Twenty-fourth President

President JOHN W. NICHOLS

AN ILLUSTRIOUS career of service to Delta Tau Delta by John W. Nichols, Oklahoma, '36, was climaxed by his election as the 26th President of the Fraternity, at the New Orleans Karnea last August.

Brother Nichols first appeared upon the national scene of the Fraternity as vice-president of the Western Division from 1947 to 1948. Thereafter, from 1948 to 1952 he served as President of the Western Division. During the next four years, he was Secretary of the Fraternity, and from 1956 to 1958, he performed the duties of Secretary of Alumni.

From 1958 to 1960, John took a sabbatical leave from service on the Arch Chapter, but in 1960 the Fraternity beckoned again, and he was elected Vice-President at the Swampscott Karnea.

As an undergraduate, Brother Nichols was president of the Oklahoma Chapter, receiving a B.S. degree from the University in 1936. In 1940 he achieved the rank of certified public accountant.

It is natural that John's first love in the Fraternity should have been his own Delta Alpha Chapter. But not too far from Norman, Oklahoma, is Stillwater, and John may truly be called the guiding spirit behind the installation of Delta Chi Chapter at Oklahoma State in 1949, and the moving force behind the recent completion of Delta Chi's new Shelter.

Brother Nichols is president of Mid-America Minerals, Inc., of Oklahoma City, and a general and managing partner of Blackwood & Nichols Company. Both of these companies hold major blocks of producing royalties and are operators of working interests in western states.

Of deep conviction in his religious life, John is a member of the board of trustees of the First Presbyterian Church of Oklahoma City, and a member of its building and finance committees. He is also a member of the Development Board of Princeton Theological Seminary.

In the field of public service, Brother Nichols serves on the boards of numerous religious and charitable organizations in his home city.

John's wife Mary, petite and vivacious, has been his constant companion at Karneas and other Delt affairs, and will serve well and graciously as the first lady of the Fraternity. Larry, the older son, is a junior at Princeton. Betty Ann, the daughter, is a fresh-

The Allegheny Alpha Decade: Part II

By F. DARRELL MOORE, Ohio, '16

Editor's Note:

This is the second of three parts dealing with this period of the Fraternity's history. The third and concluding portion of the Allegheny Alpha will appear in the Spring number.

IN THE FALL number of THE RAINBOW the first section of our history covering the period of the Allegheny Alpha was reported. It covered the Conventions from 1875 to 1883, when the powers of the Alpha Chapter were transferred to the Executive Council and a beginning made for alumni leadership.

The first section also included the discussion of the "phantom chapters" of the period, chapters which had charters granted, and for some reason or other had failed to function as chapters.

The establishment and re-establishment of chapters at Butler, DePauw (Asbury), and Wabash were also included. The Sigma at Mt. Union was briefly covered.

This second section discusses at some length the early attempts to maintain a functioning chapter at Michigan; the re-establishment at Ohio Wesleyan; the background of our expansion at Wooster, Rensselaer, Iowa State, Columbia, Iowa, and Kenyon. Brief references are made to short-lived chapters at Abingdon, Iowa Wesleyan, and Illinois Wesleyan.

The spring number of THE RAINBOW will conclude the history of the Allegheny Alpha's leadership. Extension of new chapters to Western Reserve University; our reaching toward the west in Minnesota and Colorado; and our first southern chapters at Georgia, Emory, and the University of the South at Sewanee, conclude the expansion phase of the period.

The development of the Extension Committee into the Executive Council, and its influence upon expansion and the development of policy was an important factor after 1879. Alpha Chapter's participation in the decade's history will be summarized in the third section.

ATTEMPTS TO REVIVE MICHIGAN CHAPTER

Revival of the short-lived chapter at the University of Michigan was attempted in 1875. O. E. Angstrom of the Iota (Michigan State) Chapter reported to the Allegheny chapter that "Brother R. C. Carpenter, now at Ann Arbor, Michigan University, one of our graduates and a member of our chapter, has met several Deltas at Ann Arbor who with him are anxious to establish a chapter at that place at once." According to Trautwein's historical introduction to the Delta (Michigan) Chapter in the 1884 Catalog, however, the chapter was organized as the Beta Beta in 1874, under the leadership of George Whitman Smith of the Kappa (Hillsdale) Chapter. A letter from Albert W. Ryan of the class of 1878, however, indicates that February, 1875, is the date. On May 18, 1875, he wrote to James Eaton in an attempt to avoid payment of annual dues, "We had understood that as we had been organized only since some time in February and as we are not very strong, we would be exempt from this tax" (of $1 per member). Earlier he had written Eaton on April 26, "I write again to inquire whether there was ever a chapter of Deltas established here before or not. If so, when?"

ATTEMPT FAILS IN 1876

William Carpenter, on October 24, 1876, reported the dissolution of the second, the Beta Beta, attempt at Michigan. "Enclosed please find the charter for the organization of Chapter BB and which we return to you. It is hardly necessary for us to go into a detailed explanation of the causes that have led us to take this step, but it suffice that they were good and sufficient for us. Our alumni members, I suppose, will remain members of the Fraternity at large, but we who are here in college consider this the complete separation from the Fraternity and assume the right of joining any other secret society here established."

William Carpenter's name (not to be confused with Rolla C. Carpenter who had transferred from Iota) disappears from our records.

CHARLES VAN WERT GIVES REASONS FOR FAILURE

One member of the Michigan chapter, Charles G. Van Wert, '79, who had been initiated at the Lake Shore Seminary (Rho Prime), wrote to Lowrie McClurg at Alpha on August fifth, 1878: "My love for the Fraternity is as strong now as ever. I keep in my trunk a copy of the Delta Tau Constitution which I frequently read. I admire its principles and am willing to live and die by them. No one regretted as much as I that the Delta Chapter was disorganized. Before that was done I could only see one way of keeping up our chapter and it was this: for Alpha to call in all the charters from the smaller colleges and let the society remain in six colleges, say Stephens Institute, Lafayette, Lehigh, Meadville, Champaign, and Michigan, and then only to establish in the first eastern colleges. The men from the smaller western colleges coming to our professional schools killed us—in a great measure. Personally I could not dislike Mr. Woodring, but it was not so with the others; I know he was an exception. In my opinion it is impossible to establish again at Michigan University, at least for the present. I cannot join any society at present as I am an editor of the University Chronicle, elected on an independent ticket, so if I should have anything to do with any society I would be obliged to resign my place on the paper."

W. W. COOK TAKES CHARGE IN 1880

Irvine Watson, initiated at Mount Union, transferred first to the Alpha and then to Michigan. On February 21, 1880, he wrote to Alpha for the initiatory service. He reported that the members of DTD, together with the to-be members, had met in his room the previous night. On February 23, W. W. Cook, a member at Kappa wrote to Alpha: "Probably W. L. McClurg has written you that we are taking steps to revive in Michigan University the defunct DTD chapter that went down in 1877."

"We have within a week's time pledged ten men, including three of us from the Hillsdale chapter." He listed the honors they held: senior president, editor, and business manager of the Chronicle. "The class of men we take comes from those who detest the snobbishness of drunkenness of present secret society men as much as they dislike the boorish manners and book-worm scholarship of the backlog independents."

Horace C. Alexander reported that Delta Chapter was organized on February 28, 1880, with nine charter members, four seniors and five sophomores. W. W. Cook was elected president. "At the present time we are running sub rosa as two of our men are holding positions on the editorial staff of our college journal, being elected to those positions as independents, and the law of the association require that the officers to be distributed equally between the independents and society men. . . . This gives us a great advantage which we could not expect to have if we showed our colors to the world. We will be in our own hall by the middle of the month."

On May sixth he wrote, "Yes, it is true that Delta has been found out and for several days every one was talking about the new society which had been organized in the University. We have come out of the fracas on top and are going to stay there. The men that we have in the class of '80 have led the independent party and the leading fraternities here now acknowledge them as their leaders in the fight against the 'independents.' We are recognized as one of the very strongest societies in the University and have more influence than any of them."

"We are looked on as a solid crowd from the fact that we are not afraid to show our colors and fight for our rights. We require of course every man to be a good student, possessing good common sense, but in addition to that he must be a man of stability—one who is willing to stand by his oath and work for the good of the Fraternity. We don't propose to take a back seat while we are in college. . . . We have 16 men now, and a good hall neatly furnished."

MCCLURG GIVES IMPETUS TO PLAN

In the June, 1880, number of THE CRESCENT "A brief History of the Delta" appeared. After a brief reference to the 1877 group it continued: "During the first two months of 1880 letters were received from friends in Chicago urging members here to re-establish old Delta and promising their assistance."

"The students here have for years been divided into two factions, society men and independents. The feeling later between the two factions has been very bitter. After careful consideration we decided that we were ready to undertake it if means were forthcoming! Accordingly, one of the finest halls in the city was rented. We began work in dead earnest. About six weeks after organization the affair began to leak out. The old members immediately spotted and informed us that our scheme would not succeed. Much praise to W. W. Cook, for the manly way he stemmed the storm about him as the founder."

In the Convention Report of 1880 by the Extension Committee, it was stated that $205 had been given to Delta for a suitably furnished chapter hall. Of this, $50 had come from the Extension Fund; $25 from Iota; $23 from Alpha; $20 from Phi (Hanover); $10 from Beta Zeta; $10 from Beta; $3 from Sigma; $8 from Theta; $2 from Graham, $30 from Van Wirt, and $25 from Reed. One might add that to make the gifts comparable to the present in purchasing power, he would multiply the amounts by ten.

Usually, Delta Chapter made a comprehensive report to the various Conventions. The lengthy report in 1883 remarks that the chapter had been greatly aided by transfers from other chapters to the various professional schools at Michigan. The old debt that had hampered them in the past had now been paid off, and the chapter planned to move to a larger and more convenient house near the University. When Delta was started three and a half years earlier, rivals were Delta Upsilon, Phi Kappa Psi, and Beta Theta Pi. Now they were successful against the prestigious Alpha Delta Phi, Psi Upsilon, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Delta Chapter was made the Grand Chapter of the Third Division by the 1883 Convention. Alvah G. Pitts, '85, was elected historian of the chapter and reported to Harry Plummer of the Alpha on December 10, 1883, that he had written many letters during that term in an effort to clarify the chapter lists of the three groups at Michigan since 1871. "Of the 75 members, five have joined other frats upon the death of the '76 chapter, three have been formally expelled, one has withdrawn, two are dead, and one more will probably be fired." Delta Tau Delta, he said, had had an eventful history at Michigan and a desperate struggle for existence. "Chaos has always reigned." The 1884 Catalogue states that the chapter had enrolled 60 members, 35 of whom being graduates of the University. Nine of the members had transferred from other chapters, five from Kappa (Hillsdale).

J. C. Floyd and J. J. Read of Delta were credited as associate founders of Epsilon (Albion); T. C. Tate was an associate founder of Omicron (Iowa); P. H. Hanus was an associate founder of Beta Kappa (Colorado).

ABINGDON COLLEGE, SHORT-LIVED CHAPTER

Three chapters that had a brief existence which placed them in the category of extinct chapters are Abingdon, Iowa Wesleyan, and Illinois Wesleyan. The S.A. of the Lombard chapter wrote June 20, 1875, that "We have been petitioned by a worthy brother of the Fraternity for the foundation of a chapter at Abingdon, Knox Co., Illinois, which he attends. The college is situated about ten miles from here." The chapter was duly granted, and the chapter existed for one year. It was called Beta Alpha.

BETA EPSILON AT ILLINOIS WESLEYAN, 1877-1880

The Beta Epsilon was chartered at Illinois Wesleyan in 1877. "Though the Alpha granted the charter too readily, she insisted that a chapter once instituted should perform its duties," is McClurg's statement. The charter was withdrawn for non-payment of its dues in 1880.

THE IOWA WESLEYAN STORY

One of the numerous early chapters named the Chi was at Iowa Wesleyan, at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, frequently referred to as the Mt. Pleasant chapter in order to distinguish it from other colleges with Wesleyan in their names. As early as April 29, 1874, J. N. Study of the then Delaware Alpha wrote that he had written to that Alpha and had received no reply. "A number of the boys at Mt. Pleasant want a chapter and have written to Dimmick concerning the matter. They have received no reply and think it strange. What is the matter?" It was chartered by the Allegheny Alpha in 1875 and was called the Nu. It had but a brief existence. In 1878 it was reorganized by the Lombard chapter and a former member of the earlier chapter, Charles W. Meeker. Charles W. Beattie wrote to the Alpha on September sixth, 1878, that "During the past week I have been visited by H. E. Wycoff, principal of the schools in Burlington, Iowa. Bro. W. was a member of the old Nu and from him I learned a great deal in reference to the old chapter. He has the minutes of same. He states that Bro. Meeker caused the dissolution of Nu and was expelled, and that unless Alpha has reinstated him, he is not a member of the Fraternity. Chapter Chi has been organized by one who is not a member, and if such is the case, it will be necessary for us to be reorganized by some one who is a member. Meeker represented himself to us as a member in good standing." On December 27, he wrote that he had gone over to Lambda (Lombard) and was re-initiated "so that there would be no doubt about our legal existence." Meeker's name was not listed in either the Fifth (1884) or the Sixth (1897) Catalogues but was included in the Seventh (1937) Catalogue. On April 28, 1880, C. J. Traxler reported to the Alpha that the chapter was practically extinct and its charter was withdrawn on May eighth, 1880.

COLVIN AND MCCLURG INVESTIGATE OHIO WESLEYAN

The work of the Extension Committee, which was not authorized until the Convention met in August, was anticipated by the G.S.A., Lowrie McClurg, and Wilber Colvin, S.A. of Beta (Ohio). The former's letter has not survived, but thanks to the hoarding of incoming correspondence by the

WILBUR COLVIN, Ohio, 1880

Alpha, several letters of Colvin were preserved.

On February 22, 1879, Colvin wrote to McClurg: "I think we might with profit extend our list of chapters in Ohio. You know Ohio men are the men nowadays. None of our men have gone to the O.W.U. for some time, and do not think any will soon. I believe some of our men founded the chapter there. If it is thought best to re-establish a chapter there, I think it would be a good plan. I have heard from students that were there at the time, that the old chapter stood high. I think some proper man should investigate and if matters are favorable, be empowered to re-establish a chapter there."

"As to Kenyon and Marietta, I do not know so much, but believe they both stand high; the former especially, being Episcopalian, is inclined to be a little aristocratic. I have thought the Ohio State University would be a pretty good field. It is a new institution but has pretty good backing."

A week later, not yet having a response from McClurg, Colvin wrote that he was going to Westerville, Ohio, to compete as essayist in a state contest. "It is near Columbus, and I can perhaps make it convenient to work up the O.W.U. a little. Had I known sooner that I would go, I would have written to you. But as it is, your last letter is sufficient commission to act upon if I have any opportunity. I am little acquainted at Delaware and can spy around a little at least."

At Delaware he consulted with Professor John Henry Grove, a member of the former Alpha, class of 1870. He had been principal of the preparatory department of the University since 1878, prior to which time he had been superintendent of schools at Wilmington, Ohio. Later he became professor of Latin at Ohio Wesleyan.

COLVIN CONFERS WITH PROFESSOR GROVE

The result of his conference with Professor Grove was reported by Colvin to McClurg in a letter dated April second, 1879. "Bro. Grove thinks the prospect at Delaware not very flattering. College was not in session when I was there but I had quite a talk with him and perhaps did just as well. There are now five fraternities there and he thinks the material pretty well culled; and to undertake to establish a chapter out of the refuse of the fraternities would attach a stigma or odium to the infant chapter that would be hard to overcome. Nevertheless, he stated that our former chapter was founded under similar circumstances and by carefully selecting men from the lower classes and waiting for them to grow; and they did grow and it became the grandest chapter in the college, feared and respected by all. The Beta whom I met on the train told me that the best men in their chapter were the Delts who went over to them. And Bro. Grove said the four best men of the chapter went to the Chi Phis. As to the cause of the split, I learned all I could, but it was not very satisfactory. It seems that the Beta Chapter was about to die out; but some of the Deltas had intimate friends in it, and some way or other the Betas prevailed on eight of the Deltas to desert and join them; and so were one night initiated without the knowledge of their other brethren who they knew would object to any such proceedings. It seems to me that the stronger chapter should have absorbed the weaker. . . . The only reason I heard for going to the Betas was that they thought it was an older, and I suppose a more venerable fraternity. These proceedings are said to have caused the greatest commotion among the students that had been known in years."

"Notwithstanding the number of chapters there, they do not number over 15 or 18 members apiece, some not that, and among 400 or 500 students it seems to me there ought to be some good material loose; besides some of the chapters have no timber we would want. Bro. Grove said he would look around and if he thought there was any opening would let us know; as he thought at present it would not be best to try to establish a chapter there soon."

SIX CHARTER MEMBERS SELECTED BY PROFESSOR GROVE

Professor Grove announced to McClurg May 29, 1879, "I have selected six first class men from the lower classes who will eventually become the leading spirits here. They are young, but capable and ambitious. I think it best to conceal its existence for a year. There may be some of our former members still in college."

MU'S STORY FROM ITS FIRST MINUTE BOOK

The minute book of the Mu Chapter after its establishment gives an account of the mystery surrounding the demise of the Delaware Alpha; Wilber Colvin's consultation with John H. Grove; and Colvin's second visit to Delaware to establish the Mu Chapter. The students first selected by Professor Grove deferred action until two others they wanted would join them. They were all freshmen or sub-freshmen, and were personally known to the professor, as they recited to him. "Most of the fraternities had become somewhat lax in their work and were confining their solicitations almost exclusively to the upper-classes. But one of the five fraternities placed scholarship on equal footing with sociability. The credentials of too many were money, beauty, and sometimes a too near approach to lasciviousness. Preparatory classes were an untouched field. . . . Prof. Grove first made known his plan to Mr. Gilbert Austin (Class of '83). Mr. Austin conferred with Messrs. Merchant and Beach of '82 and Cheney of '83 on the feasibility and need of establishing a fraternity upon good and wholesome principles. They were all agreed; but resolved to secure Messrs. Jefferson and Turrill, '82, before organizing. They were secured and Professor Grove being informed of the fact communicated with Alpha. Alpha sent Bro. Wilber Colvin of Beta from Athens, O., who initiated us into the mysteries of DTD. The initiation took place at the residence of Professor Grove on Spring Street on the evening of June third, 1879, Brother Wilber Colvin acting as the presiding officer and Prof. Grove as secretary." In the election of officers that followed, Charles Edward Jefferson was the first president. In later years he was the renowned pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle (Congregationalist) in New York City.

COLVIN'S REPORT ON INSTALLATION

In his letter to McClurg reporting the founding of the Mu Chapter, Colvin stated, "I think the outlook a good one. Four of the boys are freshmen and two are senior preps. Prof. Grove picked them himself; they all recite to him and he says they are the best material in college. Being young, and not in the higher classes they have not the 'shine' or influence just yet, but they are all solid men. I was very favorably impressed with them. They are straight-forward, unostentatious young men and took hold of the matter earnestly and seemed well pleased with everything connected with the Fraternity. They propose to work secretly for a time and have their eyes on two or three men already. Prof. Grove having the matter under his immediate supervision will render them every material aid. Too much must not be expected at first for they have odds to work against, and being young and inexperienced, in the lower classes, they will have to grow into power. Some of the chapters there have become so 'aristocratic' that they overlook the very best material, especially among the lower classes, and our men will have the best kind of a chance to get a firm foundation." He reported that his entire expense of the trip was $5.00, half of which was paid by the new chapter and the remainder out of the Extension Fund.

ENCOURAGEMENT FROM COLVIN AND MCCLURG

The chapter's minute book for several years reports the reading of letters from Colvin and McClurg, who apparently followed its progress closely and proffered sage advice. The youth of the new members was somewhat over-emphasized, as their ages as reported averaged above 20, and the oldest was 23.

A few weeks after the installation, on June 27, Colvin again reported news of Mu to McClurg: "The boys at Delaware are pretty active, having secured three men of the senior class. . . . I warned the boys when I was there to be very careful as to their membership. . . . Besides I think the men I initiated are of the right stuff and will guard their best interests with jealous care." The three seniors initiated were among the 15 chosen to perform at the commencement exercises. At first it was planned to have all come out with their Delta badges on commencement day, but the seniors hesitated as they had been among the leaders of the non-fraternity element at Ohio Wesleyan. So the debut was postponed until the fall.

Gilbert Austin was the chapter's first S.A. On October eighth, 1879, his first letter to the Alpha reported that "They are all enthusiastic and especially are they jubilant over the prospect of building a fortress for DTD on the ruins of the chapter of Beta who have come from the strongest fraternity here to two weak men." Professor Grove supported this statement in a letter September 29: "The latter organization (Beta Theta Pi) is now almost defunct at the Ohio Wesleyan."

CHAPTER APPEARS PUBLICLY

Gilbert Austin reported on November third, "We made our debut two weeks ago Saturday. Having put our badges on we walked to chapel just as usual. Cheney and myself came up before 200-300 students who were standing about the door. Our appearance created quite an excitement indeed. We were warmly received by both fraternity and non-fraternity men." He reported successful pledging, having won men from two of the other fraternities. In the Mu minutes of November 14 the secretary wrote: "As it ought to be a fact of history, I, the Scribe, will take the privilege of naming the fraternities by whom we were well received, and those by whom we were, as they thought, intentionally slighted. Phi Gamma Delta, the opinion of whom we most cared for, as it stood best at the time, received us enthusiastically. Beta Theta Pi, very well, but not so demonstrative as the former. Phi Delta Theta, a forced acknowledgement of our presence. Chi Phi, treats us very well. Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Chi, no demonstration."

MU BECOMES GRAND CHAPTER OF SECOND DIVISION

E. E. Cheney had represented Mu at its first Convention. The following year at Chicago, the chapter sent its proxy to Lowrie McClurg who reported the chapter's strength as eight members; and that they were working in the Fraternity's interest at Western Reserve University. Watch was also being kept on Alpha Sigma Phi at Marietta College. The Convention transferred the Grand Chapter from the Theta (Bethany) to Mu. In the minutes of Mu, November sixth, 1880, "a letter was read by the Scribe from J. A. Warren of Alpha concerning Mu being appointed the Grand Chapter of the Second Division."

The Delaware correspondent to the Chi Phi Quarterly was quoted in the October, 1881, CRESCENT: "Delta Tau Delta, which was refounded here two years ago, from the freshman class. A remarkably good judgement in regard to intellect was exercised in the selection and today Delta Tau possesses some of the best students in college. The prime requisite for entrance into the Fraternity is scholarship."

As Grand Chapter, Mu promoted expansion into Wooster and Western Reserve. Wittenberg College, at Springfield, Ohio, was another story. J. W. Magruder reported to Alpha on November 25, 1883: "We received an application for a charter from Wittenberg College last week. Needless to say we refused. There were about eight applicants, chiefly from members of the freshman and sophomore classes. One of Mu's men lived in Springfield last year. He says that their students are nearly all 'chumps.' Beta and Phi Psi have chapters there."

