COVER: Selected as the subject for the first cover picture under the new cover design, featuring color photographs, is Gamma Lambda's Shelter at Purdue University. This house is one of the best constructed in the entire Fraternity. Because it has been well-maintained and is still in excellent condition, Gamma Lambda will meet its needs for additional space by constructing an addition to this house, to be commenced in the near future, rather than by erecting a new building. We hope you will be as enthusiastic about the new cover design as we are.

The Past History of the Fraternity Now Being Compiled

By F. DARRELL MOORE, Ohio, '16

Editor's Note: The author of this article has been busily engaged in carrying out an assignment of investigating the possibilities of writing a history of the Fraternity. He has spent the summer months literally digging into the old records of the Fraternity available at the Central Office and engaging in correspondence in an attempt to corral other memorabilia, letters, and writings not previously deposited with the Central Office for safekeeping.

There are few, if any, better suited for the task than Professor Moore. His keen interest in Delta Tau Delta's history over the past 45 years gave him a good head start on the job at hand. Ten years ago he concluded the research that resulted in his authorship of a history of Beta Chapter entitled, The First Ninety Years. A professor of accounting at Purdue University, Darrell Moore has had a wonderful background of service to the Fraternity as a chapter adviser, a vice-president and President of the Eastern Division, as Supervisor of Scholarship, as a special representative of the Arch Chapter on many missions, and as a Karnea Hound, and, for his substantial service to the Fraternity, he has been cited to the Distinguished Service Chapter. He is the author of a scholarship manual, Let's Talk About Scholarship.

For many years our "unofficial" historian, he now becomes quite "official." He will be appreciative of assistance from Delts across the country who can lend their aid through either memory or old, and, perhaps, forgotten letters and writings.

We will all look forward with eager anticipation to future reports from Professor Moore as he continues his study and research.

SEVERAL ATTEMPTS have been made during the past 100 years to develop the history of Delta Tau Delta. They met with varying success. Some of this lack of success was attributable to the scarcity of reliable information about the early years of the Fraternity, and the paucity of written records for the first two decades. With the establishment of the Executive Council in 1884, our first General Secretary attempted to collect such records with little success.

Early volumes of our magazine, THE CRESCENT, devoted much of its content to rescuing much of the historical data from forgetfulness. No written records of the first chapter at Bethany had survived; none was in the national archives from the Jefferson Alpha (Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pennsylvania); a meagre file of correspondence with the existent chapters was all that was rescued from the demise of the Delaware Alpha (Ohio Wesleyan University). There is evidence that what was probably our first convention was held in Pittsburgh in 1866; but nothing of its minutes is known. The minutes of the conventions from 1869 to 1873, in handwritten form, were collected later and printed. A few years ago in some mislaid documents of Beta Chapter (Ohio), the minutes of 1868 and 1869 were discovered, along with the original charter of that chapter, a handwritten copy of the Constitution of 1863, and the chapter's bylaws for the same period. After 1873, convention minutes are in printed form, and, together with the CRESCENT-RAINBOW, give an invaluable documentary background to our history.

During a lifelong period of Fraternity activity and service, Henry Bruck collected copies of correspondence of members of the Executive Council and its successor, the Arch Chapter. These were in old-fashioned letter boxes alphabetized under the name of the signer of the letter. Up to 1900 few copies of outgoing correspondence were kept. From some internal evidence in the surviving correspondence, many of these officers kept what was known as a letter book. By using a special kind of ink, a copy of the letter could be transferred to the letter book. Unfortunately, none of these letter books was included in the Bruck material. Even after his retirement from the Arch Chapter in the early 1920's, Mr. Bruck retained possession of the files. Only after his death did it come into the possession of the Central Office; and it remained in storage in a Hartford warehouse until the Central Office was moved to Indianapolis in 1932. Only during the past few months has this material been re-examined and classified; and a large part of this research is still to be done.

James Eaton, whose name looms large in the annals of the Allegheny Alpha, was the first person who attempted a formal history. He presented it to the 1876 Convention. There the history was accepted by Convention action, and Eaton was given a year to revise it. Then it was to be submitted to the 1877 Convention previous to publication. At the next Convention his history was referred to the Alpha, to do with as Alpha thought best. It thus became one of the more important series of ten articles published in the first volume of the new Fraternity magazine which came out as THE CRESCENT. James Eaton was peculiarly an excellent choice for the history, as he had participated personally in the preservation of the Fraternity by recovering what little information was available from the betrayal of the Fraternity by the Delaware Alpha; and he had provided the leadership necessary during the interim before the next convention, and during the first year of the designation of the Allegheny Chapter as the Alpha. With the publication of the Fifth General Catalogue of Delta Tau Delta, under the auspices of the Rho Chapter (Stevens), a revision of Eaton's history was made, correcting many of its inaccuracies and improving it by conciseness. A. P. Trautwein, in his researches, located two of the Founders who were lost, and also proved that three of the Founders who had been listed as deceased in Eaton's history upon the authority of Eugene Tarr, another Founder, were still living. He revised the list of Founders that had appeared in the first four catalogues and came up with a list of seven. Later the eighth name was added. His researches were conducted by personal interviews, particularly with Founders John L. N. Hunt and Jacob S. Lowe, as well as by correspondence. As might be expected after a hiatus of 25 years, memories were conflicting and confusing. In the files is a letter from Eugene Tarr written in 1880, in which he says that his memory is so hazy that he could give little help. Yet, the Conventions of 1873 and 1874 elected him as Historian. After the two years that Eaton served, no Historian was elected until 1886, when Trautwein was elected.

In 1904 and 1905, Henry Bruck published in THE RAINBOW a series of five articles, which he called "Historical Notes," that are invaluable source material for a history more than 50 years later. As his friend from Rho Chapter days, Trautwein, had done, he interviewed and wrote to clear up vague or forgotten data. Much of his notes on first reading might sound dull; but a rereading emphasizes his passionate search for the truth and his application of his own 30 years of experience to help fill in the gaps by intelligent guess work. There is little in his articles that one can quarrel with or correct; but there are a few of his inferences that can be proved incorrect from records that were not available to him. Another early giant was Lowrie McClurg, an important undergraduate officer while the Alpha still controlled; a member of the extension committee and later still of the Executive Council. On the last named he served as Treasurer and later as President, continuing as President when the Council became the Arch Chapter. After his retirement from the Arch Chapter, he was elected Historian. His main researches resulted in a RAINBOW series in 1892 on our defunct chapters. Later, he collaborated with C. Robert Churchill in a two-article history of the Rainbow Fraternity and its consolidation with Delta Tau Delta. Incidentally, the most interesting phase of Churchill's research is buried in his report to the Karnea, and will be resurrected later as a fascinating report of how he started from scratch, literally, and developed the history as well as the membership list of the Rainbow Fraternity. Alvan Duerr once described his labors as one of the most remarkable pieces of Fraternity research and scholarship that he had ever heard of.

When Gordon Jones was Editor of THE RAINBOW, after World War II, he presented a series on the Fraternity's presidents which was well researched and written. He did not have access to the Bruck files, and hence could not savor the essence of the letters that passed among the giants of the 1880's and the 1890's: McClurg, Colvin, Bruck, Hughes, Duerr, Babcock, and the rest.

My own personal interest in Delta Tau Delta's history traces back to undergraduate days at Ohio University, when the chapter president, Samuel Renshaw, now a professor of psychology at Ohio State University, would take up volume after volume of THE RAINBOW and regale us either with the articles, or the give-and-take of the Greek World, or the Greek Press sections. This was supplemented by my contact with a lifelong friend who had been in the chapter and was still resident in Athens, E. Roy Lash, who knew much of the chapter's history. That interest led ten years ago to a history of Beta Chapter published under the title of The First Ninety Years.

Just as a knowledge of our country's history, its trials and tribulations, its victories and defeats, its great men and its less than great, will give us a better understanding of our country, so can a knowledge of our national Fraternity history give a deeper understanding and a greater appreciation of why our Fraternity and the fraternity system as a whole has developed and changed. Each chapter should preserve its records and maintain its new member-training in the history and tradition of its own background.

If the present research finally develops into an organized history of Delta Tau Delta, it should have a maximum of human interest stories. If your chapter has such stories in its background, they should be sent to the Central Office for preservation and possible inclusion.

Already quite a number of interesting and important facts have been disclosed by the research. Several important records that were unknown because of being uncatalogued have been brought to light. Fraternity methods and practices which are quite different from those of today are a part of the Fraternity's history. Thirty years ago I heard Bishop Locke of

The Scholastic Ladder—Up or Down?

By DR. FREDERICK D. KERSHNER, JR., Supervisor of Scholarship

THE FINAL REPORT of the National Interfraternity Conference for the academic year of 1959-60, somewhat delayed by a series of unusual accidents in the tabulating center at Storrs, Connecticut, was received last spring and has already reached you in its bare statistical form. Therefore it is high time to step back, take another look at these figures, and examine their deeper significance for the Fraternity as a whole.

Where did Delta Tau Delta stand in scholarship at the end of 1959-1960? In many respects, her record was an outstanding one. For the first time since pre-World War II days the Fraternity had better than half its chapters (excluding those where university officials sent no reports, for one reason or another) equal to or above the All Men's Average on their respective campuses. The exact figures were 41 chapters (51.95 per cent) equal to or above the AMA, and 40 below. "Equal to the All Men's Average" was important this year, since no less than three chapters (Wisconsin, Stanford, and Santa Barbara) emerged with a 0.00 percentile in terms of the AMA. All in all, this constitutes a high point in the Fraternity's slow but steady rise in scholastic performance during the last three years.

While we deserve our own self-congratulations, plus those which we received from NIC officials, it is sobering to view this record in a broader, all-fraternity perspective. There are, of course, many fraternities with better records for 1959-1960 than Delta Tau Delta, like Kappa Nu (100 per cent), Farmhouse (93.75 per cent), or Tau Delta Phi (90.48 per cent). But these are small nationals with relatively few chapters, and their achievements are hardly comparable with our own. Among the 62 NIC members, regardless of size, Delta Tau Delta ranked 26th. Among the largest fraternities (50 or more chapters) we ranked eight of 25. This is a creditable position, but hardly one of outstanding scholastic leadership. Yet, Delta Tau Delta is a Fraternity which possesses a history of past leadership in almost every area of fraternity activity, very much including scholarship.

To what can we attribute our upward progress? In large measure it stems from the new scholarship improvement program adopted after the "Valley Forge" low point of 1955-56, of course. This includes (1) the scholarship probation system unfortunately familiar to so many chapters, (2) the new Division Scholarship Improvement Awards, (3) the Scholarship chairman rating sheets for self-analysis, (4) the Duerr Scholarship Awards for Advanced (graduate) Study, together with personal letters to key chapters, and fuller scholarship progress reports to Division Conferences. But most important, in my view, is the determination and sustained effort of certain undergraduate Delts to do something about poor chapter scholarship, a spirit which they have somehow managed to instill in their active and pledge brothers, with highly gratifying results in many (but not nearly enough) cases.

Here are some notable examples of what I mean: in the Southern Division, Beta Xi (Tulane) moved up from a minus 12.32 to a plus 4.38, while Epsilon Alpha (Auburn) did almost as well, climbing from minus 1.5 to plus 5.43. In the Western Division, no one equaled the startling ascent of Delta Xi (North Dakota) from minus 2.75, and last place on campus, to plus 4.39 and only five places from the top. The Northern Division saw Beta Phi (Ohio State) rise from minus 7.62 to plus 1.06. In the Eastern Division, Beta Nu (MIT) engineered a tremendous leap from minus 8.23 to plus 5.42, approached only by Gamma Delta's transformation of a minus 0.45 to a robust plus 6.17. Of course, there were others who did superb jobs—there had to be—but these chapters rate top places on the 1959-1960 honor roll.

It is very instructive to compare our scholastic performance for this, the best scholarship year in the 15 since World War II, with 1938-1939, the best scholarship year in an equivalent period preceding the war. Today we are eighth of 25 among the large fraternities of 50 or more chapters; then we were first of 16. Today we have 38 chapters above the campus AMA, three equal to it, and 40 below it; then we had 43 chapters above the AMA and 27 below it. There are other interesting comparisons which I am going to present in tabular form:

What can we say about Delta Tau Delta's future scholarship prospects? From the nationwide view, it looks like tough sledding. Between 1958-59 and 1959-60 the entire fraternity system improved its scholarship, rising from 46.5 per cent of chapters above or equal to the AMA to 49.02 per cent above, the greatest jump upward in the history of the NIC. The whole university world, and the fraternity world also, have become keenly scholarship-conscious. This means that there won't be any inert bodies for the Deltas to climb over, as there used to be. Instead, there is increased competition to pledge good scholarship prospects. Continuing our advance won't be easy, then. But scholarship, like so many fraternity concerns, is in the last analysis a local problem. For a few chapters it means how to stay high; for many others it means how to climb higher; for the benighted remainder it means how to get out of the coalhole.

There are certain striking facts which emerge from our comparison of the Delt scholarship statistics of 1938-1939 with those of 1959-1960. In the first place, it seems crystal clear that we have too few really outstanding scholarship chapters, compared to earlier years when almost 30 per cent of our 68 chapters sported super-high averages consistently. For in 1959-1960, one finds only 7 per cent of plus ten chapters. Obviously, we need a greater effort from our best scholarship chapters, many of which have let us down by contenting themselves with being good but not excellent. This is borne out by the further fact that we had five first-place-on-campus chapters in 1938-1939 (7.3 per cent of all chapters) compared to two first-place-on-campus chapters today (2.4 per cent of all chapters). And, if one makes it first-, second-, and third-place holders, the contrast remains great—21 chapters (31 per cent) in 1938-1939 against 12 chapters (15 per cent) today.

When one glances toward the cellar-dwelling sector of the Fraternity, this impression is further confirmed, for we have fewer coalhole chapters today than in the "championship year" of 1938-1939. The figures are really surprising: 12 chapters were -10 or below in 1938-1939 (17.6 per cent), but only nine in 1959-1960 (11 per cent). Last place chapters are rarer today, also, at least proportionately. This would appear to indicate that our drive for better scholarship has so far been most effective with the poor and average chapters, and least effective with the upper echelon of scholastic achievers.

One can only conclude that further scholastic progress will amount to little unless every chapter of Delta Tau Delta makes a special effort, especially the potentially outstanding groups; otherwise, we will stand still at a time when the whole fraternity system is advancing, and this means a relative decline. What can we do? Basically, the problem of scholarship improvement is one of incentives and means. Take incentives: why is it that certain students, some in fraternities and some not, drive themselves to achieve superior academic records in today's world? The answer to this question holds the solution to effective rushing of good scholastic prospects.

Or, take means: how does any group (in our case, a social fraternity) persuade its younger generation to realize the values and idealism of its founders (including, for us, the important value and ideal of high scholastic accomplishment)? The several answers to this question would solve most of our pledge training and alumni relations problems. They would also eliminate the suspicion of college administrators that fraternity membership does an undergraduate more harm than good, and one would hear no more about delayed rush requirements. In future issues of THE RAINBOW, we hope to discuss such questions in more detail, and I would appreciate any reactions or experiences you have had at your chapter, since this is a co-operative active-alumni effort. Address any letters to the Supervisor of Scholarship or to the Central Office. This is autumn, and the 1960-1961 record is already completed, so "next year" for us is now, 1961-1962. Let's make it the best academic year in modern Delt history!

Past History Being Compiled

the Methodist Church describe some of the antics he had participated in as an undergraduate which would be of tremendous interest had he written them down, or had tape-recorders been available at that time. Owen Orr would hold forth by the hour on some of the humorous practices of Beta Gamma (Wisconsin) in their rushing procedure. How unfortunate that he did not record them! Such is the human interest revolving around the chapters of many years ago, quite different from modern-day experience and hence of greater interest in building tradition in 1961.

Later articles in THE RAINBOW will develop certain phases of our tradition. If any of the data can be developed further, or if some of it is incorrect, we shall welcome help. For example: E. H. Pierce in 1898, Volume XXII, No. 2 of THE RAINBOW, had a series "First Things in Deltaism." On the basis of the information available to him, he thought his list was correct, but three things at least were wrong: he listed seven founders, omitting Alfred's name; he said that the earliest Constitution was at Alpha, but Beta has two earlier Constitutions, both now deposited in the Central Office; his statement that the first colors of the Fraternity were Royal purple and silver gray is inaccurate, as the first was Royal Purple, to which the gray was added much later.

The research continues, the interest remains high, and the past of Delta Tau Delta emerges with increasing clarity. The final result will not be known with certainty for some time to come for much yet remains to be done. As the project continues, periodic reports will be published in THE RAINBOW.

Distinguished Service Chapter Citations Highlight Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter's 15th Annual Baseball Dinner

By WILLIAM P. RAINES, Gamma Sigma, '48

JACK KELSO, banquet chairman

JOHN GALBREATH, DSC

HARRY BIRMINGHAM, DSC, presents J. ROY DICKIE Citation to JOHN BIRMINGHAM for delivery to Mr. Dickie in Florida

ON FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1961, the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter marked the 15th anniversary of what has become a tradition among Delts in that city—the annual baseball dinner and Founders Day celebration. Two Citations to the Distinguished Service Chapter were awarded at this year's banquet—one of them, appropriately, going to the man around whom the whole idea of this annual Delt alumni gathering was built.

It was 1946, shortly after John Galbreath, Ohio, '20, had become part owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates Baseball Club that the Delt Alumni Association in the Steel City hit upon the idea of combining the annual Founders Day dinner with a program honoring Brother Galbreath and the Pirate organization. The resultant banquet and baseball game outing was so successful that it has been a high point of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter's activities every spring since then. At the invitation of his personal friend, past Fraternity President Norman MacLeod, Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, attended the 1946 Pittsburgh banquet and heckled Brothers Galbreath and Herron about their hapless Pirates.

Four years later it was Rickey who had on his shoulders the problem of how to raise the Bucs from the National League cellar. In the process of building a farm system and laying what many consider to have been the groundwork for the World Championship that finally came to the Pittsburgh Baseball Club in 1960, Branch Rickey, Ohio Wesleyan, '04, imported so many other Delts into the Pirate organization that, at one point, John Galbreath was reported to have said "If we get just one more Delt in this organization, I'm going to apply to Hugh Shields for an alumni chapter charter to hang up at Forbes Field." At the high point of Rickey's career with the Buccos, there were seven alumni of the Fraternity in the management of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club. Besides Brothers Galbreath, president of the organization, and Rickey, then general manager, the "chapter" included George Sisler, chief scout; James Herron, treasurer; Branch Rickey, Jr., vice-president in charge of the farm clubs; William Turner, assistant to Branch Rickey, Jr.; and Don Beach, chief accountant and purchasing agent. Today, Brothers Galbreath, Sisler, Herron, and Turner remain in the Forbes Field chapter, but Don Beach and Branch Rickey, Jr., have been called to the Chapter Eternal.

This year's Founders Day-baseball dinner got off on a light note, at Pittsburgh's University Club. Chairman Jack Kelso called upon The Very Reverend N. R. H. Moor, Dean of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral, for the invocation. In offering the prayer, Brother Moor asked particular favor for the Pirate team and for the umpires for the evening's ball game. The good Dean's efforts evidently paid off well for the umpires, since there were no riots or disputes on close calls at the plate, but the Pirates did not benefit equally, as they went down to a humiliating 6-0 setback at the hands of the lowly Philadelphia Phils.

Between Dean Moor's invocation and the ball game, the more than 150 Delt alumni, undergraduates, and Delt wives and sweethearts present were privileged to hear a brief report on the baseball picture by Brother Galbreath, and to witness the awarding of two Distinguished Service Chapter Citations.

The first of these Citations was to J. Roy Dickie, Gamma, '05, an outstanding Pittsburgh attorney, now retired, a former president of the Pittsburgh board of education, and a former trustee of Washington and Jefferson College. Unfortunately, Brother Harry Birmingham, Gamma, '10, read the Citation and his son, John Birmingham, a Delt and a senior at Duke University, accepted the plaque, to deliver to Brother Dickie in Florida.

In citing John Galbreath to membership in the Distinguished Service Chapter, Norman MacLeod, of the Distinguished Service Chapter Committee, called to mind valuable services to the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter and to Delt alumni in the Columbus, Ohio, area, where Brother Galbreath makes his home, as well as a number of other examples from a life that has been characterized by accomplishment and loyalty to Delta Tau Delta. One event of which Brother MacLeod took particular note was the 1950 Karnea, held at Columbus.

Upon that occasion, Brother Galbreath personally played host to the entire Delt assemblage at his beautiful Darby Dan farm near Columbus.

At Darby Dan, besides some 500 acres of corn, 200 acres of wheat, a thousand acres of grazing land, and a stock of about 200 head of white faced Herefords, John Galbreath has one of the top race horse breeding farms in America. In 1955, Fortune magazine stated that he had more than $1,500,000 invested in horse flesh. Brother Galbreath likes to see his horses run and win and has a burning desire to see one of them in the winner's circle at the Kentucky Derby. His overwhelming interest in the sport, however, is genuinely in the improvement of the breed.

