THE COVER

Fraternity President Fred Kershner introduces Bethany Undergraduate Chapter President George Couch at the April 23 Founders House dedication. The program marked completion of the building restoration, Phase I of the Fraternity's plan to make the house a lasting shrine. Phase II, now underway, will include raising funds to furnish the building and install a permanent audio-visual historical presentation.

"The natal place of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity is an old brick house in Bethany. We would like to preserve it for future generations. It is a very meager dwelling now, although in '59 it was considered fine. We often turn our eyes upon it with sacred love and reverence."

The Hand of Time

By DR. PERRY E. GRESHAM

President Emeritus, Bethany College

WHEN the late Carl Sandburg visited Bethany College and saw the little town nestled in the Allegheny Foothills, he said, "This is a place on which time has laid a hand." He was right. There is history in that handsome Old Main building built by Alexander Campbell and completed at the very time Delta Tau Delta was born on this Campus. The original Chapter House for the Nascent Fraternity still stands on Main Street. It is a quiet reminder of great men who once lived here. It is about to become a Shrine to which great men will repair in the rolling years yet to come.

Many of us have long hoped that the desuetude which the Old House exemplifies could be transformed into expectant charm in the form of a Shrine which speaks pride and dignity for the future of the fraternity. This dream is about to be actualized. The persistent leadership of heroes, such as Herbert McCracken, Edwin Heminger, John Galbreath, John Nichols and James MacLeod, along with some of his generous Pittsburgh colleagues, have come to the assistance of the bright and dedicated undergraduates who shared the dream of the original

The early dedication displayed by Barry Gardner, who electrified the 1970 Karnea with his initial $1,000 gift, sparked the endeavor.

The Officers and Executives of the Fraternity, cheered on by the undergraduates, laid careful plans to raise the money and restore the Chapter House as an abiding memorial to the late Norman MacLeod. A committee of G. Herbert McCracken, John W. Galbreath, Perry Gresham, John J. Grove, Edwin L. Heminger, Martin W. Sheerer, Charles R. Wilson and Al Sheriff took up the task. The general benefactors of John Galbreath, John Nichols and James MacLeod guaranteed the success of the project.

Bethany College, proud to be the birthplace of this famed and honored Fraternity, joined heartily in the enterprise. The Theta Chapter was jubilant. Miss Luta Gordon, Registrar Emerita of Bethany College, entered into the project with enthusiasm, even though it involved some inconvenience with regard to her home.

Already the Shrine is having its effect on Delts throughout the world. They come as pilgrims to Bethany as did the Crusaders to Jerusalem. A medallion in honor of the pilgrims to the Shrine honors each intrepid Delt who has the courage and persistence to traverse the crooked roads that lead to this little village where Bethany College dominates the Valley.

Nobody just passes through Bethany — only those who have considerable resolution arrive. Once here, a person can never forget the quietude, nostalgia and meaning which provides just the right atmosphere for portents of the future to appear. Dreams are born in Bethany.

As the rolling years come on, Delts will revisit the Shrine and new dreams will be born — dreams of brotherhood, peace, scholarship and excellence. The fraternal system in America is not about to die, it is about to be reborn. The Norman MacLeod Memorial at Bethany College has taken all the nostalgia, engendered by every Delt's undergraduate years, and fashioned from it the high resolve of life-long friendship whereby strong and able people come to think truth, live love and trust God. ▲

DAY OF DEDICATION

SOMETHING about an historic building stimulates the imagination. Walking through old rooms, knowing something of what took place there, seems to bridge the gap of time. And so it was on Sunday, April 23, 1978, dedication day at Founders House in Bethany, W. Va.

Delt students and alumni, representing a wide range of years, joined special guests at the restored Fraternity birthplace, across the street from the Bethany College campus, for an impressive dedication ceremony, followed by a reception and tour of the stately old house.

The Arch Chapter was there in full force, along with representatives of Central Office, nearby undergraduate and alumni chapters, the Bethany faculty and administration, four former international presidents of the Fraternity, distinguished alumni who have been instrumental in the restoration fund campaign, and friends who read about the event through news media.

One surprise visitor was Mrs. Forrest Gay Clark of Mt. Clare, W. Va., a graduate of the University of West Virginia and a granddaughter of one of the Fraternity's founders, John, C. Johnson.

Dr. Robert Sandercox, vice-president for development at Bethany College, presided over the dedication program, standing in for Dr. Perry Gresham, president emeritus of the College and outstanding Delt, who missed the occasion because of illness.

G. Herbert McCracken, Pittsburgh '21, reviewed the fund campaign that made the restoration possible, giving special recognition to large donations of John W. Galbreath, Ohio '20, and John W. Nichols, Oklahoma '36, both of whom attended the dedication, and to James Macleod. Mr. McCracken, campaign chairman and himself a large donor, added a special tribute to the late Norman MacLeod, Pittsburgh '17, in whose honor a memorial section of the house is dedicated.

The Litany of Dedication was presented by Edwin L. Heminger, Ohio Wesleyan '46, vice-chairman of the Founders House Committee and a leader in the project since its inception at the 1970 Toronto Karnea.

Other dedication program speakers were Fraternity President Frederick D. Kershner, Jr., Butler '37; Dr. William E. Tucker, president of Bethany College; and George G. Couch, president of Theta Chapter at Bethany. William S. Allen, college chaplain, gave the invocation and benediction.

Among the special guests was Miss Luta Gordon, who was born in the house and was the last person to live there before beginning of the restoration.

Exterior restoration is completed except for additional painting of the bricks. In addition to period furniture, the interior will contain display cases and an audio-visual presentation.

The official dedication completes the first phase of the project. But the Founders House Committee emphasized that a need remains to raise funds for internal furnishings. Gifts of period furniture, prior to 1858, also are being sought. Information can be obtained by contacting the Central Office in Indianapolis.

A Duty to Fight

Delta Tau Delta emerged from a political battle for control of a Bethany College literary society.

By LESLIE L. KNOX

Bethany '76

THE FIRST collegiate fraternity in the United States, Phi Beta Kappa, was founded in 1776 in Williamsburg, Virginia. Ninety-two years later, in the spring of 1858, organization of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity began. Its birthplace was Bethany, Virginia (now West Virginia), home of Bethany College. Eight young men were enrolled there who were active members of the Neotropean Literary Society. These eight were destined to become the founders of a national fraternity whose membership now numbers over 85,000 men.

Bethany College, in the years prior to the Civil War, was one of the prominent educational institutions of the South. It was founded in 1841 under the auspices of the Disciples of Christ Church and was under the direct and personal supervision of Alexander Campbell, founder of the denomination. After a disastrous fire in 1859, new buildings were erected to replace the original structures giving Bethany one of the finest college edifices in the South. Patrons of the institution were drawn from many of the most influential and wealthy families of the South.

Literary societies were the pride of Bethany College and they received its support. Members in the Neotropean Literary Society included Richard H. Alfred, Henry K. Bell, William R. Cunningham, Alexander C. Earle, John L. N. Hunt, John C. Johnson, Jacob S. Lowe and Eugene Tarr — the eight Bethany students who founded Delta Tau Delta. The Neotropean Society was at that time in factional turmoil. Certain members of the Neotropean were waging a political battle for the society's control. Allegedly, those Bethany students already in control of the society were members of Phi Kappa Psi. To counter the influence of the Phi Psi's, the aforementioned eight students banded together in an organization that was eventually to become Delta Tau Delta.

The reason for the Fraternity's founding was well documented by James S. Eaton of Alpha Chapter, Class of 1875 and general secretary and historian of the Fraternity. Eaton published a history of the Fraternity in The Crescent, a Delta Tau Delta monthly newspaper. According to Eaton, establishment of Phi Kappa Psi prompted the organization of Delta Tau Delta. He says of the Phi Kappa Psi, "Its advent was marked by an evident inclination to assume control of the affairs of the 'Neotropean', one of the literary societies, and to interfere otherwise in College politics."

In the November 15, 1877 issue of The Crescent Eaton further expressed the intolerance of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. "No honors, such as orations on days observed as National Holidays, could be obtained by those who are generally termed 'outsiders'. Also officers and select performers in the literary societies, 'Neotropean' the name of the one in this instance, were generally from the tyrannizing party."

From a letter written on April 5, 1876 by W.C. Buchanan to Chapter Theta, we find the same reason for the Fraternity's founding. Buchanan's data was gathered by Milton R. Freshwater of Chicago, Ill. According to the Catalogue, he was in the Class of 1865 and was the United States district attorney for Brooke County from 1870 to 1872. "The fraternities were asserting their influence in the society to the degree that it became necessary to oppose them in order to share in any of the honors of the society or the college," he wrote.

In a letter written by E.T. Williams to Dr. W.H. Cramblet on November 9, 1939 we find further evidence of the various Fraternity influences upon the literary societies. "The Delta Tau Delta was born at Bethany. These fraternities sometimes enlivened the elections in the literary societies by their rival nomination for the offices."

Founders Had Varied Careers

Also supporting the Neotropian legend is a Karnea toast given by Dr. Robert Robinson in 1891: "There was a duty to fight that Fraternity (Phi Kappa Psi) politically, socially, and every other way."

According to the Fifth General Catalogue of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, written in 1884, W.R. Cunningham of Paris, Ky. was the first gentleman to mention a need for an organization to counteract the influence of the Phi Psi's. The meeting of the eight founders was held in the room of Jacob S. Lowe in late December of 1859. W.R. Cunningham, Class of 1862, called the meeting to order and John L.N. Hunt, also of the Class of 1862, acted as Secretary. A committee was appointed consisting of John L.N. Hunt and Jacob S. Lowe to draw up a constitution and bylaws.

Aside from its political character, the organization was designed to promote intimate friendships which were fostered best by a Greek-letter fraternity.

Goals of the organization are found in correspondence to Chapter Theta by W.C. Buchanan. Buchanan states that the goals were, "the furtherance of the interests of its few members; the oppositions to the different fraternities of the college in the societies; the associating together of good friends and the promotion of the interests of all."

Buchanan also stated that the Fraternity was to be "only a local organization intended to accomplish certain ends."

In correspondence with Henry Bruck, a past Delta Tau Delta historian, one of the founders, Richard H. Alfred, gives light to yet another side of the Fraternity's founding. Alfred suggested that the Masonic background of Cunningham and himself had drawn them together to form a student group with common aims, brotherly regard, and the desire for mutual support.

Both Cunningham and Alfred were considerably older than the others and, according to Bruck, the early form of the ritual showed influence of Masonic ideas and ceremonials.

Confirming this Masonic influence is a copy of the ritual issued to Jamestown Collegiate Institute in 1867. In this version the neophyte is required to take three separate oaths in the ceremony. This coincide with Masonic ritual and is an obvious Masonic derivation.

The November 15, 1877 issue of The Crescent offers a possible explanation for the Fraternity's Greek letters. The letters DTD stand for Didomen Timan Dikaaios. This is translated in English as "We confer honor justly." The motto stems from the tyranny in the presentation of honors in the Neotropian Literary Society.

The eight Bethany students who were to found Delta Tau Delta came from varied and diverse backgrounds.

One of the most colorful of the founders was Alexander C. Earle who lived from 1841 to 1916. He was from Arkadelphia, Ark. and was in the Bethany Class of 1861. At the Fraternity's founding in 1858 he was seventeen years old and the junior member of the pioneer group. He left Bethany early at the start of the Civil War to enlist as a private in the 4th Infantry Regiment of the South Carolina Volunteers. A year later, in 1862, he organized a cavalry company and was promoted to captain under General Jenkins of the 37th Infantry Regiment of Virginia Volunteers. Earle served under Jenkins in West Virginia until the close of the war.

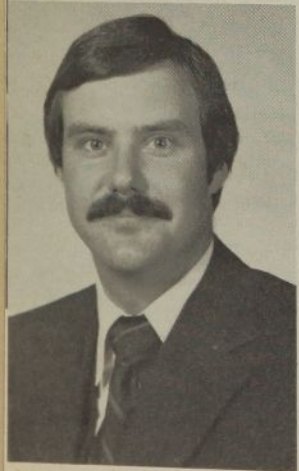

The early catalogues listed Earle as deceased, and for many years legend had it that he passed away in Charlestown, S.C. Supposedly he was a lieutenant in the Southern Army and had been severely wounded. He was taken to a hospital which was formerly a hotel. In a fit of delirium, caused from the pain of his wound, he leaped from an upper floor window and was killed by the fall. Fortunately this legend was erroneous.

It has been established that Earle entered the ministry of the Church of the Disciples after the Civil War. Later he became dissatisfied with its Creed and he preached his own interpretation of religion as a free-lance evangelist. Earle was found later living in Arkansas and was greeted as a hero during his attendance at the Karneas of 1882, 1907 and 1915. He was affectionately known as "Sandy" and lived the last four years of his life in the Confederate Veterans Home in Austin, Tex. where he developed close association with the Delts of Gamma Iota Chapter.

THE AUTHOR

After graduating with distinction from Bethany College in 1976, Leslie L. Knox joined Ethyl Corporation, and now is a sales representative in the Petroleum Chemicals Division, San Francisco.

As an undergraduate history major, Mr. Knox was president of Theta Chapter, after serving earlier as steward, sergeant-at-arms and vice-president. He was a proctor for the College History Department, a representative of College Council and IFC, a tour guide for the Admissions Department, a counselor for the Moundville Penitentiary, an Air Force ROTC scholarship cadet, and a participant in intramural athletics.

Evidence indicates that the Founders House was constructed in the early 1850's upon the foundation of an old tavern or inn. The foundation is from local limestone laid up in lime mortar and is amazingly thick, being 24 inches thick at the base and tapering to 18 inches. Inner linings of brick rise directly from the limestone foundation. Brick was chosen for the Fraternity's birthplace because of its great availability in Bethany.

Richard H. Alfred was the oldest of the founders, being twenty-six at the time of the Fraternity's beginning. He graduated from Bethany in 1859 with "first honors" of his class. He left Bethany in the spring of 1859 to "read medicine" in Kentucky and South Carolina. Later, upon receiving his doctorate from the University of Toronto, he returned to the United States to become a minister in the Church of the Disciples. When his voice gave out, he withdrew from the ministry to devote himself entirely to the practice of medicine, ultimately settling in Dayton, Virginia.

As late as 1897 Alfred's name was not listed as a founder, but evidence has proven otherwise. As a leader in the organization he provided a stabilizing influence in the early years of the Fraternity. Dr. Alfred died in 1918.

William R. Cunningham was a freshman from Odessa, Md. in 1858. He was then twenty-five years of age and was affectionately known as "Lord Chesterfield". While only a freshman he possessed amazing leadership capabilities and presided at the meeting which organized the infant Delta Tau Delta.

When the Civil War began, Cunningham entered the Confederate service in a civil capacity. He later became a member of the famous Morgan's Raiders and served the South until the close of the war. Following the war, Cunningham also became a minister in the Church of the Disciples and lived his later years in Ritzville, Wash.

Cunningham's career in civil service started in 1856 when he served as assistant receiver of public moneys in Olympia, Wash., until 1858. In 1862 he served as revenue commissioner to the Provisional Government of Kentucky under Governor G. W. Johnson. As a preacher in the Christian Church, Cunningham authored "Spiritualism; an Address" which he delivered to the Church of the Disciples in Carthage, Missouri in 1877. "Lord Chesterfield" passed away in 1919 in his last home in Ritzville, Wash.

John L. N. Hunt, born in 1838, was the scholar and educator of the first chapter of Delta Tau Delta. He graduated from Bethany College in 1862 with "first honors", presenting the Greek salutatory oration. He was chosen professor of higher mathematics at Bethany after receiving the degree of Master of Arts in Cursu, a mathematical form.

After a short tenure at Bethany, Hunt went to New York City where he received his law degree at the University of the City of New York in 1869. While in New York, Hunt became valedictorian of his class and was a prize essayist.

As an educator, Hunt proved outstanding and taught in many different schools. Aside from teaching at Bethany, he was vice-president and professor of ancient languages in the State Normal School, Hopedale, Ohio, from 1863 to 1866. Leaving Ohio, he went back to New York City as superintendent of Bryant and Stratton's Commercial College until 1870. He then became principal and proprietor of the Collegiate Training School in New York up until 1878.

In 1880 Hunt was the Republican nominee for Representative in the United States Congress, from a section that was predominantly Democratic. In a hotly contested race, he lost by a very narrow margin.

The year of 1888 saw John L.N. Hunt as commissioner of education of the City of New York. He lived until 1918 after serving the city for many years.

It was in the room of Jacob S. Lowe that the Fraternity was founded in 1858. Lowe, born in 1839, was a member of the committee that drafted the first Constitution and Bylaws of the Fraternity.

Lowe was an educator of much distinction, not unlike Hunt. He graduated from Bethany in 1876 and was the Orator of the Karnea of 1878 in Akron, Ohio. In 1870 he became principal of the State Normal School in Geneva, Ohio. He then became President of Farmer's College in 1873 and served that college well until 1877.

Before returning to Bethany in 1881, Lowe was superintendent of public schools in Shelby, Ohio. Upon his return to Bethany, he was chosen as professor of moral philosophy and rhetoric and principal of the Academic Department. Lowe died in 1919 after spending most of his life in Ashtabula, Ohio.

Eugene Tarr was born in 1840 only six miles from Bethany, in Wellsburg, Va. He was in the Class of 1860 and attained one of the highest honors of the College when, in 1861, he was chosen orator for the exercises of the Neotropian Society, the chief honor society on the campus. He was chosen in 1875 as historian of the Seventeenth Karnea at Meadville, Pa.

Survival Was a Thin Thread

Tarr practiced law in Wellsburg, W. Va., and served as prosecuting attorney for Brooke County, from 1876 to 1884. He was also proprietor and editor of Panhandle News for a number of years. A quiet man, he was a lover of chess and good books.

John C. Johnson, born in 1840, was to follow the family tradition of political involvement. His uncle, Joseph Johnson, was the first Governor of Virginia chosen by the people. One of Johnson's brothers served as United States senator from Missouri.

In John Johnson's lifetime he served two terms in the West Virginia House of Delegates. He later served as adviser for John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee for President in 1924. He became the object of national publicity as the man who molded the political ideas of Davis.

Johnson outlived all of the other founders and remained politically active until 1927. In addition to his involvement in politics, he enjoyed farming, and practiced stock raising in Bridgeport, W. Va.

Henry K. Bell, known as "the great organizer", is credited with saving the Fraternity in its infancy. In 1861, as students left Bethany for the Civil War, the future of Delta Tau Delta hung in the balance. As an alumnus, Bell traveled from his home in Lexington, Ky. to Bethany in a desperate effort to relocate the Fraternity.

Within a radius of one hundred miles, Bell systematically inspected every college of any educational stature. He found a suitable institution in which to plant the Delt Colors at Jefferson College in Canonsburg, Pa. As a result of Bell's diligent search Samuel S. Brown and Rhodes S. Sutton, two students at Jefferson, later made a memorable horseback ride to Bethany to be initiated into Delta Tau Delta.

Bell lived a relatively short life, dying at the age of twenty-eight in St. Louis, Mo. in 1867. Despite the handicap of a stiff leg, his energy was a principal force in the growth of the fledgling Fraternity.

Delta Tau Delta's birthplace is a stately two-story brick structure situated on the south side of Main Street in Bethany. The house is set upon Lot 68 that contains 7,200 square feet with a sixty-foot frontage and a 120 foot depth. In 1853 the property was owned by John Law and his wife, Mary Ann. There was no house on the lot at this time and the Laws sold the property to J.E. Curtis for the sum of $90.