MU LOOKS TOWARD WOOSTER

During its first months of existence, the new Mu Chapter turned its attention to expansion. On November third, 1879, Gilbert Austin wrote to Charles A. Ensign, the G.S.A. of Alpha that

"Our boys are anxious to have a chapter at Wooster. We are not very far away, and if I could do any good possibly I could go over." Apparently Ensign suggested that Austin contact William S. Eversole, Beta, '69, who was superintendent of schools in Wooster, Ohio, as on November 22, Austin wrote that he had written to Eversole and that "He tells me that he and a Mr. John Lockard, a member of the junior class and also formerly of the Eta at Akron investigated but are unable to give a very satisfactory report. There is a strong feeling among non-frat men against secret organizations and some of them are pretty strong men. About the only hope seems to be to persuade some of these men into the DT 'faith'."

WILLIAM S. EVERSOLE FOUNDS PSI CHAPTER

On March 29, 1880, Wilber Colvin wrote to Lowrie McClurg, a fellow member of the Extension Committee: "At Wooster we have one man in college and W. S. Eversole is sup't of schools there. They are doing their best to work up matters there and I think indications are favorable for success." A month later, Mr. Eversole reported to McClurg, "The Extension Committee have written to me several times this year in regard to establishing a chapter of DTD in the University of Wooster. The great obstacle in the way has been the Eclectic Society, an anti-frat association. It contained some of the very best students in college as well as many of ordinary ability, about 50 men in all. It was too large and not select enough to convert into a chapter. I cultivated the acquaintance of Rice, one of their best men, and tried to show him that if their best men would secede from the Eclectic they could form the strongest fraternity chapter in college. He talked unfavorably, but last night came to my house, requested a private interview, and told me that he and six others withdrew from the Eclectic last Saturday night. He wanted all the information I could give him about DTD. The other fraternities have heard of their withdrawal and have commenced vigorous operations to capture them. They are all first-class men; any would be glad to get them. These men prefer to form a chapter by themselves and by acting at once, without a minute's unnecessary delay, I think we can get them. With the other fraternities working on them every hour of delay is extremely dangerous. I meet Rice again this afternoon and will then arrange an interview with the others in a body." He asked for a charter, a Constitution, and a Ritual as quickly as possible.

The next day Eversole reported that Rice had told him that they would form a chapter of DTD. The Eclectic Society was in an uproar at them because of their intended action. He reported also that the boys expressed an unwillingness to fraternize with Lockard on account of certain personal qualities. Later, on May tenth, Professor Eversole announced that Chapter Psi was organized in his library on May eighth, 1880. One of the charter members, John Calvin Rice, later was a member of the Arch Chapter, as president of the Eastern Division.

UPSILON ESTABLISHED BY BRUCK

Upsilon Chapter, at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, was closely associated with the Rho at Stevens. In narrating its beginnings, Henry Bruck in a letter to Lowrie McClurg on December fourth, 1879, wrote: "Rosenburg last spring was made a scapegoat at the Stevens Institute, and was dropped for general misconduct nominally, but really, as the president afterwards acknowledged, to deter other students from doing likewise.

His endeavors to be reinstated would have been successful had it not been for one professor who kicked. So Rosenburg packed off to Troy, his heart sore and the deepest anger against Stevens and everything connected with it rankling in his bosom. He there got in with a crowd of boys worked on by Delta Beta Phi men to start a chapter. . . . Rosie and the rest of the crowd concluded to join Delta Beta Phi and R. wrote to me resigning his membership in DTD. I smelt a rat immediately and so wrote to him urging him not to resign but to do his best to form a chapter at the R.P.I. It happened the same evening I was writing to Reiser of Tau, and mentioned the case to him and urged him to help me in the matter. He laid the matter before the Tau and J.H.G. was instructed to cooperate with me. Between us we made Rosie withdraw his resignation and instead petition for a charter. You know the rest."

On October 28, 1879, Bruck had written to Ensign at Alpha: "I received a note from Reiser (Tau) announcing the application of Bro. Rosenberg, Rho, '81, for a charter for Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. I have consulted but four of the boys and they are agreeable. From my own knowledge of Rosenburg I know he is incapable of properly administering the unwritten law. Some one will have to go up to Troy with the charter to make the necessary communications." Three days later in the name of Rho Chapter as its S.A., Henry Bruck sent a Memorial to the Alpha and Tau Chapters: "Chapter Rho at a meeting this evening learnt with extreme pleasure that Bro. Rosenburg sees an opportunity of doing something towards furthering the interests of the Fraternity at R.P.I. Without desiring to stand in the way of anything that might prove beneficial to our brotherhood, we would advise that the greatest caution be observed before granting a charter to Rensselaer. Bro. Rosenburg is not as well posted in fraternity matters as might seem advisable when as important a task as that of starting a chapter is under consideration. His entire action in this matter has been such that we are quite at a loss to understand it. We deem that the utmost caution should be observed in launching a chapter at so important an institution as the R.P.I. We would respectfully suggest that Chapter Rho be given discretionary powers in granting the charter in question, that the charter reach the projected chapter through Rho, and that as inasmuch as it will be absolutely necessary to send a delegate to Troy in behalf of the Fraternity, a brother of this chapter be assigned this duty. We are well acquainted with Bro. Rosenburg and he has always had our entire confidence. We feel that we are perfectly competent to judge the character of the students who frequent our technical schools. We would hail nothing with more pleasure than the appearance of a sister chapter at Troy."

Needless to say, Rho's desires were acceded to, and Bruck became the delegate of the chapter to visit the R.P.I. He took the Saturday afternoon train out of New York City, arriving at Troy at 9:30. Rosenburg and four other petitioners were waiting for him. "I took the rest of the evening and part of Sunday to judge them and finally initiated the four men, Bro. R. assisting." He also reported that he was most favorably impressed by the qualities of the charter members. Two of the four were Cubans.

THE FIRST CHAPTER AT IOWA STATE

R. D. Wooley, S.A. of Lambda (Lombard), Grand Chapter of the Fourth Division, wrote to the Alpha on December eighth, 1875 that "The chapter at Mt. Pleasant have in mind the starting of a new chapter at Ames, Iowa, and desire to obtain a charter for that purpose. I therefore request that you make out a charter for that purpose. If you wish any information with regard to it which has not been given, let me know. They are in something of a hurry." In the minutes of the 1875 Convention, bare mention is made that "On motion of Bro. Weems, a charter was granted to Agricultural College, Ames, Iowa." In Trautwein's historical sketch of the chapter in the 1884 Catalogue, he states that Omega was founded through the efforts of the Xi (Simpson) Chapter. "For some time the chapter was compelled to maintain a sub rosa existence owing to the disfavor with which Greek-letter fraternities were regarded both by the faculty and a large proportion of the students. It began to be particularly serious in 1881-82, when the opponents of the chapter published a manifesto, as a means of influencing the incoming freshman class; but the chapter successfully met its enemies. In the fall of 1882, the case was taken before the board of trustees, but the trustees, which, declining to interfere, referred the matter to the faculty for action; the trouble rested there, and it is but just to say that Prof. A. S. Welch, the then president, proved himself a staunch friend of the chapter in this its time of trouble. Since then the opponents of the chapter have confined their efforts to circulating scurrilous and anonymous sheets for the purpose of prejudicing the freshmen classes against the Fraternity, with little or no success. The membership of the chapter has always been large, perhaps injudiciously large, in more than one respect, but it was compelled to continue so from the fact that the opposition which it has to encounter made it necessary to some extent. The Omega, as yet, has no rival fraternity."

G.S.A. FROM ALPHA ATTACKS OMEGA CHAPTER

In the report of the G.S.A., Charles M. Blair, to the 1882 Convention, he paid particular attention to Iowa State. "While we compliment the Fourth Division for its care in financial affairs, and promptness in all matters pertaining to THE CRESCENT, we would be derelict in our duty did we not say that one, at least, of the chapters should be cut off. When a general fraternity officer observes stumbling blocks in the way of progress of that order, it is his province to point them out."

"Reflection and experience have convinced me that the charter of Omega should be withdrawn. As a rule, agricultural colleges are not desirable to enter, and this is especially true of the one located at Ames, Iowa. While we know nothing at all detrimental to the standing of the members of Omega, we are still clearly assured that our designs upon prominent Eastern institutions receive their most serious obstruction on account of the very subordinate rank of colleges like Ames and some of the other places where we are represented."

CONVENTION DECIDES DIFFERENTLY

Blair suggested that the chair appoint a committee on charters. "In the future this question of pruning of our chapter lists is to be one of foremost importance. As we grow conservative and approach Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Kappa Epsilon in eminence, it is ours to exercise care and vigilance in management." A committee on chapters and charters was duly appointed, but its report did not go along with Blair's opinion. "The G.S.A., in his annual report, made mention of Chapter Omega at Ames, Iowa, as a poor chapter, and one from which he should desire the charter to be withdrawn. The committee examined into the condition of Omega, and beg leave to report that in its opinion Omega is in a condition which at present would not justify the withdrawal of its charter; but it would recommend that Omega, as a rule for the future, keep the numbers considerably less than it has for the past year, and be more prompt in the future in the discharge of her duties to the general Fraternity, obtain more subscriptions to THE CRESCENT, send in its reports to the G.S.A. more promptly, and in several particulars bring the chapter to its true position in the Fraternity—the position it deserves because of its enthusiasm and worth—which enthusiasm and worth seem in the past to be hidden from the general Fraternity by the neglect of the duties spoken of previously." According to the statistical report, Omega had 22 members, of whom ten had been initiated during the current year. The chapter was represented at the Convention by W. S. Summers, and apparently was the source of the committee's information. His report to the Convention was the basis of Trautwein's statements of the chapter's history and progress.

At the 1883 Convention, the chapter reported that it was making an effort to have the chapter recognized by the faculty. "If we had another fraternity here, Omega would fare better. As it is now we are few, and have to contend with enormous odds."

COLUMBIA COLLEGE ENTERED IN 1882

Columbia University, in New York City, early became one of the favorite projects of Henry Bruck and Rho Chapter. As early as May ninth, 1878, Bruck discussed the possibilities of Columbia and New York University as potential fields. The latter he dismissed, and based his opinion upon his own personal experience at N.Y.U., which he had attended in preparation for entrance into Stevens. Columbia, on the other hand, was discussed at length, with all the advantages and the difficulties to be encountered in challenging the domination of the well-established fraternities already there. Frederick F. Martinez, a student at Columbia, was the brother of Emanuel J. Martinez of the Rho Chapter. Bruck reported to McClurg on March 29, 1880, that he was working on Martinez in an effort to get into Columbia. At a recent special meeting of Rho, the chapter decided to seek permission from Tau and Alpha to initiate him as a member of Rho so that he could organize at Columbia with more authority. He was duly initiated. Later that year, November eighth, Bruck reported that one of Martinez's prospects had joined Psi U, and Martinez was also asked but refused. Another Columbia undergraduate was being brought over to Rho for initiation.

Two years later slow progress was still reported. A son of Founder John L. N. Hunt was being sought, but Bruck reported that the latter was "up to one of his double-dealing games for the purpose of keeping his son out for a while yet." Problems still were quite formidable, "but I think it will all come out right in the end. The great trouble with our boys is that they are aiming at the class of men that the older fraternities take or choose from and are not satisfied, like Beta Theta Pi, in picking from the riff-raff, the consequence that DTD's little candle glimmers rather faintly in the glare made by the electric lights of the other fraternities." On June tenth, 1882, Bruck notified Alpha that the Columbia Chapter, to be known as Beta Gamma, had been started with four charter members, and that two more were to be added at once. In a letter to McClurg, he infers that the formal chartering had been rushed a bit so that two more votes could be controlled at the next Convention.

On February 29, 1884, Bruck wrote McClurg that the Columbia chapter was located in a flat on 49th Street, one and a half blocks from the college. "Martinez pays half the rent and lodges there. Meeting room, committee room, smoking room, Martinez's room, kitchen, and store room. Meeting room quite nicely fixed up; others soon will be." In his RAINBOW series on the extinct chapters, Lowrie McClurg stated that the chapter's demise in 1886 was caused by its desire to take men who naturally belonged to their rivals, and that they refused to look at excellent material available. The chapter's membership was excellent socially; they were too hard to please. They never had more than 15 members; their rivals averaged 30 to 40. "Columbia is a city college," McClurg said, "which makes it difficult to maintain a chapter on plans DTD pursues elsewhere. It is the only one of our extinct chapters DTD would consent to revive."

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

Efforts to place a chapter in the University of Iowa started early in the Allegheny years. J. A. Rice, an initiate at Gamma, who later was interested in the phantom chapter at Oscaloosa College, was sent a Constitution and a charter. Alpha's minutes date this as November 27, 1875. On April 12, 1876, he returned them to the Alpha, "as it is impossible to do anything. The faculty must have got wind of it in some way, and scared some of the boys out; others left at the end of the first term." C. N. Dobyns, who had been a member of the Oscaloosa chapter, transferred to Iowa City in the fall of 1879, and several letters are extant that record his lack of success.

The Executive Council was persistent, however. Their efforts were facilitated by the presence of three undergraduates who had joined Delta Tau Delta at Simpson, Washington and Jefferson, and Iowa State. G. N. Seidlitz, Jr., announced to Alpha in a letter written November 17, 1880, "By this time you have probably heard through Bro. McClurg of the success we have met with in establishing Delta Tau Delta here. We enter here under very favorable circumstances, our men all being first class and very enthusiastic. We start with seven charter members. Two of these were Deltas already." The member from Iowa State was not listed as a member in the 1884 Catalogue, and the two others are not given as charter members.

STATE UNIVERSITIES RISING IN IMPORTANCE

Lowrie McClurg, in his report for the Extension Committee to the 1880 Convention, called attention to the fast rising importance of the state universities in the educational system of the United States, and the prominent positions they were likely to assume. "The extensive comprehensiveness of their curricula, the absence of sectarianism, and the nature of their support, must convince every one that these institutions must of necessity assume positions far in advance of those conducted on more narrow bases. Such being the case . . . Delta Tau Delta should seek to establish herself firmly in all institutions of this class which fulfill all other requirements." Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin were singled out as examples of the favorable fields.

Omicron's charter was dated October 29, 1880, but the chapter's Convention report in 1881 states that the chapter was founded early in November. The report also credits the Iowa State member as a founder and charter member. Through Lowrie McClurg the chapter reported that it was progressing satisfactorily, that it had a permanent hall, that the major difficulty was the prevailing sentiment against secret societies. Beta Theta Pi was the only rival, but others were planning to enter Iowa.

There is no reference to Iowa in the 1882 and 1883 convention minutes, and no reports or delegates are recorded.

Two letters to Alpha from Omicron in November and December 1881, strongly supported a petition from Iowa College, Grinnell, Iowa, but the petition was rejected.

FIRST APPROACH AT KENYON COLLEGE, 1880

Charles Sumner Crawford, an initiate of the Sigma (Mt. Union) Chapter, entered Kenyon College during the 1879-80 college year. On May 11, 1880, he wrote to the Alpha: "When at Mt. Union I was a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. After coming to this college I requested a dismissal from Sigma with the view of another society, the request was of course granted. Brother Monroe said in his letter he 'hoped to hear of a repentance being made' and something about my starting a fraternity here. The dismissal was never shown. I have often been solicited, but have always declined with a view of starting a chapter of Deltas. There are five active fraternities here, each one possesses a lodge building out of town limits. Each fraternity works hard against all the others. There are but five students who are non-fraternity men. This with other difficulties prevented my making much progress. Today a member of the junior class pledged himself to assist in starting a chapter. He is an active worker in his literary society, stands well in his class. . . ."

Charles A. Ensign, then General Secretary of Alpha, reported the Kenyon approach to Lowrie McClurg, secretary of the Executive Council. McClurg answered, "I am glad to hear your report on Kenyon, as I should like to see a chapter in that place, but go slow, there is so little of the present term left that a chapter established now would hardly be organized when college breaks up and the boys would have nearly three months for their zeal to cool in. I would advise you and Alpha to place the matter in Colvin's hands for examination. He is safe and has a clear head. He may be able to see some of the boys chosen. If you hear from Crawford, answer by advising him to go on selecting his men and pledge them to join but tell them it is hardly advisable to grant a charter this year. Tell him why and explain all so that he can work intelligently. In regard to Kenyon we must go slowly. It is a small college and already has a super-abundance of fraternities. Unless we are well founded, our stay there will be short."

FACULTY DELAYS ACTION

On May 31, 1880, Crawford again wrote: "I have been trying since last fall to get assistance but it seemed as though I had to buck against the

All Delt Football Team, 1962

AS IN THE PAST several years, Beta Rho and Gamma Theta chapters provided more Delt varsity football performers than did any of the other chapters. This year Phi, Delta Nu, and Omega chapters showed potential ability of threatening for numerical superiority. Twenty-one Beta Rho Delts were on the Stanford squad. Gamma Theta produced 12 of the performers for Baker. Of the other three chapters mentioned, Phi and Omega had seven varsity candidates and Delta Nu had six. The total number of Delt players submitted to THE RAINBOW was an even 100. There are no doubt some that have been omitted due to a lack of communication from their undergraduate chapter correspondents. Five Delts served as team captains, including Ed Cummings of Stanford, Bruce Darsey of Florida State, Tom Switzer of Ohio Wesleyan, Bob Payne of W. & L., and Jack King of Kansas State.

Ed Cummings, Stanford fullback, was named to the All American second team and Ron Allshouse, Pennsylvania's outstanding end, was honored with selection as an honorable mention All American. Twenty-five Delts were selected to all conference teams and several played in major bowl or all-star games. At the conclusion of the season, Ed Cummings of Stanford signed a contract to play pro football with the New York Giants. Rudy Matthews of Texas Christian inked a pact with the Philadelphia Eagles, and Gene Heeter of West Virginia signed up with the San Diego

More Delts are listed at the end position than at any other as a total of 19 of this year's squad members man the flanks. Are Fraternities Raising Their Standards?

By DONALD L. FERGUSON, Phi Gamma Delta, Nebraska, '63

Editor's Note:

This article, written by a University of Nebraska journalism student who served his Phi Gam Chapter as president, was gathered from interviews and observations made by its author at the N.I.C. meeting in Pittsburgh last December. It is published here as a topic of current concern to all fraternity members.

THE COLLEGE FRATERNITY could be compared with the dinosaur. The dinosaur had history, tradition, and strength, but failed to adapt to the changing environment.

The fraternity, too, has its history, tradition, and strength. But, many educators have asked, will it be able to adapt for survival, or will it, too, become a historical footnote?

What type of adaptation will be necessary?

Can, or is, the fraternity system taking steps to insure its survival and live up to its principles?

Or, is the fraternity a dying institution?

Frank M. Hallgren, dean of men at the University of Nebraska, stated that, "If the fraternity system is to survive it will need to demonstrate that it is a positive educational influence in the college community."

Hallgren noted that to remove the problems of poor scholarship and poor citizenship "is not enough." This, he said, only indicates that the fraternity is not a negative influence.

"To demonstrate a positive contribution, the fraternity system must become a leader in the solution of social problems and not a defender of the status quo; a leader in cultural and intellectual development and not a debunker of the creative and imaginative intellect."

"I think the days of keg, combo, and collection of couples approach to social life of the fraternity is largely gone," indicated Earl W. Clifford, dean of men at Syracuse University, "and that in a very significant way, a prime characteristic, a principal dimension of fraternity experience that has evolved is not modern at all, but a return to the literary-scholastic origin of those organizations."

Clifford, when interviewed at the November meeting of the National Interfraternity Conference in Pittsburgh, noted that the first college fraternity was Phi Beta Kappa, now a scholastic honorary.

Hallgren stated that while "brotherhood" means a sincere feeling of friendship, a closeness and concern for the other person's character and social development, it should also mean a concern for the intellectual enrichment of the rest of the fraternity membership.

Nearly all of the national college fraternities were founded, at least in part, to supplement and contribute to the intellectual development of the individual.

One fraternity, in its early years, required regular participation in chapter-room debates over current political, social, and cultural topics.

Phi Gamma Delta, in its national history books, indicates that the members debated such topics as "Should a man be convicted of murder in the first degree on circumstantial evidence?" and, "Is the present war with Mexico a just war on the part of the United States?"

Another national fraternity, Chi Phi, was originally patterned after a literary society.

"At early meetings (1854-1900) members were called upon to prepare and deliver papers, essays, poetry, and reviews," noted Carl Gladfelter, Chi Phi executive secretary.

Another large national fraternity, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, according to its executive secretary, Rex Smith, had as one of its constitutional requirements that "each member of the fraternity chose a subject on which he had to write essays throughout his college course, for the literary meetings of the chapter."

Indicative of this return to scholastic and cultural stimulation and development is a program cited by Dean Clifford.

The residence halls at Syracuse were encouraged to bring lecturers, one-act plays, recitals, and other forms of cultural programs into the residence halls each week. This, he noted, was to supplement the original purpose of care, feeding, and supervision (along with a small recreation program), making the residence halls into "residential educational centers."

He noted that this type of program soon caused the fraternities to sit back and take note. The fraternities were "forced" to add this type of program to keep pace with the competition.

"This is the type of program," noted Hallgren, "that more college fraternities should incorporate to live up to their principles."

He added that too many chapters look upon community service projects as a freshman activity held once or twice each year with little or no concern for incorporating this phase of fraternity into a year-around program.

"Chapters also invite faculty members to speak to them but often force members to listen or have as their only purpose 'good public relations,'" said Hallgren.

Many Interfraternity Councils across the country are taking steps to help their member fraternities to incorporate these activities into their program.

At the University of Tennessee, according to the adviser to fraternities, Joseph A. Cecil, the IFC took voluntary action to correct their scholastic record. Through legislation, the IFC levied a penalty on any fraternity failing to make a 2.0, or C, average. For the first quarter of failure, the chapter will lose social privileges. If there is a repeat the second quarter, they add the loss of intramurals. If the deficiency continues for a third quarter, the chapter is placed on full activities probation and is suspended from the campus if the record is not improved by the next quarter.

Initiation averages have also been raised on many campuses. In addition, IFC's have legislated requirements on pledging. At the University of Nebraska, the IFC recently voted that no man may be pledged or participate in rush the first semester unless he was graduated in the upper half of his high school class.

Many campuses, such as Syracuse, have also gone to a program of "deferred rush." Under this type of system, no fraternity may take a pledge class of new members until after the first semester. Most campuses have their pledging period or "rush week" just before the school year starts. Under the Syracuse program, only those students who have proved scholastically capable the first semester may be pledged.

There are still the "gimmick" approaches to raise scholarship in individual chapters and national fraternities—national trophies, bean and steak dinners, recognition certificates, reduced initiation rates, and many others—all in an effort to give more than lip service to the need for good scholarship. But the term "scholarship," in the original sense, is much more than good grades, as noted by our knowledge of the early fraternity meetings.