In breeding race horses and in bringing to a delirious Pittsburgh its first National League pennant in 33 years, John Galbreath has applied the same combination of inspiration, skill, and resourcefulness that has made him one of the most prominent figures in American real estate. President of the company that bears his name, Brother Galbreath pioneered the concept of the "package" deal in helping large corporations find a solution to their real estate problems. For a corporation that needs a new office building, a factory, warehouse, or perhaps all three, Galbreath will work out a deal whereby he assumes the entire responsibility. He will take care of financing, building, renting, and management. The corporation pays only rent, a deductible expense. Thus, its capital is free for investment in its own business, instead of being tied up in real estate.

Gamma Theta's Dedication of New Shelter

By CLARENCE HAWK, Gamma Theta, '63

SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1961, was a day that promises to leave a glow of warmth in the hearts of Gamma Theta Delts for many years.

For June 3 marked the culmination of a 30-year dream and the dedication of a beautiful new Shelter on the Baker University campus. Loyal sons of Gamma Theta and guests converged on Baldwin from all parts of the country to experience the thrill of this moment, and to share in the long-sought commemoration of a new Delta Shelter.

Activity centered at the new bi-level construction which houses 40 men comfortably in the auspices of French Provincial design.

Though we could endlessly discuss the modern conveniences of this new dwelling, the prime factor of interest remains with the never dying spirit which established its walls. Therein lies our story—one in which men living by the Delta Creed gave their lives to see Gamma Theta brothers living in a new Shelter.

To begin the story we must go back to Gamma Theta's youth at the turn of the century. The chapter purchased a former sorority house as its first Shelter only as modern as the times. It was this same house that was in use until the completion of the new Shelter last fall.

By the 1930's the need for a new

Shelter or an extension was felt. After only brief contemplation of something better, the trying years of the depression wiped out any hopes of immediate improvement.

A second more devastating blow came with the outbreak of World War II. Constant drafting and thinning out of the college population had almost put the fire out.

But in 1942, an incentive much needed was added when Joseph Peters and James Strickler inaugurated the money-raising campaign by purchasing War Bonds before leaving for the war. Many Delts rallied to the cause, and by the early 1950's plans were once again drawn up. At times the campaign would seem to bog down, but the necessary ingredient for success was always at hand.

Though still short financially, the rising costs and a dilapidated house urged immediate action. With the aid of the Fraternity, and many loyal Delts all over the United States, contracts were let and construction began in April, 1960.

Just having the house was a great deal for Gamma Theta, even before final completion. For with winter's first warnings it was discovered that the old furnace would no longer heat! After an earlier than expected move-in, arrangements were made to live with only the essentials in new furniture; beds, desks, and tables. But as one brother said, "At least it's warm here" which would mean more than just by the thermometer.

In giving credit for the final achievement, it is well nigh impossible to single out any one individual or group of individuals. It was a united effort from start to finish.

One individual, however, must be mentioned. He is Alfred C. "Cap" Runyan. "Cap," as he was affectionately called by his friends, was on the scene continuously, both in the capacity as president of the house corporation and as a brother who was deeply concerned with the future of Delta Tau Delta. "Cap" was behind the new house movement from the day the first word of a new Shelter was mentioned until the day that we were able to move in. Tragically, Cap entered the Chapter Eternal before dedication day.

Gamma Theta President CLARENCE ABELL accepts key to the new Shelter in tones of gratitude and a challenge

FRANK C. LEITNAKER, chapter adviser and DSC, reads telegram from Dr. WILLIAM C. MARKHAM who could not be present at the dedication

Excellent support by alumni enabled the men to furnish completely the Shelter by spring. The undergraduate brothers themselves sodded the yard with sod donated by a nearby alumnus.

With this background in mind, one can readily see that this day of dedication for Gamma Theta was not only a dedication for the house, but our rededication of those principles that were followed by others in making a better today for us.

Two hundred alumni and friends were present for the ceremonies in the spacious living room, during which the key, symbol of the intangibles of the Fraternity as well as the physical plant, was presented to the undergraduate president, Clarence Abell. The chain of giving began with Ralph Markham, representing his father Dr. William C. Markham, Alpha Omega, the local which became Gamma Theta, and carried through Joseph Peters, representing himself and James Strickler, first donors for the new house; Kenneth Penfold, representing the Arch Chapter of the Fraternity; and Karl Spear, president of the house corporation.

The service was opened with prayer by Dr. Homer K. Ebright, Alpha Omega, and Dr. Gordon Thompson, Alpha Omega, closed the ceremony with a prayer.

A large floral piece was exhibited in the living room of the Shelter, sent

Western Division New Vice-Presidential Program

By KENNETH C. PENFOLD, President, Western Division

AT THE Western Division Conference, held in February, 1961, on the campus of the University of California and arranged by Beta Omega Chapter, a very forward step was taken. Recognizing the vast expanse of the Division, and understanding the possible value of further alumni assistance, the delegates approved wholeheartedly, and unanimously passed, an amendment to the Division's Constitution, which increased the number of vice-presidents from two to six. This amendment was later ratified unanimously by the undergraduate and alumni chapters of the Division.

Each of the appointed vice-presidents will be assigned an area of the Division. It shall be the responsibility of each to supervise the activities of the undergraduate and alumni chapters falling within the area assigned.

It was extremely gratifying to me that, without exception, the men whom I asked to serve for a two-year term accepted with an enthusiasm and eagerness which to me indicated great things ahead for the Division and for the Fraternity. Therefore, it gives me real pleasure to present these fine Delts to all of the members of the Fraternity, knowing full well that they will display further outstanding loyalty to their Fraternity.

THE DELT ALUMNI CHAPTERS

Chicago

On August 17 the Chicago Alumni Chapter held a national rushing party in the famed Palmer House Hotel. Each undergraduate chapter was invited to send active members to the party and to provide names of incoming freshmen from the Chicago area. These men were invited by the Chicago alumni and appeared to enjoy thoroughly getting together with undergrads from their respective schools.

Guest Speaker Robert A. Hardt, president of Armour Pharmaceutical Company, spoke to his audience about "The Influence of Delta Tau Delta on Your Future." Mr. Hardt scored heavily with his important material, but his light touch was very much in keeping with the informality of the evening.

As usual, the Palmer House food and service were excellent so that a good time was had by all.

We in Chicago count this effort as a success, and plan to make this an annual

Cleveland

The annual summer rush party, held at the Clifton Beach Club in Lakewood, was a late summer activity of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter. Our vice-president, John Rich, headed up the committee this year, assisted by several former chairmen of the event.

Early in August, the Cleveland Delt alumni directory was completed and mailed to all known alumni in the area. The directory project was initiated by Fred Stanbro, Al Sheriff, and Arch McCartney, and was carried to completion by Dave Portman, John Creech, and Bud Lezius. Special recognition is due Prexy "Bud" for taking care of the printing and organization of the final steps of the project. Alumni in the Cleveland area who have not received a copy may contact the secretary for further information and inclusion on our local mailing list. Since publication several incorrect addresses have turned up and a number of new names have been forwarded to us.

Some of the alumni attending the Chicago rush banquet were DONALD J. CRANSTON, Wabash, '17; ROY E. SMITH, Purdue, '22; MARSHALL A. PIPIN, Wabash, '24; MERILL M. DWINELL, Northwestern, '12; BERNARD C. BOWEN, Cincinnati, '10; and LORNE J. HUGHES, Rensselaer, '05.

Plans for the fall activities of our group include a Delt coed party, instigated by the distaff side of the group. Our usual Founders Day banquet is now scheduled for Thursday, February 22, 1962. An all-out effort is planned to assure a large attendance, not only of Cleveland Deltas, but all Deltas in the northern Ohio area.

All Deltas, alumni or undergraduates, local or transient, are invited to drop in at the regular Thursday noon luncheons at Clark's Hanna Building Restaurant, 14th Street and Euclid Avenue. Recent out-of-town visitors were C. D. Russell, lately of Florida, and Clarence "Pope" Portman, of Minneapolis.

Treasurer Ed Henckel advises that several brothers have "forgotten" to pay their 1961 dues and that he will be happy to receive their checks immediately.

The alumni chapter was very sorry to hear of the passing of Dr. Sam Lind at Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. For many years prior to his retirement Brother Lind was a strong supporter of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter and Zeta Chapter.

Congratulations are in order to Bob Hartford, Secretary of Alumni of the Fraternity, who has been named a vice-president of The Penton Publishing Co.; and to Dean C. H. Cramer of Western Reserve University, who has received commendations on his recently published book Newton Baker.

Dallas

On Sunday, September 17, all the Dallas alumni and their wives got together for the annual Delt alumni party, buffet, and officer's election. This extravaganza was held at out-going prexy, William Herndon's home.

Delts from 1918 to the present renewed old acquaintances and greeted new alumni into the group. After feasting on ham, turkey, and the trimmings, the brothers chose John Boone, Beta Kappa, '53, president; John Stuart, Gam- ma Iota, '58, vice-president; Shannon Francis, Delta Omicron, '55, corresponding secretary; Conway Senter, Gamma Iota, '43, recording secretary; and Robert Marwill, Gamma Iota, '59, treasurer. A report was rendered by Brother Stuart on the summer rush party sponsored by the Dallas alumni group at General Albert Sidney Johnson's home.

As usual, the wives and dates of the brothers enjoyed the evening as much, if not more, than the Deltas themselves. Prominent in attendance, besides the outgoing officers, were General Johnson and John Allen Rawlins, both Gamma Iota, '18. Even with the normal predominance of Gamma Iota alumni, nine other undergraduate chapters were represented.

Any Delt in the Dallas area who is not receiving notice of the quarterly meetings should drop a card to either John Stuart or Conway Senter, in care of the credit department, Republic National Bank, Dallas, Texas.

Indianapolis

The Indianapolis Alumni Chapter held its summer rush party for the state's five undergraduate chapters on Saturday, August 12, 1961. Guests were 1961 high school graduates who will be attending Butler, DePauw, Indiana, and Purdue Universities, and Wabash College.

This year's outing was held at the beautiful home of Brother Samuel R. Harrell, Omega, '19. This marks the third summer in succession for the party, and, judging from its popular reception, it appears that it has established itself as an annual event.

A large purple, white, and gold Delta Tau Delta banner on the Harrell patio greeted the crowd of more than 100. Here, Mr. and Mrs. Harrell received their guests, and Mrs. David Englehart and Mrs. Wm. L. Phillips served punch.

After about an hour of greeting rushees and renewing old acquaintances, we assembled for a few words from Brother Harold W. Handley, Beta Alpha, '37, past governor of the State of Indiana. Brother Harold spoke briefly on what Delta Tau Delta has meant to him.

A candy-striped tent housed the food for the buffet supper which followed. The dinner consisted of tomato juice cocktail, relish tray, cold cuts, cold roast beef, cold baked ham, sliced turkey, various cheeses, hot fried chicken, green beans, potato salad, and coffee, iced tea, and milk.

Wm. L. "Andy" Phillips, president of the Indianapolis Alumni Chapter and chairman of the rush party, then introduced some of the distinguished Deltas in attendance. Among those were Francis M. Hughes, immediate past President of the Fraternity, Arnold Berg, our National Treasurer, Hugh Shields, Executive Vice-President, and Distinguished Service Chapter members, Ernie Miller, Darrell Moore, Foster Oldshue, and Larry Sheaffer.

All in all it was a very impressive rush party. We certainly enjoyed the op-

La Jolla

La Jolla Alumni Chapter is now midway in the fifth year of its organization and still going strong. It is a pleasure to report that there are 27 paid members, which is about one-fourth the number of Delts in this area. The regular luncheon meetings continue to be held on the first Tuesday of each month and the welcome sign is out for all visiting Delts. We urge those who can find time to "come along with us" to Hotel Del Charro that day. We assure you a pleasant hour, delightful surroundings, good food, and good fellowship. Fine Delt spirit is exemplified by members who have been out of college for as much as 50 years and are among the "regulars" at meetings. Our president this year, George Gilmore, Michigan, '21, comes in from Del Mar and is an enthusiastic Delt leader. Vice-President Kenneth Dame, Pittsburgh, '22, still makes the round trip of some 100 miles from San Clemente. During the past year his brother, Ralph U. Dame, from the same chapter, has regularly accompanied him. Another good Delt has recently joined the "regulars," Fred Irwin from Gamma Chi, formerly a secret service agent, who has retired to San Diego after 40 years of government service. Kirk O'Ferrall, Kenyon, '09, and Buck Powell, Chicago, '11, regularly come from Rancho Santa Fe. To top it all, there is Lowell Niebuhr, Northwestern, '18, who has missed but one meeting since the organization date of April 5, 1957. Shortly after our organization, La Jolla Alumni Chapter adopted as its main objective establishment of an undergraduate chapter at the proposed University of California engineering school at La Jolla. Uncertainties as to college administrative policies have since made this project problematical. Interest has, therefore, lagged considerably, but we feel that we have a strong potential reserve should it become opportune to establish a Delt chapter there.

JOHN D. RICH

Lexington

Just as Delts in the Blue Grass were getting a good running start for the year, Jim Host up and decided he could no longer resist a Procter & Gamble offer. Off he went to Chattanooga, leaving vacant the office of alumni president.

Quickly lassoed to fill out the term was Kenny, who, after several years in Evansville, Indiana, has returned to clean up Lexington (in the laundry business).

Angel Levas fills the office of vice-president (perhaps because he cooks so well when Delt alumni dine monthly at his beanery), and Jim McGruder is the treasurer. Nothing has been done about choosing a secretary to replace the clod who seems to be always acting in the job.

Meeting time was changed to the third Monday night in each month, at the Levas tea house, and Levas and McGruder were named to make arrangements for an alumni party after the University of Kentucky's homecoming football game.

LAURENCE SHROPSHIRE

Minnesota

As this is written, rushing at the University is coming to a close. The prospects are amazing, due to strenuous summer and fall activities. The alumni chapter has endeavored in many ways to be helpful.

Major Fred Stockdale, Missouri, has been named top man in the University's Air Force ROTC program. Otto Silha, Minnesota, a former Northern Division vice-president and presently general manager of the Minneapolis Star & Tribune, has been selected as a regent of the University.

Our monthly luncheons continue with good attendance and with regular appearance by members of the active chapter. The big fall get-together is set for October 31. This will bring out about 70 of the faithful.

C. W. PORTMANN

New York

After enjoying perfect spring weather all morning and throughout the pregame outing, the Central New York Delt alumni were soaked by a cold, driving rain that lasted during the entire nationally televised football game between the Syracuse University football team and their alumni counterparts on May 5.

The game was part of the program for Gamma Omicron's spring weekend celebration. Festivities were held at Hewitt's Clambake Center on the outskirts of Syracuse. The schedule included pregame hamburgers, hot dogs and coney, and liquid refreshments. The game and the postgame dinner were followed by dancing and refreshments. The actives outlasted the alums in the Delt schedule for the day, same as the varsity football team did the alums. It looks like Syracuse is producing another top-ranking team for 1961.

Mr. Stark Donnelly, president of the Central New York Alumni, called a special meeting on August 28 at the Gamma Omicron Shelter to map out plans for the coming school year to assist the drastically under-manned active chapter. William Rudge, Duke alumnus, was appointed chairman of a special rushing committee. He plans to hold rushing procedure classes for the actives and alumni. He will organize an alumni group to lay out the rushing program with a drive for upperclassmen, to start as soon as the house is ready. Because of the newly installed deferred rushing program for freshmen at Syracuse, the formal rushing will not take place until November. Mr. Rudge asked for help from everyone, and particularly alums with rushing experience.

Another project taken on by the alumni chapter was the painting of the kitchen; and several alums pitched in and are making great progress by working in groups of three or four.

The social calendar will be planned at the next meeting, to be announced soon. All Delt alumni were urged to participate in the rushing sessions throughout the year. The Syracuse chapter needs help to regain its normal man power. Any Delt alums not on the Central New York Alumni Chapter mailing list are urged to contact either Mr. Donnelly or Robert Norris, secretary.

President Robert D. Norris of the Gamma Omicron Association has appointed Forrest Witmeyer, J. Clinton Loucks, and John Deegan to a special committee to investigate and make recommendations for a new Shelter at Syracuse University. The present Gamma Omicron Shelter is scheduled for demolition within the next 24 months to make room for a new library on the Syracuse campus. Mr. Witmeyer, president of a Syracuse insurance firm, is a widely known Delt, having been active in Fraternity affairs for several years, and will serve as chairman of the committee.

Mr. Loucks, a former Syracuse University trackman, is presently a real estate and banking executive. Mr. Deegan is a prominent Syracuse attorney. All three were instrumental in the successful 50th anniversary celebration of Gamma Omicron last November, and have been active in the formation and operation of the Harold Hopkins Fund.

The Honorable Donald H. Mead, Onondaga County judge, was recently appointed to the board of directors of the Gamma Omicron Association, house corporation of the Syracuse University chapter. He succeeds Fred Tyminski, a Syracuse attorney who was called to active duty in the U. S. Air Force.

Judge Mead, a Gamma Omicron alumnus and prominent attorney, is one of the best known men in Syracuse, having been a member of the New York State legislature and former mayor of Syracuse.

Oklahoma City

The Oklahoma City Alumni Chapter held its monthly meeting on Monday, September 4, and is proud to announce the election of the following new officers: Joe Fred Gibson, Delta Alpha, president; Joseph W. Greggs, Delta Xi, vice-president; Gerald R. Marshall, Delta Alpha, treasurer; and Ewing Gafford, Delta Alpha, secretary.

The big push is on toward raising funds to be used in furnishing the new house for the Oklahoma State chapter. We are all looking forward to a completion date of January, 1962, and as of this writing, approximately 50 per cent of all goals have been reached.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be held October 24 at the Suntime Inn in Oklahoma City. Any Delts in this area who have somehow escaped our mailing list are more than welcome.

RONALD E. ROSSER

Omaha

The Omaha Alumni Chapter was host on August 26 to 36 actives and rushees at the second annual "River Belle" rushee party. This two-hour excursion took place on a river boat that plied the waters of the mighty Missouri while the passengers enjoyed chicken dinners and refreshments.

Beta Tau Alumnus Bob Burns arranged the function, which again proved to be a very popular and effective contact for the rush committee.

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Alabama—Delta Eta

Delts at 'Bama have again started the year on top! Our pledge class of 27 men and active chapter are engaged in pushing Delta Eta to even greater heights and achievements than in previous years.

New pledge class officers are: Buddy Schleusner, president; Ronnie Smith, vice-president; Larry Grant, secretary; Ernie Granger, treasurer; Bubba Brewton, sergeant at arms. Pledges are: Bubba Brewton, Claude Burke, Ed Daniels, Joe Davis, Jim Estes, Jim Gammons, Ernie Granger, Larry Grant, Gaston Green, Winston Groom, Ken Hendricks, Wallace Holmes, Tom Jones, Louis Land, Clay Lilienstern, Robert Massey, Bill Mitchell, Don Mullins, Craig Powell, Buddy Schleusner, Neil Smart, Ron Smith, Ronnie Stubbs, Milton Turner, Glenn Whited, Mark Jaeger, and Bennie Smith.

The spring semester was highlighted by our winning Jason's Jamboree, 'Bama's annual fraternity and sorority variety show. The Jamboree offers the most sought after trophy on campus, which Delta Eta has won for nine of the past 11 Jamborees. The trophy was added to our increasing mantel collection.

This year's skit, entitled "Civil War Revisited" or "Bye, Bye, Blackbird" was written and directed by Brother Earl Whatley. It was in commemoration of the Civil War centennial and depicted Delta Eta's version of the reason the South lost the war. Brothers Ben Johnston, Charles Owen, Dee Merrill, Art Owens, Steve Tapia, Ronald and Donald Stewart, and Rudy Conner portrayed the main characters. The 40-man Delt chorus, under the direction of Brother Jack Stewart, thrilled the capacity audience with the best music of the entire Jason's program, singing "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again," "Jubilation T. Cornpone," and "The South Shall Rise Again."

Along with our participation in various organizations came the acquisition of new honors. Brother Johnny Owens was selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Delts had ten men nominated for outstanding ROTC cadet. Of these, David Byrne was selected as the outstanding freshman cadet in Army ROTC and Buddy Cornett in Air Force ROTC. Brother Byrne has also become a member of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic honorary, and is sales manager for the 1962 Corolla and 'Bama Day chairman. New Druids members for this year are Brothers Harold Daniel, Buddy Cornett, and David Byrne, who is secretary for the organization. This fall Brother Ronald Stewart begins his term on the student legislature representing the College of Arts & Sciences. Brother Donald Stewart is editor of the 1962 Corolla, the University of Alabama yearbook, a member of ODK, and also a member of Jasons, highest senior men's honorary. Brother Joe Stewart is advertising manager for the campus newspaper, Crimson-White and Brother Johnny Clements is assistant editor of Alabama's campus magazine, The Mahout. President Ben Johnston is a member of Pi Tau Sigma, which he is representing on the School of Engineering council. Brother Johnston also received a certificate of merit for outstanding performance in ROTC leadership school. Brothers Burwell Anders and Bill Cocke were elected to Scabbard & Blade, with Brother Cocke also being elected to Pi Tau Pi Sigma, Signal Corps honorary. Brother Jim Harris is representing the chapter on the University of Alabama tennis team.

