Open the door of opportunity for a future Delt

As an alumnus, you have the power to shape the Fraternity through the referral of young men to follow in your footsteps. More importantly, you have the power to shape young men by opening the doorway of opportunity which leads to their membership in the Fraternity.

From the President Once you're a Delt, you're always a Delt

Brothers,

In my travels as the International President, I meet many Deltas – young and old. I especially enjoy meeting Deltas in the funniest places. If I am wearing something with Delta Tau Delta on it, I almost always run into a Delt at an airport, a restaurant, a ballgame or even a carwash.

Sometimes when I meet an older Delt in public, he will say to me, "I was a Delt at (name a chapter.)" I usually respond with something like, "Oh, I'm sorry. What happened to cause you to not be a Delt anymore?" It is my subtle way of reminding Deltas, undergraduates and alumni, that you will always be a Delt. None of us took any vows that said "I will be a Delt only while I am in school." It is a lifetime honor and obligation.

Now, more than ever, Delta Tau Delta needs her alumni brothers. We need your time, talent and treasure. Our undergraduate brothers need the wisdom and support only a Delt alumnus can supply.

That support does not have to only be as a chapter advisor. The chapter advisor is the most important alumni position in Delta Tau Delta and I can never thank them enough. They give so much but they will tell you they also receive so much. Advisors see young boys come into their chapters and leave as men. They make an impact on our chapters every week.

They cannot do it by themselves, however. We have alumni advisory teams at some chapters. This group can consist of four to 10 alumni who offer their expertise and skills to help the chapter. A Delt alumnus who is an accountant can help the chapter treasurer. An alumnus who is in sales or marketing can help the recruitment chairman with rush. There are numerous ways an alumnus can help. The talents of our alumni can make a huge difference in the success of our chapters.

It does not even have to be your own chapter. We have numerous alumni who serve as advisors at chapters where they were not members. They serve because they want to give back to the Fraternity so current undergraduates and future Deltas have better opportunities. It doesn't take a lot of time or money to help a chapter. It only takes a commitment to want to help other Deltas.

So, here is a request to all alumni: Help our undergraduates enjoy the same opportunities for brotherhood, leadership and knowledge you enjoyed. Step up and say "I AM A DELT."

Happy Holidays to all Deltas and may God bless all of you and our beloved Fraternity.

EDITOR'S NOTE

The end of August was a difficult time for almost everyone in the United States. If you did not have a direct connection to somebody who lived in the Gulf Coast region devastated by Hurricane Katrina, you likely were affected by the images you saw on television or in the print media. While Delta Tau Delta was fortunate not to lose anyone in the storm, many of our members had their lives shattered when the hurricane whisked away their families' homes and livelihood. What did not surprise me but still made me proud to be associated with the Fraternity was to watch as complete strangers, associated only through an oath they once took, turned to help each other. Whether someone needed a place to stay, a helping hand or even a hug, there was always a Delt nearby ready to give.

Charles E. Richmond (Allegheny, 1882) serving as editor of The Crescent as an undergraduate, proposed chapters "make a thorough and systematic examination of our constitution and inner workings so that at our next convention any flaws may be remedied and the fraternity machine put in the best possible order." Richmond proposed the annual convention move to a two-year cycle with the savings used for "internal improvements or division conferences."

A reprinted The New York Times book review examined Taft and Roosevelt: The Intimate Letters of Archie Butt, Military Aide, published by Doubleday, Doran & Co. Major Archibald D.W. Butt (Sewanee, 1891) died in 1912 while saving countless lives on the doomed Titanic. The posthumous compilation documented the 1909-1912 power struggle in the Republican Party between Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft, of whom Butt had served under both. "Major Butt was not a historian. He was not even a particularly profound observer. But he was honest. He knew he was living in the midst of events over which historians of the future would deliberate and argue."

Dr. Henry M. Wriston (Wesleyan, 1911) was saluted in a profile coinciding with his retirement after 18 years as president of Brown University. He previously had served 12 years as president of Lawrence College. Wriston was cited as the founder of the fraternity quadrangles at Lawrence and Brown. He also was the Fraternity's supervisor of scholarship (1936-38) and had been honored by the National Interfraternity Conference with its gold medal for distinguished interfraternal service.

Speaking at the Bethany Convocation during the 75th Karnea in Pittsburgh, alumni initiate and Bethany College President Perry Gresham said, "The world has never forgotten the good, the true and the beautiful of ancient Greece. Today the Delta Tau Delta trilogy is learning, leadership and loyalty. Wherever people gather, leaders emerge. Every chapter is a leadership center where some lead and others follow. There can be no leaders without followers and there can be no followers without leaders."

Cincinnati Delts dance into seniors' hearts

To the Editor,

Although the Greek system has been around for more than 200 years, it cannot be denied that its reputation and respect is something that members of Greek Chapters have to fight for and earn, especially with the increase in media attention to detrimental and unfortunate events (i.e. chapter house fires, MTV's "Sorority Life", etc).

With that being acknowledged, I am contacting you with some news that I think will not only touch your heart, but also make you proud of the men you call your collegiate brothers.

On Oct. 11, 2005, approximately 30 members of Gamma Xi (University of Cincinnati) joined about 50 of our residents and their family members at our 11th annual Sweetest Day Dance. The arrival of the men was kept fairly under wraps before hand, and served as a great surprise to the residents!

The men of Gamma Xi spent the evening dancing with the elderly ladies, chatting with the men and mingling with the families. They were perfect gentlemen, from offering to get the residents punch and finger foods, to holding lengthy conversations and just being polite. The residents adored this!

So many of the women in our facility have lost husbands long ago and it means so much to be given attention by such amazing and sharply dressed young men! It is also important to mention that it was during homecoming week for the University of Cincinnati; We cannot emphasize enough how meaningful it was to have these men attend our event in the midst of planning for a parade, alumni events, etc.

This will surely be something the residents will be buzzing about for a very long time. We encourage you to remember this event and its meaning when considering this chapter for any future awards or recognition!

Westminster chapter rocks United Way efforts

To the Editor:

I am writing on behalf of the Board of the Callaway County United Way with regards to the Delta Omicron Chapter of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity at Westminster College.

We are a small United Way. Our goal for this year is only $216,000 but we are surrounded by communities with multi-million dollar goals. We find our goal very difficult to meet each year for that very reason. Often donating to our chapter is last on everyone's list and the devastation created by Hurricanes Katrina and Rita is proving to be yet another hurdle we must face this year.

Another challenge we face is finding volunteers. Our events and fund raising efforts require a great deal of work and, because we employ only one part-time employee, we depend on the goodness of volunteers to help us reach our goals. However, this is a self-centered world. Finding volunteers is becoming more and more difficult for us.

It is for this reason that I write you in praise of the Delta Tau Delta chapter at Westminster College. The Fraternity has been well represented at each and every one of our events over the last two years. What I consider even more impressive is that each of these young men has worked tirelessly. Physical labor, working with the public, soliciting donations, running our concessions, set up, tear down... the list goes on and on. Moreover, they contact us to volunteer; we don't have to ask.

Recent research revealed that over 80 percent of children aged 7-14 said they had absolutely NO plans to help their community in the future (USA Today, 2004). It's a scary prospect. Thank goodness there are organizations like Delta Tau Delta that continue to teach the value of helping our fellow man. And the men of Delta Tau Delta in Fulton, Mo., deserves our praise for setting such an excellent example of leadership. We refer to them as "Delts That Rock!"

Peg Dzicek, President
Callaway County United Way

Jeremy Robinson (Wabash, 2004) teaches English at a Chicago high school.

Wabash alumnus earns Rhodes Scholar

Jeremy Robinson (Wabash, 2004) was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship in November.

Robinson, who currently is teaching for Teach for America on Chicago's south side, will study English at Oxford. He told the Chicago Tribune he wanted to grow as a teacher and become more of an advocate for educational improvements.

"Since receiving the news, I've felt an odd mixture of disbelief, head-over-heels elation, gratitude and fear of the awesome responsibility this entails," Robinson said. "I feel this in every fiber of my being and I look forward to repaying the debt I owe so many people."

He said the final interview process in Chicago took place Nov. 18 and 19. Robinson had an feeling after his interview Nov. 19, while walking back to the law offices where the interviews were conducted. He was one of nine finalists. He learned at 3 p.m. that he would become a Rhodes Scholar.

"I felt a little bit like I was on Donald Trump's show The Apprentice," he said. "Surrounding me were eight eminently talented young people from some of the finest academic institutions in the country with the most decorated personal, academic, athletic and altruistic histories you could imagine. For some reason the stars were aligned and I didn't lose my job."

Robinson majored in English and Spanish at Wabash. His brothers Josh (Wabash, 1997) and Ben (Wabash, 2001) also joined Delta Tau Delta while at the all-male school in Crawfordsville, Ind. Robinson, from Indianapolis, was a summa cum laude graduate, Lilly Scholar and earned distinction on his comps.

The Rhodes scholarship is worth approximately $40,000 and covers tuition and living expenses. There are about 85 Rhodes Scholars selected each year from around the world.

Cornell alumnus honored with Bridge Builder award

John Van Soest (Cornell, 1986) was awarded the John Nichols Bridge Builder Award for his continuous work with the Beta Omicron Chapter at his alma mater.

The award is presented to alumni who have rendered at least three years of outstanding service to the establishment, development or enhancement of a house corporation. Van Soest has served as Beta Omicron's house corporation treasurer since 1997 and has provided great stability for the chapter.

He also was the director of financial services at Cornell's Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs. As a daily presence on campus for seven years and in his role as house corporation treasurer, Van Soest has been a constant positive presence for the men of Beta Omicron.

Rock Clinton, Delta Tau Delta's vice president, presented the Bridge Builder award to Van Soest in October.

You have the power to attend division conferences

The 2006 annual division leadership conferences' theme is "You Have the Power!" It represents the ability every alumnus and undergraduate has to keep Delta Tau Delta at the forefront of the fraternity world.

Each weekend in February, Delts have an opportunity to show how their strength can continue the good work of the Fraternity by attending one of four division conferences. Each conference will have sessions aimed at providing alumni resources and solutions, undergraduates ways to improve themselves and their chapters and opportunities for all Delts to enjoy each other's company.

Butler alumnus serves Fraternity as DTAA intern during fall

Ryan Fleming (Butler, 2005) traveled as the Fraternity's Delts Talking About Alcohol intern this fall.

Developed by Prevention Research Institute to address drinking on college campuses, DTAA is designed to reduce the risk of Fraternity brothers developing alcohol- or drug-related problems at any point in life.

He earned a bachelor's degree in finance and intends to further his education and attain a master's in either political science or economics.

While an undergraduate at Butler University, he served in many capacities for the Beta Zeta Chapter but mostly accomplished himself as the alumni relations chairman for two years. Fleming hails from Crown Point, Ind. He currently lives in Indianapolis.

Omega Chapter returns to Pennsylvania

By Bryan Tseng
Omega Chapter
Corresponding Secretary

After often times struggling toward the goal, the Omega Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania reached its rightful place within Delta Tau Delta when it was installed Oct. 29, 2005 with 37 initiates.