J.E. Curtis married shortly after purchasing the property and he and his wife, Melissa, erected the structure that was to become the first shelter of Delta Tau Delta. According to the County Hall of Records in Wellsburg, W. Va. Curtis and his wife sold the property in 1856 to Sarah Brown. The house and property were sold for $1,650. In three years the value of Lot 68 escalated $1,560. The escalation in the value of the property leads one to believe that the house was erected between 1853 and 1856.

In the 120 years since the Fraternity's founding, the house at Bethany has served as a boarding house, a tea room, an apartment building, and a private residence. The last occupant before transfer of title in 1975 was Miss Luta Gordon, whose mother had purchased it in 1920.

A rich and memorable past graces our Fraternity, built upon humble beginnings in the rural village of Bethany. Who of that era would have guessed that in the room of Jacob S. Lowe, in an old brick house on Main Street, an organization of national stature would be born?

Never intending to be anything other than a local organization in its early years, Delta Tau Delta blossomed into a social fraternity of more than 85,000 members. Our debt to those eight Bethany students who gave birth to the Fraternity is above appraisal.

We honor those eight men and the thousands who have followed in their footsteps by the preservation of our fraternal birthplace and cherished history. Our national shrine will honor the past and inspire those who lead Delta Tau Delta in the decades to come. ▲

On behalf of the Fraternity, Executive Vice-President Al Sheriff, left, receives a bowl and candlesticks set from John Slay, superintendent on the Founders House restoration project. Mr. Slay made the set from seven different pieces of wood taken from the original porch of the building.

UNDERGRADUATES who have been associated personally with Delta Tau Delta's Southern Division president know that he is a man much opposed to the waste of human resources. He believes that one of the most important values in Fraternity life is the opportunity to build character and resourcefulness through the acceptance of responsibility.

Dr. Bert Hayes, in fact, attacks waste and irresponsibility in any form. He has advocated and practiced hard work and maximum use of available resources as a college teacher, a dean of students, a coach, a Fraternity leader, and currently as a candidate for Governor of Alabama.

A professor of history and humanities at Athens State College, Athens, Ala., Dr. Hayes was initiated into Delta Tau Delta as an alumnus member when Epsilon Sigma Chapter was installed there in 1968. Since then he has served as chapter adviser until 1972, as Southern Division vice-president from 1971-77, and now Division president.

Born in Hart County, Ga., Bert Hayes received his B.A. degree from Toccoa Falls Institute, and in 1964 was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati. He also attended Hebrew Union College in Jerusalem, Cedros del Libano in Cuba, and Eastern College, Pa.

Through the years, Dr. Hayes has received numerous recognitions. He was a Roger Williams Strauss Memorial Fellow, a Clarence and Cora Workum Memorial Fellow, a U.S. State Department Foreign Studies Fellow, and a Hebrew Union College — Harvard University Consortium Fellow. He also has served as a social worker and a swim club coach in Cincinnati.

Before joining the Athens State College faculty in 1966, Dr. Hayes taught at Indiana University. At Athens he has served at various periods as dean of students and director of graduate studies, as well as professor of history and humanities.

His teaching career has been supplemented with a personal commitment during the past several years to resource-recovery programs.

"Resource recovery is one of the few areas where all citizens can become actively involved," he says. "We must learn to recover important metals, paper, glass, and other solid waste material, and, most important, to improve our selection of land use and restoration of such things as strip mines."

Having studied and participated in many such projects throughout Alabama, Dr. Hayes has decided that it is time to make a major move toward solving those problems and others, such as economic development. He is running for Governor on the Republican ticket.

"We need a more generous spread of development throughout the state," candidate Hayes explains. "I think it has been too politically oriented toward specific interests instead of state-wide interests, and I propose building stronger economic bases in individual counties. I also feel strongly that we must accept the responsibility for orderly development of strip mined land for residential living and light industry. Meanwhile, we must preserve farm land. We need a government willing to put total effort into these things, and I am willing to work day and night to see that they are accomplished."

Dr. Hayes favors loans instead of grants as the method by which government can assist citizens to become trained and productive. He maintains that government should be kept simple for greatest efficiency.

"Inefficient government frustrates people and leads to apathy or to revolution," he explains. "Unfortunately, I sense both of these trends developing in American thinking, and all of us have to share part of the blame."

The Fraternity's Southern Division president and father of three children is hoping for and working toward the opportunity to make positive governmental changes by seeking the Governorship this fall.

Hepner

James O. Hepner, Iowa '55, has recently published his third book, "Health Planning for Emerging Multi-hospital Systems," which is the first in a series of case studies in health administration.

Dr. Hepner, who is with the Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis, is editor for the series which has resulted from a collaboration between the American College of Hospital Administrators and C. V. Mosby Co. He also has written several articles and book reviews and contributed to monographs. Involved in a variety of professional activities, Dr. Hepner is a national consultant in health services administration to the Surgeon General of the U. S. Air Force and a past president of the Association of University Programs in Health Administration.

Ullman

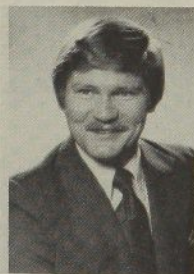

Myron E. "Mike" Ullman, III, Cincinnati '69, was named this spring to the position of vice-president for business affairs at the University of Cincinnati. The move was a promotion from associate senior vice-president for business affairs. A former account executive for IBM, Mr. Ullman joined the UC administrative staff in 1976. In the summer of 1977 he was selected to attend the Institute for Education Management program at Harvard, a six-week intensive course for senior level college and university administrators. At age 31, Mr. Ullman is the youngest vice-president in the history of UC.

Rod H. Williamson, Iowa State '72, recently was named assistant director of the National Cyclone Club, fundraising branch of the Iowa State University Athletic Department.

Dr. D. Bruce Thering, Allegheny '74, received the doctor of dental surgery degree in May from Buffalo Dental School and is opening a dental practice in Dunkirk, N. Y.

Don A. Swenson, UCLA '52, after 19 years as a stock broker in Los Angeles, has changed careers, to become managing director of the Rotary Club of Los Angeles. The club is one of the largest in the world, with more than 600 members and a very active program.

George A. Butler, Iowa '23, and George Washington '25, well known Houston attorney, recently was named a knight of San Jacinto at the Sons of the Republic of Texas convention in Victoria. He was cited particularly for making Washington-on-the-Brazos into a beautiful park. Although the honor ordinarily is reserved for those with early-day Texas ancestors, Iowa-born Butler was included because of his exceptional contributions to the Lone Star State.

Cregar

Richard E. Cregar, Michigan State '58, recently was elected to the Board of Directors of the Michigan Restaurant Association. President of CAV Food Services, Inc. and Le Gourmet, Inc., Mr. Cregar also is director of food services for Michigan State University's Management Education Center in Troy, Mich. He is a director of the Business Alumni Association of MSU and a member of the Greater Detroit Management Education Center Foundation. A frequent guest lecturer on campus for the Restaurant School, he also has co-chaired MSU's Detroit Management Conference the past two years.

Nod I. Mulville, Southern California '56, of the Los Angeles-Seiden general agency of National Life Insurance Co. of Vermont, won membership in the 1978 President's Club for being among the firm's outstanding agents nationwide.

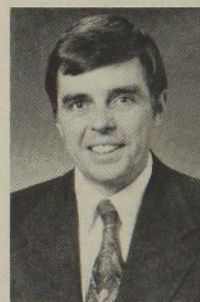

James T. Strahley, GMI '76, has been promoted to assistant employee relations manager and director of labor relations at the Eaton Corporation's Engine Components Division in Saginaw, Mich.

Edler

Richard B. Edler, Iowa '65, has been promoted to senior vice-president and management supervisor at Botsford Ketchum Inc., San Francisco, with responsibility for a major portion of packaged goods and consumer service accounts.

Mr. Edler has been instrumental in BK's new business activities and will continue to serve on the agency's new business committee. Before joining BK, he was a brand manager with Procter & Gamble, Cincinnati, and in advertising with General Electric in Chicago and Schenectady.

Dahlmann

Neil O. Dahlmann, Illinois '64, has been promoted to administrator of project management for American Hospital Supply Corp. (AHSC). In this newly-created position, he directs efforts of all AHSC facilities project managers.

Mr. Dahlmann joined AHSC in 1973 as a project manager, holding that position until his recent promotion. Before joining AHSC, he was vice-president of the D. A. Dahlmann Building Co. of Ann Arbor, Mich. His office is in Evanston, Ill., and he and his family reside in Highland Park.

Michael S. Pollock, Carnegie-Mellon '74, was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine in May and has begun postgraduate training in surgery at the Western Pennsylvania Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Voran

Ray Voran, Jr., Kansas '42, has been promoted from senior vice-president to executive vice president of First Southern Federal Savings and Loan Association, Mobile Alabama. He is responsible for marketing activities of the association, which serves 14 communities with a total of 33 offices. Mr. Voran joined the association in 1947 and has served in a variety of executive positions. He has supervised First Southern's advertising and public relations programs for the past 20 years.

Richard A. Percoco, Florida State '60, owner of Percoco Sails Co., has just completed a new 5,000 sq. ft. sail loft in Seabrook, Tex. Delts visiting Houston are invited to call on Brother Percoco and arrange for a tour of the new facility. In addition, a side trip might be arranged for "sail testing" in the Bay aboard a 37-foot sloop.

Kent F. Minthorn, Whitman '73, is production assistant at the New York City Opera and is assigned as stage manager at the Caramoor Music Festival.

Aitcheson

Navy Capt. George A. Aitcheson, Pittsburgh '52, recently reported to the Staff Office of the Commander-in-Charge of the Pacific Fleet in Pearl Harbor. He recently was relieved of command of the aircraft carrier USS Coral Sea. He commanded more than 4,000 officers and men on a highly successful deployment to the western Pacific, for which the Coral Sea was declared the safest and most operationally ready carrier in the Pacific fleet. Captain Aitcheson has been in the Navy since 1953 and has seen duty as a test pilot, flight instructor, executive officer, and twice as a commanding officer of U. S. Navy vessels. He received his Master's Degree in international relations from George Washington University.

Rushton T. Capers, University of the South '67, recently was assigned by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. to Harrisburg, Pa., where he is marketing services manager for the company's Berg Electronics Division. Previous duPont assignments have taken him to Philadelphia, Charlottesville, New York, and Wilmington.

Ronald L. Gritman, Kansas State '55, has moved to Leucadia, Calif., where he is general manager of Freeman — McFarlin Potteries, a company producing art ceramics for international multifoods.

Lawrence E. Carlson, Wisconsin '67, more commonly known as "Bear," is savoring the Rocky Mountain high in Gold Hill, Colo. He is an associate professor of mechanical engineering at the University of Colorado in Boulder, and an avid hiker and skier.

Day

Douglas W. Day, Oregon '62, chief of the Division of Specifications with Stone, Maraccini and Patterson architects/planners, San Francisco, has been elected for a second consecutive term as vice-president of the Construction Specifications Institute, a national technical society with 132 chapters. He has held numerous offices at the local, regional and national levels of CSI and has been a Fellow of the organization since 1976.

Allen

Thomas Allen, Maryland '62, has been appointed vice-president, sales for Xerox Computer Services, based in Los Angeles. Mr. Allen joined Xerox in 1971 in San Francisco as a consultant. Before accepting his present position, he was national sales manager for Xerox Computer Services. He and his family live in Arcadia, Calif.

J. Ralph King, Kentucky '59, recently was elected to serve as president of the National Inventors Hall of Fame Foundation, Inc. The Foundation is established to honor both living and deceased inventors who have made great contributions to the welfare of the country. Mr. King, an Arlington, Va., attorney, also is chairman-elect of the National Council of Patent Law Associations.

Bailer

John R. Bailer, George Washington '61, a member of the C & P Telephone Company headquarters marketing staff, recently was elected chairman of the Prince George's Community College Board of Trustees. He has been a member since 1970, assuming several senior committee assignments for the Largo, Md., college board. He also is vice-president of the Camp Springs Citizen Association and a member of the Task Force for community education for the Prince George's County Board of Education.

Dr. James R. Dageforde, Butler '72, who was graduated from the Baylor College of Medicine in 1975, is a resident in family practice at the Medical College of Georgia.

Allen

Philip D. Allen, Ohio Wesleyan '33, has retired and is living in the snow country of Grantham, N. H. He entered two seniors cross country ski races, winning gold and silver medals. Consequently, he advises other Delts that the late 60's is a good age to begin skiing.

David B. Moon, Jr., Stanford '64, has been appointed by California Governor Edmund G. Brown, Jr., as judge of the Municipal Court, San Diego Judicial District. Judge Moon was sworn in in February and is in Department Three of the San Diego Municipal Court Trial Department.

Holley

Gilbert W. Holley, Emory '53, Marietta, Ga., has been elected vice-president of the 2,700 member Lockheed-Georgia Co. Chapter of the National Management Association for 1978. NMA is a professional organization of chapters and clubs throughout the United States dedicated to principles of free enterprise.

Thur W. Young, Penn State '59, has been elected district attorney for the County of Potter, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Dr. John C. Rowlingson, Allegheny '70, has joined the staff of the Department of Anesthesiology at the University of Virginia Medical Center, where he has done his residency and fellowship as an assistant professor. His work includes operating duties and continuing research in the Pain Clinic.

Five Delt UCLA graduates of 1932 were together again at their 45th class reunion in January. From left, they are Lewis J. Whitney of Payne Webber; John Talbot, retired cleaning company executive; George Beckwith, retired Bank of America trust officer; Howard McBurney, president of Deutsch Fastener Corp.; and Alberto R. Pearson, retired trucking company executive.

John Salzer, Oregon State '66, has received the Bell System's highest regional award for "noteworthy public service," the Bronze Vail Medal. Mr. Salzer, operator services district manager in Eugene, Ore., was cited by the company for his schedule in preventing injury to lunch hour diners in a Portland restaurant a year ago. While driving on First Ave., Mr. Salzer, who was in Portland on business, saw that another driver evidently had suffered a seizure and was weaving across traffic lanes headed for a restaurant filled with diners. Mr. Salzer steered his company car into the path of the other car and then stopped, enabling the other car to ram the back of his own vehicle. Both automobiles stopped in a vacant lot a few feet from the restaurant. Mr. Salzer was uninjured, and the driver of the other vehicle was treated at a Portland hospital and released.

Douglas J. Fritz, Ohio State '63, in February was appointed division personnel manager for the Mid-Atlantic Division of Kemper Insurance and Financial Companies, moving to Millburn, N. J., from the Chicago area.

Evangelos "Angel" Levas, Kentucky '54, owner of Levas' Restaurant in Lexington, received an award in May from the Downtown Development Commission. The restaurant was co-recipient, along with Lexington Center, of the Kincaid Award, given annually for downtown Lexington improvements which add to the economic and physical character of the community. Levas' new restaurant transformed the former Walgreen building, between Main and Vine Streets, into an elegant restaurant, with seating for 400 persons in its three general, six private dining rooms and cocktail lounge.

Otto A. Silha, Minnesota '40, president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune Co., has been elected to the board of directors of the Associated Press. He also is co-chairman of the Newspaper Readership Council, a newspaper and paper industry group formed to encourage newspaper readership.

Rieder

James L. Rieder, Michigan '59, has been appointed president and chief executive officer of The Stamford Hospital, Stamford, Conn. For the past six years he has been chief executive officer of the Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Los Angeles, largest hospital in the Kaiser Permanente medical care program. Mr. Rieder received a master's degree in business administration from the Sloan Institute of Hospital Administration Graduate School of Business and Public Administration at Cornell University. He served a three-month administrative residency at the Sinai Hospital of Detroit and from 1959 to 1961 was with the Army Medical Corps stationed in the Far East.

Frederick N. Brown, Allegheny '53, is chief of the South Asian News Bureau for the Voice of America.

David W. Hockenbrocht, Allegheny '57, has been appointed president of The Sparton Corp., Jackson, Mich.

U. Thomas Koch, Florida '75, is in his third year of participation in the Saudi Arabian construction boom. He currently is planning and control coordinator for Northrop Corp. From 1975 to 1977 he was with J. A. Jones Construction Co. as field engineer in Riyadh.

Robert S. Mucklestone, Washington '51, a Seattle attorney, was greeted by 150 applauding admirers when he landed at Boeing Field on May 26, after setting a record for an around-the-world flight in a single-engine airplane; seven days and just under 14 hours. Three years ago, he and his son, Peter, Washington '77, were featured in The Rainbow after setting the around-the-world single-engine airplane record at 12 days and three hours. That record was eclipsed by two Colorado fliers with 10 days and 22 hours last year. This time, Pete didn't go because there wasn't any room. The co-pilot's seat and two passenger seats had been removed from the Cessna 210 to accommodate specially constructed tanks increasing the planes fuel capacity from 90 to 330 gallons.

Capt. Thomas R. Pettegrew, Oklahoma State '67, is morale, welfare and recreation non-appropriated fund financial management officer (whew!) at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex.

David M. Jamieson, Duke '41, retired in March after 35 years of federal service with the Air Force. His last assignment was traffic manager at Malmstrom AFB, Mt. Mr. Jamieson lives at Whitefish, Mt.

James H. Prescott, Purdue '35, in May was elected a Fellow of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the society's highest grade of membership. He also retired in May after 13 years with McGraw-Hill Publications in Houston. He had retired earlier from Exxon Corp., after 30 years' service.

Dr. Geoffrey Braden, Cincinnati '72, who received his medical degree from Ohio State, has completed internship and residency at the University of Chicago Hospitals and Clinics and has begun a two-year fellowship in gastroenterology at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital of Harvard Medical School in Boston.

Yeoman

John D. Yeoman, Arizona '66, has been elected president of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce for the 1978-79 administrative year. A senior tax manager with Price Waterhouse in that city, Mr. Yeoman obtained a law degree in 1969 from the University of Arizona and is a licensed attorney in Arizona, where he resided prior to moving to California. He is a member of the American Bar Association and the California Society of Certified Public Accountants.

DESIRABLE QUALITIES

Congratulations should go to Serope Kalpakjian for his article "Observing Youthful Minds" (spring, 1978). The insight and sensitivity demonstrated therein are qualities so desirable in teachers in higher education and advisers within our fraternities. I hope Serope continues to find joy in duty because, through him, I am sure that many others will.

RECORD CHALLENGED

I have read the article "New Membership Record" in the Winter, 1978, issue of the Rainbow. The Ohio State Cochran family is quite large and I think I met one of the men at the 1974 Karnea. However, I'm not sure they hold the "record."

My father, Claude M. Warren, Sr., Indiana '38, has two brothers and four sons, all Indiana University Deltas. They are: Kenneth J. Warren, '33 (deceased); Dr. R. Winston Warren, '43; Lawrence A. Warren, '62; Claude M. Warren, Jr., '66; Bradford L. Warren, '70; and R. Kent Warren, '77.

This is a fact of which I know he is proud and about which I thought you might like to know.

Dr. Thomas D. Graham, Ohio Wesleyan '57, is assistant superintendent, personnel, for the Milwaukee, Wis., Public Schools. Dr. Graham, who received his MA and Ph.D degrees from Ohio State, is an active member at the local, state, and national levels of school administration associations. In addition to teaching and serving as an administrator in both large and small cities, Dr. Graham has served as a consultant in teacher education and educational administration for several colleges and universities, and is a former supervisor of teacher certification for Ohio's Department of Education.