New officers for the chapter are: Ben Johnston, president; Rudy Conner, vice-president; Johnny Clements, recording secretary; Gary Jackson, corresponding secretary; Bill Spivey, treasurer; Henry Cribbs, assistant treasurer; and Brothers Harold Daniel and Homer Traylor, guide and sergeant at arms, respectively, with Brother Warren Mosley serving as social chairman.

Our rush chairman, Joe Stewart, did a fine job in organizing rush for this semester and this past summer. The two summer rush parties were held in Tuscaloosa and Montgomery with a large turnout of alumni at the Montgomery party. Rush week was climaxed with a week end of rush parties featuring the two top campus bands, The Keynotes and Piano Red.

Our sports chairman for last year, Max Wigington, did a terrific job. Under his leadership our teams in the various sports activities continually placed on top, leaving us as high contenders for the all-sports trophy. The team came in second in its division for the football trophy. Delt "peapickers" won first place in their division. Our bowling team won two large trophies by winning both the interfraternity and intramural leagues. The Delt basketball team placed in the semifinals in the interfraternity division. The softball team lost only one game, giving us a high position toward that trophy. Brothers Charles Owen and Charles Dahlke won the campus horseshoe championship.

The spring formal for Delta Eta, the Rainbow Ball, was held April 8 in the Cherokee Ballroom of Hotel Stafford. The Alabama Cavaliers provided music for this occasion. Plans are also in progress to have name bands for our parties this year.

"Help Week," during which time pledges lived in the house and did several service projects for the fraternity and a local institution for the mentally ill and deficient, was concluded this year with the initiation of 12 new brothers. Brother Homer Traylor was selected as the outstanding pledge of the year.

Albion—Epsilon

The Shelter at Epsilon Chapter underwent a complete remodeling job during "Help Week," including new night fixtures and a new rug in the living room and improvement in all of the study rooms.

Seventeen new initiates were initiated at the end of "Help Week," bringing Epsilon's total membership to 55.

In varsity sports the Delts are well represented. Jim Russell, cocaptain of the varsity team, holds the school records in the 220- and 440-yard events.

Pleased initiates of Epsilon Chapter

Arizona—Epsilon Epsilon

After the long summer vacation, the brothers of Epsilon Epsilon returned to Scholastically, the Arizona Delts finished fourth among the University's 29 fraternities last semester, maintaining our record of never having fallen below sixth on the U. of A. campus.

Socially, "Mom and Dad's Day" on October seventh should be the first big event of the year with a buffet dinner and house party scheduled on that football date. Following comes Homecoming and the fraternity row dedication on November 18, a migration to Phoenix and the Arizona State football game on November 25, and the Christmas formal on December ninth. Night football games and after game parties at the house will round out most of the first semester's social program.

In intramurals, strong teams in golf and swimming should get us off to a flying start in our bid to crack the top of the heap in athletics.

Epsilon Epsilon welcomed two new guests to the University campus this fall. The first is our new housemother, Mrs. Floss Rusk, formerly of Carroll College, Wisconsin; the second, Dr. Edwin Gaines, the new assistant dean of men at the University, a Delt from Phi Chapter at W. & L.

With the new Shelter, 1961-62 will be an important year for Epsilon Epsilon. All the brothers are looking forward to a challenging and productive year in Tucson.

JON WARDRIP

Auburn—Epsilon Alpha

With a new year in sight, Epsilon Alpha at Auburn University is figuratively "straining at the bit" in anticipation of new opportunity. The plans for this coming year include improved scholarship, a slightly larger chapter, top awards in sports, and the positioning of key men in important campus positions. We Delts have the ability to achieve these goals and plan to strive for them.

Albion's IM football squad

Other varsity swimmers are Ben Soderquist and Phil Andreae. Dave Rank and John Abell are two of the mainstays on the Albion cross-country team. Jim Osgood is a promising young end on the football team.

On the intramural level, we are hoping to do as well in football as we did last spring in the intramural swimming meet, which we won. The football team is highly favored this season as they won their first game 68-12. It is almost a cinch that we will end up higher than last year's third place finish.

WILLIAM SHOSKEY

Tucson for a week's experience of "garage living," awaiting the completion of the new chapter house. The new Shelter, a 52-man structure, is one of 12 built by the University under a federal housing project. We acquired partial occupancy on the opening day of formal rush, catered meals for a week, then received the approval on the final inspection on September 27.

Formal rush netted us 18 top men. At this writing we are engaged in a vigorous informal rush program aimed at boosting our membership over the 55 mark.

Epsilon Epsilon's pledges

Last year we reached some of them but not all.

Intramurals last year saw us finish second and third in most of the competitions and first in a few. We won a few trophies for these placements but expect to do better and keep doing better until we place first in all the events.

As far as individual accomplishment went last year, we remained strong in the campus publication area. Some outstanding examples are Noel Leon as summer editor of our campus newspaper, the Plainsman, Dave Wall as a chief writer for the same publication (who also received an award from the Auburn publications board), and a host of feature writers, such as Carl Peth, Robert Schlater, and Warren Jones; along with Photographers Joe Wolfe and Lloyd Blackwell. Individuals were outstanding in the political organization of the campus. Phil Pauze was elected to a junior senator post on campus and given charge of publishing the annual IFC rush booklet entitled The Greeks. Other individuals served in minor but necessary positions in the political background. Serving in varied positions around campus are Gary Thomas, as secretary of Circle K; Ray Graves, as treasurer and chairman of the Westminster Foundation; and the usual group in scholastic and professional honoraries such as Steerage, Naval honorary; Pi Tau Sigma; Pi Mu Epsilon; and Tau Beta Pi.

The chapter advancement as a whole has been quite unusual in that in two years the chapter has grown to a membership of near 60 from a membership of around 25. Advancements have not only been made in membership but also in intramural sports and interfraternity competitions such as the annual homecoming display contest, which we placed second in this year, and private enterprises of the chapter. Since we are a social fraternity, the past weeks of our quarters have been filled with countless parties of many different kinds. Although we may party often, our studies remain first in our minds because we are in college primarily to get an education. Epsilon Alpha recently received an award for the most improved chapter scholastically when we placed fourth on campus. This competition included two professional fraternities. Next year we will do better.

This fall we pledged 25 of the men out for fall rush. After a sometimes serious and sometimes humorous rush week, the new men were greeted on the Sunday following. A program of follow-up rush is being pursued to pledge those boys which we might have overlooked. The pledge class appears to be one of the finest yet seen in the chapter. The men range from over four states and are becoming a closely knit group. We expect great things from this new class of men.

The men currently running the chapter have received little previous recognition in THE RAINBOW and should be mentioned at this time. Our president is George Hoyt, a senior in business administration. The vice-president is Phil Pauze, a junior Navy scholarship student. The treasurer is Tip Tipton, a junior in aeronautical administration. The recording secretary is Claude Woodall, a senior in architecture. These officers have been serving the chapter for the past two quarters and so far have amassed a sizeable bit of evidence that should prove their worth as chapter officers.

With the chapter losing only two men this fall, Charles Wilson and Jim Shipman, and picking up about three in addition to the new brothers to be initiated, there shouldn't be a lack of personnel needed to accomplish our goals of the year. We look forward to the coming school year and hope our brother chapters elsewhere are experiencing good fortune.

JIM SHIPMAN

Baker—Gamma Theta

As Gamma Theta began this year, it was our prime objective to start with an organized program which would provide the many aspects which characterize a good chapter. As usual, Gamma Theta is planning its 72nd annual chicken fry. This party consists of individual campfires where the girls prepare a fried chicken dinner. In addition, a huge pyramid fire is the final focal point of the evening. While this fire is blazing, the chapter sings and presents a short skit. All this is well taken and has made the Delt chicken fry a popular event on the Baker campus.

As rushing is the first and most important item to a growing chapter, we made a point of getting a pledge class which would bring us new ideas and enthusiasm. Nineteen new pledges were taken this fall rush. They are: Ed Bradey, J. R. Bradey, Reed Black, Jim Fleming, Don Flack, Ron Grant, George Lyddon, Richard Lentz, Garry Harper, Keith Gutherie, Dan Longstreth, Lee McAllister, Don Meek, Richard Speer, Gary Underwood, Roger Underwood, and Dave Ballard. We feel that these men have the qualities which, with time, will mold them into fraternity men, first-class.

Apart from social, intramural, scholastic, and campus activities it is Gamma Theta's objective to reinstitute "fraternity," which has its lasting effect into the days beyond graduation.

CLARENCE F. ABELL

Bowling Green—Delta Tau

With the fall term upon us, Delta Tau Chapter is looking forward to a fine year, both academically and socially. Our new house with its huge lounge, spacious recreation room, 60-man seating capacity dining room, and 24 two-men rooms should provide us with the incentive we need to reach our goal.

Our first social event of the new year was a date party, in which each brother escorted a freshman. The party was a huge success with all those in attendance and helped greatly to make the new feminine arrivals on campus cognizant of the name of Delta Tau Delta. Small favors were given to the girls as they left the Shelter with their first taste of college life.

Mrs. E. R. Jones replaced Mrs. Mary Davis as our new housemother this year, coming to us from Beta Chapter. Although classes began only three weeks ago, the brothers have already begun to appreciate her friendliness and helpful guidance.

Before the termination of school last spring we brought a climax to our social life by holding our annual spring formal at Findlay Country Club. A newly initiated feature of the evening was the presentation of plaques to our outstanding senior man, "Buzz" Bickel; outstanding junior man, Jim Duley; and outstanding sophomore man, John Crossin. The end of a lovely evening found the brothers singing the Delt Sweetheart Song to radiant Linda Zaller, our 1961 Delta Tau Delta sweetheart.

Ten brothers received bachelor of arts degrees at graduation exercises. Our upperclass rush begins in less than one week and it is anticipated by all that our graduates will be more than replaced, at least in number.

We are hoping to see many of the alumni at homecoming October 14. With high hopes for the present year, we of Delta Tau are working hard to strengthen our No. 1 position in Bowling Green's fraternity system.

JOHN F. LUBKING, JR.

Brown—Beta Chi

The Brown Dels are planning to make this an academically oriented, successful fall semester. Having lost a few outstanding scholars through graduation, the Beta Chi's are expecting the sophomore class to take up the slack.

The Beta Chi fall softball team, under the guidance of Manager Steve Rice and hard playing of a team very little hurt by graduation, has already guaranteed itself a berth in the final play-offs of the interfraternity league. With the mainstays of last year's football team returning, and a host of new players, the Brown Dels are picked for an undefeated season.

The Delt house at Brown boasts quite a few varsity athletes also; especially in football where Dels are at every position but end. The returnees from last year's squad are Juniors Bill Caroselli and Fred Koloc; Sophomores Jim Guehring, Jack Erickson, John Hoover, John Horenski, Emil Rapp, and Bill Vareschi. Senior Jack Mancuso, sidelined this season by injuries, will announce Bruin games from the press box.

Under Chapter President San Gladding, the pledge class will undertake to remodel the house's recreation facilities. The 23 sophomores who accepted bids last year are shaping up well according to Pledge Master Charles Banks.

The fall social season runs the gamut of entertainment ideas. Our party season, though scholastically limited, promises to be the best in years as Social Chairman Robert Freeman has contracted six bands to suit every occasion to bolster our treasury, to a party for Dels and their parents on October 28. Bob has arranged for the president of the University to speak at our homecoming dinner, the high light of the season.

KIM SHERMAN

Butler—Beta Zeta

The Delt brothers at Beta Zeta brought in the new fall semester by welcoming 28 new pledges to the Shelter on September 27. Three of them have succeeded in winning berths on the starting lineup with the Butler frosh football squad. Willie Brown is an end, Joe Lewis a guard, and Brad Piniak a center. The pledge class was formally introduced to the campus on the last Sunday of September during an open house at the Shelter.

Being scholastically-minded, the brothers garnered second place among the seven fraternities at Butler during the spring term, being edged out of first place by a tenth of a quality point. This semester finds Beta Zeta gunning for No. 1, and we are already reserving a spot for the trophy for scholastic award.

With homecoming less than a month away, the brothers are planning a surprise package in the form of house decorations, competing among 13 fraternities and sororities for the first award. Last year's 16-foot high "Yogi Bear," complete with voice, still serves as an inspiration for this year's design.

Brothers Lance Middlekauf, a senior, and Herb Biddle, a junior, are holding down spots on Butler's defending Indiana Collegiate Conference football team. Lance is a quarterback and Herb an end. Both are planning to make "Middlekauf to Biddle" a familiar sound to Bulldog followers. Pledges Rick Rayle and Willie Brown are already anticipating the coming basketball season.

On Sunday, October first, the square badge will be placed on the chests of Jerry Black and Jack Stower. The initiation celebration is planned for that evening at the Marrott Hotel.

Beta Zeta is again striving to maintain its reputation as the greatest house on campus and, with 28 fine pledges and a raft of social activities already planned, the chapter has already made the necessary first step!

BOB PARSONS

California—Beta Omega

The opening of the fall semester finds Beta Omega preparing to move into its newly-remodeled Shelter. Commencing with a building loan from the Fraternity, the remaining $25,000 needed was raised through the tireless and deeply appreciated efforts of Edward Clark, a Beta Omega alumnus. The thorough house rejuvenation was accompanied by a new annex, which will raise our living capacity of 55, thus allowing ample room to include the 17 pledges we accepted this fall.

The fall University athletic campaign finds the Dels again strongly represented. Larry Lowell is a leading lineman on the varsity football squad, along with Bill Mott, another first stringer. Unfortunately, at the commencement of Cal's "suicide schedule," the latter suffered a broken leg and is out for the season. The varsity water polo team includes two brothers, Dick Stewart and Lee Harmon, on the first string. The wrestling team is again blessed with Bob Snyder, last year's heavyweight champ. Rounding things out on the boxing team, we have David Lombardi competing in his last season. We also expect to have an excellent season in intramural football. Last season, due to a strongly aggressive and competitive Lantana Lodge, the Dels were worn to a frazzle. This year's team is a certainty to penetrate and break the "Lodge's" opposition.

Leading the campus in politics as well as athletics, Beta Omega is proud to boast of Brian Van Camp, our newly-elected student body president for the year.

Having started off with a new Shelter, an outstanding pledge class, a very promising social calendar, an active athletic schedule, and a sound scholarship program based upon last semester's record of achievement (over-all average of 2.5), the brothers here at Berkeley are looking forward to another successful year.

JOEL FADEM

Carnegie Tech—Delta Beta

Delta Beta started the year off well way back during the summer when we held two rush parties in Pittsburgh for freshmen. For the first party we invited 85 freshmen from the Pittsburgh area. We invited 15 of these men back for a boat trip down the Allegheny. Congratulations to our rush chairman, Brother Lang, for his efforts in making our summer rush program a success.

One of our main rush functions last spring, when we rushed those who had not pledged in the fall, was a rushee-active party at Forbes Field. Sam Dechter pledged last spring. Erwin Hamel, Jim Brown, and Don Schroeder, all sophomores, pledged the first week in the fall.

We are now in the process of purchasing additional furniture for our living room, under the direction of Brother Gerridge. Brother Darringer has designed a high fidelity sound system for the Shelter which will be the best system on the Tech campus when it is completed this fall. The front entrance to the Shelter is also being decorated.

The first big party of the year will be the South Seas Islands costume party. We are expecting big things.

We have high hopes for our intramural football team this fall. All except two of last year's team are back, and we have some promising sophomores in Pledge Campbell, Brother Len Marino, and Brother Luisi. Brother Hodge, ace quarterback from last year's team, will have the coaching responsibilities.

It looks like a great year for Delta Beta in many ways.

Cincinnati—Gamma Xi

Gamma Xi Chapter begins the 1961-62 school season with a mood of eagerness and desire. The goal is to equal, or perhaps even improve upon, the fine Delt record achieved by the chapter the year before.

Such accomplishments as winning the homecoming float award, placing first in the Sing, under the direction of Brother Fisher, placing runner-up with Brother Hofmann in Kampus King after winning the year before, winning the top trophy in the Sigma Sigma carnival, and placing near the top scholastically among the other fraternities, all add together to form a high hurdle if the Deltas hope to better 1960-61's record this year.

September got off to a strong start, as two hectic weeks of open rush saw 40 new pledges putting on pots and pins to swell the ranks. A new treasurer, Brother Hyde, who was elected over the summer, continued the mammoth task of keeping the chapter within its budget.

On campus, several of the brothers began their work in upper positions in activities. Brother Strawbridge organized his staff and began covering the University as news editor of the campus paper, the News Record. Brother Argabright, as sports editor of the Cincinnatian, campus annual, began following in the footsteps of Brother Vedra, who was editor last year. Several other brothers serve on student council and various campus honoraries. Brother Tansey also dug in as vice-president of the campus YMCA. Then, too, the Deltas in the University band began tooting away. Other brothers began making plans to attend the World Series, if they were lucky enough to get tickets.

All in all, it looks like a good year coming up.

BILL STRAWBRIDGE

Colorado—Beta Kappa

Beta Kappa Deltas are looking forward to another good year with fraternal enthusiasm at a high. We have just completed a successful rush week from which 26 men are now wearing the Delt pledge pin. Since classes commenced just a week ago it is difficult to single out any of the new pledges for particular praise, but the class as a whole seems to have a lot of desire and ambition. A special thanks belongs to Rod Drake, our rush chairman, and to Ken McBride, his assistant, for the outstanding job they did in both rush week and the important summer rushing preceding it.

It is also the pleasure of the chapter to announce the initiation of nine spring pledges who successfully completed a week of "getting to know the chapter."

Here at the Shelter, a very prime concern among all is the improvement of grades. We slipped a bit last semester but are anxious to regain our rank among the first three on campus. Scholarship Chairman Tony Wilson has urged the brothers to visit the library for study purposes and has posted maps for those not knowing its whereabouts.

Athletically, Colorado Deltas are ready to regain the coveted intramural trophy after finishing second last year. Of course, we can be very proud of our all-school titles in basketball, wrestling, tennis, and track, plus a close third in football. From a varsity view, we observe Chuck McBride, Ted Sommerville, Skip Jump, and Ken McBride hitting the dummies for Coach Grandelius now that football season is upon us.

The spring came to a close featuring the annual ski formal at Winter Park, leaving some of the brothers in a more or less state of fizzle. The social calendar will continue this fall with many upcoming events including the pajama party, sneaks, and the pledge dance.

President Jon Warnick and Vice-President Larry Miller will again lead the chapter in the fine way they have so far. They will be aided by Tony Wilson, Dave Brown, Bill Brenker, Bill Weakly, Mike Brovsky, and Jon Arbenz. The remaining cabinet members are yet to be appointed.

Hanging in our trophy room may be seen the University of Colorado's scholarship, activities, and athletic award (ΣAA). This is the first time that this award has been given and the brothers at Beta Kappa are very proud of this citation.

JON ARBENZ

Cornell—Beta Omicron

Beta Omicron closed out the spring semester in fine fashion. Spring house party week end was celebrated with two big rock and roll parties, as well as the traditional formal. The festivities included music by "Johnny and the Hurricanes" and a jungle theme party. Carol Obermann was selected as the Delt spring week end queen.

Spring elections at the Shelter produced the following new officers: Brother McCullough, president; Roger Demler, vice-president; Larry Wheeler, corresponding secretary; and Bud Fackelman, recording secretary. The chapter is looking forward to continued prosperity under this administration.

In activities on the "Hill," Dave Wright was elected president of Ag-Domecon, the College of Agriculture's student council, and Charley Baker was elected junior class representative for the IF steering committee. Brothers Demler, Street, Charley Baker, Halsey, and Hosmer were all members of Cornell's highly successful sailing team, with Brother Demler serving as cocaptain and also commodore of the Cornell Corinthian Yacht Club.

The house yacht, the "Frigit," has again been returned to Ithaca from Lake George this fall via the New York State Barge Canal system. Brothers Ferguson and Wright skippered the return trip, while Brothers Eveleth, Seaver, Wheeler, and Pledge Green took the spring trip to Lake George where the "Frigit" underwent repairs.

The fall semester finds the chapter looking forward to five big football parties. Brothers Roy and Gardner are organizing rock and roll bands which, no doubt, will be present at some of these.

Brothers John Custer and Bob Winans lead the fall athletes as members of the Big Red varsity soccer team.

The chapter is looking forward to taking some fine men in the informal fall rush and to maintaining the high scholastic standing of last year.

LARRY WHEELER

Delaware—Delta Upsilon

The Delta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Tau Delta has started off the new school year right, with a pool party at the North Star Swim Club, in North Star, Delaware. The party was highlighted with several swim contests, such as greased watermelon water football; also limbo, and plenty of twisting to the music of the Oblivions. The party also served as the opening of the fall rushing functions and was well attended by brothers, new pledges, and rushees.

At this writing there are six new pledges, and more are expected before the end of the fall rushing program. The new pledges are Bob Reinius, Bob Dowling, John Link, Sam Yohai, Rusty Taylor, and Wayne Moore. They are already actively participating in the Fraternity functions and are planning a party for the brothers in late October.