Despite working for four years to reach the goal, it was still hard not question what it meant to be a Delt the day of the installation. Times were tough during the colony years. Conflicts arose and were resolved. We were like a vessel sailing far into the ocean with dark clouds lying ahead with the storms gathering overhead. The vessel shook hard and at many times looked as if it would capsize. Everyone on board was scared – or at least should have been – and each dealt with that fear in a different manner. But we all had the same mindset: We are going to make it.

It was that belief that carried us through the rough times. The numerous discussions regarding the future of the chapter and our determination to not give up no matter the challenge. It was with momentum over the past year that helped bring the fruits of our labor to realization. Omega, first chartered at the university Jan. 1, 1897 and which has initiated 1,185 Deltas, is once again a chapter at Pennsylvania, its luster fully restored.

Witnessing the Rite of Iris, performed by Scott Heydt, a former chapter leadership consultant and currently a division vice president, and the Ritual, performed by the Theta Tau Chapter from Moravian College, were enthralling. We were becoming a part of the brotherhood and with that privilege we were given its secrets.

Having Fraternity Vice President Rock Clinton, Eastern Division President Jim Garboden and Jim Russell, executive vice president of Delta Tau Delta, at the ceremonies proved the importance Omega has for the Fraternity. Those three important men gave their time and effort to show how much they cared about us and how proud they were for what we accomplished.

Many questions were answered during the ceremonies and a strong understanding of what Delta Tau Delta meant took hold. The Omega men in that room who went through so much effort to bring the chapter back to the university had already fostered the fraternal affection amongst us and the ceremony cemented that feeling.

So what does it mean to be a Delt?

When chapter President Ryan Norris received our charter during the banquet, he not only stood with it on stage as Omega's leader but as the embodiment of the Omega Chapter. He represented those of us who had devoted our time and talent to her betterment and lived up to her standards of excellence.

It is hard to articulate what being a Delt is because everyone has unique experiences from not just one chapter to another, but also within the same chapter. It is in taking those experiences collectively that allows the ability to discover the truest meaning of living a life of excellence.

Former Delt president, Huddleston, honored by college alma mater

Dr. Thomas Huddleston (Texas A&M-Commerce, 1962) was named a distinguished alumnus of his alma mater at a ceremony in October during the university's homecoming weekend.

Huddleston, who served as Epsilon Eta Chapter's president while an undergraduate at Commerce, has continued to serve Delta Tau Delta over the years. Most notably he was the International President of the Fraternity from 1998-2000. He is currently the house corporation president for the Zeta Omicron Chapter at Central Florida and was cited for Delta Tau Delta's Distinguished Service Chapter in 2002.

Huddleston, who earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at A&M-Commerce, is the vice president of marketing, communications and admissions for Central Florida. He was selected to lead a new initiative at the university last year to address brand identity, integrated marketing, news and information as well as undergraduate enrollment issues.

In his work in higher education, Huddleston has focused on the development of enrollment management strategies to strengthen enrollment. Particular focus has been on higher education, new student growth, student development programs and student retention.

In addition, he has consulted with private and public institutions within and outside of the United States. His business experience includes working with Worldwide Marketing for the Education Industry, the Sperry Corporation and National Computer Services.

His A&M-Commerce contributions include several awards for his work as sports editor and associate editor of the university newspaper, "The East Texan." Huddleston was also a university cheerleader.

Blackwelder awarded by Baker for distinguished service

Murray Blackwelder (Baker, 1969) was awarded for distinguished service by his alma mater in October. A senior vice president for advancement at Purdue University where he developed and implemented a $1.5 billion capital campaign — the largest in Indiana — Blackwelder has been recognized by several groups for his contributions to higher education.

He was cited for the Distinguished Service Chapter from the Fraternity in 2000 and was named Alumnus of the Year by the Gamma Theta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta at Baker. Blackwelder also received the Distinguished Service Award from the Council for Advancement and Support of Education.

Involved in university relations for more than 30 years, Blackwelder currently serves on several boards and committees including the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity Educational Foundation.

Blackwelder's wife, Diane Wilson Blackwelder, was also awarded for distinguished service by Baker University at the same ceremony in October. A 1970 graduate of Baker, Diane Blackwelder is the assistant dean of students at Purdue University and a past national vice president of Alpha Chi Omega Fraternity and a past national Pan-Hellenic Conference delegate of Alpha Chi Omega.

Heminger earns journalism award

From The Courier

Edwin L. Heminger (Ohio Wesleyan, 1948), chairman of the Findlay Publishing Co. and longtime publisher of The (Findlay, Ohio) Courier, received the Inland Press Association's Ralph D. Casey/Minnesota Award in October.

It is the highest honor awarded by the Inland Press Association and the University of Minnesota's School of Journalism for distinguished public service and leadership in the newspaper industry. The Inland Press Association membership includes 870 newspapers, primarily in the Midwest.

Heminger is one of three men to serve as both the national president of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity (1972-73) and the director of the Fraternity's Educational Foundation (1982-99). He was a member of the field staff from 1948-49 and also served as the North-American Interfraternity Conference president in 1986.

The Casey Award goes to distinguished industry leaders with a commitment to high journalistic standards and social trusteeship. Albert Tims, director of the school of journalism at the University of Minnesota, said Heminger's nomination was supported by professional colleagues who said he represents "the best in family-owned newspaper journalism."

Delts in entertainment

COMPILED BY JAY LANGHAMMER

Ed Baker (Iowa State, 1990) won a television Emmy Award in August for his work as storyboard artist for the Cartoon Network's "Foster's Home for Imaginary Friends." He was one of eight winners for "outstanding individual achievement in animation" and was specifically cited for his work with the "World Wide Wabbit" episode produced by Cartoon Network Studios.

Bill Fagerbakke (Idaho, 1979) appeared in the 2005 movie "Callback" and continues doing voice work in television and film projects, including the DVD "Stewie Griffin: The Untold Story," a spinoff of the "Family Guy" TV series.

Will Ferrell (Southern California, 1990) is working on a yet-to-be-named comedy about NASCAR in which he portrays driver Ricky Bobby. He completed filming "Stranger Than Fiction" and is also in the pre-production stages of "Joan of Ark: The Dog That Saved France."

David Gates (Oklahoma, 1962), former Bread lead singer and solo performer, is still performing. He has three concerts scheduled for February in Mexico and five nights at Connecticut's Mohegan Sun Casino.

Aron Kincaid (Norman Williams) (UCLA, 1962) is on the cover of 2005 book "Hollywood and Beach Movies: The First Wave 1959-69" by Thomas Lisanti. The book by McFarland Publishing features a foreword by Kincaid, a biographical sketch of his career with behind-the-scenes commentary and photos. He appeared in several films, including: "The Girl on the Beach," "Beach Ball," "Dr. Goldfoot and the Bikini Machine" and "The Ghost in the Invisible Bikini."

Jim Lemley (Idaho, 1988) executive produced the Wes Craven movie "Red Eye," an upcoming Johnny Depp film, "The Diving Bell and the Butterfly," and "Tristan & Isolde," scheduled for 2006 release. He has also produced yet-to-be released films "Slanted and Enchanted" and "9."

Mickey Liddell (Oklahoma, 1984) continues serving as executive producer for the television series "Everwood" and also executive produced feature films "Therese Raquin," "Barfuss" and "Bridge and Tunnel."

Clint Mabry (Baylor, 2001) has been the body double for actor - and Mabry's cousin - Josh Henderson on the FX series "Over There." Mabry lost his right leg three years ago in a car accident and stands in for Henderson, whose character, Bo Ryder, lost his leg in an Iraq landmine explosion. During the summer, Mabry and Henderson were interviewed on "Access Hollywood" and featured in People Magazine, Parade Magazine and USA Today. Mabry is also program manager for the Challenged Athletes foundation in Del Mar, Calif.

Matthew McConaughey (University of Texas, 1992) was named People Magazine's "Sexiest Man Alive" in November. He is the 20th man to receive the distinction and earned the honor for "combining a heaping helping of Texas' finest Southern charm with the best of all the heart-throbs who've come before him." He joined the Hurricane Katrina relief effort in September and visited several states. He also wrote a blog for both Oprah Winfrey's Angel Network and his own Just Keep Livin' Productions website (www.jklivin.net). He has appeared as the Stetson Black men's fragrance model in recent advertisements.

Greg Michaels (Greg Smith) (University of Texas, 1970) will appear in the upcoming Hallmark Entertainment production "The Final Days of Planet Earth," in which he has a scene with 150 cockroaches. Easier to work with were co-stars Daryl Hannah, Gil Bellows and Campbell Scott. Michaels plays a sheriff in the 2006 feature film "The Shadow of Over Innsmouth," based on an H.P. Lovecraft story.

The following Chapter Eternal notices were received in the Central office between August 11 and November 11, 2005.

CHAPTER ETERNAL

To notify the Fraternity of a member's death, please send an obituary notice, memorial service pamphlet or other written confirmation to Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, 10000 Allisonville Road, Fishers, IN, 46038 2008 or fax the information to 317 284 0214.

van Hengel: Father of food banks

John van Hengel (Lawrence University, 1944) passed away October 5 in Phoenix. Mr. Van Hengel received the Alumni Achievement Award at the 2004 Kamea for his efforts to start the nation's first food bank.

He founded the concept of food banking with the start of Phoenix based St. Mary's Food Bank in 1967. After proving successful in gleaning food from the food industry and distributing it to agencies for people in need, he worked for many years as a consultant to cities across the country so they too could start a food bank. His efforts led to the founding of America's Second Harvest, the nation's largest charitable hunger relief organization, comprised of more than 200 member food banks. It has distributed nearly 20 billion pounds of food and grocery products in 25 years of operation.

Mr. van Hengel continued

his work after retiring from St. Mary's Food Bank. Despite battling Parkinson's Disease, he communicated with food banks all over the world. Most recently, he worked with col leagues to open food banks in Africa, the continent that initially inspired Mr. van Hengel to help feed his fellow man.

Jerome: Leader in Canadian politics

James Jerome (University of Toronto, 1954) died August 21. He was 72.

Mr. Jerome received the Alumni Achievement Award in 1980 for his years of public service in the Canadian government.

He became House of Commons speaker in 1974 when appointed by former Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau. Jerome held onto the speaker position despite his party losing control of the par liament in 1979 after the con trolling party made the unusual step to keep him in the position.

He decided not to seek reelection to the Parliament in 1980 and was appointed associate chief justice of the Federal Court. He remained a judge until he retired in 1998.

He was known for his even handedness when it came to the political landscape and was well respected from all parties.

Dowler: Longtime volunteer at Beta Chapter

John D. Jack Dowler (Ohio, 1956) died October 30. He was 71.

He served in several capacities for Delta Tau Delta. He was the Beta Chapter advisor at Ohio University from 1978 until 1992. He then led the chapter's house corporation from 1992 until his death.

A lifelong resident of Athens, Ohio, Mr. Dowler graduated from Athens High School and remained active in the community throughout his life.