Is there, then, a new trend to comply not only with aiding and encouraging better classroom scholarship, but to give the student these extra benefits?

On many campuses, according to Alpha Tau Omega national executive secretary, Stewart Daniels, it already appears that "our chapter houses are becoming more of a forum for an exchange of ideas."

"Libraries are being upgraded, grants are being made from national fraternity foundations to increase library facilities—all (with the purpose of) looking toward making the fraternity a more vital adjunct of the institution," he added.

Many chapters are starting to adopt parts of the Syracuse plan and are incorporating the idea of making the fraternity a second classroom.

"In addition to an astute awareness to the purpose for being in college—education—the fraternity should never lose track of its other obligations to the individual member," said John Nolon, former IFC president at the University of Nebraska.

What are these other obligations?

According to one national fraternity's pledge manual, the fraternity should aid in the development of good manners; teach the democratic process, instilling an understanding of the majority rule concept.

"We can teach you," stated the manual, "how to study, how to organize study; how to get maximum benefits from your professors; how to broaden your education. Do not think we can teach you how to avoid work; we can't open your head and pour it in."

A fraternity, the manual explained, is a business which is operated by the members. One chapter cited in the manual handles more than $75,000 yearly, operates $200,000 worth of property, buys food, supplies and furniture, has a housemother and a staff.

In addition, the manual states, the fraternity should teach you to get along with people, how to dress cleanly, neatly, and presentably, and how to be a gracious winner and a good loser.

Many fraternity leaders, administrators, and undergraduate IFC officers indicated at the NIC meeting that the college fraternity can do these things for the individual. They also seemed to be of the general opinion that the fraternity is not a dying institution.

"If fraternities are dying, they are the healthiest corpses you ever saw," stated Joel Reynolds, former President of Delta Tau Delta, a leader in the NIC.

To back up his statement, he referred to the recent NIC expansion committee report, which indicated that there is an immediate need for 500 more chapters on campuses across the country.

The report also indicates that undergraduate membership in fraternities over the past five years has increased from 1,578,870 to over 2,500,000.

"The question of survival is still a relevant one, however," according to Nebraska's Hallgren. "Many chapters have not yet grasped the changing role of fraternity; many lack mature leadership, many lack a purpose."

Richard Fletcher, executive secretary of Sigma Nu Fraternity, commented that fraternities will survive, the same as any human institution, if they are "useful, purposeful, and alert."

"PART OF ALL you make is yours to keep." With this deeply ingrained thrift philosophy as his guiding light Grady Clark, Vanderbilt, '21, has climbed the ladder of success to be acclaimed the leading security salesman in the nation. This Delt super-salesman rose through the ranks and has been president of Investors Diversified Services (IDS) since 1960. The IDS financial complex centered in Minneapolis, Minnesota, is distributor and investment manager for the largest mutual funds in the world, with assets totaling over $4 billion. It was, however, an easy climb for the likeable Grady, "the salesman's salesman," who has many fond memories of the Delt Chapter at Vanderbilt University.

Born and brought up on a farm near Lewisburg, Tennessee, Clark attended Price-Webb Preparatory School for boys, and Vanderbilt University. At the outset of his career he taught high school and coached football, then established his own real estate firm and for 12 years carried on his business in northern Alabama's Tennessee Valley.

In 1935 he closed his business and joined Investors as a sales representative in Alabama. His first year's record, in a small territory, was so outstanding that the company promoted him to head its divisional sales office in Louisville, Kentucky.

At Louisville he brought the office from 114th to near the top in the nationwide IDS sales organization. Similar sensational successes followed his aggressive salesmanship in the mid-west, east and Pacific coast, and in 1947 he was elected vice-president and general sales manager, a position he held until he was elected president in 1960.

Under his direction IDS developed a nationwide security sales organization with 157 sales offices and 3,500 salesmen who service over 1¼ million customer accounts. During his tenure as sales manager, annual sales increased from $217 million in 1947 to $941 million in 1961. Grady, with boyish enthusiasm, says he will hit one billion in 1962.

Grady always has found time for community activities. He is on the board of directors of the Hennepin County United Fund Appeal and of Junior Achievement. He is president of the Minikahda Club, Minneapolis, Minnesota, and his chief recreation is golf, closely followed by gin rummy. He plays golf with a unique set of 11 left handed woods, all specially made, and is a great money player. He also enjoys barbecue cooking and has concocted many new recipes.

He is married to the former Mary Frances Moore of Lewisburg, Tennessee, and he resides at Maplewood, Lake Minnetonka, Minnesota, where he entertains his many friends—but don't drop around unless you want to be reminded that, "Part of all you make is yours to keep."

Awards for undergraduate chapter publications were established in 1937.

Winners are selected on the basis of general appeal and interest of material to alumni (or to rushees if the publication is sent to prospective members); manner in which the material is written and edited; and attractiveness in typographical layout and printing. The number of issues presented during the college year is taken into consideration; however, more than three issues will not influence the award.

Chapters using professional services in publishing their papers or magazines are not eligible for the award, but the committee is authorized to confer honorable mention to such chapters.

odds. There are five active fraternities here and not 70 students . . . four of us who have refused more than one invitation from different fraternities have decided to come together and be a little crowd of our own. We request a charter." In his report for the Executive Council to the 1880 Convention in October, McClurg states, "If it had not been for a faculty desirous of protecting the eastern societies represented there, we should already have occupied Kenyon through the exertions of Bro. C. S. Crawford of the Sigma; as it is we expect to be able to announce soon our organization there. Should the faculty refuse the petition when presented, we will enter upon a regular siege and bring all our guns in Ohio to bear on this point. . . ." The petition was handed to the Kenyon faculty on November fourth, 1880. Crawford wrote that the president of Kenyon had asked for a list of the colleges in which DTD had good sound chapters and also the names of some of our most noted men. Crawford wrote on January 14, 1881, that the request had met with the approval of the faculty after four months' consideration.

CHI ESTABLISHED JANUARY 25, 1881

Chi Chapter was promptly established on January 25, 1881. Trautwein, in his discussion of Chi in the 1884 Catalogue, stated that the other five fraternities at Kenyon had presented a petition to the faculty that permission be refused on the plea that the college was already overcrowded with fraternities. This petition was favorably received by the faculty, but after considerable pressure had been brought on the authorities and the desired permission granted, Chi was cordially received by its rivals. Edwin John Franks was given much of the credit for the success of the enterprise; he was the junior (a member of the senior class of 1881) who had been the first to join Crawford. Chi's chapter letter in THE CRESCENT, volume four, number nine, recounted how Crawford got the chapter started; its petition to the faculty; the charter from Alpha; and the encouragement from the Extension Committee, especially McClurg, Eversole, and Colvin. Henry Bruck, in a letter to McClurg, said that he was glad to hear of our success, but that his enthusiasm was restrained.

CHI'S EARLY PROBLEMS

The following October, A. L. Herrlinger reported to Alpha, "We fully expected to be in prime condition this year, but unfortunately we have lost several of our men, some to business, others to some profession. We have initiated four men already this term and we have others on hand. We have the pick of every class except seniors, in which class we have no members. We should like very much to know what action the Fraternity in general has taken in regard to our chapter hall. We are here battling with the oldest established fraternities and our very existence demands that we should at least be on an equal footing with them as regards general appearance. We have the honor men of '83, '84, and '85, and we hope to continue in the path we have chosen." On December 24, he explained that "We do not expect to build a large house, but merely a building which shall consist of a hall about 20 by 30 feet, and an anteroom. Of course we will have to buy the ground and we expect to obtain a house and lot for about $500."

MEMBERSHIP DROPS TO A SINGLE MEMBER AT CHI, FALL OF 1883

Of the four members of Chi who returned to Kenyon in September 1882, one man was expelled as a "betrayal of Delta's sacred trusts." No members were initiated during the year, as an anti-fraternity clique had been formed, and the chapter thought none of them worthy of membership. Two of the remaining three were graduated in 1883, and Orion Boyd Harris was the single member who returned in the fall. He reported to the Alpha on November sixth, 1883; "When our year closed and our two men of '83 left, there was only myself left. But Mr. Herrlinger, '83, is teaching in the prep school and continues one of us. We have initiated two of '87 and pledged to us another. McElroy, Beta Zeta, '82, and Yarnell, '83, are in Mt. Vernon, five miles distant. These come down frequently.

We have pledged at the grammar school five bright young fellows, some coming in next year and some in two years, and a frat's strength is represented here almost as much by pledged men as actual members in college. I know I feel confident that our footing is firm and that in a few years of well directed labor we will be among the first."

The report of Mu as Grand Chapter of the Second Division in 1884 gave discouraging prospects for Chi. Herrlinger was no longer a teacher there, and only two members were in the chapter.

In Chi's Convention report, they admitted the initiation of several "preps" in order to meet the competition of the older fraternities who were doing the same thing. Few formal meetings were held during the year because of their small number and the fact that the "preps" could not get out at meeting times. These facts were not made public in THE CRESCENT for "it is an established custom here, though frequently broken, not to initiate preps."

SPECIALISTS

For the first time in the past several years, certain specialists are being listed separately on this year's squad. With the trend to more liberal substitution rules continuing, it would be logical to anticipate a wider use of specialists in the next few years. This year, several of the correspondents listed men who were classified

Toledo Alumni Chapter Banquet

In the spring of each year, alumni and undergraduate Delts across the nation gather together for banquets in recognition of the founding of the Fraternity. These banquets traditionally feature outstanding speakers, the best of fellowship, and typical Delt singing. The recent banquet held by the Toledo Alumni Chapter, depicted here, typifies such celebrations.

Toledo Alumni Chapter's banquet was held at the Toledo Club and featured the address by Mr. Justice CLARK.

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Alabama—Delta Eta

Alabama Deltas have had a great first semester. The fall has been a great success for us in every way.

Socially, we started things going early in the fall with two parties to close out rush week. Then we celebrated Crimson Tide victories with a party after each of the home games. Next came our annual Christmas party, one of the biggest of the year on the 'Bama campus.

Of course, we can't forget the Christmas party for needy children we had with the Tri-Delts. Brother L. R. Howell managed to disguise himself as Santa and gave several presents to each of the children.

Before we left school for the holidays, our chorus, under the direction of Brother John Harper, sang Christmas carols at each of the women's dorms and at each sorority house. Caroling is a tradition with Deltas at 'Bama, one which is very impressive to the coeds.

Scholarship has been of utmost importance this semester. Our pledge class had the second highest scholastic average on campus at midterm. Our scholarship program, under the forceful leadership of Brother Joe Allen, will put our chapter close to the top for another semester.

We didn't capture the football championship as we expected, but we did finish a close third; however, every team we played remembered the Deltas; particularly will they remember the line play of Pledge Brother Fred Davis.

Delta Eta is particularly proud of three of its brothers: Joe Stewart and Johnny Clements, who were selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and Brother Warren Moseley, who was elected president of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The Deltas are really looking forward to the spring with its whirlwind of activities. We are entering Jason's Jamboree, 'Bama's skit night, again this year, and hope to win first place for the 11th time. Socially, there will be the Bowery Ball, the Rainbow Formal, and two rush parties, just to mention a few.

In closing, Delta Eta is having another successful and fun-filled year. We extend best wishes for an equally successful year to all of the Delt chapters.

JOHN HARPER

Albion—Epsilon

Elections find a former student council representative, John Phelps, guiding the chapter as its president into 1963. We think he has the respect and leadership to keep Epsilon on top at Albion. His right-hand man, Vice-President Bob Gardner, is also looked to for a fine job. Other officers are: treasurer, Tom Clark; assistant treasurer, Bob Lowe; recording secretary, Martin Strand; corresponding secretary, Jim Baker; student council representative, Dave Kitchen; sergeant at arms, Brian Lacey; and guide, Hal Jayne. We look to these men for another fine year.

Socially, our Hawaiian Luau will be remembered for years to come. A beach scene in the dining room, including sand and water, and a waterfall down the front stairs, added to the evening. Also, "Black and White," our annual winter formal, is being carefully planned by Social Chairman Doug Walton. His excellent work in the past assures the success of the event.

Jim Russel, most valuable swimmer last year, has been selected as captain of the team for a second season.

Fall rush netted five top men: Paul Heller, Dave Keefer, Bill Valuck, Paul Kinney, and John Lennie. We are looking forward to their initiation into the chapter.

Intramural sports competition is fierce, but we plan to keep the all-sports trophy on our mantel for another year, surrounded, incidentally, by a completely redecorated living room, of which we are very proud.

This semester at the annual fraternity quartet sing, Tom Clark, Jim Baker, Chuck Hill, and Hal Jayne represented our chapter and proved to be the outstanding Greek quartet on campus.

Through the diligent work of Scholastic Chairman Jim Russel, we have been able to move up to fourth on campus, academically, to round out our campus activities.

Because of the deferred rush system at Albion, freshmen do not pledge until next semester. Our rush program, under the direction of John Phelps, is well under way, and the brothers are looking forward to another top pledge class.

JIM BAKER

Allegheny—Alpha

As Alpha returned from Christmas recess for the beginning of the winter term, formal rush week began. Under the able leadership of Rush Chairman Graham Weaver, and Assistant Rush Chairman James Baxter, our rushing was a success. Alpha has 21 pledges. The pledge trainer, Roger Gurner, has set up a fine pledge program using many of the principles of The Delt Development Program. The pledges are: Timothy Bouton, Richard Brandt, Irving Brown, John Day, John Gearhart, James Hall, Donald Hoffman, Howard Hoffman, Gary Howell, Gerald Jeppe, Brian Larson, Charles Miller, Stephen Paul, Kurt Porschen, Wayne Possehl, Robert Salmon, Dennis Sampson, ROBERT P.

William Sekely, Edward Thornblade, Donald Tracy, and Steven Willig.

Elections were held for the coming year. Joseph Matson was elected president; George Jackson, vice-president; Carl Todaro, recording secretary; Douglas De Waters, corresponding secretary; Joel Paradis, treasurer; Robert Harden, guide; Richard Martin, sergeant at arms; and Jack Blair, rush chairman.

In scholarship, there are a few brothers who are outstanding. Brother Dennis Bleakley, a junior premed, had the highest average last term with a 90. Brothers George Jackson, John Miller, and Robert Parker maintained an 85 average. Pledge Robert Salmon had the highest average in the pledge class with a 91.3. Pledges Gary Howell, Stephen Paul, and Edward Thornblade all had averages of 85 or above.

Three brothers participated and lettered in varsity fall sports. Brothers Louis Moskowitz and Kent Sanders lettered in soccer, while Brother Roy Gilliland lettered in football. Pledge John Gearhart also lettered in football. In winter sports, Brothers John Miller and David Wolf, and Pledge Howard Hoffman are all on the rifle team. Brother Robert Parker is on the wrestling team.

Brother David Fulton, a junior, is studying in Europe this year. He is a history major. He is studying at the University of Manchester, in Manchester, England.

Brother Roger Rice, the new social chairman, reports that the pledge dance will be held February 16. Both last term and so far this term, open houses have been well attended by the brothers and their dates.

This school year has been and will continue to be one of accomplishment and enjoyment for Alpha Chapter.

DOUGLAS DE WATERS

Arizona—Epsilon Epsilon

This report will have to be short and sweet, as it falls exactly at the time of semester finals. Most of the brothers and all of the pledges are booking it pretty hard already, and this reporter has a lot of catching up to do, contrary to popular belief down here.

Many things have happened since our last endeavor was sent to THE RAINBOW, the most important of which was the Christmas Sweetheart Formal. Mindi Milling, Phi Mu, was crowned as our Delt Sweetheart, the fourth in a line of beautiful sweethearts. The formal was held at the Baghdad Room, which proved to be an excellent place.

The men of the chapter are in the process of getting organized for a new approach to informal second semester rush. Our top rusher, John Bunch, will be in charge of this concentrated effort of the chapter to bring in some really top men in a short time. Normally, second semester rush is neglected or falls by the wayside, but this semester we feel that we can throw an almost formal informal rush in about three weeks time, instead of dragging it over the whole semester, and save ourselves and the rushees a lot of time.

This has already gotten longer and taken more time than I'd expected, so back to the themes and finals.

FRANK HOWELL

Auburn—Epsilon Alpha

With the beginning of winter quarter, we at Epsilon Alpha are proud to look back on an eventful as well as successful fall program. Our accomplishments, within the chapter and on the campus, have been numerous.

Socially, the high lights of the season included homecoming, parents' week end, and the Christmas party. Homecoming prompted the return of many alumni to the Shelter to view our rain-soaked homecoming decoration, which had unfortunately been constructed of cardboard. Our first annual parents' week end brought an overflow crowd to the Shelter; the week end activities included several parties, a tour of the Auburn campus, and a football listening party. The Christmas party is always a success with personality-pointed gifts, but this year it was "better than ever" with Brother Bruce Morris making a very appropriate Santa Claus.

We regret our failure to mention Brother Morris, a transfer from Delta Delta at Tennessee, in the last issue of THE RAINBOW; his asset to Epsilon Alpha was shown by his recent appointment as social chairman. The recent election of a new treasurer has placed the chapter funds in the capable hands of Wilson McClellan, who will soon replace Glenn Eddleman as our "bookkeeper."

In the campus lime light, Warren Jones has recently won a place on the Auburn tennis team and Dave Wall has been promoted to executive officer of the NROTC battalion. We were also proud to watch Phil Pauzé lead the NROTC drill team before the television cameras in the Governor's Inauguration parade in Montgomery, Alabama.

To bring our activities up to date, we are now conducting help week and we will initiate the following men at its conclusion: Cooper Allison, Tom Bohannon, Tom Hendrix, Roger McClellan, Hunter Plott, John Prentiss, Walt Schoditsch, Rob Strayhorn, J. T. Taunton, Don Tune, and Bill Wilson.

We at Epsilon Alpha are looking forward to a successful 1963 and extend an open house to all our brothers.

CLAUDE A. WOODALL

Baker—Gamma Theta

Since our last report, brothers and pledges of Gamma Theta have been busy with all kinds of activities, including studies, athletics, and social life.

In varsity sports, Gamma Theta Deltas were the nucleus of the best team Baker has had in football in a number of years. Twelve brothers and ten pledges took part in varsity ball, with no less than nine starters on either offense or defense. All-conference selections included John Jacobs, Lloyd Williams, John Johnson, Denny DeLay, Don Kimble, and Kirk Covell; Jacobs and Williams were also honored for NAIA All-American selection. Baker's Wildcats led the nation in rushing, and were ranked in the top ten in total offense, rushing defense, total defense, and scoring. All sorts of records tumbled, as Jacobs eclipsed his own one-game rushing record twice and the team scored a total of over 300 points in a season for the first time. Space limits the listing of all the records in football. In basketball, Babe Hawk is anchoring BU's front line for the fourth straight year, and Pledge Jim Hutton is doing yeoman work as a first-year man. Kirk Covell, in his first season of varsity ball, backs up Hawk and Hutton.

In intramurals, Gamma Theta has opened up a handsome lead in the sweepstakes race. The volleyball "B" team went undefeated for the third straight year, and the "A" team took first place after a slam-bang playoff with the Sig Eps. After the first round of basketball, the Delt "B" team is on top with a 4-0 mark, and after an opening game upset, the "A" team got untracked and is tied for first with a 3-1 record. With swimming, table tennis, golf, track, tennis and baseball still to be played, the Baker Deltas appear to be on their way to a tenth straight sweepstakes trophy.

After an encouraging gain in chapter index from six to twelve weeks' grading periods, prospects in that area are looking up. Scholarship Chairman Gary VanSickle's program has produced a good attitude in the pledge class and active chapter alike. As of now, our goal is to recapture the scholarship trophy and bring it back where it belongs, here in the Shelter.

The chapter extends its congratulations to its new officers, elected January 14. They are: Bill Scott, president; Keith Guthrie, vice-president; Gary Harper, recording secretary; Gary Underwood, corresponding secretary; Sam Keeley, treasurer; Ron Grant, assistant treasurer; Don Kimble, sergeant at arms; and Bill Soper, guide. We are confident that these men will lead Gamma Theta on to greater heights than ever before.

Baker Deltas are proud to announce that one of their alumni, Dolan Ellis, is making his mark in the entertainment world. Dolan is a "regular" on the Andy Williams TV show, weekly on Thursday nights, with a song or two each week.

On the social side, Gamma Theta's Christmas formal, "Crystalline Key Club," was an unqualified success. Orchids are due to Don Crow and his committee for the best Christmas formal in years. Upcoming is the pledge party, and Orchid Ball in the spring. In addition, house parties are being held after each home basketball game to take advantage of our new Shelter's facilities. We are proud of the work done by Mother Williams in holding these gatherings.

With a good start behind us, the Baker Deltas are looking forward to another outstanding year in 1963.

BILL WOLF

Bowling Green—Delta Tau

The first semester at Bowling Green proved to be a rather calm one, as the brothers concentrated on their scholastics. But the semester did not pass without a few outstanding parties. Our party for the underprivileged children around the Bowling Green area proved to be a successful and rewarding experience. We teamed up with the Phi Mu Sorority and set the Shelter with a Christmas theme giving presents and games to the cheerful youngsters.

The Greek week exchange party was one of the high lights of the semester as members of each fraternity and sorority attended the party. The theme of the party was life in ancient Greece. A humorous skit included a king, his slaves, part of his harem, a court jester, and a real live mummy. The skit portrayed the life of an ancient Greek king and was the lime light of the party. Ancient Greek life was full of entertainment and our modern Greek life is also full of entertainment provided by our Delt combo.

Delt combo is a popular group on Bowling Green campus.

In areas of achievement, Dick Reinhardt, vice-president of our chapter and high-scoring varsity wrestler, was elected secretary of interfraternity council. Ron Gargas, radio and television enthusiast, was selected sportscaster on WBGU radio for all BG athletic events. The chapter also won a third-place trophy for its float on homecoming week end.

RONALD J. GARGAS

Carnegie Tech—Delta Beta

At the midsemester break, Delta Beta had achieved a grade factor of 2.56, tops on the campus. We predict a final chapter factor of 1.92.

In intramural competition, our football, soccer, and bowling teams managed to reach successfully the play-offs but were not quite fortunate enough to emerge as final victors. Brothers Hodge and Scott were chosen for the all-school intramural football team.

The annual Christmas party was its usual success. Santa honored the occasion in the customary manner.

Chapter elections resulted in the following brothers being selected to lead Delta Beta Chapter for the next year: Leonard Marino, president; Sam Dechter, vice-president; John Knif, treasurer; Ron Konnick, assistant treasurer; Erwin Hamel, Jr., corresponding secretary; Den Denlinger, recording secretary; Tommy Millea, house manager; Frank Luisi, sergeant at arms; and Al Westerberg, guide.