Coming up in the way of social events is the freshmen women's party. A combo has been contracted, and this should be the best of its kind ever held on campus. Also, the brothers are actively engaged in the affairs of the IF council, and are in the process of preparing for the IFC ball, which will be held to the music of the Woody Herman band. Shortly after the IFC ball will be the annual South Sea Island party, which has grown to be a tradition, and is looked forward to by the girls of the Delaware campus. Looking forward further is the Christmas party, and then the spring rushing functions.

The brothers here have already started building the float for the homecoming parade. From all appearances it looks like it will certainly walk off with one of the larger prizes.

The Delts are also proud to boast of their scholastic achievement. The chapter pulled first place among the fraternities and the men's residence quarters on the campus being well above all-men's and all-student's averages for the spring semester.

As the foregoing points out, the forthcoming semester should be a busy one, socially, athletically, and, of course, scholastically. The brothers of Delta Upsilon would like to extend their best wishes and greetings to all Delts.

ROBERT H. RECK

DePauw—Beta Beta

On Friday, May fifth, the men of Beta Beta were honored by the arrival of the Arch Chapter of Delta Tau Delta. The executive council, in Indianapolis for a two day meeting, spent the evening discussing the particular problems of the chapter and reviewing the fraternity's scholarship and rush programs.

Just before dinner, the visiting dignitaries were taken on a tour of the house. Immediately following the meal pictures were taken, and then the Arch Chapter held a session to hear and evaluate the problems and ideas expressed by the chapter members.

In all, the visitors were favorably impressed by our installation here at DePauw, and our men expressed sincere appreciation for these men taking time from their busy schedule to make this unusual personal visit.

This school year started off with a bang, when Beta Beta established a new chapter record by pledging 37 top men. In fact, our rush was so successful that the sophomores had to sleep on couches for a week until the new beds came. The entire chapter, especially the sophomores, thanks Chuck Combs and Elgin Manhard for the tremendous job they did as rush chairmen.

Our last year's championship intramural football team got off to a fine start by winning its first game, 13-0. With two all-intramural players returning, it's looking like another championship for Beta Beta.

The entire chapter is looking forward to a successful year in athletics, scholarship, and campus activities.

RICK MEYERS

Duke—Delta Kappa

Duke's Delts have spent the last few months in a wide variety of activities, both as individuals and as a group. The annual formal Queen Dance last March marked the end of one social season for Delta Kappa and the beginning of another, which lasted even through the summer as 15 of us stayed in and around the "Gothic Walls" of Duke.

Cathy Childre, president of the University's chapter of Tri-Delt, was crowned Delt Queen for the coming year. She was serenaded by the chapter in May. By all odds, the white dinner jacketed Delts gave the best serenade of any fraternity on campus.

Officers elected last spring to guide the chapter through the coming year include Jim Ginther, president; Doc Hall, vice-president; Chico Gumo, recording secretary; Sid Nurkin, corresponding secretary; Bruce Richards, executive secretary; Bill Kohl, treasurer; and Jim Bruen, assistant treasurer. Ginther's program for the chapter has emphasized improving scholarship, and greater interest and participation in campus activities.

Jack Geehr's social committee has set up a social calendar for the fall equal to none. High lights of the social schedule will be the annual "Roaring Twenties" party; homecoming week end, during which, the Delts have decided, Duke will "plow under" the Clemson Tiger; a party with the Duke Phi Delts; and the annual formal Christmas dance.

Scholarship is being stressed again and again by the chapter this semester, by making study halls available to the brothers, scholarship charts, and an all-out postcard campaign to assess each brother's mid-semester grades, and by urging brothers to study if these grades should prove to be lacking.

Individual Delts were more outstanding than ever before on the athletic field and in campus activities during the past few months.

Ron Davis, a fall pledge of the chapter, made sports headlines this summer by signing for a $65,000 bonus with the new Houston Colts baseball team. Ronnie also played football here at Duke. As center-fielder on the Blue Devil's baseball team, Ron led the team in hits and home runs, while still a sophomore. He was assigned to Jacksonville, and has a better than even chance to join the parent club next year.

Bob Beasley has seen action this fall on the Blue Devil football team.

The return of Jerry Nourse, after a year in the Marines, has brightened the hopes of Duke's cross-country squad. Jerry was Atlantic Coast Conference cross-country champ in 1959, and holds the University two-mile record (9:20).

Brothers Lou Van Dyke, Staley Gentry, Vic Braren, and Chuck Phalen also help dominate the Duke cross-country team.

Eight brothers are serving in the freshman advisory program, more than ever before; and Sid Nurkin is a junior chairman of the YMCA-sponsored freshman advisory council.

John DeGooyer, Tom Conway, and Al Rimer were tapped into Beta Omega Sigma, sophomore leadership honorary, last spring; and Bob Whitmore was initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, national senior leadership honorary. Whitmore is also a member of the Order of St. Patrick, engineering honorary, and editor of the magazine, Duke Engineer.

Bob Windeler is associate editor and Bruce Richards is assistant business manager of the Duke Chronicle, campus newspaper. Windeler is also a member of the Student Union's board of governors.

Bob Turner is president of the electrical engineering honorary, AIEE. Les Smith is serving as secretary-treasurer of the senior class.

BOB WINDELER

East Texas State—Epsilon Eta

When one looks over the leaders on the East Texas campus, he finds that the Delts have their share of them. This is usually tradition rather than by chance. Last year we captured the two top offices on campus—president and vice-president of the student senate. We also had our share of class officers and representatives to the senate. This year the Delts will have the vice-president of the senate, graduate and senior representatives, and two cheerleaders.

Not all of our honors are political though. We also captured most popular, best dressed, and first place in individual's awards in intramurals. Those who are in R.O.T.C. this year will find that their cadet commander will be a Delt.

We are proud of these men and their officers and awards, but the honors that we are really proud of are the ones that we won as a group, such as first place in the fraternity sing-song, and first place in fraternity intramurals.

The Delts of 1960-61 won the intramural championship by more than 70 points. We won first, second, third, and fourth in ping-pong singles; first, second, and third in ping-pong doubles; first and second in badminton doubles; first in badminton singles; first in "B" basketball, second in "B" volleyball; first and second in basketball freethrow; first in tennis doubles, second in tennis singles and third in touch football. This record can hardly be matched and one which we are quite proud of.

The Delts, also, always participate in the Western Week rodeo. This past year our steer-tying team won first place.

The Delts at East Texas have long been noted for their successful parties. Each semester we have a dinner dance, usually in Dallas. Two of our most important events of the year are our spring "western stomp" and our annual Halloween school dance, but perhaps our biggest event is our spring outing, in which we and our dates spend the week end at some lake.

Things really go over big down in Texas, and the first year for Delta Tau Delta on the East Texas campus was no exception.

JERRY WESSON

Emory—Beta Epsilon

Beta Epsilon ended one of its most successful school years by capturing the interfraternity scholarship trophy for the second consecutive year.

The chapter also was selected as one of the four top fraternities on campus in a contest sponsored by the Tri Delta Sorority and based on a point system and vote of the sororities.

Our lawn display for the big campus week end at Emory, Dooley's, consisted of a symbolic interpretation of "Easter, Now and Then," which was in keeping with the campus theme of "Holidays of the World."

Many Delts attained important positions and honors on campus last spring. President Bill Garland and Joe Rainey were selected for membership in Phi Beta Kappa. Brother Garland also was tapped by Omicron Delta Kappa and selected to be the editor of the campus newspaper, the Wheel. Jimmy Cowell, executive editor; Joe Rainey, feature editor; Jerry Saunders, circulation manager; George McElhenny, assistant circulation manager; and Charles Guthrie, assistant managing editor, are other Delts holding positions on the Wheel staff. Brother Archer Smith was elected vice-president of the Barkley Forum, Emory's debating society. Bill Kennedy received the award for the best senior brother, and John Studstill received the William Tate award for the outstanding freshman brother.

At the end of rush week this year, 29 of the top freshmen participating in rush made the decision to pledge Delta Tau Delta.

Many improvements were made on the Shelter during the summer, including new wall-to-wall carpeting for the TV and living rooms, and a new stereophonic system constructed by Brother Ron Carlisle.

We have high hopes of topping the achievements Beta Epsilon made in 1961 and higher hopes of making 1962 the greatest year in the history of the chapter.

SAM MATHENY

Georgia—Beta Delta

Spring at Beta Delta proved to be the climax to a very successful year. The chapter defeated all other sororities and fraternities on campus in a cigarette wrapper contest to win a 27-inch TV set. Seven new pledges were initiated, bringing to 24 the total for the year. In spring sports, the Delts reached their full potential by placing in the upper division of all athletic events. Socially it was a most active time, highlighted by Greek Week and the annual Rainbow Formal. A beautiful Delta Zeta, Mary Sue Gresham, was elected and crowned sweetheart for the coming year.

Summer was a period of concentrated rushing for the brothers all over the state of Georgia. With the help of brothers of other nearby chapters and thanks to a well organized rush week, Beta Delta pledged one of its largest groups in recent years. This pledge class shows a great deal of potential, both scholastically and athletically, and includes several boys participating in varsity sports.

The last days of summer vacation were spent repainting and redecorating the Shelter. The complete interior, and much of the exterior, were repainted and the "Pit" redecorated with several unique murals. With its 12 white columns illuminated at night the Shelter presents one of the most beautiful sights in Athens, the classic city of the South.

BILL ODUM

Hillsdale—Kappa

Kappa Chapter ended last semester in a blaze of glory. The Delts now have every trophy on campus but one, the intramural trophy which they lost by only two points. Included in the collection of trophies is the Greek week end trophy. The Delts monopolized the activities and brought most of the awards available home. The brothers copped the first place trophies for the fraternity sing and the canoe race. They finished second in the chariot race and rounded out the rest of the slate with enough seconds and thirds to win the over-all trophy by a comfortable margin.

Rush is now in full swing at Kappa Chapter because of the newly revised schedule. Initiation for the spring pledge class is now the first week of school and pick-up is Friday, the 13th of October. Barring the superstitious members, the Delts look forward to a very successful rush. One point that will help Kappa's fall rush this year is the fact that we have made considerable improvements on the front of the Shelter and in the living and dining rooms of the Shelter.

The week prior to the beginning of the semester saw great activity around Kappa's corner. The front of the house was painted and the lawn improved. The walls of the living room were papered and the woodwork painted. A new carpet and new furniture were also installed. This action was taken upon receiving word that Kappa's new Shelter is still a long way off. If Kappa alums would like to share in the improvement of the Shelter that they, too, once enjoyed, it would be greatly appreciated.

Kappa initiated two men this week. It was also necessary to elect two brothers to fill positions vacated this summer due to circumstances beyond the previous officers' control. Gary Woodbury and Don Cowles were elected vice-president and corresponding secretary, respectively.

Kappa is now making plans for homecoming week end, scheduled this year for October 21. The Dales meet a strong team from Baldwin Wallace. The men are planning for the two bus loads of alums that are expected to come.

Idaho—Delta Mu

As the spring semester of 1961 drew to a close, Delta Mu was once again richly rewarded for the effort it had put forth during the school year.

Heading the list of our achievements was our scholarship record. Delta Mu placed second among the fraternities with a 2.7 average, and our pledge class was first with a 2.54.

On the intramural scene, Delta Mu captured the all-campus championship for the second consecutive year. By taking the track and bowling championships, and respectable finishings in baseball and horseshoes, we closed the intramural year with a 50-point lead over our nearest competitor. A big thanks goes to our intramural manager, Bob Hall.

The Delts of Delta Mu also continued their annual help week. This year we put in a total of 195 manhours in repainting the buildings of the Moscow municipal swimming pool. The town of Moscow showed its appreciation by giving the chapter a "Delt and Date day" at the swimming pool.

Brothers John Rowe, Jack Frostenson, Gene Harder, and Barry Nelson were initiated into Intercollegiate Knights, sophomore service honorary, and Brothers Vaughn Estrick and Duane Allred were elected officers of Blue Key. Allred was elected president and Estrick secretary-treasurer.

Brother Dan Barrett spent the summer traveling through Idaho and Washington receiving financial pledges from Delta Mu alums for the remodeling of the Shelter and the new addition, which will be added next summer. The remodeling and new addition are badly needed by Delta Mu and the brothers are putting forth a great effort to accomplish this feat.

Ron Kulm, veteran halfback and defensive safety, is turning in another great year for the Vandal grid squad, and will be one of Coach Skip Staley's mainstays during the football season. Turning out for the freshmen football team are Pledges Rich Fancher, tackle; and Jim Keaton, end. Both of these men are expected to see plenty of action for the Vandal Babes this fall.

Delta Mu, led by Rush Chairman Ron Kulm and Dick Davies, carried out one of its finest rush programs this fall. Those pledged were Jack Pactrick, Bill Van Orman, Mike Wiley, Bob Wheeler, Rick Fancher, Gene Prescott, Bruce Harper, Larry Eng, Greg Shade, Brian Hill, George Conner, Jim Keaton, Gordon Judd, Tom Harris, Jim Berry, Gary Honeychurch, and Bruce Skinner. Delta Mu feels that these men will continue to enhance the goals and ideals of this Fraternity.

All effort is now being channeled toward building a homecoming float with the Alpha Phis, which will give us another trophy for our mantel.

BRUCE ANDERSON

Illinois—Beta Upsilon

Beta Upsilon opened the 1961-62 school year by pledging 23 men during formal rush week. Included among the pledges is Lynn Stewart. Lynn is a full-back on the freshman football squad. Bill Morse enjoys the distinction of being the son of a former president of Beta Upsilon Chapter, Bruce Morse, '27. He is also the grandson of a Beta Upsilon Delt. Gordon Bailey is also a son of a former Delt.

Scholastically, Beta Upsilon advanced 13 places in the interfraternity scholarship ratings. Dave Beal, last year's scholarship chairman, instituted several programs providing incentives to make higher grades. This, along with Dave's personal vigor, should be given credit for a good part of the improvement.

Athletically, Beta Upsilon looks forward to another fine year. Finishing ninth in 1961 among 58 fraternities, Beta Upsilon has most of its mainstay performers back. Bill Reno, Inno Rasina, Tom McIver, Jim Downey, Bob Martin, Ken Thomas, Dick Williams, Dale Hartwig, and Bob Pfeifer carry the Delta football hopes this fall. Back for a try at a second consecutive basketball all-fraternity championship are Ned Tyler, Bill Bauer, Bob Pfeifer, Jim Downey, and Inno Rasina. Terry Deiro, center, is the only one missing from last year's championship team.

Stan Yukevich, a senior, is first string center for the "Fighting Illini" football team. Big things are expected of Stan in his final year.

WILLIAM ALLISON

Illinois Tech—Gamma Beta

Gamma Beta started off what was to culminate in one of the most successful rush weeks in its history with the appointment of Brother Marty Jischke as rush chairman. Several parties were held during the summer, at which the number of brothers and rushees was large. Delt Lauren Hillquist opened his home in Geneva to the brothers, rushees, and their dates for the first party. Our second party was held at poolside in one of Chicago's most fashionable motels. The Saturday before rush week saw the brothers and rushees take their dates to the forest for the traditional forest party, complete with refreshments and late evening fun and frivolity.

Rush week started off with the parents' tea on Sunday and ended with the best pledge class anyone can remember Gamma Beta having. One of the biggest assets in the Shelter was the completion of the basement. The brothers worked hard during the summer and paneled the recreation room with mahogany. This room constantly drew the largest crowds on campus whenever a party was held in the house.

The men pledged this semester are: Dwight Hull, Jim Bruni, Bill O'Brien, Jim Elliot, Lee Hughes, John Vomastic, Craig Waryjas, Wayne Kosterman, Rick Biles, Keith Miller, Gary Witchey, Jim Caldwell, Jerry Thomas, Jim Russell, and Tom Michalek.

The living room and library were furnished with rugs which were donated by the house corporation. For these we are thankful, since they add the finishing touches to our now one year old Shelter.

To speak for our activities participation this last semester, Gamma Beta was awarded the interfraternity all-activities trophy for the year 1960-61. We are all proud of this trophy and intend to place another one beside it this year.

In the way of sports, several Delts were elected team captains for this coming season. They are Bob Yoerg and Bill Miller, cocaptains of the varsity swimming team; Dave McGuire, captain of the wrestling team; John Bagley, captain of the varsity basketball squad, and Joe Pash, captain of the varsity baseball team.

The BMOC department found Delts capturing outstanding positions on campus. Brother VanHorn won the senior class presidency, while Marty Jischke was appointed chairman of debates and lectures on the new Union board. Brother Anderson was appointed chairman of the publicity committee on this same board. Brother Bovis was named sports editor for the fall semester, and George Hanover was appointed assistant news editor of the school paper. Brother McMurray was named to the publications board and Pledge Jerry Thomas was elected to the freshman board.

Scholarship found the Delts above all-mens for the second semester in a row. We were also above all-fraternity by a good margin. We at Gamma Beta feel that this is a just reward for our hard effort and are going to make this a tradition.

Brother VanSanten, who was recently graduated, was elected the outstanding senior in the June graduating class. We were happy to bestow this honor on him for his many house activities. We are also proud of John Olin, who won the Alvan E. Duerr scholarship award in addition to several other graduate grants. He is furthering his outstanding career at Stanford University in California.

The interfraternity ball queen, Cheryl Golay, was escorted by Brother Fred McMurray. This makes four campus queens in a row for Gamma Beta Delts. We are proud of Cheryl and the other queens and expect to have many more victories in the future.

Our mascot, Pledge, gave birth to eight little pledges, which were quickly assigned to brothers requesting them. Had she had 50, the number of brothers requesting them would still have been greater. Unfortunately, due to problems with the school, we were forced to give up "Pledge" to the Orphans of the Storm, where we know she will receive placement in a good home.

The interfraternity sing found the Delts singing "Hallelujah" and "Sing to the Royal Purple." Our rewards for a job well done, under the able leadership of Bill VanSanten, was the second place trophy, losing first by a very small number of points.

To add to the trophies collected by Gamma Beta during the last year, we also took second in interfraternity baseball, losing the championship game in the sixth inning after we had built up a six run lead. This was a heartbreaker but our faith and hopes lie in the future.

The senior "Farewell" Rainbow Ball was held on the Sara Siddon's walk of the Ambassador East Hotel and gave the graduating seniors something memorable to end their four years of active membership in Gamma Beta.

The annual May 10 party gave the alumni and actives a chance to exchange recent stories and share in one another's experiences over the dinner held to commemorate the founding of Gamma Beta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta. Many constructive suggestions and ideas were handed down from our alums and were promptly taken up at the next chapter meeting. We feel that this gathering every year is one of the most enjoyable events, both for the alums and the brothers.

Early this fall we were glad to receive a visit from Brother Burnham. Burnham was graduated from Tech when Gamma Beta was still in its infant stages back in 1914. He had just returned from a trip to India for the last several months. We hope that many of our other alums will drop by the Shelter and share with us their memories of Gamma Beta of years gone by.

GEORGE BOVIS

Iowa State—Gamma Pi

The ending of the spring quarter brought to a close one of the most successful years in the history of Gamma Pi Chapter. It also ended the college career of a fine graduating senior class that helped make the year so successful. It looks as if we are going to have an even better year this year.

Socially, last spring we had our annual Orchid Formal in Des Moines. There were other exchanges and parties during the spring which were very successful. We are planning numerous pledge and active exchanges this quarter, and with a Boon Docks party at the end of September, we will have a well-rounded social life this quarter.

The work of Dave Nagel, our summer rush chairman, and Chuck Gelhaar, our rush chairman, and the rest of the chapter, resulted in a 17-man pledge class. Dave traveled about Iowa all summer seeing prospective rushees while Chuck distributed names of rushees that the brothers could contact. Coupled with a cordial Delt smile and a friendly handshake, the Gamma Pi Delts obtained a very sharp pledge class.

Last spring, Lee Johnson was awarded a scholarship for achieving the highest grade point for two quarters among the pledge class and Wally Fuchs had the highest average among the active chapter. We saw a big improvement in scholarship last spring. The chapter ranked seventh out of 32 fraternities to place us well above the all-college average.

Many of the Iowa State Delts have important positions on campus. President Dave Nagel is Pep Council treasurer, he is on the board of directors for the Fraternity Buying Association. He is Interfraternity Court justice. Tom Kline is cochairman of homecoming at Iowa State. Al Kuhlman is "athlete of the week" selections chairman. Bob Kopp and Dave Scheiding are on Pep Council. Dave is also the varsity basketball manager and will be on the varsity tennis team this spring. Bob Lorentzen is the Pep barbecue chairman and was the audio chairman for Veishea last spring. Ralph Staudte was the Cyclone's first baseman last spring. Gil Bachmann is the drum major for the Iowa State University marching band.

Dick Young, aided by the rest of the Delts and the Thetas, designed and built a winning Veishea parade float for the most clever idea last spring quarter. We were up most of the night putting the finishing touches on it, but it was well worth it in the end.

The intramural season has just started at Iowa State and we have entered two football teams, a volleyball team, and a bowling team. Last year the Delts had an outstanding year with a total of 19 teams entered in intramural competition, including four teams in Class A and many more in Class B.

The Gamma Pi Delts look back with pride at last year's achievements but at the same time are looking towards this year and the promise of still better things to come.