Winston D. Brown, Washington '29, retired board chairman of Howard S. Wright Construction Co., Seattle, was honored in June by the Washington Region of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Mr. Brown was one of three persons who received brotherhood awards at the organization's 26th annual citation dinner.

Matthew B. Townley, Missouri '78, has accepted a job as medical representative for pharmaceutical sales with Arnar-Stone Laboratories, Inc., Lexington, Ky.

MORE SHOW BIZ DELTS

In reference to the article "Performing Deltas" (winter, 1978), here is a further list, all from a short period of Delta Beta (Carnegie-Mellon) history with which I am familiar:

Stanley Watt, '54, actor and member of the National Board of Directors for Screen Actors Guild; William McDonald, '56, special representative of Ice Capades, Los Angeles; John Ragin, '52, plays the part of Dr. Astin to Jack Klugman's Quincy in the TV series "Quincy"; John Bishop, '51, author of the Play "The Trip Down" and the screen play "The Front Runner," as well as a stage director.

THE LIFE AND ART OF ANDREW DUCROW

THE ROMANTIC AGE OF THE ENGLISH CIRCUS

By A. H. Saxon

Archon Books, Hamden, Connecticut

$25.00

The Life and Art of Andrew Ducrow not only is the first and definitive biography of England's most celebrated equestrian and manager (from 1825 to 1841) of the famed Astley's Amphitheatre in London, but chronicles and interprets in unprecedented detail the period in circus history he epitomizes.

Some of the topics explored by this authoritative study by Dr. Arthur H. Saxon, Pittsburgh '57, are the training and education of circus performers, the personnel of circus companies, Negroes and Jews in the early circus, Astley's and its summer season, circus architecture, audiences and their social backgrounds, benefit and command performances, the rivalry between circuses and legitimate theatres, early circus publicity, histrionic horses, elephants, lions and man-monkeys, famous lion trainers, mime, the art of equitation and its famous practitioners, Ducrow's friends, enemies and celebrated contemporaries.

The author, previously acclaimed for a previous book, "Enter Foot and Horse: A History of Hippodrama in England and France", is a versatile scholar whose own life's story would make interesting reading.

After taking his B.A. in writing and biology at the University of Pittsburgh, where he graduated Phi Beta Kappa and summa cum laude, he was for several years a research biochemist and immunologist with the early space program and with laboratories and university hospitals in the Midwest and Northeast.

A recipient of the M.A. degree in English and comparative literature from Columbia University, and a Ph.D. in the history of the theatre from Yale University, he often has taught courses in these subjects and in 1972 inaugurated the first doctoral seminar in the history of popular entertainments at the Graduate School of the City University of New York.

When not pursuing his writing and teaching careers, Dr. Saxon may sometimes be seen sailing off the coast of Westport, Conn., where he lives with his wife and two sons. But he rarely can be reached on Monday evenings. That is when he plays lead trumpet with the Westport Community Band.

HOW TO TRAIN YOUR OWN DOG

By Charles S. Goodall

Howell Book House, New York City

$7.95

Charles S. "Chuck" Goodall, Illinois '30, is the author of four books on hunting dogs. His latest, "How to Train Your Own Gun Dog", released this spring, covers the selection and complete training of the three generic breed types — pointing dogs, springer spaniel flushing dogs and retrievers.

It covers the complete, detailed education of a gun dog from early puppyhood to the two-year-old finished product, and is illustrated by 125 photographs depicting most of the basic training routines for the breeds.

Mr. Goodall, a retired national sales manager of the E. R. Moore Co. in Chicago, now resides in the Ozarks at Lakeview, Ark., with his wife, Zelda, and a parcel of gun dogs.

In addition to his books, he has written more than 250 articles on hunting and fishing for many outdoor publications. He has served as judge at more than 100 field trials and has placed his home trained gun dogs in more than 100 other field trials.

Mr. Goodall's life-long love for fine hunting dogs has made him one of the nation's recognized authorities on the subject. His new book is clear, comprehensive, and certain to appeal to dog owners who are more interested in getting realistic training ideas than in reading light, happy tales of man's best friend.

MAINE

ON MAY 1, chapter President Dick Martin and I attended Gamma Nu initiation. We left South Portland early, enjoying brilliant sun and scant traffic to Bangor, past Orono to Fraternity Row, and there was the dear old shelter. Newly painted white colonnades and trim shone in the morning sun; the house was newly covered with white vinyl siding, and black aluminum shutters enhancing the colonial styling.

We entered and met the "dawn patrol," armed with brooms, mops, pails and brushes. They were attired in gum rubbers, sandals, skivvies, shorts, and sawed-off pants. We escaped to the safety of Chef Chet Dyer's domain, where we soon enjoyed hot coffee and blueberry cake square. The morning passed quickly. In the trophy room was a picture of the first Delt house, and Dick found a picture of his Uncle Tom Martin, a physician for the past 50 years. There was the old porch that new initiates took over to wind up the "rushing machine," whistle at the fair coeds, and remind the campus they were kings of all they surveyed.

The softball team practiced to retain last year's title. Brothers kept entering. Suddenly we were gathered at dinner. A brother said the beautiful Delt Grace, and then we were served by actives. Tradition gives pledges this day off from duties. Our chef had prepared a bountiful steak dinner.

We talked with brothers about 1978 and this fall's 70th birthday of Gamma Nu Chapter (see undergraduate chapter report). The last chapter birthday this writer recalls was 1928, at which time a reunion picture was taken.

the alumni chapters

We both suggest, very sincerely, to all Delt brothers, that you take a Sunday and spend it at your old shelter or any nearby chapter. You will enjoy the feeling of rejuvenation and the sense of brotherhood when you break bread with these young men. You also may encourage them in continuing efforts to make Delta Tau Delta the Fraternity of all our hearts, always.

ATLANTA

Spring brought revival of the Atlanta Alumni Chapter. Having been inactive for several years, the revival is welcomed by many alumni wishing to continue their Fraternal association.

Elected officers for this year are President Mike Deal, Vice-President Rusty Carlisle, Treasurer Tyrone Bridges, and Secretary John Werner. At the June meeting, three permanent committees were established. They are the Rush Committee, chaired by Troy Poss, Social Committee, chaired by Pete Camuro, and Membership Committee, chaired by Pat Crenshaw.

One of the first activities of the Alumni Chapter is a rush party at Lake Lanier for Delts from all over the state. It is hoped that this will serve not only as an aid to rush, but to strengthen relations between alumni and undergraduates. All Delts are welcome to attend.

Meetings of the Atlanta Alumni Chapter are held at 7 p.m. on the first Thursday of each month at the Western Sizzlin on Buford Highway at Northeast Plaza. All Delt alumni are urged to join the Chapter.

CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND Alumni Chapter has changed location of its weekly Friday noon luncheon. The group now meets at the "Communicators' Club" dining room in the Cleveland Plaza Hotel, Euclid Ave. and East 12th St., in downtown Cleveland.

The writer has been advised that the new location is great. It is hoped that many more alumni who are in the downtown area on Fridays will make an effort to drop in for lunch.

Friday, April 28, found a number of the brothers at Zeta Chapter for a combined Founders Day and Zeta initiation banquet. Alumni were impressed by the remodeled first floor of the chapter house, and the fine dinner.

Marion R. "Lew" Llewellyn, president of the Eastern Division of Delta Tau Delta, came from Erie, Pa., and gave an excellent review of the state of the Fraternity and Delt activity nationally, including up-to-date information on the Founders' House restoration at Bethany.

Bob Boord, alumni chapter president, and his associates are working on an expanded program of activity for fall. Several evening activities are being considered to present opportunities of the alumni association for those who cannot attend the Friday luncheons.

Secretary

Fifty years ago, returning Delts at the University of Maine posed for this reunion photograph. A 70th anniversary homecoming is being planned for November 11.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

ALL SIGNS point to a big year for the National Capital Alumni Chapter. New officers planning a broad range of activities for Delts in the nation's capital include President Robert D. Johnson, Florida State '59; Vice-President James A. Eskin, George Washington '75; and Secretary-Treasurer Jeffrey J. Thurston, George Washington '77.

Primary focus of activity will be on a comprehensive Career Guidance program. Its purpose will be to offer the experience and expertise of alumni to undergraduates in the general area. Career Day workshops have been scheduled this fall for George Washington University and the University of Maryland to kick off this effort.

The March 31 Founders Day Dinner brought a record turn-out for recent celebrations, with more than 140 Delts and sweethearts in attendance. Special guest speakers included Fraternity President Fred Kershner and Dr.

William Medina, assistant secretary for administration at the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Six 50-year Delts were honored at the gathering. (And wouldn't you know it — Chapter Consultant Greg Pier, who was in town for field work, won the evening's door prize.)

It is with deepest sorrow that we report the passing of Brother Bob Newby. National Capital Delts had no better friend. An officer of this organization for nearly 30 years, Bob unselfishly served the Fraternity in the true spirit of Delta Tau Delta, always willing to extend his hand to a brother in need of help. Bob's achievements, including 22 distinguished years of service in the FBI and leadership in several civic organizations, are too long to list. But his life was probably aptly described by one of his granddaughters, who said, "He lived almost 78 years and was only old for three days."

James Eskin
Vice-President

SAN DIEGO

Sixty persons, including chapter members, wives and sweethearts attended a Founders Day celebration at LaJolla Country Club May 25. Ross Hall, newly elected chapter president, presided at the dinner program.

Other new officers are Bruce Havecotte, vice-president, and George Adamson, secretary-treasurer.

Retiring President Paul A. Skinner gave a brief account of events during the past year, and his brother, Ted Skinner, presented an entertaining talk on Delt history.

Ms. Judith Wolf, a distinguished television producer in San Diego, was featured speaker, giving a stimulating account of "Inside Public Television."

The San Diego Alumni Chapter holds its regular luncheon meetings on the fourth Tuesday of each month at Botsford's in La Jolla.

BASEBALL

ONE of the top outfielders in the Southwest Conference was Texas Tech University junior

Randy Newton
Texas Tech

RANDY NEWTON who was either first or second in every hitting category. He led the squad in runs batted in, at bats, doubles, and triples and finished second in batting average, homers, hits, runs scored, and stolen bases (12). Randy's 12 doubles were the most two-baggers in a season by a Delt since BILL BERRYHILL of Texas hit the same number in 1973.

Joining Randy on the Red Raider squad was senior STEVE WHITTON who saw action as a pitcher, first baseman, and designated hitter.

Bowling Green State University senior JOHN MITCHELL emerged from three years of reserve status to become the Falcons' second-leading hitter. He was instrumental in the team's 33-15-1 season and had some big games. He beat Heidelberg twice with game-winning hits in the last inning and socked a three-run homer in a win over Ball State.

Oregon University senior KEVIN TABLER also showed great improvement, going from reserve catcher in 1977 to an outfield regular in 1978. Despite missing some playing time with injuries he finished fourth in hitting for the Ducks. Also seeing action for Oregon was outfielder-first baseman MIKE BURKE.

The University of Missouri had a fine 35-18 year and was Big Eight runnerup. A big factor in the Tigers' success was the fine pitching of soph MIKE PFAUTSCH who had a perfect record and led the staff in earned run average.

Three Delt stars led Allegheny College to a good 14-8 season. Catcher MIKE MAROPIS was named to the All-PAC team for the third straight year after leading the team in batting average, hits, at bats, and fielding. He finished his career with a .312 average over 80 games. Soph TIM MILLER moved into a starting spot at second base while third baseman STEVE KAZLEY started for the third year.

Third sacker CHRIS RAPER had a good senior year for the University of Texas as the Longhorns were 36-16. He finished second in batting. Junior JOHN PYLE did a good job for Stanford University as a designated hitter and was the team's third-leading hitter. The Cardinals, coached by MARK MARQUESS, Stanford '69, had a good 35-20-1 season.

Two Delt stars helped lead the University of Delaware to a good 34-17 year and a third place finish at the NCAA Northeast tournament. Soph pitcher BO DENNIS led the team in earned run average, was second in strikeouts, and third in innings pitched. Outfielder STEVE CAMPER started for the third year and was second in homers. He finished his career with 15 round-trippers.

Another player who really showed improvement this past season was soph DON MIKUSH of Duke University. A reserve infielder as a freshman, he became the Blue Devils' top pitcher in 1978, leading the staff in victories, innings pitched, and complete games. Among his best performances were a 5-0 shutout over Virginia Commonwealth, a 4-3 complete game win over Wake Forest, and a 5-1 complete game victory against Guilford. Senior hurler KIRK LOUDERBACK won his third letter for the Blue Devils and soph DAVE GOING was the team's backup catcher.

The Lawrence University Vikings, coached by RICH AGNESS, Lawrence '67, won their second straight Midwest Conference northern division title as several Delts had good seasons. Despite a sub-par year at bat, co-captain GEOFF GRIEVE won the team's fielding award for playing errorless ball for the second straight season. He finished his career with a .307 batting average and .994 fielding average (only 4 errors in 694 chances). Second baseman MIKE LADEVICH started for the second year and was named to the All-Midwest Conference first team. He finished second in homers and RBI's and third in hits, runs scored, and total bases. Reserve catcher BILL DRENNAN was a co-winner of the team spirit award.

Junior outfielder RANDY HEATH was one of only three players to appear in every game for Kansas State University despite not hitting as well as he did in 1977. Soph JIM MCCORMICK moved into Lehigh University's starting lineup and had a good season. The left-handed hitting outfielder was the team RBI leader. Senior CHRIS MACHEN was a key figure on the Westminster College squad.

Two Delts were regulars for Washington and Lee University. Junior first baseman MIKE BUSBEY had a disastrous season at bat after leading the team in hitting in 1977. However, he did lead the team in walks with 24 and didn't commit an error in 124 chances. Soph DON SWAGGART was a regular in the outfield and was fourth in team batting.

Stevens Tech's squad got good performances from three Delt players. Junior first sacker TOM PALILONIS led the team in hits and home runs, tied for the lead in RBI's, and was third in hitting. Freshman outfielder GLENN CIPRIANI tied Tom for the RBI lead and junior PETE TYMUS pitched effectively.

Two Delts were standouts again for Illinois Tech. Senior KEVIN KLEIN led the team in innings pitched, strikeouts, games, and complete games. He finished his career as one of the Fraternity's all-time leaders in strikeouts with 212 in 224 innings. Junior catcher CURT WILCHER was elected co-captain for next year after his third year as a regular. He tied for the team RBI lead and was a co-winner of the school's John J. Schommer Scholarship for excellence in athletics and scholastics.

Willamette University soph AARON UENO didn't hit as well as he did in 1977 and shifted from the outfield to first base. Freshman second baseman BENNY WATERFIELD saw a lot of action for the University of the South and junior MURRAY CLARK was a part-time starter at third base for Kenyon College. Freshman TOM KIENSTRA was a regular behind the plate for Baker University. Freshman DAN STITES saw mound duty for Butler University as the Bulldogs had a 20-14 record and a second place finish in the Indiana Collegiate Conference.

AL OERTER, Kansas '58, continues his amazing trek toward a shot at a fifth Olympic Gold Medal in 1980. This spring, he threw the discus over 200 feet, the goal he had set for himself in 1978. He continues to maintain a rigid training program which has him holding his weight at 275 and bench pressing 475 pounds. He hopes to reach 225 feet in the discus by 1980 which should qualify him for a place on the Olympic team.

secutive year after placing fourth in the shot put and discus at the NCAA Division III championships. Earlier at the Midwest Conference meet, he won the discus (165-3), was second in javelin (184-6) and shot put (51-3), and anchored the fifth-place mile relay squad. Ron has also participated in the long jump and 100-yard dash and is considering training for the decathlon next year.

One of the Fraternity's all-time best performers in the decathlon is junior co-captain JEFF OPELT of Bowling Green State University. He scored 6829 points, second-best total in school history, at the Mid-American Conference meet and is the school record holder in the pole vault at 15-6½. Among Jeff's other top performances were 185-3 in the javelin and 136-4 in the discus. Also competing for BGSU was pole vaulter JOEL BENDER.

Cornell University had an outstanding season and the Baginski brothers were instrumental in the team's success. Senior PAUL BAGINSKI was voted the most improved field events performer by his teammates and won the Heptagonal outdoor championship in the discus. He broke his own school record in the event with a throw of 174-4. By winning the discus in a dual meet against Pennsylvania, Paul earned a spot on the combined Cornell-Penn team which toured England, Scotland, and Ireland this summer.

Paul's brother, soph STEVE BAGINSKI, performed well during both the indoor and outdoor seasons. Indoors, he threw the 35-lb. weight and placed sixth at the IC4A meet. He went to the NCAA meet but failed to place. His best throw was 61-1½ against Army in late January. When the outdoor season came along, Steve switched to the hammer throw, an event in which he earned USTFF All-American honors in 1977. A nagging back injury handicapped him but he still managed to throw the hammer 178 feet against Pennsylvania to qualify for a spot on the Cornell-Penn touring squad.

Lehigh University senior co-captain BUDDY JARRELL had a fine year as a javelin thrower and showed tremendous improvement over his junior year. He placed third at the IC4A championships with a throw of 233-2. Soph BRUCE ALEXANDER of Oregon State University also competed in the javelin and had a season's best of 207-6. Stanford University senior MARK HILL won his third letter and had a best discus throw of 156 feet.

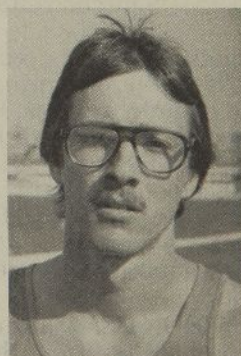

Idaho University senior DOUG BECKMAN posted best times of 1:53.5 for 800 meters and 3:50.5 for 1500 meters. He participated in the Big Sky Conference championships. Westminster College senior RODGER LARAMORE, a former All-American, had another fine season in the 110 meter high hurdles.

Three Delts had productive seasons for Bethany College. Freshman DAVE BLANER placed in three events at the Presidents' Athletic Conference meet: second place with the 440-yard relay team; fourth in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles; and sixth with the mile relay team. Freshman STEVE PETERSON had a best time of 4:20.1 in the mile and junior TONY BEACHUM hit 6-0 in the high jump.

Soph DERRAN WIMER of Allegheny College placed second in the shot put at the Presidents' Athletic Conference meet. Two Delts, ERIC CHRISTIANSEN and KELLY O'BRIEN, saw action in the distance running events for Penn State University. Soph GREG FOGLEMAN did a good job in the 440 for the University of the South.

The Albion College freshmen had good seasons. JIM CARR was on the school's record-setting mile relay team and placed fifth in the 400 meter dash at the MIAA meet. Jim and GARY ZIVISLAK were on the 1600 meter relay team that finished second at the MIAA meet. At the University of Maine, MARK SIEGEL had a best of 13-6 in the pole vault while BOB LaPRADE participated in the weight events.

Pole vaulter JACK WOLHUETER of the University of South Dakota placed third in the Viking Twilight meet with a vault of 13 feet. Other trackmen who made contributions to their teams were RORY LITTLE and ALLAN LINTEL of Virginia, hurdler JOHN WOZNIAK and sprinter FRED BERRETTA of M.I.T., miler JACK LANGFORD of Middle Tennessee State, and RUSSELL BOWLES of Duke.