PRO FOOTBALL

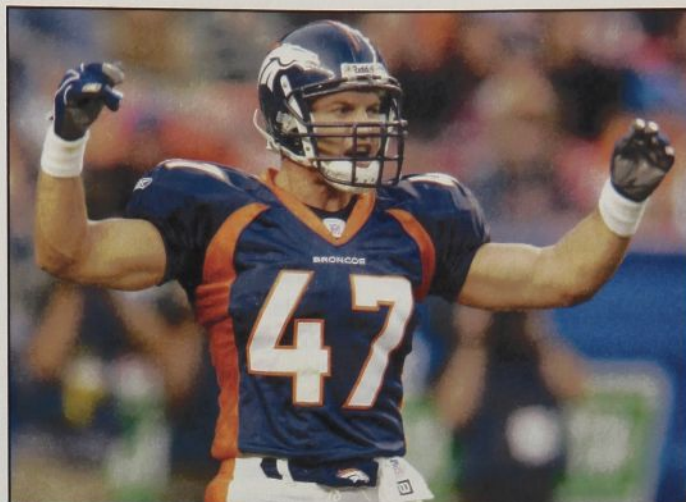

Three Deltas were on the active rosters of NFL teams this season. John Lynch (Stanford University, 1993) is with the Denver Broncos and is in his 13th year of the league. Jason Fisk (Stanford University, 1995), an 11-year veteran, joined the Cleveland Browns this season, and offensive guard Brad Badger (Stanford University, 1997), who is in his ninth season, played for the Oakland Raiders.

Several other Deltas were released during training camp, including fullback Jon Ritchie (Stanford University, 1998), quarterback Chad Hutchinson (Stanford University, 1999) and tight end Kevin Ware (University of Washington, 2003). Longtime Canadian Football League offensive tackle Seth Dittman (Stanford University, 1995) retired prior to the start of training camp.

Also in the NFL ranks are three Deltas serving as assistant coaches. Offensive line coach Howard Mudd (Michigan State University and Hillsdale College, 1964) is in his eighth season with the Indianapolis Colts. Offensive line coach Bill Laveroni (University of California-Berkeley, 1970) is in his fourth season with the Seattle Seahawks and Joe Avezzano (Florida State University, 1965) is in his second year as the Oakland Raiders' special teams coach.

Bill Macatee (Texas State University, 1977) is a play-by-play announcer for CBS Sports' NFL coverage.

The Epsilon Gamma Chapter at Washington State worked with former NFL quarterback, Super Bowl XXXVI Most Valuable Player and Delt alumnus Mark Rypien (Washington State, 1986) to raise money for the Mark Rypien Foundation. For more information about Rypien's foundation that raises money for research into children's cancer, visit the foundation's website

John Lynch is in his second year with the Denver Broncos and his 13th overall in the NFL. He played his first 11 seasons in Tampa.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Three Deltas played football at Division I schools this fall: tight end Mike Miller (Baylor), defensive lineman David Jackson (Stanford) and offensive guard Zach Maurides (Duke).

DePauw once again had several Deltas on its roster, including quarterback Ross Wiethoff and wide receiver Brian Culp. Among the leading tacklers for DePauw were linebackers Rob Farrow and Eric Lewis and lineman Joseph DiSalvo.

Other Deltas who played college football this fall:

- Linebacker Tim Gough and wide receiver Josh Silvernail at Albion.

- Quarterback P.J. Hilbert, offensive lineman Joel Schneider and defensive back Robert Braun started for Lawrence.

- Jake Koenen played on the Wabash offensive line.

- Linebacker Cliff Anderson was among the leading tacklers at Bethany College.

- Jon Glicoes was a defensive lineman for Case Western Reserve.

- Tackle Mike Strong played offensive line for Nebraska-Kearney.

- Defensive back Ryan P. Smith was a key player at Westminster.

- Linebacker Jeremiah Gress led a group of Deltas on the Baker University squad.

- Alex White played wide receiver for Butler.

The March edition of The Rainbow will have a detailed review of Delt collegiate players.

Tony Barnhart (Georgia Southern University, 1975) collaborated with former University of Georgia football coach and athletic director Vince Dooley on the new book Dooley: My 40 Years at Georgia. The book was published by Triumph Books of Chicago and is available at major book stores. Barnhart's earlier books are "Southern Fried Football" and "What It Means to Be a Bulldog." He was a TV commentator for Fox Sports Network South, doing a Thursday night show this fall, and also appeared on two CBS-TV "College Football Today" episodes.

BASEBALL

Six Stanford Deltas played in the major leagues during the 2005 season. New York Yankees pitcher Mike Mussina (1991) battled injuries and finished with a 13-9 record, 4.41 earned run average and 142 strikeouts. He now has 224 victories and 2,400 strikeouts in 3,013 innings during his career.

In his first season with the Arizona Diamondbacks, outfielder Shawn Green (1996) finished with a .286 average, 22 home runs and 73 runs batted in. He now has 303 homers and 958 runs batted in during 13 major league seasons.

Milwaukee Brewers righthander Rick Helling (1994) rejuvenated his career over the last two months of the season, posting a 3-1 record and 2.39 ERA in his final 15 appearances. Also in the majors were San Francisco Giants infielder Brian Dallimore (1996); Boston Red Sox first baseman Dave McCarty (1992) and Philadelphia Phillies catcher A.J. Hinch (1996).

GOLF

Brian Hewitt (Stanford University, 1972) joined The Golf Channel in 2003 and serves as an anchor on network telecasts. A former sportswriter for the Chicago Sun-Times and Los Angeles Times, he also served as senior editor and columnist for Golfweek magazine.

The Fraternity has one brother who is a professional golfer, Scott Dunlap (University of Florida, 1985). He had a good pay day in September after he tied for 24th and won $42,625 at the PGA Tour's Bell Canadian Open.

HONORS

Dave Breslin (Ohio Wesleyan) was inducted into the Ohio Wesleyan University Athletic Hall of Fame in October. Breslin, a lacrosse player, was honored as the Division III Goalkeeper of the Year, North Coast Athletic Conference Player of the Year and first-team All-American and All-NCAC in his final season at Wesleyan.