ERWIN HAMEL

Cincinnati—Gamma Xi

With the school year half finished many of the chapter's projects have become memories while many more await completion.

Gamma Xi Deltas won the fraternity division in the homecoming float parade this year with a Viking Ship which carried two lovely Delta Delta pledges in Nordic costumes. Brothers Larry Goodridge and Warren Dells are to be congratulated for their leadership in the construction and design of the float.

At the Christmas formal, Marilyn Burns was crowned Delt Sweetheart by President Paul Marshall and "Mom" Sawyer presented her with a bouquet of red roses and the Sweetheart Pin. John Anderson, Warren Dells, and John Muntz were tapped at the formal for Delta Pillars, the chapter honorary. The John Betz activities award was presented to Paul Marshall and Carl Rue received the chapter award for scholastic improvement.

First place float at Cincinnati homecoming was this entry of Gamma Xi.

STEVE HARDY, Gamma Xi pledge trainer.

Gamma Xi selected MARILYN BURNS, Tri Delt, as its Delta Sweetheart.

The pledge training program has been most successfully directed this year by Pledge Trainer Steve Hardy. In recognition of his work the pledges gave Steve a Fraternity mug at the Big Brother dance.

Paul Marshall was recently tapped for Omicron Delta Kappa. Dave Argabright, Dan Earley, and Clyde Waddell were initiated into Scabbard and Blade, military honorary, this past semester.

Lee Ruck and Larry Goodridge both have positions on the Staff of the Profile, the campus literary and humor magazine. Larry is the cartoonist for the magazine and Lee serves as associate editor and production director.

Steve Huffman is quite active in the YMCA and is sophomore leadership conference chairman. Pledge class president, Jerry Trimble, is the program chairman for the freshman leadership conference.

Upcoming events in the chapter include the election of officers, initiation, and a pledge-active retreat. High light of the social schedule will be the pledge formal when each of the 26 pledges will be presented their paddles by their big brother.

NORMAN SANFORD

Delaware—Delta Upsilon

Now that the Delaware Delts have settled down for their final exams, this past semester's activities are well remembered.

As predicted in the last RAINBOW, the chapter, through the outstanding organization and direction exercised by Dick Bullock, won the homecoming float trophy hands down. Congratulations to Dick and all the others who helped make our efforts so successful. Throughout the semester numerous combo and record parties were held, among which the pledges planned and presented Delta Upsilon's annual Christmas party, with Dave "Santa Claus" Tarditi stopping at the Shelter to distribute presents to the brothers and their dates.

Delta Upsilon has begun the New Year with many new ideas and hopes for even greater progress. Rush Chairman Bob Blomquist has developed many outstanding new ideas and plans to make this spring's rush even more successful than in years past. Lynn Lockhart-Mummery, as Delta Upsilon's delegate to the N.I.C., returned to give the chapter greater insight into the future role of fraternities and the challenges with which they will be faced.

In the interfraternity basketball league, Roger Williams holds the high scorer title. One of his accomplishments was the scoring of 35 points against AEPI to even the record at 2-2. Five brothers who are skin-diving enthusiasts intend to form a club in the near future and give lessons to anyone who desires.

Several of the brothers who are amateur radio operators have applied for a license and intend to set up a station here soon. They would like to hear from other brothers who are "hams."

The brothers of Delta Upsilon would like to welcome into their midst Dick Young from Epsilon Epsilon.

JOHN L. BARBER

DePauw—Beta Beta

The first semester is now completed; let Beta Beta say this about that. As anticipated, our intramural football team won the championship for the third straight year. Delts also lead in positions held on the campus all-intramural team. On the offensive squad were Brothers Jim Zurcher, Bill Shields, Barry Besold, and Dick Baumgartner. Taking the defensive honors were Kelly Goodwillie, Bill Shields, and Bob VanMetre. Receiving honorable mention were Steve Wilkinson, and Barry Besold. The golf championship was handled by Bob VanMetre, Jim Nelson, Don Walter, and John Schenken. A third in tennis and a fourth in bowling placed Delta Tau Delta in the No. 1 position in over-all intramural standings. At present, the Royal Purple's basketball team is tied for second with an 8-2 record. The Delt wrestlers, last year's champs, are warming up to defend their crown in that coming event. On the varsity scene, Brothers Ingo Doetsch and Bruce Jeffreys are racking up a large portion of the total points for DePauw's swimming team. Bill Barksdale and Curt Bush represent Delta Tau Delta on the wrestling mat.

In March, DePauw students will attend the annual Monon Revue—an original, student-written production. This year's show, a musical comedy called "Up, Please," was written by Brothers Chip Wilhoite and Don Christensen, who were assisted by Julie Nesbit. Chip, the director of Collegians, the top singing group on campus, will barely have time to pack for the U.S.O.-sponsored tour of the Far East and the Pacific Command for which the Collegians were selected. Beta Beta is also well represented in the newly formed, all-fraternity Men's Glee Club. Recently, Brother Charlie Beard received the lead in the opera Così Fan Tutti.

The Shelter was filled on the night of the annual faculty Christmas party. Everyone had a good time (we were especially happy that the "Rock" could come); and Brother Dills has promised he won't fall into the Christmas tree again. The next day the chapter gave a party for some of the underprivileged children of Greencastle, at which time the kids' stomachs were filled and their arms weighted down with presents.

In addition to the remodelling done this summer, new furniture will be added to the house. The chapter thanks the Mothers Club and the House Corporation. The mothers should be able to enjoy this addendum during their week end stay on Mothers' Day.

Since most of spring rush at DePauw is directed toward the high school senior, Rush Chairmen Gary Murphin and Dick Baumgartner, and their committee, have been quite busy lately sending out letters, entertaining at the Shelter, visiting rush-ees, and initiating several innovations into the rush program. Principally, Beta Beta is now compiling information and pictures for a rush pamphlet which will go to the presses in February. It will be similar in style to those presently used by several other Delt chapters. The chapter is hoping to receive again the extremely important support of the alumni.

Barbie Wells, Delt Sweetheart at De-Pauw, will represent Beta Beta at State Day.

BARBIE WELLS, Beta Beta's choice for Delta Queen.

Another semester completed, Beta Beta would like to point out that it is moving ahead into the next with great enthusiasm.

CURT BUSH

East Texas State—Epsilon Eta

After a very active and successful fall semester, the Delts at East Texas State College look forward to the spring semester with enthusiasm as they plan their rush program in an effort to garner another topflight pledge class, as they have been accustomed to in past years.

The fall pledges, 20 in number, look forward to initiation ceremonies which were set for February 16. The annual western stomp will follow formal initiation ceremonies later in the evening. Future plans on the Delt social calendar, aside from the rush party, include a dinner-dance in Dallas, as well as the annual spring outing later in the year.

Miss Kitty Laxson, member of Alpha Phi Sorority on the East Texas campus, was chosen Delt Queen and was awarded the honor by members and pledges of the chapter in a ceremony at the Alpha Phi house.

Pledge day was another outstanding activity as the pledges had members do various duties, to the enjoyment of the student body, throughout the entire day.

Larry Barnes, '64, was elected treasurer by the chapter, replacing Jim Liston in that office. Election of the remainder of the officers is set for later in the semester.

Epsilon Eta continued its lead in intramurals as it captured awards in both the individual and team sports. Jimmy Tolbert captured the badminton singles trophy and teamed with Bob Green to give the Delts a second in doubles. The Delt football squad took fourth place in intramural play. Activities for the spring semester include basketball, softball, tennis, bowling, ping pong, and archery, as the Delts attempt to finish first in intramurals for the third straight year.

ROBERT SONDEREGGER

Emory—Beta Epsilon

Beta Epsilon expects great accomplishments during the new year, and looks back with pride upon its activities of the fall quarter.

Doug Frisbie, one of the most active and hard-working presidents Beta Epsilon has known, will turn over the leadership duties to the newly elected president, Emery Wilson. Other new officers include: vice-president, Boyd Williams; corresponding secretary, Carl Dobson; treasurer, David Harden; assistant treasurers, Jamey Coleman and Leonard Hartline; recording secretary, John Disher; guide, John Edwards; sergeant at arms, Bill Hewes; and rush chairman, Orvin Jenkins.

Delts finished the football season going strong. We won the last three games by three touchdowns each to win our flight.

Once again Brothers Archie Smith, Doug Frisbie, and Stan Wilbanks played outstanding football as they completed their fourth year of competition. Other members of the team were John Wright, Emery Wilson, Orvin Jenkins, Bill Hewes, Boyd Williams, Larry Wikholm, and Carl Dobson.

Beta Epsilon's cross-country team, led by Captain Richard Thornton, placed in the interfraternity competition.

Dancing was an enjoyable part of Beta Epsilon's Prohibition Party.

Fall quarter saw many brothers receive honors. Ronald Hatcher, Pete Stevens, Sam Matheny, and Colin Kelly were initiated into Alpha Epsilon Delta, the national premed honorary fraternity. Emory's lower division honor society, Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, initiated Brothers David Brown and Charlie West.

Brothers Vane McClurg and Paul Davis were initiated into Pi Sigma Alpha, national honorary political science fraternity. Brothers David Harden, Phil Certain, and Colin Kelly were initiated into Pi Alpha, honorary chemistry fraternity. Archie Smith, one of Emory's outstanding debaters, won second place in the Agnes Scott debate tournament. Richard Thornton was Emory's fourth best marksman on the R.O.T.C. rifle team.

For the second time in three years a Delt brother has been elected president of the Emory Religious Association. Radford Rosebrough was elected to this office for the year '62-'63 and Colin Kelly has been elected to serve on the E.R.A. council.

We were certainly proud of the large number of brothers accepted to medical school for the coming year. Delts receiving this hard-earned honor are Ronald Hatcher, Pete Stevens, George McElhenny, Gary Keats, John Studstill, Bill Mock, John Martin, Sam Matheny, and Bill Cooley.

Dennis St. John, social chairman, kept the brothers of Beta Epsilon in a swinging mood with the parties he planned fall quarter. We started off the year with a prohibition party, featuring a band led by one of our new pledges. Next, we rocked the campus with our annual party at the end of Religious Emphasis Week. Featured at this party was Beta Epsilon's Fall quarter pledges at Beta Epsilon.

Dedrick Dollar, as the devil, and Recording Star Grover Mitchell.

Later in the quarter we treated all Emory sororities to a Sunday afternoon modern jazz tea. Our final fling before exams was our Christmas dinner, complete with Santa Claus and presents, and finished the night with a dance held in the Shelter.

Our new band, led by Brother Dennis St. John and composed of several pledges, certainly made a hit on campus as they played for numerous sorority dances.

This quarter we are looking forward to a joint party with Gamma Psi of Georgia Tech and our annual Rainbow Ball. Social Chairman Don Kemp promises this to be our best formal ever.

In closing, we wish a successful quarter to all Delt chapters and an invitation to visit us anytime you are in our area.

CARL DOBSON, JR.

Florida—Delta Zeta

Delta Zeta got off to another fine trimester with the pledging of 30 good men. This group of pledges is one of the largest on campus and with them we will continue to maintain our high standing.

Four outstanding Deltas, Larry Stewart, Bob Hendry, Homer Spence, and Clay Parker, achieved one of the college's highest honors by being elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Deltas also moved their position upward in Florida Blue Key with the election of Bob Hendry as president. In other areas of campus politics, Charlie Maloy was appointed campus political co-ordinator and Lee Blicht and Mike Cook were elected to the legislative council. Within the chapter the newly elected officers are: president, Lee Blicht; vice-president, Charlie Maloy; treasurer, Dave Craig; assistant treasurer, Bobby Setzer; recording secretary, D. Nelson; corresponding secretary, Jeff Falkanger; guide, Meehan Scully; and sergeant at arms, John Paul.

'Gator Deltas are off to a fine start this trimester sportswise, due to the outstanding defensive work of a sophomore tackle, Pledge Sydney MacLean, who was instrumental in Florida's upset victory over Penn State in the 'Gator Bowl. Also on the 'Gator team are Brother Steve Long and Pledge Leonard Smith. In swimming it looks like Florida will retain its SEC championship because of the record-breaking performances of Delt brothers and pledges. Ed Marino, with his record in the 200-yard freestyle, Rod Hubbard with his in the 50-yard backstroke, and Doug Stark's 500-yard freestyle. 'Gator tankers are paced by other Deltas: Captain Bill Cullen, Bill Grover, and Tamer Wilder. Florida cindermen will be helped out this spring by Pledge Selwyn Chalker, a 9.5 100-yard man, and by Pledge Austin Funk, a half-miler who has been clocked at 1:55 in his event. In intramurals, Pledge Rich Harper made all-campus in basketball.

Our social activities began this trimester with our annual joint party with the Delta Gammas, for the benefit of the blind children from a school in St. Augustine. New social chairman, Mike Cook, has arranged another full trimester of socials and parties highlighted by Rainbow Week End and Spring Frolics.

JEFF FALKANGER

Florida State—Delta Phi

With the spring term upon us, Delta Phi Chapter is looking forward to a successful second trimester, both academically and socially. This trimester our most important achievement will be to attain a high grade average. Our Delt Development Program has raised the scholastic standards for both brothers and pledges and is supervised by the advisors of the chapter.

Throughout the year, the brothers have been keeping active on campus. Brothers Bill Ward and Rick Dean are counselors in the freshman men's dorms. Brother Bob Langston is on the all-campus pledge education committee for helping young men realize the benefits of the fraternal organization. Brother Jay Rogers has recently been elected to the military honorary Scabbard and Blade. Brother Jay Calloway has been appointed to the supervising staff for the Florida State air force cadet R.O.T.C. unit. Brother Ron Bissland has been described in the field of broadcasting as an upcoming leader in radio and television.

On the athletic side of the ledger, the Deltas at Florida State always excel as No. 1. Our intramural teams brought home second-place trophies in softball and basketball and are presently top contenders for the intramural football championship. In track there is no comparison. Delta Phi is proud to present a total of four men who have run the 100-yard dash in ten seconds flat, or less. There is no question that the track trophy will be resting in the Shelter after the meet. Turning to varsity competition, Brother Bruce Darsey, cocaptain of the fine Florida State football team that tied Georgia Tech, was elected to the Florida all-State team as a great linebacker and center. Linebacker Wallace Cooley, who was red-shirted last year, is coming on strong to get a starting berth on the defensive unit. The swimming team is sparked by two former high school All-Americans in Neil Allen, a varsity diver, and Larry Shekell, a freshman backstroker, along with senior Ron Bissland, a three-year varsity letterman freestyler. Brother Allen recently compiled a total of 184-points in a dual meet at Tulane University. Brother Monty McBride, who turned down a $30,000-a-year contract with the Detroit Tigers to continue his education, has been a leading player on the outstanding Florida State baseball team. The Deltas proudly claim two other upcoming players on the baseball team in Brother Ray Perez and Pledge Bob Burnett. The track team is represented by Pledge Mickey Ford.

Chapter spirit has been channeled in several directions. Leading the progress of Delta Phi was the election of another fine class of officers, as follows: Rick Dean, president; Ron Marshall, vice-president; Bob Berner, treasurer; Ray Cosby, corresponding secretary; Mike Brennan, recording secretary; and Wallace Cooley and Clark Polk, sergeants at arms.

On Friday March 15, the Delts are going to bring down nationally acclaimed recording artist, Johnnie Jenkins, for their annual Delt week end. On the following evening the Delts and their dates will attend a gala house party in Panama City, Florida.

The men of Delta Phi would like to take this opportunity to extend best wishes for a successful term to each and every one of you and remember that while hustling down to Daytona or Lauderdale for Easter, drop in and pay us a visit. You are all cordially invited.

RAY COSBY

Georgia—Beta Delta

The Delts at Georgia completed the year 1962 with continued success and have started off the new year in equal fashion.

Not only in scholastics, but also in sports and social life, Beta Delta was outstanding, and has started 1963 in a similar manner. In football, the Delts ran a close second for top honors and provided excitement by successfully climaxing a drive or stopping an opponent's drive in the last seconds of the game. Likewise in basketball, the Delts are again among the leaders. At present we are undefeated, winning the first games by twice the opponents' score. In other sports, such as badminton, we are still undefeated and are looking forward to our most successful winter quarter in athletics.

The new year also brings with it the annual Dog Patch Drag, our annual costume party which is always the center of attention for the quarter. Featured this year will be Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs. Also, there are our weekly rush parties or sorority socials. The Delts have various sororities over after dinner for dessert, combined with a social afterwards. Again, as usual, the social life at the Shelter is in full swing.

The newest pledge class has elected as its pledge sweetheart, Miss Lyn Selph, and has accomplished many improvement projects around the Shelter.

Excellent co-ordination of scholarship, athletics, and social functions has always provided top-notch fraternity spirit, and the new year will be no exception here at Beta Delta.

DAVID MCDANIEL

Georgia Tech—Gamma Psi

As the fall quarter ended, the brothers of Gamma Psi again upheld the Delt scholarship standards by remaining above Georgia Tech's All Men's Average. For the past four years, Gamma Psi has remained above this average.

The night immediately after finals were over, saw the Delts forget the grind and jump into the Christmas spirit. Snap-fingers provided the setting for this annual "blow out." Our congratulations go to Bob Tolbert for planning this, and all the other parties that were held during the fall quarter.

With winter quarter under way, two newly elected officers begin to work into their new offices. Paul Newton, the past guide, has been elected treasurer. Paul has been very active in the chapter in many ways, some of which include coaching, being assistant treasurer, and working on the revision of our chapter bylaws. Fred Howard, our past treasurer, has been elected as guide of Gamma Psi. Our three newly elected assistant treasurers are Charles Duke, Paul Johnson, and Roger Patterson.

Our pledge class has shown us even more than we thought they would. About the last of January, the customary help week begins. Even though it is more than just help week, the pledges will work as they never had before, getting the Shelter in top-notch shape. Right after that week, we plan to initiate about 16 good men. Following initiation, the entire chapter will journey to Aunt Fanny's Cabin, a restaurant complete with the finest of Southern tradition and cooking. Afterwards, these new men will appreciate all the energy they spent in perfecting the house. A few weeks after initiation, girls from all over will be arriving for Rainbow. When the men move out of the house and the women move in, the objective in making the house beautiful will be fully realized by these neophytes.

Our president, Winston Duke, has accepted the challenge for making the arrangements for our Rainbow. Winston did an exceptional job in preparing last year's Rainbow.

Sportswise, the Delts have been doing pretty well. Thanks to Gene Oliver, we had by far the best football team since any of us can remember. With basketball season opening, Brother Ken Kennedy believes our team should show up well on the floor. Brother Ron Bowers is leading our paddle ball team this year. Ron has shown his leadership in the way he can get the men out to practice. This is the type of incentive needed for a winning team.

This new year has something of great value associated with it. This is the third year that Mother Mac has been with us. We of Gamma Psi truly believe that there could be no one else, anywhere, that could begin to take Mother Mac's place. No one, but her, could reason with, help, and understand 120 tired and always hungry men.

Who's Who recently claimed four of our outstanding men: Bill McCaslin, Ed Joy, Dan Hartley, and John Dillon.

Even though the Delts are second in the total number of members on the Tech campus, we consider ourselves by far the best. At least this is the goal we strive for.

R. P. WHARTON

Hillsdale—Kappa

It is January now and the men of Kappa Chapter still have not had rush week. We hope that by the summer issue deferred rush will have ended and we will have "picked-up" a pledge class.

This fall two Delts received awards for their performance on the football field. Howard Mudd was voted small college, Kappa's fire truck carries a full load, including GEORGE ROMNEY, in a campaign parade at Hillsdale prior to his election as Michigan's governor.

State of Michigan, first-team tackle by the Associated Press and the N.A.I.A. conference. Howie will be a cocaptain of next year's team. Al Cox, a senior, who this year concluded his collegiate football career, was named honorable mention on the State of Michigan small college team as tackle by the Associated Press.

In intramural sports, the Delts took a second in football losing by half a game to the first-place team. Bowling and basketball are in progress now.

Brothers Dick Sisung, Ric Vandersloot, Mike Lagassee, and Lary Haid are "whipped," another fad which is quite prevalent on Hillsdale's campus. Kappa Chapter's salute of the season goes to Zeta Chapter at Western Reserve University.

See you in the spring!

WALT LEIGHTON

Idaho—Delta Mu

From the indications of the first semester, Delta Mu can expect another excellent year.

New chapter officers include Barry Nelson, president, and Bruce Harper, in the combined positions of vice-president and pledge trainer. Phil Davies will turn the ledgers over to Jack Patrick, newly elected treasurer, and concentrate on his new duties of alumni chairman and organization of the Delta Mu fund drive. Said funds are intended for a long-awaited renovation of the present Shelter, which, with Delta Mu's determination, plus aid from alumni, is getting into full swing.

Representing Delta Mu on the Idaho campus are Ron Kulm as senior class president and Gene Harder, vice-president of the junior class. Gene and Barry Nelson are officers in Intercollegiate Knights and other Delt I.K.'s are Rick Fancher, Gordon Judd, Jack Patrick, Greg Schade, and John Wilkerson. Delta Tau Delta also placed six men in Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary: Jack Frostenson and Terry Winter, Army R.O.T.C.; Randy Hillier, Bruce Harper and Bob Riley, Navy R.O.T.C.; and Bill Van Orman and Carl Schlect, Air Force.

Delta Mu brings another trophy back to the Shelter.

Function-wise, the "New Odd-Ball Dance" was held recently and everyone had a smashing time before settling down to pre-final studies. Bill Van Orman, social chairman, also has a heavy slate of spring functions planned to ease the tensions acquired from attending this institute of higher learning.

The Delts, as always, remain a top contender for intramural honors with first places in tennis, cross-country and volleyball. The basketball season looks to be a tense one for players and cheering section alike, as of our first two games we've posted a one point loss in overtime and a two point win.

MIKE WILEY

Illinois Tech—Gamma Beta

The cold winter months here at Gamma Beta have been marked by a series of remarkable events. Most notable has been the selection of a new administration. Bob Loarie has been elected president, Bruce Buteyn, vice-president, and Jon Bost treasurer. Others include Serg Adreani, recording secretary; John Mayarik, corresponding secretary; Lee Hughes, assistant treasurer; Jerry Thomas, guide; George Frank, sergeant at arms; and Keith Miller, house manager. The new administration has planned a vigorous program of future accomplishment for Gamma Beta.

In the realm of athletics, Gamma Beta has once again captured the interfraternity swimming and tennis trophies. Led by Ken Wilson, Lyle Clugg, and Bruce Horacek, the swimming team overcame all competition, while Les Bunch and Terry Beal paced the Delt tennis team to another successful defense of its trophy. Gamma Beta added seconds in interfraternity football and golf in its quest to retain once again the all-activities trophy.