SWIMMING

Two NCAA Division III national champions and four other Delt All-Americans were key figures on the Kenyon College squad that finished third at the NCAA meet. Junior TIM BRIDGHAM won the 100 Backstroke for the second straight year in a new national record of 53.4; set varsity marks of 1:57.6 in the 200 IM medley and 1:58 in the 200 Backstroke; swam the anchor leg on the 880 Freestyle Relay team and swam a leg on the 400 Freestyle Relay team.

Kenyon's other national champion was soph TIM GLASSER who won the 100 Butterfly, setting a new varsity mark of 51.5. He placed second in the 200 Butterfly with a 1:54.2 clocking; swam the 500 Freestyle; and led off both the 400 and 800 Freestyle Relay squads.

Soph STEVE PENN gained All-American honors in three events, placing sixth in the 200 Freestyle and swimming on the 400 and 800 Freestyle Relay squads. The other All-Americans were freshman STEVE COUNSELL who placed seventh in the 400 IM; freshman MARK FOREMAN who set a new varsity mark in the 200 Breaststroke; and tri-captain JIM ROBROCK who earned All-American honors for the third year as a member of the 400 Freestyle Relay team.

Prior to the NCAA meet, Kenyon won its 25th consecutive OAC crown despite the fact that the three top men (Bridgham, Glasser, and Penn) didn't compete. Those who did well at the OAC meet were Steve Counsell who set new OAC marks in the 200 and 400 IM's, won the 200 Breaststroke, and was on the winning 400 Freestyle Relay team; Mark Foreman, who swam on the winning 400 Medley Relay team, placed second in the 100 Breaststroke, and third in the 200 IM and 200 Breaststroke; and Jim Robrock, who was on the 400 Medley Relay and Freestyle Relay squads, finished second in the 100 Freestyle, and third in the 200 Freestyle.

Other Delt standouts at the OAC meet were freshman BILL FULLMER, a member of the 400 Medley Relay team, second in the 100 Butterfly and third in the 200 Butterfly; freshman JIM PARKER, third in the 1650 Freestyle and fifth in the 500 Freestyle; and senior TODD RUPPERT, winner of the 200 Backstroke, a member of the 400 Medley Relay squad, and second in the 100 Backstroke.

Also squad members at Kenyon were tri-captain PETE ZIMMERMAN and former All-Americans PETE DOLAN, DOUG HOFFER, DAVE MCGUE, and DAVE MITCHELL. Of the 28 men on the Kenyon swimming team, 21 are Deltas.

Two more Delt All-Americans were contributed by Wabash College which placed sixth at the NCAA Division III meet. Junior RALPH DIXON earned All-American status in five events. He was third in the 50 Freestyle with a new school record of 21.81; was on the third place 400 Medley Relay team and the seventh place 400 Freestyle Relay team; and placed seventh in both the 100 Backstroke and 200 Backstroke.

The other Wabash All-American repeater was junior KEVIN SCHEID who swam on the third place 400 Freestyle Relay team. Soph CHRIS HUTSON also had a good season and just missed making All-American with the 800 Freestyle Relay team which placed thirteenth.

Senior CRAIG DOUGHERTY, a former All-American, competed in the NCAA Division III finals once again and led a group of four lettermen on the Tufts University squad. He became the first Tufts swimmer to capture first place at the New England Swimming and Diving Championships by winning the 50 Freestyle in 21.0. He was also on the fifth place 400 Freestyle Relay team. Other key swimmers at Tufts were senior FRANK CAMMISA and juniors MITCH DYNAN and CHRIS LUCANDER.

Four Bethany College Deltas placed at the Presidents' Athletic Conference meet last winter. Junior co-captain GEORGE COUCH had tenth place finishes in the 100 and 200 Breaststroke events. Soph STEVE BURFIELD was eighth in the 100 Backstroke and eleventh in the 200 Backstroke. Freshman STEVE EBBETTS was eighth in the 100 Breaststroke and twelfth in the 200 Breaststroke. Soph ERIC SCHULT placed twelfth in the 200 Freestyle. Burfield, Ebbetts, and Schult swam on the fifth place 800 Freestyle Relay team and the seventh place 400 Freestyle Relay team. Burfield and Couch were on the seventh place 400 Medley Relay squad.

LACROSSE

Junior attacker JEFF FRITZ helped lead Washington and Lee University to another fine season as the Generals were 9-5 and went to the NCAA quarterfinals. He was second in goals with 27 and second in scoring with 48 points. Jeff earned All-American honorable mention and was elected a tri-captain for next year. He won the team's Cannon Award as player of the game against North Carolina State. Senior midfielder MARK DERBYSHIRE won the Martin Memorial Award for "spirit, desire, and dedication." He won the Cannon Award against Rutgers and Hofstra.

A number of Delts were standouts at Stevens Tech. Senior MIKE ANTIERI had a team-leading 18 goals and 7 assists. Soph DENNIS LANG contributed 15 goals and 5 assists and was named to the All-Knickerbocker Lacrosse League second team. Soph PAT CARAMANTE also showed good improvement with 13 goals and 4 assists. Junior RICH GOBIELE did a fine job on defense for Stevens as did senior JOE FRANCOMANO.

Freshman RAY WERNER saw action as a goalie for Penn State University. He played in 6 games and posted 27 saves. Other fine players were TOM SHOOK of Bowling Green State, DAVE YORK of M.I.T., and JOE FASANO of Lawrence University.

FOOTBALL

In the NFL draft, Stanford University All-American tackle GORDON KING was the tenth player selected and should move into the New York Giants' starting offensive line this fall. Lehigh University's MIKE RIEKER went to the New Orleans Saints in the sixth round and is given a good chance to become the team's number three quarterback. Texas Tech linebacker MIKE MOCK was picked up by the New York Jets in the eighth round and will also be tested as a punter.

Veteran wide receiver RANDY VATAHA, Stanford '71, has announced his retirement from pro football. One of the game's outstanding small players, he spent six years with the New England Patriots before joining Green Bay prior to the start of the 1977 season. He concluded his career with 188 catches for 3164 yards and 23 touchdowns.

Defensive lineman PETE LAZETICH, Stanford '72, was traded by the Philadelphia Eagles to the Buffalo Bills for a future draft choice prior to the start of training camp. Linebacker JOHN OLENCHALK, Stanford '77, signed as a free agent with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League. Last fall, he starred with the San Jose Tigers, one of minor league pro football's top teams. Stanford's MARK HILL signed with Buffalo as a free agent and will be tried at center and offensive guard.

Long-time assistant BOB KAPPES, Miami '50, was named acting head coach at Ohio University. The untimely death of head coach Bill Hess in early summer elevated Bob to the top spot after 20 years as an assistant at Ohio.

BASKETBALL

University of Kentucky All-American RICK ROBEY was the third player selected in the NBA's June draft. He was picked by the Indiana Pacers which means that BOB LEONARD, Indiana '54, will be his coach and general manager. On his selection by the Pacers, Rick said, "I like to bang heads. Making the NBA as a big forward is my goal now. I talked to coach Leonard and they expect me to be a tough defensive forward."

Our only pro basketball player of the past season, MIKE BRATZ, Stanford '77, concluded a good rookie year with the Phoenix Suns. He saw action in 80 of the team's 82 games and scored 374 points (4.7 average), not bad considering he averaged only 11.7 minutes per game.

Long-time assistant coach RICH FALK, Northwestern '64, has been elevated to the head coaching post at his alma mater. As a player, he was one of the top scorers in school history and later served nine years as an assistant at NU. Following his appointment, Rich said "I'm pleased with the tremendous amount of support I've received from our players, staff, alumni, and news people. I hope this is a precedent to the type of support our program will receive in the coming season." Among his returning veteran players are four Delt undergrads: BOB SVETE, PETE BOESEN, JOHN EAGAN, and BILL FENLON.

Illinois Tech senior KEVIN KLEIN was named an alternate for an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship for his basketball and scholastic efforts. His teammate, junior DOUG BONTHRON, was a co-winner of the John J. Schommer Scholarship for excellence in athletics and scholastics.

SOCCER

KYLE ROTE, University of the South '72, was having another good season in the North American Soccer League before being sidelined by a knee injury. He was the NASL offensive player of the week after scoring a goal and 2 assists in a 3-0 win over Houston. Kyle's most recent book, "Complete Book of Soccer," was published by Simon and Schuster this spring.

GOLF

Auburn University senior BUD SMITH played in the Southeastern Conference championships for the fourth straight year and averaged 79 for the season, a bit off the pace of his previous seasons. He earned All-SEC honors in three of his four seasons and is planning to attend PGA Qualifying School.

Senior LEW STEADMAN of Northwestern University played in the Big Ten meet and posted a 334 for the four rounds. Junior TOM TRUITT averaged 81.9 for seven rounds of play with the Miami University squad. Three seniors, BLAIR VAN DIVER, CHARLIE MILLARD, and PERRY NORRIS were among the leading players for Butler University. JOEY JOSEPH and ROB SIMPSON were leaders on the University of Maine team. DANNY MARLEY was the number one player at East Texas State University.

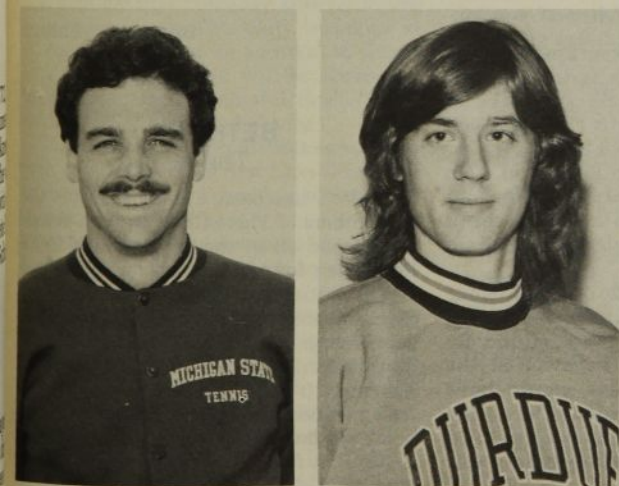

TENNIS

Three-year standout GARY IRICK led the Baker University squad, coached by his father, JIM IRICK, Baker '48, to the Heart of America Conference championship once again. Gary had a great 17-1 singles record and won the HAC number one singles crown. In number one doubles, he was 10-4. An outstanding student, Gary has a perfect 4.0 average.

Michigan State University senior TIGHE KEATING played number one singles and doubles all year and was in the Big Ten championships. Another Big Ten senior, LUKE GROSSMAN of Purdue University, was the Boilermakers' number one player again and was the tennis team's nominee for the school's Guy "Red" Mackey Scholarship for post-graduate study.

Kenyon College had a fine 8-1 dual meet record and a third place OAC finish. The team's top player was CHRIS VANDENBERG who had a 9-4 record and placed second in number one singles at the OAC meet. Teammate STUART SIEGEL was 3-0 in number seven singles.

Junior KEN ZIRM of Bethany College and his partner won the Presidents' Athletic Conference number one doubles competition. They went into the tourney as the fourth-seeded duo and upset the number one seed in the semi-finals. Then they beat the number three seed in the finals. Ken played number one singles and doubles all season.

Wrestling — STEVE EGESDAL, Minnesota
Baseball — RANDY NEWTON, Texas Tech
Track — RON WOPAT, Lawrence
Lacrosse — JEFF FRITZ, Washington and Lee
Tennis — GARY IRICK, Baker
Golf — BUD SMITH, Auburn

Two Delts were among the top players for Albion College. Junior captain MIKE FARAH was named MVP and re-elected captain for next year. He was 5-4 in number one singles and 4-6 in number one doubles. At the MIAA meet, Mike placed third in number one singles and fourth in number one doubles. Soph JOEL COCHRAN posted a 4-6 mark while alternating between number two and three singles. He placed fourth in number two singles at the MIAA meet.

DOUG GAKER of Washington and Lee University was a first team All-ODAC selection in both number four singles and number three doubles. Other good players during the season were junior TOM GAULT of the University of Pittsburgh and soph DAVE MAUER of Iowa State University.

SAILING

Soph skipper JOE PETRUCCI of Tufts University was a key member of the school's squad and competed in the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association's North American Championships in June. Joe skippered Tufts to victories in the Sugar Bowl and Boston Dinghy Cup regattas this season. Also on the team were sophs DAVE NICKERSON and GEORGE LEMING.

RIFLERY

Senior STEVE BRITTINGHAM captained the Western Kentucky University team and was nominated for NRA Collegiate All-American honors. He led the team in scoring in all but one match and averaged 283 for the year out of a possible 300. In a two match series, he had a high of 569 of a possible 600 score.

JOHN WALKER of the University of Georgia had an outstanding season and set a new school record with 560 out of 600 against Auburn in a dual meet. Soph PAT FULMER captained the Jacksonville State University squad and was aided by COLEMAN LEDFORD, BILL PUCKETT, and MATT WARNOCK. Senior RANDY SMITH performed well for Lehigh University.

ALLEGHENY Alpha

IN HER 115th year, Alpha has had another extremely productive and eventful year. Beginning with informal rush in September to the last day of finals in June, there was a 100% effort behind every project by the brotherhood.

Robert Dornhaffer ('51), who has been Alpha's chapter adviser for the last 10 years, has resigned. Though we have given Bob plaques in recognition of his dedicated service to Alpha, we can not sum up adequately in writing our sincerest thanks to him. Gary Kelsey ('75) will be Alpha's next chapter adviser.

Our rush program, headed by senior Jeff Fichter, had another excellent year. This year the program finished with a pledge class of 27 new men for the second year in a row. This brings our active strength up to a total of 80 men.

Academically Alpha is maintaining and improving her standards and goals. This year Alpha ranked third out of seven fraternities on campus. Individual brothers who have gained recognition for their accomplishments are: Phi Beta Kappa: Scott Crandall, Jeff Fichter, and Steve Kazely. Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities: Jeff Fichter, Lew Fischer, Robert A. J. Hawkes, and Jim Morford. In addition, 12 brothers were honored by National Fraternity for their achievements.

This year was our first annual walk-a-thon from Meadville to Cleveland to benefit the Holy Family Home for terminally ill cancer patients. Headed by Derran Wimer, $6,300 was collected by 55 brothers and 2 little sisters in three days along the 150-mile distance. Right after the walk, Alpha donated the most blood to the Red Cross. Hopefully, the walk will become another tradition for years to come.

BALL STATE Epsilon Mu

TOP PRIORITY news from Epsilon Mu is of our victory in this spring's annual bike-a-thon on the Ball State campus. Leading the way on the 80-mile ride for a Delt victory were brothers Chad Bailey, Al Hec-kendorn, Pat Kohne, Jim Reed, and Alan Updike. This is only the sixth year that our chapter has entered teams in the race, so our sun visors are off to the riders for their hard work.

Another high point in the quarter was our third-place finish with Alpha Omicron Pi in the annual Spring Sing competition. By everyone's enthusiastic behavior at the party after the show, one would have thought that the Delts brought home the first place trophy. Congratulations go to Ed Bertholet for his fine coordination of this successful event.

Older news includes activating 27 of our original fall pledge class of 32. During spring rush we took six fine pledges and expect to activate them very early in the fall. We are not losing nearly so many seniors to graduation, so at the present time our expectation is that the shelter will be full at the open of autumn quarter for the first time in several autumns.

Our most immediate plans call for improvement of the shelter including a storage shed for bikes and lawn equipment, new carpeting on the ground floor, and replacing some abused doors. It was a good year for Epsilon Mu, and we hope to top it off with a successful rush early next fall.

BETHANY Theta

SPRING has been a busy time for the brothers of Theta Chapter, with activities capped off by the dedication of Delta Tau Delta's founding house on April 23.

With national officers and many other Delts on hand, current Theta Chapter President George Couch received memorabilia from Fraternity President Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, Jr. The dedication marked the "re-activation" of the fraternity's founding house for the first time since the late 1800's.

The first formal use of the house came soon after dedication; as the brothers of Theta chapter initiated their newest member, Hal A. Leu, in the original house. Ceremonies were held in the same small room in which the eight founding members took their oath into Delta Tau Delta fraternity nearly 120 years ago. Theta chapter plans to activate 11 new brothers in the original house next fall.

The highlight of the Delts' social activities came in late April, with their first spring week-end away from the Bethany campus. Actives, pledges and their dates enjoyed the beauty and recreational facilities of Salt Fork State Park in Cambridge, Ohio.

The Delts ended spring term with a final get-together in Brooke Hill Park in nearby Wellsburg, W. Va.

The brothers of Theta chapter look forward to a good fall term, with more activations planned in the founding house, and a full social calendar.

BOWLING GREEN Delta Tau

THE MEN of Delta Tau Delta have spent the year training and developing leadership skills in our younger brothers to replace those of our 19 graduating seniors.

Thirty-six chapters from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin and Michigan were represented at this year's Regional Conference held in Bowling Green. Here officer responsibility, new rush techniques, treasurer workshops and other intricate aspects of the house were discussed.

On April 29, 1978, the chapter celebrated its 30th Anniversary at the Holiday Inn. Many of the founding members, ranging as far back as the class of 1948, honored us with their distinct presence, some traveling as far as from Texas, Wisconsin, & Tennessee. It was a true pleasure and experience watching these alumni catch up on many lost years with friends that were once and still are, so close.

The annual "Show Off Your Tan" party was held the first Thursday after returning from spring break. This party was open to all campus students. In addition to this, a superstars competition will be sponsored for the first time. If successful, this will also be adopted as a yearly festivity.

The house intends to institute a summer rush program for the first time. This will enable us to get to know hometown boys planning to attend the B.G.S.U. Our plans are to meet these young men and help them prepare for and learn what to expect from college life.

As the year ends, a review of some of the highlights are: the addition of 32 brothers; improvement of the house accrue from a 2.2 to a 2.4; our new house sweetheart, Lynne Chappel; a lil' sis program of 64; 3rd place in the Sigma Nu beer chugging contest; 3rd in the Delta Upsilon bike race; 1st in Greek Week; and all around 3rd place in intramural sports.

Bill Bartone

Bowling Green's John Thomas Mitchell, a June graduate, was IFC president, Outstanding Greek Man, Mid-American Interfraternity Council vice-president, an organizer of the Eastern Regional Conference, and winner of the Appreciation award for service to the University, all in 1977-78.

BUTLER Beta Zeta

BETA ZETA enjoyed a successful spring semester on the Butler campus. Butler Delts capped off a year of intramurals with victories in volleyball, track, and tennis. Having placed second for a number of years, the Delts' quest for the intramural crown was finally achieved this spring as we captured the all-sports trophy.

Delts continued to lead on campus in other areas as well. Paired with the women of Kappa Kappa Gamma, we placed first in this year's annual Spring Sing competition, performing a medley of Duke Ellington hits. In the Spring Weekend competition, Delts outscored all other Butler fraternities, and paired with Delta Gamma sorority, raised the most money for the American Cancer Society in the all-campus Teeter-Totter-a-Thon.

For the past several years Beta Zeta has grown to the point of lacking space in the shelter for all the members. We hope to alleviate some of the problem with the addition of three rooms in one of the areas of the shelter this summer. Hopefully this "problem" is an indication of a successful program and will allow us to be very selective during rush.

Our little sister program is still going strong; this past year 85 girls participated in the program. We're looking forward to their support in the upcoming rush campaign beginning in August.

UCLA Delta Iota

THE 1978 Spring quarter was a very active one for the Delts at UCLA. Much emphasis was placed on establishing a regular alumni program, as well as on returning Delta Tau Delta to its place of academic and social prominence among the UCLA fraternities.