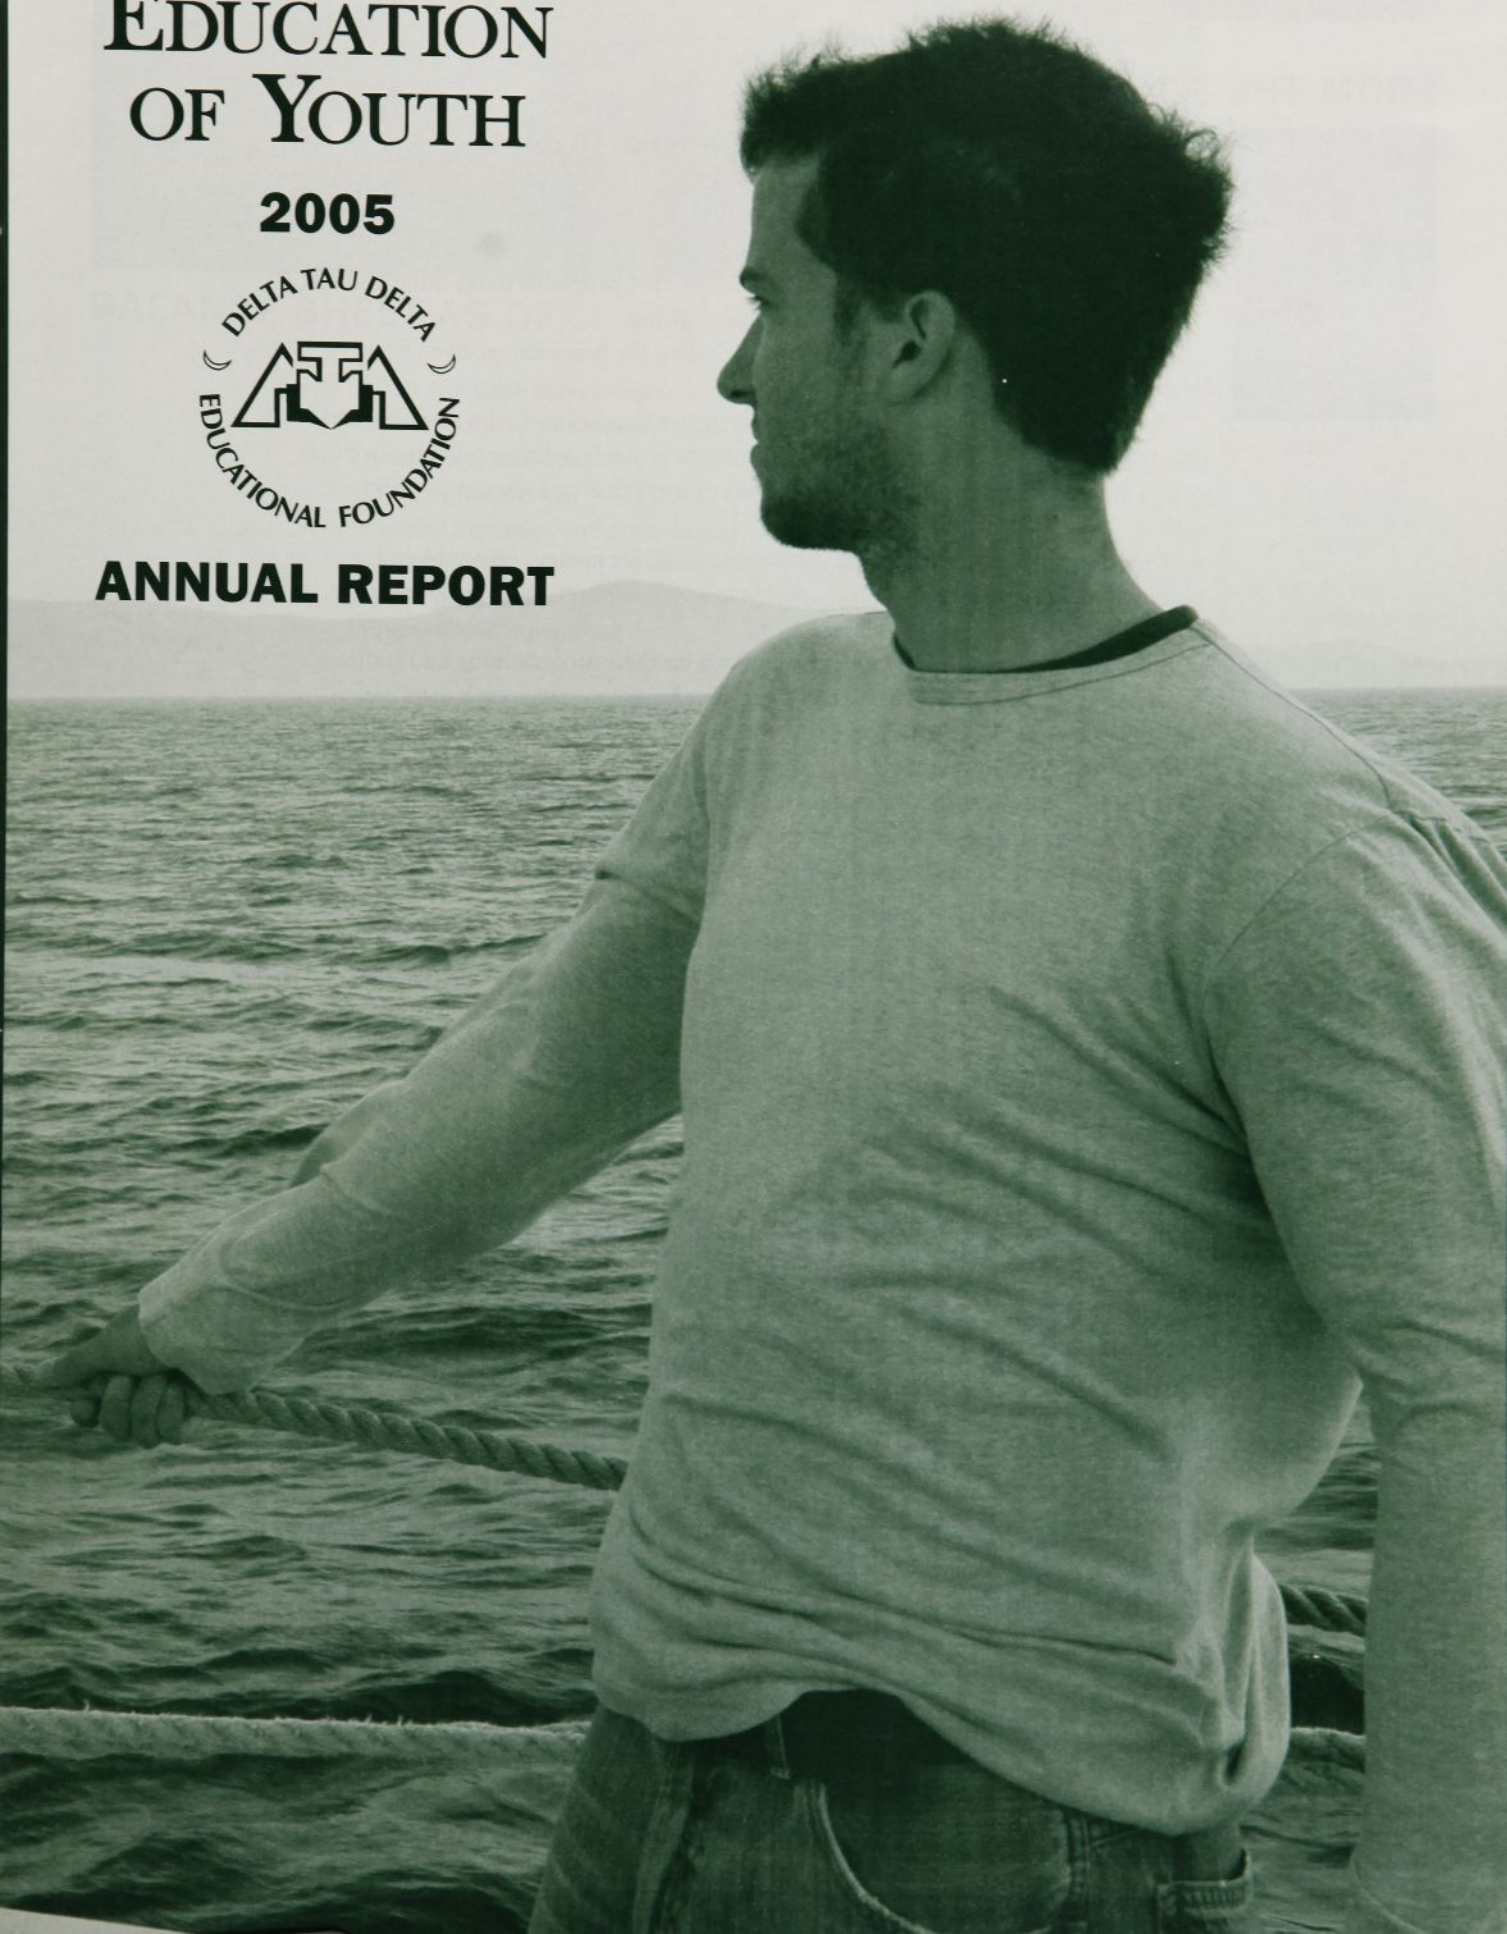

Delt Spotlight is compiled by Joseph H. "Jay" Langhammer Jr. (Texas Christian University, 1966). Sports or entertainment news should be e-mailed to jlangha132@aol.com. 2005

ANNUAL REPORT

FROM THE BOARD CHAIRMAN

It is a pleasure to report to you a record year for the Foundation. For the 2004-05 fiscal year, we had:

- The highest annual fund total ever.
- A record high of 1,583 new donors.
- Continued growth of our call center and internet programs in reaching alumni.
- A record 18 percent of our undergraduates giving.
- One of our best years in total giving, including the proceeds received from bequests and planned gifts.

Our success is attributed to the achievements of those of you who read this and give to the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation. And we know you give to causes and organizations that use your donations in ways that you respect — and expect.

You have probably noticed that we don't just ask for money. We explain the need; we explain the programs and ask if you would support those programs that enrich the lives of those that follow.

Some other fraternities have had to cut back on their programming and staffing because of a declining donor base and the recent below-average performance of their investments; Not Delta Tau Delta. Because of your generosity, the Foundation has been able to maintain its level of support. The Fraternity last year sent close to 100 men to our Leadership Academies and Presidents Leadership Retreat, presented our award-winning alcohol abuse program in every chapter and continued to have a full complement of chapter consultants, the best ratio of any fraternity of consultants per chapter.

All of this comes from a values-driven Fraternity; one that is "committed to lives of excellence." Thank you for the excellence in your demonstration of brotherhood.

Fraternally,

FORMAT FOR DONOR LISTING

Next to the donor's name is a series of three numbers or two numbers and two letters. The first number is consecutive years of giving, the second number is total years of giving, and the third letter/number indicates the lifetime giving level. For instance, 0/1 would indicate a first-time donor; 16/16/4S would indicate a donor with 16 consecutive years of giving and 16 total years of giving who has attained the Four Star Council level of lifetime giving. The asterisk in the front of a name indicates the donor is a member of the Loyal Legion (15 or more years of consecutive giving). While we have attempted to produce a complete and accurate listing, oversights and errors sometimes occur. We invite corrections and notification of omissions. For your reference, below is a listing of the lifetime giving levels.

RB Rainbow Club ($250)

4S Four Star Council ($500)

PP Presidents Panel ($1,000)

FC Founders Circle ($2,500)

18 1858 Society ($5,000)

RP Royal Purple Associate ($10,000)

CC Chairman's Council ($15,000)

HS Hugh Shields Associate ($25,000)

AS Al Sheriff Associate ($50,000)

DELT TELEFUND

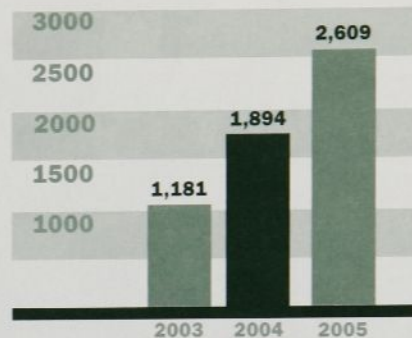

The Delt Telefund continues to be the envy of the Greek World. Since the inception of the Telefund in 2003, we have had great success and the results prove it. Not only are we raising more money and developing new donors for the Annual Deltfund, we are also reengaging and reconnecting, through conversations, alumni who haven't been in contact with the Fraternity in years. During this one-on-one conversation between alumnus and caller, we are able to discuss the different leadership and educational programs and scholarships the Annual Deltfund provides. We are also able to provide current chapter information, news updates and invite alumni to Delt events in their areas. This personal touch is the key to our success and is still provided by hard-working and dedicated Delts and Delta Gammas from Butler University.

This year the number of Call Center donors jumped from 1,894 donors to 2,609. This annual improvement has become standard when measuring our prior year's success to most recent. Our results in the 2005 fiscal year are even more impressive because it is the first time the number of Telefund donors has surpassed the number who donate through direct mail. With a strong donor base established, we look to further increase the dollars raised through the Telefund and we are very optimistic about the future of the Annual Deltfund and the Telefund.

As always, we greatly appreciate those alumni who have taken the time to share their Delt experience with our callers. Your support and generosity has continued the work of the Foundation and greatly strengthened the programs and opportunities that together we provide.

LEADERSHIP

The Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation's focus is on leadership and ethics programming. It is our goal to show you the impact of charitable giving to Delta Tau Delta by the interaction of our young scholars as they learn the benefits of values based leadership and remembering future generations of Deltas. Even now, we spend more per capita than any fraternity on life enriching programs, allowing us to sustain a higher level of programming for our undergraduates.

Since its inception in 1992, 654 undergraduate men have attended the Leadership Academy at a variety of locations. Of those men, 45 percent have become donors to the Educational Foundation. Of the men who graduated from the academies this year, 23 men attended the Bethany Academy at Bethany College in West Virginia, 26 were at the Sailing Academy in Camden, Maine, and 16 at the Rocky Mountain Expedition in Leadville, Colo. Of the participants, 31% (20 of 65) were current chapter presidents, vice presidents or treasurers. Paralleling the creation of the Crescent Society, 88 of the men (55%) who have attended the academies in the past three years have been donors.

SCHOLARSHIPS

With the increasing costs of higher education and more students working to pay their school bills, the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation offers a variety of scholarships for undergraduate and graduate work so we can attract and retain the high quality of Delt that we are used to recruiting.

Currently, there are various individual and chapter scholarships endowed through the Foundation. The Fischbach Scholarship is awarded to a Delt who is currently enrolled in medical school. The File Scholarship and Award for Undergraduate Excellence and the Gustafson/Johns Scholarship are awarded to undergraduate Deltas who are making a difference at their chapters and on their campuses. For more information on endowing a scholarship, please contact the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation.

ORDER OF THE C---

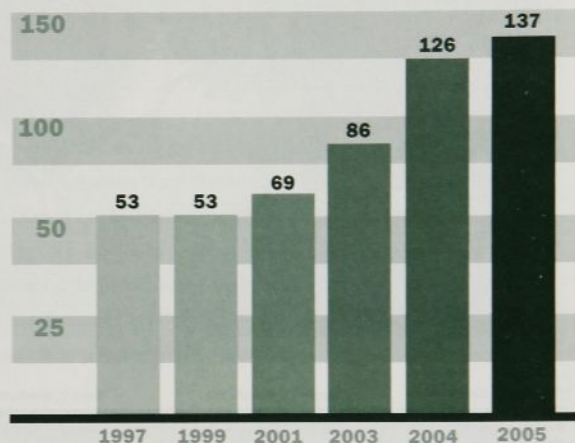

The Order of the C— was started in 1996 as an exclusive insiders' club to help grow the major and planned gift programs of the Foundation. Members of the Order of the C— provide the fuel that has driven the engine for success since that time.

Previous members of the Order of the C— were focused on a powerful vision for the Foundation and the Fraternity. They banded together as a group of donors to support the current educational programs that made a difference in the competitiveness and success of Delta Tau Delta.

GROWTH OF THE ORDER OF THE C---

Because of the success of the Order of the C—, donors have asked that it become a permanent giving club within the Foundation and membership be opened to all Delts to promote gifts of $1,000 and up each year to the Annual DeltFund.

Thanks to the generous support of donors like you, the Order of the C— raised more than $200,000 in unrestricted gifts to the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation. We fell short of our membership goal by only 13, but the total result for the year was remarkable. All sections of the Foundation fundraising plan posted very good results. Overall, we had our best year in the past five.