RICK THORBURN

Kansas—Gamma Tau

As the old year ends and the new school year begins, the men of Gamma Tau look with pride upon accomplishments of the previous spring and upon the prospects of an even better new school year.

Among our many spring activities was the University's interfraternity sing, held in April, in which 29 fraternities competed. The Deltas entered a quartet this year and walked away carrying the second place trophy for small group competition.

Officers elected last spring for the 1961-1962 term are Bruce Bee, president; Dick Harper, vice-president; Paul Empson, recording secretary; Bob Ruzicka, corresponding secretary; and Ken Lyle, guide.

The Deltas displayed their intramural abilities last spring on the tennis courts, on the volleyball courts, and the softball field. We won the first place divisional trophy in "B" team volleyball, first place divisional trophy in "B" team softball, and the "Hill" championship in tennis.

Winding up a successful spring semester at Gamma Tau on a social note, we held our annual spring formal, a gala affair, this year in Kansas City. Several smaller social functions with various sororities on the "Hill" were held throughout the semester and usually consisted of a picnic or a dance.

Near the end of spring semester, Brother Clay Edmands was honored as our Delt "Man of the Year," during the senior banquet here in the Shelter. In addition to Clay's position as president of Gamma Tau during the last year, he was very active in many campus activities; such as SUA, Schem, and Owl Society.

Now a new school year is beginning, and we of Gamma Tau are looking enthusiastically to the future. Our chapter rose eight places in grades over the past year, putting us well above the all-men's average and among the fraternities on campus with the best scholarship. We of Gamma Tau feel that there is no end to what we as a fraternity can accomplish during the coming year.

Among the many "Delt Dealers" around the "Hill" this year is Brother Bruce Bee, who will be cheering K.U.'s teams on to victory as head cheerleader and who was selected for the Dean's advisory board. Brother Dick Harper was selected for Phi Beta Kappa in March and Brother Jim Devall is president of Student Union Activities (SUA), vice-president of Owl Society, and is also on the Dean's advisory board. President of Statewide Activities, first vice-president of Young Republicans, vice-president of K.U.'s marketing club, and another member of the Dean's advisory board, is Brother Bob Corken. Brother Chuck Moffet will sit on the SUA board and has attained official positions in two professional organizations in the School of Engineering.

Our new pledge class is composed of high ranking men from high schools throughout the area, high ranking in areas such as scholarship, athletics, and music. On September 15, Gamma Tau held its formal pledging ceremony with 23 new pledges participating. In addition to their individual honors and their excellent scholastic record, our pledge class was the first to serenade the sororities and women's dormitories. They are now engaged in studying and other activities. The members of Gamma Tau look to these men with confidence that they will develop to the fullest in the fine traditions of Gamma Tau Chapter and Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

BOB RUZICKA

Kansas State—Gamma Chi

We are expecting a good year at Gamma Chi.

With the close of rush week on September ninth, the Deltas had pledged 34. This is the best pledge class that we have pledged in many years, and is, without a doubt, the best pledge class on the hill.

When the doors were opened at the Shelter this fall, the Deltas welcomed a charming new housemother, Mrs. Hazel Carter. Mother Carter comes from Jennings, Kansas, and has had previous housemother experiences at Kansas University. We are looking forward to a very pleasant association with Mother Carter.

We have made another recent addition here at the Shelter. A new $7000 addition to our kitchen was completed prior to rush week. The brothers have all been amazed in the improvement of the quality of the food since the addition.

The Deltas at Gamma Chi are set for another big year on campus. Brother Jack Richardson and Pledges Harold Haun and Jack King are all starters on the varsity football squad this year. Richard Partington is also represented on the freshman squad. We are again holding many key positions in the Union and the SGA.

Without a doubt, this should be a Delt year at KSU.

Kent—Delta Omega

September 18 saw the beginning of school here at Kent and the return of the brothers to the Shelter. Many of the brothers spent the summer working at Cape Cod, Massachusetts and they had an abundance of tales to tell on their return. Those who went to the Cape included Al Ardale, Tony Kozak, Dave Brock, Bob Pirtle, Neil Nicklas, Russ Peterson, and Bob Vorhees. Brother Bill Oliver spent the summer in Las Vegas, Nevada, working on a newspaper as a sports writer.

The new student week program began September 18 and many of the brothers participated in this orientation. Brother Bob Farrell was general coordinator of the program; Jack Huber, arts and science coordinator; Jack Fristoe, business administration coordinator. Group leaders included Ed Wydareny, Jack Frankhouser, Joe Focer, Bob Vorhees, Bill Oliver, Ned Swanson, and Jack Kloss.

Intramural football has started and this year flag football has been introduced, which makes for a more exciting game. Our line, consisting of Gary Novak, Daniel Marksz, Dave McCrory, Dick and Dave Stillson, provides us with a lot of beef and good blocking. We are looking forward to a successful season.

Our fall rush program is in full swing with a big trip to Ohio University as one of the main events of the program. We have taken four pledges thus far in fall rush and the number should soon reach ten, a good showing for upper-class rush. We are also planning a pig roast at the house of Denny Peterson in the near future.

Delta Omega would like to extend an invitation to all brothers who visit Kent State to stop at the Shelter and say "hello."

JOSEPH FOCER

Kentucky—Delta Epsilon

The Delts in the Blue Grass of Kentucky started their new year with an all-out, "gung-ho" rush for transfer students and upperclassmen who were eligible for pledging under Kentucky's deferred pledging system. The results of our labor were 21 pledges, who were the envy of the whole UK fraternity system. Rush parties were started early in the summer and were enjoyed as much by the brothers as by the rushees.

After taking trophies in five major sports last year, we are setting out with new vigor to make this year even more successful in intramurals. Football practice started fast and furious, as Coach Juddy Knight has plans of taking the championship. In mixed golf doubles, the Delts have solicited the best golfing coeds in the state to carry the load.

The Shelter boasts many improvements from the summer and thoughts are now turned to the idea of a bomb shelter. We have thoughts of building a coed shelter and then let the bombs come!

Brother Dick Lowe, our grand old man and veep, has gone on collecting campus offices; he has been elected president of the senior class, managing the campus radio station, and IFC rush chairman. Dan Patterson has been elected president of the Pryor pre-medical society.

The boys at Delta Epsilon also have another addition of which we boast. Mrs. Booth, our new housemother, has made the Shelter a new home with everything improving.

ED HOULIHAN

Lafayette—Nu

The spring of 1961 was quite a notable one for Nu Chapter. In intramural sports, the enthusiasm and spirit of all the brothers transcended the confines of merely the physical fraternity house. The added effort which the Delt athletes, almost superhumanly exhibited, enabled the chapter to consecutively win three intramural championships. All three, swimming, baseball, and track, were marked with unbelievable last minute, or more precisely, last second victories. In swimming, it was the last race; in baseball, it was the last inning; and in track, it was one final broad jump.

That extra effort shown so dramatically on the athletic field has permeated the chapter in each brother's thoughts, either consciously or subconsciously. The spirit presently in the chapter cannot be measured in runs or inches, and even though it is the result of those tangible victories, it has grown to a mature commanding influence over all Delt activities.

In varsity sports, Jim Oehlert was honored with the "most outstanding" award in track. Jim, although a constant winner in the half mile, was chosen more on the basis of his outstanding character and sportsmanship on the field. This fall, Barry Pullen and Pete Knudsen are first string soccer players and Bob Montagno is grinding away opponents for the Lafayette Leopards' football team.

Seniors who were graduated in June were Fred Schillinger, Richard Perry, Walter Daller, David Tamburro, Robert Mayer, James Oehlert, Melville Smart, Stan Novaco, Paul Lofberg, Alexander Miteff, William Remaly, Peter Mitchell, John Hanson, William Larrabee, Frank Schlageter, Ronald Geesey, and Richard Wolf. About 40 per cent are now attending graduate schools.

At the present moment, Delta Tau Delta is leading the other 21 Lafayette fraternities in all-campus points. Points are given on the basis of intramural sports, academic achievement, editorial positions on Lafayette publications, and other incidental events, most of which require a homogeneous chapter effort.

Also in the past semester were held the elections for chapter officers. The reigning officers are Peter Claussen, president; Bill Seed, vice-president; Howard (Howie) Clark, treasurer; Bill Greenough, corresponding secretary; Jon Yarnall, recording secretary; Wedge August, sergeant at arms; and Ted Schmanda, guide.

Fraternity rushing has been changed from first semester to second. Nu's pledges, soon to be initiated, are: Bob Wolf, Bob Montagno, Richard Sellars, Dave Nolf, Gardiner McBride, Dan Headington, and Mark Grubbe.

The Delts, socially, are finding themselves again on top this year. In the spring the interfraternity week end was spent at a resort in the Pocos. A quite memorable, although at times traumatic, experience was had by all. The social activities planned for the fall are varied and numerous. With the advent of live elephants, fire engines, and 1930 Plymouths, the fall semester promises to be one filled with many esoteric scenes.

The year looks quite enlightening for the Delts at Lafayette. Academically, athletically, socially, and fraternally, the Delts shall strive in 1961-62 to continue to live a richer life, "well-rounded, firm, and fully packed."

RICHARD BONELLI

Lehigh—Beta Lambda

The fall semester saw the Delts welcome back two "old pledges," Terry Brenner and John Hayes. These two took a year long sabbatical and everyone was happy to see their smiling faces again.

Chapter President Ron Johnson, also the interfraternity council president, was instrumental in the formation of a new contacting program for this year's freshman class. The spring semester saw Beta Lambda's average jump to 11th among Lehigh's 30 fraternities.

This fall, the Delts are looking for another big year in intramurals. Our football team's line averages 210-lbs. per man, with Carl Straub, Bill Denise, John Hayes, Denny Maus, and Sam Tucker as the forward wall. Our backfield can all do the 100 in 10.2 or less. The Delt pledge class, led by officers Steve Orlando, Don Mattson, and Jim Renaldi, evidence signs that they will some day be good Delts. Utilizing an imaginative business sense, they have procured a sizeable pile of bricks and mortar and are now building a barbecue in back of the Shelter.

Realizing that proper social life is an important adjunct of the academic program here at Lehigh, the Delts are once again preparing to assume their rightful place as leaders of the Lehigh University social whirl. The "Hot Nuts" from Chapel Hill, North Carolina, and Bo Didly, are already set for week ends here this year. The South Mountain Athletic Club, an important division of the Beta Lambda Chapter, has successfully kicked off the fall social season with a number of highly successful balcony parties.

President Bill Denise reports that he is greatly pleased with the success of the club's recent membership drive. Outstanding sociables Jay Flynn, Bill Nichols, Carl Goehringer, and Jack MacGregor, among others, are now firmly entrenched in the group.

Worthy of note at this time are the many thoughtful Delts who have stopped in at the University Health Center to say a cheery hello to their many good friends there. All in all, the present crew on hand insures another successful year for Beta Lambda Chapter, and we extend good wishes to all the other chapters in the forthcoming year.

Maine—Gamma Nu

With a fine pledge class, the Delts of Gamma Nu look forward to another successful year. Spring rushing brought us many pledges who will take their part in upholding the Delt tradition on the Maine campus. It is the largest pledge class in recent years. The pledges are: Dave Anderson, Bob Anderson, Dick Averill, Charles Drew, Jack Fabello, Al Fernald, Dick French, John Gilbert, Win Gillis, Bob Gosselin, Doug Hall, Bob Hardison, John Howard, Dennis Hurlburt, Al Leathers, Matt McNeary, Ed Mitchell, Bill Stegemen, Bob Stickney, Bob Tyler, Mitch Webber, and Val Wood.

Although the brothers may come and go, there are two persons at Gamma Nu who have seen us through for a number of years. "Mom" Barron, back for her ninth year, has seen many changes at the Maine Delt House. It is a comforting feeling to know that you have someone understanding to chat with over a cup of coffee in the evening. Ray Thibeau, our chef, has been setting the Gamma Nu table for 15 years. If a full Delt is an active Delt, we shall have no worries with Ray around.

Many prominent positions on campus are held by Delts this year. Brother Ken Winters, president of the Maine Christian Association; Brother Greg Brown, treasurer of Alpha Zeta; Pete Forbush, president of the intramural athletic association; Waite Weston, president of the A.S.A.E.; Doug Skillin, secretary-treasurer of the interfraternity council; Everett Brann, commodore of the Sailing Club; and Roger Holmes, treasurer of Scabbard and Blade.

The remembrance of the good times had last spring at the Jamaica Party and spring house party are hard to dismiss as the new school year begins. With homecoming in the near future and all the activities that this week end involves, the Delts are already working on ideas to make it a successful one at Gamma Nu.

Newly elected officers of Gamma Nu are: Doug Skillin, president; Waite Weston, vice-president; Greg Brown, treasurer; Pete Forbush, recording secretary; and Bob Donovan, corresponding secretary. The brothers at Gamma Nu feel sure that this new slate of officers will lead us on to greater heights in 1961.

TIMOTHY ROBBINS

Maryland—Delta Sigma

The fall of leaves and a nip in the air, marks the beginning of the fall semester here at Maryland. Before delving into the future, I think the past year's accomplishments of Delta Sigma should be surveyed.

Four of Delta Sigma's Delts pose on front steps of Shelter with new housemother, Mrs. KATHRINE ROWE

We rounded out last semester in a flurry by finishing strong in all the Greek Week events, topping it all off by walking away with third place in the annual interfraternity sing. This could never have been possible without the tireless efforts of Song Chairman Bob Purvis.

With the coming of summer, events at the Delt Shelter did not cease by any means. A loyal group of around 15 members remained in the Shelter for summer school, work, sports, and a round of parties. The Deltas paced all other groups on campus by winning the summer open softball league championship.

The start of school brought everyone together once again with the Shelter filled to capacity. Some new additions to the premises included a fresh paint job, a renovated recreation room, and a new hi-fi system. Other additions included several transfer Deltas from our Tufts and Lafayette chapters.

Politically, we have three members in key campus positions. Dick Fox is sophomore class treasurer, while Jerry Welty and Tom Brown are, respectively, vice-president and secretary of the Men's League, the leading male student organization on campus.

Once again we have the opportunity to welcome our new "Mom." With us this year will be Mrs. Kathrine Rowe, formerly housemother with Alpha Delta Pi sorority here at Maryland. She will be taking the place of Mrs. Margaret Cooley, who will be accepting a new position, also on the Maryland campus.

October marks the beginning of fall rush. We are all anticipating one of the most successful rush programs our chapter has ever participated in. Under the direction of Spike Dashiell, assisted by the entire chapter, we hope to pledge one of the largest and finest classes in our 13 year history as a chapter.

In sports, our touch football team again looks very strong. With last year's record of seven wins—three losses as a goal, we hope to finish at the top. Missing from this year's team will be all-Star Jack Haughton, but we will all be depending on the passing and running of the "Brown" boys, Thomas H. Brown and W. Tomlinson Brown. The line will be anchored by big Jim Bryan.

Of course, the high point of any fall semester is homecoming. This year plans have been in progress for several months to make this the biggest and the best reunion ever. We hope that all our alumni, as well as any Deltas in the area, drop by the Shelter on homecoming day.

That's about all for now from Delta Sigma. We wish the best of everything this year to all our fellow chapters.

NEIL J. WELTY

New pledges at Beta Nu Chapter

M.I.T.—Beta Nu

As another year at M.I.T. begins, we Deltas of Beta Nu look ahead with enthusiasm. As a result of a very industrious work week, the Shelter is really in good shape. Our rush week produced nine new pledges: Richard Arold, Ralph Cicerone, Bill Collins, Tony Dvorak, Joe Dyro, Mike Keehner, Mike Long, Jim Larson, and Tom McAuley. Five of these men have scholarships. Two second term pledges from last year, Pat Gage and Rich Krasin, total an 11-man pledge class.

There was some added excitement around the Delt house during rush week. A "Route 66" television show was filmed outside the Delt house and in the adjacent apartment. Diane Millay, curvaceous starlet in the film, provided our historian with some breath-taking snapshots. We are looking forward to seeing the Delt house on TV this fall.

Steve Warner and Ellis Ridgeway spent the summer touring Europe on motorcycles. Steve and "Ridge" remembered many of the brothers by sending interesting postcards from places like Istanbul and Athens. Rushing Chairman Tom Massaro also spent an active summer and turned out an excellent rush pamphlet.

Something new this year in the social scene at Beta Nu will be some interfraternity parties. This should improve interfraternity relations. Also M.I.T. fraternities are small in numbers, so a combined effort should provide more "grins."

I would like to conclude by wishing all the chapters continued scholastic excellence, social prominence, and athletic prowess—which to me are the ingredients which infuse a chapter with the true spirit of Deltism.

MOTNAHP CERVENKA

Miami—Gamma Upsilon

With the coming of September, the Deltas returned to the Shelter in full force looking forward to another fine year. During the summer we had some notable improvements in the Shelter, including a new asphalt shingle roof, extensive interior painting, and new curtains for every room generously donated by the Mothers' Club. Our favorite gal, Mom Luedke, exercised her fine taste in her choice of draperies.

Daddio, affectionately called "The Old Man" by the brothers, is back again cooking those tremendous meals.

We are very happy to introduce and welcome Brother Carman Cozza as our new chapter adviser. Besides being our adviser, Carm serves in the capacity of assistant coach of the Miami Redskin football team. Returning lettermen Brothers John Zink and Paul "Tiny" Watters again will bolster the title hopes of the "Skins." The entire chapter will be on hand to cheer Carm, John, Tiny, and the Skins on to victory. Our members will be looking forward to a successful intramural season under the leadership of our athletic chairman, Brother Ron Sraile. Brother Jim Duffield is again a top officer in the advanced AFROTC program.

Last semester the Deltas moved up another notch in the academic standing. This year we have high hopes of bettering our present position.

This year we have planned quite a few new and different social functions, beginning with a Saturday afternoon combo party. If the brothers and their dates are not dancing, they will be dipping in our backyard pool. We are also looking forward to our future parties: Roaring '20's, Cartoon Carni-RF, and winter week end. Our social calendar will be swinging under the direction of Brother Rich Ferrante.

New officers for the coming year are Denny Reese, president; John Bauer, vice-president; Bob Morain, treasurer; Rich Robb, assistant treasurer; Ron Lime, recording secretary; Tom Hutton, corresponding secretary; and Tom Borst, sergeant at arms.

Brother Greg Schubert, our rush chairman, is organizing plans for the procurement of our fall pledge class.

The brothers at the Shelter are confident that we will win the homecoming display trophy this year. The plans are still in the drawing board stage, but they seem very promising.

In a few weeks, we will entertain our fathers at Miami's annual Dad's Day festivities. Between the dinner, the football game with Toledo University, and the usual fellowship, the brothers and their dads should have another memorable Dad's Day week end.

Again all evidence points to a successful and fun-filled semester. We extend a cordial invitation to all brothers of Delta Tau Delta who may be in the vicinity of Miami University to visit the Shelter during the present year.

Michigan—Delta

Once again the Shelter was cluttered with suit cases, trunks, paint brushes, and an assortment of tools, as the brothers congregated to work on their rooms and get settled for the new fall semester. After one week of classes and with the rooms in shape, the attentions of the brothers are focusing on Michigan's football schedule. This year two of the Deltas will be in the starting line-up. John Houtman will be a starting tackle and Todd Grant will start in the center position. The brothers will be out there cheering for them as we look forward to a great season with seven out of nine season games here in Ann Arbor.

Lars R. Anderson was recently elected to the post of vice-president and will lead the committee system into action this fall. This year the Deltas will again be active on campus as is evidenced by the number of brothers that were initiated into honoraries last spring. Dave Croysdale, Bill Gleason, Bruce Groom, John Hutchinson, and Ray Senkowski became members of the Sphinx, literature school honorary. Dan Brown, John Houtman, and Wayne Smith were initiated into the Triangle, engineering school honorary. Fritz Kellerman, who this week took over the "M" club presidency from Brother Andy Morrow, was welcomed into the Druid, senior literature school honorary; and Todd Grant, the new vice-president of the varsity club, was made a member of the Michigama, senior honorary. Along with Fritz and Todd, Ray Senkowski was made social chairman for the "M" club, and as of last spring holds the Big Ten singles championship in tennis.

In addition to the Delta's campus activities, Steve Smith, the new social chairman for the Shelter, is planning a variety of social activities which should keep morale high. It is on this bright and encouraging basis that the Michigan chapter is plunging into another semester.

TOM MCAULIFFE

Michigan State—Iota

The men of Iota have once again gathered for the school year. Before looking at this fall's planned activities, let's go back and review one of the most successful spring quarters in Iota's history.

We jumped off to a roaring start with a very successful rush. The rush party, headed by Bob Sharky, was a great success. The theme was Iota University. M.S.U.'s traditional Beaumont Tower greeted the rushees as they entered the front door. The three party rooms were traditional university scenes: a stadium, a typical fraternity living room, and a pledge room. After our guests left and the roar died away, Iota had six new outstanding pledges.

With the coming of warm weather, sports took over the activity scene. We took second place in the Greek Olympics. Jim Dobrei took top honors, taking three first places. Next came the annual junior 500. Our team of Brothers Dobrei, Dave Laidlaw, Dick Ford, and Chuck Snyder took third in a photo finish. The softball team, captained by Lou Hoos, lost out in a play-off for the block championship.