Big Dan Benevich led the list of varsity Delts. Dan became the second highest scorer in Illinois Tech basketball history. Edging out Delt John Olin, he surpassed the 1000-point mark early in the season and stands a good chance to become No. 1. Voted most valuable player in the Rochester invitational tournament, Benevich is also president of Honor I, the Tech athletic honorary. Also representing Delta Tau Delta on varsity teams are John Love, Ron Crabil, Ken Wilson, and Ed Yates.

Jerry Thomas has produced and directed "The Greeks Live On," Gamma Beta's contribution to the annual interfraternity pageant. The outstanding production was enthusiastically received by a jam-packed audience.

Gamma Beta received unusual representation in the yearly selection to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Marty Jischke, George Hanover, and John Love all received this honor. Tim Lutrey has been elected president of Eta Delta Pi, replacing Lauren Hillquist. Malcom Allison has also been elected secretary of this organization.

On the social side, Gamma Beta has continued the status quo, specifically an active program of parties and partying. Formal gatherings have ranged from the very formal pledge formal to Hawaiian dinners complete with roast pig. The Halloween orgy, Las Vegas night, and candlelight dinners have been among the less formal gatherings, but far from complete the list of mixers and other less organized week end entertainment.

Looking to the future, Gamma Beta's new administration is preparing for the Northern Division Conference. Co-hosted by the chapter, the Conference will be held here in Chicago in March. Rush Chairman Jim Elliott is planning a unique spring rush, and other chairmen are readying plans designed to maintain Gamma Beta's leadership on the Illinois Tech campus.

J. D. SOLON

Iowa—Omicron

As the fall semester for this year draws to a close, the men of Omicron can look back over four eventful months that saw many honors and equally as much fun come our way. Mike Carver, Omicron's president, was appointed Project Aid commissioner; Spencer Page, Rich Edler, Clark Valentine, and Bill Parisi are all representatives on the Central Party committee. Athletically speaking, the Delts are also well represented on the varsity teams. Dave Recher was the Hawkeye center on the football team, while Joe Reddington, Tom Purcell, and Mike Carver were making names for themselves on the basketball court. Reddington was also elected captain of the basketball and baseball teams.

Socially, the Delts were not exactly idle either. With rush over, Omicron moved into its usual roster of activities. There were post-game parties after the football games this fall and a costume party held in the Shelter which turned out to be a huge success. On December 7, the men of Omicron held the traditional winter formal. Counted as one of the major successes of the whole year, the party was attended by two bus-loads of Delts and their dates. To complete a perfect evening, Margo Dixon was crowned Delt Queen for 1963. Margo, a member of Gamma Phi Sorority, was chosen from three finalists in the balloting.

On January 13, elections were held in Omicron with these final results: president, Mike Carver; vice-president, Carl Brunst; treasurer, Larry Foster; recording secretary, Clark Valentine; corresponding secretary, Dave Recher; sergeant at arms, John Pletcher.

Plans are now under way for the annual Mother's Day U-Sing, under the leadership of Larry Goettsch. We are hoping to improve our fourth-place finish last year when John Appel was at the helm. Informal rush begins in two weeks and with Larry Stropes, rush chairman, and his committee we hope to have the top pledge class on campus again.

Next event on the calendar is scheduled for the spring semester. At the present time all activity has ceased around the Shelter in order to prepare for finals and place Omicron first in scholarship among the fraternities.

DAVE RECHER

Iowa State—Gamma Pi

Gamma Pi begins 1963 with a strong group of new leaders. They are: Larry Hatfield, president; Tony Turek, rush chairman; David Piper, vice-president; George Custodi, pledge trainer; John Mattix, house manager; Roger Sacquety, corresponding secretary; Richard Greenlee, recording secretary; Donnis Bergman, treasurer; Dave Olson, assistant treasurer; Wilbur Roth, guide; and Fred Krenk, sergeant at arms.

The month of December saw many Delts initiated into university honoraries. Initiated were Lee Johnson into Knights of Saint Patrick, an engineering honorary; Bob Kopp into Pi Tau Sigma, a scholastic mechanical engineering honorary; Mike Heimendinger and Wilbur Roth into Phi Mu Alpha, music honorary; and Roger Sacquety into Pi Tau Sigma, an Army ROTC signal corps honorary.

Dave Nagel is an interfraternity council senior representative to Cardinal Guild, which is the student governing body. He has received the Cardinal key leadership award and is a member of Gamma Gamma, honorary for outstanding Greeks. Brother Lee Johnson has accepted nomination by the all-University nomination convention to run as one of two candidates for the position of student body president. We wish him the best of luck when the elections are held in February. George Custodi is president of People to People. Bob Kopp is finishing his term as treasurer of pep council. Veishea positions are opening up and many Deltas will inevitably hold some important posts. Roger Sacquety is already on "Stars Over Veishea," central committee. Jim Werdell is an interfraternity pledge council senator to the freshmen government of student body. Wendell Burt is chairman of public relations for the interfraternity pledge council. Deltas are involved in about every type of activity on campus.

Gamma Pi Deltas have an impressive list of brothers in winter athletics. Very promising Iowa State basketball players are Sophomore Bob VanderWilt, named to the all-Cyclone foe team; Sophomore Don McKale; and Freshman Bill Wantiez. Dave Scheiding and Wilbur Roth are managers for the varsity basketball team while Pledge Ed Myers is the freshman basketball manager. Larry Hatfield is a consistent high scorer on the Iowa State gymnastics team. Tony Andreano is a member of the freshman football team, while Brothers Dave Scheiding and Moe Kviesitis are practicing up for their positions on the varsity tennis team.

The annual winter house party was the well known "Four Poster" party. Mattresses were arranged in the middle of the living room in the form of a huge four-poster bed. The Deltas and their dates danced in their pajamas and had a very enjoyable time. For added entertainment the pledges put on a skit. Later in the evening, the men moved out and the girls took over the house for the night.

With the combination of hard work and brotherhood, we will make this one of the best years for Gamma Pi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

Kansas State—Gamma Chi

Gamma Chi has just completed an outstanding semester filled with numerous house activities and achievements.

In intramural football, it was the division championship game before Delta Tau was defeated. But the second-place effort tallied considerable points towards the final total as we entered basketball season optimistically. As optimism turned to realism, the Deltas placed second in intramural basketball. This victorious campaign now gives Delta Tau a substantial hold on second place in overall intramural activities.

As the junior college all-conference passing arms of Tom Berkam led the Deltas to intramural football fame, so also did they direct the group to intrafraternity sing stardom. Gamma Chi missed second place in the Sing competition by only three points.

Four major parties and numerous week end open house parties rounded out first semester's social calendar. The barn party, a first for Gamma Chi, proved to be the high light of the semester socially. A homecoming dance, KU party, and traditional paddle party were the other large-scale functions.

An increased emphasis on scholarship paid off for Gamma Chi both in pledge class quality and the all-chapter grade average. Rushing men with top scholastic ability, Gamma Chi can now boast a pledge class grade average and all-chapter average well above the All-Men's Average here at Kansas State. We expect nearly 20 initiates in March.

Brother Don Kunz was elected the new president of Gamma Chi and Brother Bob Renfrow was chosen vice-president. Both are quite capable leaders with strong administrative talents.

Individually, Brother Jack King was the Delt representative on the varsity football team. Starting at end, King was the leading pass receiver. He was chosen the team's most inspirational player and the season's team captain. He was given honorable mention honors on the all-Big Eight team.

Brother Tom Sparks was recently elected president of the Region Eight student union association. The Region Eight includes all the university student unions in Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, and Missouri.

Pledges Byron Costley and Eric Norberg received high honors. Costley was elected representative to engineering council by the freshman engineering assembly. Norberg was selected a member of the Kansas State student activities board, which governs the actions of all campus organizations. He is the only freshman on the board.

Mike Davis is a candidate for student council in the forthcoming student government elections. He has held numerous other student government offices. Brother Frank Jordan, outgoing Gamma Chi president, is a member of the University tribunal.

The heaviest concentration of efforts at Gamma Chi is now directed towards the Delta Tau Delta Western Division Conference, to be held here February 21 and 22. Mike Davis, Conference chairman, and his various committee heads have worked out the major parts of the Conference and only the details remain to be ironed out.

With the Conference now our main goal, we borrow a trite phrase: with success and achievements behind us, we look forward only to bigger and better things.

MARTIN FITZWATER

Kentucky—Delta Epsilon

The "hillbillie" Delts from Kentucky finished up the fall semester with top grades and the initiation of 20 new brothers. The new initiates presented the chapter with a new juke box, which was more than needed.

The neophytes showed great spirit from pledging until initiation. A visit in the fall by the pledge class from the Cincinnati Delts gave the class a chance to work together as it beat the Cincinnati pledges 21-0 in a football game.

Our new president, John Burkhard, opened the second semester by thanking his fellow officers for 1962 for their fine jobs. Gladly handing over the reins were Brother Bob Carpenter, president; Ed Houlihan, secretary; Carlyle Bailey, corresponding secretary; Ken Brandenburg, treasurer; Ken Bivins, assistant treasurer; Don Wright, sergeant at arms; and Larry Bass, guide.

Starting their fifth year of undefeated fraternity basketball, the Delts found a real challenge from within, when the "Old Delts" challenged the younger members of the intramural squad. Among the alums fighting for the "Old Delts" in their unsuccessful bid were: Lary Heath, Dick Lowe, Pat Sullivan, Lamar Herrin, and Jim Stephens.

Delta Epsilon again sponsored the Christmas parties for the underprivileged children of the Lexington area, with sororities on the campus. Brothers Ted Gum and Wayne Stemmer did outstanding jobs in co-ordinating the parties. Brother Gum was honored as "student of the month" by the Student Union for his services.

Kenyon—Chi

Despite the cold, gloomy winds of winter, threatening to dismay the hopes of us on "The Hill" that the joys of spring will ever return, Chi Chapter continues to contest the down-heartedness of these dismal months with its displays of optimism.

The brothers of Chi have continued in the hearty spirit of former years by maintaining the admiration held for them with regard to their sound academic achievements, enviable participation in athletics, and their adeptness in making the fourth-floor party lounge the most popular week end spot on "The Hill."

These winter months have seen the brothers hard at their books in preparation for semester exams. But for one of us the year ends early, and we all congratulate Senior Dave Shollenbarger, on his earning of graduation laurels at the completion of this semester. Dave will be missed by us all this spring, and we wish him the best for the years to come.

Athletically, the brothers continue to give much in the way of talent. Senior Tom Collins leads the Lord's net men, along with Dave Schmidt, Alan Pettibone, Ken Klug, Larry Brown, Steve Newcomer, and freshman standout, Brian Farney. In swimming, Senior Dave Evans, along with Bud Kuppenheimer, Tom Sant, Jim Young, and Freshmen Carlson, Poetker, and Telling continue to uphold their team's conference supremacy. Sophomore Dick Ray is holding his own on the wrestling mats while Jim Mieure, Bill Sweeney, John Cuff, and Kurt Elster seek to star on the indoor track. John Kerr has also been seen with a long pole in hand running about the field house looking for higher and higher things to jump over. Intramurally, the Delts placed third in both volleyball and badminton and, with the aid of Terry Owen, have retained their undefeated status in basketball.

Socially, the brothers look forward to military ball in February with the usually amiable gatherings. An added attraction this year, folk singer Josh White will be on hand to sing and strum us out of our midwinter blues and into the happy oblivion of what should prove to be a banner week end. We regret that Junior Mike Terry will not be on hand, but we wish him a wonderful spring in Europe, where he will soon be travelling and studying.

Yearly at this time, we brothers bid "adieu" with many thanks to last year's Chi officers, and, again, we thank President Mike Wood as he relinquishes his office to George McElroy. Other officers are Ken Klug, vice-president; Tom Moran, recording secretary; John Kerr, corresponding secretary; John Cuff, treasurer; Larry Brown, guide; and Dave Schmidt, sergeant at arms.

Chi Chapter looks forward academically, athletically, and socially bearing the woes of winter in the hopes of a happy and promising spring.

Lafayette—Nu

As the Shelter struggles through the exam period, we look back on a successful first semester punctuated by many fine parties. One in particular was the highly successful Christmas party for Easton's underprivileged children, at which Sam Wakeman did a fine job befitting his qualifications as Santa Claus. After the children had been driven down to the black pit, the brothers and the girls who had been brought over as chaperones had an impromptu party in the basement.

Outside, the Shelter has a new paint job and inside, the pool table was recovered; both of these achievements have contributed toward maintaining the Shelter's high position on campus.

Looking forward past the examination period, the pleasant prospect of second semester greets us. The annual Rainbow dance will be held and we hope to see many of our alumni. An important event in the life of the chapter is the upcoming formal rush period, which our capable rush committee chairman, Bill Greenough, is already making plans for. Dave Nolf was elected treasurer and James Larken assistant treasurer for the coming year.

Finally, the brotherhood is sorry to lose Brother Gardner MacBride, who is transferring to Moody Bible Institute at the end of this semester. All in all, the prospects in Nu are bright and we look forward to writing about them in the next issue of THE RAINBOW.

Lawrence—Delta Nu

The year ahead promises to be one of the most successful in many years. Our athletic, scholastic, and social achievements in this still young year point toward an outstanding year for Delta Nu.

Again on the deferred rush program, under the leadership of Jack Smuckler, Delta Nu is proud to announce one of the most outstanding pledge classes in chapter history. The class of 23 includes: Geoff Bartol, Lee Cyrus, John Ishikawa, Chris Isley, Henry Kaiser, Pete Kline, Dick Kowalski, Steve Landfried, Mike Lee, Gus Murphy, Jack Peters, Bob Riseman, Bill Rowe, John Turner, Larry Wilson, Geoff Rodgers, Rich Schwanbeck, Duncan Sylvester, Dave Gray, Bert Hansen, Bob Hansen, John Hill, and Al Parker. Under the capable guidance of Art Loewy, this class will hopefully become a strong and integral part of the chapter.

Scholastically, the Delts again walked away with college honors as the fraternity with the highest average on campus, an honor which we have held for the last six out of seven semesters. Four brothers helped us on our way to this distinction by earning perfect three-point averages for the first term. They are Nick Vogel, Paul Lange, Herb Weber, and Bill Holzworth. This does not mean that the rest of the chapter was not working, as half the chapter achieved a B average. This was an admirable accomplishment, since the general attitude is that Lawrence has become more challenging since the advent of the three quarter system this fall.

Athletically, the Delts contributed six members to the varsity football team, which compiled its best record in recent years. Carey Wickland, Tom Disbrow, Pat Jordan, and Tom Ambrose were starters, while Sandy Priestley and Soch McOlash were often-used reserves. Jordan and Ambrose were also all-Midwest Conference selections. Topping the list of cross-country participants were Brothers Reed Williams, Bill Holzworth, and Al Parker. Williams was also honored by being elected captain for this year, and Bill Holzworth as captain-elect for next fall.

Finally, Lawrence's and Delta Nu's phenomenal swimmer, Chris Vogel, is still breaking records almost everytime he hits the water. Also on the swim squad are Nick Vogel, Grant Wheeler, and Lyle Drete. Hap Sumner was elected captain of the wrestling team for the winter season, as well as being one of its most consistent winners.

Delta Nu's social season was set off to a great start by the annual playboy party, which was held in the fall this year. From the consensus of opinion from brothers and others, who were among the guests, its New Orleans theme and lively atmosphere made it one of the finest parties of the year.

Since we at Delta Nu are always looking for chapter improvement, we have recently initiated a correspondence program among Delt chapters. We would appreciate any suggestions in reply to our correspondence.

With our most recent pledge class and our other achievements, scholastic and athletic, we at Delta Nu can be proud to say that we are in the strongest position in many years.

MARK W. JOHNSON

Maine—Gamma Nu

With the coming of September, the Deltas returned to the Shelter in full force looking forward to another fine year. During the summer we had a few improvements in the house. The floors in our study rooms were all covered with a new flooring and we have several new pieces of furniture in our tv room.

The fall season means football weather and the Deltas proved it was their football season by winning the interfraternity football crown. This wasn't the only football the Deltas were interested in, as football also means homecoming. Gamma Nu saw many alumni return to the Shelter and relive old times. The Deltas worked hard on their homecoming display but they only received honorable mention.

An extra special occasion presented itself at this year's homecoming. Our gracious, loveable, and charming housemother, Mrs. Marion Baron, was in her tenth year as our housemother. Three of the alumni Deltas made small speeches and President Ken Chase presented Mom with a memorial plaque. We only hope that she continues to be as proud of us as we are of her.

As 1963 begins and finals are near at hand, all Deltas are studying hard in anticipation of their final exams. Also, as the beginning of the spring semester approaches, our rushing committee is working hard to complete the final plans for capturing top ten men in this year's freshman class. Our program was a fine success a year ago and Co-chairmen John Howard and John Gilbert are working harder than ever.

Newly elected officers for 1962 in Gamma Nu are: Robert Hardison, president; Dennis Hurlburt, vice-president; Robert Anderson, treasurer; Allan Fernald, recording secretary; John Howard, corresponding secretary; John Gilbert, guide; and Wayne Tyler, sergeant at arms. With these men at the helm, Gamma Nu is looking forward to another successful year.

Maryland—Delta Sigma

As the brothers of Delta Sigma prepare to take finals, we can look back on an active semester.

Socially speaking, our social chairman, Randy Fobes, did a fine job of arranging numerous parties for the chapter. The highlight of the semester was the homecoming party. Many alumni returned to the Shelter for a delicious banquet, and the party afterwards. Before going home for Christmas, we had our annual stag party. The only female present was our housemother, Mrs. Katherine Rowe, who was presented with a sweetheart pin by the chapter. Another chapter sweetheart is Carlinda Storm, our Delta Queen.

ism honorary. Mike Starling was tapped by Kalegatheos, fraternity men's honorary, for his contributions to the chapter, the IFC, and the University. Mark Whitmore was tapped by Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary, and Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary.

Wally Bixby, athletics chairman, kept the brothers going in football and basketball intramurals. The social committee has planned an exceptional week end at Deep Creek Lake in western Maryland, for the brothers after finals.

To end the semester's activities, the chapter elected Bob Purvis, president; Dick Fox, vice-president; Walt Farnandis, recording secretary; Bill Brockman, corresponding secretary; Sam Hays, sergeant at arms; and Al Binasz, guide.

Our thanks go to Ellsworth Naill, outgoing president, for his many endeavors for the chapter.

And so into finals. We wish all Delts the best of luck.

LARRY KLIPP

M.I.T.—Beta Nu

The Delts broke open the social season with the traditional junior prom week end at the Shelter. Wearing kilts to the formal dance at the Hotel Statler, the Delts were a hit on campus. The annual party at the Shelter was a swinging success. Most Delts went to the M.I.T. armory, after the party, to swing some more to the Fats Domino band.

Delts became league champions in intramural basketball by demolishing D.U., 41-20, in the final game. Jack Downie scored 26 points to lead the victors. High scorers on the M.I.T. junior varsity team are sophomores Frank Yin and Jim Larsen. Frank, a pledge, is sixth man on the varsity team. Pledge "Moose" Kosinar is first string on the frosh hockey team, while Pledge Bruce Powell is among the top three on the ski team. Pledges Joe Dickey and Bruce Powell coxed and stroked, respectively, the freshman lightweight boat that finished first in the class day crew races. Dickey and Powell are also members of the freshman council. Sophomore Mike Long lettered in varsity soccer this year.

In this year's pledge class, the Delts have been lucky enough to acquire Philip W. Mattocks, an intelligent and highly proficient amateur ornithologist. Phil has published over ten bird population studies in Audubon Field Notes, has written a paper on the bird fauna of south-central Arkansas, has collected several state record bird specimens in Arkansas which are now in the collection at the University of Arkansas, and has conducted field research for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the University of Arkansas. This winter he plans to direct a winter bird population census in the Boston area.

elected to membership in Phi Lambda Upsilon, chemical and chemical engineering honorary, and in Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary. To help expend all the spare time we get at M.I.T., a shooting gallery, complete with moving targets, has been set up on the first floor of the Shelter. Currently, Rannie Ridgway is high scorer and has earned the title of chapter sharpshooter.

Michigan—Delta

With the new semester nearly upon us, an able administration-elect stands ready to take the reins at Delta Chapter. Looking back over the past year it is obvious how even the greatest of our expectations were far surpassed. With the hope that "such fired new spirit in the Delt House" shall continue, President Wayne H. Smith gives over the gavel to Junior Gary A. Wold.

Backing Gary are vice-president, Robert Lowe; treasurer, Fred Berhenke; recording secretary, Bruce Nelson; corresponding secretary, Dennis Smallwood; and sergeant at arms, Mike MacInnes. Little time should be wasted, as these men take their positions for the full program ahead.

Closest on the horizon for spring semester is the IFC sing, to be followed by Mom's Day and then Michigan's own gala spring week end, now in the positive planning stages. Finest of efforts are scheduled, especially for spring week end. The Delts entered in skit night, skill competition, the parade, and the decoration extravaganza for the ball. Teamed with the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, all see no less than top honors in sight.

Turning to sports, since last writing, the Delts have achieved uncontested second place in intramurals, hoping with basketball, tennis, and spring track to clinch the title. With winter sports now the major concern, brothers have turned, with great enthusiasm, toward snow-covered slopes, waxing up the boards, for some serious skiing. Though most are classed in the "ski lodge set," several brothers have turned to more serious business. With pride the Delts can boast that Brothers Fred Moore and Rick Clark have been chosen to represent the University of Michigan at the Michigan intercollegiate ski competition. Best of luck goes for success in both down hill and slalom events.

Worth even greater acclaim is Pledge Pete Batiste, heading soon for Colorado's famed Aspen to compete for a position on the U. S. Olympic ski team. In speaking for Delts everywhere, we wish Pete the greatest of support and a rousing vote of confidence.

GREG BLANK

Michigan State—Iota

As we sit here in our Shelter watching the wind and snow being blown around in the frigid winter air, we have many fond memories of fall term.

The first big event after rush was building our homecoming display. Dan Coulson, chairman, and the rest of the brothers worked very hard on our three-story figure of a Spartan, and the alumni were quite pleased with our effort. In conjunction with homecoming, Nick Awad was in charge of our unique Queen's dinner. We invited the 20 semi-finalists in the homecoming queen contest to our house for a steak dinner and entertainment by Brother Hap Dunne, who has recently recorded an album sponsored by R.C.A. Victor. Needless to say, this annual event is one of our favorite functions.

As for our campus activities, Bud Siudara led us in carols with the Pi Beta Phi Sorority in the annual Christmas tree lighting ceremonies, held in behalf of the local orphans, in front of the Union. Athletically, the Iota Delts were eliminated from intramural football competition by virtue of our only loss of the season to the eventual all-university champs. Individual Delts have also received high honors: Frank Marxer, candidate for IFC president, and Terry Burgon, junior class and president and member of the Union board of directors, were initiated into the Blue Key Fraternity, a national men's honorary; Jamie Blanchard, public relations director for all-University student government, was chosen as general chairman for J-Hop; and John Clupper was appointed as head manager for the varsity football team next year.