We are only as strong as the support of our alumni. With your help, we can recruit new members of the Order of the C— and include them in this directory next year. We will continue to educate, train and serve for generations to come. The accomplishments of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity are preparing our undergraduate members to be leaders in their chapters, on their campuses and in their communities.

BETHANY SOCIETY

If there are first among equals as donors then members of the Bethany Society would be leading the Delt parade of supporters. This loyal group of alumni eclipses the major gift giving programs of any other national Greek organization. The Society was started in 1998 and has grown to more than 150 members. Membership is restricted to alumni and friends of the Foundation who during their lifetime have made cash gifts and pledges of over $25,000 or a planned gift in excess of $100,000. Each recipient receives a signature green blazer with an embroidered Coat of Arms. Special cloisonné buttons are awarded when their lifetime giving for cash gifts exceed $100,000 or for a planned gift of $500,000. A "+" indicates members of the Society that have been inducted to this new level of membership. Combined, the Bethany Society has made cash gifts in excess of $11.5 million and planned gifts in excess of $10 million.

We hope to reach 200 members in The Society by the Fraternity's 150th anniversary in 2008. Contact the Foundation office to see how close you are to membership.

LIFETIME GIVING

A bright future is waiting for Delta Tau Delta. Some of our most forward thinking donors are members of the Heritage Society. The following alumni and friends have remembered the Foundation in their wills or estate plans. With over $14 million in confirmed gifts we are a leader in the Greek world in planned giving. While most planned gifts are unrestricted, some are made on behalf of specific chapters or for restricted scholarship funds. These special people understand that the future will bring challenges—the nature of which we cannot even conceive today—but for which they are sure Delta Tau Delta will need additional resources.

ANOTHER WAY TO GIVE

A number of Delt alumni have made provisions for the Delt Foundation by way of bequests in their wills. A bequest can take many forms such as a specific dollar amount or percentage of the total estate, or perhaps a gift of securities or real estate. If you are considering a bequest, it is advisable to consult your attorney or financial advisor. The following wording is suggested. "I hereby give, devise and bequeath to the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation, Inc., an Indiana corporation, the sum of $_____ to be used for the general purposes of the Foundation as the board may direct." Gifts to the Foundation are deductible for estate tax purposes. It is an effective and lasting way to provide for the future of Delta Tau Delta. Questions and requests for further information should be directed to Ken File or Sonya Gill at the Foundation Office, 888-383-1858.

UNDERGRADUATE GIVING

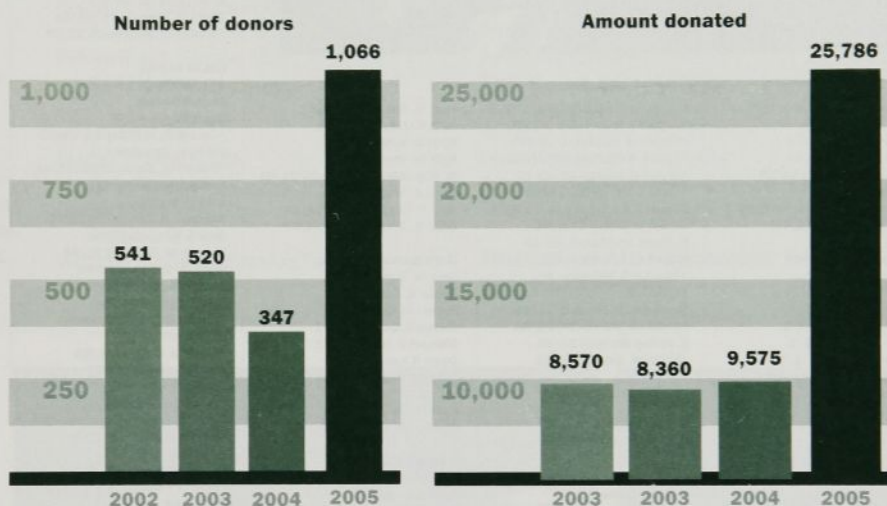

The Crescent Society was founded four years ago as the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation's undergraduate giving club. This year, our goal was to get the Crescent Society in front of all undergraduates, not just those who attended conferences and Karnea. We developed the "Delts All In" campaign. By using the poker reference "all in" we created a competition and challenged every chapter to achieve 100 percent participation in undergraduate giving.

In order for us to get the message out to all Delts, we created an e-mail flash presentation to advertise the competition and to get the chapters excited about the opportunity to give back to Delta Tau Delta and remember those who follow while at the same time provide them with an opportunity to win great prizes.

The "Delts All In" campaign was very successful this year. Eleven chapters went "all in" and over 90% of all Delt groups were represented by at least one donor. The increase in undergraduate participation continued to prove that Delta Tau Delta will be in great hands in the future.

GROWTH OF THE CRESCENT SOCIETY

Men from the Delta Omega Chapter at Kent State stand proudly with their flat-screen TV they earned in the "Delts All In" program.

CENTRAL COURTYARD

Delts, friends and organizations continue to make contributions to the Educational Foundation for a brick to be placed in the Central Courtyard at the International Headquarters. The Central Courtyard was officially dedicated May 5, 2005 prior to the Educational Foundation's spring meeting. Bricks are engraved according to the wishes of the donor. The following is a list of those who have made contributions since this list was last published.

CENTRAL COURTYARD HONOR AND MEMORIAL BRICKS

The following have purchased bricks from
Aug. 1, 2005 - Sept. 30, 2005.

The first name is of the person being honored and the second name is of the person making the gift.

EDUCATIONAL FUNDS

The Delt Foundation developed the Chapter Educational Funds Program to provide a way for alumni to provide additional assistance to individual alumni corporations.

More than 30 chapters have taken advantage of this program and established funds for specific educational purposes. Gifts to your chapter's fund are held in trust and alumni from your chapter advise the Delt Foundation on allowable educational uses such as scholarships, computer labs, libraries as well as loans or grants for the improvement of educational areas of chapter shelters.

These chapters currently have Chapter Educational Funds representing more than 25 percent of our chapters:

Beta - Ohio	Gamma Sigma - Pittsburgh
Epsilon - Albion	Gamma Tau - Kansas
Mu - Ohio Wesleyan	Gamma Chi - Kansas State
Upsilon - RPI	Delta Alpha - Oklahoma
Tau - Pennsylvania State	Delta Beta - Carnegie Mellon
Beta Beta - DePauw	Delta Epsilon - Kentucky
Beta Delta - Georgia	Delta Zeta - Florida
Beta Lambda - Lehigh	Delta Lambda - Oregon State
Beta Mu - Tufts	Delta Mu - Idaho
Beta Upsilon - Illinois	Delta Pi - Southern California
Beta Phi - Ohio State	Delta Sigma - Maryland
Beta Psi - Wabash	Delta Chi - Oklahoma State
Gamma Delta - West Virginia	Epsilon Zeta - Sam Houston
Gamma Lambda - Purdue	Epsilon Mu - Ball State
Gamma Pi - Iowa State	Theta Eta - South Carolina

THE UNITED WAY AND THE DELT FOUNDATION

Many of you already make donations at work through your local United Way campaign and now there is a way that you can direct those gifts to the Delt Foundation. Most United Ways have an open donor policy. This means that you can make a donation to agencies other than the agencies that are partners with your local United Way as long as they are a 501(c)(3) charity. In many cases, the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation will qualify to receive your donor directed gift. Under donor choice, contributors to the United Way could designate their gifts to the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation. Since each United Way in the United States operates independently, we have learned that some will participate and others will not, but it is certainly worth checking into. Call your United Way or campaign representative to see if you can give to a 501(c)(3) that is headquartered in Indianapolis.

STOCK GIFTS

You may find it profitable to yourself and the Foundation to make your gift in the form of common stock. Greatly appreciated stock can be a means whereby, at low cost to the donor, a sizable gift can be made and be deducted for tax purposes at the stock's market value on the date the gift is made. Shares of stock donated may be transferred to the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation, Inc. This is a common transaction about which your broker can advise you, or give Sonya Gill a call at the Foundation headquarters at 888-383-1858.

CORPORATE MATCHING GIFTS

Many corporations, large and small, afford Delts the opportunity through matching gift programs to double or triple their gifts to the Foundation. Below is a directory of corporations that have matched gifts recently to the Delt Foundation.

CORPORATE MATCHING GIFTS

If you are uncertain as to whether your company will match your gift to the Fraternity Foundation, a call to your personnel office should clarify this matter very quickly.

THANK YOU

The Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation Board of Directors acknowledges the crucial role our alumni, undergraduates, and friends play in the future of our Fraternity. We remain most grateful for your generosity, which allows us to develop better leaders, scholars, and citizens who will be better prepared to build a better world for their communities, their families and themselves.

A financial audit is prepared by independent auditors, reviewed by our audit committee, and is available upon request. You may also review more Foundation information, including our most recently filed IRS Form 990, at www.guidestar.org.

2006 Brickyard Karnea

Our international convention returns to Indianapolis

Indianapolis goes by many names: Indy, the Circle City, crossroads of the United States, Indiana's state capital, home to the NCAA, home to Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The list is almost endless for the metropolitan area of more than one million people.

In nine months, a new name will be bestowed on one of America's great communities. From Aug. 2-6, Indianapolis will be "Home of the Brickyard Karnea, the Greatest of all Delt events." Karnea's last visit to Indianapolis was in 1929, four years before the Fraternity moved its headquarters to the area.

The event will be held at Indianapolis Marriott Downtown and is within walking distance of the Circle City Mall, Monument Circle and numerous other museums, several sports venues, the Indiana state capital, White River State Park that includes the NCAA Hall of Champions, the Indianapolis Zoo and an IMAX 3-D theater.

There are dozens of restaurants and nightclubs also within walking distance from the hotel and it is within easy driving distance from the award-winning Children's Museum, Indianapolis Motor Speedway and its museum and the Indianapolis Museum of Art. Maybe most importantly, the international headquarters, based in Fishers, Ind., is only a 25-minute drive from Downtown Indianapolis.

For more information on the 2006 Brickyard Karnea, the corresponding events and how to register, visit Delta Tau Delta's website at www.delts.org.

Delegates get dates; turn attention to unimportant stuff

With virtually every delegate registered and the list of guests increasing hourly, the Golden Karnea of Delta Tau Delta officially opened this morning with a business session in the Claypool hotel, Karnea headquarters. All host committees were functioning smoothly, with major undergraduate interest centered about the committee on blond and brunette dates.

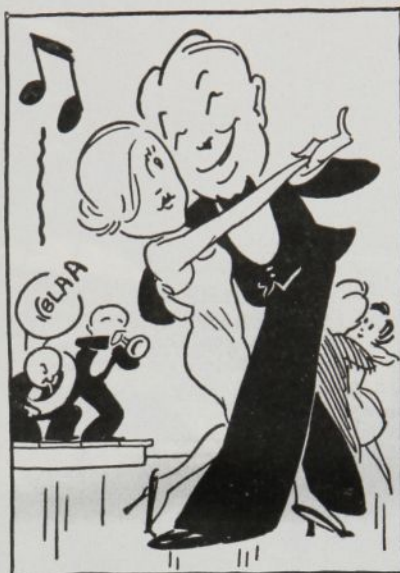

After a brief address of welcome by Sam Harrell, president of the northern division, in which he discussed the policies and interests of the Fraternity, the keynote speech was delivered by Stuart MacLean, editor of The Rainbow.