Brother John Forsyth was elected vice-president of Blue Key, a junior men's honorary, and president of Union Board.

As finals approached, it was once again water carnival time on the campus of M.S.U. The committee, headed by Gary Bell, designed a masterpiece. The brothers worked hard and were rewarded for their efforts by capturing first place in the year's biggest campus activity. A beautiful three-foot trophy now adorns the living room.

We are now back together and planning big things for fall quarter. A rush party, headed by Chuck Snyder, is taking shape rapidly. The football and bowling teams are working out daily and we have high hopes for a couple of championships. Plans are already in the making for homecoming and our annual Christmas tree lighting.

Iota Deltas think this is going to be a tremendous year and are looking forward to a great fall quarter.

PAUL HORN

North Dakota—Delta Xi

After a long summer, Delta Xi's Shelter came alive again, as the brothers

JUDY MORTENSON, Delta Xi's Miss Sally Sunshine

returned for another school year. We came back a week early to work around the house. New beds and mattresses were placed in every room and all the rooms were painted.

During the summer, Brothers Bob Dahl, Neal Garland, and Bruce Kostad conducted an extensive rush program, which helped us obtain our 19 pledges.

About six o'clock one Saturday last May, we invaded the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, and chose the best looking girl without any make-up applied. This is an annual affair for our chapter and the girl chosen is called Miss Sally Sunshine. This year she is Miss Judy Mortenson.

Our social chairman, Brother Neal Garland, has the calendar filled with coming events for the fall and winter social season. His list includes a hobo party with the Delta Zeta Sorority, a hard times party, a morgue party, the Christmas formal, the Delt sweetheart contest, a surprise party for the sweetheart, serenades, exchange dinners, and sorority parties.

Brothers John Kjelskus and Don Gjerdevig have been selected for the advanced course in the Army ROTC. Brother Richard Anderson, from the Beta Eta Chapter, is with us this year and he is a real asset to Delta Xi. Pledge Robert Bubach is a member of the University marching band.

Finally, Delta Xi is continuing to rank high in scholarship. Last semester we placed third scholastically among the fraternities.

DONALD O. GJERDEVIG

Northwestern—Beta Pi

Beta Pi opened its 69th year at Northwestern by pledging 20 men. The new Delt pledges are Bob Bell, Ken Carlson, Leonard Charchut, Richard Clark, David Culver, Steve Cunningham, Dick Dwiklinski, Charles Falk, Tom Harbeck, Ronald Jawor, Terry Jones, Dick Meystre, Steve Narland, David Nehrling, Guy Parks, Harold Pritchett, Ken Robb, Gerald Scafa, Tom Waymire, and Greg Zolezzi.

Delts were in the forefront of many campus activities as the school year opened.

Delt Junior Jack Cvercko was scheduled to see action as a starting guard in the Boston College-Northwestern football game, but was sidelined by a knee injury. Jack was expected to play in the first game of NU's Big Ten season, against Illinois.

Two Delt pledges, Dave Culver and Jerry Scafa, are linemen on the freshman football team.

In other fall sports, Delt Junior Steve Newcomer, last year's ace of the cross-country squad, was to see action again this year.

In intramural competition, Delt teams hoped this year to better our fifth-place finish among 35 competing houses last year. Last spring, the Delt volleyball team went undefeated for the second time in three years. The volleyball title was our second all-school championship for the year.

This fall, Scott Hershey will quarterback a Delt team that has excellent chances for a high league finish. Among the Delts expected to see action are Dan Oefinger, Bill Kunkle, Tom Marzec, Bill Gall, Dean Trafelet, Bill Johnson, Bill Smith, Bob Hackney, Brian Pape, Len Charchut, Rick Clark, Steve Cunningham, and Tom Waymire.

Socially, Delta Tau Delta inaugurated Northwestern's social season for the 33rd straight year on October 14, when the Delt-sponsored Freshman Pajama Race was run, with teams from more than 30 fraternities and dormitories competing. After the race, which drew crowds of better than 2,000 people, a freshman Pajama Queen, chosen by Delt seniors, was crowned. Each women's living unit nominated its most attractive freshman, who was escorted to the race and to dinner at the Shelter by a Delt pledge. The Pajama Race is the only fraternity-sponsored, all-campus event.

After the race, Delt freshmen and their royal dates were feted at an exclusive party at the Polynesian Village Room of the famed Edgewater Beach Hotel.

The next big item on the social calendar was to be the homecoming party, after the game with Indiana on November 4. Social Chairman Bill Kunkle and Dan Benninghoven also scheduled a number of exchanges with top sororities.

In activities, Delts won high honors in last spring's campus elections. Two Delts, Ed Bryant and Fred Schlegel, were elected to represent their classes on the student senate, the all-campus student governing body. Both were immediately appointed chairmen of important senate committees. Bryant has been hailed by the student newspaper as a logical candidate for the Senate presidency next spring.

In other activities, Chuck Mount was named sports editor of the Daily Northwestern. Mike Barrier was named administrative co-ordinator of Model United Nations, one of the four top jobs on the model UN executive board.

MIKE BARRIER

Ohio State—Beta Phi

After a hard summer rush, Beta Phi again came up with one of the finest pledge classes on the Ohio State campus. Nearly 40 men were pledged during rush week, and we feel that each man will make an outstanding Delt in years to come. Many of the new pledges were pledged at our annual outing at Brother John W. Galbreath's Darby Dan Farms. Football, swimming, tennis, baseball, and horseshoes in the afternoon, followed by a steak fry in the evening, and movies of Brother Galbreath's Pittsburgh Pirates were enjoyed by all.

Aside from our fine, new pledge class, we are looking forward to a fruitful year for Delta Tau Delta at O.S.U.

Socially, our sorority relations chairman has serenades set up with the Kappas, Delta Gams, and Thetas for fall quarter. He has also planned several pledge parties for the new sorority pledges for winter quarter. Our social schedule has been well-planned by Chairman Dave Blackburn. We have parties after every home football game, plus a Christmas dinner.

MISSY BIRNIE,

In intramural athletics, the Delts at O.S.U. are hoping to retain their 1960-61 crown for having the best all-around athletic program for fraternities. Last year we gained more points than any other fraternity on campus.

In interscholastic athletics, Dan Carter and Dan Connor are fighting for first team berths on the O.S.U. football team, while Leif Jonassen and Scotty Smith will soon be starting practice for the hockey and diving teams, respectively.

In campus activities, Mike Harris will be starting up where he left off last year as a student senator in the O.S.U. student senate. Scott Kayser was elected to a state office in the Young Republicans Club of Ohio. Scott is also very active in the O.S.U. Y.R.C.

Scholastically, we are very well off. Spring quarter, the active chapter was far above the All Men's Average with a 2.55 cumulative. For last year's scholastic effort, we received the plaque for the most improved chapter in the Northern Division.

Our alumni, led by Bill Mackenbach, have come up with a fine idea for homecoming. Instead of having a homecoming party for alumni and undergrads, the alums will have their own homecoming party. This is due to the overcrowded conditions and financial problems in the past. Both the undergrads and alumni feel that this is a fine idea. Jerry Haller is chairman for the alum homecoming party.

So, at O.S.U. the Delt spirit is sky-high and the stage is set for our best year ever.

PHIL HAZELTON

Ohio Wesleyan—Mu

Just one year away from moving into their new Shelter on fraternity row, the Mu brothers are once again excelling in all campus areas. Don Gartrell took over as president of the IFC last spring, shortly after Tom Swaim was elected president of the senior class of 1962. Then, Don Hetzel was appointed editor in chief of the 1962 Le Bijou, Ohio Wesleyan's yearbook.

Of the eight student council committees, four are under the direction of Delt chairmen. John Race (social), Dick Lacy (elections), Stan Shawhan (academic relations), and Glen Collier (book store) hold these positions.

Wes Johnston, Bill Geiger, Tom Switzer, and Al Waldrop have taken key positions on the Battling Bishops' football squad and freshman Pledge Phil Flanagan is considered by the coaching staff as the most promising of the freshman gridders.

Under the direction of President Bob Ludwig and Vice President Collier, Mu is optimistic about recapturing many of the special trophies it has won in the past. Among these is the homecoming display award, which the Delts have captured seven years in a row. Moreover, this may well be the semester for this chapter's return to the top of the OWU scholarship roster.

Not the least cause for this feeling is the unusually bright pledge class. Although it numbers only 14, each member possesses an outstanding academic record. Besides Flanagan, the class of 1965 includes Tom Campbell, Bob Chase, Joe Foltz, Len Harding, Charlie Kindt, Rodger Nutt, Mike Phillips, Dick Rentz, Roger Stuart, Rich Sweat, Kent Volkmer, Dick Wilson, and Dick Wimbish.

JOHN BASSETT

Oklahoma State—Delta Chi

Delts at OSU started off the fall semester with a very successful rush week. Thanks to Rush Chairmen Ted Dittman and Jim Johnson and four big summer rush parties, we pledged 12 outstanding men.

Social activities last spring were highlighted by our annual Orchid Formal, during which Miss Carolyn Dixon, past president of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, was crowned Sweetheart of Delta Chi for 1961-1962, and presented with a bouquet of orchids flown from Hawaii.

This fall we started our social program off with a "River Bottom" party at Yost Lake. Other parties in the planning stages are our fall formal and hay ride, along with the annual seasonal dances.

Intramurally, last year we again ranked high in the final standings by winning our league titles in football, basketball, volleyball, and softball. This fall our hopes of a repeat performance have been encouraged by the fact that we have won every football game played thus far in the season.

After having won our league in every major intramural sport, and throwing some swinging parties, we still had time to study, as may be testified to by the fact that we were first in scholarship out of 21 fraternities on campus that participate in rush.

Brother Gary Toussaint was selected outstanding freshman physics student and Brother Jim Johnson was chosen outstanding freshman math student.

As far as student organizations are concerned, Brother Richard Hollis is president, Brother Mike Fenton is corresponding secretary, and Brother Bill Lee is captain of the flash card section of Lasso's and Lariat's, the campus organization in charge of homecoming preparations and pep rallies. Brother Kendall Johnson is president of Pi Tau Sigma, honorary mechanical engineering fraternity; Richard Hollis was initiated into Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, and was intercollegiate party candidate for senior class president; Jerry Smith is on the engineering student council; and Gary Toussaint is active in arts and sciences student council.

Construction has begun on our new two-story Shelter. The foundation and floor are in and work has started on the brick and native stone walls. The new Shelter is at the same location as the old, and will house 48 Delts. It will be finished in time for us to move into second semester.

With a strong membership, a pledge class of great potential, and the anticipation of a new Shelter, Delta Chi is looking forward to a banner year, surpassing even our success of last year.

MIKE FENTON

Oregon State—Delta Lambda

The Delta Lambda Delts are looking forward to one of their most outstanding years on the Oregon State University campus. With our 28 new pledges, we are looking to the future with anticipation. The new pledges are: Ken Balmforth, Sig Christerson, Mike Dennis, Buddy Escobar, Bill Flynn, Brad Gibson, Bill Hardwick, Rich Hansen, Len Held, Bill Hitchcock, Bob Kilpatrick, Dave Korzan, Tom Kucera, Bob Lieb, Gordon

Lowell, Guy Moore, Doug Morton, Ken Paxton, Jack Paschall, Ken Peyton, Jay Schmoll, Scott Thompson, Neil Wells, Jim Wicker, Ed Wilson, Lee Winetrou, Eldon Wortman, and Randy Rothman.

As usual, many OSU Delts are holding prominent positions in campus activities. The sophomore class will be headed by its capable president, Bill Holman. Another sophomore, Bill Milne, will act as Beaver sales manager, along with Don Wrenn who holds the position of Beaver business manager. Scott McKean will serve as engineering senator on the ASOSU senate. Kim Harmon is working with the senior class as its sergeant at arms.

This year we are very fortunate to have two members of Blue Key, the senior men's honorary for outstanding service, character, and scholarship. They are Scott McKean and Don Wrenn.

As the term progresses, we are looking forward to a successful year in intramural sports under the direction of Ron Faia. Also on the roster are the many social events, including the annual fall term pledge dance.

LOU PARMENTER

Pennsylvania—Omega

Early last June what could be considered one of the finest groups of Omega Delts was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania. Behind them the class of '61 left an impressive record, which culminated with the Delts receiving the Sphinx, senior society, leadership award for outstanding service to the University and excellence in academics. This is the eighth time in 11 years that the Delts have won this distinction on the campus, which has 36 other fraternities competing for it. At the "Hay Day" ceremonies, Tim String was awarded the class of '45 award for his leadership in all phases of University life. Among the 17 seniors graduated in June, eight are presently enrolled in graduate schools.

The big question now facing the chapter is whether it will be able to hold its high position on campus after 11 years of power. We feel that the following will offer conclusive evidence that we will. Two members of the senior class, Connie DeSantis and Bill Gray, were elected to the Sphinx, senior society, while Jim Guthrie, John Daubman, and Dick Harkins became Friars. Connie DeSantis and Bill Gray are both starters on the varsity football team, along with Junior Ron Allshouse. Dick Harkins is cocaptain of the varsity wrestling team, while Jim Guthrie is president of the Glee Club.

Out of the junior class stepped a new campus leader in the person of Dick Pegnetter, who was elected to the Houston Hall board of directors and became the new president of Phi Kappa Beta, junior honor society. Joining him in this society are Ron Allshouse and Bob Murry. Four juniors are also heeling for the Kite and Key Society, which is the open door committee for the University. Two Delts are presently members of this society.

After many years, the Delts again have a cheerleader in the chapter. This is Sophomore Bob Young, who was able to cheer the Penn football team to victory in his first appearance on Franklin Field. Other sophomores are also entering into sports on the Penn campus, including Mike Kennedy, who shows promise on the football team in the future.

The 150-pound football team will again be helped out by All-American Bob Murry. Handing the ball off to him and quarterbacking the team will be Tim Walsh.

In intramural athletics, the Delt "Drones" finished in fourth place last spring with a clean sweep in basketball. This fall, the IF football team, under the direction of Ron Schaeffer, shows much promise after winning its first encounter.

The Shelter is in the process of receiving a face lifting with new living and dining room furniture. This renovation program is under the careful guidance of the Omega Alumni Society. High on the social calendar stands homecoming day, November 4. A large number of Omega Delt alumni are expected to return and a big week end is planned for them.

Scholarship and rushing seem to be the two points stressed this semester, which are both highly important to a fraternity at Penn. The new tri-semester system at the University of Pennsylvania does not look as if it will hinder the achievements and activities of the Omega Delts and another successful year appears to be in the making.

JAMES BECKLEY

Penn State—Tau

The Tau Chapter is a determined and strong group as the year begins. Our objectives are threefold, and we are confident that they will be realized.

An outstanding group of pledges is reason enough for our optimism. Moving into the Shelter this fall were: Bob Becker, Larry Campbell, Charlie Cox, Ed Craig, Bill Eells, Marty Eichelberger, Bob Evans, Gib Hemming, John Herman, Bill Manke, Dave Mills, Burt Rudy, Jim Truby, John Veach, and John Ungar. They've chosen Marty Eichelberger as their president and have real enthusiasm and potential. Their largest assignment will be to get a pledge class as fine as their own, and in this they are capably led by William "Lump" Stewart, our rushing chairman.

Socially, we want to continue in our modest first position and the social chairman, Brother Byrne, has planned for two fall party week ends, one with an old

Tau's JULIAN D. WEISS

German band. Mixers are with Chi Omega, Kappa, Delta Gamma, Theta, and A Chi O. The "glad hand" has become a Tau tradition and it will again be extended to the campus.

Finally and primarily, we must keep scholastic improvement before us, and the chapter is determined that our grades, for the first time, will be on a par with Tau's social pace.

Under the new administration of President Julian Weiss and Vice-President Dave Dunn we are expecting a lot.

KEN DELAHUNTY

Pittsburgh—Gamma Sigma

Gamma Sigma looks forward to optimum achievement in all of its functions for the coming year. The chapter's newly elected administration for the fall term is: Joe Lehmann, president; Blaine Daugherty, vice-president; Dick Faull, treasurer; and Jim McDivitt, secretary.

In preparation for a successful year, the chapter made many improvements in its Shelter. The brothers painted the interior and exterior of the house and re-finished hard wood floors. New carpeting and re-upholstered furniture, for which the chapter expresses gratitude to the alumni, completed the remodelings.

The two weeks of rushing activities for the fall trimester began September 18. During the first week, and again this week, two dinners were held at the Shelter; rushees were entertained by a magician one evening and a hypnotist the other. Last Sunday a farm was the site of Gamma Sigma's chicken barbecue. The stag group played football and baseball. The chapter also had a clipper cruise party. The party consisted of a two hour ride on the Monongahela, Allegheny, and Ohio Rivers. Entertainment was offered by a guitarist and ballad singer. This Saturday the entire day is planned for the prospective pledges. The day's activities will begin with the Pitt vs. Baylor pre-game luncheon. After the game, rushees are invited to the Shelter for a semiformal dance.

Gamma Sigma is concerned again this year with its brothers' academic achievement. For the winter trimester's work, Joe Cardamone was given the highest quality-point average award, while Jim Kinney and Richard Lerach received the award for greatest improvement since the preceding trimester. This term similar awards will be given and competitive interest is high.

Football is the major interest among interfraternity sports again this year. Little trouble, however, is expected from other teams with Dick Faull playing quarterback, Nick Antonuccio catching passes, and Dutch Ikeler displaying his usual versatility. Jim Scott, Blaine Daugherty, Pete Nycum, and Bob Hughes will be playing regularly to win. While not playing IF football, the brothers can also watch Brothers Woody Haser, Ed Billy, and John Botula, who play for Pitt's Panthers.

JAMES MCDIVITT

Purdue—Gamma Lambda

The Delts at Gamma Lambda started the school year with an impressive showing in Purdue's informal fall rush. Nine very outstanding men were pledged after four days of enthusiastic rushing. Rush will open again next semester, when over 1,000 freshmen will attend rush functions.

On Saturday, September 30, 12 men were initiated into the Fraternity. These men are active in varsity athletics and campus activities and are a great addition to our chapter.

Five Delt seniors were tapped for Gimlet Club, the senior fraternity men's honorary. With five active members already in the club, the Delt's ten members comprise almost one-sixth of the club, which represents 39 fraternities. Those tapped include George Williamson, Jay Verneuil, Ed Strickler, Jack Thomas, and Dave Gibson.

More good news for Gamma Lambda came when the University released the scholastic standings for the 1960-'61 school year. The Delts finished in fifth place among the 39 fraternities on campus. This is an improvement over the previous year, when we were 12th.

J. H. THOMAS

Rensselaer—Upsilon

Arriving back for the fall term, Upsilon Delts are anticipating another great year at RPI. We feel this year will further strengthen our position of leadership on the campus.

Athletically, the Delts are well represented in all the fall sports. Al Vossler and Walt Robertson are expected to see heavy action on the soccer team, while Pledge George Policello has already shown himself to be a defensive standout on RPI's football team.

In interfraternity sports, we find ourselves undefeated with the season well under way. Lee Siebel and Ron Kasper look to be among the best on campus in tennis and golf, respectively.

Our football team finds itself undefeated in 3 starts and hasn't been scored upon. With a great deal of chapter interest, we are able to start separate offensive and defensive teams and feel we have a great chance for the school championship.

The nucleus of Gamma Lambda's '61-'62 pledge class

Opening the year with a terrific TGIF party, we are eagerly awaiting homecoming and the fall social season. We have already seen several "old grads" back and are expecting quite a few more for homecoming.

With the fall rushing season just getting under way, we already anticipate another fine pledge class. We hope it will be even larger than last year.

We of Upsilon are looking forward to an even better year than the fine one which has just passed. The way things are shaping up, it will be.

CHARLES F. BARNES

Sewanee—Beta Theta

The year of 1961 has been big from the beginning for Beta Theta. Last semester's spring week end was another of our increasingly better parties, featuring formal and informal dances at the Shelter, a banquet, and a formal afternoon party for all Delts and their dates. The semester ended with a reception at the Shelter in honor on one of our favorite alumni, Professor Emeritus William W. Lewis, on his 80th birthday. He has served the chapter in all capacities, and is now president of the Beta Theta House Corporation. At commencement, there was also an informal dance at the Shelter, as well as innumerable gatherings.

Beta Theta's newly furnished and re-decorated living room

Officers for the year 1961, elected in January, include: David W. Knapp, president; Wesley W. Hepworth, vice-president; James W. Hunter, treasurer; Allen C. Satterfield, recording secretary; and Gordon P. Peyton, Jr., corresponding secretary. Our chapter adviser remains The Rt. Rev. F. A. Juhan, Bishop of Florida, retired.

The chapter was very saddened during the summer to lose one of its finest and most beloved alumni, former chapter adviser, The Rev. George Broggan Myers. Dr. Myers was a noted theological scholar and a lifelong brother to Beta Theta. His untimely death at the age of 79 was deeply felt by all of us at Sewanee.