We are presently in the midst of winter term, and chapter spirit is very high for several reasons. Under the direction of Paul Lang and A. J. Harris, we experienced a surprisingly large turnout, with over 340 rushees going through our house the first night. Pete Wade provided a gambling casino atmosphere with his decorations at the rush party. All our efforts were not in vain, however, for we walked away with 18 of the finest pledges on campus. Our new executive council, headed by Frank Marxer, president, and consisting of Steve Chase, vice-president; Dan Coulson, recording secretary; Bruce Osterink (current sophomore class president), corresponding secretary; Bob Myers, assistant treasurer; Dick Ford, treasurer; Frank Hoag, guide; and Jim Buhl, sergeant at arms, is already instilling new vigor into the chapter. We are also anticipating a very successful intramural basketball team this year, due to the return of our veteran coach and to the increased height and depth added by some of our new actives. In addition, we have promising volleyball and swimming teams. And then too, no one's thoughts are dampened by the coming of J-Hop, our annual term party, and, of course, ski week end.

Let's hope that the prospects for the new year are as bright for all Delts.

A. J. HARRIS, II

Minnesota—Beta Eta

Beta Eta concluded 1962 with outstanding achievements in rush, in athletics, and in scholarship. But to insure that 1963 will continue in the same spirit, the Minnesota Delts have begun the new year with many newly won honors in Greek week.

Under the leadership of the Greek week chairman, Clayton Reed, Beta Eta won the all-participation trophy in Greek week for the seventh time in the last eight years. On their way to the all-par trophy, the Delts took first place in all competitive events, the social service project, olympics, and songfest. In olympics, the winning of two out of three possible first places, the chariot race and the relay race, gave Beta Eta first place in that area. King Johnson found time to direct the Delts to a first place in songfest. Jim Stolpestad, the Delt king candidate, was chosen one of the five finalists; and Judy Frost, the queen candidate, was selected Greek week queen.

Capitalizing on the largest pledge class at Minnesota, the Delts muscled their way to the fraternity football championship. With this, they proceeded to the position of all-university runner-up, and were awarded the honor of competing in the mythical state football tournament.

Besides this accomplishment in football, King Johnson and John Blomquist won the ping pong championship for the Delts. A third place in cross-country and an outstanding paddleball team have thus far put Beta Eta in first place in intramural competition.

In the area of scholarship, Beta Eta has made outstanding improvement. Last spring quarter the Delts placed 19, for an overall rank of 18 for the entire year. This fall quarter, thru the efforts of the scholastic advisory committee, many of the constantly low averages were eliminated. New amendments to the by-laws enforcing a more scholastically rigid pledging system and higher activation requirements have also aided in the improvement of grades. Although final house averages will not be known for a month from now, Beta Eta expects to rank first scholastically among fraternities for fall quarter.

Another area in the Fraternity was revitalized this fall. The alumni relations committee, under Tom Perusse, published its first issue of the Gopher Gate. This alumni newsletter is designed to bring Beta Eta alumni up to date on their chapter with a personal contact. Present plans call for two publications this quarter. As a note of information for the alums who were able to return for homecoming last October, we would like to inform you that our controversial house decorations placed fifth.

Beta Eta recently selected as its campus carnival chairman, Gary Boyson. The event, which takes place in April, is the high light of the school year for the Greek system. This spring the Delts will be working with Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. Because the Delts won "best show" in campus carnival last year, they are the fraternity to beat and it is necessary to start planning early.

Besides standing in the spot light as a fraternity, many Delts have become active on campus. Mike Hitchcock will be directing winter week as general chairman, with assistance from Brothers Jack Keohane and John Jensen, as area chairmen. Merle Carlson was Greek week songfest chairman, and Eric Mjolsnes was recently appointed campus carnival public relations chairman. In the field of university orientation, Paul Peterson is the coordinator of freshman camps, and is a two-day orientation sponsor. Active in the interfraternity council and the student governing body are Bob Davis and Jim Stolpestad. Al Fischer, halfback on Minnesota's Big Ten runner-up team, was a varsity letter winner.

As a fraternity and as individuals working for the Fraternity, the Beta Eta Delts have enthusiastically begun work on new achievements to make 1963 a year of continuing excellence.

MERLE CARLSON

Missouri—Gamma Kappa

The fall semester has been quite an active one for the Gamma Kappa Delts. Beating the Sigma Chi's was the high light in our intramural football season, which saw the Delts wrap up the league championship for the fourth straight year. Intramural football is almost as popular as the University's regular games at Missouri.

Our house, which is the oldest fraternity house on the Missouri campus, was beautified this past semester by the aid of wood paneling for our rooms. Each room now has a better study atmosphere and is greatly enhanced by the recent improvement.

Our annual Orchid Ball this last December was a huge success, including a steak dinner and a dance. The complete downstairs of the house was converted into a Christmas spirit, with the walls covered with evergreen branches, decorated chandeliers, orchids, spanish moss, mistletoe, and the works. It was a night which Delts and their dates will long remember.

In electing new officers for the coming year, we were all sorry to see the retirement of our treasurer, Bob Shupe. Bob has served as treasurer to our chapter for over two years. He has been the utmost in efficiency and always manages to get a job done perfectly. Bob, who will be graduating in 1963 as an accounting major, has served his Fraternity to a great degree, participating in all chapter activities and on the intramural teams. Bob has received recognition and praise from the officers of the Western Division as one of the top treasurers in the Fraternity. Bob Shupe will always be remembered at Missouri for the fine work which he has done.

Plans are presently being made for the initiation of about 16 new members from our pledge class in March. The chapter is looking forward to their initiation and the coming semester.

RAY SNODDY

North Dakota—Delta Xi

Once again semester finals are here. The library is packed and every place we go people are studying. What a change it is to see so many studying. I hope it all pays off.

The past few months have been busy ones for us. In November we had our annual hardtimes party, which was by far the best one during my three years as a Delt. Also in November, our winter sports started. In basketball we have a 2-2 record. However, in bowling we are doing much better. Our record so far is 24 wins, 4 losses. Al Nelson has the league's highest average, and Roger Blestrud, our captain, is also in the top ten scorers. Last season our team did well and they're off to an excellent start again this year.

Along with December came our Christmas formal, at which time we selected our new sweetheart for the year 1963. This year our Delta Xi Sweetheart is Nancy Fraser, a member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority.

Last Monday night the members of Delta Xi's sweetheart is NANCY FRASER.

Delta Xi elected their new officers to lead them during the coming year. They are: Robert Dahl, president; Gerry Nelson, vice-president; Dwight Estby, treasurer; Gary Lum, corresponding secretary; Daniel Uhler, recording secretary; and Thomas Myhre, sergeant at arms. I'm sure with such a capable group of leaders Delta Xi is in good hands.

PAUL KREML

Northwestern—Beta Pi

Once again the Northwestern Delts have remained the focus of campus attention since the previous RAINBOW edition.

In one fell swoop, Beta Pi strengthened its campus control with the election of Brothers Ed Bryant and Fred Schlegel to the positions of president and vice-president of the student body, respectively. This was a fitting prelude to extensive Delt achievement from intramural ping-pong excellence to the presentation of the coveted Fisk Lot awards to Brother Donnelly.

The fall quarter found the Delts active scholastically, athletically, and socially. Brother Kasdorf and President Bill Kunkle renovated the scholastic program, and the result was the initiation of a fine pledge class. Brother Kunkle gained a certain measure of notoriety among the fraternity presidents. Brother Jack Cverko, breathing fire from his nostrils, was chosen as a consensus All America for his fine play at a guard slot for the Wildcats, and the Delts displayed fine all-around form in intramurals. Brother Kastner was once again chosen as a water polo All American, a familiar spot for Big John. Socially, the Pajama Race party was the big campus event. Brother

Smith was re-elected president of the Campus Grill, a scholastic social organization, and Brother Trinen was accorded a similar honor for television programming. Brother Kahle was active in the Willard Organization, while Brother Clark recorded "Rovin," a popular song.

In short; another fine report for Beta Pi!

TERRY JONES

Ohio—Beta

Beta Chapter continued its fine record of last year by winning first place in the homecoming float awards. This means that Beta Delts have swept all three of the last three main events on campus: Greek week, J-Prom, and now homecoming. Brother Tom Hendricks was homecoming chairman, and much of the credit for our victory must go to him. Also during homecoming, Beta Chapter's Matt Minor ascended the Delt flagpole for a two day stay. Most of the campus turned out for the event.

Delts began their social life this semester with the annual circus party. Brother Jim Gillespie organized the party, and everyone fell into the circus spirit by wearing appropriate costumes. The other big party this year was the Christmas formal. In between the two big parties there have been numerous Friday afternoon teas with every sorority on campus.

It is easy to see that this has been a productive year for Beta Chapter Delts. One of the men who received recognition for his work is Brother Matt Minor, who was tapped into J-Club, which recognizes the 11 outstanding juniors on campus, and into Pi Gamma Mu, the social science honorary. In addition to this, Matt is assistant business manager for the yearbook. Brother Larry England was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary, on the basis of his fine scholastic record and varsity athletics. Brother Rick Thatcher and Pledge Dennis Knaus were taken into Varsity "O," in recognition of their football and swimming abilities, respectively. Two fine speakers, Brother Tom Ledbetter and Brother Brian Jakes, our past president, were elected to Tau Kappa Alpha, the speech honorary. Brother Tom Ledbetter's partner in varsity debate is Brother Ken Bachman. These men, along with Brother Gary Richetto, form the nucleus of the Ohio University debate team.

Just after Christmas, Beta Chapter held the election of new officers. Newly elected are Steve Boley, president; Gary Richetto, vice-president; Ken Bachman, corresponding secretary; Tom Hendricks, treasurer; Mike Spahr, assistant treasurer; Jim Ringer, recording secretary; Mike Sunner, guard and parliamentarian; and Jim Gillespie, guide. Under these capable officers Beta Chapter looks forward to even finer years.

Keeping up the grades at the Delta Shelter for the next semester will be Brother Tom Gundlach, scholarship chairman. Brother Bruce Waffin, our cultural chairman, provides us with interesting dinner guests and after-dinner entertainment. In charge of Delt participation in intramurals this year will be Brother Jim Buerkel, athletic chairman. The glee club will be directed by Brother Tracy Jackson, song chairman. The J-Prom chairmen for this year will be Brothers Brian Jakes and Sam Polo. Keeping in touch with the alumni will be Brother Jim Gillespie. Brother Tim Broedling will have the responsibility for planning Mother's week end. Handling the art work for the chapter will be Brother Dick Hay. The important duty of rush chairman will be carried out by Brother Mike Sunner. Keeping track of the Delts' social calendar will be Brother Steve Hachtman. Steve is already planning for the Delts' annual big "blast," the Delt Regatta. Helping the house-mother and cook turn out the meals as head steward is Brother Fred Gottmeier. It is on these men's shoulders that the main functions of the chapter will rest through the year.

In the upcoming Coed Prom, Beta Chapter is running Brother Mark Burkholder. After the Coed Prom comes Greek week and the election of "Mr. Fraternity, 1963." For this event the Beta Delts are running Brother Steve Boley, campus social vice-president and the new president of Beta Chapter.

The Delts are doing well in other activities this year. In intramural football they came in second in the fraternity standing, losing only one game. On the campus, Brother Jim Ringer is IFC athletic chairman. Joining him in the IFC are Neil Delfs, Gary Richetto, and Mike Sunner. Brother Ken Bachman was Christmas Committee chairman for Ohio University, and Mike Tedrick is in charge of the spring elections for the campus. Brother Tracy Jackson is continuing his radio broadcasting over the student radio station as announcer for Ohio University sports events. Brother Mike Spahr, as vice-president of Phi Eta Sigma, traveled as the University's representative to the honorary's national convention.

In varsity athletics, Brother Mike Sunner is starting spring practice again for baseball. Brother Larry England begins practice soon for the tennis squad he captains. Brother Jim Ringer and Pledge Dennis Knaus are already appearing in the meets for the varsity swimming team. Pledge Tony Pedonesi has been active on the varsity wrestling team, having already represented Ohio University in several matches.

Chapter attention now turns completely toward a most important function, freshman rush. We are looking forward to a fine pledge class from this year's rushees. The members of our fall pledge class will soon be joining us as brothers and will aid us immensely in our spring rush. In addition to these men we will be aided by Brother Carl Calandra, Brother Herb Schmelzer, Brother Steve Emser, and Brother Jed Frost, who return this semester after a short absence. Our rush chairmen, Gary Richetto and Mike Sunner, expect this to be one of the best rushes Beta Chapter has seen.

As usual, this is a fine year for Beta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

Ohio State—Beta Phi

The men of Beta Phi began the school year with added zeal after pledging 45 men during a very successful rush week this fall. The class was the largest pledged by any of the Greeks on campus and they have proven to be a fine group of potential campus leaders.

Impressive social, athletic, and extra-curricular accomplishments highlighted the fall quarter. The Delts had a number of serenades and pinning ceremonies with the sororities.

The Beta Phi bowling team was runner-up in the fraternity bowling competition, bringing the Shelter the first of this year's athletic trophies. Many of the Delts took an active part in campus organizations during the fall quarter. Scott Kayser was elected president of the Ohio State Insurance Society and Phil Hazelton served as secretary of the Ohio State chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, the national professional advertising fraternity. Tom Beck represented Beta Phi and the school of engineering as engineering representative to the student senate. Serving as an alternate representative was Gary Witschy.

Bob Lang was elected president of the Ohio State ice skating club and Bob Milliken was appointed treasurer. Filling the tedious and time-consuming position of homecoming publicity chairman for the 1962 homecoming week end was Max Hardy.

Two men were paid special tribute by campus honorary organizations last quarter. John Roesch was tapped for membership in the Mershon Honorary, a ROTC society for men showing outstanding leadership qualities. Inducted as a member of Ohio Staters, Inc. was Max Hardy. Ohio Staters is a body of 36 carefully selected men with foresight, ingenuity, and directive abilities to aid in campus development.

Pledges active in organizations were Tom Workman, who was elected freshmen senate treasurer, and a member of the OSU Glee Club, Phil Giesler. Nick Bauer was also on the freshmen senate and many of the pledges worked on student government commissions and sub-commissions.

A project which proved to be very successful and beneficial to the Shelter was Beta Phi's participation in a credit card contest in this area by a leading oil company. The Delts won the contest, which was open to all OSU Greeks, under the capable heading of Bruce Merrill and received a color tv set and a stereo-hi-fi combination for their efforts. Added to the new furniture purchased by the alumni association this fall, they beautify the Shelter and have been quite entertaining for the brothers.

The election of officers for the coming year ushered in the winter quarter. Recently elected were Bill Cromley, president; John Roesch, vice-president; Don Ely, recording secretary; Gary Witschy, corresponding secretary; Max Hardy, treasurer; Bob Lang, assistant treasurer; Dick Shaefer, guide; and Mike Mackan, sergeant at arms. The members of the new administration are looking forward to a favorable and enlightening year.

A new committee devised this quarter is the special purposes committee. Dick Merrill is the organizer and chairman of the committee and one of the major projects of the committee at present is planning the Delts participation in the Columbus March of Dimes program. The Delt's are taking part in the fund-raising march and in a March of Dimes bowlathon. The committee is also starting to make plans for an Easter egg hunt in the spring for underprivileged children. A chapter field secretary system is also being initiated this quarter, whereby members of this committee will visit other chapters for the purpose of getting ideas to strengthen our Shelter.

Strong backing is being given to Beta Phi's candidate for Gold Digger King this year, Mike Mackan, with confidence that he'll win. Two men are members of OSU varsity athletic teams this winter. Leif Jonassen is a regular defenseman on the hockey team and Pledge Jim Brown is on the varsity basketball squad. Serving as a copy editor for the Lantern, the student publication, is Bob McMillan. He is also writing all press releases for the OSU ROTC department.

The Delt's are planning parties and activities now for Greek week, which will be held in February. Plans are nearing completion for winter quarter initiation.

Five basketball teams are entered in the fraternity basketball competition and they have been doing extremely well so far. It is hoped that all five teams can be in tournament action at the end of the season. Beta Phi is also looking forward to the Kent State University invitational basketball tournament for all Ohio Delt chapters in March. It will be a fine time for meeting some fellow Delt's and having an enjoyable week end.

With the help of the OSU library system in our new scholarship program, continuing interest and participation in campus activities and athletics, and an excellent social program, the men of Beta Phi hope to have an extremely successful year and remain at the top of campus leadership and the Greek system.

Ohio Wesleyan—Mu

A rather frantic two weeks for Mu Delt's coincides with THE RAINBOW article this winter as we struggle through finals. In a school on the semester plan (for the last year), the end of January is always a period of papers, exams, tension, and possibly panic for some of the brothers.

The story of Mu's fall and winter activities began and focused upon the new Shelter and its social and living advantages. It was a semester filled with new experiences: the dedication and homecoming gathering of alumni and guests, the open house for the campus, a Christmas open house for faculty, administration, and townspeople, and the first formal here at 20 Williams Drive. There were also a few twist open houses and dessert or theme parties. Continuously the Shelter draws people to it for fun, conversation, or just to look at the handsome interior.

The pledge class has performed with enthusiasm and unity. They will be initiated in February after the Phi-Gam—Delt pledge tug-of-war, which is a yearly tradition. Pledge Don Smith has been picked to serve on the student government social committee and is wrestling first-string varsity. Another freshman, Bill Wischmann, played varsity football and is now a varsity swimmer, part of a record breaking free-style team. Pledges Bill Davis and Ron Wenger just put away their soccer shoes until next season, when they will be fighting for starting positions in their second year. Men like these show a good balance of scholarship, athletics, and activities in the pledge class. Talent is also displayed when Tony Barelli does musical capers on the vibes and Rick Newpher picks up his guitar. Class of 1966 will provide strength for Mu in many areas.

Senior Fred Orr captains a top Ohio Conference swim team and Bob Chase and Jim Schultz are other upperclassmen important to team performance. Tom Switzer, fresh from football season's hard contact, hands out more of the same as a starting wrestler. Halfback Bill Geiger and Linebacker Wes Johnston were honored, along with other seniors, in the December football awards banquet. Linebacker Switzer is a junior, the key to a top defensive unit next year.

Pledge class at Chapter Mu.

A high spot added to all the other social events accompanying homecoming was the selection of Miss Millicent Wille as 1962 Homecoming Queen. Mille is a chapter sweetheart.

Freshmen dorm counselors Fred Orr, Wes Johnston, and Len Paulini, along with Pledge Trainer Chase Crawford, have combined to give the freshmen tips on study for their first college finals. The active chapter hopes to see 100 per cent initiation.

As soon as second semester begins, the social schedule will pick up and plans can be made for possible winter hayrides, theme parties, or open houses, but right now the main thought is for that old point average. Back to the books.

BOB GEORGE

Oklahoma State—Delta Chi

After a very fine first semester, the Deltas at Stillwater are looking forward to the start of the second. Leadership for the following year will be provided by our new officers: president, Gary Thorne; vice-president, Jim Johnson; treasurer, Mike Mullman; assistant treasurer, Charlie Miller; recording secretary, Jerry Tucker; corresponding secretary, David Gibson; guide, Dennis Luckinbill; sergeant at arms, Phil Holloway; IFC representative, Bill Lee; and historian, Carl Kurt.

In fall intramurals, Delta Chi was able to enter three football teams and four basketball teams, thus giving everyone a chance to participate. Our "A" squad football team tied for its league championship and Robert Gibson was named to the all-university intramural "B" basketball team. We are looking forward to active participation by everyone in the spring intramural sports of volleyball and softball. Those interested will be able to compete in intramural golf and wrestling.

The fall social events were highlighted by a riverbottom party, our fall formal, and a Christmas party. The fall formal was held this year at the Elk's Lodge and featured Johnny Guitar and the Checkers. At the Christmas party we danced to the music of the Centurys and were treated to a visit by Santa Claus. During the spring semester we will entertain our dates at our annual bundle party and the orchid formal.

During April we are planning to have the formal dedication for our new Shelter, which we moved into last spring. The dedication plans call for a banquet to be followed by open house. Several prominent Delt alumni will be there, including as the guest speaker, John W. Nichols, President of Delta Tau Delta.

Grades are not yet out for the fall semester, but judging from last year and the enthusiasm shown for scholarship by everyone, this should be another banner year for Delta Chi scholastically.

Our leadership on campus had a boost with the election of Larry Luman as student senate representative for the interfraternity council. The interfraternity council at OSU was named best nationally for the second straight year. Mike Mullman, Roland Floyd, and Carl Kurt are active in the publication of the OSU engineering magazine, Oklahoma State Engineer.

Everyone at Delta Chi is eagerly anticipating the regional conference next month at Manhattan, Kansas. We hope to provide a turnout and participation at this meeting comparable to that we provided for the Karnea this past summer.

Spirits at Delta Chi have never been higher and we are all looking forward to the best in scholarship, leadership, intramurals, and social activities during the coming semester.

DAVID GIBSON

Oregon—Gamma Rho

Fall term was a fast, successful one for the Gamma Rho Deltas. The social calendar was topped with three very successful functions. Two were firesides with the Kappas and the Chi Omegas and the other was a tremendous party with all the houses on the hill and their dates. Paul Revere and his Red Riders provided the best of music, and a small party prior to the dance helped everyone get acquainted.

February second was the date for our formal winter dance. Bruce McKeel took care of all arrangements. We enjoyed dinner at a nearby country club, then a concert at the University by Peter, Paul and Mary, followed by a dance at the Shelter. Favors were lamps made from Delt mugs.

As noted in the last RAINBOW, we are working hard to earn better grades and we are anxiously awaiting the arrival of grades for last term. We all realize the importance of good grades and new study hours and greater emphasis on scholastics should bring improvement this next term.

The death of two of our brothers during the term has made many of us here at Oregon realize the true meaning of Delthood. Following the death of Larry Johnson, a campus-wide collection was begun under the direction of Delt Neal Wilson. Less than a week later, we received a $50 check in the mail from Delta Lambda Chapter for the fund. The collection closed with a total of $526 to be given to Larry's son at the time he is ready for his college education.

One of our pledges, Rick Hagan, was killed in an auto accident. Practically the entire house spent the night at the hospital doing anything they thought would help.

The spirit shown by Delta Lambda and Gamma Rho at the times when they were most needed have boldly and clearly demonstrated in my own mind that there can be no substitute for Delt brotherhood. Although the Deltas here at Oregon have lost something that can never be regained, we now realize our potentials and goals and are striving to meet them.

SANDY SANBORN

Pennsylvania—Omega

The beginning of classes at Pennsylvania found the Omega Deltas organizing themselves to maintain their top position on campus. A new class was moving to the house and busily remodeling its rooms. Our alumni provided us with new rugs and curtains for the downstairs rooms.