"The Rite of Iris"

He outlined a preliminary ceremonial for pledges, the Rite of Iris, designed to influence probation week towards becoming a constructive and valuable period rather than "a time for horseplay and childishness." This ceremony was to be enacted in a special session at the Claypool hotel immediately following the Golden Karnea Smoker, then recommended to chapters for experimental use during the next two years.

Restriction of probation stunts, the scholarship situation, the new pledging ceremony and the improved and revised ritual were discussed by MacLean. An interesting phase of his talk was the announcement of the new Court of Honor, a tribunal empowered by the Arch Chapter to award citations for distinguished service to the Fraternity.

He touched momentarily on the liquor question, congratulating the Fraternity both on the disappearance of liquor from most of the chapter houses and on the growing sentiment on the part of the men themselves that liquor has no place in the Fraternity as an organization.

He aroused something of a smile when he gently commended the alumni present to the care of the actives.

MacLeod Reports

A summary of the work done in the past two years, and some recommendations to be presented to delegates in the business sessions were included in the report of President Norman MacLeod. "The year 1929 marks the seventieth year of the Fraternity's continual existence in the life of American universities and colleges," he said. "This Karnea, properly termed the Golden Karnea, marks the fiftieth consecutive time the Fraternity has come together in a national convention for the purpose of considering what has been accomplished, and to make plans for the future."

MacLeod paid tribute to Deltas old and young who have joined Chapter Eternal since the Savannah Karnea, two years ago. He discussed the chapter housing situation and the management of the Fraternity, and announced that Hugh Shields has been assigned to the position of controller in charge of chapter finances. His report included also discussion of petitioning groups and of the chapter handbook which is being written.

Editor's note: This is the second in a series of four reproductions of articles written about the 1929 Karnea. It first appeared in "The Golden Karnea News," a daily brief of the 1929 event and was republished in the November 1929 issue of The Rainbow. "The Greatest of all Delt Events" returns to Indianapolis Aug. 2-6, 2006.

Call for Distinguished Service Chapter nominees

CRITERIA

Awarded to alumni who have been actively loyal to the Fraternity for at least 20 years, rendered some unusual service to the Fraternity or Division thereof, and evidenced personal characteristics and habits which have been and are "worthy of all acceptance" by the Fraternity and society at large.

When the Distinguished Service Chapter was created by the Karnea of 1929 as the Court of Honor, plenary power was given to the Committee of three to determine from time to time the qualifications for Citations to membership therein.

The present Committee of the Distinguished Service Chapter has adopted the following criteria for the awarding of Citations, based upon the rules which have been followed since the inception of the group.

1. The Committee, the Arch Chapter, alumni chapters, officers of any division of the Fraternity, or individual members of high repute in Delta Tau Delta may make nominations.
2. The term of membership in the Distinguished Service Chapter is for life, but the Committee may terminate any membership for cause, not known at the time of Citation, or thereafter appearing.

3. While not making an absolute rule affecting the matter, the Committee will usually insist upon much more than a chapter interest on the nominee's part, inasmuch as the Distinguished Service Chapter is representative of the entire Fraternity.

4. No one shall be voted a Citation while serving on the Arch Chapter.

5. The Committee grants Citations by unanimous vote. In view of the fact that nominations are determined largely by personal friendships and that one nomination from a given locality easily evokes others from the same region, resulting in inequitable distribution of the honors, the Committee will, other merits appearing to be substantially equal, give preference to nominations from regions which do not appear to be adequately represented in the Fraternity. It may defer consideration of other nominations from the same chapter in the interest of substantial justice to all parts of the Fraternity.

NOMINATIONS

A nomination for Citation shall be in writing, shall be signed by two or more members of the Fraternity who are in good standing, and show satisfactorily to the Committee that the nominee has (a) for at least 20 years been actively loyal to the Fraternity as an alumnus, (b) rendered some unusual service to the Fraternity or a division thereof and (c) evidenced personal characteristics and habits which have been and are worthy of all acceptance by the Fraternity and society at large.

The names and locations of the nominee's college, active and alumni chapters and his concrete services for which the Citation is sought must be included in the written nomination. The nominating letter should add other information which appears to bear upon the worthiness of the nominee. A nominee's own initiative or other form of promotion of his own nomination would be viewed as a vital disqualification and particularly out of harmony with the unselfish spirit and intent of the Distinguished Service Chapter.

Delts come to aid of longtime Fraternity volunteer

By Charles "Tiger" Edwards

As Hurricane Katrina turned toward New Orleans, New Orleans Mayor Ray Nagin's order to the city's citizens was clear - Get Out!

Usually we had several days notice with hurricanes, but the early computer models on this storm were awry and Katrina was bearing down on New Orleans faster than expected. My wife, Cindy, and I threw some clothes and valuables (you would be amazed what a valuable is on short notice) and headed out of town.

We arrived at her family's house and settled in for a night during which the winds howled, the rain thrashed down and in the background trees were snapping apart. While the rain eventually stopped, the winds intensified and trees strained to stay upright.

Then came calm and sunshine the next morning. There was lots of sunshine and the temperatures reached in the upper 90s with high humidity but we had to endure eight days without electricity; scavenging for ice; long lines for gasoline; no banks open with everything being paid in cash. All of these were immediate signs our life has changed and might never be the same.

We knew putting our lives back together was going to be difficult. We also knew my Delt brothers would make themselves available and, not surprisingly, that is what happened.

Two days after the storm, my wife and I slipped into our subdivision. With our home just 6 1/2 blocks from Lake Ponchartrain from which water caused much of the worst damage in the city, we fully expected our house would be flooded.

Instead, we found a 60-foot pine tree parked on the crown of our house and the hole it punched in our roof. There was also: water marks on the ceiling from the hole in the roof; fascia boards torn off; another tree leaning against the house with its roots pulled up; a damaged air conditioner; outside spot lights pulled out of their sockets; trees through three areas of our fence; roof shingles damaged; several trees leaning, ready to fall with the next good wind or rain.

The house and surrounding areas looked like a recently bombed war zone. We patched the roof to mitigate future water leakage and said a prayer of thanks we had been spared the horror of water in the house.

It took several weeks for electricity to be restored and the air conditioner to be fixed before we could return to our house. That is when the clean up process began and has continued.

During our initial clean up we were lucky enough to have Lloyd Spring (Southeastern Louisiana, 1979) and Mike DuBois (Southeastern Louisiana, 1971) volunteer to cut down the leaning trees. Epsilon Phi President Gary Prescott called and offered four undergraduates to assist in the clean-up effort. After lots of cutting and several hours of work, with the young Delts providing much of the brawn in our clean-up effort, we saw a decided difference in our yard's appearance. That went along way to easing our minds about some return to normalcy.

Life will never be exactly the same here in Louisiana. We are proud and strong and rebuilding our lives will not be easy but we will persevere. We were extremely lucky to have had as little damage as we had. We also appreciated my brothers stepping up during our hour of need. But it didn't surprise me either, because isn't that being a Delt?

Charles D. "Tiger" Edwards is a 1973 graduate of Southeastern Louisiana from Mandeville, La., and is a division vice president for the Fraternity. He is also the assistant principal at Boyet Junior High School in Slidell, La.

Mother of undergraduate thankful for unselfish dedication of Epsilon Phi Chapter

Ms. Patricia Silbernagel

I would like to express my appreciation, sincere thanks and my respect to the young men of the Epsilon Phi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta at Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond, La. There was no hesitancy on their part to come to my assistance following Hurricane Katrina.

Numerous large old oak trees surrounding my home were lying on the ground, either blown over at the roots or broken at the trunk by the vicious wind of Katrina. The entries to my home were blocked. These energetic Delts arrived with chainsaws. Despite extreme heat and humidity, they were ready and able to tackle the challenging task at hand.

I saw the unselfish commitment and moral conviction of the Delts to service and assist with the recovery of a neighborhood devastated by Hurricane Katrina. I am delighted, honored and proud to know the men of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity

Epsilon Phi Chapter. THANK YOU! THANK YOU! THANK YOU!

Arch Chapter member mourns loss of beloved city

By Alan Brackett

When the Fraternity asked me to write something for this issue of The Rainbow, I really didn't know where to start.

I have lived in New Orleans as long as I've been a Delt – 27 years. I love the city for so many reasons. It has always been a unique place. European in its origins, self-possessed by its traditions and customs, home to the best food in the South. I have never known anyone who didn't love visiting here. In my travels for the Fraternity, when someone learned I'm from New Orleans, it was usually followed by a story of a Mardi Gras past, or a great vacation, or a fine dining or other more adult entertainment experience. If someone had not visited the city, invariably I would hear how they looked forward to visiting someday.

That has all changed since Hurricane Katrina ravaged my wonderful city. Now, when someone learns I'm from New Orleans, they say: "I'm sorry."

I never expected that when I drove away from my home in New Orleans at 4 a.m. on August 28th that it was the last time I would live there. With clothes for only three days, my wife, Linda, and I thought we were going away for our "traditional" hurricane evacuation. She would shop a little, we would have a few nice meals, and then we'd drive home again to pick up tree branches, throw out spoiled food from the refrigerator and get back to our normal routine. We left everything in our home pretty much as is, locked the doors and left.

What we did know when we left was where we were headed. We had not called anyone, as we had not planned to evacuate. After leaving last August for Hurricane Ivan and sitting in endless traffic, we vowed never to evacuate again. But with a mandatory evacuation order and a Category 5 storm forecast to directly hit the city, we opted for discretion and piled into the car at the last minute.

We drove to the home of one of my chapter brothers, Peter Urbanowicz (Tulane, 1985), and his wife, Cindy, knowing they weren't at their Dallas home but rather on their summer vacation. We knew we could arrive unannounced and Linda, our son, Austin, Linda's mother, Lottie Eckles, both our dogs and me, would be welcomed.

While on the road, the first calls I received were, of course, from fellow Delts, wanting to make sure we were evacuating and wondering where we were in transit.

The door of Lottie Eckles, Alan Brackett's mother-in-law, was kicked in by officials looking for bodies. When none were found on Sept. 25, officials indicated as much on the window.

Several brothers offered us lodging. Linda thought it was silly at the time so many people were worried about where we were and what our plans were.

The day after we arrived we did our hurricane thing. We shopped and ate and waited for the storm to come ashore. The reports that day were pretty bad, although more for the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Nothing prepared us for the following morning.

The 17th Street Canal levee breach occurred in a part of New Orleans called Lakeview, about six blocks from my mother-in-law's home that was about three feet above street level. Her home flooded with at least eight feet of water, destroying it and everything she owned.

By comparison, my family fared well, with only four to five feet of water throughout the first floor of our home. My Delt neighbor, Woody Van Horn (Virginia, 1973), one block up the street had only about two feet of water in his home. Eric Johnsen, whose son, Austin, was recently initiated into the Fraternity at the University of Pennsylvania, lives one block down got about six feet in his.

Of course, our homes didn't just flood and drain. They marinated in fetid water for over two weeks before engineers managed to drain the neighborhood.