The fall semester opened as always with a hectic rush, the results for Beta Theta being ten of the finest pledges in the University. They include: Hal Dick, Tom Hall, Randy Johnson, Allen Lear, Charles McCrory, William Mitchell, William Thrower, Scott Nichols, Derril Wright, and Wilbur Wright. We welcome these new men to Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

Big plans are being made for the 1961 homecoming week end, October 21-23, with two dances at the Shelter, a dinner, and the traditional after-game party. Meanwhile, Delt football and swimming teams are hard at work getting ready for the intramural season. The Delt football squad tied its first game against the KA's and we expect the final results to be even more successful. We are confident that 1961 will go down as another great year for Delta Tau Delta at Sewanee.

Sewanee Delts and pledges gather at the Shelter

ALLEN C. SATTERFIELD

South Dakota—Delta Gamma

As the fall semester of 1961 now becomes a reality, Delta Gamma looks forward to another active and prosperous year. The chapter's impressive new pledge class of 34 members gives an impression of probable successes to come.

Activities at the University are many and diversified, and the competitive spirit of the Deltas will not be denied. Many of the brothers who comprised last year's undefeated football team are back in the practice line-up, awaiting the first game. Captained by Mike Howes for the second successive year, we expect another good season on the grid-iron. Considering the potential displayed by our tennis, golf, and bowling teams, adds to the confidence felt by Delta Gamma for the fall activities.

The chapter is proud of the accomplishments demonstrated by its brothers in the fields of leadership and service. Doug Leafstedt now holds the office of vice-president of the student body at the University. Tom Hallaway and Ron Hauber are new pledges of Dakotans, the senior men's honorary service organization on the campus. In athletics, Brother Bruce Smebakken has earned a starting berth on the varsity football team and Brother Jim Dyer will see action on the hardcourts as one of the University's starting five.

We of Delta Gamma are full of anticipation as we look forward to the biggest single day of the year for the University—Dakota Day. Brother Ron Hauber has his work cut out for him as Dakota Day chairman. The Deltas took second place last year in parade competition; this year we are looking for a first!

The chapter plans to activate its second-semester pledges in the near future, with the hope that they will add even greater impetus to the good start we have.

RICH BAUERLY

Stevens—Rho

The Rho Deltas took up where they left off as the spring term began. The early weeks of February saw the Deltas plunge into rushing with fighting spirit. Two weeks of hard work yielded its rewards. Twenty of our hand-picked frosh began their pledgship.

No sooner had rushing ended when the Deltas added their fourth trophy of the year. The basketball team, led by Walt Stamer and Frank Petrik, defeated PSK for the championship. Other members of the championship team, whose strength was teamwork, were Bill Smith, Bruce Boylan, Rog Steiner, and Bill Habert.

The house was the scene of the greatest parties on campus from February to spring sports as Saturday nights saw four different bands swing the Delt Shelter. Spring sports week end saw the Rho Deltas win their 11th all-sports trophy in 12 years at the Friday night formal. Saturday was a Hawaiian holiday as the Deltas and dates celebrated.

Before ending the term, the Deltas gained their fifth trophy when they wrapped up the softball trophy. As the fall term began, the Rho Deltas were notified that they ranked No. 2 scholastically on campus. A vote of thanks to Lou Capuano and his fine scholarship committee.

A large number of Rho Deltas were active this past spring term as the Deltas proved to be a well rounded chapter. Among those most active were: Bill Habert, newly elected honor board secretary; Bill Smith, president of Alpha Phi Omega, campus service fraternity; Dick Leichus, president of Khoda and a starting mid-fielder on the lacrosse team; also a lacrosse starter, Mike Pellet, was elected editor in chief of the Link, school yearbook; and, rounding out Delt control of activities, John Zupko, No. 2 man on the tennis team, became business manager of the Link.

The chapter looks like it will be even stronger as all the Deltas anxiously await the fall term.

MICHAEL PELLET

Tennessee—Delta Delta

"Last year was great, but this is our year!" was the cheer that resounded through the Shelter here at the beginning of work week, and, indeed, that is the spirit which has continued throughout

Delta Gamma Chapter presents its fall pledges

the quarter. It's true; last year was great. Not only did we win three major and one minor intramural trophies (tennis, softball, track, shuffleboard) and place second in all other athletic events, but we also won the most coveted campus crown, Carnicus.

Winning Carnicus was great, but only one of the many beachheads Delta Delta made for itself last year in local Greek-dom. Politicos Bill Speilmann and Charles Hoskins maneuvered the V-8 political party so well through the spring elections that campus committees have been stacked with Delts. Aside from the multitude of committee appointments, several men stand out. Jerre Haskew, in addition to other things, is the treasurer of the Nahheeyayli board, which is bringing the Four Preps, the Four Freshmen, and other groups to the campus this fall. Jerre is also on the "Y" cabinet, is the public relations chairman of the all-students' council, and is a member of ODK and Scarabbean, honor societies. Charles Hoskins has far too many activities to list, but among them are cochairman of homecoming parade, committees of every description, Adawayhi (pep club), IFC rep and social chairman, candidate for fraternity man of the year, recipient of a math scholarship and Delt rush chairman. Shan Wilcox, a transfer from Alabama who is remembered there as secretary of IFC and student legislature rep, is active here initiating men into the Flame Club and teaching us Alabama songs. Shan also played with the UT band. Speaking of the band, Herky Miller, a recent initiate, is the pride trombonist of the UT band. Herk is also a member of Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia, a music honorary.

Another guy of whom we're all proud is Bob Boyd, local disc jockey and ex-social chairman of the chapter. His last party is what did it. We had this sort of luau out on an island in one of the TVA lakes. Everything was fine until the boat sank. Poor Mrs. Wellman, our wonderful housemother, had to spend most of the night on the island, "with all those snakes, spiders, and bugs." While we look for another job for Boyd, he's been busy with the Carousel Theater, starring as the villain in his last comedy hit.

Before Boyd threw his luau, he did have one excellent achievement under his belt. He planned and executed the Rainbow Ball last spring, which, we must admit, was a wonderful success. One of the finer things that happened at the formal was the crowning of Marilyn Cook as the new Delta Queen.

Last year was great, but this is our year. The first impression the incoming frosh seems to have gotten of us this past rush week was summed up by one young appreciator of beauty who remarked to an ATO at a rush party, "I've just come from the Delt House, and they had the most beautiful girls over there that I've ever seen in my life!"

One of the great evidences of these boasts that, "This is our year" is Delta Delta's "Gung-Ho," 38-man pledge class. This star-studded group includes eight ex-Beta Club members, one National Honor Society man, four former Boy's Staters, six members or officers of drama clubs (thespians, etc.), one Civitan award winner, six former annual editors, three high school newspaper editors, five former class presidents, three men who were other officers of their classes, ten men who worked on high school service clubs, seven former band members, one rifle club captain, and 34 men who lettered in one or more sports in high school. Hmmm. That adds up to 79.

With all these men of talent running around, our thoughts about the intramural trophies could be termed "optimistic." And, to whip the boys into shape, the actives, under the leadership of Vice-President Ronnie Helms, are holding pep rallies and showing the true Delt fighting spirit.

One more note to the men in the other chapters from the Delts at Tennessee: "You'll be hearing from us!"

Texas—Gamma Iota

A series of summer rush parties across the state, followed by a successful formal rush, gained the Delts of Gamma Iota a fine pledge class of 28 men with which to begin the fall semester. Much credit is due to Rush Captain Jim Mayo who, working closely with the rest of the active chapter, was largely responsible for our success.

Brothers Robert Hunter and George Lewis are not with us this semester, having received scholarships to study in Europe. Our ranks have been strengthened, however, by Affiliates Lloyd Birdwell, Jr., and Bruce Mazzare, who have transferred from Epsilon Beta and Beta Epsilon, respectively.

Delts are again strongly represented on the Longhorn football team. Mike Cotton, cocaptain and candidate for All-Southwest Conference quarterback, led the Delts to an easy victory over California in the season opener. Other outstanding Delt varsity members are Charles Talbert, Tom York, and Bob Gamblin, our newest pledge. In intramurals, the defending championship Delt B team is expected to win the title again, while the A team, runner-up last year, is a strong contender for the Class A championship. Bob McIntyre, twice elected most outstanding intramural athlete, is back in school this semester and will undoubtedly be a great asset to our intramural program.

Pat Higgins and Rusty Ross, our new social cochairmen, are doing an excellent job scheduling and planning our frequent parties, always the best on campus. The social high light of the semester is the October 14 week end when Texas plays the University of Oklahoma at the Cotton Bowl. All the brothers will migrate to Dallas with their dates for two days of parties, climaxed by a victory celebration to be held with the Oklahoma Delts.

John Murchison and Sam Rosson are new initiates in the Texas Cowboys, a men's honorary organization composed of outstanding campus leaders. Brother Sam Sparks has been elected foreman (president) of the cowboys. Bill Aaron is a new member of Silver Spurs, another honorary organization for leading men students. Richard Keeton, a new initiate of Phi Delta Phi, honorary law fraternity, has posted the highest grade average for his class in the University of Texas law school.

Recently at our pledge retreat, the new pledges were informed of the standards that they will be expected to live up to as Delts. The different phases of University life were discussed, with emphasis on scholarship. Under the leadership of Scholarship Chairman Dick Anderson, we are hoping to maintain, or better, the 1.5 grade point average posted last spring.

Treasurer Sam Guyler, always a tight man with money, has lowered meal prices, increased the use of fines, and assured us of financial stability.

With our excellent intramural, social, scholastic, financial, and extracurricular programs, the Delts of Gamma Iota are eagerly anticipating another successful year.

Toronto—Delta Theta

The fall term, or "semester" as our American brothers would call it, began in Toronto on September 20. On this first evening of the term we had a buffet dinner and party as the rushing program kickoff. Rushing continues with many gatherings in the Shelter. We are hoping to strengthen this active chapter with the pledging of many of the fine students who have been to the Delt Shelter.

The athletic chairman plans a round-robin tennis tournament among the brothers, to be followed by schedules of squash matches and hockey games. The fall athletic program will be complemented by the beginning of our continuous table tennis tournament and any brother able to walk the length of 18 fairways will be competing in the golf tourney in early October.

Although numerous informal parties were held in the house during the first week of school, the initial formal party (with band) was held on Saturday, September 30. This is the first of our football parties, which put the finishing touch on a day spent cheering our Varsity Blues onto victory. Indubitably, this and ensuing parties at the Delt House will convince all rushees that Delta Tau Delta is the social leader on fraternity row.

JAMES A. GRANT

Tulane—Beta Xi

Another rush week has come and gone at Tulane, and to say that it was a success would not be saying enough. Hard work on the part of Rush Chairman Frank Faust, coupled with the wholehearted efforts of the brothers, paid off with the pledging of one of the largest and certainly the very best of the pledge classes on campus. Twenty-three versatile and promising young men voted to pitch in with the Delts on bid day.

Highlighting the ten-day barrage of rushing parties were two especially memorable ones, the picnic and the alumni banquet. The former was held on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, where a number of Delts and rushees spent an afternoon on the beach despite the hurricane which was lashing the coast with high winds and torrential rains at the time. A few brave souls ventured into the pounding surf, some we feared, never to return, but at last count all were happily present. Celebrated Broussard's Restaurant was the location of our alumni banquet this year. A record crowd was treated to a princely meal there.

The returning members of the chapter were all quite pleased to learn of the arrival in July of a pair of young kangaroos which the Delts ordered from Australia. It had been decided previously that upon their arrival the two marsupials would be donated by the chapter to the Audubon Park Zoo. Today Walli and Dinkum, as the animals have been christened, are winning the hearts of hundreds of daily visitors with their comic expressions and lovable antics.

Socially, the chapter is headed towards a banner year under the guidance of Bob Clarke, social chairman for the coming months. A glance down the calendar reveals parties on docket in the Shelter every week end until the Christmas holidays. In addition, plans call for a number of parties for Newcomb sororities.

Nor is the chapter going to be idle athletically. A versatile and talented pledge class, boasting a number of high school lettermen, should prove of great value to us on the gridiron this fall. Pan-Hellenic football competition is just getting under way, and it looks as if the Delts will once again field the winning team.

Recently elected chapter officers for the coming year are as follows: president, Al Derbes; vice-president, Paul Jardis; treasurer, Ray Salassi; recording secretary, Don Dunham; corresponding secretary, Larry Martin; sergeant at arms, Nick Hodsdon; guide, Frank Faust.

The Crescent City Delts are most honored that their city has been selected as the site for the 1962 Karnea. We feel that the choice was a well-founded one, for New Orleans offers excellent convention facilities, as well as its perhaps better-known attractions. The chapter will be hard at work this year preparing and paving the way for what we hope will be the most successful Karnea ever.

LAWRENCE MARTIN

U.C.L.A.—Delta Iota

Last semester the only typewriter in the Shelter was in need of repair. Hence, the Delta Iota section in THE RAINBOW was somewhat lacking. Now we have another machine and news again can be published.

Spring and fall rush at Delta Iota was, as an old alum would say, a huge success. Varsity and intramural athletes, politicians, scholars, and social wonders are among the 22 new men. This new pledge class is the best on the row.

During fall sports, Delts such as Rod

Fagerholm, John Green, John Walker, Chuck Darrow, and Rich Cox will make UCLA a giant in the sports world. The Delt intramural teams, which finished third in all-University standings last year, are looking forward to being No. 1 this year. This year's football team will be led by Coach "Boom Boom" Sheck, and the six-man volleyball team by Bill "The Setter" Parker.

As we all know, scholarship is the most important aspect of Delta Tau Delta. The Delta Iota pledges proved to be a success last year by recording the second-best grade point average on the row. The actives did not do as well, even though Denny Seese won a $300 scholarship award from UCLA. This semester, Delta Iota is determined to be above the All Men's Average, and to win the Western Division scholarship award.

Social life at Delta Iota is never dead. Our parties are renowned for loud rock and roll bands. All of the brothers enjoy the parties. Our social season opened this fall with a "presents" party on the 23rd of September. The Delt Queen contest and initiation formal are the next events on the social calendar.

Delta Iota alums awaken! You have been missing some great alumni gatherings. Just ask the man who knows. The chapter plans a full year of alumni parties, so don't miss the next one to be announced in the forthcoming newsletter. Come back and see the old brothers. The undergrads will help you up the steps if the strain is too much.

The chapter's officers are: President Stephen Boyd, Vice-President Ken Newgard, and Treasurer Gary Jackson. All of these men do a fine job, even though they are occasionally water bagged by the rest of the troops.

Delta Iota wishes all chapters a good year.

U.S.C.—Delta Pi

Now that the brothers of Delta Pi have again returned to the Shelter, it is time to mention a few of the people who will help in making this year the best ever.

Helping to start the year off right was this semester's very compatible rush chairman, Dave Thompson. "Beaver," as he is affectionately known, was able to draw in 45 pledges through the unique idea of placing the pledge pins in the apple sauce. The pledges far outnumber the actives, who number only twenty, in this chapter. For this reason, every active will have two little brothers.

Of interest to the other Delt chapters on the West Coast, where surfing is very popular, is the fact that this semester's president of Delta Pi happens to be a gremlin. Helping President Bill Skagwinkle administer the chapter is our new treasurer, Tom Dogstein. "Dog" has initiated a new accounting system that threatens to pull up the chapter financially.

Along the lines of scholastic endeavor, this chapter is honored to have George Toberman as a member. George is constantly giving the brothers the incentive to study.

The Mother's Club plays a major function in the activities of our chapter. They have recently presented us with a new red rug for the main floor.

We would like to mention the invaluable service rendered us by the Delta Gamma Sorority. The girls supplied us with box lunches for one of our rush functions. A few pledge pins were hidden in the boxes, and the rushees were pleased to find them there.

We are proud this year to have Don Bowers representing Delta Pi in the Trojan marching band. His ability to handle his flute has drawn a great deal of notice in S.C. music circles.

Socially, Mike Wilkie continues to reign supreme with the sorority girls. Although somewhat hampered by a heavy load this semester, Mike can still hold his own for sorority popularity. Mike is also very fond of water, and for this reason, he has decided to take up swimming in it.

With individuals such as those mentioned above, we are sure to have a banner year here at Delta Pi. Representing the brothers, I would like to wish all of the other chapters the best of luck in the new school year. We hope to be able to send out greeting cards to them at Thanksgiving.

RICHARD GAZINYA

Wabash—Beta Psi

Welcome back, brothers, to the homelands of higher learning, athletic playgrounds, entertainment capitols, and to what we of Beta Psi hope will be a very profitable year for each. Those three and a half months of glorious summer passed all too swiftly for everyone as registration day leaped upon us out of nowhere, calling back settled seniors, studious juniors, howling sophomores, and confused but eager freshmen, of which we have what we believe to be the best on campus. Returning also this year, and for her 15th time, is Julia, Beta Psi's candidate for kitchen queen. Our newly remodeled kitchen is Julia's domain and she has a rough time keeping everyone out when she is busy, but no wonder, for there are many tantalizing smells lingering about the Shelter these days.

Our pledges hail from almost every corner of the country, but mainly from the midwestern states. This year's pledge class also ranges from freshmen to juniors and is perhaps one of the most diversified in interests and activities which we have had in several years. The two juniors are Ken Parmelee of Gary and Richard West of Indianapolis, a transfer student. The sophomores are Carl Kern, Dave Daly, of Columbus, Ohio (also a transfer student), and Norm Starr, from Portland. Our freshman pledge class is made up of Kurt Behrman, Dave Hadley, Fred Buck, and Jim Graham, all from Indianapolis. Also, Ed Johnson, of Naperville, Illinois; John Wainwright, of Wayzata, Minnesota; Ralph Cory of Muncie; Phil Wescott, of Indiana, Pennsylvania; John Linnenberg, from Cincinnati, Ohio; Harrison Parker, of Knightstown; Dean Wilson, from Farmington, Illinois; Bob Soukup, of Oak Lawn, Illinois; Bob Shearer, of Crawfordsville; and Dennis Beaver, from Carmel.

Shortly before the opening of school, Beta Psi encountered a bit of a mishap when our president, Jim Johnson, entered the ranks of the married, forcing him to resign his office. In order to refill our empty presidency, we recently held elections again and chose our vice-president, Denny Greathouse, to take a step up the ladder. Senior Bob Latham was then chosen to take over the vice-presidency for the remainder of the term.

As we returned to school this fall we were greeted by several new improvements on the first floor of the Shelter. Our dining room has a bright new look, provided by a new tile floor. And as we walk from this room into the living room we step onto a beautiful, thick, new carpet, which beautifies not only the older furniture but also a new leather couch with an "off limits" sign for George Dog. What with all these additions and those from last year, which included a new kitchen, a remodeled vestibule, and several desks, our Shelter is one of the more inviting on campus this year. Besides all this, our Mothers' Club has provided us with a remodeled ladies' room, new chairs and draperies for the dining room, and a stereo set.

Although IM's have just begun, with football as the solitary sport so far, we are looking forward to a championship year in all phases. Most of our best players returned this year and many of the pledges brought much talent for football with them. Under the enthusiastic and earnest leadership of Brother Bob Latham, who doesn't believe in losing, the team scored its first victory in the opening game of the season. With this, spirits have soared and we have a very bright outlook for the future. It is too early yet to say much about the other sports, but the brothers have already begun getting ready for them.

It is also early to say much about varsity sports, since football is the only one which has gotten under way. However, we do have quite a few men in the chapter participating in this sport, several of whom recently helped Wabash score a victory in its first game. Senior Jack McHenry, Wabash's candidate for Little All-American, looks like he will finish up his undergraduate football career with great success this year. We're all rooting for him because he is working hard for this honor. Juniors Hank Rodgers and Ken Parmelee are also playing good ball and are giving the team everything they have. Three of our sophomores keeping Wabash's line strong are Bill Hepler, Carl Kern, and Norm Starr. It looks like it will be a good year for varsity sports also.

The only activity which has progressed much thus far is the Scarlet Masque, which the Deltas seem to be running again. Seniors Pack Carnes and Brent Sutton, Scarlet Masque and Alpha Psi Omega president and Beta Psi pledge trainer, have been given the two leads in the Masque first play, Valpone. Senior Bob Latham and Sophomore Dave Stamper stepped into two of the supporting roles. Dennis Gibbs has changed from his usual role of actor-prop man to that of stage manager, one of the most responsible positions of a production. Dave Rose will again act as business manager, a job to which he has brought real meaning.

It was a pleasant greeting, upon our return, to learn that the chapter jumped up to fourth place in scholarship last semester. Holding down the scholarship chairmanship, probably the most frustrating position in every chapter, is Junior Warren Ford. He has brought before the chapter many new ideas and has begun what we hope will become several new traditions. Many, of course, don't appreciate some of his ideas, but he has ruled his position with an iron fist and makes them work. It usually isn't long before all are pleased with his accomplishments.

As for our social program, many plans are now under way. We have already held a record dance-hayride affair and Junior Rudy Van Loon is beginning to prepare for homecoming, which isn't far off. Favors have been chosen for the next two dances and several exchanges with sororities from other campuses are being arranged. What with keeping up the scholarship, vacations, and social week ends it appears as if this year will soon be finished.

JOHN HODGES

Washington—Gamma Mu

Completing spring quarter in a successful manner gave the Gamma Mu Delts a terrific spirit, push, and head start on this year's activities.