Our fall social season, under the guidance of George Sonneborn, was unanimously proclaimed one of our finest. It included post-football game parties, buffets, dances, Sunday afternoon parties, and the usual sorority mixers. Our homecoming celebration was made successful by a record of 169 returning Delt alumni. The semester events were capped by our annual Christmas formal, for which extensive decorations were prepared.

The Deltas again head the Penn campus with their able leadership in extracurricular activities. In fall sports, seven members of the varsity football team wore the Delt badge. Senior All-Ivy End Ron Allshouse received honorable mention on the All American team and was Penn's leading pass receiver. Sophomore Fullback Tom Elgar was named to the All-East team. Rounding out the varsity football team are Dick Fraser, Wayne Dean, Al Carlsen, Chuck Martin, and Norm Hetrick. Delt had four representatives on the lightweight football team, one of whom was senior Captain Bob Murray, lightweight All American halfback. Leo Rota continues to break his own school and league records as the outstanding member of the swimming team, and Hunter Lott holds second position on Penn's winning varsity squash team.

Delt maintains influence in other campus activities with four members in the glee club, two of whom, Al Carlsen and Bill Garner, are also in more advanced groups, and brothers in Sphinx and Frairs, senior societies, and student government. George Sonneborn has recently continued the Delt legacy in the Kite and Key Society, the campus hosts not only by acceptance into that group but also by being chosen its secretary. We also have leadership in the Interfraternity Council with its vice-president, Bob Murray, Junior Councilman Jim Cassidy, and Sophomore Councilman Tony Langham. In addition, Delt controls the powerful parking squad with many members and its president, Ron Schaeffer.

Rush Chairman Bob Young deserves congratulations for securing the fine class typical of Delt at Penn. Again this year we chose the top 32 men and left the remainder for the others. Each year a few more fraternities fall by the wayside as Delt again sweeps the campus. Included this year are members of the freshman football, soccer, basketball, and track teams, along with members of the glee club and other organizations. We are justifiably proud of our pledge class.

The election of officers has drawn to a close another fraternal year. Retiring President Ron Santoni has done very much for the Shelter and given his time unselfishly whenever necessary. All the old officers have done an equally fine job. We thank them for their service. Newly chosen officers are president, James Cassidy; vice-president, Dick Costello; treasurer, George Kommendant; recording secretary, Gary Dockray; and corresponding secretary, Steve Irace.

Thus, in the traditional Delt style, Omega looks toward winning the pledge relays, Sphinx pledge class award, and the usual positions of value on the Penn campus in the spring semester.

STEVEN A. IRACE

Penn State—Tau

Fall term was an eventful and satisfying one for Tau, and the brothers and pledges face this new term with anticipation and vigor. The beginning of the winter term at Penn State is also the start of rush for the IFC's 53 active fraternities, and once again the Deltas are hopeful for another fine pledge class of the type that has been a tradition at Tau.

Bucking the campus wide trend of early bids, our rush chairman, Brother Jim Hilsinger, ably assisted by his rush committee consisting of Martin Eichelberger, Bob Crist, Tom Kaulfus, and Dick Reeser, are attempting to maintain the decorum and tradition of a longer rush period before bids are extended.

This policy has proved to be very fruitful in the past, and we are confident that the next RAINBOW article will contain the names of 20 top quality men.

As always, the Taus are socially active this term. Having successfully held socials with Kappa Delta and Alpha Chi Omega sororities, we look with expectation toward our Chi Omega mixer and a "jammie combine" with Beta Sigma Rho. On February 12, Tau will be host to a group of visiting students from abroad. The evening will include a reception, dinner, and social hour. The purpose of this program is to bring the students of other countries closer to the American tradition of the fraternity system. Initiated this year, we hope its success will make it an annual event on our social calendar.

Tau is anxiously looking forward to March first, second, and third, when the 20 chapters of Delta Tau Delta's Eastern Division will gather at the Shelter for the official 1963 session. A program of entertainment is in the planning for the leisure hours of the visiting officers.

Tau Chapter is compiling another outstanding record in intramural athletics this year. The football and bowling teams both ranked in the top of their respective leagues. We are expecting big things from the once defeated basketball team; the handball champion, Rick Ehle; and the swimming team, which includes Charlie Cox, high school All American. With continued success in these intramural endeavors, the Delts should again rank among the leaders in fraternity athletics at Penn State.

In campus activities our president, Ed Craig, was elected to the IFC board of control; Paul Franklin was elected to Gamma Phi Psi, local management fraternity; and Bob Crist was elected chairman of the sophomore scholarship committee.

With the success we enjoyed this fall, we can only be optimistic about 1963 being another productive year for Tau.

GEORGE GRIFFIN

Pittsburgh—Gamma Sigma

The men of Gamma Sigma returned to the Shelter determined to make this one of our best trimesters and from all the indications it's going to be. The first week of this term was spent in scrubbing, painting, and polishing every inch of the Shelter in preparation for rush.

With Brother Jack Koury serving as rush chairman, we have just completed a highly successful winter rush. Our rushing events included a swimming party, several combo parties, and our traditional Playboy party. Our new pledge class is a fine one, including representatives from almost every field of endeavor here at the University.

On the social scene, we have a full schedule lined up. Greek week at Pitt begins on February fourth. Close on its heels is our Delt winter weekend, to be held this year at Seven Springs, a ski resort. Other social events for this winter include combo parties and sorority socials with Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Once again this trimester the big push for grades is on. Brothers Jim Barton, Rip Miller, and Don Fraley were presented $100 scholarship awards by the Gamma Sigma alumni for their achievements last trimester. With this as a stimulus all the boys in the chapter are busy studying.

On the sports scene, our strong intramural basketball team looks like it may be going all the way this year. Brothers Robert Knight and Dennis McHugh are the breaststroke men for the undefeated Pitt swimming team.

With the graduation last December of Joseph Lehmann, president, Robert Hanak, treasurer, and Peter Nycum, secretary, elections were necessary. We are happy to announce that our former vice-president, Nick Antonuccio, is now holding the reins of leadership and is initiating an ambitious program for the new year.

DON FRALEY

Sam Houston—Epsilon Zeta

Epsilon Zeta has had a very successful semester. During halftime at the homecoming game, Delta Tau Delta presented the queen with a dozen red roses and a handsome set of luggage. At the dance following the game, the Delts also presented her with a diamond wrist watch.

Epsilon Zeta scored another victory on campus by capturing first place in the Marlboro contest. This contest has been held eight semesters at Sam Houston State and the Delts have won first prize every semester. First prize this semester was a handsome stereo phonograph.

One of the most enjoyable events of the year is the Christmas party held on the evening that classes are dismissed for the holidays. This year the party was held in Houston. Several Delt alums were able to attend. With plenty of brotherhood and an exceptionally good band, everyone had an enjoyable time.

Epsilon Zeta is fighting for first place in intramurals. With a first place in volleyball and a basketball team that is so far undefeated, we have an excellent chance to win the intramural championship. With a strong team in track and softball, we could very easily take the championship.

Looking to other activities, Russ Brown, past president of Epsilon Zeta, has been elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Russ was also elected best member of Epsilon Zeta during the past year. New officers were recently elected for the chapter. President is Robert Bennett; vice-president is Ray Matthews; treasurer, Jack Parker; corresponding secretary, Bobby Todd; recording secretary, Larry Boyd; and pledge trainer, Richard Morgan.

With these able brothers in the lead, Epsilon Zeta is looking forward to the coming spring semester to bring new ideas and even greater accomplishments.

BOBBY TODD

Sewanee—Beta Theta

Beta Theta is now well on the way to winning the intramural athletic trophy for 1962-63. Hard work and intelligent planning by the athletic committee, headed by Wilson Sadler, have paid off, as the Delts won the intramural touch football championship with a 10-0-1 record, under the coaching of Tom Sadler. Other first string players for Beta Theta were Rob Sanders, Steve Walker, Bob Hudgins, Richard Earle, Brian Badenoch, Ralph Penland, Randy Johnson, Wilbur Wright, and Jay Reynolds. Four Delts were chosen for the first string intramural all-stars team, one for the second team, and one received honorable mention. The Delts won the intramural cross-country race, with our track coach, Bruce Aldrich, placing fourth of 130 running. Other Delts among the first 20 to finish were Derril Wright, Steve Walker, Jay Reynolds, and Wilson Sadler. Prospects are good for Beta Theta in the intramural basketball season, beginning February first.

As individuals, many Delts have brought glory to Beta Theta through their activities and positions of campus leadership. Jim Ettein, chapter vice-president, is president of Sopherim, a creative writing fraternity, news editor of the Sewanee Purple, and member of the Arnold Air Society, honorary military fraternity. Steve Jackson is a member of Los Peones, a campus literary and cultural society. Jack Sanders, a straight-A initiate last year, played left end on the varsity football team, making one touchdown and winning his varsity letter. The French Club is led by Delts Bruce Aldrich, president, and Allen Lear, secretary. Ralph Penland, star intramural athlete, is a member of the Finesse Club. Tom Wilheit and Brian Badenoch are on the starting lineup of the varsity wrestling team, and have led it to two victories, with no defeats suffered or anticipated. Brother Wilheit is also vice-president of Sigma Pi Sigma, physics honorary fraternity. Steve Walker is president of the Aquatics Club, Bill Pheil is vice-president of the Acolytes Guild, and Bill Thrower and Randy Johnson are members of the German Club, which directs all University social activities and dances. Wilbur Wright is wrestling team manager.

The chapter has nominated with great pleasure Bishop Frank A. Juhan and Professor William W. Lewis for the Alumni Service Award. We are extremely proud to claim these distinguished gentlemen as alumni of Beta Theta Chapter, and they have been to us a never-failing source of aid and service.

Under the careful tutelage of Pledge Trainers Pat Byrne and Tom Wilheit, Beta Theta's pledge class has maintained its position as the largest and best group of pledges among the ten fraternities on campus.

The chapter election of January eighth produced a brilliant slate of officers for the coming year: Steve Walker, president; Steve Jackson, vice-president; Jack Sanders, recording secretary; Tom Hall, corresponding secretary; Derril Wright, treasurer; Ryall Wilson, sergeant at arms; Morgan Price, guide, and Rob Sanders, appointed pledge trainer for next semester. Incumbent President Dick Warren was voted a unanimous show of thanks for his magnificent job of leadership, in a year which saw Beta Theta of Sewanee reach new heights in campus power and prestige.

TOM HALL

South Dakota—Delta Gamma

Delta Gamma started the school year for 1962-63 by receiving the intrafraternity council trophy in a special convocation during the first week of school. The award is given to the fraternity which amasses the largest number of points in a series of scholastic and athletic competitions. For Delta Gamma it represented a year of hard work and chapter cooperation. So far this year, Delts have continued the precedent they set last year by again placing first place cups for football, golf, tennis, and bowling in the display case.

During Dakota Day, annual observance of homecoming, Delta Gamma was awarded first place among fraternities for its parade entry. The theme was "Carousel."

The annual Delta Gamma winter party on December eighth, was a rousing success, with alumni and undergraduates both enjoying an excellent evening.

Some of the Delta Gamma members relax in the newly remodeled Shelter, decorated for Christmas season.

During football season, Delt performers included Ron Kibble, Dick Mead, and Bruce Smebakhen.

With basketball season still a bit short of the midway mark, four Delts represent the University in hardcourt action. They include Dick Mead, Tom Bennet, Bob Micheals, and Jim Dyer.

Student elections during first semester saw the 1962 Delta Gamma Chapter president, Ron Hauber, elected vice-president of the U.S.D. student body.

Tom Halloway, Irv Hoyt, Butch Francis, and Dick Zeigler currently make up Delta Gamma's bowling team. The foursome is planning a trip to Mankato, Minnesota, to represent the University in an all-college tournament to be held in that city.

A recent addition to Shelter furnishings and a source of extensive pleasure is a new console stereo purchased by the brothers in time for use during the holiday season.

WALT JUDD

Stanford—Beta Rho

Activities of the members of Beta Rho have been centered for the most part around athletics so far this year. Twenty-one Delts competed in varsity football, four of whom received post season recognition. Fullback-linebacker Ed Cummings received all-Coast, Big Six, and All-American mention, as well as playing in both the East-West Shrine game and Hula Bowl. Ed will be with the New York Giants next year. Also headed for pro ball is Al Hildebrand, still a junior in eligibility but drafted as a tackle by the Los Angeles Rams. Junior guard, Marv Harris, received all-Coast and all-Big Six honors, and End Frank Patitucci, also a junior, was named northern California lineman of the year for the second year, along with his all-Coast selection. Other Delts on the varsity were Bill Ahders, Bob Burke, Jack Chapple, Tony Delellis, Kent Colber, Tyce Fitzmorris, Dick Leeuwenburg, Bob Price, Carl Schrader, Bob Rath, Steve Thurlow, Guy Rounsaville, Randy Vahan, Morrison

Warren, Clark Weaver, and Phil Wagner.

Now that football is over and rugby has started, a number of the football players have switched to that sport, where they are joined by Delts Randy Devening, Dave Hedges, Dave Moreland, and Joe Mullen.

Two of the starting five on Stanford's nationally ranked basketball team are Delts. They are All-American candidate, Tom Dose, at center, and Guard Darrell Sutherland. The jayvee squad includes four Delts: Don Bryant, L. Cox, John Isaacs, and Dick Weaver.

On the boxing team are Mike Dowling, Rudy Oberzan, and Tim Steele. Competing in track we have Steve Arch, Jack Chapple, Ken Frazer, and Chris Reynolds.

Intramurals occupy a position of secondary importance for obvious reasons, but we have succeeded in winning more than our share of games regardless.

In the social sphere, our calendar has included exchanges, numerous after-game parties, and a Christmas party for the children of a nearby orphanage.

Several members have taken part in the Stanford overseas studies program at branches in Germany, France, and Italy. Also active in the academic pursuits are those seniors who are busily applying to grad schools.

Initiation of our pledges will be in early February, after which we have to begin preparation for this year's rush activities. Prospects look good for maintaining the position Beta Rho holds on the Stanford campus.

BOB BURKE

Stevens—Rho

A concerted effort has been made at Rho during the past semester to further closer ties with our alumni. A revised and somewhat more oriented alumni newsletter has been published entitled Rho Chronicle. Response from this new undertaking is slowly gaining momentum. Our Rho Ball, a spectacular success last year, should draw further attention from our alumni with this publication.

The fall semester was studded with many long and pleasant party hours. Some added novelties were the start of the bizz-buzz contest and the incredible variations to the "shake."

Activitieswise, the Delts continue to hold many and varied titles. The varsity lacrosse squad is composed of six Delts, with Bruce Boylan its captain and All-American Ron Marold as midfielder. Their hopes are high for more than just a winning season. Captain and sensational goalie of the varsity soccer team, Anthony Santos, has established a school and league record with 270 saves this season. His reward is an expected nomination to the All-American team. The fencing team is well on its way to capturing the Yale Cup and MASAC title. Its leader and captain is a Delt, Steve Conklin. The varsity basketball team, though lacking all around experience, is working its way toward the heavy side of a winning season. It is comprised of six Delts, four of whom are starters. With so much talent given to the varsity, the chapter finds itself still on top in IFC competition. The spring sports week end looks like another Delt victory celebration.

An expression of appreciation is given to our Mother's club, whose annual card party resulted in a money making success.

The past month saw new officers elected to lead the chapter. The test of these prominent men will start in February. Congratulations to President Ronald Marold, Vice-President Don Baxter, Secretary Rick Nicotera, Treasurer Gary Sunstrom, and House Manager Willy Warton.

As the seniors make ready to take their job interviews, the chapter prepares to successfully rush the freshmen prospects. With the hard, year long effort of Rick Nicotera, almost purple with exhaustion, a promising pledge turnout is expected.

The Delts at Rho hope to continue their leadership in all spheres of campus activities as they move off the campus proper onto fraternity row and the new Shelter. Occupation of our remodeled home is anticipated later in the semester. It's spacious and offers more access to fraternity life.

Happiness fractured with melancholy is the attitude expressed by many of the seniors at Rho. It's difficult to say goodbye to the old Shelter and leave so many memories behind. Since the present Shelter was built in 1905, it has been increasingly expanding, and this must be just another phase in its continual growth.

a national service fraternity, from its retiring president, Basil Wolfe, also a Delt. Additionally, Bill is the new treasurer of Delta Delta Chapter. "Rooster" Hoskins is the vice-president of Sigma Mu Alpha, the U.T. statistics society. Larry Shoemaker is the stage cochairman for All-Sing, for which the brothers are preparing diligently in hopes of improving upon last year's second place finish.

In intramurals, the chapter is well on its way to securing the all-campus trophy for the second consecutive year. The basketball team is due added praise, having remained undefeated for the third consecutive year. The chapter is represented in varsity athletics by Jerry Felty and Jim Taylor, first baseman and pitcher, respectively, on the Volunteer baseball squad. Also, Rick Fowler lends his distance-running talents to the U.T. track team. Of added interest to Delt alumni, Tennessee's new and exciting basketball coach, Ray Mears, is a Delt from Gamma Upsilon Chapter and has brought U.T. out of the mediocre, sporting a fine 8-3 record against tough opposition.

Three Delts have formed a folk-singing aggregation called the Cumberland Trio, which has pleased audiences with its performances, both in person and on television. Andy Garverick on banjo, Jim Shuptrine on bass, and Jerre Haskew on guitar, comprise this popular group.

Publicity chairman and newly-elected assistant treasurer, Ralph Newman, organized and coordinated a party for a Knoxville orphans' home, which was held at the Shelter in conjunction with the

the Delts during the two weeks of filming in Knoxville.

As a final note, President Lamar Ball and his officers have done an exceptional job of guiding the fortunes of Delta Delta for the past year, so to them goes a special note of praise for providing the leadership in a successful year for Delta Tau Delta at U.T.

BAILEY FRANCIS

Texas—Gamma Iota

With the close of a fine fall semester, we at Gamma Iota look back at our accomplishments.

In intramurals we stand in third place only 150 points out of first. A first in swimming and first in basketball helped accumulate our points. From our basketball team, Joe Bill Watkins received the distinction of making the all-intramural first team, and Pat Higgins and Butch Thompson made the second team.

In varsity athletics, we were well represented in the Cotton Bowl by Bobby Gamblin and Charley Talbert. It was the second Cotton Bowl for both of these Delts. Presently, Pledges Steve Carter and Ron Weaks are playing for the conference leading Longhorn basketball team, and Pledges Jim Graves and George Spear are on the varsity swimming team. Spear is a transfer from Bakersfield, California, where he was junior college all-American and record-breaker in the 100- and 200-yard butterfly. Past President Charles Giesey is co-captain of the UT track team. Bubba Jones and David Winkles will be helping bring in points for the track team, also.

Spring elections brought a new slate of officers, headed by former rush captain, Charles Leeper, president; Bill Smith, vice-president; Keith Reed, recording secretary; and Lloyd Birdwell, corresponding secretary.

With spring semester commencing in two weeks, we are hoping to start off with a fine spring rush to be followed up by a successful year, academically and intramural-wise.

bles, Recording Secretary Clyde Wills, Corresponding Secretary Hartley Young, Treasurer John Cawthron, and Rush Chairman Jay Langhammer, the Delts at Epsilon Beta opened the fall semester with a great rush, which added 29 pledges to the rolls, giving the Delts the best pledge class on campus.

As the semester got under way and football took the spot light at TCU, four Delts became the core of the TCU line. They were Ken Henson, Jim Fox, Rudy Mathews, and Don Smith. Ken was voted lineman of the week four times during the season, and Rudy and Jim both gained honorable mention all-Southwest Conference. Rudy was the starting tackle for the South in the North-South Shrine game and was drafted and signed by the Philadelphia Eagles. Representing the Delts on the freshman football team were Lynn Ross, Porter Williams, and David Smith.

Besides football, the Delts are well represented in the other school sports with Glen Middlebrooks, forward on the freshman basketball team, Ed Smith on the varsity golf team, and Bob Farmer on the freshman tennis team. In intramurals, Dave Brinkerhoff was named as an end on the all-fraternity football team.

But athletics is just one side of the Fraternity, and the Delts are also active in student government and activities. Our president, "Lefty" Morris is also arts and science representative in student congress and elections chairman. Joining "Lefty" this semester, Ray Meadows was elected freshman class representative and also freshman favorite. In the class offices, the Delts are represented by Jim Fox, junior class vice-president and junior class favorite, and Mike Miser, freshman class vice-president. Roger Taylor had the honor of being elected president of the TCU Young Democrats. Finally, in student activities, the Delts captured second place in their division in the homecoming float competition.

Every year, in addition to the Delts' regular parties, we hold a joint Christmas party with the Pi Beta Phi Sorority for the underprivileged children of Ft. Worth. This year was no exception and Movie actress JEAN SIMMONS was a guest of Delta Delta Chapter.

Alpha Xi Delta's. The brothers and Alpha Xi sisters enjoyed entertaining the youngsters so much that the function will become an annual affair. Continuing on the theme of public service, the Delts, under the leadership of Don Morrow, placed second in collections for the Knoxville Journal milk fund.

Eleven pledges received their badges at initiation on January 19.

The brothers had the unique experience this fall of playing host to Jean Simmons, Robert Preston, and the remainder of the cast of All the Way Home, as the filming was done in the Shelter and the residence beside it. The stars and others dined and relaxed with Epsilon Beta pledge class.

The Deltas and Pi Phi's combined to entertain underprivileged children at Christmas party on TCU campus.

I know everyone will agree that they enjoyed the party as much as the kids.

Right after finals, most of the Deltas will be found at Red River, New Mexico, at our annual ski trip. Unfortunately, mid-semester vacation lasts for only a week and all too soon the spring semester will begin. To open the semester, the Deltas are holding their seventh annual Delt invitational basketball tournament. In the past, teams have traveled from as far as Kansas to attend, but because of TCU's new school policies the tournament will be limited to schools from within Texas. Nevertheless, there will be 24 fraternities entered from nine schools, including TCU, SMU, Texas, Houston, Midwestern, Texas Tech, East Texas State, North Texas State, and Lamar Tech. The tournament is always one of the top Greek social events of the year, and judging by the amount of hard work put into it this year by Jim Garner, it should be better than ever.

With the prospects of fine basketball and baseball teams, plus many Delt social events such as the Bowery Ball and the Suppressed Desire parties, the Deltas at Epsilon Beta are confident that an enjoyable semester lies ahead.

DOYLE COATNEY

Tulane—Beta Xi

Beta Xi has been doing well this year in the areas of interfraternity competition and social activities.

Recently our main parties have been the slob formal party and the Christmas party. For the slob formal party, the Deltas told their dates to dress for a slob party, and then showed up in tuxedos themselves. This provided a few laughs when we picked up our dates. The Christmas party featured the usual amusing skit by the pledges.