A keg roll for Muscular Dystrophy, with the USC Delts, netted both money for the charity and an excellent time for both houses. The return of the Delts to UCLA's annual Mardi Gras (with a very successful booth); a well attended alumni dinner, and the reinstitution of the Delt Formal were only several of the activities slated to become annual events.

A new house administration was also ushered in. Craig Koester replaced retiring President Phil Ramming, and in the short time he has been in office, Craig has shown that he will be both a capable and beneficial leader. Craig will be ably assisted by new Vice-President Scott Schinnerer.

Many thanks go to Alumni Association head Scott Nealy for his hard work in organizing our alumni functions this year. Several functions, including busses to home football games and victory parties, are already on the agenda for next fall.

We cordially invite all DI alums to participate in our alumni program, and welcome both your inquiries of and your presence at these functions. (Address correspondence to: Alum Chair., DTD, 649 Gayley Ave. L.A. 90024) We look forward to seeing you.

CASE WESTERN RESERVE Zeta

ZETA CHAPTER closed the spring '78 semester with the initiation of eight men into the chapter on April 28, following the annual Founders' Day banquet at the shelter. About 25 Cleveland-area alumni joined the activities to create a very enjoyable reunion.

On March 31, the Chapter did its part for the "Delts Tackle Dystrophy" program by raising almost $500 through an auction of some of Case Reserve's more popular faculty, administrators, and staff. The auction allowed campus members to bid on and buy these "slaves" for a task which the buyer would designate. CWRU's President Louis Toepfer sold for $71 to top all other participants. It is hoped that the auction will become an annual tradition at Zeta.

The Chapter congratulates 1978 graduate Dave Criner and 1977 Chapter Sweetheart Vivian Lioon, who tied the knot on June 24. Will Spiegelberg, Zeta '78, will begin his law studies this fall at Cleveland State's Marshall Law School. Boudan Tataryn, Zeta Jan. '78, has begun working on his masters degree as an anesthesiologist's assistant at Emory University in Atlanta, and Tom McConnell, Zeta '77, will attend Ohio University's School of Osteopathic Medicine in Athens, beginning this fall.

CINCINNATI Gamma Xi

GAMMA XI is on the move! In January, about 120 Delt undergraduates, pledges, alumni and their dates and wives gathered at the Cincinnati Club for a testimonial to Dan Earley, our past chapter adviser of nine years.

February 10 was the date of the Sig Ep's annual Queen of Hearts Dance, which the Delts attended in great number. Bill Kavanagh organized a fantastic candlelight dinner for the Delts and their dates — 45 couples — before the dance at Music Hall. Our annual Roundup was a great success, with dinner, awards, and dancing at this March 4 affair. The Mothers' Club held a Monte Carlo night at the shelter in April, which turned out to be a super time for the Delts and their parents and friends. Delta Tau Delta was "the talk of the town" that month, as April 21 we gave a "By Invitation Only" party. WCIN disc jockey Lincoln Ware provided the music for the Delts and our 150 guests.

Our annual Airport Party was combined with our Spring Formal this year, making May 12 one tremendous time. Awards were presented, and graduating senior Bill Kavanagh was named Mr. Delt. A week later, the Delts experienced a triumphant victory, when on the stage of a very crowded Zimmer Auditorium we won the men's division of U.C.'s annual Mother's Day Sing. Mike Barg was our director and Mr. Louis Moyer accompanied us on the piano as we sang "Oklahoma!" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

May was indeed a very busy month for Gamma Xi, for on the weekend of May 19-21 we held our third annual Delta Tau Delta Muscular Dystrophy Softball Marathon in Nippert Stadium. It proved to be a lot of fun, and a great way to raise money for a worthwhile charity.

Gamma Xi had more than 20 brothers graduate in commencement exercises June 11. Among them was Mark Duffey, who was awarded the University's coveted title of Mr. Bearcat. With so many brothers joining the ranks of our alumni, we're looking forward to a terrific rush this fall!

COLORADO Beta Kappa

SPRING activities at Beta Kappa Chapter were highlighted by a Sixties Revival Party/Fundraiser, which was a great success, netting over $700.

On March 17 we celebrated our Founder's Day banquet along with St. Patrick's Day, with Dr. Fred Kershner present as guest speaker. In late April, a contingent of Beta Kappa Delts volunteered their time to work at the Special Olympics in Denver.

We were active in intramural athletics, fielding two teams in every sport and capturing second place in softball. The semes-

CORNELL Beta Omicron

SPRING SEMESTER has been a prosperous one for the men of Beta Omicron chapter. Much hard work during fall rush, under the direction of Rush Chairman Bill Schaff, will be rewarded by the initiation of 17 outstanding pledges in the fall, and a house filled to capacity for the coming school year.

Newly elected officers are: John Brown, president; John Wang, vice-president; Jim Storey, treasurer; John Kendrick, corresponding secretary; Mike Kalinowski, recording secretary; Tom Pratt, house manager; and Steve Daigler, steward.

With five brothers attending the Eastern Division Conference held at Leigh University, Beta Omicron was proud to return once again with the Hugh Shields award. In addition, President John Brown was presented with a plaque dedicated to the four BO members who have served on the Arch Chapter.

As usual, Beta Omicron was well represented by 15 runners in the annual Phi Psi 500, a beer-chugging, running race in which entrance fees are donated to a local charity.

Improvements on the chapter house included the installation of an automatic fire extinguisher in the kitchen and the completion of repairs to the shower floors.

Spring semester concluded with a very successful Parent's Weekend, thanks to Brothers Joe Wojciechowski and Tom Slon. Well over 100 parents, brothers and dates were in attendance for the Friday evening activities. The last weekend of classes was celebrated with the traditional Spring Weekend festivities. Everyone in attendance had a super time. Beta Omicron hopes to see many alumni back at the shelter for Homecoming '78 this October.

David A. Wilcox

DELAWARE Delta Upsilon

AS THE brothers look back on spring semester, they find much to be proud of. With much hard work the Delts were able to make many badly needed improvements on the shelter. A new color TV, public room furniture, lighting fixtures throughout the house, and a new front door were just some of the new additions. Also, towards the end of the semester the entire outside of the house was repainted.

This year saw the initiation of 10 fine men into brotherhood, with only three graduating, a real sign of growth. These new brothers have quickly assumed many of the responsibilities of the house from pledge master to corresponding secretary. The Highlight of the semester was the traditional Delt Weekend held in late April and attended by some 50 brothers.

In sports, two Deltas, Steve Camper and Bo Dennis, helped the U of D baseball team achieve its finest record ever, 34-17. Steve played right field and had a solid year with the bat while Bo was in the starting rotation for the Blue Hens.

1977-78 was another fine year for Delta Upsilon and with the new enthusiasm shown by today's brothers, 1979 should be our best year yet.

Joe DiGiacomo

DUKE Delta Kappa

THE SPRING semester ushered in a revived spirit to break, in the words of J.P. Middleton, Delta Kappa's "strangle-hold on the commonplace." Nineteen newly initiated neophytes raised the fraternity's membership total to 83. The 17 graduating seniors will be missed.

Officer elections brought forth a wealth of new blood. The boys on Exec. include: Jon Vaughn, president; Alan Dworetzky, vice-president; Jeff Dillman, treasurer; J.P. Middleton, executive secretary; Bill Gilliland, recording secretary; Don Mikush and Dave Hardie, rush chairmen; Henry Strong and Jimmy Love, social chairmen; Jimmy Dalton, guide; and Roscoe Little, sgt.-at-arms.

Delta Kappa gained some eminence by placing nine brothers on varsity athletic teams. This noteworthy group was led by Bruce "Juice" Bell and Rob Hardy, members of Duke's basketball squad which finished second in the NCAA tourney this past year (a national championship is sure to follow). Additionally, the baseball team will sorely miss senior Kirk Louderback, awaiting a tryout with the Mets.

Finally, Delta Kappa closed out its semester with a basketball marathon versus a nearby social organization. Many thanks go to Mark Reder and Mike Fields, who collected for this cancer drive.

Blaine Merrill

FLORIDA Delta Zeta

THE FLORIDA Deltas came back from spring break with refreshed minds and terrific tans, along with a new kind of spirited spring fever. The fever started when the chapter won the University of Florida's Greek Week by clinching first place in field day over 29 fraternities and 19 sororities on campus.

The brothers and pledges of Delta Zeta continued their winning ways when the chapter was awarded the Hugh Shields Award for chapter excellence.

Alumni had an opportunity to share in the Chapter's success on Alumni Weekend. Our weekend boasted the presence of Southern Division President Dr. Bert Hayes and Delta Tau Delta's national treasurer, Donald Kress. Both young and old gathered to share in the festivities.

After doing such a fine job on Alumni Weekend, the Deltas decided to treat themselves to another weekend, this one in the Bahamas. The Brothers and their dates spent three luxurious days in Freeport.

Delta Zeta ended the rewarding year with its annual Spring Formal banquet and band party.

To keep the chapter indoctrinated with the Delt spirit over the summer, borthers around the state will participate in our well-planned summer rush program.

Mark W. Merrill

FLORIDA STATE Delta Phi Colony

THE DELTA PHI Colony, behind the strong leadership of Resident Adviser Buddy Gay, now has a membership of 27 fine men, after the first year back on campus.

With one year under our belts, the greatest accomplishment so far is the second best G.P.A. among 21 fraternities. Paired with Gamma Phi Beta, we also placed fifth overall for Greek Week. During winter quarter, a six-hour car wash netted over $200.

Our House Corporation is working hard looking for a larger house and we hope to rush at least 15 good men fall quarter and bring our total to over 40. Summer rush teams were set up all around the state to inform incoming freshmen about Delta Tau Delta.

Special thanks go to Mr. Ted Aggelis, Delta Phi '55, for everything he has done for the Colony. He donated and installed a hot water heater in the shelter and participated in our first initiation, where we initiated seven winter pledges. He also provided and cooked a great dinner for us at our first Spring Weekend. Alumni like Ted are invaluable.

Gilbert Isgar

GENERAL MOTORS INSTITUTE Epsilon Iota

IT FINALLY is summer in Flint, Mich., and we welcome the sunshine after that long winter. We are in the middle of the softball season and cruising along at 4 & 1, hoping to make the finals in this double elimination tourney.

In May, most of us went to the Indianapolis Time Trials but, unfortunately, we were rained out. We still had a good time, though, thanks to the Deltas at Ball State who, along with their lovely little sisters, showed us some great hospitality, as they did last year. Thanks, brothers of Epsilon Mu!

This year we activated 14 pledges, and their enthusiasm has spread throughout the house. We expect much from them and know they will come through.

We are in the process of forming plans for an alumni reunion on the 16th anniversary of our chapter. The date is set tentatively as March 24, 1979, between A & B sections.

We also are going to resume sending our alumni newsletter in hopes of getting alumni active again in chapter affairs. You are our link to the history, customs, and traditions of our chapter. We would be incomplete without our alumni.

Gilbert Dominquez

GEORGE WASHINGTON Gamma Eta

AT 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Jimmy Carter continues to do battle with Congress over his legislative program. He is still unable to weld a Democratic majority in both houses together with his leadership.

Four blocks west of the White House, another new president has not encountered such difficulties. He is Tom Horner, newly elected president of Gamma Eta Chapter. Tom heads a new administration which includes Vice-President John Fredrickson, House Manager Bob Malafronte, Sgt.-at-Arms John Principato, Recording Secretary Jim Carney, and Corresponding Secretary Paul Wieman. The frugal Art Birenbaum occupies the treasurer's position and is assisted by Wayne Glaubinger and Paul Wilkens.

Goals of this administration are to expand services that the Fraternity can offer the individual brothers and the community. A more vigorous committee system has been established to further these goals and also is aimed at total involvement of the brothers. Fruits of this program can be seen in the chapter's participation in the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon, a career guidance program, and greater stress on alumni relations. The latter was capped by a well attended Founders Day observance.

In regard to relations with the student body, it can be said that this particular chapter has excelled. We not only have the captain of the swim and crew teams within our ranks, John Fredrickson and Mark Carter respectively, but also the president of the Student Body, Joe LaMange. Also, Joe Grunfeld is a student senator and adviser, Elliot Weiser and Mark Dimidio are campus radio station managers.

The Deltas went to the playoffs in intramural volleyball, street hockey, softball, and football, and ran away with the basketball tournament, behind the play of MVP Bob Malafronte.

Social event of the year was the annual Rainbow Ball. Jim Eskin was named Alumnus of the Year and Tony Falcone Brother of the Year.

John C. Fredrickson

GEORGIA Beta Delta

BETA DELTA wrapped up the year with some sad good-byes and a bright outlook for the coming year. Leaving the shelter are Past President Ron Hayden and Third Vice-President Hubert Howard, taking with them all of our best wishes for success in the "real world."

Rush began early this spring with preparations for a strong summer and fall rush. Several summer parties have been planned with the help of alumni.

We'd like to thank Mike Deal and everyone else involved in the re-establishment of the Atlanta Alumni Association. We hope that all Atlanta Delts will participate.

The 1977-78 school year has been enjoyable in all aspects of fraternity life and we are quite happy with the healthy reputation that we have.

Glenn McAllister

GEORGIA TECH Gamma Psi

SPRING proved to be hectic for Gamma Psi. To start the quarter with a bang, we hosted the First Georgia Softball Tournament. All the Delt chapters except Emory participated in this round-robin tournament. Many of the chapters came Friday night to meet all the other competing Delts and enjoy the night life of Atlanta. The tournament started Saturday morning and lasted well into the afternoon. After the dust had cleared, the big bats of Epsilon Omega (Georgia Southern) finished on top with Zeta Xi (West Georgia) runnerup. Once everyone had cleaned up, the big bash began with a band and plenty of fun and beer. The weekend was a great success with good competition and good brotherhood.

Two of our brothers this quarter, Jebby Dobson and Peter Krasnoff, were honored for their academic excellence and were initiated into Tau Beta Pi, the national for their honorary engineering society. Jebby also was initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, another prestigious national honor society for seniors.

Greek Week was a big success this year at Georgia Tech. This was partially due to Brother Ralph Kytan's efforts and planning as chairman of the Greek Week Outing Committee, the climax of a week of Greek festivities.

In our annual softball game with alumni, Gamma Psi undergrads continued their winning ways over the alumni by a score of 15-12. Lots of beer flowed during and after the game.

The Delt swimming team was very successful this term, winning two events (diving and the 200 yard Medley relay) and finishing third out of 28.

We finished the quarter as strong as we had started it with the 2nd Annual Delta Tau Delta Marathon Car Wash. This year we switched allegiance from MDA to the Georgia Heart Association. This year's car wash was even more successful than last year's. The marathon car wash lasted 96 continuous hours starting Thursday noon and ending Monday noon. The Georgia Heart Association trained several brothers and little sisters to take blood pressures. While customers waited for their cars to be washed, we took their blood pressures free. All of this was very successful, since we raised over $1,100. Atlanta TV and radio stations helped greatly in giving us all the publicity we needed.

The brothers of Gamma Psi remind you that if you ever pass through Atlanta, stop by and visit us.

Mike Wooton

GEORGIA SOUTHERN Epsilon Omega

AS SPRING quarter ended, the Delts at Georgia Southern could only look back on the first half of 1978 as an exciting but somewhat disappointing history. We had a great time with our many socials and activities, but knew we lacked vigor in the more important areas of finances, rush, and especially scholarship.

We are looking forward to a more productive future, due partly to an inspirational visit by Southern Division Vice-President Carl Stipe. His discussion of our needed improvements and participation in a Fraternity Row have greatly motivated us. We also hope that the land we purchased toward Fraternity Row will spark a resurgence of alumni support.

This year Epsilon Omega participated in the Ogeechee Youth Association's Educational Fun Fair for little kids, the Special Olympics Program for handicapped children, and a Phone-A-Thon to encourage support of all Savannah area Georgia Southern Alumni.

We'd like to thank Gamma Psi Chapter for the trophy we won from them in a softball tournament held at Georgia Tech, with all Georgia Delt Chapters participating. Incidentally, we captured the Georgia Southern College Softball Championship by defeating Sigma Chi in the final game.

Looking ahead, we realize we must combine all our efforts to reach the goals we have outlined in becoming a more prosperous chapter.

Chris Chapman

IDAHO Delta Mu

THE SPRING semester has been a particularly successful one for the Delts of Idaho. The men have shown the competitiveness that has made the Delts the top fraternity on campus.

This competitiveness is evident this year especially in athletics as we won the intramural championship for the fourth straight year. This year we broke the record for the most points tallied in a full season. Our main victory came when the weightlifters, headed by victories from John Rowett and Dave Andrich, upset our arch rivals Alpha Tau Omega who have won the event for the last 12 years. John will be back next year to defend his title and head the Stereo Committee, which selects fine, high quality music for our dances.

April 29 was the day of our Russian Ball. This is our big event of the year which includes food, gambling, and dancing. The Ball attracts our alumni and is a great way to bring the house closer together. Rory Jones was selected this spring to serve as Delta Tau Delta's field counselor for the next school year.

The men of Delta Phi owe a special thanks to two of our brothers, Tom Mathews and Tom Hoffmann who dreamed up a wonderful exchange with the WSU's girls weightlifters. Better luck next year! We invite all Delts, if in the area, to stop at our house, where they will be welcome at all times.

Pat Allen

ILLINOIS Beta Upsilon

THE SPRING semester proved to be extremely fruitful and productive for the Delts at Illinois. In our spring rush we pledged 15 men, who we feel will make a large contribution to the chapter in the years to come.

Athletics continue to be a stronghold at the Illinois chapter as we captured the fraternity 12-inch softball title and played very well in our spring football "Delt Turney."

A highpoint of the spring semester was our annual Keg Roll charity for the March of Dimes. We paired up with the Alpha Chi Omega's to raise over $8,000, and drink the complimentary beer provided by Miller Beer. A good time was had by all. The Delts at Illinois are anxiously awaiting another successful semester this fall.

John Murphy

ILLINOIS TECH Gamma Beta

THIS YEAR the Brothers of Gamma Beta were involved in strengthening various committees. Emphasis was put on scholarship and this past semester we were second out of nine fraternities in grade point averages. Attention also went towards renewing the pledge education program. Letters were sent to other chapters for ideas on their pledge and rush programs and we would like to thank all those chapters that responded. The information was greatly appreciated and we are looking forward to a good rush this fall.

Special attention also went to the Alumni Relations Committee for sending out the first of a line of special newsletters to alumni of the Chapter. A lot of work was done in getting the letter out, but the committee plans to do this at least three times a year.

We are also pleased to announce our newly installed officers for the fall semester: President Jim Leparski; Vice-President Jon Giman; Corresponding Secretary Kurt Pairitz; Recording Secretary Tim Wiener; and Treasurer Dave Farrar.

Duxton T. Daniels

INDIANA Beta Alpha

THE WINTER coal shortage proved to be no match for the Delts at I.U. in the spring semester. The chapter was full of vigor and enthusiasm as the 81 men strove for betterment. Our spring pledge class was small in number but surpassed our expectations.

The Gold Star and Chapter Improvement Award were highly received and accepted in the shelter. Recognition of three outstanding alumni, W. A. Reed '98, Ernest L. Miller, & Arnold Berg '32, came in the form of the Alumni Leadership Award.