It is difficult to describe the extent of devastation New Orleans sustained. Major office buildings had virtually every window broken. Roofs were peeled off buildings. Tens of thousands of businesses and miles and miles of homes were flooded. Where the flood waters sat, everything that once lived died. What was green turned grey, still covered by a film of muck the floodwaters left behind. It is difficult to sort through belongings you once felt attached to and throw them out onto the mountain of trash in front of your home, waiting for FEMA to haul it all away.

As we finally got the chance to come back into the city, nearly six weeks after Katrina hit, New Orleans suggested to me what a war zone must be like. While some of my neighbors sustained little damage to their homes, most every family in my neighborhood has been rendered homeless by this storm.

Instead of talking with neighbors about schools and cocktail parties, we discussed the level of flood water each had in their home, what their flood insurance limits were (or for the misguided, not having coverage at all,) whether they're tearing out or tearing down, and who has received FEMA or Red Cross benefits. It was a surreal experience.

It is a different world, nothing like the city we have known and loved. The Big Easy isn't so easy any more.

The only good thing to come from Katrina has been the kindness we have been shown, so much so by my Delt brothers. We were offered shelter by brothers, both for my family and my law practice, and supported by the kind words and prayers of so many others. What I've learned is that possessions are all replaceable, that despite our attachment to the things we own, in the end it's just stuff.

We are blessed that our family stayed safe and together, and that we will be able to rebuild our home. New Orleans, unfortunately, might not be so lucky. While the tourist attractions will probably fare well, our city will be a different place in many, many ways. Some changes might be positive for quality of life, but one of the things that made New Orleans so great was the funky cultural mixture that gave it its character. That might be something that can never be rebuilt.

The backyard of the Zeta Chi Chapter is still in disarray weeks after Katrina hit.

Zeta Chi president cites brothers for safety, sanity

By Jeffery M. Keysear

The men of the Zeta Chi Chapter at Southern Mississippi were anxiously waiting to jump start the fall semester with a chapter meeting August 28 only to have our plans slammed by Hurricane Katrina.

It was announced that morning that Hattiesburg, Miss., was in the path of the category 5 hurricane. Despite hearing for years about the damage Hurricane Camille caused in 1969 and the possibility New Orleans would be destroyed if directly hit by a category 2 hurricane, none of the chapter brothers panicked. We are accustomed to hurricane warnings and went through the usual preparations, hoping for the best.

None of us fathomed the world as we knew it would become a memory as we slept that night. As the hurricane approached Hattiesburg, the power went out about noon, the skies darkened and the sounds of fury raged. Tornadoes accompanied the storm and ripped parts of the Southern Mississippi campus. A police officer arrived at the shelter late Monday to inform us that we were under marshal law and we were responsible for our own safety.

I cried that evening. I didn't know the fate of my parents or if my grandmother, stranded in a New Orleans hospital, was alive. For several days, our entire world caved away, leaving us with only one thing on which to depend: brotherhood.

Every brother had a story; some of us pined while others withheld their feelings. I cannot describe the emotions that raged in my mind, and I'm sure everyone's, as we sat in disbelief, entirely and solely responsible for our safety, tortured by the unease of not knowing the fate of our loved ones.

"Without Zeta Chi, many of us would have had been without a home. In the days that followed, we looked after one another like never before"

Without Zeta Chi, many of us would have had been without a home. In the days that followed, we looked after one another like never before. At night we were forced to sleep outside on whatever was available and somewhat comfortable because the lack of air conditioning made staying inside unbearable.

Through it all, I slept in ease. I was never luckier to have a family of brothers; a bond of protection.

Delts Helping Delts Fund aims to help all undergraduates in need

The Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation, in conjunction with the Fraternity, is pleased to announce the

Delts Helping Delts Relief Fund

Delts Helping Delts Relief Fund has generated more than $23,000 in contributions for our undergraduates in need.

The fund has been primarily driven by web donations. By doing so, the Foundation is able to keep fundraising costs at a minimum and use the money for our affected and needy undergraduates along the Gulf Coast.

"Having seen first hand the destruction caused by the storm as well as living with the emotional ups and downs of the undergraduates here at Southern Miss," said Sid Gonsoulin (LSU, 1970), division vice president and assistant chapter advisor for Zeta Chi at Southern Mississippi, "the outpouring of caring, sharing, encouragement, prayers and gifts are the ingredients to uplifting spirits and the real meaning of Delt brotherhood."

However, there is still much work to be done. The goal of Delts Helping Delts is to create an endowment for relief from future special emergencies and natural disasters.

"We know Delts will respond in support of our undergraduates in need," Ken File, president of the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation, said. "We are asking all Delts, alumni and undergraduates alike, to support this relief effort with a special gift to the Delt Foundation."

The Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation is a 501(c)3 public charity that was approved by the Internal Revenue Service in October 1981. The Foundation assists the Fraternity and its members by providing funding for leadership and educational programming. Gifts and bequests are tax deductible for income and estate tax purposes.

Small beginning results in large donation from Alabama chapter

By Michael W. Noyes

A decision to help those affected by Hurricane Katrina in whatever way possible ballooned into a chapter-wide initiative before the killer storm ravaged the Gulf Coast.

The Sunday before the hurricane came ashore, I decided to travel to Hattiesburg, Miss., and help where it was needed most. After mentioning the idea to Luke Hayes, the word got out and it seemed like everyone at the Delta Eta Chapter wanted to be involved. The selflessness demonstrated by the brotherhood was amazing.

Before we were finished making definite plans to put a supply drive together, help was pouring in. A local company gave us a 26-foot long truck for a week to make the transportation of whatever material we could gather easier. IDIS, Inc., (Independent Diagnostic Imaging of the South, Inc.) and Cullman Regional Medical Center donated 30 mattresses.

We then worked the phones, calling local businesses to see if they would be willing to help. My first call was to Weatherford Office Supply, a company in Tuscaloosa, Ala., hoping they'd donate some latex gloves, paper towels, toiletry items, etc. I called their office and told the man who answered the purpose of my call and that I am a member with Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

"What fraternity was that," he said surprised.

"Delta Tau Delta, sir," I replied.

"Well, I was a '67 Delt at Alabama," Howard White said. "What all would you like?"

After picking up two pickup truck loads of toilet paper, gloves and other supplies from him the next day, I realized this thing had gotten bigger than I had ever imagined. We continued to work over the next several days asking for more donations and organizing the drive. The only time we paused was to enjoy the Alabama football team's season-opener but early the next morning we got back to work.

We loaded the truck with supplies we had already received and throughout the day, people continued to drop off water, food and clothes. By 2 p.m., the truck was full. Once we couldn't fit any more in the truck, we went back to the Shelter where I laid out my bed thinking about how amazing the effort was.

Later that night, a friend of mine and I went to the Student Recreation Center where more than 500 refugees were sheltered. We played with the children and helped in anyway we could.

LaGrange Delts pitch in

Zeta Beta Chapter members went to Ocean Springs, Miss., and helped a family clean out their home, get debris off their yard and cut fallen trees. They also provided the family a gift basket filled with a large fleece blanket, four bath towels, four wash clothes, a framed photograph to put in their new home and a card signed by all of the chapter brothers.

As we were about to leave, a woman stopped us. "I heard what you boys are doing," she said. "Let me tell you what you're going to see."

She was from New Orleans and her house was directly in front of one of the broken levees. Over the next hour, she told us she had lost everything except her husband. She said her neighbors had looted her house as she evacuated and that she had no idea if her son was safe. She told us about how her sister stayed behind in the city only to see dead bodies floating like logs down a river in the middle of the city.

This woman and her family had gone through absolute hell. Yet somehow, this woman was happy. She was happy to be alive with a place to sleep and a warm meal. The things I heard from this woman made me more determined to execute our supply drive.

I returned to the shelter and had a restless night sleep as I thought about what the woman in the shelter said. I woke up the next day and gathered Mark Battaglia, the chapter vice president, and Tim Miller, a pledge, and we piled into the massive truck.

Military convoys routinely passed us as we traveled to Hattiesburg, Miss., and there were Army units at every gas station along the way. As we got closer to the coast, the damage became more and more widespread and looked like a tornado had cut a wide path through the state. Trees were snapped at the center. Whole neighborhoods had been destroyed by falling trees and other debris.

Once arriving at the Salvation Army shelter in Hattiesburg, the people there were incredibly grateful for our efforts and the supplies we brought. The three of us put the material in the warehouse. Not wanting to risk our own safety by staying any longer than we needed, as soon as the supplies were in the warehouse, we headed home.

We didn't get to see many refugees or soak in the devastation for very long, but what we did see was sobering enough. The drive home was mostly silent. We all knew what the other brother was thinking – just how fortunate we were for what we had and how great it felt to help someone.

All of the brothers that helped with the project did so without thinking. It's just natural, that when we are able, we help other people we don't even know. It's part of being human. It's part of being a citizen. It's part of being a Delt.

Fraternity grows larger as Delts help each other

RPI welcomes Tulane Delt with open arms

By Ben Karfunkle

Living in a city greatly below sea level, most New Orleans residents knew we were constantly at risk for a direct and catastrophic hit from a powerful hurricane. The reality of such an occurrence seemed remote after one hurricane after another rarely caused massive damage.

When Tulane students were evacuated prior to Hurricane Ivan in 2004, it was mostly a short break away from school. Even while training for my new residential advisor job, I had to sit through hours of hurricane preparation seminars but the prospects of having to deal with any such tragedy seemed remote at best.

It became reality Friday, August 26, 2005, and with it came the realization of the importance of being a member of Delta Tau Delta.

While preparing to facilitate freshmen move-in day at Tulane University at Sharp Hall and the inevitable task of directing lost freshmen and their parents, another residential advisor distributed copies of weather-map projections. Hurricane Katrina was slated to make landfall in the early hours of Monday and a recommended evacuation was announced.

After hearing about the approaching storm, I went to the Beta Xi Chapter shelter where my fraternity brothers had already started preparing for possible flooding. Couches were stacked on tables, electronics were put on the couches and the brothers hurriedly packed. Many of the brothers planned to evacuate to brother Will Goforth's home in Tennessee, where many had evacuated the year before for Ivan.

When the freshmen arrived to move into the dorms and get their first taste of orientation Saturday, they received an impromptu speech from Tulane President Scott Cowen. He told them to leave town as quickly as possible. Freshmen threw their things into their rooms and left for home or for a gym in Jackson, Miss., if they had nowhere else to go.

We didn't have the dorm cleared until 5 p.m., by which time most of the campus was deserted. My brothers were already on their way to safety and I went with a friend and coworkers to Houston.

We all thought we'd return to Tulane within a few days, but when that became impossible, I spent the next week looking for a new school. I considered Rice, Baylor, and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y. RPI offered free tuition, room and board for any affected student, and, especially after finding there is a chapter of Delta Tau Delta on campus, it seemed to be the place for me.

The day I landed in New York, I was greeted by two people - Cynthia Smith, a RPI representative, and Sean "Bronco" Barnes of the Upsilon Chapter. That night, I met the brothers of Upsilon and immediately felt at home. More than a thousand miles from where I pledged to Delta Tau Delta, a group of men I'd never met welcomed me into their home as one of their own.

They weren't the same men who lived at 835 Broadway in New Orleans, but they were Delts, and we were brothers. I slept at the house that night, completely exhausted from traveling and had never appreciated being a member of Delta Tau Delta more. Ever since, I've felt incredibly lucky to know the brothers of Upsilon and even more absolute in my decision to be a Delt.