In athletics, we have made good showings in football, volleyball, swimming, and table tennis, and already have more points in pan-hell competition than in recent full years. Those participating in more than one sport have been Bill Liebke, in football and volleyball; Luke O'Kelly, in football, volleyball, and table tennis; Dave Herold, in football and swimming; Dave Eckart, football, volleyball, and swimming; Paul Jardis, football and volleyball; Russ Rocke, table tennis, swimming, and volleyball; and Dick Poulos, volleyball and swimming.

During the semester we have pledged Fritz Hedges and Dennis Pelletier.

BOB SUIT

U.C.L.A.—Delta Iota

With the beginning of the spring semester we can look back upon the fall semester with pride. Our social life, under the excellent direction of Social Chairman Ron Klein, was a great success. We had three exchanges, an initiation formal, and our traditional French Apache, which is famous up and down the Row. The Deltas, joined by the Fijis, held a Friday evening party with the pledge classes of Kappa, Theta, Tri-Delt, Pi-Phi, Delta Gamma, and Gamma Phi.

One of our proudest achievements during the last year was a grade point average of 2.55. We seriously believe that we may top this when the results of the fall semester come in. We are fairly sure that we only lost one pledge because of academic deficiencies. The pledge class was under the leadership of Mark Leicester. In athletics, we didn't do quite as well as we hoped, but the Deltas were one of the top groups on Fraternity Row.

The new president of Delta Iota is Al Banachowski, who we hope will do as fine a job as Dave Nelson, our outgoing president. We are also losing our business manager, Randy Jungst, who is responsible for the house being in the sound financial condition that it presently is.

On January 26, the spring rush will begin at U.C.L.A. Because there aren't many men going through rush in the spring we probably won't get as many pledges as we are used to in the fall.

We will concentrate on quality rather than quantity. Under the direction of Ken Erhard and Richard Watson, we hope the rush at the Delt Shelter will be a great success.

Next semester our intramural baseball champs will have a chance to defend their title and our second place wrestling team may take first place. We also have high hopes for our basketball team, led by Mike Hanes. We hope next semester will be as successful as the last.

STEVE SWANSON

Wabash—Beta Psi

Completion of another winning Wabash football season was highlighted by the selection of Delt varsity center, Bill Hepler, as cocaptain for the 1963 season. Seniors Ken Parmelee and Hank Rodgers, along with Junior Carl Kern, also represented Beta Psi on the starting eleven throughout the '62 campaign.

Starting guards Bobby Mitchell and Wally Scott have played outstanding ball thus far for the Wabash basketball team. Other Beta Psi regulars are Lee Nickerson, president of the W-Men's Club, Bill Dickerson, and Bill Wilson.

Delts presently hold three of the eight varsity positions on the undefeated Little Giant wrestling squad. Senior Cocaptain John Doherty heads the trio, which includes Senior Hans Van Etten and Sophomore Tom Goldstein.

Social Cochairmen Mike Locey and Rudy Van Loon engineered the many functions staged during the past semester. The annual fall hayride, followed by the pledge dance and the Christmas dance, enabled the brothers to inject much needed diversity into the campus routine. Additional chapter sponsored events included the highly successful Faculty-Delt tea, and the IFC Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Two particularly prominent Delts in campus activities this past semester were Al Stanford, senior council president, and Mike Locey, who played the lead in the theatrical production of Ionesco's The Lesson.

In all-campus competition, Beta Psi presently holds third position in the intramural standings, expecting to gain in the battle for the lead due to strength in the upcoming spring sports.

Newly elected chapter officers are Heath Davis, president; Dave Stamper, vice-president; John L. David, treasurer; and Norm Starr, recording secretary.

TAD SINNOCK

Washington—Gamma Mu

In the spirit of our forefathers, braving untold hardships, the Gamma Mu Delts patiently await the completion of the new addition to the Shelter. Our stand against the bitter cold, never ending construction noises, unpredictable hot and cold running water, and lack of comfort facilities on the third deck, will be retold in legend long after we are gone.

Perhaps the greatest challenge we face is maintaining our composure while our Shelter is being knocked full of holes, making the howling wind our constant companion. At the present time, there are more holes in the house than there have been since 1917.

In spite of hardships, the Gamma Mu Delts remain unshaken, and continue to dominate Greek life at Washington. No other fraternity can boast such a group of athletes as Paul Mines, Bob Tucker, Chuck McCassfree, Carl Presley, Kimo Andrews, Scott Taylor, George Brag, and Shelly Bennett. In the field of campus activities we have participating actively Tom Warren, Scooter Stewart, Ron Duntz, Rod Newton, Dave Winless, and Skip Knox. Cleo, the attractive Delt Sweetheart, is generally accepted as, "Miss Torres—Washington's finest."

Under Dick Mattingley, the Delt scholastic program is at maximum efficiency. The high scholastic standards at Gamma Mu maintain the balance of campus activity, social, athletic, and academic pursuit, which Gamma Mu feels is of utmost importance.

The Washington Chapter of Delta Tau Delta is flexing the muscles that are the signs of strength in brotherhood. We all feel that the completion of our new Shelter will give us the space to stretch our wings, and reach new heights among the chapters of the campus, and of the Fraternity.

GARY PIETILA

Washington State—Epsilon Gamma

As the first snows of winter settle down on the Palouse country, the men of Epsilon Gamma settle down to the topic of finals' week. To the members it is a matter of keeping up the good work that has put them in the top three on campus scholastically three of the last four semesters. To the pledges, it means a chance to prove themselves eligible for initiation.

With the end of the first semester, the chapter prepares for the upcoming semester with a new set of officers. Lee Kloeppel is the new president; Bob Pearson, vice-president; Dave Rodgers, treasurer; Bob Bell, assistant treasurer; Huey Drummond, house manager; Mike Murray, guide; Bob Fuller, recording secretary; Irvy McCormick, corresponding secretary; and Bruce Liebman, sergeant at arms.

Lee Kloeppel just completed a semester as the chairman of Cub committees. He resigned his post so that he could devote his time more fully to the affairs of the chapter. Still on "the Hill," however, are Steve Rodgers, Cub program chairman, and Rich Axlund and Bob Sharp, both of the Cub music committee.

Roger George and Bill Slaughter are putting in a good year of service for the Intercollegiate Knights, the national sophomore honorary. In fact, Bill has put in more hours of service than any other knight at this time. In other campus activities, Bob Sharp and Don Butler continue their fine work for Washington State University's radio and television services. Don had a very successful semester as KWSC-AM's sports director, and has been appointed weatherman for the upcoming semester. Bob also found time to star in the campus play See How They Run.

In athletics, George Gleason has been starring for the WSU gymnastics team, which is one of the tops on the coast. Bob Bell and Gordy Cromwell have been showing their talents on the wrestling mats.

On the social side of the ledger, Brothers George and Butler capped off a successful semester with the annual Delt smorgasbord. The function included all the food we could find, plus a swinging stomp band. The upcoming term promises more good times with a "pajama dance," spring formal, firesides, exchanges, and picnics on the Snake River on the calendar. Besides all this, the two events all Epsilon Gamma Delts and the entire feminine contingent the campus wait for, the eighth of May celebration and the Sally Sunshine contest. More about those in the next issue of THE RAINBOW.

The intramural picture is looking better as Coach Butler and Assistant Coach Veleke start cracking the whip for basketball practice. Most of last year's squad is back and the coaching staff has high hopes. The chapter started out strong in intramural football and finished second in volleyball. A good roundball season could put the chapter high in intramural rankings.

Also with the change of semesters comes mid-year rush. Rush Chairman Bob Sharp has been doing a great job preparing for it, and has set a goal of six top men for the mid-year rushing period to replace departing upperclassmen.

The WSU Delts were privileged to have two distinguished guests during the semester. The Administrative Assistant Al Sheriff, paid the chapter a visit in late fall and discussed the possibility of a new Shelter in the very near future. And as the semester drew to a close, Field Secretary Doug Beito dropped in to check on things.

In all, it's been a pretty good semester and Epsilon Gamma looks forward to an even better one this spring.

DON BUTLER

W. & L.—Phi

This fall has been a busy one for all members of Phi Chapter as they have been participating in every phase of school activity. Both the upperclassmen and the pledges have contributed to athletics as well as academic and extra-curricular activities.

Foremost in athletics was the selection of Bob Payne and Bill Gossman to the all-state football team. Also chosen to an all-state team was Sophomore Bruce Jackson, for his fine performances on the soccer field. This fine tradition of athletic leadership for the Delts has been carried forward to the winter sports, where Phi is well represented. Dick Livingston and Freshman Bob Spessard have had much playing time on Phi Chapter Alumni Bob McHenry's basketball team. In another winter sport, wrestling, the Delts have both Dave Montgomery and Butch West. Both of these boys have won starting positions and are winning most consistently on W&L's undefeated team. This year's swimming team is supported by Nick Monsaratt, Lee Johnson, John Wolfe, and Dud Warwick. Finally, in indoor track we can find Delts John Pearson, Dan Manson, and Wicky Stuart. On the freshman teams, Jamie Andrew and John Moore have both acquired starting roles.

The Delts have been active in all phases of academic life. This year the campus humor magazine, The Southern Collegian, is edited by George Honts. The school newspaper, the Ring-tum-Phi, has Nick Monsaratt, John Wolfe, and Gordon Gay. George Honts makes frequent contributions. The school yearbook, The Calyx has been a fall project of Editor Bob Payne.

Every year an important phase of campus life which takes the cooperation of the entire chapter is intramurals. As in past years, the Delts have done quite well. Although the season has not closed in handball, basketball, and wrestling, Phi is in the finals of each of these and has a good chance of winning all three. Earlier we had a second place finish out of 18 teams in football. Those successes put Phi well on its way to another successful intramural season.

The most enjoyable time of the year comes during party week ends. This year the Delts, under two of the best social chairmen on campus, Dave Montgomery and Lindsey Short, have had a most successful year. The high point of the semester was openings when the "Coasters" played at the house. Just recently we held our annual Christmas house party. At this dinner, Ludie Davis, a sophomore at Hollins College, was elected Delta Queen. The Dynamics capped off a successful party with a four hour combo party that evening. The tradition of fine parties is being continued by Phi Chapter. Each week end our parties are well attended by the entire campus, which attests to their quality. Both spring and finals dances are being anxiously awaited by all.

There were two other outstanding achievements by Phi Chapter. Billy Myers was elected law school executive committee member, and Bob Payne is serving on the committee as a representative of the publications board. To supplement this, George Honts and Bob Payne were selected for Omicron Delta Kappa, a nationally recognized organization to reward outstanding performances by members of the student body.

We would all like to thank George Honts and Bob Payne for their service as president and vice-president, respectively. We want to welcome Brice Gamber, a senior from Baltimore, Maryland, and John Michaelson, a senior from Greenwich, Connecticut, as our new president and vice-president.

JOHN F. WOLFE

Wesleyan—Gamma Zeta

It is with great pride that Gamma Zeta is able to announce its continual dominance of Wesleyan athletics. As the fall season closed with a bang, this chapter's Kenny Robinson was found in the starting backfield of the soccer team (8-1-1), and John Odenwelder, Dave Walter, Kristie White, and Gerry Miller, formed an integral portion of Wesleyan's football first team. The winter sports saw even greater participation, with Paul Brands a starting forward on the Cardinal quintet (8-1), Dave Owens and Snuffy Meyers spearheading a once-beaten grappling squad, and John Harvey, Dave Hager, Paul Hammond, and Fredrick Odell, III, guiding the undefeated tank team. Fredrick, but a sophomore, has set and reset Wesleyan backstroke records this season and, as Coach Lusetauk has said, "There is nowhere but up for Fredrick!" In addition, Brother Harold Pye Brands has assumed the left-wing duties of the Wesleyan hockey club (not as yet a recognized varsity team) and is presently leading all scorers with an average of 4.8 goals per contest.

This chapter was also put well on its way to repeating as intramurals champions as the football team, under the outstanding direction of Paul Brands, completed its second undefeated season. The Delt cage team, a weak link in last year's chain, was then taken in hand by Harold Pye Brands who, as player-coach, has led it undefeated to this point. This writer cannot help but predict another victorious year for Delts in campus sports, as well as campus politics, in which Senior Bill Roberts continues as college body president.

The social high light thus far has been fall house party week end, which saw Phi Chapter, members and pledges.

Brother Howard Block in his capacity as campus social director. Subsequently several week end parties have been held, but it is evident the brothers are awaiting the beginning of the second semester to get back in the rhythm of things.

In addition to a good deal of study, the past several weeks have been spent in chapter elections and last-minute preparations for February rushing. Results of the recent elections named Paul Brands, president; Bill Turner, vice-president; Mark Dahl, treasurer; and Richard Proudfit, RAINBOW correspondent. Tentatively, Lew Whitney, chairman of the rushing committee, has planned nature walks in the Connecticut countryside and foreign films for the rushees, but this may be altered due to Middletown weather conditions.

In closing, we would like to express our thanks and appreciation to our alumni who made possible the complete renovation and redecoration of the Shelter this summer. This will certainly be a decided asset in rushing this year.

RICHARD PROUDFIT

Western Reserve—Zeta

Homecoming was a big week end for the Delts at Reserve this year. For the second year in a row, the Zeta Delts won the homecoming house decorations award and this gave us three legs on the silver tray to retire it. Using the theme, "The Legend of Red Cat Hollow," a headless horseman was erected with perfection under the guidance of Brother Laurent. This was Brother Laurent's second year in charge of the homecoming decorations and his second award winning performance. The Delts also won the Student Union special activities Christmas decorations award this year. With the subject, "What would Jack Kennedy like to find under the Christmas Tree?" Brother Laurent came through with another award winning decoration as the Delts took top honors.

In intramurals, the Delts are doing very well so far this year. After winning the "B" crown in football, we have come on to win the "A" division basketball crown for the fifth year in a row and the "B" division title. Both teams went through their schedule undefeated. Also, in the free throw contest, the Delts took top honors in the fraternity division with Robert Moore and Mike McMenimen leading the way, shooting 41 of 50 for the top Delt and undergraduate scores.

The election of officers was the high light of the new year at Zeta Chapter. The new officers include Joe Dubyak, president; Keith Koepke, vice-president; Ed Malinzak, corresponding secretary; John Siegner, treasurer; Dave Lehtenin, assistant treasurer; John Huston, recording secretary; Robert Moore, guide; and James Richardson, sergeant at arms. Ed

Malinzak was also elected secretary of the junior class.

Brother Eberhard, our last president, was tapped into OΔK last fall. Brothers Eberhard and Eshelman have been accepted to Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University and are planning on enrolling there in September.

Delta Tau Delta is well represented in varsity sports at Reserve. On the starting basketball five are our president, Joe Dubyak, and Bill Loue. Jim Richardson is winning consistently on the wrestling team while Brothers Loue, Yale, and Maresh are getting ready for the track season. Brothers Hulit, Baker, and Tittle played on the Red Cat football team this past fall. Brother Hulit was named outstanding defensive player on two occasions for his excellent defensive work against Bethany and Washington and Jefferson. Jack was also named to the President's athletic conference first team and was named as outstanding defensive player by the Reserve coaching staff.

Our freshmen are anxiously awaiting some upcoming sports but many are very active right now. Tom McFarland, Mike Kane, and Bill Borner were on the freshman football team. In basketball, Mike Kane, who got recognition as a high school All-American, and Steve Uhlin are playing a lot of ball for the Red Kittens. Upcoming is the golf season, and Doug Nolfi, who came to Reserve on a golf scholarship, is awaiting this sport very anxiously. Mike Kane and Gary Vehrolek are waiting for the baseball season, while Wally Grossman and Bob Greenberg are awaiting the track season. Bob Gwyther was elected secretary of the freshman class.

ED MALINZAK

West Virginia—Gamma Delta

The fall semester has been an enjoyable one at the Gamma Delta Shelter. The annual sewer party was envied by all as one of the top costume parties on campus. The brothers, dates, and guests gained entrance to the event through a tunnel which extended from the driveway, up the back steps to the third floor fire escape, and down the slide to the ground floor tunnel, which ended at the living room. The evening was climaxed by crowning Miss Sandy Ross, Alpha Delta Pi, as "Queen of the Sewer."

The Christmas formal was the biggest and most elaborate social event of the semester. A 15-foot snow white tree, trimmed with blue lights, turned the Shelter's living room into a winter wonderland. At intermission, the brothers initiated a new honor to Delt sweethearts by crowning Nancy Carolyn Brown, Delta Gamma, as "Miss Snow Queen 1962."

Before leaving the University for Christmas vacation, the chapter journeyed, full strength, to Pittsburgh to gather with fellow Delt chapters for the annual Christmas services at the Trinity Episcopal Church. The evening was climaxed by Gamma Delta winning back "our" clock from the brothers of Gamma Chapter, who in 1961 had broken our streak of six straight victorious years. The brothers took particular pride in singing "Mandy Lee" in front of an appreciative audience which included the Arch Chapter. This was our way of saying, "Distinguished brothers, we would like to make a repeat performance at the next Karnea held within singing distance of Gamma Delta." We are all proud of the leadership ability of our songleader,

Dave Treharne, and we are anxious to sing again.

With the birth of the new year, the officers for the 1962-63 year have been elected. The following offices and brothers elected are: president, George Mangus; vice-president, John Sutton; treasurer, Bruce Leech; assistant treasurer, Bill Ellis; recording secretary, Tom Hildebrand; corresponding secretary, Bill Brown; house manager, Joe Meadows; sergeant at arms, Beuford Boyce; and guide, Ray Pierce. All retiring and new officers teamed up the following week end by providing an extra stimulus for a splendid party to begin the new reign with a successful movement.

West Virginia and Delta Tau Delta were proudly represented in the East-West Shrine Game and the Southwest Challenge Bowl by Brother Gene Heeter. "Heets," one of the best ends in West Virginia history, was voted as the most valuable lineman on the Mountaineer squad and topped all votes, for end, on the all Southern Conference team. All the brothers are anxious to watch Gene perform next football season for the San Diego Chargers.

Final week is right around the corner and the Gamma Delta Shelter is busily preparing to retain its leadership scholastically on campus. We have consistently been among the best fraternities and above the All Men's Average for the last three years.

With a new semester coming up, we extend our invitation for all to visit the Gamma Delta Shelter.

DAVID F. REED

Whitman—Delta Rho

Delta Rho is rounding out its first semester hoping to retain the top scholastic position it held at the mid-semester mark. In intramurals, our volleyball team tied for first place, and our ping pong squad was able to win a top position. Campus offices held by Delta Rho members include Phil Rolfe as junior class president and Al Zack as vice-president of the freshman class. Cole Mason, our retiring senior pledge trainer, has gained recognition by being selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Our homecoming display, on which Tom Kelly and Phil Syrdal worked overtime, was constructed in cooperation with Delta Gamma and Alpha Phi sororities and won second place.

Several successful functions were held this semester. The annual scavenger hunt saw everything from the college president's Volkswagen to a live duck being brought to the Shelter by ambitious Delts and their dates. The well attended Christmas party, at which those who attended danced in pajamas and special night caps, can, with all honesty, be called the best function of the semester.

Second semester social activities, with the Easter egg hunt and the dinner dance, will undoubtedly live up to the expectations of all.

With its new officers, Phil Rolfe, president, and Mike Smallwood, vice-president, Delta Rho looks forward to an equally successful second semester. It is hoped that second semester rush, as in years past, will favor Delta Rho. As always we will provide stiff competition for the other fraternities on campus in the annual choral contest, in which we took second place last year. Songleader Dave McGill promises that we will have a winning song and a winning group.

The hope of a new Shelter to replace our antiquated facilities by the fall of 1964 serves to support the high spirit of Delta Rho as we enter our second semester.

VAL PAULSON

Wisconsin—Beta Gamma

The 1962-63 school year started out with a successful rush which saw Rush Chairman Gerry Meir proud of 20 excellent new pledges. The season is further enhanced by a packed social schedule, including a highly successful alumni day under the direction of Alumni Chairman Don Murdoch. Theme parties included a Playboy Party, at which Nancy Auerbach, Kappa Alpha Theta, was selected Delt Playmate, a Beethoven Party, and the biggest homecoming week end in years as the football team mangled previously undefeated Northwestern. Six home games enhanced the fall semester as the football season was closed with a victory over Minnesota, which gave the Badgers the undisputed Big Ten title and the trip to the Rose Bowl. The trip to Pasadena will be long remembered as the Delts traveled by charter bus with the Gamma Phis and Tri Delts for a rousing ten day trip.

New officers chosen for next year are: Jack Edl, president; Jerry Meier, vice-president; Rusty Rost, treasurer; Bill Patches, recording secretary; and Wes Peters, corresponding secretary.

This year has seen Delts active in many extracurricular affairs. Past-President Al Spooner was elected vice-president of IF; Don Murdoch is co-chairman of new student week, an active on the Wisconsin forum committee; Larry Pitsch is president of ASME; Jim Carpenter was sales chairman of Campus Chest; and Lon Ostrom was "W" Club president.

In the sports realm, Jim Haffemeister is in crew; Lonnie Ostrom, basketball; Ray Visco, bowling; Jerry Zovne and Rich Barta, gymnastics; Mel and Danny Strand, baseball; Jerry Hart, football, and Bob Hockney, cheerleader.

In intramural sports, the Delts, under Chairman Ron McDougall, took second in football and won the bowling division for the third straight year.

At homecoming the Delts walked off with the red and white barrel, symbolic of best campus spirit, in the "Yell Like Hell" contest. Paired off with the Tri Delts the group, full of homecoming spirit, yelled its way to victory over 47 other competing units.

Despite all this seeming frivolity, the Delts have managed to improve themselves educationally, and Dale McKenzie, Bob Kettleson, and Rusty Rost were recently initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, honorary fraternity. Adding to the color of the Beta Gamma Shelter is Arndt Reuter, an exchange student from Finland who is studying here for the year.

Coming up in the future is Humorology, and the Delts are working hard with the Alpha Phis to win this event. The first semester has proved so far a tremendous success, and we are all looking forward to an even better second semester.

It was the great good fortune of the writer to serve with John Nichols on the Arch Chapter of the Fraternity for twelve years. He is gracious and energetic, has unusual executive ability, is deeply dedicated to the Fraternity and its principles, is a man of utmost integrity, and has withal an abiding sense of humor.

No task or project to which Brother Nichols has ever devoted himself has stood still. Nor will Delta Tau Delta stand still under his direction. We can predict with absolute certainty that new and sound programs for the betterment of the Fraternity will develop under his able and inspiring leadership.

Fraternities

Fletcher continued, "We started as fraternities, took on hotel and cafe functions, went into the club business in a big way, and are still in the club business primarily . . . with only casual concern for hotel and cafe and little or no emphasis upon fraternity, our original business."

"Now the institutions are doing the hotel, cafe, and club business for the masses better than we can, leaving us only the fraternity business, a field in which—happily—we have no competition."

"We'll survive," he concluded, "if we're useful; we'll flourish if we're purposeful; and will insure our future if we're alert. Our future in the sixties, as at any other time, will depend on whether or not we are in fact what we say we are."