Little '500' lived up to its title "The Greatest College Weekend" with the Delts actively involved. With only one qualifying attempt, the Delts qualified 5th and on race day enjoyed a successful finish. Contact with local businessmen, physicians, and other occupations has been good as our External Committee seeks to get the brothers to view their anticipated futures.

Beta Alpha Delts took to the track for Indiana University's Little '500' bike race wearing shirts emblazoned with the name and logo of Hubler Chevrolet. An ardent follower and supporter of the chapter, Howard Hubler was Beta Alpha president in 1971 and was graduated with a master's degree in 1973. He is vice-president and advertising manager of Hubler Chevrolet, which sponsors Spike Gehlhausen on the USAC championship auto trail, as well as Beta Alpha in the annual bike race.

The beginning of a semester brings in new officers: Norm Williams, internal V.P.; Larry Dus, external V.P.; Kevin Moyer, recording sec.; Bryan Collins, corresponding sec.; Fritz Kauffman, social chairman; and Keith Kovich, pledge trainer. The hope for strong leadership under house President James Ramsey will find things at BA solid and improving!

Bryan J. Collins

INDIANA — PA. Zeta Pi

SPRING semester brought a promising outlook for the future of Zeta Pi chapter. The brotherhood went all out in working together to win for the fourth consecutive year the Bounce-a-thon, in support of the fight against muscular dystrophy.

Points were given for each hour a member of an organization kept the basketball bouncing, and for each dollar collected. At the completion of 72 consecutive hours, Zeta Pi Delts had out-bounced and out-collected all others to gain the championship with 2,800 points and $2,200. That represented more than half the total amount collected.

A highlight of the Bounce-a-thon was participation by International President Fred Kershner, who happened to be visiting the chapter that weekend, along with Eastern Division President "Lew" Llewellyn.

Spring also brought the relaxation of parties and initiation of one of the best pledge classes in the history of the house.

With the help of Dick Lewis, Brother Jim Clark was able to complete the formation of an active alumni organization at our first Alumni Weekend. After completion of business, alumni were invited to join undergraduates and their guests at the Spring Pledge Class Formal. Miss Deb Adams was chosen as our new Delt Sweetheart.

The semester closed with a local softball tournament sponsored by Zeta Pi. The tournament's success ended the year with hopes of a promising fall semester.

Lawrence J. Dominik

IOWA Omicron

THE END of the semester was a very busy time for Omicron Delts. Our formal was held this year in Dubuque, at Sundown ski resort. It was one of many events that highlighted this semester. We had a very successful rush with six new pledges. This fills up our house and brings about the idea of acquiring an annex.

The Omicron Delts were honored to host the Big 10 Conference this year, with guest visits from such V.I.P.'s as Dr. Fred Kershner, John Wood, and Keith Steiner. We also were proud to have seven new actives initiated into the honor society Phi Eta Sigma. Brother Jerry Sagehorn was elected president.

This year ended with two exciting events. The first was a volleyball-a-thon with Gamma Phi Beta sorority, in which we raised money for the handicapped on campus to take a trip to a conference in Washington D.C.. It was very successful. The semester concluded with the 1978 Muscular Dystrophy Dance Marathon in which the Delts made a good showing. In fact, Matt Noble (an Iowa Delt) and Chris Montalvo (a Delt little sister) won the Disco dance contest at the marathon this year; 700 students competed.

IOWA STATE Gamma Pi

THE MEN of Gamma Pi were greeted with a pleasant surprise as they returned from break to begin spring quarter in March. The 12 delegates who had attended the Western Division Conference in Lincoln, Nebr. proudly brought home with them the Hugh Shields Award. Being the fifth year that we earned the award, the men of Gamma Pi were especially proud to retire the flag.

With spirits high, we returned to tackle the spring quarter ahead. Highlights included a successful Greek Week, in which several Deltas held central committee positions, our annual steak and hamburger scholarship dinner, and our quarterly faculty-student cocktail hour and dinner.

The Deltas teamed together with our sister sorority nationally, the Delta Delta Delta's to take the first place trophy in the large division of the Veishea float competition. Lots of paper mache, late nights, beer and social good times went into making that an enjoyable winning effort for all.

Paule

Shugart was elected president of the Senior Class of 1979.

Randy Dawson and John Streit, newly elected rush chairman and traveling rush chairman, respectively, have us all eagerly looking forward to a summer of rush parties and have us working toward building an even stronger Delt Chapter next fall.

Tom Stark

KANSAS STATE Gamma Chi

LOOKING BACK on the spring semester at Gamma Chi, the brothers can see a busy but enjoyable time. In February 18 men were initiated into the chapter. This brought to a close five months of pledge-ship which helped form strong bonds of friendship and brotherhood. This pledge class was comprised of members from all corners of Kansas and as far away as South Dakota.

On the athletic field Deltas continued to have a great deal of success. Randy Heath proved to be solid playing center fielder for the Kansas State baseball team. Intramurals closed at K-State with the Deltas finishing strong. A second place in the track meet and second place in softball helped secure second place in fraternity standings.

The traditional Rainbow Formal was the social highlight of spring semester. Many alumni joined undergrads for the dinner and dance. At the dinner, the honor Delt for the year was announced. Howard "Red" Parr received this honor. This award is given to the active member who the chapter feels contributes the most to the well-being and livelihood of the house.

Douglas L. Nelson

KENT STATE Delta Omega

DELTS at Kent have been our usual laid-back selves this past spring spending time stalking the perfect tan and the perfect femme fatale.

This doesn't mean we have neglected the higher goals of life such as classes and philanthropy. We organized all the Greeks at KSU for the Red Cross blood drive and won a keg of beer for ourselves in the process.

We took part in the annual bathtub pull for the American Cancer Society which raised over $400 and we were very active in the Greek week gong show which raised money for the King-Kennedy Center. Our three acts in the gong show were a piano recital, banjo exhibition and the now infamous Delt Punk-Rock band.

With graduation this year we are losing three brothers, one to the economic melee and two to graduate schools.

House Corporation met recently and the renovation of the front of the shelter is scheduled to take place this summer. Also scheduled for this summer is a very intensive rush program which we hope will bring us back up to the numbers needed to contribute more to the university community.

As part of that rush program we are having three parties this summer, one of which will be at the home of John Fristoe, '63, president of House Corporation.

Paul David Burke

KENTUCKY Delta Epsilon

THE BROTHERS of Delta Epsilon started the semester with recruitment of 15 fine men as our spring pledge class. One of the many things our pledges have prided themselves on is the improvement of the overall GPA. Study halls were mandatory, and some of the brothers served as tutors.

For the fourth consecutive year we have won the Delta Gamma anchor splash. Last year we managed to retire the trophy after winning the events 3 years in a row. All we need are two more years until we retire this one!

We also won the Theta Chi 3 on 3 basketball championship. The competition was rough, but the brothers still managed to come through with flying colors!

At our Spring Band Party, we ended up stretching a tarp from the basketball goal to the roof of the house to provide shelter for the band to play. Nearly 500 persons came to the party.

We ended the semester as runners-up in the All-Greek Participation, losing first place by one point.

Again we were proud of our Spring Formal, held at the Innat Cobbly Nob in beautiful Gatlinberg, Tenn. The traditional golf game was played in the morning. After dinner, the "roasting of the brothers" took place. It was a week to remember.

Chap McDonnell

LAFAYETTE Nu

THIS PAST semester, Deltas of Nu chapter were honored to co-host the Eastern Division Conference. Deltas from all over the East Coast attended workshops and meetings to exchange ideas. It wasn't all work though, as members of the conference learned why the Delt house is the place to party on our campus.

Rush also went exceptionally well this year. Our 25 new pledges readily sold their services as slaves for an entire day to raise half of the money for their pledge project. This year's project consisted of renovations of the barroom, including a new floor.

In I.M. competition, the Deltas made impressive showings in wrestling, softball, and soccer. It seems only a matter of time before we become contenders for the I.M. trophy.

Despite rainy weather this year, the annual Doubles Invitational Basketball Tournament was completed on time. We'd like to congratulate George and Chuck on their D.I.T. victory.

Pete Sisti

LAGRANGE Zeta Beta

THE MEN of Zeta Beta placed 4th in the volleyball tournaments, winter quarter. This is great accomplishment over last year.

Zeta Beta acquired a new pledge spring quarter. After a decline in numbers the chapter's membership is picking up.

Zeta Beta placed in the softball tournament spring quarter.

The men of Zeta Beta would like to wish all Delt chapters the best in fall rush. Let's go out there and show them that Delta Tau Delta is the best.

LEHIGH Beta Lambda

THE BROTHERS of Delta Tau Delta's Beta Lambda chapter would like to extend our heartiest congratulations and warmest welcome to the 18 men who pledged this past spring. Their spirit and enthusiasm have given the house a great lift.

Congratulations also are in order for the 18 new brothers who were initiated in February. Together, these two groups should keep the house vital in the Lehigh community. Over the past year alone a $5,000 deficit has been erased, and plans have been made to join with the House Corporation in 1978 to restore the shelter.

Beta Lambda had the honor of co-hosting the Eastern Delt Conference, which was held on April 7-9. It was attended by many Delt dignitaries, who instructed brothers from 11 Eastern schools in fraternity functions.

For the second consecutive year Beta Lambda has captured the Greek Week championship at Lehigh. The events in the week-long competition were dominated by Deltas, who compiled 84 points, twice that of the next best of the other 31 fraternities.

We would like to convey our sincere best wishes to Mike Reiker, who was drafted in the sixth round by the New Orleans Saints of the NFL. We know football will never be the same.

Lou Pierro

LOUISIANA STATE Epsilon Kappa

EPSILON KAPPA began another busy semester in January with the initiation of 18 neophytes into the chapter. These men were a welcome addition to the chapter and show great promise as future leaders.

As always, our social calendar was kept full for the semester, and it was highlighted by the Rainbow Formal in Biloxi, Miss., in April. The Deltas, along with the beautiful women of Kappa Delta, placed second in Songfest, a campus musical presentation held in February.

RAINBOW

Our annual crawfish boil in April for high school seniors was very successful and a lot of fun, with close to 100 potential rushees attending, along with hundreds of other people. The social calendar was capped off with Jam-Jam, a Cajun jamboree, in which we had a good time working with the lovely ladies of Zeta Tau Alpha.

For the second year in a row, EK captured the Gold Bracket Sweepstakes trophy for athletic excellence. The trophy was secured with an overwhelming victory in track to go along with strong finishes in all other sports. We also won the top honors at Louisiana Delt Day, outdistancing the other three Louisiana chapters.

EK participated in several community service projects and campus activities, including a picnic with the orphans and the pretty women of Delta Gamma.

An exciting summer is looked forward to by all members, highlighted by Karnea in New Orleans in August, and a promising fall semester begins immediately following Karnea.

MAINE Gamma Nu

GAMMA NU had an exciting spring starting with three wins in cross country, wrestling, and bowling giving us a good standing in intramural competition. Our bowling team went on to win the all-campus championship title, a feat which has never happened at UMO.

Socially we had many events including our annual spring outing to Bar Harbor, and our D'Jamaica Party, where we sent Brother Jeff Pier and his date to Florida as part of the festivities.

Eighteen new brothers were initiated into Gamma Nu this spring. We were glad to see some involvement at the ceremonies from two of our distinguished Alumni, Steve Colby '30, and Dick Martin '50.

The brothers at Gamma Nu appreciate the support we have been receiving from the newly established Delta Tau Delta Alumni Chapter in Southern Maine. If any Alumni are interested in becoming active members, please contact Dick Martin, % General Delivery, Biddeford Pool, Me. 04006.

1978 is Delta Tau Delta's 70th year at the University of Maine and we are planning a Delt Homecoming on November 11, 1978. There will be more news soon.

See you at The Karnea!!

MARIETTA Epsilon Upsilon

THE BROTHERS returned for second semester and set to work on reviving our little sister program. Our efforts gained us 19 new little sisters.

The pledge formal went well and everyone had a good time as always.

The turnout for our annual Easter Egg Hunt for underprivileged children was a little smaller this year than in the past due to a rainy Easter Sunday. The extra candy went to good use at the children's section of a local hospital.

Once again we won the College Scholarship Cup, as well as the IFC Greek Scholarship Award. The addition of a new house Fuss Ball (soccer) table is not doing much to help us win them again.

A wine and cheese party given by our little sisters, a house picnic, and our traditional riverboat party brought us to the close of another year at Epsilon Upsilon.

David J. Duffy

MARYLAND Delta Sigma

THE DELTS at College Park kept busy last spring with a wide variety of activities. We began the semester on a happy note by initiating 10 new brothers. A vigorous rush program led by Mark Norwicz provided 10 more pledges.

Several Deltas involved themselves in outside activities while remaining quite active in the house. Besides being chapter president, John Fraser was also chosen to head the Maryland chapter of the Omicron Delta Kappa leadership honorary. He also participated in swimming and badminton. Gary Karr, who was elected IFC president in the fall, still found time to coach the softball team and participate in basketball and golf.

P. R. Chairman Linden Mosk organized a Phone-a-Thon on behalf of the Wilson Elkins Professorship Fund which raised over $400. The chapter also created the Environmental Service Award in an effort to reward faculty members who worked to increase students' awareness of the environmental situation. The first recipient of the award was Dr. Horace V. Harrison.

Greek Week, as usual, provided many good times for the brothers. The team of Delt and Kappa Kappa Gamma won first place in the Spirit competition, as well as winning several Olympic events.

The basketball team made the playoffs but failed to win the intramural title for the first time in three years. Individual Deltas were chosen for the basketball and soccer all-star teams. DTD placed second overall in the intramural final standings.

The biggest social event of the semester was Spring Formal, held at a resort in western Maryland. Several brothers received awards at the dance, including Gary Karr, outstanding Delt; Chris Brown, athlete of the year; Mark Moylette, most social Delt, and Dale Gilstrap, outstanding scholarship.

We're all looking forward to an even better semester in the fall.

Dale Gilstrap

MIAMI Gamma Upsilon

GAMMA UPSILON maintained its high standards throughout the second half of the 1977-78 academic year. Winter rush, held in the midst of the blizzard season, left us with 32 quality pledges. Add to this three more pledges taken during the informal spring rush, and considering the fine core of active upperclassmen, we are looking forward to a house literally bursting at the seams with over 75 men living in the shelter in the year to come.

Reminiscing over the last few months, a number of memorable activities come to mind. During a formal ceremony and dinner held at the shelter during the winter, the house library was dedicated to W. W. "Andy" Wertz, one of the men responsible for our present chapter house, and among other things, a great "Delt."

One of the most memorable activities occurred when the entire chapter decided to visit the Delta at Ohio State University. Both houses had a great time, and similar plans are in the works to visit other chapters during the upcoming year.

Spring Formal dominated the social scene. As a service project, we held an outdoor picnic including the house and the members of a local orphanage. The school year ended earlier than most, with seniors graduating after the first week in May, and the undergraduates going home to get a jump on the summer job market.

The new house officers are looking forward to Karnea and New Orleans, and we are very optimistic about the future and the year to come.

Philip de Roziere

MICHIGAN STATE Iota

THE SPARTAN Delts of Michigan State have again ended the school year on a strong note. With the activation of 26 Spring term associate members, Iota chapter found itself in need of an annex. With the help of Chris Jennings, Iota '52, the "over-flow" of brothers will be living together on the same block as the shelter.

With summer upon us, planning is underway for the 1979 "MS Dance For Strength" marathon. This past February, after 50 hours of dancing, 30 couples raised $35,021.98. This surpasses the 1977 total by $5,000 and brings our 5-year total to $121,000. Many thanks go to Dave Murray for the hours he put into the marathon as chairman. As for 1979, $35,000 is a tough act to follow so there will be two chairmen, Greg Plowe and Jeff Bergers.

Also thanks go out to Cheryl Ladd, of Charlie's Angels, Steve Garvey, of the L.A. Dodgers, Al Kaline, of the Detroit Tigers, Ervin "Magic" Johnson, of M.S.U.'s Big Ten Champion basketball team, and last, but not least, Ann Margaret for helping publicize the marathon.

Between the marathon, rush, and the books we did manage to find "some" time for parties. Highlight of the year was the spring "Polynesian Term Party." It required 9 cubic yards of sand, a waterfall down the stairwell, a roasted pig, and "passion punch" for the grass-skirted dates.

Finally, as we grow strong after our "slow" years in the early 70's, the Delts are becoming strong again in student government and varsity sports. In government, Greg Plowe was selected chairman of Senior Class Council and Marc Snyder chairman of Greek-Campus Relations.

In sports, Tighe Keating was number 1 singles in tennis, Eric Gersonde was number 3 seeded in golf and two freshmen, Tom Davidson and Jim Combust, made the track and fencing teams, respectively.

James Riley

MINNESOTA Beta Eta

SPRING QUARTER seemed to fly by for us here at Beta Eta. We worked hard on our Campus Carnival set, for which all proceeds went to fight Muscular Dystrophy. The set, based on a Big City theme, featured dancing girls and an inside skit. It was a lot of fun! Our most successful exchange was with the Gamma Phi's. We had a Hawaiian Party, with native music, costumes, and even a Hula contest! Of course, the annual end-of-the-year Delt Awards Night was also memorable.

Through all this, Michael Eidem successfully completed his first quarter as president, as was the case of all the newly elected officers. Hard working Rush Chairman Mark Snyder has an extensive summer rush program planned, and expects to have a full house of live-ins once again.

The house has kept up its 3.1 GPA, and Scholastic Chairman Gus Stein is forming a reference file that should be a big help to future Beta Eta members. We're keeping busy here this summer, and are already looking forward to next fall.

James D. Ryan

MISSOURI Gamma Kappa

THE winter semester moved pretty fast here at Gamma Kappa. One reason for this is the amount of activities that took place.

Intramural sports were highlighted by the wrestling and bowling teams. Craig Blenderman wrestled his way to the 190 lb. championship. The bowling team finished second in competition. These, along with the efforts of our other athletic teams, resulted in our house being ranked tenth out of 29 in the intramural standings.

Mike Pfautsch, a sophomore in the house, is pitching for the baseball Tigers. Mike, as now, has a record of four wins and no losses with an e.r.a. of 1.90, which is the lowest on the team.

This year our annual Keg Roll for Muscular Dystrophy was co-sponsored by Miller Brewing Co. They helped us by providing transportation and plenty of refreshments.

Greek Week was a little wet this year but, since the Delts and the Kappa Deltas won Fling competition, it didn't dampen our spirit. The two houses performed a skit done to the theme of Mary Poppins that covered everything from disco dancing to slap-stick comedy. Director Rick Walsh and everyone involved were "supercalafragilistically" pleased.

We had a fine group of parents turn out for Parents' Weekend this semester. It was a relaxing time and everyone enjoyed good food, the bar, the Tiger football scrimmage, tours on campus, and the dance Saturday evening.

Our summer activities will include starting major renovations on the shelter and several rush parties. If you have any rush names, please send them to our Rush Chairman, Joe Sooter at 1206 Rizoli Dr., Manchester, Mo. 65201, or in the fall to Joe at 506 E. Rollins, Columbia, Mo. 65201.

MOREHEAD STATE

Zeta Zeta

THE DELTS of Zeta Zeta Chapter at Morehead State University enjoyed a very prosperous spring semester. We purchased a new Delt Shelter in mid-January and have spent much of the semester working on making it one of the best on campus. The Shelter has nine rooms and houses six of the brothers.

We were also very successful in campus intramurals. Softball, basketball, and bowling titles were won, along with a special title for the brothers — Greek Week Champs.