Texas A&M quickly feels like home for brothers

By Lincoln Hamilton

Ultimate security is often juxtaposed with ultimate helplessness. In the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, I found myself without a home, a school and without a clear future.

Along with the rest of my brothers from the Beta Xi Chapter at Tulane University, we scattered out of New Orleans prior to Katrina hitting. Many of us went to San Antonio for what was supposed to be a few-day venture after which we would return to Tulane and start the school year. Our plans would change drastically.

When we arrived in San Antonio, we were greeted by some of the brothers who had left earlier and were told that Katrina was a category 5 storm, heading directly towards New Orleans. As the weekend progressed, we watched the storm blow through New Orleans with damage, but nothing catastrophic - then the levees broke. The ensuing inundation of the Crescent City left us all physically fine, but helpless and unsure about what turn our lives would next take. The support of my Beta Xi brothers was about all that enabled me to endure this arduous time.

With Tulane closed and New Orleans uninhabitable, we were forced to figure out what we were going to do and had little time to decide.

Along with my Beta Xi brother Steve Berkman, we quickly chose to attend Texas A&M University. We were both overwhelmed by the Zeta Sigma Delts. These men who we had never met before took us in as brothers in a time when what needed most was to feel we belonged somewhere.

It was clear we belonged as Delts.

A few weeks after transferring to Texas A&M, a group of us had a conversation that summarized the way I feel about the Fraternity. One of the Zeta Sigma actives was explaining what the Fraternity meant to one of the pledges. With a finger point and an eloquently simple phrase he said, "Steve Berkman is fraternity," going on to explain that, "a guy I never would have met without the Fraternity is now my new favorite person. You can't find that anywhere outside of the Fraternity."

Brotherhood sustains us, as it has sustained me.

Beta Xi brothers look forward to homecoming after semester away

By Sam Garner

Any thought the brothers of the Beta Xi Chapter had immediately following Hurricane Katriana about the possessions they left behind quickly waned as the enormity of the situation became clear. After the initial shock, we came to the conclusion we were fortunate compared to so many others.

When asked what was the toughest part about the situation, we almost all give the same answer: being away from our brothers. We all hope we will be able to return and graduate together because without that opportunity, it would leave a tremendous lack of closure.

Living through this disaster has made us much closer as brothers. It has helped us stay in touch and it will also help us stay close throughout our lives. It warms my heart to see how determined the Beta Xi brothers are to return to Tulane.

This closeness extends far beyond Beta Xi as well. Many Beta Xi brothers are now attending other universities and have affiliated with other Delt chapters. These men have been astounded by the degree to which they have been accepted and brought into the Delt family.

Personally, I have totally changed my views of the Fraternity on a national and divisional level. Members of the Central Office and Southern Division leaders showed genuine concern for the Beta Xi men. I feel much closer to the leaders of our Fraternity. For instance, Southern Division President Jody Danneman made me feel not only like an equal, but also like a brother. He and many other brothers all around have offered not only their condolences but their help as well.

As much as I have appreciated the support by my brothers, there is a member of the Beta Xi family that is in the most need.

Our chapter's cook, Lynn

Honore, has truly been a member of our fraternal family and she is one reason I have not been able to distance myself from the tragedies. She was forced to climb into the attic of her home as the water rose. As the water continued to rise, she eventually took an axe and cut her way through the roof in order to be rescued by a helicopter.

Not only has she lost all of her possessions and is living without an income this year, but she has had medical problems that are still a burden physically and financially. Any donations to help Mrs. Lynn would be greatly appreciated. Her mailing address is: Lynn Honore, 154 Mason Street, Gretna, LA 70053.

Sam Garner is the president of the Beta Xi Chapter. Instead of transferring to another school for what would have been his final college term, he spent the fall working for his uncle in South Carolina. He plans to return to Tulane in January and graduate this spring.

LSU alumnus reopens business, helps employees, gets aid from fellow Delt

By Mitchell Mark

My family has lived in the magical New Orleans area for six generations. The community permeates residents' entire lives with its endless supply of activities and its strong sense of family. Part of the uniqueness of the city is the recognition one powerful storm could wash away the entire Gulf Coast. Hurricane Katrina was that storm.

Nine working days after Katrina hit, my company, Snee Chemical, re-opened. Snee was only 10 miles from some of the worst destruction but sustained minimal wind damage, losing only two overhead doors.

The company's fortunes continued after my fraternity brother and former roommate, Brad Gilpin, was deployed to our parish with his Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms unit. ATF's need for supplies and the company's need for security became mutually beneficial. As one of the thousands of refugees, I was unable to secure our building and gave Brad permission to retrieve any supplies the ATF needed from our facility. In return, his unit secured our building and the surrounding area.

Brad and I were pledge brothers at the Epsilon Kappa Chapter at Louisiana State and have been friends since. I know my Delt experiences helped shape my leadership skills. I learned to motivate by example and to stress the importance of being a team player, ethical and compassionate.

Those skills helped as our company attempted to limit the effect Katrina had on our employees. Many of our employees lost their belongings except for what they took during the evacuation. Some rode it out in the Superdome and later transferred to shelters outside of Louisiana.

The Snee Chemical family took in those without places to stay and provided basic needs: food, clothing and a sense of security.

We helped look for family members from whom they were separated. Out of 30 affected employees, all but four left their temporary housing each day to restart the company.

They worked from early mornings until just before curfew. With the mandated curfew lasting from 5 p.m. to 6 a.m., there was no time after work to acquire provisions. We provided lunch each day because food was difficult to find as, like almost every other business, grocery stores were closed. We are all happy to be alive and I am proud to stand shoulder to shoulder with these special and loyal individuals.

Mitchell Mark (Louisiana State, 1990) is the president of Snee Chemical, a wholesaler and manufacturer of janitorial, marine and industrial products, based in Harahan, La. Many of Snee's products have been used in the cleanup operations following Hurricane Katrina.

Delt chapters do their part to help hurricane victims

Alpha

The Alpha Chapter at Allegheny College passed a hat around the chapter and also went door to door, collecting $115 for the American Red Cross.

Gamma

The Gamma Chapter at Washington and Jefferson College held a 24-hour See-Saw marathon. During the event, the brothers of Gamma chapter see-saw for 24 consecutive hours and raised $675 that we donated to the American Red Cross.

Zeta

The Zeta Chapter at Case Western Reserve University had an in-house collection and solicited $270 of donations for the American Red Cross in the days following Katrina.

Beta Alpha

The Beta Alpha Chapter at Indiana University held a "Dunk-a-cop" philanthropy during which people could attempt to dunk a university officer in a dunk tank. The chapter raised $500 and donated the funds to the United Way.

Beta Iota

The Beta Iota Chapter at the University of Virginia provided Thanksgiving dinner to a family of six that was driven out of New Orleans by Katrina.

Delta Kappa

The Delta Kappa Chapter at Duke University raised $700 through various fundraising efforts. The amount was matched twice by professors and other organizations with which Delta Kappa partnered and $1,400 was pledged to an adopt-a-family fund started at the university.

Epsilon Phi

The Epsilon Phi Chapter of Southeastern Louisiana University volunteered throughout southern Louisiana. Members worked in various shelters ranging from special needs shelters to food shelters. Some of them also volunteered their time to clean up yards. We continue with these efforts to help rebuild and/or make repairs to our fraternity brothers' homes.

Theta Epsilon

The Theta Epsilon Chapter at American University sold Mardi Gras beads and held a Slime-a-Delt event which raised $1,215. This money was donated to the American Red Cross.

Theta Zeta

The Theta Zeta Chapter of the University of San Diego held a beach dodgeball tournament and collected $550 dollars for Katrina Relief and donated the money to the American Red Cross.

Theta Eta

The Theta Eta Chapter at the University of South Carolina donated about 200 T-shirts leftover from our Fidler 5K philanthropy to a clothing drive for Katrina refugees in the Columbia, S.C., area.

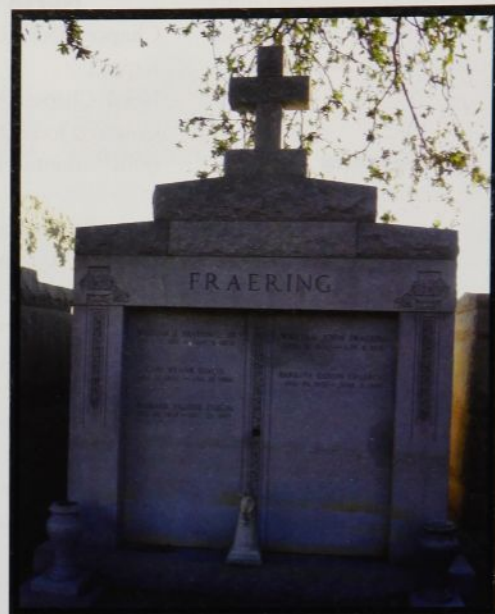

Theta Lambda

The Theta Lambda Chapter at the University of California-Riverside sold Mardi Gras beads and donated nearly $100 to the Red Cross of California.

Theta Psi

The Theta Psi Chapter at Albertson College of Idaho organized collections effort for Hurricane Katrina victims and brought in enough goods to fill entire cargo areas of three Dodge Durangos from floor to ceiling, including the space where the rear seats were removed. The items donated included non-perishable food items, children's books, stuffed animals, school supplies, clothing, blankets, non-prescription drug items, diapers, baby items and personal hygiene items.

The Delta Epsilon Chapter unveiled its $2 million shelter renovation with an event attended by more than 400 alumni, undergraduates, friends and family.

Delta Epsilon celebrates successful campaign

By Dan Bayens

The newly renovated Delta Epsilon shelter in Lexington, Ky., played host to one of the largest Fraternity gatherings of the year this Labor Day weekend, as Delts from across the country returned to the University of Kentucky for the chapter's shelter reopening celebration. More than 400 alumni, actives and guests joined in the festivities, which marked the dedication of a complete $2 million shelter renovation.

Attendees gathered for a full course dinner in a large tent behind the shelter on the evening of September 3 and enjoyed the color and pageantry of the annual Kentucky-Louisville football game the next day. The capital campaign that made the project possible was spearheaded by House Corporation President G. Michael Perros (Kentucky, 1980) and campaign co-chairmen C. Michael Garver (Kentucky, 1959) and Douglas Von Allmen (Kentucky, 1965).

"Throughout the last six years of planning and execution, it has been amazing watching one miraculous event after another occur in order to get us where we are today," Perros said.

More than 250 Delta Epsilon alumni have contributed to the campaign, which was administered by the Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation and the house corporation.

The celebration marked not only the completion of the initial building project, but also the beginning better future for Delta Epsilon. The chapter, blessed with a rich history, continues to improve and expand, enriching the experience for thousands of Kentucky Delts.

Editors note: The Gamma Xi Chapter at Cincinnati also had a successful campaign to raise money for both its new shelter and scholarship funds. A story on Gamma Xi's success will be featured in the March edition of The Rainbow.

"Delta Tau Delta was a wonderful experience. We learned how to run our house economically and on budget; how to recruit new members vital to the continuation of any fraternity; and importantly, while doing this, we developed life long friendships that we shall cherish forever."

"Wow. Now that was easy."
