the April elections for the 1960-61 chapter officials.

ART KIRKPATRICK

Tucson

New officers elected at our September meeting were John McDougald, Delta Kappa, '46, president; Hugh Arnold, Tau, '26, vice-president; and Bill Coons, Gamma Pi, '39, re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

At our October meeting, Bill Stone, faculty adviser and head of student housing at the U. of A., reported on the housing problem of the local chapter and possible solutions. Bill Potts, president of EE chapter then gave us a résumé of fall rushing, which resulted in a chapter membership of 37 actives and pledges.

Francis Osborne, Gamma Kappa, '18, has been drafted from our ranks to act as alumni adviser to the local chapter.