The MSU Delts have been strengthened with the addition of 10 new pledges and are eagerly looking forward to next semester.

NORTHWESTERN

NEVER Mind the Bollocks, here come the Delts!" cried Econ sophomore Joey 'Blade' Wilcznsky, and so it was that another spring quarter arrived at Northwestern. Brothers have spent a lusty quarter leading their respective IM leagues in volleyball and softball, wasting opponents right and left. As usual, second team 'Hugh G.' was the terror of the lower leagues, getting up for the toughie games. New President Craig Froelich brought his green thumb to the house, creating a vegetable garden in front of the house. His specialty: melons of course!

Longtime brother and eligible bachelor Chris 'Pledge' Wheeler tied the knot this spring, wedding the former Vicky Swine at a campus ceremony. On the same front, Paul Tubes found himself in double jeopardy before announcing his August engagement to high school honey Tracy Head, of Buloxi, Wyo: Best of luck for a great wedding!

The annual "Drink for those Who Can't" was scheduled again, and promises to be a bigger success than past years. This year's chairman, Mark Defosse, promises no 'fades' this year. The campus awaited with great anticipation.

Campus honors awarded found Paul Torres chapter president of Tau Beta Pi honorary, John Ruge president of Tri-Beta, Steve Sovak president of SME, and Pat Sweeney, president of American Jr. Shoe Manufacturers on Campus. In sports, long time golfer Lew Steadman captained the NU team; Chris Wall, Pete Boesen, and John Squatot garnered basketball letters, and alum Rich Falk was named head basketball coach.

All in all, the quarter was well summed up by freshman Ed Maurer. "Dagnabbit," said the Belton Bomber, "It sure were a good quarter."

Jim Svott

OHIO

Beta

FOR the first time in many years, the shelter will be full this fall, with brothers waiting in line for rooms. A fall initiation of nine men who were pledges during the spring will bring the chapter roster to 60.

The chapter took second place in 1977-78 all-campus intramural competition. Our softball team finished undefeated, but unfortunately the play-offs were rained out.

John W. Galbreath, Ohio '21, was guest of honor and speaker at our Founders Day observance April 15. More than 100 undergraduates, alumni and guests attended the affair at the Sportsman.

Earlier in the day, the chapter held a special memorial program honoring the late Darrell Moore, Ohio '16, a former national officer, strong supporter of Beta Chapter, and long-time historian of the Fraternity.

Brother Tom Sauvlet gave the dedication talk in Galbreath Chapel. Later in the month, an oak tree was planted near Cutler Hall in memory of Mr. Moore.

Dewey M. Goddard, Ohio '19, was recognized for being the oldest Delt attending Founders Day activities.

With the rejuvenation of Beta Chapter, we hope alumni will support the critical fund campaign being carried out by the House Corporation.

OHIO STATE Beta Phi

BETA PHI Chapter's officers for the 1978-79 school year are: President Howard Harcha, Portsmouth; 1st VP Scott Gregory, Bay Village; 2nd VP Bob Green, Upper Arlington; Treasurer Howard Hendershott, Wooster; Asst. Treasurers Pat Imes, Cambridge, and Bruce Schlegel, Mansfield; Rec. Sec. Jack Price, Upper Arlington; Corr. Sec. Jim Fink, Coshocton.

We were very happy to win the All-Sports Trophy for the third year in a row, allowing us to retire the trophy for an unprecedented first time. We also won OSU's Greek Week, which is held each spring, with over 40 fraternities and sororities participating.

Beta Phi is also proud of several members who achieved individual honors throughout the year: Jay Gaunt, Mansfield; Ron McHaffie, Centerville; and John Crandall, Bay Village were elected as Alpha Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Mu Men of the Year, respectively. Bob Green of Upper Arlington was elected to the Interfraternity Judicial Council.

We are looking forward to having a very successful year and would like to encourage everyone to drop in at the shelter when you are in the area.

Jim Fink

OHIO WESLEYAN Mu

MU CHAPTER is honored in having a history of 11 alumni who have served on the Arch Chapter. Mu received recognition awards for such service by these men at this spring's Northern Division Conference. Two of these men, W. Edgar West ('25) and Edwin L. Heminger ('48), joined Robert R. Crosby ('39), Lewis W. King ('41), and Don W. Berg ('51), along with eight other area alumni at an Alumni Dinner at Mu Chapter on April 25. The dinner, a joyful evening for all, was the first of its kind since 1971.

Seniors Gerald Maust, James Okeriil and junior Phil Holmes participated in a school-sponsored 20-hour Muscular Dystrophy Association Dance Marathon May 5-6. Delts raised 12 percent of the total amount, $2,174, which was contributed to MDA.

Vice-President Jeff Harper organized a Celebrity Dunk on May 20 to benefit the American Cancer Society. In addition, junior Bruce Lynch was coordinator of a plan to seek contributions for ACS through door-to-door solicitation. A total of $132.32 was raised by these efforts.

Mu Delts took part in the National College Pitch-in Week sponsored by Budweiser and ABC Radio, by restoring a community park. Delts painted shelter houses, play equipment, and cleaned up the grounds of the Blue Ridge Park in Delaware April 15.

Intramural Chairman and Volleyball Team Captain junior Ed O'Malley led the Delt Team to a 7-1 inter-fraternity volleyball championship record this spring.

Attention Alumni: Please write to us; we want to know what you have been doing. 20 Williams Drive, Delaware, Ohio 43015.

OKLAHOMA Delta Alpha

HARD WORK tempered with relaxation characterized the spring semester of Delta Alpha. The Delts were again successful in sports competition, capturing the IFC intramural trophy for the fifth consecutive year.

Off the field, the men of Delta Alpha exhibited their intellectual prowess by recording the third highest member grade point average on campus for the spring semester. Their combined grade point average for this semester was 2.93.

In early March, 19 new initiates marked the end of their pledgeship by inscribing their names on the chapter roll. Delta Alpha would again like to congratulate these new members.

Later in April, members, new initiates, and pledges all worked together to make the Delt Dive the biggest and most prestigious party at the University of Oklahoma. The two-night party kicked off on Friday night, with the traditional Copa Delta Ballroom show, live from the top of "Delta Starlight Ballroom." The following Saturday afternoon proved to be a beautiful day for hosting the annual "Delt Drinkathon" in which various sororities on campus show what kind of beer drinkers they really are! This year's lucky winners were the members of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

April was highlighted this year by OU's Mom's Day Weekend, which provided mothers a chance to visit with their sons and to see them perform in the annual Sooner Scandal Acts.

The spirit of hard work and excellence enabled Delta Alpha to be recognized again as the recipient of The Hugh Shield's Award for Chapter Excellence. Delta Alpha also extended its influence in campus affairs, as many seniors were honored as leaders on campus. Delta Alpha is looking forward to next semester, with hopes of making it equally successful in upholding our tradition of excellence.

OREGON STATE Delta Lambda

AS THE preliminaries are being set for the largest rush in recent years, the Delts are looking back on a year filled with many awards and honors, service projects and trophies.

During the winter term, Dan Thorpe and Dave Curtis were elected to positions of Greek leadership, Dan as president of OSU's IFC and Dave as president of Junior IFC. Three Delt's have also been appointed to chairmanships on the Memorial Union Program Council, Oregon State's Student Council. Bill Christensen, Bruce Emerson and Glen Hartigan will be working on activities throughout next year on campus.

Lee Robinson received a scholastic scholarship from IFC for next year, one of only 10 given on this large campus. Bill Christensen, Brad Harlow, John Pontier and Dan Thorpe were all initiated into Blue Key this year. Also, John was elected president of this national honorary.

The intramural Soccer team won the championship at Oregon State this spring, bringing home another athletic trophy to the Delta Lambda house. They went undefeated with only a tie to clinch the title that was narrowly lost the year before. The Delt's and our sister house Delta Delta Delta pulled together to win the All-University Sing competition which had not been won by our house since 1973.

The highlight of this term was our sixth annual Keg Roll from Corvallis to Portland. With the help of Delts from Willamette University and the University of Oregon, $4,132 was raised for the Kidney Association of Oregon. This is the largest amount raised in the history of our Keg Rolls, with collection this year over $1,000 more than last year's total. It was sponsored by Blitz-Weinhard Beer and the keg was rolled right to the hospitality room of the brewery where a great weekend drew to a close.

Glen Hartigan

PENN STATE Tau

TAU COMPANY has purchased a shelter for Tau, which was just installed on November 5, 1977, after a nine-year absence at Penn State. The shelter is located at 420 East Hamilton Avenue in the fraternity section south of campus. Some major construction work is planned for the summer and the brothers will be working through the summer to prepare for the house opening in the fall.

Tau carried the Delt colors well in academics and in athletics in the 1977-78 school year. Winter term the Delts finished eighth out of 50 fraternities in grade point average with a 2.89 average. In athletics, the Delts wound up 10th for the year overall, and had a league champion softball team which lost in the quarter-final round of the fraternity playoffs.

Tau is planning to host a number of Eastern Division chapters to a touch football tournament on the weekend of October 5 & 6. Tau brothers (pledged before the end of spring term) are looking forward to returning to the shelter in the fall and hosting our fellow Delts to a weekend of fun and football in the middle of fall term.

Tim Phillips

RAINBOW

PITTSBURGH Gamma Sigma

COUNTDOWN to the Diamond. Yes, the diamond anniversary will be kicked off this fall and plans are being made now for a celebration that will befit the occasion.

Gamma Sigma's new rush chairman is Tim Burkhard and rush is well on its way as we are eagerly anticipating a pledge class that will enhance our Hugh Shields chapter. Alumni are urged to send any prospects to the chapter.

Our winter term initiation was April 30 and a banquet that evening honored both our new brothers and our departing senior brothers. After this closing affair, many brothers went to various parts, ranging from the vacation beaches to summer jobs at home. However, all too often summer is but a brief interlude.

Freshman Orientation was June 23-27 and the Delts had four brothers on the Orientation staff, while numerous others coordinated various efforts during this period.

Gamma Sigma Delts recently participated in an IFC-sponsored community cleanup that netted television, radio and newspaper coverage. The event was coordinated by Drew Dimaccio, IFC public relations director, while Joe Heim and Gene Manasterski, both IFC officers, had a hand in the success. However the most important factor was the large turnout of Gamma Sigma Delts.

The recipient of the David Oliver Holbrook Award, in memory of the first chapter adviser and which is a Chelsea clock, honors the outstanding senior, was John Finn, our past president. The Parmalee award, for in-chapter service, was given to Tom Peterson.

It is always hard to bid departing seniors farewell, but their influence lives on as many of their characteristics helped mold us. However they are now part of the GS tradition.

Joseph C. Heim

PURDUE Gamma Lambda

SPRING is always a time of beauty and new growth. Such was the case at Gamma Lambda Chapter. Our Mother's day celebration was held April 14 and 15. An enormous brunch opened up weekend's activities, followed by an open bar and a barbecued side of beef. The weekend was topped off with an all-campus party in honor of our mothers. Mrs. Lohman was elected the new president of the mothers club.

Delt Bruce Banter is on the run. Special attention should be placed on Bruce Banter, who recently broke the Purdue track record for the 600 yard dash, in an amazing 1:09.9.

Brothers Scott Flowers and Jeff Homsher won the intramurals handball doubles. The shelter's softball team made it to the playoffs. Rick Connors broke the 300-lb. mark for the 150-lb. weight class in a recent weight lifting contest.

The highlight of the semester came on Saturday, April 22, which was Purdue's annual Grand Prix. This year our kart was sponsored by Wendy's Corp. We placed 5th in the spring races. This occasion was enjoyed with the women of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Individual achievements have been non-stop as usual. Congratulations to Past President John Abel for his new position as president of the Gimlet Org. Also Greg Murphy and Jeff Homsher were initiated into the HKN honorary. Finally, we would like to invite everyone to drop in and see us, not just at Homecoming, but any time.

Rick Connors

ROBERT MORRIS Zeta Mu

THE DELTS of Robert Morris just initiated two new members in the spring. These new members gave a helping hand when the Delts assisted the Students of Free Enterprise with one of their projects. We also played a major role in the Robert Morris Blood Drive while cooperating fully with the surrounding community on its plan for safety in the community.

The ball finally began rolling for the new house project to be located on the RMC campus. There have been no definite dates set as yet.

The pledge program here will be changed in the fall semester of 1978. Sam Reid, taking on the rough job of pledge educator for the fall semester, has brought up many new ideas for the new program.

Greek Week was a large success for the Delts this spring. We won Greek Week overall by winning 11 of the 21 events. These included basketball, softball, four different running events, swim relay, tug-of-war, and three weight classes of arm wrestling.

In Intramurals the Delts won the handball championship for the third consecutive year. Also, the Delts dominated the handball all-star game with nine of the 12 all-stars being Delts. In Varsity sports, Jeff Tannehill made a fine showing for the Delts by leading the RMC baseball team with an average over 400.

Robert Narkevic

SOUTH DAKOTA Delta Gamma

AFTER putting the rest of the house in order, Delta Gamma has finally come upon an efficient and workable rush system. With Tom Cadwell, president, serving as summer rush chairman, we are expecting a fine pledge class in the fall. Tom is working with Jack Wohlhueter, head rush chairman, to direct the whole house toward fulfillment of our goal.

We all benefitted from a visit from representatives of Beta Tau (Nebraska) and Gamma Pi (Iowa State). Common problems were discussed in the morning with the nights reserved for the entertainment of South Dakota coeds.

Earlier in the semester we dropped in on the Delts at the U of Iowa with our little sisters. We were out looking for a good time and a break from the norm. The Delts at Omicron did not disappoint.

Intramurals saw the Nads reaching the playoffs in softball only to lose in extra innings. In the annual tug-of-war competition the Delts teamed with the Thetas to pull down runner-up honors for the second straight year.

Finally, Delta Gamma was well represented in various honor societies. Brothers were chosen to Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Mortar Board, and Phi Eta Sigma as well as a couple of local honoraries.

SOUTHEASTERN LOUISIANA Epsilon Phi

EPSILON PHI Chapter had a busy spring. Newly installed officers were Gary Penzato, president; Russel Recotta, first vice-president; Steve Enxing, second vice-president; Ronnie Fugarino, recording secretary; Jess Harper, corresponding secretary; Gerald Monteleone, treasurer; Glynn Kron, assistant treasurer; and Crit Lorio, sergeant-at-arms.

One of the main projects this spring was giving the shelter a new coat of paint. The event took a weekend of beer and a barbecue by our little sisters.

About $1,000 was made by the chapter in two projects; raffle of a microwave, which was won in the Miller Pick-up contest, and our annual spring fever softball tournament. The money was set aside for remodeling the house during the summer.

Our Spring Rainbow Formal was a success. Randy Bankston, an E Phi alumnus, was master of ceremonies, and our guest speaker was Al Sheriff, executive vice-president of the Fraternity. Award winners were Bruce Kennedy, Mr. Delta Tau Delta; Russel Penzato, Lee Davis Simpson Award; Audrey Ourso, Edna Heitert Award; Joe Mossey — Crit Lorio and Mike Loupe — Jess Harper, tied for Big Brother — Little Brother Scholarship award; Glynn Kron, outstanding pledge; Tony Marion, outstanding active athlete; and Tom Sharp, outstanding alumnus. Miss Susan Corley was chosen Sweetheart for 1978 and was crowned by Miss Jennifer Russel, outgoing Sweetheart.

At the Louisiana Delt Day competition, we regrettably lost our six-year domination of the first-place trophy to Epsilon Kappa. During Southeastern's own Greek Week competition, however, E Phi managed to get a tight second.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS STATE Zeta Delta

CLASSES are over for the summer at Southwest Texas State University and Zeta Delta Delts have been scattered throughout the southwestern U.S. However, thanks to ZD's summer reunion, July 28-29, they will not be out of touch with the shelter.

Our "Original All-College Party" once again kicked off an eventful semester as approximately 2000 people emptied 99 kegs in four hours. We pledged five excellent young men in January. They are: J. Bryan Bailey, Jim Brooks, Rick Meckstroth — all of Houston; David Newman of Dallas and Vaughn Rehfeld of San Antonio.

Several brothers made the trip to Hunt, Texas for our regional conference in March, while other brothers attended softball tournaments sponsored by the Delts at EZ in Huntsville and ER in Arlington. Both provided us with some good times!

We also sponsored our second annual Muscular Dystrophy basketball game in March, which saw the SWT Bobcats outlast our Greek All-Stars. Rory Simpson did a fine job organizing the event! Once again "LUCK" seemed to elude the ZD Delts in intramurals, as we received the All-Greek Trophy in basketball and made it to the final playoffs in baseball.

Our top scholar for 1977 was Randy Mastler. Delts receiving other honors were: Tim Hurst, Alpha Delta Pi King of Diamonds, and Billy Jenkins, Delta Zeta Beau.

Pasadena junior Jan Anderson was chosen 1978 Sweetheart at our Formal in April, as we wrapped up the semester in fine style! We were very honored to have Western Division Vice-President Si Ragsdale and his wife Kathy as distinguished guests at this year's formal.

And finally a farewell to our graduates, David "Buck" Buchanan, Bebo Bolin, Art Cole and Steve Rattan.

Robert L. Serafine

STEVENS Rho

WARM WEATHER and weathered brains signaled the end of the semester for the brothers of Rho Chapter. With the upcoming initiations, the chapter hopes to number 50 members this fall.

The past year proved to be a banner year for the house as we captured our second straight IFC All-Sports trophy. Pete Tymus' inspired play allowed us to capture the trophy by leading us to victory in the deciding championship basketball game. We also played a key role in the Ducks varsity programs by placing numerous members on teams. Tom Polilonos, Dan McMahon, Glen Cipriani and Nick Bonnell played baseball. Mike Anterri, Joe Francomano, Rick Gobeille, Dennis Lang, Sparky Larcara, and Pat Caramante played on the varsity Sports was not our only area of success. We became very active participants in student activities. Tom Poliones is the IFC president. Abe Addonizie is the IDC president. The Student Review Board lists Dean Constantine as chairman with Kevin McGlocklin as secretary. Student Council has Lou Biondo as V.P. and Skip Farrel as treasurer. We also boast the chairman of the intramural program, an editor of the newspaper. Along with the offices, many of the representatives in the organizations above are Delts as well as on the Honor Board.

Perhaps our most enjoyable program is the Independent Athletic League. This is a sports program for 10-12 year old youths of Hoboken. We sponsor, finance and run the programs. This year Sparky's Red Rams won the football league and Chin's and Pat's Knights won hoops. In closing, alumni (or anyone) please stop by.

SYRACUSE Gamma Omicron

LOOKING BACK at spring semester will evidence the results of Gamma Omicron's long struggle over the past few years to establish itself as the campus and community leader here at Syracuse. Spirit, leadership, and a responsiveness to campus needs has earned Syracuse Delts the 1978 Chancellor's Cup, given to the outstanding fraternity on campus. In order to maintain this standard, Gamma Omicron has looked to many areas for improvement.

Although Spring Rush does not produce large pledge classes at Syracuse, the Delts pledged their largest spring class in five years. This semester also saw plans for the renovation and expansion of our scholarship facilities which already includes a darkroom.

Gamma Omicron has contributed many things to community and campus. Brothers Tom Mostowy and Jim Williams prepared the IFC Rush booklet as well as the IFC Summer Mailer. The Delts have also had the past IFC president, chairmen of the IFC finance board and Greek Week, as well as five Student Association representatives to their credit. Again this year, as in the past six, the Delts took part in the Dance Marathon for MDA and raised $1700. While capturing the All-University Rifle Match and Track Meet, the Syracuse Delts placed third in the intramurals total points competition, out of 28 fraternities.