The quarter started off in true political excitement when we elected Craig Collete sophomore class president of the University. Immediately following this was the selection of Brother Scoop Stewart as this year's yell king. In other royalty, Les Tavenner was selected the 1961 May Day king, while Freshman Ron Dietz made finalist for Frosh Day king.

Gamma Mu's new pledges greeted by the brothers at the Shelter upon conclusion of rush

Socially, our spring formal at the Seattle Tennis Club and house party at Long Beach, Washington, kept us busy with pleasant diversions. Lee Noorda, this year's social chairman, and Roger Garretson, exchange chairman, are going to be busy in an effort to excel last year's social triumphs.

The Delts always being active in spring sports didn't let down a bit this year, as evidenced by varsity baseballer, Carl Olson, receiving the "most improved player of the year" award and Dave Kinley being awarded the varsity crew honor of being the "most inspirational varsity crewman." Intramurals again were one of our strong points this past quarter, as we made the finals or semifinals in baseball, tennis, and crew.

In other activities rounding out this past year, Lee Noorda was elected an officer of Compass and Chart, along with Jim Todd. John Templeton was elected treasurer of Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary. Rod Dietz, Bob Smith, Tom Warren, and Craig Collete were all accepted into Sundodgers, the Husky pep organization. Gamma Mu again placed in the finals of songfest, receiving a second.

The big news concerning Gamma Mu, though, has occurred this fall in the pledging of 28 top men from throughout the northwest. This year's rush chairmen, Rod Newton and Pete McCallum, did an excellent job in being selective and taking only top rushees.

With our enthusiastic new pledges and the active chapter's guidance, this should be a banner year in more ways than one. We are all very anxious to have another successful season, following in the tradition of Gamma Mu Chapter.

TOM WARREN

Washington State— Epsilon Gamma

As the fading sun of rush week slowly settles into the Palouse Hills, the men of Epsilon Gamma count 20 new pledges tucked snugly in the portals of Delta Hall. This, the largest pledge class in the history of the chapter, boasts some of the most promising men ever to attend WSU. Now the task is up to Pledge Trainer Steve Rodgers to mold these men into Delts.

Gamma Mu's fall pledges

Brother MILNES helps Epsilon Gamma impress the visiting mothers to the Shelter

Scholastically, Epsilon Gamma stayed right at the top again last semester with a 2.59 average. This, coupled with our fine first semester showing, gave us a 2.57 for the entire year, and put us second in grades. Leading the list again was Bruce Wolf, our house manager. His 3.36 average earned him a Texaco scholarship. Close on his heels, with a 3.29, was Freshman Lee Kloeppel. Other scholarship winners were Max Bolte, George Gleason, Steve Rodgers, Mike Durkee, and Terry Bech.

The Delt social season was topped off by the spring formal. Another function was a party at Lake Coeur d'Alene. Under the guidance of Social Chairman Gary Breaker both functions were tremendous successes and the memories are still echoing throughout the Shelter. Gary and his social committee are planning get-togethers and things for the pledges and actives for the winter ahead.

Intramurals were our sore spot last year, but with the efforts of Brothers Breaker, Bayley, Butler, Wolf, and McCormick, the problem was lessened. This year we are looking forward to intramurals with new zeal.

Now as classes start and the midnight oil begins to burn, the WSU Deltas must work hard to maintain their standing. Much work lies ahead with the large pledge class so that by spring 20 more men may proudly wear the badge of Delta Tau Delta.

DON BUTLER

W. & J.—Gamma

The brothers of Gamma very cheerfully led the pledges through help week and terminated the week with initiation ceremonies on September 16, 1961, in the Gamma Shelter.

More than likely, Jack Nason, assistant treasurer, and Ronald Selva, treasurer, didn't find much excitement in projecting the '61-'62 school year budget; but James Tomsula, assistant to John Byron Singer, Lex Ultimo and student council representative, found excitement at the Blood Meeting starting the Washington and Jefferson freshmen off to a fine new school year.

Highlighting the fall season is the Lettermen's Club dance October 6, with the homecoming football game October 7, followed by Greek Swingout week end November 3-5. Arrangements for these upcoming events are being taken care of by Watson F. McGauhey and Charles Popovic, assisted by John Allardice.

Since the closing of last school year and the capturing of the intramural track trophy, the brothers are looking forward to capturing many more intramural trophies this year; therefore, Activities Chairman Richard Treater has announced plans for the coming interfraternity events. Volleyball and tennis are slated to begin October 4. The Gamma Deltas are also looking forward to the intrafraternity sing. Last year, under the direction of John Allardice, we were able to win the sing trophy. Our scholastic program, under the direction of Joseph Amendola and Carl Edwards, has been stepped up for the coming term. We all have a great anticipation for a successful year.

JERRY BARON

Wesleyan—Gamma Zeta

Under the leadership of President Don Valentine and Rush Chairman Bill Roberts, Gamma Zeta Chapter proudly announces the pledging of 20 top men for the fall season. Among the pledges are men from Wyoming, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Missouri, as well as the New England states. All of these pledges have high aspirations in all aspects of Wesleyan College life; including athletics, academics, and extracurricular activities. Presently, Bob Middleton, Kent Overton, Snuffy Meyers, and Jack Edelen seem to be monopolizing the freshman cross-country team. Soccer players are Harold Brands and Ken Robinson. In football, Dave Walters is slated to start at end. Winter will bring in its wake swimming season, during which Fred Odell promises to break all standing Wesleyan backstroke records, while Snuffy Meyers, Chuck Simonson, and Chris Albright will be grappling for the yearling wrestlers.

The actives also have started the year out with many accomplishments. Sophomore Jerry Miller, right halfback for the varsity, has been termed the man to watch in this year's backfield, while Big John Odenwelder is serving as a utility man, unable to make up his mind between end, guard, and fullback. Andy Schrader, track team captain, hopes to lead another successful cross-country season.

Academically, the Deltas have much to be proud of. Dave Hager finished off his freshman year in the No. 1 position on campus in his class with a 95+ average. Of the 12 graduated seniors, 11 went on to graduate schools such as Harvard, Yale, and Wharton. Two seniors received Woodrow Wilson fellowships, and Rich Thomason was awarded a Danforth fellowship. Of the present seniors, five are hoping to gain the coveted keys of Phi Beta Kappa.

Extracurricularly, John Huss and Alex Aikman are on the managerial board of radio station WESU, while 11 Deltas are active in the newspaper, the Argus. Bill Roberts continues to hold down a seat in the student judiciary board, while CB Senator Lew Whitney remains active on three CB committees. In all other fields, from the glee club to the Connecticut State Mental Hospital companion program, Deltas remain active. Virtual monopolization of the Wesleyan quartet, the Jibbers, continues as Steve Munson, Steve Carlton, and George Walker lend their talents to this group.

Intramural football looks good this year, led by Quarterback Paul Brands and a small but extremely fast backfield, all of whose times for the 100-yard dash are under 10.5 seconds.

As fall social season gets under way, the highly exclusive library committee, under Rick Armsby's leadership, continues, with the social committee under Howie Black, to insure successful parties.

Last year was great for the Wesleyan Deltas, this year promises to be better, as the Deltas continue to maintain their position of undoubted leadership in all areas of campus life.

LEW WHITNEY and
RICK ARMSBY

Westminster—Delta Omicron

The Delta Omicron Deltas returned to the chapter house this year to find many improvements in the house itself, including a much needed external refacing.

The hard work of the brothers and alumni toward an outstanding summer rush program was rewarded by the fine pledge class of '61, who were pledged on September 10. This class of 24 men has the potential of being by far the best class on campus. The men are: Charles Bercaw, Jim Boehm, Bruce Campbell, John Carnahan, Dan Cast, Steve Couch, Malcom Dalrymple, Bob Davenport, Chip Decker, Dave Edwards, Gary Forrest, Carl Gill, Bob Hill, Bill Holyoke, Terry Howell, Richard Jones, Curtis Kent, David Lovinggood, Bill McSweeney, Steve Plymate, Richard Scott, Davis

Spencer, Tom Tweedy, and Steve Vageding.

We were also pleased to find out on returning to Westminster that our grade average improved last spring term for the fourth straight semester. Immediate prospects for chapter distinction are a continued rise in scholarship standing, the intramural softball plaque, and the Dad's Day track and athletic trophies.

In closing we would like to congratulate the other Delt chapters across the country on the pledge classes we have heard reports on. Greetings to all our alums, and especially to last year's graduates in various graduate schools throughout the nation.

MIKE SWANK

West Virginia—Gamma Delta

After taking the lion's share of campus leadership positions, Gamma Delta looks forward to an eventful year. Brother Sam McConkey now reigns as student body president. Tom Spelsberg is president of the interfraternity council. Should either of these men encounter difficulties in enforcing their policies, they can call Cadet Colonel John Lukens, brigade commander of the Army R.O.T.C. Ollie Bates, who did an outstanding job in publishing our newsletter, In Delta Hall, is business manager of the school yearbook and also serves as chairman of the student party. Ron Pearson was elected president of the Young Republicans' club and Dave Treharne is secretary of the same organization. Emil Johnson is president of Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary.

Jim Smith was initiated into the Fraternity on September 22 with a 4.00 average to match that of his big brother, John Lukens. These two men bolstered our fraternity average, which ranked among the best of the major fraternities on campus.

We are now in the midst of rushing, which is under the direction of Dick Higinbotham. A casino party and picnic are the high lights of this most important period.

Ollie Bates and John White have been pledged to Fi Batar Cappar, mock men's honorary, as Gamma Delta continues to be well represented in all campus honoraries.

Dr. John R. Williams, head of the political science department, is our new chapter advisor and has displayed a keen interest in the activities of our chapter.

Under the direction of our new song leader, Ralph Smith, we serenaded the freshmen women's dormitories to soften the hearts of the coeds, as Jim Patton prepares to put our social festivities into full swing.

Interest in athletics, both varsity and intramural, is quite high in the Shelter, as Gamma Delta is once again well represented on all varsity athletic squads.

Gene Heeter, Frank Schneider, and Virgil "Buster" Rice hope to start the Mountaineer football team on a winning streak. Because of the interest generated by intramural soccer last year, West Virginia University now has its first varsity soccer team. Brothers Bob Gellner, Spike Hickman, John Sutton, and Jack Crank have been named on the starting team.

Gamma Delta is anticipating a very successful year, socially, athletically, and scholastically.

EMIL JOHNSON

Whitman—Delta Rho

The Shelter took on a new look this year as the brothers worked hard to remodel the front room and make other additions in and around the house.

After a successful rush, the Delta Rho

Chapter took 13 new pledges. The pledge class includes Myron Congden, Rick Richter, Jeff Boyer, Dave Caulkins, Forrest Dale, Dick Hunter, Tom Kelly, Ben Thorn, Gordon Tobin, Steve Turner, Ric Rasmusson, Nick Ward, and Henry Wright.

President Steve Straight and Brother Myron Congden have become the newest singing rage on campus. The twosome made a big hit during rush and are now in constant demand.

Social Chairman Fred Clark has the social calendar pretty well filled with sorority exchanges, firesides, dances, and various other surprises. Last spring Brother Fred was elected Tolo King, the biggest honor the girls can bestow upon any man on campus.

Intramurally, the Deltas are looking forward to a very promising season. Our teams will be tough to beat in football, swimming, golf, bowling, table tennis, and volleyball.

Wisconsin—Beta Gamma

The fall semester started at full speed, as the chapter returned to be greeted by rush. Brother John Dahly once again led us through our paces and our efforts have begun to yield dividends with the pledging of 14 top men. Outstanding new pledges include: Larry Dallia and Bob Hockney, both members of National Honor Society and their high school swimming teams; Tom Ehlert, who was in the top ten per cent of his class and a member of student government, forensics, dramatics, and glee club; Mike Miller, a member of student government and a participant in tennis, golf, and band; Jose Uribe, Colombia, South America, golf and crew; Alfonso Salazar, also from Colombia, captained the basketball team and won letters in baseball, soccer, and volleyball; Bob Pierce, who was president of student council and his senior class and was also a member of the baseball and basketball teams and the captain of the football team; Tom Ullsvik, who was president of his class and student council president; and Dick Blamey, who was in his high school band and orchestra and is the recipient of a Gidding and Lewis Foundation scholarship. . . . Special mention must be made of Niels Luel-Brockdorff, Denmark, and Emil Bruusgaard, Norway, our two Valiant scholars from Scandinavia. Once again, Beta Gamma was happy to pledge two outstanding men who are participating in a one-year scholarship program at the University of Wisconsin. Other members of the pledge class who are active in campus activities are Paul Neidert, who is on a scholarship and is out for track; Lonnie Ostrom, who figures to be a regular for the varsity basketball team; Clem Reiss, varsity crew; Eliot Elfner, football and wrestling; Jim Carpenter, freshman track who has an NROTC scholarship; Christo Anthony, active in the Wisconsin student association; and Bob Leventhal, who was tapped for Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman men's honor society.

Two important improvements were made in the chapter's position on campus. First, our grade-point jumped above the All Men's Average and the All Fraternity Average, and we are anticipating further improvement in this direction. Secondly, under the able leadership of Tom Schwartz, the intramural program effort has increased tremendously and we are now eighth. This year the spirit is running high and our teams are anxious to display their prowess on the various athletic fields. We trounced Theta Delta Chi in our first football game and the team is eager for more competition.

Beta Gamma is justly proud and happy about the completion of the first part of a major house improvements plan. A new patio has been added to our lakefront property, thanks to the initiative of the brothers and the extensive help of Brother Gordon Harman, Beta Gamma, '38, our chapter adviser, and our house corporation. The improvements plan, to be carried out in three parts, calls for landscaping the remaining lakefront property, building a new retaining wall at the shoreline, and installing a new shower room.

The social schedule for this semester is bulging with parties, but the chapter is especially looking forward to our trip to Northwestern for the big football week end of November 12. Delts will team up with Chi Omega sorority for this trip and to start things off on the right foot, we'll have a supper together before we go.

Once again we'll transform the Shelter into a convincing imitation of a barnyard for the farm party with the SDTs. Early in November, Chi Psi and Delt will hold the annual Dixie Bash with Kappa Kappa Gamma and the DGs as our southern belles. Gamma Phi Beta Sorority will join us for the traditional homecoming event, "Yell Like Hell." In December, the winter formal promises to be an interesting change of pace, and towards the end of the month the Pi Phis will help us with our annual Christmas project.

Delts continue to show a variety of interests in campus activities. John Bubolz keeps tab on all of the Badger teams, from football to fencing, as sports editor of the Daily Cardinal. Bob Bing, Jim Colbert, and Bob Hockney will be urging the football team on to greater feats as cheerleaders this year. Jack Edl and Mel Strand will return to the outfield and third base, respectively, on the Badger baseball team. Brothers Mart Gharrity and Steve Voss will see action with the golf team; Bob Schmidt will pull an oar for the varsity crew; and Rudy Kohnle will toss the discus for the track and field team. Pledge Jerry Zovney is an excellent gymnast.

Beta Gamma is looking forward to an exciting year of further improvement.

met John Galbreath, however, it is not the scale of his exploits, the scope of his possessions, or the breakneck pace of his activities (he has been known to keep appointments in Chicago, Cleveland, and New York on the same day) that really characterize this completely unpretentious man. It is, rather, the example that he has given of loyalty and service to his business associates, to his long-suffering-and-finally-rewarded Pirate fans, to his alma mater, Ohio University, and, as most fittingly recognized at the June 2 Banquet in Pittsburgh, to his college fraternity, Delta Tau Delta.

their guests, prospective students at Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Westminster.

Representatives of the St. Louis chapter and a number of Westminster undergrads were in attendance at the Kansas City Alumni Chapter summer rush party, also in August.

George F. Kenney, Jr., elected president of the St. Louis Alumni Chapter in June, has taken immediate and positive action to develop closer ties between the undergraduates and alumni by going on one-man tours to the local undergraduate chapters. Other newly elected officers are: vice-president, Robert Orten; treasurer, Russ Elfvin; secretary, John Gaebe.

Topeka

Topeka alumni cancelled their July luncheon, but had a better turnout than usual at the August meeting. Several new members are showing up for these luncheons. No special summer activity took place but we are looking forward to good meetings this fall and winter.

Brothers Edward Sondker and Gail Wilson have both made good recovery from serious illness, and Ed Sondker is back at his office. Gail Wilson is confined to his home most of the time. Cliff Stratton, retired from his job as Washington correspondent of the Topeka Capital, is still going strong and never misses a luncheon meeting. Hugh Bryan is one of our new members, being head of the State school retirement system,

Gamma Theta Dedication

"in memory of those in the Chapter Eternal."

A banquet in the dining room followed the dedication ceremonies. Gordon "Bish" Thompson presided over the program which began with the introduction of guests, alumni by classes, and the undergraduate chapter.

Clarence Abell, chapter president, gave the chapter's accomplishments for the year and presented the second annual alumni of the year citation. Receiving the honor was Ralph Polson. Ralph is house corporation treasurer and a good big brother for the men in the undergraduate chapter. Recipient of this award last year was the late Alfred C. Runyan.

Frank C. Leitnaker, chapter adviser, awarded the distinguished award of the year to the most promising freshman son of Gamma Theta. Conrad Fulkerson was the winner of this year's $25 check. Former winners were also presented their annual check, continued during all four years of school.

The main speaker for the evening was Kenneth Penfold, President of the Western Division of Delta Tau Delta. Mr. Penfold said that the first time he ever visited Gamma Theta was in the capacity of a field secretary.

Other distinguished guests at the banquet were Mrs. Alfred C. Runyan, William J. Scarborough, President of Baker University, and Dr. B. A. Gessner, Dean of Baker University.

After a financial report, the evening was formally closed with a "Walk Around" and the singing of "Delta Shelter" by everyone.

A most gracious host throughout the day's activities, and every day of the year for Gamma Theta, is Mrs. Harold Crosby, housemother. Her stern motherly ways have benefited all who have ever known her.

Now that the big day is over, a memory is branded deeply and warmly in our hearts. June 3, 1961, is a day that will always be remembered as a happy end to all dreams and visions of a new house and the birth of reality in a beautiful new Shelter.

Participating in dedication ceremonies held in Gamma Theta's spacious new living room were, from left: HUGH P. HARTLEY (standing); Dr. HOMER K. EBRIGHT; RALPH MARKHAM; JOSEPH H. PETERS, one of the first donors to the building fund campaign; Division President KENNETH PENFOLD, representative from the Arch Chapter; KARL SPEAR, president of Gamma Theta House Corporation; CLARENCE ABELL, Gamma Theta president, and Dr. GORDON "BISH" THOMPSON, who presided over the meeting.

with offices in Topeka. Anderson Chandler, president of the Fidelity Savings Bank, Topeka, has a new home in West Hills. Two of our former members have passed away recently: James Richard Edelblute, a former druggist here died in July after a long illness; and Graydon Houghton Sutherin, a banker at Wamego, Kansas, died about two weeks ago. Both were former members of our Topeka group.

Tom Van Sickle, our young state senator, has entered Washburn law school. Our state legislature meets again in January for the budget session, and we are always glad to have them as it brings in four additional Delts who attend our luncheon meetings.

Visitors are always welcome.

At the University of the South, fraternity men are giving the non-fraternity men a house. Alumni of the nine Greek letter fraternities on the Sewanee campus began a campaign last year to make possible a club house for the "Independents," who now number about 150 students—some one-fourth of the student body.

With $20,000 now in hand or promised, and only $5,000 more needed, construction began last summer with Sam Partin, Mont-eagle contractor, holding the contract. Thus far gifts have been received from members of every one of the fraternities located at Sewanee. They are, in addition to Beta Theta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Nu.

NIC 1961 ANNUAL MEETING

The 1961 annual meeting of the National Interfraternity Conference will be held in Boston, Massachusetts on December first and second, with Joel W. Reynolds, former president of the Fraternity, presiding as chairman. For full details write: National Interfraternity Conference, 15 E. 40th St., New York 16, New York.

THE PRESIDENT REPORTS

In order for any chapter of any fraternity to stay alive, it must, each year without interruption, acquire a pledge class sufficient in numbers to assure the economic stability of the chapter and adequate in scholastic ability and in character to be initiated and continue the best traditions of the Fraternity. It is thus a real pleasure to record that nearly all of our chapters (some have deferred rush) have reported the pledging of ample numbers of good men. All of our chapters are very much in business.

This means that we now have the responsibility of assimilating into Delta Tau Delta more than 2,000 pledges. A major objective of The Delt Development Program is to instill permanently into the consciousness of the pledge the fact that he is to be initiated into lifelong membership in a great international body. He must be taught that he will be a brother of not only the members, past, present, and future, of his own chapter, but also the members of all the chapters of Delta Tau Delta, and that, if he behaves like a gentleman, he will find a welcome anywhere in the Delt world. He must realize that he was selected as a pledge in the belief that he would be so accepted by the Fraternity, and he must do his part to deserve such acceptance.

Most Delts fully understand and appreciate these facts of fraternity life, but some individuals and a very few chapters seem never to have gotten the word, and look upon the Fraternity as a federation of local clubs. The reason for these cases is that there has been a failure of pledge education. In fairness to our new pledges, and to build a stronger and more unified Delta Tau Delta, let us make as sure as we possibly can that these new men learn what the Fraternity really is.