The resurging interest from our alumni in the undergraduate chapter has helped to strengthen the chapter. Under the guidance of our alumni, led by Clint Louckes, many badly needed improvements are being made to the shelter, including a new kitchen and a new roof.

The undergraduate chapter would also like to thank Alumnus Forrest Witmeyer, under who's leadership the Central New York State Alumni Chapter was rejuvenated this semester. The installation of this chapter was celebrated at our Founder's Day Banquet on March 31, at which time we also honored Fred Stone, Class of 1914, a charter member of Gamma Omicron and chapter adviser for over a quarter of a century. With continuous support from our Alumni, Gamma Omicron cannot help but continue to improve.

TENNESSEE Delta Delta

THE BROTHERS of Delta Delta Chapter have had a busy spring quarter. We are very pleased with the progress of our Alumni Chapter, which is now headed by Farrell Levy of Knoxville.

The brothers have been involved in many community-oriented projects this quarter. We won awards for largest participation in both Knoxville Clean-Up Campaign and The Interfraternity Council Blooddrive.

Brother Mike Sambogna has been appointed to the prestigious All-Campus Events Committee As co-chairman of The Judges Committee.

Two pledges from winter quarter, Doug Powell and Bill Elrod, were initiated this quarter. Brothers Dave King and John Up church were elected to the IFC Honor Society.

Two brothers are involved in the varsity sports program at U.T. Tommy Creswell is a place-kicker for the football team and Dave King is a member of the tennis team.

Congratulations to graduates John Dudeney, Steve Slinkard, Tom Clary, Jamie Lucas, Lane Ashworth and Celeste Huffman.

As the academic year comes to an end, the brothers are looking forward to Homecoming '78 with the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

Gary W. Bledsoe

TEXAS Gamma Iota

THE SPRING semester has been a busy and exciting one for the Delts at Texas. With the turnover of new officers, and a new spring pledge class, the Delts have held their reputation as a leading fraternity on campus. This spring the Delts have received recognition by producing a winning float during Round-Up and winning first place in the Greek Blood Drive. Also, many individual Delts deserve mentioning.

Bill Hayes has provided the chapter with an excellent social program including matches, mixers, and the spring formal. Round-Up was headed by David Pratt and Bryan Dabbs. These two rush captains have organized an excellent summer rush program with three great state rush parties.

This spring, the chapter of Gamma Iota brought back a once traditional beer drinking contest. Of course, the contest was won by a Delt, Keith Callaway, and date. However, a trophy for the worst drinker was also awarded to a Delt, Phil Kuntz.

In intramurals, the Delts at Texas have done another fine job. In basketball, the A team won its league without a defeat. Hard luck prevailed as the team advanced to divisionals. Robert Winkler and Bryan Roach were awarded varsity letters in intramurals and have become members of the T Association for four-year lettermen.

TEXAS A & I Epsilon Lambda

THE EPSILON LAMBDA Chapter started its term with 11 pledges, the largest pledge class on campus, after a very successful spring rush. Along with our new brothers' help we became very active in intramural sports and Greek Week activities. Epsilon Lambda sponsored the annual road rally event.

Toward the end of the term was our formal. Founders' Day was a huge success with a generous amount donated by alumni to our house improvement fund. Our alumni have grown closer to the active chapter since an alumni chapter was formed in neighboring Corpus Christi.

With new officers our chapter grew internally this term with great expectations for next term. With as much energy put forth externally next term, the Delts should maintain the number one ranking on campus.

Tom Chalupsky

TCU Epsilon Beta

EPSILON BETA looks forward to an invigorating fall semester after experiencing a successful and rewarding spring. Among events that highlighted this semester were our annual Spring Formal, and South Sea Island party.

We also had a very successful Founders Day, with great alumni support and a guest appearance from Dave Nagel, Western Division president, and former chapter adviser Dr. William Hulsey.

The men of EB are especially proud of being chosen as the eleventh best Delt chapter at the Western Division Regional Conference held in April.

Athletically the Delts finished the year in third place for all intramural sports and look even stronger this fall. The Delts are also proud to have brothers Brewster MacFarland and Dave Harmet chosen as TCU cheerleaders for the second year in a row.

Scholastically the Delts finished second on campus.

Scott Ramm

TEXAS TECH Epsilon Delta

FIRST OFF, the brothers here at Epsilon Delta would like to express our deepest appreciation to National and our Alumni chapter for their cooperation towards obtaining our new lodge at Greek Circle. We hope to be moved in in time for fall rush.

Our new officers next fall will be: President Chris Rogers, Exec. V.P. Marvin Brown, V.P. Les Clark, Corr. Sec. Randy Giles, Rec. Sec. Lynn Cowden. The pledge program for next fall will be headed by Robert Seymore, assisted by Pat Eastman.

We would like for two of our brothers to be recognized for their recent achievements. Mike Mock, Tech linebacker this past season, has been drafted by the New York Jets in this seasons Pro draft. Winning out over some tough competition was Brother Lee Puckitt for the honor of riding Happy VI as Techs' "Masked Red Raider." We also congratulate alumnus Kent Hance for his Democratic nomination in the congressional race. We wish him luck in the fall election.

With the addition of 29 newly initiated brothers, the Tech Delts are continuing to grow and stay on top of the Greek system here in Lubbock. We wish everyone the best of luck in fall rush.

Randy Giles

TUFTS Beta Mu

BETA MU managed to survive the blizzard of '78. Some brothers slept, others frolicked in the snow. We initiated eight new brothers. Remember quality not quantity. They are a well-rounded and talented group and will contribute much to the house. Our sports participants did exceptionally well especially in hockey, sailing, rugby and swimming. Senior Delt Craig Dougherty achieved All-America honors in swimming. We also graduated a dozen seniors, four of whom are going to medical school and the remainder to graduate schools. They will certainly be missed. Highlights of our spring semester included the addition of a new cook who has added spice (not to mention good food) to our lives, a visit by Gale Wilkerson, many successful and well-received band parties, some warm spring weather, a superlative performance by Chuck Karo doing his now famous imitation, a scavenger hunt dominated by an all-out effort by stalker Jim Rutkosky, and most importantly an executive board led by President Chris Lucander, has made some important improvements in house management, enhanced this chapter's participation in campus activities and inspired a new spirit of cooperation in the house.

Mitch Dynan

VIRGINIA Beta Iota

IN THE FALL of 1977, Beta Iota Chapter took 18 pledges, all of whom proved worthy and were initiated into the Brotherhood in April. One early bid extended in the spring was also accepted.

On December 3, President Mark Dietrichs, large in spirit but a bit small for the Santa Claus suit, led the Brotherhood in its second annual Christmas party for 40 underprivileged children, complete with hot chocolate, doughnuts, foam rubber football, chicken-fights and quickdraw contests, all toys being donated by the Brotherhood.

In February, six Delt chapters attended a Regional Conference hosted by Beta Iota in Charlottesville on subjects ranging from rush techniques to bookkeeping methods.

Later this spring, assisted by a loan from National Fraternity, the House Corporation purchased a new shelter at 129 Chancellor Street, to be occupied this fall.

The year's activities were complemented by the Rainbow Formal at the Farmington Country Club, the four Big Weekends, IFC Weekend, annual alumni & faculty cocktail parties, Walk-a-Thon for March of Dimes, tree-transplanting for the City Beautification Project, sorority mixers, and even the usual Friday afternoon work parties.

William C. Gentry

WASHINGTON Gamma Nu

THIS SPRING has turned out to be one of our more interesting quarters in quite a while. We've had everything from an exchange with a sorority from another campus to an All Greek root beer party. The root beer wasn't intentional however. At the insistence of our local Liquor Board an offer of "Free Suds" came to mean "Free Root Beer."

Our house came out of the year on the strong side, initiating 23 new members and pledging two more. Leadership in the house is also looking very strong, having set some good goals for next year at our annual officers retreat. This year's retreat also had an interesting side attraction being held in the San Juan Islands on one of our member's own personal island.

This quarter also showed great promise in improving undergraduate-alumni relations by forming a job program wherein alumni would find jobs for undergraduates. Another program ready to begin is for each undergraduate member to have an alumnus Big Brother to give him guidance and help if he needs it.

Activities this quarter included our annual Mexican dance (we call it Viva!), and Greek Week, which is a week of competitive events between houses in the Greek system, culminating in the awarding of a trophy which we're sorry to say we didn't win. We put in a lot of effort however, and it was good to see the house pull together in the pinch.

Rush is looking good for the summer, with three capable rush chairmen heading the job. This could be our best year yet for new pledges and a new foundation for next year, as this year we're externally organized and ready to get the job done.

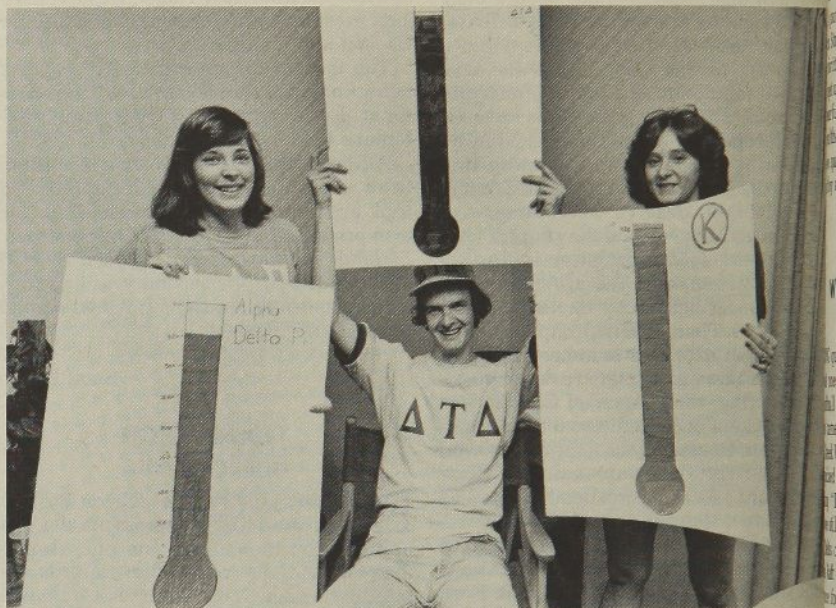

Greg Van

WASHINGTON STATE Epsilon Gamma

IT HAS been an active semester for the men of Epsilon Gamma. While turning our chapter room into a disco and teaming up with the Schlitz Beer Company to raise funds for charity, we also have found time to improve our scholarship program from fall semester.

To create our disco, we removed the carpet from our chapter room and sanded down the hardwood floor. The floor was then given a finish similar to that of a gym floor. A color organ, strobe lights, black lights and a mirror ball were then connected together to create a light show that makes our exchanges unique from all others.

With the support of Schlitz, a weekend of activities this spring raised money for the WSU Cougar Club and the Epton Center for disabled children. A movie provided by Brothers of Zeta Iota chapter at West Florida, friends and relatives of Lee Corbitt, '77, gathered recently for a dedication ceremony of a campus bench, top photo. M. Corbitt, who was 26, died of cancer last September. He was very active in both fraternity and campus events. In the lower photo, Don Pippin holds the Delt scorecard showing that Zeta Iota Chapter placed first in both participation and monies collected during the annual AWF Alumni Association Telethon. Ninety-five percent of the members participated, raising $750. Others in the photo are Anita Gomez, right, representing runner-up Circle K, and Mona Henderson, left, of Alpha Delta Pi. (Photos by Mike Kozak)

Schlitz, "The Mind-Boggling, Never-To-Be-Forgotten-Or-Believed, Movie Orgy," was shown with a $1 admission price on Friday night.

Saturday morning an all-campus bed race was held, with living groups contributing $20 entry fees. That night a street dance with a live band was held in our parking lot. Although the dance itself was free, money was raised by selling beer to students. While the weekend was a success, we hope to learn from our mistakes and make this an annual event that will become better each year.

David Brumbaugh

WEST FLORIDA Zeta Iota

ZETA IOTA has kept the momentum of going of remaining number one at West Florida in academics, social and service projects. Our Spring Rush efforts saw four good men pledge Delta Tau Delta: Ed Winters, Jim Klocke, Kenny Hamilton and Steve Saucier. Throughout their pledgeship these men were guided in their efforts by the brotherhood.

Delt president Tom Murphey was recently awarded a certificate for holding the highest GPA in the chapter. The certificate was presented at the Spring-coming Awards Picnic, an annual event in which the entire campus participates.

In our ongoing service project we continue to act as tourguides for the Edward Ball Wildlife Sanctuary and nature trail. The Delts averaged one tour for every working day this spring and have even given some tours on the weekends. We have also given a bench to the campus community on behalf of Lee Corbitt, a brother who died of cancer last September. The brothers and little sisters acted as student hosts for "UWF and You," a recruiting effort sponsored by the university. Zeta Iota was also recognized by the UWF Alumni Association through the presentation of an 110% Award, given in appreciation of the Delt participation in the annual Alumni Telethon.

We have also been able to visit both the Tulane and LSU chapters this past quarter. Beta Xi put us up after a long night on Bourbon Street and Epsilon Kappa invited us over for its annual Delt Crawfish Boil. We hope to get up to Auburn and Murphesboro in the near future. The undergraduate chapter played the ZI alumni in June in a softball and brew quaffing fest where a good time was had by all.

Mike Kozak

WEST GEORGIA Zeta Xi

SPRING quarter at West Georgia was a great one. We participated in a statewide softball tournament of all Delt chapters and came in second.

Our Greek Week was also a great success as we picked up five trophies and awards including "Best Participation," which shows we still are working hard.

The Delts of Zeta Xi entered the Great Ramblin Raft Race this year. It was a new experience for most but a real great one indeed. We continued to stay busy as we held Parent-Alumni Day the day after the raft race. We enjoyed seeing many alumni as well as our parents. The cookout was enjoyed by both parents and alumni as well as ourselves.

A week later was our annual Champagne Formal. Once again we were glad to see alumni there to enjoy this festive occasion. In the middle of all these activities we managed to pick up three sharp pledges this quarter.

We have been very busy this past quarter as I am sure all of you have. I wish all of you a safe and fun summer on behalf of all of us here at West Georgia.

Good Luck to all with your fall RUSH.

Max S. Katz

WEST VIRGINIA Gamma Delta

IT HAS BEEN a busy and productive spring semester for the Brothers of Gamma Delta. We started the semester by

Help Rush

Do you know an outstanding young man entering a college or university this fall? Delt chapters are looking for recommendations that can help them identify possible rushees. Send names and any pertinent information to the Central Office for forwarding to individual chapters. Write: Delta Tau Delta, 4740 Kingsway Drive, Suite 110, Indianapolis, Indiana 46205.

capturing the over-all competition of the Delta Gamma sponsored Anchor Splash. The swimming and diving meet was held to raise money for the blind. Brothers Brad Pittman, Brian Flint, and Brad "Fuss Face" Foster drowned-out all other competitors and dog paddled to an easy victory.

Led by Brother Fred Wilkerson, the Delts also won the over-all annual Greek Week competition. The week was full of competitive spirit, parties, and other miscellaneous events.

The brothers were also active in campus politics with members Tom Allen and Charlie Brown (no relation) gaining seats on the campus Board of Directors-Charlie being the top vote-getter on campus.

Our annual blood drive was again highly successful. We surpassed last year's total by raising more pints of blood than any other drive in the area.

To wind up the semester, Gamma Delta hosted our Regional Conference. The conference was attended by nine Eastern Division chapters, national officers, and special guest speakers, including Arch Moore, former governor of W. Virginia. The guests were treated to a luncheon and dinner banquet followed by a party for the visiting brothers. The conference was deemed a success by all who attended.

The Brothers of West Virginia University look forward to hosting the conference again, sometime in the near future, along with another productive semester in the fall.

Otto Von Hoffenheimer

WHITMAN Delta Rho

DELTA RHO chapter celebrated its thirtieth anniversary in high style with a cocktail party at the shelter and a steak dinner at the SUB, complete with Cold Duck. Division Vice-Presidents Jeff Heatherington and Keith Hanson were in attendance, along with Professor of Economics Dave Stevens. Alumni and parents brought the total number in attendance to forty-five.

The evening was highlighted by the initiation of our foreign student, Will Song, of Hong Kong.

A work week was held before the anniversary, the main project being the re-finishing of the woodwork in the shelter. A new carpet is to be installed before rush week and Rob Rudiak has volunteered to build a pool table.

An aggressive summer rush program has been planned with two rush parties in Seattle and the possibility of rush parties in Spokane, Portland, and the Bay Area.

In IM basketball, Delta Rho once again finished with a winning record. The softball team also had a winning season.

The annual Easter Beer Hunt was a success, with Delts from Epsilon Gamma at Washington State and Whitman Tri-Delts present.

Garth Cowan

WILLAMETTE Epsilon Theta

SPRING semester at Epsilon Theta was highlighted by several "firsts" as the chapter tried new programs and concepts.

For the first time, the job of house maintenance and house improvement were combined into one house manager position. Currently the house is shopping for new living room furniture and is working with the University on several major improvement projects. We also held our first all-house work weekend that enabled us to complete several minor projects. This served a dual purpose: to help us work together and to spruce-up the house for rush next fall. We painted the laundry room, re-finished the mail boxes and completed several tasks left from initiation.

Late in the semester we held a combined senior awards, house awards and senior dinner at a local restaurant. This is the first time in recent history that the house, as a whole, has assembled to honor graduating seniors. During the dinner, chapter revealed a new special house award to honor super Delt and outstanding brother, Jay Jackson. A graduate of Willamette and Willamette Law School, Jay has been our head resident for the past four years and unofficial historian of house alums and traditions. He is leaving fall semester, so this annual award and trophy shows our appreciation for his commitment to Epsilon Theta and Delta Tau Delta.

The house welcomes new head resident Kenny Slack, who graduated from Willamette in 1977. He is also an alum of Epsilon Theta.

In the sports world, Delt Mike Roth, a junior transfer from Big Bend Community College and Gonzaga University, has been named captain of the basketball team for the 1978-79 season.

Sing

TO THE ROYAL PURPLE
120 YEARS OF DELTA TAU DELTA

ROBERT L. HARTFORD,
BETA 1936

DID YOU EVER WONDER. . .
what life might have been like in the days before fraternity houses,
when chapters met at secret times,
in unknown places, with feeble lights and the shades all drawn?

Did you ever hear about the Karnea where all the delegates drove new purple, white and gold Stutzes, right off the assembly line?

Or about the time when the entire
Fraternity consisted of one man?

Or about the lost delegate in the horseshoe vest?

Or who was the first Delt named to the Distinguished Service Chapter?

Or when initiation was a one-on-one experience.

Or about the chapter that was started with planes flying overhead
in a DTD formation?

They are all in "Sing To The Royal Purple - 120 Years of Delta Tau Delta" It's the Fraternity's first published history. Written by Robert L. Hartford, Beta 1936, the Fraternity's Historian, it's designed to be read, not as a reference. Bob Hartford, 29th President of Delta Tau Delta and veteran of 20 years experience in Division and National offices was in writing and publishing during his entire business career. In this volume he has come up with an excellent balance of vital statistics and interesting information about the growth and greatness of our Fraternity. It will be published in August, and we think you'll want a copy for your own library. Help us set our press run by ordering your copy now.
